OFFICERS

HOWARD LINCOLN*Chairman & Chief Executive Officer

A key player in the formation of the ownership group that saved the Mariners for Seattle in 1992, Howard Lincoln was named Chairman and Chief Executive Officer on Sept. 27, 1999.

On Feb. 14, 2000 Lincoln retired from his position as chairman of Nintendo of America, Inc. to devote his full efforts to the Mariners. Lincoln joined Nintendo as its senior vice president and general counsel in January 1983. In February 1994, he was elected to the board of Nintendo of America, Inc. and appointed chairman of the company.

Philanthropy plays an important role in Lincoln's life. In addition to his strong support of the Mariners Care Foundation, he is a former chairman of the Children's Hospital Foundation. He was the Campaign Chair of United Way of King County's 2003/04 Annual Campaign. Lincoln is a board member of The Washington Roundtable.

Lincoln is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, and holds a law degree from Boalt Hall, the University of California School of Law. Following graduation from law school, Lincoln served as a Lieutenant in the U.S. Navy Judge Advocate General's Corps from 1966 to 1970. He practiced law in Seattle from 1970 to 1983. He and his wife, Grace, reside on Mercer Island. Their son, Brad, and his wife, Kim, have two children: Ethan and Benjamin.

KEVIN MATHER*President & Chief Operating Officer

Kevin Mather was named Seattle Mariners President and COO effective Feb. 1, 2014. He succeeded Chuck Armstrong, who held that position for 28 years.

Mather joined the Mariners in 1996 as the Vice President of Finance and Administration. He was promoted to Executive Vice President of Finance and Ballpark Operations in 1999, where he was responsible for oversight of the Mariners accounting and financial reporting, ticket services, procurement, technology services, concessions and day-to-day operations of Safeco Field. He also oversaw the Mariners five retail locations, as well as non-baseball events held at the ballpark.

During his time with the Mariners, Mather has worked closely with executives and members of the ownership group who serve on key Major League Baseball committees and address issues of league-wide concern including finance & compensation, MLB's long-term investment fund and insurance coverages.

Prior to the Mariners, Mather worked for the Minnesota Twins from 1989-1996 where he served as Director and then Vice President of Finance. Before his career in baseball, Mather was with the Certified Public Accounting firm of Deloitte, Haskins & Sells for four years, and The Bellfonte Company of Minneapolis for one year.

Mather, 51, grew up listening to Bob Uecker as a Milwaukee Brewers fan in Madison, Wisconsin. He is a 1984 graduate of the University of Wisconsin where he received his B.A. degree in accounting and risk/insurance. He is on the Executive Board of Junior Achievement of Washington. His hobbies include golf, baseball, the Green Bay Packers, and his family and his two dogs. He and his wife Shannon live in Issaquah with their three sons: J.P., David and Steven.

JOHN ELLIS*Chairman Emeritus

A life-long resident of the Seattle area, John Ellis led the efforts to keep Major League Baseball in the Pacific Northwest. Upon transfer of the Mariners franchise to the new ownership group, Ellis became its first chairman and CEO, serving from June 29, 1992 until September 27, 1999, when he was named Chairman Emeritus. Ellis continues as a member of the Mariners Board of Directors.

During the seven full seasons of his tenure, the Mariners only finished below .500 once, while winning two Division titles and narrowly missing a third. Community and fan support improved enormously – attendance grew from 1,651,398 in 1992 to 3,507,975 in 2001. The greatest accomplishment under his leadership was the construction of our world-class ballpark, Safeco Field.

In June 1999, Ellis was unanimously elected to the MLB Executive Council. He's currently a member of the International, Ownership and Compensation & Finance Committees of MLB and chair of the BERP II Committee. John started his career as a lawyer with Perkins Coie in 1953 (where he is now of counsel). He then joined Puget Sound Power & Light Company (now Puget Sound Energy) in 1970, where he served variously as President, C.E.O. and Chairman until his retirement in 1993. During his utility career he served nationally as Chair of the Edison Electric Institute, and the Electric Power Research Institute. Although a loyal Husky, he was also Chair of the Board of Regents of Washington State University and Seattle University, uniquely at the same time. He and his wife, Doris, have 4 children and 8 grandchildren – all Mariners fans.

JACK ZDURIENCIK

Executive Vice President & General Manager, Baseball Operations

Jack Zduriencik (zur-EN-sik) was named as the eighth General Manager in Seattle Mariners history after being hired on Oct. 22, 2008. Entering his sixth year, he is the second-longest serving GM in team history.

In his first year on the job, he re-organized the Mariners Baseball Operations, Scouting and Player Development staffs, added talent to both the Major League and minor league rosters and hired a new manager and coaching staff all resulting in the Mariners vaulting from 61 wins in 2008 to 85 wins in 2009. He was recognized for his accomplishments with the Andrew “Rube” Foster Legacy Award from the Negro Leagues Baseball Museum recognizing the Executive of the Year.

His first trade with the Mariners was a three-team, 12-player deal in which Seattle acquired seven players from the New York Mets and Cleveland Indians, including then starting center fielder Franklin Gutierrez. His moves since that first trade were all built around his goal of accumulating talent in the Mariners Major League and minor league system. In 2010, eight of the Mariners nine minor league affiliates advanced to post-season play, a concrete example of the improved talent level in the organization.

In recent seasons, players drafted and developed by Seattle have begun arriving in the Majors creating a young, talented big league core. This success has allowed Seattle to sign Felix Hernandez and Robinson Cano to long-term deals.

Zduriencik spent nine seasons with the Milwaukee Brewers (1999-2008). He was promoted to Vice President – Special Assistant to the General Manager for Player Personnel on Jan. 15, 2008. He spent the previous two years (2006-2007) as Special Assistant to the GM/Director of Amateur Scouting after being hired by the Brewers as Director of Scouting on Oct. 25, 1999.

He is credited with helping to re-stock the Brewers minor league system with talent through the draft.

Following the 2007 season, Zduriencik was named Executive of the Year by Baseball America, becoming the first non-GM to ever win the award.

A 31-year veteran in Major League Baseball, Zduriencik worked with four MLB organizations prior to joining the Mariners. In addition to the Brewers, Zduriencik was Director of International Scouting & Special Assistant to the GM for the LA Dodgers in 1999. Zduriencik spent two stints with the New York Mets, beginning his career in New York as an area scout (1983-89), scouting crosschecker (1990, 1994-95), Minor League Operations Director (1996-97) and Special Assistant to the GM (1998). He also worked as the Mets Advance Scout during its playoff runs in 1986 and 1988. Between stints in New York, Zduriencik was Director of Scouting for the Pittsburgh Pirates from 1991-93.

Prior to beginning his work in Major League Baseball, Zduriencik coached football and baseball at Clairton High School in Pittsburgh from 1977-80 and at Tarpon Springs High School in Florida from 1980-82. He coached football and baseball at the collegiate level at Austin Peay State University (Clarksville, TN) from 1975-77.

Jack and his wife, Debbie, reside in Bellevue. They have one adult daughter, Kimberly, who is a nurse in Pittsburgh. Zduriencik has a bachelor's degree in education from Cal-State Pennsylvania and a master's degree in physical education from Austin Peay State University. He also attended Middle Georgia JC. Jack is a member of the Pennsylvania American Legion Hall of Fame and the Lawrence County (PA) Hall of Fame.

JEFF KINGSTON

Assistant General Manager

Jeff Kingston is entering his fifth full season with the Mariners after being hired as Assistant General Manager on Sept. 17, 2009.

Kingston spent the previous nine seasons working with the San Diego Padres.

Jeff assists Jack Zduriencik in all player acquisitions, contract negotiations and player evaluations. He is also actively involved with roster, payroll and budget management. He played a key role in the construction of the Mariners new facility in the Dominican Republic and the remodeled Spring Training complex in Peoria, AZ.

Jeff was originally hired by the Padres as an intern in the corporate development department in the summer of 1999. Guidelines for Selection to the Mariners Hall of Fame

The Mariners Hall of Fame was established in 1997 to honor the great players and other individuals who make positive contributions to the history of the Mariners franchise.

I. Eligible Candidates - To be eligible for consideration, uniformed personnel (player, manager or coach) should meet the following requirements:

- A. Active in a Mariners' uniform for at least five seasons;
- B. Ceased to be active in the Major Leagues at least two seasons preceding the selection, but may be otherwise connected with baseball.

To be eligible for consideration, non-uniformed personnel should meet the following requirements:

- A. Full-time employee of the Mariners for at least five seasons.
- B. Made significant contributions to Mariners baseball and the franchise, either on or off the field.

II. Method of Selection - The Mariners governing board, the Board of Directors of Baseball of Seattle, Inc., makes the selections for the Mariners Hall of Fame. Such selections may be made at the initiative of the Board, or at the recommendation of the Chief Executive Officer and the President of the Mariners, the Mariners front office, Mariners players, members of the media or the fans.

III. Criteria for Selection - The primary criterion for inclusion in the Mariners Hall of Fame for players shall be the on-field impact a player had while in a Mariners' uniform. The measure of a player's impact shall primarily be the statistical record created by the player.

The Mariners will consider other factors, such as:

- 1. Statistical impact on the field while in a non-Mariners uniform, whether before or after his tenure with the Mariners;
- 2. A player's positive impact on the Northwest community outside the game of baseball; and
- 3. A player's positive impact in enhancing the image of the Seattle Mariners or Major League Baseball.

IV. Time of Selection - The Board will consider recommendations of eligible candidates at least once each year, typically at its annual business meeting each fall. There may be more than one selection in a given year, and there may be no selection at all.

V. Retirement of Uniform Number - The Mariners plan to retire uniform numbers only very selectively and subject to substantially higher expectations than those applied to the Mariners Hall of Fame. To be eligible to have one's number retired, in addition to the criteria outlined above, the former Mariners should have either a) been elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame and been in a Mariners uniform for at least five years, or b) come close to such election and spent his entire career or a substantial portion of his career with the Mariners. Eligibility shall not commence until after the former player has been voted on once for the National Baseball Hall of Fame, which for all practical purposes means six years after retirement. In this regard, the Mariners will take into consideration the policy of other American League clubs in retiring uniform numbers. This determination will also be made by the Board.

VI. Amendments - The Seattle Mariners reserve the right to alter and amend these guidelines at any time.

HOW TO FIGURE

Batting Average — Divide the total number of hits collected by a player by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A is 12-of-40 or .300.

Slugging Percentage — Divide the number of total bases by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A's 12 hits include six singles (6), one double (2), two triples (6) and three home runs (12) for a total of 26 total bases in 40 at bats and a .650 slugging percentage.

On-Base Percentage — Divide the total of hits, walks and hit by pitch by the total of at bats, all bases on balls, hit by pitch and sacrifice flies.

Earned Run Average — The total number of earned runs allowed by a pitcher is divided by the total number of innings pitched and then multiplied by nine for his per-game average. Example: Pitcher B has allowed 12 earned runs in 45 innings of work for a 2.40 ERA.

Fielding Percentage — The sum of putouts and assists is divided by the sum of putouts, assists and errors. Example: Player C has made 16 putouts and 24 assists and two errors. That's 40 putouts and assists divided by 42 chances for a fielding average of .952.

Magic Number — Determine the number of games yet to be played by the division leader, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

SAFECO FIELD

Since the Inaugural Game of July 15, 1999, over 38 million fans have passed through the gates of Safeco Field.

The Mariners are truly a regional team drawing from one of the largest geographic home territories in Major League Baseball – Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Alaska and parts of western Canada. We have learned from surveys that over half our fans come from outside King County, and nearly half, 48%, tell us that they travel more than one hour to get to the ballpark.

Once they arrive at Safeco Field, fans are treated to one of the best ballparks in baseball, with a combination of the charm of the classic ballparks and the modern touches that make a fan's game experience that much better, including one of the largest HD videoscreens in MLB.

Sightlines from all seating areas are designed for optimal viewing. There are plenty of places to gather and casually watch the game while enjoying the beauty of the natural surroundings of Puget Sound and the downtown Seattle skyline. The Children's Hospital Playfield provides a place for kids to blow off some steam, and "The 'Pen" is a festive "event-within-an-event" that attracts thousands of people before and during each game.

Designed as an extension of The 'Pen's casual atmosphere, Edgar's Cantina and Home Run Porch made their debut in 2013. Located down the left field line, Edgar's is an open-air cantina with a standing lounge just above it. Both feature south-of-the-border flavors courtesy of Safeco Field consulting chef Ethan Stowell.

The Baseball Museum of the Pacific Northwest and Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame provide a connection to the region's rich baseball history. They are co-located on the Main Concourse along the third base line and are open to all fans during each Mariners home game.

In addition to baseball, Safeco Field has hosted such varied events as U.S. Men's soccer matches, Women's Gold Cup Soccer, the 2001 Seattle Bowl college football game, WWE's Wrestle Mania XIX, the WIAA State High School Baseball Championships, Mariners Cup invitational high school baseball tournaments, numerous graduations, weddings, proms, trade shows, birthday celebrations and holiday parties.

Over the years, Safeco Field has received numerous honors and appeared on several Top 10 and "best" lists. The ballpark was one of only two Seattle buildings to be named in the American Institute of Architects poll of America's favorite buildings. Opposing players have named it their second favorite ballpark to play in, behind Wrigley Field (MLB.com players survey), ESPN.com staff and readers named the ballpark among their Top 10 in separate surveys, and noted travel guidebook Zagat ranked Safeco Field as one of the top family attractions in the nation.

Safeco Field has also achieved something fans, public officials and the Mariners craved for most of the franchise's history--stability for Major League Baseball in the Northwest. The public-private partnership that built the ballpark resulted in a beautiful facility for all to enjoy and a solid foundation for the Seattle Mariners. On October 1, 2011, the bonds that were used to finance construction of Safeco Field were paid off, five years ahead of schedule. The Mariners and Washington State Major League Baseball Stadium Public Facilities District have maintained the ballpark in first-class condition and are looking forward to many more years at the "best ballpark in baseball."

RETRACTABLE ROOF

During the 2013 season, the Safeco Field retractable roof was closed (or moved during play) in 20 of 81 games, or only 25% of the time. Since Safeco Field opened in July 1999, the roof has been opened in 920 of 1,181 games (78%). The roof is necessary to guard against the risk of a rain out. With almost half of all fans reporting that they drive an hour or more to get to Safeco Field, fans are assured that if they make the trip, they'll see a ballgame.

Safeco Field's retractable roof covers but does not enclose the field and seating areas, thus preserving an open-air environment. The structure has a footprint of nearly nine acres, weighs 22 million pounds, and contains enough steel to build a 55-story skyscraper. The three movable panels glide on 128 steel wheels powered by 96 10-horsepower electric motors. The roof can extend or retract in 10-20 minutes, depending on weather conditions.

SCOREBOARD SYSTEM

Debuted in 2013, Safeco Field is home to one of the largest HD videoscreens in all of MLB. The LED technology, from Sanyo, measures 56.7' high by 201.5' wide. The total viewing area, 11,425 square feet, is equal to about 2,182 42-inch flat screen TVs. The 1080p x 3840 screen resolution provides image quality that is superior to broadcast HD signals. The video screen can be programmed for live action or video replays, split into sectors for graphics and animation and statistical data. The videoscreen integrates seamlessly with the Out-of-Town LED board and the LED ribbon boards on the Terrace Club fascia. The previous scoreboard dimensions were 56' high by 200' wide.

PLAYING FIELD

Safeco Field's playing surface is designed for the Northwest climate and the retractable roof. A blend of Kentucky bluegrass and perennial ryegrass provides a durable playing surface that grows well despite low levels of direct sunlight. The retractable roof can remain closed, if needed, for six consecutive days without harming the grass.

CONCESSIONS AND RESTAURANTS

Safeco Field's concessions and catering services are provided by Centerplate, one of the nation's largest providers of food, catering, merchandise and facility management services for sports, convention and entertainment venues. Fans will find a variety of fresh, high-quality choices from the Northwest and around the world available at the ballpark including local favorites such as Ivar's and Kidd Valley. Safeco Field consulting chef Ethan Stowell has created a variety of menu items including authentic Parisian crepes, grass-fed beef burgers, BBQ beef and pork sandwiches, hot links, and oyster Po 'Boys, all using fresh, local ingredients. Fans will also find sushi and other Asian delicacies, organic, gluten-free and vegetarian options, and classic ballpark fare. The Hit it Here Café and Edgar's Cantina provide seating before and during games, and the members-only Terrace Club, KeyBank Diamond Club, Emerald Queen All-Star Club, private and group suites, offer a selection of creative and delicious food in a relaxed setting.

SPECIAL FEATURES

Safeco Field has a number of unique and interesting areas for fans to enjoy before and during games. "The 'Pen" is an event-within-an-event. Located behind left and center field, the updated area features premium concessions from noted chef and Seattleite Ethan Stowell, New Haven-style pizza from a custom brick oven, and tortas. There's a cozy fire pit, The Rail bar and Caught Looking Lounge (which features cocktails), a Seattle Mariners Team Store, as well as the Fan Walk personalized bricks. The terraces behind the center field fence offer a lively atmosphere to meet and mingle with other fans and one of the best views of the game.

Lookout Landing, located at the end of the left field line of the 300 (view level), provides incredible views both inside and outside the park.

The Outside Corner Picnic Patio, directly above the Home Plate Gate entrance on the 300 level, is a gathering spot that offers breathtaking views of Puget Sound and the Olympic Mountains as well as tables and benches for pre- and in-game family picnics.

The Seattle Children's Playfield is located on the Main Concourse in center field. It lets kids work off excess energy on fun, baseball-themed playground equipment. Inside the Playfield is Moose's Munchies, a concession stand just for kids featuring menu items like peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, small hot dogs, Cracker Jack and soft drinks, all served in a souvenir plastic bucket.

Immediately outside the Playfield is the Seattle Children's Wishing Well, which spouts a column of water when the Mariners hit a home run. Coins tossed into the Wishing Well are donated to Seattle Children's to support patient care.

The flagship Mariners Team Store is open year-round with one of the world's largest selections of Mariners apparel and merchandise for men, women and children. The Kid's Clubhouse, located next to the Children's Playfield, caters to children and youth.

Works by 11 Northwest artists are incorporated into the design of the ballpark and parking garage. The ambitious $1.3 million public art program includes a variety of installations that celebrate the game of baseball including a huge bronze mitt outside the Left Field Gate and a chandelier of 1,000 translucent, regulation-sized baseball bats above the Home Plate Gate grand staircase.

SUSTAINABILITY

The Seattle Mariners are committed to operating the franchise and Safeco Field in an environmentally responsible manner. Since 2006, the recycling rate has increased from 13% to over 90% in 2013. Nearly everything used at Safeco Field is recyclable or compostable including all the food service items (plates, knives, forks, cups, straws, bottles, etc.). Compost and recycling bins have replaced garbage cans on concourses and cleaning crews hand-separate plastics and food waste after each game. In 2012 and 2013, the Mariners were named American League Recycling Champs by MLB Baseball.

An array of solar panels on the roof of the skybridge to the parking garage generates 40,000-kilowatt hours of power annually and four electric vehicle charging stations are available to the public year-round.

Through conservation and capital improvements, the Mariners have saved over $1.5 million in electricity, natural gas, water and sewer charges since 2006, and by updating light fixtures and mechanical systems, installing low-flow urinals, toilets and faucets, and a variety of other conservation measures, the Mariners will save an additional $250,000 in annual utilities costs.

Efforts such as these have reduced CO2 emissions by 21.2 million pounds, and are equal to planting 2,893 acres of forest and taking 1,755 cars off the road.

BASEBALL MUSEUM OF THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST

The Baseball Museum of the Pacific Northwest and Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame opened during the 2007 season. Located on the Main Concourse along the third base line at Safeco Field, they are open to all fans during every Mariners home game.

With the assistance of noted baseball historian Dave Eskenazi, the museum explores the rich history of baseball in the Pacific Northwest from the 1880s to today. Artifacts, photos and interactive exhibits invite fans into the region's baseball history documenting amateur, minor league and Major League Baseball.

The Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame celebrates the best of Mariners Baseball. There are seven current inductees – Alvin Davis, Dave Niehaus, Jay Buhner, Edgar Martinez, Randy Johnson, Dan Wilson, Ken Griffey Jr., and Lou Piniella is scheduled to become the eighth member during an induction ceremony on August 9, prior to the game vs. Chicago White Sox.

The Baseball Museum of the Pacific Northwest is funded through the proceeds of the sales of personalized bricks in the Bullpen Market Fan Walk of Safeco Field. In total, 12,500 bricks were sold by the Washington State Major League Baseball Stadium Public Facilities District (PFD). The PFD and Mariners worked closely with Bronskill & Company, the international design company that created Major League Baseball's All-Star FanFest, to create an exciting mix of exhibits, displays, dynamic attractions and activities that make up this guest experience.

GROUND RULES

Photographer's Areas

The ball is "in play" if it hits any of the railings defining the photographer wells and bounces back onto the playing field.

Ball Hitting Roof Trusses

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in fair territory shall be judged fair or foul in relation to where it lands or is touched by a fielder. If caught by a fielder, the batter is out and base runners advance at their own risk.

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in foul territory is a dead ball, regardless of where it lands or if caught by a fielder.

Outfield Area

The hand-operated scoreboard in left field is part of the left field fence. A ball must clear the scoreboard (defined by yellow horizontal line) to be a home run. If a batted ball hits the cyclone fence under the scoreboard and above the padded wall, and the ball lodges behind the padded wall, it shall be ruled a ground-rule double whether it lodges behind the wall on the fly or on a bounce.

The ladder and the handle attached to and to the right of the scoreboard are beyond the padded wall. A fly ball striking either the ladder or handle shall be ruled a home run.

Dugouts

A ball must enter the dugout to be considered a dead ball.

Movement of Roof

If a game is started with the roof closed, it may be opened when, in the opinion of the home club, climactic conditions warrant such opening. However, roof may be opened only once during a game and shall commence only between innings after the umpire crew chief has been notified. Prior to opening of roof, the visiting club may challenge the opening if it feels a competitive imbalance will arise. The crew chief will make a final decision based on the merits of the challenge.

If a game is started with the roof open, it may be closed during the game. The decision to close the roof shall be made by the home club, and may be made solely for the comfort of its fans. Play will continue during roof closure if possible. However, the umpires have the right to stop play during this process if they determine it is necessary to do so.

KINGDOME FAREWELL

After 22-and-a-half years, the Seattle Mariners said farewell to the Kingdome on Sunday, June 27, 1999. A sold-out crowd of 56,530 fans watched the Mariners defeat the Texas Rangers 5-2. A post-game ceremony featured a ceremonial "final pitch" in the Kingdome, as Bob "Scrap Iron" Stinson caught a pitch tossed by Cory Segui, the grandson of Diego Segui. Segui and Stinson made up the starting battery of the Mariners inaugural game on April 6, 1977. Mariners Legends who participated in the post-game ceremony included Hall of Famer Gaylord Perry, Ruppert Jones, Alvin Davis, Julio Cruz and Harold Reynolds.

PRE-GAME WORKOUT SCHEDULE

PEORIA SPORTS COMPLEX

The City of Peoria, the Seattle Mariners and the San Diego Padres opened the Peoria Sports Complex in 1994. Located 20 miles northwest of downtown Phoenix, the 145-acre facility provides separate practice facilities for the Padres and Mariners that include 6-1/2 practice fields, batting cages and a clubhouse for both clubs.

Peoria Stadium, which was designed by HOK Sports Group of Kansas City, accommodates 11,000 fans (8,000 seats and 3,000 on lawn). Dimensions for the park are 340 ft. down each line, 385 ft. in the power alleys and 410 ft. to center.

In 2014, the Mariners corporate offices, Major League and Minor League facilities were renovated and expanded by the City of Peoria. The entire project went from 35,700 sq. ft. to 56,368 sq. ft., an increase of 158%.

Peoria is only the second spring training site in Mariners history, as the club trained in Tempe from 1977-92. Seattle played all road games in 1993, but used the Peoria facility for morning workouts as the stadium was under construction.

DIRECTIONS: The Peoria Sports Complex is located east of West Loop 101 between Bell and Thunderbird. From I-10: Take Loop 101 North. Exit Bell Road (exit 14) and head east. Turn south on 83rd Avenue. Peoria Sports Complex is approximately one-quarter mile down on the east side of 83rd Avenue. From I-17: Take Loop 101 West and exit on Bell Road east (exit 14). A CAPSULE HISTORY OF PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL IN SEATTLE

- 1890: The first professional baseball team in Seattle was organized. The Seattle Reds played in the Class-C Pacific Northwest League.
- 1892: The Reds (first-half champions) won the P.N.L. Pennant when the Portland club declined to enter the playoffs because of financial problems.
- 1896: Club was re-named "Braves" and moved into its first stadium (Athletic Park – 14th and Yesler).
- 1903: The Pacific Coast League was formed and Seattle was a charter member. Thus, Seattle had two professional baseball teams for one season (the Braves were now in the Pacific National League and folded after one year).
- 1906-17: Seattle ended its membership in the P.C.L. and joined the Class-B Northwestern League.
- 1919: Seattle re-joined the Pacific Coast League. The club was named "Indians" and played a 225-game schedule (the extended season format continued through the 1957 P.C.L. season).
- 1937: Emil Sick bought the Seattle franchise for $115,000 and immediately changed the nickname to "Rainiers" (Sick also owned and operated the Rainier Brewing Company).
- 1938: On June 15, the Rainiers moved into the newly-built Sicks' Stadium (seating capacity of 11,500). Local sports hero Fred Hutchinson began his rookie season and posted a 25-7 record.
- 1939-41: The Rainiers won three consecutive P.C.L. pennants.
- 1955: Hutchinson returned as manager of the Rainiers and led the club to another P.C.L. crown. In addition, the first official proposition for a domed stadium in Seattle was made (bond issues for the project failed in 1960 and 1964).
- 1960: Sick sold the club to the Boston Red Sox. Seattle became the Red Sox triple-A affiliate.
- 1965-68: The California Angels purchased the club and Bob Lemon managed Seattle to its last baseball championship.
- 1967: Public approval was given for funds needed to build a domed stadium (completion was scheduled to be prior to the 1972 season).
- 1969: The Seattle Pilots came into existence and began to play in the American League. Sicks' Stadium was expanded to seat 28,500, and 677,944 fans came out to watch the 64-98 expansion team. Third baseman Tommy Harper led the junior circuit with 73 stolen bases.
- 1970: On March 31, financial difficulties forced the Pilots to move to Milwaukee (club was re-named "Brewers"). Plans to build a domed stadium were temporarily interrupted.
- 1972-76: Seattle fielded a team in the class-A Northwest League.
- 1977: On April 6, Major League Baseball returned to Seattle when the Mariners played the California Angels before a Kingdome crowd of 57,762. The Mariners starting pitcher that night was Diego Segui, a member of the 1969 Pilots.
- 1995: On October 2, Seattle won its first American League West pennant.
- 1997: On September 23, Seattle won its second American League West pennant.
- 1999: On June 27, Mariners played the final game in the Kingdome defeating Texas 5-2.
- 1999: On July 15, Seattle played their first game in Safeco Field against the San Diego Padres, losing 3-2.
- 2000: On October 1, Seattle won the AL Wild Card.
- 2001: On September 19, Seattle won its third American League West pennant.
- 2001: On October 6, Seattle tied a ML record by recording its 116th win of the season.
- 2008: On July 23 vs. Boston, the Mariners played the 5,000th game in club history.
- 2009: On June 23 vs. San Diego, Ken Griffey Jr. hit the 5,000th home run in club history.
- 2012: On June 8 vs. Los Angeles, Kevin Millwood, Charlie Furbush, Stephen Pryor, Lucas Luetge, Brandon League and Tom Wilhelmssen collaborated for the 10th combined no-hitter in Major League history.
- 2012: On August 15 vs. Tampa Bay, Felix Hernandez threw the 23rd perfect game in ML and first in Mariners history.

TELEVISION INFORMATION: ROOT SPORTS™ In 2013, the Seattle Mariners and DIRECTV Sports Networks formed a new regional sports network partnership in the Pacific Northwest. The Mariners hold a majority stake in the new venture. As part of this new agreement, the network will televise Mariners baseball through the conclusion of the 2030 Major League Baseball season. DIRECTV Sports Network's current ROOT SPORTS™ Northwest entity and related assets will be contributed into a new jointly owned entity, which will operate under the existing ROOT SPORTS brand.

Extending the Mariners coverage to viewers across the Northwest, ROOT SPORTS™ carries the telecasts to all of Washington and Oregon, and to parts of Idaho, Montana, Alaska and Canada. In all, Mariners telecasts will reach over 3.4 million homes.

ROOT SPORTS™ televises all available Mariners games (except games restricted by MLB national TV agreements), which results in the network delivering exclusively a minimum of 150 game telecasts per season. All games televised by ROOT SPORTS™ are available in high definition.

Ensuring Spanish-speaking fans in the region will be able to follow the Mariners, ROOT SPORTS™ produces and distributes a Spanish audio feed of all home games. ROOT SPORTS™ also makes the Spanish language feed available to all of the network's distribution partners on the Secondary Audio Programming (SAP) channel.

Mariners on the Internet

The Mariners, pioneers on the Internet since launching the first sports website in 1994, teamed up with Major League Baseball's new media company, MLB Advanced Media, in 2001 to improve the website with richer content and more robust functionality.

Mariners.com offers fans the most comprehensive baseball information about the Seattle Mariners available online. Features include the most up-to-date statistics, game summaries, extensive historical information, and exclusive features about Seattle Mariners events and programs, including on-line ticket sales, baseball merchandise, authenticated memorabilia and collectibles, fantasy games, live and archived radio broadcasts of every game, live and archived video webcasts of entire games, pitch-by-pitch enactment of games, and hosted post-game video highlight shows.

Social Media: Follow the Mariners on Facebook (www.facebook.com/mariners), Twitter (www.twitter.com/mariners) and Instagram for frequent updates on games, scores, news, stats, photos and ticket specials. Find other official Mariners team, player and personnel accounts at www.Mariners.com/connect.

Mariners Blog: The Mariners PR department helps author a blog, From the Corner of Edgar & Dave (marinersblog.mlblogs.com). Posts will go behind/beyond the headlines with news and information about Club events, activities and priorities.

Audio and Video: The Mariners were also the first sports team to provide a live radio broadcast of its games on the web (September 1995) and the first to transmit a televised game live over the Internet in April of 1997. Mariners.com now brings you MLB.com Gameday Audio which features live and archived broadcasts of every team. Mariners.com also streams live and archived video webcasts of entire games via MLB.TV, hosted pre-game video highlight shows, and a nightly highlight package of all Mariners games.

Live-game-data casting: Follow the live gameday scoreboard, box score, team standings, game summary, seven-day schedule, video highlights, player hitting history chart, match ups, lineup, game notes and live play-by-play.

Statistics: Including team and league leaders, player and team hitting, pitching and fielding statistics, game logs and standings. Also features multi-player comparisons, more in-depth situational splits and exciting visual representations.

The Team: This section offers information on Mariners players and team information including 25-man and 40-man rosters, player position charts, player profiles, manager/coaching staff rosters, transactions, injuries and links to current year draft picks.

Japanese Content: Since 1999 the Seattle Mariners have provided an exclusive Japanese web section, featuring game reports, stats, press releases and audio/video content. In 2002, the MLB.com's coverage expanded greatly covering all the action for Japanese-speaking fans. Mariners FAQs translated in Japanese can be found at www.mariners.com/japan.

For more information, visit www.mariners.com/connect.

About MLB Advanced Media: Established in June 2000 following a unanimous vote by the 30 Major League Baseball club owners to centralize all of Baseball's Internet operations, MLB Advanced Media LP (MLBAM) is the interactive media and Internet company of Major League Baseball. MLBAM manages the official league site, www.MLB.com, and each of the 30 individual Club sites to create the most comprehensive Major League Baseball resource on the Internet. MLB.com offers more live events on the Internet than any other website in the world.
