JERRY RICHARDSON

OWNER/FOUNDER

WOFFORD COLLEGE
BORN JULY 18, 1936
TWENTY-THIRD NFL SEASON / TWENTY-FIRST PANTHERS SEASON

Jerry Richardson is a native Carolinian whose dream was to bring NFL football and the world championship he knew as a player in the League to his home. With the Panthers in their second decade, Richardson has firmly established the NFL into the Carolina landscape while dedicating his efforts to making the rest of his vision a reality. He is the only person to be inducted into both the North and South Carolina Business and Athletic Halls of Fame.

On October 26, 1993, Richardson became the first former NFL player since George Halas to become an owner when the Carolinas were unanimously awarded the NFL's 29th franchise. Most recently, Richardson played a pivotal role as Co-Chairman of the NFL Executive Committee in reaching an unprecedented 10-year Collective Bargaining Agreement with the NFLPA in 2011.

"Jerry Richardson has always put himself out there to take those tough jobs and get it done in a way it reflects well on the NFL and this franchise," says NFL Commissioner Roger Goodell of Richardson's efforts on behalf of the League as well as his Panthers.

A lifelong resident of the Carolinas, Richardson and his wife, Rosalind Sallenger Richardson, have two sons, Jon and Mark, and a daughter, Ashley Richardson Allen, of Charlotte. The Richardsons have nine grandchildren and live in Charlotte.

Edited excerpt from Johnny Unitas: America's Quarterback

A LASTING IMPRESSION

Jerry Richardson, a tall, shy receiver was one of the newcomers to the Colts in 1959. Like Unitas, he came from a small college. He had played college football in South Carolina at Wofford College, and Richardson always seemed to be explaining just where Wofford was.

There were approximately one dozen other receivers running around trying to make a lasting impression, one that would enable them to fill the sole spot on the roster. Richardson's chances were not exactly promising, being taken in the 13th round and the 153rd player overall.

Unitas saw the underdog in Richardson, who had married his college sweetheart, Rosalind Sallenger. When training camp opened for the 1959 season, Richardson had no way to get to practice, so Unitas helped him out. He picked him up in the front of the rented house every morning to drive him to camp. They got along fine. Unitas didn't talk, and neither did the rookie, which suited them both.

THE TOUCHDOWN CATCH

Late in the 1959 championship game, was Baltimore head coach Weeb Ewbank thinking of a field goal to give the Colts an eight point lead in the 4th quarter against the New York Giants? Richardson, the rookie receiver Unitas chauffeured during training camp was waiting to return the favor by bringing in the play that Ewbank wanted.

"I stood next to Weeb and looked at him for the play," recalls Richardson. "I finally asked him what the play was and he remarked, 'Just tell Unitas to score.'"

Given the opportunity to score a seemingly safe field goal or a touchdown Unitas would always go for the six points.

"Raymond Berry was split on the left and would make his cut into the middle underneath the linebacker. I lined up close to the tackle and would swing wide to the outside. It really was Berry's play all the way. He had done it a thousand times. But Unitas looked off Berry, and I looked around and saw the ball coming to me. I squeezed it tight and went into the end zone standing up. I never expected the ball and neither did the Giants."

The rookie's touchdown was the clincher. The Colts moved closer to the championship with a 21-9 lead.

DANNY MORRISON

PRESIDENT

WOFFORD COLLEGE
BORN OCTOBER 26, 1953
FIFTH NFL SEASON / FIFTH PANTHERS SEASON

In his fifth year as President of the Carolina Panthers, Danny Morrison continues to make an indelible imprint on the organization through his foresight and tireless energy. Under his guidance, the Panthers have been innovative and aggressive in improving the fan experience while reaching new levels in corporate support and sponsorships.

Morrison's relationship with the Panthers began in the team's inaugural 1995 season at Wofford College. As Director of Athletics he coordinated a fundraising effort that enabled the school to refurbish its facilities to host an NFL training camp. The Panthers have now been at Wofford for 19 straight years and the training camp is regarded among the best in the NFL.

In his capacity as team president, Morrison is responsible for the Panthers business operations and Bank of America Stadium business interests as well as representing the organization in many league matters.

Since assuming duties as president, Morrison has provided energy and direction for the Panthers.

From working closely with Owner/Founder Jerry Richardson to providing the impetus for improvements throughout the organization, Morrison has immersed himself into the Panthers.

Most recently, he oversaw an extensive master plan study for Bank of America Stadium, which will result in a $112.5 million renovation plan over the coming years. The improvements began this summer with the relocation of the stadium's gate entrances to provide safer and more efficient entry into the stadium. Construction on escalators, video boards, and ribbon boards as well as a new sound system is also scheduled in the near future. The Panthers have already been one of the NFL leaders in developing a stadium Wi-Fi system.

On the League level, Morrison has also established a presence as the Chair of the NFL Sub-Committee on College Relations and serving on the NFL Fan Experience Club Working Group as well as the NFL Working Group on Coaches Benefits.

Prior to joining the Panthers, Morrison was in his fifth year as Director of Athletics at Texas Christian University. At TCU, Morrison directed the development of the athletic program into one of the most successful in the nation while helping to usher the Horned Frogs into the Mountain West Conference. In the 2008-09 athletic season TCU had 16 of its 20 sports represented in postseason play, finishing with the nation's seventh-ranked football team.

A total of 12 sports were nationally ranked and four conference titles were won with three coaches receiving coach of the year honors. Five of the school's 20 programs were ranked in the top 11 in the nation.

The solid footing established under Morrison was revealed even after his departure when the football team recorded an undefeated regular season and the baseball team advanced to the College World Series. TCU and Florida were the only two schools in college athletics to play in a BCS Bowl game and have a team in the College World Series in 2010.

Prior to going to TCU in 2005, Morrison was Commissioner of the Southern Conference. He had joined the conference office after leaving Wofford, where he was senior vice president, in 2001. As Commissioner of the Southern Conference, Morrison established numerous progressive initiatives, creating partnerships with corporate entities while expanding and enhancing the television schedule for the conference through various networks.

Since coming to Charlotte in 2009, Morrison has become an integral part of the community, serving on the Board of Directors for the Charlotte Sports Foundation, Charlotte Chamber, the Charlotte Regional Partnership, and Charlotte Center City Partners as well as the Board of Ambassadors for the Levine Children's Hospital.

A native of Burlington, N.C., Morrison attended Wofford, where he lettered four years in basketball and graduated summa cum laude and Phi Beta Kappa in 1975 with a Bachelor of Arts in mathematics. His pursuit of excellence as athletics director earned him induction into the Wofford Athletics Hall of Fame in 2002 and he currently serves on the school's Board of Trustees.

Morrison obtained a Masters of Education in administration and supervision from the University of North Carolina in 1981 and a doctorate in educational leadership from the University of South Carolina in 2000.

He returned to Wofford in 1985 as the school's first full-time Director of Athletics and served in that capacity for 12 years, guiding the Terriers from NAIA to Division II to Division 1-AA and membership in the Southern Conference.

The linchpin of that transition was the improvement of the facilities to provide a summer home for the Panthers through a capital improvement plan. Since transitioning to the Southern Conference, Wofford has successfully competed in the league, winning the football championship in 2003, 2007, 2010, and 2012, and the basketball title in 2010 and 2011.

Morrison and his wife, Peggy, have two children: Trey, a graduate of the University of South Carolina, and Meg, who received her degree from Wofford.

RON RIVERA

HEAD COACH

CALIFORNIA
SEVENTEENTH NFL SEASON / THIRD PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Ron Rivera has brought the same work ethic and dedication to head coaching as he did to playing, taking the Panthers in a positive direction over the last two years. Rivera inherited a team with a 2-14 record and has steadily guided Carolina from six wins his first season to seven last year while building a foundation that includes back-to-back Rookies-of-the-Year in quarterback Cam Newton and linebacker Luke Kuechly.

Rivera came to Carolina with a reputation for hard work, attention to detail and preparation. They were also the qualities he exhibited in his first campaign as the Panthers tripled their win total from the previous season despite no offseason and an epidemic of defensive injuries. Rivera did not even meet his team until they reported to training camp and despite a slow start, held it together to finish with four wins in the final six games.

His success was no surprise, for Rivera has excelled as a coach and player during his 25 years in the NFL, serving as coordinator for the San Diego Chargers top-ranked defense in 2010 and playing linebacker for the Chicago Bears' top-ranked defense and Super Bowl XX championship team in 1985. In 16 seasons as a coach and nine as a player, he has been with teams that have reached the playoffs 16 times, including eight conference championships and two Super Bowls.

The mentality of the Chargers defense that Rivera coached and the Bears defense on which he played resonates within the head coach.

Last year, that mindset became a part of the Panthers mentality as Carolina finished the year ranked 10th in yards allowed, a jump of 18 places from 2011. It was on the strength of that defensive improvement that Carolina won five of its last six games to improve its win total for the second straight year.

Carolina made a similar jump on offense in Rivera's first season. With the addition of quarterback Cam Newton, the Panthers jumped from last to seventh in total offense in 2011.

Rivera's identity has been influenced by two innovative defensive coordinators. As a player, Rivera was coached by Buddy Ryan, the architect of the "46 Defense," which involved blitzing on nearly every down. As a coach, Rivera toiled under the late Jim Johnson, a highly-regarded defensive coordinator renowned for his aggressive approach.

His identity also has been shaped by his family. The son of a U.S. Army officer and the second-youngest of four boys, Rivera learned from a young age about chain of command and many of the principles he teaches and expects from his players. "Coming from a military background, there's a lot of discipline, a lot of structure. That's how I feel when I coach," Rivera said.

Rivera worked with the San Diego Chargers from 2007-10. He coached inside linebackers before taking over as the team's defensive coordinator midway through the 2008 season.

With Rivera's guidance, the pass defense steadied itself – intercepting nine passes and yielding 229.6 passing yards per game and 11 touchdown passes over the final eight games. Those numbers contrasted to the first half of the season when San Diego notched just seven picks and was victimized for 265.1 yards per game and 14 touchdowns through the air.

In Rivera's first full season leading the defense in 2009, the Chargers ranked 16th in total defense and 11th against the pass. One of the unit's strengths was playing tough after offensive turnovers, giving up only 44 points, a figure that tied New England for the second-fewest in the NFL. Those rankings improved in 2010 as San Diego led the NFL with an average of 271.6 total yards allowed per game and gave up a league-low 177.8 passing yards per game. Overall, the Chargers finished in the top five in 11 different defensive statistical categories despite not having any defenders selected to the Pro Bowl.

From 2004-06, Rivera oversaw the Chicago Bears defense, engineering the unit to two top-five finishes in the league. Under Rivera's direction, five different defensive players went to the Pro Bowl: linebacker Lance Briggs, safety Mike Brown, defensive tackle Tommie Harris, linebacker Brian Urlacher and cornerback Nathan Vasher.

In his first season as a defensive coordinator in 2004, Rivera presided over a defense that produced nine more takeaways and 17 more sacks than the previous year and scored a franchise record and NFC high six defensive touchdowns. The Bears also thrived on third down and buckled down inside their own 20-yard line, ranking first in the NFL in third-down efficiency (30.5%) and topping the NFC in red zone defense (42.6%).

The following year, Chicago continued to build on the foundation Rivera laid in 2004. The Bears won their first of two consecutive NFC North titles and stood second in the NFL in total defense. In surrendering the fewest points in the League, Rivera's defense went 43 consecutive quarters without allowing more than seven points – the longest streak in the NFL since 1969. Chicago also led the NFL in red zone defense (32.5%) and rated second in third-down efficiency (31.9%).

During Rivera's last season with the Bears in 2006, the defense paced the NFL with 44 takeaways and finished fifth in the league in total defense and third in scoring defense, helping propel Chicago to the NFC Championship and an appearance in Super Bowl XLI.

Prior to becoming a defensive coordinator, Rivera spent five seasons from 1999-2003 as the linebackers coach for the Philadelphia Eagles, who advanced to the NFC Championship game in each of his final three seasons. Twice during Rivera's tenure with the Eagles, the team finished second in the NFL in scoring defense and in 2001 held all 16 of its opponents to less than 21 points – making them just the fourth team in NFL history to do so.

Prior to returning to Chicago, Rivera spent five seasons in Philadelphia, where a member of his linebacking corps led the team in tackles four times. Rivera gained his first coaching experience with the Bears as defensive quality control coach from 1997-98.

He is just the third Latino head coach in NFL history, joining Tom Flores with the Oakland Raiders from 1979-87 and Seattle Seahawks from 1992-94 and Tom Fears with the New Orleans Saints from 1967-70.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Following his retirement, Rivera went into broadcasting. He covered the Bears and college football as a television analyst for WGN and SportsChannel Chicago for four years from 1993-96. Selected in the second round of the 1984 NFL Draft by Chicago, Rivera played all nine of his pro seasons with the Bears. Primarily an outside linebacker, he appeared in 149 games with 62 starts (including 12 postseason contests with six starts) and posted 392 tackles, 7.5 sacks, five forced fumbles, four fumble recoveries, nine interceptions and 15 passes defensed. Rivera was a member of six NFC Central division title teams and a Super Bowl XX championship team in 1985.

As a player, Rivera was known for both his skill and determination on the field and his dedication of time and energy to the community. As a result, he was named the Bears Man of the Year in 1988 and earned the club's Ed Block Courage Award in 1989.

He has carried that same community commitment to coaching, sponsoring a bowling tournament last summer to benefit the Ronald McDonald House, the USO and the Humane Society.

An All-American at the University of California, Rivera finished his career as the school's all-time leader in sacks with 22 and tackles with 336. As a senior in 1983, he set the Bears single-season record for sacks with 13 and tackles for loss with 26.5. Born Jan. 7, 1962 in Fort Ord, Calif., Rivera lived in Germany, Panama, Washington and Maryland before his family settled in Marina, Calif. He attended Seaside High School in Marina and was a three-sport star in football, basketball and baseball.

Rivera and his wife, Stephanie, have two children, Christopher and Courtney. Stephanie is a former assistant coach for the WNBA's Washington Mystics.

SEAN McDERMOTT

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

WILLIAM & MARY
FIFTEENTH NFL SEASON / THIRD PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Sean McDermott is in his third season as defensive coordinator of the Panthers following a 2012 campaign in which the Panthers finished 10th in the NFL in total defense – an 18-spot improvement from 2011. The defense faced stiff competition, playing 11 of 16 games against opponents that finished the season in the top 15 in the NFL in total offense, including nine in the top-10.

Despite ending the year with seven starters or significant contributors on injured reserve, the Panthers ranked in the top-10 in many defensive categories including sacks, third-down conversion percentage, yards after catch, big plays allowed and negative plays created. The Panthers also tied a team record with three interception returns for touchdowns, the first time since 2007 that the team had multiple defensive scores in a season.

McDermott's unit played its best down the stretch, rising from 24th in total defense after four games to its final ranking of 10th. In the season's final 13 weeks, the Panthers ranked sixth in total defense, eighth in rush defense and 11th in pass defense, yielding 312.8 yards per game – 101.8 rushing and 211.0 passing.

An integral part of the defense's success was rookie linebacker Luke Kuechly, who earned Associated Press NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year honors after leading the league in tackles with a franchise record 205. Carolina also registered 39 sacks, and defensive ends Charles Johnson and Greg Hardy led the charge as they became the first Panthers tandem to record double-digit sacks since 2002. Johnson ranked sixth in the NFL with a career-high 12.5 sacks and second with seven forced fumbles, while Hardy added a career-high 11 sacks.

In his first season with the Panthers in 2011, McDermott was faced with leading a unit that was plagued by injuries. It was the second half of the season before Carolina fielded the same defensive lineup in consecutive weeks, but McDermott's young and inexperienced group showed signs of potential, forcing key stops and turnovers that contributed to wins in four of the final six games.

McDermott came to Carolina following 12 seasons with the Philadelphia Eagles, the last two as defensive coordinator, where he contributed to six division titles.

In 2010, McDermott led one of the League's youngest defenses to another playoff appearance in Philadelphia, finishing the year ranked in the top-10 in takeaways, sacks and negative play yardage.

In his first season overseeing the Eagles defense in 2009, McDermott overcame a rash of injuries to help lead the team to a playoff appearance and direct a unit that ranked third in the NFL with 38 takeaways and 44 sacks. Also, Philadelphia stood second in the League in third down defense and fifth in yards per play allowed.

Three of McDermott's players earned Pro Bowl honors: defensive end Trent Cole, cornerback Asante Samuel, and safety Quintin Mikell. As a result of his efforts, McDermott was named the NFL's top defensive coordinator by Pro Football Weekly.

One of the few NFL assistants to successfully mentor two different position groups, McDermott coached the secondary and linebackers before becoming defensive coordinator, learning all phases of the defensive game plan from the late Jim Johnson, the Eagles' legendary defensive coordinator from 1999-2008.

Tutoring the defensive backs in 2008, McDermott helped the pass defense improve in nearly every statistical category from the previous year, ranking third in the NFL in pass defense and second in net yards per pass play. Two members of the secondary – free safety Brian Dawkins and Samuel – garnered Pro Bowl recognition, while Mikell, who began his career in the NFL as an undrafted free agent, captured second-team All-Pro accolades.

In 2007, McDermott took over the linebackers when Steve Spagnuolo left to become the New York Giants defensive coordinator. The young linebacking corps flourished under McDermott as Omar Gaither and Chris Gocong progressed into full-time starters for the first time in their careers.

From 2004-06, McDermott served as the Eagles' secondary/safeties coach. In 2004, both starting safeties, Dawkins and strong safety Michael Lewis, went to the Pro Bowl. Under McDermott's guidance, Dawkins proceeded to make two more Pro Bowls (2005, 2006).

McDermott worked as the team's assistant defensive backs coach in 2003 and as the defensive assistant/quality control coach from 2001-02, assisting with linebackers. He joined the organization in 1998 as a scouting administrative coordinator and primarily handled budget, collective bargaining agreement, salary cap and personnel matters until being promoted to assistant to the head coach in 1999.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: An All-Atlantic 10 Conference choice at safety for William & Mary as a senior in 1997, McDermott graduated with a degree in finance and began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater in 1998. He and his wife, Jamie, have a daughter Madeline, and a son Gavin.

Before returning to his alma mater as head coach, Shula coached the Miami Dolphins quarterbacks for three seasons from 2000-02. It marked his second stint with the team, previously serving as a coaching assistant for two years from 1991-92. During Shula's tenure as Dolphins quarterbacks coach, Jay Fiedler became just the second quarterback in franchise history to pass for more than 3,000 yards with 3,290 in 2001.

In addition to Shula's work as a quarterbacks coach, he presided over the Tampa Bay Buccaneers offense as offensive coordinator for four seasons from 1996-99. PETE HOENER

TIGHT ENDS

BRADLEY
FIFTEENTH NFL SEASON / THIRD PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Pete Hoener is in his third season as tight ends coach, overseeing one of the most prominent positions in the Panthers offense.

Hoener coached Greg Olsen to one of the best seasons by a tight end in Panthers history in 2012 as Olsen set franchise records with 69 catches and 843 receiving yards, surpassing previous records set by Wesley Walls in 1999. Olsen also became the first Panthers tight end since Walls in 2000 to record a 100-yard receiving game with nine catches for 102 yards and two touchdowns vs. Denver (11/11/12). In addition, Hoener's group helped open running lanes for the Panthers to rank ninth in rushing offense at 130.5 yards per game.

In 2011, Hoener's first season with the Panthers, Carolina tight ends combined for 85 catches for 1,008 yards and nine touchdowns in the most productive season for the position since the departure of Walls a decade earlier. The unit also contributed to a running game that averaged 5.4 yards per carry and saw the Panthers become the first team in NFL history to feature three 700 yard rushers.

A veteran of 14 seasons as an NFL assistant, Hoener joined the Panthers after six seasons with the San Francisco 49ers from 2005-10. During his tenure with San Francisco, Hoener played an instrumental role in the development of tight ends Vernon Davis and Delanie Walker, both of whom were drafted by the 49ers in 2006. Hoener helped Davis become one of the most versatile and complete tight ends in the game as both a receiver and blocker, and he turned Walker, a wide receiver in college, into an explosive receiving threat.

In 2010, Davis ranked first on the 49ers with 56 receptions, 914 receiving yards and seven touchdowns to become the first tight end in franchise history to lead the team in receptions, receiving yards and touchdowns in consecutive seasons. Walker also experienced a productive campaign, recording career highs with 29 catches and 331 yards.

The previous year, Hoener tutored Davis to one of the most prolific seasons by a tight end in recent NFL history. Davis compiled 78 receptions for 965 yards and 13 touchdowns, an effort that resulted in being selected a Pro Bowl starter. Davis' 13 touchdowns tied the then NFL single-season record for the most touchdowns by a tight end and equaled the most touchdown catches in the NFL, making him the first tight end in the Super Bowl era to lead or tie for the League lead in receiving touchdowns.

Hoener joined the 49ers from the Chicago Bears, where he oversaw the offensive line in 2004. His flexibility was on display, as the Bears employed seven different starting combinations among the front five. Under Hoener's guidance, center Olin Kreutz earned Pro Bowl honors.

Prior to the Bears, Hoener spent three seasons with the Arizona Cardinals, serving as the offensive line coach in 2003 and tight ends coach from 2001-02. It marked his second stint with the Cardinals after entering the NFL coaching ranks as the team's tight ends coach from 1985-86 when the franchise was in St. Louis.

Along with his NFL experience, Hoener coached 24 years on the college level as an offensive line coach and offensive coordinator.

JOE KENN

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING

WAKE FOREST
THIRD NFL SEASON / THIRD PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Known simply as "House" to players, Joe Kenn's goal as the Panthers strength and conditioning coach is to protect and produce: protect the athletes' body armor and produce athletic-based results. He employs a holistic and integrated philosophy in his comprehensive training plan that utilizes strength training, explosive development, high intensity interval training and performance-based nutrition. It is a structured approach that enhances the players' physical attributes.

An accomplished strength and conditioning coach with nearly two decades of experience on the college level, Kenn came to the Panthers in 2011 from Big House Power Competitive Athletic Training, where he coached professional, college and high school athletes and teams from several sports.

Prior to that, he was the Director of Athlete Development at Louisville for two seasons from 2008-09, working specifically with the football program. In 2009, he was recognized as a master strength and conditioning coach by the Collegiate Strength and Conditioning Coaches Association. That same year, Cardinals center Eric Wood became Kenn's fourth first-round draft choice when the Buffalo Bills selected him 28th overall.

Kenn began his coaching career at Pine Crest Preparatory School in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., from 1989-90 before making his college coaching debut at his alma mater, Wake Forest, in January 1991 as the assistant strength coach. Later that year, he went to Boise State as a graduate assistant and remained there for eight years. Elevated to the Broncos' strength and conditioning coach in 1994, Kenn was named the National Strength and Conditioning Association (NSCA) Big West Conference Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year in 1998.

He then moved to Utah as the director of strength and conditioning for two years from 1999-2000. While with the Utes, Kenn supervised future Carolina Panthers wide receiver Steve Smith and tackle Jordan Gross and former NFL standout running back Mike Anderson. He also received accolades as the NSCA Mountain West Conference Strength and Conditioning Coach of the Year in 2000.

Next, Kenn spent seven years at Arizona State from 2001-07, serving as the head strength and conditioning coach for football for two seasons before being promoted to head coach of sports performance in 2003 and overseeing all sports. During his tenure with the Sun Devils, he worked with future Baltimore Ravens linebacker Terrell Suggs. He captured the NSCA College Strength and Conditioning Professional of the Year award in 2002.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A two-year starter at guard for Wake Forest from 1987-88, Kenn earned the Bill George Award as the Demon Deacons' standout lineman as a junior and then garnered recognition as the school's weightlifter of the year and an All-American strength and conditioning athlete by the NSCA as a senior. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in health and sports science from Wake Forest in 1988, added his strength and conditioning specialist certification in 1990 and obtained his master's degree in curriculum and instruction from Boise State in 1993. Kenn and his wife, Angela, have two sons: Joseph and Peter.

JOHN MATSKO

OFFENSIVE LINE

KENT STATE
TWENTY-SECOND NFL SEASON / THIRD PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: In his second season as Panthers offensive line coach, John Matsko helped his unit overcome injuries and instability as the Panthers gained 5,771 net yards and produced 328 first downs, the second-highest marks in team history.

Matsko provided a steadying influence for a line that started eight different combinations and lost Pro Bowl center Ryan Kalil to injury after six games. The unit's blocking efforts helped the Panthers rank 13th in the NFL in total offense at 360.7 yards per game and ninth in rushing offense at 130.5 yards per game. Rookie guard Amini Silatolu, a second-round draft choice from Division II Midwestern State started 15 games and earned All-Rookie honors from Pro Football Weekly/Pro Football Writers of America.

In 2011, his first season with the Panthers, Matsko led a unit that helped Carolina total more than 100 yards rushing in a franchise record 14 consecutive games en route to totaling 2,408 yards on the ground, the third-highest total in team history. The Panthers set a team record with a 5.4 yards per carry average and became the first team in League history to feature three 700-yard rushers in DeAngelo Williams, Jonathan Stewart and Cam Newton. Under Matsko, Kalil was named to his third consecutive Pro Bowl, and first as a starter, and earned second-team All-Pro honors.

An accomplished offensive line coach for more than 20 NFL seasons, Matsko has coached nearly every style of offensive line along the way – from the prolific passing assault of the St. Louis Rams at the turn of the century to the efficient rushing attack of the Baltimore Ravens from 2008-10.

Leading a youthful group of offensive linemen, Matsko helped the Ravens rank in the top five in the NFL in rushing in two of his three seasons, finishing fourth in 2008 and fifth in 2009. He mentored tackle Michael Oher, who made the NFL's all-rookie team in 2009, and in 2008 the team permitted only 33 sacks, the second-fewest in team history, while featuring the League's youngest offensive line.

Prior to joining Baltimore, Matsko spent two seasons as the offensive line coach of the Kansas City Chiefs from 2006-07. Despite utilizing five different starting combinations due to injuries in 2006, the offensive line paved the way for the Chiefs to place ninth in the NFL in rushing and compile a team-record 11 100-yard rushing games. Under Matsko's guidance, guards Will Shields and Brian Waters earned Pro Bowl honors.

Nowhere was Matsko's versatility as an outstanding teacher in both the run and pass blocking aspects of offensive line play on display more than during his tenure with the St. Louis Rams from 1999-2005. With Matsko presiding over the offensive line for one of the most dynamic offenses in NFL history, the Rams led the League in total offense for three consecutive years from 1999-2001, including a record 5,232 yards in 2000, and won Super Bowl XXXIV. He played an instrumental role in the development of two Pro Bowlers – tackle Orlando Pace and guard Adam Timmerman.

Matsko began his NFL coaching career as offensive line coach of the Phoenix Cardinals in 1992 and served in that capacity for two seasons. In 1993, the offensive front opened holes for the Cardinals to have their first 1,000-yard rusher since 1985. He then moved to New Orleans in 1994 and coached three seasons with the Saints. Under Matsko's tutelage, tackle Willie Roaf earned three Pro Bowl selections, and the Saints ranked seventh in the League for fewest sacks allowed in 1994 and 1995 and third in 1996.

Following his stint with New Orleans, Matsko assumed the same role from 1997-98 with the New York Giants, where they improved both their pass protection and run blocking. The Giants allowed 24 fewer sacks and jumped from 19th to seventh in the NFL in rushing in 1997 compared to 1996.

Before entering the NFL coaching ranks, Matsko spent 17 years on the college level. He worked as a graduate assistant at Miami (Ohio) from 1974-75 and returned as offensive line coach in 1977 after being the head coach at Danbury High School in Lakeside-Marblehead, Ohio, in 1976. Matsko served as offensive coordinator and offensive line coach at North Carolina from 1978-84 prior to stops for one year each as offensive line coach at Navy in 1985 and Arizona in 1986. He joined Southern California as offensive line coach in 1987 and was promoted to offensive coordinator in 1989 for his final three seasons with the Trojans.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Matsko played fullback at Kent State and lettered three years from 1970-72. He graduated with a bachelor's degree in business education in 1973 and later earned a master's degree in education from Miami (Ohio) in 1976. Matsko and his wife, Kim, have four children: two daughters, Marie and Liz, and two sons, John and Michael. Marie is married to Roque Jimenez and the couple has three children, Jackie, Lucas and Emily. Liz is married to Scott Munter and the couple has two children, Brooklyn and Zachary. Michael is engaged to Ariel Scoggins with a son Noah.

SAM MILLS III

ASSISTANT DEFENSIVE LINE

MONTCLAIR STATE
NINTH NFL SEASON / NINTH PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Sam Mills III is in his ninth season with the Panthers, and third as assistant defensive line coach. Working with defensive line coach Eric Washington last season, Mills tutored a line that featured defensive ends Charles Johnson and Greg Hardy, who became the first Panthers tandem to reach double-digit sacks since 2002.

Thirty-seven of the Panthers 39 sacks in 2012 came from the defensive line as Johnson led the team with 12.5, Hardy added 11 and defensive tackle Dwan Edwards contributed 6.5. The Panthers finished the season ranked ninth in the NFL in sacks per pass play at 6.6 percent and tallied six or more sacks in three games, including a franchise record tying seven sacks at Atlanta (9/30/12).

In 2011, Mills coached a line that accounted for 25.5 of the team's 31 sacks. Johnson narrowly missed his second consecutive double-digit sack season, leading the team with nine, and young players received valuable experience as three rookies started games at defensive tackle.

Prior to the 2011 season, Mills added assistant defensive line coach to his title along with serving as the Panthers defensive quality control coach, though he actually has been working with the defensive line since 2006.

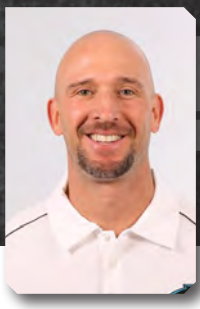

In 2010, Mills helped Johnson become the fifth player in team history to produce 10 or more sacks in a season with 11.5. The previous year, he contributed to a rejuvenated Panthers defensive line that accounted for 24.5 of the team's 31 sacks.

After spending the 2005 season in a dual role as a strength and conditioning and defensive assistant, Mills was promoted to defensive quality control coach in 2006. As defensive quality control coach, Mills was responsible for breaking down vast amounts of information and analyzing opponents' statistical tendencies to assist in game-plan preparation and the production of the defensive playbook.

Mills is no stranger to the organization as his position on the coaching staff is the culmination of his path as a youth. His father, Sam, is the only Panthers player to have his number retired and is the only player inducted into the team's Hall of Honor. When his father played for the Panthers, Mills worked as a ball boy at training camp and later in the equipment room before joining the strength and conditioning program.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Mills followed in his father's footsteps by playing at Montclair (N.J.) State, where the elder Mills was an NCAA Division II All-American at linebacker. He started 20 games in two seasons at defensive back for the Red Hawks and totaled 71 tackles, two interceptions, 14 passes defensed, three forced fumbles and one fumble recovery.

HISTORY: Defensive back: Monclair State 1997-1999. Pro coach: Joined Panthers in 2005.

RICKY PROEHL

WIDE RECEIVERS

WAKE FOREST
THIRD NFL SEASON / THIRD PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: After 17 seasons as an NFL player, former wide receiver Ricky Proehl returns for his third season as a member of the Panthers coaching staff and first as wide receivers coach after serving as assistant wide receivers coach in 2012 and as an offensive consultant in 2011.

In 2012, Proehl helped wide receiver Steve Smith to his second consecutive 1,000-yard receiving season and seventh overall as Smith became the 27th player in NFL history to reach 11,000 career receiving yards. In addition, under Proehl's tutelage, third-year receiver Brandon LaFell continued to develop as he set career highs with 44 catches for 677 yards and four touchdowns despite missing two games.

Proehl began his coaching career with the Panthers as an offensive consultant in 2011, working primarily with wide receivers. Proehl helped mentor a receiving corps that was comprised of the veteran Smith and a host of young receivers. Smith earned his fifth Pro Bowl selection after finishing fifth in the NFL with 1,394 yards on 79 receptions with seven touchdowns while LaFell emerged as a starter by season's end, tallying 613 yards and three touchdowns.

Proehl finished his playing career with 669 receptions for 8,878 yards and 54 touchdowns. He appeared in 244 games with 110 starts for the Phoenix/Arizona Cardinals, Seattle Seahawks, Chicago Bears, Carolina Panthers and Indianapolis Colts. Proehl was a member of four Super Bowl teams, including championship teams with the Rams and Colts. He earned All-Rookie honors in 1990 and is a two-time Unsung Hero Award winner (2001, 2003). In three seasons with the Panthers, he registered 86 catches for 1,327 yards and eight touchdowns and participated on two playoff teams.

But Proehl's playing days were distinguished by far more than his statistical achievements. He earned a reputation as a sure-handed and clutch player, making dramatic plays at critical times.

In the 2003 season opener versus Jacksonville, his first game with Carolina, Proehl caught a 12-yard touchdown on fourth down with 16 seconds left to cap a come-from-behind win and propel the Panthers on their Super Bowl run. During the 1999 postseason, he snagged a one-handed, 30-yard touchdown reception with 4:44 to play that lifted St. Louis to a victory over Tampa Bay in the NFC Championship.

Noted for the example he set for young players with his hard work, savvy and veteran leadership, Proehl essentially began coaching while still playing. A student of the game and an excellent communicator, he mentored teammates like Isaac Bruce and Torry Holt in St. Louis and Steve Smith in Carolina.

Those experiences have helped Proehl in his role with the Panthers. Carolina has one of the NFL's youngest receiving corps and has drafted five wideouts over the last three seasons, all of whom have benefited from his knowledge and detail-oriented approach to the game.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Since retiring following the 2006 season, Proehl has owned and operated Proehlific Park, a family sports complex and fitness center, in Greensboro, N.C. A standout wide receiver at Wake Forest from 1986-89 before being selected in the third round (58th overall) of the 1990 NFL Draft by the Cardinals, Proehl left the university as the holder of almost every major receiving record. He still ranks as the Demon Deacons' all-time leader with 2,949 receiving yards and 25 touchdown catches, and his 188 receptions stand second. Proehl led the team in receiving three consecutive seasons and finished first in the Atlantic Coast Conference with 65 catches for a then school-record 1,053 yards as a senior in 1989. Proehl majored in speech communications at Wake Forest. In recognition of his college and professional accomplishments, he was inducted into the North Carolina Sports Hall of Fame in May 2011. He and his wife, Kelly, have a daughter, Alexandria, and two sons, Austin and Blake.

JIM SKIPPER

RUNNING BACKS

WHITTIER COLLEGE
TWENTY-SEVENTH NFL / TENTH PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: Jim Skipper returns to Carolina after working as the running backs coach for the Tennessee Titans from 2011-12. In each of Skipper's two years with the Titans, running back Chris Johnson surpassed 1,000 yards on the ground, giving Skipper eight different 1,000-yard rushers in 26 seasons as an NFL coach.

Skipper previously served as the Panthers' running backs coach from 2002-10 in addition to being assistant head coach for the final five years. During Skipper's tenure, Carolina's running game thrived despite using 10 different starting halfbacks as he consistently coaxed the best out of his runners. Three players (Stephen Davis, Jonathan Stewart and DeAngelo Williams) reached the 1,000-yard rushing mark, and eight (Dee Brown, Davis, DeShaun Foster, Nick Goings, Mike Goodson, Lamar Smith, Stewart and Williams) produced at least one 100-yard rushing game.

In 2009, Stewart and Williams became the first set of teammates in NFL history to each rush for more than 1,100 yards in the same season as the Panthers set a franchise record and finished third in the NFL with 2,498 yards. Stewart led the way with 1,133 yards, the third-highest total in team history, while Williams became the first player in team history to record consecutive 1,000-yard seasons and earned his first Pro Bowl selection after compiling 1,117 yards.

A year earlier, Williams set team records with 1,515 rushing yards and 18 rushing touchdowns, and Stewart established team rookie marks with 836 yards and 10 touchdowns (since broken) to propel Carolina to a ranking of third in the NFL with 2,437 rushing yards. Along the way, they became the first Panthers to both gain 100 yards in the same game, accomplishing the feat versus Detroit and versus Tampa Bay en route to a team single-game record 299-yard performance.

However, Skipper's best effort may have come in 2004 when Carolina started four different halfbacks because of injuries. Over the last eight games, Goings, a former undrafted rookie free agent, recorded five 100-yard outings. That came after a 2003 season in which Skipper helped the Panthers to 2,091 rushing yards and an appearance in Super Bowl XXXVIII, while Davis earned Pro Bowl honors with 1,444 yards, the second most in team history.

Skipper originally came to Carolina after spending four years with the New York Giants from 1997-2000 and 2001 as head coach of the XFL's San Francisco Demons. In his first season with New York, the Giants finished seventh in the NFL in rushing with an average of 124.3 yards per game. The next year, Gary Brown ground out 1,063 yards, and Tiki Barber followed with 1,006 yards in 2000.

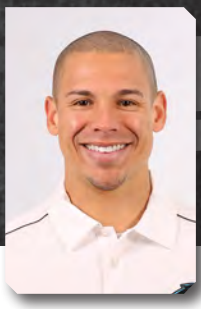

He began his NFL coaching career as running backs coach with the New Orleans Saints in 1986 and served in that capacity through 1995. During his 10 years with New Orleans, Skipper coached two Pro Bowlers, Rueben Mayes and Dalton Hilliard. Mayes' 1,353 yards in 1986 and Hilliard's 1,262 in 1989 still stand among the top five totals in Saints history.

In 1996, Skipper moved to Arizona and coached one season with the Cardinals. Under his direction, fullback Larry Centers rushed for 425 yards and led all NFL running backs with 99 receptions for 766 yards to earn Pro Bowl honors.

Skipper entered coaching as the defensive backs coach at Cal Poly-Pomona in 1974 before joining San Jose State in 1977. He switched to offense as running backs coach at Pacific in 1979 and then coached at Oregon from 1980-82. Skipper made his foray into the professional coaching ranks with the USFL's Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars from 1983-85.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A graduate of Whittier College, Skipper played defensive back and also served as a kick and punt returner for the Poets. Born in Breaux Bridge, La., he grew up in Brawley, Calif.

HISTORY: Defensive back Whittier College 1971-72. College coach: Cal Poly-Pomona 1974-76, San Jose State 1977-78, Pacific 1979, Oregon 1980-82. Pro coach: Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars (USFL) 1983-85, New Orleans Saints 1986-95, Arizona Cardinals 1996, New York Giants 1997-2000, San Francisco Demons (XFL) 2001 (head coach), Carolina Panthers 2002-10, Tennessee Titans 2011-12, rejoined Panthers in 2013.

Taylor came to the Jets after one season as wide receivers coach at Appalachian State, helping the Mountaineers set school records with 284 receptions and 3,621 receiving yards in 2009. The Mountaineers finished 11-3, won the Southern Conference title and earned a NCAA Division I Football Championship playoff appearance, advancing to the national semifinals.

ERIC WASHINGTON

DEFENSIVE LINE

GRAMBLING STATE
SIXTH NFL SEASON / THIRD PANTHERS SEASON

COACHING: In his third season as the Panthers defensive line coach, Eric Washington has brought a blend of youthful energy and abundant experience as a coach on the pro and college levels to the Panthers and his players have responded.

In 2012, Washington's defensive line helped the Panthers rank 10th in the NFL in total defense as 37 of the team's 39 sacks came from the defensive line. As a team, Carolina's 39 sacks ranked ninth in the NFL and were the team's most since 2006. The Panthers recorded six or more sacks in three games, including a franchise record-tying seven at Atlanta (9/30/12).

Under Washington's tutelage, ends Charles Johnson and Greg Hardy became the first pair of Panthers with double-digit sacks since 2002. Johnson led the team with 12.5 sacks, good for sixth in the NFL, in addition to seven forced fumbles, the second-highest mark in the League. Hardy produced 11 sacks, bettering the seven sacks he had in his first two seasons in the NFL combined (2010-11). In addition, defensive tackle Dwan Edwards provided push from the inside, tallying a career-high six sacks after producing 5.5 sacks combined in his previous eight seasons in the NFL.

In 2011, his first season in Carolina, Washington was charged with mentoring a young defensive line group that started three different rookies at defensive tackle. The unit, led by Johnson, responded to Washington, producing 25.5 of the team's 31 sacks. Johnson led the team with nine sacks before his season was cut short by a back injury while second-year player Hardy, finished tied for second with four sacks.

Washington joined the Panthers after spending 2008-10 with the Chicago Bears. Elevated to defensive line coach in 2010, Washington presided over a group that accounted for 25 of the team's 34 sacks and helped the Bears rank ninth in the NFL in total defense, second in rushing defense and fourth in scoring defense. Along the defensive line, he coached Pro Bowler Julius Peppers and end Israel Idonije, who tied for the team lead with eight sacks each.

Prior to being promoted to defensive line coach, Washington worked for two seasons as Chicago's defensive assistant/assistant defensive line coach. He gained his first professional coaching experience by twice participating in the NFL's Minority Internship Program, assisting with the Bears defensive line during training camp in 2005 and aiding the Atlanta Falcons linebackers during training camp in 2004.

From 2004-07, Washington served as the defensive line coach at Northwestern. With the Wildcats, he developed several pro prospects. End Luis Castillo was selected in the first round by the San Diego Chargers in 2005, and tackle Barry Cofield was chosen in the fourth round by the New York Giants in 2006. Washington also tutored end Corey Wootton, who garnered honorable mention All-Big Ten recognition as a freshman and was drafted in the fourth round by the Bears in 2010.

Before his arrival at Northwestern, Washington oversaw the defensive line and kickoff coverage team at Ohio for three seasons from 2001-03. He began his college coaching career at Texas A&M as a graduate assistant in 1997.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: Washington played at Grambling State University from 1989-90 for legendary head coach Eddie Robinson and earned a Bachelor of Science Degree from Grambling in 1993. STEVE WILKS

SECONDARY / PASS DEFENSE COORDINATOR

APPALACHIAN STATE
EIGHTH NFL SEASON / SECOND PANTHERS SEASON

Coaching: Steve Wilks is in his second season as the Panthers' secondary coach and pass defense coordinator after an inaugural campaign in which he helped the team improve from 24th in passing defense in 2011 to 13th in 2012. Despite dealing with injuries throughout the year, Wilks' secondary tied a team record with three interception returns for touchdowns and Carolina finished the season ranked 10th in the NFL in total defense, its highest finish since 2009.

Veteran safety Charles Godfrey led a secondary that received contributions from a number of young players as rookies D.J. Campbell and Josh Norman and second-year players Josh Thomas and James Dockery combined to start 22 games. The secondary helped the Panthers finish first in the NFL in average yards after catch and limit opponents to 38 pass plays of 20-or-more yards, tied for third-fewest in the League.

Wilks, a Charlotte native, brought nearly 20 years of college and pro coaching experience to the Panthers and rejoined head coach Ron Rivera, whom he previously worked with in San Diego and Chicago.

Prior to joining the Panthers, Wilks oversaw the San Diego Chargers' secondary from 2009-11. He was promoted to assistant head coach/secondary in 2011 from secondary coach. The Chargers' pass defense vastly improved under Wilks' guidance. Prior to his arrival, San Diego ranked 31st in the NFL against the pass but jumped to 11th in 2009, first in 2010 and 13th in 2011.

Wilks and Rivera formed a formidable duo in 2010 when Rivera served as defensive coordinator and the Chargers led the NFL in total defense and pass defense. San Diego limited opponents to a 76.2 passer rating, the fourth lowest in the league, and allowed 18 touchdown passes, the fifth fewest in the NFL.

He came to San Diego following three seasons as defensive backs coach for the Chicago Bears. One of Wilks' strengths while with the Bears was his emphasis on creating turnovers.

From 2006-08, cornerbacks and safeties accounted for 42 of the team's 62 interceptions, including 16 in 2006 when Chicago – with Rivera as defensive coordinator – led the NFL with 44 takeaways, won the NFC Championship and advanced to Super Bowl XLI. The Bears' defensive backs also forced 20 fumbles during Wilks' tenure, the most in the NFL in that span.

Before joining the Bears, Wilks coached 11 seasons on the college level, honing his craft as a defensive backs coach, defensive coordinator and head coach. He went to Washington as defensive backs coach in 2005 from Notre Dame, where he helped the Irish earn a bowl bid in his only season there in 2004.

Previously, Wilks was the defensive backs coach at Bowling Green State University in 2003, producing an All-American cornerback, and was co-defensive coordinator at East Tennessee State in 2002 for a unit that featured three defensive backs who earned All-Southern Conference honors. He also had one-year stints as the defensive backs coach at Appalachian State in 2001 and Illinois State in 2000.

Wilks spent 1999 as the head coach at Savannah State, guiding the team to a 5-6 record, after serving as the team's defensive coordinator from 1997-98. In 1998, he earned Division II defensive coordinator of the year as the Tigers led the nation in total defense. Wilks began his coaching career as defensive coordinator at Johnson C. Smith in Charlotte in 1995.

PLAYING AND PERSONAL: A product of West Charlotte High School, Wilks played defensive back at Appalachian State from 1987-91 and finished his career with 103 tackles, four interceptions and four blocked kicks. He attended training camp with the Seattle Seahawks in 1992 and lined up at defensive back and wide receiver for the Charlotte Rage of the Arena Football League in 1993.

Wilks and his wife, Marcia, have two daughters, Marissa and Melanni, and a son, Steven. He graduated from Appalachian State with a degree in communications.

DAVE GETTLEMAN

GENERAL MANAGER

SPRINGFIELD COLLEGE
BORN FEBRUARY 21, 1951
TWENTY-EIGHTH NFL SEASON / FIRST PANTHERS SEASON

Just when it looked like Dave Gettleman might never get the chance that his career body of work deserved, opportunity knocked with the Carolina Panthers when he was named the team's general manager January 9, 2013.

And the long-time NFL personnel man hit the ground running.

Coming into a salary-cap challenged situation, Gettleman worked hard and creatively to keep the core of the Panthers roster together when many thought that was not possible.

Then facing a draft without the benefit of a season of seeing the college prospects first-hand, he engineered a draft that has been well-received despite being limited to just five choices.

If Gettleman has approached his new position like a thirsty man who at last found water, it is understandable. After applying his trade for nearly 30 years in the NFL, the long-time scout is now getting his chance to direct a team's program.

He brings experience and knowledge from winning organizations, a fact that was not lost on Panthers Owner/Founder Jerry Richardson.

"I was very impressed with Dave's experience and think he will be a very good fit for our organization," said Richardson upon selecting Gettleman. "He has an extensive background in personnel and comes from an organization in the New York Giants that I hold in high regard and he played an instrumental role in their success."

"I am honored and thrilled to have the opportunity to work in the Panthers organization," said Gettleman in January. "It is similar to the Giants organization in which I have had the privilege of working the last 15 years and has a lot of pieces in place for success."

In a few short months, Gettleman has also become one of the most important of pieces in the organization as he has impressed onlookers with his ability to maneuver through the intricacies of the salary cap while deepening the talent on the Carolina roster.

In the five years prior to coming to Carolina, he saw firsthand what a solid salary cap structure and a deep roster could do as the Giants won two Super Bowl titles. In both of those championships, Gettleman had the critical role of overseeing the addition of veteran talent as the team's Pro Personnel Director. After the second Super Bowl title in 2011, he became the team's Senior Pro Personnel Analyst, ending a run of 13 years as the Director of Pro Personnel.

However, his association with winning did not just start with the Giants.

Overall, Gettleman has been a part of six Super Bowl teams, including three winners. He was with Buffalo in 1990 and 1991, Denver in 1997 and the Giants in 2000, 2007 and 2011. The Broncos and the 2007 and 2011 Giants both won the championship. Gettleman has been associated with 13 playoff teams in his NFL career.

Self-described and by those who know him best as a 'grinder,' Gettleman paid his dues as a college scout, crisscrossing the country in search of young talent for 11 years before becoming the Giants Director of Pro Personnel in 1999. In that position he played a critical role in supplementing the team's drafted talent with veterans who could mean the difference between winning and losing.

Both of the New York championship teams were peppered with players acquired through the pro personnel department, including eight starters in both 2007 and 2011, plus the kicker and punter, as well as a number of key situational players.

His career in the National Football League began in 1986 as a scouting department intern for the Buffalo Bills. He became a full-time scout for Buffalo after the 1987 draft. Following a year as an area scout, Gettleman was assigned as the Bills' representative to the BLESTO scouting combine and continued in that capacity through the 1992 draft as the Northeast area scout.

From June 1992 through December 1993, Gettleman worked as a regional scout for BLESTO, concentrating in the East and Midwest regions. In January 1994, Gettleman joined the scouting department of the Broncos, for whom he spent more than four years scouting the East and Southeast.

It was as a member of the Broncos that he tasted his first Super Bowl championship in 1997 after near misses with the Bills in 1990 and 1991.

He began his football career as a teacher-coach at Spackenkill High School in Poughkeepsie, N.Y. As the head coach (1973-1978, 1980-1981), he led his teams to a pair of league titles. He spent a season as a volunteer assistant at Cal State Long Beach (1979). Gettleman joined the faculty of Kingston High School in 1982 and became the head coach in 1984, when he led his team to a Section I Bowl Berth.

Born in Boston, Gettleman earned a bachelor's degree from Springfield (Mass.) College in 1972. He was an offensive tackle on the freshman football team. Gettleman has two master's degrees: one in physical education from Southern Connecticut State (1978) and another in sports administration from St. Thomas University (1986) in Miami.

Gettleman and his wife, Joanne, have three children: Aaron, Sam, and Ana Jane.

DON GREGORY

DIRECTOR OF COLLEGE SCOUTING

WHITWORTH COLLEGE
BORN JANUARY 15, 1956
SEVENTEENTH NFL SEASON / SEVENTH PANTHERS SEASON

Don Gregory was named Director of College Scouting for the Panthers during the summer of 2006 and his impact is visible throughout the Carolina lineup, but nowhere more than at the heart of the offensive and defensive units where quarterback Cam Newton and linebacker Luke Kuechly have earned back-to-back NFL Rookie-of-the-Year Awards.

Newton was named the League's Offensive Rookie-of-the-Year in 2011 after breaking Peyton Manning's first-year passing records and Kuechly, the ninth selection in the 2012 Draft, was named the NFL Defensive Rookie-of-the Year after helping the Panthers move from 28th to 10th in total yardage in 2012.

It is only the fourth time in League history that a team has selected Offensive and Defensive Rookies-of-the-Year in back-to-back seasons and only the second time it has happened in the last 40 seasons.

This year, Gregory again played a most instrumental role in the draft for the Panthers upon the arrival of new general manager Dave Gettleman, who assumed responsibilities in January.

His success is no surprise, for Gregory is so diligent in his quest to uncover the best talent that he chooses to live in Dallas, where accessibility to the country's colleges is seldom more than a two-hour flight away.

Each fall and spring he sees approximately 300 players, stretching from coast-to-coast in a routine reminiscent of Groundhog Day. It's a schedule that has taken him to Nevada, Oregon, Washington, Alabama, South Carolina, Louisiana, Florida, Texas and California in a 10-day period.

However, searching the country for talent is not something that is new to Gregory, who chose scouting over coaching following a successful college playing career.

"I made that choice largely because of a scout named Gene Bates, who had scouted me when I was in college and became my mentor," says Gregory. "I went into high school coaching for eight years after playing, and Gene was instrumental in my transition into scouting as well as my development there."

Starting with a personnel position with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League, Gregory began his climb up the pro ladder. He worked with the Eskimos from 1986-1990 before going to the World League of American Football to scout the northwest for the San Antonio Riders in 1990 and 1991. Gregory returned to Edmonton in 1992 and remained there until moving to the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the CFL for two years.

Gregory moved to the National Football League in 1995 as a scout with the San Diego Chargers and remained with the team until 1999.

In 2001, a move to the Las Vegas Outlaws of the XFL as Director of Player Personnel took Gregory out of the NFL, but he soon returned as a member of the Kansas City Chiefs scouting department. With the Chiefs, he served as a national scout in the south and southeast for five years.

Familiar with his work ethic and dedication to his profession, former general manager Marty Hurney tabbed Gregory seven years ago to become the Panthers director of college scouting. However, Gregory chose to keep his home in Dallas rather than move to Charlotte.

"I guess I've made my name in this business by being a grinder and that involves a lot of travel," explains Gregory. "I try to set an example by being on the road myself, and it helps you understand the issues scouts experience. Dallas is pretty centrally located in the middle of the country, so I can go east or west and be pretty much anywhere within a few hours."

A native of Pearl City, Hawaii, Don moved to Great Falls, Montana in the sixth grade and played college football at Wenatchee Valley College in 1974 and 1975 before transferring in 1976 to Portland State, where he played in the "run and shoot" offense of coach Mouse Davis and quarterback June Jones. Gregory finished his college career at Whitworth College, where he received a bachelor's of science degree in 1979. He then coached high school football in Washington before joining the Eskimos.

MARK KONCZ

DIRECTOR OF PRO SCOUTING

KANSAS
BORN DECEMBER 14, 1966
NINETEENTH NFL SEASON / NINETEENTH PANTHERS SEASON

Mark Koncz is an integral part of the Panthers football operations as Director of Pro Scouting, annually providing a steady stream of veteran talent to the team's roster. The ability of Koncz to discover available talent has paid dividends year after year, whether as an offseason acquisition or an in-season waiver wire pickup.

Now, with the arrival of general manager Dave Gettleman, who brings a pro personnel background from the New York Giants, the importance of his role and department will only increase.

Over the last two seasons, the Panthers have placed more than 30 players on injured reserve, leaving Koncz and his staff with the challenge of finding capable replacements. That the Panthers have been able to finish strong in both of those seasons is a testament to their ability. While winning five of the last six games a year ago, the Panthers started Josh Thomas (waivers) and James Dockery (free agent) at cornerbacks.

The long list of veteran talent mined by Koncz includes Jeremy Shockey, Stephen Davis, Ricky Proehl, Mark Fields, Brandon Short, Rodney Peete, Brentson Buckner, Terry Cousin, Marlon McCree, Al Wallace, Mike Wahle and Chris Harris. Free agent signee Jake Delhomme became the winningest quarterback in team history.

The Pro Personnel Department also stepped forward in 2004 when Carolina reached midseason with 14 players on injured reserve, leaving a challenge of finding replacements. Several of those late arrivals played instrumental roles in the team's second-half rally and reinforced Koncz's reputation for finding talent in a variety of ways.

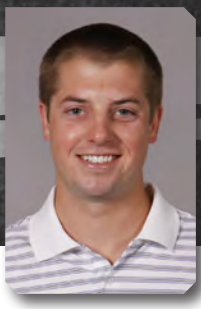

Year after year, his recommendations have turned out to be blue chips. In 2003 it was a trio of veteran free agent finds – Davis, who set a club rushing record with 1,444 yards, Delhomme and Proehl, the big play wide receiver – who helped propel the Panthers to the NFC Championship and Super Bowl.

Sorting through the free agent pool to find the right fit for the Panthers is nothing new for Koncz. In 2002, five free agent finds proved vital for Carolina. Peete started at quarterback for all seven victories, Lamar Smith was the team's leading rusher, Fields led the team in tackles, Cousin was a starting cornerback and Wallace provided invaluable depth at defensive end.

The work of Koncz and his staff also resulted in the signing of guard Kevin Donnalley and Buckner at defensive tackle, both starters on the 2003 Super Bowl team. The pro personnel department is constantly evaluating NFL rosters in preparation for a need, and their time has been well spent. Whether waiver acquisitions such as Rod Smart or former starter Reggie Howard, high profile free agents such as Davis or unknown talents such as Delhomme, it is Koncz's job to be ready to fill a need. When an injury creates that need at a moment's notice, the pro personnel department must be ready to respond with recommendations.

Koncz has been scouring for hidden gems since 1998 when he joined the scouting department. He was named the Panthers director of pro scouting after working as the Panthers manager of football operations. In addition to his work of player evaluations throughout the NFL, he coordinates the advance scouting of opponents.

Koncz is a 1990 graduate of the University of Kansas, where he was a three-year letterman and three-year starter for the Jayhawks, serving as team captain his senior season. He earned a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University in 1993 and joined the Panthers in July 1994, starting in the ticketing department. A native of Chicago, Ill., Koncz is a graduate of Barrington High School. He and his wife, Yvette, live in Fort Mill, S.C., and have a daughter, Milena, and a son, Nolan.

ELCTRIFYING RETURN NEARLY NETS ADAMS ESPY AWARD

Panthers wide receiver and return man Joe Adams earned the Johnny Rodgers Award as the nation's top returner as a senior at Arkansas in 2011. His electrifying 60-yard punt return for a touchdown vs. Tennessee that season nearly brought him home more hardware.

Adams return vs. the Volunteers (11/12/11) was a finalist for Best Play at the 2012 ESPYS, ESPN's annual sports awards show. On the return, Adams fielded the punt at his own 40-yard line and then ran toward the right sideline before retreating back to the 30-yard line. He appeared to be pinned in by a wall of Tennessee defenders but broke seven tackles before weaving his way through blockers past the 50-yard line, where he was able to take off down the right sideline untouched the rest of the way to the end zone.

Ultimately, Adams' play finished second in voting to University of Indiana basketball player Christian Watford's last second three-point shot that gave the Hoosiers a 73-72 upset win over No. 1 Kentucky.

EDWARDS PART OF ONE OF COLLEGE FOOTBALL'S BIGGEST UPSETS

As the quarterback for the then Division I Football Championship Subdivision Appalachian Mountaineers in 2007, Armanti Edwards was part of one of the biggest upsets in college football history.

On September 1, 2007, Appalachian State traveled to Michigan and defeated the No. 5-ranked Wolverines, 34-32 in front of 109,218 fans. The victory marked the first time an FCS team had beaten a ranked Football Bowl Subdivision opponent.

Edwards accounted for all four of Appalachian State's touchdowns (three passing and one rushing) and the Mountaineers blocked a game-winning field goal attempt from Michigan at the end of regulation to preserve the victory.

GROSS PART OF WILD DRAFT DAY DRAMA

In 2003, Jordan Gross was part of some Draft Day drama. That year, the Panthers entered the Draft with the ninth pick, behind Minnesota in the seventh spot, and Jacksonville at eight. Baltimore followed the Panthers at 10.

The drama started at the seventh spot when Minnesota allowed their allotted 15 minutes to elapse without making a pick. Minnesota was trying to trade its pick to Baltimore, so the Ravens could skip ahead of Jacksonville to take quarterback Byron Leftwich. The Vikings thought they had a deal, but the League never approved it.

So the Jaguars, at the ready, sprinted to the table to take Leftwich instead when the Vikings' time was up, as rules allow.

The Panthers followed suit, rushing to turn in their pick of Gross in the eighth spot. Since being selected, Gross has been a mainstay at tackle for the Panthers, starting 151 games over 10 seasons and earning two Pro Bowl selections.

The Vikings finally did make their pick, choosing defensive tackle Kevin Williams at No. 9.

Tight end Ben Hartsock has made his mark helping clear paths in the running game, but he has an interesting connection in the passing game with highly-drafted quarterbacks.

Only five of Hartsock's 31 career receptions have not come from a quarterback selected in the draft's first five picks. Hartsock caught the first pass of his NFL career from No. 1 overall pick Peyton Manning (2004), the first pass of his Tennessee career from No. 3 overall pick Vince Young (2006), the first pass of his Atlanta career from No. 3 overall pick Matt Ryan (2008), the first pass of his New York Jets career from No. 5 overall pick Mark Sanchez (2009) and the first pass of his Carolina career from No. 1 overall pick Cam Newton (2011).

GAME 1 TAMPA BAY 16 – CAROLINA 10

September 9, 2012
Raymond James Stadium • Tampa, FL

Tampa Bay jumped out to a 13-0 lead through two quarters and held on in the second half for a 16-10 season-opening win over Carolina. Josh Freeman's six-yard touchdown pass to Mike Williams in the first quarter, followed by two Connor Barth field goals, established Tampa Bay's first-half lead. Carolina cut that lead to six with a touchdown drive on its first possession of the second half. Quarterback Cam Newton's fake handoff to running back DeAngelo Williams sucked in the Buccaneers' linebackers, and after pump-faking to his left, Newton found wide receiver Brandon LaFell wide open over the middle for a 22-yard touchdown. The defense immediately followed that score by forcing a three-and-out, and returned the ensuing punt 21 yards to the Tampa Bay 41-yard line. The Panthers' surging momentum came to a halt on the next play. Newton's pass over the middle for LaFell was tipped by Eric Wright and intercepted by Ronde Barber. The Carolina defense delivered another three-and-out, but it was the same result for the offense on the ensuing possession. Penalties (six for 65 yards in total), and turnovers (minus-2 in the turnover ratio), true to form, proved costly. The Buccaneers added to their lead in the fourth quarter by taking advantage of an error from the Carolina punt team. Tampa Bay's Aqib Talib came off the right side of the line and blocked Brad Nortman's punt. The Bucs took over on the Panthers' 42-yard line. Connor Barth converted his third field goal of the game – a 40-yarder – seven plays later to give the Bucs a 16-7 advantage. Justin Medlock added a 21-yard field goal for the Panthers with 2:50 remaining in the game and with three timeouts available. Carolina could give its offense one more chance if the defense came up with a three-and-out. After the Panthers held Tampa Bay running back Doug Martin to a 4-yard gain on successive plays – and called a timeout after each stop – Freeman connected with wideout Vincent Jackson over the middle for four yards and a new set of downs.

GAME 2 CAROLINA 35 – NEW ORLEANS 27

Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

The Panthers rushed for 219 yards and three scores – courtesy of quarterback Cam Newton and running backs DeAngelo Williams and Mike Tolbert to defeat New Orleans 35-27. That production from the run game helped set up big gains through the air off play-action, and Newton finished with 253 yards passing and one touchdown pass to running back Jonathan Stewart. It was the defense that did the initial scoring for Carolina, registering a first quarter turnover that brought Bank of America Stadium, and the Panthers, to life. The Saints produced an 11-play, 80-yard touchdown drive on the game's opening possession and quickly got the ball back at their own 7-yard line after Carolina's offense went three-and-out. On second down, quarterback Drew Brees rolled right and tried to fit the ball in to tight end David Thomas. Godfrey anticipated the throw and stepped in front of Thomas for the interception, then sprinted nine yards untouched into the end zone to level the score. After Garrett Hartley converted a 22-yard field goal for New Orleans in the second quarter, Newton quickly moved the Panthers downfield with a 40-yard scamper on an option keeper down the right sideline. The Saints defense stiffened in the red zone, leaving Carolina with a fourth-and-one from the 4-yard line. The Panthers went for it, and Newton fumbled an option-pitch to Tolbert, allowing the Saints to take over on downs. New Orleans added another field goal on its ensuing possession to extend their lead to 13-7, but the Panthers then grabbed the lead and never trailed again. Newton floated a screen pass to Stewart, and with center Ryan Kalil leading the way, Stewart stormed 17 yards into the end zone to give Carolina a 14-13 lead. Tolbert plunged his way in from two yards out to extend the lead to 21-13 just before halftime and after the break Williams charged in for a 3-yard score. Saints running back Mark Ingram cut the lead to eight in the fourth quarter with a 1-yard rushing touchdown, but it didn't take long for the Panthers to strike back. On the first play of the next drive, Steve Smith was open deep down the right sideline, and Newton found him for a 66-yard gain. Five plays later, Newton powered his way across the goal line to give the Panthers a 35-20 advantage with 9:58 remaining. Brees scored on a 1-yard quarterback sneak immediately following the two-minute warning, and the Saints' onside kick attempt moments later was thwarted by tight end Greg Olsen, who trapped the bouncing ball as it skipped toward him. New Orleans ultimately got the ball back with 48 seconds left and no timeouts, but linebacker Jon Beason sealed the victory for Carolina by intercepting Brees' pass over the middle.

GAME 3 NEW YORK GIANTS 36 – CAROLINA 7

Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Eli Manning completed 27-of-35 passes for 288 yards and running back Andre Brown rushed for 113 yards on 20 carries leading the New York Giants to a 36-7 victory over Carolina. The Giants opened the game with an 80-yard touchdown drive that culminated in Manning finding tight end Martellus Bennett in the end zone from 14 yards out to give the Giants the early 7-0 lead. When the Panthers' first drive stalled, the Giants took over and moved into Carolina territory, but Panthers cornerback Captain Munnerlyn broke up a third-down pass, forcing New York to settle for a 47-yard Lawrence Tynes field goal late in the first quarter. Following another Panthers' punt, the Giants put together another touchdown drive. This time, they traveled 72 yards in nine plays. Brown charged into the end zone for a 1-yard score to extend the lead to 17-0 with 12:08 to go in the second quarter. The Panthers next possession resulted in a third consecutive punt and Tynes added a 49-yard field goal to give the Giants a 20-0 advantage. Returner Joe Adams fumbled and the Giants recovered at the Carolina 19-yard line. Moments later, Tynes knocked in a 30-yard field goal. Down 23-0, the Panthers offense took the field and put their first points on the board. Newton engineered a 13-play, 80-yard drive. On third-and-goal, the Panthers quarterback leaped over the pile for a 1-yard score. The Giants countered with a field goal from Tynes with less than a minute remaining in the third quarter. Carolina then turned the ball over for a third time. Minutes later, Brown recorded his second touchdown run and the Giants led 33-7.

GAME 4 ATLANTA 30 – CAROLINA 28

September 30, 2012
Georgia Dome • Atlanta, GA

Atlanta kicker Matt Bryant kicked a 40-yard field goal with five seconds left to give Atlanta a 30-28 come-from-behind victory over Carolina. Falcons quarterback Matt Ryan and wide receiver Roddy White connected for two first half Atlanta touchdowns and the Panthers scored courtesy of tight end Greg Olsen's touchdown catch and running back DeAngelo Williams' touchdown run. A 41-yard field goal by Bryant was all that separated the teams at the half, with Atlanta up 17-14. Atlanta opened the scoring in the second half with a 60-yard touchdown catch by Michael Turner on a screen pass. On the ensuing possession, the Panthers efficiently marched downfield and didn't face a third down until they reached the Atlanta 19-yard line for third-and-8. Newton detected a blitz and escaped through the middle of the pocket for a 15-yard gain. Newton charged into the end zone for the 4-yard touchdown on the next play, cutting the deficit to three late in the third quarter. Carolina took a 28-24 lead at the 8:03 mark of the fourth quarter. Newton started the scoring drive with a 34-yard completion to Olsen down the right sideline. Facing third-and-10 at the Atlanta 36-yard line four plays later, Newton fired a quick screen pass left to Kealoha Pilares, who sprinted untouched into the end zone. But after Pilares' fourth-quarter touchdown catch-and-run gave Carolina a four-point lead, Bryant knocked in a 33-yard field goal for Atlanta with five minutes left to cut the deficit to one point. Both teams proceeded to go three-and-out before Carolina took over at its own 32-yard line with 2:26 remaining. The Panthers punted on fourth-and-short, and Atlanta took advantage of the opportunity. Ryan avoided the rush and hurled a deep pass down the left sideline to White for a 59-yard gain setting up Bryant's winning field goal with five seconds remaining.

GAME 5 SEATTLE 16 – CAROLINA 12

October 7, 2012
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

The Seattle defense limited Carolina to 190 total yards and Seahawks kicker Steven Hauschka added three field goals in a 16-12 win over Carolina. Seattle opened the scoring with two Hauschka field goals from 22 yards and 36 yards. The Panthers got on the board in the second quarter with a Justin Medlock 32-yard field goal. The Seahawks held a 6-3 advantage at halftime. Cornerback Captain Munnerlyn gave the Panthers' their first lead, 10-6, when he stepped in front of a pass and returned the interception 33 yards for a score. Late in the third quarter, on first down from the Carolina 30-yard line, Panthers quarterback Cam Newton pitched the ball to running back DeAngelo Williams, who was stripped by cornerback Brandon Browner. Browner recovered the fumble and five plays later, quarterback Russell Wilson connected with wideout Golden Tate for a 13-yard touchdown. Hauschka added a 44-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter to extend the Seattle lead to 16-10. The Carolina offense responded with a 10-play, 79-yard drive to set up fourth-and goal from the 1-yard line, but stalled on downs at the 1-yard line. The Seahawks maintained their 16-10 lead with 3:47 left. Following the turnover on downs, Seattle gained a first down before the two-minute warning. Carolina called its third timeout after a pair of runs from Lynch, and Wilson's third-down scramble came up seven yards short. Seattle punter Jon Ryan then took six seconds off the clock by intentionally running through the back of the end zone for a safety. After an incomplete pass on first down, Seattle defensive end Bruce Irvin stripped the ball and the Seahawks recovered sealing the victory.

GAME 6 DALLAS 19 – CAROLINA 14

October 21, 2012
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Tony Romo threw for 227 yards and a touchdown and Dan Bailey connected on four field goals leading Dallas to a 19-14 win over Carolina. Carolina held a 7-3 halftime lead thanks to an 80-yard touchdown drive set up by a takeaway. Dallas wide receiver Miles Austin was running downfield after a 15-yard catch when linebacker Thomas Davis punched the ball free and fellow-linebacker Luke Kuechly recovered. Ten plays later, quarterback Cam Newton completed a pass to wide receiver Brandon LaFell sprinting across the field at the 2-yard line, and the wideout reached the ball over the pylon with 14 seconds left in the first half. Dallas struck early in the second half when Romo connected with Austin in the back left corner of the end zone for a 26-yard touchdown to give Dallas a 10-7 advantage midway through the third quarter. After a 49-yard field goal from Bailey, Carolina went back in front, 14-13, on a 2-yard touchdown plunge from fullback Mike Tolbert with 11:38 to go in the fourth quarter. The Panthers went with a no-huddle, up-tempo offense, reaching the end zone after a 9-play, 75-yard drive. But Carolina turned in a three-and-out on its next possession and Brad Nortman's 42-yard punt was fair caught by Dez Bryant at the Dallas 41-yard line. With the ball at midfield, the Cowboys capitalized, moving 44 yards in 10 plays before Bailey knocked in a 28-yard field goal to re-gain the lead for good.

GAME 7 CHICAGO 23 – CAROLINA 22

October 28, 2012
Soldier Field • Chicago, IL

Bears quarterback Jay Cutler completed 19-of-28 passes for 186 yards and Robbie Gould connected on a 41-yard field goal as time expired to give Chicago a 23-22 victory over Carolina. The Bears held a 7-3 lead in the first quarter courtesy of Matt Forte's 13-yard touchdown run, but a strip of Cutler by Charles Johnson and fumble recovery by Frank Alexander allowed the Carolina offense to go to work from the Bears' 16-yard line. On third-and-3, quarterback Cam Newton took off for the end zone up the middle. Chicago safety Major Wright drilled a diving Newton and forced him to fumble just before he reached the ball across the goal line. However, wide receiver Louis Murphy pounced on the ball in the end zone for the touchdown. Justin Medlock added a 31-yard field goal in the second quarter and the Panthers led 13-7 at the half. Medlock added two more field goals (22, 43) in the third quarter to give the Panthers 19 unanswered points, but the Bears rallied back in the fourth quarter. The game turned in Chicago's favor with 6:58 remaining in the fourth quarter, when Cutler connected with tight end Kellen Davis in the back of the end zone for a 12-yard touchdown to cut the Carolina lead to five. On the first play of the ensuing Panthers possession, Bears cornerback Tim Jennings intercepted a pass – his second interception of the game – and sprinted 25 yards down the sideline for a touchdown to give the Bears a 20-19 lead. Carolina responded with an 11-play drive to set up Medlock for a 45-yard field goal attempt. Medlock's kick caromed off the right upright and through, giving the Panthers a two-point lead with 2:32 left. The Bears took over at their own 22-yard line, and Cutler proceeded to complete 6-of-7 passes to move the ball 55 yards downfield. Bears' wide receiver Brandon Marshall hauled in four catches for 36 yards during the final drive. Chicago called a timeout with four seconds left before Gould knocked in the game-winner.

GAME 8 CAROLINA 21 – WASHINGTON 13

November 4, 2012
FedEx Field • Landover, MD

Cam Newton completed 13-of-23 passes for 201 yards with one touchdown and no interceptions leading Carolina to a 21-13 victory over Washington. The Redskins took an early 3-0 lead, but after running back DeAngelo Williams' 30-yard touchdown run late in the first quarter, Carolina never trailed. And it was a defensive stand followed by a meticulous scoring drive that turned the contest in Carolina's favor. On the ensuing Redskins' possession after Williams' score, Washington began a drive with 24 seconds left in the first quarter. Sixteen plays and 10 minutes later, the Redskins had the ball on the Panthers' 2-yard line and faced fourth-and-goal with 5:21 remaining in the second quarter. Washington elected to go for its third fourth-down conversion of the drive. Quarterback Robert Griffin III took the shotgun snap and sprinted toward the right corner of the end zone, but he was met by defensive end Charles Johnson and stopped for no gain. The Panthers offense responded. Newton converted three third downs during the momentum-swinging drive, the first with an 11-yard run on third-and-2 from the Carolina 10-yard line, the other with a 17-yard pass to tight end Greg Olsen on third-and-6. Thanks to the 98-yard drive, the second-longest in team history, Carolina entered halftime with a 14-3 lead. Carolina's stingy red-zone defense continued into the second half. The Redskins were forced to settle for a 25-yard field goal midway through the third quarter, cutting the Panthers' lead to 14-6. On first down from the Panthers' 9-yard line, Newton play-faked and launched a pass down the left sideline from the edge of his own end zone. Wide receiver Armanti Edwards was wide open and hauled the pass in at the 35-yard line. Two plays later, Newton charged into the end zone for a 1-yard score, giving the Panthers a 21-6 lead. Washington found the end zone for the first time with 1:34 remaining in the game, as running back Evan Royster rushed for a 2-yard score. Smith recovered the onside kick, but the Redskins got the ball back with 17 seconds left. Linebacker Luke Kuechly sealed the Panthers' first road win with his 15th tackle of the day, dropping wide receiver Brandon Banks for a 9-yard loss as time expired.

GAME 9 DENVER 36 – CAROLINA 14

November 11, 2012
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Denver quarterback Peyton Manning completed 27-of-38 passes for 301 yards and Trindon Holliday returned a punt 76 yards for a touchdown leading Denver to a 36-14 victory over Carolina. The Panthers jumped out to a 7-0 lead in the opening quarter when quarterback Cam Newton connected with tight end Greg Olsen on a delayed, backside screen for a 4-yard touchdown. Denver tied the game when Manning rolled right and found wide receiver Brandon Stokley for a 10-yard touchdown. On the first play of the second quarter, Brad Nortman booted a 59-yard punt to Holliday, who fielded the ball between the hashes and sprinted behind several blockers down the right sideline for a 76-yard touchdown return. Matt Prater nailed a 53-yard field goal to extend the Broncos' lead to 17-7. The third quarter began with each team going three-and-out. Then the Panthers forced the game's first turnover. Defensive end Charles Johnson sacked Manning and stripped the ball before fellow-defensive end Greg Hardy pounced on it for the recovery. Carolina took over on its own 34-yard line, but on the next play the Denver defense put points on the board. Cornerback Tony Carter jumped in front of a pass for an interception and scored on a 40-yard return, giving the Broncos a 24-7 advantage with just under 10 minutes to go in the third quarter. The Panthers forced another turnover when Hardy stripped the ball from running back Willis McGahee and safety Charles Godfrey recovered at the Carolina 22-yard line. Prater extended the Denver lead with a 27-yard field goal at the start of the fourth quarter. The Denver defense added to the lead when safety Mike Adams sacked Newton for a safety on third-and-19 from the 2-yard line. Newton connected with Olsen for a 5-yard touchdown before the Broncos countered with a 5-yard touchdown run from running back Ronnie Hillman in the closing minutes.

GAME 10 TAMPA BAY 27 – CAROLINA 21

November 18, 2012
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

The Buccaneers erased an 11-point deficit in the final six minutes, then scored a touchdown on the opening possession of overtime to defeat Carolina, 27-21. Tampa Bay jumped out to a 10-0 lead in the first quarter, but the Carolina defense produced three takeaways to help turn the momentum. Cornerback Captain Munnerlyn returned an interception 74 yards for a touchdown late in the first quarter. The Panthers took a 14-10 lead early in the second quarter, on Jonathan Stewart's 1-yard touchdown run. A goal line takeaway allowed Carolina to maintain the lead in the fourth quarter. On fourth-and-inches from the Panthers' 2-yard line, linebacker Thomas Davis jarred the ball out of running back Doug Martin's hands just before he crossed the goal line. Linebacker Luke Kuechly recovered the fumble in the end zone and the Carolina offense produced a 7-play, 80-yard scoring drive that ended with a Brandon LaFell touchdown catch to give the Panthers a 21-10 advantage with 6:06 remaining in the fourth quarter. After a Tampa Bay field goal, the Panthers' offense took over with 4:03 left in regulation and picked up two first downs before being forced to punt. The offense never got another chance to take the field as the Buccaneers rallied for the overtime win. Tampa Bay got the ball back at their own 20-yard line with 1:02 remaining and no timeouts. Six plays later, Freeman fired a pass to the end zone for wide receiver Vincent Jackson who snatched the ball in the back of the end zone for a 24-yard score with 12 seconds left. Freeman then connected with Jackson on a quick slant for the game-tying two-point conversion. Tampa Bay won the overtime coin toss, and Martin quickly led the Buccaneers into Carolina territory with 38 rushing yards on the first two plays. Freeman's 4-yard completion to Jackson on third-and-1 gave Tampa Bay a first down at the Panthers' 15-yard line. On the next play, Dallas Clark caught the game-winning 15-yard touchdown pass.

GAME 11 CAROLINA 30 – PHILADELPHIA 22

Lincoln Financial Field • Philadelphia, PA

Carolina quarterback Cam Newton accounted for four touchdowns and the Panthers defense forced three turnovers leading Carolina to a 30-22 victory over Philadelphia on Monday Night Football. On Carolina's first drive, tight end Gary Barnidge put the Panthers ahead with a 24-yard touchdown catch – the first of his five-year career. Following a Philadelphia three-and-out on the ensuing possession, Carolina needed just three plays and 43 seconds to find the end zone again. Newton hit wide receiver Brandon LaFell, who ran untouched for a 43-yard touchdown with 3:36 left in the opening quarter. Philadelphia kicker Alex Henery connected on a 41-yard field goal in the opening minute of the second quarter, cutting the Carolina lead to 14-6. After the Panthers were forced to punt, Bryce Brown ran for a 65-yard touchdown. The Eagles looked to tie the game with a two-point try, but quarterback Nick Foles' pass was incomplete. Henery later gave Philadelphia a one-point advantage going into the half with a 45-yard field goal with 3:20 remaining in the second quarter. The Panthers received the ball to start the second half, and they took advantage. The Panthers marched 95 yards in 11 plays – highlighted by a 55-yard completion to wide receiver Louis Murphy – and Newton leapt across the goal line for a 1-yard touchdown on third-and-goal. Brown scored his second touchdown of the night moments later, but his second lost fumble late in the third quarter started a Panthers' late-game flurry. Carolina took over at the Phiadelphia 45-yard line and newly-acquired kicker Graham Gano's 23-yard field goal gave the Panthers a 23-22 lead with 12:43 to go. The Eagles drove to the Carolina 40-yard line on the ensuing possesion but failed to gain the single yard needed. The Panthers promptly converted the fourth down stop into points. Newton engineered a six-play, 60-yard drive that he culminated with his second rushing touchdown of the game – a 2-yard score on a sneak with just under five minutes left.

GAME 12 KANSAS CITY 27 – CAROLINA 21

December 2, 2012
Arrowhead Stadium • Kansas City, MO

Kansas City quarterback Brady Quinn completed 19-of-23 passes for 201 yards and two touchdowns leading the Chiefs to a 27-21 victory. Each offense started the game with a six-play scoring drive. Kansas City running back Peyton Hillis found the end zone on a 2-yard run, and Carolina quickly countered when quarterback Cam Newton connected with tight end Greg Olsen for a 47-yard touchdown. A 42-yard field goal from Ryan Succop gave the Chiefs a 10-7 lead, but the Panthers carried their momentum on offense into the second quarter. An 11-play drive was culminated by a 23-yard touchdown catch by Steve Smith in the left corner of the end zone. The Chiefs then proceeded to methodically drive downfield, using all of the 7:25 that remained in the first half. After calling a timeout with two seconds left, Kansas City faced fourth-and-goal from the 1-yard line on the 13th play of the drive. Quinn executed a play-action fake and located tight end Tony Moeaki open in the back of the end zone to give the Chiefs a 17-14 advantage at the half. Carolina threatened to regain the lead on its opening possession of the third quarter, but a dropped pass on what would have been a big gain forced a punt. Kansas City responded with another meticulous scoring drive. The Chiefs moved 87 yards in 17 plays, converting two fourth-and-1 opportunities in the process. Wide receiver Jonathan Baldwin extended the lead to 24-14 with a 3-yard touchdown catch with 2:56 remaining in the third quarter. Wide receiver Louis Murphy cut into the lead with an 8-yard touchdown grab at the start of the fourth quarter, but that proved to be the only score the Panthers produced in the second half. Succop's 52-yard field goal gave the Chiefs a six-point lead with 4:54 remaining. Kansas City then took over on its own 30-yard line with 3:47 left and the Chiefs churned valuable time off the clock before a punt pinned the Panthers at their own 14-yard line with 30 seconds left. Smith hauled in a 53-yard catch at the Chiefs' 8-yard line but there was no time left.

GAME 13 CAROLINA 30 – ATLANTA 20

December 9, 2012
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Carolina quarterback Cam Newton threw for 287 yards and rushed for 116 yards leading the Panthers to a 30-20 win over Atlanta. Newton became the first player in NFL history with at least 250 passing yards, 100 rushing yards and a touchdown pass and a touchdown run in a game. After winning their first coin toss of the season, the Panthers received the ball and produced an 11-play, 77-yard scoring drive. Tight end Greg Olsen made a leaping, 25-yard catch in the back of the end zone to give Carolina an early 7-0 lead. The Panthers had three more first half possessions, all of which resulted in Graham Gano field goals. At halftime, Atlanta trailed 16-0 and had been limited to just 35 total yards. There were 58 offensive plays in the first half. Carolina had 45 of them, possessing the ball for 23:48. The Falcons were 0-for-3 on third downs, while the Panthers were 7-for-11. The Panthers continued where they left off in the third quarter. Atlanta's drive to open the second half stalled at midfield, and Carolina took over on its own 14-yard line. After fullback Mike Tolbert plowed forward for a conversion on third-and-1, Newton produced the game's longest play with a 72-yard touchdown run to extend the lead. The Falcons responded with touchdowns on their next two possessions. Wide receiver Roddy White made a 4-yard touchdown grab with 4:53 left in the third quarter, and Julio Jones scored on an 11-yard reception early in the fourth quarter. After Jones' touchdown, White failed to haul in the two-point try, and Carolina led 23-13. Atlanta forced a punt and drove to midfield, but the drive ended when Davis intercepted Matt Ryan's fourth-down pass for White. Four plays later, Williams turned a screen pass into a 53-yard touchdown. Atlanta running back Michael Turner added a touchdown in the final minute before the Panthers recovered an onside kick and closed the game.

GAME 14 CAROLINA 31 – SAN DIEGO 7

December 16, 2012
Qualcomm Stadium • San Diego, CA

Fullback Mike Tolbert rushed for 40 yards and two touchdowns and quarterback Cam Newton passed for 231 yards and two scores leading Carolina to a 31-7 victory at San Diego. Carolina opened the game with a 13-play, 80-yard scoring drive. Newton's 1-yard run on fourth-and-1 from the San Diego 2-yard line kept the drive alive, and on the next play Tolbert leaped over the defensive front for the score. On the ensuing San Diego posession, defensive tackle Nate Chandler recovered a fumble on the San Diego 21-yard line. Four plays later, Tolbert ran into the end zone for his second 1-yard score, doubling the Panthers' lead. After the Carolina defense forced a three-and-out, the Panthers made it three-for-three on touchdown drives in the first quarter. Newton faked a handoff to DeAngelo Williams before targeting the running back on a screen pass left. Chargers linebacker Jarret Johnson tipped the ball, but Williams still managed to haul it in. Williams turned upfield along the left sideline for a 45-yard touchdown. The score remained 21-0 until late in the second quarter, when Carolina regained possession with 1:35 left in the half. Newton quickly connected with wide receiver Steve Smith for an 18-yard gain, and Smith toe-tapped the sideline for a 12-yard reception on third down three plays later. A 26-yard completion to tight end Greg Olsen placed the ball on the Chargers' 5-yard line, while the Panthers settled for a 33-yard field goal in the final seconds from Graham Gano. San Diego opened the second half with a three-and-out and after Joe Adams fair caught a punt at the Carolina 44, the Panthers converted a short field into another touchdown drive. Williams ran five times for 32 yards before Newton rolled right and hit Smith for a 4-yard touchdown at 8:56 of the third quarter. The Chargers were held scoreless until the opening minute of the fourth quarter, when tight end Antonio Gates recorded a 9-yard touchdown reception. But those were the only points Carolina allowed.

GAME 15 CAROLINA 17 – OAKLAND 6

December 23, 2012
Bank of America Stadium • Charlotte, NC

Wide receiver Steve Smith caught four passes for 45 yards and one touchdown and quarterback Cam Newton passed for 170 yards and one score leading Carolina to a 17-6 win over Oakland. Smith's 23-yard touchdown catch in the first quarter proved to be the winning score, thanks to a swarming defensive effort that limited the Raiders to just two field goals and 189 total yards. Shortly after Smith's score with 3:12 left in the first quarter, Panthers defensive end Greg Hardy hit Raiders quarterback Carson Palmer as he threw on third-and-1 from the Oakland 29-yard line. Palmer suffered a rib injury on the play and did not return, giving way to backup Matt Leinart. Leinart engineered an 11-play, 73-yard scoring drive in the second quarter that led to a 21-yard field goal from Sebastian Janikowski. Graham Gano tried to counter that score with a 48-yard attempt on the ensuing Carolina possession, but his kick sailed wide right with 1:41 remaining in the first half. The Raiders took over with two timeouts, but three plays later linebacker Luke Kuechly intercepted. A 22-yard screen pass to running back DeAngelo Williams set the Panthers on first-and-goal from the seven-yard line. On third-and-goal with 24 seconds to go in the half, Newton scrambled away from pressure for a three-yard touchdown run to give Carolina a 14-3 lead at halftime. Newton's streak of 176 passes without an interception – a franchise record – was broken on the final play of the third quarter. Linebacker Miles Burris picked off a deflected pass intended for Smith, giving Oakland the ball at the Carolina 18-yard line to start the fourth quarter. The Panthers defense held and Oakland settled for a 31-yard Janikowski field goal with 13:18 remaining in the fourth quarter. Trailing 14-6, the Raiders made a late push for the game-tying score with just over five minutes left, but on fourth-and-4 from the Carolina 24-yard line, Hardy broke up a swing pass intended for McFadden. A 19-yard run from Newton, followed by a 20-yard completion to tight end Greg Olsen, put the Panthers in field goal range where Gano converted a 51-yard field goal to give Carolina a two score advantage with 2:46 to go.

GAME 16 CAROLINA 44 – NEW ORLEANS 38

Mercedez-Benz Superdome • New Orleans, LA

DeAngelo Williams rushed for a team-record 210 yards and Mike Tolbert scored three touchdowns leading Carolina to a 44-38 victory over New Orleans. Carolina built an early 10-point lead after a 1-yard touchdown run from Tolbert and a Graham Gano 20-yard field goal. New Orleans took the lead in the second quarter when linebacker Jonathan Vilma intercepted a pass and returned it for an 18-yard touchdown. Trailing 24-13 in the third quarter, quarterback Cam Newton connected with wide receiver Louis Murphy down the right sideline for a 34-yard gain. On the next play, Williams broke free for a 54-yard touchdown run. After both teams punted, the Saints took over on their 20. Two plays later, safety Charles Godfrey intercepted Drew Brees' pass for wide receiver Lance Moore at the New Orleans' 36-yard line. After a 31-yard pass from Newton to Steve Smith and a 4-yard run from Williams, Tolbert plowed into the end zone for his second 1-yard touchdown, giving the Panthers a 27-24 lead with 2:29 left in the third quarter. Early in the fourth quarter, backup quarterback Derek Anderson was called into action for the first time since Week Three. Newton's ankle twisted under McBride as he was brought to the ground. Anderson later converted a third-and-4 with a 12-yard completion to Brandon LaFell. Newton then returned for first down from the New Orleans 12-yard line and after he completed an 11-yard pass to LaFell, Tolbert recorded his third 1-yard score. The Carolina defense forced a three-and-out and Armanti Edwards returned the punt 69 yards to the New Orleans 12-yard line. Williams ran for his second touchdown on the next play and the Panthers led 41-24 with 8:23 left in the game. Following Saints wide receiver Marques Colston's second touchdown, Jordan Senn recovered the onside kick for Carolina and moments later Gano converted a 42-yard field goal. Darren Sproles turned a screen pass into a 33-yard touchdown with 2:52 left, but the ensuing onside kick went out of bounds and Carolina ran off the remaining time.

NFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFFS

CAROLINA 26 – DALLAS 17

January 5, 1997
Ericsson Stadium • Charlotte, NC

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy, 67º, Wind SW 15 mph - ATTENDANCE: 72,808 - TIME: 2:58

In the first playoff game in team history, the Carolina Panthers stuck to a formula that had worked all season, using an opportunistic offense, a Sam Mills led defense, solid special teams and an uplifting record-sized crowd to defeat the defending Super Bowl Champion Dallas Cowboys 26-17.

Running back Anthony Johnson earned his sixth 100-yard game of the season behind a performance by the offensive line which did not allow quarterback Kerry Collins to be sacked all day. Collins completed a workmanlike 12 of 22 passes for 100 yards and two touchdowns and directed the team to 17 first-half points. The defense supplied a team effort with interceptions by Chad Cota, Pat Terrell and Mills and sacks by Lamar Lathon and Les Miller, while successfully executing three goal-line stands from inside their own five-yard line. Kicker John Kasay converted on all four field goal attempts.

The Cowboys took a 3-0 lead on a 22-yard field goal before a Collins pass to Wesley Walls following a 68-yard drive put the Panthers ahead 7-3. After trading touchdowns, the Cowboys got within three following a Panthers safety when a snap sailed over punter Rohn Stark's head. Cota's interception on Dallas' ensuing possession, however, set up a 24-yard Kasay field goal and a 17-11 halftime lead.

The two teams traded field goals in the third quarter and again to begin the fourth, with Chris Boniol converting twice from 21 and Kasay twice from 40. After the Panthers downed a Stark punt at the one, Terrell's interception set up a Kasay 32-yard conversion before Mills' interception and return to the one, sealed the game.

NFC CHAMPIONSHIP
GREEN BAY 30 – CAROLINA 13

January 12, 1997
Lambeau Field • Green Bay, WI

WEATHER: Cold and Windy, 3º, Wind W 10 mph - ATTENDANCE: 60,216 - TIME: 3:04

On a day with wind chill tempratures at more than 20 below zero, the Carolina Panthers surrendered 17 second-quarter points and 479 yards of total offense to the Green Bay Packers and fell one game short of the Super Bowl, 30-13.

The Panthers got ahead early following a Sam Mills interception at the Green Bay 12, which was returned to the two. Kerry Collins found fullback Howard Griffith all alone in the end zone two plays later for a 7-0 Carolina lead.

After Brett Favre drove the Packers for their first touchdown, the Panthers replied with a John Kasay 22-yard field goal following a Lamar Lathon recovery of a Favre fumble. The Packers came back with a touchdown and a field goal before the half, however, and held a 17-10 advantage at the break.

Both teams traded field goals to open the second half before a Dorsey Levens 66-yard reception off a screen set up a Packers touchdown. A Packers fourth-quarter field goal following a Panthers fumble supplied the 30-13 margin.

Mills led the defense with 14 tackles and an interception while Collins completed 19 of 37 passes for 215 yards, with a touchdown and two interceptions. Willie Green led all Panthers in receiving with 51 yards on five receptions.

NFC WILDCARD GAME

CAROLINA 29 – DALLAS 10

January 2, 2004
Ericsson Stadium • Charlotte, NC

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy, 63º, Wind SSW 9 mph - ATTENDANCE: 72,324 - TIME: 2:56

Behind a dominating defense, Carolina defeated the Dallas Cowboys, 29-10, at Ericsson Stadium to reach the second-round of the playoffs for the first time since the 1996 season. The Panthers held the Cowboys to 204 yards of total offense while not committing any penalties or turnovers.

Quarterback Jake Delhomme completed 18-of-29 passes for 273 yards and a touchdown, running back Stephen Davis rushed 26 times for 104 yards, wide receiver Steve Smith caught five passes for 135 yards and a touchdown, and kicker John Kasay converted on all five of his field goal attempts.

On Carolina's third play from scrimmage, Delhomme hit Smith in the flat, and Smith raced 70 yards to the Cowboys one-yard line. Four plays later Kasay booted his first field goal from 18 yards out, and the Panthers never looked back.

Carolina took advantage of field position later in the first quarter as Kasay made his second field goal, this time from 38 yards, to give the Panthers a 6-0 lead. In the second quarter, Carolina started another drive in Dallas territory, and Davis rambled 23 yards for a touchdown to give the Panthers a 13-0 lead.

Cowboys kicker Billy Cundiff put Dallas on the board with a 37-yard field goal late in the second quarter. Carolina got one more field goal from Kasay to close out the first half leaving the score 16-3 at the break.

The Panthers added a 32-yard Delhomme-to-Smith touchdown pass and Kasay's fourth field goal to stretch the lead to 26-3 before Dallas answered with a nine-yard touchdown run by quarterback Quincy Carter. Kasay's fifth field goal with 3:12 remaining provided the final margin.

Panthers middle linebacker Dan Morgan led the defense with 12 tackles, while Al Wallace, Kris Jenkins and Reggie Howard contributed a sack a piece. Davis posted his eighth 100-yard rushing game of the season.

NFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFFS

CAROLINA 29 – ST. LOUIS 23 (2 OT)

January 10, 2004
Edward Jones Dome • St. Louis, MO

WEATHER: Played Indoors on Artificial Turf - ATTENDANCE: 66,165 - TIME: 4:06

The Panthers defeated the host St. Louis Rams 29-23 in double overtime at the Edward Jones Dome to earn their second trip to the NFC Championship Game. Steve Smith took a pass from Jake Delhomme and sprinted to a game-winning touchdown to closeout the game, the fifth-longest in NFL history and the longest ever for the Panthers.

The Carolina defense held the Rams to two field goals in the first half before Panthers wide receiver Muhsin Muhammad recovered a deflected lateral by Delhomme in the end zone for a touchdown. Each team added a field goal each, to give the Panthers a one-point lead at the half, 10-9.

The Panthers built an 11-point lead in the fourth quarter off a Brad Hoover touchdown and John Kasay field goal, but the Rams scored 11 points in the last 2:39 of regulation to force overtime.

The Panthers took the opening drive of overtime to the St. Louis 22-yard line, but a delay-of-game penalty canceled Kasay's successful 40-yard field goal. Kasay then missed the second attempt three plays later from 45 yards out.

The Rams drove to the Carolina 35-yard line on their first possession in overtime, but kicker Jeff Wilkins, who had already made five field goals, was inches short on a 53-yard attempt.

The Rams then drove to the Panthers 38-yard line on their ensuing possession when cornerback Ricky Manning Jr. outwrestled Rams receiver Torry Holt for the ball and came down with the interception.

Facing third-and-14 from their own 31-yard line on the first play of the second overtime, Delhomme hit Smith on a slant pattern for 69 yards and the game-winning points.

The Panthers outgained the Rams 485 yards to 380, including 216 to 64 in rushing yardage. They won the time of possession battle 41:06 to 34:04 and held the Rams to just six possessions and 12 points through the first three quarters.

Delhomme completed 16-of-26 passes for 290 yards, with one touchdown and one interception for a quarterback rating of 96.6. Running back DeShaun Foster stepped in for an injured Stephen Davis, who left the game in the second quarter, and contributed 95 yards on 21 carries.

NFC CHAMPIONSHIP

CAROLINA 14 – PHILADELPHIA 3

January 18, 2004
Lincoln Financial Field • Philadelphia, PA

WEATHER: Mostly Cloudy, 33º, Wind WNW 19 mph - ATTENDANCE: 67,862 - TIME: 2:58

In just their ninth season of existence, the Panthers claimed a bid to Super Bowl XXXVIII by defeating the Philadelphia Eagles 14-3 at Lincoln Financial Field in the NFC Championship game. Carolina took advantage of four interceptions, three by rookie cornerback Ricky Manning, to hold the Philadelphia offense to only one field goal.

The first quarter was scoreless as both teams punted twice. Early in the second quarter, a Carolina fumble was recovered by Jermaine Wiggins to gain the first down and allow the Panthers to continue what would be the first scoring drive of the game.

On first-and-10 from the Philadelphia 24-yard line, Delhomme hit wide receiver Muhsin Muhammad in the end zone for the score. A John Kasay PAT kick gave the Panthers a 7-0 lead.

The Eagles answered with a 14-play, 44-yard drive that culminated with a 41-yard field goal by David Akers. The Eagles were driving again in the final two minutes of the half when Manning grabbed his first interception.

On the opening drive of the second half, the Eagles drove to the Panthers 18-yard line, but Manning again came up with the big play, intercepting Donovan McNabb at the 14-yard line.

A hit by Mike Minter on Eagles wide receiver James Thrash enabled Manning to record his third interception and put the Panthers in position for their final score. With 4:18 remaining in the third quarter, running back DeShaun Foster produced the game's second touchdown, breaking five tackles and reaching over the goal line on a one-yard run.

The Eagles went three-and-out on their final two possessions of the third quarter, and their final threat ended midway through the fourth quarter when backup quarterback Koy Detmer, who replaced an injured McNabb, was intercepted by Dan Morgan at the Carolina 11-yard line to thwart the Eagles final significant scoring opportunity.

Morgan led Carolina with 13 tackles and one interception while Brentson Buckner contributed 1.5 sacks. Running back Stephen Davis added 76 yards on 19 carries as the Panthers rushed for a total of 155 yards.

SUPER BOWL XXXVIII
NEW ENGLAND 32 – CAROLINA 29

February 1, 2004
Reliant Stadium • Houston, TX

WEATHER: Played indoors on grass - ATTENDANCE: 71,525 - TIME: 4:05

In their first Super Bowl, the Carolina Panthers scored 19 fourth-quarter points to tie New England with one minute remaining, but kicker Adam Vinatieri converted a 41-yard field goal to give the Patriots a 32-29 victory for their second Super Bowl victory in three seasons.

The first quarter was scoreless, with help from the Panthers defense who kept New England off the board by blocking one Vinatieri field goal and withstanding another missed attempt.

In the second quarter, a Carolina fumble on the 19-yard line was recovered by defensive tackle Richard Seymour and set up a Tom Brady five-yard touchdown pass to Deion Branch. The touchdown broke the tie with 3:10 remaining in the half, the longest a Super Bowl had ever gone without a score.

Quarterback Jake Delhomme led the Panthers on an eight-play, 95-yard drive, the second longest in Super Bowl history, that culminated with a Delhomme-to-Steve Smith touchdown pass from 39 yards out.

Brady completed four of six passes for 78 yards, and with 23 seconds remaining in the half, hit wide receiver David Givens with another five-yard touchdown pass to put the Patriots back in front, 14-7.

Kris Mangum returned a kickoff to the Panthers 47-yard line and after a 21-yard run by Stephen Davis, the Panthers called timeout with five seconds left. John Kasay booted a 50-yard field goal as the first half expired to make it 14-10.

On the second play of the fourth quarter, Patriots running back Antowain Smith scored on a two-yard run that extended the New England lead to 21-10.

DeShaun Foster finished a six-play, 81-yard Panther drive with a 33-yard touchdown run, the fourth-longest run in Super Bowl history. Carolina missed on their two-point attempt and the score was 21-16.

New England drove down the field and threatened to extend their lead once again, but Reggie Howard intercepted Brady's pass in the end zone and returned it to the 10-yard line.

Three plays later, Delhomme hit Muhsin Muhammad for an 85-yard touchdown, giving the Panthers their first lead with 7:06 remaining in the game. The Panthers missed on another two-point attempt, keeping the score 22-21.

The scoring continued as the Patriots drove 68 yards in 11 plays, ending with a Mike Vrabel touchdown. New England converted their two-point attempt and led 29-22 with 2:55 remaining.

Delhomme then drove his team 80 yards on just seven plays, hitting Ricky Proehl across the middle for a 12-yard touchdown that tied the game with 1:13 remaining. However, Brady mounted one last scoring drive to set up Vinatieri at the Carolina 34-yard line for the winning kick.

NFC WILDCARD GAME

CAROLINA 23 – NEW YORK GIANTS 0

January 8, 2006
Giants Stadium • East Rutherford, NJ

WEATHER: Sunny, 44º, Wind NW 6 mph - ATTENDANCE: 79,378 - TIME: 2:39

Carolina's defense held a New York Giants offense that ranked third in the NFL in points per game scoreless en route to notching the third shutout in team history with a 23-0 victory over the Giants in the NFC Wild Card game. Carolina became the first team to register a shutout on the road in the playoffs since 1980 when the Los Angeles Rams posted a 9-0 victory at Tampa Bay (01/05/80) in the 1979 NFC Championship. The Panthers forced five sacks and five turnovers, converting four of them into 16 points. The defense yielded a season-low 132 total net yards to New York, who ranked fourth in the NFL in total offense during the regular season with an average of 361.7 yards per game. Running back DeShaun Foster rushed for 151 yards to help the Panthers accumulate 223 yards rushing on 45 attempts and maintain possession for 42:45. The time of possession was the highest in team history for any game, bettering the previous record of 41:51 at New Orleans (12/05/04). The team's rushing attempts tied for the most in team history and the rushing yards equalled the second-highest total. Safety Marlon McCree matched his career-high with two interceptions.

NFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFFS
CAROLINA 29 – CHICAGO 21

January 15, 2006
Soldier Field • Chicago, IL

WEATHER: Partly Cloudy, 40º, Wind SE 15 mph - ATTENDANCE: 62,209 - TIME: 3:23

Carolina totaled 434 yards against the NFL's second-ranked defense in a 29-21 victory over the Chicago Bears in the NFC Divisional Playoffs. The contest marked the Panthers fourth consecutive postseason road victory to equal the NFL record for the most consecutive road postseason victories, previously accomplished by Dallas from 1975-81. The Panthers became the fourth team since 1990 to win an NFC Divisional Playoff game on the road. Carolina allowed one sack against the Bears after allowing a season-high eight in their regular season contest at Chicago (11/20/05) and scored 29 points against a Bears defense that allowed a League-low 12.9 points per game during the regular season and a total of 61 points at home during the regular season. Wide receiver Steve Smith amassed 218 yards receiving, the most in team history and fourth-highest total in a playoff game in NFL history, and two touchdowns on 12 receptions, which tied for the second-most catches in NFL postseason history. Quarterback Jake Delhomme registered his second career 300-yard passing effort in the playoffs and his fifth postseason game with a passer rating of 100 or more. The Panthers defense yielded only three-of-13 third down conversions against the Bears. With the victory, head coach John Fox became only the fifth head coach in NFL history to record at least four postseason road wins.

NFC CHAMPIONSHIP
SEATTLE 34 – CAROLINA 14

January 22, 2006
Qwest Field • Seattle, WA

WEATHER: Overcast, 48º, Wind S 14 mph - ATTENDANCE: 67,837 - TIME: 3:09

Seattle's defense forced four turnovers and held the Panthers to 212 total yards in a 34-14 victory in the 2005 NFC Championship Game. Carolina was limited to 36 yards by the Seahawks fifth-ranked rushing defense and converted only one-of-nine third down opportunities. Interceptions on consecutive Carolina possessions enabled Seattle to transform a 7-0 lead into a 17-0 advantage in the second quarter. Wide receiver Steve Smith established an NFL record for the most catches in a postseason with 27, surpassing the previous mark of 23 set by Anthony Carter with Minnesota in the 1987 postseason. Smith's 59-yard punt return for a touchdown enabled him to become the first player in NFL history to score a touchdown on a run, pass and punt return in the same postseason. Running back Nick Goings, who started in place of the injured DeShaun Foster, was shaken up in the first quarter and did not return to the game.

January 16 — Bank of America and the Carolina Panthers announced a title sponsorship agreement at Founders Hall. Bank of America Stadium will be the name of the Panthers home.

January 18 — Carolina wins its first NFC Championship, defeating Philadelphia 14-3 at Lincoln Financial Field as Ricky Manning, Jr. ties an NFL Championship game record with three interceptions.

February 1 — The Panthers play in Super Bowl XXXVIII at Reliant Stadium in Houston, Texas, losing to the New England Patriots 32-29.

2005

August 13 — The Panthers retired jersey number 51, making Sam Mills the only player in team history to receive the honor. Mills played for the Panthers from 1995-97 and earned a Pro Bowl selection in 1996. After retiring in 1997, Mills became a scout for the Panthers in 1998 and served as the team's linebackers coach from 1999-2004. He became the first former player and second member of the Panthers Hall of Honor in 1998.

2006

January 8 — The Panthers registered the first road playoff shutout in the NFL since 1979, defeating the New York Giants, 23-0. In holding scoreless a New York team that ranked third in the League in scoring during the regular season, Carolina became the first NFL team to register a shutout on the road in the playoffs since the Los Angeles Rams posted a 9-0 victory at Tampa Bay (1/5/80) in the 1979 NFC Championship. Ironically, the last time head coach John Fox coached a playoff game at Giants Stadium, his defense also pitched a shutout. With Fox as the Giants defensive coordinator, New York shut out Minnesota, 41-0, in the 2000 NFC Championship. The shutout was Carolina's third in team history as the Panthers limited New York to 132 total net yards and rushed for 223 yards on offense.

January 15 — The Panthers won their fourth consecutive road game in the playoffs to equal the NFL record for the most consecutive postseason road victories, previously accomplished by the Dallas Cowboys from 1975-81. With the win, head coach John Fox became only the fifth head coach in NFL history to record at least four postseason victories. Wide receiver Steve Smith amassed 218 receiving yards and two touchdowns on 12 receptions. His receiving yardage ranked as the most in team history and the fourth-highest postseason total in NFL history. His 12 catches tied for the second-highest total in NFL postseason annals.

2008

December 28 — Carolina defeats the New Orleans Saints, 33-31, on a John Kasay game-winning 42-yard field goal with one second remaining to clinch the NFC South division title and earn the franchise's fourth-ever playoff berth. The Panthers finished the regular season with a 12 victories, equaling the most wins in team history.

2009

September 1 — Jon Richardson resigns as president of Bank of America Stadium and Mark Richardson resigns as president of the Carolina Panthers.

September 2 — Danny Morrison is named president of the Carolina Panthers. He joins the organization with experience as Texas Christian University athletics director, Southern Conference commissioner and Wofford College athletics director and senior vice president.

2011

January 11 — The Panthers name Ron Rivera as the fourth head coach in franchise history. Carolina is the first head coaching position for Rivera, who previously served as defensive coordinator for the San Diego Chargers beginning midway through the 2008 season. A linebacker on the Chicago Bears 1985 Super Bowl Championship team, Rivera also served as defensive coordinator for the Bears from 2004-06.

April 28 — The Panthers select quarterback Cam Newton with the No. 1 overall selection in the 2011 NFL Draft. Newton is named Associated Press Offensive Rookie of the Year after a record-setting rookie campaign. Newton accounted for an NFL rookie record 35 total touchdowns (21 passing, 14 rushing), passed for a then NFL rookie record 4,051 yards and rushed for an NFL quarterback record 14 touchdowns.

2012

January 29 — Carolina makes the first logo refinement in the team's 18-year history. It has been designed to provide a more aggressive, contemporary look to the logo while making it more three-dimensional for ever-increasing digital use. The primary tweaks made by the creative department of the National Football League are primarily in the features in the eyes and mouth.

2013

January 9 — The Panthers name Dave Gettleman as general manager. Carolina is the first general manager position for Gettleman, who came from the New York Giants where he served as the senior pro personnel analyst in 2012 after working as director of pro personnel the previous 13 years. Gettleman was a part of six Super Bowl teams, including three winners. He was with Buffalo in 1990 and 1991, Denver in 1997 and the Giants in 2000, 2007 and 2011.

TRAINING CAMP

The Carolina Panthers summer training camp home is at Wofford College in Spartanburg, S.C. The Panthers are housed in Wofford's 60,000 square-foot Richardson Physical Activities Building, which boasts a spacious weight room, locker room and training facilities in addition to coaches offices and meeting rooms.

A member of the Southern Conference and NCAA Division I, Wofford is one of the smallest schools in the nation playing Division I football with its enrollment of 1,600. The Terriers compete in the Football Championship Subdivision (FCS), formerly known as Division I-AA.

The Wofford football team is one of only three teams nationally to have advanced to the NCAA FCS playoffs five times in the last six seasons. The Terriers won the Southern Conference title in 2003, 2007, 2010, and 2012. In 2003 the team advanced to the FCS national semifinals, while reaching the quarterfinals in 2007, 2010, and 2012.

Academically, Wofford's football team is traditionally among the top 10 percent in the nation as judged by the Academic Progress Rate (APR). The Terriers have placed 112 student-athletes on the Academic All-Southern Conference team in the last ten years, more than double the number of the second place team.

The Wofford men's basketball team won the 2010 and 2011 Southern Conference Championships and advanced to the NCAA Tournament. In 2010, head coach Mike Young was named the national Mid-Major Coach of the Year and Noah Dahlman earned All-America honors. In the 2010 NCAA Tournament, the Terriers played Wisconsin. In 2011 the team faced BYU in the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Brad Loesing was named a first team Academic All-American in 2012.

The men's soccer team won the Southern Conference championship and earned a bid to the NCAA Tournament in 2009. The baseball team has defeated South Carolina twice in the last five years and in 2007 won the Southern Conference Tournament Championship and advanced to the NCAA Tournament.

Among its alumni, the athletic program counts Panthers Owner/Founder Jerry Richardson as well as former Air Force head football coach Fisher DeBerry and ESPN personality Wendi Nix. Wofford receives strong support from its alumni and friends. The Terrier Club, with 100 percent of all contributions supporting scholarships for Wofford student-athletes, raised a record $1.6 million in 2012.

Wofford consistently lands on 'best value' lists in various national college guides and publications. Among those are the 2012 editions of Kiplinger's Personal Finance, US News and World Report and The Princeton Review. The Village, Wofford's apartment-style housing for senior students, has also received a number of national recognitions.

Having conducted its first session during the 1854-55 academic year, Wofford is one of only a handful of American colleges of that era to have operated continuously on its original site. The first independent college in South Carolina to receive a chapter of Phi Beta Kappa, Wofford has a proud history. The entire 150-acre campus is maintained as a national arboretum. Wofford ranks fourth in the nation among baccalaureate institutions in the percentage of students receiving academic credit for studies abroad.

PANTHERS HALL OF HONOR

On September 21, 1997 former team president Mike McCormack became the first member of the Panthers Hall of Honor. In 1998, he was joined by former linebacker Sam Mills, who entered as the first former Panthers player to be so honored.

Both Mills and McCormack, who retired as president of the Carolina Panthers in March 1996, were recognized for their high contributions to the Panthers organization with a life-sized bronze statue sculpted by Todd Andrews, who created the famous bronze Panthers that flank each stadium entrance. The statues were placed at the northeast corner of the stadium where they will be joined by statues of future inductees.

"There is no one more appropriate than Mike to start our Hall of Honor," said Panthers Owner/Founder Jerry Richardson at the time of McCormack's induction. "The Carolina Panthers would not even exist without Mike's contributions, and he epitomizes all we want the Panthers to symbolize."

While McCormack's National Football League career spanned five decades and a number of teams, he may have left his most indelible mark on the Panthers. Starting as a consultant in 1989, McCormack provided an invaluable contact for the Richardson ownership group as they lobbied NFL ownership and hierarch for credibility early in the expansion process. After the Panthers overcame overwhelming odds to land the franchise by a unanimous vote in October 1993, McCormack was first general manager before being named president.

If anyone could meet McCormack's standard it is Mills, who became a Panthers standard-bearer.

"Sam Mills has meant a lot to this organization and has set a high standard for our players both on and off the field. It is only fitting that he is recognized with the Carolina Panthers highest honor," said Jerry Richardson.

While Mills had a long NFL career, his accomplishments with the Panthers were the basis of his selection. His memorable interception return for a touchdown spurred Carolina to the first win in team history in 1995, and his interception against Dallas sealed the Panthers win in the NFC divisional playoff following the 1996 season.

Mills played 15 years as a professional, starting 171-of-181 NFL games and earning five Pro Bowl selections. Mills appeared in his final Pro Bowl as a representative of the Panthers in 1996 at the age of 37.

Regarded as one of the most savvy players in the game, Mills led his team in tackles 10 times and eclipsed the 100-tackle plateau in eight seasons. As a prized unrestricted free agent in 1995, he became the cornerstone of the Panthers defense and was the only player to start every game during the Panthers first three seasons.

With McCormack and Mills, an administrator and coach were recognized in the Hall of Honor. In the opening regular season game against Green Bay in 2004, the PSL owners who helped make the stadium and franchise possible were also honored at halftime. The Panthers sold over 60,000 Permanent Seat Licenses to help fund the construction of Bank of America Stadium.
