THE MANAGEMENT

MURCHISON

SCHRAMM

BRANDT

To many close observers, the Dallas Cowboys' consistency on the football field has been a reflection of the club's stability in the front office.

The Cowboys embarked on their third decade and 21st season in 1980 with the same front office lineup and head coach that started with the team in 1960 — Chairman of the Board Clint W. Murchison Jr., President and General Manager Tex Schramm, Vice President for Personnel Development Gil Brandt and Coach Tom Landry.

The Cowboys' management has steered the club through 14 straight winning seasons, 13 trips to the playoffs, five Super Bowl appearances and two world championships.

Schramm oversees the day-to-day operation of the team. In 1966 he was named president of the Cowboys, but also has retained his position as general manager.

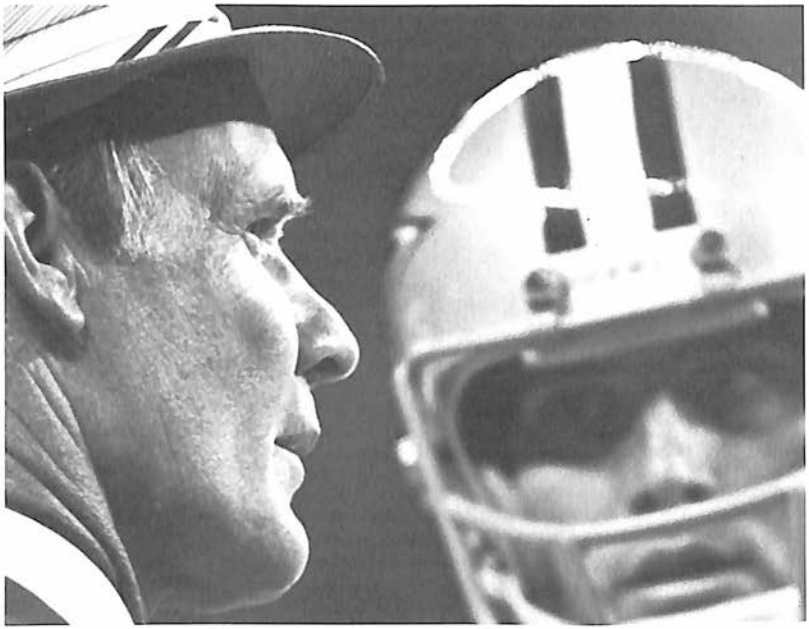

A journalism graduate of the University of Texas, Schramm joined the Los Angeles Rams as publicity director in 1947 after two years as a sports writer and sports editor of the Austin American-Statesman. In a 10-year career with the Rams he rose from publicity director, to assistant to the president, to general manager.

Schramm left the Rams in 1957 to join CBS as assistant director of sports. He put together the first network telecast of the Olympics, but following those Winter Games of 1960 in Squaw Valley, Calif., Schramm returned to pro football when he was hired by Clint Murchison to run the new Dallas NFL franchise.

In the spring of 1977 Schramm received an honorary degree (Doctor of Humane Letters) from California Lutheran College. At the end of that season, after the Cowboys won the Super Bowl, Schramm was named NFL Executive of the Year by the Sporting News and in 1978 he received the Bert Bell Award for outstanding executive leadership in the NFL.

Brandt directs the Cowboys' scouting operation and supervises the signing of all players. A native of Milwaukee and graduate of the University of Wisconsin, Brandt was a baby photographer and part-time scout for the Rams under Schramm when his flair for discovering talent led to his being hired by the Cowboys.

THE COACH

People forever are seeking clues to the "real" Tom Landry. For 20 years football fans have seen him pacing the sidelines, fiercely concentrating, face expressionless, and they want to know what lies beneath the stoic facade of this fabulously successful coach. They want to know what moves the man under the snap-brim felt hat.

"The biggest misconception about me is that I'm unemotional," Landry says. "I'm not a cheerleader, but I do feel the excitement. You see, concentration is the most important part of my job on the football field. If you're going to do something constructive in a game from a coaching standpoint, you must be completely engrossed in what's going on, not in the emotions of the game. Leadership is a matter of having people look at you and gain confidence, seeing how you react. If you're in control, they're in control."

Being in control of a situation is something you can count on from Tom Landry.

Starting as a rookie head coach with an expansion team in 1960, Landry and the Cowboys suffered through five straight losing seasons before finishing 7-7 in 1965. The club's record through the first six years was a dismal 25-53-4.

But Landry believed in his system and the Cowboys believed in Landry. They turned out to be beliefs well taken.

Beginning with a 10-3-1 mark in 1966, the Cowboys' ledger reads 147-51-2, including the NFL's best record of the 1970s (105-39-0, 119-46-0 including playoffs). Since 1966 Landry has guided the Cowboys through 14 straight winning seasons, including 13 trips to the playoffs, 11 division championships and a record five Super Bowl appearances. The Cowboys won world championships in Super Bowls VI and XII.

The dean of NFL coaches in his 21st season, Landry ranked fourth on the list of the league's all-time winningest coaches with a 172-104-6 regular-season record after the '79 season. He trailed only George Halas (320 victories), Curly Lambeau (231) and Don Shula (175 prior to 1980).

After winning the NFC championship in 1975, '77 and '78 to appear in Super Bowls X, XII and XIII, the Cowboys last year won the NFC Eastern Division for the fourth straight season with an 11-5 record, but were upset by Los Angeles in the first round of the playoffs. Yet Landry quickly forgot the defeat and eagerly began his third decade as Cowboys head coach.

"I love the challenge of rebuilding more than anything else," he says. "It would have been nice to win the Super Bowl again because that would have capped nearly a decade of great football for us. It just means we'll have to work that much harder next year."

Recognized as one of football's great technical innovators, Landry also has become an inspirational leader for many because of his principles and achievements.

"I regret my true feelings about Tom Landry never became a matter of public record," says Bob Lilly, the former All-Pro defensive tackle who in 1980 became the first Cowboys-only player to be elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame. "But he's one of the finest men I've ever come in contact with and I can honestly say he's had more of a positive influence on my life than anybody."

And from Charlie Waters, a 10-year Cowboys veteran: "No matter what happens, he's always in control. You don't know how much that means to us. You're just glad he's on your side."

Tom was born in Mission, Texas, on Sept. 11, 1924. He was an All-Regional fullback at Mission High School before enrolling at the University of Texas. Following one semester, he joined the Air Corps and flew 30 B-17 missions with the Eighth Air Force in World War II.

In November 1945 he was discharged as a First Lieutenant and returned to Texas where he became a star fullback and defensive back, earning All-Southwest Conference honors as a junior and co-captaining the Longhorns as a senior. With Landry's help, Texas beat Alabama in the 1948 Sugar Bowl and Georgia in the 1949 Orange Bowl.

Landry played for the New York Yankees of the All-America Conference in 1949 before joining the NFL's New York Giants the next year. He was a mainstay in the Giants' defensive backfield through 1955, the last two years as a player-coach. He earned All-Pro honors in 1954.

Retiring as a player following the 1955 season, Tom was the Giants' defensive coach through 1959. Giants head coach Jim Lee Howell called him "the best defensive coach in the business."

Coach Landry and wife Alicia, whom he met at Texas, have three children — Tom, Jr., an attorney and oilman; Kitty and Lisa. Lisa presented Tom with his first grandchild — Ryan Edward Phillips — on June 26, 1980.

Tom devotes much of his spare time to the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and serves on the Board of Trustees of the National FCA. He received the 1980 Vince Lombardi Dedication Award from the Wisconsin Chapter of the Pro Football Writers Association. Also in 1980, California Lutheran College, site of the Cowboys' training camp, established the Landry Medal, to be awarded annually to a person who has distinguished himself in his chosen profession and serves as an inspiration to American youth.

Landry, who earned a degree in business at Texas and one in industrial engineering from the University of Houston, holds honorary degrees from California Lutheran College (Doctor of Humane Letters), John Brown University (Doctor of Humanities), Southwest Baptist College (Doctor of Laws) and Indiana Central University (Doctor of Laws). In 1978 he was inducted into the Texas Sports Hall of Fame.

THE COACHING STAFF

Jim Myers

Assistant Head Coach • Offensive Line

Jim Myers has the longest tenure on the Cowboys' assistant coaching staff, 19 years. He joined the Cowboys in 1962 as offensive line coach following head coaching jobs at Iowa State and Texas A&M.

Jim has continued to handle the offensive line since Tom Landry turned over some of his responsibilities to his long-time aide three years ago, naming Myers to the newly created position of assistant head coach. Under his guidance, the Cowboys have produced All-Pro linemen such as Ralph Neely, John Niland, Rayfield Wright and Blaine Nye. Last year tackle Pat Donovan and guard Herbert Scott were named to the Pro Bowl.

A native of Madison, W. Va. (11/12/21), Myers was an outstanding lineman at the University of Tennessee in 1941-42 and at Duke in the Marine Corps V-12 program in 1943.

Before becoming a head coach, Myers served as an assistant at Wofford College, Vanderbilt and UCLA. In 1978 he received the Distinguished American Award from the East Tennessee Chapter of the National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame.

Jim serves on the Board of Directors of the Dallas chapters of the Boys Club of America, Fellowship of Christian Athletes and Southwest Allied Youth.

Jim and wife Carolyn have three daughters — Susan, Kathy and Carol — and seven grandchildren.

Ermal Allen

Research and Development

Ermal Allen, in his 19th season with the Cowboys, is in charge of studying and evaluating all players and teams in the NFL.

A quarterback at the University of Kentucky from 1939-41 and a member of the Fort Benning and Army All-Star teams during World War II, Allen played one season at defensive back with the Cleveland Browns in the All-America Conference in 1947.

Returning to Kentucky in 1948, Ermal was an assistant coach for 14 years under Paul "Bear" Bryant ('48-'53) and Blanton Collier ('54-'61).

Ermal, who was born Christmas Day, 1920, is a scratch golfer who twice won the Kentucky Amateur championship, beating Bobby Nichols in 1955 and Frank Beard in '58.

Ermal and wife Allie have three children — Ken, Ann and Amy — and six grandchildren.

Mike Ditka

Special Teams • Tight Ends

Following a career in which he became recognized as the prototype of an NFL tight end, Mike Ditka joined the Cowboys coaching staff in 1973. In addition to handling the special teams, he has coached Pro Bowl performers at each receiver position — wide receivers Drew Pearson and Tony Hill plus tight end Billy Joe DuPree.

A four-time All-Pro tight end with the Chicago Bears, Ditka played his last four years with the Cowboys, including appearances in Super Bowls V and VI. Mike scored the final touchdown in Super Bowl VI, the Cowboys' first world championship, on a pass from Roger Staubach.

A native of Aliquippa, Pa. (10/18/39), Mike was a consensus All-America at the University of Pittsburgh and the Bears' No. 1 draft choice in 1961. In his 12-year NFL career, Ditka caught 427 passes for 5,913 yards and 43 touchdowns. He also played for the Philadelphia Eagles.

Mike has four children — Michael, Mark, Megan and Matt. His wife's name is Diana.

Al Lavan

Running Backs

The newest member of the Cowboys staff is Al Lavan, who joined the club in March after eight years of assistant coaching experience in the college and pro ranks.

Lavan coached running backs at Stanford last season after two years at Georgia Tech in which he handled receivers in '77 and running backs in '78. He directed defensive backs and special teams for the Atlanta Falcons in '75 and '76. Lavan also coached at Iowa State in '74, Louisville in '73 and Colorado State in '72.

A native of Pierce, Fla. (9/13/46), Lavan was a defensive back and place kicker at Colorado State and was drafted in the eighth round by Philadelphia in 1968. He played defensive back for the Eagles in '68, then for Atlanta in '69 and '70.

Al and wife Bessie have three children — Travis, Douglas and Maeleeke.

Dan Reeves

Offensive Coordinator • Quarterbacks • Wide Receivers

Under the direction of Dan Reeves, the Cowboys have fielded one of the NFL's top offensive teams the past three seasons.

After two years as a player-coach, Dan became the club's offensive backfield coach in 1972. He spent the '73 season in private business before rejoining the Cowboys staff in '74. He added the duties of offensive coordinator in '77.

A running back for eight seasons (1965-72) with Dallas, Reeves finished his career as the Cowboys' fifth all-time leading rusher despite a series of knee injuries. He rushed for 1,990 yards and 25 touchdowns and caught 129 passes for 1,693 yards and 17 touchdowns.

A quarterback at the University of South Carolina, Reeves was a feared option passing halfback as a pro. He was inducted into the University of South Carolina's Hall of Fame three years ago.

A native of Americus, Ga. (1/19/44), Reeves signed with the Cowboys as a free agent in 1965.

Dan and wife Pam have three children — Dana, Lee and Laura.

Gene Stallings

Defensive Backfield

Gene Stallings joined Tom Landry's staff in 1972 after seven years (1965-71) as head coach at his alma mater, Texas A&M.

Stallings has presided over the development of two All-Pro safeties — Cliff Harris and Charlie Waters — and in Randy Hughes he may have his third.

Gene was an All-Southwest Conference offensive end at A&M under Bear Bryant and was a tri-captain on Bryant's unbeaten 1956 Aggie team. Stallings served one year as a student-assistant coach at A&M before moving with Bryant to Alabama as an assistant. He remained there until returning to A&M as head coach in 1965.

The Paris, Texas, native (3/2/35) is an exceptional public speaker who stays very busy in that capacity, mainly during the off-season.

Gene and wife Ruth Ann have five children — Anna Lee, Laurie, John Mark, Jacklyn and Martha Kate.

Ernie Stautner

Defensive Coordinator • Defensive Line

The Cowboys' famed "Doomsday Defense" began to emerge shortly after the arrival of Ernie Stautner as defensive line coach in 1966. Ernie also helped fashion "Doomsday II," which carried Dallas to its second Super Bowl title in 1977.

Under Hall of Famer Stautner, the Cowboys have produced four All-Pro defensive linemen — Bob Lilly, George Andrie, Harvey Martin and Randy White.

Ernie was an All-Pro defensive end and tackle himself for the Pittsburgh Steelers where he played for 15 years (1951-65) despite being relatively small at 6-0, 235 pounds. A veteran of nine Pro Bowls, he was elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1969, his first year of eligibility.

Ernie was born in Cham, Bavaria (4/20/27) but grew up in Albany, N.Y. Following a World War II Marine Corps hitch (1943-46), he enrolled at Boston College where he developed into a star two-way lineman.

Ernie's wife is Pat and he has three children — Joe, Terri and Carol.

Jerry Tubbs
Linebackers

In the 1960 expansion draft the Cowboys chose a linebacker from the San Francisco 49ers named Jerry Tubbs. Jerry played middle linebacker for eight years in Dallas before joining the coaching staff in 1968. He is the only original Cowboys player still with the organization.

Jerry helped develop his replacement at middle linebacker, Lee Roy Jordan, one of four Pro Bowl stars to play under Tubbs. The others are Chuck Howley, Thomas Henderson and, most recently, Bob Breunig in 1979.

Born in Breckenridge, Texas (1/23/35), Jerry was an All-America center-linebacker for Bud Wilkinson's unbeaten Oklahoma teams from 1954-56. Tubbs received the Walter Camp Award as the nation's outstanding player in '56. He was drafted No. 1 by the Chicago Cardinals in 1957 and also played for the 49ers before coming to Dallas.

Jerry and wife Marlene have two children — Alan and Kayla.

Bob Ward
Conditioning

Bob Ward has Cowboys players enthusiastically participating in his conditioning programs, which include running, weight lifting, flexibility training and diet. He directs the Cowboys' voluntary off-season program, working with computer printouts to devise individual programs for each player.

Bob was track coach for 11 years at Fullerton College in California before joining the Cowboys in 1975.

A graduate of Whitworth College in Spokane, Wash., Ward received his master's in physical education from the University of Washington and his doctorate from Indiana University. He also has been trained extensively in the martial arts.

Bob, a native of Huntington Park, Calif. (7/4/33), and wife Joyce have two children — Shannon and Erin.

COCHREN AND LOCKER

BUCHANAN

DON COCHREN, Trainer

Don Cochren came to the Cowboys in 1965 after experience in college, military and Canadian Football League training.

A graduate of Purdue, Cochren earned his physical therapy certificate at Pennsylvania. He was trainer at Case Institute (now Case-Western Reserve) in Cleveland for two years, with the Toronto Argonauts of the CFL for four years and spent a year at the University of New Hampshire before coming to Dallas. He also served as a physical therapy officer in the Air Force for two years.

Cochren was one of 28 trainers selected from colleges and professional ranks to serve the United States team at the 1980 Winter Olympics in Lake Placid, N.Y.

Don, a native of Princeton, Ind. (2/6/32), and wife Jan have four children — Jeff, Scott, Wendy and Chris.

KEN LOCKER, Assistant Trainer

Following four years as assistant trainer and interim head trainer at North Texas State, Ken Locker came to the Cowboys in 1973 as assistant trainer.

Locker received his master's degree in physical education from Texas Woman's University and served two years as trainer for World Championship Tennis, making the men's tour in 1975 and '76.

Ken is a native of Fort Stockton, Texas (7/23/51). His wife's name is Pam.

BUCK BUCHANAN, Equipment Manager

William T. "Buck" Buchanan joined the Cowboys in 1973 after supervising athletic programs in the Air Force for 20 years.

SMSgt. Buchanan was a non-commissioned officer in charge of Athletics and Programs at the U.S. Air Force Academy Prep School in Colorado Springs for four years. He was awarded the Bronze Star for his performance during a 1968-69 tour of duty in Thailand.

Buck was born in Ballinger, Texas (5/24/33). He and wife Geraldine have two children — Bucky and Julie.

THE PLAYERS

RANDY WHITE

Benny Barnes ★ 31

CORNERBACK • STANFORD • 9th YEAR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 195 • BORN: 3/3/51 • FA FOR '72

PRO: One of the club's most dependable and most underrated players, Benny Barnes turned in another fine season in 1979 despite a sore right foot that has plagued him since 1975. Benny shared the team lead both in interceptions and fumble recoveries. One of the fumbles resulted in Barnes' first NFL touchdown, a 33-yard return in the second quarter at Minnesota (10/7) which turned out to be the game's winning score. Benny received the first Oak Farms Cowboys MVP Award of his career for his outstanding job against Pittsburgh's Lynn Swann (10/28), holding him to one reception for five yards in six tries. Benny also received the MVP award for his effort against Los Angeles in the playoffs, which included two key pass deflections. In January Barnes underwent surgery to have a joint fused in his right foot, the same operation which successfully extended Lee Roy Jordan's career. The foot also was operated in '74 when he broke it (12/7 against Cleveland) and after the '77 season to eliminate bone spurs. Barnes spent his first four seasons as a backup cornerback and safety before winning a starting job in '76. He still is a capable strong safety, playing the position last year against Washington (12/16) when Randy Hughes was hurt. Benny also is a top special teams performer, particularly on punt coverage, and in '77 he won the Cowboys' special teams player of the year award (with Jay Saldi). Barnes' strong suit is his man-to-man coverage. "He reads cuts as well as anybody," secondary coach Gene Stallings says. "He can anticipate a man's moves. He's the kind of ballplayer who's always thinking, always a step ahead of the other fellow." Benny's greatest notoriety, however, came from being the victim of a controversial interference call against Swann in Super Bowl XIII. He shares the NFL record for most safeties in a season with two (1973). In '78 he led the Cowboys in interceptions. GAMES: 1972 (14), 1973 (14), 1974 (13), 1975 (14), 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (14), 1979 (15). Total — 102.

COLLEGE: Barnes intercepted seven passes in '71, including three in a game against Washington, and earned All-Pacific Coast honors at free safety. He started 24 consecutive games for Stanford and played on two Rose Bowl winners.

PERSONAL: A native of Lufkin, Texas, Benny Jewell Barnes and wife Joyce have three sons — David (1/20/72), Damon (8/8/74) and Deon (4/23/78). In the off-season Benny has worked in the commercial lending and credit departments for Oak Cliff Bank.

Larry Bethea ★ 76

DEFENSIVE LINEMAN • MICHIGAN STATE • 3rd YEAR
HT: 6-5 • WT: 254 • BORN: 7/21/56 • D-1 FOR '78

PRO: The 28th player selected in the 1978 draft, Larry Bethea has spent his formative years with the Cowboys trying to settle into one position. After spending last off-season preparing to battle for Jethro Pugh's vacated left tackle spot, Bethea opened training camp as the starting left defensive end in the wake of Ed Jones' unexpected departure. Inexperience proved his undoing, however, and Bethea was moved back to a reserve tackle role. He started at right tackle against Houston (11/22) and the Giants (12/2) when Randy White was hobbled by a sore foot. Bethea had a quarterback trap in each of those games, finishing the year with four traps and 28 tackles. "Larry Bethea, who tried his best last year to become a starter but fell short, still has another chance this year," Tom Landry says. "He played fairly well during the season, especially toward the end, but what he does in pro football probably will be determined this year." In his rookie year Bethea filled in at right end on short-yardage plays when Harvey Martin was having leg problems, meaning Bethea has played all four defensive line positions in his first two years in addition to his special teams work. "He has the potential to be a good defensive tackle because he's big and strong but he's also fast enough to play end," defensive coordinator Ernie Stautner says. The biggest play of Bethea's career came in the '78 NFC title game when he was credited with stopping Rams runner Jim Jodat on a fourth-and-one at the Dallas 14 to preserve a 7-0 Cowboys lead in the third quarter. GAMES: 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 32.

COLLEGE: Bethea was the Big Ten's most valuable player in '77, the first lineman to win the award since Illinois' Dick Butkus in 1963. Larry was voted to three All-America teams, twice made All-Big Ten and was voted the Spartans' MVP his senior year. He lettered four years, playing tight end as a freshman.

PERSONAL: Larry participated for the first time in the Cowboys' off-season conditioning program this year after spending previous off-seasons studying at Michigan State. He also served an internship with the Dallas Black Chamber of Commerce in order to complete his degree in urban development. He also has worked with handicapped children in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Larry and wife Gloria are from Newport News, Va.

Bob Breunig ★ 53

LINEBACKER • ARIZONA STATE • 6th YEAR
HT: 6-2 • WT: 225 • BORN 7/4/53 • D-3 FOR '75

PRO: The Cowboys have had only three starting middle linebackers in their history — Jerry Tubbs from 1960-65, Lee Roy Jordan from 1966-76 and Bob Breunig since 1977. With Breunig winning a trip to his first Pro Bowl last year, all three now have appeared in the NFL's all-star game, making the Cowboys' middle linebacker position an exclusive club indeed. Breunig was converted from strongside linebacker to the "Meg" position in 1977 following Jordan's retirement. Tom Landry termed Breunig's transition "remarkable" and "one of the reasons we were able to win our second Super Bowl." He has led the team in tackles in each of the past three seasons, raising his total each year from 130 (73 primary, 57 assists) to 135 (71-64) to 167 (81-86). "He's exactly the kind of player you need as a middle linebacker in the 'flex,' " teammate Danny White says. "He's always where he's supposed to be, and he's consistent and dependable." The quarterback of the defensive unit, Breunig relays the defensive signals called from the sidelines by defensive coordinator Ernie Stautner, but he's also responsible for calling audibles if a formation needs to be changed. "Bob's extremely intelligent, very alert and he handles the defense very well," says Tubbs, now the Cowboys' linebackers coach. "He does a good deal of audibilizing and the thing is he knows when to do it. His intelligence and intensity are his biggest attributes. He's an excellent leader." Adds Landry, "Bob is smart and a very intense football player. He'll give you everything he's got in practice and on the field, and he's a great leader. He is the quality middle linebacker you need." Breunig's top effort in '79 came against Philadelphia (11/12) when he had 18 tackles, including nine solos. GAMES: 1975 (10), 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 70.

COLLEGE: Breunig won All-America honors as a senior after leading Arizona State in tackles and fumble recoveries from his middle linebacker position. A three-time All-Western Athletic Conference selection, he recovered 10 fumbles and intercepted six passes in his career.

PERSONAL: Robert Paul Breunig (BREW-nig), a Phoenix native, works in the off-season for Holloway-Staubach Real Estate Agency in Dallas. He is active with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and the Happy Hill Children's Home in Glen Rose, Texas. Last year Bob's wife Mary compiled the Cowboys' Wives' Cookbook, the proceeds of which went to Happy Hill. A self-taught guitar player and singer, Bob recorded a song on a children's religious album called "Color Him Love" in 1978. During the season Bob has a daily radio show on KRLD in Dallas. He and Mary have a son, Robert Jr. (11/11/78).

Larry Brinson ★ 36

RUNNING BACK • FLORIDA • 4th YEAR
HT: 6-0 • WT: 214 • BORN: 6/6/54 • FA FOR '77

PRO: The switch of Ron Springs from halfback to fullback following the 1979 season also prompted another backfield move by Tom Landry and his coaching staff. To ease the sudden logjam at fullback and add to the depth behind Tony Dorsett, Larry Brinson was moved to halfback. "He has run from the tailback spot in practice when we're working on defense and he's looked pretty good," Landry explains. "It may be a good change for Larry." And hopefully a change of luck too. Brinson had high hopes heading into last season following some sparkling moments in '78 and a fine training camp. But early in the second quarter of the season-opener at St. Louis, on his first carry, Brinson churned 10 yards to the Cards three and promptly suffered a dislocated left shoulder. He missed the next two games and wound up with only 14 carries for the season. Brinson saw no pre-season action in '78 due to a groin pull and was released on the final cutdown day. But when RB Doug Dennison went down with an injury in October, the Cowboys called back Brinson from his alma mater, the University of Florida, where he was a graduate assistant football coach. He rushed for 96 yards and two TDs as a backup, his best effort coming in a Thanksgiving Day rout of Washington in which he gained 51 yards on four carries, including a 39-yard scoring burst. Blessed with great speed for a man his size, Brinson made the '77 Cowboys as a free agent despite suffering a fractured cheekbone in training camp. He served as a regular kickoff return specialist that year, tying for eighth in the NFC. GAMES: 1977 (14), 1978 (10), 1979 (14). Total — 38.

COLLEGE: A four-year starter, Brinson was used mostly as a blocking back in the Gators' wishbone attack despite the fact he was a 9.5 100-yard dash sprinter at Miami Northwestern High School. He averaged 4.9 yards per rush in his career.

PERSONAL: Larry Sylvesta Brinson and wife Patricia, an elementary school teacher in Dallas, spend part of each off-season in Florida. Larry, a native of Opalocka, Fla., is an avid fisherman and hunter.

Guy Brown ★ 59

LINEBACKER • HOUSTON • 4th YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 228 • BORN: 6/1/55 • D-4 FOR '77

PRO: A groin injury slowed Guy Brown's progress last year, but he entered the 1980 season with his best opportunity yet of making a contribution at outside linebacker. "Guy Brown could very easily be a starting linebacker," Tom Landry says. "He has all the physical qualities. He's just never been able to meet the challenge so far. We hope he will develop into the type of linebacker we would like." Brown is the Cowboys' tallest and fastest (4.6 in the 40) linebacker, and also one of the team's best all-around athletes. He has performed exceptionally well on special teams and also has played linebacker on short-yardage and goal-line situations. "I'd like to see Guy become a little more aggressive and I think that will come as he takes a more active role," linebackers coach Jerry Tubbs says. "He just needs to put it all together now. And the quickest way to do that is to get in the playing time." GAMES: 1977 (14), 1978 (15), 1979 (15). Total — 44.

COLLEGE: Playing "stand-up" defensive end, Brown earned All-Southwest Conference honors in his senior year. Injuries hampered his career at Houston where he began as a tight end.

PERSONAL: Guy Brown III is the oldest son in a family of 10 children from Palestine, Texas. Last off-season Guy worked as a sales representative for Daco, Inc., a Dallas-Fort Worth advertising firm. Guy is active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and has worked for Special Olympics. Guy and wife Jacqueline have a daughter, Christa (7/30/79).

Glenn Carano ★ 18

QUARTERBACK • NEVADA-LAS VEGAS • 4th YEAR
HT: 6-3 • WT: 202 • BORN: 11/18/55 • D-2 FOR '77

PRO: After three years as the Cowboys' seldom-used No. 3 quarterback, Glenn Carano received an instant promotion to No. 2 in March when Roger Staubach announced his retirement. But Glenn warned he was not going to be satisfied with his new status. "I want it to be known that Danny (White) is not going to be served the starting position on a silver platter," he cautioned. "Danny will go into camp as the No. 1 quarterback, but I'm going to challenge him for it. The coaches are going to have to look at me too." Despite his limited opportunity, Carano so far has been impressive. He was the third quarterback taken in the '77 draft, after Steve Pisarkiewicz and Tommy Kramer, when Dallas took him in the second round with a choice from Seattle for wide receiver Duke Fergerson. Carano earned the No. 3 job by beating out Steve DeBerg, who subsequently became San Francisco's starter. Another former Cowboys third-string QB is Seattle's Jim Zorn, now one of the league's top passers. In pre-season as a rookie Glenn completed 10-of-20 passes, including one for a touchdown. In '78 pre-season he was 8-of-8 for 89 yards and a TD, and last year he was 17-of-34 for 194 yards and one TD. During regular-season his responsibilities have been to play the role of the upcoming opponent's quarterback during practice and to chart every offensive play during games. Last year he served as Rafael Septien's holder during pre-season and through the first three regular-season games due to injuries to Charlie Waters and Danny White. "Glenn is progressing nicely," Tom Landry says. "He made great strides last year. He has an excellent arm. He has the type of ability that will make him a starter someday." GAMES: 1978 (2), 1979 (3). Total — 5.

COLLEGE: Carano set every Nevada-Las Vegas career passing record in four years as a starter. Glenn completed 337-of-636 passes for 5,096 yards and 37 touchdowns. He also scored 19 TDs rushing.

PERSONAL: Glenn Thomas Carano (Ka-RAH-no) was born in San Pedro, Calif., near Los Angeles, and raised in Reno, Nev. He and wife Dana, a real estate broker, now live in Dallas year-round.

Larry Cole ★ 63

DEFENSIVE TACKLE • HAWAII • 13th YEAR
HT: 6-5 • WT: 252 • BORN: 11/15/46 • D-16 FOR '68

PRO: After more than a decade of reveling in obscurity as the moving force behind the Zero Club ("Thou Shall Not Seek Publicity"), Larry Cole assumed a new role last year — team leader. "I've always kind of preferred my laid-back role," Cole says. "But now with so many guys who haven't been around that long, I've decided it's finally time to assert myself." At one time or another Cole has been a starter at every position in the defensive line, always coming to the rescue when a problem develops. Last year, for example, he was set to replace retired Jethro Pugh at left tackle, but opened the season at left end in place of Ed Jones, who took up boxing unexpectedly. When John Dutton became the regular left end for the last four games of the season, Cole moved back to left tackle. He had his best game in the Cowboys' dramatic comeback victory over Washington (12/16) with 10 tackles, his only two quarterback traps of the season and the biggest defensive play of the year, tackling John Riggins for a two-yard loss on third-and-two late in the game to get the ball back for the Cowboys' winning drive. Cole became a backup in '77 after nine years as a starter, but the departures of Pugh and Jones thrust him back into a starting role last year. "The miracle of the defensive line is Larry Cole," Tom Landry says. "Larry has been such a consistent player for us through the years. Really, he's been kind of indispensible in that he's been able to play the end and tackle positions." Larry earned his reputation for making big plays almost immediately by scoring three touchdowns against the Redskins in his first two seasons. He was outstanding in the NFC championship game two seasons ago won by Dallas, forcing two Rams' turnovers. Cole shares the NFL record with Pugh for most playoff game appearances with 23, including a record five Super Bowls along with Pugh, Cliff Harris, Charlie Waters, D. D. Lewis, Rayfield Wright, Preston Pearson and Marv Fleming. GAMES: 1968 (14), 1969 (14), 1970 (10), 1971 (14), 1972 (9), 1973 (14), 1974 (14), 1975 (13), 1976 (14), 1977 (12), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Jim Cooper ★ 61

TACKLE • TEMPLE • 4th YEAR
HT: 6-5 • WT: 260 • BORN: 9/28/55 • D-6 FOR '77

PRO: "I call him the five Cs," assistant head coach Jim Myers says about Jim Cooper. "Consistent, confident, competitive, calm and collected. You could drop a bomb on his head and it wouldn't disturb him." Last year the Cowboys dropped the starting right tackle job on Cooper when Rayfield Wright developed leg problems in pre-season. Cooper performed surprisingly well, starting the first 11 games until Wright won back the job. With Wright's departure, Cooper entered the '80 season as the top candidate to win the position. He also gives the Cowboys unusual backup strength, having played every position in the offensive line. An offensive tackle in college, Cooper backed up the guard position his rookie year in Dallas and started two games at center in '78 after learning the "shotgun" snap in training camp. "Cooper is the one guy we have who is flexible enough to play anywhere on the offensive line," Myers says. "He's got good movement, size and he's smart. I thought center was his best position. The most amazing thing is he seems comfortable wherever we put him." Cooper was among the last players cut in '77 training camp after showing promise at tackle. He returned home to Philadelphia and was considering offers from other NFL teams when Cowboys personnel director Gil Brandt called. A decision had been made for tackle Jim Eidson to undergo knee surgery and Cooper was invited back. Teaming with Fitzgerald, Rafferty, Donovan and Scott, Cooper gives the Cowboys an offensive line of "Four Irishmen and a Scott." GAMES: 1977 (14), 1978 (14), 1979 (15). Total — 43.

COLLEGE: Cooper started for three years at Temple under Wayne Hardin, Roger Staubach's coach at Navy.

PERSONAL: James Albert Cooper and wife Mary, a nurse, return in the off-season to their native Philadelphia where Jim works for his father's business selling reconditioned steel drums. Jim and Mary have a son, James Ryan (6/6/79).

Doug Cosbie ★ 84

TIGHT END • SANTA CLARA • 2nd YEAR
HT: 6-6 • WT: 230 • BORN: 3/27/56 • D-3 FOR '79

PRO: There was some surprise last year when the Cowboys used their third-round draft choice on a tight end, a position at which the team already seemed well stocked. But Doug Cosbie drew rave reviews in his rookie season and gave the Cowboys great insurance at tight end. "Cosbie is an excellent prospect," Tom Landry says. "He has the same dimensions as Billy Joe DuPree. He has excellent blocking techniques; he catches the ball well; and he's smart. He does all the things you have to do at tight end." Cosbie came to Dallas with impressive size and credentials as a pass-catcher, but his ability as a blocker was unknown. By the second half of the season, his development as a blocker enabled Landry to use Cosbie as a play messenger with DuPree and as a blocking tight end on short-yardage and goal-line plays. "What really impressed us was his blocking," Landry says, "which is unusual because they don't use the same type of blocking in college." He also performed well last year on special teams, including a block of a 40-yard field goal try by St. Louis' Steve Little that could have narrowed a Cowboys' first-half lead to one point (10/21). GAMES: 1979 (16).

COLLEGE: Cosbie was a three-year starter for Santa Clara and caught 120 passes for 1,721 yards and 10 touchdowns in his four-year career. In his senior year he served as a team captain and was voted the club's offensive MVP and honorable mention All-Pacific Coast. He also attended DeAnza Junior College in Cupertino, Calif.

PERSONAL: Douglas Durant Cosbie was a regular participant in the Cowboys' off-season conditioning program. He also played with the Hoopsters, the players' basketball team, and was a volunteer worker for Special Olympics. Doug is a native of Mt. View, Calif., where he attended St. Francis High School and played football, basketball, baseball and ran in the two-mile relay in track. His wife's name is Sherry.

Pat Donovan ★ 67

TACKLE • STANFORD • 6th YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 250 • BORN: 7/1/53 • D-4A FOR '75

PRO: His career has been the kind every player aspires to, one marked by steady progress. In five years Pat Donovan has gone from backup to starter to standout to the Pro Bowl. Last season he became the first Cowboys offensive lineman to be voted a Pro Bowl starter in five years, since Rayfield Wright following the '74 season. Donovan also received first-team All-NFC honors from United Press International, Pro Football Weekly and the Sporting News. "Our best offensive lineman has been Pat Donovan at left tackle," Tom Landry says. "He's a lot quicker and faster, a better athlete, than most linemen." Like former Cowboys Pro Bowl guard Blaine Nye, Donovan was a defensive lineman at Stanford who made the conversion to offensive line. A backup tackle his first two seasons, Donovan took over at right tackle in '77 when Wright went down with a knee injury. In '78 Pat moved in at left tackle to replace his mentor, former All-Pro Ralph Neely, who retired. Although a fractured wrist midway through '78 hampered his pass blocking somewhat, Donovan emerged that season as a first-rate tackle. He received the Oak Farms MVP award for the Green Bay game (11/12), the first offensive lineman to win the honor since John Fitzgerald in 1975. Last year he threw the block on cornerback Virgil Livers that sprung Tony Hill on a 22-yard quick screen for the winning touchdown against Chicago (9/16). He also recovered a Scott Laidlaw fumble deep in Eagles territory on the winning TD drive in the crucial game at Philadelphia (12/8). "He's doing a super job," assistant head coach Jim Myers says. "He's got all the credentials — size, speed, strength — to be All-Pro." Donovan, Fitzgerald, Tom Rafferty and Jim Cooper form the Cowboys' "Irish Connection," offensive linemen of Irish descent. "We Irishmen are offensive linemen because we have a basic affinity with dirt, like the potato farming heritage we come from," explains Donovan. GAMES: 1975 (13), 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 73.

COLLEGE: Donovan was a two-time All-America defensive end at Stanford. A native of Helena, Mont., he was a Montana state high school shot put and discus champion and also all-state in football and basketball.

PERSONAL: Patrick Emery Donovan, a descendant of the O'Donovans of County Cork, has a degree in mechanical engineering and works in the off-season as a staff engineer for the Sam P. Wallace contracting company in Dallas. During the season Pat hosts a five-minute sports show Monday through Friday on a Dallas radio station. His wife Christa works for the Wadley Blood Bank in Dallas.

Tony Dorsett ★ 33

RUNNING BACK • PITTSBURGH • 4th YEAR
HT: 5-11 • WT: 190 • BORN: 4/7/54 • D-1 FOR '77

PRO: Tony Dorsett, the most electrifying runner in Cowboys history, added impressively to his already long list of achievements last season despite missing all pre-season and 2½ regular-season games due to injuries. The pre-season and league opener were forfeited when Dorsett dropped a mirror given him by a fan on his right big toe, breaking it. It wasn't until the fifth game that he finally hit his stride. Then late in the season at Philadelphia (12/8) he suffered a mild right shoulder separation, causing him to miss the second half of that game and the season finale against Washington. Nevertheless, Dorsett compiled his third consecutive 1,000-yard season to become only the second player in NFL history to rush for 1,000 yards in each of his first three seasons (Green Bay's John Brockington did it in 1971-72-73). Including his college career, Dorsett through 1979 had seven straight 1,000-yard seasons, an unprecedented feat. He entered 1980 with a chance at becoming the first NFL player ever to gain 1,000 yards in each of his first four seasons. His three-year total of 3,439 ranks third among three-year players in NFL history behind Walter Payton's 3,921 and Jim Brown's 3,798. Tony had six 100-yard games last year, including a club-record four straight, to give him 14 in three seasons, three behind Calvin Hill's club record. The Cowboys are 14-0 in Dorsett's 100-yard games. Tony finished the '79 season as the Cowboys' fifth all-time leading rusher, 448 yards behind No. 4 Walt Garrison. He also continued to improve his receiving, finishing only two catches short of Preston Pearson's team record for running backs of 47. Although he didn't break into the starting lineup until the 10th game of his rookie year, Dorsett set team records for touchdowns rushing in a season (12), longest run from scrimmage and most yards in a game en route to earning consensus rookie of the year honors. He also claimed a rare double that season, a Super Bowl championship one year after leading Pittsburgh to the national collegiate championship. In 1978 Tony broke the club record for rushing yards in a season, had six 100-yard games, caught the longest scoring pass of the season in the NFC and earned a starting berth in his first Pro Bowl. His 571 yards rushing and five touchdowns in the playoffs also are team records. Dorsett's speed and ability to change direction make him a threat to score anytime he gets the ball. GAMES: 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (14). Total — 44.

COLLEGE: A four-time All-America and the first player in NCAA history with four 1,000-yard seasons and three 1,500-yard-plus seasons, Dorsett won the 1976 Heisman Trophy as the nation's best player. He rushed for an NCAA career-record 6,082 yards and 58 touchdowns and led Pitt to the '76 national championship with a 12-0 record. He was the second player selected in the '77 NFL draft following a trade with Seattle.

PERSONAL: Anthony Drew Dorsett, who would rather be known by his nickname "Hawk," grew up in Aliquippa, Pa., in a family of seven children. He served as 1980 chairman of the American Heart Association's Jump-Rope-A-Thon fund raising program, which included a White House visit with President Carter. In a '79 Gallup Youth Survey of American teenagers' favorite sports personalities, Tony finished second to teammate Roger Staubach. In the off-season Tony opened a burglar and fire alarm systems business in Dallas called Dor-Watts, Inc.

Billy Joe DuPree ★ 89

TIGHT END • MICHIGAN STATE • 8th YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 229 • BORN: 3/7/50 • D-1 FOR '73

PRO: Without much fanfare, but with the full appreciation of his teammates and coaches, Billy Joe DuPree gets the job done as well as any tight end in football. "Billy Joe is a team player, pure and simple," says tight ends coach Mike Ditka, a former all-pro tight end himself and the man DuPree replaced as the Cowboys' starter. "He does what we ask of him." Adds Tom Landry, "He has all the attributes you want in a tight end. He's big, fast, makes the big play and blocks well." A starter since his rookie year, although injuries, including a broken finger, reduced his playing time in '75, DuPree entered the '80 season as the fourth leading receiver in Cowboys history, behind only Bob Hayes, Drew Pearson and Frank Clarke. He started every game from 1976 through 1979, giving him 60 consecutive starts entering the new decade. In '76 BJ set a club record for receptions by a tight end with 42 and was voted the NFC's starting tight end in the Pro Bowl, an honor he also received in '77 and '78. In the Pro Bowl after the '77 season he caught three passes for 23 yards in the NFC's winning touchdown drive. In '78 his nine TD catches led NFL tight ends and last season he caught 29 passes for the third time in seven years. DuPree has had two 100-yard games, catching six passes for 100 yards against St. Louis in '75 (9/28) and five for 108 yards against New Orleans in '76 (9/19). "I see myself as a player who enjoys the game and who carries out every assignment he's given," BJ says. "I think it's a compliment to say I sacrifice some self-glory to get the job done." GAMES: 1973 (14), 1974 (14), 1975 (14), 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 102.

COLLEGE: DuPree gave up basketball toward the end of his Michigan State athletic career to concentrate on football. Billy Joe caught 69 passes in three seasons in a run-oriented offense to finish third among all-time Spartans receivers. He was named All-Big Ten in his senior year.

PERSONAL: Billy Joe DuPree (pronounced dew-PREE) is a native of Monroe, La. Last year he started his own business in Dallas, Concrete Work Company, specializing in concrete slabs and flat work. Active with St. Jude's Children's Hospital in Tennessee, Big Brothers of Arlington and the United Way of Dallas, Billy Joe was a finalist in the 1979 Brian Piccolo-YMCA Humanitarian Award. He is one of the Cowboys' best public speakers. BJ and wife Marsha have two sons, Shon (10/27/72) and Christopher (8/4/78).

John Dutton ★ 78

DEFENSIVE LINEMAN • NEBRASKA • 7th YEAR
HT: 6-7 • WT: 265 • BORN: 2/6/51 • TRADE, BALT., '79

PRO: To help fill the void left by the 1979 retirements of Ed Jones and Jethro Pugh, the Cowboys acquired John Dutton from the Baltimore Colts in a deal completed 20 minutes before last year's trading deadline (10/9). To get the three-time Pro Bowl selection, who had refused to report to the Colts in '79 because of a dispute with the club, the Cowboys gave up their first-round and second-round choices in the 1980 draft. A right end at Baltimore, Dutton was moved to left end by the Cowboys last year to replace Jones, but with Too Tall's return Dutton was projected as a possible tackle. Dutton started the final five games plus the playoff game last year, finishing with 25 tackles (14 primaries), one quarterback trap and one forced trap. "I think John Dutton will come back and play very well with a training camp and a year's experience in our system behind him," Tom Landry says. "If he comes through at the level he once performed, then we're going to make big strides in our defensive line." Selected by the Colts in the first round of the '74 draft, the fifth pick overall (Too Tall was first that year), Dutton was named to the UPI, Pro Football Writers and Pro Football Weekly all-rookie teams and finished in a third-place tie for UPI rookie of the year. In '75 he led the Colts in quarterback traps with a career-high 17, was selected for the Pro Bowl for the first of three straight years and was named to the AP and UPI All-NFC teams. The following season Dutton reached All-Pro status, leading his team in QB traps again with 13 and being named All-Pro by AP and All-AFC by UPI. Dutton's QB traps fell to six in '77, but again he was named to the Pro Bowl and UPI's All-AFC team. In '78 he started 14 games before being forced out of the lineup with a foot injury. He led the Colts in QB traps again with six and fumble recoveries with three. GAMES: 1974 (14), 1975 (14), 1976 (14), 1977 (12), 1978 (14), 1979 (8). Total — 76.

COLLEGE: A two-year starter and captain as a senior at Nebraska, Dutton was a consensus All-America in 1973. He played in the College All-Star and Senior Bowl games following that season. He also played in two Orange Bowls and one Cotton Bowl. Nebraska won the national championship in Dutton's sophomore season. He also threw the discus for the Cornhusker track team.

PERSONAL: John Owen Dutton owns a restaurant/bar/package liquor store called Dutton's Den in Lincoln, Neb., where he lives in the off-season. He also is part-owner of a racquetball club there. John and wife Ginny, a trained ballet dancer who once studied under the renowned Edward Villela, have a son, Mason (8/4/79). John grew up in Rapid City, S.D., and attracted more scholarship offers for basketball than football.

John Fitzgerald ★ 62

CENTER • BOSTON COLLEGE • 10th YEAR
HT: 6-5 • WT: 260 • BORN: 4/16/48 • D-4 FOR '70

PRO: Rodney Daingerfield would envy this man. For if there's one thing John Fitzgerald has earned in abundance, it's respect. Respect from teammates, coaches, opponents and fans. "He has a great attitude, great desire and is a good leader," offensive line coach Jim Myers explains. "He tries so hard all the time. He may be the toughest we've got." The middle of the line is no place for the weak of body or mind, and certainly it has taken its toll on Fitzgerald in numerous minor injuries. Yet Fitz has missed only six games in nine years. A defensive lineman in college, Fitzgerald spent his rookie year on the taxi squad. He was tried at tackle and guard before settling at center after volunteering to snap for Craig Morton and Roger Staubach at the end of practice one day during his rookie training camp. Fitz became the starting center in '73 following the retirement of Dave Manders. He earned the rare distinction for an offensive lineman of winning the Cowboys Oak Farms MVP award for his performance against Philadelphia in 1975 (11/23). Last year he received a game ball from the coaches for his effort in the second Giants game (12/2). Snapping the ball seven yards deep in the Cowboys' unique shotgun offense has given Fitzgerald more visibility than most centers. "It has shed a little light on me," he notes. "When people talk about how different guys have sixty percent completion averages, they don't realize mine is ninety-nine — and that's with a couple of drops." Fitz is also the senior member of the Cowboys' "Iro-American Club," featuring fellow offensive linemen Pat Donovan, Tom Rafferty, and Jim Cooper. "We're four Irishmen and a Scott," he says, as in Herb Scott. "There are only two types of people in the world. Those who are Irish and those who wish they were Irish." GAMES: 1971 (14), 1972 (14), 1973 (14), 1974 (13), 1975 (14), 1976 (14), 1977 (12), 1978 (14), 1979 (15). Total — 124.

COLLEGE: Fitzgerald, a three-year starter at defensive tackle for Boston College, was strongly touted by defensive coordinator Ernie Stautner, who also played at B.C.

PERSONAL: In homage to the old sod John and Sue Fitzgerald named their sons Brendon (1/25/73), Patrick (12/18/76) and Timothy (12/21/77). A native of Southbridge, Mass., John Robert Fitzgerald works in the off-season for Dallas-based Texas Instruments in a management position. He is active in Big Brothers and the March of Dimes and is an avid golfer.

Andy Frederick ★ 71

TACKLE • NEW MEXICO • 4th YEAR
HT: 6-6 • WT: 255 • BORN: 7/25/54 • D-5 FOR '77

PRO: Andy Frederick is one of many Cowboys who has successfully made the transition from college defensive lineman to NFL offensive lineman. Frederick played in all 16 games for the Cowboys last year as a special teams contributor and backup tackle. Released on the last cut at the end of training camp, Frederick was brought back when rookie tackle Richard Grimmett suffered a knee injury the week prior to the regular-season opener. Andy started the first five games of the '78 season at right tackle due to Ralph Neely's retirement and the slow rehabilitation of Rayfield Wright's knee. But when Wright, a former All-Pro, had worked himself back into playing condition, Frederick was sent back to a reserve role for more seasoning. Andy spent most of his rookie season in '77 on the special teams but also played a key backup role. Following injuries to Wright and Jim Eidson plus Blaine Nye's retirement, Pat Donovan and Neely were the only experienced tackles. And with Neely bothered by a bad knee, Frederick was needed for relief at left tackle after working at right tackle in training camp. GAMES: 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 46.

COLLEGE: A defensive tackle at New Mexico, Frederick capped his college career by earning an appearance in the '76 East-West Shrine game. He was selected by ABC-TV as the top player in a regionally televised game his senior year, even though New Mexico was beaten by Brigham Young.

PERSONAL: A native of Broadview, Ill., a Chicago suburb, Andy attended high school in Westchester, Ill., where he played basketball and football. He has been a mainstay at center for the Hoopsters, the Cowboys players' off-season basketball team.

Richard Grimmett ★ 75

TACKLE • ILLINOIS • 1st YEAR
HT: 6-7 • WT: 270 • BORN: 6/23/55 • FA FOR '79

PRO: Richard Grimmett took an improbable route, by way of the Chicago Transit Authority, in making the Cowboys' final 45-man roster last year. Drafted by Seattle in the ninth round in 1978, Grimmett was released by the Seahawks in training camp. He returned home to Chicago, where he drove a city bus on the south side of town and played semipro football for the Chicago Lions of the Northern States Football League.

GRIMMETT, Cont.

Signed by the Cowboys in April, Grimmett was traded to Houston for a draft choice in mid-August, but he flunked the Oilers' physical because of looseness in his right knee, which was operated on in 1974. He was returned to the Cowboys, impressed his coaches in the last two pre-season games, particularly with his pass-blocking, and made the team. During practice the week of the regular-season opener, Grimmett injured his left knee in a collision with Randy White and was placed on injured reserve. Grimmett had cartilage removed from the left knee in October and missed the entire season. With the departure of Rayfield Wright, Grimmett, Jim Cooper and Andy Frederick entered the '80 season as the top candidates to win the starting right tackle job.

COLLEGE: Grimmett, was a backup defensive lineman his first four years at Illinois, including a redshirt season. In his fifth year he became a starting offensive tackle and earned a trip to the '78 Challenge Bowl, the Big 10 versus Pac Eight all-star game.

PERSONAL: Richard Ward Grimmett (pronounced grih-METT, as in dor-SETT) is a native of Dixmoor, Ill., a suburb south of Chicago, and attended Thornton High School in Harvey, Ill. During the off-season Richard worked in the public relations campaign for the 1980 census. In that capacity he helped administer the emergency first aid that saved a Dallas woman's life after she suffered a heart attack in the excitement of meeting two Cowboys players. Richard's hobbies include oil painting and playing the flute.

Mike Hegman ★ 58

LINEBACKER • TENNESSEE STATE • 5th YEAR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 225 • BORN: 1/17/53 • D-7 FOR '75

PRO: Four seasons as a special teams performer and backup outside linebacker to D. D. Lewis and Thomas Henderson came to an abrupt end one day last year for Mike Hegman. When Henderson was suddenly dismissed from the squad on Nov. 19, Hegman inherited the starting strongside linebacker position for the season's last four games. "That was a turnover," Hegman says. "They say things don't happen in one day, but they do. Sure, I was frustrated with my situation. If you're not playing, just playing special teams, and you've been around three or four years, you can't help but get like that. But it's all behind me now and I'm looking forward to contributing." Coaches say Hegman possesses the instincts of a natural football player, evidence of which came in Super Bowl XIII when he stole the ball from Pittsburgh QB Terry Bradshaw and raced 37 yards for a second-quarter touchdown, his first official NFL TD. Hegman had scored on a 66-yard interception return against Denver earlier that year in pre-season. During '78 Hegman started three games early in the season when Henderson twisted an ankle, and Mike also alternated with Lewis on the right side for three games. He shared the team lead in fumble recoveries with two, had two QB traps and forced two others. In last season's playoff game against Los Angeles, Mike led the Cowboys in tackles with nine (seven primary) and tipped Vince Ferragamo's pass that Billy Waddy caught for the 50-yard winning TD with two minutes left. "He has good instincts and comes up with big plays," linebackers coach Jerry Tubbs says. "He has the kind of natural reaction to the ball that only a few gifted players are blessed with." GAMES: 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 60.

COLLEGE: Hegman enrolled at Alabama A&M originally, then transferred to Tennessee State where he made the football team as a walk-on. He played middle linebacker on the school's 10-0 1973 team, led the club in tackles in '74 and played on the same defense with Ed "Too Tall" Jones and former 49ers star Cleveland Elam. Mike impressed pro scouts with his performance in the '75 Senior Bowl.

PERSONAL: Michael William Hegman, a native of Memphis, did not start playing football until his senior year in high school. In the off-season he plays for the Hoopsters, the Cowboys players' basketball team. He has been active with St. Jude's Children's Hospital in Memphis. Mike has one daughter, Mikia (8/22/76).

Tony Hill ★ 80

WIDE RECEIVER • STANFORD • 4th YEAR
HT: 6-2 • WT: 198 • BORN: 6/23/56 • D-3A FOR '77

PRO: It didn't take Tony Hill long to realize his goal of becoming a great NFL receiver. In 1979, his third year in the league and second as a starter, "Thrill" had one of the best seasons ever by a Cowboys receiver. He became just the fourth receiver in club history to compile a 1,000-yard season, following Bob Hayes, Lance Rentzel and Drew Pearson. With Pearson and Tony Dorsett, Hill helped make the Cowboys the first NFC (or old NFL) team with two 1,000-yard wide receivers in a season and the first NFL team ever with two 1,000-yard WRs and a 1,000-yard back in one year. Tony led the Cowboys in receiving and also in touchdowns scored, performing his "Wings of Victory" TD celebration 10 times, including long-range strikes of 75, 48, 42 and 48 yards. He was the NFL's seventh leading receiver in total yards and had the NFC's top yardage game with his 213-yard, two-touchdown performance on seven catches against Philadelphia (11/12). He had two game-winning TD catches, a 22-yard quick screen with two minutes left against Chicago (9/16) and an eight-yarder with 39 seconds remaining to clinch the NFC East title for Dallas in the dramatic Washington comeback victory (12/16). "Tony Hill is one of the best deep receivers in the league," Tom Landry says. "He can really go deep and make a great adjustment on a ball in flight and this makes him a constant threat . . . Hill is a very explosive player, the type who can turn a short play into a big play in a hurry because he has excellent running ability and speed." Obtained with a draft pick acquired from Philadelphia in '75 for guard John Niland, Hill returned punts his rookie year. The following season he beat out veterans Golden Richards and Butch Johnson in training camp for a starting position. He finished second on the team to Preston Pearson in number of catches that year but led in receiving yardage. He has been selected for the Pro Bowl the past two seasons and has caught a TD pass in each game. GAMES: 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 46.

COLLEGE: Hill broke all of former 49ers All-Pro Gene Washington's receiving records at Stanford. Tony caught 140 passes in four years for 2,225 yards and 18 TDs, including 55 catches for 916 yards in '75. He played quarterback in high school.

PERSONAL: Leroy Anthony Hill, Jr., was named honorary chairman of the Dallas Juvenile Diabetes Fund in March. A political science graduate of Stanford, Hill plans to become a lawyer. The Long Beach, Calif., native was honored as his hometown's 1978 athlete of the year. He was the leading scorer on the Hoopsters, the Cowboys players' basketball team, in 1980.

Randy Hughes ★ 42

SAFETY • OKLAHOMA • 6th YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 207 • BORN: 4/3/53 • D-4B FOR '75

PRO: He waited four years for a chance to become a full-time starter, growing increasingly tired of hearing about what a great backup safety he was. When his opportunity arrived last year, Randy Hughes came through the way everyone expected. "Randy played so well last year at strong safety when Charlie Waters went down in pre-season with a knee injury," Tom Landry says. "You couldn't have asked for a better performance. I thought he was one of the best strong safeties in the league at the end of the year." With the off-season retirement of free safety Cliff Harris, Landry planned to move Hughes back to his natural free safety position "since Charlie is strictly a strong safety and Randy has the versatility to play both positions." Hughes was the team's fourth leading tackler last year with 115 (72 primary) and made two of the season's biggest defensive plays. Against Cincinnati (9/30) he turned the game in Dallas' favor in the first quarter with a 68-yard interception return to the Bengals' three to set up a touchdown. In the second Philadelphia game (12/8) his 23-yard interception return to the Eagles eight in the first two minutes set up the Cowboys' first TD in a crucial victory. Later in the game Hughes dislocated his right shoulder and missed the season finale. Big plays are part of Randy's style. He was superb in the first half of the Cowboys' Super Bowl XII victory over Denver with a pass interception leading to the first touchdown and two fumble recoveries. When he intercepted a pass against Atlanta and another against Los Angeles in the '78 playoffs Hughes tied a club record set by Mel Renfro in '70 of intercepting in three straight playoff games. GAMES: 1975 (14), 1976 (14), 1977 (13), 1978 (16), 1979 (15). Total — 72.

COLLEGE: After being named Oklahoma's high school player of the year, Hughes starred on two unbeaten teams at Oklahoma. He was

Bruce Huther ★ 57

LINEBACKER • NEW HAMPSHIRE • 4th YEAR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 230 • BORN: 7/23/54 • FA FOR '77

PRO: The Cowboys' top special teams performer the past two seasons has been Bruce Huther, who overcame long odds just to make the team in 1977. Signed as a free agent linebacker from the University of New Hampshire, which is hardly known as a producer of pro football players, Huther impressed Cowboys coaches with his aggressiveness and intelligence. He immediately excelled on the kicking teams and capped his rookie season by recovering a fumbled punt by Denver in the Cowboys' Super Bowl XII victory. Huther's continued fierce play has earned him the club's special teams player of the year award the past two seasons, based on the weekly voting of local media. Last year the coaches selected Bruce to serve as special teams captain. One of Huther's biggest plays came in the '78 playoffs against Atlanta when he fell on a fumbled kickoff by the Cowboys in the end zone. It saved a touchdown in a game Dallas had to come from behind to win. Huther also has backed up the middle linebacker position and played on short-yardage and goal-line situations. He made two tackles on a successful goal-line stand against the Giants last year (12/2). "Bruce could easily step in at this point in his career and play very solidly at middle linebacker if anything happened to Bob Breunig," Tom Landry says. "He's one of our best hitters. He's the type of linebacker who can stop a ball carrier dead in his tracks." Also one of the strongest Cowboys, Huther can bench press more than 400 pounds. GAMES: 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 46.

COLLEGE: Huther guided New Hampshire to a pair of Yankee Conference championships in '75 and '76, leading the team in tackles both years. He was a Kodak honorable mention Little All-America selection as a senior. He also played some fullback.

PERSONAL: Bruce Albert Huther (as in brother) is pursuing his master's degree in environmental biology at the University of Texas at Dallas in the off-season. He has an undergraduate degree in zoology. The Haledon, N.J., native is active in Big Brothers of Dallas and the Special Olympics program for the retarded. Bruce and wife Debbie were married on Feb. 1, 1980.

Butch Johnson ★ 86

WIDE RECEIVER • CAL-RIVERSIDE • 5th YEAR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 192 • BORN: 5/28/54 • D-3C FOR '76

PRO: Although he's never been a full-time starter, Butch Johnson has turned in more than his share of big plays. He furthered his reputation last season with two crucial receptions, both leading to victories. Johnson's diving 19-yard catch on third down sparked a late fourth-quarter rally at the New York Giants (11/4), and, in the playoff-clinching victory at Philadelphia (12/8), making his only start of the year with Drew Pearson injured, Butch alertly snared a deflected 17-yard pass in the end zone in the fourth quarter for the winning TD. But mostly it was a season of frustration for Johnson. Following an outstanding training camp, Butch broke his right little finger in the preseason finale against Pittsburgh and missed the first five league games. And with Pearson and Tony Hill each having 1,000-yard seasons, Butch saw limited playing time. "He could step in for either Drew or Tony and we wouldn't drop off a whole lot," Tom Landry says. "He has come through for us many times in clutch situations. He can run routes as well as anyone on the team." Butch spent the '77 season shuttling plays with Golden Richards. Against San Francisco that season (12/12) he made a remarkable one-handed TD grab, then capped the season with a spectacular TD catch in Super Bowl XII, a diving 45-yard reception that sent Dallas ahead of Denver 20-3 in the third quarter. He scored his second Super Bowl TD the next year against Pittsburgh on a four-yard pass late in the game. Butch led the team in kickoff and punt runbacks in each of his first three seasons. He is the second-leading punt returner in Cowboys history and holds the club record for most punt return yardage (489 in '76) and most punts returned (51 in '78) in a season. As a rookie he tied the NFL record for most punts returned in a game (9), against Buffalo (11/15/76). GAMES: 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (11). Total — 55.

COLLEGE: Johnson led the nation in receiving in '75 with 67 catches for 1,027 yards in just eight games, earning All-America honors and his team's MVP award. He caught 139 passes, 17 for TDs, in his career. He also was a pole vaulter on the track team.

PERSONAL: Michael McColly Johnson, a Los Angeles native, owns a record store in Plano, Texas, called "Good Vibes," with teammate Aaron Kyle. Butch also works in marketing for Warner-Amex Communications, a cable television company. His wife's name is Julie.

Ed Jones ★ 72

DEFENSIVE END • TENNESSEE STATE • 6th YEAR
HT: 6-9 • WT: 270 • BORN: 2/23/51 • D-1A FOR '74

PRO: Following his much-publicized one-year hiatus to become a professional boxer, Ed "Too Tall" Jones returned to pro football in 1980 and immediately gave the Cowboys a potentially overwhelming defensive line. If he picks up where he left off in the '78 playoffs, and John Dutton makes the switch to left tackle, the line of Too Tall, Dutton, Randy White and Harvey Martin could go a long way toward restoring the Doomsday Defense. The problems Dallas had in the defensive line last year in Too Tall's absence made it clear just how valuable he had been. The first player picked in the '74 draft, Jones put together his best season in '78. He had a career-high 12 quarterback traps, third best on the team, and three forced traps although as the strongside

(left) end his main responsibility was against the run. But it was in the playoffs for the second straight year that Jones rose to awesome heights with 19 tackles, two sacks and a fumble recovery in three games, including a team-leading seven tackles in Super Bowl XIII. The previous season in the playoffs Too Tall keyed the Doomsday II Defense en route to the Super Bowl XII championship with 23 tackles, two QB traps, two batted-down passes and two forced fumbles. "Usually I'm pretty much what you'd call a big-game player," Jones says. "I get up for a game like that a lot easier. When I do, I perform better." Jones started his career at weakside defensive end concentrating on the pass rush, then in his second season swapped positions with Martin and became the left end focusing on stopping the run. GAMES: 1974 (14), 1975 (14), 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (16). Total — 72.

COLLEGE: Jones was a two-time All-America at Tennessee State although he did not begin playing football until his senior year of high school in his hometown of Jackson, Tenn. He also played two years of college basketball. A college teammate dubbed Jones "Too Tall."

PERSONAL: A man of many talents, Edward Lee Jones is involved in numerous outside activities. He owns two custom tailor shops in Dallas and a talent agency that books music acts called Too Tall's Inc., which is operated by Ed's brother Clifford in their native Jackson, Tenn. Too Tall has acted in two movies and also dabbles in blues singing and photography.

Aaron Kyle ★ 25

CORNERBACK • WYOMING • 5th YEAR
HT: 5-11 • WT: 185 • BORN: 4/6/54 • D-1 FOR '76

PRO: Aaron Kyle's steady progress at right cornerback was set back last year by bone spurs which developed in his left knee during training camp. Without complaint Kyle played in all 16 games in his third season as a starter. He began with a flourish, intercepting two passes in a game for the first time in the season-opener at St. Louis (9/2). He also finished strong, helping to hold dangerous Harold Carmichael to one catch in the playoff-clinching triumph at Philadelphia (12/8). But the knee caused Aaron considerable pain and left him at less than 100 percent efficiency. The pain failed to subside during the off-season and the spurs finally were removed the first week of May. The only cornerback ever drafted by the Cowboys in the first round, Kyle played on passing downs and received several weekly awards for his specialty teams play during his rookie season of '76. He also showed a flair for making big plays, blocking two punts and trapping opposing quarterbacks twice. The following year he earned the starting right cornerback job but missed four mid-season games with a fractured wrist, though he continued to play on special teams. Kyle returned to the lineup for the playoffs and performed well. In Super Bowl XII against Denver he had three tackles, including a key trap on a run from punt formation, an interception, and a fumble recovery that set up the game-clinching touchdown. In '78 Aaron shared the club lead in fumble recoveries with two, intercepted three passes in regular season and another in the playoffs against Atlanta. "During the latter part of the '78 season Aaron was playing the best he had played up to that time," Tom Landry says. "He was making big plays." GAMES: 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 60.

COLLEGE: In '75 Kyle was an All-Western Athletic Conference selection and played in the East-West Shrine Bowl. A high school halfback and linebacker in his native Detroit, he played safety for the Wyoming Cowboys until his senior year when he was used at both corners because of his speed.

PERSONAL: Aaron Douglas Kyle and teammate Butch Johnson own a record store in Plano, northeast of Dallas, called "Good Vibes." A journalism major in college, Aaron has worked as a news and sports writer and an advertising copy writer in previous off-seasons. Aaron and wife Judy have a daughter, Ashley Dyanne (9/3/79).

Scott Laidlaw ★ 35

FULLBACK • STANFORD • 6th YEAR
HT: 6-0 • WT: 205 • BORN: 2/17/53 • D-14 FOR '75

PRO: Set to battle Robert Newhouse for the starting fullback job last year, Scott Laidlaw came up with a pulled left hamstring in training camp and was unable to seriously challenge. But with Newhouse hobbled by a leg injury sustained in the season opener, Laidlaw and 'House became Tom Landry's play messengers through the first half of the season. Scott never was at full strength, however, because of a cyst behind his left knee, which was removed in January. Laidlaw has performed well when healthy, but injuries have been his bugaboo. He has undergone two knee operations, missed action with bruised ribs and suffered hamstring pulls in the past two training camps. Ironically, an injury to Newhouse in '78 gave Laidlaw a chance to make a big contribution in the Cowboys' surge toward Super Bowl XIII. Against Washington on Thanksgiving Day, his first start in two years, Laidlaw rushed for 122 yards and two touchdowns. He had a 59-yard run to set up a field goal and his 103 first-half yards marked the second time he surpassed 100 yards rushing in a half (also against Philadelphia 9/12/76, his only other 100-yard game, when he had 104 yards rushing and 66 yards receiving). Two weeks later against the Eagles Scott scored on a one-yard run and a 44-yard screen pass. In the playoffs Laidlaw rushed for 66 yards and two TDs against Atlanta and caught a four-yard scoring pass in the NFC championship game at Los Angeles. That gave him seven TDs in the six games leading to the Super Bowl. "Scott is a very good receiver and a smart performer who does a good job at fullback when he's healthy," Landry says. GAMES: 1975 (8), 1976 (13), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 67.

COLLEGE: Playing in Stanford's pro-set offense, Laidlaw rushed for 1,300 yards and caught 80 passes in his final two seasons.

PERSONAL: Robert Scott Laidlaw, a Hawthorne, Calif., native, has a degree in architecture from Stanford. Last off-season he worked in commercial building design for Harwood K. Smith and Partners of Dallas. Scott and wife Michele own two dogs, two horses and a 240-acre farm 30 miles outside Dallas.

D. D. Lewis ★ 50

LINEBACKER • MISSISSIPPI STATE • 12th YEAR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 215 • BORN: 10/16/45 • D-6 FOR '68

PRO: One of the Cowboys' bigger defensive plays last year came at San Francisco (9/9) when D. D. Lewis intercepted a Steve DeBerg pass deep in 49ers territory to set up the winning touchdown. After the game, in which Lewis was named Cowboys MVP for the third time in his career, DeBerg told him, "I never saw you, D.D." That's been the story of D. D. Lewis' professional football life, always playing well, seldom being noticed. In '77 Tom Landry said Lewis should have been All-Pro and in '78 he said D. D. deserved to be in the Pro Bowl but "an older player who works hard and improves has a tougher time catching the voters' attention than a younger player just coming on." Last year D. D. was the Cowboys' third leading tackler with a career-high 122 (62 primary). "He played very well all year," Landry said. "He was one of our most consistent players." Lewis became the weakside starter in '73 following four years as a backup to All-Pro Chuck Howley and special teams standout (D. D. spent '69 in military service). He has served as punt team snapper and backup punter and in '77 and '78 was a defensive co-captain. D. D. has played some of his best games in the playoffs. The only time he's picked off two passes in one game came in the '75 NFC championship game at Los Angeles (1/4/76) when he intercepted two passes for 20 yards. He was outstanding in the '77 playoffs with a pass interception and fumble recovery against Chicago and five tackles and a QB trap in Super Bowl XII. In Super Bowl XIII he had the Cowboys' only interception against Terry Bradshaw. Lewis' five Super Bowl appearances is a record shared by seven other players, and his 22 playoff game appearances is one behind the league record shared by Jethro Pugh and Larry Cole. GAMES: 1968 (14), 1970 (12), 1971 (14), 1972 (12), 1973 (14), 1974 (14), 1975 (14), 1976 (14), 1977 (13), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 153.

Burton Lawless ★ 66

GUARD • FLORIDA • 6th YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 255 • BORN: 11/1/53 • D-2 FOR '75

PRO: Burton Lawless provides the Cowboys excellent depth at guard. A former starter, Lawless gave way to the ever improving Tom Rafferty last year and for the first time in his career did not see much offensive action, although he was a special teams regular. "Burton Lawless is a good, experienced player who's backed up the guard spots and should be able to continue to do that," Tom Landry says. The only one of 12 Cowboys rookies in '75 (the "Dirty Dozen") to win a starting job, Lawless was the first rookie since Ralph Neely in '65 to start on the Cowboys' offensive line. He also received all-rookie honors from UPI and the Pro Football Writers for his play at left guard. Challenged by Herbert Scott in '76, Lawless at first lost his starting spot then wound up alternating with Scott as a play messenger. In '77 an ankle injury contributed to Lawless becoming a backup, although he started four games at left guard and two at right because of injuries to Scott and John Fitzgerald. Although listed as a backup right guard to Rafferty in '78, Burton served as a play messenger with Rafferty and, according to line coach Jim Myers, had his best year since '75, particularly pass blocking. GAMES: 1975 (14), 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (15). Total — 73.

COLLEGE: Lawless made All-Southeastern Conference and several All-America teams after moving from tight end to guard.

PERSONAL: Richard Burton Lawless and wife Sarah own a ranch in Groesbeck, Texas, 100 miles south of Dallas, and hope to raise cattle. Last off-season Burton worked in sales and delivery for Flatt Stationers, an office and school supplies company in Mexia, near Groesbeck.

Wade Manning ★ 22

CORNERBACK • OHIO STATE • 2nd YEAR
HT: 5-11 • WT: 190 • BORN: 7/25/55 • FA FOR '79

PRO: Has there ever been an NFL player with a more unusual background than Wade Manning? His first year out of high school he worked for an engineering firm as a clerk and draftsman, followed by a year at Cleveland's John Carroll University. He transferred to Ohio State on an engineering scholarship, earned a baseball scholarship as a walk-on and played three years in center field for the Buckeyes, receiving All-Big Ten honors as a senior. Then, without having played football since he was a 5-1, 135-pound high school safety, Manning signed with the Cowboys as a free agent last year and made the club as a kick return specialist and backup cornerback. "The reason I'm here is that I knew the Cowboys had a reputation of taking people from other sports and working with them," Manning says. Capitalizing on his great speed, Manning showed flashes of brilliance as a kick returner. In pre-season he averaged a whopping 14.6 yards on 15 punt returns, including a 62-yarder against Pittsburgh (8/25) to set up a Dallas touchdown and seal his spot on the team. In the season-opener the next week at St. Louis (9/2) Wade raced 47 yards with a kickoff late in the game, allowing the Cowboys to drive for the winning field goal. A stretched hamstring tendon above his left knee suffered at San Francisco in the second game hobbled Manning and he was placed on injured reserve after the fifth game. He was reactivated to replace Thomas Henderson for the 13th game and in the playoff-clinching victory at Philadelphia (12/8) Wade returned a punt 17 yards, the Cowboys' longest of the year, to the Dallas 44 to set up the winning touchdown drive. "For an inexperienced guy, Manning has great moves," Tom Landry says. GAMES: 1979 (9).

COLLEGE: A three-year center fielder for Ohio State, Manning batted .325 with a team-leading six home runs and a school-record 23 (of 25) stolen bases to earn All-Big Ten honors in his senior year. He stole 44 bases in his career. He was drafted by the Cleveland Indians out of Shaker Heights High School and by the Pittsburgh Pirates in '76.

PERSONAL: Wade Ronald Arthur Manning was born in Meadville, Pa., but was raised in Shaker Heights, Ohio. During the off-season he worked in Dallas for The Chapman Company in financial services and also for Massachusetts Mutual Life Insurance Company. Wade and wife Emma Jean were married May 22, 1980.

Harvey Martin ★ 79

DEFENSIVE END • EAST TEXAS STATE • 8th YEAR
HT: 6-5 • WT: 250 • BORN: 11/16/50 • D-3 FOR '73

PRO: The key to the Cowboys' vaunted pass rush for the past seven years has been Harvey Martin. Swooping in from his right end position, Martin has led or co-led the Cowboys in quarterback traps in each of those seven seasons, averaging 13.1 per year for a total of 92 (from '73-'79, 9-10-10-15-23-16-9). Last year, rebounding from an injury-plagued '78 season, Harvey developed a new inside rush to compliment his feared outside speed rush, which opponents were concentrating on taking away. "Every lineman I faced was surprised," Martin says. "You can imagine. They've seen one Harvey Martin for so long, and now they see another. You can see it in their eyes." In earning his fourth straight Pro Bowl trip, Martin was in on 89 tackles (50 primary) and contributed a pair of clutch performances to preserve two victories. His fourth-quarter sack of Steve DeBerg produced a game-clinching safety against San Francisco (9/9), and in the playoff-clinching victory at Philadelphia (12/8) Harvey had a sack and caused an incompletion with a hard rush on the Eagles' last series deep in Cowboys territory. Although he didn't miss a game in '78, leg and shoulder injuries hampered Martin throughout the season, in which he tied Randy White for the team lead in QB traps with 16. He had a big game in the NFC title contest at Los Angeles (1/7/79) with a team-leading seven tackles, a QB trap and a fumble recovery deep in Dallas territory in the fourth quarter. Harvey's '77 season was one of the greatest ever by an NFL defensive player — 85 tackles, a league-leading 23 traps, two fumble recoveries in the NFC title game, co-MVP with Randy White in the Super Bowl after two traps and relentless pressure on Craig Morton, consensus all-pro and NFL defensive player of the year. A fiery competitor, Martin has been the Cowboys' emotional leader on the field. He served as defensive co-captain from '77-'79. "He's the spark plug on our team," Bob Breunig says. "He lifts everyone." GAMES: 1973 (14), 1974 (14), 1975 (13), 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 101.

COLLEGE: Martin won NAIA, Football News and Associated Press All-America honors in 1972 when he helped steer East Texas State to the NAIA Division I championship. Harvey was named Lone Star Conference defensive player of the decade in June, '80.

PERSONAL: Harvey Banks Martin, a Dallas native and resident, is one of the area's most popular sports personalities. His off-field pursuits are barbecue and broadcasting. He is also a national radio voice for "7-11" stores and hosts a local radio sports show during the season.

Aaron Mitchell ★ 34

CORNERBACK • NEVADA-LAS VEGAS • 2nd YEAR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 196 • BORN: 12/15/56 • D-2 FOR '79

PRO: It didn't take Aaron Mitchell much time to make an impression. Not long into Mitchell's rookie training camp, teammate Charlie Waters, noting Aaron's initials and his vigorous playing style, nicknamed him "A.M.-P.M." "They're wide awake when he hits 'em, and their lights are out when he walks away," Charlie said. Mitchell saw a good deal of action last season as Benny Barnes' backup at left corner and as a special teams performer. Aaron played regularly on passing downs, and in his only start, against Cincinnati (9/30) with Barnes sidelined by a sore foot, he returned his only interception of the year 36 yards to the Bengals 12 to set up Dallas' clinching touchdown early in the second half. United Press International and Pro Football Weekly named Mitchell to their all-rookie teams. "He's a hard-nosed, tough defensive football player," Tom Landry says. "He has good speed and it doesn't bother him to get beat, which is really the knack of a good defensive back. He keeps competing. He's got a defensive temperament. He plays rough-and-tough, and that will take him a long way in our business." Overlooked somewhat as a collegian because he did not play in a big-time football program, Mitchell possesses excellent size and strength for a cornerback, and his 4.5 time in the 40-yard dash makes him one of the Cowboys' fastest players. GAMES: 1979 (16).

COLLEGE: Mitchell attended Morris Brown College in Atlanta, where he was All-Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference in '75, and College of the Canyons Junior College in Valencia, Calif., before transferring to Nevada-Las Vegas. A two-year starter at N-LV, Mitchell had eight interceptions and 21 pass-breakups.

PERSONAL: Aaron Templeton Mitchell, Jr., attended North Hollywood High School in his native Los Angeles. During the off-season he did promotional work for the Job Corps in Oklahoma and for the Census Bureau in Dallas. He also played with the Hoopsters, the Cowboys players' basketball team.

Robert Newhouse ★ 44

FULLBACK • HOUSTON • 9th YEAR
HT: 5-10 • WT: 215 • BORN: 1/9/50 • D-2 FOR '72

PRO: Broken bones have marred each of the past two seasons for Robert Newhouse just when he seemed to be heading for a big year. In the season-opener at St. Louis last year (9/2), Newhouse gained 108 yards and a touchdown, his fifth career 100-yard game. But late in the contest he suffered a stress fracture of his lower left leg. The break was not immediately discovered and Robert struggled through the next two games, missed games four and five, and did not regain his form until late in the season. Still, 'House became the Cowboys' third all-time leading rusher, finishing the year 822 yards behind No. 2 Calvin Hill (5,009). His biggest play came in the playoff-clinching victory at Philadelphia (12/8) when he raced 17 yards around right end for a third-quarter TD. In '78 Robert was enjoying one of his best seasons when a broken bone in his right leg struck him down against New Orleans (11/19), game 12. He missed the next three games, after playing in his first 96 straight as a pro. Still, 'House led the team in rushing TDs with eight and total TDs scored with 10, and in a key victory over Green Bay (11/12) he played the equivalent of a perfect game, receiving the highest grades ever by a Dallas running back in the coaches' film review. Besides rushing for 101 yards and two TDs (only the second time in club history two backs gained more than 100 yards in a game as Dorsett added 149) and catching four passes for 37 yards, Newhouse executed splendidly on run blocking, pass blocking, pass routes and fakes. That kind of consistency has been his trademark. The compactly built fullback has fumbled only seven times over the past four seasons (560 carries). He also has performed well in key games, such as Super Bowl XII when he tossed a 29-yard TD pass to Golden Richards to seal the victory over Denver. GAMES: 1972 (14), 1973 (14), 1974 (14), 1975 (14), 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (13), 1979 (14). Total — 111.

COLLEGE: En route to becoming Houston's all-time leading rusher (2,961), Newhouse set school records for yards rushing in a season (1,757) and carries (297) in '71. He averaged 6.4 yards per carry and scored 19 TDs in his career. Four times he rushed for more than 200 yards in a game, including 245 against Mississippi State in '69.

PERSONAL: Robert Fulton Newhouse and wife Nancy both were raised in the east Texas town of Hallsville. Robert has started his own pump business in Dallas, the All-Brand Pump Company, and he is studying for his master's in business administration at the University of Dallas. He and Nancy also have their real estate licenses. The Newhouses have three children, Roddrick Breon (5/21/75) and twin daughters Dawnyel and Shawntel (3/6/79).

Drew Pearson ★ 88

WIDE RECEIVER • TULSA • 8th YEAR
HT: 6-0 • WT: 183 • BORN: 1/12/51 • FA FOR '73

PRO: In the beginning he was overlooked, passed over by 26 NFL teams in the 1973 draft. Now he is among the most respected pass catchers in the league. Although not particularly big or fast, Drew Pearson is often spectacular and always consistent. Three times he has been named All-Pro ('74, '76, '77). Three times he has been selected for the Pro Bowl (same seasons). Innumerable times he has come through in the clutch. "I live for the pressure situations," Pearson says. "I thrive under the gun. I WANT to catch the ball over the middle in heavy traffic. That's how I made my name." Explains Tom Landry, "We count on Drew so much for the clutch catches because he runs such disciplined routes and can catch all kinds of passes." Last year Pearson moved within 30 catches of Bob Hayes' career club record and became the only Cowboys receiver besides Hayes with two 1,000-yard seasons. Drew and Tony Hill also became the first pair of NFC (or old NFL) receivers to each catch 1,000 yards worth of passes in the same season. And with Tony Dorsett rushing for more than 1,000 yards, the Cowboys became the first NFL team ever to have three 1,000-yarders in a season. A starter since midway through his rookie year, Drew had his streak of playing in 100 straight games broken last year when he stretched left knee ligaments spiking the ball after his third TD catch against the Giants (12/2) and missed the next game. Drew led NFC pass catchers in '76 with 58 receptions and he holds club records for catching passes in 58 consecutive games between '74 and '78 and in each of the past 13 playoff games. Pearson owns three of the most memorable catches in club history — a) an 83-yard fourth-quarter TD reception to beat the Rams in the '73 playoffs, b) a 50-yard scoring catch in the closing seconds to beat Washington on Thanksgiving 1974 and c) the 50-yard "Hail Mary" in the final 20 seconds that beat Minnesota in the '75 playoffs. Drew served as an offensive co-captain in '77 and '78. GAMES: 1973 (14), 1974 (14), 1975 (14), 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (15). Total — 101.

COLLEGE: As a senior Pearson caught a team-leading 33 passes for a run-oriented, 4-7 Tulsa team and received the university president's award as the team's "best spirited and most unselfish member." Drew succeeded Joe Theismann as quarterback at South River, N.J., High School but was converted to flanker at Tulsa.

PERSONAL: Drew Pearson is a national spokesman for the Distilled Spirits Council, which battles teenage alcohol abuse, and serves on the President's committee for the advancement of underprivileged youth. He is a partner with Harvey Martin in Smokey's Express barbecue restaurant in Dallas and during the season has a syndicated radio sports show. Drew founded the Cowboys players' off-season basketball team and is married to the daughter of former Harlem Globetrotters star Marques Haynes. Drew and Marsha Pearson have two daughters, Tori Nichole (7/23/74) and Britni Ja'Nae (8/6/79).

Preston Pearson ★ 26

RUNNING BACK • ILLINOIS • 14th YEAR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 196 • BORN: 1/17/45 • FA FOR '75

PRO: The Cowboys' 35-34 victory over Washington last year (12/16) was memorable in many ways, including the vintage performance of Preston Pearson. In demonstrating again why he is known as one of pro football's best receivers out of the backfield, Pearson caught five passes for 108 yards, mostly in crucial situations. He made a diving 26-yard touchdown catch at the end of the first half, and he had two catches for 47 yards in the Cowboys' final drive, including a 25-yarder to the Washington eight to set up the winning TD. "He has more moves than a wide receiver," Washington safety Mark Murphy said. Of Pearson's 26 receptions in '79, 23 accounted for first downs, including 16 third-down conversions. The dean of NFL running backs, Pearson did not even play college football, but Baltimore drafted him in the 12th round in '67. The Colts traded him with defensive back Ocie Austin to Pittsburgh in '70 for linebacker Ray May and a draft choice. Released by the Steelers shortly before the start of the '75 season, Pearson was signed by Dallas as a free agent and helped guide the Cowboys to Super Bowl X. Preston held the starting tailback position from '75 until Tony Dorsett took over 10 games into the '77 season. Yet because of the shotgun formation and Pearson's receiving ability, Tom Landry has considered him a vital ingredient in the team's offensive success. In '77 Preston set the club receiving record for a running back with 46 catches, then broke it the next season with a team-leading 47. He is the only player to appear in Super Bowls with three different teams (Baltimore, Pittsburgh and Dallas) and his five Super Bowl appearances is a record shared by seven other players. Pearson was Super Bowl XII's leading receiver with five catches for 37 yards against Denver. GAMES: 1967 (7/Balt.), 1968 (14), 1969 (14), 1970 (14/Pitt.), 1971 (14), 1972 (11), 1973 (14), 1974 (9), 1975 (14/Dal.), 1976 (10), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (14). Total — 165 (68/Dal.)

COLLEGE: Pearson earned All-Big 10 basketball honors at Illinois after making the team as a freshman walk-on.

PERSONAL: Preston James Pearson, a native of Freeport, Ill., has numerous business interests. Preston Pearson, Inc., is a Dallas novelty merchandising firm. He's also a marketing executive for Time, Inc.'s, national cable TV company, American Television and Communications Corporation, and founder and treasurer of Consolidated Management Enterprises, which represents professional athletes. Preston and wife Linda have two sons, Gregory (12/28/69) and Matthew (9/29/72).

Tom Rafferty ★ 64

GUARD • PENN STATE • 5th YEAR
HT: 6-3 • WT: 250 • BORN: 8/2/54 • D-4 FOR '76

PRO: Despite having only four years in the NFL behind him, Tom Rafferty already is a seasoned veteran. Considered the top pulling guard in the '76 draft by Cowboys scouts, Rafferty has been a starter since his second season. Following a rookie year on the special teams, Rafferty replaced retired All-Pro Blaine Nye as the starting right guard after working at left guard and center during training camp. Rafferty spelled injured John Fitzgerald at center for two games during that '77 season. In '78 Tom Landry used Rafferty and Burton Lawless as play messengers at right guard because of the development of Tony Hill at wide receiver, the position used in '77, and because of a pulled calf muscle that hobbled Rafferty in training camp. Vowing to play well enough so "they can't take me out," Tom won the job outright last year and played consistently well, particularly in his run blocking. His best effort came in the crucial playoff-clinching victory at Philadelphia (12/8), after which he was voted the Cowboys Oak Farms MVP award by the local media, the first of his career. "His consistency and intensity are his two best traits," offensive line coach Jim Myers says. "He knows his job well and has a desire to excel. He's a tremendous competitor." Rafferty, Fitzgerald, Pat Donovan and Jim Cooper form the Cowboys' Irish Connection, offensive linemen of Irish heritage. Rafferty also is the snapper on field goals and extra points. GAMES: 1976 (13), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 59.

RAFFERTY, Cont.

COLLEGE: Tom was a four-year starting guard at Penn State, earning All-America honors from the Football News and Football Writers Association in 1975.

PERSONAL: Thomas Michael Rafferty was born in Syracuse and grew up in Manlius, N.Y., where he became a high school All-America in lacrosse in addition to playing football and basketball. Last off-season Tom worked as a mortgage investment analyst for Gulfco Capital Management in Dallas and studied toward his master's in business at the University of Dallas-Irving. Tom's wife's name is Donna.

Jay Saldi ★ 87

TIGHT END • SOUTH CAROLINA • 5th YEAR
HT: 6-3 • WT: 227 • BORN: 10/8/54 • FA FOR '76

PRO: After sitting out the last 11 games of the '78 season with a broken right forearm, versatile Jay Saldi returned in '79 and once again gave the Cowboys' receiving corps a unique flexibility. "Jay runs the best routes around," tight ends coach Mike Ditka says. "He's got the unique situation of being something of a combination tight end-wide receiver. In fact, you would have to say he's almost a wide receiver with a tight end's size and blocking ability." Serving as a second tight end and sometimes as a third wide receiver, Saldi caught a career-best 14 passes last season, including a personal single-game high of four for 66 yards, including a 23-yard TD reception, against Los Angeles (10/14). Jay also had the distinction of catching Roger Staubach's last touchdown pass, a two-yarder that sent Dallas ahead in the fourth quarter of its playoff loss to Los Angeles. A free agent long-shot in '76, Jay first made his mark as a rugged special teams performer. Tom Landry called him the team's most improved player after '77 training camp and named Saldi special teams captain, a post he held until he was hurt the following season against St. Louis (9/24). Jay contributed a number of big plays in '77. He scored three touchdowns, two by air and one by sliding eight yards on his back with a fumbled Giants punt. (A native of the New York City area, Jay has scored two of his career six touchdowns at Giants Stadium.) He set up the winning TD at Philadelphia (10/23) by blocking a punt that Charlie Waters ran in, and he had a key fumble recovery on a punt in the '77 NFC championship game against Minnesota (1/1). "Jay's a fine overall football player," Landry says. "He's utilized in so many ways. We used him more last year than we had in the past, and he helped us quite a bit." GAMES: 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (4), 1979 (16). Total — 59.

COLLEGE: Saldi began his South Carolina career as a 205-pound defensive end after becoming a high-school All-America linebacker at White Plains, N.Y. Later switched to tight end, he caught just 15 passes in his career, but impressed the Cowboys with his overall athletic ability.

PERSONAL: John Jay Saldi IV (pronounced (SAL-dee) coaches the Hoopsters, the Cowboys players' off-season basketball team, which compiled a 28-5 record in '80. In '79 Jay starred in a Dallas-produced film called "Squezze Play" with Too Tall Jones, Drew Pearson and Thomas Henderson. Jay and wife Brenda were married Jan. 26.

Herbert Scott ★ 68

GUARD • VIRGINIA UNION • 6th YEAR
HT: 6-2 • WT: 252 • BORN: 1/18/53 • D-13 FOR '75

PRO: Low-keyed and soft-spoken though he might be, Herbert Scott is steady, dependable and well on his way to becoming one of the best at what he does. Rising from the obscurity of being a 13th-round draft pick from Virginia Union, Scott barely made the team in '75, but he won the regular left guard position the following year and has been collecting a host of honors since 1978. Scott was named first-team All-NFC by United Press International that season. Last year he earned his first Pro Bowl berth, received All-NFC honors from UPI again plus the Sporting News, and was named to the Sports Illustrated All-Pro team. That quiet demeanor obviously hides an aggressive football personality. Herbert is regarded as the Cowboys' best open field blocker, consistently ranks at or near the top as a pass blocker and is seldom penalized. "He had his best year yet," offensive line coach Jim Myers said. "He's worked very hard and really improved every year." Herbert was not bothered the past two seasons by the hamstring problems that plagued him in the past. Although he did not miss any games in '76, Scott spent the latter part of the season as a play messenger with Burton Lawless. In '77 the painful hamstring injury cost Herbert four starts and half of two other games. Although Pat Donovan and he currently are the club's most decorated offensive linemen, Scott remains unconcerned about personal honors. "I usually get my satisfaction when the running backs get the recognition," he states. GAMES: 1975 (14), 1976 (14), 1977 (11), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 71.

COLLEGE: Scott was a versatile offensive performer at Virginia Union, playing guard, tackle and tight end. He also was a top shot putter for the track team.

PERSONAL: Herbert Carnell Scott, Jr., was employed last off-season by A. L. Williams & Associates, a Dallas financial planning firm. He also has been a school teacher in his native Virginia Beach, Va. Herb has a unique hobby — gospel singing. Herbert's wife Gayle is a counselor at the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School.

Rafael Septien ★ 1

KICKER • SOUTHWEST LOUISIANA • 4th YEAR
HT: 5-9 • WT: 171 • BORN: 12/12/53 • FA FOR '78

PRO: Although he went through three holders last year (Waters, Carano and D. White), Rafael Septien had his most consistent season in '79, including two late game-winning field goals. "Rafael was much improved last year over the previous year," Tom Landry says. "He was more consistent in his kicking and his stroke." The NFC's third leading scorer last year, Septien twice equaled his career best of three field goals in a game, and both times he won the game with dramatic kicks. In the season-opener at St. Louis (9/2), he converted a 22-yarder off the left upright with 1:16 left to pull out a 22-21 victory. At Giants Stadium (11/4) his 22-yarder with three seconds remaining gave Dallas a 16-14 triumph. (In pre-season Septien booted a 47-yarder with six seconds to go to beat Pittsburgh 16-14.) Septien hit 51-yarders, his personal best, against San Francisco (9/9) and St. Louis (10/21). He again was very accurate inside the 40, hitting 14-of-18 tries to raise his career mark in that range to 43-of-52 (83 percent). Drafted by New Orleans in the 10th round in '77, Septien was released during training camp and signed by Los Angeles. A consensus all-rookie selection and the NFC's fourth-leading scorer in '77, Septien was beaten out in '78 training camp by Frank Corral and released by the Rams after the final pre-season game. The Cowboys immediately signed Septien (8/30) to replace Efren Herrera, who had been traded that summer to Seattle. Rafael kicked a 47-yarder into the wind at 3:28 of overtime at St. Louis (10/15) to give the Cowboys a 24-21 victory, the most dramatic moment of his first Cowboys season. Also that year he converted two

48-yarders and twice had three field goals in a game. GAMES: 1977 (14/L.A.), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 46 (32/Dal.)

COLLEGE: Septien earned All-Southland Conference honors the final two seasons of a three-year career at Southwest Louisiana.

PERSONAL: Jose Rafael Septien Michel (rah-fay-EL sep-tee-EN), a Mexico City native, is the son of Carlos Septien, a member of two Mexican World Cup soccer teams. Rafael is a celebrity in Mexico where he has appeared in movies, television commercials and on numerous magazine covers. One of the Cowboys' best all-around athletes, Septien won the '80 NFL Players Association racquetball tournament. Rafael and wife Linda were married Nov. 24, 1979. Their Dallas home was built by Cowboys safety Randy Hughes' company.

Robert Shaw ★ 52

CENTER • TENNESSEE • 2nd YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 260 • BORN: 10/15/56 • D-1 FOR '79

PRO: Robert Shaw was the first center ever to be named a first-round draft choice by the Cowboys and the first offensive lineman to be the team's No. 1 pick since guard John Niland in 1966. A bit undersized in his rookie year at about 240-245 pounds, Shaw worked diligently in the off-season both at the practice field and the dinner table, and he got his weight up to 260. Last season Shaw played regularly on the special teams and started one game at center when John Fitzgerald was injured. Fitzgerald hurt a knee in the first half at Washington (11/18) and Shaw performed well through the remainder of the game, earning the starting berth the following game, Thanksgiving Day, against Houston (11/22), while Fitzgerald recovered. Shaw handled himself competently against Houston's tough veteran nose tackle, Curly Culp, giving the Cowboys encouragement for the future. "Curly stymied me a couple of times on running plays," Shaw said. "I thought I did all right in the first half, a lot better in the second. I don't think I made many mistakes. Curly didn't get any sacks and he didn't have too many tackles, and he's supposed to be one of the best." Says offensive line coach Jim Myers, "Shaw's three best traits are desire, quickness and aggressiveness. He's a fighter and a worker." GAMES: 1979 (16).

COLLEGE: A three-year starter who co-captained the Volunteers as a senior, Shaw earned All-Southeastern Conference honors the final two seasons and started in both the East-West Shrine game and Senior Bowl. He was named second-team All-America by the Newspaper Enterprise Association in '78.

PERSONAL: Born in Tuscaloosa, Ala., Robert Leslie Shaw graduated from Wheeler High School in Georgia where, in addition to playing football and becoming state lineman of the year, he also played basketball and swam competitively. Robert was married Dec. 15, 1979 (Elizabeth) and in the off-season worked for Barnes Manufacturing in Dallas building roof trusses.

Ron Springs ★ 20

FULLBACK • OHIO STATE • 2nd YEAR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 210 • BORN: 11/4/56 • D-5C FOR '79

PRO: Based on his rookie performance, Ron Springs may turn out to be one of the Cowboys' best bargains ever. A disappointing college senior year marred by a knee injury caused pro scouts to downgrade Springs. But the Cowboys took a chance late in the fifth round and made him the 167th player chosen in the '79 draft. Springs came through better than anyone expected, filling in exceptionally well at tailback in three victories when Tony Dorsett was injured. In the season-opener at St. Louis (9/2) Ron rushed for 30 yards, caught two passes and threw a 30-yard TD pass to Tony Hill in the fourth quarter. Springs took over for Dorsett late in the first half at Philadelphia (12/8) and rushed for 62 yards, including 49 in the second half, as the Cowboys clinched a playoff berth. Then in the dramatic comeback victory over Washington (12/16) that won the NFC East championship, Springs rushed for 79 yards and one TD, and caught six passes for 58 yards, including a 26-yard TD reception late in the fourth-quarter rally. Because of his style — part power back, part breakaway threat, excellent receiver — the Dallas coaching staff asked Springs to gain 10 pounds and move to fullback for 1980. "He's a tough, hard-nosed, slashing-type runner," Tom Landry says. "He has a knack for hitting the hole and is a strong, powerful runner. He also has good speed and catches the ball well."

SPRINGS, Cont.

Ron led the Cowboys in kickoff returns in '79. GAMES: 1979 (16).

COLLEGE: Springs was the Junior College player of the year in '76 at Coffeyville, Kan., J.C. after rushing for 1,800 yards and 25 touchdowns. He led Ohio State in rushing and receiving as a junior with 1,166 yards on the ground and another 90 on 16 receptions. He managed 585 yards rushing in his injury-plagued senior year. Springs also ran sprint relays for the Buckeyes track team.

PERSONAL: Ronald Edward Springs is a most enterprisIng young man. His endeavors have included volunteering his time to the Dallas Society for Crippled Children and the Easter Seals, promoting two Ron Springs disco parties, signing a contract to do public relations for John's Jeans of Texas, Arkansas and Oklahoma, and working for the Dallas NBC affiliate (KXAS) as a sports reporter. Ron is a native of Williamsburg, Va.

Dave Stalls ★ 65

DEFENSIVE TACKLE • NORTHERN COLORADO • 4th YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 255 • BORN: 9/19/55 • D-7 FOR '77

PRO: For all of his relatively brief career, Dave Stalls has been the underdog who keeps doing things no one expects. He made the team in '77 despite not being a high draft choice, not playing big-time college football and not being very big for a defensive lineman at 235 pounds. In '78 he pleasantly surprised everyone by emerging as a fine third-down pass rushing specialist spelling Jethro Pugh or Larry Cole at left tackle. Using his exceptional quickness, he produced four QB traps (fourth best on the team), assisted on another and had a trap for a nine-yard loss in the NFC championship game at Los Angeles. Last year he unexpectedly won the starting left tackle position in pre-season and started the first 12 games until John Dutton took over at left end and Cole was moved back to left tackle. Despite that disappointment, Stalls continued to assert himself on passing downs, finishing with five traps (tying Randy White for fourth best) and two assists. He had two traps in the Cowboys' key Dec. 2 victory over the Giants, including a crucial six-yard sack of Phil Simms on fourth down of a second-half goal line stand by Dallas. "I didn't like it from a personal standpoint because I'm a competitor," Stalls said of losing the starting job. "But if it helps us get to the Super Bowl I'm all for it. I'll keep my nose in there and hope to regain the starting role. I'm not giving up." Says Tom Landry, "Dave Stalls is a good, young, experienced lineman. He's helped us in third-down situations because he's a good pass rusher." GAMES: 1977 (11), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). TOTAL — 43.

COLLEGE: Stalls earned Little All-America honors at defensive tackle following his senior year in which he captained Northern Colorado's defense.

PERSONAL: David Milton Stalls is studying toward his master's degree in marine biology at California State-Long Beach, where he and wife Terri live in the off-season. Dave's specialty is shark behavioral research, a subject in which he plans to get his doctorate. He holds an undergraduate degree in zoology. He also belongs to the National Audubon Society. Dave was born in Madison, Wisc., and raised in Hamilton, Ohio.

Bruce Thornton ★ 77

DEFENSIVE LINEMAN • ILLINOIS • 2nd YEAR
HT: 6-5 • WT: 266 • BORN: 2/14/58 • D-8 FOR '79

PRO: Like a couple of noteworthy rookie predecessors, Bruce Thornton broke in with the Cowboys as a third-down pass rushing specialist. "This is the way Harvey Martin and Too Tall Jones started," Thornton says. "It's fun because I just come in, get revved up and rush as hard as I can." And like Harvey and Too Tall as rookies, Thornton had people envisioning his future as an exciting one. Despite limited playing time, Thornton finished second to Martin last year in quarterback traps with six, plus two assisted traps, rushing from the strong (or left) end position. Showing speed and agility to go along with his obvious size and strength, Thornton beat out two defensive linemen drafted ahead of him to earn a spot on the team. His top effort came against Chicago (9/16) when he had two quarterback traps, batted down a pass and blocked an extra point attempt. Two weeks later against Cincinnati (9/30) Thornton intercepted a pass caused by Martin's pressure on QB Jack Thompson. "He was our best rookie lineman from the start," Tom Landry says. "He wanted to make it very badly. He had the aggressiveness and the competitiveness that you look for in a defender. I would say he probably has the best potential of all our backup linemen because of his size and speed." Thornton worked at both defensive end and tackle, and Landry planned to try him at both positions again in '80 to determine where Thornton performs best. GAMES: 1979 (16).

COLLEGE: Bruce led the Big 10 in quarterback sacks in '77 with 10, but was demoted to second-string in his senior year as Illinois went with a youth movement. Thornton's 32 career sacks placed him fifth on Illinois' all-time list. He was a two-time Academic All-Big 10 and a second-team Academic All-America.

PERSONAL: Bruce Edward Thornton, a Detroit native, turned down college scholarship offers for his saxophone playing to accept one for football. In the off-season Bruce worked in sales for Toyota of Irving. He also was married on April 5, 1980. His wife's name is Denise.

Dennis Thurman ★ 32

SAFETY-CORNERBACK • SOUTHERN CAL • 3rd YEAR
HT: 5-11 • WT: 170 • BORN: 4/13/56 • D-11 FOR '78

PRO: Whatever Dennis Thurman lacks in size and speed, he makes up for in intelligence. A natural safety, his college position, Thurman made the Cowboys as a long-shot in '78 at cornerback, although the long-term projection for him is at safety. "He has a great knack for the ball because he's smart and has a lot of good football sense," Tom Landry says. Thurman impressed teammate Charlie Waters from the start. "Dennis really studied our system, and he wanted to know WHY we did this or that," Waters said. "He asked such interesting questions that I thought, 'Hey, he's a player.' He just has this great feel for split-second analysis, that innate knack for being where the ball is."

THURMAN, Cont.

Dennis excelled on special teams during his rookie year, but he also got to play more than expected at cornerback when injuries hit Benny Barnes and Mark Washington. Thurman intercepted passes against Green Bay (11/12) and the New York Jets (12/17). He was voted the Cowboys' top special teams performer by the local media in Super Bowl XIII and the overall playoffs. His biggest play came when he recovered an onside kick that led to the Cowboys' final TD in the Super Bowl. Last season he regularly replaced linebacker D. D. Lewis on passing situations and started against Washington (12/16) at cornerback, although he also played strong safety, with Randy Hughes injured. In the divisional playoff game against Los Angeles he came up with a third-quarter interception, although the Cowboys failed to capitalize. GAMES: 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 32.

COLLEGE: Thurman led the nation in interception return yardage in '76 with 180 yards on eight steals. He had 13 career interceptions, six pass break-ups, seven fumble recoveries and was a two-time consensus All-America safety.

PERSONAL: Dennis Lee Thurman has a degree in journalism and hopes for a career in broadcasting. The Santa Monica, Calif., native returned to Southern Cal in the off-season to take speech courses and to help coach defensive backs in the Trojans' spring practice. Other interests include working with underprivileged children and commercial banking.

Charlie Waters ★ 41

SAFETY • CLEMSON • 10th YEAR
HT: 6-2 • WT: 200 • BORN: 9/10/48 • D-3 FOR '70

PRO: Maybe the biggest blow to the Cowboys' chances of returning to the Super Bowl last year came on the night of Aug. 12 in the Seattle Kingdome when strong safety Charlie Waters went down untouched with a torn ligament in his right knee. After playing in every Cowboys game of the decade — 128 straight — Waters, an All-Pro, was out for the '79 season. For the Cowboys, their defense was robbed of its heart and soul. "He studies probably more than any other member of the defense," Aaron Kyle says. "He knows what everyone — linebackers, linemen included — is supposed to do in every situation. With him calling the plays in the secondary, it's easy not to worry about messing up an assignment." As soon as the cast came off, Charlie began working furiously to regain the form that has made him a two-time All-Pro selection ('77-'78) and three-time Pro Bowl choice ('76-'77-'78). "I want to be the best in the league," he says. "I don't want to go through the motions. I want to be All-Pro for the next three seasons." Waters started the new decade needing one interception to tie Cornell Green for second place on the Cowboys' all-time list. A big-game, big-play performer, Waters first earned All-Pro recognition during the Cowboys' '77 Super Bowl championship season when, in addition to three interceptions, he blocked two punts and had a game-clinching TD run with a blocked punt at Philadelphia (10/23). He has been superb in the playoffs, including five Super Bowls, and he holds the NFL career playoff record for most interceptions with nine. Waters' three interceptions against Chicago (12/26/77) is an NFC divisional playoff game record, and his two interceptions and one fumble recovery sparked Dallas over the Rams in the '78 NFC championship game (1/7/79). Personable and popular, Charlie won the Oak Farms Favorite Cowboys contest in '78, the only player other than Roger Staubach to win the award in the past six years. Things weren't always so rosy for Charlie, who became the starting strong safety in '76. He spent his first six seasons bouncing sometimes less than triumphantly between cornerback and safetyman. WATERS, Cont.

COLLEGE: Waters played quarterback at Clemson until his final 15 games when he was moved to wide receiver. He caught 68 passes, including 44 for 738 yards in '69, a school season record that stood until '77.

PERSONAL: Charles Tutan Waters was born in Miami, Fla., and raised in North Augusta, S.C. On May 9, 1980 he was elected to the South Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame, which honored him as the state's pro athlete of the year in '78. Among the projects developed and marketed by Charlie's company, Pro*Motion*, is a new line of Willie Nelson western wear. Charlie and wife Rosie, a model-singer-actress, have a son, Jon Cody (12/16/77).

Danny White ★ 11

QUARTERBACK • ARIZONA STATE • 5th YEAR
HT: 6-2 • WT: 192 • BORN: 2/9/52 • D-3A FOR '74

PRO: "I have worked hard since I've been here just to get myself in the position for the opportunity to start," Danny White says. "I've got that opportunity right now." It came, after four years of waiting, on March 31 when White inherited the Cowboys' starting quarterback job upon the announcement of Roger Staubach's retirement. Staubach won't be easy to replace, but among White's teammates and coaches there's no lack of confidence in his ability. "Danny White has the experience and background to step in and play," Tom Landry says. "He is a very smart quarterback who understands our offense. And he has a lot of the same leadership qualities that Roger had." White proved himself under pressure twice in '78 when Staubach was injured. In the regular-season finale at the New York Jets (12/17) he completed 15-of-24 passes for 156 yards in a strong wind to lead Dallas to a 30-7 victory. Two weeks later in the divisional playoff against Atlanta (12/30) the Cowboys appeared doomed when Staubach was knocked out at the end of the first half with the Cowboys trailing 20-13. But White drove Dallas to two TDs in the second half, one on a two-yard pass to Jackie Smith, to pull out a 27-20 victory. White joined the Cowboys in '76 after two years with the World Football League's Memphis Southmen in which he completed 183-of-350 passes (52.3 percent) for 2,635 yards and 21 TDs. As a Cowboys rookie White threw two TD passes in a 31-21 victory over Chicago (10/24/76) after Staubach left with a hand injury. White had his best year punting last season, finishing second in the NFC and booming the fourth longest punt in club history, 73 yards against Los Angeles (10/14). But Landry was hoping to find a replacement to allow Danny to concentrate on quarterbacking. GAMES: 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (16). Total — 60.

D. WHITE, Cont.

COLLEGE: White set seven NCAA passing records in leading ASU to a three-year record of 32-4. Also a fine runner, he finished second in the nation in total offense in '73. Danny also played the infield for ASU's outstanding baseball team and was drafted by four major league teams.

PERSONAL: Wilford Daniel White is the son of former Arizona State All-America halfback Wilford "Whizzer" White, who played for the Chicago Bears in '51 and '52. A Mesa, Ariz., native, Danny works in the off-season in Dallas for David Albert Oil & Gas Company and Henry S. Miller Real Estate. Danny and wife Jo Lynn have three children — Ryan (4/26/73), Geoffrey (1/4/76) and Heather (9/3/78).

Randy White ★ 54

DEFENSIVE TACKLE • MARYLAND • 6th YEAR
HT: 6-4 • WT: 250 • BORN: 1/15/53 • D-1A FOR '75

PRO: Tom Landry says any championship team needs a few "gamemakers," players of such singular talent they can single-handedly control a game's outcome. Randy White is one such player. "The guy is phenomenal. He just doesn't have any bad games," Landry says. "They can slow him down a little but they can't stop him." Statistics like number of tackles and quarterback traps are meaningless in White's case because, as defensive coordinator Ernie Stautner says, "Teams have to double and triple team Randy on pass rush. He gets so much attention from the opposing team that it just makes it easier for everybody else." The Cowboys' strongest player (he can bench-press 475 pounds), the one dubbed "Manster" (half man, half monster) by Charlie Waters, White was a unanimous All-Pro selection in '79 for the second straight season and also was voted to the Pro Bowl for the third consecutive year. Considering he became the starting right tackle only three years ago after two seasons as a backup linebacker (yes, he's quick too), that's an awful lot achieved in a relatively short time. Last season also had its share of frustration for Randy because of a right foot ligament he hurt in the 11th game against Philadelphia (11/12). The injury reduced his playing time and effectiveness the rest of the way and caused him to miss his first football game ever, Thanksgiving Day against Houston. He finished the season with five QB traps, including three in one game against St. Louis (10/21). He also had the key fumble recovery that began the Cowboys' dramatic two touchdown rally against Washington (12/16). In '78 White tied Harvey Martin for the team lead in QB traps with 16 and nearly led the club in solo tackles, an unheard of accomplishment for a defensive lineman, with 75, one less than team-leader Waters. He succeeded Martin as the Seagram's Seven Crowns of Sport defensive lineman of the year and was voted NFC defensive player of the year by United Press International and the Kansas City Committee of 101. In '77 Randy capped his first season at defensive tackle with an awesome performance in Super Bowl XII that earned him the game's co-MVP award with Martin. Says Waters, "He's the best football player I've ever seen. A coach's dream. All the accolades — strong, fast, determined, smart, a team player, a leader, a big-play guy. I get a lot of energy from him." GAMES: 1975 (14), 1976 (14), 1977 (14), 1978 (16), 1979 (15). Total — 73.

COLLEGE: A consensus All-America at defensive end in '74, White won the Outland Trophy and Vince Lombardi Award as college football's outstanding lineman that year. He was the second player chosen in the '75 draft.

PERSONAL: In the off-season Randy Lee White lives on his farm in Landenberg, Pa., near his hometown of Wilmington, Del. Randy and wife Vicki, a model, have a daughter, Jordan Leigh (5/6/79).

Steve Wilson ★ 81

CORNERBACK • HOWARD • 2nd YEAR
HT: 5-10 • WT: 192 • BORN: 8/24/57 • FA FOR '79

PRO: Looking to bolster an injury-weakened secondary and also to ease the logjam at wide receiver, the Cowboys moved Steve Wilson to cornerback following his rookie season as a backup wide receiver. "Wilson is a good athlete," defensive backfield coach Gene Stallings says. "He has quickness and he did a great job in making the play on the ball during our work in off-season practices. What's more, it's pretty hard to play behind Drew Pearson, Tony Hill and Butch Johnson and expect to move right up." With '79 starters Benny Barnes and Aaron Kyle both coming off surgery, the cornerback position caused some concern for the Cowboys in preparing for the '80 season. Wilson displayed his versatility last year as a kick returner and special teams standout, and he does have experience as a defensive back. In high school in North Carolina he was selected to the all-state team as a safety. The Cowboys released Wilson near the end of last year's training camp, but the Tuesday before the season opener Gil Brandt reached Steve at his grandmother's house in Durham, where he was looking for a job, and asked him to replace Butch Johnson, who broke a finger in the preseason finale. Wilson led the Cowboys in punt returns and also excelled on the other special teams. He received a game ball from the coaching staff after making seven tackles on the specials against Cincinnati (9/30). He had an 84-yard kickoff return for a touchdown against Chicago (9/16) called back because of a Dallas penalty. GAMES: 1979 (16).

COLLEGE: Wilson finished his four-year Howard career as the Washington, D.C., school's all-time leading receiver and kick returner. Steve caught 94 passes for 1,339 yards and 12 TDs, all Howard records. He earned All-Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference honors in '78.

PERSONAL: Steven Anthony Wilson, born in Los Angeles and raised in Durham, N.C., is the son of "Touchdown" Tommy Wilson, a two-time Pro Bowl running back during a six-year career with the Rams ('56-'61). In '56 Tom Wilson rushed for 223 yards against Green Bay, the Rams' single-game record until '71. He also played for the Browns and Vikings. Steve, who holds a degree in marketing, worked for Ryder Truck Rental in Dallas in the off-season.

THE ROOKIES

(1980 Draftees)

ROE

JONES

BILL ROE • Linebacker • Colorado

Ht: 6-3 • Wt: 230 • Born: 2/6/58 • D-3a

Without their first two draft choices for the first time since 1967, when their No. 1, No. 2 and two No. 5s went to Houston for the rights to tackle Ralph Neely, the Cowboys selected linebacker Bill Roe of Colorado with their first pick in the 1980 draft. Roe, the Big Eight's leading tackler last season and the first player in conference history to win defensive player-of-the-week honors two weeks in a row, was chosen with Chicago's third-round pick, obtained in the 1978 trading of wide receiver Golden Richards. The Cowboys traded their first two 1980 picks to Baltimore last October for John Dutton.

"To me the key to helping the team was Roe," Coach Tom Landry says. "Roe has good size, speed and intelligence. He's an impressive physical specimen. We're going to try him at strong linebacker first, let him compete with others to try to firm up that position."

A two-year starter at an inside spot, Roe missed the final two games of his junior season with a right knee injury, which required surgery in the off-season. He missed spring practice and started slowly last season, but then came on strong in the second half of the year.

Last season Roe was credited with 162 tackles, including 10 for 53 yards in losses, three quarterback traps for 30 yards in losses and a team-leading three interceptions for 96 yards. In the last two games, when he earned his defensive player-of-the-week awards, Roe had 12 unassisted tackles and a trap against Kansas followed by 24 tackles (nine unassisted) and two interceptions against Kansas State. He also made 18 tackles against Missouri and returned an interception 69 yards for a touchdown against Nebraska. Roe was a business major at Colorado and in 1978 he won the school's heavyweight boxing championship.

Born in South Bend, Ind., William Oliver Roe II attended Thornwood High School in South Holland, Ill., earning 10 letters in football, basketball, track and baseball.

JAMES JONES • Running Back • Mississippi State

Ht: 5-10 • Wt: 201 • Born: 12/6/58 • D-3b

In James "Yogi" Jones, the Cowboys drafted a versatile offensive performer who can run, catch and throw. As a junior, Jones rushed for a team-leading 687 yards (5.3 per carry) and 10 touchdowns, caught 24 passes for 237 yards and three touchdowns, and completed two halfback passes for 63 yards and two TDs. In his career he also returned eight kickoffs, including a 92-yarder for a touchdown last year against Maryland.

After his fine junior season, however, the Vicksburg, Miss., native suffered strained right knee ligaments and missed the final seven games of his senior season. He finished with 202 yards rushing (5.5 per carry). For his career, Jones rushed for 1,416 yards (5.4 average) and 14 touchdowns, caught 29 passes for 274 yards and three touchdowns, completed 3-of-6 passes for 72 yards and two TDs and returned 24 kickoffs for a 21.2 yard average and one TD.

"He'll fit in the tailback slot behind Tony Dorsett," Landry says. "Where we picked up our thoughts on him was the year before when he ran from the 'I' (Mississippi State went to the 'wishbone' in '79). I think he's a pretty instinctive runner who might also figure as a kick returner. He turned in a lot of yardage and was impressive as a junior. You can't teach a back to run the football. He has the instincts or he doesn't. Jones has them, although he's not a burner."

Jones' best games came in his junior year when he rushed for 162 yards (third highest single-game total in school history) on 30 carries against Louisiana State and for 114 yards and four touchdowns, including a 72-yard scoring run, on just 10 carries against Memphis State. He was the nation's seventh leading scorer that year with 13 touchdowns for 78 points. He was second-team All-SEC in both '78 wire service polls and was named first team Academic All-SEC that year.

KURT PETERSEN • Offensive Lineman • Missouri

Ht: 6-4 • Wt: 251 • Born: 6/17/57 • D-4

Kurt Petersen started both at "stand-up" defensive end and defensive tackle for Missouri, but the Cowboys planned to try him as an offensive lineman. "I think he has the ability to play offense," Landry says. "That's the kind of lineman you like to pick, the kind that has a two-way shot. We'll start him on offense."

Petersen made 53 tackles in '78 from his "stand-up" defensive end position, including nine for 30 yards in losses. His biggest play came when he teamed with linebacker Chris Garlich to stop Vagas Ferguson on fourth-down at the Missouri one-yard line in the Tigers' big upset of Notre Dame. Named a co-captain in '79, Petersen was moved to tackle to give Missouri more inside quickness. He had 63 tackles and tied for the team lead in fumble recoveries with four. He is a native of St. Louis.

GARY HOGEBOOM • Quarterback • Central Michigan

Ht: 6-4 • Wt: 201 • Born: 8/21/58 • D-5

Gary Hogeboom (pronounced HOAG-ih-boom) was named the Mid American Conference player of the year in 1979 after leading Central Michigan to its first conference championship. A tall, strong-armed passer with the mobility necessary to run Central Michigan's triple option offense, Hogeboom led his team to a 19-2-1 record in his two years as a starter. In his career Hogeboom started 28 games and Central Michigan won 24. Despite directing a run-oriented offense, he had two straight 1,000-yard passing seasons. He passed for 3,088 career yards (208-of-395, 53 percent) and 19 touchdowns, and he rushed for 957 yards and 16 TDs.

Hogeboom blossomed during the second half of his junior season, directing the Chippewas to victories in their last seven games as the offense averaged 413 yards and 34 points per game. In his senior year he completed 61 percent of his passes (92-of-150) for 1,404 yards and nine touchdowns. He holds the school's career total offense record of 4,045 yards. Hogeboom is from Grand Rapids, Mich.

TIMMY NEWSOME • Fullback • Winston-Salem

Ht: 6-1 • Wt: 227 • Born: 5/17/58 • D-6

The leading rusher and scorer in the Central Intercollegiate Athletic Association (CIAA) the past three seasons, Timmy Newsome possesses size, strength and natural running ability in addition to his impressive credentials. In his four-year career, Newsome rushed for 3,843 yards (6.1 per carry) and 38 touchdowns. As a starter he picked up 908 yards and 14 TDs in '77, 1,377 yards (7.5 per carry) and 14 TDs in '78 and 987 yards and nine TDs in '79. He also caught 13 career passes for 156 yards and two touchdowns. His '78 rushing total was second among NCAA Division II rushers.

Newsome earned NAIA Division I first-team All-America honors the past two seasons and was voted CIAA Coaches player of the year in '79. He was the 1980 Black All-Star game's leading rusher with 80 yards on 12 carries, including a nine-yard touchdown, and he gained 44 yards on 11 carries in the Blue-Gray game. He grew up in Ahoskie, N.C.

LESTER BROWN • Cornerback • Clemson

Ht: 5-11 • Wt: 178 • Born: 1/5/57 • D-7

After rushing for 2,228 yards, including a 1,000-yard season in 1978, and setting a Clemson record for career touchdowns with 32, Lester Brown was drafted by the Cowboys and immediately converted to cornerback. "An excellent tailback, but he's not big enough to play that in our league," says Landry. "He runs a 4.6, which is awful quick. We talked to him about playing defense and he said he'll play any place we want him to play. We worked him out and running backward he looked pretty good. If he makes it, we'll have a very good, very fast athlete."

Brown rushed for 1,022 yards and 17 touchdowns in '78 to earn All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors and become the fourth leading scorer in the nation. He missed three games with cracked ribs in '79 when his rushing production fell to 605 yards. He is a native of Georgetown, S.C.

LARRY SAVAGE • Linebacker • Michigan State

Ht: 6-3 • Wt: 221 • Born: 6/18/57 • D-8

A two-year starter and four-year letterman, Larry Savage was selected by the Cowboys as an outside linebacker prospect. "He has the size and speed we look for," Landry says. "He's also intelligent. That's where you start."

Savage missed most of his freshman year with a knee injury (no surgery) and received an extra year of eligibility. He played inside linebacker his first year before moving outside and earning a starting berth in his final two seasons. He recovered four opponent fumbles and intercepted three passes in '78 and was named All-Big Ten honorable mention (AP) in '79. Savage is from Warren, Ohio.

JACKIE FLOWERS • Wide Receiver • Florida State

Ht: 6-1 • Wt: 194 • Born: 3/4/58 • D-9

Jackie Flowers led Florida State in receiving in '78 and '79. He finished his career as the school's fifth all-time leading receiver with 102 catches for 1,730 yards (17.0 per catch) and 15 touchdowns. Flowers totaled 43 receptions for 757 yards and seven TDs in his junior year, earning consensus honorable mention All-America honors. He had 37 catches for 622 yards and seven TDs in '79, winning consensus second team All-America honors. His best game last year during Florida State's 11-1 Orange Bowl season came against Memphis State when he caught nine passes for 117 yards and one TD. The Jacksonville, Fla., native earned four letters.

MATTHEW TEAGUE • Linebacker • Prairie View A & M

Ht: 6-4 • Wt: 231 • Born: 10/22/58 • D-10

A four-year starter at defensive left end, Matthew Teague impressed Cowboys scouts with his size, speed and agility. He was hampered somewhat by the fact Prairie View, a small school outside Houston, won only 12 games in his four years, including a 0-11 record in 1979. Teague played mostly in the offensive line at Alcee Fortier High School in his native New Orleans. The Cowboys projected him as a linebacker candidate.

GARY PADJEN • Linebacker • Arizona State

Ht: 6-2 • Wt: 241 • Born: 7/2/58 • D-11

Gary Padjen developed a reputation as one of Arizona State's hardest hitters during his three seasons as starting middle linebacker. He was ASU's sixth leading tackler as a junior, then surprised last season by leading a club loaded with good linebackers with 123 tackles. Padjen was converted to linebacker as a sophomore after filling in surprisingly well at middle guard during his freshman season. The Salt Lake City native showed talent and durability by winning four letters.

NORM WELLS • Defensive Tackle • Northwestern

Ht: 6-5 • Wt: 261 • Born: 9/8/57 • D-12

After going down with a season-ending knee injury in the first game of '78, Norm Wells came back to win the starting right tackle spot last season with his extra year of eligibility. He finished fifth on the team in tackles with 65, including four for losses of 14 yards, in his only year as a starter. He also had an interception which he returned for 12 yards. Exceptionally intelligent, he also possesses good strength and speed. He is from Warren, Mich.

Divisional Playoff

DALLAS, Dec. 30 — The Cowboys were eliminated from a chance at their sixth Super Bowl appearance of the '70s when the Los Angeles Rams scored on three long passes, the winner coming with only 2:06 to play.

The Cowboys fought back from a 14-5 halftime deficit to take a 19-14 lead early in the fourth quarter. But with a first down at midfield and 2:16 remaining, Rams quarterback Vince Ferragamo tossed a pass over the middle that was tipped by Dallas linebacker Mike Hegman but still caught at the 27 by Billy Waddy, who outran the Cowboys defense to the end zone.

Dallas took an early 2-0 lead on a safety when Randy White chased down Ferragamo in the end zone. But early in the second quarter Wendell Tyler got loose down the sideline for a 32-yard touchdown pass that sent Los Angeles ahead.

After Rafael Septien's 33-yard field goal brought the Cowboys within 7-5 with 52 seconds left in the half, the Rams moved 70 yards in four plays to take a 14-5 lead, the TD coming on a 43-yard Ferragamo pass in the end zone to Ron Smith with three seconds left.

Ron Springs' one-yard plunge capped a 54-yard Dallas TD drive in the third quarter that cut the Rams' lead to 14-12. On the Rams' next series Dallas got the ball back on Cliff Harris' interception and 22-yard return to the Dallas 43. The Cowboys took advantage of the turnover and temporarily regained the lead on Roger Staubach's two-yard scoring pass to Jay Saldi at the end of the 57-yard drive.

Historical Highlights

NFL FRANCHISE — Clint Murchison, Jr., and Bedford Wynne were awarded an expansion franchise in the NFL at the annual league meeting in Miami Beach, Fla. The Cowboys were to play as a "swing" team, playing every other team one time during the first season, although listed in the Western Conference standings (January 28).

COWBOYS STOCKED — A player pool was set up in a league meeting at L.A., with each of 12 NFL teams freezing 25 names on its roster and the Cowboys allowed to pick three from each team for a total of 36 veterans. Dallas, once given the list, had to select its 36 players within 24 hours (March 13).

TRAINING STARTS — Rookies report to first Cowboys camp at Pacific U., in Forest Grove, Oregon (July 9).

FIRST PRE-SEASON GAME — The Cowboys, less than six months in existence, get their first test and drop a 10-16 pre-season game to San Francisco in Seattle (August 6).

FIRST HOME GAME — In their Dallas debut, in the Salesmanship Club pre-season game, the Cowboys led the World Champion Baltimore Colts into the final minute before a 62-yard pass from Johnny Unitas to Lenny Moore gave the Colts a 14-10 victory (August 19).

FIRST VICTORY — In a pre-season game at Louisville, Ky., the Cowboys beat New York's Giants, 14-3, with Frank Clarke catching touchdown passes of 73 yards (Eddie LeBaron) and 74 yards (Don Meredith) (August 27).

FIRST LEAGUE GAME — In their first league game, Dallas fell to Pittsburgh, 35-28, with Bobby Layne leading a fourth period Steeler rally (Sept. 24, Saturday night).

STREAK SNAPPED — Dallas snaps a 10-game loss streak by tying New York, 31-31, at Yankee Stadium (Dec. 4).

TRAINING STARTS — Rookies launch training at new campsite — St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn. (July 9).

FIRST LEAGUE WIN — Scoring ten points in the final 56 seconds, the Cowboys score their first NFL victory, 27-24, over Pittsburgh in the '61 league opener in the Cotton Bowl. Allen Green's 27-yard field goal on the game's final play won it before 23,500 (Sept. 17).

1962

TRAINING STARTS — Team begins training at new campsite — Northern Michigan College in Marquette, Mich. (July 13).

PENALTY HISTORY — For the first time in anyone's memory in an NFL game, points were awarded for a penalty. The Cowboys were detected holding in the end zone on a 99-TD pass from LeBaron to Clarke, and Pittsburgh was awarded a safety. The Steelers eventually won, 30-28 (Sept. 23).

100-YARD FIRSTS — Cowboys Amos Marsh returned a kickoff 101 yards and Mike Gaechter returned a pass interception 100 yards, both plays for fourth quarter TD's in a 41-19 win over Philadelphia in Dallas. It was the first time in NFL history that two 100-yard runs had been made in the same game, much less by the same team in the same quarter (Oct. 14).

SHIFT TO KANSAS CITY — The rival Dallas Texans of the AFL announce they are moving the franchise to Kansas City (Feb. 8).

CALIFORNIA TRAINING SITE — The Cowboys open training at California Lutheran College in Thousand Oaks, Calif. (July 12).

HOWTON SETS RECORD — Bill Howton broke Don Hutson's all-time receiving mark with a 14-yard catch against Washington (there). Hutson's record was 7,991 yards and the catch gave Howton an even 8,000 yards (Sept. 29).

1964

LANDRY CONTRACT — With one year to go on his original contract, Tom Landry is signed to a ten-year extension, in effect giving him an 11-year pact, possibly the longest in major pro sports history (Feb. 5).

1965

FIRST SELLOUT — An overflow crowd of 76,251 jams the Cotton Bowl for the Cleveland game, notching the team's first home sellout. Cleveland won, 24-17 (Nov. 21).

1966

PLAYOFF BOWL — After defeating New York, 38-20, in the season finale (and winning five of their last seven games) to get into the Playoff Bowl at Miami, the Cowboys fall to Baltimore, 35-3 (Jan. 15).

MERGER — Peace comes to pro football with Cowboys GM Tex Schramm completing two months of negotiations with AFL's Lamar Hunt, merging the two leagues under the NFL banner (June 8).

SCHRAMM ELEVATED — Texas E. Schramm, Vice-President and General Manager of the Cowboys from the beginning, was named President of the club by owner Clint Murchison, Jr., who retained the title of Chairman of the Board.

NEELY CASE SOLVED — Dallas and Houston reached agreement in the Ralph Neely case. Neely remained with Dallas with Houston receiving the Cowboys Nos. 1, 2 and two fifth place picks in the 1967 draft (Nov. 17).

THE CHAMPIONSHIP — The Cowboys won their first championship, capturing the Eastern Conference title with a 10-3-1 record, but lost the NFL Championship Game to Green Bay, 34-27.

TEXAS STADIUM — On Dec. 23, owner Clint Murchison, Jr., formally announced plans to build Texas Stadium in suburban Irving. The stadium, to be financed through a bond-option plan, would be ready for the 1970 season. The stadium would seat a minimum of 58,000.

SECOND CHAMPIONSHIP — Under the NFL's new format, the Cowboys easily won the Capitol Division and defeated Cleveland, Century Division winner, 52-14, in the Cotton Bowl for the Eastern conference championship. However, on Dec. 31 in Green Bay, the Cowboys lost their second bid for an NFL title, falling to the Packers, 21-17, in the 13 degree below weather.

1968

WIN CAPITOL — For the second straight year the Cowboys won the Capitol Division, but for the first time in three years the Cowboys did not win the Eastern Championship, being upset at Cleveland, 31-20, on December 21st. Dallas won the Runner-Up Bowl over Minnesota, 17-13.

1969

TEXAS STADIUM — Ground was broken for Texas Stadium in suburban Irving on January 25, and on June 29 Bert Rose was named general manager of the stadium.

ORIGINALS RETIRE — An era ended for the Cowboys in July. On July 5th at a press conference in Dallas, quarterback Don Meredith, the last of the original Cowboys, announced his retirement. Then, on July 18th, the day the veterans were to report to training camp, all-time rushing great Don Perkins officially retired.

REPEAT CAPITOL WINS — Once again the Cowboys rolled to the Capitol Division Championship with an 11-2-1 season. However, the Cowboys failed to win the Eastern Championship when on Dec. 28, the Cowboys lost to Cleveland, 38-14, in the Cotton Bowl.

FIVE STRAIGHT PLAYOFFS — The Cowboys won their last five games to finish 10-4, claim the Eastern Division championship and make the playoffs for the fifth year in a row. They defeated Detroit, 5-0, in the opening round to get a shot at the National Conference championship.

FIRST NFC TITLE — The Cowboys captured the biggest prize of their 11-year history on Jan. 3 when they downed San Francisco, 17-10, for the NFC crown. A 16-13 loss to Baltimore in the Super Bowl Jan. 17 left Dallas with one major goal still unrealized.

TEXAS STADIUM — The Cowboys opened a new era in their sparkling Irving, Tex., home with a 44-21 victory over the New England Patriots on October 24. Duane Thomas scored the first touchdown in the new stadium, a 56-yard run just two minutes and 16 seconds after the opening kickoff. Attendance was 65,708.

SIX STRAIGHT PLAYOFFS — The Cowboys won their last seven games to finish 11-3, claim the Eastern Division championship and make the playoffs for the sixth year in a row. They defeated Minnesota, 20-12, in the opening round.

SECOND NFC TITLE — For the second consecutive year, the Cowboys met the San Francisco 49ers in the National Conference showdown. This time Dallas won, 14-3, to qualify for its second straight Super Bowl.

FIRST WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP — The Cowboys downed the Miami Dolphins, 24-3, to win Super Bowl VI in New Orleans on Jan. 16. It was the 10th victory in a row for Dallas as Roger Staubach passed for two touchdowns and was named the game's Most Valuable Player.

FIRST 1,000-YARD BACK — Calvin Hill became the first Dallas player to rush for 1,000 yards when he gained 111 on Dec. 9 against the Washington Redskins in Texas Stadium. Hill wound up with 1,036 yards for the season on a record 245 carries.

SEVEN STRAIGHT PLAYOFFS — The Cowboys qualified for the NFL playoffs a record seventh consecutive year, their 10-4 record earning them the National Conference Wild Card berth. Roger Staubach passed for two touchdowns in the last 1½ minutes to give the Cowboys a 30-28 victory at San Francisco in the first round. Then, at Washington on New Year's Eve, Dallas was foiled in its bid for a third straight NFL title when the Redskins won, 26-3.

100 VICTORIES — The Cowboys and Coach Tom Landry recorded their 100th victory with a 40-3 Texas Stadium win over the New Orleans Saints on Sept. 24. Landry, the only head coach the Cowboys have had, ended the season with a career mark of 108-80-6 to rank ninth on the list of the NFL's all-time winningest coaches.

EIGHT STRAIGHT PLAYOFFS — The Cowboys regained the NFC Eastern Division title with a 10-4 record and broke their own NFL record by reaching the playoffs for the eighth year in a row. Dallas defeated Western Division champion Los Angeles in the first round, 27-16, but fell to Central Division winner Minnesota in the NFC Championship Game, 27-10.

1974

FIRST TOP DRAFT CHOICE — For the first time in their history, the Cowboys had the very first choice in the NFL college draft. The No. 1 pick came to Dallas from Houston in exchange for Tody Smith and Billy Parks. The Cowboys selected Ed "Too Tall" Jones, a 6-9, 260-pound defensive end from Tennessee State.

PLAYOFFS MISSED — The Cowboys' record-breaking string of eight straight years in the NFL playoffs was broken when the club's 8-6 record failed to qualify.

LILLY HONORED — "Mr. Cowboy" was honored on Bob Lilly Day at Texas Stadium at halftime of the Philadelphia game on Nov. 23. It was the first such recognition ever given to a Dallas player. Lilly never missed a game in 14 years with the Cowboys, earning All-Pro honors seven times at defensive tackle before retiring prior to the '75 season.

TEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — The Cowboys' 10-4 record earned them the NFC Wild Card berth in the playoffs. The composite record over 10 straight winning seasons was 101-37-2.

THIRD NFC TITLE — After shocking Minnesota in the first round, 17-14 on Roger Staubach's 50-yard "Hail Mary" pass to Drew Pearson, the Cowboys traveled to Los Angeles for the NFC showdown. Staubach threw four touchdown passes, three to Preston Pearson, and Dallas won, 37-7. Pittsburgh won Super Bowl X on Jan. 18 in Miami, 21-17.

MEREDITH, PERKINS HONORED — Former Cowboys greats Don Meredith and Don Perkins joined Bob Lilly in the "Ring of Honor" at Texas Stadium during halftime ceremonies at the New York Giants game on Nov. 7.

ELEVEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — The Cowboys won the NFC Eastern Division title with their 11-3 record, giving them their 11th straight winning season and 10th playoff berth in that period. A 14-12 first round loss to Los Angeles — the first time Dallas had lost in the first round under the current playoff setup — ended the season.

1977

HOWLEY HONORED — Former All-Pro linebacker Chuck Howley, a Cowboy from 1961 through 1973, became the fourth member of the Ring of Honor. Howley was honored during ceremonies at halftime of the Detroit Lions game on Oct. 30.

TWELVE STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — Getting off to an 8-0 start, their best ever, the Cowboys rolled to a 12-2 record, the championship of the NFC East, and their 12th consecutive winning season. They opened their 11th visit to the playoffs in those 12 years with a 37-7 first-round victory over the Chicago Bears at Texas Stadium.

FOURTH NFC TITLE — Dallas crushed the Minnesota Vikings at Texas Stadium, 23-6, for National Conference crown No. 4 and the right to meet the Denver Broncos in Super Bowl XII.

SECOND WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP — The Cowboys stopped the Denver Broncos, 27-10, to win Super Bowl XII in New Orleans on January 15, 1978. In the process, Dallas tied Minnesota for most Super Bowl appearances (four) and Green Bay, Miami and Pittsburgh for most Super Bowl victories (two). Defensive linemen Harvey Martin and Randy White were named co-Most Valuable Players in the game.

THIRTEEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — After a mediocre 6-4 start, the Cowboys won six straight games to finish the expanded regular season with a 12-4 record and their 10th division crown. It marked the Cowboys' 13th consecutive winning season and 12th trip to the playoffs in that span. Dallas rallied to beat Atlanta 27-20 in a divisional playoff at Texas Stadium, sending the Cowboys to their seventh NFC championship game in the past nine years.

FIFTH NFC TITLE — Dallas shut out the Rams in Los Angeles 28-0 in the National Conference title game to advance to the Super Bowl a record fifth time, including three of the last four. In the first Super Bowl rematch, Pittsburgh edged the Cowboys 35-31 for the NFL championship on Jan. 21 in Miami's Orange Bowl.

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY — The Cowboys celebrated their 20th anniversary season at halftime of the St. Louis Cardinals game at Texas Stadium on Oct. 21. Stars from each of those 20 seasons plus Coach Tom Landry were introduced during the halftime ceremonies.

FOURTEEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — Rallying from a mid-season slump, the Cowboys won their final three games to finish with an 11-5 record, their 11th division championship, including the past four NFC East titles, and 14th consecutive winning season. The Cowboys made their 13th trip to the playoffs in those 14 years, but were eliminated by Los Angeles 21-19 in a divisional playoff at Texas Stadium.

STAUBACH RETIRES — At a press conference at Texas Stadium on March 31, quarterback Roger Staubach announced his retirement after 11 record-breaking years with the Cowboys. Staubach held all major Cowboys passing records and was the all-time leading NFL passer.

LILLY ENTERS HALL OF FAME — Bob Lilly, a seven-time All-Pro defensive tackle in his 14-year career with the Cowboys from 1961-74, became the first Cowboys-only player to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Enshrined along with Lilly on Aug. 2 at Canton, Ohio, were Herb Adderley, who played for the Cowboys from 1970-72, Jim Otto and Deacon Jones.

ON THE SIDELINES

Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders

Although the Cowboys have had sideline cheerleaders since their first season, the current phenomenon of the Cowboys Cheerleaders did not begin its rise until five years ago.

The Cowboys saw the opportunity to develop a new form of entertainment for football fans and a decision was made to increase the size of the cheerleading squad by holding open auditions in the spring of 1976. About 250 young women came to Texas Stadium that year. The number of applicants annually now reaches nearly 2,000.

In capturing the imagination of people everywhere, the Cowboys Cheerleaders have made numerous national television appearances, including two highly rated made-for-TV movies about the squad and a two-hour "Love Boat" special. The Cheerleaders also have appeared at many charity events and state fairs around the country.

The Cowboys Cheerleaders also are popular overseas. The squad made a well-received 10-day tour of Japan in December 1978 and last year the U.S. Department of Defense and the United Services Organization (USO) invited the Cheerleaders to entertain U.S. servicemen in Korea and West Germany. More USO tours have been planned for 1980-81 due to the success of the first two tours.

The Cowboys Band

The 32-member Dallas Cowboys Band, a brass arrangement featuring a variety of musical sounds from country and western to rock 'n roll, again will be a central entertainment ingredient during Cowboys games at Texas Stadium in 1980. Under the direction of Bill Lively, Associate Dean of the Meadows School of the Arts at Southern Methodist University, the Cowboys Band includes 31 men and one woman and is a vital part of all Texas Stadium pregame, halftime and post-game activities.

Cowboys on Radio

The Cowboys again in 1980 will have the largest radio network in the National Football League as Mutual Broadcasting System begins its second season of broadcasting Cowboys games around the U. S. With KRLD Radio of Dallas serving as the flagship station, Mutual's Dallas Cowboys Network will be carried over nearly 200 stations in 17 states. Play-by-play broadcaster Verne Lundquist will be joined by color man Brad Sham for the broadcasts. In addition, Mutual will carry all Cowboys games in Spanish on 24 stations in five states via the Dallas Cowboys Spanish Radio Network with broadcasters Armando Quintero and Mario Montez.
