MAX WILLIAMS

WILLIAMS

Only a block from where he won fame as the most exciting guard in the history of SMU, Max Williams is building a new career in basketball. At thirty, Max is the youngest general manager in the American Basketball Association, and from his Chaparral office, he can see Moody Coliseum where he was three times All-Southwest Conference and All-American in 1960.

Many an astonished Dallas rookie has suddenly looked up to find himself battling for his career in a "one on one" game against the General Manager of the Chaps. Williams often works out with the team to "stay in shape" and to get "a playing look" at the tryouts. Cliff Hagan kids, "If they can't beat the General Manager, that's all brother."

The rise of Pro Basketball in Dallas is more the story of Max Williams than any other individual. Since joining the franchise as its first employee two years ago, Max has held two titles and handled every job. In the early days as Operations Manager, Max took care of the scouting, coaching, publicity, promotions, and everything else. As General Manager Max has made the Dallas Chaparrals one of the most active and exciting teams in the league. Season ticket sales are four times what they were in 67-68. The major sponsorship of the radio broadcasts have been purchased by Coca-Cola Bottling Company of Dallas. Two local Chrysler-Plymouth dealers, Dick Colliau and Marlin Hancock, have joined in the sponsorship of the broadcasts. A ten game television package has been put together with Channel 39. Publicity and promotional activities have been expanded.

The ABA draft was hardly over when Williams signed the Chaps number 1 choice, John Smith. In quick succession, he signed all but one of the Chap draftees who were not future picks.

Williams' two-year quest to establish the Dallas Chaparrals is beginning to show returns.

Max is married to the former Carolyn Cooper of Plainview. They have a son Wayne 7, and a daughter, Laura, 2.

STEMBRIDGE

FAGAN

LALLY

TERRY STEMBRIDGE

The Public Relations Director and the "Voice of the Chaparrals" is Terry Stembridge, a former East Texas school teacher and sports announcer. Terry was the only non-player to witness all 94 Chaparral games last season. He is a graduate of the University of Texas. Before joining the Chaparrals last year, he was the sports director and news editor of KOCA Radio in Kilgore. Terry is heard on KRLD, the most powerful broadcast station in the ABA.

DICK CHARLES

Dick joins the Chaparrals staff with 25 years of active association in collegiate and professional sports circles. He spent 20 years in radio and TV sportscasting assignments and 5 years in professional sports promotion and management duties. He owns and operates his own Public Relations firm, COMPUTER CONTACT, LTD., which serves not only the Chaparral spectators, but other ABA teams as well. Dick is responsible for the activities of the "Chapettes", the operation of the giant scoreboard, halftime activities, and all promotional programs of the Chaparrals.

RUSS FAGAN

Russ Fagan brought great energy and a wide background in advertising and public relations to the Chaparral organization when he joined the staff in September to assist with publicity and promotions. Fagan, 32, attended the University of Denver where he majored in Business Administration. He has owned his own business in Kansas City, worked on a Dallas newspaper and currently owns his own advertising and public relations firm — Better Ideas Advertising. Russ is directing much of his attention to group sales and special events for the Chaps. He is married to the former Delores Robinson, and they have a daughter, Ruschelle, 11; and a son, Don, 4.

JOHN LALLY

After a summer spent in the dugouts of the Texas League, 24-year old John Lally returns for his second season as trainer for the Dallas Chaparrals. Lally has been in the Chicago Cub baseball organization for the past four years. He spent three seasons with the Dallas-Ft. Worth Spurs and was with the San Antonio Missions this year. Lally, a native of Fort Worth, attended Texas Christian where he worked under Elmer Brown. He now makes his home in Dallas, sharing an apartment with Charlie Beasley.

CLIFFORD O. HAGAN

"Cliff" Age: 37 Height: 6-4 Weight: 215

Born in Owensboro, Kentucky, on December 9, 1931

Residence: Dallas, Texas

College: University of Kentucky 1955

Pro Experience: The St. Louis Hawks from 1956 to 1966
Dallas Chaparrals 1967-68

"But the old St. Louis Hawk star was clearly the class of the gentlemen present." Blackie Sherrod, "Father Time and Company".

Forty-eight minutes after Cliff Hagan came out of retirement, he was a star again.

Hagan was a year retired from one of the great careers in the NBA when Dallas faced Anaheim on the opening night of the ABA. That evening Hagan introduced the pro game to a thrilled Dallas crowd by scoring 35 points, grabbing 12 rebounds, being credited with eight assists and carrying the Chaps to a 129-125 victory. And before the season was done, Hagan's brilliant play and leadership had carried a crowd of young Chaparrals into the finals of the Western Division playoffs.

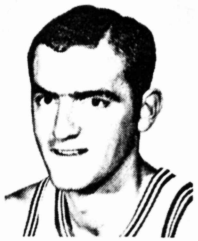

Under the double burden of coaching and playing, Hagan responded in magnificent fashion. He averaged 18.2 a game and was second in the league in assists and seventh in field goal percentage. Hagan started for the West in the ABA All-Star Game, being the first player to compete in both the NBA and ABA All-Star Classics. The hook shot, the sizzling play-making, and the hard competitiveness made Hagan one of the super attractions in the league.

As a coach, Hagan welded his players into an effective team. He fielded the best shooting club in the league (45.8%) by insisting that his players work for the good percentage shot. The 3-point play had no place in the Dallas offense. The results were soon evident. Dallas led the league in 2-point field goal accuracy from the first while Hagan, John Beasley, Cincy Powell, and Charlie Beasley were among the top 10 shooters in the league.

Cliff has not yet committed himself to another full season as a player, but whether his number 16 flashes around the league again or not, you can bet Hagan and his young ball club plan to be "the class of the gentlemen present" on still a few more nights in the ABA.

Career Highlights: Led Owensboro High School to Kentucky State Title in 1949 with 41 points in the finals. Two time All-American at Kentucky. Holds Kentucky single game scoring record (51 against Temple). Five times named to NBA All-Star teams. Holds NBA record for most field goals scored in a single quarter, 12, ninth leading scorer in NBA history. Approaching pro career total of 15,000 points.

Personal: Married to the former Martha Jean Milton of Owensboro. They have four children, Lisa, 11; Laurie, 9; Amy, 5; and Cliff, Jr., 4. Mrs. Hagan is girl's choir director at the First Baptist Church in Dallas. Cliff is director of Camp Robin Hood, a basketball clinic in New Hampshire. Master's Degree from Washington University. Collector of antiques.

CHARLES BEASLEY

"Charlie" Age: 23 Height: 6-5 Weight: 190
Born at Shawnee, Oklahoma, on September 23, 1945
Residence: Dallas, Texas
College: Southern Methodist University, 1967
Pro Experience: 1 year in ABA - Dallas

"ABA Free Throw Champ"

It's in the ABA record book. Charlie Beasley was the most accurate shooting guard in the league. Beasley claimed the free throw championship by hitting 87.3% of his shots. His 49.8% from the field made him the only guard in the top ten ABA shooters. Beasley led the Chaps in five different categories last season. He led in games played, minutes played, field goal percentage, free throw percentage, and total assists (290). During the playoffs, Charlie was third in scoring with an 18 pt. average. Beasley's tremendous out-court sniping, his steady play, and his endless desire lifted him past some of his more widely acclaimed contemporaries. With Bob Verga and Maurice McHartley gone in summer trades, Charlie is the only veteran in the Dallas backcourt.

Career Highlights: Third All-Time Scorer in SMU history. MVP at SMU in 1966. Member of the Air Force Reserve. Attended SMU during the summer. Single.

"John" Age: 24 Height: 6-9 Weight: 225
Born in Texarkana, Arkansas, on February 5, 1944
Residence: Dallas, Texas
College: Texas A & M University, 1966
Pro Experience: 1 year - ABA - Dallas

"I think you have to say John Beasley is the best shooter of any big man in Basketball." Cliff Hagan.

When the nets had quit burning from his great shooting, John Beasley had become one of the valid stars of the new ABA. By season's end, Beasley had scored and rebounded his way to the top of almost every individual category in the league. He was third in rebounds (982), 6th in field goal percentage (49.3) and third in free throw accuracy (84.2). He was voted to the All-Star team and was second team All-Pro at forward. Beasley led Dallas in scoring with a 19.7 average and in rebounds averaging 12.8. Until he was given a rest on the final night of the season, John Beasley had started every exhibition and regular season game. During the playoffs, the rangy center/forward scored 21 points a game.

The Chaparral team captain was one of the most feared shooters at every stop on the schedule. Twelve times during the year, he scored 30 or better and 34 times he scored 20 or better. John Beasley holds the ABA record for best percentage 2-pt. field goals made in a single game (along with Tom Washington) with 12 of 13 against New Jersey on January 31, 1968. He holds the Dallas record for the most rebounds in a single game (24). He and Cincy Powell share the team record for consecutive free throws without a miss (26).

Although John Beasley was forced to play most of the year at center, the drafting of 7' John Smith should free Beasley for the corner.

Career Highlights: Greatest scorer in the history of Texas A & M and the greatest scorer in a single season in the Southwest Conference. Three times All-Conference . . . Holds almost every Texas A & M scoring record. Played for Phillips Oilers 1966-67. Worked for Gifford Hill in Dallas during the summer. Married to former Janice Mills of Linden, Texas. One daughter Kim, 5.

Pro Experience: 1 year - ABA

"We hadn't been hustling . . . Lochmann changed all of that . . . and it eventually changed the entire game." Cliff Hagan.

Riney Lochmann is back. The likeable veteran from Kansas is the only non-starter to return from last year's team.

Lochmann came from the University of Kansas with a meager scoring average, but a sound attitude toward the game. He literally hustled his way onto last year's team despite the presence of several better known players. Lochmann's spirit and dedication make him one of the most popular members of the team.

Lochmann enjoyed a fine fall training camp. He led the scoring on most scrimmage nights. He can score well from outside with the jump shot. He plays good defense and is very strong. His strength has caused his teammates to refer to him as "The Baby Bull."

During the summer, Riney married Norma Schraeder of Wichita, Kansas, and the couple now make their home in Dallas.

Highlights: Co-captain and MVP at Kansas as a Senior. All-American Prep team while at Wichita North High School. Plans to coach in the future.

67 Feet to Spare

Jerry Harkness scored the longest field goal in the history of basketball, a 92-foot shot, on November 13, 1967 against Dallas in Memorial Auditorium. The incredible shot came with 1 second to play and carried Indiana past Dallas 119-118. The shot counted 3 pts, since it came from beyond 25 ft. Harkness just had 67' to spare.

ELTON WAYNE McGRIFF

"Mac" Age: 26 Height: 6-9 Weight: 225
Born in Corsicana, Texas, on August 21, 1942
Residence: Dallas, Texas
College: San Francisco Junior College 1963; Creighton 1965
Pro Experience: 1 year in ABA - Dallas

"If I had to point out a reason our club is improved, I'd have to say it has been Elton McGriff." Cliff Hagan.

A sudden change of mind by Cliff Hagan gave Elton McGriff a chance to play in the ABA. Requesting a try-out after a game in Denver, Elton spent two weeks with the Chaparrals performing in a so-so fashion and was about to be released when Hagan decided to carry him with the team to the West Coast. The road trip proved to be McGriff's salvation. At Oakland, he muscled his way to 14 rebounds and was thereafter the starting center. Hagan jokingly credits his sixth sense with the decision. McGriff, despite being overweight and out of shape, gave the Chaps needed help on the boards in the waning weeks of the season. McGriff played the last twenty games of the year averaging 6 points. In the play-offs he averaged 10 points and 9 rebounds. During the summer, McGriff elected to go through the rookie camp to get in shape. It proved to be a wise decision. The summer of work and hustle brought McGriff's playing weight down and his stock up in the eyes of Hagan. McGriff overcomes his lack of finesse with sheer muscle and drive.

Highlights: It was Cincy Powell who suggested to McGriff that he talk to Hagan about a tryout. They met by accident at the arena in Denver . . . Married to the former Gracie Ann Carroll of Corsicana. They have one son, Elton, Jr., 8. Worked in the War on Poverty Program in the off-season.

Chaps Streaks

The longest Chaparral winning streak occurred in the last month of the season. From March 12 through March 21, Dallas won 6 consecutive games. The longest Dallas winning streak at Memorial Auditorium was a string of five victories. (twice).

The Chaps longest winning streak at home is 15 games. This includes the last five at Memorial during the regular season, seven at Moody during March, plus three games in the play-offs.

The longest losing streak in the club's first year was a string of six losses between January 31 and February 11.

CINCINNATUS POWELL

"Cincy", "C" Age: 26 Height: 6-7 Weight: 227

Born in Baton Rouge, Louisiana on February 25, 1942

Residence: Dallas, Texas

College: University of Portland, 1966

Pro Experience: 2 years (1 year NABL, 1 year ABA)

"There doesn't appear to be any sure fire way to stop him. At least nothing that wouldn't get you thrown out of the ball game." Babe McCarthy.

No player caught the imagination of fans in Dallas and around the league as did Cincy Powell. He broke into the Dallas starting line-up in late December and from then on led the team in scoring. Powell's 43 points against Denver in February established the Dallas single game scoring record. Twice Powell scored more than 40 points and on nine other nights had better than 30. After scoring 38 points against Minnesota in December and 35 against New Orleans in January, Coaches Jim Pollard and "Babe" McCarthy called the performance they had just witnessed the best individual effort they had run up against.

Powell proved to be a pressure player. He could always be counted on in a "money on the table, chips down series." In the playoffs, Powell led Dallas with a 23.3 average and was the 2nd leading rebounder.

A bone spur was removed from Cincy's left foot in May. Few fans realized that the exciting Dallas forward was hobbled and often in pain during the last two months of the season.

If Cincy's play this year matches the promise of his first season, he could become one of the authentic superstars of the league.

Career Highlights: Captain at Portland. Most Valuable Player award at Battle Creek. 2nd Team All Pro in ABA. 8th leading percentage shooter in ABA (49%). Holds or is tied for 8 club records.

Personal: Married to the former Faye Jean Waldon of Portland, Oregon. Children are Kimberly, 3 years; and Cincy, Jr., born last September. National prize winner in speech contest while in college.

JOHN SMITH, JR.

"John" Age: 24 Height: 7-0 Weight: 235
Born at Columbus, Mississippi, May 24, 1944
Residence: Muskegon, Michigan
College: Southern Colorado State College, 1968

"I think John Smith will be the best big man in our league." Max Williams.

The Dallas Chaparrals have been looking for John Smith, Jr., their No. 1 draft choice, for a long time. The roll call is endless of pretenders who came to camp claiming to be Smith. Remember Barnes, Keller, Anderson, Black, Wylie, Dabich, Peek and others, who for one reason or another failed to answer the description of the center Dallas was seeking.

The real John Smith finally stood up one morning last spring in Pueblo, Colorado, and signed his ABA contract. General Manager Max Williams told a Dallas writer how it was:

"John hardly had unlaced his tennis shoes at Southern Colorado State when Williams showed up. Maxie beat around the bush a great deal. He reached into his pocket, fingered a roll of bills and told John they were his if he signed. 'I told John, who is 7-0, that I could draw up a contract that night if he wanted to sign sometime the next day,' recalled Maxie.
'What time you gettin' up?' said John Smith, Jr."

The key to how far the Chaparrals can go this season in the Western Division will likely depend on the play of the 7 foot giant. Williams who, along with Cliff Hagan, made the decision to take Smith in the draft, maintains he has the tools to be the best center in basketball within a few years.

The stilt-legged Smith was the tallest player in the history of Southern Colorado State and set the all time rebounding record at the school. The Chaps are convinced that John Smith is no imposter and if they are right, watch out for Dallas.

Highlights: 1st team NCAA District VII '68. Most points scored (45) against Western New Mexico. Hobby, drag car racing. Married to former Rosemary Cross of Muskegon Heights, Mich., and they have three children - Kevin, 4; Michelle, 2½; and Mary, 4 months.

ROBERT GEORGE BEDELL

"Bob" Age: 24 Height: 6-7 Weight: 205
Born at Los Angeles, California, June 26, 1946
Residence: Bell Gardens, California
College: Stanford, 1966
Pro Experience: 1 year in ABA - Anaheim

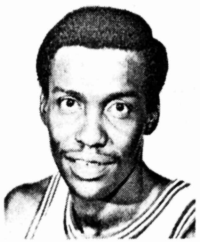

"Dallas trades Bob Verga for Bob Bedell."

Bob Bedell came to Dallas from Denver in one of the most talked about trades of the summer in the ABA. Dallas had yielded up the highly regarded Bob Verga for the consistent but not spectacular Bob Bedell. Bedell had gone to the Rockets from Los Angeles in an earlier trade involving the draft rights to George Stone. The acquisition of Bedell gives Dallas a rangy, sharpshooting forward to back up Cincy Powell and John Beasley. Bedell averaged 15 points against Dallas last season, impressing Hagan with his all around efforts.

Highlights: Fourth leading scorer in Stanford's history. Drafted by 76er's. Single.

Bennett was the fifth leading scorer in the Eastern League and Hartford's top scorer. He was second in the league in assists with 179. His 26 pts in the All-Star game won him the most valuable player award. While at Winston Salem played on team with '68 NBA rookie of the year, Earl Monroe.

RONALD BOONE

"Ron" Age: 22 Height: 6-2 Weight: 200
Born in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma, September 6, 1946
Residence: Omaha, Nebraska
College: Idaho State, 1968

"Fourth leading scorer in the history of Idaho State Basketball."

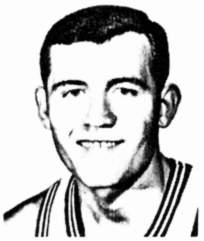

Ron Boone, Idaho State's two-time All-Big Sky star has been going up in the basketball world — up literally.

He has moved from a 5-9 high school senior to a 6-1 college center to a 6-2 inch pro guard. As a sophomore Boone was utilized as a center and led the team in average rebounds. The next two seasons, he performed at guard and was an all conference choice, the last time unanimously. Boone is in the mold of the modern day pro guard, big and strong.

Highlights: Second youngest player on the Dallas roster. Made the All-College Tournament team at Oklahoma City. Majored in Physical Education. Single.

GLEN COURTNEY COMBS

"Glen" Age: 22 Height: 6-2 Weight: 185
Born in Hazard, Kentucky, October 30, 1946
Residence: Carr Creek, Kentucky
College: Virginia Tech, 1968

"Carr Creek is a mountain town and either you play basketball or do nothing, so most kids play basketball." Glen Combs.

Glen Combs finally outgrew his father's gym in the mountains of Kentucky. But by that time, he had learned enough from his father, Morton Combs, coach at Carr Creek High for twenty-five years, to parley his skill into a scholarship at Virginia Tech and now a pro contract with Dallas.

Combs, the seventh round draft choice of Dallas, was one of only three rookies to survive the Chaps' fall training camp. He came to the camp billed as a sound guard who was a devastating shooter. Comb's long range shooting gives Dallas its first three point threat.

Combs is the youngest player on the Dallas roster.

Highlights: Fifth round draft choice of San Diego. Single.

Chaparrals on Radio & TV

All Chaparral exhibition and regular season games are broadcast on KRLD 1080, the most powerful radio voice in the ABA. The Coca Cola Bottling Company of Dallas has purchased major radio rights. Also joining the Chaparrals in sponsoring the broadcasts are Marlin Hancock's Buckner Chrysler-Plymouth Agency and Dick Colliau's Garland Chrysler-Plymouth Agency. Describing the excitement of every game night is Terry Stembridge, the Public Relations Director of the team. Terry was one of the few ABA announcers who traveled and broadcast throughout the league last season.

The Dallas Chaparrals will present a schedule of ten 1968-69 ABA contests on KDTV Television — Channel 39 in Dallas, with Sports Director Frank Filesi doing the play-by-play.

Four of the ten games will be televised at home, of those, two at Memorial, one at SMU, and one in Ft. Worth. Four games on the road will be aired live and two will be video-taped for showing the next day.
