CLEVELAND

- Twenty-six Browns' players made their homes in the Cleveland area this past offseason.
- The nation's 10th largest consumer market.
- A concentration of corporate headquarters larger than Los Angeles, Boston or Atlanta.
- Home of the world famous Cleveland Orchestra and Cleveland Museum of Art.
- Home of the Indians, Cavaliers and Force.
- Located on the world's largest fresh water natural resource.
- An international center for medical care and research.
- More summer sunshine than Tampa, Houston or San Diego.
- Fifty-one companies, each with annual sales exceeding $100 million, are headquartered in Cleveland.
- Has the nation's first downtown-to-airport rapid transit service—Cleveland's Regional Transit Authority. The RTA covers more than 800 miles by rapid and bus, conveniently linking suburbs with downtown.

ARTHUR B. MODELL, Owner

Born: June 23, 1925 at Brooklyn, N. Y.

The long step forward taken by the Cleveland Browns last year foretells even greater success in the near future, confidently states owner Art Modell.

"We'll be better in 1981 because of the maturity gained last year," says Modell. "Also because of the success we tasted.

"I'm grateful for an outstanding year. It was the most exciting year, from a dramatic point of view, of the 20 I've been in football. It is amazing when you consider 25 of our 33 games the last two seasons were determined in the final 60 seconds of play. That statistic defies comprehension.

"We went further than expected, which bodes well for the future." In assembling an 11-5 record, Cleveland won its first AFC Central Division championship since 1971.

"I believe in building brick by brick on a solid foundation," says Modell. "We all know it's tougher to stay on top than it is to get there. And once we get there, I want to stay on top for a while."

Although football remains his primary concern, Modell still devotes ample time to fulfilling civic and business projects, including heading the Cleveland Stadium Corp., and playing a large role in saving and refurbishing the former Cleveland Sheraton Hotel into a downtown showpiece under the name Stouffer's Inn on the Square.

League affairs also have figured importantly in Modell's career. Among his many contributions were serving as NFL president from May, 1967, to March, 1970, along with playing an important part in formulating the current contract between club owners and the Players Assn., a natural follow-up to his committee work on television and in other areas.

Making bold moves is traditional with Modell, one of the most far-reaching being the moving of the Browns, along with Pittsburgh and Baltimore, to what had been the American Football League in the spring of 1969. That major and dramatic step cleared up a sizeable roadblock in the merging of the NFL and AFL, and returning peace to pro football.

It was at age 15 that Modell first entered the work field as an electrician's helper in a Brooklyn, N.Y. shipyard to help his struggling parents throughout the Depression. That necessitated attending night classes to finish high school.

Sports interested Modell from his early youth, with his strongest suit being a baseball catcher, but financial conditions at home forced him to set athletics aside. Later, he joined the Air Force in 1943 and enrolled in a New York City television school following World War II.

The same foresight and imagination that have served him so well in pro football also helped Modell formulate and direct the first regular daytime television show in New York City, and probably the entire nation. He moved into the advertising business in 1954 with the L. H. Hartman Co. in New York, one of the country's most successful agencies.

Finally, on March 21, 1961, Modell returned to his first love, sports, with the purchase of the Browns. And he takes pride in the fact the club remained at or near the top longer than most other teams in pro football.

The rewards included an NFL championship in 1964 and appearances in post-season playoffs or title games in 1967, 1968, 1969, 1971, 1972 and last season against Oakland. Home attendance records rose accordingly with season ticket sales climbing from 15,000 in 1961 to more than 50,000 at the current peak.

Among many innovations developed by Modell was the pre-season doubleheader concept that proved extremely popular for a decade. Although economics eventually led to a return to single games, he continues to direct a portion of the proceeds to charities sponsored by The Cleveland Press and The Plain Dealer.

Honors accorded him for his services and accomplishments in sports include an award by the New York Football Writers Assn. and the Sports Media Assn. of Cleveland and Ohio in recent years.

Modell also has been a fund raiser for St. Vincent Charity Hospital, is a trustee of the Cleveland Clinic Foundation and serves on the executive committee of the Greater Cleveland Growth Association. He is a trustee of University School and has been chosen by Hiram College to be a member of its prestigious Garfield Society. John Carroll University awarded him an honorary LL.D. degree in 1979.

Modell is a member of the board of directors of the National City Bank of Cleveland, Higbee Co., Ohio Bell Telephone Co., and Lake Erie Radio Co., operator of radio station WJW.

Wilberforce University honored him several years ago for Outstanding Citizenship. Modell has served as foreman of the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury, and almost since the time he came to Cleveland he has been chief sponsor of the Mundy Football Assn.

Sharing Modell's many humanitarian interests that benefit the Cleveland community is his wife, the former movie and television actress Pat Breslin. They have two sons, John, 21 and David, 19 and reside in suburban Waite Hill.

PAUL WARFIELD, Assistant to the President

Born: Nov. 28, 1942 at Warren, Ohio

Two years ago, former star receiver Paul Warfield chose to give up a career in television sports for a position with the Browns as assistant director of pro personnel.

This past winter owner Art Modell elevated Warfield to the newly created post of assistant to the president, a job that Modell believes Warfield will handle very well.

In his new capacity, Warfield will act as liaison person for the Browns with the NFL office in regard to matters relating to the mechanics of acquisition and release of players and the total waiver system. While this will constitute his major responsibility at the start, other duties will be added.

A certain future selection for the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Warfield played for Cleveland from 1964 through 1969 and returned in 1976 and 1977. He performed for Miami from 1970 through 1974 during which period he appeared in three Super Bowls.

A fluid, graceful receiver, Warfield was recognized as one of the premier players in the NFL during his career. He had a lifetime average of just over 20 yards per reception and was voted All-Pro and to the Pro-Bowl teams on numerous occasions.

After one season in the World Football League in 1975, Warfield returned to Cleveland for two seasons before retiring. He joined the NBC television station in Cleveland in 1977 in its sports department.

Warfield is a native of Warren, Ohio where he was a high school star before going to Ohio State. His wife Beverly is also from Warren. With their two children, Sonja 10 and Malcolm 7, they reside in the Cleveland suburb of Beachwood.

JAMES N. BAILEY, Vice-President & General Counsel

Born: August 21, 1946 at Wilmington, Ohio

Jim Bailey continues to play a more and more important role in the Browns' front office since joining the organization in June of 1978.

Originally having come to the Browns as one who would handle all legal matters relating to the club, he has assumed an active role this year in negotiating contracts with both rookie and veteran players.

A three sport star in high school in Wilmington, Bailey then went on to Florida State University and received his law degree from the University of Michigan Law School.

He was admitted to the bar in Cleveland in 1971 and joined Guren, Merritt, Sogg and Cohen as a full time associate and was designated a partner in 1976. An expert in real estate and corporate law, Bailey represented Cleveland Stadium Corp. in its formation.

He and his wife Ann and their two daughters reside in Shaker Heights.

TOMMY PROTHRO, Draft Supervisor

Born: July 20, 1920 at Dyersburg, Tenn.

Tommy Prothro has acquired a fine reputation for evaluating football talent in more than three and a half decades of college and professional coaching and has directed his third draft for the Browns this year.

Almost a dozen members of the current club have joined the roster as draftees since 1979 including players of the caliber of Cody Risien, Charles White, Lawrence Johnson, Clinton Burrell, Willis Adams and Paul McDonald, some of whom have already played key roles for the club or who figure to be important in the future. He coached the L.A. Rams in 1971 and 1972 and took over as head coach at San Diego in 1974.

In each situation the club he left was far better than the one he took over.

His college years were equally productive with a 104-55 record in 16 years as head coach at Oregon State (1955-1964) and UCLA (1965-1970).

Prothro was a star blocking back in the single wing for Wallace Wade at Duke, and a fifth-round draft choice of the New York Giants in 1942.

Chose to go immediately into college coaching at Western Kentucky instead of playing pro football. Served as an officer in the U.S. Navy from 1943 to 1945, then resumed assistant coaching at Vanderbilt and UCLA.

In May of this year, Prothro chose to relinquish his title of executive vice-president in charge of player personnel to concentrate solely on the draft. While he has not decided where his permanent residence will be, he will return to Cleveland for the winter months to direct the draft.

Tom and his wife Shirley have one daughter, Ann.

SAM RUTIGLIANO, Head Coach

4th Season with the Browns, 28th in Coaching

Born: July 1, 1932, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Graduated University of Tulsa

"What we accomplished last year leaves us more determined to do even better in 1981."

With that said, Sam Rutigliano embarks on the next phase in his burgeoning program to elevate the Cleveland Browns to the top level of the National Football League.

Considering what has been accomplished in Rutigliano's first three years as head coach, the realization of the next objective appears within reach. The progress is detailed in the record: From 8-8 in 1978 to 9-7 in 1979 to 11-5 and the club's first AFC Central Division title in nine years last season.

"On a scale of 1 to 10, I would say we were probably a seven going into last season and now we are an eight or a nine," says Rutigliano.

"When we first came to Cleveland, we were somewhere in the category of a three or a four. We were hoping just to be a .500 team, which we were that first year.

"The most important thing we have achieved was to close the gap between ourselves and Pittsburgh and Houston. And now, the most important thing is to stay where we are, ahead of everybody in the Central Division."

Recognition of the Browns' revitalization resulted in Rutigliano being named AFC Coach of the Year by United Press International a second straight time, and third place in balloting by the Associated Press.

Rutigliano, in his 15th year of NFL coaching, has brought stability and direction to the team, along with an ever-stronger foundation. A prime motivator, he is highly-regarded for his ability to handle players.

Brian Sipe, whose quarterbacking has been so instrumental in the Browns' growing success, says, "There are so many people around here who deserve credit for what we've been able to accomplish, but without a doubt the guy who's got to be mentioned first is Sam. He is a miracle worker."

Veteran wide receiver Reggie Rucker comments, "Sam is unique in that he is like a father, friend, another player, as well as coach." And longtime running back Calvin Hill says, "One thing that's exciting to me is that if Sam sees something better than what he's got, a philosophy or system or play, he'll change and utilize it. A lot of coaches will reach a level of success and never change, but not Sam."

Rutigliano's bright, humorous approach to football in particular and life in general is easily recognized and appreciated. But beneath it all is a determination, a drive, for his team and himself to be successful.

An offshoot of last season's success was the naming of Rutigliano and his staff to coach the AFC squad in the Pro Bowl game in Hawaii.

Erasmus Hall High School in Brooklyn, N.Y., was Rutigliano's prepping ground, culminating as an all-scholastic end on the New York City championship team in 1949. His collegiate career included junior college All-America honors at East Central Junior College in Decatur, Miss., then as a member of General Bob Neyland's national championship Tennessee team in 1951. After that, Rutigliano transferred to Tulsa and lettered under Coach Bobby Dobbs, another former West Pointer.

Rutigliano began his coaching career on the high school level in the New York and Connecticut areas — Lafayette High

SAM RUTIGLIANO

ART MODELL ON SAM RUTIGLIANO:

"Sam has made his mark in Cleveland in many ways. He's not only a fine coach, but he's a popular figure, an excellent representative of our team . . . I'm convinced he's a winner, another Blanton Collier. Sam relates better with his players than any coach I've seen."

SAM RUTIGLIANO ON SAM RUTIGLIANO:

"I'm not a vanilla and chocolate guy. I like variety . . . Security is for cowards. I've never compromised my convictions. We're in a high risk, high reward field. It's like walking through a mine field . . . My way is to somehow, some way reach a person. Once that happens, progress and results will follow."

School in Brooklyn; Greenwich (Conn.) High School, and Chappaqua (N.Y.) High School. He also earned his M.A. degree at Columbia University during that period.

In 1964 he was invited by Rick Forzano to join his University of Connecticut staff as offensive coordinator and the UConns promptly whipped Yale for the first time that season.

Joining Lou Saban as Maryland's freshman coach in 1966, Rutigliano was promoted to offensive coordinator after spring practice. When Saban accepted the general manager-head coach posts with Denver of the AFL in 1967, Rutigliano accompanied him to the pro ranks as pass offense coordinator.

In 1971, he went to New England and was the lone staff member retained by Chuck Fairbanks when he assumed the Patriots' helm in 1973.

Rutigliano accepted the opportunity to return to the New York area in 1974 as defensive backfield coach of the Jets under newly-appointed head coach Charley Winner. Two years later he joined Hank Stram when the latter became New Orleans' head coach.

It was off the Saints' staff in December 1977 that Browns' owner Art Modell hired Rutigliano to become the fifth head coach in the club's then 32-year history.

Rutigliano is an accomplished lecturer and after-dinner speaker and has addressed such prestigious groups as the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, the U.S. Military Academy's Lettermen's Club, the Montreal Ad and Sales Club, and others.

In addition, he has a growing reputation as a television consultant at post-season games. He worked the 1977 and 1979 Super Bowl games and the 1979 AFC championship game, all for the National Broadcasting Company.

Rutigliano is married to the former Barbara Abe and is the father of three children — Paul 24, Alison 16 and Kerry 14. The family resides in Waite Hill in Lake County, about 22 miles from Cleveland Stadium.

ASSISTANT COACHES

DAVE ADOLPH

Coach, Linebackers

BIRTHDATE—June 6, 1937

BIRTHPLACE—Akron, Ohio

COLLEGE—Akron U.

SEASONS IN COACHING—20

SEASONS WITH BROWNS—3

Moves into a new role this season as coach of the linebackers after remolding the defensive line into a more aggressive, effective unit last year. Linebacking has become an increasingly critical part of the defense in the 3-4 alignment now employed by the Browns.

Long before stepping into his first full-time venture on the pro level, Dave Adolph was an inveterate Browns' fan as a native of nearby Akron. His only previous pro experience was as a part-time defensive coach with the Montreal Alouettes for several summers a few years back.

An outstanding student and athlete at Akron, Adolph won a special citation for scholarship and leadership. He played guard and linebacker, and was selected top lineman in the Ohio Conference in 1958.

Served four years as a commissioned officer in the Air Force following graduation in 1959 and began his coaching career at Shaw High School in East Cleveland in 1962. Named Akron's offensive line coach in 1963 and first met Sam Rutigliano after joining Rick Forzano's staff at the University of Connecticut in 1965.

Went to Kentucky in 1969 as defensive coordinator under John Ray, became linebacker coach at Illinois in 1973, and went with Woody Hayes at Ohio State in 1977 as defensive line coach.

He and his wife Julie live in Bath, Ohio, with their three sons: Michael 18, Mark 16 and Thomas 11.

LEN FONTES

Coach, Defensive Backfield

BIRTHDATE—March 8, 1938

BIRTHPLACE—Canton, Ohio

COLLEGE—Ohio State

SEASONS IN COACHING—22

SEASONS WITH BROWNS—2

Eleven interceptions by cornerbacks Ron Bolton and Clinton Burrell were among the achievements of the Browns' defensive backfield in its first season under Len Fontes.

A former player on Ohio State's 1957 championship team and a former high school coach at Logan, Canton McKinley and Mansfield Madison high schools, Fontes has deep roots in Ohio.

Fontes came to the Browns from the University of Miami (Florida) where he was the defensive backfield coach for three seasons. Prior to that he had college coaching stints as a defensive backfield tutor at Eastern Michigan (1968); Dayton (1969-72) and Navy (1973-76).

Fontes played under Woody Hayes at Ohio State and following his graduation in 1960, he coached at the three above-named Ohio high schools until 1968. His Mansfield team won one conference title and while he was at Canton McKinley, the school captured two state championships and missed a third in a showdown with Massillon.

He performed in four sports and won state football and baseball honors at Warren, Mass. High School. He actually had a brief trial with the Boston Red Sox before entering Ohio State.

He and his wife Mimi have three children—Kathy, Debbie and Leonard and reside in Strongsville, Ohio. His younger brother Wayne has been defensive backfield coach for Tampa Bay since 1976.

JIM GARRETT

Coach, Running Backs;

Special Personnel Assistant

BIRTHDATE—June 19, 1930

BIRTHPLACE—Rutherford, N.J.

COLLEGE—Utah State

SEASONS IN COACHING—21

SEASONS WITH BROWNS—4

Incorporating the highly-effective running and receiving of fullback Mike Pruitt and a variety of quality halfbacks into one of the NFL's most potent passing attacks is the primary responsibility of personable Jim Garrett.

His work last year included the development of No. 1 draft choice Charles White, the return of Greg Pruitt from 1979 knee surgery and the strategic use of veterans Cleo Miller and Calvin Hill.

Garrett, a pro coach and scout since 1966, has a well-rounded background of more than two decades on all levels of football.

Earned four letters in football and baseball at Utah State and was named All-Skyline Conference. After serving in the Army two years played briefly with Philadelphia and the New York Giants of the NFL and British Columbia and Ottawa of the Canadian League.

Garrett moved into coaching in various capacities at the U.S. Coast Guard Academy, Lehigh and Susquehanna before joining the pros in 1966 as a scout for the NFL's BLESTO combine. Became a talent scout for the Dallas Cowboys in 1968 and two years later was appointed coach with the Giants, handling the special teams, offense and defense during a four-year stay.

Rejoined the Cowboys in 1974 as an assistant coach, but soon was named head coach of the Houston Texans of the World Football League. Once again returned to Dallas as a scout in late 1974, then was invited by Hank Stram to serve on the New Orleans' staff, where one of his fellow coaches was Sam Rutigliano.

Garrett and his wife, Jane, are parents of eight children ranging from 21 to 14—Jim, Jane, Jennifer, Janine, Jill, John, Jason and Judd. They reside in Cleveland Heights.

PAUL HACKETT

Coach, Quarterbacks

BIRTHDATE—July 5, 1947

BIRTHPLACE—Burlington, Vt.

COLLEGE—California-Davis

SEASONS IN COACHING—12

SEASONS WITH BROWNS—1

With the departure of Jim Shofner to the Houston Oilers as their offensive coordinator, the assignment of working with Brian Sipe and the Browns' younger quarterbacks has been given newcomer Paul Hackett.

In a short coaching career that spans 11 seasons, Hackett has acquired a reputation as a brilliant offensive teacher several of whose proteges at California and Southern California now perform in the National Football League.

Paul McDonald of the Browns, who set 17 NCAA, Pac-10 and USC passing records and who is regarded as a bright prospect for future duty with the Browns, was developed by Hackett.

Hackett's prize pupil to date has been Atlanta's Steve Bartkowski, the nation's leading college passer in 1974. Bartkowski is regarded as one of the NFL's premier passers largely responsible for Atlanta's rise as an NFL power. In 1975, Hackett taught Joe Roth who appeared headed for pro stardom until his untimely death.

In his first year at USC, Hackett helped with the rapid development of Vince Evans, now the Chicago Bears' No. 1 quarterback, and also taught Rob Hertel, currently the Philadelphia Eagles backup passer.

Hackett himself was a quarterback at the University of California - Davis and he led the Far Western Conference in passing as a senior. He has his master's degree from California State-Sacramento. He and his wife Elizabeth have settled in Strongsville, Ohio with their two children — Davis 9 and Nathaniel 1½.

ROD HUMENUIK

Coach, Offensive Line

BIRTHDATE—June 17, 1938

BIRTHPLACE—Detroit, Mich.

COLLEGE—Southern California

SEASONS IN COACHING—18

SEASONS WITH BROWNS—7

A major reason for the Browns having one of the most prolific offenses in the sport today can be traced directly to the production of the offensive line under Rod Humenuik's guidance.

A master at teaching and adjusting personnel, Humenuik last year effected the transferring of positions by young Cody Risien to right tackle and veteran Henry Sheppard back to left guard, plus the installation of All-Pro Joe DeLamielleure at right guard without missing a beat.

The combination of superb pass protection and continued fine run blocking resulted in the Browns' average gain per play increasing to 5.5 yards.

Humenuik starred at guard for USC from 1956 through 1958, then played three seasons under Bud Grant at Winnipeg in the Canadian Football League. Entered coaching as an assistant at Fullerton Junior College in 1964, and joined the staff of John McKay at USC in 1966. Trojans appeared in four consecutive Rose Bowl games during Humenuik's five years there.

Went to Cal State-Northridge in 1971, then coached the Toronto Argonauts' line under John Rauch for two seasons before coming to Cleveland. Humenuik was the only Browns' assistant held over when Sam Rutigliano became head coach in 1978.

Rod and his wife, Susie, have three daughters: Kim 21, Kerry 19 and Kelly 15; and one son, Mike 13. The Humenuiks live in Brecksville, Ohio.

RICH KOTITE

Coach, Receivers

BIRTHDATE—October 13, 1942

BIRTHPLACE—Brooklyn, N.Y.

COLLEGE—Wagner

SEASONS IN COACHING—8

SEASONS WITH BROWNS—4

The Browns' passing attack reached a new zenith last year in Rich Kotite's third season as coach of the club's multi-talented receivers.

With five receivers pulling down 50 or more passes, Cleveland averaged 244.7 aerial yards per game and established an array of team records.

Kotite began his pro coaching in 1977 on the New Orleans' staff with Sam Rutigliano. He was in charge of quality control, consisting largely of breaking down and analyzing films.

Previous coaching experience was four years at Tennessee-Chattanooga under his ex-New York Giant teammate Joe Morrison, starting in 1973.

Kotite earned Little All-America honors as a player at Wagner College on Staten Island, N.Y., where he rewrote the school's record book in receiving. Signed by the Giants in 1967, spent the following season with Pittsburgh, then re-joined the Giants for a four-year period in 1969.

Rich and his wife, Elizabeth, have a four-year-old daughter, Alexandra, and live in Berea, Ohio.

JOHN PETERCUSKIE

Coach, Special Teams

BIRTHDATE—January 31, 1925

BIRTHPLACE—Old Forge, Pa.

COLLEGE—East Stroudsburg Teachers

SEASONS IN COACHING—31

SEASONS WITH BROWNS—4

Special teams, under the guidance of John Petercuskie, is an area of ever-increasing importance to the success of the Browns. Last year, the return of Keith Wright from knee surgery and the continued fine play of Dino Hall helped increase the effectiveness of the kick return units.

Petercuskie served four years in the U.S. Marine Corps in World War II, including participation in the invasion of Okinawa, before starting to build a reputation as a fine high school and college coach.

Graduated from college in 1950 and entered into a 15-year period that earned him recognition as one of the leading high school coaches in eastern Pennsylvania. His team compiled the remarkable record of 59 victories, one loss and five ties at Neshaminy High School in Langhorne, Pa.

Was defensive line coach at Dartmouth from 1966 to 1968; defensive line coach and defensive coordinator at Boston College 1969 to 1972, and had similar responsibilities at Princeton from 1973 to 1977.

Petercuskie and his wife, Dorothy, live in Strongsville, Ohio, and have three grown sons—John, Jerry and Gary. They also have a granddaughter, Jill Anne.

TOM PRATT

Coach, Defensive line

BIRTHDATE—June 21, 1935

BIRTHPLACE—Edgerton, Wis.

COLLEGE—Miami

SEASONS IN COACHING—25

SEASONS WITH BROWNS—1

Tom Pratt has spent 18 seasons as a defensive line coach in the National Football League for Kansas City and New Orleans where he developed strong lines.

With the Chiefs, he developed their 1970 Super Bowl championship unit of Jerry Mays, Aaron Brown, Buck Buchanan and Curly Culp and his 1979 New Orleans Saints' line set a new club mark of 46 quarterback sacks.

Pratt played linebacker at Miami (Fla.) from 1954 through 1956 and remained at his alma mater as an assistant coach from 1957 through 1959.

He left Miami for an assistant coaching job at Southern Mississippi in 1960 where he remained until he joined the Chiefs in 1963. After 15 years with Kansas City he joined New Orleans in 1978 shortly after Sam Rutigliano left the Saints to accept the Browns' head coaching job.

Pratt and his wife, Hope, started construction on a new home in Medina, Ohio shortly after he joined the Browns. They have three children: Kendra 18, Shana 15 and Tyler 9.

MARTY SCHOTTENHEIMER

Defensive Coordinator

BIRTHDATE—Sept. 23, 1943

BIRTHPLACE—Canonsburg, Pa.

COLLEGE—Pittsburgh

SEASONS IN COACHING—8

SEASONS WITH BROWNS—2

Continued improvement in the Browns' overall defensive performance is the job of Marty Schottenheimer in his second year as the club's coordinator.

Came to the Browns last year after two seasons as the Detroit Lions' linebacker coach. Began his post-playing career as an assistant coach with Portland in the World Football League in 1974, then joined Bill Arnsparger as linebacker coach of the New York Giants in 1975. Was promoted to defensive coordinator in 1977.

A seventh-round draft choice of the Buffalo Bills in 1965 after gaining All-America honors as a linebacker at the University of Pittsburgh, Schottenheimer played in the 1965 and 1966 American Football League title games. Concluded his playing career with the Patriots in 1969 and 1970.

Went into the real estate development business in Miami and Denver areas from 1971 until turning to coaching three years later.

Schottenheimer and his wife, Patricia and two children—daughter Kristen, 11 and son Brian, 8—reside in a new home they have built in Strongsville.

ED ULINSKI

Film Coordinator

Eddie Ulinski is in his 31st year as a valuable member of the Browns in the capacities of player, assistant coach and a coach's administrative aide.

Retired from coaching nine years ago and since then has been in charge of the coaching films, including film exchange, an important assignment in pro football.

One of the original Browns, Ulinski played guard from 1946 through 1949 when the team was in the All-America Conference. He had been outstanding at Marshall College in West Virginia. Began coaching at Santa Clara, then at Purdue, before rejoining the Browns in 1954. Served in a number of positions on the staff before becoming the full-time film coordinator.

Ed is married to the former Gerry Kelly. They live in Cleveland Heights, Ohio, with their two children, Karin and Kevin.

LEO MURPHY

Trainer

Leo Murphy is one of the most respected trainers in all of professional sports and has administered to the Browns' aches and pains for more than a quarter of a century.

His sparkling sense of humor is a valuable asset in the training room where his expertise is a vital factor in helping keep the club healthy and sound.

A 1947 graduate of Notre Dame, Murphy worked with the Chicago Rockets and the New York Yankees before joining the Browns in 1950, the year the club joined the National Football League.

Murphy and his wife Betty have two children and two grandchildren, and reside in Medina, Ohio.

CHARLES CUSICK

Equipment Manager

The ever more important task of overseeing the purchase, use and maintenance of the Browns' vast amount of player equipment was turned over to Charles Cusick as veteran Morrie Kono began winding down his lengthy career six years ago.

Cusick, a hard-working, affable young man, comes from an athletic family which includes his brother, Pete, an outstanding player at Ohio State before turning pro where a series of injuries held back his career. Cusick himself was a fine high school athlete until a knee injury ended his playing days.

Cusick is single and lives in Rocky River, Ohio.

MIKE NIXON

Director of College Scouting

This will be Mike Nixon's eighth season as head of the important department of college scouting. He had worked as a scout in that area for five years prior to 1974.

One of the most respected men in the NFL, Nixon has had a lengthy career in the league for over 26 seasons. He was head coach for the Washington Redskins and Pittsburgh Steelers for several years.

An All-American player at Pitt under Doc Sutherland, Nixon later coached at Pittsburgh and West Virginia after playing in the NFL for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

He and his wife Thelma reside in Brecksville, Ohio. They have one married daughter. Last spring Mike was accorded the high honor of being voted into the Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame.

ALLAN WEBB

Director of Pro Personnel

Allan Webb is in his third season with the Browns, working closely with Sam Rutigliano in scouting Browns' future opponents and evaluating all NFL players.

The former New York Giants' player, scout and assistant coach has a diversified background in pro football. Gained Little All-America honors at Arnold College in Connecticut, served in the U.S. Navy and then played in the Canadian League before joining the Giants in 1961.

Following his retirement as an active player in 1965, he coached in the Atlantic Coast Football League before rejoining the Giants in 1972 as a scout and later a coach.

A native of Washington, D.C., Webb and his wife Olga reside in Berea. They have a 22-year-old daughter Lisa and son Marc, 15.

BEN BEDINI

Area Scout

Ben Bedini has been a high school and college coach and administrator most of his life prior to joining the Browns as a scout who covers the eastern seaboard from Maine to North Carolina.

A graduate of Springfield (Mass.) College, he coached high school teams in Rye and Port Chester, N.Y. before coaching at Iona and Fordham, then taking over as athletic director and director of physical education at Rockland Community College in Suffern, N.Y.

He and his wife and two children reside in Upper Saddle River, N.J.

CHUCK GARCIA

Area Scout

Chuck Garcia came to the Browns in 1979 from the Seattle Seahawks for whom he had worked during their initial three seasons. His first position in the NFL was as a CEPO scout starting in 1972.

Garcia, who covers the southern areas of the country and part of Texas for the Browns, played football at Prairie View College. Following three years in the U.S. Army, he held high school coaching and athletic director posts in Texas until 1968 when he went to Bishop College as defensive co-ordinator.

He is single and resides in Dallas.

BILL LONG

Area Scout

Bill Long concentrates on the Plains States area colleges including the Big Eight and Western Athletic Conferences. He starts his seventh season with the Browns in this capacity.

Long played briefly at Pittsburgh in 1949 and 1950 when Mike Nixon was the Steelers' head coach. Following that came 10 years as a high school coach plus 11 years at Austin and Oklahoma State. Bill and his wife Helen live in Marietta, Okla. They have four children.

TOM MINER

Area Scout

Tom Miner was player personnel director and vice-president, player relations for the San Diego Chargers before joining the Browns.

He was an All-Missouri Conference end and place-kicker at Tulsa University and later played in the Canadian League before joining Pittsburgh of the NFL in 1958. He set a club mark of 14 field goals that year including a 49-yarder against Cleveland.

After coaching at Tulsa as an assistant and then operating a sporting goods business, Miner joined San Diego on a part-time scouting basis in 1963 until he was offered a full-time post in 1966. He joined Cleveland in 1975 and covers the west coast area.

He and his wife Pat reside in Palm Springs, Cal. They have two daughters.

AL SATTERFIELD

Area Scout

This will be the tenth season of scouting for Al Satterfield, who surveys the important pro territory of the South-west Conference plus Texas and New Mexico.

Al coached at Virginia Tech., Maryland and Virginia Military until joining the Browns. Satterfield played a year of pro football with San Francisco.

He and his wife Bobbie Sue live in Greenville, Tex. They have one daughter.

BRIAN SIPE

BRIAN SIPE ON BRIAN SIPE: "I don't find it natural to talk about myself as much as people want me to talk about myself . . . Sam's team concept made us succeed and I'm aware of that each time the press isolates me as a standout. I'm not comfortable with the extra attention . . . I'm trying to maintain a normalcy with my and my family's lives."

VETERAN PLAYERS

WILLIS ADAMS—Wide Receiver

BIRTHDATE—August 22, 1956
BIRTHPLACE—Weimar, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1st in '79)
COLLEGE—Houston
HIGH SCHOOL—Schulenburg (Texas)
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—194
YEARS PRO—3

Came to the Browns as a diamond in the rough and now after two years of polishing is ready to add even more sparkle to a fine corps of receivers.

Used sparingly so far due to the continued excellent performances of more experienced Reggie Rucker and Dave Logan, but averaged 20.6 yards last year with eight catches. Longest was a 39-yarder against Kansas City.

"It was a whole different ball game for me going in last season," said Willis. "Being the No. 1 draft choice, I was kind of nervous the year before. I was more relaxed last year and I knew a lot more about the system."

Admits his biggest immediate goal is to score his first pro touchdown. Another is to contribute much more than he has had a chance to so far.

Caught only one pass for six yards as a rookie after being set back in training camp — first by a hand injury, then by strained knee ligaments in the second pre-season game. Result was a loss of 10 days of valuable early camp time and two pre-season games.

Knows his time will come and intends to be ready when it does. Says Willis, "As much as we throw the ball, I think there's room for three of us to play at wide receiver."

Averaged 18.4 yards per catch in compiling 534 yards on 29 receptions as a college senior. Played in East-West Shrine and Japan Bowl games, and was the fifth rated player in the country by the Browns' scouting group. Married Natalie Christine Russell of Houston, May 2, 1980. Son, Willis Jr., born last January 21. Returned to University of Houston past offseason to continue studies toward his degree in health and physical education.

LYLE ALZADO—Defensive End

BIRTHDATE—April 3, 1949
BIRTHPLACE—Brooklyn, N. Y.
HOW ACQUIRED—Trade (see bio.)
COLLEGE—Yankton
HIGH SCHOOL—Lawrence
 (Cedarhurst, N. Y.)
HEIGHT—6-3
WEIGHT—250
YEARS PRO—11

When Sam Rutigliano was asked to evaluate his aggressive, all-out defensive end, he said, "Lyle's presence is hard to measure. On a scale of 1 to 10, I'd have to give him a 9."

Veteran strong safety Clarence Scott put it another way: "Words could never express what he means to our defense. He means everything. He makes a world of difference in all aspects of our defense.

"Because of him, the other linemen are more aggressive and more people are hustling. He's a 100 percent hustling guy who excites other people."

Having overcome a strained knee that seriously hampered his effectiveness in 1979, his first year with the Browns, Lyle flashed back to his previous pro form and was the cornerstone of the Cleveland defense last season.

Led the team in sacks with nine, and tied for second in total tackles with 104. It was vintage Alzado and his effort which played a strong part in the Browns' most successful season in a decade.

In the end, he was chosen All-Pro for the third time by Associated Press, named All-AFC by United Press International and selected as Cleveland's defensive player of the year by the city's Touchdown Club.

Even prior to the season, however, he was named the team's defensive captain in a vote by his peers. Says Lyle, "Being captain indicates you have earned their respect."

Was returned to his familiar right side post for 1980 after volunteering to fill in at left end and even tackle during injury emergencies in the months following the trade that brought him to Cleveland from Denver.

It was one of the more important and rewarding trades in the Browns' history. Cleveland sent two draft choices to the Broncos in return—a No. 2 in 1980 and a No. 3 in 1981.

Came out of little-known Yankton College in South Dakota as a fourth-round draft choice by Denver in 1971 and moved in as a starter his rookie year. Remained a regular throughout his stay with the Broncos except for 1976 when a knee injury on the season's first play sidelined him for the season.

Won the coveted Byron (Whizzer) White Award in 1977 as the NFL Players Assn.'s Man of the Year. The association also named him AFC Defensive Player of the Year in 1978 when he led the Broncos with nine sacks and recorded 77 first hits on tackles.

Additional honors included the Bart Starr Meritorious Service Award and National 'Friend of Youth' Award by the Optimists of U.S. and Canada in 1978.

Lyle describes his approach to the game in this manner: "Before every play, mental pictures flash through my mind. I see myself slamming into the guy with the ball and busting it loose for a fumble. I see myself sacking the quarterback. Every play I want to make the big play."

Bench presses 500 pounds and deadlifts 595 with his amazing strength. Set a weightlifting record while competing in 1978 Superstars on television, finishing fourth in overall events.

DICK AMBROSE—Linebacker

BIRTHDATE—January 17, 1953
BIRTHPLACE—New Rochelle, N. Y.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (12th in '75)
COLLEGE—Virginia
HIGH SCHOOL—Iona Prep
 (New Rochelle)
HEIGHT—6-0
WEIGHT—228
YEARS PRO—7

Dick's motto is "it's better to give than receive" and last year he dealt out a total of 120 tackles to lead the Browns by a comfortable margin.

The previous year the figure was 137, but a move to the 3-4 defense and the presence of another hard hitter, Robert L. Jackson, as the accompanying inside linebacker changed things somewhat. Jackson himself had a hand in 104 tackles.

"I like contact as long as I'm not the one being punished," says Dick.

Sam Rutigliano describes him as "a very productive ball player. In my mind he is the most underrated middle linebacker in the league."

Dick has been a full time middle man every year but one since being drafted as a longshot 12th-round pick out of Virginia in 1975. A severe ankle injury kept him out most of his second season.

"I worked as hard as I could right from the start, but I would have done that as an early-round pick, too," he says. "To me, it's the easiest way to approach something. My outlook was positive from the beginning."

Was first paired up with Jackson late in the 1979 season and the results were so impressive that the Browns decided to revamp the alignment for good.

Cleveland Touchdown Club named Dick the Browns' Defensive Player of the Year in 1977 because of his dedication and effectiveness. Beat out veteran Bob Babich as a rookie and has played with equal intensity ever since.

Married Barbara Yanke of Middleburg Heights, Ohio, Jan. 27, 1977. Owns his home in North Ridgeville, 25 miles west of Cleveland.

Signed by the Browns as a free agent two days after young right cornerback Lawrence Johnson fractured a shoulder on the second weekend against Houston last season, Autry's five years in the NFL provided the Browns with valuable defensive backfield insurance.

"We wanted someone with a great deal of experience at the safety positions and he fit the mold for us," said head coach Sam Rutigliano.

Main contribution was on special teams, however, as the secondary avoided serious injuries the balance of the campaign.

Originally drafted by Minnesota in the 12th round out of East Texas State in 1975 and played in Super Bowl XI against Oakland a year later. Traded to Seattle in 1977 and started in all but six of 45 games until released in the Seahawks' final cutdown last summer.

Co-captained the team his last two seasons with Seattle and has 13 career interceptions.

Had 32 interceptions in college and was named to the All-Lone Star Conference team four times. Played in the Coaches All-America and the Blue-Gray games. Graduated as a business administration major.

His father is a high school football and track coach in Texas. Continues to reside in Seattle where he has been active in many community activities. Is single. Spent off-season as management trainee for Western International Hotels.

RON BOLTON—Cornerback

BIRTHDATE—April 16, 1950
BIRTHPLACE—Petersburg, Va.
HOW ACQUIRED—Trade (see bio.)
COLLEGE—Norfolk State
HIGH SCHOOL—Peabody (Petersburg)
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—170
YEARS PRO—10

"Ron is playing better now than at any time in his entire career," says Sam Rutigliano. "He's part of the glue holding together the defensive backfield."

Some of that glue apparently was on Ron's fingers, too, last year. He led the Browns with six interceptions during the regular season and added two more in the divisional playoff game with Oakland.

Career total, including the post-season effort, now stands at 35, with a combined return yardage of 324. Considering his first theft in 1980 didn't come until the eighth game, he obviously was in top form in pressure games down the stretch.

"I'm playing more soundly, technique-wise, and more consistently," Ron admits. "I'm relying more on help from the linebackers and the other defensive backs now and this allows me to play more up to my ability."

His 42-yard return for a touchdown against the Raiders was Cleveland's first by that method in 29 games. It also was the longest by a Browns' defender since Thom Darden went 46 yards against Atlanta in the third game of the 1978 season.

A fine tackler despite his slender but muscular build, Ron participated in 69 tackles last year to tie for sixth highest on the club.

"I involve myself emotionally in the game, and in certain instances receivers notice the aggressive play of the cornerback," he says. "They think about it and sometimes don't get as much out of a play as they would otherwise. It can take away from the offensive performance."

Drafted in the fifth round by New England in 1972, he led the Patriots in interceptions the following three years, including a career-high 56-yard runback against Philadelphia in 1973.

Came to Cleveland the spring of 1976 in exchange for offensive tackle Bob McKay and stepped in as the right cornerback his first season. A back problem forced him to give way to Oliver Davis a year later, but came back to become a valuable special teams' man with his speed and hitting ability.

Tied a club record with three interceptions against Los Angeles late in the 1977 campaign. Fractured an arm in the New Orleans Superdome during the 1978 season, but bounced back to win the regular left corner job the following year and still is there.

A year-around resident of Cleveland, he owns a large home in the prestigious Cedar Hill area.

HENRY BRADLEY—Defensive Tackle

BIRTHDATE—September 4, 1953

BIRTHPLACE—St. Joseph, La.

HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent
(see bio.)

COLLEGE—Alcorn State

HIGH SCHOOL—Davidson (St. Joseph)

"To say that Henry is an overwhelming success is an understatement," says Sam Rutigliano. "We're very lucky. You can't play the 3-4 defense without a nose man who can block."

Dave Adolph, who coached the defensive line last year, comments, "Henry is tough, very durable and intense, and he just doesn't know pain."

Came from obscurity to instant prominence last year after being caught up in the numbers battle the previous summer. Was first brought to training camp two years ago at the suggestion of Tommy Prothro.

Prothro was head coach at San Diego when the Chargers drafted Henry in the ninth round in 1978. Cleveland signed him off the waiver list and kept him until the final cutdown in late August.

Henry was driving a truck in Cleveland when Jerry Sherk was shelved for the season with a staph infection 10 games into the campaign. The Browns immediately re-signed Henry and last year he participated in approximately 95 percent of all the defensive plays.

Tied Ron Bolton for sixth place in tackles with 69, had three quarterback sacks and recovered one fumble. Had high performance grades in every game.

Says center Gerry Sullivan, who works against Henry daily, "I've never played against a guy who plays in practice like he does in a game. You've got to admire the guy, playing nearly every down all season."

Henry explains, "At the school I went to (Alcorn State in Mississippi), you had to go hard all the time."

Single, he resided in San Diego last off-season. Kept in shape in offseason by working for a construction company.

CLINTON BURRELL—Safety

BIRTHDATE—September 4, 1956

BIRTHPLACE—Franklin, La.

HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (6a in '79)

COLLEGE—Louisiana State

HIGH SCHOOL—Franklin

HEIGHT—6-1½

WEIGHT—192

YEARS PRO—3

Stepped into the hot seat at right cornerback the second game of last season when Lawrence Johnson suffered a fractured shoulder against Houston, and finished as the Browns' second-leading interceptor.

Clinton found himself the target of opposing quarterbacks in his early weeks as a first-time pro regular, but rapidly improved to the point that he no longer was being picked on.

Had two interceptions against Tampa Bay, two more against the Steelers in Pittsburgh and a fifth one in a 17-14 victory over the New York Jets.

Will be switched from cornerback to bid for free safety post this year.

"What pleases me particularly is his desire to learn," says defensive backfield coach Len Fontes.

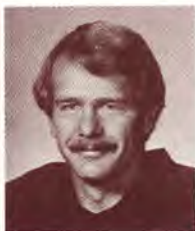

Was drafted in the sixth round out of Louisiana State in 1979 and duties as a rookie included being the fifth back in the 'nickel' defense and playing on special teams.

Also played flanker in high school, but was recruited as a defensive back by LSU and now says, "I know wide receivers get more acclaim and people come to see points on the board, but not everyone can be a cornerback."

Was an outstanding college player at LSU and probably would have been a first-round draft pick, until set back by knee damage in 1976 that required two operations and kept him inactive for most of 1977 and 1978. Intercepted nine passes in three seasons and also returned punts for LSU.

Father is a police officer in Franklin, La. where Clint was born. Made his offseason residence in Berea, Ohio. Married Jacqueline Richardson of St. Francisville, La. last June.

DON COCKROFT—Placekicker

BIRTHDATE—February 6, 1945
BIRTHPLACE—Cheyenne, Wyo.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (3rd in '67)
COLLEGE—Adams State
HIGH SCHOOL—Fountain (Colo.)
HEIGHT—6-1
WEIGHT—195
YEARS PRO—14

The Browns' leading scorer for 12 consecutive seasons hopes 1981 will be a better one for him personally than last year when a cartilage problem in his left knee and sciatic nerve pain in his left leg hampered his production. Surgery repaired the knee after the season.

Don still accounted for 87 points to lift his career total to 1,080 and bring him within 269 of the figure posted by the famed Lou (The Toe) Groza with the Browns in the 1950s and '60s.

Within striking distance this year, however, is Groza's total of 234 field goals in the National Football League. Don goes into this season with 216.

Typically, his kicks accounted for the margin of victory in five games last year after being the difference in six games the previous campaign. Coming through in the clutch long has been a trademark in his 13-year pro career.

"I'm stronger now than I've ever been," stated Don at a somewhat troublesome point in 1980, "Which is why what's happening is so frustrating. I've got the desire and dedication that are needed."

Described by Sam Rutigliano as 'a kickaholic,' Don admits to being a perfectionist. "I feel like I am kicking better than ever," he said. "I have more pop in the ball. I'm getting good height and there's a lot of snap in my leg."

Returning to full health should enable him to put those pluses to full use again this season.

Has played in 188 consecutive games with the Browns and climaxed last season's work with a pressure field goal against Cincinnati that clinched the division title with 1:25 left. Kicked three against Denver, including a 45-yarder, his longest of the year. Career average is a lofty .658 (216 of 328 attempts).

Drafted in the third round out of Adams State in Colorado in 1967, Don became only the third placekicker in the Browns' history a year later after Groza retired. Sam Baker had the assignment for a short time in 1961 while Groza was injured.

Don's best year was 1974 when his 87.5 percentage was second-highest in accuracy ever recorded in NFL. Groza had 88.5 in 1953.

BILL COWHER—Linebacker

BIRTHDATE—May 8, 1957
BIRTHPLACE—Pittsburgh, Pa.

COLLEGE—North Carolina State
HIGH SCHOOL—Carlynton (Pittsburgh)
HEIGHT—6-3
WEIGHT—225
YEARS PRO—2

"The game of football is being in the right place at the right time," says Bill and that describes perfectly his rookie campaign with the Browns last season.

Signed as a free agent, the former North Carolina State athlete earned a place on the roster and started against Chicago and Baltimore in the injury absence of Robert L. Jackson at one of the inside linebacker posts.

"I knew he was ready," says fellow inside linebacker Dick Ambrose. "He's smart, fast enough, likes to hit and knows the program."

Bill finished with 45 tackles and says, "Linebackers have to be good tacklers, especially in the 3-4 defense, and I think I've got a nose for the ball."

Passed over in the 1979 draft, he signed with Philadelphia as a free agent and was the last linebacker cut after sticking through three pre-season games.

Captained N.C. State his senior year, twice led the team in tackles, was all-conference three times and helped beat the University of Pittsburgh in the Tangerine Bowl. Latter was particularly satisfying since he was born in Pittsburgh and grew up there.

Single, he joined the growing colony of Browns living in the Greater Cleveland area year-around, renting an apartment in Berea.

RON CREWS—Defensive Tackle

BIRTHDATE—Oct. 9, 1956
BIRTHPLACE—Springfield, Ill.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (4a in '80)
COLLEGE—Nevada-Las Vegas
HIGH SCHOOL—Hickman (Columbia, Mo.)
HEIGHT—6-3
WEIGHT—256
YEARS PRO—2

One of a number of promising young defensive linemen to make the squad last year, Ron backed up durable Henry Bradley at the grueling nose tackle position.

Has a powerful build and a reputation as a big-play pass rusher with exceptional mobility. Figures to make his presence felt even more this year with a pro season under his belt.

Drafted in the fourth round out of Nevada-Las Vegas, where he earned Player of the Year award as a senior with 44 unassisted tackles, 20 assists and six sacks.

Began his career at Notre Dame, but underwent knee surgery and later transferred. Credited with nine tackles as a Browns' rookie.

Returned to Nevada-Las Vegas this year to work toward his degree in hotel administration.

THOM DARDEN—Safety

BIRTHDATE—August 28, 1950
BIRTHPLACE—Sandusky, Ohio
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1st in '72)
COLLEGE—Michigan
HIGH SCHOOL—Sandusky
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—193
YEARS PRO—9

Became the Browns' all-time leading interceptor on October 19th last year when he picked off a 62-yard pass from Green Bay quarterback Lynn Dickey intended for James Lofton late in the first quarter.

It marked the 41st time Thom had done what defensive backs love best to do and pulled him out of a deadlock with the late Warren Lahr in that department. Added another one in the final game at Cincinnati to help nail down the AFC Central title for the Browns.

Long regarded as one of the finest free safeties in pro football, Thom has boosted his club record return yardage on interceptions to 752 in eight seasons. Figure undoubtedly would be higher had he not been forced to miss the 1975 campaign because of knee surgery required in pre-season.

Thom has been one of the main stabilizing factors in the secondary since being a first-round draft choice out of the University of Michigan in 1972. First set a Browns record in 1978 by intercepting 10 passes to surpass the season mark held by Tommy James for 28 years.

The pride of Sandusky, Ohio, was Cleveland's lone representative in the Pro Bowl that winter in addition to being named the team's Defensive Player of the Year by the Cleveland Touchdown Club, and voted Northern Ohio's Pro of the Year by the Sports Media Assn. of Cleveland and Ohio.

In 1979 was selected second-team All-Pro by Associated Press and second-team All-AFC by United Press International and last year named honorable mention All-AFC by UPI.

Earned All-Big Ten honors as a junior and senior with the Wolverines, and played in the 1969 and 1972 Rose Bowls, plus the Hula Bowl his final year.

Now a permanent resident of the Greater Cleveland area, owns a home in Beachwood. A very busy person in off-season as time sales rep for WHK, flagship station of the Browns' radio network. Also has a one-hour Sunday night jazz show on WMMS. Is Browns' representative in McDonald's Ronald McDonald House program, a temporary home in the University Circle area of Cleveland for families whose children are receiving treatment for serious illnesses (primarily cancer) at Rainbow Babies' and Children's Hospital. Single.

OLIVER DAVIS—Safety

COLLEGE—Tennessee State
HIGH SCHOOL—Mt. Olive (Ft. Mitchell, Ala.)
HEIGHT—6-1½

YEARS PRO—5

Although his playing time was limited last season, Oliver had a fine day in a key victory over Cincinnati in Cleveland with his lone interception of the year and a 47-yard lateral following a theft by linebacker Clay Matthews.

Oliver's interception was the 11th of his four-year pro career. He also contributed 25 tackles.

Spent the season backing up starting cornerbacks Ron Bolton and Clinton Burrell after suffering a slight shoulder separation in pre-season, but saw action when the Browns went to 'nickel' and 'sixpence' defenses in passing situations.

Became the Browns' starting right cornerback as a fourth-round draftee out of Tennessee State in 1977, but an elbow injury cost him three games the following year. Still finished with six interceptions, second-highest behind Thom Darden.

Teamed with Bolton at the corners in 1979 and was fifth on the team with 90 tackles. Thrives on contact, calling desire the key ingredient.

Had a vital interception and 33-yard return against the New York Jets on opening day in 1979 to set up a winning field goal by Don Cockroft with overtime about to expire.

Oliver was an All-America honorable mention at Tennessee State and intercepted three passes in the North-South Shrine Game. Also played in the Senior Bowl and Blue-Gray games. College coach John Merritt described him as one of the better defensive backs sent by the university to the NFL.

Single, he has been off-season resident of Greater Cleveland area, residing in Bedford Heights. He and rookie Joel Patten were winners of NFLPA drawing for free Caribbean cruise this winter.

Among the qualifications assistant coach Rod Humenuik seeks in offensive linemen are size, quickness, agility, feistiness, intelligence, alertness and instant recall. The man they call Joe D. has them all and was a ready-made prime addition when the Browns obtained him from Buffalo last year.

It was the week before the season opener that fans were pleasantly surprised to learn Joe had been acquired for draft choices No. 2 in 1981 and No. 3 in 1982. Four games into the season he made his first start for Cleveland following an injury to Robert E. Jackson and played regularly the remainder of the campaign.

"Each week I felt better and better because I knew I was contributing more and more," says Joe. "I never knew any right guards who won football games, but I know they can help."

Joe has been a major help on offensive lines ever since the Bills drafted him in the first round out of Michigan State in 1973. Played in 103 consecutive games for the Bills.

Fitted in so smoothly with the Browns last season that he wound up being named to the AFC Pro Bowl squad for sixth straight year. Also was voted All-AFC by United Press International and All-Pro by the Pro Football Writers Assn.

"I'm a blue-collar guy, a factory-town guy," says Joe. "I come from a family of 10 kids and my wife comes from a family of eight. Cities like Cleveland, Detroit and Buffalo are my kind of towns. This works out perfectly for us. I just couldn't be happier about coming to Cleveland."

Was the most honored Buffalo lineman since Billy Shaw in the 1960s. Three-time All-Big Ten as a guard and tackle under Duffy Daugherty, gained All-America honors his senior year, and played in the North-South and Senior Bowl games.

Majored in criminal justice at Michigan State and while with Bills spent one winter working for Erie County Sheriff's Department. When a Buffalo resident he participated in many civic activities including United Way, American Heart Assn., American Lung Assn. and others.

Now a resident of Detroit suburb Birmingham. Married Gerri Smith of Detroit, March 24, 1972. Four children: Ellen (7-25-73), Mary (9-3-76) and twins Todd and Alison (1-31-79). Is sales rep for Hawk Industries of Akron, Ohio.

TOM DeLEONE—Center

BIRTHDATE—August 13, 1950
BIRTHPLACE—Kent, Ohio
HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent
COLLEGE—Ohio State
HIGH SCHOOL—Roosevelt (Kent)
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—248
YEARS PRO—10

Patience, hard work, and total dedication have combined with native ability to bring Tom to the point where he is recognized as one of the fine centers in pro football today.

Was named to the AFC Pro Bowl squad for a second straight time last winter, and voted second-team All-AFC by United Press International.

Pass protection is one of Tom's top abilities, but he admits it was an acquired skill. "I had to learn it all," he says, looking back to the time he was drafted in the fifth round by Cincinnati in 1972.

"If you can't pass protect, you can't make it in this league. If you can run block, too, it's a plus, but if you can't pass block, you don't have a chance."

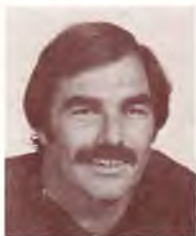

Has held down the center job for the Browns in all but one of 85 regular season games since 1975, a year after being signed as a free agent. Settled in for a lengthy stay after being traded by Cincinnati and released by Atlanta and Houston in a matter of weeks the summer of 1974.

"The center's job is harder now with teams using the three-man line and putting a nose tackle right over center, but I like it that way," he says. "At least, I know where my man is. In a four-man front, my man could come from almost any direction."

Quiet confidence has marked Tom's progress since he succeeded John Demarie six games into the 1975 season. Has been a key part of one of the most effective pass protection units in the NFL. Cleveland had only 23 sacks in 554 pass plays last season.

Was an All-America first team choice at Ohio State where he also was named Most Valuable Player as a senior.

Married Mindy Karn of Gahanna, Ohio April 15, 1978. Resides with her and daughter Rachel (10-8-80) in Medina, Ohio. Took new off-season job as sales representative for Hawk Industries of Akron.

DOUG DIEKEN—Offensive Tackle

BIRTHDATE—February 12, 1949

BIRTHPLACE—Streator, Ill.

HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (6th in '71)

COLLEGE—Illinois

HIGH SCHOOL—Streator

HEIGHT—6-5½

WEIGHT—252

YEARS PRO—11

Moves into his 11th pro season with a 137-game string of consecutive starting assignments at offensive left tackle and high praise from Sam Rutigliano.

"Doug has the ability to 'absorb' a defensive player, to stay in front of him," says Rutigliano. "He also is smart. He studies the guy he's playing against and has great finesse. He's a fine technician."

Named to the AFC Pro Bowl squad for the first time last winter, he also moved up from All-AFC honorable mention in 1979 to second-team in voting gathered by United Press International. In addition, acts as the Browns' representative for the NFL Players Assn.

Remarkably durable and able to play despite injuries, Doug has missed more than half of a game only twice since taking over for Dick Schafrath 10 games into his rookie season in 1971. Both occasions were last fall when he suffered a knee sprain in the first half of a Monday night victory over Chicago and was able to play little against Baltimore six days later.

"Let's see, since I've been here I've had two knee operations, had a broken hand twice, dislocated an elbow, had bone chips, teeth chipped and the sprained knee," relates Doug. "The most painful problem is my foot. Somebody stepped on a bone or cartilage in my foot several years ago."

Yet the playing streak goes on, and Rutigliano says, "Doug is an amazing guy."

Drafted in the sixth round out of Illinois, where he scored seven touchdowns as a sophomore split end and two-year tight end. Still relishes the memory of making a TD catch on a pass from Dave Logan off a fake field goal play against Detroit in 1978 pre-season game.

Doug's development as an offensive tackle was especially impressive considering his only previous experience on the interior line was one quarter of the Blue-Gray game shortly before the Browns drafted him.

Has resided in the Greater Cleveland area since joining the club and owns a lovely lakefront home in Bay Village, a western suburb. Makes many appearances in and out of season before youth and hospital groups. Always willing to lend a hand to community projects. Single, he is the prankster of the club coming up with many witticisms and practical jokes on all players and members of the Browns' staff and media. Associated with former Brown Gene Hickerson as rep for a steel company.

RICKY FEACHER—Wide Receiver

BIRTHDATE—February 11, 1954

BIRTHPLACE—Crystal River, Fla.

HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent

COLLEGE—Mississippi Valley State

HIGH SCHOOL—Brooksville (Fla.)

HEIGHT—5-10

WEIGHT—174

YEARS PRO—6

Figuring more prominently each year in the Browns' success, Ricky had his finest hour in five pro seasons in last year's important final regular season victory over Cincinnati.

Caught scoring passes of 35 and 34 yards less than three minutes apart early in the second half to bring Cleveland from seven points down to a 24-17 lead. The Browns went on to win, 27-24.

"That was the greatest thing that ever happened in my career," says the popular wide receiver named by his teammates as the club's special teams' captain last year.

"I want to contribute in any way possible," he says. "I thank God that I have a lot of talent and I can do a lot of things."

Also scored touchdowns against Tampa Bay and in an earlier meeting with Cincinnati to bring his pro total to five. Finished with 10 catches for 244 yards and a 24.4-yard average, highest on the team last season.

Ricky has been particularly effective against the Bengals. His first TD catch against them last year covered 55 yards, second-longest of the season for the Browns. In 1979, he caught his initial pro TD at Cincinnati's expense, and recovered a fumble on a punt return to preserve a victory.

Drafted 10th by New England out of Mississippi Valley State in 1976, Ricky was signed by Cleveland as a free agent later that year after being released by the Patriots. Caught his first NFL pass two years later after establishing himself as a fine special teams performer.

He is single and resides in the Cleveland suburb of Warrensville Heights.

HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent
COLLEGE—Memphis State
HIGH SCHOOL—Farrell
HEIGHT—6-0
WEIGHT—201
YEARS PRO—2

Signed as a free agent three weeks into the season last year after starting right cornerback Lawrence Johnson suffered a fractured shoulder. In addition to providing defensive backfield insurance, played on virtually every special teams' unit.

Projected himself into the spotlight by grabbing inside kickoffs to preserve Browns' victories over Chicago, Baltimore and Houston. Says, "The key is picking up the ball on the bounce, like an infielder catching the ball on the big hop."

Originally drafted in the seventh round by New England in 1979, but was lost for the season after the second pre-season game due to knee surgery to remove a torn cartilage. Rejoined the Patriots last summer and was the final player cut.

Was two-time All-Pennsylvania defensive back at California (Pa.) State College, then transferred to Memphis State and earned a scholarship as a walk-on. Played safety as a junior and cornerback as a senior, finished with 74 tackles in two years and also returned punts.

Lived in Boston this offseason. Married Linda Martin of his home town, Farrell, Pa., in June.

ELVIS FRANKS—Defensive End

BIRTHDATE—July 9, 1959
BIRTHPLACE—Doucette, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (5th in '80)
COLLEGE—Morgan State
HIGH SCHOOL—Kirby (Woodville, Texas)
HEIGHT—6-4
WEIGHT—238
YEARS PRO—2

Size, quickness and speed helped Elvis win a place on the roster as a fifth-round draftee behind starting defensive ends Lyle Alzado and Marshall Harris last season.

Has good pass rushing ability and, despite limited playing time, had one quarterback sack, 20 tackles and recovered an enemy fumble. Could figure even more prominently this second year.

Earned four letters at Morgan State, played in the Black All-Star Game, and was named to the All-American Pitt Courier team.

Was a football, basketball and track star in Woodville, Texas. Remained in the Greater Cleveland area this past offseason.

BIRTHDATE—June 21, 1951
BIRTHPLACE—Houston, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Trade (see bio.)
COLLEGE—Kansas
HIGH SCHOOL—Booker T. Washington (Houston)
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—240
YEARS PRO—8

Helped provide experienced reserve strength at outside linebacker after being acquired from San Diego for a draft choice (fourth in '81) a few days prior to last year's opener.

Participated in 24 tackles and had one quarterback sack. Browns released five-year veteran Dave Graf to make room for Don.

A quick, powerfully-built athlete, he was the 15th player in the nation chosen in the 1974 draft after co-captaining the University of Kansas team as a senior. Was the second of Chargers' two first round choices.

Missed only one game in first five seasons with Chargers before suffering a shoulder separation in the final 1979 pre-season game. Returned after three weeks, but underwent surgery at the end of the season.

Has nine interceptions as a pro, including six in 1976. Made 24 tackles with the Browns last year.

Married Pat Davis, Feb. 28, 1981. Resides in Houston.

CHARLIE HALL—Linebacker

BIRTHDATE—December 2, 1948
BIRTHPLACE—Yoakum, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (3rd in '71)
COLLEGE—Houston

"Charlie is a very solid player. He's steady, game-in, game-out, and very tough against the run."

Those were the words of Dick MacPherson, who coached the Browns' linebackers for three seasons before becoming the head coach at Syracuse University early this year.

Charlie was fourth in total tackles on the club in 1980 with 96, and also had two quarterback sacks along with boosting his interception total as a pro to 12. His latest thefts came against Green Bay and Pittsburgh.

Admits that competition brings out the best in him. Has been an effective, reliable force at left linebacker ever since becoming a regular a year after being drafted in the third round out of the University of Houston in 1971. Cleveland used a choice obtained from Kansas City in exchange for defensive end Marvin Upshaw to select Charlie.

Has started 131 consecutive regular season games. Says, "I'm fortunate not to have had any serious injuries. I think the secret is to stay in condition the year around.

"I went to training camp last year 15 to 20 pounds under my training weight. That's from working on my farm, tossing bales of hay around, putting in fence posts by hand and things like that. It's a lot tougher than playing football."

Is proudest about never having missed a practice either in college or as a pro. Was named the Browns' Defensive Player of the Year by the Cleveland Touchdown Club in 1979.

Married Ruby Riley of Houston, July 1, 1968. Son Roderic Charles (9-17-71) and daughter Michelyn DeShaun (9-7-75). Lives in Yoakum, Texas where he operates a cattle ranch. Completed construction of a new home last year.

DINO HALL—Kick Returns-Running Back

BIRTHDATE—December 6, 1955

BIRTHPLACE—Atlantic City, N. J.

HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent

COLLEGE—Glassboro State

HIGH SCHOOL—Pleasantville (N. J.)

HEIGHT—5-7

WEIGHT—165

YEARS PRO—3

"Dino's a big guy, he's just not tall," says Sam Rutigliano. "He's a tough guy."

The smallest of the Browns at 5-7 also is one of the most exciting to watch, especially as a kickoff returner. Was very busy again in that department last season with 32 for 691 yards and a 21.6-yard average. Longest runback covered 49 yards against Baltimore.

Now ranks as the Browns' all-time leading kickoff returner with 82 in only two seasons.

Dino also returned six punts, and rushed twice for 26 yards. Recovered a Bengal punt return fumble in the final game to open the way to a touchdown that pulled Cleveland even, 24-24.

Tied NFL record two years ago in his first pro game with nine kickoff returns for 172 yards against Pittsburgh. Also set Browns' season records of 50 kickoff runbacks for 1,014 yards.

Scored his first pro touchdown in 1979 with a 52-yard run from scrimmage against St. Louis.

Averaged 133 yards a game as a senior in college and was the NCAA Division II national rushing champion. Batted .340 for the baseball team and was successful on 99 of 105 base-stealing attempts.

Single, resides in Pleasantville, N.J. near Atlantic City. Returned to Glassboro State in offseason to continue studies toward degree in physical education.

MARSHALL HARRIS

Defensive End

BIRTHDATE—December 6, 1955
BIRTHPLACE—San Antonio, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Trade (see bio.)
COLLEGE—Texas Christian
HIGH SCHOOL—Southwest (Ft. Worth)
HEIGHT—6-6
WEIGHT—261
YEARS PRO—2

One of the major surprises on the club last year in not only filling a gaping hole at left end in the Browns' newly-created 3-4 defense, but doing so well he was named to the UPI's All-Rookie team.

"I came in as a longshot and the Browns were skeptical," admits Marshall. "It wasn't until the third or fourth week that I began to come on."

Originally drafted in the eighth round by the New York Jets in 1979, but left training camp after a week and a half.

An accomplished painter and sculptor, he turned to the art field for a job before finally reconsidering. Browns gave the Jets a 1981 draft choice (8th) to obtain him.

"Pro football is an opportunity not given to everyone in a lifetime," he says. "It worried me that I might be sitting around at the age of 45, wishing I would have stayed in football."

"It was a gamble for any team to give me a second chance. There was nothing that said a guy who walked out of one camp wouldn't do it again."

Not only stuck with the Browns but played fulltime, made

55 tackles, had two sacks, and recovered one fumble.

Says coach Sam Rutigliano, "He has become a better pass rusher and is going to get stronger and better. Marshall is bright and has a good feel for what you want him to do."

Earned four letters at Texas Christian University. Had 106 tackles as a senior and was named the School's most valuable player by the coaches. Associated Press placed him on its All-Southwest Conference second team.

Became offseason resident of Greater Cleveland area, residing in Parma. Single.

CALVIN HILL—Running Back

BIRTHDATE—January 2, 1947

BIRTHPLACE—Baltimore, Md.

HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent

COLLEGE—Yale

HIGH SCHOOL—Riverdale Country
(Bronx, N. Y.)

HEIGHT—6-4

WEIGHT—227

YEARS PRO—12

"Calvin is an amazing guy," marvels Sam Rutigliano after watching the veteran's latest series of outstanding contributions, including a team-high six touchdown catches last season.

"He has super hands, is a big target and he's good at finding a hole in the zone. It's tough to measure by statistics just what he has meant to us."

Longest reception was a 50-yarder against Green Bay to spark a two-touchdown rally in the closing minutes for a 26-21 victory. Caught five for 94 yards for the day. Also had a 43-yarder on one of two scoring plays against Tampa Bay, and a 31-yarder against New England.

"I like to use him when the other team is in a blitzing situation," says quarterback Brian Sipe.

Carried the ball only once throughout the 16-game regular season and gained 11 yards against Cincinnati. But topped that in the divisional playoff game with Oakland by taking a sweep 18 yards for the longest run of the day to set up a field goal, giving Cleveland a 9-7 third-quarter lead.

Career totals in 11 years of NFL ball now stand at 6,060 yards rushing, and 2,711 yards receiving. Total TD's are 63.

Says Calvin, "I enjoy playing; I enjoy watching film; I enjoy strategy; I even enjoy training camp. I'm the kind of guy who would probably be playing touch football if I weren't playing football here. I'm a fan as well as a player."

Was the Dallas Cowboys' No. 1 draft pick out of Yale in 1969, and gained immediate pro stardom. Had 5,009 yards rushing, another 1,359 receiving and scored 45 TD's in six seasons. Helped Dallas reach Super Bowls V and VI.

Signed with the Browns as a free agent four weeks into the 1978 season after seeing limited duty with Washington for two years, and did much to alleviate a backfield shortage created by injuries. Had played briefly in 1975 with Hawaii of WFL. Stepped in and rushed for 289 yards, caught 25 passes for 334 yards, and led all running backs in the league with six scoring receptions.

Became one of only seven receivers in Cleveland history to catch three scoring passes in a game in a 1978 clash with Baltimore.

Honors have been numerous over the years, including being named to the Pro Bowl in 1972 and 1974, and being named Rookie of the Year by Sporting News in 1969.

Has business interests in Texas and Virginia and in 1979 accepted assignments as Senator John Glenn's representative in the Cleveland area for the campaign to seek summer jobs for high school students. Married Janet McDonald, Jan. 30, 1971. Son Grant (10-5-72). His wife and Clifford Alexander, former secretary of the army, are partners in a consulting business.

Was All-State kicker at George Washington High School in Philadelphia. Has his degree in speech communication. Single, lives in Fayetteville, N.Y.

ROBERT E. JACKSON—Guard

BIRTHDATE—April 1, 1953
BIRTHPLACE—Charlotte, N. C.
HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent
COLLEGE—Duke
HIGH SCHOOL—North Mecklenberg
 (Huntersville, N. C.)
HEIGHT—6-5
WEIGHT—260
YEARS PRO—7

Has played an important role in the success of the Browns' offensive line since being signed as a free agent rookie out of Duke in 1975.

Won a starting assignment his first season and remained at right guard for five years, except for temporary service at right tackle during an injury emergency in 1978.

Gave way to All-Pro Joe DeLamielleure early last season when a damaged knee put him out of action for four games, but still contributed in the Browns' method of rotating players to maintain freshness. After the season, Bob had a cartilage repaired in a knee and managed the club's winter basketball team while recuperating.

Went to Duke originally as a quarterback, but was switched to tight end and center before settling into a tackle post as a junior. His pulling ability on running plays led the Browns to convert Bob into a guard.

Now a permanent resident of the Greater Cleveland area, holding down an offseason job as sales representative for Gammons Products. Owns a home in suburban Bay Village. Married Linda Oldenburg of Rocky River on June 2, 1979.

ROBERT L. JACKSON—Linebacker

BIRTHDATE—August 7, 1954
BIRTHPLACE—Houston, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1st in '77)
COLLEGE—Texas A&M
HIGH SCHOOL—M. B. Smiley (Houston)
HEIGHT—6-1
WEIGHT—230
YEARS PRO—4

"Robert has so much in front of him. He has all the ingredients of a Jack Lambert," says Sam Rutigliano.

High praise, but well-deserved after the inside linebacker's finest pro season yet in which he tied for second in team tackles with 104, and had three quarterback sacks. Also picked off his first two pro interceptions against Denver and Green Bay.

Beyond cold statistics, however, was the importance of Robert's emotional leadership. His inspired play did much to pull together a new and generally young 3-4 defense.

"I play with emotion for myself, and I want to keep everyone else fired up," says Robert. "When they see one guy up like that, it gets them up, too. That's the way we did it in high school and college."

Since overcoming a severe knee injury at the very outset of training camp as a rookie in 1977, Robert has worked his way back to the high performance level that made him a first-round draft choice out of Texas A&M, where he earned All-America honors.

The Browns revamped their entire defensive concept last season with the objective of playing Robert fulltime alongside another hard-hitting inside linebacker, Dick Ambrose.

Among his more outstanding games last season, Robert was credited with 15 tackles against the Houston Oilers and prime running back Earl Campbell in a renewal of their college rivalry. "That was the real me," said the linebacker.

Pro scouts had Robert rated the fifth-best athlete in the nation four years ago behind only Tony Dorsett, Ricky Bell, Wilson Faumuina and Marv Powell. By now, the rating has been fully justified. So has the fact he was named first team by AP, UPI, Football News, NEA, Kodak and Pro Football Writers as a college senior.

Single, lives in Warrensville Heights, Ohio.

LAWRENCE JOHNSON—Cornerback

BIRTHDATE—September 11, 1957

BIRTHPLACE—Gary, Ind.

HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (2a in '79)

COLLEGE—Wisconsin

HIGH SCHOOL—Roosevelt (Gary)

HEIGHT—5-11½

WEIGHT—204

YEARS PRO—3

Starting anew this season after recovering from a fractured left shoulder, Lawrence is seeking to regain the regular right cornerback assignment he had earned shortly before the injury.

Was hurt in a Monday night game against Houston on the second weekend of the season and spent the remainder of the campaign recuperating. Clinton Burrell, who came in the same 1979 draft as Lawrence, took over on the right side.

Although drafted in the second round out of Wisconsin, played little as a rookie but learned a great deal and was ready when given the chance. Pulled down the Browns' first interception of the 1980 season in the opener against New England, and recovered an Earl Campbell fumble shortly before being injured in the second quarter against the Oilers.

"It was sort of discouraging to come here rated pretty high and not have the chance to play the first year, but that's what can happen when you go from one level to the next in football," says Lawrence. "I didn't get the chance to cover many great receivers in the Big Ten."

A sprinter twice voted most valuable on the Badgers' track team, Lawrence also is a hitter at cornerback. "You can't be bashful," he says. "I can be a good, solid player."

Won the Big Ten 60 and 300-yard dashes indoors and the 100 and 200-meters outdoors as a freshman, then repeated in the 300 indoors and 100 outdoors in 1977.

Concentrated on football his last two college years, played in the East-West Shrine and Japan Bowl games as a senior, and was rated the best college defensive back in the nation by every pro scouting combine.

Although his home is in Gary, Ind., he remained in Cleveland this year and enrolled at Cleveland State University where he took courses in correctional institution administration. Single.

DAVE LOGAN—Wide Receiver

BIRTHDATE—February 2, 1954
BIRTHPLACE—Fargo, N. D.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (3rd in '76)
COLLEGE—Colorado
HIGH SCHOOL—Wheatridge (Colo.)
HEIGHT—6-4
WEIGHT—216
YEARS PRO—6

"Practice is the only way to have the last word," says Dave. He catches a minimum of 35 passes each day in practice and the work has translated into a parade of last words at the expense of many of the best defensive backs in the NFL.

Among his more notable feats last season were eight catches for a Browns' season-high 131 yards against Pittsburgh, six catches for 87 yards against the New York Jets and five catches for 85 yards against Baltimore.

He gathered in a 65-yarder, longest of the year by a Cleveland receiver, in the season finale at Cincinnati and scored on a 46-yarder to overcome Green Bay, 26-21, with only 16 seconds left.

Dave's 822 yards led all Cleveland pass catchers, and his 16.1-yard average was highest among the regulars. The yardage total placed him 10th in the AFC, despite injuring an ankle in the season opener and missing more than half of the final game after spraining an ankle and knee.

Was named honorable mention All-AFC by United Press International.

The Browns' third-round draft pick out of Colorado in 1976 now has pro totals reading 171 receptions for 2,777 yards and 16 TDs. His 65-yard catch was the longest of his career.

Often called "a Gary Collins with speed," Dave blends in perfectly with fellow wide receiver Reggie Rucker and tight end Ozzie Newsome to make one of the most formidable trios in pro football.

Established a club record of 36 straight games in which he caught at least one pass before being stopped by Houston in the Astrodome. Rucker set the previous mark of 32 in the 1975-77 period.

Helped set the tempo for the season in 1979 by grabbing a 37-yard pass from Brian Sipe with 14 seconds left in regulation time to set up a tying field goal against the Jets, then pulled down a 22-yard toss with 24 seconds left in overtime to position the ball for a winning field goal.

Also scored two TD's only 1:53 apart against Pittsburgh that year.

Won four letters in football and three in basketball in college, and was the Buffaloes' second-most prolific receiver in history with 68 catches for 1,078 yards.

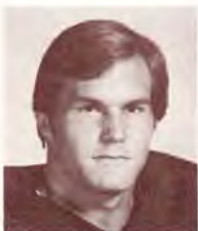

Is such a remarkable athlete that he was drafted by three pro sports teams, the others being the Kansas City Kings of the NBA and the Cincinnati Reds of the National League. Spurned both to eventually cast his lot with the Browns.

Single, he lives in Lakewood, Colo., a Denver suburb. Returned to Cleveland for a couple months this winter and was a mainstay of the Browns' basketball team.

CLAY MATTHEWS—Linebacker

BIRTHDATE—March 15, 1956
BIRTHPLACE—Palo Alto, Cal.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1a in '78)
COLLEGE—Southern California
HIGH SCHOOL—New Trier
 (E. Winnetka, Ill.)
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—230
YEARS PRO—4

"My philosophy is to become a little better player each day of practice and improve on a different thing each week," says Clay.

Closely following those convictions, the Browns' regular rightside linebacker made tremendous strides last season.

Switching from the inside, where he had played most of his college career at the University of Southern California, to the outside posed some problems for Clay as a rookie and into his second pro season.

"I didn't play much my first season here, so 1979 really was my rookie season and at an unfamiliar position," he says. "It was a whole re-learning process. All of a sudden I was going up against some of the best athletes in the world and while I wasn't spectacular, I don't think I was hurting us."

Actually showed so much promise the summer of '79 that veteran Gerald Irons was released. Blossomed last season to rank fifth on the team in tackles with 83, and second in sacks with five.

Had his third pro interception in the first game against Cincinnati and next time Bengals got the ball Clay stripped a receiver of the ball and recovered his third fumble. Missed two early season games after suffering strained knee ligaments against Houston.

Was defensive leader at USC and despite missing the first three games as a senior due to an ankle injury, still was third in tackles. Browns had him rated the fifth-highest player in the nation behind Earl Campbell, Wes Chandler, Terry Miller and Steve Little prior to the draft.

Married Leslie Zdenek of Encino, Cal., Jan. 13, 1979. Daughter Jennifer Lynn born last Feb. 22. Resides in Los Angeles. Is an avid model airplane flyer. Is involved in real estate development in Los Angeles area.

PAUL McDONALD—Quarterback

BIRTHDATE—February 23, 1958
BIRTHPLACE—Montebello, Cal.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (4b in '80)
COLLEGE—Southern California
HIGH SCHOOL—Bishop Amat
 (La Puente, Cal.)
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—185
YEARS PRO—2

Has yet to throw his first official pro pass, but shows the potential to eventually become a "left-handed Brian Sipe" in the opinion of those who have watched him closely.

"I have all the confidence in the world in Paul," says Sam Rutigliano. "I feel a lot more secure with him than I was my first two years here. He's going to be a pro quarterback, just like Brian."

Says Paul, "Sitting and watching and learning without actually playing is the way to go. It's better than having to learn on the move. I've learned a lot of subtle things just watching Brian play."

Saw brief service against Seattle, Pittsburgh, Baltimore and Cincinnati, but primary duty as a fourth-round draftee out of Southern Cal last year was holding placements for Don Cockroft.

Has an impressive list of college credentials after leading the Trojans to two Rose Bowl victories and one National Championship. Holds the NCAA record for lowest interception percentage, only 13 in 561 pass attempts, among many marks he established.

His USC standards include most touchdowns by passing (37), most passing yardage (4,138) and highest passing completion percentage (59.7). Named first-team All-PAC 10 and second-team All-America by Associated Press, and starred in the Hula Bowl.

Was cool in pressure situations at USC, firing a TD pass against Louisiana State for a 17-12 win and directing an 83-yard march late in the game to defeat Ohio State in the 1980 Rose Bowl, 18-17.

McDonald was treasurer of the Blue Key Fraternity and a member of the Blackstonians, a pre-law honor society. He is single and is aiming for a career in law or business. Took some business finance courses at USC this winter. Lives in Covina, Calif.

CLEO MILLER—Fullback

BIRTHDATE—September 5, 1952
BIRTHPLACE—Pine Bluff, Ark.
HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent
COLLEGE—Arkansas AM&N
HIGH SCHOOL—Merrill (Pine Bluff)
HEIGHT—5-11
WEIGHT—214
YEARS PRO—7

Although used primarily for his blocking ability last year, Cleo reminded everyone he still can be quite a rusher as well with 28 carries for 139 yards and both Cleveland touchdowns in a 17-14 triumph over the Houston Oilers in the Astrodome.

"It's nice to have people like Cleo around," says Sam Rutigliano. "Among other things, he's the best blocker we have."

One of the veteran running back's runs against the Oilers covered 50 yards and was the second-longest against Houston all season. It also was the longest of Cleo's seven-year pro career, topping a 47-yarder he had as a rookie with Kansas City in 1974.

Chiefs signed him as a free agent out of Arkansas A&M, then released him a year later. The Browns promptly signed him after Larry Poole fractured an arm in the eighth game against Detroit.

Averaged 5.0 yards per carry last season, but main contribution was his exceptional blocking, particularly for fullback Mike Pruitt.

"I know I have the ability to run with the ball as well as anybody, but this is what the coaches want me to do, so I accept it and do the best I can," says Cleo. "It has become a matter of pride in the way I block.

"I also know there are players on other teams who are afraid of me, who don't want to see me come into the game because they know I can do the job as a blocker. It pleases me that guys respect me."

Has played both fullback and halfback for the Browns and gained 756 yards rushing in 1977. Included was a 21-carry, 117-yard performance against Buffalo.

In addition to his blocking, Cleo is a valued part of the Cleveland offense with his quickness, determination and thorough knowledge of the system. He also is a major special teams contributor.

Lives in Pine Bluff, Ark., where he was born. Is a loan officer of National Bank of Commerce in offseason. Married Lenel Stribling, March 20, 1971. Two children: Latricia Denise (8-18-72) and Cleo III (9-19-75). Lives in Greg Pruitt's home during season.

MATT MILLER—Offensive Tackle

BIRTHDATE—July 30, 1956
BIRTHPLACE—Durango, Colo.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (4a in '79)
COLLEGE—Colorado
HIGH SCHOOL—Durango
HEIGHT—6-6
WEIGHT—270
YEARS PRO—3

Back for a fresh start on his still young pro career, interrupted last year by knee surgery following an early training camp scrimmage with the Buffalo Bills.

Has the size, strength and quickness to be an excellent offensive tackle, with only experience lacking. Drafted in the fourth round out of Colorado in 1979, but saw limited duty while involved in the learning process.

Was a three-year starter in college and one of the nation's leading interior linemen, despite the need for knee surgery between his junior and senior seasons. Can bench press 400 pounds and has been timed at 5:02 in the 40.

United Press International selected Matt as a first-team All-America, while Associated Press and Sporting News awarded him honorable mention. Also named on both wire services' All-Big 8 first team. Majored in geology and was two-time Academic All-Big 8 selection with B-plus average.

Enjoys golf and fishing. Single, lives in Durango, Colo.

TERRY MILLER

—Running Back

BIRTHDATE—January 7, 1956
BIRTHPLACE—Columbus, Ga.
HOW ACQUIRED—Trade (see bio.)
COLLEGE—Oklahoma State
HIGH SCHOOL—Mitchell
(Colorado Springs, Colo.)
HEIGHT—5-10
WEIGHT—196
YEARS PRO—4

If Cleveland's trade for Terry Miller with Buffalo last May proves to be as good as the one consummated with the Bills just prior to the opening of the 1980 season for guard Joe DeLamielleure, then the club will be most fortunate. In each instance the Browns gave up two draft choices.

No one, including Miller himself, has any explanation as to his performances in 1979 and 1980 after an outstanding freshman year in 1978. He was the Bills' No. 1 selection, fifth player taken in the 1978 NFL draft.

He ran for 1,060 yards, sixth highest rushing total ever by a first year back, in 1978 and was among only 11 NFL backs who rushed for more than 1,000 yards that season. Miller was the lone NFL back to have a 200 yard rushing game in 1978 when he ran for 208 yards on 21 carries against the New York Giants.

He alternated with Roland Hooks in 1979, carried 99 fewer times than in 1978, and gained only 484 yards. Last year he carried the ball but 12 times for 35 yards when rookie Joe Cribbs emerged as Buffalo's prime rusher.

It is interesting that Miller and second year man Charles White will be seeking to unseat the Browns' current starting running back, Greg Pruitt because Pruitt once tried to recruit Miller for Oklahoma until he decided to cast his lot at Oklahoma State.

Miller was a consensus All-America in both his junior and senior years at Oklahoma State where he rushed for 4,754 yards and 49 touchdowns in four seasons. He was runnerup to Earl Campbell in the 1977 Heisman Trophy balloting. His 4,754 yards rushing is still a Big Eight record, as is his feat of rushing for over 1,000 yards in three straight seasons.

A finance major in college, he has business interests in oil, banking and construction in the Oklahoma City area. Resides in Yukon, a suburb of Oklahoma City. Single.

JOHN MOHRING—Linebacker

BIRTHDATE—November 14, 1956

BIRTHPLACE—Glen Cove, N.Y.

HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent

COLLEGE—C. W. Post

HIGH SCHOOL—Locust Valley (N.Y.)

HEIGHT—6-3

WEIGHT—230

YEARS PRO—2

Acquired off the waiver list early last season, John helped provide valuable linebacker insurance and was impressive with special teams work after being released by the Detroit Lions. Signed on recommendation of new Browns' defensive coordinator, Marty Shottenheimer, who coached him at Detroit.

Recovered a Houston fumble on the opening kickoff in the Astrodome to set up a 7-0 Cleveland lead in a 17-14 victory. Also recorded a quarterback sack against Baltimore and made 16 tackles during the season.

Drafted in the eighth round out of C.W. Post College in 1979, John damaged his right knee on the fifth day of training camp and spent the season on the injured reserve list.

Primarily a defensive end in college and had three-year totals of 364 tackles and 49 sacks after being a walk-on. Two-time college division All-America choice and considered the best athlete ever turned out by C. W. Post.

Married Trischa Madden of New York last May 2. Did construction work in offseason. Lives in Locust Valley, N.Y.

OZZIE NEWSOME—Tight End

BIRTHDATE—March 15, 1956
BIRTHPLACE—Muscle Shoals, Ala.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1b in '78)
COLLEGE—Alabama
HIGH SCHOOL—Colbert County
(Leighton, Ala.)
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—232
YEARS PRO—4

"A preacher once told me, 'Whatever you do, be the best at it,'" says Ozzie, and the former first-round draft choice from the University of Alabama is well on the way to accomplishing just that.

Pulled down 51 catches for 594 yards last season to bring his three-year pro totals to 144 for 1,964. Typically, all three of his scoring receptions came in tense, tight games. Ozzie has been a clutch player from the very beginning.

His 19-yard score against Green Bay triggered a dramatic rally in the last seven minutes. A week later, he gathered in an 18-yarder to complete another fourth-quarter come-from-behind-effort against Pittsburgh. Scored again in a rematch with the Steelers to help give Cleveland a lead it held until the game's final seconds.

Most productive game came in a triumph over Chicago as Ozzie caught five passes for 97 yards. Longest effort was a 44-yarder in a victory over Seattle.

"I want to be the best," he says. "Some say I already am, but other tight ends can do some things I can't. I've learned to do things a lot smoother, easier, but I've got a ways to go yet."

Being double and triple-teamed has reduced his yardage figures, but Ozzie willingly accepts that as being helpful to the club's overall success.

"I may not be as productive individually, but the way things are, we can be much more productive as a team," he points out. "When two guys are watching me, Dave Logan or Reggie Rucker has got to be open, and Brian (Sipe) knows it."

Comments receivers' coach Rich Kotite, "You tell him once and he fully understands. He applies it immediately."

Ozzie has lived up to his nickname, "The Wizard of Oz," from the day the Browns selected him in 1978 after a college career that led head coach Bear Bryant to describe him as "the finest receiver we've ever had at Alabama."

Although a wide receiver with the Crimson Tide, Ozzie was shifted to tight end upon reporting to the Browns and quickly adapted to his new role.

"I have no regrets now about switching," he says. "Not in the type of offense we have here. If we were more run-oriented, I'd be highly disappointed. But the Browns are using all of my skills and at times I even have an inkling of being a wide receiver in the back of my mind."

Became the first rookie in the quarter-century history of the Cleveland Touchdown Club awards to be named the Browns' Offensive Player of the Year, and the following season was voted first-team All-AFC tight end by UPI and second-team All-Pro by Associated Press.

While he bases in Tuscaloosa, Ala., he has offseason job as public relations representative for Hyatt Regency Hotel of Birmingham. Single.

McDONALD ODEN—Tight End

BIRTHDATE—March 28, 1958

BIRTHPLACE—Franklin, Tenn.

HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent

COLLEGE—Tennessee State

HIGH SCHOOL—Spring Hill (Tenn.)

HEIGHT—6-4½

WEIGHT—215

YEARS PRO—2

When he arrived in training camp a year ago as a free agent rookie, McDonald vowed, "I am going to make this team."

The promise was fulfilled and the former Tennessee State captain went on to make his mark as a fine special teams' performer while helping to back up Ozzie Newsome at tight end.

This season, with Curtis Weathers moved to linebacker, McDonald looms even larger in the Browns' plans.

Caught three passes for 18 yards in his first pro campaign, but most notable accomplishment was a solid hit that jarred the ball loose from Houston's Jeff Groth on the opening kick-off return. Linebacker John Mohring recovered, the Browns scored in three plays, and the tempo was set for a crucial late-season victory.

Was all-state in football and basketball in high school, earned four grid letters in college, and played both tight end and wide receiver in the Senior Bowl. Also named to the Black College All-Star team.

While his home is in Spring Hill, Tenn., he lived in Cleveland this year and enrolled in some communication courses at Cleveland State University. Single.

CLIFTON ODOM—Linebacker

BIRTHDATE—Aug. 15, 1958
BIRTHPLACE— Beaumont, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (3d in '80)
COLLEGE—Texas-Arlington
HIGH SCHOOL—French (Beaumont)
HEIGHT—6-2
WEIGHT—220
YEARS PRO—2

Promising outside linebacker with fine speed and a reputation as outstanding tackler. Gained valuable experience in a backup role as a third-round draft choice last season before going on the injured reserve list after eight games.

Captained the Texas-Arlington team as a senior and was the leading tackler for a second consecutive season until forced out by a chipped thigh bone. Surgery corrected the problem and he was sound again by draft time.

Had five unassisted tackles and one quarterback sack in limited playing time as a rookie last year. Once had 18 tackles in a college game and has been clocked at 4.7 seconds in the 40. Named to the All-Southland Conference second team as a senior.

Was an outstanding high school player in Beaumont, where he still lives. Single. Took courses at Texas-Arlington this offseason.

JOEL PATTEN—Offensive Tackle

BIRTHDATE—Feb. 7, 1958
BIRTHPLACE—Augsberg, Germany
HOW ACQUIRED—Free Agent
COLLEGE—Duke
HIGH SCHOOL—Robinson (Fairfax, Va.)
HEIGHT—6-6
WEIGHT—240
YEARS PRO—2

Made rapid progress as a rookie free agent out of Duke last year despite being switched from his college role as a tight end to that of an offensive tackle.

"At Duke, all of us tight ends called ourselves 'wide receivers' because 90 per cent of our job was blocking, not catching passes," says Joel. "Even when we went out for a pass, most of the time we were only a decoy."

Could turn out to be a repetition of Doug Dieken's experience at Illinois. Dieken made the same transition in 1971 and went on to become one of the fine tackles in the NFL.

Joel added 23 pounds to his upper body with a concentrated weightlifting and eating program before reporting to camp last year and the bulk served him well.

Won three letters in college and co-captained the Blue Devils. Lived in Berea this past offseason and is single. Born in Germany where his father was an Army colonel.

GREG PRUITT—Running Back

BIRTHDATE—August 18, 1951
BIRTHPLACE—Houston, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (2a in '73)
COLLEGE—Oklahoma
HIGH SCHOOL—Elmore (Houston)
HEIGHT—5-10
WEIGHT—190
YEARS PRO—9

"Greg's catching hasn't surprised us," says offensive backfield coach Jim Garrett. "He has the most remarkable hands of anybody I've ever seen. He has fantastic hands, like he's catching a tennis ball."

With his repaired knee still not quite fully recovered, Greg turned to receiving as his primary contribution to the Browns' division title drive last season. This year, he hopes to regain his full effectiveness as a ball carrier, as well.

Pulled down a career-high 50 passes in 1980, good for 444 yards and five TDs. Bulk of the catches came during the critical stretch drive.

On the ground, Greg's work was limited to 40 carries for 117 yards, lowest production in his eight-year pro career.

"Greg wasn't ready as a regular runner last year," says Garrett. "He hadn't played as a regular since October, 1979, so he wasn't in the groove. He couldn't run full blast in practice, so he couldn't get his timing down — and timing is what he had. He makes so many remarkable cuts. He's the greatest athlete in knowing where the soft spots of the defense are."

The return of those skills would be a tremendous asset to the Browns' attack this season. Greg has darted and scampered for 5,372 yards since being a second-round draft pick out of Oklahoma in 1973 and has 25 TDs on the ground.

As a receiver, he has accounted for 2,386 yards and 13 TDs. Add to that another 1,441 yards returning kickoffs and 659 running back punts and the grand total of overall yardage climbs to an impressive 9,858. Beyond that, he has completed eight of 18 passes for an additional 182 yards.

"Greg is as tough a guy as there is in the league," says Garrett. "If he's healthy enough to be a regular again, we'll have a remarkable tandem with the two Pruitts." Mike has topped 1,000 yards each of the last two seasons at fullback.

Greg's most productive day last year resulted in 10 catches for 75 yards and a TD against the New York Jets. Also had six for 67 against Cincinnati, and scored twice on tosses in a 27-26 triumph over Pittsburgh. Longest reception was a 43-yarder against the Packers.

Never encountered a knee problem until incurring a mild sprain against Dallas four games into the 1979 season. No sooner returned to a starting role five weeks later than he tore a ligament on the opening play at St. Louis and underwent surgery.

It took almost a full year before Greg was ready to resume a major load as a receiving threat coming out of the backfield, but progress was rapid once he began getting back into the groove.

Was primarily a kickoff and punt returner the first two years before breaking loose with three consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons. Led the Browns in rushing five years in a row until 1979 and has gained 100 or more yards 17 times, including a career-high 214 against Kansas City in 1975.

Honored by the Cleveland Touchdown Club in 1974 as the Browns' Offensive Player of the Year, and was accorded the same award three years later when he also was chosen a third time for the Pro Bowl and named second-team All-Pro by NEA.

Stood only 4-3 when he began participating in sports in junior high and was 5-7½ when he entered Oklahoma. Played tight end in high school and caught over 80 passes as a senior.

Rushed for 1,665 yards at Oklahoma in 1971 and 938 yards in 1972 despite having opponents keying on him. Scored career total of 40 touchdowns in college and was named runner-up to Nebraska's Johnny Rodgers in voting for 1972 Heisman Trophy.

Earned his degree in journalism by returning to Oklahoma after each of first three seasons with Cleveland.

A gifted all-round athlete and competitor, Greg earned nearly $100,000 in winnings from twice competing in tele-

MIKE PRUITT—Fullback

BIRTHDATE—April 3, 1954
BIRTHPLACE—Chicago, Ill.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1st in '76)
COLLEGE—Purdue
HIGH SCHOOL—Wendell Phillips
(Chicago)
HEIGHT—6-0
WEIGHT—225
YEARS PRO—6

Performed the two-pronged rarity of being the Browns' leading rusher and busiest pass catcher last year with a combined yardage of 1,505. Handled the ball on 312 of the team's 773 running and passing plays.

"I want to contribute as much as I can and any way the coaches say," exclaims Mike. "Most of all, I want to win. That's the name of the game."

In ringing up his second straight 1,000-yards plus season on the ground, Mike rushed for 129 against Chicago, 116 against Seattle and 103 against Baltimore. Boosted his total of 100-yard rushing games to nine.

Had the Browns' longest run of the campaign with a 56-yard touchdown against Chicago for the deciding points in a 27-21 victory.

Led the Browns in total catches throughout the season and broke Mac Speedie's 28-year-old club record by one with 63 receptions for the year. Gathered in at least one pass in each of the 16 regular season games.

"Mike obviously is our most solid starter," says offensive backfield coach Jim Garrett. "He has good fluidness and awareness, blocks well and is catching the ball better than ever."

Finished third in the AFC and eighth in the league with 1,034 rushing yards. Reception total was fifth-highest in the conference and 12th in the NFL.

Rewarded by being named to the Pro Bowl for the second straight time along with second-team All-AFC by UPI, and the Browns' Offensive Player of the Year by the Cleveland Touchdown Club.

Regarding his power running, augmented by surprising speed for a man his size once he shakes free, Mike says, "I'd like to run the ball 18 to 20 times a game, minimum."

Has worked hard to improve his pass catching skills, which were largely untapped until two years ago.

"In high school, we didn't throw more than two passes a game," says Mike. "We ran on third down and sometimes even on fourth down. A pass was used just to throw the other team off."

"In the Big Ten (at Purdue), we didn't pass much, either. I caught maybe 25 my whole college career after only five in high school, all short ones."

Contrast that with 104 receptions his last two seasons with the Browns.

Rushing yardage of 1,294 two years ago was the highest for a Cleveland player since Jim Brown's 1,544 in 1965. Career figure since being named the club's No. 1 draft choice in 1976 now stands at 3,231.

Named Purdue's Most Valuable Player in 1975 after rushing for 899 yards and three touchdowns. Three-year totals were 1,588 yards in 351 carries for a 4.5-yard average and six TDs. Gained All-Big Ten honorable mention.

Selected as "Man of Year" by Browns' fans for his contributions to community and charities.

Owens home in the Cleveland suburb of Westlake. Married Karen Boulware of Gary, Ind., July 10, 1976. Son Aaron Michael born last March 2. He is vice-president of Pruitt and Grace Development Corp., a firm rehabilitating apartment buildings, homes and shopping centers in East Cleveland as well as being involved in new construction.

CODY RISIEN—Offensive Tackle

BIRTHDATE—March 22, 1957
BIRTHPLACE—Bryan, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (7th in '79)
COLLEGE—Texas A&M
HIGH SCHOOL—Cy-Fair (Cypress, Tex.)
HEIGHT—6-7
WEIGHT—255
YEARS PRO— 3

The Browns' "find of '79" as a rookie starting guard, did it all over again last year as the regular right tackle and the youngest starter on the offensive line.

"I was sort of shocked when the coaches told me I was moving to tackle," Cody admits. "I had prepared myself for guard again and even though I had played a lot of tackle before, it still required an adjustment. I'm comfortable again over there now, though."

Was drafted in the seventh round as a tackle out of Texas

A&M, but was switched to guard in training camp and made such rapid progress he stepped in for veteran George Buehler in the seventh game. At season's end, was named to UPI All-Rookie team.

"It probably was just as well I broke in at guard," says Cody. "I felt secure there with the center and tackle on either side and it was a good way to start out. As a tackle, you're isolated and usually one-on-one with the defensive end."

Most difficult time for Cody at the outset of his pro career came in the early days of training camp when he had to rush back to Texas to be at the bedside of his terminally ill father. Overcoming the emotional impact was an important personal victory for the young athlete.

Received honorable mention on All-America squads of Sporting News, Associated Press and College and Pro Football Weekly. AP and UPI both selected him on All-Southwest Conference first team. Played in 1979 Hula Bowl and Senior Bowl games.

Name is pronounced "rise-un". Married Kathy Thornton of Houston, June 2, 1979. Resides in Houston and ultimately hopes to be involved in building construction. Took courses in this field at Texas A&M in offseason.

REGGIE RUCKER—Wide Receiver

BIRTHDATE—September 21, 1947

BIRTHPLACE—Washington, D. C.

HOW ACQUIRED—Trade (see bio.)

COLLEGE—Boston U.

HIGH SCHOOL—Anacostia (D. C.)

HEIGHT—6-2

WEIGHT—190

YEARS PRO—12

"I'd like to think that I'm getting better each year," says Reggie. "I don't have the same straightaway speed I used to have, but I make up for it by being smarter, knowing how to get open and hanging on to the ball."

Reggie did it all once again in 1980, finishing second on the club in catches with 52, second in yardage with 768 and second in average per catch at 14.8.

Biggest game came in a crucial 17-14 victory over the Jets on the 14th weekend when Reggie caught five passes for 108 yards, including a season-high 45 yarder to launch the Browns' drive to a winning TD late in the game.

Also gathered in seven for 81 yards and four for 74 in two meetings with Cincinnati, four for 79 against Tampa Bay, and three for 83 yards against Denver. Included were a 42-yard catch against the Buccaneers and a 40-yarder against Denver.

Eleven-year pro totals now read 420 receptions for 6,533 yards, and 43 TDs. Since coming to the Browns from New England in 1975 in exchange for a fourth-round draft choice, Reggie has caught 283 passes for 4,418 yards and 31 TDs.

Those 283 catches have moved him two ahead of Ray Renfro's total and into second place on Cleveland's all-time list. Gary Collins leads with 331.

Caught at least one pass in 59 consecutive games for New England and Cleveland until the streak ended against Houston on the fifth week of the 1977 season.

Originally signed by Dallas as a free agent in 1968, Reggie's all-time season highs are 60 catches in 1975, 893 yards in 1978, and eight TDs in 1976 and '78.

Accepts injuries and pain as part of the game after overcoming a broken shoulder, fractured wrist and surgery on both knees and a foot during his career.

Started in place of injured Lance Rentzel when the Cowboys played Baltimore in Super Bowl V, but didn't strike it big until reaching New England in 1972 after being released by Dallas and the New York Giants the previous season.

Sam Rutigliano was on the Patriots' staff during Reggie's term there and the former Boston University athlete says, "Sam is one of the rare individuals in this league who is a teacher as well as a coach. He has the ability to convey not only what he wants you to do, but why he wants you to do it and how he wants it done.

"There is no doubt in my mind that Sam saved my career. He taught me so many things, on the field and off. I owe him so much. I'm doing my best to show him I appreciate his influence."

Always keeps in top physical condition and is one of Brian Sipe's favorite targets with his gliding gait, sure hands and leaping ability.

Resides in Cleveland suburb of Beachwood with wife Carole and their three children: Derek (10-2-66), Shannon (1-5-70) and Sean (2-18-71). Last spring accepted a position as a public relations representative for the Coca-Cola Bottling Co. of Cleveland.

CLARENCE SCOTT—Safety

BIRTHDATE—April 9, 1949

BIRTHPLACE—Atlanta, Ga.

HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1st in '71)

COLLEGE—Kansas State

HIGH SCHOOL—Trinity (Decatur, Ga.)

HEIGHT—6-0

WEIGHT—190

YEARS PRO—11

Clarence's 30th career interception was one he and all Browns' fans will remember for a long time. It came deep in Cleveland territory with little more than a minute left and Houston threatening a 17-14 lead in a vital game for both teams on the 13th weekend last season at the Astrodome.

The 10-year veteran has carved a new niche for himself at strong safety the last two seasons after holding down the left cornerback post from the time of his arrival as a first-round draft choice out of Kansas State in 1971.

Also had an interception against Pittsburgh, and finished season with 64 tackles. Total return yardage on thefts stands at 332.

Was given first taste of strong safety work in 1978, but injuries to cornerbacks Ron Bolton and Oliver Davis that season resulted in Clarence returning to his old position.

Despite his quiet, polite nature off the field, Clarence long ago gained the reputation of being a hitter. Two-year totals at safety are 99 solo tackles and 37 assists. Has filled the role of defensive captain at times in his career.

Played in the 1971 College All-Star Game, then immediately took over for longtime standout Erich Barnes at left corner. Was a member of the AFC team in the 1974 Pro Bowl.

Lives in Decatur near Atlanta where he was born. Attends John Marshall Law School in Atlanta in offseason. Married Regina Barnett, June 13, 1975. Two daughters: Kawana Chan-elle (9-27-78) and Chimere Monet (10-22-80).

HENRY SHEPPARD—Guard

BIRTHDATE—November 12, 1952
BIRTHPLACE—Cuero, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (5th in '76)
COLLEGE—Southern Methodist
HIGH SCHOOL—Cuero
HEIGHT—6-6
WEIGHT—263
YEARS PRO— 6

Has been an integral part of the Browns' highly-efficient and effective offensive line from the time he reported as a fifth-round draftee out of Southern Methodist five years ago. Had neck surgery in June but is expected to be ready for season opener.

Returned to his familiar left guard slot last season after expertly filling a need at right tackle the previous campaign during a transition period. Last year, young Cody Risien was ready to move in as a tackle, freeing Henry to go back to guard.

Has tremendous tenacity, as shown anew by his determination to continue playing against Pittsburgh despite a severe ankle sprain in the first half. "Any time you can beat the Steelers, it's a big win and that was only the second time for me," said Henry.

Quickness afoot and excellent pass protection qualities, along with his impressive 6-6, 263 pound stature, were what called the scouts' attention to him in college.

Took karate lessons a year ago because "pass protection, in some sense, is hand-to-hand combat," says Henry. "It's a good cardiovascular workout and improves overall coordination, especially eye-hand coordination, which is essential for pass blocking. I very seldom get knocked off my feet now."

Says offensive line coach Rod Humenuik, "It must have helped. Henry was better last year than ever before. His sense of balance is greatly improved."

Earned All-America honorable mention in 1975 and twice was voted All-Southwest Conference after capturing All-State honors at Cuero (Texas) High School. Was named on scholastic coaches' All-America team.

Cuero, with a population less than 7,000, has sent three players to the NFL in recent years — Sheppard, Alois Blackwell of Kansas City and Arthur Whittington of Oakland. Resides in Cuero with his wife, Rachel, whom he married July 14, 1973. Operates his ranch in offseason.

Jerry Sherk's decision just before the Browns' May mini-camp to attempt one more comeback from his left knee problem came as a surprise to the club's hierarchy.

During most of the offseason, Sherk had indicated his plans to pursue a career as a professional photographer and to announce his retirement from football.

Sherk explains the situation, "It really is strange. A week before mini-camp I had planned to announce that I was retiring as an active player. Suddenly the inflammation and swelling left my knee and I decided to give it one more chance."

Sam Rutigliano cautiously says, "I think we are witnessing a miracle and I'm keeping my fingers crossed. It is too early to be sure, but what a lift it would give our team to have Jerry able to play."

Recognized as the finest defensive tackle in Browns' history, Sherk played the first two quarters of the team's opening game at New England last year before having to leave the game because of his knee. That concluded his activity for the 1980 season.

A staph infection after Cleveland's 10th game of 1979 almost cost Sherk his leg and even his life. He spent six weeks in a hospital and then followed many more months of rest and recuperation before starting the long rehabilitation program to rebuild his knee and regain the 35 pounds he lost.

Sherk licked knee surgery in 1978 when he rebounded to a fine year after missing all of pre-season. He was close to his best form through the first 10 weeks of 1979 when he had 12 quarterback sacks.

Named the Browns' Defensive Player of the Year by the Cleveland Touchdown Club in 1972 and 1974. Awarded the Third Down Trophy by Newspaper Enterprise Assn. in 1974 as the Browns' Most Valuable Player. Played in Pro Bowl for fourth time in 1976.

Captured Big Eight heavyweight wrestling title in college and credits experience on the mat in high school, junior college and at OSU for his early effectiveness as a pro gridder.

Has become seriously involved in photography, which he plans to make his future business. Maintains homes in Cardiff, Cal. and Medina, just south of Cleveland. Single.

A cascade of richly-deserved honors culminated Brian's remarkable 1980 campaign in which he led all NFL quarterbacks with a rating of 91.9.

As the engineer of the Browns' famed "Kardiac Kids," Brian sparked a succession of come-from-behind efforts that helped carry Cleveland to its first division title since 1971.

Biggest games were 391 aerial yards against Green Bay, second in club annals only to Graham's 401 against Pittsburgh in 1952. Completed 28 passes and four TDs in a 27-26 defeat of Pittsburgh, and had another four-TD day against Cincinnati.

Passed over 300 yards six times (391 vs. Green Bay, 349 vs. Pittsburgh here, 340 vs. New York Jets, 318 vs. Tampa Bay and 310 here and 308 away vs. Cincinnati).

Lifted his career TDs to 107, second only to Ryan's 134, and finished with a season completion percentage of 60.8, second-highest in team annals.

"Without question, Brian has all the qualities," says Sam Rutigliano. "He exceeds our expectations every week.

"If you put Brian next to a guy like Terry Bradshaw or Bert Jones in pre-game warmups, he suffers in comparison. But he's extremely bright and he has great mental toughness. It's the same kind of toughness the Johnny Unitases and Bart Starrs and Otto Grahams had.

"Brian proves his leadership every week. He might be the best ever at standing in there and concentrating in the face of a rush. The only guy I ever saw who came close was Joe Namath. Brian just doesn't feel the pressure."

Wrapped up his seventh full season, but only fifth as a starter, by being the most productive AFC quarterback in the Pro Bowl. Threw a nine-yard scoring pass to New England's Stanley Morgan in a 21-7 loss.

Success was a long time coming for the 13th-round draft choice out of San Diego State in 1972, however. Two years were spent on the taxi squad, then two more understudying Mike Phipps. It wasn't until Phipps suffered a serious shoulder injury in the 1976 opener that Brian finally was given his first major opportunity.

Has steadily progressed ever since with the only serious interruption coming when a shoulder blade was fractured against Pittsburgh well into the 1977 season. Missed the last five games.

"I don't have the strongest arm in the world, but you really don't need a tremendous arm," says Brian. "You need to be able to get the ball to your receivers. You need to be able to probe a defense."

A master at probing, Brian made use of every receiver at his command in completing 63 aerials to Mike Pruitt, 52 to Reggie Rucker, 51 apiece to Dave Logan and Ozzie Newsome, 50 to Greg Pruitt, and lesser numbers to Calvin Hill, Charles White, Ricky Feacher and four others.

Threw first pro pass in 1974, and two years later set two club records with an 82.1 percent passing efficiency against San Diego and 26 completions against Cincinnati. Twice completed a club record 12 passes in a row in 1976 (vs. San Diego and Miami), but topped that last year with 13 straight against Tampa Bay.

Can scramble for yardage, too, on occasion and last year ran 20 times for 55 yards, including a TD against Minnesota.

Was named the Browns' Offensive Player of the Year for the second time by the Cleveland Touchdown Club in 1979 in addition to third in UPI voting on AFC Player of the Year, and second-team All-Pro by AP, but all that paled in comparison to last year's rewards. (continued on page 67)

GERRY SULLIVAN—Center- Offensive Tackle

BIRTHDATE—January 15, 1952
BIRTHPLACE—Oak Park, Ill.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (7b in '74)
COLLEGE—Illinois
HIGH SCHOOL—Oak Park
HEIGHT—6-4
WEIGHT—250
YEARS PRO—8

Being the Browns' premier handyman has served Gerry well in seven pro seasons.

He can, and has, played all five interior positions on the offensive line at some point in his career, but that's not the limit for this jack-of-all-trades. He also does the long snapping on punts and field goals.

"His degree of accuracy has been better than anyone else in the league over the years," says line coach Rod Humenuik.

Gerry's primary function when the Browns aren't kicking is to stand ready to step in when injuries strike one of the starters, or a breather is ordered by Humenuik in order to keep the fulltime linemen fresh. Center and the two guard positions are where he helps out the most.

Experience, durability and solid blocking techniques have been combined to make the seventh-round draft pick from Illinois a valuable part of the team since 1974.

Was able to take advantage of a strike by veteran NFL players his rookie training camp to earn a place for himself on the roster, helped along further by an injury to tackle Bob McKay.

Still doesn't know whether Pittsburgh defensive end L. C. Greenwood was kidding when he named Gerry No. 3 on his list of top opposing tackles. "Maybe I hypnotized him or something," says Gerry in typical quiet humor. "Now I'm one of the all-time greats."

Single, lives in Missoula, Mont.

CURTIS WEATHERS—Linebacker

BIRTHDATE—September 16, 1956
BIRTHPLACE—Memphis, Tenn.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (9b in '79)
COLLEGE—Mississippi
HIGH SCHOOL—Bishop Byrne (Memphis)
HEIGHT—6-5
WEIGHT—220
YEARS PRO—3

Making a major switch from tight end to outside linebacker is the task Curtis is facing with considerable anticipation this season.

Says Sam Rutigliano, "All the other coaches have felt Curtis should go this way for the last year. He has 4.5 speed and he's big and played a little linebacker in his early college days at Ole Miss."

The Browns envision the third-year pro, a ninth-round draftee, as similar to Oakland's Ted Hendricks in size, quickness and range. Curtis is 6-5.

The presence of outstanding Ozzie Newsome, joined last year by promising rookie McDonald Oden from Tennessee State, dictated the change in order to make more and better use of Curtis.

A strained knee forced him to miss considerable time last season, including a five-week stay on the injured reserve list. Underwent minor surgery on the knee last winter.

Although he saw service on special teams, Curtis failed to catch a pass in 1980. Is especially adept at using his height and leaping ability to block opponents' placekicks.

Pulled down 71 passes in four years at Mississippi, where he majored in political science. Tied for fifth place on the school's all-time pass catching list and his 1,196 yards were second-best ever. Played in Blue-Gray and Japan Bowl post-season games.

Resides in Berea, Ohio in offseason. Married Nancy Stamps of Batesville, Miss. last June 22.

CHARLES WHITE—Running Back

BIRTHDATE—January 22, 1958
BIRTHPLACE—Los Angeles, Cal.
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (1st in '80)
COLLEGE—Southern California
HIGH SCHOOL—San Fernando Valley (Cal.)
HEIGHT—5-10
WEIGHT—183
YEARS PRO—2

With his transitional rookie year behind him, Charles figures to become increasingly valuable to the Browns as his young pro career continues to unfold.

Filled an important role the first half of last season while Greg Pruitt concentrated on strengthening his surgically-repaired knee, and finished as the Browns' second-leading rusher with 279 yards. Saw only limited duty once Pruitt was ready for more active duty by the eighth game, however.

"I think Charles will be a very fine player, a fine runner," says Sam Rutigliano. "The reason he didn't play more was that he's young and inexperienced and Greg finally was healthy again."

Says Charles, "I've just got to be patient. Last year definitely was a learning experience. I hope this year will be different."

Tied for the team lead with six touchdowns, five on runs and the other on a 31-yard reception against Kansas City. Enjoyed his finest day at the Chiefs' expense with seven catches for 100 yards, another 59 yards rushing, and two TDs. Scored twice on five-yard runs in a 28-27 victory over Baltimore. Also returned a kickoff 20 yards against Minnesota.

The Browns' first-round draft choice in 1980 was the first Heisman Trophy winner ever selected by the club. A unanimous All-America with career totals of 6,245 yards rushing on 1,147 carries and 49 TDs at Southern California, his ground-gaining accomplishments were second on the NCAA books only to Tony Dorsett's.

Surpassed the work of such other talented Trojan backs as Mike Garrett, O. J. Simpson, Rickey Bell and Anthony Davis, all of whom were All-Americans.

Sparked a USC victory over Notre Dame with 261 yards and four TDs in a 1979 42-23 game, and carried 39 times for 247 yards in a Rose Bowl victory over Ohio State in 1980. Was named the game's most valuable player.

An aspiring actor, White has played roles in such movie and TV shows as Kaz, Kojak, Battlestar Gallactica, Chips and White Shadow. He also won the Superstars' competition on ABC-TV in 1980. Spent offseason in California although he has purchased a condominium in the Cleveland suburb of Strongsville. Married Judy Ann McGovern of Mission Viejo, Cal. last April 25.

KEITH WRIGHT—Wide Receiver— Kick Returns

BIRTHDATE—January 30, 1956
BIRTHPLACE—Mercedes, Texas
HOW ACQUIRED—Draft (5th in '78)
COLLEGE—Memphis State
HIGH SCHOOL—Warren Central (Vicksburg, Miss.)
HEIGHT—5-9½
WEIGHT—175
YEARS PRO—4

Surgery to repair ligaments on his left knee for the third time last May makes it improbable that Wright will be ready to play in the early part of the 1981 season.

Led the Browns in punt returns last season and was fourth in the AFC in kickoff returns. "Keith has an innate knack on returns," says Sam Rutigliano. "He makes a great surge as he picks up those blocks."

Needs only seven more kickoff returns to surpass the 76 set by Leroy Kelly (1964-73), the club record until Dino Hall soared to 82 last year, and is 10 shy of Kelly's punt return standard of 94. Also is only 14 yards from Kelly's club mark of 1,781 for kickoff returns.

Caught three passes last season and scored a touchdown on each one, starting with an 11-yarder in the opener against New England, continuing with a 12-yarder against Kansas City and climaxing with a 39-yarder against Seattle. They were the first in his three-year pro career.

Was well on his way to a second straight AFC kickoff return title when hurt against the Oilers in 1979. Averaged 26.8 yards, but was one return shy of the total required to qualify for the title. Set a Browns' season record with 37 punt returns as a rookie.

Averaged nearly 20 yards returning punts for Memphis State and broke every school record in that department. Was second in the entire NCAA in 1976.

Finished with a career average of 10.4 yards, including a 97-yarder against North Texas State, one of the longest punt returns in NCAA history.

Married Jane Weisinger of Gilmour, Texas, March 5, 1978. His father is football coach-athletic director of Vicksburg (Miss.) High School. Continued his studies at Memphis State in offseason and has established a permanent residence in Tyler, Texas.

1980 REVIEW

Sunday, Sept. 7 Patriots 34, BROWNS 17 (49,222) at Foxboro, Mass.

The Browns dropped their first opener in five seasons as New England pulled away to a 34-3 advantage before Brian Sipe connected on scoring passes of 10 yards to Dave Logan and 11 yards to Keith Wright in the fourth quarter.

Defensive tackle Jerry Sherk was lost for the season when he encountered more problems with his rehabilitated left knee in the first half, and Logan reinjured his left ankle when he ran into a wall after making his scoring catch.

Monday Night, Sept. 15 Oilers 16, BROWNS 7 (80,243) at Cleve.

Ball control by Houston spelled the difference after the Browns led 7-3 at halftime on a three-yard flare pass from Brian Sipe to Calvin Hill.

Cleveland had possession for only three minutes and 47 seconds in the last two quarters as Earl Campbell finished with 106 yards rushing and Ken Stabler completed 23 of 28 passes. Browns lost right cornerback Lawrence Johnson for the season with a fractured shoulder.

Sunday, Sept. 21 BROWNS 20, Chiefs 13 (63,614) at Cleve.

Top draftee Charles White helped the Cleveland offense get untracked with seven catches for 100 yards, 59 more rushing and touchdown catches of two and 31 yards. White's first score was set up by Keith Wright's 50-yard kickoff return and gave the Browns a 7-6 halftime lead.

Brian Sipe completed six straight passes in a 79-yard drive at the start of the third quarter, capped by a 12-yard TD throw to Wright.

With the score tied 13-all late in the third quarter, Sipe whipped the Browns 66 yards in only four plays with his second TD aerial to White providing the winning margin.

Sunday, Sept. 28 BROWNS 34, Bucs 27 (65,540) at Tampa

Brian Sipe broke his own club record by completing 13 consecutive passes in a 318-yard performance, including TDs of 43 and three yards to Calvin Hill and 13 yards to Ricky Feacher. It marked the first time Tampa Bay ever gave up 300 aerial yards.

Hill's 43-yarder and Don Cockroft's second field goal of the game were just enough fourth-quarter points to stave off a desperate comeback by Tampa Bay in the last 10 minutes. The Bucs completed a final pass to the Cleveland 20 as time expired.

Browns' defense faced an aerial blitz by quarterback Doug Williams, who hit on 30 of 56 for 343 yards. The attempts were the most ever against a Cleveland team. With a total of 88 passes hurled, the game lasted three hours and 33 minutes.

Sunday, Oct. 5 Broncos 19, BROWNS 16 (81,065) at Cleve.

The Browns had numerous touchdown opportunities, but reached the end zone only on a 40-yard pass from Brian Sipe to Reggie Rucker to help gain a 10-10 halftime standoff.

Turning point came when Cleveland again threatened shortly after Rucker's score only to have linebacker Randy Gradishar pick up a tipped pass and return it 93 yards for Denver's only TD. Fred Steinfort's fourth field goal broke a 16-16 tie with 5:50 left.

Sunday, Oct. 12 BROWNS 27, Seahawks 3 (61,366) at Seattle dome, launched a five-game winning streak and a division title drive of eight victories in nine weeks.

Mike Pruitt spearheaded the attack with 116 yards on 24 carries, including TDs of two and 22 yards. Charles White also scored on a three-yarder, and Keith Wright caught his third TD pass on a 39-yard throw from Brian Sipe.

Lyle Alzado led an outstanding Browns defensive effort by recording three of the team's five sacks at the expense of quarterback Jim Zorn.

Sunday, Oct. 19      BROWNS 26, Packers 21 (75,548)      at Cleve.

Another of the Kardiac Kids' patented photo finishes with two TDs in the last 7:23, including the clincher on a 46-yard pass from Brian Sipe to Dave Logan with only 16 seconds remaining. Sipe finished with 391 aerial yards, a career high.

Thom Darden's club record 41st career interception helped Cleveland gain a 10-0 halftime lead. Don Cockroft's second field goal of the day from 42 yards out boosted the advantage to 13-0 before Green Bay came alive and moved ahead 21-13 midway through the fourth quarter.

Two passes by Sipe covering 50 yards to Calvin Hill and 19 to Ozzie Newsome brought the Browns within a point only 28 seconds later, and a winning 87-yard drive in the last two minutes completed the comeback. Hill caught five for 94 yards, while Mike Pruitt totaled 104 yards running and receiving.

Sunday, Oct. 26      BROWNS 27, Steelers 26 (79,095)      at Cleve.

Key division victory by the Browns came only after yet another spectacular fourth-quarter drive from behind. Down 26-14 entering the fourth quarter, Cleveland scored twice in less than four minutes to pull it out.

Brian Sipe, whose 349 passing yards gave him a two-game total of 740, sparked drives of 73 and 60 yards to turn back the Steelers for the first time in seven games.

Greg Pruitt, who had eight catches for 71 yards, started the rally with a seven-yard TD reception and Ozzie Newsome finished it with an 18-yard catch at the 9:22 mark. Cliff Stoudt from Youngstown State went all the way at quarterback for the Steelers in place of injured Terry Bradshaw.

Monday night, Nov. 3      BROWNS 27, Bears 21 (83,244)      at Cleve.

A 56-yard burst by Mike Pruitt, his second scoring run in less than four minutes, produced the winning margin with 3:35 remaining. But it still took another onside kickoff recovery by Judson Flint to nail everything down after Earl Thomas tallied for Chicago with 37 seconds left.

Cleveland jumped off to a 10-0 halftime lead on the first of two field goals by Don Cockroft and a four-yard pass from Brian Sipe to Reggie Rucker. An 84-yard Browns' drive at the outset of the second half led to a one-yard scoring plunge by Mike Pruitt, whose 27 carries for 129 yards produced his biggest game of the season.

Newsome did likewise with five catches for 97 yards as the Browns wrapped up a successful three-game home stand and remained in a tie with Houston for first place in the AFC Central.

Sunday, Nov. 9      BROWNS 28, Colts 27 (45,369)      at Balt.

A seemingly safe 28-13 Cleveland lead was wiped out by quarterback Bert Jones with two Colts TDs in the final two minutes, but Autry Beamon sealed the victory by falling on a fumbled onside kickoff on the Browns' 36.

Charles White scored on a pair of five-yard runs and Dave Logan pulled down a 39-yard TD throw from Brian Sipe to give Cleveland a 21-6 halftime lead. Winning points came on a 12-yard pass to Greg Pruitt in the fourth quarter.

Mike Pruitt carried 18 times for 103 yards, bringing his two-game total to 232, and Logan caught five for 85 yards. A missed conversion following Baltimore's first TD was the difference.

Sunday, Nov. 16                      Steelers 16, BROWNS 13 (54,563)                      at Pitts.

The Browns came within 11 seconds of their first victory ever in Three Rivers Stadium only to have their hopes crushed by a three-yard pass from Terry Bradshaw to Lynn Swann. The latter was a major thorn all day with nine catches for 138 yards.

Brian Sipe threw scoring passes of four yards to Ozzie Newsome and 15 yards to Dave Logan to give the Browns a 13-7 halftime advantage before the defenses took over. An intentional safety by punter Johnny Evans made it 13-9 with 1:51 remaining and Bradshaw did the rest.

Sunday, Nov. 23                      BROWNS 31, Bengals 7 (79,253)                      at Cleve.

Behind 7-0 after the first quarter, Cleveland scored four unanswered touchdowns and a field goal for one of their most decisive triumphs of the season.

Brian Sipe accounted for all of the TDs with throws of 16 yards to Reggie Rucker, five yards to Calvin Hill and two yards to Greg Pruitt before capping it all with a 55-yarder to Ricky Feacher.

Sipe finished with 310 yards and spread the work around with Rucker catching seven, Greg Pruitt and Logan six apiece.

Sunday, Nov. 30                      BROWNS 17, Oilers 14 (51,514)                      at Houston

A clash of AFC Central Division leaders in the Astrodome wasn't settled until strong safety Clarence Scott intercepted a pass at the Cleveland 24 with 1:17 left to preserve a hard-earned victory for the Browns.

Moments earlier, free safety Thom Darden's jarring tackle had shaken the ball loose from receiver Dave Casper to short circuit another Oilers' scoring bid.

Cleveland grabbed the lead with the game only 62 seconds old on a six-yard run by Cleo Miller after linebacker John Mohring recovered a Houston fumble on the opening kickoff return. A 50-yard run by Miller early in the third quarter with the Browns ahead 14-7 led to the deciding points on a 25-yard field goal by Don Cockroft.

Sunday, Dec. 7                      BROWNS 17, Jets 14 (78,454)                      at Cleve.

Trailing 14-10 early in the fourth quarter, the Browns once again rallied for an important victory.

Brian Sipe launched a 68-yard drive with a 45-yard pass to Reggie Rucker and finished it with a five-yard pass to Greg Pruitt with 9:27 remaining. Sipe passed for 340 yards, including five completions to Rucker for 108 yards.

Interceptions by Ron Bolton and Clinton Burrell kept the Jets at bay in the first half as Cleveland took a 3-0 lead, and a nine-yard run by Mike Pruitt boosted the margin to 10-0 early in the third quarter before the Jets came alive. Greg Pruitt had one of his busiest days with 10 catches for 75 yards.

1980 REVIEW

Sunday, Dec. 14      Vikings 28, BROWNS 23 (42,202)      at Minn.

A heart-breaking last-play loss on a miraculous 46-yard desperation pass from Tommy Kramer to Ahmad Rashad delayed the Browns' clinching of the division title.

Cleveland built a 23-9 lead on an 18-yard pass to Calvin Hill, runs of two yards by Brian Sipe and Cleo Miller, and a 32-yard Don Cockroft field goal. But the Vikings scored three TDs in the last five minutes to pull it out and win the NFC Central crown.

Sunday, Dec. 21      BROWNS 27, Bengals 24 (50,058)      at Cinci.

Third-quarter scoring catches of 35 and 34 yards by Ricky Feacher made it a 24-24 game and Don Cockroft kicked a winning 22-yard field goal with 1:25 left to give the Browns their first division title in nine years.

The game actually wasn't settled until the final play when cornerback Ron Bolton tackled receiver Steve Kreider on the Cleveland 14 with the Bengals out of timeouts and unable to stop the clock. A 42-yard scoring catch by Reggie Rucker had helped Cleveland to a 10-10 halftime tie.

Brian Sipe recorded his sixth 300-yard game (308) of the season to lift his season total to 4,132 and added his name to those of Dan Fouts and Joe Namath as the only players in NFL history to surpass the 4,000 yard mark in a season. Mike Pruitt rushed for 51 yards and a second straight 1,000 year.

Sunday, Jan. 7      Raiders 14, BROWNS 12 (77,655)      at Cleve.

The divisional playoff game was played in zero weather and under slippery field conditions, but was a typical thriller nevertheless. The Browns, after stopping Oakland at the 15-yard line with 2:22 remaining, drove 72 yards to the Raiders' 13 only to be repelled on an ill-fated second-down pass into the end zone by Brian Sipe.

Following a sideline discussion during a timeout, Sipe tried to hit Ozzie Newsome crossing from the right only to have Mike Davis step in for the interception that kept the Raiders alive and on the way to an eventual Super Bowl victory.

Cleveland's points came on a 42-yard interception return by Ron Bolton in the second quarter and a pair of third-quarter field goals by Don Cockroft for a temporary 12-7 lead until Mark van Eeghen ran over from the 1 with 9:22 remaining for the winning TD.
