Will ranked 2nd on the Giants in walks (63), was 3rd in rbi (73), placed 4th in homers (14), and ranked 5th in batting (.283), runs (82), and doubles (27). After a slow start, he batted .318 over his last 87 games and was San Francisco's top hitter down the stretch in the National League Western Division race against Atlanta.

Will's career .299 average ranks 10th best among active major leaguers with 1,000 or more hits.

Batting: His .283 average was 2nd lowest of career to .282 in 1988...Hit just .198 (18-81) with one homer and 10 rbi in 23 games in April, his lowest average ever over a full month (.209 in May, 1990 was previous low)...Went 19-66 (.288) in his 1st 19 games in May but an 0-13 drought in next 4 contests dropped him to .218 through May 26.

West title.

Final average of .283 matched his season best...Hit .321 (75-234) on the road, 7th best in the N.L. DID YOU KNOW?

That Frank Howard, who played with the Rangers in 1972, had 10 home runs in 20 times at bat with the Washington Senators in 1968. He started with a home run against Detroit's Mickey Lolich in Washington and ended the hot streak with a home run over the left-field roof at Detroit. Yes, again off Lolich.

RECAPPING THE SEVEN NO-HITTERS

May 15, 1973 at Kansas City — California 3, Kansas City 0

Nolan Ryan chalked up the first of his major league record five no-hitters for the California Angels as he stopped the Kansas City Royals for the first hitless game by an Angel righthander in the club's history. Ryan finished with 12 strikeouts as he recorded at least one whiff in every inning except the fifth. The only close call of the game came in the eighth inning when Royals pinch hitter Gail Hopkins hit a looping liner into left field which shortstop Rudy Meoli came up with on a running over-the-shoulder catch with his back to the plate. The Angels and Ryan got all the offensive support they needed from right-fielder Bob Oliver, two of the three RBI with a solo home run and a single.

July 15, 1973 at Detroit — California 6, Detroit 0

The "easiest" no-hitter for Ryan in terms of scores as he turned in his second no-hitter of the 1973 campaign, again on the road, by stopping the Detroit Tigers 6-0. Ryan had 17 strikeouts for the game with 16 of them coming in the first seven innings. However, his arm stiffened up somewhat in the top of the eighth as the Angels batted around while scoring five runs to break open a close game. Ryan had to rely on no special defensive accomplishments to preserve the no-hitter as he became the fifth man in history to throw two no-hitters in a season.

September 28, 1974 at Anaheim — California 4, Minnesota 0

Nolan Ryan makes the most of his final start of the 1974 campaign by ringing up his third career no-hitter to raise his final record to 22-16 at the expense of the Minnesota Twins, 4-0. Ryan started in splendid fashion as his first seven pitches were strikes and he struck out the side in both the first and second innings. He finished the game with 15 strikeouts, but also had to contend with no less than eight walks — seven of them in the first five innings. The Angels won it with two runs in both the third and fourth innings with centerfielder Morris Nettles driving home three of them.

June 1, 1975 at Anaheim — California 1, Baltimore 0

Nolan Ryan moved into a tie with Dodger great Sandy Koufax as he fired the fourth no-hitter of his career in nipping the Baltimore Orioles 1-0. Making his 12th start of the season, Ryan polished off the Orioles with nine strikeouts as he came up with his fourth no-hit effort in the period of 109 starts. The only offensive output in the game came in the bottom of the third when Angel third baseman Dave Chalk singled home Mickey Rivers.

September 26, 1981 at Houston — Houston 5, Los Angeles 0

History was made as Nolan Ryan became the first man in the history of the sport to pitch five no-hitters in his career as he notched a crucial 5-0 win over the Los Angeles Dodgers. In winning, Ryan wound up with 11 strikeouts (the 135th time in his career fanned 10 or more men in a game) while walking only three. He threw a total of 129 pitches (52 balls, 77 strikes). Ryan stood at 10 strikeouts through the opening six innings, but set down only one more the rest of the way as he retired the final 19 batters in a row. Catcher Alan Ashby gave the Astros a 2-0 lead with a two-run single in the third and then Houston wrapped up the win with three more tallies in the eighth.

Nolan Ryan accomplished several milestones with the sixth no-hitter of his major league career. At the age of 43 years, 4 months, 12 days, he became the oldest pitcher to ever throw a no-hitter while also becoming the first to reach that achievement in three different decades and with three different teams. Ryan was making just his second start since coming off the disabled list and was still bothered by the lower back trouble that had sidelined him for nearly three weeks. He allowed only two baserunners, walks to Walt Weiss in the third and Mike Gallego in the sixth, while fanning 14 and throwing 132 pitches. The Rangers offense was provided by a pair of 2-run homers by Julio Franco and a solo blast by John Russell, who was catching Ryan for the first time ever.

May 1, 1991 at Arlington — Texas 3, Toronto 0

On Arlington Appreciation Night, Nolan Ryan gave 33,439 fans the thrill of a lifetime with perhaps the most dominating performance in any of his seven no-hitters. He retired 27 of 29 batters, issuing walks to Kelly Gruber in the first and Joe Carter in the seventh while tying his own club record of 16 strikeouts, his second most ever in a no-hitter. The closest that Toronto came to a hit was in the sixth inning on a shallow fly ball by Manuel Lee that Gary Pettis charged and caught at knee-level. He recorded at least one strikeout in every inning and fanned Roberto Alomar to end the game on his 122nd pitch. Ruben Sierra hit a two-run homer for the Rangers. It was the first no-hitter ever pitched by a Ranger at Arlington Stadium.

1993 SEASON IN REVIEW

Final Overall Record: 86-76 (.531)

Second in A.L. Western Division, 8 games behind Chicago

Home: 50-31 Road: 36-45 Vs. East: 49-35 Vs. West: 37-41

ATTENDANCE: The Rangers attracted 2,244,616 fans in 79 dates to Arlington Stadium in the ballpark's final year of operation. It was the club's 2nd highest figure ever to 2,297,720 in 1991 and marked the 5th consecutive year that Texas has been over the two million mark in home attendance, one of nine major league teams to accomplish that feat (Baltimore, Boston, California, Chicago Cubs, Los Angeles, Oakland, St. Louis, Toronto). The Rangers have attracted over one million fans in each of the last 19 full seasons (excluding 1981). The team's home average of 28,413 was 6th highest in the A.L., and the Rangers' increase of 73,923 fans from 1992 also ranked 6th best in the league.

Texas drew 40,000+ 11 times, tying the club record set in 1991, and established a team mark with 11 sellouts, one more than in 1991. The Rangers attracted 30,000+ 34 times and had at least 20,000 fans on 64 occasions, the latter being one shy of the club record. The season's largest crowd was 41,339, July 17 against Detroit. The Rangers drew 432,421 for 15 dates in September-October, the most ever for the final month of the year, surpassing 418,486 attracted in 1991. The club had consecutive sellouts on September 11-12 vs. Minnesota and three straight capacity crowds on the final weekend of Arlington Stadium, Oct. 1-2-3 vs. Kansas City. That series, which marked the 1st time that Texas had ever had three straight sellouts, drew 122,848, most ever for a home 3-date series.

The final 22-year attendance figure at Arlington Stadium was 31,714,747 in 1689 dates.

On the road, the club established an attendance record for the 3rd straight season with a total of 2,401,762 in 78 dates. The away average of 30,792 ranked 5th in the American League. The Rangers had six road crowds of 50,000+, topped by a pair of 60,000+ throngs, 60,727 on Aug. 15 at Cleveland and 60,326 on Sept. 17 at California, both being NOLAN RYAN'S final appearance in each city. Texas set a record for a 4-date road series with a total of 202,055, July 8-11 at Toronto, the most people ever to see a Rangers' series of any length.

BATTING: The Rangers finished 1993 with a .26715 (1472-5510) team batting average, 5th in the American League, just ahead of Baltimore (.26688). It matches the 7th highest average in team history, tying the 2nd best in the last 12 seasons. It was an increase of 17 points from 1992, the largest rise in one season since 1978 to 1979 (+25) and tying the 4th highest in the league (Detroit, +19; New York and Boston, each +18; California, +17). Texas ranked 4th in the majors with a team record 835 runs scored (Detroit, 899; Philadelphia, 877; Toronto, 847), an increase of 153 runs from 1992 that was the highest in the A.L. and 3rd in the majors (San Francisco, +234; Philadelphia, +191). The Rangers scored 10 or more runs 17 times, tying the 1991 club record, and were shut out on six occasions, 5th fewest in the circuit.

Texas batted .265 (786-2966) with 99 homers and 451 runs scored in 86 1st half games (5.24 runs/game) and hit .270 (686-2544) with 82 homers and 384 runs scored in 76 contests after the all-star break (5.05 runs/game). The team's most productive month was July, when it produced a .287 (278-969) average with 35 homers and 172 runs scored in 28 games. The club also led the league in hitting in September at .286 (262-915). Texas had a season high .270 batting average on May 5 and 7 with a low (after the first week) of .252, June 2-5. The club was over the .260 mark every day beginning July 3.

At Arlington Stadium, the Rangers batted .273 (734-2685), 7th in the league, with 414 runs in 81 games (5.11 runs/game). The club's 90 homers at home tied for 2nd in the A.L. and were the 2nd most ever behind 93 in 1987. On the road, the squad produced a .261 (738-2825) batting mark, 5th in the league, and scored 421 runs in 81 games (5.20 runs/game). The Rangers tied Atlanta for the most road homers in the majors with 91. The club hit .270 (328-1217) vs. lefthanded pitchers, 4th in the A.L., and .266 (1144-4293) off righthanders, the 6th best average. Texas led the American League with a .301 (419-1393) mark leading off an inning and ranked 10th with men in scoring position at .270 (383-1417), an improvement of 43 points from 1992. Rangers' cleanup hitters also topped the league with a .298 (193-647) average, 123 runs, 193 hits, and 46 home runs, the bulk of that production from JUAN GONZALEZ.

The Rangers established club records for runs, slugging percentage (.431), extra base hits (504), rbi (780), and fewest left on base (1034). The club produced its 2nd most doubles ever at 284, four shy of the record (1991) and had the 3rd highest total in homers (181) and total bases (2377). The squad's 113 stolen bases were 2nd most in the last five seasons. In the A.L. rankings, Texas was 1st in homers, 2nd in extra base hits (Toronto-518), 3rd in runs, triples (39), sacrifice flies (56-tied), and sacrifice hits (69), and 4th in total bases and slugging. The Rangers grounded into 111 double plays, 3rd fewest in the league and tying 2nd fewest ever. The team walked 483 times, 2nd fewest in the A.L. and the least since 1984, and had 984 strikeouts, 3rd most in the league but the fewest since 1985.

Batting Milestones: With RAFAEL PALMEIRO (124) and JUAN GONZALEZ (105), Texas was one of five teams in the majors with at least two players with 100 runs scored (full season played with team): Toronto-4; Philadelphia-3; Atlanta and Cleveland-2 each. The Rangers were one of three teams with at least three players with 90 rbi as Toronto had 4 and Detroit 3. It was the 1st time that Texas had ever accomplished that feat. Texas was one of six clubs with at least two players with 100 rbi: Toronto-3; Atlanta, Cleveland, Detroit, and San Francisco-2 each.

CLOSE GAMES/LATE INNING WINS: The Rangers came from behind to win 44 times in 1993, the club's highest total since 1986 (45). Of the 44, 20 were decided in the 7th inning or later. Texas was 24-22 in contests decided after the 6th inning, 15-9 at home and 9-13 on the road. The club won five times at home in the bottom of the 9th inning or later and lost on six occasions away from home in "sudden death". The biggest comeback to win in 1993 was rallying from four runs down to defeat Detroit on April 28. The Rangers were beaten 36 times after having a lead, 14 when leading after 6 innings or later. Texas lost when leading by four runs on four occasions.

The Rangers were 22-23 in one-run games, 14-8 in Arlington and 8-15 on the road, and 16-14 in contests decided by two runs. Texas went 6-5 in extra innings, the team's fewest extra frame contests since 1985 (9).

DAY/NIGHT: Texas was 21-16 in day games, tying for the 2nd most day victories in club history (23 in 1977; 21 in 1974). The squad was 3-7 at home and 18-9 on the road in the daytime. At night, the Rangers finished 65-60, the 2nd most night victories in the league behind Chicago (68-47). Under the lights, the club was 47-24 in Arlington and 18-36 away. Once again, Texas had the fewest day games (37) and the most night contests (125) in the majors.

DAYS IN EACH POSITION: First (16); Second (65); Third (62); Fourth (15); Fifth (20); Sixth (1); Seventh (0). The Rangers' spent a total of 143 days in 3rd place or higher, the most since 1986 (176). The only time that Texas held the division lead was the 1st 16 days of the year, April 5-20 while its lowest position was 6th for one day on June 14. The Rangers were no lower than 3rd after July 4 and held 2nd for the final 29 days beginning Sept. 6. That matched the highest finish in team history (6th time), the best since 1986.

The Rangers largest lead with 1.5 games on three dates (Apr. 13; 18-19). Texas had fallen seven games out on Sept. 5 but closed the gap to 2.5 games behind Chicago on Sept. 13, the team's best standing ever in the month of September. The greatest deficit was eight games twice, after the opener of a doubleheader at Chicago on Sept. 26 and the final margin of the season. The Rangers were eliminated on Sept. 27, an off-day after the 155th game. It was the latest by date and the 3rd latest by game that the team has ever been eliminated (eliminated in game #156 in both 1978 & 1979).

DESIGNATED HITTERS: Rangers' designated hitters combined for a .277 (175-631) average with 18 homers and 97 rbi. Among league dh's, the club ranked 2nd in runs (104), tied for 2nd in hits (175), and 4th in average.

Individual Designated Hitting: JULIO FRANCO batted .289 (153-529) with 14 homers and 83 rbi while batting more times than any dh in team history (WILLIE HORTON, 483 abs in 1977). Franco's average was 3rd best among all league dh's with at least 100 at bats behind Baltimore's HAROLD BAINES (.313) and Toronto's PAUL MOLITOR (.311). Franco ranked 2nd in runs (85) and hits, and placed 3rd in doubles (31), walks (61), and rbi (83), the latter one shy of the team mark (LARRY PARRISH in 1987). The only other Rangers with at least 10 at bats in the dh spot were JOSE CANSECO at .220 (9-41), 2 hr, 5 rbi and JUAN GONZALEZ at .167 (6-36), 1 hr, 5 rbi.

DOUBLEHEADERS: Texas participated in a major league high five doubleheaders, the team's most since 1983 (6). The Rangers swept Minnesota at Arlington on Sept. 10, lost twice at Kansas City on July 26, and split three twinbills: Aug. 17 at New York; Sept. 26 at Chicago; and Sept. 28 against Oakland at home.

FIELDING: The Rangers ranked 11th in the A.L. with a fielding percentage of .979 (132 e/4315 tc) as the 132 errors were the club's fewest since 1988 (131) and 22 less than in 1992. Texas' 145 double plays were the 2nd fewest in the A.L. (Toronto-144) while the squad's 18 passed balls were 2nd most (Minnesota-21). The Rangers had the fewest unearned runs in team history at 67, one less than in 1982. The club had a season high four errors on April 29 against Detroit and committed three miscues eight times.

HOME/AWAY: The Rangers were 50-31 in their final season at Arlington Stadium, matching New York for the best home record in the American League and tying for 4th in the majors. It was the 3rd best home mark in club history behind 1978 (52-30) and 1986 (51-30). Texas was 17-5-4 in 26 home series, winning a club record nine in a row from Aug. 2-Sept. 30. The squad was 23-10 in Arlington from Aug. 2 through the end of the year. At home, the Rangers were 26-16 against the East, a team record for victories, and 24-15 vs. the West, the most wins in their own division since 1986 (28).

1993 SEASON REVIEW

On the road, Texas was 36-45 for its fewest away victories since 1990 (36-44). The squad was 8-14-4 in the 26 road series. The Rangers were 23-19 at Eastern Division ballparks, 2nd most wins ever behind 1977 (24-12) but just 13-26 in Western Division cities, the 3rd fewest victories ever behind 1972 (11-30) and 1973 (10-35).

1994 MAJOR LEAGUE DIVISION REALIGNMENT

For the first time in 25 years, Major League Baseball has restructured its regular season and post season formats. This past winter, MLB players and ownership approved a realignment plan which created three divisions in both the American and National Leagues. In addition, a new playoff format was adopted which includes one wild card team from each league to join the six division champions in post season play. In all, eight teams will be compete in post season action.

Under the new divisional playoff system, the wild card team or lowest seed (2nd place team with the best record in each league) will meet the top seed in the league (division champion with the best record) in a best-of-five-game series. Games 1 & 2 will be held at the home park of the low seed, while the top seed hosts Games 3, 4 & 5, if necessary. The No. 2 & 3 seeds (other division champions) will also play a five-game set in the same format. Note: If the No. 1 & 4 seeds are from the same division, No. 1 will face the No. 3 seed and No. 2 will meet No. 4. Two teams from the same division will not meet in the divisional playoffs. Champions of the divisional playoffs will advance to the League Championship series.

This season the Texas Rangers will compete in the "New" American League West Division, which features three other teams: California, Oakland and Seattle. The following is a breakdown of the new A.L. and N.L. divisions:

American League

East	Central	West
Baltimore	Chicago	California
Boston	Cleveland	Oakland
Detroit	Kansas City	Seattle
New York	Milwaukee	Texas
Toronto	Minnesota

National League

Atlanta	Chicago	Colorado

ARLINGTON STADIUM AND LONG HOME RUNS

Juan Gonzalez hit the longest home run at Arlington Stadium in 1993 as his blast off Minnesota's Willie Banks on June 8 traveled 448 feet.

Since the Rangers began keeping official home run distances figures via the IBM Tale of the Tape in 1987, Larry Parrish owns Texas' longest Arlington Stadium homer, 451 feet off Detroit's Eric King on May 19, 1987. The longest overall homers in this ballpark in the last five years are 461 feet by Kansas City's Bo Jackson off Nolan Ryan on May 23, 1989 and 457 feet by Oakland's Jose Canseco off Jeff Russell on June 9, 1988.

HITTING FOR THE CYCLE

Oddibe McDowell is the only player in Rangers' history to hit for the cycle (single, double, triple, and home run in same game), accomplishing that feat on July 23, 1985 against Cleveland at Arlington Stadium. McDowell doubled in the 1st inning, singled in the 3rd, and tripled in the 4th off starter Neal Heaton, added another single in the 6th off Jeff Barkley, then achieved the milestone with a solo homer off Tom Waddell with 2 out in the 8th. McDowell was the majors' 1st rookie to hit for the cycle since Gary Ward, then with Minnesota, on Sep. 18, 1980 vs. Milwaukee.

Three opponents have hit for the cycle against the Rangers:

TRIOS EACH WITH 30 HOME RUNS

Juan Gonzalez (46), Rafael Palmeiro (37), and Dean Palmer (33) combined for 116 homers in 1993, tied for sixth most of any threesome in major league history. It was the most of any trio in the majors since the 1973 Braves and was an A.L. record for most homers by a trio, each with 30 or more homers, surpassing 113 for the 1963 and 1964 Twins. This was the 24th time in big league history that a club has had at least 3 players with 30 homers.

NON-PITCHERS ON THE MOUND

Jose Canseco became just the 2nd non-pitcher to ever pitch in a regular season game for the Rangers when he worked the 8th inning on May 29, 1993 at Boston in a 15-1 loss. Canseco allowed 2 hits, 3 runs and 3 walks in his 33-pitch inning. On August 31, 1988 against Minnesota at Arlington Stadium, Jeff Kunkel retired the side in order with one strikeout in the 9th inning to finish the Rangers' 10-1 defeat. He also worked against the Twins on May 20, 1989 at Texas, allowing 4 hits and 4 runs in 1.2 innings. Kunkel walked 3 and issued a 3-run homer to Randy Bush. He was the Rangers' finishing pitcher in a 19-3 loss.

Fergie Jenkins had 17 shutouts with the Rangers, Gaylord Perry had 12, Bert Blyleven and Charlie Hough 11 each. Fifty-seven of the Rangers' shutouts have been combined efforts.

1-0 GAMES

The Rangers have participated in 70 games decided by a 1-0 score, winning 41 and losing 29. There have been 29 different winning pitchers in the 1-0 victories over the Rangers.

Over the last 9 seasons, Texas is 16-6 in 1-0 games, winning both in 1993. The Rangers won 1-0 on May 31 at Minnesota and 1-0 on July 27 at Kansas City.

Rangers' pitchers with complete game 1-0 wins are Bert Blyleven (4), Charlie Hough (3), Ferguson Jenkins (3), Gaylord Perry (2) and Doyle Alexander, John Butcher, Jon Matlack, Nolan Ryan, Bill Singer, Jim Umbarger, and Bobby Witt (one each). The other 22 1-0 triumphs were combined shutouts.

20-GAME WINNERS

In 1992, Kevin Brown (21-11) joined Ferguson Jenkins as the only pitchers in the Rangers' 20-year history to win 20 games in a season. Jenkins accomplished the feat with a 25-12 record in 1974 and tied Oakland's Jim Hunter for the major league lead in victories that season. Prior to Brown's performance, the second highest single-season win total in Ranger history was recorded by Jim Bibby, who went 19-19, also in 1974. Kenny Rogers set the club record for victories by a lefthander with 16 in 1993.

PITCHERS AS BATTERS

Six Rangers' pitchers have batted in a regular season game since the designated hitter rule was adopted in 1973. None has enjoyed the success Mike Jeffcoat had on August 2, 1991 at Milwaukee. Inserted into the batting order when dh Geno Petralli went in defensively in the 7th inning, Jeffcoat produced an rbi double off Edwin Nunez in the 9th for the 1st hit by an American League pitcher (not being used as a pinch or designated hitter) since the Rangers' Ferguson Jenkins on October 2, 1974 vs. Minnesota. Jeffcoat had both the 1st rbi and 1st double for an A.L. pitcher since the dh rule went into effect with the last in both cases being by the Twins' Bert Blyleven on October 4, 1972 vs. Chicago.

As mentioned above, Jenkins struck out and singled against Minnesota on October 4, 1974, as Texas did not employ a designated hitter in that game. The other three situations involved pitchers being used as pinch-hitters in the late innings of one-sided games. Bobby Witt struck out on July 19, 1987 against New York, Jeff Russell flied out on September 5, 1988 vs. Oakland, and Kevin Brown grounded out on August 9, 1990 at Cleveland.

Most recently, Jeff Bronkey grounded out in the 12th inning on May 30, 1993 at Boston. Bronkey, pitching in relief, was inserted into the batting order when Texas put designated hitter David Hulse in the field, thus losing the dh.

TRIPLE PLAYS

BY RANGERS

August 8, 1977 vs. Oakland at Texas: With Roger Moret pitching, Mitchell Page and Rich McKinney walked to open the fifth inning. Manny Sanguillen hit a grounder to third baseman Toby Harrah, who stepped on third to force Page, threw to second baseman Bump Wills, who forced McKinney, and threw to first baseman Mike Hargrove to get Sanguillen. The Rangers won, 3-0.

BY OPPOSITION

August 13, 1972 vs. Kansas City at Texas: With Dick Drago pitching, the Rangers had Dick Bosman on second and Elliott Maddox on first in the bottom of the third inning. Toby Harrah hit a chop in front of the plate, and catcher Ed Kirkpatrick threw to third baseman Paul Schaal to force Bosman. Schaal then relayed to second baseman Cookie Rojas, covering first, to get Harrah. When Maddox tried to go from first to third on the play, he was thrown out at third on Rojas' return throw to Schaal. The Rangers won, 13-4.

June 10, 1979 at Baltimore: With Dennis Martinez pitching, the Rangers had Pat Putnam on first and Al Oliver on second in the top of the sixth inning. With runners going on the pitch, Buddy Bell hit a line drive to third baseman Doug DeCinces, who threw to second baseman Rich Dauer to double off Oliver. Dauer then relayed to first baseman Eddie Murray to get Putnam and complete the triple play. Baltimore won, 5-4.

June 23, 1979 at Oakland: With Craig Minetto pitching, the Rangers had Billy Sample on first and Oscar Gamble on second in the top of the fourth inning. John Grubb hit a soft liner to third baseman Wayne Gross, who was ruled to have made the catch by umpire Bill Kunkel. However, Rangers third base coach Frank Lucchesi, thinking the ball had been trapped, waved the runners from first and second. Gross, attempting to double Gamble off second, threw the ball into centerfield, but centerfielder Tony Armas retrieved the ball and threw to shortstop Dave Chalk in time to double Gamble off second. Armas then took the ball from Chalk and ran over to first base to catch Sample off the bag for the third out. Armas had an assist and putout on the triple play. The Rangers won, 8-5.

July 28, 1979 vs. Boston at Texas: With Dennis Eckersley pitching, the Rangers had Buddy Bell on first and John Grubb on third in the bottom of the first inning. Al Oliver hit a sinking liner towards right, and both runners, thinking the ball would drop, started to advance. However, second baseman Jack Brohamer made a diving catch and threw to first baseman Bob Watson to double Bell off first. Watson then relayed to third baseman Butch Hobson, who stepped on third to get Grubb and complete the triple play. Boston won, 1-0.

May 22, 1981 at Seattle: With Jerry Don Gleaton pitching, John Grubb and Pat Putnam walked to lead off the eighth inning. With both runners going on the pitch, Mario Mendoza hit a line drive to shortstop Rick Auerbach, who stepped on second to double off Grubb. Auerbach then threw to first baseman Bruce Bochte to catch Putnam for the third out. The Rangers won, 6-2.

June 1, 1991 vs. Seattle at Texas: With Randy Johnson pitching, Mario Diaz and Gary Pettis walked to lead off the second inning. Brian Downing hit a grounder to third baseman Edgar Martinez, who stepped on third to force Diaz, then threw to second baseman Harold Reynolds to force Pettis. Reynolds made the relay to first baseman Pete O'Brien to get Downing. Seattle won, 12-8.

PASSED BALLS

The Rangers set a single season major league record by committing 73 passed balls in 1987, surpassing the old mark of 49 by the 1959 Baltimore Orioles. Of the 73, 65 came with CHARLIE HOUGH on the mound, 46 in his final 21 starts and 25 in his last 11 outings. GENO PETRALI had 35 total passed balls (32 with Hough on the mound), three more than the previous major league record accomplished by J.C. MARTIN of the Chicago White Sox in 1965. DON SLAUGHT had 20 (17 catching Hough), and MIKE STANLEY committed 18 (16 with Hough) as that trio comprised the A.L.'s top three catchers in passed balls. All three broke the Rangers' record for passed balls for an individual catcher, set by JIM SUNDBERG in 1980 (17). The Rangers had three passed balls in a game four times, four and five twice each, and six once. Petrali's six passed balls on August 30 at Detroit tied the major league record for one game set by HARRY VICKERS of the Cincinnati Reds on October 4, 1902. Geno also had four passed balls in the seventh inning on August 22 versus Chicago, matching the big league mark established by RAY KATT of the New York Giants on September 10, 1954.

The current Texas Rangers franchise originated on October 26, 1960, when the American League awarded an expansion franchise to Washington, D.C. That followed the transfer of the original Washington franchise to Minnesota after the 1960 season. The expansion Senators played in Washington from 1961-1971 before moving to Texas after the 1971 season.

*Started

In 1972 infielder Toby Harrah was named to the squad as a replacement for injured Luis Aparicio, but Harrah was injured and replaced by Bobby Grich.

NOTES: Two Rangers participated in the 1993 All-Star Game on July 13 at Baltimore. Catcher Ivan Rodriguez became the fifth elected starter in club history and tied for the seventh youngest to ever start the midsummer classic. In his second consecutive all-star appearance, he caught the first 5.0 innings, going 1-2 with a double and a run scored. Juan Gonzalez earned his first all-star selection as a reserve and played the final 4.0 innings in right field, going 0-1 with a walk in the American League's 9-3 victory. Gonzalez won the home run hitting contest during the all-star workout the previous day.

Texas' four other elected starters are outfielder Jeff Burroughs in 1974, shortstop Toby Harrah in 1976, outfielder Richie Zisk in 1978, and second baseman Julio Franco in 1989. In addition, Ruben Sierra started the 1989 game in place of the injured Jose Canseco, and Kevin Brown was the A.L.'s starting pitcher in 1992, earning the victory in a 13-6 triumph. The only other win recorded by a Rangers' pitcher in an all-star game was by Nolan Ryan in relief in 1989, when he became the oldest pitcher to ever record an all-star victory. Four Texas managers have served as All-Star coaches: Whitey Herzog in 1973, Billy Martin in 1975, Pat Corrales in 1979 and Bobby Valentine in 1988.

1993 Record: 54-90, 4th, 31.0 GB (Western Division)

STEVE BALBONI picked up where he left off last year with the 89ers by leading the league for the second consecutive season in HR (36 in 1993; 30 in 1992). Balboni's 36 home runs are the third most by a Ranger minor leaguer behind Tom Robson's 41 at Spokane in 1974 and 38 at Pittsfield in 1973. The 89ers have had the league's home run champion the past four years (Balboni in 1992-93, Dean Palmer in 1991 and Juan Gonzalez in 1990). Balboni has hit 86 HR with 275 RBI in three seasons at OKC. He was second in the league with 108 RBI in 1993 - the most RBI by Rangers Triple-A player since Tom Robson had 131 in 1974.

ROB DUCEY led the club with a .303 average, 118 hits, 68 runs, and 10 triples (first in the league) and was second on the club with 56 RBI and 17 HR.

The 89ers pitching staff struggled to a 5.35 ERA. ALLAN ANDERSON was the team's top ERA qualifier with a 5.32 ERA while FRANCISCO OLIVERAS led the club with 77 strikeouts although late season free agent signer RICK REED had a combined (OKC and Omaha) 3.32 ERA (3rd in the league) with 12 victories, 162.2 innings and 79 strikeouts. TERRY BURROWS led the club with seven victories and 138 innings in 25 starts. JEFF BRONKEY led the club with 14 saves.

The Oklahoma City 89ers set a regular season attendance record for the second consecutive year as they attracted 364,589 fans in 1993. Ducey and Balboni were selected to the league's All-Star Team.

GULF COAST LEAGUE CHAMPIONS

1993 Record: 40-20, 1st, 7.5 GA (Western Division)

The Gulf Coast Rangers claimed the Gulf Coast League championship by defeating the Astros two games to none in the league playoffs. It was the fifth league championship for the Rangers overall and first since 1984. The Rangers also won the league in 1973, 1975, 1976 and 1984. The Rangers fell one victory shy of equalling a club record for victories in a season set by the 1973 and 1975 Rangers. The Rookie League Rangers have had a winning record in 19 of 21 years in the league.

The Rangers' 1993 top June draft pick, MIKE BELL, and catcher LARRY EPHAN claimed most of the headlines. Bell led the league in games (60), hits (73), at-bats (230), extra-base hits (22) and total bases (107) and was fifth in average (.317), fourth in RBI (34) and slugging percentage (.465). Ephan batted .350 and was the Rangers' first Gulf Coast batting champion since Billy Sample in 1976. Ephan also led league in RBI (39), doubles (16), walks (41) and on-base percentage (.485). He was second in hits with 63 and a .478 slugging percentage. LELAND MACON led the league with seven triples and was second with 29 stolen bases. As a team the Rangers led the league with 29 triples and 133 stolen bases. They were second in RBI and had the second fewest number of strikeouts.

Reliever JULIO SANTANA led the league with 27 Roloids relief points while pacing the Rangers with seven saves (third in the league), 26 appearances (tops in the league) and 50 strikeouts. IGOR OROPEZA was 6-0 with a 2.73 ERA, the Rangers top ERA qualifier. His six victories were a team high. The Ranger pitchers surrendered the second fewest walks in the league and recorded six shutouts which was second most in the league. They allowed just two runs on 10 hits in the two playoff game sweep of the Astros.

RAY WILLIAMS was the top fielding first baseman in the GCL and the Rangers were third in the league with a .959 fielding percentage. Ephan, Bell, Santana and Manager Chino Cadahia were selected to the league's All-Star Team.

MAJOR LEAGUE BASEBALL CELEBRATES 125TH ANNIVERSARY IN 1994

Major League Baseball and its 28 clubs will celebrate the 125th anniversary of professional baseball in 1994.

The first professional baseball team, the Cincinnati Red Stockings, was formed in 1869. Prior to that, the game was played on an amateur basis only.

As part of this year's festivities, MLB Properties has designed a special 125th Anniversary Logo. The logo is a variation of the Major League Baseball logo created for baseball's centennial celebration in 1969.

Throughout the season, MLB and the clubs will celebrate the Anniversary through various events and ceremonies. Teams will wear a commemorative patch on their uniforms and specially licensed merchandise will be available.

THE BALLPARK IN ARLINGTON - FACTS & FIGURES

On April 1, 1994, a new era for the Texas Rangers will begin with the opening of The Ballpark in Arlington. The beautiful baseball-only facility will serve as the centerpiece of a 270-acre complex which will solidify Arlington, Texas as an entertainment giant of the Southwest.

The Ballpark in Arlington, completed in just 23 months, is a state-of-the-art building with the utmost in customer convenience. Yet, the 49,292-seat open-air ballpark was designed and built with tradition and intimacy in mind, containing features such as a granite and brick facade, exposed structural steel, an asymmetrical playing field, and a home run porch in right field. Texas architecture is featured throughout, from the outer facade to the Lone Stars in the concourses and on the seat aisles.

This unique complex will also include a baseball museum, a children's learning center, and a four-story office building within the ballpark and a youth baseball park, amphitheater, retail and restaurant area, two six-acre lakes, and parks and recreation space on the perimeter. Most of the amenities are expected to be finished this year with the entire project set for completion by 1995. Total cost of the project is projected at nearly 190 million dollars.

LOCATION

The Ballpark in Arlington is located a quarter mile southeast of the old Arlington Stadium at the corner of Randol Mill Road and Ballpark Way (formerly Stadium Drive). Parking lots and the other complex features will surround the park. The Ballpark in Arlington and the entire complex will be easily accessible from Interstate 30, which is adjacent to the north side of the site.

Nolan Ryan Expressway, constructed in honor of baseball's all-time strikeout king, will run north to south on the west side of the ballpark and serves as a major access road through the complex.

SIZE

The Ballpark in Arlington contains approximately 1,400,000 square feet. The Ballpark measures 114 feet from street level to the top of the roof canopy.

BRIEF HISTORY

The agreement between the Rangers and the City of Arlington, Texas to build a new ballpark was announced on October 24, 1990. Actual construction began on April 24, 1992. The ballpark was named on September 28, 1993. The first game will be an exhibition contest between the Rangers and New York Mets on April 1, 1994 with the first regular season game scheduled for April 11, 1994 between the Rangers and Milwaukee Brewers.

PLAYING FIELD

Natural Grass: The playing surface of The Ballpark in Arlington will consist of Bermuda Turf 419 overseeded with Rye grass. The sod was grown on a farm in Combine, Texas, three hours east of Arlington, and was laid in 4 by 50 foot strips on the field in February, 1994. Drainage lines are laid every 15 feet over the entire field. The playing surface is then covered by 4-5 inches of pea gravel and 14-15 inches of sand mixture as the field is expected to have the capacity to drain 9-10 inches of water per hour. The field's irrigation system allows the entire outfield to be watered by one station, producing 750 gallons per minute or 50,000 gallons per hour, as compared to 18,000 gallons per hour in Arlington Stadium. The tarp for the field is mounted on a hydraulic lift and will be stored below ground down the left field line, preventing any sight problems.

Field Dimensions: As indicated above, the outfield dimensions will not be symmetrical, a feature common to ballparks constructed in the early 20th century. From home plate to the left field foul pole will be 334 feet with an increase to 388 feet in the left field power alley. Straightaway center field measures 400 feet, then moves to the deepest point, 407 feet, approaching right center. The Rangers' bullpen comes into play in right field as a 381-foot power alley juts out to 377 feet at the right corner of the bullpen. There is again a dramatic decrease in distance in the right field corner as the foul pole sits just 325 feet from home plate.

The outfield fences are eight feet in center and right fields and 14 feet in left. The playing surface is 22 feet below street level.

According to studies done before construction, the prevailing winds are expected to be south-southeast. The effect of the wind is expected to be greatly reduced by the fact that the ballpark is completely enclosed by a four-story office building in center field. In addition, a giant windscreen, measuring 42 by 430 feet, has been installed on the roof of the office building to further minimize the wind.

Close To The Field: The proximity of the fans to the action will be among the closest in the major leagues. The first row of seats on the first and third base sides (near side of dugouts) will be just 56'8" from home plate (compared to 64 feet at Arlington Stadium) while the first row of seats on each side (far sides of dugouts) will be just 44 feet from first and third bases, respectively. The distance from the screen behind the plate to home plate is 60 feet, and the first row of seats in the left and right field corners is 9'5" from the foul poles.

Dugouts/Bullpens: Both the first (home) and third (visitors) base dugouts are 68 feet in length. Dugouts at Arlington Stadium were 51 feet on the 1st base side and 52 feet on the 3rd base side. The Rangers' bullpen is parallel to the playing field in right center in front of the home run porch. The visitors' bullpen is located between the left field reserve and bleacher sections in left center field. Both bullpens have been raised 5 feet above the playing field level for easy identification of pitchers warming up.

Foul Poles: The yellow foul poles down each line were taken from Arlington Stadium.

SEATING

The overall seating capacity of The Ballpark in Arlington is approximately 49,292 seats on five levels. All of the seats in the ballpark are angled towards home plate as the seating bowl cranks in towards the field down both the left and right field lines to provide better sightlines.

The actual seats are green plastic chairs measuring from 18-22 inches in width. Most of the seats in the ballpark will contain cupholders. There is a special feature on aisle seats in the park, a Texas Lone Star that is similar to the ones that adorn both the outer facade and concourses.

There are five levels of seating in the ballpark: lower deck, lower suites, club level, upper suites, and upper deck. There is also an upper and lower deck in the home run porch in right field, and bleacher seating in center field.

There will be numerous food and beverage establishments on this level open only to club level patrons and suite holders.

Suites: There are 120 suites, 48 on the lower level and 72 on the upper level, with sizes ranging from 8 to 22 seats. Each suite bay (containing two suites) is named for one of baseball's all-time star players. All 67 of the legends are enshrined in Baseball's Hall of Fame, except Nolan Ryan. Sepiatone murals of the legends will be located outside each suite.

There is one large function suite location on both the lower and upper levels. These areas can be subdivided for smaller groups as well.

Home Run Porch: This two-tiered seating area in right field is very reminiscent of traditional older ballparks with its steel columns and overhead roof. Overhead fans have been installed for both the lower and upper home run porch to provide more comfort. Another unique feature is a small section of seats located in the right field corner, where the fans will actually view the playing field through an opening in the outfield fence.

Bleachers: The bleacher seating will be located on either side of the batters' eye in center field. The bleacher seats are comprised of some of the actual bench seating from the general admission areas in Arlington Stadium.

Wheelchair Seating: There are in excess of 475 spaces for wheelchairs in The Ballpark In Arlington, and they are located throughout the ballpark in all seating areas. In addition, spaces have been included to allow fans in wheelchairs to sit with friends or family members. There is also access to specially designed restrooms, ticket windows, and concession stands.

CONSTRUCTION

The interior of the ballpark consists of four levels:

Service Level: A below ground service level extends from the right field corner to the end of the left field seats. It houses the clubhouses, maintenance, and concession storage areas while providing vehicle access to the field in the left field corner. In addition to the Rangers' and visitors' clubhouses, there are weight rooms and batting tunnels for both teams. An auxiliary clubhouse area has also been constructed for special events.

Main Concourse: The massive main concourse, serving the lower deck, is comprised of two areas. The outer concourse, measuring 70 feet high, runs in a square around the park and contains the entrance gates and ramps to the upper levels. Iron gates have been used to close the lower arches. An inner concourse, measuring 35 feet high, runs in the shape of the seating bowl and contains the concessions and entries to the lower deck seating. The white walls and green structural steel trusses with Texas Lone Stars provide a spectacular background.

Club Concourse: As mentioned above, the club concourse stretches around the lower seating bowl and provides direct access to the lower and upper suite levels.

Upper Concourse: The open-air upper concourse runs from the right field line to the left field side of the office building and provides access to the upper deck. Concession stands are under cover in areas under the upper deck seating. Huge baseball-shaped light fixtures ring the perimeter of the upper concourse. The average slope of the upper deck is approximately 32 degrees. Red handrails are also installed throughout the upper deck.

Structure: A lower and upper set of concrete arches comprise the outer walls of The Ballpark In Arlington. The exterior facade of the ballpark consists of "Sunset Red" granite from quarries in Marble Falls, Texas, along the lower arches and approximately 840,000 "Ranger Red" bricks on the upper arches. To highlight the Texas architecture, there are 35 steer heads and 21 Lone Stars, made of cast-stone, erected above the upper arches around the entire ballpark. Another feature is a series of murals depicting Texas scenes, and those are located between the lower and upper arches on the outer facade.

The structural type above grade in The Ballpark in Arlington is exposed structural steel, painted "Ranger Green". The lower deck seating is cast-in-place concrete, and the club and upper deck seating are structural pre-cast concrete risers. A steel roof canopy runs the entire length of the upper deck.

Access: The entrances to The Ballpark in Arlington are located in the four corners of the structure, First Base, Home Plate, Third Base, and Center Field. Four ramps and eight escalators serve all levels.

SCOREBOARDS

The scoreboard system in The Ballpark in Arlington will provide fans with an incredible amount of information to add to their enjoyment of the game. The system includes the following:

—Main scoreboard on roof of home run porch in right field. The board includes a full color Sony JumboTRON video board, measuring 24 by 32 feet which will provide high quality video highlights and animation. The right field scoreboard area also contains a 16'8" by 72' game-in-progress board, and four advertising panels measuring 24' by 16'8". That board is framed in a steel structure with a lone star at the top.

—Black and white matrix message board, measuring 27 by 29 feet will be located on roof of office building in straightaway center field. This board will provide statistical and other general information. Two 27' by 13'1" ad panels flank that board and a scoreboard clock in the shape of the state of Texas sits atop the message board.

- Manual scoreboard, where scores of all other major league games in progress will be posted inside the board by an attendant, who will receive his information via a SportsTicker machine in the board. The manual scoreboard will be located on the left field wall, measuring 10 by 90 feet, will be similar to the one that highlights the left field "Green Monster" at Boston's Fenway Park.
- SportsTicker board, measuring 4'9" by 66', will be located on upper wall under Diamond Club in left field. Up to the minute scoring updates from other major league games will be posted on this board.
- Two auxiliary scoreboards, measuring 5'10" by 60' are mounted on the ballpark's facing below the lower suite level on the first and third base sides.

The game-in-progress board, center field message board, Sportsticker board, and auxiliary scoreboards were designed and manufactured by Daktronics, Inc. of Brookings, South Dakota. The equipment is operated by a network of control computers designed to produce the most comprehensive statistics package and animation.

CONCESSIONAIRE/FOOD AND BEVERAGE SERVICE

Sportservice Corporation will handle the general food and beverage concessions for the ballpark as well as food and beverage service for the Diamond Club, private suites, and the press dining facility. Sportservice, which has its headquarters in Buffalo, New York, was awarded a ten-year contract on September 7, 1993.

There are a total of 75 fixed concession stands on the three concourses, compared to 40 total at Arlington Stadium. Beverages will be dispensed to the concession stands by a central beverage distribution system which travels from the service level to the stands over some 30 miles of tubing.

The Diamond Club is a club for private dining located in left field. The club will seat approximately 500 on four tiers and has a spectacular view of the field from full length windows above the left field reserved seats. The Diamond Club will be open to members before and during the game. The club also contains space for meetings and other functions.

In addition, a sports grill operated by T.G.I. Friday's will be built behind the upper home run porch in right field. Friday's Front Row Grill will be open year round and also affords a full view of the playing field.

AMENITIES

—17,000 square foot baseball museum and 7,000 square foot children's learning center behind right field home run porch. Learning center will include a 300-seat auditorium. The museum will be known as Legends of the Game Baseball Museum and will house exhibits from all aspects of baseball, past and present on two floors. It will be open year round.

—Picnic area behind center field bleachers to be named Vandergriff Plaza in honor of current Tarrant County Judge and former Arlington Mayor Tom Vandergriff. Statue of Vandergriff to be erected here.

—Youth baseball park south of The Ballpark in Arlington. That park will seat approximately 750 and will be constructed with similar architectural style to the major league ballpark.

—Two six acre lakes with bordering retail and restaurant locations (retail/restaurant locations to be completed in 1995).

—Adjoining park and recreational space. Linear park to be named after Arlington Mayor Richard Greene. Picnic area in the complex to be named after former Tarrant County Commissioner Punch Wright.

—Amphitheater which will contain as many as 20-25,000 seats to be located northwest of the ballpark (to be completed in 1995).

OTHER FEATURES

Office Building: One of the signature features of The Ballpark in Arlington will be the four-story office building that encloses the structure from left center to right center fields. The office building will have 35,000 square feet on each level. The first floor will include retail shops and ticket windows, the second and third floors is being leased for commercial office space, and the Rangers' executive offices will occupy the fourth floor. The side of the building facing the playing field consists of floor to ceiling glass on each floor with balconies stretching the entire length of the structure on the top three levels. Steel trusses also adorn the building. The roof of the office building contains a total of eight ad panels on either side of the center field scoreboard.

Parking: Nine different parking lots surround The Ballpark in Arlington. Each lot is color-coded and is also named for a different Texas historical figure involved in the era of the Republic of Texas in the 1830's and 1840's.

Walk Of Fame: A brick walk, ranging from 18 to 70 feet in width will ring the entire perimeter of The Ballpark in Arlington. The Rangers' Walk of Fame will be divided into panels featuring each year the club has been in Texas (starting 1972) with the entire roster from each season included on bricks framing each panel. Each panel will consist of 2,600 bricks. Fans are also able to purchase bricks for inscription in the year of their choice.

Sound System: There are over 1,200 speakers for the public address system at The Ballpark in Arlington. Those are distributed evenly throughout the park as no fan will be more than 75 feet from a speaker. In Arlington Stadium, the speakers were all located in center field.

COST

The revised cost of the overall project is 189.4 million dollars. The financing is derived from 135 million dollars in bonds issued by the Arlington Sports Facilities Development Authority with the remaining equity raised through the sale or lease of luxury boxes and seat options in the new ballpark, loans guaranteed by the Rangers, the concessions contract with Sportservice and city street funds.

Annual debt service for the municipal bonds is provided by public-private sharing. That is comprised of a 3.5 million dollar rental payment from the Rangers and a one-half cent City of Arlington sales tax. The sales tax was approved in an Arlington municipal election by a 65% majority on January 19, 1991, and expires once the debt is retired.

The Rangers have a lease with the City of Arlington, and the club will maintain and operate the entire facility.

ARCHITECTURAL DESIGN TEAM

Design Architect: David M. Schwarz Architectural Services of Washington, D.C. was the design architect on the project. Schwarz was selected from among 17 architects who originally made presentations in August, 1991. He has been involved in a number of projects in Texas including the Cook-Fort Worth Children's Medical Center and Sundance West, also in Fort Worth. His imaginative design of the park reflects a traditional look of older ballparks and includes a major Texas influence.

RANGERS FEATURE NEW LOGOS AND UNIFORMS IN 1994

In preparation for the move into their beautiful new home at The Ballpark in Arlington, the Rangers will also have a new look with their logos and uniforms in 1994.

The club has a new primary logo, which was introduced last October. The highlight of the four-color logo is a light and dark gray Texas Lone Star. The Lone Star is also featured prominently in much of the architecture and design of the new ballpark, including the arm rests on all seat aisles.

The Lone Star is enclosed in a red circle to give the effect of a Texas Rangers Marshall's badge. "TEXAS RANGERS BASEBALL CLUB" and two baseballs reversed in white are enclosed in the circle. The badge image is set on a blue and gray diamond-shaped background.

The logo was designed by Douglas/Gallagher of Washington, D.C., which is also serving as the primary graphics designer for the new ballpark. This is the first time that the Rangers have made a change in their primary logo since 1984. It is the fourth primary logo in the club's 23 years in Texas.

To commemorate the opening of The Ballpark In Arlington, a special ballpark logo was designed for 1994. Also created by Douglas/Gallagher, the logo incorporates the outer facade work of the ballpark. This logo will be used throughout the first season of the new ballpark.

Both the Rangers' home and road uniform have undergone significant changes with red replacing blue as the dominant color for both. The club has also introduced a new batting practice top and new warmup jackets for 1994. In addition, Texas will wear a red cap for the first time ever.

This marks the first time that the Rangers have made a uniform change since 1986. It will be the fifth different home uniform and seventh different road outfit that the club has worn since 1972.

Highlights and features of the new uniforms:

Home Uniform: Jersey is white with red piping down front and on sleeves. "RANGERS" in block red lettering with blue outline is on front of jersey. Player's name and number in red block lettering with blue trim is on back of jersey. Jersey has button down front. Pants are white with red piping down each leg.

Road Uniform: Jersey is gray with red piping on sleeves. "TEXAS" in red block lettering with white outline is on front of jersey. Player's name and number in red block lettering with white trim is on back of jersey. Jersey has button down front. Pants are gray with red piping down each leg.

Cap: Solid red with white "T" outlined in blue on front. Blue button on top.

Stirrups and Belt: Solid red for both home and road uniform.

Shoes: Red.

Batting Practice Top: Solid blue with "RANGERS" in red block lettering with white trim on the front. Red number outlined in white on back.

Jacket: Solid blue vest with red sleeves. "RANGERS" in red block lettering with white trim on the front. Primary logo on the back.

The Rangers will wear the new uniforms for the first time on Friday, April 1 when they play the New York Mets in the first game ever at The Ballpark In Arlington.

1995 ALL-STAR GAME COMES TO ARLINGTON

The Ballpark in Arlington will be the site for Major League Baseball's 1995 All-Star Game. The American League awarded the mid-summer classic to the Rangers on June 19, 1992, the first time the game has ever been played in Arlington. It will be the second All-Star Game for the Washington-Texas franchise (beginning 1961) with the 1969 contest being played at R.F.K. Stadium in Washington, D.C.

A week-long schedule of All-Star activities will take place in both Arlington and the entire Dallas-Fort Worth Metroplex. At this time, the game is tentatively scheduled for Tuesday, July 11. The 1994 All-Star Game will be played at Three Rivers Stadium in Pittsburgh. The game in Arlington will be followed by the 1996 classic at Philadelphia's Veterans Stadium.

HISTORY OF ARLINGTON STADIUM (1965-93)

Professional baseball has had a long and glorious history in the Dallas-Fort Worth area, but it was the construction of a stadium in Arlington, Texas that led to the region joining the major leagues.

Both Dallas and Fort Worth entered organized baseball in 1886 and were Texas League rivals for most of the next 72 years. The Dallas entry moved to a park in Oak Cliff in 1919, and remained at that site through several reconstruction efforts, becoming Burnett Field in 1948. Fort Worth's ballpark was built on the east side of Main St. in 1926, called LaGrave Field. It was rebuilt after a fire in 1949.

Burnett and LaGrave Fields were the sites of countless memorable games over the years, but major league baseball was the ultimate goal, and area leaders knew the two cities would have to join together to make this a reality. In 1959, both Dallas and Fort Worth left the Texas League and combined to put a franchise in the class AAA American Association. That year, plans for a park to serve both cities in Arlington were first advanced, when the co-owners of the area's American Association franchise, J.W. Bateson and Amon Carter, Jr. envisioned a team in the projected Continental League.

With that in mind, in the fall of 1959, the Texas Legislature authorized the formation of a Bi-County Sports Committee empowered to issue $9.5 million in revenue bonds for the construction of a major league stadium pending voter approval, which took place.

American League expansion a year later ended plans for the third major league, and delays for the new stadium occurred. The options on the stadium site in Arlington were permitted to expire. But the efforts of Arlington Mayor Tom Vandergriff, who had a key role in bringing the Washington Senators to Texas in the fall of 1971, brought the stadium project back to life. In April, 1964, Vandergriff, chairman of the Sports Committee, sponsored a Tarrant County bond election which authorized construction of the stadium and provided for purchase of the land by the county. The 137-acre tract was located just north of the former Arlington Downs race track and just south of the Dallas-Fort Worth Turnpike in what was known as the Great Southwest Industrial Development Complex.

Construction began in November, 1964, and despite weather delays, Turnpike Stadium was dedicated on April 23, 1965, when the Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs played their Texas League home opener. The 10,600-seat ballpark cost $1.5 million and was built as the nucleus of a major league stadium, designed for expanded seating capacity to as many 50,000-55,000 with bleachers and a second deck. Parking was provided for 2,500 cars with potential expansion to 10,000. The stadium was built in a natural bowl, with a playing surface 40 feet below the surrounding ground, which was projected at the time to save millions of dollars in excavation costs.

As the efforts to bring major league baseball to Arlington intensified, Vandergriff knew an expansion of Turnpike Stadium was vital to show the area's interest to prospective big league franchises. This became possible in early 1970, when the City of Arlington, with approval of its residents via an election, purchased the stadium from Tarrant County and began an expansion. Turnpike Stadium was enlarged to seat 21,000 for the 1971 Texas League season with an expansion of seats down the left and right field lines.

A dream was realized on September 22, 1971, when American League owners voted to transfer the Washington Senators franchise to Arlington, Texas for the 1972 season. That required further expansion to meet American League stadium capacity requirements. Bleacher and outfield seats were built from foul line to foul line, increasing capacity to 35,694. Other facilities were also upgraded, including additional field lighting, the building of new press facilities, and the construction of a 200 by 60 foot scoreboard behind the left field stands. That board was highlighted by a 60 by 60 foot area in the shape of the state of Texas. Field dimensions set for 1972 were: 330 feet down the left and right field lines, and 400 feet to straightaway center.

The ballpark was renamed Arlington Stadium, and after a players' strike cancelled the original April 6 opener, the Texas Rangers defeated the California Angels, 7-6, in the first major league regular season game ever in Arlington on April 21, 1972 before a crowd of 20,105. Arlington Stadium recorded its first capacity crowd on June 27, 1973, when Houston high school sensation and the nation's top draft pick, lefthander David Clyde made his professional debut for the Rangers, pitching live strong innings against Minnesota.

Arlington Stadium underwent numerous changes over the years. The Rangers' home clubhouse was located behind the centerfield seats through the 1972 season, when a new building was constructed behind first base. The seating was expanded to 41,284 after the 1977 season with the construction of the upper deck, known as the plaza.

A $12 million improvement took place prior to the opening of the 1984 campaign. A wall extending 30 feet above the top of the outfield bleachers was constructed from foul line to foul line, a distance of 1,100 feet, and featured state-of-the-art video and scoreboards. This wall drastically reduced the effects of the swirling cross-winds blowing into the park as home run production increased from 78 in 1983 to 125 in 1984.

In addition, 54 additional luxury suites were built on two levels, an auxiliary press box, dark rooms, a gift shop, and concession stands were added, and seating was expanded in the lower box seat areas to increase stadium capacity to 43,508. Some seat alterations in 1990 lifted Arlington Stadium to 43,521.

The Rangers assumed full authority over the stadium from the City of Arlington in August, 1983 and purchased the ballpark from the City in November, 1987.

The natural grass, open air stadium remained primarily a baseball-only facility over the years. The only regular non-baseball tenant was the University of Texas-Arlington, which played its football games at Arlington Stadium in 1972 and 1973.

When it finally closed its doors at the end of the 1993 season, Arlington Stadium had been the site of 1,750 A.L. games with nearly 32 million people in attendance for those contests. The demolition of Arlington Stadium will take place this summer and when completed, the site will be used to construct recreation parks as well as parking areas for The Ballpark in Arlington.
