Jerry Richardson is a native Carolinian whose dream was to bring NFL football and the world championship he knew as a player in the League to his home. With the Panthers in their second decade, Richardson has firmly established the NFL into the Carolina landscape while dedicating his efforts to making the rest of his vision a reality. He is the only person to be inducted into both the North and South Carolina Business and Athletic Halls of Fame.

On October 26, 1993, Richardson became the first former NFL player since George Halas to become an owner when the Carolinas were unanimously awarded the NFL's 29th franchise.

A lifelong resident of the Carolinas, Richardson and his wife, Rosalind Sallenger Richardson, have two sons, Jon and Mark, and a daughter, Ashley Richardson Allen, of Charlotte. The Richardsons have nine grandchildren and live in Charlotte.

Edited Excerpt from Johnny Unitas: America's Quarterback

A Lasting Impression

Jerry Richardson, a tall, shy receiver was one of the newcomers to the Colts in 1959. Like Unitas, he came from a small college. He had played college football in South Carolina at Wofford College, and Richardson always seemed to be explaining just where Wofford was.

There were approximately one dozen other receivers running around trying to make a lasting impression, one that would enable them to fill the sole spot on the roster. Richardson's chances were not exactly promising, being taken in the 13th round and the 153rd player overall.

Unitas saw the underdog in Richardson, who had married his college sweetheart, Rosalind Sallenger. When training camp opened for the 1959 season, Richardson had no way to get to practice, so Unitas helped him out. He picked him up in the front of the rented house every morning to drive him to camp. They got along fine. Unitas didn't talk, and neither did the rookie, which suited them both.

The Touchdown Catch

Late in the 1959 championship game, was Baltimore head coach Weeb Ewbank thinking of a field goal to give the Colts an eight point lead in the 4th quarter against the New York Giants? Richardson, the rookie receiver Unitas chauffeured during training camp was waiting to return the favor by bringing in the play that Ewbank wanted.

"I stood next to Weeb and looked at him for the play," recalls Richardson. "I finally asked him what the play was and he remarked, 'Just tell Unitas to score.'"

Given the opportunity to score a seemingly safe field goal or a touchdown Unitas would always go for the six points.

"Raymond Berry was split on the left and would make his cut into the middle underneath the linebacker. I lined up close to the tackle and would swing wide to the outside. It really was Berry's play all the way. He had done it a thousand times. But Unitas looked off Berry, and I looked around and saw the ball coming to me. I squeezed it tight and went into the end zone standing up. I never expected the ball and neither did the Giants."

The rookie's touchdown was the clincher. The Colts moved closer to the championship with a 21-9 lead.

Danny Morrison was named President of the Carolina Panthers September 2, 2009, but his association with the organization began many years earlier when he oversaw the implementation of the team's training camp at Wofford College. Prior to joining the Panthers, Morrison was in his fifth year as Director of Athletics at Texas Christian University.

Morrison's relationship with the Panthers began in the team's inaugural 1995 season at Wofford College. As Director of Athletics he coordinated a fundraising effort that enabled the school to refurbish its facilities to host an NFL training camp. The Panthers have now been at Wofford for 17 straight years and the training camp is regarded among the best in the NFL.

In his capacity as team president Morrison is responsible for the Panthers business operations and Bank of America Stadium business interests as well as representing the organization in many league matters.

Since assuming duties as president, Morrison has provided energy and direction for the Panthers. From working closely with Owner/Founder Jerry Richardson to visiting fans prior to every home game, Morrison has immersed himself into the Panthers. If the Texas Christian University athletic program is an indicator, accomplishment will follow with the Panthers as well.

Morrison directed the development of TCU into one of the most successful college programs in the nation. During his four years at TCU, he helped usher the Horned Frogs into the Mountain West Conference. In the 2008-2009 athletic season TCU had 16 of its 20 sports represented in postseason play, finishing with the nation's seventh ranked football team.

A total of 12 sports were nationally ranked and four conference titles were won with three coaches receiving coach of the year honors. Five of the school's 20 programs were ranked in the top eleven in the nation.

The solid footing established under Morrison was revealed even after his departure when the football team recorded an undefeated regular season and the baseball team advanced to the College World Series. TCU and Florida were the only two schools in college athletics to play in a BCS Bowl game and have a team in the College World Series in 2010.

Prior to going to TCU in 2005, Morrison was Commissioner of the Southern Conference. He had joined the conference office after leaving Wofford, where he was senior vice president, in 2001.

As Commissioner of the Southern Conference, Morrison established numerous progressive initiatives, creating partnerships with corporate entities while expanding and enhancing the television schedule for the conference through various networks.

A native of Burlington, N.C., Morrison attended Wofford, where he lettered four years in basketball and graduated summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa in 1975 with a Bachelor of Arts in mathematics. His pursuit of excellence as athletics director earned him induction into the Wofford Athletics Hall of Fame in 2002.

Morrison obtained a Masters of Education in administration and supervision from the University of North Carolina in 1981 and a doctorate in educational leadership from the University of South Carolina in 2000.

He returned to Wofford in 1985 as the school's first full time Director of Athletics and served in that capacity for 12 years, guiding the Terriers from NAIA to Division II to Division 1-AA and membership in the Southern Conference.

The linchpin of that transition was the improvement of the facilities to provide a summer home for the Panthers through a capital improvement plan. Through his guiding efforts, the Panthers began training camp at the school in 1995 and Wofford has successfully transitioned into the Southern Conference, winning the football championship in 2003 and the basketball title in 2010 and 2011.

Morrison and his wife, Peggy, have two children: Trey, a graduate of the University of South Carolina, and Meg, who received her degree from Wofford.

COACHING: Discipline and structure. Attention to detail and preparation. Hard work. Respect. Teamwork. All of these qualities apply to Ron Rivera, who was named the fourth head coach in Carolina Panthers' history on Jan. 11, 2011.

Rivera has excelled as a coach and player during his 23 years in the NFL, serving as defensive coordinator for the San Diego Chargers top-ranked defense in 2010 and playing linebacker for the Chicago Bears' top-ranked defense and Super Bowl XX championship team in 1985. In 14 seasons as a coach and nine as a player, he has been with teams that have reached the playoffs 16 times, including eight conference championships and two Super Bowls.

The mentality of the Chargers defense that Rivera coached and the Bears defense in which Rivera played resonates within the head coach. But that relentless style isn't limited to the defensive side of the ball.

"We're going to be an aggressive, physical football team, whether we're running the football, throwing the football, pass protecting or tackling," Rivera said. "I want it to be a physical, no-nonsense, get-the-job-done identity."

Rivera's identity has been influenced by two innovative defensive coordinators. As a player, Rivera was coached by Buddy Ryan, the architect of the "46 Defense," which involved blitzing on nearly every down. As a coach, Rivera toiled under the late Jim Johnson, a highly-regarded defensive coordinator renowned for his aggressive approach.

His identity also has been shaped by his family. The son of a U.S. Army officer and the second-youngest of four boys, Rivera learned from a young age about chain of command and many of the principles he teaches and expects from his players.

"Coming from a military background, there's a lot of discipline, a lot of structure. That's how I feel when I coach," Rivera said.

Rivera worked with the San Diego Chargers from 2007-10. He coached inside linebackers before taking over as the team's defensive coordinator midway through the 2008 season.

With Rivera's guidance, the pass defense steadied itself - intercepting nine passes and yielding 229.6 passing yards per game and 11 touchdown passes over the final eight games. Those numbers contrasted to the first half of the season when San Diego notched just seven picks and was victimized for 265.1 yards per game and 14 touchdowns through the air.

In Rivera's first full season leading the defense in 2009, the Chargers ranked 16th in total defense and 11th against the pass. One of the unit's strengths was playing tough after offensive turnovers, giving up only 44 points, a figured that tied New England for the second-fewest in the NFL.

Those rankings improved in 2010 as San Diego led the NFL with an average of 271.6 total yards allowed per game and gave up a league-low 177.8 passing yards per game. Overall, the Chargers finished in the top five in 11 different defensive statistical categories despite not having any defenders selected to the Pro Bowl.

From 2004-06, Rivera oversaw the Chicago Bears defense, engineering the unit to two top-five finishes in the league. Under Rivera's direction, five different defensive players went to the Pro Bowl: linebacker Lance Briggs, safety Mike Brown, defensive tackle Tommie Harris, linebacker Brian Urlacher and cornerback Nathan Vasher.

In his first season as a defensive coordinator in 2004, Rivera presided over a defense that produced nine more takeaways and 17 more sacks than the previous year and scored a franchise record and NFC high six defensive touchdowns. The Bears also thrived on third down and buckled down inside their own 20-yard line, ranking first in the NFL in third-down efficiency (30.5%) and topping the NFC in red zone defense (42.6%).

The following year, Chicago continued to build on the foundation Rivera laid in 2004. The Bears won their first of two consecutive NFC North titles and stood second in the NFL in total defense. In surrendering the fewest points in the league, Rivera's defense went 43 consecutive quarters without allowing more than seven points - the longest streak in the NFL since 1969. Chicago also led the NFL in red zone defense (32.5%) and rated second in third-down efficiency (31.9%).

During Rivera's last season with the Bears in 2006, the defense paced the NFL with 44 takeaways and finished fifth in the league in total defense and third in scoring defense, helping propel Chicago to the NFC Championship and an appearance in Super Bowl XLI.

Prior to becoming a defensive coordinator, Rivera spent five seasons from 1999-2003 as the linebackers coach for the Philadelphia Eagles, who advanced to the NFC Championship game in each of his final three seasons. Twice during Rivera's tenure with the Eagles, the team finished second in the NFL in scoring defense and in 2001 held all 16 of its opponents to less than 21 points - making them just the fourth team in NFL history to do so.

While with Philadelphia, Rivera helped develop linebacker Jeremiah Trotter. In his first year as a starter in 1999, Trotter posted a team-high 202 tackles and subsequently earned Pro Bowl honors in 2000 and 2001. In Rivera's five seasons with the Eagles, a member of his linebacking corps led the team in tackles four times.

Rivera gained his first coaching experience with the Bears as defensive quality control coach from 1997-98.

He is just the third Latino head coach in NFL history, joining Tom Flores with the Oakland Raiders from 1979-87 and Seattle Seahawks from 1992-94 and Tom Fears with the New Orleans Saints from 1967-70.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Following his retirement, Rivera went into broadcasting. He covered the Bears and college football as a television analyst for WGN and SportsChannel Chicago for four years from 1993-96.

Selected in the second round of the 1984 NFL Draft by Chicago, Rivera played all nine of his pro seasons with the Bears. Primarily an outside linebacker, he appeared in 149 games with 62 starts (including 12 postseason contests with six starts) and posted 392 tackles, 7.5 sacks, five forced fumbles, four fumble recoveries, nine interceptions and 15 passes defensed. Rivera was a member of six NFC Central division title teams and a Super Bowl XX championship team in 1985.

As a player, Rivera was known for both his skill and determination on the field and his dedication of time and energy to the community. As a result, he was named the Bears Man of the Year in 1988 and earned the club's Ed Block Courage Award in 1989.

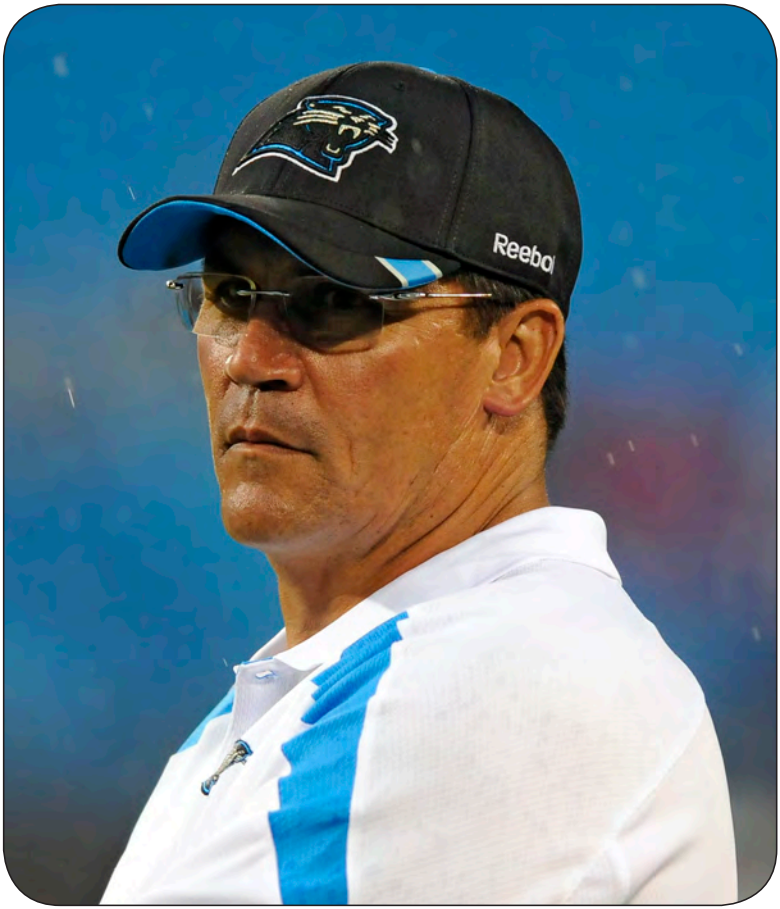

An All-American at the University of California, Rivera finished his career as the school's all-time leader in sacks with 22 and tackles with 336. As a senior in 1983, he set the Bears single-season record for sacks with 13 and tackles for loss with 26.5.

Born Jan. 7, 1962 in Fort Ord, Calif., Rivera lived in Germany, Panama, Washington and Maryland before his family settled in Marina, Calif. He attended Seaside High School in Marina and was a three-sport star in football, basketball and baseball.

Rivera and his wife, Stephanie, have two children, Christopher and Courtney. Stephanie is a former assistant coach for the WNBA's Washington Mystics.

RON RIVERA'S COACHING HISTORY

Year	Position	Team
1997-98	Defensive Quality Control	Chicago Bears
1999-2003	Linebackers	Philadelphia Eagles
2004-06	Defensive Coordinator	Chicago Bears
2007-08	Inside Linebackers	San Diego Chargers
2008-10	Defensive Coordinator	San Diego Chargers
2011-current	Head Coach	Carolina Panthers

COACHING: Rob Chudzinski followed head coach Ron Rivera from the San Diego Chargers to Carolina to be the Panthers offensive coordinator. In 17 previous seasons as an NFL and college assistant, he has had success leading offenses and earned a reputation for developing tight ends.

As the Chargers tight ends and assistant head coach in 2010, Chudzinski helped San Diego rank first in the NFL in total offense with an average of 395.6 yards per game and second in scoring with an average of 27.6 points per game.

Tight end Antonio Gates excelled during both of Chudzinski's two-year stints on the Chargers coaching staff from 2005-06 and 2009-10. Gates made his seventh consecutive Pro Bowl last season, one year after producing a career-high 1,157 yards. In 2005, Chudzinski's first season as San Diego's tight ends coach, Gates registered the only other 1,000-yard receiving season of his career with 1,101 yards on a career-high 89 receptions.

In between Chudzinski's stints with the Chargers, he served as the Cleveland Browns offensive coordinator for two seasons. In 2007, the Browns won 10 games - their most wins since 1994 - and Chudzinski's offense played a key role in the team's success. Cleveland ranked eighth in the league in total offense and scoring, accumulating 5,621 net yards and 402 points.

Four players went to the Pro Bowl: quarterback Derek Anderson, wide receiver Braylon Edwards, tackle Joe Thomas and tight end Kellen Winslow II. Anderson threw 29 touchdowns, while Edwards and Winslow combined with running back Jamal Lewis to give the Browns two 1,000-yard receivers and a 1,000-yard rusher.

Chudzinski began his pro coaching career as Cleveland's tight ends coach in 2004 and worked with Winslow, the team's top draft choice. He was elevated to offensive coordinator for the final five games of the season under interim head coach Terry Robiskie after the resignation of head coach Butch Davis.

From 1994-2003, Chudzinski spent 10 years as an assistant at his alma mater, the University of Miami (Fla.): three seasons as offensive coordinator, five as tight ends coach and two as a graduate assistant.

During his three years as offensive coordinator, he guided a unit that went 12-0 and won the national championship in 2001 and set school records for points, total yards and rushing touchdowns the next season. In addition, Chudzinski worked with numerous future NFL players, including wide receiver Andre Johnson, running backs Frank Gore, Willis McGahee and Clinton Portis, tackle Bryant McKinnie and quarterback Ken Dorsey.

Promoted from graduate assistant to tight ends coach in 1996, Miami's tight ends flourished under Chudzinski's tutelage. He mentored Bubba Franks, Jeremy Shockey and Winslow, all of whom were All-Americans and became first-round draft picks and Pro Bowl players in the NFL.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A three-year starter at tight end for Miami (Fla.) from 1986-90, Chudzinski played on national championship teams in 1987 and 1989. He earned a bachelor's degree in business administration in 1990 and added a master's degree in business administration in 1996. Chudzinski and his wife, Sheila, have two sons, Kaelan and Rian, and a daughter, Margaret.

HISTORY: Tight end Miami (Fla.) 1986-90. College coach: Miami (Fla.) 1994-2003. Pro coach: Cleveland Browns 2004, 2007-08, San Diego Chargers 2005-06, 2009-10, joined Panthers in 2011.

COACHING: Sean McDermott, who previously headed up an attacking Philadelphia Eagles defense, fills the same role for the Panthers as their defensive coordinator. He comes to Carolina following 12 seasons with the Eagles, the last two as defensive coordinator, where he contributed to six division titles.

McDermott is reunited with head coach Ron Rivera. The two are quite familiar with each other, both joining the Eagles coaching staff in 1999 and working together for five seasons.

Aggressiveness and pressure characterize the play of McDermott's defenses as they forced 72 turnovers over the last two seasons, tied for first in the NFL with Green Bay.

In 2010, McDermott led one of the League's youngest defenses to another playoff appearance in Philadelphia, finishing the year ranked in the top-10 in takeaways, sacks and negative play yardage.

In his first season overseeing the Eagles defense in 2009, McDermott overcame a rash of injuries to lead a unit that finished ranked third in the NFL with 38 takeaways, the most by the club since 2002, and 44 sacks. Also, Philadelphia stood second in the league in third down defense, limiting opponents to a 33.0 percent conversion rate, and fifth in yards per play allowed with an average of 5.0 yards per play.

Three of McDermott's players earned Pro Bowl honors: defensive end Trent Cole - who ranked third in the NFC with 12.5 sacks, cornerback Asante Samuel - who tied for first in the NFL with nine interceptions, and safety Quintin Mikell - who notched a team-leading 122 tackles. As a result of his efforts, McDermott was named the NFL's top defensive coordinator by Pro Football Weekly.

One of the few NFL assistants to successfully mentor two different position groups, McDermott coached the secondary and linebackers before becoming defensive coordinator, learning all phases of the defensive game plan from the late Jim Johnson, the Eagles' legendary defensive coordinator from 1999-2008.

Tutoring the defensive backs in 2008, McDermott helped the pass defense improve in nearly every statistical category from the previous year, ranking third in the NFL in pass defense and second in net yards per pass play. Two members of the secondary - free safety Brian Dawkins and Samuel - garnered Pro Bowl recognition, while Mikell captured second-team All-Pro accolades.

In 2007, McDermott took over the linebackers for one season when current St. Louis Rams head coach Steve Spagnuolo left to become the New York Giants defensive coordinator. The young linebacking corps flourished under McDermott as Omar Gaither, who compiled a team-high 170 tackles, and Chris Gocong progressed into full-time starters for the first time in their careers.

From 2004-06, McDermott served as the Eagles' secondary/safeties coach. In 2004, both starting safeties, Dawkins and strong safety Michael Lewis, went to the Pro Bowl. Under McDermott's guidance, Dawkins proceeded to make two more Pro Bowls after the 2005 and 2006 seasons. In addition, McDermott aided in the development of Mikell, an undrafted rookie free agent in 2003.

McDermott worked as the team's assistant defensive backs coach in 2003 and as the defensive assistant/quality control coach from 2001-02, assisting with linebackers. He originally joined the organization in 1998 as a scouting administrative coordinator and primarily handled collective bargaining agreement, salary cap and personnel matters until being promoted to assistant to the head coach in 1999.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: An All-Atlantic 10 Conference choice at safety for William & Mary as a senior in 1997, McDermott graduated with a degree in finance and began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater in 1998. He and his wife, Jamie, have a daughter, Madeline, and a son, Gavin.

HISTORY: Safety: William & Mary 1994-97. College coach: William & Mary 1998. Pro coach: Philadelphia Eagles 1999-2010, joined Panthers in 2011.

COACHING: Brian Murphy has the ability to mix the new with the old to develop outstanding special teams units, as evidenced by his success with the Minnesota Vikings for five seasons - the last two as special teams coordinator.

In 2010, the Vikings' veteran specialists continued to perform at a high level under Murphy's tutelage. Punter Chris Kluwe generated a 38.9-yard net punting average and landed 32 punts inside the 20, the second-highest figures in team history. Kicker Ryan Longwell finished first in the NFL with a 94.4 field goal percentage, converting 17-of-18 field goal attempts for the third-best mark in franchise annals.

Promoted from assistant special teams coach in 2009, Murphy made an immediate impact in his first season as special teams coordinator. Minnesota improved from 25th to ninth in the Dallas Morning News rankings, and the return and coverage units along with the kicking game helped the Vikings win the NFC North and advance to the NFC Championship.

Rookie kick returner Percy Harvin and special teamer Heath Farwell made the Pro Bowl following the 2009 campaign. Harvin ranked fourth in the NFL with a 27.5-yard kickoff return average and two touchdowns, while Farwell led the team for the third time in four years with 24 special teams tackles.

From 2006-08, Murphy served as the Vikings' assistant special teams coach. During the 2008 season, Kluwe set a team record with a 47.6-yard gross punting average, and Minnesota tied for the NFL lead by forcing opponents to 10 missed field goals, including a blocked field goal that Antoine Winfield returned 59 yards for a touchdown.

The previous year, the Vikings stood near the top in several categories: kickoff return average (fifth), kickoff coverage (sixth) and punts inside the 20 (third). In Murphy's first season as an NFL coach in 2006, Minnesota created four special teams takeaways and scored two special teams touchdowns, including one on a 16-yard pass by Longwell on a successfully executed fake field goal.

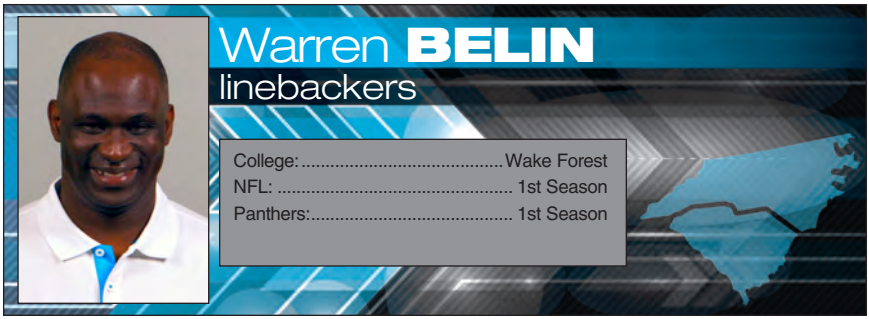

Murphy coached special teams at Wisconsin from 2002-05 in addition to overseeing outside linebackers. In 2005, he elevated the special teams units to among the best in the Big Ten. The Badgers finished first in gross and net punting average and second in punt return average, returning three punts for touchdowns.

He broke into coaching on the college level in 1992 at Benedictine, handling the defensive line. Murphy then became assistant recruiting coordinator and academic liaison for Wisconsin in 1993 and worked with the Badgers offensive and defensive lines as a graduate assistant from 1994-96.

Next, Murphy had one-year stints at Baylor as defensive backs coach in 1997, the University of San Diego as defensive coordinator and recruiting coordinator in 1998 and his alma mater, Lehigh, as defensive line coach and strength and conditioning coordinator in 1999. He returned to Wisconsin as an administrative assistant in 2000 until moving to special teams coordinator and outside linebackers coach in 2002.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A four-year letterman as a defensive lineman for Lehigh from 1988-91, Murphy graduated with a bachelor's degree in international relations in 1992. He later earned a master's degree in education administration from Wisconsin in 1997. Murphy and his wife, Maggie, have a son, Eamon, and a daughter, Flynn.

HISTORY: Defensive lineman: Lehigh 1988-91. College coach: Benedictine 1992, Wisconsin 1993-96, 2002-05, Baylor 1997, San Diego 1998, Lehigh 1999. Pro coach: Minnesota Vikings 2006-10, joined Panthers in 2011.

COACHING: Warren Belin, who has 20 years of experience as a college coach, makes his professional coaching debut in 2011 as the Panthers linebackers coach. The veteran assistant comes to Carolina following a one-year stint at Georgia and an eight-year tenure at Vanderbilt.

Working with the inside linebackers in his only season at Georgia in 2010, Belin mentored linebacker Akeem Dent, who led the team and ranked second in the Southeastern Conference with 126 tackles. Dent, an All-SEC second-team selection, was drafted by the Atlanta Falcons in the third round of the 2011 NFL Draft. Additionally, Belin handled the Bulldogs' kickoff coverage unit, which ranked first in the SEC.

Before moving to Georgia, Belin spent eight seasons as linebackers coach at Vanderbilt from 2002-09. In addition, he served as the team's recruiting coordinator during his last two years and special teams coordinator from 2006-07. While with the Commodores, Belin produced several future NFL player as well as numerous All-SEC selections, including Hunter Hillenmeyer, Jonathan Goff and Marcus Buggs.

From 1997-2001, Belin coached linebackers at Southern Methodist. In each of Belin's five seasons with the Mustangs, at least one member of his linebacking corps captured All-Western Athletic Conference recognition. He also tutored linebackers at Cornell in 1991 and 1993-94 and at East Tennessee State in 1992 prior to overseeing the defensive line at William & Mary in 1995 and linebackers in 1996.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A three-year starter at linebacker and four-year letterman for Wake Forest from 1987-90, Belin graduated cum laude with a degree in health and sports science. COACHING: Ray Brown adds 20 years of NFL experience as a player to the Panthers as assistant offensive line coach, where he works with offensive line coach John Matsko.

Brown spent 2010 in the same capacity with the San Francisco 49ers. While with San Francisco, he relied on his extensive background and knowledge to help integrate first-round draft picks Anthony Davis at tackle and Mike Iupati at guard into the starting lineup.

Prior to joining the 49ers, Brown served as the Buffalo Bills' assistant offensive line coach for two seasons from 2008-09. In each of his years with the Bills, the offensive line opened holes for 1,000-yard rushers, and Brown helped tackle Jason Peters make the Pro Bowl in 2008.

Brown made his foray into coaching during the second half of the 2006 season as a special assistant on the Washington Redskins' staff. In his role, he assisted with the offensive line.

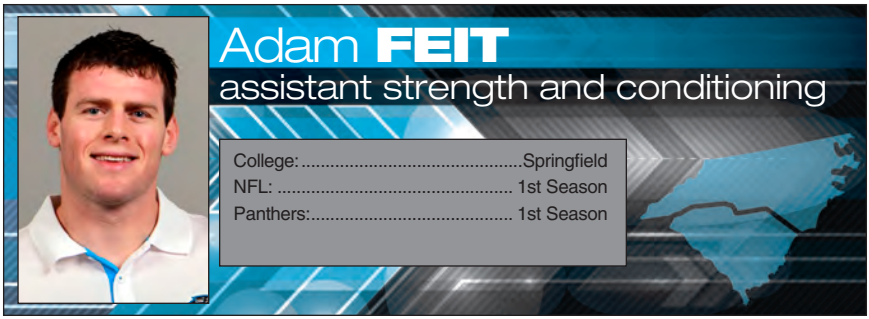

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Originally an eighth-round draft choice (201st overall) by the St. Louis Cardinals in 1986, Brown played in 265 games with 202 starts at guard and tackle for four different franchises - St. Louis/Phoenix Cardinals, Washington Redskins, San Francisco 49ers and Detroit Lions.

Brown was a member of the Redskins' Super Bowl XXVI championship team and earned Pro Bowl and first-team All-Pro honors with the 49ers in 2001. He became the oldest player to ever start an NFL postseason game when he opened at right guard for the Redskins against the Seattle Seahawks in the 2005 NFC Divisional Playoff at the age of 43 years and 336 days.

An All-Southland Conference selection at Arkansas State, Brown lined up on the offensive line and at tight end for the Indians. As a senior in 1985, he became the first player in conference history to be named all-conference at two different positions in the same season, garnering first-team recognition at tackle and second-team accolades at tight end. Brown began his college career at Memphis State before transferring to Arkansas State.

He and his wife, Ashley, have a daughter, Miriam, and a son, Leonard. Brown also has two daughters, Lentisha and Andrea, and a son, Tyler.

HISTORY: Offensive lineman/tight end: Arkansas State 1983-85. Pro offensive lineman: St. Louis/Phoenix Cardinals 1986-88, Washington Redskins 1989-95, 2004-05, San Francisco 49ers 1996-2001, Detroit Lions 2002-03. Pro coach: Washington Redskins 2006, Buffalo Bills 2008-09, San Francisco 49ers 2010, joined Panthers in 2011.

COACHING: Adam Feit lends his unique expertise in sports performance and nutrition to the Panthers' strength and conditioning program, where he works with strength and conditioning coach Joe Kenn. Feit joins Carolina following one season as the head sports performance coach at Eastern Michigan in 2010.

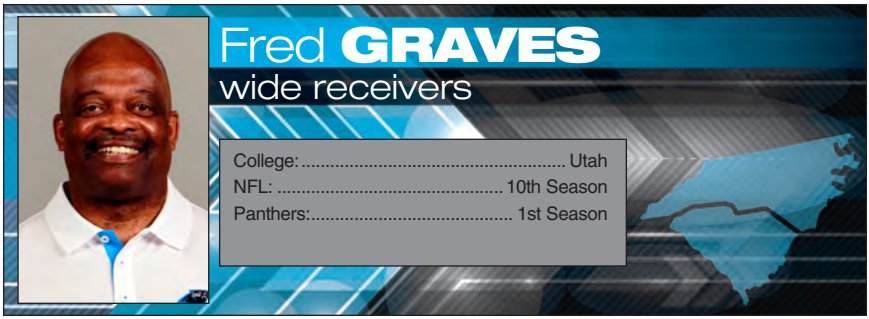

He previously spent two years at Louisville from 2008-09 as the assistant coach for athlete development. Feit administered the performance nutrition program for all football players and coordinated training table food choices and menus. Additionally, he developed and implemented a research-based and NCAA-compliant nutritional supplement program.

While with the Cardinals, Feit helped design and execute the football team's strength and conditioning program, focusing on strength training, conditioning, speed, agility, plyometrics and flexibility. He also instructed Pilates classes for all football players.

Prior to joining Louisville, Feit served as an assistant coach for athletic development at The Citadel in 2007 and was a sports performance intern at Arizona State in 2007 under Kenn.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Feit played offensive line for Springfield College from 2003-06. He earned Division III All-American and East Region Offensive Lineman of the Year honors and was a first-team Empire 8 All-Conference selection as a senior. Feit graduated with a bachelor's degree in exercise science in 2006 and completed his master's degree in exercise science and health promotion at California University of Pennsylvania in 2009. He recently married the former Mary Kate Jones. Last name is pronounced Fight.

HISTORY: Offensive lineman: Springfield College 2003-06. College coach: Arizona State 2007 (winter/spring), The Citadel 2007, Louisville 2008-09, Eastern Michigan 2010. Pro coach: Joined Panthers in 2011.

COACHING: Armed with a reputation as a stickler for precision, Fred Graves is challenged with developing one of the NFL's youngest wide receiving corps. However, the task is not unlike the one he successfully met as wide receivers coach for the Tennessee Titans for the past four seasons.

Taking over Tennessee's wide receivers in 2007, Graves took an unproven group of wide outs and groomed them into reliable targets. Justin Gage emerged and tied for the team lead with a career-high 55 catches. The next year, Gage evolved into a big-play threat, ranking third in the NFL with an average of 19.1 yards per reception.

In 2009, the Titans selected Kenny Britt in the first round of the NFL Draft and added Nate Washington in free agency. Graves helped Britt compile a team-high 701 yards to become the first rookie to lead the team in receiving yards since 1995. In Washington's first season as a full-time starter in the NFL, he established career bests for catches and touchdowns.

Graves joined the Titans from the Detroit Lions, where he oversaw the wide receivers in 2005. In his one season with the Lions, the wide receiver position group tallied 148 receptions for 1,810 yards, and Roy Williams continued to mature into a featured receiver with a career-high eight touchdowns under Graves' guidance.

Prior to the Lions, Graves spent one season as the Cleveland Browns wide receivers coach in 2004. There, he worked with current Carolina Panthers offensive coordinator Rob Chudzinski, who was the Browns offensive coordinator for the final five games of the year.

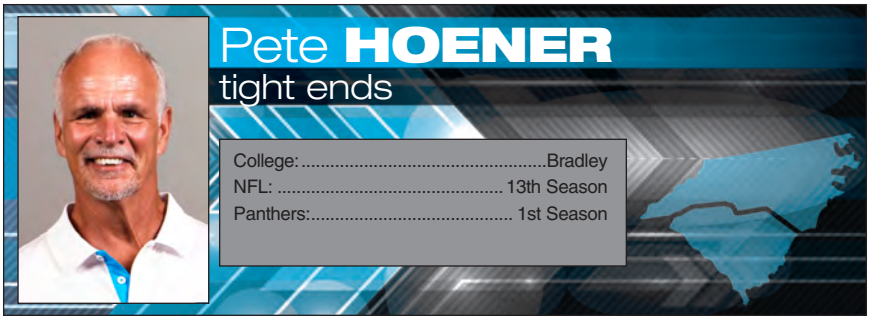

From 2001-03, Graves coached the wide receivers for the Buffalo Bills. In 2002, veterans Eric Moulds and Peerless Price along with rookie Josh Reed combined for 231 catches for 3,053 yards and 21 touchdowns. Graves produced two 1,000-yard receivers in Moulds and Price while directing Moulds to the first 100-reception season in franchise history and Pro Bowl honors.

He entered the NFL coaching ranks with 26 years of experience on the college level, including all but one mentoring wide receivers and the last 19 at his alma mater, Utah, from 1982-2000. During his tenure with the Utes, Graves tutored future Carolina Panthers wide receiver Steve Smith, helping him set a school record with a 20.6-yard career average per catch and twice earn All-Mountain West Conference recognition.

At Utah, Graves held a number of positions: assistant head coach/wide receivers (1994, 1998-2000), offensive coordinator/wide receivers (1995-97), wide receivers (1982-89, 1991-93) and running backs (1990). He also served as tight ends/wide receivers coach at Northeast Missouri State from 1975-76, Western Illinois from 1977-78 and New Mexico State from 1979-81.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Graves played halfback and split end for Utah from 1969-71 and led the team with 45 receptions as a senior. He graduated from Utah with a degree in business. Graves and his wife, Michele, have a daughter, Amber, and a son, Marcus.

HISTORY: Halfback/split end: Utah 1969-71. College coach: Northeast Missouri State 1975-76, Western Illinois 1977-78, New Mexico State 1979-81, Utah 1982-2000. Pro coach: Buffalo Bills 2001-03, Cleveland Browns 2004, Detroit Lions 2005, Tennessee Titans 2007-10, joined Panthers in 2011.

COACHING: With a head coach and offensive coordinator who come from a team that relied heavily on its tight ends, the position will be more prominently featured in the Panthers' offense. The man charged with directing Carolina's tight ends is Pete Hoener, a veteran of 12 seasons as an NFL assistant - the last six with the San Francisco 49ers.

During his tenure with San Francisco, Hoener played an instrumental role in the development of tight ends Vernon Davis and Delanie Walker, both of whom were drafted by the 49ers in 2006. Hoener helped Davis become one of the most versatile and complete tight ends in the game as both a receiver and blocker, and he turned Walker, a wide receiver in college, into an explosive receiving threat.

In 2010, Davis ranked first on the 49ers with 56 receptions, 914 receiving yards and seven touchdowns to become the first tight end in franchise history to lead the team in receptions, receiving yards and touchdowns in consecutive seasons. Walker also experienced a productive campaign, recording career highs with 29 catches and 331 yards.

The previous year, Hoener tutored Davis to one of the most prolific seasons by a tight end in recent NFL history. Davis compiled 78 receptions for 965 yards and 13 touchdowns, an effort that resulted in being selected a Pro Bowl starter. Davis' 13 touchdowns tied the NFL single-season record for the most touchdowns by a tight end and equaled the most touchdown catches in the NFL, making him the first tight end in the Super Bowl era to lead or tie for the league lead in receiving touchdowns.

Hoener joined the 49ers from the Chicago Bears, where he oversaw the offensive line in 2004. His flexibility was on display, as the Bears employed seven different starting combinations among the front five. Under Hoener's guidance, center Olin Kreutz earned Pro Bowl honors.

Prior to the Bears, Hoener spent three seasons with the Arizona Cardinals, serving as the offensive line coach in 2003 and tight ends coach from 2001-02. It marked his second stint with the Cardinals after entering the NFL coaching ranks as the team's tight ends coach from 1985-86 when the franchise was in St. Louis.

Along with his NFL experience, Hoener coached 24 years on the college level as an offensive line coach and offensive coordinator.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Hoener played tight end and defensive end at Bradley and earned a degree in physical education. Hoener and his wife, Marianne, have three daughters: Jennifer, Kathleen and Lisa. Last name is pronounced Hay-ner.

HISTORY: Tight end/defensive end: Bradley 1969-70. College coach: Missouri 1975-76, Illinois State 1977, Indiana State 1978-84, Illinois 1987-88, Purdue 1989-91, Texas Christian 1992-97, Iowa State 1998-99, Texas A&M 2000. Pro coach: St. Louis/Arizona Cardinals 1985-86, 2001-03, Chicago Bears 2004, San Francisco 49ers 2005-10, joined Panthers in 2011.

COACHING: Known simply as "House" to players, Joe Kenn's goal as the Panthers strength and conditioning coach is to protect and produce: protect the athletes' body armor and produce athletic-based results. He employs a holistic and integrated philosophy in his comprehensive training plan that utilizes strength training, explosive development, high intensity interval training and performance-based nutrition. It is a structured approach that enhances the players' physical attributes.

An accomplished strength and conditioning coach with nearly two decades of experience on the college level, Kenn comes to the Panthers from Big House Power Competitive Athletic Training, where he coached professional, college and high school athletes and teams from several sports.

Prior to that, he was the Director of Athlete Development at Louisville for two seasons from 2008-09, working specifically with the football program. In 2009, he was recognized as a master strength and conditioning coach by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association. That same year, Cardinals center Eric Wood became Kenn's fourth first-round draft choice when the Buffalo Bills selected him 28th overall.

Kenn began his coaching career at Pine Crest Preparatory School in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., from 1989-90 before making his college coaching debut at his alma mater, Wake Forest, in January 1991 as the assistant strength coach. Later that year, he went to Boise State as a graduate assistant and remained there for eight years. Elevated to the Broncos' strength and conditioning coach in 1994, Kenn was named the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) Big West Conference Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year in 1998.

He then moved to Utah as the director of strength and conditioning for two years from 1999-2000. While with the Utes, Kenn supervised future Carolina Panthers wide receiver Steve Smith and tackle Jordan Gross and former NFL standout running back Mike Anderson. He also received accolades as the NSCA Mountain West Conference Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year in 2000.

Next, Kenn spent seven years at Arizona State from 2001-07, serving as the head strength and conditioning coach for football for two seasons before being promoted to head coach of sports performance in 2003 and overseeing all sports. During his tenure with the Sun Devils, he worked with future Baltimore Ravens linebacker Terrell Suggs and captured the NSCA College Strength and Conditioning Professional of the Year award in 2002.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A two-year starter at guard for Wake Forest from 1987-88, Kenn earned the Bill George Award as the Demon Deacons' standout lineman as a junior and then garnered recognition as the school's weightlifter of the year and an All-American strength and conditioning athlete by the NSCA as a senior. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in health and sports science from Wake Forest in 1988, added his strength and conditioning specialist certification in 1990 and obtained his master's degree in curriculum and instruction from Boise State in 1993. Kenn and his wife, Angela, have two sons: Joseph and Peter.

HISTORY: Guard: Wake Forest 1987-88. College coach: Wake Forest 1991 (winter/spring), Boise State 1991-98, Utah 1999-2000, Arizona State 2001-07, Louisville 2008-09. Pro coach: Joined Panthers in 2011.

COACHING: John Matsko, an accomplished offensive line coach for 20 NFL seasons, has coached nearly every style of offensive line along the way - from the prolific passing assault of the St. Louis Rams at the turn of the century to the efficient rushing attack of the Baltimore Ravens for the last three years.

Leading a youthful group of offensive linemen, Matsko helped the Ravens rank in the top five in the NFL in rushing in two of his three seasons, finishing fourth in 2008 and fifth in 2009. He mentored tackle Michael Oher, who made the NFL's all-rookie team in 2009, and in 2008 the team permitted only 33 sacks, the second fewest in team history, while featuring the league's youngest offensive line.

Prior to joining Baltimore, Matsko spent two seasons as the offensive line coach of the Kansas City Chiefs from 2006-07. Despite utilizing five different starting combinations due to injuries in 2006, the offensive line paved the way for the Chiefs to place ninth in the NFL in rushing and compile a team-record 11 100-yard rushing games. Under Matsko's guidance, guards Will Shields and Brian Waters earned Pro Bowl honors.

Nowhere was Matsko's versatility as an outstanding teacher in both the run and pass blocking aspects of offensive line play on display more than during his tenure with the St. Louis Rams from 1999-2005. With Matsko presiding over the offensive line for one of the most dynamic offenses in NFL history, the Rams led the league in total offense for three consecutive years from 1999-2001, including a record 5,232 yards in 2000, and won Super Bowl XXXIV. He played an instrumental role in the development of two Pro Bowlers - tackle Orlando Pace and guard Adam Timmerman.

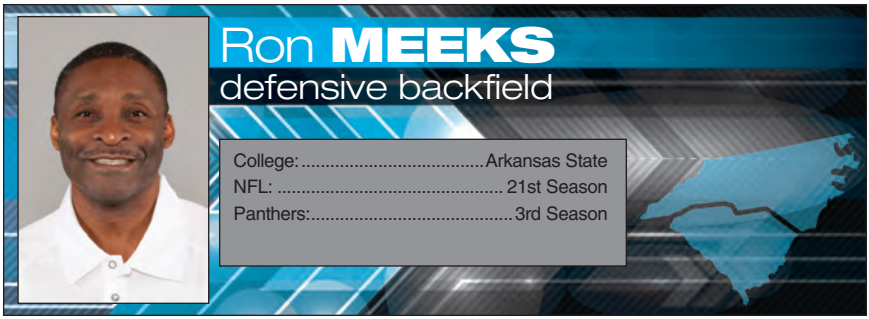

Matsko began his NFL coaching career as offensive line coach of the Phoenix Cardinals in 1992 and served in that capacity for two seasons. In 1993, the offensive front opened holes for the Cardinals to have their first 1,000-yard rusher since 1985. He then moved to New Orleans in 1994 and coached three seasons with the Saints. Under Matsko's tutelage, tackle Willie Roaf earned three Pro Bowl selections, and the Saints ranked seventh in the league for fewest sacks allowed in 1994 and 1995 and third in 1996.

Following his stint with New Orleans, Matsko assumed the same role from 1997-98 with the New York Giants, where they improved both their pass protection and run blocking. The Giants allowed 24 fewer sacks and jumped from 19th to seventh in the NFL in rushing in 1997 compared to 1996.

Before entering the NFL coaching ranks, Matsko spent 17 years on the college level. He worked as a graduate assistant at Miami (Ohio) from 1974-75 and returned as offensive line coach in 1977 after being the head coach at Danbury High School in Lakeside-Marblehead, Ohio, in 1976. Matsko served as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at North Carolina from 1978-84 prior to stops for one year each as offensive line coach at Navy in 1985 and Arizona in 1986. He joined Southern California as offensive line coach in 1987 and was promoted to offensive coordinator in 1989 for his final three seasons with the Trojans.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Matsko played fullback at Kent State and lettered three years from 1970-72. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in business education in 1973 and later earned a master's degree in education from Miami (Ohio) in 1976. Matsko and his wife, Kim, have four children: two daughters, Marie and Liz, and two sons, John and Michael. Marie is married to Roque Jimenez and the couple has two children, Jackie and Lucas. Liz is married to Scott Munter and the couple has a daughter, Brooklyn.

HISTORY: Fullback: Kent State 1970-72. College coach: Miami (Ohio) 1974-75, 1977, North Carolina 1978-84, Navy 1985, Arizona 1986, Southern California 1987-91. Pro coach: Phoenix Cardinals 1992-93, New Orleans Saints 1994-96, New York Giants 1997-98, St. Louis Rams 1999-2005, Kansas City Chiefs 2006-07, Baltimore Ravens 2008-10, joined Panthers in 2011.

COACHING: Ron Meeks returns to his roots as the Carolina Panthers defensive backfield coach in 2011. A 20-year NFL coaching veteran, he worked as a defensive backs coach for 10 years before becoming a defensive coordinator in 2002.

Meeks spent five seasons as the defensive backs coach with the Cincinnati Bengals from 1992-96 after beginning his NFL coaching career as a defensive assistant with the Dallas Cowboys in 1991. The Bengals led the league with 34 interceptions in 1996, including eight by Pro Bowl cornerback Ashley Ambrose. Twice during Meek's tenure, Cincinnati ranked in the top 10 in the league in pass defense, placing ninth in 1994 and second in 1993. From 1997-99, he tutored the defensive backs for the Atlanta Falcons. They were one of three NFC teams to limit opponents to less than 200 yards passing per game in 1999, and two members of Meeks' secondary, cornerback Ray Buchanan and safety Eugene Robinson, made the Pro Bowl in 1998 when the Falcons captured the NFC Championship.

In 2000, Meeks coached the Washington Redskins defensive backs to a standing of second in the league against the pass, and cornerback Champ Bailey earned Pro Bowl accolades. He then moved to the St. Louis Rams as the secondary coach in 2001 and helped revitalize the defense. The Rams climbed from 27th to 11th in the NFL against the pass and won the NFC Championship. Cornerback Aeneas Williams started in the Pro Bowl, and safety Adam Archuleta made the NFL's all-rookie team.

Following one year with St. Louis, Meeks joined the Indianapolis Colts as defensive coordinator for seven seasons. From 2002-08, Indianapolis ranked among the top six in the NFL in pass defense five times - finishing second in 2002, fifth in 2003, second in 2006, second in 2007 and sixth in 2008. Known for coordinating stingy units, he oversaw Colts defenses that rated among the top seven in the league in points allowed five times under his command and contributed to a Super Bowl XLI championship in 2006.

An outstanding teacher, Meeks developed two defensive backs drafted while he was with Indianapolis into Pro Bowl players. One year after being a second-round draft choice in 2004, strong safety Bob Sanders, who earned a reputation as one of the NFL's hardest hitting safeties, started in the Pro Bowl - becoming the first Colts defensive back to be selected to the all-star game since 1971. In 2007, Sanders was named the Associated Press Defensive Player of the Year in addition to being chosen to the Pro Bowl along with free safety Antoine Bethea, the club's sixth-round pick in 2006.

Meeks initially came to Carolina as the team's defensive coordinator, a position he held for two years. In his first season presiding over the defense in 2009, he guided the Panthers to an eighth-place finish in yards allowed and ninth in scoring. Last year, Meek's unit started strong, rating in the top half of the league for much of the campaign, and ended a respectable 18th under the weight of numerous injuries and a more than five minute average time of possession disadvantage.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Meeks attended Arkansas State from 1972-76 and then played five seasons in the Canadian Football League as a defensive back for the Hamilton TigerCats, Ottawa Rough Riders and Toronto Argonauts. He has four children, Jayson, Clayton, Quenton and Sadie, and one stepson, Christopher.

HISTORY: Defensive back: Arkansas State 1972-76. Pro defensive back: Hamilton Tiger-Cats (CFL) 1977-79, Ottawa Rough Riders (CFL) 1979, Toronto Argonauts (CFL) 1980-81. College coach: Arkansas State 1984-85, Miami (Fla.) 1986-87, New Mexico State 1988, Fresno State 1989-1990. Pro coach: Dallas Cowboys 1991, Cincinnati Bengals 1992-96, Atlanta Falcons 1997-99, Washington Redskins 2000, St. Louis Rams 2001, Indianapolis Colts 2002-08, joined Panthers in 2009.

COACHING: Sam Mills III officially adds assistant defensive line coach to his title along with his responsibilities as the Panthers defensive quality control coach, though he actually has been working with the defensive line since 2006.

In 2010, Mills helped defensive end Charles Johnson become the fifth player in team history to produce 10 or more sacks in a season with 11.5. The previous year, he contributed to a rejuvenated Panthers defensive line that accounted for 24.5 of the team's 31 sacks.

After spending the 2005 season in a dual role as a strength and conditioning and defensive assistant, Mills was promoted to defensive quality control coach in 2006. On game day, Mills is in the coaching booth and records all plays for the defense to help determine game tendencies. However, his day does not end when the game ends. Mills immediately seizes a play-by-play and charts what happened in every situation for the Carolina defense.

During the week, Mills aids defensive line coach Eric Washington at practice and in meetings. He also oversees tape breakdown for statistical tendencies and assists in game-plan preparation as well as the planning and production of the defensive play book.

Mills is no stranger to the organization as his position on the coaching staff is the culmination of his path as a youth. His father, Sam, is the only Panthers player to have his number retired and is the only player inducted into the team's Hall of Honor. When his father played for the Panthers, Mills worked as a ball boy at training camp and later in the equipment room before joining the strength and conditioning program.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Mills followed in his father's footsteps by playing at Montclair (N.J.) State, where the elder Mills was an NCAA Division II All-America at linebacker. He started 20 games in two seasons at defensive back for the Red Hawks and totaled 71 tackles, two interceptions, 14 passes defensed, three forced fumbles and one fumble recovery.

HISTORY: Defensive back: Monclair State 1997-1999. Pro coach: Joined Panthers in 2005.

COACHING: Drawing on his 17 seasons as an NFL player, former wide receiver Ricky Proehl moves to the sideline as an offensive consultant with the Panthers, working primarily with wide receivers coach Fred Graves.

Proehl finished his career with 669 receptions for 8,878 yards and 54 touchdowns. He appeared in 244 games with 110 starts for the Phoenix/Arizona Cardinals, Seattle Seahawks, Chicago Bears, Panthers and Indianapolis Colts. Proehl was a member of four Super Bowl teams, including championship teams with the Rams and Colts. In three seasons with the Panthers, he registered 86 catches for 1,327 yards and eight touchdowns and participated on two playoff teams.

But Proehl's playing days were distinguished by far more than his statistical achievements. He earned a reputation as a sure-handed and clutch player, making dramatic plays at critical times.

In the 2003 season opener versus Jacksonville, his first game with Carolina, Proehl caught a 12-yard touchdown on fourth down with 16 seconds left to cap a come-from-behind win and propel the Panthers on their Super Bowl run. During the 1999 postseason, he snagged a one-handed, 30-yard touchdown reception with 4:44 to play that lifted St. Louis to a victory over Tampa Bay in the NFC Championship.

Noted for the example he set for young players with his hard work, savvy and veteran leadership, Proehl essentially began coaching while still playing. A student of the game and an excellent communicator, he mentored teammates like Isaac Bruce and Torry Holt in St. Louis and Steve Smith in Carolina.

Those experiences will help Proehl in his new role with the Panthers. Carolina has one of the NFL's youngest receiving corps and drafted three wideouts in 2010, all of whom will benefit from his knowledge and detail-oriented approach to the game.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Since retiring following the 2006 season, Proehl has owned and operated Proehlific Park, a family sports complex and fitness center, in Greensboro, N.C. A standout wide receiver at Wake Forest from 1986-89 before being selected in the third round (58th overall) of the 1990 NFL Draft by the Cardinals, Proehl left the university as the holder of almost every major receiving record. He still ranks as the Demon Deacons' all-time leader with 2,949 receiving yards and 25 touchdown catches, and his 188 receptions stand second. Proehl led the team in receiving three consecutive seasons and finished first in the Atlantic Coast Conference with 65 catches for a school-record 1,053 yards as a senior in 1989. Proehl majored in speech communications at Wake Forest. In recognition of his college and professional accomplishments, he was inducted into the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame in May. He and his wife, Kelly, have a daughter, Alexandria, and two sons, Austin and Blake.

HISTORY: Wide receiver: Wake Forest 1986-89. Pro wide receiver: Phoenix/Arizona Cardinals 1990-94, Seattle Seahawks 1995-96, Chicago Bears 1997, St. Louis Rams 1998-2002, Carolina Panthers 2003-05, Indianapolis Colts 2006. Pro coach: Joined Panthers in 2011.

COACHING: John Settle returns to the NFL as the Panthers' running backs coach. Armed with three years of NFL coaching experience and 13 seasons on the college level, he comes to Carolina after handling the running backs from 2006-10 at Wisconsin, where the Badgers averaged more than 200 yards rushing per game in each of his last four years.

In 2010, Settle oversaw one of the most dynamic rushing attacks in Wisconsin history that included a productive trio of running backs. The Badgers set school records of 5.5 yards per attempt and 48 rushing touchdowns while rushing for 3,402 yards and 170 first downs.

Under Settle's guidance, Wisconsin nearly became the first team in NCAA history to have three different 1,000-yard rushers in the same season as James White totaled 1,052 yards, John Clay gained 1,012 and Montee Ball recorded 996. Both White and Clay earned second-team All-Big Ten recognition, and White was named Big Ten Freshman of the Year.

The previous year, Clay garnered Big Ten Offensive Player of the Year honors, leading the conference with 1,517 yards and 18 touchdowns. Wisconsin ranked first in the Big Ten in rushing in 2008 with an average of 211.2 yards per game, the team's best mark since 1999, and P.J. Hill surpassed 1,000 yards on the ground for the third consecutive season. Settle directed Hill to Big Ten Freshman of the Year accolades in 2006 after Hill paced the conference in rushing with 1,569 yards and 16 total touchdowns.

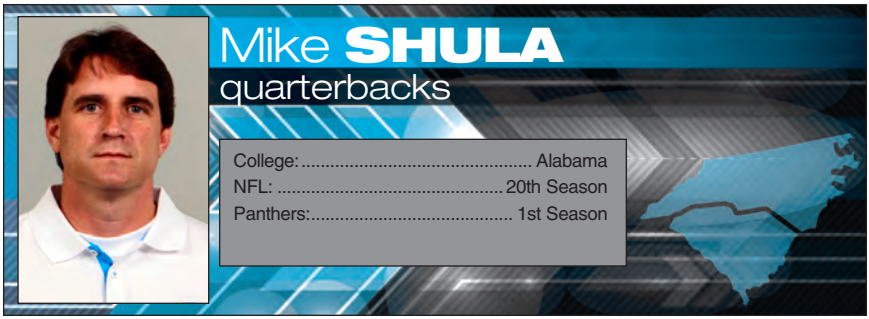

Prior to joining Wisconsin, Settle spent eight seasons as running backs coach at Fresno State from 1998-2005. During his tenure with the Bulldogs, Settle tutored six different 1,000-yard backs. He developed Derrick Ward and Dwayne Wright into NFL draft choices, with Ward being a seventh-round selection of the New York Jets in 2004 and Wright being a fourth-round pick of the Buffalo Bills in 2007.

Settle began his NFL coaching career with the Cleveland Browns/Baltimore Ravens from 1995-97. He worked in several capacities, serving as an offensive assistant and special teams quality control coach in addition to assisting in the weight room. Settle broke into coaching at his alma mater, Appalachian State, where he helped with running backs in 1994.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Signed as an undrafted rookie free agent by the Atlanta Falcons in 1987, Settle played in 46 games with 29 starts over six NFL seasons, spending four years with the Falcons from 1987-90 and two with the Washington Redskins from 1991-92. He accumulated 1,801 yards and 10 touchdowns on 439 carries and posted 118 catches for 1,039 yards and three touchdowns. Settle was voted to the Pro Bowl following the 1988 season when he became the first undrafted player since the NFL-AFL merger in 1970 to rush for 1,000 yards. He also was a member of the Redskins Super Bowl XXVI championship team.

A native of Reidsville, N.C., and product of Rockingham County High School, Settle played running back at Appalachian State from 1983-86. He finished his career as the school's all-time leading rusher with 4,409 yards and 43 touchdowns. As a senior, Settle compiled 1,661 yards and 20 touchdowns to capture Southern Conference Player of the Year. His number, 23, was retired by Appalachian State, and he was inducted into the school's hall of fame in 1994. Settle and his wife, Karen, have three children: Jonathan, Leighton and Devynn. He graduated with a degree in criminal justice from Appalachian State.

HISTORY: Running back: Appalachian State 1983-86. Pro running back: Atlanta Falcons 1987-90, Washington Redskins 1991-92. College coach: Appalachian State 1994, Fresno State 1998-2005, Wisconsin 2006-10. Pro coach: Cleveland Browns/Baltimore Ravens 1995-97, joined Panthers in 2011.

COACHING: Mike Shula brings his vast knowledge and experience of the quarterback position to the Panthers, having successfully played and coached it. A veteran of 23 years in coaching, including 19 as an NFL assistant and four as a college head coach, Shula spent the last four seasons as the quarterbacks coach of the Jacksonville Jaguars.

With Jacksonville, Shula oversaw David Garrard's development from becoming a full-time starter in 2007 to making the Pro Bowl in 2009. In Shula's first year with the Jaguars, Garrard ranked third in the NFL with a 102.2 passer rating - an almost 23-point improvement from the previous season - threw an NFL-low three interceptions and established a team record with a 64.0 completion percentage.

After posting career highs for attempts (535), completions (335) and yards (3,620) in 2008, Garrard capped the 2009 campaign with a Pro Bowl appearance. Last year under Shula's guidance, Garrard came through in the clutch by finishing second in the NFL with a fourth-quarter passer rating of 108.3 and directing five game-winning drives.

From 2003-06, Shula compiled a 26-23 record as head coach at Alabama and led the Crimson Tide to three consecutive bowl games. While at Alabama, he mentored quarterback Brodie Croyle, who holds school career records for attempts, completions and yards and was a third-round draft choice by the Kansas City Chiefs in 2006.

Before returning to his alma mater as head coach, Shula coached the Miami Dolphins quarterbacks for three seasons from 2000-02. It marked his second stint with the team, previously serving as a coaching assistant for two years from 1991-92. During Shula's tenure as Dolphins quarterbacks coach, Jay Fiedler became just the second quarterback in franchise history to pass for more than 3,000 yards with 3,290 in 2001.

In addition to Shula's work as a quarterbacks coach, he presided over the Tampa Bay Buccaneers offense as offensive coordinator for four seasons from 1996-99. The Buccaneers reached the playoffs in two of Shula's four years, advancing to the NFC Championship in 1999. Shula helped quarterback Trent Dilfer earn Pro Bowl honors in 1997 when he set then-team records for touchdowns and most consecutive pass attempts without an interception.

Shula joined the Buccaneers from the Chicago Bears, where he handled tight ends for three seasons from 1993-95. He broke into coaching as an offensive assistant for Tampa Bay in 1988 and was promoted to quarterbacks coach in 1990. As the Buccaneers' quarterbacks coach, Shula tutored Vinny Testaverde.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A two-time All-Southeastern Conference choice at quarterback for Alabama from 1984-86, Shula completed 298-of-552 passes for 3,881 yards and 33 touchdowns with 30 interceptions and finished his career with a 32-15-1 record as a starter. He was selected by Tampa Bay in the 12th round of the 1987 NFL Draft and spent part of the season on the Buccaneers' roster. Shula and his wife, Shari, have three daughters: Sam, Brooke and Ryan.

COACHING: Scott Turner takes on his first professional coaching assignment as the Panthers offensive quality control coach. In his role, he breaks down vast amounts of information and analyzes opponents' statistical tendencies to assist the coaches in their offensive preparations.

Turner comes to Carolina from the University of Pittsburgh, where he spent three seasons working under head coach Dave Wannstedt. Promoted to wide receivers coach in 2010, Turner helped Jon Baldwin earn All-Big East first-team honors and contributed to the Panthers co-conference championship team. Baldwin was also selected in the first round of the NFL Draft by Kansas City. In his first two years with the program, Turner was an offensive assistant.

He joined the Pittsburgh staff in 2008 following two years on the prep level at South County Secondary School in Lorton, Va. Turner began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Oregon State in 2005.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A three-year letterman at Nevada-Las Vegas from 2002-04, Turner graduated with a degree in psychology. He served as a reserve quarterback for the Rebels as a junior and senior, completing 5-of-14 passes for 43 yards, and played on special teams as a sophomore after being redshirted as a freshman. Turner is the son of San Diego Chargers head coach Norv Turner.

HISTORY: Quarterback: Nevada-Las Vegas 2002-04. College coach: Oregon State 2005, Pittsburgh 2008-10. Pro coach: Joined Panthers in 2011.

COACHING: Eric Washington blends his youthful energy and abundant experience as a coach on the pro and college levels in his role teaching the Panthers' young defensive line. He spent the last three years with the Chicago Bears.

Elevated to defensive line coach in 2010, Washington presided over a group that accounted for 25 of the team's 34 sacks and helped the Bears rank ninth in the NFL in total defense, second in rushing defense and fourth in scoring defense. Along the defensive line, he coached Pro Bowler Julius Peppers and end Israel Idonije, who tied for the team lead with eight sacks each.

Washington worked the previous two seasons as Chicago's defensive assistant/assistant defensive line coach. He gained his first professional coaching experience by twice participating in the NFL's Minority Internship Program, assisting with the Bears defensive line during training camp in 2005 and aiding the Atlanta Falcons linebackers during training camp in 2004.

From 2004-07, Washington served as the defensive line coach at Northwestern. With the Wildcats, he developed several pro prospects. End Luis Castillo was selected in the first round by the San Diego Chargers in 2005, and tackle Barry Cofield was chosen in the fourth round by the New York Giants in 2006. Washington also tutored end Corey Wootton, who garnered honorable mention All-Big Ten recognition as a freshman and was drafted in the fourth round by the Bears in 2010.

Before his arrival at Northwestern, Washington oversaw the defensive line and kickoff coverage team at Ohio for three seasons from 2001-03. He began his college coaching career at Texas A&M as a graduate assistant in 1997.

A tireless worker, who investigates every possibility in his quest to improve the Panthers, Marty Hurney is in his 10th season as general manager of Carolina. During that time the Panthers have made three playoff appearances, won an NFC championship, two NFC South titles, and played in two NFC Championship games and a Super Bowl. Until last season, the Panthers were one of only four teams (now two) to avoid a double digit losing season since 2002.

With the arrival of new head coach Ron Rivera and one of the youngest rosters in the NFL, the Panthers will again try to reach the League's upper echelon where they have been under Hurney.

Three Panthers were in the Pro Bowl last season as linebacker Jon Beason, center Ryan Kalil, and tackle Jordan Gross made appearances in the all-star contest. Carolina's top two running backs, DeAngelo Wiilliams and Jonathan Stewart, are regarded among the best in pro football and the third, Mike Goodson, rushed for 100 yards in two of his three starts when Williams and Stewart were sidelined.

All were drafted under Hurney, who has put together a string of successful first round selections since assuming his responsibilities in 2002. Gross was the first choice and he has developed into one of the premier tackles in the League. Cornerback Chris Gamble, second in team history in interceptions, followed a year later and then came linebacker Thomas Davis, Williams, Beason, Stewart, and tackle Jeff Otah in the first round.

Hurney has also shown an imagination and ability to multiply picks to strengthen the Panthers roster. In 2007 he traded Carolina's 11th overall pick in the first round to New York for the Jets 25th overall first round choice and their second round pick. The Panthers then took Beason with the first round choice and Kalil with the second round choice and both have played in the Pro Bowl.

It is a resume that has brought favorable notice to Hurney, who was second in NFL Executive of the Year balloting in 2003 and recognized by Forbes.com as one of the top 10 executives in professional sports in 2007. A year earlier FoxSports.com had given him the same honor. Most recently, a The Sporting News poll ranked Hurney third among the League's general managers for first round value in the draft, ranking only behind Baltimore's Ozzie Newsome and the Colts' Bill Polian.

The ability to find value has not been limited to the draft under Hurney. Veteran free agent signings have included quarterback Jake Delhomme, running back Stephen Davis, wide receiver Ricky Proehl and linebacker Mark Fields.

The Panthers have compiled a 78-74 overall record since his appointment in 2002 after going 20-44 the previous four years. Between 2002 and 2009, the Panthers had the seventh most wins in the NFL.

The respect he has earned in the League was reflected in his appointment to the NFL General Managers Advisory Committee, which provides feedback to the Football Operations department headed by Ray Anderson.

Despite his success, Hurney is still more comfortable behind the scenes. It was that management style owner Jerry Richardson saw in Hurney when he promoted him to general manager. The promotion was the culmination of a 15-year NFL apprenticeship under some of the game's most astute coaches and executives, and Hurney has demonstrated that the lessons were well-learned.

Hurney joined the Panthers in 1998 from the San Diego Chargers and managed the salary cap under head coaches Dom Capers and George Seifert. As general manager, Hurney oversees the salary cap while coordinating the different areas of football operations with Rivera and the team's college and pro scouting departments.

Hurney first caught the eye of former Washington Redskins owner Jack Kent Cooke as a reporter covering the team's championship runs in the 1980s. Developing an association with Cooke, head coach Joe Gibbs and general manager Bobby Beathard, Hurney joined the Redskins public relations department in 1988. In 1990, Hurney moved with Beathard to San Diego, serving as the general manager's assistant with responsibilities that included organizing the scouting department and player contracts and overseeing the day-to-day football administration.

With the advent of the salary cap in 1993, Hurney emerged as the club's specialist in compliance management to the agreement, while earning distinction as both an administrator and negotiator, and played an integral role in San Diego's AFC Championship in 1994. Applying the lessons he has learned over the years under some of the game's most successful leaders, Hurney has become a proven leader himself.

A native of Wheaton, Md., Hurney graduated from Catholic University in Washington, D.C. and began his career as a journalist with the Montgomery Journal in Silver Spring, Md. In 1978, he moved to the Washington Star and worked on that paper for three years before going to the Washington Times, where he spent five years as a beat writer covering the Redskins. Born December 20, 1955, Marty and his wife, Jeannie, have two sons, Joe and James, and live in Charlotte.

Don Gregory was named Director of College Scouting for the Panthers during the summer of 2006 and his impact is visible throughout the Carolina lineup. Two players from Gregory's first draft, linebacker Jon Beason and center Ryan Kalil, have played in Pro Bowls. Beason has twice set a team record for tackles in a season and played in two Pro Bowls. Jonathan Stewart, one of two number one selections from his second draft, broke every team rookie rushing record while the other, tackle Jeff Otah, has paved the way in Carolina's record setting ground game.

Gregory is so diligent in his quest to uncover the best talent that he chooses to live in Dallas, where accessibility to the country's colleges is seldom more than a two-hour flight away.

Each fall and spring he sees approximately 300 players, stretching from coast-to-coast in a routine reminiscent of Groundhog Day. It's a schedule that has taken him to Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Alabama, South Carolina, Louisiana, Florida, Texas and California in a 10-day period.

However, searching the country for talent is not something that is new to Gregory, who chose scouting over coaching following a successful college playing career.

"I made that choice largely because of a scout named Gene Bates, who had scouted me when I was in college and became my mentor," says Gregory. "I went into high school coaching for eight years after playing, and Gene was instrumental in my transition into scouting as well as my development there."

Starting with a personnel position with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League, Gregory began his climb up the pro ladder. He worked with the Eskimos from 1986-1990 before going to the World League of American Football to scout the northwest for the San Antonio Riders in 1990 and 1991. Gregory returned to Edmonton in 1992 and remained there until moving to the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the CFL for two years.

Gregory moved to the National Football League in 1995 as a scout with the San Diego Chargers and remained with the team until 1999. While at San Diego, he worked with Panthers general manager Marty Hurney, who was managing the salary cap.

In 2001 a move to the Las Vegas Outlaws of the XFL as Director of Player Personnel took Gregory out of the NFL, but he soon returned as a member of the Kansas City Chiefs scouting department. With the Chiefs, he served as a national scout in the south and southeast for five years.

Familiar with his work ethic and dedication to his profession, Hurney tabbed Gregory four years ago to become the Panthers director of college scouting. However, Gregory chose to keep his home in Dallas rather than move to Charlotte.

"I guess I've made my name in this business by being a grinder and that involves a lot of travel," explains Gregory. "I try to set an example by being on the road myself, and it helps you understand the issues scouts experience. Dallas is pretty centrally located in the middle of the country, so I can go east or west and be pretty much any where within a few hours."

A native of Pearl City, Hawaii, Don moved to Great Falls, Montana in the sixth grade and played college football at Wenatchee Valley College in 1974 and 1975 before transferring in 1976 to Portland State, where he played in the "run and shoot" offense of coach Mouse Davis and quarterback June Jones. Gregory finished his college career at Whitworth College, where he received a bachelor's of science degree in 1979. He then coached high school football in Washington before joining the Eskimos.

Mark Koncz is an integral part of the Panthers success as Director of Pro Scouting, annually providing a steady stream of veteran talent to the team's roster. The ability of Koncz to discover available talent has paid dividends year after year, whether as an offseason acquisition or an in-season waiver wire pickup.

Punter Jason Baker has been a mainstay since coming in a trade along with free agent signing Tyler Brayton along the defensive line. They join a long list that includes Stephen Davis, Ricky Proehl, Mark Fields, Brandon Short, Rodney Peete, Brentson Buckner, Terry Cousin, Marlon McCree, Al Wallace, Mike Wahle and Chris Harris. Free agent signee Jake Delhomme became the winningest quarterback in team history.

The ability of Koncz and his staff was put to the ultimate test in the Panthers injury-plagued season of 2004. Carolina reached midseason with 14 players on injured reserve, leaving the pro personnel department with the challenge of finding replacements. Several of those late arrivals played instrumental roles in the team's second-half rally and reinforced Koncz's reputation for finding talent in a variety of ways.

Year after year, his recommendations have turned out to be blue chips. In 2003 it was a trio of veteran free agent finds -- Davis, who set a club rushing record with 1,444 yards, Delhomme and Proehl, the big play wide receiver who helped propel the Panthers to the NFC Championship and Super Bowl.

Sorting through the free agent pool to find the right fit for the Panthers is nothing new for Koncz. In 2002, five free agent finds proved vital in Carolina's rebound during head coach John Fox's first season. Peete started at quarterback for all seven victories, Lamar Smith was the team's leading rusher, Fields led the team in tackles, Cousin was a starting cornerback and Wallace provided invaluable depth at defensive end.

The work of Koncz and his staff also resulted in the signing of guard Kevin Donnalley and Buckner at defensive tackle, both starters on the 2003 Super Bowl team. The pro personnel department is constantly evaluating NFL rosters in preparation for a need, and their time has been well spent. Whether waiver acquisitions such as Rod Smart or former starter Reggie Howard, high profile free agents such as Davis or unknown talents such as Delhomme, it is Koncz's job to be ready to fill a need. When an injury creates that need at a moment's notice, the pro personnel department must be ready to respond with recommendations.

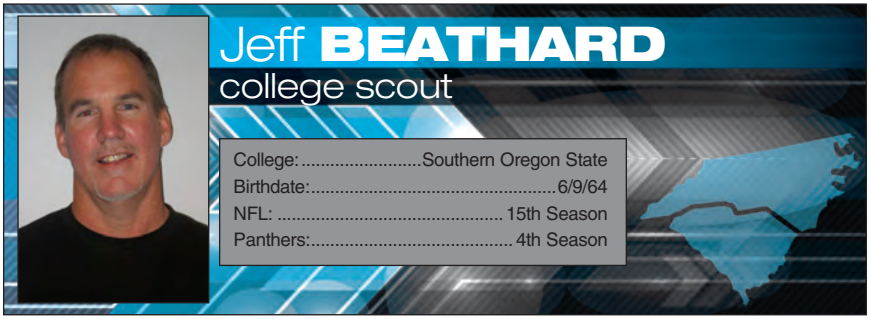

Koncz has been scouring for hidden gems since 1998 when he joined the scouting department. He was named the Panthers director of pro scouting after working as the Panthers manager of football operations. In addition to his work of player evaluations throughout the NFL, he coordinates the advance scouting of opponents.

Koncz is a 1990 graduate of the University of Kansas, where he was a three-year letterman and three-year starter for the Jayhawks, serving as team captain his senior season. He earned a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University in 1993 and joined the Panthers in July, 1994, starting in the ticket department. A native of Chicago, Ill., Koncz is a graduate of Barrington HS. He and his wife, Yvette, live in Fort Mill, S.C., and have a daughter, Milena, and a son, Nolan.

Matt began his career with the Carolina Panthers in 2000 helping the equipment manager with all facets of operation. Matt graduated from Elon University, where he earned a bachelor's degree in Leisure and Sports Management. In 2004, he graduated from Myers Park High School in Charlotte, N.C. Born October 9, 1986, Matt and his wife Martha live in Charlotte.

Jeff began his NFL scouting career with the Los Angeles Rams in May of 1992 through 1994. He moved to the San Diego Chargers scouting department from 1994-2002 and scouted for the Hamilton Tigercats from 2003-05.

Jeff attended Towson State University from 1983-85, starting at running back as a sophomore and junior before transferring to Southern Oregon State College as a senior.

Jeff was the 333rd overall and final pick by the Los Angeles Rams in the 1988 draft, becoming "Mr. Irrelevant," in a year when the selection process lasted 12 rounds. He spent a season with the CFL's Winnipeg Blue Bombers before beginning his career in football administration.

Jeff graduated from Oakton (Vienna, Va.) HS, where he played football, baseball and ran track. He was All-District, Region and All-State in football and played in the Virginia all-star game as a senior. Born June 9, 1964, Jeff has three children, Kylee, Jeffrey, Jr. and Jake, and lives in Catlett, Va.

1 New York Giants 31, Carolina 18

September 12, 2010 - New Meadowlands Stadium - East Rutherford, NJ

The Carolina Panthers first half offense was highlighted by three John Kasay field goals from 21, 52 and 43 yards. The Giants answered Kasay's field goals by claiming a 14-9 lead when wide receiver Hakeem Nicks scored his second touchdown of the game with just 45 seconds left in the half. The Panthers rallied in the dying seconds when running back Mike Goodson returned the ensuing kickoff to midfield and quarterback Matt Moore led them down the field hitting on 4-of-5 passes to close the half, capped by a 19-yard touchdown to Steve Smith. The lead didn't last long into the second half as the Giants jumped ahead on Lawrence Tynes' 31-yard field goal to open the third quarter. New York then extended their lead on Nicks' third touchdown catch on the next drive—a 5-yarder from Eli Manning. Early in the fourth quarter, the Giants virtually put the game away when Ahmad Bradshaw scored on a 4-yard scamper. The final score of the game came when Carolina defensive end Greg Hardy blocked a Matt Dodge punt that trickled out of the back of the end zone for a safety with just under four minutes left in the game.

2 Tampa Bay 20, Carolina 7

September 19, 2010 - Bank of America Stadium - Charlotte

Quarterback Josh Freeman and the Buccaneers converted five of the six times they faced third down with nine or more yards to go and as a result Tampa Bay improved to 2-0 while dropping the Panthers to 0-2. The Carolina defense held the Buccaneers to 273 yards and 14 first downs, but it couldn't stop the Buccaneers when it mattered most. Tampa Bay took the lead when, on its second drive of the day, Freeman found Earnest Graham out of the backfield wide open for a 14-yard score. Following a Steve Smith touchdown catch, Tampa Bay retook the lead thanks to another pair of third-down conversions. Freeman hit Winslow for an 8-yard gain on third and 6, then, on third and 17, Freeman escaped near sacks by Charles Johnson and Eric Norwood before connecting with Winslow down the right sideline for a 40-yard gain. On the next snap, Freeman hit rookie Mike Williams open on the right sideline, and Williams found a seam down the middle, for a 35-yard score and a 14-7 lead midway through the second quarter. Carolina's defense held Tampa Bay to two field goals the rest of the way, but the Panthers offense couldn't solve the Bucs defense. Carolina made a switch at quarterback to Jimmy Clausen with 10 minutes left. The offense marched 78 yards on 18 plays on Clausen's initial drive but still came up short, as the Buccaneers all but sealed the outcome by stopping running back Jonathan Stewart on fourth down from the one-yard line.

3 Cincinnati 20, Carolina 7

September 26, 2010 - Bank of America Stadium - Charlotte

The Panthers mustered 267 yards of total offense and seven points for the second consecutive game in a 20-7 loss to the Cincinnati Bengals. The Panthers defense provided a spark early when cornerback Captain Munnerlyn intercepted quarterback Carson Palmer on the game's opening drive. Three plays later, quarterback Jimmy Clausen fumbled the snap and it was recovered by Bengals safety Roy Williams for the first of the Panthers three turnovers. Later in the first quarter, Panthers safety Charles Godfrey intercepted another Palmer pass and returned it all the way to Cincinnati's 21-yard line. Again, the Panthers were unable to capitalize on the turnover when just one play later, Clausen was picked off by Bengals cornerback Leon Hall. The Bengals dominated time of possession and field position to overcome numerous mistakes of their own. Running back Cedric Benson rushed for 81 yards on 27 attempts, and Palmer threw for 195 yards with two interceptions. The Bengals held the ball for 30:22 through the first three quarters, aided by an average drive start at their 38. Carolina was backed up to its 24 on average. On the Panthers scoring drive, Clausen led the team 75-yards midway through the third quarter including a 15-yard run by DeAngelo Williams.

4 New Orleans 16, Carolina 14

October 3, 2010 - Louisiana Superdome - New Orleans, LA

John Carney kicked three field goals, including the game-winning 25-yarder with 3:55 left in the fourth quarter, as New Orleans escaped with a 16-14 decision over Carolina at the Superdome. Drew Brees finished 33-of-48 for 275 yards and a touchdown to Lance Moore, while Ladell Betts notched 47 yards on 13 carries in place of the injured Pierre Thomas. Jimmy Clausen was 11-of-21 for 146 yards and a score for the Panthers, who hadn't opened up the season with four losses in a row since going 0-7 to start the 1998 season. DeAngelo Williams posted 86 yards, including a 39-yard touchdown, on 13 carries and Jonathan Stewart added a 55-yard TD reception in defeat. The Saints forged ahead by a 16-14 count inside of four minutes left in the fourth quarter as Carney was able to make a 25-yard attempt from the right hashmark. The kick capped an 18-play, 86-yard drive which consumed almost 9 ½ minutes. Brees converted a pair of third downs on the march, the first to David Thomas for six yards on 3rd-and-6 from his own 15, and the second a seven-yard strike to Robert Meachem on 3rd-and 6 from the Carolina 25. A facemask penalty on the kickoff gave Carolina the ball on its own 28. Stewart picked up a first down with a four-yard run on 3rd-and-2 from the 36, and a review upheld a 16-yard completion to David Gettis on a 4th-and-4 from the 46 with 1:53 to play. However a 4th-and-16 at the Saints' 44 with eight seconds to go fell incomplete, and Brees took a knee to run out the remaining time.

5 Chicago 23, Carolina 6

October 10, 2010 - Bank of America Stadium - Charlotte

Matt Forte rushed for 166 yards and two touchdowns leading Chicago to a 23-6 victory over Carolina. Danieal Manning's 62-yard return of the opening kickoff set up the Bears in Carolina territory. Forte then accounted for 33 of the 38 yards separating Chicago from the end zone, punctuated by an 18-yard touchdown run. The Panthers answered with a nine-play drive that featured nothing but running plays – including a 23-yarder from DeAngelo Williams and a 24-yarder from Jonathan Stewart to set up John Kasay for a 24-yard field goal. The Bears, however, responded with Forte scampering 68 yards on their next snap from scrimmage. Just like that, the Panthers were in a 14-3 hole. Carolina's next drive ended quickly at the hands of defensive end Julius Peppers, who tipped a Jimmy Clausen pass then lunged off the ground to pick it off. That set up a 28-yard Robbie Gould field goal for a 17-3 lead. After the Panthers gained 60 yards of offense on their opening possession to set up a field goal, they totaled 23 yards over the rest of the first half. Carolina's defense was dominating at times, forcing Bears quarterback Todd Collins to throw four interceptions over the course of six possessions and notching a season-high three sacks, but the Panthers mustered just three points off the turnovers. Carolina became the first NFL team since 1999 to start rookies at quarterback and both wide receiver spots when Clausen started at quarterback with David Gettis and Brandon LaFell starting at wide receiver.

6 Carolina 23, San Francisco 20

October 24, 2010 - Bank of America Stadium - Charlotte

John Kasay kicked a 37-yard field goal with 29 seconds remaining to give Carolina a 23-20 come-from-behind victory over the San Francisco 49ers. The 49ers started fast scoring a touchdown on their opening possession when quarterback Alex Smith found tight end Vernon Davis from one-yard out to give San Francisco a 7-0 lead. Carolina responded with the first of three Kasay field goals, this one from 47-yards, to cut the lead to 7-3. Carolina found the endzone for the first time in the second quarter when Moore hooked up with Gettis for an 18-yard touchdown strike to tie the game at 10. Kasay boomed a 55-yard field goal to give the Panthers a 13-10 edge early in the second half. San Francisco tied it, then took the lead early in the fourth quarter when Moore's lone notable mistake of the day – a screen pass gone bad – turned into a 31-yard touchdown return for defensive tackle Ray McDonald. After the interception, Carolina marched 40 yards on six plays to the 49ers 16-yard line, but Gettis couldn't hold onto a fourth-down pass in the end zone that would have tied the game. The duo, however, got one more chance. With Carolina trailing 20-13 late in the fourth quarter, Moore directed the Panthers downfield before throwing a 23-yard lob to Gettis to tie it at 20-20 with 1:53 to play. San Francisco tried to answer, relying on backup and former Carolina quarterback David Carr nearly the entire second half after Alex Smith suffered a shoulder injury. Carr, however, couldn't get the ball to receiver Michael Crabtree, and cornerback Richard Marshall picked it off to give the Panthers the ball at their own 43 with 1:08 left. On the Panthers' first snap, Moore hit Brandon LaFell, who totaled six catches for 91 yards, on a 35-yard reception that put Carolina in field goal range, and Kasay booted it through with 39 seconds to win the game.

7 St. Louis 20, Carolina 10

October 31, 2010 - Edward Jones Dome - St. Louis, MO

Carolina turned the ball over four times, leading to 10 St. Louis points that proved to be the difference as the Panthers fell to the Rams 20-10. After a scoreless first quarter, St. Louis struck first with a 33-yard field goal by Josh Brown with just over 10 minutes to go in the half. After a Panthers three-and-out, the Rams struck again, this time with a 2-yard pass from Sam Bradford to Danny Amendola giving St. Louis the 10-0 lead. Carolina cut into that lead with just 42 seconds left in the half with a 44-yard field goal by John Kasay making the score 10-3 entering halftime. Another scoreless quarter passed, but soon into the fourth quarter Bradford connected with Daniel Fells for a 23-yard score to widen their lead to 17-3. The Rams added to that total just four minutes later when Brown nailed another field goal, this one for 41 yards giving them the 20-3 lead. The Panthers showed a few signs of a comeback late in the 4th quarter when quarterback Matt Moore hooked up with rookie wide receiver Brandon LaFell for a 17-yard score. The strike was LaFell's first career touchdown. However, the comeback effort was halted after a failed onside kick and another Panthers turnover on their last drive of the game, finalizing the score at 20-10.

8 New Orleans 34, Carolina 3

November 7, 2010 - Bank of America Stadium - Charlotte

The Panthers were able to convert a 66-yard interception return by cornerback Richard Marshall in to three points on their opening drive, but failed to put up any more points the rest of the game as they fell to the Saints 34-3. Saints quarterback Drew Brees completed 27 of 43 pass attempts for 253 yards with two touchdowns and one interception and the Saints running backs dashed for 149 yards on the ground in the victory. On the first play from scrimmage, Saints' running back Julius Jones scampered 54 yards to put New Orleans in scoring position. However, the drive was foiled by a Brees pass that tipped off wide receiver Robert Meachem's hands and into the waiting arms of Marshall who ran it all the way back to the Saints 28-yard line. Six plays later, John Kasay split the uprights on a 20-yard field goal for the Panthers first and only score of the afternoon. The Panthers next drive was cut short because of a fumble by Jonathan Stewart which was recovered by defensive end Alex Brown in Saints territory. New Orleans took advantage of the good field position scoring on a 7-yard strike from Brees to tight end Jeremy Shockey. The Panthers were able to keep the game close until just under three minutes left in the first half when Brees connected with tight end Jimmy Graham for a 19-yard touchdown. New Orleans would tack on three more points before the half ended, sending the Saints into the half with a 17-3 lead. During the first half, Carolina was crippled by injury, losing quarterback Matt Moore and middle linebacker Dan Connor for the remainder of the game. The Saints notched another 17 points in the second half, including a 24-yard interception return of a Jimmy Clausen pass for a touchdown by cornerback Jabari Greer.

9 Tampa Bay 31, Carolina 16

November 14, 2010 - Raymond James Stadium - Tampa, FL

Panthers running back Mike Goodson totaled 100 yards rushing on 29 carries in relief of injured DeAngelo Williams and Jonathan Stewart, but his effort wasn't enough as the Tampa Bay Buccaneers offense produced 31 points and the Panthers fell to the Bucs 31-16. Goodson's performance was the first time in the 2010 season any Panthers running back had crossed the 100-yard plateau. The Carolina offense started off slowly on their first drive when Goodson fumbled the ball on the Carolina 47 and it was recovered by safety Sean Jones. Four plays later, Tampa quarterback Josh Freeman connected with wide receiver Arrelious Benn for an 8-yard score and a 7-0 Bucs lead. The Panthers responded with three points of their own at the end of the first quarter when John Kasay split the uprights on a 46-yard field goal attempt. Tampa found the end zone again on their first drive of the second quarter thanks to a 17-yard scamper by running back LeGarrette Blount. On the ensuing drive, the Panthers were helped out by a muffed punt by cornerback Elbert Mack which was recovered by Dante Rosario. Later in the drive, Panthers running back Josh Vaughan scored from two yards out to cut Tampa's lead to 14-10. Their lead was extended though just before halftime when Freeman hooked up with tight end Kellen Winslow for a 20-yard touchdown, making the score 21-10 at the break. Tampa tacked on 10 more points in the second half and Kasay notched two more field goals from 28 and 48 yards for the final score.

10 Baltimore 37, Carolina 13

November 21, 2010 - Bank of America Stadium - Charlotte

Ravens quarterback Joe Flacco completed 24-of-33 passes for 301 yards, including a 56-yard touchdown to T.J. Houshmandzadeh on the second play from scrimmage to lead Baltimore to a 37-16 victory over Carolina. Panthers quarterback Brian St. Pierre got his first career start and completed 13-of-28 passes for 173 yards and one touchdown. After the touchdown by Houshmandzadeh and a stalled drive by the Panthers, the Ravens marched 84 yards on 13 plays but Carolina kept them out of the end zone as the long drive resulted in just a field goal giving Baltimore the 10-0 lead after one quarter. Panthers kicker John Kasay tacked on a field goal of his own on the ensuing drive, cutting the lead back to seven. On the same drive, the Panthers were put into field goal range thanks to a 45-yard scamper by Mike Goodson who notched his second consecutive 100-yard rushing game. Later in the second quarter, Baltimore crossed the goal line again on a 1-yard run by Ray Rice, increasing their lead to 17-3 entering the half. The two teams exchanged field goals early in the second half. The Panthers offense showed life just two plays into the fourth quarter when St. Pierre tossed an 88-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver David Gettis to cut the Ravens lead to seven. The pass tied the second longest reception in franchise history. Unfortunately, seven points would be the closest Carolina got the remainder of the game. The Ravens tacked on one more field goal and two interception returns for touchdowns in a span of 11 seconds finalizing the score at 37-13.

11 Cleveland 24, Carolina 23

November 28, 2010 - Cleveland Browns Stadium - Cleveland, OH

Phil Dawson's 41-yard field goal late in the fourth quarter, coupled with John Kasay's miss of a 42-yard effort as time expired, helped the Cleveland Browns earn a 24-23 win over the Carolina Panthers. Jake Delhomme, playing against his former team after spending the previous seven years in Carolina, finished 24-of-35 passing for 245 yards, but threw a pair of interceptions – one returned for a touchdown by Captain Munnerlyn. Peyton Hillis rushed for 131 yards and three scores, and caught six passes for 63 yards in the victory. Jimmy Clausen returned to the lineup after sitting out the previous game with a concussion and connected on 16-of-28 passes for 195 yards and an interception and Jonathan Stewart ran for 98 yards on 12 carries for the Panthers, who dropped five in a row since winning their only game of the season against San Francisco on October 24. Kasay booted three field goals in defeat. After Dawson booted the go-ahead field goal with 2:42 left, Joe Haden picked off Clausen at the Cleveland 44 and returned it inside Carolina territory at the 44. The Browns then called three straight run plays with Hillis, causing the Panthers to spend all three time outs. Reggie Hodges' punt pinned Carolina back to its own five with 59 seconds to play. However, a 32-yard catch-and-run by Mike Goodson moved the ball to the 48 with 12 seconds to go. Clausen then hit Brandon LaFell for a 28-yard gain to the 24 and after a replay confirmed the catch, Kasay came on and hit the left upright as time expired.

12 Seattle 31, Carolina 14

December 5, 2010 - Qwest Field - Seattle, WA

Marshawn Lynch scored a career-high three touchdowns, including two during a 21-point third quarter, as the Seahawks erased a double-digit deficit in a 31-14 victory over the Carolina Panthers. Lynch ran 21 times for 83 yards and Seattle allowed the first 14 points of the contest before coming back with 31 unanswered points to win. Matt Hasselbeck threw for 229 yards on 17-of-30 passes and was intercepted twice. Carolina gained an early 7-0 lead after a six-yard touchdown run by Mike Goodson capped a 61-yard, 10 play drive. The Panthers doubled their lead early in the second with a 10-play, 79-yard march to the end zone that finished when Jonathan Stewart scored from three yards away for a 14-point advantage. Carolina led 14-3, at halftime, but couldn't hold the momentum in the third quarter. The Seahawks began their first drive of the second half at the four-yard line after a muffed kickoff, but drove the length of the field in nine plays. On 3rd-and-goal from the one, Lynch ran into the end zone to close the gap at 14-10. The Panthers' ensuing series ended up giving the Seahawks the lead. On 3rd- and-1 from the Carolina 27, Lofa Tatupu intercepted Clausen and sprinted 26 yards for the go-ahead touchdown with 9 ½ minutes left. Carolina was unable to muster much offense when it got the ball back again and punted to Leon Washington who returned the ball to the two-yard line. Lynch scored two plays later to extend the lead to 24-14. The Panthers, who had just 88 yards of offense in the second half, gained only four first downs in the last 30 minutes. Lynch's 22-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter capped off the scoring. Stewart ran for 92 yards and a touchdown for the Panthers in defeat.

13 Atlanta 31, Carolina 10

December 12, 2010 - Bank of America Stadium - Charlotte

Michael Turner ran for three touchdowns and Matt Ryan completed 20-of-34 passes for 227 yards with one touchdown in the Atlanta Falcons 31-10 victory over the Carolina Panthers at Bank of America Stadium. Jonathan Stewart carried the ball 18 times for 133 yards and Mike Goodson added 70 yards on the ground for the Panthers. Carolina quarterback Jimmy Clausen connected on 14-of-24 tosses for 107 yards. The Falcons jumped on the Panthers early after Stewart lost a fumble on the game's first offensive snap. Atlanta cornerback Dunta Robinson recovered the ball at the Carolina 29, and the Falcons converted the turnover into a four-yard touchdown pass from Ryan to Tony Gonzalez. Atlanta wide receiver Harry Douglas then hauled in a 46-yard pass along the left sideline to set up Turner's one-yard touchdown run that extended the Falcons' lead to 14-0 with 6:51 remaining in the first quarter. Trailing 17-0 after Matt Bryant made a 39-yard field goal in the second frame, Carolina, which totaled only 33 yards and two first downs through the first half, reached the end zone on its opening possession of the third quarter. Goodson capped the five-play, 81-yard drive with a 13-yard dash. Atlanta's lead grew to 24-7 when Turner punched it in from three yards out with less than five minutes to play in the third. John Kasay kicked a 36-yard field goal for Carolina early in the fourth quarter before Turner finished the scoring with a four-yard run.

14 Carolina 19, Arizona 12

December 19, 2010 - Bank of America Stadium - Charlotte

In a matchup of rookie quarterbacks, John Kasay kicked four field goals and the Panthers beat the Arizona Cardinals 19-12 on Sunday to snap a seven-game losing streak. Panthers quarterback Jimmy Clausen threw his second touchdown pass of the season in his first win in eight starts. Jonathan Stewart rushed for 137 yards and the Panthers held the Cardinals to 43 yards rushing. In his second start, Cardinals quarterback John Skelton threw an interception and lost a fumble as Arizona mustered 218 yards total yards. Clausen completed 13-of-19 passes for 141 yards and no turnovers and got the Panthers off to a quick start. Leading 6-0, the Panthers caught a break when Skelton threw a pass into double coverage toward tight end Stephen Spach that was intercepted by Sherrod Martin. On the next play, Clausen found an open Jeff King for a 16-yard touchdown. Skelton, a fifth-round pick from Fordham, threw one interception and lost a fumble, completing 17 of 33 passes for 196 yards. The Cardinals, who entered the day mathematically alive in the weak NFC West, got within 19-9 when Steve Breaston recovered teammate Tim Hightower's fumble in the end zone with 5:41 left. The 2-point conversion failed. Arizona got a late field goal with 54 seconds left, but Carolina recovered the onside kick.

15 Pittsburgh 27, Carolina 3

December 23, 2010 - Heinz Field - Pittsburgh, PA

Ben Roethlisberger passed for 320 yards and a touchdown and rushed for another score, leading Pittsburgh to a 27-3 victory over the Carolina Panthers. Steelers kicker Shaun Suisham's 26-yard field goal gave the Steelers a 3-0 lead on their first series of the game, but only after a would-be touchdown catch by Emmanuel Sanders in the front of the end zone was ruled an incomplete pass. Pittsburgh took a 10-0 lead after cornerback Bryant McFadden intercepted Panthers quarterback Jimmy Clausen and receiver Mike Wallace caught a short five-yard pass and stretched it an extra 38 yards down the middle of the field for the score. Clausen completed 10-of-23 passes for 72 yards and Jonathan Stewart ran for 71 yards in the loss. Roethlisberger completed 22 of his 32 passes, including the 43-yard touchdown throw to Wallace in the second quarter. Wallace had four catches for 104 yards and Rashard Mendenhall rushed for 65 yards and a touchdown. Tight end Heath Miller led all receivers with five catches for 73 yards, including a 20-yard grab that helped set up Pittsburgh's first points. Suisham booted a 29-yard field goal to make it 20-0, but Pittsburgh was unable to capitalize when Carolina fumbled the ensuing kickoff. Suisham missed wide-right on 41-yarder at the end of the half. A short Carolina punt and 22-yard pass interference penalty led to Roethlisberger's one-yard keeper for a touchdown and a 27-0 Steelers lead with five minutes left in the third quarter. The Panthers got their only points from John Kasay's 27-yard field goal in the fourth quarter.

16 Atlanta 31, Carolina 10

January 2, 2011 - Georgia Dome - Atlanta, GA

Matt Ryan completed 22-of-32 passes for 236 yards and threw a pair of touchdown passes, as the Atlanta Falcons beat the Carolina Panthers 31-10. Jimmy Clausen connected on 19-of-33 passes for 182 yards, a touchdown and an interception for the Panthers. The Falcons took control from the start, as their first possession lasted 10 plays and covered 77 yards. The drive was capped when Ryan rolled to his left and hit Gonzalez in the end zone for a six-yard score. Atlanta was marching down the field on its next possession, but Turner fumbled the football and C.J. Wilson recovered the ball at the three-yard line for Carolina. The Panthers were forced to punt after a three-and-out, and Atlanta punt returner Eric Weems returned the punt 55-yards for a touchdown. Early in the second quarter, Atlanta decided to go for it on 4th-and-3 from the four-yard line. The Panthers defense stiffened and Ryan's pass to White was incomplete. The Panthers failed to capitalize, however, as Mike Goodson fumbled at the Atlanta 25-yard line. The Falcons faced a 4th-and-1 from the Carolina 26, but the Carolina defense stood strong again and Ryan's quarterback sneak came up short. White caught a 14-yard pass near the right pylon on the Falcons next possesion to make it 21-0 at the half. The Panthers got the ball to start the second half and used a 60-yard end-around run by Brandon LaFell to get into Atlanta territory. John Kasay put Carolina on the board with a 23-yard field goal. Carolina tried an onside kick, but Atlanta recovered at the 45. Matt Bryant kicked a 47-yard field goal to make it a 24-3 game with 9:46 left. Dunta Robinson then picked off Clausen near midfield. The Falcons used the ground game to run time off the clock and Turner rumbled into the end zone for a 31-3 margin with two minutes remaining. With the game well in hand, Chris Redman took over at quarterback for Atlanta in the fourth quarter. Jeff King caught a two-yard TD pass with 23 seconds remaining to account for the final margin.

NFC Divisional Playoffs
Carolina 26, Dallas 17
January 5, 1997 - Ericsson Stadium - Charlotte

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy, 67º, Wind SW 15 mph - ATTENDANCE: 72,808 - TIME: 2:58

In the first playoff game in team history, the Carolina Panthers stuck to a formula that had worked all season, using an opportunistic offense, a Sam Mills led defense, solid special teams and an uplifting record-sized crowd to defeat the defending Super Bowl Champion Dallas Cowboys 26-17.

Running back Anthony Johnson earned his sixth 100-yard game of the season behind a performance by the offensive line which did not allow quarterback Kerry Collins to be sacked all day. Collins completed a workmanlike 12 of 22 passes for 100 yards and two touchdowns and directed the team to 17 first-half points. The defense supplied a team effort with interceptions by Chad Cota, Pat Terrell and Mills and sacks by Lamar Lathon and Les Miller, while successfully executing three goal-line stands from inside their own five-yard line. Kicker John Kasay converted on all four field goal attempts.

The Cowboys took a 3-0 lead on a 22-yard field goal before a Collins pass to Walls following a 68-yard drive put the Panthers ahead 7-3. After trading touchdowns, the Cowboys got within three following a Panthers safety when a snap sailed over punter Rohn Stark's head. Cota's interception on Dallas' ensuing possession, however, set up a 24-yard Kasay field goal and a 17-11 halftime lead.

The two teams traded field goals in the third quarter and again to begin the fourth, with Chris Boniol converting twice from 21 and Kasay twice from 40. After the Panthers downed a Stark punt at the one, Terrell's interception set up a Kasay 32-yard conversion before Mills' interception and return to the one, sealed the game.

NFC Championship
Green Bay 30, Carolina 13
January 12, 1997 - Lambeau Field - Green Bay

WEATHER: Cold and Windy, 3º, Wind W 10 mph - ATTENDANCE: 60,216 - TIME: 3:04

On a day with wind chill tempratures at more than 20 below zero, the Carolina Panthers surrendered 17 second-quarter points and 479 yards of total offense to the Green Bay Packers and fell one game short of the Super Bowl, 30-13.

The Panthers got ahead early following a Sam Mills interception at the Green Bay 12, which was returned to the two. Kerry Collins found fullback Howard Griffith all alone in the end zone two plays later for a 7-0 Carolina lead.

After Brett Favre drove the Packers for their first touchdown, the Panthers replied with a John Kasay 22-yard field goal following a Lamar Lathon recovery of a Favre fumble. The Packers came back with a touchdown and a field goal before the half, however, and held a 17-10 advantage at the break.

Both teams traded field goals to open the second half before a Dorsey Levens 66-yard reception off a screen set up a Packers touchdown. A Packers fourth-quarter field goal following a Panthers fumble supplied the 30-13 margin.

Mills led the defense with 14 tackles and an interception while Collins completed 19 of 37 passes for 215 yards, with a touchdown and two interceptions. Willie Green led all Panthers in receiving with 51 yards on five receptions.

NFC Wildcard Game
Carolina 29, Dallas 10
January 3, 2004 - Ericsson Stadium - Charlotte

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy, 63º, Wind SSW 9 mph - ATTENDANCE: 72,324 - TIME: 2:56

Behind a dominating defense, Carolina defeated the Dallas Cowboys, 29-10, at Ericsson Stadium to reach the second-round of the playoffs for the first time since the 1996 season. The Panthers held the Cowboys to 204 yards of total offense while not giving up any penalties or turnovers.

Quarterback Jake Delhomme completed 18-of-29 passes for 273 yards and a touchdown, running back Stephen Davis rushed 26 times for 104 yards, wide receiver Steve Smith caught five passes for 135 yards and a touchdown, and kicker John Kasay converted on all five of his field goal attempts.

On Carolina's third play from scrimmage, Delhomme hit Smith in the flat, and Smith raced 70 yards to the Cowboys one-yard line. Four plays later Kasay booted his first field goal from 18 yards out, and the Panthers never looked back.

Carolina took advantage of field position later in the first quarter as Kasay made his second field goal, this time from 38 yards, to give the Panthers a 6-0 lead. In the second quarter, Carolina started another drive in Dallas territory, and Davis rambled 23 yards for a touchdown to give the Panthers a 13-0 lead.

Cowboys kicker Billy Cundiff put the Cowboys on the board with a 37-yard field goal late in the second quarter. Carolina got one more field goal from Kasay to close out the first half leaving the score 16-3 at the break.

The Panthers added a 32-yard Delhomme-to-Smith touchdown pass and Kasay's fourth field goal to stretch the lead to 26-3 before Dallas answered with a nine-yard touchdown run by quarterback Quincy Carter. Kasay's fifth field goal with 3:12 remaining provided the final margin.

Panthers middle linebacker Dan Morgan led the defense with 12 tackles, while Al Wallace, Kris Jenkins and Reggie Howard contributed a sack a piece. Davis posted his eighth 100-yard rushing game of the season.

NFC Divisional Playoffs
Carolina 29, St. Louis 23 (2 OT)
January 10, 2004 - Edward Jones Dome - St. Louis

WEATHER: Played Indoors on Artificial Turf - ATTENDANCE: 66,165 - TIME: 4:06

The Panthers defeated the host St. Louis Rams 29-23 in double overtime at the Edward Jones Dome to earn their second trip to the NFC Championship Game. Steve Smith took a pass from Jake Delhomme and sprinted to a game-winning touchdown to closeout the game, the fifth longest in NFL history and the longest ever for the Panthers.
The Carolina defense held the Rams to two field goals in the first half before Panthers wide receiver Muhsin Muhammad recovered a deflected lateral by Delhomme in the end zone for a touchdown. Each team added a field goal each, to give the Panthers a one-point lead at the half, 10-9.
The Panthers built an 11-point lead in the fourth quarter off a Brad Hoover touchdown and John Kasay field goal, but the Rams scored 11 points in the last 2:39 of regulation to force overtime.
The Panthers took the opening drive of overtime to the St. Louis 22-yard line, but a delay-of-game penalty canceled Kasay's successful 40-yard field goal. Kasay then missed the second attempt three plays later from 45 yards out.
The Rams drove to the Carolina 35-yard line on their first possession in overtime, but kicker Jeff Wilkins, who had already made five field goals, was inches short on a 53-yard attempt.
The Rams then drove to the Panthers 38-yard line on their ensuing possession when cornerback Ricky Manning Jr. outwrestled Rams receiver Torry Holt for the ball and came down with the interception.
Facing third-and-14 from their own 31-yard line on the first play of the second overtime, Delhomme hit Smith on a slant pattern for 69 yards and the game-winning points.
The Panthers outgained the Rams 485 yards to 380, including 216 to 64 in rushing yardage. They won the time of possession battle 41:06 to 34:04 and held the Rams to just six possessions and 12 points through the first three quarters.
Delhomme completed 16-of-26 passes for 290 yards, with one touchdown and one interception for a quarterback rating of 96.6. Running back DeShaun Foster stepped in for an injured Stephen Davis, who left the game in the second quarter, and contributed 95 yards on 21 carries.

NFC Championship
Carolina 14, Philadelphia 3
January 18, 2004 - Lincoln Financial Field - Philadelphia

WEATHER: Mostly Cloudy, 33º, Wind WNW 19 mph - ATTENDANCE: 67,862 - TIME: 2:58

In just their ninth season of existence, the Panthers claimed a bid to Super Bowl XXXVIII by defeating the Philadelphia Eagles 14-3 at Lincoln Financial Field in the NFC Championship game. Carolina took advantage of four interceptions, three by rookie cornerback Ricky Manning, to hold the Philadelphia offense to only one field goal.

The first quarter was scoreless as both teams punted twice. Early in the second quarter, a Carolina fumble was recovered by Jermaine Wiggins to gain the first down and allow the Panthers to continue what would be the first scoring drive of the game.

On first-and-10 from the Philadelphia 24-yard line, Delhomme hit wide receiver Muhsin Muhammad in the end zone for the score. A John Kasay PAT kick gave the Panthers a 7-0 lead.

The Eagles answered with a 14-play, 44-yard drive that culminated with a 41-yard field goal by David Akers. The Eagles were driving again in the final two minutes of the half when Manning grabbed his first interception.

On the opening drive of the second half, the Eagles drove to the Panthers 18-yard line, but Manning again came up with the big play, intercepting Donovan McNabb at the 14-yard line.

A hit by Mike Minter on Eagles wide receiver James Thrash enabled Manning to record his third interception and put the Panthers in position for their final score. With 4:18 remaining in the third quarter, running back DeShaun Foster produced the game's second touchdown, breaking five tackles and reaching over the goal line on a one-yard run.

The Eagles went three-and-out on their final two possessions of the third quarter, and their final threat ended midway through the fourth quarter when backup quarterback Koy Detmer, who replaced an injured McNabb, was intercepted by Dan Morgan at the Carolina 11-yard line to thwart the Eagles final significant scoring opportunity.

Morgan led Carolina with 13 tackles and one interception while Brentson Buckner contributed 1.5 sacks. Running back Stephen Davis added 76 yards on 19 carries as the Panthers rushed for a total 155 yards.

Super Bowl XXXVIII
New England 32, Carolina 29
February 1, 2004 - Reliant Stadium - Houston

WEATHER: Played indoors on grass - ATTENDANCE: 71,525 - TIME: 4:05

In their first Super Bowl, the Carolina Panthers scored 19 fourth-quarter points to tie New England with one minute remaining, but kicker Adam Vinatieri converted a 41-yard field goal to give the Patriots a 32-29 victory for their second Super Bowl victory in three seasons.
The first quarter was scoreless, with help from the Panthers defense who kept New England off the board by blocking one Vinatieri field goal and withstanding another missed attempt.
In the second quarter, a Carolina fumble on the 19-yard line was recovered by defensive tackle Richard Seymour and set up a Tom Brady five-yard touchdown pass to Deion Branch. The touchdown broke the tie with 3:10 remaining in the half, the longest a Super Bowl had ever gone without a score.
Quarterback Jake Delhomme led the Panthers on an eight-play, 95-yard drive, the second longest in Super Bowl history, that culminated with a Delhomme-to-Steve Smith touchdown pass from 39 yards out.
Brady completed four of six passes for 78 yards, and with 23 seconds remaining in the half, hit wide receiver David Givens with another five-yard touchdown pass to put the Patriots back in front, 14-7.
Kris Mangum returned a kickoff to the Panthers 47-yard line and after a 21-yard run by Stephen Davis, the Panthers called timeout with five seconds left. John Kasay booted a 50-yard field goal as the first half expired to make it 14-10.
On the second play of the fourth quarter, Patriots running back Antowain Smith scored on a two-yard run that extended the New England lead to 21-10.
DeShaun Foster finished a six-play, 81-yard Panther drive with a 33-yard touchdown run, the fourth-longest run in Super Bowl history. Carolina missed on their two-point attempt and the score was 21-16.
New England drove down the field and threatened to extend their lead once again, but Reggie Howard intercepted Brady's pass in the end zone and returned it to the 10-yard line.
Three plays later, Delhomme hit Muhsin Muhammad for an 85-yard touchdown, giving the Panthers their first lead with 7:06 remaining in the game. The Panthers missed on another two-point attempt, keeping the score 22-21.
The scoring continued as the Patriots drove 68 yards in 11 plays, ending with a Mike Vrabel touchdown. New England converted their two-point attempt and led 29-22 with 2:55 remaining.
Delhomme then drove his team 80 yards on just seven plays, hitting Ricky Proehl across the middle for a 12-yard touchdown that tied the game with 1:13 remaining. However, Brady mounted one last scoring drive to set up Vinatieri at the Carolina 34-yard line for the winning kick.

NFC Divisional Playoffs
Carolina 29, Chicago 21
January 15, 2006 - Soldier Field - Chicago

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy,40º - ATTENDANCE: 62,209 - TIME: 3:23

Carolina totaled 434 yards against the NFL's second-ranked defense in a 29-21 victory over the Chicago Bears in the NFC Divisional Playoffs. – The contest marked the Panthers fourth consecutive postseason road victory to equal the NFL record for the most consecutive road postseason victories, previously accomplished by Dallas from 1975-81. – The Panthers became the fourth team since 1990 to win an NFC Divisional Playoff game on the road. – Carolina allowed one sack against the Bears after allowing a season-high eight in their regular season contest at Chicago (11/20/05) and scored 29 points against a Bears defense that allowed a League-low 12.9 points per game during the regular season and a total of 61 points at home during the regular season. – Wide receiver Steve Smith amassed 218 yards receiving, the most in team history and fourth-highest total in a playoff game in NFL history, and two touchdowns on 12 receptions, which tied for the second-most catches in NFL postseason history. – Quarterback Jake Delhomme registered his second career 300-yard passing effort in the playoffs and his fifth postseason game with a passer rating of 100 or more. – The Panthers defense yielded only three-of-13 third down conversions against the Bears. With the victory, head coach John Fox became only the fifth head coach in NFL history to record at least four postseason road wins.

NFC Championship
Seattle 34, Carolina 14
January 22, 2006 - Qwest Field - Seattle

WEATHER: Overcast, 48º - ATTENDANCE: 67,837 - TIME: 3:09

Seattle's defense forced four turnovers and held the Panthers to 212 total yards in a 34-14 victory in the 2005 NFC Championship Game. – Carolina was limited to 36 yards by the Seahawks fifth-ranked rushing defense and converted only one-of-nine third down opportunities. Interceptions on consecutive Carolina possessions enabled Seattle to transform a 7-0 lead into a 17-0 advantage in the second quarter. – Wide receiver Steve Smith established an NFL record for the most catches in a postseason with 27, surpassing the previous mark of 23 set by Anthony Carter with Minnesota in the 1987 postseason. Smith's 59-yard punt return for a touchdown enabled him to become the first player in NFL history to score a touchdown on a run, pass and punt return in the same postseason. – Running back Nick Goings, who started in place of the injured DeShaun Foster, was shaken up in the first quarter and did not return to the game.

The Carolina Panthers summer training camp home is at Wofford College in Spartanburg, S.C. The Panthers are housed in Wofford's 60,000 square-foot Richardson Physical Activities Building, which boasts a spacious weight room, locker room and training facilities in addition to coaches offices and meeting rooms.

A member of the Southern Conference and NCAA Division I, Wofford is one of the smallest school in the nation playing Division I football with its enrollment of 1,525. The Terriers compete in the Football Championship Subdivision (FCS), formerly known as Division I-AA.

The 2003 Terrier football team captured the Southern Conference championship and advanced to the FCS national semifinals. In 2007, Wofford won the Southern Conference title and defeated Montana in the first round of the FCS playoffs. The Terriers reached the FCS playoffs again in the 2008 season. In 2010, the Terriers added another SoCon Championship and advanced to the FCS quarterfinals.

Academically, Wofford's football team is traditionally among the top 10 percent in the nation as judged by the Academic Progress Rate (APR). The Terriers have placed 98 student-athletes on the Academic All-Southern Conference team in the last eight years, more than double the number of the second place team. Wofford has had at least eight players on the academic squad each year, including 14 in 2009.

The Wofford men's basketball team won the 2010 and 2011 Southern Conference Championships and advanced to the NCAA Tournament. In 2010, head coach Mike Young was named the national Mid-Major Coach of the Year and Noah Dahlman earned All-America honors. In 2010 the team faced BYU in the second round of the NCAA Tournament. The men's soccer team won the Southern Conference championship and earned a bid to the NCAA Tournament In 2009. The baseball team has defeated South Carolina and Tennessee in the last four years and in 2007 won the Southern Conference Tournament Championship and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

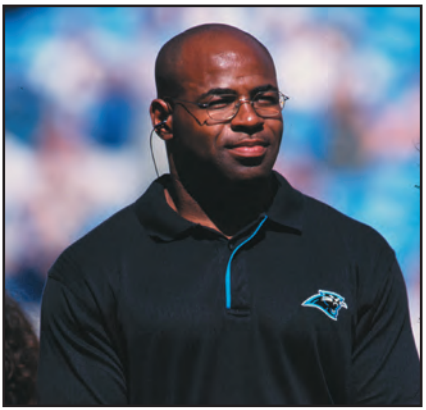

Among its alumni, the athletic program counts Panthers Owner/Founder Jerry Richardson as well as former Air Force head football coach Fisher DeBerry and ESPN personality Wendi Nix. Wofford receives strong support from its alumni and friends. The Terrier Club, with 100 percent of all contributions supporting scholarships for Wofford student-athletes, raised a record $1.5 million in 2010

Wofford consistently lands on 'best value' lists in various national college guides and publications. Among those are the 2010 editions of Kiplinger's Personal Finance, US News and World Report and The Princeton Review. The Village, Wofford's apartment-style housing for senior students, has also received a number of national recognitions.

Having conducted its first session during the 1854-55 academic year, Wofford is one of only a handful of American colleges of that era to have operated continuously on its original site. The first independent college in South Carolina to receive a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, Wofford has a proud history. The entire 150-acre campus is maintained as a national arboretum. Wofford ranks fifth in the nation among baccalaureate institutions in the percentage of students receiving academic credit for studies abroad.

PANTHERS HALL OF HONOR

On September 21, 1997 former team president Mike McCormack became the first member of the Panthers Hall of Honor. In 1998, he was joined by former linebacker Sam Mills, who entered as the first former Panthers player to be so honored.

Both Mills and McCormack, who retired as president of the Carolina Panthers in March 1996, were recognized for their high contributions to the Panthers organization with a life-sized bronze statue sculpted by Todd Andrews, who created the famous bronze Panthers that flank each stadium entrance. The statues were placed at the northeast corner of the stadium where they will be joined by statues of future inductees.

"There is no one more appropriate than Mike to start our Hall of Honor," said Panthers Owner/Founder Jerry Richardson at the time of McCormack's induction. "The Carolina Panthers would not even exist without Mike's contributions, and he epitomizes all we want the Panthers to symbolize."

While McCormack's National Football League career spanned five decades and a number of teams, he may have left his most indelible mark on the Panthers. Starting as a consultant in 1989, McCormack provided an invaluable contact for the Richardson ownership group as they lobbied NFL ownership and hierarch for credibility early in the expansion process. After the Panthers overcame overwhelming odds to land the franchise by a unanimous vote in October 1993, McCormack was first general manager before being named president.

If anyone could meet McCormack's standard it is Mills, who became a Panthers standard-bearer.

"Sam Mills has meant a lot to this organization and has set a high standard for our players both on and off the field. It is only fitting that he is recognized with the Carolina Panthers highest honor," said Jerry Richardson.

While Mills had a long NFL career, his accomplishments with the Panthers were the basis of his selection. His memorable interception return for a touchdown spurred Carolina to the first win in team history in 1995, and his interception against Dallas sealed the Panthers win in the NFC divisional playoff following the 1996 season.

Mills played 15 years as a professional, starting 171-of-181 NFL games and earning five Pro Bowl selections. Mills appeared in his final Pro Bowl as a representative of the Panthers in 1996 at the age of 37.

Regarded as one of the most savvy players in the game, Mills led his team in tackles 10 times and eclipsed the 100-tackle plateau in eight seasons. As a prized unrestricted free agent in 1995, he became the cornerstone of the Panthers defense and was the only player to start every game during the Panthers first three seasons.

With McCormack and Mills, an administrator and coach were recognized in the Hall of Honor. In the opening regular season game against Green Bay in 2004, the PSL owners who helped make the stadium and franchise possible were also honored at halftime. The Panthers sold over 60,000 Permanent Seat Licenses to help fund the construction of Bank of America Stadium.
