ROBERT A.
DALY

MANAGING PARTNER
CHAIRMAN & CEO

Robert A. Daly, a guiding hand behind one of the most successful and renowned entertainment companies in the world, Warner Bros., was named Chairman and Chief Executive Officer of the Los Angeles Dodgers on Oct. 28, 1999. Fulfilling a lifelong dream, Daly will serve as the team's managing partner, overseeing all operations of the Dodgers. Daly also holds a minority ownership stake in the team.

The Brooklyn, NY native rooted for his hometown Dodgers during the "Boys of Summer" era that featured a lineup with Hall of Famers Jackie Robinson, Roy Campanella, Duke Snider and Pee Wee Reese. His favorite players were Robinson, who broke baseball's color barrier in 1947, and Snider, who played the same position as the other New York City superstars, center fielders Willie Mays (Giants) and Mickey Mantle (Yankees).

"I have lived with the excitement of the Dodgers and I have lived with some tough moments over the years," Daly said at his introductory press conference at Staples Center in Los Angeles. "Each one of them would set the tone on how I would come to the dinner table or how I go to work the next morning."

"I've always run a company thinking about it as a team. I believe in team. My job has always been to deal with people, make them feel they're special. Bring out the best in people, if I can, and make people believe they can do the job."

Daly's lifetime passion for the ballclub was strengthened once he moved to Los Angeles in 1977. During business trips, Daly always had a special phone number that allowed him to tap into broadcasts of Dodger games, whether from China, Japan or anywhere in the world. He obtained a pager that constantly updated sports scores. When tinkering with it at movie premiers, producers thought the executive was checking his watch instead of just trying to get the latest Dodger score.

Daly joins the Dodger organization after 19 years at Warner Bros. He joined Warner Bros. on Dec. 1, 1980 as Chairman of the Board and Co-Chief Executive Officer. One year later, he was named Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer and appointed Terry Semel Vice Chairman of the Board and Chief Operating Officer; it started what is considered "the most enduring and successful partnership in the history of the entertainment industry." Daly resumed his previous title on March 30, 1994, when he announced he would share his office with Semel. On Nov. 16, 1995, Daly and Semel added the Warner Music Group to their responsibilities and also became Chairmen & Co-Chief Executive Officers, Warner Music Group. On July 15, 1999, Daly and Semel announced they would not seek to renew their contracts with Time Warner (Warner Bros.' Parent company), which expired at year's end.

Daly came to Warner Bros. from CBS Entertainment, where he had served as President since October 1977. In addition to his duties as chief of television operations, Daly was also responsible for CBS Theatrical Films, which was formed in October 1979 and immediately was considered a major motion picture producer. During his 25-year association with CBS, Daly served in various posts, including Executive Vice President of CBS Television Network and Vice President of Business Affairs.

Daly's extraordinary contribution to Warner Bros. was probably best summed up by Time Warner Chairman and CEO Gerald Levin's comments on naming Warner Bros. Studio's historic main administration building after Daly and his longtime partner — the Daly/Semel Building.

"Bob and Terry have made a permanent imprint on the rich 75-year history of Warner Bros.," Levin said. "They've set a standard of respect, honesty, loyalty, creativity and innovation that will forever be a part of Warner Bros. It's fitting that we rename the building where Bob and Terry worked for some 20 years. From here, they helped lead the transformation of what was, at the time, a relatively small movie studio into a $6 billion global entertainment business. This is meant as more than a lasting tribute to their accomplishments. It's also intended as a personal reminder to each of them that Warner Bros. will always be their home."

During the Daly/Semel era, they were credited for 16 consecutive years of record earnings; for more than 400 major motion pictures (that garnered 13 Best Picture Oscar nominations, three of which were winners, Chariots of Fire, Driving Miss Daisy and Unforgiven); thousands of hours of top-rated, top-quality and record-breaking television series (including China Beach, Murphy Brown, Friends and ER); for creating the current model of co-financing motion pictures while retaining worldwide distribution; and for extending and revitalizing such world renowned brands as Batman, Superman and Looney Tunes characters into franchises, licensing powerhouses and worldwide retail stores. Other accomplishments by Daly and Semel include developing the leading distribution operations in the world for feature films, television and home video as well as the emerging technologies; pioneering the creation and use of DVD; creating The WB Network; being at the forefront of marketing films, series and animation on the Internet, and for generally diversifying the studio into a global leader in every aspect of the entertainment industry.

Daly and Semel and their extraordinary partnership were immortalized on Sept. 30, 1999 as the pair put their hands and footprints in the same cement square in the forecourt of the famed Chinese Theater, only the second studio executives in history to do so.

Currently, Daly serves on the boards of The American Film Institute and The Museum of Television and Radio. He is also a member of the UCLA School of Theater, Film and Television's Dean's Advisory Board and the UCLA Executive Board for the Medical Sciences.

Daly attended Brooklyn College and Hunter College and recently received an honorary doctorate of Fine Arts from the American Film Institute. He is married to multi-award winning songwriter Carole Bayer Sager, whose son lives with the couple at their home in Bel Air. Daly also has three grown children.

BOB GRAZIANO

Dodgers

PRESIDENT & COO

Bob Graziano enters his 15th season with the Los Angeles Dodgers and his third as the club's President and Chief Operating Officer. He was promoted to his current position on March 19, 1998, becoming the 11th President in franchise history.

Graziano is responsible for all operations of the Dodgers' franchise and reports directly to Bob Daly, Managing General Partner and Chairman & Chief Executive Officer.

In his tenure as the Dodgers' president, Graziano has been committed to the fans and the local community as well as maintaining Dodger Stadium as a safe, clean, affordable and first-class venue for families to attend. He has expressed his dedication to having consistent talent on the major league level while understanding the importance of continued success in scouting and player development. Graziano was also instrumental in developing the Dodgers' Dream Foundation, a non-profit benefactor that contributes funds to local charitable organizations.

Graziano was responsible for the overall day-to-day functioning of the business side of the organization as Executive Vice President, a position he was appointed to on Feb. 13, 1997. He has regularly attended Major League Baseball ownership meetings since 1993. He worked extensively on the industry revenue sharing and collective bargaining issues in 1994 and 1995. The Miraleste High School graduate is actively involved with the Dodgers' Labor Management Committee, which is a partnership among the front office, all collective bargaining units within the stadium, and union leadership. This partnership has actively focused on enhancing customer satisfaction in the stadium and has measured its progress through the J.D. Power surveys.

In 1991, Graziano worked on a major capital improvement at Dodger Stadium involving the food and beverage facilities. He continues to work on evaluating the opportunities to improve Dodger Stadium and maintain it as a world-class facility. To help make Dodger Stadium more economically competitive with other ballparks across the nation, Graziano has been instrumental in the $50 million limited renovation to the 38-year-old stadium following the conclusion of the 1999 season. The Dodgers' renovation plans include new field level seats down the foul lines beyond the dugouts, a new expanded dugout section with an adjacent club area, suites to be added on the Club Level and the renovation of the Stadium Club.

The Los Angeles native originally joined the Dodgers on Jan. 1, 1986 as the club's Director of Financial Projects. During his two-year stint in that position, he oversaw many accounting and finance projects. He was promoted to Vice President, Finance and Chief Financial Officer on Oct. 28, 1987. In that role he oversaw the Accounting, Human Resources, Stadium Operations, Ticketing and Management Information Systems departments.

After earning summa cum laude honors and a Business Administration degree from the University of Southern California in 1980, Graziano joined Ernst & Young as Supervising Senior Accountant. During his four years with the accounting firm, he serviced audit clients and consulted the Dodgers on their transition to an in-house computerized ticketing system. In 1984, he took a leave of absence from Ernst & Young to become Ticket Manager and Accounting Supervisor for the Los Angeles Olympic Organizing Committee. After the Olympics concluded, Graziano was responsible for general accounting functions as Manager of Financial Services for WTC Air Freight, an international air freight forwarder.

Graziano is a certified public accountant and a member of the USC Associates, USC South Bay Alumni, Town Hall, Los Angeles Rotary Club, the Los Angeles 2012 Olympic Bid Committee, is a board member of the

Los Angeles Sports and Entertainment Commission and Los Angeles Area Chamber of Commerce and on the Executive Committee of the Central City Association. He is also active in fundraising efforts for American Martyrs Church in Manhattan Beach.

Graziano and his wife, Debbie, were married in 1985 and reside in Manhattan Beach with their sons, Matt (10) and Brian (6).

KEVIN
MALONE

Dodgers

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT & GENERAL MANAGER

Kevin Malone enters his second season with the Dodgers as Executive Vice President and General Manager, a position he was appointed to on Sept. 11, 1998. He is responsible for the overall baseball operations of the club, including scouting, player personnel and player development. Malone is the sixth general manager in Los Angeles Dodgers' history.

Malone was again busy during the offseason improve the Dodgers on the field. Only two weeks after the conclusion of the World Series, Malone pulled off a mega four-player trade with the Toronto Blue Jays at the General Managers' meetings on November 8, acquiring All-Star left-handed power hitter Shawn Green and minor league infielder Jorge Nuñez for outfielder Raul Mondesi and reliever Pedro Borbon. On December 12, while at the Winter Baseball Meetings, Malone acquired right-handed set-up man Terry Adams and minor league pitchers Chad Ricketts and Brian Stephenson from the Chicago Cubs for right-handed starter Ismael Valdes and second baseman Eric Young. This created payroll flexibility allowing him to make more moves to bolster the bullpen and re-sign players on the Dodger roster.

The General Manager lived up to his word, returning to Dodger tradition signing Orel Hershiser as a veteran swing man between the starting rotation and bullpen and signing relief pitcher Gregg Olson to join Adams and Alan Mills as another set-up man for closer Jeff Shaw in the 'pen. He also added depth to the bench by signing F.P. Santangelo, a versatile switch-hitter who can play all outfield and infield positions, and locked up infielder Mark Grudzielanek through 2003 with a four-year contract. Malone also signed arbitration-eligible players Darren Dreifort, Chan Ho Park, Todd Hollandsworth, Dan Naulty, Adams and Kevin Orie to one-year contracts in mid-January, avoiding any arbitration hearings entering the 2000 season.

Malone, 42, joined the Dodgers after spending the previous three seasons with the Baltimore Orioles as Assistant General Manager. With the Orioles, Malone and General Manager Pat Gillick assembled a club that advanced to the American League Championship Series with Davey Johnson as manager in 1996 and '97.

Prior to joining the Orioles, Malone spent four seasons with the Montreal Expos, including two seasons as Vice President and General Manager from 1994-95. It was under Malone's direction that the Expos gained national prominence and finished the 1994 season as the best team in the major leagues with a 74-40 record when the season was cancelled due to the players' strike. For his accomplishments, Baseball Weekly tabbed him as the "best General Manager in the game" in 1995. He was the Expos' Director of Scouting from 1992-93, overseeing Montreal's First-Year Player Drafts both seasons. Malone was also the Expos' scout in Southern California from 1987-88 as well as a coach and hitting instructor at Single-A Jamestown in the New York-Penn League.

Malone left the Expos' organization following the 1988 season, joining the Minnesota Twins as their East Coast Scouting Supervisor from 1989-91. In 1991, he was the advance scout assigned to the Braves when Minnesota defeated Atlanta for the World Championship. Malone began his scouting career in 1985 with the Angels and spent three years as their Southern California scout.

The infielder was drafted in the 35th round by Cleveland in 1980 and spent one year in the Indians' farm system. He also attended spring training and extended spring camp with the New York Mets in 1981. Born in San Diego, CA and raised in Louisville, KY, Malone played baseball at Louisville's Bishop David High School before graduating in 1975. He attended Florida Southern College for one semester before transferring to the University of Louisville, where he earned a baseball scholarship and graduated with a bachelor's degree in Justice Administration in 1980. Malone also worked towards his master's degree in Theology at the Tennessee Temple Theological Seminary in Chattanooga, TN from 1982-83.

Malone was inducted into the University of Louisville Athletic Hall of Fame in 1996. In 1997, his alma mater presented him with the Order of Merit and Achievement Award.

Malone and his wife, Marilyn, reside in Santa Clarita with their children, Shannon (13) and Shawn (10).

KRIS
RONE

EXECUTIVE VICE PRESIDENT
& CHIEF MARKETING OFFICER

Kris Rone begins her first season with the Los Angeles Dodgers as Executive Vice President and Chief Marketing Officer, a position she was appointed to on Dec. 7, 1999. She officially started with the club on Jan. 3, 2000.

Rone, the highest-ranking female executive in franchise history, will be responsible for overseeing all club sales and marketing efforts including its ticketing, merchandising, community affairs programs and in-game entertainment.

Although the 2000 season is her first in Major League Baseball, Rone is no stranger to the Dodgers. She dealt with the Dodger organization on a daily basis as President of Sports One, a sports marketing firm formed in November 1998 as a joint venture between Fox Sports Enterprises and the Anschutz Corporation. Rone developed and managed integrated sports marketing partnerships with professional sports franchises and entertainment venues in the Los Angeles market. She guided Sports One's responsibilities in corporate sales, partnership marketing and sponsorship activities for the Dodgers, Los Angeles Kings, Los Angeles Galaxy, Los Angeles Avengers and Staples Center.

Prior to the formation of Sports One, Rone was Senior Vice President of Strategic Marketing for Haworth Marketing and Media from 1995-98. She led the firm's relationship and partnership marketing activities on behalf of such clients as Dayton-Hudson Corporation and its retail subsidiaries Target and Mervyn's, where she was responsible for entertainment and sports marketing partnerships as well as community affairs marketing programs.

From 1993-95, Rone held the title as Director of Client Services for the Santa Monica-based media firm Focus Media. She began her career as a creative advertising executive in Minneapolis, MN, holding positions of increasing responsibility at Campbell-Mithun-Esty Advertising and Chuck Ruhr Advertising from 1987-93.

Rone earned a bachelor's degree in Marketing from the University of Minnesota and presently serves on the Board of Directors for the Dodgers Dream Foundation and as a member of the Women's Sports Foundation. She and her husband, David, reside in Manhattan Beach with their newborn daughter, Alex.

TOMMY LASORDA

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT

Regarded by many as baseball's most popular ambassador, Tommy Lasorda will begin his 51st season in the Dodger organization and fifth as Vice President. He was named Vice President on July 29, 1996 after retiring as manager, a position he held for the previous 20 seasons. Lasorda assumed all player personnel responsibilities when he was named the Dodgers' interim General Manager on June 22, 1998. He relinquished his General Manager duties when he was promoted to Senior Vice President on Sept. 11, 1998.

In his current front-office capacity, Lasorda spends much of his time scouting, evaluating and teaching minor league players as well as spreading baseball goodwill to thousands as he makes more than 100 speeches and appearances to various charities, private groups and military personnel each year.

In 1997, Lasorda was elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame by the Veterans Committee in his first year of eligibility. He was the 14th manager and 15th Dodger inducted into the Hall of Fame. Lasorda's uniform number (2) was retired by the Dodgers on Aug. 15, 1997 and the main street that leads to the entrance of Dodger-town in Vero Beach, FL was renamed Tommy Lasorda Lane on March 5, 1997. Lasorda also threw out the first pitch in Game 7 of the 1997 World Series.

Lasorda compiled a 1,599-1,439 record and won two World Championships, four N.L. pennants and eight division titles in an extraordinary 20-year career as the Dodgers' manager. He ranks 13th with 1,599 wins and 12th with 3,038 games managed in major league history. Lasorda's 16 wins in 30 N.L. Championship Series games managed were the most of any manager at the time of his retirement in 1996. Atlanta's Bobby Cox now holds the record with 26 wins in 49 games managed. His 61 postseason games managed rank third all-time behind Cox and Casey Stengel. Lasorda posted a 3-1 record as the N.L. manager in 4 All-Star Games. He joined St. Louis' Gabby Street (1930-31) as the only managers in N.L. history to win league titles in his first two seasons when he led the Dodgers to titles in 1977-78. Lasorda also managed nine of the Dodgers' 16 Rookies of the Year, more than any other big league skipper in history. He also managed six current major league managers during their playing days: Texas' Johnny Oates, Anaheim's Mike Scioscia, San Francisco's Dusty Baker, Detroit's Phil Garner, Milwaukee's Davey Lopes and the New York Mets' Bobby Valentine.

Prior to replacing Hall of Famer Walter Alston as manager on Sept. 29, 1976, Lasorda spent four seasons in Los Angeles on Alston's coaching staff from 1973-76. He spent eight seasons as a manager in the Dodgers' minor league system at Pocatello (1965), Ogden (1966-68), Spokane (1969-71) and Albuquerque (1972). Lasorda also spent four years as a Dodgers scout after retiring as a player following the 1960 season. An astounding 75 players Lasorda managed in the minor leagues went on to play in the majors.

As a player, Lasorda compiled an 0-4 record and 6.52 ERA as a left-handed pitcher in parts of three major league seasons with the Brooklyn Dodgers (1954-55) and Kansas City Athletics (1956). In all, he spent 14 seasons in the minor leagues from 1945-60 and he served a two-years in the military from 1946-47.

Lasorda has been a spokesperson for the American Heart Association and has received honorary doctorate degrees from Pepperdine University, St. Thomas University, Cal State Long Beach and the University of Phoenix.

Lasorda and his wife Jo, whom he has been married to for 49 years, reside in Fullerton, CA. They will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary April 14, 2000. The couple renamed a gymnasium and youth center in memory of their son Tom Jr. in Yorba Linda, CA on Sept. 7, 1997. They are also the proud grandparents of Emily Tess, who is the four-year-old child of their daughter Laura and son-in-law Bill Goldberg.

Organization of the 20th Century

The Los Angeles Dodgers were named the "most successful organization in Major League Baseball during the 20th century" in a study conducted by Street & Smith's SportsBusiness Journal in October 1998. Los Angeles finished first with a century performance index of 7.63 on a 10-point scale, based on a rating formula that evaluated the on-the-field and ticket window success of each of the 35 major league teams that played at least 10 seasons between 1901 and 1998.

When the voting was conducted in 1998, the Dodgers' .538 winning percentage since 1958 (3,492-2,994) was the fourth-best in major league history and their five World Championships were only been equaled by the New York Yankees. The Dodgers led the majors in attendance in 21 of their 41 seasons in Los Angeles and attracted more than three million fans a major-league record 13 times. Los Angeles was the first major league club to draw more than three million fans in 1978.

Following the Dodgers in the study were the New York Yankees (7.13), Milwaukee Braves (7.04), New York Giants (6.93) and Toronto Blue Jays (5.80). The Brooklyn Dodgers finished ninth with a 5.38 century performance index rating. The SportsBusiness Journal also calculated separate performance ratings for each decade in the 20th century, with the Dodgers topping the rankings for the 1960s, 1970s and 1980s.

STADIUM INFORMATION

DODGER STADIUM

It began with Dodger President Walter O'Malley's vision nearly four decades ago and remains one of the crown jewels in professional sports and a landmark to West Coast expansion in Major League Baseball.

The 2000 season will mark the Los Angeles Dodgers' 39th campaign at Dodger Stadium. Throughout its history, the beauty of the ballpark has awed spectators with a breath-taking view of downtown Los Angeles to the south; green, tree-lined Elysian hills to the north and east; and the purple San Gabriel Mountains beyond.

The 56,000-seat Dodger Stadium has parking for 16,000 automobiles on 21 terraced lots adjacent to the same elevations as the five different seating levels.

More than 3,400 trees cover the 300 acres of beautiful landscape, which is maintained by a full-time staff of seven gardeners. Dodger Stadium is one of the better maintained stadiums throughout the country since it is kept in immaculate condition by a full-time grounds crew and maintenance staff.

In January 1999, the Dodgers announced a program of investment and limited renovation of Dodger Stadium to help make it more economically competitive with other ballparks across the nation. After the 1999 season, the Dodgers added new field level seats down the foul lines beyond the dugouts and a new expanded dugout section with an adjacent club area. In addition, suites were added on the Club Level to provide amenities that are now available at virtually every other major league ballpark.

The Dodgers installed a brand new state-of-the-art grass field after the conclusion of the 1995 season for the first time since the stadium opened in 1962. Prescription Athletic Turf (PAT), created and installed by the Cincinnati-based Motz Group, used the latest agronomic and engineering technology to manage field moisture through controlled drainage and irrigation. The 100,000 square feet of bermuda grass is grown on pure sand, beneath which a vacuum chamber is laid over a water-tight plastic barrier that forcibly extracts water during heavy rains. New moisture gauges monitor the field's water level in coordination with a microprocessor that controls drainage functions. A computer controller has the ability to reverse the scenario and subirrigate when the sand's moisture reading drops below the optimal level.

More than 100 million fans have watched Dodger games at Dodger Stadium over 38 years, an average of more than 2.68 million fans per season. Dodger fans have witnessed 3,014 regular-season games at Dodger Stadium, including a 1,726-1,288 (.573) record posted by the Dodgers. In 1978, Dodger Stadium became the first ballpark to host more than three million fans in a season when the Dodgers drew 3,347,845 in attendance. Following another three-million attendance mark in 1980, the Dodgers set the all-time major league season attendance record in 1982, drawing 3,608,881 fans. Toronto, Colorado and Atlanta have since topped that mark, but the Dodgers can also boast seasons of more than three million in attendance from 1983-86, 1990-91, 1993 and 1996-99. Eleven of the top 23 N.L. single-season attendance marks have been recorded at Dodger Stadium.

During the 20th century, the only privately-financed ballparks in Major League Baseball were Yankee Stadium (built in 1923) and Dodger Stadium. Walter O'Malley and architect Emil Praeger set the stage for baseball's most popular and beautiful showplace when they began designing the Dodgers' new home after moving to Los Angeles in 1958. The stadium opened its doors on April 10, 1962 and the Dodgers won their first game the next day on April 11 when they defeated the Cincinnati Reds, 6-2. The Dodgers drew 2,755,184 fans at Dodger Stadium in 1962.

Since then, Dodger Stadium has hosted eight World Series and the Dodgers have won four championships (1963, 1965, 1981 and 1988), eight N.L. pennants (1963, 1965, 1966, 1974, 1977, 1978, 1981, 1988) eight N.L. Western Division crowns (1974, 1977, 1978, 1981, 1983, 1985, 1988, 1995) and one N.L. Wild Card berth (1996).

The stadium hosted the Major League Baseball All-Star Game in 1980 and the Olympic Games' baseball competition in 1984. The eight-team competition during the 1984 Olympic Games marked baseball's greatest involvement in the Olympics in that time.

The Olympic spirit returned to Los Angeles again in 1991, as Dodger Stadium hosted the Opening Ceremonies for the United States Olympic Festival. Later that summer, the stadium showcased the top amateur baseball players from around the world in the second annual International Baseball Association World All-Star Game.

Although baseball is the only sport played at Dodger Stadium, Pope John Paul II celebrated Mass at Dodger Stadium on Sept. 16, 1987. Entertainers such as KISS, The Rolling Stones, The Beatles, The Bee Gees, Elton John, Simon and Garfunkel, Michael Jackson, David Bowie, Genesis, Eric Clapton and U2 have also performed at the stadium. Dodger Stadium also staged one of the world's greatest entertainment events in 1994 when internationally renowned tenors Jose Carreras, Placido Domingo and Luciano Pavarotti reunited for a spectacular concert performance "Encore - The Three Tenors" with conductor Zubin Mehta.

DODGER STADIUM RAINOUTS

The Dodgers ended their club-record 856-game consecutive streak without a rainout when their game against the Colorado Rockies was washed out on April 11, 1999. The Dodgers previously were rained out at home when rain cancelled three consecutive games against the San Diego Padres April 19-21, 1988 for the first time since moving to Dodger Stadium. Prior to 1976, the Dodgers were washed out only once — against the St. Louis Cardinals on April 21, 1967. The 1967 rainout ended a streak of 737 consecutive games at Dodger Stadium without a postponement. The second rainout on April 12, 1976, stopped a string of 724 straight games.

DIAMOND VISION

The Dodgers installed a new state-of-the-art 875 square-foot (25' by 35') video display system in 1991 that utilizes a higher resolution screen and advanced graphics to show replays, statistics and highlights of game action. The Dodgers' Mitsubishi Diamond Vision Mark III is virtually the same size and shape as the previous model, which was the first of its kind in existence when it debuted at Dodger Stadium on July 8, 1980, when the Dodgers hosted the 51st All-Star Game. The updated version provides greater efficiency and improved picture quality.

The control room, located in the press box area, has also been remodeled to feature the most modern broadcast equipment in existence. The production and editing facility utilizes three cameras, five video tape machines and high-tech special effects equipment. A team of 11 people is required to operate the system throughout each game.

Specially produced entertainment segments and news about the Dodgers, other major league teams and events throughout the world are also featured on the new screen.

Mitsubishi has been an innovator of video board systems for stadiums throughout the world, and the Dodgers have taken advantage of its technology to improve the popular Dodger Stadium landmark, re-creating larger-than-life action above left field.

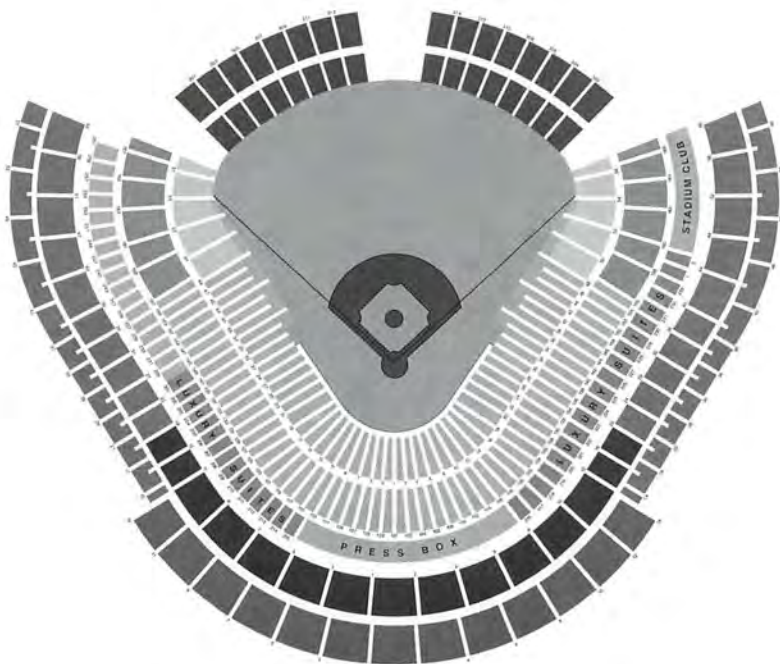

The scoreboard above right field and the auxiliary scoreboards behind first and third bases have also been replaced with models manufactured by Fair-Tron. Although electronically modernized, they are exact replicas.

TOP 50 NATIONAL LEAGUE ATTENDANCE MARKS

The 1999 season marked the 27th consecutive season the Dodgers drew more than two million fans at Dodger Stadium (1973-99) and the 35th time overall – the most by any major league team.

The Dodgers established a N.L. record when they drew 3,608,881 fans in 1982 and also the third-largest total at the time with 3,348,170 fans in 1991. The N.L. implemented a new attendance counting system in 1993 and the Rockies recorded the largest single-season total in major league history with 4,483,350 fans in their first major league season. Through the 1992 season, attendance figures in the N.L. were counted by the number of fans in attendance and the A.L. counted total tickets sold. Both leagues currently count total tickets sold.

The Dodgers hold the major league record for drawing more than three million on 14 occasions. The Dodgers became the first team to play before five million fans in a season – combining home and road totals – in 1978 when the total reached 5,494,204. The Dodgers have since played in front of more than five million 14 more times, including a franchise-best 5,899,245 in 1997.

The Dodgers have averaged more than 2.5 million fans a season since coming to Los Angeles in 1958. The Dodgers hit the million mark in 22 dates in 1981, the two million mark in 46 dates in 1982 and the three million mark in 67 dates in 1982 – all three established then major league records. Following are the top 50 N.L. home attendance marks:

VIN SCULLY

Dodgers

HALL OF FAME
BROADCASTER

One of the most recognizable personalities in sports broadcasting history, Vin Scully enters his 51st season as the "voice of the Dodgers" on Fox Sports Net 2, KTLA-TV Channel 5 and XTRA Sports 1150 AM. His 51 years of consecutive service with the Dodgers is the longest of any current major league broadcaster with one team.

Scully, whose vivid yet simplistic description of a baseball game has thrilled fans over the years, joined Hall of Fame announcer Red Barber and Connie Desmond as part of the Brooklyn Dodgers' broadcast team in 1950, just a year after graduating from Fordham University. Scully, who played outfield for two seasons on Fordham's baseball team, called baseball, basketball and football games for the university's radio station.

In addition to his Dodger broadcasts, the multi-talented broadcaster called play-by-play for National Football League games and PGA Tour events on CBS-TV from 1975-82 and play-by-play for Major League Baseball's Game of the Week, three World Series and four All-Star Games on NBC-TV from 1983-89. Scully also called play-by-play for the World Series on CBS Radio from 1990-97. In all, he has called 25 World Series and 12 All-Star Games.

In 1999, Scully portrayed himself in "For Love of the Game," a Universal Pictures release starring Kevin Costner. He also lent his voice to Sony Playstation's MLB 2000 video game. During the World Series, Scully served as master of ceremonies at Major League Baseball's "All Century Team" unveiling at Atlanta's Turner Field. He was also recently named "best of the century" in Los Angeles sports broadcasting by the Long Beach Press-Telegram and the "poet laureate of baseball" by USA Today.

Some of his other broadcasting highlights include:

- Three perfect games (Don Larsen in 1956, Sandy Koufax in 1965 and Dennis Martinez in 1991) and 18 no-hitters.
- Johnny Podres' shutout of the Yankees in Game 7 of the 1955 World Series to give the Dodgers their first World Championship.
- The Dodgers' first game in Los Angeles at the Coliseum on April 18, 1958.
- The Yankees-Dodgers exhibition game on May 7, 1959 that honored Roy Campanella before a major league record 93,103 fans at the Los Angeles Coliseum.
- The Dodgers' playoff win over the Milwaukee Braves and World Series victory over the Chicago White Sox in 1959 to give them their second World Championship, and other World Championship seasons in Los Angeles in 1963, 1965, 1981 and 1988.
- Don Drysdale's 58.2 scoreless innings streak in 1968 and Orel Hershisier's 59 scoreless innings streak in 1988.
- Hank Aaron's 715th career home run that broke Babe Ruth's major league record at Atlanta's Fulton County Stadium on April 8, 1974.
- The rookie seasons of Fernando Valenzuela in 1981 and Hideo Nomo in 1995.

Scully, master of the English language, has won numerous awards throughout his career, highlighted by his induction into the National Baseball Hall of Fame as the Ford C. Frick Award recipient in 1982. Scully was also named the Most Memorable Personality in L.A. Dodger history by Dodger fans in 1976.

Other awards include:

- Named the country's Outstanding Sportscaster four times and California Sportscaster of the Year 22 times by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association.
- Recipient of the Lifetime Achievement Sports Emmy Award from the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences in 1996 for his "distinguished and outstanding" work.
- Inducted into the American Sportscasters Hall of Fame in 1992.
- Inducted into the Southern California Sports Broadcasters Hall of Fame in 1997.
- Won the Los Angeles area Governors Emmy Award from the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences' Board of Governors in 1992 for his special contribution to television in Los Angeles.
- Named the Southern California Sports Broadcaster Association's Sportscaster of the Year in 1991, 1992 and 1994; Broadcaster of the Year in 1984; Radio Play-by-Play award in 1991; and Baseball Play-by-Play award in 1993.

- Won the Voice of Vision award in 1992 for his "incredible gift of painting vivid word pictures so those without sight can also see Dodger baseball."
- Recipient of the United State Sports Academy's Ronald Reagan Media Award in 1987.
- Had his star placed on the Hollywood Walk of Fame in 1982.
- In 1995, had a baseball field named after him in Bogota, NJ, where he resided while working with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

- Had a tribute in his honor from the Academy of Television Arts and Sciences in November 1997.

	ROSS
	BROADCASTER

With one of the busiest schedules during the baseball season, Ross Porter begins his 24th season as a member of the Dodgers' broadcast team on Fox Sports Net 2, KTLA-TV Channel 5 and XTRA Sports 1150 AM. In addition to his play-by-play duties, he also hosts "Dodger Game Daye" (the DODgers' pre-game show), "Dodger Talk" (post-game show) and a one-hour "Dodger Talk" once a week during the offseason on 1150 AM.

Porter won the Southern California Sportscaster Association's Tom Harmon Award for Radio Sports Anchor in 1991 and Radio Talk Show Host award in 1992 and 1993. He also won "Best Talk Show" honors at the SCSBA's annual awards in February 1999.

Porter holds the major league record for the longest consecutive play-by-play by one announcer when he called the action himself in a 22-inning game between the Dodgers and Expos on Aug. 23, 1989. The game, which the Dodgers won 1-0 on a home run by Rick Dempsey off Montreal's Dennis Martinez, lasted six hours and 14 minutes. For that broadcast, Porter was honored with a Special Achievement Award by the Southern California Sports Broadcasters Association in 1990.

A play-by-play announcer since age 14, the University of Oklahoma graduate is the only broadcaster to have broadcast for both a World Series champion (1981 and 1988 Dodgers) and an NCAA basketball champion (1990 UNLV). He won an Emmy during his 10-year stint as a sportscaster for KNBC-TV before joining the Dodgers in 1977. Porter also called National Football League games for NBC-TV from 1970-76 and provided play-by-play for the 1977 and 1978 World Series and the 1984 N.L. Championship Series on CBS Radio and the 1988 World Series for the Dodgers' flagship station KABC (790 AM). Porter is also one of 24 voters for the Jim Thorpe Award, given annually to the top defensive back in college football.

	RICK
	BROADCASTER

Former Los Angeles outfielder Rick Monday begins his seventh full season as a Dodger broadcaster after joining the team in July 1993.

Monday began his broadcasting career as a sports anchor on KTTV-TV in Los Angeles in 1985 while also calling play-by-play and hosting the pre-game show for Dodger games on Dodger Vision and Z Channel. He was nominated for an Emmy as host of the Dodgers' pregame show on KTTV's "Dodger Central" in 1988. Monday was also a color commentator for CBS-TV at the College World Series championship game in 1988. Monday moved to San Diego in 1989 and called play-by-play for the Padres on radio and television for four seasons.

A college star at Arizona State, Monday led the Sun Devils to the 1965 College World Series Championship and earned All-America and College Player of the Year honors before the Kansas City Athletics chose him as the first player ever in the initial major league First-Year Player Draft. He made his major league debut in 1966 and spent six seasons with the Athletics and five seasons with the Cubs before joining the Dodgers in 1977. Monday played eight seasons for the Dodgers and helped them to a World Championship and three N.L. pennants. Overall, he compiled a .264 career batting average with 241 home runs and appeared in five League Championship Series and two All-Star Games. While playing for the Chicago Cubs, Monday is best remembered for saving the American flag from being burned by two protestors in left field at Dodger Stadium on April 25, 1976. He also hit the game-winning home run in the ninth inning of Game 5 of the 1981 National League Championship Series at Montreal, giving the Dodgers a 2-1 victory and a berth into the World Series.

In 1995, Monday received the William A. Shea Distinguished Little League Graduate Award, which is given to a Major League Baseball player or individual who best exemplifies the spirit of the Little League Baseball program.

FOX Sports Net 2 enters its third season as the cable television home of the Los Angeles Dodgers, telecasting 80 regular season games in 2000. Vin Scully and Ross Porter call the action on FOX Sports Net 2.

One of the country's largest regional sports networks, FOX Sports Net 2 provides 24-hour sports programming to more than 3 million basic cable subscribers in Southern California, and presents more live, local sports programming than any other cable network or broadcast station in the market.

FOX Sports Net 2 also telecasts the Los Angeles Dodgers pre-game show, "Dodgers Dugout," one half-hour prior to each home game. The show, hosted by Paul Sunderland, includes features and interviews with Dodger players and management, plus offers a preview of the game.

In addition to the Dodgers, the FOX Sports Net 2 programming menu includes the Los Angeles Clippers, Mighty Ducks of Anaheim, Los Angeles Galaxy, Los Angeles Avengers, Long Beach Ice Dogs, USC, UCLA, University of Hawaii and Pepperdine University athletics, horse racing from Santa Anita, Hollywood Park, and Los Alamitos, a high school game of the week and San Diego Chargers pre-season games.

FOX Sports Net's local programming menu features the Los Angeles Lakers, Los Angeles Kings and Anaheim Angels. Additionally, FOX Sports Net features national programming that includes Pac-10, Big 12 and Conference USA football, Baseball Thursday, Pac-10 basketball, PGA TOUR coverage, ATP Tennis, Formula One racing, Sunday Night Fights, and FOX Sports News, which offers up-to-the-minute scores, highlights and news from coast-to-coast. Also shown nationally are "The Last Word," "Goin' Deep," "Rewind," "Hardcore Baseball," "Hardcore Football" and "NFL This Morning." FOX Sports Net's NFL pregame show hosted by Chris Myers with analysts, Marv Levy, Jackie Slater and Chris Spielman.

FOX Sports Net is the first truly national, regional and local supplier of sports programming and reaches more than 68 million homes through 22 regional sports networks.

For the past seven years, KTLA Channel 5 has been the television broadcast station for Emmy Award-winning Los Angeles Dodgers baseball. In 2000, KTLA will broadcast 55 games, including five pre-season games and 17 home games, with Vin Scully, Ross Porter and Rick Monday in the booth. The games are broadcast in stereo and simulcast in Spanish on SAP by Cos Villa.

KTLA reaches an average of 4.7 million viewers monthly with a wide variety of programming and news coverage. The WB television network offers six nights per week of programming. WB programs such as "7th Heaven," "Buffy the Vampire Slayer" and "Dawson's Creek" have helped KTLA achieve ratings records. The syndicated "Seinfeld," "Friends" and "Fresh Prince of Bel Air" continue to attract large audiences and children can find their favorite animated characters on Kids WB!

The "KTLA Morning News" and "News at Ten" provide Southern Californians with the most comprehensive news coverage of the stories and issues impacting their lives and each has generated numerous Emmy and Golden Mike awards through the years.

KTLA was the first commercial television station in Los Angeles, arriving on Jan. 22, 1947. Since that milestone date 53 years ago, the history of KTLA has become the history of Los Angeles broadcasting. KTLA's pioneering spirit, resulting in a long list of technological firsts, set the pace for the evolution of modern-day broadcasting. KTLA's technological achievements include the first broadcast on-the-spot news; the Rose Parade; and the explosion of an atomic bomb. KTLA was the first to originate color programs, present a man-on-the-street broadcast and provide stereo broadcasting and Spanish language simulcasting, among others. News firsts include extended live coverage, regularly operated flying remote unit (the telecopter) and regularly scheduled remote programs.

KTLA is a Tribune Broadcasting station.

Dodgers First on TV

The Brooklyn Dodgers and Cincinnati Reds were the first clubs to appear on television when an NBC experimental station televised both games of a doubleheader Aug. 26, 1939.

Koufax's Perfect Game

The only perfect game in Dodger history was authored by Hall of Fame left-hander Sandy Koufax on Sept. 9, 1965 in front of 29,139 at Dodger Stadium. During the 1-0 victory over the Chicago Cubs, Koufax struck out 14 batters and improved his record to 22-7. Koufax struck out the six Cubs he faced - Ron Santo, Ernie Banks and Byron Browne in the eighth inning; Chris Krug, Joe Amalfitano and pinch-hitter Harvey Kuenn in the ninth. The Dodgers managed just one hit and a walk off Cubs' left-hander Bob Hendley (2-3). The only hit - Lou Johnson's two-out bloop double to right field - didn't affect the scoring. Johnson opened the fifth inning with a walk, advanced to second on Ron Fairley's sacrifice bunt, stole third base and scored when catcher Krug's throw sailed into left field for an error. In addition to Koufax becoming the first pitcher to hurl four no-hitters in his career, the 1-hour, 43-minute game also featured a major league record for fewest runners left on base by both teams (1).

Worldwide Appeal

Entering the 2000 season, the Dodgers' 127 foreign-born players throughout the organization representing 17 different countries rank second in professional baseball behind the New York Mets (128), according to a study conducted by the National Association of Professional Baseball.

Of the 256 players on major and minor league rosters for the Dodgers, 138 were born in the United States followed by 55 from the Dominican Republic (21%), 21 from Mexico (8%) and 13 from Venezuela (5%). The 17 countries represented in the Dodger organization are:

Australia	Mexico	Puerto Rico	Taiwan
Canada	Netherlands Antilles	Russia	United States
Dominican Republic	Nicaragua	South Africa	Venezuela
England	Panama	South Korea	Virgin Islands
Jamaica

The study by the National Association of Professional Baseball further shows that 40.35 percent of all players under contract in the major and minor leagues entering the 2000 season are foreign born. Of the 2,794 foreign-born players in organized baseball, 1,513 are from the Dominican Republic, followed by Venezuela (673), Puerto Rico (153), Mexico (120) and Canada (84).

Dodgers Online

Dodgers Online, the organization's official internet website, is Major League Baseball's most state-of-the-art site with more than one gigabyte of information to explore. Fans can now search through more than 30 areas of information at www.dodgers.com.

The site, which went online on April 24, 1996, was designed by the Dodgers and has been accessed by more than 14 million fans around the world. The Dodgers have won numerous internet awards, including the John C. Dvorak Award for telecommunications excellence in August 1996, named the top-ranked Major League Baseball internet site by Baseball Weekly in 1997, 1998 and 1999, named the "internet pennant winner" by Yahoo Internet Life magazine in its August 1997 issue and was one of five sports-related web sites to receive the Web Marketing Association's Standard of Excellence Award in 1998.

The Dodgers were also the first major league team to broadcast their games in five languages via the internet on Aug. 15, 1997. All Dodger broadcasts are available over the internet in English and Spanish.

The site also has live game updates, an in-depth cyber media guide, video and audio clips from Dodger players, a section devoted to kids with baseball instructional tips from Dodger players and coaches, a 3-D tour of Dodger Stadium and a guestbook for fans to leave messages and suggestions.

1999 DODGER NOTES

20TH CENTURY IN THE BOOKS: The Dodgers ended the millennium with an 8,061-7,361 record in the 20th century, the 3rd-best mark among professional baseball clubs during that span...the win-loss totals include records of 4,492-4,282 in Brooklyn (1900-1957) and 3,569-3,079 after moving to Los Angeles in 1958.

Top 20th Century Winning Percentages

Team	Wins	Losses	Win Pct.
Yankees	8,610	6,643	.564
Giants	8,275	7,150	.536
Dodgers	8,061	7,361	.523
Pirates	8,005	7,416	.519
Cardinals	7,925	7,497	.514

DECADE OF DECADENCE: The Dodgers' 797-757 mark in the 1990s was best among N.L. Western Division clubs...their 2 playoff runs (1995 and '96) tied San Diego (1996 and '98) for the most postseason appearances among division foes in the decade...Los Angeles ranked 4th among N.L. teams in the 90s and was one of 6 teams to make the playoffs on more than one occasion: Atlanta (1991-99), Houston (1997-99), San Diego (1996, '98), Cincinnati (1990, '95), Pittsburgh (1990-92).

THEY KEEP ON COMING: The Dodgers extended their own major-league record when they topped the 3-million mark in attendance this season for the 14th time in club history, outdrawing the 1998 total by 6,144 with an official count of 3,095,346 fans in 1999...it was the 11th-best attendance count in club history and the 4th-straight year the team drew more than 3 million (1996-99)...L.A. also extended its own major-league record of drawing more than 2 millions fans to 27-straight seasons (1973-99) and the 34th time overall.

RE "MARK" ABLE: Mark Grudzielanek finished the season with a team-high .326 average, the highest mark of any shortstop in franchise history...Glenn Wright, who batted .321 as a member of the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1930, previously held the franchise record for the highest average by a shortstop...Grudzielanek also became the first Dodger shortstop to bat .300 or better (minimum 100 games) since 1963 when Maury Wills hit .302...his average was tops among all N.L. shortstops and tied for 5th overall in the N.L.

SHEFF AND THE DUKE: Left fielder Gary Sheffield became only the 2nd player in franchise history to bat .300 or better and hit at least 30 homers while reaching the century mark in runs, RBI and walks in the same season...Hall of Famer Duke Snider became the first to accomplish the feat while playing for Brooklyn in 1955, batting .309 with 42 homers, 136 RBI, 126 runs and 104 walks.

KARROS' CAREER YEAR: First baseman Eric Karros continued to reach new heights this season, setting career highs in average (.304), RBI (112), hits (176), doubles (40) and total bases (318)...he also tied a career high with 34 home runs and reached the .300 mark in average for the first time...with his 34th homer on September 26, Karros tied Steve Garvey for 2nd on the all-time L.A. list with 211.

FEARSOME FOURSOME: Todd Hundley (24), Eric Karros (34), Raul Mondesi (33) and Gary Sheffield (34) each reached the 20-homer plateau this season, marking only the 4th time in L.A. history that 4 players hit 20 or more home runs in a season...the Dodgers had 4 players (Mike Piazza, Todd Zeile, Mondesi, Karros) hit at least 30 in 1997, 5 with at least 20 in 1979 (Dusty Baker, Ron Cey, Joe Ferguson, Steve Garvey, Davey Lopes) and 4 with 30 in 1977 (Baker, Cey, Garvey, Reggie Smith)...Karros (34), Mondesi (33) and Sheffield (34) each surpassed the 30-homer plateau this season.

LAUNCHING PAD: A total of 194 homers were hit at Dodger Stadium this season, the most ever in the 38-year history of the facility...an average of 108 homers per year were hit at Dodger Stadium from 1962 to 1998...the Dodgers' 92 homers at Dodger Stadium were the 3rd-most by a Dodger club, and their opponents' 102 roundtrippers at Chavez Ravine were the most ever.

IN GRAND STYLE: Gary Sheffield (August 22 at Philadelphia), Devon White (June 5 vs. Anaheim), Todd Hundley (July 19 at Pittsburgh) and Eric Karros (August 11 at Montreal) each hit grand slams this season, tying 7 other Dodger clubs for the 6th-most slams in L.A. history...the Dodgers hit 5 slams in 1998; 6 in 1985, 1979 and 1960; and a club-record 8 in 1977.

ABOVE-AVERAGE MARKS: The Dodgers batted a monthly-best .272 in the season's final month to finish the year with a .266 average as a team, tying the 1971 and 1977 clubs for the 6th-best mark in Los Angeles history...Los Angeles has batted .266 or better only 3 times (.270 in 1994 and .268 in 1997) in the last 22 seasons.

DODGER DINGERS: The Dodgers finished the season with 187 homers, 2nd on the all-time L.A. list and only 4 shy of the club record of 191 set in 1977...although this season's homer mark ranked 2nd in Los Angeles history, the Dodgers' 187 roundtrippers ranked 8th in the National League and 16th among major league clubs in this "home run" era of our national pastime.

MR. RELIABLE: Eric Karros, who has played in 1,183 games during his career, ranked first among Dodgers in games played during this decade...past decade leaders include: Steve Sax (1,091 in 1980s); Bill Russell (1,317 games in 1970s) and Willie Davis (1,347 games in 1960s).

MIXING IT UP: In 162 games this season, Manager Davey Johnson used 109 different lineups, including 44 in the last 76 after the All-Star break...the team was 53-56 when using a different lineup.

RARE RAINOUT: The Dodger' club-and major league-record streak of 856 games without a rainout ended on April 11 when their scheduled contest against the Colorado Rockies was postponed...the rainout was the club's first at Dodger Stadium since April 19-21, 1988 when it had 3 in a row against San Diego and 16th overall.

ROTATION OF MANY NATIONS: The Dodgers had pitchers from 6 nations start at least one game this season, the most in franchise history...the pitchers and their nations: Jeff Williams, Australia; Eric Gagne, Canada; Chan Ho Park, South Korea; Carlos Perez and Robinson Checo, Dominican Republic; Ismael Valdes, Mexico; and Jamie Arnold, Kevin Brown, Darren Dreifort, Mike Judd, United States.

DOUBLEHEADER DELIGHT: Because of a rainout on April 11, the Dodgers on July 22 against the Colorado Rockies held the first doubleheader at Dodger Stadium since they played 3 in a row July 6-8, 1992 against the Montreal Expos...the Dodgers' record in doubleheaders since 1961 moved to 172-142 after they were swept by the Rockies.

PINCHING IN AGAIN: Dave Hansen collected a team-high 13 pinch hits, the 4th time in his career he has led the Dodgers in hits off the bench...he also led L.A. in pinch hits in 1993 (18), 1995 (11) and 1996 (13)...Hansen's 76 career pinch-hits as a Dodger rank 2nd in club history behind Manny Mota's 106.

YOUNG SLUGGER: With 15 home runs in 152 games, 20-year-old third baseman Adrian Beltre became the youngest player in L.A. history to reach double-digits in home runs since 21-year-old Tommy Davis hit 11 roundtrippers in 110 games in 1960.

WELCOME TO THE "SHOW": Five players, all pitchers, made their major league debuts in a Dodger uniform this season: Jamie Arnold, Eric Gagne, Matt Herges, Onan Masaoka, and Jeff Williams.

SPRING TRAINING

DODGERTOWN

For more than half a century, it has been the training grounds of future Hall of Famers and the starting point to several generations of Dodger ballplayers.

The 2000 spring training season marks the Dodgers' 52nd year at Dodgertown in Vero Beach, FL and the 49th season at Holman Stadium.

The Dodgers first set up camp in Vero Beach in 1948 at the invitation of local businessman Bud Holman after the city needed a tenant to occupy the former World War II naval air station. For his efforts, the Dodgers named their spring training stadium after Holman. The 6,500-seat Holman Stadium opened on March 11, 1953 against the Philadelphia Athletics. The facility also includes a row of outdoor batting cages and six practice fields.

The original concept of Dodgertown was to provide a classroom environment for players and coaches with enough land so personnel could discuss baseball at any point in the day. Because there were so many Dodger minor league ballclubs, many affiliates and working groups were assigned different colored uniforms to help keep drills and other daily itineraries on schedule.

Dodgertown has undergone many changes through the years since 1948 when 600 players spent their first spring training. A modern 90-unit housing facility replaced the old military barracks. A 23,000 square-foot administration building was constructed in 1974 on the site of the former headquarters building. The structure includes a major league clubhouse, minor league clubhouse, medical department, dining room, kitchen, main lobby, broadcasting studio, photo dark room, interview room, lounge, media workroom, two training rooms, two equipment rooms and a commercial laundry room.

In 1990, Dodgertown unveiled a new 15,000 square-foot, multi-purpose building that houses four indoor batting tunnels, an exercise room containing the latest in training equipment, a video room to be used by Dodger instructors as a teaching area and baseball administrative offices for Dodger executives during spring training. The offices are also used as meeting rooms for conferences throughout the year.

The Dodgers also completed a $1 million renovation to Dodgertown in 1997. The renovation included an addition to the complex that houses the major league clubhouse, a new clubhouse and golf cart storage facility at Dodgertown Golf Club, the addition of a new umpires room and minor league equipment storage facility and additional office space to the conference center.

In addition to the four projects, Dodgertown upgraded the indoor batting cages and playing fields and created a new private pitching mound next to the pitching strings area. Underground wiring was installed to eliminate all overhead wiring and a new media room was constructed adjacent to the lounge for all working media.

Even the recreation facilities at Dodgertown have undergone radical change since their initial spring camp. Two golf courses – an 18-hole golf course called Dodgertown Pines Country Club and a nine-hole layout called Dodgertown Golf Club – outline the complex. The Pines' clubhouse is complete with locker rooms, dining room and pro shop.

Dodger personnel also have the use of a swimming pool, four all-weather tennis courts, game room and movie theater.

Dodgertown, the only privately owned training camp in the country, also includes 60 acres of citrus groves, 45 residences on the golf course perimeter and a conference center. Since 1965, the Dodgers have purchased 450 acres from the city of Vero Beach.

Dodgertown remains open throughout the year as a conference center managed by Harrison Conference Centers. The conference center is designed to provide the proper environment for business meetings and the most intensive learning objectives. There are 20 specially designed meeting rooms, featuring the latest in audio-visual equipment. The recreation program includes golf, tennis, baseball, swimming, basketball, volleyball and jogging trails. Dodgertown has more than 250 employees and can accommodate up to 180 conferees.

International visits have become a tradition at Dodgertown. The Dodgers have hosted a professional team from Asia on 12 different occasions. The Samsung Lions professional baseball team from Taegu, Korea trained at Dodgertown in 1985, 1992, 1993, 1996 and 1997. In addition to the Lions' five visits, the Tokyo Giants trained in Vero Beach in 1961, 1967, 1971, 1975 and 1981. The Chunichi Dragons from Nagoya, Japan trained at Dodgertown in 1988. Taiwan's Sinon Bulls became the 12th Asian and first Taiwanese team to train at Dodgertown when they began a week of workouts in February 1999.

In February 1996, the Dodgers welcomed a baseball team from Hanyang University in Seoul, Korea, marking the first time a Korean university team trained in the United States and the second time overall an amateur college team trained at Dodgertown. Waseda University, one of Japan's leading universities, was the first university to join the Dodgers' players and staff at Vero Beach in 1995.

The Dodgers have also entertained representatives from all over the world, including hosting the Nigerian National Youth Team in 1992.

Dodgertown has been utilized by numerous NFL teams, including the Philadelphia Eagles in preparation for the playoffs in 1995. The Kansas City Chiefs, Buffalo Bills, New Orleans Saints, New England Patriots, Cleveland Browns and Green Bay Packers have also utilized the facilities for training. Dodgertown became the home to the University of Miami football team prior to its regular season opener after Hurricane Andrew devastated the Florida coast in 1993. The Ohio State Buckeyes trained at Dodgertown prior to the 1995 Citrus Bowl. The Dodgers also hold a rookie camp following the June First-Year Player Draft each year.

Dodgertown also hosts annual adult fantasy baseball camps in November and February, featuring instruction by former Dodger greats and Hall of Famers.

The 2000 season will also mark the 21st year that Vero Beach has served as the summer home of the Dodgers' Single-A Florida State League affiliate. In one of the smallest towns in the country with a professional baseball club (population 17,350), the Vero Beach Dodgers set the club attendance record after drawing 95,300 fans over 63 home games in 1991. Holman Stadium was also the site of the 1991 Florida State League All-Star Game.

Wills First to Steal 100 Bases

In 1962, Maury Wills stole 104 bases in 117 attempts to break the previous major league record of 96 stolen bases set by Detroit Tigers' outfielder Ty Cobb in 1915. Wills' monthly totals (stolen bases-caught stealing) were: April (8-1), May (19-2), June (15-2), July (9-2), August (22-2), September (27-4) and October (4-0). From 1960-65, Wills averaged 63 stolen bases per season. Prior to Wills, no National League player had swiped more than 40 bases in one season since Chicago's Kiki Cuyler stole 43 bases in 1929.

Dodgers' Dream Foundation

The Dodgers Dream Foundation was founded in 1998 to provide educational, athletic and recreational opportunities for underserved youth in Los Angeles through a variety of unique and exciting fundraising programs.

Since its inception, the non-profit organization has raised more than $200,000, including approximately $145,000 in 1999. The foundation kicked off its fundraising events last season with an Opening Night Dinner hosted by Dodger Manager Davey Johnson and his wife, Susan.

In June, the Dodgers and Amateur Athletic Foundation sponsored the Fourth Annual Dodgers All-Star 5K Run at Dodger Stadium, with proceeds benefitting the Dodgers Dream Foundation. More than $40,000 was raised during the Second Annual "Take-The-Shirts-off-Their-Backs" Jersey Day auction in August. The auction gave fans the opportunity to purchase jerseys that were worn by Dodger players during a game and later autographed.

Fundraising events continued in 2000 with the inaugural Dodgers Dream Weekend in January. Participants enjoyed a spectacular stay on the Hawaiian island of Lana'i with several current and former Dodger players and coaches.

Career Summary: Rejuvenated his career with the Arizona Diamondbacks over the last 2 years after spending the previous 4 seasons bouncing around with 8 clubs recuperating from a right elbow injury...was one of the premier closers in the game prior to his elbow injury, becoming the first pitcher to record 20 saves in each of first 5 seasons with the Baltimore Orioles from 1989-93 (160 total)...also became the youngest pitcher to record 100 career rescues in 1992 (25 years, 204 days)...ranks 7th among active pitchers and is 23rd all-time with 217 career saves.

1999: His season began where it left off in 1998, serving as the closer, but the addition of Matt Mantei on July 9 altered the responsibilities in the 'pen, with Olson becoming a set-up man for most the 2nd half...he and his numbers flourished with the role change, closing the year by allowing just 9 earned runs in 31.0 innings, a 2.61 ERA over his final 29 appearances...he was a major contributor to the bullpen's season-ending 12-game winning streak, going 5-0 after the arrival of Mantei, and 6-0 after returning on July 8 from a 15-day stint on the disabled list due to back spasms...managed to add 3 more saves to his total in the 2nd half, rescuing consecutive games in Wrigley Field on August 10 and 11, the first occurring when he subbed for Mantei, who had worked 3 consecutive days, then the next day working the 11th inning of a 7-5 triumph...all told, he established a career-high with 9 wins, 3 more than his previous best with Baltimore in 1990...of his victories, only the last 2 came after he had been charged with blown saves, both on the final road trip of the season...Gregg finished the year 14-for-23 in save situations, with the majority of the blown save damage taking place early in the year...it was questionable whether he would even open the season ready to go due to a bout with tendinitis in his right wrist that hampered him through a large portion of spring training...he battled through the injury, but the results weren't what he would have liked at the outset, getting charged with 3 blown saves the first 3 times he took the mound...he was a strike away from closing out the season opener in Los Angeles, but Raul Mondesi spoiled the party with a 3-run homer and the Dodgers eventually won, 8-6 in 11 innings...Gregg then gave up runs twice in the late innings in Atlanta to complete the first trip, getting charged with one loss...he finally got back on track and recorded his first save on April 21 vs. Philadelphia, starting a stretch of 11 saves in 14 opportunities...his first 2 wins of the year were the results of an amazing stretch of late-inning heroics by the Arizona offense, as he was the pitcher of record on May 10 and 11 vs. Montreal, the first 2 of 3 straight wins over the Expos in which the Diamondbacks ended each tilt with a home run...recorded 3 saves in as many days for the first time as a Diamondback on June 13-15 at Anaheim on the 13th, then the next 2 nights at home vs. the Marlins...1998: After joining the Diamondbacks as a non-roster invitee to spring training, Gregg earned team Pitcher of the Year honors in a vote of the local BBWAA chapter...he finished the season with 30 saves, the 2nd highest total in expansion history (Bryan Harvey had 45 for the 1993 Marlins)...the 30-save season, the 4th of his career but first since 1992 with Baltimore, made him just the 3rd hurler ever to go at least 5 years between 30-save campaigns...Todd Worrell had a 6-year span (1988 with St. Louis to 1995 with L.A.), and Mike Marshall (1973 with Montreal and 1979 with Minnesota)...he earned milestone save No. 200 on Sept. 7 at home against the Dodgers, closing out a 4-2 Arizona win...ended up making good on 30 of 34 save opportunities, tying Atlanta's Kerry Ligtenberg for 4th in the N.L. in save pct. (.882), and tying Ligtenberg and Houston's Billy Wagner for 7th in overall saves...Gregg opened the year in a set-up role, appearing 12 times before recording his first save on May 14 at home vs. Milwaukee, beginning a stretch in which he earned saves in 7 of 8 appearances...from July 13-Sept. 22, made good on 22 consecutive save opportunities, including saves in 9 straight mound appearances (July 17-August 7)...his save on July 13 vs. Houston began a streak of 15 consecutive scoreless outings, spanning 16.2 innings...recorded career strikeout No. 500 when he fanned Barry Bonds on September 15...snapped a lifetime 0-for-3 at the plate with a 2-run homer at home on April 20 off Florida's Oscar Henriquez...1997: Was a non-roster invitee to spring training with Minnesota and won a spot on the 25-man roster to open the year, but gave up 17 earned runs in 8.1 innings and was released...signed a minor league contract with the Kansas City organization on May 24, making 9 appearances for Triple-A Omaha, 5 of which were starts...after going 3-1 with Omaha, he returned to the majors on July 3 to work in a set-up role in the Royals' bullpen...went 4-3 with a save and 3.02 ERA in 34 outings...one save came in final outing of year on Sept. 27 in Chicago, a 3-inning stint...1996: Was with a pair of N.L. clubs during spring training but did not appear in a regular season game with either...went to camp with St. Louis, then had his contract purchased by Cincinnati in late March...opened year with Triple-A Indianapolis, then was traded to Detroit on April 26...posted back-to-back saves on June 14-15 vs. Twins...led the Tigers with 8 saves, then was traded to Houston on August 26...earned first N.L. win in debut on August 28 vs. Cubs...1995: Signed as a free agent with Cleveland in March and began season with Triple-A Buffalo...led the Bisons with 13 saves, then had contract purchased by Indians on June 18...appeared 3 times for Cleveland, then had contract sold to Kansas City...worked once for Omaha, before finishing year with Kansas City...earned a victory on August 17 at Baltimore, his first win in the majors since June 22, 1992, while a member of the Orioles...1994: Signed as a free agent with Atlanta, but did not pitch until May 30 due to elbow injury...earned first N.L. save on July 24 at St. Louis...1993: His final year with the Orioles, became first pitcher to record 20 saves in each of first 5 seasons, earning 20th rescue on June 22 vs. Detroit...converted on 15 consecutive save opportunities (June 5-July 19)...he was the first Oriole pitcher to bat since DH rule arrived in 1973, striking out vs. Kansas City on July 21...was disabled from August 9-Sept. 20 with slight ligament tear in right elbow...surrendered home run to first batter faced of season, then did not allow a home run in final 49 games (187 at bats)...1992: Earned save on May 3 vs. Seattle becoming youngest pitcher to record 100 career rescues (25 years, 204 days)...became Orioles all-time save leader with No. 106 on May 30 at Oakland...converted career-high 19 straight save chances (April 13-June 19)...finished year allowing a run on 4 hits from August 15-October 4, retiring 46 of 55 batters...voted by managers as possessor of A.L.'s best curveball in poll by Baseball America...toured Japan with MLB All-Stars after season...1991: Allowed home run to New York's Mel Hall on May 26, only long ball surrendered all season (73.2 IP)...became 3rd pitcher to save no-hit game on July 13 at Oakland, pitching an inning to finish up for Bob Milacki, Mark Williamson and Mike Flanagan to etch names in the record book...1990: Had streak of 41.0 straight scoreless innings from July 31, 1989-May 4...converted first 14 save opportunities...allowed 9th inning home run to Dwight Evans on June 23 at Boston, snapping streak of 114.2 straight homerless innings dating back to April 15, 1989 (also an Evans home run)...was the youngest player in uniform at 1990 All-Star Game in Wrigley Field, though did not pitch...became youngest 30-save pitcher in history (23 years, 10 months), breaking record held by Cubs' Bruce Sutter in 1977...ranked 2nd all-time for most saves in first 2 seasons (64) behind Cardinals' Todd Worrell with 69 (1986-87)...1989: Converted first 15 save opportunities (April 15-July 14)...did not allow a run after July 31 (26.2 IP)...opposing hitters limited to .188 overall average, including a .135 mark by left-handed batters...surrendered only home run of season on April 15 at Boston (Dwight Evans)...27 saves broke A.L. record for rookie hurler set by Minnesota's Doug Corbett in 1980 (23 saves)...was first rookie to win Most Valuable Oriole Award and was A.L. Rookie of the Year, receiving 26 of 28 first-place votes...named Baseball America's Rookie of the Year and was a member of Baseball Digest's All-Rookie Team...1988: Began year as a U.S. Olympian, but requested to leave the Olympic team on July 1 and was granted permission on July 7...pitched in Hagerstown and Charlotte before recall to Orioles on September 1...earned a win in his big league debut on September 2 at Seattle.

The Dodgers were the only sports franchise and Los Angeles-based company chosen in 1997 by Fortune magazine as one of the 100 Best Companies to Work for in America. It was the third time the Dodgers have received such prestigious recognition after being acknowledged by best-selling authors Robert Levering and Milton Moskowitz in their books, The 100 Best Companies to Work for in America, published in 1984 and 1993. The Dodgers were one of 18 companies to be named in all three editions.

Fans Write In Garvey to All-Star Game

In 1974, first baseman Steve Garvey became the only Dodger to be elected to the All-Star Game as a write-in candidate. Garvey's name didn't appear on the ballot at the beginning of the season, but a .338 batting average through May gained national attention. Garvey went 2-for-4 with a double and RBI in the National League's 7-2 victory over the American League at Pittsburgh's Three Rivers Stadium. Garvey was named All-Star Game MVP, an honor he would also win in 1978.

Chronological History of the

Brooklyn's debut into the National League in 1890 began on a positive note as the team nicknamed the "Bridegrooms" won the championship with an 86-43 record. It was the first of 21 National League pennants that the Dodgers would win during the next 100 years.

The moniker "Bridegrooms" was attached to Manager William "Gunner" McGinnigle's 1890 ballclub because seven of the players got married around the same time in 1888. Despite the success of the Bridegrooms, McGinnigle didn't last past the initial year and the team paraded through six different managers before the end of the decade. The skipper included John Montgomery Ward (1891-92), Dave Foutz (1893-96), William Barnie (1897-98), Mike Griffin (1898), Charles H. Ebbets (1898) and Ned Hanlon (1899-1905).

The term "Trolley Dodgers" was attached to the Brooklyn ballclub due to the complex maze of trolley cars that weaved its way through the borough of Brooklyn. The name was then shortened to just "Dodgers." During the 1890s, other popular nicknames were Ward's Wonders, Foutz's Fillies and Hanlon's Superbas.

Baseball was not new to Brooklyn, which had fielded a team as early as 1849. Charles Byrne, president of the Brooklyn club which started in the Interstate League and moved into the American Association, built Washington Park on the approximate site where George Washington's Continental Army had fought the battle of Long Island. The Dodgers of 1890 transferred to the National League from the American Association, where they had won the 1889 pennant.

Under Hanlon, who joined the Dodgers from Baltimore, the team brought stars to Brooklyn including "Wee" Willie Keeler, Hughie Jennings and Joe Kelley. Sportswriters dubbed the team "Hanlon's Superbas" because of a popular Broadway troupe of the same name. Brooklyn won the 1899 title under Hanlon, the first of two consecutive pennant winners.

Brooklyn-born Keeler, famous for saying "I hit 'em where they ain't," had great bat control and was an adroit hunter. He compiled a .345 career batting average, fifth best all-time in baseball. The 5-foot-4 Hall of Famer had a league-leading 140 runs scored in 1899. First decade stars also included pitcher William "Brickyard" Kennedy, who won 176 games; pitcher Tom Lovett, who won 30 games in 1890 (the only Dodger pitcher to record 30 wins in one season); outfielder Tommy "Oyster" Burns, who batted .300 from 1890-95 and led the league with 128 RBI in 1890; Mike Griffin, who batted over .300 in an eight-year period (1891-98) before managing; first baseman Dan Brouthers, who was the club's first batting champion with a .335 average in 1892; shortstop Tommy Corcoran, who batted .300 with 173 hits in 1894; and first baseman Candy LaChance, who hit .290 for six seasons (1893-98).

The turn of the century was marked by the Dodgers' second consecutive pennant-winning team (82 wins) under Manager Ned Hanlon. In 1900, the league was pared from 12 teams to eight, with Baltimore, Cleveland, Louisville and Washington dropping out. Baltimore transplant McGinnity, nicknamed "Iron Man" because of his ability to pitch both ends of a doubleheader, was 29-9 for the ballclub and once won five games in six days.

Beginning in 1901, the newly-formed American League began taking shape, luring top-notch talent from the National League. With a "raided" roster, Hanlon watched the Brooklyn foundation crack. Stars like McGinnity departed, as did Keeler, Jones, Kelley, Tom Daly and "Wild" Bill Donovan. It would not be until 1916 that the Dodgers would again be perched above their National League competition.

In 1901, Brooklyn slipped to third place and managed a second-place finish in 1902. In Hanlon's final season in 1905, they hit rock bottom with an eighth-place finish, 56 1/2 games behind New York. In 1903, Jimmy Sheekard became Brooklyn's first home run champion, as he led the league with nine home runs and stole 67 bases to tie for the league lead.

One of the most exciting stars of the period was pitcher "Nap" Rucker, dubbed "Napoleon" by Grantland Rice. He played on the same South Atlantic League (Class C) team as Ty Cobb, which was considered the best club ever assembled at that level. The left-hander won 15, 17 and 13 games in his first three seasons with the Dodgers and wound up pitching in the 1916 World Series in his final season.

Zack Wheat was another Dodger to emerge in the last year of the decade and would eventually play in more games (2,322) than any other Dodger.

The ownership of the ballclub was in a state of flux, as Charles Ebbets had become a 24-year employee of the original triumvirate of owners – Charles Byrne, Joseph Doyle and Ferdinand Abell. Ebbets, who toiled at almost every aspect of baseball management – from selling peanuts, scorecards and tickets to working as Byrne's assistant in the front office, used every opportunity to purchase even a small amount of stock in the team. He eventually held nearly 10 percent of the stock and after Byrne died in 1897, Ebbets managed to get elected as club president.

Then in a wild plan, Ebbets and Baltimore owner Harry Von der Horst became partners and while Von der Horst held 30 percent ownership of the Dodgers, Ebbets in exchange received Manager Ned Hanlon and several of Baltimore's top stars, including Keeler, Jennings, McGinnity, Kelley, Jones, Dahlen and Donovan.

When things turned for the worse in early 1900, Von der Horst wanted to sell his stock and Ebbets purchased it to become owner of the club. Immediately, he dreamed of expanding to a larger facility than Washington Park to accommodate the large crowds that were attending Dodger games against the rivals from New York, but would have to wait until the next decade for funding of the project.

A decade of changes was marked by the Dodgers' move to a new home park, Ebbets Field, and the managerial era of Wilbert Robinson. "Uncle Robbie" arrived on the scene in 1914 and would stay through 1931. He made such an impact on the team and the city that the Brooklyn ballclub was known as the "Robins" during this period.

The 1916 club won the National League pennant and finally played in its first true World Series with the help of the amazing Casey Stengel. Although the Dodgers (or Robins) fell to the Boston Red Sox in the 1916 World Series, Stengel was the team's leading hitter with a .364 mark. Right-handed pitcher Jeff Pfeffer won 25 games that season for the 94-60 club.

In Game 2 of the Series, the Dodgers lost to a pitcher named Babe Ruth, who won a 2-1 decision in 14 innings. After allowing a first-inning inside-the-park home run to Hy Myers, Ruth hurled 13 consecutive scoreless innings.

In 1913, Jake Daubert became the first Dodger to win Most Valuable Player honors, as he batted a league-high .350. First baseman Daubert won the National League batting title again in 1914 with a .329 mark.

With the rivalry between the Brooklynites and Manhattanites heating up, the Dodgers and Giants feud began to boil. Robinson and Giants' Manager John McGraw took regular jabs at each other in the press and as a result, when the teams met at either New York site, fans packed the fields and were extremely vocal as well.

Dodger owner Charles Ebbets, recognizing that the club could no longer survive in the confines of Washington Park, purchased land in Flatbush bordered by Bedford Avenue, Sullivan Street, Franklin Avenue and Montgomery Street. Although he originally purchased most of the property in 1908, Ebbets was in a pinch for money and had to sell 50 percent of the club's stock to new partners, Ed and Steve McKeever. As a result of the partnership, the Brooklyn Baseball Club, Inc. was formed and Ebbets remained president, while the Ebbets-McKeever Exhibition company was run by Ed McKeever.

After a struggle to secure all of the land, Ebbets broke ground on his field on March 4, 1912. A group of sports editors suggested to Ebbets that the field should not be called Washington Park but "Ebbets Field." The Dodgers played an exhibition game against New York on April 5, 1913 in the unofficial opening of the field. On April 9, the Dodgers dedicated 18,000-seat Ebbets Field in a game against the Phillies.

In 1917, the United States declared war on Germany - just five days prior to the opening of the season. Baseball owners asked the government to give them guidance on the status of the season. When no reply came from the nation's capital, the season proceeded and the Dodgers fell from the top spot in 1916 to seventh in 1917. The season was eventually curtailed in 1918 as some players began to leave for war.

Top players of the decade included: George Cutshaw at second base; shortstop Ivy Olson, who led the league with 164 hits in 1919; Otto Miller, Brooklyn's catcher from 1912-22; outfielder Zack Wheat, a solid .300 hitter who paced the N.L. in 1918 with a .335 mark; Stengel, very popular with Brooklyn fans and, after being traded to Pittsburgh, is remembered for returning to Ebbets Field in 1918, where he acknowledged the crowd and a sparrow flew out from beneath his cap, and outfielder Hy Myers, who had 73 RBI to lead the N.L. in 1919.

The Dodger decade of the 1920s got off to a roaring start with a National League pennant in 1920. But over the next nine years, Brooklyn could manage only one other season better than fifth place.

Pitcher Burleigh Grimes burst onto the scene in 1918 and made his presence felt in 1920 with a 23-11 record for a league-leading .676 winning percentage. The Dodgers had to squelch a challenge by the Giants late in the season to garner the N.L. flag. In a best-of-nine World Series against the Cleveland Indians, the Dodgers won two of the first three games, only to drop four straight and bow out.

The 1920 World Series will also be remembered for producing the first and only unassisted triple play in Series history. In the fifth game, Dodger pitcher Clarence Mitchell lined a shot to Cleveland's Billy Wambsganss with Pete Kilduff on second base and Otto Miller on first. Wambsganss speared the liner to the right of the bag, stepped on the base to double up Kilduff and tagged Miller, who was running with the shot and was nearly at second base on the play.

The longest Dodger game in history was played on May 1, 1920 when the Dodgers were in Boston to play the Braves. The game was played to a 26-inning, 1-1 tie. What made it so unique was that both starting pitchers - Leon Cadore for Brooklyn and Joe Oeschger for the Braves - each went the distance! Cadore yielded 15 hits while the Dodgers had nine before darkness halted play.

In 1921, the fifth-place Dodgers were led by Grimes, who had an N.L. leading 22 wins and 136 strikeouts. "Ol' Stubblebeard," as Grimes was known, won 21 or more games four times as a Dodger.

A great character arrived at training camp in 1922 by the name of Clarence Arthur "Dazzy" Vance. Born on March 4, 1891, the 31-year-old Vance pitched 11 seasons for the Dodgers, winning in double figures all but one year. The right-hander won a league-leading 28 games in 1924 and 22 games in 1925. He was the N.L. strikeout leader for seven consecutive seasons (1922-28) and was twice the ERA champion in the decade (1924 and 1928). The 1922 and 1923 seasons were nearly repeat performances and neither was a pretty sight, as the Dodgers wound up in sixth place in succession. But, in 1924, Uncle Robbie's troops put on a furious run at the pennant, moving from 12 games back to first place in September, eventually losing to the Giants by 1 1/2 games.

In 1925, Brooklyn president Charles Ebbets was taken ill after returning from Clearwater, Florida in the spring and died on the morning of April 18 in New York. He was 66. The Dodgers were playing the Giants at Ebbets Field that day to begin a three-game series. The games went on as scheduled because Robinson said, "Charlie wouldn't want anybody to miss a Giants-Brooklyn series just because he died." Now acting president Ed McKeever was in charge. The day of Ebbets' funeral was cold and windy. McKeever caught a cold at the grave site that very day. He was stricken with pneumonia and within a week, he, too, was dead.

Grief stricken, the Brooklyn ballclub gathered itself around Steve McKeever and manager Robinson and the new directors to elect a president. Robinson was selected for the job, while continuing to manage as well.

Robbie's teams struggled for the balance of the decade, finishing in sixth place five consecutive seasons. Floyd Caves "Babe" Herman joined the Dodgers in 1926 as a first baseman but moved to the outfield to allow Del Bissonette a spot in the lineup. Herman batted over .300 in five of the six seasons he was with Brooklyn initially. He would return to close out his career in 1945. The incredible Zack Wheat would hit over .320 in six straight seasons before an injury slowed him down at age 40 and he batted .290.

No era in Dodger history was as wacky and wild as the 1930s. Unfortunately, the depression years were depressing for the organization as no pennants were won in this decade and the style of play led Brooklyn's teams to be known as the "Daffiness Dodgers."

A forerunner of the frustration for the Brooklyn fans could be summed up in the season of 1930. The Robins made quite a drive for the pennant, taking over first place with 15 consecutive victories and were in the top spot for 75 days. But they dropped a crucial three-game series to the Cardinals at Ebbets Field and wound up in fourth place by six games.

This decade was also marked by changes in baseball – the development of the farm system, the first night baseball game and the first broadcast on television.

The "Uncle Robbie" period faded after the 1931 season, but his legacy remains as the winningest manager in Brooklyn Dodger history with 1,375 victories in 18 seasons. Four different managers would parade through the decade, including Max Carey (1932-33), Casey Stengel (1934-36), Burleigh Grimes (1937-38) and Leo Durocher (1939-46, 1948).

With Robinson's departure, former Dodger player Max Carey took over the reins, but the results in 1932 and 1933 were less than satisfactory and Stengel replaced Carey.

It was in February of 1934, prior to Carey's departure, that New York Giants Manager Bill Terry was asked what he thought of Brooklyn's chances in the pennant race that season. He answered, "Brooklyn? Is Brooklyn still in the league?" That statement would come back to haunt Terry on the last two days of the season as the Giants were in a neck-and-neck race with the Cardinals for the pennant. The Dodgers proved they indeed were still in the league and they managed to knock out the Giants in the final series and the Cardinals became champions of the league and defeated the Detroit Tigers in the World Series.

After three sub-par seasons, Stengel was replaced by Burleigh Grimes, the former Dodger pitching great. In 1937, the Dodgers finished sixth under Grimes, 33 1/2 games out. On January 19, 1938, innovative Larry MacPhail was hired as the team's Executive Vice President to rebuild the Dodgers. While with Cincinnati, MacPhail had introduced night baseball to the major leagues as Crosley Field. In March of 1938, Steve McKeever died and MacPhail was appointed president.

MacPhail made needed improvements at Ebbets Field and then hired Red Barber (who had been Cincinnati's broadcaster) to come to Brooklyn for the 1939 season, effectively ending an agreement among the three New York clubs prohibiting radio broadcasts. The first televised game was on August 26, 1939 when the first game of the Cincinnati at Brooklyn doubleheader was aired. The introduction of night baseball to Brooklyn was on June 15, 1938 and Cincinnati's Johnny Vander Meer pitched his second consecutive no-hitter when the lights went on in Ebbets Field. MacPhail also signed Babe Ruth as a first base coach, the Bambino's last appearance in a major league uniform as a player or coach.

One of MacPhail's initial acquisitions was purchasing first baseman Dolph Camilli from Philadelphia. Camilli made an immediate impact on the 1938 and 1939 clubs with a total of 50 home runs and 204 RBI.

In the decade, second baseman Tony Cuccinello became the first Dodger ever to be selected to an All-Star Game as he played in the first one in 1933. Babe Herman, who typified the decade of the "Duffy Dodgers," set numerous records, including a .393 batting average in 1930. Outfielder Lefty O'Doul earned a National League batting title with a .368 average in 1932. Other Dodger notables included pitcher Van Lingle Mungo, who twice was an 18-game winner; catcher Al Lopez, who hit .279 in more than 700 games and later became a Hall of Fame Manager; and third baseman Cookie Lavagetto, who averaged .275 for seven seasons.

The 1940s were the beginning of the Dodgers' emergence as a powerhouse and a historical first as Brooklyn broke baseball's color line with the signing of Jackie Robinson.

Under the guidance of Leo Durocher, who became the Dodger manager in 1939, the Dodgers in 1941 won their first National League pennant in 21 years with a 100-54 record and played the first of their classic World Series confrontations against the New York Yankees.

Outfielder Pete Reiser was dynamite in 1941. Reiser led the league in batting, runs scored, total bases, slugging percentage and triples, while teammate Dolph Camilli topped the league in home runs and RBI and was honored as the National League MVP. Whit Wyatt and Kirby Higbe paced the pitching staff with 22 victories apiece.

The Dodgers in 1942 won four more games than the previous year, but finished second to the St. Louis Cardinals. Over the next three years, the Dodgers finished third, seventh and third, respectively. During World War II, many Dodger players were called to military duty.

With the end of the war in 1945, Brooklyn came back in 1946 and put together a big season, going 96-60, and finished tied for first with the St. Louis Cardinals. The two teams played the first-ever playoff series, but it was not a happy one for the Dodgers as the Cardinals won the pennant and went on to win the World Championship.

No playoff series was necessary in 1947 as the Dodgers won the National League pennant by five games over the Cardinals. That was not the only big story in 1947 as Jackie Robinson became the first African-American to play in the major leagues. In 1945, Robinson had signed a contract with Dodger President and General Manager Branch Rickey. In 1946, the former UCLA star endured his first year of professional baseball playing for the club's top minor league affiliate, the Montreal Royals.

In 1947, Robinson was given an opportunity with Brooklyn. Rickey's thorough research to find an exceptional African-American player was evident in his quote: "I'm looking for a ballplayer with enough guts not to fight back." He found his man in Robinson, who faced all forms of abuse and pressure. The more Robinson was taunted and threatened, the more he let his performance on the field speak for himself. Overcoming the critics and the prejudice, Robinson became one of the great stars of the game, later becoming the first African-American elected to the Hall of Fame. In his first season, Robinson hit .297, scored 125 runs and stole 29 bases en route to being the first-ever Major League Rookie of the Year.

In the 1947 World Series, the Dodgers fell to the Yankees in seven games, but there were two memorable moments for the Dodgers. Cookie Lavagetto broke up Bill Bevens' no-hitter in the ninth inning of Game 4 with a game-winning two-run double to give the Dodgers a 3-2 victory; and Al Gionfriddo's great catch of a Joe DiMaggio ball which preserved an 8-6 victory in Game 6.

Leo Durocher returned as manager of the Dodgers in 1948 after being suspended for the 1947 season. Durocher, though, lasted only half the season and was replaced by Burt Shotton, who guided the Dodgers in 1949 to their third pennant of the decade. Robinson was named the N.L. Most Valuable Player and pitcher Don Newcombe won Rookie of the Year honors. The Yankees, though, again defeated the Dodgers in the 1949 World Series.

1950s

In the 1950s, the Brooklyn Dodgers became the Los Angeles Dodgers as the team made its historic move to the West Coast in 1958. Despite the change in location, the Dodgers dominated the National League, winning five National League pennants (1952, 1953, 1955, 1956, 1959) and World Championships in 1955 and 1959.

In eight of the 10 years, the Dodgers never finished lower than second place while winning 913 games, the most wins in a decade in Dodger history.

As the decade started, the Dodgers had a new president, Walter O'Malley, who was originally appointed as the club's attorney in 1941. In October of 1950, O'Malley became president and chief stockholder of the Dodgers, a position he would hold for 20 years.

O'Malley saw his team take back-to-back pennants in 1952 and 1953 under Manager Charlie Dressen. In 1953, the Dodgers won a club record 105 games with the well-known "Boys of Summer," including Jackie Robinson, Pee Wee Reese, Roy Campanella, Gil Hodges, Carl Furillo, Don Newcombe, Carl Erskine, Jim Gilliam, Duke Snider, Preacher Roe and Clem Labine.

Walter Alston became manager in 1954 and guided the Dodgers for 23 seasons, putting together a great list of achievements: 2,042 wins, four World Championships, seven N.L. pennants, nine All-Star appearances and a Hall of Fame induction in 1983.

In 1955, the Dodgers defeated the Yankees and won their first-ever World Championship in a seven-game World Series. The Dodgers took Game 7 at Yankee Stadium as Series MVP Johnny Podres shut out the Yankees, 2-0.

The Dodgers repeated as National League champions in 1956 and once again faced the Yankees. In another heart-stopping World Series, the Yankees prevailed in seven games.

Dodger right-hander Don Newcombe made baseball history in 1956 when he became the first player to win Cy Young and MVP awards in the same season.

As the 1957 season rolled around, the team on the field was overshadowed by the publicity of the team's possible move to the West Coast. Since the early part of the decade, O'Malley had wanted to build a more modern stadium for his ballclub in Brooklyn. New York officials were unable to come up with a suitable site.

On October 8, 1957, O'Malley announced that after 68 seasons in Brooklyn, the Dodgers would be moving to Los Angeles. In a move to bring baseball to all parts of the country, the Giants also decided to relocate from New York to San Francisco. On April 18, 1958, the Dodgers played their first game in Los Angeles, defeating the Giants, 6-5, before 78,672 fans at the Coliseum.

In their final season of the decade, the Dodgers, a team in transition, finished in a first-place tie with the Milwaukee Braves. Two days later, the Dodgers had the N.L. pennant as they swept the Braves in a best-of-three playoff.

The Dodgers then faced the Chicago White Sox in their fifth World Series of the 1950s. Using timely hitting and outstanding pitching, the Dodgers brought their first championship to Los Angeles and beat the Sox in six games. Larry Sherry was impressive, winning two games and saving two, earning MVP honors. Charlie Neal and Chuck Essegian had two home runs apiece.

The 1960s marked the first full decade of the Los Angeles Dodgers. The location changed, but the results didn't as the Dodgers won two World Series (1963 and 1965), three National League pennants (1963, 1965 and 1966) and just missed a fourth pennant in 1962.

In 1962, Walter O'Malley finally had the stadium he had been seeking for so many years. After four seasons at the Los Angeles Coliseum, the ballclub moved into its new home, Dodger Stadium. The 56,000-seat stadium opened on April 10, 1962 with a game against the Cincinnati Reds. The sparkling new venue did wonders for the Dodgers as they won a Los Angeles record 102 games and tied San Francisco, which won a playoff, two games to one.

Individually, the 1962 season was a success for pitcher Don Drysdale, the Cy Young Award winner; and speedster Maury Wills, who stole a record 104 bases en route to league MVP honors. Tommy Davis won the batting crown and posted a club record 153 RBI and pitcher Sandy Koufax led the N.L. in ERA.

The Dodgers didn't miss another opportunity in 1963 as they won the National League pennant, winning 19 games in the final month of the season, the Dodgers staved off their challengers. Once again, the Dodgers faced the Yankees in the World Series. But Los Angeles shocked the Bronx Bombers, sweeping them in four games while holding a potent Yankee offense to just four runs.

Koufax was the key to the championship year. The overpowering left-hander, who was later named Player of the Decade, was 25-5 with a 1.88 ERA and 306 strikeouts. He was selected Most Valuable Player and Cy Young winner, while also garnering World Series honors and was named to the All-Star team.

In 1965, the Dodgers were once again World Champions. After winning the pennant with a 97-65 record, the Dodgers won a hard-fought, seven-game World Series over the Minnesota Twins. Koufax was again masterful as he posted two complete game victories in the Series, including a 2-0 shutout in Game 7. The Dodgers followed up in 1966 with another big year as they once again won the National League pennant before losing to Baltimore in the World Series.

Like Koufax, Drysdale was another pitching great of the decade. He won 158 games for the Dodgers and was selected to the All-Star team seven times. Johnny Podres also continued his outstanding pitching in the 1960s with 68 victories, including an 18-5 mark in 1961. Ron Perranoski was the Dodger bullpen stopper, compiling 101 saves and 54 wins with the Dodgers from 1961-67. During the 1963 championship season, he was nearly unbeatable, going 16-3 with 21 saves and a 1.67 ERA.

Although the pitching was the mainstay of the team in the 1960s, the Dodgers did produce some outstanding hitters. Tommy Davis won two consecutive batting titles in 1962 and 1963 and had a lifetime .304 average with the Dodgers. The other Davis – outfielder Willie Davis – enjoyed 14 seasons with the Dodgers. The all-time leader in many offensive categories, Willie Davis posted a club-record 31-game hitting streak in 1969. From 1960-64, 6-foot-7 slugger Frank Howard provided the Dodgers with 121 home runs, including 31 in 1962.

John Roseboro, who joined the Brooklyn Dodgers in 1957, played in three World Series during the 1960s (catching every inning) and was a five-time All-Star during his career.

After working as director of scouting for the Dodgers, Al Campanis was named Vice President, Player Personnel in December of 1968 and he would hold that position until 1987. During his tenure, the Dodgers won a World Championship, four N.L. pennants and six Western Division titles.

1970s

The Los Angeles Dodgers of the 1970s were a team of winners. Three National League pennants and three appearances in the World Series (1974, 1977 and 1978) along with 910 victories (second-best decade in Dodger history) are certainly enough credentials for a successful decade.

Peter O'Malley was named club president on March 17, 1970 and his father, Walter O'Malley, assumed the position of Chairman of the Board.

In the 1970s, no Dodger team ever finished lower than third. In 1971, the Dodgers finished just one game behind division winner San Francisco. But in 1974, the Dodgers reached the top, winning the division and posting 102 victories, the most by a Dodger team since 1962. The Dodgers defeated the Pittsburgh Pirates in the League Championship Series, three games to one, to earn a trip to the Fall Classic for the first time in eight years.

After 23 years, Hall of Fame Manager Walter Alston retired and handed over the reins to Tommy Lasorda, who became only the second National League manager to win pennants in his first two seasons (1977 and 1978). The results were carbon copies as his teams in 1977 and 1978 defeated the Philadelphia Phillies in the League Championship Series in four games, only to lose to the New York Yankees in the World Series in six games.

During this era, the Dodgers had an infield featuring first baseman Steve Garvey, second baseman Davey Lopes, shortstop Bill Russell and third baseman Ron Cey. The foursome began playing as a unit in 1973 and would spend a record 8 1/2 seasons together.

In 1977, the Dodgers made history when four members of the team hit 30 or more home runs: Steve Garvey (33), Reggie Smith (32), Ron Cey (30) and Dusty Baker (30). Behind the plate, catcher Steve Yeager was the picture of durability. One of the best Dodger catchers in history, Yeager played 14 seasons with the ballclub and was a tri-World Series MVP in 1981.

On the mound, the Dodgers had many stars. Don Sutton won 166 games during this decade, including a career-high 21 victories in 1976. In his final four seasons with the Dodgers from 1970-73, Claude Osteen won 66 games while Andy Messersmith won 55 games during his Dodger career (1974-76, 1979). Burt Hooton won 112 games in 10 years with the Dodgers, including 71 in the 1970s while left-hander Tommy John notched 87 wins and a 2.97 ERA in six years.

Out of the bullpen, the Dodgers looked to Jim Brewer in the early 1970s. In 1974, Mike Marshall became the first reliever in baseball history to win the Cy Young Award. The right-hander appeared in a record 106 games, had 21 saves and posted a 2.42 ERA. In the late 1970s, Charlie Hough and Terry Forster were the aces of the bullpen.

Throughout the 1980s, the Dodgers enjoyed one of their most successful decades in club history. The Dodgers captured two World Championships (1981 and 1988), four National League Western Division titles (1981, 1983, 1985 and 1988) and won 825 games, tying them with the St. Louis Cardinals for most victories by a National League team during the decade.

In 1980, Don Sutton set a Dodger record with his 52nd career shutout. The Dodgers also reached 3 million in home attendance for the second time in three years and hosted their first All-Star Game at Dodger Stadium. Before a capacity crowd of 56,088, the National League beat the American League, 4-2. The All-Star Game also marked the debut of the Dodgers' new Dodger DiamondVision Board.

On Opening Day in 1981, rookie Fernando Valenzuela — forced to start because of an injury to Jerry Reuss — blanked the Astros, 2-0, at Dodger Stadium, which was the beginning of "Fernandomania." Valenzuela took the baseball world by storm in 1981. The 20-year-old from Mexico became the first rookie to win Cy Young Award honors and he helped the Dodgers win the World Series over the New York Yankees.

On September 30, 1982, Steve Garvey, cornerstone for the Dodgers at first base, played his final game for the Dodgers in Los Angeles. Garvey had three hits in the game and moved into third place on the all-time list with 1,104 consecutive games played. Also in 1982, second baseman Steve Sax won Rookie of the Year honors.

In 1983, without longtime Dodgers Steve Garvey and Ron Cey, a young Los Angeles team won the division with 91 victories. Steve and Dave Sax made history as the only brothers to start a game for the Dodgers.

On April 25, 1985, Fernando Valenzuela set a major league record for most consecutive innings at the start of a season without allowing an earned run (41) before the Padres ended the streak.

Two years later on September 16, 1987, Pope John Paul II celebrated Mass at Dodger Stadium.

The 1988 season was the most memorable of the decade. Picked by some experts to finish fourth in their division, the Dodgers captured the Western Division and defeated the heavily favored New York Mets in the League Championship Series and Oakland Athletics in the World Series.

The 1988 World Series gave fans what was later voted as "The Greatest Sports Moment in Los Angeles History" when Kirk Gibson hit a dramatic pinch-hit, two-run home run in the bottom of the ninth inning off Oakland relief ace Dennis Eckersley to give the Dodgers a 5-4 victory in Game 1 at Dodger Stadium. Gibson was later named league MVP.

During the decade, many other great names came to the forefront. Pitcher Orel Hershiser posted double-digits in wins in his six years as a starter, including his phenomenal 1988 Cy Young Award season when he hurled a record 59 consecutive scoreless innings, surpassing the previous mark of 58 2/3 innings by Dodger pitcher Don Drysdale in 1968.

Other significant Dodgers of the 1980s included second baseman Steve Sax, who played seven solid years for the Dodgers; catcher Mike Scioscia, who along with Valenzuela were the only Dodgers to play every year of this decade; infielder-outfielder Pedro Guerrero, who hit 169 home runs and drove in 575 runs; pitcher Bob Welch, who won 103 games and fanned over 1,100 batters; outfielder Kenny Landreaux, who enjoyed seven seasons with the ballclub; and outfielder Mike Marshall, who averaged 17 home runs in the last eight seasons.

The 1990s proved to be a series of ups and downs for the Dodgers. It also marked a change of ownership after the O'Malley family's control for nearly five decades. The Dodgers won a division title in 1995 and a wild-card playoff berth in 1996, but it marked the first decade since the 1930s that the ballclub did not make a World Series appearance.

After finishing second in 1990 and 1991, the Dodgers posted a club-record 99 losses en route to a last-place finish in 1992. The Dodgers rebounded to third place in 1993 and held a 3 1/2-game lead in 1994 when a strike halted the season and canceled plans for a trip to the Fall Classic. The Dodgers won the Western Division in 1995, but lost to Cincinnati in the Division Series in three games. The Dodgers and Padres were tied for first place on the final day of the season in 1996. Both teams met at Dodger Stadium, having already clinched playoff berths because of an expanded playoff format that included the second-place team with the best record in each league. The Dodgers lost, 2-0, and were later swept by Atlanta in the Division Series.

The 1990 season celebrated the Dodgers' 100th anniversary in the National League. The pitching staff led the majors with 29 complete games and the Dodgers finished second to the eventual World Champion Cincinnati Reds. At age 22, right-hander Ramon Martinez became the youngest Dodger to win 20 games since Ralph Branca. Martinez also tied Sandy Koufax's club record with 18 strikeouts against the Braves on June 4 at Dodger Stadium. Martinez would later join Koufax as the only Dodger pitchers in history to throw both a no-hitter and strike out 18 batters in a game. Dodger shortstop Jose Offerman made his debut in 1990 as he became the 6th Dodger in history to hit a home run in his first major league at-bat. "Fernandomania" also had one last hurrah as Fernando Valenzuela pitched his only career no-hitter on June 29 against St. Louis.

The exciting 1991 season featured a classic divisional race between the Dodgers and Atlanta Braves. During the final six weeks of the season, neither club held a lead of more than two games. The Braves finally edged Los Angeles on the final weekend of the season to win the crown by one game. The Dodgers were led by newcomers Darryl Strawberry, whose 28 home runs are the most by a left-handed batter in Los Angeles history; and Brett Butler, the center fielder who set a National League record with 161 errorless games. Bouncing back from shoulder surgery, Orel Hershiser went 7-2 with a 3.46 ERA in 1991.

During the 1990s, the Dodgers set a record with five consecutive National League Rookies of the Year: Eric Karros (1992), Mike Piazza (1993), Raul Mondesi (1994), Hideo Nomo (1995) and Todd Hollandsworth (1996).

After belting 20 home runs as a rookie in 1992, Karros became a cornerstone to the Dodger offense in the 1990s. He played in more games than any other Dodger during the decade and his 211 home runs are tied with Steve Garvey for No. 2 on the all-time Los Angeles list behind Ron Cey (228). Karros also became one of five players in Dodger history to record four or more seasons with at least 30 home runs.

Piazza spent 5 1/2 seasons in Los Angeles, rewriting the record book and placing his name alongside some of the most prolific hitting catchers in history. He set rookie records with 35 home runs and 112 RBI in 1993, including two home runs on the final day of the season as the Dodgers knocked the Giants out of the divisional race with a 12-1 victory at Dodger Stadium. Piazza later set Dodger single-season records in 1997 with a .362 batting average, 40 home runs and a .638 slugging percentage. The Dodgers traded Piazza to Florida in a blockbuster seven-player trade in 1998.

During the 1990s, Mondesi became one of the most productive outfielders in Dodger history. He is the only Dodger to record at least 30 steals and 30 home runs in the same season, having accomplished the 30-30 plateaus in 1997 and 1999. Mondesi also became the first two-time Gold Glove winner since Steve Garvey won four straight from 1974-77.

Nomo burst upon the major league scene in 1995 after a successful career with the Kintetsu Buffaloes of the Japanese Professional League. As the first Japanese player to appear in the majors since San Francisco's Masanori Murakami in 1965, Nomo went 13-6 with a 2.54 ERA and a league-leading 236 strikeouts. He also started the 1995 All-Star Game at Texas. In 1996, Nomo pitched his first career no-hitter at the most unlikely site in baseball - Colorado's Coors Field - a 9-0 victory on September 17.

In 1994, Chan Ho Park made history as he was the first South Korean-born player to pitch in the major leagues. Along with Darren Dreifort, they became the 17th and 18th players since the First-Year Player Draft began in 1965 to make their professional debuts in the majors.

On March 19, 1998, Major League Baseball owners approved the sale of the Dodgers from the O'Malley family to The FOX Group. In October 1998, the Dodgers were named the "most successful organization in Major League Baseball during the 20th century" in a study conducted by Street and Smith's SportsBusiness Journal. Los Angeles finished first with a century performance index of 7.63 on a 10-point scale, based on a rating formula that evaluated the on-the-field and ticket window success of each of the 35 major league teams that played at least 10 seasons from 1901-98. The Brooklyn Dodgers finished ninth with a 5.38 century performance index rating. The SportsBusiness Journal also calculated separate performance ratings for each decade in the 20th century, with the Dodgers topping the rankings in the 1960s, 1970s and 1980s.

The 1998 season marked the induction of Jaime Jarrin, who became the second Spanish-language broadcaster named to the shrine. The Dodgers also retired the uniform No. 20 of Hall of Fame pitcher Don Sutton, who became the 10th Dodger to have his number retired. The others are Pee Wee Reese (1), Tommy Lasorda (2), Duke Snider (4), Jim Gilliam (19), Walter Alston (24), Sandy Koufax (32), Roy Campanella (39), Jackie Robinson (42) and Don Drysdale (53).

In 1999, Hall of Famers Vin Scully and Tommy Lasorda celebrated their 50th season with the organization. Scully, one of the most recognizable voices in baseball who has called three perfect games and 18 no-hitters during his career, was inducted into Cooperstown in 1982 as the winner of the Ford C. Frick Award. Lasorda, who managed the Dodgers from 1976-96, guided the Dodgers to World Championships in 1981 and 1988. He also became baseball's goodwill ambassador with his legendary "bleeding Dodger blue" stories. In 1997, Lasorda became only the 14th manager to be inducted into the Hall of Fame.

With a crowd of 37,717 for the Dodgers-Braves game on April 20, Los Angeles surpassed the 100 million mark in home attendance since Dodger Stadium opened in 1962. The Dodgers also surpassed the 3 million mark in attendance for the fourth consecutive season and 14th time overall, a major league record. Since 1973, the Dodgers have also drawn at least 2 million fans for a record 27 consecutive seasons.

The Dodgers ended the century with a third-place finish in 1999. On the field, right-hander Kevin Brown anchored the starting rotation with 18 wins and Jeff Shaw led Los Angeles with 34 saves. Mark Grudzielanek's .326 average was the highest by a Dodger shortstop in history and outfielder Gary Sheffield joined Hall of Famer Duke Snider as the only Dodger to hit at least .300 in one season with 30 home runs, 100 RBI, 100 runs and 100 walks.

Following the 1999 season, Robert A. Daly, Chairman and Co-CEO of Warner Bros. and Warner Music Group since 1980, purchased a minority ownership stake in the Dodgers on October 28. Daly became Chairman and CEO to serve as the club's managing partner.

From 1900-99, the Dodgers posted an 8,061-7,361 record, the third-highest winning percentage (.523) among teams in the 20th century. Los Angeles also registered the best record (797-757) among National League West teams during the 1990s and ranked fourth in winning percentage (.517) among National League teams.

In addition to a winning tradition, the Dodgers played a major role among sports franchises throughout the 20th century. From Uncle Wilbert Robinson to Tommy Lasorda, a collection of unforgettable personalities and great moments fills Dodger scrapbooks with golden memories. Beginning in 2000, the Dodger organization looks forward to the next century and entertaining future generations of baseball fans.
