Since Micky Arison became Managing General Partner of the HEAT and hired Pat Riley as Team President in 1995, the HEAT has become one of the most stable, professional and successful franchises in all of professional sports, both on and off the court. During the 20-year Arison-Riley partnership the HEAT has won three NBA Championships, five Eastern Conference Championships, 11 Division Championships, has made 16 postseason appearances and has the best record in the Eastern Conference. The HEAT are one of just five franchises out of 122 in the four major North American professional sports leagues that have made at least 16 postseason appearances and won at least three league championships during the 20-year period.

MICKY ARISON

MANAGING GENERAL PARTNER

In 20 years as managing general partner of the Miami HEAT, Micky Arison has guided the franchise to unprecedented heights, including bringing South Florida three NBA championships.

As the leader of the most successful cruise operation in the world, the 66-year-old Arison and his family have always been involved with the team. Although his father, Ted, brought the NBA franchise to South Florida in 1988, it has only been since Micky took control in 1995 that the HEAT has evolved into one of the NBA's top organizations.

Arison, who was elected Chairman of the NBA Board of Governors in October 2005 and served a three-year term, brought to the HEAT the same standard of excellence that propelled Carnival Corporation & plc into a global vacation leader. One of Arison's first moves was to dramatically re-shape the franchise by hiring Pat Riley, one of the NBA's all-time winningest coaches, as Miami's President and that began a run of sustained excellence.

Together, Arison and Riley have built an organization that is considered one of the NBA's elite franchises. In addition to winning NBA championships in 2006, 2012 and 2013, with Arison and Riley at the helm, Miami has made the playoffs in 16 of the last 20 seasons, winning 11 division titles, five Eastern Conference championships and advancing to the Eastern Conference Finals seven times. The 11 division titles the HEAT has captured over the last 20 years are the most in the Eastern Conference during that span and second most in the NBA.

Arison and Riley have been able to maintain a level of excellence in Miami by pulling off some of the largest acquisitions in the league. They initially built the foundation of success by acquiring franchise cornerstones Alonzo Mourning and Tim Hardaway. Next came Dwyane Wade and Shaquille O'Neal and a blockbuster 13-player trade, the largest in NBA history, in which they acquired James Posey, Jason Williams and All-Star Antoine Walker, all key cogs in Miami's first title run. The groundwork for Miami's 2012 and 2013 championships was built in the summer of 2010 when Arison and Riley played key roles in re-signing Wade to a multi-year contract and acquiring NBA All-Stars LeBron James and Chris Bosh via sign-and-trades.

Previously, Arison showed his commitment to the fans of South Florida when he worked successfully with Miami-Dade public officials to keep the HEAT in downtown Miami. The result of his diligence was an innovative public-private partnership that together built the county-owned state-of-the-art AmericanAirlines Arena that fans enjoy and the three-time NBA Champion HEAT calls home.

Arison has enjoyed an all-star business career as well, growing up in the cruise business and spending the better part of two decades learning it from the ground up before being named chairman and CEO of Carnival Corporation & plc in 1990. In 2013, the role of Carnival Corporation & plc chairman and CEO was split with Arison continuing to serve as chairman and longtime Carnival board member Arnold Donald named CEO.

Arison followed his education with a two-year stint in the Carnival Cruise Lines sales department. He became reservations manager in 1974, and took over the post of vice president of passenger traffic in 1976, succeeding to the presidency in 1979. In 1990, he was appointed chairman of the company's board of directors.

In 1987, the company went public, generating $400 million for future expansion. As Carnival continued its growth through the traditional avenue of new ship construction, Arison also sought to expand the company's cruise operations by entering new market segments of the industry.

In 1989, Arison engineered the acquisition of the venerable Holland America Line, giving Carnival entry to the premium segment of the cruise industry. Arison also led the company's effort in the acquisition of ultra-luxury leader Seabourn, as well as Cunard, operator of the world's most famous ocean liners, and Costa Cruises, Europe's number one cruise company.

Arison also spearheaded Carnival Corporation's acquisition of P&O Princess Cruises, one of the most recognizable names in travel, in a deal valued at approximately $8.2 billion. The combined Carnival/Princess group, named Carnival Corporation & plc, is the largest cruise vacation group, with a diverse portfolio of brands catering to vacationers from all over the world. The Carnival/Princess entity is truly a global vacation leader with its stock trading on both the New York and London exchanges.

Under his direction, Carnival Corporation & plc has grown into the largest, most successful cruise operator in the world. Arison's keen attention to marketing and growth priorities has also increased revenues from approximately $600 million in 1988 to $15.9 billion in 2014.

Today, as chairman of Carnival Corporation & plc, he oversees diversified travel and tourism holdings, including cruise ships serving virtually every market segment -- from contemporary to ultra-luxury -- as well as leading tour operators and hotel chains in Alaska and the Yukon Territory.

The Arison family and Carnival Corporation & plc are devoted to South Florida and over the years have supported a variety of arts-related and community service organizations.

Organizations supported by the Arison family and Carnival include the New World Symphony, The National YoungArts Foundation, Miami Children's Museum, Jackson Memorial Foundation, Miami Project to Cure Paralysis, Project Medishare for Haiti, American Red Cross, Big Brothers/Big Sisters, United Way, Chapman Partnership and many others.

Arison's contributions to the cruise industry have been recognized by a wide range of international organizations. He has been named an "Officer of the French Legion of Honor" – the country's highest civilian honor – by French President Jacques Chirac, received a honorary doctorate in naval architecture from the University of Genoa, and has been awarded the Decoration of Commander, First Class, of the Order of the Lion of Finland by the President of the Republic of Finland. He has also been awarded the insignia of "Onorificenza al Merito della Repubblica Italiana" by the President of Italy, which confers that country's highest title on a civilian.

NICK ARISON

CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Nick Arison enters his 13th year as a full-time member of the HEAT organization and his fifth as Chief Executive Officer. He has been associated with successful teams on every level of basketball, and has been a part of championships with the Miami HEAT, Duke University and USA Basketball. Arison oversees the day-to-day operations of the franchise and is a limited partner in the team. He also has served as the alternate governor since the 2005-06 season and is a member of the NBA's Competition Committee.

The promotion to his current position on July 22, 2011, was a natural progression for Nick, who has grown up with the HEAT. His grandfather, Ted Arison, was one of the team's original founders and his father, Micky Arison, bought the controlling share of the franchise and was named Managing General Partner on February 13, 1995.

Arison has served the HEAT in a variety of positions over the years and has learned the business from the ground up. He initially started working for the HEAT organization as a team attendant for four seasons from 1995-99. He then served summer internships in the Arena Operations, Community Affairs and Sales and Marketing departments before becoming a full-time staff member on the business side of the organization in 2003 as an Account Manager, Premium Partnerships. In 2006, he was promoted to Director of Corporate and Premium Services where he oversaw the Account Management Team. Prior to the 2008-09 season, he was named Vice President, Basketball Operations where he worked directly with Pat Riley and Andy Elisburg on overseeing the basketball side of the organization and played an active role in the recruiting and procurement of talent. During the summer of 2010 he was instrumental in the re-signing of Dwyane Wade and Udonis Haslem, as well as the acquisitions of LeBron James, Chris Bosh and Mike Miller. In recent years he has also played a significant role in the acquisitions of Shane Battier, Ray Allen, Luol Deng and Goran Dragic. A rising star in the business, Arison was selected as one of SportsBusiness Journal's "Forty Under 40" in 2013, an award that honors the most promising young executives in sports business under the age of 40.

In addition to his responsibilities with the HEAT, Arison served as a member of the United States Men's Senior National Team support staff from 2004-08. He assisted with the day-to-day operations for USA Basketball's 2008 Olympic team that captured the gold medal in Beijing, China as well as the 2007 gold medal winning FIBA Americas Championship team, the bronze medal winning 2006 World Championship team and the bronze medal winning team at the 2004 Olympics.

Arison began his basketball administrative career while attending Duke University. He spent four seasons as team manager of the Blue Devils men's basketball team and was named the head team manager during his senior year. Over that four-year span, Arison became the only team manager in Atlantic Coast Conference (ACC) history to be a part of four straight ACC Championships and was a manager for Duke's 2001 NCAA National Championship team.

A native of Miami, Arison graduated from Duke with a degree in public policy and a certificate in marketing and management.

PAT RILEY
PRESIDENT

Beginning his 21st season in Miami, HEAT President and Hall of Fame inductee Pat Riley has a resume that is unquestionably one of the most impressive in all of sports. Few in any profession have achieved the levels of success that Riley has accomplished while serving various roles in nearly half a century of dedication to the game he loves. The list of accomplishments for the nine-time NBA champion is equally long and impressive.

When Riley first arrived in Miami in September of 1995 he spoke about his vision of a championship parade down beautiful Biscayne Boulevard. That vision has been fulfilled three times, as under his guidance the HEAT have become just one of 10 NBA franchises to win multiple championships, claiming the league's top prize in 2006, 2012 and again in 2013. For Riley, winning a championship was nothing new. He arrived in Miami with a championship pedigree having previously won NBA titles as a player, assistant coach and head coach. It's that record of success that led to him earning the highest praise that can be bestowed upon an individual in the NBA. On September 5, 2008, in his first year of consideration, Riley was enshrined with the class of 2008 into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame.

Riley has established a standard of excellence within the franchise, both on and off the court, that has continually allowed the team to reach unprecedented heights and has positioned it as one of the most respected and successful in the NBA. Never was that more evident than when Riley guided his group of "15 Strong" to the franchise's first NBA championship in Dallas on June 20, 2006. After the game, Riley commented that he had packed one suit, one shirt and one tie for the trip to Dallas. What he brought back to Miami was its first championship, fulfilling that vision he spoke about when arriving in Miami in 1995. In 2012 and 2013, he watched his hand-picked successor Erik Spoelstra guide teams that he put together as HEAT President once again reach the top of the mountain and enjoy back-to-back championships in an arena built largely as a result of his success. Since his arrival 20 years ago, the HEAT are just one of five teams out of 122 in the four major North American professional sports leagues that can boast of having made at least 16 postseason appearances and having captured at least three championships. It's that success and the sacrifices he made along the way that has earned the respect of his peers and led to him receiving the Chuck Daly Lifetime Achievement Award from the National Basketball Coaches Association during the 2012 NBA Finals.

For the past 20 seasons, Riley's influence can be found throughout the HEAT organization as he has transformed the team from its early years to one of the most successful and desired destinations throughout the league. His work off the court constantly re-shaping the roster has been crucial in the HEAT winning three championships on the court. Never was that more evident than the summer of 2010. After two seasons of positioning the HEAT to be a major player in the 2010 free agent pursuit, while still remaining competitive and earning a pair of postseason berths, Riley proved to be the architect of one of the most successful off-seasons in NBA history. His work the previous two seasons put Miami in position to be able to add several key pieces in the 2010 free agent market and he delivered a star-studded class. In addition to accomplishing his stated mission of re-signing Dwyane Wade to a long term contract, he also convinced perennial All-Stars Chris Bosh and LeBron James to combine forces and join the HEAT to help form the core of what would be a championship contender. The trio paid immediate dividends helping lead the HEAT to the NBA Finals in each of their four seasons together. The star power Riley assembled also produced great results off the court as well, as Miami led the NBA in road attendance and sold out every home game in each of their four seasons together. As a result of his efforts pulling off a major coup, Riley was named The Sporting News 2010-11 Executive of the Year and shared the NBA's Executive of the Year award.

For Riley the summer of 2010 was just one more example of him working his magic in the front office. Since his arrival in Miami, he's engineered some of the biggest trades in the NBA, deals that have brought All-Stars Alonzo Mourning, Tim Hardaway, Eddie Jones, Shaquille O'Neal, Shawn Marion and Goran Dragic to the HEAT as well as add talented players Brian Grant and Jamal Mashburn. Additionally, prior to the 2005-06 season, he made headlines as he helped engineer the largest trade in NBA history, a five-team, 13-player blockbuster, in which the HEAT obtained All-Star Antoine Walker from Boston along with Jason Williams and James Posey from Memphis, all key contributors in the HEAT's first NBA championship. He has also used the free agent market in the past to help build the HEAT into a championship team. Riley made a big splash in the summer of 2003 when he signed free agent Lamar Odom, who went on to enjoy his finest NBA season before becoming the centerpiece in the trade to acquire the then 11-time All-Star O'Neal. He has also used the free agent market to acquire solid veterans Mike Miller, Shane Battier, Ray Allen, Rashard Lewis and Chris Andersen to all be key parts of this championship franchise. Riley has also helped shape the HEAT through the years with the successful drafting of Dwyane Wade and Caron Butler and also scored with the signing of undrafted free agent Udonis Haslem, who has gone on to become the all-time rebound leader in franchise history.

Riley's keen eye to spot talent has not been limited to just the players. His two head coaching hires have proven to be extremely successful as well as he promoted former assistant coaches Stan Van Gundy and Erik Spoelstra, giving each their first NBA head coaching job. Both have rewarded that faith by becoming among the best coaches in the NBA. Each has guided teams to the NBA Finals during their head coaching careers and has won over 60 percent of their games. When Spoelstra led Miami to back-to-back NBA championships in 2012 and 2013 he became one of just 13 coaches in NBA history to win multiple championships and one of only eight to win consecutive championships. His 63 wins and .636 winning percentage are both tops in HEAT postseason history.

With all the big moves Riley has made to shape the HEAT, the most important trade he was involved with might very well have been the one that delivered him to Miami. Looking to change the face of an organization in its infancy and become a solid contender year after year, HEAT Managing General Partner Micky Arison agreed to send a first-round draft pick and $1 million dollars to the New York Knicks on September 1, 1995 for the rights to Pat Riley. One day later, Riley was named the team's fourth head coach and team president. From that point, the face of the organization changed. Riley brought with him star power, a proven track record, professionalism and results. Since he arrived in 1995, the HEAT has compiled a 917-675 (.576) record, the best record in the Eastern Conference over that 20-year span and the fourth best in the NBA. Miami has made 16 postseason appearances under his leadership and has captured 11 division titles, the most in the Eastern Conference over that span.

Riley's resume is filled with milestones during an NBA career that spans 47 years as a player, assistant coach, head coach, administrator and broadcaster and has produced nine NBA championships. He compiled a 1,210-694 (.636) all-time record guiding the Los Angeles Lakers, New York Knicks and the Miami HEAT during a 24-year head coaching career that is one of the most impressive in all of sports. His 1,210 regular season victories place him fourth on the NBA's all-time list, his 1,904 games coached ranks eighth and his .636 winning percentage in the regular season places him sixth in league history. Riley averaged 50 wins per season in his coaching career. Additionally, his 171 postseason victories and 282 postseason games coached each rank second in NBA history and his .606 postseason winning percentage is ninth best all-time in the league annals. His five NBA championships as a head coach tie him with John Kundla and Gregg Popovich for the third highest total in NBA history. As a result of his many accomplishments, in 1996-97 as the NBA celebrated its 50th Anniversary, Riley was named one of the Top 10 Coaches of All-Time by a panel of media who regularly cover the league. Simply put, Riley is a winner.

No matter the odds, "getting the job done" has never been a problem for a person who has seen winning from all angles. As a youthful role player for the 1971-72 Los Angeles Lakers, Riley earned the first of his nine NBA championship rings. He claimed another as an assistant under Lakers coach Paul Westhead in 1979-80. The New York native collected four more titles for the Lakers as the team's top man in 1982, 1985, 1987 and 1988. Eighteen years later, he guided the HEAT to their first NBA Championship, his fifth as a head coach, and then in 2012 and 2013 he claimed rings eight and nine as HEAT President. The 18-year span between championships as a head coach established an NBA record. As a head coach, his teams advanced to the NBA Finals nine times, the Conference Finals on 12 occasions and captured 18 divisional championships, nine conference championships and five NBA titles. He has been honored as the NBA Coach of the Year on three occasions, the only coach in NBA history to receive the award with three different teams. Riley has also captured NBA Coach of the Month honors 11 times. His 21 total postseason appearances as a head coach are tops in league history, two more than Hall of Fame coach Red Auerbach and his string of 19 consecutive postseason appearances as a head coach from 1982-2001 set a league record for consecutive postseason appearances. Riley has also served as a head coach in nine NBA All-Star games.

In his illustrious career, Riley guided his teams to at least 50 wins in a season 17 times and has amassed seven 60-win seasons, achieving the milestone with each of the three franchises he guided. Both his 17 50-win seasons and seven 60-win seasons tie the most by a coach in NBA history. When he began the 2000-01 season with an Opening Night victory over Orlando on November 1, he became just the second coach in NBA history to reach 1,000 wins. Riley currently stands as the all-time leader in regular season wins and ranks second in postseason victories for the HEAT and ranks second in both categories for the Lakers.

During his first stint guiding the HEAT, Riley led Miami to 354 victories and four consecutive Atlantic Division titles over an eight-year period. Riley, who stands as Miami's all-time leader in games coached at 849, returned to the bench on Dec. 12, 2005 after a two-year hiatus where he concentrated on building the team from the front office. Upon his return he successfully navigated the HEAT to the pinnacle of the basketball world in 2006 and added more luster to a legacy and resume that did not need further validation. Riley compiled a 454-395 record (.535) during his 11 seasons on the HEAT sidelines and guided Miami to eight playoff appearances and 34 postseason victories. Prior to his arrival the franchise had compiled a 205-369 (.357) mark, with one winning season, two playoff appearances and two postseason wins in its first seven years.

On the eve of his first season in Miami, Riley changed the look of the HEAT by designing a six-player trade that brought in Mourning, who became the HEAT's first All-Star. He sprang into action again on February 22, 1996, making three trades involving 10 players just hours before the trading deadline that cleared the way for future free agent signings and brought Hardaway to Miami. Hardaway became a two-time All-Star during his stint with Riley and in 1996-97 was named to the backcourt with Michael Jordan on the All-NBA First Team. Those moves created the foundation in which the HEAT has been built upon and helped send the message that Riley would do whatever it took to produce a winner in Miami.

And the team has been winning ever since. In addition to delivering three NBA championships to Miami, Riley's HEAT tenure has included many highlights. In 1996-97 he garnered a third NBA Coach of the Year honor with his third team, an unprecedented feat in league history, after leading Miami to a 61-21 (.744) record and the HEAT's first trip to the Eastern Conference Finals. On February 10, 1998, he became the winningest coach in HEAT history when Miami defeated Cleveland for HEAT win number 134. During the 1998-99 campaign he led Miami to the best record and the number one seed in the Eastern Conference for the first time. The 1999-00 season saw the HEAT capture its fourth consecutive Atlantic Division crown. That season also culminated a dream for the franchise as Riley ushered Miami into its beautiful new home, the AmericanAirlines Arena, a state-of-the-art downtown bayside arena. The following season, Riley turned in what many experts claim was one of the best coaching jobs of his amazing career. After re-working the roster in the summer of 2000 by acquiring three-time All-Star Eddie Jones and hard-working power forward Brian Grant to make a run at a possible championship, Riley had to guide the franchise through one of the biggest jolts in its history. On October 16, in the middle of the pre-season, Alonzo Mourning, the team's centerpiece, announced that due to a kidney disease he was expected to miss the entire season. Despite the devastating news, Riley guided the HEAT to a 50-32 record for a second place finish in the Atlantic Division and the third best record in the conference.

Before joining the HEAT, Riley spent four successful seasons as the head coach of the New York Knicks. Prior to Riley's arrival the Knicks had posted just four winning seasons in the previous 10 years (1981-91). During his four-year stint in New York, Riley guided the Knicks to four straight winning seasons, four consecutive playoff berths and compiled a 223-105 record. His .680 winning percentage is the best in Knicks history, easily outdistancing former assistant Jeff Van Gundy who ranks second (.590), and his 223 victories rank fourth on the club's all-time list. He recorded at least 50 wins in each of his four seasons in New York, the only time in Knicks history the team posted at least 50 wins in four consecutive years. The highlight of his career with the Knicks was leading them to the 1994 NBA Finals, New York's first trip to the Finals since the 1972-73 season. Riley's teams won three consecutive Atlantic Division titles in his first three years (1991-94) in New York, and his tireless dedication earned him his second NBA Coach of the Year honor in 1993.

Prior to leading the Knicks, Riley was head coach of the Lakers for nine years and guided the team to four NBA titles and three other NBA Finals appearances. After taking over for Paul Westhead 11 games into the 1981-82 season, he led the Lakers to the NBA Championship in his first season as a head coach in the league. Under Riley, the Lakers became the first NBA team to win 60 games in four consecutive seasons (1984-85 through 1987-88). He won the Pacific Division title in each of his nine years leading the Lakers and was honored as the 1990 NBA Coach of the Year. He compiled a 533-194 (.733) regular season record in his nine seasons in L.A. and won at least 50 games each year. Riley, who averaged 59 wins a season in L.A., brought "Showtime" to the Great Western Forum. Under Riley the Lakers recorded a 305-59 (.838) regular season mark at home. His teams also compiled a 102-47 (.685) postseason record. His 102 postseason victories rank second on the Lakers' all-time list as do his 533 regular season wins.

After leaving the Lakers, Riley served as co-host of "NBA Showtime" on NBC in 1990-91 before joining the Knicks in the fall of 1991. It was a return to the television booth for Riley who was Chick Hearn's partner on Lakers' broadcasts after his playing days ended (1977-79). He returned to the bench early in the 1979-80 campaign when Lakers' Head Coach Paul Westhead asked him to become an assistant coach.

As a player, Riley had an extensive nine-year career. He was the 1967 first-round pick (seventh overall) of the San Diego Rockets for their inaugural 1967-68 season. After three seasons, he joined the Lakers' in 1970-71 and played five years. He was a member of the 1971-72 Lakers team that won an NBA-record 33 consecutive games and the NBA Championship. Riley finished his playing career with the 1976 Western Conference Champion Phoenix Suns.

Born in Schenectady, NY, Riley attended Linton High School where he became a two-sport star in basketball and football. He was a member of the Linton basketball team that beat historic Power Memorial High and center Lew Alcindor, who, as Kareem Abdul-Jabbar, would later lead Riley's Lakers to greatness. As a tribute to his accomplishments, Linton renamed its gym in Riley's honor in 1997 and inducted him into its hall of fame in 2000.

PAT RILEY PRESIDENT

After turning down an offer to play football for Bear Bryant at Alabama, Riley decided instead to play basketball for Adolph Rupp at Kentucky from 1963-67. He was a collegiate star, earning team MVP honors three times and averaging 22 points per game on the Wildcats' famed "Rupp's Runts" squad that lost in the 1966 NCAA Finals to Texas Western. A gifted athlete, he was an 11th-round draft choice of the NFL's Dallas Cowboys in 1967 although he never played college football. His brother, Lee, played defensive back for the Detroit Lions, Philadelphia Eagles, and New York Giants of the NFL (1955-60) and for the New York Titans of the American Football League (1961-62). His father, Leon, was a major league catcher/outfielder with Philadelphia in 1944 and became a minor league manager in the Phillies' organization.

Along with his wife, Chris, Riley has been involved with numerous charity and community service projects throughout his career. They founded The Miami HEAT Family Outreach in 1997 which has raised nearly $20 million for the South Florida community and whose primary beneficiaries include Jackson Memorial Foundation's Guardian Angels which supports the Holtz Center for seriously ill children, SafeSpace which is a domestic violence shelter for women and their children, and the Miami Coalition for a Safe and Drug-free Community. They are also involved in the Pediatric AIDS Foundation's Kids for Kids organization which they started in 1992 in New York, and the YMCA in Los Angeles, New York, and Miami. For over 30 years the Rileys have been actively involved with Boys and Girls Clubs of America. As a result of his efforts, Riley has received many prestigious awards, including the Miami Project Sports Legend Award in 1992, Boys and Girls Clubs Miami Person of the Year Award in 1998, and was honored by the YMCA Miami in 1998. Riley was also instrumental in establishing the HEAT's Home Strong program in 2006 which supports and gives aid to military personnel.

Riley is not only one of professional basketball's winningest coaches, but his speeches before hundreds of corporations have earned him the title of "America's Greatest Motivational Speaker." He has been rated by SUCCESS magazine as "The best in his field." Riley has also completed an award winning 30-minute motivational video entitled "Teamwork" in which he applies his winning philosophies to business and life in general. In addition to being one of the most sought after motivational speakers in the country, Riley has authored two books, Show Time and The Winner Within. Pat and his wife, Chris, have two children, James Patrick, and Elisabeth Marie.

ERIC WOOLWORTH

PRESIDENT, BUSINESS OPERATIONS

Beginning his 21st season with The HEAT Group and 15th at the helm of the organization as President, Business Operations, Eric Woolworth has made an indelible impression on both the Miami HEAT and AmericanAirlines Arena. His leadership has helped transform the organization and redefine its corporate identity into a customer service and sales-driven machine that is among the elite in the sports and entertainment industry. Under Woolworth's direction the HEAT has been consistently recognized as an NBA leader in customer service, fan entertainment, marketing, sales, and Arena operations, and has become a recognized leader in the South Florida business community. Working side by side with Pat Riley, Woolworth's efforts have made the HEAT a first-class organization away from the court as much as it is on it.

The team's innovative fan-friendly and flexible renewal program complements its very successful and often imitated in-Arena S.M.I.L.E. program aimed at exceeding every guest's expectations. These initiatives have brought a high level of service and value to season ticket holders and guests, as well as a streamlined renewal and playoff payment process while introducing new and exciting benefits for loyal season ticket holders and other lucky fans.

Under Woolworth's leadership, The HEAT Group has championed and implemented ELEVATE, a league-wide initiative designed to improve the customer experience by striving for excellence at every level of the business. During the 2014-15 season, The HEAT Group achieved the third-highest overall satisfaction rating among all NBA teams.

Woolworth has been instrumental in recognizing and harnessing the power of database marketing. In the past 15 years, the HEAT has compiled one of the richest direct marketing databases in the NBA and has become proficient in utilizing these powerful channels to deliver sales offers and news and continues to lead the NBA in terms of revenue derived from database marketing.

Most recently, Woolworth has redirected the franchise's focus to mobile-centric technology by launching a cutting-edge Miami HEAT Mobile App. The App's primary features—Mobile Wallet and Mobile Ticketing—create a seamless, paperless platform, which customizes and further enhances the fan's in-arena experience.

Under Woolworth's guidance, The HEAT Group's Business Operations Division continues to garner accolades in a variety of disciplines. Success stories for the 2014-15 season include the Season Ticket Services Department once again recording the highest Season Ticket renewal rate in franchise history and one of the highest renewal rates in the NBA; the HEAT Retail Department earning their fifth NBA Retailer of the Year award as well as recording the highest per cap rates in retail sales in the NBA; and the unveiling of the 15th Miami HEAT Learn and Play Center. Additionally, with a Facebook fan base of over 16 million, a twitter following of 3.13 million and 1.8 million Instagram followers, the HEAT Social Media Department is a consistent leader in social media engagement and growth.

In January 2015, AmericanAirlines Arena was awarded LEED Gold Recertification by the U.S. Green Building Council (USGBC)—the first sports and entertainment facility in the world to achieve the prestigious honor. LEED is USGBC's leading rating system for designing, constructing and operating the greenest, most energy-efficient, and highest performing buildings. Additionally, through a multi-year partnership with NRG Energy, AmericanAirlines Arena will unveil a tailor-made renewable energy solar pavilion on the east side of the facility in the Fall of 2015.

Woolworth has been at the forefront of several major capital improvement projects to the AmericanAirlines Arena, including the 3,400 square foot digital media façade, MiamiMediaMesh, one of the largest digital LED displays in the Southeast region of the United States; the multi-million dollar High Definition upgrade of all digital infrastructure at AmericanAirlines Arena; the fully customizable "experience" fans now enjoy as they enter the Arena through the newly renovated Bacardi Grand Entrance, which includes state-of-the-art digital signage and graphic enhancement tailored to the specific audience of any single event; and the 2012 opening of Hyde AmericanAirlines Arena, a posh and intimate venue offering guests an über-VIP restaurant and nightclub experience.

Woolworth's efforts have also firmly planted AmericanAirlines Arena on the map of elite venues, hosting such world-class acts as Madonna, Marc Anthony, Beyoncé, Lady Gaga, Billy Joel, U2, Luis Miguel, Justin Bieber, Miley Cyrus, Phish, Taylor Swift, Bruno Mars, One Direction, Justin Timberlake, Coldplay and many others that play before sold-out crowds. The Arena also secured the 2004 and 2005 MTV Video Music Awards, the first two times in the award show's history it was hosted outside of New York City or Los Angeles. Popular family shows that make annual stops at the Arena include classic favorites Disney On Ice, the Harlem Globetrotters and the RB&BB Circus.

The AmericanAirlines Arena is also a celebrated leader in the facilities industry due to Woolworth's leadership. The Arena maintained its ticket ranking as the #1 arena in Florida and finished in the top 11 arenas in the United States, while placing 18th in the world according to Billboard's "2014 Worldwide Top 200."

Woolworth's primary responsibility consists of directing and overseeing all non-basketball aspects of the organization from Marketing and Community Affairs to Sales and Service, Human Resources, Merchandising, Finance, Event and Arena Operations, and more. His efforts have created a professional cutting edge atmosphere for both the employees and the customers.

Woolworth steadily climbed the ranks of The HEAT Group after first joining the HEAT as General Counsel in 1995 and a successful legal career in Washington, D.C. His business acumen and key role in the development of the AmericanAirlines Arena led to his promotion to President, Business Operations in January of 2001. He had served as interim President from August of 2000 to January of 2001.

Woolworth is a cum laude graduate of both Georgetown University and Georgetown University Law Center. He lives with his wife, Jocelyn, their son, Jackson, and their daughter, Cassidy, in Coral Gables. They generously spend their time and resources to assist the community, donating time to several charitable organizations including serving on the Boards of Big Brothers Big Sisters and the Children's Craniofacial Association at Miami Children's Hospital.

ERIK SPOELSTRA
HEAD COACH

Erik Spoelstra begins his eighth season as head coach of the HEAT and his 21st as a member of the organization. Since being elevated to his current position on April 28, 2008, Spoelstra has rewarded the faith that HEAT President Pat Riley showed in him by garnering a 351-207 regular season record, a 63-36 postseason mark, six postseason appearances, four division titles, four conference championships and guiding the franchise to a pair of NBA championships. Under his leadership, Miami has the second-highest regular season winning percentage in the NBA (tops in the Eastern Conference) and has also recorded the second best postseason winning percentage.

In just seven seasons at the helm, Spoelstra has already established his place in the HEAT record book. He holds the franchise postseason records for victories (63), winning percentage (.636), series won (14) and games coached (99). In regular season play he owns the highest winning percentage (.629) and ranks second in both victories (351) and games coached (558) for the HEAT.

Since replacing Riley on the HEAT bench seven years ago, Spoelstra has seen the expectations for his team change dramatically from the time he was appointed head coach until now. When he inherited the head coaching reins in 2008 he was given the task of improving a young team that had been ravaged by injuries the previous season and had won just 15 games. Two years later, after the summer of 2010 in which Miami re-signed Dwyane Wade and acquired All-Stars LeBron James and Chris Bosh, he found himself coaching a highly-talented, veteran group that was the most scrutinized team in the NBA. Throughout his tenure he has remained a steadying influence for his team and its paid huge dividends in return. Spoelstra has proven up to the challenge as he has guided them to a pair of NBA Championships, four-straight Eastern Conference Championships and four consecutive trips to the NBA Finals. When the HEAT defeated Indiana in the 2014 Eastern Conference Finals they became the just the third franchise in NBA history to make four consecutive NBA Finals appearances, joining the Celtics and Lakers. It also made them just one of 10 franchises in the four major North American sports leagues to make four consecutive trips to the league championship. Individually, Spoelstra became just the fourth head coach in NBA history to lead his team to four consecutive Finals appearances joining Red Auerbach, K.C. Jones and Pat Riley.

Spoelstra, who is tied for second place on the NBA's all-time postseason winning percentage list and tops among active head coaches, joined a very elite fraternity when he led the HEAT to a seven-game series win over the San Antonio Spurs in the 2013 NBA Finals. Upon capturing the 2013 NBA Championship he became one of just 13 head coaches in NBA history to have won multiple championships and only the eighth to win a championship in consecutive seasons.

Since he took over the HEAT, no coach in the NBA has won more playoff games or playoff series than Spoelstra. Under Spoelstra, the HEAT have advanced to the playoffs in six of his seven seasons and have won 14 of 18 postseason series (.778 winning percentage), including a franchise-record 11 consecutive series from 2012-14. Spoelstra's teams have a 14-5 (.737) record when having an opponent on the brink of elimination, including a perfect 10-0 mark at home, and a 6-4 (.600) mark when they are on the brink of elimination. One of the keys to that success has been Miami's dominance at the AmericanAirlines Arena under Spoelstra. In his seven seasons, Spoelstra's regular season record at the AmericanAirlines Arena is a sterling 199-80 (.713) and his postseason record at home is an even better 41-11 (.788). The HEAT have also proven to be able to win away from home, evidenced by five straight seasons from 2009-14 that Miami posted a winning record on the road, a first in franchise history. Additionally, Miami has won at least one postseason road game in each of its past 16 series to establish an NBA record.

The 2013-14 season saw the HEAT capture their fourth straight Eastern Conference Championship, fourth straight Southeast Division title and their sixth straight postseason appearance, tying the franchise record for consecutive postseason berths. Spoelstra added to his individual accolades capturing Coach of the Month honors for a franchise-record sixth time in February after guiding Miami to a 9-1 record. On Feb. 23, he notched his 300th career victory against Chicago in just his 448th game, reaching that milestone in fewer games than any coach in franchise history. .

After guiding Miami to its second NBA crown in 2012, Spoelstra and his team knew they would get everyone's best shot on a daily basis during the 2012-13 season and what the HEAT accomplished under Spoelstra was one of the greatest seasons in NBA history. It was a season filled with highlights from participating in a preseason tour in China to ending with a championship celebration on the floor of the AmericanAirlines Arena on June 20, 2013.

Spoelstra guided the HEAT to a franchise-record 66-win regular season which included a 27-game winning streak from Feb. 3-Mar. 25, the second longest streak in NBA history. In large part due to the winning streak, the HEAT finished the second half of the 2012-13 season with a 38-3 record and lost just one game each in the months of February, March and April. The 17-1 record in March set a franchise record for victories in any month. As a result of the streak, Spoelstra was named the NBA Eastern Conference Coach of the Month in both February and March becoming the first HEAT coach to receive the honors in consecutive months. The record-setting season also helped Spoelstra earn the honor of coaching the Eastern Conference at the 2013 NBA All-Star Game, a first in his career. The final victory in the 27-game win streak, at Orlando on Mar. 25, marked the 250th regular season victory in Spoelstra's career.

The 2012 championship culminated a compressed 2011-12 season in which Miami went 46-20 and captured its second consecutive Southeast Division title. The regular season was highlighted by a nine-game win streak (Feb. 10-Mar. 1) with each victory a double-digit win. During that streak the HEAT became the first team to win road games on three consecutive nights (Feb. 12-14) since December of 1979 and the first to win each of those contests by double-digits since the 1970-71 season. That streak keyed an 11-2 record in February for Miami which saw Spoelstra earn Coach of the Month honors for the third time in his career.

Miami's success during the 2011-12 campaign was driven by its defense. The HEAT once again ranked among the top defensive teams in the NBA, finishing third in steals per game, fourth in scoring defense, fourth in scoring margin and fifth in field goal percentage defense, the third straight year Miami ranked in the top five in field goal percentage defense. The HEAT also proved dominant at home, posting a 28-5 record, which included a 17-game home winning streak, the second longest in franchise history. The 28 home victories tied for the most in the league and the .848 home winning percentage is the third best single-season mark in franchise history.

Spoelstra led Miami to a 58-24 regular season record, a Southeast Division title and an Eastern Conference championship in 2010-11. The 58 wins mark the fourth best total in franchise history and Miami's 28 road wins tied for the most in the NBA in 2010-11 and rank third in HEAT history. Spoelstra earned NBA Eastern Conference Coach of the Month honors in December after guiding the HEAT to a 15-1 record, including a perfect 10-0 mark on the road. The 10 road victories in December set a franchise record for any month and the HEAT established an NBA record for most consecutive road wins in a calendar month. Defense was once again the stalwart of the HEAT's success as Miami led the NBA in point differential, finished second in defensive field goal percentage and sixth in scoring defense.

After an impressive rookie campaign, Spoelstra guided Miami to a 47-35 record in 2009-10. Under his leadership the HEAT closed the season by winning 18 of its final 22 games, including a 12-3 record in March which earned him NBA Eastern Conference Coach of the Month honors. The 2009-10 season was one of its best defensive seasons for Miami as the HEAT allowed the fewest field goals in the NBA and finished second in both points allowed and defensive field goal percentage.

During his rookie season, Spoelstra led Miami to its greatest single-season improvement. He inherited a 15-win team and directed it to a 28-win improvement, marking the greatest improvement by a rookie head coach in NBA history, bettering the previous record of a 20-win improvement by Chicago's Ed Badger during the 1976-77 season. It also marked the seventh-best single-season improvement in NBA history by any coach. As a result of a 43-win season, the most by a head coach in his first year guiding the HEAT, Spoelstra led Miami to the 2009 NBA Playoffs. The 2009 postseason appearance made Miami just the second team in NBA history to win 15-or-fewer games one year and make the postseason the next, joining the 1968-69 San Diego Rockets.

ERIK SPOELSTRA HEAD COACH

Before taking over the reigns as the sixth head coach in HEAT history, Spoelstra had served Miami in a number of roles in his first 13 years. He was originally hired as video coordinator and over the years was promoted to assistant coach/video coordinator, assistant coach/advance scout and assistant coach/director of scouting before ascending to head coach. He made a name for himself around the league with his game preparation and superb attention to detail. In his seven seasons as the HEAT's assistant coach/director of scouting, he had the primary role of developing game plans for upcoming opponents. To that end, he coordinated the video staff and advance scouts while overseeing the development of scouting reports and videos.

Spoelstra has earned the respect of players throughout the league with a strong reputation as a teacher over the years by heading the HEAT's Individual Player Development Program. As an assistant coach, where he also served for three seasons (2005-07) as the head coach of the HEAT's summer league team, and as the HEAT's head man now, he has worked tirelessly with many of Miami's young players in areas of fundamentals, skill development and shooting. This consistent emphasis of fundamentals contributed to the HEAT setting a franchise-record in 2008-09 for fewest turnovers in a season, committing 96 fewer turnovers than the previous franchise record, and then responding the following season with the second fewest turnovers in a season.

Additionally, Spoelstra helped design and integrate a proprietary statistical database and scouting software for the HEAT. Under Spoelstra, the HEAT continues to embrace the use of technology and continues to use the state-of-the-art statistical software to evaluate team productivity, individual player productivity and trends for both the HEAT and the team's opponents. That use of technology as a teaching tool also included putting the team's video playbook on iPads for his players.

In 1992, he graduated from the University of Portland with a degree in communications. While attending Portland, Spoelstra was the starting point guard for four years and was named the West Coast Conference Freshman of the Year in 1989. Upon graduating he spent two years as a player/coach for Tus Herten, a team in the professional sports league of Germany.

A team member of the NBA FIT initiative, Spoelstra takes pride in encouraging and educating children on the physical, mental and emotional benefits of healthy living, as well as motivating and inspiring their families to live healthier lives through a variety of events and activities. Additionally, he created "Spo's Shooters", in 2008 in conjunction with the Miami HEAT Community Education Ticket Program. This program reaches out to South Florida's less fortunate student-athletes and gives them the opportunity to enjoy HEAT games and meet their favorite HEAT players and role models.

In July, 2009, Spoelstra embarked on what would be the first of four trips back to his native Philippines. In each of these trips, he has hosted basketball and coaches clinics, promoted the importance of education, healthy living and wellness, while being able to reach close to 10,000 underprivileged youth through these efforts. In 2011, the nine-day program in Manila was the largest NBA FIT event ever hosted in Southeast Asia under the NBA Cares umbrella. During the summer of 2012, Spoelstra expanded this program to include the country of Singapore.

Raised in Portland, OR, Spoelstra, who was inducted into the Jesuit High School Athletic Hall of Fame in September 2009, is the first Asian/Filipino-American head coach in any of the major North American sports leagues.

Spoelstra is not the only member of his family to have a successful career in professional sports. His father, Jon Spoelstra, was a long-time NBA executive who guided the Portland Trail Blazers, Denver Nuggets, Buffalo Braves and New Jersey Nets and his grandfather, Watson, was a Detroit Tigers beat writer for many years.

DAVID FIZDALE
ASSISTANT HEAD COACH

David Fizdale begins his second season as Assistant Head Coach after spending the previous six seasons as an assistant coach. He is involved in player development and assisting Head Coach Erik Spoelstra in all areas of game preparation. Fizdale served as head coach of Miami's NBA Summer League teams in 2010 and 2012 and began his professional career assisting in the HEAT's video room during the 1997-98 season.

Considered one of the rising stars in the NBA coaching ranks, Fizdale has played a major part in the HEAT's championship success the past seven seasons. He has proven to be a valuable resource to Spoelstra and has developed an outstanding rapport with the players. Since he returned to Miami, prior to the 2008-09 season, the HEAT has won more playoff games and playoff series than any team in the league, has averaged over 50 wins a season and has compiled the second best regular season and postseason winning percentages.

Fizdale returned to Miami after spending four seasons (2004-08) as an assistant coach with the Atlanta Hawks where he played an instrumental role in the development of their young players. He helped the Hawks increase their win total in each of his final three seasons and during the 2007-08 season, they earned the franchise's first postseason appearance since 1999. He began his NBA coaching career as an assistant coach with the Golden State Warriors for one season (2003-04).

Directly before joining the Warriors, Fizdale spent five seasons coaching in the college ranks. After concluding his collegiate playing career and spending one year as the HEAT's video intern in 1997-98, he began his coaching career with a four-year stint (1998-2002) as an assistant coach at his alma mater, the University of San Diego. During his final year with the Toreros he was the top assistant for coach Brad Holland. While at USD, he was in charge of scheduling, served as the recruiting coordinator and worked in player development and on-court coaching. After four years at San Diego, he spent one season (2002-03) as an assistant coach at Fresno State University where his responsibilities included player development and serving as the school's recruiting coordinator.

A three-year starter at point guard while playing at the University of San Diego, Fizdale was selected to the All-West Coast Conference team after his senior season in 1996.

Fizdale, a Los Angeles native, earned a bachelor's degree in communications and a minor in sociology from San Diego in 1996. He, and his wife Natasha, and his son, Kyle Jackson, all reside in Miami.

JUWAN HOWARD
ASSISTANT COACH

After a 19-year playing career, that included a pair of NBA championships and an All-Star appearance, Juwan Howard enters his second season as Assistant Coach after spending his first season as assistant coach/player development. For Howard, it is a natural progression after the savvy veteran helped serve as a mentor both on and off the court for the HEAT in his first three seasons with the franchise and commanded respect throughout the organization. His duties include player development with an emphasis in working with the HEAT's big men.

Howard, who was a member of the HEAT's 2012 and 2013 NBA championship teams under Head Coach Erik Spoelstra, appeared in 1,208 regular season games and 49 postseason contests during his stellar career which included an All-Star appearance with Washington during the 1995-96 season. He averaged 13.4 points, 6.1 rebounds, 2.2 assists and 30.3 minutes and made 900 career starts before concluding his playing career as a member of the HEAT in 2013. In addition to his All-Star appearance, Howard earned All-NBA Third Team honors once (1995-96) and was named to the All-Rookie Second Team during the 1994-95 campaign. The Chicago native also was named the Rookie of the Month for February 1995, was named Player of the Month for April 1996 and received the NBA's Community Assist Award for April 2010.

Howard played three seasons at the University of Michigan before becoming a first-round selection (fifth overall) by the Washington Bullets. He helped lead Michigan to the NCAA Tournament Championship game in both 1992 and 1993. An integral member of the famed "Fab Five", Howard became one of only five players in school history to score at least 1,500 points and grab at least 700 rebounds.

Howard and his wife, Jenine, reside in Miami and have four sons (Juwan Jr., Jace, Jett and Joshua) and two daughters (Sky and Starr).

KEITH SMART
ASSISTANT COACH

With over 25 years of professional basketball experience as either a player or coach, Keith Smart begins his second season as an assistant coach for the HEAT, assisting in the area of game management. He comes to Miami after serving as head coach for three different NBA franchises, previously guiding Sacramento, Golden State and Cleveland.

Smart joined the Kings as an assistant coach prior to the 2011-12 season before being promoted to head coach on January 5, 2012. He spent the previous eight seasons (2003-11) with the Golden State Warriors, the first seven as an assistant coach, becoming the longest tenured assistant coach in Warriors history, before taking over as head coach during the 2010-11 campaign where he led his team to a 10-game improvement over the prior season. Prior to joining Golden State, Smart served as assistant coach for the Cleveland Cavaliers for three seasons before being named interim head coach in the middle of the 2002-03 campaign, becoming the second-youngest head coach in the NBA during that time.

Before joining the Cavaliers, he spent three seasons as head coach of the CBA's Fort Wayne Fury, guiding the team to its first back-to-back winning seasons (1997-99) in franchise history. In his first season with the Fury in 1997-98, he compiled a franchise-best 31-win season and a trip to the playoffs. He followed that season with another postseason berth during 1998-99 despite losing a single-season franchise record nine players to NBA contracts. He was awarded the American Conference Coach of the Month Award five times during his tenure with Fort Wayne and had a CBA-high 21 players signed to NBA contracts.

After being selected in the second round (41st overall) of the 1988 NBA Draft by the Golden State Warriors, Smart spent part of his nine-year professional basketball playing career with the San Antonio Spurs (1988), the Miguel Beermen (1989) of the Philippines Basketball Association, the Worcester Counts (1989), Youngstown Pride (1990-91) and Halifax Windjammers (1991) of the World Basketball League, the Rapid City Thrillers (1992) of the Continental Basketball Association, Trotamundos (1993) and Bravo De Lara (1993) in Venezuela, Cambrais Basket (1994) in France and the Florida Beachdogs (1995-96) and Fort Wayne Fury (1996-97) of the CBA.

A graduate of Indiana University, Smart helped lead the Hoosiers to the 1987 NCAA National Championship after hitting the game-winning shot versus Syracuse with five seconds remaining in the title game where he also garnered Most Outstanding Player honors of the Final Four. Smart and his wife Carol have two teenage sons, Andre' and Jared.

CHRIS QUINN

ASSISTANT COACH/PLAYER DEVELOPMENT

Chris Quinn enters his second season as Assistant Coach/Player Development with the HEAT after serving as director of player development at Northwestern University. Last season, he also worked with Miami's NBA Development League team, the Sioux Falls Skyforce, as an assistant coach.

Quinn, a six-year NBA veteran, was originally signed by the HEAT as a free agent on July 6, 2006, appearing in 168 games (26 starts) with Miami over three and a half seasons (2006-10), playing for both Pat Riley and Erik Spoelstra. He led Miami in both three-point field goal percentage and assist-to-turnover ratio during the 2008-09 season and currently ranks 10th on the HEAT's all-time three-point field goal percentage list (.397). Quinn went on to play three more NBA seasons, splitting time with the New Jersey Nets, San Antonio Spurs and Cleveland Cavaliers. He then went on to play for the Tulsa 66ers of the NBA D-League before finishing professionally overseas in Spain with Valencia Basket and in Russia, helping BC Khimki to a Eurocup Championship.

A 2006 graduate of Notre Dame, Quinn was a three-year starter and two-time co-captain for the Fighting Irish. He was named to the All-Big East First Team as a senior and was a three-time Big East Academic All-Star Team selection. He finished his collegiate career with 1,454 points, the 16th most in school history while also ranking fifth in steals (155), sixth in three-point field goal percentage (.417), seventh in three-point field goals made (239) and eighth in assists (428).

Quinn, a Dublin, OH native, resides in Miami with his wife, Lauren, and their two children, Charlie and Lydia.

BRIAN HECKER

DIRECTOR OF BASKETBALL INFORMATION AND TECHNOLOGY/PLAYER DEVELOPMENT COACH

Brian Hecker enters his 13th season with the HEAT and his second as Director of Basketball Information and Technology/Player Development Coach. In his current position, Hecker will focus on player development, basketball analytics as well as advanced scouting and game plans for the coaching staff.

Hecker joined the organization in November of 2003 as the HEAT's Scouting Information Coordinator. He was then named Scout in 2008 and three years later was promoted to Director of Basketball Information and Technology/Scout. Prior to joining the HEAT, Hecker spent 11 seasons on the collegiate level; nine as an assistant coach at the University of Houston (2000-03) and the University of Wisconsin (1994-00) where he was a member of former HEAT coach Stan Van Gundy's staff in 1994-95. Hecker began his collegiate coaching career as an administrative assistant on Stu Jackson's staff at Wisconsin in 1992 and was promoted to assistant coach in 1994. During his 11 seasons on the collegiate level he helped guide his teams to seven postseason appearances (4-NCAA, 3-NIT), including the 2000 NCAA Final Four while an assistant with the Badgers.

A 1990 graduate of Indiana University, Hecker began his coaching career at his alma mater, Nicolet High School in Milwaukee during the 1991-92 season. The Milwaukee native has three children, Jessica, Benjamin and Thomas and resides in Miami.

JAY SABOL

ATHLETIC TRAINER

Jay Sabol begins his eighth season as Athletic Trainer for the HEAT. He has spent the last 25 seasons with Miami, including 13 as Assistant Athletic Trainer. In his current capacity, he oversees the entire sports medicine staff to keep the HEAT healthy during the regular season, postseason and off-season. Sabol has previously served as the team's equipment manager and assistant strength and conditioning coach, and served as a team attendant for his first five years with the organization.

Sabol was born and raised in Miami and graduated from Florida International University in 1992 with a master's degree in exercise physiology. As Assistant Athletic Trainer from 1992-95, Sabol covered basketball and soccer for FIU before joining the HEAT full-time in 1995. He is certified by the National Athletic Trainers Association, National Strength and Conditioning Association, National Academy of Sports Medicine and licensed by the State of Florida Department of Health.

Sabol enjoys fishing and boating in his free time.

BILL FORAN

ASSISTANT COACH/STRENGTH & CONDITIONING

Bill Foran has been the HEAT's strength and conditioning coach since its inception as he begins his 28th season with the organization and his 18th in the position of Assistant Coach/Strength & Conditioning. He is charged with improving the proper health, strength and overall conditioning of the HEAT players. To achieve these goals, Foran supervises a combination of strength training, plyometrics, conditioning, stretching and nutrition to ensure the players' maximum results on the court.

Foran originally joined the HEAT as a strength and conditioning consultant during the 1988-89 season before becoming a full-time staff member as the team's strength and conditioning coach. Prior to coming to the HEAT, Foran spent four years as the head strength and conditioning coach for the University of Miami. There, Foran helped keep UM's football players in shape for the championship years of 1987 and 1989. Prior to his tenure at UM, he spent four years in a similar capacity at Washington State University.

A graduate of Central Michigan University, he earned a dual degree in physical education and health education in 1977 and his master's degree in exercise physiology from Michigan State University in 1981. Foran is the former president and co-founder of the National Basketball Conditioning Coaches Association (NBCCA) and a published author. He is the main author, along with nine other NBA strength and conditioning coaches, of three published books titled Condition the NBA Way, NBA Power Conditioning and Complete Conditioning for Basketball. Foran was also the sole editor of High Performance Sports Conditioning.

Recognized as one of the best in his field, Foran was inducted into the USA Strength and Conditioning Coaches Hall of Fame in 2014. He had previously been honored as the 2009 Co-NBA Strength Coach of the Year, sharing the award, which is voted on by the strength and conditioning coaches of the NBA, with Dwight Daub of the Oklahoma City Thunder.

Foran and his wife, Karen, reside in Pembroke Pines. Their son, Eric (the HEAT's current Assistant Strength and Conditioning Coach), graduated with a bachelor's and master's degree from the University of Florida. Their daughter, Kaylee, is also a graduate of the University of Florida as well as the University of Miami Nursing program.

ANDY ELISBURG

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, BASKETBALL OPERATIONS/GENERAL MANAGER

Andy Elisburg begins his third season as Senior Vice President, Basketball Operations/General Manager where he continues to assist CEO Nick Arison and President Pat Riley in the management of all aspects of the HEAT's basketball organization including salary cap administration, talent acquisition, league compliance and the day-to-day business of basketball operations.

He is a HEAT original, joining the franchise in its inaugural 1988 season. For the past 20 years, Elisburg has been working in basketball operations, and prior to his current post, he served five years as Senior Vice President, Basketball Operations/Assistant General Manager, playing an integral role in salary cap planning and basketball operations management, while overseeing the day-to-day operations at AmericanAirlines Arena.

With the challenges and the complexities in dealing with the league salary cap and luxury tax, Elisburg's knowledge and experience continues to be called upon to build on the team's unprecedented success. The results of that success include three NBA Championships, five Eastern Conference Championships, 16 postseason berths in the last 20 years (including a franchise-tying six-straight appearances from 2009-2014), 11 Division Championships and the fourth most wins (917) in the NBA (the most in the Eastern Conference) from 1995-2015.

During the off-season, Elisburg assists Riley in maneuvering through the framework of the salary cap and the luxury tax to transform the roster, ensuring the HEAT maintains its status as one of the league's top teams. In one of the most anticipated off-seasons in NBA history, he played an integral role in the HEAT's successful summer of 2010. His knowledge and expertise of the salary cap proved invaluable as he helped the HEAT acquire perennial All-Stars LeBron James and Chris Bosh, as well as round out the roster with several key veteran free agent signings to bolster the team's depth throughout a four-year run in which Miami went to the Finals in each year and won two NBA Championships. In 2014-15, he played a key role in the acquisitions of Luol Deng and Goran Dragic to help re-shape the HEAT.

Elisburg began the team's inaugural campaign as an intern in the public relations department before becoming a public relations assistant at the end of the season. He has served in many different capacities, including Assistant Director of Public Relations; Director of Team Services and Information; Director of Team Operations; Vice President, Basketball Operations, Senior Vice President, Basketball Operations and Senior Vice President, Basketball Operations/Assistant General Manager.

A native of Potomac, MD, Elisburg served an internship with the Washington Bullets in the summer of 1988 before coming to the HEAT. He holds a degree in sports administration from St. Thomas University and was honored by his alma mater in June of 2004 with their first Leader for Life Award which goes to recognize an alumna/alumnas that has made a significant contribution to their chosen profession. Elisburg is single and lives in Miami.

TIM DONOVAN

VICE PRESIDENT, SPORTS MEDIA RELATIONS

Entering his 16th year as Vice President, Sports Media Relations, Tim Donovan has seen his responsibilities expand each year and is charged with overseeing all aspects of the HEAT's Sports Media Relations efforts. He also works closely with the marketing, social media, broadcasting, business communications and community affairs departments to help the organization create initiatives that maximize the team's position as one of the most fan-friendly in the South Florida community. In addition, Donovan will continue to travel with the HEAT as the primary media liaison as well as coordinating all media interviews for the massive amounts of media requests made each year.

Donovan originally joined the HEAT as Assistant Director of Public Relations in 1995 after spending more than seven years with the New York Knicks. In January of 1997 he was elevated to Director of Sports Media Relations, a position he held for three and a half years before being promoted to his current position.

Donovan got his start in sports media relations in 1987, as an intern with the Knicks. He received a full-time position during New York's 1989 postseason and was named Public Relations Assistant in October of that year. By May of 1991, Donovan was Manager of Media Relations, serving as the chief liaison between the team and the New York area media.

A graduate of Rutgers University, Donovan lettered for four years on the Scarlet Knights' lacrosse team and helped lead the team to a number six national ranking as a senior.

CHET KAMMERER

VICE PRESIDENT, PLAYER PERSONNEL

After garnering more than 30 years of experience as a coach at many levels and developing an incredible eye for talent, Chet Kammerer begins his 19th year with the HEAT and his 12th in the role of Vice President, Player Personnel. Kammerer excelled in a number of roles for the HEAT before being promoted to his current position in September of 2004. After joining the organization as a scout in 1997, he has been promoted to Director of Scouting prior to the 1998-99 season, appointed Director of College Scouting before the 1999-00 season and then spent four seasons (2000-04) as the team's Director of Player Personnel.

Prior to joining the HEAT, Kammerer was an assistant coach for the Los Angeles Lakers from 1992-94. Following his time with the Lakers, he served as head coach of the Division I Professional Basketball Team of Braunschweig, Germany. Kammerer also served as a head coach for 27 years on the collegiate level and compiled a remarkable 542-256 (.679) overall record which earned him induction into the NAIA Hall of Fame on March 13, 2000. He coached for 10 years at Grace (Ind.) College and then for 17 seasons at Westmont College where his teams compiled a sterling 359-156 record (.697). In his honor, Westmont College dedicated the newly renovated court at Murchison Gym as 'Kammerer Court' in a ceremony on December 13, 2008.

Kammerer lives in Redondo Beach, CA. He and his wife, Sherill, have three grown children, Chad (the HEAT's current Director of NBA Scouting/Advance Scout), Shanda and Shariss and eight grandchildren, Maverick, Mason, Charlise, Cord, Ryder, Stetson, Natasha and Chase.

ALONZO MOURNING

VICE PRESIDENT, PLAYER PROGRAMS

Alonzo Mourning enters his seventh season as Vice President, Player Programs. In his role, Mourning is responsible to ensure the personal and professional development of HEAT players, while providing direct support and one-on-one mentoring. In addition, he represents the HEAT in various community and business endeavors.

After an NBA playing career that spanned 15 seasons and saw him capture an NBA championship with the HEAT in 2006, seven All-Star berths and twice being named the NBA Defensive Player of the Year, Mourning earned his highest professional honor, being enshrined into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame on August 8, 2014 in his first year of eligibility. Mourning, who had his number 33 retired by the HEAT in a ceremony on March 30, 2009, is Miami's all-time leader in blocks (1,625) and ranks second in points scored (9,459), free throws made (2,558) and attempted (3,896), offensive rebounds (1,505), defensive rebounds (3,302), total rebounds (4,807), double-doubles (205) and double-figure scoring efforts (442) and third in minutes played (17,700), field goal percentage (.537), field goals made (3,445) and attempted (6,415) and games played (593). Mourning is also Miami's all-time postseason leader in blocked shots (171) while ranking third in free throws made (294) and attempted (483), fourth in points (989), field goals made (346) and double-figure scoring efforts (46) and fifth in games played (82) and offensive rebounds (137).

For his career, Mourning, who also captured a gold medal with the United States Senior National Team at the 2000 Olympics, appeared in 838 games with the HEAT, Charlotte Hornets and New Jersey Nets and averaged 17.1 points, 8.5 rebounds, 2.81 blocked shots, 1.1 assists and 31.0 minutes while shooting 52.7 percent from the floor. He finished his professional career with 14,311 points, 7,137 rebounds and 2,356 blocks (11th all-time in NBA history).

A perennial All-Star on the court, Mourning also works tirelessly for the children of South Florida through his charity, Mourning Family Foundation, to educate and create the opportunity for youth to excel. He and his wife, Tracy, have three children, Alonzo III ("Trey"), Myka Sydney and Alijah Harden.

ADAM SIMON

ASSISTANT GENERAL MANAGER/ GENERAL MANAGER, SIOUX FALLS SKYFORCE

Adam Simon is entering his 21st season with the HEAT organization and his third in the role of Assistant General Manager/General Manager, Sioux Falls Skyforce. Simon will continue to assist HEAT Sr. V.P., Basketball Operations/General Manager Andy Elisburg in all areas of the HEAT's basketball operations department as well as heading the basketball operations department for the Skyforce. In his two seasons as General Manager of the Skyforce the team has compiled a 60-40 (.600) record, and has captured at least a share of the Central Division regular season title and made the postseason in both years.

Simon has held a number of positions in the HEAT organization since arriving in 1995 as an intern in the video room under current HEAT coach Erik Spoelstra. Prior to his most recent promotion he spent three seasons as the HEAT's Director of Player Personnel. The St. Thomas University graduate has also served the HEAT as director of college/international scouting (2004-11), scout/director of college scouting (2003-04), scout (2002-03), scouting coordinator (2001-02), administrative assistant (1997-01) and basketball operations intern (1996-97) where he organized information for the NBA Draft which he has continued to do throughout his years with the HEAT.

KEITH ASKINS

DIRECTOR OF COLLEGE AND PRO SCOUTING

Keith Askins begins his 26th year as a member of the HEAT organization and his third in the role as Director of College and Pro Scouting. In his role he works with Vice President, Player Personnel Chet Kammerer and Assistant General Manager Adam Simon overseeing all aspects of the HEAT's scouting department.

After a productive nine-year playing career, one spent entirely with Miami, Askins joined the HEAT coaching staff under Pat Riley as a volunteer assistant halfway through the 1999-00 season. The following season he was promoted to full-time status and served as an Assistant Coach/Advance Scout for the HEAT for two seasons (2000-02) before moving to the bench full-time beginning with the 2002-03 season. During his 14 years on the HEAT coaching staff, Askins worked extensively with the HEAT's forwards and his primary duties included the development of Miami's players both during the season and in the off-season.

Askins still ranks among Miami's all-time leaders in games played (5th), three-point field goals attempted (10th), three-point field goals made (11th), offensive rebounds (11th), total rebounds (14th), blocked shots (15th), steals (15th), defensive rebounds (17th) and minutes (17th). Known for his aggressive play and long range shooting, Askins served as a captain for the HEAT for four consecutive seasons from 1995-99 and captured the team's Leadership Award in both the 1994-95 and 1995-96 seasons.

Askins is also a former participant in the HEAT's TeamUp program, which prompted kids to become involved in community service, and was one of the team's most active community spokespersons during his career. In his free time, he enjoys golf, cigars, dominoes, backcountry fishing and growing orchids.

A graduate of the University of Alabama, Askins and his wife, Paulina, have twin boys, Franco and Vicente, and reside in Davie.

CHAD KAMMERER

DIRECTOR OF NBA SCOUTING/ ADVANCE SCOUT

Chad Kammerer begins his 15th year with the Miami HEAT organization and his third as Director of NBA Scouting/Advance Scout. Among his responsibilities, Kammerer provides scouting reports and player evaluations to assist the HEAT coaching staff in their game preparations.

Prior to being elevated to his current role in September 2013, he had spent five seasons as an assistant coach on Erik Spoelstra's staff from 2008-13, assisting in the areas of game planning, scouting and player development. He has also served as an assistant coach for the HEAT's summer league team for six years.

Kammerer originally joined the organization on a part-time basis during the 2001-02 season and then spent six years as the HEAT's full-time advance scout, from 2002-08 before moving to the bench.

Prior to joining the HEAT, Kammerer served as an assistant coach at Valparaiso University, the University of California at Los Angeles (UCLA), Concordia University (CA) and the University of Mississippi.

Kammerer, the son of HEAT Vice President, Player Personnel Chet Kammerer, was born in Indiana and raised in California. He graduated from Westmont College in 1990 and later went on to earn his master's degree at the University of Mississippi in 1993.

He and his wife, Nichole, reside in Michigan with their two children, Natasha and Chase.

BOB McADOO

SCOUT/COMMUNITY LIAISON

Bob McAdoo enters his 21st season with the HEAT organization and his second in the role of Scout/Community Liaison. He brings 34 years of combined NBA experience, as an assistant coach, player and scout, into the field of player personnel and scouting where he serves as one of the lead scouts for HEAT Vice President, Player Personnel Chet Kammerer. In his current role, McAdoo's duties include scouting on the NBA, college and international levels.

A former NBA MVP, McAdoo joined the HEAT as an assistant coach under Pat Riley beginning with the 1995-96 season and remained a fixture on the HEAT bench for 19 seasons under Riley, Stan Van Gundy and Erik Spoelstra. During his 19 years as an assistant coach he worked primarily with the HEAT big men and was instrumental in developing their overall skills. He also worked on a constant basis with all players to improve their shooting skills, while imparting the wisdom and knowledge derived from a 14-year NBA playing career. McAdoo was in charge of charting the team's offensive efficiency and focusing on the strengths and weaknesses of opponent's big men. He also served as the head coach of the HEAT's Summer League team in 2004.

Generally considered the greatest shooting big man in NBA history, McAdoo enjoyed a storied 14-year playing career in the NBA, which included three consecutive scoring titles from 1973-74 through 1975-76 – making him one of only seven NBA players to accomplish the feat. He appeared in five consecutive All-Star games as well as being named the NBA MVP in 1975. McAdoo received the game's greatest honor when he was elected into the Naismith Memorial Basketball Hall of Fame in 2000.

Over his career, "Doo" averaged 22.1 points and 9.4 rebounds while connecting on 50.3 percent of his field goal attempts. McAdoo, the second overall pick in the 1972 NBA Draft, began his NBA career in 1972 as a member of the Buffalo Braves coached by Hall of Famer Dr. Jack Ramsay. He went on to capture the 1972-73 Rookie of the Year award after averaging 18.0 points and 9.1 rebounds. In each of the next three seasons he averaged at least 30 points and 12 rebounds. His career also included tours with New York, New Jersey, Boston, Philadelphia and the Los Angeles Lakers were he played for Pat Riley and won NBA championships in 1982 and 1985. After finishing in 1986 with the 76ers, McAdoo played professionally in Italy (1986-92) where his teams went on to win the Italian Championship three times and the European Championship twice. Individually, he captured MVP honors in both the Italian League and European Championships. In May of 2008 he was named as one of the 50 most influential personalities in European Club Basketball over the last half century, one of just 35 players to receive that honor.

McAdoo's success began early in his career, as he was an All-American at every level of play, starting in high school, and then at Vincennes JC, where he was a member of the JUCO national championship team in 1970. He also received All-America honors while playing at the University of North Carolina, where he helped guide the Tar Heels to a Final Four appearance. McAdoo also played for the United States in the 1971 Pan American Games.

McAdoo and his wife, Patrizia, reside in Boca Raton with their sons Russell and Ryan. Their daughter, Rasheeda, is in her third year at Georgia Tech on a tennis scholarship. McAdoo's eldest son Robert III and daughter Rita live in New Jersey, while their other son, Ross, lives in Alaska.

THE RECORD-SETTING 27-GAME WIN STREAK

In a historic season filled with many highlights, one of the most enduring memories of the 2012-13 season for the Miami HEAT was a franchise-record 27-game winning streak from Feb. 3, 2013-Mar. 25, 2013. The streak began with a win at Toronto (100-85) on Feb. 3 and ended with a loss at Chicago (101-97) on Mar. 27. In addition to being the longest streak in franchise history it represents the second longest winning streak in NBA history.

Ray Allen's three-point field goal with 5.2 seconds left in regulation in Game 6 of the 2013 NBA Finals against San Antonio allowed the HEAT to overcome a five-point deficit in the final 20.2 seconds and force overtime. The HEAT went on to defeat the Spurs in overtime in Game 6 and then two nights later on June 20, Miami captured its third NBA championship.

January 11 The NBA upheld a protest filed by the HEAT after its 117-111 overtime loss to the Atlanta Hawks on December 19, 2007 at Philips Arena, which would result in the replay of the final 51.9 seconds of the game's overtime period with Miami trailing 114-111. The replay was scheduled to take place prior to the next contest between the two teams, at Atlanta on March 8. The HEAT protested the game because, with 51.9 seconds left in overtime, the Hawks' scoring table personnel incorrectly disqualified HEAT center Shaquille O'Neal, asserting a foul committed by O'Neal was his sixth of the game, when in fact it was his fifth. The error occurred because the Hawks' Official Scorer mistakenly attributed to O'Neal a foul with 3:24 remaining in the fourth quarter which was actually called on Udonis Haslem. NBA Commissioner David Stern ruled that the Hawks were grossly negligent in committing this scoring error, since they failed to follow league-mandated scoring procedures and failed to respond effectively when the members of the statisticians' crew noticed the mistake. Under the unprecedented set of circumstances, the Commissioner granted the HEAT's protest, and fined the Hawks $50,000 for their violation of league rules. The protest was the first granted by the NBA since December 14, 1982 when then-NBA Commissioner Larry O'Brien upheld a protest by the San Antonio Spurs in a double-overtime loss to the Los Angeles Lakers.

January 24 Dwyane Wade was named a starter for the Eastern Conference in the 2008 NBA All-Star game in New Orleans. Wade finished as the top vote-getter among Eastern Conference guards with 1,608,260 votes.

February 27 Assigned Daequan Cook and Joel Anthony to their NBA D-League affiliate, the Iowa Energy.

March 3 Dorell Wright underwent surgery to repair a meniscal tear on the lateral joint line of his left knee which he injured the previous night at Sacramento. The surgery was performed by team physician Dr. Harlan Selesnick.

March 8 Recalled Daequan Cook and Joel Anthony from the Iowa Energy of the NBA D-League.

March 8 The HEAT and Hawks replayed the final 51.9 seconds of overtime from their December 19, 2007 game, in which the NBA upheld a HEAT protest. Neither team scored after the resumption of play and the Hawks won the protested game, 114-111. The Hawks then went on to win the regularly scheduled game at Philips Arena, 97-94, to complete the sweep.

March 10 Released Smush Parker.

March 11 Dwyane Wade underwent shock wave therapy on his left knee, performed by team physician Dr. Harlan Selesnick, ending his 2007-08 season.

March 12 Signed forward Bobby Jones to a 10-day contract.

March 21 Signed forward Stephane Lasme and guard Blake Ahearn to 10-day contracts after receiving a pair of special roster exemptions granted by the NBA.

March 21 Udonis Haslem underwent season-ending ankle arthroscopy and debridement surgery to remove a large bone spur in his left ankle. The surgery was performed by team physician Dr. Harlan Selesnick and was assisted by Dr. Jim Losito.

March 22 Signed free agent forward Kasib Powell to a 10-day contract.

March 27 The NBA announced the HEAT and New Jersey Nets will oppose one another in preseason games in London and Paris in October of 2008 as part of the NBA Europe Live tour.

March 31 Signed Blake Ahearn and Stephane Lasme to second 10-day contracts.

The honor for Wade marked the eighth time he earned All-NBA accolades.

June 10 The HEAT announced it entered into a single affiliation partnership with the NBA Development League's Sioux Falls Skyforce and will have full control over their basketball operations beginning with the 2013-14 season.

June 18 In one of the greatest postseason comebacks in franchise history, the HEAT staved off elimination in Game 6 of the NBA Finals with a 103-100 overtime win over the San Antonio Spurs at the AmericanAirlines Arena. Miami rallied from a 13-point deficit over the final 15 minutes to force a deciding Game 7 two nights later. The HEAT trailed by five (94-89) with 20.2 seconds left in regulation before LeBron James hit a trey and the Spurs added a free throw. Miami still trailed by three when Chris Bosh grabbed an offensive rebound and found Ray Allen in the corner for the game-tying three-pointer with 5.2 seconds left in regulation. In the overtime session Allen hit a pair of free throws with 1.9 seconds left to put Miami up three and Bosh sealed the victory by blocking a three-point field goal attempt by Danny Green with 1.2 seconds remaining. James recorded a triple-double for the HEAT with game highs in points (32) and assists (11) and added 10 rebounds.

June 20 The HEAT defeated the San Antonio Spurs, 95-88, at the AmericanAirlines Arena to capture their second consecutive and third overall NBA Championship. LeBron James, who was named the NBA Finals MVP for the second straight year, scored a game-high 37 points and added a team-high 12 rebounds. Dwyane Wade added a double-double with 23 points and 10 rebounds and Shane Battier hit a postseason career-high six three-point field goals to finish with 18 points.

June 24 An estimated crowd of 400,000 people once again lined the streets of downtown Miami for the HEAT's championship parade and a standing room only crowd in the AmericanAirlines Arena witnessed the championship celebration.

June 25 Forwards James Jones and Rashard Lewis each exercised their player options for the 2013-14 season.

NBA CARES

NBA Cares is the league's global social responsibility program that builds on the NBA's mission of addressing important social issues. This season, as part of the 10th anniversary of its creation, NBA Cares is renewing its commitment to communities around the world by inspiring play and teaching basketball's values to more than 15 million youth, providing an additional 3 million hours of hands-on service to others, and leaving a lasting legacy in communities by building 1,000 more safe places to live, learn or play by 2025. NBA Cares works with internationally recognized youth-serving programs that support education, youth and family development, and health-related causes, including: Special Olympics, YMCA of the USA, Boys and Girls Clubs of America, UNICEF, the Make-A-Wish Foundation, Share Our Strength and GLSEN.

THE PARTNERSHIP

On June 10, 2013, the Miami HEAT announced they had entered into a single affiliation partnership with the NBA Development League's Sioux Falls Skyforce and on August 24, 2015 they extended that relationship through the 2016-17 season. Beginning with the 2013-14 season the HEAT became the only NBA team affiliated with the Skyforce and gained full control over their basketball operations. Miami, which had been paired with the Skyforce the previous four seasons, became the 13th NBA team to have a one-on-one partnership with an NBA D-League team, and the sixth to enter into a "hybrid" affiliation, meaning the HEAT pays for and controls the Skyforce's basketball operations, while existing local ownership maintains primary responsibility for the team's off-the-court business operations and community initiatives. This year the NBA and the NBA Development League have an all-time high 18 single-affiliation partnerships.

The HEAT join the Boston Celtics (Maine Red Claws), Detroit Pistons (Grand Rapids Drive), Houston Rockets (Rio Grande Valley Vipers), Memphis Grizzlies (Iowa Energy), Orlando Magic (Erie BayHawks), Phoenix Suns (Bakersfield Jam) and Sacramento Kings (Reno Bighorns) as NBA teams with "hybrid" NBA D-League affiliations.

Nine other NBA teams, including the Cleveland Cavaliers (Canton Charge), Golden State Warriors (Santa Cruz Warriors), Los Angeles Lakers (L.A. D-Fenders), New York Knicks (Westchester Knicks), Oklahoma City Thunder (Oklahoma City Blue), Philadelphia 76ers (Delaware 87ers), San Antonio Spurs (Austin Toros), Toronto Raptors (Raptors 905) and Utah Jazz (Idaho Stampede) fully own and operate their D-League teams while the Dallas Mavericks and Texas Legends are one-to-one affiliates.

The Sioux Falls Skyforce joined the NBA D-League in 2006 after serving stints with both the International Basketball League (2000-01) and the Continental Basketball Association (1989-00 & 2001-06). The Skyforce captured two CBA Championships (1996 & 2005) and three CBA division titles before joining the NBA D-League where it has made five postseason appearances. Since the teams entered into a hybrid affiliation beginning with the 2013-14 season, the Skyforce has made the playoffs both seasons, compiled a .600 winning percentage and have captured a share of two Central Division titles, winning the division outright during the 2014-15 season.

2014-15 RECAP

The 2014-15 campaign marked the 26th overall season for the Sioux Falls Skyforce franchise. In its ninth year in the NBA Development League and second season in a single affiliation partnership with the Miami HEAT, the Skyforce reached the postseason for the second consecutive season. After finishing in a tie for the Central Division title in 2013-14, first-year head coach Phil Weber led the Skyforce to a 29-21 record last season and their first outright Central Division title before losing in the first round of the 2015 NBA D-League Playoffs to the Canton Charge.

Four Skyforce players earned GATORADE Call-Ups to the NBA, including Tyler Johnson, Henry Walker, Larry Drew II and Andre Dawkins. The Miami HEAT assigned five players to the Skyforce, including Hassan Whiteside, Shabazz Napier, Zoran Dragic, Dawkins and Johnson. Khem Birch and Fuquan Edwin were named to the 2015 All-NBA Development League Defensive First Team. Birch, a 2015 D-League All-Star Team selection, was also named to the All-Rookie First Team, Shawn Jones was an All-Rookie Second Team selection and Dawkins earned All-Rookie Third Team honors. Scotty Hopson earned Player of the Month honors in March, averaging 22.5 points, 4.4 rebounds, 3.8 assists and 1.00 steals while shooting 58.4 percent from the field and leading the Skyforce to a 9-2 record.

SKYFORCE STAFF

DAN CRAIG HEAD COACH

Dan Craig begins his 13th year with the HEAT organization and his first as Head Coach of the Sioux Falls Skyforce, Miami's NBA Development League team. During his tenure with the HEAT he has steadily risen through the ranks of the organization, starting as a video intern in 2003-04, before being elevated to his current position as the 18th head coach in Skyforce history.

Craig, who has served as Head Coach of Miami's Summer League teams the past three summers (2013-15), was named Assistant Video Coordinator in 2004-05 and two years later was promoted to Video Coordinator, a role he served for five seasons before being elevated to Video Coordinator/Player Development Coach prior to the 2011-12 season. The following season, Craig was named Assistant Coach/Video Coordinator and then in 2013-14, he was promoted to Assistant Coach/Player Development. Last season, he served as Assistant Coach/Director of Player Development for the HEAT, where he was responsible for game planning and focusing on the development of Miami's perimeter players.

Prior to joining the HEAT, Craig had a brief stint as a graduate assistant at Bloomsburg University. Throughout the summer months of 2000-04, Craig served as a basketball camp counselor for the Five-Star Basketball Camp, the Boston Celtics Basketball Camp, the Providence College Team Camp, the Merrimack College Basketball Camp, Plymouth State College Basketball Camp, the Raising Expectations Basketball Camp and also directed the Chelmsford Basketball Camp.

Craig is a graduate of Plymouth State University, where he graduated with a degree in marketing. He also played basketball for Plymouth State from 1999-2003 and was named co-captain during his junior and senior seasons. Craig and his wife, Jackie, have one son, Brodie.

OCTAVIO De LA GRANA PLAYER DEVELOPMENT COACH / DIRECTOR OF MINOR LEAGUE OPERATIONS

Octavio De La Grana begins his 10th year as a member of the HEAT organization and his second in the role of Player Development Coach/Director of Minor League Operations. His responsibilities will once again include the mentoring and development of HEAT players while also working as part of the HEAT's Development League affiliate, the Sioux Falls Skyforce. De Le Grana, who has spent the past two seasons as a part of the Skyforce coaching staff, will do so again this season as an assistant coach under Skyforce Head Coach Dan Craig. During his 10 seasons with Miami, De La Grana has also served as an advance scout and was the team's liaison to the Skyforce when Miami assigned players to their D-League affiliate before the franchises entered into their current hybrid relationship.

Prior to joining the HEAT, De La Grana had a combined 18 years of head coaching experience at the high school level, including two stints at Florida Christian High School, where he led his team to the Class 2A State Championship in 1996, a season in which he garnered Coach of the Year honors. He also spent eight years as head basketball coach at Westminster Christian High School.

De La Grana, a proud Cuban-American, is a graduate of Liberty University where he earned a degree in general studies. He attended Florida Christian High School and played basketball, where in 1979 he was chosen All-Dade County and later was inducted into the school's Athletic Hall of Fame. He and his wife, Angie, reside in Palmetto Bay with their six children, Derrick, Daniel, Chelsea, Jenny, Annie and Leah.

MIAMI HEAT

MEDIA

HEAT SPORTS MEDIA RELATIONS STAFF

Rob Wilson
SENIOR DIRECTOR OF SPORTS MEDIA RELATIONS

Rob Wilson begins his 17th season with the HEAT and his second as Senior Director of Sports Media Relations. He originally joined the HEAT as Assistant Director of Sports Media Relations in August of 1999 before being elevated to Director of Sports Media Relations in September of 2002. Wilson, who was promoted to his current position in October of 2014, is responsible for the HEAT's day-to-day and game-night media operations and serves as the team's statistical historian. He also assists Vice President, Sports Media Relations Tim Donovan with daily player and coach interviews and travels with the team and serves as a media liaison on the road. Wilson has also served as the editor of the HEAT media guide for each of the past 17 seasons and served seven seasons as editor of the HEAT postseason guide.

A 1986 Villanova University graduate, Wilson has spent 33 years in the professional and collegiate athletics field. He began his career as a student manager at Villanova from 1982-86 and was a member of the staff when the Wildcats captured the 1985 NCAA Championship. After graduation, he served as public relations intern for one season at the Big East Conference in 1987-88. From 1988-93, he was the sports information director at Drexel University before joining the public relations staff of the Philadelphia Phillies in August of 1993, just two months before their World Series appearance. Wilson left the Phillies one year later to become the Men's Basketball SID at the University of Miami, a position he held for just over three years. During his tenure at UM, he also served as the Baseball SID and an assistant SID with the Hurricanes' nationally-ranked football team. He was hired by the Philadelphia 76ers in August of 1997 and spent two seasons as the Manager of Communications before joining the HEAT in August of 1999.

A native of Commack, NY, Wilson currently lives in Miami Beach.

Michael Lissack
DIRECTOR OF SPORTS MEDIA RELATIONS

Michael Lissack begins his 12th full season with the HEAT and his second as Director of Sports Media Relations. He originally joined the HEAT as Assistant Director of Sports Media Relations in April of 2004 before being promoted to his current position in October of 2014. His responsibilities include assisting the department with day-to-day operations, arranging player appearances, as well as designing and editing the team's preseason and postseason media guides. He also travels with the team and serves as a media liaison during road games.

Lissack received his bachelor of science degree from Boston University's College of Communications in 1999. Throughout his college years, he held season-long internships in the Boston Celtics media relations department, and summer internships with the Philadelphia 76ers. He also interned with the NHL's Boston Bruins and worked in BU's sports marketing department.

Upon graduation, Lissack spent one season in the Golden State Warriors creative services department before returning to Boston to join the Celtics as Media Relations/Creative Services Coordinator. In that position, he was responsible for the public image of the club, as he was actively involved in writing, editing and creating all team publications and print ads, including the annual media guide and being editor of the team's monthly magazine. He was also instrumental in the day-to-day media operations and developing the Shaw's/Reebok Pro Summer League into a premier yearly event. In February of 2003, he was promoted to Manager of Team Relations where he focused on the daily media operations of the team.

A native of Philadelphia, PA, Lissack resides in Miami Beach.

Nick Maiorana
SPORTS MEDIA RELATIONS MANAGER

Nick Maiorana enters his 14th season with the HEAT organization and his 12th as a member of the Sports Media Relations department. He is responsible for writing team press releases, game notes, credentialing media and assisting the department with numerous interview requests as well as some team traveling duties throughout the season. He also serves as assistant editor of the team's publications including the media guide, preseason guide and postseason guide. In addition to his daily responsibilities, he created and maintains the HEAT's photo archive with over 27 years of historical images.

During the summer of 2012, Maiorana was promoted to Sports Media Relations Manager after serving as an assistant for eight years. In 2009 he was named the Assistant Media Coordinator for the first and second round games of the NCAA Tournament held at the AmericanAirlines Arena as he was pivotal in meeting NCAA protocols while coordinating interviews and event staff duties.

The Miami native originally joined the HEAT as an intern in 2002 before being named Sports Media Relations Assistant in 2004. A graduate of Florida International University, Maiorana and his wife, Evelyn, reside in Miami with their daughter, Julianne.

HEAT MEDIA SERVICES

GENERAL

As the Miami HEAT enters its 28th NBA season, the team appreciates the coverage and support from the South Florida, national and international media. We look forward to working with you once again this year. In an effort to provide a quality work environment, the HEAT has established the following media information and guidelines.

AMERICANAIRLINES ARENA

The AmericanAirlines Arena mailing address is 601 Biscayne Boulevard, Miami, FL 33132. It is located just north of Port Boulevard and Bayside Marketplace and east of Biscayne Boulevard across from a Miami landmark, the Freedom Tower. Arriving via I-95 take 395 east to the Biscayne Boulevard exit, make a right at the second light and the arena will be on your left on 8th Street.

CREDENTIALS

HEAT media credentials, issued through the team's Sports Media Relations department, are required for admission to games in the AmericanAirlines Arena. Working media personnel, both regionally and nationally, are welcome at HEAT games. There are two types of HEAT media credentials available: media and photographer.

All credential requests must be approved by both the HEAT and the NBA in order to gain entrance. All credential requests (season and single-game) must come from the sports director or editor of your media outlet and be delivered on company letterhead to the attention of Rob Wilson and Nick Maiorana at the HEAT Sports Media Relations department. Those requests may be mailed, e-mailed to rwilson@heat.com and nmaiorana@heat.com or faxed to 786-777-1615. All requests from foreign and international media outlets must go directly to Mark Fischel (mfischel@nba.com/212-407-8047) and Michael Perrelli (mperrelli@nba.com/212-407-8304) of the NBA International Public Relations department and must be received at least five business days prior to the requested game. A credential request does not constitute a credential approval and it is the responsibility of the media outlet requesting a credential to call Nick Maiorana in the HEAT Sports Media Relations department at 786-777-1637 to confirm that the request was received and to verify whether it has been approved. A photo identification is necessary to pick up an approved credential. No credentials will be mailed.

HEAT season credentials will be issued only to media members who cover approximately 75 percent of the HEAT's home games with few exceptions. Additionally, head shots are required for all season passes for identification purposes. All other approved requests will be single-game credentials. A single-game credential allows the same access and privileges as a season pass. Single-game requests are due in the HEAT Sports Media Relations office no later than 48 hours before the requested game.

Credentials are to be worn in full view at all times, and once issued are the sole responsibility of the recipient and are non-transferable. In accordance with NBA rules, any person found with a credential other than their own will be escorted from the arena and the credential will be confiscated and revoked for the remainder of the season. Under NO CIRCUMSTANCES will that credential be returned.

AMERICANAIRLINES ARENA MEDIA ENTRANCE

Media covering a HEAT game in the AAA should enter the building through the Command Center, located at the southwest corner of the building (off Port Boulevard) next to the loading dock in the TV truck bay. This is where credentials can be picked up. The credential gate opens three and a half hours prior to the scheduled start of the game on weekdays and three hours on weekends.

THE ROBES PATTON MEMORIAL PRESSROOM

The media workroom, named in memory of late HEAT beat writer Robes Patton, is located near the northwest corner of the building. Upon entering the media gate, proceed to the left past the court entrance and the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom will be on your left. Admission to the workroom is granted with a HEAT game credential. There is a working area where media can file stories and will be provided with game information. Team statistics, news releases, media guides, game notes and out-of-town scores are available in the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom. Wireless internet access is available as well. The user name is aaamedia and the password is #aaamedia@601$.

MEDIA DINING ROOM

Adjacent to the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom on the northwest corner of the building is the Media Dining Room where food and drinks are provided to the media at a cost of $7.00. ALL media members (home, visiting or national) choosing to eat the pre-game meal will be required to pay the nominal fee with $5 from each meal being donated to the Robes Patton Memorial Fund. Receipts are available upon request. A hot meal will be served beginning three hours prior to the scheduled game time and will shut down 30 minutes after the listed start time of the game. Snacks will be available beginning at halftime and will continue to be available through the end of the game. A HEAT media credential is needed to gain access to the Media Dining Room.

AMERICANAIRLINES ARENA LOCKER ROOMS

The HEAT locker room, as well as the visiting team's locker room, is located off the same hallway as the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom. Making a left out of the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom or Media Dining Room, the visiting team locker room is located on the right (behind the visiting team bench) on the North side of the building. Continue down the hallway, past the Media Interview Room, as it wraps around to the right, the HEAT locker room is located on your left (behind the corner by the HEAT bench). As per NBA policy, access to the locker room is strictly limited to pre- and post-game only to media with appropriate credentials. Those credentials are issued only to media working the game. No still cameras or cell phones are allowed in the HEAT or visitors locker rooms.

HEAT INTERVIEW PROCEDURES

Access to HEAT players is pre- and post-game only in accordance with NBA directives. The HEAT locker room will open 75 minutes prior to the scheduled start time of each game for a period of 30 minutes and will close 45 minutes prior to the scheduled start time. The visiting team locker room will open between 75-90 minutes prior to tipoff for a period of 30-45 minutes and will also close 45 minutes before game time. Media members are prohibited from entering the Ron Culp

HEAT MEDIA SERVICES

Training Room, the Zo Zone Weight Room or HEAT Player Lounge. The HEAT Sports Media Relations staff is available to assist with pre- and post-game interviews. HEAT Head Coach Erik Spoelstra will hold a pre-game press conference 105 minutes prior to the scheduled game time (5:45 p.m. for a 7:30 p.m. game) for each home game in the Media Interview Room and the visiting head coach will hold his availability session 90 minutes before the scheduled game time, usually outside the visiting locker room.

After the conclusion of games and the NBA mandated 15-minute "cool down" period, HEAT players are available for media interviews. These sessions are conducted inside the team locker room and valid HEAT credentials with locker room access are required for admittance. HEAT Head Coach Erik Spoelstra is available to the media in the Media Interview Room, located down the hall from the HEAT locker room.

AMERICANAIRLINES ARENA MEDIA SEATING

In AmericanAirlines Arena, press seating is available on the sidelines (both courtside and at the top of the lower bowl) and in the Upper Press Level. Members of the media, whether they have a season pass or a single-game pass, who would like a press seat must request one with the HEAT Sports Media Relations Department by 5:00 p.m. the day preceding the requested game (5:00 p.m. Friday for a weekend or Monday game). Press seating will be assigned for each game. The HEAT asks that media personnel consult seating charts located in the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom, the Media Dining Room and in the seating areas to locate their seats. If your name does not appear on the seating chart and you have a credential, you are welcome to watch the game from the Upper Press Box, pressroom or dining room. Seating is based with priority going to media outlets that regularly cover the HEAT or their opponents on a daily basis, national outlets that cover the NBA on a daily basis and outlets which cover the HEAT on a weekly basis. You will be asked to move if you are found to be sitting in a seat that is not assigned to you or your outlet.

RADIO AND TELEVISION BROADCASTS

Visiting team broadcasters coming to AmericanAirlines Arena should plan to request statisticians well in advance of a particular game. Please contact Rob Wilson (rwilson@heat.com, 786-777-4466) to arrange for a statistician. This enables the HEAT Sports Media Relations department time to provide the best available statisticians. The HEAT Sports Media Relations staff will be available to assist in arranging pre- and post-game interviews for broadcasts, as well. Media outlets needing a room to shoot interviews and any special requests should contact Rob Wilson as soon as possible, at least 24 hours prior to game time, because space is limited.

PHONE LINES/INSTRUMENTS

The HEAT provide a limited number of complimentary phones and phone lines for the media to use in the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom and the auxiliary radio and photo workrooms (pipe and drape set-ups in the marshalling area). Media outlets wanting their own dedicated phone lines, either courtside, in the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom or the auxiliary work areas, should contact Tony Coba (tcoba@heat.com, 786-777-1216) or Jose Martin (jamartin@heat.com, 786-777-1228) in the HEAT IT Department by 5:00 p.m. the night prior to the requested game (5:00 p.m. on Friday for a weekend or Monday night game).

INTERNET ACCESS

Wireless internet access is provided free of charge to media members in the Robes Patton Memorial Pressroom. Wireless internet access is also available in the main bowl of the AmericanAirlines Arena and the Media Interview Room. The username is aaamedia and the password is #aaamedia@601$.

PHOTOGRAPHERS

Photographers wishing to cover a particular HEAT game should request credentials no later than 48 hours before the scheduled game. Photographers work from assigned positions at each baseline. The sidecourt space in front of the scorer's table and on the opposite sideline is off limits, except for television camera crews approved by the NBA. Photographers must remain stationary and stay on the apron along each baseline, at least four feet off the court at all times. Photographers are also not allowed to shoot from the Upper Press Level or public walkways throughout the arena without approval from the HEAT Sports Media Relations department. Under no circumstances are flashbulbs permitted during games. In accordance with NBA rules, and to reduce the risk of injury to players, rubber lens shades are REQUIRED for all still photographers and film crews who are authorized to shoot NBA games.

Any requests for strobe equipment at HEAT games must come to Rob Wilson at the HEAT Sports Media Relations Department for approval. There is limited availability for strobes and if approved will cost the media outlet granted permission to shoot on the strobes a fee of $400 per game.

PARKING

The HEAT has a limited amount of media parking available, both on a season and single-game basis. Media parking, which is sold on a first-come, first-served basis at a reduced rate of $15 per game, is located across the street at Bayside Marketplace. Media members in need of parking should contact the HEAT Sports Media Relations department with as much advance notice as possible to purchase a pass in the Bayside lot.

MEDIA PACKETS

Informational packets are prepared and delivered for media that stay in Miami-area hotels. Media should make the request 48 hours prior to the scheduled game if they would like to receive a packet. Media packets include game credentials, game notes, league statistical leaders, press releases and recent feature clips. Media members can also have the information e-mailed to them by making a request and providing an e-mail address.

MEDIA HOTLINE

To get the latest practice and shootaround information, the media is encouraged to call the media hotline which is updated daily during the season. The HEAT Media Relations Hotline number is 786-777-4099.

AUTOGRAPHS

Seeking autographs or souvenir items from players or coaches is strictly prohibited and subject to forfeiture of credential. Media members are also prohibited from taking personal photos with players or coaches.

HEAT BROADCASTERS

Eric Reid

TELEVISION PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Eric Reid is the lone remaining original member of the Miami HEAT broadcasting team and enters his 28th season of calling the action for the HEAT.

Reid has broadcast 1,940 regular season HEAT games during the franchise's first 27 seasons, having joined the organization just prior to the team's inaugural season in 1988-89. This season is his 39th consecutive year broadcasting basketball and his 25th doing the play-by-play for the HEAT. Reid, who was won Emmy Awards for his play-by-play work in 2013 and 2014, will describe the action for all preseason, regular season and postseason games carried on FOX Sports Sun. He also serves as a host for FOX Sports Sun's Emmy award-winning Inside the HEAT series.

Reid started with the HEAT as the color analyst, for three seasons on the team's simulcast, before switching to play-by-play duties in 1991, where he worked alongside Dave Wohl, a former HEAT assistant coach and general manager. For eight seasons (1992-00), Reid teamed with Hall-of-Fame coach, Dr. Jack Ramsay. The popular tandem worked over 500 HEAT telecasts together. Reid has also teamed with former HEAT player Ed Pinckney (2000-03) and former NBA Head Coach Mike Fratello (2002-04). For the 13th straight year, Reid will be joined by another HEAT original, Tony Fiorentino. Every spring, the duo hosts the Reid and Fiorentino Celebrity Golf Classic and Call of the Game Dinner to raise money for Lauren's Kids and the Dade School's Athletic Foundation. In October of 2011 Reid and Fiorentino were honored by the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce with a Lifetime Contribution to Sports Award.

Reid is also an accomplished football broadcaster with 21 seasons of work on his resume, including the Big East Game of the Week telecast for two seasons on ESPN Regional, University of Miami games on both SportsChannel and Sunshine Network, Florida International University games on Sun Sports and WTVJ and Boston College contests on the New England Sports Network (NESN).

Prior to joining the HEAT, Reid spent 11 years as a college basketball broadcaster. For six years he was the radio voice of Providence College basketball, including the Friars' 1987 trip to the NCAA Final Four. Reid spent three years in Boston working for NESN and hosted both pre- and post-game shows for the Boston Red Sox. While at NESN he also did play-by-play for the Pawtucket Red Sox, the Red Sox AAA affiliate. He was also the host and writer for the syndicated weekly television show, "This Week in the Big East".

Reid, who in 2005 received the Outstanding Communicator award from St. Thomas University, began his broadcast career as the radio play-by-play voice of Cornell University football, basketball and lacrosse when he served as sports director at WHCU Radio in Ithaca, New York. He has also done play-by-play work with Brown University football, University of South Florida basketball and Big East basketball. In 1990 he called the NCAA Lacrosse National Championships for ESPN.

Reid is a 1979 graduate of Ithaca College and a native of Massapequa, NY. He resides in Boca Raton, with his wife Sonide. The couple has three children, Phyllisia, Andrew and Dariel.

HEAT BROADCASTERS

Tony Fiorentino

TV ANALYST

Tony Fiorentino, who has held a variety of positions within the HEAT organization since its inception in 1988, begins his 13th year as a regular member of the HEAT TV broadcast team. Fiorentino, who also serves as the HEAT's Summer Camp Director, will be teamed with Eric Reid as the color analyst on all HEAT FOX Sports Sun telecasts. The duo currently forms the only broadcasting team in the NBA that has been employed by their team since its inception. In addition to teaming up to call all the HEAT action on FOX Sports Sun, every spring the duo hosts the Reid and Fiorentino Celebrity Golf Classic and Call of the Game Dinner to raise money for Lauren's Kids and the Dade School's Athletic Foundation. In October of 2011, Reid and Fiorentino were honored by the Greater Miami Chamber of Commerce with a Lifetime Contribution to Sports Award.

Fiorentino, who has previous broadcasting experience as an analyst on University of Miami basketball games, a fill-in analyst for the HEAT (1991-95) and as a HEAT Insider on WAMI-TV, brings a wide array of coaching experience to his assignment. He arrived in Miami in 1988 and served as an assistant to Ron Rothstein for the HEAT's first three seasons. During that three-year period the HEAT increased its victory total each season. For three and a half seasons from 1991-95, Fiorentino served as a scouting coordinator for the HEAT before returning to the sidelines in the middle of the 1994-95 season as an assistant coach under interim head coach Alvin Gentry. Fiorentino remained on the HEAT bench for four seasons (1995-99) as an assistant coach on Pat Riley's staff, helping Miami capture three consecutive Atlantic Division crowns from 1996-99. In 2000 he was re-united with Rothstein and served as the lead assistant coach for the Miami SOL of the WNBA in their three years of existence, helping the team earn a playoff berth in just its second season.

Prior to coming to Miami, Fiorentino served two years as an assistant coach for the men's basketball team at Iona College in New Rochelle, NY. He joined the Iona staff after eight successful seasons as head coach of the boy's basketball team at nationally renowned Mt. Vernon High School, where he led the school to New York Public School State Championships in 1979 and 1981 and compiled a 182-21 record. His teams won seven league titles and he earned Coach of the Year honors three times. When he resigned to become an assistant at Iona, Fiorentino had the highest winning percentage (.897) among all active high school basketball coaches in New York State.

After graduating from Dowling (NY) College in 1971, Fiorentino earned a master's degree in counseling from the University of Bridgeport in 1975. He was elected into the Westchester (NY) Sports Hall of Fame in 2011. Born in Mt. Vernon, NY, Fiorentino currently resides in Key Biscayne.

Jason Jackson

TV HOST & COURTSIDE REPORTER

This marks Jason Jackson's 12th season as television host and courtside reporter for Miami HEAT telecasts on FOX Sports Sun. He also serves as a host for FOX Sports Sun's Emmy award-winning series Inside the HEAT, as well as many HEAT community, corporate and season ticket holder events. Jackson has written all three HEAT docudramas Into the Fire, The Crown and Together We Rise. He also provides reports and features for HEAT.com, and hosts the Miami HEAT's stand alone postseason coverage, HEATV On HEAT.com, as well as past preseason coverage from Paris, London, Shanghai, Beijing, Bahamas and Rio De Janeiro. In addition to his duties with the HEAT, Jackson is a talk show host on SiriusXM's NBA Radio.

Jackson, a 13-time Emmy winner, is a versatile broadcasting veteran of over 25 years. For three seasons (2004-07), on both 790 the Ticket and 560 WQAM, Jackson hosted the post-game coverage for Miami Dolphins' radio broadcasts. Jackson has hosted a local radio show, The Jax Show, on both stations as well.

From 1995-2002, Jackson was an anchor/reporter at ESPN. He anchored NBA 2Night, NBA Matchup and co-hosted ESPN Radio's Gameday. Jackson served as host for ESPN's coverage of the NBA All-Star Game and the NBA Finals from 1997-2002. He was also a regular contributor to SportsCenter, ESPNews and ESPN.com.

Before joining ESPN, Jackson worked at WSVN-TV in Miami as a sports reporter/anchor from 1994-95. Prior to that, he was news director, anchor and talk show host at WFAL-AM and WBGU-FM in Bowling Green, OH from 1990-94.

Jackson is a 1994 graduate of Bowling Green State University. He was born in Delaware, OH, grew up in Cleveland, OH and later, Cincinnati, OH. Jackson and his family reside in Coconut Grove.

HEAT BROADCASTERS

John Crotty

TV STUDIO ANALYST & RADIO ANALYST

Former HEAT point guard John Crotty enters his 11th full season as a member of the HEAT broadcast team. The NBA veteran will once again team with Mike Inglis to analyze preseason, regular season and postseason action on the HEAT Radio Network. In addition to his radio duties, Crotty joins the television studio for HEAT games on FOX Sports Sun to provide analysis on the pre-game, halftime and post-game shows.

Crotty officially joined the HEAT broadcast team during the 2004-05 season, making his debut on radio with the HEAT's January 1st contest against the Charlotte Bobcats. From 2005-11, he also joined Sun Sports as a studio analyst for HEAT postseason games. Beginning with the 2011-12 season, Crotty took an expanded broadcast role and has served as a studio analyst for both regular season and postseason action.

During his 11-year NBA career, Crotty played for seven different teams before retiring after the 2002-03 season. In addition to his stint with the HEAT, Crotty played for Utah, Cleveland, Portland, Seattle, Detroit and Denver. He appeared in 477 regular season games and averaged 4.0 points, 2.1 assists and 12.1 minutes while shooting 43.1 percent from the floor, 38.4 percent from three-point range and 83.7 percent from the foul line. During his lone season with the HEAT in 1996-97, he averaged 4.8 points, 2.1 assists and 13.7 minutes while shooting 51.3 percent from the floor, 40.8 percent from three-point range and 84.4 percent from the foul line in 48 games. He helped the HEAT earn its first trip to the Eastern Conference Finals appearing in 15 postseason contests. For his career he saw action in 36 postseason contests and averaged 2.0 points and 1.0 assists in 7.5 minutes.

In addition to his broadcast duties, Crotty sells commercial real estate for Avison Young in South Florida, where he is a Principal and handles investment sales. He continues to be involved in the community as a member of the Orange Bowl Committee and through his youth basketball camp in Coral Gables. He graduated from the University of Virginia in 1991 with a degree in history, and he and his wife, Kara, are the parents to two daughters, Cassie and Connor. They currently reside in Coral Gables.

Ron Rothstein

TV STUDIO ANALYST & RADIO ANALYST

With a resume highlighted by over 50 years in the game, Ron Rothstein brings a wealth of knowledge to the HEAT broadcast team. For the second consecutive season he will appear in the studio for all home games broadcast on FOX Sports Sun and will serve as a radio analyst for a number of road games. The 2015-16 season marks Rothstein's 36th in professional basketball. Beginning as a regional scout in 1979, he has served as a head coach twice in the NBA, as an assistant coach with five franchises, as a regional scout with three teams and also spent two seasons as a broadcast analyst. During his 26 years on an NBA bench, his teams made 18 postseason appearances, highlighted by three NBA championships, nine conference finals appearances, six conference championships, six NBA Finals appearances and nine divisional championships.

Rothstein's ties to the HEAT organization run deep and began on July 12, 1988 when he was named Miami's first head coach. He guided the HEAT through its first three seasons, increasing the team's victory total each year. He also served as general manager and head coach of the WNBA's Miami SOL during its three-year history (2000-02) and had a 10-year run as an assistant coach for the HEAT before retiring from coaching after the 2013-14 season.

Rothstein began his NBA career in 1979 as a regional scout for the Atlanta Hawks before accepting a similar position with the New York Knicks in 1982. He got his first NBA coaching opportunity as an assistant with the Hawks in 1983. After spending three years on the Hawks bench, Rothstein joined the Detroit coaching staff as an assistant in 1986 where he was credited with establishing the defensive mindset and principals that helped the Pistons reach the Eastern Conference Finals in 1987 and the NBA Finals in 1988. After his first stint with the HEAT, Rothstein returned to Detroit for two seasons, first as an analyst for radio and television broadcasts and scout, then as the club's head coach for the 1992-93 season. In 1993, Rothstein became an assistant coach with the Cleveland Cavaliers, where he spent six seasons before making his return to South Florida to guide the SOL.

In 22 seasons as an assistant coach in the NBA, Rothstein played a key role in his teams compiling a 1,023-732 (.583) regular season record and a 132-91 (.592) postseason mark. During his 26 seasons in the NBA he coached in a combined 2,306 games as either a head or assistant coach. On June 2, 2011, in Game 2 of the NBA Finals, he reached a personal milestone when he coached in his 2,000th NBA game.

Prior to joining the pro ranks, Rothstein enjoyed a successful coaching career at the college and high school level. He served as an assistant coach at Upsala College from 1974-75 and was selected the Westchester County Coach of the Year in 1979 while at Eastchester High School in New York.

Rothstein was a three-year starter on the University of Rhode Island basketball team and was captain of the 1963-64 squad. After graduating from URI in 1964, Rothstein earned a master's degree from Hunter College. He was inducted into the University of Rhode Island Athletic Hall of Fame in 1989 and in 2010 he received the Ram Legend award. Additionally, he was inducted into the Miami Sports Hall of Champions in 2005 and the Westchester County (NY) Sports Hall of Fame in 2010.

Rothstein and his wife of 49 years, Olivia, reside in Miami and have two children. Their son David, lives in Miami with his wife, Patty, and their children, Aidan and Ava. Their daughter, Dana, also lives in Miami with her husband, Greg Brenner, and their children, Lucas and Hailey.

HEAT BROADCASTERS

Will Manso
TV STUDIO HOST

The 2015-16 season marks Will Manso's third as a member of the Miami HEAT broadcast team. He is in the HEAT TV studio for road games on FOX Sports Sun as the pre-game, halftime and post-game host and will also work a number of home games in a reporter capacity, doing interviews with assistant coaches and post-game hits outside the opposing locker room. In addition to his HEAT duties, Manso is the Sports Director at WPLG (ABC) in Miami and also serves as a host for primetime specials that air on WPLG.

Manso began his on-air career in 1996 as a sportscaster at UMTV, the student produced news station for the University of Miami. He helped develop a half-hour sports show called "Sportsdesk" and also anchored and reported for the school's newscast, Newsvision.

The New Jersey native left Miami for his first professional job in 1997 as the Weekend Sports Anchor/Reporter at KPAX-TV in Missoula, Montana. He later worked for the now defunct WOTV (ABC) in Battle Creek, Michigan in 1998, before getting a job at WPLG in March 1999. He was promoted to the position of Sports Director at WPLG in 2007.

Manso spends most of his free time with his daughter, Katelyn, and his wife, Elizabeth. A proud Cuban-American, he is involved in a number of community events and often speaks at local schools. He also emcees numerous events throughout the year and is a member of the National Association of Hispanic Journalists. He resides in Miami Beach.

Kristen Hewitt
TV REPORTER

With over 15 years of broadcasting experience, Kristen Hewitt enters her sixth season as a reporter for the Miami HEAT on Fox Sports Sun. She began with the team back in 2005 as the original Coordinating Producer of the series Inside the HEAT. One year later, she made her HEAT on-camera debut as a field reporter during the network's postseason coverage of the team's first Championship run in 2006.

Hewitt, a two-time Emmy award winner, began her sports broadcasting career in Orlando with the Orlando Magic in 1996, and later joined Sunshine Network where she worked behind the scenes as a producer and editor for nearly a decade. Since 2006, she has served as a television host and reporter for the HEAT, Dolphins, Panthers, Orlando Magic, and FOX Sports Florida, covering a wide array of Florida's collegiate and professional teams. She also produced, directed, and edited the Miami Marlins children's program Billy's Bunch, which aired on FOX Sports Florida for six seasons.

Along with her NBA coverage, Hewitt can be seen on CBS 4 and My33TV as the Television Host for Neighbors 4 Neighbors. Hewitt also contributes as a writer to the websites the Huffington Post, Bustle, and She Knows, and has created an award winning sports and parenting blog – mommy in SPORTS.

Originally from Minneapolis, Hewitt graduated from the University of Central Florida with a degree in Broadcast Journalism. She resides in South Florida with her husband Bob, and their two daughters Lila (6) and Emylia (3).

HEAT BROADCASTERS

Mike Inglis

RADIO PLAY-BY-PLAY ANNOUNCER

Veteran NBA radio/TV announcer Mike Inglis enters his 18th season as the HEAT's English-language radio voice where he calls every preseason, regular season and postseason HEAT game.

In his 22nd season broadcasting NBA games, Inglis' extensive experience includes two stints in the NBA prior to joining the HEAT. He began his NBA broadcasting career during the 1987-88 season calling Indiana Pacers games and then was hired as the first radio play-by-play announcer of the Toronto Raptors in 1995, where he broadcast simulcast games on TV and radio. He also called all the action of the HEAT's sister team, the Miami SOL in each of their three seasons.

Subsequent to his Pacers stint, Inglis remained with WIBC Radio in Indianapolis, serving as a sportscaster and morning show co-host and announcer on broadcasts of the NFL's Indianapolis Colts and the IHL's Indianapolis Ice on TV.

Inglis went to Canada in 1993, to become the first morning host on the country's inaugural sports talk radio station, Toronto's "The FAN" Sports Radio. Inglis also called games for the NFL American Bowl, Canadian Football League, American Hockey League TV Game of the Week, North American Soccer League and the Ontario Hockey League.

Inglis, his wife, Maryellen and daughter Megan, reside in South Florida.

Jonathan Zaslow

PRE-GAME, HALFTIME AND POST-GAME RADIO HOST

The 2015-16 season marks Jonathan Zaslow's sixth as the pre-game, halftime and post-game radio host for HEAT broadcasts. With 11 years of radio broadcasting experience, "Zas" began his career as a reporter in 2004 as an original employee of 790 the Ticket. He then became producer of The Boog Sciambi Show for three years while frequently providing on-air commentary. In 2008, he became host of The Zaslow Show which received a permanent evening timeslot in 2009. In addition to his HEAT duties, he currently co-hosts the popular Zaslow & Joy Show weekday mornings on 790 The Ticket.

Zaslow, a Miami native, graduated from the University of Florida in 2004 with a degree in telecommunications. He resides in Cooper City with his wife, Tamara, and sons, Corey and Jordan.

Tommy Tighe

HEAT RADIO NETWORK HOST

With 36 years of radio broadcasting experience, veteran Tommy Tighe enters his seventh season with the HEAT Radio Network producing and co-hosting the pre-game, halftime and post-game shows. In addition to his game day duties, Tighe hosts the HEAT Weekly Show Saturday mornings which airs on multiple stations throughout the weekend on the HEAT Radio Network.

Between 1998-2009, Tighe was a studio host for Westwood One's college football coverage including the Cotton, Sun, Alamo, Gator and Holiday Bowls as well as their college basketball schedule which included three Final Fours and 12 NCAA Men's Basketball Championships. In addition to his collegiate duties, Tighe covered the NFL for Westwood One where he hosted NFL Preview with Boomer Esiason and John Madden, NFL Fantasy and NFL.com's Insider Show including the NFL Playoffs, AFC and NFC Championship Games and nine Super Bowls. Tighe also anchored coverage of the Masters, US Open, PGA Championship and British Open from 2006-09 before joining Sirius/XM's radio coverage of the FedEx Cup Playoffs in late 2009.

Prior to his time with Westwood One, Tighe served as a studio anchor for 11 years (1987-98) with CBS Sports Radio where he produced and hosted many events including the 1992, 1994 and 1998 Winter Olympics. He also anchored the US Open for three years (1994-97) while providing sports commentary on a number of shows with Brent Musburger, Greg Gumbel, Jim Nantz and Pat O'Brien to name a few.

Tighe got his start in radio broadcasting in 1980 with SportsPhone before being hired by WCBS-AM in New York serving as a correspondent for seven years (1980-87) covering all New York area teams.

A 1977 Penn State University graduate with a degree in speech communications, Tighe was born in New York before moving to New Jersey where he maintained a residence for 35 years. He currently resides in Coral Springs.

HEAT BROADCASTERS

José Pañeda

SPANISH RADIO BROADCASTER

José Pañeda, the Spanish Voice ("La Voz") of the Miami HEAT, enters his 27th year as the team's Spanish language radio play-by-play announcer, broadcasting all HEAT regular season and postseason games. An original HEAT employee, Pañeda is in his 28th year with the team.

In 2002, Pañeda became the first NBA broadcaster to announce 1,000 consecutive regular season games in Spanish. Pañeda has announced the most games in HEAT history which include 2,084 consecutive regular season games and all 205 playoff games for the three-time NBA champions. Additionally in 1998, Pañeda broadcasted the first ever Miami HEAT game on Spanish language television.

In addition to his HEAT duties, Pañeda has been the Spanish language radio voice of the NBA Finals 10 times, which have been broadcast in the US and internationally on several networks including the NBA on ESPN Spanish Radio Network. Pañeda is also a veteran of 11 Spanish broadcasts of the NBA All-Star Game.

In 1998, Pañeda was named by Sports Illustrated as one of the five fastest speaking announcers in the NBA. On June 8th, 2011, he was featured for his broadcasts on the front page of the Wall Street Journal.

For two seasons, Pañeda was the host and play-by-play announcer for WNBA games broadcast to 21 countries in Latin America on Gems Television. In the summer of 1999, Pañeda was the play-by-play voice of basketball on Univision's network coverage of the Pan American Games. He has also broadcast NBA games to TV viewers in most of Latin America through TNT Latino and provided play-by-play commentary for Fox Sports America. In 1992, Pañeda was the television analyst at the Olympic qualifying Tournament of the Americas on Univision.

Pañeda, who has also worked on English language radio and TV in Miami, is currently an expert NBA analyst for the Univision Sports Network (Radio & TV) where he serves as an occasional guest host on the TV show ZONA NBA.

In his additional role as Senior Advisor, Hispanic Broadcasting & Marketing, Pañeda is responsible for serving as the HEAT's spokesperson in the Hispanic community and advising the HEAT Group with their efforts. This includes creating and implementing different plans to assist the Marketing, Public Relations, Internet, Social Media, and Community Affairs departments. This is in addition to overseeing the Spanish radio broadcasts.

Born and raised in Miami, Pañeda is a graduate of Belen Jesuit Prep High School and Florida International University ('86). In 2008, Pañeda, a high school baseball and soccer letterman, was inducted into the Belen Jesuit High School Sports Hall of Fame with the first ever Lifetime Achievement award for his broadcast achievements. Pañeda and his wife, Ana, are the parents of twin boys, José Carlos and Alexander Eduardo. The Pañeda's reside in Miami and enjoy the summers fishing in the Florida Keys.

Joe Pujala

SPANISH RADIO ANALYST/HOST

Joe Pujala enters his 18th year overall and 17th consecutive as a member of the Miami HEAT's Spanish broadcast team. In his role, he provides game analysis and serves as the pre-game, halftime and post-game host on all Spanish language broadcasts. He has worked nearly 1,700 games and has interviewed coaches, players, athletes, celebrities and dignitaries for his pre-game, halftime and post-game shows. He contributes regularly as an NBA analyst for national and international Spanish language TV and radio networks as well as local radio stations.

For the past five years, he has handled play-by-play on select Miami Marlins broadcasts on FOX Sports Florida and was the Spanish voice of University of Miami Hurricanes football for seven years. Pujala also hosts a morning drive sports talk show on 1210 AM ESPN Deportes Miami.

During the last 31 years, his career has dealt mainly in the broadcast and advertising fields including managing the largest Hispanic radio group in South Florida. He has spent the last 18 years working in the advertising agency business, and is President of ADHOUSE Advertising, an award-winning full-service general and Hispanic-market advertising agency.

Pujula, who was born in Cuba and raised in Miami, is a graduate of Barry University.

MIAMI HEAT COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

As an extension of the NBA Cares initiative – the Miami HEAT is committed to positively dedicating time and support for the improvement of all South Florida residents, especially children and women at risk. It is our belief that as our fans and youth give to us, it is equally important that we give back to them.

EDUCATIONAL PROGRAMS

HEAT ACADEMY
presented by Carnival Foundation

Recognizing the need for children to receive extra exposure to academics, particularly in reading, writing, math and science, the Miami HEAT for a 17th year has embraced the importance of providing children with the opportunity to have a free, quality after-school program in South Florida. Through the generous financial support of presenting sponsor Carnival Foundation and additional sponsors Florida Blue and C1 Bank, through a collaborative partnership with Miami-Dade County Public Schools, the Miami HEAT has teamed up to facilitate HEAT Academy at three local inner city schools: Paul Laurence Dunbar K-8 Center, Jesse J. McCrary Jr. Elementary and Riverside Elementary. At HEAT Academy, students work on academics, get assistance with homework, have a safe place to be when their parents are not available, and most importantly, learn from positive role models who inspire kids to excel. HEAT players and employees frequently visit the classrooms and introduce their own lesson plans to the students. HEAT Academy operates the majority of the school year, Monday - Friday.

MIAMI HEAT LEARN & PLAY CENTER
presented by Florida Blue

The Miami HEAT along with Florida Blue has teamed up to create Learn & Play Centers throughout South Florida. As part of the program, the HEAT renovates an existing room into a HEAT-themed area with new paint, computers, furniture, books, audio/video equipment, games for children and other essentials necessary to transform the area into a place where children can retreat to and spend some time reading, working on their homework or playing in a safe and secure environment. To date, the HEAT has established Learn & Play Centers at 15 sites. Each of our three HEAT Academy schools – Paul Laurence Dunbar K-8 Center, Jesse J. McCrary Jr. Elementary, and Riverside Elementary – as well as Chapman Partnership, Bucky Dent Gymnasium, His House Children's Home, Miami Rescue Mission, Grapeland Park, Community Partnership for Homeless, Shake-A-Leg Miami, Miami Springs Community Center, Joe Celestin Center, Branches, Little Haiti Cultural Complex, and most recently at The Learning Experience School in South Miami.

HEAT SCHOLARSHIPS
presented by Bank United

In its 20th year, the Miami HEAT and BankUnited are offering $25,000 in scholarship funds to high school seniors attending Miami-Dade, Broward, Monroe, and Palm Beach Schools. Scholarship applications are available in December and recipients are awarded in May. Scholarships are awarded based on academic performance, outstanding community service and financial need. Scholarships include the following: Three (3) HEAT Academic Scholarships, one (1) Alec Kessler Student-Athlete Scholarship, and one (1) Dr. Jack Ramsay Scholarship. Close to $225,000 in scholarship funds have been awarded since the inception of this program.

HEAT BLACK HISTORY MONTH CHALLENGE
presented by Pepsi

The Black History Month Challenge is a game show-style competition held at the AmericanAirlines Arena during the month of February where two teams of students from two local schools test their knowledge of Black history for a chance to win a HEAT prize pack, which includes HEAT tickets and a $4,000 grant to the winning school. This will be the seventh year of the event hosted by HEAT Television Host and Courtside Reporter Jason Jackson and also incorporating two HEAT players and HEAT legends as captains on each of the opposing teams.

HEAT SCHOOL TO WORK PROGRAM

For the past eight years, the Miami HEAT has partnered with Big Brothers Big Sisters of Miami in providing former HEAT Academy students with the educational and life skills necessary for a successful future. The HEAT School to Work Program has provided hundreds of students with different life skill workshops along with pairing them with the front office staff at the HEAT to help prepare them for college and future employment as well as for consideration of one of fifteen Carnival Scholarships.

ATHLETICS

HEAT YOUTH BASKETBALL
presented by Gatorade

In an effort to help create champions on the court as well as off it, the Miami HEAT and Gatorade have teamed up to offer South Florida youth recreational basketball leagues a chance to feel the HEAT Experience. As a member of the program, participants are eligible to receive an exclusive HEAT Youth Basketball package and special HEAT and Gatorade offers. Select member leagues are also afforded the opportunity to gain excellent on and off-court basketball training and instruction on improving their basketball and teamwork skills from HEAT players and coaches at special basketball clinics.

HEAT WHEELS - WHEELCHAIR BASKETBALL

In conjunction with the Miami-Dade Parks' Leisure Access Services, the Miami HEAT offers support for the Miami HEAT Wheels, an adult wheelchair basketball team wherein players teach others how those with disabilities lead active and productive lives. The HEAT Wheels practice throughout the year and compete in local and regional matches while attempting to qualify for the National Wheelchair Basketball Tournament in February. On April 19, 2015, The Miami HEAT Wheels team won their first National Wheelchair Basketball Division 3 Championship.

OUTREACH

HEAT BACK TO SCHOOL

HEAT Players, Xtreme Team, Burnie and HEAT Dancers welcome back to school the students and teachers of a local elementary school to help kickoff the school year. With a little encouragement from the HEAT players as they distribute school supplies to the children and the added excitement of the HEAT Experience, the event serves to alleviate any first day jitters the students might be feeling.

RE-HEAT
presented by C1 Bank

In its eighth year of existence the Re-HEAT program, with the support of C1 Bank, Levy Restaurants and the AmericanAirlines Arena, provides unserved food from all HEAT home games to local homeless shelters in the Miami area, namely the Miami Rescue Mission and Chapman Partnership.

HEAT HISPANIC HERITAGE MONTH CELEBRATION
presented by Pepsi

In its 10th year, with one of the largest Hispanic season ticket fan bases in the NBA, the Miami HEAT continues to engage the Hispanic community with an annual HEAT Hispanic Heritage Month Event during the month of October. Presented by Pepsi and supported by Florida Blue and FOX Sports Sun, the event consists of a fun-filled day of festivities for the general public that includes interaction with HEAT Players, HEAT Dancers, the Xtreme Team and Burnie the mascot.

HEAT LEARN TO SWIM
presented by Florida Blue

The Miami HEAT has teamed up with Florida Blue, FOX Sports Sun and the American Red Cross in an effort to stress the importance of water safety to children of all ages throughout South Florida. The HEAT "Learn to Swim" initiative emphasizes the need for parents and children to learn how to swim and be cautious in the water through numerous community appearances by HEAT players, Burnie, Xtreme Team and HEAT Dancers. Our HEAT April Pool's Day event officially serves to kickoff the swim season in South Florida. The event consists of a press conference and an interactive portion where HEAT players as well as HEAT Dancers join young swimmers in the pool for swim lessons under the direction and supervision of American Red Cross certified lifeguards. The HEAT also provides $10 off swim lesson coupons redeemable at select American Red Cross pool locations.

RANDOM ACTS OF HEAT

Random Acts of HEAT is a series of good deeds in the South Florida community meant to inspire individuals, families, organizations and communities to reciprocate kindness through random acts of their own.

HEAT SEASON OF GIVING

The Miami HEAT players, their families and front office HEAT staff ring in the holiday season each year with numerous festive celebrations and generous outreach efforts to help uplift the spirits of those in need. Programs include turkey giveaways during Thanksgiving, toys for children as part of our Holiday Hospital Visits, holiday parties and toy drives for local charities. During the holiday season, HEAT players work together to bring smiles and holiday cheer to those less fortunate, strengthening the connection between the beneficiaries during this most important time of year.

HEAT BEACH SWEEP

In its seventh year, the HEAT Beach Sweep serves as the centerpiece for the HEAT during NBA Green Week, which leverages the combined weight of the league, teams, players and partners to generate awareness and raise funds in support of environmental protection. The event is a clean-up project and pro-conservation campaign aimed at preserving Miami's beaches and ecosystems. HEAT players, talent and staff have all pitched in to clean up a beach, plant sea oats in sand dunes to help prevent beach erosion and create butterfly gardens to provide additional native habitat for local and migrating butterflies.

MIAMI HEAT VISITS, ITEM & MEMORABILIA REQUESTS AND TICKET DONATIONS

The Miami HEAT supports numerous organizations and events throughout the South Florida community. Through donations of sports memorabilia, in-kind items and as well as staff involvement and volunteerism, the Miami HEAT reaches out to the community on a year-round basis. All requests for donated items must be submitted in writing no less than six (6) weeks prior to an event to the address listed below.

MIAMI HEAT CHARITABLE FUND

Established in 1997, the Miami HEAT Charitable Fund supports programs for the betterment of at-risk families in South Florida. Beneficiaries include SafeSpace, a domestic violence shelter for women and children, the Jackson Memorial Foundation's Guardian Angels which now benefits Jackson's Center for Maternity and Babies at Holtz Children's Hospital, and the Miami Coalition for a Safe and Drug-Free Community.

Luol Deng brings joy to a young HEAT fan during one of the team's annual hospital visits.

The Miami HEAT Charitable Fund also provides educational scholarships for high school seniors and partners with inner-city elementary schools to fund the HEAT Academy, which provides after-school tutoring and mentoring programs. Through these initiatives, the Miami HEAT Charitable Fund continues to inspire the youth of South Florida to envision their dreams and achieve their goals.

MIAMI HEAT HOME COURT FOR KIDS WING AT HOLTZ CHILDREN'S HOSPITAL

Holtz Children's Hospital at Jackson Memorial continues to provide state-of-the-art assistance to children in their pediatric intensive care unit made possible from the joint donation of Carnival Cruise Lines and the Miami HEAT Charitable Fund. The redesigned facility currently lets parents play a more active role in their child's treatment and recovery. This ongoing partnership allows for more critically ill children to be treated in South Florida through cutting-edge medical care.

HOME STRONG

Established in 2006, Home Strong is an ongoing program that salutes and honors the courageous men and women in uniform for their dedication to the United States Armed Forces. Home Strong's mission is to give aid, support and recognition to any person who has been in harms way in the military service.

Beneficiaries include:

*HEAT Home Strong Recognition Program: Hosts, honors and supports military personnel and their families who have served in combat and reside in the South Florida area.

*Fisher House Foundation: Builds and maintains a "home away from home" at no charge for military families of patients receiving medical care at nearby VA medical centers.

MIAMI HEAT COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

*America's Moms for Soldiers: A program sending monthly "care packages" to our soldiers in Forward Operating Bases (F.O.B.s) in Iraq and Afghanistan.

*Rebuilding Together Miami-Dade: The Miami HEAT works alongside members of the U.S. Armed Forces to help renovate homes of local veterans while funding the renovation.

MIAMI HEAT FAMILY FESTIVAL

The 19th Annual Miami HEAT Family Festival, presented by Carnival Cruise Lines will take place in the Spring of 2016 and is a themed, interactive, carnival-like celebration in which HEAT players, coaches, celebrities and 250 families come together for a day of family and fun in an effort to raise vital dollars for local charities. Top restaurants from South Florida create a memorable dining "Food Court" extravaganza as well. In anticipation of this marquee event, the Fund will serve as host to the annual Celebrity/Team Dinner & Concert.

HEAT SCRAMBLE GOLF CLASSIC

The Annual HEAT Scramble Golf Classic has offered golfers an opportunity to tackle some of the most prominent golf courses around town, and most recently hosted the annual event at Trump National Doral Miami. All net proceeds benefit the Miami HEAT Charitable Fund.

ANNUAL TOY/FOOD DRIVE

The spirit of giving continues year round for the Miami HEAT through the Annual Toy / Food Drive. Historically, the HEAT and its fans have brought in canned food and toys for Food Drives to benefit Curley's House of Style, a food pantry in Liberty City that serves over 1,000 people each day. The toys are distributed to the HEAT's local beneficiaries to support at-risk youth.

MIAMI HEAT PLAYER TICKET PROGRAM

One of the most generous and trendsetting programs in the NBA, the Miami HEAT's Player Ticket Program will spend the entire 2015-16 regular season reaching out to children who typically would only dream of watching a HEAT game live. HEAT players joined forces to donate tickets for every single home game to local charitable organizations and over the course of the season, more than 5,000 children, many for the first time, will have the opportunity to enjoy a HEAT game, courtesy of their favorite HEAT players and role models. Players also graciously provide several private 'Meet & Greet" opportunities for the groups prior to each HEAT home game, where the players talk to children, signs autographs and take pictures.

HEAT FAMILY CHARITY GROUP

The Miami HEAT Family Charity Group, established in conjunction with the Miami HEAT Charitable Fund, consists of members including wives of active HEAT coaches, players, select senior executive management as well as player mothers and family. The group works closely together with the Miami HEAT Charitable Fund to assist the South Florida community through activities including the organization of various fundraising efforts, the Annual SafeSpace Holiday Outreach initiative, the Domestic Violence Prevention Walk and other numerous hours of volunteer contributions.

HEAT President Pat Riley takes a moment to thank local military personnel during an event with America's Moms for Soldiers at the AmericanAirlines Arena. Through its Home Strong program, which began in 2006, the HEAT salutes and honors local military before every home game.

AMERICANAIRLINES ARENA INFORMATION

AmericanAirlines Arena is an international, versatile venue in a vibrant waterfront setting that showcases world-class and sophisticated events, positioned between the skyline of the city, the beautiful beaches and the nightlife of South Beach. Located in the center of booming Downtown Miami and the Entertainment District, AmericanAirlines Arena hosts 80+ non-basketball events each year including A-list concerts, family shows, sporting events, national conferences and more.

Built with state-of-the-art sound and lighting and HD and electronic media signage inside and out, the impressive 19,600-seat AmericanAirlines Arena ranks among the nation's top 10 venues annually for total ticket sales and among the top 5 for Latin entertainment.

Over the past 15 years, the Arena has hosted over 500+ events including diverse musical superstars such as Marc Anthony, The Eagles, Taylor Swift and Sam Smith, just to name a few. In addition to being a great concert venue, the Arena has proven itself to be the venue of choice for family shows like Disney On Ice, the Harlem Globetrotters, Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus, WWE and Cirque du Soliel. The Arena has also hosts annual live TV events inlcuding Hispanic Television Awards shows such as Univision Network's legendary Premio Lo Nuestro Awards Show and Telemundo's 'Premios Tu Mundo.

The Arena offers a variety of event space for private events, galas, film/commercial shoots in unique spaces. For business or pleasure, the exclusive Dewar's Clubhouse and the ultra-chic Flagship Lounges offer a premium experience for private events and game day dining. Hyde Lounge continues to be a local Miami hotspot featuring bottle service, the freshest sushi and the hottest trends in mixology. New for 2015-16, the new solar covered Xfinity East Plaza will be the place to arrive early on game or event days to enjoy trendy food & beverage options, entertainment programming and more. Coming in the winter of 2016, the Arena will offer private dining and event space with a new Café, featuring flexible meeting and dining space, perfect for social and business events all year round.

Local Miami Restaurant Partners will bring local favors to the entertainment experience for games and events. From Premium Chef's Table dining experiences in the Dewar's Clubhouse and Flagship Lounges, and featured items of the game, the Arena offers a variety of exciting diverse dining options.

Always looking to be more energy efficient, AmericanAirlines Arena became the first existing building in the country to have received LEED certification by the USGBC and recently bypassed its initial LEED Silver goal and achieved LEED Gold, the first arena in the world to receive LEED Gold recertification.

The AmericanAirlines Arena is the cornerstone of a rapidly developing downtown area. With its wealth of amenities, incredible location, spectacular surroundings and impressive array of events, the AmericanAirlines Arena is the number one choice when looking for entertainment and fun in South Florida.
