IRVING H. LEVIN
President

Irv Levin played a major role in one of the most spectacular and unique endeavors in the history of professional athletics when he exchanged franchises with John Y. Brown in June of 1978.

Levin traded the Boston Celtics franchise to Brown in exchange for the Buffalo franchise, then moved the Buffalo club to San Diego. That unprecedented maneuver brought the San Diego Clippers into existence.

A man of proven creativity, Levin is a major figure in athletics and the motion picture industry. He most recently acquired the rights to and is developing a motion picture based on Sidney Sheldon's best-selling novel, "A Stranger in the Mirror."

Levin also produced "Operation Thunderbolt," a true and authentic version of the July 1976 Entebbe rescue.

His successful business career includes various executive capacities in the production, distribution and exhibition phases of the motion picture industry, and his contributions have earned many honors and awards, including the prestigious Motion Picture Pioneer of the Year Award in 1970.

Levin entered the motion picture industry following World War II, when he served as a Captain with the 8th Air Force. He flew 31 missions in the ETO and was awarded the Distinguished Flying Cross and Air Medal with four oak leaf clusters.

As majority owner of the Boston Celtics, Levin shared in the fun and glory of a National Basketball Association championship in 1976.

He was unanimously re-elected Chairman of the Board of Governors of the National Basketball Association last June for the second time and also serves as Chairman of the important Television and Cable Committee.

HAROLD A. LIPTON
Executive Vice President

Harold A. Lipton, part owner of the San Diego Clippers, has been associated with Irv Levin in National Basketball Association ownership since 1967.

At that time, Lipton, Levin and Sam Schulman founded the Seattle franchise in the NBA. Lipton and Levin then acquired the Boston Celtics, which they operated until the dramatic franchise exchange with Buffalo Braves owner John Y. Brown.

Lipton is of counsel with one of the largest Beverly Hills law firms, Kaplan, Livingston, Goodwin, Berkowitz, and Selvin. He is a graduate of Harvard Law School and is still an active alumnus of that school.

His legal practice has ranged from New York to the position of general counsel and first vice president of the National General Corporation, a post he resigned in 1972.

Lipton is married to a professional artist whose one-person shows have been seen in New York, California, Rome, Geneva, and Upsala, Sweden. The couple has three children, Robert, Peggy and Kenneth. Robert is a well known actor and Peggy starred in the popular television series "Mod Squad."

Although his major interest in athletics is basketball, he is also extremely interested in all sports and the ability of United States athletes to compete on an equal basis with athletes from other countries in the Olympics. He recently served with the Finance Consulting Group to the President's Commission on Olympic Sports.

IRV KAZE
Vice President
Operations

When it came time to build the Clippers management team, Irv Kaze was a logical choice to be involved in a key position.

It was not surprising when Kaze was named to the position of vice president in charge of operations. In that role, Kaze is responsible for the day to day operation of the club.

A veteran of sports administration, he served as director of public relations for the Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League and the Los Angeles Angels of the American League before joining the San Diego Chargers.

Kaze served as business manager and assistant to the president of the National Football League franchise.

From the Chargers, he joined the National League baseball office as administrator for communications.

A long time resident of San Diego, Kaze retained his home in the community during his recent post with Robert Landau Associates, a division of Kenyon & Eckhardt Advertising Agency, in New York City.

While associated with Robert Landau, Kaze coordinated on a national basis the Pitch, Hit & Run competition, Major League Baseball's official youth program.

Kaze is recognized throughout the nation for his promotional and administrative ability in athletics. He resides with his wife Dee, and their two sons, Kevin and Benjie.

GENE SHUE
Head Coach

Gene Shue, the winningest active coach in the National Basketball Association, begins his 13th season as a head coach after previous head coaching experience at Baltimore and Philadelphia.

His career record is 448 wins and 434 losses, a winning percentage of .508. At both Baltimore and Philadelphia, Shue took teams at a low ebb and turned them into winners. He became head coach of the Bullets in December of 1966 when the club owned a 4-21 record. Just two seasons later, in 1968-69, the Bullets were division champions with a 50-32 mark.

For that accomplishment, Shue was named the NBA's Coach of the Year.

Under Shue's leadership, Baltimore captured division titles in 1968-69, 1970-71, 1971-72 and 1972-73. His 1970-71 squad advanced to the NBA Championship Series before bowing to Milwaukee.

Shue moved to Philadelphia for the 1973-74 season and served as head coach through the opening six games of last season.

The 76ers advanced to the finals of the NBA playoffs in 1976-77, losing in the Championship Series to the Portland Trail Blazers.

Shue performed ten seasons as a player in the NBA. During that time, he scored 10,068 points, an average of 14.4 per game, five times was selected to play in the NBA All-Star Game, was a first-team All-League selection in 1959-60, and a second-team All-League choice in 1960-61.

BOB WEISS
Assistant Coach

Bob Weiss, a 12-year veteran of the National Basketball Association as a player, makes his coaching debut this season as assistant coach of the San Diego Clippers.

Weiss performed for Philadelphia, Seattle, Milwaukee, Chicago, Buffalo and Washington during his NBA career and compiled a 7.6 scoring average while appearing in 783 regular season games.

He participated on nine playoff teams during his NBA career and carried a per game scoring average of 7.7 points per game for 53 playoff contests.

Weiss enjoyed his best seasons with Chicago, averaging 11.5 points per game in 1969-70 and posting an 11.3 scoring mark in 1971-72. He was a member of five consecutive playoff teams with the Bulls.

He performed with Chicago from 1969-70 through 1973-74. Weiss concluded his playing career with the Washington Bullets in 1976-77 and was out of basketball last season. The Clippers assistant coach was associated with an investment firm with offices in Anaheim.

Weiss, a 1965 graduate of Penn State, was always considered an extremely intelligent player and was known for his court sense and knowledge of the game.

LARRY ROBERTS
Trainer

Larry Roberts joins the Clippers after an extensive background in the college ranks in San Diego.

Most recently, Roberts served as the head trainer at the University of San Diego for three years. Prior to that assignment, he was an assistant trainer three years and a student trainer two years while an undergraduate at San Diego State.

Roberts is a 1973 graduate of San Diego State with a Bachelor of Science degree in Health Sciences and is currently working on his thesis for a Masters degree in physical education.

In addition to his background in the college ranks, Roberts was the trainer for the San Diego Friars of World Team Tennis in 1978 and served as trainer for the San Diego Jaws of the North American Soccer League in 1976.

Roberts, in addition to his training duties, will also be responsible for travel arrangements for the Clippers.

HAL CHILDS
Director of Public Relations

Hal Childs joins the Clippers with 20 years experience in the field of sports public relations and administration to his credit.

Childs was involved in the startup of the Seattle SuperSonics of the National Basketball Association and served as director of public relations four seasons with that club. He also was the assistant general manager and director of public relations for the Golden State Warriors two seasons, including the NBA championship campaign of 1974-75.

Most recently, Childs was director of public relations for the Seattle Mariners of the American League and was involved in the start of that franchise.

He also spent ten years in the college ranks, including six years at the University of Oregon and four years at Portland State College.

PETER STOVIN
Controller

Stovin, a Certified Public Accountant has worked for three San Diego firms in his 17 years residence in the area, including serving as an auditor for the CPA firm of Peat, Marwick, Mitchell & Co.

Stovin is a graduate of San Diego State University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting and in addition to his duties with the Clippers, is an instructor of accounting for the San Diego Community Colleges.

ERNEST STURM
Director, Group Sales
Community Relations

Sturm has been associated with Clippers president Irv Levin for over thirty years and joined the NBA franchise after serving as vice president of National General Corporation. With that organization, he was in charge of operations, including all merchandise items, for the United States and Canada.

He is a graduate of South Dakota State with a Bachelor of Arts degree in Engineering.

DENNY FABIAN
Ticket Manager

Fabian worked with the Cleveland Cavaliers from 1970 through 1972 with responsibilities in ticket sales, season ticket sales, and promotions.

He moved to San Diego in 1973 and served as merchandising director for the San Diego Sports Arena, later worked in a sales capacity with Valley Vintner, and spent the past four years with Pacific Telephone prior to joining the Clippers.

Fabian is a graduate of Bowling Green University and served in the Army in Viet Nam. His athletic background includes playing basketball and baseball at Sylvania, Ohio high school and freshman baseball at Bowling Green.

Radio/Television Broadcast Dates
