ARTHUR B. MODELL

Owner/President

Born: June 23, 1925

Brooklyn, N.Y.

Purchased Browns: March 21, 1961

Risking every dollar he owned and borrowing as much money as his bankers would allow, Art Modell, then a highly respected New York advertising and television executive working as a partner for the L.H. Hartman Company, purchased the Cleveland Browns for the then unprecedented price of $4 million on March 23, 1961.

With his entry into the NFL at the age of 35, Modell had written his "American success story." When he was 15 years old, Modell dropped out of high school and began work as an electrician's helper in a Brooklyn shipyard. He was cleaning out the hulls of ships to help his financially strapped family after the death of his father.

Modell's vision that the NFL would soon explode at the box office and on television proved correct, while his prominence in the league grew rapidly. By 1967, he was president of the NFL, a position he held until 1970. "When I first came into the league, I was in awe of people like George Halas and Art Rooney. They were very kind and gracious to accept me into their fraternity so quickly," Modell says. Today, only Rooney has more seniority than Modell in terms of NFL ownership.

Modell and the Browns have been successful in the 27 years of Art's leadership. During his tenure, the Cleveland record is 220-164-6 for a winning percentage of .573. Only the Raiders (.646), the Cowboys (.642), the Dolphins (.629) and the Rams (.584) have fared better than Modell's Browns. The 1987 Cleveland team was his 12th play-off squad. In five other years (1963, 1970, 1976, 1979 and 1983), the Browns had a chance to make the playoffs on the final day of the regular season, but did not qualify.

Modell's fourth Browns' team (1964) won the NFL Championship with a stunning 27-0 victory over the Baltimore Colts. The 1965, 1968 and 1969 teams each played in the league title contest, while Art's recent frustration saw his team lose heart-breaking and gut-wrenching (but memorable) AFC Championship games in the last two years. Under Modell, the Browns also earned postseason play in 1967, 1971, 1972 (when the Dolphins preserved their historic undefeated season with a thrilling come-from-behind 20-14 victory), 1980, 1982, 1985, 1986 and 1987.

Through the years, Modell has received many local and national awards for his contributions to his community, charities and civic affairs. His most recent, a salute from the Browns' Chapter of the NFL Alumni on June 19, 1988, is one he cherishes. "I have great respect for the men who have played in this league, specifically those who have helped make this a consistent winning franchise. I'm a fan at heart and to have players like Jim Houston, Doug Dieken, and Paul Warfield come back and say 'way to go,' it made me feel very proud," Modell says.

Here are other awards Modell has earned: the "National Volunteer Citation" from the Arthritis Foundation; "Champion of Brotherhood" distinction from the National Conference of Christians and Jews for

"Modell's lifetime service in combating discrimination and prejudice"; the "Citizen of the Year" award from the Cleveland Board of Realtors; the "United Way Commitment" honor for his and his team's involvement; the "Blanton Collier Award" from the Browns' Alumni; "1983 Executive of the Year" from the Cleveland Sales and Marketing Club; the "Pride of Cleveland" award from the Sports' Media Association of Cleveland and Ohio; and the "Super-Citizen" honor from the Variety Club.

Area hospitals, cultural organizations, Cleveland schools and youth activities have all received Modell's time and money to meet severe financial strains. Hiram College made Modell a member of its prestigious Garfield Society; John Carroll University awarded him an honorary L.L.D. degree (1979); and Wilberforce University has honored him for "Outstanding Citizenship." Modell has also served as the Foreman for the Cuyahoga County Grand Jury.

Modell's community leadership inspired a 1974 request to run Cleveland Stadium, which was in terrible repair and losing money for the city. Fourteen years later, Modell continues to run the Stadium that is leased to his company through 1999 and gives Cleveland over $1 million in revenues annually. Art also lent his money and influence to refurbish the financially troubled Cleveland Sheraton Hotel at Public Square, which became Stouffer Inn On the Square under his direction. The Cleveland Plain Dealer said of his effort: "Not only did Modell take on the job of saving the hotel, he turned the venture into a team effort to save downtown and Public Square from a visual blight and the city from a loss of millions in convention business."

In NFL matters, his influence is league-wide and his devotion to the league Constitution and Commissioner's office is second to none. Along with Pete Rozelle, he has negotiated the NFL's precedent-setting television contracts. He serves as Chairman of both the league's Broadcast Committee and NFL Films. His daring transfer (1966) of the Browns to the American Conference, along with Pittsburgh and Baltimore, solved the AFL/NFL merger problem. The two leagues began play under the current two conference format in 1970.

One of the many innovations he started with the Browns was the preseason doubleheader concept that proved extremely popular from 1962 to 1971. When a host team was sought for the first Monday Night Game in 1970, Modell volunteered the Browns and 85,703 fans came and watched the Browns beat the Jets, 31-21, quieting league moguls who were predicting box office disaster for a weeknight game. When other teams doubted a second Thanksgiving Day game in Dallas could succeed, Modell volunteered and the Detroit/Dallas doubleheader has become a holiday tradition.

Modell serves on the boards of directors of National City Corporation and National City Bank, the Ohio Bell Telephone Company and the world renowned Cleveland Clinic. He is a board member at Churchill Downs and is one of two Churchill directors on the Triple Crown Productions Company.

Modell, who completed high school through night classes, joined the Air Force in 1943 (he was 18) and then enrolled in a New York City television school following World War II. Always an innovator, Modell produced one of the first regular daytime television shows in the nation before moving into the advertising business in 1954.

Pat Modell, Art's wife, has worked hard to improve the Cleveland community. She serves on the board at Ursuline College and is active with the Cleveland Musical Arts Association, the Cleveland Ballet, the Playhouse Square Foundation and Cerebral Palsy Association. A former actress, Pat appeared in over 400 motion pictures and television shows. The couple has two sons: John, 28, and David, 27. John is a music composer/producer in Los Angeles. David, the Browns' marketing director, lives in Shaker Heights with his wife Olwen, who is a lawyer with Cuyahoga County.

"According to the individuals who run the clubs, the NFL's most respected owner is Art Modell of the Cleveland Browns. Modell, they say, makes it a point to get along with the representatives of the league's many cliques and factions. He can be tough, but he plays fair. In a sense, they say Modell is the NFL."

JIM BAILEY

Executive Vice President
Administration and Legal

Born: August 21, 1946
Wilmington, O.

11th Year Browns
Florida State

"There is not a Browns' function that does not include Jim's input. He's bright, hard-working, patient and I consider him to be one of the most capable administrators in the NFL," Browns' President Art Modell says of Jim Bailey, the team's executive vice president - administrative and legal. While he maintains a low public profile, Bailey works with every department in the organization and oversees the daily operations of the franchise's administration.

Bailey, who is in his 11th season with the Browns, started with the organization in 1978. Most of his initial work involved the development and maintenance of Cleveland Stadium, but his responsibilities also had him helping Modell in Browns' legal matters and contract negotiations.

Bailey earned a law degree from the University of Michigan after spending his undergraduate days at Florida State. Prior to coming to the Browns, Jim worked for the Cleveland-based law firm of Guren, Merritt, Sogg and Cohen, where he was quickly named a partner in 1976. Bailey's duties at the law offices included work with Art Modell in the formation of the Cleveland Stadium Corporation. That association was instrumental in bringing Bailey to the Browns' organization.

After excelling in three sports (football, basketball and track) at Wilmington (O.) High School, Bailey accepted a football scholarship at Florida State. As a defensive back for the Seminoles, Bailey jokes that his best contribution was helping the confidence of teammate Fred Biletnikoff. "I didn't give Fred any reason to question his ability to get open in any of the one-on-one drills," Bailey says.

Jim and his wife Ann live in Shaker Heights, while daughters Sarah and Jenny attend St. Louis' Washington University and Northwestern, respectively.

ERNIE ACCORSI

Executive Vice President
Football Operations

Born: October 29, 1941
Hershey, Pa.

5th Year Browns
19th Year NFL
Wake Forest

One of the most highly respected front office executives in the NFL, Ernie Accorsi continues his hard work to keep the Browns among the league's best teams. While directing all contract negotiations with Browns' players, Accorsi has efficiently coordinated all player movements, including the delicate and important trade that brought Bernie Kosar to Cleveland.

Art Modell hired Accorsi in 1984 and one year later named the 19-year NFL front office veteran the Browns' executive vice president, football operations. While coordinating the team's major football activities with Marty Schottenheimer, Accorsi also oversees the Browns' personnel department.

Accorsi entered the league in 1970, as public relations director for the Baltimore Colts, a position he held for five years until serving on Commissioner Pete Rozelle's staff as assistant to the president of the National Football Conference in 1975 and '76. Accorsi then returned to the Colts in 1977 as assistant general manager and later became the club's general manager for two years in 1982.

Just prior to coming to Cleveland, Accorsi's responsibilities in Baltimore covered all of the organization's functions. From negotiating local radio/TV contracts, to player movements, to the team's marketing and public relation efforts, Accorsi's imprint was seen. The Colts' climb from a winless 1982 (strike-shortened, 0-9) to seven victories in 1983, is attributed to Accorsi's influence and direction.

A native of Hershey, Pa., and a graduate of Wake Forest University (1963), Accorsi served with the Army between jobs as a sportswriter for the Charlotte News and later with the Baltimore Evening Sun in 1964. He also was sports publicity director of Philadelphia's St. Joseph's College before joining the Philadelphia Inquirer in 1966. Three years later (1969), he returned to collegiate athletics as Penn State University's assistant sports information director. An avid reader, Ernie's knowledge of sports and political history is impressive.

Ernie has three children: Michael, 19, and Sherlyn, 18, who are students at Pittsburgh and Penn State, respectively, and Patrick, 14.

RICKY FEACHER
Director of Player Relations
Born: February 11, 1954
Crystal River, Fla.
4th Year Browns' Administration
Mississippi Valley State

Gaining more responsibility in the Browns' front office is former receiving and special teams' standout Ricky Feacher. Along with his important activities as director of player relations, Feacher has also become seriously involved in the Browns' personnel department. In player relations, Ricky helps current players with everything from accommodations and transportation to career counseling and the Browns' innovative Inner Circle program. As a member of the personnel department, Feacher evaluates college talent and handles some contract negotiations.

Feacher was on the Browns' active roster for nine years (1976-84) and became a consistent starter in 1981 after playing his first five years behind Hall of Famer Paul Warfield, Dave Logan and Reggie Rucker. Nicknamed "The Hollywood Dude" by his teammates, he was such an effective leader in other aspects that his peers voted him special teams' captain in 1980 and '81. After his football career ended in the summer of 1985, Feacher was hired as assistant to the player relations director (Warfield).

Originally drafted as a 10th-round pick in 1976 by New England, Feacher was released three weeks into his rookie season. The Browns signed him as a free agent one week later and Ricky totalled 113 receptions for 2,084 yards and an 18.4 yards per catch average for his career. Only the Browns' Ray Renfro (19.6) and Warfield (19.2) are ahead of him.

As a four-year varsity wide receiver at Mississippi Valley State after earning MVP honors in football, basketball and track at Hernando High School in Brooksville, Fla., Feacher caught 54 passes for 1,062 yards and eight touchdowns his last two college seasons. He has a bachelor's degree in business administration.

Ricky and his wife, Regina, make their home in Westlake.

KEVIN BYRNE

Vice President/
 Director of Public Relations
 Born: August 20, 1949
 Cleveland, O.
 8th Year Browns
 10th Year NFL
 Marquette

"Kevin Byrne is the best public relations director in the NFL and he is an important member of our front office," Browns' owner Art Modell recently said in an introduction of Byrne at an offseason banquet. Byrne, who was born in Cleveland, returned to his hometown in 1981 as the Browns' publicity director. By 1984, he had been given more responsibilities and was named a team vice president. While he directs the Browns' public relations, Byrne also works closely with the club's operations, ticketing and marketing departments and he has negotiated local preseason TV and radio contracts.

Byrne began his NFL career with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1977 when he was named as the then youngest public relations director in the league. He stayed there two years before becoming director of public affairs for Trans World Airlines. In 1980, St. Louis Magazine selected Byrne as one of 80 St. Louisans "to watch in the 80s."

From 1974-77, Byrne was sports information director at Marquette University where he worked with Al McGuire and the Warriors' 1977 NCAA basketball champions. His first job was as the SID at the University of Missouri-St. Louis. His publications won numerous national awards at both schools.

Byrne earned distinction as a member of Alpha Sigma Nu, the national Jesuit honor society, while gaining a degree in journalism from Marquette University. He was a member of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" and was a four-year member of the Warrior wrestling team. Byrne is a graduate of St. Edwards High School where he serves on the Board of Trustees.

Kevin and his wife Sally have four children: daughter Shannon, 12, and sons Sean, 11, Tim, 9, and Conor, 6. The family lives in Westlake.

MARTY SCHOTTENHEIMER

Head Coach
Pittsburgh
Born: September 23, 1943
Canonsburg, Pa.
9th Year Browns
15th Year Coaching

Those closest to Marty Schottenheimer in the football business - the players, assistant coaches, the Browns' staff and the reporters - can tell you that Marty has complete tunnel vision when it comes to talking about the goals for the Cleveland franchise. "We talk about only one thing here," Marty repeats often. "That's the Super Bowl championship. That's the only thing we want and anything less than that will not satisfy us. And when we win that first one, and I'm convinced we're heading in the right direction, we'll do everything we can to continue winning NFL titles."

Schottenheimer, praised nationally as one of the bright, young coaches in the league, has already enjoyed outstanding success. In three full seasons as the Browns' head coach, he has directed Cleveland to a trio of AFC Central Division titles and back-to-back AFC Championship games. What's remarkable is that these are the only three years Schottenheimer has been a head coach at any level, including grade school, high school or college. Despite his relative lack of experience, Schottenheimer has already served as an advisor to the NFL's prestigious Competition Committee the last two years.

Schottenheimer became the Browns' head coach midway through the 1984 season when he replaced Sam Rutigliano. Marty took over a 1-7 team, but managed to inspire the Browns to a 4-4 finish in the season's second half, which included three defeats by field goals on the last play of each game.

In 1985, his first full campaign as the Browns' head coach, Marty directed the team to the AFC Central crown and an 8-8 finish. In the playoffs at Miami, Cleveland battled a heavily favored Dolphin team before falling 24-21. "There was a benefit from that loss. We went up 21-3 and our players came away convinced they could play with any team in the league. That helped us get ready for the next season," Schottenheimer later explained.

The following year (1986), Marty was the consensus AFC Coach of the Year (UPI, Football News, Kansas City's 101 Club) after he directed the Browns to a 12-4 regular season finish, a second straight AFC Central title and a spot in a memorable AFC Championship game. With a first-round playoff victory over the Jets (23-20 in double overtime), the Browns' 13 victories were the most ever in the franchise's successful history.

In gaining a third consecutive AFC Central crown, Schottenheimer helped the Browns to a 10-5 1987 record, which included a 2-1 mark

— DID YOU KNOW? —

Marty Schottenheimer is 16-6 vs. the AFC Central since taking over as head coach midway through the 1984 season, 14-4 since 1985 and 10-2 the last two seasons.

with "replacement players" during the NFLPA strike. Cleveland stopped the Colts, 38-21, in the playoffs before dropping a 38-33 gut-wrenching AFC title game to the Broncos. Marty's response to the back-to-back "close encounters" to the Super Bowl: "We have more resolve than ever."

Schottenheimer, who earned a degree in English at Pitt., views himself as a teacher and he works endless hours to complete the details that have made the Browns annual Super Bowl contenders. "The only way I know how to succeed is through hard work and repetition. If we can teach the players through practice and meetings how they can win on Sunday, we obviously have a better chance at winning that game," Schottenheimer says.

Schottenheimer's game philosophy is simple: try to win all three phases of the contest - offense, defense and special teams. "No matter how much you prepare, you can't win the offense and defense every time out, but I expect us to win the special teams' play every game," Schottenheimer says. The Browns' dramatic special teams' improvement under Marty is best exemplified by the team's first place finish in 1986 in a complicated, 16-category point system developed by Chiefs' head coach Frank Gansz.

In 1974, three years after his playing career ended, Schottenheimer was working as a real estate developer in Denver when he visited Bronco defensive coordinator Joe Collier, who had coached Marty as a player for the Buffalo Bills. Collier's advice and recommendation helped Schottenheimer get his first coaching job, which was as a player/coach with the WFL's Portland Storm. A shoulder injury soon ended the playing comeback, but Marty continued tutoring the team's linebackers.

MARTY SCHOTTENHEIMER ON THE BROWNS' GOALS: "It's important that we don't forget how we got to the AFC Championship game. We got there through a lot of hard work and dedication — nothing else. It's a great disappointment when you set your goals high and don't reach them. We're always going to have one thing as our goal — winning a World Championship. You have to continue to make it there (to the playoffs) every year and put yourself in a position - as we have the last two years — to win the conference championship."

MARTY SCHOTTENHEIMER ON THE BROWNS: "This football team that we have here is not offense, not defense, not the kicking game. It's the TEAM. And the way we win here is to be able to get those parts working together in concert."

MARTY SCHOTTENHEIMER ON THE BROWNS' WINNING TRADITION: "Our organization has made a statement over the last few years. We've developed a winning tradition. We are not going to lose sight of how we've gotten there. The strength of this football team is the quality and character of the players. That is a foundation as we move forward. But at the same time, we're going to continue to make changes in personnel and do whatever we feel we can, schematically, to improve. And we expect to be there again next year and do our very best to clear the next two hurdles. That's our plan."

A year later (1975), then New York Giants' head coach Bill Arnsparger hired Marty as linebacker coach. Marty was then promoted to defensive coordinator in 1977 at the age of 34 before becoming the linebackers' coach under Monte Clark with the Detroit Lions in 1978 and 1979. Schottenheimer joined the Browns in 1980 as defensive coordinator and promised Art Modell that he would develop the team's defense into one of the league's best within three years. By 1983, the Browns were the NFL's ninth rated defense (fifth in the AFC) and pushed to the number one ranking in the AFC in 1984, second to the Bears in the entire league.

As a pro player, Marty spent the bulk of his six-year career as a backup. "I basically made my living as a special teams' player, but I thought I was better," Schottenheimer says. His career statistics include 79 games played, 18 starts and six interceptions for a 22-yard average. After gaining All-America honors at Pittsburgh (where he was recently named a linebacker on the all-time Pitt. team), Marty was drafted in the fourth round by the NFL's Baltimore Colts and the AFL's Buffalo Bills selected him in the seventh round. He played with the Bills from 1965 through 1968, the Boston Patriots in 1969 and 1970 and was then traded to the Steelers in June of 1971. After playing six weeks under Chuck Noll, Marty was traded to the Colts, but retired three weeks later when Baltimore released him.

Schottenheimer was an honor student and a football/basketball stand-out at Ft. Cherry (McDonald, Pa.) High School. He was an All-Western Pennsylvania linebacker and the center on the state championship basketball team. He was a three-year starter for the Pitt. Panthers and played with the College All-Star team beaten, 24-16, by the World Champion Browns in the summer of 1965.

Marty and his wife Pat have become community leaders and willing volunteers to a number of worthwhile causes, including the Kidney Association, the March of Dimes, Rainbow Babies and Children's Hospital, Meals on Wheels and the Strongsville school system. In 1987, Marty received the "Pride of Cleveland" award from the Sports Media Association of Cleveland.

Marty and Pat live in Strongsville with their daughter Kristen, 18, and son Brian, 15.

The old cliché runs as follows: What have you done for me lately? In 1987 Dave Adolph masterminded a defense that gave up the league's fewest touchdowns (26), allowed the fewest first downs (251), got the offense the ball by allowing the fewest ball control plays (902), had a (+7) takeaway ratio, and — along the way — helped the Browns to the AFC Championship game for the second year in a row.

The 1987 Browns showed more diversity than ever before, with multiple formations, including the installation of the "Bear" or "46" defense. New personnel were introduced to the system: veterans Lucius Sanford (since released), Al Baker and rookies David Grayson and Stephen Braggs all contributed. Rookie LB-Mike Junkin sat through a contract holdout, the players' strike and a season-ending injury, yet Adolph covered that loss by adjusting new personnel and defensive formations.

"I feel Dave is one of the two or three best coaches I've ever been around," says Marty Schottenheimer. "Dave knows this defense as well as I do. He's a very knowledgeable coach who's taught all phases of defense and knows how to produce results. The challenges he met and conquered last season, from installing our new looks to coaching the replacements, were remarkable."

Adolph was promoted to the defensive coordinator's position midway through the 1984 season when Marty Schottenheimer was elevated from coordinator to head coach.

Originally picked as the defensive line coach in 1979, Adolph took over the linebackers in 1981 and the Browns quickly developed a prime linebacking corps. In 1987, six defensive players received postseason honors (LB-Clay Matthews, CBs-Hanford Dixon and Frank Minnifield, LB-Eddie Johnson, NT-Bob Golic and DE-Carl Hairston). A strong backup corps that could start on most NFL teams provided solid depth. "My strength is in coaching good players," jokes Adolph.

A native of Akron and a longtime Browns' fan, Adolph attended Mogadore High School, then played guard and linebacker for the Akron Zips and was chosen the Ohio Valley Conference's top lineman in 1958. After serving three years of Air Force duty (1959-61) as a commissioned officer, Adolph joined the coaching ranks at Cleveland's Shaw High School (1962), followed by two years at Akron University as offensive line coach. (On 7/23/87 the Akron Browns' Backers honored Dave with a dinner for his success in football).

Adolph became an assistant to Rick Forzano at the University of Connecticut in 1965, joined John Ray as defensive coordinator at Kentucky in 1969, was linebacker coach at Illinois in 1973, and worked with Woody Hayes at Ohio State from 1977-78.

Dave and his wife Betty live in Berea with her children Shane (14) and Heather (12). Dave has three sons: Mike (25), Mark (23) and Tom (18).

21st Year Coaching

North Dakota State

Ray Braun, who has served on the Browns' coaching staff in a part-time capacity for the past three seasons, joins the staff on a full-time basis in 1988. Braun, 49, will assist in the coaching of the offense and will tutor the tight ends.

"We're pleased that Ray is joining the staff full-time. His contributions the last three years have really been a boost to us, and now we'll benefit from having Ray with us year-round. I've been associated with Ray since 1974, when I was a player/coach with Portland of the WFL, and he's dedicated, a hard worker and he knows football very well," Browns' Head Coach Marty Schottenheimer says.

Braun's hiring is the second addition to the Browns' staff in 1988. Marc Trestman was hired on earlier as quarterbacks' coach after former offensive coordinator Lindy Infante accepted the Packers' head coaching position on Feb. 3, 1988. Tight ends' coach Charlie Davis joined Infante's staff in Green Bay.

Braun started his coaching career at Richardton (North Dakota) H.S. and served as defensive coordinator at North Dakota State from 1968-72. Ray then accepted a position as defensive coordinator/assistant head coach at Washington State University from 1972-74. In 1974, he was defensive coordinator of the Portland Storm of the World Football League. In 1975, Ray took over as defensive coordinator at Oregon State, where he served through 1978.

In 1979, he was a defensive assistant and special teams' coach at the University of Colorado (Boulder). From 1981 to 1983, Ray rejoined the Beavers as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator. In 1984, he coached and scouted for the Seattle Seahawks before joining the Browns in 1985.

Born on March 6, 1939, Ray attended Killdeer (N.D.) High School, where he played tight end and defensive end. Braun earned his Master's Degree from North Dakota State University in 1968, where he also played football and later coached. Ray and his wife JoAnn have five sons (Dennis, Lynn, Cleon, Allan and Doug), who have all graduated from various universities.

BILL COWHER

One year ago, Bill Cowher was given the responsibilities of coaching the secondary after an impressive two-year stint as the Browns' special teams' coach. While Browns' followers knew of his teaching and motivating talents with the special teams, the results he produced in his first year of coaching the defensive backs were outstanding.

Hanford Dixon and Frank Minnifield were named to virtually every All-Pro team and were Pro Bowl starters. S-Felix Wright moved into the starting free safety role and produced his best season yet (tied with Minnifield for the team lead with four interceptions, plus adding two in the playoffs). Cleveland's 23 interceptions in 1987 tied them for third in the conference (17 thefts came in important AFC Central matchups).

"I think it's obvious to a lot of people that Bill Cowher has tremendous coaching talent and a great future in this business," says head coach Marty Schottenheimer. "He really got the most from our defensive backs while gaining valuable coaching experience for himself. Bill's contributions to the club in his three years as a coach have been outstanding. I have the highest regard for Bill Cowher."

Greatly impressed by Cowher's excellent work ethic as a Browns' linebacker in 1980-82, Schottenheimer hired him in 1985 after a knee injury put the continuation of Cowher's playing career with the Philadelphia Eagles in jeopardy. The Browns traded Cowher to Philadelphia in 1983, and he was promptly chosen the Eagles' most valuable special teams' player that first season. Knee damage forced him to miss all but four games in 1984, however.

At age 28, Cowher became the second-youngest assistant coach in the NFL. He originally was signed as a free agent by Philadelphia in 1979 after performing well at N.C. State, but was released after appearing in three preseason games. Cleveland signed Cowher as a free agent in 1980 and he played in all 16 games, including two as an inside starter.

Bill, his wife Kaye, and daughters Meagan Lyn (2) and Lauren Marie (1) reside in Strongsville.

RICHARD MANN
Wide Receivers

15th Year Coaching
Arizona State

The AFC's top-rated passer needs targets to throw to in order to be successful, and QB-Bernie Kosar had a wealth of talent in the Browns' receiving corps. The dramatic improvement of the wide receiver position for the Browns over the past few years is a sure indication of the talents of Richard Mann as a teacher and coach. As talented as they are young (average age of the receiving corps is 25.3), the group continues to grow and mature along with Kosar. Webster Slaughter caught 47 passes for a team-high 806 yards in 1987, and his seven TDs ranked fourth in the AFC among the top 15 WRs. Brian Brennan led all non-starting WRs in the AFC with 43 catches for 607 yards and six TDs.

"What a difference three years make," says Marty Schottenheimer. "I remember looking at film and counting the number of drops. Now we have reliable, sure-handed people who aren't afraid to go across the middle. Richard's done a commendable job, and we have healthy competition at this position. They've come a long way."

Mann describes his coaching mode as "demanding" and has been developing receivers for a dozen years on the collegiate level and more recently in the NFL. Among the college players he helped advance are Miami standout WR-Mark Clayton while at the University of Louisville. After that, Mann moved on to the pros with the Baltimore/Indianapolis Colts and did what Marty Schottenheimer describes as maximizing the Colts' receiving talent.

With the Colts, Mann worked under then-head coach Frank Kush, whom Mann played under, and later coached for, at Arizona State. At ASU, Mann was a three-year starter (first year at flanker) and caught 28 passes for 340 yards his final two seasons at tight end. After earning a B.S. degree in elementary education, Mann returned to his hometown high school (Aliquippa, Pa.) as a teacher and coach from 1970-74. Mann is a member of the Aliquippa Hall of Fame.

He returned to ASU and spent six years developing future NFLers like John Jefferson, Bruce Hardy and Jerry Bell. He then moved on to Louisville for two years, before joining Baltimore in 1982. He spent three seasons on that staff before coming to Cleveland in 1985.

Mann and his wife, Karen, have three children: Deven (10), Richard (8) and Mario (6), and they reside in Strongsville.

COACHING CAREER: 1974-79 (Arizona State); 1980-81 (Louisville); 1982-84 (Baltimore/Indianapolis, NFL); 1985-present (Browns).

In the last two years, the Browns' 22-9 regular season record is the AFC's best. Denver is second at 21-9-1.

HOWARD MUDD

Offensive Line

Born: February 10, 1942

6th Year Browns

17th Year Coaching
Hillsdale

In 1986 and 1987, Howard Mudd's offensive line consisted of: a 12th-rounder at left tackle subbing for an injured fourth-rounder, a 10th-rounder at left guard, a fifth-rounder at center, a free agent at right guard and a seventh-rounder at right tackle. Howard Mudd molded this conglomerate of youth and experience into a unit that led the Browns to their third consecutive AFC Central title and sent a player to the Pro Bowl (RT-Cody Risien).

Last season, the Browns allowed 29 sacks (the fourth-lowest in the AFC) and just 22 in the "union" games (avg. 1.8 per game). The Browns also averaged over 120 yards rushing in the last three games (all wins), and 151.1 yards per game in the playoffs. In 1986, this unit allowed just seven sacks in the final five regular season games and produced consecutive 100-plus yard rushing games in the last five regular season contests (which were all won by the Browns). In 1985, the offensive line paved the way for two 1,000-yard rushers in RBs Kevin Mack and Earnest Byner.

Mudd was a two-time All-Pro and three-time Pro Bowl performer for the 49ers for six seasons and two with the Chicago Bears after attending Hillsdale (Mich.) College and later gaining entrance into the NAIA Hall of Fame. He was also named to the All-1960s NFL team.

Howard began his coaching career as an assistant at the University of California in 1972 and two years later moved up to the pro level as the San Diego Chargers' offensive line coach. After returning to the 49ers in the same capacity in 1977, Mudd went to the Seattle Seahawks for five years before coming to Cleveland in 1983.

Howard and his wife, Marie, have a son, Darren, 19 (who is a sophomore lineman at Marshall University), and a daughter, Ami, 16. The Mudds reside in Medina.

COACHING CAREER: 1972-73 (U. California); 1974-76 (San Diego, NFL); 1977 (San Francisco, NFL); 1978-82 (Seattle, NFL); 1983-present (Browns).

Since Joe Pendry joined the Browns in 1984, Kevin Mack and Earnest Byner have accounted for 41% of the Browns' offense (6,367 yards from scrimmage). 1985 saw Mack and Byner become just the third running back duo in league history to rush for over 1,000 yards in the same season. 1986 saw Mack and Byner play together for just seven quarters due to injuries. And in 1987, Mack and Byner accounted for 958 and 984 total yards from scrimmage, respectively.

Although only 41 years of age, Pendry already has devoted 20 seasons to coaching and has worked with players at every offensive position. In 1986, RB-Herman Fontenot developed into a big-play threat catching the ball out of the backfield (47 catches for 559 yards), Earnest Byner caught 37 passes in just six games, and Kevin Mack was second in the AFC in rushing touchdowns with 10. This was a credit to Pendry's resourcefulness within the Browns' offensive scheme.

A spinal injury during his 1966 sophomore year at WVU cut short Pendry's promising playing career, but immediately opened the door to a coaching opportunity. Joe was a student/coach his final two undergraduate years with the Mountaineers, then was appointed grad assistant in 1969 before becoming head coach of the freshman squad in 1970. Back on the varsity staff, Pendry guided WVU receivers and offensive line from 1971 through '74.

After a year at Kansas State as offensive coordinator, he returned to West Virginia in the same capacity from 1976-77. He handled the University of Pittsburgh quarterbacks in 1978 and offensive line in 1979 before becoming Michigan State's offensive coordinator for the 1980-81 seasons.

Pendry's first move into pro football came with the USFL Philadelphia Stars, serving as offensive coordinator in a 15-3 season. He was named head coach of the Pittsburgh Maulers for 10 games in 1984.

A native of Matheny, W. Va., Pendry was an all-state performer in football, basketball and track at Oceana H.S. Joe and his wife, Sandi, live in Strongsville and have two children: Joe, 18, and Jill, 16.

COACHING CAREER: 1967-74, 1976-77, (West Virginia); 1975 (Kansas State); 1978-79 (Pittsburgh); 1980-81 (Michigan State); 1983 (Philadelphia Stars); 1984 (Pittsburgh Maulers, head coach); 1985-present (Browns).

TOM PRATT

Defensive Line

32nd Year Coaching
Miami (Fla.)

No coach on the Browns' staff has as much NFL coaching experience as Tom Pratt, who enters his 26th pro coaching season, and his 32nd in football. That experience rubs off on the Browns' defensive line, as they allowed the AFC's fewest rushing yards, allowed the NFL's fewest touchdowns and were, for most of the season, manned by a 34-year old defensive end (Carl Hairston), a linebacker turned nose tackle (Bob Golic) who earned his third straight trip to the Pro Bowl, and a converted basketball player (Sam Clancy) at the other defensive end. In addition, Pratt's troops also played a large part in the execution of the "Bear" or "46" defense initiated in 1987.

Tom Pratt tutors a defensive line that showed its true potential in the AFC playoffs in 1986 against the Jets (1/3/87), a titanic battle between two explosive offensive teams that was staged at Cleveland Stadium. For more than five quarters, New York quarterbacks were constantly harassed by a defensive unit that set an NFL postseason mark with nine quarterback sacks as Cleveland advanced into the AFC Championship game.

Pratt joined the Browns in 1981 after initially gaining recognition for his work with the Kansas City Chiefs, from 1963-77, including Super Bowl appearances following the 1966 and 1969 seasons. Most impressive defensively was the combination of Buck Buchanan, Curley Culp, Jerry Mays and Aaron Brown, Pratt's line.

After playing linebacker at the University of Miami from 1953 through 1956, Pratt stayed on as a Hurricane assistant for four years. He coached at Southern Mississippi from 1961-62, before joining Hank Stram's staff in Kansas City. Pratt rejoined Stram on the Saints' staff in New Orleans in 1978 and a year later was instrumental in the defense producing a team record 46 sacks.

DAVE REDDING

Strength and Conditioning

Born: June 14, 1952

Last March 28, Dave Redding opened the doors to the Browns' off-season program for the seventh time in as many years. The most players in the history of the program — over 60 — took part in the grueling daily workouts in hopes of making the opening day roster. Those assured of a spot know what it means to stay in top shape year-round. "They've made a commitment to go to the Super Bowl," Redding says. "This is where it all starts." Redding's reputation has grown to the point where players on other teams have sought out his services, including players from other Cleveland pro sports franchises and other NFL teams.

When Redding became the Browns' first strength coach in 1982, his main objective was simply to add strength to the players through weightlifting. Now, his program includes weightlifting but also places emphasis on flexibility, running, plyometric drills and speed enhancements. The former Nebraska defensive end has used karate, ballet, juggling and speed skating to improve balance and coordination, as well as increase explosive power.

Redding, who has developed a close relationship with the players over the years, had six years of strength coaching experience at Missouri (1978-81). He also coached defensive ends and was in charge of the football winter conditioning and fitness program for one season (1977) at Washington State University. He was a three-year letterman at defensive end at the University of Nebraska.

Upon completion of his B.S. degree in physical education, with a minor in public health, Redding became a graduate assistant football and strength coach at Nebraska. "Part of our success in the last two years is a result of the commitment we receive from the players participating in our off-season program," head coach Marty Schottenheimer points out. "Dave works our players hard and is able to keep them motivated. He is convinced that player participation increases the opportunity to be successful in the NFL."

Dave and his wife, Jane, a commercial artist, live in Medina with their newborn daughter, Taylor Reta.

KURT SCHOTTENHEIMER

Special Teams

Born: October 1, 1949

McDonald, Pa.

2nd Year Browns

12th Year Coaching

Miami (Fla.)

When Marty Schottenheimer was searching for a special teams' coach following the 1986 season (when Bill Cowher took over the secondary), one name, Kurt Schottenheimer, emerged consistently. "While I knew my brother is a good teacher and an excellent coach, I was pleased to hear it from all of the coaches Kurt had worked for in the past and other members of our staff. I knew I made the right choice from day one," said Marty, Kurt's older brother.

His first year on the Browns' staff was exceptionally challenging. A rookie kicker, deep snapper and a new holder were followed by the replacement players, and then came a complete overhaul of the kicking game. In all, the Browns employed four kickers, three punters and four holders in 1987. Yet the coverage units still ranked among the league's best. Opponents' 5.5-yard average-per-punt return was the fifth lowest in the NFL, and the 17 punt returns allowed was the league's lowest by far. Gerald McNeil was voted to the Pro Bowl as the AFC's best return man, and both K-Jeff Jaeger and C-Frank Winters were voted to the PFWA's All-Rookie team.

Schottenheimer, 38, joined the Browns with an impressive big-time collegiate background. He served as Lou Holtz's linebackers' coach at Notre Dame in 1986. Prior to that appointment, he spent two seasons (1984-85) as linebackers' coach for Louisiana State University under Bill Arnsparger. While at LSU, Kurt recommended that the Browns sign WR-Herman Fontenot as a free agent. Fontenot signed with the Browns, was switched to running back, and was the team's second-leading receiver in 1986 (47 catches for 559 yards) and a standout on special teams the past two years (he led the Browns with 17 special teams' tackles last season).

Kurt began his coaching career in 1974 as the defensive coordinator at William Paterson State College in New Jersey. He spent the 1977 season at Ridgefield Park (N.J.) High School. From 1978-82, he coached at Michigan State—the first two seasons with the secondary and the last three with the linebackers (among them, N.Y. Giants' LB-Carl Banks). Schottenheimer moved to Tulane in 1983 before going to the LSU Tigers in '84.

A graduate of Ft. Cherry High School in McDonald, Pa., Kurt became a J.C. All-America quarterback at Coffeyville (Kan.) Junior College (1967-68), where he led the nation in passing as a sophomore. He then started two years at the University of Miami (Fla.) as a defensive back and earned a B.A. degree in education in 1979.

Kurt, his wife Colleen Duffey, and two daughters, Steele (5) and Sloane (2) reside in Medina.

MARC TRESTMAN

Quarterbacks

Born: January 15, 1956
Minneapolis, Minn.

1st Year Browns
8th Year Coaching
Minnesota

Marc Trestman, recognized as one of the bright and promising young coaches in the NFL, joined the Browns as quarterback coach last February 29. No stranger to Bernie Kosar, Trestman, 32, has coached under some of the game's brightest coaches, such as Howard Schnellenberger, Bud Grant, Jerry Burns and Ray Perkins.

"We were fortunate to have a number of highly qualified coaches show interest in joining us (after Lindy Infante accepted the Green Bay Packers' head coaching job last February). We're excited to add Marc to our staff because he's an impressive young coach and the research we did on him shows that he's a skilled teacher, intelligent, and has high integrity," Browns' head coach Marty Schottenheimer says.

Trestman entered the NFL coaching ranks at the relatively young age of 29 with the Vikings as running backs' coach in 1985. After spending two seasons in Minnesota, Trestman worked last year (1987) as the quarterback coach of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. From 1981 through 1984, Marc worked at the University of Miami.

"I've been fortunate to learn from some quality coaches and, hopefully, they've helped me become a better coach," says Trestman. "I really look forward to working with Marty and the three quarterbacks here. Obviously, I have a fondness for Bernie, and Gary (Danielson) and Mike (Pagel) have both impressed me in the short time I've been here. The opportunity to come here and work with the Browns and the staff was one I couldn't pass up."

Trestman began his coaching career while attending law school at the University of Miami. In both 1981 and 1982, he served as a volunteer assistant, spending much of his time the second season with two redshirt freshman quarterbacks named Vinny Testaverde and Bernie Kosar. In 1983, Trestman was the quarterback coach; Kosar was the starter and Miami won the national championship. Trestman remained the quarterback teacher in 1984, Kosar's last collegiate season.

An outstanding athlete, Trestman played quarterback three years at Minnesota (1975-77), serving two seasons as a backup to Steeler defensive coordinator Tony Dungy. Marc played his senior year (1978) at Moorhead (Minn.) State University and was then signed by the Vikings as a free agent and later released during training camp in 1979. Marc re-signed with the Vikings in 1980 and was released in training camp.

Trestman was born Jan. 15, 1956, in Minneapolis where he attended St. Louis Park High School. As a senior quarterback, he was named All State and Prep All America, plus he played basketball and baseball. Marc earned a law degree from Miami and passed the Florida bar in 1983. He graduated from Minnesota with a B.A. in political science in 1979. He is single and resides in Strongsville.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1981-84 (Miami); 1985-86 (Minnesota, NFL); 1987 (Tampa Bay, NFL).

DARVIN WALLIS

Special Assistant/Defense
Born: February 14, 1949
Ft. Branch, Ind.
7th Year Browns
18th Year Coaching
Arizona

Tireless video breakdowns, computer analysis and play charting are invaluable tools in the overall methods used in today's modern and sophisticated coaching operations. Darvin Wallis enters his seventh year with the Browns, and while his productivity is well-known within the Browns' organization, his efforts are often overshadowed when the television camera lights illuminate.

Darvin is responsible for all of the game analysis, including film breakdown, computer analysis of self-scout defense and weekly opponents' offense. Darvin also is responsible for all defensive quality control and development studies and research. On the practice field, Darvin helps coach the secondary.

Prior to joining the Browns in 1982, Wallis coached the University of Mississippi's tight ends and tackles in 1980 and 1981, while also being strongly involved in the school's computer scouting system.

Described by head coach Marty Schottenheimer as a "real self-starter," Wallis is an avid runner during free times. After earning his undergraduate degree at Arizona, where he played defensive end, Darvin obtained his master's degree at Adams State in Colorado. He entered the coaching ranks in 1971 at Wilcox (Ariz.) High School, then became head coach at Ajo (Ariz.) High School in 1972 for four years.

Wallis returned to Adams State as offensive line coach in 1976 and then went to Tulane in 1978 as offensive line and strength coach before going on to Ole Miss.

Darvin, his wife Vicky, and children Darvin Leon, Jr. (5), Tyson Derek (2) and infant son Austin Kelby (3/14/88) live in Strongsville.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1976-77 (Adams State); 1978-79 (Tulane); 1980-81 (Mississippi); 1982-present (Browns).

BILL TESSENDORF

Head Trainer

Born: November 26, 1949

Chicago, Illinois

16th Year Browns

Northern Illinois

In his office at hours when most people are still sleeping, and often there until the late hours of the night, Bill Tessendorf and his staff are perhaps the hardest-working in the entire Browns' family.

"Bill Tessendorf is a dedicated, tireless worker who is a very, very valuable member of our organization," says owner Art Modell of the man who is entering his 16th year in the Browns' organization, including five as head trainer.

Tessendorf first joined the Browns as an assistant trainer in 1973 while working towards his master's degree in exercise physiology at Kent State. Bill did his undergraduate work at Northern Illinois University, graduating with a B.A. in 1971. He worked as a graduate assistant under Kent State coach Don James in 1971, then took a job as an elementary school teacher in the Dekalb (Ill.) Public School District in 1972.

He returned to Kent State a year later and began assisting veteran Browns' trainer, Leo Murphy, while working towards his master's, which he received in 1976. "Bill's a fine young man and we're lucky to have someone with his talents," Murphy said. "I feel very fortunate to have had the opportunity to work with Leo Murphy, Dr. (Vic) Ippolito, Dr. (John) Bergfeld and the other doctors on our staff. They have enhanced my professional career," Tessendorf added. Bill was recently elected treasurer of the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society.

Bill and his wife, Nan Jean, reside in Medina and are the parents of Amy Ann, who will turn five in February.

LEO MURPHY

Trainer

Born: October 24, 1923
Elmira, N.Y.

39th Year Browns
Notre Dame

No one in the Browns' organization has seen more players put on the familiar orange helmet than Leo Murphy. In fact, the ever-smiling Murphy has been with the Browns longer than any player on the team has been alive. The quick-witted trainer is beginning his 39th year with the Browns, dating back to 1950 when the All-America Football Conference and the National Football League merged.

In 1947, Murphy graduated from Notre Dame, then went on to work with the AAFC's Chicago Rockets and baseball's New York Yankees.

Murphy has long been regarded as one of the top trainers in the world, evidenced by his induction into the National Athletic Trainers' Association Hall of Fame in 1982. But if there is something Leo is even more famous for, it's his sparkling sense of humor, which has been a valuable asset in the training room for years.

Leo and his wife, Betty, have two children, Nancy and Martin, and three grandchildren. The Murphys live in Medina.

CHARLEY CUSICK

Equipment Manager

Born: October 7, 1950
San Bernadino, Calif.

19th Year Browns

Charley Cusick is a living example of what hard work and determination can do for an athlete who has resolved to make it to the pros, even after a severe injury has cut short his chance of playing the game.

Cusick, who has the talent and physique of a professional athlete, had his career cut short by a severe knee injury. However, the Lakewood High School product still found his way to professional football 18 years ago as an assistant to long-time Browns' equipment manager Morrie Kono.

In 1974, Cusick was named equipment manager, replacing Kono, a pioneer in the football equipment business.

As equipment manager, Cusick coordinates the purchasing and maintaining of equipment for the Browns, as well as the operations involved in transporting gear from Baldwin Wallace to training camp at Lakeland Community College, Cleveland Stadium, road sites and on to the off-season training headquarters at Big Creek Racquet Club.

The task presented to Cusick and his staff during the 1987 players' strike, with over 130 players being outfitted during a few weeks' time, was enormous. Cusick and his staff also equipped the AFC Pro Bowl squad each of the last two seasons.

Cusick lives in Bay Village with his wife, Patty.

DOM ANILE

Area Scout

Born: December 19, 1937

Brooklyn, N.Y.

C.W. Post

Dom Anile capped off a brilliant 24-year college coaching career by joining the Browns as an area scout six years ago. Prior to working for the Browns on a fulltime basis, Anile worked three consecutive training camps with the club as an assistant to the offensive line coach.

A Brooklyn, N.Y. native, Anile is a 1959 graduate of C.W. Post. He was a three-year letter winner in both football and baseball at Post, where he captained the football team two years and was MVP as a senior. Immediately after attending graduate school at Brooklyn College, Anile began his coaching career and served in a number of capacities, including offensive coordinator at Post from 1959 to 1967.

In 1968, he was named head coach at Post and became one of the most successful college division coaches during the next 12 years. His teams compiled an 84-33-1 (.716) record and twice won the Lambert Bowl as the East's top team — 1973 (10-1) and 1976 (8-2).

Selected as Eastern College Coach of the Year in 1973, Anile was also picked as New York's Metropolitan Coach of the Year four times. Dom, who makes his home in Strongsville, joined the Columbia staff in 1980 and was the team's offensive coordinator prior to accepting the Browns' position.

WAIVERS

The waiver system is a procedure by which player contracts or NFL rights to players are made available by a club to other clubs in the league. During the procedure the 27 other clubs either file claims to obtain the players or waive the opportunity to do so — thus the term "waiver." Claiming clubs are assigned players on a priority based on the inverse of won-and-lost standing. The claiming period normally is 10 days during the offseason and 24 hours from early July through December. In some circumstances another 24 hours is added on to allow the original club to recind its action (known as a recall of a waiver request) and/or the claiming club to do the same (known as withdrawal of a claim). If a player passes through waivers unclaimed and is not recalled by the original club, he becomes a free agent. All waivers from July through December are no-recall and no withdrawal. Under the Collective Bargaining Agreement, from February 1 through October 15, any veteran who has acquired four years of pension credit may, if about to be assigned to another club through the waiver system, reject such assignment and become a free agent.

TOM DIMITROFFArea Scout*Born: June 6, 1935
Barberton, O.*2nd Year Browns
Miami University (Ohio)

Tom Dimitroff received just the right opportunity to return to his home state when he joined the Browns prior to the 1987 draft. A determined, hard-working 31-year veteran of football, Dimitroff enters his second full year with the Browns, having already scouted for the 1987 and '88 drafts.

Tom, a 1953 graduate of Barberton H.S. and Miami University (Ohio), was a quarterback for the Ottawa Rough Riders of the Canadian Football League (1957-58), and the American Football League's Boston Patriots (1960). After football, Dimitroff managed an Akron restaurant for four years, then started his coaching career as an assistant for Wadsworth H.S. (1965-68) and Barberton H.S. (1968-69). He began coaching on a collegiate level as an assistant at Miami (Ohio) from 1969-72, and then at Kansas State University in 1973. He moved into the professional ranks in 1974 as the offensive coordinator for the Ottawa Rough Riders (through 1977).

In 1978, Dimitroff was named head coach of the Hamilton Tiger Cats, and then returned to the collegiate level as head coach of the University of Guelph (1979-83), where his five-year record was 21-13-1. Rejoining the Rough Riders in 1984, he served as an assistant coach and offensive coordinator, later moving over to the scouting department as director of player personnel (1985-86).

An avid racquetball player, Tom and his wife Helen have three children, Randy (26), Sharon (25) and Thomas (22). The Dimitroff family currently resides in Strongsville.

GARY HORTONArea Scout*Born: May 6, 1947
Santa Monica, Calif.*2nd Year Browns
L.A. Baptist College

Gary Horton, a 15-year veteran of major college and pro football experience, is a dedicated and tireless worker who does his homework when it comes to evaluating football talent, as evidenced by his past achievements in his field. Gary joined the Browns in 1987 after serving for four years with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers.

Horton attended Chaffey Junior College and Cal State Northridge, where he played football and earned two letters. He received his bachelor of science degree from L.A. Baptist College in 1969. After college, Horton taught school and coached at Scottsdale (Ariz.) H.S. from 1970-71, and at Marcos DeNica (Tempe, Ariz.) H.S. in 1972. He joined Arizona State's coaching staff and served as Frank Kush's chief recruiter from 1973-79.

Serving as Director of Player Personnel at Illinois (1979-82), Horton concentrated on player evaluation and recruitment. While with the Fighting Illini, he was credited with recruiting a number of standout junior college players, including current NFL quarterbacks Tony Eason and Dave Wilson. Horton joined the Bucs as a college personnel scout (1983-86) and covered the eastern region of the United States.

Gary lives in the Cleveland suburb of Brookpark.

MIKE LOMBARDI

Area Scout

Born: June 19, 1959

Ocean City, N.J.

2nd Year Browns

Hofstra University

Mike Lombardi joined the Browns' scouting staff in 1987 and has quickly established himself as a fine judge of football talent. Not a newcomer to college scouting, Lombardi served on the San Francisco 49ers personnel staff for three years (1984-87) prior to joining the Browns. Mike's evaluation techniques and past successes are impressive considering his age (29).

Lombardi grew up in Ocean City, N.J., and lettered in both football and baseball at Valley Forge Military Academy (Wayne, Pa.). He attended Hofstra University (1978-81), where he played nose tackle for the Flying Dutchmen. He started his football career as defensive line coach and recruiting coordinator at the University of Nevada-Las Vegas (1982-83).

Just prior to the 1984 NFL Draft, Lombardi joined the 49ers' staff (1984-87), and coordinated all scouting reports in addition to evaluating college talent in the northeast region before switching to the southwest and western regions in 1985.

Mike and his wife, Millie Kluzinski, reside in Strongsville and are expecting their first child in October.

PRO: The "heart and soul" of the Browns' offense ... Not counting the 1986 postseason, when he was just activated off of IR and caught one pass for four yards in limited action, has amassed 506 yards total offense in only three playoff games in his career (avg., 168.7 yards per game) ... Has rushed for 350 yards on 54 carries (6.5 avg., second-best in NFL postseason history) and four TDs, while grabbing 12 passes for 160 yards and two TDs ... Owns Cleveland's top two postseason single-game rushing marks (161 yards at Miami, 1/4/86; 122 yards vs. Colts, 1/9/88) ... Jim Brown held mark for 21 years (114 yards, 12/27/64 vs. Baltimore) ... In regular season action, Byner's 134 catches in the last three years are second only to Ozzie Newsome's 135 ... Enters 1988 in eighth place in Browns' career rushing yardage with 2,137 ... Originally drafted in 10th round in 1984 (280th overall) and the Browns' last pick ... Has cracked century mark in rushing six times and has 14 career games in which he has gained 100 or more all-purpose yards ... Has caught at least two passes in 35 games during career, and three or more 25 times ... Has scored 27 career TDs to rank 18th on all-time scoring list, one TD ahead of partner Kevin Mack.

Rushed for 432 yards on 105 carries (4.1 avg.) and scored club-high eight rushing TDs ... Finished second in AFC in non-kicking scoring with 60 points behind Jets' RB-Johnny Hector (66) ... Caught at least two passes in every game ... Caught season-high eight passes twice (at N.O., 9/13, and at S.F., 11/29) ... Caught at least four passes in seven of 12 games ... Cracked career 1,000-yard receiving mark at San Diego (11/1) ... Surpassed 2,000 yard career rushing mark vs. Colts (12/6) ... Won AFC Offensive Player of the Week with 3 TD effort vs. Falcons (11/8) ... Scored on runs of three and five yards, while grabbing a four-yarder from Kosar

... Also accounted for eight of 24 first downs ... Was the first Brown to score three TDs since Mike Pruitt scored three vs. Houston (12/11/83) ... Totalled 984 yards from scrimmage (9th AFC) ... Rushed for 122 yards on 23 carries (5.3 avg.) and a TD vs. Indianapolis (1/9/88) in Browns' 38-21 divisional playoff win after running mate Kevin Mack left the game in the second quarter with a stomach virus ... Also grabbed four passes for 36 yards and a TD, while accounting for 11 of Cleveland's 25 first downs and earning game ball for effort ... Last-minute fumble in Denver (AFC Championship, 1/17/88) overshadowed 187 total net yards, including seven catches for 120 yards (one for a TD) and 15 carries for 67 yards and a TD ... Named second-team All-Pro by UPI.

1986: Missed action for the first time in his pro career with an ankle injury suffered in week seven vs. Green Bay (10/19) ... Underwent surgery on 10/23 and didn't return to lineup until AFC Championship game (1/11/87) after spending nine weeks on injured reserve ... Teamed with Kevin Mack only seven quarters after they combined for multiple 1,000-yard season in 1985 (see 1985) ... Missed playoff victory over Jets (1/3/87) and was activated for the AFC Championship game (1/11/87) ... When placed on IR, led club in rushing (277 yards on 94 carries, 2.9 avg., 2 TDs) and receiving (37 for 328 yards, 8.9 avg., 2 TDs) ... At time of injury, was second among RBs in AFC in receptions ... Was on pace to catch 90 passes, averaging almost six receptions-per-game through first six contests ... Caught regular season career-long 40-yard reception at Chicago in opener (9/7) en route to regular season career-high 94-yard day (six receptions) ... Grabbed career-high 10 passes vs. Cincinnati (9/18) ... Had an 11-game pass reception streak snapped by injury ... Saw limited action in AFC Championship game and caught one pass for four yards ... Hometown of Milledgeville, Ga. saluted him with "Earnest Byner Day" during '86 offseason.

1985: Topped outstanding second season (first as a fulltime starter) with a brilliant individual effort in playoff loss at Miami ... Broke three Browns' postseason records: most yards rushing (161; old record held by Jim Brown, 114, vs. Baltimore in 1964); longest run (66t; old mark held by Leroy Kelly, 46, vs. Dallas in '67); and highest average per carry (10.06; 8.25 by Otto Graham vs. L.A. in 1950) ... Also scored two TDs (66 and 21 yards) and caught four passes for 25 yards ... Gained nine tough yards on last play of regular season to reach 1,000 yards rushing, teaming with rookie mate Kevin Mack (1,104) to become the third duo in NFL history to each gain 1,000 yards in same season (Miami's Larry Csonka (1,117) and Mercury Morris (1,000) did it in 1972; and Steeler's Franco Harris (1,128) and Rocky Bleier (1,036) accomplished it in 1976) ... Only Jim Brown (1,863) and Ernie Green (526) in 1963 (2,389) were a more productive RB tandem in Browns' history than Byner and Mack's 2,106 ... Ranked as NFL's most productive RB duo in '85, ahead of Raiders' Allen and Hawkins (2,028) and Bears' Payton and Suhey (2,022) ... Byner's 1,462 total yards from scrimmage led team and ranked sixth in AFC and 13th in NFL, while his 1,002 yards rushing ranked sixth and 12th, respectively ... 10 TDs ranked sixth best in conference ... Ranked second on team with 45 receptions for 460 yards (10.2 avg.) and two TDs ... 22 rushing attempts vs. Oilers (week 15) was career high and was most by Cleveland RB in '85 ... Cracked century mark in all-purpose yardage six times, including season-high 131 vs. Steelers (9/16) ... Missed three starts because of two TE, one back offense (both Bengals' games and at Giants) ... Honored by Akron Browns' Backers, along with Kevin Mack, as co-MVP of Year.

1984: Increased playing time as year progressed until closing out rookie campaign as an integral part of team's offense ... 5.9 yard average-per-carry (426 yards on 72 attempts) was highest among any AFC RB and second in NFL to Saints' Hokie Gajan's 6.0 avg. ... Third-leading rusher on team behind Boyce Green (673) and Mike Pruitt (506) ... 188 yards rushing (21 carries) at Houston (12/16) in season finale is still second highest total ever by a Cleveland rookie and most by a Browns' RB since Greg Pruitt had 191 in 1976 (HOFer Jim Brown had a rookie and team record 237 in 1957) ... After playing mostly special teams first nine games (eight carries for 28 yards), burst onto the scene in Buffalo (11/4) when he scooped up a WR-Willis Adams fumble and scampered 55 yards (only Don Paul's 89-yarder in '57 is longer in club history) for the game-winning TD in the fourth quarter ... DAVE ADOLPH ON NT-BOB GOLIC: "Bob Golic is in a position where he's never going to make a lot of tackles because he's got one or two blockers on him all the time ... We don't want him to hit the center, fly off and make plays. We want him to push and push and push on the center and handle the play-side gap. If the ball doesn't show up there, he won't make the tackle. That's our theory of defense ... We want our nose-guard to keep the center on their side of the line of scrimmage so our linebackers can freely flow to the football. We think Bob Golic does that better than anybody in the National Football League."

BOB GOLIC EXPLAINING THE NOSE TACKLE POSITION: "When I first got here they said, 'Your job is to occupy the center and both guards, to keep them away from the linebackers, because they make more money than you do.' I asked them about tackles and they said, 'You don't have to make tackles, just let people hit you.'"

PRO: The youngest starting quarterback in the NFL has stepped into the forefront as one of the league's elite signal-callers ... 1987 should have been Kosar's first season in the league ... Instead, the 24-year old has led the Browns to three straight AFC Central titles —

one for each year in the league — and to two straight AFC Championship games ... Kosar and Dan Marino of the Dolphins are the only two QBs in league history to have led their clubs to three straight divisional crowns in their first three years in the league, and no QB has done it four times ... Won AFC passing crown last season (see 1987) with a 95.4 QB rating, and topped that with a 105.4 rating in the playoffs ... Joined the Browns as the youngest quarterback in team history, with two years of college eligibility remaining ... Graduated from Miami in only three years ... Is twelve days younger than QB-Vinny Testaverde of Tampa Bay, who succeeded him at Miami, and was the first pick in '87 draft ... Browns obtained Kosar in a trade involving Bills: Cleveland sent Buffalo four draft choices—two number ones (1985 and 1986), a third (1985) and a sixth (1986)—for Bills' first pick in the "Kosar" supplemental draft ... Kosar was ineligible for regular 1985 draft due to underclassman status ... Graduated from Miami in June of 1985 with a double major (finance and economics), became eligible and a special draft was held ... Signed on 7/2/85 ... Already owns five Browns' all-time passing records, including: most yards passing, game (489 vs. Jets, 1/3/87, playoffs); most passes attempted, game (64 vs. Jets, 1/3/87); most passes completed, game (33, tied with Brian Sipe, vs. Jets, 1/3/87); lowest interception rate, career (2.2%, 26 of 1,168, min. 750 attempts.); lowest interception rate, season (1.88%, 1986, 10 of 531) ... Playoff performance (attempts and yardage) vs. Jets (1986) set NFL postseason records, and completions tied Dan Fouts' postseason record ... Set an AFC Championship game record last season by completing 26 of 41 passes for 356 yards at Denver (1/17/88) ... Has enjoyed three of five top passing days in club history (489 yards vs. Jets, 1/3/87; 414 vs. Pittsburgh, 11/23/86; 401 vs. Miami, 11/11/86) ... Needs to throw 332 passes to qualify for the NFL's all-time passing list (a player needs 1,500 attempts to qualify) ... Kosar's pre-1988 QB rating of 84.6 would place him fifth among all-time quarterbacks ... Needs to throw for 1,261 yards to move past Milt Plum and Bill Nelsen into fourth-place on the Browns' all-time passing yardage list ... Currently ranks fifth among all NFL starters (min. 40 starts) in regular season winning percentage with a 24-14 (.632) record ... Is 2-3 in playoffs, with the total margin of defeat in the three losses totalling 11 points ... The margin of the two victories has been 20 points ... Is 20-8 (.714) the last two years during regular season ... In December the last two years, Kosar has completed 127 of 219 passes (58.0%) for 1,698 yards, 12 TDs, two INTs and a QB rating of 97.2, while compiling a 6-1 record ... Has thrown a TD pass in 17 straight

KOSAR ON HIS YOUTH (TURNED 24 ON 11/25/87): "Age is no excuse for failure."

TE-OZZIE NEWSOME ON KOSAR: "Nothing Bernie does surprises me. To think he's only just finished his third year. If he doesn't get injured, he could be one of the best of all time. He's so cool. All he asks is for the offensive line to give him some time and for the receivers to run their routes. He'll do the rest."

HALL OF FAME QB-JOE NAMATH ON KOSAR: "So many of his passes are released before the receiver has turned around. His timing is wonderful."

RAIDER DE-HOWIE LONG ON KOSAR: "It's so frustrating with a guy like Kosar. He's not even looking at you, but he can tell you're there and the pass is gone. He and the guy down in Miami (Dan Marino) have an incredible release."

KOSAR ON LEADING THE AFC IN PASSING IN 1987: "I take more satisfaction in our team winning its third Central Division championship in a row than winning some passing contest."

PRO: Pro Bowl return specialist whose lightning fast speed and acceleration ignites Cleveland fans on each return ... Dangerous return man whose fearless sprints upfield, coupled with his size and his elusive, slippery returns, inspired former Browns' P-Jeff Gossett to "christen" McNeil "The Ice Cube" ... Is the lightest player in the NFL ... Signed with the Browns on 8/12/86 after two seasons with the USFL Houston Gamblers ... Exploded into NFL record books in first year by returning both a kickoff and punt for a touchdown in 1986, the first player to accomplish that feat since Washington's Tony Green in 1978 ... Set club mark with an 84-yard punt return for a TD vs. Detroit (9/28/86, see 1986) ... Broke club record by amassing 386 punt return yards in 1987, after gaining 348 in '86 ... Those totals represent two of top three single-season punt return yardage marks ... On pace to set standards for most punt returns and yardage in club history in 1988 ... Has returned 74 career punts for 734 yards (9.9 avg.) ... Needs 257 yards to pass Leroy Kelly (990), and 38 punt returns to move past Dino Hall (111) to take the lead in each category ... Has returned 58 kickoffs for 1,202 yards (20.7 avg.) to rank ninth on Browns' all-time kickoff return list in average and yards and seventh in returns ... Raced 100 yards for a TD, the third-longest KO return in club history on 10/5/86 at Pittsburgh (see 1986) ... Has made most of nine career catches (for 129 yards), as two have been for TDs ... USFL stats include 33 games played; 91 receptions for 1,518 yards (16.7 avg.); seven TDs ... Returned 70 punts for 828 yards (11.8 yard avg.) and three TDs ... Named to the Sporting News All-USFL team after 1985 season when he led the league with a 12.6-yard punt return average and two TDs ... 1987: Named as the AFC's return specialist for Pro Bowl ... Finished fourth in AFC with an 11.4-yard punt return avg ... Average should have been even higher, as he had two returns for TDs (73 and 92 yards) nullified due to penalties ... Average topped 1986's 8.7 mark ... Fearlessly called for only nine fair catches ... Backed up Glen Young as kickoff returner (Young missed three games with injuries), and returned 11 for 205 yards (18.6 avg.) ... Averaged 19.3 yards-per-punt return at Houston (11/22), constantly providing the Browns with excellent field position as Browns' romped, 40-7 ... Also caught second career TD, a 39-yard Kosar pass ... Was one of career-high three receptions (for 66 yards) in front of hometown friends ... Had second punt return for TD of season nullified due to an illegal block vs. Buffalo (73 yards, also had a 92-yarder called back at San Diego, 11/1) ... S-CHRIS ROCKINS ON THE "BEAR" DEFENSE: "It gives guys more freedom to go out and just play ball. With all of those different coverages you have to use against teams that change formations three or four times before they snap the ball, a lot of guys don't play as aggressively because there are so many things going on. But when we come in and play basic defense like the "Bear", where we're not going to change no matter what they do, I think that's allowed us to play a lot harder. We can pin our ears back and go."

INSTANT REPLAY APPROVED FOR 1988

For the third consecutive year, NFL clubs have approved a limited system of Instant Replay on a one-year basis.

The system basically stays the same as in 1987 with the exception that the Replay Official will now be assigned to a regular officiating crew and will attend crew meetings the day before each game. League office personnel will no longer be used as Replay Officials. In 1987, there were 490 plays closely reviewed (defined as a contact to the field, but not necessarily stoppage of play). There were 57 reversals in 210 games for an average of one reversal in each four games. In 1986, there were 374 plays closely reviewed resulting in 38 reversals in 224 games.

In 1986, the system was approved by a 23-4-1 vote. In 1987, the vote was 21-7. In 1988, replay was cleared by a 23-5 margin.

The NFL has discussed Instant Replay in some degree or other since the early 1970s. The League experimented in 1976 and 1978 using two basic frameworks—an independent system using cameras, replay machines, and technicians separate from the network covering the game, and a “no frills” approach using existing television coverage.

In 1985, the NFL used the network feed of nine nationally televised pre-season games to experiment with the basic system that later was adopted for 1986 and 1987. A total of 28 plays were examined closely in 1985 (17 confirmed call, 4 were inconclusive, 1 was reversed, and 6 had no replay shown).

SUNDAY, SEPT. 13 — New Orleans 28, BROWNS 21 (59,900) at The Louisiana Superdome. The Browns dropped their fifth straight regular-season opener, 28-21, in New Orleans, coinciding with The Pope's visit to the Crescent City. Hindered by poor field position (no drive began beyond their own 20-yard line), an excellent Saints' ground attack (191 rushing yards), and heavy pressure from the New Orleans' defensive line (four sacks including two safeties), the Browns dropped to 0-1. The loss broke a string of six consecutive regular-season Cleveland victories, dating back to the final weeks of the 1986 season.

QB-Bernie Kosar marched the Browns on touchdown drives of 88, 85 and 82 yards, while completing 28 of 39 passes for 314 yards, two TDs, and one INT. He also ran three yards for a score to knot the game, 21-21, with 12:37 remaining in the contest. His two scoring passes went to WR-Clarence Weathers (seven yards) and WR-Brian Brennan (30 yards).

RB-Rueben Mayes gained 147 yards on 24 carries to pace the Saints' offense. In the see-saw contest, which saw the Browns tie the game three times, the difference turned out to be the Saints' pressure on Kosar and their kicking game. On five punts, New Orleans' P-Brian Hansen placed all five inside the Browns' 20-yard line, while K-Morten Andersen connected on a 39-yard field goal.

SUNDAY, SEPT. 20 — BROWNS 34, Steelers 10 (79,543) at Cleveland Stadium. The Browns intercepted the Steelers six times and limited the Pittsburgh running game to 58 total yards en route to a convincing 34-10 victory. The win evened the Browns record at 1-1 and gave them an ever important inter-divisional victory over arch-rival Pittsburgh. A capacity crowd witnessed the Browns score the game's last 24 points, limit the Steelers to one second-half rushing yard and record five interceptions in the last two quarters. LB-Clay Matthews (one a 26-yard touchdown) and S-Chris Rockins each recorded two interceptions, while LB-Mike Johnson and CB-Frank Minnifield each added thefts.

Rookie PK-Jeff Jaeger hit the first of two field goals (29 and 23 yards) to open the scoring and FB-Kevin Mack powered into the endzone from one-yard to make the score 10-0, Browns, in the second quarter. Pittsburgh countered with a Gary Anderson three-pointer (27-yards) and a S-Donnie Shell 19-yard fumble return to knot the score, 10-10. After that it was all Cleveland, as QB-Bernie Kosar (17 of 29 for 174 yards and two TDs) hit WR-Gerald McNeil on an 11-yard scoring strike (McNeil's first TD reception in the NFL). That play, as well as the remaining Cleveland scores, were set up by interceptions.

Jaeger nailed his second three-pointer, and then Matthews picked off a Mark Malone pass and jaunted 26 yards into the endzone. The final score came on a Kosar to WR-Clarence Weathers' 37-yard scoring pass. The Browns recorded four QB sacks on the day, while RB-Earnest Byner and FB-Kevin Mack each rushed for 53 yards (on 12 and 14 carries, respectively). Mack led all receivers with eight catches for 45 yards, and TE-Ozzie Newsome extended his consecutive game receiving streak to 116 games.

SUNDAY, OCT. 4 — BROWNS 20, Patriots 10 (14,830) at Sullivan Stadium. The Browns, behind first-year RB-Larry Mason's 133 rushing yards, defeated the New England Patriots 20-10 in the NFL's first weekend of "replacement games" for non-union players. Played in a wet, cold and windy Sullivan Stadium, the game featured a strong Browns' running attack that totaled 217 yards on the day, compared to the Patriots' 31. The Cleveland defense shut out the Patriots in the second half, limited New England to 141 net yards and did not allow the home team to convert a third-down conversion (Pats were 0-13). Mason, who joined the club on the Friday before the game, rushed 32 times for 133 yards and scored both of Cleveland's touchdowns. K-Brian Franco added seven of the remaining eight points on field goals of 28 and 21 yards (his 37-yard attempt in the second quarter hit the right upright of the goalpost) and one PAT. P-Dale Walters, who was holding on all placements, threw to TE-Chris Kelley for the other conversion when the snap was muffed. QB-Jeff Christensen completed 10 of 30 passes for 135 yards and no interceptions. A strong offensive line surge, led by RT-Keith Bosley, RG-Mark Krerowicz, C-Mike Katolin, LG-Blake Wingle, LG-Mike Tiefke and LT-Ralph Van Dyke, dominated New England's line throughout the day, enabling Cleveland to hold a 37:01 to 22:59 time of possession advantage. The defense, ranked first in the AFC, sacked New England QB-Bobby Bleir three times (two by LB-Mike Crawford) and limited RB-Tony Collins to 24 yards on 15 carries (1.6 avg.). The victory improved the Browns record to 2-1, tying them for first in the AFC Central with Pittsburgh and Houston.

SUNDAY, OCT. 11 — Oilers 15, BROWNS 10 (38,927) at Cleveland Stadium. The Browns dropped a 15-10 contest to the Houston Oilers before 38,927 fans, the second-largest crowd in the NFL during the second week of the NFLPA strike. The 10 points scored represents the fewest points scored by a Browns' team since the 1985 season finale against the New York Jets. Cleveland was able to generate only nine first downs (two via the rush) and held the ball just 19 minutes and 24 seconds (compared to Houston's 40:36).

Cleveland jumped to a 3-0 lead when K-Brian Franco connected on a 26-yard field goal with 6:09 elapsed into the first quarter. The three pointer was set-up when S-Alvin Horn intercepted a Brent Pease pass and returned it 28 yards to the Houston five-yard line.

Houston countered with a six-play, 37-yard second-quarter drive to take a 7-3 lead, as Pease hit WR-Keith McDonald on a 15-yard scoring strike. Houston K-John Diettrich connected on the first of two FGs, a 45-yarder to give the Oilers a 10-3 lead in the third quarter, then nailed a 23-yarder with 1:20 left in the third period to make the score 13-3. The Browns then drove 90 yard in nine plays capped by a QB-Jeff Christensen (13 of 27, 152 yards, one TD and three INTs) five-yard toss to RB-Larry Mason to narrow the margin to 13-10, Oilers. The final score came when DE-Jesse Baker sacked Christensen in the endzone for a safety to give Houston the 15-10 win. The loss dropped Cleveland to 2-2 and a three-way tie for second place in the AFC Central, while Houston took over first place with a 3-1 record.

SUNDAY, OCT. 18 — BROWNS 34, Bengals 0 (40,179) at Riverfront Stadium. The Browns traveled to Cincinnati and shut out the Bengals for the first time ever, 34-0, to move into a tie for first place in the AFC Central with a 3-2 record. Cleveland totally dominated the Bengals on both sides of the ball, out-gaining the Bengals 410 yards to 95. While the offense rolled-up 29 first downs (to Cincy's six), the defense recorded their first shutout since 11/10/83, when they blanked the New England Patriots by a 30-0 score.

QB-Gary Danielson threw four touchdown passes, completing 25 of 31 for 281 yards before exiting the game in the fourth period. His favorite target was WR-Brian Brennan, who caught a career-high 10 passes for 139 yards and scored the game's first TD on a six-yarder from Danielson. WR-Perry Kemp grabbed five passes for 70 yards and two TDs, while TE-Ozzie Newsome caught four passes for 29 yards to extend his consecutive game pass receiving streak to 117 games. TE-Derek Tennell caught the other TD pass, a three-yarder from Danielson. RB-Larry Mason rushed for 69 yards on 20 carries and PK-Jeff Jaeger nailed FGs of 45 and 33 yards.

The Browns' top-ranked defense allowed the Bengals a mere 17:48 of possession time, yielded just 30 passing yards and only 65 rushing yards. DE-Carl Hairston and NT-Mike Rusinek each recorded a five-yard sack and CB-Alvin Horn forced a fumble that set-up a field goal.

MONDAY, OCT. 26 — BROWNS 30, Rams 17 (76,933) at Cleveland Stadium. A national television audience watched the Browns explode to a 20-0 mid-second quarter lead over the Rams, en route to a 30-17 victory. The win improved their record to 4-2, good for a first-place tie in the AFC Central with Houston and Pittsburgh. S-Felix Wright picked off two Jim Everett passes and returned one 40 yards for a TD and the other 68 yards to set-up the game's first score. His first theft stopped a Ram drive on the Cleveland six-yard line. K-Jeff Jaeger hit three of four FGs (23, 48, 41, 47NG) on the night. FB-Kevin Mack bowled 16 yards for the game's first TD, and QB-Bernie Kosar completed 19 of 30 passes for 223 yards, including a 53-yard scoring bomb to WR-Brian Brennan. Cleveland's top-ranked defense limited Everett to a 21 of 50 for 227 yards, three interception game.

SUNDAY, NOV. 1 — San Diego 27, BROWNS 24 (OT) (55,381) at Jack Murphy Stadium. The Browns dropped to 4-3 on the 1987 campaign with a 27-24 overtime loss to the AFC Western Division leaders. The Browns lost a 24-14 third-quarter lead, allowing San Diego to tie and eventually win the game in overtime. In OT, San Diego FS-Vencie Glenn intercepted a Bernie Kosar pass on the Browns' 45-yard line and returned it 25 yards to the Cleveland 20. Three plays later, Vince Abbott nailed the game-winning 33-yard FG with 2:16 elapsed in the fifth period. The contest saw QBs-Bernie Kosar (24 of 42, 298 yards, 2 TDs, 2 INTs) and Dan Fouts (25 of 42, 315 yards, 2 TDs, 1 INT) rally their clubs from deficits.

The Chargers' first score, a 15-yard Lionel James run was set up when former Cleveland LB-Chip Banks picked off Kosar's second pass of the game. Cleveland countered with a 10-play, 71-yard drive that ended with a Kosar to WR-Webster Slaughter (5 catches, 74 yards) 20-yard scoring strike. After Fouts hit TE-Rod Bernstine with a 10-yard TD pass to culminate an 82-yard drive, the Browns' Brian Brennan caught a perfectly thrown 41-yard Kosar pass to tie the game at intermission.

The Browns scored the first 10 points of the second half when K-Jeff Jaeger hit a 41-yard FG and RB-Earnest Byner dove one yard for a TD. In the fourth quarter, Fouts threw a 22-yard TD pass to James (4 catches, 90 yards) and Abbott hit on a 10-yard FG to tie the game at 24 with 1:46 left in regulation time.

PR-Gerald McNeil (2-30 yards) broke an apparent 92-yard punt return for a score in the second quarter, but an illegal block nullified the return. Although Kosar hit Brennan on a scoring pass in the ensuing drive, he later threw a 50-yard scoring toss to Slaughter that was also nullified due to an illegal pick.

SUNDAY, NOV. 8 — BROWNS 38, Falcons 3 (71,135) at Cleveland Stadium. The Browns unleashed their running game by rolling for 173 yards on 40 carries and 12 rushing first downs en route to a convincing 38-3 victory over the Atlanta Falcons. Meanwhile, the Browns' top-ranked defense held Atlanta to 243 total net yards. QB-Bernie Kosar led a well-balanced passing game by throwing for 192 yards and two TDs while completing 13 of 23 passes with no interceptions. A patched up offensive line (with starting LT-Rickey Bolden out for the season with a broken leg) didn't allow a sack and paved the way for the second-highest rushing total of the season (the highest excluding the replacement games). RB-Earnest Byner scored three touchdowns — all in the third period — on runs of three and five yards and added a four-yard scoring reception from Kosar. Rookie FB-Tim Manoa led all Cleveland rushers with 61 yards on seven carries, including a season team-long 35-yarder. FB-Kevin Mack added 52 yards on 18 carries, while Byner carried 10 times for 29 yards. WR-Webster Slaughter (two catches for 70 yards) electrified the crowd with a 54-yard pass from Kosar to open the scoring for the Browns.

Defensively, Cleveland sacked Falcon QB-Scott Campbell seven times (most this season). Dave Puuzzioli led the charge with 2 1/2 sacks (DE-Al Baker was credited with 1/2 sack) while DE-Carl Hairston, LB-Clay Matthews, LB-Eddie Johnson and DB-Mark Harper each added a sack. CB-Hanford Dixon recorded his 22nd career interception and the Browns held Campbell to 169 passing yards. Not to be outdone, the Browns' special teams had their best game of the season. WR-Clarence Weathers, playing on the punt block unit for the first time in his career, blocked a Rick Donnelly punt in the third period, leading to the Browns' fifth TD of the day (Kosar to Byner). Weathers also caught three passes for 42 yards. PR-Gerald McNeil totalled 92 return yards including a 40, 32 and a 13-yarder. The win improved the Browns' record to 5-3 and put them in a three-way tie for first place in the AFC Central.

SUNDAY, NOV. 15 — BROWNS 27, Bills 21 (78,409) at Cleveland Stadium. Bernie Kosar threw for 346 yards while completing 24 of 34 passes and two TDs, as the Browns edged the Buffalo Bills by a 27-21 count before 78,409 fans at Cleveland Stadium. WR-Webster Slaughter caught four passes for 78 yards, including a 52-yard third-quarter TD pass. Nine different receivers caught passes, with RB-Earnest Byner catching six for 64 yards, including five in the first half. Reggie Langhorne caught two passes for 25 yards, including a 15-yard Kosar touchdown pass for the Browns' first TD. RB-Kevin Mack led all rushers with 17 carries for 48 yards, while Byner added 10 carries for 21 yards.

Defensively, Cleveland allowed just 61 rushing yards on 20 carries and sacked Buffalo QB-Jim Kelly three times. Kelly (22 of 35 for 222 yards) threw two fourth-quarter TDs to pull Buffalo within six, 27-21, but the Cleveland defense shut out the much-improved Bills offense through the first three quarters. In fact, Kelly was Buffalo's leading rusher, gaining 42 yards on four carries. Both clubs scored on fumble returns, as Buffalo S-Mark Kelso returned a Kevin Mack fumble 56 yards to spot the Bills a 7-3 lead and Cleveland S-Ray Ellis rambled 27 yards for his first career TD to give the Browns a 10-7 second-quarter lead they never relinquished. Rookie K-Jeff Jaeger connected on two of three field goals (22 and 40 yards). WR/PR-Gerald McNeil returned a punt after Buffalo's opening drive 73 yards for an apparent TD, but an illegal block was called on Herman Fontenot, nullifying the return. It marked the second time in 1987 that McNeil had a TD called back because of an illegal block (93-yarder at San Diego, 11/1).

The victory improved the Browns' record to 6-3 and a tie with Houston for first-place in the AFC Central.

SUNDAY, NOV. 22 — BROWNS 40, Oilers 7 (51,161) at the Houston Astrodome. The Browns took over the lead in the AFC Central with a commanding 40-7 win over the Houston Oilers before a standing room only crowd in Houston. The victory was Cleveland's third in a row and was executed in dominating fashion. The defense limited Houston QB-Warren Moon to five completions on 23 attempts for 193 yards (with the only score an 83-yard completion to WR-Ernest Givens). The Oilers gained just 43 yards on the ground, and the league's top-ranked defense forced six Houston turnovers. CB-Frank Minnifield tied a club record by swiping three Warren Moon passes, while DE-Carl Hairston set up the Browns' second score by sacking Moon, causing a fumble that was recovered by DE-Al

"Bubba" Baker. It was the first of three sacks on the day for Cleveland (DE-Sam Clancy and LB-Mike Johnson each recorded a solo sack). DB-Mark Harper intercepted backup QB-Brent Pease in Houston's final possession for the team's fourth interception of the day, as the Browns improved their turnover ratio to (+ 5) on the year.

QB-Bernie Kosar (15 of 26 for 257 yards, two TDs, no INTs and no sacks) led an offensive charge that totalled 40 points, racked-up 27 first downs, and amassed a season-high 457 yards of total offense. Cleveland's time of possession advantage was an overwhelming 42:50 to 17:10. WR-Webster Slaughter continued his hot hand by catching four passes for 79 yards, including a 27-yard TD pass from Kosar with just :04 remaining in the first half, spotting Cleveland a 26-0 halftime lead. WR/PR-Gerald McNeil caught three passes for 66 yards and completed the scoring for the Browns when he snared a 39-yard TD strike from Kosar with 2:50 left in the third period. FB-Kevin Mack rolled-up 114 yards on the ground and scored a TD, as Cleveland netted an even 200 rushing yards on the day. RB-Earnest Byner gained 57 yards on 12 carries and scored two TDs. Gerald McNeil had a big day returning punts (four for 77 yards) and, despite difficulties in placements on field goals, rookie K-Jeff Jaeger nailed two three-pointers (21 and 32 yards).

SUNDAY, NOV. 29 — 49ers 38, BROWNS 24 (60,248) at Candlestick Park. The Browns dropped to 7-4 yet managed to hold onto first place in the AFC Central, as they lost a 38-24 contest in Candlestick Park to the San Francisco 49ers. A national television audience and a partisan crowd of 60,248 (eighth largest in Candlestick's history) watched 49er QB-Joe Montana complete 23 of 31 passes for 342 yards and four touchdowns. WR-Jerry Rice caught seven passes, three for TDs, while Dwight Clark grabbed the other Montana scoring strike. Cleveland was able to convert just one of 10 third-down conversions despite a fine performance from Bernie Kosar, who completed 26 of 37 passes for 275 yards and a touchdown (a 21-yarder to WR-Brian Brennan).

The Browns opened the scoring when RB-Earnest Byner recovered his own fumble in the endzone after a five-yard gain, capping a 53-yard, four-play drive. San Francisco countered with a 69-yard, five-play march on their next possession, as Montana hit Rice with a two-yard TD pass to even the score, 7-7. Rookie PK-Jeff Jaeger hit on a 28-yard field goal (later missing 44 and 48-yard attempts) to put the Browns ahead, 10-7. But Rice caught his second TD pass, a 30-yarder, to give the 49ers a lead, 14-10, they never relinquished. After Clark's 40-yard TD reception from Montana, Kosar hit Brennan on a 21-yard scoring strike to make the score 21-17 at the half.

The only Cleveland score in the second half followed a Ray Wersching 38-yard field goal, Rice's third TD catch and a Joe Cribbs nine-yard scoring run. With 10:26 remaining in the game, rookie LB-David Grayson scored on a 17-yard fumble return that was caused when LB-Mike Johnson hit RB-Harry Sydney. That closed the scoring, 38-24, and marked the second consecutive West Coast loss in 1987.

SUNDAY, DEC. 6 — Colts 9, BROWNS 7 (70,661) at Cleveland Stadium. The Browns dropped back into a three-way tie for first place in the AFC Central by losing a 9-7 defensive struggle to the Indianapolis Colts. All of the Colts' scoring came in the second period on three Dean Blassucci field goals, while the Browns' lone score came on a Bernie Kosar 19-yard TD pass to WR-Brian Brennan in the third period. The Browns managed just 247 yards of total offense, the fewest since 10/11/87, when the Houston replacement team yielded just 169 yards (for regulars, 11/16/86 when the Raiders limited them to 217 yards). But the story of the game was missed chances, as Cleveland couldn't capitalize on two golden scoring opportunities. PK-Jeff Jaeger missed a 38-yard field goal attempt in the third period and RB-Earnest Byner fumbled on the Colts' five-yard line to kill a 65-yard drive.

QB-Bernie Kosar completed 16 of 35 passes for 178 yards and one TD. His yardage output was his lowest since 11/30/86, when he threw for 172 yards against Houston. His top receivers were Brian Brennan (4-51, 1 TD), Webster Slaughter (4-56) and RB-Earnest Byner (4-45). FB-Kevin Mack rushed 16 times for 61 yards before suffering a knee bruise. P-George Winslow punted eight times for a 32.5 yard average, including three inside-the-20. One bright spot for the Browns was when Herman Fontenot blocked a Rohn Stark punt, giving the Browns the ball on the Colts' 36-yard line and setting up their lone touchdown. It marked the second blocked punt for the Browns in 1987. (Clarence Weathers blocked a Rick Donnelly punt in the Atlanta game, 11/8.) For Indianapolis, QB-Jack Trudeau completed 20 of 34 passes for 192 yards, no TDs or INTs. The Browns were able to sack him only once, while Kosar was dropped three times. Colts' RB-Eric Dickerson led all rushers with 98 yards on 27 carries.

SUNDAY, DEC. 13 — BROWNS 38, Bengals 24 (79,614) at Cleveland Stadium. Bernie Kosar threw a career-high four touchdowns to lead the Browns to a convincing 38-24 inter-divisional victory over the visiting Cincinnati Bengals. Kosar (17 of 26 for 241 yards, four TDs and no INTs), threw the ball to seven different receivers, with two scoring passes to WR-Webster Slaughter and one each to FB-Kevin Mack and TE-Derrick Tennell. Kosar's favorite receiver was Slaughter, who caught five passes for 119 yards and two TDs (a 22-yarder to open the Browns' scoring and an 18-yarder for the Browns' final touchdown). Mack rushed for 133 yards on 27 carries and scored the Browns' second touchdown on a 22-yard run and the third six-pointer on a two-yard reception in the second period.

Defensively, Cleveland allowed just three first-half points and 65 total rushing yards, but gave up 361 passing yards to Bengals' QB-Boomer Esiason. After the Browns had jumped to a 21-3 lead in the second period, the Bengals had driven the ball to the Cleveland seven-yard line with 1:55 to play. Esiason threw a pass that was intercepted by LB-Clay Matthews at the four. He returned the ball 36 yards and then lateralled to DE-Carl Hairston, who rambled 40 more yards. The Browns scored in just two plays, as Kosar hit TE-Derrick Tennell on a two-yard pass and took a 28-3 lead into the locker room at halftime. The Browns' 28 second-quarter points broke a previous record of 24 second period points set in 1953, and tied the record for most points that Cleveland ever scored in a quarter (4th, 10/25/64).

The kicking game was boosted by newly signed P-Lee Johnson (who averaged 44.3 yards on three punts, including a 66-yarder) and the activation of K-Matt Bahr, who kicked his 100th field goal as a Brown, a 27-yarder to close the scoring. Bahr was also perfect on five PATs. The win improved the Browns' record to 8-5.

SUNDAY, DEC. 20 — BROWNS 24, L.A. Raiders 17 (40,275) at the L.A. Coliseum The Browns clinched at least a wild card spot in the playoffs and shrugged off the proverbial "monkey on the back" by soundly defeating the Los Angeles Raiders by a 24-17 score before 40,275 fans in the Coliseum. The victory also broke an eight-game losing streak (including postseason) to the Raiders, and marked the first West Coast win since 1983 (a 30-24 overtime triumph over the Chargers).

QB-Bernie Kosar, the leading passer in the AFC with a 97.4 QB rating, continued his hot hand by completing 21 of 32 passes for 294 yards, two touchdowns and an interception. From the Browns' opening offensive play, when Kosar threw deep to WR-Webster Slaughter (resulting in a 39-yard interference penalty), Kosar challenged the Raiders' secondary. In fact, 17 of his 21 completions were to wide receivers. Slaughter led Cleveland with seven catches for 115 yards and a TD (an 18-yarder that gave the Browns a 24-3 lead), while WR-Brian Brennan caught six passes for 79 yards. Perhaps the best offensive performance came from the offensive line, which limited the Raiders to no sacks and paved the way for an effective running attack (4.1 yards-per-carry). RB-Earrest Byner gained 74 yards on 12 carries and scored two TDs (a 15-yard run and a two-yard pass from Kosar). FB-Kevin Mack bulled for 55 yards on 17 carries. In all, Cleveland's offense totalled 421 net yards.

Defensively, the Browns sacked QB-Marc Wilson (23 of 36 for 270 yards) four times and limited Raider receivers to just five receptions. Defensive ends Sam Clancy (14 yards), Carl Hairston (nine yards) and Al Baker (12 yards) and NT-Bob Golic (seven yards) each recorded QB takedowns. The Raiders' top-ranked rushing game was limited to 71 yards on 20 carries. On special teams, PR-Gerald McNeil averaged 18.3 yards on three punt returns, while KR-Glen Young, the AFC's leading kickoff returner, fielded two KO's for 48 yards. K-Matt Bahr nailed a 20-yard field goal, while hitting the right upright on a 37-yard attempt. The win improved the Browns' record to 9-5 and gave them sole possession of first place in the AFC Central.

SATURDAY, DEC. 26 — BROWNS 19, Steelers 13 (56,394) at Three Rivers Stadium.

Santa Claus came one day late for the Browns as they clinched their third consecutive AFC Central title by travelling to Pittsburgh and defeating the Steelers, 19-13. The victory marked the second time in two years that the Browns have swept the Steelers in their home-and-home series, and put to rest any talk of a Three Rivers' "jinx" (before last season, the Browns had not won in Pittsburgh in 17 years). Also, the win was the Browns' third straight, improving Marty Schottenheimer's December record to 6-1 in the last two years.

Cleveland jumped out to a 9-0 lead on Matt Bahr's 31-yard field goal and Derrick Tennell's two-yard reception from QB-Bernie Kosar (the PAT was blocked). Kosar, who extended his TD string to 17 straight games, completed 21 of 36 passes for 241 yards, one TD and one interception that bounced off of WR-Clarence Weathers' hands. TE-Ozzie Newsome had his best game of 1987 by catching a game-high six passes for 94 yards and moved into a tie with Harold Carmichael for the second longest reception streak in NFL history (127 games). A Gary Anderson 39-yard field goal gave the Steelers' their first score and gave the Browns a 9-3 halftime lead. Bahr followed with a 30-yard third-period field goal and Anderson countered with a 27-yard field goal to make the score 12-6, Browns. Anderson's first FG attempt in the first quarter was blocked by DE-Al Baker.

RB-Earrest Byner scored on a two-yard run to make the score 19-6 before CB-Cornell Gowdy picked off Kosar's pass and jaunted 45-yards for a score. Needing to control the ball in the fourth period, the Browns held the ball for the entire quarter, with Pittsburgh's only offensive play a Malone pass that was intercepted by CB-Hanford Dixon (LB-Eddie Johnson picked off a Malone pass earlier in the game). In fact, the Browns gained 47 rushing yards in the fourth quarter to control the clock and ensure a victory.

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFFS

Saturday, January 9, 1988 — CLEVELAND 38, Indianapolis 21 (79,372) at Cleveland Stadium.

Quarterback Bernie Kosar threw for three touchdowns and running back Earnest Byner rushed 122 yards and scored two touchdowns as the Browns advanced to their second straight AFC Championship Game with a 38-21 triumph over the Colts. Cleveland took the opening kickoff and drove 86 yards for a touchdown. Kosar capped the 15-play drive with a 10-yard scoring pass to Byner. After Indianapolis tied the score 7-7, Kosar hit wide receiver Reggie Langhorne on a 39-yard touchdown pass with 1:51 to go in the first half. But Jack Trudeau's 19-yard scoring pass to Eric Dickerson 42 seconds before intermission tied the score, 14-14. The turning point in the game came midway through the third quarter when safety Felix Wright intercepted a Trudeau pass at the Cleveland 14-yard line. The Browns then concluded another 86-yard drive (13 plays) on Byner's two-yard run.

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

SUNDAY, JANUARY 17, 1988 — Denver 38, CLEVELAND 33 (75,993) at Mile High Stadium. The Browns suffered a second straight heartbreaker to the Broncos in the AFC Championship Game, as one of the greatest comeback attempts in NFL history came up shy. AFC West Champion Denver became the first team to win back-to-back AFC titles since Pittsburgh in 1978-79. Reserve cornerback Jeremiah Castille forced and recovered a fumble by Cleveland running back Earnest Byner at the Broncos three-yard line with 65 seconds to play to insure Denver's third Super Bowl appearance. Denver jumped to a 21-3 halftime lead. Defensive end Freddie Gilbert halted Cleveland's first drive of the game by intercepting a Bernie Kosar pass to set up John Elway's eight-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Ricky Nattiel. Running backs Steve Sewell and Gene Lang each scored on one-yard runs to give Denver its lead. The Browns roared back in the second half by scoring 28 points in the first 19:22 of the half. Kosar fired scoring passes to wide receiver Reggie Langhorne (18 yards) and Byner (32), who also scored on a four-yard run. Kosar's four-yard strike to wide receiver Webster Slaughter on the Browns opening drive of the fourth quarter tied the score 31-31 with 10:38 to play. But Elway, who completed 14 of 26 for 281 yards and three touchdowns with one interception, finished off a 75-yard drive with a 20-yard touchdown pass to running back Sammy Winder with 4:01 remaining for the decisive score. Kosar completed an AFC Championship Game record 26 of 41 passes for 356 yards and three touchdowns with one interception. Byner caught seven passes for 120 yards and a touchdown.

- 1968: With newly acquired quarterback Bill Nelsen (from Pittsburgh), Browns won division; beat Dallas in playoffs and lost to Baltimore in the championship.
- 1969: Browns won third consecutive division crown, but lost to Minnesota in title game.
- 1970: Browns became members of AFC Central and finished second.
- 1971: Nick Skorich, a Browns' assistant, was named head coach. Team won first AFC Central crown.
- 1972: Browns once again gained postseason, losing to eventual champion Miami in playoffs.
- 1975-77: Forrest Gregg, Browns' offensive line coach, becomes head coach; Greg Pruitt has three consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons; Dick Modzelewski coaches final game of 1977.
- 1978 Sam Rutigliano becomes the first non-Browns' assistant to gain head coaching position. Team won first three on way to 8-8 finish.
- 1979: Losses in final two games prevented team from entering playoffs, finishing 9-7; Mike Pruitt keeps the tradition of outstanding Browns' running backs and has the first of three straight 1,000-yard seasons.
- 1980: Browns win AFC Central title with 11-5 record; lost to eventual Super Bowl champion Oakland in playoff; Brian Sipe is consensus MVP of league.
- 1982: In strike-shortened season, Browns finish eighth in AFC (4-5) and gain playoffs second time in three years. Lost to Raiders in Super Bowl Tournament.
- 1983 Browns tied for wildcard playoff spot with 9-7 record, but did not advance, losing to Denver and Seattle through NFL tie-breaking procedure.
- 1984: Browns replaced head coach Sam Rutigliano with defensive coordinator Marty Schottenheimer after a 1-7 midseason record and finished season at 5-11. TE Ozzie Newsome caught 89 passes for second straight year.

- 1985: Browns captured their third central division championship, but lost to Dolphins, 24-21, in Miami. Rookie Kevin Mack (1,104) and Earnest Byner (1,002) each gained 1,000 yards rushing. It marked the third time in 66-year history of NFL that teammates both rushed for over 1,000 yards in the same season.
- 1986: Browns won more games than ever before during regular season, as they roll-up a 12-4 record en route to their second consecutive AFC Central crown. In a double-overtime playoff thriller before a packed Cleveland Stadium crowd, Bernie Kosar throws for an NFL-record 487 yards as the Browns beat the New York Jets, 23-20, to advance to the AFC Championship Game. The Browns lose to Denver, also in overtime, 23-20, as the sellout Cleveland crowd gives the Browns a standing ovation following the game. Marty Schottenheimer wins consensus AFC Coach of the Year honors.
- 1987: Browns capture their third straight AFC Central crown when they defeat Pittsburgh 19-13 at Three Rivers Stadium on Dec. 26. The Browns finish the season at 10-5. The third week of the NFL season was cancelled due to the 24-day players' strike, while three "replacement" games were played (the Browns went 2-1). The Browns defeat the Colts, 38-21, at Cleveland Stadium in the AFC playoffs, then drop their second straight AFC Championship to Denver despite a spectacular come-from-behind bid that saw them score 30 second-half points, only to fall, 38-33 in Mile High Stadium. Bernie Kosar wins the AFC passing title with a 95.4 QB rating, and an NFL-high eight Browns make the Pro Bowl.

"This year marks the 50th anniversary of the Cleveland Touchdown Club," said Browns' owner and president Art Modell. "On behalf of all the Cleveland Browns, past and present, we'd like to salute our long-time supporter."

The Touchdown Club was founded in 1938 by Joe Fogg and twelve other Cleveland businessmen, whose love for football prompted them to organize a group dedicated to the sport. By the time the Rams departed for Los Angeles in 1946 and the Browns established themselves in Cleveland, that same year, club membership had multiplied twelve times.

Over the years, the TD Club evolved from a college and pro football booster club, to one that also included recognition for outstanding achievements of players and coaches on the high school level. Proceeds from special events are recycled back to the community through donations to various youth groups, high school wrestling tournaments, Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and sponsorships to young women and men whose lofty goals include the Olympic trials.

A few of the club's more popular events are the Annual Kickoff Luncheon (Aug. 26), the postseason awards dinner (the second Monday) in February, and the TD Club Golf Outing in June.

For further information on the club or its events, call 888-8880.

CLEVELAND STADIUM

Cleveland Stadium, a famous and proud landmark for this city, is the nation's largest facility housing both a Major League baseball team and an NFL franchise. The Stadium, with a current capacity of 80,098, was completed in July of 1931 at a cost of $3.5 million.

The Stadium, which sits on a landfill, has proved to be multi-purpose. Along with baseball and football, the range of activities at the Stadium has included everything from a heavyweight championship bout (Schmeling vs. Stribling) to religious convocations. The Metropolitan Opera and the Beatles have performed on the field, as have circuses, rodeos, big bands, tractor pulls, and a horde of professional and amateur athletes.

Over the years, the Stadium became a financial strain for the city of Cleveland. Art Modell responded to the need in 1974, when he formed Cleveland Stadium Corporation and signed a 25-year lease with the city. When the agreement between the city and Modell was first reached in 1974, the Browns' owner promised a $10 million improvement plan, which was concluded in 1984.

Those improvements included the addition of 108 luxurious loges, a computerized scoreboard, more comfortable seats, new concession facilities, a new lighting system (both inside and around the perimeter of the Stadium), out-field fence pads, and the installation of a new playing field, which was lowered two feet to provide a better view from the stands (1976).

Old electrical and plumbing systems were replaced. Locker rooms have been upgraded. Stadium restaurants have been renovated; and first aid areas were completed. A press box elevator was added. Cleaning and painting continue to be top priority items in a continuous maintenance program.

Current Cleveland Mayor George Voinovich gives Modell and the Stadium staff the credit for saving the Stadium. "If the city had held onto the Stadium, it probably would be closed today," Voinovich said. (Cleveland Press, 3/28/80).
