NATE WALLACK/CLEVELAND BROWNS EDUCATION FUND

Each year the Cleveland Browns donate a portion of the proceeds from the sale of the media guide to the Nate Wallack/Cleveland Browns Education Fund at Cleveland State University. In 1981, the Cleveland Browns established a scholarship fund in honor of the Northeast Ohio media. Through annual gifts of $4,000 beginning in 1984, the Browns supported scholarships for CSU students interested in sports media relations. Nate Wallack, a former PR director of the Browns, was widely viewed as a pioneer in the field of NFL media relations and genuinely revered by his NFL PR colleagues as well as the working sports media. Following Wallack's passing on January 16, 1984, the Browns asked that the CSU fund be named in honor of Nate Wallack. Today, the fund provides annual scholarship support for student interns in CSU's Sports Information Department.

MIKE KEENAN

President

Michael J. Keenan is in his second season as the Browns' President after being promoted to the post in May, 2008.

As President, Keenan is responsible for the business operations of the club. Since his arrival, Keenan has overseen the development of new television and radio broadcast deals, restructured the club's sales and marketing departments and has represented the team on league affairs. He has also worked hand-in-hand with football operations on numerous contract negotiations, as well as salary cap matters.

Keenan joined the Browns in January, 2006. Prior to his promotion to President, he served the organization in several different capacities—including most recently Senior Vice President of Business Operations.

Prior to joining the Browns, Keenan served as the Senior Director of Labor Finance on the NFL Management Council. He represented NFL teams in labor relations matters with the NFL Players Association, including administration of $3.3 billion in League-wide player salaries and benefits. Keenan was also the primary financial representative within the NFL Management Council for all financial and accounting matters.

In addition, Keenan served on the League's Collective Bargaining Agreement negotiation team, the Settlement Agreement Salary Cap Review Committee, and participated in four extensions of the League's Collective Bargaining Agreement. He also worked with the NFL Management Council Executive Committee (a group of eight owners) and the NFL's Finance Committee on stadium financing and lease matters.

A Certified Public Accountant, Keenan is a graduate of Boston College. He serves as a board member of The Leukemia & Lymphoma Society–Northern Ohio Chapter, the American Red Cross-Greater Cleveland Chapter and the United Way of Greater Cleveland, as well as a member of the Rock and Roll Hall Fame and Museum.

Keenan and his wife, Melissa, have two children, Samantha and Zachary.

GEORGE KOKINIS

General Manager

George Kokinis was named the Cleveland Browns' general manager on January 23, 2009. He brings 18 years of front office experience to the organization, including the last 13 with the Baltimore Ravens, the final six of which he served as director of pro personnel.

In his time in Baltimore, Kokinis worked closely with General Manager Ozzie Newsome in analyzing NFL rosters and coordinating and evaluating each year's free agency market. Along with personnel recommendations, Kokinis assisted vice president of football administration Pat Moriarty in negotiating contracts for some draft choices.

During Kokinis' six-year tenure as the Ravens' pro personnel director, the team compiled a composite regular season record of 54-42, consisting of four winning seasons, three playoff appearances and a pair of division titles. Some significant contributors to Baltimore's success during Kokinis' time there included such free agent pickups as wide receiver Derrick Mason, running back Willis McGahee, cornerback Samari Rolle, safety Jim Leonhard, defensive tackle Trevor Pryce, cornerback Corey Ivy, special teamer Brendon Ayanbadejo and defensive tackle Justin Bannan.

Kokinis began his NFL scouting career with the Browns in 1991 after serving an internship in the team's operations department. Kokinis spent five seasons with the Browns' scouting department (1991-95) before the team relocated to Baltimore. During his final two years in Cleveland (1994-95) and his first year in Baltimore (1996), he worked alongside Browns Head Coach Eric Mangini.

With the Ravens, Kokinis spent four years as the team's Northeast area scout, from 1996-99. He was promoted in 2000 and spent the next three seasons (2000-02) as the club's assistant director of pro personnel. His primary responsibility was the advance scouting of opponents and to provide reports to the coaching staff. In 2003, Kokinis was promoted to the Ravens' director of pro personnel and was responsible for overseeing all aspects of the pro personnel department.

Kokinis graduated from Hobart College with a B.A. in psychology and earned his master's degree in sports management at the University of Richmond (1991), while working as a graduate assistant coach for the Spiders' baseball team. He played both football and baseball during his collegiate career, earning ECAC Baseball Player of the Year honors in 1989 as a pitcher for the Statesmen. He was selected to represent the conference in a New York vs. New Jersey All-Star Game played at Yankee Stadium.

A two-sport athlete at Wethersfield (Conn.) High School, Kokinis received the John Warren Potter Memorial Award, which recognizes competitiveness, school and team spirit and outstanding character. He currently serves on the board of directors of the Carmine and Frank Mangini Foundation, which benefits underresourced children. George and his wife, Elizabeth, have a daughter, Marissa (10), and twins Peter and Ella (5).

DAWN APONTE

Vice President, Football Administration

Dawn Aponte joined the Browns organization this offseason after spending the last three years at the NFL office, where she served on the League's Management Council as the Vice President of Labor Finance. In her current role with the Browns, Aponte's primary responsibilities include player contract negotiations, salary cap management and player cost budgeting, league compliance, and assisting in other legal matters. Aponte is the key liaison with the NFL Management Council and works closely with General Manager George Kokinis and Head Coach Eric Mangini on football administrative matters.

In her position at the NFL Management Council, Aponte represented the 32 clubs in dealings with the NFL Players Association and Class Counsel on salary cap and other labor related matters. She also dealt with the clubs on CBA, salary cap and player contract matters. Aponte served on the Management Council Working Club Executive Committee and worked with the ten-member owner committee (Management Council Executive Committee) on collective bargaining issues and labor related matters.

Prior to joining the league office, Aponte worked for the New York Jets for nearly 15 years in various capacities, most recently as the club's Senior Director of Football Administration. In this role, she worked closely with the Assistant General Manager on matters pertaining to the NFL's Collective Bargaining Agreement, player contract negotiations and salary cap management.

Aponte graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree in Accounting from the University of Delaware in 1993 and passed the C.P.A. exam shortly thereafter. She went on to receive her Master's degree in Finance and Management from Wagner College in 1999, then continued on to earn her Juris Doctorate from New York Law School and is a member of the New York State Bar.

Dawn and her husband, Kevin, have four children: Matthew, Madison, Caroline and Thomas.

ERIC MANGINI

Head Coach

YEAR WITH BROWNS: 2ND
YEAR IN NFL: 15TH

COACHING HISTORY

Eric Mangini was named the 12th full-time head coach in the history of the Cleveland Browns franchise on January 8, 2009.

For Mangini, it marked a return to his NFL roots, having kicked off his tenure in the league as a ball boy and an intern in the Browns' public relations department in 1994. His tireless work ethic was just as evident in that first year as it is today, a quality that led then-head coach Bill Belichick to add Mangini to the team's coaching staff in 1995.

In his 14 years of NFL coaching experience, Mangini has been a part of six teams that qualified for the playoffs, including five that captured division crowns and three that came away with the Lombardi Trophy as Super Bowl champions.

Immediately prior to being hired by the Browns, Mangini was the head coach of the New York Jets for three years (2006-08). In 2006, Mangini took over a team that had gone 4-12 the previous year and guided them to a record of 10-6 and a Wild Card playoff berth. The Jets started with a 5-5 mark before compiling victories in five of their last six contests, including their final three. The sense of discipline instilled by Mangini was apparent that year, as points allowed (355 to 295), turnovers (34 to 25), penalties (98 to 70) and sacks allowed (53 to 34) all dropped significantly from the previous season, while points scored (240 to 316), third down efficiency (35.3% to 43.8%) and time of possession (26:37 to 31:03) all improved drastically. Mangini was named AFC Coach of the Year by the prestigious Kansas City Committee of 101 that year.

Of the 14 full-time head coaches in Jets history from 1960-2008, he is one of only two to lead the team to a playoff berth in his first season with the club (Herman Edwards, 2001). Overall, Mangini led the Jets to a regular season record of 23-25 in his three seasons. During Mangini's tenure in New York, the Jets committed the fewest penalties (210) and penalty yards (1,615) combined in the NFL over that three-year span. Special teams also proved to be a point of emphasis as the Jets accounted for six return touchdowns, tying for the second-most in the NFL during the stretch while allowing only one, which tied for the fewest. In 2008, the Jets possessed one of the most potent offenses in the NFL, producing 405 points, which was not only the third-most in the AFC but also represented the third-highest single-season figure in franchise history. The running game was particularly effective in 2008, as the Jets were third in the AFC in average per rush attempt (4.7), tied for third in the AFC in rushing touchdowns (20) and ranked fourth in the AFC in rushing yards per game (125.3).

Eight different Jets earned Pro Bowl berths over the three years that Mangini was head coach, including seven following the 2008 season. Of the eight, three were drafted in Mangini's first two seasons with the team (C Nick Mangold, CB Darrelle Revis and KR Leon Washington), while four others (DT Kris Jenkins, QB Brett Favre, RB Thomas Jones and G Alan Faneca) were either traded for or signed while he was the head coach.

As a head coach, a key component to Mangini's mantra is the set of core values that he instills in his team. These four values are Communication, Focus, Finish and Trust. Players are constantly reminded of these values and they are now prominently displayed on the practice fields at the Browns' Berea, Ohio training facility. To successfully carry through with these values, Mangini continually seeks out players who possess a set of six core characteristics: Smart, Tough, Competitive, Hard Working, Selfless and guys to whom Football Is Important.

Prior to joining the Jets as head coach, Mangini spent six seasons with the New England Patriots (2000-05). His first five seasons were spent as defensive backs coach (2000-04) before being promoted to defensive coordinator in 2005. In Mangini's five seasons in charge of the team's secondary, the unit earned five Pro Bowl selections and evolved into one of the NFL's most successful defensive backfields. The Patriots recorded 99 interceptions from 2000-04, the fifth-highest total in the NFL over this span. Their 14 interception returns for touchdowns in those five years tied with Tampa Bay for the most in the NFL.

The performance of the Patriots' secondary and their ability to succeed despite key injuries earned high acclaim in 2004. During the regular season, seven different defensive backs recorded at least one interception while also accounting for more than half of the team's 36 takeaways. In the postseason, defensive backs registered six interceptions in three games. Injuries forced Mangini to utilize nine different starters that year, while he also had to convert a linebacker and a wide receiver into defensive backs. Following season-ending injuries to each of the opening-day starting cornerbacks, Mangini enlisted second-year performer Asante Samuel and undrafted rookie Randall Gay, who started 23 games combined, including all three playoff contests. In addition, under Mangini's tutelage, 12-year veteran wide receiver Troy Brown learned to play cornerback; Brown recorded 17 tackles and three interceptions, tying for second on the team. Linebacker Don Davis was also used in the secondary, starting at safety for the final two games of the regular season. Despite these drastic changes, Patriots' opponents produced a composite passer rating of only 75.3 during the regular season, giving New England the fourth-best mark in the AFC, as the Patriots marched to their third Super Bowl title in a span of four seasons.

The secondary was an integral part of a dominating defense that led the NFL in 2003 by allowing a franchise-record low 14.9 points per game. The Patriots ended the season with 15 consecutive wins, including the Super Bowl XXXVIII title. New England's pass defense led the NFL in four key categories that year: interceptions (29), fewest touchdown receptions allowed (11), opponents' passer rating (56.2) and pass deflections (121). The Patriots' 29 interceptions were the second-most in club history and the most by a Patriots team in 40 years (31 in 1963).

Prior to his stint in New England, Mangini was an assistant coach with the Jets under head coach Bill Parcells from 1997-99. He served primarily as the Jets' defensive assistant/quality control coach and worked closely with Bill Belichick, who was the Jets' assistant head coach/secondary. Mangini was also responsible for advance opponent film breakdowns and analysis. In 1999, the Jets' defense ranked third in the AFC with 24 interceptions, the team's highest total since 1969 (29). The defensive backs recorded 18 of those 24 interceptions. In 1998, the Jets' defense surrendered an average of just 16.6 points per game, a figure that ranked third in franchise history, helping the Jets to a 12-4 regular season record and the club's first division title, as they advanced to the AFC Championship Game before falling to the eventual Super Bowl champion Denver Broncos.

Mangini's first coaching opportunity came in 1995 as an assistant on the Browns' staff. Ted Marchibroda retained Mangini when the team moved to Baltimore in 1996 and became the Ravens, where he worked as an offensive assistant/quality control coach. The Ravens averaged 357.7 yards per game during the 1996 season, the third-highest figure in the NFL that year.

PHILANTHROPY

Mangini realizes the importance of giving back to the community. In 2002, Mangini, along with his brother, Kyle, founded the Carmine & Frank Mangini (CFM) Foundation to benefit under-resourced children. Each year in Hartford, Mangini hosts a one-day football fundamentals minicamp that raises money for the foundation. The camp was first held in 2002 and has grown each year, giving athletes in grades 8-12 a chance to learn skills from some of the NFL's top players and coaches. This past year, more than 125 volunteer coaches taught more than 760 students during the one-day session.

During his tenure in New York, Mangini and his wife, Julie, were strongly committed to their philanthropic endeavors. Mangini hosted the inaugural Charity Bowl at Chelsea Piers in New York City in May 2007 and then again in 2008, the proceeds from which benefitted non-profit organizations committed to providing athletic and academic opportunities to deserving children. In addition, the couple has actively supported other charitable organizations including Homeless Solutions, Inc. and the St. Elizabeth House.

Mangini's work off the field has also included a couple of television appearances. In 2007, along with Jets players Chad Pennington, Laveranues Coles and Ben Graham, he was in an episode of Sesame Street in which he taught Elmo and his goldfish, Dorothy, the basics of football and the alphabet. Also that year, he made a cameo in the final season of the hit HBO series The Sopranos.

PERSONAL

Mangini played nose tackle and earned four letters (1989-90, 1992-93) at Wesleyan University in Middletown, Connecticut. He set a school record with 36.5 career sacks, including 22 during his final two seasons. In 1993, he ranked second in school history in total tackles and was voted a first-team all-star by NESCAC and ECAC-New England Division III. He also earned All-America third-team and All-East Coast honors in 1992 and 1993. He graduated from Wesleyan in 1994 with a degree in political science.

As an undergraduate at Wesleyan, Mangini worked as an intern for the New England Crusaders, a minor league football team. Mangini also spent two seasons in Melbourne, Australia as the head coach/defensive coordinator for the Kew Colts, a semi-professional football team. He led the team to a two-year mark of 22-3-1 and a pair of championships. It was in Australia that Mangini's love of coaching began to grow.

Mangini is a native of Hartford, where he attended Bulkeley High School. As a senior in 1988, he received the Brian Piccolo Award for outstanding athletic and academic achievement, was named the Scholar Athlete of the Year and earned the scholar-athlete award from the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame.

Eric and Julie have three sons: Jake, Luke and Zack.

BRAD SEELY

Assistant Head Coach/Special Teams Coordinator

YEAR WITH BROWNS: 1ST
YEAR IN NFL: 21ST

Brad Seely was named assistant head coach/special teams coordinator by the Cleveland Browns on January 14, 2009. He brings 31 years of coaching experience to the club, including 20 years in the NFL, all tutoring special teams. In fact, since 1990 Seely's special teams units have ranked in the top nine in the NFL nine times, based on a composite formula devised by the Dallas Morning News. This includes a top five finish five times and a No. 1 ranking once.

Seely spent the last 10 seasons with the New England Patriots as special teams coach and was a part of three Super Bowl championship clubs as a member of that staff. During his tenure in New England, Seely's special teams units consistently contributed to the team's accomplishments.

In fact, combined over the previous 10 years (1999-2008), the Patriots led the NFL in kickoff return average (23.5), were fourth in field goal percentage (83.4%) and placed eighth in punt return average (9.9). In addition, his units registered 11 returns for touchdowns, including eight off kickoffs, a figure that tied for second in the NFL over this 10-year stretch.

During Seely's time in New England, kicker Adam Vinatieri and special teamer Larry Izzo each were regarded among the best at their respective positions as they were selected to two Pro Bowls apiece. Vinatieri led the NFL in 2004 with a franchise-record 93.9 percent field goal accuracy mark. He also topped the league in that category in 2002 with a 90.0 success rate. In addition, kicker Stephen Gostkowski earned Pro Bowl honors following the 2008 season, when he led the NFL with 148 points and 36 field goals. Over the last three years (2006-08), Ellis Hobbs put together a kickoff return average of 28.4, the second-best mark in the NFL over this time. He also brought back three kickoffs for touchdowns, including an NFL record 108-yarder in 2007. Seely also tutored the AFC's leading kickoff returner on two occasions (Bethel Johnson in 2003, Kevin Faulk in 2002) and leading punt returner (Troy Brown in 2002).

Prior to joining the Patriots, Seely worked with the Carolina Panthers, where he helped lead a team that appeared in the NFC Championship Game in just its second season.

In 1996 and 1997, Panthers kickoff returner Michael Bates became the first player in 35 years to lead the league in kick return average in consecutive seasons. He also earned two consecutive trips to the Pro Bowl for his efforts.

In 1996, Seely earned Special Teams Coach of the Year honors with Carolina as he helped produce the NFL's best kick return specialist. He also had the league's best kicker, as John Kasay set a then NFL single-season record with 37 field goals. In addition to the success of Bates and Kasay, Carolina also boasted one of the league's top coverage units as the Panthers led the NFL in opponents average punt return (5.4 avg.) and were fifth in opponents average kickoff return (20.1 avg.).

Seely got his start in the NFL coaching ranks in 1989, when he tutored Indianapolis' special teams and tight ends for a five-year stint (1989-93). During his tenure with the club, he assisted in the development of two Pro Bowl special teamers — punter Rohn Stark and return specialist Clarence Verdin. In 1992, the Colts had the NFL's top specials teams unit based on rankings by the Dallas Morning News. Seely then coached the Jets' special teams for one year (1994), and in that season the Jets ranked fifth in the league in kickoff return defense (19.6 avg.) and sixth in punt return defense (6.8 avg.).

Seely began his coaching career in 1978 at South Dakota State. The following year, he accepted a graduate assistant position at Colorado State, where he was later hired as the offensive line coach in 1980. In 1981, he was named the assistant offensive line coach on Ron Meyer's staff at Southern Methodist. He helped coach a line that opened holes for SMU's "Pony Express" backfield of Eric Dickerson and Craig James. The next year, he coached at North Carolina State before joining the staff at Pacific in 1983. In 1984, he started a five-year stint as the offensive line coach at Oklahoma State, which helped produce the likes of Thurman Thomas and 1988 Heisman Trophy winner Barry Sanders.

Seely earned a degree in economics and physical education while garnering all-conference honors as an offensive guard at South Dakota State. Seely and his wife, Patti, have three daughters, Sarah, Hannah and Brynn.

HOW THE BROWNS WERE NAMED

Just how did the Cleveland Browns get their name?

One myth is that the team was named after the popular boxing champion, Joe Louis, "The Brown Bomber." The truth, according to several published reports, is this:

When owner Arthur McBride brought an AAFC team to Cleveland in 1945, he held a newspaper contest to name the team and offered a $1,000 war bond to the winner. Most of the entries submitted wanted the name Browns, because the extremely popular Paul Brown was the team's head coach.

Coach Brown thought it wouldn't be proper to name the team after him, and the entry "Panthers" was selected. A few weeks later, a man approached McBride and said he owned a semi-pro team in the 1920s called the Cleveland Panthers and he still owned the rights to the name.

McBride could have bought the man off, but Brown vetoed the idea. The coach didn't want the new team to be associated with a losing franchise. Instead of holding a new contest, Brown reluctantly agreed to name the team Browns. But, in sticking with his original ideals, Brown suggested publicly that since Louis was "The Brown Bomber", that was how the team got its name. Not a single entry in the contest listed Louis or his nickname as a reason for choosing "Browns."

The Cleveland Browns were originated by Owner Arthur (Mickey) McBride as a member of the All-America Football Conference. Paul Brown was named coach and general manager, and the first player he signed was then-tailback Otto Graham, who was converted to quarterback with the Browns. The Browns won the Western Division title with a 42-17 victory over the Buffalo Bisons and then defeated the New York Yankees, 14-9, in the championship game.

1947-49

The Browns continued their domination of the AAFC, winning three more championships.

1950

Following the merger of the AAFC and the NFL, the Browns tied the New York Giants with 10-2 records for a share of the Eastern Division title. The Browns defeated the New York Giants, 8-3, in a playoff game and then stopped the Los Angeles Rams, 30-28, for the championship.

1951-53

The Browns won three consecutive Eastern titles, but lost each time in the league's title match, once to the Los Angeles Rams and twice to the Detroit Lions. In 1953, McBride sold the club to an organization headed by David Jones.

1954-55

Led by quarterback Otto Graham, the Browns won back-to-back NFL championships, defeating the Detroit Lions and Los Angeles Rams.

1956

At 5-7, the Browns suffered their first losing season.

1957

Jim Brown was selected in the first round by the Browns and earned rookie-of-the-year honors while helping Cleveland to the Eastern Division title.

1961

Art Modell purchased the Browns for the then unheard sum of $4 million.

1963

Paul Brown was released from his duties after 17 seasons as head coach of the franchise. Blanton Collier, a Browns' assistant, was named head coach.

1964

The Browns won the Eastern Conference title with a 52-20 victory over the New York Giants and defeated the Baltimore Colts, 27-0, in the NFL Championship Game.

1965

In his last season, Jim Brown won NFL MVP honors and led Cleveland to the NFL Championship Game, where the Browns were defeated by the Green Bay Packers.

1966

An eighth round pick in 1964, Leroy Kelly became the club's dominant threat, rushing for 1,141 yards, but the Browns finished second in the Eastern Conference to the Dallas Cowboys.

1968

With newly acquired quarterback Bill Nelsen (from the Pittsburgh Steelers), the Browns won the Century Division title and beat the Dallas Cowboys in the playoffs, but lost to the Baltimore Colts in the NFL Championship Game.

1969

The Browns won the Century Division title for the third straight year, but lost to the Minnesota Vikings in the NFL Championship Game.

1970

The Browns became members of the AFC Central Division and finished second. The Browns beat the New York Jets, 31-21, on Monday Night Football's first-ever telecast.

1971

Nick Skorich, a Browns' assistant, was named head coach. The club won its first AFC Central crown.

1972

The Browns lost to the eventual Super Bowl Champion Miami Dolphins in the playoffs, 20-14, as the Dolphins completed an undefeated season.

1975-77

Forrest Gregg became head coach in 1975, Greg Pruitt had three consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons and Dick Modzelewski coached the final game of 1977.

1978

Sam Rutigliano became the first non-Browns' assistant to be named head coach of the Browns. Cleveland won its first three contests en route to an 8-8 finish.

1979

Losses in the final two games dropped the Browns' record to 9-7 and prevented the team from entering the playoffs. Mike Pruitt had the first of three straight 1,000-yard seasons.

1980

The Browns won the AFC Central Division title with an 11-5 record, but lost to the eventual Super Bowl champion Oakland Raiders in the playoffs. Quarterback Brian Sipe was consensus MVP of the NFL.

1982

In a strike-shortened season, the Browns finished eighth in the AFC (4-5) and gained a playoff spot for the second time in three years. Cleveland lost to the Los Angeles Raiders in the Super Bowl Tournament.

1983

The Browns tied for a Wild Card playoff spot with a 9-7 record, but lost the NFL tie-breaking procedure to the Denver Broncos and Seattle Seahawks.

1984

The Browns replaced Head Coach Sam Rutigliano with Defensive Coordinator Marty Schottenheimer after a 1-7 midseason record and finished the season at 5-11. Tight end Ozzie Newsome caught 89 passes for the second straight year.

1985

The Browns captured their third AFC Central Division title, but lost to the Miami Dolphins in the playoffs, 24-21, at Miami. Rookie Kevin Mack (1,104) and Earnest Byner (1,002) each gained 1,000 yards rushing. It marked the third time in the 66-year history of the NFL that teammates both rushed for over 1,000 yards in the same season.

1986

The Browns posted a team-record 12 wins en route to their second consecutive AFC Central Division crown. In a double-overtime playoff thriller before a packed Cleveland Municipal Stadium crowd, the Browns beat the New York Jets, 23-20, to advance to the AFC Championship game. The Browns defeated the Indianapolis Colts, 38-21, at Cleveland Municipal Stadium in the AFC playoffs, then dropped their second straight AFC Championship to the Denver Broncos despite a spectacular come-from-behind bid that saw the Browns score 30 second-half points, only to fall, 38-33, at Mile High Stadium. SIX PACK

Former Browns wide receiver Bob Jones is one of three players in NFL history to score six touchdowns in a single game. Jones notched four rushing and two receiving touchdowns in a 42-21 victory over the Chicago Bears on November 25, 1951. Ernie Nevers (Chicago Cardinals, 1929) and Gale Sayers (Chicago Bears, 1965) join Jones as the only players to accomplish that feat.

RETIRED UNIFORM NUMBERS

#14 OTTO GRAHAM

From 1946-1955, Otto Graham guided the Browns to 10 league crowns and NFL Championships in 1950, 1954 and 1955. He led the NFL in passing for two seasons and recorded 23,584 career passing yards. In 1953, Graham finished the season with a 64.73 completion percentage, the highest in club history. He was an All-League selection from 1951-55. Graham was inducted in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1965.

#32 JIM BROWN

Brown was the NFL's leading rusher in eight seasons and holds the Browns franchise record for career rushing yards, attempts and touchdowns. An All-America selection from Syracuse in 1956, Brown was named NFL Rookie of the Year in 1957. He participated in nine consecutive Pro Bowls from 1958-66 and was voted NFL most valuable player in 1958 and 1965. Brown was inducted in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1971.

#45 ERNIE DAVIS

After being selected first in the 1961 NFL draft, the Browns acquired Ernie Davis in a trade with the Washington Redskins. Tragically, Davis passed away two years later from leukemia and never played a professional game. A star running back from Syracuse, Davis was the first African-American to win the Heisman Trophy in 1961 and guided the Orangemen to their only national championship the same year.

#46 DON FLEMING

Don Fleming was selected by the Chicago Cardinals in the 28th round of the 1959 NFL draft. He was traded to the Browns in 1960 and was a mainstay at the safety position. From 1960-63, Fleming intercepted 10 passes and was named to The Sporting News All-AFC team in 1962. During the 1963 offseason, Fleming and a co-worker were sadly electrocuted working a construction job. His passing came a few weeks after Ernie Davis' death.

#76 LOU GROZA

Lou Groza is Cleveland's top scorer with 1,349 points on 234 FGs, 641 PATs and one TD. He scored at least one point in 107 consecutive games and his last-second field goal sealed the 1950 NFL Championship for the Browns. Originally an offensive left tackle, Groza suffered a back injury which converted him into a kicking specialist from 1961-67. He was an All-NFL tackle on six occasions and was the NFL Player of the Year in 1954. Groza was inducted in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1974.

CLEVELAND BROWNS STADIUM

Cleveland Browns Stadium is home not only to a storied football franchise but also to a dedicated, ardent, passionate group of people – the only group that can lay claim to the title of "World's Greatest Fans." At Cleveland Browns Stadium, fans take pride in supporting their team in a safe, enthusiastic and family-oriented atmosphere. This special combination of sportsmanship and exhilaration makes Sunday afternoons with the Browns a memorable and momentous experience.

Cleveland Browns Stadium was built on the hallowed ground of the old Municipal Stadium. There's no better place than on the lakefront for the home of the Cleveland Browns than where legendary Coach Paul Brown established Cleveland's first football dynasty in the 1940s. No other site could have been as appropriate as the location where 16 Cleveland Browns – Jim Brown, Paul Brown, Joe DeLamielleure, Len Ford, Frank Gatski, Otto Graham, Lou Groza, Gene Hickerson, Leroy Kelly, Dante Lavelli, Mike McCormack, Bobby Mitchell, Marion Motley, Ozzie Newsome, Paul Warfield and Bill Willis – established their credentials for induction into the Professional Football Hall of Fame in nearby Canton.

While the location of the Stadium honors the glorious history of athletic achievements in Cleveland, Cleveland Browns Stadium is a celebration of the city's renaissance, drawing people to the lakefront every day. The crown jewel of the Northcoast Harbor, Cleveland Browns Stadium is located next to the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Great Lakes Science Center. When visiting the Stadium, it is impossible to miss the distinctive architectural design of the columns, beams and notches in the seating bowl. These spacious gaps allow visitors to get an inside perspective of the Stadium and field when the Browns are away and allow ticket holders to see the downtown skyline during the game. While on the south side of the Stadium, Browns fans can catch a game and a bite to eat at The Gridiron Grille, and grab a personalized Browns jersey at the Team Shop.

At night, Cleveland Browns Stadium lights up the lakefront. Beams and columns are highlighted by a halo of light that can be seen from downtown and the Northcoast Harbor. Day or night, whether the team is playing home or away, Cleveland Browns Stadium brings a new excitement to Cleveland.

CLEVELAND BROWNS TRAINING AND ADMINISTRATIVE COMPLEX

The Cleveland Browns Training and Administrative Complex is located in Berea, Ohio, on 13 acres of land. The building, which originally opened in August 1991, was renovated in the spring of 1999, while further renovations and expansion commenced during the 2009 offseason. The most recent improvements include an expanded locker room, a lobby restoration that pays tribute to Browns' Hall of Famers and a complete renovation of the cafeteria, video room, and meeting rooms, including a new 2,300 sq. ft. auditorium featuring 120 theater seats.

Existing features in the state-of-the-art facility include a field house of 60,000 sq. ft. with a 70-yard field, a 3,100 sq. ft. athletic training room and a restaurant-style kitchen for meal preparation. The complex also hosts three regulation-size natural grass practice fields ideal for year-round football operations, including the team's training camps.

THE DINO LUCARELLI MEDIA CENTER

The Dino Lucarelli Media Center, which opened in December of 2002 at the Browns Training and Administrative Complex in Berea, features an expansive media work room, two radio/television interview rooms, a kitchen and private locker space for media members.

Lucarelli, 74, has been working with Cleveland media for nearly 50 years and has been affiliated with the Cleveland Browns organization since 1975 with responsibilities in player relations and media services. He currently serves as the club's Director of Alumni Relations and is a panelist on the Cleveland Browns Legends Club committee. Lucarelli called the naming of the media center "one of the biggest thrills of my life."

The Cleveland Chapter of the Professional Football Writers Association (PFWA) has named its "Good Guy Award" for Lucarelli. The Good Guy Award is given annually for cooperation with the media and for the way a player carries himself in the community and with his teammates. The National Football Foundation (Northeast Ohio Chapter) Lifetime Achievement Award is also named for Lucarelli.

BROWNS IN THE COMMUNITY

The Cleveland Browns and the Cleveland Browns Foundation are dedicated to supporting local charities and non-profit organizations by providing funding and support of educational, health and wellness, neighborhood enhancement and youth football programs.

HEALTH AND WELLNESS

Focusing on kids, health and wellness has been at the forefront of the Browns outreach efforts, and continues to grow as the Browns bring innovative programming to our neighborhoods. Whether special invites go out to local kids with disabilities, or volunteers join for a community project, the Browns off the field efforts center on community service and making a difference in the lives of children. Focusing on the Browns "Play 60" campaign, in association with Cleveland Clinic, Medical Mutual of Ohio and 3-A-Day of Dairy, the Browns are committed to helping create the most active and healthy generation of kids and families by encouraging kids to get 60 minutes of activity a day.

In the last year alone, the Browns developed and installed two Browns Fitness Zones that were customized to meet the needs of the students at both the Monarch School for Autism, and Heritage Middle School in East Cleveland, while they also broke ground for an extensive football field refurbishment project at Gunning Park Recreation Center, with the help of local Cleveland company, Majestic Steel. As part of the "Play 60" program the Cleveland Browns and American Heart Association work together throughout the year, to engage teachers and students to implement physical activity across their curriculum through the "What Moves U Challenge." During the 2008-2009 school year, over 1,500 kids participated in the Browns "What Moves U Challenge," logging more than four million minutes of physical activity in a six week span.

In the heart of Cleveland, the Cleveland Browns and Cleveland Clinic Cole Eye Institute have partnered on the "Vision First" program to make a difference in the lives of students Pre-K -1st grade in the Cleveland Metropolitan School District. Annually, Browns "Vision First" provides nearly 6,000 free eye exams for kids, and in the case where kids need prescription eyeglasses, the Browns Foundation provides them for free.

YOUTH AND KIDS

When not involved with scholastics, the Browns promote Youth Football programming to develop the football skills of young athletes while emphasizing character development. Through the support of presenting sponsor, Medical Mutual of Ohio, and associate sponsor, Cleveland Clinic, the Browns annual football camps continue to be a pace-setter throughout Northeast Ohio. In addition to our own camps, the Browns support other youth football programs in the community that help to further engage kids in the love of the sport.

NEIGHBORHOOD ENHANCEMENT

While kids will continue to be the primary focus of all of the Browns' outreach efforts, the one exception is for the men and women who serve our country. Words and actions cannot entirely capture the Browns' admiration and pride we have for those who serve our local community and are overseas defending our country. To honor these individuals, the Browns created the "Hats Off to Our Heroes" program. Each home game of the season, the Browns extends invites to men and women who represent the military branches as well as local police and fire departments. These individuals receive tickets to a Browns game in appreciation of their service. The outreach to these individuals also extends beyond game day as programming continues throughout the year with the service organizations.

Looking towards the future, it is a guarantee the team's players, coaches, executives and staff members will continue to donate a significant amount of time and funding to support charities, charitable causes, non-profit organizations, schools, hospitals and civic groups.
