RIVERFRONT STADIUM

Riverfront Stadium, located on the banks of the Ohio River, is Bengal-land in Cincinnati.

The stadium is situated on a 48-acre site bounded by Second Street to the Ohio River and from Elm Street to Broadway.

The seating capacity when the field is in football configuation is 59,754.

The playing surface at Riverfront is Astroturf.

Parking facilities on the immediate site will hold 4500 automobiles. Three parking decks, plus the plaza level, all 12 acre areas, completely surround the stadium.

Within a 12-block radius, there are 20,000 parking spaces.

A massive scoreboard, 20 feet high by 180 feet long, contains 24,000 lamps and is capable of displaying scores, messages and cartoons through a computer.

The Stadium opened in 1970.

The largest crowd ever to assemble for a sporting event in Cincinnati was at Riverfront when 60,284 fans watched the Bengals and Browns on October 17, 1971.

PAUL BROWN

VICE PRESIDENT GENERAL MANAGER

A legend in his own time, Paul Brown has compiled the most distinguished coaching record in football history. From 1930, when Brown accepted his first head coaching assignment at Severn Prep (Md.) High School until he stepped aside from active coaching at the end of the Bengals' 1975 campaign, Brown amassed 361 football victories, including 213 at the professional level.

Now a principal owner, vice-president and general manager of the Bengals, Brown has guided the destiny of Cincinnati's professional football franchise since he founded the organization in late 1967.

From 1968 through 1975, when he served as both general manager and head coach, Paul Brown led the Bengals to two American Football Conference divisional championships and three NFL playoff appearances, an accomplishment unsurpassed by any other expansion team in National Football League History.

Under Brown's leadership, the Bengals won the AFC Central Division title in 1970, the team's inaugural season in the NFL, and thus became the first American Football League merger team to enjoy such a degree of success.

That bit of "magic" was but another example of Paul Brown's innate ability to produce instant winners. Brown previously had taken charge of a foundering Ohio State University football team and transformed it from a 1-9 Big Ten doormat to a national championship in the span of two short years between 1940 and 1942.

At the helm of the Cleveland Browns, another team he developed from the ground floor in the All-America Football Conference, Brown's team won the AAFC championship in every year of the league's existence, 1946-49.

With the demise of the AAFC, Cleveland was awarded a franchise in the prestigious NFL where Brown's four-time AAFC champions were accepted as something less than second-class citizens. Characteristically, Brown answered the scorn and derision by leading Cleveland to a 13-2 record and the 1950 National Football League Championship.

In Cleveland's debut in the NFL, Brown and his Browns were paired with defending champion Philadelphia Eagles. Brown's team responded by thumping the proud Eagles, 35-10, to set the stage for things to come.

During his brilliant coaching career, Brown has been a part of the "big game" more than any man who ever coached.

He has experienced the championship game feeling many, many times during his career at every level of competition. His first professional team, the Cleveland Browns, played for the world championship every year during the first 10 years of its existence.

He won the three NFL titles and seven Eastern Division crowns as coach of the Browns.

"We didn't call it the Super Bowl at that time, of course," said Brown, "but it was the same thing — the championship game of professional football."

Brown achieved 361 victories, suffered only 133 losses and 16 ties for a remarkable .725 percentage, top record ever. He fashioned 213 victories, 104 losses and nine ties in 25 years of coaching in the NFL.

His return to the NFL, after a five-year absence after leaving Cleveland in 1963, coincided with the emergence of pro football as the nation's top spectator sport and he has done much to keep it that way as a member of the NFL's competition committee, the group most responsible for opening up the game's offense during recent years.

He was elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1967, his first year of eligibility when he was away from coaching. He also has presented many of his former players for induction. He has been a presentor six times, most by any individual.

Brown is the master builder of pro football franchises. He created a dynasty in Cleveland and in 14 years in Cincinnati has given the Queen City three AFC Central Division champions, a "wild card" playoff team, an AFC championship and a Super Bowl team.

Paul Brown is responsible for making pro football coaching the exacting science it is today. When he organized the Cleveland Browns in the All-America Football Conference in 1946, he started doing things no one else had ever done. He made coaching a science.

His success was instantaneous and only when other coaches began copying his procedures did the won and lost records start to level off.

In spite of his statistical record, which has no challenger, Brown did even more than put numbers in the win column. It is the way he went about putting together the teams that made his record possible that he will be remembered and honored for.

Here, in part, is how his citation read when he was inducted into the Professional Football Hall of Fame: ". . . in addition to his great record, Brown is equally respected as a man who brought fine organization to professional football. He was the first to make coaching a fulltime profession, not only for himself, but for a staff of assistants, a practice that has since become universal."

PB is certainly a friend of coaches everywhere, regardless of the level at which they coach.

Brown had a background of exceptional success as a high school, college and service coach when he was given his first pro assignment with the new Cleveland team. Immediately, he hired a fulltime staff and he instituted a system for scouting college talent on a scale never before imagined by other pro teams.

He became the first to (1) use intelligence tests as a hint to a player's learning potential, (2) used notebooks and classroom techniques extensively; (3) set up complete film clip statistical studies and (4) then grade his own players from what he found. Brown was the first coach to keep his players together at a hotel the night before a home game as well as a road game.

Strategically, he started the practice of calling plays from the sideline by utilizing guards as messengers.

He developed pass patterns for the offense that were designed to pick holes in the defense, but then he devoted his efforts to perfecting the kind of defense that could counteract a pattern passing attack.

Using his personnel to the limit, Brown was the first to switch some fine running backs to the defense because "they were so good I didn't want to waste them on offense."

All of PB's measures are now common practice, but 34 years ago they were revolutionary in the coaching world.

Brown's coaching resume shows two years at Severn Prep School in Maryland; nine years at Massillon High School in Ohio (Brown's hometown); three years at Ohio State University; two years with the successful Great Lakes Navy team during World War II; 17 years with the Cleveland Browns in both the All-America Football Conference and the National Football League and eight with Cincinnati, two in the AFL and six in the NFL.

Brown feels the Massillon High School job was the best he ever had.

"The reason is because I felt I did much good at Massillon and was able to send many, many athletes to college through their athletic skills when there was no other way for them to go."

And he kept right on going, ending up at the highest plateau of the game — the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Among the more significant accomplishments of his teams are a series of Ohio state championships at Massillon which in turn made that school one of America's foremost prep powers, a national collegiate championship at Ohio State in 1942, four straight AAFC championships and seven divisional titles and three NFL championships in 1950, 1954 and 1955 after the Browns had joined the NFL following the breakup of the AAFC. Ironically, it was Brown's overwhelming success — his Cleveland team had a 52-4-3 record in AAFC play — that was probably the major factor in the breakup of that league.

After graduating from Massillon High School, Brown enrolled at Ohio State and later transferred to Miami where he became a fine runner and passer. He also was a track star.

He returned to his home in Massillon as football and basketball coach in 1932. The stadium in Massillon is "Paul Brown Tiger Stadium."

Brown was named "National Football Executive of the Year" in 1981, after directing the Cincinnati Bengals to their first AFC championship and appearance in Super Bowl XVI.

He is holder of the prestigious Ohio Governor's Award from James A. Rhodes; the NFL Alumni Association's Order of the Leather Helmet; the National Football Foundation's "Mr. Ohio Award" and many others.

He also has authored a book — "PB: The Paul Brown Story" which tells of his life in football.

Paul and his wife, Mary, live in Indian Hill. His first wife, Katie, died in April, 1969. Two of his sons, Mike and Pete, are associated with the Bengal organization as assistant general manager and director of player personnel respectively. Another son, Robin, a former Bengal scout, died in July, 1978.

Paul was born in Norwalk, Ohio. He holds a bachelor of arts degree from Miami University and a master of arts degree in education from Ohio State. (Paul Brown's coaching record on page 16)

AUSTIN E. KNOWLTON
Chairman of the Board

Austin E. "Dutch" Knowlton is the chairman of the board of the Cincinnati Bengals and has been a firm supporter from the first day of the franchise's inception.

Knowlton, a well-known builder and sportsman, has been the founder, owner and director since the franchise was founded and often can be found watching his team play at some of the farthest waystops on the NFL map, in addition to his regular attendance at games in Riverfront Stadium.

"Like every other Bengal fan, we are looking forward to the 1984 Bengals football team winning the World Championship and the Super Bowl."

Besides being not only one of the team's most rabid fans as well as its chairman of the board, Knowlton also is an avid sportsman who spends as much of his free time as possible overseeing his second great interest—the breeding and selling of show horses at his Emerald Farm in Delaware County.

Also, during the glorious days of the 70's, Knowlton was the largest owner of the Cincinnati Reds.

Sometimes there is not as much time to devote to these activities as he'd like because of his business interests. A few years ago, organized the Arga Co., which is engaged in the construction of buildings, leasing of buildings, and other endeavors. A division of this company, K Construction Management, is engaged in the construction business in Ohio and other states.

After receiving a degree in architecture and civil engineering from Ohio State University, Knowlton joined his father's construction company.

He assumed ownership of the construction business and operated it under the name of Knowlton Construction Company.

Knowlton Construction Company built the major portion of Ohio University, Bowling Green State University; as well as many college buildings at Ohio State University, Miami University, Capital University, Otterbein College and numerous schools and universities.

After World War II, he secured the franchise for the sale of Beechcraft Products in Ohio and surrounding areas and formed the Ohio Aviation Company of Vandalia and Cleveland, Ohio.

His offices are in Bellefontaine and Columbus, Ohio, and he resides in Delaware County at Emerald Farms, and Aspen at Red Mountain Ranch.

JOHN SAWYER
President

John Sawyer, one of the founders of the Cincinnati Bengals, has been president of the team since its inception in 1967.

Sawyer, a well-known business executive, teamed with Paul and Mike Brown to bring a professional football franchise to Cincinnati. He put in long and hard hours of work and travel while putting the franchise together for the Queen City.

Sawyer and Paul and Mike Brown represented Cincinnati in the many meetings prior to the awarding of the franchise. He played a part in the NFL realignment in 1970 and currently attends most NFL owners meetings. He is an owner and member of the Bengals' board of directors.

He has made every road trip but one since the Bengals began playing in 1968.

Sawyer operates the J. Sawyer Co., a multi-faceted agricultural concern which includes aviation firms, an antique shop, restaurant and farms and ranches in Ohio, Mississippi and Montana, and also a horticultural products company and a commercial feed lot. He is one of only a few farm managers and real estate brokers in the United States. J. Sawyer is also one of the leading farm management and real brokerage firms in the midwest.

He has long had a liking for airplanes and frequently flies his company's Lear jet out of Madison Aviation Center, which he built in London, Ohio, on business trips.

His hobbies include hunting and fishing.

John is the son of the late Charles Sawyer, former Secretary of Commerce. He is a graduate of Princeton.

John and his wife, Ruth, have four daughters, Anne, Elizabeth, Catherine and Mary.

The Sawyers live in Indian Hill.

MIKE BROWN
Assistant General Manager
Legal Counsel

Mike Brown and his father, Paul, have combined to give Cincinnati one of the finest franchises in the National Football League.

A tireless worker, Mike is the Cincinnati Bengals' assistant general manager and legal counsel and also is an owner and a member of the team's board of directors.

He has guided the Bengals from an expansion franchise in 1968 to a Super Bowl contender. The 1981 team fulfilled most of his dreams by winning the American Football Conference championship and playing in Super Bowl XVI.

Following the fantastic 1981 Bengal season, Paul Bown was voted "NFL Executive of the Year" and Mike was the runnerup.

As assistant general manager and legal counsel, Mike handles player contract matters and the Bengals' contracts and negotiations with the City of Cincinnati. He also works closely with televeision and radio executives involved with the Bengals and handles all the club's legal matters.

The Brown family dedicated itself to bringing professional football to the Queen City in the mid-60's and was rewarded in 1967 when the city was awarded a franchise in the old American Football League which was due to merge with the National Football League in 1970.

Professional football in Cincinnati was visualized by Mike long before it became a reality. Several years before the Cincinnati franchise materialized he conducted a detailed survey showing the potential of the area as a professional football market. His drive produced the franchise for Cincinnati.

Paul and Mike Brown represent the Bengals at all league meetings and they played a major role in bringing about the merger which brought the American Football League and the National Football League together.

Mike, who has been associated with football all of his life and has had the benefit of the best possible teacher, is a member of the NFL Management Council, a group which deals with labor-management decisions within the NFL.

Mike did his undergraduate work at Dartmouth where he played quarterback. He received his law degree from Harvard Law School. He was associated with a law firm in Cleveland for five years and then joined his father with the Cleveland Browns.

Mike and his wife, Nancy, have a daughter, Katie, 18, and a son, Paul, 14½.

PETE BROWN
Director of Player Personnel

The all-important player personnel department of the Cincinnati Bengals is headed by Pete Brown.

The Cincinnati drafts are annually considered among the best in the National Football League and 1984 was no exception. The Bengals currently have 12 first round draft selections on their roster. Cincinnati also has made prudent selections in late round selections.

Pete, Paul Brown's younget son, is highly-respected throughout the National Football League as an excellent judge of football talent.

Brown is in his 16th season as director of player personnel with the Bengals. He served as assistant director of player personnel for one year before being elevated to the top spot. He supervises a staff of scouts and personally scouts a heavy schedule of college games.

Pete also is an owner and a member of the board of directors of the Bengals.

He is involved in physical conditioning and played a major role in giving the successful Nautilus program an early introduction to the Bengals.

He is a graduate of Denison University.

SAM WYCHE
Head Coach

Youthful and innovative Sam Wyche is the head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals.

The 39-year-old Wyche became one of the youngest head coaches in National Football League history on December 28, 1983, when he replaced Forrest Gregg at the Bengals' helm.

"We have the man we wanted," said Paul E. Brown, Bengals' vice president and general manager, after naming Wyche to succeed Gregg. "We sought him, he didn't seek us.

"Sam Wyche is an innovative man who will install a wide-open offense that our fans will really enjoy," Brown said. "He's his own offensive coordinator.

"He has one of the finest quarterbacks in the game in Ken Anderson and an excellent backup in Turk Schonert, and he'll move his players around so we'll see wide receivers and tight ends lining up in the backfield quite often. It should be very exciting for all of us," emphasized Brown who coached Wyche in 1968-69-70.

Wyche was born in Atlanta, Ga., on January 5, 1945, and attended North Fulton High School there.

After graduating from North Fulton High School, Wyche (like witch with a long i) enrolled at Furman University in Greenville, S.C. He tried out for the football team as a "walk on" quarterback, made it and was awarded a scholarship.

He graduated from Furman University in 1966 with a B.A. degree in Business Administration.

Wyche signed with the Wheeling Ironmen of the Continental Football League in 1966 and played for one season before going to the University of South Carolina as a graduate assistant under head coach Paul Dietzel. He served as a graduate assistant for two seasons and in 1968 earned an M.B.A. degree in Business Administration Management.

In 1968, Wyche was given a try-out with Brown's Cincinnati Bengals, an American Football League expansion team in its initial season. He made the team and was the starting quarterback much of the time. He was a member of Cincinnati's first American Football Conference Central Division playoff team in 1970.

During his three seasons with the Bengals, Wyche completed 115 of 220 passes (52.3%) for 1743 yards and threw 12 touchdown passes.

In 1971, Wyche was traded to the Washington Redskins where he played for coaches George Allen and Ted Marchibroda. He played on three playoff teams including Super Bowl VII with the Redskins.

Wyche was traded to the Detroit Lions in 1974. His coach there was Rick Forzano. In 1976, Sam began the season with the St. Louis Cardinals where he participated in the first professional football game ever played in Tokyo, Japan. He concluded his playing career in 1976 with the Buffalo Bills.

After retiring from professional football, Wyche and a partner opened a sporting goods store (Sam Wyche Sports World) in Greenville, S.C., and that operation has now grown into an eleven-store chain.

In 1979 Wyche received a call from his former quarterback coach with the Bengals, Bill Walsh, who asked him to join the San Francisco 49er staff as quarterback and passing game coach.

He accepted and coached the passing game of the 49ers from 1979 through 1982 including Super Bowl XVI when San Francisco defeated the Bengals 26-21.

While with the 49ers for four years he was widely credited with developing quarterbacks Joe Montana, Steve DeBerg and Guy Benjamin and receivers Dwight Clark, Freddie Solomon and Renaldo Nehemiah.

"Sam Wyche is the finest mind and teacher of football in the game today," says Walsh, president, general manager and head coach of the 49ers.

Montana has this to say about Wyche:

"All of Sam's career had been spent with great teachers in the game of football, and Sam deserves to be in that category now. He has been very instrumental in my development as a quarterback and complete player. His knowledge of offensive philosophies is unsurpassed."

And this from All-Pro wide receiver Dwight Clark:

"Sam has a great ability for teaching receivers. He has a special knack for spotting talent in a player and helping him reach his potential — potential the player sometimes doesn't know he has. Sam's knowledge of the passing game is unequalled. He is one of the main reasons that this 10th round draft choice is All-Pro today."

Wyche became head coach of Indiana University in 1983 and compiled a 3-8 record in a rebuilding season.

Wyche has been taught by some of the finest teachers in the game. Among them are Brown, Walsh, Allen, Marchibroda, Forzano, Mike McCormack, Jack Pardee, Don Coryell, Jim Hanifan, Bill Johnson, Jim Ringo, Raymond Berry and Joe Gibbs.

"I don't think you are around anyone who doesn't rub off on you," said Wyche who describes himself as a coach this way:

"I have the perspective of the player. I've sat in the locker room. I've complained about the coach's long practice, stupid sprints and all those things. So I'll know what the scuttlebutt will be among the team.

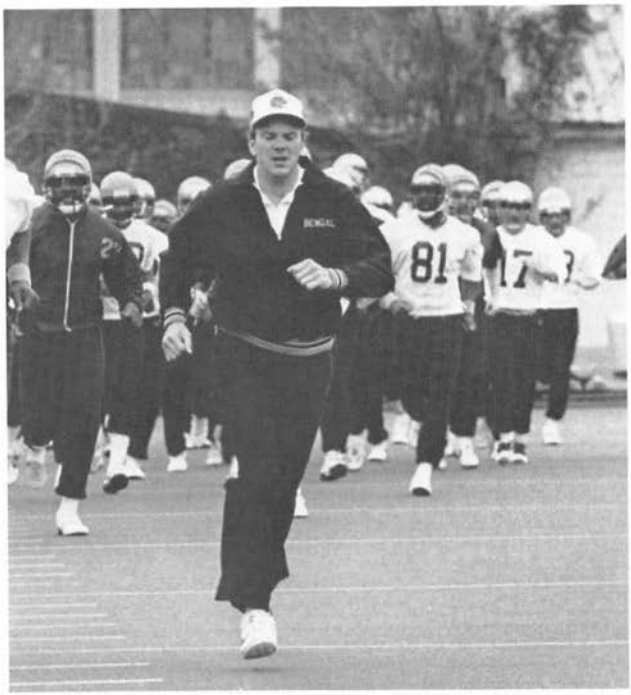

"Discipline is important, and without it, you collapse. At some point you find a way to beat yourself without discipline. Discipline, though, is something that can't be dished out all the time. It's regurgitated by the team. So you create an atmosphere where the players don't want to disappoint you, as opposed to an atmosphere where they don't want to do things wrong so you won't criticize them.

"I hope that I will be respected by the team. I hope they will think of me as a knowledgeable and fair coach."

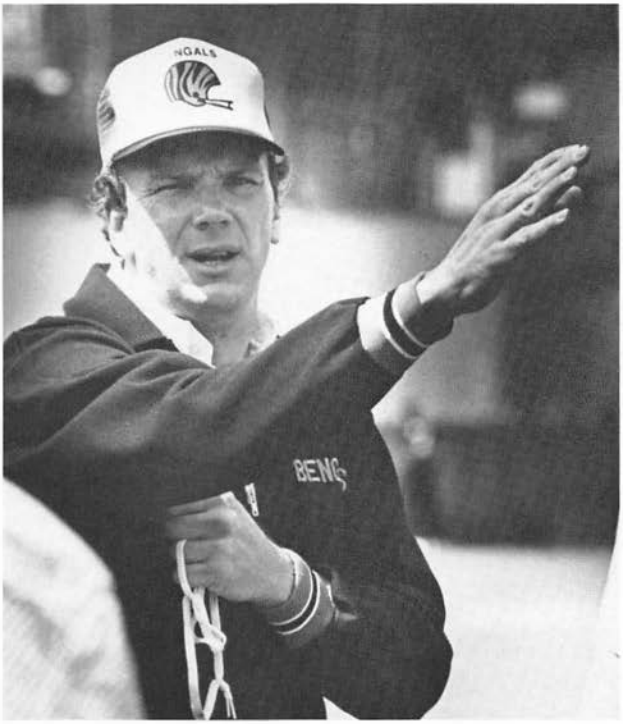

Wyche is a much sought-after public speaker and is a member of the prestigious President's Council on Physical Fitness.

Among his hobbies are magic, guitar, tennis, golf and home computers.

Sam and his wife, Jane, are the parents of two children, son Zak, 13, and daughter, Kerry, 11.

SAM WYCHE GIVES INSTRUCTIONS

"We are not looking at the 1984 season as a rebuilding year, nor are we looking at 1984 as a transitional year," says Cincinnati head coach Sam Wyche.

"Rather, this is one of those unusual circumstances where a good football team has a change in coaching.

"The Bengals are strong at every position," Wyche added. "The loss of some starters, either to the USFL or retirement, should not affect the overall success formula for the 1984 version of the Cincinnati Bengals.

"The new coaching staff is a comfortable blend of young teachers, primarily out of the college ranks (Trent Walters from the University of Washington, Jim Anderson from Stanford University and Bill Urbanik from Wake Forest) and a group of experienced veteran coaches (Dick Selcer from the Houston Oilers, Joe Faragalli from the Canadian Football League and Dick LeBeau, Bruce Coslet and Jim McNally who have been with the Bengals for several years).

"We are lucky to have Kenny Anderson coming back and with a great attitude toward the possibilities of the 1984 season," said the new head coach of the Bengals.

"Defensively, the return of Glenn Cameron, as well as the other members of the No. 1 ranked Bengals defense, give a lot of confidence to the playoff prospects.

"It has been my contention since arriving in Cincinnati that this year, unlike almost any other year, the teams that play well together and have good feelings about themselves as a 'team' will have the best chance to make the playoffs.

"This is the kind of year that will be filled with distractions and the team that can focus in on the goal of being a champion and play together in that way will have the smoothest road to travel.

"Our off-season this year has been spent in creating an environment where this ball club feels like a close-knit family, not only among the players, but among the coaches and their families as well.

"I have nothing but high expectations for each player individually, as well as this team as a group," Wyche concluded.

BENGALS POSITION COACHES

JIM ANDERSON
Running Backs

Jim Anderson is the coach of the Cincinnati Bengals running backs.

Anderson joined head coach Sam Wyche's staff in January after serving three years as coach of the running backs at Stanford University (1981-83).

The 36-year old Anderson has also coached at Southern Methodist (1976-80), Nevada-Las Vegas (1974-75); Scottsdale Community College (1973), San Diego Morse High School (1972), and Cal-Western (now U.S. International) (1970-71).

A native of Harrisburg, Pa., Anderson was voted team co-captain and NAIA All-District as a linebacker-defensive end for Cal-Western in San Diego in 1970.

Anderson was running back coach at Nevada-Las Vegas in 1974 when the Runnin' Rebels posted a 12-1 season and advanced to the Grantland Rice Bowl (the NCAA Division II semi-finals). During the season he coached Mike Thomas who was NFL Rookie of the year with the Washington Redskins in 1975.

Anderson was born March 27, 1948. He and his wife Marcia have a son, Derek, 9.

BRUCE COSLET
Wide Receivers

Former Bengal tight end Bruce Coslet is in charge of the Cincinnati wide receivers.

He joined the Bengals in 1981 after leaving the San Francisco 49ers where he was special teams and tight ends coach. He coached the Bengals' tight ends and special teams in 1981-82-83.

Coslet was a teammate of new head coach Sam Wyche for two years with the Bengals and coached with him at San Francisco.

Coslet played for the Bengals for eight seasons as a tight end and also was an outstanding special teams player. He was with the Bengals from 1969 until he retired following the 1976 season. He was special teams captain for several seasons and was the first former Bengal to return to the team as a coach.

A graduate of the University of the Pacific, Coslet caught 64 passes for 877 yards and nine touchdowns during his National Football League career.

Bruce and his wife, Kathy, have two children, J.J., 9, and Amy, 7. He was born August 5, 1946.

JOE FARAGALLI
Quarterbacks-Tight Ends

Joe Faragalli, a veteran of 29 years of coaching, was named coach of the Cincinnati Bengals' quarterbacks and tight ends January 11, 1984.

Faragalli was head coach of the Saskatchewan Roughriders in the Canadian Football League from 1981 until mid-season in 1983. He was Canadian League Coach of the Year in 1981 when he led the Roughriders to a 9-7 season following a 2-14 season in 1980 under his predecessor.

Faragalli, a native of Philadelphia, attended Villanova, and after serving two years in the Army and coaching in high school, returned to his alma mater as an assistant coach from 1962-65.

He then joined the Winnipeg Blue Bombers as an assistant in 1967. In 1970, he left Winnipeg to become offensive coordinator at Brown University. He then moved to Marshall in the same capacity in 1973.

Faragalli returned to Winnipeg as offensive coordinator in 1974 and joined the Edmonton Eskimos' staff in 1977. His years with the Eskimos were highlighted by four trips to the Grey Cup and three championships (1978-79-80).

Following the 1980 season he was named to the head coaching position at Saskatchewan where he compiled a 16-21-2 record in 2½ seasons.

Joe's wife's name is Lore.

DICK LEBEAU
Defensive Coordinator

Dick LeBeau, architect of the American Football Conference's finest pass defense, was promoted to defensive coordinator on December 30, 1983.

LeBeau's well-coached defenders also finished an enviable third in the entire NFL. The Bengals' defense against the pass and rush was first in the league.

The improvement in Cincinnati's once weak secondary came soon after LeBeau's appointment as defensive backfield coach December 31, 1979. The Bengals limited their opponents to an average of only 176.8 yards per game in 1983.

Former All-Pro LeBeau, who played 14 seasons with the Detroit Lions, came to Cincinnati from the Green Bay Packers where his secondary group was called the SWAT unit because of the ability of its members to deliver hard tackles.

LeBeau, highly-regarded in NFL coaching circles, joined the Packers in 1976 after serving as special teams coach of the Philadelphia Eagles following retirement as a player in 1972.

The 46-year-old LeBeau was a fifth round draft choice of the Cleveland Browns in 1959 after an outstanding career at Ohio State where he was an offensive and defensive back. He was released by Cleveland and signed by Detroit as a rookie.

He set an alltime durability record for cornerbacks by playing 171 consecutive games during his career with the Lions. His 62 pass interceptions rank him fifth on professional football's alltime list. Ken Riley, one of LeBeau's Bengal players, went around him last season to claim fourth with 65 interceptions.

LeBeau starred for Ohio State for three seasons and was a standout performer on the national championship team in 1957.

While with Detroit, he was selected to play in three Pro Bowl games and enjoyed his best statistical season in 1970 when he intercepted nine passes and compiled 96 yards in returns.

Born Charles Richard LeBeau on September 9, 1937, in London, Ohio, he was an All-Ohio High School selection before going to Ohio State.

Dick and his wife, Nancy, have a son, Brandon Grant, 5.

JIM McNALLY
Offensive Line Coach

Jim McNally is in his fifth season as offensive line coach of the Cincinnati Bengals.

The hard-working McNally has put together a huge, cohesive unit that is considered one of the best offensive lines in the NFL.

When McNally arrived in Cincinnati in 1980 one of the tasks he faced was to increase the pass protection and trim the number of quarterback sacks.

He has responded to the challenge. In 1979, the year before he came on the scene, Bengal quarterbacks were sacked 63 times, highest in the NFL. McNally cut the number to 36 in 1980, 35 in 1981, 27 in 1982 and 41 in 1983.

McNally had a wealth of college coaching experience before taking his first pro job with the Bengals.

He was offensive line coach at Wake Forest in 1979; at Boston College from 1976 to 1978; at Marshall from 1973 to 1975, and at the University of Buffalo from 1966 to 1969.

He played guard for three seasons at the University of Buffalo where he was All-East and was inducted into the school's Hall of Fame in 1983.

Born December 13, 1943 in Buffalo, Jim and his wife, Carolyn, have three children, Jenny, 13; Betsey, 10; and Jon, 9.

DICK SELCER
Linebackers

Dick Selcer, former Houston Oiler assistant, was named linebacker coach of the Cincinnati Bengals on January 6, 1984.

Selcer, a Cincinnatian, coached the Houston linebackers for three seasons (1981-82-83) before joining the Bengals.

Selcer coached in the collegiate ranks for 19 years before joining the Oilers. He was an assistant at Xavier University (1962-64), defensive coordinator at the University of Cincinnati (1965-66) and Brown University (1967-69).

He was head coach at Xavier in 1970-71 before moving to the University of Wisconsin where he was an assistant from 1972-74. He served as defensive coordinator at Kansas State University and later held the same position at Southwestern Louisiana University.

Selcer, who was born August 22, 1937, is a former Notre Dame quarterback and running back and earned letters in football and baseball. He played high school football at Cincinnati Elder where he was All-Ohio. He also captained the Elder football, basketball and baseball teams in his senior year.

He and his wife, Meryl, have five children, Michael, 24; Stephen, 23; Patrick, 21; Connie, 18; and Kevin, 13.

BILL URBANIK
Defensive Line

Bill Urbanik was named defensive line coach of the Cincinnati Bengals on January 16, 1984.

He had been defensive line coach at Wake Forest University for six seasons.

A 1970 graduate of Ohio State, Urbanik was a three-year letterman under Woody Hayes and was twice named honorable mention at defensive tackle on the All-Big Ten team. He was a member of the Buckeye's national championship team in 1968.

Urbanik's coaching career began as a student assistant at Ohio State in 1970. He was head football and wrestling coach at Columbus Watterson High School from 1970-71. After leaving Watterson, Urbanik went to Marshall where he earned his masters degree and coached the offensive linemen from 1971-73.

In 1973 he returned to the high school ranks as head coach at George Rogers Clark High School in Winchester, Ky., before returning to Marshall for a one-year stint as defensive line coach. For the next three years he served as defensive line, defensive end and linebacker coach at Northern Illinois. He joined Wake Forest in 1978.

He and his wife, Martha, have a son, Urson, 3.

TRENT WALTERS
Defensive Backfield

Trent Walters, who has been in the coaching profession 15 years, is the Cincinnati Bengals' defensive backfield coach.

He joined head coach Sam Wyche's staff on January 19, 1984.

Walters had been defensive backfield coach at the University of Washington for three seasons and also worked with the punt and kickoff return teams.

Before joining Washington in 1981, he was defensive backfield coach at indiana (1973-80), and Louisville (1972), freshman coach at Indiana (1970-71) and assistant freshman coach at Indiana (1968-69).

The 40-year-old Walters played at Indiana in 1963-64-65 and led the Hoosiers in punt and kickoff returns as a senior. He played two seasons with Edmonton and led the Canadian Football League in punt and kickoff returns in 1966 and 1967.

Walters holds a bachelor of science degree in physical education and a masters' degree in physical education administration from Indiana.

He and his wife, Gail, have three children, Trent, 9, Vanessa, 8, and Troy, 6.

KIM WOOD
Strength Coach

Kim Wood is beginning his 10th season as strength coach of the Cincinnati Bengals.

Wood has made the Bengals one of the best conditioned teams in the NFL and has instilled dedication and pride in physical fitness among the players.

The 38-year-old Wood became the Bengals' first fulltime strength coach in 1975. He is credited with many training innovations being used today throughout football.

Wood has been one of the leaders in the Nautilus training program since its inception. He is a dedicated and tireless worker and has set up programs for a number of NFL and college teams.

He was an outstanding running back at the University of Wisconsin. Kim and his wife, Connie, have a son, John, 5, twin daughters Becky and Alyssa, 3, and another daughter, Jacqueline, 1.

Defensive lineman Peter Koch, Maryland, is Cincinnati's second first round choice, and offensive lineman Brian Blados, North Carolina, is the team's third first round pick.

A FINAL LOOK AT 1983

The Cincinnati Bengals remained in the playoff picture until the final two weeks of the 1983 season despite losing six of their first seven games.

The Bengals were forced to play without quarterback Ken Anderson, who suffered a neck injury in the fourth game, during much of the early going.

The Bengals' fortunes turned at midseason with a 28-21 victory over the Cleveland Browns.

Cincinnati then embarked on a winning streak with verdicts over Cleveland, Green Bay and Houston before faltering to Kansas City.

The Bengals won three of their last five, defeating Houston for the second time, Pittsburgh and Detroit while losing to Miami and Minnesota.

During the final nine weeks of the 1983 season the Bengals were 6-3 but the damage had been done earlier and a 7-9 record fell short of the playoffs.

Sam Wyche, former Bengal quarterback and head coach at Indiana University last season, was named head coach of the Cincinnati Bengals on December 28. Wyche succeeded Forrest Gregg who had resigned to become head coach of the Green Bay Packers.

A game-by-game synopsis of the 1983 season follows:

LOS ANGELES RAIDERS 20, CINCINNATI 10
September 4 at Riverfront Stadium, Attendance 50,956

The Los Angeles Raiders, eventual Super Bowl XVIII champions, trimmed the Cincinnati Bengals, 20-10, in a 1983 National Football League opening game.

The Raiders took an early 17-0 lead on a pair of touchdowns by Marcus Allen and field goal by Chris Bahr and never faltered.

Cincinnati's only touchdown came in the final minute of the game on a nine-yard pass from Ken Anderson to tight end M.L. Harris.

September 25 at Tampa Stadium, Attendance 56,023

The Cincinnati Bengals shut down a last minute Tampa Bay drive to preserve a hard-fought 23-17 victory and snap a three-game losing streak.

Defensive back Ray Griffin was the man of the hour as he intercepted ex-Bengal Jack Thompson's pass on the Cincinnati 24 and ran it out to the 48 with 1:30 remaining to seal the verdict.

On Tampa Bay's first play from scrimmage in the game, Cincinnati's veteran cornerback Ken Riley intercepted a Thompson pass and raced 34 yards for a touchdown. Thompson completed 30 of 40 passes for 316 yards and a touchdown but three Bengal interceptions (the other by Robert Jackson) did him and the Bucs in.

BALTIMORE COLTS 34, CINCINNATI BENGALS 31
October 2 at Riverfront Stadium, Attendance 48,104

The Baltimore Colts stormed back for 10 points in the fourth quarter to nip Cincinnati 34-31 in a game the Bengals seemed to have under control after three quarters.

Cincinnati held a 31-24 lead going into the fourth stanza but were unable to stave off the resurgent Colts.

Bengal quarterback Ken Anderson turned in his finest performance of the young season, completing 22 of 31 passes for 340 yards, three touchdowns and two interceptions. Cris Collinsworth caught nine passes for 216 yards and one touchdown. His nine receptions in a game tied a club record and the 216 reception yards set a mark.

The Bengals' total yardage was 397 to Baltimore's 264, but two interceptions and two lost fumbles more than made up the difference.

PITTSBURGH STEELERS 24, CINCINNATI 14
October 10 at Riverfront Stadium, Attendance 56,083

The opportunistic Pittsburgh Steelers turned two pass interceptions and a fumble recovery into touchdowns to bounce the Cincinnati Bengals 24-14 in a Monday night game.

The loss dropped the Bengals to 1-5 for the season.

Ron Johnson raced 34 yards with an interception for a TD and Harvey Clayton returned an errant Cincinnati aerial 70 yards to pay dirt in the fourth quarter. Early in the first quarter, Rick Woods picked up a Rodney Tate fumble and ran 38 yards for a six-pointer.

Cincinnati outgained Pittsburgh 281 to 168 but mistakes again cost the Bengals dearly.

Turk Schonert replaced Ken Anderson in the first quarter and completed 16 of 29 passes for 193 yards. He threw three interceptions.

Anderson suffered a neck injury which would sideline him for the next three games.

October 16 at Mile High Stadium, Attendance 74,305

The Denver Broncos sent the Cincinnati Bengals tumbling to their sixth loss in seven starts, 24-17, in a hard-fought battle to the very end.

Turk Schonert, in relief for the injured Ken Anderson, completed 20 of 33 passes for 290 yards and had one interception. Cris Collinsworth caught seven passes for 149 yards.

Rookie cornerback Ray Horton came up with an eye-popping interception and returned it 55 yards for a touchdown to tie the score 17-17 in the third quarter.

Denver's Rick Parros caught a seven-yard pass from Steve DeBerg to settle the issue in the final quarter. Cincinnati drove to the Bronco 20-yard line in the final seconds but failed to cash in.

Ken Riley intercepted a pass and returned it 42 yards for a touchdown in the fourth quarter to give the Cincinnati Bengals a thrilling 28-21 victory over the Cleveland Browns and end a three-game losing streak.

Cleveland held a 21-14 lead going into the fourth quarter, but the rugged Bengal defense then put the stops on the Browns. Meanwhile, the Bengals tied the game on Charles Alexander's four-yard scamper with about 12 minutes remaining. Then came Riley's theft of a Brian Sipe pass with nine minutes to play.

CINCINNATI BENGALS 34, GREEN BAY PACKERS 14

October 30 at Riverfront Stadium, Attendance 53,349

Pete Johnson and Turk Schonert provided the offensive heroics and the defense did the rest as the Cincinnati Bengals made it two in an row with a 34-14 thumping of the Green Bay Packers.

Johnson eclipsed the 100-yard rushing standard when he battered his way for 112 yards on 26 attempts. Two of his carries resulted in touchdowns. He also caught five Turk Schonert passes for 53 yards.

Schonert completed 20 of 29 passes for 290 yards and two touchdowns, one a two-yard toss to Cris Collinsworth and the other a 10-yard shot to Steve Kreider.

The Bengals roared to a 27-7 halftime margin. Cincinnati had 464 total yards while limiting Green Bay to 283 and only 73 rushing.

November 6 at the Astrodome, Attendance 39,706

The Bengals ran their winning streak to three as they thoroughly thrashed the Houston Oilers, 55-14, in their biggest offensive outpouring in recent seasons.

Ken Anderson returned to action at quarterback and fired a 14-yard TD pass to Cris Collinsworth; Pete Johnson rushed for three touchdowns and rookie Stanley Wilson accounted for 99 yards on 17 attempts and scored a TD.

The Bengals made good use of seven Houston turnovers — four fumbles and three pass interceptions. Linebacker Reggie Williams returned a fumble recovery 59 yards for a touchdown.

November 23 at the Orange Bowl, Attendance 74,506

The Cincinnati Bengals fell victim to rookie quarterback sensation Dan Marino and the Miami Dolphins, 38-14, in a Monday Night football game.

Marino connected on three touchdown passes on two aerials to Mark Duper and another to Johnson.

Ken Anderson threw the football for a gaudy 342 yards on 23 of 36 completions in a losing cause. One of Anderson's strikes was to veteran wide receiver Isaac Curtis good for 80 yards and a TD. Curtis had four receptions for 114 yards for the evening.

The loss tumbled the Bengals season record to 5-8 and all but eliminated any playoff hopes.

CINCINNATI BENGALS 23, PITTSBURGH STEELERS 10
December 4 at Three Rivers Stadium Attendance 55,832

The Cincinnati Bengals, led by Pete Johnson, turned in one of their best performances of the season and whipped the Pittsburgh Steelers, AFC Central Division leaders, 23-10.

Johnson rushed for 126 yards and two touchdowns and Jim Breech kicked three field goals.

Cincinnati's top ranked defense limited the Steelers to 88 yards passing and only 84 yards rushing. Meanwhile, the Bengals piled up 350 total yards — 195 rushing and 150 passing.

The victory gave the Bengals a 6-8 record heading into the final two games of the season.

December 11 at Riverfront Stadium, Attendance 45,728

It was "Ken Riley Day" at Riverfront and he and his Cincinnati Bengal teammates made things perfect for him with a 17-9 victory over the Detroit Lions.

Riley, who announced his retirement following the season after playing for 15 years with the Bengals, was honored at halftime by the team. At this point, he was the NFL's leading active pass interceptor with 61. He also was fourth on the alltime interception list.

Pete Johnson again rushed for more than 100 yards, gaining 118 yards on 26 carries and two touchdowns. The two TDs gave him 14 for the season.

Ken Anderson and Turk Schonert shared the quarterback duties and completed 10 of 26 passes for 132 yards.

The Cincinnati Bengals hopes for a season-ending .500 record were dashed by the upstart Minnesota Vikings, 20-14, in the final regular season game of 1983.

The Vikings exploded for two touchdowns in the final quarter to take the verdict away from the injury-riddled Bengals.

Ken Riley, the Bengals' retiring cornerback, had a pair of pass interceptions to lift his career total to 64, fourth on the alltime list.

Steve Kreider was another Cincinnati bright spot with nine receptions for 109 yards. Cincinnati closed out the 1983 campaign with a 7-9 record.

ISAAC CURTIS TUCKS IT AWAY

VETERAN OFFENSIVE TACKLE MIKE WILSON

1983 FINAL BENGAL REGULAR SEASON DEFENSIVE STATISTICS

The Cincinnati Bengals' defense was the best in the NFL in 1983. The Bengals ranked first against both the pass and the rush in the American Football Conference. They were first against the rush and third against the pass in the National Football League.

Cincinnati held its opponents to 93.7 yards rushing and 176.8 passing per game. No individual back rushed for more than 100 yards in a single game against the Bengals.

Inside linebacker Glenn Cameron led the Cincinnati Bengals in tackles in 1983 with a total of 103 — 63 solos and 40 assists. He also accounted for two quarterback sacks.

Outside linebacker Reggie Williams was second with 57 unassisted tackles and 33 assists for a total of 90. Williams also had seven and one half quarterback sacks and four fumble recoveries, tops on the team.

Defensive end Eddie Edwards led the Bengals in quarterback sacks with 13.

BENGALS-FRITO LAY CHALLENGE FOR CHILDREN

The Cincinnati Bengals and the Frito-Lay Co. are teammates in the Challenge for Children program which began in 1982.

For every point scored by the Bengals in the regular season, Frito-Lay contributes $100 to the Ricky King Fund which is administered by the Children's Hospital in Cincinnati.

Frito-Lay has contributed $67,000 to the Ricky King Fund at Children's Hospital in Cincinnati since the Challenge for Children program began with the Bengals in 1982.

In 1982, Frito-Lay made a contribution of $31,900. In addition to the $100 for each point the Bengals scored, Frito-Lay presented the Ricky King Fund an additional $7,000 - $1,000 for each game missed because of the players' strike.

"We are happy to be associated with Frito-Lay in this venture which is for a very, very worthy cause," said Paul E. Brown, vice president and general manager of the Cincinnati Bengals. "It's a wonderful partnership and we hope it will continue for many years."

The Right Man

The script called for a large Hispanic to play the part of a hospital orderly in the movie The Right Stuff. Released last November, the film, an adaptation of Tom Wolfe's book, tells the stories of America's original seven astronauts.

In case you didn't notice the credits, the orderly was Anthony Munoz, the Cincinnati Bengals' 6-foot 6-inch, 278-pound tackle.

Munoz also had a small part in Borderline (which starred Charles Bronson) during his junior year at USC.

The scenes involving Munoz were filmed in San Francisco shortly after the Bengals were beaten by the San Francisco 49ers 26-21 in Super Bowl XVI.

Munoz recalled with a laugh: "It seemed like there were 49ers pennants following me around wherever I went."

COVERING THE BENGALS

PRESS BOX

Located on Riverfront Stadium's south side, the press box is serviced by an elevator from ground level. The press box has services and booths for newspapers, television and radio. There are two darkrooms for wire service transmission.

CREDENTIALS

Contact either Al Heim or Inky Studley as early as possible for all credentials. Credentials will be mailed in advance when possible. If not, credentials will be picked up on game day at Press Will Call — Gate 9 on the Plaza Level at Riverfront Stadium. The Press Will Call window will be open two hours prior to game time. Please do not request credentials for non-workers. Photographers please specify field or upper level.
