THE ADMINISTRATION

In 1989, when Jerry Jones purchased the Dallas Cowboys, he made his intentions very clear. There would be no substitute for winning.

Super Bowl triumphs would no longer be just the distant memories of a proud franchise. Returning to the Super Bowl became the daily focus of the entire organization.

The path for the future was set by the new owner. Success with the Dallas Cowboys of the 1990s would be marked by championships on the field and an equally high demand for production in the front office.

In a little less than four years, the Cowboys earned a Super Bowl championship for the first time in 15 seasons, and the following year, the Cowboys became only the third team in National Football League history to win four Super Bowl titles.

Along the way, Jones established himself as one of the NFL's most influential and active owners. His "hands on" leadership ability has played a prominent role in the resurgence of America's team, and his contributions to the National Football League have been both significant and productive.

- ★ In the past 15 years, 11 different owners have entered the National Football League. Of that group, only Jerry Jones has guided his franchise to a Super Bowl championship.
- ★ As a member of the league's Broadcast Committee, Jones was a key player in the new agreement that introduced the Fox Network to the NFL—as the rights holder for to the NFC television package.
- ★ With his appointment to the NFL's prestigious Competition Committee in May of 1992, Jones became the first NFL owner to serve in that capacity since the late Paul Brown.
- ★ In April of 1994, Financial World magazine recognized Jones as the owner of the most valuable sports team in all of professional athletics. The Cowboys have held that "most valuable franchise" tag for each of the past two years. In November of 1993, Jones was a one of 10 national winners of the Entrepreneur of the Year Award presented by Ernst and Young and Inc. Magazine.
- ★ During the club's 1992 run to the World Championship, the Cowboys set a team record for most wins in a regular season (13) and most overall wins (16). Following the 1993 season, the Cowboys appeared in an NFL-record seventh Super Bowl.
- ★ After the inaugural 1-15 season in 1989, Jones was the NFL's most aggressive executive in the area of Plan B free agency, signing 16 Plan B players. Three of those players went on to start in Super Bowl XXVII, and tight end Jay Novacek has played in three Pro Bowls.

- ★ Under the Jones administration, the Cowboys have made a total of 55 trades. Between 1989 and 1993, the team drafted 63 players, and 13 of those players became Super Bowl starters. In addition, Dallas has drafted six Pro Bowl players since 1989.
- ★ Within a seven-month period, Jones signed three players to the most lucrative contracts ever paid for individual players at their respective positions. Between September of 1993 and April of 1994, Cowboys running back Emmitt Smith, quarterback Troy Aikman and fullback Daryl Johnston all signed contracts that made them the highest paid NFL players to ever play their position.

In the summer of 1991, Jones was voted as the best sports franchise owner in the Metroplex, receiving 48% of the votes that were tabulated in a Dallas Morning News readers' poll. Following the 1991 season, he was selected as the NFL's Owner of the Year by the Edelstein Pro Football Letter. In February of 1992, Jones was named the winner of the "Big D Award" by the Dallas All Sports Association. The "Big D Award" annually recognizes the sports figure who has done the most to bring excitement to the Metroplex through athletics.

Jerral Wayne Jones was born on Oct. 13, 1942 in Los Angeles. He learned his business style from his father, J.W. "Pat" Jones, a successful entrepreneur first in supermarkets, then in insurance.

Pat Jones moved his family to North Little Rock, Ark., soon after Jerry was born. After starring in football as a running back at North Little Rock High School, Jerry received a scholarship to play at the University of Arkansas. He was a starting guard and co-captain of the 1964 team that went 11-0, defeated Nebraska in the Cotton Bowl and captured the national championship.

Upon graduating in 1965, Jerry joined his father's insurance company, Modern Security Life in Springfield, Mo., as executive vice president.

After receiving his master's in business from Arkansas, Jerry entered the oil and gas exploration business in Oklahoma in 1970 and soon became a phenomenal success. His oil and gas concern now has offices in Fort Smith and Little Rock, Ark., Oklahoma City, Sacramento, Calif., and Calgary, Canada.

One of a very small number of NFL owners who actually earned a significant level of success as a football player, Jones is currently living his dream of engineering the fortunes of an NFL franchise. A man of varied interests who will not rest on yesterday's achievements, he is a dedicated businessman and family man—sharing a passion for both worlds.

Jerry is involved in numerous civic and charitable causes. He serves on the board of directors for the Dallas-based Childworks International, a foundation for the funding of children's surgery. He also enjoys an association with the Boys Clubs of America and the National Paralysis Association. Among his favorite hobbies are hunting, fishing, tennis, water skiing and snow skiing.

Jerry and wife Gene, a former Arkansas beauty pageant winner whom he met while both attended the University of Arkansas, live in Dallas. They have three children, Stephen, Charlotte and Jerry, Jr., and three grandchildren.

Stephen (6/21/64) is a graduate of the University of Arkansas who serves as a Cowboys' Vice President and Charlotte (7/26/66) is a Stanford graduate who is the Marketing and Special Events Coordinator for the organization. Jerry Jr. (9/27/69), a graduate of Georgetown University, is currently attending law school at Southern Methodist University.

Chronology Since Jerry Jones' Purchase of the Dallas Cowboys:

February 25, 1989 — Jones purchases the Dallas Cowboys and the lease to manage Texas Stadium Corp. from H.R. "Bum" Bright. Jerry Jones names Jimmy Johnson as the new head coach of the Dallas Cowboys.

April 20, 1989 — Jones completes negotiations on Troy Aikman's contract — a six-year deal that is completed four days before Aikman is the top overall selection in the 1989 NFL Draft.

October 12, 1989 — Herschel Walker is traded to Minnesota for five players, six conditional draft choices, and a 1992 first round draft choice. Current players who actually came to Dallas as a result of the trade include: Emmitt Smith, Russell Maryland, Kevin Smith, Darren Woodson and Clayton Holmes.

August 10, 1990 — The Cowboys' first-ever in-state training camp concludes at St. Edward's University in Austin. Over 100,000 fans attend work-outs, while more than 400 media credentials are issued in the three-plus weeks of work. Austin officials estimate that the camp brings an additional $3.2 million of income into the Austin area.

September 5, 1990 — The Cowboys trade Steve Walsh to the New Orleans Saints for a 1st and 3rd round draft choice in 1991 and a conditional 2nd round pick in 1992.

April 19, 1991 — A deal is made to bring the No. 1 overall selection in the 1991 NFL Draft to Dallas in exchange for a first and second round selection and three veteran players. Dallas selected Outland Trophy winner Russell Maryland with the top pick.

April 21-22, 1991 — In an unprecedented action among the NFL, the Cowboys sign their top three draft choices on draft day. The team also drafts a club record 17 players.

July 16, 1991 — The Cowboys open training camp in Austin with all 17 of their draft choices under contract. Dallas concludes its second training camp at St. Edward's University in Austin, with more than 75,000 fans attending the Cowboys' practices.

September 29, 1991 — Dallas defeats the defending Super Bowl Champion New York Giants by a 21-16 score at Texas Stadium.

December 24, 1991 — The Cowboys end the Washington Redskins' 1991 undefeated streak at 11 games with a 24-21 Cowboys victory at RFK.

December 15, 1991 — Dallas defeats Philadelphia, 25-13, at Veterans Stadium to secure a wild card playoff spot. The victory marks the team's first trip to the playoffs since the 1985 club went 10-6 and won the NFC Eastern Division title.

December 22, 1991 — Dallas closes the 1991 season with a 31-27 win over Atlanta, marking the team's best record (11-5) since the 1983 team finished 12-4.

January 5, 1992 — Dallas defeats Chicago by a 17-13 score in an opening round playoff game at Soldier Field. The victory marks the Cowboys' first playoff win since 1982 and the first playoff win on the road since 1980.

May 1, 1992 — Jerry Jones is appointed to the NFL's Competition Committee by Commissioner Paul Tagliabue. Jones becomes the first owner to serve on the prestigious committee since the death of Cincinnati's Paul Brown.

December 21, 1992 — Before a national television audience on ABC's Monday Night Football, the Cowboys defeat the Atlanta Falcons (41-17) at the Georgia Dome to claim the NFC Eastern Division Championship. The victory marks the Cowboys' first division title since 1985 and the 14th division title in club history.

December 23, 1992 — Six players from the Cowboys offense are selected to play in the Pro Bowl. The six players establish a Dallas Cowboys' record for most offensive players selected to the Pro Bowl.

December 27, 1992 — Dallas defeats Chicago by a 27-14 score at Texas Stadium. The victory is the 13th of the year for Dallas, establishing a new club record for victories in a season. In the Bears game, Emmitt Smith finishes the season with 1,713 rushing yards, enabling Smith to become the first player to win back-to-back NFL rushing titles since Eric Dickerson (1983-84).

December, 1992 — The Cowboys set a new team record for road attendance by averaging 72,523 fans per road game in 1992. The team also played before a sold-out stadium in all 16 regular season games for the first time since the 1981 season.

January 10, 1993 — In their first home playoff game since 1983, Dallas hands NFC East rival Philadelphia a 34-10 defeat in an NFC Divisional Playoff Game.

January 17, 1993 — In their first NFC Championship Game since 1982, the Cowboys defeat the San Francisco 49ers by a 30-20 score at Candlestick Park. The victory sends Dallas to Super Bowl XXVII in Pasadena, marking the Cowboys first Super Bowl trip since 1978.

January 31, 1993 — While making an NFL-record sixth Super Bowl appearance, the Cowboys defeat Buffalo 52-17 in Super Bowl XXVII at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena. The victory also enables the Cowboys to become the only franchise in NFL history to win more than one Super Bowl under two different ownerships. Troy Aikman was named the game's MVP after throwing four touchdown passes. The Super Bowl crowd of 98,374 becomes the largest crowd to ever witness a Dallas Cowboys game. The game is also witnessed by 133.4 million television viewers, making Super Bowl XXVII the most watched event in television history.

March 5, 1993 — The Super Bowl Champion Dallas Cowboys become the first athletic team to visit the White House under the Clinton administration. The Cowboys team visit to the White House is the first in club history.

December 28, 1993 — An NFC-record 11 Dallas players are selected to the Pro Bowl. That group includes a club-record eight offensive selections (seven Pro Bowl starters).

January 2, 1994 — The Cowboys defeat the New York Giants 16-13 in overtime at the Meadowlands. The victory clinches the Cowboys' second straight NFC East title and the 15th division crown in club history.

January 2, 1994 — Emmitt Smith finishes the season with 1,486 yards to earn his third straight NFL rushing crown. He becomes just the fourth man in NFL history to win three consecutive rushing titles.

January 23, 1994 — Dallas defeats San Francisco 38-21 in the NFC Championship Game at Texas Stadium. The victory gives the Cowboys an NFL-record seventh conference championship in the first conference title game to be played at Texas Stadium since January 1, 1978 (a 23-6 win over Minnesota).

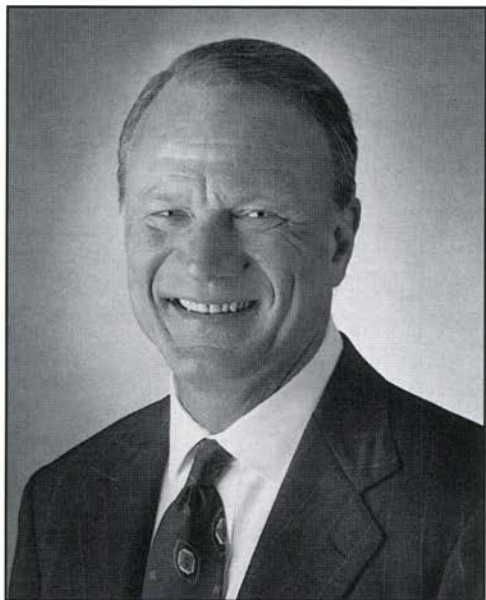

January 30, 1994 — Dallas becomes one of just three NFL teams to win four Super Bowls by defeating Buffalo (30-13) in Super Bowl XXVIII. The game, played at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta, featured two rushing touchdowns by Super Bowl MVP Emmitt Smith. Dallas raised its NFL record number of Super Bowl appearances to seven (one fourth of all the Super Bowl games played).

January, 1994 — Since the 1988 season, attendance at Cowboys home games is up by nearly 30 percent. The team continues to add to its Texas Stadium record for consecutive crowds of 60,000 or more (currently 34 straight games). The Cowboys average home attendance in 1993 was 63,759, the club's highest home average attendance since the 1981 season when the team drew 63,943. Dallas has also played in front of 32 straight sold out crowds at home. The Cowboys have now played in front of 52 straight sold out stadiums (home and away). That streak, which includes playoff games, dates back to September 22, 1991, at Phoenix.

March 30, 1994 — Barry Switzer is named the new head coach of the Dallas Cowboys—and the third head coach in team history. Switzer replaces Jimmy Johnson, who stepped down as the Cowboys' head coach the previous day.

Barry Switzer ★ Head Coach

On March 30, 1994, Barry Switzer became the third head coach in the history of the Dallas Cowboys. Switzer, who was one of the most successful head coaches in the history of college football, will become the just the fourth man in league history to take over the reigns of a Super Bowl Champion in his first year as an NFL head coach.

"Barry Switzer is a motivator, a communicator and a proven winner," said Cowboys Owner Jerry Jones on the date of Switzer's hire. "He's the right man for the job at this time. He understands the challenge that's ahead of him, and he's fully capable of maintaining the level of success that Cowboy fans have grown to expect throughout the history of this franchise."

"I've known Barry for nearly four decades, and I've watched his professional development as one of this game's most gifted head coaches," added Jones. "I've always been very impressed with his ability to judge talent. He knows the caliber of player who has the ability to succeed in the NFL. He's been associated with the highest quality performers at every level of his coaching experience."

As the Sooners' head coach, Switzer personally guided the careers of more than 120 young men who went on to be drafted into the NFL. Of that listing, 16 players were NFL first round selections, and that group includes eventual Pro Bowlers such as Joe Washington, Lee Roy Selmon, Billy Simms, Keith Jackson and Troy Aikman.

As head coach of the University of Oklahoma from 1973 to 1988, Switzer was the guiding force behind one of the most dominant college football programs of all time. The 157-29-4 career record he amassed during that time underscores the long-term quality of winning Switzer brought to coaching. His .837 winning percentage at Oklahoma is the fourth highest mark in college history, behind only Notre Dame's Knute Rockne (.881) and Frank Leahy (.864) and Carlisle's George Woodruff (.846).

After moving from offensive coordinator to head coach in 1973, Switzer guided the Sooners to 28 consecutive wins from 1973 to 1975 and went 37 straight games without a defeat. When Oklahoma won national championships in 1974 and 1975 it marked the first time in history that a team had won back-to-back titles more than once.

During his 16-year tenure at Oklahoma, Switzer won three national championships (1974, 1975 and 1985), 12 Big Eight titles and was successful in eight of 13 bowl contests. His teams never finished below second place in the Big Eight Conference. He coached one Heisman Trophy winner (Billy Sims, 1978), two Lombardi Award winners (Lee Roy Selmon, 1975 and Tony Casillas, 1985), one Jim Thorpe Award winner (Rickey Dixon, 1987), one Defensive Player of the Year (Lucious Selmon, 1973) and a two-time Butkus Award winner (Brian Bosworth, 1985 and 1986).

His personal achievements have included awards from the Walter Camp Football Foundation, the Big Eight Conference, NCAA District V, the Washington Pigskin Club, The Sporting News, Football News, Playboy, The Associated Press and United Press International.

Following a playing career at the University of Arkansas from 1955-59, Switzer spent two years in the Army before returning to Arkansas in 1962, where he served as the scout team coach for two years. He then coached offensive ends from 1964-65. While working under Frank Broyles at Arkansas, Switzer coached both Jerry Jones and former Cowboys Head Coach Jimmy Johnson as the Razorbacks claimed the national championship in 1964.

In 1966, Switzer moved to Oklahoma as the offensive line coach under Jim Mackenzie. When Chuck Fairbanks became head coach following Mackenzie's death in April 1967, Switzer was named the Sooners' offensive coordinator. He took on the responsibilities of assistant head coach in 1970.

A native of Arkansas, Barry Switzer (10/5/37) grew up in Crossett, where he graduated in 1955 with an appointment to the United State Naval Academy and offers of football scholarships at the University of Arkansas and Louisiana State University. He chose to attend Arkansas and completed a Bachelors of Arts degree in business administration in 1960. He played center and linebacker three years for the Razorbacks and was elected captain as a senior in 1959. That year Arkansas reigned as Southwest Conference champion and Gator Bowl winner.

Barry has three children: Greg (10/5/68), Kathy (9/6/69) and Doug (9/27/72).

Butch Davis ★ Defensive Coordinator

In February of 1993, Butch Davis was promoted to the position of defensive coordinator, and, in his first year in the new role, Davis called the shots for a Super Bowl Champion defense.

In 1993, Davis directed a unit that was often recognized for its consistency, but more often heralded for its ability to keep the opponent out of the end zone. The Cowboys defense allowed just one offensive touchdown or less in 12 of the 16 games last year, while allowing just 16 touchdowns in the last 15 regular season outings. The Dallas defense permitted a club record low number of touchdowns (21), a figure that was topped only by the New York Giants (20).

In three games last season, the Cowboys kept their opponents from crossing the goal line, while only two clubs were able to score more than two TD's against Dallas during the regular season.

Under Davis' direction, the 1993 defense also produced the Cowboys first Pro Bowl defensive players since 1985, as defensive tackle Russell Maryland, linebacker Ken Norton and free safety Thomas Everett earned trips to Hawaii. The three defenders selected to the Pro Bowl for Dallas were the most by a Cowboys defense since 1983. Cornerback Kevin Smith, another young player who made a strong bid for Pro Bowl recognition, intercepted more passes (six) than any Dallas player in the last seven seasons.

In 1993, Dallas finished the season ranked 10th in the NFL in total defense, allowing 299.2 yards per game. Dallas tied for 10th in the NFL in pass defense (194.8) and closed the year ranked 11th in rushing defense (103.2).

Prior to being named to the defensive coordinator's post, Davis coached the Dallas defensive line for four seasons. In 1992, Davis' line helped the Cowboys finish the season as the NFL's top ranked unit against the rush—allowing just 77.8 yards on the ground per game. The 1992 line registered 44 sacks—the most in the team's last five seasons, while the defense finished the year with the top overall ranking in the NFL en route to a Super Bowl XXVII victory in Pasadena.

In five seasons as defensive line coach at the University of Miami (1984-88), Davis led his players to impressive heights. Fifteen of his linemen were picked in the NFL Draft, including All-Americans Bill Hawkins, taken in the first round by the L.A. Rams in 1989; Cortez Kennedy, taken with the third pick in the 1990 draft by Seattle; and Maryland, who rejoined Davis after being drafted with the first overall pick in 1991.

Davis' line was a key part of a Miami defense that finished second in the nation in both scoring and total defense in 1988. The Hurricanes also set a school record with 49 sacks in 1986, then broke it with 50 in 1988, and held opposing rushers to fewer than 2.3 yards per carry in 1987 and 1988.

After working as a high school coach in Arkansas and Oklahoma, Davis joined Jimmy Johnson's Oklahoma State staff in 1979 before moving with Johnson to Miami.

A native of Tahlequah, OK (11/17/51), Paul Hilton Davis was a defensive end at Arkansas where he earned his Bachelor's of Science degree in anatomy and physiology. Butch graduated from Bixby, OK, High School. He and wife Tammy live in Coppell, TX with their son Drew.

Ernie Zampese ★ Offensive Coordinator

On their way to back-to-back Super Bowl titles in 1992 and 1993 the Dallas offense functioned under Norv Turner, a student of the offensive system designed by Ernie Zampese at the Los Angeles Rams. Turner spent four formative years under Zampese, from 1987-90, as receivers coach with the Rams, learning the style of offense he successfully brought to Dallas in 1991. In 1994 the Dallas offense will operate under that teacher as Zampese, who was the Rams offensive coordinator from 1987-93, takes over the offense from Turner, who left Dallas after Super Bowl XXVIII to become the head coach of the Washington Redskins.

As an offensive coordinator, Zampese has been the leader of some of the most powerful offensive teams in the league over the past several years. In his 11 years as an offensive coordinator, Zampese's teams have ranked in the top five in total offense six times.

During his seven seasons in Los Angeles, Zampese's offense allowed quarterback Jim Everett to post five consecutive 3,000-plus yard seasons from 1988 to 1992, including a career-high 4,310 yards in 1989. One reason for Everett's success was the fact that he never missed a start during that span, extending a consecutive games started streak to over 90 games before being benched midway through the 1993 season.

Quarterback was not the only successful position during Zampese's time with the Rams. Wide receiver Henry Ellard posted four consecutive 1,000 yard receiving seasons from 1988-91, and five times in seven seasons a Rams running back topped the 1,000 yard rushing mark. Last season the Rams finished fifth in the league in rushing offense (125.9 yards per game) behind Rookie of the Year and Pro Bowl running back Jerome Bettis.

Prior to joining the Rams' staff in 1987, Zampese was the offensive coordinator for the San Diego Chargers from 1983-86 after serving as the Chargers wide receivers coach from 1979-82. As the Chargers offensive coordinator, he worked with quarterback Dan Fouts, who put together three consecutive 3,000-plus yard seasons under Zampese.

A look through the record books shows how potent an offense Zampese directed first in San Diego and then later with the Rams as almost every team record on offense was established during Zampese's time with each of the teams.

Zampese began his pro coaching career as a defensive backs coach for the Chargers in 1976. The next year he became a scout for the New York Jets, before returning to the Chargers in 1979.

The Southern California high school Player of the Year at Santa Barbara High in 1953, Zampese went on to play tailback at the University of Southern California.

After receiving his master's degree in physical education in 1962 from Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo, Zampese began his coaching career at Allan Hancock Junior College in Santa Maria, CA. He then coached at Cal Poly-SLO in 1966, before moving to San Diego State from 1967-75 where he coached defensive backs.

Born in Santa Barbara, CA (3/12/36), Ernie and wife, Joyce, have two daughters, Kristin and Laurie, and two sons, Kenneth and Jon.

Hubbard Alexander ★ Wide Receivers

Last year Hubbard Alexander directed a wide receiving corp that helped lead the Cowboys to their second straight World Championship. Michael Irvin teamed with Alvin Harper to give Dallas one of the league's best wide receiving tandems, and rookie Kevin Williams, displayed the potential that could allow him to develop into one of the most explosive receivers in the National Football League.

Irvin, who was named the starting wide receiver in his third consecutive Pro Bowl, finished the year as the NFL's second-ranked receiver in yardage with 1,330 and the third-ranked receiver in catches with 88, while adding five 100-yard receiving games for the year. He also grabbed a career-high 12 receptions for 168 yards against San Francisco (10/17).

Harper surpassed his career highs with 36 receptions for 777 yards. He continued to emerge as a big-play receiver, finishing second in the NFL in yards per catch (among qualifiers) with 21.6 average, the highest by a Dallas receiver since Bob Hayes averaged 24.0 in 1971.

As a rookie, Williams played mostly on third down passing situations but caught 20 passes for 151 yards and two touchdowns.

In 1992, Dallas' receivers combined for 2,317 yards. Michael Irvin finished second in the NFL with 1,396 yards. He was also named to his second straight Pro Bowl. Alvin Harper fueled his 1992 emergence as a solid wide receiver with a strong second half of the season. His timely catches in the NFC Championship Game set up two touchdowns. He also scored a 45-yard touchdown against Buffalo in Super Bowl XXVII.

Alexander's wide receiving corps made immense progress in 1991. Irvin led the NFL with 1,523 yards, sixth most in the NFL history, and the NFC with 93 catches. He was also named Most Valuable Player in the 1992 Pro Bowl. Harper became a starter in the ninth game of his rookie year.

In 1990 "Axe" guided a pair of starting wide receivers, who each returned from major knee surgery. Kelvin Martin had his best pro season with a team-high 64 catches to finish eighth among NFC wide receivers in catches. Irvin scored a touchdown every four receptions and averaged 20.7 yards per catch, the highest by a Cowboys player since 1981.

His first year with the team. Alexander lost Irvin and Martin to knee injuries and had to quickly develop an inexperienced group. Rookie James Dixon, who joined the Cowboys after the pre-season, led the team in yards per catch and set a club rookie-record with 203 receiving yards against Phoenix (11/12).

In 10 seasons at the University of Miami, Alexander developed the three leading receivers in the school's history. As tight ends coach from 1979-84, he worked with Glenn Dennison (1981-83), who set the school record for career receptions. This record was surpassed by another Alexander protege, All-America Willie Smith (1984-85).

In 1985 Alexander took over the wide receivers and began to mold a trio consisting of Brian Blades, Brett Perriman and Irvin. All three were among the first 52 players selected in the 1988 draft, and all three led their respective NFL teams in receiving in 1991. Irvin also broke most of Miami's receiving records, including Smith's career catch mark.

Following seven terms as a highly successful high school coach in Memphis, TN, Alexander spent six seasons as an assistant at Vanderbilt before joining Miami. A three-year starter at center at Tennessee State, Alexander earned All-America honors as a senior and signed as a free agent with Dallas. He began his coaching career with his alma mater in 1962.

Hubbard Lindsay Alexander (2/14/39) graduated from Atkins High School in Winston-Salem, NC. He and his wife Gloria have three sons — Todd, Chad and Bard.

Joe Avezzano ★ Special Teams

The Cowboys special teams under Joe Avezzano's direction have been characterized by consistency, big plays and an ability to positively affect the outcome of ball games. Avezzano's efforts and excellence have not gone without notice. Following the 1993 season, he was named the NFL's Special Team Coach of the Year for the second time in three years. That award is determined by a vote of the NFL's special teams coaches.

In 1993, the Cowboys were the only team in the NFL to finish the regular season with a Top 10 ranking in all four major kicking game categories. Consistency spelled results for the Cowboys as they compiled the following NFL rankings: kickoff returns (7th, 21.1 yards per return); opponents kickoff returns (9th, 18.6); punt returns (9th, 10.3) and opponents punt returns (2nd, 5.3).

In addition to building very productive coverage and return units, the Cowboys have established a very dangerous reputation for creating breaks through the use of surprise plays in the kicking game. Since the 1991 season, Dallas has attempted four onside kicks, recovering three, and successfully executed a fake field goal for a touchdown.

The big play has also helped characterize Avezzano's units. Dallas has blocked eight punts since the start of the 1991 season, and in the last two years, rookie Kevin Williams (2 touchdowns) and former veteran Cowboy Kelvin Martin (2) have combined to return four punts for touchdowns.

In 1991, the play of the Cowboys special teams was so impressive that following the season Avezzano was named the NFL Special Teams Coach of the Year, by the widest margin ever, in a vote of the league's 28 special teams coaches. The Cowboys led the NFL in points scored on special teams with 20—and in kickoff return average with a 21.7 mark. Also for the first time in the same season in team history, Dallas placed a player in the top three in the league in both punt return average and kickoff return average.

Before coming to Dallas, Avezzano coached offensive line at Texas A&M for four years (1985-88), during which time the Aggies won three Southwest Conference titles and two Cotton Bowls.

During his tenure at Texas A&M, Avezzano groomed six All-Southwest Conference picks, including All-Americans Richmond Webb and Doug Williams. Four of his charges were selected in the NFL Draft, three of those (Webb, Williams and Jerry Fontenot) in the first three rounds.

Avezzano took on the additional duties of offensive coordinator in 1988 when sophomore running back Darrin Lewis finished second in the nation in rushing, earning first-team All-America honors.

Before joining the Aggies, Avezzano spent five seasons as head coach at Oregon State (1980-84). From 1977-79 he served as offensive coordinator at Tennessee, and he was the offensive line coach at Pittsburgh (1973-76), helping the '76 Panthers to the national title.

Avezzano began his coaching career at Washington High School in Massillon, OH, in 1967. He then coached at Florida State for a season before joining Iowa State in 1969.

Born in Yonkers, NY (11/17/43), Avezzano grew up in Miami where he played football at Jackson High School under current Cowboys running backs coach Joe Brodsky. After starring at guard for Florida State, Avezzano was drafted by the Boston Patriots. Joe and wife Diann have a son, Anthony.

John Blake ★ Defensive Line

In only his first year as the Cowboys defensive line coach, John Blake helped guide defensive tackle Russell Maryland to the Pro Bowl, the first such honor for a Dallas defensive lineman since Randy White was selected in 1985.

Last year Blake's unit registered 34 sacks during the regular season, and during the postseason his unit turned it up a notch in adding nine more sacks. During Dallas' postseason drive, the front four limited opposing rushers to 67.3 yards per game. Under Blake, Dallas finished 10th in the NFL in total defense, allowing 297.9 yards per game, and at the goal-line, this unit proved to be one of the league's stingiest, allowing a club record low 21 touchdowns, good for second in the NFL.

Blake was not a new face on the Cowboys practice field when he came to Dallas last season, having attended training camp in Austin as part of the Jerry Jones Minority Coaching Fellowship in 1991 and 1992 as defensive line coach. The fellowship allowed Blake the opportunity to work first-hand with Butch Davis and the defensive linemen during training camp. It was during this time Blake showed his coaching ability to both the Dallas players and staff.

Prior to coming to Dallas, Blake was a big part of building a top-rated defense at Oklahoma from 1989-92. As the outside linebackers coach in 1992, Blake was instrumental in developing All-Big Eight linebackers Aubrey Beavers and Reggie Barnes as the Sooners' defense finished 20th in the country and second in the Big Eight in overall defense.

In 1991 the Sooners' defense led the Big Eight in overall defense, rushing defense, scoring defense and held opponents to the lowest passing efficiency in the conference despite injuries to starting nose tackle Corey Mayfield that forced sophomore Ricky Wren into the lineup.

Injuries also affected Oklahoma's interior line in 1990, when Blake took Mayfield, who had never played nose tackle, and quickly taught him the position. Mayfield finished the season second on the team in sacks with seven, including two each against Oklahoma State, Missouri and Kansas State.

During his first full-time season as the Sooners' interior line coach in 1989, Blake oversaw all-conference picks Scott Evans and Dante Williams. Evans also earned All-Big Eight honors in 1990.

After playing nose tackle at Oklahoma from 1980-83, Blake began his coaching career as a graduate assistant working with the defensive line at his alma mater in 1986. He spent a season guiding wide receivers and tight ends at Tulsa before returning to the Sooners in 1989.

A highly-recruited all-state pick at Charles Page High School in Sand Springs, OK, Blake (3/6/61) earned his degree in public relations and recreation from Oklahoma. In 1988 he was named one of the Outstanding Young Men in America. He and wife Freda live in Coppell, TX.

Joe Brodsky ★ Running Backs

In his five seasons in Dallas, Joe Brodsky has seen the Dallas running game go from the outhouse to the penthouse with the development of Emmitt Smith, the National Football League's MVP in 1993, and fullback Daryl Johnston, who is at the top of the league as a blocker, receiver and rusher.

For the third consecutive season, Smith led the NFL in rushing yards with his 1,486 yard total and also led the league in total yards from scrimmage with 1,900. Smith became only the fourth back in NFL history to lead the league three straight seasons, and the first since Earl Campbell in 1978-80. Despite missing the first two games of the season, Smith earned almost every NFL Most Valuable Player award given following the season, along with his fourth Pro Bowl invitation in four seasons.

Under Brodsky's guidance, Smith led the league in rushing in only his second season as a pro in 1991, and in 1990, Brodsky first oversaw the rapid advancement of Smith, who, despite missing all of training camp, led league rookies in rushing yards and earned NFL Rookie of the Year honors.

Smith's backfield mate, Johnston, also earned a trip to Hawaii for the Pro Bowl in 1993, the only fullback chosen in the NFC. In addition to the outstanding blocking skills he provides the Dallas offense, Johnston recorded career-highs for receptions (50) and receiving yardage (372) in 1993.

Although Johnston and Smith are seasoned veterans, Brodsky developed, two rookies into valuable contributors in 1993 as well. Newcomer Derrick Lassic became the first rookie in NFL history to start a season opener at running back for a defending Super Bowl champion when he took the field at RFK Stadium against the Redskins in September. Lassic went on the finish second on the team in rushing.

The other Brodsky pupil, and biggest surprise, was former Arena League player Lincoln Coleman, who made his debut on Thanksgiving Day by leading the team with 10 carries for 57 yards in the snow and ice.

Brodsky also polished fullback Tommie Agee, who entered the season with career totals of five yards rushing and three catches, but then led all Cowboys backs in yards per carry and receptions in 1990.

In 11 seasons (1978-88) as running backs coach at the University of Miami, Brodsky groomed 10 NFL draft picks, including three — Ottis Anderson, Alonzo Highsmith and Cleveland Gary — picked in the first round. Gary set a Miami record for catches in a season by a back with 57 in 1988.

Not included in the draftees is Indianapolis running back Albert Bentley, who played in the United States Football League before joining the Colts. More impressive is that Highsmith went to Miami as a defensive lineman and Bentley as a walk-on. Five of Miami's top 10 all-time rushers worked under Brodsky.

For 13 seasons Brodsky was one of South Florida's most successful high school coaches at Miami-Jackson (1965-70) and Hialeah-Miami Lakes (1971-77), where in 1975 he guided the team, quarterbacked by his son, Joe, Jr., to the Florida state title. One of his charges at Jackson High School was current Cowboys special teams coach Joe Avezzano.

A four-year letterman in football, basketball and track at the University of Florida, Brodsky started at fullback and linebacker for the Gators.

Joseph Brodsky (6/9/34) is a native of Miami, where he graduated from Jackson High School. He and wife Joyce have three sons — Joe, Jr., Larry and Jeffrey — and two grandchildren, Amanda and Joe. Larry, a wide receiver at Miami from 1979-81, is fifth on the Hurricanes' all-time receiving list.

Dave Campo ★ Defensive Backs

Under Dave Campo's direction, the Dallas secondary has grown into one of the team's deepest and most productive units over the past five years.

That improvement was no more evident than in 1993, when second-year cornerback Kevin Smith intercepted more passes (6) than any other Cowboy player since 1986. Campo's guidance of Smith and his partner, fellow cornerback Larry Brown, has enabled the pair to develop into the NFL's top young tandem at the critical cornerback position.

The Dallas defense closed the '93 regular season ranked 10th in the NFL in pass defense allowing 194.8 yards per game, and the Cowboys held five of the final 10 regular season opponents to under 200 yards passing. Free safety Thomas Everett became the first Dallas defensive back to earn a trip to the Pro Bowl in seven seasons, while second year strong safety Darren Woodson was the team's second leading tackle (155 stops) nearly passing Ken Norton (159) for the club leadership in that category.

James Washington's stellar performance in Super Bowl XXVIII nearly earned the veteran safety MVP honors in Atlanta. Washington fell two votes short of tying Emmitt Smith for the MVP trophy after leading all Dallas tacklers with 11 stops, causing one fumble, intercepting a pass, and returning another fumble 46 yards for a touchdown that turned the game's momentum.

The Dallas defensive backs also left an imprint on the Cowboys special teams in 1993, as Bill Bates led the club in special teams tackles (25), with Brock Marion (19) and Kenneth Gant (17) key contributors throughout the year.

Campo was hired by Dallas in 1989 after spending two years at the University of Miami as the secondary coach. At Miami, he helped the Hurricanes to a two-year record of 23-1 and a national title in 1987, while fine tuning the talents of the best defensive back in school history. Safety Bennie Blades was the 1987 Jim Thorpe Award winner (honoring the best collegiate defensive back) before being selected with the third pick in the NFL Draft by the Detroit Lions. Eight of Campo's Miami charges went on to sign NFL contracts.

Prior to joining Miami, Campo spent three seasons (1984-86) as part of a staff that turned Syracuse into a national championship contender.

He began his career at his alma mater, Central Connecticut State, where he spent the 1971-72 seasons. His coaching trek then took him to Albany State (1973), Bridgeport (1974), University of Pittsburgh (1975), Washington State (1976), Boise State (1977-79), Oregon State (1980), Weber State (1981-82) and Iowa State (1983).

In addition to starring at defensive back in college, David Cross Campo (7/18/47) twice earned All-East honors at shortstop at Central Connecticut State. He attended Robert E. Fitch High School in Groton, CT. He and wife Kay have five children — Angie, Eric, Becky, Tommy, Shelbie and Michael.

Jim Eddy ★ Linebackers

In his first year in Dallas, Jim Eddy's added defensive knowledge and experience helped land three Cowboy defenders in the Pro Bowl in Hawaii. In 1994 Eddy will become more involved in the defense by moving from the secondary to the linebackers, taking over for Butch Davis — who will oversee all defensive positions.

It was Eddy's input as a defensive assistant with the secondary and pass defense in 1993 that helped Kevin Smith record one of the best seasons by a Dallas defensive back in some time, grabbing six interceptions — the most by a Dallas player since Michael Downs had six in 1986. In only his second season, Smith also added NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors in Week 14 at the N.Y. Jets. As a unit the Dallas defense ranked 10th in the NFL in total defense and second in scoring defense.

Prior to joining the Cowboys in 1992, Eddy spent three seasons as the defensive coordinator for the Houston Oilers, guiding a defense that led the American Football Conference and finished third in the National Football League in total defense. Houston also finished third in the league in pass defense and tied for fifth in sacks. In addition, two Oilers placed in the top 10 in sacks in the AFC in both 1991 and 1992, including 1991 when William Fuller led the conference and finished second in the league with 15 sacks.

During Eddy's three seasons with the Oilers the team earned three playoff berths, including the franchise's first AFC Central Division crown in 1991.

Prior to joining the Oilers' staff in 1990, Eddy spent three seasons as the defensive coordinator for the University of Houston, which posted a 22-10-1 record during his tenure there. The Cougars led the Southwest Conference in defense in 1988 and '89. His final year at the University of Houston, his troops finished sixth in the nation in scoring defense. In addition the 1988 Cougars held opponents to 3.69 yards per play, good for third in the country behind Auburn (3.6) and Miami (3.67).

In two seasons as the defensive coordinator for Houston of the United States Football League, Eddy helped guide the Gamblers to consecutive playoff appearances with a 13-5 mark and a division title in 1984 and a 10-8 record in 1985.

For 10 seasons, including three as a head coach, Eddy worked in the Canadian Football League, where he saw his teams make eight postseason berths and play in four Grey Cup Championship Games. During his two-year tenure as Director of Operations/Player Personnel for Toronto, the Argonauts played in the Grey Cup game each season, including a CFL Championship in 1983.

He began his pro coaching career as defensive coordinator at Saskatchewan in 1974 then was elevated to head coach of the Roughriders in 1977. He spent two seasons as defensive coordinator at Hamilton (1979-80) before being named head coach of the Montreal Alouettes in 1981.

After playing defensive back and running back at New Mexico State, Eddy began his coaching career on the high school level in Odessa, TX before becoming assistant head coach/defensive coordinator at his alma mater in 1965. Following six seasons with the Aggies, he was named defensive coordinator at Texas-El Paso in 1971.

Born in Checotah, OK (5/2/39), Jim and wife Dee have two daughters, Kelly and Connie.

Robert Ford ★ Tight Ends

While Jay Novacek provided the Cowboys with yet another Pro Bowl performance in 1993, tight end coach Robert Ford had to use five different players to fill a back-up void that plagued Dallas all season.

Novacek, who made his third consecutive Pro Bowl appearance following the season — this year as a starter for the NFC — grabbed 44 receptions for 445 yards as Dallas captured its second consecutive Super Bowl title in 1993. He also tied a club record for tight ends when he hauled in eight passes for 106 yards against Buffalo (9/12), recording his fourth 100-yard receiving day as a Cowboy to tie Doug Cosbie's club record for tight ends. Since Ford's first season with the Cowboys in 1991, no other NFL tight end has caught more passes than Novacek's 171.

When Alfredo Roberts went down with a season-ending foot injury early in training camp, Ford had to turn to inexperienced free agents for depth. Dallas obtained Kelly Blackwell in a trade with the Bears and signed rookie Joey Mickey off waivers prior to the start of the season. Blackwell was released in the middle of the season and was replaced by Jim Price, who arrived following a trade with the L.A. Rams. Like Roberts, Price injured his foot and was replaced by Scott Galbraith, who signed as a free agent. Galbraith saw most of his action in two tight end formations, recording one reception for a one-yard touchdown.

The duo of Novacek and Roberts flourished in the Cowboys march to Super Bowl XXVII in 1992. Novacek's 68 pass catches enabled him to become the first Dallas tight end to catch 50 or more passes in three consecutive seasons. Named to the Pro Bowl for the second straight season, Novacek surpassed Cosbie's club season record for catches by a tight end en route to becoming a first team All-Pro. While Roberts set career highs for catches and receiving yards.

The 1991 season was Ford's first full-time assignment with Dallas, but he was not a stranger to the Cowboys' staff after spending the previous summer at training camp as one of the recipients of the Jerry Jones Minority Coaching Fellowship.

Ford coached 15 years on the collegiate level and one season with the Houston Gamblers of the United States Football League before coming to Dallas. He spent 1989-90 as receivers coach at Texas A&M, helping the Aggies to two bowl appearances.

Prior to joining Texas A&M, Ford spent two seasons at Texas Tech where he developed a trio of wide receivers — Tyrone Thurman, Eddy Anderson and Wayne Walker — who each earned All-Southwest Conference honors, finished one-two-three on the Red Raiders' all-time receiving list.

Ford, Cont.

As receivers coach of the Gamblers in 1985, Ford oversaw Ricky Sanders, Clarence Verdin and Richard Johnson. Under Ford, Johnson caught 103 passes for 1,384 yards, Verdin had 84 catches for 1,004 yards and Sanders, who grabbed 101 receptions for 1,378 yards in 1984, caught 488 passes for 538 yards despite playing only 10 games in 1985.

After beginning his coaching career at Saginaw, MI, High School in 1973, Ford moved on as receivers coach at Western Illinois (1974-76), New Mexico (1977-79), Oregon State (1980-81), Mississippi State (1982-83) and Kansas (1986). Ford was on the same staff with current Cowboys assistants Joe Avezzano, then Beavers' head coach, and Dave Campo.

The only player in the history of the NCAA to catch two 99-yard touchdown passes, Ford led the University of Houston in receiving, punt return and kickoff returns in 1972, when he earned third-team All-America honors. While with the Cougars, Ford roomed with former Cowboys fullback Robert Newhouse.

A native of Belton, TX (6/21/51), Robert starred at Belton High School. He earned a Bachelor's degree in education from Houston and a Master's in athletic administration from Western Illinois. He and wife Janice have two sons, Bobby and Jason.

Steve Hoffman ★ Kickers/Quality Control

Steve Hoffman has rapidly developed a reputation around the NFL for his ability to find and develop kicking talent with young players. In three of the last four seasons, Hoffman has developed a rookie free agent kicker or punter who became the Dallas starter and went on to enjoy a very productive year.

In 1993, Hoffman introduced free agent punter John Jett to the NFL, and the newcomer responded by finishing the year ranked third in the NFL in net punting average (37.7).

Hoffman discovered a pair of rookie free agent place kickers in 1990 and 1992, and each went on to establish Dallas records for scoring by a rookie. In 1990, Ken Willis set the mark with 90 points, and in 1992, Lin Elliott shattered that standard by scoring 119 points.

The challenge to fill the kick scoring slot will again fall on Hoffman's shoulders in 1994, as Dallas's 1993 ace, veteran Eddie Murray, departed via free agency.

After joining the Cowboys to coach the kickers in 1989, Hoffman added the duties of quality control in 1990. He currently coordinates the computer scouting of all Cowboys future opponents on video tape, while providing internal analysis of the Cowboys own tendencies and productivity.

From 1985-87 he oversaw the kickers at the University of Miami where one of his charges was Jeff Feagles, a six-year pro who punted for Philadelphia the past three seasons. Hoffman also was a top instructor for Ray Pelfrey's kicking camps where his students included Barry Helton, who booted for the Rams in 1991, and Brian Hansen, the Saints' all-time leading punter, who kicked for Cleveland the past three seasons.

For two springs Hoffman coached in Italy as offensive coordinator of the Bellusco Seahawks in 1987 and the Rho Blacknights in 1988. In the fall of 1988 he coached at Sunset High School in Miami.

In 1983 Hoffman punted for the Washington Federals of the United States Football League. He also went to training camp with the Redskins in 1981 and 1983, Seattle in 1984 and New Orleans in 1985.

Born in Camden, NJ (9/8/58), Hoffman starred in baseball and football at York Suburban High School in York, PA. He earned All-Mid-Atlantic Conference honors at Dickinson College where he played quarterback, running back and wide receiver while handling the punting duties. He met his wife Raffaella while coaching in Italy, and they now reside in Coppell, TX.

Hudson Houck ★ Offensive Line

In his first season in Dallas, Hudson Houck did everything that was expected from him and more. Houck's group paved the way for Emmitt Smith to capture his third consecutive NFL rushing title with 1,486 yards on the ground, and allowed Troy Aikman to complete a team record 69.1 percent of his passes in 1993.

In addition, the Dallas offensive line allowed just 29 sacks in 504 passing opportunities, the fewest number of sacks in the NFC and the third fewest in the NFL. Following the season three members of the offensive line — Nate Newton, Mark Stepanoski and Erik Williams — were chosen to participate in the Pro Bowl in Hawaii, marking the first time Dallas had three offensive linemen chosen in the same season.

Prior to coming to Dallas, Houck spent 1992 coaching the offensive line for the Seattle Seahawks, and his group of linemen opened holes that allowed Chris Warren to rush for a 4.6 yard average per carry and 1,017 yards, the fifth 1,000-yard rushing season in club history and the first in Seattle since 1988.

Prior to joining Seattle, he spent nine years developing one of the most dominate lines in the NFL for the Los Angeles Rams. From 1983 to 1992 no team sent more offensive linemen to the Pro Bowl than the Rams. In all, five Rams' linemen made twenty-one trips to Hawaii, including Jackie Slater (seven trips) and Doug Smith (six).

The excellence of the offensive line translated into a 1,000-yard rusher in seven of the nine seasons Houck was with the Rams, including four NFL rushing titles in the five years from 1983-87. Running the ball wasn't the Rams only offensive weapon, as Jim Everett passed for more yards from 1989-91 than any other quarterback in the NFL. Because of the pass protection provided by the offensive line Everett did not miss a start from 1988-91.

Houck began a 16-year collaboration with John Robinson in 1976 at his alma mater, the University of Southern California. It was also at USC that Houck began a 13-year coaching relationship with Norv Turner, with whom he would also work with at the Rams. During his tenure at USC, Houck served as offensive line coach, guiding a group that would open holes for Heisman Trophy winners Charles White and Marcus Allen. While at USC, seven of Houck's offensive linemen went on to achieve All-America status and play in the NFL: Marvin Powell (Jets), Pat Howell (Oilers), Brad Budde (Chiefs), Keith Van Horne (Bears), Roy Foster (Dolphins), Bruce Matthews (Oilers) and Don Mosebar (Raiders).

Houck graduated from USC after playing three seasons as a center from 1962-64, including the Trojans' 1962 national championship team. He began his coaching career as an assistant at Crescenta Valley, CA, High School in 1967. He served a year in the United States Army in 1968, before returning to Crescenta Valley in 1969.

From 1970-72 he served his first stint as an assistant at USC, before moving on to coach the offensive line at Stanford from 1973-75.

Houck (1/7/43) attended Eagle Rock High School in Los Angeles, CA. His wife Elsie has two grown children, Scott and Holly.

Mike Woicik ★ Strength and Conditioning

Since Mike Woicik's arrival as the strength and conditioning coach in 1990, the Dallas Cowboys have developed into one of the healthiest and best conditioned teams in the National Football League.

Healthy and well-conditioned teams generally have a greater chance of winning, and since Woicik's arrival, the Cowboys have an overall record of 50-22, with seven playoff victories and two Super Bowl titles.

The conditioning aspect has been especially prevalent in Dallas' ability to finish a season strong. In each of the past four seasons, Dallas has a cumulative record of 21-4 in games played from Thanksgiving on through to the end of the playoffs.

Following the NFL title season in 1992, Woicik's outstanding efforts were rewarded as he was voted the NFL's "Strength Coach of the Year" by his peers.

Woicik joined the Cowboys staff after 10 years as the strength and conditioning coach at Syracuse University, which became one of the nation's top football programs during his tenure. One of Woicik's prize pupils was fullback Daryl Johnston, who was picked in the second round by Dallas in 1989. Woicik also worked with current Cowboys defensive backs coach Dave Campo at Syracuse.

From 1978-80 Woicik was the track coach and weight room coordinator at Springfield College in Massachusetts.

An outstanding discus thrower at Boston College, Woicik set a school record of 180 feet, 5 inches, earned All-East honors and qualified for the NCAA championships. He also competed in the shot put and hammer throw.

A native of Westwood, MA (9/26/56), Mike Woicik (pronounced WOY-sick) competed in football and track at Westwood High School. Woicik, who is an ardent bowler, organizes a players' weekly bowling outing. He earned his Bachelor's degree in history from Boston College and Master's in physical education from Springfield.

Mike Zimmer ★ Defensive Assistant

The newest member of the Dallas Cowboys coaching staff is Mike Zimmer, who spent the past five seasons as the defensive coordinator/secondary coach at Washington State University. In Dallas he will become a defensive assistant, taking over the nickel defense duties held by Jim Eddy during the 1993 season. The move will allow Eddy to coach the linebackers and free Butch Davis to oversee the entire defense.

Zimmer took over the Cougar defense in 1989. With that group, Washington State established a school record with 24 interceptions and 48 sacks on the season. In 1992, the Cougars posted a 9-3 record, including a win in the Copper Bowl, which equalled the second most wins in school history and was the school's best record since the 1930's. Washington State finished the season with the 18th ranked defense in the nation and established a school record by allowing opponents to convert only 26.1 percent of their third downs. In 1993 Washington State climbed to eighth in the nation in total defense, allowing just 298 yards per game, and second in rushing defense. Zimmer's unit established a school record by allowing only 86 yards per game and 2.16 yards per carry.

Prior to joining the Cougars' staff, Zimmer was an assistant at Weber State College from 1981-88. Zimmer was on the same staff with current Cowboys assistant Dave Campo during the 1981-82 seasons. He coached inside linebackers from 1981-84, while adding the duties of defensive coordinator in 1983. From 1985-88 he served as coordinator and oversaw the secondary. The 1981 Wildcat defense led the Big Sky Conference, and his 1987 group set a school record with six defensive touchdowns. That 1987 team posted a 10-3 record, the best mark in school history.

Zimmer began his coaching career as a part-time assistant on defense at the University of Missouri in 1979, coaching among others All-Pro cornerbacks Eric Wright (San Francisco 49ers) and Johnnie Poe (New Orleans Saints).

Zimmer was a two-time all-conference quarterback at Lockport, IL, High School in 1972-73, playing for his father Bill, who played football at Bradley and later with the San Francisco 49ers. Mike also earned all-conference honors in wrestling and baseball.

Zimmer went on to play quarterback at Illinois State University in 1974. After redshirting the 1975 season, he suffered a broken thumb in the spring of 1976 and was moved to linebacker. A neck injury, suffered during the 1976 season, led to surgery and the end of his playing career. He graduated with a Bachelor's degree in physical education in 1979.

Born in Peoria, IL (6/5/56), Mike and wife Vikki have three children, Adam, Marki and Corri.

Barry Switzer was hired as the head coach of the Dallas Cowboys on March 30, 1994.

O'NEILL

COCHREN

KEVIN O'NEILL, Trainer

Kevin O'Neill joined the Cowboys in 1989 after four years as head athletic trainer at the University of Miami.

A graduate of the University of Pittsburgh, O'Neill earned his Master's degree in physical education from the University of Arizona while serving as athletic trainer for Catalina High School in Tucson, AZ. O'Neill spent three years as the assistant athletic trainer at the University of Tennessee, four years as head athletic trainer at Oregon State, and one year at the University of Central Florida before joining the University of Miami.

He serves as chairman of the public relations committee for the National Athletic Trainers Association and also serves on the public relations committee of the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society.

A native of Pittsburgh, PA (8/2/54), Kevin and wife Anne have two children, McKenzie and Kaitlyn.

DON COCHREN, Athletic Trainer/Medical Records Coordinator

Don Cochren joined the Cowboys in 1965 after experience in college, military, and Canadian Football League training. Cochren became assistant trainer/medical records coordinator after working 25 seasons as the team's trainer.

A graduate of Purdue, Cochren earned his physical therapy certificate at Pennsylvania. He was a trainer at Case Institute (now Case-Western Reserve) in Cleveland for two years, with the Toronto Argonauts of the CFL for four years and the University of New Hampshire for one year before coming to Dallas. He also served as a physical therapy officer in the Air Force for two years.

Cochren was one of the 28 trainers selected from colleges and professional sports teams to serve the United States team at the 1980 Winter Olympics at Lake Placid, NY. In 1984 Cochren received the 25-year honor award from the National Athletic Trainers Association and in 1989 was chosen to serve as a member of the Professional Football Athletic Trainers/Gatorade Advisory Board. Purdue University honored Cochren by presenting him their Distinguished Alumni Award in 1992.

A native of Princeton, IN (2/6/32), Don and wife Jan have four children- Jeff, Wendy, Scott and Chris.

JIM MAURER, Assistant Trainer

Jim Maurer works with Kevin O'Neill and supervises the Cowboys' medical rehabilitation program. After serving as a graduate assistant with Dallas for two seasons, Maurer joined the Cowboys on a full-time basis in the spring of 1990.

A native of Dallas (3/8/65), Maurer received his undergraduate degree in physical education from Southern Methodist University, where he worked primarily with the football and swim teams.

Maurer worked one year as a summer assistant with the Kansas City Chiefs in 1987, after spending the summer of 1986 with the Cowboys in the same capacity.

An avid golfer and racquetball player, he is pursuing his master's degree in physical education at the University of North Texas. Maurer and his wife Rosanne live in Dallas with their sons Nicholas and Benjamin Michael.

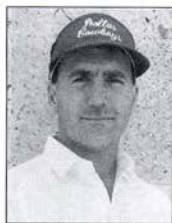

THE COACHING STAFF

BLACKWELL

BUCHANAN

ROBERT BLACKWELL, Video Director

Robert Blackwell enters his sixth season as the team's video director after eight seasons as an assistant with Dallas. In charge of taping and editing all Cowboys' practices and games, Blackwell also edits opponents' tapes and handles all the teams' photographic needs.

Blackwell shot coaching game films for basketball and football at Southern Methodist University from 1979-84.

After earning his degree in communications from Stephen F. Austin, Blackwell produced a film on the efforts to save the red wolf from the extinction for the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service. The following year he served as director of photography on a film about the North Atlantic Indian migrations for Gulf Oil and the State of Texas.

A native of Garland, TX (12/1/50), a Dallas suburb, Robert graduated from Garland High School. He and his wife Diana live in Coppell, TX, with son Nathaniel and daughter Lora Ann.

MIKE McCORD, Equipment Manager

Mike McCord enters his sixth season with the Cowboys, his third in the equipment department and his first as the equipment manager after taking over the position this spring. McCord will take over for William T. "Buck" Buchanan who retired in May after 21 seasons with the Cowboys.

McCord originally joined the Cowboys in 1989 as the assistant ticket manager, spending two years in that capacity before moving to the football operations department in 1991.

Before coming to Dallas, McCord spent two-and-a-half-years with the University of Texas athletic department, one-and-a-half years as a part-time student assistant before receiving his B.B.A degree and then one year as a full-time intern.

A native of Clovis, NM (11/6/64), Mike graduated from Roosevelt High School in San Antonio, TX, and spent two years attending Southwest Texas State before transferring to the University of Texas. He and wife Jan were married in May, 1994.

BUCKY BUCHANAN, Assistant Equipment Manager

William Andrew "Bucky" Buchanan enters his first year as the assistant equipment manager, joining the Cowboys this spring. Buchanan is no stranger to the Cowboys equipment department, having spent many weekends and training camps helping his father William T. "Buck" Buchanan — who retired in the spring after serving 21 years as the Cowboy equipment manager.

Before coming to Dallas, Buchanan spent one-and-a-half years with Willis Medical in Richardson, TX, and 10 years with the Skaggs Alpha Beta grocery store chain.

A native of Dallas, Buchanan (6/9/61) graduated from Plano High School. He and wife Amy have two children - Thomas II (12/11/86) and Brett (10/26/89).

Larry Lacewell
Director of College and Pro Scouting

Larry Lacewell joined the Cowboys as Director of College Scouting in May of 1992, and his performance as a key player in Dallas' last two NFL Drafts has been impressive.

In 1993, the Cowboys drafted nine college players, and six of those went on to earn year-long roster spots with the Super Bowl champions. Of that group, Darrin Smith was a starter at weak-side linebacker, while Kevin Williams was a solid contributor as a third receiver and return specialist — returning two punts for touchdowns.

This past spring, Lacewell's scouting department turned in a draft effort that addressed Dallas needs for depth along the offensive and defensive lines, while also providing the Cowboys with a strong showing in the rookie free agent market.

"The importance of drafting and developing young talent is more important in the NFL than ever before," said Cowboys Owner and General Manager Jerry Jones. "Larry has provided us a solid direction in that department since coming on board, and his contributions will be more prominent over the next few years as those younger players begin to fill key positions on our depth chart."

"I believed from day one that Larry was uniquely qualified for this job," adds Jones. "He's not only a knowledgeable football man with years of coaching experience, but he has been a college athletic director and has a strong administrative background. The combination of his management expertise and his knowledge of the game are very special."

Lacewell joined the professional ranks with the Cowboys after a distinguished career in collegiate coaching and athletic administration that spanned over 30 years.

Most recently, Lacewell served under Johnny Majors as the defensive coordinator at Tennessee (1990-1991). The 1990 Volunteer club captured the Southeastern Conference Championship and then defeated Virginia in the Sugar Bowl. In 1991, Tennessee finished second in the SEC and earned a Fiesta Bowl berth.

As the athletic director and head coach at Arkansas State (1978-1989), Lacewell compiled a record of 69-48-4. He was named the Southland Conference's Coach of the Year on three occasions, while the Indians captured two conference titles under his direction.

Lacewell began his coaching career as an assistant at Alabama in 1959. Following two seasons with the Crimson Tide, he moved on to Arkansas State (1961), Arkansas A&M (1962-63), Kilgore Junior College (1964-65), Oklahoma (1966), Wichita State (1967) and Iowa State (1968). Lacewell rejoined the Sooners' staff in 1969 as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator, and over the next nine seasons helped Oklahoma to six Big Eight titles and two national championships.

A native of Fordyce, AR, Lacewell attended Fordyce High School and then played halfback at Arkansas A&M from 1955-59. He and wife Criss have two children, Bryant Land and Logan.

Tom Ciskowski ★ Scout

Tom Ciskowski enters his third season as a Cowboys scout, serving as an area scout the past two years. Previously he served a one year stint as a scout administered by the BLESTO Scouting Combine in 1991.

Before becoming a scout, Ciskowski spent 15 years in the coaching ranks, the first two as an assistant at Pawhuska, OK, High School. In 1979 he moved into the college coaching ranks, becoming the defensive backfield coach at East Central University in Ada, OK. While at ECU he earned his Master's degree in athletic administration. The following year he moved to Arizona State University, working with the defensive line as a graduate assistant for the 1980-81 seasons.

In 1982 Ciskowski moved to Oklahoma State, joining Coach Johnson's staff as an assistant to Tony Wise on the offensive line, before becoming the offensive line coach at Wichita State in 1984. After that season Ciskowski rejoined Johnson as a volunteer assistant working with Butch Davis and the defensive line at the University of Miami.

From 1986-89 Ciskowski worked with the offensive lines, first at New Mexico State for two seasons, and then at UNLV for two more. Before coming to Dallas, he coached the defensive line at College of the Sequoias in Visalia, CA, from 1990-91. Thirteen of the team's players went on from the junior college to play Division I football in 1992.

A native of Medford, OK, Ciskowski attended Medford High School then played linebacker and earned his Bachelor's degree from Cameron University.

Jim Garrett ★ Scout

Jim Garrett, who spent 28 of the past 29 seasons as either a coach or scout in the NFL, re-joined Dallas in 1987.

He previously scouted for the Cowboys in 1968-69 and 1974-75. Prior to his first stint in Dallas, Garrett served two seasons as a scout for the BLESTO Scouting Combine. He then coached with the New York Giants from 1970-74 before returning to Dallas.

Garrett was also an assistant coach with New Orleans (1976-77) and Cleveland (1978-84). After a season as the head coach at Columbia, he scouted for Buffalo in 1986.

An all-conference fullback at Utah State, Garrett played for Philadelphia (1954), the British Columbia Lions (1955), the New York Giants (1956) and the Ottawa Roughriders (1957).

He began his coaching career as an assistant at the Coast Guard Academy in 1958. After one season at Lehigh, Garrett became head coach and athletic director at Susquehanna University where he compiled a 40-3-1 record and was inducted into the school's hall of fame.

The Rutherford, NJ, native (6/19/30) attended Rutherford High School. He went to spring training with the Pittsburgh Pirates following his rookie year in the NFL.

He and wife Jane have eight children — Jim, Jane, Jennifer, Janine, Jill, John, Jason and Judd — and ten grandchildren. John, a wide receiver who went to training camp with Dallas in 1988, is a scout with Tampa Bay. Jason is one of the Cowboys' back-up quarterbacks. Judd, a running back who was on the Cowboys' practice squad in 1993, played for London of the World League in 1991-92.

Walter Juliff ★ Scout

Walter Juliff begins his 10th season, the last seven with the Dallas Cowboys.

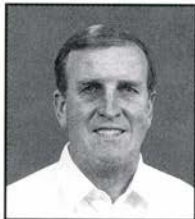

Before becoming a full-time scout, Juliff spent two seasons as a graduate assistant at the University of Texas. He also was an assistant with the Abilene-Cooper football team in 1980, the Houston-Kingwood baseball team in 1981 and the Kerrville-Tivy track team in 1982. While at Tivy High School, Juliff worked with punter John Teltschik, who earned All-Rookie honors with Philadelphia in 1986.

Juliff began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Angelo State where he spent two seasons. In 1978 the Rams went undefeated and won the NAIA national championship then lost in the national semifinals the next year.

A native of San Angelo, TX (6/22/56), Walter starred in football and as a hurdler in track at Central High School.

Juliff, who lives in Austin, TX, earned his Bachelor's degree from San Angelo State and his M.B.A. from Texas. He and former Phoenix offensive coordinator Jerry Rhome are cousins.

Bobby Marks ★ Scout

Bobby Marks, a 11-year veteran of NFL scouting, begins his second season in Dallas as a scout administered by the BLESTO Scouting Combine.

Before coming to Dallas, Marks was a scout with the Denver Broncos from 1983-92. During that time, the Broncos posted seven winning seasons and three Super Bowl appearances.

An All-Southwest Conference selection at tight end under Paul "Bear" Bryant at Texas A&M, Marks helped the Aggies to the 1956 SWC Championship before graduating in 1958. He entered the coaching ranks as an assistant coach at Nederland, TX, High School from 1959-60. He then moved to Jones High School in Houston, TX from 1961-64 before becoming head coach at Sam Houston High in Houston in 1965.

In 1968 Marks moved into the college coaching ranks, becoming the linebackers coach under Gene Stallings at his alma mater, Texas A&M. The following season Marks moved to receivers coach. In 1972 Marks was reunited with Coach Bryant, becoming the receivers coach at the University of Alabama. A position he would hold until joining the Broncos in 1983.

A native of New Orleans, LA, (6/21/36), Bobby attended Warren Easton High School. He and wife Ann have five children — Bobby, Jr., Keith, Jared, Beth and Katie.

Walt Yowarsky ★ Scout

Walt Yowarsky joined the Cowboys in 1977 with 25 seasons in the NFL as either a player, assistant coach or scout. He came to Dallas following three years with the QUADRA scouting combine.

Drafted by Washington as an offensive and defensive lineman in the second round in 1951, Yowarsky played until midway through the 1952 season when he entered the Air Force. After returning in 1954, he was traded from Washington to Detroit. A year later he was traded from Detroit to the N.Y. Giants.

While he was with the Giants they played in two NFL Championship Games, including a 47-7 win over Chicago for the title in 1956. Following four seasons in New York, he finished his playing career in San Francisco in 1959.

Yowarsky returned to the Giants as a scout and assistant coach in 1959. After two seasons he joined the first coaching staff of the new franchise in Minnesota where he coached for six seasons. He then moved on as an assistant coach at New Orleans (1967-68), Atlanta (1969-70), Houston (1971) and San Diego (1972-73).

In the 1951 Sugar Bowl Yowarsky earned most valuable player honors as he led Kentucky to a 13-7 win over Oklahoma, ending the Sooners' 33-game winning streak. He played three seasons for the Wildcats under Paul "Bear" Bryant.

A native of Cleveland (5/10/28), Walt and wife Bobbie have three children — Michael, Lisa and Van. Yowarsky was offered a contract to play baseball by Cincinnati after high school.

What To Look For in 1994

- The Cowboys improving their NFL-best opening-day record of 25-8-1 (.750). Dallas holds the NFL record for consecutive wins in opening games with 17 straight from 1965-81.
- The Cowboys improving their NFC-best 51-29 (.638) record against AFC foes in games against Cincinnati, Cleveland, Houston and Pittsburgh.
- The Cowboys increasing their 27-game (regular season and playoffs) sellout streak at Texas Stadium, the longest since 1977-82, when Dallas sold out 44 straight home games.
- The Cowboys increasing their 52-game (regular season and playoffs) sellout streak both home and away.
- The Cowboys improving their 40-1 regular season record when Emmitt Smith carries 20-or-more times. Dallas is also 29-1 in games when Smith rushes for 100-yards-or-more.
- Jim Jeffcoat adding to his team-high streak of games played at 110.
- Troy Aikman moving up the NFL's all-time career completion percentage list. Aikman is current the NFL's third most accurate passer with a 62.0 percent completion rate.
- Troy Aikman moving into first on the Cowboys all-time passing list. Currently third, Aikman has a career quarterback rating of 81.0. Just ahead of him is Danny White with a rating of 81.7 and Roger Staubach (83.5).
- Michael Irvin becoming the first player to record four consecutive 1,000-yard receiving seasons in club history. Tony Hill is the only Dallas player to record even three 1,000-yard receiving seasons in a career, but they were in 1979, 1980 and 1985.
- Michael Irvin becoming the first Cowboys player with 75-or-more catches in four consecutive seasons. Irvin recorded 88 receptions in 1993, 78 receptions in 1992 and established a club record with 93 catches in 1991. With 76 receptions in 1986, Herschel Walker is the only other Dallas player to have ever recorded more than 75 receptions in a season.
- Jay Novacek setting a club record for 100-yard receiving games by a tight end. He is tied with Doug Cosbie for the record at four.
- Emmitt Smith becoming the only player in Cowboys' history to score 10-or-more touchdowns in five straight seasons. Smith scored 11 touchdowns in 1990, 13 in 1991, 19 in 1992 and 10 last season. Bob Hayes scored 10-or-more touchdowns each season from 1965-68.
- Emmitt Smith becoming the second player in NFL history, joining Jim Brown (1957-61 had five), to lead the league in rushing in four consecutive seasons.

THE PLAYERS

Tommie Agee

FULLBACK • AUBURN
HT: 6-0 • WT: 235 • BORN: 2/22/64
FA FOR '90 • 8th YEAR

PRO: Although Tommie Agee started the season as the backup fullback and saw most of his action on special teams, he is looked upon as a true team leader. While his playing time was limited, Agee, who has been labeled "The Reverend" by his teammates, is a positive locker room influence. His leadership was missed after he was waived on November 16. Agee was resigned on November 30 after Derrick Gainer hurt his shoulder, but not before Dallas went 0-2, losing at Atlanta (11/21) and to Miami (11/25) during his two week absence. It's no coincidence that upon Agee's return, the Cowboys started an eight game winning streak en route to a second straight Super Bowl title. Agee was de-activated for all three postseason games, but he still ended the 1993 season with 13 yards on six carries. He saw action at fullback in the second quarter vs. Buffalo (9/12) and also saw fourth quarter action at Indianapolis (10/10), recording his first carries of the season. After re-signing with the club, Agee saw action on the final drive at Minnesota, gaining one yard on one carry, and equaled that mark at the New York Jets (12/18). Agee was the special teams co-captain against Washington (12/26) and tied for the team lead with three special teams stops. He also ran for four yards on two carries in the fourth quarter of that game. In 1992 Agee, who ran for 54 yards on 16 carries (3.4-yard average), spent the season as a back-up at both fullback and running back. Against Philadelphia (10/5), he had a 10-yard run in the fourth quarter, his longest since 1990. When reserve running back Curvin Richards was released in late December of 1992, Agee became Emmitt Smith's primary back-up. He responded by rushing for 30 yards on nine carries against Chicago (12/27), his best rushing performance since Dec. 16, 1990 when he had 48 yards rushing against Phoenix. He also had three pass receptions for 18 yards. Agee, fourth on the team in special teams tackles (13), also added four in the postseason. Agee finished the 1991 season with nine carries for 20 yards, including his first career NFL rushing touchdown. His four-yard touchdown run in the fourth quarter against New Orleans (12/8) put the game out of reach for Dallas at 23-14. Agee was a visible member of the Cowboys' kickoff coverage, punt coverage and kickoff return teams all year, finishing with eight total special teams tackles-ranked second in stops among all offensive players. He was the team's second leading-rusher with 213 yards on 53 carries and led all Dallas running backs in yards per carry (4.0) and receptions (30). His biggest individual play of the year came at critical time in the opening 17-14 win over the Chargers (9/9). Late in the fourth quarter, Agee burst 16 yards for a first down on fourth down-and-two from the San Diego 45. He scored his first NFL touchdown on a six-yard pass from Troy Aikman against the Rams (11/18). After spending the first half of the 1989 season on injured reserve at Kansas City with torn ligaments in his left ringfinger, Agee finished the season as a back-up to Christian Okoye. He joined the Chiefs as a Plan B free agent from Seattle in 1989, where he was a fifth round draft choice in 1987. He missed his entire rookie year with the Seahawks because of a knee injury. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1987 (IR-Sea.), 1988 (16/0-Sea.), 1989 (9/0-K.C.), 1990 (16/11), 1991 (16/0, 2/0), 1992 (16/0, 3/0), 1993 (12/0, 0/0). Total - 73/11, 5/0 (Dallas-60/11, 5/0).

COLLEGE: At Auburn, Agee was a four-year starter at fullback, where he was used as a lead blocker for both Bo Jackson and Brent Fullwood. He finished his career with 356 carries for 1,735 yards and 10 touchdowns. As a kick returner, he averaged 21.5 yards for his career. He was the special teams captain as a senior. His best single season rushing totals came as a freshman when he gained 606 yards on 115 carries.

PERSONAL: Thomas Lee Agee was born and raised in Maplesville, AL, where he earned all-state honors in football, basketball and track at Maplesville High School. He earned his degree in criminal justice from Auburn. Troy Aikman

QUARTERBACK • UCLA
 HT: 6-4 • WT: 228 • BORN: 11/21/66
 D-1 FOR '89 • 6th YEAR

PRO: In leading Dallas to its second consecutive Super Bowl title in 1993, Troy Aikman posted one of the finest seasons an NFL quarterback has ever had. His 99.0 quarterback rating was the second highest in team history and placed him second in the NFL, the highest finish by a Dallas quarterback since Roger Staubach led the league in 1979 with a club-record 104.8 rating. The top vote getter among all players for the Pro Bowl, Aikman earned a spot on his third consecutive Pro Bowl team following the season, his first as the starting quarterback. Other 1993 awards included All-Pro honors from Sports Illustrated and The Sporting News, Football News All-NFC, NFL Alumni Quarterback of the Year and the Dallas All Sports Association Co-Pro Athlete of the Year. The NFL's most accurate passer in 1993, Aikman led the league with a 69.1% completion rate, the fourth highest single-season completion rate in NFL history, breaking his own club record for completion percentage in a season (65.3% in 1991). He now has the top three single-season completion percentages in club history. Aikman also avoided mistakes when throwing the football, leading the NFC and finishing second in the NFL in interception ratio at 1.53% on his way to establishing a club record for lowest single-season interception rate — topping Roger Staubach's 1.90% from 1971. Aikman also set a new Dallas career interception rate (3.44%), moving past Staubach (3.68%). After missing most of the preseason following June 19 back surgery on a herniated disk, Aikman opened the regular season at Washington (9/6) by completing 17 of 29 passes for 267 yards and two touchdowns, including an 80-yard touchdown toss to Alvin Harper which was the second longest completion of his career. The following week Aikman attempted a career-high 45 pass attempts against Buffalo (9/12). At Phoenix (9/19), he completed 21 of 27 passes (77.8%) for 281 yards, beginning a club-record streak of three straight weeks when his completion percentage topped the 70 percent mark. The following week in his 58th career game, he earned NFC Offensive Player of the Week honors and became the fourth Dallas quarterback to reach the 1,000 career completion mark — the fastest a Dallas quarterback has ever reached that point — when he completed 18 of 23 passes (78.3%) for 317 yards, the third highest yardage day of his career, and a touchdown against Green Bay

(10/3). He also posted a career-high 13.8 yards per attempt. Aikman finished the season with 1,191 career completions to rank third on the club's all-time list behind White (1,761) and Staubach (1,685). At Indianapolis (10/10), he completed the three-game streak by completing 21 of 28 passes (75.0%). In the rain and wind at Philadelphia (10/31), Aikman had a string of 35 straight games with a completion percentage above 50.0% snapped. Prior to that game his last sub-50.0% completion day had also come against the Eagles (9/15/91), and he had only two sub-50% passing days in 46 career games under offensive coordinator Norv Turner. For his play in October, Aikman was named NFC Offensive Player of the Month after guiding Dallas to four consecutive wins. November began where October left off for Aikman, who completed his first ten passes vs. N.Y. Giants (11/7) and 11 of 13 for 162 yards and two touchdowns (34 and 50 yards to Harper) before suffering a strained left hamstring early in the third quarter, which forced him to miss the remainder of that game and the games that followed against Phoenix (11/14) and Atlanta (11/21). Despite missing two and a half games due to injuries, he still threw for 3,100 yards to finish fourth in the NFC and posted his second consecutive 3,000-yard passing season, the first back-to-back 3,000-yard seasons by a Dallas quarterback since Danny White accomplished the feat in 1980-81. He returned to action on Thanksgiving Day to complete 28 of 43 passes (65.1%) in the freezing rain and sleet vs. Miami (11/25). Against the Dolphins, he threw his first interception since the Buffalo game (9/12), ending a career-long string of attempts without interception at 151 — the second longest streak in club history behind Don Meredith's team record of 156 attempts. After completing 17 of 24 passes (70.8%) in a win over the Eagles (12/6), Aikman was 21 of 27 (77.8%) for 252 yards and two touchdowns against the New York Jets (12/18), and he also ran for 31 yards, including a 20-yard scramble on third-and-16 that was his longest run since a 20 yard dash at Tampa Bay (10/21/90), on three carries, his highest rushing total since he ran for 33 yards against San Francisco (11/11/90). Aikman closed out the year with back-to-back season-high 80.0% completion days vs. Washington (12/26) (16 of 20 for 193 yards and two touchdowns) and at the New York Giants (1/2) (24 of 30 passes for 180 yards and a touchdown) while leading Dallas to a 16-13 overtime win and clinching the NFC East title for Dallas. Over the final three games of the season Aikman tied the team record he set earlier in the season by posting three straight games with a completion percentage over 70.0%, and including the playoffs, he extended the second streak to six games. In completing 28 of 37 passes for 302 yards and three touchdowns vs. Green Bay in Divisional Playoff Game (1/16/94), Aikman set a Dallas single-game record for completion percentage at 75.7%. It marked the third consecutive postseason game he had broken the club record for completion percentage. He also had a club record streak of 111 postseason pass attempts without an interception snapped against the Packers and career playoff-highs with 28 completions — the second highest total in club history to White's 32 against the Rams (12/26/83) — and 37 attempts in the game. In the NFC Championship Game vs. San Francisco (1/23), Aikman was 14 of 18 for 177 yards and two touchdowns in leading Dallas to a 28-7 lead before suffering a concussion early in the third quarter that ended his day. He returned to action against Buffalo (1/30) and helped lead Dallas to the Super Bowl XXVIII title by completing 19 of 27 passes for 207 yards. For his career, Aikman now has the highest quarterback rating (111.2), average per attempt (8.53 yards) and completion percentage (71.1%) in NFL postseason history. For the 15 games he has played over past two seasons in December/January (regular season and playoffs), Aikman is 295 of 412 (71.6%) for 3,285 yards, 28 touchdowns, 7 interceptions and a 110.5 rating. In the past 49 games Aikman started and did not leave due to injury. He has completed 958-of-1,450 passes (66.1%) for 11,103 yards, 63 touchdowns and 36 interceptions for a 93.2 rating while leading Dallas to a 38-11 record (.776). For his career, he has posted a 44-30 record in 74 career starts, including a 6-0 mark in the postseason. In 1992 Aikman started the season hot and never looked back, leading the team to victories in eight of the first nine games. After knocking off the defending Super Bowl champion Redskins in the Monday night season opener, he threw for three touchdown passes against Phoenix (9/20), including a career-long 87-yard touchdown toss to Michael Irvin which was the fourth longest completion in club history. Later in the year at Phoenix (11/22), Aikman completed a season-high 25 passes and threw for two touchdowns, beginning a string of five straight games in which he threw at least two touchdown passes, the longest such streak by a Dallas player since Danny White had six straight multi-touchdown games in 1983. Down 27-24 late at Denver (12/6), Aikman completed 7-of-8 passes for 78 yards on a last minute touchdown drive to give Dallas a 31-27 come from behind win, the seventh time he had led Dallas from behind to win in the fourth quarter, including twice in the last two minutes. The following week at Washington (12/13) he reached 10,000 passing yards in his 52nd career game, faster than any quarterback in team history. Aikman finished the season with 3,445 yards passing, his first career 3,000-yard season and the third best yardage season in team history, to rank second in the NFC and fourth in the NFL in yards passing. His 302 completions were the second most in a season in team history and tied him for the NFC lead, second in the NFL. One of his finest passing performances of the year came at Atlanta (12/21) when he completed 13 straight passes, the second most in club history, on his way to a single-game career-high 85.7% (18-of-21) completion rate, the second best in a game in team history. In leading Dallas to a club record 13 regular season wins in 1992, Aikman's 89.5 quarterback rating placed him third in the NFL and earned him his second consecutive Pro Bowl appearance. In the postseason, Aikman took his game to yet another level, completing 61 of 89 passes (68.5%) for 795 yards, eight touchdowns and no interceptions for a rating of 126.4 in three postseason victories. His 322 passing yards in the Cowboys 30-20 win over San Francisco in the NFC Championship game tied White for the second most in a playoff game in team history, and by completing 70.6% (24 of 34) of his passes, Aikman established a club playoff record. Two weeks later, he broke that record by completing 73.3% (22 of 30) of his passes against Buffalo (1/31), earning MVP honors in Super Bowl XXVII. With his MVP award, Aikman joined Jim Plunkett and Terry Bradshaw as the only other quarterbacks drafted first overall to win the Super Bowl MVP award. The 1991 season was a preview of what was ahead for Dallas as evidenced in the Cowboys' win over the defending Super Bowl Champion New York Giants (9/29). Aikman earned NFC Offensive Player of the Week honors after completing 5-of-6 passes for 84 yards, including a 23-yard scoring toss to Michael Irvin, on the game-winning drive late in the fourth quarter. Against Green Bay (10/6) he recorded a career-high 31 completions, including 12 straight at the end of the game. Despite missing the final four regular-season games after spraining the lateral collateral ligament in his right knee in the third quarter of the Cowboys' victory at Washington (11/24), Aikman completed 65.3% of his passes to lead the NFC and earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl. At Detroit (10/27), he threw for a season-high 331 yards, his second most as a pro. In 1990 Aikman's value to Dallas was evident in the team's seven wins. In only one of those victories were the Cowboys ahead entering the fourth quarter. In the other six, Aikman completed 32-of-45 passes (71.1%) for 456 yards, two touchdowns and no interceptions in the final period to put Dallas on top. In the season-opening victory over San Diego (9/9), Aikman capped a 53-yard drive with his first NFL rushing touchdown, a one-yard sneak, to win the game with 1:58 remaining. In Tampa (10/21), he led Dallas on an 80-yard scoring drive — throwing for 60 and scrambling for 20 — that culminated in the game-winning 28-yard touchdown pass to Michael Irvin with 1:56 left. Against the Rams (11/18), Aikman led the team 89 yards to set up the winning field goal in the fourth quarter. Four days later vs. the Redskins, he led the Cowboys to scores from 67 and 78 yards out in the final period of a 27-17 Dallas win. Aikman completed 11 straight passes in the second half while engineering fourth-quarter scoring drives of 80 and 50 yards to beat the Saints (12/2). Early in the Philadelphia game (12/23), Aikman injured his right shoulder forcing him to miss the season finale. When Aikman had surgery to repair the shoulder he also had loose bodies removed from his right elbow. In 1989 Aikman showed tremendous poise for a rookie. After missing five games due to a broken left index finger suffered against the N.Y. Giants (10/1), Aikman threw for an NFL rookie-record 379 yards at Phoenix (11/12). In that game against the Cardinals he was knocked unconscious after rifling a 75-yard scoring strike to put Dallas up 20-17 with 1:43 remaining. Against the Rams (12/3) Aikman became the first Cowboys player since White in 1987 to throw four touchdown passes. The first rookie quarterback to start a season opener for Dallas since Roger Staubach in 1969, Aikman was named to most All-Rookie teams. During his five-year career, Aikman has been successful 20-of-the-34 times he's scrambled for a first down on third downs. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1989 (11/11), 1990 (15/15), 1991 (12/12, 1/0); 1992 (16/16,

COLLEGE: In two seasons at UCLA Aikman completed 64.8 percent of his passes for 5,298 yards and 41 touchdowns while throwing only 17 interceptions. He finished his collegiate career as the third rated passer in NCAA history. The All-America led the Bruins to a 20-4 record, including wins in the 1987 Aloha Bowl and the 1989 Cotton Bowl. He transferred to UCLA after two seasons under Barry Switzer at Oklahoma in 1984-85.

PERSONAL: Troy Kenneth Aikman grew up in Cerritos, CA, and earned all-state honors at Henryetta, OK, High School after his family moved when Troy was 12. In 1991 he pledged to match any funds raised to build a health and fitness center for the schools of the town of 6,000 where a street is named after him. Named Henryettan of the Year for 1992, Aikman also sponsors a scholarship at Henryetta High School for students, who want to attend college but can't afford it. He also set up a permanently endowed scholarship at UCLA, where he majored in sociology. In 1991 he established the Troy Aikman Foundation, which benefits children's charities in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. The proceeds from his annual golf tournament, which he began in 1992, also go to his foundation. In addition to his personal foundation activities, Aikman has served on the Board of Stars for Children, the Irving, TX, Youth and Family Counseling Center and has been honorary chairman for numerous charitable fundraisers throughout the Metroplex. He also worked with Roger Staubach on a poster to benefit the Children's Medical Center of Dallas. In 1992 Aikman appeared on posters benefitting the USDA National and Texas State school lunch programs. Aikman also supports the West Texas Rehabilitation Center, American Cancer Society, Easter Seals Society, Happy Hills Farm, Special Olympics, National Rice Institute, Children's Miracle Network, Children's Medical Center of Dallas, Cook-Fort Worth Children's Hospital, Riverfest and Wednesday's Child, which helps find homes for orphans in the Dallas-Fort Worth area. Aikman also appeared in the Cowboys' United Way commercials from 1990-93. In March 1992, Troy sang in a celebrity choir during Farm Aid V and in 1993 he recorded a country music single, Oklahoma Nights, on a compact disc titled Everybody Wants to Be a Cowboy. He was joined on the CD by Jay Novacek, special teams coach Joe Avezzano, who organized effort, and former Cowboys Randy White and Walt Garrison. Troy has also made a number of guest appearances on network television shows including "The Tonight Show with Jay Leno", "The Late Show with David Letterman" and was a presenter at both the Country Music Awards in 1993 and the ESPN "ESPY" Awards in 1994. In March Troy played himself in an episode of the sit-com Coach. For the past three seasons Aikman has been one of five finalists for the NFL Man of the Year, which honors players for their contributions to the community.

Bill Bates

SAFETY • TENNESSEE
 HT: 6-1 • WT: 205 • BORN: 6/6/61
 FA FOR '83 • 12th YEAR

PRO: In January of 1994, Bill Bates once again proved that good things do happen to those who are patient and willing to work hard. Bates played in his first Super Bowl last January, after 11 years of overachieving and battling the odds as a special teams ace and an overwhelming fan favorite. The trip to Atlanta was especially gratifying for Bates, because he missed his first opportunity to play in a Super Bowl with a career-threatening knee injury that brought a premature halt to his 1992 season. Returning to camp fully rehabilitated in 1993, Bates also returned to his role as the team leader in special teams tackles with 25. He was once again consistent and productive in 1993, both as the teams' special teams captain and as the middle linebacker in obvious nickel passing situations. He was the team's second leading interceptor with two thefts: the first was on Thanksgiving Day (11/25), setting up a Cowboy scoring drive vs. the Dolphins; and the second came in the closing seconds vs. Philadelphia (12/6) to seal the Cowboys 23-17 win over the Eagles. His two interceptions were the most for Bates since recording three in 1987 and give him more interceptions (14) than any other active Cowboys player. In addition to his defensive contributions, Bates recovered an onside kick at Atlanta (11/21). During the Super Bowl season of 1992, Bates had a team-long streak of 79 straight games played snapped with a season ending injury in Week 5 vs. Seattle (10/11). He suffered a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee that required major surgery, marking the first serious injury of his colorful Cowboys career. At the time of his injury, he was in his usual place atop the Cowboys' special teams tackles charts with five, and although he was lost for the remainder of a special season, Bates' emotional brand of leadership was present on the Dallas sidelines all the way to the Super Bowl XXVII victory in Pasadena. The 1992 season marked only the third time in his career that Bates had not played in every single Dallas regular season game. Prior to the 1990 season, former Head Coach Jimmy Johnson tabbed Bates as the Cowboys' special teams captain, and in 1991 his leadership and intelligence helped the Dallas special teams become one of the NFL's very best. Bates finished second on the team in special teams tackles in '91 with 22 stops. He was also on the field for more special teams plays than any other Cowboy player. His presence was felt on the defense as a very visible member of the Dallas nickel package at the middle linebacker position, picking up 28 solo tackles and five passes defended. His seven tackles (all solos) in the season opener against Cleveland (9/1) tied for the Dallas team lead and marked Bates' highest individual tackle performance since 1989. He registered fumble recoveries on the punt coverage unit in back-to-back games against Phoenix (11/3) and Houston (11/10). His recovery at the Oiler 10-yard line set up a Michael Irvin touchdown reception that sent the game into overtime. Bates tied for the team lead in fumbles recovered in 1991 with two, and he also forced a key Eagles fumble in the Cowboys' playoff clinching win in Philadelphia (12/15). His last minute interception at Chicago's Soldier Field (12/29) preserved Dallas' 17-13 win in the team's triumphant return to the playoffs in 1991 after a six year absence. Along with Mark Tuinei and Jim Jeffcoat, Bates has the longest current tenure as a Cowboy as all three players enter their 12th season this fall. In 1990, he led the Cowboys in special teams tackles with 23, and made a big play in the season opening win over San Diego (9/9). Bates' heads-up tackle on a fourth quarter fake punt attempt by the Chargers set the Cowboy offense up for the game winning drive. He also tied for second on the team in passes defended (seven) at the middle linebacker post in nickel situations. Bates forced two fumbles in 1990 and also picked up his 12th career pass interception at Tampa Bay—a fourth quarter theft that preserved the Cowboys third win of the season. One of the NFL's true success stories, Bates has been overcoming the odds his entire career, starting in 1983 when he made the team as a long shot free agent rookie. He immediately became a visible figure on the field with his ferocious special teams play. It was Bates' notoriety that helped propel the NFL into adding a spot on the Pro Bowl teams for special teams coverage players. In 1984 he became the first NFC player so honored. Bates was named the NFL Alumni Association's Special Teams Player of the Year in 1983 and '84. He led the Cowboys in punt returns in 1985. After leading all non-starters in tackles his first three seasons, Bates became the starting strong safety in 1986. He held the position for three seasons, leading the defensive backs in sacks in '86 and '87 and the team in solo tackles and total tackles in 1988. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1983 (16/1, 1/1), 1984 (12/2), 1985 (16/0, 1/0), 1986 (15/15), 1987 (12/11), 1988 (16/16), 1989 (16/0), 1990 (16/0), 1991 (16/0, 2/0), 1992 (5/0), 1993 (16/0, 3/0). Total - 156/45, 7/1.

COLLEGE: Bates was a four-year starer at safety at Tennessee, where he was named second-team All-Southeastern Conference his junior and senior seasons. Bates developed a reputation as the Vols' hardest hitter and surest tackler. He intercepted nine passes and recovered six fumbles in his career.

PERSONAL: William Frederick Bates was born and raised in Knoxville, TN, where he starred in football, basketball and as a sprinter on the track team at Farragut High School. He was all-state in football and basketball. A 1985 NFL Man of the Year finalist, Bill supports the United Way, the Boys Clubs, the Special Olympics, the March of Dimes and other non-profit organizations. He serves as honorary chairman of the annual Wednesday's Child golf tournament benefitting Dallas-area orphans and of the Keystone Academy golf tournament for the learning disabled. Bill is also active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes. Bill was named the winner of the Bob Lilly Award in 1990, 1991 and 1993. The Lilly Award is selected by a vote of the fans and annually goes to the Cowboy player who displays leadership and character on and off the field. He and wife Denise, a fashion model, live in Dallas. Their family includes triplets Graham William, Brianna Gail and Hunter James (5/24/89) and Tanner Forest (2/18/91). The Bates family attends Park Cities Baptist Church in Dallas.

Larry Brown

CORNERBACK • TCU

HT: 5-11 • WT: 182 • BORN: 11/30/69

D-12 FOR '91 • 4th YEAR

PRO: Although he is entering his fourth NFL season, Larry Brown remains one of the youngest starting cornerbacks in the league. Teaming with left corner Kevin Smith, Brown forms half of one of the youngest pair of starting cornerbacks in NFL history. Brown and Smith were 23 years old for most of the 1992 season, well below the NFL's average cornerback age of 27, but for the third consecutive season, Brown continued to improve as a young coverage corner. Much has been made of Brown's path to the starting lineup in Dallas as a 12th-round draft choice, the 57th defensive back drafted in 1991, but in three seasons he has continued to improve and has helped establish the Dallas pass defense as one of the top groups in the league. Brown was a key player in a Dallas defense which held opponents to 194 yard per game through the air, 10th in the NFL, and limited opposing quarterbacks to 6.0 yards per pass attempt. In only six of Brown's 44 career regular season starts has the Dallas defense has allowed a 100-yard game by a receiver, including only once in the past 17 games. In his third season in the starting lineup, Brown tied for second on the team with 11 passes defended. With six solo tackles, seven total, Brown tied for the team lead vs. Buffalo (9/12). Twice in October Brown was responsible for helping the Dallas defense shut down one of the NFL's top receivers, limiting Green Bay's

Sterling Sharpe to four receptions for 34 yards (10/3) and Jerry Rice to two receptions for 25 yards (10/17) until the final four minutes of the game. Against the 49ers, Brown also added another seven tackle game. Facing a season-high 46 pass attempts vs. Phoenix (11/17), Brown received a game ball from the coaching staff when he teamed with Smith to limit Cardinals' wide receivers to 12 receptions for 117 yards (9.8 yards per catch) and a long reception of 17 yards. Despite missing part of the second quarter with a bruised lower back, Brown posted a season-high eight tackles vs. Philadelphia (12/6), the most since Dec. 15, 1991 when he recorded eight at Philadelphia. Later in the month he led the team with a season-high three passes defended and added four tackles vs. Washington (12/26). In the postseason Brown tied for the team lead with three passes defended and helped the Dallas pass defense limit opponents to 6.3 yards per attempt in the playoffs. Including postseason, Brown has started 51 of the past 52 games at right cornerback, with his only missed start coming at Washington (12/13/92) due to sprained right knee. His contributions at cornerback in 1992 allowed the Dallas defense to post a league low 27.2 percent conversion rate on opponents third downs. For the season, Brown led the team in passes defended with 11, and his 30-yard interception return against Philadelphia (11/1) was the longest of the season for Dallas. With 61 tackles, Brown finished sixth on the team, second among defensive backs in that category, while also recording five special teams stops. The second week of the season Brown had a single-game season-high three passes defended against the Giants (9/13), and the following week he recorded seven tackles at home against the Cardinals (9/20). After spraining his right knee at Denver (12/6), Brown missed the Redskins game (12/13), ending a string of 28 straight starts at right cornerback. He came back the following week at Atlanta (12/21) to record seven tackles and recover a fumble that set up a touchdown as the Cowboys clinched the NFC East Division title. In the postseason, Brown finished second on the team in postseason tackles, including a team-high nine tackles and a forced fumble that set up Dallas' first touchdown against San Francisco (1/17) in the NFC Championship Game. Against Buffalo (1/31) in Super Bowl XXVII, Brown recorded his second career-playoff interception and led the team with three passes defended. As a rookie, Brown far exceeded any Cowboys expectations and joined the ranks of other secondary long-shots who have become Cowboys over the years: Cliff Harris, Everson Walls and Bill Bates. Only the eighth 12th-round draft choice in Cowboys history to make the active roster, Brown finished the season eighth on the team in tackles with 68, third among defensive backs. At Phoenix (9/22) in the fourth week of the season, Brown broke into the starting lineup, becoming the first rookie to start at right cornerback since Dec. 21, 1987, when Ron Francis started against the Rams. The Phoenix game marked the first time in team history a 12th round draft choice started as a rookie and only the third time a 12th-rounder ever started a game for Dallas. For the season Brown earned 13 starts and finished second on the team in passes defended with 18. Against Houston (11/10) Brown had a single-game career-high 11 tackles and the club's season-high for passes defended with four. Two weeks later against Washington (11/24) he recorded his first NFL interception, returning it 20 yards. In the playoffs Brown led the team in passes defended with three, tied for fourth with 10 tackles and also intercepted a pass in the endzone against Chicago (12/29). Brown's play in 1991 earned him selection to the Pro Football Writers, Football News, Pro Football Weekly and Football Digest All-Rookie teams. He chose the uniform number 24 after making the team because of his admiration of former Cowboys cornerback Everson Walls who wore No. 24 for Dallas from 1981-89. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1991 (16/13, 2/2), 1992 (16/15, 3/3), 1993 (16/16, 3/3). Total - 48/44, 8/8.

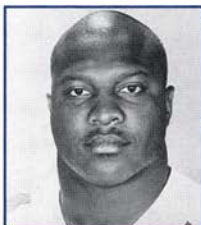

COLLEGE: A two-year starter at cornerback for TCU, Brown recorded 75 tackles and led the team with 10 passes defended as a senior. He earned Most Valuable Player honors in the Blue-Gray All Star Game following his senior season. As a junior Brown registered 27 tackles before suffering a season-ending foot injury in the fifth game of the year. Brown transferred to TCU after two years at Southwest Community College in Los Angeles, where he was a standout in football and track, earning football all-league honors in 1988.

PERSONAL: Larry Brown was an All-City selection in both football and track at Los Angeles, CA, High School. In his spare time, he owns and runs Universal Vending in Fort Worth and has opened a restaurant in Grapevine, TX called Boxies Cafe specializing in soups, salads and espresso. He received his degree in criminal justice from TCU. He and wife Cheryl live in Colleyville with their daughter, Kristen (11/28/93).

Lincoln Coleman

RUNNING BACK • BAYLOR
HT: 6-1 • WT: 249 • BORN: 8/12/69
FA FOR '93 • 2nd YEAR

PRO: The 1993 season began for Lincoln Coleman at Reunion Arena, in downtown Dallas as a member of the Dallas Texans of the Arena Football League. The season ended for Coleman at Super Bowl XXVIII in Atlanta as a member of the World Champion Dallas Cowboys and as the primary back-up to a three-time NFL rushing champion. In 1993, Coleman, a native of Dallas, was the epitome of a classic "rags to riches" tale. In the summer months, Coleman led the Dallas Texas in rushing with 148 yards and five touchdowns before joining the Cowboys halfway through training camp (August 12). He was released by the Cowboys on the final cutdown date of August 30 and then promptly re-signed to the team's practice squad on September 1. He became a member of the active roster on November 17, and he was carrying the football for the World Champions on the nationally televised Thanksgiving Day game (11/25) against the Dolphins. As Emmitt Smith was recovering from a deep thigh bruise that he suffered the prior Sunday in Atlanta (11/21), Smith's performance level had not yet returned to 100% for that Thanksgiving Day game. In addition, a bizarre snow storm hit Dallas that day and turned the Texas Stadium playing surface into a sheet of ice. Enter Coleman, whose large frame and bruising running style were perfect for the conditions. The rookie unknown responded with 57 yards on 10 carries and a 5.7 yard average. Coleman would go on to carry the ball in each of the Cowboys remaining five regular season victories and rack up rushing totals of 132 yards on 34 carries for the season. He finished the year as the Cowboys third leading rusher, and he ranked second in rushing average (3.9 yards per carry). He scored rushing touchdowns at Minnesota (12/12), collecting 33 yards on 10 attempts, and against Washington (12/26). He also registered four receptions for 24 yards on the season. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1993 (7/0, 3/0).

COLLEGE: Coleman began his college career at Notre Dame in 1987, where he had six carries for 20 yards as a running back and six tackles as a cornerback/safety. Following his freshman year, Coleman transferred to Baylor where he sat out the 1988 season due to NCAA eligibility requirements. As a sophomore, Coleman was the Bears second leading rusher with 368 yards and three touchdowns on 111 carries. He also added two receptions for 13 yards. Against the University of Houston he had a career-long 17 yard run. Coleman left school in the fall of his junior year due to academic reasons.

PERSONAL: Coleman earned all-state honors as a running back at Bryan Adams High School in Dallas, TX, where he rushed for 1,521 yards as a senior. He grew up across the street from Notre Dame's 1987 Heisman Trophy winner Tim Brown, and the two played sandlot football together in their East Dallas neighborhood. In 1991 and 1992, Coleman was a lot man at Home Depot in Richardson, TX, helping customers transfer their merchandise from the store to their cars. In the spring of 1993, Coleman worked on the loading docks at Marshall Fields department store. Coleman also had a brief stint as a semi-pro football player in the Dallas area. Lincoln has two distant cousins with successful NFL backgrounds, Everson Walls and Billy Sims (a Heisman Trophy winner under Barry Switzer at Oklahoma).

Frank Cornish

CENTER/GUARD • UCLA
 HT: 6-4 • WT: 287 • BORN: 9/24/67
 FA FOR '92 • 5th YEAR

68

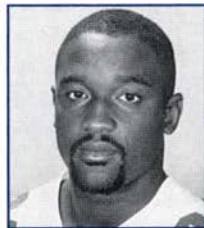

PRO: For the second straight year, Frank Cornish stepped in and provided the Cowboy offense with solid play at the guard and center position. When Mark Stepnoski sprained his right knee in the third quarter against the Minnesota Vikings (12/12), Cornish took over at center and helped limit the Vikings' defense, which was ranked second in the NFL going in to the game, to no sacks while racking up 356 yards and 37 points. After playing mostly in short-yardage and kicking situations, Cornish filled in at left guard in the second half against Atlanta (11/21) when Nate Newton and Kevin Gogan suffered knee injuries. Against the N.Y. Jets (12/18) at the Meadowlands, Cornish earned his first start since the second week of the 1992 season and helped the Dallas offense gain 364 yards, including 129 rushing yards on the NFL's fourth ranked defense. His third start of the season came at the N.Y. Giants (1/2), where he helped block for Emmitt Smith's 163-yard performance. He returned to the back-up role at both center and guard during the postseason and saw action in short yardage and kicking situations. Acquired as a Plan B free agent in 1992 from San Diego, he became the starting center while Stepnoski was involved in contract negotiations during the 1992 training camp. Cornish stepped in and started at center against Washington (9/7) and at the New York Giants (9/13). Cornish did not start against Phoenix (9/20), but he replaced an injured Stepnoski late in the third quarter. Although Cornish was a newcomer to the Cowboys offensive line in 1992, he was no stranger to an offensive line unit that was directed by Troy Aikman. The Cornish-Aikman tie dates back to their collegiate days at UCLA where they made up the starting center/quarterback combination in 1987 and 1988. After starting his third and final season for the Bruins in 1989, Cornish was drafted in the sixth round (143rd player overall) by the San Diego Chargers in 1990. He started 16 straight regular season games as a rookie. His first start for the Cowboys came at Texas Stadium in Dallas' 17-14 win over the Chargers (9/9) in the 1990 season opener. He was named to the all-rookie teams selected by College & Pro Football Newsweekly, Football Digest and Football News. In 1991, he served as a back-up to Pro Bowl alternate Courtney Hall at the center spot, where Hall had been the starter throughout the 1989 season. While seeing action in all 16 regular season games in 1991, Cornish served as the team's long snapper on extra points and field goals. GAMES/STARTS (regular season/playoffs): 1990 (16/16-S.D.), 1991 (16/0-S.D.), 1992 (11/2, 3/0), 1993 (14/3, 3/0). TOTALS - 57/21, 6/0 (Dallas-25/5, 6/0).

COLLEGE: A three-year starter for UCLA where he was a teammate of Troy Aikman and James Washington, Cornish earned first-team All-America recognition from Football News and was an all-PAC 10 second team selection following his senior year. He was a starter on Bruin teams that were victorious in the Aloha and Cotton Bowls. He finished his career fourth in the school's weight room record with a three lift (bench, squat, and clean) total of 1,253 pounds.

PERSONAL: Frank Edgar Cornish was born in Chicago, IL. He was one of the most highly recruited linemen in the country coming out of Mt. Carmel High School in Chicago. He earned three letters as a two way tackle in high school. His father, Frank, played defensive tackle for the Miami Dolphins in 1970 and 1971. Frank was a history major at UCLA. Frank and the elder Cornish are the only father-and-son combination in NFL history to play in a Super Bowl game. An avid basketball fan, Cornish is one of the Cowboys' locker room comic wits. Frank and his wife Robin reside in Southlake, TX.

Tim Daniel

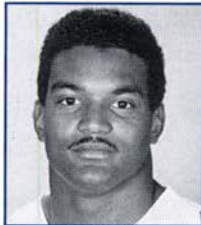

WIDE RECEIVER • FLORIDA A&M
HT: 5-11 • WT: 192 • BORN: 9/14/69
D-11 FOR '92 • 2nd YEAR

PRO: In 1994 Tim Daniel will be counted on to add depth to a strong Dallas receiving corps. Daniel's top asset is his speed, having clocked a 4.38 40-yard dash, but he also brings desired intangibles like toughness over the middle. Originally an 11th round draft choice of the Cowboys in 1992, Daniel made the Cowboys 53 man roster in 1993 but was one of the players deactivated each week during the season when the club was required to drop to 45 on game day. After suffering a hamstring injury during a summer workout in Dallas before training camp, Daniel tried to rehabilitate the injury, but it lingered on through the summer and forced Daniel onto the physically unable to perform (P.U.P.) list when training camp opened. He returned to practice mid-way through the season, but remained on the P.U.P. list the rest of the season. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1992 (P.U.P.); 1993 (0/0, 0/0). Total - 0/0, 0/0.

COLLEGE: During his final two years at Florida A&M, Daniel posted five catches over 40 yards, including three TD grabs of 98, 80 and 77 yards, and during that time no receiver hauled in more touchdown receptions than Daniel's six. For his career, Daniel averaged 21.7 yards per catch and a TD every 8.7 receptions. As a senior, he finished second on the team with a career-high 30 receptions for a team and career-high 580 yards and three touchdowns, earning honorable mention All-MEAC recognition. In his final collegiate game, Daniel had a single-game career-high nine receptions for 141 yards and a touchdown against Bethune-Cookman. An honorable mention All-MEAC selection in 1990, Daniel hauled in 19 receptions for 512 yards in posting a conference leading 26.9 yards per catch average. He set a school record with 152 yards and two touchdowns on four receptions, including a 98-yard scoring pass — the second-longest touchdown pass in school and conference history — against Delaware State.

PERSONAL: Daniel was an all-conference and all-county selection in both football and track at Benjamin Mays High School in Atlanta, GA. Tim majored in journalism at Florida A&M.

Dixon Edwards

LINEBACKER • MICHIGAN STATE
HT: 6-1 • WT: 222 • BORN: 3/25/68
D-2 FOR '91 • 4th YEAR

PRO: After spending his first two seasons as a reserve linebacker, Dixon Edwards moved into the starting lineup at strongside linebacker when Vinson Smith was traded to the Bears during training camp in 1992. He responded by finishing seventh on the team with 82 tackles and also made 12 special teams tackles, tops among regular offensive or defensive starters. Only the Dallas nickel defense against the Atlanta Falcons' Red Gun offense prevented Edwards from starting every game. After earning two starts at weakside linebacker in 1991-92, Edwards recorded six tackles in his strongside debut at Washington (9/6) in the season opener. The next week against Buffalo (9/12), he tied for the team lead with six solo tackles. Edwards recorded seven more tackles at Indianapolis (10/10), and with six stops vs. San Francisco (10/17), his 1993 tackle total surpassed his career totals from 1991 and 1992 combined (18 tackles in 1991 and 10 tackles in 1992). Edwards earned his first career sack at Philadelphia (10/31) and also added five stops and forced a fumble. Later in the year against Philadelphia (12/6), Edwards recorded nine tackles to match his single-game career-high. Edwards played in alternating drives with Godfrey Myles against Minnesota, and teamed with Tony Tolbert to sack Jim McMahon on third-and-goal at the Cowboys two-yard line, killing a Viking drive. Against Green Bay (1/16) in his first playoff start, Edwards made three tackles and a tackle for a loss. He followed that performance with five tackles in the NFC Championship Game against San Francisco (1/23). Edwards saw limited action in Super Bowl XXVIII because Dallas kept five defensive backs on the field for most of the game. In 1992, Edwards saw most of his action on special teams and recorded 15 special teams tackles to rank second on the team. In the postseason, Edwards earned a game ball at San Francisco (1/17) when he forced a fumble on punt coverage at the 49ers' 22-yard line to set up a first-quarter field goal. On defense, he totaled 10 tackles as a back-up weakside linebacker, and made his only start of the season in place of injured Godfrey Myles at Phoenix (11/22) when Dallas went to a five defensive back alignment. In only 12 games as a rookie, he made 10 special team tackles to tie for fourth on the squad. When he received an opportunity to play with the regular defense in place of injured starting weakside linebacker Vinson Smith, against Cincinnati (10/3), Edwards had several impressive moments. He forced an incompletion while covering Pro Bowl running back James Brooks in the end zone on a 3rd-and-goal from the one yard line in the third quarter with Dallas holding onto a 21-17 lead. In the fourth quarter, Edwards, who finished the day with five tackles, returned his first career interception 36 yards for a touchdown to seal the Cowboys' 35-23 win. Against Phoenix (11/3) in his first NFL start, Edwards again made five tackles. He split time with Smith at weakside linebacker late in the season and in the postseason victory over Chicago (12/29). Edwards was hampered in training camp by a hamstring injury that forced him onto injured reserve for the first four games of the season. Edwards was the fourth linebacker taken in the 1991 draft (Mike Croel, Denver; Alfred Williams, Cincinnati; Roman Phifer, Rams). GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1991 (12/1, 2/0), 1992 (16/1, 3/0), 1993 (16/15, 3/3). Total - 44/17, 8/3.

COLLEGE: Named Michigan State's Co-Defensive Player of the Year as a senior, Edwards led the Spartans with a single-game career-high 16 tackles in their upset of then-No. 1 ranked Michigan. In his first season as a starter in 1989, Edwards finished second on the club in tackles and tied for the team lead in tackles for a loss to earn honorable mention All-America honors. Over one three-game stretch his junior year, Edwards tallied 14 tackles against Miami, 13 vs. Michigan and 14 against Iowa. The Spartans compiled a 31-14-3 record, earned at least a share of two Big 10 titles, and played in four bowl games during Edwards' collegiate career.

PERSONAL: Dixon Edwards III earned all-district honors as a tight end and defensive tackle at Aiken High School in Cincinnati, OH. His father, Dixon, Jr. played fullback at Marshall Univer-

Joe Fishback

SAFETY • CARSON-NEWMAN
HT: 6-0 • WT: 212 • BORN: 11/29/67
FA FOR '93 • 5th YEAR

PRO: The Cowboys signed free agent Joe Fishback on Oct. 12, 1993, to add depth to the Dallas special teams. He immediately stepped into the lineup and contributed on the Dallas punt and kickoff coverage teams, logging 12 tackles in six games. In his first game as a Cowboy, Fishback had two special teams tackles vs. San Francisco (10/17), then led the team with two special team tackles at Philadelphia (10/31). Before suffering a sprained right knee vs. Phoenix (11/14), Fishback recorded two more special teams stops. After only four games in Dallas, Fishback had posted eight tackles on punt or kick coverage and was tied for fourth on the team in that category. After undergoing arthroscopic surgery November 16, Fishback was inactive the next five games. He returned to action vs. Washington (12/26) and tied for the team lead with three special teams tackles. Fishback recorded at least one special teams stop in every game he was active and finished the season tied for sixth on club with 12. In the postseason opener against Green Bay (1/16) he was second on the team with two special teams tackles, but his biggest play came when he recovered a Corey Harris fumble on a kickoff return at the Packers' 15 yard-line that set up a Jay Novacek touchdown catch with :09 left in the first half. That score put Dallas ahead 17-3 going into intermission. Fishback went to camp in 1993 with the Atlanta Falcons, but suffered a sprained neck in preseason and was placed on injured reserve for the first six weeks of the season. Once he was healthy, Atlanta released him on October 4, 1993. Fishback spent the 1991 season with the Falcons and led the team with 24 tackles, one partially blocked punt and two fumble recoveries on special teams, including a 16-yard return for a touchdown on a fumbled kickoff against Green Bay (12/1). He also added five tackles as a reserve defensive back. Six times in 14 games during the season, Fishback was named Atlanta's "Special Teams Player of the Week." On March 13, 1992, Fishback signed with the New York Jets as a Plan B free agent and saw action in the first five games of the season, recording four special teams tackles. He was released on October 20 and re-signed with Atlanta on November 3, spending the final eight weeks of the 1992 season with the Falcons, where he logged seven tackles and eight special teams stops. Originally signed as a rookie free agent by the New York Giants in 1990, he injured a transverse process in the third preseason game and spent most of the 1990 season on the Giants injured reserve list before his release in November. GAMES/STARTS: 1990 (I.R.-Gia.); 1991 (14/0-Atl., 2/0-Atl.); 1992 (5/0-Jets; 8/0-Atl.); 1993 (6/0, 3/0). Total - 33/0, 5/0 (Dallas-6/0, 3/0).

COLLEGE: A three-year starter at Carson-Newman (Jefferson City, TN), Fishback earned

All-America honors as a senior when he was runner-up for the NAIA's Player of the Year award and recipient of the South Atlantic Conference's Defensive Player of the Year award. During his career he recorded 293 tackles and 11 interceptions, returning three for touchdowns. He also had a 21.6 yard average on seven punt returns, including two for touchdowns. During his four years at Carson-Newman, he helped guide the Eagles to the NAIA Division I championship in 1986, 1988-89.

PERSONAL: Joe Edward Fishback, Jr., earned all-state honors in both football and baseball at Austin-East High School in Knoxville, TN. He majored in physical education and recreation at Carson Newman, and has two sons, Joe, III (2/24/87) and Jalen (8/9/92).

Scott Galbraith

TIGHT END • SOUTHERN CAL
HT: 6-2 • WT: 255 • BORN: 1/7/67
FA FOR '93 • 5th YEAR

89

PRO: With injuries to both Alfredo Roberts in the preseason and Jim Price early in the regular season, Dallas signed Scott Galbraith November 11, 1993 to fill the role of back-up tight end behind Jay Novacek. He jumped into the lineup and became a key blocker in the Dallas running game, helping Emmitt Smith to his third consecutive NFL rushing title. Galbraith saw most of his action in two tight end formations, while also contributing time on Dallas kickoff return and coverage teams. In his biggest day of the season, Galbraith recorded his first reception as a Cowboy at Atlanta (11/21), a one-yard touchdown grab from his former quarterback at Cleveland, Bernie Kosar. On special teams, Galbraith forced a fumble on a Dallas onside kick that Bill Bates recovered for Dallas. Galbraith went to camp with the Cleveland Browns in 1993 but was released on the final cuts. In 1992, he saw most of his action in the Browns two tight end formations and on special teams, but he did record four receptions for 63 yards. After a contractual holdout that kept him out of training camp, Galbraith missed the first two games of the season while under a roster exemption. He saw his first action of the season at the Raiders (9/20) but did not catch a pass, recording his first receptions of the season — two for 29 yards, including a 15-yarder — against the Packers (10/18). The following week at New England (10/25), Galbraith recorded the biggest catch of his career and his first career touchdown reception. With 31 seconds left and the Browns trailing 17-12, Mike Tomczak connected with Galbraith on a six-yard touchdown pass to give the Browns a 19-17 come from behind win. One week later at Cincinnati (11/1), he started in two tight end formations and caught a season-long 28-yard pass. As a starter in 13 of 16 games in 1991, Galbraith finished the season with 27 catches for 328 yards including 17 receptions over the final six games of the season. In addition to his tight end position duties, he played on special teams, recording five tackles and two kickoff returns for 13 yards. At Cincinnati (11/3) Galbraith caught a career-long 42-yard pass from (now Dallas Cowboy teammate) Bernie Kosar late in the fourth quarter to help set up a Matt Stover field goal attempt in a 23-21 loss to the Bengals. Two weeks later in a key special teams play, Galbraith recovered an Ernest Givin's fumble against Houston (11/17) on a second-quarter punt return. He also added three receptions for 39 yards in that game. After logging three catches for 20 yards against Kansas City in a 20-15 win, Galbraith had career-highs with four receptions for 52 yards in a 31-0 win at Indianapolis (12/1). Against Houston (12/15), he tied his career-high in receptions with four passes for 30 yards. Originally drafted by the Browns in the seventh round (178th overall) in 1990, Galbraith finished third on the team with 10 special teams tackles as a rookie. He also added four receptions for 62 yards. On the opening kickoff against Houston (11/18) Galbraith recovered a Bernard Ford fumble that led to a Browns score to open the game. Later in the season when the Browns visited the Oilers (12/9) Galbraith recorded the first receptions of his NFL career, logging three receptions for 60 yards with a long of 28 yards. The following week against Atlanta (12/16), Galbraith made his first career NFL start, recording a two-yard reception and two special teams tackles. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1990 (16/1-Cle.), 1991 (16/13-Cle.), 1992 (14/2-Cle.), 1993 (7/0, 3/0). Total - 53/16, 3/0 (Dallas - 7/0, 3/0).

COLLEGE: Galbraith earned first-team All-PAC-10 honors after both his junior and senior seasons, and he helped lead Southern Cal to the Rose Bowl following each of those seasons. After moving into the starting line-up his junior year, he earned third-team All America honors from Associated Press as he grabbed 21 passes for 311 yards and two touchdowns. He finished his career with 51 receptions for 571 yards and five touchdowns. As a sophomore he saw most of his playing time in two tight end sets, catching two passes for 17 yards. After redshirting in 1985, Galbraith's only catch as a freshman was a two-yard touchdown reception against Arizona.

PERSONAL: Alan Scott Galbraith earned All-Northern California honors at Highlands High School in North Highlands, CA, where he recorded 34 receptions and six touchdowns as a tight end and also led the team in tackles while playing on the defensive line. He also earned league MVP honors in basketball, averaging 16 points a game. Scott earned his degree in public administration from Southern Cal, and he is now pursuing his Master's Degree in education at National University at Sacramento. His father, Albert, is the pastor at the Church of God and Christ in Sacramento, and Scott grew up singing in the church choir. He claims to sing during practice and even sometimes during games. Scott worked as a crisis counselor at Martin Luther King, Jr., Junior High in Sacramento, CA, in the spring of 1994. He also worked in the California public school system as a student teacher in the spring of 1992 and was a deputy probation officer for the Los Angeles Police Department in the spring and summer of 1990. He is a willing volunteer for charitable events and a national member of Churches of God in Christ, Inc.

Kenneth Gant

SAFETY • ALBANY STATE
 HT: 5-11 • WT: 189 • BORN: 4/18/67
 D-9 FOR '90 • 5th YEAR

PRO: Kenny Gant bounced back from three injuries during the 1993 season to have another productive year for Dallas. One of the best special teams players in the league, Gant finished fourth on the team with 17 special teams tackles in only 12 games. Although he missed most of training camp after separating his left shoulder in a preseason game against Detroit, Gant recovered in time to perform his "shark dance" and lead the team in the 1993 season opener at Washington (9/6) in passes defended and special team tackles with two apiece. For the second consecutive season, Gant led all non-starters in tackles with 43 and tied for second in passes defended with

11. He also had an interception, a tackle for a loss and forced a fumble. When Gant is not making bone-rattling hits on special teams, he plays stongside linebacker in obvious pass situations when the Cowboys go to the "45" defense. He was the special teams co-captain vs. Buffalo (9/12) and at Phoenix (9/19), where he led the team in special team stops with three. After leading the team with three special team tackles vs. San Francisco (10/17), Gant earned a special teams game ball from the coaching staff. He recorded a career high three passes defended and had five tackles in a 31-9 win over the N.Y. Giants (11/7). All season, Gant showed the ability to be at the right place at the right time on the field. This knack allowed him to grab his first interception of the season against the Cardinals (11/21), stopping a Phoenix drive at the Dallas 41 yard-line with 0:57 left in the game to seal a 20-15 Cowboy victory. When Dallas opened in the "45" defense at Atlanta (11/21), Gant earned his first start of the 1993 season, but re-dislocated his left shoulder in the second quarter and missed the second half. He missed the Thanksgiving Day game vs. Miami (11/25), but he was able to return to action against Philadelphia (12/6), where he suffered a sprained right knee. Arthroscopic surgery on the knee kept him out of the line-up for the next three weeks. Gant played primarily in Dallas' nickel defense when he returned to action in the regular season finale at the Giants (1/2), where he had one special teams tackle and a pass defended. In the divisional playoff victory over Green Bay (1/16), Gant returned to his old form by recording three tackles and led the team with three special teams tackles. With the crowd fired up following an Eddie Murray field goal, Gant forced Corey Harris to fumble the kickoff at the Packers' 25-yard line. Joe Fishback recovered the ball, setting up a Jay Novacek touchdown catch in the closing seconds of the first half. In the NFC Championship game vs. San Francisco, Gant had four tackles, a pass defended and two special teams tackles. In 1992, Gant tied for the team lead in interceptions and forced fumbles with three apiece. He also led non-lineman in quarterback pressures with nine — the most by a non-lineman in the three season quarterback pressures have been recorded — and led non-starters in tackles with 54 to finish ninth overall. Gant's three sacks were the most by a defensive back since Bill Bates had three in 1987. Gant's first important play of the season occurred midway through the second quarter in the Monday night opener against the Redskins when he recovered a fumble at the Washington 46-yard line. He overshadowed that performance with several momentous plays the next week against the N.Y. Giants (9/13), leading the team in tackles with a career-high 10. Gant's first career sack came in the second quarter when he nailed Phil Simms for a nine-yard loss on third-and-four. It represented the first sack by a Dallas defensive back in 13 games. His first interception of the year came at Detroit (11/8) when he picked off an Eric Kramer pass at the Lions' 31-yard line. Gant's next interception came in Denver (12/6) at the Cowboys' 33-yard line with 1:27 left in the game and Dallas ahead 31-27. In the playoff clinching 41-17 win in Atlanta (12/21), he forced two fumbles to set up two third-quarter Dallas touchdowns. In the playoffs he recorded 10 tackles, a tackle for a loss, a quarterback pressure, forced a fumble and deflected a pass. Gant also finished second on the team with 13 special teams tackles. In 1991, Gant established himself as one of the NFL's premier special teams players by leading Dallas with 25 special teams tackles (18 solos). Gant played cornerback in several of the Cowboys' multiple defensive back alignments in 1991 and made his first NFL start at left corner against the Giants (11/17). He finished the year with 14 tackles from the cornerback position to go along with three passes defended. He also registered his second career interception in the Cowboys 23-14 win over New Orleans (12/8). He tied or led the team in special teams tackles in four games in 1991 while earning a game ball after the Cincinnati game (10/13) when he had four kick coverage stops. Gant earned a roster spot as a rookie in 1990 on the strength of his fine speed and limitless potential. Playing in 12 games in 1990, he quickly learned the intricacies of becoming a productive special teams performer in the NFL. He recovered Issiac Holt's blocked punt vs. Philadelphia (10/28), setting up a fourth quarter touchdown that put Dallas ahead until the Eagles scored in the last minute. His first career interception came against Phoenix (12/6), setting up Dallas' final touchdown in a 41-7 Cowboy win. He played in his first league game against Tampa (10/7) and was a late season contributor to the secondary in certain passing situations. He broke up three passes and recorded seven special teams tackles. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1990 (12/0), 1991 (16/1, 2,0), 1992 (16/4,

3,0), 1993 (12,1, 3,0). Total - 56/6, 8/0.

COLLEGE: A four-year starter for the Golden Rams of tiny Albany State (GA), Gant recorded 158 tackles, 14 interceptions, 17 passes defended and recovered four fumbles during his collegiate career. He also missed only one game in his Albany State career. He averaged 23.2 yards per return on his five interceptions as a senior, including one returned 46 yards of a touchdown against Morris Brown College. Gant also blocked a punt for a safety against West Virginia State.

PERSONAL: The third player ever drafted by the Cowboys from Albany State, Gant is the first from that school to ever play for Dallas. One of the most successful players from Albany State's conference, the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Conference, is former Cowboy great Rayfield Wright, from Fort Valley State. Kenneth Gant majored in criminal justice at Albany State. He graduated from Kathleen High School in Lakeland, FL. Gant is active in several off-season charitable pursuits. He and wife Aris have a daughter, Destyne.

Jason Garrett

QUARTERBACK • PRINCETON
 HT: 6-2 • WT: 195 • BORN: 3/28/66
 FA FOR '93 • 2nd YEAR

PRO: After five years and three professional football leagues, Jason Garrett has finally made it in the NFL. After spending the 1992 season on the Dallas practice squad, Garrett moved onto the active roster in 1993, replacing departed back-up quarterback Steve Beuerlein behind Troy Aikman. His impressive performance during the preseason included throwing for 549 yards with three touchdowns, allowing him to move ahead of Hugh Millen on the depth chart. In the preseason game in London against Detroit (8/8), Garrett completed 16 of 23 passes for 190 yards, including a 53-yard scoring strike to Tyrone Williams. Garrett played in his first NFL regular season game in the season opener at Washington (9/6), when he took over for the final series. Garrett, who did not play against Buffalo (9/12) and Phoenix (9/19), closed out the final two series of the fourth quarter against Green Bay (10/3) and Indianapolis (10/10). One of his big moments came when he took over the Dallas offense in the middle of the third quarter vs. the N.Y. Giants (11/7), when Troy Aikman strained his left hamstring. He orchestrated two scoring drives and completed 5 of 6 passes for 34 yards in his first time playing before the fourth quarter in his young NFL career. The following week against Phoenix (11/14), Garrett earned his first NFL start in the Cowboys 20-15 win. Garrett moved into the third string quarterback spot and was deactivated for the final seven regular season games and all three postseason games with the mid-November signing of Bernie Kosar. Garrett attended training camp with Dallas in 1992, but was released on the final roster cuts, signing onto the practice squad the following day. In the spring of 1991, Garrett opened the World League season as the starting quarterback for the San Antonio Riders, but he suffered a separated shoulder in the season opener. He rebounded to complete 60-of-113 passes for 609 yards, with three touchdowns and three interceptions for the season. Following his World League season, he joined the Ottawa RoughRiders of the Canadian Football League for 13 games, seeing very limited action. Garrett returned to San Antonio in the spring of 1992, but was released from the squad so he could sign with Dallas. He began his professional football career as a rookie free agent with the New Orleans Saints in 1989. Only five (Troy Aikman, Billy Joe Tolliver, Erik Wilhelm, Jeff Graham and Rodney Peete) of the 16 quarterbacks drafted in 1989 were still on NFL rosters in 1993, while Garrett went undrafted. He returned to his alma-mater in 1990 to coach with the football team for a year. (regular season, playoffs): 1993 (6/1, 0/0).

COLLEGE: An honorable mention All-America selection at Princeton as a senior, Garrett established NCAA Division I-AA records for single-season completion percentage (68.2%) and lowest percentage of passes intercepted (1.0%). As the 1988 Ivy League Player of the Year, Garrett completed 204 of 299 passes for 2,217 yards, 12 touchdowns on three interceptions. Despite playing only two seasons at Princeton, Garrett finished his career second on the school's all-time passing list with 4,274 yards, including a career-high 309 yards on 25 of 31 passing against Lehigh as a junior.

PERSONAL: Garrett was an all-league safety and quarterback at University High School in Chagrin, OH. He also lettered in basketball and baseball, earning all-league honors in basketball. Born in Abington, PA, to Dallas Cowboys scout Jim Garrett, Jason followed his father's coaching career with stops in Pennsylvania, Florida, Dallas, New Jersey, Houston, New Orleans and finally Cleveland. Jason has seven brothers and sisters, including Judd, a running back on the Cowboys practice squad last season, and John, a scout with Tampa Bay. Jason earned his degree in history from Princeton. Jason and his wife Brill were married in May, 1994.

Charles Haley

DEFENSIVE END • JAMES MADISON
 HT: 6-5 • WT: 250 • BORN: 1/6/64
 TRADE, SAN FRANCISCO, '92 • 9th YEAR

PRO: Although he missed a fair amount of playing time due to injuries in 1993, Charles Haley remained the one Cowboy defender who always drew serious attention from opposing offenses every time he stepped into the Cowboys huddle. And, while playing through a season of lower back pain, Haley always had something special to show in the biggest games of the season. In his two outings against his old team, the 49ers (one of which was the NFC title game), he accounted for six tackles, three sacks, five quarterback pressures and two forced fumbles. In his two games against the Buffalo Bills (one of which was Super Bowl XXVIII), Haley totaled nine tackles, nine quarterback pressures, a forced fumble and half a sack. While he was not making plays in the games that counted the most, Haley was fighting his way through disc problems in his lower back that landed him inactive for two games and held him out of the starting lineup in three others. In the critical situations, however, Haley's presence was always felt. He registered his season high for QB pressures (6) against Buffalo (9/12) and the Giants (11/7). He picked up his only multiple-sack game with two against the 49ers (10/17), and he picked up his first interception since his rookie season in the divisional playoff game against Green Bay (1/9). For the year, Haley led the Cowboys in quarterback pressures (28) for the second straight season. He led the team in forced fumbles with three and ranked fourth in sacks with four. Acquired in a trade with San Francisco on August 27, 1992, Haley's impact on the Dallas pass rush in 1992 went a long way toward the Cowboys' No. 1 NFL ranking on defense and the team's Super Bowl XXVII win in Pasadena. His insertion into the Dallas line-up at right end helped Dallas move from a pass defense ranking of 23rd in the NFL in 1991 to fifth in 1992. Haley's tremendous speed and quickness from the outside also enabled the Cowboys' to lead the entire NFL in shutting down opponents on third down conversion attempts. Dallas held opposing offenses to a success rate of just 27.2% on third down conversion attempts. He led the team in quarterback pressures with 42, a figure that more than doubled his closest teammates Leon Lett (19) and Tony Tolbert (19). The pass blocking attention drawn by Haley opened several other rushing lanes for his Dallas teammates. Haley finished the season ranked third on the team in sacks with six, behind Jim Jeffcoat (10.5) and Tony Tolbert (8.5). He started 13 of the 15 games in which he played in '92, missing the game at Phoenix (11/22) with a groin injury. He picked up his first start as a Cowboy against the Giants (9/13) after collecting his first Dallas sack and forcing a fumble the previous Monday night (9/7) against Washington. Haley also had a pair of sacks at Denver (12/6) and Washington (12/13) in '92. He had a season-high seven quarterback pressures in the playoff win over Philadelphia (1/10), and his single game high for tackles (6) came in the Super Bowl. Prior to joining Dallas, Haley had led or tied for the team lead in sacks for the 49ers each season since coming into the league in 1986. Playing right outside linebacker in the 49ers' 3-4 defense, Haley opened the 1991 season with a sack in each of the first two games then a season-high seven tackles against Minnesota (9/15) in the third game. Later in the year in Philadelphia (10/27) he again recorded seven tackles while also tying his career high for sacks with three. A left hamstring injury, suffered at New Orleans (11/10), forced him to miss the Phoenix game (11/17). Haley played in passing situation against the Rams (11/25) but re-aggravated the injury the next week against the Saints, forcing him out of the Seattle contest (12/8). He was voted to his second straight Pro Bowl following the 1991 season. In 1990 Haley led the NFC and finished third in the NFL with 16 sacks to earn a starting spot at right outside linebacker in the Pro Bowl. He recorded four multiple-sack games that season, including 11 tackles, two sacks, a pass defended and a forced fumble against Houston (10/7) to earn NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors. Haley also had two sacks against Pittsburgh in October, 1990 to boost him to NFC Defensive Player of the Month recognition. Haley also registered his only career blocked kick by batting down a field goal against Washington (9/16). In 1989 he led the 49ers in forced fumbles with three and tied for the team lead in sacks with 11 1/2. He recorded a team-high 11 tackles, tied his career high with three sacks, batted down a pass and forced a fumble against the Jets (10/29). Two weeks later he returned a fumble three yards for a touchdown vs. Atlanta (11/12). In the 1988 season opener against New Orleans (9/4), Haley set up the winning field goal with a fumble recovery. Against Chicago (10/24) he had his first three-sack game, including one for a safety. He went on to earn NFC Defensive Player of the Month honors for October and was named to his first Pro Bowl in December. Selected in the fourth round by San Francisco in 1986, Haley led the 49ers that season in sacks with 12, the most ever by a San Francisco rookie. He also led all rookies in the NFC and was second in the NFL among rookies in sacks in 1986. Against Atlanta (10/19) Haley recorded his first NFL interception. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1986 (16/1, 1/0-S.F.), 1987 (12/2, 1/0-S.F.), 1988 (16/14, 3/3-S.F.), 1989 (16/16, 3/3-S.F.), 1990 (16/16, 2/2-S.F.), 1991 (14/14-S.F.), 1992 (15/13, 3/3), 1993 (14/11, 3/3). Total — 119/87, 16/14 (Dallas-29/24, 6/6).

COLLEGE: Haley led the team with 130-or-more tackles in each of his final three seasons at James Madison. As a senior he earned Division II All-America recognition. While never missing a game in his collegiate career, Haley posted career numbers of 506 tackles, 17 sacks, two

PERSONAL: Charles Lewis Haley starred in football, basketball and track at William Campbell High School in Naruna, Va. He and wife Karen have three children Princess Kay (11/18/88), Charles, Jr. (10/12/90) and Brianna (1/15/94).

Alvin Harper

WIDE RECEIVER • TENNESSEE
 HT: 6-3 • WT: 208 • BORN: 7/6/67
 D-1B FOR '91 • 4th YEAR

PRO: Within three years, Alvin Harper has established himself as one of the games best yards-per-catch receivers in the NFL. In fact, when playoff time rolls around, Harper stands alone at the top of the league's all-time roster of long ball threats. In the 1993 postseason, Harper became the NFL's all-time leader in receiving yards per catch. He now has a career playoff average of 25.4 yards per catch, surpassing Willie Gault (23.7 yards) who was the previous NFL career leader in that category. For the regular season in 1993, Harper led the NFC in average yards per reception with a 21.6 yard mark, and his closest NFC competitor (San Francisco's John Taylor) was nearly five yards per catch behind at 16.8. Harper was the only man among the NFC's leading receivers to average over 20 yards per grab, and he was second overall in the NFL to the Raiders James Jett (23.4). Last year was a landmark season for Harper as he established new career-highs for receptions (36), yardage (777) and touchdowns (5). He also set career single-game standards for yards (140, at Washington, 9/6), catches (6, at Phoenix, 9/19) and touchdowns (2, at Washington and vs. N.Y. Giants, 11/7). He had his most explosive career regular season outing in the season opener at Washington, catching five passes for 140 yards and a pair of scoring receptions that included a career-best 80 yarder. Two weeks later he collected a career-high six catches for the second best yardage outing of his career (136) at Phoenix (9/19). He earned an offensive game ball following a complete performance vs. the Giants (11/7) when he recorded two touchdown receptions of 28 and 50 yards to go along with a 46 yard pass completion to Michael Irvin in the fourth quarter that set up a Dallas touchdown. During the regular season of his three year career (91 total receptions), Harper has collected 27 passes of 20 yards or more, and 15 have gone for better than 30 yards. Yet, his long ball playoff productivity still remains his trademark: of his 21 career postseason grabs, eight have been for 35 yards or more (35, 38, 41, 38, 70, 45, 42 and 35). In 1992, Harper gradually became a big play threat in his first full season as a starter. That progression culminated in a brilliant NFC Championship Game in San Francisco (1/17/93) where he made a pair of receptions that characterized his ability to shape the outcome of a game with just one or two big catches. In San Francisco, he made a leaping 38-yard reception, snatching the ball away from a 49er defender, to set up a Dallas touchdown on the opening drive of the second half. That score gave the Cowboys' a 17-10 lead they would not relinquish. Later in the game's waning moments, Harper ran a quick post route, took the pass from Aikman, and sprinted 70 yards toward the San Francisco goal line, setting up a Dallas touchdown that would crush all 49er hopes and vault the Cowboys into the Super Bowl. His three-catch 117 yard day set a new Dallas record for receiving average in a playoff game (39.0). He carried on his flair for the dramatic two weeks later with a 45 yard scoring reception in Super Bowl XXVII that gave Dallas a (38-17) lead in the fourth quarter and dashed any Bills' hopes of a comeback. During the 1992 season, Harper ranked fourth on the team in receptions with 35. He fell in behind Pro Bowlers Michael Irvin (78), Jay Novacek (whose 68 catches led all NFL tight ends) and Emmitt Smith (whose 59 receptions were tops among NFC running backs). Harper's yards-per-catch average of 16.1 was second only to Irvin's 17.9. Of the 86 players in the NFL who had 35-or-more catches in 1992, only seven had a higher yards-per-reception average than Harper. His top regular season outing of 1992 came at Phoenix (11/22), where he caught five passes for 88 yards and a touchdown that sealed the 16-10 victory. He collected his regular season career-long reception at the Raiders (10/25), snagging a 52-yarder from Troy Aikman. Nearly one fourth (8 of 35) of his receptions in '92 were made on third down. As a rookie in 1991, he started five games and finished the year ranked fifth on the team in receptions with 20 catches for 326 yards. When the Cowboys began their '91 regular-season home slate on Monday night against Washington (9/9), Harper made his first regular-season pro catch, a 29-yarder to set up a field goal that gave Dallas a 24-23 lead late in the third quarter. He suffered a jammed neck after a 23-yard catch against the Giants (9/29) and was forced to sit out the next game against Green Bay. After moving into the starting lineup in the ninth game of the year, Harper caught 17 passes for 263 yards over the final half of the regular season. Against Phoenix (11/3) in his first NFL start, Harper caught a 37-yard pass at the Cardinal's six-yard line to set up a touchdown and kept alive a drive to a fourth-quarter field goal with a 15-yard third-down grab for a first down. In Dallas' big win over the eventual Super Bowl champion Redskins at RFK (11/24), Harper caught a 39-yard pass on the Cowboys' first offensive play then, on fourth-down at the end of the first half, out jumped a crowd of Redskins in the end zone to snare a 34-yard touchdown pass, his first in the NFL. Harper finished the day with a season-high 101 yards receiving. In two postseason games Harper averaged a team-high 20.6 yards on seven catches, including a team playoff-long 45-yard catch at Chicago (12/29). He finished his rookie season with four catches of 34-or-more yards. Selected with the 12th overall choice, Harper was the second wide receiver (Herman Moore, Detroit) taken in the 1991 draft. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1991 (15/5, 2/2), 1992 (16/13, 3/3), 1993 (16/15, 3/3). Total — 47/33, 8/8.

COLLEGE: A two-time All Southeastern Conference pick, Harper set a school mark for touchdown receptions in a season with eight in 1990 and tied the career touchdown catch record held by Tim McGee of 16. He finished his career fifth on the Volunteers' all-time receiving list with 102 catches. In his first collegiate start he caught a team-record 12 passes against Washington State in 1988. Against Auburn his senior year, Harper made an 82-yard touchdown grab, the third longest in school history.

PERSONAL: Alvin Craig Harper earned All-America honors at Frostproof, FL, High School, where he also set the Florida state high jump record with a leap of 7' 1". He earned his degree in psychology at Tennessee. Harper won the high jump title at the 1989 SEC Indoor Meet with a personal-best of 7' 2 1/2". He also competed in the 400-meter dash and anchored the 4x100 and the 4x400-meter relay teams. His brother, Willie, was a teammate at Florida A&M of Cowboys tackle Nate Newton. Alvin's brothers, Bobbie and Roosevelt, played basketball at Florida A&M.

Dale Hellestrae

GUARD/CENTER • SMU
 HT: 6-5 • WT: 283 • BORN: 7/11/62
 TRADE, RAID '90 • 9th YEAR

PRO: Last season the Dallas special teams units were among the NFL's elite in a number of categories as punter John Jett finished the season third in the NFC in net punting average (37.7), kicker Eddie Murray established a new Dallas single season record by hitting 28 field goals in only 14 games and Joe Avezzano was named 1993 Special Teams Coach of the Year by the NFL's special teams coaches. At the center of all these great performances was Dale Hellestrae, the Cowboys deep snapper. While playing a position that only gets noticed when something goes wrong, Hellestrae has provided consistent snaps for all extra points, field goals and punts. Playing in every game over the past four seasons, Hellestrae has provided Dallas with a very dependable offensive lineman and deep snapper. Hellestrae, who ended the season with seven special tackles to lead all-non defensive players, added two more tackles in the postseason. With Hellestrae at center, the Cowboys special teams have flourished. In 1992 kicker Lin Elliott had the most points (119) by an NFL rookie in seven years, and punter Mike Saxon extended his regular-season string of consecutive punts without a block to 204. He saw his only duty with the offensive unit when he played right guard against Chicago (12/27). In 1991, he saw considerable action at center against Atlanta (12/22) when Mark Stepanoski was injured in the first half, playing an important role in Dallas' 31-27 come-from-behind victory. Hellestrae was acquired from the Los Angeles Raiders on August 20, 1990, for the Cowboys' seventh round draft choice in 1991. After struggling through training camp and the preseason trying to find a deep snapper, the Cowboys made the trade following the preseason game with the Raiders (8/18). Hellestrae, who has played every position on the offensive line during his pro career, backed up at both guard and center in 1990, while also deep snapping. He was signed as a Plan B free agent by the Raiders in February of 1989 after four seasons with Buffalo, but he spent the 1989 season on injured reserve after breaking his leg in training camp. Hellestrae had his most productive year in 1988 when he started at right guard in the final two games of the season and in the Bills' two playoff games, including the AFC Championship Game against Cincinnati. Drafted in the fourth round by Buffalo in 1985, Hellestrae missed the final 12 games of his rookie year with a broken thumb. He played in the first two games of 1986 before a broken wrist forced him to miss the next eight games. Hellestrae missed the 1987 season due to a hip injury. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1985 (4/0-Buff), 1986 (8/0-Buff), 1987 (1R-Buff), 1988 (16/2, 2/2-Buff), 1989 (1R-Raid), 1990 (16/0), 1991 (16/0, 2/0), 1992 (16/0, 3/0), 1993 (16/0, 3/0). Total 92/2, 10/2 (Dallas 64/0, 8/0).

COLLEGE: A four-year letterman and two-year starter for Southern Methodist University, Hellestrae earned All-Southwest Conference honors as a senior in 1984. The Mustangs tallied a 45-5-1 record during his stint there and participated in the Cotton, Sun and Aloha Bowls. While at SMU, he played his college home games in Texas Stadium.

PERSONAL: Dale Robert Hellestrae (HELL-u-stray) was an all-state pick at Saguaro High School in Scottsdale, AZ. He spent one year at the Marine Military Academy in Harlingen, TX, after high school. Dale earned his degree in business administration from SMU and now owns and operates a Cookie Bouquet franchise in Phoenix. He and his wife Brooke have a daughter, Hillary (2/17/92).

Chad Hennings

DEFENSIVE END • AIR FORCE
HT: 6-6 • WT: 286 • BORN: 10/20/65
D-11 FOR '88 • 3rd YEAR

PRO: With Jimmie Jones and Tony Casillas departing during the offseason via free agency, the Cowboys will look for Chad Hennings to fill the void on the defensive line. Hennings, saw action in 13 games at right defensive tackle after playing both tackle and end in 1992 and finished 1993 with 17 tackles and five quarterback pressures. Hennings did not play against Buffalo (9/12), and was deactivated at Phoenix (9/19) at N.Y. Giants (1/2). He had two tackles vs. Green Bay (10/3) and saw considerable action at right tackle in third down passing situations at Philadelphia (10/31). The next week against the N.Y. Giants (11/7), Hennings was a big factor in Dallas stopping the New York running game, playing almost half of the defensive snaps at right defensive tackle and recording new career-highs with three tackles and three quarterback pressures. He equalled that performance with three tackles while playing left tackle in passing situations vs. Phoenix (11/14). Hennings recorded two tackles while relieving Tony Casillas at left tackle vs. Philadelphia (12/6), and recorded a tackle and a quarterback pressure during limited playing time against the N.Y. Jets (12/18). In Super Bowl XXVIII against Buffalo (1/30), Hennings recorded a tackle, two quarterback pressures and a pass defended. The Outland Trophy winner as a senior at the Air Force Academy, Hennings, who had been away from football while serving a four-year Air Force commitment, made his return to football in 1992. He was deactivated for the first five games and was in uniform for Kansas City (10/18) but did not play. Following his deactivation for the Raiders (10/25), and Philadelphia (11/1), Hennings went to former Head Coach Jimmy Johnson and sought out an opportunity to play on special teams. That request provided him with his first opportunity to play in a meaningful game in five years as the wedge buster on special teams at Detroit (11/8). He supplied a couple of big hits on the way to tying for the team lead in special teams tackles that day. He also played some at defensive tackle against Detroit. He appeared some at defensive end against the Cardinals (11/22), N.Y. Giants (11/26), Eagles (1/10) and Buffalo (1/31). He had three additional tackles in postseason games. Hennings joined Dallas in June 1992, after the Pentagon shortened the duty time required for those who attended various academies. He followed the same path to the National Football League as former Cowboys Hall of Fame quarterback Roger Staubach, who joined Dallas in 1969 as a 27-year old rookie after a four-year hitch in the Navy. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1992 (8/0, 3/0), 1993 (13/0, 2/0) Total - 21/0, 5/0.

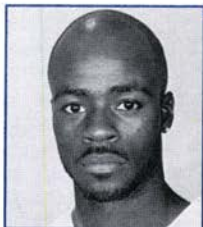

COLLEGE: The 1987 All-America and Outland Trophy winner at the Air Force Academy, Hennings set a Western Athletic Conference record with 24 sacks to earn WAC Defensive Player of the Year honors. As a senior against Wyoming in the season opener, Hennings had seven tackles, three sacks, one fumble recovery and three batted passes including one that was intercepted.

HENNINGS, Cont.

PERSONAL: As a pilot of the A-10 tankbuster (also known as the "Warthog"), Hennings was stationed in London the two years preceding his arrival in Dallas. In the final days of the Gulf War, he escorted the planes that dropped supplies to the Kurds in northern Iraq and southern Turkey as part of "Operation Provide Comfort". He underwent pilot training at Sheppard Air Force Base in Wichita Falls, Tx, approximately 100 miles northwest of Dallas. He is a native of Elberon, IA (pop. 150), where he grew up on a 900-acre farm. He was a two-time, all-state football player and state-champion wrestler at Brenton Community High School. A former member of the 4-H Club and Future Farmers of America, Hennings earned his degree in management at the Air Force Academy. He and his Tammy have a son Chase and live in Coppell, TX.

Clayton Holmes

CORNERBACK • CARSON-NEWMAN
HT: 5-10 • WT: 181 • BORN: 8/23/69
D-3 FOR '92 • 3rd YEAR

PRO: A 100% healthy Clayton Holmes is expected to contribute in the Dallas secondary this season after missing the entire 1993 season after tearing ligaments in his right knee in the preseason game against the Raiders (8/14). The injury was similar to the one Bill Bates suffered in the 1992 season. Before his injury, Holmes had seven tackles, one quarterback pressure and three passes defended. He also returned six kickoffs for 135 yards and one punt for seven yards. Under the direction of the Cowboy medical staff and strength and conditioning coach Mike Woicik, Holmes had a successful rehabilitation program and was able to regain his speed by running a 4.32 in the 40-yard dash this spring. Coming out of tiny Carson-Newman, coupled with the fact that Holmes had only been a collegiate defense back for two years, the Cowboys knew they would have to be patient with him. He played in 15 games as a rookie and made his mark on special teams. He tied for second with 15 tackles on the coverage units and added six more in the postseason. Holmes, the Cowboys leading kickoff returner in the preseason (22.5-yard average), returned his first NFL kickoff 24 yards at Denver (12/6). He had a career long 28-yarder against Chicago (12/27). He played some on the special pass situation defense at Detroit (11/8) and with the nickel defense in the fourth quarter against the Giants (11/28). In Super Bowl XXVII, Holmes recorded three tackles on Buffalo's last possession of the game, and a fumble recovery at the Bills' 44-yard line when Leon Lett forced wide receiver Steve Tasker to fumble. Drafted in the third round (58th overall), Holmes came to Dallas as a two-time NAIA/All-America selection for the Eagles, but his other two collegiate seasons were spent as a junior college quarterback. After joining the Cowboys, Holmes displayed his speed by running a 4.23 40-yard dash in Dallas' post draft mini-camp, the fastest 40 among both the Cowboys' rookies and veterans. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1992 (15/0, 3/0), 1993 (IR), Total - 15/0, 3/0.

COLLEGE: As the South Atlantic Conference's Defensive Player of the Year as a senior, Holmes finished second in the NAIA and tied the Carson-Newman single season record with eight interceptions. His 199 yards in interception returns gave him 462 return yards for his career, establishing a school record. In his first season at cornerback, Holmes earned first-team NAIA All-America and All-SAC honors as he helped lead the Eagles to a 10-0 regular season record and All-SAC honors as he helped lead the Eagles to a 10-0 regular season record and into the second round of the NAIA playoffs. Before transferring to Carson-Newman, Holmes was a Junior College All-America quarterback at North Greenville, SC, Junior College.

PERSONAL: Holmes earned all-conference honors as a defensive back at Wilson High School in Florence, SC, and he set the South Carolina state record in the long jump. He was a management major at Carson-Newman. He and his wife live in Coppell, TX with their daughter Briana (1-9-93).

Michael Irvin

WIDE RECEIVER • MIAMI
HT: 6-2 • WT: 205 • BORN: 3/5/66
D-1 FOR '88 • 7th YEAR

PRO: Michael Irvin is a Pro Bowl wide receiver in the prime of a very fast moving and highly productive NFL career. He is nicknamed "The Playmaker," and it's a handle that fits. Over the past three seasons, Irvin has registered the top three single-season receiving performances in Dallas history with 1,523 yards in 1991, 1,396 yards in 1992 and 1,330 yards in 1993. He has also turned in the top three single-season totals for receptions with 93 in 1991, 78 in 1992 and 88 in 1993. Irvin's consistent ability to produce big numbers has him climbing the Cowboys career receiving charts with tremendous acceleration following his three Pro Bowl seasons (1991-1993). In 1993, he became only the second Dallas wide receiver in club history to be selected to three consecutive Pro Bowls, joining Bob Hayes (1965-67), and if Irvin is selected to go to Hawaii in 1994, he will become the first Cowboy wide receiver to ever earn four Pro Bowl berths. After just six years in the league, he has already moved into second place on the Cowboys' list of career 100-yard receiving games with 24—Tony Hill holds the record with 26. Irvin moved into fourth place on the Dallas career receiving yardage list last fall (5,694), and he currently stands fifth on the Cowboys' lifetime reception chart with 337. In 1993 he finished second on the NFL receiving yardage chart with 1,330 yards (Jerry Rice, 1,503), and his 88 catches were good for third in the league behind Sterling Sharpe (112) and Rice (98). He collected five 100-yard receiving games and now has 16 one hundred yard games in his last 39 regular season outings. He led, or tied for the team lead, in receptions or receiving yardage in 14 of the club's 19 games last year. He earned NFC Player of the Week honors while also establishing a new career-high for catches in a single game with 12 vs. San Francisco (10/17)—a total that tied him for the second highest single-game outing in club history. He also tied his own club mark for consecutive 100-yard receiving games by turning a hat trick vs. Green Bay (155 on 10/3), at Indianapolis (112 on 10/10) and a season high 168 vs. the 49ers on 10/17. Irvin was limited to just two touchdown receptions in the first 11 games of the regular season, but added five more in the Cowboys do-or-die five game winning streak down the stretch that secured the NFC Eastern Division crown. For the second straight season, Irvin led the Cowboys in postseason receptions (16) and receiving yardage (215), picking up nine receptions for 126 yards and one touchdown in the divisional playoff win against Green Bay (1/16). Of his 337 career receptions, IRVIN, Cont.

82 have gone for 20 yards or more, 32 for 30 yards or more, 18 for 40-plus yards, 11 for 50-plus and seven for 60-plus. He currently has a streak of 49 straight regular season games with at least one reception. In 1992 he finished second in the NFL in receiving yardage and seventh in receptions, while topping all of the league's leading receivers with a yards per catch average of 17.9 (minimum of 55 catches). He added six more 100-yard receiving games during the regular season, and the highlight of those outings was a career high performance of 210 yards on eight catches (three touchdowns) vs. Phoenix (9/20). In that Cardinal game, Irvin registered touchdown receptions of 41, 4 and a career-best 87 yards (fourth longest in club history). He tied his own team record for consecutive 100-yard games (three) against Phoenix, Philadelphia (105 on 10/5) and Seattle (113 on 10/11), while topping the century mark at Detroit (114 on 11/8), at home against the Rams (168 on 11/15) and at Washington (105 on 12/13). He recorded six catches in each of the three postseason playoff games (18 total playoff receptions for 288 yards), and topped the year off with 114 yards and a pair of first half touchdown receptions in Super Bowl XXVII. He averaged better than 20 yards per catch in five of Dallas' 16 regular season games, and led the team in touchdown catches (7) in 1992 for the third straight season. In 1991, Irvin enjoyed one of the great receiving years in league history en route to earning consensus All-Pro recognition. The NFL Alumni Wide Receiver of the Year set new team season standards for receiving yards (a league leading 1,523 yards), and in doing so, he had the sixth highest receiving yardage total in NFL history to date. Irvin finished second in the NFL in receptions (93), a figure that was, at that time, the eighth best performance in league history. In addition Irvin set club marks for 100-yard receiving games in a season with seven, tied the Cowboys' record for consecutive 100-yard receiving games with three and caught a career-high eight touchdown passes, the most by a Cowboys player since 1985. In two postseason games, he led Dallas with nine catches for 167 yards. The first Cowboys wide receiver to play in the Pro Bowl since Tony Hill in 1985, Irvin caught eight passes for 125 yards and a touchdown to earn most valuable player honors in the all star game. More important than big numbers and accolades to Irvin were the clutch catches and wins. His most significant catches were against the NFL's best cornerbacks during the Cowboys' five-game winning streak to end the season and land a playoff berth for the first time since 1985. During that span Irvin caught 37 passes, including 11 on third or fourth down for a first down, for 649 yards and four touchdowns. Against Washington (11/24) at RFK, Irvin caught nine passes for 130 yards and one score working mainly against Darrell Green. He caught a 23-yard touchdown pass early in the final quarter then made a 13-yard grab on third-and-nine late in the game to keep alive Dallas' drive to the game-winning field goal. Four days later vs. Pittsburgh (11/28) and Rod Woodson, Irvin snared eight balls for 157 yards and a touchdown and was a big factor in the 10-point winning margin. After accounting for 34 yards in the 40-yard drive to a field goal early in the fourth quarter, he scored on a 66-yard catch that saw him change his route to avoid double coverage and break Woodson's tackle near the 10-yard line. Irvin's 29-yard catch on third-and-10 early in the fourth quarter against New Orleans (12/8) gave him team season records for catches and receiving yards, and maintained Dallas' drive to the game-winning field goal. In Philadelphia (12/15) against a secondary led by Eric Allen, Irvin brought in five passes for 92 yards and one touchdown. Midway through the fourth quarter against the Eagles, he caught a 36-yard pass to set up his four-yard touchdown catch, giving Dallas a 22-13 lead. In the season finale against a Falcons' squad with cornerback Deion Sanders, Irvin had what was then a single-game career-high for catches with 10 and turned in his second best career yardage day to date with 169 to earn NFC Offensive Player of the Week honors. Irvin caught a 58-yard touchdown pass on the game's first series and had five third-down catches that led to first downs, including two that sustained touchdown scoring drives, vs. Atlanta. In 1990 Irvin battled back from a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee, which forced him to miss 14 games (last 10 in 1989, first 4 in 1990), to lead Dallas in yards per catch and record the team's longest reception. His 20.7 average was the highest by a Cowboys player since 1981 when Butch Johnson gained 22.1 yards per catch. Irvin, who scored on every fourth catch in 1990, made some key plays after returning to the active roster on October 9. He caught his first two passes of the season, including a 28-yard touchdown with 23 seconds left, in the Cowboys' game-winning drive against

THE PLAYERS

Tampa Bay (10/21). Irvin returned to the starting lineup against San Francisco (11/11) and was a vital part of the club's march to four straight wins. Against the Rams (11/18) he caught touchdown passes from 61 and 10 yards, the Cowboys' first multiple touchdown catch game since Irvin snared a career-high three scoring passes at Washington as a rookie. On the drive to the deciding touchdown over New Orleans (12/2), Irvin made a 24-yard reception. Against Phoenix (12/16) he grabbed a 41-yard pass to set up Dallas' first touchdown and a 39-yarder to set up his own eight-yard touchdown catch. In 1989 Irvin was on a pace to collect 69 catches for 1,008 yards and leading the team in receiving yards and touchdown catches before suffering the season-ending knee injury against San Francisco (10/15). In 1988 Irvin, whose 20.4-yards-per-catch average led the NFC, became the first Cowboys rookie to start a season-opener at wide receiver since Bob Hayes in 1965. After missing two games due to a sprained ankle, Irvin caught six passes for 149 yards and three touchdowns at Washington (12/11) his rookie year. He was the 11th player selected and third wide receiver chosen, after Sterling Sharpe (Green Bay) and Tim Brown (Raiders), in the 1988 draft. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1988 (14/10), 1989 (6/6), 1990 (12/7), 1991 (16/16, 2/2), 1992 (16/14, 3/3), 1993 (16/16, 3/3). Total - 82/69, 8/8.

COLLEGE: In just three seasons as a starter, Irvin set Miami career records for catches (143), receiving yards (2,423) and touchdown receptions (26). His 11 touchdowns catches in 1986 is also a Hurricanes' record. In Miami's 1987 national championship season, Michael caught touchdown passes of 26 and 73 yards in the fourth quarter to hand No. 2-ranked Florida State its only loss and the game-winning touchdown in the Orange Bowl win over Oklahoma.

PERSONAL: A native of Fort Lauderdale, FL, Michael Jerome Irvin earned all-state honors at St. Thomas Aquinas High School. Also a fine basketball player, Irvin won several slam dunk contests in the Florida area while in college. Michael comes from a family of 17 children and grew up within three miles of fellow NFL stars Lorenzo White and the Blades brothers, Bennie and Brian. Irvin, who earned his degree in business management from Miami, appears in "Stay In School" posters sponsored by the Dallas All-Sports Association. He is the host of the Michael Irvin Show, a weekly television show that runs throughout the football season. In each of the past two training camps, Michael has teamed up with Southwest Airlines to fly nearly 100 under-privileged children to Austin to spend a day with the Cowboys. He and wife Sandi live in Carrollton, TX with their daughter.

Jim Jeffcoat

DEFENSIVE END • ARIZONA STATE
 HT: 6-5 • WT: 280 • BORN: 4/1/61
 D-1 FOR '83 • 12th YEAR

PRO: Consistency and longevity are two of the trademarks of Jeffcoat, who leads all active Cowboys with 669 career tackles and, with six sacks in 1993 (second on the team), also leads the team in career NFL sacks with 86½. Jeffcoat has played in 110 straight games to lead the team and has started more NFL games (126) than any current Cowboys player. After coming to Dallas in 1983 as a first-round draft choice, Jim Jeffcoat has toiled through losing seasons, the transition from Tom Landry to Jimmy Johnson to Barry Switzer and back-to-back Super Bowl titles. Since September 3, 1984, when Jim Jeffcoat walked to the line of scrimmage against the L.A. Rams in his first NFL start, sixteen different players have lined up next to him as starters on the defensive front four for Dallas, and countless others have played back-up roles on these same defensive lines. Jeffcoat himself has been part of those changes moving from a reserve role as a rookie to the starting lineup for eight consecutive seasons and then back to a reserve role at defensive end in 1992, replacing Tony Tolbert at left end in the Dallas nickel defensive package. In 1993 his 41 tackles led all non-starters along the defensive line, and he also finished second on the team in quarterback pressure with 26. Over the past five seasons his 360 tackles lead all defensive linemen, proving Jeffcoat is one of Dallas' most valuable defensive linemen as a starter or reserve. As a pass rush specialist, Jeffcoat recorded a 22 yard loss on a sack of Green Bay's Brett Favre (10/3), and against the Giants (11/7) he recorded two sacks of Phil Simms, his first multiple sack game in almost a year. Jeffcoat earned first start of 1993 the next week at right end against Phoenix (11/14) when Charles Haley was slowed by a back injury. Haley's back also netted Jeffcoat back-to-back starts in December against Philadelphia (12/6), recording 4 tackles and team high five quarterback pressures, and at Minnesota (12/12), recording two tackles and leading the team with two quarterback pressures. If Jeffcoat's play in January 1994 is any indication, he is not yet done playing football. In the season finale at the Meadowlands against the New York Giants (1/2), he stepped in at right end and went on to lead the defensive line with seven tackles, two sacks, a forced fumble and three quarterback pressures, marking his second multiple sack game of the season against the Giants. It was Jeffcoat's finest game of the year and clinched the NFC Eastern Division title for the Cowboys. In the postseason he went on to log at least a half sack in all three playoff games, finishing with 2 1/2. He recorded three tackles, a sack and knocked down a pass against Green Bay (1/16) before adding three tackles, a half sack, a tackle for a loss and three quarterback pressures against Buffalo (1/30) in Super Bowl XXVIII. Early in the third quarter on a key third-down play in that game, he teamed with Haley to sack Jim Kelly for a 13 yard loss. In 1992, his first year as a reserve behind Tolbert, Jeffcoat led the team and was ninth in the NFC with 10 1/2 sacks, more than he had in 1990 and 1991 combined and the highest total by a Dallas player since his 11 1/2 sacks in 1989. As a pass rush specialist, Jeffcoat flourished, recording two sacks and a tackle for a loss against Seattle (10/11), his first multiple sack game since 1989. Two weeks later against the Raiders (10/25), he had two more sacks and two forced fumbles, the most forced fumbles in a game by a Cowboys player since 1990. As one of three Cowboys with three forced fumbles on the year, he tied for the team lead in that department. His 42 tackles placed him fourth among defensive linemen in stops, and he led the team in tackles for a loss with six. After starting the season opener against Washington (9/7), Jeffcoat moved into a reserve role, but filled the position so well he was named to Pro Football Weekly's all-backup team at defensive end. During the season, Jeffcoat even played some at tackle in passing situations, his first return to the tackle spot since 1986. Jeffcoat earned two starts midway through the season against the Rams (11/15) and Cardinals (11/22) when Haley was slowed by injuries. He made the most of those opportunities, recording a season-high nine tackles and two sacks against Phoenix. That game marked Jeffcoat's third multiple sack game of the season, and the fifth consecutive game in which he recorded a sack, the longest sack streak by a Cowboys player since Ed Jones went six consecutive games in 1982. For 1991 he tied for the team lead among defensive linemen in batted passes with a single-season career-high five and was tied for third on the team in quarterback pressures with 14. Perhaps one of the club's biggest defensive plays of 1991 came against the New York Giants (9/29) when, on third-and-one at the Dallas six-yard line, Jeffcoat teamed with Ken Norton to throw Rodney Hampton for a five-yard loss, forcing the Giants to settle for a field goal in the Cowboys 21-16 victory over the defending Super Bowl champions. Over the years Jeffcoat has become almost as big a threat offensively as he is defensively. After being on the receiving end of tipped passes for two interception returns for touchdowns in his career, Jeffcoat moved to the role of tipper in 1991, knocking a Boomer Esiaison pass into the hands of linebacker Dixon Edwards who returned it 36 yards for a touchdown against Cincinnati (10/13). Late in the 1990 season against New Orleans (12/2), Jeffcoat suffered a compound fracture in his right hand, but stayed in the game and recorded two key tackles behind the line of scrimmage. Limited the final three weeks of the season by the injury, he still finished second on the team in quarterback pressures with 28 and second among defensive linemen in tackles with 65. He recorded the sixth double digit tackle game of his career with 10 stops at the N.Y. Giants (9/30). In the 1989 season finale against Green Bay (12/24), Jeffcoat tallied three sacks, the most by a Cowboys' player since 1987. For the season he recorded a career-high 100 tackles, including a 12 tackle performance versus Philadelphia (11/23), his best since recording 13 against Washington in 1985. Also in 1989 against Washington (9/24) Jeffcoat scored his fourth career touchdown, rambling 77 yards with a fumble recovery. Jeffcoat set up three scores with his team-high 3 1/2 forced fumbles in 1988. In 1987 he returned a Phil Simms pass, that was tipped by Ed Jones, 26 yards for a touchdown. In 1986 Jeffcoat led Dallas with a career-high 14 sacks. The Simms-to-Jones-to-Jeffcoat combination worked for the first time in 1985 when Jeffcoat went 65 yards with an interception. He recorded a single-game club-record five sacks against the Redskins at Washington in 1985. Jeffcoat's initial NFL touchdown came when he fell on a fumble in the end zone to send the game into overtime against New Orleans in 1984. Jeffcoat is a native of New Jersey along with fellow end Tony Tolbert. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1983 (16/0, 1/0), 1984 (16/16), 1985 (16/16, 1/1), 1986 (16/16), 1987 (12/12), 1988 (16/15), 1989 (16/16), 1990 (16/13), 1991 (16/16, 2/2), 1992 (16/3, 3/0), 1993 (16/3, 3/0). Totals - 172/126, 10/3.

COLLEGE: A three-year starter at Arizona State, Jeffcoat earned All-PAC 10 and honorable mention All-America honors after anchoring the 1982 Sun Devil defense that led the nation. He was named outstanding defensive player in Arizona State's 1983 Fiesta Bowl victory over Oklahoma recording 16 tackles, a forced fumble and a sack, and in September, 1991 he was named to the All-time Fiesta Bowl team.

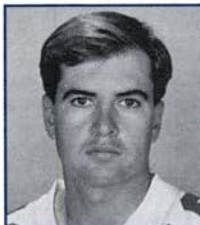

PERSONAL: From a family of six children, James Wilson Jeffcoat, Jr., is a Cliffwood, NJ, native who earned All-America honors at Matawan Regional High School. He also lettered in wrestling. In October, 1991 his high school retired his football jersey, No. 79, and he was also awarded the New Jersey Sportswriter's Association Unsung Hero Award for his community service in 1991. Jeffcoat, who was the Cowboys' 1986, 1987, 1990 and 1992 Man of the Year nominee, works with Special Olympics, Make-A-Wish Foundation, the Leukemia Society, Children's Cancer Fund and the Boys Clubs. He earned his bachelors degree in communications and his Masters degree in Business Administration from Arizona State. Jim and wife Tammy have three children - Jaren (10/1/87) and twins Jackson and Jacqueline (12/26/90).

John Jett

PUNTER • EAST CAROLINA
HT: 6-0 • WT: 184 • BORN: 11/11/68
FA FOR '93 • 2nd YEAR

PRO: As a free agent punter, on year removed from East Carolina University, John Jett came to Austin in July of 1993 to try to win a wide open battle for the opportunity to punt for the defending Super Bowl Champion Dallas Cowboys. Jett not only won the job, but he performed all year long with the pose and patience of a seasoned NFL veteran. Jett responded to the challenge of the highest level by finishing the season ranked third in the NFC in net punting average with a 37.7 mark. He also had the highest net punting average by a Dallas player since 1964 (Billy Lothridge-37.9). Jett had 22 of his 56 punts (39.3% downed inside the 20 yard line and closed a very successful rookie campaign with a 41.8 gross punting average. His efforts helped the Cowboys finish the '93 regular season ranked No. 2 in the NFL with an opponents' punt return average of just 5.3 yards. He averaged better than 50 yards per punt in three games in 1993: Green Bay

(53.0 on 10/3), N.Y. Giants (50.3 on 11/7) and Washington (51.0 on 12/26), while dipping below 40 yards per effort in just six games. Jett enjoyed perhaps his finest overall outing at Atlanta on 11/21 when punted six times for a 49.5 yard average, had four punts downed inside the 20 and turned in his second best career effort with a 58 yarder. His 49.2 yard net at the Georgia Dome was his second best of the season. He also flourished in another indoor outing in Indianapolis (10/10), punting four times for a 46.5 yard average with four kicks inside the 20 and a career long 59 yard effort. In three post season games, he never dipped below 41 yards per kick in gross average, and he compiled a 42.7 gross clip in the playoffs. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1993 (16/0, 3/0).

COLLEGE: In four seasons at East Carolina, Jett established himself as the top punter in school history, setting a Pirates career mark for punting average (40.1). During his stay at ECU, Jett posted two of three best single season averages in school history. As a senior, he had a season high 51.3 yard average against Memphis State on his way to establishing a school record 42.2 yards per punt average on the season. He earned honorable mention All-America honors following that senior campaign in 1991. As a junior, he had five punts downed inside the 20 yard line against Louisiana Tech, and averaged a season high 46.0 yards on three punts against Cincinnati. As a sophomore, Jett logged 71 punts, fourth highest in school history, for a 40.2 yard average, including 25 inside the 20. Jett earned a spot on the ECU squad as a walk-on.

PERSONAL: Born in Richmond, VA, John Jett starred in football and baseball at Northumberland High School in Heathsville, VA. He earned first team all-state honors as an outfielder and pitcher. John majored in finance at East Carolina. He and wife, Jacqueline live in Irving, TX.

Daryl Johnston

FULLBACK • SYRACUSE
HT: 6-2 • WT: 238 • BORN: 2/10/66
D2 FOR '89 • 6th YEAR

PRO: After earning the respect and admiration of his teammates for his contribution to the Dallas offense, Daryl "Moose" Johnston finally received national recognition for his play in 1993, becoming the first fullback selected to the NFC Pro Bowl team. The honor was not for Johnston's running ability as he was quick to point out. "I've probably got the worst stats of anybody who has ever gone to a Pro Bowl," said Johnston. "I don't think there has ever been a back who has gained fewer than 100 yards and still made the Pro Bowl. I've got the record." It was not for his ability to carry the ball Johnston went to Hawaii or earned All-Pro honors from Sports Illustrated, but instead for his powerful blocking and the fact he finished third on the team with 50 catches. Over the past four seasons as the lead blocker, he has helped guide Emmitt Smith to 5,699 rushing yards, four Pro Bowl appearances, and the 1991, 1992 and 1993 NFL rushing titles. Blocking is not the only skill in Johnston's jack-of-all trades repertoire. For the third consecutive season he posted single-season career-numbers with 50 receptions for 372 yards in 1993. He finished fifth in NFC in receptions among running backs, and he topped his single-season career-highs of 32 catches and 249 yards from 1992 in Week 11. He amassed 446 total yards from scrimmage (74 rushing, 372 receiving) to top his single-season career-high of 345 from 1989 (212 rushing, 133 receiving). Early in the 1993 season it became apparent Johnston was going to have a career-year catching the ball as when he posted six catches for 49 yards at Phoenix (9/19), breaking his career-highs in both categories. Two games later he recorded his only touchdown reception of the season among his five catches for 37 yards at Indianapolis (10/10). But as the weather turned colder Johnston began to turn up the heat. On Thanksgiving Day against Miami (11/25), Johnston posted his best day as a Cowboy, leading the team with career-highs in receptions (11) and yards (75) as the Cowboys fell to the Dolphins 16-13. The following week against Philadelphia (12/6) he scored his second career rushing touchdown on a two-yard run. He also had a season long 20 yard reception to set up a second quarter field goal in that game. Johnston didn't stop there however, scoring another rushing touchdown at Minnesota (12/12) the very next week. For the third consecutive week, Johnston had a rushing touchdown when he scored at the N.Y. Jets (12/18), this after scoring just one rushing touchdown in his first 75 career regular season games. For his career, Johnston's eight touchdown catches and 12 total touchdowns are the fourth highest active total on team. In the postseason, Johnston recorded six receptions for 43 yards and three carries for 12 yards vs. Green Bay (1/16). Entering that game he had recorded just nine catches for 57 yards in five career postseason games. Despite nagging injuries that required off-season surgery following both the 1991 (left knee) and 1992 (right shoulder) seasons, Johnston is somewhat of an iron man, having never missed a game in his NFL career — playing in 88 straight including playoffs. That mentality has earned him the respect of his teammates and in 1992 they selected him to receive the Ed Block Courage Award, given to the player who demonstrated unusual courage in dealing with injuries. In 1992 he opened the season with four receptions for 39 yards in the Monday night win over the Redskins (9/7) and a career-long 14 yard run. Of his five offensive plays (4 catches, 1 carry) against Washington, four went for first downs, including two on third down plays. Johnston has established a trend throughout his career on third down where he is 13-of-15 in third down carries for a first down. Not to be limited to third down, he ran 13 yards for a first down with a fake punt at Washington (12/13) on fourth-and-six. Johnston had one of his most important days as a Cowboys against San Francisco (1/17) in the NFC Championship Game when first he recovered a fumble on punt coverage at the 49ers' 22-yard line to set up Dallas' first score and then in the third quarter recorded his second career rushing touchdown with a three yard dive, putting Dallas up 17-10. Although his special teams duties were reduced in 1992, from 1989-91 only Bill Bates (64 tackles) recorded more special teams stops than Johnston's 32. In 1991 he touched the football 45 times (17 rushes, 28 receptions), and 21 times he came away with a first down (six rushing, 15 receiving). Johnston led the team in receptions with four catches for a career-high 47 yards against Phoenix (9/22), and two weeks later at Green Bay (10/6) he had another four catches for 47 yards. A valuable contributor on the Cowboys' kick coverage units, Johnston tied for fourth on the team, and led all non-defensive players, in special teams tackles with ten. In the 1990 season opener against San Diego (9/9), the ever versatile Johnston lined up at both fullback and running back. Against New Orleans (12/2) Johnston hauled in a five-yard reception for the game winning touchdown in the fourth quarter of Dallas' 17-13 victory, and the following game against Phoenix (12/16) Johnston recorded his first NFL rushing touchdown on a six-yard dash in the fourth quarter. Over the final six weeks of the 1989 season, Johnston gained 194 yards on 56 carries and caught a team-high three touchdown passes. Johnston, often the lone back in passing situations, also helped the Cowboys offensive line hold opponents to 30 sacks. At Green Bay (10/8) Johnston became the first Cowboys rookie to start at fullback since Timmy Newsome in 1980. He recorded his first pro touchdown on an six yard reception against Miami (11/19), and in the season finale against Green Bay (12/24) Johnston recorded a career-high 60 yards rushing. A second round draft pick, Johnston was drafted higher than any Syracuse running back since Larry Csonka was taken in the first round by Miami in 1968. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1989 (16/10), 1990 (16/0), 1991 (16/14, 2/1), 1992 (16/16, 3/3), 1993 (16/16, 3/3). Total - 80/56, 8/7.

COLLEGE: An All-America and All-East pick at Syracuse in 1988, Johnston rushed for 1,830 yards and caught 46 passes during his collegiate career. Against Boston College in 1988 the senior co-captain gained a career-high 138 yards rushing, the most by a Syracuse back since

Larry Csonka rushed for 154 yards in 1967. The Orangemen won 21 games during Johnston's final two seasons.

PERSONAL: Daryl Peter Johnston was named Western New York player of the year in 1983 while playing for Lewiston-Porter High School in Youngstown, NY. Daryl graduated first in his class of 290 students with a 4.0 grade-point average. His sister JoAnn played goaltender for the University of Rochester soccer team, which won two national championships. He earned his degree in economics from Syracuse.

Robert Jones

LINEBACKER • EAST CAROLINA
 HT: 6-2 • WT: 238 • BORN: 9/27/69
 D-1B FOR '92 • 3rd YEAR

PRO: In 1994, Robert Jones will again be the man in the middle. With Pro Bowler Ken Norton lost to free agency, Jones will return to the middle linebacker spot he held during his rookie year. He brings with him the 15 games of experience he gained while manning the middle of the Cowboys defense in 1992, a year the team ranked at the top of the league in run and overall defense. Jones started 1993 with a career high tying 16-tackle performance in the season opener at Washington (9/6) and the next week vs. Buffalo (9/12), he led the team with 11 tackles, becoming the first player with back-to-back double-digit tackle games since September 1991. Following the game at Phoenix (9/19), Jones was moved to the back-up linebacker spot behind Norton. Jones went on to see plenty of special teams play and finished the season with four special teams tackles. He also played linebacker in goal-line and short yardage situations and was a big part of a Dallas defense that set a club record for fewest touchdown allowed in a season with 21. Jones fulfilled many of the expectations placed on him in 1992 by finishing second on the team in tackles with 108 and recording one sack, two tackles for losses, four quarterback pressures, one pass defended and one fumble recovery. His output in 15 games and 13 starts earned him NFC Defensive Rookie of the Year honors from UPI. Although Jones was slowed by a strained right groin in training camp, he was in the starting lineup to open the season against Washington (9/7) and became the first rookie defender to start a Dallas season opener since Ron Francis in 1987. He was also the first rookie linebacker to start a season opener for the Cowboys since Lee Roy Jordan in 1963. With 18 tackles to his credit after the first three games, Jones stepped up his production by swarming ball carriers at Philadelphia (10/5) and recording 16 tackles and one tackle for a loss. Not since Eugene Lockhart had 17 on December 2, 1984 at Philadelphia had a rookie recorded as many tackles for Dallas. He duplicated the 16-tackle yield vs. Kansas City (10/18). His sack against Seattle (10/11) was the first by a rookie linebacker since Lockhart against Washington, Dec. 9, 1984. Beginning with the game at Philadelphia (10/5), Jones led the team in tackles in the next four games—totaling 50 during that span. By the time the Cowboys won 16-10 at Phoenix (11/22), Jones had posted 88 tackles to surpass Lockhart's club rookie record of 86 tackles in 1984. He was de-activated for the Atlanta game (12/21) due to Dallas' use of the nickel defense. His top outing during the playoffs was in the first-round game against Philadelphia (1/10/93) when he tied for the team lead with seven tackles. When Jones came to Dallas in the first round (24th overall) of the draft he brought 4.6 speed in the 40, the strength to bench press 500 pounds and the agility in the form of a 38-inch vertical jump. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1992 (15/13, 3/3) 1993 (13/3, 2/0). Totals — 28/16, 5/3.

COLLEGE: As a unanimous first-team All-America in 1991 and a finalist for the Dick Butkus award, given annually to the nation's top collegiate linebacker, Jones ended his career with 478 tackles. The second-highest total in East Carolina history included 151 tackles in his senior season while leading the Pirates to a 12-1 record and a No. 9 national ranking. He wrapped up his college career with 16 tackles, and interception and a blocked extra point in ECU's 37-34 victory over North Carolina State in the Peach Bowl. He also participated in the East-West Shrine Game after the season.

PERSONAL: A four year letterman at Nottaway High School in Blackstone, VA, Robert Lee Jones recorded 120 tackles and led his team to the 2A state championship as a senior. Jones, an honor roll student, spent a year at Fork Union Military Academy before moving to East Carolina. He was a criminal justice major in college and attended East Carolina during the spring semester following the 1993 season. He and wife Maneesha have a son, Cayleb (3/21/93).

Derek Kennard

GUARD • NEVADA-RENO
HT: 6-3 • WT: 320 • BORN: 9/9/62
UFA (N.O.) '94 • 9th YEAR

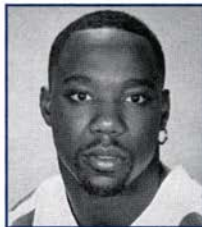

PRO: The Dallas Cowboys signed guard/center Derek Kennard as an unrestricted free agent April 18 to replace guard Kevin Gogan who left as an unrestricted free agent to join the L.A. Raiders. Kennard was one of the few linemen Dallas had singled out in the free agent market. He comes to the Cowboys after three seasons with the New Orleans Saints. Where he has started 102 of 108 games at right guard, left guard or center during his NFL career, including the past 32 straight games. Last season Kennard started the first 14 games of the season at right guard before moving to center in place of an injured Joel Hilgenberg in Week 15. He returned to guard for the season finale. Originally acquired from Phoenix in a trade by the Saints during training camp in 1991, Kennard stepped in and earned a starting spot at right guard by the regular season opener. He tore his pectoral muscle lifting weights after the third week of the season and missed the remainder of the year. He came back in 1992 and earned second-team All-Pro honors after starting all 16 games at right guard. He played every snap from Week Six through Week 15, but was forced out of the season finale at the New York Jets (12/26) with a sprained ankle. Kennard began his professional football career with the Los Angeles Express of the United State Football League in 1984. The Cardinals made him their second pick in the 1984 USFL Supplemental Draft. He worked his way into the starting lineup for 10 of the 15 games he played in 1986, including seven starts at left guard. In 1987, Kennard missed the season opener, but then started the final 11 weeks of the season at center. His durability at center carried over into the 1988 season when he was the only offensive lineman to play every down from scrimmage, despite suffering a fractured little finger vs. Cleveland (10/23). He also started all 14 games in which he played at center in 1989. In 1990 he made the switch from center to left guard and missed just two offensive plays the entire season. GAMES/STARTS: 1986 (15/10-Card.), 1987 (12/11-Card.), 1988 (16/16-Card.), 1989 (14/14-Card.), 1990 (16/16-Card.), 1991 (3/3-N.O.), 1992 (16/16-N.O.), 1993 (16/16-N.O.). Total - 108/102.

COLLEGE: Kennard was a two-time all-Big Sky Conference selection and a Division I-AA All-America as a senior for the Wolfpack in 1983, where he lined up opposite defensive end Charles Mann in Nevada-Reno practices.

PERSONAL: Derek Craig Kennard, starred at Edison High School in Stockton, CA. He shot several episodes of the HBO series "First and Ten" during the summer of 1986 along with players including O.J. Simpson, Marcus Allen and Mike Sherrard. Kennard is on the Board of Directors of the Boys and Girls Club of Phoenix, and he sponsors an annual football camp in Phoenix for underprivileged children. Born in Stockton, CA (9/9/62), Derek and wife, Denise, have three children, Derek, Jr. (3/19/82), Denisha (11/6/85) and Devon Jay (6/24/91).

Derrick Lassic

RUNNING BACK • ALABAMA

D4A FOR '93 • 2nd YEAR

PRO: When Derrick Lassic was chosen in the fourth round of the 1993 draft, everyone thought Dallas had acquired a tough runner to spell Emmitt Smith for one or two downs a game. Little did anyone know that Emmitt Smith's contract negotiations would last into the season. Four months after being drafted Lassic would trot onto the field at RFK Stadium on Monday night to face the Washington Redskins in the season opener as the Cowboys starting running back, becoming the first rookie running back in NFL history to start a season opener for a defending Super Bowl champion. Although Dallas struggled in that game as a team, Lassic had 75 yards on 16 carries and took the national pressure in stride. With that start, he became the first offensive rookie to start for Dallas in season opener since Troy Aikman started at quarterback in 1989, and Lassic was only the third rookie running back to start season opener for Dallas in club history, the first since Ron Springs in 1979 (Calvin Hill-1969 was the other). Lassic out-rushed both as Hill picked up 70 yards on 18 carries and Springs managed just 30 yards on 15 carries. The next week against Buffalo (9/12) Lassic gained 52 yards on 19 carries. Although Smith signed in the week following that game, Lassic earned his third NFL start and scored his first NFL touchdown in the first quarter at Phoenix (9/19). He added another rushing touchdown in second half and led the team in rushing with 60 yards on 14 carries. From that point on he successfully executed the duties expected of him when he was drafted, backing up the NFL's leading rusher. He saw action in seven of the next 10 games, including his third NFL touchdown in relief of Smith against Green Bay (10/3) and a 23 yard fourth quarter on five carries at Indianapolis (10/10). His versatility came to light when he lined up at wide receiver in three receiver sets at Minnesota (12/12) when Alvin Harper suffered a bruised knee. He was de-activated the final three games of the regular season, but saw action in the first two postseason games, logging three carries and a reception. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1993 (10/3, 2/0).

LASSIC, Cont.

COLLEGE: As a senior Lassic led Alabama and finished fifth in the Southeastern Conference in rushing with 905 yards. Despite starting only one season for the Crimson Tide, Lassic finished his career 11th on Alabama's all-time rushing list with 1,696 yards. He ran for a career-high 188 yards on 20 carries against Tulane, and he picked up 142 yards and two touchdowns on 33 carries, the fourth highest single-game total in school history, in a 17-10 win over Tennessee to claim ABC-TV/Chevrolet Player of the Game honors. In the 1993 Sugar Bowl, Lassic gained 135 yards and two touchdowns on 28 carries. With his help Alabama snapped Miami's 29-game winning streak, earning the Crimson Tide the 1992 national title and Lassic the Sugar Bowl MVP award. As a junior Lassic finished third on the team in rushing with 368 yards. Slowed most of his sophomore season with turf toe, Lassic still managed to gain 281 yards on 68 carries in ten games. After redshirting in 1988, Lassic saw action in ten games as a freshman.

PERSONAL: Selected New York State's Player of the Year at North Rockland High School in Haverstraw, NY, Derrick Owens Lassic rushed for 1,787 yards, including nine straight games of 100 or more yards, and 31 touchdowns as a senior to garner all-state honors as well. In addition to his running skills, he caught 31 passes for 586 yards and earned a Junior Heisman Trophy from the New York Downtown Athletic Club. A high school standout in both track and baseball, Lassic majored in criminal justice at Alabama.

Leon Lett

DEFENSIVE TACKLE • EMPORIA STATE

HT: 6-6 • WT: 285 • BORN: 10/12/68

D-7 FOR '91 • 4th YEAR

78

PRO: Nicknamed "Big Cat" by teammates for his agility, Leon Lett has developed a knack for knocking down Opponents' passes that is reminiscent of another Dallas defensive end, Ed "Too Tall" Jones. Although he saw action in only 11 games, Lett led all defensive linemen in passes deflected for the second straight season (four in 1992 and four more in 1993). The other seven Dallas linemen combined for 11 batted passes over that same span. Despite being hobbled during the 1993 season with a broken ankle, Lett displayed tremendous athletic ability and versatility in moving along the defensive line to replace fallen teammates. For the season Lett saw playing time all along the defensive line, including starts at both right tackle and right end. Lett first moved into the starting line-up at right tackle during training camp when Tony Casillas had elbow surgery, moving Russell Maryland from right to left tackle. He went on to nab his first NFL start at Washington (9/6) in the season opener and record three tackles. Casillas returned to the starting line-up at Phoenix (9/19), but Lett continued to see action in the defensive line rotation until fracturing his right ankle in the second quarter of that game. It was a re-injury of a fracture Lett first suffered during summer workouts, and it kept him out of the next five games. Lett returned to the line-up in time to face Phoenix (11/14), recording two tackles and batting two passes down at the line of scrimmage. The remainder of the season, Lett primarily bounced between right tackle and right end, recording a regular season career-high five tackles at Atlanta

(11/21) and batting down two more passes against Miami (11/25). He earned two more starts at right tackle against Philadelphia (12/6) and at Minnesota (12/12) in place of an injured Maryland, and he tied for the lead among all defensive linemen in tackles against the Vikings. Lett earned his first NFL start at defensive end vs. Washington (12/26) when Charles Haley's back kept him out of the line-up. Lett answered with two tackles and led the team with two quarterback pressures. The following week at right end at the N.Y. Giants (1/2), he tied his regular season career-high with five tackles and added three quarterback pressures. When Maryland went down in the second quarter with a sprained ankle, Lett moved back inside to fill the void at tackle, and he went on to start all three postseason games at right tackle for Maryland, finishing third on the team in the postseason in tackles with 17. In the divisional playoff game against Green Bay (1/16), Lett had an outstanding day, recording a career-high six tackles, a tackle for a loss, two passes defended, recovered a fumble and had three quarterback pressures. One of his deflected passes was intercepted by Charles Haley early in the fourth quarter and led to a Dallas field goal. For the second year in a row, Lett was responsible for one of the most memorable plays of the Super Bowl when he forced Thurman Thomas to fumble early in the third quarter. James Washington picked up the loose ball and returned it 46 yards for a touchdown, tying the game at 13-13 and swinging the momentum back in Dallas' favor. For the day Lett had a career-high tying six tackles to go along with the forced fumble. During Dallas' eight game march to the Super Bowl XXVIII title, Lett had a quarterback pressure in every game and 15 for the Dallas streak. After starting the 1992 season slowly, Lett picked up the pace when Dallas faced a string of AFC West teams. Against Seattle (10/11), he had two tackles, two quarterback pressures and a pass defended. The next week he recorded his first career sack along with two tackles against Kansas City (10/18), and in Los Angeles (10/25) he recovered a fumble at the Raiders 32-yard line in fourth quarter. Primarily used at right tackle in passing situations, he finished the season tied for second on the team with 19 quarterback pressures, including at least one pressure in the final seven regular season games. In the postseason, Lett was at his best, tying for the team lead with two tackles for losses and leading the team with three forced fumbles. He also established a record for the longest fumble return in Super Bowl history when he rambled 64 yards in the fourth quarter with a Buffalo miscue. Lett put the finishing touches on the Cowboys Super Bowl XXVII victory in Pasadena when he sacked Frank Reich on the game's final play. After making the 47-man roster in 1991, Lett was placed on injured reserve with a back problem on August 27 and spent the next 11 weeks working to improve his strength and weight. He was re-activated on November 21, and against undefeated Washington (11/24) at RFK on his first regular-season play in the National Football League. Lett stuffed Redskins running back Earnest Byner after a one-yard gain. Lett played some at defensive tackle the final five games of the season and in the playoffs. The first person from Emporia State to make a Cowboys' roster, Lett was the first player to be drafted from the school since Steve Henry in the fifth round in 1979 and the first defensive lineman selected from Emporia State since John Lohmeyer in the fourth round in 1973. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1991 (5/0, 1/0), 1992 (16/0, 3/0) 1993 (11/6, 3/3). Total — 32/6, 7/3.

COLLEGE: A big part of a defense that held opponents to 4.1 yards per play and 3.1 yards per carry during his two years at Emporia State, Lett finished second on the team in sacks and earned All-NAIA District 10 honors despite missing three games due to a leg injury as a senior. He had a monster effort with six tackles, two tackles for a loss, a sack, an interception and a blocked kick against Northeastern Oklahoma State in 1990. Lett transferred to Emporia State after two seasons at Hinds, MS, Junior College.

PERSONAL: Leon Lett starred in football and basketball at Fair Hope, AL, High School. A sociology major at Emporia State, Lett participated in the Shriner's Christmas Gift Drive in 1991. He has a daughter Shanavia (7/3/87).

Brock Marion

SAFETY • NEVADA-RENO
 HT: 5-11 • WT: 189 • BORN: 6/11/70
 D-7 FOR '93 • 2nd YEAR

PRO: Last season Brock Marion was a key contributor in making the Dallas special teams unit one of the best in the NFL. Drafted specifically for his special teams talents, Marion proved himself by finishing third on the team with 19 special team tackles. Marion also replaced an injured Kenny Gant on the kickoff return unit early in the season. While mostly serving as a lead blocker for Kevin Williams, Marion returned his first career kickoff in the playoff opener against Green Bay (1/16), he ended the postseason with two returns for 28 yards. A linebacker in the Cowboy nickel defense, Marion posted 16 tackles, one interception, three passes defended, two forced fumbles, and one fumble recovery. Marion had a very productive training camp and preseason, leading the secondary and finishing fourth on the team with 18 tackles. Marion recorded his first career tackle while seeing fourth quarter action at safety at Indianapolis (10/10). He saw additional fourth quarter stints vs. San Francisco (10/17) and vs. the N.Y. Giants (11/7). When Gant was sidelined with an injury in the second quarter at Atlanta (11/21), Marion's playing time increased as he moved into the nickel defense at linebacker and responded by recording a season-high five tackles and also forced a fumble. Against Miami (11/25) on a snow covered field at Texas Stadium, Marion replaced an injured Gant and grabbed his first career interception. He also tied his season-high with five tackles, forced a fumble and deflected a pass. He earned a special teams game ball from the coaching staff at the N.Y. Jets (12/18) for leading the team with four tackles and recovering a muffed punt at the Jets 36-yard line in the fourth quarter. As a seventh round draft choice out of Nevada-Reno, Marion had eight career blocked kicks in college and deflected a punt in the NFC East clinching victory at the N.Y. Giants (1/2). The 196th player selected in the 1993 NFL Draft, Marion joins Don Smerek (1081-87) as the only players from Nevada-Reno to play for the Cowboys. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1993 (15/0, 2/0).

COLLEGE: A three year starter at cornerback, Marion moved to strong safety his senior year and ended his collegiate career with 303 total tackles (202 solo), 44 passes defended and returned 13 interceptions for 114 yards. A three time all conference selection, twice All-Big Sky and once Big West, Marion led the secondary in tackles for four straight years, and during his career, the Wolf Pack won three straight conference titles, landed two NCAA I-AA playoffs berths and a bid to the Las Vegas Bowl.

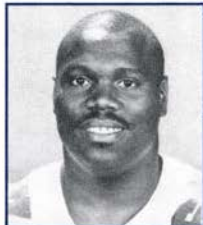

PERSONAL: Brock Elliott Marion earned nine varsity letters in football, basketball and track at West High School in Bakersfield, CA. An all-state selection as a senior, he led the state with 13 interceptions. Brock was an interior design major at Nevada-Reno. His father Jerry Marion, played wide receiver for the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1967 and Uncle Brent McClanahan was a running back for the Minnesota Vikings from 1973 to 1980. Brock has a daughter, Brianna (8/9/93).

Russell Maryland

DEFENSIVE TACKLE • MIAMI
 HT: 6-1 • WT: 279 • BORN: 3/22/69
 D-1 FOR '91 • 4th YEAR

PRO: Hard work and determination have been the keys to Russell Maryland's success—at every stage of his career. Each day after practice Maryland is usually the last player off the field, taking extra time to perfect the techniques of his trade with a little extra individual work. Throughout his high school, college and professional days, Maryland has persevered with a work-ethic that has set an example for teammates while illustrating his presence as a conscientious and tireless competitor. In 1993, Maryland's perseverance paid off as he was selected to his first Pro Bowl after just three seasons in the NFL. Maryland became the first defender, who was drafted by Dallas, to be selected to the Pro Bowl as a Cowboy since Randy White in 1985. On the road to Hawaii, Maryland also picked up his fourth championship ring in seven years, as he added his second Super Bowl ring to the two collegiate national championship rings he won while playing at the University of Miami (1987 and 1989). Hampered by continual foot problems, Maryland mixed tremendous productivity with the frustration of having to miss games due to his nagging injuries. He missed four regular season starts with the foot problems and was forced to sit out of the divisional playoff game (vs. Green Bay on 1/16) because of an ankle injury sustained in the regular season finale at the N.Y. Giants (1/2). Maryland was still the picture of consistency as one of the league's top run stopping forces despite his injury setbacks. He averaged over four tackles per game in the 12 games that he started and finished during the regular season. He tied for second on the team in tackles for lost yardage (6 for losses of 13 yards), and he turned in one of his finest performances of the year in the NFC title game vs. San Francisco (1/23): five total tackles, one sack and one deflected pass. He had season high tackle performances at Phoenix (9/19) and at the N.Y. Jets (12/28) with six tackles each, while collecting sacks against the Cardinals (9/19) and Redskins (12/26). Used primarily on running downs, Maryland ranked second on the team in tackles among defensive linemen with 56 stops. Maryland, a tireless hustler who is always around the ball, was the only Dallas defensive player to register at least two forced fumbles (San Francisco-10/17 and the Giants-11/7) and two fumble recoveries (Buffalo-9/12, and Philadelphia-10/31). In 1992, he played almost the entire season with a dislocated (second left) toe that required post-season surgery. Maryland was a run-stopping force that helped Dallas earn the NFL's top overall defensive rating, while also topping the league's rushing defense charts by allowing only 77.8 yards per game on the ground. He missed the first two games of the season with the toe injury and returned to average 3.5 tackles per game in almost exclusive running down situations. He started the last 13 regular season games—and all three post season outings—and finished the year as the team's third leading tackler among defensive linemen with 49 stops. He also ranked second on the squad in tackles for lost yardage (behind Jim Jeffcoat) with five stops for losses totaling ten yards, while forcing one fumble and recovering two others. His second fumble recovery of the season came in the final game of the year against his hometown Chicago Bears (12/27). Maryland picked up a third-quarter Bear miscue and returned it 26 yards for a touchdown to bring the Dallas lead to 17-0. His lone forced fumble of the season came at Denver (12/6), setting up a Dallas touchdown at the Bronco 20 yard line. Maryland has always come up big in games played against strong running teams, and in 1992, he enjoyed his finest outings of the season against the Giants (seven tackles on 11/26), Cardinals (six stops on 11/22) and Eagles (six tackles, 10/5). He also had a pair of playoff sacks against Philadelphia. As a rookie in 1991, Maryland saw spot duty throughout the better part of the first half of the season. As his playing time increased midway through 1991, he began to make big contributions. After a season-high three quarterback pressures against Phoenix (11/3), Maryland was promoted to the first unit the next week vs. Houston. On the Oilers final play from scrimmage before kicking the game-winning field goal in overtime, Maryland dropped Lorenzo White for a two-yard loss and almost forced a fumble. He finished his first pro start with five tackles, a sack, a quarterback pressure and the tackle for a loss. Over the final seven regular-season games, no Cowboys player had more sacks or quarterback pressures than Maryland. He finished the year with 4 1/2 sacks to lead NFL rookie defensive linemen and place second behind Denver's Mike Croel among all rookies in the league. Despite starting only seven games, Maryland finished second on the team in quarterback pressures with 16. Only Tampa Bay's Keith McCants, who started 16 games in 1991, had more forced fumbles among defensive linemen in the league than Maryland. Named the NFL Rookie of the Year by the Edelstein Pro Football Letter, Maryland earned all-rookie honors from Pro Football Writers of America, Pro Football Weekly and College & Pro Football Newsweekly. During the Cowboys' five-game winning streak to end the season and make the playoffs, Maryland spurred a defensive effort that held opponents to 82.4 yards rushing per contest. In addition Dallas did not allow a touchdown on the ground the final three weeks of the season. Against Pittsburgh on Thanksgiving Day (12/24), he recorded two sacks, then in the win at Philadelphia (12/15) to clinch a postseason berth, Maryland had a season-high seven tackles. When Dallas beat the Bears in Chicago (12/29) in a first-round playoff match, he came through with five tackles, a sack, two quarterback pressures and batted down a pass. Maryland joined Buck Buchanan (1963), Bubba Smith (1967) and Ken Sims (1982) as only the fourth defensive tackle to be drafted with the first overall pick in the NFL Draft. Including Maryland, four Miami defensive linemen — Jerome Brown (1987), Bill Hawkins (1989), Cortez Kennedy (1990) — were selected in the first round from 1987-91. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1991 (16/7, 2/2), 1992 (14/13, 3/3), 1993 (16/12, 2/0). Total - 46/32, 7/5.

COLLEGE: A two-time All-America and 1990 Outland Trophy winner, Maryland played a big role on a Miami team that compiled a 44-4 record, never lost at home, won four straight bowl games, captured two national titles and finished no lower than third in the rankings during his tenure. Maryland's final game with the Hurricanes came in Dallas against Texas in the 1991 Cotton Bowl where he tied a career-high with three sacks to earn defensive player of the game honors. Maryland also had a big day in Miami's 1989 Sugar Bowl win over Alabama — with eight tackles and two sacks. When Miami played Notre Dame in 1990, Maryland recorded a career-high 20 tackles. He picked up the nickname, "The Conscience" while at Miami, a tribute to his ability to encourage teammates to work hard on the field and in the classroom.

PERSONAL: Russell Maryland starred as a two-way lineman at Whitney Young High School, where he also competed on the track team in the shot put and was undefeated in the "Big Man's 60-yard dash," which was open only to competitors in the field events. Due to his scholastic achievements at Whitney Young, one of Chicago's toughest for academics, Maryland could have attended several Ivy League schools. He graduated with a degree in psychology prior to his final season at Miami and wrote a column for USA Today on underclassmen entering the NFL Draft. During the offseason Russell has become involved with the inner-city Boy Scouts in Dallas and he has also judged students' drawings as part of an anti-drug campaign in McKinney, TX. He is also very active in several charitable interests with the Russell Maryland Foundation in his hometown of Chicago.

Godfrey Myles

LINEBACKER • FLORIDA
HT: 6-1 • WT: 242 • BORN: 9/22/68
D-3A FOR '91 • 4th YEAR

PRO: With massive size combined with excellent speed, Godfrey Myles has the ability to stop the run that meshes with his excellent pass coverage skills. With the free agent exit of middle linebacker Ken Norton in 1994, Myles will also get an opportunity to work in the middle both in the regular nickel defense. He was slowed in 1993 by a knee injury suffered during the Cowboys' victory in Super Bowl XXVII (1/30/93), causing Myles to begin the 1993 season on the physically unable to perform list. Thanks to his rehabilitation program, he recovered ahead of schedule and returned to practice on October 13. He returned to action at Philadelphia (10/31). In that game, he recorded four tackles in limited action at strongside linebacker during the second and fourth quarters. Throughout the rest of the season, Myles saw most of his action rotating in for Dixon Edwards at strongside linebacker, finishing 1993 with 17 tackles and a tackle for a loss. After missing almost all of the 1991 season with an injured shoulder, Myles rebounded in 1992 to provide a spark to the Cowboys' defense. As a backup strongside linebacker and as a starter in the nickel defense, he contributed 21 tackles and his first pro interception. Myles played on second and long situations when Dallas went five DB's against Phoenix (9/20), Philadelphia (10/5) and Seattle (10/11), recording nine tackles and one quarterback pressure in that role. He played some on the strongside with the regular defense against Kansas City (10/18), then the next week against the Raiders (10/25) he replaced an injured Vinson Smith midway through the third quarter and recorded four tackles. Against Phoenix (11/22) and the Giants (11/26), he played sparingly due to a strained hamstring—an injury he originally suffered on kickoff coverage against Philadelphia (11/1). He closed out the regular season with his first career interception in the season finale against Chicago (12/27). Myles was also a 1992 mainstay on special teams, recording nine tackles. His season crashed to a halt early in Super Bowl XXVII, when he suffered torn ligaments and cartilage damage in his right knee. Myles had the knee reconstructed last February. In 1991, an old injury to his right shoulder limited him to participation in only three games. The source of the discomfort was a screw that was too long and tore at the muscle. After missing several weeks of training camp due to the shoulder problem, Myles was placed on injured reserve September 25 and underwent surgery October 10, missing the rest of the season. He was selected with the highest choice used on a Florida linebacker since 1988 when Clifford Charlton was taken in the first round by Cleveland. Myles was the ninth University of Florida player to be drafted by Dallas between 1983-91. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1991 (3/0) 1992 (16/0, 3/0) 1993 (10/0, 3/0). Total — 29/0, 6/0.

COLLEGE: An honorable mention All-America pick in 1989-90, Myles started 11 games at "Gatorback", a combination strong safety/outside linebacker in Florida's defense as a senior. He finished third on the team in sacks and tackles to earn All-Southeastern Conference in 1990. Named the "most underrated player in the country" by Sporting News prior to his junior year, Myles compiled 15 tackles for a loss, four interceptions, eight passes batted down, 3 1/2 sacks, three forced fumbles and one fumble recovery in his final 19 starts for the Gators.

PERSONAL: Godfrey Myles was a second-team all-state pick at Carol City High School in Miami. He also was selected to Florida's 35-man Super Squad that met a team of Georgia prep all-stars in the summer of 1987. Myles majored in sociology at Florida.

Nate Newton

TACKLE • FLORIDA A&M
HT: 6-3 • WT: 325 • BORN: 12/20/61
FA FOR '86 • 9th YEAR

61

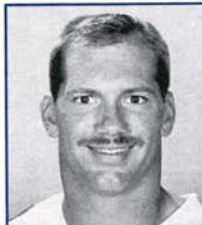

PRO: In January of 1994, the Dallas Cowboys stormed through the playoffs with an offensive line that was probably the biggest in the history of the NFL (averaging 316 pounds per man). One of the key anchors on that front—and one of the three Pro Bowlers produced by the Dallas offensive line—is Nate Newton. The 1993 season marked the second straight Pro Bowl year for the Cowboys left guard, as Newton was a key figure in clearing the way for Emmitt Smith's third straight rushing title. In the past three seasons, the Dallas offensive line has helped Smith to 4,762 yards rushing for an average of almost 1,600 yards per season. Newton earned a Coaches game ball award for his blocking at Philadelphia (10/31) when Emmitt Smith rushed for an NFL-season high 237 yards. Last season, the Cowboys had the NFL's No. 2 ranked rushing offense, averaging 135.1 yards per game. In addition to dominant run blocking effectiveness, Newton and Co. permitted the lowest number of sacks in the NFC last year—29 for losses totaling just 10.2 yards per game. In the 16 regular season games in '93, the Cowboys allowed more than two sacks in just three games. Newton, who possesses outstanding natural strength and quickness for a man of his size has started 31 of the Cowboys last 32 regular season games at left guard. Nate has started more games on the offensive line (105) than any other current Cowboy offensive lineman. Last year, he also earned his fifth straight selection onto the All-Madden team, and he also picked up second team All-Pro recognition from College and Pro Football Newsweekly. In 1992, Nate Newton displayed his versatility and athletic ability in making the switch back to the left guard position, after spending each of the previous two seasons as a premier right tackle for the Dallas Cowboys. The move enabled talented second-year right tackle Erik Williams the opportunity to move into the starting job at that spot, while also propelling Newton into his first career selection to the NFC Pro Bowl squad. Newton and center Mark Stepnoski became the first Dallas offensive linemen to earn Pro Bowl berths since 1982. The transition back to guard, where Newton was a Cowboys starter from 1987 to 1989 also displayed his unselfish team attitude in doing whatever necessary to help raise the production of the Dallas offense to the next level. The 1992 Dallas offensive line allowed a team record of just 23 sacks of quarterback Troy Aikman—a figure that was second best in the NFL. Dallas also led the entire league in fewest yards lost due to sacks—just 112 over 16 regular season games for an average of just 7.0 yards per game. The Cowboys' line registered 11 regular season games of permitting one-sack-or-less, and along the way, Troy Aikman enjoyed his first injury-free NFL season. In addition, running back Smith led the NFL in rushing for a second straight year with a club-record 1,713 yards. Newton collected first-team All-NFC recognition from the United Press International and The Football News. Newton's years of perseverance have finally blossomed into national recognition after a number of seasons of paying dues in the trenches of the USFL and with underachieving Dallas teams of the late 1980s. In 1992, he earned coaches' game ball awards for his performance against the Philadelphia Eagles (11/1), a game in which Smith rushed for 163 yards—becoming the first NFL back to top the 100-yard barrier in over 50 tries against the vaunted Eagle defensive front. Newton started 15 games in 1992, sitting out the season finale against Chicago (12/27) while resting a sore right knee. As the starting right tackle in 1991, Nate Newton's play against some of the top defenders in the National Football League was a cornerstone, particularly down the stretch, in the Cowboys' drive to the playoffs in 1991. After missing the Giants (11/17) and Washington (11/24) games due to a sprained right knee, Newton played a big role in the Cowboys' six-game winning streak at the end of the year. Against a New Orleans (12/8) team that ranked second in the NFL in total defense, rush defense and pass defense, in addition to tying for third in the league in sacks, Dallas did not give up a sack and allowed Smith to become the first back in 1991 to top 100 yards rushing against the Saints. In that game Newton held New Orleans linebacker Rickey Jackson, who finished ninth in the NFL with 11 1/2 sacks last season, without a sack. The next week in the playoff-clinching win at Philadelphia (12/15), Newton limited All-Pro Reggie White to one sack, the Eagles only sack of the day and what proved to be the low sack output of the season for Philadelphia, who led the league in defense and sacks in 1991. In addition Dallas ran behind Newton for most of the afternoon as Smith gained 122 yards, 98 in the second half, against Green Bay (10/6), which entered the game as the NFL's top run defense. Oilers defensive end William Fuller, who earned AFC Pro Bowl honors, was limited to one tackle and no sacks by Newton on November 17. In five games in 1991, Newton lined up opposite a player who finished in the year in the top 10 in sacks, allowing a total of two sacks in those battles. In the two 1990 meetings between the Cowboys and Eagles, All-Pro Reggie White tallied three total tackles and no sacks while facing Newton at the right tackle spot. The starting left guard for Dallas from 1987-89, Newton switched to right tackle early in training camp in 1990. Newton was named the Cowboys' Most Valuable Offensive Player by Pro Football Weekly and was the only Dallas offensive lineman to earn All-Pro votes from Associated Press in 1990. After signing with Dallas as a free agent in 1986, Newton served as a backup guard before winning the starting left guard position the next season. He joined the Cowboys following two campaigns with the USFL's Tampa Bay Bandits. Newton originally signed with the Washington Redskins out of college as a free agent in 1983 but was released on the final cut. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1986 (11/0), 1987 (11/11), 1988 (15/15), 1989 (16/16), 1990 (16/16), 1991 (14/14, 2/2), 1992 (15/15, 3/3), 1993 (16/16, 3/3). Total — 114/103, 8/8.

COLLEGE: Newton played on both the offensive and defensive lines while winning four letters at Florida A&M. He was a team captain as a senior when he was named all-conference. One of Newton's teammates was Willie Harper, brother of Cowboys wide receiver Alvin Harper.

PERSONAL: Nathaniel Newton, Jr., was an all-around athlete at Jones High School in his native Orlando, FL, where he participated in football, basketball, wrestling and track (shot put). Nate's younger brother, Tim, was a defensive tackle for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. Nate served as a spokesman for the 1989 GTE/Cowboys Food Drive and enjoys teaching at youth football camps. In March, 1992 he spoke to the Drug Abuse Resistance Education graduation in Coppell, TX. He is one of the Cowboys' most popular figures among youngsters in the Metroplex, answering the call for several school assemblies on the importance of education. He and wife Dorothy live in Coppell with their son Nathaniel III (10/15/89).

Jay Novacek

TIGHT END • WYOMING
HT: 6-4 • WT: 232 • BORN: 10/24/62
FA FOR '90 • 10th YEAR

PRO: Since arriving in Dallas four seasons ago, no other National Football League tight end has caught more passes (230) and only two have more yards receiving (2,396) than the Cowboys' Jay Novacek. During that time, he has made three consecutive trips to the Pro Bowl as the NFC's starting tight end and been named the 1993 NFL Alumni Tight End of the Year. He joins Billy Joe DuPree and Doug Cosbie as the only other Dallas tight ends to make three appearances in the Pro Bowl. With a 50-catch season in 1994 Novacek can become the first tight end, and only the second player in club history, to record four seasons with 50-or-more receptions. Novacek also enters 1994 with four 100-yard receiving games as a Cowboy (six in the NFL), tied for the Dallas career record by a tight end with Cosbie. In 1993 Novacek finished third in the NFC, seventh in the NFL, among tight ends in receptions with 44 and now has 230 career receptions in Dallas to stand ninth on the Cowboys all-time reception list behind Billy Joe DuPree (267). Novacek is second among all active players on the team in career NFL receptions with 313. Nicknamed "Paycheck" by teammates because "when you throw it to him, you can take it to the bank. He doesn't drop anything," explained Cowboys fullback Tommie Agee. Since 1990 Novacek has 59 third or fourth downs catches for first downs, including 14 in 1993 to finish second among Cowboys pass catchers. Novacek started the 1993 season in fine fashion, hauling in eight passes for 106 yards against Buffalo (9/12). In the Bills' game, Novacek teamed with Michael Irvin to become the first pair of 100-yard receivers in the same game since Nov. 24, 1991 at Washington when Irvin and Alvin Harper turned the trick. Two weeks later against the Packers (10/3), Novacek logged his 200th reception as a Cowboy among his six catches for 59 yards. On top of his receiving, Novacek returned to the holding duties on field goals and extra points he had during the 1991 season. That proved vital when the Cowboys traveled to Indianapolis (10/10). In that game Dallas set up for a field goal with the ball at the Colts' 2-yard line but called for a fake field goal. Novacek took the snap and dashed up the middle untouched for his first career rushing touchdown. It was the second carry of his career and his first carry in Dallas. In the rain and cold at Philadelphia (10/31), Novacek had two key receptions that gave Dallas first downs on third downs in Cowboy scoring drives. Kept out of the end zone the first eight games of the season as a receiver, Novacek recorded his first touchdown reception of season vs. Phoenix (11/14) on one-yard pass from Bernie Kosar. Against Philadelphia (12/6), Novacek had a 65-game pass catch streak when he lined up at tight end snapped when he was held without a reception. It marked the first time since coming to Dallas that he was held without a catch. As the regular season came to a close, Novacek recorded a season-long 30 yard reception vs. Washington (12/26). With the start of the postseason, Novacek re-emerged as an offensive threat, recording six receptions for 59 yards and a touchdown against Green Bay (1/16). His six-yard touchdown grab came with five seconds left before half time and put Dallas up 17-3. The very next week against San Francisco (1/23) in the NFC Championship Game, he added four receptions for 57 yards and a touchdown. Three of his four catches gave Dallas a first down, and his touchdown grab gave him four in the last five playoff games. For his career in postseason, Novacek has 33 catches for 336 yards (10.2 average) and five touchdowns. He stands seventh on club's all-time postseason reception list, behind Billy Joe DuPree with 38 catches. In 1992 Novacek became the first tight end, and only the second player in club history, to record three seasons with 50-or-more receptions. Two key drives in 1992 exemplify how important Novacek's catches can be. The first was a 19-play drive covering 68 yards in 11 minutes and 11 seconds against Phoenix (9/20). On three separate occasions during that drive he came up with critical third down receptions, keeping the drive alive. Later in the season he played a vital role in Dallas' come-from-behind victory at Denver (12/6) when he had five catches for first downs on third down and caught three passes for 50 yards on a 77-yard drive to the game-winning touchdown late in fourth quarter. His team-high seven catches for 87 yards at Denver were his best catch and yardage day on the season. Novacek began 1992 where he left off in 1991 — when he led NFC tight ends in catches (second in the NFL) and Dallas in third down catches for first downs — by finishing with a career-high 68 receptions for 630 yards, surpassing the club season record for catches by a tight end of 64 set by Doug Cosbie in 1985. His 68 catches paced all NFL tight ends for the second time in three seasons, and his reception total was good for seventh overall in the NFC, earning him his second consecutive spot in the starting lineup at the Pro Bowl. Novacek also led all NFC tight ends and was second in the NFL in receiving yards. For the second year in a row Novacek earned first-team All-Pro Honors (AP and PFWA) and was also named All-NFC (UPI and Football News). In Super Bowl XXVII (1/31/93) Novacek scored the Cowboys first touchdown, a 23-yard reception, to tie score at seven in first quarter against Buffalo. He went on to lead the team in catches with seven, which also tied his single-game high for the season. Novacek posted big numbers early in the 1991 season. Against Green Bay (10/6) he had 121 yards receiving on a career-high 11 catches, which were the most in the NFC in 1991, tied the second most catches in a game in team history and matched the club record for a tight end set by Doug Cosbie in 1985. Two games later in Detroit (10/27), Novacek caught 10 passes for a career-high 131 yards, the second most ever by a Dallas tight end to Cosbie's 159 receiving yards in 1985. Novacek's 49-yard reception against the Lions is the longest by a Dallas tight end since Cosbie's 61-yarder in 1983. Novacek's season was marred when he suffered a sprained left knee late in the fourth quarter against the N.Y. Giants (11/17). Heading into that Giants game, Novacek was fourth overall in the NFC in catches and led league tight ends in receiving yards. He was limited to holding for extra points and field goals in the next two games. After returning part-time to the offensive unit against Pittsburgh (11/28), Novacek returned to the starting lineup at Philadelphia (12/15) where he caught his 200th career pass. Despite the injury, Novacek surpassed his season career high for receiving yards of 657 in 1990 with 664 yards, and he led the NFC, placing second in the NFL, in both receptions and receiving yards by a tight end to earn his first trip to the Pro Bowl. In addition he was named first-team All-Pro by College & Pro Football Newsweekly and was also named All-NFC by United Press International, Football News and Pro Football Weekly. In the playoffs he hauled in a game-winning touchdown grab on third-and-goal from the Bears' three-yard line in the fourth quarter of the first-round playoff at Chicago (12/29). In 1990 Novacek became the first Dallas tight end to earn first-team All-Pro honors (Football News), and he was also named second-team All-NFC by UPI. He led the team in catches in five of the first eight games, despite missing most of the N.Y. Giants game (9/16) and playing only in passing situations at Washington (9/23) due to a sprained shoulder. He returned to start the next week against the Giants at the Meadowlands (9/30) and snared a season-high nine passes. In addition, Novacek scored his first touchdown with the Cowboys on his 100th NFL grab in that Giants game. Dallas signed Novacek as a Plan B free agent from Phoenix in 1990 after he caught 81 passes for 1,048 yards and eight touchdowns with the Cardinals from 1987-89. His best season with Phoenix came in 1988 when he grabbed 38 passes for 569 yards and four touchdowns. Novacek led NFC tight ends with 26 catches after seven weeks before a hamstring injury limited him the rest of the 1988 campaign. In the season's third game against Tampa Bay (9/18), he caught five passes for 102 yards, including a 42-yarder for a touchdown late in the fourth quarter to win the game. Two weeks later against the L.A. Rams (10/2), Novacek caught a season-high nine passes. He opened the 1987 season as the starting tight end and caught seven passes for 101 yards, the most by a Cardinals' tight end since 1974, against San Diego (9/20). However, a broken bone in his elbow in the sixth game forced him to miss five weeks. In 1986 he sat out the first six games of the year with a broken thumb and the final two games with a strained knee. A sixth-round draft pick by the Cardinals in 1985, Novacek played mainly on special teams as a rookie. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1985 (16/0-Card.), 1986 (8/0-Card.), 1987 (7/4-Card.), 1988 (16/1-Card.), 1989 (16/1-Card.), 1990 (16/15), 1991 (16/12, 2/2), 1992 (16/16, 3/3), 1993 (16/16, 3/3). Total — 127/65, 8/8 (Dallas - 64/59, 8/8).

COLLEGE: An All-America at Wyoming, Novacek averaged 22.5 yards per catch on 33 receptions as a senior in 1984. He finished his collegiate career with 83 catches for 1,536 yards and four touchdowns, including an 83-yarder.

PERSONAL: Jay McKinley Novacek was an all-state quarterback at Gothenburg, NE, High School, where he was coached by his father Pat. The University of Wyoming record holder in the decathlon and the pole vault, Novacek won the Western Athletic Conference championship in the decathlon in 1984. He also competed in the decathlon at the 1984 U.S. Olympic Trials. In April, 1991 Novacek won the team event and had the highest individual score in the NFL-National Cutting Horse Association Super Stakes, which matched a top cutting horse professional with an NFL player. He followed that with a third place showing in the 1992 competition before coming back to win the 1994 title. He also participated in a celebrity cutting horse competion to benefit Texas A&M's Children Therapeutic Program in 1991. Novacek hosts two one-week youth football camp at East Texas State University in Commerce, TX during the offseason. Jay and wife Yvette live on a 30-acre ranch in Denton, TX, with their yellow labrador dogs, Marlow and Teal, and own a ranch in North Platte, NE. Novacek donates his time to Happy Hills Farm, the Party Smart campaign, the Drug Abuse Resistance Education program and appeared on a "Stay in School" poster for the Dallas All Sports Association. His brother Jason, also an outstanding decathlete, was signed as a free agent tight end by Cincinnati in 1990 after playing at Fresno State.

Rodney Peete

QUARTERBACK • SOUTHERN CAL
 HT: 6-0 • WT: 193 • BORN: 3/16/66
 FA FOR '94 • 6th YEAR

PRO: As the Cowboys have progressed to the championship level in each of the past three seasons, one thing has remained a constant necessity in the make-up of the Dallas roster: quality depth behind Troy Aikman at the quarterback position. In Steve Beuerlein and Bernie Kosar, the Cowboys had proven starters who could enter a game in a tough spot and pull out a win. In Rodney Peete, the Cowboys have the same type of stability, experience and leadership at the No. 2 spot that will keep Dallas at the championship level at the quarterback position. In five previous seasons, Peete has started all 47 of the NFL games in which he's played (all with the Detroit Lions). He has passed for over 1,000 yards in each of his five NFL seasons, while also running for a total of 886 yards and 13 touchdowns (and a career rushing average of 5.2 yards). Peete came into the NFL as a sixth round draft choice (141st overall) of the Lions in 1989. Last year, he completed a career-high 62.3% (second best mark in club history) of his passes while starting 10 of Detroit's 16 regular season games. He was slowed by a Week 3 injury that forced him to miss two starts but led the Lions to wins in six of his first seven starts. At Minnesota (10/31), he threw for a season-high total of 273 yards (on 20 of 28 attempts) and led the Lions to 17 fourth quarter points in overcoming a 27-13 deficit. Peete completed four of six passes for 44 yards in the game winning (61 yard) drive that resulted in Detroit's go-ahead score with only 40 seconds remaining. In that same game, Peete recorded his longest career pass completion—a 93 yard touchdown toss—to Herman Moore. His overall record as a starter in 1993 was 6-4, and he was the team's designated third quarterback for each of the last four regular season games. In 1992, Peete came back strong from an achilles tendon injury that sidelined him the second half of 1991. He started all 10 of the games he played in, including the season opener at Chicago on 9/6 (his first start since 10/27/91). In that Bears game, he completed 18-of-26 passes for 273 yards, with two touchdowns and one interception, including the go-ahead score on a 27-yard pass to Willie Green with just over a minute left in the game. Later that month, Peete set a career high with 323 passing yards vs. Tampa Bay (9/27), while also marking season-highs with 31 attempts and 20 completions. His lone TD pass vs. the Bucs that day was a career-long 78-yard TD toss to Jeff Campbell. Peete later threw a season-high three TD passes at Tampa Bay (10/25). In 1991, he started the first eight games for Detroit before exiting early in the Dallas contest with a season-ending achilles tendon injury. Prior to the abrupt end to his season, Peete had guided the Lions to a 5-2 record over the first seven games. He enjoyed one of his best career days in Week 2 (9/8) against Green Bay, setting career-highs with 25 completions and 38 attempts (271 yards, 1 TD) in a 23-14 win. Later in September, Peete engineered five scoring drives on 17-of-23 day at Indianapolis (9/22). He pushed Detroit's win streak to five games by leading three fourth-quarter scoring drives against the Vikings (10/6) and completing 24-of-38 for 276 yards and two TDs. He injured his achilles tendon after completing all three of his passes in the opening drive vs. Dallas on (10/27). He was placed on injured reserve on 10/30 and missed the Lions ride to the 1991 NFC Championship Game at Washington. In 1990, just his second season as a Lion regular, Peete was the fifth-leading passer in the NFC with 79.8 rating points. His interception percentage of 3.0 percent was the second-lowest ever recorded by a Lion, and he was also the Lions' second leading rusher with 365 yards on 48 carries—a 7.6 average—and six TDs. He led the Lions with a career-high 97 rushing yards on eight carries, including a nine-yard TD sneak, and hit on 17-of-26 passes (10-of-13 in the second half) at Tampa Bay on 9/23. He suffered a pulled hamstring against the Packers (9/30) which kept him on the sideline for the next two games. He returned to the starting lineup at New Orleans (10/28), leading the Lions to a 27-10 win with 16-of-25 passing for 246 yards and one TD and 38 rushing yards. He was then injured again against Washington (pulled left hamstring) on 11/4, after leading the Lions to a 35-21 lead over the Redskins. In that game, he completed eight-of-17 against Washington for 135 yards and two TDs and ran for another score, before leaving the game and missing the next three games while recovering from the hamstring pull. He returned to action in Week 13 (12/16) at Chicago and guided the Lions to 21 first quarter points (the most in team history), while going on to throw a career-high four TDs (one, 20, 44, and 68 yards). As a rookie in 1989, he earned the starting quarterback position for the season opener, but he injured his knee in the final preseason game at the Rams. Peete made his regular season debut vs. Pittsburgh (10/1) and responded with a 15-of-20 performance for 160 yards, including a 46-yard connection with Robert Clark. He led the Lions to their first win at Tampa Bay (10/8) on a last-second, game-winning five-yard run on fourth-and-goal. He completed 17-of-31 for 268 yards and one TD vs. the Bucs, while also adding 78 yards on 10 carries and one TD in the 17-16 victory that earned him NFC Offensive Player-of-the-Week honors. Peete finished his rookie campaign with eight starts and he completed 103 of 195 passes for 1,479 yards and five TDs. He was also named to the 1989 Football Digest All-Rookie Team. GAMES/STARTED (regular season, playoffs): 1989 (8/8-Det.), 1990 (11/11-Det.), 1991 (8/8, 0/0-Det.), 1992 (10/10-Det.), 1993 (10/10, 0/0-Det.). Total - 47/47, 0/0.

COLLEGE: A first-team All-America and All-Pac 10 selection as a senior at Southern Cal, he concluded his career as the Trojans' all-time leader in pass attempts (1,081), completions (630), and passing yardage (8,225). Peete and Troy Aikman were cross-town rival quarterbacks at USC and UCLA respectively. Peete was also an All-Pac 10 third baseman for the USC baseball squad in '88 after hitting .338 with 12 home runs and 46 RBIs. In three years of collegiate baseball, he batted .297 with 18 HRs and 84 RBIs. He was selected by the Oakland Athletics in the 13th round of the 1989 college draft.

PERSONAL: Peete graduated with a degree in communications from USC, and he worked as a baseball color analyst on a California cable station during the 1990 off-season. He spent one season at Shawnee Mission (Kan.) High, where he earned All-America honors at quarterback, following three years at Sahuaro High in Tucson, Ariz. He was named the Arizona High School Athlete of the Year as a junior, and was a three-sport athlete in high school. Peete has recently been involved in charitable work with Athletes and Entertainment for Kids. His hobbies include golf, deep sea fishing and bike riding. Rodney's father is Tampa Bay assistant coach, Willie Peete. His brother, Skip, is an assistant coach at Michigan State, and his second cousin is pro golfer Calvin Peete.

Darrin Smith

LINEBACKER • MIAMI
 HT: 6-1 • WT: 227 • BORN: 4/15/70
 D-2B FOR '93 • 2nd YEAR

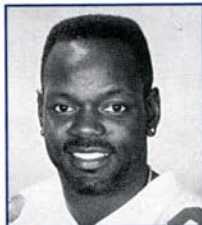

PRO: Drafted in 1993 for his intelligence, outstanding speed (4.5 forty) and natural instincts, Darrin Smith disappointed no one as a rookie who started 13 regular season games and three playoff games at the weakside linebacker post last fall. For his efforts, he was a consensus All-Rookie selection at the outside linebacker position. Thrust into the starting lineup when Ken Norton was shifted to the middle post, Smith made his first career NFL start against Green Bay on 10/3 and he performed with the poise of a veteran from that point onward. He closed out his initial campaign as a Cowboy by finishing fourth on the team in tackles with 93 stops. He recovered two fumbles on the year, and surfaced as one of the team's most consistent tacklers and pass defenders (four passes defended). Smith turned in his career-best outing at Philadelphia on Halloween night (10/31) registering 14 tackles. He also registered double-digit tackle totals against the New York Jets with a team-high 10 stops at the Meadowlands on 12/18. He received a coaches game ball award in the (10/17) game against the 49ers after recovering a fumble and recording his first pro sack. He then received another game ball award the following outing at Philadelphia on 10/31. Smith picked up his first career fumble recovery in his first career start as a pro (vs. Green Bay on 10/3). He collected 11 post season tackles, including four in Super Bowl XXVII against Buffalo. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1993 (16/13, 3/3).

COLLEGE: As a senior, he was a member of the nation's top linebacking corps at Miami, along with Jesse Armstead (Giants) and Michael Barrow (Oilers). As a senior he was named All-American, All-Big East and a Finalist for the Butkus Award which honors the nation's top collegiate linebacker. As a junior in 1991, he shared the Big East Defensive Player of the Year Award with Syracuse's George Rooks. That same year, he registered a career-high 18 tackles in a 17-16 win over Florida State that helped secure one of the two national championships to which Smith contributed (Miami also won the title in 1989). He was the seventh linebacker selected in the 1993 draft (54th player overall), and he closed his collegiate career with 401 total tackles, 26 tackles for lost yardage and 10 sacks.

PERSONAL: Prior to joining the Cowboys, Smith earned his MBA from Miami. Smith was a stand-out performer in football and track at Norland High School in Miami. He is an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and is very involved in community work in his hometown of Miami.

PRO: Associated Press, The Sporting News, Pro Football Writers of America, Miller Lite, the ESPN "ESPY" Awards, Pro Football Weekly and Pro Football Digest, 1993 National Football League Most Valuable Player; United Press International, Pro Football Weekly and College and Pro Football Newsweekly NFL Offensive Player of the Year; Bert Bell Award recipient from the Maxwell Club as the Player of the Year; consensus All-Pro; NFL Alumni Running Back of the Year; Super Bowl XXVIII MVP. The list of honors and awards for Emmitt Smith from 1993 goes on and on following one of the most outstanding performances by a running back in league history. In 1993 Smith extended his NFL dominance by becoming only the fourth player to win three straight league rushing titles and the first since Earl Campbell turned the trick from 1978-80 (Jim Brown 1957-61 and 1963-65 and Steve Van Buren 1947-49 were the others). It wasn't just running the ball where Smith was at the top of the league, as he led the NFL in total yards from scrimmage with 1,900 (1,486 rushing/414 receiving), outdistancing runner-up Thurman Thomas of Buffalo (1,702) by almost 200 yards. Smith totaled over 100 yards from scrimmage in 12 of 16 starts and led the league with a 5.3 yard per carry average, the highest average by a Dallas running back since Duane Thomas posted a 5.3 average in 1970. Second on the team with 57 receptions, Smith finished fourth in NFC in catches among running backs. The team felt comfortable giving the ball to Smith, because for the year he lost just two fumbles in the 419 times he touched the football on carries and catches. Smith did all this despite missing two games and three starts because of contract negotiations. His value to the Cowboys' success can be seen in the club's 40-1 mark when he carries the ball 20-or-more times a game and 29-1 record when he rushes for 100 yards, including 25 straight. The century mark has become a big number in Smith's career, having rushed for 100 yards in 100-of-153 games dating back to high school (45-of-49 at Escambia H.S., 25-of-34 at Florida and 30-of-70 at Dallas, including playoffs). Smith, with two 1,500 yard seasons under his belt, can become the fifth runner in league history with three or more 1,500 yard seasons by topping that mark in 1994, and it would give him over 7,200 career yards, moving him ahead of Don Perkins (6,217 yards) into the second spot on the Cowboys all-time rushing list. After missing the first two regular season games in 1993, Smith signed his contract on September 16 and saw limited action at Phoenix (9/19), but he returned to the starting line-up against Green Bay (10/3) and, in his 50th career game, became only the fifth Dallas running back to reach 1,000 career carry mark — the fastest to that point of any running back in team history. Dorsett reached 1,000 carries in his 58th game, the previous fastest. The following week, Smith recorded his first 100-yard rushing day of the season with 104 yards on 25 carries at Indianapolis (10/10). It was a sign of things to follow as he established a new club-record with 237 yards rushing (on 30 carries) at Philadelphia (10/31), to nab NFC Offensive Player-of-the-Week honors and post the highest rushing total in the NFL in 1993. That day in Philadelphia he eclipsed Dorsett's club mark of 206 yards set against the Eagles (12/4/77) and tied Jim Brown for the sixth best single-game rushing performance in NFL history. It was also the highest single-game rushing total in the NFL since Walter Payton ran for 275 yards against Minnesota on Nov. 20, 1977. His 62 yard touchdown run to finish the game, put Smith over the 200 yard mark was the Cowboys' longest run of season. The next week when Troy Aikman went down with a pulled hamstring against the Giants (11/7), the Cowboys offense turned to Smith to carry the load. He responded with 182 yards of total offense (24 carries, 80 yards, 1 touchdown and four receptions for 102 yards), while adding a career-long 86-yard catch from Bernie Kosar in the second quarter vs. Phoenix (11/14). It was his second career 100-yard receiving day. Things didn't go as well the following week when he suffered a bruised right quad at Atlanta (11/21) in second quarter and missed the remainder of game. He finished with a career-low one carry for one yard. A true iron man since entering the NFL in 1990, Smith has started 68 of 70 career games with Dallas, including playoffs, never missing a start due to injury. So, despite a bruised right quad he ran for 51 yards on 16 carries and added 46 yards on nine receptions four days later against Miami (11/25) in the annual Thanksgiving Day game. In that game he moved past the 5,000 yard barrier in his 57th career game — the fastest ever by a Dallas back — and into third on Dallas' all-time rushing list. The Miami game was Dallas' final loss of the season and one of only two games Dallas has dropped in its last 25 with Smith suiting up and not leaving due to injury. Doing things in three's was Smith's thing in 1993 as he garnered the NFC Offensive Player of the Month award for December, the third consecutive December he has won the award. During Dallas' final five game march to the playoffs, Smith amassed 115 carries for 688 yards (6.0 average) and two touchdowns to go along with 24 receptions for 142 yards and a touchdown. He started the streak by recording the second highest rushing total ever by a Cowboy at Texas Stadium with 172 yards on 24 carries vs. Philadelphia (12/6). It marked his fourth consecutive 100 yard rushing day against the Eagles, tying a club record he set last year when he recorded four consecutive 100-yard rushing days vs. the Redskins. For the season Smith logged 409 yards rushing in two games vs. Philadelphia to join O.J. Simpson (469 yards rushing vs. New England in 1973) as the only players to record over 400 yards rushing vs. one opponent in the same season. Including that game against Philadelphia, Smith would record three of the top eight rushing days of his young career in the final five weeks of the 1993 season. The second of those came against the Redskins (12/26) when he ran for 153 yards, and the third came in one of the most memorable games in Cowboys history when Smith carried Dallas to the NFC East title in a 16-13 overtime win at the N.Y. Giants (1/2). Despite separating his right shoulder late in the second quarter, Smith ran for 168 yards and caught 10 passes for another 61 yards to establish a club record for rushing-receiving attempts in a game at 42. Smith gained 78 yards on 17 carries and catches after the injury, including 41 yards on nine runs/catches in Dallas' 12-play, 52-yard drive to the game winning field goal in overtime. With his 10 touchdowns in 1993 — including nine rushing to finish tied for second in NFC, third in NFL in that category — Smith joined Bob Hayes (1965-68) as the only Dallas players with four straight 10-touchdown seasons, and Smith's 53 career touchdowns rank him third on the club's all-time touchdown list behind Tony Dorsett (86) and Bob Hayes (76). On the Cowboys overall scoring list, Smith stands fifth with 318 points and could pass Mike Clarke (386) to move into fourth in 1994. In the two playoff games leading up to Super Bowl XXVIII (1/30), Smith struggled with his injured right shoulder, but still managed 148 yards against Green Bay (1/16) and San Francisco (1/23). It was in Super Bowl XXVIII against Buffalo (1/30) where Smith capped his storybook season, capturing Most Valuable Player honors for leading Dallas to its second consecutive NFL title. For the second consecutive year he topped the 100 yard rushing mark, gaining 132 yards — 91 yards and two touchdowns in the second half as Dallas scored 24 unanswered points. His five career 100-yard rushing games in the playoffs is a Cowboys postseason record (tied for the second most in NFL history behind John Riggins' six). It was the 100th 100-yard rushing day of Smith's football career (high school, college, pro),

E. SMITH, Cont.

and moved him into second on the Cowboys all-time playoff rushing list with 801 yards and seven touchdowns on 178 carries in eight playoff games. Smith is also second on the Cowboys all-time playoff touchdown list with nine, trailing Dorsett (10 touchdowns). Following the season, Smith made his fourth consecutive Pro Bowl appearance, and he became the first Dallas player to start three straight Pro Bowls since Randy White from 1981-83; the first offensive player to start three since Billy Joe DuPree from 1976-78; and the first running back to make four straight since Calvin Hill from 1972-74. Smith joins Mel Renfro (1964-67) as the only other player in team history to make the Pro Bowl in his first four seasons in the league. In 1992 Smith set a new Dallas rushing record with 1,713 yards and set new Cowboys standards for rushing touchdowns (18) and total touchdowns (19), while leading the league in all three categories. He is the first player in team history with three straight seasons with 10-or-more rushing touchdowns. Smith posted the 11th best rushing season in NFL history and was the first NFL player since Walter Payton in 1984-85 with consecutive 1,500-yard rushing seasons. Not to limit his heroics to the ground, Smith also posted career-highs with 59 receptions, tops in the NFC and third in the NFL among running backs, and 335 receiving yards. Smith's 2,048 yards from scrimmage set a new Dallas record, led the NFC and was second in NFL. Smith also established a Dallas mark for rushing attempts with 373 and rushing-receiving attempts from scrimmage with 432. Smith opened the season with 140 yards on the ground in a Monday night win over the defending Super Bowl champion Redskins (9/7), earning NFC Offensive Player of the Week honors and becoming the first player to rush for over 100 yards against the Redskins in three consecutive games. Later in the season he had a streak of five straight games with over 100 yards rushing at Texas Stadium snapped against Seattle (10/11). Smith had surpassed the previous club mark of four straight 100-yard rushing performances at home against Phoenix (9/20). After bruising his hip in third quarter against the Raiders (10/25), he missed two plays but returned to rush for 79 yards and two touchdowns, giving him 152 yards and three touchdowns on the day. His three touchdowns at the Raiders (10/25), which he would match two weeks later at Detroit (11/8), tied for the NFC-high in 1992 and earned him NFC Offensive Player of the Week honors. Smith started November, a month in which he would earn NFC Offensive Player of the Month honors facing a tough Philadelphia defense (11/1) which was ranked first in the NFL in yards allowed going into the game, Smith broke loose for 163 yards. He became the first 100-yard rusher against the Eagles in 53 games, a streak that dated back to Sept. 17, 1989. Smith had his team-record 34-game streak of leading the team in rushing yards end against the Lions (11/8), but he has led the club in rushing in 64 of 70 career games, including playoffs. Against the Rams (11/15), Smith matched Dorsett's 1981 record by reaching 1,000 yards rushing in a season in 10 games, the fewest in team history. A weeks later, Smith demonstrated his versatility when he hauled in a career-high 12 catches at Phoenix (11/22), which were the second most in team history. On Thanksgiving Day against the Giants (11/26), Smith had a long day, recording a season-long 68-yard touchdown run and a season-long 26-yard touchdown catch. With Denver Head Coach Dan Reeves watching from across the field, Smith tied the single-season touchdown mark Reeves had established in 1966 by popping into the end zone with 2:47 remaining to give the Cowboys a 31-27 come-from-behind win over the Broncos (12/6). Smith wrapped up the regular season with 174 yards rushing at Atlanta (12/21), an NFC-high for 1992 and his third best day as a professional. Then in the regular season finale, earned NFC Offensive Player of the Week honors against Chicago (12/27) when he ran for 131 yards and claimed the league rushing title. For his late season display he was named NFC Offensive Player of the Month for December, making him the first NFL player to earn the honor in consecutive months. He strung together three 100-yard rushing games in the playoffs (114 against the Eagles, 114 against the 49ers and 108 against Buffalo). His three straight postseason 100-yard rushing days established a club record and tied for the third longest postseason streak in league history. With his performance against Buffalo in Super Bowl XXVII (1/31), Smith became the first Dallas player to rush for 100 yards in a Super Bowl. After the season Smith earned consensus first-team All-Pro honors and also earned All-NFC honors from UPI and Football News. Smith first led the NFL in rushing in 1991, when he gained 1,563 yards, becoming the first Cowboys player to lead the league in rushing. At 22 years and seven months of age, he became the youngest player in league history and 28th overall to rush for over 1,500 yards in a season, and that performance helped earn him a starting spot in the Pro Bowl. With 365 carries he led the NFL, becoming the 19th player in league history to record over 350 carries in a season. Smith, the third youngest player to reach the 500 carry plateau, joined Walter Payton and Barry Sanders as the only players to do so before their 23rd birthday. His eight 100-yard rushing games in 1991 were the second most in team history and with seven in 1992 and 1993, his 25 career 100-yard games is second on the Cowboys all-time 100-yard rushing games list behind Dorsett (43 games). Smith scored on a career-long 75-yard dash, the longest run in the NFC in 1991, and averaged a career-high 10.2 yards per carry in posting a 112 yard rushing game vs. Washington (9/9). Slowed by a stomach virus most of the game, he was still able to come off the bench to record a team-high eight receptions, including his first career touchdown catch. Against Phoenix (9/22) Smith earned NFC Offensive Player of the Week honors by putting together the fourth best rushing day in Cowboys history with 182 yards rushing and two touchdowns, including a 60-yard touchdown run. With his 75 and 60-yard runs, Smith became the second player in team history to have more than one 60-yarder in the same season (Dorsett had an 84 and 77-yard run in 1977). Smith played five games against the top three run defenses in the league (No. 1 - Philadelphia, No. 2 - New Orleans and No. 3 - Washington), but against the Redskins (11/24) Smith rushed for 132 yards, his second 100-yard game against the Redskins in 1991 and the only two 100-yard games allowed by the Super Bowl Champions, on a single-game club record 34 carries. Four days later he gained 109 yards against Pittsburgh (11/28), and the following week he became the only player to gain 100 yards rushing against the Saints (12/8) by picking up 112 yards. With three straight 100-yard rushing games, Smith matched the second longest streak in team history. Smith's 160 yards and two touchdowns rushing against Atlanta (12/22) allowed him to surpass Sanders and Thomas to win the league rushing title. Smith also finished second in the NFC, and third in the NFL in yards from scrimmage, second in the NFL in touchdowns (13) and rushing touchdowns (12). For all his late season heroics in the Cowboys playoff drive, Smith was named NFC Offensive Player of the Month for December. He opened the playoffs in Chicago (12/29) by recording 105 yards against a Bears' team that had never allowed a running back to go over the century mark in post season play, a record dating back to 1932 and spanning 27 games. Despite missing training camp and the preseason in 1990, Smith finished fifth in the NFC and 10th in the NFL with 937 rushing yards, tops among rookies. In addition his 11 rushing touchdowns led NFL rookies, placed third in the NFC and fifth in the NFL. Smith earned his first professional start against the Giants (9/16) after little more than a week with the club, and the following week at Washington (9/23) he scored his first NFL touchdown. Smith's 241 carries broke Dorsett's rookie club record of 208 carries set in 1977, and his three 100-yard rushing games were the second most ever by a Cowboys' rookie. A vital part of the Cowboys four-game win streak late in the season, Smith caught four passes for a career-high 117 yards against the Rams (11/18) in game one of the streak. Four days later he scored on a 48-yard scamper on his way to a season-high 132 yards rushing against Washington (11/22). Facing Phoenix (12/16), Smith rushed for 103 yards and a career-high four touchdowns to tie the club record for rushing and total touchdowns in a game. The first rookie halfback to start for the Cowboys since Ron Springs in the 1979 season opener, Smith was named NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year by AP, Football News, Pro Football Weekly and Pro Set Trading Cards and made the All-Rookie team of The National, Pro Football Writers Association, UPI, Football Digest, College & Pro Football Newsweekly, Football News, and Pro Football Weekly. He also became the first Cowboys player to participate in the Pro Bowl since Herschel Walker in 1988. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1990 (16/15), 1991 (16/16, 2/2), 1992 (16/16, 3/3), 1993 (14/13, 3/3). Total - 62/60, 8/8.

COLLEGE: An All-America and three time All-Southeastern Conference selection at Florida, Smith established 58 school records in three seasons, including a career rushing mark of 3,928 yards. He surpassed the 1,000-yard rushing mark in his seventh game, earlier than any player in college football history. He also became the second freshman to finish in the top 10 in the Heisman Trophy balloting (Herschel Walker was the other) and earned Freshman of the Year honors from UPI and The Sporting News. In 1989 he set a school single-game rushing mark with 316 yards against New Mexico on his way to a school-record 1,599 yards rushing for the season. In three seasons he became the fifth leading all-time rusher in SEC history and led the Gators in receiving two-of-the-three seasons.

PERSONAL: Emmitt J. Smith, III was a consensus All-America running back and prep Player-of-the-Year by PARADE Magazine and USA TODAY as a senior at Escambia, FL, High School. He posted the third highest career rushing and scoring totals in national high school history with 8,804 yards and 106 touchdowns. He also averaged 7.8 yards per carry, ran for over 100 yards 45 times and recorded only six fumbles. In 1986 he represented the nation's prep football players at the White House as part of the "Just Say No" anti-drug campaign. In 1992 he started the Emmitt Smith Charity Golf Tournament, played each March in Pensacola, with the money going to help numerous groups in the Pensacola area. He was a Miller Lite NFL Player-of-the-Year finalist in both 1991 and 1992 and the 1993 winner, donating all money received through the awards to the Sickle Cell Anemia Foundation. Smith also works with the Salvation Army, American Lung Association, the Battered and Abused Children's Foundation and B.A.D. (Boxers Against Drugs). He also makes numerous speaking engagements at schools in the Dallas/Fort Worth area and in Pensacola. In May 1994, a celebrity 25th birthday was held for Emmitt with proceeds from a fundraising auction given to the "I Have a Dream" Foundation. Emmitt has three brothers - Erik, Emory and Emil - and two sisters - Marsha and Connie. Erik is attending Pensacola Junior College, Emory is a sophomore on the Clemson football team — winning MVP honors in the Tigers 1993 Peach Bowl win over Kentucky — and Emil attends Escambia High School. Emmitt's mother, Mary, father, Emmitt, and sister, Marsha, head up Emmitt Inc., a marketing and promotions company that handles Smith's merchandising efforts. Emmitt is majoring in therapeutic recreation at Florida.

Jimmy Smith

WIDE RECEIVER • JACKSON STATE
HT: 6-1 • WT: 205 • BORN: 2/9/69
D-2A FOR '92 • 3rd YEAR

PRO: After spending the entire 1993 season on the reserve/non football illness list, Jimmy Smith returns for his third season to compete with Kevin Williams for the third receiver spot. Smith was in competition with Williams in last season's training camp before he was forced to undergo an emergency appendectomy prior to the final preseason game. At the time of the injury, Smith was enjoying an excellent training camp and preseason. He was leading the team in receptions (13) and in receiving yards (197). In the first preseason game vs. the Vikings (8/1), he led the team with six receptions for 56 yards. Two weeks later against the Raiders (8/14), he hauled in a 41-yard touchdown from Hugh Millen. He followed that performance by catching four passes for a preseason high 88 yards against Houston (8/21). As a rookie, his opportunity was dashed in the first week of training camp when he sustained a broken leg on July 19. The speed that gave him big-play potential was slowed for the next several months. Smith returned to practice on September 28 and spent the first five weeks on injured reserve before he was activated on October 7. Although he played most of the fourth quarter at wide receiver against Seattle (10/11), his game action was limited to only seven games. He did not have any pass receptions in his rookie season. His biggest contribution on special teams was at Atlanta (12/21) when he gained attention by pinning Deion Sanders at the Falcons' 11-yard line on punt coverage. Smith joined the Cowboys with the complete package of fluid movement, 4.4 speed in the 40 and outstanding body control. GAMES/STARTS (regular season,playoffs) (6/0),(2/0) 1993 (NFI).

COLLEGE: As a senior, Smith earned a spot on the Senior Bowl roster and was a second-team All-Southwestern Athletic Conference selection at Jackson State. He led the team in receptions with 43 catches for 804 yards and an impressive 18.4-yard average. He earned National Player of the Week honors against Delaware State by catching a school record 10 passes for 239 yards, including a 71-yard grab. En route to helping the 1990 Tigers to an 8-3 mark and a spot in the NCAA Division I-AA playoffs, Smith's junior season produced even more impressive numbers. He teamed with Tim Barnett (third round choice of Kansas City in '91) to form the top receiving tandem in the country. Smith was the team leader in receptions (40) and yards (877), while also compiling a stellar 21.3 yard average with nine TD catches.

PERSONAL: Smith was an all-conference performer at Calloway High in Jackson, MS. His father, Jimmy, Sr., was a linebacker in 1968 for the Cincinnati Bengals.

Kevin Smith

PRO: Two years ago, Kevin Smith was a high profile rookie in a vulnerable spot. He was thrust into the fire as a starting cornerback ten weeks into his first professional season—gaining his first assignment against the Phoenix Cardinals on November 22, 1992. From that day on, he hasn't missed a start, and he hasn't missed a beat. Within eight weeks, Smith was lining up against Jerry Rice in the NFC Championship Game in Candlestick Park, and two weeks later he was starting in Super Bowl XXVII. Because of his confidence, tremendous natural ability and intelligence, things have always happened rather quickly for Smith, the Cowboys' first pick in the 1992 NFL Draft, and the 17th pick overall. As a rookie in '92, he was the youngest player on the Cowboys roster at age 22, and, as a second year man in 1993, he performed like he'd been in the league for five years. As he enters the 1994 season, Smith has started 28 straight games (including playoffs), and he is on the brink of becoming a Pro Bowl caliber player. As a second-year player in 1993, Smith led the Cowboys in interceptions with six, collecting more interceptions than any other Dallas player since Michael Downs had six in 1986. Smith tied for second in the NFC in interceptions, while finishing the year seventh overall in the NFL in that department. He also was the team's leader in passes defended with 13, and tied for the team lead in forced fumbles with three. He closed out the season ranked fifth on the team in tackles with 90, and third on the team in solo tackles with 73. On 12/18 (at Jets), he became the first Cowboy defender since 1990 to be named NFC Defensive Player of the Week after a brilliant outing in New York. He had seven tackles, forced two fumbles, recovered one (his first NFL fumble recovery) and returned an interception 32 yards for a touchdown (the first of his career). He registered a career-high 10 tackles at Indianapolis (10/10) and recorded an interception. He also tallied interceptions against Buffalo (9/12), Green Bay (10/6), at Minnesota (12/12) and against the Redskins (12/26). In his last 20 games, Smith has eight interceptions. As a rookie in 1992, Smith started nine games (including playoffs), and he registered 36 tackles, seven passes defended, two interceptions one forced fumble and one fumble recovery. He picked up his first career interception on the first play of the game at Denver (12/6) off of fellow rookie Tommy Maddox. He then closed the regular season with a theft against Chicago. In the NFC Championship Game, Smith was a very visible factor in the Dallas secondary where he collected a career-high eight tackles (seven solos), while returning a fumble recovery 11 yards. His regular season-high for tackles came against the Giants (11/26) with six total stops (five solos). His early season development was hampered somewhat by a preseason hamstring pull that kept him out of much of the full speed training camp work. Smith wound up being only the third defensive back drafted by Dallas in the first round (Aaron Kyle, 1976 and Rod Hill, 1982), and he was chosen with the highest pick ever used on a Dallas defensive back. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1992 (16/6, 3/3), 1993 (16/16, 3/3). Total — 32/22, 6/6.

COLLEGE: A big play man throughout his career at Texas A & M. Midway through his final college season, Smith was called upon to return punts and quickly became one of the nation's finest. He returned one punt 71 yards for a score against Rice and then later added a 73-yard TD return against Texas. He finished the season with a 14.7 yard return average that was good for sixth in the nation. With an uncanny knack for finding the end zone, Smith scored six special teams/defensive touchdowns in four years at Texas A&M. He set a Southwest Conference record for career interceptions with 20, tied the conference mark for career touchdowns on interceptions with three and set Texas A&M career records for interception return yards (289) and passes defended (32). In addition Smith, who missed only one game during his four years at Texas A&M, started 38 straight games to end his collegiate career. A semifinalist for the Jim Thorpe Award, given to the nation's best defensive back, Smith also earned consensus All-America honors in 1991. He was an All-SWC selection for three straight years at A & M. His Aggie teams compiled a record of 27-9-1 (.743), played in three bowl games and won the conference title in 1991. The 17th overall pick in the 1992 draft, Smith was selected with the highest choice ever used on a defensive back from Texas A & M. He follows a group of ex-Aggies (Yale Lary, Det.; Bob Smith, Det.; Dave Elmendorf, Rams; Pat Thomas, Rams; and Lester Hayes, Raiders) who earned All-Pro honors playing in the secondary.

PERSONAL: In his senior year at West Orange Stark High School in Orange, TX, Kevin Rey Smith not only recorded 12 interceptions but caught nine touchdown passes while playing wide receiver. He was recruited as a wide receiver by the University of Houston and Louisiana State University but chose to play defensive back at Texas A&M. He was the first Aggies player drafted by Dallas since guard Matt Darwin in the fifth round in 1985. During his senior year Smith roomed with linebacker Quentin Coryatt, who was selected by Indianapolis with the second overall pick in the 1992 draft. Smith was a successful baseball player in high school until his sophomore year, when a fastball hit him on the left side of the face, leading him to devote more time to football. He also competed in basketball and track in high school. Smith majored in recreation, parks and tourism at Texas A&M. His twin sisters received track scholarships to college but both chose to bypass athletics and pursue engineering degrees.

Mark Stepnoski

CENTER • PITTSBURGH
HT: 6-2 • WT: 269 • BORN: 1/20/67
D-3A FOR '89 • 5th YEAR

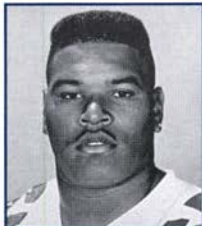

PRO: Mark Stepnoski is only the second Pro Bowl center in the history of the Dallas Cowboys, and in 1993, he became the first Dallas center to make more than one Pro Bowl trip. Not since Dave Manders was selected for Pro Bowl service in 1966 had the organization produced a center with as much acclaim as Stepnoski, who earned Pro Bowl status following the 1992 and 1993 seasons. And, although his season was cut short by a (right) knee injury at Minnesota on 12/12, Stepnoski's list of honors did not stop at just the Pro Bowl. In 1993, he was a first team All-NFC selection by the U.P.I. and The Football News. He also earned second team All-Pro recognition from College and Pro Football Weekly. As he heads into the prime of his career, with the successful rehabilitation of his knee nearly complete, Stepnoski has earned the reputation as one of the league's very best at his position. Although he is the smallest member of the Cowboys mammoth offensive line, Stepnoski is highly regarded as a tremendous technician who uses his intelligence and quickness to get the job done. Natural football instincts and toughness are Stepnoski trademarks as well. Prior to his knee injury—which required surgery in December—Stepnoski had started 68 straight games (including playoffs) in which he was on the active roster, having never missed a professional game due to injury. In 1993, he earned coaches game ball awards for his performances against Green Bay (10/6), San Francisco (10/17) and in the Minnesota game where he was injured. He was a key cog in the first Dallas offensive line to ever have three players selected to the Pro Bowl (along with Erik Williams and Nate Newton). The 1993 season saw Stepnoski right in the middle of Emmitt Smith's third straight rushing title. He has been the center for each of Smith's three historic seasons in which the Dallas running back has accounted for 4,762 yards rushing for an average of almost 1,600 yards per season. Last season, the Cowboys had the NFL's second ranked rushing offense, averaging 135.1 yards per game. In addition to dominant run blocking effectiveness, Stepnoski and Co. permitted the lowest number of sacks in the NFC last year—29 for losses totaling just 10.2 yards per game. In the 16 regular season games in '93, the Cowboys allowed more than two sacks in just three games. He made his first waves in terms of national recognition following a stellar 1992 season that garnered Stepnoski's first Pro Bowl selection. In 1992, he was also named to the A.P. All-Pro Team (second team), while collecting All-NFC recognition from the U.P.I. and the Football News. The Cowboys 1992 line allowed a team record of just 23 sacks of quarterback Troy Aikman—a figure that was second best in the NFL. Dallas also led the entire league in fewest yards lost due to sacks—just 112 over 16 regular season games for an average of just

7.0 yards per game. The Cowboys' line registered 11 regular season games of permitting one-sack-or-less, and along the way, Troy Aikman enjoyed his first injury-free NFL season. In addition, running back Emmitt Smith led the NFL in rushing for a second straight year with a club-record 1,713 yards. He was not on the active roster vs. Redskins (9/7) and Giants (9/13) in the aftermath of a lengthy contract negotiation. He earned a coaches game ball award following his performance in the Cowboys 20-10 win over Philadelphia (11/1). Stepnoski's play enabled Emmitt Smith to become the first back to rush for over 100 yards (163 on 30 carries) against the vaunted Philly defense in over 50 games. In 1991, Stepnoski was also a key figure in helping to produce the NFL's top rusher in Smith (1,563 yards) and the league leader in receiving yardage, Michael Irvin (1,523 yards). It was the first time in league history that one team had produced both statistical leaders in the same season. He was a visible figure in an offensive line that was easily the team's most dramatically improved position group. In addition to Smith and Irvin's numbers, the Cowboys' offensive line permitted two-sacks-or-less in 11 of the 16 regular season games in '91, while surrendering one sack-or-less on eight different occasions. As a result, Dallas quarterbacks Troy Aikman and Steve Beuerlein passed for 3,663 yards—the club's highest figure since 1985. He was awarded coaches' game ball following a dominant performance in the Cowboys' 20-17 win over Green Bay in Milwaukee (10/6). Throughout all of 1991 and 1990, he consistently graded out among the Cowboys' top offensive linemen on a weekly basis. Prior to the 1994 drafting of Larry Allen (second round), Stepnoski was the highest draft choice (3rd round—57th overall in 1989) of all Dallas' offensive linemen. He finished his rookie season of 1989 by starting the final four games at center and graded out as the team's best offensive lineman during that stretch. He was the first rookie to start at center for Dallas since Robert Shaw in 1979. Stepnoski was part of the Cowboys' stellar 1989 draft class that produced four current starters—Troy Aikman, Daryl Johnston, Stepnoski and Tony Tolbert—in the first four rounds. All but Tolbert in that group have earned Pro Bowl recognition. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1989 (16/4), 1990 (16/16), 1991 (16/16, 2/2), 1992 (14/14, 3/3), 1993 (13/13, 0/0). Total — 75/63, 5/5.

COLLEGE: Stepnoski became a starting guard for Pitt in the third game of his freshman year. As a sophomore in 1986 he earned third-team All-America notice and made the Football News Sophomore All-America team. He was slowed by an ankle injury in '87 that forced him to miss his only college game, but he rebounded to win first-team All-America honors in '88. He also was named an Outland Trophy finalist and Lombardi Award semifinalist that year. Stepnoski was a two-time Academic All-America and in '88 was one of 11 National Football Foundation and Hall of Fame scholar-athletes.

PERSONAL: Mark Matthew Stepnoski attended Cathedral Prep High School in his native Erie, PA, where he was a star football player and member of the National Honor Society. In 1984 Mark was named a high school football All-America by USA Today and Parade Magazine. His father Marty was a teammate of Hall of Fame receiver Fred Biletnikoff on the 1960 Erie Tech High School team. He earned a degree in communications from the University of Pittsburgh. He is an avid reader who enjoys sampling the cuisine at many of Dallas' finest restaurants.

Ron Stone

OFFENSIVE LINEMAN • BOSTON COLLEGE
HT: 6-5 • WT: 306 • BORN 7/20/71
D-4B FOR '93 • 2nd YEAR

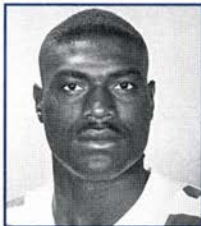

PRO: Ron Stone enters his second year with the potential to be an outstanding lineman in the NFL. A back up at both tackle positions, Stone, who is a former defensive tackle, has made considerable strides under the guidance of Pro Bowler Eric Williams and 12 year veteran Mark Tuinei. Last season Stone was active for four games but did not see action in any contest. The other 12 year weeks he was de-activated when the Cowboys dropped to 45 players on game day. Drafted in the fourth round (96th overall), Stone was the only Boston College player selected in the 1993 NFL draft and the first Golden Eagles' offensive lineman to be drafted by Dallas since David Widell was the Cowboys' fourth round choice in 1988. GAMES/STARTS (regular season/play-offs) 1993 (0/0),(0/0)

COLLEGE: Stone made a smooth and rapid adjustment to right tackle on the offensive line his senior year at Boston College after making 68 tackles as a defensive lineman for the Golden Eagles in 1990 and 1991. Stone anchored an offensive line that ranked 12th in the nation, average 233.5 yards per game and finished 10th in total offense with an average of 438.4 yards per game. As a junior, Stone started all 11 games at right defensive tackle and finished with 49 tackles, a sack and five stops for 10-yards in losses.

PERSONAL: Ron Stone, who did not play high school football until his junior year at West Roxbury, MA, served as team captain and blocked three punts his senior year. He also started at forward on the basketball team, despite only playing as a senior. A sociology major at Boston College, Stone spent the summer of 1992 working with inner-city youth in the Big East Conference's "Athletes Care" program.

Dave Thomas

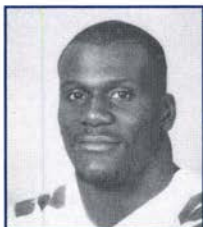

CORNERBACK • TENNESSEE
HT: 6-2 • WT: 205 • BORN: 8/25/68
D-8A FOR '93 • 2nd YEAR

PRO: One of the best stories in the NFL last year had to be Dave Thomas. After a two year layoff from football, Thomas was selected by the Cowboys in the eighth round on the recommendation of Larry Lacewell, the Cowboys Director of College Scouting. Lacewell recruited Thomas from Butler Community College, in El Dorado, Kansas in 1989 when he was the defensive coordinator at Tennessee. Despite being a rookie, Thomas was the primary back up at both cornerback positions. With the odds stacked against him, Thomas began to make coaches notice him early in the preseason by intercepting a pass in the first preseason game vs. the Vikings (8/1). He earned a spot on the roster and began to contribute on special teams. Always giving his all, Thomas suffered a mild concussion vs. Green Bay (10/3) on kickoff coverage. Thomas saw fourth quarter action when Kevin Smith's back tightened up at the N.Y. Jets (12/18). He also finished second on the team with three special teams tackles in that game. Thomas tied for the team lead with three special teams tackles vs. Washington (12/26) and vs. Buffalo (1/30) in Super Bowl XXVIII. The 203rd player selected in the 1993 NFL draft, Thomas was the 14th Tennessee player to be drafted by the Cowboys, the second highest total from any college. He joined Todd Jones (a defensive back drafted by the San Francisco 49ers in the first round) as the only Tennessee players selected in 1993. He was the fourth Tennessee defensive back drafted in the past three years (Carter, Kansas City; Jeremy Lincoln, Chicago; Harlan Davis, Seattle). GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): (12/0),(3/0)

COLLEGE: After an outstanding career at Butler Community College, Dave Thomas transferred to Tennessee. He finished second in the nation as a sophomore with 10 interceptions and ended his JUCO career with 17 picks. As a junior in 1990, Thomas played in all 13 games as a backup for the Vols and finished with 17 tackles, one pass defended and an interception he returned 51-yards against UTEP, the longest interception return of the season.

PERSONAL: Dave Thomas was a third team All-America and All-Conference selection in football as a senior at Miami Beach High School in Miami, FL. Thomas also lettered in track and basketball.

Tony Tolbert

DEFENSIVE END • TEXAS-EL PASO
 HT: 6-6 • WT: 263 • BORN: 12/29/67
 D-4 FOR '89 • 6th YEAR

92

PRO: Perhaps no Dallas Cowboys player has been more productive—and more unheralded—over the course of the last four seasons than defensive end Tony Tolbert. Since the start of the 1990 season, Tolbert has piled up more quarterback sacks (29) than any other Dallas defender. He has also been the team's top tackler among defensive linemen in each of the past three seasons, averaging 81.3 tackles per season. Tolbert's high level of performance is directly related to his toughness and durability. He is the only member of the current Dallas defense who has started every Cowboy game—56 regular season and post-season outings—since the beginning of the 1991 season. Known primarily as a very effective run stopper, Tolbert led the Cowboys in sacks in 1993 with 7.5. It marked the second time in the last three years that he has held the top spot in sacks. Despite coming out on many certain passing downs, Tolbert finished the year ranked third in quarterback pressures with 23. He enjoyed his finest outing of the year against his hometown N.Y. Giants on 11/7, collecting a coaches game ball award after racking up a season-high nine tackles, one sack and three quarterback pressure. Tolbert enjoyed his most consistent season as a professional in 1993 as he accounted for at least six tackles in half of the Cowboys 16 regular season games. He had multiple sack games against Buffalo (2 on 9/12) and Washington (2 on 12/26), while racking up a season-high five quarterback pressures against Philadelphia (12/6). In the playoffs, Tolbert was at his best, accounting for one sack in each postseason game, while averaging five tackles per contest. After coming to the Cowboys as an unheralded 230 pound outside linebacker in 1989, Tolbert has added strength, size and productivity in each of his five seasons in the NFL. In 1992, he led all Dallas defensive linemen in total tackles (87) and was a key figure in helping Dallas to the No. 1 overall defensive ranking in the NFL. His play was most visible against the run, lifting the Cowboys to the NFL's top spot in rushing defense (allowing just 77.8 rushing yards per game). Tolbert finished the season ranked second on the team in sacks with 8.5 (behind fellow end Jim Jeffcoat's 10.5), and the Cowboys' pass rush was a dominant factor in the team finishing the year ranked fifth in the NFL in passing defense. The '92 Cowboys registered 44 sacks to rank fourth in the NFC, while nearly doubling the total of 23 sacks in 1991. In the second through fifth games of the '92 season, Tolbert put together a red-hot streak of productivity in which he collected six sacks (with at least one in each game), 32 total tackles, and two forced fumbles. He earned coaches' game ball awards in three of those four games vs. the Giants (9/13), Phoenix (9/20) and Seattle (10/11), and in the other outing (10/5 at Philly) he collected a career-high tackle total of 12 stops. Tolbert matched that tackle total at Washington (12/13), and his 12 tackle performances vs. Philadelphia and Washington marked single game highs for Dallas defensive linemen in 1992. Tolbert finished the season with career high marks for tackles (87), sacks (8.5) and forced fumbles (3). In addition, he closed the year tied for the team lead in forced fumbles while also tying for second on the defense in quarterback pressures with 19. Tolbert contributed two of Dallas' five sacks of Randall Cunningham in the Cowboys' divisional playoff win over Philadelphia (1/10), and he added another playoff sack in the Super Bowl XXVII win over Buffalo. In 1991, Tolbert's first complete season as a full-time starter (left end), he made a visible impact on a defense that finished the year ranked eighth against the run in the NFL, allowing just 98.2 rushing yards per game. An active run-stopper, Tolbert also led the Cowboys in sacks (7) and quarterback pressures (25), while tying for the lead among defensive linemen in passes batted down with five. He closed out the season ranked fifth on the team in tackles with 73. His nine tackles at Houston (11/10) and at the Giants (11/17) were single game-highs among Cowboy defensive linemen in 1991. He finished tied for second on the team in forced fumbles with two (vs. Phoenix and Atlanta) and he picked up his lone fumble recovery of the year at Green Bay

(10/6). From weeks four through eight in 1991, he put together a five game streak where he accounted for four of his team-leading seven sacks. In 1990, Tolbert played at both end positions and also at tackle in nickel pass rushing downs. He started the last three games of the season at right end, and collected 18 tackles, eight QB pressures, one sack and one forced fumble in those final three outings. He also had an 11 tackle performance at Atlanta (12/30) to close out the season. Tolbert finished the year ranked third in sacks with 6. He also finished third on the squad in quarterback pressures with 24. In 1989, he made his NFL starting debut against the defending Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers (10/15), marking the first start by a Cowboy rookie defensive end since Randy White in 1975. The following week in Kansas City, he had one of his best career outings with 10 tackles, a pass defended and a forced fumble. Drafted in the fourth round, Tolbert is the highest NFL draft pick from Texas-El Paso since Fred Carr was selected in the first round by Green Bay in 1968. He is also part of the Cowboys' 1989 draft class that produced four current starters—Troy Aikman, Darryl Johnston, Mark Stepnoski and Tolbert—in the first four rounds. Tolbert and Johnston are the only members of that quartet who have played in all 64 regular season games since entering the league in 1989. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1989 (16/5), 1990 (16/4), 1991 (16/16, 2/2), 1992 (16/16, 3/3), 1993 (16/16, 3/3). Total — 80/57, 8/8.

COLLEGE: A team captain his senior year, Tolbert led Texas-El Paso to a 10-2 record, their best since 1931, and their first bowl appearance since 1967. He earned All-Western Athletic Conference and honorable mention All-America honors after leading the Miners in sacks with 11 and tackles for a loss with 15 in 1988.

PERSONAL: Tony Lewis Tolbert earned all-conference recognition at Dwight Morrow High School in Englewood, NJ, where he grew up a big fan of the New York Giants. He joins his fellow defensive end Jim Jeffcoat, as natives of the Garden State. Tolbert earned his degree in criminal justice from UTEP following his second season in the NFL. Tony and his wife Satasha live in Coppell, TX.

Mark Tuinei

TACKLE • HAWAII
 HT: 6-5 • WT: 305 • BORN: 3/31/60
 FA FOR '83 • 12th YEAR

PRO: Mark Tuinei enters his ninth season as the starting left tackle for Dallas and joins Bill Bates and Jim Jeffcoat in entering his 12th season with the Cowboys, the longest tenures of any active player.

Tuinei, who has played in more NFL games (153) than any other Cowboys offensive player, started all 19 games during the 1993 season, including the postseason. Perhaps the proudest an offensive lineman can be is when his team is successful running the football, and for Tuinei that moment came at Philadelphia (10/31) when he helped spring Emmitt Smith for an NFL season-high and club record 237 yards rushing. Over the last month of the regular season, behind the blocking of Tuinei and the offensive line, Smith picked up 688 yards in five straight Cowboy wins. Despite suffering dehydration at Minnesota (12/12), Tuinei still played a majority of game at left tackle, earning a game ball from coaching staff after helping limit the Vikings' defense — ranked second in NFL going into game — to no sacks while racking up 356 yards of total offense and 37 points. A stalwart at tackle, Tuinei's blocking skills helped the Cowboys rank fourth in the league in total offense in 1993, second in rushing and seventh in passing. He also helped lead Smith to his third consecutive NFL rushing title and seven 100-yard rushing days. Although he suffered a bruised ankle in practice prior to the Green Bay playoff game (1/16) and missed most of the week's practice, Tuinei started all three postseason games. The Cowboys offensive line helped roll up 366 yards per game, including 119 yards rushing, while Troy Aikman was sacked only seven times for 28 yards in losses in those three games. Tuinei and the Dallas offensive line helped land five offensive skill players (Smith, Michael Irvin, Jay Novacek, Daryl Johnston and Troy Aikman) in the Pro Bowl following the season. In 1992, Tuinei started 15 of the 16 regular season games, but in the week leading up to the Kansas City game (10/18) Tuinei injured his back lifting weights and was forced to sit out the Chiefs' contest. He returned to the starting lineup the following week at the L.A. Raiders (10/25) and remained there the rest of the season. Facing the tough Philadelphia defense (11/1), which was ranked first in the NFL in fewest yards allowed going into the game, Tuinei earned a game ball from the coaching staff as his blocking helped spring Smith for 163 yards rushing. The first 100-yard rusher against the Eagles in 53 games, a streak that dated back to Sept. 17, 1989. Tuinei first led Smith to the NFL rushing title in 1991, when Smith was the only player to record 100-yard days against Washington (twice) and New Orleans. Tuinei and the Cowboys' line was also the first group to keep the powerful Saints defense (12/8) from recording a sack in 1991. Tuinei started all 13 games he played in 1990, missing three games with a sprained right knee suffered in the N.Y. Jets game (11/4). After being slowed with an injured left knee in 1987 and 1988, Tuinei started all 16 games in 1989. Working mostly against All-Pro Lawrence Taylor, Tuinei earned player of the game honors after Dallas held the Giants (10/1) without a sack. He originally injured his left knee in the 1987 Thanksgiving Day game against Minnesota and missed the rest of the year. He re-injured the knee after five games in 1988 and again sat out the remaining games. It took a few years before Tuinei settled at the left tackle position. He made the club in 1983 as a free agent defensive tackle where he played for two years. After moving to the offensive line in 1985, he backed up Tom Rafferty at center. In 1986 Tuinei worked at all three offensive line positions in training camp until injuries in the defensive line forced him to split practice time between offensive and defensive tackle. Against Denver in 1986 he led the Cowboys defensive linemen with six tackles while playing for injured Randy White. The next week against Washington he became the starting left offensive tackle. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1983 (10/0, 1/0), 1984 (16/0), 1985 (16/0, 1/0), 1986 (16/11), 1987 (8/8), 1988 (5/4), 1989 (16/16), 1990 (13/13), 1991 (12/12, 2/2), 1992 (15/15, 3/3), 1993 (16/16, 3/3). Total - 143/95, 10/8.

COLLEGE: Tuinei played his first two collegiate seasons at UCLA where he started at defensive tackle as a sophomore, finishing fifth on the team in tackles. He transferred to Hawaii but was nagged by injuries his senior year and played in only seven games.

PERSONAL: Mark Pulemau Tuinei (TOO-ee-nay), was born in Oceanside, CA, and raised in Honolulu, where he starred at Punahou High School. He was Hawaii Prep Lineman of the Year as a senior, a state shot put champion and an all-star basketball player. His brother Tom was an All-Western Athletic Conference defensive tackle at Hawaii and played for the Detroit Lions and the Canadian Football League's Edmonton Eskimos. He also has a cousin, Dan Saleaumua, who is a nose tackle for the Kansas City Chiefs. Mark and wife Ponalani live in Carrollton, TX with their Rottweiler, Shaku Zulu, and Lhasa apso, Lil' Mama.

Matt Vanderbeek

LINEBACKER/DEFENSIVE END • MICHIGAN STATE
 HT: 6-3 • WT: 243 • BORN: 8/16/67
 WAIV. FOR '93 • 5th YEAR

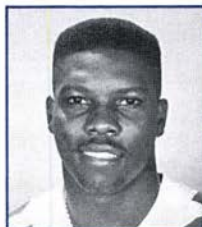

PRO: Special teams is a phase of the game taken very seriously around Dallas, as evidenced by the fact that Dallas was the only NFL team to finish the regular season with a Top 10 ranking in all four major kicking game categories. Consistency spelled results for the Cowboys as they compiled the following NFL rankings: kickoff returns (7th, 21.1 yards per return); opponents kickoff returns (9th, 18.6); punt returns (9th, 10.3) and opponents punt returns (2nd, 5.3). One of the key factors in that consistency was Matt Vanderbeek, who was acquired off waivers from Indianapolis on August 31. He responded by finishing second on the team with 22 special teams tackles and earning one of the three Dallas nominations for the Pro Bowl ballot on special teams. In the season opener, Vanderbeek downed a John Jett punt at the Redskins four-yard line in fourth quarter at Washington (9/6) in his first game as a Cowboy. He had two special teams tackles vs. Green Bay (10/3), and the following week at Indianapolis (10/10) against his former team, he received a special teams game ball for his two tackle performance. In his only action with the defense, he had a quarterback pressure vs. Giants (11/7), and he added a team-high three tackles and two key blocks to help spring Kevin Williams on two 45+ yard kickoff returns on special teams. At Atlanta (11/21) Vanderbeek posted a season-high five special teams tackles. After tying for the team lead with three special teams tackles vs. Washington (12/26) and helping hold Brian Mitchell and Desmond Howard to a 17.7 kickoff return average on six kicks, Vanderbeek led the team in special teams tackles during the postseason with seven, including a team-high four special teams tackles vs. San Francisco (1/23). The Colts leader in special teams tackles in 1992 with 18, Vanderbeek saw action in the final 15 games of the season, primarily on special teams. Against Buffalo (9/20) he logged three special teams stops to lead the team and record his season high. Later in the season against Miami (11/8) he saw limited action at linebacker as part of the defensive unit but did not record any tackles. The following week he had a six yard kickoff return against New England (11/15). In 1991, Vanderbeek signed as a Plan B free agent with Minnesota on March 18, but he suffered a hand injury during training camp and was placed on injured reserve August 27. He remained on the Vikings injured reserve until his release on October 8. After that he re-signed with the Colts on October 23 and saw action in five games, including a start at left inside linebacker against Cleveland (12/1) in place of an injured Scott Raderic. A week earlier at Green Bay (11/24) he had a season-high five tackles on defense and also added two special teams stops. For the year Vanderbeek logged 11 tackles. Originally signed by the Colts in 1990, Vanderbeek made the club's active roster as a rookie free agent, seeing action in all 16 games and earning seven starts. He earned his first NFL start against Buffalo (9/9) and recorded seven tackles from the left inside linebacker position. Later in the season he had a forced fumble against Houston (9/23) and recorded a single-game career-high nine stops at Philadelphia (9/30). Following the Eagles game he returned to a reserve role until an injury to Freddy Young landed Vanderbeek back in the starting lineup, this time at right inside linebacker, where he started the final four games of the season and recorded seven tackles against Phoenix (12/2). GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1990 (16/7-Ind.), 1991 (5/1-Ind.), 1992 (15/0-Ind.), 1993 (16/0, 3/0). Total - 52/8, 3/0 (Dallas-16/0, 3/0).

COLLEGE: A two-year starter at Michigan State, Vanderbeek had 119 career tackles, five quarterback sacks and 21 tackles for losses. He was teammates with Dixon Edwards at Michigan State and, Vanderbeek earned honorable mention All-Big 10 his senior year with 60 tackles, two sacks, 11 tackles for losses, five fumble recoveries and one forced fumble. Following the season he was selected to both the 1989 Martin Luther King Jr. Classic and the 1989 Aloha Bowl.

PERSONAL: Matthew James Vanderbeek earned all-state honors as a senior at West Ottawa High School in Holland, MI. He majored in communications at Michigan State.

James Washington

SAFETY • UCLA

HT: 6-1 • WT: 209 • BORN: 1/10/65

FA FOR '90 • 7th YEAR

PRO: For the 1994 season, the Dallas defense will be returned to the able hands of veteran safety James Washington, who started at both free and strong safety most of the 1992 season when Dallas led the NFL in total defense. With the departure of last year's free safety Thomas Everett and the outstanding year turned in by strong safety Darren Woodson, Washington will be counted on to lead the Dallas defense from the free safety spot in 1994. Washington did just that in Super Bowl XXVIII (1/30), finishing second in the Most Valuable Player balloting for the game. His timely defensive play against Buffalo sparked Dallas to a 30-13 win and back-to-back titles. Washington started the game at free safety because Woodson moved to a linebacker spot in the Dallas nickel defense against the Bills wide-open offense, and he made the most of that opportunity. In the first half Washington quietly began what would be his finest day as a professional by forcing a Thurman Thomas fumble that led to a first quarter field goal for Dallas. Trailing 13-6 at the half, Washington turned the tide early in the third quarter when he scooped up another Thomas fumble and weaved his way 46 yards for a touchdown to tie the game at 13-13. That play opened the flood gates on what would be 24 unanswered second half points against the Bills. On the day Washington was involved in all three Buffalo turnovers, the final one coming on the first play of the fourth quarter when he intercepted a Jim Kelly pass and returned it 12 yards to the Bills 34 yard-line. That set up another Dallas touchdown and put the game out of reach at 27-13. He also led the team that day with 10 solo tackles (11 total). Combined with his Super Bowl XXVIII pick, Washington has now recorded an interception in three of the last five postseason games. The 1993 season did not start out like that Super Bowl dream for Washington as he moved into the starting line-up with preseason injuries to Woodson and then back out with a sprained right knee in the season opener against the Redskins at RFK (9/6). Washington missed the next two games, and returned to action against Green Bay (10/3) in time to record five tackles and four special teams stops. Despite playing primarily in the Dallas nickel defense most of the season, he was second among non-starters in tackles with 42, and also contributed 12 stops on special teams. Washington recorded a season-high six tackles at Indianapolis (10/10), and added five tackles, forced one fumble and recovered another against Miami (11/25) on Thanksgiving Day. Against the Redskins (12/26) in the final home game of the regular season, he tied his season high with six tackles and had his only interception of the regular season to set up a Dallas touchdown. Washington also took a lateral off an interception from Kevin Smith and returned it 24 yards in the fourth quarter to set up Dallas' final field goal. In the divisional playoff game against Green Bay (1/16), he recorded two tackles and deflected a pass at the Packers' goal-line that was intercepted by Woodson to stop a Green Bay scoring drive. In 1992 Washington led defensive backs in tackles for the third consecutive year, finishing third on the team on a defense that was number one in the league in yards allowed and led the league in opponent's third down conversion rate. Washington picked up where he left off in 1991, intercepting a Phil Simms pass at New York to set up Cowboys final touchdown against the Giants (9/13) and also added eight tackles. Two weeks later he logged a season-high 11 tackles at Philadelphia (10/5). After starting the first four games at strong safety, Washington moved to free safety against Seattle (10/11) and Kansas City (10/18), moving back to strong safety in passing situations. Those two games were Washington's first at free safety for Dallas since getting the nod against Tampa Bay on Oct. 7, 1990. Although he did not start against the Raiders (10/25), breaking a string of 30 straight starts, Washington played strong safety in passing situations until late in first quarter when Ray Horton went out with injury, vaulting Washington back into the lineup at free safety. He then returned to starting lineup at free safety against Philadelphia (11/1) and went on to tie for team lead in tackles at Detroit (11/8) Phoenix (11/22) and against the Giants (11/26). Washington's first quarter interception set up a quick Dallas touchdown against the Broncos (12/6), and then in the season finale he returned an interception 13 yards to the Bears' 38-yard line to set up a field goal against Chicago (12/27). On the year Washington's three interceptions led to 17 Dallas points. A true team-player, Washington also added nine special teams tackles, including team-highs against the Redskins (9/7) and Raiders (10/25). His three interceptions in the regular season tied for team lead, and then he added two more during the postseason, including the game clinching interception at the Cowboys 23-yard line with 1:58 left in the fourth quarter of the NFC Championship Game at San Francisco (1/17). On the same Rose Bowl field he played on in college Washington returned an interception to the Bills 47-yard line to set up Dallas' first touchdown against Buffalo in Super Bowl XXVII (1/31). In 1991, his first year as a full time starter, Washington finished second on the team in tackles, leading all defensive backs, with a single-season career-high 113 stops. He led the team in double-figure tackle games with four and led or tied for the team lead in tackles five times, including a single-game career-high 16 tackles against the Giants (11/17) which tied him for the team's single-game season high. Against Phoenix (9/22) Washington recorded 10 stops to lead the team in tackles for the first time in his career, and the following week he had 11 tackles and forced a fumble at the Dallas six-yard line against the Giants (9/29) to prevent a score. He led the team with his 11 tackle performance against Phoenix (11/3) and recorded his first interception of 1991 when he picked off a pass at the Dallas 11-yard line to deny the Cardinals a score. Against Philadelphia (12/15), Washington, who finished third on the team in passes defended with nine, intercepted his second pass of the season and batted away two others as Dallas clinched a playoff spot. A Plan B signee from the Rams, he earned his first NFL start at free safety in 1990 against San Diego (9/9). He went on to start 10 of the 15 games he played, including the final eight at strong safety, lead the Cowboys in forced fumbles and tie for the team lead in interceptions. His 70 tackles led Dallas defensive backs, and his three interceptions and two recovered fumbles led to four Dallas touchdowns and a field goal. Washington earned NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors against Phoenix (12/16) when he was involved in three turnovers — two interceptions and a fumble that he forced and recovered — that led to three touchdowns. He had a season high nine tackles against San Francisco (11/11), and two weeks later vs. Washington (11/22) he recorded his first interception as a Cowboy. With the Rams in 1989 Washington played behind Vince Newsome at free safety before suffering a thigh injury that forced him to miss the final half of the year. Drafted in the fifth round by the Rams in 1988, Washington finished second on the team in special teams tackles as a rookie and recorded his first NFL interception, against Seattle (10/23). GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1988 (16/0, 1/0-Rams), 1989 (8/0, 3/0-Rams), 1990 (15/10), 1991 (16/16, 2/2), 1992 (16/15, 3/3), 1993 (14/1, 3/1). Total - 85/42, 12/6 (Dallas-61/42, 8/6).

WASHINGTON, Cont.

COLLEGE: A four-year starter at UCLA, Washington led the Bruins in tackles his first two years. He also led the team in interceptions his freshman year. Washington earned honorable mention All-America honors as a freshman and was a second-team All-America his sophomore year. His UCLA teammates included current Cowboys Troy Aikman, Frank Cornish and Ken Norton.

PERSONAL: James McArthur Washington earned All-America honors at Jordan High School in Los Angeles, CA, where he caught 31 touchdown passes and had 12 interceptions. He also set a city record with a 95-yard interception return. James and wife Dana were Honorary Chairmen of the 1992 Easter Seals "Back a Fighter" campaign, helping raise money for children with disabilities. He has also organized a student outreach program in Los Angeles to motivate youngsters to stay in school and away from drugs. In the spring of 1992 James began work on Shelter 37, a community center in South Central Los Angeles that will feed and house up to 30 homeless people at a time. Following the 1993 season he was a competitor at the "Superstars" competition in Hawaii. Washington, who earned his degree in history from UCLA, owns Summation Financial in Los Angeles. The Washington's have a daughter Shanel (8/14/84) and a son Richard (3/15/91).

Erik Williams

TACKLE • CENTRAL STATE, OHIO
HT: 6-6 • WT: 324 • BORN: 9/7/68
D-3C FOR '91 • 4th YEAR

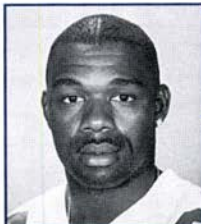

PRO: Erik Williams is one of the biggest of Dallas' big men in the offensive front at 6-6, 324 pounds, and he is one of the cornerstones of an offensive line that could be one of the largest in the history of the NFL (averaging 316 pounds per man). One of three Pro Bowlers — Williams first trip to Hawaii — produced by the Dallas offensive line, he was a key figure in clearing the way for Emmitt Smith's third straight rushing title. In the past three seasons, the Dallas offensive line has helped Smith to 4,762 yards rushing for an average of almost 1,600 yards per season. Williams earned a game ball for his blocking at Philadelphia (10/31) when Smith rushed for an NFL-season high and club record 237 yards. Over the last month of the regular season, behind the blocking of Williams and the offensive line, Smith picked up 688 yards in five straight Cowboy wins. Despite suffering a dislocated finger at Minnesota (12/12), Williams still played a majority of game at right tackle, earning a game ball from coaching staff after helping limit the Vikings' defense — ranked second in the NFL going into the game — to no sacks while racking up 356 yards of total offense and 37 points. Last season, the Cowboys had the NFL's second ranked rushing offense, averaging 135.1 yards per game. In addition to dominant run blocking, the offensive line gave up the lowest number of sacks in the NFC last year—29 for losses totaling just 10.2 yards per game. In the 16 regular season games in '93, the Cowboys allowed more than two sacks in just three games. In the postseason, Williams and Co. helped roll up 366 yards of offense per game, including 119 yards rushing. A fixture along the offensive front, Williams has started 38 straight games, including playoffs, at right tackle and earned consensus All-Pro honors following the 1993 season. At this point in his career it is hard to believe five offensive tackles were off the board before Williams was selected in the third round of the 1991 NFL Draft, including three in the first 12 overall picks. In 1992 Williams moved into the starting lineup during training camp, when the Cowboys moved Nate Newton to left guard to make room for Williams at the right tackle spot. Although only one year removed from tiny Central State University in Wilberforce, OH, Williams took full advantage of the opportunity, starting every game, including the playoffs. He opened the season by limiting Washington All-Pro defensive end Charles Mann to three tackles and no sacks in a 23-10 victory over the Redskins (9/7), and the next week he earned a game ball from the coaching staff for his performance in the Cowboys' 34-28 victory over the Giants (9/13). Williams earned NFC Offensive Player of the Week honors when he held Reggie White to three tackles and no sacks in the Cowboys' 20-10 win over Philadelphia (11/1). Since the NFL began the awards in 1985, only two other individual offensive linemen had been honored: Brad Benson, New York Giants, 1986 and Jim Lachey, Washington Redskins, 1991. Williams' also helped spring Smith for 163 yards rushing in the game, the first 100-yard rusher against the Eagles in 53 games, a streak that dated back to Sept. 17, 1989. His blocking skills helped the Cowboys rank fourth in the league in total offense, fifth in rushing and fifth in passing. He also helped lead Smith to his second consecutive NFL rushing title and ten 100 yard rushing days, earning himself and Smith first team All-Pro honors from Sports Illustrated. As a rookie Williams earned his first significant playing time against Green Bay (10/6), replacing the injured Nate Newton for most of the fourth quarter at right tackle. Smith's game-long 26-yard scamper to set up the winning field goal in the fourth quarter came over Williams on the right side. Williams earned his first NFL start against Phoenix (11/3) in place of an injured Mark Tuinei at left tackle, and then two weeks later against the Giants (11/17), he started at right tackle in place of the injured Newton and was a big part of the effort that held New York to a lone sack, which came in the fourth quarter. Williams also started at right tackle the next game at RFK (11/24) when Dallas handed the Redskins their only home defeat of the season. For most of the afternoon he worked against Mann, who finished the game with two tackles and no sacks. The first Central State offensive lineman ever drafted by the NFL, Williams was only the third player selected by the league in the history of the school. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1991 (11/3, 2/0), 1992 (16/16, 3/3), 1993 (16/16, 3/3). Total - 43/35, 8/6.

COLLEGE: A small college All-America as a senior, Williams paved the way for a Central State offense that led the NAIA in total offense with 492 yards per game and in scoring with 54.8 points per game in 1990, when the Marauders captured the NAIA national title and had an average winning margin of 33.5 points. Central State made the playoffs each of Williams' four seasons there. Recruited as a defensive tackle, Williams was moved to offensive line prior to his freshman year and became the starting left tackle as a sophomore.

PERSONAL: Erik George Williams grew up an Eagles' fan in Philadelphia. Prior to joining the Cowboys, he last witnessed a game at Veterans Stadium in 1984 when Dallas played the Eagles and came away with a 24-10 victory. After starring at John Bartram High School, Williams was recruited by several major colleges but barely missed the academic requirements to play at those schools. He also competed in the shotput and discus in high school. Williams majored in physical education at Central State. He has a daughter Shay (6/9/91).

PRO: Game-breaking ability has been a trademark of Kevin Williams since he was a high school player at nearby Roosevelt High School in Dallas. He has the type of athletic ability that makes him a threat to score a touchdown—from any point on the field—every time he touches the football. As a rookie in 1993, he touched the ball 27 times on offensive plays (20 pass receptions and seven rushing plays) and he scored four touchdowns—two each via the ground and the air. He also scored a pair of TD's on coast-to-coast punt returns of 64 yards vs. Miami on Thanksgiving Day (11/25) and 62 yards vs. Washington (12/26). He closed the year ranked third in the NFC (seventh in the NFL) in punt returns with a 10.5 yard average, while also finishing sixth in the NFC (eighth in the NFL) in kickoff returns with a 22.2 yard average. He was the Cowboys starting deep man on kickoff and punt returns from the very first day he stepped into training camp and his electric ability was felt throughout the season and into Super Bowl XXVIII where he returned the opening kickoff a career-long 50 yards against the Bills in Atlanta. He averaged better than 10 yards per punt return in seven of Dallas' 16 regular season games, and his top three outings were 40.0 yards (on two returns vs. Miami on 11/25), 39.2 yards (on three returns vs. Phoenix on 11/14) and 22.5 yards on four returns vs. Washington on 12/26). Used primarily as the third receiver in the Cowboys passing offense, Williams enjoyed his most productive day as a pro receiver at New York on 12/18 vs. the Jets. He caught six passes for 70 yards, including a career-long 33 yarder. Williams registered his first career TD reception with a 28 yarder from Bernie Kosar at Atlanta on 11/21, and his next TD catch came the following week, four yards from Troy Aikman vs. Miami (11/25). He was also very effective in running the ball on the reverse play, averaging 3.7 yards per carry. His two rushing touchdowns were scored against Buffalo on 9/12—a five yard scamper, and at Philadelphia on 10/31—an 11 yard TD. His longest career-run was a 12 yarder at Minnesota (12/12). Williams was named the NFC Special Teams Player of the Week following his performance vs. the Giants on 11/7: three kickoff returns for a 37.7 yard average, including two returns of over 45 yards that set up Dallas scores; also added four punt returns for an 11.3 yard average. He was an All-Rookie Team selection as a wide receiver by the Football News. GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1993 (16/1, 3/0).

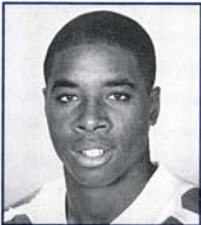

COLLEGE: While at Miami, he was considered the nation's most dangerous and exciting return man for most of his three year career. He averaged 12.0 yards per punt return with a school record three punt returns for touchdowns as a sophomore in 1991. His scoring efforts that year were from distances of 91 yards vs. Penn State, 63 yards vs. Long Beach State and 48 yards vs. Arizona. During that sophomore season, he also averaged 15.7 yards per pass reception (21 catches), 10.8 yards per rushing attempt, and 18.5 yards per kickoff return. As a junior, he was slowed by injuries, but managed to catch 40 passes for 457 yards and two TD's. He was named the Sporting News' Kick Returner of the Year in 1991, as well as being named the Big East Special Teams player of the Year. In his four years at Miami, Williams' helped the Hurricanes to a record of 44-4 and two national championships (1989 and 1991). He entered the NFL after his junior year of eligibility and was drafted in the second round by the defending World Champion Cowboys in his hometown of Dallas.

PERSONAL: Williams is living out a boyhood dream of playing for the Cowboys after recording some incredible numbers at Roosevelt High School in Dallas. For his prep career he logged the following figures: 21 receiving TD's, 14 rushing TD's and 10 touchdowns on kick returns. He averaged 17.9 yards per catch, 11.4 yards per rushing attempt, 25.6 yards on kickoff returns and 33.2 yards per punt return. As a high school football player, Williams averaged 17.1 yards every time he touched the ball. Kevin was a criminal justice major at Miami.

Tyrone Williams

WIDE RECEIVER • WESTERN ONTARIO
 HT: 6-5 • WT: 220 • BORN: 3/26/70
 FA FOR '92 • 2nd YEAR

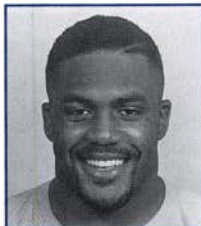

PRO: Tyrone Williams enters his second year at wide receiver, battling for the third receiver spot. His six foot, five inch frame combined with his long arms make him an excellent target for any quarterback. One of five first-year free agents to make the roster last season, Williams had a very productive preseason, hauling in eleven receptions, including two for touchdowns. He led the team with seven receptions for 144-yards, including a 53-yard touchdown catch vs. Detroit in London (8/8). The touchdown was the longest Dallas play in the preseason. Williams saw action in five games, recording his first NFL reception on a 25 yard pass from Bernie Kosar on third-and-13 in the fourth quarter vs. Washington (12/26). The other games he was de-activated when the Cowboys dropped to 45 players on game day. Originally drafted by Phoenix in the ninth round of the 1992 draft, Williams was released before the start of the season and signed onto the Dallas practice squad September 2. He spent the entire year on the Cowboys practice squad and re-signed March 25. Williams was also drafted in the first round (seventh overall) of the 1992 Canadian Football League Draft by the Calgary Stampeders. GAMES/STARTS (regular season,playoffs): 5/0, 0/0

COLLEGE: A two time All-Canadian Interuniversity Athletic Union and All-Ontario University Athletic Association first team selection, Williams led Western Ontario in receiving four consecutive years. As a senior, he recorded a career-high seven receptions for 132 yards and three touchdowns in a 45-38 win over Toronto.

PERSONAL: Tyrone was an all-star selection at both quarterback and wide receiver at Queen Elizabeth High School in Halifax, Nova Scotia. He was also an all-star selection his senior year as a forward on the basketball team. His uncle, Tommy Kane is a wide receiver with the Seattle Seahawks. Tyrone majored in Economics and Sociology at Western Ontario.

PRO: The Cowboys signed Robert Wilson as a free agent on April 28th to provide depth at the fullback position. He will battle with Tommie Agee for the position behind Daryl Johnston. Wilson was waived by the Bucs during the 1992 preseason and was out of football during the 1992 season. He attended the Green Bay Packer training camp in 1993 but was released prior to the start of the season. Originally drafted by Tampa Bay in the third round (80th overall) of the 1991 NFL Draft, Wilson jumped right into the Buc's starting lineup as a rookie. He started 15 games while handling the majority of the blocking in Tampa Bay's two-back offensive assignments. In 1991, Wilson carried the ball 42 times, piling up 179 yards on the ground, while also adding 121 receiving yards with two touchdowns. He scored his first touchdown on an eight yard reception in the fourth quarter to help Tampa Bay to their first win in a 14-13 victory over Philadelphia (10/6). In the season finale vs. Indianapolis (12/22), he picked up a season-high 31 yards on four carries. GAMES/STARTS: 1991 (16/15-T.B.).

COLLEGE: Although he was recognized as a blocker at Texas A&M, Wilson finished his collegiate career with 1,739 yards, finishing eighth on the Aggies all-time rushing list. He also scored 20 career touchdowns and had a 5.1-yard rushing average. In 1988, Wilson led the team in touchdowns with 10 and was named the Southwest Conference's Newcomer of the Year.

PERSONAL: Robert Eugene Wilson earned All-District and All Greater Houston honors as a prep at Worthing High School in Houston, TX. As a senior, he was selected to the All-Texas second team after rushing for 1,410 yards and 17 touchdowns. Robert majored in agriculture at Texas A&M.

Darren Woodson

SAFETY • ARIZONA STATE
HT: 6-1 • WT: 215 • BORN: 4/25/69
D-2B FOR '92 • 3rd YEAR

PRO: Things are happening pretty fast in the professional football career of Darren Woodson. As a second-year player in 1993, he earned a starting job at strong safety in training camp and then nearly won the team's individual tackle title by collecting 155 stops—just four shy of the team leader, middle linebacker Ken Norton. Woodson's 155 tackles were the most ever by Dallas defensive back. Moreover, with eight double-digit tackle games in 1993, he joined Eugene Lockhart (16 in 1989) as only the second Dallas player to register at least seven double-figure tackle games in a season (since game-by-game records were kept in 1984). Woodson has the complete package of size, speed, intelligence and aggressiveness, and he should team with James Washington in 1994 to form one of the league's most hard-hitting safety tandems. He led the 1993 Cowboys in fumble recoveries with three (while forcing another) and also contributed four tackles for lost yardage totaling 13 yards. He enjoyed an all-time game in the regular season finale at Giants Stadium (1/2)—collecting a career-best 19 tackles (the most ever by a Dallas defensive back in a single game) and one fumble recovery. His 19 tackles vs. the Giants tied him with Ken Norton and Eugene Lockhart for second place on the Cowboys all-time single game tackle list. Lee Roy Jordan holds the club record with 21 stops. For the regular season, Woodson averaged 9.7 tackles per game, but over the course of the last nine games, he contributed an outstanding 11.8 tackles per game. That stretch included the Cowboys' four games in the month of November where Woodson turned in double figure tackle totals in all four games and 48 total stops. He closed the month of November with his second-highest career tackle game (15 vs. Miami on Thanksgiving Day). He was the team's leading tackler in the playoffs with 27 total stops, easily outdistancing Norton (22). He also registered his first professional interception in the playoffs against Green Bay on 12/16/94, and he recovered a fumble in Super Bowl XXVIII vs. the Bills. Woodson missed just one start in 1993, and that came in the opener at Washington (9/6) as he was still recovering from a fractured right forearm. He earned his first NFL start the following week (9/12) at Texas Stadium vs. Buffalo. Although Woodson was a second-round draft choice of the Cowboys (37th overall) in 1992, his play in the nickel pass defense caught almost everyone by surprise. It was thought that the switch he faced, moving from linebacker at Arizona State to strong safety in the National Football League would take a longer period of time for adjusting. Instead he quickly became the club's draft surprise. Woodson became a major contributor to the defense while also leading the special teams with 19 tackles. In 16 games he recorded 33 tackles (28 solo), second among Dallas' rookie tacklers. Included was a season-high six stops in a start against the Run and Shoot offense at Atlanta (12/21). His first NFL start came in a pass situation defense at Detroit (11/8). Two weeks later at Phoenix (11/22) he had five solo tackles, his high of the season. Against Chicago (12/27), Woodson's first NFL sack forced a first-quarter fumble at Chicago's 30-yard line but the Bear's recovered. In the playoffs, against Philadelphia (1/10), he forced a fumble at the Eagles' 25-yard line to set up a field goal at the end of the first half. His standout play on special teams included a game ball for the 27-0 win over Seattle (10/11). Woodson's season-high in special teams tackles was three against the Rams (11/15). GAMES/STARTS (regular season, playoffs): 1992 (16/2, 3/0), 1993 (16/15, 3/3). Total - 32/17, 6/3.

COLLEGE: All-Pac 10 second-team selections his senior season and honorable mention All-America in 1990, Woodson played linebacker at Arizona State. Coming out of high school he didn't have the grades to accept a football scholarship from ASU, so he started his career with a reputation for being one of the fiercest hitters in the country. As a sophomore in 1989, he had a career-high 16 tackles against Stanford en route to his single-season high of 122 tackles (79 solo). Of his five career interceptions, three came in his senior season.

PERSONAL: Darren Ray Woodson was a first team All-Metro Division AAA linebacker and running back at Maryvale in Phoenix, AZ and earned first team All-City honors as a linebacker and second team recognition on offense in his final season. Darren ran for a career-high 225 yards and six touchdowns vs. Kofa high in Yuma, AZ tying a Phoenix Metro game record and setting a school mark. He served as team captain his senior year, earning three letters in football. He was a criminal justice major at Arizona State.

Other Cowboys With Pro Experience

Coleman Bell, a 6-2, 232-pound tight end from the University of Miami spent the 1993 season on the Dallas Cowboys practice squad. As a rookie free agent, Bell spent the summer of 1993 in the Miami Dolphins training camp but was released prior to the final roster cutdown. With the Hurricanes, he was a four-year letterman and two-year starter. As a senior, he was a second-team All America and All-Big East selection. He contributed 43 catches for 634 yards and a pair of touchdowns. As a junior, he started the last four games and finished the year with 27 receptions for 376 yards and a touchdown. At Jefferson High School in Tampa, FL, Bell was a two-time all-county player while leading his team to the district title with 37 grabs for 666 yards and eight touchdowns as a senior. A Tampa native (4/22/70), Bell contributes time to the Teens Patrol, a youth crime-watch program.

Brad Bretz, a 6-5, 218-pound quarterback from Cal State-Hayward, will again join the Cowboys during the 1994 training camp. Bretz spent the 1993 training camp with the Cowboys as a rookie free agent but was released prior to the final roster cutdown. A two-year starter at Cal-State Hayward, Bretz, was an All-Northern California Athletic Conference selection after completing 180 of 293 passes (61.4%) for 2,339 yards, 16 touchdowns and 13 interceptions as a senior. Bretz passed for 2,031 yards, with 16 touchdowns and nine interceptions and led the N.C.A.C. with a 56.2 completion percentage after transferring to Cal State-Hayward from West Valley College in 1991. Among the all-time Cal State-Hayward quarterbacks, Bretz ranks first in career completions (370), second in total offense (4,475), third in passing yardage (4,370) and touchdown passes (32). Born on 8/17/70, Bretz played quarterback, tight end and defensive end at Branham High School in San Jose, CA.

Roosevelt Collins, a 6-4, 244-pound linebacker from Texas Christian, was a sixth round draft choice (155th overall) for the Miami Dolphins in 1992. He played in 10 games and two playoff games his rookie year after being elevated from the practice squad mid-season. He contributed two tackles, two assists and a pair of special teams hits. He was waived by the Dolphins Sept. 15, 1993. Collins was a four-year letterman and a three-year starter at Texas Christian. He was named first-team All-Southwest Conference by the Football News his senior year. As a starting defensive end, he made 84 tackles (51 solo), 6.5 sacks, six passes defended and two interceptions. He also added four forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries. His junior year he recorded 71 tackles (35 solo), 3.5 sacks, a fumble recovery and three forced fumbles. At Washington High School in Shreveport, LA, he was named all-district and all-conference his senior year. He also was a standout athlete in basketball, baseball and track. A Shreveport native (1/25/68), Collins resides in Euless, TX.

Judd Garrett, a 6-1, 205-pound running back from Princeton, spent the 1993 season on the Cowboys practice squad. Prior to joining the Cowboys, Garrett played 10 games for the London Monarchs of the World League in the spring of 1992 and finished fifth in the league with 55 receptions for 509 yards and one touchdown. Named second team All-World League when he led the league with 71 receptions in 1991, Garrett helped lead the Monarchs to the first ever World League Championship. Garrett signed with the Seattle Seahawks following the 1992 World League season but was released during training camp. Originally drafted by Philadelphia in 1990, Garrett was waived by the Eagles on Sept. 4 and signed by the Cowboys on September 11. He was placed on injured reserve Sept. 12 with a shoulder injury and missed four weeks before being waived. He began his college career at Columbia but transferred to Princeton following his freshman year. The first team All-Ivy League and conference player of the year in 1989 was born on 6/25/67 and is the school record holder in five offensive categories. Garrett starred at University High School in Chagrin Falls, OH where he won the Lou Groza award which is given to the high school player of the year in Northeast Ohio. He also lettered in basketball and track.

James Parrish, a 6-6, 310-pound tackle from Temple was signed on Dec. 7, 1993, to the Cowboys practice squad. Five days later Pro Bowl center Mark Stepnoski went down with a season ending knee injury in the Minnesota game (12/12), opening a roster spot on the offensive line. On Dec. 22, Parrish was activated from the practice squad and placed on the active roster. Parrish went to training camp in 1993 with the 49ers but was released Sept. 7. The following day he was claimed off waivers by the Indianapolis Colts and spent the next five weeks on their active roster. He was deactivated for four games with the Colts before being released on Oct. 12. Parrish was then signed to the 49ers practice squad Nov. 11. He was released Dec. 1 and signed by Dallas. Parrish originally signed with the Miami Dolphins as a rookie free agent in 1991, but he spent the entire season on the Dolphin's Physically Unable to Perform list. In 1992 he signed with San Diego as a Plan B free agent, but he was cut during training camp. During the spring of 1992 Parrish spent time with both the London Monarchs and Barcelona Dragons of the World League. A three year letterman at Temple, Parrish started two seasons at right tackle for the Owls. As a sophomore, he saw action in 11 games at tackle. James Herbert Parrish earned second team all-county honors as a senior at Dundalk, MD, High School. He also lettered in track and basketball. James earned his degree in physical education from Temple.

Keith Powe, a 6-3, 260-pound defensive end from the University of Texas-El Paso, went to training camp in 1991 with the Cowboys but was released prior to the final roster cutdown. Powe then signed with the B.C. Lions of the Canadian Football League and spent the 1992 and 1993 seasons on their roster. He also played for the CFL Toronto Argonauts in 1993. During his collegiate career Powe started at defensive end for Texas-El Paso, earning honorable mention All-America and first-team All-Western Athletic Conference honors as a senior while leading all Miner linemen in tackles with 57. Powe transferred to UTEP after three years as Lamar University, where he started two seasons at defensive tackle. At Lamar, Powe recorded 124 tackles, 11 sacks and 21 tackles for losses. In 1989, facing his future teammates at UTEP he registered four sacks in a 21-19 Lamar victory. Powe starred at Jersey Village High School in Houston, TX.

Caesar Rentie, a 6-3, 323-pound, offensive lineman from the University of Oklahoma signed with the Cowboys on May 16, 1994. Rentie was originally drafted by the Chicago Bears in the seventh round of the 1988 NFL Draft. He saw action in five games that season. Following the season he was granted his unconditional free agency and signed with the Buffalo Bills, where he was released prior to the start of the season. After going to training camp with Indianapolis in 1990, Rentie was released before the start of the season. In 1991, Rentie became the first player drafted in the history of the World League when he was selected by the New York-New Jersey Knights. He went on to start all 11 games for the Knights that season, including playoffs. He was drafted by the World Leagues' Birmingham Fire the following season. Rentie (11/10/64), starred at Hartshorne, OK, High School and graduated with a degree in communications from the University of Oklahoma in 1988.

COWBOYS DRAFT CHOICES

Shante Carver

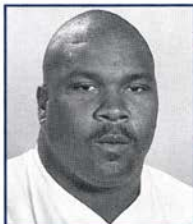

DEFENSIVE END • ARIZONA STATE
HT: 6-5 • WT: 240 • BORN: 2/12/71 • D-1 FOR '94

When describing the qualities that characterize Shante Carver, the Cowboys top draft pick in 1994, the words quickness and intensity are used repeatedly. Carver, who was considered one of the nation's premier pass rushers for each of the last two collegiate seasons, will be counted on to provide a pass rushing spark for the long term future of the Cowboys. Carver is the rare breed of defensive football player who has the natural instincts, speed and physical toughness to make the big defensive play via the quarterback sack. For verification of his consistent ability to apply the heat to opposing quarterbacks, one needs only to examine his track record in the pass-oriented Pacific-10 Conference. His collegiate numbers were staggering in terms of consistency and productivity over a four year career. Carver recorded double-figure sack totals in each of his collegiate seasons: 10 as a freshman, 11 as a sophomore, 10 as a junior and 10 as a senior—closing out his Sun Devil career with 41 quarterback sacks for losses totaling 248 yards. In addition, he had 20-or-more quarterback pressures in all but his freshman year, while accounting for 59 tackles behind the line of scrimmage for losses totaling 299 yards. The most prolific pass rusher in Arizona State history, Carver had already shattered the school record for QB sacks by the end of his junior season. His long reach and athletic ability enabled Carver to block five kicks in his ASU career. Following his senior season, he was a first-team All-America selection by the Football Writers Association, as well as being named first-team All Pacific-10 Conference. Carver was his team's Defensive MVP in both his senior (1993) and junior (1992) seasons, while sharing the award as a sophomore in 1991. He led his team in tackles as a senior with 79 total stops and finished third on the club as a junior with 59 tackles. Although Carver enjoyed success against all of ASU's opponents, his explosive ability seemed to rise to a different level when facing the Washington State Cougars. Carver collected more than a fourth of his career sacks (12) in games vs. WSU, and 10 of those sacks were registered against former Cougar quarterback Drew Bledsoe—the NFL's No. 1 overall draft pick in 1993. After being redshirted as a true freshman in 1989, Carver played in 44 straight games for the Sun Devils and started 34 of those games. Carver's athletic exploits enabled him to earn a letter as a walk-on basketball player for the Sun Devils during the 1992-93 season. Carver is a product of the same Arizona State program that produced long-time Dallas defensive end Jim Jeffcoat. Carver was a 1989 graduate of Lincoln High School in his hometown of Stockton, California. He played both defensive end and tight end at Lincoln and earned first-team all-state honors as a senior after catching 20 passes for 452 yards and recording 33 tackles and five sacks. He was also a fine basketball player in high school who once collected 21 and 24 rebounds in consecutive games as a senior. Carver majored in justice studies at Arizona State.

Larry Allen

GUARD • SONOMA STATE

HT: 6-3 • WT: 325 • BORN: 11/27/71 • D2 FOR '94

Any NFL scout will tell you, "If you can play, the NFL will find you. Somewhere, somehow, the pros will find you." Larry Allen is a perfect example of that, and now, if things go according to plan in Dallas, Allen will soon step into the Cowboys line-up and dominate the way another small school offensive line product, Erik Williams, has done in Dallas.

Although Allen dreamed of playing football from the age of nine, growing up in Compton, Calif., there were times he didn't think he would ever get the chance. In fact there were times he wasn't sure he would get out of Compton alive.

Allen was 10 years old when his next-door neighbor stabbed him 12 times after he stepped in to protect his younger brother. Allen was hospitalized and received many stitches, but he quickly rebounded from the attack. The break-up of his parent's marriage is probably what saved Allen from something worse than the stabbing. Allen followed his mother to Stockton, Fairfield and Napa in Northern California after playing a year of high school football in Compton. When his mother returned to Compton before Allen's senior year, he chose to stay in Napa with family friends. "I felt I had to stay out of Compton," Allen said. "It's home, but it is tough to get motivated in that environment."

Some say Allen developed his incredible quickness because of the Compton environment. "We would hear gunfire outside our house, we would automatically roll out of the bed, lay on the floor until the shooting stopped, then get back in bed and go to sleep," said his mother, Vera. "After awhile, we got pretty good at that."

When he finished high school, Allen's grades and test scores weren't good enough to get him into a Division I school, despite the fact that many wanted him. All the moving from school to school hurt Allen academically, so instead he attended Butte Junior College in Oroville, Calif., from 1989-90. He played two years there but left without his associate degree and returned to the Compton area. "I wanted to get that degree, but I had to work and it didn't work out," Allen says. After a year off, Allen was finally persuaded to go to Sonoma State, a Division II school that has no athletic scholarships. Not only that, but the football program has only three full-time coaches and a stadium with no lights and one set of bleachers.

Allen said he knew it was the right choice, although Sonoma State, located 45 miles north of San Francisco, is no Southern Cal or Clemson. "I had to get out (of Compton) and do something for myself," Allen said. "There aren't many opportunities in my hometown." Allen qualified for financial aid, and it didn't take coaches and scouts long to figure out that he was a Division I talent out of place. In his two years with the Cossacks, Allen gave up just one sack and became the cornerstone of the Sonoma State line that established a number of school records on offense.

Last season Sonoma State set a mark with 334 yard rushing, including two separate 100-yard rushers, against Cal-State Hayward. The Cossacks also had two runners top the century mark on the ground against San Francisco State and finished the day with 524 yards of total offense. Facing one of the top Division II defenses in Humboldt State, Sonoma State rushed for 230 yards and again had a pair of 100-yard days from their running backs. A consensus All-America selection, Allen participated in the East-West Shrine Game and the Senior Bowl following the season. Many thought that he would be exposed by the top competition in these games, but in both games, this soft-spoken giant dominated opponents.

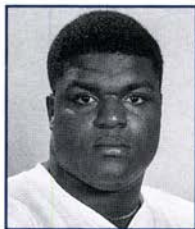

In 1992 the Cossacks were primarily a passing team and established ten new school records — including most yards gained, most touchdown passes, best gain per completion, highest per game average and highest passing efficiency. Allen went on to earn All-America honors following the season.

In April, Allen became the first player ever drafted from Sonoma State when the Cowboys selected him in the second round with the 46th choice overall. The last time Dallas took an offensive lineman that high was in 1981 when Howard Richards was taken with the 25th pick in the draft. Allen is one of two offensive linemen (George Hegamin is the other) drafted by Dallas with two of their first three picks, the first time in franchise history Dallas has selected two offensive linemen that high.

A native of Los Angeles, Allen attended a different high school every year, finishing at Vintage High School in Napa, CA. He also lettered in football as a freshman at Centennial Senior High in Compton, CA.

George Hegamin

TACKLE • NORTH CAROLINA STATE
HT: 6-7 • WT: 355 • BORN: 2/14/73 • D-3 FOR '94

With 6-foot-7, 317-pound Kevin Gogan lost to Los Angeles Raiders via free agency, the Cowboys were hoping to find the same type of player who can help open holes for Emmitt Smith and serve as a bodyguard for Troy Aikman. Dallas may have found someone who is made out of the same cloth as Gogan in their third round selection of George Hegamin out of North Carolina State.

Hegamin, 6-foot-7, tips the scales to a whopping 358 pounds, and was the largest player selected in the 1993 NFL draft. In only four years of playing organized football, Hegamin was able to earn a reputation as a dominating blocker. After learning last year that his mother was diagnosed with cancer, the 21-year old Hegamin turned professional with two years of eligibility remaining in order to help pay for her medical bills.

In 1993, Hegamin was the spiritual leader of the Wolfpack's offensive line that surrendered only 14 sacks all season, the third lowest total in North Carolina State's history. Although he shared time at right tackle with Scott Woods, Hegamin helped open holes for an offense that averaged 397.1 yards and 24.6 points per game. Against Maryland, Hegamin paved the way for a eight-yard touchdown run by tailback Gary Downs as the Wolfpack piled up 528 yards in a 34-16 victory over Wake Forest. Against Texas Tech, Hegamin leveled a pair of defenders as tailback Brian Fitzgerald raced 12 yards for a score, finishing with four knockdowns for an offense that amassed 585 yards in the 36-34 victory. Hegamin delivered a timely block on a blitzing linebacker allowing quarterback Terry Harvey the time to connect with receiver Eddie Goines for a 71-yard touchdown bomb. He later opened a hole on a four-yard scoring run for Downs as the Wolfpack gained 540 yards, including 276 yards rushing in the 44-21 rout.

As a redshirt freshman in 1992, Hegamin earned Freshman All-America honors by The Football News and was named to the All-ACC second team. A New Jersey native, he started his first game in front of his hometown fans at Giants Stadium in the Kickoff Classic against Iowa, holding sack specialist Mike Wells to only an assisted tackle. He leveled the defender on a 49-yard touchdown run by Anthony Barbour while finishing with four other knockdowns as North Carolina State rushed for 262 yards in the 24-14 victory. In 27-20 victory over rival North Carolina, Hegamin dominated the action on the line, posting seven knockdowns as the running game piled up 360 of the team's 544 yards in a 48-13 win over Texas Tech.

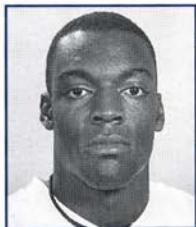

Redshirted as a freshman, Hegamin played on the scout team at defensive tackle. He made the move to offensive tackle in the spring drills.

The 102nd player selected overall in the NFL Draft, Hegamin is the first player from North Carolina State to be drafted by Dallas since running back Dwight Sullivan (fourth round) and tackle Todd Eckerson (tenth round) were selected in 1982. Hegamin joins teammates Dewayne Washington (defensive back drafted in the first round by Minnesota) and Gary Downs (running back drafted in the third round by the N.Y. Giants) as the only North Carolina State players to be drafted in 1993.

A sociology major, Hegamin lettered in football at Camden (N.J.) High School, where he played in his first organized football game as a junior. As a senior, he was named All-American honorable mention by USA Today. He also was an unanimous All-State first team pick as a defensive lineman.

Willie Jackson

WIDE RECEIVER • FLORIDA

HT: 6-1 • WT: 205 • BORN: 8/16/71 • D-4A FOR '94

A wide receiver from the state of Florida, what better credentials does one need to fit in with the Dallas Cowboys receiving corps. Fourth round draft choice Willie Jackson will be welcomed to Dallas by University of Miami products Michael Irvin and Kevin Williams, Florida A&M alum Tim Daniel and Frostproof, Fla., native Alvin Harper (Irvin is also a Florida native from Ft. Lauderdale). As long as he doesn't catch too many of their passes that is. At the University of Florida, Jackson presented a problem for both opposing cornerbacks and fellow wide receivers, logging 162 career receptions in three seasons as a starter, good for second on the school's all-time receiving list behind Carlos Alvarez's 172 catches. Jackson also left Florida second on the school's receiving yardage list with 2,172 yards (Alvarez holds the mark with 2,563 yards).

Under the watchful eye of receivers coach Hubbard Alexander (University of Miami), Jackson will be bringing to Dallas the polished receiving skills he perfected at Florida in Steve Spurrier's pro style passing offense. Not blessed with outstanding speed, Jackson more than makes up for that with his size (6-1, 205 pounds), hands and smooth route running, reminiscent of the Cowboys' Irvin (6-2, 205).

Despite starting only nine games for the Gators as a senior (missed the Tennessee game with a sprained left knee), Jackson finished second on the team with 49 receptions for 675 yards and six touchdowns. In the season opener against Arkansas State, he snatched seven passes for 108 yards, including a 40-yard touchdown. He suffered the knee injury the following week on a two-point conversion attempt at Kentucky and missed the following game against Tennessee. Jackson bounced back with an eight catch day against Auburn, before lighting up Southwestern Louisiana for four catches, including 35 and 16-yard scoring grabs in a 61-14 Gator win. When the games got big at the end of the season, Jackson grew along with them, topping the 100-yard mark the final three games of the season. First he hauled in seven passes for a season-high 140 yards and two touchdowns against Florida State in the regular season finale, and then in Florida's 28-13 triumph over Alabama in the Southeastern Conference Championship Game, Jackson logged a season-high nine receptions for 114 yards. Florida marched onto the Sugar Bowl to take on an undefeated West Virginia team and romped, 41-7 behind Jackson's nine catches and 131 yards — including a 39-yard touchdown. His nine catches in that game tied a Florida bowl record first set by Barry Brown against Missouri in the 1966 Sugar Bowl.

As a junior, Jackson posted one of the finest receiving years in school history on his way to first team all-SEC honors and honorable mention All-America status. His 62 receptions led the conference and were the third most ever by a Gator receiver. His 772 yards also topped the conference and were the fifth most in school history. Jackson led or tied for the team lead in receptions the final eight games of the season, as Florida marched to a 9-4 record, the SEC Eastern Division crown and a Gator Bowl victory over North Carolina State. Beginning with a six catch game against Auburn, Jackson began his tear atop the Gator receiving list. The following week he hauled in eight passes for 74 yards and two touchdowns. Against Georgia, Jackson put together the first of back-to-back 100-yard receiving games with 109 yards on seven receptions. The second half of that double came against Southern Mississippi when he had 102 yard on four catches, including a career-long 70 yard touchdown grab on the game's opening play. In the SEC Championship Game against eventual national champion Alabama, Jackson led the Florida attack with nine receptions for 100 yards and a touchdown.

A second team all-SEC pick as a sophomore, Jackson was selected the team's Most Outstanding Receiver following a season that saw him catch 51 passes for 725 yards and 10 touchdowns. His touchdown mark tied the second highest total in school history and led the SEC. Jackson also finished two receptions behind Todd Kinchen for the conference lead. Once again Jackson finished the season strong, leading or tying for the team lead in receptions over the final six games of the season. That streak included a career-game against Auburn that saw him come up with career-highs of 12 receptions and 157 yards, earning SEC Offensive Player of the Week honors. His 12 grabs tied the second most in a game in Florida history. The very next week Jackson went out and almost single-handedly knocked off Georgia with three touchdown receptions in the Gators' 45-13 win, becoming only the fifth Florida player to have three touchdown receptions in a game. Jackson wrapped up his first season in the starting line-up by torching Notre Dame for eight receptions and 148 yards in the Sugar Bowl, the second best yardage total in Florida bowl history.

After redshirting his first year in Gainesville, Jackson saw action in five games as a freshman but did not record a reception. One of his teammates on the other side of the ball that year was Godfrey Myles, now a Cowboys linebacker. As a walk-on on the Florida basketball team in 1989-90, Jackson average 3.0 points per game and had 20 steals.

Jackson was the 109th player selected overall in the 1994 NFL Draft and one of four University of Florida players drafted in 1994, and he was the 19th wide receiver taken in this year's draft.

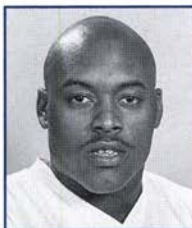

Willie Bernard Jackson, Jr., a telecommunications major at Florida, earned all-state honors as a quarterback, tailback, wingback and defensive back at P.K. Yonge High School in Gainesville, FL. As a senior he was the team's MVP, rushing for 407 yards and hauling in 27 catches. He also received the team's top academic achievement award his senior year. His father, Willie Sr., lettered in football at Florida from 1970-72.

Dewayne Dotson

LINEBACKER • MISSISSIPPI
 HT: 6-1 • WT: 250 • BORN: 6/10/71 • D-4B 94

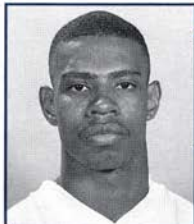

Dewayne Dotson fits the mold for Dallas Cowboys linebackers. A very aggressive playmaker with fine natural instincts, Dotson has great quickness, intelligence and athletic ability. At just over six feet tall he might be a little big shorter than the standard NFL linebacker, Dotson has no shortcomings in the areas of filling holes and finding ball carriers. His explosiveness on the field is traced to his work in the weight room where his 400 pound bench press was second best on the Ole Miss squad in 1993. He is also a solid pass defender who has the range to cover the entire football field. Dotson was a standout player in the Southeastern Conference for two different teams, playing a pair of seasons at Tennessee (1989-1990) and Mississippi (1992-1993). As a senior at Ole Miss in 1993, he was named second team All America by College & Pro Football Weekly and The Football News, while also collecting third team All America recognition from the Associated Press. A unanimous All-SEC selection in '93, he was one of ten finalists for the Butkus Award. Dotson finished the year with 92 tackles — ranked third among all outside linebackers and defensive ends in the SEC. He led his team in quarterback pressures with 16 and ranked second on the squad in tackles for lost yardage — 10 for minus 38 yards. He was named the SEC Player of the Week for his performance against Vanderbilt after collecting 15 tackles (three for losses) and one sack. As a junior in 1992, he was a second team All-SEC selection after starting all 11 games and compiling 100 tackles (second on the team). Dotson also led the 1992 Ole Miss squad with 10 sacks. He returned to action in '92 after spending the 1991 season as a Rebel scout team member while fulfilling NCAA transfer requirements. Dotson helped the Rebels to a 9-3 record in 1992, including a 13-0 win over Air Force in the Liberty Bowl. As a sophomore in 1990 at Tennessee, Dotson was the Vols fourth leading tackler with 59 total stops. He also ranked fourth in tackles for lost yardage with four. He tallied a career high 17 tackles in the Vanderbilt game and returned an interception 27 yards for a score against Vandy. Dotson was a key performer for the SEC Championship and a Sugar Bowl victory over Virginia. In 1990, Dotson played for defensive coordinator Larry Lacewell — current Cowboys' director of college and pro personnel. Dotson was a solid contributor as a second team defensive end as a freshman in 1989, helping the Vols to an 11-1 record, the SEC Championship and a Cotton Bowl win over Arkansas. As a senior at Hendersonville High School in Hendersonville, Tennessee, Dotson rushed for a school record 1,500 yards, while also compiling 114 tackles on defense. He was a three year starter at linebacker (two years at running back) and was an all-state defensive selection as a senior. A versatile athlete in high school, Dotson also participated in basketball, baseball and track. Dotson was a criminal justice major at Ole Miss.

Darren Studstill

DEFENSIVE BACK • WEST VIRGINIA
HT: 6-1 • WT: 186 • BORN: 8/9/70 • D-6 FOR '94

Former NFL players Nolan Cromwell, Charlie Watters and Audrey McMillen were all quarterbacks in college who played defensive back in the NFL. All three were natural athletes who adjusted well enough to earn Pro Bowl honors. The Cowboys hope to have the same success with Darren Studstill, their sixth round selection out of West Virginia. The Cowboys will move Studstill, who played quarterback for the Mountaineers to defensive back .

Studstill, who started during different parts of four seasons at West Virginia, finished his collegiate career ranking seventh on the school's all-time list in career pass attempts with 456, and in passing yards with 3,158. He also finished sixth in career touchdown passes with 27.

While rotating at quarterback with Jake Kelchner, Studstill sparked the Mountaineer's offense in 1993 by completing 48 passes for 760 yards with eight touchdowns. He also added 145 rushing yards on 25 carries with one touchdown. He saw his first action of the 1993 season in the third game against Missouri, completing his only pass for a 27-yard touchdown. Against Pittsburgh, he completed four of five passes for 98 yards, including a 49-yard scoring strike while piling up 121 yards of total offense. Studstill had his best performance of the season against Rutgers. He connected on 11 of 16 passes attempted for a season-high 214 yards and three touchdowns. He rallied two fourth quarter scoring drives at Boston College including the game winning touchdown pass to Ed Hill.

While sharing time with Kelchner in 1992, Studstill threw for over 1,000 yards for the second consecutive season. He had 1,065 yards passing with nine touchdowns, while adding 65 yards rushing on 39 carries with two touchdowns. With a 20-point fourth quarter against Maryland, Studstill engineered the biggest comeback in Mountaineer history, passing for 16-21 for 166 yards. He finished the game 14 of 21 for 166 yards passing and led scoring drives of 78, 73 and 55 yards in that quarter. His three touchdown passes were the most since 1980. With Kelchner out with an injury against Miami, Studstill played the entire game and eclipsed the 300-yard passing mark for the game, throwing for 308 yards by connecting on 28 of 41 attempts. His passing yards were the most since 1982 and ranked him along WVU's single game leaders in yardage (seventh), pass completions, (fourth) and pass attempts (fourth). Against Louisiana Tech, Studstill connected on 11 of 21 attempts, including a 78-yard bomb to James Jett, who currently plays for the Los Angeles Raiders, setting a new school record.

As a sophomore in 1991, Studstill was the West Virginia starting quarterback. He threw for 1,055 yards with eight touchdowns and ran for 307 yards with two touchdown. He threw for 158 yards while throwing three touchdowns and running for another against Boston College.

His starting debut ended early when he suffered a shoulder strain early in the second quarter against Pittsburgh. He return to action against South Carolina, throwing for 176 yards and running for 50. Against Rutgers, Studstill piled up 273 yards of total offense with 76 rushing yards 197 passing, including a 53-yard touchdown pass to Jett. The touchdown connection was the longest pass play of the season.

As a redshirt freshman in 1990, Studstill gained valuable experience as a back up to Greg Jones. He passed for 278 yards with two touchdowns and ran for another 93 with one score. He set a new West Virginia record with a 76-yard touchdown pass to Jett against Cincinnati.

Despite being redshirted as a freshman and not seeing any varsity action, Studstill was voted the WVU's offensive rookie of the year in 1989.

The 191st player selected overall, Studstill is the first player to be drafted by Dallas since defensive back Ron Williams was selected (fourteenth round) in 1968. Studstill joins teammates Rich Braham (guard drafted in the third round by Arizona) and Jim Pyne (center drafted in the sixth round by Tampa Bay) as the only West Virginia players to be drafted in 1993.

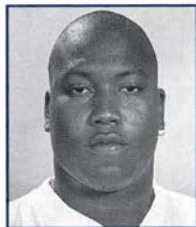

A physical education major, Studstill was the recipient of the Whitney Gwynne Award in 1993, given to the team's unsung hero at the postseason team banquet, receiving a length standing ovation from his teammates and coaches. He lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track at Palm Beach Garden High (FL.) School, where he won football MVP honors.

DEFENSIVE TACKLE • FLORIDA STATE
HT: 6-3 • WT: 277 • BORN: 1/22/72 • D-7 FOR '94

Toddrick McIntosh is making a proper homecoming. After capping a stand-out collegiate career with a national championship at Florida State, he has the rare opportunity to come home to Dallas and earn a spot on the defending World Champion Cowboys roster. On January 1, 1994, McIntosh was a key figure in the Seminoles' national championship victory over Nebraska in the Orange Bowl, and, less than five months later, he was drafted by his hometown Cowboys. With the free agent losses of defensive tackles Tony Casillas and Jimmie Jones, McIntosh will have an extended opportunity to showcase his skills and earn a spot on the Dallas depth chart. McIntosh's skills include great quickness and natural pass rushing ability. He also has solid speed (4.87 forty) for a man of 277 pounds. His versatility, however, may be his finest asset. In four years at Florida State, he gained experience as a defensive end, tackle and nose guard. He started as a junior at nose guard and then was the team's left end as a senior in 1993. During his four year career at FSU, McIntosh helped his teammates to a combined record of 43-6 and victories in the Blockbuster, Cotton and Orange (twice) Bowls. As a senior, McIntosh registered 48 tackles, two sacks and five and a half tackles for lost yardage. He had a season-high nine tackles in the annual in-state battle with Miami, and later registered three tackles behind the line of scrimmage against Florida. In the thrilling 18-16 win over Nebraska, McIntosh contributed a key fourth quarter sack. As a junior in 1992, he started all 11 games at nose tackle and registered 44 tackles and two sacks. The '92 Seminoles posted an 11-1 record and defeated Nebraska 27-14 in the Orange Bowl. As a reserve defensive end in 1991, he displayed his big play ability in nickel pass rushing situations. He registered a career-high six and a half sacks and five tackles behind the line while being used primarily in nickel defensive situations. He made the big play against Michigan that year, returning an interception 49 yards for a touchdown that sealed FSU's win at Ann Arbor. He also caused two fumbles and recovered another as a sophomore. McIntosh put more points on the board for the Seminoles in '91 with a sack of Syracuse QB Marvin Graves in the end zone for a safety in FSU's 46-14 win over the Orangemen. As a red-shirt freshman tackle in 1990, McIntosh contributed 33 total tackles — three of those coming behind the line for lost yardage. As a senior at L.V. Berkner High School in nearby Richardson, TX, McIntosh was rated as one of the state's Top 100 prospects. Texas Football Magazine also rated him among the Top 25 players in the state, and as a senior, he had 77 tackles with four sacks en route to earning all-state recognition. McIntosh was a marketing major at Florida State.

Michael Batiste, a 6-2, 304-pound defensive tackle from Tulane started 10 games his senior year at left end or tackle, recording 40 tackles (25 solo) with one sack and three tackles for losses. His junior year, Batiste contributed 42 tackles (25 solo), with four sacks and five tackles for losses in nine games as a starter at defensive tackle. He had his most productive season as sophomore when he started all year and recorded 57 tackles (38 solo), three sacks and six tackles for losses. Batiste was an all-district selection in football at Westbrook High School in Beaumont, TX and also lettered in basketball and track. Nicknamed "Batman", he was born on 12/24/70.

Chris Boniol, a 5-11, 159-pound kicker from Louisiana Tech, ended his collegiate career as the school's all-time scorer. He made 50-of-81 field goal attempts, including five from over 50-yards. As a junior, Boniol gave the Bulldogs their first victory ever over a Southwest Conference opponent when his 30-yard field goal on the last play of the game defeated Baylor 10-9. He wound up hitting 11-of 18 field goals, including 2-of-2 from beyond 50-plus yards. Boniol hit only 6-of 17 field goal attempts as a sophomore but one was a 54-yarder on the final play of the game to defeat Eastern Michigan 17-14. He was named all-Louisiana and Louisiana Freshman of the Year by the Louisiana Sportswriters Association after hitting 17-of-24 field goals and 38-of-39 extra points in 1990. He also earned all-South Independent honors. Against McNeese State in his second collegiate game, Boniol hit a 55-yard field goal, the second longest in the school's history, and his extra point beat Colorado State 31-30, sending the Bulldogs to the Independence Bowl. Born on 12/9/71, Boniol starred at Alexandria, LA, Senior High School.

George Brewer, a 6-5, 295-pound defensive tackle from Savannah State, ended the 1993 season with 33 tackles and tied for the team lead with six sacks. Brewer transferred to Savannah State from the University of Georgia in 1992 and was required to sit out the following season. As a freshman with the Bulldogs in 1989, Brewer was one of three true freshman to play in all 11 games, starting two. He had a game high 12 tackles in his first start against Auburn. Born on 6/11/69, Brewer earned All-America, all-state and all-south football honors at Troup County High School in West Point, GA. He was voted the Gatorade High School Player of the Year in Georgia as a senior.

Alfie Burch, a 6-1, 192-pound cornerback from Michigan started all but one game his senior year and contributed 38 tackles (32 solo), one sack and two tackles for losses. As a junior he contributed 34 tackles (23 solo), two sacks, three tackles for losses, two deflected passes and one interception all in only six games. He missed the second half of the season after dislocating his right foot. As a sophomore he saw action in every game and recorded 19 tackles, 14 of them coming in the last seven games. As a freshman he played four games as a wide receiver and posted a pair of catches for 22 yards. He also played in three bowl games while at Michigan: Gator (1990), Rose (1991) and Hall of Fame (1993). His bowl stats include five tackles and one reception for 12 yards. Burch only started playing high school football as a junior and was selected all-league, all-county and all-state his senior year. Born on 3/24/71, he also letter in basketball (all-state) and baseball.

Richie Cunningham, a 5-10, 165-pound kicker from Southwestern Louisiana sat out the 1993 season after ending his collegiate career in 1992. He moved into the regular field goal and extra point job as a junior after handling mostly the kickoff duties his first two years. In 1991, Cunningham hit two field goals including a 50-yarder to help pace the Cajuns to a 13-12 win over Northern Illinois. Born on 8/18/70, Cunningham was a three sport standout at Terrebonne High in Houma, LA, where he was named as one of school's Athlete's of the Year during his senior season. He kicked for the team and led them to a district title during the 1988 season.

Craig Fayak, a 6-1, 188-pound kicker from Penn State, hit five of his nine field goal attempts during the 1992 season. His season ended after six games due to a stress fracture in a back vertebra. He also nailed all 21 of his extra points. As a sophomore, he hit 17 of 26 field goal attempts, including 13 of his last 16. He also led the Lions in scoring for the second straight year with 96 points. He set a school bowl record in the Fiesta Bowl with six extra points. As a freshman Fayak led the team in scoring with 74 points. He hit 15-of-22 field goals and was 29-of-30 on PAT's. Born on 7/22/72, Fayak played quarterback, safety and handled the placement and kicking chores for Belle Vernon Area, PA, High School.

Shelby Hill, a 6-0, 207-pound wide receiver from Syracuse holds the all-time school record for total receiving yardage with 2,296 and is tied for the school mark in receptions with Scott Schewedes at 139. With 70 punt returns he tied for second on the Orangemens' career punt return list and also stands fourth on the punt return yardage list with 567 yards. A black and white photograph of a Dallas Cowboys player, likely a running back, in action on a football field. The player is wearing a white jersey with dark stripes on the sleeves and the number 15, and a helmet with a prominent star logo. He is running with the football tucked in his arms, looking forward. The background is a blurred crowd of spectators in a stadium. The image has a film strip border on the left side.

Ring of Honor

The Cowboys honor former players and coaches who made outstanding contributions to the club by inducting them into the Ring of Honor at Texas Stadium. Their names and the years played are prominently displayed in silver on the wall above the Cowboys' bench at Texas Stadium. Members of the Cowboys' Ring of Honor:

CHUCK HOWLEY

CHUCK HOWLEY, linebacker, 1961-72. When Chuck Howley retired in 1973, Tom Landry said "I don't know that I've seen anybody better at linebacker than Howley." A six-time All-Pro, Howley was the most valuable player in Super Bowl V. The Cowboys traded for Howley, who was drafted by Chicago in 1958. He was All-America center at West Virginia. A six-time Pro Bowl selection, Howley was added to the Ring of Honor in 1977.

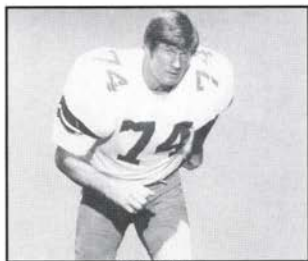

LEE ROY JORDAN

LEE ROY JORDAN, linebacker, 1963-76. The inspirational leader of the Cowboys' first championship teams was Lee Roy Jordan. The Cowboys' first-round draft choice in 1963 following an All-America career at Alabama, Jordan anchored the "Doomsday Defense" from his middle linebacker position for 14 years. He was named to the Pro Bowl five times and All-Pro twice. Lee Roy was inducted into the Ring of Honor in 1989.

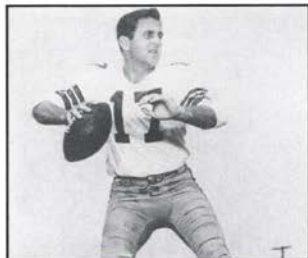

TOM LANDRY

TOM LANDRY, Head Coach, 1960-88. The first head coach of the Cowboys, Tom Landry led Dallas to two Super Bowl wins and five NFC titles in his 29 years at the Cowboys helm. He compiled a career record of 270-178-6, the third most wins in NFL history, and was elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1990. Tom Landry was inducted into the Ring of Honor in 1993.

BOB LILLY

BOB LILLY, defensive tackle, 1961-74. Nicknamed "Mr. Cowboy," Bob Lilly was the franchise's first draft choice in 1961, the first name in the Ring of Honor in 1975 and its first inductee into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1980. A seven-time All-Pro, Lilly was named to a club-record 11 Pro Bowls. He was a two-time All-SWC pick and an All-America at Texas Christian University before being drafted by Dallas.

DON MEREDITH

DON MEREDITH, quarterback, 1960-68. Don Meredith led the Cowboys to their first winning season and their first NFL Championship Game in 1966. Signed by Clint Murchison, Jr., before Dallas was granted its NFL franchise, "Dandy Don" played in two Pro Bowls and was named NFL Player of the Year in 1966. A two-time All-America at SMU, Don's name was added to the Cowboys' Ring of Honor in 1976.

DON PERKINS

DON PERKINS, running back, 1961-68. Don Perkins was the first Cowboys player to rush for more than 6,000 yards. A six-time Pro Bowl selection, Perkins finished among the top ten NFL rushers in each of his eight seasons. He was named NFL Rookie of the Year in 1961 and All-Pro in 1962. Perkins was signed before Dallas was granted its NFL franchise. A three-time All-Skyline pick at New Mexico, he was inducted into the Ring of Honor in 1976.

MEL RENFRO

MEL RENFRO, defensive back, 1964-77. Mel Renfro was named to the Pro Bowl his first ten seasons in the NFL. He is the club's all-time interceptor with 52 and kickoff returner with a 26.4-yard career average. Renfro was drafted in the second round in 1964 after a career as an All-America half-back and world class sprinter at Oregon. A five-time All-Pro, Renfro was inducted into the Ring of Honor in 1981.

ROGER STAUBACH

ROGER STAUBACH, quarterback, 1969-79. Roger Staubach led the Cowboys to six NFC Championship Games, four Super Bowls and two Super Bowl titles. A great clutch performer, Staubach led Dallas to comeback victories 23 times, 14 in the last two minutes or overtime. A five-time Pro Bowler, he was drafted by Dallas in 1964 after winning the Heisman Trophy and Maxwell Award at the Naval Academy. Inducted into the Ring of Honor in 1983, Roger was elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1985.

COWBOYS IN THE HALL OF FAME

Six members of the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio, have been elected based on their accomplishments with the Cowboys—Bob Lilly in 1980, Roger Staubach in 1985, Tom Landry in 1990, Tex Schramm in 1991 and Tony Dorsett and Randy White in 1994.

Bob Lilly

Lilly, the first college player ever drafted by the Cowboys, was selected to play in the Pro Bowl 11 times while playing for Dallas from 1961 to 1974. Lilly came to the Cowboys after a collegiate career at Texas Christian University.

Staubach, known as "Captain Comeback" to Dallas fans, quarterbacked the Cowboys to four NFC Championships and victories in Super Bowl VI and XII. Staubach, a native of Cincinnati and a graduate of the U.S. Naval Academy, played for Dallas from 1969 to 1979.

Tom Landry compiled an overall record of 270-178-6 with two World Championships as the head coach of the Cowboys from 1960 to 1988. Landry helped build the Cowboys into "America's Team" along with Tex Schramm who served as the team's president and general manager from 1960 to 1989.

Dorsett, the Cowboys all-time leading rusher, stands third all-time on the NFL's career rushing list with 12,739 yards. Dorsett, the 1976 Heisman Trophy winner from the University of Pittsburgh, played with Dallas from 1977 to 1987.

White, a nine-time Pro Bowler during his 14 year career with Dallas, was co-MVP of Super Bowl XII in the Cowboys 27-10 win over Denver. White joined the Cowboys as a first-round draft choice in 1975 and played for Dallas from 1975 to 1988.

Historical Highlights

NFL FRANCHISE — Clint Murchison, Jr., and Bedford Wynne were awarded an expansion franchise in the NFL at the annual league meeting in Miami Beach, Fla. The Cowboys were to play as a "swing" team, playing every other team one time during the first season, although listed in the Western Conference standings (January 28).

COWBOYS STOCKED — A player pool was set up in the league meeting in Los Angeles, with each of 12 NFL teams freezing 25 names on its roster and the Cowboys allowed to pick three from each team for a total of 36 veterans. Dallas, once given the list, had to select its 36 players within 24 hours (March 13).

TRAINING STARTS — Rookies report to first Cowboys camp at Pacific University in Forest Grove, Oregon (July 9).

FIRST PRE-SEASON GAME — The Cowboys, less than six months in existence, get their first test and drop a 16-10 pre-season game to San Francisco in Seattle (August 6).

FIRST HOME GAME — In their Dallas debut, in the Salesmanship Club preseason game, the Cowboys led the world champion Baltimore Colts into the final minute before a 62-yard pass from Johnny Unitas to Lenny Moore gave the Colts a 14-10 victory (August 19).

FIRST VICTORY — In a preseason game at Louisville, KY, the Cowboys beat New York's Giants, 14-3, with Frank Clarke catching touchdown passes for 73 yards (Eddie LeBaron) and 74 yards (Don Meredith) (August 27).

FIRST LEAGUE GAME — In their first league game, Dallas fell to Pittsburgh, 35-28, with Bobby Layne leading a fourth-period Steeler rally (Sept. 24, Saturday night).

STREAK SNAPPED — Dallas snaps a 10-game loss streak by tying New York, 31-31, at Yankee Stadium (Dec. 4).

TRAINING STARTS — Rookies launch training at new campsite — St. Olaf College in Northfield, Minn. (July 9).

FIRST LEAGUE WIN — Scoring ten points in the final 56 seconds, the Cowboys score their first NFL victory, 27-24, over Pittsburgh in the '61 league opener in the Cotton Bowl. Allen Green's 27-yard field goal on the game's final play won it before 23,500 (Sept. 17).

1962

TRAINING STARTS — Team begins training at new campsite — Northern Michigan College in Marquette, Mich. (July 13).

PENALTY HISTORY — For the first time in anyone's memory in an NFL game, points were awarded for a penalty. The Cowboys were detected holding in the end zone on a 99-yd. TD pass from LeBaron to Clarke, and Pittsburgh was awarded a safety. The Steelers eventually won, 30-28 (Sept. 23).

100-YARD FIRSTS — Cowboys' Amos Marsh returned a kickoff 101 yards and Mike Gaechter returned a pass interception 100 yards, both plays for fourth-quarter TDs in a 41-19 win over Philadelphia in Dallas. It was the first time in NFL history that two 100-yard runs had been made in the same game, much less by the same team in the same quarter (Oct. 14).

SHIFT TO KANSAS CITY — The rival Dallas Texans of the AFL announce they are moving the franchise to Kansas City (Feb. 8).

CALIFORNIA TRAINING SITE — The Cowboys open training at California Lutheran College in Thousand Oaks, Calif. (July 12).

HOWTON SETS RECORD — Bill Howton broke Don Hutson's all-time receiving mark with a 14-yard catch against Washington (there). Hutson's record was 7,991 yards and the catch gave Howton an even 8,000 yards (Sept. 29).

1964

LANDRY CONTRACT — With one year to go on his original contract, Tom Landry is signed to a ten-year extension, in effect giving him an 11-year pact, possibly the longest in major pro sports history (Feb. 5).

1965

FIRST SELLOUT — An overflow crowd of 76,251 jams the Cotton Bowl for the Cleveland game, notching the team's first home sellout. Cleveland won, 24-17 (Nov. 21).

1966

PLAYOFF BOWL — After defeating New York, 38-20, in the season finale (and winning five of their last seven games) to get into the Playoff Bowl at Miami, the Cowboys fall to Baltimore, 35-3 (Jan. 15).

MERGER — Peace comes to pro football with Cowboys GM Tex Schramm completing two months of negotiations with AFL's Lamar Hunt, merging the two leagues under the NFL banner (June 8).

SCHRAMM ELEVATED — Texas E. Schramm, Vice-President and General Manager of the Cowboys from the beginning, was named President of the club by owner Clint Murchison, Jr., who retained the title of Chairman of the Board.

NEELY CASE SOLVED — Dallas and Houston reached agreement in the Ralph Neely case. Neely remained with Dallas with Houston receiving the Cowboys Nos. 1, 2 and two fifth round picks in the 1967 draft (Nov. 17).

THE CHAMPIONSHIP — The Cowboys won their first championship, capturing the Eastern Conference title with a 10-3-1 record, but lost the NFL Championship Game to Green Bay, 34-27.

TEXAS STADIUM — On Dec. 23, owner Clint Murchison, Jr., formally announced plans to build Texas Stadium in suburban Irving. The stadium, to be financed through a bond-option plan, would be ready for the 1970 season. The stadium would seat a minimum of 58,000.

SECOND CHAMPIONSHIP — Under the NFL's new format, the Cowboys easily won the Capitol Division and defeated Cleveland, Century Division winner, 52-14, in the Cotton Bowl for the Eastern conference championship. However, on Dec. 31 in Green Bay, the Cowboys lost their second bid for an NFL title, falling to the Packers, 21-17, in the 13 degree below weather.

WIN CAPITOL — For the second straight year the Cowboys won the Capitol Division, but for the first time in three years the Cowboys did not win the Eastern Championship, being upset at Cleveland, 31-20, on December 21. Dallas won the Runner-Up Bowl over Minnesota, 17-13.

1969

TEXAS STADIUM — Ground was broken for Texas Stadium in suburban Irving on January 25, and on June 29 Bert Rose was named general manager of the stadium.

ORIGINALS RETIRE — An era ended for the Cowboys in July. On July 5th at a press conference in Dallas, quarterback Don Meredith, the last of the original Cowboys, announced his retirement. Then, on July 18th, the day the veterans were to report to training camp, all-time rushing great Don Perkins officially retired.

REPEAT CAPITOL WINS — Once again the Cowboys rolled to the Capitol Division Championship with an 11-2-1 season. However, the Cowboys failed to win the Eastern Championship when on Dec. 28, the Cowboys lost to Cleveland, 38-14, in the Cotton Bowl.

FIVE STRAIGHT PLAYOFFS — The Cowboys won their last five games to finish 10-4, claim the Eastern Division championship and make the playoffs for the fifth year in a row. They defeated Detroit, 5-0, in the opening round to get a shot at the National Conference championship.

FIRST NFC TITLE — The Cowboys captured the biggest prize of their 11-year history on Jan. 3 when they downed San Francisco, 17-10, for the NFC crown. A 16-13 loss to Baltimore in the Super Bowl Jan. 17 left Dallas with one major goal still unrealized.

TEXAS STADIUM — The Cowboys opened a new era in their sparkling Irving, Tex., home with a 44-21 victory over the New England Patriots on October 24. Duane Thomas scored the first touchdown in the new stadium, a 56-yard run just two minutes and 16 seconds after the opening kickoff. Attendance was 65,708.

SIX STRAIGHT PLAYOFFS — The Cowboys won their last seven games to finish 11-3, claim the Eastern Division championship and make the playoffs for the sixth year in a row. They defeated Minnesota, 20-12, in the opening round.

SECOND NFC TITLE — For the second consecutive year, the Cowboys met the San Francisco 49ers in the National Conference showdown. This time Dallas won 14-13, to qualify for its second straight Super Bowl.

FIRST WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP — The Cowboys downed the Miami Dolphins, 24-3, to win Super Bowl VI in New Orleans on Jan. 16. It was the 10th victory in a row for Dallas as Roger Staubach passed for two touchdowns and was named the game's Most Valuable Player.

FIRST 1,000-YARD BACK — Calvin Hill became the first Dallas player to rush for 1,000 yards when he gained 111 on Dec. 9 against the Washington Redskins in Texas Stadium. Hill wound up with 1,036 yards for the season on a record 245 carries.

SEVEN STRAIGHT PLAYOFFS — The Cowboys qualified for the NFL playoffs a record seventh consecutive year, their 10-4 record earning them the National Conference Wild Card berth. Roger Staubach passed for two touchdowns in the last 1½ minutes to give the Cowboys a 30-28 victory at San Francisco in the first round. Then, at Washington on New Year's Eve, Dallas was foiled in its bid for a third straight NFL title with the Redskins win, 16-3.

100 VICTORIES — The Cowboys and Coach Tom Landry recorded their 100th victory with a 40-3 Texas Stadium win over the New Orleans Saints on Sept. 24. Landry ended the season with a career mark of 108-80-6 to rank ninth on the list of the NFL's all-time winningest coaches.

EIGHT STRAIGHT PLAYOFFS — The Cowboys regained the NFC Eastern Division title with a 10-4 record and broke their own NFL record by reaching the playoffs for the eighth year in a row. Dallas defeated the Western Division champion Los Angeles Rams in the first round, 27-16, but fell to Central Division winner Minnesota in the NFC Championship Game, 27-10.

FIRST TOP DRAFT CHOICE — For the first time in their history, the Cowboys had the very first choice in the NFL Draft. The No. 1 pick came to Dallas from Houston in exchange for Tody Smith and Billy Parks. The Cowboys selected Ed "Too Tall" Jones, a 6-9, 260-pound defensive end from Tennessee State.

PLAYOFFS MISSED — The Cowboys' record breaking string of eight straight years in the NFL playoffs was broken when the club's 8-6 record failed to qualify.

LILLY HONORED — "Mr. Cowboy" was honored on Bob Lilly Day at Texas Stadium at halftime of the Philadelphia game on Nov. 23. It was first such recognition ever given to a Dallas player. Lilly never missed a game in 14 years with the Cowboys, earning All-Pro honors seven times at defensive tackle before retiring prior to the '75 season.

TEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — The Cowboys' 10-4 record earned them the NFC Wild Card berth in the playoffs. The composite record over 10 straight winning seasons was 101-37-2.

THIRD NFC TITLE — After shocking Minnesota in the first round, 17-14 on Roger Staubach's 50-yard "Hail Mary" pass to Drew Pearson, the Cowboys traveled to Los Angeles for the NFC showdown. Staubach threw four touchdown passes, three to Preston Pearson, and Dallas won, 37-7. Pittsburgh won Super Bowl X on Jan. 18 in Miami, 21-17.

MEREDITH, PERKINS HONORED — Former Cowboys greats Don Meredith and Don Perkins joined Bob Lilly in the Ring of Honor at Texas Stadium during halftime ceremonies at the New York Giants game on Nov. 7.

ELEVEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — The Cowboys won the NFC Eastern Division title with their 11-3 record, giving them their 11th straight winning season and 10th playoff berth in that period. A 14-12 first round loss to Los Angeles — the first time Dallas had lost in the first round under the current playoff setup — ended the season.

HOWLEY HONORED — Former All-Pro linebacker Chuck Howley, a Cowboy from 1961 through 1973, became the fourth member of the Ring of Honor. Howley was honored during ceremonies at halftime of the Detroit Lions game on Oct. 30.

TWELVE STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — Getting off to an 8-0 start, their best ever, the Cowboys rolled to a 12-2 record, the championship of the NFC East, and their 12th consecutive winning season. They opened their 11th visit to the playoffs in those 12 years with a 37-7 first-round victory over the Chicago Bears at Texas Stadium.

FOURTH NFC TITLE — Dallas crushed the Minnesota Vikings at Texas Stadium, 23-6, for National Conference crown No. 4 and the right to meet the Denver Broncos in Super Bowl XII.

SECOND WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP — The Cowboys stopped the Denver Broncos, 27-10, to win Super Bowl XII in New Orleans on January 15, 1978. In the process, Dallas tied Minnesota for most Super Bowl appearances (four) and Green Bay, Miami and Pittsburgh for most Super Bowl victories (two). Defensive linemen Harvey Martin and Randy White were named co-Most Valuable Players in the game.

THIRTEEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — After a mediocre 6-4 start, the Cowboys won six straight games to finish the expanded regular season with a 12-4 record and their 10th division crown. It marked the Cowboys' 13th consecutive winning season and 12th trip to the playoffs in that span. Dallas rallied to beat Atlanta 27-20 in a divisional playoff at Texas

Stadium, sending the Cowboys to their seventh NFC championship game in the past nine years.

FIFTH NFC TITLE — Dallas shut out the Rams in Los Angeles 28-0 in the National Conference title game to advance to the Super Bowl a record fifth time, including three of the last four. In the first Super Bowl rematch, Pittsburgh edged the Cowboys 35-31 for the NFL championship on Jan. 21 in Miami's Orange Bowl.

TWENTIETH ANNIVERSARY — The Cowboys celebrated their 20th anniversary season at halftime of the St. Louis Cardinals game at Texas Stadium on Oct. 21. Stars from each of those 20 seasons plus Coach Tom Landry were introduced during the halftime ceremonies.

FOURTH STRAIGHT NFC EAST TITLE — Rallying from a mid-season slump the Cowboys won their final three games to finish with an 11-5 record, their 11th division championship, including the past four NFC East titles, and 14th consecutive winning season. The Cowboys made their 13th trip to the playoffs in those 14 years, but were eliminated by Los Angeles 21-19 in a divisional playoff at Texas Stadium.

STAUBACH RETIRES — At a press conference at Texas Stadium on March 31, quarterback Roger Staubach announced his retirement after 11 record-breaking years with the Cowboys. Staubach held all major Cowboys' passing records and was the all-time leading NFL passer.

LILLY ENTERS HALL OF FAME — Bob Lilly, a seven-time All-Pro defensive tackle in his 14-year career with the Cowboys from 1961-74, became the first Cowboys' player to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Enshrined along with Lilly on Aug. 2 at Canton, Ohio, were Herb Adderley, who played for the Cowboys from 1970-71, Jim Otto and Deacon Jones.

FIFTEEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — Behind new starting quarterback Danny White, the Cowboys rolled to their 15th consecutive winning season with a surprising 12-4 record, tied for best in the league with Philadelphia and Atlanta. The Cowboys lost the NFC East title to Philadelphia on a tie-breaker, but entered the playoffs for the 14th time in 15 years, this time as a wild card team. The Cowboys beat Los Angeles 34-13 at Texas Stadium in the NFC Wild Card Game and rallied past the Falcons at Atlanta 30-27 to advance to the NFC Championship Game at Philadelphia. But the Cowboys lost 20-7 in their bid for a sixth Super Bowl appearance.

LANDRY'S 200th VICTORY — Tom Landry joined George Halas and Curly Lambeau as the only coaches with 200 NFL victories when the Cowboys beat Los Angeles 34-13 on Dec. 28 at Texas Stadium in the NFC Wild Card Game, raising Landry's record to 200-119-6, counting regular season and playoff games.

RENFRO HONORED — Former All-Pro defensive back Mel Renfro, the Cowboys' all-time leading pass interceptor, became the fifth member of the Cowboys' Ring of Honor. Renfro, who played for Dallas from 1964 through 1977, was honored during halftime ceremonies of the Cowboys-Miami Dolphins game at Texas Stadium Oct. 25.

TWELFTH DIVISION CHAMPIONSHIP — The Cowboys regained the NFC Eastern Division Championship, their 12th division title since 1966, with a 12-4 record and tied Oakland's NFL mark of 16 consecutive winning seasons. Entering the playoffs for the 15th time in that span, the Cowboys advanced to the NFC Championship Game for the ninth time in 12 years by routing Tampa Bay 38-0 at Texas Stadium. But for the second year in a row Dallas lost the conference title game. San Francisco scored a last-minute touchdown at Candlestick Park to edge the Cowboys 28-27 for a berth in Super Bowl XVI.

200TH REGULAR-SEASON VICTORY — The Cowboys beat Washington 24-10 at RFK

Stadium on Dec. 5 for the club's and Coach Tom Landry's 200th regular season victory.

SEVENTEEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — The Cowboys finished the strike-shortened regular season with a 6-3 record to establish an NFL record of 17 consecutive winning seasons. Entering the playoffs for a record-tying eighth straight year and for the 16th time in 17 years, the Cowboys beat Tampa Bay 30-17 and Green Bay 37-26, both at Texas Stadium, to advance to the NFC Championship Game for the third year in a row. But again the Cowboys come up short, losing 31-17 at Washington.

STAUBACH HONORED — Former quarterback Roger Staubach, who led the Cowboys to four Super Bowls, became the sixth member of the Ring of Honor during halftime ceremonies of the Cowboys-Tampa Bay game on Oct. 9.

NEW HEADQUARTERS — Ground was broken on Nov. 29 for the Cowboys' new headquarters and training facility at The Valley Ranch in northwest Dallas County.

EIGHTEEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — The Cowboys extended their NFL record to 18 consecutive winning seasons with a 12-4 finish. The club also set a league record with its ninth straight playoff appearance, qualifying as a wild card entry. The Los Angeles Rams eliminated the Cowboys from the playoffs, however, with a 24-17 upset victory at Texas Stadium in the NFC Wild Card Game on Dec. 26.

SILVER SEASON — The Cowboys kicked off their 25th anniversary with a news conference at Texas Stadium on Jan. 27. Club President Tex Schramm announced the Cowboys would celebrate their 25th anniversary during 1984 under the theme "Silver Season."

OWNERSHIP CHANGES HANDS — The sale of the Cowboys from the Murchison family to an 11-member limited partnership headed by Dallas businessman H.R. "Bum" Bright was approved by NFL owners on March 19 at the league's annual meeting in Honolulu. The sale was completed on May 18.

COWBOYS CENTER — The Cowboys and Triland International announced plans on March 27 for Cowboys Center, an innovative joint venture that will develop business opportunities in a conference center, Cowboys ShowPlace, athletic club, sports arena, office park, housing, and retail and restaurant outlets on 200 acres at The Valley Ranch, adjacent to the Cowboys' new headquarters.

NINETEEN STRAIGHT WINNING SEASONS — The Cowboys defeated the Eagles 26-10 in Philadelphia to extend their NFL record to 19 consecutive winning seasons. The Cowboys finished 9-7 and missed the playoffs for the first time in 10 years and only the second time in 19 years.

STAUBACH ENTERS HALL OF FAME — Roger Staubach, the master of the comeback victory during his 11-year career as a Cowboys quarterback, was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility. Enshrined with Staubach on Aug. 3 at Canton, Ohio, were Pete Rozelle, Joe Namath, O.J. Simpson and Frank Gatski. Staubach joined Bob Lilly as the only players who spent their entire career with the Cowboys to be elected to the Hall of Fame.

TEXAS STADIUM IMPROVEMENTS — Texas Stadium unveiled a new look when the Cowboys opened their preseason schedule against Green Bay on Aug. 10. The stadium became the first to have two DiamondVision color scoreboards, and the addition of 118 Crown Suites gave Texas Stadium more private suites, 296, than any stadium in the nation.

COWBOYS RANCH OPENS — Cowboys players and coaches reported on Aug. 27 to the team's new headquarters and training facility at Cowboys Center in Valley Ranch.

DORSETT PASSES 10,000 YARDS — On a 19-yard sweep around left end, Tony Dorsett, became the sixth player in NFL history to rush for 10,000 yards. Dorsett's feat highlighted a 27-13 victory over Pittsburgh at Texas Stadium on Oct. 13.

THIRTEENTH DIVISION CHAMPIONSHIP — The Cowboys edged the New York Giants 28-21 on Dec. 15 at Texas Stadium to capture the NFC Eastern Division championship for the first time since 1981. Picked in most season previews to finish third or fourth in the division, the Cowboys rallied for their NFL record 20th consecutive winning season, a 13th division title in 20 years and a playoff berth for the 18th time in that span. But in their NFL record 36th playoff game appearance, the Cowboys fell 20-0 to the Los Angeles Rams in Anaheim Stadium on Jan. 4.

COWBOYS GO TO LONDON — The Cowboys began preparations for their first trip to a foreign country when the NFL announced on March 12 that the Cowboys would play the Super Bowl champion Chicago Bears in a preseason game at London's Wembley Stadium on Aug. 3.

100TH WIN AT TEXAS STADIUM — Dallas defeated St. Louis 37-6 for the club's 100th victory at Texas Stadium. Since the facility opened in 1971 the Cowboys have compiled a 100-25 (.800) record.

STREAK BROKEN — The Cowboys' streak of 20 consecutive winning seasons from 1966 through 1985, third longest in professional sports history, came to an end when the club finished with a 7-9 record after losing seven of its last eight games. Only baseball's New York Yankees (39 straight winning seasons, 1962-64) and hockey's Montreal Canadiens (32 from 1951-52 through 1982-83) surpassed the Cowboys' accomplishments. After the 1986 season, the Washington Redskins' five straight winning campaigns (1982-86) represented the NFL's longest active streak.

FOUNDER DIES — Cowboys founder Clint Murchison, Jr., died March 30 after a long illness. Murchison, 63, who owned the club until 1984, acquired the expansion Dallas franchise in the NFL in 1960. He hired Tex Schramm as general manager, gave Tom Landry a 10-year contract when his coaching career was in doubt in 1964 and was instrumental in the building of Texas Stadium.

DORSETT GETS 12,000 YARDS — Tony Dorsett became the fourth rusher in NFL history to gain more than 12,000 yards when he registered 52 yards against the Rams on Dec. 21 for a career total of 12,036. The only runners ahead of Dorsett were Walter Payton, Jim Brown and Franco Harris.

LANDRY TIES LAMBEAU — Dallas opened the 1988 season against Pittsburgh on Sept. 12 and Tom Landry tied an NFL record held by Curly Lambeau by coaching in his 29th consecutive season with the same team. Lambeau led the Green Bay Packers from 1921-49.

JONES ACQUIRES COWBOYS, NAMED JOHNSON COACH — Jerry Jones reached an agreement to purchase the Cowboys from Bum Bright on Feb. 25 and announced that University of Miami Coach Jimmy Johnson would replace Tom Landry.

SALE APPROVED, SCHRAMM RESIGNS — The sale of the Cowboys to Jerry Jones was unanimously approved by NFL owners on April 18 at a special meeting in New York. At the same meeting Tex Schramm was named president of the new World League of American Football. He announced his resignation as president and general manager of the Cowboys after 29 years with the club.

AIKMAN SIGNED — The Cowboys, holding the No. 1 pick in the NFL Draft for only the second time in their history, announced the signing of quarterback Troy Aikman to a six-year contract on April 20.

AUSTIN TRAINING CAMP — Beginning on July 18, nearly 100,000 fans visit the Cowboys' first ever in-state training camp at St. Edward's University in Austin.

LANDRY ENTERS HALL OF FAME — Tom Landry, who led the Cowboys to five Super Bowls and 20 consecutive winning seasons as the Cowboys head coach from 1960-88, was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility. Enshrined on Aug. 4 at Canton, Ohio, Landry joined former Dallas players Bob Lilly and Roger Staubach as the only Hall of Fame members who built their achievements with the Cowboys.

SMITH ROOKIE OF THE YEAR, JOHNSON COACH OF THE YEAR — Following a dramatic turn-around season where the team posted a 7-9 record and missed the playoffs by one game, Jimmy Johnson was named the NFL Coach of the Year by the Associated Press. Running back Emmitt Smith, who led all NFL rookie running backs in rushing yardage and touchdowns, was named the A.P.'s NFC Offensive Rookie of the Year.

RECORD DRAFT HAUL INCLUDES MARYLAND AS NO. 1 OVERALL PICK — After a pre-draft trade with the New England Patriots, the Cowboys used the No. 1 overall selection in the NFL Draft for only the third time in franchise history. Dallas chose Outland Trophy winner Russell Maryland (DT) with the top pick. The Cowboys went on to acquire 16 more choices, setting a club record for most selections in a 12 round draft with 17 overall.

SCHRAMM ENTERS HALL OF FAME — One of the NFL's true innovators, and the guiding force behind the development of America's Team, Tex Schramm was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on July 27, 1991. Schramm, who served as the President and General Manager of the Dallas Cowboys from the team's conception in 1960 until his retirement in 1989, joined Staubach, Lilly and Landry with his enshrinement in Canton, Ohio.

RETURN TO THE PLAYOFFS — After winning the final five games of the season, Dallas finished with an 11-5 record — the team's best mark since the 1983 season. The initial spark to the winning streak was a 24-21 win over the eventual World Champion Washington Redskins on Nov. 24. The win, at Washington's RFK Stadium, ended the Redskins' bid for a perfect regular season after 11 straight wins. Dallas finished second in the NFC East and qualified as the NFC's No. 2 Wild Card Playoff entry, marking the club's first post season trip since 1985. Dallas traveled to Chicago and defeated the Bears 17-13 in the opening round Wild Card Game before dropping a 38-6 decision at Detroit the following week.

SMITH AND IRVIN LEAD NFL — Running back Emmitt Smith and wide receiver Michael Irvin became the first two players from the same team to lead the NFL in rushing yardage and receiving yardage in the same season. Smith had 1,563 yards rushing, while Irvin set single season club records for receptions (93) and receiving yardage (1,523). Both players were named to the NFC Pro Bowl squad along with tight end Jay Novacek and quarterback Troy Aikman. The Cowboys sent four offensive players to the Pro Bowl for the first time since 1979, and Irvin was named the MVP of the Pro Bowl Game.

JONES NAMED TO COMPETITION COMMITTEE — On May 1, Jerry Jones, was appointed to the NFL's Competition Committee by Commissioner Paul Tagliabue. Jones became the first owner to serve on the prestigious committee since the death of Cincinnati's Paul Brown.

FOURTEENTH DIVISION CHAMPIONSHIP — Before a national television audience on ABC's Monday Night Football, the Cowboys defeated the Atlanta Falcons (41-17) at the Georgia Dome to claim the NFC Eastern Division Championship. The victory marked the Cowboys' first divisional title since 1985.

RECORD NUMBER OF OFFENSIVE PRO BOWL SELECTIONS — Six players from the Cowboys offense were selected to play in the Pro Bowl: RB Emmitt Smith, TE Jay Novacek, QB Troy Aikman, WR Michael Irvin, G Nate Newton and C Mark Stepnoski. The six players establish a Dallas Cowboys' record for most offensive players selected to the Pro Bowl.

CLUB RECORD FOR VICTORIES/SMITH EARNS SECOND RUSHING TITLE — On December 27, Dallas defeated Chicago by a 17-14 score at Texas Stadium. The victory was the 13th of the year for Dallas, establishing a new club record for victories in a season. In the Bears game, Emmitt Smith finished the season with 1,713 rushing yards, enabling Smith to become the first player to win back-to-back NFL rushing titles since Eric Dickerson (1983-84).

ROAD ATTENDANCE RECORD SET — The Cowboys set a new team record for road attendance by averaging 72,523 fans per road game in 1992. The team also played before a sold-out stadium in all 16 regular season games for the first time since the 1981 season.

SIXTH NFC TITLE — On January 17, 1993, the Cowboys defeated the San Francisco 49ers by a 30-20 score at Candlestick Park. The victory sends Dallas to Super Bowl XXVII in Pasadena, marking the Cowboys first NFC title, and the Super Bowl trip, since 1978.

THIRD WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP — While making an NFL record sixth Super Bowl appearance, the Cowboys defeated Buffalo 52-17 in Super Bowl XXVII at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena on Jan. 31, 1993. The victory enabled the Cowboys to become the only franchise in NFL history to win more than one Super Bowl under two different ownerships. The Super Bowl crowd of 98,374 was the largest crowd to ever witness a Dallas Cowboys game. The game was also witnessed by 133.4 million television viewers, making Super Bowl XXVII the most watched event in television history.

WHITE HOUSE VISIT— The Super Bowl Champion Dallas Cowboys became the first athletic team to visit the White House under the Clinton administration. The Cowboys team visit to the White House was the first in club history. (March 5)

RECORD NUMBER OF PRO BOWL SELECTIONS — An NFC-record 11 Dallas players are selected to the Pro Bowl. That group includes a club-record eight offensive selections (seven Pro Bowl starters).

FIFTEENTH DIVISION CHAMPIONSHIP — In the final game of the regular season, the Cowboys defeat the New York Giants 16-13 in overtime at Giants Stadium to claim their 15th division crown and their second consecutive NFC East title. (Jan. 2)

SMITH EARNS THIRD RUSHING TITLE — Emmitt Smith finishes the season with 1,486 yards to earn his third straight NFL rushing crown. He becomes just the fourth man in NFL history to win three consecutive rushing titles.

SEVENTH NFC TITLE — Dallas defeats San Francisco 38-21 in the NFC Championship Game at Texas Stadium. The victory gives the Cowboys an NFL-record seventh conference championship in the first conference title game to be played at Texas Stadium since January 1, 1978 (a 23-6 win over Minnesota).

FOURTH WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP — Dallas becomes one of just three NFL teams to win four Super Bowls by defeating Buffalo (30-13) in Super Bowl XXVIII. The game, played at the Georgia Dome in Atlanta, featured two rushing touchdowns by Super Bowl MVP Emmitt Smith. Dallas raised its NFL record number of Super Bowl appearances to seven (one fourth of all the Super Bowl games played).

SWITZER NAMED HEAD COACH — Barry Switzer is named the new head coach of the Dallas Cowboys—and the third head coach in team history on March 30. Switzer replaces Jimmy Johnson, who stepped down as the Cowboys' head coach the previous day.

THE SIDELINES

TEXAS STADIUM

The glittering showcase of Cowboys Football is Texas Stadium, a state-of-the-art modern football facility which opened on October 24, 1971 with a 44-21 Cowboys victory over New England.

Located in the Dallas suburb of Irving, Texas Stadium has a seating capacity of 65,846 and features two DiamondVision color replay screens, 360 luxury suites, 52 concession stands, 40 specialty stands, 86 restrooms, 115 drinking fountains and 130 acres of parking. Texas Stadium's most unique feature is the partial roof which covers fans from inclement weather, but leaves the game outdoors. Texas Stadium also boasts the luxurious Stadium Club, one of Dallas' premier locations for private parties, banquets and convention gatherings.

The Corral, outside Gate 8, features food, beverage, entertainment and large screen televisions for fan hospitality before, during, and after all Cowboys home games and special events.

Complete banquet, catering and special event services are available for private groups at Texas Stadium. Information on hosting an event can be obtained by calling 214-554-6368.

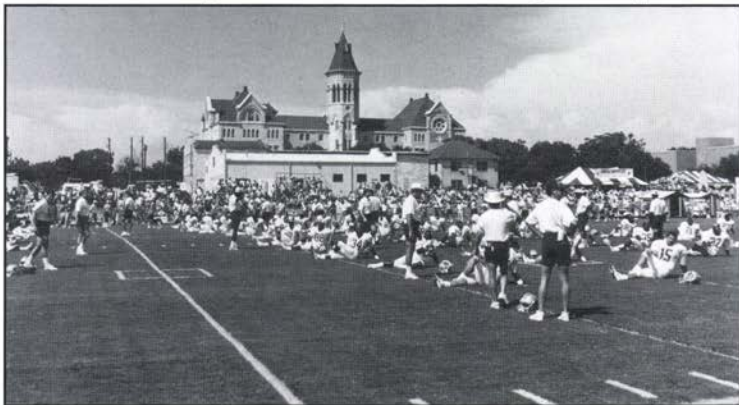

Tours of Texas Stadium are available Monday through Friday at 10:00 a.m. and 2:00 p.m., and on Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, when no events are scheduled, at 11:00 a.m., 12:30 p.m., and 2:00 p.m. Call 214-438-7676 for more information.

The Cowboys souvenir shop, The Pro Shop, is also open daily on the grounds outside the stadium at Gate 8.

Cowboys Summer Training Camp

One of the annual highlights for Dallas Cowboys fans is the opportunity to visit Dallas Cowboys Training Camp at St. Edward's University in Austin, Texas. The 1994 camp marks the team's fifth year in Austin.

St. Edward's is a convenient location for Cowboys fans throughout Texas and the neighboring states. In each of the past four seasons, the Cowboys have drawn an average of nearly 100,000 fans to the summer practice sessions and the annual scrimmages with other NFL teams.

The camp at St. Ed's offers a rare opportunity for Cowboy's fans from all over the State of Texas and the Southwest to get an "up close and personal look" at their favorite team. "Autograph Alley" is a daily ritual for fans attending practice sessions that are open to the public.

Some of the training camp activities that take place each year include the Cowboys' Golf Tournament, The Blue-White Game, scrimmages with other NFL teams and several autograph opportunities.

Training Camp Facts

- LOCATION: St. Edward's University, Austin, Texas, 78704.
St. Edward's is located approximately three miles south of downtown Austin just off of Interstate 35. Exit off I-35 at the Woodward Avenue/St. Edward's exit. Proceed west on Woodward Avenue for one half mile to the campus (on the right).
- DATES: Camp is usually held from mid-July to mid-August.
- AUSTIN: Austin is the Capital of the State of Texas, and it is the only state capital that is the training camp home of an NFL franchise. it is the fourth largest city in the State of Texas, and 70% of the state's population is within 200 miles of Austin.
- PRACTICES: Cowboys practice sessions at St. Edward's are open to the public free of charge. Public parking is not available on campus during practice times.
- INFORMATION: Further information on Cowboys training camp, and training camp sponsorships, can be obtained by calling the Dallas Cowboys Offices in Irving at 214-556-9900.

Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders

The Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders recently reached a major milestone in the entertainment industry by making more international entertainment trips to U.S. military bases than any other professional performer or group over the course of the past decade. In 1994 the world famous organization celebrates their 23rd season on the sidelines of Texas Stadium.

The Cowboys transformed the idea of sideline cheerleaders in 1972 when they mixed a unique blend of glamour and dance with an old football tradition. Nobody at the time predicted the Dallas Cowboys Cheerleaders would become an international phenomenon, but that's precisely what happened.

The image and style of the Cowboys Cheerleaders has had an enormous influence on entertainment in sports. But while the Cowboys Cheerleaders have been imitated throughout the sports world, no one has been able to equal their stature.

The strength of their national popularity was evident during the 1970's when two made-for-TV movies about the Cowboys Cheerleaders drew top ratings.

Besides being an integral part of Cowboys games at Texas Stadium, the Cheerleaders perform at numerous state fairs, college halftime shows and other events around the country.

The Cowboys Cheerleaders also donate their time to many charitable and civic causes. Every year the Cheerleaders visit hospitals, nursing homes and schools. They perform at telethons and other fund-raising events around the United States, and they bring their special brand of goodwill to American military bases in places like Korea, the Philippines, Cuba, Panama, the Indian Ocean and the Persian Gulf.

The Cowboys Cheerleaders' annual USO/Department of Defense tours every Christmas and spring have become a special tradition. Since 1979 the Cheerleaders have visited and entertained hundreds of thousands of United States military personnel all over the world on 26 USO/DD tours.

Cowboys on Radio

For the fourth straight year, KVIL-FM 103.7 will bring stereo sound to the National Football League with its broadcast of all Dallas Cowboys football games. State-of-the-art technology enables KVIL-FM to broadcast Cowboys games at home and away to a Metroplex audience in "close-up" stereo. Once again, KVIL will originate all games broadcast across "The Dallas Cowboys Radio Network," consisting of 97 stations in 91 markets and 18 states.

The veteran voice of the Dallas Cowboys, Brad Sham will again handle the play-by-play, while Dale Hansen brings his unique insights to the color commentary. KVIL's creative approach to pre-game coverage begins two hours prior to each kickoff. Live post-game locker room interviews with players and coaches will follow each game.

KVIL's coverage continues through the week with special programming that features Cowboys Owner Jerry Jones, Head Coach Barry Switzer and selected star players. Cowboy coverage extends on a daily basis with KVIL's exclusive "Two Minute Drill."

Cowboys games will also be broadcast in Spanish on the "Dallas Cowboys Radio Network in Spanish" to over 30 stations throughout Texas, the southwest and Mexico. Mario Montez and Israel Aguilar will call the action for the Cowboys games that will originate on KESS-AM in the Dallas/Fort Worth area.

Cowboys on Television

Silverstar Network

The SilverStar Network is the television production and syndication unit of the Dallas Cowboys Football Club. Now in its fifth year, the SilverStar Network produces and distributes some of the most-watched programs in the region — Dallas Cowboys preseason games, weekly programs, and specials throughout the year. These programs are televised in Dallas/Fort Worth and in 25 other markets throughout the states of Texas, Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico and Oklahoma.

The Cowboys weekly shows during the preseason and regular season keep Dallas Cowboys fans abreast of the latest Cowboys stories making news and of key issues in the National Football League:

“Cowboys Special Edition with Jerry Jones”

Airs Saturdays at 6:30 p.m. Central from July 16, 1994 through January 15, 1995, on KDFW TV-4 in Dallas/Fort Worth, and at locally scheduled times throughout the Dallas Cowboys syndicated network.

“The Barry Switzer Show”

Airs Sundays at 10:30 a.m. Central from September 4, 1994, through January 15, 1995, on KDFW TV-4 in Dallas/Fort Worth, and at locally scheduled times throughout the Dallas Cowboys syndicated network.

“Satellite Services”

The SilverStar Network also provides uplink, downlink and microwave transmissions to the broadcast industry. The C-Band and microwave systems have been in operation since 1986, providing transmission for all Dallas Cowboys home games and numerous other broadcasts for all national networks and several cable networks. A new state-of-the-art Ku-Band transportable unit rounds out the satellite services offered. In addition, the SilverStar Network offers turn-key video and uplink services for interviews of players and coaches from the television production studio located in the Cowboys training facility. For more information and to book satellite services, call Rose Becker at (214) 556-9331.

“Dallas Cowboys Weekly”

“Dallas Cowboys Weekly” remains the largest team publication in sports with a circulation of nearly 50,000. Published by Russ Russell and edited by Jim Browder, the 19-year-old Cowboys Weekly reaches fans across the nation 32 times a year with action photos, game stories, inside information, profiles of players and cheerleaders and much more. Fans interested in subscribing to the DCW should call 214-556-9972. An annual subscription for 32 issues is priced at $33.00.

Entertainment Activities

★ Bill Lively

Bill Lively is the Cowboys' executive entertainment producer. Named to the position in 1989, Lively coordinates the presentation of all entertainment components of Dallas Cowboys football games at Texas Stadium.

The entertainment presentation at Cowboys games is recognized throughout the NFL as one of the most complete and state-of-the-art productions in all of professional sports. That entertainment includes the Cowboys Cheerleaders, DiamondVision scoreboard, public address announcer, recorded music, strolling bands outside the stadium, the Cowboys Trumpets plus pregame and halftime events.

Lively is also the Vice President for University Advancement at Southern Methodist University. He directed the Cowboys Band for 14 years and is the former director of the SMU Band.

★ Murphy Martin

The Voice of Texas Stadium, Murphy Martin, returns to his familiar role as the Dallas Cowboys public address announcer again in 1994. A veteran network news anchorman, Martin has handled nearly every type of P.A. responsibility at Texas Stadium for the past 19 years.

Martin has also manned the public address announcer's booth for the pregame and half-time festivities at three NFL Super Bowls.

Cowboys Attendance Records

The Cowboys played in the Cotton Bowl (capacity 72,132 in 1970) from 1960 until Texas Stadium was opened on Oct. 24, 1971 against New England. In 1985 seats were removed from Texas Stadium to make room for 118 Crown Suites.
