FRONT OFFICE

Chairman & Managing Partner John Stanton

OFFICERS

JOHN STANTON

Chairman & Managing Partner

John Stanton is the Mariners Chairman & Managing Partner. He was named Chairman on Aug. 19, 2016, and has served in that role since. Stanton joined the Mariners ownership group in December of 2000, and became a member of the Board of Directors in 2016.

Born in Seattle and raised in Bellevue, WA, Stanton is considered a wireless industry pioneer, co-founding three national wireless operators in the United States over the past four decades.

He is currently Chairman of the Trilog Partnerships, a private investment firm, and also serves on the boards of the Microsoft Corporation and Costco Wholesale Corporation. He is Chairman of Year Up (a non-profit program for youth in Seattle), and a member of the board of the Institute for Health Metrics and Evaluation, after previously serving as chair (or co-chair) of the boards of Whitman College, the Business Partnership for Early Learning, the United Way of King County campaign, the Washington Roundtable and the Regional Transportation Commission.

John and his wife Terry Gillespie currently own interests in the Tacoma Rainiers (AAA Pacific Coast League) and in the Walla Walla Sweets and Yakima Pippins of the West Coast Collegiate Baseball League. He has been active in youth baseball in the area for over 15 years.

John earned a B.A. from Whitman College (Walla Walla, WA) and an MBA from Harvard Business School. John and Terry have two grown sons.

KEVIN MATHER

President & Chief Executive Officer

Kevin Mather was promoted to President & Chief Executive Officer of the Seattle Mariners on Nov. 9, 2017. He had served as the Mariners President and Chief Operating Officer since Feb. 1, 2014.

The Mariners Executive Vice Presidents and Sr. Vice Presidents report to Mather and form the senior leadership team for the organization.

Mather joined the Mariners in 1996 as the Vice President of Finance and Administration. He was promoted to Executive Vice President of Finance and Ballpark Operations in 1999.

Kevin has participated on a variety of Major League Baseball committees over the years. His committee appointments currently include Revenue Sharing Definitions Committee and the Audit Committee.

Prior to the Mariners, Mather worked for the Minnesota Twins from 1989-1996 where he served as Director and then Vice President of Finance. Before his career in baseball, Mather was with the Certified Public Accounting firm of Deloitte, Haskins & Sells for four years, and The Pohlads Companies of Minneapolis for one year.

Mather grew up listening to Bob Uecker as a Milwaukee Brewers fan in Madison, Wisconsin. He is a 1984 graduate of the University of Wisconsin where he received his B.A. degree in accounting and risk/insurance.

He is on the Executive Board of Junior Achievement of Washington. He is also the Chair of Seattle Children's Corporate Leadership Council and on the Seattle Children's Hospital and Research Foundation Board of Trustees. His hobbies include his family, golf and his two dogs.

He and his wife Shannon live in Issaquah and have three grown sons: J.P., David and Steven and two dogs, Dutch and Augustus.

HOWARD LINCOLN*Chairman Emeritus

A key player in the formation of the ownership group that saved the Mariners for Seattle in 1992, Howard Lincoln served as Chairman and Chief Executive Officer from Sept. 27, 1999 to Aug. 19, 2016, when he was named Chairman Emeritus. His service was recognized with the Seattle Mariners Franchise Achievement Award in 2016. Lincoln continues as a member of the board of directors.

On Feb. 14, 2000 Lincoln retired from his position as chairman of Nintendo of America, Inc. to devote his full efforts to the Mariners. Lincoln joined Nintendo as its senior vice president and general counsel in January 1983. In February 1994, he was elected to the board of Nintendo of America, Inc. and appointed chairman of the company.

Philanthropy plays an important role in Lincoln's life. In addition to his strong support of the Mariners Care Foundation, he is a former chairman of the Children's Hospital Foundation. He was the Campaign Chair of United Way of King County's 2003/04 Annual Campaign. Lincoln is a board member of The Washington Roundtable.

Lincoln is a graduate of the University of California at Berkeley, and holds a law degree from Boalt Hall, the University of California School of Law. Following graduation from law school, Lincoln served as a Lieutenant in the U.S. Navy Judge Advocate General's Corps from 1966 to 1970. He practiced law in Seattle from 1970 to 1983. He and his wife, Grace, reside on Mercer Island. Their son, Brad, and his wife, Kim, have two children: Ethan and Benjamin.

JOHN ELLIS*Chairman Emeritus

A life-long resident of the Seattle area, John Ellis led the efforts to keep Major League Baseball in the Pacific Northwest. Upon transfer of the Mariners franchise to the new ownership group, Ellis became its first chairman and CEO, serving from June 29, 1992 until September 27, 1999, when he was named Chairman Emeritus. Ellis continues as a member of the Mariners Board of Directors.

During the seven full seasons of his tenure, the Mariners only finished below .500 once, while winning two Division titles and narrowly missing a third. Community and fan support improved enormously – attendance grew from 1,651,398 in 1992 to 3,507,975 in 2001. The greatest accomplishment under his leadership was the construction of our world-class ballpark, T-Mobile Park.

His service was recognized with the Seattle Mariners Franchise Achievement Award in 2016.

Ellis has served variously on the MLB Executive Council, the International, Ownership and Compensation & Finance Committee and he chaired the Baseball Endowment Limited Partnership (BELP) Committee.

John started his career as a lawyer with Perkins Coie in 1953 (where he is now of counsel). He then joined Puget Sound Power & Light Company (now Puget Sound Energy) in 1970, where he served variously as President, C.E.O. and Chairman until his retirement in 1993. During his utility career he served nationally as Chair of the Edison Electric Institute, and the Electric Power Research Institute.

Although a loyal Husky, he was also Chair of the Board of Regents of Washington State University and Seattle University, uniquely at the same time. He has 4 children and 8 grandchildren – all Mariners fans.

BASEBALL OPERATIONS

JERRY DIPOTO

Executive Vice President & General Manager, Baseball Operations

Jerry Dipoto (dih-POH-toe) was named as the ninth General Manager in Seattle Mariners history after being hired on Sept. 28, 2015.

In his three seasons in charge (2016-18), the Mariners have the 5th-most wins in the American League, trailing only Boston, Houston, Cleveland and New York.

This past off-season, Dipoto led a re-imagining of the Mariners, making 8 trades in a 6-week period between Nov. 8-Dec. 21 to acquire 16 players and position a younger, more athletic, deeper, more controllable roster for greater success in the future.

In 2018, Seattle won 89 games, its highest total in 15 seasons, and the team's 253 wins over the past three years is its highest total in a three-year span since 2001-2003.

In 2017, Jerry and his staff managed through a flood of injuries (22 different disabled list placements) and used 61 different players, including 40 pitchers (17 starters) while remaining relevant in the wild card race into the seasons final days despite having four of the projected five starting pitchers spend time on the DL.

In his first months on the job in 2016, Dipoto completely remade the Mariners Major League roster, as well as revamping the Mariners Major League staff, scouting and player development departments.

The reshaping of the roster and minor league system resulted in the 2016 Mariners organization playing 927 total games (at all levels) and only one -- the final regular season game for the big league club -- not having playoff implications.

The Mariners were in the race through 161 games, and each of the seven minor league affiliates advanced to the postseason.

Prior to being hired by Seattle, Dipoto was working as a Special Assistant for the Boston Red Sox. He joined the Sox after resigning from his position as the Los Angeles Angels General Manager on July 1, 2015.

Dipoto was the Angels GM from Oct. 29, 2011-July 1, 2015, helping guide the club to the American League West title in 2014, finishing with the most wins (98) in the Majors. Notable acquisitions during his Angels tenure included trades for All-Stars Huston Street, Zack Greinke, David Freese and Hector Santiago, and the free agent signings of Albert Pujols (2011) and C.J. Wilson (2011).

In his 18th season as a baseball executive, Jerry got his start immediately after retiring as a player in 2001. He was a special assistant for the Colorado Rockies (2001-02), followed by two seasons working in the scouting department for the Boston Red Sox (2003-04). He returned to the Rockies as the Director of Player Personnel (2005) and then moved to the Arizona organization as Vice President of Player Personnel (2006-10) and was appointed the Diamondbacks interim General Manager on July 1, 2010. He spent the 2011 season as the D-Backs Sr. VP of Scouting and Player Development.

Dipoto appeared in 390 Major League games, all in relief, with the Indians (1993-94), New York Mets (1995-96) and Colorado Rockies (1997-2000). The right-handed pitcher compiled a career 27-24 record with 49 saves and a 4.05 ERA prior to retiring during spring training in 2001 with a bulging disc in his neck.

He was originally selected by the Cleveland Indians in the 3rd round of the 1989 June Draft out of Virginia Commonwealth University (Richmond, VA). Dipoto led the Rams to their first appearance in the NCAA Tournament in 1988 and remains in the top 10 in VCU history in several pitching categories. Dipoto played high school baseball at Toms River High School North in New Jersey.

Jerry and his wife, Tamie, reside in Mercer Island, WA. They have two daughters: Taylor (husband Andrew) and Jordan, and one son, Jonah.

JUSTIN HOLLANDER*Assistant General Manager, Baseball Operations

Justin Hollander is in his third full year with the Mariners, his first since being promoted to Assistant General Manager on Nov. 1, 2018. He was hired as the team's Director of Baseball Operations on September 23, 2016.

In his current role, Justin assists Jerry Dipoto in all aspects of education and strategic planning including player procurement, negotiation of Major League contracts and 40-man roster management. In addition, he provides oversight of the team's Minor League Free Agent process, Advance Scouting efforts, salary arbitration work and supervises the club's baseball operations staff.

Prior to joining the Mariners, Justin spent the previous nine seasons in the Los Angeles Angels front office, serving several different roles in the Angels baseball operations department.

He began his career with the Angels in January, 2008, as a player development & scouting assistant. In that role, he worked closely with department heads in several different aspects of baseball operations, including arbitration, research and advance scouting. He was promoted to Director, Baseball Operations in 2012 and served as the Director, Player Personnel in 2016.

A native of Dayton, OH, Hollander is a 2001 graduate of Ohio State University (B.S., business administration and marketing) and received his law degree from the University of San Diego in 2004.

Justin, and his wife Whitney, reside in Seattle with their son, Elliott and daughter, Lucy.

JOE BOHRINGER*Special Assistant to the General Manager

Joe Bohringer was named to his current position on Oct. 29, 2015. This season will be his 30th year in professional baseball.

He spent the previous four seasons (2012-2015) as the Chicago Cubs Director of Professional Scouting. Joe served as a pro scout for the Arizona Diamondbacks (2006-11) where he evaluated professional players at all levels and assisted with crosschecking amateur players for the Arizona drafts in 2009 & 2010. He previously spent five seasons as an area scouting supervisor for the Seattle Mariners from 2002-06, first in California and then in the upper Midwest. Before beginning his scouting career, he spent three seasons as Senior Manager of Player Development for the Los Angeles Dodgers (1998-2001). Prior to joining the Dodgers, Joe worked with minor league clubs in Buffalo, New York and Ottawa.

Joe graduated from the Massachusetts Institute of Technology in 1993 with a business degree from MIT's Sloan School of Management and began his baseball career with internships with the New York Yankees and Pittsburgh Pirates while a student at MIT.

He resides in Western Springs, IL, with his wife, Kathleen and daughter, Lauren.

ROGER HANSEN*Special Assistant to the General Manager

Roger Hansen was named to his current position on Sept. 12, 2011. Prior to his promotion, he spent the previous 18 years working in Mariners player development, and an additional three seasons as a player in the Mariners minor league system.

Hansen spent nine seasons (2003-2011) as the Mariners Catching Coordinator, overseeing catching throughout the Seattle minor league system.

He was the Mariners bullpen coach in 1992, spending the season as the youngest coach in the Majors. Roger returned to the Major League coaching staff on Aug. 9, 2010 and remained through the end of the 2010 season as the interim bench coach.

Roger spent the 1998-2001 seasons as the Major League catching instructor for the Orix Blue Wave organization in Japan.

Hansen originally signed as the Royals second-round selection in the 1980 June Draft, and spent the final three seasons of his professional career in the Mariners minor league system. In all, he played nearly 900 minor league games, and was a career .272 hitter.

Roger, his wife Lynn, and their two children reside in Stanwood, WA. He graduated from Rio Mesa High School in Camarillo, Calif., in 1980.

TOM McNAMARA*Special Assistant to the General Manager

The 2019 season is Tom McNamara's third as a Special Assistant to the GM.

Tom was promoted to his new role on Sept. 2, 2016 and is responsible for continuing to scout amateur players in preparation for the June draft, but now also evaluates professional players and scouts players around the globe.

McNamara spent eight seasons as the Mariners Director of Amateur Scouting after being named to the position on November 10, 2008. McNamara oversaw eight Mariners drafts (2009-2016) that have produced 30 Major League players including Kyle Seager (2009), James Paxton (2010), Mike Zunino & Edwin Diaz (2012) and Andrew Moore (2015).

McNamara was the recipient of the 2015 A.B. "Turk" Karam Award, as voted by New York city area scouts.

McNamara was previously an Area Scout for the Mariners from 1994-2000, covering the Northeast. McNamara signed with the Mariners in 1988 as a non-drafted free agent and played one year in the Northwest League with the Bellingham Mariners.

Following his playing career, McNamara spent three years coaching baseball at Rockland Community College in Suffern, NY. McNamara has 24 years scouting experience. He spent three years working in Milwaukee – two years as an Area Scout (2001-02) and one year as the East Coast Supervisor (2008). McNamara also spent four years as a Professional Scout with the San Diego Padres. McNamara signed several Major League players including All-Star first baseman Prince Fielder.

In 1988, McNamara graduated from Dominican College in Blauvelt, NY with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Humanities. As a center fielder he set the NY State College record for most stolen bases in a season with 71 in 1988. He is a member of the Rockland Community College and Dominican College Athletic Hall of Fame.

McNamara grew up in Pearl River, NY. He has one son, Martin, and currently resides in New York City.

TOM ALLISON*Vice President, Scouting

Tom Allison is in his seventh season with the Mariners, his fourth in his current role of overseeing all three branches of the Mariners scouting operation. Tom was originally hired as the Mariners Director of Professional Scouting on Sept. 26, 2012.

Allison has over 23 years of scouting experience.

In his current role, Tom oversees all aspects of the Mariners scouting operation: Professional, Amateur and International.

Before joining the Mariners, Allison served as a Regional Crosschecker for the Boston Red Sox amateur scouting department (2011-2012). Prior to that, he was the Director of Scouting for the Arizona Diamondbacks (2007-10), where he oversaw several top draft classes, including the 2009 draft that was tabbed by Baseball America and ESPN.com as the No. 1 draft in MLB.

Allison's extensive scouting background also includes seven seasons as a Regional Crosschecker for the Milwaukee Brewers (2000-06), and 10 years in the New York Mets organization as an Area Scouting Supervisor (1996-99) and Assistant Scouting Director (1995-96).

Allison played and coached in the Mets minor league system from 1990-94.

Allison graduated from Chapman University (Orange, CA) with a BA in legal studies. He played college baseball at Loyola Marymount University, and was a member of the Lions squad that advanced to the 1986 College World Series. A Northwest native, Allison grew up in the Vancouver (WA) area. He currently resides in Phoenix, Ariz., with his wife, Katie, and children Lyndi and Teagan.

SCOTT HUNTER*Director, Amateur Scouting

He was promoted again in October 2014 to Northeast/Mid-Atlantic Regional Cross Checker (overseeing 14 states), a position he held for a year prior to being promoted (in October 2015) to the role of Southeast Regional Cross Checker, where he supervised scouts in Florida, Georgia, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Tennessee. He held that position until joining the Angels.

Thon Jr. graduated from Villanova University with a BA in Psychology and a minor in Philosophy in 2004. He received a master's degree in Philosophy and Asian Religions from Florida International University in 2008.

Thon Jr. is the son of longtime MLB scout Frankie Thon, who is currently scouting for Baltimore.

KEN GRIFFEY JR.*Special Consultant to the Franchise

Ken Griffey Jr., a 2016 inductee into the National Baseball Hall of Fame, was named Special Consultant to the Franchise in 2011. He assists in numerous areas of the Mariners operations including, but not limited to, Major League Baseball Operations, player development, minor league system, marketing, broadcasting and community relations.

Ken has always been active in the community. The Ken Griffey Jr. Family Foundation supports local, regional and national causes, including the Boys and Girls Clubs of America and the Children's Hospital in Seattle, Orlando, Cincinnati and elsewhere. He's on the National Board of Directors for the Boys and Girls Clubs of America, and has been honored by a variety of causes for his personal support, including the Make-A-Wish Foundation and the Baseball Assistance Team (BAT).

"Junior" was named on a then-record 99.3% (437 of 440) of ballots cast in his first year of eligibility for the Hall of Fame. His election was announced on Jan. 6, 2015, and he was inducted on July 24, 2016. His No. 24 was retired at all levels of the Seattle organization in a pre-game ceremony on Aug. 8, 2016, the first number ever retired by the franchise. (Jackie Robinson's No. 42 has been retired by all of baseball).

Griffey was selected first overall in the June 1987 draft by the Mariners and less than two years later, at age 19, he was in center field on Opening Night in 1989. He had a 22-year MLB career with the Mariners (1989-1999, 2009-2010), Cincinnati (2000-2008) and Chicago-AL (2008).

Griffey was elected to the Mariners Hall of Fame in 2013, and to the Reds Hall of Fame in 2014.

Griffey retired from baseball on June 2, 2010. Among his achievements: 1997 American League MVP (unanimous selection) and RBI leader; 13-time All-Star; 10-time Gold Glove winner; 7-time Silver Slugger winner; 4-time AL home run leader; 3-time MLB All-Star Home Run Derby champ; 630 career home runs. Ken is near the top in every offensive category in the Mariners record book.

In 1999, he was one of 30 players named to the All-Century Team, a roster of the greatest players at each position in the history of MLB.

Griffey resides in Orlando, FL, with his wife, Melissa and their three children: Trey, Taryn and Tevin.

He was instrumental in establishing Mariners Care, the club's non-profit foundation, which has become a national model. Last season Mariners Care provided over $1 million to local charities, thousands of tickets to Mariners games and hundreds of personal visits by players to hospitals, schools and youth organizations throughout the Northwest. Joe was promoted to Director of Corporate Business in 1998, and to Director, Corporate Business & Community Relations in 2000.

Prior to joining the Mariners, Chard was Executive Director of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation of Washington.

A Seattle native, Chard graduated from Carroll College in Montana. He resides in Seahurst, Wash., with his wife, LisaJo. He has a daughter, AshLee, and a son, Creed.

DAVE CURRY*Vice President, Information Services

Dave Curry is in his 22nd season with the Mariners, his 12th since being promoted to Vice President, Information Services in December 2007. His responsibilities include overseeing all technology needs for the Mariners facilities, including computing networks, application development, PBX/IP phone systems, and the audio and video systems. Curry was originally hired in March 1998 as the club's Network Manager to help design and build T-Mobile Park's technology infrastructure as well as update the Mariners existing computer environment. He was promoted to Director of Information Services in 2001 and to Senior Director in 2006.

Prior to joining the Mariners, Dave began his career with AccessOne as a network and sales engineer.

A native of Seattle, Dave attended the University of Nevada Reno. He resides in Snoqualmie with his wife, Trina, and their two children: daughter Delaney and son Deklan.

GREGG GREENE*Vice President, Marketing

Gregg Greene is in his 22nd season with the Mariners, his first since being promoted to Vice President, Marketing in Dec. 2018. Gregg is responsible for marketing, advertising, promotions, giveaways, game entertainment, web site, social media and other digital initiatives.

Greene began his career with the Mariners as a part-time stadium DJ in 1995. He was marketing intern in 1997, and was hired as Marketing Coordinator in 1998 and promoted to Manager, Promotions in 2000 and Director, Promotions in 2001. He was promoted to Director, Marketing in 2006 and to Sr. Director, Marketing in 2013.

Gregg has assisted Major League Baseball at nine All-Star Games and has, for the past nine years, taught a graduate-level Marketing & Communications course for the University of Washington's Intercollegiate Athletic Leadership program.

Greene is a native of Woodinville, WA. He received his BA in Communications & Political Science from the University of Washington in 1995 and his Master's, Business & Communications from Syracuse University in 1998. Greene resides in Seattle with his wife, Elisa, and their children Max and Sam.

TIM HEVLY*Vice President, Communications

Tim Hevly is in his 30th season with the Mariners, his second since being promoted to Vice President, Communications in Nov. 2017. Working in conjunction with the Baseball and Public Information departments Hevly oversees all aspects of public & media relations and contributes to the decisions made on internal and external communications issues.

Hevly was a seasonal intern with the Mariners in 1990-91, and was hired full time prior to the 1992 season as Public Relations Assistant. He was promoted to Assistant Director, Public Relations in 1995, and to Director, Baseball Information in 1998. He was named Sr. Director of Baseball Information in Feb. 2011.

Hevly, winner of the 2013 Fishel Award, has contributed to the PR efforts for the opening of T-Mobile Park in July 1999, the 2001 All-Star Game, the 2012 & 2019 Mariners Opening Day in Japan and four Mariners postseason appearances. He was also part of the Japan-America All-Star Series in 2004.

Hevly is a Seattle native, graduating from Roosevelt High School. He received his B.A. in English from Whitman College (Walla Walla, WA) in 1988 and his M.S. in Athletic Administration from Seattle Pacific University in 1991. Hevly resides in Seattle with his wife, Kris.

GREG MASSEY*Vice President, Finance

Greg Massey is in his 22nd season with the Mariners, his third since being promoted to Vice President, Finance in Jan. 2017. Greg oversees the day-to-day operations of the finance department, as well as managing the Mariners insurance, treasury, external audit and accounting functions. He also monitors the teams diversified investment portfolio.

Massey was originally hired in 1998 as Assistant Controller and was promoted to Controller in 2004. Prior to joining the Mariners, Greg worked in public accounting and private business. Greg was a member of the Seattle Aquarium Board of Directors from 2009-15.

Massey was born in San Francisco, California, but moved to Washington in his teens. He graduated from Washington State University (B.A., Business Administration with an emphasis in Accounting) and is a Certified Public Accountant (CPA). Massey resides in Seattle.

MALCOLM ROGEL*Vice President, Ticket and Event Services

Malcolm Rogel is in his 21st season with the Mariners, his first since being promoted to Vice President, Ticket and Event Services in December, 2018.

Malcolm oversees the day-to-day operations of the ticket office, as well as managing the Mariners Garage and the team's relationship with Centerplate, T-Mobile Park's concessionaire. Rogel also works closely with the city staff in Peoria, Arizona, home to the Mariners Spring Training facility.

Rogel was originally hired in 1999 as the Box Office Manager. He was promoted to Director, Ticket & Parking Operations in Oct., 2007 and to Sr. Director, Ticket & Parking Operations in Jan., 2013.

Rogel is an Enumclaw, Wash., native. He graduated from Washington State University with a B.A. in Communications in 1998.

Malcolm and his wife, Joanne, reside in Bonney Lake, WA, with their children: Iris, Hudson and Carter.

HOW TO FIGURE

Batting Average — Divide the total number of hits collected by a player by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A is 12-of-40 or .300.

Slugging Percentage — Divide the number of total bases by the total number of at bats. Example: Player A's 12 hits include six singles (6), one double (2), two triples (6) and three home runs (12) for a total of 26 total bases in 40 at bats and a .650 slugging percentage.

On-Base Percentage — Divide the total of hits, walks and hit by pitch by the total of at bats, all bases on balls, hit by pitch and sacrifice flies.

Earned Run Average — The total number of earned runs allowed by a pitcher is divided by the total number of innings pitched and then multiplied by nine for his per-game average. Example: Pitcher B has allowed 12 earned runs in 45 innings of work for a 2.40 ERA.

Fielding Percentage — The sum of putouts and assists is divided by the sum of putouts, assists and errors. Example: Player C has made 16 putouts and 24 assists and two errors. That's 40 putouts and assists divided by 42 chances for a fielding average of .952.

Magic Number — Determine the number of games yet to be played by the division leader, add one, then subtract the number of games ahead in the loss column of the standings from the closest opponent.

Chris DeWitt (left) is in his 14th season working in the home clubhouse while Joe Van Vleck (right) is in his seventh.

Both Chris and Joe began their careers as bat boys prior to being promoted.

They assist Ryan, Bill and Pete during all home games, as well as at spring Training and selected periods during the off-season.

JIMMY HARTLEY

Video Coordinator – Major Leagues

Jimmy Hartley is in his ninth season with the Mariners after joining the club in January 2011. He spent the previous five seasons (2006-2010) with the Colorado Rockies, working as the assistant video coordinator.

Jimmy oversees all video operations for the organization, helps players and coaches with their day-to-day preparation, and works closely with the Mariners advance scouting staff throughout the season.

With the Rockies, Hartley assisted with all video operations at the Major League level and worked closely with the player development department during both Spring Training and the fall instructional league.

A native of Vinita, Okla., Hartley is a graduate of Oklahoma State University, where he earned his bachelor's degree in business administration in 2003 and his MBA in 2008. His previous work experience includes time with the Oklahoma State University and University of Texas baseball programs, Baseball Info Solutions, and as the Director of Baseball Operations at North Carolina State University.

CRAIG MANNING

Video Coordinator – Minor Leagues

Craig Manning is in his 13th season with the Mariners after joining the club in January 2007. He spent the 2004-2006 seasons working as an intern with the Mariners MLB Video Coordinator. He was the Tacoma Rainiers video coordinator from 2002-2004.

Craig assists the video coordinator, and is responsible for coordinating all minor league video as well as assisting the scouting department.

Craig is a native of Gig Harbor. He graduated from Central Washington University and currently resides in Renton.

BOB CHRISTOFFERSON

Head Groundskeeper

Bob Christofferson was hired July 1, 2000 as the Mariners head groundskeeper.

In December, 2015, Bob was elected to the Tacoma Pierce County Hall of Fame. In December, 2008, Bob received the "Dedication to Baseball Award" from the Washington State Baseball Coaches Association. Following the 2005 season, Bob was honored with the Harry C. Gill Memorial Award by the Sports Turf Managers Association.

The award honors an individual's long-term service and commitment as well as their professional excellence.

Christofferson spent 20 years prior to being hired by the Mariners as the stadium manager and head groundskeeper of Cheney Stadium for the Triple-A Tacoma franchise of the Pacific Coast League. His father, Bob, joined the original Cheney Stadium grounds crew in 1960. Christofferson was a three-time winner of the PCL Groundskeeper of the Year Award, including the first-ever award in 1992 and back-to-back honors in 1998 & 1999, despite having to battle the Northwest's fickle weather. His tenure included overseeing the Goodwill Games competition when Cheney Stadium was host to 24 games in six days, the world fastpitch softball championship in 1980 and numerous state high school playoffs.

Bob graduated from Stadium HS in Tacoma and Central Washington University, where he played baseball. He was a social studies teacher and varsity baseball coach at Foss HS from 1976-80. Christofferson and his wife, Cyndy, reside in Puyallup with their two children: Tyler and Lauren.

THE PITCHING...the Mariners went 89-73 with 60 saves and a 4.13 ERA (664 ER, 1,448.2 IP)...combined for 12 shutouts...recorded 1,328 strikeouts, averaging 8.25 strikeouts-per-9.0-innings (1,328 K, 1,448.2 IP)...issued 400 walks and allowed 195 home runs...held opponents to a .252 (1396x5545) average against while recording a 1.24 WHIP (400 BB, 1396 H, 1,448.2 IP)...led the Major Leagues in fewest walks allowed, ranking ahead of Cleveland (407) and Los Angeles-NL (422)...Mariners starters went 54-49 with a 4.35 ERA (431 ER, 891.1 IP) with 772 strikeouts and 226 walks; recorded 3 complete games...Mariners relievers were 35-24 with 60 saves, 109 holds and a 3.76 ERA (233 ER, 557.1 IP) with 556 strikeouts and 174 walks.

THE FIELDING...the Mariners combined for a .985 fielding percentage, successfully converting 5,832-of-5,920 total chances (4,346 putouts, 1,486 assists, 88 errors)...tallied 152 double plays...committed 88 errors...ranked 4th in the American League in total chances, behind Oakland (6,080), Texas (5,971) and Baltimore (5,934)...Guillermo Heredia was 1 of 5 qualifying outfielders in the Major Leagues to compile a 1,000 fielding percentage (also: Mark Canha-OAK, Jon Jay-KC/ARI, Josh Reddick-HOU and Mike Trout-LAA)...Heredia successfully converted 222 total chances (219 PO, 3 A)...joins Franklin Gutierrez (2010) as the only Mariners outfielders in club history with a 1,000 fielding percentage in a season...Mitch Haniger tied for the Major League lead in outfield assists with 12 (also Andrew Benintendi-BOS and Billy Hamilton-CIN)...Mike Zunino ranked 3rd in the AL/5th in the Majors among qualifying catchers with a .998 fielding percentage (925 TC, 880 PO, 43 A, 2 E)...ranks 3rd among catchers in single-season club history, behind Dan Wilson in 2001 (.999) and 2003 (.998).

INNINGS EATERS...five Mariners pitchers worked at least 150.0 innings in 2018...Mike Leake led the club with 185.2 innings, followed by Marco Gonzales (166.2), Wade LeBlanc (162.0), James Paxton (160.1) and Félix Hernández (155.2)...the Mariners were the only club in the Major Leagues this season to have 5 pitchers work at least 150.0 innings...marked only the 5th time in club history to accomplish this feat as the 2018 squad joined the Mariners clubs of 1991 (Rich DeLucia, Erik Hanson, Brian Holman, Randy Johnson, Bill Krueger), 1993 (Chris Bosio, Dave Fleming, Erik Hanson, Randy Johnson, Tim Leary), 2003 (Ryan Franklin, Freddy García, Gil Meche, Jamie Moyer, Joel Piñeiro) and 2006 (Félix Hernández, Gil Meche, Jamie Moyer, Joel Piñeiro, Jarrod Washburn).

TURN TWO...the Mariners turned 152 double plays in 2018, 4th-most in the AL and tied for 7th-most in the Majors (also: Arizona)...two Mariners ranked among the top-3 American League pitchers for most opponents grounded into double plays: Mike Leake led the AL with 24 GIDP, while Marco Gonzales tied for 2nd-most with 23 (also: Kyle Gibson-MIN)...Kyle Seager led all 3rd basemen with 49 double plays, ranking ahead of Nolan Arenado-COL (44) and Matt Chapman-OAK (37)...the Mariners turned a club record 6 double plays on Aug. 21 vs. Houston (previous: 5, 2x, last: 9/3/81 at BOS).

WALK IT OFF...the Mariners recorded 8 walk-off wins in 2018: May 5 vs. Los Angeles-AL (Ryon Healy, RBI-double), May 15 vs. Texas (Guillermo Heredia, RBI-single), May 20 vs. Detroit (Jean Segura, RBI-single), May 26 vs. Minnesota (Mike Zunino, HR), June 1 vs. Tampa Bay (Mitch Haniger, HR), June 13 vs. Los Angeles-AL (Mitch Haniger, 2-run HR), Aug. 18 vs. Los Angeles-NL (balk) and Sept. 25 vs. Oakland (Chris Herrmann, pinch-hit, 2-run HR)...five of the Mariners 8 walk-off wins came in a span of 16 home games, from May 5- June 1...the Mariners 8 walk-off wins were tied for 4th-most in the American League/8th-most in the Major Leagues (also: Chicago-NL, Colorado, New York-AL and New York-NL).

EXTRA, EXTRA!...the Mariners went 14-1 (.933) in extra-inning games this season, leading the Majors in extra-inning wins and winning percentage while ranking tied for 10th in the Majors in extra-inning games played (also: Los Angeles-NL and Miami)...according to Baseball-Reference, there have been 1,168 seasons since 1908 in which a team played at least 15 extra-inning games; of those 1,168 seasons, the Mariners .933 winning percentage is 2nd-best, trailing only the 1949 Cleveland Indians (.947/18-1)...the Mariners won each of their first 8 extra-inning games in 2018...joined the 1995 Cleveland Indians (13-0) and the 2002 San Francisco Giants (8-0) as the only clubs since 1995 to begin the season with an 8-game winning streak in extra-inning games...suffered their first extra-inning loss on July 27 at Los Angeles-AL.

IN THE BLACK...the 2018 season was only the 3rd time in club history that the Mariners never took the field with a record under .500...the Mariners were exactly .500 3 times in 2018 (at 1-1, 3-3 & 4-4) but never fell under .500...the only other seasons the Mariners have been .500 or better on every day the season were 1996 and 2001.

ALL HANDS ON DECK...the Mariners used a total of 53 different players in 2018, 3rd-most in single-season club history, trailing only the 61 players used in 2017 and the 54 used in 2016...Seattle used 32 different pitchers (including 2 position players: Andrew Romine and Taylor Motter) this season, tied for 2nd-most in club history (also: 2016), behind only the 2017 club (40).

MARINERS IN COOPERSTOWN

DAVE NIEHAUS

POSITION: Voice of the Mariners

BORN: 2-19-35 in Princeton, IN DIED: 11-10-10 in Bellevue, WA

YEARS WITH MARINERS: 1977-2010

INDUCTED BASEBALL HALL OF FAME: July 27, 2008

INDUCTED MARINERS HALL OF FAME: June 2, 2007

PERSONAL: Dave was born and raised in Princeton, Ind., and was a graduate of Indiana University...he and his wife, Marilyn, had three children: Andy, Matt and Greta and six grandchildren, Zach, Steven, Madeline, Alexa, Audrey and Spencer.

HALL OF FAME: In 2008, Niehaus received the Ford C. Frick Award and was included into the broadcasters wing of the National Baseball Hall of Fame. He became the 32nd recipient of the award and was honored during Hall of Fame Weekend 2008. Niehaus was the top vote-getter in the fan balloting for the 2005 Ford C. Frick Award and was also nominated by national vote of the fans for the 2003, 2004, 2006, 2007 and 2008 awards.

BROADCASTING CAREER: Niehaus broadcast Mariners baseball from the club's inception in 1977 through the 2010 season. During his 33 seasons behind the microphone for the Mariners, the "Voice of the Mariners" missed only 101 games, including 21 in 1996 (17 due to medical reasons). From 1977 through the 2010 season, he witnessed 5,284 of the 5,385 games played by the Mariners. He was recognized as one of the best and most exciting broadcasters in the game. He received the 2008 Seattle P-I Publisher's Award. In 2007, Niehaus served as the Grand Marshall in the Seafair Parade. In 2004, he was named Washington State Broadcaster of the Year by the Washington State Association of Broadcasters. Niehaus was also inducted into the Puget Sound Sports Hall of Fame. The Washington Council of the Blind gave him the 2004 One World Award. Niehaus threw out the Ceremonial First Pitch for the Inaugural Game at T-Mobile Park (July 15, 1999). He was named one of Seattle Times' Top 10 Most Influential People of the Century and named the Entertainer of the Century by a local radio station. In 1997, Niehaus was honored by the Washington State House of Representatives for his "contributions to the quality of life in the Pacific Northwest." He was elected Sportscaster of the Year for the state of Washington in 1995, 1996 and 1997 by his contemporaries in the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association. Niehaus was elected to the Washington State Hall of Fame in 2004. His expressions like "My Oh My" and "It will fly away" (for home runs) were synonymous with Mariners baseball throughout the Northwest. When he was inducted on May 7, 2000, he joined Mariner first baseman Alvin Davis as the first two members of the the Mariners Hall of Fame. He began his career with Armed Forces radio and TV service, calling the action for Dodgers games before moving to New York to handle Yankees baseball as well as basketball and hockey. After leaving the Armed Forces Network, he returned to Los Angeles to broadcast the Dodgers, Rams and Lakers. From 1969-76, he teamed with Dick Enberg and Don Drysdale to call the action for Angels. Dave also broadcast UCLA football and basketball (1973-76).

Guidelines for Selection to the Mariners Hall of Fame

The Mariners Hall of Fame was established in 1997 to honor the great players and other individuals who make positive contributions to the history of the Mariners franchise.

- I. Eligible Candidates - To be eligible for consideration, uniformed personnel (player, manager or coach) should meet the following requirements:

- A. Active in a Mariners' uniform for at least five seasons;
- B. Ceased to be active in the Major Leagues at least two seasons preceding the selection, but may be otherwise connected with baseball.

To be eligible for consideration, non-uniformed personnel should meet the following requirements:

- A. Full-time employee of the Mariners for at least five seasons.
- B. Made significant contributions to Mariners baseball and the franchise, either on or off the field.

- II. Method of Selection - The Mariners governing board, the Board of Directors of Baseball of Seattle, Inc., makes the selections for the Mariners Hall of Fame. Such selections may be made at the initiative of the Board, or at the recommendation of the Chief Executive Officer and the President of the Mariners, the Mariners front office, Mariners players, members of the media or the fans.

- III. Criteria for Selection - The primary criterion for inclusion in the Mariners Hall of Fame for players shall be the on-field impact a player had while in a Mariners' uniform. The measure of a player's impact shall primarily be the statistical record created by the player.

The Mariners will consider other factors, such as:

- 1. Statistical impact on the field while in a non-Mariners uniform, whether before or after his tenure with the Mariners;
- 2. A player's positive impact on the Northwest community outside the game of baseball; and
- 3. A player's positive impact in enhancing the image of the Seattle Mariners or Major League Baseball.

- IV. Time of Selection - The Board will consider recommendations of eligible candidates at least once each year, typically at its annual business meeting each fall. There may be more than one selection in a given year, and there may be no selection at all.

- V. Retirement of Uniform Number - The Mariners plan to retire uniform numbers only very selectively and subject to substantially higher expectations than those applied to the Mariners Hall of Fame. To be eligible to have one's number retired, in addition to the criteria outlined above, the former Mariners should have either a) been elected to the National Baseball Hall of Fame and been in a Mariners uniform for at least five years, or b) come close to such election and spent his entire career or a substantial portion of his career with the Mariners. Eligibility shall not commence until after the former player has been voted on once for the National Baseball Hall of Fame, which for all practical purposes means six years after retirement. In this regard, the Mariners will take into consideration the policy of other American League clubs in retiring uniform numbers. This determination will also be made by the Board.

- VI. Amendments - The Seattle Mariners reserve the right to alter and amend these guidelines at any time.

1995 AL DIVISION SERIES

Mariners defeat Yankees, 3-2

One of the greatest comebacks in MLB history sent the Mariners to the playoffs for the first time in club history. Seattle was 13 games behind the Angels on Aug. 13, and 7.5 back at the beginning of September, and prevailed in a one-game playoff to earn a trip to the ALDS. After losing the first two games of the ALDS vs. the Yankees at Yankee Stadium, the Mariners "Refused to Lose," winning the final three games at the Kingdome to advance to the ALCS. Edgar Martinez hit .571 (12x21) with 2 homers and 10 RBI in the 5-game series, including the game-winning double in the bottom of the 11th inning to score Ken Griffey Jr. in Game #5.

MINOR LEAGUE STAFF

TONY ARNERICH

Assistant Hitting Coordinator/Catching Coordinator

Tony Arnerich enters his third season in the Mariners organization. Prior to joining the Mariners organization he worked for The Catching Academy. Arnerich launched his coaching career after retiring as a player after the 2005 season. He spent seven years (2007-14) as an assistant coach at UC Berkeley and helped lead the Golden Bears to the 2011 College World Series. He was the head coach of the St. Cloud River Bats of the Northwoods League from 2005-08, leading his team to the first half title and the league championship in the summer of 2007. Arnerich also served as a part-time assistant coach in 2007 at Sonoma State, where he earned a degree in sociology in June of 2008. As a player, Arnerich attended Santa Rosa Junior College where he was a two-time, first-team all-league selection and a 2000 first-team Junior College All-American, helping guide his team to the 1999 California Junior College World Series. He then earned a scholarship to Texas Tech, where he was second-team All-Big 12 in 2001, leading the Red Raiders to an NCAA Regional berth. His number was retired following his 2001 season, and he is now a member of the Northwoods League All-Decade Team. Arnerich signed with the Kansas City Royals after his 2001 summer season and then played in the Florida Marlins' organization from May 2004 through June 2005.

ADAM BERNERO

Performance Coach

Adam Bernero begins first season with the Mariners as Performance Coach. Prior to joining the Mariners organization spent two seasons in the Toronto Blue Jays organization as a pitching coach for Bluefield in 2018 and was the GCL Blue Jays assistant pitching coach in 2017. Adam was originally selected by the Chicago White Sox in the 24th round of the MLB June Draft from John F. Kennedy (CA) High School, but did not sign. He was selected by the Colorado Rockies in the 38th round of the 1996 MLB June Draft out of Sacramento City College. He spent parts of seven seasons in the Major Leagues (2000-06), appearing in games with Detroit, Colorado, Atlanta, Philadelphia and Kansas City. Graduated with a bachelor's of science degree in liberal studies from Oregon State University in 2014 and received a master's degree in sports and performance psychology in 2017.

TRENT BLANK

Pitching Strategist

Trent Blank begins first season with the Mariners as Pitching Strategist. Prior to joining the Mariners organization spent four years with TMI Sports Medicine working as a Baseball Performance Specialist. Blank was originally selected by the Colorado Rockies in the 30th rounds of the 2012 MLB First-Year Player Draft out of Baylor University. He spent three season pitching in the Rockies minor league system.

JARRET DEHART

Hitting Strategist

Jarret DeHart begins second season with the Mariners, his first as Hitting Strategist. He spent the 2018 season as the hitting coach for the Arizona League Mariners. Jarrett began coaching in the fall of 2017 where he was a Student Assistant Coach for Tulane University. His playing career started at Louisiana State University in 2013-14 and concluded at Tulane where he played from 2015-17. In addition to serving as the Student Assistant coach at Tulane for the 2017-18 season, he also worked at Baseball Player Development Systems from 2017-18 as a hitting instructor where he provided instruction to players of all ages and levels.

ALVIN DAVIS

Special Assistant, Player Development

Alvin Davis joined the Mariners Player Development Department as a part-time roving minor league instructor in 2012 and was added to the staff full-time in the same capacity prior to the 2013 season. Davis played for the Mariners from 1984-91, earning the nickname “Mr. Mariner”. He was Seattle's first inductee into the Mariners Hall of Fame in 1997. Davis named American League Rookie of the Year in 1984 by the Baseball Writers' Association of America. During a 9-year baseball career, he batted .280 (1189x4240) with 568 runs scored, 220 doubles, 10 triples, 160 home runs and 683 RBI in 1206 games. Davis finished his career in the top-10 in nearly every Mariners offensive category. He was originally selected by the Seattle Mariners in the 6th round of the 1982 amateur draft out of Arizona State University. Davis resides in Riverside, CA with his wife Kim and three children.

MICHAEL FELICIANO

Rehab Coordinator

Michael Feliciano enters his second season in the Mariners organization as Minor League Rehab Coordinator. Since 2010 has served for a variety of entities as an athletic trainer, including as a Minor League trainer with the St. Louis Cardinals (2016), Oakland Athletics (2015) and Los Angeles Dodgers (2010-2011). Michael received a bachelor's degree in athletic training from Universidad de Puerto Rico in 2010 and a master's degree in athletic training from East Stroudsburg University of Pennsylvania in 2016. Michael is certified in Athletic Trainer Certified (BOC), Performance Enhancement Specialist Certified (NASM-PES), Functional Movement Screen (FMS), Selective Functional Movement Assessment (SFMA), Y- Balance Certified (YBC) and Sound Assisted Soft Tissue Mobilization (SASTM).

DAVID FRANCO

Peak Performance Coach

David Franco enters his third season in the Mariners organization as Peak Performance Coach. He founded the company Next Level Ballplayer in 2010 where he has worked with numerous players and coaches throughout professional and college baseball. The Powell, OH, native, attended Miami University. He played baseball for four seasons (2002-05) and earned his MBA. He studied Spanish in Costa Rica Language Academy and then proceeded to live in the Dominican Republic for a year of working with ballplayers at all levels. Franco and his wife, Whitney have two daughters, Rosalie and Ella.

ROB FUMAGALLI

Performance Specialist Coordinator

Rob Fumagalli begins his 10th season in the Mariners organization, his 6th as Performance Specialist Coordinator. Rob spent the first four seasons working with various teams in the Mariners organization as a performance coach, 2009-12. He worked in the Venezuela Winter League with the Cardenales de Lara (2011-2012) and also helped set up the MLB strength and conditioning programs in Europe (2013). Rob attended Elgin Community College in Illinois, where he helped pitch the Spartans to Junior College World Series appearances in 2005 and 2006. He earned a bachelor's degree in Kinesiology from Northern Illinois University, while staying involved with baseball as pitching coach for Elgin Community College.

MISCELLANEOUS

The Mariners and T-Mobile announced a 25-year naming rights partnership for the home field of the Mariners on Dec. 19.

T-MOBILE PARK

After 20 years as Safeco Field, the home of the Seattle Mariners is now T-Mobile Park. Since the Inaugural Game on July 15, 1999, over 49,000,000 fans have passed through the gates of T-Mobile Park.

The Mariners are truly a regional team drawing from one of the largest geographic home territories in Major League Baseball – Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, Alaska and parts of Western Canada. We have learned from surveys that over half our fans come from outside King County, and nearly half (48%) tell us they travel more than one hour to get to the ballpark on game days.

Once they arrive at T-Mobile Park, fans are treated to one of the best ballparks in baseball, with a combination of the charm of a classic ballpark and the modern touches that make a fan's game experience that much better, including free WiFi and one of the largest HD videoscreens in all of MLB.

Sightlines from all seating areas are designed for optimal viewing. There are plenty of places to gather and casually watch the game while enjoying the beauty of the natural surroundings of Puget Sound and the downtown Seattle skyline. The Children's Hospital Playfield on the Main Concourse and Kids Corner on the View Level provide a place for kids to blow off some steam. The T-Mobile 'Pen continues to be a festive "event-within-an-event" atmosphere that attracts thousands of people before and during each game.

Designed as an extension of the T-Mobile 'Pen's casual atmosphere, Edgar's Cantina and Home Run Porch feature south of the border flavors with a Northwest twist courtesy of T-Mobile Park consulting chef Ethan Stowell.

The Baseball Museum of the Pacific Northwest and Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame provide a connection to the region's rich baseball history. They are co-located on the Main Concourse along the third base line and are open to all fans during games.

In addition to baseball, T-Mobile Park has hosted such events as varied as U.S. Men's soccer matches, Women's Gold Cup Soccer, the 2001 Seattle Bowl NCAA football game, WWE's Wrestlemania XIX, the WIAA State High School Baseball Championships, high school and collegiate baseball games, major concerts, numerous graduations, weddings, proms, trade shows, birthday parties and holiday celebrations.

Over the years, T-Mobile Park has received numerous honors and appeared on many Top 10 and "best" lists. The ballpark was one of only two Seattle buildings to be named in the American Institute of Architects poll of American's favorite buildings. Opposing players have named it their second favorite ballpark to play in, behind Wrigley Field (MLB.com players' survey). ESPN.com staff and readers named the ballpark among their Top 10 in separate surveys, and noted travel guidebook Zagat ranked T-Mobile Park one of the top family-friendly attractions in the nation.

T-Mobile Park has achieved something fans, public officials and the Mariners ownership craved for most of the franchise history – stability for Major League Baseball in the Northwest. The public-private partnership that built the ballpark resulted in a beautiful facility for all to enjoy and a solid foundation for the Seattle Mariners. The Mariners and the Washington State Major League Baseball Public Facilities District signed a new 25-year lease that obligates the Mariners to pay over $600 million to maintain and improve T-Mobile Park to ensure that it remains in first-class condition and among the best ballparks in baseball.

RETRACTABLE ROOF

During the 2018 season, the T-Mobile Park retractable roof was closed (or moved during play) in 18 of 81 games (22%). Since T-Mobile Park opened in July 1999, the roof has been in use during 341 of 1,586 games (21%). The roof is necessary to guard against the risk of a rain out. With almost half of all fans reporting that they drive an hour or more to get to T-Mobile Park, fans are assured that if they make the trip, they'll see a ballgame.

T-Mobile Park's retractable roof covers but does not enclose the field and seating areas, thus preserving an open-air environment. The structure has a footprint of nearly nine acres, weighs 22 million pounds, and contains enough steel to build a 55-story skyscraper. The three movable panels glide on 128 steel wheels powered by 96 10-horsepower electric motors. The roof can extend or retract in 10-20 minutes, depending on weather conditions.

SCOREBOARD SYSTEM

T-Mobile Park is home to one of the largest HD videoscreens in all of MLB. The LED technology, from Sanyo, measures 56.7' high by 201.5' wide. The total viewing area, 11,425 square feet, is equal to about 2,182 42-inch flat screen TVs. The 1080p x 3840 screen resolution provides image quality that is superior to broadcast HD signals. The video screen can be programmed for live action or video replays, split into sectors for graphics and animation and statistical data. The videoscreen integrates seamlessly with the Out-of-Town LED board and the LED ribbon boards on the Terrace Club fascia.

PLAYING FIELD

T-Mobile Park's playing surface is designed for the Northwest climate and the retractable roof. The 100% Kentucky bluegrass turf provides a durable playing surface that grows well despite low levels of direct sunlight. The retractable roof can remain closed, if needed, for six consecutive days without harming the grass. The entire playing surface was replaced after the 2017 season and new turf was installed prior to the 2019 season.

CONCESSIONS AND RESTAURANTS

T-Mobile Park's concessions and catering services are provided by Centerplate, one of the nation's largest providers of food, catering, merchandise and facility management services for sports, convention and entertainment venues. Fans will find a variety of fresh, high-quality choices from the Northwest and around the world available at the ballpark including local favorites such as Ivar's and Kidd Valley. T-Mobile Park consulting chef Ethan Stowell has created a variety of menu items including grass-fed beef burgers, house-made BBQ beef and pork and Dungeness crab sandwiches, all using fresh, local ingredients. Fans will also find sushi and other Asian delicacies, organic, gluten-free and vegetarian options, as well as classic ballpark fare. The Hit it Here Café and Edgar's Cantina provide seating before and during games, and the members-only Terrace Club, KeyBank Diamond Club, Emerald Queen All-Star Club, private and group suites offer a selection of creative and delicious food.

SPECIAL FEATURES

T-Mobile Park has a number of unique and interesting areas for fans to enjoy before and during games. The T-Mobile 'Pen' is an event-within-an-event. Located behind left and center field, the area features premium concessions from noted chef and Seattleite Ethan Stowell including his brick oven Ballard Pizza, Paseo Caribbean Food, The Rail bar and Caught Looking Lounge, a Seattle Mariners Team Store, as well as the Fan Walk personalized bricks. The terraces behind the center field fence offer a lively atmosphere to meet and mingle with other fans and one of the best views of the game.

Lookout Landing, located at the end of the left field line of the 300 (view level), provides incredible views both inside and outside the park.

The Outside Corner Picnic Patio, directly above the Home Plate Gate entrance on the 300 level, is a gathering spot that offers breathtaking views of Puget Sound and the Olympic Mountains as well as tables and benches for pre- and in-game family picnics. The Kid's Corner play area is also located here.

The Seattle Children's Playfield is located on the Main Concourse in center field. It lets kids work off excess energy on fun, baseball-themed playground equipment. Inside the Playfield is Moose's Munchies, a concession stand just for kids featuring menu items like peanut butter and jelly sandwiches, small hot dogs, Cracker Jack and soft drinks, all served in a souvenir plastic bucket.

Immediately outside the Playfield is the Seattle Children's Wishing Well. Coins tossed into the Wishing Well are donated to Seattle Children's to support patient care.

The flagship Mariners Team Store is open year-round with one of the world's largest selections of Mariners apparel and merchandise for men, women and children. The Kid's Clubhouse, located next to the Children's Playfield, caters to children and youth.

Works by 11 Northwest artists are incorporated into the design of the ballpark and parking garage. The ambitious $1.3 million public art program includes a variety of installations that celebrate the game of baseball including a huge bronze mitt outside the Left Field Gate and a chandelier of 1,000 translucent, regulation-sized baseball bats above the Home Plate Gate grand staircase.

SUSTAINABILITY

The Seattle Mariners are committed to operating the franchise and T-Mobile Park in an environmentally responsible manner. In 2017, these efforts earned the Mariners the "Green Glove Award" for the highest recycling rate in Major League Baseball (96%). Every year since 2010, the Mariners have been named American League recycling champions.

In 2015, T-Mobile Park became the first MLB ballpark to illuminate the playing field with LED lights. The lights reduce glare and shadows on the field providing a better experience for players and fans (both at the ballpark and watching at home on HD TV). The lights use 60% less power and have a lifespan of 30-years (vs. three years for the old metal halide lights).

An array of solar panels on the roof of the skybridge to the Mariners parking garage generate 40,000-kilowatt hours of power annually and four electric vehicle charging stations are available to the public year round.

Through conservation and capital investments, the Mariners have made great strides in reducing consumption of electricity, water and natural gas, significantly reducing the team's impact on the environment. (More information is available at Mariners.com/Green.)

BALLPARK HISTORY

March 30, 1994 – King County Executive Gary Locke appoints a 28-member task force to assess the need for cost, potential location and advisability of public investment in a new Major League Baseball stadium.

January 11, 1995 – Stadium Alternative Task Force recommends public involvement in financing a new MLB stadium.

September 19, 1995 – A proposal to increase the sales tax by .01% in King County to pay for construction of the ballpark is narrowly defeated by voters.

October 14, 1995 – A special session of the Washington State Legislature authorizes a different funding package for a new stadium that includes a car rental surcharge, a ballpark admissions tax, a King County food and beverage tax in restaurants, a credit against the state sales tax and sale of special stadium-themed license plates.

October 23, 1995 – King County Council approves the funding package and establishes the Washington State Major League Baseball Stadium Public Facilities District (PFD) to own the ballpark and oversee its design, construction and operation.

January 29, 1996 – Seattle-based NBBJ is chosen by the PFD Board as the project architect.

April 1996 – Hunt-Kiewit is chosen by the PFD Board as general contractor for construction of the ballpark.

September 9, 1996 – The ballpark site is selected south of the Kingdome between Royal Brougham Way and South Atlantic Street.

March 8, 1997 – 30,000 people turn out as Ken Griffey Jr. helps officially break ground for the new ballpark.

June 4, 1998 – Naming rights for the ballpark are sold to Seattle-based Safeco Corporation, which signed a 20-year commitment.

July 15, 1999 – A sellout crowd of 44,604 attends the Inaugural Game against San Diego.

July 10, 2001 – The 72nd MLB All-Star Game is held at T-Mobile Park (then known as Safeco Field). The AL defeats the NL, 4-1. The Mariners are represented by eight players and manager Lou Piniella.

April 2, 2007 – The Baseball Museum of the Pacific Northwest opens on the main concourse between sections 132-136.

October 1, 2011 – The Limited Tax General Obligation bonds for the construction of T-Mobile Park are retired – five years ahead of schedule.

August 6, 2016 – Ken Griffey Jr.'s number 24 is displayed in center field, the first retired number in franchise history.

August 12, 2017 – Edgar Martinez's number 11 is retired, the second such honor in club history.

December 19, 2018 – The Mariners and T-Mobile announce a 25-year partnership including naming rights to T-Mobile Park.

BASEBALL MUSEUM OF THE PACIFIC NORTHWEST

The Baseball Museum of the Pacific Northwest and the Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame is located on the Main Concourse (100-level) of T-Mobile Park, opposite sections 132-136. It is open to all fans during every Mariners home game.

With the assistance of noted local baseball historian Dave Eskenazi, the museum tells the story of the rich history of the game of baseball in the Pacific Northwest from the 1880's to today, and displays interesting artifacts, photos and exhibits. The museum space originally opened in 2007. Each year, elements of the displays are updated.

The Seattle Mariners Hall of Fame was established in 1997 to honor the best of Mariners Baseball. There are nine current inductees – Alvin Davis (inducted in 1997), Dave Niehaus (2000), Jay Buhner (2004), Edgar Martinez (2007), Randy Johnson (2012), Dan Wilson (2012), Ken Griffey Jr. (2013), Lou Piniella (2014) and Jamie Moyer (2015).

The Baseball Museum of the Pacific Northwest was funded through the proceeds of the sale of personalized brick pavers, which are located in The Pen. A total of 12,500 pavers were sold to fans by the Washington State Major League Baseball Public Facilities District (PFD).

In 2013, the outfield wall dimensions were moved in, ranging from 4 feet to the biggest change of 17 feet in left-center field.

IN THE COMMUNITY

THE SEATTLE MARINERS COMMITMENT TO THE COMMUNITY

The Seattle Mariners have long been leaders in giving back to the community. Since 1991, when Mariners Care was established, the nonprofit has helped raise over $26 million to benefit primarily youth-oriented community service programs in the region.

In 2014, the Mariners received the Commissioner's Award for Philanthropic Excellence from then-Commissioner of Major League Baseball Allan H. (Bud) Selig. The Mariners were honored for their "Refuse To Abuse" Domestic Violence Prevention Program, a state-wide educational initiative, in partnership with the Washington State Coalition Against Domestic Violence, to promote healthy relationships and take a public stand against domestic violence.

The Mariners also have a long association with United Way of King County. Over the years, six members of the Mariners ownership group (John Ellis, Frank Schrontz, Howard Lincoln, Jeff & Tricia Raikes, John Stanton) and Mariners Hall of Famer Dan Wilson and his wife Annie, have chaired United Way's annual campaign.

In 2009, the Mariners received United Way's highest honor, the Spirit of Caring Award, for "outstanding performance in every aspect of company campaigns and an ongoing commitment to community involvement."

COMMUNITY SNAPSHOT

UNITED WAY, KING COUNTY BAR ASSOCIATION PARTNERSHIP

The United Way of King County, King County Bar Association and the Seattle Mariners announced in December the creation of a community partnership to help tackle King County's homelessness crisis by reducing the number of people who lose their homes to eviction. The program – known as Home Base – works to keep thousands of people facing eviction in their homes by providing legal representation, making flexible funds (provided by the Mariners and administered by United Way) available to clients to pay back rent causing a pending eviction and offering the guidance of a caseworker to prevent the person or family from facing eviction again. The Seattle Mariners are providing almost $3 million to create the eviction intervention fund that will be administered through United Way of King County and will provide individualized resources and services to help people obtain or retain housing.

MARINERS EDUCATION DAY

Mariners players, broadcasters and coaches visit local elementary schools each year as part of the club's annual Education Day.

On May 31, 2018, manager Scott Servais, as well as players and broadcasters, delivered a positive message to more than 2,100 elementary students at four Seattle-area elementary schools.

At each school, the Mariners speak about the importance of education and adhering to the Mariners DREAM Team assembly to students: Drug-free, Respect for yourself and others, Education through reading, Attitude and Motivation to achieve your dreams.

MARINERS CARAVAN

The 2019 Seattle Mariners Caravan visited fans of all ages in 22 communities across the Pacific Northwest during the month of January. On the tour, Mariners players, coaches, broadcasters, alumni, and the Mariner Moose delivered positive messages to kids at elementary schools, hospitals, and Boys & Girls Clubs. In addition, fans also had the opportunity to attend complimentary autograph sessions and PLAY BALL events with the players and have their photo taken with the Mariner Moose.

MARINERS CARE

Through Mariners Care, the Seattle Mariners non-profit foundation, and its corporate partners, the team helped provide $1.4 million in 2018 for a variety of charitable programs throughout the Pacific Northwest.

Since 1991, when Mariners Care was established, the nonprofit has helped raise over $26 million to benefit primarily youth-oriented community service programs.

During 2018, Mariners Care and the Mariners corporate partners supported over 1,500 local organizations including Boys & Girls Clubs of King County, Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, Seattle Children's, United Way, Make-A-Wish Foundation, Page Ahead Children's Literacy Program, Northwest Harvest, Fred Hutchinson Cancer Research Center and the Washington State Coalition Against Domestic Violence. Additionally, every Mariners player participated in and supported various community programs and causes.

IN THE COMMUNITY

THE HOME SHOWS

In August, Pearl Jam hosted The Home Shows – two headlining concerts at T-Mobile Park – marking the band's first hometown appearance in five years. The Home Shows raised $10.8 million from donations by businesses, foundations, restaurants and thousands of individuals. The funds will be distributed to almost 100 organizations that are fighting homelessness in Seattle and King County. The Mariners presented a check for $54,380 to the band's Vitalogy Foundation prior to the game on July 20 vs. the White Sox. Through a silent auction during that night's game, Mariners Care raised more than $21,000 for the Vitalogy Foundation's homelessness relief initiative.

ON BASE

In January of 2018, the Mariners launched a new initiative designed to make the game of baseball and softball more accessible to kids across the Northwest – On BASE (Baseball and Softball Everywhere). The program has helped defray registration fees, provided uniforms and equipment, offered training opportunities for youth coaches and young athletes, and more.

On BASE programs support young athletes ages 5-18 through events such as On BASE Youth Clinics, Mariners Grand Slam Camps, PLAY BALL events with Challenger Little League, sponsorship of the Metro Parks Tacoma Elementary School League, and the Mariners Care Equipment Donation Grant. On BASE programs also seek to provide high school students exposure to careers in baseball that they can pursue after their playing careers have ended. On BASE Coaches Clinics across Washington and Oregon are hosted by Mariners coaches, former players, and personalities who share their professional experience to help train, support, and encourage youth baseball and softball coaches.

In 2019, the Mariners kicked off their On BASE efforts with an On BASE Youth Clinic for 80 young ball-players and a series of On BASE Coaches Clinics across the Pacific Northwest. Several Mariners players, including Marco Gonzales, Mallex Smith, Justus Sheffield, and J.P. Crawford, spent time offering pitching, fielding, base running and hitting instruction to kids at an On BASE clinic in January of 2019. A few days later, Mariners Manager Scott Servais, Director of Player Development Andy McKay, and ROOT SPORTS Anchor Angie Mentink hosted an On BASE Coaches Clinic for youth coaches at T-Mobile Park.

2018 On BASE highlights include a partnership with the Metro Parks Tacoma Elementary School League baseball and softball program, the Mariners Care Equipment Donation Grant, expansion of Mariners Grand Slam Camps, On BASE Career Days with local high schools and Boys & Girls Clubs, and events with Challenger Little League.

2018 HIGHLIGHTS

Through Mariners Care, the Seattle Mariners non-profit foundation, and its corporate partners, the team helped provide $1.4 million in 2018 for a variety of charitable programs throughout the Pacific Northwest:

- Rick Rizzs and the Seattle Mariners RBI Club held the 17th annual Toys for Kids Dinner and Auction to benefit several Puget Sound area charities serving disadvantaged children and families. The event raised over $300,000.
- Founded in 1995 by Rizzs and former Mariners outfielder Dave Henderson, Toys for Kids has made its mission to help make holidays a little brighter for children who are homeless, hospitalized or otherwise in need of a little holiday cheer.
- The 7th Annual Goodwill Refuse To Abuse 5k Run/Walk, held on July 21 at T-Mobile Park, raised $190,000 for the Washington State Coalition Against Domestic Violence and the Refuse To Abuse® campaign.
- The Mariners and WSCADV have teamed up since 1997 to support Refuse To Abuse, a season-long awareness campaign designed to promote healthy, respectful relationships. Scott Servais, Félix Hernández, Kyle Seager, and Dee Gordon served as spokesmen for the 2018 campaign.
- The Cystic Fibrosis Mariners Care Golf Tournament, held annually since 1986, has helped the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation in their continuing efforts to find a cure for CF, a fatal disease afflicting children and young adults.
- The 2018 tournament, led by Tournament Host Jim Brower, was held at the Broadmoor Golf Club on July 2 and raised over $175,000 for CF research. Since 1986, the event has raised more than $6 million for the CF Foundation.
- The Mariners Care Equipment Donation Grant program awarded ten $5,000 grants to high school baseball and softball teams in Washington State to help pay for equipment, uniforms, field maintenance, and other expenses associated with operating a successful program.

PEORIA SPORTS COMPLEX

The City of Peoria, Seattle Mariners and San Diego Padres opened the Peoria Sports Complex in 1994, the first shared spring training facility in Arizona. Peoria Stadium is the centerpiece of the complex, which includes five and a half practice fields as well as headquarters for both teams on 145 acres.

- Peoria Stadium has undergone extensive renovations over last three years, adding seats, two fan pavilion areas and an expanded Team Store. The park seats 12,518 fans. The dimensions of the outfield are 340 ft. down each line, 385 ft. in the power alleys and 410 ft. to center.
- Complex is located 20 miles northwest of downtown Phoenix, just off Loop 101.
- The Mariners used the Padres facilities in the spring training of 1993, when the Seattle club played all its Cactus League games on the road.
- From the Mariners inception in 1977 through 1992, Tempe Diablo Stadium was the spring home of the Mariners.
- The Mariners facilities are used in the summer by their Peoria team (Arizona League), and in the fall for Instructional League and Arizona Fall League baseball.
- The Peoria Sports Complex is “green” and environmentally friendly, and promotes renewable, clean energy. The rooftop solar panels supply nearly half of the facility’s annual energy use.

The team Spring Training facilities are LEED Gold certified. LEED certified buildings save money and resources and have a positive impact on the health of occupants, while promoting renewable, clean energy. LEED, or Leadership in Energy & Environmental Design, is a green building certification program that recognizes best-in-class building strategies and practices.

DIRECTIONS: The Peoria Sports Complex is located east of West Loop 101 between Bell and Thunderbird. From I-10: Take Loop 101 North. Exit Bell Road (exit 14) and head east. Turn south on 83rd Avenue. Peoria Sports Complex is approximately one-quarter mile down on the east side of 83rd Avenue. From I-17: Take Loop 101 West and exit on Bell Road east (exit 14). From Bell Road, turn south on 83rd Avenue. Peoria Sports Complex is approximately one-quarter mile down on the east side of 83rd Avenue.

T-MOBILE PARK GROUND RULES

Photographer's Areas

The ball is "in play" if it hits any of the railings defining the photographer wells and bounces back onto the playing field.

Ball Hitting Roof Trusses

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in fair territory shall be judged fair or foul in relation to where it lands or is touched by a fielder. If a batted ball is caught by a fielder, the batter is out and base runners advance at their own risk.

A batted ball hitting a roof truss in foul territory is a dead ball, regardless of where it lands or is caught by a fielder.

Outfield Area

Netting in the right field corner in foul territory is above and beyond the wall. A batted ball that bounds into the netting is a dead ball whether or not it rebounds onto the playing field: Two Bases.

Dugouts

A ball must enter the dugout to be considered a dead ball.

Movement of Roof

If a game is started with the roof closed, it may be opened when, in the opinion of the home club, climactic conditions warrant such opening. However, roof may be opened only once during a game and shall commence only between innings after the umpire crew chief has been notified. Prior to opening of roof, the visiting club may challenge the opening if it feels a competitive imbalance will arise. The crew chief will make a final decision based on the merits of the challenge.

If a game is started with the roof open, it may be closed during the game. The decision to close the roof shall be made by the home club, and may be made solely for the comfort of its fans. Play will continue during roof closure if possible. However, the umpires have the right to stop play during this process if they determine it is necessary to do so.

KINGDOME FAREWELL

After 22-and-a-half years, the Seattle Mariners said farewell to the Kingdome on Sunday, June 27, 1999. A sold-out crowd of 56,530 fans watched the Mariners defeat the Texas Rangers 5-2. A post-game ceremony featured a ceremonial "final pitch" in the Kingdome, as Bob "Scrap Iron" Stinson caught a pitch tossed by Cory Segui, the grandson of Diego Segui. Segui and Stinson made up the starting battery of the Mariners inaugural game on April 6, 1977. Mariners Legends who participated in the post-game ceremony included Hall of Famer Gaylord Perry, Ruppert Jones, Alvin Davis, Julio Cruz and Harold Reynolds.

BROADCASTERS

RICK RIZZS, the Mariners primary voice on radio, is in his 34th season with the broadcast team in 2019 after rejoining the team in 1995. His 34 years with the club match Dave Niehaus as the Mariners longest-tenured broadcaster. Rick is the recipient of the 2017 Keith Jackson Award from the Seattle Sports Commission for excellence in communicating the sports stories of the state of Washington.

Rick is a 1975 graduate of Southern Illinois University in Carbondale. From 1975-80, he handled double-A baseball play-by-play duties for Alexandria, Amarillo and Memphis. He became the sports director at WBNS radio in Columbus, Ohio in 1981, where he called Ohio State football and triple-A baseball for two seasons. He was named the Ohio "Sportscaster of the Year" in 1981 by the Ohio Sportscasters Association. Rick was originally hired to broadcast Mariners games in 1983 and spent nine seasons with the club. In 2000, Rick was named the Chicago-area sportscaster of the year by the Chicago Pitch and Hit Club. He also spent three seasons calling the play-by-play with Bob Rathbun on radio for the Detroit Tigers from 1992-94.

Throughout the year, Rick also heads Toys For Kids, a non-profit he co-founded in 1995. Last year, Toys for Kids donated toys for more than 11,000 homeless and hospitalized children and presented four $5,000 educational scholarships. Rick resides in Issaquah. He has one son, Nick, two grandsons, Jaxon and Braedon, and one granddaughter, Ryan.

DAVE SIMS is in his 13th season with the Mariners broadcast team. He grew up in Philadelphia and attended Bethany College in West Virginia. Sims, who has play-by-play duties on Mariners television broadcasts, is familiar to sports fans for calling MLB and college basketball games on ESPN, as well as NCAA Basketball and NFL play-by-play on Westwood One/CBS Radio Sports. The two-time Emmy Award won the American Football Foundation's Outstanding Sportscaster Award in 2003 and the Big East Media Award in 2005. In 2018, he was named Washington Sportscaster of the Year by the National Sports Media Association. Sims began his career as a sportswriter for the New York Daily News prior to becoming a weekend sports anchor at WCBS-TV. In 1991, he joined ESPN as a play-by-play announcer for college basketball. In 2005, he did play-by-play for Westwood One/CBS Radio Sports' Sunday night NFL broadcast. He co-hosts "Basketball & Beyond with Coach K" for Sirius XM Satellite Radio with Duke University coach Mike Krzyzewski, is a correspondent for MLB Network and calls Big East college basketball on FS1.

From 1998-2007, Sims and his wife Abby ran "AthletiSense," an athletes media coaching program that worked with football and basketball teams in the PAC-12, Big East, Big 12, Atlantic 10, and Mountain West. They have two sons, and one granddaughter.

MIKE BLOWERS, who enters his 13th season as the Mariners television analyst, is a long-time fan favorite who did three tours with the Mariners (1992-1995, 1997, 1999). Prior to joining the Mariners broadcast team in 2007, Blowers spent four years as the pre- and post-game analyst on KOMO 1000 News broadcasts of Mariners games. Blowers was a stand-out at Bethel High School in Spanaway, WA, and was a Pac-10 Triple Crown winner while with the University of Washington. During his 11-year MLB career, Blowers also played for the Yankees (1989-91), Dodgers (1996) and Athletics (1998). He played in the postseason with the Mariners in 1995 and 1997. During Seattle's memorable 1995 season, he set career highs in almost every statistical category, including 113 hits, 24 doubles, 23 homers and 96 RBI. He tied a Major League record with three grand slams in a single month in August of '95, when he hit .283 with nine homers and a club-record tying 33 RBI. Blowers received the first-ever "Unsung Hero" award from the Seattle chapter of the Baseball Writers Association of America in 1993. He was originally selected by the Montreal Expos in the 10th round of the 1986 June draft. After being traded to the Yankees on Aug. 29, 1989, Blowers made his Major League debut with the Yankees on Sept. 1 vs. California. He made his first ML start against the Mariners on Sept. 5, 1989. Blowers lives in Graham, with his wife Nicole and their four children.

AARON GOLDSMITH enters his seventh season with the Mariners broadcast team in 2019. Goldsmith calls Mariners baseball on radio and TV, and is actively involved in non-game related broadcasting, including the Mariners Hot Stove Show, Cactus League Report and Sunday Mariners Magazine. He also hosts The Wheelhouse with Jerry Dipoto, a weekly podcast with the Mariners General Manager. Aaron broadcasts Major League Baseball, college football and college basketball on FOX and FS1.

A St. Louis, Mo., native, Aaron graduated from Principia College in Elsah, IL, with a BA in history. After college he attended the Broadcast Center in St. Louis, earning a certificate in Radio Broadcasting and Production. He spent the 2012 season as the lead announcer for the AAA Pawtucket Red Sox. Prior to joining Pawtucket, Goldsmith spent the 2010 and 2011 seasons as the radio broadcaster for the Frisco RoughRiders, the Double-A affiliate of the Texas Rangers. He also served as the team's Manager of Broadcasting/Media Development. In 2009, Aaron was the broadcaster/studio host for the Portland Sea Dogs, the Red Sox AA affiliate in the Eastern League. Goldsmith began his broadcast career in 2007 with the Gateway Grizzlies in the independent Frontier League, and called the Bourne Braves games in the Cape Cod Baseball League in 2008. Aaron lives in Kirkland with his wife and two children.

GARY HILL JR. enters his second season as the Executive Producer/Engineer for all Mariners radio broadcasts in 2019. The Tacoma native joins the club full-time after spending the past 8 seasons in a variety of roles with the Mariners Radio Network.

Since 2010, Gary has hosted Mariners pre- and post-game shows, filled in on play-by-play duties, hosted the Mariners official daily podcast and contributed to the Sunday Mariners Magazine. In his new role, he will continue to have an on-air presence as a member of the Mariners broadcast team. After graduating from Washington State University in 2000, Gary has been a fixture on local sports radio, covering baseball, basketball and football. He is also currently the voice of University of Washington women's basketball. Gary resides in Burien, Wash., with his wife, Mary, son, Baker and daughter, Finley.

JIM ARMINTROUT is in his third full season with Mariners television in 2019. He serves as the director for telecasts on ROOT SPORTS™ Northwest.

Born and raised in Edmonds, Wash., Jim has been working in the television industry for more than 30 years, including the last 25 years as a producer or director with MLB, NBA, NFL and NHL clubs. He directed Mariners telecasts for NHK (Japan) from 2001-2003, and since 2013 has directed a partial schedule of Mariners telecasts. Most recently, he has directed Colorado Rockies telecasts on ROOT SPORTS™ Rocky Mountain and Los Angeles Lakers telecasts on Spectrum SportsNet.

He resides in West Seattle with his wife Guadalupe. They have two daughters, Alea and Kiera.

SPANISH BROADCASTER

ALEX RIVERA is in his 13th season as Spanish play-by-play voice of the Mariners broadcast team in 2019. The former Latin and Reggae musician, brings flavor and soul to the Mariners Spanish Broadcast Team. Since making the cross-country move, the New York native has built up a wealth of experience in the Seattle area. On top of collaborating on previous Spanish broadcasts with the Mariners, Alex has also worked for Spanish publications El Mundo and La Voz as well as Radio Sol during his career in print and on the airwaves. Alex lives in Edmonds with his wife Cindy and daughters, Gloria and Alexis.

ROOT SPORTS Northwest is the television home of Mariners Baseball, carrying every Mariners regular season game (except games restricted by MLB national agreements) as well as 14 spring training games in 2019.

ROOT SPORTS Northwest is distributed to approximately 3.2 million homes through the states of Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana and Alaska. All games are produced in high definition. For six consecutive years, the regional sports network has been the recipient of EMMY Awards for the quality of its production.

In addition to spring training and regular season games, Mariners programming includes pre and post-game shows, the Batting Practice Show before most Saturday home games, and the weekly Mariners All-Access, which includes behind-the-scenes features, instruction and other unique aspects of Mariners Baseball.

All games televised by ROOT SPORTS Northwest are available in high definition.

SPANISH AUDIO FEED: ROOT SPORTS Northwest provides a Spanish-language feed of all Mariners home games telecasts. The feed is available to all ROOT affiliates (cable, satellite, etc.) which provide Secondary Audio Programming (SAP) to their subscribers.

PRE-GAME WORKOUT SCHEDULE

For home games, the Mariners clubhouse opens 3 hours, 50 minutes prior to game time and closes when the Mariners take the field for batting practice.

A CAPSULE HISTORY OF PROFESSIONAL BASEBALL IN SEATTLE

- 1890: The first professional baseball team in Seattle was organized. The Seattle Reds played in the Class-C Pacific Northwest League.
- 1892: The Reds (first-half champions) won the PNL Pennant when the Portland club declined to enter the playoffs because of financial problems.
- 1896: Club was re-named "Braves" and moved into its first stadium (Athletic Park – 14th and Yesler).
- 1903: The AAA Pacific Coast League was formed and Seattle was a charter member. Thus, Seattle had two professional baseball teams for one season (the Braves played in the Pacific National League and folded after one year).
- 1906-17: Seattle ended its membership in the PCL and joined the Class-B Northwestern League.
- 1919: Seattle re-joined the PCL. The club was named "Indians" and played a 225-game schedule (the extended season format continued through the 1957 PCL season).
- 1937: Emil Sick bought the Seattle franchise for $115,000 and immediately changed the nickname to "Rainiers" (Mr. Sick also owned and operated the Rainier Brewing Company).
- 1938: On June 15, the Rainiers moved into Sick's Seattle Stadium (capacity of 11,500). Local sports hero Fred Hutchinson went 25-7 in his rookie season.
- 1939-41: The Rainiers won three consecutive PCL pennants.
- 1946: Seattle Steelheads of West Coast Negro Baseball League played the inaugural game of their only season on June 1 vs. San Diego Tigers at Sicks' Stadium.
- 1955: Hutchinson returned as manager of the Rainiers and led the club to another PCL crown. In addition, the first official proposal for a domed stadium in Seattle was made (bond issues for the project failed in 1960 and 1964).
- 1960: Sick sold the club to the Boston Red Sox. Seattle became the Red Sox AAA affiliate.
- 1965-68: The California Angels purchased the club and Bob Lemon managed Seattle to its last PCL baseball championship in 1966.
- 1967: Public approval was given for funds needed to build a domed stadium (completion was scheduled to be prior to the 1972 season).
- 1969: An expansion team, the Seattle Pilots came into existence and began play in the American League. Sicks Stadium was expanded to seat 28,500.
- 1970: On March 31, financial difficulties resulted in the Pilots moving to Milwaukee (club was re-named "Brewers"). Plans to build a domed stadium were temporarily interrupted.
- 1972-76: Seattle fielded a team in the Class-A Northwest League.
- 1977: On April 6, Major League Baseball returned to Seattle when the Mariners played the California Angels before a Kingdome crowd of 57,762. The Mariners starting pitcher that night was Diego Segui, a member of the 1969 Pilots.
- 1979: The 50th MLB All-Star Game was played at the Kingdome on July 17. The NL defeated the AL 7-6.
- 1995: On October 2, Seattle won its first American League West pennant.
- 1999: On June 27, Mariners played their last game in Kingdome, defeating Texas 5-2.
- 1999: On July 15, Seattle played its first game in the new outdoor ballpark, T-Mobile Park, against the San Diego Padres, losing 3-2.
- 2001: On October 6, Seattle tied a ML record by recording its 116th win of the season.
- 2012: On August 15 vs. Tampa Bay, Felix Hernandez threw the first perfect game in club history.
- 2016: On July 24 in Cooperstown, NY, Ken Griffey Jr. became the first player inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame as a Mariner.
- 2019: On July 21 in Cooperstown, NY, Edgar Martinez became the second Mariner to be inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame.
