On The Cover

Featured on the cover is an artistic rendering by Denver artist Jay Snellgrove of Broncos quarterback John Elway and tackle Gary Zimmerman celebrating Elway's passage into NFL history Nov. 5, 1995, when he eclipsed the 40,000-yard career passing mark in a game against the Arizona Cardinals. Elway became just the seventh player in professional football history to pass for more than 40,000 yards in his career, and was the fourth-fastest to do so, in terms of game played. Snellgrove's work is done in a stipple technique with colored ink.

THE PAUL D. BOWLEN MEMORIAL BRONCOS CENTRE

On March 5, 1990 the Denver Broncos moved into the Paul D. Bowlen Memorial Broncos Centre, the new, state-of-the-art headquarters for the National Football League team. The complex is named for the Bronco owner's late father, and is the culmination of Pat Bowlen's desire to maximize a positive working environment for his team, which was the only American Football Conference club to appear in the three Super Bowls during the 1980s.

The training facility is situated on 13.5 acres in the rapidly expanding Dove Valley Business Park in south Arapahoe County. It includes an administrative building, two full-size practice fields and a smaller workout field.

The Bowlen Broncos Centre is a two-story building totaling 59,000 square feet, well over twice the size of the team's previous facility. The ground floor houses the main entry, visitors area and trophy display area, and media room, in addition to the play-related facilities, which encompass the locker room, meeting rooms, training area, weight room, equipment room, and video department.

It is on the second level, which is accessible through two stairways adjacent to the lobby area, that most of the administrative offices are located. These include the offices for Pat Bowlen, Mike Shanahan, and John Beake, as well as those of all assistant coaches and football operations personnel. The second floor is divided into one wing for administrative offices and another for coaches and meeting rooms. The Broncos' extensive computer operation also is located on the second floor.

There is ample practice space now available for use by the Broncos, as both practice fields are 100 yards and one of them has a unique design system that includes underground wiring to prevent the turf from freezing and thus allows the Broncos to practice year-round on unfrozen natural grass. The complex also includes a smaller, 50-yard natural grass workout field and the Broncos' indoor "bubble," which houses a 70-yard artificial turf field.

The expansive weight room and training room are among the largest in the entire league, and the Bowlen Centre also includes a separate building that houses two racquetball courts for training and leisure use by players and staff members.

PRESIDENT AND CHIEF EXCECUTIVE OFFICER

PAT BOWLEN

No one in the Denver Broncos organization — nor in the city of Denver — has a greater desire to win a championship than Pat Bowlen. As a natural element of his total financial and philosophical commitment to the team, it is Bowlen himself who determines the team direction and infuses the Broncos with the drive to reach that lofty standard.

Both in Denver and within the structure of the National Football League, the Broncos President and Chief Executive Officer has earned a reputation as a bold, dynamic leader who is single-minded in his pursuit of excellence.

Now into his second full decade as the Broncos' owner, Pat Bowlen comes into 1996 with his franchise building on an almost unmatched level of success attained during his first 12 years. His addition of Mike Shanahan as head coach and the Broncos' typically strong approach to free agency has Denver fans excited about the new era of pro football in the Mile High City.

Whether judged by the aggressive pursuit of talent, by accomplishment on the field, or by attendance and fan interest demonstrated by a continuing string of sellout games, the Broncos' record of the last 12 years is matched by few teams in the NFL.

Nineteen ninety-six will be the 27th straight year of home sellouts at Mile High Stadium, longest in the American Football Conference, and that streak is just one measure of the Pat Bowlen success story in Denver.

During his tenure as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Broncos (1984-96) Bowlen's team has dominated the American Football Conference Western Division in posting more division titles (five), conference Championship Game appearances (four), and Super Bowl appearances (three) than any other club in the division. Under Bowlen's leadership the Broncos have had six playoff appearances and just three losing seasons.

The 1995 campaign began a new era both for the Broncos and the NFL, and Pat Bowlen played an integral role in both, selecting a dynamic new head coach in Mike Shanahan while also having had a pivotal role in the creation of the new collective bargaining agreement and the new television contract, changing the face of professional football in the process.

The Broncos' dynamic chief executive followed up the hiring of Shanahan by once again becoming a major player in the league's free agency. Under Bowlen's leadership Denver has been very aggressive in the marketplace, in the last two years adding 17 unrestricted free agents to the Denver roster.

In addition, future Hall of Fame quarterback John Elway is signed to a contract that places the superstar signal-caller at the pinnacle of the NFL's salary structure.

Bowlen has made all these moves with one goal unchanged–to aggressively position the Broncos for yet another run at a Super Bowl championship for the Mile High City.

In addition to his role with the Broncos, Bowlen was a key figure in spearheading both the league's labor and TV contracts. He has been a member of the NFL Management Council Executive Committee, and is currently the Chairman of the highly prestigious NFL Broadcasting Committee, while also serving on the NFL Finance Committee. Bowlen is also a member of the NFL Enterprises/NFL Films Executive Committees, the NFL International Committee and the Board of the World League of American Football.

He presides over a franchise that by any standard has been one of the NFL's most successful in this time frame (1984-96). Bowlen has watched the Broncos play 13 postseason games in 12 years of ownership, with all regular and postseason games sold out at Mile High Stadium.

Bowlen was introduced as the Broncos' majority owner on March 23, 1984, and he and his family acquired total ownership in July 1985.

A Wisconsin native, he attended the University of Oklahoma, where he earned degrees in both business (1965) and law (1968).

In 1991 Bowlen's team had the greatest turnaround in team history, finishing with a 12-4 record that included the American Football Conference Western Division title and the fourth AFC Championship Game appearance of Bowlen's vibrant ownership.

Having made several more bold personnel moves again this off-season, Bowlen's focus for the coming year is to once again put his team in line to contend for the AFC Championship that it won in 1986, 1987, and 1989. Denver was the only AFC franchise to make three Super Bowl appearances in the 1980s and without question Pat Bowlen provides the organizational thrust that has served as the catalyst to the Broncos' outstanding record.

Bowlen's Broncos represented the AFC in Super Bowls XXI (Pasadena), XXII (San Diego), and XXIV (New Orleans). In addition, Denver has had just two losing campaigns during the past 12 years.

No one sets higher standards for the Broncos than Pat Bowlen himself, whose unchanging goal is to have his franchise annually regarded among the finest in pro football, with victory being the measuring stick for that success. Thus, the goal of Denver's dynamic and energetic chief executive remains firmly set on capturing the world championship that so far has eluded the Mile High City.

The Broncos once again will pursue a championship season from their new headquarters, the Paul D. Bowlen Memorial Broncos Centre, a 59,000-square-foot state-of-the-art office and training complex in Arapahoe County's Dove Valley location. The move into this new facility, which came on March 5, 1990, accomplished one of Bowlen's significant goals, that being to upgrade the Broncos' working facility and in so doing solidify the foundation for continued success.

Bowlen's 12 years of ownership have resulted in the best home record (72-24) in the AFC. Bowlen finished second in The Sporting News 1987 Executive of the Year balloting.

He presides over a franchise that has won four division crowns and, has had regular season win totals of 13, 11, 11, 10, 11, and 12. In fact, six of the seven finest campaigns in team history have come during the Bowlen regime.

Pat Bowlen was introduced as the majority owner of the Denver Broncos on March 23, 1984, and that announcement triggered a new era in franchise history, one which has coupled success on the playing field with enthusiasm for an even brighter future.

He immediately put his own mark on the Broncos, establishing a solid administration and creating a positive atmosphere that was a major factor in the team's success both on and off the field.

The team responded with a 13-3 record and the American Football Conference Western Division championship in 1984, following that up with an 11-5 record that just barely kept the Broncos out of the playoffs in 1985.

Meanwhile, Bowlen has seen the Broncos' consecutive home game sellout streak stretch to 204 straight regular and postseason non-strike games through the end of the 1995 campaign, as Denver led the entire National Football League in actual in-stadium attendance over that 12-year period. The Broncos have drawn nearly seven million fans to Mile High Stadium from 1984-95, tops in the NFL.

Having established a solid foundation, Bowlen took a dramatic step toward the future during 1986 with the construction of 60 luxury Penthouse Suites atop the west side of Mile High Stadium.

Bowlen and the Bowlen family acquired 100% ownership of the Broncos in July of 1985. He is active in day to day operations of the football club.

Born in Prairie du Chien, Wis., he attended high school there and went on to the University of Oklahoma, where he earned degrees in both business (1965) and law (1968).

Bowlen has served as the Honorary Chairman of the Colorado Relay Classic to benefit St. Joseph's Hospital (1985-96), the Colorado Special Olympics (1986-96), and the 1989 Centennial Scholarship rally at the University of Northern Colorado in Greeley. Along with being honorary chairman of the Special Olympics, he was 1993's Outstanding Celebrity. He was also Co-Chairman of the Rose Medical Center Critical Care Campaign from 1986-89.

In addition, Bowlen was elected to the University of Denver Board of Trustees in 1987, and is active on several committees. He chairs the Athletic Affairs Committee and plays a role in the Capital Campaign for major athletic gifts, while also serving on the Buildings and Grounds Committee. His previous DU committee memberships include the Institutional Advancement Committee and Institutional Advancement/University Relations subcommittee. He was also named to the Colorado Academy Board of Trustees in 1991.

He is Chairman of the Board of the Denver Broncos Youth Foundation and President of the Denver Broncos Charities Fund.

He also serves on the Board of Trustees of the Hawaii Maritime Center and was the 1992 honoree at the American Ireland Fund dinner.

Bowlen has real estate and natural resource holdings in Alberta, as well as real estate holdings in Colorado, Arizona, and California.

Bowlen also is Chairman of the Board and Director of Hambledon Estates Limited, and Northern Development Company Limited of Edmonton.

An outstanding athlete in his own right, he has competed in the Ironman Triathlon – an event in which one must swim 2.4 miles, ride 112 miles on a bicycle, and run 26.2 miles, all consecutively – as well as in other triathlon races and several marathons.

Bowlen is a member of several clubs and societies, including the Chief Executive's Organization, the Canadian and Edmonton Bar Associations, and the Law Society of Alberta. Bowlen was also a past member of the Young President's Organization.

GENERAL MANAGER

JOHN BEAKE

The Denver Broncos come into the 1996 season with an exciting new outlook and as an organization that has been significantly restructured in the last year, with John Beake serving as one of the key individuals in implementing these changes. The coming season marks John's 12th year as the Broncos' general manager and his 28th campaign in professional football as either coach or administrator.

He has served as the Broncos' general manager longer than any other individual in team history and his tenure by far has marked the most successful era in the franchise's 36 years of play. This 12-year period includes three Super Bowl appearances, four division titles, five playoff appearances, and a continuing string of sellouts at Mile High Stadium.

A member of four Super Bowl teams during his pro football career, Beake plays a crucial role in Denver being one of the league's most active teams in pro football's free agency marketplace, in the last two years signing 17 unrestricted free agents. Working closely with team President Pat Bowlen and Head Coach Mike Shanahan in assembling an organization that represents the Broncos and the Mile High City in the most successful and positive manner, John embodies the philosophy that one should combine performance with community involvement.

As General Manager, he is responsible for all day-to-day operations of club administration, with special concentration in the area of player contract negotiations, an area in which he has had considerable experience. He also personally directs the Broncos' contractual relationships with the City of Denver, local radio, and television entities.

John has perhaps the broadest range of experience of any NFL general manager, the only one in the league who has coached championship teams on the pro, college, and high school levels, as well as having served in a wide variety of administrative roles.

Now well into his third decade in pro football, John enters the 1996 campaign in his 18th year with the Denver Broncos and his 12th season as the club's General Manager. In his previous 11 years at the Broncos' helm John has been a vital cog in a Denver club that has dominated the American Football Conference Western Division, winning more division titles (four) than any other AFC West team.

John Beake's prominence in the Broncos' hierarchy is paralleled by continuing respect within the NFL. Active in the NFL's international development, his involvement is one of the keys to the Broncos being among just two teams (along with San Francisco) to have been selected for American Bowl games in London, Tokyo, Berlin and Barcelona. Last year the Broncos played San Francisco in American Bowl '95 in Tokyo, a matchup that featured the only teams to have played in five or more American Bowl games overseas (that was San Francisco's sixth and Denver's fifth). In addition, he played an integral role in Denver being the only American Football Conference club to win three conference crowns and thus make three Super bowl appearances (XXI, XXII, and XXIV) in the 1980s.

In 1991 John was named to the Board of Directors of the World League of American Football. Now in his sixth year working with the board, he spends a considerable portion of time lending administrative guidance to the WL offices in New York. John was instrumental in determining the methodology by which 101 NFL players were provided to the WL for its 1992 campaign. Sixty-nine NFL players were allocated to the World League for the 1996 season. Along with his continuing commitment to the World League, John serves as chairman of the NFL International Working Group, which is primarily comprised of other NFL general managers and player personnel directors. He is also a member of the NFL College and Pro Relations Committee.

One of his most visible recent Bronco accomplishments has been to provide a key leadership role in the construction of and move into the team's new training facility, the Paul D. Bowlen Memorial Broncos Centre, a 59,000-square foot state-of-the-art complex in Arapahoe County. This project, several years in the planning stages, was the fulfillment of one of John's key goals as the Broncos general manager.

John continuously works on issues for Bronco season-ticket holders concerning the lease, capital improvements and fan comfort. Some of the completed improvements at Mile High Stadium include the renovation of the stadium's press box and the new theatre-styled seats throughout the stadium. These projects represent the general manager's desire to continually improve the game-day experience at Mile High Stadium.

In addition to contract involvement, one of John's prime areas of interest is working closely with city and state representatives on a variety of community concerns. For the past eight years, John has served as the chairman of the Red Ribbon Campaign, a strong educational anti-drug, chemical and substance abuse association that works in conjunction with the Colorado Federation of Parents.

An avid skier, he is on the Board of Directors of the National Sports Center for the Disabled at Winter Park, Colo., Ski Resort. The NSCD is heavily supported by the Denver Broncos Charity Fund. John is an annual participant in the Winter Park Pro-Am race to benefit the disabled skiers program.

As part of the continuing plan to broaden the team's community role and strengthen a family spirit within the club, John is very supportive of the Performing Arts Center.

John served as Assistant General Manager in 1984 and was the Broncos' Director of Football Operations the previous year, so his position at the helm of the club's administration is the culmination of a steady rise within the organization.

He joined the Broncos in 1979 as the Director of Pro Personnel and became Director of Player Personnel in 1981, having concentrated on the coaching aspects of the game prior to coming to Denver.

As assistant coach for the Kansas City Chiefs from 1968 through 1974, John was the offensive backfield coach for the Chiefs when they defeated the Minnesota Vikings to win Super Bowl IV in New Orleans. He also coached the running backs at New Orleans in 1976. On the college level, he coached at Penn State in 1961-62 and was the offensive coordinator at Colorado State University in 1975.

Upon receiving his master's degree from Penn State in 1962, John coached for six years at the high school level, where his teams lost just four games. He has a bachelor's degree from Trenton State College in New Jersey, in addition to his graduate degree from Penn State.

John and his wife, Marcia, have three children, Jerilyn, Chip, and Chris.

Head Coach

Mike Shanahan

The Denver Broncos come into 1996 as a revitalized organization under the dynamic and disciplined leadership of Head Coach Mike Shanahan, who returned to the Mile High City last year and dramatically established his regime as one driven by a single goal, that of taking the franchise to the pinnacle of the National Football League.

Renowned for his organizational ability and recognized as one of the brightest offensive strategists in football, Shanahan quickly restructured both the team and the entire football operations department of the Broncos to deal successfully with the new personnel and financial dynamics of pro football.

In his first season as the Denver Broncos' head coach, Shanahan improved the team to a .500 record (8-8) and contention in the very competitive AFC Western Division, while immediately stamping the Denver offense with his signature as the most productive unit in the AFC, finishing third in the entire NFL. Under Shanahan in 1995, the Broncos had the most prolific offense in franchise history, breaking team records in points scored (388), total yardage (6,040), total passing yardage (4,260), first downs passing (205) and highest average gain per play (5.7), while tying the team records for touchdown passes (27) and average gain per rush (4.5). At the same time, the Bronco defense improved 13 positions, from last in the NFL the previous year to 15th under Shanahan's leadership.

Denver Broncos President and Chief Executive Officer Pat Bowlen named Mike Shanahan as Head Coach of his NFL franchise on January 31, 1995, ushering in a new era for a team that has made three Super Bowl appearances under Bowlen's ownership. The Broncos' head coach has a seven-year contract and complete control of all aspects of football operations.

Shanahan, 43, came to Denver from the World Champion San Francisco 49ers, where he served as offensive coordinator for three seasons (1992-94). The 49ers' offense reached astonishing levels under Shanahan's leadership. San Francisco's three-year offensive averages under Shanahan's direction were the most productive in the history of pro football. His three-year averages included being number one in total points (an average of 470 per year), total touchdowns (61), rushing TDs (24), passing TDs (32), third-down efficiency (49%), total offense (an average of 6,225 yards annually) and average yards per play (6.2 yards per attempt).

His three-year period as offensive coordinator included the 49ers setting numerous team records during Shanahan's tenure, including the first time ever that San Francisco led the NFL in total offense in consecutive seasons (1993 and 1994), along with remarkable records for most touchdowns (66), passing yards (4,302), total offense (6,435), first downs (372), completion percentage (70.3 %), and average yards per play (6.30).

San Francisco quarterback Steve Young re-wrote many NFL passing records and was named the NFL most valuable player twice in his three years under Shanahan's guidance, in addition to throwing for six touchdowns and earning Super Bowl XXIX most valuable player honors.

During his NFL career Shanahan has been a part of teams that have played in seven AFC or NFC Championship Games, in addition to his four Super Bowl appearances, three with Denver and the Super Bowl XXIX game with San Francisco. In his nine seasons coaching at the collegiate level, Shanahan's teams participated in eight bowl games, winning two national championships.

A driving force behind the Broncos' offense for all three of their most recent Super Bowl appearances (following the 1986, 1987, and 1989 seasons), he first came to Denver in 1984 as coach of the club's wide receivers. He served as offensive coordinator from 1985-87, and then returned to Denver as quarterbacks coach on Oct. 16, 1989, after serving as head coach of the Los Angeles Raiders in 1988 and through the first four games of the 1989 campaign. Shanahan inherited a team that was 5-10 in 1987 and improved it to 7-9 his first season. After starting 1-3 the following year, he was dismissed.

His second stint in Denver included not only the 1989 Super Bowl appearance by the Broncos, but the team's fourth AFC Championship Game appearance of the Bowlen era (1991 at Buffalo), with Shanahan again serving as offensive coordinator.

A native of Oak Park, Ill. (8/24/52), Michael Edward Shanahan attended East Leyden High School in Franklin Park, where he earned numerous honors. In a student body population of 2,500, Shanahan was voted athlete of the year as well as most valuable player in both football and track. He set a still-standing single-game school record with 256 yards rushing on 17 carries (a 15.2 average).

He received a scholarship to Eastern Illinois University, where he played quarterback and lost a kidney in the spring game of his junior year, which began his coaching career a year earlier than was intended. Mike also received his bachelor's and master's degrees at EIU.

He began his coaching career at Oklahoma in 1975-76, serving as the offensive backfield and receivers coach for the Sooners, and they won the national championship in his first year on their staff (1975).

Shanahan was Northern Arizona's backfield coach in 1977 at the age of 24, and the Lumberjacks averaged a school-record 391.1 yards that season. A year later, Shanahan returned to Eastern Illinois as offensive coordinator and helped guide his alma mater to the Division II title. The year before Shanahan's arrival the team was 1-10. In 1979 he served as offensive coordinator at Minnesota, where he implemented the run-and-shoot offense, with the result being that the Gophers set 40 school offensive records. Mike moved on to Florida the following year, inheriting the second poorest offense in Division I football, as well as a team record of 0-10-1. In Mike's four years the team broke many offensive school records and went to four straight bowl games. During his stint at the college coaching level, his teams had a combined record of 77-29-3.

Recognized as one of the most dynamic offensive minds in the game, Shanahan thus was an assistant coach in college at age 21, an offensive coordinator at the Division I level by 25 and at the NFL level at 32 in his first Denver stint.

Mike and his wife Peggy have two children, son Kyle and daughter Krystal.

Assistant Coaches

Frank Bush – Linebackers

(Second season with Broncos • Fifth in NFL)

Frank Bush is in his second season as linebackers coach for the Denver Broncos after spending the previous 10 years with the Houston Oilers as a player, scout and assistant coach.

His linebacking corps will be an area to watch in 1996 following two key additions to the unit through free agency and the draft. Veteran Bill Romanowski, signed as a free agent from the Philadelphia Eagles, and John Mobley, chosen with the 15th overall selection in the '96 draft, should vastly improve the Broncos' run-stopping ability, and spearhead another year of dramatic improvement on the defensive side of the ball. In his first year in Denver, Bush's linebackers were part of a defensive unit that improved its league ranking by 13 places from the year prior to his arrival, figuring 15th overall in the NFL.

Bush's coaching career began in 1992, when he coached the linebackers for the Oilers and coached alongside Broncos special teams coach Richard Smith. Under Bush's tutelage, several members of the linebacking corps earned postseason honors as the Oilers boasted one of the most aggressive defenses in the NFL.

Before his coaching tenure with Houston, Bush was a college scout for the Oilers from 1987-92. During that period Bush was the main college scout in the Western states, helping to bring in some of the players who made the Oilers a very succesful team during his tenure.

Bush, 33, was considered one of the most talented young players during his two years in the NFL until a spinal injury prematurely ended his career. In 1985, he played in all 16 games with 11 starts and contributed 114 tackles and four sacks (including two of John Elway). For his efforts, he was selected to UPI's first-team All-NFL rookie squad.

Bush was a fifth-round draft choice of the Oilers in 1985 out of North Carolina State. As a three-year starter for the Wolfpack he recorded 247 tackles, 15 sacks and four interceptions. He majored in communications while at N.C. State.

Bush previously starred at Clarke Central High School in his hometown of Athens, Ga. While at Clarke, Bush was recruited to play football at N.C. State by current Broncos defensive coordinator Greg Robinson. Bush was born Jan. 10, 1963.

Frank and his wife, Stephanie, reside in Aurora, Colo.

Barney Chavous – Off. Line Asst. / Asst. Strength & Cond.

(Eighth season with Broncos • Eighth in NFL)

Barney Chavous is entering his eighth season with Denver, assisting Alex Gibbs with the offensive line and Rich Tuten with the strength and conditioning program. He joined the coaching staff in 1988 as a coaching intern.

During his eight-year tenure, Chavous has coached with such defensive greats as Earl Leggett (currently with New York Giants) and Pro Football Hall of Famer Ernie Stautner.

In 1995, the Broncos offensive line made a dramatic improvement under the tutelage of Gibbs and Chavous, allowing just 26 sacks the entire season, sixth-fewest in the NFL and fourth-fewest in the AFC. That number also represented a drop from 55 in 1994.

Chavous, 44, was a standout defensive end for the Broncos from 1973-85 and currently ranks third on the Broncos' all-time sacks list with 75. He is one of only seven former Broncos to play 13 or more years with the club, and also started at defensive end for the Broncos in Super Bowl XII as part of the famed "Orange Crush" defense. He finished his career having played in 182 games in a Bronco uniform (fifth all-time), including 177 starts (tied for third all-time). In 1973, he was named NFLPA Rookie of the Year and made the UPI and AP All-Rookie teams. He was also named the Pittsburgh Courier's NFL Defensive Lineman of the Year in 1976 after being a second-round draft pick of the Broncos in 1973.

Chavous was an all-conference selection while at South Carolina State, where he was a three-year starter, and was also named the team's most valuable player as a senior. He was named to the Mid-Eastern Atlantic Conference Hall of Fame and was named All-America by the Associated Press as a senior. In addition, he was inducted into the South Carolina Sports Hall of Fame in 1992.

A native of Aiken, South Carolina (3/22/51), Barney was inducted in 1987 into the Aiken County Hall of Fame. He and his wife Odessa reside in Englewood with their four children: sons Shedric and Barney Amon, and daughters Jasmine and Nikeya Monique.

Rick Dennison – Offensive Assistant

(Second season with Broncos • Second in NFL)

Rick Dennison is in his second season as a member of the Broncos coaching staff, assisting the offensive coaches. He joined the Broncos staff in 1995 after spending the previous three years coaching at Suffield Academy in Connecticut. In his current position, Dennison assists all of the offensive coaches and provides quality control work with the Broncos offense.

In 1995 the Broncos offense posted the most impressive numbers in franchise history, averaging 377.5 yards per game, best in the AFC and third-best in the NFL.

Dennison, 38, played middle linebacker for the Broncos from 1982-90, playing in 128 games, including 52 starts and three Super Bowls. In 1989, he received the Ed Block Memorial Award for Courage. He was second on the team in tackles in 1988 with 133 and led the team with three fumble recoveries. Perhaps the best performance of his career came in a 1987 playoff game against Houston when he registered eight tackles and a quarterback pressure. He also had an excellent season in 1984 when he had 164 stops and a career-high three sacks in his first full season as a starter. He was a free agent aquisition by the Broncos in 1982.

Rick joined the Broncos in 1982 after a fine college career at Colorado State where he was a second-team Academic All-American as a senior and earned three varsity letters. In 1979, Dennison received his bachelor's degree in civil engineering from CSU and then received his master's in the same field from CSU in 1982.

Dennison, born in Kalispel, Mont. (6/22/58), attended Rocky Mountain High School in Fort Collins where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. His father George is president of the University of Montana.

Rick and his sons, Joseph and Steven, reside in Englewood, Colo.

of a staff that saw Denver earn trips to two straight Super Bowls (XXI and XXII). Under Gibbs' guidance, guard Keith Bishop earned all-pro and Pro Bowl honors in 1986 and '87.

Gibbs coached at the collegiate level for 13 seasons before entering the pro ranks. He worked at Duke (1969-70) and Kentucky (1971-72) before moving to West Virginia (1973-74), where he worked under head coach Bobby Bowden. He then became the offensive coordinator/line coach at Ohio State (1975-78) where his line troops opened up the holes that enabled Archie Griffin to claim back-to-back Heisman Trophy awards. In 1979, Gibbs became offensive coordinator at Auburn, a position he held for three seasons. He then coached the offensive line at Georgia from 1982-83. Gibbs also spent three years at Mount Airy (N.C.) High School where he won a pair of state championships.

Gibbs, 55, is a native of Morganton, N.C., where he was a running back and defensive back at Davidson College. He studied pre-law and then earned his master's degree from the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill in European history, and later received his doctorate in education from Auburn.

Gibbs is not the only athlete in his family. His son David was a defensive back on Colorado's 1990 National Championship team, and one of his teammates was current Bronco defensive back Ronnie Bradford. Gibbs' son Mark played at UCLA, and his son Chuck played for Army. David is currently the defensive backs coach at Kansas.

Alex (3/22/41) resides in Englewood, Colo. He is the father of five children: sons Steve, David, Chuck and Mark, and daughter Sandy.

Mike Heimerdinger – Wide Receivers

(Second season with Broncos • Second in NFL)

Mike Heimerdinger is in his second year as the Broncos wide receivers coach, coming off a successful first season in which his pupil Anthony Miller made the Pro Bowl and set a franchise record with 14 touchdown receptions. Overall, Heimerdinger's receivers helped propel the Broncos' offense to its most prolific statistical showing ever.

Heimerdinger came to Denver in 1995 from Duke University where he was the offensive coordinator and also coached the offensive backs during 1994. In his one season at Duke he directed an offense that finished 15th in the country in scoring (32.7 per game), putting up over 40 points on five occasions. The Blue Devils enjoyed one of the finest seasons in school history in 1994, as they finished with an 8-3 regular season record and earned a bid to the Hall of Fame Bowl, only their second bowl appearance in 35 years.

Heimerdinger also helped to develop the skills of running back Robert Baldwin, who led the Atlantic Coast Conference in rushing with 1,187 yards and also had 12 touchdowns.

The 42-year old Heimerdinger has a history of running successful offensive units. While coaching at Rice from 1989-93, he ran an attack that produced 1991 Doak Walker Award winner Trevor Cobb and quarterbacks Donald Hollas and Bert Emmanuel. The Owls pulled off a rare feat during Heimerdinger's tenure, as they produced the school's first back-to-back winning seasons since 1960-61.

Prior to his stay with Rice, Heimerdinger was the offensive coordinator at Cal State Fullerton in 1988. One of the offensive records that his unit produced that season was the school record for most points in a game (58).

Heimerdinger was also an assistant at the University of Florida in 1980, and then again from 1983-87. While at Gainesville, he was on the same staff as Broncos head coach Mike Shanahan (from 1980-83) and Bronco strength coach Rich Tuten (from 1979-88 and 1993-94). With Shanahan as offensive coordinator and Heimerdinger as receivers coach, the Gators were among the nation's top passing teams. They also enjoyed bowl success during Heimerdinger's tenure, as they played in the 1983 Gator Bowl and 1987 Aloha Bowl, while also posting identical 9-1-1 records in both 1984 and 1985.

In 1982, Heimerdinger coached the quarterbacks at North Texas after serving one season at Air Force. He started his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Florida in 1980 after a five-year stint as head coach at Johnsburgh High School in McHenry, Illinois.

Heimerdinger earned his bachelor's degree in education in 1975 from Eastern Illinois where he played wide receiver from 1970-74. He also played for the Panther's baseball team as a centerfielder, going to the Div. II College World Series in 1974.

Heimerdinger was born in Dekalb, Ill., on Oct. 13, 1952. He and his wife Kathie live in Highlands Ranch, Colo., with their daughter, Alicia, and son, Brian.

Gary Kubiak – Offensive Coordinator / Quarterbacks

(Second season with Broncos • Third in NFL)

Gary Kubiak is in his second season as Denver's offensive coordinator in 1996, after returning to the Broncos organization in 1995 with head coach Mike Shanahan. The pair coached together in 1994 in San Francisco, where Shanahan was offensive coordinator and Kubiak coached the quarterbacks, while fellow Broncos assistant coach Brian Pariani (tight ends) served as an offensive assistant.

Kubiak's return to Denver — where he had played quarterback behind All-Pro John Elway from 1983-91 — was a success in 1995 as his offensive unit rolled up an average of 377.5 yards per game, best in the AFC and third-best in the NFL. The Broncos broke team records in points scored (388), total yards (6,040), passing yards (4,260), first downs passing (205) and highest average gain per play (5.7; tops in the AFC). Individually, wide receiver Anthony Miller topped the 1,000-yard mark (1,079) and set a franchise record for touchdown receptions (14), while rookie Terrell Davis topped the 1,000-yard rushing mark (1,117) and finished second in the NFL Rookie of the Year balloting. Overall, three members of the Broncos' offensive unit — Miller, Shannon Sharpe and Gary Zimmerman — were chosen to play in the Pro Bowl.

During the 1994 season, Kubiak coached the league's most dominating quarterback, Steve Young, in San Francisco. Young not only led the 49ers to a victory in Super Bowl XXIX, but he also earned Super Bowl MVP honors, as well as the NFL's Most Valuable Player award, besides setting numerous passing records during the campaign. He also became the NFL's all-time passer-rating leader and the first quarterback to lead the league in passing four years in a row.

Prior to his year in San Francisco, Kubiak coached the running backs at his alma mater, Texas A&M, from 1992-93. During his two seasons the Aggies posted a record of 22-3 and played in back-to-back Cotton Bowls. His star pupil at A&M was Greg Hill, a first-round pick by the Kansas City Chiefs in 1994. Hill was second-team All-America as a junior (The Sporting News) and first-team All-Southwest Conference, as well as an All-SWC pick as a senior by the Dallas Morning News, despite missing four games. He rushed for 2,046 yards and 21 touchdowns in Kubiak's two years at College Station. Also in Kubiak's backfield was Denver's 1996 third-round draft pick Detron Smith, as well as eventual All-America running back Leeland McElroy, youngest brother of current Bronco Reggie McElroy.

GARY KUBIAK – Offensive Coordinator / Quarterbacks

(Second season with Broncos • Third in NFL)

Gary Kubiak is in his second season as Denver's offensive coordinator in 1996, after returning to the Broncos organization in 1995 with heach coach Mike Shanahan. The pair coached together in 1994 in San Francisco, where Shanahan was offensive coordinator and Kubiak coached the quarterbacks, while fellow Broncos assistant coach Brian Parian (tight ends) served as an offensive assistant.

Kubiak's return to Denver — where he had played quarterback behind All-Pro John Elway from 1983-91 — was a success in 1995 as his offensive unit rolled up an average of 377.5 yards per game, best in the AFC and third-best in the NFL. Assistant Coaches Continued

Prior to his coaching career, Kubiak played nine seasons (1983-91) as a quarterback for the Broncos. During that time he was a member of three Super Bowl teams and appeared in a total of 14 playoff games. He played in 119 games for Denver (second all-time among quarterbacks behind John Elway), with five starts over that period (4-1 record). He completed 173 passes in 298 attempts for 2,020 yards, with 16 interceptions and 14 touchdowns. He also rushed for 238 yards and two touchdowns. His completion percentage of .581 is the second-best mark in team history. He also holds the Broncos' single-season record for interception avoidance with a mark of .013 (one interception in 75 attempts), set in 1984.

Kubiak's finest moment as a Bronco was probably in his final performance in a Denver uniform, as he relieved an injured John Elway in the 1992 AFC Championship Game at Buffalo (1/12/92) and completed 11-of-12 passes for 102 yards and also had 22 yards rushing, as the Broncos fell to the Bills 10-7. He entered the game in the fourth quarter and drove the Broncos into Buffalo territory three times, including an 85-yard touchdown drive that cut Denver's deficit to three points. Kubiak was an eighth-round draft pick of the Broncos in 1983.

As a player at Texas A&M, Kubiak made the Player's All-SWC team in 1982 and earned appearances in the Blue-Gray and Hula Bowl all-star games. In 1982 he led the SWC in attempts (324), completions (181), percentage (55.9), yardage (1,948), touchdowns (19) and total offense (1,885). As a junior he set conference records for touchdown passes in a game (six against Rice) and percentage in a game (19-21 for 90.5% against Arkansas), and ranked second in the SWC in passing (1,908) and total offense (1,986). He has a degree from A&M in physical education.

While at St. Pius High School in his native Houston, Gary made all-state, all-district, and All-America and set the state passing record with 6,190 yards. He lettered four years in football, basketball, and baseball, and made all-state in all three sports in both his junior and senior years. He was also all-state twice in track.

Gary (8/15/61) and his wife Rhonda reside in Greenwood Village, Colo., with their three sons, Kirit, Klay and Klein.

Brian Pariani – Tight Ends

(Second season with Broncos • Seventh in NFL)

Brian Pariani is in his second year as the Broncos tight ends coach after spending the previous five seasons (1990-94) with the San Francisco 49ers, coaching alongside Broncos head coach Mike Shanahan and Broncos offensive coordinator Gary Kubiak.

He inherited one of the top tight ends in the league in Shannon Sharpe, who went on to earn his fourth straight Pro Bowl invitation in Pariani's first season in 1995, as he led the Broncos with 63 receptions.

Pariani started his NFL coaching career in 1990 as a scouting assistant with the 49ers. He then became the team's offensive coaches assistant for the next four seasons, working directly with the offensive coaches and quarterbacks, assisting with daily practices and game plans. The 49ers offense was the most potent in the league in 1994, scoring 505 points and 62 touchdowns, both team records, en route to a Super Bowl title.

After earning his political science degree from UCLA in 1989, Pariani served as a graduate assistant with the Bruins, helping head coach Terry Donahue's offense during the 1989 season.

Pariani attended Marin (Calif.) Catholic High School where he participated in football, baseball, and basketball. He is a native of San Francisco, Calif. (7/2/65). He and his wife Stephanie reside in Castle Pines, Colo.

Greg Robinson – Defensive Coordinator

(Second season with Broncos • Seventh in NFL)

Greg Robinson enters his second season as the Broncos' defensive coordinator in 1995 after spending the previous five seasons with the New York Jets. He was the Jets defensive coordinator in 1994, and was the team's defensive line coach the previous four years. While there he worked with Broncos defensive backs coach Ed Donatell (1990-94) and Director of Pro Scouting Jack Elway (1990).

Robinson guided the Broncos' defense to a dramatic improvement in his first season, lowering the unit's overall NFL ranking from 28th in 1994 to 15th in '95. His defense posted one shutout during the season (27-0 over Oakland on Monday Night Football, Oct. 16) and held opponents under 10 points on three other occasions. After an offseason of defensive acquisitions — Bill Romanowski, Alfred Williams, Aaron Walloce and Tor Cook through free agency, and John Mobley and Tory James through the draft — Robinson's defensive unit appears poised to take further strides in '96.

During his last four years with New York, Robinson's defense forced 151 turnovers, most in the AFC and second-most in the NFL during that span (Philadelphia is first with 155). They also improved from 27th in the league in total defense in 1989 (374.6 yards per game) to 8th in 1993 (294.5 yards per game). As the defensive coordinator in 1994, his defense tied for second in the AFC and the NFL with 38 takeaways, tied with Kansas City two behind New England. They finished the season with 29 sacks and gave up just 20 points per game, 6th best in the AFC.

The Jets defensive line also saw dramatic improvement under Robinson's tutelage. They were fifth in the NFL in rush defense in 1993 (92.1 yards per game — down from 133.5 in 1989) and improved to 17th in the NFL in pass defense (202.4 yards per game), while 18 of the defense's 32 sacks were produced by the line. The defense also ranked No. 1 in the AFC against the run in 1991 (90.1 yards per game — a 36-yard improvement over 1990) and recorded 35 sacks.

Robinson has also been instrumental in the development of many young players, including defensive linemen Jeff Lageman and Marvin Washington, and linebacker Mo Lewis while with the Jets. Lageman and Washington combined for 54.5 sacks from 1990-94, with Lageman leading the team with 6.5 in 1994, 8.5 in '93 and '91, and Washington leading the way with 8.5 in 1992. Lewis led the team in tackles in 1994 with 155, had four interceptions, six sacks and five forced fumbles.

Prior to his stay in New York, Robinson coached for eight years at UCLA (1982-89) under head coach Terry Donahue, mainly as a defensive assistant but as an offensive coordinator in 1989. He had been promoted to assistant head coach for the 1990 season, but opted to join the Jets instead.

While at UCLA, Robinson coached the defensive line for the Bruins from 1982-88. Many of his former pupils have moved on to the NFL, with some still active, including current Bronco Mike Lodish and Washington Redskin Jim Wahler. His run defense was in the Top 10 in the nation in 1987 and '88, allowing just 95 yards per game over two seasons. In 1985, the Bruins led the nation in defense against the run at 70.3 yards per game. Their defense also averaged over 40 sacks a year from 1985-88.

During his one season on the offensive side of the ball, Robinson helped groom the talents of several future NFL players, including former Broncos quarterback Tommy Maddox, Dolphins wide receiver Scott Miller and Rams wide receiver Sean LaChapelle. The Bruins' 1989 offense also produced two All-Americans in center Frank Cornish (Dallas Cowboys) and tight end Charles Arbuckle (Colts).

Robinson coached at North Carolina State from 1980-81 where he helped recruit former Wolfpack linebacker and current Broncos linebackers coach Frank Bush. He coached at Cal State Fullerton from 1977-79 and at the University of the Pacific from 1975-76, where he worked with the wide receivers as a graduate assistant, and later the defensive line.

Robinson began his collegiate playing career as a linebacker at Bakersfield Community College from 1974-75, winning a junior college national championship. He then went on to play linebacker, center and tight end at the University of the Pacific from 1975-76. He earned his bachelor's degree in political science from Pacific in 1976. He attended Garcias High School in his hometown of Los Angeles.

Robinson, 44 (10/9/51), lives in Aurora with his wife Laura and his son Dominic, and daughters Lindsay and Leslie Ann.

Greg Saporta – Administrative Asst. / Strength and Conditioning

(Second season with Broncos • Second in NFL)

Greg Saporta is in his second season as administrative assistant in the strength and conditioning department for the Broncos. Saporta and Barney Chavous assist Head Strength Coach Rich Tuten in running the strength and conditioning program for the Bronco players.

Saporta came to the Broncos in 1995 from the University of Florida where he spent two separate stints as an assistant strength coach under Tuten. He originally began as a student assistant at Florida in 1981. He became assistant strength coach in 1985. He held that position until 1988, when he went to the University of North Carolina to assume the same position from 1988-92, once again working with Tuten, who had taken a position as Strength Director. Saporta then returned to Florida in 1992 to resume his position as assistant strength coach, which he held until April 1995 when he joined the Broncos' staff. He also coached with Broncos head coach Mike Shanahan and wide receivers coach Mike Heimerdinger at UF.

During his time at both Florida and North Carolina, Saporta worked with many athletes who went on to enjoy success in the NFL, including current Broncos players Ray Jacobs and Rondell Jones (North Carolina), as well as 1996 Broncos draftee Mark Campbell (Florida).

Saporta, 39, received his bachelor's degree in physical education with a concentration in exercise physiology from Florida in 1985. He previously had attended Buffalo State University in New York, where he lettered for two years in football and rugby, as well as participating in track. Greg has also worked in the past with Big Brothers and Big Sisters.

Saporta, born Feb. 2, 1957, is originally from Manhattan, N.Y., and attended Roosevelt High School in Yonkers, N.Y., where he lettered in football for three years. He now resides in Denver, Colo.

Richard Smith – Special Teams

(Fourth season with Broncos • Ninth in NFL)

Richard Smith is entering his fourth season as the Broncos special teams coach after previously assisting with the linebacking corps. He came to Denver after coaching the special teams of the Houston Oilers from 1988-92, coaching with Broncos linebackers coach Frank Bush. Smith also assisted with the offensive line (1992) and linebackers (1990-91) and coached the tight ends (1988-89) while with the Oilers.

Under Smith's guidance, the Broncos special teams corps allowed opponents the fewest yards per punt return (5.5) in the NFL in 1995, and featured outstanding individual performers such as Pro Bowlers Glyn Milburn and Jason Elam, and punter Tom Rouen. Milburn led the NFL in kickoff return average (27.0), while Elam finished tied for third in the league in scoring (138 points) and topped his own club record with 31 field goals in 38 attempts. Rouen had just three touchbacks, fewest in the NFL.

As a unit, the Broncos led the AFC and figured third in the NFL in punt return average (11.5), while finishing second in the AFC and tied for third in NFL in kickoff return average (23.2).

In 1994, Tom Rouen was 10th in the NFL in punting average (42.9), while leading the NFL in net average (37.1). In 1993, Rouen was second in the AFC and third in he NFL in punt average (44.4) and Milburn was fifth in the AFC and seventh in the league in punt return average (10.6). As a unit, Denver was fifth in the AFC and sixth in the league in punt return average (10.4), as well as sixth in the AFC and tied for seventh in the league in opponents kick return avg. (17.8).

During all five of his seasons with the Oilers Smith's special teams played a pivotal role in Houston reaching the playoffs all five years. In 1992, the Oilers led the entire NFL in opponent kick return average (15.7) and in gross punting average (46.9) under Smith. They ranked in the NFL's top-four in net punting average in 1990 and 1991, and were in the top-six in opponent's punt return and kick return average. They blocked 18 kicks during Smith's tenure, including a then-NFL record five blocks in 1988.

Smith, 40, went to Houston after a one year stay with the University of Arizona, where he coached the special teams and linebackers in 1987. One of his star pupils at UA was current Miami Dolphins linebacker Chris Singleton. Before that, Smith was the special teams/outside linebackers coach at California from 1984-86, and was the defensive line coach at Cal State Fullerton from 1981-83, helping the Titans win the PCAA title in 1983. He began his coaching career as the offensive line coach at Rio Hondo (Calif.) Junior College from 1979-80.

A native of Los Angeles (10/17/55), Smith was an offensive lineman at Rio Hondo from 1975-76 before transferring to Fresno State where the Bulldogs won the 1977 PCAA title. He received his bachelor's degree from Fresno State in physical education in 1979. Smith attended St. Paul High School in Los Angeles where he played football.

Smith's ties to the Broncos run back much further than 1993, as his uncle Bus Mertes was an assistant under former Broncos head coach Mac Speedie from 1965-66. Mertes was also an assistant with the Minnesota Vikings during their four Super Bowl years.

Smith and his wife Patti reside in Larkspur, Colo., with their four children, daughters Morgan, Aimee and Whitney, and son Travis.

Rick Smith – Defensive Assistant

(First season with Broncos • First in NFL)

Rick Smith begins his first year on the Broncos coaching staff, working on the defensive side of the ball as a defensive assistant.

Smith was hired April 3, 1996, following a two-year stint as defensive backs coach at his alma mater, Purdue. He had left Purdue in February to accept a coaching position at Texas Christian, but spent just one month there before the opportunity with the Broncos became available.

A 1992 Purdue graduate, Smith began his coaching career with the Boilermakers shortly after his graduation, serving as the school's assistant strength and conditioning coordinator. In that role, Smith worked exclusively with football, volleyball and wrestling before being promoted to the role of interim strength and conditioning coordinator during the summer of 1993. While coaching at Purdue, Smith began graduate studies in educational administration, and received his master's degree in the summer of 1995.

Smith was a starter at strong safety and defensive captain for Purdue as a senior in 1991.

A native of Petersburg, Va., Smith attened Meadowdale High School in Dayton, Ohio.

Smith, a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, is single and makes his home in Denver.

Bobby Turner – Running Backs

(Second season with Broncos • Second in NFL)

Bobby Turner is in his second season as the Broncos running backs coach, a position he began in 1995 after serving as assistant head coach, offensive coordinator and running backs coach at Purdue.

Turner achieved success in his first season in Denver in 1995, as the Broncos running game posted the most total yards (1,995) by a Denver team since the 1991 team ran for 2,018, and rookie Terrell Davis topped the 1,000-yard plateau with a 1,117-yard season.

Overall, the Denver offense posted the most prolific numbers in franchise history in 1995, thanks in part to a balanced rushing and passing game.

During Turner's tenure at Purdue the Boilermakers' running game and entire offense improved each season, going from 106th in the nation in 1990 to 12th in '94, a season in which it set numerous school records and ranked nationally in many categories, including rushing touchdowns (36) and average per carry (5.01). Their offense produced 396 points, the highest Purdue total since 1969. Turner's backfield also produced the school's first 1,000-yard rusher in 18 years in All-Big 10 second-teamer, and current Tampa Buccaneer, Mike Alstott (1,186 yards and 14 TDs).

Seven different Boilermakers rushed for more than 100 yards in a game in 1992, and in 1991 Turner coached the Big Ten Freshman of the Year in running back Corey Rodgers, as well as Jeff Hill, now of the Cincinnati Bengals.

Turner served in the same capacity at Ohio State from 1989-90, during which time the Buckeyes went to two bowl games and had one of the best running games in the Big Ten. His 1990 backfield of former Bronco Butler By'not'e, Robert Smith (Vikings), Scottie Graham (Vikings), Raymont Harris (Bears) and Jeff Cothran (Bengals) was rated No. 1 in the nation by The Sporting News, producing a 1,000 yard rusher in Smith. He finished the season with 1,126 yards and eight touchdowns, and was named Big Ten and National Freshman of the Year.

In 1989 the Buckeyes ranked No. 1 in Big Ten rushing at 241 yards per game, as well as No. 1 in total offense and scoring, coming within 16 yards of having two 1,000 yard rushers (Carlos Snow, 1,031 yards; Graham, 984). On the day of his first game at OSU, Turner's daughter Kiaana was born at the university hospital just 500 yards away from Ohio Stadium.

Prior to his stint at Ohio State Turner coached the running backs at Fresno State (1983-88) and at his alma mater, Indiana State (1975-82). He accepted a position as running backs coach at ISU in 1975 and spent three of his eight seasons there (1976, '77, '82) as the defensive backs coach in addition to five years as special teams coordinator (1978-82). At ISU, Turner recruited and coached two All-Americans: Wayne Davis (Chargers, Redskins) and Vencie Glenn (Chargers, Vikings, Giants).

Turner also had an opportunity to be an assistant coach on ISU's 1979 Larry Bird-led Final Four basketball team but turned down the offer to concentrate on coaching football. He began his coaching career at Haworth High School in Kokomo, Ind., as an assistant football and basketball coach, and in 1993 was inducted into the Indiana High School Basketball Hall of Fame.

A native of East Chicago, Ind. (5/6/49), Turner enjoyed a fine career as an all-conference defensive back at Indiana State, where he played both football and basketball. He set the school record as a sophomore with nine of his 16 career interceptions, including two returned for touchdowns. He earned his bachelor's degree in health and physical education in 1972 and his master's from ISU in education/administration in 1976.

Turner, 47, attended East Chicago Washington High School where he was one of only two athletes in the school's history to play four sports (football, basketball, baseball, and track). He and his wife Kimbedy have three daughters, Nacole, Krishana and Kiaana, and make their home in Aurora, Colo.

Rich Tuten – Strength and Conditioning

(Second season with Broncos • Second in NFL)

Rich Tuten is in his second season as the Broncos' strength and conditioning coach. He coordinates the organization's entire strength and conditioning program with assistance from Greg Saporta and Barney Chavous.

Tuten came to the Broncos in 1995 from the University of Florida, where he was the Director of Strength and Conditioning from 1980-88, and also from 1993-94. He was the Athletic Strength Director at the University of North Carolina from 1989-92.

While at both schools, Tuten supervised the strength and conditioning programs for every sport. With UF he also served as the head strength and conditioning coach for the nationally-ranked Gator football team. He played a key role in designing Florida's current strength and conditioning complex.

At North Carolina Tuten helped the Tar Heels make major advancements in their strength and conditioning program, helping them to be able to compete with the top collegiate programs in the country. Besides his work at collegiate institutions, Tuten is also a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association.

Tuten has worked with many athletes who have gone on to enjoy success in the National Football League, including Neal Anderson (Bears), Ricky Nattiel (former Bronco), John L. Williams (Steelers), and Errict Rhett at Florida, and current Bronco linebacker Ray Jacobs and defensive back Rondell Jones at North Carolina.

Tuten has also coached with three current members of the Broncos coaching staff. He coached with Broncos head coach Mike Shanahan and wide receivers coach Mike Heimerdinger at Florida from 1980-83, and with his assistant Greg Saporta at both Florida and North Carolina over the last 15 years.

A 1979 graduate of Clemson, Tuten was a three-year letterman and starting nose guard for the Tigers. He was named to the All-America Strength team in 1978 and was part of the 1978 Atlantic Coast Conference champion Tiger squad. Tuten registered nine tackles and three sacks against Maryland that season to help clinch the conference title. He was named ACC Defensive Player of the Week for his efforts. He received his degree in therapeutic recreation from Clemson in 1978.

Tuten, born Dec. 30, 1953, attended Wakefield High School in Arlington, Va., where he participated in football, wrestling and track. He is a native of Columbia, S.C. He and his wife Donna reside in Highlands Ranch, Colo., with their two sons Will and Matt.

Wide receiver Anthony Miller consistently performed as one of the NFL's most dangerous receivers in 1995, hauling in 59 passes for a team-high 1,079 and a Bronco-record 14 touchdowns. Miller averaged 35.1 yards per reception on his 14 touchdowns, which included two scoring plays of 60 yards or longer.

PLAYER PERSONNEL

NEAL DAHLEN
Director of Player Personnel

Neal Dahlen begins his first season as the Broncos' Director of Player Personnel, and his 33rd year overall in football.

As player personnel director, Dahlen is involved in all aspects of player acquisition for the Broncos. He was hired March 4, 1996, renewing his association with Mike Shanahan, with whom he worked while Shanahan was the San Francisco 49ers' offensive coordinator from 1992-94.

Dahlen spent 17 years with the 49ers organization, beginning in 1979 as a part-time assistant to the coaching staff. In 1984 he took on full-time duties as director of research and development, and later served as the team's coordinator of football operations.

During his final three years in San Francisco Dahlen held the title of coaching administrator/financial liaison, a role that saw him work directly with 49ers head coach George Seifert on player personnel and management matters. He was primarily involved with monitoring financial affairs relating to player personnel, acting as the coaching staff liaison with the administrative staff, and was responsible for the acquisition of free agent players, negotiating player contracts, and developing game plan scouting reports for the defensive coaching staff.

A physical education major at San Jose State, Dahlen graduated in 1963 and earned his master's degree from the school in '64.

Born in Spokane, Wash., April 13, 1940, Dahlen and wife, Nancy make their home in Aurora, Colo. They have four grown children (Laurie, Sherri, Christy and Tim).

JACK ELWAY
Director of Pro Scouting

Jack Elway is in his fourth year with the Broncos' scouting department and his second as Director of Pro Scouting. Elway began his association with the Broncos organization in 1993 as a pro scout, a position he held for two seasons before being promoted to his current post in the 1995 offseason.

Prior to coming to the Broncos, he was head coach of the Frankfurt Galaxy in the World League (1991-1992) and scouted for the New York Jets (1990). He has also had an outstanding career as a college head coach at Cal State Northridge (1976-78), San Jose State (1979-83), and Stanford (1984-88).

Elway also was head coach at Port Angeles (Wash.) High School and Grays Harbor (Wash.) Community College (1961-66), and served in assistant roles at Montana (1967-71) and Washington State (1972-75). He posted a .650 winning percentage as a head coach and assistant coach on the high school, community college, Division I and Division II levels during his 34 seasons before moving into the pros. Always noted for creative, multi-dimensional offenses, Elway also has served as head coach in the Blue-Gray Game and East-West Shrine Game.

Elway, 65, a native of Hoquiam, Wash., played quarterback at Washington State, where he earned both bachelor's and master's degrees.

Jack and his wife Jan have three children, Lee Ann, John Jr., and Jana. John Jr. was the number one pick in the 1983 NFL draft and has led the Broncos to three Super Bowl appearances.

Ted Sundquist
Director of College Scouting

Ted Sundquist is in his fifth season with the Broncos organization and his first in the capacity of Director of College Scouting after spending the 1995 season apprenticing under former college scouting director Jerry Frei. He was promoted to his current post following the 1996 draft, after two years as a college scout.

His duties include overseeing the Broncos' entire college scouting process, in particular, managing the scouting department's budget, division of territory, and travel itinerary.

Sundquist had spent his first three years with the Broncos in the Player Personnel department as a player personnel assistant, working closely with Jack Elway in opponent scouting, veteran player evaluation, development of computer scouting analysis systems and scouting the Western region.

Sundquist, 34, played collegiately at the Air Force Academy before graduating into the coaching ranks. He joined the Air Force coaching staff for the 1984 season, and returned for the 1986-91 seasons. Between those two stints, Sundquist served as an Air Force Intelligence Officer in Berlin, Germany from 1966-86.

Along with his coaching duties Sundquist was also the head coach for the USAFA Preparatory School (1990-91) and took an active part in scouting for the Falcons.

Sundquist has also had considerable athletic experience outside of football, having been a member of the U.S. National Bobsled team from 1984-88, and competing in the Olympic Trials in that sport in '88.

The Houston, Texas, native earned his master's degree in public administration from the University of Colorado in 1992.

Ted was born May 1, 1962 in Houston, where he attended Spring Woods High School. He is single and makes his home in Denver, Colo.

Jerry Frei
College Scouting Consultant

Jerry Frei, in his 20th year with the Denver Broncos — and his 45th as either a coach or scout in professional or college football — begins a new role in 1996 as a college scouting consultant.

He spent the past two seasons as Director of College Scouting, but will now scale back his duties as Ted Sundquist assumes the director's role. Frei will still be involved in the Broncos' college scouting process, but, at his request, will assume a lighter workload in the coming season.

Frei's history with the Broncos includes time as both a scout and assistant coach. He coached for the Broncos from 1972-75, and again from 1981-82, before moving into the scouting department the following season. Frei has been an area scout and has performed a variety of administrative roles within the scouting department for the Broncos organization.

Frei's initial tenure as the Broncos' offensive line coach from 1972-75 was his first in professional football, and was followed by a two-year stint in the same capacity with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (1976-77) and a three-year stint with the Chicago Bears (1978-80), prior to his return to the Mile High City in 1981.

His professional coaching career was preceded by a long and successful assistant and head coaching career in the collegiate ranks at the University of Oregon. He joined the Ducks' coaching staff as an assistant in 1955 and served in that role through the 1966 season before succeeding Len Casanova as head coach in 1967. Oregon compiled a 22-29-2 record during his five years as head coach, including a 1970 record of 6-4-1 that was good enough for second place in the Pacific-8 Conference. His 1970 and '71 teams featured two future NFL stars: Dan Fouts at quarterback and Bobby Moore (now Ahmad Rashad) at running back.

Frei, 72, is a University of Wisconsin graduate, and was an offensive lineman on the standout Badger teams of 1942, '46 and '47. His collegiate career was interrupted by service in the U.S. Military in World War II, during which he flew 67 Pacific missions in a P-38 for the U.S. Army Air Corps.

His first collegiate coaching experience came from 1952-54 at Willamette University in Salem, Ore.

Jerry and his wife Marian have five children: sons David and Terry, and daughters Judy, Susan and Nancy.

Harold Richardson
Administrative Assistant / Pro Personnel

Harold Richardson is in his eighth season with the Denver Broncos organization and his second in the capacity of administrative assistant for pro personnel. In that role his primary responsibility is to manage the salary cap for the Broncos.

Richardson had previously been involved with the Broncos' personnel department for two seasons ('93-'94) in the capacity of offensive assistant, prior to his current appointment.

Richardson joined the Broncos' coaching staff as a special teams coach in 1989 and coached that unit for four seasons, as well as the tight ends in 1991 and '92.

The 53-year old Richardson came to the Broncos from Colorado State University where he was defensive coordinator in 1987 and '88. Prior to that he served as receivers and special teams coach with the New Orleans Saints (1981-85).

Working on the collegiate level (1972-80), Richardson coached at North Texas State, Texas Christian, Oklahoma State and Southern Methodist, where he began his coaching career as a graduate assistant in 1971.

A native of Houston, Texas (9/27/44), Richardson earned a bachelor's degree in finance from Southern Methodist in 1968.

College Scout

Bob Beers is in his second season with the Broncos' scouting staff after a very successful 1995 season on the coaching staff of the Amsterdam Admirals in the World League of American Football.

With Beers as offensive coordinator, the Admirals put up a 9-1 regular season record and advanced to the World Bowl. Amsterdam's regular season record equaled that of the 1991 London Monarchs, tying the club for the best record in WLAF history.

Prior to his stint with the Admirals, Beers served two seasons as head coach at Western Montana where he guided the program to Frontier Conference titles and earned Coach of the Year honors both seasons. His 1994 team claimed the conference title and garnered the school's first ever berth in the NAIA national playoffs, advancing to the Final Four and finishing with an 8-3 record. The Bulldogs finished second in the nation in passing (3,535 yards) and total offense (5,000), and 10 Bulldogs earned All-America honors, including two first-teamers.

In 1993, the Western offense set 23 school records, led the nation in passing (3,069 yards) and finished second in total offense (4,206).

Beers began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Montana before moving on to Montana Tech where he served as defensive coordinator from1972-74. He then spent 10 years in the prep ranks of Montana and Oregon before returning to the Montana as offensive line coach under Don Read. He entered the professional ranks in 1990 as offensive coordinator for the Frankfurt Galaxy of the World League before returning to the collegiate ranks to begin his two-year stint as head coach at Western Montana.

A 1965 graduate of Sunset High School in Beaverton, Ore., Beers earned his bachelor's degree from the University of Montana where he was an All-America linebacker as a junior and senior. Bob and his wife Janelle have three children: son Bobby (23), who was an All-America wide receiver for the Bulldogs; daughter Carrie (22), a student at Western; and daughter Joey (5).

Marv Braden
College Scout

Marv Braden is in his second year with the Denver Broncos scouting staff, and his sixth overall with the organization. Braden, an area scout for the Southeast region previously coached the Broncos' special teams unit from 1977-80. He returned to Denver last year to assume his current post after spending the previous five years as the special teams coach for the Cincinnati Bengals.

Braden brings a great deal of NFL experience to his position, having coached in the league for 18 seasons, and in the collegiate ranks for 14 seasons prior to that.

As an NFL special teams coach he tutored 13 players who earned Pro Bowl honors in coaching stints with Denver, San Diego (1981-85), St. Louis/Phoenix (1986-89) and Cincinnati (1990-95). Four times from 1977-85 Braden's special teams units ranked first overall in the NFL in comprehensive team rankings, including twice with the Broncos (1977 and '79) and twice with the Chargers (1982 and '85).

Braden, a linebacker at Southwest Missouri State during his collegiate playing career (1956-59), was an assistant coach at Northeast Missouri State (1967-68), Iowa State (1973), Southern Methodist (1974-75) and Michigan State (1976). He held head coaching positions at Northeast Missouri State and Cal Western (U.S. International), compiling an overall record of 36-21-2, before joining the professional coaching ranks.

A native of Kansas City, Mo., Braden and his wife, Becky, have a married daughter, Janice Bartkowski, and a grandson.

Scott DiStefano
College Scout

Scott DiStefano is in his 14th year with the Broncos' personnel department, continuing to scout the Midwestern region.

DiStefano, 39, was a quarterback at Colorado State from 1976-80. Following his playing career he joined the coaching staff at CSU as a graduate assistant, a role in which he served for two seasons (1980-81) before coming to the Broncos.

A native of Alliance, Ohio, DiStefano was an all-conference quarterback in 1975 at Alliance High School, the same school that produced Pro Football Hall of Fame quarterback Len Dawson. Among the honors bestowed upon him was the 1974 Massillon (Ohio) JayCee's conference sportsmanship award, a prestigious honor from such a football-rich region of Ohio.

Scott makes his home in Chicago.

David Gettleman
College Scout

David Gettleman is in his third year as an area scout for the Broncos and his 10th overall in scouting, concentrating on the East Coast region for Denver.

Gettleman, 45, became a full-time scout with the Bills in 1987, was assigned as the Bills' representative to the BLESTO combine in 1988, and continued in that capacity through 1992. From June 1992 through Dec. 1993 he worked as a regional scout for the BLESTO combine.

He began his coaching career at Spackenkill High School in Poughkeepsie, New York as their head coach (1972-81), leading his team to a pair of league titles. He spent a year as a graduate assistant at Cal State Long Beach (1979-80). He joined the faculty at Kingston (N.Y.) High School as a teacher-coach in 1982. In 1984 he became the head football coach at Kingston High School and led his team to a playoff berth.

Born in Boston, Mass. (2/21/51), Gettleman earned a bachelor's degree from Springfield (Mass.) College in 1972 and was an offensive tackle for the football team for two seasons. He has two master's degrees: one in physical education from Southern Connecticut State (1978) and another in sports administration from St. Thomas University in Miami (1986).

David and his wife Joanne reside in Cary, N.C., with their two sons, Aaron and Sam.

College Scout / Assistant to Director of College Scouting

Cornell Green is in his 17th year scouting in the NFL and his 10th year doing so for the Broncos' organization.

An area scout for the Southwest region, Green added to his responsibilities the role of Assistant to the Director of College Scouting prior to the 1995 season. He previously had the additional title of Assistant Director of Player Personnel. Green works directly with Ted Sundquist in administering the operation of the club's overall college scouting process.

Prior to his involvement with the Broncos organization, Cornell scouted for the Dallas Cowboys during and after his illustrious playing career.

Green began scouting for the Cowboys in 1970 while still an active player, and continued scouting through 1979, at which time he entered private business until coming to the Broncos in 1987.

Green, 56, was signed by the Cowboys as a free agent and went on to play for Dallas from 1962-75, at cornerback for 10 years before moving over to safety for his last four seasons. Green earned Pro Bowl honors seven times, winning that honor at both cornerback and safety.

He did not play college football but was a two-time All-America basketball player (1959-60 and 1961-62) at Utah State, where he averaged 23 points per game at forward for the Aggies from 1959-62.

A native of Boley, Okla., Cornell and his wife Betty have two children, Randy and Ronney, and make their home in Dallas.

Charlie Lee
College Scout

Charlie Lee is in his fourth year as an area scout for the central United States region and his 16th year with the Broncos' organization. Prior to moving to the player personnel department, Charlie spent 11 years on the administrative side of the organization as the Director of Player and Community Relations.

Lee, 51, joined the Broncos as running backs coach in 1981, coming to Denver from the University of Texas, where he coached wide receivers from 1977-80. Prior to his experience at Texas, Lee coached at Arizona from 1974-76 and at Northwest Missouri State in 1973.

He began his career as a highly successful prep coach in football and track at Kansas City (Mo.) Central High School for five years, winning five consecutive state track titles.

A native of Liberty, Mo., Lee was a leading scorer and rusher at Northern Arizona, twice earning honorable mention Little All-America honors. A 1968 graduate with a degree in education, Lee is a member of the Northern Arizona University Sports Hall of Fame. He earned his master's degree in secondary education and administration from Northwest Missouri State in 1993.

Charlie and his son, Charles, Jr., make their home in Liberty, Mo.

Denver's Winning Tradition

Denver Broncos football enters its 37th season in 1996, and will play before sellout crowds at Mile High Stadium for the 27th consecutive campaign. The team has sold out 195 consecutive regular season non-strike games, and 204 straight including playoff games. Bronco fans have watched their team amass one of the NFL's finest records since the club's first winning season in 1973, enduring just four losing seasons, as shown in the list below.

This season also marks Pat Bowlen's 13th as President and Chief Executive Officer of the Broncos. During that time, Denver has enjoyed a virtually unmatched level of success in the context of the entire NFL and within the American Football Conference Western Division.

Veteran Player Profiles

Quarterback John Elway set a personal single-season record in 1995 with 26 touchdown passes, while leading the AFC with 3,970 passing yards. He became just the seventh professional quarterback to eclipse the 40,000-yard plateau for a career, and currently stands fifth on the all-time list with 41,706 yards.

57 Allen Aldridge • Linebacker

Birthdate – May 30, 1972
Birthplace – Houston, Texas
Residence – Missouri City, Texas
How Acquired – Draft #2, 1994
College – Houston
High School – Willowridge HS, Missouri City, Texas
Height – 6-1
Weight – 245
Pro Year – 3rd
Year With Broncos – 3rd

Allen Aldridge moved into a starting role in the fifth game of the 1995 season as the weakside linebacker in the Broncos 4-3 defensive scheme and showed great promise for the future. He played in all 16 games in his second NFL season, and made 12 starts, joining the starting linebacking corps in Week 5 at Seattle (10/1), while continuing to contribute heavily on special teams. 1995: Aldridge finished the season with 110 tackles (77 solo), 1.5 sacks, three passes defensed and one fumble recovery. He also had six tackles and one forced fumble on special teams. His season-high in tackles came at Kansas City (12/17), when he started at right linebacker and posted 13 stops (12 solo), and also added one special teams tackle. Aldridge made his first start of the season at Seattle (10/1) at left linebacker and finished with seven tackles (3 solo), including his first career sack for a six-yard loss. He moved to right linebacker the following week at New England, and started at the position for the remainder of the season. Against Oakland (10/16) he led the team with six tackles (4 solo), including a half a sack on which he combined with Troy Wilson, as Denver shut out the Raiders 27-0 and held Oakland without a rushing first down for the entire contest, a first in Broncos' history. The following week against Kansas City (10/23), Aldridge led the team with 11 tackles (9 solo). He recorded his first career fumble recovery against Arizona (11/5), after Tyrone Braxton and Lionel Washington jarred the ball loose from the Cardinals' Chad Fann in the first quarter of Denver's 38-6 victory. Aldridge started at right linebacker and recorded a then-season-best 12 tackles (8 solo) at Philadelphia (11/12), but suffered ligament damage to his thumb in the contest, and did not practice until the following Friday (11/17). He did play just two days later, though, against San Diego (11/19), with a cast on his thumb. At Houston (11/26) Aldridge started at right linebacker and made nine tackles (6 solo) with one forced fumble on special teams. 1994: Aldridge played in all 16 games, including two starts at left outside linebacker (9/11 at N.Y. Jets and 9/18 vs. L.A. Raiders) in place of injured starter Mike Croel. For the year, Aldridge recorded eight total tackles (1 solo), five of which came in the start at New York (1 solo). Aldridge was the Broncos top selection in the 1994 draft, being taken in the second round.

COLLEGE: Aldridge earned All-America and All-Southwest Conference first-team honors by pre-draft publications as a senior strongside outside linebacker at Houston. He finished fourth on the team with 81 tackles (46 solo), four sacks, two forced fumbles and one fumble recovery. He closed out his Cougar career with a Defensive MVP performance in the Blue-Gray Game. His career stats show 191 total tackles (100 solo, 91 assists), 14 sacks, 14 tackles for losses, two forced fumbles and one fumble recovery. Aldridge also competed on the Cougars' track team in '93, finishing third in the shot put (55'0") at the SWC Indoor Championships. His top outdoor shot put mark (56'8") came at the Texas Relays.

PERSONAL: Allen Ray Aldridge earned three letters each in football and track at Willowridge HS, Missouri City, Texas. A sports administration major at Houston, Allen is a member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and was a two-time "Ironman" winner in the Cougars' weight room. His father, Allen, played for the Cleveland Browns and Houston Oilers, and he also is related to former NFL defensive back Ken Houston.

27 STEVE ATWATER • Safety

Birthdate – October 28, 1966
Birthplace – Chicago, Ill.
Residence – Denver, Colo.
How Acquired – Draft #1, 1989
College – Arkansas
High School – Lutheran North HS, St. Louis, Mo.
Height – 6-3
Weight – 217
Pro Year – 8th
Year With Broncos – 8th

Steve Atwater turned in his sixth consecutive Pro Bowl performance in 1995, helping the Broncos defense improve from 28th in the National Football League in 1994 to 15th. Atwater, who has started every game he has played in his eight-year career (108), is the only player in the history of the franchise to be selected to six consecutive Pro Bowls, with the next-longest streak being just three, accomplished by several players. 1995: Atwater started all 16 games at free safety and led the team with 148 tackles (107 solo), three interceptions and three forced fumbles. His tackle total was his best since 1992, and his interceptions were his most since '91. Atwater surpassed the 1,000-tackle mark for his career Dec. 10 versus Seattle. He earned second-team All-Pro honors from College & Pro Football Newsweekly, and was voted by his teammates as the Broncos' Defensive MVP. Atwater began his outstanding season with a team-leading nine tackles (8 solo) in the opener against Buffalo (9/3), including a big third-quarter, fourth-down stop at the Denver 1/2-yard line to thwart a Buffalo scoring threat. The following week at Dallas (9/10), Atwater registered 13 tackles (7 solo), an interception with an 11-yard return, and a pass defensed. He recorded a team-leading 12 tackles (8 solo) at Seattle (10/1), but had to leave early with a hyperextended elbow. He posted a team-leading 11 tackles (9 solo) at New England (10/8), and forced his first fumble of the year. In Denver's 27-0 shutout of Oakland (10/16), Atwater made six tackles (2 solo), intercepted a pass and registered one pass defensed. His interception of a Jeff Hostetler pass on the second play from scrimmage set up the Broncos at the Oakland 19-yard line after an 18-yard return, and led to a 3-0 Broncos lead. Atwater had 10 tackles (6 solo) and a forced fumble against Kansas City (10/22), despite missing the end of the first half and the beginning of the second half after going to the locker room for an examination on his right shoulder. Atwater also recorded a team-high 14 stops (9 solo) at Philadelphia (11/12), but suffered a bone bruise that was downgraded from an initial diagnosis of a hyperextension. His third interception came against Seattle (12/10), and was returned 25 yards. 1994: Atwater continued his stellar play in the Denver secondary despite a disappointing year for the team. He started 14 of the Broncos 16 games at either free or strong safety and recorded 125 total tackles (72 solo). Atwater, who sat out at Los Angeles (12/11) and San Francisco (12/17) with an injured hamstring, also intercepted one pass (24-yard return), recovered two fumbles and forced one while registering eight passes defensed. His two starts at free safety came on opening day against the Chargers (9/4) and at Buffalo (9/26). Atwater registered double-figures in tackles six times and posted his best numbers against the Raiders at home (9/18) with 14 tackles (11 solo). His lone interception came at Seattle (10/9) in perhaps his best overall performance. In addition to his interception that he returned 24 yards to set up Jason Elam for the Broncos' first points, Atwater recovered a fumble and returned it 17 yards to set up Denver's only touchdown in a 16-9 win. 1993: Atwater became the first player in franchise history to earn four consecutive Pro Bowl berths, and was named All-AFC (UPI and Football News). He started every game for the Broncos, leading the team in tackles with 141 (80 tackles and 61 assists). Atwater also posted one sack, two interceptions and two forced fumbles on the year. His big game came in a losing effort at San Diego (12/5), where he racked up 14 total tackles (nine solo and five assisted), which was one of six games in which he finished with double figure tackles. 1992: Atwater earned his third consecutive Pro Bowl berth in 1992, and was also named All-NFL (AP, NEA, PFW/PFWA, TSN) and All-AFC (Football News). He led the secondary and was second on the team with 151 total tackles, (73 tackles and 78 assists), and also posted two interceptions, a sack, 12 passes defensed, two fumble recoveries, and two forced fumbles. Atwater sat out the season opener against the Raiders (9/6) with a sprained ankle but rebounded to post 17 total tackles in week two against the Chargers (9/13), one of nine games in which he recorded double figures in tackles. Atwater had a big game at Buffalo (12/12), recovering a fumble and intercepting a pass. 1991: In 1991 he earned his second straight Pro Bowl berth after a season in which he led for the team lead with a career-high five interceptions and finished second on Denver's AFC-leading defense in total tackles with 150. Atwater was also named All-NFL (AP, Pro Football Weekly, College and Pro Football Newsweekly second-team) and All-AFC (Football News, Pro Football Weekly). For the season he registered 83 tackles, 67 assists, 11 passes defensed, a sack, a forced fumble, and a fumble recovery. Atwater was named the AFC Defensive Player of the Week for his performance against the Seahawks (9/15) in which he had 10 total tackles, picked off a pass, and recovered a fumble. He was in double figures in total tackles nine times that year, with a high of 14 vs. Phoenix (12/15). In post-season play Atwater had 17 total tackles and three passes defensed, and he intercepted a pass vs. Houston (1/4). 1990: He made his first appearance in the Pro Bowl after a tremendous 1990 campaign in which he finished second on the Broncos' defense with 173 total tackles, including a team-high 112 solo tackles, despite missing one game due to injury. For his efforts he was also named All-NFL (College and Pro Football Newsweekly 2nd team, Newspaper Editors Association – 2nd team) and All-AFC (UPI, Football News), and was voted by his teammates as Denver's most valuable defensive player. In addition, Atwater also posted two interceptions, four passes defensed, two forced fumbles, and a quarterback sack, while also registering 10 total tackles on special teams. From his strong safety position Atwater posted five of Denver's top-10 single-game tackle totals, including a personal high of 18 vs. Pittsburgh (10/14), and had 12 or more total tackles in nine games. He cemented his reputation as a hard hitter after a thunderous collision with Kansas City's Christian Okoye in a nationally televised Monday night game (9/17). Atwater sat out the game vs. Seattle (9/23) with a rib strain and saw limited action against the Chargers (12/16) after suffering torn rib cartilage early in the first half. 1989: Atwater was named NFL All-Rookie (Pro Football Weekly, College and Pro Football Newsweekly) for a fine campaign in 1989. He made an immediate impact as the Broncos' first-round pick, taking the place of former defensive captain Mike Harden at free safety and combining with strong safety Dennis Smith to form one of the NFL's most physical safety tandems. Atwater started every regular season game and led the Bronco defense with 86 first hits. He was second on the squad with 129 total tackles and also claimed three interceptions, 10 passes defensed, and a fumble recovery. Atwater had two interceptions in the week three contest against the Raiders (9/24), the second setting up the game-clinching field goal. He had six games with 10 or more total tackles, including a high of 12 vs. San Diego (10/6).

COLLEGE: Atwater was a three-time All-Southwest Conference selection and two-time All-American at the University of Arkansas. He became the Razorbacks' all-time interception leader with 14 over his four active campaigns. He went to the school as a wishbone quarterback but was moved to the secondary as a redshirt freshman. Atwater closed out his college career with an appearance in the Senior Bowl, a game in which he had two interceptions.

PERSONAL: Steve and his wife Letha reside in the Denver suburb of Aurora with their three sons, Stephen Jr., DiAndre and Paris. A native of Chicago, Ill., he was all-conference and league MVP as a wishbone quarterback at Lutheran North HS in St. Louis Mo., where he was named the school's top scholar-athlete. Steve lettered three times in football, once each in baseball and track, and four times in basketball, garnering all-league, all-district, and All-America honors in that sport. He was selected to play in the McDonald's All-Star Classic, but missed the contest due to the chicken pox. He enjoys playing pool, fishing, basketball, and bowling. Steve has been involved with the Colorado Coalition for the Homeless and plays in charity golf tournaments across the country during the off-season. His full name is Stephen Dennis Atwater.

81 SANJAY BEACH • Wide Receiver

Birthdate – February 21, 1966
Birthplace – Clark A.F.B., Philippines
Residence – Littleton, Colo.
How Acquired – Free Agent, 1996
College – Colorado State
High School – Chandler High School, Chandler, Ariz.
Height – 6-1
Weight – 190
Pro Year – 4th
Year with Broncos – 1st

Sanjay Beach comes to the Broncos as a free agent who last played in 1993 with San Francisco. He is a dependable, sure-handed receiver whose experience with the 49ers' West Coast Offense during Mike Shanahan's tenure should ease his transition. Beach has played in 42 NFL games (11 starts) and two playoff games, both with San Francisco in 1990. He has 26 career receptions for 224 yards (8.6) and two touchdowns. He signed with the Broncos April 9. 1995: Beach did not play professional football. 1994: Beach was in training camp with the 49ers, but was released Aug. 22. 1993: Beach played in nine games with San Francisco, catching five passes for 59 yards (11.8 avg.) and one touchdown, a 20-yarder at Detroit (12/19) in a game in which he also recovered a special teams fumble. He played on special teams vs. the Giants in an NFC Divisional Playoff Game on Jan. 15 and in the NFC Championship Game at Dallas on Jan. 23, but was released at the end of the season. Beach started the 1993 season with Green Bay, playing in all four preseason games. He was released Sept. 27 and signed with the 49ers Oct. 27. 1992: Beach played in 16 games with Green Bay (11 starts), catching 17 passes for 122 yards (7.2 avg.) and one touchdown. He started opposite perrenial All-Pro Sterling Sharpe, brother of Broncos tight end Shannon Sharpe. He scored his first NFL touchdown on a four-yard reception vs. Minnesota (9/6), and hauled in a career-high five passes at Atlanta Oct. 14. He signed with the Packers March 31. 1991: Beach played in all 16 games for San Francisco, catching four passes for 43 yards (10.8). He also returned 10 punts for 53 yards (5.3) and two kickoffs for 37 yards (18.5). He signed with the 49ers Feb. 25. 1990: Beach was on the practice squad with San Francisco. He signed with the 49ers Oct. 1 after being released August 31 during training camp. He originally signed with the 49ers as a free agent March 20. 1989: Beach spent most of the '89 season on the Jets developmental squad, but did play in one game. He was signed April 11, released August 29 during training camp, signed to the developmental squad Sept. 6, and activated Oct. 13 for the Jets' Oct. 15 game at New Orleans. He was then released by the Jets Oct. 17 and re-signed to the developmental squad Oct. 18. 1988: Beach was signed as a free agent by Dallas out of Colorado State on April 28 and released by the Cowboys on August 19.

COLLEGE: Beach was a four-year letterman at Colorado State, totalling 85 receptions for 1,074 yards (12.6 avg.) and three touchdowns. He was a second-team All-WAC kick returner as a senior in 1987 and had a 99-yard TD return that season. He majored in speech communications.

PERSONAL: Beach played football and participated in track and field at Chandler High School in Chandler, Ariz., where he was selected all-state and named Scholar Athlete of the Year as a senior. Beach worked as a production assistant at a Long Island TV station after the '89 season. Prior to signing with the Broncos this past April, Beach was working full-time as an investment executive for Dain Bosworth in Denver. He is active in community service, having worked with the Bay Area LUPUS Foundation, Omega Boy's Club in San Francisco and the Salvation Army. He was born Sanjay Ragiv Beach at Clark Air Force Base in the Philippines. His mother is from India and his father is a Jamaican-born U.S. Air Force sergeant. Beach and his wife Kristy have a daughter, Kalpana, born Oct. 16, 1992.

23 Ronnie Bradford • Cornerback

Birthplace – Minot, N.D.
Residence – Aurora, Colo.
How Acquired – FA 1993
College – Colorado
High School – Adams City HS, Commerce City, Colo.
Height – 5-10
Weight – 188
Pro Year – 4th
Year with Broncos – 4th

Ronnie Bradford saw his 1995 campaign come to an early end after suffering a season-ending knee injury during the fourth week of the season. Prior to his injury he was a main contributor to the Broncos' special teams effort, as well as in nickel coverage situations. He saw action on special teams and in the secondary in the first four games, making one solo tackle and deflecting a pass. He also had two special teams tackles. 1995: Bradford played in just four games before being placed on injured reserve Sept. 28 with a knee injury, suffered at San Diego (9/24). Prior to his injury, Bradford contributed a special teams tackle against Buffalo (9/3) in the season-opener, and added a tackle on defense at Dallas (9/10). 1994: Bradford played in 12 games and was inactive for four (at L.A. Rams 11/6, vs. Seattle 11/13, vs. Atlanta 11/20 and vs. Cincinnati 11/27). His top outing came at Buffalo (9/26) when he recorded seven tackles (3 solo) and one pass defensed. Bradford registered his lone sack of the season – and first of his career – in the final game of the season vs. New Orleans (12/24). He finished the season with 27 tackles (18 solo), one sack (-8) and five passes defensed. 1993: Bradford was signed as a free agent by the Broncos after being drafted in the fourth round by the Miami Dolphins and released by the team in their 1993 training camp. Bradford made a key interception versus Kansas City (12/12), stopping a Chief drive and setting up a Jason Elam field goal that cut the Chiefs' lead to four early in the contest. The following week at Chicago (12/18), Bradford earned his first start.

COLLEGE: Bradford was a four year-letterman and two-year starter at the University of Colorado, where he played with David Gibbs, son of Broncos offensive line coach Alex Gibbs. He was an honorable mention All-America (Football News) and first-team All-Big Eight (Coaches) as a senior. His blocked extra-point helped push Colorado to a 10-9 win over Notre Dame in the 1991 Orange Bowl, giving the Buffaloes a national title. Bradford racked up 53 solo tackles, 21 assists, three interceptions and two fumble recoveries for his career. He was a communications major at Colorado.

PERSONAL: Ronnie is single and resides in Aurora, Colo. He was an All-America honorable mention (USA Today) as a senior at Adams City HS in Commerce City, CO. As a senior Ronnie finished the year with four interceptions, 14 passes defensed, two fumble recoveries and a blocked field goal. His full name is Ronald L. Bradford.

34 Tyrone Braxton • Safety

Birthdate – December 17, 1964
Birthplace – Madison, Wisc.
Residence – Englewood, Colo.
How Acquired – Draft #12, 1987
College – North Dakota State
High School – James Madison Memorial HS, Madison, Wisc.
Height – 5-11
Weight – 185
Pro Year – 10th
Year with Broncos – 9th

Tyrone Braxton, who returned to the Broncos last offseason after spending the 1994 season with the Miami Dolphins, started all 16 games at strong safety and finished tied for second on the team in tackles. He now stands seventh on Denver's all-time interception list with 20, after pulling in two in '95. His big-play presence in the Denver secondary allowed that unit to post numbers that ranked fifth against the pass in the AFC (206.1 yards per game). 1995: Braxton started all 16 games at strong safety and finished tied for second on the team with 110 tackles (74 solo), 10 passes defensed and two interceptions. He posted a season-high 10 tackles (7 solo) at Dallas (9/10), and turned in a fine all-around performance against Kansas City (10/22), breaking up three passes and making a touchdown-saving tackle, one of his seven (4 solo) on the day. Braxton had eight tackles (5 solo) vs. Arizona (11/5), including a first-quarter touchdown-saving solo tackle of Garrison Hearst at the Broncos' 5-yard line after a 39-yard pass play. The Cardinals were held to a field goal, and did not get into the end zone all day in Denver's 38-6 victory. Braxton matched his season high of 10 tackles (9 solo) at Philadelphia (11/12), and recorded his first interception of the year against Jacksonville (12/3) along with 7 tackles (4 solo) on the day. His second interception came just a week later against Seattle (12/10), and was returned 36 yards. 1994: Braxton played in all 16 games for a Miami team that advanced to the AFC Divisional Playoff before falling to San Diego. He recorded six tackles and two interceptions during the season, playing in nickel situations and on special teams. Braxton was signed by the Dolphins as an unrestricted free agent from Denver May 13, 1994, and was a teammate in Miami of current Bronco Aaron Craver. 1993: Braxton started all 16 games for the Broncos, his fifth straight season as the team's starting left cornerback. He finished second on the team in total tackles with 111 (79 solo), intercepted three passes for 37 yards in returns, had a team-high 19 passes defensed, recovered two fumbles and forced two as well. 1992: Braxton started all 16 games at left corner and led the team with 16 passes defensed, 99 tackles (56 solo) and two interceptions. He played well in week two against against San Diego (9/13), notching 11 tackles and four passes defensed. 1991: Braxton made a successful comeback from a knee injury that caused him to miss most of the 1990 campaign. He started at left corner and marked his return by intercepting a pass for a touchdown in the season-opener vs. Cincinnati (9/1). Braxton recorded 92 total tackles (57 solo), 12 passes defensed, four interceptions, a sack, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery in regular season play. He had a big game against New England (12/1), posting six tackles, three passes defensed and a sack. In postseason play, Braxton had 14 tackles (7 solo) and intercepted a pass in the AFC Championship Game at Buffalo (1/12). 1990: Braxton tore the medial collateral ligament in his right knee in the third game of the season and underwent surgery, thus ending his season. Up to that point he had registered 17 total tackles, an interception and two passes defensed. 1989: Braxton had a tremendous campaign in his third NFL season, playing cornerback for the first time in his career. He started every game for the Broncos and ranked sixth in the AFC with a team-leading six interceptions, while also pacing Denver's defense with 14 passes defensed. In regular season play Braxton posted 111 total tackles (77 solo), two forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries. He helped set the tone for the Broncos' defensive resurgence that season when on opening day vs. Kansas City (9/10) he intercepted a pass on the Chiefs' first play from scrimmage and returned it 34 yards for a touchdown. Braxton also set up a Denver touchdown with a 35-yard fumble return against Washington (11/20), and racked up 12 tackles and an interception at Seattle (10/22). 1988: Braxton had a good season as one of the leaders on Denver's special teams and as a reserve defensive back. He closed that campaign with a total of 49 tackles (38 solo), five passes defensed, two interceptions, a fumble recovery and a quarterback sack. 1987: Braxton played in the final two regular season games and all three postseason contests, spending the first 13 weeks of the season on injured reserve with a shoulder injury suffered in the preseason. He played primarily on special teams in the regular season, then posted five total tackles (3 solo) in the postseason. The rookie was named Denver's special teams most valuable player for his performance in the divisional playoff game vs. Houston (1/10). Braxton was Denver's 12th-round draft pick in 1987, the second-to-last player taken.

COLLEGE: Braxton was a defensive back and punt return specialist at North Dakota State, earning all-conference honors as a senior after posting 126 tackles, an interception, and two fumble recoveries. As a junior he led the conference with five interceptions and a punt return average of 15.0, earning him second-team all-conference honors. Braxton was a member of the North Central Conference champion outdoor 400-meter relay squad that competed in the national championship.

PERSONAL: Tyrone and his wife Elizabeth reside in the Denver suburb of Englewood. A native of Madison, Wisc., he attended James Madison Memorial High School, where he was named all-conference in football as a senior. He lettered twice each in football and basketball and once in track. Tyrone majored in physical education, enjoys fishing in his spare time and once had a job as a gravedigger. Tyrone is a relative of the late Jim Braxton, a former fullback for the Buffalo Bills. His full name is Tyrone Scott Braxton.

BLACKOUT, WHAT BLACKOUT?

Since the 1970 season, the Broncos have sold out every non-strike regular season home game, totalling 195. The number reaches 204 when playoff games are included. The Broncos and the Washington Redskins are the only NFL teams that can boast consecutive sell-outs since the 1970 season.

70 JAMIE BROWN • Tackle

Birthdate – April 24, 1972
Birthplace – Miami, Fla.
Residence – Denver, Colo.
How Acquired – Draft #4a, 1995
College – Florida A&M
High School – Killian HS, Miami, Fla.
Height – 6-8
Weight – 320
Pro Year – 2nd
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Jamie Brown comes into his second season with the Broncos, looking to make the type of strides he made a year ago while backing up six-time Pro Bowler Gary Zimmerman at left tackle. Brown, the Broncos' top selection in the 1995 NFL Draft (4th round, 122nd overall) saw action in six games as a rookie before going on injured reserve Nov. 27 with a broken foot. At 6-8, 320 pounds, Brown is the tallest player ever drafted by the Broncos, and the second-tallest ever signed by the club (6-9 Kevin Farkas did not make the club in 1994). 1995: Brown was active for eight of the first 11 games in his rookie season, and saw action in six, before breaking his left foot in practice Nov. 23. Brown was placed on injured reserve Nov. 27. He showed great promise for the future on the Broncos' offensive line, and helped to contribute to Denver's vastly improved running game in 1995. Brown was active for the first eight games before being deactivated for the Arizona game (11/5). In the season-opener against Buffalo (9/3), he saw action in his first professional game, backing up Gary Zimmerman at left tackle and contributing on special teams.

COLLEGE: Brown made great improvement from his freshman year at Division I-AA Florida A&M to his senior year, starting 38 of 45 games. Brown started all 11 games as a senior in 1994, earning All-Mid-Eastern Athletic Conference honors for his work on the Rattlers' offensive line. The Rattlers averaged 158.5 yards per game on the ground and 4.8 yards per play on offense. He was the lead blocker for halfback Sha-mail Simpkins, an all-conference player who rushed for 1,100 yards and eight touchdowns, including seven 100-yard rushing performances. Brown started all games as a junior, after playing a key role as a sophomore for a Rattlers team that made its first postseason appearance since 1978, earning a bid in the Alamo Heritage Bowl against Grambling State. He started seven games as a freshman in 1991.

PERSONAL: Jamie is a graduate of Killian (Miami, Fla.) HS, where he was a prep All-American in football, and also ran track and played basketball. He did not start playing football until he was a junior in high school, having spent his first two years at the New World School of Arts. Brown's head coach at Florida A&M was Billy Joe, who was a fullback for the Broncos from 1963-64. Other former Rattlers to play for the Broncos include WR Ray Alexander (1984); WR Al Denson (1964-70), and FB Hewritt Dixon (1963-65). Jamie has three sisters, Wendy, Sandy, and Lekietrise, and one brother, Bruce. Sandy, a former Miami Dolphins cheerleader, is married to All-Pro wide receiver Michael Irvin. Jamie is the son of Jimmie Brown and Jeannie Blunt. He was born April 24, 1972 in Miami, Fla.

College – Virginia Tech
High School – Monacan HS
Richmond, Va.
Height – 6-1
Weight – 235
Pro Year – 2nd
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Ken Brown's rookie season was mostly a learning experience, as he played in just two games, and was inactive for the other 14. However, he helped to add youth to a veteran Bronco linebacking corps, and showed steady improvement as the season progressed. 1995: Brown played in two games for the Broncos, seeing his first NFL action at Seattle (10/1), both at linebacker and on special teams. His other appearance came at Houston Nov. 26.

COLLEGE: Brown started 42 of 44 games in his four seasons at Virginia Tech. He started 10 games at outside linebacker as a senior in 1994, registering 93 tackles (54 solo, third on team), two sacks (-23), six stops for losses (-9) and two interceptions. He was an honorable mention All-America and All-Big East first-team selection by The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft and The Sporting News after a senior season in which he was team captain. Brown started all 11 games at inside linebacker as a junior, earning All-Big East second-team honors with 113 tackles (61 solo), two sacks and eight stops for losses (-20). Brown started all 11 games at right outside linebacker as a sophomore, finishing the season with 82 tackles (46 solo), five sacks, two stops for losses and three interceptions for 46 yards in returns. Brown played in all 11 games as a freshman in 1991, starting nine at right outside linebacker and posting 54 tackles (34 solo) and three sacks to earn second-team Freshman All-America honors from Football News and The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft. Prior to enrolling at Tech he played at Fork Union (Va.) Military Academy, the same school that produced veteran NFL quarterback Vinny Testaverde.

PERSONAL: Brown was a two-time All-District selection as both a linebacker and running back at Monacan (Richmond, Va.) HS. He was an all-region pick on defense as a senior and on offense as a junior, and was also two-time team MVP. He led the team to a regional title as he averaged 11 tackles per game in his final season. Brown lettered twice in basketball and performed on the AAU hoop squad that advanced to the national finals. He was a housing, interior design and resource management major at Virginia Tech. He is the son of Joseph and Joy Brown, and was born on 5/5/71 in Wiesbaden, Germany. His full name is Kenneth Anderson Brown.

Keith Burns continued to show steady improvement as a second-year player in 1995, and looks to be an integral part of the Broncos' defensive future. He saw a considerable playing-time increase over his rookie year, and his tenacity and enthusiasm on the field helped him to lead the team in special teams tackles in 1995 with 16. He has played in 22 games in his career, totalling 40 stops, two fumble recoveries, and one forced fumble. 1995: Burns saw action in all 16 games in his second year, playing both at linebacker and on special teams. He made 22 tackles (14 solo) — including 1.5 sacks — and forced a fumble on defense, in addition to leading the team lead with 16 special teams tackles. He also had two fumble recoveries on special teams. Burns recorded his first career sack against Washington (9/17), dropping Redskins quarterback Gus Frerotte for an eight-yard loss in the fourth quarter. His season high in tackles came at Seattle (10/1) when he recorded six (5 solo) and added one on special teams. Against Oakland (10/16), Burns saw his most extensive action of the season after Dave Wyman was ejected in the first quarter following a personal foul. He responded with four tackles (3 solo) and a forced fumble as the Broncos went on to shut out the Raiders 27-0. Burns recovered fumbles on special teams in back-to-back games, versus San Diego (11/19) and at Houston (11/26). 1994: Burns played in 11 of the Broncos' 16 games during his rookie season, including one start on opening day against San Diego (9/4). He immediately made his presence felt by recording nine tackles (8 solo), second-best on the team, in his first NFL game in place of the injured Dave Wyman. His next-best numbers came two weeks later against the Raiders (9/18) when he notched five stops (4 solo). Burns saw time primarily on special teams throughout the rest of his rookie season, finishing the year with 18 tackles (14 solo).

COLLEGE: Burns recorded 233 tackles (182 solo), six sacks, one interception, five fumble recoveries and three forced fumbles during his two years at Oklahoma State. He earned second-team All-America and first-team All-Big Eight honors from Football News, as well as Playboy All-America honors as a senior in 1993. He played both at strongside outside linebacker and middle linebacker during the season, leading the Cowboys with 107 tackles (80 solo) and adding one sack, three fumble recoveries and three pass deflections. Burns, who also earned first-team All-Big Eight kudos and Big Eight Defensive Newcomer of the Year honors as a junior transfer in 1992, closed out his collegiate career with an appearance in the East-West Shrine Game. He played his first two collegiate seasons at Navarro (Texas) Junior College where he earned first-team JC All-America honors in 1991, recording 192 tackles (102 solo), six sacks, three interceptions, six pass deflections, four forced fumbles and three fumble recoveries.

PERSONAL: A native of Greelyville, S.C., Burns earned three letters in football, two in basketball and one in baseball at T.C. Williams HS in Alexandria, Va., where he as a two-time all-district selection in basketball. He has his associate of arts degree from Navarro JC and was a sociology major at Oklahoma State. Keith enjoys bowling in his spare time. His full name is Keith Bernard Burns.

Year with Broncos – 2nd

Glenn Cadrez was signed as a free agent by Denver during Week Five of the regular season to shore up an injury-depleted linebacking corps, and for the rest of the 1995 season he did just that. Cadrez saw action in 10 games for the Broncos and made seven starts after being signed by the club Sept. 27. He had begun the season with the New York Jets and played in one game. He figures to compete once again for significant playing time in 1996. Cadrez has played in 59 games in his four-year career, the first 49 as a member of the Jets. 1995: Cadrez, who had played in the season opener as a member of the New York Jets before being released Sept. 19, made his first Broncos' — and professional — start at left linebacker at New England (10/8) as a replacement for the injured Elijah Alexander. He took over that role full-time when Alexander was placed on injured reserve (11/22). Cadrez finished the season with 44 tackles (22 solo), two sacks and one fumble recovery on defense, and contributed two more tackles on special teams. Cadrez made his first appearance as a Bronco at Seattle (10/1), and started the following week at New England (10/8). He tore cartilage in his right knee during the latter contest, and underwent arthroscopic surgery Tuesday, Oct. 10. He was expected to miss two weeks, but did not return to action until Nov. 5 when the Broncos faced the Cardinals. Cadrez registered the first two sacks of his career on consecutive plays — third and fourth down — to thwart a late Jacksonville rally Dec. 3 in the Broncos' 31-23 win. He also made a key play in the fourth quarter of the Broncos' come-from-behind victory at Oakland in the season finale (12/24), recovering a fumble at Denver's 29-yard line with 3:52 remaining in the game and the score tied at 26-28. The recovery stalled the Raiders' potential game-winning drive, and set up the Broncos' own game-winning drive that culminated with a Jason Elam 37-yard field goal. 1994: As a member of the New York Jets, Cadrez played in all 16 games, primarily on special teams, recording 11 special teams stops. 1993: Cadrez played in all 16 games, recording 11 special teams tackles and six tackles as a backup linebacker. 1992: As a rookie, Cadrez played in all 16 games, registering eight special teams tackles on the season. He was a sixth-round pick (154th overall) by the Jets in 1992.

COLLEGE: Cadrez played collegiately at the University of Houston from 1990-91, where he was a teammate of Bronco linebacker Allen Aldridge. He earned All-Southwest Conference honors as a senior in 1991 when he led the Cougars with 12 sacks as a defensive end. For the season he recorded 63 tackles, one forced fumble, and 14 tackles for losses. Cadrez transferred to Houston from Chaffey Junior College, where he led the team in tackles and sacks both seasons he was there.

PERSONAL: Cadrez is a native of El Centro, Calif., where he attended Central Union High School and was an all-league selection in football. He and his wife, Betsy, and their two daughters, make their home in El Centro. Glenn was born January 2, 1970.

Dwayne Carswell cotinued to take positive strides during the 1995 season while learning under All-Pro tight end Shannon Sharpe. His unusual combination of size, hands and quickness should enable him to push for even more playing time in 1996. 1995: Carswell was declared inactive for seven of the Broncos' first 13 games, before making his first career start against Seattle Dec. 10. He replaced the injured Shannon Sharpe (eye) and Jerry Evans (knee) in the starting lineup, and did so again the following week at Kansas City (12/17) when he caught two passes for 32 yards, including a career-best 23-yarder. He sprained his ankle on the second play of the game, but played through it. For the year, Carswell caught three passes for 37 yards and made two special teams tackles. His first action of the season came at Seattle (10/1) when he played on special teams, and he made his first appearance on offense versus Arizona (11/5). Carswell's first career start came Dec. 10 against Seattle when he caught his first career pass, a five-yarder from John Elway in the second quarter. He was inactive for the first four games of the season. 1994: Carswell spent the first 11 weeks of the season on the practice squad before being moved to the active roster during the week of the Cincinnati game (11/27). He played on special teams during that game, and then saw his first duty at tight end the following week at Kansas City (12/4). Carswell again saw action in the following two games, recovering a fumble against the Raiders (12/11), but was inactive in the season finale against New Orleans (12/24).

COLLEGE: Carswell finished his career at Liberty with 65 receptions for 511 yards and two touchdowns, and posted senior-year totals of 32 receptions for 259 yards in 1993. He also played in the Flames' offensive backfield for two seasons, finishing 1991 with 435 yards rushing and five touchdowns. Carswell was coached at Liberty by former Cleveland Browns' head coach Sam Rutigliano.

PERSONAL: Carswell, a native of Jacksonville, Fla., earned all-state honors as a junior and senior at Temple and University Christian High Schools. He was named second-team all-state as a sophomore at Temple, and also earned all-conference, all-district and all-county honors during his high school career as a safety, running back and wide receiver. He makes his home in Denver.

Byron Chamberlain, a 1995 seventh-round selection by the Broncos (222nd overall), proved as the 1995 season went along that his potential for the future is unlimited. Entering camp as a wide receiver, he quickly made the move to tight end and has progressed rapidly, showing on all parts of the globe that he could be the Broncos' tight end of the future. Chamberlain spent the spring and early-summer of 1996 tearing up the World League of American Football for the Rhein Fire, catching a league-leading 58 passes for 685 yards (11.8) and a league-leading eight touchdowns. Two of his teammates with the Rhein Fire — running back Derrick Clark and cornerback Jamal Ellis — are also current Broncos. 1995: Chamberlain was signed to the active roster Nov. 24 after spending the first 11 games of the season on the practice squad. His first professional game came at Houston Nov. 26. Chamberlain was elevated to the second-string tight end position for the final three games of the season while Shannon Sharpe was out with an eye injury and Jerry Evans was placed on injured reserve with a knee injury. For the season, Chamberlain caught one pass for 11 yards (at Oak., 12/24) and had two special teams tackles. The reception, from John Elway, came during Denver's game-tying drive in the fourth quarter, as the Broncos went on to win 31-28.

COLLEGE: Chamberlain set a school record for receptions at Wayne State with 161, and ranks third on the all-time list for receiving yards with 1,941. He began his college career at Missouri, where he was an All-Big Eight Conference honorable mention selection in 1991. Chamberlain started all 10 games as a senior at Wayne State in 1994, registering a school-record 83 catches for 926 yards (11.2 avg.), and seven touchdowns. He also rushed seven times for 100 yards (14.3) and one touchdown. Chamberlain was a Division II first-team All-America choice by The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft. Chamberlain played in and started nine games as a junior, finishing with 78 receptions for 1,015 yards (13.0) and seven touchdowns, as well as 16 rushes for 122 yards (7.6). He also punted 21 times for 735 yards (35.0), including a career-long 61-yarder. He was a Little All-American first-team pick by The Poor Man's guide to the NFL Draft. Chamberlain did not play collegiate football in 1992, following his transfer from Missouri where he spent three seasons. He played in every game as a freshman in 1989, catching three balls for 92 yards (30.7) and one touchdown, before redshirting in 1990 and then returning for his sophomore season in 1991 when he earned All-Big Eight honorable mention. Chamberlain was a parks and recreation major at Wayne State.

PERSONAL: Chamberlain was a third-team all-state selection as a wide receiver at Eastern Hills (Fort Worth, Texas) HS. He was also an all-district and All-Tarrant County first-team choice. He caught 34 passes for 645 yards (19.0 avg.) and seven touchdowns, adding 216 yards rushing with a pair of scores on 13 carries as a senior. He had 70 receptions for 1,390 yards (19.9) and 15 touchdowns during his career. Byron also lettered twice in track and three times in baseball. His sister Dhana, was the district champ in the triple jump at Eastern Hill in 1987. Byron, the son of Jo Carolyn Boyd, was born 10/17/71 in Honolulu, Hawaii.

Derrick Clark returns to the Broncos in 1996 after spending the 1995 season out of football. He was released by the Broncos Aug. 28 after training camp. Clark looks to compete for a spot in the Broncos' backfield after gaining 399 yards and scoring three touchdowns on 84 carries (4.8) and catching 37 passes for 229 yards (6.2) for the Rhein Fire in the World League in '96. 1995: Clark was released by the Broncos just before the start of the regular season (8/28), and did not re-sign with another team. 1994: Clark appeared in all 16 games for the Broncos and made four starts: vs. the Raiders (9/18), at Kansas City (12/4), at San Francisco (12/17) and vs. New Orleans (12/24). He finished the season with 56 carries for 168 yards, fourth-best on the team, and ran for three touchdowns after joining the team as a rookie free agent. Clark also caught nine passes out of the backfield for 47 yards and returned three kickoffs for 34 yards with a long return of 20 yards. All three of his rushing touchdowns came in the final two games when he started in place of the injured Leonard Russell. Clark's top outing came in the season finale against New Orleans when he rushed for 55 yards and two touchdowns on 15 carries (3.7 average), while hauling in three passes for 19 yards. He made his NFL debut on opening day against San Diego, rushing one time for three yards and catching two passes for 15 yards. Clark registered his career-long run of 12 yards against Cleveland (10/30).

COLLEGE: Clark joined the Broncos after a tremendous collegiate career at Evangel College, an NAIA school in Springfield, Mo. He was a force in the NAIA ranks, setting 35 school rushing and touchdown records. He was a first-team all-conference selection in 1992 and '93, and ranked number one in conference rushing and scoring in 1992 and number three in '93. As a senior Clark rushed 261 times for 1,883 yards for a 7.2-yard average with 22 touchdowns, all of which where school single-season records. He finished his career with school records in yards (3,507), average per carry (6.9) and touchdowns (40).

PERSONAL: Clark, a native of Apopka, Fla., was a three-year letterman in both football and basketball at Apopka HS. He earned first-team all-state honors in football during both his junior and senior seasons. Clark is a cousin of former Broncos running back Sammie Smith.

Toi Cook begins his first year in Denver after signing with the Broncos as an unrestricted free agent, April 17, 1996. The veteran defensive back has played both cornerback and safety in his career, figures to compete for significant playing time in the Broncos secondary. 1995: Cook was signed by the 49ers Aug. 19, and played in two games before being placed on injured reserve with a right shoulder injury Sept. 27. In those two games he registered two solo tackles on defense and one more on special teams. Cook saw action on both defense and special teams in the season opener at New Orleans (9/3), and then on special teams vs. Atlanta (9/10). He was inactive vs. New England (9/17) and at Detroit (9/25) before going on IR (9/27). 1994: Cook played in all 16 games and made two starts for a 49ers team that won Super Bowl XXIX over the San Diego Chargers. He finished the season with 26 tackles (25 solo), one interception (18-yard return) and seven passes defensed. 1993: Cook started all 16 games right cornerback and made 50 tackles (45 solo), one interception, one sack, two fumble recoveries, a forced fumble and nine passes defensed. He had his best game of the year in the season opener vs. Houston (9/5) when he tallied a season-high seven tackles, a sack, an interception, two passes defensed and a fumble recovery. 1992: Cook did not open the season as a starter, but a knee injury to Vince Buck in the season opener thrust him into the starting left cornerback position. He registered 60 tackles (48 solo), a career-best six interceptions, one forced fumble and 16 passes defensed. His first interception of the season came during a 10-tackle performance vs. Chicago (9/13), and he recorded his first career blocked punt at Atlanta (9/20). Cook returned an interception 48 yards for a touchdown vs. Atlanta (12/3), the second of his career, and posted his first two-interception game in the season finale at the New York Jets (12/26). 1991: Cook started the first 14 games of the season at right cornerback before suffering a season-ending fractured forearm at Dallas (12/8). For the season he registered 36 tackles (35 solo), three interceptions and 17 passes defensed. He picked off passes in consecutive games at Philadelphia (10/13) and vs. Tampa Bay (10/20). 1990: Cook started all 16 games at right cornerback and finished the season with 73 tackles (66 solo), two interceptions and 20 passes defensed. 1989: Cook played in all 16 games and started the last 14 at right cornerback. He began the season as a nickel back before moving into the starting lineup. He tallied 56 tackles (45 solo), three interceptions — including one returned 63 yards for a touchdown — and 14 passes defensed on the season. The touchdown return came vs. Indianapolis in the season finale, and his first career sack came in the opener against Dallas. 1988: Cook played in all 16 games and saw his playing time increase from his rookie season. He was used primarily in nickel and dime schemes, but the majority of his action came on special teams. For the season he posted 12 tackles, two passes defensed and his first career interception, vs. the Giants (11/27). 1987: Cook played in seven games in his rookie season, mostly on special teams, finishing with four tackles and one pass defensed on the year. He was an eighth-round pick by the Saints in the 1987 NFL Draft.

COLLEGE: Cook led Stanford in interceptions his last three seasons as a cornerback, including eight as a senior in 1986. For his career he recorded 17 thefts. Cook also was a three-year member and two-year starter in right field and center field for the Cardinal baseball team, starting in center for the the Stanford team that won the 1987 College World Series. He was a first-team All-Pac-10 performer in '86 with a .337 batting average, 10 home runs, 50 RBI and a team-high 37 stolen bases. A communications major at Stanford, Cook was also drafted in baseball, being selected by the Minnesota Twins in the June, 1987 amateur draft.

PERSONAL: Cook attended Montclair Prep High School in Van Nuys, Calif., where he was a defensive back and wide receiver, and led the team with 14 touchdowns as a senior. He has aspirations of getting into the entertainment field after football, an area in which he has already become quite involved in recent years. Cook, along with two college friends, has formed "BLT Productions," a group that has already written its first screenplay, titled "Free James Brown." His father works as a cameraman at Paramount Studios. Toi and his wife, Kristine, are parents of a three-year old son, Connor Austin. His full name is Toi Fitzgerald Cook.

Aaron Craver, who took over the Broncos' starting fullback position in Week Four, came to the Broncos from Miami as an unrestricted free agent last year, and was one of the major contributors to Denver's record-setting offensive performance in 1995. His underrated blocking skills helped to open up holes for Denver's first 1,000-yard rusher (Terrell Davis) in four years. 1995: Craver played in all 16 games, starting 12 of the last 13. His only non-start in that period came Nov. 5 against Arizona when the Broncos opened the game in a two-tight end set. He carried the ball 73 times on the year for 333 yards (4.6) and five touchdowns, and made 43 receptions for 369 yards (8.6) and one touchdown. The 43 receptions were 11 more than he had during his first four years in the league. Craver, who made his first career start at San Diego in Week Four (9/24), also returned four kickoffs for 35 yards (8.8), and made one special teams tackle. He made a transition in training camp from tailback to fullback following the emergence of rookie Terrell Davis, and responded well by providing outstanding blocking all season for Davis, who put up a 1,000-yard season. Craver scored two touchdowns in a game for the first time in his career vs. Arizona (11/5), rushing for one and registering his first career receiving TD. He also helped make history in that game, catching a 19-yard pass from John Elway with 5:29 remaining in the game that pushed Elway over the 40,000-yard passing plateau. In the season finale at Oakland (12/24), Craver started at fullback and had the best game of his career, setting career highs for both rushes (20) and yards (106), in addition to catching four passes for 38 yards. He scored one touchdown, on a one-yard run in the second quarter to put Denver ahead 14-7, en route to a 31-28 win. His career-best 23-yard run came in the first quarter, but was followed by a fumble that was recovered by the Raiders. 1994: Craver played in eight games for Miami with six rushing attempts for 43 yards and 24 receptions for 237 yards. He also had two carries for 13 yards and six receptions for 43 yards in two playoff games. He tied for the team lead in receptions three times and led the team in receiving yardage once. Craver played all five preseason games before being waived Aug. 28. He was re-signed by Miami when Terry Kirby was placed on injured reserve with a knee injury (9/26). Craver made his 1994 Dolphin debut in a special teams role at Cincinnati (10/2). Craver was waived again when the Dolphins signed Cleveland Gary (10/4). He was then re-signed by Miami when Keith Byars was placed on injured reserve with a knee injury (11/9). Craver's 13-yard run at Pittsburgh (11/20) was the longest of his career. He set two other career highs against Buffalo (12/4) seven receptions for 67 yards. He tied for the team lead in receptions with five for 55 yards against Kansas City, including a 28-yarder that was the longest reception of his career. He matched his career high in reception yardage against Detroit on Christmas Day with 67 yards on five catches. Craver was second on the team with four catches for 35 yards – including a career-long 15-yarder – in an AFC Wild Card Game against Kansas City (12/31). In the AFC Divisional Playoff game at San Diego (1/8) he had one carry for 10 yards and two receptions for eight yards. Craver was a teammate of current Bronco Tyrone Braxton in Miami. 1993: Craver suffered a torn anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee in practice Aug. 10. He was placed on injured reserve Aug. 23 after undergoing reconstructive knee surgery by Dr. Peter Indelicato Aug. 19. 1992: Craver played in six regular season games and both playoff games. He had three carries for nine yards and added eight kickoff returns for 174 yards (21.8-yard average) and a long of 44 yards against Seattle (9/27). He posted his longest run of eight yards against Buffalo (10/4). He suffered a hamstring injury versus New England (10/18) and was placed on injured reserve Oct. 21. Craver was activated from IR Jan. 7 and ended up the second-leading rusher for Miami in the playoffs with 85 yards and one touchdown on 10 carries. He also had three catches for 28 yards. He had the best game of his career against San Diego (1/10) in an AFC Divisional Playoff game by leading the team in rushing with a career-high 72 yards on eight carries with one touchdown on a career-long 25-yard run. He also had one reception for 13 yards. In the AFC Championship Game against Buffalo (1/17) he had 13 yards on two carries and two receptions for 15 yards. He also returned four kicks for 48 yards. 1991: Craver played in 14 games as a rookie, finishing third on the Dolphins in rushing with 20 carries for 58 yards and a touchdown and also added eight receptions for 67 yards. He finished 11th in the AFC in kick returns with an average of 19.2 yards per return. He saw action on special teams in his NFL debut at Buffalo (9/1) and returned four kickoffs for 65 yards. He had 11 carries for 37 yards and his first NFL touchdown with a seven-yard run against Indianapolis (9/8).

He had a 49-yard kick return at New England (10/6), which was the longest return by a Dolphin in over two years. He was a third-round draft choice (60th overall) of Miami in 1991.

COLLEGE: Craver was a two-year starter at Fresno State after transferring from El Camino Junior College. He finished his Bulldog career with 449 rushes for 2,251 yards (5.0 average) and 26 touchdowns. He added 57 receptions for 421 yards (7.2) and two scores. He was named All-Big West Conference as a senior when he rushed for 1,003 yards on 224 catches (4.5) and 17 touchdowns, had 34 catches for 259 yards, and returned three kicks for 60 yards. Craver became the first player in school history to gain 1,000 yards rushing in consecutive seasons, as he had gained 1,248 yards with nine TDs on 225 carries as a junior (all school records), earning him honorable mention All-America honors from The Sporting News. He was also selected first-team All-Big West that season as he added 23 receptions for 162 yards (7.0) and one score. Craver also set school records for consecutive 100-yard rushing games (four) and most 100-yard rushing games in a season (eight). Craver spent the 1987-88 seasons at El Camino Junior College, joining school there two years after graduating from high school. From 1985-86 he coached basketball, football and baseball at a local park in Compton, Calif. He originally planned to attend El Camino to play baseball but suffered an ankle injury during tryouts and decided to switch to football. He carried 285 times for 1,355 yards (4.8) and 14 touchdowns in two seasons at El Camino. He was named first-team All-Mission Conference as a sophomore in 1988 when he carried 181 times for 845 yards (4.7) and 12 TDs. He also had 10 catches for 121 yards and 15 kickoff returns for 510 yards (34.0), including a 96-yard score. As a freshman he carried 104 times for 510 yards (4.9) with a pair of scores. He was a liberal arts major.

PERSONAL: Aaron and his wife Dawn (6/29/91) reside in Aurora, Colo. with their son Jalen and daughter Kyndol. As a child Craver suffered from asthma attacks that limited his involvement in outdoor sports until he was 10. Instead of sports, Aaron concentrated on academics and skipped the sixth grade to jump directly into junior high school. Craver has been a life-saver on and off the field, as in April 1991 at a pre-draft workout, he administered emergency first aid to Dallas Cowboys running backs coach Joe Brodsky. Craver put warmup clothing under Brodsky's head and pinched his jaw to keep him from swallowing his tongue. Craver learned first aid in a public health course he took at Fresno State. He is one of six children. He lists his favorite movie as "Scarface", his favorite book as "Misery" and favorite television show as "Fresh Prince of Bel Air". He also enjoys playing pool and bowling in his spare time. His full name is Aaron Lorenze Craver.

Ray Crockett remained a steady performer in the Broncos secondary, starting every game of the 1995 season. He teamed with free agent pickup Lionel Washington and safeties Tyrone Braxton and Steve Atwater to help the Broncos finish fifth in the AFC in passing defense. Crockett also went over 100 games played for his career during the 1995 season. 1995: Crockett started all 16 games at left cornerback in his second year as a Bronco and made 78 tackles (61 solo), with 16 passes defensed and three sacks. He also made two special teams tackles. Crockett recorded sacks in consecutive games vs. Arizona (11/5) and at Philadelphia (11/12), to account for two of his three on the year. He sprained his right knee in the first quarter vs. San Diego (11/19), and had to leave the game for several series, but came back to play the rest of the game after having it wrapped in the locker room. Crockett scored his third career touchdown at Kansas City (12/17) after stripping the ball from Chiefs quarterback Steve Bono on a sack, and racing 50 yards for the score. On the day he had seven tackles (6 solo), one pass defensed and the aforementioned sack for -10 yards. 1994: Crockett joined the Broncos during the offseason as an unrestricted free agent from the Detroit Lions and immediately stepped in as a starter at right cornerback. He started all 14 games in which he played at that position, missing two games with a sprained ankle (at Seattle 10/9 and vs. Kansas City 10/17) suffered in the Broncos' 27-20 loss at Buffalo (9/26). He finished the season with 70 tackles (48 solo), tied for the team lead in interceptions with two (6 yards in returns), led the team in passes defensed with 20 and scooped up two fumbles. He posted his season high in tackles with 10 (6 solo) in the Broncos' 20-17 overtime win at Kansas City (12/4). Crockett pulled down his first interception in a Denver uniform at San Diego (10/23) and recorded his second against Cincinnati (11/27) to set up a Broncos' score. Among his other highlights was a fumble recovery against the Raiders (9/18) that he returned 43 yards before being tackled inside the Raiders' 10-yard line, setting up a Denver score. 1993: Crockett started all 16 games for the Detroit Lions and finished the season with 66 tackles (57 solo), two interceptions, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery. In Crockett's five seasons in the NFC he earned the reputation as one of the game's most physical cornerbacks. 1992: Crockett was slowed early in the season by injuries, but had a good outing versus Minnesota (9/13). He finished the game with a pass interception and four tackles (three solo). Two weeks later versus Tampa Bay he picked off his second pass of the season, and was credited with four tackles. His best all-around performance came versus Chicago, where he recorded a sack, intercepted a pass, and made five solo tackles. He ended the season with 52 tackles (41 solo), four interceptions, one forced and one recovered fumble. 1991: Crockett tied for the NFC lead and finished second in the NFL in interceptions with six. His interception return of 96 yards was the NFL's longest of the season. Crockett's 141 return yards were the most by a Lion since 1967. He was named Defensive Player of the Week after recording a team-high eight tackles and the 96-yard interception return versus the Dallas Cowboys (10/27). Crockett finished the year with 86 tackles (74 solo), six interceptions and one forced fumble. 1990: Crockett finished second on the team in interceptions with three. He played primarily in nickel situations, earning his first start against the Broncos on Thanksgiving Day (11/22). Crockett finished the game with five solo tackles and an interception. His best game came at Green Bay (12/22), finishing with eight tackles, one interception, and a 22-yard fumble return for a touchdown to tie the score at 17-17. For the season Crockett's numbers were 59 tackles (53 solo), three interceptions, two forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries. 1989: Crockett played as a nickel back in all 16 contests, finishing the season with 46 tackles (34 solo), one interception and one forced fumble. He was drafted by Detroit in the fourth round of the 1989 NFL draft, 86th overall.

COLLEGE: Crockett finished his four-year career at Baylor with 169 tackles (120 solo), five interceptions and seven tackles for loss. He also returned five punts as a junior for 30 yards and earned first-team All-Southwest Conference honors with 62 tackles on the year and 13 passes defensed. He also lettered in track. Crockett received his B.A. degree in computer science in May, 1992.

PERSONAL: Ray was a first-team all-district choice at Duncanville (Texas) HS and was named to the Dallas Morning News' All-Academic team as an A student. He earned all-state honors as a tailback and cornerback, and also earned all-state honors in track for Duncanville. Ray is very active in several communities, hosting the Ray Crockett/Barry Foster Celebrity Golf Tournament in Dallas to benefit Ronald McDonald Children's Charities. During the offseason he regularly speaks to children on behalf of a "Stay in School" program in the Dallas area, then hosts a free football camp for the kids. Ray is a lso a United Way volunteer, and his hobbies include basketball, music and bowling. His full name is Donald Ray Crockett.

Terrell Davis became one of the top stories of the 1995 NFL season with a history-making performance in the Broncos' backfield. Davis, who worked his way into the starting tailback position late in the preseason, started the first 14 games for Denver and made a huge impact in his rookie campaign before suffering a season-ending hamstring tear vs. Seattle (12/10). Among Davis' 1995 accomplishments were the first 1,000-yard rushing season by a Bronco since Gaston Green in 1991, becoming only the sixth Bronco to start at running back in his first NFL season, and becoming the lowest-drafted player in NFL history to rush for 1,000 yards in his rookie season. His play at running back allowed the Broncos more flexibility with their offense, helping to lead them to the top of the AFC in offense (third in th NFL). 1995: Davis started 14 of the Broncos' 16 games, missing the final two (at Kansas City, 12/17 and at Oakland, 12/24) with a hamstring tear suffered in the first quarter vs. Seattle (12/10). For the season he led the team with 1,117 rushing yards on 237 carries (4.7) with seven touchdowns and a long of 60 yards (at Houston, 11/26) that went for a touchdown. Through the air, Davis caught 49 passes for 367 yards (7.5) with one touchdown and a long reception of 31. He was voted by his teammates as the club's Offensive MVP for '95, and finished second in the voting for NFL Offensive Rookie of the Year by a nationwide panel of media. He garnered 16 votes, trailing only New England's Curtis Martin, who tallied 57, but was selected by Football Digest as its NFL Rookie of the Year. Davis was also voted to All-Rookie teams published by Pro Football Weekly and Football News, and was selected as a Pro Bowl alternate at runing back. Had one of the backs who were selected to the Pro Bowl been unable to play, Davis would have been chosen to represent the AFC at his position. In 1995 Davis became the first Bronco to rush for 1,000 yards in a season since Gaston Green tallied 1,037 in 1991, and the first Broncos rookie to do so since Bobby Humphrey racked up 1,151 in 1989. He is also the lowest-drafted player in National Football League history to rush for 1,000 yards in his rookie season. The Chargers' Don Woods, who rushed for more than 1,000 in 1974, was also a sixth-round pick (by the Packers), but was selected earlier overall in the draft than Davis, the 196th pick in the 1995 draft). His season total of 1,484 total yards from scrimmage ranked fifth in the AFC and 16th in the NFL — despite missing two games — and the most ever by a Broncos rookie. He finished third in the AFC in rushing (1,117 yards; 9th NFL) and fourth in total first downs (76; tied for 18th NFL). In the season opener vs. Buffalo, Davis started at tailback in his first professional game, carrying the ball a team-leading 20 times for 70 yards (3.5) with a long of 17, and catching two passes for nine yards (4.5) with a long of seven. He scored his first professional touchdown on a three-yard run with 3:22 remaining in the game to cap the Broncos scoring. Davis became the sixth Broncos rookie to start at tailback in a season-opener, and the first since Jeff Alexander in 1989. His statistics were the best of any of the six previous opening-day starters. Against Washington (9/17), Davis tied a Broncos' record with three touchdowns (2 rushing, 1 receiving) in a 13-carry, 68-yard performance, and caught a team-leading seven passes for 61 yards. Davis registered his first 100-yard performance in his ninth professional game, rambling for 135 on 22 carries against Arizona (11/5), including a 34-yarder. Davis' 135 yards against Arizona were the most by a Broncos running back at Mile High Stadium since Dec. 8, 1974 (Otis Armstrong, 183 yards against Houston), and the most by a Bronco in any game since Sept. 29, 1991 (Gaston Green, 158 yards at Minnesota), as well as the highest single-game total by a rookie in Broncos franchise history. His 34-yard run on the second play from scrimmage was the longest of his career up to that point, and highlighted an opening drive on which he carried the ball six times for 60 yards, capped by a 5-yard TD run that put the Broncos ahead 7-0. He also caught three passes for 25 yards, with a long of 18, to give him a then-career-best 160 total yards from scrimmage. He topped that effort in Game 11 vs. San Diego (11/19) when he powered his way to 176 yards on 30 carries — the third-best rushing performance in club history. It was the most yards by a Bronco since Bobby Humphrey gained 177 on 34 carries at Buffalo Sept. 30, 1990, and the most by a Bronco at Mile High, again, since Armstrong's aforementioned effort in 1974. He gained 98 yards in the first half, and also finished strong, carrying the ball six times for 53 yards on the Broncos' final drive, which was capped by a 32-yard game-winning field goal from Jason Elam with 0:02 remaining. Davis surpassed the 1,000-yard mark against Jacksonville (12/3) on his first carry of the day, a 13-yarder around left end, en route to a 21-carry, 84-yard performance. Davis strung together three 100-yard games in four outings late in the season, going for 135 vs. Arizona (11/5), 176 vs. San Diego (11/19) and 110 at Houston (11/26). His 60-yards scoring jaunt in the second quarter of the Houston game was the longest of his career, and the longest by a Bronco since 1992. He also caught a career-best seven passes for 30 yards. With his 140 total yards from scrimmage, Davis improved his season total to 1,348, surpassing Bobby Humphrey for the most total yards in a season by a Broncos rookie (Humphrey had 1,307 in 1989).

COLLEGE: Davis continued a strong tradition of standout tailbacks to perform for the Georgia Bulldogs throughout the '80s and '90s — following in the footsteps of Herschel Walker, Rodney Hampton, Garrison Hearst and Tim Worley — after transfering from Long Beach State. He spent his first collegiate season playing under George Allen for the 49ers, until the program was eliminated following the 1991 season, in which Davis rushed for 262 yards and two touchdowns on 55 carries (4.8). He transferred to Georgia where he played three seasons — the first behind Garrison Hearst, who finished third in the Heisman Trophy voting in 1992. He finished his career at Georgia with 1,667 yards on 317 carries (5.2) and 15 touchdowns. Davis also caught 46 passes for 529 yards (11.5) and four touchdowns. As a senior in 1994 Davis played in eight games as a scatback and started seven. He missed three contests due to a groin injury, but still managed to lead the team with 445 yards and seven touchdowns on 97 carries (4.6 average), in addition to 31 receptions for 330 yards (10.7). He had his finest campaign as a junior when he played in all 11 games and started six at scatback, leading the team with 824 yards on 167

Gary Downs came to the Broncos just before the start of the 1995 season and provided depth to an excellent backfield that helped Denver produce its finest offensive season in team history. He showed steady improvement as the 1995 campaign progressed. 1995: Downs was inactive for the first 14 games of the season before seeing his first action as a Bronco, on special teams, at Kansas City (12/17), and then on offense at Oakland on Dec. 24. Downs was signed by the Broncos as a free agent Aug. 28, after spending his rookie season with the New York Giants. Against Oakland (12/24), Downs saw action on special teams, and his first action on offense. He helped to clear a path for Aaron Craver to score on a one-yard touchdown run that gave Denver its first lead of the game at 14-7. The Broncos went on to win the contest 31-28. 1994: Downs played in 14 games as a rookie for the New York Giants, rushing for 51 yards on 15 carries (3.4 avg.) and catching two passes for 15 yards (7.5 avg.). He also added three special teams tackles. He was a third-round pick (95th overall) by the Giants in 1994 out of North Carolina State University.

COLLEGE: Downs was a standout running back at North Carolina State, where he played in 40 games, rushing for 1,642 yards (10th all-time at NC St.) and 23 touchdowns (third all-time at NC St.). During his senior season he rushed for 937 yards and nine touchdowns on 186 carries.

PERSONAL: Downs attended Spencer High School in Columbus, Ga., where he was second in a Junior Olympics national track meet in the 110-yard hurdles. He was also a member of the National Honor Society while at Spencer. His father, Gary, Sr., played football at North Carolina Central. Gary, Jr. was also a student of Metaphysics and Sho Do Kahn karate, which help to aid his flexibility and concentration. Gary McLinton Downs was born June 6, 1972 in Columbus, Ga.

Jason Elam continued his climb into the ranks of the league's elite kickers in his third NFL season, being voted to the Pro Bowl for the first time in his career. He also earned second-team All-Pro honors from both the Associated Press and College & Pro Football Newsweekly, as well as All-AFC honors from Pro Football Weekly. In the process, he maintained his position among the NFL's most accurate kickers inside 40 yards, as he is now the NFL's fifth-most accurate kicker in that range since the start of the 1993 season, converting 61 of 65 (.938). He now ranks fourth on the Broncos all-time scoring list (370 points) and is 13 field goals shy of 100 for his career. He has also successfully converted his last 82 point-after attempts, and is 109-110 (.991) for his career. The only miss of his career was a block by Minnesota at Mile High Stadium, Nov. 14, 1993, in a 26-23 Vikings win. Elam is currently the Broncos' career leader in field-goal percentage, at .791 (87-110). 1995: Elam finished tied for third in the NFL in scoring — and tied for second among kickers — with 132 points, and tied for second in field goals made with 31. The 132 points are the second-most by a Bronco in a single season, and the 31 field goals broke Elam's own record of 30 set in '94. On the season he was 31-38 (.816) on field goal attempts and 39-39 on point-after attempts. He also punted once for 17 yards and contributed two special teams tackles. Elam was 5-7 (.714) on field-goal attempts of 50 yards or longer — inlcuding one missed attempt of 66 yards versus Seattle (12/10) — to improve his career numbers from that distance to 10-16 (.625). His 66-yard attempt was the second-longest kick ever attempted by a Bronco, trailing only the 73-yard attempt (also missed) by Fred Steinfort at New England Sept. 29, 1980, and was the longest ever attempted at Mile High Stadium. His five field goals of 50 yards or more last season tied a Broncos single-season record, originally held by Fred Steinfort (5-8 in 1980). Elam's 56-yarder at Houston (11/26) was the longest of his career, and the second-longest in franchise history, behind Steinfort's 57-yarder vs. Washington, Oct. 13, 1980. At Oakland on Christmas Eve, Elam scored 11 points, including the game-winning 37-yard field goal with 48 seconds remaining, in Denver's 31-28 win. It was the second time that season Elam had kicked a game-winning field goal in the final minute, following his 32-yard effort that beat San Diego with 0:02 remaining against San Diego (11/19). The San Diego game-winner was the third of Elam's career, and his first in the final seconds of regulation. Elam made a franchise-record 13 straight field goals during the middle of the season, beginning with a 30-yarder at Seattle (10/1), and ending with a 35-yarder against San Diego (11/19). Elam set the tone for his stellar season in the opener against Buffalo (9/3), tying a Broncos single-game record with five successful field goals in six attempts (22, 52, 20, 38, 37; missed from 38). 1994: Elam matched his rookie total of 119 points scored (fourth on the Broncos' all-time single-season scoring list) and set a Broncos record for successful field goals in a season with 30 (37 attempts). He also was a perfect 29-for-29 on point-after attempts, giving him a two-year accuracy of .986 (70-of-71). His two-year field-goal percentage of .778 moved him into second on the Broncos' all-time career list, just behind David Treadwell (.779 from 1989-92). His accuracy on kicks inside 40 yards was impeccable in '94, as he converted 22-of-22 kicks within that distance. Elam tied his NFL-long and the fourth-best kick in Broncos history with a 54-yard field goal at San Diego (10/23). He accounted for nine of the Broncos 15 points in a 15-13 win over Cincinnati (11/27) by converting 3-of-5 attempts (34 yards, 33 and 37). He also connected for three field goals at New York (3-for-3) and at Seattle (3-for-4). Elam had just one field goal attempt blocked, a 50-yard attempt against Atlanta (11/20). 1993: Elam showed his leg strength on several long field goals during the 1993 season. His 119 points (fourth-highest figure in Bronco history) placed him fourth in the AFC and seventh in the NFL. Elam was successful on 4 of 6 field goal attempts longer than 50 yards. His 54-yarder in the week two game versus San Diego (9/12) was the fourth-longest in team history. That came one week after he tied for the third-best single game performance at the New York Jets (9/5) in the season opener. In that game he went 4-4. For the year Elam made 26 field goals, tying for fourth-best in team history.

COLLEGE: Elam was a superb combination kicker in college, holding virtually every school and conference scoring record at the University of Hawaii. He finished his career with 79 field goals, just one shy of the NCAA record held by Jeff Jaeger (80). Elam holds the Western Athletic Conference scoring record with 395 points, and made 30 of 43 field goals of 40 yards or more. Elam finished his collegiate career with a 79.0 field goal percentage, connecting on 79 of 100 attempts, with his longest being a 56-yarder. He finished 157 of 160 in PATs for the Rainbows. As a senior Elam was selected first-team All-America (Kodak and The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft) and was first-team All-WAC. He made 16 of 25 field goals and 44 extra points, finishing with 92 points for the season. He also finished his collegiate career with a 43.5-yard average on 84 punts. Elam was a communication major.

PERSONAL: Jason and his wife, Tamy,a Broncos cheerleader, were married in May 1996, and make their home in Parker, Colo. Jason is a licensed commercial airplane pilot, who plans to fly full-time when he completes his NFL playing career. A native of Shelbyville, Ga., Jason was was first-team all-county and second-team all-state at Brookwood HS in Snellville, where he also lettered in swimming and track.

Year with Broncos – 14th

John Elway took another step closer to Canton, Ohio, in 1995, as he turned in one of the most outstanding performances in his 13-year career. Entering his 14th season, Elway has now moved into the NFL's top five in all-time passing yards (41,706, 4th), total offense (44,552, 3rd), pass attempts (5,926, 3rd), and pass completions (3,346, 5th). He is also fifth in all-time rushing yards by a quarterback with 2,846. In addition to being the second-winningest quarterback in terms of victories in the NFL since 1983 (113), Elway also ranks in the top five among active passers in yards, attempts, completions, and touchdowns passes (225). He has also re-written the Bronco offensive record book. He is currently first in games started (188) and second in games played (190), needing two games played in 1996 to surpass LB Tom Jackson and assume the top spot.

Elway's numerous honors include being named NFL Most Valuable Player in 1987 and AFC Player of the Year in 1993. He earned his fourth Pro Bowl berth in 1994, following selections in 1986, 1987 and 1993. He has been named the Broncos' offensive most valuable player by his teammates eight times in his career (1985-88 and 1991-94), and has been named the AFC Offensive Player of the Week 13 times.

During Elway's era (1983-95), he has spurred his team on to three victories in four AFC Championships games, five AFC Western Division titles, and six playoff berths, including the most recent, a Wild Card spot in 1993. In addition, his 2,846 career rushing yards not only rank fifth among all-time NFL quarterbacks, but also fourth among all-time Bronco rushers, with Pro Bowlers Floyd Little, Sammy Winder and Otis Armstrong the only Broncos to have rushed for more yards.

What to Look for With John Elway in 1996

- John Elway needs 154 yards rushing to become the second quarterback in NFL history to have 40,000 passing yards and 3,000 rushing yards for his career.
- He also needs to start the first two games of the 1996 season in order to pass Tom Jackson for most games played by a Bronco. It would be Elway's 192nd game as a Bronco. Elway will also tie Jackson (1973-86) and Dennis Smith (1981-94) for most seasons played with Denver at 14.
- If he throws a touchdown pass in each of the first three games of the 1996 season, he will have thrown a touchdown pass in 14 consecutive games, breaking his own team record of 13 set from 1985-86.
- He also needs 3,294 passing yards to reach 45,000 for his career.
- Elway would need 25 touchdown passes to reach 250 career TD passes, a feat that has currently been accomplished by only six other quarterbacks in NFL history.

JUST GETTING WARMED UP

John Elway has not only maintained his status among the league's elite quarterbacks in recent years, but has improved dramatically in several key statistical categories over the past three seasons. The following is a comparative glance at Elway's season averages for passing yards, touchdowns and interceptions for his first nine seasons as a full-time starter (excludes 1983), and his last three.

SEASONS	AVG. YARDS	AVG. TDS	AVG. INTS
1984-92	3,172.6	16.8	15.8
1993-95	3,830.0	22.3	11.3

Elway has accounted for 253 touchdowns as a pro, 225 passing and 27 rushing, as well as one on a pass reception. He has generated 3,296 career points in regular season play. For his career, has has directed Denver to scores in better than three in 10 drives (31.9%). He holds or is tied for 29 regular season Bronco records, including most touchdown passes (225), highest average gain per rush (4.5), and lowest career interception avoidance percentage (.032).

In a record that possibly will never be broken, Elway is the only player ever to pass for 3,000 yards and rush for 200 yards in the same year for seven straight seasons (1985-91). No other quarterback ever has put together more than four straight 3,000/200 seasons, and 1994 was Elway's eighth overall. In his career, Elway three times has had over 4,000 yards of total offense (1985, 1993 and 1995).

Elway has engineered 37 fourth-quarter, game-winning or game-tying drives, the highest career total documented for any quarterback, and the team has a record of 36-0-1 in the contests. Those games include 30 fourth-quarter, game-winning drives and seven fourth-quarter, game-tying drives. (See complete listing of drives beginning on page 84)

Elway now is 120-80-1 (.597) as a starting quarterback — including postseason — but can claim a 116-74-1 (.607) mark since taking over as the permanent starter in the first game of 1984. He is pro football's winningest quarterback in total wins from 1984-95 (116). Elway has a home record of 72-23 (.758) at Mile High Stadium from 1984-95, the best of any NFL quarterback in that time frame. One of the most durable NFL quarterbacks ever, Elway has started 2,134 drives as a pro, and has been replaced just six times due to injury (that's 0.0028 percent, or 2.8 times in 1,000). In his 13 seasons, he has missed just eight starts due to injury.

He has completed 58 passes of 50 or more yards as a Bronco and has 29 regular season (32 overall) 300-yard passing games, including a career-best five last year, all in the regular season. He has had 40 overall games with 300 or more yards of total offense and Denver is 26-18-1 in those contests.

1995: Elway started all 16 games, completing 316 of 542 passes (58.3%) for 3,970 yards, a career-best 26 touchdowns and 14 interceptions. He threw for more than 300 yards on five occasions, a career best. He has now passed for more than 3,000 yards in 10 of his 13 NFL seasons, joining Dan Marino as the only quarterbacks in NFL history to accomplish that feat 10 or more times. He also rushed 40 times for 179 yards (4.5) and one touchdown, with a long of 15. He led the AFC (tied for 5th NFL) in passing yards, finished third (8th NFL) in completions and was third (8th NFL) in pass attempts.

Meanwhile, his fourth-quarter passer rating of 95.2 ranked third in the AFC and fifth in the NFL. With his 256 passing yards against Arizona (11/5), Elway pushed his career total to 40,008, making him just the seventh player in professional football history to surpass the 40,000-yard mark, and the fourth-fastest to do so in terms of games played (183). He joined Fran Tarkenton, Dan Marino, Dan Fouts, Joe Montana, Johnny Unitas and Warren Moon — the latter surpassing 40,000 earlier the same day as Elway. The yardage to reach the milestone came on a 19-yard pass to Aaron Craver with 5:20 remaining in the game, giving Elway 40,008 to end the day. He passed for 290 yards two weeks later against San Diego (11/19) to move into sixth place ahead of Johnny Unitas (40,239), and then took over fifth place the following week at Houston (11/26) with a 332-yard performance that supplanted Joe Montana (40,551) and left Elway with 40,684. Elway's move into third on the NFL's all-time total offense list — surpassing Dan Fouts (43,516) — came vs. Jacksonville (12/3), when his 309 total yards raised his career total to 43,800. He completed 22-of-34 for 286 yards with a season-high four touchdowns and one interception in Denver's 31-21 victory. The four touchdowns, which included a season-best 62-yarder to Anthony Miller, were the most by Elway in single game since Nov. 26, 1989 against Seattle, and the third time in his career he has thrown four TDs. His career best is five. Elway also gained 25 yards on one rushing play, his longest rush from scrimmage since 1989. Elway moved into fifth on the all-time NFL completion list against Seattle (12/10), passing Dan Fouts (3,297). He earned AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors for the 13th time in his storied career — and second time in '95 — Dec. 26 for his 24-of-41, 320-yard, two-touchdown performance in the Broncos' Week 17 win at Oakland (12/24), in which he also ran the ball into the end zone for a two-point conversion in the fourth quarter to tie the game at 28-28. In the second half alone, Elway completed 15-of-28 for 225 yards, one TD and one INT. His fourth-quarter numbers, which helped rally the Broncos from a 28-17 deficit, totalled 9-for-15 for 128 yards. Elway's 12th career Player of the Week honor had come Sept. 20 after his 30-of-47, 327-yard performance against Washington, capped by a game-winning, 43-yard touchdown toss to Rod Smith on the game's final play. Elway's 30 completions tied for the fourth-most in a game by a Bronco, trailing his own 36- and 33-completion outings, and Mickey Slaughter's 34. That finish, followed by the Broncos' 30-27 final-drive win over San Diego (11/19), and their final-drive 31-28 win at Oakland (12/24), pushed Elway's career total for fourth-quarter game-winning or game-saving drives to 37. On 30 occasions he has led the team to a win in regulation, and seven times he has led them to a tie, with wins resulting in overtime on six of those occasions (one tie). With his start against Oakland (10/16), Elway surpassed former Bronco defensive back Billy Thompson for most career starts by a Bronco (179), a figure he would push to 188 by season's end. Elway did not miss more than several plays in a game due to injury all season, with the exception of Game 10 at Philadelphia (11/12) when a concussion chased him on the first play of the second quarter, and he did not return. The injury occurred on a hit from the Eagles' Mike Mamula and William Fuller. Prior to his removal, Elway had completed two of three pass for 54 yards, including a 46-yard touchdown strike to Anthony Miller.

1994: John Elway earned his fourth AFC Pro Bowl berth, showing all the skills that mark him as an all-time great despite a very disappointing season for the Broncos. He missed two of the last Elway is the winningest quarterback at home during the time span 1983-95, with a record of 72-23 (.758). He also has at least a .500 record against 22 of the 29 other teams in the NFL, including all but two in the AFC (Oakland and Miami).

three games of the season (at Los Angeles and vs. New Orleans) due to a strained left knee. He finished the season second in the AFC and fourth in the NFL in passer rating with an 85.7, and his other season stats and rankings show 3,490 yards on 494 attempts and 307 completions, with a 2.0 interception percentage, all figures ranking third in the AFC. His 62.1 completion percentage was second in the AFC and sixth overall. Elway went over the 3,000-yard mark for the season (his ninth 3,000-yard campaign, second only to Dan Marino's 10 in NFL history at that point), and Elway also went over the 40,000-yard mark in total offense. He rushed for 235 yards (second on the team and marking his ninth 200-yard season), giving him a season total offense figure of 3,725 in the 14 games he played. Elway enjoyed the third-best passing yardage day of his career vs. Atlanta (27 of 42 for 382 yards), and that was his second-best regular season yardage total ever, standing as his all-time high at Mile High Stadium. He had two games with over 350 passing yards (Elway threw for 371 vs. the Chargers on opening day). Elway scored four rushing touchdowns, marking the third time in his career to have four or more scores on the ground (six in 1991 and four in 1987). Elway completed 30 of 41 (73%) for 349 yards vs. Cleveland, including two touchdowns, an effort that resulted in his being named AFC Offensive Player of the Week for the 11th time in his storied career. He set a new Denver record with 36 completions vs. San Diego on opening day, the 20th all-time Denver record to be held by Elway. A sign of the Broncos' 1994 frustrations is seen in the fact that he became the first quarterback in NFL history to have three interceptions returned for touchdowns in the first three games of the season.

1993: Elway was named AFC Most Valuable Player (NFL Players Association), AFC Offensive Player of the Year (UPI, and the Kansas City 101 Club), and AFC Player of the Year (Football News) in 1993. Elway performed at an MVP-pace all year, earning all-AFC (UPI, Football News) and second-team all-NFL (AP, College and Pro Football Newsweekly, and Football Digest), and he was the starting quarterback in the 1994 Pro Bowl after a regular season that saw him lead the AFC in all six major quarterback stats categories. rankings included a 92.8 rating (first in the AFC, third in the NFL), 551 attempts (first in the entire NFL), 348 completions (first in the entire NFL), a 63.2 completion percentage (first in the AFC and third in the NFL), 25 TD passes (first in the AFC and second in the NFL), 4,030 yards (first in the AFC). Elway's 1.8 interception avoidance percentage was fourth in the AFC, but stands as the best in Denver history for any quarterback with more than 75 single-season attempts. In 1993 he set new personal and Denver records for total yards offensively (4,183), completions (348), passing yards (4,030), TD passes (25), and completion percentage (that 63.2 mark tied the figure set by Norris Weese in 1976). Nineteen ninety-three was Elway's first 4,000-yard season and his eighth 3,000-yard season. He also rushed for 153 yards. Elway was named the AFC Offensive Player of the Week twice and was named by his teammates as Denver's offensive MVP. In the regular season finale at Los Angeles he had his second highest passing yardage figure of the year (361, his third 300-yard game of the campaign), throwing three TD passes. His 382 yards of total offense in that same Raiders' game marked the sixth best Bronco figure in team history. Elway completed over 60% of his passes in 11 of the 16 games. At San Diego in game 12 (Dec. 5) his streak of consecutive games with at least one TD pass ended at 12 (it had begun with a TD pass in the last game of the 1992 campaign, and it ended one game short of his personal best of 13 straight), and he twice had long single-game completion streaks (Elway completed 13 straight passes vs. Minnesota on Nov. 14 and hit on 10 straight at Seattle Nov. 28). That streak of 13 straight completions is Denver's second highest single-game total ever. Elway had 30 completions against the Vikings, one of two 30-completion games in 1993 for Elway. Elway at Green Bay (Oct. 10) set personal bests for attempts (59, a new team record), completions (33, the second highest ever by a Bronco), and set a new team record with 64 total plays from scrimmage, including 59 passes and five rushes. In addition, Elway's 394 yards of total offense at Green Bay were the fourth highest ever by a Bronco, and the second highest ever by Elway (he had 432 at Seattle 12/20/85). Elway utilized no fewer than six receivers in any game, with the high being nine on opening day vs. the Jets (Sept. 5). He threw TD passes to eight different receivers in 1993.

1992: Elway completed 174 of 316 passes for 2,242 yards, with 10 touchdowns and 17 interceptions. He gained 94 yards and scored twice on 34 rushing attempts. He missed games 11 through 14 because of a bruised tendon in his right shoulder, suffered while running for a first down against the Giants (11/15). Elway earned two AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors last year, grabbing the first one for his performance on opening day. Against the Raiders (9/6) he drove Denver 85 yards in seven plays to score the winning points with 55 seconds left, a score set up by a 48-yard pass to Arthur Marshall. His second player-of-the-week honors came after he threw two touchdown passes in the final two minutes to give Denver a 20-19 victory over Kansas City (10/4). Elway passed for 311 yards in that game, his only 300-yard effort of the season. In week two against San Diego (9/13) Elway threw two TD passes and scored on an eight-yard run. Against the Jets (11/8) he threw an 80-yard touchdown pass to Arthur Marshall, his longest regular season TD pass ever. He turned in a sterling performance against

ELWAY NAMED 1992 EDGE NFL MAN OF THE YEAR

John Elway was named the 1992 Edge NFL Man of the Year for his work with the Elway Foundation, a non-profit organization which has raised over $1,000,000 that was directed toward the prevention and treatment of child abuse throughout Colorado.

Among the groups assisted by the Elway Foundation are Family Focus and the Kempe Children's Foundation. The Elway Foundation in 1991 alone raised over $400,000.

Elway is also a member of the Mayor's Council on Physical Fitness and has served as chairman of the National Kidney Foundation for the Rocky Mountain region.

The Edge NFL Man of the Year award is truly unique in that it is the only league sponsored award that recognizes a player's off-the-field community service work as well as his playing excellence. Perhaps the most prestigious of all NFL awards, it has been in existence since 1970.

Houston (10/18), directing a three-play, 80-yard drive for the winning score with less than two minutes remaining in the game.

1991: Elway completed 242 of 351 passes for 3,253 yards, a total ranked sixth in the AFC and ninth in the NFL. He threw 12 touchdown passes and tied a career low with just 12 interceptions. He had 36 pass completions of 20+ yards, nine of 40+, five of 50+, and four of 60+. Elway was third on the team with 258 yards rushing, and his six TDs led the team and set a new career single season high. He was bothered throughout the second half of the season by a shoulder problem that was corrected by arthroscopic surgery in the 1992 offseason. Against Cincinnati in the season opener (9/1), Elway threw for 262 yards and two touchdowns, scored two rushing TDs, and caught a 24-yard pass from Steve Sewell. Against Kansas City (10/20) he combined with Mark Jackson for a 71-yard gain on a fourth-and-13 play to set up the winning field goal. Elway had his only 300-yard passing performance of the year in Denver's loss at Houston (10/6), with 301 yards. His heroics were never more evident than in the Broncos' 26-24 Divisional Playoff Game victory over Houston (1/4). He rallied Denver from a 21-6 deficit, and on a drive in which he completed a fourth-down pass to Michael Young for a first down, he drove his team to a touchdown to cut the Oilers' lead to one point at 24-23. Houston's next drive stalled but a punt gave the Broncos the ball on the two. Twice Elway converted fourth down plays, first on a seven-yard run and later with a 44-yard pass to Vance Johnson, to set up Denver's winning field goal. For the game Elway completed 19 of 33 passes for 257 yards, with one TD and one interception, and rushed six times for 39 yards. In the AFC Championship Game loss at Buffalo (1/12) he completed 11 of 21 passes for 121 yards and an interception before having to leave the game in the fourth quarter with a thigh injury.

1990: Elway completed 294 of 502 passes in 1990, (a .586 completion percentage that stands as the highest of his career), for 3,526 yards, 15 touchdowns, and 14 interceptions. He gained 258 yards on 50 rushing attempts and scored three touchdowns on the ground. Elway turned in several gutsy performances last season, and played some of his best games in the midst of Denver's six game losing streak, including a 328-yard, two-TD performance at Kansas City (12/9). That performance was his 17th career 300-yard game and the 27th time in which he totaled over 300 yards of total offense. Denver is 18-8-1 in those games. Elway had three of his top six career completion percentages in 1990, with a high of .800 at Minnesota (11/4), and also tied his personal single game completion mark with 30 vs. Seattle (9/23). Elway and wide receiver Vance Johnson combined on Denver's most memorable play of the season when on fourth and 10 against Kansas City (9/17) they connected on a 49-yard pass that set up a last second game-winning field goal attempt. He also set a new regular season rushing high with a mark of 52 yards against the Raiders (12/2).

1989: Elway in 1989 led Denver to its third AFC Championship in four years.He completed 223 of 416 passes for 3,051 yards with 16 touchdowns and 18 interceptions, and he rushed for 244 yards on 48 carries, scoring three times. Elway had one 300-yard passing game in the regular season, passing for 344 yards and two TDs in the Broncos' overtime win at Seattle (10/22). He led Denver to a 38-0 halftime lead against the Seahawks (11/26) after passing for 217 yards and four TDs.

In the divisional playoff game vs. Pittsburgh (1/7/90) Elway completed 12 of 20 passes for 239 yards, including completions of 51 and 37 yards, and rushed for 44 yards, with one run of 32 yards. He had one of the best performances of his career in the AFC Championship Game against Cleveland (1/14), totaling over 300 yards total offense for the third time in a conference title game. He completed 20 of 36 passes for 385 yards and three TDs. Elway combined with Michael Young on a 70-yard scoring play, completed a 43-yard pass to Steve Sewell, threw a 39-yard TD pass to Sammy Winder, and gained 25 of his 39 rushing yards on one play. In Super Bowl XXIV (1/28) he completed 10 of 26 passes for 108 yards and scored Denver's only TD of the game on a three yard run.

1988: In 1988 Elway threw for 3,309 yards and rushed for 234 yards despite being bothered for most of the season by several nagging injuries. He was voted by teammates as Denver's most valuable offensive player for the fourth straight year, sharing the award with running back Sammy Winder,following a campaign in which he completed 274 of 496 passes, with 17 touchdowns and 19 interceptions. He had his only 300-yard passing game of the season against the Raiders (12/4) with 324 yards and two touchdowns.

1987: Elway was named the NFL's Most Valuable Player (AP) and the AFC's starting quarterback in the Pro Bowl after turning in a tremendous season in 1987, a year in which he became the first AFC signal-caller since Terry Bradshaw (1978-79) to lead his team to consecutive conference crowns. Elway was named All-NFL (The Sporting News, NEA, AP-second team) and All-AFC (UPI, Pro Football Weekly, The Football News), in addition to being tabbed as the AFC MVP (NFLPA), AFC Player of the Year (The Football News), AFC Offensive Player of the Year (UPI, Kansas City 101 Club), and Colorado Pro Athlete of the Year (Colorado Sports Hall of Fame).He was dynamic in the AFC Championship Game against the Browns, completing 14 of the 26 passes for 281 yards and three TDs, while also rushing 11 times for 36 yards. In Super Bowl XXII he completed 14 of 38 passes for 257 yards, ran for 32 yards on three carries, and became the first quarterback in Super Bowl history to catch a pass, a 23-yarder from Steve Sewell. Elway's 56-yard scoring strike to Ricky Nattiel on Denver's first play from scrimmage provided the earliest TD in Super Bowl history (elapsed time of 1:57). He was voted the Broncos' offensive MVP for a regular season performance in which he completed 224 of 410 passes for 3,198 yards, an average of 267 yards per game, with 19 TD passes. Elway had four 300 yard passing games that year, a team record. He led all AFC quarterbacks in rushing for the fourth straight season was second on the team with a career-high 304 yards, scoring four times.

1986: Elway led the Broncos to their first AFC Championship in nine seasons in 1986, while earning his first Pro Bowl berth. He was honored with the Seattle Gold Helmet Award (Professional Football Player of the Year) and received the King of the Hill award from the Colorado Sports Hall of Fame, in addition to being named honorable mention All-NFL (AP) and All-AFC (UPI-second team). Along with his 18 TD passes that year, Elway also scored on an 11 -yard run and a 23-yard pass reception from Steve Sewell that is the longest TD catch by a full-time starting QB in NFL history. His best statistical game of the season came against the Giants (11/23) when he passed for 336 yards and led the team with 51 yards rushing. Elway directed one of the greatest drives in NFL postseason history in pacing Denver to a 23-20 overtime win over Cleveland for the AFC title. He completed 22 of 38 passes for 244 yards and a TD, that coming on a five-yard strike to Mark Jackson that capped a 15-play, 98-yard drive that tied the game at the end of regulation. In overtime Elway drove the team 60 yards in nine plays to the winning field goal. In Super Bowl XXI Elway completed 22 of 37 passes for 304 yards and one TD, also scoring on a four-yard run.

1985: Elway took some spectacular steps forward in 1985 as the Stanford graduate rewrote the Denver record book.Elway set Bronco single season records for attempts (605, which led the NFL and fell just four passes short of the NFL record of 609 held by Dan Fouts), completions (327, second in the NFL), passing yards (3,891, second in the NFL), total rushing and passing plays (656, first in the NFL), and total offense (4,414, also first in the league).

1984: Elway led the Broncos to a 12-2 record in his 14 regular season starts in 1984. He completed 214 of 380 passes for 2,598 yards, with 18 TDs and 15 interceptions. Not only was his passing a factor in his leadership of the offense, but he finished third on the team in rushing with 237 yards.

1983: Elway started 10 games in 1983, including the first five before being replaced by Steve DeBerg and five more after DeBerg was injured. While Elway did not have impressive stats as a rookie, finishing 17th among AFC passers, he carried a tremendous emotional burden, having come to the NFL as the most publicized college prospect since Joe Namath in 1965. Elway was the first player chosen in the 1983 draft and joined the Broncos by trade with Baltimore on May 2.

COLLEGE: John concluded his college career with five major NCAA Division 1-A records and nine major Pac-10 marks. Elway completed 62.1 percent of his career passes (774 of 1,243, both NCAA highs) for 9,349 yards and 77 touchdowns, while setting an NCAA record for the lowest percentage of passes intercepted in a career (3.13 percent). As a senior, John was a consensus All-American and finished second in Heisman Trophy balloting while setting virtually every Pac-10 and Stanford career record for total offense and passing. A two-sport star, John played baseball for the New York Yankees' Oneonta (N.Y.) single-A farm club in 1982, hitting for a .316 average and knocking in a team-high 24 runs batted in. He was the Yankees' first selection in the 1981 summer draft. He hit.349 with nine homers and 50 RBI in 49 games in his final college baseball season as a sophomore. Elway has a degree in economics from Stanford.

PERSONAL: John and his wife Janet have four children, including three daughters, Jessica Gwen (10/17/85), Jordan Marie (6/1/87), Juliana (3/7/91), and a son, Jack (8/11/89). The family makes its home in Englewood, Colo. In addition to his considerable time spent on The Elway Foundation, John owns and operates seven automobile franchises in the Denver area. A native of Port Angeles, Wash., Elway was the most highly recruited prep athlete in the nation in 1979 and was listed on Parade, Scholastic Coach, Football News, and National Coaches Association All-America teams. He had an unparalleled football-baseball career at Granada Hills HS. John was 129 of 200 for 1,837 yards and 19 TDs as a senior, while leading the baseball team to the Los Angeles City championship with a .491 batting average and a 4-2 pitching record. He completed 60 percent of his high school passes for 5, 711 yards and 49 TDs. The Kansas City Royals selected him in the 1979 summer draft, although he already had signed a national letter of intent with Stanford. John's father, Jack, coached his son in the East-West Shrine contest in which John earned Offensive MVP laurels, and is currently the Broncos' Director of Pro Scouting.

(*—the record number is the percentage the quarterback has put his team in position to score, allowing for missed field goal and subtracting those drives ended by the clock and replaced due to injury. ‡—drives for 1984 add to one more than drives started because Elway replaced Kubiak on nine drives.)

NOTES:

- For his career, he has directed Denver to scores in better than 3 in 10 drives; when you adjust the figure as stated above, the figures work to 32 in 100).
- In 2,134 career drives, started, he has been replaced only six times due to injury (based on # a replacement QB earned at least one first down on the drive: that's 0.0028 percent, or 2.8 in 1,000).
- As far as drive efficiency is concerned, Elway had his best season in 1995.

JOHN ELWAY'S FOURTH-QUARTER HEROICS

In his career (1983-95) John Elway has engineered 37 fourth-quarter, game-saving drives for the Broncos, and the team has a record of 36-0-1 in those contests. Those games include:

- 30 fourth-quarter, game-winning drives (marked on the following page with an asterisk). The Broncos have scored the winning points 20 times with fewer than three minutes remaining, 18 times under two minutes, and 11 times with less than a minute left.
- seven fourth-quarter, game-tying drives. Denver went on to win six of those contests in regulation or overtime, and one game ended tied. The Broncos won in regulation vs. New England (11/4/84) and at Seattle (12/20/85). In overtime, Elway directed the game-winning drive in the AFC Championship Game at Cleveland (1/11/87), while the defense and special teams set up OT wins vs. San Diego (11/17/85), at San Francisco (10/9/88), and at Seattle (10/22/89). The game at Green Bay (9/20/87) ended in a tie.

MIKE SHANAHAN AND JOHN ELWAY'S FOURTH-QUARTER HEROICS

Broncos head coach Mike Shanahan has witnessed 24 of John Elway's 37 fourth-quarter game-saving drives (65%), with Denver's 38-31 victory over Washington on Sept. 17 being Shanahan's first as a head coach. Twenty-four of Elway's 37 have come at Mile High Stadium (66.7%) and Elway has had at least one in each of his 13 seasons:

88 Jerry Evans • Tight End

Birthdate – September 28, 1968
Birthplace – Lorain, Ohio
Residence – Greenwood Village, Colo.
How Acquired – FA, 1993
College – Toledo
High School – Admiral King HS, Lorain, Ohio
Height – 6-5
Weight – 260
Pro Year – 4rd
Year with Broncos – 4th

Jerry Evans' 1995 season was cut short by a knee injury, curtailing the noticable improvement he made each week backing up all-pro tight end Shannon Sharpe. Evans looks to regain his form in 1996 and be a solid contributor to the Broncos' offensive success. 1995: Evans, who played in each of the Broncos' first 13 games, tore the anterior cruciate and medial collateral ligaments in his left knee in the fourth quarter of the Jacksonville game (12/3), and was placed on injured reserve Dec. 6. He underwent season-ending surgery Dec. 12. Evans started twice: at San Diego (9/24) in place of the injured Shannon Sharpe, and versus Arizona (11/5) as the Broncos opened in a two-tight end set. He was the second tight end in two-tight end sets during the other 11 games, and saw extensive action for Sharpe after Sharpe left the Washington contest (9/17) with a sprained ankle. He made eight receptions for 96 yards (12.0) with a long of 22 on the season. Before his injury against Jacksonville, Evans had caught a season-high four passes for 28 yards, including his first touchdown of the season, a 5-yarder from John Elway in the second quarter. He also made a tackle following a fumble. Evans' previous best game had come against Arizona (11/5), when he caught three passes for 31 yards with a long of 12 in Denver's 38-6 victory. He started the game in place of fullback Aaron Craver, as the Broncos began the game in a two-tight end set. 1994: Evans played in all 16 games and started 12 either as a wide receiver or as the second tight end in a two-tight end lineup. He caught 13 passes for 127 yards (9.8 average) and two touchdowns. Evans had two receptions for a season-high 34 yards against Kansas City (10/17) and hauled in his first career touchdown on a 20-yard pass from John Elway. His other touchdown came on a one-yard pass play against Cleveland (10/30). Evans recorded his single-game best in receptions at San Francisco (12/17) when he caught three passes for 24 yards. Evans made his first career reception against the Raiders (9/18), a 13-yarder from John Elway. He also returned one kickoff for six yards during the '94 campaign. 1993: Evans was signed as a free agent in the 1993 offseason and filled in nicely when called upon during the season. He played primarily on special teams, but did start in the San Diego (12/5) game at tight end. 1992: Evans spent the entire year on the Green Bay Packers' practice squad. 1991: Evans was drafted by the Arizona Cardinals in the eighth round from the University of Toledo and spent some time on the team's practice squad. After being released, he was signed to the Packers' practice squad.

COLLEGE: Evans was an All-Mid American Conference selection and team MVP his senior year at Toledo. His collegiate career totals were 114 catches for 1,410 yards and seven touchdowns. Evans was a four-year letterman and majored in geography during his college days.

PERSONAL: Jerry and his wife Lori make their home in Greenwood Village, Colo. He was an all-league and all-county selection as a tight end and defensive end at Admiral King HS in Lorain, Ohio. He lettered four times in football, three in baseball and once in basketball. His full name is Gerald Kristen Evans.

Eric Floyd was signed by the Broncos Nov. 29, 1995 after having been waived by the Arizona Cardinals Nov. 22. He was with the Cardinals for five games, seeing action in his first game (Oct. 15 vs. Washington) and being inactive for the next four. He was inactive for all four games in which he was with the Broncos. 1995: Floyd was declared inactive for all four games that he was with Denver after signing Nov. 29. He was with the Cardinals for five games in midseason, seeing action in one (vs. Washington, 10/15) and being inactive for four. He had been with Arizona in training camp as well. 1994: Floyd went through training camp with Philadelphia, but was waived prior to the season and did not play all year. 1993: Floyd started the first three games for Philadelphia at right guard until tearing the posterior cruciate and medial collateral ligaments in his left knee. He underwent surgery Sept. 23 and spent the rest of the season on injured reserve. 1992: Floyd started all 16 games and both playoff contests at right guard after signing with the Eagles April 1, 1992. 1991: Floyd played in the first two games of the season with San Diego before a back injury put him on injured reserve for the rest of the year. 1990: Floyd started all four preseason games at left tackle for San Diego due to an injury to starter Leo Goeas, then went on to play in all 16 regular season games and make six starts at left tackle (games 1-4, 9 and 16). 1989: Floyd spent 13 weeks of the season on the Chargers' practice squad. 1988: Floyd signed with San Diego as a rookie free agent, but was released on the final cut.

COLLEGE: Floyd was a four-year starter at Auburn after redshirting as a freshman. He was an education major.

PERSONAL: Floyd and his wife Aletris make their home in Lutz, Fla., in the offseason. Brian Habib returns as a starter on a Bronco offensive line that cut the number of sacks allowed from 55 in 1994 to 26 in 1995. He has been a steady performer throughout his eight years in the NFL, starting 63 of the last 64 games in which he has played. 1995: Habib started all 16 games at right guard for the Broncos in 1995, the same position at which he started all 16 games for the previous two seasons. He helped to spearhead the Broncos' most impressive offensive showing in team history, while reducing the number of sacks by 29 from the previous season. 1994: Habib started all 16 games at right guard for the second consecutive season. Though he did not miss a start, he had to leave the Seattle game (11/13) early with a right calf strain. 1993: Habib spent his first year as a Bronco entrenched at the right guard position where he started all 16 games. His solid play helped propel John Elway to his finest statistical year as a pro. He was a key part of the offensive line's success in the last two games versus the Raiders. In those two matchups, the offensive line allowed only one sack in 90 passing attempts. 1992: Habib started at the right guard position in 15 of the 16 regular season games for Minnesota in 1992, and also started in the Vikings playoff game against the Washington Redskins (1/2/93). 1991: Habib started in eight of the 16 games in 1991, seeing action at both the guard and tackle positions. 1990: In 1990 he played a back-up role at offensive tackle and continued his play on special teams. 1989: Habib played on the special teams in all 16 regular season games and saw action in the playoffs. 1988: Habib was drafted as a defensive lineman in the 10th round by the Vikings in 1988 (264th overall). He spent the entire 1988 regular season on injured reserve after injuring his right shoulder vs. Miami (8/26/88), but was activated for the Vikings' two playoff games. Midway through that season he was moved to the offensive side of the ball because of the Vikings' lack of depth on the offensive line.

COLLEGE: Habib had a productive senior season as a co-captain for the University of Washington in 1987. He improved on his junior year totals by racking up 70 tackles, two sacks, seven tackles-for-loss, and two fumbles. In 1986 he finished the season with 64 tackles, one sack and three tackles-for-loss, which made him an All-Pac-10 honorable mention selection.

PERSONAL: Brian and his wife Shannon make their home in Woodinville, Wash., with their daughter Kaitlin Alexandra (4/30/93). Brian was a four-sport athlete at Ellensburg HS (football, basketball, powerlifting and swimming, in which he was a state record-holder). Brian holds a real estate license and is working toward certification for health and life insurance. His full name is Brian Richard Habib.

54 Britt Hager • Linebacker

Birthdate – February 20, 1966
Birthplace – Odessa, Texas
Residence – Austin, Texas
How Acquired – Unrestricted FA, 1995
College – Texas
High School – Permian HS, Odessa, Texas
Height – 6-1
Weight – 225
Pro Year – 8th
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Britt Hager came to the Broncos as an unrestricted free agent from the Philadelphia Eagles in 1995, starting the first five games of the season and contributing heavily on special teams throughout the year. He has proven to be a vital special teams member during his seven-year NFL career. He was a teammate in Philadelphia of Broncos offensive lineman Broderick Thompson. 1995: Hager played in all 16 games, including starts at right linebacker in the first five. He made 48 tackles (35 solo), with an interception and five passes defensed. He also added six tackles on special teams. Hager was bothered by a groin strain for the last month and a half of the season, but did not miss any games. He started the first five games of the season, and saw action in a backup roll and on special teams in the final 11 games, following arthroscopic surgery (10/3) on his knee. The surgery was administered to correct a torn lateral meniscus suffered at Seattle (10/1), and was expected to keep him out of action for 3-4 weeks, but, amazingly, Hager played at New England (10/8) just five days later. He posted three tackles on defense as well as three on special teams. Hager snagged the third interception of his career Oct. 16 against Oakland, and returned it 19 yards to the Oakland 24-yard line to set up the Broncos' final score in a 27-0 Monday Night Football win. Hager recorded his highest tackle total (9; 7 solo) at Dallas (9/10). 1994: Hager played in all 16 games, with five starts, registering 60 tackles (41 solo) and one sack. He also had 13 special teams tackles. He started the season as Philadelphia's fourth linebacker in short-yardage situations and recovered a fumble on a key drive against Houston (10/24). He received his first start of the season on 11/20 at Arizona when Byron Evans injured his knee on 11/13 vs. Cleveland. He filled in for Evans against the Browns and had 12 tackles (eight solo) and one pass deflection. He registered 10 tackles (nine solo) and one pass deflection vs. Dallas (12/4). On 12/11 at Pittsburgh he had 11 stops (six solo) and his second career interception. 1993: Hager played in 16 games with seven starts, totalling 78 tackles (55 solo), one sack, one interception and 13 special teams tackles. Hager became a regular starter after Byron Evans fractured his right arm on 10/31 vs. Dallas. In his second start of the season on 11/7 at Phoenix (started set on 10/17) he recorded career highs in tackles (15) and solos (13). Two weeks later he had 13 stops and his first career interception (19-yard return) vs. the New York Giants. He also played RLB in overtime at San Francisco (1/3/94) for William Thomas, who had sprained his right knee. 1992: Hager played in 10 games with 16 tackles (12 solo) and 10 special teams tackles. He played mostly as an extra linebacker in running situations and on special teams. He suffered a herniated disc at Green Bay on 11/15 and was placed on injured reserve on 11/17 and missed the remainder of the season after undergoing surgery. 1991: Hager played in all 16 games, primarily on special teams. He had 15 tackles (six solo) and 12 special teams tackles. On 11/10 he recovered a Webster Slaughter fourth-quarter fumble on a punt return at the Browns' one-yard line, setting up the game-winning touchdown in the second-greatest comeback in club history. The next week vs. Cincinnati, he made solo stops on 3rd and 4th down from the two-yard line to preserve an Eagle victory. 1990: Hager played in all 16 games with one start, registering seven stops on the season (three solo). He also led the team with 23 special teams tackles. He played mostly on short-yardage defense vs. various multiple tight end sets. He made his first NFL start vs. the Giants on 11/25 in place of cornerback Eric Allen, as the Eagles opened the game in a 4-4-3 defensive set. He also started the first three preseason games in place of an unsigned Byron Evans at middle linebacker and led the team in tackles for those three games. He played in the Eagles' NFC Wild Card Game vs. Washington (1/5) and had one assist and one special teams stop. 1989: As a rookie, Hager played in all 16 games as a contributor on special teams. He led the team with 21 special teams stops and was named Eagles' special teams player of the year. He also had 11 tackles (seven solo) and two fumble recoveries. He saw linebacker duty vs. double-tight end sets. He played in the second half for an injured Seth Joyner (knee) at left linebacker vs. Minnesota (11/19) and recovered a fumble at the Eagles' one-yard line to help preserve a 10-9 win. Over the next two weeks, he saw additional playing time in nickel situations. He played in the Eagles' NFC Divisional Playoff Game at Chicago in the famous "Fog Bowl" and had one special teams tackle. He was the Eagles' third-round draft pick (81st overall) in 1989.

COLLEGE: Hager was a two-time first-team All-Southwest Conference choice at Texas. As a senior, Hager was the team MVP, a third-team All-America (AP), and was nominated for the Butkus Award, given annually to the nation's top linebacker. In his final two seasons at UT, he wore jersey number 60, given to the UT linebacker who demonstrates the leadership and character displayed by previous Longhorn greats Tommy Nobis and Johnny Treadwell. As a junior, Hager set the single-season tackle record with 187, a mark he topped as a senior with 195 and five sacks. He ended his career with over 500 stops. He also returned an interception 25 yards for a touchdown versus Oregon State as a junior in 1987. He was a speech communications major.

PERSONAL: Hager and his wife Bridgette reside in Austin, Texas with their sons Bron, Bryce and Brayven. While in Philadelphia, Hager frequently visited schools on behalf of the New Jersey State Police's "Say No To Drugs" campaign. He and Bridgette, along with teammate David Alexander and his wife, co-chaired a fund raising dinner/auction that raised $100,000 for cystic fibrosis on Nov. 7, 1994. Hager rushed for over 1,000 yards and 17 TDs as a senior fullback and linebacker at Odessa (Texas) Permian HS. He was a prep All-American. He is the second of three sons, Kevin and Parker. His full name is Harley Britt Hager.

Tony Hargain was signed by the Broncos Feb. 22, and enters his first training camp with the club in 1996. He was originally an eighth round draft pick (221st overall) by San Francisco in 1991 out of Oregon. 1995: Hargain was out of football. 1994: Hargain spent part of the preseason with San Francisco, but was waived July 20. 1993: Hargain began training camp with the Chiefs, but was then waived, and was signed the next day by the Rams. He was inactive for the first three games of the season before being waived. 1992: Hargain signed with Kansas City as a Plan B free agent during the offseason, and went on to catch 17 passes for 205 yards in 12 games. 1991: Hargain spent all of his rookie season with San Francisco on injured reserve with a knee injury. He was chosen in the eighth round (221st overall) of the 1991 draft by San Francisco.

COLLEGE. As a senior at Oregon, Hargain caught 10 passes for 206 yards vs. San Diego State in the season opener, then fractured his knee cap in the second game and was lost for the season. That 206-yard effort is the fourth-best single-game total in Oregon football history. He caught 35 passes during his junior season. Hargain also lettered three times for the Ducks' basketball team.

PERSONAL. Hargain attended Center High School in North Highlands, Calif.

The Broncos are one of only five franchises in professional sports to boast a season-ticket base greater than 70,000. The other four franchises are the Jacksonville Jaguars, Kansas City Chiefs, New York Giants and New York Jets. The Giants (21 years) and the Broncos (20) have surpassed the 70,000 mark for the most consecutive years.

96 HARALD HASSELBACH • Def. End

Birthdate – September 22, 1967
Birthplace – Amsterdam, Holland
Residence – Littleton, Colo.
How Acquired – FA, 1994
College – Washington
High School – South Delta HS, Tsawassen, British Columbia
Height – 6-6
Weight – 280
Pro Year – 3rd
Year with Broncos – 3rd

Harald Hasselbach enjoyed his finest season in the NFL in 1995, helping to solidify a revamped defensive line that increased its sack total from 23 in 1994 to 30 in '95. Hasselbach, who began his pro football career in the Canadian Football League, looks to contribute even more to the Broncos' defensive success this year in his third NFL season. 1995: Hasselbach saw action in all 16 games and made 10 starts in place of the injured Dan Williams (knee), finishing the season with 31 tackles (22 solo), four sacks, two passes defensed and four fumble recoveries. He took over the starting left defensive end position at Seattle (10/1), and continued to start at New England (10/8), versus Oakland (10/16) and versus Kansas City (10/22). After returning to his backup role for two games, Hasselbach returned to the starting lineup against San Diego (11/19) when Williams suffered another knee injury. His four sacks on the season came at Seattle (10/1), vs. Kansas City (10/22), vs. San Diego (11/19) and at Oakland (12/24), a game in which he posted his highest tackle total of the year (6: 4 solo). 1994: Hasselbach turned some heads after spending the previous four seasons with the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League. He played in all 16 games, including the final nine in a starting role at defensive right tackle. For the season Hasselbach accounted for 66 total tackles (40 solo), two sacks for 13 yards lost, one pass defensed and one forced fumble. He was given his first start against Cleveland (10/30) and responded with five total tackles (2 solo), then posted his best numbers of the season the following week with 10 tackles (3 solo) against the Rams (11/6). Hasselbach went on to start the final nine games of the season and recorded his first NFL sack against Cincinnati (11/27). His impressive play allowed the team to rest previous starter Dan Williams who was slowed by injury. Hasselbach was an instant hit in training camp, then progressed slowly during the regular season before jumping into the starting lineup. 1990-93: Hasselbach spent four seasons with the Calgary Stampeders of the CFL, emerging as one of the league's top defensive stars. He posted four-year career totals of 72 tackles and 14 sacks, seven of which came in his final season, 1993.

COLLEGE: Hasselbach lettered one season (1989) at the University of Washington as a reserve defensive lineman for a Husky team that defeated Florida 34-7 in the 1989 Freedom Bowl. He made four solo tackles during his senior season (1989), his second consecutive as a backup to All-American and current San Francisco 49ers defensive end Dennis Brown. Hasselbach redshirted in 1985 and spent the next three seasons as a non-letterman squad member with great physical attributes and potential.

PERSONAL: A native of Amsterdam, Holland, Hasselbach has also lived in Suriname, Indonesia, Kenya and Canada. He is fluent in Dutch and has also spoken French, German, Japanese, Swahili and Indonesian. His father is a retired agronomist whose job took the family all around the world before settling in British Columbia. Hasselbach grew up playing soccer, cricket, rugby and field hockey as well swimming, and did not begin to play football until his final two years at South Delta High School in Tsawassen, B.C., where he was a two-year letterman offensive and defensive tackle. He was named to the Fraser Valley All-Star team and was an All-British Columbia choice. Harald, his wife Aundrea and their son, Terran , make their home in Littleton, Colo.

37 TIM HAUCK • Safety

Birthdate – December 20, 1966
Birthplace – Butte, Mont.
Residence – Big Timber, Mont.
How Acquired – Unrestricted FA, 1995
College – Montana
High School – Sweet Grass County HS, Big Timber, Mont.
Height – 5-10
Weight – 187
Pro Year – 7th
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Tim Hauck came to the Broncos as a free agent from the Green Bay Packers and produced a solid season in the Denver secondary, backing up perennial all-pro Steve Atwater. Despite his lack of great size, Hauck has developed a reputation as one of the better hitters in the game at his position. His great knowledge of the game also has also helped him maximize his abilities. 1995: Hauck played in all 16 games, seeing time in the secondary and on special teams. He made 16 defensive tackles (10 solo) and nine more on special teams. On Oct. 22 vs. Kansas City, Hauck saw action at free safety and on special teams, finishing with two tackles (1 solo). He replaced Steve Atwater for the end of the first half and beginning of the second half while Atwater's shoulder was being examined. Hauck posted his highest tackle total (4; 2 solo) of the season at Philadelphia (11/12). 1994: Hauck played in 13 games with the Packers, including three starts. He finished the season with 40 tackles (28 solo) and three passes defensed. He also had 16 special teams tackles (second on team). In two playoff games he had one solo stop and four special teams tackles, which led the team. The 40 stops during the regular season were 12 more than he had had in his four previous seasons combined. It was also tops among non-starters. In the season opener vs. Minnesota (9/4), he recorded a career-high four special teams tackles. He got his first NFL start at Philadelphia on 9/18 in place of an injured LeRoy Butler (bruised right shin). He started the next two weeks vs. Tampa Bay (9/25) and at New England (10/2). He had a career-high nine tackles against the Patriots. He sprained the medial collateral ligament in his left knee on 11/20 at Buffalo and was inactive for the next three games. He returned to action on 12/18 vs. Atlanta. He also led the team in interceptions in the preseason with two. 1993: Hauck played in 13 games, mostly on special teams. He had two tackles (one solo) and he made eight tackles (five solo) on special teams. He suffered a hamstring injury vs. Detroit (11/21) and was inactive for the next three weeks. On 10/31 vs. Chicago he recovered a Craig Heyward fumble in the second quarter of a 17-3 victory. He also saw action in both Packer playoff games at Detroit (NFC Wild Card) and at Dallas (NFC Divisional Playoff). 1992: Hauck played in all 16 games, primarily on special teams. He had 15 tackles (all solo), three passes defensed and one forced fumble. He also had 14 special teams tackles. On 9/27, he forced a Rod Woodson fumble on a punt return to set up the Packers' final touchdown in a 17-3 win vs. Pittsburgh. On 12/13, he had five tackles and two passes defensed vs. Houston. He filled in late at free safety for Chuck Cecil in a 28-13 victory over the Rams (11/20). He forced a Cleveland Gary fumble in win over Rams. 1991: Hauck joined the Packers on the final day of Plan B free agency (April 1), leaving the New England Patriots. He played in all 16 games, finishing with seven tackles (six solo) and was fourth on the team in special teams stops with nine. He also had one fumble recovery at the Jets (11/3). He had a season-high five stops at Minnesota in the season finale on 12/21. 1990: Hauck played in 10 games with the New England Patriots. He had four tackles (three solo) and seven special teams stops, second-most on the team. He had four tackles (three solo) vs. Buffalo on 10/28. He had been waived by the Patriots on 8/28 after signing with them as an undrafted free agent. He was later re-signed on 10/3.

COLLEGE: Hauck was a three-year starter at Montana (1987-89) after beginning his college career at the University of the Pacific in 1985. He sat out the 1986 season as a redshirt after transferring to Montana. He was Big Sky Defensive Player of the Year an unprecedented two consecutive years after walking on at Montana. He was also a Division I-AA first-team All-America selection (AP) on two occasions. He led Montana with a career-high 129 tackles (64 solo), seven interceptions and three blocked kicks as a senior. He was named Big Sky Conference Defensive Player of the Week a school-record five times in his career. He also won the school's Grizzly Golden Helmet Award (given annually to the teams' hardest hitter) in both 1987 and '88. Hauck was also named to the Big Sky All-Academic team in '87 and '88. He has a bachelor's degree in business education.

PERSONAL: Hauck attended Sweet Grass County HS in Big Timber, Mont., where his father, Bob was the head coach. He lettered four times in football and three times in basketball and track. He was an All-State selection in football as a quarterback and defensive back. He was also state pole vault champion as a senior. Hauck enjoys fishing, water skiing and snow skiing in his spare time. He has also worked with Big Brothers/Big Sisters of Missoula, Mont. Tim's older brother, Bob, is special teams coach and recruiting coordinator at the University of Colorado in nearby Boulder. Timothy Christian Hauck is single and makes his offseason home in Missoula, Mont.

Randy Hilliard returns for his seventh NFL season — and third with Denver — as the nickel back in the Broncos' defensive scheme. Hilliard has shown steady improvement throughout his career and once again figures to be an integral part of the Broncos' defense in 1996. 1995: Hilliard played in 12 of 16 games as a nickel back and special teams player. For the season he recorded 20 tackles (15 solo), with four passes defensed and a forced fumble on defense, and contributed 10 more tackles on special teams. He missed the Arizona game (11/5) with a groin injury and the San Diego (11/19), Houston (11/26) and Jacksonville (12/3) games with cartilage damage in his right knee, suffered at Philadelphia (11/12). Hilliard returned from the knee injury against Seattle (12/10). He enjoyed one of his finest games on Monday Night Football against Oakland (10/16) finishing with three solo tackles, one pass defensed, one forced fumble and one special teams tackle. His highest tackle total came at New England (10/8) when he posted four solos on defense and two more on special teams. 1994: Hilliard joined the Broncos as an unrestricted free agent in the offseason after four years with the Cleveland Browns. He used the momentum of an outstanding preseason to move up the depth chart and play in 15 games, making four starts. He finished the season with 51 tackles (46 solo), tied for the team lead in interceptions with two (for eight yards in returns), had 14 passes defensed and forced two fumbles. Hilliard made his first start at Seattle (10/9) in place of injured right cornerback Ray Crockett and responded with five tackles (4 solo), two passes defensed and his first interception of the year, which he returned for eight yards. He posted his best tackle numbers of the season in a start the following week against Kansas City (10/17) in a Monday Night game, recording 14 total (11 solo). Hilliard missed the Cleveland contest (10/30) with an injured hamstring but returned to start the next two games on the left side in place of Ben Smith, at the L.A. Rams (11/6) and against Seattle (11/13). He recorded his second interception of the season and had three passes defensed in the Rams game, and followed that with a 10-solo tackle performance against Seattle. 1993: Hilliard played in 12 games for the Browns and started five, recording 41 total tackles, including 26 solo and 15 assists. Hilliard knocked down 10 passes, fourth-best among Cleveland defenders, and had one interception that he returned 54 yards. He was a valuable special teams performer, in addition to his defensive backfield duties. 1992: Hilliard had 27 tackles, seven passes defensed, forced one fumble and recovered another for the Browns, as he played in every game and started four. He started in the six-DB alignment vs. Houston (12/20) and recorded six stops, including an 11-yard quarterback sack, forced a fumble which he also recovered. 1991: Hilliard started 10 of 14 games and recorded 59 tackles, with two sacks, nine passes defensed, one interception, and a fumble recovery. He started at right cornerback for the final six games. He posted his first career interception to thwart a Patriots' drive in a Cleveland win over New England. 1990: Hilliard's rookie season was spent mostly on special teams, making five tackles on kick coverage and two more in the Cleveland secondary. Hilliard was the Browns' sixth round selection in the 1990 draft.

COLLEGE: Hilliard returned three of his 10 career interceptions for touchdowns, earning first-team All-Southland Conference and second-team All-American honors as a senior at Northwestern Louisiana. He was honorable mention All-Conference as a junior and second-team All-Southland as a sophomore. His longest touchdown run was on a 73-yard interception return as a freshman.

PERSONAL: Randy and his wife, Lynette, make their home in New Orleans, La. A native of Metairie, La., he was a three-time all-district choice at East Jefferson HS in Metairie, where he won MVP honors as a senior. Randy also lettered in track as a prep athlete. A journalism major at Northwestern Louisiana, Randy hopes to get into broadcasting after his playing career.

Ray Jacobs comes into his third season with the Broncos in 1996, and his second as a defensive end. He shifted from linebacker to end during the 1995 offseason, and spent the season learning his new position, while continuing to be a valuable member of the Broncos' special teams unit. 1995: Jacobs saw action in 15 games, primarily on special teams, making five tackles with that unit, according to unofficial press box statistics. He did see action on defense in his first season as a defensive end, and recovered a fumble at New England (10/6). Jacobs was inactive at Philadelphia (11/12). 1994: Jacobs played in all 16 games as a member of the special teams unit, finishing the year with six special teams tackles (3 solo), according to unofficial press box statistics. He was named special teams MVP by a vote of his teammates. Jacobs registered two stops — both very hard hits — in the Broncos' 16-9 win at Seattle (10/9).

COLLEGE: Jacobs was a four-year letterman and one-year starter at North Carolina, where he played both inside and outside linebacker before settling into the starting rush outside linebacker position his senior year. Jacobs finished his career with 169 total tackles and 6.5 sacks, accounting for 60 of the tackles and 3.5 of the sacks during his outstanding senior campaign.

PERSONAL: A native of Hampstead, N.C., Jacobs played fullback, tailback, linebacker and defensive end at Topsail High School, where he rushed for 600 yards and made 100 tackles as a senior. He was a two-time all-conference selection who was picked to the East-West All-Star Game and the Shrine Bowl as a senior, the only 1A player to be selected to the latter. He is the first player from Topsail to earn a football scholarship to a major college program. Jacobs also lettered three years each in basketball and track, setting school records in the 100 and 200 meters and the 300m intermediate and high hurdles. He is single and resides in Littleton, Colo. His full name is Ray Anthony Jacobs.

James Jones came to the Broncos from the Cleveland Browns in 1995 and immediately improved the defensive line with his consistent play throughout the season. He teamed with former Browns linemate Michael Dean Perry to help clog up the middle of the Denver defense. In his five-year career, Jones has played in 80 games, with 65 starts, totalling 227 tackles (143 solo) and 14.5 sacks. During his four years in Cleveland, Jones scored 20 points on a rushing touchdown, a receiving touchdown, his lone interception and a safety. On many occasions he worked out of the Browns' backfield as a lead blocker. 1995: Jones started all 16 games at left defensive tackle and made 52 tackles (29 solo), with one sack and one fumble recovery. In his first game as a Bronco vs. Buffalo (9/3), Jones started at left defensive tackle in helping the Broncos hold Buffalo to 60 yards rushing in a 22-7 victory. Against Arizona (11/5), Jones started at left defensive tackle and made two solo tackles, including his first sack of the season for an 8-yard loss in a 38-6 win. Denver held the Cardinals to 74 yards on the ground. At Philadelphia on Nov. 12, Jones made a season-high eight tackles (3 solo) in Denver's 31-13 loss. 1994: Jones played in all 16 games with five starts. He had 43 tackles (30 solo), three sacks, two forced and two recovered fumbles and one pass defensed. He started at right defensive tackle vs. Pittsburgh (9/11) and recorded seven tackles (six solo). Jones had a key block on Earnest Byner's one-yard TD run vs. the Jets (10/2) in a 27-7 win. He had his first sack of the year in an 11-6 win at Houston (10/13). He had four stops and forced a Leonard Russell fumble at Denver (10/30). He had five tackles, one sack, one rush for no yards and one reception for one yard vs. New England (11/6). He forced a fumble as he sacked Billy Joe Tolliver in 34-10 win over Houston (11/27). He had two stops in an AFC Wild Card Game vs. New England (1/1/95) and four tackles in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game at Pittsburgh. (1/7/95). 1993: Jones played in all 16 games with 12 starts. He registered 39 tackles (22 solo) and a career-high 5.5 sacks for 41 1/2 yards lost. He also scored a rushing touchdown and played on the kickoff return team. He had three tackles and 1 1/2 sacks in the season opener vs. Cincinnati (9/3). He scored his third career touchdown on a one-yard run in front of a Monday Night Football audience in Cleveland's 23-13 win over San Francisco. He recorded three tackles and one sack of Dan Marino (10/10). He had two tackles and one sack at Cincinnati on 10/17 and had five tackles and one sack vs. New Orleans (12/5). Jones had three more tackles and another sack on at the Rams (12/26). 1992: Jones played and started in all 16 games, recording 45 tackles (31 solo), four sacks for 46 yards lost, and one forced and one recovered fumble. He had three tackles and one sack against Todd Marinovich at the Raiders (9/20). He had his most productive game of the season at Cincinnati (11/1) with five solo stops, one assist and a fumble recovery. He was the lead blocker on Kevin Mack's one-yard TD plunge in the fourth quarter to seal a 27-14 win vs. Chicago (11/29). On 12/6 vs. Cincinnati he had two tackles and one sack of David Klinger, forcing a fumble that was recovered by Mike Johnson for a touchdown. Jones caught a one-yard touchdown pass from Bernie Kosar vs. Houston (12/20) and also had two stops and one sack against the Oilers. He had four tackles and one sack in the season finale at Pittsburgh (12/27). 1991: Jones played in and started all 16 games, finishing the year with 51 tackles (34 solo), one sack, three fumble recoveries, one interception, one pass defensed and one safety (9/15 vs. Cincinnati). His efforts earned him All-Rookie Team honors from College and Pro Football Newsweekly and the Wooster Browns' Backers' Unsung Hero Award. Jones was credited with three tackles (one solo) and a 15-yard fumble return vs. the Jets (10/6). He tied a team record with two fumble recoveries and added four tackles vs. Kansas City (11/24). He recorded is first NFL interception and returned it 20 yards for a score in a 31-0 victory at Indianapolis. (12/1). He also recorded one sack against the Broncos on 12/8. He was a third-round pick (57th overall) by the Browns.

COLLEGE: Jones played every position on the defensive line at Northern Iowa, as well as starting 11 games at inside linebacker. As a junior and a senior he earned first-team All-America honors from the Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft and was also an All-Gateway Conference first-team choice. He finished with 65 tackles (40 solo), four sacks and eight stops for 15 yards in losses as a senior. He also recovered a fumble and caused three others. Jones was also used as a fullback and lead blocker in goal-line situations and scored a touchdown against Illinois State. As a junior, he started every game at defensive end, finishing second on the team with 70 tackles (46 solo), six sacks and seven stops for 17 yards in losses. He also recovered one fumble and caused three others. He was a Gateway Conference honorable mention selection as a defensive end as a sophomore, registering 59 tackles (18 solo) with six sacks and 10 tackles for losses of 62 yards, plus three fumble recoveries. As a freshman he had 33 tackles (12 solo) with four sacks and three fumble recoveries. He majored in science at Northern Iowa.

PERSONAL: Jones was a two-time all-conference selection during his two year football career at Central (Davenport, Iowa) HS. With the Browns, James was very active in the community. He was named the Browns' 1993 "Edge NFL Man of the Year" for his community involvement. He designated the United Negro College Fund as recipient of the $1,000 donation he received with his award. He received the 1993 Cleveland Touchdown Club's Humanitarian Award. Among the causes James has donated time to are: The Cleveland Food Drive for the hungry, youth talks at local YMCAs about the importance of staying in school, Western, Pa. "Make-A-Wish", Cleveland cops, Kids & Christmas Function, Multiple Sclerosis Walk, Swim for Diabetes, Anti-Drug and Alcohol Awareness talks, Celebrity Waiter for the American Lung Association, Concern II (cancer research) and hospital visitation programs. He also participated in the Cleveland Plain Dealer spelling bee in the spring of 1993 and '94 with then-teammate Tommy Vardell. Jones enjoys playing baseball and videos games in his spare time. He is the co-owner of Jones' Tire Service in his hometown of Davenport, Iowa. He once attempted a boxing career for one week before realizing it was more fun to hit people than to get hit. He and his wife, Son-Ja, make their home in Bettendorf, Iowa. James Allie Jones was born February 6, 1969 in Davenport, Iowa.

Rondell Jones returns for his fourth season to help bolster a vastly improved Bronco secondary, and looks to continue to contribute on special teams as well in 1996. 1995: Jones played in 14 of the Broncos' 16 games, missing the first two games of the season while recovering from knee surgery. He made 15 tackles (11 solo) with three passes defensed, and added eight special teams tackles. Jones entered training camp in contention for the starting strong safety position, but was sidelined from Aug. 12 through the first two games of the season with a left knee sprain. He made his first appearance of the regular season in Week Three against Washington (9/17) after being declared inactive for Weeks One and Two. At New England on Oct. 8, Jones finished the game with two tackles (1 solo) and two passes defensed, and also added a special teams tackle, as Denver dominated the Patriots 37-3. Against Seattle Oct. 1 Jones put up his best numbers of the season, totaling seven tackles (6 solo), one pass defensed and two special teams tackles. 1994: Jones played in all 16 games and made three starts at free safety. He finished the season with 55 tackles (37 solo), two interceptions (tied for the team lead) for nine return yards, five passes defensed and one fumble recovery. His first career start came in Game Two at the New York Jets (9/11) and he responded emphatically, leading the team with nine tackles (4 solo) and pulling down his first two career interceptions, one of which came with the Jets driving deep in Broncos territory. Jones also had a fine game against Seattle, scooping up his first career fumble recovery, and matched his season high of nine tackles (7 solo) in Game 15 at San Francisco. Jones missed much of the offseason conditioning period while recovering from surgery in April '94. He spent 2-1/2 months in the hospital after doctors had to crack open his sternum to remove his thymus gland in an effort to combat myasthenia gravis, a neuromuscular disorder that affects the development of the immune system. 1993: Jones played primarily on special teams in his rookie season, being credited with four solo and two assisted tackles.

COLLEGE: Jones was a first team All-America and All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection as a senior. A durable athlete, Jones started 38 regular season games for North Carolina, with four-year totals of 350 tackles (212 solo), three interceptions, and 19 passes defensed for the Tar Heels. As a senior, Jones led the team in tackles with a career-high 110 (63 solo). He was a second-team All-ACC pick as a junior and was the team's Most Outstanding Defensive Back as a sophomore. Jones tallied 72 tackles in six games and intercepted two passes as a freshman. He majored in industrial relations at North Carolina.

PERSONAL: Rondell is single and makes his home in Aurora, Colo. He was a two-time all-county selection as a defensive back and all-conference on both offense and defense in his senior year at Northern (Sunderland) High School. He was also county MVP and a Washington Post all-metro second-team selection. Overall, he lettered three times in football and track, and twice in basketball.

Mike Lodish came over from the Buffalo Bills in 1995 and added depth on a much-improved defensive line. The six-year veteran has been known throughout his career for his relentless style of play and tremendous work ethic. He has played in 92 games, with 12 starts, and has played in 13 playoff games as well. He has 78 career stops (59 solo), 4.5 sacks (-32), 15 quarterback pressures, and three fumble recoveries, one of which he returned for a touchdown. 1995: Lodish played in all 16 games, contributing four solo tackles. At New England (10/8), Lodish saw action on the defensive line, and finished with two solo tackles. In the season finale at Oakland (12/24), Lodish saw action on the defensive line, making one solo tackle. 1994: Lodish played in all 16 of the Bills' games, starting five. He had 17 tackles (nine solo), three quarterback pressures, and one fumble recovery. He started the first five games of the season in place of an injured Jeff Wright. In Week Two vs. New England (9/11), Lodish recovered a fumble in the endzone for Buffalo's only second half touchdown (and the second of his career) against the Patriots in a 38-35 victory. Cornerback Mickey Washington and Bruce Smith forced the fumble by Drew Bledsoe. Lodish played in a reserve role for the remainder of the regular season. 1993: Lodish played in all 16 games, including one start, and registered seven stops (all solo), one half of a sack and two quarterback pressures. He also played in all three playoff games, registering two stops (both solo). On 10/11 he combined with Mickey Washington for a sack of Warren Moon in a 35-7 Monday night victory. On 11/1, he saw extensive action vs. Washington, recording one quarterback pressure in a 24-10 win. He recorded his second career fumble recovery at Miami (12/19) as the Bills came from behind to beat the Dolphins 47-34. He had one unassisted stop in both the AFC Championship Game vs. Kansas City (1/23) and Super Bowl XXVIII vs. Dallas (1/30). 1992: Lodish played in all 16 games and in all four playoff games. He was part of a defensive line that helped the Bills finish tied for second in the NFL in defense against the run. He had seven stops on the year (five solo), one half of a sack, four quarterback pressures, one pass defensed, and a fumble recovery on which he scored his first NFL touchdown. He scooped up a fumble by Hugh Millen and rumbled 18 yards for a score at New England (9/27) in a 41-7 victory. He also had a half a sack at New Orleans (12/20) in a 20-16 victory. 1991: Lodish played in all 16 games, starting six, and also played in all three playoff games. He finished the regular season with 37 tackles (28 solo), one and a half sacks, four quarterback pressures, two passes defensed and one forced fumble. He also added two stops in postseason play. He filled in admirably in the absence of both Bruce Smith and Jeff Wright during the season. He received his first NFL start vs. Miami (9/1) in place of Smith, and then received another start the next week at nose tackle in place of Wright vs. Pittsburgh (9/8). He recorded his third career sack and his first career forced fumble at the Jets in a 23-20 win. He recorded two solo stops in Super Bowl XXVI vs. Washington (1/26). 1990: Lodish played in 12 games as a rookie, as well as all three playoff games. He registered six tackles (all solo), a career-high two sacks, two QB pressures and one pass defensed in the regular season, and added two solo stops in three post season games. He was part of a defense that ranked eighth in the league in total defense in 1990. He recorded his first career sack against Randall Cunningham and the Eagles (12/2). His second career sack came against Dan Marino vs. Miami on 12/23. He also had two solo stops in Super Bowl XXV vs. the New York Giants (1/27). Lodish was Buffalo's 10th-round selection in the 1990 NFL Draft, the 265th player taken overall.

COLLEGE: Mike was an All-Pac-10 performer at UCLA, where he and his Bruin teammates went to a bowl game in each of his first three seasons there (Freedom, Aloha, and Cotton). In 1987, his Bruins tied for the Pac-10 Conference title with USC. He was a candidate for the Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award as a senior when he earned second-team All-Pac-10 honors. Lodish was an extraordinarily strong athlete at Westwood, squatting over 650 pounds for the school record in that category. He recorded 193 tackles with 14 sacks and three interceptions in his Bruin career. In 1987 and '88 he was part of a defense that ranked in the Top 10 in the nation against the run, allowing just 95 yards per game over those two seasons. The defensive line coach at that time was current Bronco defensive coordinator Greg Robinson. Mike was a history major with a specialization in business administration.

PERSONAL: Mike lettered three years in football at Brother Rice (Birmingham, Mich.) HS, where he led his team to the Michigan State Class A title in 1983. He also lettered in lacrosse and hockey. He was named All-America by Adidas-Scholastic Coach. Lodish is single and makes his offseason home in Birmingham, Mich. His full name is Michael Timothy Lodish.

Ed McCaffrey came to the Broncos in 1995 as a free agent from the San Francisco 49ers, and made a major contribution as the team's third wide receiver in three-wide sets. He posted the second-best numbers of his career and solidified himself as an integral part of the Broncos' offense for years to come. McCaffrey has played in all 80 regular season games in his career and has also participated in five playoff games, including Super Bowl XXIX as a member of the 49ers, where he played with current Broncos Bill Musgrave, Toi Cook and Ralph Tamm, and played for current Broncos head coach Mike Shanahan, as well as assistant coaches Gary Kubiak and Brian Pariani. McCaffrey has 142 career catches for 1,699 yards (12.0) and 11 touchdowns in the regular season, as well as six receptions for 64 yards (10.7) in the postseason. 1995: McCaffrey played in all 16 games and made four starts (vs. Buffalo 9/3, at San Diego 9/24, at Seattle 10/1 and vs. Kansas City 10/22). He had the second-most productive season of his career, catching 39 passes for 477 yards (12.2), with a long of 35 yards and two touchdowns, and also rushed once for -1 yard. In his debut as a Bronco vs. Buffalo (9/3), McCaffrey started in place of the injured Anthony Miller and caught four passes for 52 yards. He hauled in a 35-yarder from John Elway on the Broncos' final scoring drive to set up Terrell Davis' three-yard, game-sealing touchdown run. In week three vs. Washington (9/17), McCaffrey caught a season-high five passes for 70 yards (14.0), including a clutch 19-yarder from John Elway during the Broncos' game-winning 80-yard drive. Denver won the game on the final play 38-31. Against Arizona (11/5), McCaffrey caught one pass, a 23-yarder in the fourth quarter for his first touchdown as a Bronco and the 10th of his career. Against Jacksonville (12/3), McCaffrey saw action as the thru receiver and made three catches for 48 yards, including a 24-yarder. He also rushed once on a reverse for -1 yard. In the season finale at Oakland (12/24), McCaffrey — who started as a result of the the Broncos' four-wide receiver set — caught a career-high nine passes for 99 yards and one touchdown, with a long of 27 yards, to help lift the Broncos to a 31-28 win. McCaffrey's four-yard, one-handed touchdown reception with 5:46 remaining in the game tied the score at 28-28. McCaffrey was acquired by the Broncos as an unrestricted free agent from the San Francisco 49ers March 7. 1994: McCaffrey played in all 16 regular season games for the 49ers and in all three postseason games. He had 11 catches for 131 yards (12.0 average) and two touchdowns in the regular season and one reception for five yards in the playoffs. He also had eight special teams tackles in the regular season. McCaffrey caught one pass for eight yards, recorded two special teams tackles and forced a fumble at Detroit (10/9). He had three receptions for 34 yards, including a 34-yard touchdown versus Tampa Bay (10/23), and recovered an on-side kick late in the fourth quarter of the 49ers 21-14 victory over Dallas (11/13). He caught five passes for 59 yards, including a one-yard touchdown in the regular season finale at Minnesota (12/26). He is one reception against San Diego in the Super Bowl (1/29/95), a five-yarder, came in the second quarter.

McCaffrey was acquired by the 49ers July 25, 1994 as a free agent after being waived by the Giants July 18. 1993: McCaffrey played in all 16 regular season games with one start for the New York Giants, and also played in both New York playoff contests. He finished fourth on the team with 27 receptions for 335 yards and two touchdowns. He had touchdown receptions versus Philadelphia (10/17) and Phoenix (11/28). McCaffrey's one start came against the Jets (10/31) when he replaced an injured Mike Sherrard in the lineup. His most productive game of the season was in the NFC Divisional Playoff Game at San Francisco (1/15/94) when he caught five passes for 59 yards. 1992: McCaffrey played in all 16 games with three starts and led the Giants in receiving with 49 catches for 610 yards. He was also the team's fourth-leading scorer with five touchdowns. McCaffrey had back-to-back five-reception outings to begin the season versus San Francisco (9/6) and Dallas (9/13). He received his first NFL start versus Green Bay (11/8) and also started against Philadelphia (11/11) and Dallas (11/26). He had career highs in receptions (6), yards (105) and longest reception (44 yards) in the Thanksgiving Day clash with the Cowboys. 1991: McCaffrey played in all 16 games as a third wide receivers and on special teams. He finished the year with 16 catches for 146 yards as a rookie. He had three receptions versus the Rams (9/8) and also at Philadelphia (11/4). The best game of his rookie season came at Tampa Bay (11/24) when he caught four passes for 35 yards, including two on the Giants' game-winning drive in a 21-14 victory. He was a third-round pick of the Giants in 1991, No. 83 overall.

COLLEGE: McCaffrey was a Kodak All-America choice following his senior season at Stanford (1990) and was selected to play in the East-West Shrine Game. He was an All-Pac-10 choice as a junior and senior and finished his career with 146 receptions for 2,333 yards (16.0 average) and 14 touchdowns. During his senior season he pulled down 61 receptions for 917 yards (15.0) and eight touchdowns. The Cardinal receiving corps that year compiled 2,753 yards receiving, the most since 1985 (2,874). Ed was a economics major at Stanford and plans to attend business or law school when he is finished playing pro football.

PERSONAL: Ed and his wife Lisa make their offseason home in Parker, Colo. They are the parents of two sons, Maxwell (5/17/94) and Christian (6/7/96). McCaffrey was an All-America football player, MVP in baseball with a .540 batting average, and a 21.3-point per game scorer in basketball at Central Catholic HS in Allentown, Pa. His brother Billy was an All-America basketball guard at Vanderbilt after being a member of Duke's NCAA championship squad in 1991. The athletic McCaffrey family also includes a sister, Monica, who played basketball at Georgetown, and another brother, Mike, who currently plays basketball at Husson College in Bangor, Maine. Edward McCaffrey was born August 17, 1968 in Waynesboro, Va.

Reggie McElroy brought veteran leadership and excellent work habits to the Broncos' offensive line in 1995, and returns for his 13th NFL season in 1996. He has now played in 158 career games with 88 starts. He has blocked for such great backs as Marcus Allen of the Chiefs and Raiders, and Freeman McNeil of the Jets. 1995: McElroy saw action in all 16 games as a reserve offensive lineman, and on special teams. On Oct. 16 vs. Oakland, McElroy saw his most extensive action of the season, playing the entire second half at left guard in place of the ailing Mark Schlereth. He also saw action on the offensive line against New England (10/1), Dallas (9/10), and Buffalo (9/3). McElroy was acquired by the Broncos during the offseason as an unrestricted free agent. 1994: Reggie played in 10 regular season games for the Vikings and in one playoff game. He played mostly in short yardage and goal-line situations. He also played on the extra point and field goal protection teams while backing up at both tackle positions. He was signed by the Vikings prior to their preseason game vs. Kansas City (8/7) in Tokyo, but was not allowed to play because he did not have a Japanese work visa. He had been released by the Chiefs earlier in the year. 1993: Reggie played in eight games for the Kansas City Chiefs after being signed by the club June 11. While at K.C., McElroy's offensive line coach was current Broncos offensive line coach Alex Gibbs. The Chiefs advanced to the AFC Championship Game at Buffalo (1/23/94). McElroy was inactive for the championship game. 1992: McElroy played in all 16 games with the Raiders, including 12 starts at right tackle. 1991: Reggie played in all 16 games with the Raiders, including four starts at right guard. He also played in the Raiders' 10-6 AFC Wild Card Game loss at Kansas City (12/28/91). He joined the club as a free agent on March 20, 1991. 1990: McElroy was waived by the New York Jets (6/21/90) and did not play for any team in the league during the 1990 season. 1989: Reggie played in 15 games for the New York Jets, starting all of them. He suffered a knee injury versus the Rams (12/17) and spent the season finale against Buffalo (12/23) on injured reserve. 1988: Reggie started all 16 games at right tackle for the first time in four years. During that season, McElroy and his linemates helped Freeman McNeil record the eighth-highest single-game rushing total in Jets history (154 yards vs. Kansas City, 10/2). They also helped the Jets set a team record for total offense in a game with 597 yards vs. Miami (11/27) in a 38-34 victory. 1987: McElroy played in eight games, including five starts at right tackle. He rebounded from knee surgery to play in the final eight games of the season, including starting the last five. He was activated from the "reserve/PUP" list (11/8) and saw spot duty during the next three games. 1986: Reggie played in eight games, starting all eight and making the switch from left tackle to right tackle. During that season, the Jets passed for 3,646 yards, second-most in team history. They also tied for second in team history for total offense in a game on Sept. 21 vs. Miami (581) in a 51-45 overtime victory. The 51 points is third-most in team history. He started the first seven games of the season at right tackle before suffering a left knee injury in Week seven vs. Denver

(10/20) that put him on injured reserve from Oct. 22 until he was activated Dec. 12. Until his injury, he had not allowed a sack on the quarterback to be hit in a game. He returned to the starting lineup Dec. 13 vs. Pittsburgh, but twisted his knee again and was placed on IR (12/17) following knee surgery, forcing him to miss both playoff games. 1985: Reggie played in 13 games, starting 11 of them at left tackle. During that season, the Jets enjoyed one of their finest offensive outputs in team annals. They scored 393 points (second-most ever), had 2,312 rushing yards (third), 3,584 passing yards (third) and 5,896 total yards (first). Reggie missed the season opener (at Raiders, 9/8) because of contract negotiations. He also missed two other games with a groin injury. On 9/15, the Jets rolled up the third-highest rushing total in team history (288 yards, 42 att.) in a 42-3 victory vs. Buffalo. They also had their second-highest total offensive output vs. Tampa Bay (11/17) with 581 yards in a 62-28 win. The 62 points was also a team record. Reggie also started in the AFC Wild Card Game vs. New England (12/28). 1984: For the first time in his career, McElroy started all 16 games. 1983: Reggie played in all 16 games, including one start. During that season, the Jets amassed 5,493 total yards, second-most in team history. McElroy received his first career start in the season finale at Miami (12/16), playing left guard. 1982: Reggie spent the entire season on injured reserve after suffering a preseason knee injury. He was a second-round pick (51st overall) by the Jets), the 11th offensive lineman taken in the '82 draft.

COLLEGE: Reggie was a four-year starter at offensive tackle at West Texas State. He was an All-Missouri Valley Conference choice his freshman, junior and senior years. He was an honorable mention All-America pick as a senior. McElroy earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from West Texas State.

PERSONAL: McElroy was an all-league pick in both football (as a two-way lineman) and basketball (as a center) at Beaumont Carlton HS, Beaumont, Texas. He and his wife, Sharon, have two sons, Michael and Christopher. Reggie's youngest brother, Leeland, was the 32nd overall selection in the 1996 NFL Draft, taken by the Arizona Cardinals after a stellar career at Texas A&M. Leeland's All-America seasons were boosted by the blocking of fullback Detron Smith, a third-round pick by the Broncos in '96. Reggie is also an accomplished singer, and sang the national anthem at the Chicago Bulls-Denver Nuggets basketball game on Feb. 4, 1996. That game was one of only 10 regular season losses for Chicago during the 1995-96 season. Reginald Lee McElroy was born March 4, 1960 in Beaumont, Texas.

Erik McMillan is entering his 7th NFL campaign, and his first since the 1993 season with Kansas City. He was an all-pro with the Jets in 1988 and '89, and has 22 career interceptions in 86 games, five of which he has returned for touchdowns. McMillan signed with the Broncos April 9, 1996. 1994-95: McMillan was out of professional football. 1993: McMillan played in six games with Philadelphia, three with Cleveland, and one with Kansas City. He signed with the Eagles April 22 as a free agent, was released Aug. 30 and re-signed Sept. 1. He played in six games, registering four tackles (3 solo), one fumble recovery and five special teams tackles. McMillan was released by the Eagles Oct. 24 and signed with Cleveland Nov. 9. He played in three games and made four tackles (3 solo). After being released by the Browns Nov. 30, McMillan signed with Kansas City Dec. 29 and played in one game, making one solo stop. He was released Jan. 19, 1994. 1992: McMillan played in 15 games for the Jets, missing only the Miami game (12/20, inactive). He recorded 28 stops (21 solo) on the season and returned 22 kickoffs for 420 yards (19.1). 1991: McMillan played in 16 games (6 starts) for the Jets, totalling 55 tackles (31 solo) and three forced fumbles. He picked off three passes, returning two of them for touchdowns (57 yards at Detroit, 12/8, and 83 yards vs. Miami, 9/29). 1990: McMillan started all 16 games for the Jets, making a team-high five interceptions (tied for third best in AFC) in addition to 95 tackles (57 solo) and nine passes defensed. 1989: McMillan started 16 games at free safety for the Jets and was a Pro Bowl starter. He had 95 tackles (73 solo), six interceptions, (one TD) and tied an NFL record with two fumble recoveries for touchdowns (45 yards vs. San Francisco, 10/29, and 74 yards at New Orleans, 10/15). He set a club mark with a 92-yard interception return for a touchdown vs. Indianapolis (10/20) breaking the old standard held previously by current Detroit Lions head coach Wayne Fontes. McMillan also had two sacks and a blocked punt on the season. 1988: McMillan played in 13 games, all starts. He had 80 stops (58 solo) and led the AFC in interceptions with 8, including two TD returns. He was a consensus All-Rookie selection, was named the NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year and was picked to the Pro Bowl. He had three interceptions, including a 55-yard TD at Miami on Oct. 23 — his second in as many weeks — and tied for the team lead with 22 passes defensed. He missed Week 11 with an ankle injury and Weeks 15 & 16 with an arch injury. McMillan was the 63rd player chosen in the 1988 draft, and the 12th defensive back.

COLLEGE: McMillan was only the second player in 35 years at Missouri to be a team captain as a junior and senior. An All-America and All-Big 8 selection as a senior, McMillan set school records with 203 career solo tackles and tied the all-time mark of 323 total tackles. He had three interceptions and one sack playing strong safety as a junior. He played as a reserve defensive end as a freshman. McMillan earned his business administration degree at Missouri in 1988, and then received his master's degree in education administration in 1991 from Fordham University in The Bronx, N.Y. He is also pursuing a doctorate in education administration.

PERSONAL: McMillan was an all-conference selection at JFK High School in his hometown of Silver Spring, Md. He was involved in a variety of charity work when he was with the Jets, including speaking to children in New York City school systems about education and substance abuse. He was also the chairman of the Port Authority's recycling program. Erik's father Ernie played offensive tackle for the St. Louis Cardinals and Green Bay Packers from 1961-75. His cousin Howard Richards was an offensive lineman for the Dallas Cowboys and Seattle Seahawks from 1981-87. Erik was born in St. Louis, Mo. He, his wife Roxanne, and their daughter Chievanne, 8, and son Elijah, 1, reside in Roswell, Ga., during the offseason.

Anthony Miller proved in 1995 why he is one of the most feared receivers in pro football today. His amazing speed and reliable hands helped land him a spot in his fifth Pro Bowl, following a season in which he set a personal best — and a Broncos record — with 14 touchdown catches. As he enters the 1996 season he needs just 232 receiving yards to reach 8,000 for his career, and seven receptions to reach 500. He would become the 47th player in NFL history to reach the 500-reception plateau. He has also hauled in 56 touchdown receptions in his 123 professional games, and has 27 games of 100 yards or more. 1995: Miller started 14 of the Broncos' 16 games at wide receiver, and recorded his fourth straight 1,000-yard season. He was selected to the Pro Bowl, the fifth such selection of his career. Miller missed Week One vs. Buffalo with an injured hamstring and Week Five at Seattle with an injured knee, but made the most of his time on the field by catching 59 passes for 1,079 yards (18.3) and 14 touchdowns. His 14 receiving touchdowns set a team record, surpassing Steve Watson's 1981 total of 13, and his 14 total touchdowns tie the team record set by Sammy Winder in 1986 (9 rushing, 5 receiving). Miller's previous standard for touchdowns in a season was 10 as a member of the San Diego Chargers in 1989, and his 14 in 1995 nearly tripled his 1994 team-leading total of five. He finished tied for fourth in the AFC (tied for 7th NFL) in touchdowns (14), and fifth in the AFC in receiving yards (1,060), while his average of 18.3 yards-per-reception was third-best in the NFL. On the year he had touchdown receptions of 33, 34, 35, 36, 46, 47, 50, 59, 60 and 62 yards, and averaged 35.1 yards-per-touchdown reception. He caught a TD pass in six straight games (seven touchdowns) from Nov. 5-Dec. 10, tying a Broncos record. Miller was named AFC Offensive Player of the Week for the week of Oct. 10-16 when he caught seven passes for a then-season-best 149 yards and two touchdowns (33 and 36 yards) in the Broncos' 27-0 Monday Night victory over the Raiders. Miller made his season debut at Dallas in Week Two and recorded a career-high three touchdown receptions in Denver's 31-21 loss to the eventual Super Bowl XXX Champions. For the day he had six receptions for 108 yards (18.0). At New England on Oct. 8, Miller started and made three receptions for 87 yards, including a 60-yard touchdown pass from John Elway in the third quarter of Denver's 37-3 victory. At Philadelphia (11/12), Miller started and caught four passes for a team-high 72 yards, including a 46-yard touchdown strike from John Elway in the first quarter to tie the game at 7-7. It was the 50th TD of Miller's career, and came in a game in which Miller also carried the ball on a reverse for a five-yard gain, marking his first rushing attempt since the '92 season. Against Seattle (12/10), Miller started and caught four passes for 52 yards, giving him 1,000 yards for the season. He caught a 15-yard touchdown pass from John Elway in the second quarter, his 13th of the season to tie a Broncos team record, and also caught one in his sixth consecutive game to tie a team record. On Christmas Eve at Oakland, Miller caught two passes for 19 yards, including a two-yard touchdown pass from John Elway in the second quarter to tie the game at 7-7. That TD reception gave him a franchise-record 14 for the season, and tied the team mark for total touchdowns in a season. 1994: Miller came to the Broncos as a free agent in the 1994 offseason from the San Diego Chargers and made his presence felt by finishing the season with 60 catches for 1,107 yards and five touchdowns. That yardage total led the Broncos and was sixth in the AFC, while the 60 catches were third-most on the squad. He also became just the fourth Bronco to surpass the 1,000-yard mark in a season, joining Lionel Taylor (four times), Steve Watson (three times) and current teammate Vance Johnson (once). Shannon Sharpe (1,010 yards) would surpass the 1,000-yard mark later in the year to give the Broncos two 1,000-yard receivers in the same season for the first time in club history. He was a model of consistency and steady improvement in 1994, as suggested by the following statistical breakdowns: His per-catch average increased in each month, as he averaged 13.5 yards in September, 14.5 in October, 17.6 in November and 26.9 in December. In eight home games he caught 30 passes for 560 yards (18.7 average), while in eight road games he caught 30 for 546 yards (18.2). In addition, he caught 29 passes for 530 yards (18.3 average) in the first half of games, compared to 31 passes for 577 yards (18.6) in the second half of games. Miller had five 100-yard games – four of which came in the season's final six weeks – marking just the fifth time a Broncos receiver has posted that many in a season. (Taylor had seven in 1960 and five in '61, while Watson had five in 1981 and '83). He came within one yard of making it six 100-yard games, amassing 99 yards receiving against Kansas City (10/17). Over the last six games of the season, Miller hauled in 27 passes (4.5 per game) for 649 yards (108.2 per game), an average of 24 yards per catch. Miller posted his first 100-yard game as a Bronco in game two at the New York Jets (9/11) when he caught six passes for 105 yards. He became only the third Bronco to top the 100-yard mark in three consecutive games when he accomplished the feat with 102 against Atlanta (11/20), 116 against Cincinnati (11/27) and a season-high 153 at Kansas City (12/4), joining Lionel Taylor (1960) and Mark Jackson (1988). His 102-yard performance against Atlanta (11/20), coupled with Cedric Tillman's 175-yard effort gave Denver two 100-yard receivers in the same game for the 15th time in history. He posted the longest reception of his career in a 118-yard performance at San Francisco (12/17) when he took a Hugh Millen pass just beyond the line of scrimmage and advanced it 75 yards to the San Francisco one-yard line for a 76-yard gain. It was the third-longest non-scoring pass play in franchise history. His previous longest catches of the year (57 and 54 yards) came in the Broncos' 20-17 overtime win at Kansas City (12/4). 1993: Miller finished second in the AFC in receptions with a career-high 84 catches for 1,162 yards and seven touchdowns. He led his Charger team in receptions in 10 of 16 regular season games and had a career-best six 100-yard receiving games, the most since Kellen Winslow's six in 1982. That gave Miller 19 100-yard receiving days in his career. In the season finale at Tampa Bay (1/2) Miller caught seven passes for 119 yards and a touchdown. His big day reception-wise came at Seattle (10/3), where he caught a career-high 10 passes for 123 yards and a score. Miller's big yardage day came at Minnesota (11/7), where he racked up 142 yards on seven catches and a TD. 1992: After arthroscopic knee surgery prior to training camp, Miller finished 1992 as the only AFC receiver to surpass the 1,000-yard mark, exploding after a slow start to finish fifth in the conference with 72 catches for 1060 yards and eight touchdowns. He added four 100-yard receiving performances with his big yardage day coming at Cleveland, where he finished the day with 110 receiving yards on seven receptions. His big catch day came at Seattle, where he caught nine passes, tying his career mark. 1991: Miller averaged nearly four catches per game despite being slowed by injuries in 1991. He still managed to surpass the 100-yard mark twice, going for 149 yards at the L.A. Rams (10/13) and 124 yards versus Seattle (11/10). He finished the season second on the team in receptions with 44 for 649 yards and three touchdowns, missing the final three games because of injury. 1990: Miller was selected to his second straight Pro Bowl following the 1990 season. He led the team for the second straight season in receptions with 63 for 933 yards and seven touchdowns. He had a then-career-high nine receptions versus Cincinnati (9/16) and finished the season with a streak of 33 games with at least one reception. 1989: Miller earned his first Pro Bowl berth with career highs of 75 receptions for 1,252 yards and 11 touchdowns. He led the team in receptions, while finishing fifth in the AFC in catches and second in yards. His 11 touchdowns were the most by a Charger since Chuck Muncie scored 13 in 1983, and his 10 receiving were the most since Wes Chandler's 10 in 1985. His 1,252 were the most since Kellen Winslow gained 1,290 yards in 1980. Miller caught fire in the second half of the season, catching 47 passes and scored seven touchdowns in the final eight games, compared to 28 catches and two TDs in the first eight. He caught five or more passes in each of the final eight games, and finished the season with five 100-yard games. He made a then-career-high eight receptions at Washington (12/10) and racked up a career-high 162 yards versus Houston (9/17). Miller returned a kickoff 91 yards for a score versus the Raiders, becoming the only Charger in team history to return two kickoffs for touchdowns. He ended the year with numerous honors, including Pro Bowl, second team All-NFL (College and Pro Football Weekly), All-AFC (Pro Football Weekly), and second team All-AFC (UPI). 1988: Miller finished his rookie season second on the team in receptions with 36 for 526 yards and three touchdowns. He also finished the year with a 25.9-yard kickoff return average, third in the NFL, with one touchdown. His lone kickoff return for a touchdown went for 93 yards versus the Rams. Miller was the Chargers first-round selection in 1988, the 15th player taken overall in the draft.

COLLEGE: Miller was a preseason All-America choice prior to his senior year at the University of Tennessee in 1987. His senior season was interrupted for five games because of a knee injury, finishing the year with just 11 receptions. As a junior Miller averaged 18.5 yards on 36 catches, ended the campaign 667 yards and five touchdowns. He was also a track star at Tennessee where he majored in physical education.

PERSONAL: Anthony is single and makes his offseason home in Marina Del Ray, Calif. He played just one year of football at John Muir HS in Pasadena, Calif., before signing a track scholarship to San Diego State. He ran the 100 meters in 10.3 seconds and the 200 meters in 20.6 seconds as a prepster. Lawrence Anthony Miller was born April 15, 1965 in Pasadena, Calif.

Residence – Grand Junction, Colo.
How Acquired – Unrestricted FA, 1995
College – Oregon
High School – Grand Junction HS, Grand Junction, Colo.
Height – 6-2
Weight – 196
Pro Year – 6th
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Bill Musgrave came to the Broncos from the San Francisco 49ers as a free agent in 1995 and proceeded to move into the backup role behind John Elway. Musgrave, a local product out of Grand Junction, Colo., picked up the Broncos version of the West Coast Offense very well and did a fine job in his three relief appearances. 1995: Musgrave was active for 11 games in '95 and played in three, completing 8-of-12 passes for 93 yards. He took his first snaps of the season at Seattle (10/1), the game in which he saw his most extensive action, completing 4-of-8 for 34 yards with a long of 15. It was his first regular-season game action since Oct. 3, 1993, and the first time he has thrown a pass in the regular season since his rookie season of 1991. He was designated as the third quarterback for Games Two, Four, Six, Eight and 10. He also saw action vs. Arizona (11/5) in the fourth quarter, entering the game with 5:20 remaining after Elway surpassed 40,000 career passing yards. He completed his only pass for 12 yards, giving him 126 yards for his career. Musgrave also was credited with three carries for -4 yards, as he knelt with the ball three times to run out the clock in the final 1:52. He also saw action vs. Oakland (10/16) in the fourth quarter, completing all three of his pass attempts for 47 yards with a long of 23. He also recorded his first career rush for no gain. Musgrave entered the game with 6:05 remaining and quarterbacked the Broncos on their final two drives of the game. 1994: Musgrave was designated as the third quarterback for every regular and postseason game for San Francisco, where he was coached by current Broncos head coach Mike Shanahan (offensive coordinator), offensive coordinator Gary Kubiak (quarterback coach) and tight ends coach Brian Pariani (offensive assistant).

Musgrave was part of a 49er unit that won Super Bowl XXIX over San Diego (1/29/95), seeing action in the game and completing his only pass. 1993: Musgrave was active but did not play in the first four games of the season. He replaced Steve Young for the final series versus Minnesota (10/3) but did not attempt a pass. Musgrave was inactive for weeks 6-18, he was also inactive for both the NFC Divisional Playoff Game versus the Giants (1/15/94) and the NFC Championship Game at Dallas (1/23/94). 1992: Musgrave was active at the Giants (9/6) but did not play. He was inactive for weeks 2-14, and was then placed on injured reserve (12/15) with an injured left knee, causing him to miss both playoff games. 1991: Musgrave joined the 49ers as a free agent when he was signed to their practice roster on Aug. 26. He had been waived by Dallas at the end of training camp. Musgrave was activated from the practice squad roster by the 49ers on Nov. 10 and was inactive versus New Orleans (12/1), at Seattle (12/8) and versus Kansas City (12/14). He made his NFL debut versus Chicago (12/23), replacing Steve Young late in the game and completing four of five passes for 33 yards, including his first professional touchdown pass. Musgrave was originally a fourth-round pick (107th overall) by Dallas in 1991.

COLLEGE: Musgrave finished an excellent four-year career at Oregon as the school's career record-holder in 15 different offensive categories, including pass attempts (1,106), completions (643), touchdown passes (60) and completion percentage (.573). His touchdown pass mark (60) was second in Pac-10 history behind John Elway at the end of his career, and is now third behind former Stanford QB Steve Stenstrom, while his career yardage total of 8,343 now stands fourth behind Stenstrom, Erik Wilhelm (Oregon State) and Elway. He was named All-Pac-10 and honorable mention All-America as a senior. He led the Ducks to consecutive bowl appearances in his junior and senior seasons, the school's first back-to-back bowl berths since 1947-48. He also participated in the East-West Shrine Game, Hula and Japan Bowls following his senior season. Musgrave was a three-time Pac-10 All-Academic selection and was named the nation's All-Academic Player of the Year. He received an NCAA post-graduate scholarship as well as the National Football Foundation's Scholar-Athlete Award for his academic achievements.

PERSONAL: A native of Grand Junction, Colo., Musgrave starred in football at Grand Junction HS where he was named the Colorado High School Athlete of the Year for 1985, tossing a state-record 30 touchdown passes. He was also winner of the Denver Post Gold Helmet Award as the state's top scholar-athlete, and celebrated the 10th anniversary of that award last year by presenting the 1995 Gold Helmet award to the winner prior to kickoff of the Broncos' final home game against Seattle, Dec. 10, 1995. He is single and makes his home in Denver.

Tom Nalen comes into his third NFL season in 1996 after a breakthrough '95 season in which he stepped into the starting center position and solidified his standing as an integral part of the Broncos' offensive line for years to come. He played a key role in a revamped offensive line that cut the Broncos' sacks from 55 in 1994 to 26 in 1995. 1995: Nalen started 15 of the Broncos' 16 games, missing only the Week Four matchup at San Diego (9/24) while recovering from arthroscopic surgery to repair a lateral meniscus tear in his left knee suffered in the Washington game (9/17). He underwent arthroscopic surgery at the Steadman-Hawkins Clinic in Vail, Colo., Sept. 18, and was expected to miss three to four weeks, but he returned to his starting position at Seattle (10/1). Behind the blocking of Nalen and the rest of the offensive line, Denver was able to rush for over 100 yards in a game 11 out of 16 times during the 1995 season, and produce a 1,000-yard rusher in rookie Terrell Davis (1,117). 1994: Nalen played in seven games for the Broncos, including a start at left guard in his first NFL appearance against the Rams (11/6). Nalen continued to make appearances on the offensive line over the remainder of the season. Nalen entered camp in July as a rookie draft choice out of Boston College, was waived just prior to the start of the regular season and then re-signed to the practice squad Sept. 6. He was signed to the active roster the week of the Rams game to start in place of an injured Jon Melander.

COLLEGE: Nalen was a three-year starter in his five seasons at Boston College, earning numerous honors that included third-team Associated Press All-America, second-team All-Big East, and first-team ECAC citations. He closed out his outstanding college career with appearances in the East-West Shrine and Senior Bowl games. In 1993 Nalen was an honorable mention All-American and All-Big East second-team pick by The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft, starting all year and leading the way as the Eagles ranked fourth in the nation in total offense (506.4 yards per game). Nalen's blocking was a key factor in the Boston College upset win over Notre Dame in South Bend. Nalen started every game from 1991-93 after serving as the deep-snapper, backup center and then starting center for the last three games in 1990. He redshirted in '89.

PERSONAL: A native of Boston, Mass., Nalen lettered three times each in football and basketball and twice in track at Foxboro (Mass.) HS. He was All-Hockomock League and an all-state selection by the Boston Globe, Boston Herald, Sun Chronicle, and Patriot Ledger, adding state Lineman of the Year honors as a senior. Tom led the team to a pair of Division III titles and played in the Shrine All-Star Game, serving as team captain in both football and basketball. An all-conference and team MVP in basketball, he was named to the Academic All-State team by the Massachusetts Basketball Coaches Association. Tom has his degree in accounting from Boston College and would like ultimately to become a certified public accountant. Tom likes golf, basketball, and video games, and he has the strange superstition of not allowing his practice uniform to be washed during the season. Tom and his wife, Denise, make their home in Englewood, Colo. Thomas Andrew Nalen was born May 13, 1971 in Foxboro, Mass.

Michael Dean Perry signed with the Broncos as a free agent in 1995 and immediately showed his worth to the Denver defense by turning in another stellar season at defensive tackle, joining forces with former Cleveland Brown teammate James Jones to create a stone wall in the middle of the Denver defense. The five-time Pro Bowler (1989-91, '93-94) has played in 122 career games, with 103 starts, and has totalled 548 tackles (417 solo), 57.5 sacks, 20 passes defensed, and seven fumble recoveries. 1995: Perry started 14 of the Broncos' 16 games, and was a big force on the defensive line, accumulating 42 tackles (38 solo), six sacks, eight passes defensed and two forced fumbles. He was voted by his teammates as the club's Most Inspirational Player for '95. Perry missed the Dallas (9/10) and Washington (9/17) contests following arthroscopic surgery to repair the medial meniscus in his right knee. The injury occurred in the season-opener against Buffalo (9/3), a game in which Perry recorded he first sack in his first game as a Bronco. He had surgery Sept. 5, and returned to the starting lineup at San Diego (9/24). On Oct. 1 at Seattle, Perry started at right defensive tackle and recorded four tackles (3 solo), including a 12-yard sack of Seahawks quarterback Rick Mirer. On Oct. 8 at New England, Perry turned in a dominating performance, recording four solo tackles, two sacks, two forced fumbles and one pass defensed in Denver's 37-3 victory. On Nov. 5 vs. Arizona, Perry made two solo tackles — including his fifth sack for a nine-yard loss — with one pass defensed. On Christmas Eve at Oakland Perry made four solo tackles, including his sixth sack of the season for a two-yard loss in Denver's 31-28 victory. 1994: Perry played in 14 games, including 13 starts, and registered 69 stops (46 solo), four sacks and three passes defensed en route to his fifth Pro Bowl appearance in the last six seasons. He was named to the starting lineup for the third time in his career (1989 and '90). He was also named second-team All-Pro and All-AFC by Football News. Perry had five tackles and one pass deflection in the season opener at Cincinnati (9/4) in a 28-20 victory. He had six tackles and three QB pressures vs. Pittsburgh (9/11). Perry recorded two solo stops and four QB pressures vs. Arizona (9/18). He had five stops and four QB pressures in an 11-8 win at Houston (10/13). Perry registered six solo tackles, four QB pressures and a batted pass in a 37-13 win vs. Cincinnati (10/23) in his 100th pro game. He recorded six stops and two more QB pressures at Denver (10/30) before leaving the game with a bruised shoulder. He was inactive (11/6) vs. New England. He returned to action at Philadelphia and had seven tackles, two sacks and a forced fumble in a 26-7 victory. He was credited with nine tackles at Kansas City (11/20). He recorded a solo stop and a QB pressure vs. the Giants (12/4) before leaving the game with back spasms. He did not start at Dallas (12/10) due to back pain, but saw action and recorded two tackles and two QB pressures in a 19-14 win. He had five tackles and one sack at Pittsburgh (12/18). In an AFC Wild Card Game vs. New England (1/1/95) he had four QB pressures and one tackle in a 20-13 win. On 1/7/95, he had three solo tackles and a QB pressure at Pittsburgh in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game. 1993: Perry played in all 16 games with thirteen starts. He had 81 tackles (63 solo), six sacks, two forced and two recovered fumbles. He earned Pro Bowl honors and was named to the Sporting News All-Pro Team. He led the team with 11 stops (nine solo) and two sacks in an opening-day victory vs. Cincinnati (9/5). One of his sacks of David Klingler forced a fumble. He recorded six tackles and recovered a fumble in a 23-13 Monday Night win vs. San Francisco. He had seven tackles (six solo) and one sack at Atlanta (11/28). He duplicated his stats against the Falcons when the Browns beat New Orleans 17-13 (12/5). He recorded the 47th sack of his career at Houston (12/12) to move into fourth place on the team's all-time sack list. He had six tackles, including two half sacks at Pittsburgh (1/2/94). 1992: Perry started all 14 games in which he played. He finished the season with 51 tackles (39 solo), eight-and-a-half sacks and three passes defensed. He earned first-team All-NFL from the Sporting News. Due to an injury to his knee suffered in the preseason, he was inactive for the second and third games of the season (9/14 vs. Miami and 9/20 at Raiders). He had an eight-yard sack and four QB pressures vs. Denver (9/27). He registered the 35th sack of his career at New England (10/25) to move into fifth place on the team's all-time sack list. He had five tackles and one-and-a-half sacks in a 27-14 win over Chicago (11/29). He recorded two sacks among his five solo tackles, and had five QB pressures in a 37-21 win over Cinc. (12/6). He had his second straight two-sack game at Detroit (12/13) and was second on the team with eight total tackles (seven solo). He had five stops and a sack at Pittsburgh (12/27). 1991: Perry played in all 16 games, starting 15. He finished the season with 81 tackles (64 solo), eight-and-a-half sacks, two forced fumbles and two passes defensed. He was the only Brown to be named to the Pro Bowl, while also earning second-team AP All-Pro honors. He was also named USA Today and NFLPA Outstanding Player, NEA All-Pro, Sporting News All-Pro, Pro Football Weekly All-AFC and Cleveland Touchdown Club Defensive Player of the Year. He did not start in the season-opener vs. Dallas due to contractual holdout, but still played against the Cowboys. On 9/8, he had eleven stops (nine solo) and two sacks at New England. On 9/22 at the Giants, he recorded a season-high 10 solo tackles, one assist, two sacks and a forced fumble. He had his third two-sack game of the year vs. Philadelphia (11/10), along with seven tackles (six solo). In season-finale at Pittsburgh he had four tackles, one-and-a-half sacks and a blocked field goal attempt. 1990: Perry started all 16 games en route to his best professional season to date. He had 101 tackles (85 solo), 11 1/2 sacks, two forced fumbles, and one fumble recovery. He was a Pro Bowl starter whose sack total and 28 QB pressures were the most by any NFL interior lineman. The sack total was also the seventh-best single-season mark in team history. He was named to AP's All-Pro team, UPI's All-AFC team, PFWA's All-Pro team, NEA's All-Pro team, Pro Football Weekly's All-Pro team, The Sporting News All-Pro team, College & Pro Football Weekly's NFL All-Pro second team, and Football Digest's All-Pro team. He recorded two sacks for 29 yards in losses in the fourth quarter vs. Pittsburgh, among his six solo stops, and also had five QB pressures. He had two sacks at the Jets (9/16). He recorded his ninth sack of the season among his three tackles at Houston (12/9). He had a career-high two-and-a-half sacks vs. Atlanta (12/16). 1989: Perry started all 16 regular season games, and two playoff games. He had 92 tackles (62 solo), seven sacks, 49 QB pressures, two forced and two recovered fumbles, and a career-high seven passes defensed in regular season play, and added nine stops and nine QB pressures in the playoffs. That season, Perry was named UPI Defensive Player of the Year, a Pro Bowl starter for the first time in his career, K.C. 101 Club Defensive Player of the Year, AP All-Pro, UPI All-AFC All-Star (first team), Pro Football Weekly All-Pro (AFC), Football News All-Pro (AFC) and Cleveland Touchdown Club Defensive Player of the Year. Perry also managed to draw 16 holding penalties during the season. He recorded six tackles and two sacks at Indianapolis (12/10), while also causing a fumble, batting a pass and recording two QB pressures. In the Pro Bowl, he recorded five tackles and a batted pass, starting at nose tackle alongside Bruce Smith and Lee Williams. 1988: Perry played in all 16 games as a rookie, starting two, and played in the Browns' playoff game vs. Houston (12/24/88). He finished the year with 25 tackles (20 solo), six sacks, and two forced and two recovered fumbles. He also returned one of his fumble recoveries for his only professional touchdown. He recorded his first career sack in a 23-17 win over Indianapolis (9/19). He sacked Boomer Esiason on the game's last play to preserve a 23-16 win vs. Cincinnati. He had his first career two-sack game on 11/20 vs. Pittsburgh, and also had three tackles, one QB pressure and a fumble recovery against the Steelers. He scored on a 10-yard fumble for his first professional TD vs. Houston. He started the final two games of the year (12/12 at Miami, his first NFL start) and the AFC Wild Card Game vs. Houston (12/24/88). Perry was Cleveland's second-round selection, the 50th player taken overall in the 1988 NFL draft.

COLLEGE: Perry holds Clemson's all-time sack mark with 28, breaking the mark previously held by his brother, William "Refrigerator" Perry (played with Bears and Eagles, and now with the London Monarchs of the World League). As a senior (1987), Michael Dean won the ACC Defensive Player of the Year Award, as well as second-team All-America honors from The Sporting News and Football News. He was one of the three finalists for the Outland Trophy, given to the nation's best down lineman. Perry earned first-team All-ACC and AP All-America honorable mention as a junior. He was hampered by an ankle injury and played in only 37% of the defensive snaps. Perry still led the team with nine sacks and 15 tackles for 84 yards in losses. He missed five games due to a fractured right fibula (9/31/85) as a sophomore. As a freshman, he recorded 15 tackles for loss, including seven sacks, second to his brother William's 26 loss-tackles as a senior in 1984. Michael Dean earned first-team freshman All-America honors in 1984 after redshirting in 1983. He was a recreation and parks major.

PERSONAL: Michael Dean starred at South Aiken (S.C.) HS, capturing all-conference and all-district honors three straight years. During the 1990 season with the Browns, he and teammate Eric Metcalf delivered pizzas on Monday nights as part of a Pizza Hut promotional campaign. He has participated in the Foot Locker Slam Fest competition (Jan., 1991) in Boca Raton, Fla., against such athletes as Barry Sanders, Deion Sanders and Barry Bonds. Michael is also only the second athlete (after Michael Jordan) to have a McDonald's hamburger named after him (The "MDP"). He has also participated on the Browns' charity basketball team. Michael Dean is one of 12 children. He and his wife Trini have three daughters (Taylor Denise, Amber, and Tyrah). His full name is Michael Dean Perry.

28 MIKE PRINGLE • Running Back

Birthdate – October 1, 1967
Birthplace – Los Angeles, Calif.
Residence – Mission Hills, Calif.
How Acquired – Free Agent, 1996
College – Cal State Fullerton
High School – Kennedy HS
Granada Hills, Calif.
Height – 5-9
Weight – 195

Mike Pringle signed with the Broncos April 29 after spending the past four seasons in the Canadian Football League. He figures to challenge for the running back and kick return duties left vacant after Glyn Milburn was traded to Detroit. 1992-95: Pringle starred for three different Canadian Football League teams, most notably for the Baltimore Stallions from 1994-95. In his CFL career, he scored 34 touchdowns in 56 games, rushed for 4,256 yards on 701 carries (6.1) with 30 touchdowns, caught 139 passes for 1,276 yards (9.2) and four touchdowns, and returned 84 kickoffs for 1,787 yards (24.6). In 1995 Pringle finished third in the league in all-purpose yards (2,387), first in rushing yards (1,791) and attempts (311) and second in rushing touchdowns (13) to earn the CFL's Most Valuable Player Award. In 1994 Pringle set CFL records in yards rushing (1,972) and yards from scrimmage (2,414), while leading the league in all-purpose yards (3,228). He was a unanimous All-CFL and All-Eastern Division selection and was voted by his peers to the CFLPA All-Star team. In 1993 Pringle was the starting fullback for the Sacramento Gold Miners, rushing for 366 yards and four touchdowns. He also caught 56 passes for 523 yards (9.3) and a score, returned 27 kickoffs for 549 yards (20.3) and made 30 special teams tackles. In 1992, Pringle played three games for the Edmonton Eskimos, totalling 129 rushing yards, 39 receiving yards, and 114 kick return yards, following an outstanding spring campaign in the World League with the league champion Sacramento Surge, for whom he gained 507 rushing yards and six TDs. 1991: Pringle was released by Atlanta before the season. 1990: Pringle played in three games with Atlanta, rushing twice for nine yards (4.5) and returning one kickoff for 14 yards. He was on injured reserve with a rib injury from Sept. 4-Oct. 2, then was on the practice squad from Oct. 2-Dec. 5. He was placed on the inactive list Dec. 9. Pringle was a sixth-round pick (139th overall) by Atlanta in the 1991 draft, and signed with the Falcons July 26.

COLLEGE: Pringle had a record-setting season at Cal State Fullerton in 1989, leading the nation in all-purpose yards (2,690; second in NCAA history to Barry Sanders) and had 1,727 yards rushing, 714 in kickoff returns, and 249 receiving. He was voted the Big West Player of the Year. His 626 yards in a two-game span vs. New Mexico State and Long Beach State set an NCAA two-game record. He set school records for most carries in a season (296), rushing touchdowns (16), total touchdowns (19) and points (116). He spent his first two collegiate seasons at Washington State, before transferring to Cal State Fullerton for his final two years of eligibility.

PERSONAL: Pringle attended John F. Kennedy High School in Granada Hills, Calif., where he was a track and football standout, garnering all-valley, all-league, and all-city accolades. He played against current Broncos running back Aaron Craver, who attended Compton High School. Michael A. Pringle was born Oct. 1, 1967 in Los Angeles, Calif. He is single and makes his home in Mission Hills, Calif.

Reggie Rivers continued to display his versatility in 1995 as both a running back and special teams player. He is regarded as one of the Broncos' top special teams players every year. 1995: Rivers played in all 16 games, primarily on special teams. He recorded seven tackles and a forced fumble on special teams. On offense, Rivers carried twice for two yards and caught three passes for 32 yards (10.7). Against Oakland on Monday Night Football, (10/16) Rivers saw action on special teams and in the backfield, catching one pass for 23 yards, his longest gain from scrimmage of the season. His forced fumble on special teams came against San Diego (11/19). 1994: Rivers played in all 16 games and finished the year with 83 rushing yards on 43 carries (1.9 average) and scored two rushing touchdowns. He also caught 20 passes for 136 yards, including a long-reception of 25 yards at Buffalo (9/26). He saw more time at running back after Rod Bernstine was sidelined with an injury. Rivers carried the ball a career-high 10 times at Seattle (10/9) for 24 yards. His top rushing performance came at Kansas City (12/4) when carried the ball seven times for 25 yards. Rivers caught four passes for a season-high 37 yards in the game at Buffalo (9/26) and matched that number of catches (for 25 yards) in the season-finale versus New Orleans. 1993: Rivers blocked two punts at critical times in the Broncos' wins over Cleveland (11/7) and Kansas City (12/12). At Cleveland, Rivers' blocked punt resulted in a safety, putting the Broncos up 9-0. Versus Kansas City, Rivers' block put the Broncos in position for the touchdown that put the team ahead for good. Rivers was the only NFL player to block two punts in the 1993 season. He also contributed at the running back position, compiling 50 yards rushing with one touchdown, and catching six passes with one TD. 1992: Rivers emerged as one of Denver's key offensive performers in 1992. He moved into the starting fullback position midway through the season and ended the campaign second on the team in rushing with 282 yards and three touchdowns on 74 carries. He was third with 45 receptions for 449 yards and a score. He scored two game-winning touchdowns, one on a 20-yard run vs. Houston (10/18) with 1:34 left and also with a one-yard run against the Raiders (9/6) with just 55 seconds left in the game. Rivers rushed for a career-high 66 yards at Cleveland (9/27), including a 48-yard run. He set new career marks in receiving with nine catches for 76 yards at San Diego (10/25) and a 37-yard reception vs. Seattle (12/20). Rivers received the Broncos' 1992 Bob Martin Award, which is given annually to the Broncos player who is most cooperative with the media. He also received the team's Community Action Player Award for his volunteer service throughout Colorado. 1991: He played primarily on special teams in 1991, although he did see some action as a back-up fullback. On the special teams unit Rivers registered 10 tackles, seven assists, and four knockdown blocks – enough to earn a spot on the Pro Football Weekly All-Rookie team as a special teams player. He also rushed two times for five yards.

COLLEGE: Rivers rushed for 2,507 yards and 10 touchdowns in four seasons at Southwest Texas State. Following a senior campaign in which he led the Southland Conference with 1,145 yards and five scores for the Bobcats, he earned numerous first- and second-team All-America honors, and was a first-team all-conference selection. In 1989 he was named second-team all-conference and as a freshman was a member of the conference's All-Academic squad.

PERSONAL: Reggie is single and lives in Littleton, Colo. Born in Dayton, Ohio, he lettered twice each in football, basketball, and track at Randolph HS in San Antonio, Tex. Reggie has a degree in journalism and writes a weekly Sunday sports column for the Rocky Mountain News, which is syndicated in 14 other newspapers. During the offseason he also hosts a Sunday afternoon radio program broadcast on KOA-850 AM, the Broncos' flagship station. He has interned at the San Antonio (Tex.) Light, the Austin (Tex.) American-Statesman, and Newsday (Long Island). In 1995 he co-authored the autobiography of Broncos teammate Vance Johnson, titled The Vance; The Beginning and the End. He has recently completed, and is looking to publish, a novel about a professional football player, titled Power Shift. Reggie enjoys reading fiction novels and writing short stories and articles. He was recognized in 1995 for his extensive community involvement by being named one of the Broncos' three nominees for the True Value/NFL Man of the Year Award, and was the Broncos' recipient of the NFL Players Association's Unsung Hero Award. Rivers also tried his hand at acting last year, playing the role of an aged Colorado Rockies player Eric Young in a video entitled "The Legend of the Blake Street Bombers Chapter One." The video is a fund-raising project for The Blake Street Bombers Foundation, and features several Rockies players, as well as manager Don Baylor. Reginald C. Rivers was born February 22, 1968 in Dayton, Ohio.

Jeff Robinson helped to bring valuable depth to the Broncos defensive line in 1995. He continues to be more of a force on defense every season, and also plays a valuable role as the Broncos' long snapper. Robinson has not missed a game in his three-year NFL career. 1995: Robinson saw considerable action on the defensive line and on special teams where he handled the long-snapping duties. He played in all 16 games and recorded eight tackles (5 solo), one pass defensed and one fumble recovery on defense, and two more tackles on special teams. Robinson registered his first sack of the season at San Diego (9/24) for a four-yard loss. He saw his most extensive action on defense the following week at Seattle (10/1), and later came up big against Arizona (11/5) when he recovered a fumble and contributed a pass defensed. Robinson closed his season on a high note with three tackles (1 solo) in the season finale at Oakland (12/24). 1994: Robinson played in all 16 games as a backup defensive end and on special teams. He finished the season with 14 tackles (8 solo), one sack (-1), and one pass defensed. His sack came in the final game of the season against New Orleans (12/24). Robinson saw his most extensive action against Atlanta (11/20) and made two tackles (1 solo) with one pass defensed. 1993: Robinson played sparingly in his rookie season, but improved with each game. He showed a nose for the ball in limited action, picking up 3.5 sacks on the year. His most productive game came in the season finale at the L.A. Raiders. On the day, he was credited with two solo tackles — both sack-related — and one forced fumble.

COLLEGE: Robinson was a first-team Division I-AA All-America selection (Kodak, Walter Camp, Associated Press and Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft) as a senior at Idaho, along with being named to the All-Big Sky first team for the three straight years. He finished his collegiate career with 57.5 sacks, 16 passes defensed, and 277 tackles as defensive end. As a senior Robinson recorded 13.5 sacks, 79 tackles (56 solo), 35 pressures, six forced fumbles, five passes defensed, and 27 tackles for loss, and earned an invitation to play in the Senior Bowl. He earned a bachelor's degree in finance from Idaho.

PERSONAL: Jeff is single and makes his home in Englewood, Colo. He attended Ferris High School in Spokane, Wash., where he was an All-Greater Spokane League selection during his three-year prep career, also lettering in basketball (2 years) and baseball (2). Jeff was an honor roll student, graduating with a 3.7 GPA. His hobbies include waterskiing, snowmobiling and golf. Jeffrey William Robinson was born February 20, 1970 in Spokane, Wash.

53 BILL ROMANOWSKI • Linebacker

Birthdate – April 2, 1966
Birthplace – Vernon, Conn.
Residence – San Martin, Calif.
How Acquired – Unrestricted FA, 1996
College – Boston College
High School – Rockville HS
Vernon, Conn.
Height – 6-4
Weight – 241
Pro Year – 9th
Year with Broncos – 1st

Bill Romanowski comes to the Broncos as an unrestricted free agent from the Philadelphia Eagles. The eight-year veteran looks to step right into a starting role among the linebacking corps, and bolster the Broncos' rushing defense. Romanowski has played in two Super Bowls and five NFC title games in his career, and has been to the playoffs six times. He has never missed a game in his NFL career, starting 107 of the 128 games. Romanowski has 669 career tackles (504 solo), 10.5 sacks, six interceptions, eight forced fumbles and nine fumble recoveries. He signed with the Broncos Feb. 23, 1996, the first free agent signed by the franchise in '96. 1995: Romanowski started all 16 games at left linebacker for the Eagles, finishing second on the team in tackles with 127 (77 solo), and adding two interceptions and one sack. He put together three straight 10-tackle outings against the Giants, at Washington and at Seattle in Weeks 11-13. In Week 14 against Dallas, Romanowski had an outstanding afternoon, recording a season-high 15 tackles and one pass defensed. He made the biggest play of the game when he put a huge hit on Cowboy's running back Emmitt Smith to stuff him at the line of scrimmage on the Cowboy's 29-yard line on a fourth-and-inches play with the game tied at 17. That stop allowed Gary Anderson to kick a 42-yard game-winning field goal and gave the Eagles a 20-17 victory. He recorded nine stops (six solo) and forced a critical fumble by Arizona's Garrison Hearst in Week 15. Romanowski had an amazing season-finale at Chicago, registering a mind-boggling 24 tackles (17 solo) and intercepting a pass as well as recovering a fumble. On Dec. 30 in an NFC Wild Card Game vs. Detroit, Romanowski had one tackle in Philadelphia's 58-37 victory. He did not see much action because the Eagles played primarily in a nickel defense with a substantial lead. The following week in an NFC Divisional Playoff Game at Dallas, Romanowski had 11 tackles (10 solo). 1994: Romanowski was acquired by the Eagles on draft day '94 from the 49ers when the Eagles traded their third- and sixth-round choices to San Francisco. He started 15 games at left linebacker, a spot that was previously occupied by perennial All-Pro Seth Joyner. "Romo" finished fifth on the team with 96 tackles, including 2.5 sacks. He started 72 consecutive regular season games until the Eagles started their Oct. 24 game against Houston with five defensive backs. He also had two interceptions on the season. 1993: Romanowski had his finest season as a pro, leading the 49ers in tackles for the third time in four years with a career-high 105 stops (82 solo), including three sacks. He led the team in tackles eight times, including 15 stops and a forced fumble against Cincinnati (12/5). In two playoff games he totalled 11 tackles (10 solo). 1992: Romanowski started all 16 games for San Francisco, leading the team in tackles with 80 (65 solo). He started 14 games at outside linebacker and two at inside linebacker. Romanowski also had three special teams tackles on the season. In two playoff games, he had seven tackles (six solo) and one sack. 1991: Romanowski started all 16 games and finished the year with 76 tackles (67 solo), one sack, one interception and two fumble recoveries. He posted a then career-high 10 tackles at the L.A. Rams (11/25). 1990: Romanowski started all 16 games for San Francisco and finished as the team leader in tackles with 79 (68 solo), leading the team in tackles six times. In two playoff games he had 12 stops (11 solo) and three special teams tackles. He had his best game of the year in the NFC Championship Game vs. the New York Giants, when he registered a team-high eight stops. 1989: Romanowski played in all 16 games, and made four starts. He had 53 stops on the year (47 solo), two fumble recoveries and one interception. He also had eight special teams stops. In three playoff games he had 12 stops (ten solo) and six special teams tackles as the 49ers won their second consecutive Super Bowl title, this one over the Broncos 55-10. 1988: Romanowski played in all 16 games, starting eight of them, including his first professional game at New Orleans, in which he earned a game ball for his efforts. He finished the season with 53 tackles (38 solo), three forced fumbles and seven special teams tackles. In three playoff games he had four solo stops and one interception, which came in Super Bowl XXIII against Cincinnati off of Boomer Esiason, as the 49ers went on to defeat the Bengals 20-16. Romanowski was a third-round pick (80th overall) by the 49ers out of Boston College.

COLLEGE: Romanowski was among the finalists for the Butkus Award as a senior in 1987 at Boston College, given annually to the top linebacker in the nation, as he led the Golden Eagles with 156 tackles.

He was the Defensive MVP of the 1985 Cotton Bowl against Houston with 13 tackles, as he and QB Doug Flutie helped lead the Eagles to a 45-28 victory and a final ranking of No. 4 in the national polls. He had at least seven tackles in every game of the 1986 season as a junior, and intercepted four passes for 44 yards. He also registered a team-high 150 tackles as a sophomore in 1985. Romanowski majored in general management at Boston College.

PERSONAL: Romanowski resides in San Martin, Calif., during the offseason with his wife Julie, and son Dalton James (3/15/94). "Romo" was born April 2, 1966 in Vernon, Conn. In addition to playing football, he lettered twice in basketball and was a standout on the baseball squad at Vernon Rockville High. He was the No. 2-rated linebacker in the state as a senior. In 1994 he donated $100 for each of his 96 tackles to The Caring Foundation of the Blue Cross and Blue Shield.

Tom Rouen proved himself to be one of the most consistent punters in the NFL in 1995, and he looks to take another step towards the Pro Bowl in 1996. 1995: Rouen averaged 42.2 yards on 52 punts, with a net of 37.6. He placed 22 punts inside the opponent's 20-yard line with just three touchbacks, fewest in the NFL. His 42.2-yard average ranked eighth in the AFC (tied for 15th NFL), while his net average of 37.6 was third in the AFC (5th NFL). At San Diego (9/24), Rouen punted five times for 199 yards (39.8) and put three inside the 20-yard line with no touchbacks. Two weeks later at New England (10/8), Rouen placed four of his five punts inside the Patriots' 20-yard line, and followed that a week later vs. Oakland (10/16) with three punts for an average of 56.0, and placed two inside the Raiders' 20-yard line. His first punt — kicked from the back of his own end zone — travelled 61 yards, just shy of his career-best of 62 yards. 1994: Rouen enjoyed an outstanding season, leading the entire NFL in net punting average at 37.1 yards. His overall average of 42.9 yards-per-punt tied him for third in the AFC. Rouen had just one punt in the season-opener, but served notice of the type of year he would have by booming a season-best 59-yarder. He matched that effort again later in the year at San Diego (10/23). His best average per punt (excluding the one-punt, 59-yard effort in the opener) came at Buffalo (9/26) when he covered 100 yards with his two punts (52, 48) for a 50.0-yard average. He was busiest in the game at the L.A. Raiders (12/11) with eight punts for 337 yards (42.1 average). For the season Rouen placed 23 of his 76 punts inside the opponents' 20-yard line. 1993: Rouen punted exceptionally well after earning a roster spot in training camp and preseason. He finished second in the AFC and second in the NFL with a 45.0-yard punting average, fourth-best in Bronco history, and a 37.1-yard net average. Rouen's best game came at San Diego where he averaged 50.5 yards on six punts. 1992: Rouen played for the World League of American Football's Ohio Glory, and participated in the training camp of the L.A. Rams. Rouen earned All-World League honors with a 41.5-yard punt average. 1991: Rouen was a free agent in the New York Giants' training camp.

COLLEGE: Rouen finished his collegiate career with a 42.8-yard average, playing for both Colorado (1988-90) and Colorado State (1987). As a junior, Rouen led the nation in punting with a 45.9-yard average, earning him All-America honors.

PERSONAL: Tom is single and makes his offseason home in Aurora, Colo. He attended Heritage High School in Littleton, Colo., playing both football and baseball. Tom is heavily active in the community, frequently speaking at schools and functions in the metro Denver area. Thomas Francis Rouen was born June 9, 1968 in Hinsdale, Ill.

Year with Broncos – 1st

T.J. Rubley comes to the Broncos as a free agent from the Green Bay Packers. The veteran quarterback, who signed with Denver Apr. 3, looks to compete with 1995 backup Bill Musgrave and 1996 fourth-round draft choice Jeff Lewis for the backup position behind John Elway. Rubley has played in 10 career games — including seven starts — and has tossed eight career touchdown passes. 1995: Rubley played in one game with the Green Bay Packers, completing four of six passes for 39 yards with one interception. He also rushed twice for six yards, all against Minnesota on Nov. 5, the day that both the Vikings' Warren Moon and the Broncos' John Elway surpassed the 40,000-yard passing plateau. He signed with the Packers in March 1995, and was released late in the '95 season, just prior to the Packers' Week 16 game at Carolina. 1994: Rubley was with the Los Angeles Rams, but missed the entire season while on the injured reserve list with an elbow injury. 1993: Rubley played in nine games and made seven starts for the Rams, completing 108 of 189 passes (57.1%) for 1,338 yards, eight touchdowns and six interceptions. He made his pro debut vs. Detroit Oct 24, completing 12 of 17 passes for 151 yards and two touchdowns. Both touchdowns were reeled in by Ernie Jones (4 and 21 yards). Rubley received his first career start the following week at San Francisco (10/31). On Nov. 21, he relieved Jim Everett in the third quarter and rallied the Rams to a 10-6 victory by completing five of six passes for 112 yards and one touchdown. He established his career highs against the Browns Dec. 26, completing 24 of 32 passes for 294 yards, one touchdown and two interceptions. He finished the season with a quarterback rating of 80.1. 1992: Rubley spent the season as the inactive third quarterback for the Rams. He was a ninth-round pick (228th overall) by the Rams in 1992.

COLLEGE: Rubley attended the University of Tulsa, where he holds Golden Hurricanes records for pass attempts (1,336), completions (682), yards (9,324) and touchdowns (73). He completed 56.9 percent of his passes in 1991 (148 of 260) for 2,054 yards and 18 touchdowns. Rubley missd the last eight games of the 1990 season with a knee injury. He guided the team to its first bowl appearance since 1976 by completing 155 of 308 passes (50.3%) for 2,292 yards and 22 touchdowns in 1989. Rubley threw for 380 yards in a game that season. His 12 touchdowns as a freshman were the most by a Golden Hurricane freshman QB since present coach Dave Rader threw for 14 in 1978.

PERSONAL: Rubley was an honorable mention All-America and first-team all-state pick for Davenport West High School in Davenport, Iowa, where he completed 253 of 490 passes (51.6%) for 4,009 yards and 38 touchdowns in three seasons. He is the youngest of seven sons and the last in a line of four Rubley brothers who quarterbacked the team over an 18-year span. He was born Theron Joseph Rubley in Davenport, Iowa, on Nov. 29, 1968. He and his wife Julie reside in Littleton, Colo.

Steve Russ, a 1996 seventh-round draft choice by the Broncos (218th overall) from the United States Air Force Academy, continues to prepare for his NFL career while fulfilling his Air Force commitments. Russ will compete in his second training camp in '96, and has attended several mini-camps since becoming a member of the Broncos in April '95, but is currently stationed full-time in Dayton, Ohio. His size, intelligence and athletic ability, however, have Broncos coaches willing to wait for his services. 1995: Russ participated in the first three weeks of training camp, and played in the first two preseason games — including the American Bowl game in Tokyo — but spent the season on the reserve/military list while fulfilling his Air Force commitments.

COLLEGE: Russ finished his football career at the Air Force Academy with 201 tackles (105 solo) in 36 games, 22 of which were starts. As a senior in 1994, Russ started all 12 games at inside linebacker and earned third-team All-America honors from The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft. He was also a second-team All-Western Athletic Conference pick. He led the team with 113 tackles (59 solo), two sacks, five tackles for loss (-13), one interception and four passes defensed. His interception came against Colorado State, and was returned 21 yards. He had a career-high 17 tackles (10 solo) in a 10-6 Falcons win over Army, and added nine stops, an eight-yard sack and a three-yard loss vs. Notre Dame. Russ played in all 12 games and made 10 starts at inside linebacker as a junior, after seeing action in 11 as a sophomore and just one as a freshman. He received his bachelor of science degree in management in May 1995.

PERSONAL: Russ was an all-conference selection as a defensive end and tight end at Medford HS in Stetsonville, Wisc. He was all-district, all-state and conference Defensive Player of the Year as a senior. Russ was also a three-time all-conference and two-time all-district performer in basketball, earning all-state and Conference Player of the Year honors in the latter as a senior, averaging 24.5 points per game as a forward. He lettered all four years in track and won the state title in the 300-meter dash. He also set school records in the 100, 200, and 300-meter dashes, the 110-meter high hurdles and the triple jump. Russ was born Sept. 16, 1972 in Stetsonville, Wisc.

FIRST, BUT NEVER FIRST

The Broncos are one of only five current NFL teams to have never picked first in the NFL or AFL Draft. The other four teams are the San Diego Chargers, Seattle Seahawks, and of course the Carolina Panthers and Jacksonville Jaguars.

69 Mark Schlereth • Guard

Birthdate – January 25, 1966
Birthplace – Anchorage, Ak.
Residence – Denver, Colo.
How Acquired – Unrestricted FA, 1995
College – Idaho
High School – Robert Service HS, Anchorage, Ak.
Height – 6-3
Weight – 278
Pro Year – 8th
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Mark Schlereth came to the Broncos in 1995 from the Washington Redskins as an unrestricted free agent and helped solidify the offensive line, as the Broncos produced the finest offensive season in team history. The seven-year NFL veteran has made his mark as one of four Alaskan players in the league, and has proven to be one of the toughest and most resilient, overcoming several serious setbacks. During his seven-year career, Schlereth has played in 91 regular season games and seven postseason games, including a 37-24 victory over the Buffalo Bills in Super Bowl XXVI (1/26/92). He also was named to the 1991 NFC Pro Bowl squad, helping lead the Redskins to the World Championship. At one point in his career, he started 43 consecutive games. 1995: Schlereth started all 16 games at left guard, helping the Broncos' offense improve from 10th in the NFL in 1994 to 3rd in 1995 (1st in AFC). Schlereth suffered a slight impingement in his knee at Kansas City (12/17), and underwent an MRI (12/18) that proved negative. Schlereth was a big part of a Broncos offensive line that paved the way for a 240-yard rushing day against Seattle (12/10), the most by a Denver team since Dec. 8, 1974, when the Broncos racked up 243 yards against Houston. Displaying his toughness, Schlereth started at left guard vs. Oakland (10/16) and played the entire first half, despite having undergone surgery to remove a kidney stone less than 24 hours before the game. He sat out the second half after the Broncos had built a 14-0 halftime lead. 1994: Schlereth played in all 16 games – including five starts at right guard – and participated in 607 of a possible 1,016 snaps (60%). He played in every game despite having to recover from various physical problems that hampered his success in 1992 and '93. He played all of the season opener vs. Seattle (9/4) and a Week 15 (12/18) matchup vs. Tampa Bay. He also started the season finale at the Rams (12/24). 1993: Schlereth played in nine games, starting eight. In week one, he and his offensive linemates helped Brian Mitchell to a 116-yard rushing performance vs. Dallas (9/6). They sealed the 35-16 victory over the defending world champions with a 99-yard drive late in the third quarter. He had started 43 consecutive games until he injured his left knee before a week three matchup at Philadelphia (9/19). He came back the following week and started every game until week nine at the Giants, when he was diagnosed with Guillain-Barre syndrome, a neurological condition that involves the destruction of the outside covering around nerves or the extensions of the nerve cells that carry signals. It strikes one out of every 100,000 people. Guillain-Barre syndrome short-circuits the route between the impulses sent from the brain and the body's muscles and produces weakness in the body's extremities, and can be life-threatening. The syndrome tends to move up the body, from the feet to the legs to the thighs to the hands. It forced Mark to be placed on injured reserve for the rest of the season. 1992: Despite playing in constant pain on a left knee sprain and a right elbow sprain that required surgery on the same day following the season, Mark was the only Redskin offensive linemen to start every game at the same position, including both playoff games. 1991: Schlereth enjoyed the finest season of his career, starting all 16 games and being selected to the Pro Bowl for the first time in his career. He also started all three playoff games, as the Redskins went on to win Super Bowl XXVI over Buffalo 37-24. He also earned three Redskin offensive player of the week honors (11/3 vs. Hou; 11/17 at Pitt.; 12/15 vs. Giants). He was one of the reasons the Redskins allowed a league-low nine sacks (team record) and had the league's seventh-best rushing attack (128.1 yards per game). The Redskins offensive line also helped to produce a 1,000-yard rusher that season in Earnest Byner, who finished the season with 1,048 yards on 274 carries (3.8 avg.) and five touchdowns. 1990: Schlereth played in 12 games, starting seven, and also started both playoff games. He started the first four games of the season, then suffered a sprained ankle at Detroit (11/4) that sidelined him for four weeks. He returned to the starting lineup in a 25-10 victory at New England (12/15). Schlereth started at Philadelphia in an NFC Wild Card Game (1/5) and at San Francisco in an NFC Divisional Playoff Game (1/12). 1989: Mark started all six games in which he played during his rookie campaign. He got his first career start at right guard in a 10-3 victory at Philadelphia (11/12). He had to move into the starting lineup due to various injuries to the starters.

COLLEGE: Mark played nose tackle, defensive tackle, and center before settling into the guard spot his junior season at Idaho. Despite being hampered by knee and elbow injuries, Mark came back his senior season to help the Vandals to the I-AA semifinals and a school record 11 victories (11-2).

PERSONAL: Mark attended Robert Service High School, Anchorage, Ak., where he won the state heavyweight wrestling title despite being the lightest competitor at 210 pounds. He was one of the most active players in community and charity appearances as a member of the Redskins. Schlereth has talked to many children about his battle with dyslexia, and was named the Professional Athlete of the Year in the state of Idaho in 1991, edging out college teammate and current Seahawks quarterback John Friesz. Mark and his wife Lisa have three children: daughters Alex and Avery, and son Daniel. Mark and his wife are also involved in Ronald McDonald House, and he is a past honorary co-chairman of Camp Dynamite, working with disadvantaged children in Southeast Washington, D.C. The one-week camp in Lancaster, Pa., exposes children to sports, singing, arts and crafts and other activities not available in Southeast Washington. Schlereth is also the first native born Alaskan to play in the NFL. His teammates refer to him by a nickname given to him by his former Redskin teammates, Stinky, after stinkheads, an Eskimo delicacy made from rotting fish heads.

74 Bill Schultz • Tackle

Birthdate – May 1, 1967
Birthplace – Granada Hills, Calif.
Residence – Fishers, Ind.
How Acquired – Unrestricted FA, 1995
College – Southern California
High School – John F. Kennedy HS, Granada Hills, Calif.
Height – 6-5
Weight – 305
Pro Year – 7th
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Bill Schultz enters his second year with the Broncos after signing with the club as a free agent from Houston in 1995. He helped to provide valuable, veteran depth to the Broncos' offensive line in his first season. Schultz played for Indianapolis from 1990-93, was signed by the Rams 7/8/94, was waived by the Rams 8/28/94, and then signed by the Oilers 9/4/94. 1995: Schultz was with the Broncos for 13 games in two stints in 1995, and was active for three of the 13 games he was on the roster. Originally signed by the club March 23, 1995, Schultz spent the first five weeks of the season on the roster, but was inactive for all five games. He was waived Oct. 3 and re-signed Oct. 30, then was active for three of the eight games after his return. Schultz's first game as an active player came Dec. 3 against Jacksonville, and his first playing time as a Bronco came the following week against Seattle (12/10). 1994: Schultz agreed to terms with the Oilers after the first regular season game at the Colts (9/4). He did not play in any games as a reserve guard, but did dress for games 5, 7 and 13-15. Schultz was placed on the inactive list for the other 10 games. 1993: Schultz started the first 12 games of the season for Indianapolis at right guard before being sidelined with an ankle injury. He missed the next two games but returned to action at the Patriots (12/26) to start the final two games. 1992: Schultz was a reserve guard and participated on special teams. He played in 10 games and started two. He was placed on injured reserve (11/13) with an ankle injury and missed games 10-13, but returned to the active roster on Dec. 12. He saw action on special teams at the N.Y. Jets (12/13) and started at right guard in place of the injured Ron Solt against the Cardinals (12/20) and at the Bengals (12/27). Schultz caught a three-yard touchdown pass from QB Jeff George on a tackle-eligible play versus the Chargers (10/18). 1991: Schultz saw action in 10 games after starting the season on injured reserve with a knee injury. He started two games at left guard and seven at right guard, and missed the final two games after being placed on injured reserve (12/13) due to a virus. 1990: Schultz saw limited special teams duty while seeing action in 12 games. He was drafted by the Colts with the second selection in the fourth round (94th overall) in 1990.

COLLEGE: Schultz started 10 games and the Rose Bowl at left tackle as a senior at Southern California. He earned the starting job at that position as a junior but was sidelined for the season due to injury. He redshirted in 1987 after transferring from Glendale (Calif.) Junior College where he spent his freshman and sophomore seasons. Schultz majored in public administration at USC.

PERSONAL: A native of Granada Hills, Calif., Schultz was all-state as a two-way tackle during his senior year at Kennedy High School. He was honorable mention All-CIF on offense as a junior, and also lettered in track and field with a shot put best of 54'-8". Bill and his wife, Deborah, make their offseason home in Fishers, Ind. William Schultz was born May 1, 1967 in Granada Hills, Calif.

Kevin Scott enters his fourth NFL season, looking to help solidify the Broncos' secondary. He has played in 44 career games, including 11 starts, as well as three playoff games, with one start. Scott has 105 career tackles (77 solo) and four interceptions. 1995: Scott was out of professional football. 1994: Scott was released during training camp by the Detroit Lions. 1993: Scott played in 12 games for Detroit (10 starts), and recorded 44 tackles (31 solo), one fumble recovery and two passes defensed. He began the season as the starting right corner, opposite current Broncos teammate Ray Crockett, but injured his ankle during the bye week and missed four games. He returned to his starting spot against Chicago (11/25), and started the last six games. Scott started the playoff game against Green Bay and made three tackles. 1992: Scott played in all 16 games (one start) and made 47 tackles (36 solo), four interceptions for 35 return yards and six passes defensed. He also returned three kickoffs for five yards. Scott recorded his first NFL interception (9-yard return) vs. Minnesota (9/13), and set a single-game career high with two interceptions vs. Tampa Bay (9/27). He made his first pro start vs. New Orleans (10/4) in place of Crockett at left cornerback, and recorded his career high in tackles (7) vs. Houston (11/26/92). 1991: Scott played in all 16 games, recording 14 tackles (10 solo) and one pass defensed. He also returned one kickoff for 16 yards. He played in both playoff games, against Dallas and at Washington. Scott was a fourth-round pick (91st overall) by the Lions in 1991.

COLLEGE: Scott was an honorable mention All-American and first team All-Pac-10 selection at Stanford. He recorded 53 tackles (34 solo) and intercepted three passes (19 return yards) as a senior in 1991. In '89 he was the co-winner of the team's Iron Man award for playing every down during the season, and was also named the team's Most Outstanding Junior. He majored in sociology/economics at Stanford where he was a member of the student senate.

PERSONAL: Scott rushed for 1,100 yards and 19 touchdowns as a tailback at St. Mary's High School in Phoenix, Ariz. Kevin Tommoese Scott was born May 19, 1969 in Phoenix, and makes his home in Scottsdale.

the three-time conference Offensive Player of the Year. Sharpe closed out his college play with 192 receptions for 3,744 yards, a 19.5 average, and 40 touchdowns. He ended his career with appearances in the East-West Shrine and Blue-Gray all-star games. He set school records for most consecutive games with a reception (39), with a touchdown (14), and for most games with over 100 yards receiving (17). As a senior Sharpe caught 61 passes for 1,312 yards and 18 TDs, and had three games with more than 200 yards receiving and one game with four touchdown catches. Sharpe was a criminal justice major.

PERSONAL: Shannon is single and makes his home in Atlanta, Ga. He hails from Glennville, Ga., where was all-county, all-region and all-area in football at Glennville High School. In addition to four letters in football, Sharpe lettered three times in basketball and four times in track, setting a Georgia state Class A record in the triple jump (48-3) as a junior, and breaking that mark as a senior (49-5). He won the regional triple jump title three straight years and the regional discus throwing title twice. Shannon was also a two-time all-area selection in basketball, and he scored over 1,000 points in three seasons, and averaged 30 points and 15 rebounds as a senior. He once scored 52 points in a game and once grabbed 27 rebounds in a game. His brother Sterling was an All-American at South Carolina and earned All-Pro status in five of his first seven NFL seasons with the Green Bay Packers. Shannon has several cousins who played college football, and he lists his hobbies as fishing, basketball, weight lifting, and his two Rottweilers, Kane and Killian.

82 MIKE SHERRARD • Wide Receiver

Birthdate – June 21, 1963
Birthplace – Oakland, Calif.
Residence – Manhattan Beach, Calif.
How Acquired – Unrestricted FA, 1996
College – UCLA
High School – Chico HS
Chico, Calif.
Height – 6-1
Weight – 185
Pro Year – 11th
Year with Broncos – 1st

Mike Sherrard comes to the Broncos as an unrestricted free agent from the New York Giants, and figures to be a major contributor to the Broncos offense, as he vies for a starting position at wide receiver. Sherrard is viewed by his peers as the consummate professional, who has overcome adversity several times in his career. Sherrard has endured various injuries — including a broken leg and a dislocated hip — to continue to perform at a high level. He has played in 90 career games, including 46 starts, and has hauled in 241 passes for 3,746 yards (15.5) and 21 touchdowns. He has also played in six playoff games, with nine receptions for 73 yards (8.1) and one touchdown. Sherrard signed with the Broncos May 23, 1996. 1995: Sherrard played in 13 games with the New York Giants, starting all 13, and caught 44 passes for 577 yards (13.1) and four touchdowns. After missing most of the preseason with a hamstring injury, Sherrard started the opening game of the season against Dallas, and reeled in four passes for 32 yards. He did, however, suffer a rib injury in that game, which put him on the inactive list the following week at Kansas City. He returned a week later at Green Bay and caught seven passes for 74 yards. The seven receptions tied a career-high for Sherrard, who had seven catches against the Rams on Sept. 9, 1990. Sherrard recorded his seventh career 100-yard receiving game at Seattle (Nov. 5), catching six passes for 128 yards. That yardage total is the second best in his career. He missed the Philadelphia game (11/19) and the Chicago game (11/26) with a ruptured blood vessel above his right knee, but returned to the starting lineup Nov. 30 at Arizona. 1994: Sherrard had the best season of his career as he played in all 16 games with 14 starts. He finished the season with 53 receptions for 825 yards and six touchdowns — all career single-season highs. He had the second two-touchdown game of his career at New Orleans (10/2). He had two 100-yard games that season, with six receptions for 109 yards at Houston (11/21) and five catches for 101 yards at Cleveland (12/4). 1993: Sherrard was off to a super start to the '93 season with 24 receptions for 433 yards and two scores through the first six games before a partially dislocated hip and a fractured hip socket suffered against Philadelphia (10/17) forced him to miss the rest of the season. He injured his hip on a 51-yard catch-and-run in the Eagles game. Sherrard signed with New York as an unrestricted free agent April 7. 1992: Sherrard played in all 16 games and started eight for the San Francisco 49ers. He caught 38 passes for 607 yards, including a six-catch, 159-yard performance against Buffalo (9/13). The 159 yards were a career high. At Phoenix (11/1), he ran 39 yards for a score after stripping a Cardinals' linebacker of the ball after 49ers tight end Brent Jones had fumbled. Sherrard played in both 49er playoff games and caught a 15-yard pass in the NFC Championship Game loss to Dallas 30-20 (1/17). 1991: Sherrard played in all 16 games for the first time since 1986. He finished with 24 receptions for 296 yards and two touchdowns. Sherrard scored on a 22-yard pass vs. Detroit (10/20) and a 15-yard reception vs. Chicago (12/23). 1990: Sherrard played in seven games, including two starts. For the season he caught 17 passes for 264 yards and two touchdowns. His first regular season touchdown catch since 1986 came at Atlanta (10/14) on a 43-yard pass from Joe Montana. Sherrard suffered a broken fibula vs. Cleveland (10/28) while making a key 35-yard reception on third down to keep the final drive going. He was placed on injured reserve Oct. 29, and re-activated Jan. 11, 1991. The next day he caught three passes for 16 yards — including an eight-yard touchdown from Joe Montana — against Washington in an NFC Divisional Playoff Game (1/12/91). 1989: Sherrard signed with San Francisco as a Plan B free agent from Dallas March 30. He was placed on the Physically Unable to Perform list July 20 due to a leg injury. He was activated Jan. 5, 1990 and appeared in all three postseason games — including Super Bowl XXIV vs. Denver in which he caught a 13-yard. 1988: Sherrard was with the Dallas Cowboys, but missed the entire season after re-fracturing his right leg while jogging on the beach in March 1988. 1987: Sherrard suffered a compound fracture of both bones in his right leg during training camp and did not play the entire season. 1986: Sherrard played in all 16 games, including four starts, and led Dallas with five touchdown receptions. His 41 catches were the most by a Dallas rookie since Bob Hayes reeled in 12 in 1965. Sherrard was a first round pick (18th overall) by Dallas in 1986.

COLLEGE: Sherrard walked on at UCLA as a wide receiver, and by the time his career was done, he had established school records for receptions (124) and receiving yards (1,937) and a single-season record with 48 catches in 1983. He played in the Hula Bowl All-Star Game after his senior season in which the Bruins defeated Iowa 45-28 in the Rose Bowl.

PERSONAL: Sherrard lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track at Chico High School in Chico, Calif. His mother, Cherie, ran the 80-yard hurdles in the 1964 Summer Olympics. Sherrard's cousin is Washington Redskin cornerback Darrell Green. Sherrard spent time this past off-season in Europe handling assignments for FOX-TV's World League of American Football telecasts. Michael Watson Sherrard was born June 21, 1963, in Oakland, Calif. He makes his home in Manhattan Beach, Calif.

Pete Shufelt comes to the Broncos as a free agent and will look to help strengthen the linebacking corps. He signed with Denver March 28, 1996. 1995: Shufelt was out of pro football. 1994: Shufelt played in five games for the Giants — mostly on special teams — after spending the first 11 games on the team's developmental squad. He recorded his only career tackle when he assisted Michael Brooks in bringing down Cowboys' running back Blair Thomas early in the fourth quarter of a 15-10 Giants win. Shufelt was signed to New York's active roster from the practice squad Nov. 25. Originally signed by the Chiefs as a free agent Feb. 8, Shufelt was waived Aug. 23 and signed to the Giants practice squad the next day. 1993: Shufelt signed with New Orleans as an undrafted free agent May 7, was waived August 24, and then signed with San Francisco Sept. 1. He was waived by the 49ers Sept. 21, then was signed to Kansas City's practice squad Dec. 29.

COLLEGE: Shufelt was a four-year letterman and three-year starter at Texas-El Paso. He logged 386 career tackles, sixth-most all-time at UTEP. He made 82 tackles (13 for loss) as a senior, a career-high 122 as as junior, 114 as a sophomore and 67 as a freshman.

PERSONAL: Shufelt was a standout linebacker at Canyon Del Oro High School in Tucson, Ariz. His father Robert is a Western artist. Pete likes to ride motorcycles in the offseason. He was born Peter Julian Shufelt Oct. 28, 1969. He is single and makes his home in Hillsboro, N.M.

MAKING HISTORY

The Broncos were the first AFL team ever to defeat an NFL team when they beat the Detroit Lions 13-7 on August 5, 1967, in a preseason game at the University of Denver Stadium.

80 ROD SMITH • Wide Receiver

Birthdate – May 15, 1970
Birthplace – Texarkana, Texas
Residence – Aurora, Colo.
How Acquired – Free Agent, 1994
College – Missouri Southern High School – Texarkana HS
Texarkana, Ark.
Height – 6-0
Weight – 190
Pro Year – 2nd
Year with Broncos – 2nd

Rod Smith showed great improvement during the 1995 season and is expected to be an integral part of the Broncos' offense in 1996. Smith's work ethic and determination have helped him to improve dramatically since entering the league as a rookie free agent in 1994. 1995: Smith was used in all 16 games both at wide receiver and on special teams, where he recorded six tackles and forced a fumble. On the season he had six catches for 152 yards (25.3) with a long of 43, and returned four kickoffs for 54 yards (13.5) with a long of 17. Smith's spectacular game-ending 43-yard touchdown reception from John Elway in Week Three gave the Broncos a 38-31 win over Washington, and was the first of his NFL career. Smith out-jumped and out-dueled Redskins Pro Bowler Darrell Green for the ball before landing just inside the end zone as time expired. He recorded his first career kickoff return, for 16 yards, at New England (10/8), and forced a fumble on special teams coverage vs. San Diego (11/19). Smith had his best all-around performance in the season-finale at Oakland (12/24), starting at wide receiver as the Broncos opened in a four-wide receiver set. He caught two passes for 56 yards, including a 26-yarder in the fourth quarter on a third-and-10 play, helping the Broncos continue their game-tying drive, en route to a 31-28 come-from-behind victory. 1994: Smith spent the season as a member of the Broncos practice squad, showing steady improvement each week.

COLLEGE: Smith enjoyed a stellar career at Missouri Southern, finishing with league records in career receiving yards (3,043) and touchdowns (34). He also broke the school's reception record (153), and was named first-team All-America by AP, Kodak, Football Gazette, and NCAA Div. II sports information directors after his senior year. In his final season, Smith caught 63 passes for 986 yards and 13 touchdowns, and was a finalist for the Harlon Hill Award, given annually to the top football player at the Division II level. He was named Missouri Southern's Outstanding Graduate in 1994, after completing his collegiate studies with degrees in economics and finance, general business, as well as marketing and management.

PERSONAL: Smith was all-league, all-area, all-state and an Arkansas all-state game choice as a senior at Arkansas High School in Texarkana, Ark. He lettered twice in football and basketball and once in baseball. Smith was born May 15, 1970 in Texarkana, Ark. He is single and makes his home in Aurora, Colo.

Ralph Tamm enters his second season in Denver after joining the Broncos from the San Francisco 49ers as an unrestricted free agent in 1995. The versatile veteran — who can play any position on the offensive line — was a valuable addition for the Broncos a year ago, helping an offensive line that reduced the number of sacks allowed from 55 in 1994 to 26 in '95. Tamm is an outstanding athlete who blocks well in both the running and passing games, and can also serve as a long snapper on kick placements and punts. Tamm has played in 74 regular season games, including 31 starts, and three postseason games, including two starts. 1995: Tamm played in 13 of the Broncos' 16 games, making his first start for the club at center at San Diego (9/24). He replaced Tom Nalen who was out with cartilage damage in his left knee. Tamm was active but did not play vs. Buffalo (9/3), at Dallas (9/10) and at Houston (11/26). 1994: Tamm played in one games with San Francisco, starting on opening night at right guard vs. the Raiders (9/5) before injuring his left arch/foot in the first quarter. He was inactive for the rest of the regular season, but returned to the active roster in time for the postseason and played in all three 49ers playoff games, including Super Bowl XXIX. Tamm played right guard in the first two playoff games and the second and fourth quarters of the Super Bowl against San Diego. He also performed all long-snapping duties on field goals, point-after attempts and punts in the Super Bowl. He later failed his physical (5/5) and was released by the 49ers, then was signed by the Broncos June 7, 1995. 1993: Tamm started all 16 games at right guard, including playing all the way in 13 of those games under offensive coordinator Mike Shanahan. He also started both of San Francisco's postseason games as the 49ers advanced to within one game of the Super Bowl. Tamm took over the starting position early in the preseason when incumbent Roy Foster was sidelined with a knee injury. He scored his first NFL touchdown after recovering a Ricky Watters fumble in the end zone at Tampa Bay (11/14). 1992: Tamm played in 14 games for the 49ers with one start. He also played in the NFC Championship Game vs. Dallas (1/17/93), snapping on PATs and field goals. He played at center and left guard during the second half vs. Atlanta (10/18), when the 49ers set a team record for most points in a game with 56, including 42 in the first half, also a team record. He started at right tackle in place of Harris Barton (left knee) at Minnesota (12/13), but he was replaced by Harry Boatswain after injuring his left knee in the second quarter. He was placed on injured reserve on 12/15 due to that injury, but was activated on 1/16/93 for the NFC Championship Game. He signed with the 49ers as a Plan B free agent from Cincinnati. 1991: Tamm began the season with Cleveland, appearing in one game before being released (9/5). He signed with Washington (9/11) where he was a teammate of current Bronco Mark Schlereth on a squad that would go on to win the Super Bowl. Tamm played in 10 contests for the Redskins before being waived in November after Week 11. He was claimed by Cincinnati (12/9) before clearing waivers, and finished the season with the Bengals, playing in three games (12/9). 1990: Tamm signed with Cleveland as a Plan B free agent from Washington on 3/21. He played in all 16 games and started the final 12 at guard for the Browns, and handled snaps on field goals, extra points, and punts. He made his first NFL start at Denver (10/9) as a left guard. 1989: Tamm signed with Washington as a Plan B free agent from the Jets. He was inactive for the first two games and spent the final 14 weeks on injured reserve with an injured shoulder. 1988: Tamm spent his entire rookie season on injured reserve with a pulled hamstring and a broken hand (8/29-entire season). He was originally a ninth round pick (230th overall) by the New York Jets.

COLLEGE: Tamm earned Kodak All-America and all-conference honors at West Chester College. He started at guard his junior and senior seasons. He was also an All-American and school record-holder in the shot put (58' 9") and discus (174' 4") at West Chester. He majored in physical education.

PERSONAL: Tamm was born and raised in Philadelphia, Pa. He attended Bensalem (Pa.) HS and participated in football and track & field. He has also done work with various childrens charities. His full name is Ralph Earl Tamm. He is single.

Broderick Thompson comes into his second season in Denver after joining the Broncos as an unrestricted free agent from the Philadelphia Eagles in 1995. He immediately brought valuable veteran experience and stability to the Broncos' offensive line, as that unit reduced the number of sacks allowed from 55 in 1994 to 26 in '95. Thompson has played in 141 career games and made 120 starts, including starts in the last 116 games in which he has played. His NFL career was preceded by two years (1983-84) in the USFL. 1995: Thompson started all 16 games at right tackle in his first season with the Broncos, after signing as a free agent March 9. He and the rest of the offensive line gave up only 26 sacks, sixth-fewest in the NFL and fourth-fewest in the AFC. Thompson suffered a mild knee sprain in the Philadelphia game (11/12), but was able to return to action the next Sunday against San Diego (11/19). 1994: Thompson started the first 14 games of the year at right tackle. He was replaced in the starting lineup by Tom McHale for the final two games (vs. N.Y. Giants, did not play; at Cincinnati, inactive). 1993: Thompson started the first 10 games of the season at left tackle and helped the Eagles to a 4-0 start. He had no previous experience at left tackle, but was enjoying one of the finest seasons of his career until suffering a left calf strain on the first play from scrimmage vs. the Giants (11/21) that sidelined him for the last six games of the season. He had been traded to the Eagles from San Diego on draft day 1993 (4/27). 1992: Thompson played in 12 games for San Diego, starting all 12 at right guard. He also started both playoff contests that season. Thompson missed games 2-5 due to a shoulder injury suffered against Kansas City (9/6).

snapping his string of consecutive starts and consecutive games at 68 and 71, respectively. He was placed on injured reserve from Sept. 14-Oct. 17. The Chargers won their first AFC Western Division crown in 11 years and advanced to the AFC divisional playoffs. 1991: Thompson started all 16 games for the fourth consecutive season. He made his 50th consecutive start in a Charger uniform at San Francisco (9/8), and recovered one fumble for the season. 1990: Thompson started all 16 games at his natural position of right tackle. He was selected by his teammates as their offensive captain for the season. In 1990 and '91, Thompson's offensive line coach at San Diego was his current offensive line coach with the Broncos, Alex Gibbs. 1989: Thompson started all 16 games at left guard. 1988: Thompson started all 16 games at left guard, developing into one of the Chargers' top offensive linemen. 1987: Thompson played in nine games, starting four. He alternated between right tackle and right guard, starting three times at RT and once at RG. During that season, the Chargers went 8-7, their first winning season in four years. Thompson had been acquired by San Diego on 4/13. 1986: Thompson played in five games with the Dallas Cowboys before being released. 1985: Thompson played in 11 games for the Dallas Cowboys, starting one.He also played in all 18 games of the Portland Breakers season in the USFL, meaning that Thompson actually played in 29 professional games that calendar year. He was not on the Cowboys active roster for their two playoff games that season. Thompson had signed with the Breakers on 1/23/85. He was later claimed on waivers by the Memphis Showboats on 8/1 and then released by the Showboats on 8/2. He was then signed by the Cowboys on 8/3. 1984: Thompson played in all 19 games for the Portland Breakers of the USFL, earning All-USFL honors. He had signed with the Los Angeles Rams on 5/4, but was released on 8/21.Thompson was originally a rookie free agent with the Cowboys in 1983, but did not adapt to being a pro offensive lineman after playing the defensive line in college, and was released on 8/2. He then signed with the San Antonio Gunslingers of the USFL (11/12), and was traded by San Antonio to the Chicago Blitz for the rights to former NFL quarterback Bob Gagliano (1/3/84). He was then released by the Blitz on 1/31/84. He signed with the Los Angeles Express on 2/10/84, but was released on 2/13.

COLLEGE: Thompson earned All-Big 8 and honorable mention All-America acclaim as a senior defensive tackle at Kansas. The Jayhawks finished 8-4 in 1961 – their first winning season in five years – and made an appearance in the Hall of Fame Bowl. He played two seasons for the Jayhawks after transferring from Cerritos (Calif.) Junior College, where he first played football and was an all-conference selection. He was a personal administration major at Kansas.

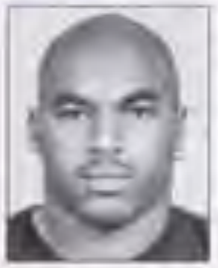

PERSONAL: Thompson attended Gahr HS in Cerritos, Calif., where he was a basketball star, but did not play football. He owns Express Communications, a cellular phone business in San Diego, where he and his wife, Rhonda, reside in the offseason. He is also part-owner of a monthly sports newspaper which operates in four metropolitan areas: San Diego, Phoenix, San Francisco and Orange County, Calif. It covers just about every sport from little league to the major leagues in each particular area. He has one brother, Clarence, and a sister, Necie, who was an All-America basketball player at UCLA.

Aaron Wallace comes to the Broncos as an unrestricted free agent from the Raiders, with whom he spent his previous six years in the National Football League (five years in Los Angeles and one in Oakland). Wallace is a very active player who has excellent speed and quickness and should play a key role in helping the Broncos improve their pass rush in 1996. He has played in 93 career games and recorded 21 sacks and four fumble recoveries. Wallace signed with Denver May 14, 1996. 1995: Wallace played in 13 games with the Raiders with no starts. He recorded seven tackles (six solo) and two sacks for 13 yards lost for a Raiders' defense that had a fine year, finishing eighth in the AFC against the run and sixth against the pass. 1994: Wallace played in all 16 games, starting the first six at his familiar outside linebacker position. He compiled 21 tackles, two sacks for 22 yards lost and two passes defensed. Wallace had four tackles and his first sack of the season vs. Atlanta (10/23). 1993: Wallace started all 16 games, finishing seventh on the defense in tackles with 61. He also recorded two sacks, one forced fumble, two fumble recoveries and four passes defensed. Wallace had nine tackles and one sack Oct. 10 against the New York Jets. 1992: Wallace started all 16 games, finishing fourth on the team in tackles with 73 and fourth in sacks with four. He also had four passes defensed and two fumble recoveries. Wallace had a season-high nine tackles — including two sacks for 18 yards lost — against the eventual Super Bowl Champion Dallas Cowboys (10/25). He recorded eight tackles and a forced fumble against Seattle (11/15). 1991: Wallace played in all 16 games, recording 10 special teams tackles to rank fourth on the team. He made his first career start in an AFC Wild Card Game loss at Kansas City, 10-6 (12/28). 1990: Wallace played in all 16 games, forcing a team-high three fumbles and recording nine sacks to lead all AFC rookie pass rushers. In fact, he finished tied for first in the entire NFL among rookies in that category. Wallace was named to the All-Rookie team in 1990, and also played in both of the Raiders postseason games. He was the Raiders' second round pick (37th overall) in the 1990 draft.

COLLEGE: Wallace was a four-year letterman at outside linebacker for Texas A&M. He was an All-America pick by The Sporting News in 1988, and earned the same honor from The Football News — in addition to all-conference honors — as a junior and senior. He set school records for most sacks with 42 and was nominated for the Butkus Award, given to the premier linebacker in the nation. He was also a semifinalist for the Lombardi Award, presented to college football's top lineman. As a senior, Wallace recorded 69 tackles with a team-high 10.5 sacks, including a 14-tackle, three-sack performance in a victory over arch-rival Texas. He was third on the team in tackles as a junior with 85, including 14.5 sacks. He had a season-high 11 tackles, plus one fumble recovery and an eight-yard sack against Nebraska in the Kickoff Classic. Wallace caused a team-high six fumbles as a sophomore with 73 tackles and 12 sacks. He was credited with 11 tackles, a sack and a pass deflection in a Cotton Bowl victory over Notre Dame. He had five sacks as a redshirt freshman. During his college career, Wallace participated in the Cotton, Sun, Hula and Senior Bowls. He was an agricultural systems management major at Texas A&M.

PERSONAL: Wallace attended Roosevelt High School in Dallas, Texas, where he was a four-year letterman in football as a linebacker. He was th District Defensive Player of the Year as a senior. Wallace recorded 35 sacks and intercepted five passes as both a junior and senior. He also lettered three times in basketball. Wallace was born April 17, 1967 in Paris, Texas, and currently resides in Dallas during the offseason.

Lionel Washington comes into his second season in Denver after a terrific 1995 campaign in which he started every game at right cornerback. He was signed by the Broncos March 6, 1995 as an unrestricted free agent from the Raiders, with whom he played eight seasons. Washington's enthusiasm, experience and professionalism make him a team favorite, helping to enhance a career that now enters its 14th year. He has played in 162 regular season games (123 starts), tied for third-most among active defensive backs. He also has 33 career interceptions. 1995: Washington started all 16 games at right cornerback, and made 62 tackles (46 solo) with nine passes defensed, one forced fumble and one fumble recovery. He was selected as the winner of the Broncos' Bob Martin Award, given annually to the player who is most cooperative with the media, and is named for the Broncos' long-time play-by-play announcer who called 499 of the club's games from 1964-89. Washington had a solid game against Oakland (10/16) on Monday Night Football: hin his first meeting with his old club, registering five solo tackles and one pass defensed, and recovering a fumble with a 38-yard return. On Nov. 5 vs. Arizona, Washington registered four tackles (3 solo) with one pass defensed and one forced fumble. He suffered a slight injury to his shoulder in the second quarter, and had to leave the game on two occasions, but did return. On Dec. 17 at Kansas City, he made one solo tackle before leaving the game with 10 minutes remaining in the second quarter with a head and neck injury. He was inadvertently struck by teammate Steve Atwater as the two were tackling Chief WR Webster Slaughter. Washington left

Tests were negative — though he did suffer a serious concussion — and he returned to Denver on the team charter, wearing a neck brace. He returned to the starting lineup the following weekend for the season finale at Oakland (12/24) and made three solo tackles and broke up one pass as Denver defeted his former team for the second time in the 1995 season, 31-28. 1994: Washington participated in 11 games and started seven for the Los Angeles Raiders and placed second on the team with three interceptions, adding to his total of 33 in his pro career and 17 as a member of the Raiders. Two interceptions came against Atlanta (10/23). He returned an interception 31 yards for a touchdown against San Diego (9/25) and also recorded six tackles and one pass defensed in the game. 1993: Washington was the Raiders' starter at right cornerback in all 16 games. He recorded an interception in the season opener against Minnesota (9/5) and another against San Diego (10/31). 1992: Washington started for the Raiders at cornerback in all 16 games and placed third on the team in interceptions with two. He was second on the squad in passes defensed with 13 and eighth tackles with 63. He had four passes defensed at Philadelphia and eight tackles, one pass defensed versus Dallas. 1991: Washington started all 16 regular season games plus the Wild Card contest for the Raiders. He intercepted five passes to tie for fourth in the AFC, led the Raiders in passes defensed with 21 and ranked among the team leaders in tackles with 51. 1990: Washington started 15 regular season games and both postseason games for the Raiders, finishing among the top tacklers with 62. He was second on the team in passes defensed with 10 and recorded one interception against Green Bay. 1989: Washington started all 16 regular season games for the Raiders at cornerback, leading the team in passes defensed with 20 and tying for second in interceptions with three. He scored two touchdowns on the season, one on a 32-yard interception return against Denver and the other on a 37-yard fumble return versus Seattle. He tied for sixth among Raider defenders in tackles with 67. 1988: Washington was nagged by injuries, but still played in 12 regular season games. He played mostly in nickel back situations and on special teams. 1987: Washington was obtained by the Raiders in a spring,1987 trade from the St. Louis Cardinals for a fifth-round draft pick (punter John Bruno). He played in 11 games for the Raiders in '87, starting 10 at left corner. He tied for the team lead with 11 passes defensed and was in on 37 tackles with a high of eight against Denver. 1986: Washington played in all 16 games for St. Louis in 1986, starting 12, and had two interceptions. 1985: Washington opened the season as the starter and was then sidelined by injury in the second game. He had a 46-yard interception return for a touchdown against Cleveland. 1984: Washington played in 15 games with five interceptions and 67 tackles. 1983: Washington, a rookie with St. Louis, had his best interception season with a club-high eight, all in the last nine games when he became a starter. He had 67 tackles on the season. Washington was a fourth-round draft choice of the St. Louis Cardinals, the 103rd players taken overall. He originally was selected by the Tampa Bay Bandits in the USFL draft (20th round, 229th overall) but did not sign with the club.

COLLEGE: Washington was a three-year starter and four-year letterman in football at Tulane, serving as team co-captain as a senior. He intercepted eight passes during his four-year college career. Washington earned all-conference honors as a sophomore and junior, and had five interceptions as a sophomore. Following his senior year he was selected to play in the Hall of Fame Bowl and the Blue-Gray Game. He also lettered in track and field at Tulane, running the 60, 100, 220 and 440yard dashes with a best of 9.4 seconds for the 100 yards,10.3 for the 100 meters and 21.0 for the 200 meters. He also ran hurdles and was a member of Tulane's relay team. Washington was a sports administration and physical education major.

PERSONAL: Born in New Orleans, Washington lettered in football, basketball and track at Lutcher High School in Lutcher, La. He was an all-state safety as both a junior and senior, and was all-state in track in the hurdles and sprints. He recorded a best of 13.8 in the120 high hurdles to win the state championship as a senior. Lionel was also all-district in basketball. Lionel has a son, Deron, and a daughter, Lakaia, and makes his offseason home in LaPlace, La.

Year with Broncos – 1st

Alfred Williams is a pass rushing specialist who comes to the Broncos as an unrestricted free agent from the San Francisco 49ers. He looks to step into the starting right defensive end position vacated by the retirement of Simon Fletcher, and should strengthen the Broncos' pass rush for the 1996 season. Williams has excellent speed for a man his size and uses his hands well. He has played in 79 career games with 53 starts, and has missed just one game in his five seasons in the NFL. Williams has 31 career sacks and 184 total tackles (154 solo). He signed with the Broncos Feb. 26, 1996. 1995: Williams played in all 16 games with San Francisco, starting one. He recorded 4.5 sacks and 28 tackles (21 solo) for a 49ers defense that finished the season ranked number one in the National Football League. Williams saw action in the 49ers' NFC Divisional Playoff Game vs. Green Bay, a 27-17 loss (1/6/96), in which he made one solo tackle. 1994: Williams started all 16 games for Cincinnati and led the team in sacks with 9.5. He also had 47 tackles (40 solo), one fumble recovery and one forced fumble. Williams had a single-game high of four sacks at Pittsburgh (10/16), tying the NFL's single-game high for the 1994 season. He also had a season-high seven tackles (all solo) against the Steelers. Williams sacked Seattle QB Rick Mirer for a safety in a Nov. 6 victory over the Seahawks. He also had two sacks at Houston (9/25) and one-and-a-half sacks at Denver (11/27). 1993: Williams started all 16 games for the Bengals, recording 28 tackles (22 solo), four sacks — second-most on the team — and one forced fumble. He also tied for the team lead in QB pressures with 18. Williams had an eight-yard sack, a QB pressure and a season-high six tackles at Kansas City (10/10), as well as a six-yard sack for a safety against Steve Young at San Francisco (12/5). 1992: Williams played in 15 games and made six starts for the Bengals in his second NFL season. He had 43 stops (38 solo), a career single-season high 10 sacks and three forced fumbles. He missed most of training camp that season as doctors worked to resolve an irregular heartbeat problem. He required two surgeries for the condition, which was declared cured in mid-August. Williams had two sacks for 26 yards in the season-opener at Seattle. One of the sacks included a fumble by Seahawk quarterback Kelly Stouffer which was recovered by Bengal teammate Fernandus Vinson and returned 22 yards for a touchdown. Williams had two-sack games vs. Minnesota (9/27) and vs. Cleveland (11/1). He had a season-high seven tackles at Houston (10/25). 1991: Williams played in all 16 games and made 15 starts. He had 38 tackles (33 solo), three sacks, two fumble recoveries and one forced fumble. He signed with the Bengals August 18 after Cincinnati drafted him in the first round (18th overall) of the 1991 draft.

COLLEGE: Williams was a consensus All-America selection at Colorado in 1989 as a linebacker and in 1990 as a defensive end. As a member of the Buffaloes co-National Championship team in 1990, Williams was the first CU player ever to win a national collegiate postseason trophy when he was named the 1990 Butkus Award winner, emblematic of the nation's top linebacker. Williams is still the Buffs' all-time sack leader with 35 and all-time leader in tackles for losses with 59. In all, he compiled 263 tackles in his CU career, which included All-Big 8 selections from 1988-90. Two of his teammates at CU were Broncos' punter Tom Rouen and defensive back Ronnie Bradford.

PERSONAL: Williams attended Jesse Jones High School in Houston, Texas, where he was a first-team USA Today All-America selection, and captained the basketball and track teams. He and his fiancée, Lena, make their home in Louisville, Colo., with their three children, Dominique (4), Justin (1) and Christopher Alfred (born 5/21/96). A native of Houston, Texas, Alfred Hamilton Williams was born Nov. 6, 1968.

90 DAN WILLIAMS • Defensive End

Birthdate – December 15, 1969
Birthplace – Ypsilanti, Mich.
Residence – Aurora, Colo.
How Acquired – Draft #1, 1993
College – Toledo
High School – Ypsilanti HS
Ypsilanti, Mich.
Height – 6-4
Weight – 290
Pro Year – 4th
Year with Broncos – 4th

Dan Williams comes into the 1996 campaign healthy and looking to put together a full season for the first time in his fourth NFL season. The talented defensive end has shown incredible dedication and determination in coming back from several knee injuries in his first three NFL seasons, and, when healthy, has shown the skills and explosiveness that made him a first-round draft pick in 1993. 1995: Williams, who started six games at left defensive end, underwent season-ending knee surgery and was placed on injured reserve Dec. 19. He was sidelined earlier in the year for four games with a right knee injury, then returned for two games before suffering a cartilage tear in his left knee at Philadelphia (11/12). For the season he tallied 10 tackles (9 solo) — including a sack for a 10-yard loss — and added five passes defensed. One of his tipped passes was intercepted by LB Elijah Alexander against Washington (9/17). Williams suffered his first injury of the season — a sprained right knee — at San Diego (9/24). He was expected to miss approximately six weeks, but returned to practice just 2-3 weeks later, in Week Seven prior the Oakland game. He aggravated the injury in practice Oct. 13, and his return was delayed until the ninth game against Arizona (11/5). His two sacks came against Buffalo in the season-opener (9/3) and at San Diego (9/24). 1994: Williams played in 11 games and made eight starts at right defensive tackle. He started the first eight games before being replaced by Harald Hasselbach in game nine at the L.A. Rams (11/6). Williams finished the year with 22 tackles (11 solo), one interception and two passes defensed. The interception — the first of his career — and one of the passes defensed came against Kansas City (10/17). He had a season-high six tackles (3 solo) against the Raiders (9/18). 1993: Williams was the Broncos' first-round draft choice (11th pick overall) and was considered a force against the run in his rookie season. After suffering a knee injury in the second game of the season versus San Diego (9/12), Williams missed three games and then re-injured the same knee in the final regular season game at the L.A. Raiders (1/2). For the season Williams started in 11 of the 13 games in which he played, accounting for 37 total tackles on the year, 18 solo and 19 assisted. He was also credited with 1.5-sacks and one fumble recovery.

COLLEGE: Williams was regarded as one of the premier pass rushers in the 1993 NFL draft. He was an All-American and a first-team All-Mid American Conference pick as a senior at Toledo by the Football News. He posted 13 sacks as a senior to go along with 104 tackles (59 solo), and 33 quarterback pressures. For his career at Toledo Williams accounted for 256 tackles (143 solo), 28 sacks, and 80 pressures. He was a criminal justice major at Toledo.

PERSONAL: Dan and his wife Angela make their home in Aurora, Colo., with their first child Courtney Danielle (4/4/94). Dan lettered once in both football and basketball at Ypsilanti (Mich.) HS, earning all-conference, all-metro, and all-area honors in his only varsity season. Daniel Williams II was born December 15, 1969 in Ypsilanti, Mich.

Jeff Wilner was signed by the Broncos Dec. 20, 1995, to bolster a tight end group that was decimated by injuries late in the season. He was inactive for his only game on the Broncos' active roster the season-finale at Oakland (12/24). A 1994 rookie free agent, signed by the Packers, Wilner played in 11 games in his rookie season, and two more in '95 before being waived following the eighth game of the season when the Packers signed Keith Jackson. He did not play in five other games, and was inactive in one other. 1995: Wilner was inactive for his only game as a Bronco, at Oakland (12/24). He began the season with Green Bay, for whom he played in two games (at Dallas 10/8 and vs. Detroit 10/15) before being released after the eighth game. 1994: Wilner played in 11 games with the Packers after signing with them as an undrafted free agent. He caught five passes for 31 yards (6.2 avg.) in 11 games. He also contributed on special teams and made one start (at Philadelphia, 9/18/94) as the offense opened the game in a two-tight end set.

COLLEGE: Wilner was a four-year letterwinner at Div. III Wesleyan (Conn.) University in Middletown, Conn. He played on both sides of the ball, spending time at linebacker and on the line on defense, and as a tight end and tackle on offense. Wilner was named to the New England Small College Athletic Conference first team on offense. He earned his B.A. in economics and government from Wesleyan.

PERSONAL: Wilner lettered in football as a quarterback, tight end and defensive end, as well as in baseball at Phillips Exeter Academy in Exeter, N.H. He spent the 1996 offseason taking classes at Metropolitan State College of Denver, in preparation for enrollment in medical school when his playing career is over. Jeffrey Scott Wilner was born Dec. 31, 1971 in East Meadowbrook, N.Y. He is single and makes his home in Denver.

65 GARY ZIMMERMAN • Tackle

Birthdate – December 13, 1961
Birthplace – Fullerton, Calif.
Residence – Bend Ore.
How Acquired – Trade (Minn.), 1993
College – Oregon
High School – Walnut HS

Year with Broncos – 4th

Gary Zimmerman showed once again in 1995 why he is one of the most respected offensive linemen in the National Football League, by starting all 16 games at left tackle, despite several injuries, including a shoulder problem that required surgery after the season. His 16 starts ran his impressive streak to 156 consecutive starts, dating back to his days with Minnesota (1986-92). Zimmerman was rewarded for his stellar play in 1995 — in which he allowed only two sacks — with his sixth invitation to the Pro Bowl and a spot on the second-team of the Associated Press All-Pro team. He also earned All-AFC honors from Football News. Zimmerman has started all 156 games in which he has played. A consummate professional year in and year out, he has been named All-NFL twice (1987-88), NFL Lineman of the Year in 1987, and second-team All-NFL of the 1980s. 1995: Zimmerman started all 16 games at left tackle, earning his second straight Pro Bowl selection, and the sixth of his career. He suffered a shoulder and biceps injury at Houston (11/26), but started the next week against Jacksonville (12/3) despite not practicing much during the week. He also started with a sore ankle against Washington (9/17) in Denver's 38-31 last-second victory. Zimmerman had off-season surgery to repair the torn rotator cuff and torn biceps in his right shoulder on January 15, 1996. The surgery was performed by Dr. Richard Hawkins at the Steadman-Hawkins Clinic in Vail, Colo. 1994: Zimmerman did not miss a game as the starter at left tackle, and was one of the few bright spots on an offensive line that struggled at times. He was recognized for his outstanding play with selection to the Pro Bowl, his fifth such selection. 1993: Zimmerman was acquired by the Broncos in a trade with Minnesota prior to the last preseason game in 1993 and was immediately inserted into the starting lineup. He started every game at left tackle for the Broncos, solidifying an offensive line that allowed time for quarterback John Elway to post career numbers. He was a major factor in the success of the Broncos offensive line, and was named an alternate for the Pro Bowl. 1992: Zimmerman was named to the Pro Bowl as a starter, his first trip since 1989. 1991: Zimmerman anchored a Minnesota line that helped the Vikings lead the NFC in rushing. 1990: Zimmerman started all 16 games despite being hampered by various injuries. He underwent surgery on his ankle and elbow at the end of that season. 1987-89: In 1989 Zimmerman was selected to his third Pro Bowl appearance. The other two appearances were in 1988 and 1987. 1986: Zimmerman earned All-NFL honors for Minnesota in his first season in the league. He was originally obtained by the Giants in the first-round of the 1984 supplemental draft, third overall, and then had his rights traded to Minnesota for two second-round picks (CB Mark Collins and S Greg Lasker) in the 1986 draft. 1984-85: He began his pro career as a second-round pick, 36th overall, by the Los Angeles Express of the USFL in 1984.

COLLEGE: Zimmerman was a first-team All-Pac-10 selection and earned Sporting News second-team and Associated Press third-team honors as a senior in 1983. He was a part-time player as a freshman, and played both ways in 1981 before becoming a starter as a junior.

PERSONAL: Gary was born Dec. 13, 1961 in Fullerton, Calif., where he was an all-league middle linebacker at Walnut High. He and his wife Lisa have two daughters, Lindsay Rae (2/9/88) and Kelsey Marie (1/14/92), and the couple makes their offseason home in Bend, Ore. His hobbies include hunting, fishing, working with computers and flying. His full name is Gary Wayne Zimmerman.

THE CHOSEN FEW

The Arizona Cardinals are the only franchise that has never beaten the Broncos in regular or postseason play, dating back to their days as the St. Louis Cardinals. In fact, Arizona (0-3), Green Bay (0-4), Indianapolis (0-5) and Jacksonville (0-1) are the only four franchises that have never beaten the Broncos at Mile High Stadium in regular or postseason play. In addition, the Cardinals (0-1-1) and Tampa Bay (0-1) are the only teams that Denver has never lost to on the road (Denver has not played Carolina at home, and has not played either Carolina or Jacksonville on the road).

1996 DRAFT CHOICES

Running back Terrell Davis, a sixth-round draft choice in 1995, finished third in the AFC in rushing with 1,117 yards, and finished second in the NFL Rookie of the Year balloting. He also added 367 receiving yards to set a new Broncos rookie record with 1,484 yards in total offense.

JOHN MOBLEY — Kutztown (Pa.)

Linebacker • 6-1 • 230
Birthdate: October 10, 1973
Draft Choice: 1st Round (15th overall)

Linebacker John Mobley was the Broncos' first selection made in the first round since 1993 (Dan Williams), and the club's first choice ever from Kutztown, the same school that produced Buffalo's all-pro wide receiver Andre Reed. The 6-1, 230-pounder was a two-time All-American at the Division II level (1st-team 1995, second-team 1994), and was named Division II Player of the Year in 1995 by The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft. Mobley is described as an intense, energetic pass defender with impressive strength. In his four seasons in the lineup, Mobley started all 41 games and made 387 tackles (198 solo), recovered eight fumbles, forced four, made eight interceptions with 22 pass deflections, registered 20 sacks (-169) and made 21 tackles-for-loss (-91). Offensively he carried the ball 12 times for 17 yards and five touchdowns, returned seven kickoffs for 226 yards (32.3) with a long of 69 yards, and returned 15 punts for 202 yards (13.5) with a long of 51 yards. 1995: Mobley earned first-team All-America honors and was named Division II Player of the Year by The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft, and was tabbed first-team All-America by the Associated Press. In a senior season in which he posted 112 tackles (57 solo) and made four sacks for -34 yards, he earned All-Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference first-team honors and was named the conference's Defensive Player of the Year. Mobley also recovered four fumbles, caused three others, batted away five passes and had five interceptions for 63 yards in returns, including one for a touchdown. Mobley was a finalist for the Harlon Hill Trophy, given to the top player in the Division II ranks, starting all year at his strongside outside linebacker position. He also performed as a fullback in goal-line situations in addition to returning kickoffs and punts. Mobley's best all-around performance of '95 came against California (Pa.) when he posted eight tackles, deflected two passes, recovered a fumble, returned an interception 40 yards for a touchedown and had a pair of sacks for losses of 14 yards to earn National Player of the Week honors from Football Gazette and Defensive Player of the Week accolades from the PSAC. His highest tackle total came against West Chester (the alma mater of Broncos teammate Ralph Tamm) when he posted 17 (9 solo) — including one for a five-yard loss — as well causing and recovering a fumble, picking off a pass, returning a pair of kickoffs for 58 yards, catching a two-point conversion pass and running for scores of 1 and 5 yards in a 21-12 triumph. 1994: Mobley earned second-team All-America honors from the Associated Press, and was named first-team NCAA Division II All-Northwest Region, All-PSAC and All-Eastern College Athletic Conference. He played in every game, recording 93 tackles (36 solo) with seven sacks for -59 yards and five stops for losses of 16 yards. Mobley alsorecovered two fumbles, deflected six passes and had a four-yard interception return. Mobley was named PSAC Player of the Week for his 11-tackle (6 solo), two-sack (-21) performance in Kutztown's 46-21 defeat of California (Pa.). He was also named Player of the Week in the final game of the season against East Stroudsburg as he registered 12 tackles (11 solo) with two sacks (-13) and a four-yard interception return in a 24-7 triumph. Playing with a thumb injury, Mobley still was in on 12 hits with a pass deflection, a fumble recovery, two sacks (-15) and another pair of hits behind the line of scrimmage in a 12-7 win over Millersville. 1993: Did not play. 1992: Mobley was named honorable mention All-America by Football Gazette and first-team All-Pennsylvania State Athletic Conference, starting every game and leading the team with 86 tackles (50 solo) and seven sacks for -67 yards. He also had nine stops for losses (-41), recovered a fumble and deflected four passes with two interceptions for 89 yards in returns, including a touchdown. Mobley was named PSAC Player of the Week against Shippensburg when posted a career-high 20 tackles (15 solo) with two sacks (-15), a stop for a two-yard loss, a 19-yard interception return, a fumble recovery and a pass deflection. He returned an interception 70 yards for a touchdown in a 48-13 trouncing of Lock Haven, the longest interception return by a Golden Bear since Art McKenna's 93-yard run-back in 1972. 1991: Mobley was named Freshman All-America by The Gridiron Report and named second-team All-PSAC, finishing second on the team with 93 tackles (36 solo). He also added two sacks (-9), five tackles-for-loss (-27), caused and recovered a fumble and had three pass deflection.

HIGH SCHOOL: Mobley earned third-team all-state, second-team All-Suburban and first-team All-Delco honors at Chichester High school in Chester, Pa.

PERSONAL: Mobley, a telecommunications major at Kutztown, was born October 10, 1973 in Chester, Pa. His full name is John Ulysses Mobley.

TORY JAMES — Louisiana State

Cornerback • 6-2 • 188
Birthdate: May 18, 1973
Draft Choice: 2nd Round (44th overall)

Tory James was the Broncos'second overall selection in the draft, chosen in the second round. (44th overall). The 6-2, 188-pound cornerback earned first-team All-Southeastern Conference honors as a junior in '94, and closed his career by being named to the All-America Dream Team by the Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft. In his four seasons in the lineup, James played in 39 games (started 29) and made 117 tackles (81 solo), recovered three fumbles, caused one fumble, intercepted 11 passes, broke up 20 passes, made two sacks (-9) and added five other tackles-for-loss (14). He returned one interception for a touchdown, and also played wide receiver as a freshman in 1992, catching six passes for 78 yards (13.0) with a long of 35 yards and one touchdown. 1995: James played right cornerback for the Tigers, missing three games (Auburn, South Carolina and Rice) due to a hamstring strain. For the season he made 38 tackles (25 solo), two interceptions, two passes defensed, one sack (-6) and three other tackles-for-loss (-8). James had a big game against eventual Fiesta Bowl participant Florida, making four solo tackles, deflecting a pass and picking off another. He recorded 15 tackles (9 solo) and a pass deflection in a 38-9 win over Mississippi, and helped preserve the Tigers' 28-0 shutout of Arkansas in the season finale by batting away two passes. 1994: James enjoyed his finest collegiate season as a junior, earning first-team All-Southeastern Conference honors at right cornerback. He started all 11 games and ranked fifth in the SEC (18th in the nation) in interceptions with five for 23 yards in returns and one touchdown, the most picks by a Tiger player since 1988. James made 35 tackles (30 solo), recovered a fumble and led the squad with eight passes defensed. He set the tone for his season early, returning an interception 24 yards for a touchdown vs. Texas A&M, the first time a Tiger had accomplished that feat since '91. He had four tackles (3 solo) against Florida, while deflecting three passes and intercepting another. 1993: James was named to the Sophomore All-America team by The Gridiron Report in his first season back in the secondary, after switching from wide receiver, which he played as a true freshman in '92. He started every game at right cornerback and finished second among Tiger defensive backs with 39 tackles (21 solo). He also recovered two fumbles and caused another, while adding a team-leading seven passes defensed and four interceptions for 87 yards in returns. In his first career start, he did not allow any receptions while posting four tackles with a pass break-up near the end zone and a pair of interceptions versus Texas A&M, earning ABC-TV/Chevrolet Most Vaulable Player of the Game honors. He also came up big in an 18-16 win over Mississippi State, breaking up two passes, including one that knocked the ball out of the hands of Kevin Bouie in the end zone to kill a last-ditch scoring drive. James had a fine all-around performance against Utah State with five tackles — including a shot that stripped quarterback Tony Calvillo of the ball — and a fumble recovery, one pass defensed and an interception that he returned 59 yards to set up a Tiger touchdown. His 59-yard return was the longest by an LSU player since '88. 1992: James saw action in nine games as a true freshman, beginning the season as a reserve cornerback before switching to wide receiver. He recorded five solo tackles with a deflected pass and caught six passes for 78 yards (13.0), including a touchdown. He saw action on both sides of the ball versus Auburn, catching a pass for a seven-yard gain while making a solo tackle. James' first career touchdown came on a 35-yard pass from Jamie Howard versus Florida. He returned to cornerback in spring drills after the season.

HIGH SCHOOL: James was an All-District 10-5A selection as a defensive back and kick returner in his senior year at Archbishop Shaw High School in Merrero, La. He returned three punts for touchdowns and recorded 73 tackles with four interceptions that year, finishing a prep career that saw him earn three letters as a cornerback and wide receiver. James posted 138 tackles while intercepting 11 passes, and also lettered twice in track as a sprinter, finishing second in the 100 meters and third in the 200 meter dash at the Louisiana High School Track Championships in '92. He also lettered in basketball as a guard.

PERSONAL: Tory Steven James, a criminal justice major at LSU, was born May 18, 1973 in New Orleans, La.

DETRON SMITH — Texas A&M

Fullback • 5-10 • 234
Birthdate: February 25, 1974
Draft Choice: 3rd Round (65th overall)

Detron Smith, the Broncos' first 1995 draft choice on the offensive side of the ball, brings a repuatation as a fierce blocker into his first NFL training camp. The 5-10, 234-pound fullback was primarily used as a blocking back for the Aggies, creating holes for star tailback Leeland McElroy — younger brother of Bronco Reggie McElroy — who rushed for 1,122 yards in '95. Smith, who has been timed at 4.59 in the 40-yard dash, carried the ball 57 times for 184 yards (3.2) and one touchdown in his five-year career, and caught 33 passes for 300 yards (9.1) with a long of 35 yards. He also returned five kickoffs for 54 yards (10.8) with a long of 15 yards. Smith was also a standout in the weight room, setting a school record with a 462.5-pound bench press, topping the previous mark of 460 pounds by Jeroy Robinson in '89. 1995: Smith was named a Super Sleeper Team choice by The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft, as he provided outstanding blocking for the Aggies' ground game, coming up with 54 knockdown blocks as he played in all 11 games and started 10. For the season he gained 19 yards on 15 carries (1.3), and caught 15 passes for 99 yards (6.6). He caught four passes for 19 yards versus Colorado, and made a timely block on CU defensive end Greg Jones to spring McElroy for a four-yard touchdown dash. Smith closed his college career with four catches for 24 yards versus Texas. 1994: Smith played in 10 games behind Cliff Groce at fullback, carrying the ball 16 times for 73 yards (4.6) and a touchdown, and catching 11 passes for 115 yards (10.5). His first career rushing touchdown came in a 41-21 win over Baylor, on an 8-yard scamper in which he broke free of five different tacklers. 1993: Smith played in all 12 games — including the Cotton Bowl — and finished the season with 24 carries for 86 yards (3.6) and six receptions for 73 yards (12.2). He added two catches for 24 yards in the Cotton Bowl versus Notre Dame, including his first career touchdown on a 15-yard pass from Corey Pullig. 1992: Smith played in nine games as a true freshman, missing the Baylor, Southern Methodist and Louisville contests after suffering a knee injury versus Rice. He carried the ball just twice on the season for six yards (3.0), and caught a 13-yard pass — the first of his career — against Rice. Smith also had a pair of kickoff returns for 15 yards each, and saw action in the Cotton Bowl against Notre Dame, returning two kicks for 24 yards.

HIGH SCHOOL: Smith was a Texas Top 100 selection by the Austin American Statesman, Dallas Morning News, Lubbock Avalanche-Herald, Waco Tribune-Herald and Houston Post at Lake Highlands High School in Dallas, Texas. He was rated the second-best fullback prospect in the Southwest and received a perfect score of 10 points on the Blue Chip list by Max Emfinger's recruiting service. Smith averaged 10 knockdowns per game, and carried the ball 181 times for 1,351 yards (7.5) and 15 touchdowns, earning third-team all-state honors as a senior. He ran for 231 yards with three scores and posted 21 knockdowns in a 31-30 win over Tyler Lee High that year, and guided his team to a total of two district titles in his career.

PERSONAL: Smith, a wildlife and fisheries major at Texas A&M, was born Detron Negil Smith on February 25, 1974 in Dallas.

MARK CAMPBELL — Florida

Defensive End • 6-1 • 290
Birthdate: Sept. 9, 1972

Mark Campbell was the Broncos' second selection in the third round of the '96 draft, coming off a five-year career at Florida where he played in four bowl games for a team that was consistently ranked in the Top 10. The 6-1, 290-pound defensive end was a three-year starter at Florida who played in 46 games, making 37 starts. Campbell stepped to the forefront as a senior in 1995, earning All-Southeastern Conference as the leader on a defensive line that had lost two first-round choices in the '95 draft — Kevin Carter (Rams) and Ellis Johnson (Colts). He finished his Gator career with 127 tackles (71 solo), 17 sacks (-136 yards), 37 quarterback pressures, 33 tackles for loss (-199), two pass break-ups, three fumble recoveries and five forced fumbles. Campbell played in four bowl games in his four seasons at Florida: the Gator (after 1992), Sugar (after '93 and '94) and Fiesta (after '95). 1995: Campbell earned first team All-SEC honors at defensive end, starting all 12 games —10 at left defensive end and two (Tennessee and Vanderbilt) at left tackle. His '95 numbers showed 36 tackles (20 solo) with 4.5 sacks (-30 yards), three stops for losses (-12) and nine quarterback pressures, while adding two forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries. Campbell helped spark the Gators in their 34-3 win over Arkansas in the SEC Championship Game, contributing three assisted tackles, a forced fumble and an assisted sack for a four-yard loss. His high-tackle game of the year came in a 63-7 rout of South Carolina when he posted seven stops (4 solo), including two sacks (-14) and a tackle-for-loss (-6). Campbell finished his career in the Fiesta Bowl with one solo tackle against Nebraska in a game that determined the national title. 1994: Campbell started all 12 games at left defensive end as a junior, recording 46 tackles (29 solo), six sacks (-26), 12 quarterback pressures and two forced fumbles. He came up big against Tennessee when he recorded eight tackles (4 solo) with two stops behind the line of scrimmage (-13) and a quarterback pressure. He once again raised his level of play in a big game, helping the Gators to a 24-23 win over Alabama in the SEC Championship Game. Campbell provided five tackles (3 solo) and an assisted sack for an 11-yard loss that killed a fourth quarter scoring drive, as well as a hit on tailback Sherman Williams to force a fumble. He closed the season with two tackles against Florida State in the Sugar Bowl. 1993: Campbell played in all 12 games at right defensive end, and started 11 (exception was Tennessee game). His '93 numbers show 31 tackles (13 solo), five sacks (-39), four tackles-for-loss (-16) and 10 quarterback pressures, as well as a fumble recovery and a forced fumble. The forced fumble and recovery both came in a 52-0 trouncing of Vanderbilt — a game in which he also contributed four tackles (2 solo), a sack and a tackle-for-loss (-3). He added three tackles (2 solo) — one of which came behind the line of scrimmage for a two-yard loss — against West Virginia in the Sugar Bowl. 1992: Campbell saw action in 10 games in his first season of play, and made two starts at right defensive end, against Kentucky and Tennessee. He injured his shoulder in the Tennessee game and missed the next two games against Auburn and Georgia. Campbell finished his freshman campaign with 14 tackles (9 solo), six quarterback pressures, 1.5 sacks (-10) and 4.5 tackles-for-loss (-19). In his first game as a Gator, he started in a 35-19 triumph over Kentucky, responding with two tackles and a three-yard sack. Campbell also started a trend of making big plays in the SEC Championship Game, contributing two tackles — including one for a two-yard loss — against Alabama. He played against North Carolina State in the Gator Bowl but did not make a tackle. 1991: Redshirt season.

HIGH SCHOOL: Campbell earned first-team all-district and second-team All-Dade County honors at Sunset High School in Miami, Fla., where he recorded 82 tackles (39 solo) with 18 sacks as a senior in 1990.

PERSONAL: A recreation major at Florida, Mark Anthony Campbell was born Sept. 12, 1972, in Jamaica.

JEFF LEWIS — Northern Arizona

Quarterback • 6-2 • 215
Birthdate: April 17, 1973
Draft Choice: 4th Round (100th overall)

Jeff Lewis — the first quarterback drafted by the Broncos since 1992 — brings a great deal of talent and an impressive portfolio of statistics from his four seasons at Northern Arizona. He closed his career ranked second on the school's all-time lists for passing yards (9,655), touchdowns (67), completions (785) and attempts (1,316). His 59.7 pass completion percentage ranks second in Lumberjack annals, and is the end result of a four-year progression in completion percentage: 52.8%, 56.4%, 60.4% and 66.8 %. He holds the NCAA Division I-AA career record with a miniscule interception percentage of 1.82. His leadership skills were also displayed by his three-time selection as NAU's team captain, a first in school history. Lewis was coached at NAU by Steve Axman, who had previously tutored NFL quarterbacks Troy Aikman (UCLA) and Neil O'Donnell (Maryland), the two starting quarterbacks in Super Bowl XXX. 1995: Lewis was an All-America Dream Team selection and Offensive Player of the Year by The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft. He was nominated for the Davey O'Brien Award and was a finalist for the Johnny Unitas Golden Arm Award, given to the nation's premier passer. He was named Offensive Player of the Month (September) by The NFL Draft Report, and finished fifth in the nation in passing efficiency (153.2 rating) and total offense (254.6 ypg), as he hit on 209 of 313 passes (66.8) for 2,426 yards, 22 touchdowns and just three interceptions, for a Div. I-AA single-season record of 0.96%. His 66.8 pass completion percentage was the best by a I-AA quarterback in a season since Jason Garrett of Princeton set the I-AA record in 1988 (68.2). Lewis tossed a school-record six touchdown strikes, while hitting on 21 of 30 passes for 276 yards in a 62-0 romp over Abilene Christian. He was also at his best against Montana, connecting on 26 of 39 for 355 yards, including a 67-yard scoring toss. Lewis broke his collarbone in the Lumberjacks' 10th game of the year, versus Idaho, and was forced to miss the postseason all-star games. 1994: Lewis earned third-team All-America and second-team All-Big Sky Conference honors, while finishing third in the nation in total offense (307.9 yards per game) and setting school records in passing yards (3,355), touchdowns (26), completions (272) and attempts (450). He became just the second player in NAU history to top 3,000 yards and the fourth to complete more than 60% of his passes in a season. Lewis was named Big Sky Player of the Week after throwing a school-record six touchdown passes — a feat he would repeat in '95 — in a 59-21 victory over Southern Utah State. He was stellar in a 47-30 win over Montana State, completing 31 of 42 for 409 yards and guided the offense to 616 total yards. Lewis showed late-game comeback ability in a 24-20 win over Weber State, as he completed 29 of 42 for 398 yards and four touchdowns — including a 34-yarder — and made a key block to spring his running back for a game-winning 7-yard touchdown run to cap a 45-yard drive with 4:10 to play. 1993: Lewis started all 11 games and completed 189 of 335 passes (56.4) for 2,497 yards and 15 touchdowns, and had just 1.79% of his passes intercepted. He was named Big Sky Player of the Week after guiding the Lumberjacks to a 24-23 defeat of North Texas State, a game in which he hit on 20 of 25 passes for 192 yards and two touchdowns, including the game-winner in the fourth quarter. Lewis' highest yardage total of the season came against Idaho, when he accounted for 352 yards on 19 of 30 attempts, and unleashed a 68-yard touchdown pass. 1992: Lewis started all eight games in which he played after replacing John Bonds in the starting lineup before the fourth game. He completed 115 of 218 passes (52.8%) for 1,377 yards and four touchdowns, and accounted for five more touchdowns on the ground. In his first collegiate action, Lewis ran for a 1-yard score and passed for 144 yards on 15 of 22 attempts to rally the Lumberajcks to a 27-12 win over Idaho State. His first touchdown strike came against Boise State, an 18-yarder in a game in which he completed 20 of 36 for 170 yards. 1991: Redshirt season.

HIGH SCHOOL: Lewis was an all-city and all-conference selection in football, basketball and baseball at Horizon High School in Phoenix, Ariz. He gained over 1,000 yards rushing in each of his final two seasons in football, and batted .492 while compiling a 3-1 record as a pitcher in his senior season on the diamond. He played in the Arizona North-South All-Star games both football and baseball, and put up 9 points and 10.1 rebounds per game on the basketball court as a senior. Lewis also quarterbacked the Arizona squad in the Down Under Bowl, played in Australia.

PERSONAL: Lewis was an education major at Northern Arizona, and hopes to enter the coaching profession once his playing days are over. He was born Jeffrey Scott Lewis on April 17, 1973 in Columbus, OH.

DARRIUS JOHNSON — Oklahoma

Cornerback • 5-9 • 175
Birthdate: Sept. 17, 1972
Draft Choice: 4th Round (122nd overall)

Darrius Johnson, a three-year starter in the secondary at Oklahoma, was twice named All-Big Eight first team, and finished his career with 208 tackles (149 solo), 12 interceptions, 30 pass break-ups, two forced fumbles and one fumble recovery. He played in two bowl games — John Hancock (after 1993) and Copper (after '94) — and figures seventh on the Sooners' all-time punt return list with 497 yards. Johnson also excelled in track and field, earning All-America honors in 1993 as a member of the Sooners' 1600-meter relay team. He ran the third leg on the relay squad that clocked a 39.03 at the NCAA Championships, held in New Orleans, La. 1995: Johnson was named to the All-America Dream Team by The NFL Draft Report, and earned All-Big Eight honors. He started the first 10 games of the season at strongside cornerback, and finished his senior campaign with 50 tackles (36 solo) and seven pass deflections, in addition to contributing on special teams with 12 punt returns for 75 yards (6.3) and four kickoff returns for 60 yards (15.0). He posted three games in which he did not allow his receiver to catch a pass. Johnson helped the Sooners battle to a 24-24 tie with Texas when he made five solo tackles and deflected a pair of passes, including one that helped thwart a Longhorn scoring drive, setting up OU's tying touchdown. He also played a key role in the Sooners' 13-9 win over Missouri, posting seven tackles (4 solo), returning a kickoff 30 yards and batting away a pair of passes, including one near the goal-line in the fourth quarter. 1994: Johnson was named first-team All-Big Eight at left cornerback, starting every game and making 44 tackles (33 solo), intercepting four passes, deflecting 10 more, forcing two fumbles and recovering one. He also returned 34 punts for 254 yards (7.9) and a touchdown, tying for the sixth-best on OU's single-season punt return yardage list. Johnson showed his versatility against Texas A&M, making four tackles, breaking up two passes, returning three kickoffs for 64 yards and returning five punts for 25 yards. He returned six punts for 102 yards against Missouri, including an 87-yard touchdown burst, the fourth-longest in school history, and the first return for a touchdown by an OU player since '91. Johnson's interceptions came against Colorado, Kansas State and Oklahoma State (2), and closed the season with eight solo tackles against Brigham Young in the Copper Bowl. 1993: Johnson started all 11 games at left cornerback, leading the conference with five interceptions (18th in the nation) for 36 yards in returns. For the season he had 58 tackles (37 solo), nine pass break-ups, 25 punt returns for 212 yards (8.5) and seven kickoff returns for 162 yards (23.1). Johnson intercepted two passes — and returned one 28 yards — in a 44-14 win over Texas A&M, and followed that performance with 10 tackles (8 solo), a pass break-up and three punt returns for 69 yards, including one for 30 yards, against Tulsa. He posted a season-high 11 tackles (9 solo) and batted away a pass against Colorado, and closed the year on a high note with seven tackles (5 solo), an interception, a kickoff return for 27 yards and five punt returns for 60 yards in a 41-10 romp over Texas Tech in the John Hancock Bowl. 1992: Johnson played in every game at left cornerback in his first season, and made one start, against Nebraska. He finished the season with 56 tackles (43 solo), three interceptions, four pass break-ups and one stop for a one-yard loss. In his first game as a Sooner, Johnson responded with six tackles (4 solo) and a pass break-up in a 34-9 rout of Texas Tech. His first career interception came in a 17-3 triumph over Iowa State. Johnson played a big role in the Sooners' 24-24 tie with Colorado, contributing 10 tackles (8 solo), a stop for a loss, a pass break-up and a 17-yard interception return for a touchdown with 5:09 left in the game. His 45-yard interception return against Kansas State set up a score in a 16-14 Sooner win. 1991: Redshirt season.

HIGH SCHOOL: Johnson was a Class 4A first-team all-state selection at Terrell High School in Terrell, Texas, where he lettered three times as a cornerback, running back and kickoff returner. He recorded 2,014 rushing yards in his career, and also excelled in track and field in the long jump (23'2"), 100 meters (10.5) and 200 meters (21.5).

PERSONAL: Johnson, an organizational communications major, was born Sept. 17, 1972 in Terrell, Texas.

PATRICK JEFFERS — Virginia

Wide Receiver • 6-3 • 217
Birthdate: February 2, 1973

Patrick Jeffers progressed from a walk-on at Virginia to fourth on the school's all-time career receiving charts by the time his career ended. The 6-3, 217-pound receiver combined his considerable size with effective speed to pile up 1,785 receiving yards on 108 receptions with 15 touchdowns in his four seasons for the Cavaliers. Over his final three years he averaged 33 receptions and 552 yards per season. He now looks to make the jump into the professional ranks as the Broncos' fifth-round choice in the '96 draft. 1995: Jeffers earned honorable mention All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors for a senior campaign in which he led the team with 34 catches for 517 yards (15.2) and three touchdowns. He missed four games with his hamstring injury, but his performance was still solid enough to earn him a spot on the Super Sleeper Team as selected by The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft, as well as Honda Scholar/Athlete accolades. Jeffers helped spark the Cavaliers' 22-3 win over Clemson by snaring four passes for 112 yards, including a 76-yard touchdown grab. He closed his career with a four-catch, 47-yard performance against Georgia in the Peach Bowl. 1994: Jeffers was an All-ACC Academic Team pick as a junior, and also won the John Acree Memorial Award, given for leadership, cooperative spirit and unselfish service. He saw action in all 11 games and made five starts, posting season totals of 33 catches for 560 yards (17.0) and three touchdowns. His star shone brightly against North Carolina State when he pulled down six passes for 153 yards, including a 52-yard touchdown, for the highest yardage total by a Cavalier receiver since Herman Moore's 180-yard day in 1990, and the 10th-best on the school's all-time single-game list. Jeffers punctuated his breakthrough season by snaring three passes for 60 yards in a 20-10 defeat of Texas Christian in the Independence Bowl. 1993: Jeffers enjoyed a fine sophomore campaign with 32 receptions for 580 yards (18.1) and six touchdowns. His performance earned him honorable mention recognition on the All-ACC list, as well as a spot on the GTE University Division Academic All-District III squad. Jeffers also earned the Speed Elliott Award, given to UVA's Most Improved Player. He played in the first nine game of the season, and made two starts, before fracturing his collarbone versus Wake Forest and missing the Clemson and Virginia Tech games. His two starts came against Georgia Tech and Wake Forest. Jeffers caught four passes for 124 yards and a 65-yard score in a 38-0 shutout of Navy, and finished the year with a seven-yard catch against Boston College in the Carquest Bowl. 1992: Jeffers was an Academic All-ACC pick, playing in all 11 games and catching nine passes for 128 yards (14.2) and three touchdowns. His first career reception was a 20-yard touchdown grab versus Maryland. 1991: Redshirt season.
HIGH SCHOOL: Jeffers was a two-time All-Southern Preparatory Conference selection at Fort Worth Country Day School in Fort Worth, Texas, and was selected to the Top 100 squad by the Dallas Morning News. A versatile athlete, he played receiver, punter, placekicker, cornerback and free safety during a three-year prep career that saw him catch 52 passes for 980 yards and 10 touchdowns. Jeffers was also a two-time all-conference pick in soccer, and twice won the conference title in the 400-meter dash. He set school records in the 200 and 400 meters, and was a member of the 4x400 meter relay team.

His athletic and academic prowess made him the recipient of the school's Bill Curtis Award in 1990, given to the outstanding undergraduate male athlete, and he was a member of the French and Math Honor Societies.
PERSONAL: Jeffers, a psychology major at Virginia, has a brother, Rich, who played football and ran track at Menlo College. Patrick Christopher Jeffers was born February 2, 1973 in Fort Campbell, Ky.

TONY VELAND — Nebraska

Safety • 6-1 • 205
Birthdate: March 11, 1973
Draft Choice: 6th Round (181st overall)

Tony Veland is a versatile and talented athlete who began his career at Nebraska as a quarterback before converting to safety prior to the 1994 season. Veland was set to perform the starting quarterback duties at the conclusion of fall drills in '92, but suffered a collarbone injury and was replaced by Tommie Frazier. He saw reserve action behind Frazier late in '92 and during '93 before switching to defense for his final two seasons. 1995: Veland earned second-team All-Big Eight honors in his second year at free safety, recording 38 tackles (22 solo), recovering two fumbles and causing another. He stood out against Oklahoma, registering seven tackles (5 solo), including one for a loss, and recovered a fumble that he returned 57 yards for a score in a 37-0 Husker whitewashing. 1994: Veland started the team's final 10 games at free safety, in his first season on defense. He finished the year with 26 tackles (13 solo), three interceptions and one pass deflection. In his first career start in the secondary, he collected three tackles (2 solo), batted away a pass and picked off another as the Huskers downed UCLA 49-21. Veland's other two interceptions came against Texas Tech and Kansas. He closed the season with six tackles (4 solo) — inlcuding one for a four-yard loss — in the Orange Bowl against Miami as the Huskers secured the national title, 24-17. 1993: Veland saw action in two games as the second-string quarterback behind Tommie Frazier before suffering a knee injury versus Texas Tech, and undergoing season-ending surgery. He completed six of his nine passes (66.7%) for 176 yards and one touchdown before the injury, and also carried the ball eight times for 14 yards and one touchdown. He replaced an injured Frazier against North Texas State and accounted for all of 176 yards passing in that contest, on 6 of 9 accuracy. 1992: Veland won the starting quarterback job before suffering a collarbone injury at the conclusion of fall drills. He missed eight weeks of action, then played behind Tommie Frazier when he returned, seeing action against Colorado, Oklahoma, Kansas and Kansas State. Veland traveled to, but did not play in, the Orange Bowl. 1991: Redshirt season.
HIGH SCHOOL: Veland was a second-team all-state selection as a quarterback at Benson High School in Omaha, Neb., where he completed 54.2% of his passes and threw just two interceptions. He gained 700 yards through the air, rushed for 704 more and averaged 39.1 yards per punt in final campaign. Veland also led the basketball team to the No. 1 ranking in the state during the regular season, and lettered three times each in football, track and basketball. He placed fifth in the state Class A finals in the 100 meters (11.03) and third in the discus (162'2") in 1991.
PERSONAL: An engineering major at Nebraska, Veland was the keynote speaker at the 1992 National Education Week, as well as serving as a volunteer speaker at Cueller Junior High. His last name is pronounced VEE-land. Tony was born March 11, 1973 in Omaha, Neb.

LESLIE RATLIFFE — Tennessee

Tackle • 6-7 • 296
Birthdate: May 22, 1973
Draft Choice: 7th Round (213th overall) 71

Leslie Ratliffe, the first offensive lineman taken by the Broncos in the '96 draft, comes to the Broncos after an outstanding five-year career at Tennessee. He was an anchor on the offensive line for a team that played in two bowl games (Gator and Citrus) during his career. 1995: Ratliffe blocked extremely well in his two starts at right tackle for the Volunteers. 1994: Ratliffe started all 12 games at right tackle for the Volunteers and helped pave the way for a rushing attack that led the Southeastern Conference in total yardage. He was also recognized for his intense pass blocking. 1993: Ratliffe started all 12 games at right tackle, including the Florida Citrus Bowl contest against Penn State. He showed marked improvement throughout his sophomore campaign, particularly in pass blocking. 1992: Raltiffe saw action in six games and started one (LSU) at right tackle, helping Tennessee running back Charlie Garner to a 100-yard rushing performance against the Tigers. He also started two junior varsity games in addition to his varsity service. HIGH SCHOOL: Ratliffe was a SuperPrep All-America selection at Newport High School in Newport, Ark., where he was named Defensive Player of the Year as a senior in 1990. That season he logged 67 tackles and 21 sacks, despite being hampered by a wrist injury, en route to USA Today All-America honors, all-state mention and the Outstanding Lineman award in 3-A West Conference. Newport had a 36-6 record during his three years as a starter and reached the state championship game during both his sophomore and junior seasons. In addition to three years as a starter on defense and one year on offense, Ratliffe participated in baseball and track. PERSONAL: Leslie Tyrone Ratliffe was born May 22, 1973, in Newport, Ark. He majored in sociology at Tennessee.

CHRIS BANKS — Kansas

Guard • 6-1 • 286
Birthdate: April 4, 1973
Draft Choice: 7th Round (226th overall) 60

Chris Banks was selected by the Broncos in the seventh round of the 1996 draft after an outstanding senior season at Kansas in which he earned first-team All-Big Eight and third-team All-America honors from the Associated Press. Banks, who started 16 of the 33 games in which he played in his career, was the first of two Jayhawks selected by the Broncos in the seventh round, preceding running L.T. Levine, who was taken with the 235th pick. 1995: Banks started all 11 regular season games at guard and was named first-team All-Big Eight, as well as third-team All-America by the Associated Press. Banks, who was selected to play in the 1996 East-West Shrine Game, graded out a winning performance in every game, and posted a grade average of 85.5%, one of the highest in KU history. He led the team in domination blocks with an average of four per game, and did not give up a sack all season. Banks helped pave the way for a Kansas rushing attack that averaged 393.2 yards per game (fifth-best in school history and 23rd nationally in '95) and led the Jayhawks to a 10-2 record, an Aloha Bowl win over UCLA, a second-place tie in the Big Eight and No. 9 final ranking in the Associated Press poll. 1994: Banks played in eight games as a reserve, missing the Michigan State, Kansas State and Oklahoma contests. 1993: Banks saw action in nine games, including starting assignments at right tackle in three of the final four games. 1992: Banks saw action in four games as a reserve offensive lineman, and was called upon to play a key role in the Aloha Bowl when starter Hessley Hempstead went down with an injury. 1991: Redshirt season.
HIGH SCHOOL: Banks was a three-year letterman at Lexington High School in Lexington, Mo., where he was named first-team all-state and all-conference as an offensive and defensive lineman. He was selected to the National Honor Society.
PERSONAL: Banks, a sports management major at Kansas, was born April 4, 1973 in Lexington, Mo.

L.T. LEVINE — Kansas

Running Back • 5-10 • 210
Birthdate: December 27, 1973
Draft Choice: 7th Round (235th overall) 26

L.T. Levine was the second of two Kansas Jayhawks selected by the Broncos in the seventh round of the 1996 draft, following guard Chris Banks who was chosen with the 226th overall pick. Levine, who started 24 games in his career at Kansas, led the Jayhawks in rushing as a junior and senior and was a two-time All-Big Eight selection out of the backfield, earning second-team kudos in '94 and honorable mention in '95. He finished his career with 2,248 yards on 422 carries (5.3) with 21 touchdowns, caught 41 passes for 194 yards (4.7) and one touchdown, and recorded eight 100-yard games. Levine, one of just six Kansas running backs to account for more than 2,000 yards in his career, figures sixth in Jayhawk annals in rushing yards (2,248) and touchdowns (22). 1995: Levine led the Jayhawks in rushing for the second straight year with 841 yards and eight touchdowns on 156 carries (5.4), and caught 25 passes for 117 yards (4.7) and a touchdown, en route to honorable mention all-conference status. He posted five 100-yard rushing performances to help lead Kansas to a 10-2 record, an Aloha Bowl win over UCLA, a second-place tie in the Big Eight and No. 9 final ranking in the Associated Press poll. Levine recorded a single-game best of 134 yards and two touchdowns versus Texas Christian, and tied a school record for a running back with nine receptions against Nebraska. His other 100-yard games came against Iowa State (116 yards), Houston (104), Oklahoma (101) and Missouri (101). 1994: Levine led Kansas with 803 yards and 11 touchdowns on 128 carries (6.3), and caught six passes for 31 yards (5.2) and one touchdown to earn second-team All-Big Eight honors. His 11 rushing touchdowns and 66 points both topped all other Jayhawks, his 803 rushing yards figured sixth in the conference and his 6.3 yards-per-carry average was the best by a Kansas back since 1976. Levine closed the season with a career-high 221 yards (the seventh-highest single-game rushing performance in KU history) and a touchdown on 25 carries against Missouri, and rushed for 161 yards against Oklahoma State. 1993: Levine played in nine games and started six, finishing second on the team with 542 rushing yards and two touchdowns on 123 carries (4.4). He missed three games with a groin injury, but still ranked ninth in the league with an average of 60.2 yards per game, and caught 10 passes for 46 yards. 1992: Levine played in five games in a reserve role as a freshman, rushing for 62 yards on 15 carries (4.1). His best game came against Tulsa when he rushed for 30 yards, including an 18-yard scamper. Levine closed his true freshman campaign with 26 yards on six carries against Brigham Young in the Aloha Bowl.

HIGH SCHOOL: Levine rushed for 1,580 yards on 125 carries (12.6) as a senior at Colonia High School in Colonia, N.J., earning first-team all-state (Group III), all-area and all-league honors.

PERSONAL: Levine, an African Studies major at Kansas, was born Dec. 27, 1973 in Staten Island, N.Y. His full name is LeTrell Tauriq Levine.

BRIAN GRAGERT — Wyoming

Punter • 6-1 • 228
Birthdate: August 14, 1972
Draft Choice: 7th Round (236th overall) 4

Brian Gragert was the only punter chosen in the 1996 NFL Draft, selected 236th overall by Denver in the seventh round. The 6-1, 228-pounder was a two-time All-Western Athletic Conference first-team selection at Wyoming, where he punted 232 times during his career, just eight shy of the school record. He averaged 40.6 yards per punt — boosted by a 45.2 mark his senior year — and placed 77 of his punts inside the opponents' 20-yard line. 1995: Gragert was a second-team All-America choice by The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft and by Football News, as well as earning first-team All-WAC honors. He became the first Wyoming Cowboy to lead the WAC in punting in consecutive seasons since '68 and '69, and ranked second in the nation with a 45.2-yard gross average and a 40.6-yard net average. He punted 40 times for 1,808 yards and had none of his kicks blocked and only 13 returned. Gragert began the season with a 67-yarder versus Air Force and averaged 51.3 yards on three attempts in a 52-6 trouncing of Hawaii. He added a 68-yarder against Oklahoma State and a 67-yarder versus Tulsa to earn AT&T Long Distance Award weekly honors for both kicks. 1994: Gragert earned first-team All-WAC and Academic All-WAC honors for a fine junior campaign in which he led the conference with 72 punts for 3,014 yards (41.9), including 22 that were downed inside the 20-yard line, and just 29 that were returned. He punted seven times for a 48.7-yard average (341 yards) with a long of 67 yards in a 28-14 defeat of Northeast Louisiana. He topped that with a 55.2-yard average (5 for 276) versus Air Force. 1993: Gragert was a WAC Scholar-Athlete and Academic All-WAC selection, punting 53 times for 2,134 yards (40.3) and ranking ninth in the nation with a 39.3-yard net average. He boomed a 65-yarder against New Mexico and followed that with a 68-yarder that was downed inside the 5-yard line in the Colorado State contest. 1992: Gragert handled 67 punts for 2,461 yards (36.7) and had just 26 punts returned. He recorded a 53-yarder against San Jose State and a season-best 64-yarder in a 31-14 win over Colorado State. 1991: Redshirt season.

HIGH SCHOOL: Gragert earned 12 letters in football, basketball, baseball and track at Elkhorn High School in Elkhorn, Neb., where he was also a two-time state Class B discus champion. He earned all-state honors as a defensive back and running back his senior year and was named co-captain in the 1991 Nebraska Shrine Bowl.

PERSONAL: Gragert, an electrical engineering major at Wyoming, was born Aug. 14, 1972 in Lincoln, Neb.

1995 GAME SUMMARIES WEEK-BY-WEEK

DENVER 22, BUFFALO 7
Sept. 3, 1995 • Mile High Stadium, Denver

The Denver Broncos opened the Mike Shanahan era with one of their most impressive defensive performances in recent years in a 22-7 victory over the Buffalo Bills in front of 75,157 and a TNT national television audience.

The Broncos opened the scoring with a 22-yd field goal by Jason Elam just 2:28 into the game. Elam's field goal was set up by the first of many John Elway to Shannon Sharpe connections on the evening, the first one going for 49 yards on Denver's first play from scrimmage. The Bills then countered with a seven-play, 77-yard drive, culminating with a 34-yard TD strike from Jim Kelly to Andre Reed. However, it was to be Buffalo's only score of the night.

In the second stanza, the Elam field goal clinic continued, as he connected on three of four attempts, including a 52-yarder on the first play of the quarter, the second longest of his career. By halftime, Elway had hooked up with Sharpe five times for 117 yards, the most yardage receiving in a half for Sharpe in his career, to help he Broncos build a 12-7 advantage.

In the third quarter, the Broncos' stingy defense took center stage, as they put up a goal-line stand midway through the period to prevent the Bills from taking the lead. On fourth-and-goal from the one, Steve Atwater stuffed fullback Carwell Gardner's run attempt up the middle to preserve the Broncos' five-point advantage.

In the fourth quarter, Elway and Sharpe hooked up four more times, the last one being a 14-yarder that began Denver's only touchdown drive of the night. A nine-play, 84-yard drive was capped by a three-yard plunge by rookie Terrell Davis, scoring the first touchdown of his career and putting the game out of reach.

On the night, the Broncos' defense allowed the Bills only 234 total yards, including just 60 on the ground. The yardage and point outputs were the lowest given up by a Denver defense since a 13-3 victory at Chicago in 1993 when they gave up 185 yards in total offense. Davis, who was only the sixth running back in Bronco history to start in his first game as a pro, finished the evening with 70 yards on 20 carries and one TD.

Sharpe tied a career high with 10 receptions and set a career high with 180 receiving yards. Elway had 317 yards through the air on 22 of 41 passing and one INT, and Elam tied a club record with five field goals in a game, a record he now shares with Rich Karlis and Gene Mingo, who set their records in 1983 and 1963, respectively. Elam also moved past David Treadwell into the number one spot among all-time field goal percentage by a Bronco kicker at 78.2%.

The win improved the Broncos' opening day record to 22-13-1, best in AFC history and second best in NFL history, and also improved their home record since 1985 to 60-21, best in the AFC and second best in the NFL, and their home record since 1975 to 115-40-1, best in the NFL.

DALLAS 31, DENVER 21
Sept. 10, 1995 • Texas Stadium, Dallas, Texas

The Broncos saw their record drop to 1-1 with a 31-21 setback at the hands of the Dallas Cowboys. It was the Broncos' first trip to Texas Stadium since 1977.

The Broncos held their own in the first half, as both teams' defenses dominated play, leading to a scoreless first quarter. The Broncos' best scoring chance came when Steve Atwater intercepted a Troy Aikman pass on Dallas' third play from scrimmage and returned it to the Cowboy 30. But the Cowboys defense pushed the Broncos back 10 yards on their ensuing drive, forcing a punt.

In the second quarter, Dallas cornerback Larry Brown picked off a John Elway pass and returned it to Denver's six-yard line. Two plays later, Aikman connected with Daryl Johnston for a five-yard score and a 7-0 Dallas lead. An Aikman two-yard run made the score 14-0 before the Broncos offense finally got untracked. Elway led Denver on an 11-play, 80-yard drive, culminating with an 11-yard TD pass to Anthony Miller, the 200th touchdown pass of Elway's career.

The second half mostly belonged to Dallas, as they used up 13:26 of the third quarter on two touchdown drives that were sandwiched around an Elway to Miller 59-yard TD hook-up. The second Cowboy drive ended with a one-yard TD run by Emmitt Smith to start the fourth quarter and gave Dallas a 28-14 lead. They tacked on a field goal to make the score 31-14 before the Broncos got one more score with :47 remaining on Miller's third TD grab of the day, this one a three-yarder from backup QB Hugh Millen.

Smith led all rushers in the game with 114 yards on 26 carries and one TD, while Miller set a career high in touchdown grabs and became the first Bronco since 1993 to have more than one receiving touchdown in a game. Elway surpassed the 200-TD plateau in the loss, becoming the 19th professional player to do so in a career.

DENVER 38, WASHINGTON 31
Sept. 17, 1995 • Mile High Stadium, Denver

The Broncos capped an explosive offensive day by saving the biggest fireworks for last, as John Elway connected with Rod Smith on a 43-yard bomb on the last play of regulation to give Denver (2-1) a 38-31 victory over the Washington Redskins (1-2) in front of 71,930 raucous fans. It was the first time in franchise history that the Broncos had won a game with a touchdown on the final play of regulation. It was also the first-ever reception and first ever-touchdown in the NFL for Smith. The play capped a ballgame in which the Broncos could never put the Redskins away, until it really counted.

After a scoreless and mostly uneventful first period, both teams' offenses picked it up in the second stanza, especially the Broncos, whose 24-point outburst in the quarter tied the second-highest single-quarter total in club history, with only a 26-point barrage at the New York Jets on Dec. 3, 1967 topping this mark.

Jason Elam opened the scoring with 20-yard FG 1:46 into the period. After Washington took a 7-3 advantage, Denver proceeded to go on a nine-play, 73-yard drive, capped by a one-yard TD run by Rod Bernstine to give Denver a 10-7 lead. Elway, who threw for 327 yards on the day, then connected with rookie RB Terrell Davis on an eight-yard TD, Davis' first NFL touchdown reception, to put the Broncos up 17-7. On Washington's ensuing possession, Gus Frerotte's first pass was deflected by DE Dan Williams and then intercepted by LB Elijah Alexander, setting up a four-play, 30-yard drive, capped by a six-yard TD run by Davis to make the score 24-7. The Redskins answered with a late TD to make the halftime score 24-14 Denver.

The third quarter belonged to Washington, as they outscored the Broncos 10-0 to even the score heading into the fourth quarter. The key factor in the period was the kick returning of Washington's Brian Mitchell, who had a 26-yard kickoff return to set up the Redskins touchdown drive, and a 52-yard punt return to set up Washington's field goal drive.

In the fourth quarter, the two teams exchanged possessions before Denver finally mustered up a 13-play, 80-yard drive that ended with Davis' third touchdown of the day, a one-yard plunge, to give Denver a 31-24 advantage. The lead, however, would not last long, as Freotte marched the 'Skins right down the field on an eight-play, 40-yard touchdown drive that was set up by a 56-yard kickoff return by Mitchell.

The Broncos started the game-winning drive on their own 20-yard line and used seven plays and 1:01 off the clock to move 37 yards and get to the 'Skins 43-yard, where they came up on a fourth-down situation with :06 to go in regulation. Smith, in the game due to injuries to Anthony Miller and Ed McCaffrey, took off up the left sideline with Washington's perennial all-pro cornerback Darrell Green covering him one-on-one. Elway spotted Smith and launched a desperation bullet in his direction. The 6'-0" Smith easily outleaped the 5'-8" Green for the ball and landed in the endzone, giving the Broncos the miraculous victory.

For Denver, Davis' three-touchdown afternoon tied a team record that had been most recently set by WR Anthony Miller just one week earlier at Dallas. The victory also improved Denver's NFL-best home record since 1975 to 116-40-1.

SAN DIEGO 17, DENVER 6

Sept. 24, 1995 • Jack Murphy Stadium, San Diego, Calif.

The Broncos began a three-game road trip on a sour note, dropping a 17-6 decision to their division rivals, the San Diego Chargers in front of 58,978 fans at Jack Murphy Stadium. In a game dominated by defense, the Chargers defense proved to be the strongest against an injury plagued Bronco offense that managed only 12 first downs and 65 yards rushing for the game.

After a scoreless first period, Denver got on the board first on a 23-yard field goal by Jason Elam. It was the first and only time that Denver would taste the lead on the afternoon. The Chargers answered with a 14-play, 73-yard drive, capped by a three-yard TD run by Natrone Means to give San Diego a 7-3 halftime advantage.

Both defenses continued their domination into the fourth quarter, as Elam's second field goal of the day from 52 yards out was the only scoring of the third quarter.

By the fourth quarter, the Chargers had worn down the Broncos defense, and another 14-play drive of 86 yards, capped by Means' second TD run, a two yarder, put the Chargers up by a 14-6 margin. Denver, unable to overcome the loss of four offensive starters, could not muster a threat in the fourth quarter, and a 45-yard field goal by San Diego's John Carney put the game out of reach at 17-6.

John Elway finished the day with 186 yards on 19 of 34 passing (55.9%), but was all but without the services of TE Shannon Sharpe and WR Mike Pritchard, who both played sparingly due to injury, while FB Rod Bernstine and starting center Tom Nalen did not play at all because of injury. Broncos safety Steve Atwater finished as the leading tackler for Denver with nine stops.

GAME 5
SEATTLE 27, DENVER 10
Oct. 1, 1995 • Kingdome, Seattle, Wash.

The Broncos' road woes continued in Week Five as they dropped a 27-10 decision to the Seattle Seahawks in front of 49,914 at the Kingdome. The Broncos had their chances early to take control of the football game, but never capitalized on them, and then the Seahawks running game took over in the second half.

After marching 64 yards on the opening drive of the game, the Broncos' scoring chance was thwarted when QB John Elway fumbled on a fourth-and-one situation. The game remained scoreless into the second period, when Denver mounted another scoring attempt, only to have Jason Elam misfire on a 23-yard field goal attempt.

The Seahawks would finally capitalize on the Broncos' misfortunes, marching 88 yards on nine plays right before halftime, capping the drive with a one-yard TD plunge by Chris Warren to take a 7-0 lead. After Elam missed his second kick of the half — this time from 52 yards — Seattle's Rick Mirer connected on two straight passes to get the Seahawks into field goal range, and Todd Peterson's 45-yard field goal with :02 left in the half gave Seattle a 10-0 halftime advantage.

The third quarter started off the way the first half ended for the Broncos, as Seattle took the second half kickoff and proceeded to march 92 yards in 13 plays with Warren's second TD run of the day, from four yards out, giving the Seahawks a 17-0 lead.

The Bronco could get no closer than 14 points from that point on, as they finally got in the endzone with 7:48 to play in the game on an Elway-to-Pritchard 26-yard connection, making the score 24-10. But Seattle's running game, which totaled 230 yards on the day, ate up most of the rest of the clock and a 20-yard field goal by Peterson with 1:56 remaining ended any Bronco hopes of a victory.

GAME 6
DENVER 37, NEW ENGLAND 3
Oct. 8, 1995 • Foxboro Stadium, Foxboro, Mass.

The Denver Broncos used an aggressive defense and a big-play offense to produce their first road victory of the season in a 37-3 win over the New England Patriots in front of 60,074 at Foxboro Stadium. In what was the most dominating performance by the Broncos to date during the 1995 season, they forced two turnovers, stopped the Patriots five-out-of-five times on fourth down situations, and produced nine plays that gained 15 yards or more.

The Broncos took control of the game from the outset, building a 14-0 lead midway through the first period. On their third possession, Aaron Craver finished an eight-play, 57-yard drive with a one-yard plunge. On New England's next possession, Michael Dean Perry busted throught the Patriot line and forced a Drew Bledsoe fumble, which was recovered by Harald Hasselbach at the New England 21-yard line. Three plays later, rookie sensation Terrell Davis scored from one yard out to give Denver a two-touchdown advantage. The rest of the first half was a field goal contest that was won by Jason Elam over the Patriots Matt Bahr 3-1, and Denver took a 23-3 lead to the locker room at the half.

The second half was a carbon copy of the first, as Denver continued to shut down Bledsoe and the Patriot offense, twice stopping them on fourth-down situations and forcing another fumble in the third quarter. Meanwhile, the offense, which had struggled the previous two weeks, continued to excel, as John Elway connected on TD scores of 60 yards to Anthony Miller and one yard to Shannon Sharpe, and the Broncos had a 37-3 lead by quarter's end.

The victory improved Elway's record against the Patriots to 7-0 for his career and it saw Davis set career highs in rushing yards (97) and carries (24). The defense held an opponent without a touchdown for the first time since a 20-15 victory over San Diego on Oct.23, 1994, and the defense also helped to continue Bledsoe's string of not throwing a touchdown pass to date for the 1995 season.

GAME 7
DENVER 27, OAKLAND 0
Oct. 16, 1995 • Mile High Stadium, Denver

For the second consecutive week, the Broncos put on an impressive display on both sides of the ball, as they easily defeated their arch-rival, the Oakland Raiders 27-0 before a sellout crowd of 75,964 and a national television Monday Night Football audience. The victory enabled the Broncos to close the gap between them and the division-leading Raiders to one game, with Kansas City still two games ahead.

From the second snap of the game, it was apparent that this would be a Bronco night. Safety Steve Atwater intercepted a Jeff Hostetler pass, setting up the first of four Jason Elam field goals to give Denver a 3-0 lead.

As the second quarter began, Denver embarked on an 11-play, 65-yard drive that produced another Elam field goal and a 6-0 advantage. Meanwhile, the Broncos defense was suffocating the Raiders offense from every angle, forcing two first half turnovers and pressuring Raider quarterback Jeff Hostetler into a 10-24, 92-yard first half performance. The Broncos offense finally got on the board late in the second quarter when Elway connected with Anthony Miller for a 33-yard touchdown. A two-point conversion made the score 14-0 Denver at the half.

The Broncos' dominance of this ballgame intensified in the second half, as they held the Raiders to 12 yards of total offense for the second and third quarters combined, while rolling up 338 of their own to open a 24-0 lead after three quarters. Elam added his third short field goal, and then Elway and Miller hooked up yet again, this time from 36 yards out. Miller, who finished the night with 149 yards on seven receptions, became the first Bronco to catch touchdown passes in consecutive games since he himself did it in games 11 and 12 of the 1994 season.

The shutout was the first for Denver since September 1992 against Cleveland and the first at Mile High Stadium since December 1987 against San Diego. In the game, the Broncos also held the Raiders without a rushing first down, the first time in team history that they had ever accomplished that feat.

Elway, who moved past Johnny Unitas and Joe Montana into fourth place all-time in total yards, and also passed Dan Fouts to move into third place all-time in pass attempts, finished the evening 23-46 for 324 yards (his 30th 300-yard passing game) and two touchdowns. The victory snapped a five-game regular season losing streak to the Raiders.

GAME 8
KANSAS CITY 21, DENVER 7
Oct. 22, 1995 • Mile High Stadium, Denver

The Broncos saw their two-game winning streak come to an end as the Kansas City Chiefs used a ball control, error-free offense to control the clock and the Broncos by the score of 21-7 before 71,044 in the rain and snow at Mile High Stadium. It also marked the first time in three games that Denver had given up a touchdown to their opponent.

From the outset, John Elway and the Bronco offense struggled with the poor weather conditions, as Elway was intercepted deep in Chiefs territory on the Broncos first possession. Later in the quarter, Denver did manage to break on top 7-0, as Elway connected with Shannon Sharpe for a 10-yard touchdown, capping a seven-play, 30-yard drive that was set up by Glyn Milburn's 24-yard punt return. But the Chiefs quickly countered with a score of their own, as Steve Bono scored from one-yard out to even things at seven as the first quarter ended.

In the second quarter, an Elway fumble on third-and-one from the Broncos' 29 was recovered by the Chiefs, and four plays later, Bono connected with Lake Dawson for a 14-yard touchdown and a 14-7 Kansas City lead at the half.

From the third quarter on, the Chiefs ground game took matters into its own hands, led by Marcus Allen's 121-yard performance, including his 100th career rushing touchdown that gave Kansas City a 21-7 lead midway through the third quarter. The Broncos managed to get into Kansas City territory on their next two drives, but were unable to produce any points.

The Chiefs outrushed the Broncos 171 to 85, but Elway did manage 214 yards passing on 21-40 and a touchdown. He moved to within 248 yards of 40,000 yards passing for his career. Rookie running back Terrell Davis also had 108 total yards on the day.

GAME 9
DENVER 38, ARIZONA 6
Nov. 5, 1995 • Mile High Stadium, Denver

On a milestone afternoon in Bronco history, Denver got back on the winning track with a 38-6 victory over the Arizona Cardinals in front of 71,488 at Mile High Stadium. John Elway helped to Broncos jump out to an early 14-0 advantage, and Denver never looked back. He capped a near-perfect day by reaching the 40,000 yard passing mark for his career late in the fourth quarter, becoming only the seventh player in NFL history and the fourth-quickest to accomplish this feat. On the day, he was 16 of 21 for 256 yards and three touchdowns, his first three-touchdown game since opening day 1994.

The Broncos scored early and often, scoring on all four first half possessions. They took the opening kickoff and drove 69 yards in seven plays, taking a 7-0 advantage on Terrell Davis' 5-yard TD run. On the Cardinals' first play from scrimmage, Bronco safety Steve Atwater forced a fumble by TE Charles Fann which was recovered by LB Allen Aldridge at the Arizona 28. Five plays later, Aaron Craver scored form one yard out and the rout was on.

On the first play of the second quarter, Elway connected with Craver for a one-yard TD, capping a five-play, 61 -yard drive, and giving Denver a 21-3 lead. The defense, led by Aldridge's nine-tackle performance, continued to stymie the Cards offense, limiting them to 40 rushing yards in the first half and 74 for the game.

In the third quarter, the Bronco offense kept the beat going, as Elway hit Anthony Miller with a 47-yard scoring strike to give Denver a 31-7 advantage. Cardinals QB Dave Kreig never could get Arizona going, suffering five sacks along the way to a 17-29, 233-yard performance that saw him running for his life most of the afternoon.

With the game well in hand, the only drama left for the day in the fourth quarter was to see if Elway could reach the 40,000-yard plateau. Needing 11 yards, he hit Craver, who had his first-ever two-touchdown game, with a swing pass for 19 yards, and took another step closer to the Hall of Fame. The moment overshadowed the first 100-yard rushing game of Terrell Davis' career, as he finished with a career-high 135 yards on 22 carries and one TD. Davis' total was also the highest by a running back at Mile High since 1974 and the most ever by a rookie at Mile High. The Broncos also held an opponent under 10 points for the fourth time this season, a feat accomplished in just four previous seasons.

GAME 10
PHILADELPHIA 31, DENVER 13
Nov. 12, 1995 • Veterans Stadium, Philadelphia, Pa.

The up-and-down season of the Broncos took a downward turn in Week 11 at Philadelphia, as the Eagles crossed up the Broncos defense and left the Broncos offense feeling like it needed Red Cross after a 31-13 defeat in front of 60,842 at Veterans Stadium. What looked to be an offensive shootout early on turned into a dominating defensive performance by the Eagles, as the Broncos never got untracked on either side of the football.

A huge reason for the Broncos' offensive woes was the loss of quarterback John Elway on the first play of the second quarter with a mild concussion. The score at the time was 14-7 in Philadelphia's favor, however, neither team had yet to be stopped on offense. Denver's score came on a 46-yard touchdown pass from Elway to Anthony Miller — his eighth receiving touchdown of the year and the 50th of his career. After a 44-yard field goal by Jason Elam brought the Broncos to within four points, the Eagles surprised Denver with their third consecutive pass-dominated drive, leading to their third touchdown, quarterback Rodney Peete's two-yard TD run and a 21-10 halftime lead. The Eagles had entered the contest with the 29th-ranked pass offense in the league.

Hugh Millen, who came in to spell the injured Elway, was able to lead the Broncos to a field goal in the third quarter and cut the deficit to 21-13. After forcing an Eagles punt to start the fourth quarter, Millen drove the Broncos to the Eagle 47 before a safety blitz by Michael Zordich resulted in a sack. Millen fumbled on the play, and the recovery by Eagles DE Mike Mamula was returned to the Bronco 16-yard line. Four plays later Ricky Watters scored from one-yard out to give the Eagles a 15-point advantage.

In the defeat, Millen passed for 127 yards, completing 20 of 29 attempts, TE Shannon Sharpe caught seven passes for 43 yards, Miller had four receptions for 72 yards and a score, and Terrell Davis had 85 yards rushing. Davis' two-week total of 220 rushing yards (including his 135 yards against Arizona) was the highest two-week total by a rookie running back in Bronco history.

GAME 11
DENVER 30, SAN DIEGO 27
Nov. 19, 1995 • Mile High Stadium, Denver

The Broncos fought off a late rally by the San Diego Chargers with the help of a career performance by running back Terrell Davis and a clutch performance from kicker Jason Elam to move to 6-5 and back in the race for a playoff spot. A crowd of 74,681 witnessed the Broncos jump out to a 21-0 first quarter advantage, then use the 36th game-saving drive of John Elway's career to stave off the Chargers.

Glyn Milburn got Denver off to a quick start by returning the opening kickoff 86 yards — the third-longest non-scoring return in team history — setting the Broncos up at the Charger 13-yard line. Three plays later, Davis began his banner day with a two-yard TD run to put Denver up 7-0. The lead grew to 14 on Denver's next possession, as Elway connected with Anthony Miller for the fifth time in the last five games for a touchdown of 30 yards or more, this time hooking up from 34 yards out. The Broncos then closed the first quarter with their third touchdown drive, this time capped by a four-yard TD toss from Elway to Shannon Sharpe. The Chargers tightened things up on the ensuing kickoff, as Andre Coleman raced 91 yards for a score on the last play of the first quarter to make the score 21-7.

The teams exchanged field goals early in the second quarter before Denver's Jason Elam connected for his second three-pointer of the day with :15 left in the half to give Denver a comfortable 27-10 halftime advantage.

In the third stanza, the Chargers began to mount a comeback, adding a field goal and finishing the quarter deep in Broncos territory. On the first play of the fourth quarter, Stan Humphries connected with Ronnie Harmon from 12 yards out to cut Denver's lead to 27-20. On their next possession, the Chargers went on a seven-play, 72-yard TD drive to tie the score at 27. But with 3:43 left to play, Davis began to march the Broncos down the field, carrying on six consecutive plays for 53 of his game- and career-high 176 yards to set up Elam with a 32-yard attempt which he made with two seconds remaining on the clock, his third field goal of the day.

Davis' rushing total was the most by a Bronco rookie running back and the third-highest rushing total in team history. Miller also tied his career-high for touchdowns in a season with nine. The kick by Elam was the closest he has ever come to a game-winning field goal as time expires.

GAME 12
HOUSTON 42, DENVER 33
Nov. 26, 1995 • Astrodome, Houston, Texas

The Broncos lost a battle of the offenses to the Houston Oilers and saw their playoff hopes take a serious hit in a 42-33 defeat that saw Houston score on five of its first six possessions. Only 36,113 saw what was expected to be a low scoring affair turn into a shootout that Denver could not keep pace with. The Oilers racked up 448 yards of total offense (Denver had 472) and produced the most points against a Bronco defense since December 1994 at San Francisco.

The Broncos took the opening kickoff and drove 27 yards in 10 plays and saw Jason Elam connect on a career-long 56-yard field goal, his fifth from 50 yards or more on the season, tying a team record set in 1980 by Fred Steinfort. The kick was also the second-longest in Bronco history, behind a 57-yard boot by Stienfort, also set in 1980. However, on the Oilers second play from scrimmage, rookie RB Rodney Thomas scampered around right end for a 74-yard TD and a 7-3 Houston lead. That was only the beginning of things to come, as John Elway connected with Anthony Miller on 50-yard score on the Broncos' next possession to regain the lead. Houston then answered that score with a Chris Chandler-to-Chris Sanders 36-yard score and a 14-10 Oiler lead at the end of the first quarter.

The Oilers stretched their advantage top 21-10 in quarter number two on a Marion Butts one-yard plunge. Denver answered that score with Terrell Davis' career long run, a 60-yarder for a touchdown, that was also the longest run by a Denver rookie running back in team history. But Houston closed the first half scoring, as Chandler connected with Sanders against, this time from 35 yards out to give Houston a 28-17 halftime advantage.

The Oilers started the second half as hot as they did the ballgame, taking the second half kickoff and driving 72 yards in 12 plays, capped by a 12-yard pass from Chandler to Haywood Jeffires for a 35-17 lead. Denver answered with a one-yard TD run by Aaron Craver and a 35-yard field goal by Elam to pull within eight, but Houston drove 82 yards on nine plays, capped by a Butts five-yard TD run to put Houston ahead 42-27. Another Elway-to-Miller connection, this one from 35 yards out, closed the scoring.

In the game, Elway surpassed Joe Montana and moved into fifth place on the all-time passing yards list and Miller set a personal best with his 10th and 11th touchdown receptions of the season. Shannon Sharpe also added eight receptions for 65 yards and Davis had 110 rushing yards (his 3rd 100-yard game) and 30 receiving yards, enough to make him the all-time single-season rookie total yards from scrimmage leader in Bronco history, surpassing the mark of 1,307 yards set by Bobby Humphrey in 1989.

DENVER 31, JACKSONVILLE 23
Dec. 3, 1995 • Mile High Stadium, Denver

The Broncos improved on their postseason chances with a 31-23 victory over the expansion Jacksonville Jaguars in front of 72,231 at Mile High Stadium. The victory improved Denver's 1995 home record to 6-1.

After a turnover halted their initial possession of the game, the Broncos began to light up the scoreboard, as QB John Elway began an impressive day with a 62-yard TD pass to Anthony Miller, his 12th of the season, one short of the team record. It was also Elway's 12th touchdown pass of the season of 30 yards or more. After a Jaguar field goal cut the lead to 7-3, the Broncos upped their margin on the second play of the second quarter with Elway's second TD toss of he day, this one a six-yarder to Shannon Sharpe. After a Simon Fletcher sack forced a Steve Beuerlein fumble which Denver recovered inside of Jacksonville's 10-yard line, Elway connected with backup tight end Jerry Evans, who was filling in for an injured Sharpe, for a five-yard score. A blocked punt that was recovered for a touchdown by the Jaguars right before the half made the score 21-10 Denver at the intermission.

In the third quarter, Elway made a miraculous cross-field throw of 45 yards to a well-covered Mike Pritchard in the endzone for his fourth touchdown pass of the day and a 28-10 Bronco advantage. It was the third time in Elway's career that he had thrown four TD passes in a game. However, Jacksonville returned the ensuing kickoff 94 yards for a touchdown and the margin was only 12 going into the fourth quarter. A Jason Elam field goal from 38 yards out would give Denver a 31-16 lead and they held on from there.

Elway moved into third place on the all-time list for total yards, surpassing Dan Fouts, and Davis became the first Bronco running back since 1991 (Gaston Green) and first Bronco rookie running back since 1989 (Bobby Humphrey) to rush for 1,000 yards in a season. He also become the lowest drafted player in NFL history to rush for 1,000 yards in his rookie season. Tyrone Braxton also gathered in the Broncos first interception in six games.

GAME 14
SEATTLE 31, DENVER 27
Dec. 10, 1995 • Mile High Stadium, Denver

The Broncos' playoff hopes took a serious hit in a devastating 31-27 loss to the Seattle Seahawks in front of 71,488 at Mile High Stadium, Denver's second loss to Seattle this season. It dropped Denver into a three-way tie for third place in the AFC West.

As in most home games in 1995, the Broncos started out like gangbusters, scoring on their first possession, an Aaron Craver two-yard run. After being stopped on downs at the Seattle one-yard line on their next possession, Denver proceeded to widen their lead to 20-0 on a John Elway-to-Anthony Miller 15-yard TD pass sandwiched by two Jason Elam field goals of 29 and 46 yards. Miller's touchdown was his 13th of the season and made it his sixth consecutive game with a TD reception, both equaling Bronco records. At the half, Denver enjoyed a 20-3 advantage.

The Broncos were driving for a score in the third quarter that could have put the game away, when the biggest play of the game occurred in Seattle's favor. Cornerback Robert Blackmon came on a corner blitz and sacked Elway hard, forcing a fumble that was recovered by Anthony Edwards and returned 83 yards for a touchdown to cut the deficit to 20-10. A Chris Warren TD run of 24 yards in the fourth quarter made the score 20-17. The Broncos quickly re-established a 10 point margin, as Elway snuck over from one yard out to cap a six-play, 54-yard drive.

However, the Seahawks got two late TD passes from backup quarterback John Friesz, who was subbing for an injured Rick Mirer, to pull out the victory. The last one went to Warren from 20 yards out with :57 remaining in the game. Denver's last effort to take the lead died at the own 21-yard line.

The loss negated a history-making performance by reserve running back and return specialist Glyn Milburn. Milburn, subbing for an injured Terrell Davis, produced the first 100-yard rushing game of his career (131), as well as 45 receiving yards, 133 kickoff return yards and 95 punt return yards for an NFL record 404 all-purpose yards in one game, a record that had stood since Dec. 10, 1961 when it was set by Houston's Billy Cannon. Also in the game, Elway moved into fifth place on the all-time list for completions, surpassing Dan Fouts. The loss ended Denver's home season at 6-2.

GAME 15
Dec. 17, 1995 • Arrowhead Stadium, Kansas City, Mo.

An opportunistic Chiefs squad took advantage of key Bronco mistakes to send Denver to their second consecutive loss, 20-17, in front of 75, 061 at Arrowhead Stadium. The loss all but mathematically ended Denver's hopes of returning to the playoffs for the first time since 1993.

From the outset, it appeared as if it would be a tight game that would be decided by turnovers, and it was. On Denver's first possession, Glyn Milburn (starting for an injured Terrell Davis) was hit by the Chiefs' Neil Smith, who recovered the fumble to set up Kansas City's first score and a 7-0 lead. In the second quarter, K.C. widened its margin to 14-0 on a five-yard TD run by quarterback Steve Bono. Right before the half the Broncos got on the scoreboard with their first defensive score of the season, as cornerback Ray Crockett, while sacking Bono, stripped him of the football and returned it 50 yards for a score.

In the third quarter, Denver's defense shut down the Chiefs, but the Broncos could only come up with three points, and entered the fourth quarter trailing 14-10. With 1:52 remaining in the game, John Elway was sacked by Darren Mickell and the subsequent fumble was recovered by Vaughn Booker, who returned it 14 yards for the game-clinching touchdown. The Broncos added a late score, an Elway to Pritchard three-yard TD, to make the final score 20-17.

The Broncos closed the 1995 season on a positive note with a 31-28 come-from-behind victory against the Oakland Raiders in front of 50,074 at the Oakland Coliseum. The victory enabled the Broncos to finish the season with an 8-8 record and their first season sweep of the Raiders since 1987.

The opening moments of the ballgame were controlled by the Raiders, who forced the Broncos to go three-and-out on their first possession and then jumped out to a 7-0 lead on Darrell Hobbs' 11-yard TD reception from Billy Joe Hobert. However, Denver quickly countered with a nine-play, 68-yard drive, capped by Anthony Miller's team-record 14th touchdown reception of the year from two yards out to tie the score at 7-7. His touchdown also tied the team record for most total touchdowns in a season, set by Sammy Winder in 1986. On the next play from scrimmage, Harald Hasselbach recovered Oakland running back Napoleon Kaufman's fumble at the Raider 15, and four plays later Aaron Craver bowled over from the one-yard line to give Denver a 14-7 lead. An Oakland touchdown was then countered by a 45-yard Jason Elam field goal as time expired to end the first half with Denver holding a 17-14 advantage.

The second half started out much like the first, as the Broncos turned the ball over on their first two possessions and saw Oakland score 14 unanswered points to take a 28-17 lead heading into the fourth stanza. From that point on, the master of the comeback, QB John Elway took over, first leading Denver on a 12-play, 79-yard drive to set up an Elam field goal, then following with a 13-play, 87-yard drive, capped by a four-yard TD pass (his club-record 26th of the year) to Ed McCaffrey, who made an amazing juggling catch while falling backwards across the goal line. Elway then dove in from two yards out for a two-point conversion that tied the score at 28. Elway then completed his NFL-record 37th fourth-quarter come-from-behind victory by directing a nine-play, 53-yard drive, including a key 25-yard completion to Mike Pritchard early in the drive, setting up Elam's 37-yarder with 0:48 left in the game. The Broncos then snuffed out Oakland's final attempt to tie the game and knocked the Raiders out of playoff contention.

In the game, FB Aaron Craver established career highs in carries (20) and yards rushing (108) in a game, while McCaffrey established a career-high in receptions with six. KR Glyn Milburn also established a new team record for kick return yards in a season (1,269), besting the old mark of 1,245 set by Odell Barry in 1964.

1996 BRONCOS ROSTER BREAKDOWNS

Mike Shanahan took over as head coach of the Broncos in 1995 and assumed full control of football operations, immediately setting out to acquire the talent necessary to return the franchise to Super Bowl contention. In his two off-seasons, Shanahan has sought to acquire that talent through free agency, trades, and the annual college draft.

WHERE DID THE NAME DENVER BRONCOS COME FROM?

The name "Denver Broncos" was chosen from 500 entries in a name-the-team contest in January, 1960. The name was suggested by Ward M. Vining of Lakewood. But the football team isn't the first Denver Broncos. Denver's 1921 entry in the Midwest Baseball League was also called the Broncos.

DENVER BRONCOS STARTERS, 1960-95

Listed below are the usual starters, by position, for the Denver Broncos on a season-by-season basis from 1960-95. A player must have been the starter for the majority of the games that season to be designated as the starter. If the number of starting assignments at a position were virtually equal, two players have been listed, with the player who had the greater playing time listed first. The term "Ret" is used to designate someone who was a kick return specialist.

BRONCOS PLAYOFF GAME SUMMARIES

WILD CARD PLAYOFF GAME

LOS ANGELES RAIDERS 42, DENVER 24

LOS ANGELES, CA, Jan 9 — The Broncos returned to the playoffs after a one-year hiatus and faced the L.A. Raiders for the second time in as many weeks, but unlike the previous week, this time it was a do-or-die situation for both teams. Early on the game looked to have the makings of a defensive struggle, with both teams going four downs and out on their first possession, but the game's pace quickly picked up on the second possession. The Raiders struck first on a seven-play, 80-yard drive that was capped off with a nine-yard touchdown pass from QB Jeff Hostetler to TE Ethan Horton. QB John Elway and the Broncos responded with a drive of their own, going 63 yards in seven plays, as Elway hooked up with TE Shannon Sharpe for a 23-yard touchdown. The Raiders bounced back with a 65-yard TD toss to WR Tim Brown to take a 14-7 lead. The Broncos, not to be out done, drove 64 yards in 11 plays setting up a 16-yard TD toss from Elway to TE Reggie Johnson to tie the score. Hostetler continued to be red hot on the Raiders' next possession, leading the Raiders 84 yards in just five plays. WR James Jett helped pad Hostetler's totals by catching a 54-yard TD pass in the five-play drive. As bad as the Bronco defense looked in three straight possessions, the Bronco offense picked up the slack. In the Broncos' last drive of the half, the offense chewed up nearly seven minutes and went 77 yards to tie the score 14-14. WR Derek Russell was on the receiving end of a six-yard TD pass that tied the score, but the real hero of the drive was John Elway. Elway completed passes to six different receivers on the drive and showed his versatility by running twice. At the half both teams had showed how potent their offenses could be, racking up nearly 500 yards of total offense combined. In the second half good things continued to happen for the Raiders, but for the Broncos, their playoff advancement hopes quickly began to fade. After receiving the opening kickoff of the second half, the Broncos failed to move the ball on their first three possessions, giving the Raiders great field position after three punts that averaged 30 yards by P Tom Rouen. The Raiders took advantage of the field position, starting drives at the Denver 43 and 35, and their own 48. The Raiders punted on their first possession to the Bronco three, but in their next two possessions they hit paydirt, scoring touchdowns on drives of three and five plays to take a commanding 35-21 lead. The Broncos made a dent in the score at the beginning of the fourth period on a 33-yard field goal by K Jason Elam, but the Raiders responded to that with a 10-play, 76-yard drive that was capped by Napoleon McCallum's third touchdown of the game from one yard out. That would prove to be all of the scoring, as the Raiders walked away with a 42-24 victory.

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

BUFFALO 10, DENVER 7

ORCHARD PARK, N.Y., Jan 12 — The Broncos were denied their fifth AFC Championship, losing 10-7 to the Bills before 80,272 in Rich Stadium. Denver's defense shut down the high-powered Buffalo offense, limiting it to just 213 total yards and only 12 first downs, but the Bronco offense failed to capitalize on several first-half opportunities. Buffalo punted after its first two drives netted minus two yards. On the second play of the Bills' third possession, NT Greg Kragen deflected a pass at the line and turned and dove for the ball, making an interception on the Buffalo 29. After three plays gave Denver a third-and-11 on the 30, David Treadwell's 47-yard field goal attempt sailed wide right. The defense rose up again to thwart the Bills and the Broncos began their next drive on their own 24. Fifteen plays into the drive, on fourth-and-19 from the Buffalo 24, Treadwell attempted a 42-yard field goal but the ball hit the right upright. Once again the Bills punted after failing to get a first down, and a 10-yard punt return by Vance Johnson set Denver up on the 50. On first down, QB John Elway threw a middle screen to RB Steve Sewell, who gained 26 yards to the Buffalo 24. The Broncos could move no closer than the 20, and David Treadwell's 37-yard attempt hit the right upright, ending the last scoring threat of the first half. Through the first two quarters Denver outgained the Bills 123 yards to 58, had nine first downs to Buffalo's three, and had a time of possession of 20:19, but at halftime the score stood at 0-0. The Bills' second drive of the third quarter began at their 20 and 11 plays later they faced a third-and-seven on Denver's 26. Kelly attempted to hit WR James Lofton but CB Tyrone Braxton intercepted the ball and returned to the Denver 19. On second-and-ten Elway attempted another middle screen to Sewell, but LB Carlton Bailey picked off the pass and ran 11 yards for a touchdown. The Broncos' first possession of the fourth quarter began with Gary Kubiak at quarterback, replacing Elway, who left the game with an injured thigh muscle. Kubiak drove Denver from its 21 to the Buffalo 23, but the Broncos failed to convert a fourth down attempt. The Bills then drove 50 yards in nine plays to score on a 44-yard field goal by Scott Norwood. Now down 10-0, Kubiak engineered a frantic drive in which Denver covered 85 yards in eight plays, and Kubiak scored a three-yard quarterback draw to pull Denver within three points. The ensuing onside kick was recovered by the Broncos' Steve Atwater, and Denver began its last chance drive on its 49 with 1:43 left on the clock and two time-outs. On first down, Kubiak hit Sewell for seven yards, but CB Kirby Jackson stripped the ball away and he recovered on the Buffalo 44. The Bronco defense forced the Bills to punt, but Denver could only reach the 50 as time ran out. Kubiak, playing his final game as a pro, outgained both Elway and Kelly, completing 11 of 12 passes for 136 yards.

AFC Divisional Playoff Game

Denver 26, Houston 24

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 4 — The Denver Broncos advanced to their fourth AFC Championship Game in six years after defeating Houston 26-24 before 75,301 in Mile High Stadium. David Treadwell's 28-yard field goal with 20 seconds remaining capped a 12-play, 78-yard drive in which the Broncos converted two fourth down plays. On the first play of the game, QB Warren Moon connected with WR Haywood Jeffries for a 49-yard gain, giving the Oilers a first down on the Denver 21. Two plays later Moon hit Jeffries for 15 yards and a score, giving Houston a 7-0 lead with only 1:46 gone in the game. After a Denver punt, Moon again drove his team down the field and threw his second TD pass, this one for nine yards to WR Drew Hill. The Broncos started their next possession on their 35 and covered 65 yards in eight plays to score on a 10-yard pass from QB John Elway to WR Vance Johnson, but a fumbled snap on the conversion attempt left the score 14-6. On the sixth play of the ensuing Oilers' drive, Moon was intercepted by FS Steve Atwater, but a roughing the passer call nullified the effort. Three plays later Houston scored on a six-yard pass from Moon to WR Curtis Duncan. The next Oilers' possession ended when Atwater intercepted a pass and gave Denver the ball on its own 12 with 6:03 left in the half. In a drive that saw Elway complete all six passes for 64 yards, and Steve Sewell complete one to Johnson for 10, the Broncos covered 88 yards in 12 plays to score on a one-yard run by RB Greg Lewis, cutting the Houston lead to 21-13. Denver reached the Houston 30 on its first possession of the second half, but Elway was intercepted by CB Richard Johnson and the Oilers took over on their 33. That led to a 33-yard field goal attempt by Al Del Greco, but the ball sailed wide right. The Broncos then drove from their 20 to Houston's 31 and David Treadwell nailed a 49-yard field goal, the longest in Denver postseason history. Now up by only five at 21-16, the Oilers reached the Broncos' seven on their next drive, but had to settle for a 25-yard field goal. Denver started on its 20 and nine plays later faced a fourth-and-four from the Houston 41. Elway threw a short pass to WR Michael Young, who broke two tackles and was finally brought down on Houston's 15, a gain of 26 yards. Three plays later Lewis bowled over from one for his second TD of the day, making the score 24-23 in favor of Houston. The Oilers' next drive stalled and Greg Montgomery punted to the Denver two. With 2:07 and no time outs remaining, Elway hit Young for a 22-yard gain on first down, but three plays later the Broncos had a fourth-and-six on the 28. Elway dropped back, then scrambled left upfield and ran out of bounds a yard past the first down marker. Three straight incompletions again left Denver with a do-or-die fourth down situation. Elway again dropped back and scrambled left, but as he headed upfield he tossed a pass to Johnson, who ran to the Houston 21 for a 44-yard gain. RB Steve Sewell ran for 10 yards on first down, and two plays later Treadwell came on for the winning kick.

SUPER BOWL XXIV

SAN FRANCISCO 55, DENVER 10

NEW ORLEANS, LA., Jan. 28 — The San Francisco Forty-Niners captured their fourth World Championship with a 55-10 victory over Denver in Super Bowl XXIV, played in the New Orleans Superdome. San Francisco QB Joe Montana completed 22 of 29 passes for 297 yards and five touchdowns, three to WR Jerry Rice. The Forty-Niners scored two touchdowns in every quarter and outgained the Broncos 461 yards to 167. After stopping Denver on the game's initial possession, San Francisco drove 66 yards in 10 plays, scoring on a 20-yard pass from Montana to Rice. The Broncos next possession covered 49 yards in 10 plays and resulted in a 42-yard field goal by David Treadwell. After limiting the Niners to four yards on their next drive, Denver took possession on its own 49, but on first down RB Bobby Humphrey fumbled and DE Kevin Fagan recovered for San Francisco on the Niners' 46. That turnover led to a seven-yard TD pass from Montana to TE Brent Jones, and after a failed extra point attempt, San Francisco led 13-3 with three seconds left in the first quarter. The Broncos failed to cross midfield in the second period while the Niners scored on a one-yard run by RB Tom Rathman and a 38-yard pass from Montana to Rice. San Francisco was unable to move the ball to the initial drive of the second half, but Elway was intercepted on the first play of Denver's next drive and the Niners took possession on the Broncos' 28. On first down Montana threw a TD pass to Rice to put his team up 34-3. The next Denver drive also ended with an interception, leading to a 35-yard scoring pass from Montana to WR John Taylor. The Broncos, spurred by a 34-yard run by Humphrey, moved 61 yards in five plays and a penalty to score on a three-yard run by Elway. San Francisco roared back with an 11-play, 75-yard drive that ended with a three-yard TD run by Rathman. Following another Bronco fumble, RB Roger Craig plowed one-yard into the endzone to round out the scoring.

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

DENVER 37, CLEVELAND 21

DENVER, COLO., Jan. 14 — The Denver Broncos won their third American Football Conference Championship in four years with a dynamic 37-21 victory over Cleveland before 76,005 fans in Mile High Stadium. Broncos QB John Elway threw for 385 yards and three TDs, RB Sammy Winder tied a Denver postseason record with two touchdowns, and SS Dennis Smith nabbed two of the Broncos' three interceptions. Denver had 497 yards of total offense to the Browns' 256 and had a time of possession of 36:53. The Broncos took the opening kickoff and drove to the Cleveland one, but on third down, Elway's pitch to RB Bobby Humphrey was fumbled and the Browns' Andrew Stewart recovered on the eight. With five minutes left in the first quarter, Smith picked off a Bernie Kosar pass and returned it to the Cleveland 32. Denver moved to the Cleveland 12 but had to settle for a 29-yard field goal by David Treadwell. Neither team mounted scoring drives until the Broncos took possession on their own 18 with 6:54 left in the half. On first down Elway hit WR Mark Jackson for 12 yards, and three plays later he connected with WR Michael Young for a 70-yard touchdown play. The Browns took the opening kickoff to the second half and drove 70 yards in six plays, scoring on a 27-yard pass from Kosar to Brian Brennan. Denver roared right back on its next possession, going 80 yards in six plays and scoring on a five-yard pass from Elway to TE Orson Mobley. The key play on that drive was a 53-yard pass from Elway to Young. Cleveland was unable to move the ball and punted back to Denver. The Broncos moved from their own 40, and buoyed by a 25-yard run by Elway, covered 60 yards in six plays and scored a seven-yard run by Winder, making the score 24-7. The Browns needed just six plays to go 72 yards and score on a 10-yard Kosar-to-Brennan pass, and two plays into Denver's next drive, Cleveland's Felix Wright recovered a Denver fumble and returned it to the Bronco one. One second down Tim Manoa barreled over from the two, cutting Denver's lead to 24-21 with one second left in the third quarter. The Broncos shut out the Browns in the final quarter while posting 13 points. Their initial drive of the quarter covered 80 yards in six plays and ended with a 39-yard touchdown pass from Elway to Winder. Denver's Kip Corrington intercepted Kosar to set the Broncos up on the Cleveland 39. Denver got as far as the Browns' 17 but had to settle for a 34-yard Treadwell field goal. Smith grabbed his second interception to end the Browns' next drive, leading to a 31-yard field goal.

AFC Divisional Playoff Game

Denver 24, Pittsburgh 23

DENVER, COLO., Jan. 7 — The Denver Broncos advanced to their third AFC Championship Game in four years with a come-from-behind 24-23 victory over the Steelers before 75,868 in Mile High Stadium. Although Pittsburgh held the upper hand in total yards, 404 to 364, and time of possession, 34:14 to 25:46, Denver was able to mount a late fourth quarter drive and score the winning touchdown with just 2:27 remaining. The Steelers took the opening kickoff and drove 65 yards in 13 plays, scoring on a 32-yard Gary Anderson field goal. Late in the opening quarter Pittsburgh took possession at its own seven-yard line, but on first down RB Merrill Hoge ran for 45 yards to the Bronco 48. Quarterback Bubby Brister connected with RB Tim Worley for a 33-yard gain on the next play, and three plays later Hoge scored on a seven-yard run to put Pittsburgh up 10-0. The Broncos took their first possession of the second quarter and drove 75 yards in 12 plays to score on a one-yard plunge by RB Mel Bratton on third-and-goal. The Steelers roared back, traveling 77 yards in 12 plays to score on a nine-yard pass from Bristler to WR Louis Lipps. The Broncos got the ball back on their own 33 with 20 seconds left in the half. On first down, QB John Elway and WR Mark Jackson combined for 26 yards, and then Elway fired a 15-yard pass to WR Ricky Nattiel, giving Denver the ball on the Pittsburgh 26 with two seconds left. David Treadwell kicked a 43-yard field, making the score 17-10 in favor of Pittsburgh at halftime. Early in the third quarter, Denver NT Greg Kragen forced a Tim Worley fumble, and CB Tyrone Braxton recovered for the Broncos on the Steeler 37. On first down Elway hit WR Vance Johnson for a touchdown, tying the score at 17 apiece. Pittsburgh's next two possessions ended in Anderson field goals and the Steelers held a 23-17 lead in the early stages of the fourth quarter. After an exchange of punts the Broncos took possession on their own 29 with 7:06 left in the game. After a first down penalty, making it first-and-19 from the 20, Elway hit Jackson for 18 yards. On the next play, Elway handed off the RB Bobby Humphrey, who pitched the ball back to Elway, and he threw a 36-yard strike to Johnson, giving Denver a first down on the Steeler 26. Humphrey ran on the next four plays, gaining 24 yards and taking the ball to the two. On third-and-goal from the one, Bratton scored again and Treadwell's extra point gave Denver its first lead of the game with 2:27 left. Pittsburgh got the ball on its own 20, but on third down Brister's signals were drowned out by the crowd and he mishandled the snap. Randy Robbins recovered for Denver on the Pittsburgh 18 and the Broncos were able to run out the clock to preserve the victory.

Super Bowl XXII

Washington 42, Denver 10

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Jan. 31 — The Washington Redskins scored 35 points in the second quarter to power their 42-10 victory over the Broncos in Super Bowl XXII, played at San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium. Super Bowl MVP Doug Williams of Washington completed 18 of 29 passes for 340 yards and four TDs, while rusher Timmy Smith gained 204 yards on 22 carries, scoring twice, and wide receiver Ricky Sanders caught nine passes for 193 yards and two touchdowns. Overall, The Redskins gained 602 yards of total offense to Denver's 327. The Broncos took the early lead on their first play from scrimmage, a 56-yard bomb from John Elway to Ricky Nattiel, coming with just 1:57 gone in the game. Denver's next possession stalled at the Redskins' seven-yard line, as Rich Karlis put the Broncos up 10-0 with a 24-yard field goal. In the second quarter, however, Denver's dreams of a World Championship were blown apart by Redskins. On Washington's first play of the quarter, Williams and Sanders combined for an 80-yard TD to bring the score to 10-7. The Redskins took the lead for good on the fifth play of their next possession when Williams hit Gary Clark for 27 yards and a score. Denver got as far as the Washington 26 on its next drive, but Karlis' 43-yards field goal attempt sailed wide left. Two plays later Timmy Smith scored on a 58-yard run to increase the Washington lead to 21-10. The Redskins' next possession ended with a 50-yard Williams-to-Sanders TD pass, and minutes later, Williams and Clint Didier combined for a seven-yard TD pass to give Washington a 35-10 lead at halftime. The Broncos could move only as far as the Redskins' 48-yard line in the second half, while Washington closed out the scoring late in the game on a four-yard run by Smith.

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

DENVER 38, CLEVELAND 33

DENVER, CO., Jan. 17 — Denver's Jeremiah Castille recovered a Cleveland fumble on the Denver three-yard line with just over a minute left in the game, halting a desperate drive by the Browns and preserving a victory for Denver. With the win, Denver became the first AFC Champion since the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1978-79 to win the conference in consecutive seasons. The Broncos were presented with the first scoring opportunity of the game when Freddie Gilbert caught a deflected Bernie Kosar pass on the contest's third play. Denver took four plays to go 18 yards, scoring on an eight-yard pass from John Elway to Ricky Nattiel. The Browns next drive reached the Bronco 45 before Kevin Mack fumbled, and it was recovered by Steve Wilson on the Denver 40. Two plays later Gene Lang took off on a 42-yard run, the longest in postseason history for Denver, taking the ball to the Cleveland 11. Six plays later, faced with a third-and-goal from the three, Elway's pass into the endzone fell incomplete, but Cleveland was penalized for holding, giving the Boncos new life at the Browns' one. Steve Sewell scored on first down to give Denver a 14-0 lead with 11 minutes gone in the first quarter. The Browns took 13 plays to move 64 yards for their first points of the game, scoring on a 24-yard Matt Bahr field goal. On the sixth play of the following Bronco drive, Elway scrambled for seven yards to the Denver 46, and a Cleveland penalty put the Boncos at the Cleveland 39. Four plays later Elway hit Ricky Nattiel for 21 yards, down to the Cleveland one, and Gene Lang carried it into the endzone to up Denver's lead to 21-3. Both teams missed field goals in the latter part of the first half, and the Broncos took their 18-point lead into the dressing room at halftime. After Elway was intercepted by Felix Wright four plays into the second half, Cleveland needed just three plays to go 35 yards and score on an 18-yard pass from Bernie Kosar to Reggie Langhorne. The Broncos answered that four plays into their next drive, when on a third-and-10 from the Denver 20, Elway scrambled right and threw a pass to Mark Jackson, who was standing at the Bronco 25. Jackson evaded two tackles and sprinted for a touchdown to complete an 80-yard scoring play and give the Broncos a 28-10 lead. Kosar and the Browns roared right back, moving 80 yards in five plays to score on a 32-yard Kosar-to-Earnest Byner pass. After a Bronco punt, Cleveland engineered another scoring drive, going 42 yards in four plays and scoring on a four-yard run by Byner to narrow the Bronco lead to 28-24. Just before the end of the third period, Rich Karlis capped off a Denver possession with a 38-yard field goal. The Browns, however, moved 86 yards in nine plays to tie the score at 31-31 on a four-yard pass from Kosar to Webster Slaughter. After an exchange of punts, Denver began a drive at their own 25 with 5:14 left in the game. On first down, Elway threw a 26-yard pass to Nattiel, and three plays later, duplicated the play to take the ball to the Cleveland 20. On the next play Elway passed to Sammy Winder, who caught it at the 23 and rambled the rest of the way into the endzone to put the Broncos up 38-31 with just over four minutes left. Kosar and the Browns rallied back and got to the Denver eight-yard line with 1:12 remaining, when Byner ran to the three, but had the ball stripped by Castille, who recovered for the Broncos. Denver was forced into a fourth down situation with 13 seconds left, and punter Mike Horan carried the ball out of the back of the endzone for a safety, making the score 38-33 in Denver's favor. After the ensuing free kick, Cleveland attempted one pass before time ran out.

AFC Divisional Playoff Game

Denver 34, Houston 10

DENVER, CO., Jan 10 — The Broncos advanced to the AFC Championship game after beating the Oilers 34-10, the largest margin of victory ever for the Broncos in postseason play. The Broncos were led to on defense by Mark Haynes and Karl Mecklenburg, who both picked up key interceptions, and on offense by quarterback John Elway (14 of 25, 259 yards, two TDs) and receivers Vance Johnson (four catches for 105 yards) and Clarence Kay (three catches for 57 yards and two TDs). Punter Mike Horan put the Oilers in a hole after the Broncos' first drive stalled, sending a punt to the Houston five-yard line, where two plays later, a lateral pass from Warren Moon to Mike Rozier was fumbled, and Steve Wilson recovered for Denver on the one. Gene Lang scored two plays later to give the Broncos an early 7-0 lead. Houston's next drive reached the Bronco 20-yard line before Mecklenburg intercepted a pass and returned it to the Denver 28. Elway hit Kay for 29 yards on the next play to move into Houston territory, and five plays later the same connection was made for a 27-yard touchdown pass, giving the Broncos a 14-0 lead. Both teams added field goals on their first drive of the second quarter to make the score 17-3 in Denver's favor. On the fourth Denver play after Houston's field goal, Elway threw a 55-yard bomb to Johnson to move the ball to the Oiler 11. Five plays later Elway hit Kay, again for a touchdown on a one-yard pass to up the lead to 24-3 with less than two minutes left in the half. Denver's first possession of the second half resulted in a Rich Karlis field goal. Houston then took 10 plays to reach the Denver seven, but Mark Haynes picked off a Moon pass in the end zone and returned it 57 yards, a Bronco playoff record. Houston's next drive reached the Bronco 11 but a pass on fourth down fell incomplete. The Oilers got the ball back three plays later when Patrick Allen intercepted an Elway pass, and that led to a 19-yard TD pass from Moon to Ernest Givins, cutting Denver's lead to 27-10. The Broncos' Kevin Clark recovered the onsides kick that followed, and Denver moved 52 yards in seven plays to score the final points of the game on a three-yard run by Elway.

New York Giants 39, Denver 20

PASADENA, CA., Jan. 25 — The New York Giants broke open a close game with 24 unanswered points to open the second half, capturing a 39-20 win over the Broncos in Super Bowl XXI. The game, played before a crowd of 101,063 in Pasadena's Rose Bowl, featured outstanding performances by the two quarterbacks, Super Bowl MVP Phil Simms of New York (22 of 25, 268 yards, 3 TDs) and Denver's John Elway (22 of 37, 304 yards, 1 TD). The Broncos won the toss and opened their first drive on the Denver 24, taking eight plays to reach the Giants 31-yard-line. Rich Karlis scored the first points of the game with a 48-yard field goal, tying the Super Bowl record. New York roared right back with a nine-play, 78-yard scoring drive that culminated with a six-yard touchdown pass from Simms to tight end Mark Bavaro. On the possession, Simms was six-for-six for 69 yards, and running back Joe Morris gained 19 yards on just three carries. With five-and-a-half minutes remaining in the first quarter, the Broncos took possession on their own 42 after a 28-yard kickoff return by Ken Bell. Elway completed passes on the first three plays of the drive as Denver reached the New York 33. Two Giant penalties left the Broncos with a first-and-10 at the 12, and on third down, Elway called his own number, scoring from four yards out on a quarterback draw to give Denver a 10-7 lead. The Giants next drive stalled and the Broncos got the ball back at the 14-minute mark of the second quarter. On the third play of the drive, on third-and-18, Elway unleashed a 54-yard bomb to Vance Johnson, giving the Broncos a first down on the Giant 28. Seven plays later Denver had a first-and-goal at the New York one, but failed to score in three plays and Karlis was wide right on a 23-yard field goal attempt. Denver's Orange Crush defense stifled the next Giant drive at the New York 47, and after a punt, the Broncos got the ball back on their own 15. Controversy entered the game when, on second-and-twelve, Elway threw an apparent completion for a first down to Clarence Kay. The pass was ruled incomplete, and that decision was upheld after review of the television replay. On the next play, Giant defensive end George Martin sacked Elway in the end zone for a safety to pull New York within a point of Denver at 10-9. The Giant offense was unable to move the ball on its next possession and punted to Denver. Taking the ball at their own 37, Elway quickly hit Steve Watson for 31 yards and Gerald Willhite for 11 more to give the Broncos a first-and-10 at the Giant 21 with 43 seconds left in the half. Denver was able to get to the 16-yard-line, but Karlis was wide right on a 34-yard field goal attempt with 13 seconds left in the half. New York shot out of the starting blocks in the second half and never looked back, scoring on all three third quarter drives and outgaining Denver in the period 163 yards to two. With the score at 26-10, the Giants mounted a scoring drive on their first possession of the fourth quarter, and they went up 33-10 after Phil McConkey caught a deflected pass in the end zone, Simms's third TD stike of the day. Denver got the ball back at its own 16 and Elway moved the squad to the New York 10, as Karlis kicked a 27-yard field goal to make the score 33-13. The Giants took only five plays to move 46 yards for their next TD, a two-yard run by Otis Anderson which made the score 39-13. Elway took Denver down the field again and hit Vance Johnson with a 47-yard TD pass for the game's final points.

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP

DENVER 23, CLEVELAND 20 OT

CLEVELAND, OH, Jan. 11 — Rich Karlis kicked a 33-yard field goal 5:48 into overtime to give the Broncos a 23-20 victory over the Browns. The game was played before a crowd of 79,915 people, who braved a wind chill of five degrees. Cleveland scored first, on the heels of a 14-play, 86-yard drive. Bernie Kosar threw a six-yard TD pass to Herman Fontenot with 5:19 left in the first quarter to put the Browns up 7-0. The next Cleveland drive ended when Ricky Hunley intercepted a Kosar pass, and he returned 14 yards to the Browns' 36. Although the Broncos' ensuing drive stalled, Kosar threw another interception, this one to Jim Ryan, and he returned the ball 26 yards to the Cleveland nine. Four plays later Karlis nailed a 19-yard field goal to make the score 7-3. Denver got another break on Cleveland's next play when Keven Mack fumbled and Ken Woodard recovered the ball on the Browns' 37. On first down John Elway rambled 34 yards, and two more rushes got Denver to the one-yard line. On fourth-and-goal Gerald Willhite plunged into the end zone to give the Broncos a 10-7 lead. Cleveland kicker Mark Moseley tied the score at 10 apiece with a 29-yard field goal with 20 seconds left in the first half. Both teams saw their first two possessions of the second half end in punts before Denver engineered the first scoring drive of the second half. Elway drove the Broncos 61 yards in 11 plays, and Karlis put Denver up 13-10 with a 26-yard field goal 12 minutes into the third quarter. The Browns wasted no time mounting a scoring march of their own. Mack rushed for 34 yards in a 10-play, 76-yard drive that culminated with a 24-yard Moseley field goal, knotting the score at 13-13. The Broncos next two possessions ended in punts, and when Cleveland got the ball on its own 48 with 6:40 left in the fourth quarter, the Browns struck quickly. On third-and-six from Denver's 48 yard line, Kosar threw a TD pass to Brian Brennan to give the Browns a 20-13 lead with 5:43 left in regulation. The ensuring kickoff rolled to the Denver two-yard line where Gene Lang fell on it. Pro Bowl-bound Elway then engineered the longest and most important drive of his four-year career. On the fifth play of the drive (on second-and-seven from the Broncos' 15), Elway rushed for 11 yards and a first down. He hit Steve Sewell for a 22-yard gain on the next play, and followed that with a 12-yard strike to Steve Watson to give Denver a first down on the Cleveland 40. After an incompletion and an eight-yard sack, Elway threw a 20-yard pass to Mark Jackson, moving the team to the Cleveland 28. Another incompletion was followed by a 14-yard, Elway-to-Sewell pass, giving the Broncos a first down on the Brown's 14 with 57 seconds left. Elway's next pass was incomplete, and on second down he ran nine yards to the Cleveland five-yard line. On the next play, he hit Jackson for a TD, and Karlis's extra point tied the score at 20 with 39 seconds left in regulation. Cleveland was unable to move the ball as time ran out in the fourth quarter. The Browns won the overtime coin toss and elected to receive. Three plays into the drive, (on third-and-two from the Cleveland 38), the Orange Crush rose up to snuff Herman Fontenot for no gain. Cleveland punted and Willhite returned it to the Bronco 25, where the Denver juggernaut revved it up again. On second-and-five, Elway hit Orson Mobley for a 22-yard gain, and three plays later Elway threw a 28-yard pass to Watson. With a first down on Cleveland's 22-yard line, the Broncos rushed three times to get to the 15, and on fourth down, Karlis hit the 33-yard game winner. Elway accounted for 300 total yards in the game, rushing for 56 and completing 22 of 38 passes for 244 yards. The Broncos kept alive a 1986 record of 13-0 when they scored 20 or more points. Denver also notched its 11th win on natural turf, losing only to San Diego at home on grass.

AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF GAME

DENVER 22, NEW ENGLAND 17

DENVER, CO., Jan. 4—Rulon Jones sacked Tony Eason in the end zone for a safety with 1:37 left on the clock to put Denver up 22-17 and halt the Patriots' final comeback drive. The playoff victory was the fist since Jan. 1, 1978 for the Broncos, when they defeated Oakland for the AFC Championship. The two teams traded punts in the first nine minutes of the game before Denver posed the initial scoring threat. Starting at their own 20, the Broncos took four plays to reach the New England 7, behind John Elway completions of 39 and 21 yards. On second-and-goal from the four, Elway rolled around the left side and was hit just short of the goal line. He was penalized (delay of game) for spiking the ball after the play, and that set Denver back to the six. Two plays later Rich Karlis nailed a 27-yard field goal to give Denver a 3-0 lead. New England mounted a seven-play, 87-yard drive later in the quarter, with Eason hitting Stanley Morgan for a 19-yard TD. The Broncos roared right back with a 13-play, 82-yard drive that was punctuated by a 22-yard TD run by Elway, giving Denver a 10-7 lead midway through the second quarter. The Patriots tied the score on the last play of the half with a 38-yard Tony Franklin field goal. Denver received the kickoff to open the second half and proceeded to chew up over nine minutes off of the clock. The Broncos ran the ball 11 times on the drive, which stalled on the Patriot five. Karlis's 22-yard field goal put Denver up 13-10. Five plays into the next New England drive, the Patriots took a page out of Dan Reeve's bag of tricks, scoring on a flea-flicker that ended with a 45-yard TD pass from Eason to Morgan to give New England its first lead of the game at 17-13. Denver jumped right back on top, traveling 86 yards in six plays to score on a 48-yard Elway-to-Vance Johnson pass on the last play of the third quarter. The two teams both punted three times in the fourth quarter, and the last one, a Mike Horan punt of 54 yards, backed New England to its own 10. On first down, Eason dropped back to pass but was sacked for a safety by Rulon Jones. Denver recovered the onsides free kick and held on to the ball to preserve the win.

Divisional Playoff Game

Pittsburgh 24, Denver 17

DENVER, CO., Dec. 30—Denver had two possessions in the final two minutes of the game but failed to score as Pittsburgh advanced to the Conference Championship game. Denver's opportunistic defense recovered two Steeler fumbles in the first quarter. The first one resulted in a Rich Karlis field goal attempt, but it sailed wide right. Pittsburgh fumbled on the next play, and the Broncos recovered again. That turnover led to a seven-yard touchdown pass from John Elway to Jim Wright. Pittsburgh scored on a 28-yard field goal on the first play of the second period, and just before intermission, the Steelers took the lead on Frank Pollard's one-yard TD plunge. Denver tied the game early in the third quarter on a 21-yard Karlis field goal. The Broncos regained the lead on their next possession, scoring on a 20-yard pass from Elway to Steve Watson. For the game, Watson gained 177 yards on 11 receptions. The Steelers mounted a scoring drive of their own, tying the game at 17-17 on a Mark Malone to Louis Lipps pass late in the quarter. Later, Pittsburgh's Eric Williams intercepted an Elway pass and returned it to the Denver two-yard line with only 2:45 left in the game. Pollard scored two plays later to give the Steelers the lead 24-17. Denver couldn't move the ball on its final two possessions as time ran out.

Wild Card Playoff Game

Seattle 31, Denver 7

SEATTLE, Wash., Dec. 24—Seattle broke open a close contest with two second-half Dave Krieg touchdown passes as the Seahawks beat Denver 31-7 in the AFC Wild Card playoff game. Seattle scored on its first possession of the day with a 17-yard pass from Krieg to Steve Largent. Later in the first quarter, Denver mounted a nine-play, 76-yard drive, scoring on a 13-yard pass from Steve DeBerg to Jesse Myles. Seattle cornerback Kerry Justin intercepted a DeBerg pass on Denver's next drive and the Seahawks drove to the Denver 20-yard line, with Norm Johnson converting a 37-yard field goal. Denver then drove down to the Seattle four-yard line, but Gerald Willhite fumbled and Seattle recovered, and then ran the remaining time off the clock. The second half belonged to the Seahawks as Krieg passed for two touchdowns and running back David Hughes ran for another, making the final score 31-7.

1979
Wild Card Playoff Game

Houston 13, Denver 7

HOUSTON, Tex., Dec. 23—Toni Fritsch kicked two field goals to provide the margin of victory as the Houston Oilers played strong second half defense and defeated the Broncos, 13-7, earning the Oilers advancement in the American Football Conference playoffs.

Fritsch opened the scoring with a 31-yard first period field goal, but Denver came back to take a 7-3 lead on a seven-yard pass from Craig Morton to running back Dave Preston, an 80-yard drive that took the Broncos 13 plays.

Houston went ahead to stay on a three-yard burst by Earl Campbell at 14:14 of the second period. However, Campbell was injured on the play and did not return to action in the second half. Oiler quarterback Dan Pastorini and wide receiver Ken Burrough also left the contest due to injuries, both early in the second half, putting a severe crimp in the Houston attack. But the Broncos were able to move the ball for only 216 yards total offense, and the tenacious Houston defense sacked Morton six times for 40 yards in losses as the Oilers held on to win.

Linebacker Bob Swenson intercepted a Gifford Nielsen pass at the Oiler 26-yard line midway through the fourth period, but two sacks of Morton led to a 50-yard field goal attempt by Fred Steinfort. Steinfort's kick hit the upright, and the Oilers later drove for a second field goal by Fritsch, this one of 20 yards, providing the final victory margin.

Denver drove to the Houston 27 at the two minute mark, but the Oiler defense again rose to the occasion to stifle the threat and secure the win, eliminating the Broncos from the playoffs.

Divisional Playoff Game

Pittsburgh 33, Denver 10

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 30—Two fourth quarter touchdown passes by Pittsburgh quarterback Terry Bradshaw lifted the Steelers to a 33-10 victory over the Denver Broncos and into the American Football Conference championship game.

Bradshaw's scoring tosses included a 45-yard bomb to John Stallworth and a 38-yarder to Lynn Swann, capping a brilliant performance by the Pittsburgh passer.

The Broncos took the early lead on a 37-yard Jim Turner field goal, but Pittsburgh's Franco Harris ran one and 18 yards for touchdowns and Roy Gerela kicked a 24-yard field goal to give the Steelers a 16-3 advantage. Denver cut the margin to 16-10 on a three-yard Dave Preston TD, but Gerela kicked another field goal to make the halftime margin 19-10. Denver threatened to come closer in the third period, but Turner's 29-yard field goal attempt was blocked, and Bradshaw's passing sealed Denver's fate early in the final stanza. The Steelers rolled to 425 yards total offense, with Bradshaw accounting for 272 through the air, 156 on ten receptions by Stallworth. The eventual World Champion Steelers limited the Broncos' ground game to just 87 yards in earning the right to play the Houston Oilers for the AFC crown the following week.

DALLAS 27, DENVER 10

NEW ORLEANS, La., Jan. 15—The Dallas Cowboys evened their Super Bowl record at 2-2 by defeating the Denver Broncos 27-10 before a sellout crowd of 76,400, plus 90 million television viewers, the largest audience ever to watch a sporting event. Dallas converted two pass interceptions by safety Randy Hughes and cornerback Aaron Kyle into 10 points and Efren Herrera added a 35-yard field goal to give the Cowboys at 13-0 halftime advantage. The Denver offense had trouble getting untracked against the hard-hitting Cowboy defense. The Broncos lost three fumbles and were intercepted twice on their last five possessions of the first half. The Broncos came back momentarily at the outset of the third period. Craig Morton engineered a drive to the Cowboys 30-yard line from where Jim Turner booted a 47-yard field goal to make the score 13-3. After an exchange of punts, Dallas wide receiver Butch Johnson made a spectacular diving catch in the end zone to complete a 45-yard pass from Roger Staubach to put the Cowboys ahead 20-3. However, the momentum swung back to the Broncos as Rick Upchurch returned the kickoff 67 yards to the Dallas 26. On the second play of the series, Norris Weese relieved Craig Morton at quarterback. Morton, who was intercepted only eight times during the regular season, had thrown a Super Bowl record four interceptions. Weese guided the Broncos to a touchdown — a one-yarder by Ron Lytle — to cut the Dallas lead to 20-10 with 5:39 left in the third quarter. Dallas clinched the victory when running back Robert Newhouse threw a 29-yard touchdown pass to Golden Richards on an option play with 7:04 remaining in the game. It was the first pass thrown by Newhouse since the 1975 regular season. The Cowboys offense amassed 325 yards while the defense limited the Broncos to 156 in a game which saw the Cowboys control the ball 38:34 to Denver's 21:26. Roger Staubach completed 17 of 25 passes for 183 yards while Harvey Martin and Randy White, who were named Co-MVPs, led the Cowboys defense which recovered four fumbles and intercepted four passes.

AFC CHAMPIONSHIP

DENVER 20, OAKLAND 17

DENVER, Colo., Jan. 1—Denver quarterback Craig Morton threw two touchdown passes to Haven Moses as the Broncos defeated the defending NFL Champion Oakland Raiders 20-17 and moved into their first Super Bowl. Morton, who was drafted and spent nine-and-a-half years with the Cowboys, would face his former Dallas teammates after completing 10 of 20 passes for 224 yards. It would be the second meeting in five weeks for these two teams—Dallas won 14-6 in the regular season finale as Morton played only the opening series due to a bruised hip. On a sunny, 18-degree day before 74,982 Denver partisans, the Raiders scored on their initial possession as Errol Mann kicked a 20-yard field goal to climax an 18-play drive. Morton hit Moses on their first scoring hookup two plays later on a 74-yard touchdown bomb, and the Broncos were on top to stay. Denver took advantage of two Oakland turnovers in the second half to win its second game in three meetings with the Raiders during the 1977 season. Defensive end Brison Manor recovered running back Clarence Davis' fumble at the Oakland 17 and running back Jon Keyworth scored from the 1-yard line to increase the margin to 14-3 in the third quarter. Oakland quarterback Ken Stabler hit tight end Dave Casper on the first of two scoring passes to narrow the lead to 14-10 with 39 seconds elapsed in the final period. But on Oakland's next possession, linebacker Bob Swenson intercepted a Stabler pass and ran to the Raiders' 14. Morton then threw 12 yards to Moses for the Broncos' final touchdown. Oakland finished the scoring on the next series as Stabler threw 17 yards to Casper for the game's last touchdown. Denver controlled the ball for the final 3:08 and gave Red Miller the AFC title in his first year as a head coach. Moses, a 10-year veteran, had five receptions for 168 yards. The Denver defense, which was No. 1 against the rush in the NFL during the regular season, held the Raiders to 94 yards on the ground.

Divisional Playoff Game

DENVER, Colo., Dec. 24—After ties at 7, 14, and 21, veteran Jim Turner kicked a 44-yard field goal to put Denver ahead to stay as the Broncos—in their first playoff game ever—beat the perennial AFC Central Champion Steelers. Leading 24-21, the Broncos capped their victory with two fourth-quarter interceptions by linebacker Tom Jackson, the last of which set up Craig Morton's 34-yard game-clinching touchdown pass to Jack Dolbin. Denver capitalized on a blocked punt and a fumble recovery for two scores in the first half, which ended 14-14. Morton and Steeler quarterback Terry Bradshaw traded touchdown passes in the second half before Turner's kick, Jackson's interceptions, and Morton's arm kept Pittsburgh from the AFC title game for the first time in four years. The Denver victory set up a third game between the AFC Western Champion Broncos and the AFC Wild Card Raiders, who split two regular season games.

Season tickets sold out. Every Bronco game at Mile High Stadium has been a sell-out since the beginning of the 1970 season, with the exception of two replacement games played during the 1987 strike (both games were sold out before the strike). The Broncos have sold out 195 consecutive non-strike regular season games, and with postseason games the total reaches 204.*

Safety Tyrone Braxton returned to the Broncos from Miami in 1995 and produced the same type of play that made him a crowd favorite during his first seven years in Denver (1987-93). Braxton intercepted two passes on the season, and made numerous big plays for a secondary that ranked ninth in the entire NFL against the pass.

BRONCOS IN THE HALL OF FAME

The Denver Broncos are represented in the Pro Football Hall of Fame by four individuals, including a former player, two former coaches, and a former administrator.

Fred Gehrke, who was the Broncos' General Manager for four years (1977-1980) and a member of the team's staff for 16 years, was the first winner of the Hall of Fame's Pioneer award in 1972.

Gehrke, as a Los Angeles Rams' halfback in 1948, painted golden rams' horns on his team's helmets and thus started the trend toward today's colorful, uniquely-decorated helmets worn by all NFL teams.

Cornerback Willie Brown, inducted into the Hall in 1984, played for the Broncos from 1963-66 and was named All-American Football League in 1964, a season in which he intercepted nine passes, including a team-record four in one game (vs. New York, 11/15/64).

Stan Jones, whose 1991 induction honors a 12-year career with Chicago and Washington, gained All-Pro honors four times as an offensive guard and appeared in seven Pro Bowls. Jones coached Denver's defensive line for 18 years, from 1967-71 and 1976-88.

Doak Walker, who was the Broncos' receivers coach in 1966, was inducted into the Hall in 1986 on the basis of his brilliant six-year career (1950-55) with the Detroit Lions.

The Pro Football Hall of Fame is located in Canton, Ohio.

DENVER BRONCOS ALUMNI COUNCIL

The Denver Broncos Alumni Council was formed in 1991 to provide an opportunity for former players to remain actively involved with the Broncos' organization.

The Alumni Council serves as a goodwill extension of the Denver Broncos and the members are available to counsel current players on life after football.

The original 15 members of the alumni council are Odell Barry, Barney Chavous, Steve Foley, Randy Gradishar, Larry Kaminski, Fran Lynch, Gene Mingo, Claudie Minor, Haven Moses, Jim Ryan, Jerry Sturm, Bob Swenson, Bill Thompson, Steve Watson, and Louis Wright. Otis Armstrong and Rich Karlis were added as new members in 1993.

DENVER BRONCOS RING OF FAME PROFILES

The Denver Broncos' Ring of Fame was inaugurated in 1984 to honor former players and administrators who played significant roles in the franchise's history.

The most recent induction came in 1993 when cornerback Louis Wright (1975-86) was inducted into the Ring of Fame, and linebacker Tom Jackson (1973-86) entered the Ring of Fame in 1992.

Linebacker Randy Gradishar (1974-83) was the only 1989 inductee into the Ring of Fame, while quarterback Craig Morton (1977-82), wide receiver Haven Moses (1972-81), and kicker Jim Turner (1971-79) were inducted in 1988.

Former defensive back Billy Thompson (1969-81) was honored in 1987 and three players joined the elite group in 1986, quarterbacks Frank Tripucka (1960-63) and Charley Johnson (1972-75), and defensive end Paul Smith (1968-78).

In 1985, former owner Gerald H. Phipps became the first non-player to have his name placed on the Ring.

Four former players were the original Ring of Fame inductees, running back Floyd Little (1967-75), defensive end Rich Jackson (1967-72), wide receiver Lionel Taylor (1960-66), and safety Austin "Goose" Gonsoulin (1960-66).

The Ring of Fame is on the facade of Mile High Stadium's east stands, just below the third level. The following are brief sketches of each of the 15 Ring of Fame members, in alphabetical order.

AUSTIN "GOOSE" GONSOULIN — SAFETY — 23

Year Inducted: 1984
Years with Broncos: 1960-66

THEN: Austin "Goose" Gonsoulin was one of the four original Ring of Fame inductees in 1984, recognized for his splendid play at safety for seven seasons. Gonsoulin was one of the original Broncos from the 1960 season. At the end of his Bronco career, he was the all-time American Football League leader in interceptions with 43. His 11 pickoffs in 1960 are still a Denver club record, and he shares the team record for interceptions in a game with four, a feat he accomplished Sept. 18, 1960 at Buffalo. Gonsoulin was an All-AFL choice in 1960, 1962 and 1963. His amazing durablity and toughness enabled him to start 61 consecutive games at one point in his career. Gonsoulin was also the captain of his college team at Baylor.

NOW: Gonsoulin has operated a construction company in Texas since his retirement.

RANDY GRADISHAR — LINEBACKER — 53

Year Inducted: 1989
Years with Broncos: 1974-83

THEN: Randy Gradishar was the only Ring of Fame inductee in 1989, in recognition of a 10-year career at linebacker with the Broncos. During his career, Gradishar was a seven-time Pro Bowler, the most by any Broncos player to date, and he is also the all-time leader in tackles for Denver, finishing with 1,958. Gradishar never missed a game, playing in 145 consecutive. He accounted for 33 turnovers in his career (20 INTs and 13 fumble recoveries) and was voted the Defensive Player of the Year in 1978 by AP, UPI, Pro Football Weekly and NEA (George Halas Award). His teammates also voted him team defensive MVP in 1978 and 1980. While at Ohio State, Gradishar was referred to by his head coach — the legendary Woody Hayes — as "the best linebacker I ever coached at Ohio State." Randy was a three-year starter for the Buckeyes and was named to every All-America team following his senior season, as well as being an Academic All-America selection, graduating with a degree in distributive education. Gradishar was also the president of the Denver Broncos Youth Foundation from 1982-92.

NOW: Gradishar works for the Boulder Chapter of Promise Keepers, a men's orginazation that unites men through vital relationships to be a Godly influence in their world. Former University of Colorado head football coach Bill McCartney is heavily involved in this organization.

Year Inducted: 1984
Years with Broncos: 1967-72

THEN: Rich Jackson is one of the four original Ring of Famers who were inducted in 1984. He was considered by many as the best defensive end in professional football during his prime. Jackson was the first Bronco to be named to the All-NFL first team in 1970. He posted his career high in quarterback sacks in 1969 with 11, and had 10 sacks in both 1968 and 1970. He was All-NFL from 1968-69 in addition to starting in the 1970 Pro Bowl. He made the Pro Bowl again in 1971 despite playing in only seven games due to a knee injury which eventually forced him out of football. Jackson finished his career with 34 sacks. He was a standout end at Southern University on both sides of the ball. He also lettered in track and was the NAIA shotput champion.

NOW: Jackson is a school administrator in New Orleans, La., where he his wife, Jewell Anne, reside.

TOM JACKSON — LINEBACKER — 57

Year Inducted: 1992
Years with Broncos: 1973-86

THEN: Tom Jackson was the only player inducted into the Ring of Fame in 1992. "TJ" was always one of the most popular players among his teammates, who voted him most inspirational player six consecutive seasons (1981-86). He finished his career having played the most games in Broncos history at 191 and still ranks second on that list behind John Elway. He is also tied for third in games played at 177. Jackson is one of only three Broncos to wear the Denver uniform for14 seasons, joining Dennis Smith and John Elway. He made three consecutive Pro Bowl appearances from 1977-79 and was named first team All-Pro twice (1977-78). He was also named by his teammates as Denver's defensive MVP in 1974, '76, and '77. Upon his retirement in 1986, Jackson was tied for first with fellow Ring of Famer Randy Gradishar for the most interceptions in Broncos history by a linebacker with 20, and was fifth on the all-time sack list with 44. Jackson was also a standout performer at Louisville, where he was the Missouri Valley Conference Player of the Year twice — as a sophomore in 1970 and as a senior in 1972.

NOW: Jackson currently is a reporter for ESPN, and along with Chris Berman, Chris Mortenson, Joe Thiesmann and Sterling Sharpe, hosts the award-winning "NFL Gameday" show every Sunday morning during the NFL season. During the season he makes occasional trips to Denver to do interviews for Bronco features on the show. Tom, his wife Jennifer and their daughter, Taylor, reside in Cincinnati, Ohio.

CHARLEY JOHNSON — QUARTERBACK — 12

Year Inducted: 1986
Years with Broncos: 1972-75

THEN: Charley Johnson was one of three inductees into the Ring of Fame in 1986, along with fellow quarterback Frank Tripucka and defensive end Paul Smith. Johnson, who came to Denver in a trade from Houston, quarterbacked the Broncos to their first winning season (7-5-2 in 1973), a landmark moment in the first 14 years of franchise history. Johnson set a new Bronco record for passing accuracy (since broken) in 1974 by completing 55.6% of his passes. He made the All-AFC team picked by UPI and Pro Football Weekly after the 1973 season. He once threw for 445 yards in a game and also threw a touchdown pass in 10 consecutive games, a Broncos record at the time. Johnson was star quarterback at New Mexico State, where he led his team to two Sun Bowl titles.

NOW: Johnson now has a Ph.D., and has been working in the engineering field. He resides in Texas.

FLOYD LITTLE — RUNNING BACK

Year Inducted: 1984
44

THEN: Floyd Little is one of the four original Ring of Fame inductees from 1984. He was the first No. 1 draft pick ever signed by the Broncos and was widely regarded as "The Franchise" for much of his nine-year career. Little was the first serious threat for the Broncos at running back. A Pro Bowl participant in 1971, Floyd twice played in the AFL All-Star game (1968 and 1969) and is still the Broncos' all-time leader in rushing yards (6,323) and rushing attempts (1,641). Little is also the Broncos' all-time leading touchdown scorer with 54, and he leads all rushers with 43. He still ranks sixth on the Broncos' all-time scoring list with 324 points. Little totaled 12,103 all-purpose yards during his career, including a team-record 2,523 on kickoff returns. Little also holds the Broncos' record for the longest non-scoring kickoff return, of 89 yards (vs. Oakland, Nov. 10, 1968). When Little retired, he was among the Top-10 all-time rushers in NFL history. Little was a three-time All-American at Syracuse, following in the footsteps of Jim Brown and the late Ernie Davis as superstar tailbacks for the Orangemen. Little actually shattered most of the records set by his two predecessors, rushing for 2,704 yards, returning punts for 845, kickoffs for 797, and passed for 19 — for a grand total of 4,947 yards. He also scored in 22 of 30 regular season games, including five times in one game.

Now: Little has gone into business for himself and owns an auto dealership in Seattle, Wash.

CRAIG MORTON — QUARTERBACK

Year Inducted: 1988

THEN: Craig Morton was one of three inductees in 1988, along with fellow teammates wide receiver Haven Moses and kicker Jim Turner. Morton, who came to the Broncos through a trade with the New York Giants in 1977, was Denver's starting quarterback for most of the period from 1977-82 and led the team to its first Super Bowl berth in 1977, as he engineered the Broncos to a 12-2 regular season record and home playoff wins over Pittsburgh and archrival Oakland. Morton, who also starred with the Dallas Cowboys in the early 1970s, earned a variety of awards for his on-field performane in 1977, including AFC Most Valuable Player honors. During his career with Denver, he led the team to two divisional titles (1977-78). He ranks second in all-time Broncos history in total plays from scrimmage (1,693), total offense (12,355), most passes attempted (1,594), most completions (907), most passing yards (11,895) and most touchdown passes (74). His average gain per play figure of 7.30 is tied for first with fellow Ring of Fame quarterback Charley Johnson. Morton also once completed 16 consecutive passes in a game and once had a streak of nine consecutive games with a touchdown pass. Morton was a consensus All-American at the University of California, and he was also a baseball star for the Golden Bears.

Now: Morton has gone into business in Oregon, where he now resides.

HAVEN MOSES — WIDE RECEIVER

Year Inducted: 1988
25

THEN: Haven Moses was inducted into the Ring of Fame in 1988 with two others, quarterback Craig Morton and kicker Jim Turner. Moses played 10 seasons for the Broncos as one of the team's primary wide receivers, and ranks sixth all-time among Denver receivers with 302 catches. He ended his career with 5,450 receiving yards. He is also tied for first with fellow Ring of Famer Lionel Taylor in all-time receiving touchdowns with 44. His yards-per-catch average was 18.0, and he averaged over 19 yards a catch (1974, '76 and '77). In the AFC Championship Game

GERALD PHIPPS — OWNER

Year Inducted: 1985
Years with Broncos: 1961-81

THEN: Gerald H. Phipps became the first and only non-player to be inducted into Denver Broncos' Ring of Fame in 1985. Under the guidance of Phipps and his brother Allan, the Broncos rose from their less than auspicious beginnings to the top of the American Football Conference. In 1977, the Broncos laid claim to their first ever AFC Championship, won the Western Division title in 1977 and 1978 and made three consecutive playoff appearances (1977-79). Under Phipps, the Broncos ultimately rose to a position as one of the NFL's most stable franchises. With the success of the Broncos, the doors were opened for other major league teams from other sports to grab a piece of the Denver sports pie. Following the takeover by the Phipps brothers, Denver Bronco season ticket sales improved from 8,002 in 1964 to 22,905 in 1965. Before purchasing the Broncos on February 15, 1965, Phipps was the president of the Gerald H. Phipps Inc. Construction Company, which he continued to operate. Phipps was born March 4, 1915 in Denver.

Now: Mr. Phipps passed away August 6, 1993.

PAUL SMITH — DEFENSIVE TACKLE

Year Inducted: 1986
Years with Broncos: 1968-78
70

THEN: Paul Smith was inducted into the Ring of Fame in 1986, along with quarterbacks Frank Tripucka and Charley Johnson. Smith posted 55 sacks for his career, sixth-most on the Broncos' all-time list. He also posted 11 sacks in both the 1972 and 1973 seasons, propelling him to back-to-back Pro Bowl appearances. Smith was one of the leaders during the years when Denver was establishing its reputation for defensive excellence. His head coach, John Ralston, once said that Smith was "the finest defensive tackle in pro football." Smith's 11-year career was the longest in Bronco annals until he was surpassed by fellow Ring of Famer Billy Thompson. He was the first 10-year man in Bronco history. Smith played collegiately at New Mexico.

Now: Smith still resides in the Denver area and works in sales.

LIONEL TAYLOR — END

Year Inducted: 1984
Years with Broncos: 1960-66
87

THEN: Lionel Taylor, one of the original Broncos, was also one of the original Broncos, was also one of the orginal Ring of Famers, being inducted in 1984. He is the Broncos' all-time leading receiver in terms of both receptions (543) and yardage (6,872). He is also tied for first in touchdown receptions for a career with 44. Taylor caught 92 passes during the 1960 season and followed that campaign with a team-record 100 receptions in 1961, leading the AFL in receiving for five of the league's first six years of exsistence. Taylor was regarded by many as the possessor of the best hands in pro football. He never had fewer than 76 receptions in a season over those first six years, averaging 84.7 catches from 1960-65, at that time the highest six-year total in football history. Taylor was an All-AFL selection in 1960, '61 and '65 and played in the league all-star game in 1962. Taylor performed collegiately at New Mexico Highlands.

Now: Taylor has enjoyed an extensive coaching career as an assistant in the NFL, including with the championship teams of the Pittsburgh Steelers in the 1970's, and also in the collegiate ranks. He is currently the head coach of the London Monarchs in the World League of American Football.

BILLY THOMPSON — DEFENSIVE BACK — 36

Year Inducted: 1987
Years with Broncos: 1969-81

THEN: Billy Thompson, regarded by many as the best defensive back in Denver Broncos annals, was the only Ring of Fame inductee in 1987. He was the first player in team history to play 13 seasons with Denver, and he was the team captain for many years. Thompson, despite being retired for 15 seasons, still ranks second on the Broncos' all-time list for games started with 178, second in consecutive starts with 142, and sixth in games played with 179. He finished his career with 61 turnovers, (most in team history), 40 of which came via interceptions (third in team history). He holds two NFL records, one of which has stood for over two decades. As a rookie in 1969, Thompson became the only player in NFL history to lead the league in both kickoffs and punt returns in the same season. He also is the only player in NFL history to return four opponent fumbles for touchdowns. Thompson was a three-time Pro Bowl selection (1977, '78 and '81), and earned All-NFL honors twice (1977 and '78) and All-AFC honors four times (1977-79, '81). Billy also enjoyed a brilliant career at Maryland State (now Maryland-Eastern Shore), earning All-CIAA honors three times as a defensive back and being named team MVP as a senior. He also twice earned NAIA All-America honors. Thompson also made All-CIAA three times in baseball as a centerfielder.

Now: Thompson was a college scout for the Broncos for two years before moving into his current position as Director of Player Relations and Alumni Coordinator. As Diretor of Player Relations, Thompson coordinates three major functions: family assistance, continuing education and career development. Each of these programs is designed to assist the player with his life off the field. As Alumni Coordinator, Billy works with the Alumni Council and former Broncos who live in the area, who are considered an important part of the Broncos' organization. Thompson is also a member of the Board of Directors of the African American Leadership Institute and Metropolitan State College. He also volunteers time with the Urban League, Hispanic Chamber of Commerce and several other non-profit organizations. Thompson, his wife Barbara, and their son Richie make their home in Aurora, Colo.

FRANK TRIPUCKA — QUARTERBACK — 18

Year Inducted: 1986
Years with Broncos: 1960-66

THEN: Frank Tripucka — who was one of the four original Ring of Fame inductees — is also one of the original Broncos, playing for the team from 1960-66. Tripucka led the Broncos to their first ever .500 season in 1962 (7-7). He was half of the Tripucka-to-Lionel Taylor passing combination, as the duo (both Ring of Famers) went on to set various marks together. Tripucka's best statistical season came in 1960 when he completed 248 of 478 passes (51.9%) for 3,038 yards and 24 touchdowns. His 477 yards passing against Buffalo (9/15/62) still stands as the team record, and he shares the team record for most touchdown passes in a game with five (10/28/62 vs. Buffalo). Tripucka also played in the AFL All-Star Game in 1962.

Now: Tripucka is now a retired beer distributor. He currently resides in New Jersey.

JIM TURNER — KICKER — 15

Year Inducted: 1988
Years with Broncos: 1971-79

THEN: Jim Turner, a 1988 inductee into the Ring of Fame, ranks as one of the most prolific kickers of all time in professional football. At the time of his retirement, Turner ranked second in NFL career scoring with 1,439 points, as well as second in field goals with 304. Turner kicked 521 extra points and was the fourth player to ever reach the 500 mark. He never missed a game as a pro and finished with a streak of 228 consecutive appearnaces, including 130 as a Bronco, for whom he scored 742 points, easily establishing himself as Denver's all-time scoring leader. He once had a string of 221 consecutive extra points, which was then the second-longest streak in NFL history. Before joining the Broncos in 1971, Turner was an outstanding kicker for the New York Jets, helping lead the club to a victory in Super Bowl III. He was a three-time letterman as a quarterback at Utah State in the early 1960s.

Now: Turner resides in the Denver area and is active in the community.

LOUIS WRIGHT — CORNERBACK — 20

Year Inducted: 1993
Years with Broncos: 1975-86

THEN: Louis Wright was the most recent inductee into the Broncos' Ring of Fame, going in in 1993. Wright enjoyed a stellar career at cornerback for Denver, playing in 166 games (163 starts, seventh on all-time Broncos list), reeling in 26 interceptions — one of which he returned for a touchdown — and 11 fumble recoveries. Wright was named to the Pro Bowl five times in his career (1977-79, '83 and '85). He was named All-NFL by The Sporting News and Pro Football Weekly and the NEA in 1977. He also received All-AFC honors from UPI in 1985. Wright also was named Most Valuable Defensive Player by his teammates on two different occasions. Wright played collegiately at San Jose State, where he lettered twice as a defensive back. He also won two letters in track and once ran the 100 in 9.6 seconds.

Now: Wright is the head football coach at Montbello High School in Denver, and also does color commentary for the Broncos' spanish-language game broadcasts on KBNO radio, along with Frank Ponce and Fernando Sergio. He resides in Aurora, Colorado.

RETIRED NUMBERS

The Denver Broncos have retired two jersey numbers in their 36-year history, quarterback Frank Tripucka and running back Floyd Little.

Tripucka, who wore number 18, was Denver's first quarterback and called signals for the Broncos from 1960-63. He played in the American Football League all-star game in 1962 and passed for 7,676 yards in his Denver career.

Little, who wore number 44 for the Broncos as well as during his legendary college career at Syracuse, played in Denver from 1967-75 and is the team's all-time leader in rushing (6,323 yards) and total touchdowns (54). Little was All-AFL in 1969 and played in two AFL all-star games (1968, 1969) and three Pro Bowls (1971, 1972, 1973).

JANUARY 10 — The Broncos advance to the AFC Championship Game with a 34-10 victory over Houston before 75, 968 in Mile High Stadium. JANUARY 17 — Denver becomes the first AFC team to win consecutive conference championships since Pittsburgh of 1978-79 by defeating Cleveland 38-33. The game garnered a 91 television share in the Denver area, believed to be an all-time national viewing high. JANUARY 31 — The Broncos lose to Washington 42-10 in Super Bowl XXII in San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium. FEBRUARY 6 — Three players represent Denver in the Pro Bowl Game, Keith Bishop, John Elway, and Karl Mecklenburg. MARCH — The Broncos are virtually assured of their 19th consecutive sellout campaign as just 91 season ticket accounts are not renewed for the 1988 campaign. JUNE 3 — The Broncos acquire future Hall of Fame RB Tony Dorsett from the Dallas Cowboys in exchange for a future draft choice. The 1988 campaign will be Dorsett's 1 2th in pro football. SEPTEMBER 26 — RB Tony Dorsett eclipses Jim Brown to become the second leading rusher in pro football history, trailing only Walter Payton. DECEMBER 17 — The Broncos close out the season with a 21-10 win over New England and a disappointing 8-8 record, marking the end of Denver's two-year reign as AFC champions. QB John Elway concludes the season with 3, 309 yards passing and 234 rushing to become the first player in football history to have four consecutive years with over 3,000 passing yards combined with over 200 rushing yards. Dorsett finishes the year second to Payton among football's all-time rushing leaders with 12,739 yards.

1989

JANUARY 29 — P Mike Horan is the Broncos' lone representative in the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl Game. APRIL — The Broncos conclude season ticket renewals and waiting list additions for 1989, virtually assuring the team of its 20th consecutive sellout campaign at Mile High Stadium. NOVEMBER 26 — The Broncos clinch their third AFC West title in four seasons after a 41-14 victory at home against Seattle. DECEMBER 16 — Denver wraps up home field advantage for the AFC Playoffs with 37-0 win at Phoenix.

1990

JANUARY 7 — The Broncos advance to the AFC Championship Game with a come-from-behind 24-23 win over Pittsburgh. JANUARY 14 — The Broncos become the only AFC team to win three conference titles in the 1980s with a 37-21 victory over Cleveland in the AFC Championship Game. JANUARY 28 — Denver loses 55-10 to San Francisco in Super Bowl XXIV in the New Orleans Superdome. FEBRUARY 4 — Three players represent the Broncos in the Pro Bowl; K David Treadwell, NT Greg Kragen, and S Dennis Smith. LB Karl Mecklenburg was selected to start in the game but could not participate because of a knee injury suffered in the Super Bowl. FEBRUARY 26 — The National Football League announces that the Broncos will face Seattle in an Aug. 4 preseason game in Tokyo, Japan. MARCH 5 — The Paul D. Bowlen Memorial Broncos Centre opens in southeast Denver, housing all of the team's office and training facilities. AUGUST 5 — The Broncos defeat the Seattle Seahawks by a score of 10-7 in American Bowl '90, played before a sellout audience in the Tokyo Dome in Tokyo, Japan. The game marks Denver's second appearance in an international game, having played the Los Angeles Rams in London in a 1987 American Bowl contest. NOVEMBER 22 — The Broncos drop a 40-27 game to the Detroit Lions in the Lions' annual Thanksgiving Day contest, marking Denver's fifth appearance in a Thanksgiving Day game, including four in Detroit and one in Denver (a 46-45 loss to the New York Titans in 1962). DECEMBER 30 — Running back Bobby Humphrey finishes the season with 1,202 rushing yards, becoming one of just 10 backs to rush for over 1,000 yards in each of their first two NFL seasons. Mike Horan leads the entire NFL in punting (44.4) and in net punting average (38.9).The Broncos also boast the NFL's kickoff return leader in Kevin Clark who posts a 25.3 average.

1991

FEBRUARY 3 — Safeties Steve Atwater and Dennis Smith, along with running back Bobby Humphrey, appear in the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl game in Honolulu, Hawaii. It is the first appearance each for Atwater and Humphrey. JULY 27 — The Broncos lose 14-3 to Detroit in the Hall of Fame Game played in Canton, Ohio. Former Broncos assistant coach Stan Jones is inducted into the Hall. SEPTEMBER 1 — Denver records its biggest opening day win ever with a 45-14 pounding of Cincinnati. DECEMBER 8 — A 17-7 win at Cleveland clinches a playoff berth for the Broncos. DECEMBER 22 — Denver closes out the regular season at 12-4 and wins the AFC West title for the fifth time in eight years.

1992

JANUARY 4 — The Broncos overcome a 21-6 deficit to defeat Houston 26-24 in an AFC Divisional Playoff Game. The winning field goal was set up by a drive that began at the Denver two. The Broncos converted two fourth down plays to keep the possession alive. JANUARY 12 — Despite a sterling effort by Denver's defense, the Broncos fall 10-7 to Buffalo in the AFC Championship Game. The Bills' high-powered offense managed just 213 yards and 12 first downs in the game. FEBRUARY 2 — Running back Gaston Green, linebacker Karl Mecklenburg, and safeties Steve Atwater and Dennis Smith represent the Broncos in the Pro Bowl. MARCH — The Broncos conclude season ticket renewals and waiting list additions for 1992, virtually assuring the franchise of its 23rd consecutive sellout season. Denver is also named a participant in America Bowl '92, to be played in Berlin. AUGUST 15 — The Broncos lose to the Miami Dolphins, 31-27, in American Bowl '92 in Berlin's Olympic Stadium. DECEMBER 28 — Denver Broncos President Pat Bowlen announces that the franchise will not renew the contract of Dan Reeves, thus creating a coaching vacancy in Denver for the first time since 1981. Reeves ends his Denver career with a record of 116-78-1.

1993

JANUARY 25 — Wade Phillips is hired as the 10th head coach in Bronco history, signing a three-year contract as head coach after four seasons as the Broncos' defensive coordinator. MAY — The Broncos conclude their season ticket sales, guaranteeing the 24th straight sellout campaign at Mile High Stadium. DECEMBER — Quarterback John Elway is named AFC Most Valuable Player (UPI, Kansas City 101 Club, Football News) after his best pro season, in which he led the AFC in rating (92.8), attempts (551), completions (348), completion percentage (63.2), touchdowns (25), and yards (4,030).

1994

JANUARY 9 — The Broncos return to the playoffs as a Wild Card team, dropping a 42-24 first round game to the Los Angeles Raiders at the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum. The wild card playoff game marked Denver's ninth nationally televised game of the 1993 season, bringing the Broncos' eight-year total (1986-93) to 84 national television dates. FEBRUARY 6 — The Broncos are represented in the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl game by quarterback John Elway, tight end Shannon Sharpe, linebacker Karl Mecklenburg, and safeties Steve Atwater and Dennis Smith. MARCH — The Broncos and Raiders are named to oppose each other in an American Bowl '94 Game in Barcelona. The Broncos thus join San Francisco as the only two teams to have been asked to represent the NFL in London, Tokyo, Berlin, and Barcelona. MAY — The Broncos conclude season ticket renewals and waiting list additions for 1994, leading to an anticipated 25th consecutive season of sellouts at Mile High Stadium.

JANUARY 31 — Mike Shanahan is hired as the 11th head coach in Bronco history. Shanahan, a Denver assistant coach from 1984-87 and 1989-91, signed a seven-year contract as head coach after spending the previous three years in San Francisco where he served as offensive coordinator. FEBRUARY 5 — The Broncos are represented in the annual AFC-NFC Pro Bowl by safety Steve Atwater, quarterback John Elway and offensive tackle Gary Zimmerman. Tight end Shannon Sharpe was also selected but did not play. MARCH — The Broncos are selected to face San Francisco in an American Bowl '95 Game in Tokyo, joining the 49ers and Dallas as the only NFL teams to participate in five American Bowl Games. AUGUST 5 — The Broncos defeat San Francisco 24-10 in the American Bowl in Tokyo, Japan. NOVEMBER 5 — John Elway passes for 256 yards in a 38-6 Broncos home win over Arizona to surpass the 40,000-yard passing plateau, just the seventh player in pro football history to accomplish that feat. NOVEMBER 19 — KOA play-by-play announcer Larry Zimmer calls his 500th Broncos game as a member of the KOA broadcast team, as Denver defeats San Diego 30-27. DECEMBER 10 — Broncos running back/kick returner Glyn Milburn tallies an NFL-record 404 all-purpose yards in a 31-27 loss to Seattle at Mile High Stadium. He surpassed Billy Cannon's previous record of 373 yards, set 35 years prior to the day (12/10/61). Milburn racked up 131 rushing yards, 45 receiving yards, 133 yards on kickoff returns and 95 yards on punt returns. DECEMBER 24 — The Broncos close the season with a 31-28 win at Oakland, and establish franchise single-season records in seven different offensive categories: points scored (388), total yards (6,040), avg. gain per play (5.70), avg. gain per rush (4.53), touchdown passes (27, tie), passing yards (4,045) and first downs passing (205).

1996

FEBRUARY 4 — Denver is represented in the annual AFC-NFC Pro Bowl in Honolulu by safety Steve Atwater, kicker Jason Elam, running back/kick returner Glyn Milburn, wide receiver Anthony Miller and tight end Shannon Sharpe. Tackle Gary Zimmerman was selected but did not play because of injury.

MISCELLANEOUS

Left tackle Gary Zimmerman earned his sixth Pro Bowl appearance in 1995 after starting all 16 games for the eighth consecutive season. He has started each of the 156 games he has played in his 10-year career.

DENVER BRONCOS COMMUNITY RELATIONS

Denver Broncos In the Community

The Denver Broncos have dedicated 1996 as the year of the child. For the past 37 years the franchise has committed its resources to making a positive and measurable impact on the quality of life in the Rocky Mountain Region. This mission will continue, and in 1996 will focus on youth, under the umbrella of One Kid at a Time. Encompassing 17 individual programs that directly impact kids and the quality of their life the Broncos hope to make a significant contribution to the community.

Some of the new programs for 1996 which focus on children include: The Broncos Bunch Kids Club, which is a joint venture with NIKE. This is a special fan club for kids ages 7 to 12 years old. Elements of the program include a newsletter, merchandise and PLAY days that focus on participating in sports. Also, NFL Youth Training Camps, which Denver is one of six NFL cities to host. It is open to boys and girls ages 7 to 14 and stresses the fun of football through non-contact instruction and teaching basic football skills. In addition, The All Kids Run, is a joint venture with the Leukemia Society of the Rocky Mountain Region to host a 3K run for kids ages 4 to 12.

The Broncos will also continue their long standing programs that impact kids. The Colorado Children's Campaign Doll Project, Thunder's Christmas Party for underprivileged children, mini camps for disadvantaged youth, Red Ribbon Anti-Drug Campaign, are a few of those programs. Also, next year the Broncos will be doubling the size of Broncos Academy, a Communities in Schools project, that encourages drop-out prevention.

Also through the Broncos Charities Fund, a fund of Robert R. McCormick Tribune Foundation established in December 1993, the Broncos are able to raise and give away money to qualified non-profit organizations throughout the state of Colorado. The charities fund, since its establishment, has granted 1.7 million dollars back to the community, and in the first half of 1996, the fund has already given away 1 million dollars. The mission of the Broncos Charities Fund is to fund programs that help youth-at-risk, education, hungry, homeless and the mentally or physically challenged.

Pat Bowlen congratulates a Broncos Academy student on a successful year at an announcement of the Broncos teaming with NIKE to double the size of the Academy in East High School.

THE DENVER BRONCOS CHEERLEADERS

Now in their fourth year, the Denver Broncos Cheerleaders are one of the newest squads in the National Football League, especially for an NFL franchise that is in its 37th year. The Broncos brought cheerleading back in 1993 after a 17-year absence and are proud of the work the squad does both on the field and in the community.

The Broncos Cheerleaders are chosen through auditions held each spring. Hundreds of women compete for the opportunity to be a part of the team. Auditions focus mainly on dance ability. However, appearance and personality are also contributing factors.

Known for their distinctive Western uniforms, the Cheerleaders wear long leather chaps and jackets in the fall months, ski-wear from Obermeyer for cold games and a more traditional cheerleading short leather skirt and vest for summer. The three uniform changes gives them flexibility with the ever-changing Colorado weather.

Each member of the Broncos Cheerleaders has an average of 14 years or more of dance experience. In addition, the team is comprised of athletes, students, mothers and businesswomen. For example, on this year's team there is a mother of three, a law student, a CPA, a pilot and three women with masters degrees.

The Denver Broncos Cheerleaders are active in the Denver community donating their time for appearances on behalf of a variety of non-profit organizations, including the Broncos Charities Fund. During the off-season the Cheerleaders spend many hours at an assortment of different promotions. In 1996 the Broncos Cheerleaders will have a calendar, video, poster, trading cards and merchandise for sale. They also have their own fan club. For more information on the Cheerleaders call (303) 649-9000 Ext. 210.

THUNDER — THE DENVER BRONCOS MASCOT

When the Denver Broncos take the field at Mile High Stadium, Thunder, the team's mascot, with rider Angela Moore, leads the charge.

Although Thunder's registered name is JB Kobask, he was given the "stage name" Thunder for his mascot duties. Thunder made his Mile High Stadium debut September 12, 1993 for the Broncos' victory over the San Diego Chargers.

The 13-year old, pure-bred Arabian stallion, provided by Magness Arabians of Fort Lupton, Colo., is in his third season with the Denver Broncos Football Club in 1996. In his first two seasons, Thunder delighted the crowds and was a big hit with the children. He has also started a new tradition with the Broncos, holding an annual Christmas party for underpriviledged kids of the Denver area.

"We are avid Bronco fans and felt that an Arabian stallion would be an appropriate mascot. We are thrilled to have this chance to show the general public that Arabians are athletic, intelligent and friendly animals," says Sharon Magness, administrator of Magness Arabians.

Thunder lives on the 350-acre ranch that serves as the training, showing, breeding and marketing center of Magness Arabians. Bob and Sharon Magness also own and operate a ranch in Santa Ynez, Calif., that bears the same name.

The one constant in the switch from the pasture to the playing field is Thunder's rider, Angela Moore. Moore, the other half of the Denver Broncos mascot tandem, has been showing horses and competing in barrel racing most of her life. As assistant manager of Magness Arabians, Moore trains, assists with veterinary care and grooms the horses.

The 30-year old Fort Lupton resident's love of animals does not stop at horses. Moore has a B.S. degree in equine science with a second major in zoology from Colorado State University. Her goal is to go back to school and receive her master's degree and doctorate in zoology to begin field research in feline physiology.

Neither Thunder nor Moore is shy in front of crowds. Thunder is a champion show horse whose wins include the Hunter Pleasure Champion of the Wyoming Arabian Horse Association Show in 1993, Reserve Champion of the Pure Breed Western Pleasure at the Colorado State Fair in 1989 and first place in Pure Breed Western Pleasure at the Rocky Mountain Arabian Horse Show in 1989. Moore's honors include the Scottsdale top-10 for Hunter Pleasure and three-time Colorado Hunter Futurity.

Thunder — with rider Angela Moore — made his debut as the Broncos' mascot in 1994 and was an instant hit with fans in Mile High Stadium.

Thunder is trained by Tom Hudson, manager/trainer of Magness Arabians and accomplished equestrain. Hudson shows horses in the top Arabian horse shows around the country, although not with Thunder — he has been taken off the horse-show circuit for his career in football.

1971 Dallas 24, Miami 3 at New Orleans
1970 Baltimore 16, Dallas 13 at Miami
1969 Kansas City 23, Minnesota 7 at New Orleans
1968 New York Jets 16, Baltimore 7 at Miami
1967 Green Bay 33, Oakland 14 at Miami
1966 Green Bay 35, Kansas City 10 at Los Angeles

MILE HIGH STADIUM

Mile High Stadium, home of the Denver Broncos, has been filled for every regular season game since and including the 1970 season, with the exception of two replacement games played during the 1987 player's strike (both games were sold out before the strike). The Broncos have sold out 195 consecutive non-strike regular season games, and with postseason contests the total reaches 204 over the 26-year period.

Expansion of the stadium, begun in 1975, was completed for the 1977 season to give the Broncos the seventh-largest home facility in the league (capacity 76,273).

Denver voters passed a $25 million bond issue in 1974 to expand and improve the stadium from its capacity of 51,706 to 75,100.The stadium held 63,532 for the 1976 season, halfway through the project.

Bringing the stadium capacity to its present 76,273 in 1986 was the construction of the Penthouse Suites atop the west stands. There are 60 luxury suites that seat 14, 16 or 24 fans each, accessed by private elevators and fully serviced for every Bronco home game.

Making Mile High Stadium unique, however, is its movable east stands. The east stands move in a single section which, when fully extended, forms a horseshoe configuration for football. When the section is retracted, the stadium is in position for baseball.

The dynamics involved in the move are fascinating. First, bear in mind that the east stands section is a three-tiered structure, 535 feet long, 135 feet tall and 200 feet deep, weighing nearly nine million pounds. Second, the stands must be moved a distance of 145 feet.

How is it done? The answer, says DMJM-Phillips-Reister, the engineering-architectural firm in charge of the project, is water.

More than 90,000 square feet of runways serve as the operating surfaces over which the stands will move. Water is pumped onto the runways and form a .003 inch sheet upon which the stands rest. Hydraulic rams then push the stands forward at the rate of three feet per minute, making the move last somewhere around two hours.

Originally called Bears Stadium, the facility was built in 1948 for the Denver Bears of baseball's old Western League, with long range plans to utilize it for football as well. When Denver became a charter member of the American Football League in 1959, the south stands (8,100 seats) and portable east stands (9,616 seats) were added to give a capacity of 34,657 for football.

After Denver voters turned down a stadium bond issue to build an all-purpose metropolitan stadium in 1967, a non-profit group began a fund-raising drive with the goal of purchasing the stadium for the city.

In February of 1968, the group bought the stadium from Rocky Mountain Empire Sports for $1.8 million and presented it to the city of Denver. A 16,000-seat upper deck was immediately constructed over the west stands, raising the capacity to over 50,000 for the 1968 season. In December of 1968, the stadium was renamed Denver Mile High Stadium.

BRONCOS' RADIO NETWORK

For the 27th consecutive season, Denver's 50,000-watt station KOA (850) will serve as the flagship station for the Denver Broncos game broadcast network.

Larry Zimmer is in his 26th consecutive season on the Broncos' broadcast team and his seventh handling play-by-play. Zimmer called his 500th Broncos game for KOA on Nov. 19, 1995 when Denver hosted San Diego. He was the color commentator from 1971-89, working alongside play-by-play man Bob Martin. Zimmer was recognized in 1995 by the Colorado Broadcasters Associationas the winner of the Colorado Broadcaster of the Year Award, and has previously been named Colorado Sportscaster of the Year in 1988, '90 and '91 by the National Sportscasters and Sportswriters Association. He also won the Colorado Broadcast Achievement Award in 1989. In addition to his role as the radio voice of the Broncos, Zimmer handles play-by-play for the University of Colorado's football and men's basketball teams.

Joining Zimmer on the broadcast is Dave Logan, in his seventh year as color commentator on the KOA announcing team. A former three-sport star at Wheat Ridge High School and the University of Colorado, Logan played with the Cleveland Browns from 1976-83 and the Broncos in 1984, and has been active in Denver sports radio since leaving the NFL. Logan, who hosts a weekday 3-7 p.m. sports talk show on KOA with Scott Hastings, was named the Colorado Sportscaster of the Year for 1992 and 1993.

MEDICAL GLOSSARY

AC Joint — Acromioclavicular joint; joint of the shoulder where acromion process of the scapula and the distal end of the clavicle meet; most shoulder separations occur at this point.

Abduct — Movement of any extremity away from the midline of the body. This action is achieved by an abductor muscle.

Abrasion — Any injury which rubs off the surface of the skin.

Abscess — An infection which produces pus; can be the result of a blister, callus, penetrating wound or laceration.

Adduct — Movement of an extremity toward the midline of the body. This action is achieved by an adductor muscle.

Adhesion — Abnormal adherence of collagen fibers to surrounding structures during immobilization following trauma or as a complication of surgery which restricts normal elasticity of the structures involved.

Aerobic — Exercise in which energy needed is supplied by oxygen inspired and is required for sustained periods of vigorous exercise with a continually high pulse rate.

Anabolic Steroids — Steroids that promote tissue growth by creating protein in an attempt to enhance muscle growth. The main anabolic steroid is testosterone (male sex hormone).

Anaerobic — Exercise without use of oxygen as an energy source; short bursts of vigorous exercises.

Anaphylactic Shock — Shock that is caused by an allergic reaction.

Anterior Compartment Syndrome — Condition in which swelling within the anterior compartment of the lower leg jeopardizes the viability of muscles, nerves and arteries that serve the foot. In severe cases, emergency surgery is necessary to relieve the swelling and pressure.

Anterior Cruciate Ligament (ACL) — A primary stabilizing ligament within the center of the knee joint that prevents hyperextension and excessive rotation of the joint. A complete tear of the ACL necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 months of rehabilitation.

Anterior Talofibular Ligament — A ligament of the ankle that connects the fibula (lateral ankle bone) to the talus. This ligament is oft times subject to sprain.

Anti-Inflammatory — Any agent which prevents inflammation, such as aspirin or ibuprofen.

Anteriogram — A film demonstrating arteries after injection of a dye.

Arthrogram — X-ray technique for joints using air and/or dye injected into the affected area; useful in diagnosing meniscus tears of the knee and rotator cuff tears of the shoulder.

Anthroscope — An instrument used to visualize the interior of a joint cavity.

Arthroscopy — A surgical examination of the internal structures of a joint by means for viewing through an arthroscope. An arthroscopic procedure can be used to remove or repair damaged tissue or as a diagnostic procedure in order to inspect the extent of any damage or confirm a diagnosis.

Aspiration — The withdrawal of fluid from a body cavity by means of a suction or siphonage apparatus, such as a syringe.

Atrophy — To shrivel or shrink from disuse, as in muscular atrophy. Avascular Necrosis — Death of a part due to lack of circulation. Avulsion — The tearing away, forcibly, of a part or structure.

Baker's Cyst — Localized swelling of a bursa sac in the posterior knee as a result of fluid that has escaped from the knee capsule. A Baker's cyst indicates that there is a trauma inside the knee joint that leads to excessive fluid production.

Bone Scan — An imaging procedure in which a radioactive-labeled substance is injected into the body to determine the status of a bony injury. If the radioactive substance is taken up the bone at the injury site, the injury will show as a "hot spot" on the scan image. The bone scan is particularly useful in the diagnosis of stress fractures.

Brachial Plexus — Network of nerves originating from the cervical vertebrae and running down to the shoulder, arm, hand, and fingers.

Bruise — A discoloration of the skin due to an extravasation of blood into the underlying tissues.

Bursa — A fluid-filled sac that is located in areas where friction is likely to occur, then minimizes the friction; for example between a tendon and bone.

Capsule — An enclosing structure which surrounds the joint and contains ligaments which stabilize that joint.

Cartilage — Smooth, slippery substance preventing two ends of bones from rubbing together and grating.

CAT Scan — Use of a computer to produce a cross sectional view of the anatomical part being investigated from X-ray data.

Cellulitis — Inflammation of cellular or connective tissue.

Cervical Vertebrae — Group of seven vertebrae located in the neck

Charley Horse — A contusion or bruise to any muscle resulting in intramuscular bleeding. No other injury should be called a charley horse.

Colles' Fracture — A fracture of the distal end of the radium with the lower end being displaced backward.

Concentric Muscle Contraction — A shortening of the muscle as it develops tension and contracts to move a resistance.

Concussion — Jarring injury of the brain resulting in dysfunction. It can be graded as mild, moderate or severe depending on loss of consciousness, amnesia and loss of equilibrium.

Contusion — An injury to a muscle and tissues caused by a blow from a blunt object

Cortical Steroids — Used to suppress joint inflammation. Costochondral — Cartilage that separates the bones within the rib cage. Cryokinetics — Treatment with cold and movement.

Cryotherapy — A treatment with the use of cold. Cyst — Abnormal sac containing liquid or semi-solid matter.

Degenerative Joint Disease — Changes in the joint surface as a result of repetitive trauma

Deltoid Ligament — Ligament that connects the tibia to bones of the medial aspect of the foot and is primarily responsible for stability of the ankle on the medial side. Is sprained less frequently than other ankle ligaments.

Deltoid Muscle — Muscles at top of the arm, just below the shoulder, responsible for shoulder motions to the front, side and back Disc, Intelvertebral — A flat, rounded plate between each vertebrae of the spine. The disc consists of a thick fiber ring which surrounds a soft gel-like interior. It functions as a cushion and shock absorber for the spinal column.

Disc, Intervertebral — A flat, rounded plate between each vertebrae of the spine. This disc consists of a thick fiber ring which surrounds a soft gel-like interior. It functions as a cushion and shock absorber for the spinal column.

Dislocation — Complete displacement of joint surfaces.

Eccentric Muscle Contraction — An overall lengthening of the muscles as it develops tension and contracts to control motion performed by an outside force; oft times referred to a"negative" contraction in weight training.

Eccymosis — Bleeding into the surface tissue below the skin, resulting in a "black and blue" effect

Edema — Accumulation of fluid in organs and tissues of the body; swelling.

Effusion — Accumulation of fluid, in various spaces in the body, or the knee itself. Commonly, the knee has an effusion after an injury.

Electrical Galvanic Stimulation (EGS) — An electrical therapeutic modality that sends a current to the body at select voltages and frequencies in order to stimulate pain receptors, disperse edema, or neutralize muscle spasms among other functional applications.

Electromyogran (EMG) — Test to determine nerve function. Epicondylitis — Inflammation in the elbow due to overuse.

Ethyl Chloride — "Cold spray, " a chemical coolant sprayed onto an injury site to produce a local, mild anesthesia.

Fat Percentage — The amount of body weight that is adipose, fat tissue. Fat percentages can be calculated by underwater weighing, measuring select skinfold thickness, or by analyzing electrical impedance.

Femur Thigh bone; longest bone in the body.

Fibula — Smaller of the two bones in the lower leg; runs from knee to the ankle along the outside of the lower leg.

Flexibility — The ability of muscle to relax and yield to stretch forces.

Flexibility Exercise — General term used to describe exercise performed by a player to passively or actively elongate soft tissue without the assistance of an athletic trainer.

Fracture — Breach of continuity of a bone. Types of fractures include simple, compound, comminuted, greenstick incomplete, impacted, longitudinal, oblique, stress, or transverse.

Gamekeeper's Thumb — Tear of the ulnar collateral ligament of the metacarpophalangeal joint of the thumb.

Glycogen — Form in which foods are stored in the body as energy.

Grade One Injury — A mild injury in which ligament, tendon, or other musculoskeletal tissue may have been stretched or contused, but not torn of otherwise disrupted.

Grade Two Injury — A moderate injury when musculoskeletal tissue has been partially, but not totally, torn which causes appreciable limitation in function of the injured tissue.

Grade Three Injury — A severe injury in which tissue has been significantly, and in some cases totally, torn or otherwise disrupted causing a virtual total loss of function.

Hamstring — Category of muscle that runs from the buttocks to the knee along the back of the thigh. It functions to flex the knee, and is oft times injured as a result of improper conditioning or lack of muscle flexibility.

Heat Cramps — Painful muscle spasms of the arms or legs caused by excessive body heat and depletion of fluids and electrolytes.

Heat Exhaustion — Mild form of shock due to dehydration because of excessive sweating when exposed to heat and humidity.

Heat Stroke — Condition of rapidly rising internal body temperature that overwhelms the body's mechanisms for release of heat and could result in death if not cared for appropriately.

Heel Cup — Orthotic device that is inserted into the shoe and worm under the heel to give support to the Achilles tendon and help absorb impacts at the heel.

Hematoma — Tumor-like mass produced by an accumulation of coagulated blood in a cavity.

Hot Pack — Chemical pack that rests in water, approximately 160 degrees, and retains its heat for 15-20 minutes when placed in a towel for general therapeutic application.

Humerus — Bone of the upper arm that runs from the shoulder to the elbow.

Hydrotherapy — Treatment using water.

Hyperextension — Extreme extension of a limb or body part

Iliotibial Band — A thick, wide fascial layer that runs from the iliac crest to the knee joint and is occasionally inflamed as a result of excessive running.

Inflammation — The body's natural response to injury in which the injury site might display various degrees of pain, sweating, heat, redness, and/or loss of function.

Internal Rotation — Rotation of a joint or extremity medially, to the inside.

Lesion — Wound, injury or tumor.

Ligament — Band of fibrous tissue that connects bone to bone or bone to cartilage and supports and strengthens joints.

Lumbar Vertebrae — Five vertebrae of the lower back that articulate with the sacrum to form the lumbosacral joint Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) — Imaging procedure in which a radio frequency pulse causes certain electrical elements of the injured tissue to react to this pulse and through this process a computer display and permanent film establish a visual image. MRI does not require radiation and is very useful in the diagnosis of soft tissue, disc, and meniscus injuries.

Meniscectomy — An intra-articular surgical procedure of the knee by which all or part of the damaged meniscus is removed.

Meniscus — Crescent shaped cartilage, usually pertaining to the knee joint; also known as "cartilage." There are two menisci in the knee, medial and lateral. These work to absorb weight within the knee and provide stability.

Metacarpals — Five long bones of the hand, running from the wrist to the fingers.

Metatarsals — Five long bones of the foot, running from the ankle to the toes.

Myositis — Inflammation of a muscle. Necrotic — Relating to death of a portion of tissue.

Neoprene — Lightweight rubber used in joint and muscle sleeves designed to provide support and/or insulation and heat retention to the area

Neuritis — Inflammation of a nerve.

Orthotic — Any device applied to or around the body in the care of physical impairment or disability, commonly used to control foot mechanics.

Parasthesia — Sensation of numbness or tingling, indicating nerve irritation.

Patella — The kneecap. The patella functions to protect the distal end of the femur as well as increase the mechanical advantage and force generating capacities of the quadriceps muscle group.

Patella Tendinitis — Inflammation of the patella ligament; also known as "jumpers knee."

Patellofemoral Joint — Articulation of the knee cap and femur. Inflammation of this joint can occur through: 1) acute injury to the patella, 2) overuse from excessive running particularly if there is an associated knee weakness, 3) chronic wear and tear of the knee, 4) as a result of poor foot mechanics. Patellofemoral irritation can lead to chondromalancia, which in its most chronic condition, could require surgery.

Peroneal Muscles — Group of muscles of the lateral lower leg that are responsible for everting the knee. Tendons of these three muscles are vital to the stability of the ankle and foot.

Phalanx — Any bone of the fingers or toes; plural is phalanges. Phlebitis — Inflammation of a vein.

Plica — Fold of tissue in the joint capsule and a common result of knee injury.

Posterior Cruciate Ligament (PCL) — A primary stabilizing ligament of the knee that provides significant stability and prevents displacement of the tibia backward within the knee joint. A complete tear of this ligament necessitating reconstruction could require up to 12 months of rehabilitation.

Quadricep Muscles "Quads" — A group of four muscles of the front thigh that run from the hip and form a common tendon at the patella; they are responsible for knee extension.

Radiography — Taking of X-rays.

Radius — Forearm bone on the thumb side.

Reconstruction — Surgical rebuilding of a joint using natural, artificial or transplanted materials.

Referred Pain — Pain felt in an undamaged area of body away from the actual injury.

Retraction — The moving of tissue to expose a part or structure of the body.

Rotator Cuff — Comprised of four muscles in the shoulder area that can be irritated by over use.The muscles are the supraspinatus(most commonly injured), infraspinatus, teres minor, and subscapularis.

Rotator Cuff Impingement Syndrome — A microtrauma or overuse injury caused by stress, and the four stages are: 1) Tendentious with temporary thickening of the bursa and rotator cuff; 2) Fiber dissociation in the tendon with permanent thickening of the bursa and scar formation; 3) A partial rotator cuff tear of less than 1 cm.; and 4) A complete tear of 1 cm. or more.

Sacrum — Group of five fused vertebrae located just below the lumbar vertebrae of the low back.

Scapula — Shoulder blade.

Sciatica — Irritation of the sciatic nerve resulting in pain or tingling running down the inside of the leg.

Sciatic Nerve — Major nerve that carries impulses for muscular action and sensations between the low back and thigh and lower leg; it is the longest nerve in the body.

Shin Splint — A catch-all syndrome describing pain in the skin that is not a fracture or tumor and cannot be defined otherwise.

Sorbothane — An energy absorbing polyurethane utilized in some foot orthotics to absorb shock forces of the foot.

Spasm (Theory) — Muscle soreness induced by exercise; is the result of reduced muscle blood flow, which results in pain.

Spleen — Large, solid organ responsible for the normal production and destruction of blood cells.

Spondylolisthesis — Forward displacement of one vertebrae over another below it due to a developmental defect in the vertebrae.

Spondylosis — Abnormal vertebral fixation or immobility.

Sprain — Injury resulting from a stretch or twist of the joint and causes various degrees of stretch or tear of a ligament or other soft tissue at the joint.

Sternum — The breast bone.

Steroids — Any one of a large number of hormone-like substances. See Anabolic steroids and cortical steroids

Strain — Injury resulting from a pull or torsion to the muscle or tendon that causes various degrees of stretch or tear to the muscle or tendon tissue.—

Stress Fracture — A hair-line type of break in a bone caused by overuse.

Stress X-ray — A continual X-ray taken when a portion of the body is stressed to its maximum in order to determine joint stability. This is a test utilized in some ankle injuries.

Stretching — Any therapeutic maneuver designed to elongate shortened soft tissue structures and thereby increase flexibility.

Subluxation — Partial dislocation of a joint The term usually implies that the joint can return to its normal position without formal reduction.

Talus — The ankle bone that articulates with the tibia and fibula to form the ankle joint.

Target Heart Rate — A pre-determined pulse to be obtained during exercise when circulation is working at full efficient capacities.

Temporomandibular Joint (TMJ) — The articulation of the jaw and skull; considered by some to be vital in resolution of injuries throughout the body.

Tendinities — Inflammation of the tendon and/or tendon sheath, caused by chronic overuse or sudden injury.

Tendon — Tissue that connects muscle to bone. Tennis Elbow — General term for lateral elbow pain.

Tennis Elbow — General term for lateral elbow pain.

Thoracic — Group of twelve vertegrae located in the thorax and articulate with the twelve ribs.

Thoracic Outlet Compression Syndrome — A neuro-vascular disorder of the upper extremity common in throwing.

Tibia — Larger of the two bones of the lower leg and is the weight-bearing bone of the shin.

Tomograph — A special type of X-ray apparatus that demonstrates an organ or tissue at a particular depth.

Trachea — The windpipe.

Trascutaneous Electrical Nerve Stimulator (TENS) — An electrical modality that sends a mild current through pads at the injury site which stimulates the brain to release the natural analgesic, endorphin.

Transverse Process — Small lateral projection off the right side and left side of each vertebrae that functions as an attachment site for muscles and ligaments of the spine.

Trapezius — Flat triangular muscle covering the posterior surface of the neck and shoulder.

Triceps — Muscle of the back of the upper arm, primarily responsible for extending the elbow.

Ulna — Forearm bone that runs from the tip of the elbow to the little finger side of the wrist.

Ulnar Nerve — Nerve in elbow commonly irritated from excessive throwing.

Ultrasound — An electrical modality that transmits a sound wave through an applicator into the skin to the soft tissue in order to heat the local area for relaxing the injured tissue and/or disperse edema.

Valgus — Angulation outward and away from the midline of the body.

Varus — Angulation inward and toward the midline of the body.

Vasoconstriction — Decrease of local blood flow.

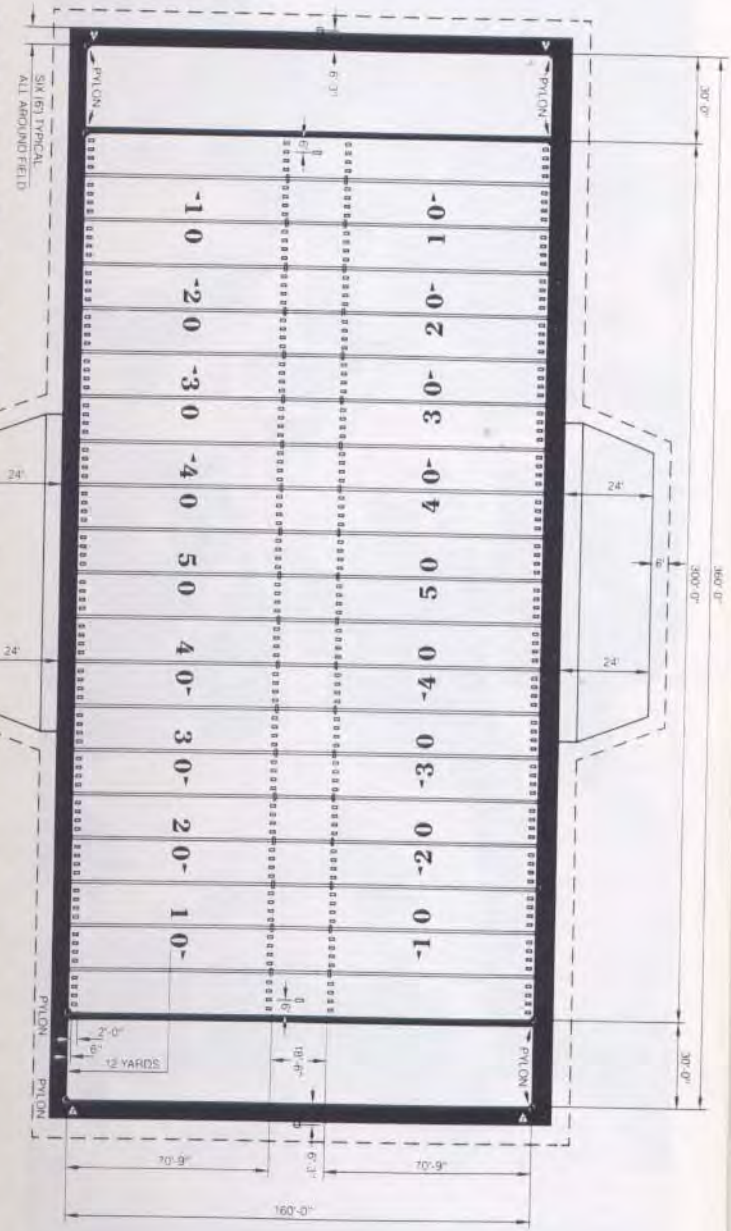

Vasodilation — Increase of local blood flow.

"Wind Knocked Out" — Syndrome describing a contraction of the abdominal nerve truck, the solar plexus, as a result of an abdominal contusion.

Wrist — The junction between the two forearm bones (radius and ulna) and the eight wrist bones (trapezium, capitate, hamate, pisiform, triquetral, lunate and scaphoid).

Zygoma — The cheekbone.

PLAN OF THE PLAYING FIELD

THE 1996 SEASON

Tight end Shannon Sharpe led the Broncos with 63 receptions in 1995, and earned his fourth consecutive trip to the Pro Bowl. The second-team All-Pro (AP) finished second among all NFL tight ends in both receptions and yards during the '95 campaign.

NFL PLAYER PERSONNEL DATES AND INFORMATION FOR 1996-98

June 1	—	Deadline for old clubs to send tender to unsigned unrestricted free agents to receive exclusive negotiating rights for rest of season if player is not signed by another club by July 15.
June 1	—	Deadline for old clubs to send tender to unsigned restricted free agents or to extend qualifying offer to retain exclusive negotiating rights for rest of season.
June 15	—	Deadline for club to withdraw qualifying offer to restricted agents and still retain exclusive negotiating rights by substituting tender of one-year contract at 110 percent of previous year's Paragraph 5 salary (with all other terms carried forward unchanged).
July 8	—	Claiming period of 24 hours begins in waiver system. All waiver requests for the rest of the year are no-recall and no-withdrawal.
July 11	—	The San Diego Chargers are the first team to open training camp. Veteran players cannot be required to report earlier than 15 days prior to club's first preseason game or July 15, whichever is later.
July 15	—	Signing period ends at 4 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, for Unrestricted Free Agents to whom June 1 tender was made by Old Club, and for Transition Players and Franchise Players who are subject to the rules for Transition Players. After this date and through 4 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, on November 7, Old Club has exclusive negotiating rights with its unsigned Unrestricted Free Agents.
July 15	—	Deadline for a player who has practiced and/or played in a minor league in 1996 to sign in the NFL without being required to clear Procedural Recall Waivers.
July 27	—	Pro Football Hall of Fame Game, Canton, Ohio: Indianapolis Colts vs. New Orleans Saints.
July 27	—	American Bowl, Tokyo, Japan: Pittsburgh Steelers vs. San Diego Chargers.
Aug. 2	—	If a drafted rookie has not signed with his club by this date, he may not be traded to any other club in 1996.
Aug. 2	—	Deadline for players under contract to report in order to earn a season of free agency credit.
Aug. 5	—	American Bowl, Monterrey, Mexico: Dallas Cowboys vs. Kansas City Chiefs.
Aug. 3-7	—	Deadline for club to provide written notice to the player and the NFLPA of its intent to place him on the Exempt List if he fails to report no later than one day prior to the club's second preseason game. Any player who fails to report prior to the deadline will be ineligible to play or receive compensation for at least three games (preseason or regular season) from the time that he reports.
Aug. 20	—	Roster cutdown to maximum of 60 players on Active List by 4 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time.
Aug. 21	—	All tryouts on this date and for the remainder of the season must be reported to the League Office.
Aug. 25	—	Roster cutdown to maximum of 53 players on Active/Inactive List by 4 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time. Clubs may dress minimum of 42 and maximum of 45 players and third quarterback for each regular season and postseason game.
Aug. 26	—	After 4 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, clubs may establish a Practice Squad of five players by signing free agents who do not have a season of free-agency credit, unless that season was achieved by spending an entire regular season on Reserve/Injured or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform.
Aug. 27	—	All clubs are required to file a personnel (injury) report with their conference Director of Information by 1 p.m., New York time, on this Tuesday and thereafter on each Wednesday before a regular-season game. Such report is to be updated by 1 p.m., New York time, each Thursday. An update must also be reported if there is any change in a player's condition after Thursday.
Aug. 30	—	All clubs are required to identify their 49-player Active List by 7 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time, on this Friday and thereafter on each Friday before a regular season Sunday game. No later than one hour and 30 minutes prior to kickoff, clubs must identify their 45-player Active List and third quarterback, if any.
Sept. 1-2	—	Regular season opens.

Sept. 17	—	Priority on multiple waiver claims is now based on the current season's standing.
Oct. 8	—	All trading ends at 4 p.m., Eastern Daylight Time.
Oct. 9	—	Players with at least four previous pension-credited seasons are subject to the waiver system for the remainder of the regular season and postseason.
Oct. 30-31	—	NFL Fall Meeting, New Orleans, La.
Nov. 5	—	Deadline for clubs to sign by 4 p.m., Eastern Time, their Franchise and Transition players. If still unsigned after this date, such players are prohibited from playing in the NFL in 1996.
Nov. 5	—	Deadline for clubs to sign by 4 p.m., Eastern Time, their Unrestricted and Restricted Free Agents to whom June 1 tender was made. If such players remain unsigned, they are prohibited from playing in NFL in 1996.
Nov. 7-8	—	NFL Fall Meeting, Dallas, Texas.
Nov. 23	—	Deadline for reinstatement of players in Reserve List categories of Retired and Did Not Report.
Dec. 20	—	Deadline for waiver requests in 1996, except for "special waiver requests" which have a 10-day claiming period, with termination or assignment delayed until after the Super Bowl.

NFL Terminology

The term NFL Rookie is defined as a player who is in his first season of professional football and has not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. A Rookie is designated by an "R" on NFL rosters. Players who have been active in another professional football league or players who have NFL experience, including either pre-season training camp or being on an active roster for fewer than three regular-season or postseason games, are termed NFL First-Year Players. An NFL First-Year Player is designated by a "1" on NFL rosters. Thereafter, a player on an NFL active roster for at least six regular-season or postseason games is credited with an additional year of NFL playing experience.

When making requests for working press credentials, please allow time for mailing. Press credentials are normally issued approximately seven days before the game. Should transmission facilities be required, please arrange for same through local representatives.

As a general rule, the Denver Broncos do not issue any types of press credentials to weekly newspapers or magazines, unless they are of national circulation on specific assignment.

It is understood that all credentials will be used for the purpose for which they were issued, without exception. Violation of this policy will subject the bearer to ejection from Mile High Stadium.

WORKING PRESS: Admittance to the Broncos' press box is restricted to the WORKING PRESS ONLY. Credentials are marked with individual identification. Passes are non-transferable.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Photographers are asked to take special note of the following conditions for use of press credentials, as set by the National Football League:

NOTICE OF CREDENTIAL USE CONDITIONS

"This working credential is issued to an organization (the "Accredited Organization") for the sole purpose of providing stadium access to an individual (the "Bearer") who has a legitimate working function (media or game service) in connection with this game. IT IS NON-TRANSFERABLE. Any unauthorized use of this credential subjects the Bearer to ejection from the stadium and prosecution for criminal trespass, and subjects the Accredited Organization to revocation of its credentials for future NFL games or events. The NFL is defined for the purposes of this credential to include the National Football League, its affiliates, its member clubs, and their agents and employees.

The use of any descriptions (including play-by-play and statistical descriptions), accounts, photographs, films, audio or video recordings, or drawings of the game to which this credential gives the Bearer access, or of any player interviews, press conferences, or other stadium activities related to that game (collectively "Game Information"), taken, made, created or compiled by the Accredited Organization or the Bearer is expressly prohibited except for regularly scheduled news coverage of the game by the Accredited Organization. Additionally, the Accredited Organization and the Bearer are prohibited from making Game Information available to any other organization without the advance written permission of the NFL or of the member clubs participating in the game.

The Accredited Organization agrees that Game Information taking the form of film or video recordings may only be used in connection with a regularly scheduled television newscast aired by the Accredited Organization within a seven-day period following the game.

The Accredited Organization further agrees that the film or video recording used by it pursuant to the previous paragraph will not exceed two (2) minutes in length, except that it may use up to six (6) minutes of "same-day" post-game highlights in regularly scheduled news programs airing the day the game is played.

If the Accredited Organization wishes to use filmed or taped Game Information in any other manner, it must obtain the advance written permission of the NFL and, where applicable, NFL Films, Inc.

The Accredited Organization and the Bearer assume all risk incident to the performance by the Bearer of his or her services; assume all risk incident to attending NFL games; agree that the NFL has no responsibility for any equipment in use in the stadium; agree that they are not acting for the NFL in any manner whatsoever and are not employees or agents of the NFL; and agree to indemnify and hold harmless the NFL, its affiliates, its member clubs, and their agents and employees from and against all liability, loss, damage or expense resulting from or arising out of the issuance of this credential or the Bearer's presence in the stadium.

This credential is subject to such additional credential use conditions as to which the Denver Broncos from time to time may give notice. Any violation of terms of credential use or such additional conditions may result in the withholding or revocation of this credential and any credential for any subsequent Denver Broncos football games.

Acceptance of this credential constitutes agreement by the Accredited Organization and the Bearer to abide by the foregoing conditions. Thank you for your cooperation."

Sideline photo passes will be tightly controlled by the Public Relations Department and are generally limited to photographers shooting for a daily newspaper, wire service, or magazine of national circulation on specific assignment, or television station.

RADIO-TELEVISION: In making requests for broadcast credentials, please specify requirements for spotters and/or statisticians.

STADIUM ACCESS: To get to Mile High Stadium, which is located at 19th Avenue and Eliot Street, take Interstate 25 to the Mile High Stadium Exit(19th Avenue Exit).The Press Box is located on the West side of the stadium.

DRIVING INSTRUCTIONS TO MILE HIGH STADIUM FROM DENVER INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT: Exit airport on Pena Boulevard and continue to Interstate 70. Take Interstate 70 West to Interstate 25 South. Continue on Interstate 25 South until you come to Mile High Stadium Exit (19th Avenue Exit).

DRIVING INSTRUCTIONS TO DENVER INTERNATIONAL AIRPORT FROM MILE HIGH STADIUM: Take one of two routes depending on your parking lot location. You can take 20th Avenue East to Clay Street, turning left at Clay and proceeding to 23rd Avenue. Take a right at 23rd Avenue and continue to Interstate 25 entrances. Another route (Northbound) would be to take 17th Avenue East, which will continue beneath an overpass and will take you directly to Interstate 25 north. Take I-25 North to I-70 East. Follow the signs to DIA. Please allow 45 minutes from Mile High Stadium to DIA.

TRANSMISSION FACILITIES: The Broncos provide five complimentary telephones in the visitors area of the working pressbox for use with VDT or telecopier equipment. Only collect, credit card or third party billing calls can be made from these telephones. Should you wish a private telephone installed at your seat, the Broncos will be pleased to assign you a seat location and provide you with a contact for you to make the appropriate arrangements with the local telephone company.

POST-GAME TRANSPORTATION: Please advise Broncos PR personnel as soon as possible should you require transportation following the game. The amount of time you must wait will obviously decline as time goes by following the conclusion of the game. All taxis will make pick-ups curb side at the Ticket Office, which is located at 19th Avenue and Eliot Street. Should you wish to make your own arrangements, the numbers of local cab companies are 777-7777 and 333-3333.

DENVER BRONCOS HIGHLIGHT VIDEO

NY Life is the sponsor of the Denver Broncos highlight video, which is available at no cost to groups of all sizes through the Broncos public relations department. The 1995 highlight video, titled Thunder in the West, can be obtained by calling the public relations department of the Broncos at (303) 649-9000. The team address is 13655 Broncos Parkway, Englewood, CO 80112. Please give as much advance notice as possible in requesting the 1995 video, or other films available through the Bronco library.
