BRANDT

"The most efficient organization in the National Football League. Their front office runs with military precision — and the team they put on the field reflects it . . ."

— San Francisco Chronicle.

"Franchises in the National Football League count up to 28, but the team most of America seems to respect as no other is one that has a star on its helmets . . . the Dallas Cowboys are fast becoming an American institution."

— Sporting News.

Entering their 20th season in 1979, the Dallas Cowboys were shooting for their 13th playoff appearance in 14 years and sixth Super Bowl berth in 10 years.

The key to the Cowboys' success is stability. The club has maintained the same front office lineup and head coach since its birth in 1960 — Chairman of the Board Clint W. Murchison Jr., President and General Manager Tex Schramm, Vice President for Personnel Development Gil Brandt and Coach Tom Landry.

Schramm oversees the day-to-day operations of the team. In 1966 he was named president of the Cowboys, but also has retained his position as general manager.

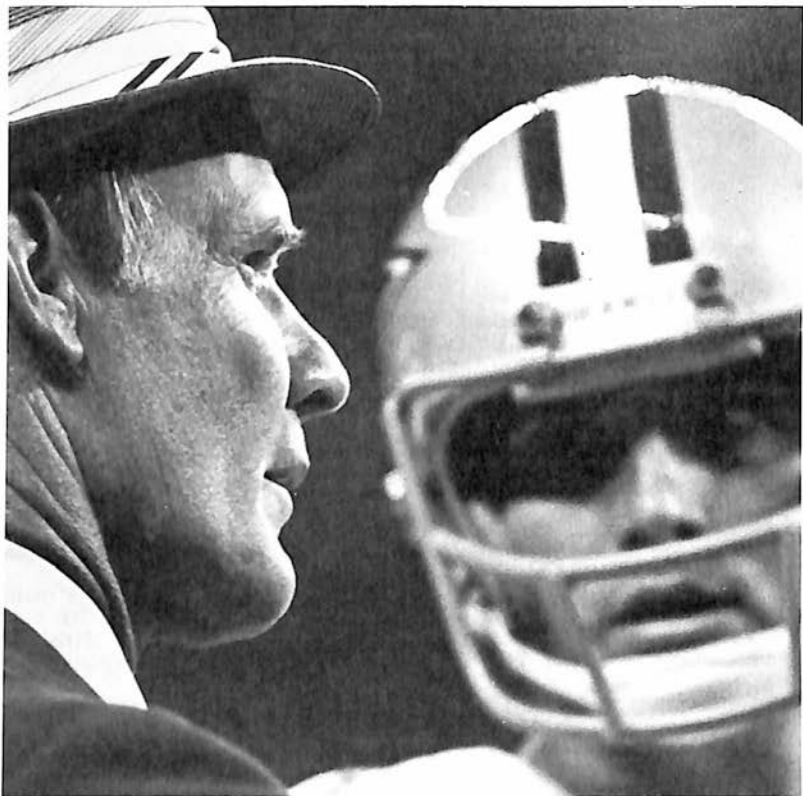

A graduate of the University of Texas with a degree in journalism, Schramm joined the Los Angeles Rams as publicity director in 1947 after working in Texas as a sports writer. In a 10-year career with the Rams he rose to general manager.

Schramm left the Rams in 1957 to join CBS as assistant director of sports and three years later was hired by Murchison to run the Dallas NFL franchise.

In the spring of 1977 Schramm received an honorary degree (Doctor of Humane Letters) from California Lutheran College. At the end of that season he was named NFL Executive of the Year by the Sporting News and last year received the Bert Bell Award for outstanding executive leadership in the NFL.

Brandt directs the Cowboys' scouting operation and supervises the signing of all players. A native of Milwaukee and graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Brandt was a baby photographer and part-time scout for the Rams when his flair for discovering talent led to his being hired by the Cowboys.

THE COACH

Tom Landry was not always an institution in Dallas. Take the year 1963. Landry was a struggling young coach with a fourth-year expansion team still looking for its first winning season.

After an 0-11-1 maiden season in 1960, the Cowboys improved to 4-9-1 in 1961 and 5-8-1 in '62. But the high hopes for the '63 season were crushed when the Cowboys lost their first four games, squeaked past Detroit then dropped two more to fall to 1-6.

Discontent was rampant. Landry's job was in jeopardy.

"We've got to do something to bolster Tom's position," General Manager Tex Schramm told Clint Murchison Jr., the owner. "The fans are really on him."

"Simple," Murchison replied. "Just give him a 10-year contract."

It turned out to be a case in which patience paid off. From 1966 through 1978 the Cowboys under Landry won 136, lost 46 and tied two to become the NFL's winningest team over those years.

In those years Landry guided the Cowboys through 13 straight winning seasons, including 12 trips to the playoffs, 10 division championships and a record five Super Bowl appearances.

By 1979 Thomas Wade Landry, the soft-spoken, stoical soul of the Dallas Cowboys, had grown into a legend.

The dean of NFL coaches heading into his 20th season, Landry ranked fifth on the list of the league's all-time winningest coaches after 1978 and should move into fourth place ahead of Paul Brown in '79.

The only active NFL coach with more victories than Landry after the 1978 season was Miami's Don Shula, an unabashed Landry fan.

"I have nothing but respect for Tom Landry as a coach and a man," Shula says. "You always count on him to put an excellent, well-coached team on the field. They play clean, hard, tough, aggressive football. I also know what a tremendous job he does in the community, especially with younger people, and the influence he has on them."

The loss to Pittsburgh in last season's Super Bowl prevented the Cowboys from becoming the first three-time Super Bowl winners, but Landry was hoping that disappointment would spur his squad toward joining Miami as the only team to make three straight trips to the Super Bowl.

"The world doesn't stop when you lose," Landry says. "You must think about the good things that have happened to you. You must look ahead. The only way a person can really become strong is to have setbacks.

"But if you think winning is not too important, then you are not willing to pay the price to win. This game is played with the heart."

Tom was born in Mission, Texas, on Sept. 11, 1924. He was an All-Regional fullback at Mission High School before enrolling at the University of Texas. Following one semester, he joined the Air Corps and flew 30 B-17 missions with the Eighth Air Force.

In November 1945 he was discharged as a First Lieutenant and returned to Texas where he earned All-Southwest Conference honors as a junior and co-captained the Longhorns as a senior. With Landry's help, Texas beat Alabama in the 1948 Sugar Bowl and Georgia in the 1949 Orange Bowl.

Landry played for the New York Yankees of the All-America Conference in 1949 before joining the NFL's New York Giants the next year. He was a mainstay in the Giants' defensive backfield through 1955, the last two years as player-coach. He earned All-Pro honors in 1954.

Retiring as a player following the 1955 season, Tom was the Giants' defensive coach through 1959. Giants Head Coach Jim Lee Howell called him "the best defensive coach in the business."

Coach Landry and his wife Alicia, whom he met at Texas, have three children — Tom, Jr., an attorney and oilman; Kitty and Lisa.

Tom devotes much of his spare time to the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and serves on the Board of Trustees of the National FCA. He has served as chairman of the State American Cancer Society, area chairman for the All-American Roundup of the Boy Scouts of America and chairman of the Variety Club's Telethon.

Landry has received honorary degrees from California Lutheran College (Doctor of Humane Letters), John Brown University (Doctor of Humanities), Southwest Baptist College (Doctor of Laws) and Indiana Central University (Doctor of Laws).

Among the many awards Tom received after the 1978 season were induction into the Texas Sports Hall of Fame, the Christian Service Abe Lincoln Award from the Radio and Television Commission of the Southern Baptist Convention and the Person of Vision Award from the Texas Society for the Prevention of Blindness.

JIM MYERS, Assistant Head Coach • Offensive Line

Two years ago Tom Landry turned over some of his responsibilities to Jim Myers, naming his long-time aide to the newly created position of assistant head coach.

"He knows everything there is to know about our system," Landry says.

Along with Ermal Allen, Myers has the longest tenure on the Cowboys' assistant coaching staff, 18 years. He joined the Cowboys in 1962 as offensive line coach following head coaching jobs at Iowa State and Texas A&M.

Jim has continued to handle the offensive line since his appointment as assistant head coach. Under his guidance, the Cowboys have produced All-Pros such as Ralph Neely, John Niland, Rayfield Wright and Blaine Nye.

A native of Madison, W. Va. (11/12/21), Myers was an outstanding lineman at the University of Tennessee in 1941-42 and at Duke in the Marine Corps V-12 program in 1943.

Before becoming a head coach, Myers served as an assistant at Wofford College, Vanderbilt and UCLA. Last year he received the Distinguished American Award from the East Tennessee Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

Jim and his wife Carolyn have three daughters and six grandchildren.

ERMAL ALLEN, Special Assistant

The Cowboys' Research and Development Department, which studies and evaluates all players and teams in the NFL, is directed by Ermal Allen, in his 18th season with the club.

A quarterback at the University of Kentucky from 1939-41 and a member of the Fort Benning and Army All-Star teams during World War II, Allen played one season as a defensive back with the Cleveland Browns in the All-America Conference in 1947.

Ermal returned to Kentucky in 1948 and was an assistant coach for 14 years under Paul "Bear" Bryant ('48-'53) and Blanton Collier ('54-'61).

Born Christmas Day, 1920, Ermal is the best golfer on the Cowboys' staff. He is a two-time Kentucky Amateur champion, beating Bobby Nichols in 1955 and Frank Beard in '58.

Ermal and his wife Allie have a son, two daughters and six grandchildren.

MIKE DITKA, Special Teams • Receivers

Mike Ditka began his third season in charge of both special teams and receivers in 1979. Under Ditka the Cowboys' receiving corps has produced a Pro Bowl performer at each position — WR Drew Pearson and TE Billy Joe DuPree in '77 and DuPree and WR Tony Hill in '78 — and the special teams have continued to be ranked among the NFL's best.

A four-time All-Pro tight end with the Chicago Bears, Ditka played his last four years with the Cowboys, including appearances in Super Bowls V and VI. He joined the staff as special teams coach in 1973.

A native of Aliquippa, Pa. (10/18/39), Mike was a consensus All-America at the University of Pittsburgh and the Bears' No. 1 draft choice in 1961. In his 12-year NFL career, Ditka caught 427 passes for 5,913 yards and 43 touchdowns. He also played for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Mike has three sons and a daughter. His wife's name is Diana.

DAN REEVES, Offensive Coordinator • Offensive Backs

In Dan Reeves' first two years as offensive coordinator, the Cowboys dominated the statistics, leading the NFL in '77 and NFC in '78 in total offense.

After two seasons as a player-coach, Dan became the club's offensive backfield coach in 1972. He spent the 1973 season in private business before rejoining the Cowboys staff in '74. He added the duties of offensive coordinator in '77.

A running back for eight seasons (1965-72) with Dallas, Reeves finished his career as the Cowboys' fifth all-time leading rusher despite a series of knee injuries. He rushed for 1,990 yards and 25 touchdowns and caught 129 passes for 1,693 yards and 17 touchdowns.

Reeves was a feared option passing halfback as a pro after playing quarterback at the University of South Carolina. He was inducted into the University of South Carolina's Hall of Fame two years ago.

A native of Americus, Ga. (1/19/44), he signed with the Cowboys as a free agent in 1965.

Dan and his wife Pam have two daughters and a son.

GENE STALLINGS, Defensive Backfield

Beginning his eighth season as the Cowboys' secondary coach, Gene Stallings has presided over the development of two All-Pro safeties — Cliff Harris and Charlie Waters.

Stallings joined Tom Landry's staff in 1972 after seven years (1965-71) as head coach at his alma mater, Texas A&M.

Gene was an All-Southwest Conference offensive end at A&M under Bear Bryant before spending one year as a student-assistant coach. He moved with Bryant to Alabama as an assistant and remained until returning to A&M as head coach. Stallings was a tri-captain on Bryant's undefeated 1956 Aggie team.

The Paris, Texas, native (3/2/35) was honored by his hometown with a banquet last April 27. Gene and his wife Ruth Ann have four daughters and a son.

ERNIE STAUTNER, Defensive Coordinator • Defensive Line

Hall of Famer Ernie Stautner has helped mold both versions of the Cowboys' famed "Doomsday Defense." The original unit began to emerge shortly after Stautner's arrival as defensive line coach in 1966. Last year "Doomsday II" was tops in the league against the rush and second in total defense.

Stautner was an All-Pro defensive end and tackle for the Pittsburgh Steelers for 15 years (1951-65) despite being relatively small at 6-0, 235 pounds.

A veteran of nine Pro Bowls, he was elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1969, his first year of eligibility.

Ernie was born in Kham, Bavaria (4/20/27) and grew up in Albany, N.Y. Following a World War II Marine Corps hitch (1943-46), he enrolled at Boston College where he developed into a two-way star lineman.

Ernie's wife is named Pat and he has a son and two daughters.

JERRY TUBBS, Linebackers

The only original Cowboys player still with the organization is Jerry Tubbs. He came to the team in the 1960 expansion draft and played middle linebacker for eight years before joining the coaching staff in '68.

He helped develop his replacement at middle linebacker, Lee Roy Jordan, one of three Pro Bowl stars to play under Tubbs. The others are Chuck Howley and Thomas Henderson.

Born in Breckenridge, Texas (1/23/35), Jerry was an All-America center-linebacker for Bud Wilkinson's unbeaten Oklahoma teams from 1954-56. Tubbs received the Walter Camp Award as the nation's outstanding player in '56. He was drafted No. 1 by the Chicago Cardinals in 1957 and also played for the San Francisco 49ers before coming to Dallas.

Jerry and his wife Marlene have a son and daughter.

BOB WARD, Conditioning

The Cowboys have been remarkably free of injuries the past few years, a tribute to the conditioning program of Bob Ward.

Ward has the players enthusiastically participating in his programs, which include running, weightlifting, flexibility training and diet. He directs the Cowboys' voluntary off-season program, working with computer printouts to devise individualized programs for each player.

Bob was a track coach for 11 years at Fullerton, Calif., Community College before joining the Cowboys in 1975.

The 45-year-old graduate of Whitworth College in Spokane, Wash., received his master's in physical education from the University of Washington and his Ph.D. from Indiana University.

Bob and his wife Joyce have two children.

DON COCHREN, Trainer

Don Cochren began his 15th year with the Cowboys in 1979, joining the team in 1965 after experience in college, military and Canadian Football League training.

A graduate of Purdue, Cochren, 47, earned his physical therapy certificate at Pennsylvania. He was the trainer at Case Institute (now Case-Western Reserve) in Cleveland for two years, with the Toronto Argonauts of the CFL for four years and spent a year at the University of New Hampshire before coming to Dallas. He also served as a physical therapy officer in the Air Force for two years.

Don and his wife Jan and their four children live in suburban Carrollton.

KEN LOCKER, Assistant Trainer

An assistant trainer and interim head trainer at North Texas State for four years, Ken Locker came to the Cowboys in 1973 as assistant trainer.

Locker received his master's degree in physical education from Texas Woman's University and served for two years as trainer for World Championship Tennis, making the men's tour in 1975 and '76.

Ken, 27, and his wife Pam live in suburban Addison.

BUCK BUCHANAN, Equipment Manager

After supervising athletic programs in the Air Force for 20 years, William T. "Buck" Buchanan joined the Cowboys in 1973.

SMSgt. Buchanan was a non-commissioned officer in charge of Athletics and Programs at the U.S. Air Force Academy Prep School in Colorado Springs for four years. He was awarded the Bronze Star for his performance during a 1968-69 tour of duty in Thailand.

Buck, 46, and his wife Geraldine have a son and daughter.

THE PLAYERS

DREW PEARSON

Benny Barnes • 31

CORNERBACK • STANFORD • 8th YEAR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 195 • BORN: 3/3/51 • (FA FOR '72)

PRO: Despite lingering foot and ankle problems that caused him to miss three games, Benny Barnes turned in perhaps the best season of his career in 1978, his third as starting left cornerback.

His career-high five interceptions led the Cowboys and placed him fifth in the NFC. Barnes also shared the club lead in fumble recoveries with two and continued the outstanding special teams play which earned him the team's Headhunter of the Year Award (with Jay Saldi) in 1977. Benny probably gained his greatest notoriety, however, from being the victim of a controversial interference call against Pittsburgh's Lynn Swann in the Super Bowl. After viewing films of the play, NFL Commissioner Pete Rozelle admitted the call against Barnes was wrong. "I feel like the guy sent to prison and a couple of years later they find out he's innocent," Benny said. After the '77 season Barnes underwent surgery to eliminate bone spurs in his foot and ankle, which was broken in '75. Benny lost his starting job early last season because of persisting pain in the foot, but returned to the lineup when Mark Washington was hurt against the Redskins in the fifth game. The Giants tested Barnes the next week and he had one of his best games of the year with seven tackles, an assist and a near interception. Earlier in the season against the Giants, Barnes picked off two passes in a game for the second time in his career. Charlie Waters calls Barnes "the best cornerback in the NFC" and Drew Pearson considers him "maybe the most underrated player on the team." Barnes spent his first four years as a backup cornerback and safety.

COLLEGE: Barnes was an All-Pacific Coast Conference safety at Stanford, where he played on two Rose Bowl winners. His seven interceptions in '71 included three in a game against Washington.

PERSONAL: Benny is appreciated by his teammates for his cheerful disposition. A native of Lufkin, Texas, Benny and his wife Joyce had their third son, Jamall, on April 23. Their other sons are David (1/20/72) and Damon (8/8/74). The Barnes live in Dallas year-round and Benny works for Oak Cliff Bank in the off-season.

Larry Bethea • 76

DEFENSIVE END-TACKLE • MICHIGAN STATE • 2nd YEAR
HT: 6-5 • WT: 254 • BORN: 7/21/56 • (D-1 FOR '78)

PRO: The Cowboys' No. 1 draft pick in 1978, Larry Bethea, spent his rookie season playing on special teams and backing up Harvey Martin and Jethro Pugh in the defensive line. With the retirement of Pugh and Ed Jones, Bethea became a candidate for a starting job in 1979. "He made quite a bit of progress last year," said defensive coordinator Ernie Stautner. "He has the potential to be a good defensive tackle because he's big and strong but he's also fast enough to play end. And he has a good knack for escaping people. He'll have an opportunity to fight for a job this year." Bethea got his first opportunity to play in the second game of the 1978 season against the Giants when Martin was ejected. "I might not have been a Harvey Martin but I was out there holding my own," Bethea recalls. "Harvey gave me a lot of coaching on the sidelines. Every time the defense came off the field he was there to encourage me. All the players are helpful. That's the Cowboys' system." Later in the year, Bethea filled in regularly for Martin, who was having leg problems, on short yardage and goal-line plays. In the NFC title game Larry was credited with stopping Rams runner Jim Jodat on a fourth-and-one at the Dallas 14 to preserve a 7-0 Cowboys lead in the third quarter.

COLLEGE: Bethea was named the Big Ten's Most Valuable Player in 1977, the first lineman to win the award since Illinois' Dick Butkus in 1963. Larry was voted to three All-America teams, twice made All-Big Ten and was picked as the Spartans' MVP his senior year. He lettered four years, playing tight end as a freshman.

PERSONAL: Larry and his wife Gloria returned in the off-season to Michigan State where Larry is working toward a degree in urban development. The Betheas met in high school in Newport News, Va. Larry was a football star and Gloria was a cheerleader.

Alois Blackwell • 24

RUNNING BACK • HOUSTON • 2nd YEAR
HT: 5-10 • WT: 195 • BORN: 11/12/54 • (D-4 FOR '78)

PRO: After a rookie season in which he sparkled on the special teams, Alois Blackwell looked toward 1979 for a chance to display his considerable talent as a running back. "Like some of our other young backs, Alois Blackwell has promise," says Tom Landry. "He was a rookie last year and he does have ability as a runner. I think he'll be able to play and contribute much more than he did in '78."

Blackwell's contributions last season were restricted primarily to special teams play, but he did not go unnoticed either by his coaches or fans. "He was one of the hardest hitters we had," said special teams coach Mike Ditka. "He's not that big so it wasn't until I saw films of him that I realized just how hard he was hitting." One crunching tackle of a Philadelphia kickoff returner had a Texas Stadium crowd buzzing with excitement. "It helps your ego when something like that happens and when your ego is helped your confidence is helped," Alois said. Blackwell's confidence had plummeted early in the season when he saw no playing time, but by the fourth game he had worked his way onto the special teams, mostly kickoff coverage. "That gave me a boost," he says. "I knew I had the ability and it gave me a chance to show it. It took a while to get the old confidence back. I had never sat on the bench, ever, and it was hard on me."

COLLEGE: Blackwell was one of the chief reasons Houston surprised the Southwest Conference in '76 by winning the SWC title and beating Maryland in the Cotton Bowl. Alois was the SWC's second leading rusher behind Earl Campbell with 1,169 yards and earned Cotton Bowl MVP honors with 149 yards. He finished his three-year career as the Cougars' fourth all-time rusher with 2,467 yards for a 5.8 yards per carry average.

PERSONAL: Alois returned in the off-season to the University of Houston where he studied full-time toward his degree in hotel and restaurant management. A native of Cuero, Texas, Alois enjoys playing tennis, racquetball and backgammon.

Bob Breunig • 53

LINEBACKER • ARIZONA STATE • 5th YEAR
HT: 6-2 • WT: 225 • BORN: 7/4/53 • (D-3 FOR '75)

PRO: The quarterback of the defensive unit, the man who calls the formations and gets in on more tackles than anyone else, is middle linebacker Bob Breunig. Only the third starting middle linebacker in team history, Breunig was converted from strongside linebacker to the "Meg" position in the "flex" defense two years ago after the retirement of Lee Roy Jordan. Bob relays the defensive signals called from the sidelines by defensive coordinator Ernie Stautner, but he's also responsible for calling audibles if a formation needs to be changed. Breunig led the Cowboys in tackles in 1978 for the second straight year, making 71 primary tackles and assisting on 64 others. "Bob Breunig has done an excellent job for no more experience than he has in our league and the Cowboys' system," Tom Landry says. "He's smart and a very intense football player. He'll give you everything he's got in practice and on the field, and he's a great leader. He is the quality middle linebacker you need." Breunig's smooth transition to the middle spot in '77, termed "remarkable" by Landry, helped clear the way for the Cowboys' march to their second Super Bowl triumph. "Bob's extremely intelligent, very alert and he handles the defense, as far as audibles, very well," says linebackers coach Jerry Tubbs, the Cowboys' first middle linebacker. "He does a good deal of audibilizing and the thing is he knows when to do it. His intelligence and intensity are his biggest attributes. He's an excellent leader."

COLLEGE: A middle linebacker at Arizona State, Breunig earned All-America honors as a senior after leading the Sun Devils in tackles and fumble recoveries. A three-time All-WAC selection, he recovered 10 fumbles and intercepted six passes in his career.

PERSONAL: Bob and his wife Mary had their first child, Robert Jr., on Nov. 11, 1978. A self-taught guitar player and singer, Breunig performed a "Tribute to Elvis" at the Cowboys' Super Bowl XII victory party and last year recorded a song on a children's religious album. Bob is active with the Happy Hill Children's Home in Dallas, the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and works full-time in the off-season for the Holloway-Staubach Real Estate Agency.

Larry Brinson • 36

RUNNING BACK • FLORIDA • 3rd YEAR
HT: 6-0 • WT: 214 • BORN: 6/6/54 • (FA FOR '77)

PRO: Larry Brinson will never forget the emotional roller coaster he rode during the 1978 season. After showing well early in training camp, Brinson was slowed by a groin injury and saw no pre-season action. On the final cutdown day Larry was released and no other teams signed him. But early in October running back Doug Denison went down with an injury and the Cowboys called back Brinson from his alma mater, the University of Florida, where he was a graduate assistant football coach. Brinson did not squander the opportunity. He shared the kickoff return duties with Butch Johnson and rushed for 96 yards and two touchdowns as a backup running back. His best game was the Thanksgiving Day rout of Washington in which he gained 51 yards on four carries, including a 39-yard scoring burst around right end. "All things considered I feel pretty good about what I was able to accomplish after I came back," Brinson said. "What I did, I think, was show in some ways that I have the ability to play for this team." The coaches agreed. "Larry Brinson showed us he has promise. Any time he got a chance to play after he came back he did extremely well," Tom Landry said. Although a 9.5 100-yard dash sprinter in high school, Larry spent his college football career as a blocking back. He faced no small task trying to make the '77 Cowboys as a free agent, especially considering that he fractured a cheekbone in training camp. He wound up as a regular kickoff return specialist, however, tying for eighth among NFC kick return leaders.

COLLEGE: A four-year starter, Brinson was used mostly as a blocking back in the Gators' wishbone attack. He averaged 4.9 yards per rush in his career but never carried more than 74 times in a season. He scored 12 career TDs and played in four post-season bowl games.

PERSONAL: Larry and his wife Patricia returned to Gainesville in the off-season to continue working toward their degrees. Pat received her degree in education while Larry needs a few more credits for his physical education diploma. Larry was born in Opalocka, Fla., and attended Miami Northwestern High School. His hobby is freshwater fishing.

Guy Brown • 59

LINEBACKER • HOUSTON • 3rd YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 228 • BORN: 6/1/55 • (D-4 FOR '77)

PRO: One of the Cowboys' best athletes is Guy Brown, who quietly toils on the special teams and backs up both outside linebacker positions. Brown's physical tools give him unlimited potential. At 6-4 he is the Cowboys' tallest linebacker and his consistent 4.6 speed in the 40-yard dash is fastest among defensive players and second only to Tony Dorsett on the team. In his first training camp Brown set the rookie power clean lift record of 315 pounds, which was broken last year by Todd Christensen. "Guy is big, fast and smart," says linebackers coach Jerry Tubbs. "He just needs to put it all together and become a little more aggressive." Brown turned in another outstanding performance on the special teams last year, winning the Haggard Headhunter Award against Los Angeles and finishing as the second leading tackler on the kicking teams. "He's an excellent young man," special teams coach Mike Ditka says. "He's a good athlete, he's strong and he has excellent speed for a guy his size. He also has a good attitude. He wants to do well." Adds Tom Landry, "Guy Brown is one of the best-looking athletes we have. He's got great speed, good size, and he's continually improving. He did an excellent job in the kicking game for us and this was a big plus for him."

COLLEGE: Brown earned All-Southwest Conference honors his senior year playing "standup" defensive end. Injuries hampered Brown at Houston where he began as a tight end before being converted to defensive end.

PERSONAL: Guy is active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and spent the off-season appearing at charity benefits and speaking at high schools in Florida and Alabama for Sports World Ministries. He also became a partner in a Dallas paint store. Guy and his wife Jacqueline, who also attended Houston, bought a house in Richardson in March. Guy is the oldest son in a family of 10 children and grew up near Palestine, Tex. He did not begin playing football until his senior year in high school.

Glenn Carano • 18

QUARTERBACK • NEVADA-LAS VEGAS • 3rd YEAR
HT: 6-3 • WT: 202 • BORN: 11/18/55 • (D-2 FOR '77)

PRO: Although he has yet to throw his first regular-season NFL pass, a feeling of confidence is growing around Glenn Carano. "I think Glenn Carano very definitely could handle the starting job in two or three years if that were to happen," says Tom Landry. "He's got a very strong arm and he's made up of the same quality level that Danny White and Roger Staubach are. He has those qualities that make a good quarterback." As the Cowboys' No. 3 quarterback, Carano's game-day responsibilities have been to chart every offensive play. During practice each week he plays the role of the upcoming opponent's quarterback. "Naturally, I'd love to be playing football," Glenn says. "But by staying with the Cowboys, I've learned a lot about defenses and offense and I've kept my body in good shape and I've made it to the Super Bowl twice. So I don't frown on not being traded." Drafted in the second round three years ago with a choice from Seattle for Duke Ferguson, Carano earned the No. 3 job by beating out Steve DeBerg, who started nine games last season for San Francisco. Another former Cowboys' third-string QB is Seattle's Jim Zorn, now one of the league's top passers. In pre-season as a rookie Glenn completed 10-of-20 passes, including one for a touchdown, and followed that up with a perfect 8-for-8 passing performance for 89 yards and a TD in the '78 pre-season.

COLLEGE: Carano set every Nevada-Las Vegas career passing record in four years as a starter, three under Ron Meyer, former Cowboys scout and currently head coach at SMU. Glenn completed 337-of-636 passes for 5,095 yards and 37 touchdowns in his career. He also scored 19 TDs rushing.

CARANO, Cont.

PERSONAL: In the off-season Glenn returned with his wife Dana to Nevada-Las Vegas where he studied toward a degree in business administration. The Caranos, who were married during the '77 season, also took a belated honeymoon in Hawaii in February. Last spring they bought a townhouse in Dallas. Glenn was born near Los Angeles and raised in Reno, Nev.

Todd Christensen • 40

RUNNING BACK-TIGHT END • BRIGHAM YOUNG • 1st YEAR
HT: 6-3 • WT: 229 • BORN: 8/3/56 • (D-2 FOR '78)

PRO: Because of an injury that kept him out his entire rookie season, Todd Christensen spent most of his time last year pumping iron. Gifted with natural strength and determined to become even stronger, Todd affectionately was dubbed "Toddzilla" by teammates who constantly saw him at the weight machines. He set the power clean record for Cowboys rookies of 320 pounds and is one of a handful of Cowboys who can bench press more than 400 pounds (430). "All I've been known as around here is a weightlifter," says Christensen with frustration in his voice. "I can't wait to prove I can play football again." For anyone who remembers him at training camp last year, there isn't much doubt about Christensen's ability. Rated by the Cowboys as the best all-around athlete in the '78 draft, Christensen made an immediate impression by rushing eight times for 58 yards, including a 37-yard scamper, and catching four passes for 35 yards in the pre-season opener against San Francisco. He continued to do well but in the pre-season finale against Pittsburgh Christensen suffered a broken right foot in a collision with Jack Lambert and was put on injured reserve. Because of his outstanding receiving ability, Christensen is expected to be used both at tight end and as a back in the spread (shotgun) formation. "He's going to be a great receiver coming out of the backfield," says Gil Brandt. "A lot of receivers catch all the good passes. This guy catches those plus all the bad ones."

COLLEGE: A four-year starting running back in a passing, pro-set offense, Christensen led BYU in receiving three straight years, catching 152 passes for 1,566 yards and 15 touchdowns. Todd co-captained BYU's co-champion Western Athletic Conference team in '77 and captured the WAC receiving title with 50 catches for 603 yards and five TDs. He also rushed 270 times for 1,066 yards in four seasons. He was voted the most valuable player in the Blue-Gray game after catching 10 passes.

PERSONAL: Todd and his wife Kathy had their first child, a son named Toby, on Nov. 13, 1978. The Christensens remained in Dallas during the off-season so Todd could work out at the Cowboys' practice field. He also took up karate to improve his flexibility. Todd hopes to get his degree in social work next off-season. He was raised in Eugene, Ore.

Larry Cole • 63

DEFENSIVE TACKLE-END • HAWAII • 12th YEAR
HT: 6-5 • WT: 252 • BORN: 11/15/46 • (D-16 FOR '68)

PRO: The 1978 season was shaping up as a banner year for the president and lone survivor of the Cowboys' Zero Club, whose chief requirement is a love of anonymity. After nine years as a starter, Larry Cole was settling quietly into his second season as a backup. But soon injuries to Harvey Martin and Jethro Pugh shook Cole out of his treasured obscurity and back into action. He responded in his usual fashion—with big plays—and suddenly Larry Cole was back in the dreaded spotlight. Against New Orleans Cole intercepted the third pass of his career. "That play marked the end of a nine-year interception drought," he announced. In the NFC championship game Larry turned in three big plays. He caused the Rams' first fumble, by John Cappelletti, stopped Pat Haden's quarterback draw a yard short of a first down to force a missed field goal and pressured Haden into his first interception. Cole also started the Super Bowl in place of injured Jethro Pugh, giving Larry a record five Super Bowl appearances along with Cliff Harris, Charlie Waters, D. D. Lewis, Pugh, Rayfield Wright, Preston Pearson and Marv Fleming. Cole termed the '78 season his best in five years and he was looking forward to more of the same in '79 to make up for the retirement of Pugh and Ed Jones. "I've learned to be happy with whatever situation I'm in," Cole says, "but playing regularly gets you so much more involved in things. The competitive thing is what you miss most when you aren't a starter." Cole has 13 career fumble recoveries and three interceptions. He earned his big-play reputation almost immediately by scoring three touchdowns against the Redskins in his first two seasons. "Larry Cole is a surprising athlete," Tom Landry says. "He is a guy who doesn't look like he can run too fast or get there too easily, but he can play end or tackle and he is consistent."

COLLEGE: Cole played for Hawaii's first winning football team in 50 years. Captain as a senior, he was the first University of Hawaii player drafted by an NFL team.

PERSONAL: Larry Cole Custom Builders is located in Bedford, Tex. "Tara Plantation," a subdivision of luxury homes in Colleyville, was

Jim Cooper • 61

CENTER-TACKLE • TEMPLE • 3rd YEAR
HT: 6-5 • WT: 260 • BORN: 9/28/55 • (D-6 FOR '77)

PRO: Jim Cooper provides the Cowboys with an unusual versatility along the offensive line. An offensive tackle in college, Cooper backed up the guard position his first season in Dallas, the center spot last year and was designated in '79 as backup center and tackle. He's also been a steady special teams contributor. It's no wonder teammates call Cooper "Utility Man." After learning the snap for the spread formation in training camp last year, Cooper was pressed into service as a starter against St. Louis and Philadelphia in October when John Fitzgerald sat out with back spasms. "I hope to just contribute wherever I can," Jim says. "If injuries come up, I just want to get in there and do a good job to keep the winning going." Cooper was among the last players cut at the end of the '77 pre-season schedule after showing promise at tackle. He returned home to Philadelphia and was considering offers from other NFL teams when Cowboys personnel director Gil Brandt called. A decision had been made for tackle Jim Eidson to undergo knee surgery and Cooper was invited back. Almost immediately Cooper found himself in action at an unfamiliar left guard position. In an early-season game against St. Louis Fitzgerald was hurt and with Herb Scott already sidelined, Tom Rafferty moved to center, Burton Lawless switched to right guard and Cooper was in the lineup. "Cooper is the one guy we have who is flexible enough to play anywhere on the offensive line," says assistant head coach Jim Myers. "He's got good movement, size and he's smart." As an offensive lineman of Irish descent, he's also a pledge in the Cowboys' Iro-American Club, which features Fitzgerald, Rafferty and Pat Donovan.

COLLEGE: Cooper started for three years at Temple under Wayne Hardin, Roger Staubach's coach at Navy.

PERSONAL: Jim and his wife Mary, a nurse, returned in the off-season to Philadelphia where Jim worked for his father's business selling reconditioned steel drums. The Coopers had their first child, James Ryan, on June 6, 1979. In addition to their home in Philadelphia, Jim and Mary also own a townhouse in Garland, Texas.

Doug Dennison • 21

RUNNING BACK • KUTZTOWN STATE • 6th YEAR
HT: 6-0 • WT: 205 • BORN: 12/18/51 • (FA FOR '74)

PRO: No matter how bleak life may appear, Doug Dennison will not let adversity discourage him. "I've coped with it all my life," he says. "What happened last year was just another chapter." In 1976 Dennison led the Cowboys in rushing while alternating at tailback with Charley Young or Preston Pearson. Then with Tony Dorsett's arrival in '77 Dennison became the forgotten man — 12 carries, 60 yards. In last year's season-opener against Baltimore Dennison gained 65 yards, making him the ninth leading rusher in the NFC, his best start ever. But five games later Dennison severely sprained his left knee on punt return coverage against the Giants. He was placed on injured reserve and missed the rest of the season. Dennison has been overcoming the odds all his life, however, and nobody expected him to quietly disappear. "It seems like I'm always facing the odds," he said. One of the Cowboys' most dedicated weightlifters, Dennison worked hard on his off-season conditioning program. "Doug has great character and I think he'll be back strong," said Tom Landry. His teammates are sure of that. "I've seen guys down about not playing," says Danny White, "and I've seen guys like Doug Dennison who you would think was leading the league in rushing if you watched him every day in practice." In games Dennison is most dangerous near the opponent's goal line. He has rushed for 19 touchdowns in a little more than four seasons. "We give the ball to Doug down on the goal line because he's just a reckless runner," says offensive coordinator Dan Reeves. "We are confident he'll punch it in."

COLLEGE: Despite an injury-shortened career at Kutztown State (Pa.), Doug impressed Cowboys scouts with his speed and strength in two seasons of football and with track and field feats which included school records in the long and triple jumps.

DENNISON, Cont.

PERSONAL: In the off-season Doug began working in the management training program at First City Bank in Dallas. He also does a great deal of community work with children, is active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and is one of the Cowboys' most popular public speakers. Doug, his wife Susan and their three children, Aaron (8/11/72), DeMarcus (9/30/74) and Andre (12/26/76) moved into their new home in Richardson last summer.

Pat Donovan • 67

TACKLE • STANFORD • 5th YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 250 • BORN: 7/1/53 • (D-4A FOR '75)

PRO: In addition to being the Cowboys' resident wit, Pat Donovan also has emerged as the team's best offensive lineman. A backup tackle his first two seasons after being converted from a college defensive end, Donovan took over at right tackle in '77 when Rayfield Wright went down with a knee injury. Last year he moved in at left tackle to replace his mentor, former All-Pro Ralph Neely, who retired. Like Neely, Donovan had to make the difficult switch from right to left tackle, and, according to Neely, Donovan will harvest honors there. "He's a natural left tackle. He'll be All-Pro there," predicted Neely. Considered the quickest, strongest and most consistent offensive lineman by assistant head coach Jim Myers, Donovan was hampered midway through last season by a cracked wrist. "He was real strong in the running game all year," Myers said. "That's because he's fast, has real good strength and he's smart. His pass protection dropped off a little bit because of the wrist injury, but Pat will be an excellent tackle in this league." Pat received the Oak Farms MVP award for the Green Bay game, the first time an offensive lineman won the honor since John Fitzgerald in 1975. "Pat Donovan is our top-rated offensive lineman," Tom Landry says. "He does a super job week in and week out in pass protection and run blocking. He's a fine, fine athlete." Donovan, Fitzgerald and Tom Rafferty form the Cowboys' "Iro-American Club," starting offensive linemen of Irish descent. "We Irishmen are offensive linemen because we have a basic affinity with dirt, like the potato farming heritage we come from," explains Patrick Emery Donovan, a descendant of the O'Donovans from County Cork.

COLLEGE: A two-time All-America at Stanford, Donovan was a Montana state high school shot put and discus champion and also All-State in football and basketball.

PERSONAL: A mechanical engineering graduate, Pat works in the off-season as a staff engineer for the Sam P. Wallace contracting company in Dallas. Pat and his wife Christa, who also attended Stanford, spend much of their spare time remodeling their 30-year-old home in north Dallas.

Tony Dorsett • 33

RUNNING BACK • PITTSBURGH • 3rd YEAR
HT: 5-11 • WT: 190 • BORN: 4/7/54 • (D-1 FOR '77)

PRO: His rookie year was one most players merely dream about — three club rushing records, rookie of the year honors, a Super Bowl championship. But remarkably, no matter how you measure his second season he showed considerable development. Tony Dorsett even sidestepped the sophomore jinx. "I've matured as an athlete, and I think I've matured every year as an individual, too," Dorsett said. "I think I've come a long way." In becoming the third player in NFL history to rush for 1,000 yards in each of his first two seasons, Tony gained a club-record 1,325 yards to rank second in the conference and third in the league. He had six 100-yard games, including 154 yards against St. Louis, 152 against New Orleans, 149 against Green Bay and 147 against Baltimore. Twice he had back-to-back 100-yard games. His 91-yard touchdown catch from Roger Staubach in the season-opener against the Colts was the NFC's longest scoring pass of the season. Dorsett came on extremely well at the end of the season, rushing for 101 yards and a TD in the NFC championship game and for 96 yards in the Super Bowl. His 484 yards rushing and five touchdowns in the playoffs are club records. Tony also earned a starting berth in his first Pro Bowl. "Beginning with the last couple of games, Tony Dorsett started to run like a professional runs," Tom Landry said. "His improvement late in the year was significant. He ran harder and hit the holes tougher, mainly from knowing the plays better and having the confidence." Dorsett also improved his receiving by eight catches and more than 100 yards to finish fourth on the team in that statistic. As a rookie Tony didn't break into the starting lineup until the 10th game but nevertheless set team records for touchdowns rushing in a season (12), longest run from scrimmage (84 yards, after earlier setting the mark with a 77-yarder) and most yards in a game (206 against Philadelphia). "He had an exceptional second year," offensive coordinator Dan Reeves said. "As a rookie he played on instinct. Now he's learning about the offense and is more comfortable in what he's doing."

COLLEGE: A four-time All-America and the first player in NCAA history with three 1,500-yard-plus seasons, Dorsett won the 1976 Heisman Trophy as the nation's best player. He rushed for an NCAA career-record 6,082 yards and 58 touchdowns and led Pitt to the '76 national championship with a 12-0 record.

PERSONAL: Tony spent another busy off-season making appearances, commercials, attending football camps and participating in the Superstars and Superteams competitions. A bachelor, Tony owns a home in Wylie, northeast of Dallas. One of seven children, including four older brothers, Tony grew up in Aliquippa, Pa. His nickname since childhood has been "Hawkeye" for his large, piercing eyes.

Billy Joe DuPree • 89

TIGHT END • MICHIGAN STATE • 7th YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 229 • BORN: 3/7/50 • (D-1 FOR '73)

PRO: One of the premier tight ends in football, Billy Joe DuPree enjoyed another outstanding season in 1978. His 34 catches was the second highest season total of his career. His nine touchdown receptions led NFL tight ends and exceeded the number he caught in the last three years combined. He added 10 more catches for 124 yards and two touchdowns in the playoffs and capped the season by being voted by fellow players and coaches in the league as the NFC's starting tight end in the Pro Bowl for the third straight year. No matter how many individual accomplishments he gathers, though, Billy Joe will always be appreciated most for his selflessness, which also accounts somewhat for his relative lack of recognition. "Billy Joe is a team player, pure and simple," says receivers coach Mike Ditka, a former All-Pro tight end himself. "He does what we ask of him. In our offense the tight end plays an integral part because of his role as a blocker, and he's become an excellent receiver in recent years because we've gone to him more and he'll catch what you throw him." Known as one of the best blocking tight ends in the business, DuPree takes that rather unglamorous part of the game as seriously as he does receiving. "I've always been appreciated around here as a team player," he says. "On the Cowboys, one must be a team player. So I'm satisfied with that. If I'm asked to block, I block. I'm proud of my blocking." Billy Joe's best game last year came in a loss to Miami when he caught eight passes for 73 yards and one TD. The next week he grabbed two scoring passes in a victory over Green Bay. In 1976 DuPree set a club record for receptions by a tight end with 42. Two years ago in the Pro Bowl he caught three passes for 23 yards in the NFC's winning touchdown drive.

COLLEGE: DuPree played two sports at Michigan State but gave up basketball toward the end of his career to concentrate on football. Although he played in a run-oriented offense, Billy Joe still caught 69 passes in three seasons to finish third among all-time Spartan receivers. He made All-Big Ten as a senior.

PERSONAL: Billy Joe and his wife Marsha gave son Shon (10/27/72) a brother, Christopher Jarrod, on Aug. 4, 1978, also Marsha's birthday. Billy Joe is active with St. Jude's Children's Hospital in Tennessee and with Big Brothers of Arlington, Texas. John Fitzgerald • 62

CENTER • BOSTON COLLEGE • 9TH YEAR
HT: 6-5 • WT: 260 • BORN: 4/16/48 • (D-4 FOR '70)

PRO: From his steady performance and cheerful personality, nobody would suspect that John Fitzgerald has engaged in a constant battle against injury since winning the Cowboys' starting center position six years ago. "Fitz is one of the toughest guys we have because he's played with a lot of injuries," comments offensive line coach Jim Myers. "There aren't many guys who can do that and perform well under those circumstances." Despite an early-season ankle injury, shoulder problems and back spasms, Fitzgerald last year started 14-of-16 regular-season games and played throughout the playoffs. "John has been a strong center for us for a number of years," states Tom Landry. "He played with a lot of injuries last year, but he has a lot of courage. He's always out there trying, always trying to get back in there, and this is a great quality." Because the Cowboys frequently use the spread formation, or shotgun as it's known to most fans, Fitzgerald not only has a more complicated job than most centers but a more visible one too. Snapping the ball seven yards deep to Roger Staubach in the spread has made Fitzgerald perhaps the most recognized center in football. "Knock on wood, I have the spread snap down pat now," John says. "It's a grooved action with timing being the most important thing, next to laying the ball into the quarterback's hands." A defensive lineman in college, Fitzgerald spent his first year with the Cowboys on the taxi squad. He was tried at tackle and guard before settling at center after volunteering to snap for Craig Morton and Staubach at the end of practice one day during his rookie training camp. He became a starter in '73.

COLLEGE: Fitzgerald was a four-year starter at defensive tackle for BC. Defensive coordinator Ernie Stautner, another former BC player, strongly recommended Fitzgerald.

FITZGERALD, Cont.

PERSONAL: Fitzgerald and teammates Pat Donovan and Tom Rafferty form the Cowboys "Iro-American Club," starting offensive linemen of Irish heritage. "There are only two types of people in the world," Fitzgerald claims. "Those who are Irish and those who wish they were Irish." In homage to the old sod John and Sue Fitzgerald named their sons Brendon (1/25/73), Patrick (12/18/76) and Timothy (12/21/77). They live in Richardson. During the off-season John works in sales for Sewell Village Cadillac. A Southbridge, Mass., native, he is active in Big Brothers and the March of Dimes and is an avid golfer.

Andy Frederick • 71

TACKLE • NEW MEXICO • 3rd YEAR
HT: 6-6 • WT: 255 • BORN: 7/25/54 • (D-5 FOR '77)

PRO: The retirement of Ralph Neely and the slow rehabilitation of Rayfield Wright's knee thrust young Andy Frederick into the starting right tackle position at the beginning of the '78 season, only his second following a college career at defensive tackle. After five games with Frederick as a starter, Wright, a former All-Pro, worked himself back into shape and reclaimed his old position. That sent Frederick back to a reserve role for more seasoning. "Andy learned a tremendous amount," says left tackle Pat Donovan, "but he didn't have the experience to draw on when he got in trouble. It's extremely hard starting out. Believe me, I know." One of many Cowboys who have made the conversion from defensive to offensive line, Andy spent most of his rookie season on the special teams but also played a key backup role. Following Blaine Nye's retirement and injuries to Wright and Jim Eidson, Donovan and Neely were the only experienced tackles. And with Neely bothered by a bad knee, Frederick was needed for relief at left tackle after working at right tackle in training camp. "It might have helped a lot because I had to play both sides instead of just concentrating on one," he says of his first year. "At the first of the season I knew absolutely nothing but by the end I had an idea of what was going on. There's still a lot to learn."

COLLEGE: In a game New Mexico lost to Brigham Young by two touchdowns, Frederick stood out enough at defensive tackle to be selected by ABC-TV as the regionally televised game's top player. He capped his college career with an appearance in the '76 East-West Shrine game.

PERSONAL: Andy moved into his new townhouse in February and spent his first off-season in Dallas playing for the Hoopsters, the Cowboys' basketball team. He is a native of Broadview, Ill., a suburb of Chicago, and attended high school in Westchester, Ill., where he played basketball and football.

Cliff Harris • 43

SAFETY • QUACHITA BAPTIST • 10th YEAR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 192 • BORN: 11/12/48 • (FA FOR '70)

PRO: It's hard to find an argument when you say Cliff Harris is the best free safety in the National Football League. Listen to Larry Wilson, former All-Pro free safety of the St. Louis Cardinals, Pro Football Hall of Famer and current front office executive of the Cardinals: "I feel Harris is the finest free safety in the business today. He's changed the way the position is being played. You see other teams modeling their free safeties around the way Harris plays, strong as can be against the run, able to go back and cover against the pass, and striking fear in everyone on the field because he hits so hard." Called "Captain Crash" by teammates for his reckless pursuit of ball carriers, Harris has been a model of consistency since the first game of his rookie season when he became a starter (military service interrupted half his rookie season). Last season Cliff played in his fifth straight Pro Bowl and earned All-Pro honors for the fourth straight season when he was named first-team All-NFL by the Associated Press and Pro Football Writers Association. Harris tied strong safety Charlie Waters for second on the team in interceptions with four, boosting his career total to 27, fifth on the Cowboys' all-time list. Cliff shared the team lead in fumble recoveries with two, both in the second Philadelphia game, and finished second in tackles with 127, including a season-high 16 in the first St. Louis contest. He intercepted a pass in each of the first two playoff games and also played in his fifth Super Bowl, an appearance record he shares with seven others. In 1976 Harris led the Cowboys in tackles and was second in interceptions. In '77 he led the club in interceptions and was second in tackles. In addition to his aggressive playing style, Harris also is a great student of the game.

COLLEGE: Although Cliff was overlooked in the '70 NFL draft, the Cowboys knew him from watching a pair of films of little Ouachita (Continued on next page)

Mike Hegman • 58

LINEBACKER • TENNESSEE STATE • 4th YEAR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 225 • BORN: 1/17/53 • (D-7 FOR '75)

PRO: When the Cowboys picked Terry Bradshaw's pocket in Super Bowl XIII for a go-ahead touchdown in the second quarter, quite a few people were puzzled. They couldn't figure out the identity of that number 58 guy racing toward the end zone with the football. Until that memorable play, Mike Hegman was mostly an anonymous backup and special teams player. But with the score tied 7-7 in Super Bowl XIII, Thomas Henderson grabbed Bradshaw's arms and Hegman alertly swiped the ball and ran 37 yards for his first NFL touchdown. That Hegman came up with such a big play did not surprise the people who knew him best, however. "He's a natural football player," Tom Landry says. "He's able to react instinctively and come up with some big plays, as he did in the Super Bowl with the fumble steal from Bradshaw. Mike has a good future in professional football." Adds linebackers coach Jerry Tubbs, "I would never rule out the possibility of Mike becoming a starter. He has the kind of natural reaction to the ball that a few gifted players are blessed with." In fact Hegman did start three games last year early in the season at left linebacker when Henderson twisted an ankle. Mike also alternated with D. D. Lewis on the right side for three games and continued his excellent special teams work. He shared the regular-season team lead in fumble recoveries with two, had two quarterback sacks, forced two others and led the linebackers in tackles in the second Philadelphia game with eight. In pre-season he returned an interception 66 yards for a touchdown against Denver.

COLLEGE: Hegman began at Alabama A&M then transferred to Tennessee State where he was overshadowed by more renowned teammates such as Too Tall Jones and Cleveland Elam. A walk-on, Mike started at middle linebacker on the Tigers' 10-0 1973 team, led the club in tackles in '74 and impressed pro scouts with his performance in the '75 Senior Bowl.

PERSONAL: Mike, his wife Marianne and their daughter Mikia (8/22/76) moved into their new home in Plano last year. Mike is active with St. Jude's Children's Hospital in Memphis, his hometown.

Thomas Henderson • 56

LINEBACKER • LANGSTON • 5th YEAR
 HT: 6-2 • WT: 220 • BORN: 3/1/53 • (D-1B FOR '75)

PRO: The star of Thomas "Hollywood" Henderson rose swiftly over the football world in 1978. And it shined with a luster supplied mostly by Henderson himself, the Muhammad Ali (and Steve Martin) of the NFL. In addition to his play at strongside linebacker earning him a spot in his first Pro Bowl, Henderson's gift for gab captured the nation's imagination in '78. He turned the traditional Super Bowl buildup in January into his personal stage. "When my mouth runs, my motor runs," proclaims Henderson. "If I was a mute, I couldn't play this game . . . I love publicity. I love credit for the great playing I do at linebacker. It's been a long way from Langston to here, from the Dirt Bowl to the Super Bowl." Henderson is not all talk, however. One of the NFL's fastest linebackers, he capped the Cowboys' 28-0 NFC championship victory over the Rams last season with a record 68-yard interception return for a touchdown (plus crossbar slam dunk). In the Super Bowl he pinned back Terry Bradshaw's arms, allowing Mike Hegman to steal the ball and run 37 yards for a score. Other big plays in Henderson's career include a 79-yard interception return for a touchdown (plus crossbar slam dunk) and a 97-yard TD after a reverse handoff on a kickoff. Following two years as a special teams standout, Henderson became the starting left linebacker in '77 training camp when Randy White moved to tackle. Henderson had a team-leading seven tackles in Dallas' Super Bowl XII victory. Last year an ankle injury kept him from starting three games. "He's a big-game player," Tom Landry says. "He seems to psyche himself up by talking quite a bit before games, and then he comes in and has to back it up."

COLLEGE: Although he played for a small school that won just one game his senior year, Henderson was the 18th player taken in the '75 draft and the first from Oklahoma colleges. A defensive end, Henderson was a two-time Little All-America selection.

PERSONAL: In the off-season Thomas took on a Hollywood agent, Jack Gilardi, who also handles O. J. Simpson and Telly Savalas among others, and made numerous appearances, including the Olympathon television special, the Tomorrow Show, the movie "Squeeze Play," Superstars and Superteams. During Super Bowl week he appeared on the cover of Newsweek with Terry Bradshaw. His newly formed promotional firm is called Hollywood 56 Productions, Inc.

Tony Hill • 80

WIDE RECEIVER • STANFORD • 3rd YEAR
HT: 6-2 • WT: 198 • BORN: 6/23/56 • (D-3A FOR '77)

PRO: In one season Tony Hill went from backup wide receiver to the Pro Bowl. En route he showed everyone exactly why he's always been so confident, why he is nicknamed "Thrill" and why Tom Landry termed his potential "unlimited." Hill also gave the Cowboys perhaps the NFL's most balanced, explosive passing attack. Following a rookie season in which he was used mostly as a punt returner, Hill beat out veterans Golden Richards and Butch Johnson in training camp last year for the starting wide receiver position opposite Drew Pearson. Tony finished second on the team to Preston Pearson in number of catches but led in receiving yardage. His average gain per catch topped the receivers corps. His best game came in October against the Giants when he grabbed seven passes for 112 yards and two touchdowns and earned the Oak Farms MVP award for that contest. Hill got the Cowboys on the scoreboard in Super Bowl XIII with a nifty 39-yard catch-and-run in the first quarter. He capped his remarkable sophomore season by catching three passes for 54 yards in his first Pro Bowl, including a 19-yard TD reception from Roger Staubach which proved to be the winning score in the NFC's 13-7 victory. Says Landry, "Hill is a very explosive player, the type who can turn a short play into a big play in a hurry, because he has excellent running ability and speed. He also has a great ability to adjust to the ball, as good as anyone I've ever seen." Obtained with a draft pick acquired from Philadelphia in '75 for guard John Niland, Hill made an immediate impression by catching three passes for 101 yards against San Diego in his first rookie scrimmage.

COLLEGE: Hill broke all of former All-Pro Gene Washington's receiving records at Stanford, despite missing some of his senior year with an ankle injury. Tony caught 140 passes in four years for 2,225 yards and 18 TDs, including 55 receptions for 916 yards in '75. He was converted to wide receiver after playing quarterback in high school.

PERSONAL: A native of Long Beach, Calif., Tony was honored in February as his hometown's athlete of the year. Tony bought a home in Dallas in the off-season and played for the Cowboys' basketball team. He also participated with the Cowboys in the Superteams competition. A political science major at Stanford, Hill plans to become a lawyer.

David Hudgens • 78

TACKLE • OKLAHOMA • 1st YEAR
HT: 6-5 • WT: 245 • BORN: 2/27/55 • (D-3 FOR '78)

PRO: David Hudgens entered the 1979 season as the mystery man of the Cowboys offensive line. Early in training camp last year Hudgens injured his right knee and by the end of camp the decision was made to operate. Hudgens thus spent his rookie year on the injured reserve list. He practiced little and played not at all. What is known about him is that he's a big, strong former defensive lineman who added about 15 pounds of muscle in the off-season as a regular participant in the team's training program. He is one of a handful of Cowboys who can bench press more than 400 pounds. "He didn't get close to playing last year because of the injury but he worked very hard in the off-season adding bulk to that big frame of his," said assistant head coach Jim Myers. "He doesn't even look like the same individual." Rated the strongest player on the Oklahoma squad in '77, Hudgens put in a good deal of classroom work last year which should help him make the switch to right offensive tackle. "He's like a lot of the linemen we've been able to convert to offense, such as Blaine Nye, John Fitzgerald, Pat Donovan and Andy Frederick," comments Tom Landry. "Usually when you take a player to convert him you must figure it will take a year for him to make the switch."

COLLEGE: As a senior Hudgens made 37 tackles and 48 assisted tackles, including four takedowns for losses totaling 25 yards. He performed with the OU track team his sophomore year, winning the Big Eight shot put championship.

PERSONAL: David and his wife Gina bought a home in nearby Richardson in the off-season and spent the winter fixing it up. David enjoys playing golf and tennis. He is a native of San Diego.

Randy Hughes • 42

SAFETY • OKLAHOMA • 5th YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 207 • BORN: 4/3/53 • (D-4B FOR '75)

PRO: Although it's not much consolation to him, Randy Hughes is recognized as perhaps the best backup safety in the NFL. The reasons he's been unable to crack the starting lineup are simple. Their names are Cliff Harris and Charlie Waters, All-Pros who are considered the best safety tandem in the league. "A lot of people on this team have gone through what he's going through now," Waters says. "It's tough for him because he could have been a starter here in '77. That's how much ability he has. Why, I'd rate him right now as one of the top five safeties in the league." After Hughes sparked the Cowboys in the first half of Super Bowl XII against Denver with a pass interception leading to the Cowboys' first touchdown and two fumble recoveries, coach Gene Stallings said, "I've said all along that I'm not just working with the two best safeties in pro football in Cliff and Charlie, but the three best because Randy Hughes is here too." When Hughes intercepted a pass against Atlanta and another against Los Angeles last season he tied a club record set by Mel Renfro in 1970 with an interception in three straight playoff games. During the regular season last year he intercepted two passes as a fifth defensive back on passing downs. When Jay Saldi broke his arm early in the season Hughes also became captain of the special teams. "Randy Hughes is a player who could step in at either safety spot and play very well," Tom Landry says. "He does a fine job in our special defenses and on specialty teams, and we feel that with Randy's ability we are very secure at the safety positions."

COLLEGE: After being named Oklahoma's high school player of the year, Hughes starred on two undefeated teams at Oklahoma. He was an All-Big Eight pick his junior and senior years and a consensus All-America as a senior. He also received numerous scholar-athlete awards, including Academic All-America.

PERSONAL: Randy, who has a degree in finance and real estate, opened a home building business in Dallas two years ago. His wife Margo teaches kindergarten in Richardson. The Hughes moved into their new home in Dallas in May. Randy is active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Bruce Huther • 57

LINEBACKER • NEW HAMPSHIRE • 3rd YEAR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 220 • BORN: 7/23/54 • (FA FOR '77)

PRO: In two seasons Bruce Huther has gone from obscurity to special teams stardom and two Super Bowl appearances with the Cowboys. As a free agent linebacker from the University of New Hampshire, Huther overcame long odds to make the Cowboys in '77, securing a spot with an outstanding pre-season performance against Miami filling in at middle linebacker for injured Bob Breunig. Huther performed well on the specialty teams all year and ended his rookie season by pouncing on a fumbled punt by Denver in the Cowboys' Super Bowl XII victory. Last season Huther's continued fierce play on the special teams earned him the Haggard Headhunter of the Year

Award from the local media. "It was an honor to win the award," Bruce said. "All I do is try to hit as hard as I can as much as I can. I enjoy that aspect of special teams play. I like the recklessness of it." Huther came up with a big fumble recovery that saved a touchdown against Atlanta in last year's divisional playoff. After Atlanta scored to go ahead 17-13 in the second quarter, the Cowboys fumbled the ensuing kickoff but Huther alertly fell on the loose ball in the Dallas end zone. Bruce received a game ball for his efforts against the Falcons as he did late in the regular season when he helped lead the Cowboys past Philadelphia. One of the strongest Cowboys, he can bench press more than 400 pounds. "Bruce is a good special teams player and a good hitter," Tom Landry says. "He's the type of linebacker who can stop a ball carrier dead in his tracks because he has excellent explosion. He is certainly an adequate backup at middle linebacker."

COLLEGE: A Kodak honorable mention Little All-America selection as a senior, Huther guided New Hampshire to a pair of Yankee Conference championships in '75 and '76, leading the team in tackles both years. He also played some fullback for New Hampshire.

PERSONAL: Bruce spent the off-season studying for his master's degree in environmental biology at the University of Texas at Dallas. A zoology major in college, Bruce also has done graduate work at the University of California. The Haledon, N.J., native bought a townhouse in Dallas in the off-season. He is active in Big Brothers of Dallas.

PRO: Considered by many of his peers the most consistent of the NFL's kick returners, Butch Johnson led the Cowboys in kickoff and punt runbacks in each of his first three seasons. Last year he became the leading punt returner in Cowboys history while breaking his own single-season record with 51 returns. He also rose to second on the club's all-time kickoff return list and was in good position to pass Mel Renfro into the No. 1 spot in 1979. Johnson's other Cowboys record is most punt return yardage in a season, which he set in '76 with 489 yards. Yet his first love in football remains playing wide receiver where he backs Drew Pearson and Tony Hill. Butch spent the '77 season as a play messenger, alternating on each down with Golden Richards. Against San Francisco that season Johnson made a remarkable one-handed touchdown grab and capped the year with one of the most spectacular receptions in Super Bowl history. A seemingly overthrown Roger Staubach pass became six points when Johnson made a diving catch at the goal line. The play covered 45 yards and sent Dallas ahead of Denver 20-3 in the third quarter. Johnson scored his second TD in two Super Bowls last season when he grabbed a four-yard toss from Staubach late in the game. "Butch is a very capable receiver who could step in for either Drew or Tony and we wouldn't drop off a whole lot," Tom Landry says.

COLLEGE: In his senior year Johnson led the nation in receiving with 67 catches for 1,027 yards in just eight games. Those totals earned him All-America honors and his team's MVP award. His career statistics included 139 receptions and 17 touchdowns. Butch also was a pole vaulter on the track team.

PERSONAL: In the off-season Butch conducted a jazz show five nights a week on KERA-FM in Dallas. He also opened a record store with Aaron Kyle in nearby Plano. A second cousin to former Massachusetts Senator Edward Brooke, Butch, whose real name is Mikel, hopes to enter politics on a local level following his playing days. Butch and his wife Julie live in Plano.

Aaron Kyle • 25

CORNERBACK • WYOMING • 4th YEAR
HT: 5-11 • WT: 185 • BORN: 4/6/54 • (D-1 FOR '76)

PRO: Aaron Kyle, the only cornerback ever drafted by the Cowboys in the first round, did not attain immediate stardom the way some No. 1 picks do. But unlike some players who reach their peak at a young age, Kyle has improved each season and according to the coaching staff can develop even more. "Aaron played well last year and during the latter part of the season he was playing the best he had played up to that time," Tom Landry said. "He was making big plays. Cornerback is a very difficult position, and I think as he continues to play it Aaron will become even better. I rate his position a plus for us." As a rookie in '76 Aaron played on passing downs and received several weekly awards for his specialty teams play. He also showed a flair for making big plays, blocking two punts and trapping opposing quarterbacks twice. The next season he became the starting right cornerback but missed four games in mid-year because of a fractured wrist, though he continued to play on the special teams. Kyle returned to the lineup and performed well in the playoffs, especially in Super Bowl XII against Denver with three tackles, including a key trap on a run from punt formation, an interception and a fumble recovery that set up the game-clinching touchdown. Last year Aaron shared the club lead in fumble recoveries with two, intercepted three passes in regular season and another in the playoffs against Atlanta.

COLLEGE: In '75 Kyle was an All-Western Athletic Conference selection and played in the East-West Shrine Bowl. A high school half-back and linebacker in his native Detroit, he played safety in college until his senior year when he was used at both corners because of his 4.6 40-yard dash speed.

PERSONAL: A journalism major in college, Aaron worked in the off-season as a freelance copy writer for a Houston advertising agency. The previous off-season he wrote sports and news for a suburban Dallas newspaper chain. Aaron and teammate Butch Johnson own a record store in Plano, northeast of Dallas, where Aaron lives with his wife Judy.

Scott Laidlaw • 35

RUNNING BACK • STANFORD • 5th YEAR
HT: 6-0 • WT: 205 • BORN: 2/17/53 • (D-14 FOR '75)

PRO: The curse of Scott Laidlaw's career has been injuries. Since joining the Cowboys in 1975 he has undergone two knee operations, missed action because of badly bruised ribs and suffered a hamstring pull in '77 training camp that kept him from seriously challenging Robert Newhouse for the starting fullback position. So it was a touch ironic that in 1978 an injury to Newhouse gave Laidlaw a chance to play a big part in the Cowboys' late-season surge toward a second straight Super Bowl berth. Against Washington on Thanksgiving Day, the first game he started in two years, Laidlaw rushed 16 times for 122 yards and two touchdowns. He had a 59-yard run to set up a field goal and his 103 first-half yards marked the second time he surpassed 100 yards rushing in the first half (the first was against Philadelphia in '76, his only other 100-yard game). Two weeks later against the Eagles Laidlaw scored on a one-yard run and a 44-yard screen pass. In the first-round playoff game against Atlanta Scott carried 17 times for 66 yards and two TDs and in the conference championship game at Los Angeles the following week he caught a four-yard scoring pass that put the Cowboys ahead 14-0 in the fourth quarter. That gave Laidlaw seven TDs in the six games prior to the Super Bowl. "Newhouse was having one of his best years when he got hurt late in the season," Tom Landry said. "But an encouraging thing happened when Scott stepped in and did an outstanding job. If Scott is determined enough he's going to contend for that starting position because he's smart, he knows what we want and he does well."

COLLEGE: Playing in Stanford's pro-set offense, Laidlaw rushed for 1,300 yards and averaged 40 pass receptions in his last two seasons.

PERSONAL: Scott, a native of Hawthorne, Calif., holds a degree in architecture from Stanford. He went into business with teammate John Fitzgerald last year importing and exporting commodities. Scott and his wife Michele spent much of the off-season making improvements on their house in nearby Plano. The Laidlaws are animal lovers who own two dogs and two horses.

Burton Lawless • 66

GUARD • FLORIDA • 5th YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 255 • BORN: 11/1/53 • (D-2 FOR '75)

PRO: Burton Lawless started to display again last season the form that made him one of the Cowboys' most promising offensive linemen ever as a rookie in 1975. The only one of 12 Cowboy rookies in '75 (the "Dirty Dozen") to earn a starting position, Lawless was the first rookie since Ralph Neely in '65 to start on the Cowboys offensive line. He also received All-Rookie honors from UPI and the Pro Football Writers for his play at left guard. Challenged by Herbert Scott in '76, Lawless at first lost his starting spot then wound up alternating with Scott as a play messenger. In '77 an ankle injury contributed to Lawless becoming a backup, although he started four games at left guard and two at right because of injuries to Scott and John Fitzgerald. Although listed as backup right guard to Tom Rafferty last season, Burton served as a play messenger with Rafferty and had his best year since '75, particularly pass blocking. "He was the most improved offensive lineman we had last year," assistant head coach Jim Myers said. "He was much improved over the '77 season, partly because he really prepared in the off-season."

COLLEGE: After moving from tight end to guard, Lawless made All-Southeastern Conference and several All-America teams. Cowboys scouts rated him the best pulling guard in the '75 draft.

PERSONAL: In the off-season Burton and his wife Sarah bought a ranch in Groesbeck, Texas, 100 miles south of Dallas, and plan to raise cattle. Sarah also began a modeling career with the Kim Dawson Agency of Dallas. During the season Burton and Sarah, both native Floridians, live in nearby Addison.

D. D. Lewis • 50

LINEBACKER • MISSISSIPPI STATE • 11th YEAR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 215 • BORN: 10/16/45 • (D-6 FOR '68)

PRO: According to Tom Landry, D. D. Lewis is among the most underrated and overlooked linebackers in football. After the Cowboys' 1977 Super Bowl championship season Landry said, "D. D. Lewis had his best year for us and should have been All-Pro." After last season Landry pointed out that Lewis had another excellent year. "He probably didn't make the Pro Bowl because an older player who works hard and improves has a tougher time catching the voters' attention than a younger player just coming on. D. D.'s been a pro for a long time and is the type of player you need to complement the younger guys in your lineup." Lewis has filled a variety of roles in his long career. He became a starter at right linebacker seven years ago after four years as a backup to All-Pro Chuck Howley and special teams standout. He is the snapper on the punt team and has served as backup punter. In '77 and '78 Lewis was a defensive co-captain. Last season D. D., which stands for Dwight Douglas, finished fifth on the club in tackles with 84 and trapped opposing quarterbacks twice. In Super Bowl XIII Lewis had the Cowboys' only interception against Terry Bradshaw, returning the errant pass 21 yards from deep in Dallas territory to kill a Pittsburgh scoring drive in the first quarter. His five Super Bowl appearances is a record shared by seven other players. Lewis was outstanding in the '77 playoffs with a pass interception and fumble recovery against the Bears and five tackles and a quarterback trap in Super Bowl XII. He attributed part of his success the past two years to strenuous off-season conditioning work and weightlifting.

COLLEGE: Despite weighing slightly more than 200 pounds, Lewis earned All-America and Southeastern Conference Player of the Year honors in 1967. He was a two-time All-SEC selection described by one scout at the time "as pound-for-pound maybe the best player in the country."

PERSONAL: D. D. opened a new business in the off-season, D. D. Lewis Carpets in Garland, Texas. D. D. and his wife Margaret have two daughters, Melna (10/17/69) and Victoria (11/17/75). The Lewis family lives in suburban Richardson.

Harvey Martin • 79

DEFENSIVE END • EAST TEXAS STATE • 7th YEAR
HT: 6-5 • WT: 250 • BORN: 11/16/50 • (D-3 FOR '73)

PRO: Following the most frustrating season of his career, Harvey Martin focused his concentration on regaining the form that earned him a trophy room full of awards in 1977. A series of nagging leg and shoulder injuries in 1978 reduced the effectiveness of one of the NFL's premier defensive linemen, who nonetheless started every game and imparted his invaluable leadership to the Cowboys. "It was rough," recalls Harvey. "I couldn't really play the way that I was used to playing football for five years." Still, Harvey had a season of which most players would have been proud, evidence of just how good he is. Martin's 16 quarterback traps tied Randy White for the club lead and Harvey received credit for a club-high five forced sacks. He has led or co-led the Cowboys in QB traps in each of his six seasons. Against New England he intercepted the second pass of his career, setting up the Cowboys' winning touchdown in the fourth quarter. He led Dallas in the NFC title game at Los Angeles with seven tackles, including a QB sack, a tackle for loss and a fumble recovery deep in Dallas territory in the fourth quarter. In the Super Bowl Martin sacked Terry Bradshaw once and also forced a Pittsburgh fumble. Harvey was voted to his third straight Pro Bowl but missed the game because of injuries. Martin's 1977 season was one of the greatest ever by an NFL defensive player—85 tackles, a league-leading 23 traps, two fumble recoveries in the NFC title game, co-MVP with Randy White in the Super Bowl, consensus All-Pro and NFL defensive player of the year. "The thing that makes him better than any other defensive lineman is that he thinks he can get a sack in every passing situation," says Stan Walters, Philadelphia's Pro Bowl offensive tackle. "He just goes all out in a passing situation and his eyes light up." Martin served as defensive co-captain in '77 and '78. "He's the spark plug on our team," teammate Bob Breunig says. "He lifts everyone."

COLLEGE: Martin won NAIA, Football News and Associated Press All-America honors in 1972 when he helped direct East Texas State to the NAIA Division I national championship.

PERSONAL: A Dallas native and resident, Harvey cut back on off-season activities such as appearances and TV commercials to concentrate on his football conditioning program. He did participate in the Superteams competition, however. He planned to resume his daily five-minute radio program on WFAA during the season. He is also a partner in Smokey John's barbecue restaurant in Dallas.

Robert Newhouse • 44

RUNNING BACK • HOUSTON • 8th YEAR
HT: 5-10 • WT: 215 • BORN: 1/9/50 • (D-2 FOR '72)

PRO: Robert Newhouse, the unsung member of the Cowboys' backfield, was enjoying one of his best seasons in 1978 when he was struck down by a broken bone in his right leg against New Orleans, the 12th game of the year. He missed the next three games and played sparingly thereafter. The compactly built fullback known to teammates as 'House left an indelible mark on the season, however. In a key victory over Green Bay that snapped a two-game losing streak, Newhouse played the equivalent of a perfect game. He received the highest grades ever by a Dallas running back in the coaches' review of the game film. Statistically, Newhouse rushed for 101 yards and two touchdowns on 18 carries and caught four passes for 37 yards. It was the fourth career 100-yard game for the Cowboys' fourth all-time leading rusher and marked only the second time in club history two backs gained more than 100 yards in a game as Tony Dorsett added 149. But what the statistics didn't tell, the things that added up to a "perfect" game, is precisely what makes Newhouse both so valuable and so unnoticed. In addition to always getting the tough yards, Robert executes consistently well on run blocking, pass blocking, pass routes and carrying out fakes. He has fumbled only five times over the past three seasons (436 carries). Because of his poise he also has performed well in key games, such as Super Bowl XII when he tossed a 29-yard touchdown pass to Golden Richards to seal the victory over Denver. Despite his injury-shortened '78 season, Robert led the Cowboys in rushing touchdowns with eight and total TDs scored with 10.

COLLEGE: Newhouse set Houston records for yards rushing (1,757) and carries (297) in 1971 en route to becoming the all-time leading ground gainer in school history (2,961) despite an injury-shortened junior year. Four times in his career he rushed for more than 200 yards receptions by a Dallas running back, set in 1977. "Preston Pearson could be considered a starter for us because of his great contributions to the passing game," Tom Landry says. Pearson was voted the Oak Farms Cowboys MVP for the first Philadelphia game last year after accounting for 85 yards in total offense and he received a game ball for making four key receptions to help Dallas beat New England and clinch a playoff spot. The dean of NFL running backs with 12 seasons behind him, Preston is the only player to appear in the Super Bowl with three different teams (Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Dallas) and his five Super Bowl appearances is a record shared by seven other players. He was the leading receiver in Super Bowl XII against Denver with five catches for 37 yards. Obtained by the Cowboys as a free agent after being released by Pittsburgh shortly before the start of the '75 season, Pearson held the starting tailback position until Tony Dorsett took over 10 games into the '77 season. A 12th-round draft choice by Baltimore in '67, Pearson was traded with defensive back Ocie Austin to Pittsburgh in 1970 for linebacker Ray May and a draft choice.

COLLEGE: An outstanding football and basketball player in high school in Freeport, Ill., Pearson earned All-Big 10 basketball honors at Illinois after making the team as a freshman walk-on. He did not play college football.

PERSONAL: Preston, his wife Linda and their sons Gregory (12/28/69) and Matthew (9/29/72) live in Pittsburgh where Preston is a marketing executive for American Television and Communications Corporation and founder and treasurer of Consolidated Management Enterprises, a firm that represents professional athletes.

Drew Pearson • 88

WIDE RECEIVER • TULSA • 7TH YEAR
HT: 6-0 • WT: 183 • BORN: 1/12/51 • (FA FOR '73)

PRO: In the beginning he was overlooked, passed over by 26 NFL teams in the 1973 draft. Now, perhaps the most respected pass catcher in the league, Drew Pearson can't go anywhere on a football field without attracting a crowd of defensive backs. The emergence of Tony Hill last season took some of the pressure off Pearson and consequently the three-time All-Pro's statistics fell somewhat. "The big playmaker in our system has been Drew Pearson," Tom Landry says. "He's just an exceptional receiver who catches the ball extremely well, catches it in a crowd, catches it in a clutch situation. We didn't use Drew as much last year because Tony Hill came into his own at the other wide receiver spot and gave us a better-balanced passing attack." Pearson owns three of the most memorable catches in club history — a) an 83-yard touchdown reception in the fourth quarter to beat the Rams in the '73 playoffs, b) a 50-yard scoring catch in the closing seconds to beat Washington on Thanksgiving Day 1974 and c) the 50-yard "Hail Mary" in the last 20 seconds that beat Minnesota in the '75 playoffs. Yet in addition to being spectacular Drew also has been perhaps the most consistent receiver in the NFL since becoming a starter midway through his rookie season. His 258 catches from 1974 through 1978 topped all NFL wide receivers and he ended the '78 season one reception short of tying Frank Clarke for second place on the Cowboys' all-time receiving list. In '76 he led all NFC pass catchers with 58 receptions. His streak of catching at least one pass per game reached a club-record 58 when it was broken last year against New England. He has caught passes in 12 consecutive playoff games, also a club record. The last two seasons Drew served as an offensive co-captain. He is a four-time Pro Bowler.

COLLEGE: As a senior Pearson caught a team-leading 33 passes for a run-oriented, 4-7 Tulsa team and received the university president's award as the team's "best spirited and most unselfish member." Drew succeeded Joe Theismann as quarterback at South River, N.J., High School but was converted to flanker at Tulsa.

PERSONAL: During the season Drew, named for the late crusading Washington newspaper columnist, writes a twice-monthly sports column for the Dallas-Fort Worth Business Weekly and has a radio show on KAAM. He is a national spokesman for the Distilled Spirits Council, which battles teenage alcohol abuse, and serves on President Carter's committee for the advancement of disadvantaged youth. Drew, who founded the Cowboys' off-season basketball team, is married to the daughter of former Harlem Globetrotters star Marques Haynes. Drew and Marsha Pearson have one daughter, Tori Nichole (7/23/74).

Tom Rafferty • 64

GUARD • PENN STATE • 4th YEAR
HT: 6-3 • WT: 250 • BORN: 8/2/54 • (D-4 FOR '76)

PRO: One of the most difficult positions to master is offensive guard, especially with the Cowboys, who use such a complex offense. Yet in only his second season Tom Rafferty became a starter and established himself as one of the better young guards in the league. Considered the top pulling guard in the '76 draft by Cowboys scouts, Rafferty was the snapper for field goals and extra points in his rookie season, a duty he has continued to perform. In '77 he replaced retired All-Pro Blaine Nye in the starting lineup at right guard after working at left guard and center in training camp. Rafferty moved to center for two games that season to spell injured John Fitzgerald. Last year, much to the chagrin of Rafferty, Tom Landry decided to use Rafferty and Burton Lawless as play messengers at right guard because of the development of Tony Hill at wide receiver, the position used in '77, and because of a pulled calf muscle that hobbled Rafferty in training camp. Rafferty's goal in 1979? "To quit running in plays." His strategy? "I want to be able to play well enough that they can't take me out of the game." Adds Tom, "I'm aware that it's a necessary part of our offense and that someone has to do the job. But it makes it hard to get into a rhythm or be able to set anything up against the guy you're blocking against."

COLLEGE: A four-year starting guard at Penn State, Tom earned consistently outstanding grades from his coaches in his junior and senior years. He received All-America honors from the Football News and Football Writers Association in 1975.

PERSONAL: Tom once again spent the off-season playing on the Cowboys' basketball team and staying in shape through weight training and racquetball. He and his wife Donna live in Dallas year-round. Born in Syracuse, Tom grew up in Manlius, N.Y., where he became a high school All-America in lacrosse in addition to playing football and basketball. Rafferty, Fitzgerald and Pat Donovan form the Cowboys' Iro-American Club, starting offensive linemen of Irish heritage.

Tom Randall • 60

GUARD • IOWA STATE • 2nd YEAR
HT: 6-5 • WT: 245 • BORN: 8/3/56 • (D-7 FOR '78)

PRO: Tom Randall spent his rookie season learning a new position. Along with teammates Pat Donovan, John Fitzgerald, Andy Frederick and David Hudgens, Randall was a college defensive lineman who was converted by the Cowboys to the offensive line. Tackle Rayfield Wright was another conversion project, although he played tight end and safety in college. "The normal routine is that it takes time to make the switch," assistant head coach Jim Myers says. "Randall has some fine assets, though. He's smart, big and strong and he has a great desire to excel." One of the Cowboys' strongest players (he can bench press 420 pounds), Randall saw action in 11 regular-season and three playoff games last season as a special teams performer and backup left guard. "He was a little slow coming around as a rookie," says Tom Landry, "but we've had such great success with defensive linemen like Pat Donovan who made the switch that we had a lot of patience with Randall and feel that he has the competitiveness and mental traits to be a good offensive lineman."

COLLEGE: A three-year starter and team co-captain as a senior, Randall led Big Eight defensive linemen in tackles in '77 with 128, including 11 sacks. Iowa State was Big Eight runner-up his last two seasons.

PERSONAL: A native of Mason City, Iowa, Tom returned to Iowa State in the off-season and obtained his degree in business administration. He plans a career in real estate and already has his Iowa real estate license.

Kenny Randle • 45

CORNERBACK • SOUTHERN CAL • 1st YEAR
HT: 6-0 • WT: 196 • BORN: 10/12/54 • (FA FOR '78)

PRO: It was hard to ignore the physical tools of a free agent with size and world-class sprinting ability. Thus Kenny Randle was signed last year by the Cowboys. The first of Cleveland's three seventh-round picks in 1977, Randle was drafted as a wide receiver and reported to training camp with the Cowboys at that position. But due to an abundance of talent at wide receiver and a shortage of cornerbacks the coaching staff decided to take advantage of Randle's speed and size in the defensive backfield. After showing well the first few weeks in camp, however, Randle strained a nerve in his shoulder during a tackling drill the week before the pre-season opener. He was put on injured reserve and missed the entire season. "We don't know that much about him because he got hurt early," said defensive backfield coach Gene Stallings, "but he has some good assets in his speed and quickness. We're going to find out this summer if he really has a chance to play in the NFL." Randle demonstrated that he plans to give it his best shot by participating avidly in the Cowboys' off-season conditioning program in Dallas.

COLLEGE: Randle was a backup wide receiver on two Southern Cal Rose Bowl teams but was noted more for his accomplishments in track. Recognized as one of the finest sprinters in Trojan history, Kenny won the NCAA 400-meter championship in '76 in 44.8. He also turned in times of 9.5 in the 100-yard dash and 20.5 in the 220.

PERSONAL: A native of Kansas City, Mo., Kenny earned All-America honors in track and All-City honors in football at Central High. An enthusiastic traveler, Kenny toured Europe in July 1975 with an AAU track team. He plans a career in business management.

Jay Saldi • 87

TIGHT END • SOUTH CAROLINA • 4th YEAR
HT: 6-3 • WT: 227 • BORN: 10/8/54 • (FA FOR '76)

PRO: A broken right forearm sidelined Jay Saldi, the Cowboys' special teams captain and backup tight end, for most of the 1978 season. After catching a touchdown pass in each of the first two games, Saldi sustained his injury against St. Louis in the fourth game and was put on injured reserve. One of the Cowboys' most enthusiastic players, Saldi was at the team practice field daily in the off-season getting himself ready for the '79 season. "He's become a leader here," says fellow special teams performer Mike Hegman. "That's why he's captain of the special teams. He gets everybody moving. He really does a good job." Tom Landry called Saldi the most improved player on the team at the end of '77 training camp when the former free agent from South Carolina was named special teams captain. Considering his limited playing time that season, Saldi had an outstanding year. He scored three TDs, two on passes from Roger Staubach and one by sliding eight yards on his back with a fumbled punt against the Giants. He set up the winning touchdown in a game against Philadelphia by blocking a punt that Charlie Waters picked up and ran in, and he had a key fumble recovery on a punt in the NFC championship game against Minnesota. He was used that season at fullback in the spread formation until Tony Dorsett won a starting job late in the season. Because of his outstanding moves, Saldi can also be used at wide receiver. A native of the New York City area, Jay has scored two of his five career touchdowns against the Giants.

COLLEGE: A high school All-America at linebacker from White Plains, N.Y., Saldi began his career at South Carolina as a 205-pound defensive end. Later switched to tight end, he caught just 15 passes in his career. But the Cowboys, impressed by his all-around athletic ability, signed him as a free agent.

PERSONAL: Jay is coach of the Hoopsters, the Cowboys' off-season basketball team, which compiled a 31-3 record in '79. Also in '79 Saldi moved into his new home in Dallas, one mile from the practice field, and starred in a locally produced film called "Squeeze Play" with teammates Ed Jones, Thomas Henderson and Drew Pearson.

Herbert Scott • 68

GUARD • VIRGINIA UNION • 5th YEAR
HT: 6-2 • WT: 252 • BORN: 1/18/53 • (D-13 FOR '75)

PRO: Herbert Scott rose from obscurity in late December last year when he was named first-team All-NFC by United Press International. Until the bestowal of that honor, Scott, the quiet, modest left guard, was perhaps the most unknown of the Cowboy regulars. A low-round draft choice from a small school, Scott barely made the team in '75 but a year later opened the season as the starting left guard and finished it alternating at the position as a play messenger with Burton Lawless. Scott settled in as the full-time left guard in '77 and last season enjoyed his first injury-free year after a series of hamstring problems. He is regarded as the Cowboys' best open field blocker among offensive linemen and has ranked consistently at or near the top as a pass blocker. In '78 Herbert drew only three penalties in 16 regular-season games, which included more than 1,000 offensive plays. None of the penalties was for holding. He was the only Dallas offensive lineman not bothered by injuries in '78, which he partly credited to his work in the Cowboys' off-season conditioning program. "It was my best season so far," Scott says. "If I can keep this pace up of improving, maybe I'll be a good football player one day."

COLLEGE: Scott played tight end, tackle and guard for Virginia

Union and also was a top shot putter for the school's track team. Herbert majored in education and held a job as a school teacher in his native Virginia Beach during his first two off-seasons with the Cowboys.

PERSONAL: Herb works in the off-season as a salesman for a Dallas commercial land investment company called Monel, Inc. Herb's wife Gayle, a social worker, is employed by the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School as a counselor. Herbert also is a professional gospel singer. The Scotts live in Plano, Texas.

Rafael Septien • 1

KICKER • SOUTHWEST LOUISIANA • 3rd YEAR
HT: 5-9 • WT: 171 • BORN: 12/12/53 • (FA FOR '78)

PRO: Rafael Septien bailed out the Cowboys from a potentially troublesome situation last year. A pre-season contract squabble led to the trading of Efen Herrera to Seattle and left the Cowboys without an experienced place kicker. But Septien, the NFC's fourth leading scorer in 1977 as a rookie with Los Angeles, became available when the Rams released him after the final pre-season game. The Cowboys signed Septien the week before the season opener against Baltimore and the Mexico City native contributed to a 38-0 victory over the Colts with a career-best 48-yard field goal, which he equaled in the playoffs against Atlanta. Later in the season at St. Louis Septien kicked a 47-yarder into the wind at 3:28 of overtime to give the Cowboys a 24-21 triumph over the Cardinals. His other top efforts came against Miami when he hit on all three field goal attempts (30, 39 and 24 yards) and against Washington on Thanksgiving Day when he converted three of four tries (33, 21 and 44). He missed only one of 47 extra-point attempts and finished as the second leading scorer in the National Conference. Septien has been most accurate inside 40 yards, hitting 16-of-18 with the Rams and 13-of-16 with the Cowboys within that range. He also possesses a strong leg on kickoffs. Drafted by New Orleans in the 10th round in '77, Septien was released during training camp and signed by the Rams. He was named to the NFL All-Rookie team by United Press International, Pro Football Weekly and Football Digest.

COLLEGE: Septien earned All-Southland Conference honors his last two seasons in a three-year career at Southwest Louisiana.

PERSONAL: Rafael's busy off-season included appearances in the World Superstars event and the Coors All-Pro Racquetball Championship, in which he qualified for the $100,000 first prize in the January, 1980, finals. Rafael is a celebrity in Mexico where he has appeared in movies, television commercials and on numerous magazine covers. "Mexico loves the Cowboys," he says. "They call them 'Los Vaqueros de Dallas.'" Rafael was a high school star in soccer, baseball, basketball and volleyball and his father was captain of a Mexican World Cup soccer team.

Dave Stalls • 65

DEFENSIVE TACKLE-END • NORTHERN COLORADO • 3rd YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 245 • BORN: 9/19/55 • (D-7 FOR '77)

PRO: The pass rush received an unexpected boost last season with the emergence of Dave Stalls, whose quickness made him a constant threat to opposing quarterbacks in passing situations. "One of the pleasant surprises of the year was Dave Stalls, who came in on third down situations for Jethro Pugh or Larry Cole at tackle and gave us a good pass rush," Tom Landry says. "Dave had remarkable success with his escapes, trapping the quarterback or hitting him. We're very encouraged by his performance." A top special teams player as a rookie, Stalls began appearing regularly at defensive tackle on passing downs (often as the middle guard in a three-man line) toward the end of the 1978 season and in the playoffs. Despite relatively little playing time, he had four quarterback traps (fourth best on the team) and assisted on another. Stalls also had a sack for a nine-yard loss in the NFC championship game. "Last season gave me the confidence to know that I could pass rush and contribute," Stalls says. "Before there was a question because I hadn't had the chance. I proved to myself and others that I could do it. Now I feel I have the potential to rush the passer as well as anyone in the league."

COLLEGE: Stalls played defensive tackle and captained Northern Colorado's defense as a senior when he earned Little All-America honors.

PERSONAL: Dave spent an unusually busy off-season. He was married in Denver in February and honeymooned with his bride Terri in Tahiti. Then the Stalls bought a condominium in San Diego where Dave did shark behavioral research at Hub's Sea World Research Institute. A zoology major in college, Dave hopes to get his doctorate in shark behavioral research. He is also a member of the National Audubon Society.

Roger Staubach • 12

QUARTERBACK • NAVY • 11th YEAR
 HT: 6-3 • WT: 202 • BORN: 2/5/42 • (D-10, Future, '64)

PRO: No matter how well he does, and no quarterback has ever done much better, Roger Staubach, even at age 37, cannot keep himself from striving to do more. Above all else, he is the ultimate competitor. "There have been several questions about my age being a factor," Staubach said prior to the 1979 season. "I don't think so. I have to work harder now to stay in shape, but I feel I'm playing better than I ever have. I understand the game better. But I still have to improve. I'm not ready to take a step backwards." The 1978 season was another remarkable one for the Cowboys' all-time leading passer. Staubach directed the Cowboys to their third Super Bowl in the last four years and fourth since he became the starting quarterback in mid-1971. He set team passing records for attempts, completions, yards and touchdowns and won the NFL passing title for the third time (also '71 and '73). He also threw the winning touchdown pass (to teammate Tony Hill) in his fourth Pro Bowl appearance. The Kansas City Committee of 101 named Roger the NFC offensive player of the year and in a Sport Magazine survey of five All-Pro defensive players Staubach was rated the NFL's best quarterback. He entered the '79 season ranked No. 1 among active passers and No. 4 on the NFL's all-time passing list. He held Super Bowl records for most TD passes (eight), most yards passing (734), most attempts passing (98) and most completions (61). "I think he can play at this high level for several more years," Tom Landry says. "Age is just a relative thing.

As long as the arm's strong, a quarterback can play as long as the attitude's right. That goes the quickest, but Roger's still strongly motivated." Because of four years of service in the Navy, including a tour in Vietnam, following graduation from the Academy in 1965, Staubach has played four fewer seasons than most players his age. His numerous pro football awards include Super Bowl VI MVP, Sporting News NFL player of the year and Players Association MVP in 1971.

COLLEGE: Probably the greatest athlete in Naval Academy history, Staubach earned seven letters in football, basketball and baseball. He was a two-time All-America quarterback, winning the Heisman and Walter Camp trophies in '63 and the Maxwell Award in '64.

PERSONAL: Roger and his wife Marianne have five children, Jennifer (6/21/66), Michelle (5/23/68), Stephanie (6/25/69), Jeffrey (12/28/74) and Amy (7/6/77). After several years with another local real estate firm, the Holloway-Staubach Agency opened in 1978. Roger is active in many charities and civic organizations, including the American Diabetes Association, Paul Anderson Youth Home, Salvation Army, Jaycees, Easter Seals and Fellowship of Christian Athletes. In June he received the annual Byron "Whizzer" White Award for outstanding community service by an NFL player. He is a native of Silverton, Ohio, a suburb of Cincinnati.

Robert Steele • 82

WIDE RECEIVER • NORTH ALABAMA • 2nd YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 196 • BORN: 8/2/56 • (FA FOR '78)

PRO: The only rookie free agent to make the Cowboys' active roster in 1978 was Robert Steele. If that isn't impressive enough, consider that the young man from little-known North Alabama also had to battle for a spot at perhaps the most talent-laden position on the team — wide receiver. "Robert showed us in training camp that he has some qualities that may pay off in the future," Tom Landry said. "He doesn't have great speed, but he's a big target and if the ball touches his hands he's going to catch it." Steele actually was released prior to the final pre-season game but was recalled one week into the regular season to replace Golden Richards, who was traded to Chicago. Steele had caught the attention of his coaches in the Houston pre-season contest with two receptions, one at the two-yard-line to set up a touchdown, and his aggressive special teams play. "Two catches and my play on the special teams in that game made the team for me," he said. "It showed them that I could catch the ball in a crowd with people on top of me. And it showed that I didn't mind getting hit on special teams." Although no passes were thrown his way in regular season as the fourth wide receiver behind Drew Pearson, Tony Hill and Butch Johnson, Steele contributed on all the special teams.

COLLEGE: In his junior year Steele caught 30 passes for a Gulf South Conference-leading 19.3 yards a reception. North Alabama switched to a run-oriented veer offense the next season but Steele still grabbed 25 passes and earned honorable mention Division II All-America and first-team All-Conference honors. He played tight end in high school.

PERSONAL: The Columbus, Ga., native remained in Dallas during the off-season and put his marketing degree to use working in industrial sales for Delta Petroleum in Arlington, Texas. He also devoted time to helping the March of Dimes and Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Robert's father recently sold the Columbus Astros, a minor league affiliate of the Houston Astros baseball team.

Dennis Thurman • 32

CORNERBACK • SOUTHERN CAL • 2nd YEAR
HT: 5-11 • WT: 170 • BORN: 4/13/56 • (D-11 FOR '78)

PRO: Dennis Thurman started his career with the Cowboys in a rather unfavorable position. A low draft choice who played safety in college, he was not an odds-on favorite to make the team. Not only did Thurman make the team, but he also made a significant contribution. "We usually don't draft safeties, preferring to draft cornerbacks and make them safeties, but we couldn't let Thurman sit there on the draft board any longer," scout Red Hickey said. "He's not very big, but he's extremely competitive." Thurman's task was made even more difficult when he was switched from his college position to cornerback. Although he did not start any games, Dennis got to play more than he expected when veterans Benny Barnes and Mark Washington were hobbled by assorted injuries. Thurman displayed his knack for making interceptions by picking off a pass against Green Bay and another against the Jets. "If Benny and Mark had been healthy I think I would have done most of my learning in practice," Thurman said. "But I'm appreciative of the time I had in games. That's where you really learn." Dennis also sparkled on the special teams, earning the Haggar Headhunter Award for the Jets game, the Super Bowl and the overall playoffs. Thurman's biggest play of the year came on the specials when he recovered an onside kick that led to the Cowboys' final touchdown in the Super Bowl. "He helped our kicking game tremendously," special teams coach Mike Ditka said.

COLLEGE: Thurman led the nation in interception return yardage in '76 with 180 yards on eight steals. He had 13 career interceptions, six pass break-ups, seven fumble recoveries and was a two-time consensus All-America.

Mark Washington • 46

CORNERBACK • MORGAN STATE • 10th YEAR
HT: 5-11 • WT: 187 • BORN: 12/28/47 • (D-13 FOR '70)

PRO: Only four active players (Larry Cole, D. D. Lewis, Roger Staubach and Rayfield Wright) began the 1979 season with more years of service to the Cowboys than Mark Washington. A valuable performer who has been plagued by injuries throughout his career, Washington started three games at left corner last season for Benny Barnes, who had foot problems, but then was sidelined himself by a troublesome right knee. Only in 1975 has Mark played an entire season as a starter without being struck down by injuries. In '76 a concussion in pre-season cost him his starting left corner job to Barnes, but Washington got to start six games on the right side for injured Mel Renfro and wound up leading the Cowboys in interceptions. The next season Mark started four games for injured Aaron Kyle and performed well in Super Bowl XII against Denver with a key interception and a game-high five passes defended after Barnes left early with a foot injury. Mark's role the past few seasons has been especially taxing mentally because he's had to prepare himself to play both the right and left sides. He is called "Strip" by teammates for his uncanny ability to loosen the ball from a receiver's grasp.

COLLEGE: Washington played defensive back for a Morgan State team that won 31 straight games. A co-captain as a senior, he intercepted 15 passes in his career.

PERSONAL: Mark has a degree in chemistry but last off-season took courses in real estate and plans a career in industrial development. He has worked for the National Alliance of Businessmen helping minority high school students interested in business careers secure summer jobs. Mark, his wife Linda and their daughter Lisa Joy (3/16/74) live in Dallas. Mark is a Chicago native.

Charlie Waters • 41

SAFETY • CLEMSON • 10th YEAR
HT: 6-2 • WT: 200 • BORN: 9/10/48 • (D-3 FOR '70)

PRO: No longer the most underrated and unsung player in the NFL, as a Sports Illustrated player poll named him two years ago, Charlie Waters entered his 10th season a fully appreciated and established All-Pro. Charlie's 1978 achievements were as impressive as anyone's in the league. From his strong safety position he led the Cowboys in solo tackles with 76, tied Cliff Harris for second in interceptions with four and picked off two passes and recovered a fumble to spark Dallas over the Rams in the NFC championship game. Waters also appeared in his third straight Pro Bowl, was voted first-team All-NFL by the Pro Football Writers Association (for the second consecutive year) and the Newspaper Enterprise Association, second-team All-NFL by the Associated Press and won the Oak Farms Favorite Cowboy contest. His 33 career interceptions placed him third on the Cowboys' all-time list after the '78 season. Things weren't always so rosy for Charlie, who only became the starting strong safety in '76. He spent his first six seasons bouncing less than triumphantly between cornerback and safetyman. In 1973, after injuries and surgery, he reported to camp weighing 167 pounds. Waters first earned All-Pro recognition during the Cowboys' 1977 Super Bowl championship season when he had three interceptions, two blocked punts, a game-clinching TD run with a blocked punt and set a divisional playoff record with three interceptions against Chicago. "Charlie's long suit is that he's hardly ever wrong," defensive backfield coach Gene Stallings says. "He's at the right place at the right time doing the right thing."

COLLEGE: Waters played quarterback at Clemson until his final 15 games when he was moved to wide receiver. He caught 68 passes, including 44 for 738 yards in an injury-shortened '69 season, a team record that stood until '77.

WATERS, Cont.

PERSONAL: Charlie's new talent agency, ProMotion, gained instant notoriety with the release in June of the Charlie Waters pinup poster. Proceeds from that project were to be used to finance a disco album recorded by Charlie's wife, Rosie, a model-actress. Charlie, Rosie and their son Jon Cody (12/16/77) live in Dallas. A native of North Augusta, S.C., Charlie was honored as his state's pro athlete of the year in '78 by the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame.

Danny White • 11

QUARTERBACK-PUNTER • ARIZONA STATE • 4th YEAR
HT: 6-2 • WT: 192 • BORN: 2/9/52 • (D-3A FOR '74)

PRO: With two splendid performances late last season, Danny White put to rest the speculation about whether the Cowboys could survive without Roger Staubach. Against the Jets in the regular-season finale, White stepped in for Staubach, who was injured, and completed 15-of-24 passes for 156 yards in guiding the Cowboys to a 30-7 victory. Two weeks later in the divisional playoff against Atlanta the Cowboys appeared doomed when Staubach was knocked out at the end of the first half with the Cowboys trailing 20-13. But White came on in the second half to drive Dallas to a pair of touchdowns and a 27-20 victory. He connected on 10-of-20 passes for 127 yards, including a two-yard TD toss to Jackie Smith. "Danny White did not surprise us," Tom Landry said. "We expected him to do well and when he had a chance he proved he could. It helped the confidence of the team knowing Danny could step in and do the job." Following two years with Memphis of the World Football League, White joined the Cowboys in '76 and immediately became the regular punter as well as Staubach's understudy. As a rookie he threw two TD passes in a 31-21 victory over Chicago after Staubach left with a hand injury.

COLLEGE: White set seven NCAA passing records en route to leading ASU to 32 victories in 36 games. Also a fine runner, he finished second in the nation in total offense in '73.

PERSONAL: Danny works in the off-season for Henry S. Miller Real Estate of Dallas in investment marketing. Danny and his wife Jo Lynn live in Wylie, Texas, with their three children, Ryan (4/26/73), Geoffrey (1/4/76) and Heather (9/3/78).

Randy White • 54

DEFENSIVE TACKLE • MARYLAND • 5th YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 250 • BORN: 1/15/53 • (D-1A FOR '75)

PRO: Tom Landry is not a man prone to exaggeration. In fact if there is a way to understate something Tom Landry usually will find it. But listen to a few Landry comments on Randy White:

"The guy is phenomenal. He just doesn't have any bad games. They can slow him down a little but they can't stop him . . . He was the best player on our team week in and week out last year. He played super for us and really carried the load when Harvey Martin was hurt. Randy deserved all the recognition he received." In only his second season at right defensive tackle after two years as a backup linebacker, White was named first-team All-NFL by the Associated Press, Newspaper Enterprise Association, Pro Football Writers Association and College and Pro Football Weekly. He succeeded teammate Harvey Martin as the Seagram's Seven Crowns of Sport defensive lineman of the year and was voted NFC defensive player of the year by United Press International and the Kansas City Committee of 101. Although selected to the NFC Pro Bowl team for the second straight year, White was unable to play because of a broken thumb sustained in the NFC championship game. Says Charlie Waters, "He's the best football player I've ever seen. A coach's dream. All the accolades — strong, fast, determined, smart, a team player, a leader, a big-play guy. I get a lot of energy from him." Randy tied Harvey Martin last year for the team lead in quarterback traps with 16 and nearly led the team in solo tackles, an unheard of accomplishment for a defensive lineman, with 75, one less than Waters' club-leading 76. In 1977 White capped his first season at defensive tackle with an awesome performance in Super Bowl XII that earned him the game's co-MVP award with Harvey Martin. By far the Cowboys' strongest player, White has bench pressed as much as 475 pounds. As a rookie White was dubbed "Manster" (half man, half monster) by Charlie Waters.

COLLEGE: The Cowboys made White the second player selected in the '75 draft after he won the Outland Trophy and Vince Lombardi Award as college football's outstanding lineman in '74. He was a consensus All-America that year at defensive end.

PERSONAL: Randy and his wife Vicki had their first child, a daughter named Jordan Leigh, on May 6, 1979. In the off-season the Whites live on Randy's farm in Landenberg, Pa., near his hometown of Wilmington, Del. In addition to his football talent, Randy is skilled in dog obedience training.

Rayfield Wright • 70

TACKLE • FORT VALLEY STATE • 13th YEAR
 HT: 6-6 • WT: 260 • BORN: 8/23/45 • (D-7 FOR '67)

PRO: Before knee surgery put him out for most of the 1977 season, Rayfield Wright occupied a lofty position in the world of football. He was acknowledged as the NFL's premier offensive tackle and had four All-Pro seasons and six straight Pro Bowl appearances to support the claim. He played the '76 season on a bad knee and was forced to undergo surgery the following Aug. 1, missing all but the last two regular-season games in '77. A hamstring pull kept him at less than full speed for most of '78 training camp but by the sixth game of last season Rayfield had regained his starting right tackle position. The retirement of veteran All-Pro tackle Ralph Neely had left the offensive line short on experience and the return of Wright, the old pro, helped stabilize the young line. Tom Landry said Wright performed at about 75 percent of his former level, which made him as effective as most NFL tackles. Hoping to recover his earlier stature, Wright worked hard in the off-season on conditioning. "Rayfield Wright has made remarkable progress," strength coach Bob Ward said in June. "With a month of hard work, Rayfield will be back. He will be well over 75 percent this season." Known as "Big Cat," Wright moved between tight end, tackle and defensive end his first three years before settling at right tackle in '70. Along with Preston Pearson, Larry Cole, Cliff Harris, Charlie Waters, D. D. Lewis, Jethro Pugh and Marv Fleming, Wright has played in a record five Super Bowls. He's counting on a few more before he's through. "I don't want to be written off," he says. "I still have the desire to play, I like to play, I want to play."

COLLEGE: Rayfield played tight end and safety at Fort Valley State (Ga.). He earned All-Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference honors in football and basketball and ran a 50-flat 440 in track.

PERSONAL: Rayfield is active in Big Brothers and has supported the Boy Scouts of America since winning 21 Boy Scout merit badges as a youngster in Griffin, Ga. Rayfield has two children, LaRay Adrian (3/25/72) and Anitra Joyclyn (4/21/74).

Other Cowboys With NFL Experience

JOSEPH BRANSON, a 6-2, 190-pound strong safety out of Livingstone (N.C.) College, was drafted in the seventh round by Cincinnati in 1978. He also played linebacker at Livingstone and ran track.

WAYNE CAMPBELL, a 6-4, 275-pound tackle, made a bid with Oakland last year as a free agent after contributing to Florida A&M's unbeaten season in '77. His uncle is former San Diego Chargers tackle Ernie Wright.

RICHARD GRIMMETT was Seattle's ninth-round choice in '78 after a fine career at offensive tackle with Illinois. The 6-7, 270-pounder was selected to play in the first Challenge Bowl between all-stars from the Big Ten and Pac Eight.

ELI MARSHALL, a 6-0, 186-pound wide receiver, caught 65 passes for 1,196 yards (18.4 average) in four years at North Carolina State and was drafted in the sixth round last year by Tampa Bay.

BILL MILLER, a 6-6, 260-pound tackle who started for three years at Western Illinois, was Cincinnati's eighth-round choice in '78. He transferred to Western Illinois from Minnesota where he also played basketball.

AL PITTS, a guard-center prospect from Michigan State, was drafted in the sixth round by Cleveland in '78. The 6-5, 240-pounder made All-Big Ten as a senior when he was a team captain and played in the East-West and Senior Bowl. He played center for the Spartans.

THE ROOKIES

(1979 Draftees)

SHAW

MITCHELL

ROBERT SHAW • Center • Tennessee
Ht: 6-4 • Wt: 252 • Born: 10/15/56 • D-1

Robert Shaw was the first center ever to be named a first-round draft choice by the Cowboys and the first offensive lineman to be the team's No. 1 pick since guard John Niland in 1966. A three-year starter who co-captained the Vols as a senior, Shaw earned All-Southeastern Conference honors the last two years and started in both the East-West Shrine game and Senior Bowl. Tennessee Coach Johnny Majors called Shaw the best center in the country last year and the best he's ever seen in his coaching career.

"Shaw is definitely a first-round draft choice," Tom Landry said. "He is that type of football player. I don't think there's any gamble on him. He's a solid player, our scouts rated him well and he played in a competitive program at Tennessee. I think this helps us. It gives us a competitive situation in our offensive line, bringing in a player like Shaw. He'll make our other linemen better or he'll replace somebody."

Shaw impressed the Cowboys scouts with his strength, and especially his quickness in picking up linebackers. He has been a center since he began playing football in third grade, but Landry also plans to try him at guard.

AARON MITCHELL • Cornerback • Nevada-Las Vegas
Ht: 6-1 • Wt: 196 • Born: 12/15/56 • D-2

Because of his rare combination of speed and size for a cornerback, Aaron Mitchell was rated an exciting prospect by the Cowboys scouts. "It's one of the most difficult spots to pick and predict stardom but I think he has at least the starting points," said Landry. "He runs a 4.5 40 on grass, so he has the speed and he also has size and he's very aggressive. He was the last, in my opinion, of the cinch cornerbacks and we were delighted to get him."

Mitchell was somewhat overlooked in college because he did not play in a big-time football program. As a freshman he attended Morris Brown College in Atlanta where he was named to the All-Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference team. The next year he spent a semester at College of the Canyons Junior College in Valencia, Calif., before transferring to Nevada-Las Vegas.

Mitchell started two years at N-LV. In '77 he had two interceptions, a school-record 12 pass breakups and a blocked punt. His totals last year were six interceptions and nine pass breakups. "Most teams threw away from him last year," said N-LV Coach Tony Knap. "I think our other cornerback got more action than anyone in the country." Mitchell also played a few games at strong safety as a junior.

DOUG COSBIE • Tight End • Santa Clara
Ht: 6-6 • Wt: 230 • Born: 3/27/56 • D-3

A three-year starter who caught 120 passes for 1,721 yards and 10 touchdowns in his career, Doug Cosbie was ranked highly by Cowboys scouts as an all-around athlete. Because of his strong blocking ability, Coach Landry was thinking of trying Cosbie at tackle. "Going from tight end to tackle is a tough conversion to make, but Cosbie blocks well and is a very intelligent young man who is a pretty good athlete," Landry said.

Cosbie's best seasons as a pass catcher were his sophomore and junior years. He grabbed 34 passes for 444 yards and a touchdown in '76 followed by 31 catches for 517 yards and a TD the next year. Last season he had 29 receptions for 427 yards and three TDs. He had five touchdowns on 26 catches as a freshman.

RALPH DELOACH • Defensive End • California
Ht: 6-5 • Wt: 254 • Born: 1/13/57 • D-4

Ralph DeLoach capped an outstanding career at California with appearances in the East-West Shrine Game, Challenge Bowl and Japan Bowl. In the Shrine game he returned a fumble 17 yards for a touchdown. "He's a big, fast defensive lineman," said Cowboys scout Red Hickey. "We had him rated way above average as an athlete. He's very active and very quick and fits the Cowboys' mold of a defensive lineman in size factors and athletic ability. He could play defensive tackle in addition to end."

As a junior DeLoach earned All-Pac 8 and All-West Coast honors. Last year he was named to the All-America team of the national strength coaches organization. He shared the team lead in quarterback sacks with six and tackles for losses with 12 in '78.

BOB HUKILL • Tackle • North Carolina
Ht: 6-5 • Wt: 250 • Born: 8/17/57 • D-5a

Bob Hukill helped clear the way for a 1,000-yard rusher in each of his three seasons as a starter at North Carolina. Although he played mostly at right tackle, Hukill was able to fill in at center and snap for placements for a few games last year because of his athletic ability. UNC Coach Dick Crum called him one of the most intelligent players on the team.

Hukill helped lead North Carolina to the Atlantic Coast Conference championship and a spot in the Liberty Bowl in '77. He also played in the '76 Peach Bowl and capped his career with an appearance in the Canadian-American Bowl all-star game.

CURTIS ANDERSON • Defensive End • Central State (Ohio)
Ht: 6-6 • Wt: 240 • Born: 5/16/57 • D-5b

Regarded as one of the finest athletes in Central State history, Curtis Anderson was a Mutual Black Radio and NAIA Division I All-America in '78. A four-year starter who earned NAIA All-District 22 honors his last three years, Anderson reached opposing quarterbacks 12 times in 10 games as a junior and seven times in nine games last year. Anderson played tackle occasionally in a five-man defensive line at Central that somewhat hampered his natural pass-rushing style. His great speed enabled him to play linebacker in the Mutual Black Sports All-Star game in the Superdome last January.

RON SPRINGS • Running Back • Ohio State
Ht: 6-0 • Wt: 197 • Born: 11/4/56 • D-5c

An outside runner with fine speed and pass catching ability, Ron Springs led Ohio State in rushing and receiving as a junior, picking up 1,166 yards in 200 carries (5.8 average) on the ground and catching 16 passes for another 90 yards. He had runs of 72 yards against Northwestern and 66 yards against Purdue. Last season Springs gained only 585 yards (4.7 average) rushing because of injuries and the Buckeyes' increased use of the pass. One of the most highly recruited junior college players in the nation after rushing for 1,800 yards and 25 touchdowns at Coffeyville, Kans., J. C., Springs was personally recruited by Woody Hayes. His teammates elected Springs a co-captain in '78.

TIM LAVENDER • Cornerback • Southern California
Ht: 6-3 • Wt: 187 • Born: 1/5/56 • D-6a

Tim Lavender intercepted three passes, broke up six others and made 36 tackles for Southern Cal last year. He also intercepted a pass in the Trojans' Rose Bowl victory over Michigan. Lavender started most of the '78 season despite two sprained ankles suffered late in the year. He was redshirted in '76 after transferring from San Diego City College. Tall, lean and swift, Lavender was noted in college for wearing black high-top football shoes. He is the brother of Washington Redskins defensive back Joe Lavender.

MIKE SALZANO • Guard • North Carolina
Ht: 6-3 • Wt: 242 • Born: 6/14/57 • D-6b

After breaking into the starting lineup midway through his freshman season, Mike Salzano helped guide North Carolina to an ACC championship and two bowl appearances. His last two years he was named to the All-ACC team and was voted by the Tar Heels coaching staff as the team's outstanding offensive lineman. Salzano and Bob Hukill, the Cowboys' No. 5a draft pick, were college roommates for four years and played next to each other on the right side of the offensive line for three years. Mike was a North Carolina high school shot put champion and holds the UNC shot put record of 58-5½.

CHRIS DEFRANCE • Wide Receiver • Arizona State
Ht: 6-1 • Wt: 205 • Born: 9/13/57 • D-6c

After missing '78 spring practice with a broken foot, Chris DeFrance came back to have an outstanding senior season for Arizona State, leading the club in receiving with 31 catches for 617 yards and five touchdowns. Known as a big-game performer, DeFrance hauled in a 53-yard touchdown strike in the '78 Garden State Bowl and caught four passes for 45 yards in the East-West Shrine Game. He totaled 144 yards on seven receptions in the '77 Fiesta Bowl versus Penn State.

As a junior he led the Sun Devils with a 26.5 yard average on 11 catches.

GREG FITZPATRICK • Linebacker • Youngstown State
Ht: 6-2 • Wt: 227 • Born: 3/29/57 • D-7

The Mid Continent Conference defensive player of the year in '78, Greg Fitzpatrick contributed greatly to Youngstown State's 10-2 record and conference championship with his sure tackling. A hard-hitting inside linebacker who also excelled on special teams, Fitzpatrick led his team in '78 with 60 solo tackles. He also intercepted three passes and registered eight tackles for losses. In four years as a starter, Fitzpatrick totaled an impressive 445 tackles, six interceptions, two fumble recoveries and 34 tackles for losses.

BRUCE THORNTON • Defensive Tackle • Illinois
Ht: 6-5 • Wt: 266 • Born: 2/14/58 • D-8

Bruce Thornton led the Big Ten in quarterback sacks in '77 with 10 and his 32 career sacks place him fifth on Illinois' all-time list. A four-year starter, Thornton was a two-time Academic All-Big 10 and second team Academic All-America. He also is an accomplished saxophonist who turned down music scholarships for a football career. He participated in the Japan Bowl last season.

GARRY COBB • Linebacker • Southern Cal
Ht: 6-2 • Wt: 209 • Born: 3/16/57 • D-9

Valued by Southern Cal for his intelligence and leadership, Garry Cobb provided the Trojans with versatility as he moved between the inside and outside linebacking spots. He was the second leading tackler on the team as a junior. Southern Cal Coach John Robinson called Cobb "one of the most consistent and intelligent players on the team. He provided valuable leadership to a young defense."

MIKE CALHOUN • Defensive Tackle • Notre Dame
Ht: 6-4 • Wt: 228 • Born: 5/6/57 • D-10

Mike Calhoun started the last three seasons for Notre Dame and helped lead the Irish to the 1977 national championship. Last year he opened the season by making 17 tackles against Missouri. He was recognized in '78 as the team's best defensive lineman. Calhoun turned in outstanding performances in the last two Cotton Bowls when Notre Dame beat Texas and Houston. He finished third on the team in tackles last year with 99, including eight for losses.

QUENTIN LOWRY • Linebacker • Youngstown State
Ht: 6-2 • Wt: 225 • Born: 11/11/57 • D-12

A stand-up defensive end with pass coverage responsibilities at Youngstown, Quentin Lowry was tabbed as an outside linebacker prospect by the Cowboys. Named the Mid Continent Conference defensive lineman of the year in '78, Lowry teamed with Greg Fitzpatrick, who was drafted by the Cowboys on the seventh round, to spark Youngstown to the conference title. A four-year starter, Lowry last season accounted for 94 tackles, including 21 for losses, and recovered five fumbles.

Divisional Playoff

DALLAS, Dec. 30 — Taking over for injured Roger Staubach, who suffered a concussion late in the first half, backup quarterback Danny White coolly directed the Cowboys to a pair of second-half touchdowns that overcame stubborn Atlanta.

A 14-point underdog, the Falcons led 20-13 when linebacker Robert Pennywell put Staubach out with two minutes left in the first half.

On the Cowboys' second possession of the second half, White drove Dallas 54 yards in seven plays, passing two yards to tight end Jackie Smith for the tying score. White kept the drive going with a key 24-yard pass to Billy Joe DuPree to the Atlanta 17.

A 10-yard punt by Atlanta's John James set up the Cowboys at the Falcons 30 early in the fourth quarter. It took White just six plays, with Scott Laidlaw scoring from the one, to send Dallas ahead 27-20.

In addition to his second-half quarterbacking, White ran for a first down from punt formation in the first quarter to set up the Cowboys' first touchdown.

NFC Championship Game

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 7 — All-Pro safety Charlie Waters keyed a superb defensive effort which forced seven Rams turnovers and sent the Cowboys to a record fifth Super Bowl.

Waters intercepted two passes, both leading to touchdowns, and also recovered a fumble.

His first interception and 20-yard return preceded Tony Dorsett's five-yard scoring run in the third quarter, breaking a scoreless defensive struggle.

Two series later the Dallas defense, led by Randy White, Larry Bethea and Aaron Kyle, stopped Jim Jodat for no gain on a fourth-and-one at the Dallas 14.

Following Waters' second interception, Roger Staubach hit Scott Laidlaw with a four-yard TD pass to give the Cowboys a 14-0 lead early in the fourth quarter.

After Harvey Martin recovered a Cullen Bryant fumble at the Dallas 10, Dorsett ran 53 yards around left end and six plays later Billy Joe DuPree caught an 11-yard scoring toss from Staubach.

Thomas Henderson closed out the scoring with a 68-yard interception return with 90 seconds to play.

Super Bowl XIII

MIAMI, Jan. 21 — A late rally by the Cowboys fell short after Terry Bradshaw's four touchdown passes gave Pittsburgh a big lead in one of the most exciting Super Bowls ever played.

Trailing 35-17 with less than seven minutes remaining, Roger Staubach drove the Cowboys to a pair of touchdowns but Rafael Septien's on-sides kick was recovered by Pittsburgh's Rocky Bleier with 22 seconds left, ending the Cowboys' reign as Super Bowl champions.

Dallas had taken a 14-7 lead in the second quarter on two of the numerous big plays that highlighted Super Bowl XIII. Near the end of the first quarter Tony Hill turned a short pass from Staubach into a 39-yard touchdown and a few minutes later Mike Hegman, with the help of Thomas Henderson, stole the ball from Bradshaw and raced 37 yards for a go-ahead touchdown.

But Bradshaw rallied the Steelers to a 21-14 lead by halftime and two plays in the second half sealed the Cowboys' fate.

The first occurred when the Cowboys' Jackie Smith dropped a sure touchdown pass in the end zone that would have tied the score 21-21. The second was the controversial interference call against cornerback Benny Barnes that set up a Pittsburgh touchdown early in the fourth quarter.

Historical Highlights

NFL FRANCHISE — Clint Murchison, Jr., and Bedford Wynne were awarded an expansion franchise in the NFL at the annual league meeting in Miami Beach, Fla. The Cowboys were to play as a "swing" team, playing every other team one time during the first season, although listed in the Western Conference standings (January 28).

COWBOYS STOCKED — A player pool was set up in a league meeting at L.A., with each of 12 NFL teams freezing 25 names on its roster and the Cowboys allowed to pick three from each team for a total of 36 veterans. Dallas, once given the list, had to select its 36 players within 24 hours (March 13).

TRAINING STARTS — Rookies report to first Cowboys camp at Pacific U., in Forest Grove, Oregon (July 9).

FIRST PRE-SEASON GAME — The Cowboys, less than six months in existence, get their first test and drop a 10-16 pre-season game to San Francisco in Seattle (August 6).

FIRST HOME GAME — In their Dallas debut, in the Salesmanship Club pre-season game, the Cowboys led the World Champion Baltimore Colts into the final minute before a 62-yard pass from Johnny Unitas to Lenny Moore gave the Colts a 14-10 victory (August 19).

FIRST VICTORY — In a pre-season game at Louisville, Ky., the Cowboys beat New York's Giants, 14-3, with Frank Clarke catching touchdown passes of 73 yards (Eddie LeBaron) and 74 yards (Don Meredith) (August 27).

FIRST LEAGUE GAME — In their first league game, Dallas fell to Pittsburgh, 35-28, with Bobby Layne leading a fourth period Steeler rally (Sept. 24, Saturday night).

STREAK SNAPPED — Dallas snaps a 10-game loss streak by tying New York, 31-31, at Yankee Stadium (Dec. 4).

TRAINING STARTS — Rookies launch training at new campsite — St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn. (July 9).

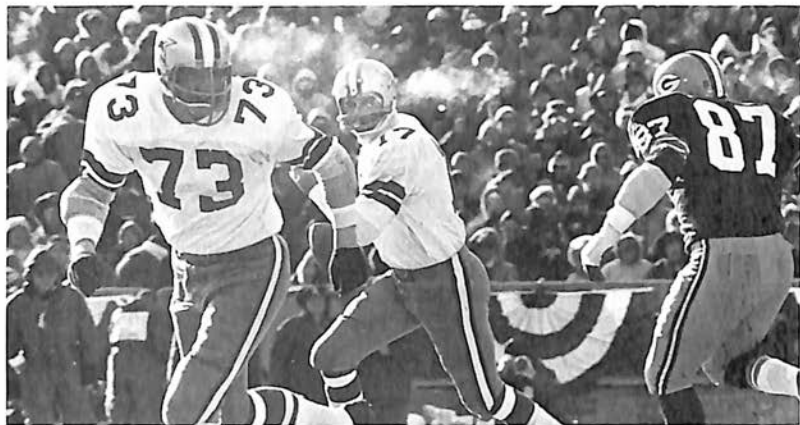

FIRST LEAGUE WIN — Scoring ten points in the final 56 seconds, the Cowboys score their first NFL victory, 27-24, over Pittsburgh in the '61 league opener in the Cotton Bowl. Allen Green's 27-yard field goal on the game's final play won it before 23,500 (Sept. 17).

1962

TRAINING STARTS — Team begins training at new campsite — Northern Michigan College in Marquette, Mich. (July 13).

PENALTY HISTORY — For the first time in anyone's memory in an NFL game, points were awarded for a penalty. The Cowboys were detected holding in the end zone on a 99-TD pass from LeBaron to Clarke, and Pittsburgh was awarded a safety. The Steelers eventually won, 30-28 (Sept. 23).

100-YARD FIRSTS — Cowboys Amos Marsh returned a kickoff 101 yards and Mike Gaechter returned a pass interception 100 yards, both plays for fourth quarter TD's in a 41-19 win over Philadelphia in Dallas. It was the first time in NFL history that two 100-yard runs had been made in the same game, much less by the same team in the same quarter (Oct. 14).

"The Ice Bowl" — Ralph Neely blocks for Don Meredith in 1967 NFL Championship at Green Bay.

1963

SHIFT TO KANSAS CITY — The rival Dallas Texans of the AFL announce they are moving the franchise to Kansas City (Feb. 8).

CALIFORNIA TRAINING SITE — The Cowboys open training at California Lutheran College in Thousand Oaks, Calif. (July 12).

HOWTON SETS RECORD — Bill Howton broke Don Hutson's all-time receiving mark with a 14-yard catch against Washington (there). Hutson's record was 7,991 yards and the catch gave Howton an even 8,000 yards (Sept. 29).

1964

LANDRY CONTRACT — With one year to go on his original contract, Tom Landry is signed to a ten-year extension, in effect giving him an 11-year pact, possibly the longest in major pro sports history (Feb. 5).

1965

FIRST SELLOUT — An overflow crowd of 76,251 jams the Cotton Bowl for the Cleveland game, notching the team's first home sellout. Cleveland won, 24-17 (Nov. 21).

1966

PLAYOFF BOWL — After defeating New York, 38-20, in the season finale (and winning five of their last seven games) to get into the Playoff Bowl at Miami, the Cowboys fall to Baltimore, 35-3 (Jan. 15).

MERGER — Peace comes to pro football with Cowboys GM Tex Schramm completing two months of negotiations with AFL's Lamar Hunt, merging the two leagues under the NFL banner (June 8).

SCHRAMM ELEVATED — Texas E. Schramm, Vice-President and General Manager of the Cowboys from the beginning, was named President of the club by owner Clint Murchison, Jr., who retained the title of Chairman of the Board.

NEELY CASE SOLVED — Dallas and Houston reached agreement in the Ralph Neely case. Neely remained with Dallas with Houston receiving the Cowboys Nos. 1, 2 and two fifth place picks in the 1967 draft (Nov. 17).

THE CHAMPIONSHIP — The Cowboys won their first championship, capturing the Eastern Conference title with a 10-3-1 record, but lost the NFL Championship Game to Green Bay, 34-27.

TEXAS STADIUM — On Dec. 23, owner Clint Murchison, Jr., formally announced plans to build Texas Stadium in suburban Irving. The stadium, to be financed through a bond-option plan, would be ready for the 1970 season. The stadium would seat a minimum of 58,000.

SECOND CHAMPIONSHIP — Under the NFL's new format, the Cowboys easily won the Capitol Division and defeated Cleveland, Century Division winner, 52-14, in the Cotton Bowl for the Eastern conference championship. However, on Dec. 31 in Green Bay, the Cowboys lost their second bid for an NFL title, falling to the Packers, 21-17, in the 13 degree below weather.

1968

WIN CAPITOL — For the second straight year the Cowboys won the Capitol Division, but for the first time in three years the Cowboys did not win the Eastern Championship, being upset at Cleveland, 31-20, on December 21st. Dallas won the Runner-Up Bowl over Minnesota, 17-13.

1969

TEXAS STADIUM — Ground was broken for Texas Stadium in suburban Irving on January 25, and on June 29 Bert Rose was named general manager of the stadium.

ORIGINALS RETIRE — An era ended for the Cowboys in July. On July 5th at a press conference in Dallas, quarterback Don Meredith, the last of the original Cowboys, announced his retirement. Then, on July 18th, the day the veterans were to report to training camp, all-time rushing great Don Perkins officially retired.

REPEAT CAPITOL WINS — Once again the Cowboys rolled to the Capitol Division Championship with an 11-2-1 season. However, the Cowboys failed to win the Eastern Championship when on Dec. 28, the Cowboys lost to Cleveland, 38-14, in the Cotton Bowl.

FIVE STRAIGHT PLAYOFFS — The Cowboys won their last five games to finish 10-4, claim the Eastern Division championship and make the playoffs for the fifth year in a row. They defeated Detroit, 5-0, in the opening round to get a shot at the National Conference championship.

FIRST NFC TITLE — The Cowboys captured the biggest prize of their 11-year history on Jan. 3 when they downed San Francisco, 17-10, for the NFC crown. A 16-13 loss to Baltimore in the Super Bowl Jan. 17 left Dallas with one major goal still unrealized.

1971

TEXAS STADIUM — The Cowboys opened a new era in their sparkling Irving, Tex., home with a 44-21 victory over the New England Patriots on October 24. Duane Thomas scored the first touchdown in the new stadium, a 56-yard run just two minutes and 16 seconds after the opening kickoff. Attendance was 65,708.

SIX STRAIGHT PLAYOFFS — The Cowboys won their last seven games to finish 11-3, claim the Eastern Division championship and make the playoffs for the sixth year in a row. They defeated Minnesota, 20-12, in the opening round.

SECOND NFC TITLE — For the second consecutive year, the Cowboys met the San Francisco 49ers in the National Conference showdown. This time Dallas won, 14-3, to qualify for its second straight Super Bowl.

FIRST WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP — The Cowboys downed the Miami Dolphins, 24-3, to win Super Bowl VI in New Orleans on Jan. 16. It was the 10th victory in a row for Dallas as Roger Staubach passed for two touchdowns and was named the game's Most Valuable Player.

FIRST 1,000-YARD BACK — Calvin Hill became the first Dallas player to rush for 1,000 yards when he gained 111 on Dec. 9 against the Washington Redskins in Texas Stadium. Hill wound up with 1,036 yards for the season on a record 245 carries.

SEVEN STRAIGHT PLAYOFFS — The Cowboys qualified for the NFL playoffs a record seventh consecutive year, their 10-4 record earning them the National Conference Wild Card berth. Roger Staubach passed for two touchdowns in the last 1½ minutes to give the Cowboys a 30-28 victory at San Francisco in the first round. Then, at Washington on New Year's Eve, Dallas was foiled in its bid for a third straight NFL title when the Redskins won, 26-3.

100 VICTORIES — The Cowboys and Coach Tom Landry recorded their 100th victory with a 40-3 Texas Stadium win over the New Orleans Saints on Sept. 24. Landry, the only head coach the Cowboys have had, ended the season with a career mark of 108-80-6 to rank ninth on the list of the NFL's all-time winningest coaches.

EIGHT STRAIGHT PLAYOFFS — The Cowboys regained the NFC Eastern Division title with a 10-4 record and broke their own NFL record by reaching the playoffs for the eighth year in a row. Dallas defeated Western Division champion Los Angeles in the first round, 27-16, but fell to Central Division winner Minnesota in the NFC Championship Game, 27-10.

1974

FIRST TOP DRAFT CHOICE — For the first time in their history, the Cowboys had the very first choice in the NFL college draft. The No. 1 pick came to Dallas from Houston in exchange for Tody Smith and Billy Parks. The Cowboys selected Ed "Too Tall" Jones, a 6-9, 260-pound defensive end from Tennessee State.

PLAYOFFS MISSED — The Cowboys' record-breaking string of eight straight years in the NFL playoffs was broken when the club's 8-6 record failed to qualify.

1975

LILLY HONORED — "Mr. Cowboy" was honored on Bob Lilly Day at Texas Stadium at halftime of the Philadelphia game on Nov. 23. It was the first such recognition ever given to a Dallas player. Lilly never missed a game in 14 years with the Cowboys, earning All-Pro honors seven times at defensive tackle before retiring prior to the '75 season.

TEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — The Cowboys' 10-4 record earned them the NFC Wild Card berth in the playoffs. The composite record over 10 straight winning seasons was 101-37-2.

THIRD NFC TITLE — After shocking Minnesota in the first round, 17-14 on Roger Staubach's 50-yard "Hail Mary" pass to Drew Pearson, the Cowboys traveled to Los Angeles for the NFC showdown. Staubach threw four touchdown passes, three to Preston Pearson, and Dallas won, 37-7. Pittsburgh won Super Bowl X on Jan. 18 in Miami, 21-17.

1976

ELEVEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — The Cowboys won the NFC Eastern Division title with their 11-3 record, giving them their 11th straight winning season and 10th playoff berth in that period. A 14-12 first round loss to Los Angeles — the first time Dallas had lost in the first round under the current playoff setup — ended the season.

MEREDITH, PERKINS HONORED — Former Cowboys greats Don Meredith and Don Perkins joined Bob Lilly in the "Ring of Honor" at Texas Stadium during halftime ceremonies at the New York Giants game on Nov. 7.

HOWLEY HONORED — Former All-Pro linebacker Chuck Howley, a Cowboy from 1961 through 1973, became the fourth member of the Ring of Honor. Howley was honored during ceremonies at halftime of the Detroit Lions game on Oct. 30.

TWELVE STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — Getting off to an 8-0 start, their best ever, the Cowboys rolled to a 12-2 record, the championship of the NFC East, and their 12th consecutive winning season. They opened their 11th visit to the playoffs in those 12 years with a 37-7 first-round victory over the Chicago Bears at Texas Stadium.

FOURTH NFC TITLE — Dallas crushed the Minnesota Vikings at Texas Stadium, 23-6, for National Conference crown No. 4 and the right to meet the Denver Broncos in Super Bowl XII.

SECOND WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP — The Cowboys stopped the Denver Broncos, 27-10, to win Super Bowl XII in New Orleans on January 15, 1978. In the process, Dallas tied Minnesota for most Super Bowl appearances (four) and Green Bay, Miami and Pittsburgh for most Super Bowl victories (two). Defensive linemen Harvey Martin and Randy White were named co-Most Valuable Players in the game.

THIRTEEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — After a mediocre 6-4 start, the Cowboys won six straight games to finish the expanded regular season with a 12-4 record and their 10th Division crown. It marked the Cowboys' 13th consecutive winning season and 12th trip to the playoffs in that span. Dallas rallied to beat Atlanta 27-20 in a divisional playoff at Texas Stadium, sending the Cowboys to their seventh NFC championship game in the last nine years.

FIFTH NFC TITLE — Dallas shut out the Rams in Los Angeles 28-0 in the National Conference title game to advance to the Super Bowl a record fifth time, including three of the last four. In the first Super Bowl rematch, Pittsburgh edged the Cowboys 35-31 for the NFL championship on Jan. 21 in Miami's Orange Bowl.

COLLEGE ALL-STAR GAME

The NFL champions led this series 33-9 when the game was discontinued following the 1976 season.

A black and white photograph of a cheerleader, Suzette Russell, standing on a sideline. She is wearing a white vest with two black stars on the front, over a dark long-sleeved top, and a white skirt with a black star on the side. She is holding a large, fluffy white pom-pom. In the background, another cheerleader is visible, wearing a dark top with a white star and a white skirt with a dark star. The background is slightly out of focus.

Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders

Although the Cowboys have always had sideline cheerleaders, the phenomenon as it is today really didn't begin its rise until four years ago.

The Cowboys saw the opportunity to develop a new form of entertainment for football fans and a decision was made to increase the size of the cheerleading squad by holding open auditions in the spring of 1976. About 250 young women came to Texas Stadium that year. The number of applicants has increased significantly over the past four years, reaching 1,617 in 1979.

On Sept. 4, 1978 the Cheerleaders hosted their own one-hour special on ABC entitled, "The 36 Most Beautiful Girls in Texas." A two-hour made-for-TV movie about the Cheerleaders was filmed in November on location in Dallas and aired Jan. 14, 1979. Taking a 48 percent share of the audience, it was the second most watched made-for-TV movie in history.

A 10-day tour of Japan was completed in December, 1978. Millions of Japanese saw the Cheerleaders in theaters, parades, on national TV shows and at the Mirage Bowl football game.

The Cowboys Band

The 32-member Dallas Cowboys Band, a brass arrangement featuring a variety of musical sounds from country and western to rock 'n roll, again will be a central entertainment ingredient during Cowboys games at Texas Stadium in 1979. Under the direction of Bill Lively, an associate dean of the Meadows School of the Arts at Southern Methodist University, the Cowboys Band includes 29 male members and three women and is a vital part of all Texas Stadium pre-game, halftime and post-game activities.

Cowboys on Radio

The Cowboys again in 1979 will have the largest radio network in the National Football League as Mutual Broadcasting System begins its first season of broadcasting Cowboys games around the U. S. With KRLD Radio of Dallas serving as the flagship station, Mutual's Dallas Cowboys Network will be carried over 225 stations in 14 states. Play-by-play broadcasters Verne Lundquist and Frank Glibber will be joined by color man Brad Sham for the broadcasts. In addition, Mutual will carry all Cowboys games in Spanish on 16 stations in seven states via the Dallas Cowboys Spanish Radio Network with broadcasters Armando Quintero and Mario Montez.
