ALFRED LERNER

1933-2002

NEVER FORGOTTEN. ALWAYS WITH US.

A PROUD TRADITION - A BRIGHT FUTURE

Mike Holmgren

"The Cleveland Browns are a franchise with not only a rich tradition and heritage, but an outstanding fan base that spans worldwide. The Browns have a wonderful, wonderful history, and coming here has provided me an opportunity to continue a legacy of success that dates back to 1946. Everything that we look to accomplish as an organization will be done as a group, with the following four priorities in mind; our Team, our Fans, our Community and our Heritage. Each one is an important element in what we are striving to attain. Nothing excites me more than the challenge of getting the team back to where they should be. And I'm talking about the playoffs and potentially the Super Bowl. That's the goal of every organization in this business."

-Mike Holmgren

NATE WALLACK/CLEVELAND BROWNS EDUCATION FUND

Each year the Cleveland Browns donate a portion of the proceeds from the sale of the media guide to the Nate Wallack/Cleveland Browns Education Fund at Cleveland State University. In 1981, the Cleveland Browns established a scholarship fund in honor of the Northeast Ohio media. Through annual gifts of $4,000 beginning in 1984, the Browns supported scholarships for CSU students interested in sports media relations. Nate Wallack, a former PR director of the Browns, was widely viewed as a pioneer in the field of NFL media relations and genuinely revered by his NFL PR colleagues as well as the working sports media. Following Wallack's passing on January 16, 1984, the Browns asked that the CSU fund be named in honor of Nate Wallack. Today, the fund provides annual scholarship support for student interns in CSU's Sports Information Department.

BROWNS IN THE COMMUNITY

During the course of the 2009 season, Browns players volunteered for more than 800 hours, the equivalent of 33 days of continuous volunteer service.

The Cleveland Browns' off-the-field efforts center on community service and making a difference in the lives of children. We are proud to embrace the community through the Cleveland Browns Foundation and core values focusing on citizenship, education, health & wellness and youth football. Over the years, thousands of children throughout the area have been positively impacted through the Browns outreach efforts.

The Browns have a unique opportunity to raise awareness for causes both locally and nationally, while continuously encouraging pride for our city and team. As we look toward the future, it is our promise that the team's players, coaches, executives and staff members will continue to donate a significant amount of time and funding to support charitable causes, non-profit organizations, schools, hospitals and civic groups.

At the Cleveland Browns Foundation Golf Tournament, presented by Medical Mutual of Ohio, Browns players and celebrities join Foundation supporters for this day of giving, golf and fun. The net proceeds of the tournament, held annually at the prestigious Firestone Country Club, directly benefit the Foundation's initiatives and make the tournament the Foundation's largest fundraising event.

CITIZENSHIP

Families salute their fallen loved ones during a Browns home game, as part of the "Hats Off to Our Heroes" program.

The Browns value the opportunity to have a positive impact in our region as we give back to our community and loyal fans. Over the years, the Browns are proud to have honored those men and women in the military and local service through the "Hats Off to Our Heroes" program as they serve as daily ambassadors representing the best of virtues. On a local level, there are a multitude of occasions to give back and serve the local community, and the Browns are dedicated in providing avenues for the entire organization to volunteer.

The "Hats Off to Our Heroes" program honors the men and women of the armed forces as well as members of the local police and fire departments for their service to our country and community. The Browns invite members of the military and safety forces to home games to honor them with scoreboard features, announcements and recognition from the fans, who are encouraged to salute the honorees for their selfless dedication and service. Extending beyond game-day activities, the Browns also send care packages overseas and invite our heroes to training camp and special events as VIP guests.

Offensive lineman Joe Thomas meets with active members of the United States military during his overseas trip to Afghanistan through the NFL/USO Tour this past offseason.

As unexpected events arise, the Browns lend a helping hand, as was the case when the earthquake hit Haiti in January 2010. Internally, the Browns hosted a staff collection and Browns players supported the cause, while Team President Mike Holmgren presented a check to MedWish from the Cleveland Browns Foundation in support of Operation Haiti Relief.

The Cleveland Browns proudly launched the Browns Women's Organization in 2009 to offer spouses and significant others of Browns players and coaches a means to give back to the community. Led by Julie Mangini, the organization has quickly become an integral part of the Browns' outreach to the community.

The Cleveland Browns are proud of the outreach efforts of our staff, who volunteered to support multiple initiatives offered through the Browns efforts, accumulating more than 1,200 hours of volunteer service.

Led by President Mike Holmgren, the Browns collected items and made a financial contribution to a local Haiti Relief Drive.

EDUCATION

Children from the Boys and Girls Club of Cleveland received school supplies such as backpacks and notebooks through the Cleveland Browns Foundation's annual "Back to School Campaign to benefit Shoes and Clothes for Kids."

Linebacker David Veikune visits with children from the "Read with the Browns" program during training camp in the Community Corner. The Community Corner program allows charitable groups, which focus on kids/youth programming, the opportunity to make reservations as special guests at camp.

Every day, students in our community struggle with lack of necessities or the tools they need to attain higher learning. The Browns Foundation is committed to playing a role in the achievement of students in the classroom and has created core programming to help students excel.

Through the Cleveland Browns Foundation, the annual "Back to School Campaign to benefit Shoes & Clothes for Kids", coupled with reading and classroom initiatives, help the Browns provide the basic fundamentals, while instilling a sense of pride that continues to be discretely tugged away from students.

Since the creation of the Marion Motley Scholarship Fund five years ago, the Cleveland Browns Foundation has awarded $100,000 in scholarships to students from Northeast Ohio. The opportunity has been made possible through a partnership with Cleveland Scholarship Programs and is designed to honor the legacy of Browns Hall of Famer Marion Motley – who broke down barriers in football to create opportunities for others.

The Cuyahoga County Public Library is a valued partner of the Cleveland Browns as together we share the vision of encouraging reading among kids and families. "Read with the Browns" was offered to kids in partnership with the Cuyahoga County Public Library, Cleveland Clinic and American Dairy Association Mideast and Fuel Up to Play 60 during the Browns season. By logging onto clevelandbrowns.com, families and children had the opportunity to read along with a Browns player. Families living in Cuyahoga County were encouraged to visit one of the 28 Cuyahoga County Public Library branches where fun activities took place throughout the season and kids had the chance to win great prizes. Nearly 3,000 kids participated in the Read with the Browns program, and the Browns will continue to offer exciting opportunities designed to emphasize the importance of reading. In February of 2009, hundreds of books were distributed from the library branches to kids on behalf of the Cleveland Browns Foundation in recognition of Black History Month.

HEALTH & WELLNESS

Through Play 60, Browns players encourage children to eat healthy and to participate in physical activities such as throwing, jumping and running.

The Vision First vehicle travels to local inner-city schools, equipped with instruments that provide free eye exams and free prescription glasses to kids with poor eyesight.

The Browns Play 60 program continues to grow as kids discover the joy of being active through a variety of different activities, including classroom programming. The Browns Play 60 Movement, in association with Medical Mutual of Ohio, Cleveland Clinic and American Dairy Association and Fuel Up to Play 60, strive to help build the healthiest generation of kids and families by encouraging kids to get 60 minutes of activity a day.

Health and wellness has been at the forefront of the Browns outreach efforts and continues to grow as the Browns bring innovative programs to our neighborhoods, while supporting other localized initiatives.

Through Vision First, Cleveland Clinic's Cole Eye Institute and Cleveland Browns Foundation collaborate to ensure kids attending school are not limited in achievement because of vision difficulties. To elevate the problem of poor eyesight for kids in the inner-city schools, the Vision First eye mobile clinic visits schools in the Cleveland Metropolitan School District to provide free eye exams and prescription eye glasses to serve nearly 6,000 students annually.

With a focus on kids with special needs as a result of physical limitations or illnesses, the Browns provide elite experiences for kids through local organizations. As part of these programs, kids are able to attend Browns home games as well as other special events.

For the second consecutive year, the Cleveland Browns Foundation and American Dairy Association Midwest built a Fitness Zone at a local school to highlight the importance of the Play 60 message. Volunteers including representatives from the Cleveland Browns, American Dairy Association Midwest and other civic and school officials gathered throughout the day to install an outdoor fitness zone at Bedford City School District's Heskett Middle School in May 2010. The Browns-themed equipment offers 120 exercises.

Additionally, the Browns have a strong partnership with the American Heart Association and encourage kids to get active at school by participating in the Play 60 Challenge. Last year, students logged more than 4.4 million minutes of activity. In addition, families are offered a unique educational opportunity through the Healthy Family Training Camp, held at the Browns Training Facility, featuring a unique health fair with hands-on activities.

During the offseason, Chomps, the official mascot of the Cleveland Browns created his own Play 60 activity workout and his new, fit appearance reflects the positive impact 60 minutes of activity can have.

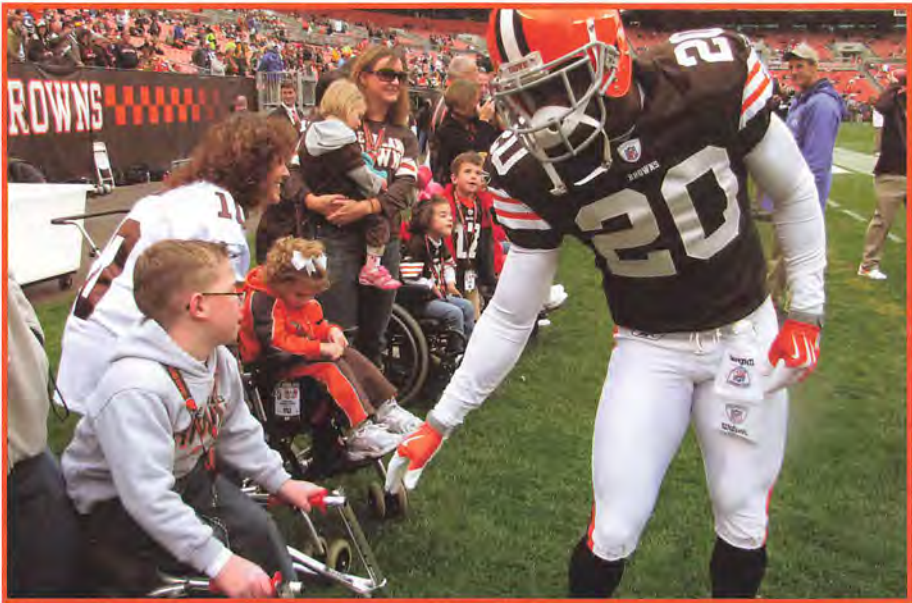

Working with special needs organizations on an individual game basis, the Browns host kids and families as special guests each home game. Receiving VIP treatment from the moment they arrive, families share the once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to watch pre-game from the sidelines before cheering for the coaches and players as they take the field for kickoff. Enjoying the game from a Browns luxury suite modified to accommodate individuals with special needs, guests enjoy a tailgate style meal to complement the spirit of Browns football. Organizations receiving exclusive invitations, include, but are not limited to, Cleveland Clinic Children's Hospital, Hattie Larihm, Make-A-Wish Foundation, Muscular Dystrophy Association, and United Cerebral Palsy.

Wide receiver Mohamed Massaquoi helps paint during the installation of an outdoor fitness zone at Famicos Foundation Park Village Apartments in Cleveland.

Approximately 200 students from six Cleveland schools gathered to take part in the "Rocks and Ropes" event. Activities included a state-of-the-art portable High Ropes Challenge Course situated on a 53-foot hydraulically operated trailer, a 32' tall rock climbing wall and several youth football-related activities.

Defensive back Mike Adams visits with children with special needs on the sidelines during a Browns home game.

YOUTH FOOTBALL

Wide receiver Joshua Cribbs meets with participants of the Cleveland Browns Youth Football camp.

The Browns welcomed 15 high school football teams to their Berea Training Facility for the inaugural Cleveland Browns High School Invitational. This 7-on-7 style tournament gave nearly 300 athletes the opportunity to play on NFL practice fields and Olmsted Falls High School was crowned the champions.

Below: More than 600 athletes participated in the HSPD program at Baldwin-Wallace College, one of the four locations throughout Northeast Ohio which hosted nearly 1,500 student-athletes.

Youth Football programs have paved the way for athletes to prosper in the NFL, and the Browns strive to help kids find their path in sports excellence through different avenues of youth football development. Through Cleveland Browns Youth Football, presented by Medical Mutual of Ohio, in association with Cleveland Clinic, multiple opportunities are provided annually allowing young athletes to participate in football programs. Over the past year, more than 140,000 local kids participated in these unique opportunities. The Browns proudly celebrate USA Football Month in August along with NFL teams across the league, and most recently 4,000 youth football players were guests of the Browns for the celebratory home game last year.

In addition to showing support for the development of young athletes, the Cleveland Browns Foundation has been part of local field refurbishment projects. Through the Cleveland Browns and NFL Grassroots program, hundreds of thousands of dollars have been invested in local fields with visions of providing a safe area for kids to play football.

The Cleveland Browns proudly awarded field refurbishment grants to both James Rhodes High School and Cleveland Central Catholic High School as part of the NFL/LISC Grassroots program. James Rhodes High School received a $100,000 grant to re-sod their football field, which also serves as one of the main fields for the 4,000 participants in the Greater Cleveland Muny Football League. Additionally, Cleveland Central Catholic High School received a $200,000 grant that was used to install a new synthetic turf field. The field will be used by the Cleveland Central Catholic, as well as numerous community organizations. The NFL Grassroots Program is a partnership between the NFL Youth Football Fund and LISC, the nation's leading community development support corporation.

The Cleveland Browns High School Player Development (HSPD) program provides high school students a program that focuses on character development and specific football skill training by position. Through this program, each participant gains full awareness of what is necessary to become a successful collegiate student-athlete. The 2010 HSPD program took place at four locations throughout Northeast Ohio including: Baldwin-Wallace College, Canfield High School, Canton Glen Oak High School and Akron Hoban High School. In total, nearly 1,500 athletes took part in the 2010 Cleveland Browns HSPD camps. Following the week long camps, 120 All-Stars were selected to participate in the Browns Regional 7-on-7 Tournament held at Cleveland Browns Stadium. From there, 12 individuals were selected to represent the Cleveland Browns in the National 7-on-7 Tournament in Tampa, Fla.

MIKE HOLMGREN

PRESIDENT

YEAR IN NFL: 24TH

Mike Holmgren – who has secured the 10th most victories of any head coach in NFL history – signed a contract to become President of the Cleveland Browns on January 5, 2010 after agreeing to assume the position on December 21, 2009.

Holmgren joins the Browns with a remarkable résumé as an NFL head coach, one which includes 14 winning seasons in 17 overall campaigns, 12 playoff berths, eight division championships, three Super Bowl appearances and one Super Bowl title.

Most recently, Holmgren was the head coach of the Seattle Seahawks from 1999-2008. He guided the club to a 10-year regular season record of 86-74 (.538), giving him the most victories of any coach in that franchise's history. His crowning achievement in Seattle occurred in 2005, when the Seahawks posted a regular season record of 13-3, captured the NFC West title and went on to play in Super Bowl XL before falling to Pittsburgh, 21-10.

In Holmgren's 10 seasons at the helm of the Seahawks, the club advanced to the playoffs on six occasions, two more times than they did in the previous 23 years of existence. In fact, Holmgren's first year with the club resulted in a 9-7 record and the AFC West title, marking the team's first winning record since 1990, and its initial playoff appearance and divisional crown since 1988.

Holmgren originally came to the Seahawks as Executive Vice President/

General Manager & Head Coach on January 9, 1999. Following the 2002 season, he decided to focus solely on coaching, relinquishing his duties as general manager.

Before joining Seattle, Holmgren experienced a tremendous seven-year run as head coach of the Green Bay Packers from 1992-98. His first season saw the Packers post a 9-7 record, a five-game improvement from the year prior to his arrival. Just twice in the previous 19 years before Holmgren's tenure had the Packers produced winning records. By year two of Holmgren's stint, Green Bay found itself not only in the playoffs, but winners of an NFC Wild Card game over Detroit. During his tenure in Green Bay, the Packers compiled a regular season record of 75-37 (.670), tying them with Dallas for the second-most victories in the NFL over this seven-year stretch (San Francisco, 85). Including the playoffs, Holmgren's teams compiled a record of 84-42 (.667), giving him the third-most wins of any coach in the Packers' storied history, trailing only Hall of Famers Curly Lambeau (212-106-21) and Vince Lombardi (98-30-4). Holmgren's winning percentage of .667 is second-best, trailing only the mark of .758 by Lombardi.

Holmgren's postseason success in Green Bay was equally as impressive. He led the Packers to the playoffs in each of his final six seasons, as they advanced to at least the Divisional round on five occasions, including three trips to the NFC Championship Game. The 1996 season marked the return of the Lombardi Trophy to Green Bay, as the Packers posted a 13-3 regular season record and marched through the playoffs, culminating in a 35-21 win over New England in Super Bowl XXXI. Green Bay also reached the Super Bowl the following year before falling to Denver, 31-24. Holmgren's 1996 club led the league in both points scored (team-record 456) and points allowed (210), one of only 12 teams in NFL history to accomplish the feat and the first since the 1972 Miami Dolphins.

By winning at least one postseason game in five consecutive seasons (1993-97), Holmgren is one of only three coaches in NFL history to have achieved the feat, along with John Madden (Oakland, 1973-77) and Bill Belichick (New England, 2003-07). In addition, Holmgren is one of only five head coaches in NFL history to lead two different franchises to the Super Bowl, joining Don Shula (Baltimore, Miami), Bill Parcells (N.Y. Giants, New England), Dan Reeves (Denver, Atlanta) and Dick Vermeil (Philadelphia, St. Louis).

Holmgren joined the NFL head coaching fraternity with pedigree on his side, having tutored under Hall of Famer Bill Walsh with the San Francisco 49ers, while Holmgren was an assistant from 1986-91 (1986-88 under Walsh). Holmgren's first three years by the Bay were spent as quarterbacks coach, while he served as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach over the final three seasons. In those six years, the 49ers boasted five NFC West titles and a pair of Super Bowl championships.

Overall in 23 seasons as both an assistant and head coach in the NFL, Holmgren has been a part of teams that have put together a composite regular season record of 232-134-1 (.634), reached double-digit win totals on 13 occasions, earned 17 postseason trips and made five Super Bowl appearances, winning three.

Holmgren got his start in the coaching profession in 1971 as an assistant at his alma mater, Lincoln High School in San Francisco, where he also taught history. He then spent the next nine years (1972-80) as a teacher and assistant coach at the prep level (Sacred Heart HS-San Francisco, 1972-74; Oak Grove HS-San Jose, 1975-80) before breaking into the collegiate ranks, as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at San Francisco State in 1981. He then moved on to BYU in 1982, and spent the next four years as the Cougars' quarterbacks coach.

In his coaching career, Holmgren has worked with a pair of Hall of Fame quarterbacks in Joe Montana (49ers, 1986-91) and Steve Young (BYU, 1982-83; 49ers, 1987-91), as well as a future Hall of Famer in Brett Favre (Green Bay, 1992-98). In addition, two other quarterbacks who went on to earn Pro Bowl status tutored under Holmgren, including Mark Brunell (Green Bay, 1993-94) and Matt Hasselbeck (Green Bay, 1998; Seattle, 2001-08).

In addition to Holmgren's tutelage of players, nine of his former assistant coaches – either in Green Bay or Seattle – have gone on to become an NFL head coach.

Holmgren's football acumen is highly regarded in league circles as he served on the NFL's prestigious Competition Committee from 1996-98 and 2002-2005. He co-chaired the Committee during his first stint. He is currently a member of the Competition Committee's sub-committee.

A San Francisco native, Holmgren played quarterback at Lincoln High School, where he was named the "Prep Athlete of the Year" in 1965. He went on to play at USC from 1966-69 before being selected by the St. Louis Cardinals in the eighth round of the 1970 NFL Draft. He went to training camp with both the Cardinals and Jets in 1970 before getting into coaching the following year. Holmgren earned his Bachelor of Science Degree from USC in 1970.

Mike and his wife, Kathy, have four daughters-twins Calla and Jenny, Emily and Gretchen, four granddaughters, Emma, Emerson, Mary and Isabell and two grandsons, Luke and Michael.

Heckert also served as the Dolphins' Assistant Director of Pro Personnel/College Scout in 1999 before being promoted to Director of Pro Personnel in 2000.

During Heckert's tenure with the Eagles, the team drafted or acquired 10 players who would go on to earn Pro Bowl status, including kicker David Akers, defensive lineman Trent Cole, wide receiver DeSean Jackson, offensive lineman Jason Peters, cornerback Asante Samuel and fullback Leonard Weaver, all of whom were selected to the 2010 Pro Bowl. Of the 22 Eagles starters at the end of the 2009 season, 13 were draft choices of the team during Heckert's tenure while two more were signed as undrafted free agents. In fact, three players from the club's 2009 draft class were among the 13.

Over the course of Heckert's 19-year NFL career, the teams with which he has been associated have experienced 14 winning seasons, won eight division titles and made 14 postseason trips, including six Conference Championship game appearances (1992, 2001-04, 2008 seasons), in addition to representing the NFC at Super Bowl XXXIX following the 2004 season.

In his career, Heckert has had the opportunity to work for three of the most successful head coaches in NFL history, including Hall of Famer Don Shula, Jimmy Johnson and Andy Reid.

Heckert was appointed by the NFL to the College Advisory Committee in 2003, which advises college football juniors on their draft status. He was named to the General Managers Advisory Committee in 2008, which consults Commissioner Roger Goodell and the NFL football operations department on key issues regarding player development, scouting and technology.

A native of Adrian, Michigan, Heckert spent two seasons as an assistant coach at his alma mater, Hillsdale (Mich.) College, where he also played defensive back. A second generation NFL executive, his father, Tom Sr., spent 26 years in the NFL player personnel ranks, with his final 19 seasons as part of the Dolphins' personnel department before retiring following the 2007 season. GIL HASKELL

THE PRESIDENT

YEAR WITH BROWNS: 1ST
YEAR IN NFL: 27TH

Gil Haskell was named the Browns' Senior Advisor to the President on February 10, 2010.

Haskell brings a wealth of experience to the Browns, having coached on both the collegiate and professional levels for more than 30 years. Most recently, he spent nine seasons with the Seattle Seahawks (2000-08), with his first seven campaigns as offensive coordinator (2000-06) and the final two as assistant head coach/offensive coordinator (2007-08). In 2005, the Seahawks finished the season ranked second in total offense as they advanced to Super Bowl XL. During Haskell's tenure in Seattle, the Seahawks captured four NFC West titles (2004-07) and advanced to the postseason five consecutive times (2003-07). In addition, quarterback Matt Hasselbeck was selected to the Pro Bowl on three occasions as he posted a record of 58-45 as a starter.

Prior to joining the Seahawks, Haskell was the offensive coordinator of the Carolina Panthers for two seasons (1998-99), where his offense finished the 1999 season ranked sixth overall in the NFL. That year, the Panthers produced two 1,000-yard receivers while quarterback Steve Beuerlein earned the only Pro Bowl selection of his 14-year career as he threw for 4,436 yards and 36 touchdowns, and put together a passer rating of 94.6.

Haskell also spent six years with the Green Bay Packers, coaching both running backs (1992-94) and wide receivers (1995-97). During Haskell's time in Green Bay, the Packers won three NFC Central titles (1995-97), made five postseason trips (1993-97), and appeared in two Super Bowls (1996-97) with one Super Bowl title (1996). Tutoring the team's wide receivers for his final three years with the Packers, Haskell helped develop a pair of young receivers in Robert Brooks and Antonio Freeman, who combined for three 1,000-yard receiving seasons during this time, as both surpassed the plateau in 1997.

Haskell entered the NFL coaching ranks in 1983, spending nine seasons with the Los Angeles Rams (1983-91), leading the special teams (1983-86), running backs (1987-90) and tight ends/special teams units (1991). As a member of the Rams' coaching staff, the team won the NFC West title in 1985 and made two NFC Championship game appearances, in 1985 and 1989. With Haskell as special teams coach, punt returner Henry El-lard compiled a 12.9-yard average and scored four touchdowns following his first four years (1983-86), making him the NFL's all-time leading punt returner after the '86 campaign.

Before joining the Rams, Haskell spent five seasons at the University of Southern California (1978-82) coaching wide receivers and special teams. In his first season at USC, the Trojans posted a 12-1 record and captured the 1978 NCAA National Championship, based on the UPI Coaches Poll. He joined the Trojans' staff following a nine-year stint at St. Ignatius High School (1969-77) in San Francisco, Calif., where he spent his final five seasons as the team's head coach. As a youth, Haskell spent 22 years working in a variety of roles within the San Francisco 49ers organization, as his late uncle, Dr. William O'Grady, was part owner of the team. A native of San Francisco, Haskell and his wife, Nancy, have four grown daughters, Paula, Patty, Jenny and Julie.

COACHING STAFF

ERIC MANGINI

HEAD COACH

YEAR WITH BROWNS: 2ND

YEAR IN NFL: 15TH

COACHING HISTORY

Eric Mangini was named the 12th full-time head coach in the history of the Cleveland Browns franchise on January 8, 2009.

For Mangini, it marked a return to his NFL roots, having kicked off his tenure in the league as a ball boy and an intern in the Browns' public relations department in 1994. His tireless work ethic was just as evident in that first year as it is today, a quality that led then-head coach Bill Belichick to add Mangini to the team's coaching staff in 1995.

In Mangini's first season guiding the Browns, he displayed a sense of resiliency that rubbed off on his team and led to the Browns winning their final four games of the year. This transformation actually began several games earlier, as the Browns lost their three games preceding this streak by a total of just 17 points. This four-game winning streak was about more than just becoming the first Browns team since 1986 to win their final four games of the season, it was about creating a sense of unity and infusing a belief in a system that Mangini had seen work in each of his previous coaching stops.

A critical component to this system is the set of core values which Mangini instills in his team. These four values are Communication, Focus, Finish and Trust. Players are constantly reminded of these values and they are prominently displayed on the practice fields at the Browns' Berea, Ohio training facility. To successfully carry through with these values, Mangini continually seeks out players who possess a set of six core characteristics: Smart, Tough, Competitive, Hard Working, Selfless and guys to whom Football Is Important.

It's these sets of values and characteristics that helped the Browns stay the course despite starting with a 1-7 record through the first half of the 2009 season. Over the final eight games of the season, the Browns improved in no less than 10 offensive categories and six defensive categories. The most notable per game improvements on offense occurred in points scored (+11.1), total yards (+78.2), rushing yards (+67.1), red zone efficiency (+20.8%), third down percentage (+14.7%), turnovers (-1.9) and time of possession (+3:21). On defense, the unit made its biggest strides in rushing yards (-52.0) and sacks (+1.0).

In 2009, the Browns finished the season with 77 penalties, the third-lowest total in the NFL and 23 less than the previous season when they finished 24th in the league. Overall, the Browns finished in the top 10 in the league in no less than 13 team categories, most notably sacks (40, 8TH) and rushing yards per game (130.4, 8TH). The 40 sacks were the most by a Browns team since 2001 and 23 more than the previous season.

The Browns also became just the second team in league history to start a season 1-11 and win its final four games, joining the 1993 New England Patriots.

In his 15 years of NFL coaching experience, Mangini has been a part of six teams that qualified for the playoffs, including five that captured division crowns and three that came away with the Lombardi Trophy as Super Bowl champions.

Immediately prior to being hired by the Browns, Mangini was the head coach of the New York Jets for three years (2006-08). In 2006, Mangini took over a team that had gone 4-12 the previous year and guided them to a record of 10-6 and a Wild Card playoff berth. The Jets started with a 5-5 mark before compiling victories in five of their last six contests, including their final three. The sense of discipline instilled by Mangini was apparent that year, as points allowed (355 to 295), turnovers (34 to 25), penalties (98 to 70) and sacks allowed (53 to 34) all dropped significantly from the previous season, while points scored (240 to 316), third down efficiency (35.3% to 43.8%) and time of possession (28:37 to 31:03) all improved drastically. Mangini was named AFC Coach of the Year by the prestigious Kansas City Committee of 101 that year.

Of the 15 full-time head coaches in Jets history from 1960-2009, he is one of only three to lead the team to a playoff berth in his first season with the club (Herman Edwards, 2001; Rex Ryan, 2009). Overall, Mangini led the Jets to a regular season record of 23-25 in his three seasons. During Mangini's tenure in New York, the Jets committed the fewest penalties (210) and penalty yards (1,615) combined in the NFL over that three-year span. Special teams also proved to be a point of emphasis as the Jets accounted for six return touchdowns, tying for the second-most in the NFL during the stretch while allowing only one, which tied for the fewest. In 2008, the Jets possessed one of the most potent offenses in the NFL, producing 405 points, which was not only the third-most in the AFC but also represented the third-highest single-season figure in franchise history. The running game was particularly effective in 2008, as the Jets were third in the AFC in average per rush attempt (4.7), tied for third in the AFC in rushing touchdowns (20) and ranked fourth in the AFC in rushing yards per game (125.3).

Eight different Jets earned Pro Bowl berths over the three years that Mangini was head coach, including seven following the 2008 season. Of the eight, three were drafted in Mangini's first two seasons with the team (C Nick Mangold, CB Darrelle Revis and KR Leon Washington), while four others (DT Kris Jenkins, CB Brett Favre, RB Thomas Jones and G Alan Faneca) were either traded for or signed while he was the head coach.

Prior to joining the Jets as head coach, Mangini spent six seasons with the New England Patriots (2000-05). His first five seasons were spent as defensive backs coach (2000-04) before being promoted to defensive coordinator in 2005. In Mangini's five seasons in charge of the team's secondary, the unit earned five Pro Bowl selections and evolved into one of the NFL's most successful defensive backfields. The Patriots recorded 99 interceptions from 2000-04, the fifth-highest total in the NFL over this span. Their 14 interception returns for touchdowns in those five years tied with Tampa Bay for the most in the NFL.

The performance of the Patriots' secondary and their ability to succeed despite key injuries earned high acclaim in 2004. During the regular season, seven different defensive backs recorded at least one interception while also accounting for more than half of the team's 36 takeaways. In the postseason, defensive backs registered six interceptions in three games. Injuries forced Mangini to utilize nine different starters that year, while he also had to convert a linebacker and a wide receiver into defensive backs. Following season-ending injuries to each of the opening-day starting cornerbacks, Mangini enlisted second-year performer Asante Samuel and undrafted rookie Randall Gay, who started 23 games combined, including all three playoff contests. In addition, under Mangini's tutelage, 12-year veteran wide receiver Troy Brown learned to play cornerback; Brown recorded 17 tackles and three interceptions, tying for second on the team. Linebacker Don Davis was also used in the secondary, starting at safety for the final two games of the regular season. Despite these drastic changes, Patriots' opponents produced a composite passer rating of only 75.3 during the regular season, giving New England the fourth-best mark in the AFC, as the Patriots marched to their third Super Bowl title in a span of four seasons.

The secondary was an integral part of a dominating defense that led the NFL in 2003 by allowing a franchise-record low 14.9 points per game. The Patriots ended the season with 15 consecutive wins, including the Super Bowl XXXVIII title. New England's pass defense led the NFL in four key categories that year: interceptions (29), fewest touchdown receptions allowed (11), opponents' passer rating (56.2) and pass deflections (121).

The Patriots' 29 interceptions were the second-most in club history and the most by a Patriots team in 40 years (31 in 1963).

Prior to his stint in New England, Mangini was an assistant coach with the Jets under head coach Bill Parcells from 1997-99. He served primarily as the Jets' defensive assistant/quality control coach and worked closely with Bill Belichick, who was the Jets' assistant head coach/secondary. Mangini was also responsible for advance opponent film breakdowns and analysis. In 1999, the Jets' defense ranked third in the AFC with 24 interceptions, the team's highest total since 1969 (29). The defensive backs recorded 18 of those 24 interceptions. In 1998, the Jets' defense surrendered an average of just 16.6 points per game, a figure that ranked third in franchise history, helping the Jets to a 12-4 regular season record and the club's first division title, as they advanced to the AFC Championship Game before falling to the eventual Super Bowl champion Denver Broncos.

Mangini's first coaching opportunity came in 1995 as an assistant on the Browns' staff. Ted Marchibroda retained Mangini when the team moved to Baltimore in 1996 and became the Ravens, where he worked as an offensive assistant/quality control coach. The Ravens averaged 357.7 yards per game during the 1996 season, the third-highest figure in the NFL that year.

PHILANTHROPY

Mangini realizes the importance of giving back to the community. In 2002, Mangini, along with his brother, Kyle, founded the Carmine & Frank Mangini (CFM) Foundation to benefit under-resourced children. Funds from the foundation are used towards computer scholarships for students and mini grants for teachers and coaches to pursue projects that may be beyond their current budget. Each year in Hartford, Mangini hosts a one-day football fundamentals minicamp that raises money for the foundation. The camp was first held in 2002 and has grown each year, giving athletes in grades 8-12 a chance to learn skills from some of the NFL's top players and coaches. This past year, more than 125 volunteer coaches taught more than 800 students during the one-day session, making it the largest camp since its inception in 2002.

During his tenure in New York, Mangini and his wife, Julie, were strongly committed to their philanthropic endeavors. Mangini hosted the inaugural Charity Bowl at Chelsea Piers in New York City in May 2007 and then again in 2008, the proceeds from which benefitted non-profit organizations committed to providing athletic and academic opportunities to deserving children. In addition, the couple has actively supported other charitable organizations including Homeless Solutions, Inc. and the St. Elizabeth House.

Since coming to Cleveland, Mangini has opened doors for various youth and military groups to attend minicamp and training camp practices. During the holiday season, he and Julie have immersed themselves in the Adopt-A-Family Program through The Littlest Heroes. In addition, the couple has taken under its wing the Berea Children's Home & Family Services, a group to which they have donated time and resources.

The Mangini's have also been involved with the Big Brothers Big Sisters of Northeast Ohio. They helped create an opportunity for "Littles" to write an essay, story or poem about Big Brothers Big Sisters describing what their "Big" means to them. Because the Bigs often do so much for their Littles, this reverses the role and offers the Littles the opportunity to be selected to take their Big to a Browns game and receive special treatment, including pre-game field passes and postgame autographs from Browns players and coaches.

Mangini's work off the field has also included a couple of television appearances. In 2007, along with Jets players Chad Pennington, Laveranues Coles and Ben Graham, he was in an episode of Sesame Street in which he taught Elmo and his goldfish, Dorothy, the basics of football and the alphabet. Also that year, he made a cameo in the final season of the hit HBO series The Sopranos.

PERSONAL

Mangini played nose tackle and earned four letters (1989-90, 1992-93) at Wesleyan University in Middletown, Connecticut. He set a school record with 36.5 career sacks, including 22 during his final two seasons. In 1993, he ranked second in school history in total tackles and was voted a first-team all-star by NESAC and ECAC-New England Division III. He also earned All-America third-team and All-East Coast honors in 1992 and 1993. He graduated from Wesleyan in 1994 with a degree in political science.

As an undergraduate at Wesleyan, Mangini worked as an intern for the New England Crusaders, a minor league football team. Mangini also spent two seasons in Melbourne, Australia as the head coach/defensive coordinator for the Kew Colts, a semi-professional football team. He led the team to a two-year mark of 22-3-1 and a pair of championships. It was in Australia that Mangini's love of coaching began to grow.

Mangini is a native of Hartford, where he attended Bulkeley High School. As a senior in 1988, he received the Brian Piccolo Award for outstanding athletic and academic achievement, was named the Scholar Athlete of the Year and earned the scholar-athlete award from the National Football Foundation and College Hall of Fame.

Eric and Julie have three sons: Jake, Luke and Zack.

BRAD SEELY

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH/SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

YEAR WITH BROWNS: 2ND
YEAR IN NFL: 22ND

Brad Seely is entering his second season as the Browns' assistant head coach/special teams coordinator. One of the most respected special teams coaches in the NFL, he has 32 years of coaching experience, 21 of which have come in the NFL.

In addition to being a part of three Super Bowl winning staffs in his NFL career, since 1990 Seely's special teams units have ranked in the top nine in the NFL 10 times, based on a composite formula devised by the Dallas Morning News. This includes a top five finish six times and a No. 1 ranking twice, one of which came last year. Seely was voted as the Special Teams Coach of the Year by his peers in 2009.

In 2009, the Browns' special teams ranked in the top 10 in the NFL in no less than eight categories, including a No. 1 finish in kickoff return defense (19.9 avg.) and average drive start after kickoffs (31.4). They ranked in the top five in the NFL in five other categories, including a No. 3 finish in punts inside the 20 (40) and punt return average (11.7), a No. 4 ranking in field goal percentage (92.0%) and net punting average (37.8), while they garnered a No. 5 finish in punt return average defense (6.6). Individually, Josh Cribbs became the eighth player to earn Pro Bowl honors under Seely, as Cribbs led the NFL in kickoff return touchdowns (3) and total return touchdowns (4), as he became the NFL's all-time leader for kickoff return touchdowns. With kickoff return touchdowns of 103 and 100 yards at Kansas City on December 20, Cribbs became one of only two players in NFL history to have two kickoff returns for touchdowns of 100 yards or longer in the same game. Cribbs also finished third in the NFL in kickoff return average (27.5) and fourth in punt return average (11.9). In addition, Blake Costanzo evolved into one of the top coverage players in the league, as he accounted for 14 tackles, three fumble recoveries and one forced fumble, and was named to CNN/ISI.com's All-Pro team.

Before joining the Browns, Seely spent the previous 10 seasons with the New England Patriots as special teams coach, where he was a part of three Super Bowl championship clubs as a member of that staff. During his tenure in New England, Seely's special teams units consistently contributed to the team's accomplishments. In fact, combined over a 10-year period from 1999-2008, the Patriots led the NFL in kickoff return average (23.5), were fourth in field goal percentage (83.4%) and placed eighth in punt return average (9.9). In addition, his units registered 11 returns for touchdowns, including eight off kickoffs, a figure that tied for second in the NFL over this 10-year stretch.

During Seely's time in New England, kickers Adam Vinatieri and Stephen Gostkowski, as well as special teamer Larry Izzo all were selected to represent the AFC in the Pro Bowl. In addition, the Patriots twice had the AFC's leading kickoff returner during Seely's tenure (Kevin Faulk in 2002, Bethel Johnson in 2003), and the leading punt returner once (Troy Brown in 2002).

Prior to joining the Patriots, Seely worked with the Carolina Panthers from its inaugural season of 1995 through 1998, where he helped lead a team that appeared in the NFC Championship Game in just its second season. In 1996, Seely earned Special Teams Coach of the Year honors with Carolina as he helped produce the NFL's best kick return specialist in Michael Bates, who made the first of three straight Pro Bowl appearances that year. Also in 1996, kicker John Kasay made the lone Pro Bowl appearance of his career, as he established a then-NFL record 37 field goals.

Seely got his start in the NFL coaching ranks in 1989, when he tutored Indianapolis' special teams and tight ends for a five-year stint (1989-93). During his tenure with the club, he assisted in the development of two Pro Bowl special teamers - punter Rohn Stark and return specialist Clarence Verdin. In 1992, the Colts had the NFL's top specials teams unit based on rankings by the Dallas Morning News. Seely then coached the Jets' special teams for one year (1994), and in that season the Jets ranked fifth in the league in kickoff return defense (19.6 avg.) and sixth in punt return defense (6.8 avg.).

Seely began his coaching career in 1978 at South Dakota State. The following year, he accepted a graduate assistant position at Colorado State, where he was later hired as the offensive line coach in 1980. In 1981, he was named the assistant offensive line coach on Ron Meyer's staff at Southern Methodist. He helped coach a line that opened holes for SMU's "Pony Express" backfield of Eric Dickerson and Craig James. The next year, he coached at North Carolina State before joining the staff at Pacific in 1983. In 1984, he started a five-year stint as the offensive line coach at Oklahoma State, which helped produce the likes of Thurman Thomas and 1988 Heisman Trophy winner Barry Sanders.

Seely earned a degree in economics and physical education while garnering all-conference honors as an offensive guard at South Dakota State. Seely and his wife, Patti, have three daughters, Sarah, Hannah and Brynn.

In Daboll's first year as offensive coordinator, the Browns committed just 31 penalties on offense, the lowest total of any team in the league. In addition, the offense improved dramatically over the second half of the season, as they saw increased production in no less than 10 categories over the final eight games, most notably points scored (+11.1 pg), total yards (+78.2 pg), rushing yards (+67.1 pg), red zone efficiency (+20.8%), third down efficiency (+14.7%), turnovers (-1.9 pg) and time of possession (+3:21 pg).

Before joining the Jets, Daboll spent seven seasons on the New England Patriots' coaching staff, where he earned three Super Bowl rings. He began his tenure in New England in 2000 as a defensive coaching assistant. After holding that position for two seasons (2000-01), he was promoted to wide receivers coach and held that title for his final five seasons (2002-06). Under his tutelage, wide receiver Deion Branch was named MVP of the Patriots' Super Bowl XXXIX win over Philadelphia following the 2004 season, the first player to earn that honor as a wide receiver since San Francisco's Jerry Rice in Super Bowl XXIII after the 1988 season.

Prior to making the jump to the NFL, Daboll spent one year as a restricted volunteer at the College of William & Mary before serving two seasons (1998-99) as a graduate assistant at Michigan State University.

In Ryan's first year as defensive coordinator, the Browns' defense did not allow a touchdown in three contests, the most games in which a Browns defense did not yield a touchdown since 2003. The unit registered 40 sacks, tied for the eighth-highest total in the NFL last year and the most by a Browns team since 2001 (43). GARY BROWN

RUNNING BACKS

YEAR WITH BROWNS: 2ND
YEAR IN NFL: 2ND

Gary Brown enters his second season as the Browns' running backs coach, after having been named to the post on February 17, 2009.

In Brown's first season tutoring the team's running backs, Jerome Harrison led the club with 862 yards rushing, after he had amassed 448 yards in his first three NFL seasons combined. He rushed for 570 yards and five touchdowns on 113 carries (5.0) over the final four games, the second-highest total in the NFL over the final quarter of the season. His total included a Browns single-game record 286 yards at Kansas City on December 20, as he snapped Jim Brown's previous club mark. That game was the first of three in a row in which Harrison eclipsed the 100-yard rushing plateau.

Brown owned six years of collegiate coaching experience upon joining Cleveland, having coached running backs and served as an offensive coordinator at that level. Brown spent the 2008 season as the running backs coach at Rutgers, where he helped the Scarlet Knights to an 8-5 mark and a victory in the PapaJohns.com Bowl. Under Brown's tutelage, the trio of Kordell Young, Jourdan Brooks and Joe Martinek combined for 1,474 rushing yards, a 4.9-yard average per attempt and 15 rushing touchdowns in 2008.

Prior to joining the Rutgers staff, Brown spent the previous two seasons (2006-07) as offensive coordinator at Susquehanna University. In 2007, while under the guidance of Brown, Crusaders sophomore running back Dave Paveletz produced the second-highest single-season rushing total in program history and was named first-team All-Liberty League.

Brown got his start in the coaching profession immediately following an eight-year NFL career as a player when he served as the offensive coordinator at Williamsport (Pa.) Area High School from 2000-02. He then broke into the college ranks as the running backs coach at Lycoming College (2003-05).

In addition to his collegiate positions, Brown also helped coach the running backs at New York Giants training camp in 2005, then worked with the Green Bay Packers in 2006 and Carolina Panthers in 2007 as part of the NFL's Minority Coaching Fellowship program.

Brown enjoyed a solid four-year career at Penn State (1987-90), and as a sophomore in 1988, he led the Nittany Lions in rushing yards.

A native of Williamsport, Pa., Brown played eight seasons in the NFL (1991-95, 1997-99) after being selected in the eighth round of the 1991 Draft by the Houston Oilers. In his career, he played for the Oilers (1991-95), Chargers (1997) and Giants (1998-99). During that time he ran for 4,300 yards and 21 touchdowns on 1,023 carries and caught 84 passes for 631 yards and three scores in 99 games. He rushed for 1,000 yards twice, including 1,002 in 1993 and 1,063 yards in 1998. His feat in 1993 was accomplished while playing in just eight games.

Brown went on to earn his degree in sports administration from Lock Haven University in 2005. He and his wife, Kim, have two daughters, Malena and Dorianna, and a son, Tre.

In Cox's first year in Cleveland, Robaire Smith came back from an Achilles injury that limited him to two games in 2008, and started 15 contests, finishing fifth on the team with 62 tackles. Cox also oversaw the development of a pair of youngsters in nose tackle Ahtyba Rubin and end Brian Schaefering, both of whom made their first NFL starts in 2009. Rubin, a second-year performer who recorded 38 tackles, started the final five games last year as the Browns held their opponents to less than 100 yards rushing in three of them. Schaefering, who made his NFL regular season debut last year, played in the final five games after spending the first 12 weeks on the practice squad. He responded by totaling 12 tackles and 1.5 sacks.

Cox had a stellar 12-year career as a linebacker in the NFL after being chosen by Miami in the fifth round of the 1991 Draft. He played the first five years of his career with the Dolphins before spending time with Chicago (1996-97), the Jets (1998-2000), New England (2001) and New Orleans (2002). During that time he appeared in 165 regular season games, including 145 starts. He posted 51.5 career sacks, including a high of 14 in 1992, a figure which led the Dolphins that year and propelled him to the first Pro Bowl of his career. He also received that honor in both 1994 and 1995.

Cox played collegiately at Western Illinois from 1987-90, where he earned his degree in mass communications.

A native of East St. Louis, Ill., Cox and his wife, Kim, have four daughters, Lavonda, Brittani, Kelli and Chiquita, and a son, Bryan, Jr.

MATT EBERFLUS

LINEBACKERS

YEAR IN NFL: 2ND

Matt Eberflus enters his second season as a member of the Browns' coaching staff in 2010 after being named the team's linebackers coach on February 20, 2009. He joined the club after spending the previous 17 years on the collegiate level and the last eight years on the staff at the University of Missouri as the Tigers' defensive coordinator.

In his first season tutoring the Browns' linebackers, Eberflus helped guide the unit to a solid performance despite the fact that both starting inside linebackers sustained season-ending injuries by Week 8. David Bowens made the successful transition from the outside to inside and responded with a career-high 71 tackles, including 5.5 sacks the third-highest total of his 11-year NFL career. Third-year performer Jason Trusnik, acquired five weeks into the season, made the first 10 starts of his three-year career and collected 54 tackles and 2.5 sacks. Matt Roth stepped right into the starting lineup after being claimed off waivers and registered 28 tackles and four sacks in just six games. In addition, rookie Marcus Bernard, signed as an undrafted free agent last year, responded with 3.5

sacks in just six games after spending the first nine weeks of the season on the club's practice squad.

While at Missouri, Eberflus helped the Tigers to the Big 12 North Division title in 2008 and 2007, while compiling a 22-6 record during his final two seasons. Regarded as a top-notch recruiter, Eberflus landed several impact players in his time at Mizzou, most notably All-American quarterback Brad Smith (Youngstown, Ohio), wide receiver Sean Coffey (East Cleveland, Ohio), defensive back William Moore (Hayti, Mo.) and linebacker Sean Weatherspoon (Greenville, S.C.).

Before arriving in Columbia, Missouri, Eberflus spent nine years on the staff of his alma mater, the University of Toledo (1992-2000), the first as a student assistant and then as a graduate assistant before being hired on a full-time basis in 1994. In Eberflus' seven seasons as a full-time member of that staff, the team had a winning mark each time, as it compiled a composite record of 56-22-2, including an 11-0-1 mark in 1995 and a record of 10-1 in 2000.

Eberflus was a four-year letterwinner and a three-year starter at linebacker at Toledo, earning first team all-conference honors his junior and senior seasons, as he led the team in tackles both times. He also served as team captain his senior year. In addition, he received the Nicholson Trophy as a senior for contributing the most towards the success of the team. He earned his degree in education from Toledo 1993. In February 2004, Eberflus was inducted into the Toledo Athletic Hall of Fame.

In 2009, Hagen's tight ends proved key as blockers in the running game, as the Browns averaged 4.2 yards per rush attempt, including a 5.0-yard clip over the final five games. In addition, Hagen oversaw the development of Evan Moore, who spent four weeks on the Browns' practice squad before making his NFL debut in a game against San Diego on December 6, when he caught six passes for 80 yards. He finished the season with 12 receptions for 128 yards, as he racked up the second-most receptions on the team over the final five weeks of the season.

Hagen re-joined the Browns last season with 20 years of experience as a coach at the collegiate level, most recently at the University of North Carolina, where he tutored the tight ends for the previous two seasons. In 2008, the Tar Heels secured a record of 8-5 as they went on to play in the Meineke Car Care Bowl, the school's first bowl appearance in four years. Prior to that, he was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at Fresno State for one season (2006).

In his first stint with Cleveland, Hagen spent time as both the tight ends coach (2001-03) and quarterbacks coach (2004).

Prior to his work in the NFL, Hagen was the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach at the University of California from 1999-2000. He spent two seasons at San Jose State as offensive coordinator, quarterbacks coach and recruiting coordinator, from 1997-98. He previously served as

GEORGE McDONALD

WIDE RECEIVERS

YEAR WITH BROWNS: 2ND

YEAR IN NFL: 2ND

George McDonald is going into his second season as the Browns' wide receivers coach following a nine-year stint as an assistant at the collegiate level.

In 2009, McDonald helped to oversee the development of rookie Mohamed Massaquoi, a second-round draft choice last year who led the team with 34 receptions for 624 yards and three touchdowns, becoming only the fourth rookie to lead the club in receiving yards. His 18.4-yard average per catch was a Browns rookie record, surpassing the previous mark of 17.7 set by Hall of Famer Paul Warfield in 1964. In addition, Massaquoi's average per reception was the second-highest figure among the top 50 receiving yardage leaders in the AFC last year.

McDonald came to the Browns after spending the previous two seasons as the wide receivers coach at the University of Minnesota. In 2008, McDonald played an integral role in helping junior wide receiver Eric Decker to his most productive season as a Gopher, as he set a school record with 84 receptions, eclipsed the 1,000-yard receiving mark (1,074) and earned a first-team All-Big Ten bid.

Before arriving at Minnesota, McDonald spent the 2005-06 seasons at Western Michigan, where he worked with current Green Bay Packers receiver Greg Jennings. In McDonald's first season with the Broncos, Jennings was named 2005 MAC Offensive Player of the Year, MAC co-MVP (Vern Smith Award) and was a Biletnikoff Award semifinalist after setting program records for career receptions, receiving touchdowns and all-purpose yards. Prior to his stint with the Broncos, McDonald served as tight ends coach at Stanford (2004) and wide receivers coach at Northern Illinois (2001-03). While at Stanford, McDonald tutored current Browns tight end Alex Smith, who was a finalist for the Mackey Award as the nation's top tight end that year and went on to be selected by Tampa Bay in the third round of the 2005 Draft.

McDonald has also gained valuable NFL experience serving a minority internship during training camps with the New York Jets (2004, 2006), Chicago (2005) and Tampa Bay (2007).

A native of Buena Park, Calif., McDonald began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Ball State University in 2000 after lettering four seasons as a receiver at Illinois (1995-98), where he finished with 59 career receptions and 589 yards. A two-sport athlete, McDonald also ran track as a freshman and senior, earning All-Big Ten honors during his senior campaign with a school-record 6.74 mark in the 60 meters to claim the league title.

Carl Smith re-joined the Browns on January 22, 2009, after first spending the 2001-03 seasons as part of the team's staff. He possesses the most experience of any member of the club's current staff, having spent more than 35 years in the coaching profession, including 20 in the NFL.

Of Smith's 20 seasons as an NFL assistant, 13 have been spent as offensive coordinator. Most recently, he served in that role with the Jacksonville Jaguars from 2005-06. In 2006, Jacksonville's offense ranked 10th in the league and third overall in rushing with an average of 158.8 yards per game. In 2005, the Jaguars' offense racked up 361 points, 100 more than they did the previous season, as they compiled a regular season record of 12-4. In addition, the offense turned the ball over just 17 times that year, the second-lowest figure in the NFL, while their six interceptions were the fewest in the NFL.

Prior to joining the Jaguars, Smith spent the 2004 season as the quarterbacks coach at USC, where he mentored Heisman Trophy winner Matt Leinart as the Trojans won the national championship.

For 21 of his last 22 seasons in the coaching profession, Smith has been an assistant at the professional level, beginning with a three-year stint (1983-85) with the Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars of the USFL. His final two years there were spent as quarterbacks/wide receivers coach, and the Stars claimed the league title on both occasions. He moved on to the New Orleans Saints in 1986, serving as that team's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for the next 11 seasons. During that time, the franchise recorded its first-ever winning season, earned its first playoff berth, won its first division title and qualified for the postseason on four occasions. From 1997-99, Smith was on the staff of the New England Patriots, first as assistant head coach/quarterbacks (1997) and then as tight ends coach (1998-99). In that '97 season, quarterback Drew Bledsoe completed more than 60 percent of his passes, threw for more than 3,700 yards and amassed career-high figures for touchdown passes (28) and passer rating (87.7) as he was voted to the AFC Pro Bowl squad. In 1998, tight end Ben Coates led the team in receiving with 67 catches for 668 yards and six touchdowns, as he ranked second among NFL tight ends in receptions that year and was voted to the AFC Pro Bowl squad.

Before getting into the professional ranks, Smith was an assistant at the collegiate level for 12 seasons, the final six as an offensive coordinator. This consisted of stops at Cal Poly-SLO (1971), Colorado (1972-73), Louisiana-Lafayette (1974-78), Lamar (1979-81) and North Carolina State (1982).

Smith lettered in football as a defensive back at Cal Poly-SLO from 1969-70 after transferring from Bakersfield College, where he played quarterback from 1966-67. He earned his bachelor's (1971) and master's (1972) degrees in physical education from Cal Poly-SLO, as well as a teaching credential.

GEORGE WARHOP

OFFENSIVE LINE

YEAR WITH BROWNS: 2ND
YEAR IN NFL: 15TH

George Warhop is entering his second year of service as the offensive line coach with the Browns and his 15th overall in the NFL.

In 2009, the Browns averaged 130.4 rushing yards per game, which ranked eighth in the league. Cleveland also averaged 4.2 yards per rush attempt and yielded just 30 sacks, figures which put them in the top half of the NFL in both categories. Under Warhop's tutelage, left tackle Joe Thomas was selected to his third straight Pro Bowl and first-round draft pick Alex Mack became just the fifth NFL rookie since 1998 to start all 16 games at center, as he was a consensus all-rookie selection.

Prior to joining the Browns last year, Warhop spent the previous four seasons with the 49ers. In San Francisco, Warhop shaped an offensive line which paved the way for running back Frank Gore to become the first player in franchise history with three consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons (2006-08). This included a franchise-record 1,695 yards in 2006, a figure which led the NFC that year. In 2007, Warhop oversaw the development of rookie tackle Joe Staley, who opened all 16 games at right tackle and became the first rookie offensive lineman in 49ers history to start all 16 contests. In addition, guard Larry Allen was selected to the NFC Pro Bowl squad that year.

Warhop joined San Francisco after spending the previous two seasons (2003-04) with the Dallas Cowboys. In Warhop's two years with the Cowboys, tackle Flozell Adams and guard Larry Allen were selected to the NFC Pro Bowl squad both times.

Warhop got his start in the NFL as an offensive line assistant with the St. Louis Rams from 1996-97. That catapulted him into the position of offensive line coach with the Arizona Cardinals in 1998, a spot he held for the next five years. During his tenure with the Cardinals, Warhop tutored the group through a steady decline in quarterback sacks allowed from the 78 surrendered in 1997 – the year prior to his arrival – to 50 in 1998, 45 in 1999, 35 in 2000 and 29 in 2001.

Warhop entered the coaching arena in 1983, as a student assistant at his alma mater, Cincinnati. He then served on the offensive staffs at Kansas (1984-86), Vanderbilt (1987-89) and New Mexico (1990-91). From 1991-92, he was the offensive coordinator for the London Monarchs of the World League of American Football, helping that team to a World Bowl title in 1991. He had a pair of stops as an offensive line coach at the collegiate level, at SMU (1993) and Boston College (1994-95) before embarking on his NFL career.

Warhop was a standout offensive lineman at Rubidoux High School in Riverside, Calif., and went on to play guard at Mount San Jacinto College (Calif.) before moving on to the University of Cincinnati, where he played center.

SEASON STARTER

The Browns will kick off the 2010 regular season on Sunday, September 12 in the Sunshine State when they travel to Raymond James Stadium to face the Tampa Bay Buccaneers at 1:00 p.m. The contest snaps an 11-year streak of season openers at home, dating back to the team's return in 1999. Their streak of having opened the season at home 11 straight times was the longest in the NFL since the Chicago Bears opened 14 consecutive games at home from 1983-1998.

HOW THE BROWNS WERE NAMED

Just how did the Cleveland Browns get their name?

One myth is that the team was named after the popular boxing champion, Joe Louis, "The Brown Bomber." The truth, according to several published reports, is this:

When owner Arthur McBride brought an AAFC team to Cleveland in 1945, he held a newspaper contest to name the team and offered a $1,000 war bond to the winner. Most of the entries submitted wanted the name Browns, because the extremely popular Paul Brown was the team's head coach.

Coach Brown thought it wouldn't be proper to name the team after him, and the entry "Panthers" was selected. A few weeks later, a man approached McBride and said he owned a semi-pro team in the 1920s called the Cleveland Panthers and he still owned the rights to the name.

McBride could have bought the man off, but Brown vetoed the idea. The coach didn't want the new team to be associated with a losing franchise. Instead of holding a new contest, Brown reluctantly agreed to name the team Browns. But, in sticking with his original ideals, Brown suggested publicly that since Louis was "The Brown Bomber", that was how the team got its name. Not a single entry in the contest listed Louis or his nickname as a reason for choosing "Browns."

TEAM HISTORY

1946

The Cleveland Browns were originated by Owner Arthur (Mickey) McBride as a member of the All-America Football Conference. Paul Brown was named coach and general manager, and the first player he signed was then-tailback Otto Graham, who was converted to quarterback with the Browns. The Browns won the Western Division title with a 42-17 victory over the Buffalo Bisons and then defeated the New York Yankees, 14-9, in the championship game.

1947-49

The Browns continued their domination of the AAFC, winning three more championships.

1950

Following the merger of the AAFC and the NFL, the Browns tied the New York Giants with 10-2 records for a share of the Eastern Division title. The Browns defeated the New York Giants, 8-3, in a playoff game and then stopped the Los Angeles Rams, 30-28, for the championship.

1951-53

The Browns won three consecutive Eastern titles, but lost each time in the league's title match, once to the Los Angeles Rams and twice to the Detroit Lions. In 1953, McBride sold the club to an organization headed by David Jones.

1954-55

Led by quarterback Otto Graham, the Browns won back-to-back NFL championships, defeating the Detroit Lions and Los Angeles Rams.

1956

At 5-7, the Browns suffered their first losing season.

1957

Jim Brown was selected in the first round by the Browns and earned rookie-of-the-year honors while helping Cleveland to the Eastern Division title.

1961

Art Modell purchased the Browns for the then unheard sum of $4 million.

1963

Paul Brown was released from his duties after 17 seasons as head coach of the franchise. Blanton Collier, a Browns' assistant, was named head coach.

1964

The Browns won the Eastern Conference title with a 52-20 victory over the New York Giants and defeated the Baltimore Colts, 27-0, in the NFL Championship Game.

1965

In his last season, Jim Brown won NFL MVP honors and led Cleveland to the NFL Championship Game, where the Browns were defeated by the Green Bay Packers.

1966

An eighth round pick in 1964, Leroy Kelly became the club's dominant threat, rushing for 1,141 yards, but the Browns finished second in the Eastern Conference to the Dallas Cowboys.

1968

With newly acquired quarterback Bill Nelsen (from the Pittsburgh Steelers), the Browns won the Century Division title and beat the Dallas Cowboys in the playoffs, but lost to the Baltimore Colts in the NFL Championship Game.

1969

The Browns won the Century Division title for the third straight year, but lost to the Minnesota Vikings in the NFL Championship Game.

1970

The Browns became members of the AFC Central Division and finished second. The Browns beat the New York Jets, 31-21, on Monday Night Football's first-ever telecast.

1971

Nick Skorich, a Browns' assistant, was named head coach. The club won its first AFC Central crown.

1972

The Browns lost to the eventual Super Bowl Champion Miami Dolphins in the playoffs, 20-14, as the Dolphins completed an undefeated season.

1975-77

1978

Sam Rutigliano became the first non-Browns' assistant to be named head coach of the Browns. Cleveland won its first three contests en route to an 8-8 finish.

1979

Losses in the final two games dropped the Browns' record to 9-7 and prevented the team from entering the playoffs. Mike Pruitt had the first of three straight 1,000-yard seasons.

1980

The Browns won the AFC Central Division title with an 11-5 record, but lost to the eventual Super Bowl champion Oakland Raiders in the playoffs. Quarterback Brian Sipe was consensus MVP of the NFL.

1982

In a strike-shortened season, the Browns finished eighth in the AFC (4-5) and gained a playoff spot for the second time in three years. Cleveland lost to the Los Angeles Raiders in the Super Bowl Tournament.

1983

The Browns tied for a Wild Card playoff spot with a 9-7 record, but lost the NFL tie-breaking procedure to the Denver Broncos and Seattle Seahawks.

1985

The Browns captured their third AFC Central Division title, but lost to the Miami Dolphins in the playoffs, 24-21, at Miami. Rookie Kevin Mack (1,104) and Earnest Byner (1,002) each gained 1,000 yards rushing. It marked the third time in the 66-year history of the NFL that teammates both rushed for over 1,000 yards in the same season.

1986

The Browns posted a team-record 12 wins en route to their second consecutive AFC Central Division crown. In a double-overtime playoff thriller before a packed Cleveland Municipal Stadium crowd, the Browns beat the New York Jets, 23-20, to advance to the AFC Championship game. The Browns lost to the Denver Broncos, also in overtime, 23-20.

1987

The Browns captured their third straight AFC Central Division crown, as they finished the season 10-5. The third week of the NFL season was cancelled due to a 24-day players' strike, during which three "replacement" games were played (the Browns posted a 2-1 record). The Browns defeated the Indianapolis Colts, 38-21, at Cleveland Municipal Stadium in the AFC playoffs, then dropped their second straight AFC Championship to the Denver Broncos despite a spectacular come-from-behind bid that saw the Browns score 30 second-half points, only to fall, 38-33, at Mile High Stadium. Bernie Kosar won the AFC passing title with a 95.4 QB rating, and an NFL-high eight Browns made the Pro Bowl.

1988

Cleveland finished 10-6 and earned a Wild Card berth by defeating the Houston Oilers, 28-23, in the season finale by overcoming a 16-point third-quarter deficit. The Browns suffered through a 3-13 season. Jim Shofner replaced Bud Carson as interim head coach on Nov. 5.

1991-93

Bill Belichick was named the eighth full-time head coach on Feb. 5, 1991. The Browns moved into a new training and administrative complex located in Berea, Ohio, in August 1991 and began holding training camp there in July 1992. The Browns finished 6-10, 7-9 and 7-9, respectively. Unrestricted free agency began in 1993. The Browns signed five players in the first year of this system, including quarterback Vinny Testaverde of Tampa Bay.

1994

The Browns earned a playoff berth for the first time in the '90s, finishing 11-5 and defeating the New England Patriots, 20-13, in the Wild Card

Game at soldout Cleveland Municipal Stadium. The Browns faced the Pittsburgh Steelers for the first time ever in the playoffs, and lost, 29-9, at Three Rivers Stadium. The Cleveland defense set a team record by allowing just 204 points, and six players went to the Pro Bowl.

The Browns concluded the season with a 5-11 record. On November 6, owner Art Modell announced he was relocating the team to Baltimore, Md. The final game played at Cleveland Municipal Stadium was on Dec. 17 against the Cincinnati Bengals. The Browns defeated the Bengals, 26-10. The victory marked an all-time NFL record of 202-117-5 (.631) while playing at Cleveland Municipal Stadium.

RETIRED UNIFORM NUMBERS

#14 OTTO GRAHAM

From 1946-1955, Otto Graham guided the Browns to 10 league crowns and NFL Championships in 1950, 1954 and 1955. He led the NFL in passing for two seasons and recorded 23,584 career passing yards. In 1953, Graham finished the season with a 64.73 completion percentage, the highest in club history. He was an All-League selection from 1951-55. Graham was inducted in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1965.

#32 JIM BROWN

Brown was the NFL's leading rusher in eight seasons and holds the Browns franchise record for career rushing yards, attempts and touchdowns. An All-America selection from Syracuse in 1956, Brown was named NFL Rookie of the Year in 1957. He participated in nine consecutive Pro Bowls from 1958-66 and was voted NFL most valuable player in 1958 and 1965. Brown was inducted in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1971.

#45 ERNIE DAVIS

After being selected first in the 1961 NFL draft, the Browns acquired Ernie Davis in a trade with the Washington Redskins. Tragically, Davis passed away two years later from leukemia and never played a professional game. A star running back from Syracuse, Davis was the first African-American to win the Heisman Trophy in 1961 and guided the Orangemen to their only national championship the same year.

#46 DON FLEMING

Don Fleming was selected by the Chicago Cardinals in the 28th round of the 1959 NFL draft. He was traded to the Browns in 1960 and was a mainstay at the safety position. From 1960-63, Fleming intercepted 10 passes and was named to The Sporting News All-AFC team in 1962. During the 1963 offseason, Fleming and a co-worker were sadly electrocuted working a construction job. His passing came a few weeks after Ernie Davis' death.

#76 LOU GROZA

Lou Groza is Cleveland's top scorer with 1,349 points on 234 FGs, 641 PATs and one TD. He scored at least one point in 107 consecutive games and his last-second field goal sealed the 1950 NFL Championship for the Browns. Originally an offensive left tackle, Groza suffered a back injury which converted him into a kicking specialist from 1961-67. He was an All-NFL tackle on six occasions and was the NFL Player of the Year in 1954. Groza was inducted in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1974.

Playoff Game

NFL Championship Game

The Browns have won 29 NFL games by shutout and lost 24. Cleveland registered eight shutouts in the AAFC, and was never shutout.

1950 CLEVELAND BROWNS NFL CHAMPIONSHIP TEAM

After joining the NFL following winning four consecutive AAFC titles, Cleveland captured the NFL Championship in its first season. The Browns are one of only three teams in NFL history to claim an NFL Championship their first year in the league, joining the Akron Pros (1920) and the Houston Oilers [AFL] (1960). Running back Marion Motley led the NFL with 810 rushing yards and kicker/offensive lineman Lou Groza led the NFL with 13 field goals made as the Browns went 10-2 during the regular season. The Browns topped the Los Angeles Rams, 30-28 at Municipal Stadium, for their first of four NFL Championships.

NFL TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURES

The following procedures will be used to break standings ties for postseason playoffs and to determine regular-season schedules.

Note: Tie games count as one-half win and one-half loss for both clubs.

TO BREAK A TIE WITHIN A DIVISION

If, at the end of the regular season, two or more clubs in the same division finish with the best won-lost-tied percentage, the following steps will be taken until a champion is determined:

TWO CLUBS

1. Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games between the clubs.)
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
5. Strength of victory.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
8. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
9. Best net points in common games.
10. Best net points in all games.
11. Best net touchdowns in all games.
12. Coin toss.

THREE OR MORE CLUBS

Note: If two clubs remain tied after a third club is eliminated during any step, tiebreaker reverts to Step 1 of the two-club format.

1. Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games among the clubs.)
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
5. Strength of victory.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
8. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
9. Best net points in common games.
10. Best net points in all games.
11. Best net touchdowns in all games.
12. Coin toss.

TO BREAK A TIE FOR THE WILD-CARD TEAM

If it is necessary to break ties to determine the two Wild Card clubs from each conference, the following steps will be taken:

- A. If all the tied clubs are from the same division, apply division tie-breaker.
- B. If the tied clubs are from different divisions, apply the following steps:

TWO CLUBS

1. Head-to-head, if applicable.
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in the games played within the conference.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
4. Strength of victory.
5. Strength of schedule.
6. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
7. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
8. Best net points in conference games.
9. Best net points in all games.
10. Best net touchdowns in all games.
11. Coin toss.

THREE OR MORE CLUBS

1. Apply division tie-breaker to eliminate all but highest ranked club in each division prior to proceeding to Step 2.
2. The original seeding within a division upon application of the division tie-breaker remains the same for all subsequent applications of the procedure that are necessary to identify the Wild Card participants.
2. Head-to-head sweep (apply only if one club has defeated each of the others or one club has lost to each of the others).
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
5. Strength of victory.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed.
8. Best combined ranking among all teams in points scored and points allowed.
9. Best net points in conference games.
10. Best net points in all games.
11. Best net touchdowns in all games.
12. Coin toss.

When the first Wild Card team has been identified, the procedure is repeated to name the second Wild Card (i.e., eliminate all but the highest ranked club in each division prior to proceeding to Step 2.) In situations where three teams from the same division are involved in the procedure, the original seeding of the teams remains the same for subsequent applications of the tie-breaker if the top ranked team in that division qualifies for a Wild Card berth.

OTHER TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURES

1. Only one club advances to the playoffs in any tie-breaking step. Remaining tied clubs revert to the first step of the applicable division or Wild Card tie-breakers. As an example, if two clubs remain tied in any tie-breaker step after all other clubs have been eliminated, the procedure reverts to Step 1 of the two-club format to determine the winner. When one club wins the tiebreaker, all other clubs revert to Step 1 of the applicable two-club or three club format.
2. In comparing records against common opponents among tied teams, the best won-lost-tied percentage is the deciding factor since teams may have played an unequal number of games.
3. To determine home-field priority among division-tytists, apply Wild Card tie-breakers.
4. To determine home-field priority for Wild Card qualifiers, apply division tie-breakers (if teams are from the same division) or Wild Card tiebreakers (if teams are from different divisions).
5. To determine the best combined ranking among conference teams in points scored and points allowed, add a team's position in the two categories, and the lowest score wins. For example, if Team A is first in points scored and second in points allowed, its combined ranking is "3." If Team B is third in points scored and first in points allowed, its combined ranking is "4." Team A then wins the tiebreaker. If two teams are tied for a position, both teams are awarded the ranking as if they held it solely. For example, if Team A and Team B are tied for first in points scored, each team is assigned a ranking of "1" in that category, and if Team C is third, its ranking will still be "3."

TIE-BREAKING PROCEDURE FOR SELECTION MEETING

1. Clubs not participating in the playoffs shall select in the first through 20th positions in reverse standings order.
 2. The Super Bowl winner is last and Super Bowl loser is next-to-last.
 3. The losers of the Conference Championship games shall select 29th and 30th based on won-lost-tied percentage.
 4. The losers of the Divisional playoff games shall select 25th through 28th based on won-lost-tied percentage.
 5. The losers of the Wild Card games shall select 21st through 24th based on won-lost-tied percentage.
- If ties exist in any grouping except (2) above, such ties shall be broken by strength-of-schedule. If any ties cannot be broken by strength-of-schedule, the divisional or conference tie-breakers, if applicable, shall be applied. Any ties that still exist shall be broken by a coin flip.

Having been with the club since its return in 1999, kicker Phil Dawson is the longest tenured member of the Browns. Dawson enters his 12th season in a Browns uniform in 2010. Kicker/Offensive lineman Lou Groza (1950-59, 1961-67) holds the team record with 17 seasons with the Browns and linebacker Clay Matthews (1978-93) owns the record for most consecutive seasons with 16.

Cleveland Browns Stadium is home not only to a storied football franchise but also to a dedicated, ardent, passionate group of people – the only group that can lay claim to the title of “World’s Greatest Fans.” At Cleveland Browns Stadium, fans take pride in supporting their team in a safe, enthusiastic and family-oriented atmosphere. This special combination of sportsmanship and exhilaration makes Sunday afternoons with the Browns a memorable and momentous experience.

Cleveland Browns Stadium was built on the hallowed ground of the old Municipal Stadium. There’s no better place than on the lakefront for the home of the Cleveland Browns than where legendary Coach Paul Brown established Cleveland’s first football dynasty in the 1940s. No other site could have been as appropriate as the location where 16 Cleveland Browns – Jim Brown, Paul Brown, Joe DeLamielleure, Len Ford, Frank Gatski, Otto Graham, Lou Groza, Gene Hickerson, Leroy Kelly, Dante Lavelli, Mike McCormack, Bobby Mitchell, Marion Motley, Ozzie Newsome, Paul Warfield and Bill Willis – established their credentials for induction into the Professional Football Hall of Fame in nearby Canton.

While the location of the Stadium honors the glorious history of athletic achievements in Cleveland, Cleveland Browns Stadium is a celebration of the city’s renaissance, drawing people to the lakefront every day. The crown jewel of the Northcoast Harbor, Cleveland Browns Stadium is located next to the Rock and Roll Hall of Fame and Great Lakes Science Center. When visiting the Stadium, it is impossible to miss the distinctive architectural design of the columns, beams and notches in the seating bowl. These spacious gaps allow visitors to get an inside perspective of the Stadium and field when the Browns are away and allow ticket holders to see the downtown skyline during the game. While on the south side of the Stadium, Browns fans can catch a game and a bite to eat at The Gridiron Grille, and grab a personalized Browns jersey at the Team Shop.

At night, Cleveland Browns Stadium lights up the lakefront. Beams and columns are highlighted by a halo of light that can be seen from downtown and the Northcoast Harbor. Day or night, whether the team is playing home or away, Cleveland Browns Stadium brings a new excitement to Cleveland.

CLEVELAND BROWNS TRAINING AND ADMINISTRATIVE COMPLEX

The Cleveland Browns Training and Administrative Complex is located in Berea, Ohio, on 13 acres of land. The building, which originally opened in August 1991, was renovated in the spring of 1999, while further renovations and expansion commenced during the 2009 offseason. The most recent improvements include an expanded locker room, a lobby restoration that pays tribute to Browns' Hall of Famers and a complete renovation of the cafeteria, video room, and meeting rooms, including a new 2,300 sq. ft. auditorium featuring 120 theater seats.

Existing features in the state-of-the-art facility include a field house of 60,000 sq. ft. with a 70-yard field, a 3,100 sq. ft. athletic training room and a restaurant-style kitchen for meal preparation. The complex also hosts three regulation-size natural grass practice fields ideal for year-round football operations, including the team's training camps.

THE DINO LUCARELLI MEDIA CENTER

The Dino Lucarelli Media Center, which opened in December of 2002 at the Browns Training and Administrative Complex in Berea, features an expansive media work room, two radio/television interview rooms, a kitchen and private locker space for media members.

Lucarelli, 75, has been working with Cleveland media for nearly 50 years and has been affiliated with the Cleveland Browns organization since 1975 with responsibilities in player relations, media services and alumni relations. Lucarelli called the naming of the media center "one of the biggest thrills of my life."

The Cleveland Chapter of the Professional Football Writers of America (PFWA) has named its "Good Guy Award" for Lucarelli. The Good Guy Award is given annually for cooperation with the media and for the way a player carries himself in the community and with his teammates. The National Football Foundation (Northeast Ohio Chapter) Lifetime Achievement Award is also named for Lucarelli.
