CARDINALS MAKE HISTORY WITH GAME IN MEXICO CITY

For the first time in its 86-year history, the NFL will play a regular-season game outside the United States on October 2, 2005 when the Cardinals host the San Francisco 49ers in Mexico City, Mexico.

The Sunday night game at Estadio Azteca will be televised live at 5:30 PM (Arizona Time) in the U.S. on ESPN. Televisa will provide live television coverage throughout Mexico.

The Cardinals are the home team, shifting one of its eight regular-season home games from Sun Devil Stadium to Estadio Azteca – site of the largest crowd in NFL history. On August 15, 1994, 112,376 fans filled the stadium for an American Bowl game between the Dallas Cowboys and Houston Oilers.

Arizona has an in-state Hispanic population of more than 25 percent, according to the 2000 U.S. Census. The Cardinals have a rapidly growing fan base south of the border, fueled by the club's aggressive outreach to the Hispanic community. Approximately 67 percent of U.S. Hispanics trace their origin to Mexico.

Cardinals ties to Mexico include offensive lineman Rolando Cantu, a native of Monterrey, Mexico, and former NFL kicker Luis Zendejas — a native of Mexico City — who is the club's director of community relations.

The Cardinals took part in an NFL international milestone in 1976. On August 16 of that year, they played in the league's first game outside North America — a 20-10 preseason victory over San Diego in Tokyo, Japan.

The American Bowl series of preseason games, instituted in 1986 in response to growing worldwide interest in the NFL, has averaged 58,345 fans in 39 games with more than 2.2 million people worldwide experiencing the excitement of the NFL in person. The Indianapolis Colts and Atlanta Falcons will play in the 40th American Bowl on August 6, 2005 in Tokyo.

WILLIAM V. BIDWILL

PRESIDENT

College: Georgetown
Hometown: Chicago, IL

William V. Bidwill's association with the Cardinals began as a child ball boy on Chicago's South Side and continues today as owner and president.

The 74-year-old Chicago native presides over the oldest continuously-operated professional football franchise. Founded in 1898, the Cardinals join the Chicago Bears as the only two remaining charter members of the National Football League (1920).

The Cardinals have remained in the Bidwill family since William's father, Charles, a prominent Chicago sports figure and member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame, purchased the team in 1932. Charles ran the club until his death in the Cardinals' NFL championship year of 1947.

His wife, Violet, guided the franchise's fortunes for the next 15 years, followed jointly by sons William and Charles, Jr. (Stormy). William became sole owner in 1972.

Named a Cardinal vice president during his undergraduate days at Georgetown University, William Bidwill returned to Chicago from the Navy in 1956 to begin assisting family interests that included football. When the Cardinals moved to St. Louis in 1960, Bidwill returned to the organization on a full-time basis.

Bidwill remains involved in all areas of the Cardinals' day-to-day operation. He operates the organization in south Tempe, Arizona from its award-winning training facility the team has called home since construction was completed in September, 1990.

He has been credited with his leading role in bringing Super Bowl XXX to Arizona on January 28, 1996. He also was a pivotal voice in Arizona's original award of Super Bowl XXVII.

An active supporter of various civic and charitable organizations and endeavors, Bidwill directed the formation of Cardinals Charities, the team's organization dedicated to supporting worthy Arizona causes, shortly after the Cardinals arrived in the state.

Bidwill currently is seated on the NFL Broadcasting Committee as well as the recently formed NFL Business Ventures Committee. He is also co-chair of the Board of Trustees for the Bert Bell/Pete Rozelle Player Benefit Plan.

Bidwill and his wife, Nancy, are the parents of five children and have eight grandchildren.

MICHAEL BIDWILL

VICE PRESIDENT & GENERAL COUNSEL

College: St. Louis University
Hometown: St. Louis, MO
Cardinal Season: 10th

Michael Bidwill has been the team's vice president and general counsel since 1996. He joined the organization after practicing law for six years as a federal prosecutor and since returning to the team, his undeniable leadership has led to an array of positive changes.

His most prominent role has been and continues to be the development of the new Cardinals Stadium that is set to open next season. Bidwill was a driving force in community and political arenas as the vision for the eventual public-private partnership evolved from concept to reality. He continues to oversee the team's interests in the design and construction of the state-of-the-art facility.

The work of Bidwill and other community leaders has brought a world-class venue to Arizona that will not only be home to the Cardinals, but also the Fiesta Bowl annually, the Super Bowl in February of 2008, and the Bowl Championship Series title game on a rotating basis beginning in 2007. The stadium project also created revenue streams to buoy the Cactus League (Arizona spring training baseball), fund community youth recreation, and double the state's tourism promotion budget in Maricopa County.

Bidwill was instrumental in the political campaign strategy that created the dramatic come-from-behind win on election night in 2000 when Maricopa County voters approved the stadium funding plan via Proposition 302. The measure also created the Arizona Sports and Tourism Authority (AZSTA) that has earmarked $73.5 million over 30 years for youth and amateur sports in Maricopa County.

Bidwill is a member one of the league's most prominent committees, the Management Council Executive Committee. The group has received considerable attention in recent months for its work with the NFL Players Association to extend the Collective Bargaining Agreement.

He also serves on the Arizona Super Bowl Committee which won the bid to host Super Bowl XLII in February, 2008 at the new Cardinals Stadium.

In other administrative capacities, Bidwill continues to help mold the Cardinals' future. This past off season, that included some significant aesthetic enhancements as the Cardinals updated their traditional bird-head logo and followed that a few months later with the complete re-design of the team's uniforms. Previously, he spearheaded the restructuring of the Cardinals' marketing and sales department and the team's community relations efforts.

The expanded community outreach was acknowledged by The (Phoenix) Business Journal who recognized the Cardinals for their proactive, hands-on community efforts. Bidwill's contributions were also cited by Chicanos Por La Causa, a local group that works on social issues in the Hispanic community, when they presented the Cardinals with their 2005 Corporate Award this past April.

Bidwill's community focus also has a particular eye on the value of youth sports. That awareness was recognized when he received the 2003 Glenn S. "Pop" Warner Award, presented annually by the national youth football organization to an individual who has achieved excellence in athletics, scholarship, and life's endeavors with integrity and humanity. In 2005, the Cardinals were again recognized by that organization when selected as the NFC recipient of the "2005 Pop Warner NFL Team of the Year" for their commitment to the development of youth football in the Arizona area.

Bidwill also serves on numerous committees and boards for a variety of Phoenix-area community and charitable organizations. In 2004, he was named honorary chairman for the "Step Up For Youth" campaign to raise $1.16 million to double the size of the Glendale/Peoria YMCA's facilities and add new programs and services.

A licensed pilot and flying enthusiast, Bidwill also donates his time and resources as a volunteer for "Flying Samaritans," a group of volunteers including doctors and other medical personnel who offer free medical clinics in Mexico.

From 1990-96, Bidwill was a federal prosecutor in Phoenix where he specialized in homicide and other violent crime cases. He also directed three task forces, including the FBI's gang task force on the Navajo Indian Reservation in northeast Arizona. He received seven letters of commendation in his role with the U.S. Department of Justice from various law enforcement agencies.

He earned a bachelor of science degree in finance from St. Louis University in 1987 and in 1990 earned a degree from Catholic University in Washington, D.C.

Born December 6, 1964 in St. Louis, MO, Bidwill resides in Paradise Valley, AZ.

BIDWILL BENEVOLENCE

Enriching the Valley community through its philanthropic efforts has always been a top priority for the Cardinals organization and the Bidwill family.

While an Arizona Republic editorial this past April referred to the Bidwills as "exemplary citizens of this Valley," the majority of their contributions are made with little fanfare, often bordering on total anonymity. Still, the Bidwills have continuously involved themselves personally in community needs, both with financial support and volunteer efforts.

Cardinals Charities has been supporting community needs in Arizona since its formation in 1990 by team President Bill Bidwill. Less visible, yet far more expansive, is the Bidwill family's ongoing individual and collective efforts to improve the lives of others in a myriad of ways.

Some examples of their community involvement:

Boys Hope/Girls Hope—As an original founder of Boys Hope/Girls Hope in St. Louis, Bill Bidwill has had untold positive impact on the lives of youth with promise living in unsuitable environments. Boys Hope/Girls Hope provides a structured home environment fostering healthy growth and learning. As long-time supporters, the Bidwills have donated hundreds of thousands of dollars to the program that has expanded internationally.

Phoenix Children's Hospital—Another Bidwill family calling is Phoenix Children's Hospital. Development contributions and volunteer involvement in hospital programs remain priorities.

Youth Sports in Arizona—The positive influence of youth sports has been a family priority in Arizona. Those efforts were recognized most recently when the Cardinals were selected as the NFC recipient of the "2005 Pop Warner NFL Team of the Year" for their commitment to the development of youth football both locally and nationally. In 2003, Cardinals'

Vice President and General Counsel Michael Bidwill was honored with the Glenn S. "Pop" Warner Award, presented to an individual who has achieved excellence in athletics, scholarship, and life's endeavors with integrity and humanity.

Chicanos Por La Causa—This past April, the Cardinals received the 2005 Corporate Award from Chicanos Por La Causa, a local group that works on social issues in the Hispanic community. The organization recognized the Cardinals and the Bidwill family for having "shown a genuine dedication to the development of better neighborhoods and communities; a commitment reflected in the support they have provided CPLC in its endeavors to help individuals and families improve their quality of life."

St. Peter Indian Mission School, Gila River Indian Community—The Bidwills support of "Sister Martha's" elementary school south of the Phoenix metropolitan area has been an ongoing focus of the Bidwills benevolence for over 10 years. A new roof for the school is just one example of the support the youth of the Gila River Indian Community have received.

United Way—Like the National Football League, the Bidwills have been staunch supporters of United Way of America, the nation's leading community solutions provider. It invests in the programs and services that strengthen the ability of local United Ways to identify and build a coalition around a set of community priorities and measure success based on community impact.

Communities In Schools Of Arizona (CISA)—Founded in 1994, CISA is affiliated with the Communities In Schools national program. Its mission is to mobilize and connect community resources with schools. CISA partners with schools with 85 percent or more of their students at or below the federal poverty level. Acting as resource brokers, CISA uses a coordinated network of partner agencies to bring resources such as food, clothing, and health services to help students more effectively learn, stay in school, and successfully prepare for life.

St. Michael's Indian School, Navajo Indian Reservation—The oldest Catholic school on a reservation, the St. Michael's Indian School in northern Arizona has kept its high school football program alive in part through the generous support of the Bidwill family.

Life Teen—Life Teen, Inc. is an international ministry that serves the Catholic Church and provides teenagers resources and training that encourage growth in their faith. It was founded by "Father Dale" Fushek, pastor of St. Timothy's Catholic Community in Mesa, Arizona that houses the Life Teen world headquarters. Nicole Bidwill currently serves as chairman of Life Teen Camp.

Make A Difference—Make A Difference is a non-profit organization that meets critical community needs by making volunteer opportunities available to busy professional people in the Phoenix metropolitan area.

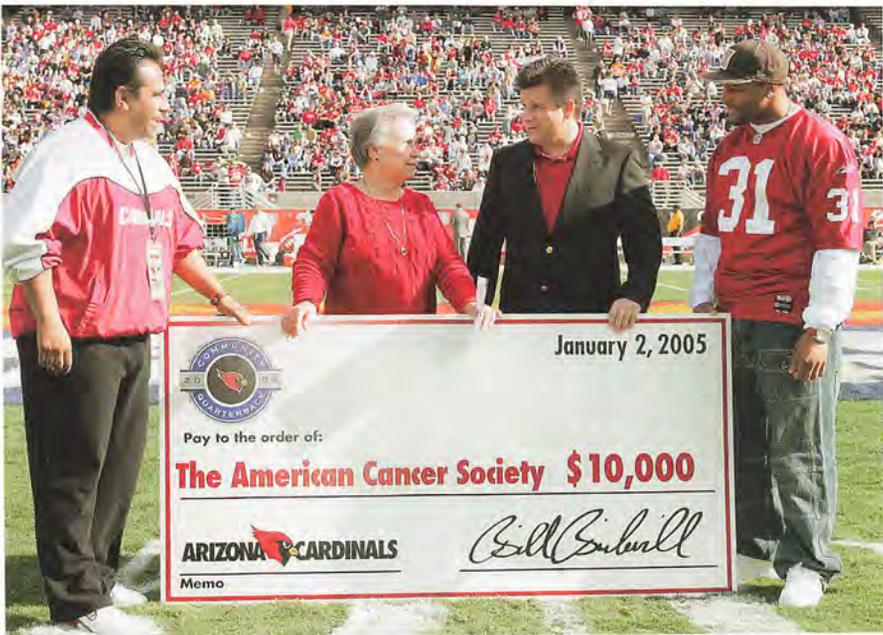

Step Up For Youth—The campaign to raise $1.16 million to double the size of the Glendale/Peoria (Arizona) YMCA's facilities and add new programs and services is being chaired by Michael Bidwill.

Youth Soccer—Financial support, league development, and volunteer coaching of youth soccer has been a family interest since the arrival of grandchildren.

Georgetown Prep—The college preparatory high school in suburban Washington, D.C. has remained an apple of Bill Bidwill's eye since his graduation. He has maintained a level of financial support and assisted in the school's building program for many years. Georgetown University Law Center also has benefited from Bidwill support.

Committees/Boards—Members of the Bidwill families have and continue to sit on a variety of organizational boards of trustees, including NFL Charities, Arizona Chamber of Commerce, East Valley Partnership, Greater Phoenix Chamber of Commerce, Notre Dame Academy (north Scottsdale), Heard Museum, Museum of Northern Arizona, Southwest Human Development, FBI Citizens Academy, Life Teen, and Catholic University.

Fund-Raising—Family members participate in countless fund-raising committees, organizing dinners, festivals, camps, telethons, capital campaigns, and building projects for an array of organizations.

ROD GRAVES

VICE PRESIDENT - FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

College: Texas Tech
Hometown: Houston, TX
Cardinal Season: 9th
NFL Season: 22nd

Rod Graves was promoted to the position of vice president-football operations following the 2002 season after six years as Arizona's assistant to the president.

In his current position, Graves, 46, is responsible for all facets of the Cardinals' football operations. He serves as the team's primary contract negotiator in addition to overseeing college and professional scouting efforts, salary-cap management, and consulting on other business aspects of the football operation.

Graves joined the Cardinals in June of 1997 after 13 years in various personnel capacities with the Chicago Bears.

A native of Houston, Graves began his career in professional football personnel work in 1982 as a regional scout for the Philadelphia Stars of the United States Football League.

He joined the National Football League in 1984 as a regional scout for the Chicago Bears, a position he held until promoted to director of college scouting in 1993, then director of player personnel in 1994.

Graves, who holds a bachelor's degree in economics from Texas Tech, is the son of the late Jackie Graves, the former assistant director of player personnel for the Philadelphia Eagles.

He resides in Phoenix with his wife, Dreama, and their three children—daughters Brittany and Taylor, and son Joshua.

CARDS NAMED POP WARNER TEAM OF THE YEAR

On May 28, 2005, Cardinals receiver Larry Fitzgerald, quarterback Kurt Warner, and Vice President/General Counsel Michael Bidwill represented the team at the 45th Annual Pop Warner Scholar All-American Banquet at the Hyatt Regency Orange County in Anaheim, CA.

The Cardinals were selected as the NFC recipient of the "2005 Pop Warner NFL Team of the Year." The award is presented annually to two clubs in the NFL - one from each conference - that have "demonstrated unparalleled commitment to the development of youth football in their surrounding areas." The Kansas City Chiefs were selected as the AFC recipient.

Throughout the last year, the Cardinals made extra efforts to collaborate with the Arizona Youth Football Federation Pop Warner League using Gatorade Junior Training Camps, player appearances, charitable contributions, and also provided tickets to various Pop Warner teams for Cardinals home games.

This marks the second time in the last three seasons that the Cardinals have been recognized by the national organization. In 2003, Michael Bidwill was awarded the Glenn S. "Pop" Warner Award for his support of youth sports in Arizona.

- Owns a career head coaching record of 103-72 in the regular season (107-80 including postseason).
- Spent 1992-2001 as head coach of the Minnesota Vikings and posted a 97-62 regular season record.
- Led the Vikings to the postseason in eight of his 10 seasons (with seven different starting quarterbacks), won four divisional titles and advanced to the conference championship game twice. Minnesota was the only NFL team to reach the postseason every year from 1996-2000.
- Also gained acclaim as a successful college head coach with Northwestern (1981-85) and Stanford (1989-91).

Dennis Green became the 33rd head coach in franchise history when he was named to the position on January 7, 2004. Green came to Arizona with a well-earned reputation for reviving programs at the college level with Northwestern and Stanford as well as in the National Football League with the Minnesota Vikings. As head coach of the Vikings from 1992-2001, Green posted an overall record of 101-70 in 10 seasons and led the team to the playoffs eight times, won four conference titles, and twice took the team to the NFC Championship Game.

In his first season with the Cardinals, Green clearly established a foundation for future success. Though the final record reflected a two-win improvement from the 4-12 mark recorded in 2003, the most dramatic upgrade was in overall competitiveness. In 2003, the Cards were defeated by 17 or more points eight times and suffered their 12 losses by an average of 20 points, including three by more than 35. In 2004, Arizona dropped five games by a touchdown or less, including four by a field goal. Their average margin of defeat halved from 20.0 to 10.3 points and on the road fell from 23.6 to 11.2. Overall, the Cards allowed just 38 more points than they scored in 2004 compared to '03 when they scored 227 points fewer than they surrendered. The Cardinals won two games by 24 points, something that they'd not done in over a decade. The team also finished 5-3 at home for the first time since the Cardinals last playoff season of 1998.

Upon his arrival in the desert, Green and VP of Football Operations Rod Graves quickly began the process of re-shaping the Cardinals roster in a variety of ways. A strategic but aggressive approach to free agency yielded starters like cornerback David Macklin (team leader in INTs with a career-high four), fullback Obafemi Ayanbadejo (career-best four TDs), and defensive end Bertrand Berry. Berry would prove to become the best free agent pick-up in team history by leading the conference in sacks (14.5) and earning his first career Pro Bowl berth. Next came an outstanding 2004 draft class that produced four full-time starters in receiver Larry Fitzgerald, linebacker Karlos Dansby, defensive tackle Darnell Dockett and center Alex Stepanovich. In the end, all seven draftees would find their way to the roster. The Cards were also active picking up veterans via the waiver wire and trades so, not surprisingly, the opening day roster included 22 new players.

The regime's second free agency foray yielded even more unrestricted free agents in the spring of 2005, including safety Robert Griffith, tackle Oliver Ross, defensive end Chike Okeafor, linebacker Orlando Huff, and a two-time league MVP in quarterback Kurt Warner.

That was followed by a stellar 2005 draft class that was regarded by many to be the best in the league and has the potential to trump the lofty accomplishments of the 2004 rookie class.

Growing Up

The youngest of five brothers, Green grew up in his native Harrisburg, PA, roughly 90 miles west of Philadelphia, but encountered adversity at an early age when he lost his father when he was just 11 years old and then his mother two years later. After their passing, the ideals of hard work and perseverance became ingrained into a young man mature beyond his years.

Green was all-Pennsylvania running back and class president at John Harris High School, then became a very productive running back at the University of Iowa where he was a two-time (1969-70) honorable mention all-Big Ten conference halfback and flanker. After graduating from Iowa right on schedule—"always my number one priority"—Green signed a contract as a defensive back with the British Columbia Lions of CFL in 1971, then was volunteer coach for the Hawkeye football team but only after spending the morning as a truck driver.

Early Coaching Career

In 1972, Green began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Iowa, then spent the following season as running backs/receivers coach at Dayton before returning to handle the same duties at Iowa from 1974-76.

Following two seasons at Stanford as running backs coach under Cardinal head coach Bill Walsh, Green entered the pro arena with the San Francisco 49ers in 1979 as wide receivers/special teams coach, then returned to Stanford a year later as offensive coordinator when Cardinal quarterback John Elway set a Pac-10 Conference record with 27 touchdown passes.

Rebuilding Programs

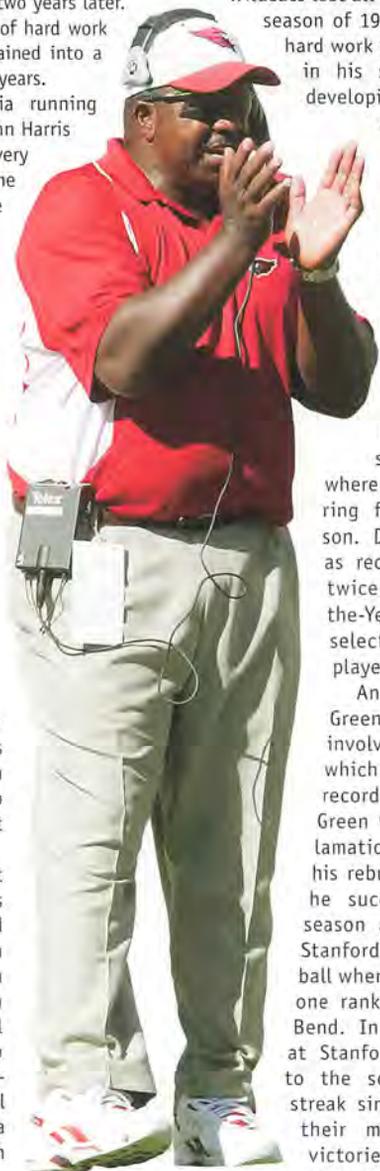

Armed with a resume that featured success as a professional assistant and accomplished college coordinator, Green was offered his first head coaching job. Two years after Wichita State's Willie Jefferies became the first black head coach in NCAA Division I history, Green became the second when he took over at Northwestern, a program mired in futility. The Wildcats lost all 11 games in Green's debut season of 1981 but his background of hard work and perseverance paid off in his second campaign. While developing such future NFL stars as Steve Tasker and Chris Hinton, Northwestern forged a 3-8 record and ended the school's 34-game losing streak, earning Green 1982 Big Ten Coach-of-the-Year honors.

After five seasons (1981-85) at Northwestern, Green returned to the 49ers and head coach Bill Walsh's staff in San Francisco where he earned a Super Bowl ring following the 1988 season. During his three seasons as receivers coach, Jerry Rice twice earned NFL Player-of-the-Year recognition and was selected the most-valuable-player of Super Bowl XXIII.

Another challenge beckoned Green in 1989. This time it involved a return to Stanford, which was coming off a 3-6-2 record in 1988. Once again, Green was handed another reclamation project and dusted off his rebuilding tools. Once again he succeeded. In his second season as head coach in 1990, Stanford shocked college football when they upset then-number one ranked Notre Dame in South Bend. In 1991, his final season at Stanford, he led the Cardinal to the school's longest winning streak since 1951 (seven games), their most Pac-10 Conference victories since 1970 (six), and their first bowl appearance since 1986 (Aloha). Only a Georgia Tech touchdown with 14 seconds remaining kept Stanford from its first postseason victory since 1978—also when Green was on the staff.

The Pro Arena

Now considered one of the brightest aspiring young coaches in the college ranks, Green's success led to several offers from the NFL, and in 1992 he accepted the position as head coach of the Minnesota Vikings. He became just the second black head coach in modern NFL history (Art Shell, Raiders 1989-94).

Despite a roster overhaul that included the attrition of several veterans, Green began to fashion one of the most remarkable records of any NFL head coach of his era. In his first season, Green led the Vikings to an 11-5 record and its only division title under a first-year head coach. He earned NFL Coach of the Year honors from the Washington Touchdown Club and NFC Coach of the Year honors from United Press International and College & Pro Football Newsweekly. In addition, the Vikings came within one victory of tying the team single-season mark for wins at the time and won seven division games, the most in team history in one season. Green also became one of only 11 head coaches since the 1970 NFL-AFL merger to lead his team to a division title in his first season. Of those 11, only two came directly from the college ranks as did Green.

The following season, Minnesota qualified for a Wild Card spot with a 9-7 record. Then in 1994 Green became one of only eight in NFL history to lead his team to the playoffs in each of his first three seasons when the Vikings won the NFC Central title with a 10-6 mark.

An 8-8 mark in 1995 was followed by 9-7 campaigns in 1996 and '97. The '97 season was highlighted by a 23-22 Wild Card victory over the New York Giants in Giants Stadium before losing to San Francisco in the divisional playoffs.

In 1998, Green's team made several personnel moves which paid off handsomely. The Vikings acquired quarterback Randall Cunningham (1997) and kicker Gary Anderson (1998) via free agency, procured defensive back Jimmy Hitchcock (1998) in a trade, and added line-backer Dwayne Rudd (1997) and wide receiver Randy Moss (1998) through the draft.

The result was a 15-1 regular-season record. Green became just the third NFL head coaches to record a 15-victory regular season, alongside Bill Walsh, (San Francisco, 1984) and Mike Ditka (Chicago, 1985). Pittsburgh's Bill Cowher joined the list in 2004 when the Steelers went 15-1. The 1998 season also produced an NFL-record 556 points scored and eight-game winning streak to end the season, the Vikings' longest since 1975. Cunningham enjoyed the finest season of his 13-year NFL career and was named Miller Lite Player-of-the-Year, while Moss set numerous NFL rookie receiving marks and was named league rookie-of-the-year by virtually every media outlet in the country. Minnesota advanced to the NFC Championship game and Green was named NFL Coach-of-the-Year by Sports Illustrated and the Maxwell Club.

The Vikings compiled records of 10-6 in 1999 and 11-5 in 2000 but were eliminated in second-round playoff action in 1999 and the NFC title game in 2000. In 2001, his final season with the Vikings, Green resigned his position with one week remaining after a 5-10 record.

Green's success with the Vikings included eight postseason appearances, four NFC Central Division titles, and two NFC championship game appearances in 10 seasons at Minnesota. He guided the Vikings to postseason play eight times with seven different quarterbacks—Sean Salisbury (1992), Jim McMahon (1993), Warren Moon (1994), Brad Johnson (1996), Randall Cunningham (1997-98), Jeff George (1999), Daunte Culpepper (2000). Under his guidance, Minnesota was the only NFL team to qualify for playoffs each season from 1996-2000, posted the NFL's best winning percentage (.639, 92-52) from 1992-2000, and the Vikings 36-12 (.750) composite record from 1998-2000 was best three-season run in franchise history.

In addition, Green's teams produced wins regardless of playing surface, temperature, home or away. He coached winning records outdoors (33-24), in domes (59-28), on grass (23-20), on artificial turf (69-32), and in temperatures below 40 degrees (7-3).

CLANCY PENDERGAST

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

College: Arizona
Hometown: Phoenix, AZ
Cardinal Season: 2nd
NFL Season: 11th

Phoenix native and University of Arizona alum Clancy Pendergast returns for his second year as the Cardinals' defensive coordinator. Pendergast's coaching dossier includes 10 seasons in the NFL including stints with the Cleveland Browns (2003), Dallas Cowboys (1996-2002), and the Houston Oilers (1995) and five more seasons on the major college level.

Last season, Pendergast's defense improved its overall rank from 26th at the end of '03 to 12th. His unit was particularly tough in the red zone where their 45.0 TD percentage ranked second-best in the NFL (up from 60.7 in '03). Other key categories of defensive improvement were in third down defense (fourth in '04 and 32nd in '03); total sacks were up from 20 to 38; total touchdowns allowed dropped from 55 to 35; and total takeaways improved from 23 to 30. Overall, the Cards plus-minus improved from minus-13 in 2003 to plus-1 in '04 and the team allowed 130 fewer total points (452 to 322) which moved them from last in the NFL in 2003 to 12th in the league. Passing yards per game dropped from 224.4 in '03 to 189.8 in '04 (29th in '03 to 9th in '04) and first downs allowed dropped from 326 in '03 to 282 in '04. The defense didn't allow a touchdown in three games (Rams, Falcons and Saints) and allowed just one TD in three others (Rams, Jets and Bucs). Linebacker James Darling set a career and team high with 104 tackles and defensive end Bertrand Berry earned his first Pro Bowl berth with an NFC leading 14.5 sacks.

Prior to joining the Cardinals as defensive coordinator, Pendergast spent a year in Cleveland as linebackers coach, after spending seven seasons on the staff in Dallas, first as a defensive assistant/quality control/linebackers (1996-99), then extended additional responsibilities to coach nickel defense packages (2000) and overall secondary (2001-02). Dallas fielded the youngest starting defensive backfield in the NFL in 2002 with two rookies (first-round draft pick Roy Williams and Derek Ross), a second-year player (Tony Dixon) and a third-year veteran (Mario Edwards). Williams, the eighth-overall selection, and Ross, a third-rounder and 75th overall, tied for the team lead with five interceptions. Pendergast's prize pupil, Williams, achieved numerous all-rookie honors and an eventual 2003 Pro Bowl selection. In both 2000 and 2001, the Cowboys finished third in the NFL in pass defense. In 2001, Pendergast's first year overseeing the secondary, Dallas finished the season as the NFL's third-best pass defense for the second consecutive season. Despite starting five different lineups and eight different players in the secondary, Pendergast's management of the Dallas nickel package in 2000 helped the unit finish third in pass defense.

During his first four seasons with the Cowboys (1996-99), Pendergast focused primarily on the linebackers and helped mold a unit which was part of a defense that improved from 24th in 1997 to 12th in 1998. During that period, Fred Strickland recorded a career-best 153 tackles (1996), Dexter Coakley set a club rookie record with 136 tackles (1997), Strickland, Coakley, and Randall Godfrey finished 2-3-4 on the club in tackles (1998), and Coakley earned his first Pro Bowl selection and led the club with four interceptions (1999).

Born on November 29, 1967 in Phoenix, Pendergast earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Arizona in Tucson in 1990, then worked with wide receivers and as an advance scout as a graduate assistant at Mississippi State (1991) and defensive assistant at Southern California (1992). He spent the next two seasons (1993-94) at the University of Oklahoma as a graduate assistant advance scout and coaching the tight ends, then named the tight ends coach at Alabama-Birmingham in 1995 before joining the Oilers as a defensive assistant and quality control coach.

Pendergast resides in Scottsdale, AZ.

KEITH ROWEN

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

College: Stanford
Hometown: New York, NY
Cardinal Season: 1st
NFL Season: 22nd

Keith Rowen begins his 22nd season in the NFL and his first with the Cardinals after joining the team as offensive coordinator on 1/5/05. With 31 years of experience in coaching, Rowen came to the Cardinals after spending the past six seasons with the Kansas City Chiefs as tight ends coach. The move to Arizona reunites Rowen with Dennis Green, who he worked under while the pair coached together in Minnesota from 1994-1996. While with the Vikings, Rowen helped direct an offense that ranked in the top five in the NFL in total offense during the 1994 and 1995 seasons.

Prior to joining the Chiefs, Rowen spent two seasons tutoring the offensive line of the Oakland Raiders, also serving as assistant head coach with the silver and black.

While in Kansas City, the Chiefs were in the top five in the league in points scored and total offense from 2002-2004, including leading the NFL in points scored in 2002-2003 and in total offense in 2004. Rowen coached one of the most prolific tight ends in the NFL in Tony Gonzalez, who enjoyed six consecutive Pro-Bowl seasons, all of which came under Rowen's guidance.

Gonzalez led all NFL tight ends with 71 receptions and 10 TDs in 2003 and paced all AFC tight ends with 916 receiving yards. In 2003, he also bypassed WR Henry Marshall as the all-time leading receiver in Chiefs history, joining Cleveland's Ozzie Newsome and Denver's Shannon Sharpe as the only tight ends in NFL history to become their franchise's career leader in receptions. In 2003, Gonzalez also became the first player in Chiefs history to register six consecutive seasons with 50 or more receptions.

In 2000, Gonzalez shattered the franchise single-season record with 93 receptions and amassed 1,203 receiving yards, the most ever by a Chiefs tight end, the fourth-highest total by a TE in NFL annals and the fourth-best mark of any Kansas City player. Gonzalez also established an NFL record for tight ends in 2000 by producing six 100-yard receiving games, a mark which tied as the most ever by any Chiefs receiver. The '97 first-round draft choice became the first-ever Chiefs TE to receive a Pro Bowl invitation following the '99 campaign when he caught 76 passes, the fourth-highest total by any player in Kansas City annals. Gonzalez's 11 TD catches in '99 ranked just one shy of the franchise single-season record, as well.

During his two seasons with the Raiders, the 52-year-old Rowen helped rejuvenate Oakland's ground game. RB Napoleon Kaufman racked up 2,215 yards those two years, including a career-high 1,294 yards in '97, while G Steve Wisniewski earned a Pro Bowl berth under Rowen's tutelage.

Prior to joining the Raiders, Rowen spent three years as an offensive line coach with the Minnesota Vikings from '94-96 and three seasons ('91-93) in that same capacity with the Atlanta Falcons. In three of the four years with Atlanta ('90-92), the Falcons offense ranked in the top ten in total offense. During Rowen's three-year tenure with the Vikings, G Randall McDaniel earned All-Pro honors and started in three Pro Bowls. He was also instrumental in the development of future Vikings Pro Bowl offensive linemen Jeff Christy and Todd Steussie. In '91, Falcons T Chris Hinton received Pro Bowl recognition under Rowen after receiving that same honor four straight seasons ('85-88) with Rowen serving as the offensive line/special teams coach for the Indianapolis Colts. In '90, Rowen also coached special teams for the Falcons, whose specialty units ranked as the best in the league by The Dallas Morning News. As tight ends coach with New England in '89, Rowen helped rookie TE Eric Sievers from Maryland lead the Patriots in receiving with 54 catches.

The New York native began his pro career as the offensive coordinator/offensive line coach for the USFL's Boston/New Orleans Breakers for two seasons ('83-84). He then entered the NFL ranks in '84 as the running backs coach for the Cleveland Browns.

A three-year letterman as a tackle at Stanford from '72-74, Rowen earned All-America honors during his senior campaign. Rowen then began his coaching career at his alma mater in '75 as the team's assistant defensive line coach. After a two-year stint ('75-76) at Stanford, Rowen moved to Long Beach State as the offensive line coach for two years ('77-78) before spending the '79-82 seasons at Arizona.

An 11th-round draft choice of the Philadelphia Eagles in '75, Rowen remained with the Eagles until that year's final cut before beginning his coaching career at Stanford. An academic All-America at Stanford, Rowen earned a master's degree from that institution in '77 and also holds a doctorate in athletic administration from the University of Southern California. He comes from a football background as his father, Vic, served as the longtime head football coach at San Francisco State.

Born September 2, 1952 in New York, NY, Rowen and his wife Kimberly have four children, Mande, Holly, Kelly and Michael.

FRANK BUSH

LINEBACKERS

College: North Carolina

Hometown: Athens, GA

Cardinal Season: 2nd

NFL Season: 14th

Frank Bush enters his second season with the Cardinals as linebackers coach after joining the team last season. Before joining Dennis Green in Arizona, Bush worked as an assistant with the Denver Broncos (1995–03) and Houston Oilers (1992–94).

Bush served nine seasons with the Broncos—three as special teams coach (2001–03), one overseeing the defensive secondary/nickel packages (2000), and five as linebackers coach (1995–99). In 2003 Denver ranked fifth in the AFC in both punt and kickoff return average. Kicker Jason Elam accounted for 120 points for the second consecutive season, placing him fourth (2003), and second (2002), respectively. In 2001, Elam's 86 percent field goal accuracy mark (31-of-36) was the best in Bronco history and Reuben Droughns ranked third in the AFC with a 25.8-yard kickoff return average.

In 1995, his first season as linebackers coach with Denver, the Bronco defense improved from 28th to 15th, then skyrocketed to the fourth overall defense in the league in 1996, including first against the run. The 1997 season saw two of his pupils—John Mobley (162) and Bill Romanowski (117) rank 1-2 on the club in tackles as Denver forged consecutive World Championships with victories in Super Bowl XXXII over

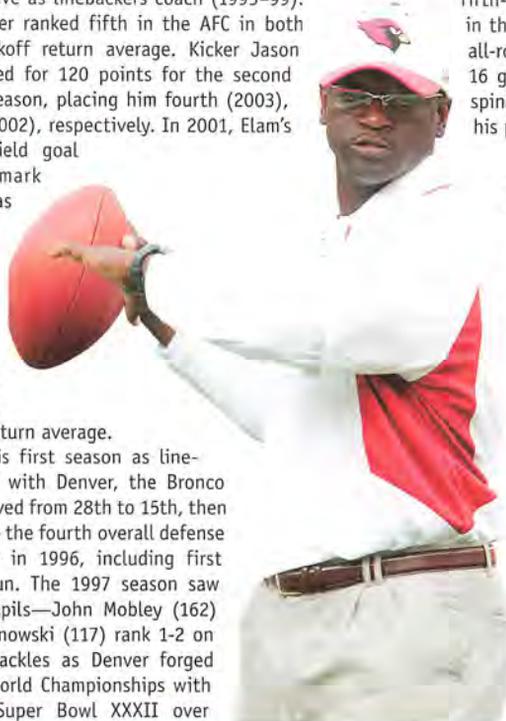

Green Bay following the 1997 season and Super Bowl XXXIII over Atlanta after the '98 campaign. In the latter campaign, the linebacker trio of Mobley (132) Glenn Cadrez (105), and Romanowski (95) led the team in tackles, Romanowski earned his second Pro Bowl berth, and the Bronco run defense finished third in the NFL.

After an outstanding college career as a three-year starter at North Carolina State, Bush was a fifth-round draft choice by Houston in the 1985 NFL Draft and earned all-rookie acclaim starting 11 of 16 games for the Oilers before a spinal injury prematurely ended his pro career a year later.

After serving as a college scout for the Oilers for six years (1987–92), he was the team's linebackers coach for three seasons, bringing his tenure with Houston as a player, scout, and assistant coach to 10 years.

Bush's linebackers continued to play an integral role the following two seasons with the Broncos. In 2002, his special teams ranked among the best in the league as Denver ranked third in the AFC in kickoff coverage and fourth in kickoff return average.

Born January 10, 1963 in Athens, Ga., Bush and his wife, Stephanie, reside in Chandler, AZ.

In 2002 Capretta trained numerous championship teams and olympians in the school's various sports programs. He also worked extensively in the sports medicine department's rehabilitation programs, and assisted with the design of a new 10,000 square foot strength training facility prior to joining the Cardinals last year.

College: Upper Iowa
Hometown: Iowa City, IA
Cardinal Season: 2nd
NFL Season: 10th

A veteran of Dennis Green's offensive system, Carl Hargrave was promoted to tight ends coach in 2005 after originally joining Green's staff as an offensive consultant on September 22, 2004.

Prior to joining the Cardinals last year, Hargrave spent the 2002-2003 seasons working as the defensive coordinator for Lindenwood University (NAIA) in St. Charles, MO.

He was an assistant with the Minnesota Vikings from 1994-2001 and worked primarily with the running backs. In 1994, he started as an offensive assistant working with the tight ends. Under his guidance, the Vikings sent their first running back to the Pro Bowl (Robert Smith in 1998 and 2000) since Chuck Foreman in 1977. In his eight seasons in Minnesota, the Vikings compiled a 77-51 record, made six playoff appearances, won three NFC Central Titles, and twice advanced to the NFC championship game.

Hargrave's pupil at running back Robert Smith set club records in 2000 with 1,521 rushing yards, 295 attempts, 1,869 combined rushing/receiving yards, 9 games with over 100 yards rushing and 5 consecutive games with over 100 yards rushing. Also in 2000 Smith became the club's all-time leading rusher when he eclipsed Chuck Foreman's team record 5,879 yards finishing that season with 6,818 for his career. He also rushed for over 1,000 yards in 1997 (1,266), 1998 (1,187) and 1999 (1,015).

In his eight seasons with Minnesota, Hargrave saw his running backs go over the 100-yard mark 34 times in 144 regular season games.

Hargrave joined the Vikings after two seasons (1992-93) as tight ends coach at the University of Iowa. He also attended Minnesota's training camp in '92 and '93 as part of the NFL's Minority Coaching Intern Program.

Prior to joining Iowa, Hargrave tutored wide receivers for five seasons (1987-91) at the University of Houston, where the quarterback for most of that time was '89 Heisman Trophy winner Andre Ware. During Hargrave's tenure with the Cougars, the school set 88 individual NCAA offensive records with 36 team NCAA marks.

Hargrave's first collegiate coaching assignment came at his high alma mater Upper Iowa from 1977-80. He then joined Dennis Green's staff at Northwestern, where he worked for five seasons (1981-85) before moving to the University of Pittsburgh (1986). Hargrave began his coaching career at Central High School in Waterloo, IA in '76.

A four-time All-Iowa Conference selection as a safety at Upper Iowa, Hargrave intercepted seven passes and posted a 25.3-yard kickoff return average and an 11.0-yard punt return average as a senior, when he was named the team's defensive MVP. He set a school record with a 94-yard kickoff return his freshman year. Hargrave was drafted by the Oakland Raiders in 1976.

Born in Frankfurt, Germany (11/8/54), Hargrave starred at Iowa City High School. He earned his degree in physical education at Upper Iowa. He and his wife Suzanne have two daughters-Alaysa and Autumn and reside in Phoenix.

MIKE KRUCZEK

QUARTERBACKS

College: Boston College
Hometown: Washington, D.C.
Cardinal Season: 2nd
NFL Season: 2nd

In his second year as an NFL assistant, Cardinals' quarterbacks coach Mike Kruczek entered the NFL coaching fraternity well-equipped for his role with 22 years of coaching experience and five seasons as a professional quarterback.

Kruczek, an all-America quarterback at Boston College and owner of two Super Bowl rings while a member of the Pittsburgh Steelers, joined the Cardinals after 19 seasons at the University of Central Florida, including six as head coach.

While guiding UCF to a 36-30 record from 1998-03 as head coach, Kruczek's passing offense finished among the top 10 in the NCAA three times (1998, 2001, '02). His '98 squad—posting a school-best 9-2 mark—featured senior quarterback Daunte Culpepper, who set more than 30 school records while becoming only the third player in NCAA history to pass for more than 10,000 yards and rush for more than 1,000 yards in a career. Culpepper earned all-America honors, won the Sammy Baugh Award as the nation's top college passer, finished sixth in the Heisman Trophy voting, and was a first-round pick by the Minnesota Vikings in the 1999 NFL Draft. Culpepper also broke Steve Young's 15-year old NCAA record for single-season completion percentage with a 73.6 percent mark.

Prior to his six seasons as the Golden Knights' head coach, Kruczek served for 13 seasons as the school's offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach during which time UCF led all NCAA Division II schools in scoring offense (1987), passing offense (1988), and advanced to the I-AA national semifinals (1990).

Born March 15, 1953 in Washington, D.C., Kruczek earned all-America notice in 1975 as a quarterback at Boston College where he set several school passing and total offense records. He was selected in the second round of the 1976 NFL Draft by Pittsburgh and played in 29 games for the Steelers from 1976–79 and was a member of Super Bowl championship squads in 1978 and '79. As a rookie in 1976 he stepped into the lineup for an injured Terry Bradshaw and led the Steelers to six consecutive victories en route to the AFC title game. The rookie mark stood until 2004 when Steelers quarterback Ben Roethlisberger started his NFL career by winning his first 13 starts. Kruczek concluded his playing career in 1980 with the Washington Redskins.

Kruczek, who owns a degree in marketing from Boston College, received his first coaching experience as quarterbacks coach under Bobby Bowden at Florida State from 1982–83, then spent one season (1984) as quarterbacks coach for the Jacksonville Bulls of the USFL prior to joining the staff at UCF.

Kruczek (KROO-zek) and his wife, Leigh, have two children—daughter Kelly and son Garrett—and reside in Chandler, AZ.

KEVIN O'DEA

SPECIAL TEAMS

College: Lock Haven
Hometown: Williamsport, PA
Cardinal Season: 2nd
NFL Season: 12th

Kevin O'Dea begins his second season as the Cardinals' special teams coach and has spent the last 11 years in the NFL.

Last season with the Cardinals, O'Dea's special teams enjoyed a productive season. Kicker Neil Rackers missed just three field goals inside of 50 yards all season, nailed five of 50+ and led the NFL with 23 touchbacks, the most in team history. Veteran punter Scott Player enjoyed another outstanding season and set a career-high with 32 punts downed inside the 20, one shy of the franchise record (Jeff Feagles, 33 in 1996). The coverage units were also very solid, giving up an average of just 8.7 yards per punt return (down from 11.5 in '03). After kickoffs, opponents' average drive starts improved from the 29.5 in 2003 (11th in NFC) to 23.8 (2nd in NFC).

Before he joined the Cardinals, O'Dea spent two seasons (2002-2003) as the special teams assistant for the Detroit Lions. O'Dea helped tutor a Lions unit which ranked among the NFL leaders in punt return average (12.3 yards, fourth), kickoff return average (22.6 yards, eighth), and field goal percentage (22-of-23, .957, second).

Prior to joining the Detroit staff in 2002, O'Dea spent six seasons with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers as an offensive assistant (2001) and defensive assistant (1996-2000), handling all aspects of game preparation and producing scouting reports, opponent video breakdowns, and playbook and game plan assembly. He joined the Buccaneers after two seasons with the San Diego Chargers (1994-95) in a similar capacity.

A native of Williamsport, Pa., O'Dea spent a four-year term in the Coast Guard (1979-83) before enrolling at Lock Haven University where he played wide receiver and defensive back.

When a back injury cut his playing career short, coached the wide receivers in 1986 while still a student and earned a degree in fitness management. He later obtained a master's degree in education from the University of Virginia.

O'Dea spent one season (1987) as freshmen defensive backs coach at Cornell, then in 1988 joined the staff at Virginia as a graduate assistant for two years (1988-89) and one season as assistant strength coach (1990). He served three years at Penn State (1991-93) as a graduate assistant working with the wide receivers (1991), defensive line (1992), and linebackers (1993) before entering the professional ranks with San Diego in 1994.

Born June 9, 1960, O'Dea and his wife, Mary Anne, reside in Chandler, AZ. with their son, Sean Michael.

His NFL tenures include the St. Louis Rams (1995-96), Cleveland Browns (1988-89), and N.Y. Giants (1979-81). Last year, the Cardinals collected 38 sacks, up from 21 in 2003 and the most since 1998. Pro Bowl defensive end Bertrand Berry's 14.5 sacks led the NFC and placed him second in the NFL (Freeney, 16.5, Indianapolis Colts).

Born in Roodhouse, Ill., Pollard served on the staffs as defensive backs coach at Western Illinois (1971-73) and Florida State (1974-75), then spent three seasons as an assistant coach and defensive coordinator at Oklahoma State (1976-78) before his first professional assignment in 1979 with the N.Y. Giants as defensive backs coach. Following the 1982 season with the Denver Gold of the USFL, Pollard was defensive coordinator and secondary coach for the Chicago Blitz/Arizona Wranglers in the USFL from 1983-85 as the club advanced to the league championship game in 1984.

The NFL called again in 1989 when he served as a special assistant to head coach Bud Carson

Pollard returned to the college ranks as defensive coordinator at Central Florida (1990-93) and defensive line coach at Boston College (1994) where the Eagles set a Big East Conference record with 58 quarterback sacks before his two-year stop with the Rams (1995-96). His most recent college coaching assignment was from 1998-99 as defensive line coach at Syracuse University as the Orangemen won a Big East Conference title and appearance in the Orange Bowl.

In addition, Pollard owns a legendary high school coaching career with a 55-4-3 mark at Pittsfield High School from 1961-71 which included an Illinois state record 54 consecutive victories.

RICHARD SOLOMON

DEFENSIVE BACKS

College: Iowa
Hometown: New Orleans, LA
Cardinal Season: 2nd
NFL Season: 15th

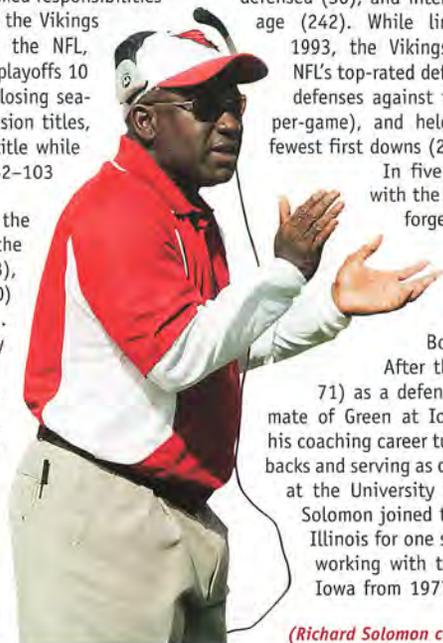

A native of New Orleans, La., Cardinals' second-year defensive backs coach Richard Solomon owns 25 years in the coaching fraternity, including 10 on Dennis Green's staff with the Minnesota Vikings (1992-2001) and five seasons (1987-91) as a scout for the N.Y. Giants. He also assumed responsibilities as director of pro personnel for the Vikings in 2001. In his 15 years in the NFL, Solomon's clubs have made the playoffs 10 times, had 13 consecutive non-losing seasons (1988-2000), won six division titles, and collected one Super Bowl title while compiling an impressive 152-103 (.596) regular-season record.

During his decade with the Vikings, Solomon coached the outside linebackers (1992-93), defensive secondary (1994-2000) and inside linebackers (2001). Under his direction, safety Robert Griffith (1998) and cornerback Jimmy Hitchcock (1998) earned all-pro status, safety Orlando Thomas led the league with nine interceptions as a rookie (1995), cornerback Anthony Parker set an NFL record with three consecutive games with a defensive touchdown (1994), and cornerback Dewayne Washington was selected NFL defensive rookie of the year (1994). Griffith's 138 tackles in 1999 were the most by a Vikings defensive back since Joey Browner recorded 152 in 1986, and in 1998 Hitchcock set team single-season marks for interceptions returned for a touchdown (3), passes defensed (30), and interception return yardage (242). While linebackers coach in 1993, the Vikings finished with the NFL's top-rated defense overall, led NFC defenses against the run (96.0 yards-per-game), and held opponents to the fewest first downs (259) in the league.

In five seasons as a scout with the N.Y. Giants, the club forged a 49-30 record (.620), won two NFC East crowns, and defeated Buffalo in Super Bowl XXV.

After three seasons (1969-71) as a defensive back and teammate of Green at Iowa, Solomon began his coaching career tutoring the defensive backs and serving as defensive coordinator at the University of Dubuque (1973). Solomon joined the staff at Southern Illinois for one season (1976) before working with the wide receivers at Iowa from 1977-78. In one season as receivers coach at Syracuse (1979), he helped hone the skills of future NFL star Art Monk, who as a senior caught 40 passes for a school-record 716 yards and earned all-America honors.

From 1980-86, Solomon was the defensive coordinator at the University of Illinois and helped turn around a program that hadn't posted consecutive winning seasons since the mid-1960s. During his stay in Champaign, the Illini strung together five consecutive winning seasons for the first time since the 1920s and appeared in the 1982 Liberty Bowl, 1984 Rose Bowl, and 1985 Peach Bowl. In 1983, Illinois swept through Big 10 Conference play with a 9-0 record to become the school's only team to defeat all nine conference opponents in the same season.

A two-year starting defensive back and Green's college teammate at Iowa (1969-71), Solomon attended St. Augustine High School in New Orleans and owns a degree in physical education from Iowa. Born Oct. 8, 1949, he has three children—Alesia, Brandon, and Ryann.

STEVE WETZEL

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

College: Slippery Rock
Hometown: Washington, D.C.
Cardinal Season: 2nd
NFL Season: 16th

Entering his 16th season in the National Football League, Steve Wetzel heads up the strength and conditioning program for head coach Dennis Green in Arizona.

Prior to his assignment with the Cardinals, Wetzel served as the Minnesota Vikings' strength and conditioning coach from 1992-2003. He was a key member of Green's coaching staff that compiled a 101-70 (.591) composite record in 10 seasons as the Vikings earned eight postseason berths and two NFC championship game appearances.

In his 15 NFL seasons, Wetzel has been with teams that have gone 142-98 (.690) and made the playoffs 10 times, including 1991 when he was on the Washington Redskins' Super Bowl XXVI Championship staff.

In his two seasons (1990-91) as assistant strength coach for the Redskins, the team posted a 28-9 (.757) record, including playoffs. Further evidence of Wetzel's expertise is that three of his assistants—Mike Wolf (Philadelphia), Mark Asanovich (Tampa Bay/Jacksonville), and Jeff Friday (Baltimore)—have become head strength and conditioning coaches with other NFL teams.

Before joining Washington, Wetzel spent four months as strength coach for George Mason University, the first strength coach ever hired at the University. He was the assistant strength coach at the University of Maryland from 1985–89. In his first season there, the Terrapins finished 9–2, won the Atlantic Coast Conference title and defeated Syracuse in the Cherry Bowl.

Wetzel earned his degree in physical education/sports management from Slippery Rock University, where he was a power lifter. He is a former record holder in the bench press in the American Drug Free Power Lifting Association. In 1998, Wetzel received the President's Award for contributions to his profession as selected by the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society.

Born May 11, 1963 in Washington, D.C., Wetzel attended Park View High School in Sterling, VA. He and his wife, Michelle, reside in Chandler, AZ, with their daughter Samantha.

NFL Season: 8th

A native of Los Angeles, Calif., Wilson owns 17 years of coaching experience at the college and professional levels. Now in his second season with the Cardinals as running backs coach, Wilson spent two seasons as running backs coach with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers before joining Dennis Green's staff last season.

After one season (2001) as wide receiver coach at Southern California, Wilson joined head coach Jon Gruden's staff in Tampa Bay in 2002 as the Buccaneer trio of running backs Michael Pittman and Aaron Stecker and Pro Bowl fullback Mike Alstott collectively gained over 1,400 rushing yards and helped the Buccaneers to the NFC title and Super Bowl XXXVII victory over Oakland. His 2003 backfield duo of Pittman (751 yards rushing/597 receiving) and Thomas Jones (627 yards rushing/180 receiving) accounted for nearly 40 percent (2,155) of the Bucs' 5,453 total net yards. Jones, a former Arizona first-round draft selection (2000), achieved career-best rushing marks in yards (627) and yards-per-attempt (4.6) while Pittman's 75 pass receptions led all NFC running backs and was a single-season career-high.

Prior to his stay with the Buccaneers, Wilson spent four years as running backs coach with the New England Patriots (1997–99) and Washington Redskins (2000), tutoring a trio of Pro Bowl performers in Patriot running backs Curtis Martin (1997) and Robert Edwards (1998), and later Redskin running back Stephen Davis (2000). In addition, Wilson honed the skills of Washington fullback Larry Centers, who led his team with 80 pass receptions in 2000. Centers (827 pass receptions) and Keith Byars (610 receptions), whom Wilson coached in New England in 1997, rank one and three in career receptions by a running back in NFL history (Marshall Faulk, no. 2 at 723).

Wilson entered the coaching arena on the staff at Pasadena (Calif.) City College (1985) as wide receivers coach, and after obtaining a degree in psychology from Eastern Illinois in 1989, returned to the coaching arena at Los Angeles Southwest Community College (1989–90) as quarterbacks and wide receivers coach. Following two seasons at Southern Illinois as linebackers coach (1991) and secondary coach/passing game coordinator (1992), he joined the staff at the University of Wyoming (1993–94) as secondary coach and the Cowboys won the 1993 Western Athletic Conference title and earned an appearance in the Copper Bowl. Wilson then coached running backs at Iowa State for two years (1995–96). Under his guidance, Troy Davis earned all-America honors and led the nation with over 2,000 yards rushing in both '95 and '96—the only player in NCAA history to reach the 2,000-yard rushing mark in consecutive seasons.

A running back and wide receiver at Pasadena Community College (1979–80) and the University of Illinois (1980–81), Wilson played two seasons in the Canadian Football League as a defensive back and kick returner for the Winnipeg Blue Bombers (1983) and Toronto Argonauts (1984).

FOOTBALL AND HIGH TECHNOLOGY CONVERGE AS CARDINALS AND INSIGHT FORM EXCLUSIVE PARTNERSHIP

LOCAL COMPANY TO PROVIDE "TECHNOLOGY BEHIND THE TEAM"

In April of 2005, the Cardinals and Insight North America ("Insight") announced a multi-year, multi-million-dollar partnership that makes Insight the exclusive Information Technology (IT) solutions provider for both the team and the new Cardinals Stadium, opening in 2006.

The partnership includes complete product integration throughout the Cardinals training complex and new stadium as well as a number of promotional, marketing and community relations initiatives. Equipped with state-of-the-art cabling, networking, wireless and computing technology, the new stadium will be the NFL's most technologically advanced facility, demonstrating the new role of IT in the world of football.

As one of the world's leading providers of information technology products and solutions, Insight will design, configure, install, implement and maintain the IT solutions for the stadium and the team's Tempe training facility. Following implementation, Insight will have fulltime staff onsite to ensure the stadium's technology operates seamlessly.

The Cardinals selected Insight as its exclusive IT partner following a lengthy review process. The team decided Insight, with its configuration and integration labs, certified engineers and wide selection of IT products and services would be the most suitable partner.

From a technical standpoint, the Insight partnership will enable the Cardinals to boast the NFL's first stadium with "Pure Internet Protocol (IP)," meaning that voice, video and data can be transmitted over the same network rather than through separate systems.

The agreement also involves entitlement of the "Insight Club" for all events at the stadium. Contained within this 40,000 square foot club on the east side of the stadium will be an Executive Briefing Center that gives Insight the opportunity to creatively showcase and display their products, technology and IT solutions to a diverse audience of corporate and business leaders, who are potential customers.

In addition, Insight will receive fully-integrated marketing elements such as logo and trademark usage, signage, broadcast media, hospitality, tie-ins with Cardinals special events and community relations initiatives, as well as use of the stadium for customer events.

CARDINALS STADIUM

ABOUT THE CARDINALS STADIUM

The 2005 season will be the Cardinals' final one at Sun Devil Stadium as the team's new state-of-the-art home will open in time for the 2006 campaign.

From the outset, Bill and Michael Bidwill embarked upon the task of building a new stadium for the Cardinals with a very clear focus. They were intent on constructing a bold and innovative venue that would set the industry standard for design excellence and provide the ultimate in fan comfort. The result of those efforts is a new $450 million complex on a 165-acre site in Glendale, a suburban community in the West Valley of Phoenix, Arizona. In addition to hosting Cardinals games and the Fiesta Bowl, it will be the site of Super Bowl XLII in February 2008 and the B.C.S. national championship game in January of 2007.

ARCHITECTURE: World-renowned architect Peter Eisenman, in partnership with HOK Sport and Hunt Construction Group, has created a state-of-the-art design that is sure to become an Arizona landmark. The stadium's exterior skin takes its design cue from the barrel cactus and features alternating sections of shimmering metal panels intended to reflect the shifting desert light alongside magnificent vertical glass slots allowing patrons a spectacular view of the horizon from any level of the interior.

RETRACTABLE FIELD: Cardinals Stadium will also feature a unique rollout natural-grass playing field, contained in a single tray weighing 13 million-pounds (234 feet wide, 403 feet long). The first completely retractable field in North America, it will be positioned inside the stadium on game days to offer the preferred natural-grass playing surface for football and outside the stadium for the remaining 350+ days of the year to receive sunlight and watering. The field tray will be powered by electric motors mounted on steel wheels riding on tracks embedded in the concrete floor. The flexibility of this unique design allows Cardinals Stadium to serve as a true multi-purpose venue featuring a 152,000 square-foot event floor for other prominent events such as NCAA Final Four basketball tournaments, trade and consumer shows, conventions, concerts, motor sports, and rodeos.

RETRACTABLE ROOF: The stadium roof will be comprised of two large retractable panels remaining closed to allow for air conditioning during the hot summer months and remaining open during cooler times of the year to take advantage of Arizona's patented sunshine. Light will penetrate the fabric roof, allowing the stadium to have an open, airy feel even when the roof is closed.

OTHER FEATURES: In addition to its high-design architecture and innovative design, the stadium will set new standards for stadium comfort. It will be aligned along a slight north-west to southeast axis to offer the maximum sun exposure for the grass field and maximum shade for stadium patrons.

The stadium's seating capacity will be approximately 65,000 for Cardinals games and is expandable to approximately 75,000 for mega-events like the Super Bowl and Fiesta Bowl. Its layout provides for excellent site lines, comfortable seats, abundant restrooms and concession stands, spacious end-zone viewing decks, and wide concourses with an "open" design allowing for an unobstructed view of the field from both the lower and upper concourses. The stadium will also showcase two state-of-the-art videoboard/scoreboard displays prominently located in the endzones with excellent site lines from all seating areas.

Cardinals Stadium will include 88 luxury suites featuring preferred parking, an exclusive entrance, private restrooms, multiple televisions, in-suite catering and a bold, modern interior design unlike any other suites in the industry. In addition to the private suites, a luxurious Club Level will feature wider seats, preferred parking, private entrances, and a climate controlled Club Lounge with multiple two-story spaces, comfortable lounge seating, plentiful TV monitors, upgraded food and beverage offerings and dedicated restrooms.

On-site parking will accommodate 14,000 cars as part of an innovative site plan designed to create a truly unique tailgating experience for fans. Spaces for an additional 7,500 vehicles will be conveniently located on adjacent parcels and another 3,500 on other nearby parcels.

Cardinals Stadium will be owned by the Arizona Sports and Tourism Authority and operated by Global Spectrum.

San Francisco Chronicle

October 10, 2004

(How were the Cardinals able to get a new stadium?) "For one, the Cardinals ponied up about $120 million of the project's total cost... For second, they did more than just talk about a stadium project... (team vice president) Michael Bidwill energized the politicians and tourism community. They got voters to slap tax surcharges on hotel room and rental cars, money that the voters don't have to pay. They decided against personal seat licenses, realizing how unpopular they had become... Then they decided that some of the money generated would go to promote tourism and youth sports programs, another move to generate votes. And they got the Fiesta Bowl people on board, too, to assure their spot in the BCS....the Cardinals got it done and suddenly are moving into the modern NFL...they are now in the mainstream."

WORLD-CLASS DESIGN DISTINGUISHES CARDINALS STADIUM FROM ALL OTHERS

The goal for Cardinals Stadium from day one was to set a new design standard for all sports facilities. Back in 1997, it was decided to explore the possibility of retaining an internationally-known high design architect for the project. With the assistance of Michael Rushman, an expert in land use planning and real estate development who has been involved in many complex design projects, the team met with John Meunier, then Dean of ASU's College of Architecture and Environmental Design. Meunier helped prepare a list of more than a dozen candidates from around the world. Preliminary interviews uncovered one among that number who has been a life-long, passionate football fan and is considered one of the most influential architects of the 20th century – Peter Eisenman.

In order to test their belief that such a choice would result in a precedent-setting design, the team convened a 90-day design exercise involving two teams – one being a traditional sports architecture firm and the other being a pairing of Eisenman with a second traditional sports architecture firm. When the conceptual designs were presented at the end of the exercise, it was clear that the team's faith in the potential of design had been rewarded. Eisenman's proposal was stunning – unlike anything already on the landscape.

The years that followed presented many challenges as the team worked to line up financing, shepherd necessary state legislation, and secure a site. All the while, Eisenman Architects continued to work on all aspects of the project – including site selection and, of course, the design of the building itself. The building design evolved as the program for the project evolved. To further assist with the design the team also retained the services of HOK Sport, the renowned sports architecture firm that has designed more NFL stadiums than any other. When the current West Valley site was ultimately selected, the Cardinals again demonstrated their commitment to delivering a unique and world-class project when they directed Mr. Eisenman to start from scratch and come up with a new exterior design for the structure that would reflect the specific site conditions encountered in Glendale. Eisenman's final pass resulted in the scintillating silver metallic skin that envelops the entire facility in a series of gentle curves. Even at the early stages of completion, motorists traveling the 101 freeway began to witness the building's promise.

The Cardinals have been insistent on taking their commitment to excellent design beyond simply the building architecture and to the actual fan experience. To this end they have been working with Urban Earth Design, CMX Engineering and Eisenman Architects to develop a site plan that will do far more than simply provide a place for 14,000 vehicles to park. This plan will complement the building architecture and provide a raft of amenities for fans attending events at the facility as well as those who will live, work and shop in the nearby area.

To complete these efforts with respect to both the building and site, the Cardinals retained Pentagram – one of the world's leading graphic design firms for the past quarter century. Michael Gericke, Jim Biber and their talented team of designers are working on a package of environmental graphic design, wayfinding, and interior design features that will complement the building's architecture and provide that festival atmosphere that is so much a part of events like Cardinals home games, the Fiesta Bowl and Super Bowl.

By making their priorities clear from the outset and then by acting decisively and consistently the Cardinals have assembled an unparalleled team of designers who will be delivering a project unlike anything seen before among U.S. sports venues. Michael Bidwill, who has served as the organization's point person on the project, and his father, Bill, have taken every step possible to ensure that this new venue will not only be a state of the art facility for the Cardinals and their fans but will be a significant and enduring contribution to the ever-evolving urban landscape of the Valley of the Sun.

EYES OF THE WORLD ALREADY ON CARDINALS STADIUM

Since the moment ground was broken, the buzz surrounding the new Cardinals Stadium has been constant. Voices from across the globe have hailed the venue's innovative design as a world-class achievement in architecture. Still others have admired the stadium's state-of-the-art offerings such as the roll-out natural grass field, the retractable roof and the numerous other enhancements that will surely define the fan experience.

The Cardinals Stadium has received widespread publicity in places you'd least expect it: a cover story in The New York Times Arts & Leisure section, a separate piece in The Times Sunday Magazine, placement in Popular Mechanics, not to mention the international publicity its high design architecture has received in places like Germany, Denmark, Japan, and Brazil. From article to article, country to country, it is exceedingly clear that something truly special is taking shape in the Valley of the Sun.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING

"When Cardinals Stadium opens for the 2006 NFL season, it will set a new standard for future covered stadia, with both bold architecture and by advancing the science and scale of operable structures." Stadia Magazine, May 2004

"The new Cardinals Stadium promises to raise the bar in terms of stadium design, innovation and fan comfort. It is a tribute to the perseverance and commitment of the Bidwills and the Cardinals organization and will be a major source of tremendous community pride and national attention." NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue

"New York architect Peter Eisenman has spent most of his career engaging in rarefied debates about design theory and producing a small group of buildings to match. But the design he may become most famous for is a football stadium in Arizona, filling a plot of land where alfalfa used to grow." The New York Times (Arts & Leisure cover story), July 27, 2003

"For me, working on this project is really a labor of love because I am an absolute football junkie. From the first time I met with the Bidwills, it was clear the opportunity existed to do something special. Often I have associates stop by my office who don't know the first thing about football and they are absolutely wowed when I show them the designs for this stadium. I think it's going to be a huge success." Architect and stadium designer Peter Eisenman

NEW LOGO & UNIFORMS

On April 20, 2005 the Cardinals unveiled the new uniforms that they'll wear beginning this season. The uniform change is the most significant in the long history of the Cardinals, who were founded in 1898 and represent the oldest professional football team still in existence. In fact, the "Cardinals" moniker came from the red jerseys they acquired in the early 1900s from the University of Chicago that team owner Chris O'Brien determined were not maroon, as suggested, but really "Cardinal red."

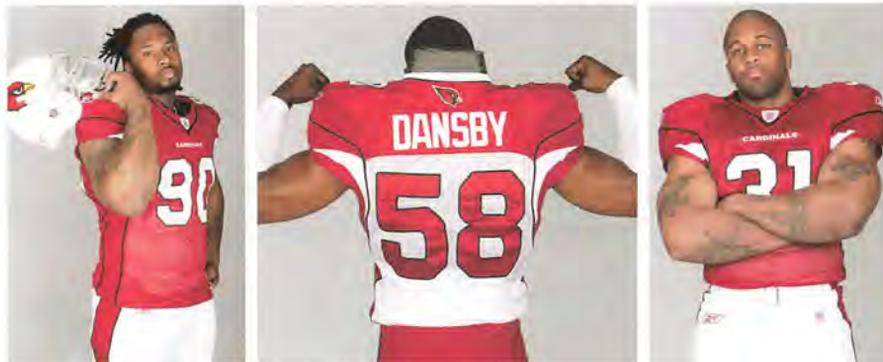

The uniform re-design was just one in a series of off-the-field changes for the Cardinals, who in January also unveiled a new team logo (see below). The most significant change will come next year when the Cardinals move into their new state-of-the-art stadium in time for next season.

While the design and overall appearance of the uniforms is drastically different, the team's main color scheme of red and white has not changed though the color black has been added as an accent.

Aside from the obvious difference in terms of look and design, the Reebok-produced uniforms also feature some of the industry's latest in terms of performance-enhancing technology.

The yoke, sleeves, and side panels of the jersey are made of "Knit Cordura," a high-performance nylon-lycra combination that allows for optimal fit while maintaining maximum strength. The torso of the jersey is made from "Diamond Back Mesh," a special weave that allows the holes to open up wider and permit more ventilation than the standard mesh. Also, the numbers on the jersey will be made from a special lightweight, stretch-twill fabric that will allow the jersey to fit tighter and better.

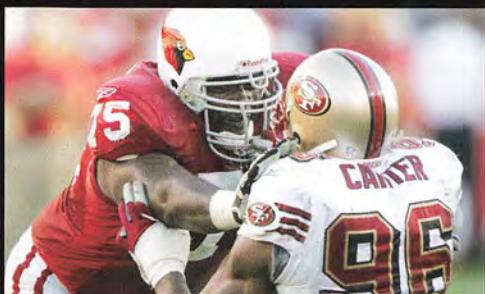

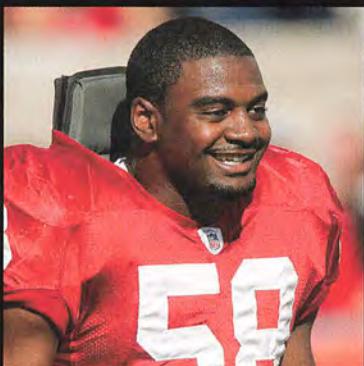

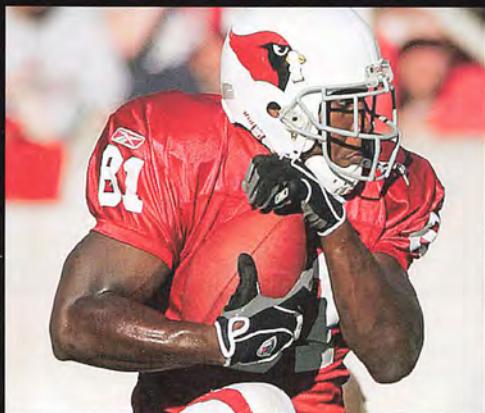

NEW LOGO REFLECTIVE OF NEW ATTITUDE

On January 27, 2005, the team unveiled a re-designed team logo, updating the classic Cardinal head that has been synonymous with the team for decades.

"This is just the latest in a series of exciting changes for the Cardinals over the last year that reflect a positive new direction for the franchise," said Michael Bidwill, Vice President/General Counsel. "We want people to associate this new logo with the kind of aggressiveness and toughness they can expect from our team and throughout the organization but ultimately we want people to associate it with success."

CARDINALS IN THE COMMUNITY

In his first year with the Cardinals, Berry was a Pro Bowler on the field and off. Since joining the team as a free agent in 2004, Bertrand has been one of the most community-oriented players on the team. Last holiday season, Berry along with 16 of his teammates hosted 50 needy children from Childhelp USA for "Shop with a Jock" at Wal-Mart. Each player shopped with two or three children providing them with a $100 shopping spree courtesy of the Bertrand Berry Foundation. Childhelp USA is one of the largest and oldest national non-profits dedicated to the treatment of prevention of child abuse and neglect.

During Thanksgiving, Bertrand joined Channel 12 news anchor Mark Curtis to collect turkeys as part of "12 News Turkey Tuesday." Berry also stayed busy in the offseason, visiting hospitals while in Jacksonville at the Super Bowl and in Hawaii while participating at the Pro Bowl. He and his wife Shellie were also the honorary chairs for the Leukemia Society Dinner this past spring. Shellie is now a member of the organization's board.

Boldin led the NFL with 40 third-down receptions and registered 64 first downs to lead all rookies ... held the third-down receiving leader spot for 15 of 17 weeks ... Boldin's stellar rookie campaign began @ Det (9/7) with a 10-reception, 217-yard day, the latter the season's league-wide single-game best. AN UNCLE'S INSPIRATION

Faced with unspeakable tragedy at an early age, Darnell Dockett remembers a time when he thought he was more likely to end up in prison or dead than in the NFL. He credits his uncle, Kevin, as the one individual responsible for turning his life around.

At the age of 13, Darnell arrived home to find the body of his mother, Cheryl Hambrick, who had been killed by a gunshot to the head. Shortly thereafter, Darnell moved from Duluth, GA to Maryland to be with his father, Darnell Sr., who was dying of pancreatic cancer.

Only a few months after moving in with his father, Darnell Sr. passed away and Darnell became an orphan. That's when Kevin Dockett, his father's brother, took him into his Burtonsville, MD home and probably saved his life. Additional challenges would follow but he credits his uncle with providing a foundation and instilling a sense of perspective that enabled him to meet and move past each of them.

Tattooed on Darnell's right forearm is a poem of gratitude to his uncle.

*For believing in me
when no one else would.
When the odds were against me,
beside me you stood.
For being my friend,
brother, confidant and father.
Because of you I know blood is thicker than water.
Words can't express my gratitude,
nor any amount of money.
From the bottom of my heart,
thank you and I love you
Donny*

CARDINALS IN THE COMMUNITY

While he does much of it quietly, Larry Fitzgerald was a very active participant in the team's community relations activities since being drafted a year ago.

His commitment to the youth of Arizona led to his involvement with Pop Warner football. Last spring, shortly after being drafted, Fitzgerald spoke to Chandler Pop Warner players at the "Pop Warner Scholar Awards Night" to help recognize the recipients who achieved a 4.0 GPA during the school year.

He also appeared on behalf of the Cardinals to accept the "Pop Warner NFL Team of the Year Award" at a banquet this past summer in Orange County, CA.

CARDINALS IN THE COMMUNITY

Lewis was a frequent visitor to the Stardust House, a center that serves the needs of a Habitat for Humanity neighborhood in Phoenix. Every Tuesday during the season, different players (Anquan Boldin, Obafemi Ayanbadejo, Kenny King, and Reggie Newhouse) stopped by to participate in the Stardust's After School Program. Lewis headlined this program, visiting almost every week and serving as a mentor to the children enrolled in the program.

From tutoring kids to playing sports to arts and crafts to competing at different board games to helping out in the kitchen with after-school snacks, Lewis became a dependable friend and role model. As well as donating his time, Lewis also provided the program with new sporting equipment for Christmas. Even though he spent his offseason playing in Cologne as part of NFL Europe, Lewis has stayed in touch with the children by exchanging letters with them.

CARDINALS IN THE COMMUNITY

Josh's passionate play on the field is matched by a similar passion for helping out the community and people around him. McCown has always been active in speaking to students about the value of education and staying in school. He has read to children through the "Milk and Cookies" program and coached kids at several Gatorade Junior Training Camps.

This past season, McCown also spoke to students at Chaparral High School about staying in school and addressed the football team about the importance of education and athletics.

He also took part in the NFL's Take a Player to School day where he went to Emmaus Lutheran with contest winner Brandon Osborn. While there, McCown talked to the students and participated in some passing drills with them.

Along with his wife Natalie, Josh also took part in the annual Cardinals and United Way "Hometown Huddle" event in El Mirage where a group of players and wives helped rebuild a library/recreation room at the Dysart Community Center for underprivileged children. He also participated in the "Anti Bullying Prevention" program by speaking to students at Garcia Elementary School about bully prevention in their school.

BROTHERS IN ARMS

Cardinals QB Josh McCown and his younger brother, Luke, are part of what's been a growing trend of late in the NFL. Drafted by the Browns in the fourth round of the 2004 Draft, Luke is presently a QB with the Tampa Bay Bucs. In 2004, the McCowns represented one of a record five sets of brothers playing QB in the NFL.

The other four brother pairings at the quarterback position were: Koy (Eagles) and Ty (Atlanta) Detmer; Tim (Redskins) and Matt (Seahawks) Hasselbeck; Brock (Seahawks) and Damon (Chiefs) Huard; Eli (Giants) and Peyton (Colts) Manning. Tim Hasselbeck has since moved to the Giants and Brock Huard is currently unsigned after spending most of 2004 on injured reserve with Seattle.

What may be more remarkable is that aside from those five sets of quarterback brothers, in the history of the NFL there have been just two other brother tandems at the quarterback position: Craig (Oilers, 1980) and Terry Bradshaw (Steelers, 1970-1983) and Ed (Decatur Staleys/Chicago Bears, 1920-27) and Joey Sternaman (Bears, 1922-25, 1927-30, also played with Duluth Eskimos, 1923).

NFL'S ALL-TIME SIGNAL-CALLING BROTHERS

Bradshaws	CRAIG (Oilers) and TERRY (Steelers)
Detmers	KOY (Eagles) and TY (Packers, Eagles, 49ers, Browns, Lions, Falcons)
Hasselbecks	TIM (Eagles, Redskins, Giants) and MATT (Packers, Seahawks)
Huards	BROCK (Seahawks, Colts) and DAMON (Dolphins, Patriots, Chiefs)
Mannings	ELI (Giants) and PEYTON (Colts)
McCowns	JOSH (Cardinals) and LUKE (Browns and Buccaneers)
Sternamans	ED (Decatur Staleys, Bears) and JOEY (Bears, Duluth Eskimos)

The Detmer brothers accomplished a unique feat back in 1997 when they both played quarterback for the same team - the Philadelphia Eagles - during Koy's rookie season. Two seasons later both Koy and Ty became the first set of brothers to ever throw touchdown passes on the same day (December 19, 1999). The Hasselbeck brothers accomplished the same feat on November 23, 2003 and the McCowns did it last year on 12/26/04.

The Huards were the first pair of brothers to ever start at quarterback in the NFL on the same weekend back in 2000, when Damon filled in for an injured Jay Fiedler in Miami and Brock started in place of an ailing Jon Kitna. The Hasselbecks also duplicated that feat in November of 2003 and the McCowns accomplished it on three straight Sundays in December of 2004.

HISTORIC ROOF LIFT COMPLETED IN FEBRUARY

Over President's Day weekend this past February, construction crews hoisted the major portion of the retractable roof at the new Cardinals Stadium in the largest single roof lift ever performed in North America.

The 11-million pound roof section weighed the equivalent of 14 Boeing 747 airplanes and was accomplished with eight strand lifting units capable of hoisting a combined 7,900 tons, or enough to raise the Eiffel Tower.

It took four days to raise the roof 156 feet above the stadium floor in a process that began when workers disconnected the 87-foot tall and 700 feet-long Brunel trusses from the support posts they had rested on while the retractable roof was assembled.

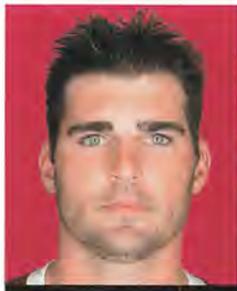

The process was managed by Hunt Construction Group, the nation's leading sports facility builder that has managed construction of four of the six retractable-roof stadiums in the U.S. including Bank One Ballpark in Phoenix. Crews initially raised the roof 18 to 24 inches on Friday and conducted inspections and tests throughout the day.

With inspectors giving the go-ahead, the carefully planned, computer-controlled ascent of the roof began early Saturday morning.

By mid-day on Monday, ironworker crews from Schuff Steel Company installed the transfer girders in the notches at the top of the four Super Columns to complete the roof lift.

The roof lift took the project past the 50% completion mark of the new stadium, something to celebrate for construction workers.

NOTE CARDS

- The Pro Football Hall of Fame received the shoes worn by Rackers on 10/24/04 when he earned a spot in the NFL record book. By connecting on field goals of 55, 55 and 50 yards in the Cardinals 25-17 win vs. Seattle (10/24), Rackers earned a share of the NFL's all-time record for most field goals of 50+ yards in a single game, tying Morten Andersen who set the record in 1995.
- Set the Cardinals franchise record for touchbacks in a season with 23 in 2004. The previous record was 19 set in 1997 by Joe Nedney and Kevin Butler. Rackers 23 touchbacks on kickoffs were eight more than the next closest kicker, Micha Knorr, who had 15 for Denver.
- With his 18th field goal of the season vs. the Rams on 12/19/04, Rackers surpassed his previous season high of 17, which he set in 2001 with the Bengals. Rackers finished 2004 with 22 made field goals on 29 attempts. Rackers set career-highs in both categories.
- In 2004, missed just three FG attempts from inside 50 yards and nailed five from 50+ (including three in one game vs. Sea 10/24).

Pro Career:

Originally a sixth-round pick by the Bengals in 2000 (169th overall), Rackers spent three seasons in Cincinnati before being released on Sept. 1, 2003 in the final roster cutdown. Rackers was then signed by the Cardinals on Nov. 11, 2003 to handle the kicking responsibilities while Bill Gramatica recovered from a back injury and has remained with the team ever since.

2004: Re-wrote the Cardinals record books by kicking 23 touchbacks in 2004, the most in team history ... missed only three attempts from inside of 50 yards and nailed five from beyond 50 yards, including three in one game (vs. Seattle 10/24) ... connected on 11 of 13 field goal attempts in the preseason and kicked a league long 57-yarder against Denver ... hit two field goals from beyond 50 yards vs. NE (9/19), nailed attempts from 51 and 52-yards but came up short on a 58 yard attempt that was deflected ... scored the only points of the day for the Cardinals on a 30-yard field goal @ Atl (9/26) ... connected on field goals from 26 and 33 yards out as well as 4/4 on PAT attempts vs. NO (10/3) ... tied the NFL record for most 50+ yard field goals in a game with three vs. Sea (10/24), connected on attempts from 55, 55, and 50 yards out tying Morten Andersen's record set in 1995 ... Rackers kicked five field goals of 50 or more yards in 2004, three short of tying the NFL record set by Andersen in 1995 ... entering the season, Rackers had only attempted five field goals of 50+ yards and connected on only three of them ... named NFC Special Teams Player of the Week for his performance vs. Sea (10/24) ... only attempt of the day @ Buf (10/31) would have set the NFL record for longest field goal, lined up 64 yards out but the swirling Buffalo winds forced the ball short; hit both extra points in the game ... nailed a 29-yard field goal in the first quarter to tie the game at three; hit the game winning extra point to give the Cards a 24-23 lead with 0:19 left in the game; kicked off five times with one touchback @ Mia (11/7) ... nailed a 41-yard field goal in the second quarter to put the Cardinals on the board; had two touchbacks on four kickoffs vs. NYG (11/14) ... connected on a 28-yard field goal @ Car (11/21); also attempted a 50-yard field goal early in the second quarter which sailed wide left; connected on one extra point ... scored the Cardinals only points vs. NYJ (11/28) when he connected on a 20-yard field goal ... connected on two of three field goals vs. SF (12/12) and nailed four kickoffs for

Pro Career:

An undrafted rookie free agent signed by the Cardinals in 2001, spent the entire 2004 season on the injured reserve after sharing the running back responsibilities with Emmitt Smith in 2003.

2004: The team's leading rusher in 2003 ... suffered an ankle and leg injury in an intra-squad scrimmage at training camp on 8/6 ... placed on the injured reserve list on 9/1/04 (leg).

2003: Shared running-back chores ... Emmitt Smith began the season as the starter, gaining 192 yards on 65 carries until fracturing his scapula and separating his shoulder in his return to Dallas in the season's fifth contest ... while Smith mended over the next six weeks, Shipp laid claim to the position ... the starter over the final 11 outings, Shipp gained 830 yards on 228 attempts overall to fall just four yards short of his 2002 single-season best of 834 rushing yards ... in early November, completed a three-game span of 86 carries, a modern-era franchise record ... the span also included back-to-back 100-yard rushing efforts, a Cardinal first since 1992 ... his 35-attempt, 165-yard effort vs. SF (10/26) was the best performance by a Cardinal running back since 1993 ... the 35 carries were the NFC's 2003 single-game high ... reserve duty @ Det (9/7) and averaged 4.8 rushing yards on four carries, caught three passes for eight yards, and added a solo tackle on special teams ... change-of-pace action in reserve role vs. GB (9/21) produced 24 yards on seven rushing attempts, including runs of nine, three, and one yard in game-winning fourth quarter scoring drive of 20-13 victory ... added two solo tackles on special teams ... came off bench for Smith (shoulder) @ Dal (10/5) and gained 31 yards on nine carries, including a 16-yard burst in third quarter ... with Smith inactive for next six games, handed first starting role of season vs. Bal (10/12) and collected 108 yards from scrimmage with 61 yards rushing on 14 carries and five pass receptions for 47 yards ... on Cards' first possession of second half, popped for gains of 15 and 14 yards on consecutive runs to open the drive ... later sped for 34-yard gain on pass reception in fourth-quarter scoring drive ... exploded for career-best 35 carries and 165 yards rushing to key 221-yard ground effort in 16-13 overtime win vs. SF (10/26) ... 35 rushing attempts most by a Cardinal since Ronald Moore's club-record 36 carries (160 yards) Nov. 7, 1993 vs. Philadelphia ... piled up 50 yards on five carries on Cards first possession of the game, a 12-play, 70-yard scoring drive ... outstanding first quarter with 54 yards on just seven carries ... rumbled for 66 yards on nine carries in third quarter ... overall had five runs of 10+ yards ... became first Cardinal running back to log consecutive 100-yard rushing games since 1992 (Johnny Johnson) with 141 yards on 29 carries in 17-14 win vs. Cin (11/2) ... strong first quarter with 49 yards on just eight attempts, including a 36-yard rumble from own 12-yard line to near midfield, but lost the ball on next play as Bengals recovered the fumble and converted the turnover into a touchdown and 7-7 tie ... rolled to 48 yards on nine carries in third quarter and caught two passes for 24 yards ... two-game total of 64 rushing attempts (35 vs. SF, 29 vs. Cin) tied for most in franchise history with Johnny Johnson's 36-156 vs. NYG and 28-146 @ Was 12/12 and 20, 1992 ... two-game rushing total of 306 yards best since LeShon Johnson's 311 yards in consecutive games in 1996 @ NO (21-214) 9/22 and vs. StL (12-97) 9/29—a span of 114 games ... combined 86 carries (22 @ Pit, 29 vs. Cin, 35 vs. SF) modern-day Cardinal record for most rushing attempts over three-game span ... left game @ Cle (11/16) in fourth period with knee contusion ... despite limited practice time while nursing forearm and knee injuries, netted 95 yards on 24 carries and caught two passes for two yards vs. StL (11/23) ... actually hit the 100-yard rushing mark in fourth quarter but was dropped for five-yard loss to fall below the century mark ... with Smith's return to action, rushed for 34 yards @ Chi (11/30) and 30 @ SF (12/7) ... rebounded with 89 yards on 23 carries vs. Car (12/14), including nine runs of at least five yards ... impressive second quarter with seven carries for 45 yards ... added 21-yard burst in fourth quarter.

2002: Finished the season with 1,247 total yards from scrimmage on 226 touches (188 rushes, 38 receptions) to finish with a 5.5-yard average, second in the NFC to Minnesota running back Michael Bennett (5.6-yard average) and fifth in the NFL ... 5.52-yard average also was best by a Cardinal since fullback Larry Centers averaged 5.54 yards in 1996 (116 rushes for 425 yards, 99 receptions for 766 yards) ... also on receiving end of 80-yard scoring play on screen pass @ StL (12/15), the team's longest play from scrimmage since 1988 ... added two rushing touchdowns against the Rams for three overall, a Cardinal first since quarterback Jake Plummer rushed for three scores @ Was (11/22/98) ... also returned six kickoffs 120 yards ... returned kickoffs for 20 and 29 yards and added one assist and five blocks on special teams in season-opener @ Was (9/8) ... provided change of pace @ Sea (9/15) for tailback Thomas Jones (career-best 173 rushing yards) with eight carries for 39 yards and long run of 17 yards on first down near midfield in game-clinching touchdown drive of 24-13 win ... also made fine block as kick returner MarTay Jenkins took fourth-quarter kickoff 95 yards for a score, then on ensuing Card kickoff made the tackle downfield ...

CARDINALS IN THE COMMUNITY

Shipp is easily one of the most active Cardinals players in the Arizona community. Along with being a year-round participant and coach at the many Gatorade Junior Training Camps that the team offers, Shipp was busy during the 2004 season and 2005 offseason helping out with such projects at Habitat for Humanity Valley of the Sun's house building project in south Phoenix, along with acting as a celebrity bartender at a fundraiser for the Leukemia and Lymphoma Society.

He also joined Cardinals teammate Anquan Boldin to take part in the Phoenix Children's Hospital Kids Rock Youth Marathon kickoff party where he passed out 320 pairs of Reebok shoes to elementary students. Later, Shipp also joined defensive end Bertrand Berry to speak to 450 students about the "Winners Don't Quit: Stay in the Game" program about staying in school and encouraging parents, teachers and counselors to help youths prepare for their futures.

Marcel also hosted his second annual "Marcel Shipp Running Back Training Camp" at the Cardinals training facility this summer for kids ages 8-17. The free camp allowed students to learn and improve on their football talents from Shipp and fellow running backs Damien Anderson and Josh Scobey.

CARDINALS IN THE COMMUNITY

Kurt and his wife Brenda started First Things First in the spring of 2001 as a foundation dedicated to promoting Christian values, while sharing experiences and providing opportunities to encourage children that all things are possible. Some of the projects through which the foundation has enriched the lives of those less fortunate have included trips to Disney World for ill children; building recreation centers in children's hospitals, helping single moms achieve the dream of homeownership and teaching Special Olympians football basics.

"First Things First" has been involved in many projects since its establishment in areas that include Missouri, New Jersey and Iowa. Some projects include providing 50 groups (consisting of high school students from churches, organizations and schools participating in mission trips) with close to $1,000 towards the cost of their trips in 2005.

"First Things First" has partnered with hospitals in Iowa and Missouri to create Warner's Corner (Children's Hospital Outreach), recreational areas where children battling life-threatening injuries and diseases can visit throughout their stay in various children's hospitals. SPORTING NEWS CALLS WARNER NFL'S "#1 GOOD GUY"

In June, Warner was selected as the NFL's "No. 1 Good Guy" by Sporting News in its annual presentation of "Good Guy" awards to athletes from the NFL, MLB, NBA, and NASCAR.

Nominated by their individual teams and leagues and chosen by the staff of the Sporting News, the "Good Guys" awards honor those athletes who serve and improve their communities by donating their time, energy, and money.

Sporting News recognized Warner for the quality and quantity of his various services to the community. Each year, Kurt takes up to 10 kids faced with life-threatening illnesses and their families to Disney World for a week. He visited tsunami victims in February, adopted a group home for foster kids in December, taking them all to Christmas Eve dinner, and handed out game tickets to kids touched by faith-based social services outreach agencies. In May, Warner participated in the opening ceremonies of the Arizona Special Olympics 2005 Summer Games and also represented the Cardinals at the 45th Annual Pop Warner Scholar All-American Banquet in Anaheim, CA.

Atlanta Falcons running back Warrick Dunn was chosen as Sporting News' overall "No. 1 Good Guy in Sports," out of a record 500-plus nominations. In addition to Dunn and Warner, the "No.1 Good Guy" for MLB is Jim Thome of the Philadelphia Phillies and for the NBA, Shaquille O'Neal of the Miami Heat took top honors.

Sporting News also recognized 94 other professional athletes for their off-field dedication to community activities and charitable causes.

TSUNAMI ASSISTANCE

This past February, Warner traveled to Indonesia and Sri Lanka along with former Giants teammate Amani Toomer and their wives. The trip was part of the World Food Program's efforts to assist the victims of the tsunamis there and it was something Warner says he'll never forget.

"That was a life-changing experience," said Warner. "To see the way those people attacked life and the way they were pressing forward in the midst of tragedy was really inspiring. You go over there with the idea of, 'How can I make a difference.' And I came back inspired to live my life with that same spirit these people do, no matter what trial I go through or what success I have."

2004 IN REVIEW

2004 Season Overview

For the Cardinals, the 2004 season was one of transition but also one of promise and opportunity, as evidenced by the fact that the team entered week 16 of the regular season with a playoff berth and division title still very much in reach. A three-point road loss at Seattle ended those postseason hopes but throughout the campaign it was clear that a foundation is in place from which the Cardinals look to build in 2005.

The final record reflected a two-game improvement in the win column but the more drastic upgrade from 2003 to '04 was the overall competitiveness of the games. In 2003, the Cards were defeated by 17 or more points eight times and suffered their 12 losses by an average of 20 points, including three by more than 35. This past season, Arizona dropped five games by a touchdown or less, including four by a field goal. Their average margin of defeat halved from 20.0 to 10.3 points and on the road fell from 23.6 to 11.2. Overall, the Cards allowed just 38 more points than they scored in 2004 compared to '03 when they scored 227 points fewer than they surrendered. The Cardinals won two games by 24 points (Saints & Rams), something that they'd not done in over a decade. The team also finished 5-3 at home for the first time since the Cardinals last playoff season of 1998.

The most significant element of the transition process took place on January 7, 2004 with the hiring of Dennis Green as the 29th head coach in franchise history. A proven winner who had succeeded turning around programs as a head coach at both the college and professional levels, Green returned to the NFL head coaching ranks after a two-year absence. In 10 seasons as head coach of the Vikings (1992-2001), Green led Minnesota to the postseason eight times (with seven different QBs), won four division titles and advanced to the conference championship game twice.

Green and VP of Football Operations Rod Graves quickly began the process of re-shaping the Cardinals roster in a variety of ways. A strategic but aggressive approach to free agency yielded starters like cornerback David Macklin (team leader in INTs with a career-high four), fullback Obafemi Ayanbadejo (career-best four TDs), and defensive end Bertrand Berry. Berry would prove to become the best free agent pick-up in team history by leading the conference in sacks (14.5) and earning his first career Pro Bowl berth. Next came an outstanding 2004 draft class that produced four full-time starters in receiver Larry Fitzgerald, linebacker Karlos Dansby, defensive tackle Darnell Dockett and center Alex Stepanovich. In the end, all seven draftees would find their way to the roster. The Cards were also active picking up veterans via the waiver wire and trades so not surprisingly, the opening day roster included 22 new players.

The offense was bitten early by injuries as running back Marcel Shipp suffered a broken leg in training camp that landed him on I.R. Just days later, all-pro receiver and reigning NFL offensive rookie of the year Anquan Boldin suffered a knee injury that would cause him to miss the season's first six games. The young unit was bolstered by both the on-field play and off-field leadership of veteran back Emmitt Smith. In his second season in Arizona, the NFL's all-time leading rusher led the team with 937 rushing yards and nine touchdowns on the ground. The offense struggled to find a rhythm and consistency and that led to numerous lineup changes throughout the year. The most notable was at the quarterback position where Josh McCown started the season's first nine games before giving way to Shaun King for two games and John Navarre for one. McCown returned to start the season's final four games and overall was 6-7 as a starter in 2004 with 11 TDs and 10 INTs.

Defensively, Arizona displayed an aggressive and hard-hitting style throughout the year and improved its overall rank from 26th at the end of '03 to 12th this past season. Coordinator Clancy Pendergast's unit was particularly tough in the red zone where their 45.0 TD percentage ranked second-best in the NFL (up from 60.7 in '03). Other key categories of defensive improvement were in third down defense (fourth in '04 and 32nd in '03); total sacks were up from 20 to 38; total touchdowns allowed dropped from 55 to 35; and total takeaways improved from 23 to 30. Overall, the Cards plus-minus improved from minus-13 in 2003 to plus-1 in '04 and the team allowed 130 fewer total points (452 to 322). The defense didn't allow a touchdown in three games (Rams, Falcons and Saints) and allowed just one TD in three others (Rams, Jets and Bucs).

The Cardinals special teams were another area that stepped up in 2004. Kicker Neil Rackers missed just three field goals inside of 50 yards all season and nailed five of 50+. He also led the NFL with 23 touchbacks, the most in team history. Veteran punter Scott Player enjoyed another outstanding season and set a career-high with 32 punts downed inside the 20, one shy of the franchise record (Jeff Feagles, 33 in 1996). The coverage units were also very solid, giving up an average of just 8.7 yards per punt return (down from 11.5 in '03). After kickoffs, opponents' average drive starts improved from the 29.5 (11th in NFC) to 23.8 (2nd in NFC).

The rebuilding of the Cardinals on the field in 2004 was paralleled by the continual construction taking place on the new Cardinals Stadium in the West Valley. Now more than halfway completed, the $370 million facility will be open in time for the 2006 season and host the Super Bowl in 2008. In addition to its distinctive high-design architecture, the state of the art venue will feature the latest innovations in stadium comfort, including a retractable roof and a unique rollout natural-grass playing field that is the first of its kind in North America.

Finally, the saddest point of 2004 clearly came on April 22 when news arrived that former Cardinals safety Pat Tillman was killed while serving as an Army Ranger in Afghanistan. A seventh-round draft pick in 1998 who would go on to set the franchise's single-season tackle record, Tillman walked away from a lucrative contract in the spring of 2002 to enlist in the United States Army with his brother, Kevin. Shortly after his death, the team announced it was retiring his jersey #40 and that the area surrounding the new Cardinals Stadium would be named Pat Tillman Freedom Plaza in honor of one of the most extraordinary individuals ever to represent the Cardinals or the National Football League.

Rams 17, Cardinals 10

September 12, 2004

Edward Jones Dome (65,537)

In the regular season opener at St. Louis, the Cardinals gave the host Rams all they could handle and owned a one-point lead heading into the fourth quarter. St. Louis, however, was able to reclaim the lead early in the final stanza and held off the upset-minded Cardinals the rest of the way. The Cards killed the Rams first three drives of the game with takeaways, which were crucial to keeping the game close early.

Arizona opened the game with a flea-flicker as QB Josh McCown connected with rookie WR Larry Fitzgerald on a 37-yard pass. After that drive stalled in Rams territory, St. Louis advanced to the Arizona 26 before FS Quentin Harris forced a fumble by RB Steven Jackson and CB David Macklin recovered. The next St. Louis drive reached the Cards 36 before Harris INT'd a Marc Bulger pass at the 2-yard line. The third Rams drive ended in similar fashion when Harris recovered a fumble by WR Dane Looker at the Arizona 18. The Rams finally broke the scoreless tie early in the second quarter when Jeff Wilkins connected on a 50-yard FG. Arizona's Josh Scobey then returned the ensuing kickoff 71 yards to the St. Louis 29, setting up a 22-yard Neil Rackers FG that tied the game at 3. The Rams next marched 74 yards in 11 plays and reclaimed the lead on a 26-yard Wilkins FG that made it 6-3 at the half.

On the opening drive of the second half, St. Louis advanced deep into Cardinal territory but couldn't find the end zone on three plays from inside the 5 and settled for a 22-yard Wilkins FG. The next series saw the Cardinals move down the field quickly, thanks in part to four Emmitt Smith runs that covered 32 yards. Smith then ran it in from 11 yards out to give the Cards a 10-9 lead late in the third. Early in the fourth, the Rams reached the Arizona 13 when it appeared the Cards defense came up with another huge play. LB James Darling picked off a Bulger pass at the 5 and returned it 95 yards for a TD but the play was nullified by a defensive holding call. Two plays later, Bulger hit Isaac Bruce on a 10-yard scoring pass and the Rams led 17-10 after Marshall Faulk's 2-point conversion. The Cards got the ball several more times but could not mount a TD drive that would have tied it.

Patriots 23, Cardinals 12

September 19, 2004

Sun Devil Stadium (51,557)

The defending Super Bowl champions came to town on an uncharacteristically cool (89 degrees at kickoff) day at Sun Devil, and the Patriots spoiled Arizona's home debut with a 23-12 win, their 17th consecutive victory. It came on a day when the Cardinals and the NFL honored former safety Pat Tillman, who lost his life while serving with the Army Rangers in Afghanistan. The Cardinals retired his jersey #40 at halftime and all NFL teams wore a helmet decal in his honor.

New England opened the scoring late in the first quarter when Tom Brady capped an 8-play, 68-yard drive with a 2-yard pass to TE Daniel Graham. On the next drive, Pats S Eugene Wilson picked off a Josh McCown pass and returned it to the Arizona 30. Five plays later Brady connected with Graham again, this time on a 19-yard scoring pass on third-and-goal from the 19. On the next NE drive, the Pats fumbled at their own 45 and DE Bertrand Berry scooped it up and ran it back to the NE 11. A pair of sacks backed the Cards up to the 33 but kicker Neil Rackers saved the points with a 51-yard FG. Two plays later, the Pats turned it over again when CB David Macklin intercepted Brady and gave the offense the ball at the NE 42. That set up another long Rackers FG, this one a 52-yarder that made it 14-6. Just before the half ended, Rackers attempted a 58-yarder but it was blocked.

On the opening drive of the second half, the Patriots marched as deep as the Cardinals 2-yard line but were held to a 29-yard Adam Vinatieri FG that made it 17-6. Arizona's best drive of the day came on the following possession as they moved 80 yards in 11 plays and punched it in on a 1-yard Emmitt Smith TD run. The big play came on 3rd-and-16 from the NE 47 when Josh Scobey gained 42 yards on a pass from McCown. The Pats answered with Vinatieri FGs of 28 and 24 and the NE defense did not allow Arizona past its own 38 the rest of the way.

Falcons 6, Cardinals 3

September 26, 2004
The Georgia Dome - (70,534)

The Cardinals had more than their share of opportunities to claim a road victory at Atlanta but couldn't cash in on multiple chances and fell to 0-3 for the season. In all, the two teams combined to turn it over 8 times after the 2:00 warning of the first half (four per side) and five of those came inside the team's own 30-yard line.

The loss negated an exceptional effort by an Arizona defense that kept the dangerous Falcons offense out of the end zone for the entire game and pitched a shut-out in the second half. The D was particularly effective in containing QB Michael Vick, who was sacked 5 times, intercepted once, held to 115 passing yards on 10-20 passing and gained just 10 rushing yards on 8 attempts before he broke off a 58-yard run late in the fourth.

Things started well for the Falcons as RB Warrick Dunn raced 60 yards on their third offensive play and while they eventually reached the Arizona 4, the Cards forced them to settle for a 25-yard Jay Feely FG. Early in the second, a 30-yard Allen Rossump punt return set the Falcons up at the Cardinals 39 and they again moved to a first-and-goal before being held to a short Feely FG (23 yards). Trailing 6-0 with 1:37 to go in the half, Cards QB Josh McCown lost the ball on a sack and the Falcons took over at the Arizona 13. However, three plays later Vick turned it back over when CB Duane Starks forced a fumble that LB Karlos Dansby recovered at the 4-yard line.

On their first drive of the second half, the Cards marched to the Atlanta 8 before McCown turned it over again on a fumble but Vick proceeded to return the favor 10 plays later when DE Calvin Pace sacked him at the Arizona 27 and DE Peppi Zellner recovered the fumble. On the Cards' next series, they marched to the Falcons 6 in 13 plays before McCown again coughed it up on a sack at the Atlanta 18. Two plays later, though, safety Adrian Wilson intercepted Vick at the Falcons 18 and the Cards were able to convert it into a 30-yard Neil Rackers FG that made it 6-3. With 3:37 to go, the Cards had another golden opportunity when Dunn fumbled and Starks recovered at the Atlanta 19. Two plays later, however, WR Karl Williams fumbled at the end of a reverse, handing it back to the Falcons at their own 11. Two plays after that, Vick raced 58 yards to the Arizona 28 effectively sealing the win for the Falcons.

Cardinals 34, Saints 10

October 3, 2004
Sun Devil Stadium - (28,109)

The Cardinals gave Dennis Green his first win as head coach, moved to 1-3, and scored their most decisive victory in over a decade with a 24-point decision over the visiting Saints. Leading the way was Hall of Fame bound RB Emmitt Smith, who ran for one TD and threw for another on his first career passing attempt. He topped 100 rushing yards for the first time as a Cardinal and for the 77th time in his career, tying Walter Payton for first place in NFL history in that category. The Arizona defense was again outstanding and held the opposing offense out of the end zone for the second straight week.

On the game opening drive, the Saints moved deep into Arizona territory and QB Aaron Brooks nearly scored on a 3rd-n-goal scramble from the 9 but was popped at the 1-yard line on a TD-saving stop by LB James Darling. The Saints went for it on 4th-n-goal from the 1 but Brooks lost the handle and LB Gerald Hayes recovered in the end zone. Later in the first, a mishandled exchange on a reverse led to a fumble that Adrian Wilson scooped up and returned 35 yards for a TD. The next Saints drive again reached the Cards 1 before they stopped them twice and a holding penalty backed them into settling for a 20-yard John Carney FG. The FG came on the first play of the second quarter and the Saints offense would not cross midfield again. Later in the second, Smith attempted his first career pass and completed it for a 21-yard TD pass to fullback Obafemi Ayanbadejo that made it 14-3 at the half.

The Cardinals opening drive of the second half ended when Steve Gleason blocked a Scott Player punt and Mel Mitchell recovered it in the end zone for a TD that made it a 4-point game. Arizona extended the lead to 20-10 thanks to Neil Rackers FGs on their next two drives while the D continued to put the clamps on the Saints. With 5:10 to go, Smith topped the century mark in grand style with a 29-yard TD scamper on 3rd-n-3. An 11-yard Troy Hambrick TD run just after the 2:00 warning provided the game's final points.

For three-and-a-half quarters, all signs pointed to the Cardinals notching their second straight victory of the year and ending a 15-game road losing streak that stretched back two years. A pair of fourth quarter touchdowns gave Arizona a 16-point lead with just over eight minutes left. The Niners would not only have to score two TDs against a Cardinal defense that hadn't surrendered one in over 13 quarters but also make a pair of 2-point conversions. They were able to halve the lead with 4:35 to play when QB Tim Rattay capped an 80-yard drive with a TD pass to TE Eric Johnson on 4th-n-goal, from the 6 and followed it with a Rattay run for the 2-point conversion. After a three-n-out by the Cards, the Niners took over at their own 28 with 2:48 to go and moved downfield quickly before capping the drive with a diving 23-yard TD catch by Brandon Lloyd, who then tied the game on another pass from Rattay on the 2-point try. The 49ers won the toss in OT and elected to receive. They appeared headed for a 3-n-out after three straight incompletions but a roughing the passer call on Darnell Dockett kept the drive alive and allowed them to move into position for the game-winning FG by Todd Peterson.

The Cardinals never trailed in the game until the overtime FG. They led 14-6 at halftime thanks to a pair of second quarter Josh McCown TD passes, a 16-yarder to TE Freddie Jones and a 2-yarder to RB Troy Hambrick. Early in the third, San Fran pulled to within 14-12 on a 71-yard punt return by Amaz Battle but were unsuccessful on the 2-point try. It looked as if San Fran was poised to pull ahead late in the 3rd when they reached the AZ15 but SS Adrian Wilson ended the threat when he recovered a fumble by RB Jamal Robertson. Seven plays later, Emmitt Smith scored on a 10-yard run that made it 21-12. After a 3-n-out by San Fran, McCown capped the ensuing drive with his 3rd TD pass of the day, a 24-yarder to rookie WR Larry Fitzgerald for a 28-12 lead with 8:19 left that proved to be not enough.

The Cardinals moved to 2-4 and handed the Seahawks their third straight loss with a 28-17 home victory. The win avenged a 38-0 home loss to the Seahawks the year before. Arizona led by 13 late in the third quarter but for the second straight game lost a double-digit second-half lead. This time, though, they stormed back to re-take the lead thanks to major contributions from the offense, defense and special teams. Along the way, RB Emmitt Smith and K Neil Rackers earned spots in the NFL record books.

The Arizona defense harassed Seahawks QB Matt Hasselbeck throughout the game, forcing him to go 14-41 passing for just 187 yards and 4 interceptions. CB Renaldo Hill came up with the first INT on Seattle's initial drive, setting up a 25-yard TD pass from Josh McCown to Larry Fitzgerald. After Seattle hit a 54-yard FG to make it 7-3, Rackers made the first of two 55-yard FGs in the span of two minutes late in the second quarter that put the Cards up 13-3 at the half. The Rackers boots were separated by an INT from rookie LB Karlos Dansby.

The Arizona lead increased to 16-3 late in the third quarter on a 50-yard FG by Rackers, who tied the NFL record for most 50-yard FGs in a game with three (Morten Andersen, 1995). Trailing by 13, the Seahawks made it a one-score game on their next possession when Hasselbeck capped a 72-yard drive with a 1-yard scoring pass to WR Darrell Jackson. The key play on the series was a 34-yard run by Shaun Alexander, who would finish the game with just 31 yards on his other 11 carries. Early in the fourth, CB Ken Lucas gave Seattle a 17-16 lead when he intercepted McCown and returned it 21 yards for the go-ahead score. When Seattle next got the ball, the Cards kept them pinned deep in their own territory and forced a punt with a 3-n-out. LB Gerald Hayes then blocked the punt out of the end zone for a safety that gave Arizona the lead back. At the 2:00 warning, the Cards clung to a 1-point lead and faced a 3rd-n-9 at the Seattle 23 when Smith raced down the left side for a TD. The jaunt put him over 100 yards for the 78th time in his career giving him sole possession of that NFL record.

On a gray, wet and very windy afternoon in Orchard Park, NY the Cardinals suffered a 24-point loss to the Bills and fell to 2-5 for the season. The statistical battle was fairly even as evidenced by the 128 rushing yards per side, 85 passing yards for Arizona to 81 for Buffalo, and no turnovers for either team. The difference in the game largely came down to Buffalo's ability to score when it had the wind (31 of its 38 points), exceptional play by the Bills special teams units, and a large disparity in field position. Arizona was also hampered by 14 penalties for 101 yards.

With the winds at their backs in the first quarter, Buffalo benefited from outstanding field position and outscored Arizona 10-0. The Bills advanced to the Arizona 7 on their first drive but had to settle for a 25-yard Rian Lindell FG. On their next drive, Bills RB Willis McGahee had a pair of long runs (23 and 24 yards) before he scored the first rushing TD of the year against the Cards on a 5-yard jaunt. In the second quarter, the Arizona defense did not allow a first down and the offense got on the board when FB Obafemi Ayanbadejo scored on a 4-yard run that made it 10-7. However, return man Terence McGee put Buffalo back up by 10 when he returned the ensuing kickoff 87 yards for a TD.

The Cards opened the second half with the wind advantage in the third quarter and while they held the Bills to just one first down and no points, they were unable to muster much offense themselves. Late in the quarter, a 34-yard punt return by Nate Clements set Buffalo up at the Arizona 19 and four plays later, Drew Bledsoe hit Eric Moulds on an 8-yard scoring pass. Clements returned the next punt 40 yards to the Arizona 11 and that led to another Bledsoe TD pass, this one a 12-yarder to TE Tim Euhus. A 1-yard McGahee TD run on Buffalo's next possession made it 38-7. A 28-yard scoring pass from Josh McCown to WR Bryant Johnson provided the game's final points with 3:54 to play.

The Cardinals were bolstered by the return of all-pro WR Anquan Boldin, who led the team with 4 catches for 50 yards in his first game back from a preseason knee injury.

The Cardinals moved to 3-5 and ended their 17-game road losing streak with a thrilling win at Miami. QB Josh McCown connected with WR Larry Fitzgerald on a 2-yard scoring pass with :19 left that gave Arizona a 24-23 win. It marked the franchise's first-ever win over the Dolphins and was the 100th career regular season victory for head coach Dennis Green.

Miami led 12-3 at intermission and scored the only TD of the first half on a 20-yard pass from Jay Fieldler to Rob Konrad but the PAT was missed by ex-Cardinal Bill Gramatica, who signed over the weekend after injuries to two Dolphin kickers. Gramatica did make both FG tries (30, 20) and Arizona's Neil Rackers connected on his attempt from 29 yards.

The only points of the third quarter came when Arizona CB Duane Starks picked off A.J. Feeley (who came on in relief of an injured Fiedler earlier in the third) and returned the INT 41 yards for a TD that made it 12-10, Dolphins. Early in the fourth, Miami CB Sammy Knight appeared to make a pivotal play with an INT deep in Dolphin territory that he returned to the Miami 41. However, a roughing the passer call against Patrick Surtain and a subsequent 15-yard unsportsmanlike penalty on Jason Taylor allowed Arizona to retain possession at the Miami 16. Four plays later, Emmitt Smith ran up the middle for a 5-yard TD that put Arizona up 17-12. Miami reached the Cardinals 10 on its next drive before settling for a 28-yard Gramatica FG that made it 17-15. With 3:46 to play, Miami took over at the Cards 39 following a punt. Feeley then converted a 3rd-n-7 play with a 35-yard completion to Marty Booker that took it to the 1-yard line. On the next snap, Sammy Morris' leap across the goal line and a 2-point conversion put Miami up 23-17 with just under two minutes remaining.

After the ensuing kickoff, Arizona took over at its own 30 with 1:56 to go and three timeouts. Facing a 4th-n-8 at the AZ 38, McCown scrambled for 9 to keep the drive alive. Two plays later, he and Fitzgerald connected on a 48-yard bomb down the center of the field that took it to the Miami 3 with :41 left. After a run and an incompleteness, McCown was sacked for an 11-yard loss by Taylor but a defensive holding penalty wiped it out and gave Arizona a first down at the Miami 2. McCown and Fitzgerald hooked up for the game-winner on the next play.

Cardinals 17, Giants 14

November 14, 2004
Sun Devil Stadium (42,297)

The Cardinals moved to 4-5 and posted their third straight home win while handing the Giants their third defeat in four games. The come-from-behind win also moved Arizona to within a game of first place in the NFC West behind Seattle and St. Louis (both 5-4). After surrendering touchdowns on the first two New York drives, the Cardinals defense was outstanding the rest of the way, harassing Giant QB Kurt Warner relentlessly. Arizona sacked Warner six times - a career-high four from DE Bertrand Berry and one and 2.0 from rookie LB Karlos Dansby.

The Giants looked very impressive early as they moved 80 yards on each of their first two drives of the game and capped each with touchdowns. The first score came on a 2-yard TD pass from Kurt Warner to Jeremy Shockey and the second was on a 2-yard run by Tiki Barber. The Cardinals answered the first New York score with a 41-yard Neil Rackers field goal and had a chance to cut into that 14-3 lead late in the second quarter. After stopping New York for the first time, they took over at their own 32 with 3:18 left in the half and moved quickly downfield. They were aided by a pair of New York penalties, the second of which was a pass interference call on CB Will Peterson that gave the Cardinals the ball on the NYG 2. On the first play after the penalty, Emmitt Smith ran it in to make it a 14-10 game at halftime.

New York opened the second half by advancing to the Arizona 26 but were sent away without any points when LB Ronald McKinnon blocked Steve Christie's 44-yard FG try. Later in the third quarter, Arizona's Karl Williams returned a giant punt 38 yards to the NYG 37. The Cards were then able to move 37 yards in 7 plays and scored the go-ahead TD on a 3-yard run by Smith. On the drive, Emmitt ran 6 times for 30 yards including his second TD of the day. Earlier in the game, he became the first player ever to top 18,000 career rushing yards. The Cardinals sent the Giants three-and-out on their first two drives of the fourth quarter but were unable to generate much offense themselves. With 6:10 to play, the Giants lined up to punt on 4th-and-5 from their own 35 when they ran a fake that saw punter Jeff Feagles throw an incomplete pass. The Giants would get it back twice more but failed to seriously threaten on either occasion.

Panthers 35, Cardinals 10

November 21, 2004
Bank of America Stadium (72,796)

The Cardinals had a chance to move to .500 at 5-5 with a road win at Carolina but dug themselves an early hole and could never recover. In the end, penalties, turnovers and an inspired effort from the Panthers proved too much to overcome. Shaun King earned the starting nod at QB over Josh McCown, who had started the season's first nine contests. He posted career-high passing numbers but threw three INTs and lost one fumble.

Carolina RB Nick Goings had a career day with 121 yards on 22 carries with 3 touchdowns. His first score came on a 2-yard run that capped the Panthers first drive. Later in the first, he ran 57 yards off left tackle to give Carolina a 14-0 lead. Early in the second, the Cards appeared to cut the deficit to 14-7 when King connected with Anquan Boldin on a 44-yard TD play but it was wiped out by a holding call from an officiating crew that walked off a total of 24 penalties (12 per side) and at one point inadvertently took a down away from the Cardinals offense while walking off a penalty. On the next play, King was intercepted by FS Colin Branch to end the threat. The next Arizona drive also ended on a Branch INT and he returned this one 76 yards to the 1-yard line. Goings then punched it in from a yard out to put the Panthers up 21-0. Following a missed 50-yard FG by the Cards Neil Rackers late in the half, Carolina quickly moved to the Arizona 28 and with :02 left, Jake Delhomme fired a 28-yard scoring pass to Muhsin Muhammad that made it 28-0 at intermission.

The Cards got on the board on their first drive of the second half when King capped an 84-yard drive with a 21-yard TD pass to WR Larry Fitzgerald. The next Arizona drive reached the Carolina 11 before Rackers connected on a 28-yarder to make it 28-10. The defense meanwhile held Carolina scoreless in the third quarter and allowed just one first down. Early in the fourth, the Cards comeback hopes were still alive before King fumbled on a sack by Mark Fields and the Panthers recovered at the Arizona 18. Three plays later, Delhomme and Muhammad hooked up for their second TD (17 yards) that provided the game's final points.

Jets 13, Cardinals 3

November 28, 2004
Sun Devil Stadium (35,820)

The Cardinals saw their three-game home win streak end and fell to 4-7 with a 30-point loss to the Jets. It was a 6-3 Jets lead late in the third quarter when New York produced the game's biggest play which, along with a 4-0 edge in turnovers, proved pivotal. After taking over at their own 31 following a Cardinals punt, Jets QB Quincy Carter hit WR Santana Moss down the right sideline with a TD pass that covered 69 yards. Carter started the game in place of injured QB Chad Pennington but was knocked from the game due to a head injury on the third play from scrimmage on a hit by DT Russell Davis. Brooks Bollinger took over at QB for the next three series before Carter returned with 8:58 to play in the second quarter of a scoreless game. On that drive, the Jets moved to the Arizona 10 thanks mostly to five Curtis Martin runs covering 36 yards. A 28-yard Doug Brien FG made it 3-0. At the end of the half, the Cardinals quickly moved downfield on three Shaun King-to-Anquan Boldin passes that covered 44 yards. They reached the Jets 3 before Neil Rackers' 20-yard FG as the half expired tied it up at 3-3.

On their first drive of the second half, Brien nailed a 46-yard FG to make it 6-3. The next Jets drive ended on the aforementioned Carter-to-Moss TD pass that put NY up 13-3 with 2:41 left in the third quarter. Arizona's ensuing drive reached the Jets 18 but ended when a King pass intended for Larry Fitzgerald was intercepted by LB Jonathan Vilma at the 5. Josh McCown replaced King on the next series but a Boldin fumble on the second play of the drive was recovered by Vilma at the Jet 44. The Cardinal defense then forced a punt and McCown led the Cards to the Jet 29 on the next drive before CB David Barrett killed the drive with an INT at the 2.

Cardinals RB Emmitt Smith left the game in the first quarter with a big toe injury that kept him out the rest of the way. He and New York's Martin entered the game with a combined 30,817 career rushing yards, the most ever by opposing backs in an NFL game. DE Betrand Berry recorded two half sacks to give him 10.0 for the season while the Cards held NFL sack leader John Abraham without a sack.

Lions 26, Cardinals 12

December 5, 2004
Ford Field (62,262)

Arizona dropped to 4-8 and nearly out of playoff contention with a 26-12 loss at Detroit. The Lions led by just two at halftime but scored all 12 second-half points on four Jason Hanson field goals. Rookie RB Kevin Jones (26-196, TD) had a huge day for Detroit. The Lions also benefited from a rough debut by Cards rookie QB John Navarre, who threw four INTs in his first career start.

A 42-yard Neil Rackers FG gave Arizona its first opening possession points of '04 and an early 3-0 lead. Detroit countered late in the first on a 17-yard Joey Harrington-to-Tai Streets TD pass. Bryant Johnson's 47-yard return of the ensuing kickoff led to another Rackers FG early in the second. The Lions caught a huge break later in the quarter when WR Roy Williams fumbled at the end of a 45-yard pass play and the Cards recovered in the end zone but officials erroneously ruled him down by contact at the 4. Two plays later, Jones ran it in from 2 yards out. The Cards moved 80 yards in 9 plays on their next drive and Navarre threw his first career TD on a 33-yard pass to TE Freddie Jones that made it 14-12 late in the first. A 74-yard run from Kevin Jones on the next play from scrimmage took the ball to the Arizona 17 but CB David Macklin killed the threat when he INT'd Harrington at the 2. Navarre then led the Cards to the Detroit 35 but threw his first INT when CB Dre Bly picked him at the 11 with :07 left.

Midway through the third quarter, a 45-yard Hanson FG made it 17-12. The next two Cardinals drives ended on Navarre INTs that gave Detroit possession in Arizona territory — one by Teddy Lehman that set them up at the 47 and the other by Bly that he returned to the Arizona 11. The Lions came away with just three points off the picks, however, after the Cards defense failed to allow a first down. It was a 20-12 game at the start of the fourth before a 31-yard Hanson FG with 10:00 left made it 23-12 and another from 36-yards out made it 26-12. Meanwhile, the Cards offense never made it into Lions territory after intermission.

49ers 31, Cardinals 28 (OT)
 December 12, 2004
 Sun Devil Stadium (35,069)

The Cardinals came back from a 25-point second half deficit to tie the game at 28 in regulation, only to lose when the Niners kicked a 31-yard FG on their second possession of overtime. The result was identical to the one earlier in the year when the Niners erased an 18-point fourth quarter Cardinal lead to win in San Francisco. The loss dropped the Cardinals to 4-9 while giving the Niners just their second win of the season.

The Niners came out quickly by scoring on three straight possessions in the first half. The first score was a 5-yard pass from Ken Dorsey to WR Brandon Lloyd that was set up when they took over at the Arizona 11 following a muffed punt by Karl Williams. Early in the second, a 19-yard Dorsey TD pass to WR Cedrick Wilson made it 14-0 and a Tony Parrish INT off Josh McCown on the ensuing possession led to a 1-yard Maurice Hicks TD run that made it 21-0. Neil Rackers' 44-yard FG on the next series cut the 49ers lead to 21-3 at intermission.

San Fran opened the second half by marching 69 yards in 9 plays and capped the drive with Dorsey's second TD of the day to Wilson, this one a 27-yarder that made it 28-3. Late in the third quarter, a 4-yard TD run by FB Obafemi Ayanbadejo made it 28-10 and started the comeback. After sending the Niners 3-n-out, Ayanbadejo cut the deficit to 28-17 with 11:53 left on a 1-yard run that ended an 8-play, 53-yard drive. With 2:40 to play in the 4th, Emmitt Smith scored on an 8-yard run after four McCown passes for 47 yards quickly moved the team downfield. On the next San Fran drive, RB Terry Jackson fumbled and CB David Macklin recovered at the Arizona 20. The Cards advanced to the 4 before having to settle for a 22-yard Rackers FG with 0:59 that forced OT. The Niners won the toss and got the ball first in OT. They advanced to the AZ 37 before a punt gave it back to the Cards at their own 3. After a 3-n-out by Arizona, the Niners got the ball back near midfield and faced a 3rd-17 from their own 44 after a Dorsey sack by Bertrand Berry but converted on a 19-yard pass to Wilson. From there, they moved into position for the game winner by Todd Peterson.

Cardinals 31, Rams 7
 December 19, 2004
 Sun Devil Stadium (40,070)

The Cardinals moved to 5-9 and kept their playoff hopes alive with their most dominant performance of the year. St. Louis entered the game with a chance to tie Seattle for first place in the division at 7-7 but instead fell to 6-8 with two games to play. The 402 yards of total offense from Arizona were a season-high while the 185 total yards (22 rushing) were the fewest surrendered by the Cardinals in 2004 and the 24-point margin of victory matched the highest of the year. St. Louis' only points came from its defense on a 61-yard fumble recovery late in the first half. Cardinals QB Josh McCown was outstanding as he ran for two touchdowns and threw for two more – both to rookie WR Larry Fitzgerald. McCown finished the game with a 110.8 QB rating on 22-34 passing for 287 yards and no INTs.

On their second possession of the game, McCown put the Cards up 7-0 when he capped a 10-play, 73-yard drive with a 1-yard sneak. CB David Macklin recorded his fourth INT of the year when he picked off St. Louis starter Chris Chandler on the next play from scrimmage and that set-up a 48-yard Neil Rackers FG that made it 10-0. Early in the second, McCown made it 17-0 when he hit Fitzgerald on an 8-yard scoring pass. While the offense was clicking, the Arizona defense was stifling St. Louis, holding them to just 40 total yards in the first half (minus-20 in the first quarter) and ran Chandler from the game early in the second quarter in place of back-up Jamie Martin. With :45 to play in the half, Arizona got the ball back at their own 20 and quickly advanced to the Rams 29 thanks to four straight completions by McCown covering 51 yards. On the next play, though, McCown fumbled on a sack by Anthony Hagrove that Leonard Little scooped up and returned 61 yards for a touchdown with 0:07 left in the half.

Midway through the third, McCown connected with Fitzgerald on a 4-yard scoring pass to make it 24-7. Late in the quarter, the St. Louis offense had their best chance for points when Torry Holt took a Martin pass to the Arizona 1 before 5 Ifemanyi Ohaete forced a fumble that he recovered in the end zone for a touchback to end the threat. On the ensuing drive, the Cards moved 80 yards in 10 plays and McCown put the final points on the board with a 9-yard scoring run.

Seahawks 24, Cardinals 21

December 26, 2004
Qwest Field (65,825)

The Cardinals saw their postseason hopes officially end in game 15 at Seattle when they ran out of time on a fourth quarter comeback. Entering the game, Arizona needed to win its last two and hope both St. Louis and Seattle lost their final pair in order to win the division. Instead, the Seahawks clinched a playoff berth and dropped the Cards to 5-10 with the three-point win.

Facing QB Trent Dilfer - who started in place of an injured Matt Hasselbeck - the Arizona defense was dominant early on, forcing three-run-outs on the first three Seattle drives and punts on the first five. WR Anquan Boldin put the Cards up 7-0 on their third drive of the game with an acrobatic grab of a 31-yard scoring pass from Josh McCown. Arizona advanced to the Seattle 22 on the next series but McCown was intercepted in the end zone by 'Hawks CB Ken Lucas. Midway through the second, Seattle's Bobby Engram returned a punt 48 yards to the Arizona 20, setting up a 1-yard Shaun Alexander TD run. Seattle then went ahead 10-7 when Josh Brown hit a 34-yard FG as the half expired to cap a 10-play, 53-yard drive.

The second half opened with the teams trading punts on the first four possessions but WR Darrell Jackson opened the fifth with a 53-yard catch-and-run to the Arizona 29. Four plays later, Alexander ran 17 yards for his second TD of the game. The next Arizona drive ended when Seattle CB Marcus Trufant intercepted a McCown pass at the Cards 39 and Alexander scored on a 23-yard run five plays later that put Seattle up 24-7 with 14:50 left. The Cardinals fought back and answered with a 7-play, 70-yard drive that ended when McCown connected with WR Larry Fitzgerald on a 29-yard TD play that cut the deficit to 10 with 11:32 remaining. A minute later, the Cards got the ball back at their own 46 when Duane Starks intercepted Dilfer. That drive eventually reached the Seattle 26 but the Cards came away with no points when Neil Rackers' 52-yard FG try was just wide left. A three-in-out gave the Cards offense another chance and Fitzgerald again made an athletic 29-yard TD grab on a pass from McCown that made it a three-point game with 2:30 left. Armed with two timeouts and the two-minute warning, Rackers booted the kickoff for a touchback. After a pair of short Alexander runs, Seattle faced a 3rd-n-6 from its own 24 with 2:18 left but Dilfer sealed the game with a 7-yard scramble that enabled Seattle to run out the clock with three kneeldowns.

Cardinals 12, Bucs 7

January 2, 2005
Sun Devil Stadium (31,650)

The Cardinals closed the season with a 12-7 home win over the Bucs that upped their final record to 6-10. Arizona relied on a strong defensive effort and the right leg of kicker Neil Rackers, who provided all of the team's points on four field goals. Rookie DT Darnell Dockett was particularly impressive defensively, turning in a sack, an interception and a fumble recovery. DE Bertrand Berry added a pair of sacks to give him 14.5 for the season.

Arizona took an early lead on its first drive thanks to a 40-yard Rackers FG and that 3-0 lead held up for most of the first half. After being forced to punt on their first five possessions, the Bucs had a golden opportunity late in the half when SS Dwight Smith intercepted a Josh McCown pass and returned it to the Arizona 36 but a taunting penalty on former Cardinal S Dexter Jackson backed the Bucs up to their own 49. With a minute to go, they had advanced to the Cardinal 24 before a wild play gave the ball back to Arizona. Facing heavy pressure from Cards LB Karlos Dansby, QB Chris Simms was intercepted near the line of scrimmage by Dockett, who had his helmet ripped off on the return by tackle Kenyatta Walker. He continued his jaunt run down the sideline helmetless before the ball was popped out by WR Joe Jurevicius. The loose ball traveled some 35 yards downfield where the Bucs recovered at their own 16 but a facemask penalty on Walker gave the Cards possession at the Tampa 39. Six plays later, Rackers hit a 45-yarder as the first half expired to put the Cards up 6-0.

The Cards had a chance to increase the lead late in the third when Dockett recovered a botched center exchange at the Tampa 19 but three plays later, Rackers missed a 35-yarder that would have made it 9-0. On the very next snap, Tampa took the lead when Simms connected with Michael Clayton on a 75-yard catch-and-run for a TD. The Cards responded with a 10-play, 56-yard drive that ended with a 39-yard Rackers FG that put them back up by two. With eight minutes left, CB Duane Starks recovered a Pittman fumble at the Tampa 14 that led to Rackers' fourth FG of the day, this one a 31-yarder that made it 12-7 with 6:12 to play. Tampa's next two drives failed to produce a third down and their final one ended when SS Adrian Wilson picked Simms to seal the game.

CLUB HISTORY

FRANCHISE HISTORY

The Cardinals, founded in 1898 and a charter member of the National Football League, hold the distinction of being the oldest continuously run professional football franchise in the nation.

The Early Days

The team boasts a colorful history. Fans have known the club as the Arizona Cardinals, Phoenix Cardinals, St. Louis Cardinals, Chicago Cardinals, Racine Cardinals, the Normals, and the Morgan Athletic Club.

The franchise began as a neighborhood group that gathered to play football in a predominantly Irish area of Chicago's South Side, playing under the name Morgan Athletic Club. The team later was acquired by Chris O'Brien, a painting and decorating contractor, and soon its playing site changed to nearby Normal Field, prompting the new name Normals.

Early owner Chris O'Brien organized the Cardinals for a third time following World War I. The team has been a permanent part of professional football since that time.

In 1901, the team gained longstanding identification when O'Brien, finding a bargain, bought used jerseys from the nearby University of Chicago. The jerseys were faded maroon in color, prompting O'Brien to declare, "That's not maroon, it's Cardinal red!" The club's permanent nickname had been born.

The jersey color and the location of the field led to a new and obvious name, the Racine Cardinals.

In Chicago at the time, football competition was exclusively amateur, but opposition became increasingly hard to find, so in 1906, the team disbanded.

In 1913, O'Brien reorganized the Cardinals. By 1917 they were able to buy new uniforms and hire a coach, Marshall Smith. That year they lost only two games and were champions of the Chicago Football League.

The war in Europe and a flu epidemic in the United States forced the team to suspend operations once again in 1918. Following Armistice Day, O'Brien organized the Cardinals for a third time. From that day forward, the Cardinals have been a permanent part of the professional football landscape in America.

Growth

The Racine Cardinals, their popularity growing in the Chicago area, eventually became one of 11 charter members of the American Professional Football League, forerunner of the NFL, in 1920 for the $100 franchise fee. Immediately after joining the league, O'Brien lured a great halfback, John "Paddy" Driscoll, to the Cardinals for $3,000 a year, a sum considered outlandish at the time. But Driscoll was an authentic superstar, a superior runner, blocker, punter, and possibly the finest drop kicker in the history of football. He also coached the team from 1921-22.

One of Driscoll's young running backs was Ralph Horween, a former star at Harvard, who played under the assumed name of B. McMahon. A Cardinal from 1921-22, Horween scored two rushing touchdowns during his three-year career during the days of leather helmets without face masks, numberless sweater jerseys, and $40 paychecks. Horween's claim to fame, however, would occur many years later. In 1996, the retired lawyer, who was born in Chicago on August 3, 1896, became the National Football League's first centenarian. He died in 1997.

In 1922, a team from Racine, Wisconsin joined the NFL, prompting the Cardinals to change their name to the Chicago Cardinals. The same year the Cardinals also moved into their new home in Comiskey Park that they would share with baseball's White Sox for 37 years.

Under new Head Coach Norman Barry, the Cardinals outdistanced a field of 20 teams to win their first NFL championship in 1925 by virtue of the league's best record. (NFL post-season play began in 1933.)

A Chicago physician, Dr. David Jones, purchased the team in 1929.

In his first year of ownership, he coaxed running back Ernie Nevers out of retirement to become player-coach. Still in his prime, the 26-year-old Nevers scored an NFL-record 40 points on six touchdowns and four extra points in an historic 40-6 victory over the crosstown Chicago Bears on Thanksgiving Day, 1929.

After guiding the Cardinals to a 16-14-3 composite record in three seasons, the legendary Nevers retired as both coach and player in 1932.

Modern Era

Nevers' departure also marked the arrival of a new club owner. Charles W. Bidwill, Sr., a vice president of the Bears, purchased the Cardinals for Jones' asking price of $50,000. Bidwill divested himself of his Bears' holdings and a new era began.

However, the team sorely missed Nevers' magic on the field. The Cardinals endured difficult years in the 1930s and early '40s. World War II hit the team heavily. The Cardinals' top passer, receiver, and lineman—Johnny Former Cardinal owner Charles W. Bidwill, Sr. is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Clement, Billy Dewell, and Joe Kuharich, respectively—entered military service. In 1944 as a war-time emergency measure, the Cardinals combined with the Pittsburgh Steelers to play as one team. It was called Card-Pitt. Co-coached by the Cardinals' Phil Handler and the Steelers' Walt Kiesling, a former Cardinal guard, the team split its home games between Comiskey Park and Forbes Field in Pittsburgh, failing to win an outing in 10 tries.

Success finally returned following the war. In 1945, the arrival of University of Missouri quarterback Paul Christman trumpeted the team's conversion to the "T" formation. Fullback Pat Harder and halfback Elmer Angsman were added in 1946.

The 1947 Championship Season

In the flush of post-World War II, the 1947 Cardinals stormed to the Western Division title and the NFL championship.

But the title season was bittersweet for the Cardinals' organization. In April, the death of Bidwill, the club's spearhead since taking over as owner in 1933 who helped shepherd the NFL through "The Great Depression," deprived the owner of witnessing the club's first NFL crown in 22 years.

But he still earned credit for fitting the final crucial piece into place to complete the Cardinals' famed "Million-Dollar Backfield." It was Bidwill's unprecedented signing of University of Georgia all-America running back Charley Trippi, for the then-unheard-of sum of $100,000, that finally put the Cardinals over the top, winning their only NFL championship via a title game.

To appreciate the accomplishment of the 1947 squad, perspective is necessary.

Just two seasons earlier in 1945, the Cardinals as a team were outscored for the entire season by Philadelphia's premier running back, Steve Van Buren, 110-98. But the following year, the third-winningest coach in Cardinals' history, the omni-talented Jimmy Conzelman, led Chicago out of the wilderness to a 6-5 mark, the club's first winning season since 1935.

Several key Cardinals were already in place for the championship run. In 1945, the organization drafted Christman, a talented passer from Missouri, before adding churning Wisconsin fullback Harder, Angsman of Notre Dame, and brilliant end/defensive back Mal Kutner from Texas in '46. Another great end, Bill Dewell, had returned from military service for the '45 season. The staple of Conzelman's ensemble was a relic from the late '30s, versatile Marshall "Biggie" Goldberg, an intuitive defensive back who was the first real free safety in pro football and the "dean" of the "Million-Dollar Backfield." Also a running back, Goldberg, a two-time all-America at Pittsburgh, had enjoyed many productive days offensively, too, but they were mostly behind him when Conzelman began his second reign as the Cards' head man in '46.

Chicago started quickly in 1947 by winning its first three outings, a run that included a 31-7 trouncing of the hated crosstown rival Bears. In week four, the Cardinals headed to Los Angeles on a trip heavy with fate. They incurred their first loss of the season, 27-7 to the Rams, but lost something far more precious than a game.

Rookie punter Jeff Burkett suffered an appendicitis attack and missed the game as well as the team plane back to Chicago. He spent several days recuperating after an appendectomy before boarding a United Airlines DC-6 bound for home. He never made it. The plane crashed in Bryce Canyon, Utah, killing the young star who was the NFL's leading punter at the time of the tragedy with a 47.4-yard average.

Under the pall of the loss of Burkett, the Cardinals climbed to 7-3 but were in the throes of a two-game losing streak heading to Philadelphia on December 7 for a critical game against the Eagles. Trailing 7-3 at the half, Chicago exploded for six second-half touchdowns, including two by Trippi, and held the powerful Van Buren to just 44 yards rushing to grab a crucial 45-21 road win.

The victory deadlocked the Cards with the Bears, who, ironically and poetically, stood as the only remaining obstacle between the Cardinals and their first Western Division crown. A showdown loomed for the regular-season finale the following Sunday at hostile Wrigley Field on Chicago's North Side.

If the '47 Cardinals' miracle season could be summarized in a single moment, the opening play of that division decider unquestionably would receive the vote. It was the creation of Running back Elmer Angsman starred for the Cardinals from 1946-52. He authored two long touchdown runs in the 1947 NFL championship game.

The 1947 Cardinals won the NFL championship with a 10–3 overall record. They bettered the Philadelphia Eagles 28–21 at Chicago’s Comiskey Park in the NFL’s 15th title contest.

mastermind Conzelman, a pass play designed to give the Cardinals an advantage at the outset. In a best-case scenario, the stratagem would isolate Bears’ left-side linebacker Mike Holovak one-on-one with Boris “Babe” Dimancheff, a blistering speedster who was Trippi’s replacement. Conzelman eagerly looked forward to rehearsing the play all week before the big game, but nature did not cooperate. Dimancheff’s wife was expecting, and he missed the entire week of practice to be at her side. He did not rejoin the team until the day before the game.

The biggest play of the season for the soon-to-be-champion Cardinals never had a single dry run.

The stunning game-opening play worked to perfection anyway. Dimancheff ran a flair pattern, turned outside the end, then raced down the center of the field. He outdistanced Holovak, caught Christman’s perfect pass, and galloped into the end zone despite stumbling over the baseball pitcher’s mound.

The Cardinals also intercepted four passes by legendary Bear quarterback Sid Luckman, converting two into touchdowns en route to a 30–21 win.

Victories over the Bears were especially sweet. A sore spot with the Cardinals was their inescapable status as Chicago’s “other” team.

The Western Division crown now in hand, the Cardinals prepared to play host to the league championship game a fortnight later against Eastern Division powerhouse Philadelphia.

The NFL’s 15th championship game opened with a surprise controversy and was studded with more big-play touchdowns on the ground than any NFL title game or Super Bowl since.

On December 28, 1947, a grim, frozen Comiskey Park gave little indication of the approaching heat of the day’s upcoming war. Even the preliminaries generated sparks. Pre-kickoff controversy raged when it was discovered the Eagles, in attempts to get better gripping on the concrete-like playing surface, had sharpened and filed their cleats. A succession of penalties for the blatant rules infraction opened the game, infuriating Philadelphia Head Coach Earle “Greasy” Neale.

The Cardinals quietly had slipped into tennis shoes for the frigid affair.

The game was defined by Chicago’s quick-openers, producing three devastating back-breaking long scoring runs from scrimmage—two 70-yarders by Angsman and a 44-yarder by Trippi.

In the third period, Trippi circled under a high Joe Muha punt, taking it on his own 25-yard line. Spectacularly side-stepping three Eagle pursuers, Trippi pranced 75 yards for a touchdown, getting hit three times along the way.

Angsman’s thrilling fourth-quarter duplication of his second-period 70-yard touchdown strike enabled him to break the NFL championship game record for rushing yards with 159.

But Philadelphia fought evenly throughout with one-eyed quarterback Tommy Thompson setting two playoff records on 27-of-44 passing for 297 yards.

The Cardinals’ 28–21 victory, however, wasn’t secured until Goldberg’s late-game interception.

Busch Stadium played host for Cardinals home games for 28 years.

New Direction

Violet Bidwill, with her husband's passing, assumed control of the franchise for the next 15 years, a span that included a second consecutive Western Division championship and appearance in the 1948 NFL championship game, a 7-0 loss at Philadelphia, and the transfer of the team from Chicago to St. Louis in 1960.

Upon Mrs. Bidwill's death in January of 1962, team control moved to sons Charles W. Bidwill, Jr. and William V. Bidwill. In 1972, the latter and his family gained sole ownership with William becoming managing general partner. On July 1, 1976, incorporation of the company was accomplished with Bidwill continuing as chief executive officer.

After 14 years in the city, the Cardinals brought their first division title to St. Louis in 1974. The Big Red captured the NFC Eastern Division flag under Head Coach Don Coryell and advanced to the playoffs with a 10-4 regular-season record.

The Cardinals lost to the Minnesota Vikings, 30-14, in their first playoff appearance since 1948.

Again in 1975, Coryell provided St. Louis a division crown but another playoff loss, this time to the Rams in Los Angeles, 35-23, ended the Cards' postseason dream in their first outing.

The Cardinals next appeared in the playoffs in 1982 when Head Coach Jim Hanifan's club lost a first-round game at Green Bay, 41-16. In 1984, an offensively explosive St. Louis team narrowly missed the playoffs—and the NFC Eastern Division title—with a 9-7 record. However, the Cardinals stumbled to a 5-11 mark in 1985, prompting Hanifan's dismissal and the hiring of long-time Dallas Cowboy assistant Gene Stallings as the team's new head coach.

Arizona

After 28 years in St. Louis, the Cardinals relocated to Arizona in the spring of 1988 and made Sun Devil Stadium on the campus of Arizona State University their new home.

Their first season in the Valley of the Sun began optimistically when the team raced to a 7-4 record and a share of the NFC Eastern Division lead. But untimely injuries struck and a five-game losing streak ensued to finish the year, dashing hopes of the club's first postseason berth since 1982.

The Cardinals' new home provided club single-game (67,139 vs. Dallas in the Arizona inaugural game) and single-season (472,937) attendance records in the team's first autumn in Arizona.

On March 17, 1994, Bidwill announced his intention to change the name of the team to the Arizona Cardinals. The change was adopted unanimously by vote of NFL owners the following week.

All the Cardinals' franchise attendance records have been established since moving to the desert. The record-setting inaugural season attendance total was eclipsed in 1994 when 497,330 fans, or 62,166 per game, spun the Sun Devil Stadium turnstiles.

The top 10 single-game home crowds in franchise history have watched the Cardinals in Sun Devil Stadium, including the largest, a throng of 73,025 that saw the Cards face Dallas on September 19, 1993.

The 1995 season also marked another milestone when the Cardinals served as host team for Super Bowl XXX at Sun Devil Stadium on January 28, 1996.

The 1998 Arizona squad, one of the NFL's youngest teams, ended the franchise's 15-year playoff drought and notched the Cardinals' first postseason victory since 1947 with a 20-7 victory over the Cowboys at Texas Stadium.

Pivotal 2000 Campaign

The 2000 season proved pivotal to the Cardinals' franchise.

On Election Day, November 7, 2000, voters in Maricopa County passed Proposition 302, the Tourism and Sports Initiative, to help fund a new stadium for the Cardinals, Fiesta Bowl, and future Super Bowls, in addition to providing revenue for Cactus League spring training baseball, tourism, and youth recreation. The 454,785 "yes" votes spelled a plurality of 33,123 votes (51.89 percent).

Heritage

The list of former Cardinals enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame reached 14 in 1996 when former offensive lineman Dan Dierdorf joined the elite group. The University of Michigan product, currently a CBS-TV NFL color analyst, played every down of his illustrious 13-year (1971-83) career as a Cardinal.

The others are Charles Bidwill, Guy Chamberlin, Conzelman, Driscoll, Kiesling, Curly Lambeau, Dick "Night Train" Lane, Ollie Matson, Nevers, Jackie Smith, Jim Thorpe, Trippi, and Larry Wilson.

Neil Lomax was the Cardinals starting quarterback when the team first landed in Phoenix.

Notes

Injuries decimate the team as 11 players undergo surgery ... Cards limp to 4-9-1 mark as offense manages just 193 points, fewest since 1954 (183) ... defense is particularly hobbled by injuries, allowing team-record 389 points that will stand for 15 seasons ... safety Larry Wilson sets team mark with 88-yard fumble return for a touchdown at Green Bay Dec. 21 that stands until 2000 ... Cards and Saints combine for NFL-record 12 touchdown passes in 51-42 ... New Orleans victory in Busch Stadium Nov. 2 ... the combined 93 points is just 10 shy of the all-time NFL combined single-game scoring mark as quarterbacks Charley Johnson (Cardinals) and Billy Kilmer (Saints) each toss six touchdown passes to set Card individual and opponent marks.

Notes

Former San Diego State University Head Coach Don Coryell, with his fiery disposition and innovative offensive schemes, is named head coach ... he hires Joe Gibbs as running backs coach and Jim Hanifan as offensive line coach ... running back Terry Metcalf is drafted in third round ... Jim Hart is named starting quarterback ... despite 4-9-1 record, Card offense improves dramatically, boosting point output from 193 in 1972 to 286, and gains nearly 800 more total yards ... Cards complete only two of 10 passes at Atlanta Dec. 9 for single-game franchise low of nine yards as Jim Bakken kicks six field goals in 32-10 win.

Notes

Despite 10-4 record (6-1 at home). Cards lose tie-breaker with Washington and fail to qualify for playoffs ... Cards defeat N.Y. Giants to stay alive in playoff race, needing the division-leading Cowboys to defeat Washington at Dallas later that day ... but the Redskins win 27-14 and Cards became first team in seven-year history of the NFC to go 10-4 and not gain a postseason berth ... eight Card victories by seven points or less earn "Cardiac Cards" moniker ... Cardinals and Chargers play preseason game in Tokyo, Japan, the first NFL game played outside North America ... Cards set NFL record with eight lost fumbles at Washington Oct. 25.

Notes

Though saddled with a 1-3 start, Head Coach Don Coryell rallies his troops to six consecutive victories and a 7-3 record entering the final stretch of the season... four losses, however, drop the Cards to 7-7 and Coryell abandons the Midwest to join the San Diego Chargers... QB Jim Hart sets club mark with 12 consecutive pass completions vs. Chicago Sept. 25... FB Wayne Morris rushes for 182 yards on 27 carries on Nov. 6 at Minnesota, the fourth-highest single-game effort in team history... Cards deal 8-0 Dallas its first defeat of the season, a 24-17 decision in Texas Stadium before a "Monday Night Football" audience Nov. 14... Miami quarterback Bob Griese ties Card opponent mark with six touchdown passes in 55-14 Dolphin win Nov. 24

Notes

The 1981 draft class includes Alabama LB E.J. Junior (first round), Portland State QB Neil Lomax (second round), and Citadel RB Stump Mitchell (ninth round), a trio that would combine for 26 seasons with the Cards ... all three earn consensus NFL all-rookie team notice ... Lomax named starter for final six games as Cards win four consecutive times to finish 7-9 ... return specialist Mitchell breaks or ties eight club marks and equals two NFL records ... Roy Green doubles as defensive back and wide receiver as the league's first authentic two-way player in more than two decades.

Notes

The Cards, with the NFC Eastern Division title on line to the winner, travel to R.F.K. Stadium and battle back from a 23-7 halftime deficit to take a 27-26 lead midway through fourth quarter, but a 50-yard field-goal try falls wide as time expires and Redskins escape with a 29-27 win and the division crown ... in the torrid comeback at Washington, QB Neil Lomax connects on 25 of 28 passes for 314 yards in the second half ... Cards finish 9-7 with seven losses by an average of just over six points ... Lomax sets club single-season marks with 345 pass completions in 560 attempts for 4,614 yards (fifth highest in NFL history), 28 touchdowns, and 92.5 quarterback rating ... WR Roy Green's 1,555 receiving yards is most by NFL player in 19 seasons as he averages 45.3 yards per touchdown reception.

Notes

Encouragement from 4-0 preseason record and 2-0 start to regular season quickly dissipates as Cards drop 12 of next 14 games to finish 4-12, the most losses in franchise history ... QB Timm Rosenbach suffers ruptured anterior cruciate ligament in right knee in non-contact drill during evening practice Aug. 21 and misses season after reconstructive surgery ... Cards gamble in first round of NFL Draft by selecting DT Eric Swann despite no college playing experience ... Little-known Southern University walk-on CB Aeneas Williams, picked in third round, starts 15 of 16 games and his six interceptions share NFC lead, making him the first rookie cornerback to achieve the feat since the Cowboys' Everson Walls (11) in 1991 ... LB Eric Hill returns a fumble 85 yards for a touchdown in season-opener at L.A. Rams Sept. 1, one of a team-record five Card fumble recoveries.

Notes

A 5-3 record and three consecutive victories to finish season 7-9 are not enough to save Head Coach Joe Bugel's job ... rushing offense improves from 26th (1992) to sixth overall and scoring jumps from 24th to fourth ... defensively, six opponents held to 10 points or less, a Cardinal first since 1936 ... first-round draft pick RB Garrison Hearst suffers season-ending knee injury in sixth game ... Pittsburg (Kan.) State rookie RB Ronald Moore rushes for 1,018 yards and leads all NFL rookies with nine touchdowns ... Moore becomes only fifth rookie in NFL history to tally four rushing touchdowns in one game (vs. L.A. Rams, Dec. 5) ... franchise-record crowd of 73,025 sees Cards lose 17-10 to Dallas on Sept. 19 ... Cards snap 14-game losing streak at R.F.K. Stadium with a 17-10 victory Sept. 12, their first success at Washington since 1978.

Notes

Cards lose seven of final eight games to drop to 4-12, costing Head Coach Buddy Ryan his job ... defense ranks last against the run and in scoring defense despite league highs of 42 takeaways and 23 fumble recoveries ... Cardinals offense leads NFL with 43 turnovers (24 interceptions, 19 lost fumbles) ... low light of season at expansion Carolina Nov. 19 as Cards gain just 96 total yards, their lowest output in 40 years ... FB Larry Centers earns first Pro Bowl honor as first running back in league history to eclipse 100-pass reception plateau with 101 catches, a franchise record ... Garrison Hearst owns dubious distinction of becoming first running back in NFL history to score only one rushing touchdown during a 1,000-yard (1,070) season.

Notes

Team's first season under head coach Dennis Green was one of transition but also promise and opportunity...Team entered week 16 of the regular season with a playoff berth and division title in reach before a three-point road loss at Seattle ended postseason hopes...Cardinals won two games by 24 points (something that they didn't do in over a decade) and also finished 5-3 at home for the first time since last playoff season of 1998...strategic but aggressive approach to free agency yielded several new starters, most notably DE Bertrand Berry who would prove to become the best free agent pick-up in team history by leading the NFC in sacks (14.5) and earning his first career Pro Bowl berth...an outstanding '04 draft class produced four full-time starters in WR Larry Fitzgerald, LB Karlos Dansby, DT Darnell Dockett and C Alex Stepanovich...defense improved its overall rank from 26th at the end of '03 to 12th and didn't allow a touchdown in three games while allowing just one TD in three others...the offense was bitten early by injuries as RB Marcel Shipp suffered a broken leg in training camp that ended his season and all-pro WR Anquan Boldin suffered a training camp knee injury that caused him to miss the regular season's first six games...in his second season in Arizona, Emmitt Smith led the team with 937 rushing yards and 9 rushing TDs...the offense struggled to find consistency and that led to numerous lineup changes throughout the year including three different starting QBs...S Pat Tillman, who left the Cardinals to join U.S. Army and enter Army Ranger training prior to 2002 season, is killed April 22 in Afghanistan.

TRAINING FACILITY

While the Cardinals home games will move from the East Valley to the West Valley beginning in 2006, the team will continue to train and maintain its corporate headquarters at the South Tempe facility that opened in 1990.

Covering 14.7 acres of land that was formerly a cotton field, the Cardinals' facility opened in September of 1990. The 94,000 square-foot state-of-the-art facility sports desert building materials, and three and one-half acres of Southwestern (Sonoran) desert landscaping.

Possessing many characteristics that distinguish it as both a football facility and an Arizona landmark, the showcase complex has won numerous architectural and landscape awards. In the spring of 1996, it also served as a location for the filming of "Jerry Maguire" starring Tom Cruise.

The facility incorporates local materials such as copper, desert brick, and clay tile, complemented by desert landscaping which integrate into the natural surroundings.

Environmentally sensitive, it utilizes passive solar energy to light offices and corridors while employing masonry and shadow to eliminate heat.

The interior joins many important concepts. Specificity of design is reflected in the workout areas on the first level where a number of planned activities can occur simultaneously. Facilities are situated along a logical traffic pattern to accommodate a progressive flow of activities.

The first floor consists of player facilities that include the training area, an auditorium, locker room, hydrotherapy (15-player in-floor jacuzzi and cold plunge) and spa rooms, indoor/outdoor weight-training room, offensive and defensive meeting rooms, and film/vidiotape rooms. They open to three playing fields - one of which is lighted - on nearly five acres of land.

The second and third floors comprise the administration and operations areas that include the coaching staff's offices. On the second and third floors, natural lighting and breezeways combine with advanced communications technology to create the most flexible office space possible.

The main building is flanked by a two-story attached building that includes a public area, the ticket office, and the media relations department.

Tifway 419 sod, the same hybrid used for golf course putting greens and the Sun Devil Stadium playing surface, covers seven and one-half acres on the east side of the building and includes three laser-leveled side-by-side practice fields. Underneath lies a complex lateral piping, sub-drainage system constructed with drainage tiles that accommodate as much as three inches of rain water that can be drained from all three fields, making them playable within three hours.

The Cardinals' training facility in south Tempe has housed the franchise's day-to-day operations since 1990.

SUN DEVIL STADIUM

With the team moving into their new West Valley stadium next season, the 2005 campaign will be the Cardinals' final one at Sun Devil Stadium, the team's home since moving to Arizona in 1988.

The venue, which has also been home to Arizona State University football since 1958 and the Fiesta Bowl since 1971, hosted the Super Bowl XXX match-up between Pittsburgh and Dallas on January 28, 1996.

Literally carved from the desert, Sun Devil Stadium sits in a unique setting between two mountain buttes in Tempe, Arizona southeast of Phoenix.

Originally erected in 1958, Sun Devil Stadium has been expanded four times (1976, '77, '88, and '89). Improvements costing over $23 million have been made since the Cardinals arrived in 1988.

A $1.67 million field renovation (lowering and widening), completed in June of 1992, was the most recent major upgrade. Besides providing significantly more sideline space, the project also changed the look of the stadium by removing the characteristic moats in favor of field-level walkways.

The bowl or south end was connected by Arizona State's six-story Intercollegiate Athletic Complex building and an extension of loge-level seats. A state-of-the-art video replay scoreboard and locker rooms in the north end also were added. The color video replay system, situated in the southwest corner, offers fans instant replays of game action. A complementary matrix board for messages and statistical information sits in the southeast corner.

In 1989, $11.5 million was spent to construct a three-story, 60,000 square-foot building atop the upper deck on the west side containing two 30-suite levels and topped by a press box and eight additional private suites. Served by four industrial-sized elevators—one for the media and three for the public—the addition allowed for working space for 200 sports-writers, broadcast booths, booth space for statistical crews, coaches, public address personnel, security, scoreboard operations, and a rooftop camera deck in addition to suite seating for over 900 fans.

The Cardinals will continue to call Sun Devil Stadium home through the 2005 season before moving into their new stadium in 2006.

The playing field was named Frank Kush Field in 1996 to honor the legendary former Arizona State University head coach who also served as head coach of the NFL Indianapolis Colts from 1982-84.

Super Bowl XXX required a number of improvements, including a new sound system, four new light poles at each corner of the stadium, new light fixtures to existing light standards on the east and west sides, and a re-sodded playing field.

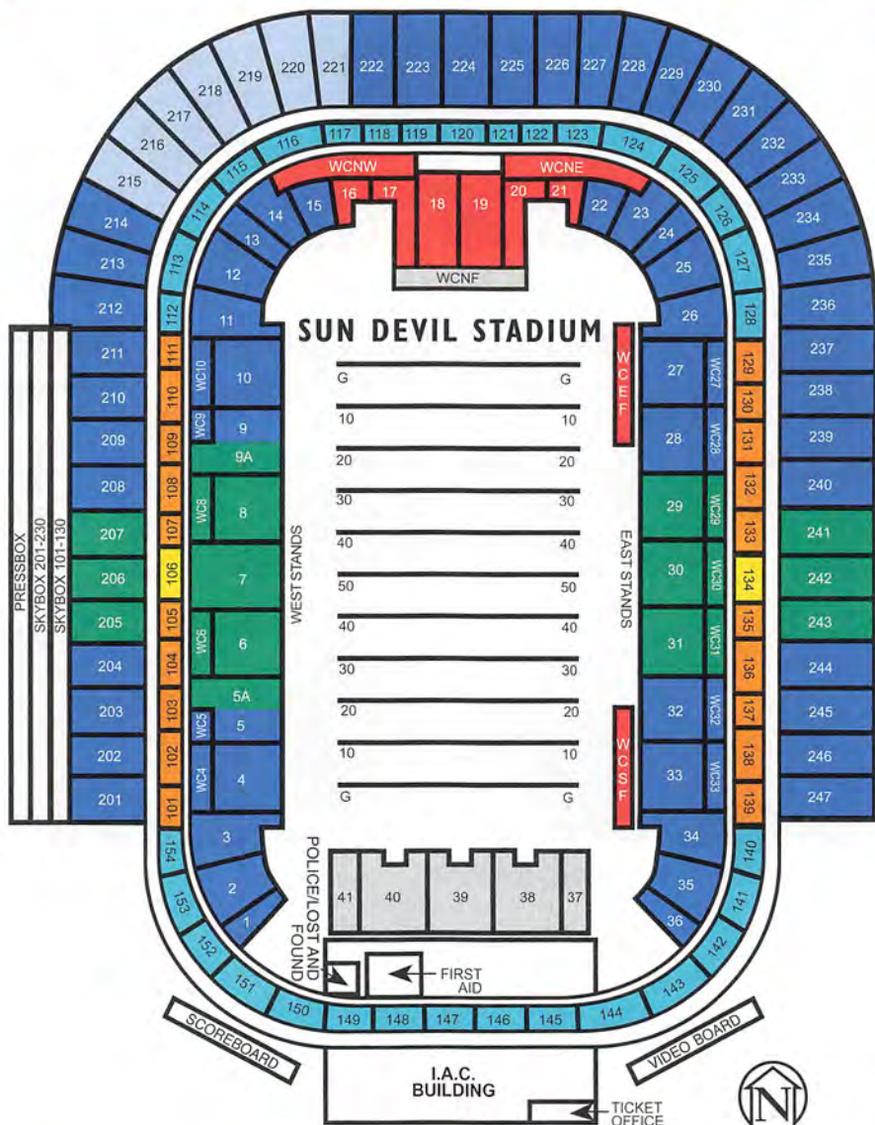

Sun Devil Stadium proved a most hospitable host to the Cardinals in the team's inaugural season in Arizona in 1988 when seven of the Cards' eight regular-season home games broke the club's previous single-game attendance record. The season total of 472,937 fans also easily eclipsed the Cardinal franchise's single-season home attendance mark.

In 1994, the Cards again broke their single-season attendance mark when 497,330 fans, or an average of 62,166 patrons per game, spun the Sun Devil Stadium turnstiles.

The largest crowd in Cardinal history—73,025—witnessed the Cards' September 19, 1993 battle against the eventual Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys at Sun Devil Stadium.

The 10 largest crowds to watch Cardinal home games all have been played at Sun Devil Stadium since the team's 1988 arrival in Arizona.

CARDINALS CHEERLEADERS

Whether it's performing at all Arizona Cardinals' home games, community service involvement, appearances at other sporting and civic events, or just signing autographs, the Arizona Cardinals Cheerleaders are recognized throughout the country for their talent, exciting dance routings, and professionalism.

The cheerleaders have performed throughout the United States, Mexico, and Canada. At the invitation of the Pentagon, the cheerleaders also have entertained U.S. military troops in Saudi Arabia, Kuwait, Bosnia, Egypt, Greenland, Kosovo, and Bahrain.

Through their talent, showmanship, enthusiasm, and dedication to their community and country, the cheerleaders have established themselves as an integral part of the Cardinals' organization.

The cheerleaders are available for community service events, civic events, meetings, conventions, or special occasions. Call the Cardinals (602/379-0101) for more information.

CARDS IN THE COMMUNITY

The Arizona Cardinals have always made community activities a year-round commitment.

Fifth-year Community Relations Director Luis Zendejas, the former Arizona State kicker who played in the NFL with the Dallas Cowboys and Philadelphia Eagles, directs the Cardinals community activities.

Zendejas and the Cardinals continue their efforts to expand the team's community programs to encompass the entire state of Arizona parts of Nevada and New Mexico as well as into Mexico. Various community events include involvement from Cardinals players, coaches, wives, cheerleaders, mascot and front office personnel.

Among the team's most successful recent programs has been the Arizona Cardinals NFL Flag Football program, a 5-on-5 non-contact flag football for boys and girls between the ages of 6-14. NFL Flag was developed to help provide youngsters with a program that teaches the basic fundamentals of football, while at the same time instilling the values of fair play and teamwork. Participants in the program are also taught the important lessons on living a healthy lifestyle and to make good choices while away from the football field.

During the 2004 season, the Cardinals were one of six NFL teams to host a regional site for the 2004 Flag Football National Regional Tournament. Over 40 teams and 400 kids from Arizona, Nevada and New Mexico participated at the Cardinals south Tempe training facility.

Over 12,000 kids throughout the states of Arizona & Nevada have participated in NFL Flag Football from the 2004 fall season through the fall 2005 season. The Cardinals NFL Flag program is currently rated as one of the top two NFL Flag programs in all of the National Football League.

The Cardinals participation and dedication to the youths of Arizona hasn't gone unnoticed. In the winter of 2004, Cardinals youth football coordinator Rich Tomey was awarded the Sports and Aquatics Branch Partnership Award for the state of Arizona on behalf of the Cardinals and the NFL Flag program. This spring, the Cardinals were selected as the NFC recipient of the "2005 Pop Warner NFL Team of the Year" for their commitment to the development of youth football in the Arizona area.

During the 2004 season, the Cardinals staged over 250 events that included the "Milk & Cookies" reading program, Gatorade Junior Training camps, kids clinics, annual holiday toy and food drives, and various community appearances.

The season-long "SRP Milk & Cookies Reading Program" takes a Cardinals player to an elementary school to read to students on a weekly basis. The annual "Hometown Huddle" program teams the Cardinals with the United Way to help promote education. This year's event was the sixth annual and took a group of players and their wives to El Mirage to help rebuild the Dysart Community Center. The program focuses on volunteerism and volunteer recruitment and that involves giving back to the community with a focus on underprivileged children.

The "Gatorade Junior Training Camps" provide children a year-round opportunity for on-field instructions from Cardinals players at recreational sites, including the Cardinals' training facility located in south Tempe.

The Cardinals "High School Coach of the Week" program recognizes the efforts of the coaches throughout the state of Arizona and their football programs throughout the fall. The school receives a monetary award from Cardinals Charities, and team members receive t-shirts.

Similarly, the "High School Player of the Week" recognizes individual high school football players for their accomplishments on the field for the previous week. During the season each winner is provided the opportunity to visit one of the team's practices followed by an award presentation from a Cardinals player or coach.

At the conclusion of the season, each player and coach of the week is invited to the regular season finale where they are honored for their accomplishments. In addition, the Cardinals present one coach and one player with the "High School Coach of the Year" award and the "High School Player of the Year Award." The coach receives a check for $2,000 for his school's football program while the player receives a plaque with his season stats.

The Cardinals dedication to Arizona high school football also is evidenced when the team invites and honors each state championship team from all five classes of high school football (5A-1A) at halftime of the regular season finale. Each team member and coach is provided with a free ticket to enjoy the game.

The third "Football Skills & Educational Camp" brought over 500 high school football players from around Arizona to the Cards' training facility to learn from the professionals with on-field drills, classroom instruction and recruiting tips. This past spring the Cardinals also offered two free coaches clinics in Tucson and Tempe. Coaches ranging from Pop Warner to college took part with instruction from the professionals.

"Fan Fare" events expose large numbers of fans to the Cardinals in a variety of ways. Recent examples were the Draft Day Party in downtown Phoenix, and the third "Fan Fest" mini-camp practice at the Cardinals training facility. At all these events, fans are afforded the opportunity to interact and obtain autographs from players, coaches and cheerleaders.

Team mascot Big Red has gained a loyal following since hatching his entertaining antics in 1998. He is seen at most team community events and makes a number of individual appearances. Examples just from the past year include "Gatorade Junior Training Camps," "Cardinals Kids Clinics," celebrations, the "Milk & Cookies Reading Program," "Holiday Express," "Toy & Clothing Drive," "High School Coach of the Week" award ceremonies, and countless hospital visits. Big Red also invited some of his friends to Arizona this spring when the Cardinals hosted the fifth annual NFL mascot convention. Sixteen mascots participated in the three day convention which featured hospital visits, industry trends and an autograph session.

Wives of players and coaches also lend a hand in the community. Through the help of Cardinals wives, the Salvation Army was able to provide Thanksgiving food boxes last November for over 300 families with the help of our annual canned food drive at Sun Devil Stadium prior to the start of our home game. The wives also collected enough toys during our toy drive to provide several thousand children with toys during the annual "Chicanos Por La Causa Christmas Toy giveaway" event. Wives also joined their husbands to serve Thanksgiving dinner to the less fortunate at the Phoenix Rescue Mission and to deliver Christmas teddy bears to youngsters at the local hospitals for the holidays in addition to taking part in CPLC's holiday "Wrapping Night".

The Cardinals community outreach has extended its focus to include Mexico and the local Hispanic community. The Cardinals hosted four free camps in Monterrey and Mexico City over the past year. While in Monterrey, Zendejas hosted a coaches clinic for 250 coaches and a football camp for 150 kids. In Mexico City, he hosted a coaches clinic for 300 coaches and a kids camp for 80 kids. Over the summer, the Cardinals began a program through which they visited a different state in Mexico each month to host these free camps along with visiting local orphanages.

Outside of their work in Mexico, the local Hispanic community has benefited for the team's community involvement. The Cardinals participated at the Chicanos Por La Causa Cesar Chavez Celebration in March while also taking part in the 8th annual Dia de Los Ninos in April. During the season on away game weekends, the Cardinals host a table at the Mercado weekends in south Phoenix where they offer giveaways and games for the local children to play.

The Cardinals also participated in a number of other various community activities in the last year. Running backs Marcel Shipp and Damien Anderson participated in helping to build a house for a low income family with the help of Habitat for Humanity. Last fall, eight Cardinals players visited Valley elementary schools to speak to students about bullying prevention as part of the Arizona Bullying Prevention Partnership and the nationwide Domestic Violence Awareness month. The Cardinals also took part in the "Winners Don't Quit: Stay in the Game" program as a partnership between the U.S. Department of Education and the NFL, by sending a pair of players to speak to 450 students about staying in school.

Players also invest time and effort into the community of their own volition. Four Cardinals players have created their own foundations in hopes of helping the communities and people around them. Pro Bowl wide receiver Anquan Boldin started his foundation, Q81, last season with the hope of expanding the educational and life opportunities of underprivileged children in both Arizona and his home state of Florida. The foundation worked with the West Valley Child Crisis Center in Glendale, Arizona this last season and will continue to serve other child crisis centers and domestic safe homes across Arizona.

Defensive tackle Kenny King started the "Kenny King Charity Fund" in his rookie season of 2003 with the sole purpose of bestowing hope, charity, and love within society. The foundation plans to primarily focus on its mission to strengthen families and improve communities one step at a time by providing hope and love through charitable acts.

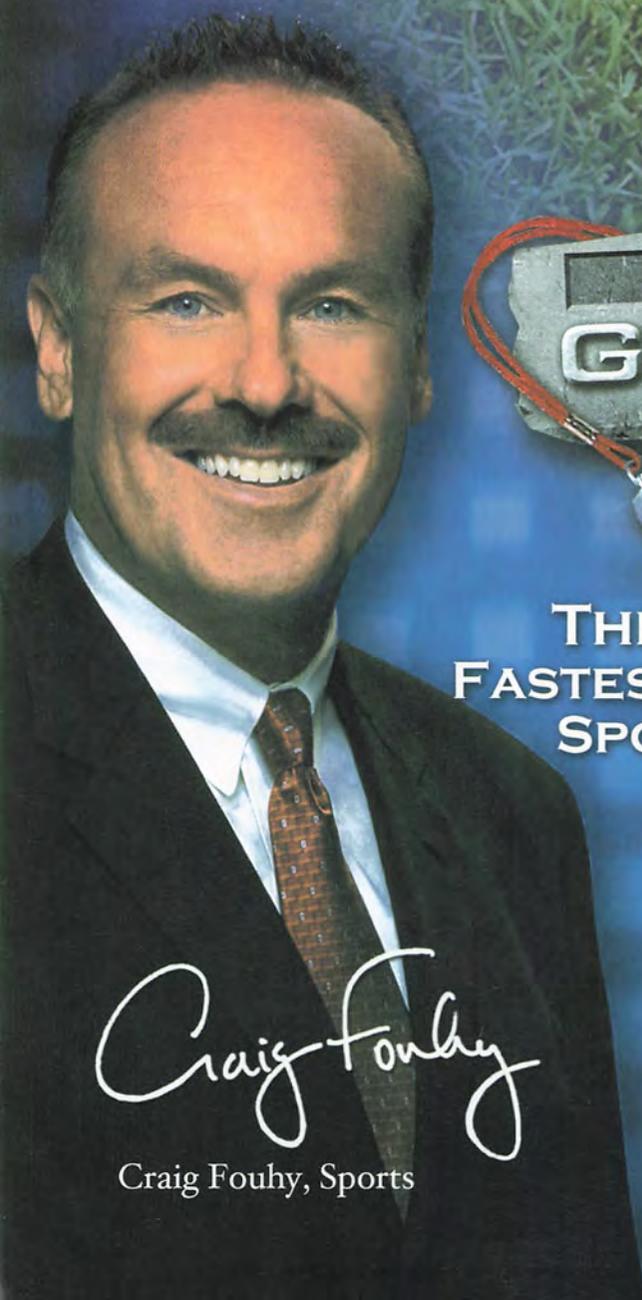

Cornerback David Macklin started the "27 Reasons Foundations" to help children who are labeled "at risk" or have been separated from their father and/or family become positive citizens in their community. Through his foundation, David visits local foster homes and contributes tickets to Cardinals games, as well as other monetary donations to support the community.

Finally, quarterback Kurt Warner who joined the Cardinals this past offseason, established the "First Things First Foundation" in the spring of 2001 with wife Brenda to promote Christian values and bless the lives of those less fortunate.

Clearly, community service never is out of season for the Cardinals.

TRAINING CAMP

The Cardinals annually trek 150 miles north of Phoenix to the cool climate of Flagstaff, Arizona, Northern Arizona's largest city located at one of America's highest city elevations, and the excellent facilities of Northern Arizona University (N.A.U.) for the team's preseason training camp.

While Phoenix temperatures range somewhere between hot and hotter in late July and August, the Cardinals benefit from Flagstaff's 7,200-foot altitude that consistently produces daytime temperatures in the upper 70s and low 80s. On average, summer temperatures in Flagstaff reach 90 degrees only three days per year.

Flagstaff is situated in the Coconino National Forest, the largest continuous stand of ponderosa pines in the world. It also serves as the county seat for Coconino County, the second largest county in the nation with 12 million acres.

Flagstaff's name is derived from a tall pine tree made into a flagpole in 1876 to celebrate the Declaration of Independence Centennial.

The picturesque N.A.U. campus arguably provides the National Football League's most scenic training-camp venue. The Cardinals' three practice fields literally were carved from pine trees with the San Francisco Peaks, the highest points in Arizona at 12,633 feet, serving as an unrivaled backdrop and a photographer's delight.

N.A.U.'s 14,000-seat Walkup Skydome also offers the Cardinals flexibility if the occasional summertime afternoon showers interfere with practice schedules.

For the second straight year, the Cardinals will also conduct a portion of training camp in Prescott, AZ. This year, they will be there for three days (Aug. 22-24).
