ARTHUR B. MODELL, Owner

Born: June 23, 1925 at Brooklyn, New York

A redoubling and intensifying of efforts to return the Cleveland Browns to the high level of past successes is the chief objective of Art Modell this year.

Two consecutive losing seasons on the football field don't set well with the hard-working Modell, who takes enormous pride in the Browns' positive accomplishments and is deeply affected by the adversity the club has encountered of late.

Modell thrives on challenges, and re-establishing the Browns to their former eminence starting in 1976 and continuing into the coming years is a top-priority task he is pursuing with all of his well-known vigor.

"I fully intend for the Browns to become a dynasty again, and I fully expect it," says Modell. "There was a period when we had 80,000 fans for 17 consecutive home games. Those were the days I enjoyed. We'll be back there very soon, we'll be back competitively, and with big crowds."

While the Browns are Modell's over-riding chief interest, they are by no means his only one. Yet nearly everything else he plunges into has the betterment of the Browns as his ultimate goal. That includes widespread activity in National Football League affairs, and the immense job of refurbishing Cleveland Stadium which Modell shouldered 3 years ago.

Dramatic improvements in the 45-year-old Stadium already are very much in evidence — luxurious loges, thousands of new and more comfortable seats, better rest room and concession facilities, revamped electrical and plumbing systems, general cleaning and painting, much better lighting, improved parking, and fresh this year is a lowered (by two feet) and completely re-sodded playing surface for both football and baseball. And there is more coming, too.

Modell has been motivated by king-sized tasks such as those involving the Browns and Stadium for as far back as he can recall. As a youth of 15, after seeing his parents struggle through the depression, he got his first job as an electrician's helper in a Brooklyn, N. Y., shipyard and went nights to finish high school.

By his own standards a fair athlete with being a baseball catcher as his strongest suit, he had to relinquish sports at an early age to help his parents make ends meet. Modell went on to join the Air Force in 1943 and following World War II enrolled in a New York City television school.

The same foresight and imagination that have aided Modell so much in pro football led him into formulating and directing the first regular daytime television show in New York, and possibly the entire nation. In 1954, he moved into the advertising business with one of the country's most successful agencies, the L. H. Hartman Co. in New York City.

Modell took the giant and daring step that transformed him from advertising executive to majority owner of the Browns in March, 1961 and pro football has been the better for it ever since.

Although competition throughout the league has intensified greatly in recent years, Modell takes pride in the fact the Browns remained at or near the top longer than any other team in pro football. Among the rewards were the 1964 NFL title and 6 trips to post-season playoffs or championship games (1965, 1967, 1968, 1969, 1971 and 1972).

It was Modell who developed the pre-season doubleheader idea that proved so popular for a decade. Economics led to a change in the format to several single home games starting the summer of 1972, but a portion of the proceeds still goes to charities sponsored by The Cleveland Press and The Plain Dealer.

It was Modell, always a trendsetter, who took another major and dramatic step in the spring of 1969 by agreeing to shift the Browns, along with Pittsburgh and Baltimore, to what had been the American Football League. The realignment cleared up a major roadblock in the merging of the NFL and AFL.

Modell served as president of the NFL from May, 1967, to March, 1970, and has been on numerous league committees, especially those involving labor negotiations and television. Last fall, he was the foreman of the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury. At the conclusion of his term, he made several suggestions on improving procedure that were lauded in legal circles.

Joining him in many humanitarian interests that benefit the Cleveland community is his wife, Pat, since their marriage July 25th, 1969. They have two sons, John, 16, and David, 15, from Mrs. Modell's previous marriage. The Modells recently purchased a new home in the Lake County community of Waite Hill, about 20 miles east of downtown Cleveland.

PETER HADHAZY

Executive Assistant to the President

Born: February 9, 1944 at Debrecen, Hungary

Newest member of the Browns' front office staff and a person expected to be an important aide to Art Modell is Peter Hadhazy.

In making the announcement of Hadhazy's move to the Cleveland organization last February, Modell indicated that he would be involved in all facets of the club's operations. Modell has known Hadhazy throughout his period of ownership of the club and had been impressed by him almost from the first when Hadhazy was a high school youngster working part-time in the NFL office in New York.

As a matter of record, all of Hadhazy's employment since his graduation from Iona College has been in professional football with the league office, the New England Patriots and now the Browns. He had come to the United States with his parents as a youngster from Hungary where he was born.

Hadhazy enrolled at Iona on a tennis scholarship and is still rated as one of the best tennis players in the NFL.

At the NFL office, Hadhazy did specialized work on financial projects, contracts and player relations. In addition he handled many administrative responsibilities in connection with staging the Conference championship games and the Super Bowl. In 1969 he was elevated to the position of Director of Player Personnel for the NFL, a post he held until joining New England in July, 1971 as administrative assistant to the then General Manager Upton Bell.

In January, 1973 he advanced to the position of Assistant General Manager when Chuck Fairbanks assumed the dual jobs of General Manager and Head Coach of New England.

Hadhazy and his wife Rita have 2 daughters — Andrea, two, and Deana born last March.

FORREST GREGG, Head Coach

3rd season with the Browns, 7th in coaching

Born: October 18, 1933 at Birthright, Texas

Graduated Southern Methodist University, 1956

A man of unwavering confidence in his own ability and that of his players despite the many pitfalls of last season, Forrest Gregg is moving into his second year as head coach of the Cleveland Browns with the same determination to succeed that marked his more than a decade as a player.

"There was a definite turn-around in attitude and performance in the last 7 games of the 1975 season," says Gregg, citing the maturing of some of the younger players as one of the keys.

"The men never quit battling, and responded to what we asked of them. We have a lot of sound players, people with ability and character. I'd have to credit most of the improvement to them."

Although his first year as head coach turned into a nightmare of injury and defeat he never dreamed could happen, Gregg has the built-in fortitude to match his imposing physique and deep-throated voice.

"It's hard for me to be discouraged, no matter what has happened," he said at the height of last year's adversity. "I believe in these football players. And if you believe in the people you're working with and in what you're doing, you know this can't last forever."

Things did get better, too, with 3 victories in the last 5 games, a banner year for Greg Pruitt, improved defensive work, and the emergence of rookies like Oscar Roan, Mack Mitchell, Dick Ambrose, Tony Peters and Bob Jackson.

Their work, along with that group of proven veterans, form the nucleus for what Gregg is firmly convinced will be a much better season in 1976.

The big, rugged-looking Texan brought impressive credentials to his most important assignment so far in pro football. A background of 15 playing seasons, mostly under famed teacher-coach Vince Lombardi at Green Bay; All-Pro honors as an offensive lineman; participation in 3 Super Bowl victories; and a number of seasons as an assistant coach at Green Bay and San Diego.

Gregg grew up in Birthright, Texas, a town located east of Dallas and named after a distant relative, and nearby Miller Grove. His first taste of competitive football came at yet another nearby town, Sulphur Springs.

He broke in as a defensive tackle despite never having seen a game of football in his life, and did so well that he earned a scholarship to Southern Methodist University — as an offensive lineman. That, in turn, led to him being picked in the second round of the 1956 draft by the Packers.

The Pack was in deep trouble on the field when Gregg joined them, and were in even deeper when he returned in 1958 after 21 months of military service. Then came the late Lombardi and one of the more dramatic turnabouts in NFL history.

Gregg was a key figure in Green Bay's glory years through much of the 1960s, and at one stretch was named to the Pro Bowl 7 out of 8 years.

"At the end of my playing career, I knew I had gotten absolutely all I could ever get out of myself as an athlete," he recalls. It was then that the teaching and philosophy of Lombardi began to pay off for Gregg in the coaching field.

The 6-4, 240-pound Gregg is his own man, though, and says, "There was only one Lombardi and I don't expect there ever will be another. You can't pattern yourself after someone else. No. two people feel alike, or react alike, to things that occur on or off the football field.

"As a coach, I demand a lot and I expect a lot. If I don't get it, I start looking to someone else."

Gregg and his wife, Barbara, reside in the Cleveland suburb of Brecksville with their two children — Forrest Jr. and Karen.

RAYMOND BERRY

Coach, Receivers

BIRTHDATE—Feb. 27, 1933
BIRTHPLACE—Corpus Christi, Texas
COLLEGE—Southern Methodist '55
SEASONS IN COACHING—9
SEASONS WITH BROWNS—1

One of the premier pass catchers in NFL history joins the staff this season as successor to Doug Gerhart as the Browns' receiver coach.

The name Raymond Berry is indelibly etched in pro football annals for his accomplishments with the Baltimore Colts from 1955 through 1967. As the favorite and most dependable receiver for famed quarterback Johnny Unitas, Raymond led the league in receiving in 1958, 1959 and 1960.

Despite the passage of time, Raymond's name still is easily found among all-time NFL records, and is even more prominent in Baltimore's history for club records he owns outright. Among the latter are career totals of 631 catches for 9,275 yards.

The most deserving of all rewards, however, was being named to Pro Football's Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio, in 1973.

A native Texan, Berry starred at Southern Methodist University before turning pro. After finishing his career with the Colts, he entered coaching as an assistant on the Dallas Cowboys' staff in 1968, and went to the University of Arkansas 2 years later. He comes to Cleveland from Detroit where he coached the past 3 seasons.

He and his wife, Sally, have 2 daughters, Suzanne and Ashley, and a son, Mark. They reside in Brecksville, Ohio.

BLANTON COLLIER

Coach, Quarterbacks

BIRTHDATE—July 2, 1906
BIRTHPLACE—Millersburg, Ky.
COLLEGE—Georgetown, Ky.
SEASONS IN COACHING—44
SEASONS WITH BROWNS—23

When invited to forsake the scouting department, where he had been since stepping down as Cleveland's second head coach after the 1970 season, Blanton Collier literally jumped at the opportunity.

"I told Art Modell and Forrest Gregg I'd do anything to help the Browns," said Collier. "I'm excited to be back in the game. I guess I'm sort of a coach-aholic. It's in my blood."

"Blanton is one of the great football strategists of all time," says Modell. "The book says he's 69, but he's more like 48 going on 30. He's a very vibrant man."

One of Collier's first duties in pro football was working with Otto Graham in the late 1940s. Graham always credited Collier with helping him become one of the game's all-time great quarterbacks.

A native of Millersburg, Kentucky, Collier coached at the University of Kentucky between terms with the Browns. During his term as head coach of the Browns, the team won 76, lost 34 and tied twice for one of the better records in pro football during the 1963-1970 period. Cleveland won 1 league title, 4 conference championships, 3 division crowns and twice finished second.

Blanton and his wife, Mary Forman, reside in Aurora. They have 3 daughters and 7 grandchildren.

WALT COREY

Coach, Linebackers

BIRTHDATE—May 9, 1938
BIRTHPLACE—Latrobe, Pa.
COLLEGE—Miami, Fla.
SEASONS IN COACHING—9
SEASONS WITH BROWNS—2

The almost instant success of Dick Ambrose as the Browns' hard-hitting rookie middle linebacker marked Walt Corey's first year as the club's new linebacker coach and overseer of Cleveland's weight and conditioning program.

A strong interest in intensive body-building helped direct Corey's future after he completed his college career at the University of Miami (Fla.) as a 180-pound defensive end.

Corey embarked on a personal weight program that boosted him to 235 pounds in 6 months and earned him a free agent trial with the Dallas Texans (later the Kansas City Chiefs) in the American Football League. He won the job and played from 1960 through 1966.

Walt also instituted the club's first off-season weight program in 1964. He entered coaching at Utah State in 1967, returned to Miami in 1970, and became Kansas City's linebacker-strength coach in 1971, positions he held until joining the Browns' staff last year.

Walt and his wife, Jane, have three children: Kathy, Carla and Mark. The family home is in North Olmsted, Ohio.

ROD HUMENUIK

Coach, Offensive Line

BIRTHDATE—June 17, 1938
BIRTHPLACE—Detroit, Mich.
COLLEGE—Southern California
SEASONS IN COACHING—13
SEASONS WITH BROWNS—2

Despite numerous injuries and the necessity for considerable changing of personnel and positions, the offensive line in its first year under Rod Humenuik helped the Browns average 4.2 yards a rush. That figure was better than the league average of 4.0 yards, and was surpassed by only 4 other teams.

In addition, the Browns also improved their protection for the quarterback and reduced the total sacks by 10.

The University of Southern California benefited from Rod's work at guard from 1956 through 1958. He then entered pro ball under head coach Bud Grant at Winnipeg in the Canadian League and helped the club gain the playoffs each year along with capturing the prized Grey Cup in 1961 and 1962.

Although the illness of one of his children took Humenuik away from pro football for a while, he remained active as a coach on the high school and junior college levels.

Rod returned to USC as offensive line coach under John McKay in 1966, and the Trojans appeared in 4 consecutive Rose Bowl games. He moved over to California State University in 1971, then coached the Toronto Argonauts' line under John Rauch for 2 seasons before coming to Cleveland.

Rod and his wife, Susie, have three daughters: Kim, Kerry and Kelly and one son Mike. The Humenuiks live in Brecksville, Ohio.

BILLY KINARD

Coach, Defensive Backs

BIRTHDATE—Dec. 16, 1933
BIRTHPLACE—Jackson, Miss.
COLLEGE—Mississippi
SEASONS IN COACHING—16
SEASONS WITH BROWNS—1

In a sense, the pro football career of Billy Kinard has come full circle with his appointment as the Browns' new defensive backfield coach this year. It was Cleveland that first drafted him out of the University of Mississippi exactly 20 years ago.

Billy went on to perform as a defensive back with Green Bay in 1957 and 1958, and with Buffalo in 1960 after a one-year taste of coaching at Daytona Beach (Fla.) High School.

Coaching became Billy's fulltime occupation in 1961 when he became an assistant at Auburn, followed by terms as an aide at Florida (1964-1966), Georgia (1967-1969) and Arkansas (1970) before he became the first alumnus ever to serve as head coach at Ole Miss.

The Rebels posted a 10-2-1 record in 1971, their best season in 8 years. Billy left Mississippi after the 1973 campaign and returned to pro football as defensive backfield coach at Green Bay. Last year, he was the Packers' director of research and development.

Kinard and his wife, Kay, have 2 children: Billy Jr., attending Auburn University, and Kathy. The family resides in Broadview Heights, Ohio.

DICK MODZELEWSKI

Defensive Coordinator; Coach, Defensive Line

BIRTHDATE—Feb. 16, 1931
BIRTHPLACE—West Natrona, Pa.
COLLEGE—Maryland '53
SEASONS IN COACHING—9
SEASONS WITH BROWNS—12

When Dick Modzelewski was given the additional responsibility of defensive coordinator this year after 8 years as defensive line boss, head coach Forrest Gregg said:

"Mo is a very knowledgeable coach and has been in the business a long time. He's done his homework well. He does an excellent job getting the most out of the people working with him and he has the respect of the players. There isn't anything more you can ask."

Mo still is fired with all the enthusiasm that drove him to become one of the better defensive tackles in pro football. Last year his pride and joy was the steady development of first-round draft choice Mack Mitchell at right end to fit in perfectly with Dick's longtime mainstays, tackles Jerry Sherk and Walter Johnson.

Washington drafted Modzelewski in the second round out of Maryland in 1953 and 2 years later sent him to Pittsburgh. But Mo first found his real niche with the New York Giants starting in 1956. He became part of the famed "Fearsome Foursome" and did much to help the Giants win the league crown and 4 conference titles in 7 years.

The Browns acquired Mo in exchange for receiver Bob Crespino in 1964, and Cleveland immediately went on to win the NFL championship that year. He ran his consecutive game playing streak to 180 games before retiring after the 1966 season. He scouted for Cleveland the following year, then was appointed to the coaching staff for the 1968 season.

Dick and his wife, Dorothy, have 4 children: Mark, Laurie, Terrie and Amie. The Modzelewskis make their home in Cleveland Heights, Ohio.

GEORGE SEFCIK

Coach, Offensive Backs

BIRTHDATE—Dec. 27, 1939
BIRTHPLACE—Cleveland, Ohio
COLLEGE—Notre Dame
SEASONS IN COACHING—14
SEASONS WITH BROWNS—2

Getting peak production from men under his command is a recognized talent of this Clevelander, who returned "home" a year ago to handle the Browns' offensive backfield.

Greg Pruitt promptly had his finest pro season with 1,067 yards rushing, and more than doubled his previous reception total with 44. It was a pattern Sefcik set at Baltimore in his 2 seasons there where Lydell Mitchell rushed for 1,720 yards in 2 seasons, and led the entire NFL in 1974 with 72 catches.

Sefcik helped Benedictine High School bring the state title to Cleveland in 1957 as a 5-foot-8, 158-pound halfback. He still found time as a youth to sit in the bleachers at Cleveland Stadium for 50 cents in the hope of catching placekicks by Lou Groza.

National fame came to George at Notre Dame, followed by an immediate start on a coaching career. First stop was Niles (Ill.) High School, then back to Notre Dame a year later as freshman coach under Hugh Devore.

When Ara Parseghian became head coach of the Irish, Sefcik stayed on to coach the receivers for 6 years before going to the University of Kentucky as offensive coordinator under Johnny Ray. He left Kentucky in 1973 to join Baltimore.

George and his wife, Loretta, have 3 children. They live in Strongsville, Ohio.

AL TABOR, JR.

Coach, Specialty Teams

BIRTHDATE—Oct. 16, 1925
BIRTHPLACE—Savannah, Ga.
COLLEGE—Tuskegee Institute '48
SEASONS IN COACHING—24
SEASONS WITH BROWNS—5

Statistics help tell the story of Al Tabor's work with the Browns' specialty teams.

Don Cockroft continues to be the most accurate of all active field goal kickers in the American Conference and his punting last year was third best in the AFC.

Cleveland also might have had the top kickoff return in the NFL had not Billy Lefear suffered a broken leg on his 13th return, 1 short of the number required to qualify. Lefear's average was 31.7 yards, the same as league-leader Walter Payton of Chicago.

Cockroft twice has led the league in field goal accuracy, and has become one of the Browns' all-time point producers under Tabor's guidance. Tabor also is credited with helping Greg Pruitt lead the AFC in kickoff returns 2 years ago.

Among the players Tabor worked with on their way to pro stardom during his 8 years as a coach at Southern University were Rich Jackson, Isiah Robertson, Frank Pitts, Al Beauchamp and Pete Barnes.

Tabor also coached at Texas Southern, Wiley College, Ft. Valley State and 4 years on the high school level in Port Arthur, Texas. In 1967 and 1968, he scouted for the New Orleans Saints. He joined the Browns from Southern U. in 1972.

Al and his wife, Ernestine Rounette, have 3 children. There are twins Reginald and Regina, who are 13, and 12-year-old Alvin. The family resides in Elyria, Ohio.

ED ULINSKI

Film Coordinator

Eddie Ulinski has been a valuable member of the Cleveland organization for 26 years as a player, assistant coach and a coach's administrative aide.

Since his retirement as a coach 5 years ago, Ulinski has been in charge of the coaching films plus the film exchange, an important assignment in pro football.

Ulinski is one of the original Browns, playing at guard from 1946 through 1949 when the team was in the All-America Conference. He then coached at Santa Clara and Purdue University before rejoining the Browns in 1954. Proving his versatility in the coaching ranks, he served in a number of positions on the staff before moving in as the full time film coordinator.

Ed is married to the former Gerry Kelly. They live in Cleveland Heights, Ohio with their two children, Karin and Kevin.

LEO MURPHY

Trainer

The gent who has administered to the Browns' aches and pains for more than a quarter of a century, Leo Murphy is one of the most respected trainers in all of professional sports.

He has been a vital factor in helping keep the club healthy and his sparkling sense of humor is a very valuable asset in the training room.

Murphy joined the Browns in 1950, the year the team entered the National Football League. A 1947 graduate of Notre Dame, he worked with the Chicago Rockets and the New York Yankees before arriving on the Browns' scene. He resides in Lyndhurst, Ohio with his wife Betty. The Murphys have 2 children and 2 grandchildren.

CHARLES CUSICK

Equipment Manager

When veteran Browns' equipment manager Morrie Kono requested part-time consulting duties 2 years ago, his aide, Charles Cusick, was the logical choice to succeed him.

A hard-working, affable young man, Cusick comes from an athletic family. He himself was a fine high school athlete until a knee injury ended his playing career. His brother, Pete, plays for the New England Patriots.

Cusick lives in Rocky River, Ohio with his wife, Julie.

MORRIE KONO

Equipment Consultant

An original Cleveland Brown who joined the organization in 1946, Morrie Kono 2 years ago requested of owner Art Model that he be assigned to part-time duties as the club's equipment consultant.

In this capacity, he is with the team during the training and regular season periods. A bachelor, Kono lives in Cleveland.

PLAYER PERSONNEL DEPT.

BOB NUSSBAUMER

Vice-President — Player Personnel Director

BIRTHDATE—April 23, 1924
BIRTHPLACE—Oak Park, Ill.
COLLEGE—Michigan
SEASONS WITH BROWNS—12

Now in his fifth year as head of the Browns' scouting department since succeeding Paul Bixler in 1972, Bob Nussbaumer draws on more than 2 decades of experience as a coach and talent sleuth in his position as the Browns' director of player personnel.

Mack Mitchell, Oscar Roan, Tony Peters, Dick Ambrose and Robert Jackson were among the prime new talent brought to the Browns last season alone through the scouting setup.

Nussbaumer, a three-sport star in college at Michigan, played with the Washington Redskins, Chicago Cardinals and Green Bay Packers as a receiver and defensive back until an injury ended his playing days in 1951.

Hired by the Browns in 1965 as a scout after 11 years as the Detroit Lions' personnel director, Nussbaumer quickly was switched to receiver coach and helped in the development of Milt Morin, along with the continued improvement of Gary Collins and Paul Warfield.

Bob was married to Betty Weber last year, his first wife having died 2 years ago. He and his wife have 5 children from their previous marriages. They reside in Moreland Hills, Ohio.

MIKE NIXON

Director of College Scouting

The assignment of directing the Browns' scouting department is the responsibility of Mike Nixon who starts his third season in that important post. He had been in the club's scouting department for five years prior to 1974.

A veteran of 24 years in the coaching profession, Nixon has been head coach of both the Pittsburgh Steelers and the Washington Redskins. An All-American performer at Pittsburgh, Mike played professionally for the Brooklyn Dodgers and the Chicago Cardinals.

He and his wife, Thelma, reside in Brecksville, Ohio. They have one daughter who is a stewardess for Pan American Airways.

DICK EVANS

Director of Pro Scouting

Dick Evans is now in the third season of his second period of employment with the Browns, having been the team's defensive line coach from 1960 through 1963. Currently, Dick is in charge of all pro team scouting, observing NFL opponents not only for game strategy but also for trading purposes.

Evans played briefly in the NFL in the early 1940's before entering military service. After coaching in the college ranks from 1946 through 1952, Dick joined the Chicago Cardinals in 1952. After that came coaching stints with the Washington Redskins, Notre Dame, Cleveland and Philadelphia. He scouted and coached for Green Bay in 1969 and 1970, then joined the staff of the New England Patriots.

He and his wife Miriam reside in Brecksville, Ohio with their three children.

PAUL O. BIXLER

Area Scout

Although he asked for limited duties 4 years ago, Paul Bixler is still very active in scouting the Big Ten for the Browns, a conference that has produced so many stars not only for Cleveland but the entire NFL.

Bixler served as head coach at Ohio State and Colgate before joining the Browns as end coach and scout in 1954. He took over as Player Personnel Director in 1960 and served in that capacity until 1972.

Paul is married to the former Mary Alice Callahan and they reside in Bainbridge, Ohio. They have 6 children and 17 grandchildren.

FRITZ HEISLER

Area Scout

Fritz Heisler has been a member of the Browns' organization since the club started operations in 1946. He was the team's offensive line coach from 1946 through 1970 and was responsible for producing so many offensive line stalwarts including Mike McCormack, Gene Hickerson, Jim Ray Smith, Abe Gibron and many others.

For the past 5 seasons, Heisler has scouted the Mid-American Conference plus the upper midwest colleges and on occasions draws special assignments of checking out outstanding collegiate offensive linemen.

Heisler is married to the former Evelyn Anton and they have 4 sons. The family residence is in Aurora, Ohio.

BILL LONG

Area Scout

Bill Long concentrates on the Rocky Mountain area colleges including the Big Eight and Western Athletic Conferences. He starts his third season with the Browns in this capacity.

Long played briefly at Pittsburgh in 1949 and 1950 when Mike Nixon was the Steelers' head coach. Following that came 10 years as a high school coach in Oklahoma and Texas, 7 seasons at Austin College and 4 years at Oklahoma State.

In 1972 and 1973, Long was defensive coordinator and kicking coach for the Winnipeg Blue Bombers of the Canadian Football League. With his wife and 3 children he resides in Stillwater, Okla.

ROBERT "Sarge" MacKENZIE

Area Scout

A professor of political science at the University of San Francisco, Sarge scouts the West Coast for the Browns. He is the first USF grad to become head coach at another college, coaching Regis College of Denver in the 1940's. Later he returned to his alma mater as an assistant coach in football and as a faculty member in history and government studies. He and his wife, Margaret Jean, have 12 children and 10 grandchildren. Their home is in San Francisco.

TOM MINER

Area Scout

Tom Miner, newest member of the Browns' scouting staff, was player-personnel director and vice-president, player relations for the San Diego Chargers before joining the Browns.

He was an All-Missouri Conference end and place-kicker at Tulsa University and later played professionally for Calgary and Winnipeg of the Canadian League before joining Pittsburgh of the NFL in 1958. He set a club mark of 14 field goals that year including a 47-yarder against Cleveland.

After coaching at Tulsa as an assistant and then operating a sporting goods business, Miner joined San Diego on a part-time scouting basis in 1963 until he was offered a full-time post in 1966.

He covers the west coast and Rocky Mountain colleges.

He, his wife Pat and their 2 daughters reside in LaMesa, Cal., a San Diego suburb.

AL SATTERFIELD

Area Scout

This will be the fifth season of scouting for Al Satterfield, who surveys the important pro territory of the Southwest Conference plus Texas and New Mexico.

Al coached at Virginia Tech, Maryland and Virginia Military until joining the Browns. Satterfield played a year of pro football with the San Francisco 49ers before a knee injury forced him to retire.

He and his wife, Bobbie Sue, live in Greenville, Tex. They have one daughter.

VETERAN PLAYERS

PETE ADAMS — Guard

BIRTHDATE—May 4, 1951
BIRTHPLACE—San Diego, Cal.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1st, 2nd selection in '73)
COLLEGE—Southern California
HIGH SCHOOL—University (San Diego) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-4
WEIGHT—260
YEARS PRO—2

PRO: Misfortune continued to haunt Pete last year, this time in the form of a disc operation shortly before the regular season began . . . it marked his third time in surgery in as many years, the previous ones being due to knee damage and an appendectomy.

"They say bad luck makes a better man out of you," says Pete. "I should be quite a person by now" . . . drafted in the first round three years ago, but knee problems rendered him virtually useless the first season and a half . . . finally healthy, he finished strongly in 1974 and was looking forward to an excellent year when disaster struck again the summer of '75.

Was only the third offensive lineman ever drafted so early by the Browns on a choice acquired from the New York Giants in a 1972 deal involving defensive end Jack Gregory . . . Cleveland also got a second-round pick and took Greg Pruitt.

Played tackle most of his career at University of Southern California, but speed and quickness dictated the move to guard as a pro . . . John McKay, his college coach, predicted, "Pete will be a super guard for the Browns" . . . Pete is hopeful he can prove it once and for all this year, but avoiding the injury jinx is a "must."

PERSONAL: Resides in San Diego . . . single.

DICK AMBROSE — Linebacker

BIRTHDATE—January 17, 1953
BIRTHPLACE—New Rochelle, N.Y.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (12th in '75)
COLLEGE—Virginia
HIGH SCHOOL—Iona (New Rochelle) Prep
HEIGHT—6-0
WEIGHT—235
YEARS PRO—2

PRO: The startlingly rapid development of the rookie from the University of Virginia was one of best things to happen to the Browns last year . . . stepped in for ailing Bob Babich for the fifth game against Denver and did so well the remainder of the season that Dick now is seen as the club's regular middle linebacker for a long time to come.

"He's the gleam in the defense," said linebacker coach Walt Corey while the team was still in training. "When he makes a hit, you hear it. He holds his ground and delivers a blow. Dick is intelligent, recognizes offenses, and reacts quickly to plays."

Says Forrest Gregg, "There was no way he should have lasted until the 12th round of the draft—but we're glad he did" . . . in fact, when Gregg had occasion to talk with Dick's former college coach, Sonny Randle, during the summer, the Browns' head coach asked, "Do you have any more players like him over there?"

Randle's advice to a Cleveland scout had been, "Don't weigh him, measure him, or time him—just play him" . . . Dick is on the somewhat short side for the position at an even six feet, but has a mountain of muscle among his 235 pounds . . . he looks like a boxer, and belts opponents like one . . . nicknamed "Bam-Bam" by his teammates.

"I've never been one for much finesse," he says. "In college, I just tried to run over people. Right through the secondary was a straight line to the goal line" . . . that was in his freshman year as a fullback . . . he later moved to defensive tackle as a 214-pound sophomore, and finally to linebacker his last two years.

PERSONAL: Single, resides in Alexandria, Va.

BOB BABICH — Linebacker

BIRTHDATE—May 5, 1947
BIRTHPLACE—Youngstown, Ohio
HOW ACQUIRED—Trade (see bio.)
COLLEGE—Miami, Ohio
HIGH SCHOOL—Campbell (O.) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—231
YEARS PRO—7

PRO: A knee problem posed difficulties for Bob in 1975, but he still answered the call at right linebacker after the Browns lost John Garlington to knee surgery for the last half of the season . . . hadn't played an outside post since 1972 at San Diego.

Had one of his finest pre-seasons ever before the injury hit, and started the first 4 regular season games at the middle linebacker job Bob likes best . . . eventually gave way to rookie Dick Ambrose to allow his leg some healing time.

"The transition of different coaching concepts confuses some players, but Bob is a very willing person in taking on new ideas and is a hard worker," says assistant coach Walt Corey, who handled the Browns' linebacking corps for the first time last year.

Says Bob, "It was hard to come back and adjust to middle linebacker in 1973 after what I call my 'lost' years on the outside at San Diego" . . . required knee surgery for the second time after the 1973 campaign . . . first operation came after a 1969 pre-season game against Cleveland and cost him his rookie season.

Browns gave a first-round draft choice in 1974 along with second and fourth-round picks in 1975 to acquire Bob from the Chargers . . . relished the opportunity to return to his native northeastern Ohio area.

"If I didn't enjoy football, I don't think I'd be here," says Bob. "It's not worth the time and sacrifices, and the pain you go through, to play this game just for money. If you don't enjoy what you're doing, you're wasting your time and everyone else's."

Drafted No. 1 by San Diego and led the team in tackles in 1970 . . . following year set a club record by downing ball carriers 194 times, an average of 14 per game.

PERSONAL: Was named All-Mid-American Conference two years and the MAC's Lineman of the Year in 1968 at Miami . . . also picked for several All-America first teams and played in the Coaches' All-America, North-South, Senior Bowl and 1969 College All-Star Games . . . married Teri Compas of Arcadia, Cal., June 23, 1973 . . . owns home in Berea, just outside Cleveland, but spends most of off-seasons in San Diego working for BankAmericard.

BIRTHPLACE—Petersburg, Va.
HOW ACQUIRED—Trade (see bio.)
HIGH SCHOOL—Petersburg Peabody H. S.
COLLEGE—Norfolk State
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—170
YEARS PRO—5

PRO: Aggressiveness keynotes Ron's performance on the football field . . . and that, along with his pro experience, is what the Browns are looking for to help upgrade their pass defense this season.

Cleveland traded veteran offensive lineman Bob McKay to New England for Ron during last winter's draft . . . the cornerback from Norfolk State College had been the Patriots' fifth round choice in 1972.

Has come a long way since his second game as a rookie when he faced Washington's Charlie Taylor and later commented, "It was a long afternoon, the longest afternoon of my life. He wasn't too friendly, not too friendly at all" . . . Taylor caught 8 for 141 yards and 2 touchdowns.

Ron got his feet on the ground quickly, however, and hasn't missed a game in all four pro seasons . . . even continued playing through the 1974 campaign despite suffering a fractured wrist in the fourth game.

Has intercepted 18 passes, including a pair on the goal line in a 17-14 upset of Minnesota 2 years ago . . . longest return was for 56 yards against Philadelphia in 1973 . . . led Pats in thefts in each of past 3 seasons . . . also has 1 fumble recovery.

PERSONAL: Covered the likes of Raymond Chester, Moses Denson and Frank Lewis in college and had 19 interceptions . . . named on the Courier All-America team and played on the East squad in the first Black All-Star game in the Astrodome in 1972 . . . had a spot on the Ebony All-America squad.

Earned the John B. Kelly Trophy as the Patriots' outstanding defensive player and was winner of the 1776 Club's "Unsung Hero" Award, both in 1973 . . . single, resides in Stoughton, Mass.

DON COCKROFT — Kicker

BIRTHDATE—February 6, 1945
BIRTHPLACE—Cheyenne, Wyo.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (3rd in '67)
COLLEGE—Adams State
HIGH SCHOOL—Fountain (Col.) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-1
WEIGHT—195
YEARS PRO—9

PRO: A bittersweet day he'll never forget occurred last October 19 in Denver when Don set 2 team field goal records, tied a league mark and had his best day punting, yet saw the Browns lose by a single point . . . ironically, it was a final play 53-yard field goal by old pro Jim Turner that decided the game.

In the final analysis, however, it was another fine season for Cleveland's double-duty performer . . . he led the team in scoring for the seventh straight year, continued his excellent field goal accuracy with 17 of 23, and was fourth in the American Conference in punting with a 40.5-yard average.

By far the most prolific punter in Cleveland history, Don now holds 4 team records in that department . . . also has done excellent field goal work over the years, but still stands in the monumental shadow of Lou Groza in most facets of placekicking.

Did surpass the famed "Toe" twice in the Denver game, though, with 7 field goal attempts and 5 successes . . . Groza's peak days were 6 attempts against New York (1952) and Washington (1962) and 4 successes twice, the latter Cockroft had matched on two previous occasions.

Don's longest successful three-pointer last year was 49 yards in the Denver game, when he also hit from 43, 42, 24 and 20 . . . his punting average that day was 47.7 yards, helped by his longest kick of the season, 57 yards.

Looking back on the game, he says, "It was one of my best days, yet one of the worst" . . . after tying Kansas City's Jan Stenerud's NFL record of 16 consecutive field goals, Don missed from 37 yards out and later saw a 27-yarder ricochet off the right upright.

Twice in the last 4 years Don has been the most accurate field goal kicker in the NFL . . . in 1972, he made good on 22 of 27 attempts and in 1974 it was 14 of 16 . . . the latter year's 87.5 percentage figure was second in league history only to the 88.5 rung up by Groza in hitting 23 of 26 in 1953 . . . now ranks as the most accurate placekicker in the Conference with a career average of .680.

HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—193
YEARS PRO—4

PRO: A serious knee injury requiring surgery ended Thom's 1975 season before it really began . . . was concentrating on catching a punt in second pre-season game when an overzealous Philadelphia rookie slammed into him . . . spent remainder of the year and off-season that followed rehabilitating the knee and is ready to reclaim his safety post in 1976.

"We really missed Thom," said Dick Modzelewski, now the Browns' defensive coordinator . . . "The backfield was coming along well last year before he was hurt. I expect him back, better than ever."

Says Thom, "That was the first season I'd ever missed since junior high. It was a difficult situation, but something you have to live with. It had been my best year for conditioning since college up to the time I was hurt."

Had outstanding season in 1974 with 8 interceptions, short of team record set by Tommy James in 1950, the year Cleveland entered the NFL . . . only 6 other Browns have picked off 8 in 1 year, the most recent before Darden being Ben Davis in 1968.

Probably most spectacular game was against New England 2 seasons ago . . . picked up a Patriot fumble and ran 24 yards to boost the Browns lead to 14-0 with only 1:56 played . . . later made both interceptions in the second half to thwart enemy scoring bids . . . second one was in the end zone with score tied.

BARRY DARROW — Offensive Tackle

BIRTHDATE—June 27, 1950
BIRTHPLACE—Peoria, Ill.
HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent
COLLEGE—Montana
HIGH SCHOOL—Russell (Great Falls, Mont.) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-7
WEIGHT—260
YEARS PRO—3

PRO: "Barry has done an outstanding job every time he has played and deserves a chance to start," said Forrest Gregg in announcing the towering offensive tackle's promotion for the sixth game of the 1975 season . . . despite a knee problem, handled the right tackle duties the majority of the time to the season's end.

"He has good size (6-7, 260), good balance and is strong," says offensive line coach Rod Humenuik. "And Barry's blocking for the run and on pass protection are about equally fine."

Originally drafted in the 17th round by San Diego in 1973 and coached by Gregg that year . . . released by the Chargers and signed by Cleveland in 1974, shortly after Gregg moved to the Browns' staff . . . saw limited duty that year, but was helpful on the specialty units.

Practiced at both guard and tackle last year before stepping in regularly, and admitted, "It was a little tough preparing at several positions. Knowing I was going to start at a certain place helped me a lot."

PERSONAL: Single, resides in Great Falls, Mont.

TOM DeLEONE — Center

BIRTHDATE—August 13, 1950
BIRTHPLACE—Kent, Ohio
HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent
COLLEGE—Ohio State
HIGH SCHOOL—Roosevelt (Kent) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—248
YEARS PRO—5

PRO: Was promoted to starting center for the sixth game last season, and kept the job the balance of the campaign

. . . "Tom is a strong man with considerable ability," says Forrest Gregg. "We were fortunate to acquire him in 1974."

Signed as a free agent to provide backup insurance for Bob DeMarco . . . when latter was released after '74 season, veteran guard John Demarie moved over to center, but Tom continued to make his presence felt more and more, and finally took over himself.

Originally drafted in the fifth round by Cincinnati in 1972 after a college career at Ohio State . . . "The fact he played for Woody Hayes had a good deal to do with Tom's development," points out Gregg.

Missed only 1 game in 2 seasons with the Bengals before being traded to Atlanta late in the 1974 training period . . . "I didn't pass the blood pressure test at Atlanta, so they gave me some medicine to bring it down," says Tom. "It made me very depressed, and they sent me home for a while. When I returned, it was too late to make the team and I was put on waivers."

Houston claimed him, but a short time later he was back on the list and Cleveland acquired him . . . the blood pressure no longer is a problem, and Tom says, "I hope this is my last stop in pro football."

PERSONAL: Married Susie Coons of Woodmere, N. Y., June 21, 1974 . . . resides in Medina, Ohio.

AL DENNIS — Guard

BIRTHDATE—June 24, 1951
BIRTHPLACE—Independence, La.
HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent
COLLEGE—Grambling
HIGH SCHOOL—Greenville Park (Hammond, La.)
HEIGHT—6-4
WEIGHT—250
YEARS PRO—2

PRO: Signed by Browns as free agent . . . originally acquired as free agent by Dallas in 1973, then claimed on waivers by San Diego for whom he played 7 games in 1973 . . . impressed Forrest Gregg, then the Chargers' offensive line coach . . . had very brief trial with Cleveland in pre-season of 1974.

PERSONAL: Won All-Conference honors at Grambling where he was honor student and earned his degree in marketing . . . has been employed in a management post by oil company past 2 years . . . single, resides in San Diego . . . his father is high school football coach in New Orleans.

DOUG DIEKEN — Offensive Tackle

BIRTHDATE—February 12, 1949
BIRTHPLACE—Streator, Ill.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (6th in '71)
COLLEGE—Illinois
HIGH SCHOOL—Streator H. S.
HEIGHT—6-5½
WEIGHT—252
YEARS PRO—6

PRO: Few offensive linemen are overburdened with public recognition, so you can imagine Doug's feelings upon being named the Cleveland Touchdown Club's offensive player of the year on the Browns last season . . . also voted Browns' Dodge-Man of Year by local fans which earned a Greater Cleveland student a $1,000 scholarship.

Doug has become to Cleveland's offensive line what Jerry Sherk is to the defensive front four . . . namely, a tower of strength and the cornerstone . . . hasn't missed a game since taking over for now retired Dick Schafrath in the 10th week of the 1971 season.

Even 2 knee injuries that necessitated surgery following the 1972 and 1973 seasons couldn't stop him . . . "Pain is a part of football," he says. "I enjoy the game and want to play all I can. Some day I know I won't be able to anymore, so I want to get everything I can out of it now."

Forrest Gregg, a renowned offensive lineman in his own right in past years, says, "Doug is an outstanding tackle, and one of the best pass blockers in the league."

Again last year Doug was the only man on the Browns' line to play the entire season without missing a beat . . . a twice broken left thumb hampered him almost from the beginning, but was largely ignored as little more than a minor annoyance.

"Those weekly raps on the head by opposing defensive ends were just another part of the job." commented Doug in late season. "You know, they say an offensive lineman gets hit about 1,000 times a season. I wonder how Gene Hickerson (who retired after 15 years) took it so long."

A tight end in college at the University of Illinois, his only taste of tackle came in 1 quarter of the Blue-Gray Game his senior year, 1970 . . . took to it so rapidly with the Browns that he surprised himself and the coaches.

PERSONAL: Single, Dieken is a year-around resident in the Greater Cleveland area . . . he has an off-season job with the U. S. Department of Commerce helping find summer employment for under-privileged youngsters.

HEIGHT—6-4

YEARS PRO—9

PRO: Proved a highly valuable addition to the Browns' defensive line last year, and started all 14 regular season games at left end after working at tackle through the preseason schedule.

"Ron is extremely quick," says Dick Modzelewski. "He's got much the same quickness that Jerry Sherk has, and plays the running game exceptionally well."

Signed as a free agent by Dallas in 1967 after attending Columbia Basin Junior College, Montana State University and Oregon State University . . . traded with tight end Pettis Norman and offensive tackle Tony Liscio to San Diego for wide receiver Lance Alworth in 1971.

Played out option with the Chargers and signed with The Hawaiians of the WFL in 1974 . . . when Hawaiians breached his contract, East was acquired by the Browns in exchange for a draft choice sent to San Diego, which still held NFL rights.

"I've searched all over to find a team I'd be happy with and the Browns are it," says Ron. "It's the first real team I've been on, a fine organization and just like a big family."

COLLEGE—Louisiana State
HIGH SCHOOL—Jonesboro-Hodge H. S.
HEIGHT—6-1

YEARS PRO—9

PRO: It took John 5 years to gain starting status on a regular basis with the Browns, but just 1 play to temporarily end it 7 games into last season . . . suffered a torn ligament on the opening kickoff at Baltimore and surgery quickly followed.

"I hit the wedge and suddenly somebody hit me from the side," recalls the fast, effective rightside linebacker . . . rookie Dave Graf took over against the Colts, and veteran Bob Babich stepped in a week later to finish out the season.

Has played both outside posts since being drafted in the second round out of Louisiana State in 1968 . . . worked behind veterans such as Billy Andrews and Jim Houston in his early pro years, and started a number of games in 1971 following an injury to Dale Lindsey, necessitating Houston's shift to the middle.

VAN GREEN — Safety

BIRTHDATE—April 21, 1951

HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (6th in '73)
COLLEGE—Shaw U.
HIGH SCHOOL—Auburndale H. S.
HEIGHT—6-1
WEIGHT—192
YEARS PRO—4

PRO: Resounding tackles are a hallmark of Van's work and in 1975 he again had ample opportunity to get in his licks . . . started a number of games at both strong and free safety, and was his usual devastating self on the special teams.

"Some people say the way I play is reckless suicide," says Van. "I just hustle a lot. I try to be around the ball. When I hit, I hit fast. I don't think about getting hurt. I get bumps and bruises, but by Thursday they're gone.

"Some guys specialize in running the ball. I specialize in tackling. I love to tackle."

Despite coming from the rather small institution of Shaw University in Raleigh, North Carolina, Van was drafted in the eighth round by Cleveland in 1973 . . . drew immediate attention to himself as a hitter and got his first chance to start late in the season after free safety Thom Darden was injured . . . promoted to full time duty in 1974, first at strong safety, then at right cornerback from the sixth game on.

CHARLIE HALL — Linebacker

BIRTHDATE—December 2, 1948
BIRTHPLACE—Yoakum, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (3rd in '71)
COLLEGE—Houston
HIGH SCHOOL—Yoakum H. S.
HEIGHT—6-3½
WEIGHT—230
YEARS PRO—6

PRO: One of the highlights in another season of solid performance by the veteran linebacker came in the very first game . . . helped give Cincinnati a second-half scare by pouncing on the ball in the Bengals' end zone for a touchdown after Jerry Sherk hit quarterback Ken Anderson . . . it was Charlie's fourth career fumble recovery.

Also boosted his interception total to 6 with thefts against Detroit and Oakland on successive weekends . . . tied Clarence Scott for team high in that department . . .says Charlie, "A linebacker has to read every play quickly in order to come up and meet the runner, or get the necessary pass defense depth and be able to react to the ball."

Aggressive and one of the hardest hitters on the Browns' defensive unit, but pleasant and gentle away from combat . . . "It's like having a split personality," he says. "You have to be rough on the field, that's how the game is supposed to be played. Basically, though, I have an easy going personality. I usually can get along with almost everyone."

Became a regular at the start of his second pro season in 1972 after Cleveland used a draft choice from Kansas City in exchange for defensive end Marvin Upshaw to choose Charlie in the third round out of the University of Houston . . . weighed only 205 when he first reported, but quickly built himself up to 225 and now is around 230.

"Football to me is fun, rather than a job," he says. "I think it's the best combination of fun and earning a good living a fellow can find coming out of college.

"Football has been in my blood since playing with my 5 brothers as a kid in Yoakum, Texas. Instead of playing touch football, I always played tackle and kept going home with my shirt pocket torn off. My mom got so tired of sewing it back on she said I'd get a whipping next time it happened. I still kept on, whipping or not."

PERSONAL: Married Ruby Riley of Houston, July 1, 1968 . . . son Roderic Charles (9-17-71) and daughter Michelyn DeShaun (9-7-75) . . . lives in Shiner, Texas near Yoakum and operates a cattle ranch.

COLLEGE—Arizona State
HIGH SCHOOL—Gardena (Cal.) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-½
WEIGHT—194
YEARS PRO—4

PRO: "I know I'm a better receiver than I've looked and I want to show everybody," says Steve. "I'm not discouraged. Timing is what counts and when you're hurt you lose the timing, you're not crisp."

Muscle pulls in the legs bothered him almost all last season . . . best game was in the return match with Cincinnati as the third-year pro caught 5 passes for 93 yards . . . longest reception was a 28-yarder in second Pittsburgh encounter.

Has yet to realize full potential after a rookie year in which he mostly watched, and a sophomore season in which a knee injury shelved him most of the first half of the schedule . . . has shown flashes of his capabilities, though, and could have best year yet in 1976.

Finished last season with 21 catches for 320 yards . . . that compares with 30 for 452 the previous autumn, and only 3 (all in the final game) for 27 in 1973 . . . the yardage 2 years ago was the most by any Cleveland receiver.

CHUCK HUTCHISON — Guard

BIRTHDATE—November 17, 1948
BIRTHPLACE—Canton, Ohio
HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent
COLLEGE—Ohio State
HIGH SCHOOL—Carrollton (O.) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-3
WEIGHT—250
YEARS PRO—6

PRO: One of the most conscientious, determined players on the squad, Chuck stepped in at left guard after a back ailment shelved Pete Adams for the year early in pre-season and doggedly held the job despite a knee problem that required surgery in January.

Biggest thrill was playing a part in Greg Pruitt's brilliant day against Kansas City in which he rushed for 214 yards to reach the coveted 1,000-yard plateau . . . "Other than getting an award for yourself, the greatest thing an offensive lineman can get is to have a teammate gain 1,000 yards," says Chuck.

"For us to do something like that, all working together, makes everything we've been striving for worthwhile . . . it's a fantastic feeling."

Signed by the Browns as a free agent midway through the 1973 season after being released by St. Louis, Chuck suffered a severe groin pull in 1974 pre-season and it hampered his work badly all year . . . diligent off-season preparation had him ready for last year's opportunity, however.

Signed with St. Louis after being drafted in the second round of the 1970 selections . . . knee injury cost him much of the 1972 season, and was released by the Cards a year later . . . rated good blocker and pass protector.

PERSONAL: An All-America selection at Ohio State . . . married Valarie Selby of Piqua, Ohio, Aug. 29, 1971 . . . son Tyler (3-21-74) . . . resides in North Ridgeville, Ohio, between Cleveland and Elyria . . . enrolled for further studies at Baldwin-Wallace College past off-season.

HENRY HYNOSKI — Running Back

HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (6th, second selection, in '75)
COLLEGE—Temple
HIGH SCHOOL—Mt. Carmel H. S.
HEIGHT—6-0
WEIGHT—210
YEARS PRO—2

PRO: Largely a backup fullback and dependable specialty teams contributor as a rookie last year . . . busiest game was the season windup at Houston in which Henry carried 5 times for 38 yards, caught 2 passes, and threw 1 aerial (incomplete).

"Henry is a strong, low runner, quick off the ball, and came along well as a blocker," says backfield coach George Sefcik . . . comments Forrest Gregg, "He has good strength and a good feel for finding the hole" . . . also returned 8 kickoffs 194 yards for a 24.3-yard average.

Drafted in the sixth round last year after breaking the Temple career rushing record with 2,218 yards on 439 carries, an excellent average of 5.1 . . . only second player in the school's history to top over 1,000 yards in a season.

GERALD IRONS — Linebacker

BIRTHDATE—May 2, 1947
BIRTHPLACE—Gary, Ind.
HOW ACQUIRED—Trade (see bio.)
COLLEGE—Maryland-Eastern Shores
HIGH SCHOOL—Gary Roosevelt H. S.
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—230
YEARS PRO—7

PRO: "Getting Gerald Irons was beyond my wildest dreams," said Forrest Gregg shortly after the trade for the Oakland Raiders' veteran linebacker was completed . . . Cleveland gave Oakland its second-round pick in last winter's draft, and received the Raiders' turn in the ninth round along with Irons.

Oakland running back Marv Hubbard once said of Irons, "He's the most powerful man I've met in pro football. You try to hit hard when carrying the ball because it is the only chance for making extra yardage, but hitting Irons is like the proverbial brick wall.

"It's the end of the line when you reach Irons."

The third-round choice out of Maryland State-Eastern Shores has played in 63 consecutive pro games, including the last 56 as a starter for Oakland . . . along with Phil Villipiano and now retired Dan Connors, Gerald helped form one of the outstanding linebacking corps in the NFL.

One of Gerald's high points was participating in 12 tackles and knocking down several passes as the Raiders snapped Miami's 18-game winning streak three years ago, 12-7 . . . "I don't believe I ever played better," commented Gerald at the time. "This is my most gratifying moment."

Has intercepted 7 passes and recovered 2 fumbles as a pro.

PERSONAL: Played offensive guard, defensive end and linebacker in college where he was All-Conference and Little All-America choice . . . four year starter and captain in senior year . . . also played varsity basketball and participated in track (shotput and discus) . . . married Myrna J. Wise of Gary, July 6, 1970 . . . two sons: Gerald Jr. (5-12-71) and Jarrett (12-14-73) . . . received his Master's Degree in Business Administration from University of Chicago Graduate School of Business last June, majoring in marketing . . . worked past 2 off-seasons, in addition to attending grad school, at American National Bank of Chicago . . . just purchased home in North Royalton, Ohio near Cleveland.

ROBERT JACKSON — Guard

BIRTHDATE—April 1, 1953
BIRTHPLACE—Charlotte, N. C.
HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent
COLLEGE—Duke
HIGH SCHOOL—North Mecklenberg (Huntersville, N. C.) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-5
WEIGHT—245
YEARS PRO—2

PRO: A genuine "find" as the only rookie free agent to make the Browns' roster last season . . . worked at offensive tackle in training camp and early in the season, then moved to guard and was a starter the last half of the campaign following an injury to veteran Bob McKay.

"Bob has a lot of confidence in his ability," says Forrest Gregg. "He didn't surprise me at all. I knew he had the size and talent, and just needed experience.

"He's very intelligent and very aggressive. If you hit him, you better be prepared to hit back. From a free agent nobody wanted to where he is now is a good jump. He has made so much progress so rapidly, it's unbelievable. We found a real sleeper."

Apparently was bypassed in the draft because of a weight situation his senior year at Duke . . . "I was really skinny in high school, just couldn't gain weight," Bob recalls. "But by my junior year in college I was up to 255. I thought that slowed me down, so I dieted, just about quit eating.

"I was all the way down to 220 my senior year and lost a lot of power along with the weight. I found I couldn't drive off people" . . . Gregg agrees, saying, "He just got down too light and people overlooked him. We brought him in, put him on a weight program, and he bulked himself up. Now Bob has the strength to take on the big defensive tackles and move them."

PERSONAL: Single, decided to make his off-season home in Greater Cleveland area and resides in Middleburg Heights . . . worked past off-season as sales rep for Hermetic Chemical Lab.

WALTER JOHNSON—Defensive Tackle

BIRTHDATE—November 13, 1942
BIRTHPLACE—Cincinnati, Ohio
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (2nd in '65)
COLLEGE—California State—Los Angeles
HIGH SCHOOL—Taft (Cincinnati) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-4
WEIGHT—265
YEARS PRO—12

PRO: Enjoyed one of his best seasons in recent years last autumn, and was an important factor in the Browns limiting opponents to 3.7 yards per rush . . . credits a reduction in weight from 280 to 265 for much of his improved work alongside fellow tackle Jerry Sherk.

"His attitude was excellent," says Forrest Gregg. "With his weight down, he moved better and was quicker. Walter put a tremendous amount of pressure on the quarterback from the inside, and while he didn't always quite get there he flushed out the passer a lot."

Recovered his 11th career fumble (two for touchdowns) against Denver . . . missed starting only 1 game — against Pittsburgh — because of a virus attack, but insisted on going in less than 5 minutes after the opening kickoff, typical of his determination.

It took a siege of pneumonia to put Walter on the bench for one of the few times in his career three years ago, and even then he talked his way into some of the action despite spending the preceding week in the hospital . . . it was on the same field in Bloomington, Minn., that Walter insisted on playing the entire 1969 title game despite suffering frozen fingers in eight-degree weather with a chill factor of 18 below zero.

"Walter is what you look for in a starting player," says Gregg. "The type of man who plays outstanding football when he's up against the best opponents" . . . comments Dick Modzelewski, "Walt and Jerry work together as a team. They know each other's moves, they're durable, and each complements the other."

Spent rookie year with the Browns watching and learning as Modzelewski, long a standout at defensive tackle, completed his playing career in 1965 . . . when Mo retired in 1966, Walter stepped in at left tackle and has been anchored there ever since.

Has remarkable strength and 3 years ago wrestled a 650-pound bear to a standoff that lasted nearly an hour . . . "At one point I had a head lock on the bear, looked down and saw the muzzle on the floor," Walter recalls. "I let go and beat a hasty retreat for the door until that muzzle was put back on."

PERSONAL: Married Gayle Combs of Cincinnati, June 30, 1962 . . . two children: Jeanne (6-24-64) and Walter Jr. (10-10-65) . . . owns home in Beachwood, eastern Cleveland suburb.

JOE JONES — Defensive End

BIRTHDATE—January 7, 1948
BIRTHPLACE—Dallas, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Waivers (see bio.)
COLLEGE—Tennessee State
HIGH SCHOOL—Dalworth (Grand Prairie, Texas) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-6
WEIGHT—250
YEARS PRO—6

PRO: Rejoined the Browns via the waiver route last November 14 after a season and a half with the Philadelphia Eagles . . . substituted for defensive left end Ron East in passing situations the last 6 weeks of the season to take advantage of his quickness in pressuring opposing quarterbacks.

Proved a more mature, conscientious athlete than in his earlier years with the Browns, and could play an important part in defensive plans this season.

Originally chosen in the second round of the 1970 draft out of Tennessee State, and was an immediate hit with fans because of his slam-bang style and displays of enthusiasm . . . missed entire 1972 campaign due to knee surgery required after the fifth pre-season game, but returned a year later and played regularly at left end.

One of Joe's best games in 1973 was against Oakland . . . one of the Raiders was so impressed he said, "Joe is as quick as any big man I've seen. He looked like a young Deacon Jones out there" . . . led the Eagles with 7 quarterback sacks in 1974, and recovered 3 enemy fumbles.

Step-brother of Washington Redskins' fine receiver, Charley Taylor . . . was rated by college coach John Merritt as the most outstanding in a long list of defensive linemen he has sent to the pros.

BIRTHDATE—February 12, 1950

HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (9th in '72)
COLLEGE—Henderson State
HIGH SCHOOL—Washington (El Dorado, Ark.) H. S.
HEIGHT—5-11
WEIGHT—197
YEARS PRO—5

PRO: Had a strong chance to lead the NFL in kickoff returns until misfortune struck on the opening kickoff against Cincinnati in late November and Billy went down with a broken bone in his right leg . . . had run the ball back 92 yards, fifth longest return in Cleveland history, when he stepped in a soft spot on the turf and his leg buckled with the goal line in easy reach.

Switched from running back to wide receiver for his fourth pro season to take advantage of his excellent speed, but really made his presence felt on specialty teams as a kick returner and coverage man.

"He's unreal," says special teams coach Al Tabor. "On one coverage, Billy got behind 3 blockers to bring the ball carrier down. The blockers walked off the field shaking their heads. And Billy is such a threat returning kicks himself that he causes other teams to change their strategy."

Averaged a lofty 31.7 yards, but his 13 kickoff returns were one short of the number required to qualify for league honors.

PERSONAL: Married Diane Smith Sept. 18, 1974 . . . resides in Malvern, Ark. where he was born.

HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (8th in '72)
COLLEGE—Arizona State
HIGH SCHOOL—Farrell (Pa.) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-½

YEARS PRO—4 NFL, 3 Canada

PRO: Second-leading rusher on the Browns last year with 259 yards while sharing fullback duty with Billy Pritchett . . . also caught 17 passes for 155 yards, returned 3 kickoffs 39 yards and scored 4 touchdowns.

An exceptional runner in Canada, Hugh led the league up there with 1,135 yards his rookie year and was greatly instrumental in Calgary winning the coveted Grey Cup . . . came to the Browns for the 1973 season, but was used sparingly.

Came into his own in the NFL two years ago with 519 yards rushing, only 21 behind team leader Greg Pruitt . . . caught 32 passes for 258 yards, including 6 for 111 against Denver alone . . . also had a 44-yard TD run against Oakland.

"There are two classifications — fast or powerful — and I'm not fast," Hugh admits. "Once in a while I make a fancy little move, but that's mostly for Pruitt.

"It helps playing alongside Greg, though, because the defense starts keying on him and sometimes forgets the fullback. The other team has to have one or two guys keying on him all the time."

MACK MITCHELL — Defensive End

BIRTHDATE—August 16, 1952
BIRTHPLACE—Diboll, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1st in '75)
COLLEGE—Houston
HIGH SCHOOL—Diboll H. S.
HEIGHT—6-7½
WEIGHT—245
YEARS PRO—2

PRO: Proved everything the Browns envisioned when they drafted Mack in the first round a year ago . . . stepped right in at defensive right end, played the entire season and was instrumental in the big improvement of the over-all work of the front four.

"Mack can be an outstanding defensive end," says Forrest Gregg. "The ideal situation would have been to not put the burden of playing fulltime on him all at once, but it will help him in the long run.

"He already has learned how to play the trap and the double-team, and he's starting to feel confident in what he's doing. In college, they had him 'reading', then taking off, but about mid-season last year he began taking off right with the snap."

Perhaps his best day as a pro rookie came against Kansas City when Mack sacked young quarterback Tony Adams 4 times and applied continuous pressure all afternoon . . . says Mack, "For a defensive lineman, sacking the quarterback is like catching a touchdown pass" . . . a stronger pass rush was the main reason Cleveland drafted him.

Fellow defensive end Ron East says, "Mack is going to be hellacious by 1976. He has the size, the speed, and best of all, he has a great attitude" . . . tackle Walter Johnson adds, "When Mack came here, he had speed and quickness, but no techniques. Mo (defensive line coach and coordinator Dick Modzelewski) has done a tremendous job of teaching him."

Tallest man on the team at 6 feet, 7½ inches, he nevertheless ran 40 yards in 4.65 seconds at the Browns' rookie day camp in May last year . . . long-ago middle guard Bill Willis was possibly the only faster Browns lineman in the opinion of veteran Cleveland observers.

PERSONAL: Went to Houston on a combination football-basketball scholarship, but found himself on the cage bench watching future pro players Dwight Davis and Dwight Jones compete . . . began concentrating on football after his sophomore year.

Captained his college team as a senior and had 33 quarterback sacks . . . named unanimous All-American and rated with Maryland's Randy White as nation's best defensive linemen in 1974 . . . single, resides in Diboll, Texas.

HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1st in '66)
COLLEGE—Massachusetts
HIGH SCHOOL—St. Bernard (Fitchburg, Mass.) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-4
WEIGHT—240
YEARS PRO—11

PRO: Lost his starting role last year for the first time, other than through injury, since being the Browns' No. 1 draft choice in 1966 . . . caught his lone pass for a 19-yard gain in second Pittsburgh game, but still rates as the most productive tight end in the club's history.

"If I'd been replaced because of a dropoff in ability, I'd feel real down," says Milt. "But when another guy (in this case rookie Oscar Roan) challenges you and does well, that's something else."

Has been pulling down passes with the surest hands on the team for a decade, then churning downfield with the drive of a bull . . . says, "Receiving comes naturally for me. The blocking is something I really have to concentrate on, though."

Physical problems marred his early pro years . . . a foot problem hampered his rookie season, a ligament torn away from the bone held him to 7 catches in 1967, and he underwent surgery for a herniated disc 88 days before the regular season opened in 1969 . . . made a miraculous recovery from the latter operation and played in the opener.

Milt's 87-yard catch against Philadelphia in 1968 still stands as a club record.

PERSONAL: Married Ellen Lyons of Cambridge, Mass., August 21, 1965 . . . son, Monte (11-8-66) and daughter, Ellen (11-20-73) . . . owns home in Mentor in neighboring Lake County just east of Cleveland . . . has a small summer home in Cape Cod, Mass. and is also developing a country store in Hadley, Mass. near his alma mater.

HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (4th in '75)
COLLEGE—Oklahoma
HIGH SCHOOL—Pauls Valley (Okla.) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-1½
WEIGHT—192
YEARS PRO—2

PRO: Breaking into the NFL as a fulltime cornerback is one of the most demanding assignments possible for a rookie, but that's what Tony did, and quite well . . . showed steady improvement as the season progressed, and should be much better this year.

"I feel I played all right," says the fourth-round draft choice from Oklahoma. "I wasn't super and I have to play better in 1976, but I was consistent. I think I improved as the season went along last year."

Besides learning his new job, Tony had the additional problems of losing John Garlington, the linebacker on his side, to injury before the season was half played . . . also, fellow rookie Mack Mitchell was the new defensive right end . . . both newcomers acquitted themselves well, however, and were named on UPI's All-Rookie NFL squad.

Tony is a good tackler, but has been working to improve there, too, by adding strength to his upper body . . . one observer commented after his first look at Tony, "If you could ask God for a safety or cornerback, that's about the package you'd want."

PERSONAL: Became a conscientious student of the game in college and was an All-Big Eight first team selection . . . played in East-West Shrine Game and Senior Bowl . . . transferred to Oklahoma from Northeastern A. & M. MIKE PHIPPS — Quarterback

BIRTHPLACE—Shelbyville, Ind.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1st in '70)
COLLEGE—Purdue
HIGH SCHOOL—Columbus (Ind.) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-3
WEIGHT—205
YEARS PRO—7

PRO: November 23, 1975, could prove to be a milestone in

Mike's career . . . 23 completions in 36 attempts for a personal high of 298 yards and 2 touchdowns against the Cincinnati Bengals . . . the outburst snapped the Browns' 9-game losing string, and far surpassed his previous peak of 198 yards against the same Bengals in 1972.

It not only was the most impressive day in his 6 years with the Browns, but presaged an outstanding final 5 weeks . . . in that closing surge, he completed 92 of 164 passes for 1,022 yards and all 4 of his TD's.

Coming after a rash of early-season problems that led to some time on the bench, the fast finish could signal the emergence of Mike as one of the league's better quarterbacks . . . "I have the tendency to be self-critical, and I lost some self-confidence earlier, but I always felt it was just a matter of time," he said.

Commented Forrest Gregg, "We told him that if this team was going to win, he had to be the man to do it. The players rallied behind him, and when he had good games against Oakland, Cincinnati and New Orleans, it gave him confidence and encouragement" . . . Mike passed for 204 yards against Kansas City and 213 against Houston in the last two games.

Much of the credit goes to quarterback coach Blanton Collier in his first year back in a teaching capacity after 4 years of concentrating on scouting . . . "Blanton spent a lot of time with Mike on the passing game and it paid off," says Gregg. "Mike feels more involved and confident in what he's doing now."

A noteworthy example of the former Purdue star's strong work down the stretch was his engineering of a 97-yard drive to the winning touchdown against New Orleans . . . "Mike had to make key plays in that drive and the way he did is a sign the offense is maturing," said offensive tackle Doug Dieken.

One indicator of the maturing process that should make him more effective is that he scrambled only 18 times last season, by far the lowest total since he became a starting quarterback in 1972 . . . as he becomes more adept at finding receivers and getting rid of the ball quicker, the need to take off has lessened . . . remains an effective runner, however, with a career average of 5.8 yards per carry . . . better protection also has allowed him to stay in the pocket more.

Spectacular pass plays have dotted his pro career . . . 3 of the biggest dazzlers were a 42-yarder to Greg Pruitt for a vital third down following an unbelievable escape from onrushing Pittsburgh Steelers in 1973; a pinpoint 38-yard strike to Frank Pitts in the closing minutes for the winning touchdown against San Diego in 1972, and a last-minute 51-yarder with Milt Morin for a 20-20 tie at Kansas City 3 years ago.

Was only the third college player selected in the 1970 draft and watched from the bench for 2 years before taking over from Bill Nelsen on September 24, 1972, at Philadelphia . . . led the Browns to a 27-17 victory and has started all but 6 games since that day.

YEARS PRO—2

PRO: Injuries were the only roadblocks preventing Larry from having a spectacular rookie season . . . calcification from a deep thigh contusion in the fifth pre-season game kept him from even practicing until October 22, then a broken arm suffered against Detroit the eighth week-end of the regular season finished him for the year.

Still showed enough in training camp, early pre-season, and regular season games against Baltimore and the Lions to excite Browns fans about the future . . . flashed power, quickness and the ability to either find openings or break tackles.

"He's a slasher," says Forrest Gregg . . . adds backfield coach George Sefcik, "Larry's a hard runner with good balance, and fine hands" . . . carried 12 times for 69 yards against the Colts, and had 3 for 32 before having his arm fractured in the Lions' game.

PERSONAL: Drafted in the ninth round after compiling Kent State records with 599 carries for 2,785 yards and a 4.6-yard average . . . scored 38 touchdowns, including 18 his senior year . . .

Captained Kent as a senior, but says, "I'm really a pretty quiet person. Hollering all the time just isn't my style" . . . admits he did give the team a few quiet pep talks, however . . . lives in Parma Heights, shares home with Greg Pruitt during season.

GREG PRUITT — Running Back

BIRTHDATE—August 18, 1951
BIRTHPLACE—Houston, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (2nd, 1st selection in '73)
COLLEGE—Oklahoma
HIGH SCHOOL—Elmore (Houston) H. S.
HEIGHT—5-10
WEIGHT—190
YEARS PRO—4

PRO: Most dramatic moment of the Browns' 1975 season came when Greg sailed over the coveted 1,000-yard rushing mark in a victory over Kansas City . . . only the third man in Cleveland annals to accomplish the feat . . . Jim Brown did it 7 times and Leroy Kelly 3 times, the last big year coming in 1968.

The play that pushed Greg over the top was a sweep to the left from 14 yards out for his third touchdown of the day on a muddy, slippery field . . . later returned to put finishing touches on a 214-yard performance, only 23 shy of Browns' team record.

"He strikes the same fear O. J (.Simpson) does," said Chiefs' head coach and former Browns' defensive end Paul Wiggin. "He has great balance" . . . Greg called it, "The biggest day of my career."

Completed season with 1,067 yards and a 4.8-yard average despite his modest dimensions of 5 feet 10 inches and about 190 pounds . . . ripped off 50-yard gains against Kansas City and Cincinnati, team highs for the season, and also had the Browns' longest reception, 48 yards against the Bengals.

Chiefs' safety Mike Sensibaugh had this description from a defender's viewpoint: "The guy's unbelieveable. He reminds me a lot of a deer, he's so quick. He plants that foot and suddenly cuts. I was lucky to get a hold of his jersey. That's all most guys get of him."

Wears tearaway shirts and went through 7 at a cost of $140 on his memorable day . . . said equipment manager Chuck Cusick, "It was worth it. We buy about 10 dozen of those jerseys a year for Pruitt alone. A good indication of how the Browns are performing in a game is the number of jerseys Greg has ripped off."

Scored 8 TD's running, 1 receiving and his 54 points were the most by a Cleveland player other than kicker Don Cockroft in 4 years . . . ripped off 103 yards against Oakland's fine defense and a week later got 121 against Cincinnati . . . a 49-yard run through the Raiders set up a tying third-quarter TD although the 17-17 score didn't hold up . . . an even more remarkable effort was a 13-yard TD against the Bengals on which he squirmed out of the grasp of 2 Cincinnati players at the 10.

Says Greg, "A little guy has more incentive. He has to go harder all the time. It's developed my style of running, which is to keep moving. Sometimes when I'm following a big tackle or guard, the tacklers don't even see me. I sort of hide behind them. It works the other way, too, of course. I have to be careful how I position myself so that I can see what's out in front."

Considered one of the most exciting runners in Cleveland history, Greg also returned a kickoff 40 yards against Detroit and had a team high 30-yard punt return against Baltimore . . . total offensive yardage for last season was 1,798.

Also led team in rushing in 1974 with 540 yards, and headed entire American Conference in kickoff returns with 27.5-yard average . . . has been Browns' best punt return man each year since being a second-round draft choice in 1973 . . . was named the Browns' Offensive Player of the Year by Cleveland Touchdown Club in 1974 and played in the Pro Bowl at season's end.

Had Cleveland's longest run from scrimmage since 1968 with a 65-yard effort against Kansas City two years ago . . .

combined yardage that season was 1,769 after rolling up 976 his rookie year.

"I went to camp last summer in my best condition ever," says Greg. "I worked with weights to build the upper part of my body even more" . . . informed by Forrest Gregg prior to last season that he would play virtually full-time for the first time as a pro, Greg said, "I need that kind of confidence from my coach. It relieves some of the pressure. A lot of other guys my size are playing full-time in the NFL."

PERSONAL: At Oklahoma, he rushed for 1,665 yards in 1971 and 938 yards in 1972 despite having opponents keying on him . . . scored career total of 40 touchdowns in college and was named runner-up to Nebraska's Johnny Rodgers in voting for 1972 Heisman Trophy.

Stood only 4'-3" when he began participating in sports in junior high and was 5-7½ when he entered Oklahoma . . . played tight end in high school and caught over 80 passes as a senior.

Has returned to Oklahoma at conclusion of each of last three seasons to complete work on his degree in journalism.

HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (3rd in '75)
COLLEGE—Southern Methodist
HIGH SCHOOL—South Oakcliff (Dallas) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-6
WEIGHT—214
YEARS PRO—2

PRO: Highest praise of all for an outstanding rookie season came from veteran Milt Morin, the man he beat out for the starting tight end assignment . . . "If I had to pick a tight end right now, I'd take Oscar over many big-name guys," said Morin.

"In concentration, over-all knowledge, and playing poise,

Oscar is a couple years ahead of me when I came into the league. He didn't play or handle himself like a rookie. There are things he can do that I never could have done at that age. He's dedicated, he wants to be the best and I admire him for it."

In his very first regular season game, Oscar caught 6 passes for 69 yards at Cincinnati, and went on to finish his 14 starting assignments with 41 receptions, 463 yards and 3 touchdowns . . . averaged 11.3 yards per catch . . . earned the call over Morin 2 days before the opener after grabbing 8 passes for 152 yards in pre-season, and wound up 4th in UPI's NFL Rookie-of-the-Year voting.

Has the speed to get deep quickly, and is an excellent blocker, 2 important requisites for a pro tight end . . . he's a big target at 6 feet, 6 inches, has good hands and is an explosive blocker.

Most exceptional catch was a leaping, one-handed stab in the end zone against Cincinnati in the return match to trigger a 20-point fourth quarter rally for a 35-23 victory . . . "There was no way I thought I could reach that five-yard pass," Oscar admitted, "But I put my hand up as high as I possibly could and, praise the Lord, I got it. I felt as though someone was helping me."

PERSONAL: His high school track coach helped him gain coordination, and Oscar wound up on both the football and basketball squads upon entering UCLA . . . one of his teammates on the freshman cage squad was Bill Walton . . . "There were 5 high school All-Americans on the team," says Oscar. "I was the seventh man, but got to play a lot because our team usually jumped away to a big lead."

Learned to run disciplined pass routes under Tommy Prothro, then transferred to SMU after Prothro took the Los Angeles Rams' head coaching job . . . married Linda Joyce Banks of Dallas, May 27, 1972 . . . active in Fellowship of Christian Athletes . . . son Mario born last May 5.

REGGIE RUCKER — Wide Receiver

BIRTHDATE—September 21, 1947

HOW ACQUIRED—Trade (see bio.)
COLLEGE—Boston U.
HIGH SCHOOL—Anacostia (D. C.) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—190
YEARS PRO—7

PRO: Burst on the Cleveland scene last year with the largest number of catches by any Browns' receiver since Mac Speedie's 62 way back in 1952 . . . Reggie's 60 led the AFC and was second only to Chuck Foreman's 73 in entire NFL . . . surpassed top totals rung up by Gary Collins and Paul Warfield in their years with Browns.

Mike Phipps, who got the ball to Reggie for most of those catches, says, "He has a lot of energy, enjoys playing the game, and is happy in what he is doing. He's a real competitor, always aware of what's happening on the field, and able to make adjustments in his routes to find open areas.

"He has deceptive speed, I found that out early. In the first few games, I underestimated his speed and underthrew him a number of times" . . . the Browns' new aerial combination was formed after Cleveland obtained Reggie from New England for a modest fourth-round choice the first day of the 1975 draft.

Best game last year came in rain and mud against Kansas City . . . caught 6 passes for 130 yards, including 1 covering 40 yards . . . caught 7, but for lesser yardage, against both New Orleans and Houston, and 6 against Cincinnati and the Oilers.

Suffered a torn knee cartilage when clipped in fourth game of season against Houston, but waited until January to undergo surgery . . . used to playing with pain . . . had right wrist fractured 4 games into 1974 season with Patriots, but continued playing with a cast for protection and wound up with 27 catches for 436 yards and 4 TD's.

"The only thing that is important to me is catching the football," said Reggie as he closed in on his most productive season since turning pro as a free agent with Dallas in 1968. "When I'm driving my car or just walking around, I can see a pass coming into my hands. That may be a selfish way of thinking, but if you fit it into a team concept, it's healthy."

"I've always had confidence in my ability," says Reggie. "I had to have because the odds were very much against me when I first went to Dallas and won a job. Later, when I twice was among the top receivers in the league, it proved to me I could do it with the best."

First major break came in starting for injured Lance Rentzel in Super Bowl V against Baltimore . . . foot surgery ruined 1971 season . . . signed by New York Giants as free agent after being released by Cowboys that year, then moved on to New England later in season . . . finally established himself with 44 catches in 1972 and 53 more in 1973.

PERSONAL: Resides in Wheaton, Md. with his wife, Carole, and their three children: Derek (10-2-66), Shannon (1-15-70) and Sean (2-18-71) . . . management trainee past off-season for National Bank of Washington.

CLARENCE SCOTT — Cornerback

BIRTHDATE—April 9, 1949
BIRTHPLACE—Atlanta, Ga.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1st in '71)
COLLEGE—Kansas State
HIGH SCHOOL—Trinity (Decatur, Ga.) H. S.
HEIGHT—6-0
WEIGHT—180
YEARS PRO—6

PRO: Clarence is the first to admit that 1975 wasn't a banner season for him, but there were extenuating circumstances . . . said Forrest Gregg, "He played injured all year. A bad ankle and arch were the main problems that hampered his effectiveness, but Clarence always did his best and is a fine cornerback."

Recovery from the ailments should mean a return to his previous standing as one of the league's top men at his position . . . in fact, Clarence was such a problem for opponents that for years few quarterbacks dared throw the ball into his area.

Even last season, before the injuries took a hold he couldn't shake, Clarence picked off 2 passes against Minnesota . . . now has a career total of 15, including 5 in 1973 when he led the entire team.

A regular almost from the day he reported to the Browns after being drafted No. 1 in 1971 and quickly succeeded veteran Erich Barnes on the left side, Clarence now is the elder statesman of the Cleveland secondary at the age of 27 . . . the loss of Thom Darden to knee surgery early in pre-season put a tremendous burden on Clarence and he tried valiantly to help the newer members in the backfield.

Despite a deceivingly slender build, is one of the hardest-hitting tacklers on the team . . . "Concentration is the secret of playing cornerback," says Clarence. "You can't commit yourself too quickly. You want to be aggressive, but not overly so.

"As for tackling, that's really mental. It's mostly desire, rather than technique."

Named to the AFC All-Star team in 1974 and chosen to play in the Pro Bowl at the conclusion of that season . . . also honored in 1973 along with Bob Babich and Bob DeMarco as the Browns' most valuable players.

Longest interception as a pro came on a 45-yarder for a touchdown in the 1973 opener against Baltimore . . . led team that year with 5 thefts . . . against Green Bay in the 1972 opener, he hurried 55 yards for his first pro TD after scooping up a blocked field goal attempt by the Packers.

PERSONAL: Resides in his native city of Atlanta . . . married Regina Barnett, June 13, 1975 . . . was real estate agent past off-season.

COLLEGE—Oklahoma State
HIGH SCHOOL—Grants Pass H. S.

YEARS PRO—7

PRO: "I don't know anybody I'd rather have at defensive tackle," says Forrest Gregg. "I don't see how he can play any better than he did in 1975. It doesn't make any difference to him what the score is, he still plays as hard as he can. I'm glad I didn't have to play against him."

By far the most honored of the Browns last season, Jerry climaxed it all with a typically strong performance in his third consecutive Pro Bowl game . . . prior to that was named for the second time in 4 seasons by Cleveland Touchdown Club as the team's defensive player of the year.

Jerry's teammates also selected him Most Valuable Player on the Browns for the second straight year in balloting for Third Down Award sponsored by N.E.A. . . . was the only Cleveland player chosen on U.P.I.'s American Conference squad (second team).

A brand new honor, the first annual Bulldog Award sponsored by Mack Trucks, Inc., and voted on by the NFL's offensive linemen, cited Jerry as "outstanding defensive lineman of the year" in the entire league.

The honors again were richly deserved for Jerry's work in spearheading much improved defensive line from his right tackle post . . . began season by dropping Cincinnati quarterback Ken Anderson in the end zone resulting in a fumble recovered for a touchdown by teammate Charlie Hall in the opener . . . never let up in his weekly pressuring of opposing passers, while still playing a powerful game against the run.

Says defensive line coach (and now defensive coordinator) Dick Modzelewski, who has guided Jerry's development all 6 pro seasons, "He's the best defensive tackle in the NFL. If there's a better one, you're going to have to show me."

Mo points to one play last year in particular. "Jerry was knocked on his rear end, but got up and made a tackle 40 yards downfield," said the coach. "That's the way he plays football — all out pursuit all the time."

Recovered seventh career fumble against Kansas City, and also has 2 interceptions to his credit . . . one of most remarkable games came against San Diego in 1974 when Jerry made 8 solo tackles, assisted on several others, recovered 2 fumbles and batted down a field goal attempt and a conversion kick.

Has teamed with left tackle Walter Johnson since winning a job as the Browns' only rookie starter in 1970 . . . won Big Eight heavyweight wrestling title in college and credits experience in that sport in high school, junior college, and at Oklahoma State for much of his enormous strength and agility.

"What I try to do is get as ready as possible during the week," says Jerry in explaining his gridiron approach. "There are certain things I can do better against certain opponents. I also like to study a team's over-all offense to see if there is anything that I might be able to exploit."

Threw his first regular season pass as a pro in 1974, and wound up participating in 3 of Cleveland's 4 victories . . . took over for Phipps against Denver that year, too, and sparked a 14-point fourth quarter rally for a 23-21 upset victory . . . scored both touchdowns himself, including the winner on a 1-yard sneak with 1:56 left.

First starting job as a pro came the following week in his home city of San Diego . . . completed 16 of 23 passes for 186 yards and scored another pair of TD's on 1-yard runs . . . unfortunately, a fumbled snap from center cost the Browns a chance for a winning field goal with 22 seconds left as San Diego won, 36-35.

Credits years of surfing in southern California waters for much of his strength . . . "Surfing is fantastic for conditioning," he points out. "It's probably done more for my throwing arm than anything else."

PRO: A surprise full-time performer at offensive right tackle as a rookie in 1974, Gerry started the early season games again last year before encountering some problems, including a foot injury, and giving way to Barry Darrow . . . his experience could be valuable in the 1976 season.

"The time I spent on the bench helped me reappraise myself," says Gerry. "I don't want it to happen again. Sometimes you don't get back in" . . . said Forrest Gregg, "What happened to Sully is the same as a baseball slump. Only you can work your way out of it. Gerry can be a valuable offensive lineman for us."

HIGH SCHOOL—Warren Harding H. S.

WEIGHT—188
YEARS PRO—12

PRO: Back home after a six-year absence is one of the finest pass catchers the game has ever known . . . ready to pick up where he left off in 1970 as a premier Browns' deep receiving threat.

"My fondest memories are here with the Browns," says Paul, who was traded to Miami in January, 1970, for the Dolphins' first-round draft choice promptly used by Cleveland less than 24 hours later to pick Purdue quarterback Mike Phipps . . . the two are being united as a passing combination for the first time this season.

Says defensive tackle Walter Johnson, "This will make us 50 percent better. I've worked out with Paul and can say he hasn't lost any of his quickness. His return also will make it easier on our other receivers."

Raymond Berry, who gained the Pro Football Hall of Fame with his pass catching prowess as a member of the Baltimore Colts, is the Browns' new receiver coach and appreciates Paul's return more than most. "He's going to benefit the team, the fans and me," says Raymond ."We're all going to gain by this move.

"Paul is one of the most fluid receivers we'll ever see and his assets aren't all physical, either. He will have a great influence on our other players."

Originally chosen by Cleveland in the first round of the 1964 draft, Paul has compiled phenomenal figures in his 12 years of pro football . . . his original six-year term with Cleveland resulted in 215 catches for 4,346 yards, and 44 touchdowns . . . in five seasons with Miami, he caught 156 for 3,355 yards and 33 TD's . . . and last year, despite a hamstring pull that limited his playing time, he hauled in 25 passes for 422 yards and 3 TD's for the Memphis Grizzlies up to the point where the World Football League folded.

1975 REVIEW

Sunday, Sept. 21 Bengals 24, BROWNS 17 (52,874) at Cin.

Down 24-3 midway through the third quarter, the Browns twice came within 1 yard of pulling even in the final period. Six plays from a yard out failed to produce the necessary touchdown and nullified an 8-yard scoring sweep by Greg Pruitt and an end zone recovery by Charlie Hall of a Ken Anderson fumble in the space of 48 seconds.

Cincinnati scored the first 2 times it got the ball on a 16-yard pass from Anderson to Isaac Curtis and a 14-yard run by Boobie Clark. Dave Green made it 17-3 at the half with a 44-yard field goal and Lenvil Elliott boosted the Bengal lead even more with a 3-yard run.

Rookie tight end Oscar Roan made a spectacular debut with 6 catches for 69 yards, and Pruitt carried 17 times for 66 yards, but the Browns' only other points came on an 18-yard field goal by Don Cockroft.

Sunday, Sept. 28 Vikings 42, BROWNS 10 (68,064) at Cleve.

Clarence Scott had 2 interceptions, and the Browns gained 250 yards against the tough Minnesota defense, but Cleveland gradually crumbled after trailing only 14-3 late in the first half.

Fran Tarkenton threw TD passes of 29 and 13 yards to John Gilliam and Chuck Foreman, respectively, and scored himself on a 2-yard rollout. Foreman and Robert Miller each tallied from a yard out, and Bob Lee passed 33 yards to Jim Lash for Minnesota's other touchdowns.

The Browns got on the board with a 38-yard Don Cockroft field goal, and a late end around option pass from Willie Miller to Reggie Rucker 26 yards away.

Sunday, Oct. 5 Steelers 42, BROWNS 6 (73,595) at Cleve.

It was all over by the half as Pittsburgh jumped to a 28-0 lead on 1-yard runs by Franco Harris and Mike Collier, and passes of 3 yards by Terry Bradshaw to John Stallworth and 57 yards by Joe Gilliam to Lynn Swann.

Cleveland briefly interrupted the assault on a 7-yard scoring run by Hugh McKinnis, but Pittsburgh answered with a 45-yard pass from Gilliam to Reggie Garrett, and a 3-yard run by Reggie Harrison.

Sunday, Oct. 12 Oilers 40, BROWNS 10 (46,531) at Cleve.

Cleveland took early leads of 3-0 and 10-3 on a 39-yard field goal by Don Cockroft and a 1-yard run by Hugh McKinnis, but the rest was mostly Houston as the Oilers won for the first time ever on the Browns' gridiron.

Dan Pastorini tossed 3 short TD passes to tight end Mack Alston, and Ron Coleman rushed for 110 yards to pace Houston. Skip Butler chipped in with field goals of 46, 33, 25 and 21 yards.

Billy Lefear returned 4 kickoffs 106 yards for the Browns, and Brian Sipe replaced Mike Phipps at quarterback late in the third quarter.

Sunday, Oct. 19 Broncos 16, BROWNS 15 (52,590) at Denver

A classic placekicking duel saw Don Cockroft set a team record with 5 field goals from 24, 49, 43, 20, and 42 yards, and veteran rival Jim Turner of Denver connect from 25, 48 and 53 yards. The latter won the game as time ran out, and tied a Bronco distance record.

Brian Sipe made his first start of the season for the Browns and completed 12 of 25 passes for 111 yards. Rookie

1975 REVIEW

Dick Ambrose was given his initial start at middle linebacker and kept the job the remainder of the year.

Cockroft averaged 47.7 yards punting, his best of the season, and equalled Jan Stenerud's NFL record of 16 consecutive field goals before missing from 37 and then 27 yards. Game's only TD was scored by Denver's Jon Keyworth on a 1-yard dive in the fourth quarter.

Sunday, Oct. 26 Redskins 23, BROWNS 7 (56,702) at Cleve.

A 15-yard scoring pass from Brian Sipe to Oscar Roan brought the Browns to within 9-7 of the Redskins 11 minutes into the second half. But on the second play of the fourth quarter, Bill Kilmer passed 11 yards to Larry Brown, and with less than five minutes left rookie Mike Thomas scored on a 1-yard run to ice things for Washington.

Kilmer passed for 207 yards, and Thomas rushed 27 times for 124 yards. Sipe completed 11 of 20 for 117 yards, and Roan caught 5 for 71 yards for Cleveland.

Sunday, Nov. 2 Colts 21, BROWNS 7 (37,285) at Balt.

Cleveland didn't get on the scoreboard until 10:09 of the fourth quarter when Hugh McKinnis dived over the right side from 1 yard out.

The Colts corralled a first-quarter TD by Don McCauley from the 2, and a pair of second-quarter scoring passes by Bert Jones of 2 yards to Raymond Chester and 35 yards to Lydell Mitchell.

Right linebacker John Garlington was lost to the Browns for the remainder of the season after suffering severe knee damage on the opening kickoff. Brian Sipe started his third consecutive game, but Mike Phipps took over shortly before the half.

Sunday, Nov. 9 Lions 21, BROWNS 10 (75,283) at Pontiac

Will Cureton had his first pro start at quarterback for the Browns and threw a 12-yard scoring pass to Oscar Roan in the closing minutes, but it was too little and too late.

Detroit ran up a 14-0 halftime lead as Ray Jarvis caught a 62-yard pass from Joe Reed on the opening play to set up a 1-yard dive by Altie Taylor only 1:08 into the game, and Reed passed 21 yards to Jarvis early in the second quarter.

Shortly after the Lions' second score, Browns rookie Larry Poole suffered a broken arm after taking a pitchout 10 yards. A Don Cockroft field goal narrowed the margin early in the third quarter, but Detroit retaliated midway through the fourth quarter with a 67-yard interception runback by former Cleveland cornerback Ben Davis to ice the game.

Sunday, Nov. 16 Raiders 38, BROWNS 17 (50,461) at Oakland

The Browns kept it close for three quarters, but a 15-yard scoring pass from Ken Stabler to Fred Biletnikoff, a 31-yard pass from Stabler to Clarence Davis, and a 26-yard run by Davis settled the game for Oakland in the final 16 minutes.

Greg Pruitt's 10-yard run in the first quarter, and 10 more third-quarter points by Don Cockroft on a 25-yard field goal and Cleo Miller on a 1-yard run pulled Cleveland even at 17-17.

Mike Phipps, in his first quarterback start in 4 weeks, completed 14 of 30 passes for 116 yards and Pruitt rushed 12 times for 103 yards.

Sunday, Nov. 23 BROWNS 35, Bengals 23 (56,427) at Cleve.

Mike Phipps had the finest day of his pro career with 23 completions in 36 passes for 298 yards as Cleveland rallied from a 20-9 halftime deficit for the club's first victory of the season.

1975 REVIEW

Billy Lefear keynoted the day by returning the opening kickoff 92 yards, but fell and suffered a broken leg 2 yards short of the goal line. Greg Pruitt promptly carried over on the first play from scrimmage, and Don Cockroft made it 9-0 a short time later with a 27-yard field goal.

Ken Anderson passes of 35 yards to Bob Trumpy and 30 yards to Isaac Curtis, along with a 4-yard run by rookie Stan Fritts and a 21-yard Dave Green field goal, put Cincinnati ahead 23-12 before Cockroft answered with a 43-yard field goal.

The Browns broke the game open with a 20-point fourth quarter as Phipps passed 5 yards to Oscar Roan, then 13 yards to Pruitt, and Jimmy Hill returned an interception 56 yards. Pruitt rushed for 121 yards, caught 7 passes for 106 yards and ran back 2 punts 41 yards. Steve Holden had his best game of the year with 5 catches for 93 yards.

Sunday, Nov. 30 BROWNS 17, Saints 16 (44,753) at Cleve.

Down 16-3 after three quarters, Cleveland rallied for a pair of touchdowns and a 1-point victory on a 22-yard pass from Mike Phipps to Reggie Rucker, and a sparkling 8-yard run by Greg Pruitt. The latter capped a 97-yard drive with only 3:12 left.

New Orleans built its lead on a field goal and a pair of 1-yard runs by Alvin Maxson. Don Cockroft got the Browns' first points on a 28-yard field goal in the third quarter.

Sunday, Dec. 7 Steelers 31, BROWNS 17 (47,962) at Pitts.

Two touchdowns in the space of 14 seconds shortly before the half helped Cleveland to a 17-10 lead before Pittsburgh rallied to pull out the victory. After Greg Pruitt scored on a 1-yard run, Willie Miller recovered a Mike Collier fumble on the ensuing kickoff and ran 17 yards to the Steeler end zone.

Terry Bradshaw and Franco Harris were Pittsburgh's big guns with the quarterback pitching 3 and 18 yards to Lynn Swann for a pair of third-quarter TD's only 46 seconds apart, and Harris running across from the 3 and 8-yard lines.

Sunday, Dec. 14 BROWNS 40, Chiefs 14 (44,368) at Cleve.

Greg Pruitt had one of the finest days in Browns' and NFL history with 214 yards rushing and scored 3 times on plays of 3, 11 and 14 yards. The latter midway through the fourth quarter boosted Pruitt over 1,000 yards for the season, the first for a Cleveland rusher since Leroy Kelly in 1968.

Cleveland led by only 10-0 at the half on Pruitt's first tally and a 27-yard field goal by Don Cockroft. But late in the third quarter the floodgates opened with Hugh McKinnis ramming over from the 1, Pruitt scoring and Mike Phipps passing 40 yards to Reggie Rucker, all in less than 5 minutes.

Rucker enjoyed his biggest day of the season with 6 catches for 130 yards, McKinnis rushed for 65 yards and Phipps completed 14 of 20 for 204 yards.

Sunday, Dec. 21 Oilers 21, BROWNS 10 (43,770) at Hous.

Houston took control with first-half touchdowns by rookie Don Hardeman on a 2-yard run, a 75-yard pass play from Dan Pastorini to Ken Burrough and a 2-yard scoring run by Ron Coleman.

The Browns closed the gap with a 42-yard field goal by Don Cockroft, and a 4-yard TD run by Ken Brown, but it wasn't enough despite a strong second-half by the Cleveland defense.

Mike Phipps had his third 200-yard game in 5 weeks with 24 of 42 for 213, and Reggie Rucker caught 7 for 79 yards. Burrough topped that with 5 receptions for 124 yards.
