The Green Bay Packers, Inc., is a community-owned non-profit corporation. A total of 4,627 shares are owned by 1,856 shareholders—none of whom receives any dividend on the initial investment. The Corporation is governed by 45 directors and a 7-man executive committee.

ROBERT E. HARLAN President and Chief Executive Officer

In just one year as operating head of the Green Bay Packers, Inc., Robert E. "Bob" Harlan, has put his personal stamp upon the office of president and chief executive officer with a series of progressive and innovative moves.

Harlan, who succeeded Judge Robert J. Parins as president at the organization's annual stockholders' meeting June 5, 1989, initiated his first major project in August of 1989 when he announced plans to construct 1,920 club seats — a historic "first" for the home of the Packers — and 36 new private boxes in Green Bay's Lambeau Field, an $8,263,000 project which increased the stadium capacity to nearly 60,000. It was completed in time for the start of 1990 National Football League pre-season play.

The 53-year-old Iowa native subsequently scheduled and staged the first annual "Breakfast with the Packers" in May, a gathering for fans selected at random by computer, at which he invited questions and feedback from them about the Packer organization.

Later, at the 1990 annual meeting (June 4), his nomination of Milwaukee Brewers President Allan H. "Bud" Selig to the Packers' board of directors, a move designed to promote a closer relationship between the two Wisconsin sports franchises, was unanimously approved and widely hailed — within and outside the organization — as a master stroke.

Committed to making the fans' day at the stadium as enjoyable as possible, Harlan also has directed the development of a responsible drinking program for Lambeau Field in an effort to eliminate alcohol-related misconduct at Packer games and pledged the adoption of a similar program at the Packers' other home field, Milwaukee County Stadium.

A year earlier, while still vice president of administration, he was the catalyst in the implementation and development of a long-term marketing program, launched with the hiring of a director of marketing and the opening of an official outlet store in the Packer administration building, a project which already has become a solid success and gives promise of greater dividends in the future.

The ninth president in the team's 71-year existence, Harlan is the first CEO to have come up through the ranks. All previous presidents of the NFL's only publicly-owned franchise had come from the business and professional areas of the community as members of the board of directors.

Harlan, who has been involved with every area of the club's operations over the course of his Green Bay career, joined the Packer organization as assistant general manager on June 1, 1971, after serving as director of public relations for the St. Louis baseball Cardinals.

He later was named corporate general manager in 1975, corporate assistant to the president in 1981 and executive vice president of administration on February 16, 1988.

In the latter role, he had been responsible for team travel, negotiating radio and pre-season television contracts, the public relations department and marketing, playing and practice fields, buildings and grounds, front office personnel, ticket office operations, purchasing, the leasing of Lambeau Field's private boxes, insurance, game day entertainment and the schedule of pre-season games.

Prior to 1985, he also negotiated all player contracts for 14 years.

Since taking over as president, Harlan has vigorously pursued the agenda he had set for himself on the occasion of his election, announcing, "I want to move this franchise ahead in every area ... We've got to be successful from top to bottom to succeed. And we are going to succeed."

At that point he addressed what he termed the two key "bottom lines ... Obviously, one is winning football games and the other is keeping the organization financially solvent and strong so it can always remain in Green Bay and compete with the other 27 clubs in this league."

Becoming president of the Green Bay Packers, he also revealed on that day, had exceeded his fondest dreams.

"In 1960, when I had just graduated from Marquette University and was working as sports information director, just getting started in public relations," he told members of the media following his election, "I attended a Packer game in Milwaukee County Stadium. I made a comment to my wife that I hope I can grow in the public relations field and become competent enough that someday I can become public relations director for the Green Bay Packers.

"When the opportunity came along 11 years later to join this fine organization, I jumped at it ... To be associated with the NFL and the Packers, I have been highly honored ... That honor has reached a new and incredible level."

The Packers' CEO, who earned a B.S. degree in journalism from Marquette in 1958, had a brief tour of duty in the U.S. Army before spending a year as a general reporter for United Press International in Milwaukee. He subsequently became sports information director at Marquette in 1959, serving six years in that capacity. He joined the St. Louis baseball Cardinals in 1965, serving as director of community relations and the speakers' bureau for two years and as director of public relations for 3½ years before coming to the Packers.

Harlan, born Robert Ernest Harlan in Des Moines, IA., September 9, 1936, is active in the Green Bay community as a member of the executive board of the Packer 65 Roses Sports Club, which was created to generate awareness of cystic fibrosis and to raise money for research, and as a member of the board of directors of the First Wisconsin Bank of Green Bay and the Green Bay Area Chamber of Commerce.

Bob and his wife, Madeline, have three sons — Kevin, 30, who is the play-by-play "voice" of both the NFL's Kansas City Chiefs and the Minnesota Timberwolves of the NBA; Bryan, 28, who is director of public relations for the Chicago Bears; and Michael, 21, a student at St. Norbert College who already has started to follow in his father's footsteps by working in the school's sports information department.

An ardent golfer, Harlan also is an "involved" fan, closely following the fortunes of the Milwaukee Brewers and Milwaukee Bucks as well as those of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, the University of Wisconsin-Madison and his alma mater, Marquette.

JUDGE ROBERT J. PARINS Chairman of the Board

Judge Robert J. Parins, who previously enjoyed a productive seven-year tenure as chief executive officer of the Packer Corporation, is serving his second term as the organization's chairman of the board.

Judge Parins was elected to the position at the corporation's annual meeting June 5, 1989, the day on which he retired from the presidency. He succeeded the late Dominic Olejniczak, who died April 14, 1989. As chairman of the board, Judge Parins serves as an ex-officio of the Executive Committee and, with the club president, represents ownership at National Football League meetings and at the NFL Management Council. He also acts in an advisory capacity to the president and Executive Committee on all matters concerning the interests and the management of the Corporation.

The Judge, who was succeeded by Robert E. Harlan at 1989's annual stockholder's meeting, became the first full-time president in club annals when elected in 1982. Rapid growth and major changes characterized his presidency over the intervening seven-year span. During his tenure, he presided over the planning and construction of four major additions to the Packers' physical facilities, which now rank among the NFL's finest, and saw the corporation's assets mount from $19.5 million when he took office to more than $32 million in 1988.

The building program was inaugurated in 1982 with construction of a 55,000-square foot indoor practice facility. It was followed in 1983 by remodeling and expansion of the administration building and training quarters, a project which more than doubled the size of the existing structure. In 1984, as part of a renegotiated lease with the City of Green Bay, stadium restroom facilities were remodeled and modernized. In 1985, seventy-two private boxes were constructed along the east and west sides of Lambeau Field. In 1986, a new and more sophisticated scoreboard was installed in 'Lambeau,' followed by the addition of an improved sound system in 1987. The upgrading process continued in 1989 with the expansion of the visitors' dressing room facilities, including a tunnel leading from the field to the locker room, and remodeling of the press box.

Organizationally, Judge Parins made a major change early in 1987 (January 31), when he named Tom Braatz, a former general manager and personnel director of the Atlanta Falcons, to a new position as executive vice president of football operations.

In another historic development, he supervised the creation of the Green Bay Packer Foundation, established May 6, 1987, as a vehicle to assure continued contributions from the Packer organization to charity. In its first two years, the Foundation has made grants exceeding $71,000 to various institutions and programs.

The veteran jurist had become president and chief executive officer on June 1, 1982, following his resignation as a Brown County Circuit Court judge (Branch 2 of the 8th Judicial District). He previously had been named principal executive officer at a board of directors' meeting October 11, 1981.

At that point only the eighth man to hold the Packer presidency since the corporation was founded in 1922, he has been a member of the team's official family since May 23, 1966, when elected to the board of directors at the annual stockholder's meeting. Judge Parins later was elected vice president of the Corporation at a board of directors' meeting August 1, 1979.

Born in Green Bay August 23, 1918, he graduated from Green Bay East High School in 1936. He later obtained a bachelor of arts degree in political science from the University of Wisconsin-Madison in 1940 and a law degree, from the same institution, in 1942.

Upon graduation from law school, he worked for Employers Mutual Insurance Co. in Minneapolis from 1942 through 1944 before returning to Green Bay, in 1944, to open the practice of law in partnership with the late Meyer Cohen. In 1949, he was elected district attorney of Brown County and served one, two-year term. Elected a circuit judge in the spring of 1967, he was formally vested Jan. 2, 1968. On the bench, he earned a state-wide reputation for the fair, efficient and expeditious disposition of the cases brought before him. Although he officially retired in 1982, he continues to serve as a reserve judge.

Judge Parins and his wife, Elizabeth, have five children and 11 grandchildren.

An active sportsman, he owns a stable outside Green Bay and regularly works with his horse there. He also is an ardent fisherman and shoots a respectable game of golf.

TOM BRAATZ Executive Vice President of Football Operations

Tom Braatz, one of the leading personnel experts on the professional football scene, is a veteran of 25 years' National Football League experience as a front office executive, personnel director and talent scout. The 57-year-old Wisconsin native is in his fourth year as executive vice president of football operations.

Braatz, who had been a member of the Atlanta Falcons' front office since the club's inception in 1965, was named to the newly-created post January 31, 1987 by Judge Robert J. Parins, then the Packers' president and chief executive officer.

His appointment represented a homecoming of sorts for the Marquette University graduate, who is a native of Kenosha, WI.

In his role, Braatz' duties include hiring and managing of the scouting staff, conducting the college draft in conjunction with the head coach, handling trades and waivers, conducting contract negotiations with players and scouts and serving as liaison between football operations and the club president.

While in Atlanta, his principal responsibility was overseeing the draft, although he also had handled most of the club's contract negotiations in the later years of his tenure. In the former role, he was responsible for bringing a number of Pro Bowl players to the Falcons, among them William Andrews, Gerald Riggs, Mike Kenn, Bill Fralic and Steve Bartkowski.

Braatz was named general manager of the Falcons in 1982 in an expansion of his duties. He subsequently was reassigned as director of college scouting following the 1985 season as the Falcons moved to streamline areas of responsibility. Braatz previously had been an area scout when he joined the Atlanta organization in 1965 and was appointed director of player personnel in 1969.

His route to Green Bay, as well as league-wide respect, was somewhat circuitous. He grew up as a Packer fan in Kenosha, where he played a major role in his high school's drive to consecutive state football championships as a junior and senior.

Braatz then matriculated at Marquette University in neighboring Milwaukee with the intention of becoming a dentist. Fate, however took a hand. "Once I got into football, that was it," said Tom, who captained the Marquette varsity as a senior.

Following graduation, he entered the Army, rising to the rank of lieutenant before leaving the service. Upon returning to civilian life, he signed with the Washington Redskins as a defensive end, later closing out his pro career under Tom Landry with the then expansion Dallas Cowboys in their charter 1960 season.

After his playing days, he worked for the Ithaca Gun Co. as an arms demonstrator while living in Dallas. Then, unexpectedly, he ran into Vince Lombardi, an encounter which was to have an indirect but profound impact upon his future.

That was in 1965, when the Packers were playing a pre-season game in Dallas. Rankin Smith, chairman of the board of the expansion Falcons, was in town to interview Lombardi for the fledgling team's first head coaching job. A friend of Smith's asked Braatz to pick up Lombardi at the airport and drive him to his hotel. Tom agreed. Smith didn't persuade Lombardi to join the Falcons but he did like Braatz enough to ask him to work as a part-time scout. Braatz agreed.

Twenty-five years later, Braatz is still in personnel, in effect, and still in the NFL.

"I was just doing the guy a favor, and that's how I started in football," Tom says with characteristic economy of verbiage.

Braatz and his wife, Jeri, have two sons, Tommy, 27, and Jon, 23.

LEE REMMEL Executive Director of Public Relations

Lee Remmel has been a member of the Packer front office for 16 years, serving as director of public relations in 1974 and from 1980 through 1988, and as director of publicity from 1975 through 1979.

He was named executive director of public relations in March of 1989 by Robert Harlan, then executive vice president of administration, with responsibility for overseeing the public relations and marketing and community relations areas.

Prior to joining the Packer organization on March 24, 1974, Remmel was a sportswriter and columnist for the Green Bay Press-Gazette for 29½ years.

In the course of his two "careers," he has been involved in staffing all 24 Super Bowls played to date, the first eight representing the Press-Gazette and the last 16 as a member of the National Football League's auxiliary media relations staff.

Remmel also is currently a member of the NFL public relations directors' Professional Football Writers Association Liaison Committee, following long service as a member of the statistics committee.

While at the Press-Gazette, he was the only sports writer in Wisconsin to have been directly involved in coverage of the Packers throughout all of the team's coaching regimes to that point, beginning with Packer founder E. L. "Curly" Lambeau and continuing until the naming of Bart Starr in 1975.

In 1967, he was voted "Wisconsin Sportswriter of the Year." He also is a past president of the former Wisconsin Pro Football Writers' Association.

Remmel, a native of Shawano, WI, where he began his career as the sports editor of a weekly newspaper while a Shawano High School freshman, is a member of the executive committee of the Brown County Civic Music Association, along with his wife, Noreen, as well as of the executive board of the Packer 65 Roses Club. He also is a member of the St. Norbert College Fine Arts Committee, the Green Bay School/Business/Industry Partnership Council and the board of directors of the Green Bay Packer Hall of Fame.

The Green Bay Packers are a team — and an organization — apart in professional football, unique in both structure and achievement. From an organizational standpoint, they represent the only publicly-owned franchise in the 28-club National Football League. On the field, they have won more championships — eleven — than any other team in the NFL's 71-year history.

Green Bay Packers, Inc., was founded as a non-profit corporation in 1922 under the leadership of A. B. Turnbull, then publisher of the Green Bay Press-Gazette, who became the organization's first president. There are 4,627 shares of stock owned by 1,856 shareholders. The corporation is governed by a seven-man Executive Committee, selected from a 45-man board of directors. (For "The Green Bay Packer Story," turn to page 190).

Robert E. Harlan, ninth president of the corporation, was elected the organization's chief executive officer June 5, 1989, succeeding Judge Robert J. Parins, who was elected chairman of the board.

LINDY INFANTE Head Coach

Lindy Infante, in only his second year as Green Bay's head coach, gave Packer fans a long-awaited taste of success in 1989 and high hopes for the future, engineering one of the most remarkable turnabouts in the team's 71-year history.

Infante, who had seen his first Packer team struggle to a 4-and-12 record and a fifth place finish a year earlier, maneuvered the Green and Gold to a 10-6 mark — their best in 17 years — and within tantalizing reach of the National Football League playoffs, a goal which eluded them only when Minnesota defeated Cincinnati in the final game of the season.

In the wake of that quantum leap, which saw the Packers equal a club record for won-lost improvement from one season to the next with a 6-victory climb from

'88 to '89 — and set an NFL mark with four one-point victories — the 50-year-old Floridian was accorded consensus recognition as the league's "Coach of the Year." Named by virtually every news service, major publication or organization which makes such selections, he was chosen for NFL honors by the Associated Press, The Sporting News, Washington Touchdown Club, Columbus (Ohio) Touchdown Club and Football Digest, and for NFC recognition by United Press International, the Pro Football Writers of America, Football News, College and Pro Football Newsweekly and Committee of 101.

It was only the third time in the Packers' long history that they have improved as much as six games in one season.

With his unfailingly positive approach and consistent, on-course leadership — coupled with his highly regarded offensive expertise — Infante clearly was the catalyst in their surge to contender status, a development triggered by his sophisticated "Pass to Daylight" attack, which finished a lofty sixth in the NFL's overall statistical rankings and mounted the second most productive offense in Packer history. Ironically, if 1990's newly-implemented playoff formula had been in effect last season — there now will be three wild card qualifiers instead of two in each conference of the NFL — Infante and his Packers would have been the NFC's third wild card entry, putting Green Bay in the playoffs for the first time since 1982.

Off the field, Infante already had captured the hearts and won the respect of Packer fans in 1988, his first year as Green Bay's head coach, endearing himself to the faithful with his candor, warmth and wit during a trying shakedown cruise which had seen the Packers lose their first five games and 12 of their first 14.

Steadfastly maintaining an upbeat approach through the dark days, he then saw his labors begin to bear fruit in the late stages of the season, which the Packers closed out with two consecutive victories, upsetting the playoff-bound Vikings and then invading Phoenix to dispatch the Cardinals.

Now, understandably buoyed by 1989's 10-6 success, he is optimistic about the chances of making the playoffs in 1990. "I'm confident," he has said, "that we can take the next step... I think that if we ever want to be the National Football League champion, we have to take the next step, we have to get into the playoffs."

This season marking his 26th year in coaching, Infante long since has earned a league-wide reputation as one of pro football's leading innovators and a consistent identification with success. Bill Walsh, celebrated as an expert on offensive football himself after directing the 49ers to three Super Bowl victories, rates the Packer coach as the premier offensive "mind" in the game today.

The personable Miami, FL., native previously played major roles with two winning NFL programs in the '80s — first with the Cincinnati Bengals in their surprising surge to Super Bowl XVI in 1981, and more recently with the Cleveland Browns, who won more games (22) than any other team in the American Football Conference over the 1986 and '87 seasons with Infante as their offensive coordinator.

Infante, who began developing his highly productive offensive system while at Cincinnati from 1980 through 1982, became the tenth head coach in Packer history when he signed a five-year contract on February 3, 1988, succeeding Forrest Gregg.

More recently — on January 16, 1990, with three years still remaining on the original agreement, President Robert E. Harlan extended Infante's contract through the 1994 season, the pact including salary increases in 1993 and '94.

"I think as Lindy has more success, his name is going to come up more often (for other NFL coaching jobs)," Harlan said in announcing the extension. "He's signed for five years, and I want to keep him here."

In the process, the Packers' chief executive officer praised Infante and his wife, Stephanie, for bringing "class and dignity" to the franchise. He also cited Infante for his awareness of public relations in addition to his role in the Packers' surprising turnaround in 1989, adding, "I think it's a great fit. We've got a chance to have some great success and we didn't want to lose that."

Now in his 13th year in the professional ranks, Infante first made a league-wide impact with his offensive approach during his second year with the Bengals (1981), when he was the team's quarterback/receivers coach. Cincinnati set team records for passing yards (3,999) and total yards (5,968) that season en route to a 12-4 record and their Super Bowl XVI appearance against the 49ers. A year later, in the strike-shortened 1982 season, the Bengals finished with a 7-2 mark with Infante as offensive coordinator.

A similar pattern of success emerged during his two seasons at Cleveland. In 1986, his first year as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach, the Browns won more games than any team in the club's history (13), produced the best regular season record in the AFC (12-4), scored the fourth-most points in team history (391), set 15 Browns' offensive playoff records and eight NFL offensive playoff records, came within 37 seconds of playing in the Super Bowl, and improved their offensive rating from 21st to 9th in the NFL.

In 1987, the Browns continued to mount a high-powered offense under Infante, rolling up 390 points — only one fewer than in 1986, in one less game — as they reached the AFC championship game for the second year in a row. Those 390 points represented an AFC best and ranked third in the league as a whole behind San Francisco and New Orleans.

In the process, the Browns demonstrated an impressive ratio of scoreboard success, scoring on 46 of 54 possessions inside the opponents' 20-yard line. Significantly, they also exhibited remarkable balance, passing 482 times and rushing 474 times while finishing third in the AFC and fifth in the league in passing.

In that two-year span, Infante also was credited with helping Bernie Kosar develop into one of the NFL's premier passers and field generals.

Since arriving upon the Packer scene, Infante also has implemented his "spread the ball around" offensive philosophy with impressive effect in Green Bay. In 1988, no fewer than eight Packers closed out the season with 20 or more receptions, and in '89, his second season on Lombardi Avenue, six players caught 20 or more passes as the Green and Gold amassed 5,780 yards of offense, second highest total in Packer annals. Along the way, the Packers established new team records for first downs (342) and pass completions (354) in a season.

The Packers' scholarly field leader describes his offense as "a multiple approach ... We kind of pride ourselves as a reaction-type offense. It's not one that tries to cram a round peg into a square hole. We're going to be willing to take, and you've heard it said, the standard cliché is to take what the defense gives up, or where the defense is weakest maybe is a better way to approach it.

"We spread the field out as best we can; we make people cover as much of the field that's left, try to get everybody in the act. We are not going to be a one-dimensional football team, where one guy or two players on our offense are the guys you have to stop to be successful against us. We hope to keep the defense guessing from down to down as to who's going to get the ball and where it's going."

Infante, who has coached at every level over his 26-year career — high school, college and professional — is in his second head coaching venture in the pro ranks. He previously was head coach of the Jacksonville Bulls of the United States Football League in 1984-85, compiling a 15-21 record.

The tautly trim Miamian, who had joined the Browns following the demise of the USFL, launched his pro coaching career with the Charlotte Hornets of the World Football League in 1975 before moving into the NFL with the New York Giants in 1977. He later joined the Bengals under Forrest Gregg in 1980, remaining with Cincinnati until 1983, when he became head coach at Jacksonville.

Head Coach

Infante began his coaching career in his hometown, Miami, joining the staff of Miami Senior High School in 1965 — two years after graduating from the University of Florida, where he was a second team, All-Southeastern Conference selection as a running back/defensive back and also a team captain.

A year later, he returned to the U. of Florida as freshman coach and then coached the Gators' defensive backs from 1967 through 1971 before going to Memphis State as offensive coordinator in 1972. He subsequently joined the WFL's Hornets in '75. After the WFL expired, he became offensive coordinator at Tulane in 1976, then returned to the pro ranks with the New York Giants in 1977. After coaching the Giants' receivers for two seasons, Infante returned to Tulane as offensive coordinator for one season, then joined the Bengals in 1980.

Before entering the coaching profession, Infante briefly tried his hand at playing pro football. A 12th round draft selection of the Cleveland Browns and an 11th round choice of the American Football League's Buffalo Bills, he elected to sign with Buffalo and was released before the season started. He later signed with the Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Canadian Football League and played in one game during a four-week stay, gaining 12 yards in three ball-carrying attempts.

Of Italian descent, Infante was born Gelindo Infante in Miami May 27, 1940. He is the third head coach of Italian extraction in Packer history, following Gene Ronzani (1950-53) and Vince Lombardi (1959-67).

Lindy and his wife, Stephanie, have two sons, Brett, 19, who is in his sophomore year at the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, and Brad, 18, a star running back at Green Bay's Southwest High School the past two years who now is a freshman at the University of Wisconsin-Whitewater and a varsity football candidate.

Although he has been in Green Bay little more than two years, Infante already has earned a wide and impressive reputation as a witty and entertaining speaker, gained in large part during appearances at numerous fund-raising events around the state of Wisconsin, to which he has given freely of his time and talents. One of them, the annual Lindy Infante Celebrity Invitational Golf Classic, raised more than $57,000 in its first two years for the Packer 65 Roses Club of the Wisconsin Chapter of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, and another, a "Lindy Infante Roast," produced in excess of $20,000 for the Special Olympics. Mrs. Infante also is deeply involved in civic and charitable activities, serving as spokesperson for both the Children's Hospital of Wisconsin and Our Lady of Charity Center in Green Bay as well as chairperson for food drives for the needy and other community projects.

HANK BULLOUGH Defensive Coordinator

Shrewd, innovative and resourceful, Hank Bullough is recognized throughout the National Football League for his considerable knowledge of defensive football.

Long known as the "Doctor of Defense," he has repeatedly documented his right to that imposing title. In 1988, for example, in his first year as Green Bay's defensive coordinator, Bullough quickly put his personal stamp upon his unit. Taking over a Packer defense which had finished 14th in the 28-team NFL in 1987, Hank molded the Packer platoon into one of the league's most effective defenses — so effective that it climbed all the way to seventh place in the final league rankings, highest finish the Packers have had in this category since 1974.

The voluble Michigan State alumnus achieved this salutary improvement by employing a host of variations off his basic 3-4 alignment ("I like to give our opponents something to think about during the week when they're preparing for us") and preaching an "attack" philosophy.

Injuries complicated his task in 1989 when three starters — right end Shawn Patterson, left cornerback Mark Lee and free safety Chuck Cecil — were lost for extensive periods, Patterson for the last 10 weeks of the season, but he still managed to forge a defense which played a dominant role in the Packers' surge to five victories in their last six games and a 10-6 record, their best since 1972.

To those conversant with Bullough's coaching accomplishments, these achievements came as no surprise. At Cincinnati, for prime example, he transformed a Bengal defense which had finished dead last in 1980 into the fourth-ranked unit in the league en route to Super Bowl XVI in 1981. And two years later, he elevated the Cincinnati group to the league's No. 1 ranking before joining the Packer coaching staff for the first time in 1984.

Bullough earlier had spent seven seasons with New England, two of them as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator, and helped develop the Patriot defense into one of the league's finest.

A native of Scranton, PA., he was named to the Packer staff — for the second time — by Head Coach Lindy Infante on February 10, 1988. He and Infante earlier had been fellow members of the Cincinnati coaching staff for three years (1980-82).

Once a Packer player, Bullough thus returned to Green Bay for a third tour of duty. He previously had been named defensive coordinator by Forrest Gregg when the latter took over as Packers' head coach in 1984. Hank later resigned in May of '84 to become head coach of the Pittsburgh Maulers of the United States Football League. With only four games left in the Mauler season at that point, Bullough decided to wait until 1985 before taking the reins, only to see the Mauler franchise dissolve before he put on a headset.

Bullough subsequently joined Kay Stephenson's Buffalo staff and later was named head coach of the Bills on October 1, 1985, remaining in that capacity through November 3, 1986. He compiled a 4-17-0 record in 21 games, including a 2-10 mark in 1985 and a 2-7 record in 1986 before being replaced by Marv Levy.

As a collegian, the colorful Pennsylvanian won three varsity football letters at Michigan State and was drafted by the Packers in the fifth round in 1955. Following his rookie season, his playing career was interrupted by two years in military service. He returned to the Packers in 1958 before leaving to enter the coaching ranks at Michigan State under the late Duffy Daugherty in 1959.

While coaching at his alma mater, Bullough worked with four MSU teams that placed in the wire service polls' collegiate top ten, including the 10-1 team of 1965 that was ranked number one by UPI after winning the Big Ten championship.

Bullough left MSU in 1970 to join the Colts as linebacker coach, serving in Baltimore for three seasons. As a rookie assistant coach, he was part of a Super Bowl championship team in 1970 on the staff of the late Don McCafferty, helping the Colts to an 11-2-1 regular season record which was later climaxed by a 16-13 victory over the Dallas Cowboys in Super Bowl V.

In addition to his role as defensive coordinator, Bullough coaches the Packers' interior linebackers.

Assistant Coaches

Hank and his wife, LouAnn, have three children — a daughter, Cheryl, and two sons, Shane and Chuck, the latter currently a starting linebacker at Michigan State.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1959-69 (Michigan State); 1970-72 (Baltimore Colts); 1973-79 (New England Patriots); 1980-83 (Cincinnati Bengals); 1984-85 (Pittsburgh Maulers, USFL); 1985-86 (Buffalo Bills); 1988-90 (Green Bay Packers).

GREG BLACHE Defensive Line Coach

Greg Blache found his vocation quite by chance — when the football fates intervened to make a career decision for him at an early age. The Packers' 41-year-old defensive line coach entered the coaching profession unexpectedly when a lower leg injury suffered in freshman football at Notre Dame abruptly ended his playing career.

The catalyst was the legendary Ara Parseghian, under whom Greg became a student assistant coach as a sophomore, tutoring Notre Dame's freshman defensive backfield for the next three seasons.

Blache subsequently remained on Parseghian's staff as a graduate assistant following graduation and later was named to the Fighting Irish staff as a full-time aide in 1973. He continued in that capacity under new head coach Dan Devine in 1975 before moving a year later to Tulane where he first encountered Packer Head Coach Lindy Infante, then on the Green Wave staff.

Greg returned to Notre Dame in 1981, serving as running back coach that season before taking over the defensive line and linebackers in 1982. Two years later, he joined Infante's Jacksonville Bulls staff. Following the USFL's demise, Blache coached at Southern University in 1986 and at Kansas in 1987. He had just moved to the University of North Carolina early in 1988 when Infante invited him to join the Packer staff (February 15).

An ardent hunter and fisherman, Greg was born March 9, 1949. He is married (Bernardine) and the father of three children — Greg, Jr., 20, a senior at Notre Dame; Christopher, 14, who is a high school sophomore; and Corinne, 13, in the eighth grade.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1973-75 and 1981-83 (Notre Dame); 1976-80 (Tulane); 1984-85 (Jacksonville, USFL); 1986 (Southern University); 1987 (Kansas); 1988-90 (Green Bay Packers).

JOE CLARK Assistant Offensive Line Coach

Joseph B. "Joe" Clark, a resident expert on Lindy Infante's renowned offense, takes on a new assignment this season as assistant offensive line coach.

General offensive assistant in his first two years on the Packer staff, the genial Californian will assist Offensive Line Coach Charlie Davis in tutoring the offensive line.

Clark, who can call upon three decades of coaching experience, has had a long professional association with Infante. Prior to joining the Green Bay coaching staff in 1988, he had assisted the Packers' head coach in both the college and pro ranks — at Memphis State (1974) and with the Charlotte Hornets of the World Football League in 1975 and the Jacksonville Bulls of the United States Football League in 1984-85.

Assistant Coaches

The 57-year-old veteran, now in his 35th year in the coaching profession, has coached at every level over his extensive career. He launched his coaching career at Wooster College in Ohio in 1958 after spending "about an hour and a half with the Cleveland Browns," as he whimsically puts it. In the college ranks, he also has coached at the University of Detroit, Tulane University, Nicholls State University, Southeastern Louisiana University and Southern University, in addition to Memphis State and, in the prep ranks, at Loyola High School in his native Los Angeles, Northside High School in Lafayette, LA., and at East Ascension High School in Gonzales, LA. He resigned at Southern University prior to the 1987 season over philosophical differences.

Clark, who says he has been "a disciple of Lindy's for years," was an All-American quarterback in high school at Inglewood, CA. He later played the same position for two varsity seasons at Santa Clara, which dropped football following his junior year. Joe subsequently spent two years in military service at Fort Lewis, WA., in 1955-56, earning all-service honors in his second year.

A brief stay with Cleveland followed that stint and Clark says it had a profound effect upon his life. "Being around Coach (Paul) Brown at the time made me want to get into coaching," he says, "and he helped me get my first couple of coaching jobs."

Clark, born December 22, 1932, is married (Sam), the fond possessor of four registered Persian cats.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1958-59 (Wooster); 1960-64 (University of Detroit); 1965-70 (Tulane); 1974 (Memphis State University); 1975 (Charlotte Hornets, WFL); 1981-83 (Nicholls State University); 1984-85 (Jacksonville Bulls, USFL); 1985 (Southeastern Louisiana); 1986 (Southern University); 1988-90 (Green Bay Packers).

CHARLIE DAVIS Offensive Line Coach

An energetic and persuasive perfectionist, Charlie Davis saw his demanding approach to precise execution by Packer offensive linemen pay impressive dividends in 1989. The effective protection they provided quarterback Don Majkowski, coupled with consistently solid blocking for the run, enabled the Green and Gold to amass the imposing total of 5,780 yards on offense, the second highest total in the team's 69-year National Football League history.

The 45-year-old San Diegan has been labeled "one of the most overlooked factors" in the Packers' offensive success by veteran tackle Ken Ruettggers, who says, "Going beyond the X's and O's and the techniques, I think he's a great motivator."

In his third season on the Green Bay staff, the wiry taskmaster has had a long standing association with Head Coach Lindy Infante. Davis previously coached with Infante at Tulane, was a member of Lindy's staff when the Packers' field leader was head coach of the Jacksonville Bulls of the United States Football League in 1984-85 and later a member of the Cleveland Browns' offensive coaching staff headed by Infante as coordinator in 1986-87. He served as tight end coach on the Cleveland staff, a responsibility in which he tutored the redoubtable Ozzie Newsome, pro football's all-time leading receiver among tight ends.

A three-year letterman in football at UCLA, he began his coaching career there as a graduate assistant in 1966. Davis went on to gain his master's degree at San Francisco State, joining the university's coaching staff at the same time in 1967. He moved to Xavier University in Cincinnati in 1971, then to Ball State in 1974, helping the latter to a 9-2 record in 1975.

In 1976, Charlie moved to Tulane, joining Infante on the Green Wave's coaching staff. When Infante left to sign on with the New York Giants in 1977, Davis became Tulane's offensive coordinator. He remained on the staff through 1980, helping Tulane reach the Liberty Bowl in 1979, the year Infante returned to the Green Wave staff, and the Hall of Fame Bowl in '80.

Assistant Coaches

—and went into the oil business in New Orleans for three years, but Infante persuaded him to return to the game when Lindy became head coach at Jacksonville in 1984.

Though undersized by today's standards, Davis played linebacker at Kearney High School while growing up in the San Diego area, then continued in that position at San Diego City College in 1961, and later at UCLA, where he lettered three years.

Charlie, who joined the Packer staff on February 16, 1988, was born in San Diego August 7, 1944. A physical fitness devotee, he lists golf, jogging, skiing and reading as his favorite pastimes.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1966 (UCLA, graduate assistant); 1967-68 (San Francisco State); 1969-70 (San Diego City College); 1971-73 (Xavier); 1974-75 (Ball State); 1976-80 (Tulane); 1984-85 (Jacksonville, USFL); 1986-87 (Cleveland Browns); 1988-90 (Green Bay Packers).

WAYNE "BUDDY" GEIS Receivers Coach

Wayne "Buddy" Geis, the Packers' ebullient and painstaking receivers coach, enters the 1990 season with a new and impressive claim to coaching fame. Under his patient and meticulous tutelage, second year wide-out Sterling Sharpe developed into a record-breaking receiver in 1989, becoming the first Packer to lead the National Football League in 45 years — since the fabled Don Hutson turned the trick in 1945.

Sharpe's 90 receptions — 35 more than he garnered as a rookie in 1988 — broke a Hutson record which had stood since 1942, and his 1,423 yards eclipsed the single season mark of 1,361 set by James Lofton in 1984.

Geis, a 43-year-old native of Altoona, PA., moved into the coaching ranks immediately following graduation from Lock Haven University in the Keystone State. He returned to his prep alma mater, Altoona High School, at that point to launch his career, which is now in its 21st year.

Buddy earlier had earned a football scholarship to Northern Arizona University after graduating from high school. There he played wide receiver and started several games his freshman year. After one season at NAU, he transferred to Lock Haven U. and earned a degree in health and physical education.

Following four years of coaching at Altoona, Buddy joined the University of Arizona staff under Jim Young in 1973. In 1977, he moved to Tulane under Larry Smith, now head coach at USC. At Tulane he met Lindy Infante when the latter was returning to the Green Wave staff in 1979. Infante left following that season to join the National Football League's Cincinnati Bengals, while Geis continued on the Tulane staff through the 1982 season, helping the Wave gain the Liberty Bowl in '79 and the Hall of Fame Bowl in '80.

Geis subsequently left Tulane in December of 1982 to become offensive coordinator at the University of Kansas, but before the 1983 season began, received a call from Infante to become receivers coach on his new Jacksonville Bulls staff in the United States Football League. After the USFL's demise following the 1985 season, Buddy moved to Memphis State where he coached the quarterbacks in addition to serving as offensive coordinator.

Geis, named to the Packer staff by Infante February 15, 1988, polished the talents of Gary Clark while with Jacksonville. Clark, who since has become an all-pro wide receiver with the Washington Redskins, has credited Geis with accelerating his development.

A tennis devotee, Buddy was born September 16, 1946. He is married (Jere) and the father of two children, a son, Adam, 15, and a daughter, Jeni, 11.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1973-76 (Arizona); 1977-82 (Tulane); 1984-85 (Jacksonville, USFL); 1986-87 (Memphis State); 1988-90 (Green Bay Packers).

DICK JAURON Defensive Backfield Coach

Dick Jauron continued to build an impressive dossier during the 1989 season, his fourth as the Packers' defensive backfield coach. Under his scholarly tutelage, Green Bay's secondary permitted only four 100-yard receiving days — or an average of just one for every four games — and two of those went to the redoubtable Jerry Rice and Anthony Carter, respectively.

An impressive performance in light of the fact that two starters — free safety Chuck Cecil and left cornerback Mark Lee — missed extensive playing time because of injury. Cecil sat out the first seven games because of a nagging hamstring problem and Lee missed the first four games.

A year earlier, Jauron's secondary was even more miserly, emerging as the only outfield in the NFL not to permit a 100-yard day by an opposing receiver.

And the year before that, the perceptive Yale alumnus produced a defensive backfield which ranked among the league's elite in another major category — preventing "the bomb." It gave up only 14 touchdown passes, a season-long performance which ranked second only to that of the San Francisco 49ers, who permitted a league-leading 13 in 1987.

In 1986, Jauron's first full year of coaching, his secondary forged a major increase in interceptions over the previous season, picking off 20 passes compared to 15 in 1985 — a production achieved despite the loss of two starters — strong safety Mark Murphy, who missed the entire season because of a foot problem, and cornerback Tim Lewis, who suffered a career-ending neck injury in the third game of the season against the Chicago Bears.

Jauron, retained by Lindy Infante after he replaced Forrest Gregg as the Packers' head coach in February of 1988, originally was named to the Packer staff by Gregg on January 7, 1986, to succeed Ken Riley. Dick had begun his coaching career in 1985 as a member of the Buffalo Bills' staff under Hank Bullough, now the Packers' defensive coordinator.

The Peoria, IL, native, who left the business field in Winter Park, FL, to join the Bills, earlier had played for Gregg in 1980, the latter's first year as head coach at Cincinnati. Suffering a knee injury that season which ended his playing career, Jauron subsequently assisted the Bengal coaching staff during Cincinnati's 1981 Super Bowl season while spending the year on injured reserve. Gregg later offered Dick a coaching job the following season but he decided to go into business at that point.

The 39-year-old Jauron, who still ranks as one of Yale's all-time football greats, entered professional football in 1973 as a fourth round selection of the Detroit Lions and was named to the Pro Bowl following the 1974 season, his second in the NFL. Released by the Lions August 23, 1978, he signed with Cincinnati six days later and was a Bengal starter until he suffered the knee injury in Game 10 of the '80 season.

Jauron made 26 interceptions over his eight pro seasons, including a career-high six for Cincinnati in 1979, and returned two of them for touchdowns. He also recovered 14 fumbles overall. Employed as a kick returner in the early years of his NFL career, he posted a 10.2-yard average for 44 punt returns, including an impressive 16.8-yard average for 17 punts in 1974.

After retiring as a player, he owned a health fitness center in Cincinnati with teammate Jimmy Corbett. He sold his interest in the business in 1983 and moved to Florida, where he was employed by Nautilus until he joined the Buffalo coaching staff in July of 1985.

Born Richard Manual Jauron in Peoria, IL, on Oct. 7, 1950, he was a nine-letter winner at Swampscott, MA., High School (three each in football, basketball and baseball) before going on to entrench himself among Yale's all-time football elite. An offensive back as a collegian, he still owns Yale's career rushing record (2,947 yards in 515 attempts, a 5.7-yard average), and holds the second longest run from scrimmage in the school's history (an 87-yard maneuver against Columbia in 1972). A three-letter winner, he was named to the Kodak and Walter Camp All-America teams following his senior year and was chosen to play in the East-West Shrine game.

Assistant Coaches

A career in football was almost inevitable for the soft-spoken Ivy Leaguer. Dick's father, Robert, was a successful college coach, once leading St. Joseph's College of Rensselaer, IN., to the national small college championship during the late '50s.

Dick and his wife, Gail, are the parents of two daughters, Kacy (born 4/2/85) and Amy (born 10/3/86).
COACHING BACKGROUND: 1985 (Buffalo Bills); 1986-90 (Green Bay Packers).

VIRGIL KNIGHT Tight Ends/Strength/Conditioning

Virgil Knight, marking his 20th year as a coach, is a man of multiple responsibilities. The 42-year-old Arkansan coaches the Packers' tight ends in addition to supervising both the strength and conditioning programs.

A Packer pioneer in the latter role, Knight became the first strength and conditioning coach in the team's history in 1984. The nine year coaching veteran of the college ranks was named to the Green Bay staff by Forrest Gregg, then assembling his board of strategy as the Packers' ninth head coach.

Knight, previously a position coach, brought five years' experience as a strength coach to his Green Bay role. He first assumed those duties in 1979 when he moved from Arkansas Tech to the University of Florida. He left Florida in 1981 to become a member of Coach Pat Dye's staff at Auburn, spending three years at the Alabama institution before joining the Packer organization.

The Clarksville, AR., native was retained by Lindy Infante when he took over as Green Bay's head coach in 1988 and assigned to coach the tight ends in addition to coordinating the strength and conditioning programs.

Born January 30, 1948, Knight began his coaching career in 1971 at Sylvan Hills High School in North Little Rock, AR. After one year there and three years at Marist High School in Atlanta, GA., he moved into the college ranks at Arkansas Tech, where he coached the defensive line and linebackers for four years and also was head track coach.

As an athlete himself, Virgil won all-state honors in football, was an all-district selection in basketball and three-year track letterman in high school, in his native Clarksville. He later attended Northeast Oklahoma State University, where he was named to the All-Oklahoma College Athletic Conference team in both his junior and senior years, and also competed in track, in which he set a school record in the hurdles.

Virgil and his wife, Becky, a school teacher in the Green Bay system, have two sons, Trent, 16, and Josh, 9.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1975-78 (Arkansas Tech); 1979-80 (University of Florida); 1981-83 (Auburn); 1984-90 (Green Bay Packers).

RICHARD T. "DICK" MOSELEY Outside Linebackers

Surprisingly enough, it was not Dick Moseley's original mission in life to become a football coach. Moseley, a graduate of Detroit's Central High School, earned a physical education degree at Eastern Michigan University in 1956 and then spent two years pursuing a career in professional baseball. After two summers in the Dodger organization, which saw him reach the Class A level at Elmira, N.Y., he decided to switch his focus to football.

Dick, who has coached in three professional leagues (the NFL, USFL and Arena), launched his coaching career at Hazel Park, MI., High School. He later coached at Mount Clemens, Wyandotte and Flint, MI., before entering the college ranks at his alma mater, Eastern Michigan, in 1968 as defensive backfield coach. He was an immediate success, his secondary proceeding to lead the nation in pass interceptions in his first year there with 29.

Dick went on to become defensive coordinator at Wichita State in 1971 before moving to the University of Minnesota in the same capacity in 1972. Under his direction, the Gopher defense set a record for takeaways in a season in 1973 (38) and later established another Big Ten mark by permitting no touchdown passes during the 1975 season.

Dick joined the University of Colorado staff in 1979 and later entered the pro ranks with the New Jersey Generals of the USFL in 1982. He joined the USFL's Pittsburgh Maulers the following year, then moved to the NFL and Buffalo Bills before signing on with the Arena League's Chicago Bruisers in 1987. He became the Packers' outside linebacker coach in February of 1988, joining Lindy Infante's new coaching staff.

Moseley has two sons, Michael and Thomas. He lists outdoor sports and travel as his favorite diversions.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1968-70 (Eastern Michigan); 1971 (Wichita State); 1972-78 (University of Minnesota); 1979-81 (Colorado); 1982 (New Jersey Generals, USFL); 1983 (Pittsburgh Maulers, USFL); 1984-85 (Buffalo Bills); 1987 (Chicago Bruisers, Arena Football League); 1988-90 (Green Bay Packers).

WILLIE PEETE Offensive Backfield Coach

Genial Willie Peete, the patient and paternal coach of the Packers' offensive backfield, has had extensive coaching experience at every level — high school, college and professional — during a career now in its 28th year.

Willie, a former University of Arizona athlete and coach, served as offensive backfield coach of the Kansas City Chiefs for four years before being named to Green Bay's staff by then Head Coach Forrest Gregg on February 13, 1987.

The 53-year-old Peete, a native of Mesa, AZ., earlier had been an assistant coach at the University of Arizona for 12 years prior to joining the Kansas City organization in 1983 as an original member of John Mackovic's staff. Peete, described as a "quality coach" by Gregg in making the appointment, launched his coaching career at his alma mater, the University of Arizona, as a graduate assistant while completing his degree in physical education. He returned to his hometown, Mesa, upon graduation and became an assistant coach in both football and track at Mesa High School. He subsequently moved to a new high school, Westwood, where he served as an assistant in football and then as junior varsity basketball coach for seven years, a period during which he earned his master's degree in secondary education from Arizona State.

Willie later returned to the University of Arizona in 1971, joining the coaching staff on a full-time basis and staying on until he signed on with the Chiefs prior to the 1983 NFL season.

A talented, all-around athlete, Peete won four varsity letters in football at the University of Arizona, where he played fullback. He earlier had earned nine letters—three each in football, basketball and baseball—in a three-year high school program at Mesa.

Willie and his wife, Edna, have two sons who also have excelled in football—Willie, Jr. (Skip), a varsity wide receiver as a collegian at Kansas who had tryouts with the New York Jets in both 1986 and 1987 before joining the University of Pittsburgh coaching staff in 1988, and Rodney, a talented quarterback who was drafted by the Detroit Lions in 1989 and twice played against his father's Packers last season.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1971-82 (University of Arizona); 1983-86 (Kansas City Chiefs); 1987-90 (Green Bay Packers).

HOWARD "TIP" TIPPETT Special Teams Coordinator

Howard "Tip" Tippett, who coordinates the operations of all Packer special teams, is a coaching veteran in the fullest sense of the term. He not only has coached in two professional leagues but on both coasts as well as in "America's heartland" at the college level.

Tippett's substantial biography includes ten seasons in the pro ranks and 12 years as a defensive coordinator in college football.

A graduate of East Tennessee State University in 1959, the genial Tallassee, AL., native began his coaching career that year at Lafayette High School in Lexington, KY. He moved into the college ranks at Tulane in 1963, and later to the Universities of Houston, West Virginia, Wake Forest and Mississippi State before venturing into pro football with the Jacksonville Express of the World Football League.

After the WFL expired in 1975, Tip joined the Washington State staff.

He subsequently moved to the University of Oregon in 1977, then to Mississippi State for a second time in 1979, and to UCLA in 1980.

Following the latter assignment, Tippett became linebacker / special teams coach at Tampa Bay in 1981, highlighting a four-year stint under John McKay by coaching the linebackers and special teams for the National Football Conference squad in the 1982 Pro Bowl. He retained those responsibilities under Leeman Bennett for two additional years (1985-86) after the latter succeeded McKay. Tippett then joined the University of Illinois staff as defensive coordinator before coming to the Packers in 1988.

Howard is the father of four daughters — Paige, JoAnn, Terri and Kimberly.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1963-65 (Tulane); 1966 and 1970-71 (West Virginia); 1967-69 (University of Houston); 1972 (Wake Forest); 1973 and 1979 (Mississippi State); 1974-75 (Jacksonville Express, WFL); 1976 (Washington State); 1977-78 (Oregon); 1980 (UCLA); 1981-86 (Tampa Bay Buccaneers); 1987 (Illinois); 1988-90 (Green Bay Packers).

Rich Wingo, a linebacker who played under the legendary Bear Bryant at Alabama, set one of the Packers' major defensive records as a rookie in 1979. Wingo, who came to the Packers by way of a seventh round draft choice acquired in a trade which sent defensive back Willie Buchanan to the Chargers, piled up 151 unassisted tackles to establish a mark which still stands. Wingo set the record as a middle linebacker in the 4-3 defense that '79 season, the last year the Packers employed it as their primary alignment.

82 Erik Affholter

WIDE RECEIVER • USC • 1ST YEAR

HT: 6-0 • WT: 182 • BORN: 4/10/66 • (ACQ: D-4, '89)

PRO: A heralded receiver who spent his rookie, 1989 season on injured reserve with an ankle problem suffered during a pre-training camp workout in a friend's backyard, he returns as a major candidate for Packer employment ... Upgrading his quickness by shedding 10 pounds during the off-season, he impressed Packer coaches with his sure hands and acrobatic catches during the team's first mini-camp in May, prompting receivers coach Buddy Geis to observe, "Erik has great hands" ... Now sound of ankle, he says of that once-nagging injury, "It's no longer an issue in my life." ... Drafted in fourth round in 1989.

COLLEGE: A first team All-America selection by The Sporting News and Kodak as a senior, Affholter holds USC's school record for career receptions with 123 ... Also an All-Pac 10 first team choice, he also set a school single season record for receptions with 68 as a senior, good for 952 yards (a 14.0 average) and 8 touchdowns ... A talented placekicker, he connected on his first field goal try as a Trojan, a 48-yarder, and made two of three extra point attempts ... Hit personal high water mark as a senior with 9 catches against Arizona, good for 126 yards ... In post-season, he led West receivers with 7 receptions for 63 yards in the 64th East-West Shrine game ... Earlier, as a junior, he paced USC in receiving with 42 catches for 632 yards ... Possessor of a 3.0 grade point average in communications, he was named to the conference's All-Academic first team.

PERSONAL: Given name Erik Konrad Affholter ... Single ... Born in Detroit, MI ... Was twice named an All-CIF Division IV first team selection in high school as a placekicker at Oak Park High School (Agoura, CA.) ... Set a national high school record with a 62-yard field goal in 1982 ... Also had field goals of 58, 52 and 50 yards during prep career ... Earned USA Today and Blue Chips magazine All-America honors as a senior ... Started at wide receiver and tailback, scoring 135 points on 14 touchdowns, 10 field goals and 24 extra point conversions ... Also earned All-CIF honors in soccer and track and lettered in baseball.

PRO STATISTICS: Games/Starts — 1989 (injured reserve).

67 Billy Ard

OFFENSIVE GUARD • WAKE FOREST • 10TH YEAR

HT: 6-3 • WT: 273 • BORN: 3/12/59 • (ACQ: FA, '89)

PRO: An established "winner," the former New York Giant and Super Bowl veteran made a solid contribution to the Packers' 10-6 success in 1989 ... Offensive Line Coach Charlie Davis, assessing the 10-year veteran's impact upon his new team, described the personable Wake Forest alumnus as "a great addition to our football team ... He's made us a better offensive line, a better offense and a better football team. He's extremely bright and has a great attitude ... Billy's just a great person and a really great football player" ... A "team player" in the fullest sense of the term, Ard reacted in surprising fashion when informed the Packers planned to "protect" him in this year's Plan B program. Billy told them not to waste the spot because he did not intend to leave ... "Don't bother," he told Head Coach Lindy Infante. "I don't want to go anywhere. I want to play for the Packers again. I'm happy in Green Bay. You gave me a vote of confidence. I know what I'm dealing with" ... Ard, who had spent his previous eight seasons with the Giants and helped them win Super Bowl XXI in 1987, went on to explain, "Green Bay was a totally different place from New York. It's not a pressure cooker. It's like a college town. Everyone is upbeat" ... Settling into a backup role with admirable commitment, he filled in at both left and right guard over the course of the season, playing in 15 of the Packers' 16 games ... Earlier a starter on the Giants' Super Bowl champions, Ard had been a fixture at left guard for the New Yorkers for seven seasons ... Aside from a one-game hiatus in 1984, an absence occasioned by a knee injury, he had a string of 111 consecutive games as a starter, a streak which dated back to his rookie year in 1981 and extended through the final game of the 1988 season ... Regarded as one of the league's premier guards, he had perhaps his best year ever in 1986, the Giants' Super Bowl year, when he was named to the National Football Conference's Pro Bowl squad as an alternate ... As a rookie, in 1981, he won a roster spot as a reserve ... His consistent improvement later won him the starting job in the second half of the season ... So impressive was his performance in the latter role, particularly against Dallas Cowboy Randy White, that he earned NFL all-rookie honors ... A dedicated participant in the Giant's off-season program while in New York, he built himself up from a rookie weight of 255 pounds to his current 273 ... Was Giants' eighth round selection in the '81 draft (the 221st player chosen).

COLLEGE: Lettered for four seasons at Wake Forest and won The Sporting News and Pro Football Weekly All-America first team honors as a senior, as well as All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection ... Also won the Bill George Award as Wake Forest's Most Valuable Lineman ... Chosen to play in Hula and Senior Bowls following senior season.

PERSONAL: Given name William Donovan Ard ... Hometown: East Orange, N.J. ... Played prep football at Waching Hills, N.J., Regional High School.

PRO STATISTICS: Games/Starts — New York Giants 1981 (13/8); 1982 (9/9); 1983 (16/16); 1984 (16/15); 1985 (16/16); 1986 (16/16); 1987 (12/12); 1988 (16/16); Green Bay 1989 (15/0). Career totals: 129/108.

76 Mike Arey

OFF. TACKLE • SAN DIEGO STATE • 2ND YEAR

HT: 6-5 • WT: 287 • BORN: 3/12/64 • (ACQ: FA, '89)

PRO: The massive Californian's presence on the Packer roster is one of the primary reasons the Packers made no effort to select an offensive lineman in the National Football League's 1990 draft ... Signed as a free agent during 1989's initial Plan B program, Arey was impressive from the outset and emerged as the starter at left offensive tackle for the first three games of the pre-season before drawing a 30-day suspension in the wake of a positive test for steroid use ... After returning to the roster, he found veteran Ken Ruettggers entrenched at the position and saw action in only one (vs. Minnesota, Nov. 26) of Green Bay's 16 regular season games ... Active for four other contests, but did not play ... Was on two-man inactive roster for seven other games ... Arey, expected to mount another challenge for a starting berth this season, first impressed the Packers while a starter in the Giants' first two pre-season games of 1988 — one of them against Green Bay ... He also played well in the Giants' last two non-league contests that season before going on the injured reserve list with shoulder and knee injuries ... Tom Braatz, the Packers' executive vice president of football operations, compares the huge San Diego State alumnus favorably to Dave Croston, a Packer third round draft selection in 1987 who also is counted upon to contend for full-time employment this season after spending the 1989 season on injured reserve ... Arey was signed by the Giants as a free agent in 1987 and spent that season on IR rehabilitating a knee injury suffered late in his senior year at SDS.

COLLEGE: Earned four varsity letters at San Diego State ... Criminal justice administration major.

PERSONAL: Given name Michael August Arey ... Attended Garces Memorial High School in Bakersfield, CA., which also is the prep alma mater of teammate and fellow tackle Ken Ruettggers ... Works as pool foreman for Ed Arey Pool Construction company in off-season ... Residence: Bakersfield, CA.

PRO STATISTICS: Games/Starts — New York Giants 1987 (injured reserve); 1988 (injured reserve); Green Bay 1989 (1/0).

83 Carl Bland

WIDE RECEIVER • VIRGINIA UNION • 7TH YEAR

HT: 5-11 • WT: 179 • BORN: 8/17/61 • (ACQ: FA, '89)

PRO: The sinewy former Detroit Lion, a Plan B acquisition, made a solid contribution to the cause last season — his first in a Green Bay uniform ... Playing in all 16 games, he upgraded the depth of the receiver corps and emerged as one of the Packers' premier special teams performers ... Bland caught 11 passes for 164 yards, a 14.9-yard average, including one that figured prominently in Green Bay's last second, 17-16 victory over the Buccaneers at Tampa December 3 ... With only 18 seconds to play, his 17-yard catch of a Don Majkowski pass moved the ball to Tampa Bay's 29-yard line, setting the stage for Chris Jacke's 47-yard field goal at 14:59 of the fourth quarter which pulled out a come-from-behind victory over the Bucs ... In addition, the soft spoken former Virginia Union athlete averaged 19.7 yards for 13 kickoff returns and was a standout on Packer coverage units, figuring in 11 unassisted kamikaze tackles ... He also weighed in with one fumble recovery ... Along the way, Bland registered the longest reception of his seven-year career, a 46-yard maneuver good for a touchdown against the Vikings at the Minneapolis Metrodome October 15, and posted the Packers' second longest kickoff return of the season, a 37-yard runback against the Bears at Chicago December 17 ... While with Detroit, Bland was the Lions' third-ranking receiver on a yardage basis in 1988 with 307 yards (a 14.6-yard average) on 21 catches, the latter total placing him fifth among Lion wideouts ... Bland also registered two touchdowns in the process, thus becoming the only Detroit receiver to score two TDs in '88 ... Additionally, the 28-year-old Virginian returned 5 punts for 59 yards, an 11.8 average, and his 70 kick return yards vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 13) shared team single game honors for the season ... Signed by Detroit as a free agent in 1984, Bland caught 79 passes for 993 yards (a 12.6-yard average) and 5 TDs during his five seasons with the Lions ... He had his most productive year in 1986 when he made 44 receptions for 511 yards and 2 TDs while starting all 16 games ... Bland's best game as a professional — on a yards-gained basis — came against the Packers, oddly enough ... That was in 1985, when he caught 7 passes for 109 yards in a December 15 game at the Pontiac, MI, Silverdome.

COLLEGE: A four-year starter at Virginia Union, he had his best season as a junior, making 36 receptions and scoring 6 touchdowns while earning second team All-CIAA honors ... Also returned two punts for TDs.

PERSONAL: Given name Carl Nathaniel Bland ... Born in Fluvanna County, VA. ... Attended Thomas Jefferson High School in Richmond, VA. ... Married (Jonnitra) ... A member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, he is active in religious and community endeavors ... Participated in the Jack Van Impe Ministries Greater Detroit Crusade in 1988 ... Is currently working on completion of his business administration degree at Walsh College (Troy, MI.) during the off-season ... Residence: Rochester Hills, MI.

Jerry Boyarsky

NOSE TACKLE • PITTSBURGH • 10TH YEAR

HT: 6-3 • WT: 290 • BORN: 5/15/59 • (ACQ: FA, '89)

PRO: The barrel-chested Pennsylvania cattleman formally becomes one of the Packers' elder statesmen as he enters the 1990 season ... Now launching his tenth National Football League campaign, Jerry Boyarsky is one of seven veterans on the Green Bay roster with a "double digit" in the experience column, representing 10 or more years of NFL combat ... The 31-year-old University of Pittsburgh product played in 13 games last season while backing up Bob Nelson at nose tackle ... He was involved in 8 tackles overall, 7 of them unassisted ... Head Coach Lindy Infante, who first became acquainted with Boyarsky when he was offensive coordinator at Cincinnati and Jerry was a member of the Bengals' defense, says of the massive Pennsylvanian, "Boyarsky really is a load in the middle of the defensive line" ... Number 61 originally joined the Packers December 2, 1986 as a free agent and appeared in two games before being waived when Charles Martin rejoined the team for the '86 finale following a 2-game suspension ... Boyarsky later was re-signed to a Green Bay contract March 27, 1987 ... He became a full-time Packer starter that '87 season, following the departure of Martin, the incumbent nose tackle ... Registered 23 tackles over the '87 season to share defensive line honors with end Alphonso Carreker in this category ... Punctuated his production with a pair of quarterback sacks for 16 yards in losses ... Appeared in 12 games overall and started eight, including the last four of the season ... Missed two games (vs. Kansas City Nov. 22 and vs. Chicago Nov. 29) because of a knee injury ... Again the starting NT as the 1988 season began, he suffered a broken wrist in Game Two and was sidelined for the balance of the year ... The former Pitt Panther had begun the 1986 season with Buffalo and appeared in 10 games before being waived November 24 ... He made 12 tackles and was credited with 22 quarterback pressures while backing up Buffalo's Fred Smerlas ... He had signed on with the Bills Sept. 10, 1986 after being waived in the pre-season by the Bengals, with whom he had spent the previous four seasons (1982 through 1985) ... A fifth round selection (the 128th player chosen) of the New Orleans Saints in 1981, he played in 11 games as a rookie after spending the first month of the regular season on injured reserve with a knee problem ... Released by the Saints Sept. 6, 1982, he signed with Cincinnati December 1 of the same season ... Played in 2 games for the Bengals that year and in 46 of 48 games over next three seasons before being waived in '86.

COLLEGE: Played nose guard in Pitt's nationally ranked No. 1 defense ... Third-best career tackler among graduating seniors (215) behind Hugh Green and Rickey Jackson.

PERSONAL: Given name is Gerard Mark Joseph Boyarsky ... Married (Erin) and the father of three children (Jerry, Jr., born 5/18/82, Zachary, born 1/21/85, and Krysta, born 10/8/86) ... Raises beef cattle in Olyphant, PA. (near Scranton) ... Favorite hobbies: Hunting and fishing ... Graduate of Jermyn, PA., Lakeland High School ... Lettered in football, baseball and track four years.

PRO STATISTICS: Games/Starts — New Orleans 1981 (11/7); Cincinnati 1982 (2/0); 1983 (16/16); 1984 (15/5); 1985 (16/5); Buffalo 1986 (10/0); Green Bay 1986 (2/0); 1987 (12/8); 1988 (2/2); 1989 (13/0). Career totals: 99/43.

PUNTER • MICHIGAN • 6TH YEAR

HT: 6-1 • WT: 218 • BORN: 2/16/62 • (ACQ: FA, '85)

PRO: Quietly competitive University of Michigan alumnus, successfully fending off every challenger he has had to date, has been the Packers' regular punter since Game 10 of the 1985 season, with the exception of an injury-enforced absence in 1986 ... Sat out last three games of that season following an elbow injury ... Able to "hang" the football consistently, he averaged 40.6 yards for 66 punts in 1989, depositing 17 of his punts inside the opposition's 20-yard-line ... Had best day of season in 14-13 victory over the Bears Nov. 5, averaging 48.3 yards for 6 punts ... His efforts included a 63-yard launch, his longest of the season ... Also turned in flawless performance as holder for rookie placekicker Chris Jacke, whose kicks sealed five victories for the Packers over the season ... Punctuated his 1988 efforts by dropping 20 punts "inside the 20," his best single season performance to date in this important category ... Embellished his '88 season with his best single game average as a Packer, averaging 49.5 yards for 6 punts against the Bears in Green Bay (Sept. 25), production which included his longest of the year, a 62-yarder ... Forged the best overall season of his NFL career in '87, emerging as the fifth-ranking punter in the National Football Conference in gross average (40.9 yards) for 79 punts ... Also shared the same NFC position in net average (34.9 yards) with the Cowboys' Mike Saxon ... Mounted his top performance of that season opening day (Sept. 13) against the Raiders, averaging 48.9 yards for 10 punts, with a long of 65, his longest of the year as well as of his career ... Suffered fractured left elbow in a freak practice field mishap in 1986 (Dec. 4), falling after slipping on an icy patch of turf while delivering a punt ... Had averaged 40.1 yards for 55 punts before the injury, which occurred three days prior to Game 14 ... Had only five of his efforts result in touchbacks that '86 season, a record bettered in the NFL only by Minnesota's Greg Coleman and Greg Cater of St. Louis ... Bracken, who succeeded Joe Prokop as the Packers' punter, was recommended to then Head Coach Forrest Gregg by then Michigan Coach Bo Schembechler, for whom Don had set the school's all-time punting average as a collegian ... Joined Green Bay Nov. 6, 1985 and made his first appearance for the Packers vs. Vikings at Minneapolis Metrodome Nov. 10, getting off a 44-yarder in his only punt of the afternoon during a 27-17 Packer victory ... Averaged 40.5 for 26 punts over the final 7 games of the '85 season ... Originally selected by USFL's Michigan Panthers in 1984 territorial draft, he had subsequent tryouts with the Baltimore Colts and Denver Broncos before joining the Packers.

COLLEGE: Averaged 40.8 yards for 203 punts at Michigan, where he was a four-year starter and letterman ... Possessor of excellent hang time, he punted 48 times as a junior and saw only 14 of them returned for a 2.0-yard average ... Set Michigan single season average record as a freshman (42.7), then broke it as a sophomore (43.3), a mark that ranked second in Big Ten that season ... Earned second team All-Big Ten honors his first three seasons ... His 73-yard punt vs. Washington in 1981 Rose Bowl set a record for the post-season class ... Exercise physiology major.

PERSONAL: Given name Donald Craig Bracken ... Married (Mary Laurie) ... Attended Thermopolis, WY., Hot Springs High School, where he was a two-time all-state defensive end and punter ... Also won all-state honors in track and played varsity basketball and baseball ... Active member of the Packer 65 Roses Club of the Wisconsin Cystic Fibrosis Foundation, to which he makes financial contributions based on each punt he puts inside the 20, 10 and 5-yard-lines (his 1989 contribution amounted to $1,125) ... Also active in behalf of the March of Dimes and as a speaker at public schools, where he addresses the perils of drug and alcohol abuse, as well as the importance of setting goals and working to achieve them ... Works, additionally, as a volunteer on Crisis Line for Family Violence ... Hobbies: Skiing, fishing, hunting, golf and racquetball ... Residence: Green Bay, WI.

62 Matt Brock

DEFENSIVE LINEMAN • OREGON • 2ND YEAR

HT: 6-5 • WT: 285 • BORN: 1/14/66 • (ACQ: D-3, '89)

PRO: Massive Californian, bigger and clearly stronger than he was as a rookie a year ago, figures to be a factor in the Packers' defensive line in his second pro season ... Regarded as a major candidate for a starting job, Brock impressed Defensive Line Coach Greg Blache with the personal progress he demonstrated in the first 1990 mini-camp ... Considered lacking in strength for an NFL defensive lineman when he joined the Packers in 1989, he pleased Blache by virtually tripling his production in the bench press during the team's first physical testing session of the year

... At the conclusion of the camp, Blache said, "Do not underestimate Matt Brock," who checked in at 285 pounds, 18 above his rookie playing weight. "He could make a run at a starting job at either position (left end or nose tackle)" ... Blache also is impressed with Brock's intelligence, pointing out, "Assignment-wise, he is a sharp kid. The one thing he gives you is flexibility" ... In addition to the opportunity to move in at end or nose tackle, Brock also will be given a chance to provide assistance as an inside rusher in the Packers' four-man nickel fronts ... Played in seven games last season, registering 3 unassisted tackles, before suffering a broken bone on top of his hand in practice on Nov. 8 and spending the last six weeks of the season on injured reserve.

COLLEGE: First-team All-Pac 10 selection as a senior at Oregon ... Involved in 81 tackles, including 65 solos ... Registered 19 quarterback sacks during his college career ... Experienced every defensive lineman's dream as a sophomore when he recovered a fumble by running back Nick Obrastoff of Washington State in the WSU end zone for a touchdown in a 21-17 Oregon victory ... Leisure studies and services major.

PERSONAL: Given name Matthew Lee Brock ... Born in Ogden, Utah ... Married (Jill Elizabeth) ... Two-time All-Western League middle linebacker and second team All-San Diego Section choice as a senior at University City, CA., High School ... Caught 10 passes for 192 yards and a pair of touchdowns as a tight end and was credited with 115 tackles (78 solos), two interceptions, three fumble recoveries and a blocked kick his final season ... Also was the starting center on the school's basketball team, averaging in double figures in both scoring and rebounding ... Son of Clyde Brock, a defensive tackle from Utah State who played for the Dallas Cowboys and San Francisco 49ers in the early 1960s ... Works with the Boys and Girls Club of Green Bay ... Favorite diversions: Tae kwon do, golf and basketball (he shattered a backboard with a "slam-dunk" he registered while playing for the Packer All-Stars basketball team in the off-season) ... Residence: San Diego, CA.

Dave Brown

CORNERBACK • MICHIGAN • 16TH YEAR

HT: 6-1 • WT: 201 • BORN: 1/16/53 • (ACQ: T-Sea., '87)

PRO: David Steven Brown is an athlete apart — an exception to the natural laws which apply to most mortals ... In his 16th National Football season, professional football's leading active interceptor comes off one of the most productive years in his long and distinguished career at the age of 37 ... Stationed at the game's most challenging defensive position, he engineered 6 interceptions in 1989 at an age when most of his former fellow cornerbacks had long since departed the scene ... Only once in his career, moreover, has he had more thefts — in 1984 when he registered 8 while with the Seattle Seahawks ... His accomplishment is underscored by the fact that only six other NFL defensive backs surpassed Brown's total last season ... Those 6 intercepts swelled his career total to 62 and lifted him into a tie with Dick LeBeau for fifth place on pro football's lifetime list ... Immediately ahead is ex-Cincinnati Bengal Ken Riley, a Packer assistant coach in 1984-85, with 65 (Paul Krause is the all-time leader with 81, followed by Emlen Tunnell with 79 and Dick "Night Train" Lane with 68) ... Most members of Brown's draft class — 1975 — are no longer around but he defies Father Time by continuing to perform at a high level with seemingly effortless facility ... Dick Jauron, the Packers' erudite defensive backfield coach, has an explanation for this phenomenon ... "Dave is so conscientious — in terms of his study habits and his work habits," he says, in open admiration. "Dave Brown (also) was blessed with a great deal of ability. This is true of a lot of persons. In his case, he has taken those talents and developed them — taken them to a level most people never reach. That's a real tribute to him ... I think there are very few as good as Dave" ... Defensive Coordinator Hank Bullough dryly pinpoints another secret of Brown's success. "It doesn't look like he can run real fast, but nobody beats him" ... Parlaying that intensive study with the wisdom gleaned from 14 previous seasons, Brown supplemented those 6 interceptions by breaking up 16 enemy passes overall, easily a team-leading total ... He also forced one fumble ... The tautly muscled Michigan alumnus, who has forged a 44-game starting streak since making his Green Bay debut in the 1987 season opener, forged 4 of his thefts in a 2-game, late season span to help propel the Packers within an eyelash of the playoffs ... With Green Bay holding a narrow 20-19 lead over the Vikings at Milwaukee Nov. 26, nose tackle Bob Nelson tipped a Wade Wilson pass at the line of scrimmage and Brown intercepted at the Minnesota 43-yard line with 3:59 remaining in the game ... He then put an end to Viking hopes with a second intercept with 1:31 to play ... Brown duplicated the feat the following Sunday (Dec. 3) at Tampa, twice intercepting the Buccaneers' Vinny Testaverde to blunt Tampa Bay drives in the second half as the Packers shaded TB 17-16 on a 47-yard, last-play field goal by Chris Jacke ... Brown's first pickoff came at the Packer 40-yard line in the third quarter and the second at the Green Bay 28 late in the final period, setting the stage for the Packers' drive to Jacke's decisive field goal ... Was involved in 33 tackles overall, including 28 solos ... In 1988, in only his second season with Green Bay after 11 years with Seattle, the dedicated Akron, OH., native was selected as defensive co-captain by his teammates in recognition of the quiet and positive leadership he has provided since coming to the Packers in a pre-season, draft choice trade with the Seahawks (Aug. 28, 1987) ... Posted 3 interceptions, broke up 3 other passes and collected 35 solo tackles overall while starting all 16 games in 1988 ... Quickly stabilized the Packer secondary and became a team leader after being acquired from the Seahawks in '87 ... Led the entire secondary in passes defended with 13 while sharing club interception honors with 3 ... Also weighed in with 35 tackles and 2 assists ... The softspoken ex-Wolverine had stepped in at right cornerback, left vacant by the departure of Mossy Cade ... A natural leader, he was voted defensive captain by his teammates for 4 straight years while at Seattle (1983-86) ... Ranked second on Seattle team in games played and starts (159) prior to being traded to the Packers ... Had missed only 6 games during his career, all in 1981 with a broken leg suffered in a game at Cincinnati ... Played in 216 games prior to '90 season with 203 starts ... Led Seahawks in interceptions in 4 different seasons — 1976 (3), 1979 (5), 1980 (6), and 1986 (5) ... Also placed in the American Football Conference's top ten 6 times (1979, 1980, 1983, 1984, 1985 and 1986) ... Has 5 career touchdowns on returns including an NFL record-equaling 2 vs. Kansas City in '84 ... His 90 and 58-yard returns represented half of Seattle's 4 such returns that afternoon, a parlay which set a league record ... Had a career-high 111 tackles in 1976, his first season with Seattle ... Was responsible for impressive total of 12 takeaways during '83 season — 6 interceptions, 2 fumble recoveries and 6 forced fumbles, 4 of which were recovered by teammates ... Voted to the Pro Bowl after the '84 season and earned first team All-NFL and All-AFC honors ... Was picked for Pro

The Players

Bowl as a reserve but started the game due to an injury to the Los Angeles Raiders' Mike Haynes ... Had been first round draft choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1975 (the 26th selection) and helped them win Super Bowl ... Played in 13 games that season in addition to appearing in SB X ... Acquired by Seahawks in 1976 Veteran Allocation draft employed to stock the NFL's two expansion franchises (Seattle and Tampa Bay) ... Now is the only player remaining in the NFL from that draft ... Played his first season with Seattle at free safety before moving to cornerback.

COLLEGE: Named to Michigan's all-time team for the second 50 years of Wolverine Football in 1983 ... Consensus All-America selection in 1973 and unanimous A-A choice in 1974 ... Earned all-Big Ten honors three straight seasons as the Wolverines went 30-2-1 ... Played in the East-West, Hula Bowl, Coaches' All-America and College All-Star games ... Had an 88-yard punt return vs. Colorado in 1974 ... Graduated as speech, radio and TV major.

PERSONAL: Given name David Steven Brown ... Nicknames: "Father Time" and "Downtown" ... Married (Rhonda) and father of two sons, Aaron, born 5/15/80, and Sterling, born 2/11/82 ... Lettered in football and basketball at Garfield High School in Akron, OH ... Deeply religious, he says, "My priorities are simple ... God is first on my priority list ... and my family is second. Then my job is third" ... Is active in behalf of Pro Athletes Outreach, Fellowship of Christian Athletes as well as Multiple Sclerosis, Big Brothers, United Cerebral Palsy and McDonald's Golf Challenge, selling tournament sponsorships for latter to benefit charities in the Pacific Northwest ... Was named Seattle's NFL "Man of the Year" in 1982 for his contributions to the community's civic and charitable causes ... Accomplished racquetball player, he finished second in the 1980 NFL Players Association Racquetball Tournament ... Hometown: Akron, OH ... Residence: Woodinville, WA.

Robert Brown

DEFENSIVE END • VIRGINIA TECH • 9TH YEAR

HT: 6-3 • WT: 270 • BORN: 5/21/60 • (ACQ: D-4, '82)

PRO: The epitome of durability, Robert Lee Brown has dressed for every game (regular season, union contest) the Packers have played since he joined them as a fourth round selection out of Virginia Tech in 1982 — a span of eight seasons and 117 games ... The multi-muscled North Carolinian also is a model of consistency, a quality which has evoked a high degree of appreciation from Defensive Line Coach Greg Blache ... "Robert Brown is not a spectacular player — he's not flashy — he's just solid and sound," Blache says of Number 93. "One thing you always know — Robert Brown's job is going to get done. He's a blue collar guy — he takes his lunch pail to work and he's going to work his shift, and he's going to be done. He's a fox-holer — a guy you can count on" ... Defensive Coordinator Hank Bullough is impressed with the nine-year veteran's strength. "Robert Brown," he asserts in admiration, "could two-gap an elephant" ... For the record, Brown has bench pressed over 400 pounds ... Was involved in 51 tackles in 1989, 33 of them unassisted, including 3 quarterback sacks for 29 yards in losses ... Also broke up one pass ... Ranked second among Packer down linemen in 1988 with 39 solo tackles ... Also weighed in with 17 assists, 1½ sacks for 15 yards in losses, deflected one pass and forced one fumble ... Collected 20 solo tackles in strike-shortened 1987 season, including three sacks for 18 yards in losses ... Also batted down four passes and captured team runnerup honors in fumble recoveries with four, a figure bettered only by linebacker Brian Noble, who had five ... Registered 32 unassisted stops in 1986, matching the production of fellow starter Alphonso Carreker ... Led defensive platoon in fumble recoveries with four in 1985, a season in which he played extensively in all 16 games for the first time, and started four ... Also forged the Packers' only safety of the season, felling Lions quarterback Joe Ferguson in the Detroit end zone during a 43-10 Packer victory (October 6) ... He also highlighted his '85 production by posting three sacks among 17 unassisted tackles ... Punctuated his personal season in 1984 by intercepting a Gary Hogeboom pass vs. Dallas (Sept. 23) and returning it 5 yards for a third quarter touchdown — the Packers' only score of the afternoon as well as his first interception and first TD as a professional ... Also proved to be effective pass rusher in '84, collecting five sacks ... Launched Packer career as a linebacker in his rookie, '82 season, transferring to defensive end in 1983 ... Was special teams standout in '83, playing major role in kickoff coverage team's third place finish in National Football Conference statistics ... Paced that unit with 16 unassisted tackles ... Also was key contributor on Packer bomb squads as a rookie, making 9 solo tackles during strike-shortened, 9-game season ... A fourth round draft selection in 1982 (98th player selected).

COLLEGE: All-South Independent first team selection and NEA and College and Pro Football Newsweekly second team choice following senior season at Virginia Tech ... Also voted team's MVP ... Played in Hula and Olympia Gold Bowls following senior season ... Transferred to Tech from Chowan Junior College, where he won All-America honors ... Education major.

PERSONAL: Given name Robert Lee Brown ... Nickname: "Rob" ... Married (Susan) and father of two (Michael Bradley, born 9/16/85, and Stephanie Leigh, born 8/16/88) ... Played prep football at John A. 51 Blair Bush

CENTER • WASHINGTON • 13TH YEAR

HT: 6-3½ • WT: 273 • BORN: 11/25/56 • (ACQ: FA, '89)

PRO: An early acquisition in the NFL's initial Plan B program a year ago, businesslike Blair Bush brought stability, leadership and masterful execution to Green Bay's offensive line ... Described as "a real stable guy" and "a good leader" by Offensive Line Coach Charlie Davis, the former Seahawk and Bengal won the starting job at center in pre-season and started all but one game during regular season despite being hampered by a foot injury during the later stages of the year ... Missed one start vs. Kansas City (Dec. 10) but still assumed the long-snapping chores, an assignment he handled with distinction throughout the season ... Bush, signed as a free agent March 7, 1989, previously had started 147 of 151 games for which he had been physically able to perform while with Seattle ... Played in all 16 games for the playoff-bound Seahawks in 1988 and started 14 ... Did not start two of them because of a knee sprain but handled long snap duties in both ... Had become an immediate starter with the Bengals as a rookie in 1978, a role he filled until traded to Seattle following the 1982 season for a 1985 first round draft choice ... Missed the last nine games of the 1986 season with a knee injury, suffered vs. New York Giants.

COLLEGE: Three-year letterman and two-year starter for the University of Washington's Huskies ... Was second team All-America selection by the Associated Press in 1977, as well as an All-West Coast first team choice by both AP and UPI ... Also named to All-Pac 8 team ... Graduated with a 3.3 GPA in sociology, with a minor in education, and was the recipient of an NCAA Post Graduate scholarship.

PERSONAL: Given name Blair Walter Bush ... Born in Fort Hood, TX. ... Married (Rachel) and father of two (daughter, Madison, born 7/10/85, and a son, Clayton, born 6/2/88) ... Lettered in football, wrestling and track at Palos Verdes, CA., High School ... Played both guard and tackle in football and was team captain and MVP as a senior ... Three-year wrestling letterman as a heavyweight, compiling a 23-2-1 record as a senior, including 21 pins ... Also three-year letterman in track as a shot putter and as a member of the 440-yard relay team ... Named Palos Verdes' Athlete of the Year as a senior ... Partner in two businesses in Pacific Northwest — a time-of-day service in Oregon and Washington and a publishing company ... Residence: Edmonds, WA.

PRO STATISTICS: Games/Starts — Cincinnati 1978 (16/16); 1979 (12/12); 1980 (16/16); 1981 (16/16); 1982 (9/9); Seattle 1983 (16/14); 1984 (16/16); 1985 (16/16); 1986 (7/7); 1987 (11/11); 1988 (16/14); Green Bay 1989 (16/15). Career totals: 167/162.

63 James Campen

CENTER • TULANE • 4TH YEAR

HT: 6-2½ • WT: 275 • BORN: 6/11/64 • (ACQ: FA, '89)

PRO: Versatile and tireless ex-Saint, coming off an impressive '89 season, is a major contender for starting status at center ... "James is a tremendously hard worker and he's gaining more and more understanding of the offense all the time," in the view of Offensive Line Coach Charlie Davis, who says, "He also is strong ... and he has excellent, quick feet. He has a legitimate chance to be a strong contributor — to be a starter" ... A plan B acquisition a year ago (he left the Saints to sign a Green Bay contract Feb. 27, 1989), the massive Tulane product played in 15 games and started one — against the Kansas City Chiefs Dec. 10, two weeks after sitting out against Minnesota (Nov. 26) because of a sprained ankle ... Enhanced his value by serving as a third tight end in goal line and short yardage situations ... Also filled in as a backup defensive tackle in Game 3 against the Rams at Anaheim Sept. 24 when an injury created a shortage of defensive linemen ... Registered one solo tackle, a stop of Greg Bell ... Oddly enough, Campen had the same experience — in the identical week — of the 1988 season while with the Saints, being called upon to play defensive tackle when an injury occurred ... Also made one tackle in that contest, felling Charles White for a 2-yard loss ... Remained a backup at that position for the Saints for the balance of the season but saw no further game action ... Ironically, Campen had to talk his way into the Saints' training camp when he graduated from Tulane University in 1986 ... In fact, he didn't make the New Orleans roster as a rookie but caught on the next year, backing up Steve Korte and Joel Hilgenberg at center ... He played in all three replacement games for the Saints that season and was active with them for 12 games in 1988, playing in three.

COLLEGE: Three-year letterman at Tulane ... Played both center and guard ... Majored in criminal justice.

PERSONAL: Given name James F. Campen ... Nickname: "Camp" ... Born in Sacramento, CA. ... Married (Charlene) ... Attended Ponderosa Springs High School in Sacramento ... Served as a deputy sheriff while in New Orleans ... A highly popular member of the Packers' off-season speakers' bureau, he also has acted as a commentator for Green Bay's WLUK-TV on a Special Olympics telecast ... Favorite hobbies: Taking long auto trips to Kansas, California and New Orleans, horses and magic tricks ... Residence: Green Bay, WI.

PRO STATISTICS: Games/Starts — New Orleans 1987 (3/3); 1988 (3/0); Green Bay 1989 (15/1). Career totals: 21/4.

Chuck Cecil

FREE SAFETY • ARIZONA • 3RD YEAR

HT: 6-0 • WT: 188 • BORN: 11/8/64 • (ACQ: D-4A, '88)

PRO: An instinctive ball hawk and a resounding hitter, Chuck Cecil enters the 1990 season as the designated starter at free safety ... The personable Californian had enjoyed the same status coming into the '89 season but suffered a hamstring injury in training camp that resisted rehabilitation and sidelined him until Week 8 of the regular season ... Once back in action, he consistently made his presence felt, emerging as the No. 3 tackler in the Packer secondary despite missing those first 7 games and sharing time with Ken Stills for the balance of the season ...

Involved in 38 stops overall, including 25 solos, he punctuated his contributions with one of the most important interceptions of the season ... It came at San Francisco Nov. 19 when he pilfered a Joe Montana pass, ending a string of 149 consecutive attempts without an interception for the 49ers' all-pro quarterback ... Cecil's 16-yard return to the SF 9-yard line set up a 4-yard Don Majkowski scoring pass to Sterling Sharpe 3 plays later, a development which staked the Packers to a 14-7 early second quarter lead en route to a 21-17 victory over the reigning Super Bowl champions ... No respecter of superstars, Cecil had forged his very first NFL interception at the expense of Dan Marino as a rookie in 1988 ... Cecil made two other contributions to the '89 cause, forcing one fumble and being credited with one pass defended ... A fourth round draft selection in '88, he had exhibited a highly developed proclivity for interceptions as a rookie, spearing four opponent passes during his first six games ... Packer secondary coach Dick Jauron, taking note of Cecil's ballhawking skills, says of him, "Chuck really does have a nose for the football. He has outstanding instincts for the game. The things he possesses that make him the player he is are the intangibles. I think he has them because he is so committed to playing the game — he really likes to play football. It also makes him easy to coach. Not that he doesn't have any ideas. He'll express his own ideas — he'll ask questions about coverages that are interesting in themselves. It gives you more perspective. And most of them are very reasonable ... Chuck also is a hitter, of course, but the thing I like about him is that he's a clean player — he doesn't take any cheap shots. The hit that he made on Stanley Morgan (of the Patriots) in '88 and the one against Neal Anderson (of the Bears) last season were clean hits — the effect of those hits was just a matter of circumstances" ... The thunderous stop of Morgan, which had come in a game at Milwaukee County Stadium, had dispatched the Patriot wideout to the hospital with a concussion ... Addressing his evident yen for contact, Cecil explains, "I think a lot of the hitting aspect stems from the fact that I was always smaller than most people who played the game — at whatever level I was ... It was a way of getting people to respect you — and they seem to respect that" ... Noting that he has found the intimidation factor to be effective, he confides, "Some receivers it doesn't bother, but a lot of them it does. So it's worth a couple of 'drops' a game" ... As a rookie, Cecil made two interceptions in one game against Tampa Bay, his first intercept at the Green Bay 12-yard line, blunting an early Buccaneer drive and his second, which saw him engineer a 23-yard return to the TB 9-yard line, setting up the Packers' first touchdown of the game ... In addition to his four interceptions overall in '88, Cecil broke up 4 other passes and forced one fumble over the season, finishing the year with 32 solo tackles and 7 assists ... Likewise a standout special teams player, he ended the season as the Packers' fourth-ranking kamikaze, based on the point system of Special Teams Coordinator Howard Tippett ... Forged seven unassisted tackles on kickoff coverage and three on punt coverage while playing in all 16 games and starting 2.

COLLEGE: Consensus All-America first team selection at Arizona ... Also earned Academic All-America honors ... Made 21 intercepts, including 9 as a senior, to set Pac 10 Conference career record ... Named league's "Defensive Player of the Year" in 1987 ... Tied for the national title with his 9 interceptions, good for 77 yards in returns ... Business major, with 3.3 grade point average.

PERSONAL: Given name Charles Douglas Cecil ... Single ... Born in Red Bluff, CA. ... Single ... All-league and all-county receiver, quarterback and defensive back at Helix (San Diego) High School ... Aaron Chubb

LINEBACKER • GEORGIA • 1ST YEAR

HT: 6-4 • WT: 237 • BORN: 8/17/66 • (ACQ: FA, '90)

PRO: Imposing Georgian, signed as a Plan B free agent March 29, 1990, is looked upon as a contender at outside linebacker ... Labeled "an interesting guy" by Dick Moseley, the Packers' outside linebacker coach, who says of the newcomer, "Aaron has real good work habits, he doesn't have any learning problem and he has excellent size (6-4 and 237 pounds) for the position. He's going to help make the position real competitive, along with the people we've drafted and those we have back from last year. He is a candidate and he will contend for a position" ...

Chubb, a 12th round draft choice of the New England Patriots in 1989, spent last season on injured reserve with a hamstring injury ... His speed, estimated by New England linebacker coach Don Shinnick at 4.6 in the '40,' is as impressive to the Packers' defensive coaches and personnel department as his size ... Also has a 31-inch vertical jump ... Tom Braatz, the club's executive vice president of football operations, says Chubb "is a big, fast strong-side linebacker — he's really built. He'll get a shot at (retired) John Anderson's job over the tight end."

COLLEGE: Was recruited as a free safety but played defensive end and tight end as a freshman at Georgia ... Started at DE in 1986 and '87, then played almost like a defensive back as a senior, when he was involved in 53 tackles ... Had 5 career QB sacks ... Has degree in education.

PERSONAL: Given name Aaron Nathaniel Chubb, Jr. ... Single ... One of 11 children, he has 5 brothers and 5 sisters ... Attended Rockmart, GA., High School, where he earned three letters each in football, basketball and track ... Was team captain as junior and senior in both football and basketball, averaging 18 points per game in the latter as a senior ... Was regional high hurdles champion in track with a school record 14.1 clocking ... Gave anti-drug talks to YMCA and Boys Club organizations throughout college ... Favorite pastimes: Listening to music (jazz, R&B, rap), traveling ... Brothers Michael and Kenny Mitchell played college football at Tennessee-Chattanooga (Michael subsequently was drafted by the Birmingham Stallions of the USFL as a cornerback) ... Residence: Rockmart, GA.

PRO STATISTICS: Games/Starts — New England 1989 (injured reserve).

Greg Clark

LINEBACKER • ARIZONA STATE • 3RD YEAR

HT: 6-0 • WT: 232 • BORN: 3/5/65 • (ACQ: FA, '90)

PRO: Former Miami Dolphin, a Plan B acquisition, is considered by Packer defensive coaches a substantial challenger for an inside linebacker berth ... Has impressed, since first mini-camp, with his athletic skills, work habits and ability to "play in space" ... Tom Braatz, the Packers' executive vice president of football operations, says of Clark, "He's very athletic — he's got good feet and is a big strong kid" ... Signed as a free agent March 31, 1990, he played in all 16 games for Miami in 1989 and started the first four ... Was involved in 21 tackles in those four starts, including a single game high of 8 in Week 3 against the New York Jets ... Closed out the season with 26 tackles (22 solo) ... Also recovered one fumble and was credited with one pass defended ... A special teams standout, Clark ranked third among Dolphin kamikazes with 8 tackles ... The 25-year-old Arizona State alumnus came into the NFL as the Chicago Bears' 12th round selection in 1988 and led the Bears in special teams tackles that season with 22 ... Miami signed him in 1989's initial Plan B program and started him at right inside linebacker in the first four games before turning over the starting assignment to ex-Colt Barry Krauss.

COLLEGE: Four-year letterman and two-year starter at Arizona State ... Called defensive signals ... Led Sun Devils in tackles as a senior with 141 ... Also was team leader as a junior, his first year as a starter, with 136 tackles ... Holds B.A. degree in sociology.

PERSONAL: Given name Gregory Klondike Clark ... Nickname: "Daddy" ... Born in Los Angeles, CA. ... Married (Carole) and father of a daughter (Kacie Alexis, born 11/24/89) ... Starred in football, basketball and track at North Torrence, CA., High School ... Registered 44 of his 150 high school tackles behind the line of scrimmage ... DEFENSIVE END • MEMPHIS STATE • 2ND YEAR

PRO: Ex-Memphis State athlete, a college teammate of Packer Pro Bowler Tim Harris, is a Plan B addition Defensive Line Coach Greg Blache expects to compete for a berth at defensive end ... "James is an extremely intense player," Blache says of Cribbs, a 1989 draft choice of the Detroit Lions signed to a Green Bay contract March 30, 1990. "He came here highly recommended by Dick Modzelewski (former Packer defensive coordinator) who coached him at Detroit last season. Dick described him as a good person and a very intense athlete" ... Before he was injured last season (Cribbs was placed on injured reserve Nov. 22 following arthroscopic knee surgery) he was second line for the Lions. He was playing quite a bit for them and playing well. We expect him to come in and compete ... We're going to start him off at right end. He has the strength and the power to be a left end but he's played right end previously and he's a little more comfortable there" ... Modzelewski, evaluating Cribbs' assets, said, "He has quickness, good hands and he'll fight anybody to the death. I liked him. He was tough and mean, and he played hurt" ... Cribbs, drafted on the 12th round by the Lions last year, spent the first two weeks on the developmental squad, then played in seven of the next nine games before being injured and going on IR ... Statistically, he was credited with two tackles (one solo), both at Houston... Cribbs, who played two seasons with Harris at Memphis State, paid visits to four other clubs before choosing the Packers over the Miami Dolphins.

COLLEGE: Was involved in 98 tackles over four-year varsity career at Memphis State, the total including four QB sacks and 12 tackles for loss ... Enjoyed his best season in 1985, when he registered 41 tackles and two sacks ... Physical education major.

PERSONAL: Given name James C. Cribbs ... Single ... Was two-time all-state football selection at Memphis, TN., Hamilton High School ... Also named to Aodidas High School All-America team in 1983 as a two-way lineman (offensive and defensive tackle) ... Hometown and residence: Memphis, TN.

HT: 6-4½ • WT: 248 • BORN: 3/17/65 • (ACQ: FA, '90)

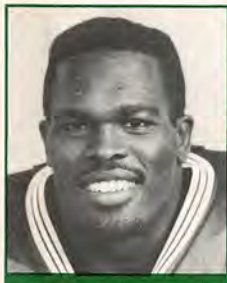

PRO: Acquired during the off-season's Plan B program, the former Colt and Seahawk joined the Packers as a free agent March 16, 1990 ... An eleventh round draft choice (the 297th pick overall) out of the University of Tulsa in 1988, Dee appeared in 13 games that season, making eight solo tackles on special teams, including six on the punt coverage team ... In 1989, he played in the Colts' season opener against the defending Super Bowl champion 49ers before being released prior to Game Two ... Later signed in November by Seattle, he started in his first three games as a member of the Seahawks, then suffered a knee injury in the third at Denver and sat out the last four weeks of the season ... Has no career receptions.

COLLEGE: Four-year letterman who earned two letters each at tight end and defensive end ... Began Tulsa career as a tight end before being shifted to the other side of the line because of personnel need ... Had 7 receptions for 108 yards as a sophomore, then registered 51 tackles, including two sacks, as a junior ... Has 63 tackles (30 of them solos), six sacks, two passes defended and one fumble recovery as a senior ... Was redshirt in 1983 ... Has degree in business management.

PERSONAL: Given name Donnie F. Dee, Jr. ... Born in Kansas City, MO. ... Married (Jackie) ... Was all-state selection in football and basketball at KC's Oak Park High School ... HT: 6-1½ • WT: 234 • BORN: 3/16/63 • (ACQ: D-6, '86)

PRO: Consistent, dependable and productive, Burnell Dent further entrenched himself at inside linebacker in 1989 and enhanced his value by emerging as the Packers' premier special teams player ... Turning in the best year of his four-year pro career, he earned praise from Defensive Coordinator Hank Bullough, who termed the multi-muscled Tulane alumnus "a very improved player ... I would feel very comfortable if Burnell had to be a starter at either (inside linebacker) position. I feel very comfortable about him as a football player" ... Started all four pre-season games and the regular season opener at right inside linebacker in 1989 when incumbent Johnny Holland was a holdout ... Posted five unassisted tackles in the inaugural and went on to play in all 16 games ... Registered 17 solo tackles and was involved in 27 stops overall ... Forged one interception, the first of his

NFL career, vs. the Bears in Chicago Dec. 17, and proceeded to record the Packers' longest INT runback of the season, engineering a 53-yard excursion to the Bears' 34-yard line before being felled by Chicago quarterback Jim Harbaugh as the game ended ... Also was credited with two passes defended and forced one fumble ... A special teams standout, Dent amassed 22 solo tackles on kick coverage, 9 more than his closest teammate, and posted one assist ... Had best day as a kamikaze vs. Bears in the Windy City, posting 3 solo tackles and one assist ... Also had 3 unassisted ST stops at Miami Oct. 22 ... Established his value to the defensive unit in 1988 when he stepped in to make three starts for an injured Holland during the early weeks of the season ... Made his presence felt immediately, proceeding to pace the defense in solo tackles with 8 in his first start — vs. Tampa Bay in Green Bay's Lambeau Field (Sept. 11) ... Also started vs. Bears (Sept. 25), weighing in with 4 unassisted tackles, and vs. Buccaneers in a rematch at Tampa Oct. 2, a game in which he again showed the way for Green Bay's defenders, making a team-high 7 solo tackles ... His production included a 9-yard sack of Buc quarterback Vinny Testaverde ... Played in 10 games overall and closed out the season with 25 unassisted tackles and 3 assists ... Also recovered one enemy fumble and was one of the club's leading special teams performers, finishing as the sixth-ranking kamikaze ... A year earlier, he also had ranked among the Packers' top special teamers, registering 5 solo tackles while appearing in 9 of 1987's 12 non-strike games ... Missed three games because of a knee injury which put him on injured reserve from Sept. 1 until Oct. 23 ... Played in all 16 games as a rookie in 1986 and started one — the season opener vs. Houston Oilers ... Stepped in at right inside linebacker on that occasion, taking over from Brian Noble, who had been moved to another starting role at outside linebacker ... Collected 15 solo tackles and 7 assists over that baptismal season ... Also made an impact on special teams, collecting 6 solo tackles and 5 assists.

COLLEGE: Ranked as Tulane's all-time leading tackler at time of graduation ... Closed out career with 492 total tackles for the Green Wave, including 295 solos ... Named to AP All-South Independent first team following senior season ... Once had 22 tackles in a game (vs. Ole Miss) ... Physical education major.

PERSONAL: Given name Burrell Joseph Dent ... Nickname: "Bucky" (a takeoff on the name of the former major league shortstop and former New York Yankee manager) ... Married (Marsha) ... Graduate of Drestrehan (New Orleans) High School ... Popular member of the Packer speakers' bureau in the off-season ... Not related to Chicago Bears' Richard Dent ... Residence: Green Bay, WI.

victory over the Chicago Bears in Green Bay Nov. 5, staking them to an early 6-0 lead ... It was the 21st TD of Didier's pro career and his second as a Packer ... He also made a solid contribution on special teams, registering 6 solo tackles and 2 assists on the coverage units ... Virgil Knight, the Packers' tight end coach, says of the Portland State alumnus, "Clint's a good receiver and he's got good speed — the ability to get deep" ... Has impressive career statistics, having caught 129 passes for 1,815 yards (a 13.9 average) and 19 touchdowns during six seasons with Washington before joining the Packers as a free agent in 1988 ... Had most productive year in 1985 when he posted 41 catches for 433 yards and 4 TDs ... Also caught 34 for 691 yards — an imposing 20.3 average — and 4 TDs in 1986 ... Had to be content with 13 catches in 1987 when he missed two games because of injury, but later finished the season on a high note, climaxing the Redskins' record-breaking 35-point second quarter against Denver in Super Bowl XXII with an 8-yard scoring catch ... A sure-handed, clutch receiver, he made 18 receptions for 267 yards and 2 TDs in playoff and Super Bowl action overall ... Didier, who played wide receiver in college, was a 12th round selection of the Redskins in the 1981 draft (314th player chosen) and spent that season on injured reserve with a pulled hamstring ... Employed largely in a reserve role in the next two seasons (1982-83), he had only 11 receptions to his credit going into '84 season before blossoming as a starter ... Made 105 catches for 13 TDs over the ensuing three seasons, scoring 5 TDs in '84 despite missing the first 5 games because of a broken fibula in his right leg ... Had 4 TDs on only 9 receptions in '83, his scores coming on catches of 40, 29, 18 and 7 yards ... Also scored that season by recovering a John Riggins fumble in the end zone against the Packers in the highest scoring "Monday Night Football" game ever played (Green Bay 48, Washington 47) ... Was spotted by Redskins Coach Joe Gibbs as a senior at Portland State when Gibbs went to work out quarterback Neil Lomax ... Clint was catching Lomax's passes and impressed Gibbs ... A month later, he was drafted by Washington ... Upon joining the Redskins, he quickly earned the nickname "Frog" because of his leaping ability (his vertical leap is 33 feet) ... Signed with Packers Sept. 6, 1988, following release by Redskins.

COLLEGE: Caught 118 passes for 1,963 yards as Neil Lomax's primary receiver at Portland State ... Had 67 catches as a senior, averaging 16.3 yards per catch, good for 12 TDs ... Had transferred to Portland from Columbia Basin, WA., Junior College ... Administration of justice major.

PERSONAL: Given name Clint Bradley Didier ... Born in Pasco, WA. ... Married (Kristie) and father of four children: Brandie, born 3/6/83, Travis, born 10/12/84, Justin, born 3/2/86, and Zachary, born 12/22/88 ... Played prep football and ran track at Connell, WA., High School ... Son of a farmer, he spends his offseasons on his own farm in Eltopia, WA. ... His brother, Curt, was signed as a free agent with Raiders in 1980 ... Favorite sports and hobbies: Fishing, camping ... Residence: Eltopia, WA.

Anthony Dilweg

QUARTERBACK • DUKE • 2ND YEAR

HT: 6-3½ • WT: 198 • BORN: 3/28/65 • (ACQ: D-3B, '89)

PRO: A highly intelligent athlete who demonstrated remarkable poise and presence for a rookie, Anthony Dilweg came off the Duke University campus in 1989 to win the backup berth at quarterback, beating out two veteran rivals in the process... Head Coach Lindy Infante, who personally tutors the quarterbacks, says of the former Blue Devil, "Anthony's a bright young man, retains things well, and makes good decisions most of the time... He has good poise and a good attitude for a quarterback — he has confidence in himself and he has a lot of the intangibles"... Grandson of the late Packer great, Lavvie Dilweg, he won the No. 2 job with impressive performances during 1989's pre-season, beginning with the opening game against the New York Jets at Milwaukee... Completed 7 of 11 passes for 102 yards and one touchdown, the latter a 49-yard strike to Sterling Sharpe, at rain-swept County Stadium... Later, re-entering a game against Buffalo with only 1:53 remaining and the Packers trailing the Bills 24-20, he escorted the Green and Gold 60 yards to the winning touchdown in 9 plays, hitting wideout Perry Kemp for the score on a 2-yard pass with only 19 seconds to play to trigger a 27-24 victory...

G The Players

Completed 24 of 46 passes for 271 yards and 3 touchdowns overall, without an interception, in the 4-game pre-season schedule ... Active for all 16 regular season games and played in one — vs. the Detroit Lions at Pontiac, MI, Nov. 12 — and completed the only pass he attempted for a 7-yard-gain during a 2-play appearance for starter Don Majkowski, who had left the game temporarily after being shaken up.

COLLEGE: Tied for the highest IQ score in the nation among draft eligible quarterbacks in 1989 ... Set Atlantic Coast Conference records for passing yardage (3,824) and touchdowns (24) as a senior, ranking third in the nation in both categories ... Also voted ACC Player of the Year after leading the conference in all passing categories and total offense ... Completed 287 passes while setting ACC season records for pass attempts (484) and total offense (3,713 yards) ... Ranked second in the nation in total offense, throwing for over 300 yards in 9 of 11 games ... Also punted 39 times for a 39.7 average ... History and drama major, with a minor in psychology.

PERSONAL: Given name Anthony Hume Dilweg ... Born in Washington, D.C. ... Married (Jamie) ... Was National High School Coaches Association Academic All-America selection as well as Washington Post and Pigskin Club of Washington all-metro choice as a senior at Walt Whitman (Bethesda, MD.) High School ... Also earned D.C. Touchdown Club's Maryland High School Player of the Year honors ... Captained both the football and basketball teams ... Averaged 18.8 points per game in basketball ... His grandfather, Lavvie Dilweg, was a Green Bay Packer star in the late 1920s and early '30s (1927-34), helping the Packers win their first three National Football League championships (1929-30-31), and was named to the club's all-time team in 1969 at the end of the first 50 years of the Packers' existence ... Anthony's grandmother, Eleanor Coleman Dilweg, was an Olympic swimmer who once held a world breast stroke record ... His father, Robert, played varsity football at Marquette (1953) and William and Mary (1955) ... Residence: Green Bay, WI.

HT: 6-2 • WT: 240 • BORN: 8/31/60 • (ACQ: D-4, '84)

PRO: The freewheeling veteran is out to re-establish himself in the Packer linebacking corps after sitting out the 1989 season with a freak knee injury suffered during pre-game warmup for the Packers' regular season opener against the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in Green Bay's Lambeau Field (Sept. 10) ... Dorsey, the Packers' special teams captain going into the '89 season, has fully recovered from the ligament damage incurred and is expected to make an all-out bid for re-employment ... The injury represented an ironic twist of fate for the swashbuckling Marylander, who had never missed a game since joining the Packers as a fourth round draft choice out of the University of Connecticut in 1984 ... A reckless, hard-hitting performer, he had run his consecutive game streak to 76 entering the '89 season ... A year earlier, he had stepped in for incumbent Brian Noble, then sitting out because of a contractual situation, and started the first six games at right inside linebacker ... Playing effectively, he registered 20 solo tackles during this span, including 6 against the Buccaneers in Game Two (Sept. 11) ... Added three assists along the way ... Always a factor on special teams, he also shared the club lead in punt coverage, matching Clint Didier's 6 solo tackles and posting one assist over the season ... Led Green Bay's kamikazes in solo tackles in three of his first four seasons, pacing the suicide squads as a rookie in '84 with 19 solo tackles (and 16 assists) and again in 1985 with 18 solos ... Was "deprived" of a chance to make it three in a row after being pressed into service as a starter in 1986 ... Started season opener against Houston (Sept. 7) that year at left inside linebacker, filling in for the injured Randy Scott, then started the next eight at right inside linebacker, replacing Brian Noble, transferred to the weak side outside linebacker position for the first nine weeks of the season ... Registered a team-leading 10 unassisted tackles in that starting debut vs. the Oilers in the '86 opener and shared team honors with 7 solo stops the following week vs. New Orleans ... Also had 9 unassisted tackles vs. Detroit in Game Six (Oct. 12) ... Closed out season as fifth-ranking tackler on defensive platoon with 54 solo tackles ... Also had 21 assists, broke up one pass and recovered 2 fumbles.

COLLEGE: Voted "Defensive Player of the Year" in the Yankee Conference as both a junior and senior at Connecticut, averaging nearly 170 tackles per season ... Also first team All-America (Division I-AA) selection as a senior ... Four-year starter, first two at defensive end before moving to linebacker ... Recorded career total of 495 tackles, including a remarkable 23-tackle effort against Rutgers ... Economics major, with minor in political science.

PERSONAL: Given name John Michael Dorsey ... Married (Shari) and father of a son, Bryant Michael (born 8/23/87) ... Voted Packers' NFL "Man of the Year" in 1987 for his civic and charitable contributions to the community and state ... Deeply involved as a player-member of the board of directors for the Green Bay Packers 65 Roses Club, he frequently makes appearances in connection with the ongoing crusade to find a cure for cystic fibrosis ... In recognition of his efforts, he was named Wisconsin's CF "Volunteer of the Year" in 1988 and elected to the board of directors of the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's Wisconsin Chapter in 1989 ... Attended high school and prepped one year at Fork Union, VA, Military Academy ... Won all-county football honors while also gaining second team all-state laurels in lacrosse ... RUNNING BACK • LSU • 6TH YEAR

HT: 6-0 • WT: 205 • BORN: 9/12/63 • (ACQ: T-Clev., '89)

PRO: One of professional football's most versatile performers, he made substantial contributions to the Packer cause on both sides of the football in 1989 after being acquired in a draft day trade with the Cleveland Browns ... The talented LSU alumnus closed out the season as the team's fourth-ranking receiver with 40 catches for 372 yards and 3 touchdowns and No. 5 rusher with a 4.1-yard average based on 69 yards in 17 attempts while playing in all 16 games ... He also made his presence felt on special teams, ranking third overall in unassisted tackles with an even dozen ... Also was credited with 6 assists and recovered a fumble ... Offensive Backfield Coach Willie Peete, paying tribute to Fontenot's contributions to Green Bay's attack, said, "What Herman added to our offense on third down alone was unbelievable ... He gave us a third down threat — we didn't have one the year before" ... His productive efforts were achieved despite a season-long struggle with an ankle problem, Trainer Domenic Gentile pointed out. "The ankle (injured while playing basketball in the off-season) was very swollen and sore," Gentile said, "but Herman refused to take time off — even one practice — during the grueling two-a-days" ... By playing in every game, Gentile said, "Fontenot would not take time off to allow proper healing. Because of this he suffered varying degrees of pain throughout the season" ... The gritty Texan's ability to play with pain earned him selection as the Packers' 1989 Ed Block Courage Award winner, a prestigious award named in honor of the former trainer of the Baltimore Colts ... Fontenot was a prominent factor in two early season Packer victories — the 23-21, come-from-behind win over the Atlanta Falcons at Milwaukee Oct. 1 and their 31-13 conquest of the Dallas Cowboys the following Sunday (Oct. 8) ... In the Atlanta contest, he pulled in a Don Majkowski pass down the right sideline for a 37-yard touchdown during a 17-point fourth quarter comeback which brought the Packers their second victory of the season ... A week later, he caught 7- and 38-yard TD passes from Majkowski to help submerge the Cowboys ... Also scored one rushing TD — on a one-yard run which gave the Packers an early and temporary lead vs. the Vikings at Minneapolis Oct. 15 ... Had best receiving day of the season — from a receptions standpoint — when he made 8 catches for 58 yards in a 20-19 victory over the playoff-bound Vikings at Milwaukee Nov. 26 ... Earlier had 7 receptions for 76 yards in 23-20 overtime victory over Detroit Oct. 29 ... Well-suited to Lindy Infante's "multiple approach" offense, in which he was featured at Cleveland in 1986-87 when Infante was the Browns' offensive coordinator, he caught 19 passes for 170 yards for Cleveland in 1988 and was the Browns' No. 4 rusher with 87 yards in 28 carries ... Also averaged 20.7 yards for 21 kickoff returns, ranking second among Browns returners and emerged as king of Cleveland's kamikazes with 21 special teams tackles, including 19 solos ... Previously led Browns' special teamers in 1987 with 17 tackles (13 solo) and spiced his season-long performance by blocking a Rohn Stark punt vs. the Colts (Dec. 6) that led to Cleveland's only score in a 9-7 loss ... Spent first 7 games of rookie (1985) season on injured reserve after breaking a bone in his back during the preseason, then played in all 16 games in 1986 and started three (vs. Cincinnati, 9/18; vs. Kansas City, 10/12; and vs. Pittsburgh, 11/23) ... Closed out that '86 season as Browns' second leading receiver with 47 catches for 559 yards and one TD ... Caught at least one pass in 14 of 16 games ... Led club in rushing average (4.2 avg.) with 25 carries for 105 yards ... Enhanced his reputation for versatility by throwing a 46-yard touchdown pass to Webster Slaughter in Browns' season finale ... Later was club's leading receiver in playoffs with 128 yards on 12 catches (a 10.7 average) ... Signed by Browns as free agent May 6, 1985 ... Also drafted in the ninth round by New Jersey of the USFL (127th player selected).

COLLEGE: Second-leading receiver as senior at LSU (behind Saints' seventh round draft choice Eric Martin) with 25 catches for 349 yards and two TDs ... Sociology major.

RUNNING BACK • NORTHWESTERN LA. • 2ND YEAR

HT: 5-7 • WT: 195 • BORN: 11/12/67 • (ACQ: FA, '90)

PRO: Signed as a free agent March 20, 1990, the former New Orleans Saint was rated the top running back in this year's Plan B Pool by the Packer coaching staff ... His quickness and "explosion" impressed the offensive coaches during his Green Bay workout ... A sought after performer, he had tryouts with six other National Football League teams before casting his lot with the Packers in what Executive Vice President Tom Braatz termed "a highly competitive signing" ... The compactly constructed Northwestern State product, who signed with New Orleans as a free agent in 1989, averaged 4.5 yards per carry for the Saints as a rookie, gaining 112 yards in 25 attempts ... He also caught three passes for 25 yards while appearing in 15 of the Saints' 16 games and was a factor on special teams, returning eight kickoffs for 157 yards, a 19.6 average ... In the process, he forged the team's highest single game rushing average of the season, averaging 6.9 yards per attempt while gaining 83 yards in 12 attempts against Dallas in New Orleans' season opener (September 10).

COLLEGE: Posted impressive 6.8-yards per carry average during two-year career at Northwestern Louisiana State (he made himself available in 1989 draft, following his junior season) ... Rushed for 803 yards in 115 attempts overall, including 502 in 74 attempts as a junior, and scored 7 touchdowns ... Fashioned a 7.7-yard rushing average in playoff competition (139 yards in 18 attempts) ... Also caught 22 passes for 276 yards, a 12.5 average.

21 Brent Fullwood

FULLBACK • AUBURN • 4TH YEAR

HT: 5-11½ • WT: 210 • BORN: 10/10/63 • (ACQ: D-1, '87)

PRO: Talented Floridian, the Packers' first round draft selection in 1987, had his most productive season to date in 1989... Rushed for 821 yards, the most by a Green Bay running back since 1981, when Gerry Ellis weighed in with 860... Averaged 4.0 yards per attempt while scoring 5 touchdowns... In the process, he climbed into 19th place on the Packers' career rushing list with 1,578 yards in 389 attempts (a 4.1 average)... Also caught 19 passes for 214 yards (an 11.3 average) and posted a team-leading 22.1-yard average for 11 kickoff returns... Registered two 100-yard rushing performances along the way (125 yards in 18 attempts vs. Saints Sept. 17 and 119 yards in 28 attempts vs. Dallas Oct. 8)... Collaborated with quarterback Don Majkowski in engineering the Packers' third longest offensive play of the season, parlaying a sideline pass from Majkowski into a 67-yard gain against the Bears Nov. 5 with an impressive display of open field running... Played and started 15 games, sitting out the Detroit game (Nov. 12) because of a hamstring injury suffered in the Packers' 14-13 victory over the Bears the previous week... Led Packer offense in three departments in 1988 (rushing, scoring and kickoff returns)... Played in 14 games overall and started 10 — all at fullback — and paced Green Bay's rushers with 483 yards in 101 attempts, a 4.8 average... Also was the team's leading scorer with 48 points (42 coming on 7 rushing TDs) and kickoff returner (a 20.0 average for 21 runbacks)... Had the first 100-yard rushing day of his pro career on Oct. 9 that season vs. New England, rolling up 118 yards in 14 attempts and scoring three TDs on runs of 33, 31 and 17 yards... It was the only 100-yard rushing performance of the season by a Green Bay running back and the first by a Packer since Oct. 25, 1987 when Kenneth Davis had a 129-yard day against the Lions... Returned to the starting lineup at Minnesota the following week and was off to an impressive start, averaging 6.8 yards on six carries, but twisted an ankle in the second quarter and left the game... Saw little action for the next three weeks, then returned to form with a 68-yard rushing effort (in 12 attempts) against the Colts (Nov. 13)... Later registered 65 yards in 11 attempts vs. Lions Dec. 4 before being re-injured and was inactive for last two games of the season... Was Packers' No. 2 rusher as a rookie in 1987 with 274 yards in 84 carries, good for a 3.3 average and a team-leading 5 touchdowns... Also emerged as leading kickoff returner (510 yards on 24 runbacks, a 21.3 average)... Had best day of his rookie season against Chiefs at Kansas City, rushing for 68 yards in 23 attempts... Followed with 64 yards in 20 carries against the Bears the following Sunday (Nov. 29) while making his only start of the season... Played in 11 of the 12 non-strike games overall, sitting out the Viking game Dec. 13 with a leg injury.

COLLEGE: Unanimous All-America selection (by AP, UPI, Kodak, Football Writers, Football News, Scripps-Howard and Walter Camp) after leading the Southeastern Conference in rushing (1,391 yards in 167 attempts, an 8.3 average) in 1986... Rushed for over 100 yards seven times, tying school record, and 2,789 yards overall and a school record career average of 7.15 yards per attempt... Finished sixth in Heisman trophy voting as a senior.

PERSONAL: Given name Brent Fullwood... Nickname: "Tree-L"... Born in St. Cloud, FL... Married (Lanette) and father of two children (daughter, Brandy, born 8/13/86, and son, Brent, Jr., born 4/12/90)... Rushed for 4,580 yards, scored 47 touchdowns and 322 points at St. Cloud, FL, High School en route to gaining consensus prep All-America honors... Returned 10 kickoffs as a senior — all for touchdowns — and three of five punt returns for scores... Set a national record with three kickoff returns for touchdowns in one game... Honored with "Brent Fullwood Day" in native St. Cloud (pop. 4,000) after being drafted number one by Packers... Has donated time to Salvation Army as a volunteer basketball coach... Favorite diversions: Playing basketball (he is a member of the Green Bay Packer All-Stars in the off-season) and fishing... Residence: Green Bay, WI.

HT: 6-0 • WT: 192 • BORN: 2/15/62 • (ACQ: FA, '86)

PRO: Rugged North Carolinian again proved a valuable contributor in a dual role in 1989 — as a utility defensive back and standout special teams player ... Appeared in all 16 games for the second year in a row while being employed regularly in "nickel" situations ... A sure and reckless tackler, he made 24 solo stops, including a pair of quarterback sacks for 13 yards in losses ... Also had two assisted tackles, registered one interception and was credited with six passes defensed ... His intercept, made in the end zone, came against the Dallas Cowboys in Game 5 at Green Bay's Lambeau Field ... Emerged as Packers' second-ranked kamikaze under the point system employed by Special Teams Coordinator Howard Tippet ... Was involved in 9 special teams tackles overall, including 6 solo stops ... Made four starts in 1988, when he registered 23 unassisted tackles, including one quarterback sack, and five assists, breaking up three enemy passes in the process ... Also a major contributor on special teams coverage units, he emerged as the third highest ranking member of Green Bay's suicide squads, being credited with five solo tackles and two assists ... Collected 31 unassisted tackles — more than any other defensive back except for the four starters in the secondary — in 1987, his first full season in green and gold ... Also posted one interception, broke up three other passes and recovered two fumbles ... Likewise a special teams standout, he registered 7 solo tackles on kick coverage ... The former Atlanta Falcon joined the Packers Sept. 25, 1986 and quickly found a new home ... Inserted in starting lineup in Game 7 at Cleveland (Oct. 9, 1986), along with Ken Stills and Tim Harris, he made his presence felt immediately, collecting 7 tackles and 3 assists against the Browns in helping the Packers from behind to post a 17-14 victory ... Started for the rest of the season and made "big play" impact, making two interceptions and posting one quarterback sack ... Also blocked a punt in Nov. 23 rematch with Bears in

FULLBACK • MISSISSIPPI • 8TH YEAR

HT: 6-1 • WT: 230 • BORN: 12/27/61 • (ACQ: FA, '89)

PRO: A versatile and committed performer, he was the Packers' first Plan B signing (Feb. 17) when the program was instituted in 1989 and it proved to be a sound investment ... The former Eagle, Philadelphia's first round draft choice in 1983, provided solid backup support to Brent Fullwood at fullback, emerging as the Packers' No. 4 rusher with 135 yards in 44 attempts, a 3.1 average ... He also caught 15 passes for 111 yards, a 7.4 average, with one touchdown, and was an effective blocker on kick returns ... Played in all 16 games and started one, vs. Detroit Nov. 12, rushing 12 times for 42 yards and snaring a 6-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Don Majkowski in that contest ... Closed out '88 season, his last with Philadelphia, as Eagles' fourth-ranking rusher with 185 yards in 57 carries, a 3.2 average ... Also caught 12 passes for 82 yards ... Played in all 16 games and started three late-season contests in place of injured starter, Anthony Toney ... A year earlier, he appeared in all 12 non-strike games, starting four ... Contributed 165 yards on 59 carries and 58 yards on 7 receptions ... Started first two games of the year at fullback when Toney was moved to running back to replace injured Keith Byars ... Led Birds' rushing attack against Washington on opening day that year with 60 yards in 14 attempts ... Fractured hand in practice on the first day after the strike and subsequently lost starting spot ... Named Eagles' special teams player of the week for performance against St. Louis on Nov. 1 of that '87 season, he started the next two games at fullback (vs. Patriots and Giants) — with Toney moving to halfback — as Head Coach Buddy Ryan utilized his best blocking backfield against the opposition's strong blitzing defenses ... Was eighth selection overall when the Eagles made him their first round choice in the '83 National Football League draft ... Filled a variety of roles in his first three years with Philadelphia — running back, fullback and "move" back in the one-back offense used by the Birds in 1985 — before finally concentrating at fullback in 1986 ... Rushed for a career high 276 yards that year and also weighed in with 26 receptions ... Has made most of his rushing yards, throughout his pro career, between the tackles ... A

65 Ron Hallstrom

OFFENSIVE GUARD • IOWA • 9TH YEAR

HT: 6-6 • WT: 297 • BORN: 6/11/59 • (ACQ: D-1, '82)

PRO: Huge University of Iowa product, the senior member of the Packers' offense as well as the incumbent offensive captain, had a vintage year in 1989 ... "Ron is coming off probably his best year," Offensive Line Coach Charlie says of the 31-year-old veteran, now in his ninth NFL season. "He's a steady, consistent performer — a veteran guy who really understands what we're doing. Ron is very conscientious about assignments and has real good experience ... And he's a leader for us as our offensive captain" ... Has played every position in the offensive line at one time or another during his 8-year career, completing the cycle with an impromptu stint at center against the Vikings at Milwaukee last season (Nov. 26) when starter Blair Bush and backup James Campen were sidelined by foot and ankle injuries, respectively ... "Ron did a great job there, considering he went in there on the spur of the moment," Davis said of Number 65's "debut" at the position ... Hallstrom, a highly durable performer who has not missed a game since his rookie year in 1982, when he was Green Bay's No. 1 draft choice, started all 16 games in 1989 ... In the process, he extended his starting streak to 59 consecutive games, and his consecutive game string to 108, excluding the 3 replacement games during the 1987 player strike ... The oldest player on the offensive unit in point of Packer service, he has been a starter for the past six seasons and offensive captain since 1986 ... Green Bay's incumbent at right guard since the fourth game of the 1984 season, he moved into the starting lineup at Dallas Sept. 30 that year, replacing Syd Kitson ... He responded by developing into an effective performer, his efforts later prompting then Head Coach Forrest Gregg to observe, "As far as our right guard position is concerned, that issue is settled" ... Had been listed as a backup tackle in the depth chart going into the '84 season after beginning his pro career at guard two years earlier ... Hampered in early weeks of 1985 season by ankle injury that forced him to miss a portion of the league opener against the Patriots at New England ... Returned to starting lineup in Game 2 vs. New York Giants ... Played in seven of nine regular season games during strike-interrupted '82 season, his rookie year ... Also appeared in Super Bowl Tournament games against the Cardinals and Cowboys following that '82 season ... Was backup to Karl Swanke at LT in 1983 and played in all 16 games ... Had outstanding season in 1987 when he permitted only one-half sack over the 12-game schedule, best performance of the year by a Green Bay offensive lineman ... Also led the offensive line in cuts and knockdowns (the number of times a lineman gets an opponent off his feet).

COLLEGE: Voted AP and UPI All-Big Ten honors as a senior at Iowa — his first year as an offensive lineman ... Played defensive tackle his freshman season at Iowa Central Junior College, earning second team All-America honors ... Also played DT in 1979 following transfer to Iowa ... Red-shirted in 1980, when he was moved to offensive tackle ... Made transition with ease, rising to No. 1 guard entering '81 season, playing in all 11 games and starting for Hawkeyes in Rose Bowl ... Also was invited to play in East-West Shrine, Blue-Grey and Japan Bowl games.

97 Timothy Harris

LINEBACKER • MEMPHIS STATE • 5TH YEAR

HT: 6-6½ • WT: 258 • BORN: 9/10/64 • (ACQ: D-4A, '86)

PRO: Flamboyant and irrepressible, Timothy Harris formally took his place among the National Football League's linebacking elite in 1989 when he was accorded Pro Bowl first team honors by vote of his peers — the first Packer linebacker so honored since Fred Carr in 1976 — and a consensus all-pro selection ... Chosen winner of the George Halas Trophy, annually awarded to the league's premier defensive player by the World Almanac in addition to being named all-pro by the Associated Press, Pro Football Writers of America, The Sporting News, Pro Football

Weekly, NEA, Sports Illustrated, College and Pro Football Newsweekly and Football Digest ... Also named All-NFC by United Press International ... Easily the league's most vocal performer, Harris earned primacy at his position by backing up his verbiage with an outstanding season, one he punctuated with a career-high 19½ sacks, a total surpassed last season only by league leader Chris Doleman of the Vikings ... It also fell only one sack short of the Packer single season record, 20½, posted by Ezra Johnson in 1978 ... A consistently intimidating force against opposing offenses, he also led Green Bay's defense in forcing fumbles, being credited with 4, and recovered 3 fumbles to share team leadership in this category with fellow linebacker Johnny Holland ... In addition, he emerged as the team's fourth most productive tackler, figuring in 86 stops (45 solos and 41 assists) ... Had his most impactful day of the season against Atlanta at Milwaukee October 1, sacking Falcon quarterback Hugh Millen 4 times for 29 yards in losses to help trigger a 23-21 come-from-behind victory ... That performance earned him National Football Conference "Defensive Player of the Week" honors for the second time in his pro career ... Collected 2 more sacks following week in a 31-13 win over Dallas ... Later registered 5 sacks in a 2-game span, posting 2 in a 7-tackle effort as the Packers shaded the Bears 14-13 in Green Bay Nov. 5 and 3 for 20 yards in losses vs. the Lions at the Pontiac, MI, Silverdome Nov. 12 ... Also turned in two other 2-sack performances — giving him a season total of 6 games in which he recorded 2 or more sacks — in a 17-16 victory at Tampa Bay Dec. 3 and in a 40-28 triumph at Chicago Dec. 17 ... In the latter, Harris was the catalyst in a record feat by fellow linebacker Scott Stephen when his second sack of the afternoon forced a Jim Harbaugh fumble ... Stephen promptly scooped up the loose ball and set off on a 76-yard excursion to the Bears' 8-yard line, the longest fumble run in Packer history ... Defensive Coordinator Hank Bullough, assessing Number 97's performance in 1989, says of him, "This was the first real big consistent year Timmy has had. Timmy plays a lot on his ability — he plays hard all the time. But when he gets to the point where he really studies the game and gets to know it — like Ray Nitschke did — he will get even better ... I just want to see a player with all the ability that Timmy has get to the next stage. He's at one level now. He's at a level he's considered one of the better linebackers in the league. Now he's got to go up and become the very best ... The thing he has to fight is himself, because everyone keeps telling him how great he is" ... The Packers' leading pass rusher in each of his four NFL seasons to date, Harris has amassed 47½ sacks in 54 starts ... Also is so effective playing the run that Dick Moseley, Harris' position coach, shows new players tapes of Tim penetrating blockers... "Tim has a great ability to get to the next level," Moseley says. "If he's supposed to be playing off of a blocker to get to another blocker, it looks like his legs are rubber bands... Timmy is very seldom off his feet. You'd think as a big man they would be able to get him down. Those guys look like they've got a fix on him, and the first thing you know, they are on the ground, and Timmy is back in the running lanes"... Moseley also points to the 5-year pro's versatility as a major asset to Green Bay's defense... "You can rush him, you can drop him, he can be a rover. With Hank's scheme (Bullough's) he can do a lot of things. He's a critical part of our defense"... Although his opponents sometimes object to the colorful Tennessean's "wild" antics on the field, Harris' actions are of no concern to Moseley, who says, "When I first came here, I thought he was an out-of-control player. (But) he does it in practice. This is the guy himself. It's being proven that it's not a big thing"... Harris, addressing the matter himself, says, "I figure a guy can talk all you want as long as you do your job well. Nobody can overlook that"... One of his prominent rivals, the Bears' Jay Hilgenberg, is inclined to agree. "That guy has fun playing football," he says of Harris. "He's fun with the crowd and a great football player. It would be nice to be able to go out there and have fun like that. I have a lot of respect for that guy"... The '89 campaign was the second standout season in succession for the towering Memphis State product... He had closed out the 1988 season as the Packers' sack leader for the third straight year with 13½, a total good enough to rank him fifth in the league as a whole... Also finished as the Packer's No. 2 tackler with 83 solos, added 28 assists, broke up 2 passes and forced 2 fumbles... Enhanced these efforts by registering 2 safeties to tie a club and league record, and blocking a punt and returning it for a touchdown... Both safeties came against the Vikings and both involved felling quarterback Wade Wilson in the Minnesota end zone... The first came in the third quarter of the teams' first meeting of the season at the Metrodome Oct. 16, the second in the fourth quarter of the rematch in Green Bay Dec. 11... Harris engineered the punt block in the first Viking contest, deflecting a Bucky Scribner punt into the air midway through the final period, camping under it like a baseball outfielder to retrieve it in stride and return it 10 yards for a TD... Was acclaimed as the NFC's "Defensive Player of the Week" following that performance, which included 5 solo tackles, 2 quarterback sacks, the safety and the blocked punt... Named to NEA and Sports Illustrated All-Pro teams following the '88 season... A starter since the seventh game of his rookie, '86 season, Harris registered 7½ sacks to lead the Packer defense in this important department for the first time despite starting only 10 games, and repeated for the honor in 1987 with 7... Was fifth-ranking tackler on the defense overall in 1987 with 55 solo stops and 14 assists... Captured "Packer Rookie of the Year" laurels in a runaway in '86... Remindful of Hall of Famer Ted Hendricks in range and ability, Harris emerged as the defensive unit's "big play" leader despite playing only sparingly in the first 6 games... In addition to pacing his platoon in sacks, he broke up 3 passes, forced 2 fumbles and recovered one... Made an impressive starting debut at Cleveland (Oct. 19) in the process... Collected 10 unassisted tackles, including one QB sack, and added 2 assists... Also forced a second quarter fumble, recovered by teammate John Dorsey at midfield, which led to an Al Del Greco field goal that proved to be the eventual winning margin in a 17-14 victory — a win that ended a 6-game Packer losing streak... Later that season, Harris made such an impression on CBS analyst John Madden in a dramatic, 44-40 Thanksgiving Day victory over Detroit that Madden announced he was naming Harris to his "All-Thanksgiving Day" team... Timothy's contributions that afternoon, on which he put heavy pressure on Lions quarterback Joe Ferguson, included a sack and a punt block converted into a Green Bay touchdown when John Simmons made an end zone recovery of the football... Harris also broke up a Ferguson pass... Closed out season with a flourish vs. the eventual Super Bowl champion New York Giants, sacking quarterback Phil Simms twice and collecting 6 total tackles... Registered 51 solo tackles in addition to 16 assists.

COLLEGE: Set a school record for most tackles for lost yardage in a season (17 in 1983) and in a career (47 for 270 yards) as a three-year starter at Memphis State... Also set MS mark for most sacks in a game (3 vs. Vanderbilt in '83)... Had a 17-tackle performance vs. Ole Miss in '84... Co-captain as a senior... Selected to play in Senior and Hula Bowls... Accounting major.

PERSONAL: Given name Timothy David Harris... Married (Barbara) and father of a daughter, Marissa, born 7/23/85... Attended Woodlawn High in Birmingham, AL, later transferring to Memphis, TN., Catholic High... Credited with 22 solo tackles in 1981 Jaycee Bowl following his senior year in HS... Also played varsity basketball, averaging 15 points and 20 rebounds as a senior at Memphis... Heavily involved in fund-raising activities for the Children's Hospital of Wisconsin and the MACC Fund (Midwest Athletes Against Childhood Cancer)... Personally contributed $9,750 to the latter in 1989 ($500 per sack)... Earlier had worked with Special Olympics Volleyball program and fund raiser in Memphis... Became a year-around Green Bay resident in 1988, purchasing a house on the city's southwest side... Favorite pastimes: Handball, basketball and pool.

PRO: Towering former Tampa Bay Buccaneer became Packers' first Plan B acquisition of 1990 when signed March 7 after impressing offensive coaches during off-season workout in Green Bay ... At 6-5 and 255 pounds one of pro football's most "substantial" tight ends, Harris caught 11 passes for 102 yards and one touchdown in 1989, his production including three catches for 24 yards in Tampa Bay's '89 opener against the Packers in Green Bay's Lambeau Field ... Appeared in all 16 games and started two ... Originally a seventh round draft choice of the then St. Louis Cardinals in 1987 (the 195th player chosen), he started three games as a rookie and caught one pass for eight yards ... Later waived during training camp by the Cardinals in 1988, Harris then signed with the 49ers following the '88 season ... He was subsequently claimed on waivers from San Francisco by the Buccaneers during the '89 off-season.

COLLEGE: Registered impressive receiving totals as a two-year starter at the University of Texas, earning All-Southwest Conference honors as a junior ... Caught career-high 34 passes as a sophomore, the third highest figure in Longhorn history ... Injury plagued as a junior, he still managed to catch 15 passes for 272 yards and earn all-conference selection ... Transferred to Bishop College as a senior and caught 28 passes for 483 yards and five touchdowns ... Averaged 18.1 yards per catch during collegiate career ... Caught 84-yard TD pass vs. Penn State as a sophomore ... Physical education major.

PUNTER • CLEMSON • 6TH YEAR

HT: 6-1½ • WT: 230 • BORN: 4/5/63 • (ACQ: FA, '90)

PRO: The Los Angeles Rams' resident punter for the past five seasons, Dale Hatcher became a Packer Plan B signee March 16, 1990 ... A one-time Pro Bowl nominee (1985), the former Clemson specialist last season became the most prolific punter in the Rams' 53-year history ... He delivered 369 punts during his Los Angeles tenure, 13 more than the previous record holder, the late Norm Van Brocklin ... At 6-1½ and 230 pounds one of the NFL's largest performers at his position, he impressed Packer special teams coordinator Howard Tippet during Green Bay's first mini-camp ... "The ball," Tippet said, "just explodes off his leg" ... A third round draft selection in 1985 (the 77th pick overall), the 27-year-old South Carolinian averaged 38.8 yards for 73 punts in 1989 ... Hatcher posted his best single season average to date as a rookie, averaging 43.2 yards for 87 punts and earning numerous all-rookie and all-pro honors, including All-NFL recognition from United Press International, The Sporting News and the Pro Football Writers of America in addition to being elected to the Pro Bowl by his peers ... Averaged 41.3 yards for 76 punts in 1987 and finished in a three-way tie for second in the NFL with a net punting average of 35.6 ... Also placed 19 punts inside the opponents' 20, a total which ranked third in the league ... Averaged 46.2 yards on seven punts in the season opener at Houston, including a 62-yarder ... Later, in Game 11 against Washington, he was employed as a kickoff man for the first time since high school when he replaced the ailing Mike Lansford ... Set a Ram record for most punts in a season in 1986 with 97, averaging 38.6 and finishing in a tie for third in the NFL for most punts inside the 20 with 26 ... Finished fourth in the league in gross average (43.2) in his outstanding rookie season, also ranking second overall in punts inside the 20 with 32, a total which remains a personal career high ... Hampered by a left knee injury in 1988 that required arthroscopic surgery early in training camp ... Missed the first nine games of the season, returning to average 39.6 punts for 39 punts over the last seven weeks of the season ... Had his best game of the '88 season against the Vikings in the NFC Wild Card game when he punted five times for 241 yards for an imposing 48.2 average, his production including a 63-yard effort.

COLLEGE: Posted a remarkable 40.7-yard net punting average during his Clemson career, averaging 42.9 yards per punt overall ... Of his 191 career punts, only 59 were returned for an average of 2.5 yards per punt ... Won All-America honorable mention in both 1983 and '84 ... Had 44 punts of 50 yards or longer and had 69 downed inside the 20 ... Majored in industrial education.

PERSONAL: Given name Roger Dale Hatcher ... Born in Cheraw, S.C. and attended Cheraw High School ... Averaged 48.8 yards per punt over his prep career and also starred in baseball, compiling 21-1 record as a pitcher over his junior and senior seasons ... LINEBACKER • TEXAS A&M • 4TH YEAR

PRO: Talented Texan overcame the effects of a lengthy pre-season holdout and a lingering shoulder problem in 1989 to forge the most productive season of his three-year pro career, emerging as the team's No. 3 tackler ... Involved in 121 stops overall, including 73 solos, the second highest unassisted-tackle total by a member of the defensive unit ... Also was the author of one interception — in the season finale vs. the Cowboys Dec. 24 — credited with 3 passes defended, recovered 3 fumbles to tie Tim Harris for team honors in this category and forced one fumble ... Twice registered 9 solo tackles in a game — a personal season best — vs. the Rams at Anaheim, CA., Sept. 24 and vs. the Kansas City Chiefs in Green Bay Dec. 10 ... Also a substantial contributor on special teams, he was involved in 11 tackles, including 8 solos, and made one fumble recovery ... Defensive Coordinator Hank Bullough says he is expecting even bigger things from Holland in 1990, pointing out, "Johnny's been a victim of circumstance in the two years I've been here. He has a lot of ability but he hasn't been 100 percent because of injuries or because of that holdout last year" ... Underwent arthroscopic surgery on his right shoulder in the off-season for removal of roughage in that area which had troubled him throughout the season ... The ex-Aggie, the Packers' second round draft selection in 1987, also had physical problems in 1988, sitting out three early season games with a high injury ... Tied for fourth place on defensive platoon in solo tackles with 69 while pacing all of his colleagues in assists with an imposing collection of 39 ... Also broke up 6 passes, forced 3 fumbles and recovered one ... Led all tacklers with 9 solos in season opener vs. Rams (Sept. 4) ... Later turned in virtuoso performance vs. defending Super Bowl champion Redskins (Oct. 23), recording 12 unassisted stops and breaking up a pass ... Turned in another highly productive afternoon vs. Bears (Nov. 27), collecting 9 tackles and 2 assists, and paced all tacklers vs. Detroit the following week with 10 solos ... Augmented these contributions by making 3 special teams tackles on the punt coverage unit ... A wide-ranging playmaker, Holland had been a runaway selection as Packer "Rookie of the Year" in 1987 ... Won starting role just prior to that season's opener with the Los Angeles Raiders, beating out veteran Randy Scott ... Immediately established himself, recording 10 solo tackles to lead the defensive charge in that inaugural ... Followed that performance with 6 solo stops in Game 2 vs. defending AFC champion Denver ... Closed out his baptismal season as the team's fourth-ranking tackler with 60 unassisted stops, including one QB sack, and 12 assists, intercepted 2 passes and broke up another ... Also was effective on special teams, registering 5 solo tackles on punt coverage.

COLLEGE: Led Texas A&M in tackles in both junior and senior seasons ... Nicknamed "Mr. Anywhere" because of his ability to be where the ball was ... Consensus All-America selection as a junior when he led Aggies with 150 tackles despite missing one game ... Began college career as a quarterback, later moved to defensive back, then to linebacker ... Business management major, with minor in economics.

PERSONAL: Given name Johnny Ray Holland ... Single ... Chosen all-district in both football and basketball at Hempstead, TX., High School ... Active in charitable and community causes in native Hempstead (March of Dimes, Council Against Alcoholism, Special Olympics and Pros for Kids) ... CORNERBACK • WEST VIRGINIA • 9TH YEAR

PRO: A shrewd veteran who has started for both the Jets and Lions, soft-spoken Jerry Holmes heightens the competition and depth at cornerback ... Signed as a Plan B free agent March 27, 1990, at which point Executive Vice President Tom Braatz described him as "a great insurance policy for us in the event one of our corners goes down or can't play" ... Impressed Packer secondary coach Dick Jauron with his coverage skills from the outset ... Started all 32 games for the Lions the past two seasons after starting for five years with the Jets and for two in the USFL ... Finished strong in 1989 to post a team-leading 6 interceptions, a production which matched his career high, registered on behalf of the Jets in 1986 when he finished fifth in the American Football Conference ... Had 23-yard interception return for touchdown vs. Packers on Nov. 12 ... Was credited with defending 15 other passes and made 61 solo tackles ... Also collected 8 assists and forced one fumble ... Had joined Lions as a free agent August 18, 1988 and become an instant starter ... Ended the season as the club's eighth-leading tackler with 60 stops (47 solos) ... Made an immediate impact in his first regular season game by returning an interception 32 yards to set up Detroit's first touchdown of the season in a 31-17 win over Atlanta ... He also had a season-high 8 tackles in that game ... Led Lion defensive backs in minutes played with 467 ... Played in only 8 games for the Jets in 1987, spending last 4 weeks of the season on injured reserve after suffering a broken rib ... Registered 29 tackles, one interception and one quarterback sack ... Had rejoined Jets in 1986 after spending 1984 and '85 seasons in the USFL, posting 70 tackles (62 solos) in addition to those 6 interceptions ... Earned all-league honors in both USFL seasons with different teams — Pittsburgh Maulers in '84 and the New Jersey Generals in '85 ... Joined Jets as a free agent in 1980 and appeared in 12 games ... Became a starter in 1981, making 13 starts and collecting 57 tackles (45 solos), with one interception ... Started all 9 games during strike-shortened 1982 season, forging 3 interceptions and 47 tackles (35 solos), and started all 16 games in 1983, closing out with 65 tackles (47 solos) and 3 intercepts ... Also returned a blocked field goal 57 yards for a TD against San Francisco ... Played in AFC championship game following '82 season.

COLLEGE: Spent two seasons at West Virginia after transferring from Chowan, N.C., Junior College ... Was named to the Associated Press All-East second team in '79 ... Has degree in personnel management.

PERSONAL: Given name Jerry Holmes ... Married (Patricia) ... Born in Newport News, VA ... Two-sport star (football and basketball) at Bethel High School in Hampton, VA ... Hometown and residence: Hampton, VA.

13 Chris Jacke

PLACEKICKER • UTEP • 2ND YEAR

HT: 6-0 • WT: 197 • BORN: 3/12/66 • (ACQ: D-6, '89)

PRO: Ranked the top placekicker in the draft a year ago by the Packer coaching staff, Chris Jacke easily lived up to his lofty rating in 1989 en route to solving major kicking problems which had seen four Green Bay specialists miss a total of 6 extra point tries and make only 13 of 25 field goal attempts in 1988 ... The confident and strong-legged rookie from UTEP, a sixth round selection, not only made 22 of the 28 field goals he attempted but all of his 42 conversion attempts and provided the Packers' winning margin in five of their 10 victories with his clutch kicks ... Jacke's most dramatic moment came on December 3 at Tampa, when he hit a 47-yarder on the final play of the game to give Green Bay a 17-16 come-from-behind victory ... His first decisive effort came on Sept. 17 when his late conversion shaded the Saints, 35-34, and his second on Oct. 1 when he connected from 22 yards with 1:42 remaining to propel the Packers past the Falcons at Milwaukee, 23-21 ... Three weeks later, the unflappable Jacke hit from 38 yards to seal a 23-20 overtime win over the Lions on the same County Stadium turf ... His other winning kicks came vs. the Bears (Nov. 5), his conversion providing a 14-13 margin, and a third time at Milwaukee (Nov. 26) when his PAT shaded the Vikings 20-19 ... Emerged as the team's leading scorer with 108 points, thus becoming the first Packer to score 100 points in a season since Jan Stenerud posted 115 in 1983 ... Also proved effective on kickoffs, providing excellent "hang time" and frequently kicking off into the end zone ... Tied a club single game record along the way, making 4 field goals against the Bears at Chicago Dec. 17 (19, 44, 23 and 24 yards) in a 40-28 victory ... His longest FG of the season, a 52-yarder vs. Atlanta Oct. 1, was only one yard short of the club record set by Stenerud in 1981 ... Sent 20 of his 51 kickoffs into the end zone, 11 of them resulting in touchbacks ... Pro Football Weekly, evaluating the muscular specialist's performance as a rookie, nominated him as "The Placekicker of the '90s" ... Special Teams Coordinator Howard Tippett, who expects continued high level contributions from the poised and dedicated young Texan in the years ahead, acknowledged, "Jacke had a great year for us. And, in the off-season, Chris continued to work out very intensely. He seems to want to be as good as he can be. He's making his home in Green Bay so he can work out here — so he's working on it. And if he continues to do what he's been doing, he can be as good as anybody in the league ... But it's as I always tell him — he's only as good as his last kick."

CORNERBACK • KENT STATE • 7TH YEAR

HT: 6-0 • WT: 189 • BORN: 5/10/61 • (ACQ: FA, '89)

PRO: A Plan B addition a year ago, the ex-New Orleans Saint proved to be a timely acquisition ... Stepped in for the injured Mark Lee to start first four games of the 1989 season at Lee's left cornerback station ... Made a major contribution to the Packers' dramatic, come-from-behind victory over Jakes' former teammates in Game Two (September 17), picking off a Bobby Hebert pass to end Saints' final, desperation bid as Green Bay prevailed 35-34, a success credited with triggering the Packers' drive to a 10-6 record, their best mark in 17 years ... Played in all 16 games and was involved in 20 tackles, 19 of them unassisted stops ... Also was credited with four passes defended in addition to the interception and was a productive special teams performer, registering 5 solo tackles and one assist ... Signed to a Green Bay contract March 1, 1989, he was rated the top cornerback among available free agents in last year's Plan B by Packer secondary coach Dick Jauron ... Started 25 games for the Saints over the 1987 and '88 seasons, following strike all but New Orleans' season finale in '88 ... Paced the Saints' secondary in unassisted tackles in '88 with 68 ... Also intercepted three passes and broke up 12 others ... The 29-year old Alabamian entered the NFL with Kansas City in 1983 ... After two years with the Chiefs, he joined Jacksonville of the USFL, for whom he played under Lindy Infante, then head coach of the Bulls ... He signed with the Saints in 1986, following the USFL's demise ... Played in 12 games that season, making two interceptions ... Stepped into starting role with New Orleans in Game Six of the 1987 season (Oct. 25) and finished the year as the starting right cornerback ... Forged three interceptions, defended 12 passes and finished third on the team tackle chart with 65, including 58 solo stops ... Recovered fumble in his first start vs. San Francisco and also blocked a punt in that game, returned by teammate Alvin Toles for a touchdown ... Saw considerable action in Saints' nickel situations in 1986.

COLLEGE: Played both safety and cornerback at Kent State ... Criminal justice major.

PERSONAL: Given name Van Keith Jakes ... Born in Phenix City, AL ... Married (Rhonda) and father of a daughter (Leigh Ashley, born 3/24/88) ... Organizer and operator of a youth football camp at Jacksonville, where he is employed by the Police Athletic League in the off-season ... Active in fund-raising efforts in behalf of Special Olympics, and March of Dimes golf tournaments ... Also works with "Operation Wayside," a youth organization ... Favorite diversions: Racquetball, golf and gardening ... Residence: Jacksonville, FL.

WIDE RECEIVER • McNEESE STATE • 3RD YEAR

HT: 5-10 • WT: 183 • BORN: 7/13/63 • (ACQ: FA, '90)

PRO: Former Buffalo Bill, a Plan B signee, adds experienced depth at one of the deepest positions on the roster ... Johnson, signed March 26, 1990, was a Bills starter for much of the 1989 season as Buffalo captured the American Football Conference's Eastern Division championship for the second year in a row ... Caught 25 passes (fourth on team) for 303 yards, a 12.1-yard average, and one touchdown before giving way to veteran James Lofton late in the year ... Jesse Kaye, the Packers' pro scout, says of Johnson, "We had him ranked among the top three wide receivers in Plan B. He was productive last year and he's still young" ... The 27-year-old McNeese State alumnus was contacted by more than 20 NFL clubs before signing with the Packers ... Originally signed as a free agent by Buffalo in 1987 ... Spent rookie season on injured reserve with a knee injury suffered during the pre-season but rebounded to make a solid contribution in 1988, handling most of the Bills' punt and kickoff return responsibilities and emerging as the team's 8th leading receiver with 9 catches ... Started the '88 season on IR with a hamstring injury but returned to action against the Jets in Game 7 and made his first pro catch in that nationally televised Monday night contest, a 66-yard touchdown reception from quarterback Jim Kelly, a pass that was tipped en route by the Jets' Carl Howard.

COLLEGE: A highly productive performer, he ranked 11th in the NCAA I-AA in all-purpose yardage as a senior with an average of 157.9 yards per game ... Caught 63 passes for 949 yards (a 15.1 average) and 7 TDs ... Also averaged 22.1 yards for 22 kickoff returns ... Worked at quarterback and tailback in college.

HT: 6-3 • WT: 237 • BORN: 1/24/64 • (ACQ: FA, '90)

PRO: Ex-Seattle Seahawk brings experienced depth to the competition for employment at outside linebacker ... A Plan B addition (he was signed to a Green Bay contract March 31, 1990), he played in 13 games and started 8 at weak side outside linebacker for the Seahawks in 1989 ... Capable of playing both outside positions, Defensive Coordinator Hank Bullough says of him, "The guy's got a little feel for the game" ... Was involved in 26 tackles last season and recovered two fumbles ... Also registered 6 tackles on special teams coverage units, one inside the 20-yard line ... Missed three games because of a fractured facial bone in the orbital (eye) area ... Appeared in all 16 games in 1988 and started one, making his first pro start against San Diego (Oct. 30) at left outside linebacker ... Credited with 8 tackles overall ... Played on special teams and had one tackle in the Seahawks' AFC Divisional Playoff Game against the Bengals at Cincinnati ... Played in eight games as a reserve linebacker and on special teams as a rookie in 1987 ... Was Seattle's ninth round draft selection in '87 (the 243rd player chosen).

COLLEGE: Three-year starter ... First team All-Western Athletic Conference selection as a senior ... 81 Perry Kemp

WIDE RECEIVER • CALIFORNIA (PA.) • 4TH YEAR

HT: 5-11½ • WT: 165 • BORN: 12/31/61 • (ACQ: FA, '88)

PRO: "There's one word for Perry Kemp — it's consistency," Packers receivers coach Buddy Geis says of the the studious, sure-handed Pennsylvanian. "He's very consistent — in how he runs the routes and in how he makes all the adjustments to the routes that need to be made. You always know he's going to be in the right place at the right time — you can always count on Perry Kemp" ... Kemp's statistics — he has caught 48 passes in each of his two seasons as a Packer — document his coach's appraisal ... Geis points out that knowledge of the Lindy Infante system also is a significant factor in Number 81's success, noting, "Perry probably knows more about the offense than anybody else, he's been in it so long (Kemp played under Infante at Jacksonville in the USFL for two years and at Cleveland in 1987 before joining the Packers in 1988). He takes great pride in it. He's a very intelligent guy, very seldom misses an assignment ... Another thing about him that you know — he makes catches in some very tough situations ... Perry, of course, has to stay on top of his game because he doesn't have that blazing speed, although he's faster than some people think" ... The rawboned wideout, who closed out the season as the Packers' No. 3 receiver, had his best days of 1989 against Dallas, making 6 catches against the Cowboys in both of the Packers' home-and-home meetings with the Pokes en route to accumulating 611 yards with his 48 receptions ... Had his biggest moment of the season at Chicago's Soldier Field Dec. 17, pulling in 27-yard scoring pass from quarterback Don Majkowski to help the Green and Gold post a 40-28 record and complete a season sweep of the Midway Monsters ... Played in 14 games and started 13, sitting out the 49er game (Nov. 19) and the Viking rematch (Nov. 26) because of knee and ankle injuries ... Joined the Packers as a free agent April 1, 1988 ... Battled his way through the pre-season and onto the final 47-man roster, then proceeded to prove so productive he was installed as a late season starter when an injury sidelined Phillip Epps ... Eventually emerged as the Packers' No. 2 receiver with 48 catches, finishing behind only No. 1 draft choice Sterling Sharpe, who had 55 ... Played in all 16 games and started 4 ... Three times led Packer receivers, including opening day when he caught 4 for 67 yards ... Closed out the season on an impressive upcurve, pacing Packer receivers in the last 2 games of the year — vs. the Vikings in Green Bay Dec. 11 (6 catches for 108 yards) and vs. Cardinals at Phoenix Dec. 18 (6 catches for 58 yards) ... Originally selected in the 11th round of the 1984 USFL draft by Jacksonville Bulls, for whom he played in both 1984 and '85 ... Released Aug. 26, 1986 when the USFL floundered, he subsequently had a tryout with the Cowboys before being waived ... Had two tours of duty with Cleveland in 1987, first signing with the Browns in April and being released in August, then re-signing Sept. 30 before being released a second time Nov. 4, 1987 after playing in all three of Cleveland's replacement games ... Caught 12 passes for 224 yards and 2 TDs during his Cleveland tenure.

COLLEGE: Earned All-ECAC "Player of the Year" honors as a senior ... Also named to AP Division II and Kodak Division II first team All-America.

PERSONAL: Given name Commodore Perry Kemp ... Single ... Born in Westland, PA. ... Attended Fort Cherry High School in McDonald, PA. ... 10 Blair Kiel

QUARTERBACK • NOTRE DAME • 6TH YEAR

HT: 6-0 • WT: 203 • BORN: 11/29/61 • (ACQ: FA, '89)

PRO: The strong-armed Notre Dame alumnus is one of the reasons Head Coach Lindy Infante expressed confidence in the depth and quality at the quarterback position heading into the 1990 season ... "If we are no different than we were last year with the three guys that were here (Kiel backing up Don Majkowski and Anthony Dilweg)," Infante said in assessing the situation, "then I think that's fine. We can work with that" ... Although Kiel did not see game action in 1989, the Columbus, IN., native again was a valuable practice field role player, operating as a scout team quarterback while absorbing the Packer game plan each week and keeping himself ready for a summons to active duty that could come at any time ... A highly intelligent athlete, he has an impressive grasp of Infante's sophisticated offense, reads defenses with facility and is blessed with excellent arm strength ... He also has exhibited good leadership qualities ... Was active for one game in 1988 but did not throw a pass from the line of scrimmage ... Made two appearances in pre-season action, completing 9 of 24 pass attempts for 125 yards and one touchdown — the latter a 15-yard strike to Patrick Collins against Indianapolis at the Hoosier Dome — with no interceptions ... A former Buccaneer and Colt, he joined Packers May 6, 1988 when he signed on as a free agent ... Had played in four games for the Colts in 1987, completing 17 of 30 passes for 195 yards, with 3 interceptions ... Later was waived by Indianapolis November 24, 1987 ... Originally was an eleventh round draft selection of Tampa Bay in 1984 ... Active for 10 games as a placement holder as a rookie, he was placed on injured reserve/non-football illness list for final five games because of colitis ... Later was waived by the Bucs (upon his request) on September 10, 1985 ... Out of football that season, he joined Colts as a free agent March 3, 1986 ... Saw action in three games in '86, completing 11 of 25 passes for 236 yards and 2 touchdowns overall ... Filled in for injured Jack Trudeau at Houston (November 20) and completed seven of 15 passes for 146 yards and 2 TDs — the first scoring throws of his pro career ... Also took over for injured punter Rohn Stark vs. Jets and punted five times for a 38.0-yard average.

COLLEGE: Started most games during his four varsity seasons at Notre Dame ... Fell only eight completions short of Terry Hanratty's school career record, completing 297 of 609 passes for 3,650 yards and 17 touchdowns ... Was first freshman QB starter at Notre Dame since Ralph Guglielmi (1951) ... Served as four-year punter, closing out career with school record 259 punts for a 40.7-yard average ... Played in Sugar Bowl (1980) ... Marketing major.

PERSONAL: Given name Blair Armstrong Kiel ... Married (Melissa) and the father of two children (daughter Brittany, born 12/27/87, and son Brandon, born 10/4/89) ... Attended Columbus, IN., High School ... Completed 291 of 592 passes for 3,214 yards and 39 TDs, while rushing for 763 yards and 15 TDs during prep career ... Also punted for a 38.4-yard average and made 94 of 110 extra point attempts as a placekicker ... Led his team to the state championship as a senior with a perfect 13-0 record ... Lettered three times in football and basketball and twice in baseball, captaining all three teams as a senior ... Favorite sports and pastimes: Golf, tennis, softball, drawing ... 22 Mark Lee

CORNERBACK • WASHINGTON • 11TH YEAR

HT: 6-0½ • WT: 195 • BORN: 3/20/58 • (ACQ: D-2, '80)

PRO: Labeled "the finest bump-and-run corner in the league" by his position coach, Dick Jauron, Mark Lee is in his tenth year as the Packers' resident cornerback — impressive longevity at the most visible and vulnerable position on an NFL defense ... "Mark brings a lot of experience as well as a lot of ability to that starting position," Jauron says of the sinewy Californian, adding, "He gives us a lot of confidence ... because he can cover any receiver in the league one-on-one ... Mark also has tremendous physical toughness. He not only can play against the pass but he can go out there and really put the wood to people in the running game" ... Although hampered by injury in 1989, when he missed the first four games of the regular season because of a pre-season knee problem, he registered two interceptions (vs. Buccaneers at Tampa Dec. 3 and vs. Bears at Chicago Dec. 17), padding his career total to 30, which ranks seventh on the National Football Conference's active list going into the 1990 season ... Was involved in 33 tackles (28 solos) and credited with seven passes defended while making 10 starts and appearing in 12 games ... The 32-year-old Californian, the Packers' second round draft selection in 1980 out of the University of Washington, has broken up more passes over the past nine seasons — 89 in all — than any other Green Bay defender ... Blunted nine enemy passes in 1988 to lead the Packers' defensive platoon for the sixth time in an eight-season span ... Also weighed in with three interceptions ... Had perhaps his best day of the '88 season against the then defending Super Bowl champion Redskins (Oct. 23), knocking down two passes, making four solo tackles and not permitting Washington's talented receivers a big play all afternoon ... Closed out the season with 58 solo tackles and 7 assists, forcing 3 fumbles and recovering 2 in the process ... A tough and resilient athlete, he broke a hand in final pre-season game of 1987 against Cleveland but still managed to break up two Raider passes in regular season opener a week later ... Had the best statistical year of his career in 1986, forging nine interceptions, only one fewer than league-leader Ronnie Lott of San Francisco, and also just one theft short of the Packer single season record of 10, set by Irv Comp in 1943 ... Those nine interceptions remain the most in a single season by a Packer cornerback since 1978, when Willie Buchanon had the same number ... Lee, who customarily covers the opponents' best receiver, made two of those steals against the arch rival Bears at Chicago (Nov. 23 of '86) ... Also broke up two other passes on that occasion and recovered a fumble ... Registered 47 solo tackles over the strike-shortened, 12-game season, along with 14 assists ... Led Green Bay defenses in passes broken up for five consecutive seasons — 1981 through 1985 ... Had a career-high 17 passes defended in 1981 while sharing team interception honors with six ... Again claimed the honor in 1982, a strike-abbreviated nine-game season, with 8 and in 1983, with 7, then shared laurels with Mark Murphy in 1984, each being credited with 15 ... Recaptured sole honors in 1985 with 7 ... Has been a starter at left cornerback since the opening game of the '81 season, he triggered a major opportunity for the Packers in the fourth quarter of their second and final Super Bowl Tournament game vs. Dallas (Jan. 16, 1983), intercepting a Danny White pass and returning it 22 yards for a touchdown which temporarily trimmed the Cowboys' lead to 30-26 (Dallas subsequently won, 37-26) ... Was Packers' leading punt returner in '81, running one back 94 yards for a TD against Giants at Milwaukee (Nov. 8) — longest punt return in the NFL that year, which remains the second longest in Green Bay's NFL history ... Has not been employed on kick returns since 1984 ... Underwent surgery in March of 1985 to correct a disc problem ... Has excellent (4.4) speed in '40' ... Handicapped in rookie season by hamstring injury suffered on opening day of training camp.

COLLEGE: UPI second team All-America selection as a senior ... Ran back three punts for touchdowns in same season for Washington's Huskies.

PERSONAL: Given name Mark Anthony Lee ... One of 13 children, he has seven brothers and five sisters ... Married (Lorrie) and father of two (Monique, born 10/15/85, and Mark Anthony, born 3/3/87) ... Graduate of Hanford, CA., High School (also the alma mater of Packer safety Chuck Cecil) ... Devout Western movie buff, he favors John Wayne and Clint Eastwood films ... "I don't like to go too far back — any further than John Wayne," he says. "If I do, I'm dealing with Roy Rogers and those guys, and they were in fast motion (on film), so you really don't get a true picture of the way western days were" ... Is part-owner of the Berkeley, CA., Academy for Delinquent Girls, which is operated by his brother, Dr. Charles Blakeney and Blakeney's wife, Ronnie ... Hometown: Hanford, CA. ... Residence: Bellevue, WA.

7 Don Majkowski

QUARTERBACK • VIRGINIA • 4TH YEAR

HT: 6-2½ • WT: 208 • BORN: 2/25/64 • (ACQ: D-10, '87)

PRO: Highly mobile, impressively athletic and intensely competitive, Don Majkowski made major artistic strides in 1989 when he won the starting job at quarterback over veteran Randy Wright late in the pre-season and went on to lead the National Football League in passing yardage, as well as attempts and completions ... Emerged as the NFL's eighth-rated passer with a quarterback ranking of 82.3 points, based on 353 completions in 599 attempts for 4,318 yards and 27 touchdowns, with 20 interceptions ... Also ranked third in the NFL in touchdown passes behind Rams' Jim Everett (29) and Bengals' Boomer Esiason (28) ... Elected by his fellow players and opposing coaches to back up Joe Montana at quarterback on the National Football Conference's Pro Bowl squad, Majkowski became the first Green Bay quarterback to be named to the Pro Bowl since Bart Starr was chosen in 1966 (he later withdrew from the squad for "personal reasons" and did not play in the NFL's season-ending showcase) ... Won many post-season honors, including second-team AP All-Pro, second-team UPI All-NFC and one of six finalists for Miller Lite NFL Player of the Year ... Finished second to Montana in voting for AP NFL MVP ... A fan favorite because of his daring, leadership qualities and running skills, he set club season records for most passing attempts (599), completions (353), most 300-yard games (6) and most consecutive games throwing TD passes (13) ... Also established one single game record with 59 passing attempts (vs. Detroit Nov. 12) and tied another — for most consecutive completions (18) vs. New Orleans Sept. 17 ... Was only second 4,000-yard passer in team history (Lynn Dickey, with 4,458 yards in 1983, is other) ... Became known, in the process, as the "Majik Man" for spearheading a series of stirring comebacks which produced five come-from-behind wins, including a league record four one-point victories ... By season's end he had moved past Wright into fourth place on the Packer's lifetime passing list with 7,312 yards and now ranks behind only Bart Starr (23,718), Lynn Dickey (21,369) and Tobin Rote (11,535) in career yardage ... Starting all 16 games for the first time in his 3-year pro career (he had made 5 starts as a rookie in '87 and nine in 1988), Majkowski complemented his passing exploits by finishing as the Packers' No. 2 rusher with 358 yards in 75 attempts, a 4.8 average, and tying team leader Brent Fullwood in rushing touchdowns with 5 ... Ranked No. 20 in the NFC in rushing and second only to the Eagles' Randall Cunningham among quarterbacks in the NFL as a whole ... Coach Lindy Infante, assessing Majkowski's '89 performance and his progress as a quarterback, says of him, "If Don can make the next step in his development and play even better than he did in '89, and play more sound, throw fewer interceptions and be more instinctive at times — if he can show that he can make that next step — then I'll feel comfortable because he's a young quarterback ... I think it's reasonable for us to expect that he should be better ... Whether or not he actually is will only be answered when the season's over. But there's certainly many areas we can all get better at. And there are certain areas that he can mature in, and I would hope that Don would actually be a better player in 1990 than he was in '89. He made some big plays for us in '89, but there certainly were enough mistakes and things that he did that weren't exactly precise that maybe could have been done a little better" ... Majkowski, who last season doubled his 1988 yardage production as a passer, posted his most successful aerial efforts against Detroit, passing for a career-high 367 yards in a 23-20 overtime triumph over the Lions at Milwaukee Oct. 29 (29 completions in 45 attempts) and for 357 yards (a career-best 34 completions in a club record 59 attempts) in 31-22 loss at the Pontiac, MI., Silverdome 2 weeks later (Nov. 12) ... Forged his first 300-yard performance of the season in rallying the Packers from a 24-7 halftime deficit to a 35-34 victory over the Saints in Green Bay Sept. 17, completing 25 of 32 attempts for 354 yards and 3 TDs, and posting a personal career-high single game passing percentage of 78.1 ... Followed that effort with a 335-yard day in an explosive, 41-38 shootout with the Rams the next week, hitting on 25 of 43 attempts in the losing cause ... His other 300-yard productions came vs. the Cowboys Oct. 8 (21 of 32 for 313 yards) and vs. the Tampa Bay Buccaneers (25 of 53 for 331 yards) in an electrifying last play victory at Tampa Dec. 3, Chris Jacke's 47-yard field goal providing a 17-16 victory as time expired ... Now has eight 300-yard games to his credit in 3 NFL seasons ... Perhaps his best known play of 1989 was 14-yard "instant replay" TD pass to Sterling Sharpe on a fourth-and-goal situation with 32 seconds remaining, giving the Packers a 14-13 win over Chicago (Nov. 5) ... A willing and elusive runner, he registered his most productive rushing day of the '89 season vs. the Bears at Chicago in Game 15, gaining 59 yards in just 6 carries, an average of just under 10 yards per attempt, and scoring 2 TDs ... The first score came on a 17-yard sweep of his own right end in the second quarter, the second on a one-yard swing into the right corner of the end zone to seal a 40-28 conquest of the Midway Monsters ... Earlier, Majkowski also registered 2 TDs vs. the 49ers Nov. 19 to play a major role in a 21-17 upset of the reigning Super Bowl champions — the last defeat they were to suffer prior to winning SB XXIV at New Orleans ... Shrugging off rib and knee injuries in the process, he staked the Packers to an early 6-0 lead with a 2-yard bootleg right in the first quarter, then scored what proved to be the winning TD on a deftly executed, 8-yard quarterback draw early in the fourth period, later being accorded national player of the week honors for his efforts ... The 26-year-old University of Virginia alumnus, a tenth round draft choice in 1987, earlier had scored his first rushing TD of the season vs. the Rams, scoring on an 8-yard run in the first quarter (Sept. 24) ... A fierce competitor, Majkowski also made 5 miscellaneous tackles during the course of the season — 4 registered in chagrin after throwing interceptions, the other a stop of Lions linebacker Chris Spielman, who made a 12-yard run after recovering a Michael Haddix fumble ... One of the most accomplished athletes ever to wear a Green Bay uniform, he started in 9 games overall in 1988 — the Packers' first year under Lindy Infante — including three of their four victories ... Also played entire second half of the Packers' other success, vs. Vikings, Dec. 11, in relief of starter Randy Wright, who had suffered a recurrence of a groin injury late in the first half ... Earlier had taken over as starter in Game Six following Wright's original injury and escorted the Packers to a 45-3 thumping of the Patriots at Milwaukee, which represented Green Bay's largest victory margin in 20 years ... Followed that effort by leading the Green and Gold to a 34-14 triumph over the Vikings the next week ... Made 8 consecutive starts before giving way to Wright in Game 14 (vs. Detroit Dec. 4) in the wake of a shoulder injury vs. the Bears ... Compiled best statistical performance of the season along the way, hitting on 30 of 43 attempts for 69.8 percentage and 327 yards — the second 300-yard day of his 2-year pro career — vs. Lions at Milwaukee Nov. 20 ... After sitting out vs. Lions (Dec. 4), he returned for second half of the second Viking game and added a third quarter TD (on 11-yard pass to Patrick Scott) for a 10-3 halftime lead as the Packers scored an 18-6 victory to complete a season sweep of Minnesota ... Supplemented his efforts as a field general and passer by emerging as the Packers' No. 2 rusher for the first time with 225 yards in 47 attempts — including a number of QB draws and rollouts as well as impromptu scrambles — for an impressive 4.8-yard average ... His efforts included the first rushing TD of his NFL career, on a 2-yard run vs. the Vikings (Oct. 16) ... Earlier was involved in the Packers' longest play from scrimmage of the season — a 56-yard pass-run collaboration with Walter Stanley vs. the Buccaneers at Tampa Oct. 2, a maneuver that almost pulled out a come-from-behind victory ... Started 5 games as a rookie in '87, vs. the Broncos in Game 2 Sept. 20, vs. the Lions Oct. 25, vs. the Buccaneers Nov. 1, vs. the Chiefs Nov. 22 and vs. the Saints in the season finale Dec. 27 ... Had best day of season vs. Lions in that Oct. 25 contest, escorting the Packers to 31 first half points, then rallying them for a game-winning field goal in the fourth quarter (34-33) after they had fallen behind 33-31 ... Passed for 323 yards overall (19 completions in 29 attempts) to become the first rookie quarterback in Packer history to throw for more than 300 yards in a game ... Earlier had played a surprisingly strong game vs. Denver's defending American Football Conference champions in his first pro start (Sept. 20 at Milwaukee), exhibiting impressive composure in leading Green Bay to a 17-17 overtime tie with the Broncos, quarterbacked by the redoubtable John Elway ... Closed out season with an electrifying performance vs. then playoff-bound

Saints in the boisterous New Orleans Superdome, firing a pair of early TD passes to Walter Stanley and emerging as the team's leading rusher with 54 yards in 4 attempts ... Completed 14 of 29 passes for 219 yards and 3 TDs, with one intercept ... Also impressed teammates and New Orleanians by making thunderous tackle of Pat Swilling following that lone intercept by the Saint linebacker in the third quarter.

COLLEGE: Graduated as University of Virginia's all-time passing (3,901 yards) and total offense (4,632 yards) leader ... Was Cavaliers' starting quarterback for 2½ years, taking over midway through sophomore season in 1984 ... Sports management major.

Tony Mandarich

OFFENSIVE TACKLE • MICHIGAN ST. • 2ND YEAR

HT: 6-5 • WT: 305 • BORN: 9/23/66 • (ACQ: D-1, '89)

PRO: The most publicized player to come out of the nation's college ranks in 1989, when he was rated the top offensive lineman to enter the National Football League since Anthony Munoz joined the Cincinnati Bengals in 1980, the monolithic Michigan State alumnus is expected to become a factor in the Packer offensive line this season. "I feel confident that Tony will make the next step," Head Coach Lindy Infante says of Mandarich, Green Bay's first round selection and the second player chosen in the '89 draft. "There'll be no excuses this time around. Not that he made any — he never did. But I mean there'll be no reason why he shouldn't ... He's been living here (Green Bay) in the off-season, working out with our offensive linemen and with (offensive line coach) Charlie Davis ... and the expectation is that he would develop into a starting player for us this coming season — and be that for a long time to come" ... Mandarich, who played sparingly in 14 games after holding out and missing training camp as a rookie, has expressed similar expectations of himself ... Confident he is on track to becoming a starter, he says, "I understand the offense 10 times better than I did at the end of last December. Now I know who protects who on what side and which way the backs are blocking" ... He also acknowledges, "There's more pressure this year than there was last year because last year I came in here late and took a long time to learn the offense. There are no more excuses now — not that I made any excuses last year ... It's time to play" ... Davis, his position coach, sees a 50 to 60 percent improvement over last year in the way Mandarich handles his assignments, noting both his understanding of the offense and his technical execution are much improved ... The massive ex-Spartan sat out the first two regular season games last season, then appeared in each of the last 14, making his NFL debut against the Los Angeles Rams in Game 3 at Anaheim, CA., Sept. 24 ... Impressed Packer veterans from the outset with his display of physical strength on the practice field ... Able to bench press 545 pounds and run the '40' in 4.65 seconds, he awed pro scouts with his pre-draft workout for them on the Michigan State campus at East Lansing, in which he engineered a 30-inch vertical jump and a 10-foot, 3-inch standing broad jump.

COLLEGE: A unanimous All-America first team and All-Big Ten selection as a senior, he was named 'College Lineman of the Year' by the Washington, D.C., and Columbus, Ohio, Touchdown Clubs ... Paced a strong Michigan State running game which averaged 246 yards per game with him in the lineup and had at least 10 knockdown blocks in eight of nine games he played, including a season high 17 against Purdue ... Moved into the starting lineup as a sophomore in 1986 and was named College & Pro Football Newsweekly and Football News first team All-America as a junior, also earning Big Ten Conference Lineman of the Year honors after registering at least 15 knockdown blocks in five games ... Telecommunications major.

PERSONAL: Given name Ante Josip (Tony Joseph) Mandarich ... Born in Oakville, Ontario, Canada ... Single, but is engaged to Amberlynn Ligon of Traverse City, MI, whom he plans to wed in 1991 ... Now a home owner in Pulaski, WI., a community located 16 miles northwest of Green Bay, where he resides ... Moved to the United States as a senior in high school and won all-metro honors at offensive guard for Kent, Ohio, Roosevelt High School while living with his older brother John, who played for Kent State ... Brother John now plays nose tackle for Ottawa in the Canadian Football League.

PRO STATISTICS: Games/Starts — 1989 (14/0).

98 Shawn Miller

DEFENSIVE LINEMAN • UTAH STATE • 7TH YEAR

HT: 6-4 • WT: 275 • BORN: 3/14/61 • (ACQ: FA, '90)

PRO: Previously a four-year starter for the Rams, this versatile Plan B addition is counted upon by Defensive Line Coach Greg Blache to challenge for starting status at both nose tackle and defensive end ... Known as a tough and tenacious performer, he signed with the Packers March 30, 1990 ... Appeared in all 16 games and started 11 in 1989 ... Also started all three of the Rams' playoff games — against the Eagles, Giants and 49ers — following the '89 season ... Registered 26 solo tackles and 11 assists, including one quarterback sack ... Also collected one interception and was credited with four passes defended ... Later posted five unassisted tackles during the Rams' three post-season appearances ... Became a starter in 1986, when he forged the best season of his pro career statistically ... Involved in 50 tackles overall, including 39 solos, he punctuated his production with five sacks for 29.5 yards in losses while starting all 16 games ... Shawn subsequently was credited with five solo tackles in the Rams' wild card game at Washington ... Played right tackle in the Rams' nickel defense ... Miller also started all 16 games in 1988, when he posted 37 tackles (29 solo, including 4 sacks) ... Played in only six games in 1987 when he was hampered by an ankle injury but managed to collect a career-high six sacks in the six games he started ... Three of those sacks (a career single game high) came against Atlanta October 18 of that '87 season ... Saw action in eight games his rookie, 1984 season, when most of his playing time came on special teams ... Missed the last six games of the season because of a shoulder injury suffered at St. Louis Nov. 4 ... Started three games in 1985, finishing the year with 35 tackles (26 solos, including 5 sacks for 39 yards) ... Signed as free agent April 23, 1984.

COLLEGE: Named Defensive Player of the Year in the Big West (formerly the Pacific Coast Athletic Association) in his senior year at Utah State ... Also was named the Aggies' Most Valuable Player ... Led team in sacks for three consecutive years ... Earned a degree in speech communication.

PERSONAL: Given name Shawn V. Miller ... Nickname: "Dirt" ... Married (Rainey) ... Born in Ogden, Utah, where he attended Weber High School ... Lettered in football, basketball and track ... Owns and operates S & R, Inc., a marketing company, in Salt Lake City ... Ardent outdoorsman, he enjoys snowmobiling, boating, hunting and fishing ... Residence: Ogden, Utah.

57 Rich Moran

OFFENSIVE GUARD • SAN DIEGO ST. • 6TH YEARHT: 6-2½ • WT: 283 • BORN: 3/19/62 • (ACQ: D-3, '85)

PRO: A certified workaholic, the tenacious Californian turned in the finest season of his five-year pro career in 1989 while further entrenching himself at left guard in the offensive line ... Committed to optimum effort —whether it be in the projection room, on the practice field or in a game —Moran was a consistently high level performer while starting all 16 games ... His season-long performance subsequently earned him selection to NEA's all-pro team ... Offensive Line Coach Charlie is an open admirer of the work habits which brought Moran recognition ... Noting that the deep-chested San Diego State alumnus had had "a great year," he says of him, "Rich studies the opponents more than any other player we have. He has the need to have everything completely set before he gets into a game. When he gets into the game, he can let himself go — he just lets it go. He doesn't have to involve himself in a lot of thinking during the game, so he works tremendously hard during the game ... He really studies tremendously hard — almost to the point where he's a pain in the butt because he asks so many questions" ... Further itemizing Moran's assets, Davis said, "Rich runs well — he's a good trap and pullblocker ... he pulls well" ... Has started 44 consecutive games at left guard, dating back to the opening game of the 1987 season ... Actually was installed as the starter in Week 8 of his rookie, 1985 season but was felled by a knee injury in the 1986 opener against Houston and sat out all but the last four games of the year before reclaiming starting status in 1987's inaugural against the Raiders ... Appeared in all 16 games as a rookie, playing on special teams' field goal and PAT-block units ... Blocked one field goal attempt in the latter role, deflecting a 44-yard attempt by Colts' Raul Allegre at Indianapolis (Oct. 27, 1985) ... Was installed as starter at LG for the last nine games of the season following loss of Keith Uecker via knee surgery ... Suffered knee injury himself on the Packers' very first offensive play of the year the following season (vs. Oilers Sept. 7, 1986), returning to active roster for Thanksgiving Day game against Detroit (Nov. 27) ... One of Packers' strongest athletes, he bench presses 425 pounds ... Was team's third round pick (second selection overall because the Packers had dealt their No. 2 choice to Buffalo in the trade for the draft rights to Ken Ruttgers) in 1985 draft ... Seventy-first player chosen.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter at San Diego State ... Recruited as a linebacker, he played offensive guard as a freshman in 1980, center in '81 and tackle in 1982 because of a pinched nerve in the neck ... Business administration (real estate emphasis) graduate.

PERSONAL: Given name Richard James Moran ... Born in Moscow, Idaho ... Married (Lisa) and father of a daughter, Ashley Marie, born 8/31/86 ... Played five football positions at Foothill High School in Pleasanton, CA, also lettered in wrestling ... Son of Jim Moran, who played offensive tackle for the New York Giants (1964-69), and Eleanor Moran, mother of five ... Brother, Eric, an offensive guard/tackle, played for

Los Angeles Express and Houston Oilers from 1983 through 1986 ... Favorite sports and hobbies: Bodysurfing, boating, reading, computers ... Volunteer on football clinic staff at Juvenile Hall in off-seasons ... Also has coached third and fourth grade boys basketball with Tory Nixon of the 49ers ... Residence: Carlsbad, CA.

PRO STATISTICS: Games/Starts — 1985 (16/9); 1986 (5/1); 1987 (12/12); 1988 (16/16); 1989 (16/16). Career totals: 65/54.

37 Mark Murphy

STRONG SAFETY • WEST LIBERTY ST. • 9TH YEAR

HT: 6-2 • WT: 203 • BORN: 4/22/58 • (ACQ: FA, '80)

PRO: A hustling model of consistency, Marky Murphy forged another outstanding season in 1989, pacing the Packer defense in unassisted tackles for the second year in a row ... Registered 87 solo stops and was involved in 128 tackles overall, the latter the second highest total on the defensive unit ... Also posted 3 interceptions to tie for runnerup honors in this important department and was credited with 9 passes defended, a figure second only to that of team leader Dave Brown, who had 16 ... In addition, the 32-year-old Ohioan recorded one quarterback sack, forced one fumble and recovered one ... Playing in and starting all 16 games, he augmented these contributions by collecting 6 solo tackles on special teams coverage ... One of Murphy's 3 intercepts triggered the Packers' 23-20 overtime victory over the Detroit Lions at Milwaukee Oct. 29 ... With the score deadlocked at 20-all, it gave the Packers possession at the Lions' 26-yard line on the first play of the sudden death period and 4 plays later, Chris Jacke's 38-yard field goal settled the issue ... The tireless West Liberty State alumnus later made one of the biggest plays of a season filled with big plays in the closing minutes of the Packers' 21-17 upset of the defending Super Bowl champion 49ers ... Making a desperate, well-timed lunge, he knocked away a fourth down Joe Montana pass intended for Jerry Rice which would have given San Francisco a first down inside the Green Bay 20-yard line with better than 2 minutes remaining in the game ... Earlier in the same contest, Murphy had sacked Montana for an 8-yard loss, forcing a fumble recovered by teammate Bob Nelson at the 49er 44-yard line ... Statistically, Murphy had his best day of the season vs. Atlanta Oct. 1, registering 12 solo tackles, with 2 assists, and breaking up one pass ... Head Coach Lindy Infante, a great admirer of the work ethic, is one of the veteran strong safety's biggest fans ... "You'd like to have 47 Mark Murphys and you could go out there and line up and you could play anybody," Infante says of him. "You'd like to clone him. He's maybe not the most gifted of all the safeties in the league but I doubt there are any who are more professional about what they do. He's a leader. When you put Mark Murphy on the field, you don't worry about that position" ... Paced defense in three major categories in 1988 — unassisted tackles (86), interceptions (5) and fumble recoveries (4) ... Also broke up 9 passes, forced a fumble and posted 3 solo tackles and 2 assists on the Packers' punt coverage unit ... The 5 interceptions represented a personal single season high for Murphy, whose best previous production had been 3 in 1981 ... Reclaimed starting job at strong safety in impactful fashion in 1987 after sitting out the 1986 season with a stress fracture of the left foot ... Started all 12 non-strike games and finished as the leading tackler in the secondary (No. 3 on the defense overall) with 63 solos, his total including 2 QB sacks ... Also made 3 unassisted tackles on special teams ... An outstanding example of productivity throughout his career, Murphy first paced the Packer defense in unassisted tackles in 1984 with 94, after stepping in at strong safety following an injury to Johnnie Gray ... Also shared team lead with Mark Lee in knocking down opponent passes with 15 ... Was involved in 102 tackles overall in 1985, making 58 solo stops and adding 44 assists ... Registered 2 interceptions in the process, returning one of them 50 yards for a touchdown vs. Vikings at Minneapolis Metrodome (Nov. 10) to seal a 27-17 Packer come-from-behind victory and record his first pro TD ... Earlier had been a highly effective performer in 1983 after being installed as a starter in Game 5 following the departure of Maurice Harvey and transfer of Gray to free safety ... Likewise made impact as a special teamer, posting 11 solo tackles ... Forged key interception in playoff game vs. St. Louis following '82 season, returning it 22 yards to Cardinal 12-yard line to set up Packers' fourth TD in a 41-16 victory ... Voted Packer "Rookie of the Year" by Wisconsin sports media in 1981 after injury to Gray thrust him into a starting role in Game 10 ... Made 3 interceptions thereafter in 7 starts, 2 of those thefts contributing directly to Green Bay victories over Giants and Bears ... First interception came in first pro start (vs. Giants Nov. 8, 1981) ... Spent all but one game of rookie (1980) season on injured reserve after suffering broken hand in preseason (Hall of Fame) game vs. San Diego at Canton, OH., which happens to be Murphy's home town ... Activated for regular season finale that year vs. Detroit.

COLLEGE: Football co-captain and starter at strong safety at West Liberty State ... Has B. S. degree in business administration.

PERSONAL: Given name Mark Steven Murphy ... Nickname: "Murf" ... Married (Pamela) and father of three daughters — Kellyn, born 9/18/85, Kaitlyn, born 11/21/86 and Kara, born 9/6/88 ... Attended Canton, OH., Glen Oaks High School ... Active volunteer as member of Packer 65 Roses Club (cystic fibrosis) and in behalf of Special Olympics and American Heart Association as well as a counselor to those who have alopecia areata ... Voted Packer NFL "Man of the Year" in 1988 for his many contributions to the community ... Subsequently assigned the $1,000 check which accompanies the award to the Packer 65 Roses Club ... Hobbies: Hat collecting, hunting, fishing, golf, snorkeling ... Has a collection of more than 300 caps ... Residence: Canton, OH.

79 Bob Nelson

NOSE TACKLE • MIAMI (FLA.) • 4TH YEAR

HT: 6-4 • WT: 275 • BORN: 3/3/59 • (ACQ: FA, '88)

PRO: A starter in six of 1988's last seven games, the broad-beamed Miamian became the Packers' resident nose tackle last season, starting all 16 games ... Led defensive line in unassisted tackles for the second year in a row, registering 50 solo stops ... Also paced the front three in total tackles with 70, his production including one quarterback sack ... Also forced one fumble and recovered one ... Had biggest day of season in 20-19 victory over the Vikings at Milwaukee Nov. 26, posting six unassisted tackles ... "Being the leader in tackles is just effort, really unassisted tackles ... "Being the leader in tackles is just effort, really," Nelson says of his accomplishment. "It's just the desire to win — that's all that it is" ... Defensive Line Coach Greg Blache, an admirer of Number 79's approach and work ethic, says of him, "He has a great attitude and he's a hard worker — you always know you're going to get a day's work for a day's pay" ... Blache also notes that the former Buccaneer is well-suited to the Packers' defensive system. "It's hard to compare (nose tackles) but he fills our need. He's able to two-gap, able to hold the middle. I think he fits what we need him to do, so he fits our system ... And he's a tough guy. He plays intense — he plays hard. And Bob is a very aware nose tackle. What sets him apart is his awareness. If they try to fool him, he's got a sense about it — he's tough to fool" ... Collected 41 solo tackles in emerging as the DL's statistical leader in 1988, when he appeared in 14 games overall and started 7 ... Also deflected three passes and forced two fumbles ... Had his best day of the season against the Lions at the Pontiac, MI., Silverdome December 4, making six solo tackles ... Originally signed with the Packers April 25, 1988 and was released August 29 in the final cutdown for the regular season ... Later was re-signed Sept. 13 after incumbent nose tackle Jerry Boyarsky suffered a broken arm vs. Tampa Bay Sept. 11 and was lost for the year ... Was drafted in the fifth round by the Miami Dolphins (120th player chosen) coming out of the University of Miami in 1982 ... Released just prior to the regular season, he joined the Chicago Blitz of the USFL and later was traded to the Arizona Wranglers in January of 1983 ... Dealt to the Oklahoma Outlaws in January of 1984, he then moved to Jacksonville, where he played for Lindy Infante in 1984-85 ... Played for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers in 1986 and was released during 1987's training camp ... His next stop, in 1988, was Green Bay, where he hopes he has found a home.

COLLEGE: Four-year starter at Univ. of Miami (FL) ... Recruited as a tight end out of high school but was moved to defense upon arrival at UM ... Physical education major.

PERSONAL: Given name Robert William Nelson ... Married (Darlene) and father of two sons — Chad, born 3/29/83, and Eric, born 12/14/87 ... Attended Baltimore, MD., Patapsco High School and won all-county honors in both football (tight end) and baseball ... Pitched against (and defeated) Mike Bielecki, now a mainstay of the Chicago Cubs' pitching staff, in the latter sport ... Owner of business in Miami (All-Pro Tree Service & Landscaping) ... Works on behalf of the University of Miami Scholarship Fund Golf Tournament and Outreach Helping Kids Fishing Tournament ... Favorite hobbies: Fishing, hunting and scuba diving ... Residence: Miami, FL.

91 Brian Noble

LINEBACKER • ARIZONA STATE • 6TH YEAR

HT: 6-4 • WT: 243 • BORN: 9/6/62 • (ACQ: D-5, '85)

PRO: An impact player and an invariably productive performer since donning Green Bay's green and gold in 1985, Brian Noble took on another dimension as a major team leader last season — both on and off the field ... Shedding 15 pounds in the off-season to gain greater mobility, he proceeded to fashion the best year of his 5-year pro career ... During the course of it, he also formally became a team leader when elected the Packers' player representative by his teammates early in October, replacing center Mark Cannon, who had been released ... On the field, the former Arizona State standout — a committed, all-out athlete who has averaged more than 100 tackles per season — was involved in 138 stops overall, a team-leading total and a career high ... It included 71 solo stops, among them a pair of quarterback sacks, and 67 assists ... Noble also registered 2 interceptions, was credited with defending 5 other passes, forced one fumble and recovered one ... Although a full-time starter — he started all 16 games — Number 91 also made a solid contribution on special teams, posting 6 solo tackles and one assist in kick coverage to rank among the Packers' top ten kamikazes ... Both of Noble's interceptions led to touchdowns ... The first, vs. the Rams at Anaheim, CA., Sept. 24, saw the veteran linebacker's 10-yard return to the Ram 22-yard line set up an 11-yard scoring run by Brent Fullwood ... The second, vs. the Buccaneers at Tampa Dec. 3, triggered a 21-yard TD pass from quarterback Don Majkowski to Sterling Sharpe ... Noble had his most productive afternoon of the season in the latter contest, closing out the day with 10 solo tackles and 3 assists in addition to the interception ... He also had a pair of 9-tackle days

— vs. the Buccaneers in the season opener (Sept. 10) and vs. the Bears (Nov. 5) ... Noble's weight loss expanded his role in the Packer defense last season, he pointed out. "I never used to play in passing situations. Now they leave me on the field" ... Defensive Coordinator Hank Bullough, taking note of Noble's '89 performance, says of him, "He picked up (after sitting out the first 4 games of the '88 season) and had a good year last year — he played well. He knows what he's doing ... He's a smart, intelligent guy" ... Since joining the Packers as a fifth round draft choice in 1985, the 27-year-old Anaheim, CA., native has been involved in 542 tackles — an average of 108 per season ... The total includes 368 solo tackles and 174 assists ... Number 91 had a typically productive year in 1988 despite missing the first 4 games, managing to amass 72 solo tackles over the last 12 games and finish third in this important category on the Packer defense overall ... Also registered 26 assists, deflected 2 passes and recovered a fumble ... Supplemented these contributions by making 3 solo tackles on special teams coverage units ... Played perhaps the best game of his career vs. the Colts (Nov. 13), posting 12 solo tackles, including one QB sack, and 2 assists ... Doubled as Eric Dickerson's shadow in the process, holding the NFL's leading rusher to a modest 69 yards for the afternoon ... Made his first start of the season at Minnesota Oct. 16 and punctuated his return by causing two Viking fumbles ... Led Green Bay's defense in unassisted tackles in both 1986 and '87, collecting 82 solos in '86 and 76 in '87, when his season was reduced to 12 games by strike ... He also had paced his platoon in total tackles in '86 with 113, a display of productivity which came upon the heels of an outstanding rookie year ... Quickly entrenching himself as a starter in that baptismal '85 season, replacing veteran George Cumby in Game 2, he went on to sweep Packer "Rookie of the Year" honors and earn selection to the Pro Football Writers Association of America's NFL All-Rookie team ... Former Sun Devil has played three different positions since coming to Green Bay ... Launched his career at right inside linebacker as a rookie, then was transferred to the weak side outside position at the start of the '86 season by then Defensive Coordinator Dick Modzelewski in a bid to improve the pass rush ... Started the first 8 games there before being moved back inside for the last half of the season ... In 1987, he was moved to his current station. Happy at LILB, he says, "It's definitely the place where I've belonged all along ... It's definitely the position I'm most suited for — strong side linebacker" ... Made his first career interception one to remember, a theft which came off the delivery of Denver's celebrated field general, John Elway, in an overtime period vs. the Broncos at Milwaukee in 1987 (Sept. 20) en route to an eventual 17-17 tie ... Also led the Packers in fumble recoveries that season with 5 ... Registered 10 or more tackles in a game twice — amassing 12 vs. Denver in that overtime contest and 10 vs. the Vikings Dec. 13 ... Originally earned starting job by way of a strong performance in the Packers' 1985 pre-season finale, when he was credited with 10 unassisted tackles in Bishop's Charities Game vs. New York Jets ... Moved in as starter at RILB two weeks later.

COLLEGE: Involved in 60 tackles as senior at Arizona State after sharing team lead in QB sacks as a junior with 8 ... Won first team junior college All-America honors at Fullerton, J.C., setting school marks for most sacks in a season (24) and a career (36) ... Fullerton was 18-3 during his 2-year tenure and ranked among the top five junior college teams nationally ... Earned degree in business administration.

PERSONAL: Given name Brian David Noble ... Married (Cindy) and father of two daughters, Amanda Marie, born 8/5/85, and Taylor Christine, born 1/24/89 ... Lettered in football for 3 years and baseball for one in high school at Anaheim, CA., H.S. ... Played defensive end and also punted, averaging 42.5 yards per punt ... Employed as representative and spokesman for Coca-Cola ... Youngest of 4 children, he has one brother and two sisters ... Named Packers' NFL "Man of the Year" in 1989 for his contributions to the community ... Active in behalf of a number of projects and causes, including the Green Bay Board of Education's Drug Alliance, "Just Say No to Drugs," Big Brothers and Big Sisters, Special Olympics, Children's Hospital of Wisconsin and Fallen Timbers, an environmental center located near Green Bay ... Favorite sports and hobbies: Fishing (shark), hunting (anything), family ... Residence: Green Bay, WI.

Mike Norseth

QUARTERBACK • KANSAS • 3RD YEAR

HT: 6-3 • WT: 202 • BORN: 8/22/64 • (ACQ: FA, '90)

PRO: Former Brown and Bengal signed as free agent in off-season ... A record-breaking passer at the University of Kansas as a collegian — he was drafted by Cleveland in the seventh round (174th player chosen overall) in 1986 with a pick obtained from Kansas City in a draft day trade of running back Boyce Green — Norseth subsequently spent the '86 season on injured reserve with a chronic abdominal muscle strain ... Later was waived on Sept. 7, 1987 and claimed by the Bengals ... With Cincinnati through the 1988 season, he was an unprotected free agent in 1989's Plan B program and re-signed by Cleveland ... Released by the Browns Sept. 4, 1989 in their final cutdown for the regular season ... Has not played in a regular season game but demonstrated ability to move the Browns' offense during preseason appearances.

COLLEGE: Established 16 Kansas and Big Eight passing records, including school and conference marks for most yards passing in a game (480 vs. Vanderbilt); most total yards in a game (509 vs. Vanderbilt); most yards passing in a season (2,995); most total offensive yards in a season (3,214); and most consecutive passes without an interception (175) ... Named second team All-Big Eight and was MVP in Blue-Gray game as a senior ... Also played well in East-West Shrine game ... Transferred from Snow (Ephraim, Utah) J.C., where he threw for over 4,000 yards and 25 touchdowns.

PERSONAL: Given name Michael Adam Norseth ... Born in Hollywood, CA ... Married (Toni) ... Was an all-conference quarterback and team captain at Crescenta, CA, Valley High School ... Earned school's all-sports athlete-of-the-year award (football, basketball, baseball) ... Father (David) played football at College of the Pacific ... Wife is a hair stylist ... Shawn Patterson

DEFENSIVE END • ARIZONA STATE • 3RD YEAR

HT: 6-4½ • WT: 270 • BORN: 6/13/64 • (ACQ: D-2, '88)

PRO: Packer defensive coaches are hopeful that Shawn Patterson, a starter in 1989 before suffering a season-ending knee injury in Game 6 at Minnesota, has made a complete recovery and can be counted upon to upgrade the pass rush ... Highly motivated Arizonian gave encouraging promise of potential contributions in pressuring the passer as a rookie in 1988 when he posted 5 quarterback sacks to tie Blaise Winter for team runnerup honors in this important category ... Posted 19 solo tackles and 10 assists in starting the first six games last season, his production including a half-sack, before suffering a torn ligament in his left knee against the Vikings (Oct. 15) and being sidelined for the year ... Originally expected to step in for Alphonso Carreker at left end, then moved to the right flank at the start of the '89 season to take advantage of his pass rushing skills, he is back at left end going into the 1990 season ... Defensive Line Coach Greg Blache says of him, "I'm hopeful Shawn can come back and be fully recovered, because he was just really coming into his own last year when he went down. His strength is back and his weight is back and it appears that his quickness is back ... and hopefully his speed is. If he is fully recovered, he can take some of the pressure off Tim Harris because he gives us another guy who can make plays" ... The Packers' second round selection in the 1988 draft (the 35th player chosen), Patterson was quickly pressed into starting service after Carreker was sidelined by a pre-season knee injury ... Started four of the first six games at left end, sitting out Game 2 himself because of a leg injury, and played in 15 games overall ... Backed up at both left and right end over the last 10 games of the year and finished with 33 solo tackles, also contributing nine assists ... Supplemented these efforts by forcing one fumble and recovering one.

The Players

COLLEGE: First team All-Pac 10 selection as a senior ... Also named to Football News All-America third team ... Finished second on ASU team with 90 tackles (65 solos), 2 sacks and 10 tackles for 29 yards in losses ... Registered a sack and tackle for a 6-yard loss in ASU's 22-15 victory over Michigan in the Rose Bowl as a junior ... Broadcast major.

PERSONAL: Given name Kenneth Shawn Patterson ... Was All-City, All-Southeast and All-State defensive lineman at McClintock High School in Tempe, AZ. ... Lettered twice in football and once in both wrestling and track ... Named to Arizona Daily Star "Super 11" team ... Named Defensive Player of the Year as a senior ... Had his own radio show, as ASU senior, on a Phoenix area station with a state-wide audience ... Interested in becoming a professional sports commentator ... Residence: Tempe, AZ.

28 Ron Pitts

CORNERBACK • UCLA • 5TH YEAR

HT: 5-10 • WT: 183 • BORN: 10/14/62 • (ACQ: FA, '88)

PRO: The versatile son of a Packer Hall of Famer Elijah Pitts, Ron was a multiple contributor to the cause in 1989, his second season with the team his father helped to win Super Bowls I and II ... Possessor of a highly developed flair for the big play, he played in 14 games and started two ... Registered 24 solo stops among his 26 tackles, intercepted one pass, broke up six others and blocked a field goal against the Vikings at Minnesota (Oct. 15) ... His interception came off the esteemed Dan Marino at Miami the following week (Oct. 22) and set up a Chris Jacke field goal ...

Also played a major role on special teams, taking part in 10 tackles (6 solos) and forcing one fumble ... His two starts came against Dallas in Green Bay Oct. 8 and against the Vikings at Minneapolis Oct. 15 when he stepped in for the injured Mark Lee ... Joined the Packers as a free agent Sept. 15, 1988 to fill the void occasioned by the injury loss of Norman Jefferson and became a valuable addition — both as a defensive back and a punt returner ... Played in 14 games overall, starting one (vs. Vikings Oct. 16) ... Made nine solo tackles and, early revealing his knack for making things happen, registered two interceptions, forced two fumbles and recovered three ... First made his presence felt in only his fourth week on the Packer roster, stepping in at left cornerback for an injured Lee against the Patriots at Milwaukee (Oct. 9) and helping trigger a 45-3 Green Bay rout of New England with a pair of interceptions ... His first theft of a Doug Flutie pass came in the second quarter with the Packers leading by a modest 10-3 margin and led to Green Bay's second touchdown ... His second intercept, off Steve Grogan, blunted a Patriot drive which had reached Green Bay's 32-yard line ... Started for the sidelined Lee the following week against the Vikings and made an impact, collecting four solo tackles and recovering two fumbles, one after causing it ... Frequently came in on nickel situations with Tiger Greene as the season wore on ... Closed out the season as the team's leading punt returner on an average basis, averaging 10.3 yards for nine runbacks ... One of them, a 63-yard scoring return at Phoenix (Dec. 18) staked the Packers to an early 7-0 lead and sparked them to a 26-17 victory in their season finale ... Pitts supplemented his special teams contributions by making three solo tackles on kick coverage ... Originally drafted by the Buffalo Bills in the seventh round of the '85 draft ... Missed entire rookie season with a foot problem which kept him on injured reserve ... Gained starting assignment in Game 14 of the '87 season and finished year as a starter, making 10 tackles in those final three games ... Had played nickel back and backup roles until that time ... Closed out '87 season with three interceptions ... Also was Bills' No. 1 punt returner, running back 23 punts for 149 yards ... Played in 22 games for Bills overall and started three ... Packer secondary coach Dick Jauron, one of Pitts' biggest fans, says of the former UCLA athlete, "I think the thing that makes Ronnie a good player is the fact that he's a quality person — coupled with the skills that he's been blessed with — and his commitment to hard work. All of these things put together make him a guy you have a lot of faith in because he works hard at it, spends time at it, and he wants to be good ... He has good quickness and good speed, and he's very tough — both mentally and physically tough."

COLLEGE: Four-year letterman and two-year starter at UCLA ... Earned All-Pac 10 honorable mention as a senior and was named to the conference's All-Academic first team ... Finished with 165 career tackles ... Played in Japan Bowl following senior season and scored a touchdown ... Also played in two Rose Bowl games ... Has degree in communication studies.

PERSONAL: Given name Ronald Dwayne Pitts ... Single ... Born in Detroit, MI. ... Became the first "second generation" Packer in the team's history when he signed a Green Bay contract ... His father, a 13th round draft choice out of Philander Smith in 1961, helped the Packers win five NFL championships (1961-62 and 1965-66-67), scored two touchdowns in their 35-10 victory over Kansas City in Super Bowl I and was elected to the Packer Hall of Fame in 1979 ... As a prep, Ron starred at Orchard Park, N. Y., High School, winning high school All-America honors and being named New York State "Player of the Year" as a senior ... Scored on a 60-yard run on his final carry and had his jersey retired ... Employed as a production assistant and on-air talent for Los Angeles television station KCOPL in off-season ... Favorite hobbies: Moto-cross racing and body boarding ... Residence: Los Angeles.

WIDE RECEIVER • MILLIKIN UNIV. • 2ND YEAR

HT: 6-0 • WT: 167 • BORN: 3/7/67 • (ACQ: D-5A, '89)

PRO: The first player in the history of his Division III school ever to be drafted, Jeff Query fully justified the Packers' confidence in his skills as a rookie in 1989, exhibiting a flair for making the clutch catch ... Possessor of impressive 4.32 speed in the '40' and sure hands, the talented Millikin University product thus is expected to be a major contender for starting status in 1990 ... Receivers coach Buddy Geis, assessing Query's potential contributions, said, "I'm hoping he can challenge for a starting position. He has a chance — just like two or three other guys do" ... The wiry Maroa, IL, native won the hearts of Packer loyalists early in '89, making a dramatic impact in the second game of the regular season (Sept. 17) ... With the Packers trailing 34-27, Query entered the game in a 4-receiver, 2-minute offense and put on something of a one-man show, catching 4 passes for 84 yards on the decisive drive, including a 35-yarder on the very first play ... Chief among them was a critical — and controversial — 23-yard reception on fourth-and-17 with 1:48 remaining in the game ... Referee Ben Dreith overruled the out-of-bounds call of Side Judge Doyle Jackson on the play and the Packers went on to win, 35-34, by way of Don Majkowski's 3-yard scoring strike to Sterling Sharpe and Chris Jacke's subsequent conversion ... A fifth round selection in last year's draft, Query went on to catch 23 passes overall for 350 yards and 2 touchdowns as the "slot man" in Coach Lindy Infante's Flush Formation ... Registered his first NFL touchdown on a 4-yard pass from Majkowski in the second quarter of a 23-20, overtime victory over the Detroit Lions at Milwaukee Oct. 29 and the other in the Packers' season finale at Dallas Dec. 24 on a 14-yard strike from Majkowski ... Also was employed as the Packers' primary punt returner, averaging 8.2 yards for 30 runbacks, and averaged 20.8 yards for 6 kickoff returns ... Had most productive receiving days against Saints (Sept. 17) and vs. Detroit (Nov. 12), making 4 catches in each game.

The Players

COLLEGE: Caught 40 passes in each of his last two seasons at Millikin, registering 11 touchdowns as a junior and 28 overall for his CCIW (College Conference of Illinois and Wisconsin) career ... Also was a standout returner, averaging 30.9 yards on kickoff returns and 10.9 yards on punt returns ... Holds Millikin career records for receiving yards (2,548) and TD catches (28) ... Also a standout in track, he won the CCIW title in the 100-meter dash in 1988 with a 10.7 clocking, and anchored the school's 400-meter relay team.

PERSONAL: Given name Jeffrey Lee Query ... Married (Keri) and father of a daughter, Hanna Nicole, born 3/8/90 ... All-conference Player of the Year as a senior at Maroa-Forsyth (Ill.) High School ... Sat out sophomore and junior seasons after breaking a hand playing football as a freshman because "I liked playing basketball better" ... Played in the 1985 East-West Shriners' All-Star game ... 75 Ken Ruettgers

OFFENSIVE TACKLE • USC • 6TH YEAR

HT: 6-5 • WT: 288 • BORN: 8/20/62 • (ACQ: D-1, '85)

PRO: Ken Ruettgers' relentless pursuit of perfection, via countless hours of video study in the projection room and unstinting toil in the weight room, is elevating him to a new plateau among his peers ... "Ken had an outstanding year as a pass protector last season," says Offensive Line Coach Charlie Davis, adding, "He's getting to a point where he's ready to move into the upper echelon of the NFL's offensive linemen. He's a very smart, intelligent player and a very hard worker — Ken is a real student of the game" ... An outside expert, personnel pundit Joel Buchsbaum, has ranked Ruettgers among the top six offensive tackles in the game ... Rebounded from an injury problem the previous year to start and play in all 16 games last season ... A shoulder injury, suffered in the Packers' first pre-season game prevented the monolithic Californian from having a vintage year in 1988, when he had to sit out the season opener against the Rams, ending a playing string of 44 consecutive games ... Had perhaps his best year in 1987 when he gave up only 3½ quarterback sacks over the 12-game schedule ... The quality of his efforts was underscored when he subsequently was voted Packer "Offensive Player of the Year" by Wisconsin's sports media, an honor which marked the first time a Green Bay offensive lineman had been so honored since center Ken Bowman was similarly recognized in 1971 ... Also was Packer nominee in the Miller Lite Offensive Lineman of the Year competition ... The fact that he had to overcome an attack of mononucleosis during the early weeks of training camp only served to make his season-long performance all the more impressive ... Ruettggers has achieved his high level of competence by spending long hours in the weight room and in exhaustive study of his opponent during and after hours, along with developing a "book" on each defensive end he faces over the course of a season ... A comprehensive compilation, its contents include "just what their moves are, what their personality types are from what I can determine on film, what they've done against me, and against other teams," Ruettggers reports. "I take things down" ... His strenuous off-season regimen also has been a factor in Ruettggers' success ... It includes, among other activities, four days of weight-lifting per week, plus racquetball, basketball and karate — as well as hitting the speed bag and jumping rope ... Ken first gained NFL prominence in the 1986 season finale against the New York Giants, then en route to Super Bowl XXI, when he climaxed his personal year by shutting out league sack champion Lawrence Taylor (Dec. 20), a performance which deprived the New York superstar of an NFL single season record for sacks ... Ruettggers became a Packer by way of a draft day trade with Buffalo in 1985, an exchange which sent Green Bay's first and second choices in that draft to Buffalo for the Bills' first round choice and a fourth round selection in 1986, the latter turning out to be linebacker Timothy Harris ... The seventh player chosen overall, Ruettggers shared time with veteran Karl Swanke for eight of the last nine games of the '85 season, then started the season finale at Tampa after Swanke suffered a knee injury in Game 15 vs. Lions ... Earlier had stepped in as starter at LT in season opener vs. Patriots when Swanke was moved to RT, replacing Greg Koch, who had been pressed into service at right guard following an injury to Ron Hallstrom.

COLLEGE: Co-captained Trojans as senior and played in Japan Bowl ... Was reserve guard from 1980 through 1982 before switching to tackle in 1983 ... Business administration major.

84 Sterling Sharpe

WIDE RECEIVER • SOUTH CAROLINA • 3RD YEAR

HT: 6-0 • WT: 202 • BORN: 4/6/65 • (ACQ: D-1, '88)

PRO: Having given an intriguing hint of what was to come by breaking the Packer record for receptions as a rookie in 1988, Sterling Sharpe scaled a new artistic plateau as a second-year performer last season ... Shattering a venerable club record en route to earning Pro Bowl recognition — a mark that had stood since the early days of World War II — the purposeful South Carolinian became a major force in Coach Lindy Infante's highly productive offense ... By the time the 1989 campaign had run its course, he had caught more passes — 90 in all — and gained more yards — 1,423 — in a single season than any other receiver in Green Bay's 69-year National Football League history ... The former total eclipsed the 47-year-old record of 74 catches, set by nonpareil Don Hutson during an 11-game season in 1942, and the latter surpassed the 5-year-old record of 1,361 receiving yards, set by James Lofton in 1984 ... Sharpe embellished these imposing figures with 12 touchdown receptions, the most by a Packer receiver since 1952 when Bill Howton had 13 as a rookie, and tied a club record by forging six 100-yard receiving games ... Also registered a 13th TD as a runner, scooping up a Jeff Query fumble at the Atlanta 5-yard-line and powering his way into the end zone to ignite a 17-point fourth quarter comeback which produced a 23-21 overtime victory over the Falcons at Milwaukee ... In the season-long process, Sharpe became the first Packer to lead the NFL in receiving since Hutson turned the trick in 1945 ... He also invaded the Packers' all-time Top 20, vaulting all the way to 15th place with 145 receptions in just 2 pro seasons, passing Pro Football Hall of Famer Paul Hornung (130) and Donny Anderson (125) en route ... Sharpe's record-breaking exploits were formally recognized in mid-December when opposing players and coaches elected him to a starting berth on the National Football Conference squad for the Pro Bowl ... Impressive though it may have been, the 1989 season was not the best Sharpe has to offer, Receivers Coach Buddy Geis is convinced ... "I expect Sterling to be even better this season, as far as route-running and his releases (getting off the line of scrimmage) is concerned," he says. "I expect him to be even more involved in the offense. He's not the type of guy to be satisfied, to say 'I've done it all' ... He worked extremely hard last year and I think he's working even harder this year. And Sterling came in lighter last year than he was the year before and he came in lighter this year than he was last year. It just shows the intelligence in him, the professionalism. If he keeps that up, he can be around a long time and play in a lot of Pro Bowls. It's the attitude that keeps a guy like him going" ... The 25-year-old wideout had his most productive afternoon of the '89 season — from a reception standpoint — against the NFC Central champion Vikings Nov. 26, when he caught 10 passes for 157 yards ... His top yardage days, however, came vs. the Rams (164 yards on 8 catches) at Anaheim, CA., Sept. 24 and vs. Tampa Bay Dec. 3 when he amassed a career-high 169 yards, also with 8 receptions ... Sharpe had registered his first 100-yard day of the season in Game 2 vs. New Orleans, the first of his three 8-catch performances producing 107 yards ... His 12 TD receptions included decisive TD catches in three games — the Packers' 35-34 victory over the Saints, the controversial "instant replay" score which — with Chris Jacke's conversion — produced the titillating 14-13 victory over the Bears in Green Bay's Lambeau Field Nov. 5 and in that 20-19 win over Minnesota on Nov. 26 ... Played and started all 16 games and caught at least one pass in each ... Settled for one reception only once — against the Chiefs Dec. 10 ... Caught 55 passes as a rookie in 1988, two more than Howton collected in setting the team's rookie record in 1952, while emerging as the Packers' leading receiver ... Had his best yardage day (137) with 7 catches vs. the Bears Sept. 25 and his most productive afternoon from a reception standpoint with 8 catches against the Lions at Milwaukee Nov. 20, an effort which brought him his second 100-yard day of the season (124) ... Caught 5 or more passes in six games, including 6 for 70 yards vs. Buccaneers Oct. 2 and 6 for 71 yards vs. Lions Dec. 4 ... Also made a contribution on special teams as a punt returner, averaging 5.3 yards for 9 runbacks.

COLLEGE: Set South Carolina school records for career receptions (163), receiving yards (2,444) and touchdowns (25) ... Established single season marks in same categories as a junior, snaring 74 passes for 1,106 yards and 10 TDs ... Earned two degrees, one in interdisciplinary studies, the other in retailing.

PERSONAL: Given name Sterling Sharpe ... Single ... Born in Chicago ... All-County and "Player of the Year" selection at Glenville, GA., High School ... Serves on the board of directors of a bank (First Citizens) in his native Columbia, S.C. ... Also aids in the anti-drug campaign sponsored by the South Carolina attorney general and is a certified speaker in the For Better Education program in the off-season ... Favorite hobbies: "Working with under- and over-privileged kids," basketball, watching pro basketball ... Residence: Columbia, S.C.

TIGHT END • YALE • 11TH YEAR

HT: 6-4 • WT: 227 • BORN: 8/1/57 • (ACQ: FA, '89)

PRO: One of the most prolific receiving tight ends in the game, the former Eagle and Seahawk joined the Packers as a Plan B free agent in 1989 and saw his first Green Bay season abbreviated to 6 games by a pre-season injury... Signed March 31, 1989 as a free agent, he suffered a shoulder separation in the second pre-season game against Indianapolis (Aug. 19) and was sidelined until Week 11, when he was activated from the injured reserve list... Caught 2 passes for 13 yards, increasing his career receptions to 263 for 10 National Football League seasons, and enters the 1990 season as the fourth ranking receiver among active NFC tight ends... Described by Virgil Knight, Packer tight end coach, as "very intelligent and a good receiver... He runs good routes and has a good feel for the game"... Made 5 catches for 40 yards and one touchdown in 1988 at Seattle, where he backed up Mike Tice... Prior to joining the Seahawks, the 32-year-old Pennsylvanian had been a 5-year starter for the Eagles, with whom he had signed as a free agent in 1979 after coming out of Yale... Over his last four seasons with Philadelphia, he averaged 51 receptions per year, his production including a career high 65 catches in 1984 and 64 in 1985... Was selected as first alternate for the NFC squad in Pro Bowl balloting in both '84 and '85... Also earned first team all-NFC honors in latter year when he set personal career highs in yards (772) and TDs (5)... Had best day of his career at New Orleans on Oct. 6, 1985 when he caught 12 passes (tied for second most in Eagle history) for 124 yards and 2 TDs, all career bests... His 1984 season proved to be a testimonial to his courage and determination when he made a successful comeback after missing 1983 season due to neck injury (suffered during pre-season weightlifting) that required surgical repair of a cervical disc... Subsequently was voted Eagles' Most Valuable Player by his teammates and Professional Athlete of the Year by the Philadelphia Chapter of UNICO (an Italian-American service organization)... Also received Ed Block Memorial Award for courage (named after the longtime former trainer of the Baltimore Colts)... His 65 catches for 701 yards that season both were highs among NFC tight ends (fifth in the NFL), and were the second most ever by an Eagles TE (behind Pete Retzlaff, who had 66 in 1965)... Had his best '84 outing vs. Dallas (12/2) with 11 receptions for 114 yards... Started all 9 games in strike-shortened 1982 season and emerged as team's leading receiver (26 catches for 313 yards, 2 TDs)... Was slowed by hamstring injury in 1981, settling for 6 catches in 11 games... Started 6 regular season games in 1980 and Super Bowl XV (in double-TE formation)... Played in all 16 games as a rookie in 1979... Originally New England's ninth round draft choice in '79 but was released late in pre-season and signed immediately as a free agent by Eagles.

COLLEGE: Closed out college career as Yale's all-time leading receiver with 88 catches (later tied by Curt Grieve) for 1,554 yards... Earned All-New England, All-ECAC, All-East, All-Ivy League and team MVP honors as a senior... Also named MVP of Blue-Gray game when he caught 4 passes for 61 yards and 2 TDs... Earned degree in political science.

PERSONAL: Given name John Stephen Spagnola... Born in Bangor, PA... Married (Kathleen) and father of a daughter, Nicole, born 9/18/88... Attended Bethlehem, PA... Catholic High School... Earned degree in political science from Yale in 1980 after taking off the first semester of 1979 school year to serve as a driver for Bill Bradley in the former NBA star's successful campaign for the U.S. Senate from New Jersey... Served as Eagles' player representative... Recipient of the "Good Guy" Award from the Philadelphia Sportswriters' Association in 1986 for cooperation with the media, and Merit Award from Continental Bank for community service... Was Eagles' representative on NFL's United Way television spots in 1984... Very active in behalf of numerous community and charitable causes and projects, including the March of Dimes... Frequently played Santa Claus at the Eagles' and Phillies' annual Christmas party, sponsored by No Greater Love for the children of firefighters and policemen who died in the line of duty... 54 Scott Stephen

HT: 6-2 • WT: 243 • BORN: 6/18/64 • (ACQ: D-3B, '87)

PRO: After three years of waiting in the wings, Scott Stephen finds himself the potential successor to the retired John Anderson at strong side outside linebacker ... "I guess you'd have to say Scott is the incumbent or the heir apparent to the position," Outside Linebackers Coach Dick Moseley says in evaluating the situation. "When you start a depth chart, you'd have to list him first, in terms of the fact that he finished last season as the backup to Anderson there and the fact that he started two games there when John went down. Scott is a very strong player at the point. He plays strong over the tight end ... He has good playing strength and he has the ability to rush the passer ... With the opportunity to take the lion's share of the reps in practice, he should improve his techniques and in his overall skills to play the position. He's a four-year guy who had the ability to rise and replace John Anderson, but it's going to be a very competitive position ... A third round selection out of Arizona State in the 1987 draft, Stephen made a substantial impact in '89 while starting a pair of late season games when Anderson was sidelined by injury, punctuating both starts with big plays ... The first of his timely contributions, a spectacular effort, came in third quarter vs. the Buccaneers at Tampa Dec. 3 with the Packers nurturing a narrow 7-6 lead ... Batting a Vinny Testaverde pass into the air, he pulled it into his arms as it came down, thereby short-circuiting a Tampa Bay drive which had reached Green Bay's 35-yard line, with his first pro interception ... Two weeks later, Stephen engineered two other major maneuvers vs. the Bears in the fourth quarter at Chicago, contributions that swung the balance to the Green and Gold in a 40-28 victory over the Midway Monsters ... With the Packers holding a tenuous 30-28 lead at that point and the Bears poised to score, Stephen swept in front of Chicago tight end Cap Boso to intercept at Green Bay's 9-yard line ... Following his 8-yard return, quarterback Don Majkowski and the offense proceeded to make capital of the opportunity, driving 83 yards in a time-consuming, 17-play march for an "insurance" touchdown ... Stephen subsequently extinguished the Bears' last remaining hopes with a record-breaking play ... Scooping up a fumble by Bear quarterback Jim Harbaugh (the ball had been knocked out from behind by Scott's fellow linebacker, Tim Harris), Stephen rumbled 76 yards to the Chicago 8-yard line before being run to earth, thus breaking the Packers' all-time fumble run record of 70 yards, set by Mike Butler vs. the Vikings at Milwaukee in 1979 ... Four plays later, Chris Jacke kicked a 21-yard field goal for the game's final points, sealing the Packers' first season sweep of the Bears since 1981 ... The 26-year-old Los Angeles native, playing in all 16 games, was involved in 31 tackles overall, posting 24 solos ... In addition to the 2 interceptions and the fumble recovery, he registered one quarterback sack and was credited with three passes defended ... He also was a solid contributor on special teams, posting 6 solo tackles and one assist ... Forged one solo tackle in 1988 but it was one to remember — a three-yard sack of Tampa Bay's Vinny Testaverde in Game 2 vs. the Buccaneers (Sept. 11) ... He also broke up one pass ... Played in all 16 games and was one of Howard Tippett's most productive special teams performers, ending the season as the leading member of the kickoff coverage platoon with 13 unassisted tackles, four more than his closest pursuer ... Also employed primarily on special teams as a rookie in 1987, Stephen collected 4 solo tackles on coverage units and 2 other solo stops while operating at linebacker and appearing in 8 non-strike games overall.

COLLEGE: All-Pac 10 selection as a senior at Arizona State ... Recorded 11 tackles in a 22-15 win over Michigan in the 1987 Rose Bowl ... Also chosen to play in Japan and Senior Bowls ... Led Sun Devils in sacks as both a sophomore and junior ... Psychology major.

PERSONAL: Given name Scott DeWitt Stephen ... Single ... Earned All-Central, All-City and All-America honors at Manual Arts (Los Angeles) High School while serving as team captain as a senior ... Caught 54 passes as a receiver on offense and made 67 tackles as a linebacker on defense that '82 season ... Favorite sports and hobbies: Working on high performance vehicles, watching baseball, basketball and boxing ... Hometown: Los Angeles.

70 Keith Uecker

GUARD/TACKLE • AUBURN • 7TH YEAR

HT: 6-5 • WT: 295 • BORN: 6/29/60 • (ACQ: W-Den., '84)

PRO: A highly perseverant performer who has overcome a host of injury problems during his nine-year pro career, Keith Uecker essays another comeback in 1990 ... The dogged and dedicated Auburn product returns after spending the 1989 season on injured reserve in the wake of surgery to fuse bones in his neck ... The latter came on the heels of another disappointment for Uecker — a 30-day suspension for steroid use, a development which occurred when Uecker was holding forth as the Packers' starter at right tackle ... The 30-year-old veteran, who can play both guard and tackle, has been listed behind incumbent offensive captain Ron Hallstrom at right guard on the '90 depth chart ... Uecker had appeared to have put his injury problems behind him in 1988 when he reached a personal milestone, starting every one of 16 regular season games for the first time in his career ... In four previous seasons with Green Bay, he only twice had managed to play in as many as eight games (in 1985 and '87) and in 1986 spent the season on injured reserve ... It thus is hardly surprising that Offensive Line Coach Charlie Davis calls Uecker "a real tough, gritty kind of guy — a 100 percent worker type of a guy" ... Davis also will tell you that true grit is not Uecker's only asset. "Keith also is very intelligent, with good strength and good techniques," says his position coach, adding in admiration, "He's one of the real tough guys — rugged" ... Uecker has needed to be "rugged" to survive the physical problems he has encountered along the way ... During the 1985 season alone, he underwent five surgeries on his left knee and while rehabilitating the knee after the first operation, decided it would be an opportune time to have repair of his achilles tendon, which had hampered him throughout his career ... Just moments before that surgery, doctors decided to x-ray his lung area because he complained of pain and soreness. Pericarditis, a serious heart condition which could have caused major health problems for Uecker if he had been placed under anesthesia, was detected. Later, after several weeks of total inactivity following the achilles surgery, he discovered he was unable to extend his surgical knee without excruciating pain. More surgery was required and four subsequent operations sidelined him for the 1986 season ... One not easily turned aside, Uecker returned for the 1987 training camp and regained starting status, finally realizing the goal of all those rehabilitation efforts. "It's as much a dream as a job," he explained. "It's hard to let a dream go" ... In recognition of his latest comeback, Uecker was honored as Green Bay's 1987 selection for the Ed Block Courage Award, which salutes one player from each of the 28 NFL teams annually for exemplifying courage as seen through the eyes of teammates ... Ironically, that "comeback" season did not pass without further injury ... Uecker started two pre-strike games and the final replacement contest, then stretched the medial collateral ligament in his right knee in the first post-strike game (vs. the Lions, Oct. 25, 1987) and sat out the next five games ... He returned to the starting lineup against the 49ers Dec. 6 to revitalize a sagging ground game and upgrade the right side of the offensive line for the last four weeks of the season ... Before his injury problems began to surface, the imposing Auburn alumnus started the first seven games of the 1985 season at left guard before undergoing knee surgery and giving way to then rookie Rich Moran ... Became a Packer on October 23, 1984, when acquired on waivers from Denver ... He appeared in the last five games of the '84 season, starting two at left guard for Tim Huffman, who had been temporarily moved to tackle to replace the injured Karl Swanke ... A ninth round draft choice of the Broncos in 1982, Uecker started two games for Denver as a rookie and played in all 16 games in 1983, being frequently employed in short yardage and goal line situations ... Was handicapped by a foot injury in 1984 before being waived off injured reserve by Broncos with hope of reactivating him in their offensive line, a point at which he was claimed by the Packers.

COLLEGE: Four-year starter and letterman at Auburn, earning all-SEC honors ... Closed out his college career with appearances in the East-West and Blue-Gray games ... Named Tigers' outstanding lineman in 1980 as tackle, then moved to guard for senior, '81 season ... Team captain as senior ... Accounting major.

PERSONAL: Given name Richard Keith Uecker ... Married (Juliana) and father of a daughter (Victoria, born 1/4/90) ... Earned nine letters at Hollywood, FL, High School, three each in football, baseball and basketball ... Has undertaken Tae Kwon Do lessons during his pro career to improve his mobility and footwork ... Has skied in NFL Pro-Celebrity competition for handicapped children ... Also has taken part in Rulon Jones Pro-Am Ski Tournament and played in the John Elway Pro-Am Golf Tournament ... Favorite sports and hobbies: Golf, hunting, fishing ... Residence: Cooper City, FL.

Alan Veingrad

OFFENSIVE TACKLE • EAST TEXAS ST. • 4TH YEAR

HT: 6-5 • WT: 281 • BORN: 7/24/63 • (ACQ: FA, '86)

PRO: If the National Football League offered a "Comeback of the Year" award, Alan Veingrad would have been a prominent candidate for 1989 honors ... The towering Miamian, who spent the entire 1988 season on the shelf with a career-threatening injury, not only returned to the playing field for the first time in two years but started all 16 games at offensive right tackle and won commendation for the quality and consistency of his play ... This accomplishment was accentuated by the fact he was such a quality performer that No. 1 draft choice Tony Mandarich, rated the top offensive lineman to come out of college since Anthony Munoz, spent his rookie season as a backup to Veingrad, who had been an unheralded free agent coming out of East Texas State in 1985 ... Offensive Line Coach Charlie Davis, who pronounced himself "very comfortable" with Veingrad's presence on the right side of the line, termed the four-year veteran "an especially effective passblocker" in Coach Lindy Infante's highly successful "Pass to Daylight" offense ... The perseverant Brooklyn native had taken a new lease on life after sitting out the '88 season with a hip problem, then undergoing remedial surgery in February of 1989 ... "It probably was the toughest thing I ever went through — especially not knowing what was going to happen with my career from day to day," Veingrad says of that somewhat traumatic, ongoing experience ... The operation, he explained, involved removal of the bursa sack on the left hip and cutting the ilio-tibial band in that area because the latter "was not sliding over the bone properly — it was starting to pop" ... Weeks of rehabilitation, including daily riding of a stationary bike despite recurring pain, followed. "After about two months, the pain started to subside, my strength came back and I started to feel really, really good," Veingrad reported. "And I haven't had any problems since" ... The magnitude of Veingrad's comeback was underscored by the reaction of Dr. E. S. Brusky, Packer team physician, who expressed surprise and admiration at this turn of events. "After the problems I saw him have in 1988 — if you had told me he would be back in the starting lineup last season, I probably would have said you were crazy," Dr. Brusky said ... Veingrad previously had been a prominent member of the offensive line in both 1986 and '87 before developing the hip problem ... He started all 16 games as a rookie and played in 11 of the 12 non-strike games of '87, starting two ... Missed the season opener against the Raiders in '87 because of a bruised ankle suffered in the pre-season finale against the Cleveland Browns ... Later started at right tackle against Tampa Bay Nov. 1 and against the Bears at Chicago Nov. 29 ... Joined the Packers as a free agent in the spring of 1986 and proceeded to win the starting job at right tackle ... A 1985 graduate of East Texas State, he had tryouts with both Tampa Bay, with whom he signed after the NFL draft that year, and the Houston Oilers in '85 before signing with the Packers as a free agent March 28, 1986.

COLLEGE: Was two-time All-Lone Star Conference selection at East Texas State ... A four-year letterman, he was team captain in both 1983 and '84 ... Named to Kodak All-America team as a senior ... Also selected on National Strength and Conditioning All-America ... Competed in track (discus) for three years ... Physical education and health major.

PRO: Addition of wily veteran, a former New England Patriot, Cleveland Brown and Kansas City Chief, heightens competition at wide receiver, one of the most talent-laden on the roster ... Signed as a Plan B free agent March 31, 1990 after finishing 1989 season with the Chiefs, he was well prepared for his latest assignment, having played under Packer Coach Lindy Infante for two seasons (1986-87) when Infante was offensive coordinator of the Browns ... Impressed Packer receivers coach Buddy Geis from the outset with his precise pass routes and his ability to avoid slowing down before breaking off a pattern ... Began '89 season with Indianapolis Colts who signed him March 31 during the first Plan B program after he had been left unprotected by the Browns ... Caught 6 passes for 62 yards before being released ... Subsequently joined Chiefs and caught 17 passes for 192 yards while appearing in 11 games ... Had best season from a receptions standpoint in 1988 when he had 29 catches for 436 yards (a 15.1-yard average) and one touchdown, playing in all 16 games and starting six ... Also played in the Browns' wild card playoff game against Houston ... Had his top game of the season against Cincinnati (10/30) with 7 catches for 140 yards, including a long of 49 yards ... Originally signed with the Patriots as a free agent prior to the start of 1983's training camp (7/19), an opportunity which developed when he visited his brother, Robert, a Patriot running back, and was spotted working out with Robert and RB Tony Collins by then offensive coordinator Lew Erber ... Caught 19 passes that rookie season for 379 yards (an imposing 19.9 average) and 3 TDs ... Forced into action for the injured Stanley Morgan in the Patriots' second game (at Miami), he caught 4 passes for 92 yards and scored his first NFL touchdown (36 yards) ... Missed the first seven games of the 1984 season with an injured foot ... Although also hampered by injuries in 1985, he managed to break Ray Renfro's club 28-year-old club record for best receiving average in a single season (28.0 in 1957), averaging 28.1 for 16 receptions, a mark that also was tops in the NFL ... Again saw limited action in 1986 because of nagging hamstring problems and had to be content with 9 receptions overall, good for 100 yards ... Played in 12 games in 1987, finishing the regular season with 11 catches for 153 yards ... Also blocked a punt along the way against Atlanta (11/8) ... Employed as a punt returner earlier in his career, he has averaged 6.8 yards for 33 runbacks, including a 7.8 average for 28 runbacks in 1985, with a long of 16.

COLLEGE: Played one season (1980) at Delaware State as a wide receiver and return specialist ... Earned all-league honors as a return specialist, returning a pair of kickoffs 100 yards for touchdowns ... Also had two punt returns for TDs, one for 95 yards and the other for 90.

PERSONAL: Given name Clarence Weathers ... Born in Green's Pond, S.C. ... Married (Marsherry) ... Attended Westwood High School in Fort Pierce, FL ... Residence: Norcross, GA.

52 Mike Weddington

LINEBACKER • OKLAHOMA • 5TH YEAR

HT: 6-3½ • WT: 243 • BORN: 10/9/60 • (ACQ: FA, '86)

PRO: A studious and versatile veteran with a variety of skills, Mike Weddington is considered a legitimate contender in the competition to succeed the retired John Anderson at left outside linebacker ... Although listed as a backup to Tim Harris at the other outside position on the team's pre-season depth chart, Weddington can play either one with equal facility ... "Mike does everything well and he's smart," Outside Linebackers Coach Dick Moseley says in itemizing the fifth-year pro's assets. "He can rush the passer, he's not a bad dropper (in pass coverage) and he has good football intelligence. And he does a good job on special teams" ... The former Sooner played in 15 of 16 games last season, sitting out the Detroit rematch at Pontiac, MI. (Nov. 12) because of a hamstring injury ... Was credited with 8 tackles at linebacker, including 5 solos, one of them a quarterback sack ... Also forced one fumble and recovered one ... Again a standout special teams performer — he was the leader of Green Bay's suicide squads a year earlier — Mike emerged as the club's third-ranking kamikaze ... Involved in 17 tackles overall, including 13 solos, he also forced 2 fumbles ... Registered 13 solo tackles on kick coverage — 9 on kickoff returns and 4 on punt returns — in 1988 when he was certified as the Packers' special teams kingpin under the point system devised by Special Teams Coordinator Howard Tippett ... Amassed 330 points to dethrone John Dorsey, who in 1987 had been the Packers' leading special teamer for the third time in four years ... Also was credited with 4 assists and recovered a fumble ... Played in all 16 games and started 2, stepping in for the injured John Anderson vs. the Lions Dec. 4 and vs. the Cardinals in the season finale at Phoenix Dec. 18 ... Knocked down a pass and recovered a fumble in the Detroit start ... Made 6 solo tackles overall as a linebacker, adding 3 assists ... The former USFL starter joined the Packers as a free agent Aug. 13, 1986 ... Suffered a shoulder separation in his very first scrimmage appearance and was sidelined until late in the season ... Activated for the last 3 games, he made 2 tackles and contributed one assist as a linebacker ... He also made an impact on special teams, recording 5 solo tackles and 2 assists ... Ranked among the Packers' top special teamers again in 1987, collecting 7 tackles, a production exceeded by only two teammates (Dorsey and Ken Johnson) ... Also registered 2 solo stops as a linebacker while playing in all 12 non-strike games ... Played for the New Jersey Generals of the USFL for three years (1983-85) before joining Packers.

COLLEGE: Four-year letterman at Oklahoma ... Played tight end as a freshman in 1979, then was converted as a sophomore to defensive end and started there for the balance of his college career ... Business management major, with minor in finance.

PERSONAL: Given name Michael Wayne Weddington ... Born in Belton, TX. ... Married (Jacqueline Renee) and father of a daughter, Porsche Jean Nicole, born 3/12/88 ... Played prep football at Temple, TX., High School ... Sales rep for Wilson Art in off-season ... Favorite hobbies: Writing business plans and working with computers ... Residence: Tracy, CA.

86 Ed West

TIGHT END • AUBURN • 7TH YEAR

HT: 6-1 • WT: 240 • BORN: 8/2/61 • (ACQ: FA, '84)

PRO: Quite possibly the premier blocking tight end in the NFL, square-cut Ed West has fended off all challengers to retain primacy at the position for the past three seasons ... The hustling Alabamian, an unheralded free agent who came out of Auburn in 1984 with a highly developed work ethic, has continued to hone and solidify his receiving skills while maintaining his blocking superiority ... In the process, he has started 39 games at tight end since the opening game of the 1987 season, including all 16 in 1988 when he caught a career-high 30 passes to emerge as the Packers' No. 4 receiver ... Registered 22 receptions in 1989 when he sat out three games (vs. San Francisco Nov. 19, vs. Minnesota Nov. 26 and vs. Tampa Bay Dec. 3) with a knee injury which hampered him during the latter stages of the season ... Had his best day of the year in Game 2 vs. New Orleans (Sept. 17), snaring 6 passes to match his previous single game high (vs. Tampa Bay Oct. 2, 1988) ... They were good for 87 yards and 2 touchdowns as he played a prominent role in the Packers' 35-34, come-from-behind victory over the Saints ... His 5-yard TD reception of a Don Majkowski pass in the third quarter also provided the Packers' winning margin in a 20-10 victory over the Cowboys in their season finale (Dec. 24) ... Closed out season with 5 TD catches to rank second behind leader Sterling Sharpe among Packer receivers in this category and maintain his impressive touchdowns-to-receptions ratio ... He now has 15 TD catches among his 100 career receptions — an average of one TD for every 6.7 catches ... Also owns one rushing TD — on a 2-yard run vs. Vikings at Milwaukee as a rookie (Nov. 11, 1984) ... Tight End Coach Virgil Knight, pleased with West's consistency as well as his effort level, says of him, "Ed's an excellent blocker and a decent receiver — he's a good, solid football player ... Ed is like fine wine — he keeps getting better with age" ... A durable and dependable performer ever since crashing the Green Bay roster as a free agent in '84, West became the nominal starter for the first time in '87, playing in all 12 games and starting 11 (all but the opener vs. the Raiders Sept. 13) ... Earlier started first four games in '86 before giving way to Dan Ross, then later started two more games (vs. Bears Nov. 23 and vs. Lions Nov. 27) when Ross was sidelined by illness ... Spiced the latter with the longest touchdown reception of his career to date — a 46-yard collaboration with Randy Wright which was the Packers' only TD of the afternoon ... Had a remarkable success ratio as a rookie, collecting 4 TDs on just 6 receptions, and scoring a fifth on his only pro rushing attempt to date ... Overall, he handled the football 7 times and scored 5 TDs ... Also shared third place in solo tackles on special teams that season with 15.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and four-year letterman at Auburn ... Family and child development major, with minor in counseling education.

PERSONAL: Given name Edward Lee West III ... Nicknames: "Monk" and "Toolbox" ... Born in Colbert County, AL ... 68 Blaise Winter

DEFENSIVE LINE • SYRACUSE • 6TH YEAR

HT: 6-4 • WT: 282 • BORN: 1/31/62 • (ACQ: T-San Diego, '88)

PRO: Last season, the dedicated Syracuse alumnus underscored the value of the 1988 trade which brought him to Green Bay, stepping in as a starter at left end when an injury sidelined Shawn Patterson and performing at a highly acceptable level ... Playing in all 16 games and starting 10, he made more unassisted tackles (41) than any other member of the defensive line except nose tackle Bob Nelson, his production including 2 quarterback sacks ... Also posted 20 assists and was credited with one pass defended ... Started last 10 games of the season and had his best day, statistically speaking, in Game 14 against Kansas City when he amassed 10 solo tackles ... Registered a sack of Joe Montana and also knocked down one of his passes to help Packers upset the reigning Super Bowl champion 49ers Nov. 19 ... Also sacked Tampa Bay's Vinny Testaverde in 17-16, last play victory over the Buccaneers Dec. 3 ... Defensive Line Coach Greg Blache, impressed with Winter's contributions to the cause, calls the six-year pro "just a very sound, steady and intelligent football player. He's a very hard worker and he has contributed at all three positions in the defensive line over the past two years. He's started games at nose tackle, he's started games at left end and he's started games at right end. He's just really done a fine job for us in the past two years. I just hope he continues to contribute and progress" ... Acquired from the Chargers in a past considerations trade April 28, 1988, Winter not only played in all 16 games that season but started eight — at two different positions — making one start at left end and seven others at nose tackle ... In the process, he registered 5 quarterback sacks to tie Shawn Patterson for team runnerup honors ... Collected 28 solo tackles overall, added 8 assists and paced the defensive platoon's down linemen in pass deflections with 6 ... Also forced one fumble and recovered 2 ... Demonstrated his versatility by starting at left end in Game 2 against Tampa Bay for the injured Patterson (Sept. 11), then opening at nose tackle the next week against the Miami Dolphins following the injury loss of veteran starter Jerry Boyarsky ... Started at "nose" a second time in Game 4 against the Bears, gave way to Bob Nelson a week later because of a neck injury, then returned to the position to start five more games in succession before again being replaced by Nelson ... Also made a contribution on special teams, making one solo tackle and adding 4 assists on the coverage units ... Had started all three replacement games for the Chargers in 1987 during the player strike and spearheaded SD defense, registering 18 unassisted tackles, including 4 sacks for 18 yards in losses ... Previously had been waived in the pre-season ... A former Colt, Winter joined San Diego as a free agent on Nov. 24, 1986 and played in the Chargers' final 4 games, collecting 6 tackles in the process ... Originally selected by the Colts in the second round of the 1984 draft (he was the 35th player chosen), Blaise started 15 games at right end as a rookie and closed out the season as the team's fourth-ranking tackler with 92 (48 solo stops and 44 assists), his total including 2 sacks ... Subsequently was named to all-rookie teams by UPI, PFWA, Pro Football Weekly and Football Digest ... Spent 1985 season on injured reserve because of tendonitis problem in shoulder which required surgery ... Also missed most of '86 season after being waived from IR by Indianapolis following the opening game.

COLLEGE: Co-captain at Syracuse as a senior, when he registered 72 tackles, including 5 sacks ... Also played in Blue-Gray game ... Has degree in physical education.

PERSONAL: Given name Blaise Winter ... Born in Blauvelt, N.Y. ... Married (Angie) ... Participated in football, basketball, wrestling and track for the Tappan Zee High School Dutchmen (Blauvelt, N.Y.) ... An avid auto racing fan, he has worked in Gary Bettenhausen's pit crew for the Indianapolis 500-Mile race in two of the last five years ... Residence: De Pere, WI.

33 Keith Woodside

RUNNING BACK • TEXAS A&M • 3RD YEAR

HT: 6-0 • WT: 200 • BORN: 7/29/64 • (ACQ: D-3, '88)

PRO: Lifting his performance to a new level in his second NFL season, Keith Woodside entrenched himself at the halfback position in Lindy Infante's offense in 1989 ... Fulfilling the coaching staff's expectations of him in the process, he invaded the Packer record book by catching 59 passes, second highest season total by a running back in Green Bay's 71-year history ... Also emerged as Packers' No. 3 rusher with 273 yards in 46 carries and a team-high 5.9-yard average per attempt ... "He's lived up to all of the billings that we thought about him when we drafted him out of (Texas) A&M — that he was a very good receiver coming out of backfield and a back who had run the ball fairly well." Offensive Backfield Coach Willie Peete said in evaluating Woodside's '89 efforts. "Last year, he really blossomed into one of the top receiving backs in the league. I think he finished third in receptions among running backs in the NFL overall (behind the 49ers' Tom Rathman, who had 73, and Keith Byars of the Eagles, who had 68). And, as the season went on, he even became better at running the ball — he had several long runs toward the end of the season. He's really grown as a professional and we hope he will continue to improve. He's very conscientious and he's constantly trying to improve ... Keith's also had a good off-season workout program — he was here for all of it even though he wasn't signed at the time, which tells you how serious he is about wanting to be good" ... Caught at least one pass in each game except in Week 14 against Kansas City (Dec. 10) and twice had 6 receptions — vs. Tampa Bay opening day (Sept. 10) and vs. the Rams at Anaheim, CA., (Sept. 24) ... The latter yielded 75 yards, his top receiving yardage total of the season ... Registered Packers' longest run from scrimmage of the year at Chicago (Dec. 17), a 68-yard scoring excursion that staked the Green and Gold to an early lead en route to a 40-28 triumph over the Bears and emerged with the first 100-yard rushing day of his career (116 yards in 10 attempts) ... Also averaged 19.0 yards for 2 kickoff returns ... As a rookie in 1988, the multi-talented Louisianan stepped in as the starter at the "H-Back" position in Game Eight after Kenneth Davis (now a Buffalo Bill) was sidelined by an ankle injury ... Closed out the year as the Packers' No. 3 rusher and receiver, gaining 195 yards rushing in 83 attempts and catching 39 passes for 352 yards ... Also emerged as the team's third-ranking scorer with five touchdowns — 3 rushing and 2 receiving — for 30 points ... Ideally suited to Packer offense as a player who, as Infante puts it, "Can go out there and play in space" ... Also has the size to be an effective blocker, another requirement for an "H-Back" ... Had his best rushing day as a rookie against the Vikings (Oct. 16) — the day Davis was injured and sidelined for the season — rushing for 54 yards in 18 attempts and scoring his first pro touchdown on a 6-yard run in the process ... Also caught 2 passes for 41 additional yards ... Drew his first NFL start the following week against the defending world champion Washington Redskins and made the most of the opportunity ... Led the Packers in both rushing (34 yards in 10 attempts) and receiving (4 catches for 78 yards, including a 49-yard scoring reception) ... Later tied Sterling Sharpe for the most receptions in one game for the '88 season with 8 catches vs. Detroit (Nov. 20) — a total good for 59 yards ... Also employed as a kickoff returner, he averaged 18.1 yards for 19 runbacks.

COLLEGE: Had 109 career receptions at Texas A&M to break the Southwest Conference record (107) by former Packer Donny Anderson of Texas Tech ... Also set a SWC record for receptions by a running back as a senior with 12 for 95 yards vs. Arkansas ... All-SWC selection by UPI ... Industrial education major.

PERSONAL: Given name Keith A. Woodside ... Single ... All-state running back at Vidalia (LA.) High School ... Led the state's runners with 2,000 yards rushing in 9 games his senior year ... Gained 173 yards in the Texas Riverside Bowl vs. the Mississippi All-Star team ... Born in Natchez, MS. ... Hometown: Vidalia, LA.

46 Vince "Pookie" Workman

RUNNING BACK • OHIO STATE • 2ND YEAR

HT: 5-10 • WT: 195 • BORN: 5/9/68 • (ACQ: D-5B, '89)

PRO: Characterized as "a surprise" by Offensive Backfield Coach Willie Peete as a rookie in 1989, Vince Workman punctuated his baptismal NFL season by setting a Packer record for most kickoff returns by a rookie with 33 ... Emerged as the Packers' kickoff return leader (based on the customary minimum of one KOR per game), averaging 16.6 yards a runback ... His production included Green Bay's longest return of the season, a 46-yard excursion against the Rams at Anaheim, CA., Stadium Sept. 24 ... Also rushed 4 times for a net of 8 yards, scoring his first touchdown as a professional on a one-yard run against the Detroit Lions at the Pontiac, MI., Silverdome Nov. 12 ... Also posted one unassisted tackle on Packers' punt coverage unit ... Played in 15 games, sitting out only the regular season opener against Tampa Bay (Sept. 10) ... "Overall," Peete says of the former Ohio State standout, "with the things we're looking for at tailback, Vince sort of fits that mold" ... A fifth round selection in 1989, Workman became a Packer through a choice Green Bay acquired in a draft day trade with the Washington Redskins.

COLLEGE: A 1,000-yard rusher as a sophomore at Ohio State (1,030 yards in 210 carries, a 4.9 average), he gained 1,882 yards in 412 carries over his college career and caught 54 passes for 584 yards, including 26 for 354 yards in 1987, when he emerged as the Buckeyes' No. 2 receiver ... Ruled ineligible after two games of the 1988 season for having dealings with an agent ... Business major.

PERSONAL: Given name Vincent Workman ... Nickname: "Pookie" ... Father of a son, Vincent Workman III ... Two-time all-state tailback at Dublin, OH., High School ... Also named to Parade All-America team as a senior after rushing for 1,793 yards and 41 touchdowns ... Gained 4,070 yards with 68 TDs during his three-year career ... Also lettered in track ... Favorite pastimes: Basketball, dancing and video games ... Residence: Dublin, OH.

64 George Yarno

CENTER/GUARD • WASHINGTON ST. • 11TH YEAR

HT: 6-2 • WT: 282 • BORN: 8/12/57 • (ACQ: FA, '90)

PRO: An 11-year veteran of the pro football wars, the square-cut Washington State alumnus is expected to be a major contender for starting berth at center ... Yarno, who had helped the Houston Oilers reach the playoffs for a third straight year in 1989, joined the Packers as a Plan B free agent March 29, 1990 ... Counted upon to compete with incumbent Blair Bush and challenger James Campen for primacy at center, he also has played guard and tackle during his 10 previous NFL seasons ... Originally a Tampa Bay Buccaneer, he was left unprotected by the Atlanta Falcons in the first Plan B program in 1989 and signed on with the Oilers, for whom he played in 11 regular season games last season and started three, all at center ... Also played in Houston's AFC wild card playoff appearance against the Pittsburgh Steelers ... A strong and "physical" player, Yarno signed with the Buccaneers as a free agent in 1979 and played in 15 games that rookie season ... With Tampa Bay through the 1983 season, he moved to the USFL's Denver Gold in 1984 and '85, then rejoined the Bucs in 1985 ... Despite playing guard primarily throughout his pro career, he came into the Bucs' camp late that year (August 13) and won the starting job at left tackle ... Started 12 games, missing four while on injured reserve due to strained knee ligaments ... Had earlier started all 18 regular season games for the Gold at guard ... Subsequently started all 16 games at left guard for Tampa Bay in 1986, then played in 11 games there in '87 while also serving as the Bucs' backup long snapper ... Signed with Atlanta in 1988 following release by Tampa Bay and played in all 16 regular season games, starting five at center ... Four of the latter came in consecutive games against the Giants, Eagles, Packers and Chargers ... Originally became a Buccaneer (May 10, 1979) after being coached by then TB coach John McKay in Challenge Bowl all-star game ... While practicing for that game, he was moved from college position of defensive line to offensive line by McKay.

COLLEGE: Was four-year starter and three-year letterman at Washington State, compiling 232 total tackles (5th highest in Cougar history) on 149 solos and 83 assists ... Also made four fumble recoveries ... Earned UPI All-West Coast honors as a senior ... Had been moved to defensive tackle as a senior after playing nose guard ... Earned B.A. degree in criminal justice.

PERSONAL: Given name George Anthony Yarno ... Born in Spokane, WA ... Married (Cindy) and father of two sons (Joshua, born 11/16/79 and George, born 1/6/84) and daughter (Adrienne, born 4/29/81) ... Attended Anchorage, Alaska East and Spokane's Joel E. Ferris High Schools ... Lettered in football, baseball and wrestling ... Brother, John, was center for Seattle Seahawks from 1977-82 ... Owns and operates a sporting goods store (Yarno Sport Center) in Spokane ... Contributes considerable time to American Heart Association, Organ Donor Association, Multiple Sclerosis and March of Dimes causes ... Lists favorite movie as "Animal House" and favorite book as "The Stand" ... Favorite pastimes: Skiing, fishing, camping, bicycling.

JUST FOR THE RECORD

Founded as a town team in 1919, the Green Bay Packers reach another milestone in this, their 72nd season. The first game they play — their pre-season opener against the Cleveland Browns in Lambeau Field Saturday evening, August 11 — will be the 1,200th game in their history.

They begin 1990 action with an all-time winning percentage of .573 for their 71 seasons, based on 663 victories compared to 489 losses and 47 ties in the 1,199 games they have played to date.

Only two other teams in professional football, the Chicago Bears and Phoenix (formerly Chicago and St. Louis) Cardinals, have played more than 1,000 games.

The Draftees

The following players were selected by the Packers in the 1990 National Football League draft. The players appear in the order of their selection.

TONY BENNETT • 23 • LB • Mississippi
 Ht.: 6-2 • Wt.: 233 • Born: July 1, 1967 • D-1A

One of the best kept secrets in college football ... Well-known by opposing coaches in the Southeastern Conference for his thunderous tackles and big play abilities, he made a strong impression on Packer veterans during the team's first mini-camp in early May with his speed and quickness ... "He puts you in a mind of (Cornelius) Bennett," fullback Michael Haddix says of the talented newcomer. "It's been a long time since I've seen a backer with that kind of speed and quickness and strength" ... Guard Billy Ard, a Super Bowl veteran, opined, "He's got everything — he reminds me of a taller Hugh Green" ... Tony, a team leader at Ole Miss, has been clocked at under 4.6 seconds in the "40," impressive speed for a 233-pound athlete ... Plays as if he is on a "search and destroy" mission ... A coachable athlete who gives 100 percent, both in practice and game situations ... One of the Rebels' strongest players, he bench presses 425 pounds, with a 600-pound squat ... 1989: All-American second team selection by The Poor Man's Guide to the NFL Draft and The Sporting News ... First team All-Southeastern Conference pick by league's coaches and United Press International ... Finished fifth on team with 77 tackles (53 solos), three sacks and 14 stops for 55 yards in losses ... Recovered two fumbles and caused another ... Named SEC Defensive Player of the Week for his performance in a 20-13 victory over Memphis State in season opener, making 15 tackles (9 solos) with a 2-yard sack and 5 quarterback pressures ... Posted 8 stops with a 7-yard sack and a pair of tackles behind the line of scrimmage for minus 5 yards vs. Alabama ... Added 10 tackles vs. Georgia and had 5 hits, including one for a 2-yard loss and recovered a fumble in a 32-28 triumph over Tulane ... 1988: Started all year at right outside linebacker ... Recorded 61 tackles (42 solos) and led team with seven sacks and 13 tackles for 85 yards in losses ... Named SEC Defensive Player of the Week for his performance in a 22-12 victory over Alabama, making 9 tackles with a pair of sacks for minus 12 yards, and a fumble recovery ... In a change of rules prior to the 1988 season, the NCAA determined that a player who returns a blocked extra point into the end zone would be awarded two points ... Tony became the second Division I-A player ever to score a defensive extra point by recovering a blocked conversion vs. Tennessee, raring 92 yards for a score (Southwestern Louisiana safety Thomas King, a Packer draft choice in 1989, was the first, accomplishing that feat vs. Cal-Fullerton) ... 1987: Reserve defensive tackle, playing in nine games ... Finished with 38 tackles (19 solos), a sack and two tackles for minus 9 yards ... Earned a starting job at outside linebacker in spring drills after the season ... 1986: Played in every game as a defensive end, seeing considerable action on the special team units ... Recorded 31 tackles (23 solos).

High School: All-District, All-Conference and second team All-State selection his senior year at Coahoma County (Miss.) High ... Saw action at offensive tackle, fullback, defensive tackle and linebacker ... Recorded 90 tackles and rushed for 350 yards with four touchdowns his final season ... Played in the Mississippi High School All-Star Game ... Lettered three times in football and track ... Set a state record in the discus (158-10) and ranked second in the shot put (54-4).

Personal: Health, Physical Education and Recreation major ... Born in Alligator, Mississippi.

KIRK MAGGIO • 22 • P • UCLA
 Ht: 5-11 • Wt: 157 • Born: Sept. 18, 1967 • D-12

Late bloomer who took over punting chores for Bruins as a senior and quickly established himself as one of the best in the nation at his position ... Saw limited playing time his first three years behind Harold Barkate ... Known for ability to have his kicks downed inside 20-yard line ... Punted 45 times for 2,036 yards (45.24 avg.) in 1989 ... His 45.24 average ranked first in Pac 10 conference and second in nation, and was third highest average in school history ... Had fourth-longest punt in Pac 10 last season, 72 yards vs. Oregon State ... Averaged 53.8 yards on four punts vs. Beavers ... Was third-team All-America choice of AP in '89 ... Tabbed a first-team All-American by College and Pro Football Newsweekly last year ... Also was named first-team All-Pacific 10 Conference ... For his career, had 41.5-yard average (67 punts, 2,779 yards) with a long of 72 yards ... 1988: Served in a number of roles for Bruins in 1988 and demonstrated the ability to take on the job ... For the third consecutive year, he filled the role of 'pooch' punter and averaged 33.8 yards on his four kicks ... Also served as the holder for all of the Bruin place kicks for the second straight year and did another fine job ... His importance in this area was reflected in Alfredo Velasco's success (37 of 43 field goals in two seasons) ... In addition to his other duties, Maggio also served as team's kickoff man in 1988 ... In the winter conditioning program, he led the specialists with his 220-pound clean, his 28.5 -inch vertical leap and his 9.21-foot horizontal jump ... 1987: Averaged 33.2 yards per punt, mostly on coffin-corner kicks ... Punted 13 times, with a long of 41 yards vs. Fresno State ... Against FSU, three of his kicks put the Bulldogs inside their own 15-yard line, including one that rolled to the FSU one and another that rolled to the eight-yard line ... As a holder, he performed flawlessly all season without mishandling any snaps ... Also saw some action on kickoffs ... 1986: Punted a total of five times for a 35.4 average in short-yardage situations ... Of his five kicks, three were downed inside the 10-yard line.

High School: Lettered in football at Calvert Hall College High in Towson, MD. ... Played quarterback as well as handling the punting and place-kicking chores ... Completed 37 of 52 passes for 463 yards, converted 29 of 30 PATs and one of two field goals (37 yards), and averaged 42.3 yards per punt as a senior.

Personal: Born on Sept. 18, 1967 in Baltimore, MD. ... Biggest football thrill is a prep game in which he threw two touchdown passes, kicked a field goal and a PAT and ran for a two-point conversion in an 18-14 victory ... Enjoys drawing and painting ... Has three brothers and two sisters ... Full name is Charles Kirk Maggio ... Design major.

'Lambeau' Has a New Look

Green Bay's legendary Lambeau Field, built in 1957 with a capacity of 32,150, has a new look for the 1990 season. With the completion of an $8,263,000 construction project, which has added 36 private boxes and 1,920 club seats, the 33-year-old structure has taken on a "horseshoe" appearance. The additions have increased the number of private boxes to 108 — 42 on the west side and 66 on the east side — and the stadium's capacity to 59,543.

The theatre-style club seats, a "first" for Lambeau Field, are installed in the south end zone on either side of the scoreboard. They are enclosed and the area is heated and air conditioned. It also is equipped with elevators, concession stands and restrooms.

The latest project marked the sixth major addition to the stadium, all of them underwritten by the Green Bay Packers, Inc. The previous additions increased stadium capacity to 38,669 in 1961, 42,327 in 1963, 50,861 in 1965, 56,155 in 1970 and 57,113 in 1985, the year the first private boxes were constructed.

The cost of the original construction, when the stadium was built in 1957, was $960,000, shared equally by the Packer Corporation and the City of Green Bay. Financed by means of a bond issue, it received voter approval in a referendum conducted April 3, 1956.

The stadium was dedicated as City Stadium on September 29, 1957. It later was renamed Lambeau Field in 1965, following the death of the late E. L. "Curly," Lambeau, founder and first coach of the Packers.

Lambeau Field now is wholly owned by the City of Green Bay, retirement of the original $960,000 indebtedness having been celebrated at a mortgage-burning ceremony in May of 1978.

With the completion of the new additions in July, the Packers have spent more than $20 million on improvements to Lambeau Field and the Packer administration building and training quarters over the past decade.

1989 Season Highlights

- Sept. 17 Down 24-7 at halftime, Packers stage electrifying second half comeback to edge the New Orleans Saints, 35-34, scoring winning touchdown with only 1:26 remaining on a 3-yard pass from Don Majkowski to Sterling Sharpe. Rookie Chris Jacke's conversion provides the decisive point as a capacity crowd sets Lambeau Field rocking. The key play in the climactic drive, which launches what is to become a season-long pattern of come-from-behind performances, is a 23-yard pass to rookie receiver Jeff Query for a critical first down in a 4th-and-17 situation. Majkowski passes for 354 yards as the Packers roll up 490 yards in total offense.
- Sept. 24 Packers, in arrears 38-7 at the intermission, mount one of the most massive comebacks in team history. They close to 38-31 with 11 minutes to play and are on the verge of a tie when foiled by a lost fumble at the Rams' one-yard-line. The revived Rams rebound with a field goal before the Packers sweep 79 yards to a final touchdown in falling short, 41-38, at Anaheim Stadium. Majkowski registers his second consecutive 300-yard passing game (335 yards on 25 completions in 43 attempts) and Sharpe gains a career-high 164 yards on 8 receptions.
- Oct. 1 Continuing their come-from-behind heroics, Packers rally from 21-6 deficit at third quarter's end to shade the Atlanta Falcons, 23-21, in Milwaukee County Stadium and square their record at 2-2. Major items in a 17-point final period resurgence are a 5-yard scoring run with a fumble by Sharpe, who scoops up ball after it is jarred loose from Query's grasp; a 37-yard Majkowski scoring pass to Herman Fontenot down the right sidelines; and a 22-yard field goal by Jacke with 1:42 remaining which provides the winning points. Majkowski passes for 295 yards and Brent Fullwood paces a 153-yard ground game with 84 yards in 19 attempts.
- Oct. 8 Brent Fullwood rushes for 119 yards (in 28 attempts) to key a 189-yard ground attack and quarterback Don Majkowski posts his third 300-passing performance in four games to lead the Packers to a 31-13 victory over the Dallas Cowboys, making their first Green Bay appearance since the famed "Ice Bowl" championship game 22 years earlier (December 31, 1967). Again, the Packers have to come from behind, a 79-yard scoring pass from Majkowski to Sterling Sharpe putting Green Bay out in front to stay after the Cowboys had claimed a 13-10 second quarter lead. Majkowski hits on 21 of 32 pass attempts for 313 yards.
- Oct. 22 Packers forge 20-20 tie with Dolphins on 10-yard Don Majkowski pass to Sterling Sharpe with 53 seconds to play, then bow 23-20 as Miami scores on Pete Stoyanovich field goal with just six seconds remaining on the Joe Robbie Stadium clock.
- Nov. 5 In one of the most dramatic finishes in the team's history, Don Majkowski fires 14-yard strike to Sterling Sharpe in the heart of the end zone for tying touchdown with only 32 seconds to play and Chris Jacke kicks decisive extra point for 14-13 victory over the Bears. The play is first negated by the officials, ruling Majkowski's throw had come from beyond the line of scrimmage, but instant replay official subsequently reverses the call and rules it a touchdown, triggering thunderous jubilation in Lambeau Field. Majkowski completes 23 of 40 passes for 299 yards overall, employing nine different receivers in the process. Majkowski's 24-yard pass to Clint Didier had produced the Packers' initial touchdown in the first quarter.
- Nov. 19 Packers surprise the defending Super Bowl champion 49ers in their own Candlestick Park, dealing the Prospectors a 21-17 defeat with the aid of two rushing touchdowns by Don Majkowski (a 2-yard run in the first quarter and an 8-yard quarterback draw early in the fourth period which stakes the Packers to a 21-14 lead). The Packers' other TD comes on a 4-yard pass to Sterling Sharpe in the second quarter; Robert Brown and Mark Murphy contribute late defensive heroics to preserve the victory, Brown sacking Joe Montana for a 9-yard loss on the Niners' final drive and Murphy making a lunging, last-second deflection of a fourth-down pass intended for Jerry Rice to end their eleventh hour bid. It is the second and last defeat San Francisco suffers en route to a second straight Super Bowl victory.
- Nov. 26 Packers, avenging earlier loss to Minnesota, edge the Vikings at County Stadium, 20-19, to pull even with the NFC Central Division leaders in the standings. Don Majkowski's 9-yard pass to Sterling Sharpe at the 4-minute mark of the final period assures the victory. It gives Packers a 20-16 advantage, subsequently narrowed to one point by a 19-yard Rich Karlis field goal at 6:07 of the quarter. Dave Brown foils Vikings' late bids by intercepting two Wade Wilson passes in the closing minutes. Offensively, Sterling Sharpe sets a personal mark with 10 catches, good for 157 yards.
- Dec. 3 Packers stage another "miracle" finish, Chris Jacke climaxing a 62-yard drive by kicking a 47-yard field goal on the final play to shade the Buccaneers, 17-16, in Tampa Stadium. The Bucs had gone ahead with only 1:35 left on a 36-yard field goal by Donald Igwebiuku. Don Majkowski earlier throws 21 and 55-yard scoring passes to Sterling Sharpe for the Packers' first two touchdowns.
- Dec. 17 Leading by only 30-28 in the fourth quarter, the Packers mount a time-consuming, 17-play, 83-yard drive to an "insurance" touchdown, scored by Don Majkowski on a one-yard run around Green Bay's right flank, to complete the first sweep of their season series with the Bears since 1981. Scott Stephen, whose interception of a Jim Harbaugh pass at the Green Bay 9-yard-line prefaced the decisive march, later races 76 yards with a Harbaugh fumble to set up a 21-yard Jacke field goal which closes the scoring and seals a 40-28 Green Bay win in Chicago's Soldier Field. Stephen's run also sets a Packer record. Keith Woodsie launches the afternoon in explosive fashion, breaking off left tackle early in the first quarter and racing 68 yards to a touchdown. He closes out the day with the first 100-yard rushing day of his career (116 yards in 10 attempts). The Packer defense, meanwhile, intercepts Harbaugh three times, Mark Lee and Burnell Dent joining Stephen in this category.
- Dec. 24 Packers close out with best record in 17 seasons (10-6), beating the Cowboys for the second time — by 20-10 in this season finale. Locked in a 10-10 tie in the third quarter following Jack Del Rio's 57-yard scoring run with a Packer fumble, the Packers move on top to stay with a 62-yard drive late in the period, Majkowski hitting tight end Ed West with a 5-yard scoring pass at 12:07 of the quarter. Chris Jacke later settles the issue with a 24-yard field goal at 11:36 of the fourth quarter. Perry Kemp plays a major role in the victory with six catches for 85 yards, Sterling Sharpe weighing in with 5 for 72. Rookie Jeff Query registers the Packers' first TD on a 14-yard Majkowski pass in the second quarter of the Texas Stadium contest.

PACKERS STILL OWN A SHARE OF HIGHEST SCORING 'MONDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL' GAME

The Packers still own a share—the winning share—of the highest scoring game in the history of "Monday Night Football," ABC-TV's 18-year-old prime time series. On October 17, 1983, they delighted a Lambeau Field house of 52,555 fans by edging the Washington Redskins in an explosive struggle, 48-47.

The Packers eventually prevailed over the Redskins—reigning Super Bowl champions then as they are in 1988—by way of a Jan Stenerud field goal. The scoring orgy produced 11 touchdowns, 11 conversions and 5 other field goals, Stenerud's 20-yard success with only 54 seconds remaining deciding the issue. The Redskins' Mark Moseley added a final, dramatic flourish by missing a 39-yard field goal attempt on the game's last play.

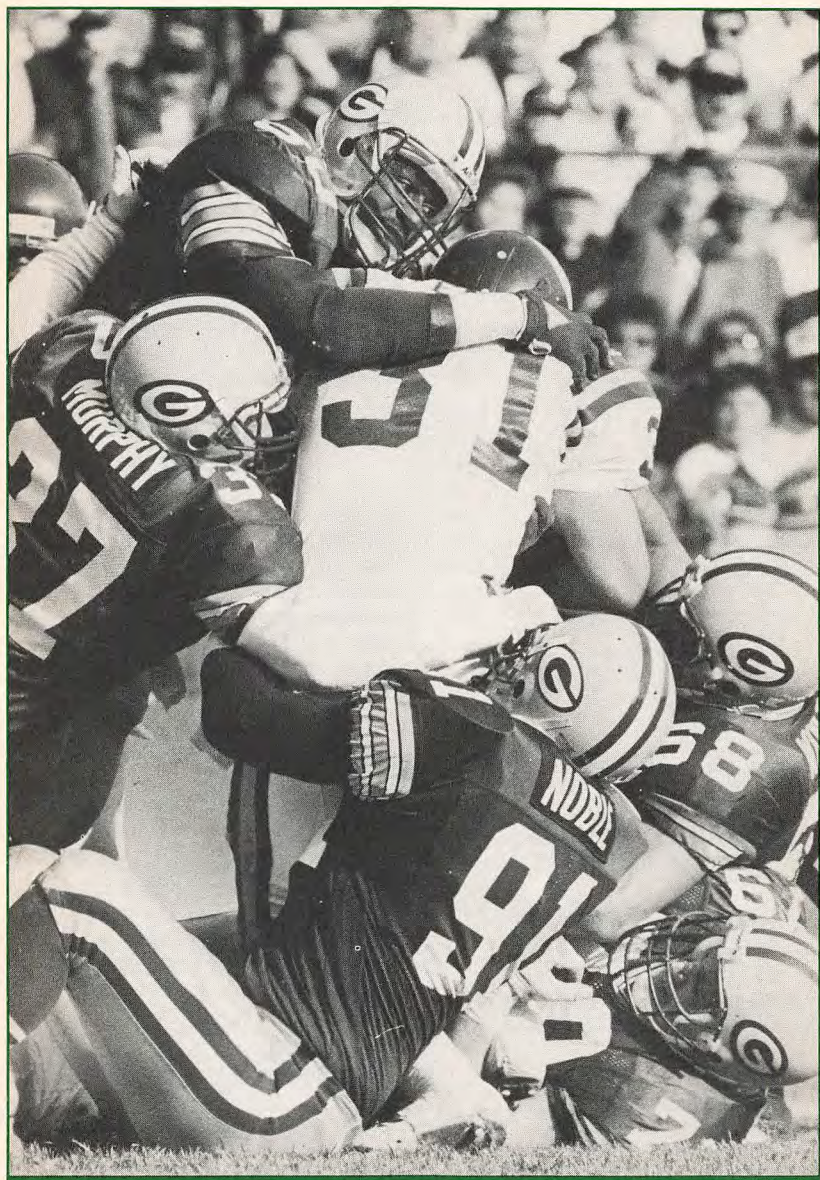

The 95-point production surpassed the previous "Monday Night Football" record for total points by 11. The latter had been established Dec. 20, 1982, when the San Diego Chargers outscored the Cincinnati Bengals, 50-34.

The contest also was the highest scoring game in which the Packers ever have been involved. The 95 points exceeded by eight the previous mark of 87, set when Green Bay lost to the Lions at Detroit in 1951, 52-35.

The Packer record on "Monday Night Football:"

- 1970 — Packers 22, Chargers 20 (at San Diego, Oct. 12)
- 1970 — Colts 13, Packers 10 (at Milwaukee, Nov. 9)
- 1971 — Packers 14, Lions 14 (at Milwaukee, Nov. 1)
- 1971 — Falcons 28, Packers 21 (at Atlanta, Nov. 22)
- 1972 — Packers 24, Lions 23 (at Detroit, Oct. 16)
- 1973 — Packers 23, Jets 7 (at Milwaukee, Sept. 17)
- 1973 — Forty Niners 20, Packers 6 (at San Francisco, Nov. 26)
- 1974 — Bears 10, Packers 9 (at Chicago, Oct. 21)
- 1975 — Broncos 23, Packers 13 (at Denver, Sept. 29)
- 1977 — Redskins 10, Packers 9 (at Washington, Nov. 21)
- 1979 — Packers 27, Patriots 14 (at Green Bay, Oct. 1)
- 1982 — Packers 27, New York Giants 19 (at East Rutherford, N.J., Sept. 20)
- 1983 — Giants 27, Packers 3 (at East Rutherford, N.J., Sept. 26)
- 1983 — Packers 48, Redskins 47 (at Green Bay, Oct. 17)
- 1983 — Packers 12, Buccaneers 9 (OT) (at Tampa Bay, Dec. 12)
- 1984 — Broncos 17, Packers 14 (at Denver, Oct. 15)
- 1985 — Bears 23, Packers 7 (at Chicago, Oct. 21)
- 1986 — Bears 25, Packers 12 (Sept. 22)

Packers won 7, lost 10, tied 1.

Super Bowl I January 15, 1967

Memorial Coliseum, Los Angeles, Calif.

Paid Attendance: 61,946

Green Bay 35, Kansas City 10

The Packers launched the Super Bowl series by whipping Kansas City's American Football League champions 35-10 behind the passing of Bart Starr, the receiving of Max McGee and a key interception by all-pro safety Willie Wood.

Vince Lombardi's repeating NFL champions broke open the game with three second-half touchdowns, the first of which was set up by Wood's 50-yard return of an interception to the Chief's 5-yard line with the Packers leading by only 14-10. The pass, authored by the Chiefs' Len Dawson, had been intended for Kansas City tight end Fred Arbanas.

McGee, filling in for ailing Boyd Dowler (injured on the Packers, first offensive series) after having caught only three passes all season, snared seven from Starr for 138 yards and two touchdowns. Elijah Pitts ran for two other scores counting one on a 5-yard run in the third quarter and the other on a one-yard bolt in the final period.

The Chiefs' 10 points came in the second quarter; the only touchdown on a seven-yard pass from Dawson to Curtis McClinton.

Starr completed 16 of 23 passes for 250 yards and 2 touchdowns and was chosen the game's most valuable player. His scoring strikes came on a 37-yard collaboration with McGee in the first quarter and a 13-yard pitch to the aging end in the decisive third period.

The Packers collected $15,000 per man and the Chiefs $7,500 apiece — the largest single-game shares in the history of team sports.

Super Bowl II January 14, 1968

Orange Bowl, Miami, Florida

Paid Attendance: 75,564

Green Bay 33, Oakland 14

Having acquired a third consecutive NFL championship just two weeks earlier, the Packers embellished that record-tying parlay by winning the Super Bowl title for the second straight year. This time, they dispatched the AFL champion Raiders, 33-14, in a game that drew the first $3 million gate in football history.

Bart Starr again was chosen the game's most valuable player as he completed 13 of 24 passes for 202 yards and one touchdown and directed a Packer attack that was in control all the way after building up a 16-7 halftime lead.

Don Chandler kicked four field goals (39, 20, 43 and 31 yards), and all-pro cornerback Herb Adderley highlighted the Green Bay scoring with a 60-yard interception return of a Daryle Lamonica pass.

After leading by only 3-0 at the quarter, the Packers padded their margin to 16-7 at halftime by way of three Chandler field goals and a 62-yard scoring pass from Starr to split end Boyd Dowler. They then left the Raiders behind with a 10-point third period, Donny Anderson scoring on a 2-yard run and Chandler with his final field goal.

The game marked the last for Vince Lombardi as Packers coach, ending nine years at Green Bay in which he won six Western Conference championships, five NFL titles and two Super Bowls, a record unprecedented in pro football history.

ELEVEN TIMES WORLD CHAMPIONS

The Green Bay Packers have won more championships — eleven — than any other team in National Football League history. They won their first three by league standing (1929, 1930 and 1931) and eight since the NFL's playoff system was established in 1933 (1936, 1939, 1944, 1961, 1962, 1965, 1966 and 1967). Green Bay also is the only NFL team to win three straight titles, having done it twice (1929-30-31 and 1965-66-67).

In addition, the Packers won the first two Super Bowls (over Kansas City in 1967, 35-10, and over Oakland in 1968, 33-14).

Chicago's Bears rank second with nine NFL titles, followed by the Giants, Lions, Browns and 49ers with four each.

GAME BY GAME

1936 — GREEN BAY 21, BOSTON REDSKINS 6, (Polo Grounds, New York) — Although New York was not represented in the title playoff, the game was played in the Polo Grounds because the Redskins' franchise was being shifted to Washington, D.C., by George Marshall. A turnout of 29,545 saw Don Hutson take a 45-yard touchdown pass from Arnie Herber in the first three minutes, and the Packers were never headed.

1938 — NEW YORK 23, GREEN BAY 17, (Polo Grounds, New York) — The Packers overcame an early 9-0 New York lead, spawned by two blocked punts, but could not hold off the Giants in the second half. The Packers began to close in early in the second period, Arnie Herber capitalizing on a Paul (Tiny) Engebretsen interception by lofting a 50-yard touchdown strike to Carl Mulleneaux, cutting the Giants margin to 9-7.

The Giants shortly converted a mid-field fumble by Packer fullback Eddie Jankowski into a 16-7 lead before Green Bay again trimmed the deficit to two points before the half was over; Clarke

Hinkle crashing over from the 6-inch line following a 66-yard Cecil Isbell pass to Wayland Becker. The Packers then forged in front in opening minutes of the second half for the first and only time in the game; an Engebretsen field goal presenting them with a 17-16 edge. The Giants, however, stormed back with a 61-yard scoring drive, capped by a 35-yard pass from Ed Danowski to Hank Soar. Soar fought his way over the goal line from the 2, with Hinkle clinging to one leg, for what proved to be the winning touchdown. A crowd of 48,120, a play off record, sat in on proceedings.

1939 — GREEN BAY 27, NEW YORK 0, (State Fair Park, Milwaukee) — The Packers made playoff history by scoring first shutout ever registered in NFL championship game. Despite bitter 35 m.p.h. wind, both Arnie Herber and Cecil Isbell passed for touchdowns in leading Green Bay to its fifth world championship before 32,279 fans.

Green Bay mounted a 7-0 halftime lead, by dint of a Herber scoring strike to Milt Gantenbein, and pulled away in the third quarter on a 29-yard field goal by Paul (Tiny) Engebretsen and a long TD pass from Isbell to Joe Laws. The Packers added 10 more points in the fourth quarter on a 42-yard field goal by Ernie Smith and a short scoring run by fullback Eddie Jankowski.

1944 — GREEN BAY 14, NEW YORK 7, (Polo Grounds, New York) — With peerless pass catcher Don Hutson employed primarily as a decoy for the Giant defense, fullback Ted Fritsch emerged the offensive hero of Packers' sixth world title victory.

Fritsch scored both Green Bay touchdowns, one on a 2-yard run in the second quarter and the other on a 26-yard pass-and-run collaboration with Irv Comp in the third. Ward Cuff scored the Giants' touchdown with a one-yard plunge on the first play of the final period. Joe Laws, the Packers' veteran, 34-year-old all-purpose halfback, had a brilliant day, setting a playoff record with three interceptions and claiming ground gaining honors with 74 yards in 13 carries. Attendance: 46,016.

1960 — PHILADELPHIA 17, GREEN BAY 13 (Franklin Field) — Packers erected a 6-0 lead in the second period and were out in front by 13-10 in fourth quarter before yielding to late surge by Eagles, who scored the deciding points on a 5-yard burst by Ted Dean.

Green Bay moved ahead in first quarter on a 20-yard Paul Hornung field goal. Hornung added 23-yard FG in second quarter but Eagles tied it 6-6 on a 35-yard scoring pass from Norm Van Brocklin to Tommy McDonald and edged ahead via Bobby Walston's first conversion. Walston followed with a 15-yard FG for a 10-6 halftime lead.

The Packers stopped Philadelphia at their own four late in the third period, then recaptured lead on a 7-yard TD pass from Bart Starr to Max McGee. A 58-yard kickoff return by Dean, however, ignited Eagles and victory eluded Packers, making their first title game appearance in 16 years. Attendance: 67,325.

1961 — GREEN BAY 37, NEW YORK 0, (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Paul Hornung, on leave from the Army, scored a record tying 19 points to key Packer decimation of Giants in first title game ever played in Green Bay.

A record Packer home crowd of 39,029 watched the Green and Gold erupt for 24 points in the second quarter. In all, the Packers scored seven times against the NFL's top defensive team of 1961, amassing four touchdowns and three field goals. The defense, meanwhile, was proving a devastating complement to the attack, intercepting four Giant passes and recovering one fumble.

Two interceptions, by Ray Nitschke and defensive back Hank Gremminger, set up touchdowns No. 2 and 3 while the fumble recovery by Forrest Gregg led to Hornung's second field goal and a Jess Whittenton interception to Hornung's final FG.

1962 — GREEN BAY 16, NEW YORK 7, (Yankee Stadium, New York) — Out front all the way in a raw, cyclonic setting, Packers weather siege by vengeful Giants in primitive, hand-to-hand struggle. Ray Nitschke proves principal frustration to New Yorkers, seeking redemption for shutout humiliation in '61 title game. His deflection triggers interception to blunt early Giant drive to Green Bay 10. On way to being named game's most valuable player, he also registers two interceptions, one of which led to the Packers' only touchdown of the afternoon. The other set up a 29-yard field goal by Jerry Kramer, whose trio of three-pointers provided eventual margin.

Giants' only TD comes on block of Max McGee punt in Green Bay end zone midway through the third quarter.

A battered Jim Taylor sets playoff record with 31 rushing attempts, good for 85 yards.

1965 — GREEN BAY 23, CLEVELAND 12, (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Field softened by four-inch snow made Packer backs only run harder as Lambeau Field crowd of 50,777 celebrated third championship in five years. Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung amassed 201 yards rushing in rally that overcame Browns' early 9-7 lead.

Packers charged to 7-0 first quarter advantage on 47-yard Bart Starr pass to Carroll Dale and Don Chandler's conversion, but Cleveland moved in front on a 17-yard TD strike from Frank Ryan to Gary Collins and 24-yard Lou Groza field goal.

Green Bay rebounded, however, with 15 and 23 yard FGs by Chandler, the latter following a Willie Wood interception, to claim 13-7 lead subsequently trimmed to a single point by a second Groza FG shortly before the intermission.

Starr settled the issue in third quarter, escorting the Packers on a 90-yard, 11-play scoring drive climaxed by Hornung's 13-yard sweep of Browns' right perimeter.

1966 — GREEN BAY 34, DALLAS 27, (Cotton Bowl, Dallas) — Bart Starr has one of his finest hours, passing for four touchdowns as Packers win second straight title and fourth in six years. Tom Brown thwarts last-minute Cowboy bid, and the majority of 74,152 Cotton Bowl fans, with end zone interception of Don Meredith's fourth down pass from Green Bay 2.

Packers mounted quick 14-0 lead on a 17-yard Starr pass to Elijah Pitts and 18-yard scoring run with a fumble recovery by rookie Jim Grabowski.

Packer NFC Playoff History

but led only 21-17 at halftime following explosive Cowboy comeback. After a 32-yard Villanueva field goal had cut Packer lead to a tenuous 21-20, Starr hit Dowler and McGee with 16-yard scoring passes to provide a cushion against the Cowboys' late surge.

1967 — GREEN BAY 21, DALLAS 17, (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — With thermometer shuddering at 16 below zero and 50,861 in stands, Bart Starr scores winning touchdown from one-yard-line with 13 seconds remaining, sealing record third straight championship for Packers and their fifth in seven years.

Starr's touchdown, on third down with no timeouts remaining, climaxed a 68-yard drive in 12 plays.

As was case in 1966, Packers grabbed early 14-0 advantage. But this time Cowboys came from behind to take the lead, forcing story book finish by Green Bay to win contest later voted the greatest game in pro football history.

Starr's touchdown passes of 8 and 46 yards to Boyd Dowler built the first quarter bulge, trimmed in second quarter by George Andrie's 7-yard scoring return of a Starr fumble and 21-yard Danny Villanueva field goal. Dan Reeves' 50-yard scoring strike to Lance Rentzel in the fourth quarter triggered the dramatic denouement.

1972 DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF

WASHINGTON 16, GREEN BAY 3 (Robert F. Kennedy Stadium, Washington, D.C.) — Chester Marcol's 17-yard field goal early in the second quarter puts the Packers out front but a Bill Kilmer-to-Roy Jefferson touchdown pass late in the same period gave the Redskins a lead they never yielded. Curt Knight kicked three field goals to provide the Redskins' other points before a crowd of 52,321 fans on Sunday afternoon, December 24. John Brockington, the Packers' 1,000-yard rusher, had to settle for nine yards on 13 carries as the Redskins used a five-man defensive line to shut down Green Bay's running game.

1983 SUPER BOWL TOURNAMENT

1983—GREEN BAY 41, ST. LOUIS 16 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Making their first post-season appearance in Lambeau Field since celebrated "Ice Bowl" game of 1967 against Dallas, Packers halt Cardinal drive at one-yard-line in first quarter then proceed to forge an all-time club scoring record in their opening Super Bowl Tournament contest following 1982 season.

Out front 21-3 at halftime, they pad lead to 41-9 in fourth quarter before permitting Cards a consolation touchdown. Quarterback Lynn Dickey ties Packer playoff record before 54,282 fans by passing for 4 touchdowns (17 of 23 for 260 yards and 0 intercepts overall) and flanker John Jefferson sets club postseason mark with 148 receiving yards on 6 catches, including a 60-yard TD reception, another Packer playoff record. Placekicker Jan Stenerud also establishes a club playoff mark with a 46-yard field goal.

1983—DALLAS 37, GREEN BAY 26 (Texas Stadium, Irving, TX) — Packers amass 466 yards, a team playoff record, but are unable to overcome slow start, which finds them trailing 20-7 at halftime. They roll up 363 yards and out-score Cowboys 19-17 in second half, pulling within four points (30-26) on a 23-yard scoring runback of an interception by Mark Lee in fourth quarter, but Cowboys retaliate with 74-yard scoring drive to end Green Bay hopes with 63,972 fans looking on.

Quarterback Lynn Dickey throws for 332 yards (19-for-36) and all-time Packer playoff record in losing cause, split end James Lofton emerging with 109 yards on 5 receptions. Lofton also spices Packers' second half comeback with 71-yard reverse for a TD, tying all-time NFL playoff record for a run from scrimmage.

Don Majkowski's 4,318 yards passing and 27 touchdown passes in 1989 represent the second highest single season totals in Packer history, ranking behind only the 4,458 yards and 32 TD passes by Lynn Dickey in 1983.

Packers No. 1 In Postseason

The Green Bay Packers continue to own the best winning percentage in postseason in National Football League history. They have won 13 of 18 playoff games since making their first postseason appearance in the 1936 league championship game (in which they defeated the Boston Redskins 21-6) for a .722 percentage. The Pittsburgh Steelers and San Francisco 49ers are next up with .652 percentages, based on identical 15-8 playoff records. The all-time standings:

Terdell Middleton

Those who have registered 1,000-yard rushing seasons in the Packers' 71-year history form an exclusive fraternity. Four players have turned the trick, with Terdell Middleton becoming the most recent to join the elite when he amassed 1,116 yards in 284 carries, the latter an all-time, Packer single season record. The other members of the quartette are Jim Taylor, who posted five consecutive 1,000-yard rushing seasons from 1960 through 1964; John Brockington, who had three straight 1,000-yard campaigns (1971-72-73) and Tony Canadeo, who gained 1,052 yards in 1949 to become the Packers' very first 1,000-yard rusher. Taylor holds the Packer single season record, 1,407 yards, established in 1962.

PACKERS vs. PROFESSIONAL ALL-STARS (Record 1-0)

(Played at Los Angeles)
 1939—Packers 16; All-Stars 7

In 1989, Sterling Sharpe became the first Packer to lead the National Football League in receiving since 1945, when the fabled Don Hutson captured league honors. Sharpe's 90 receptions eclipsed Hutson's Packer single season record (74 in 1942) in the process.

Packer Pro Hall Of Famers

1963 — E. L. (Curly) Lambeau, Founder, player, coach, vice-president (1919-49). Founded Packers in 1919 and served as team's only coach through 1949 season. Also played halfback from '19 through '27, a period during which he pioneered forward pass in professional football. Led Packers to six world championships and is one of only five coaches to record more than 200 coaching victories in the NFL, (others are George Halas, Paul Brown, Don Shula and Tom Landry). Also coached Chicago Cardinals (1950-'51) and Washington Redskins (1952-'53).

1963 — Johnny (Blood) McNally, HB (1928-'36). Also played for Milwaukee Badgers, Duluth Eskimos, Pottsville Maroons, Pittsburgh Steelers. An elusive runner and gifted pass receiver, he played major role in Packers' drive to first three championships in 1929, '30 and '31. Also helped Packers win a fourth world title in '36. Still 16th place in Packer lifetime scoring, four decades after departing Green Bay scene, with 224 points. Collegiate star at St. Thomas.

1963 — Don Hutson, E (1935-'45). Highest scoring receiver in pro football history with 99 touchdowns, all-time NFL record. Credited with inventing pass patterns, he led league in receiving 8 years and in scoring 5 seasons, both also lifetime marks. Caught passes in 95 consecutive games, one of the longest streaks in pro football history. Led NFL in receiving yards in 7 seasons, an all-time record. Also holds league record for most points scored in one quarter (29).

1963 — Robert (Cal) Hubbard, T-E (1929-'35). Also played for New York Giants, Pittsburgh Steelers. A legendary athlete, he was one of pro football's first genuine giants — a massive 6 ft. 3 inch, 265 pounder who was a devastating blocker on offense and relentless pursuer on defense as a premier, two-way performer. Was an all-pro choice in each of first three years (1931, '32, '33) such selections were made. Played college football at Centenary, Geneva.

1964 — Clarke Hinkle, FB (1932-'41). A four-time all-pro selection (1936, '37, '38, '41) ... One of the most versatile players in NFL annals, he was tough, bruising runner, fine blocker, good receiver and excellent placekicker as well as a shrewd, hard-hitting linebacker. Fourth-ranking rusher in Packer history with 3,860 yards in 1,171 carries. Played college football at Bucknell.

1964 — Mike Michalske, G (1929-'37). Also played for New York Yankees (1927-'28) before joining Packers. Rated one of game's greatest guards during pro football's "two-way" era. Two-time all-pro selection (1931 and 1935). A true 60-minute player, he was known as "Iron Mike" because of his great stamina and durability. Best asset was exceptional quickness, which made him equally effective on both offense and defense. Played college football at Penn State.

Packer Pro Hall Of Famers

1966 — Arnie Herber, HB (1930-'41). Also played for New York Giants (1944-'45). Pro football's first great long passer. Won three National Football League passing titles and was all-pro selection in 1932. Teamed with Don Hutson to form NFL's first feared passing combination in mid-'30s. Shares fourth place in lifetime passing efficiency in Packer annals with 50.06 percentage for 9 seasons and ranks fifth in career touchdown passes with 51. Tough, durable athlete and accomplished punter as well as great passer. A Green Bay native, he played college football at Regis (Denver, Colo).

1971 — Vince Lombardi, Coach and General Manager (1959-'67). Also assistant coach for New York Giants (1954-'58) and head coach of Washington Redskins (1969). Directed Packers to five NFL championships in seven years (1961-'62 and 1965-'66-'67), a feat without precedent or parallel in pro football history. His 1966 and 1967 teams also made history by winning first two Super Bowls. Packers won nine of 10 playoff games under his leadership and overall, compiled a 98-30-4 record, a glittering, 766 winning percentage. Lombardi, a guard, played his college football at Fordham, where he was one of the legendary "Seven Blocks of Granite."

1974 — Tony Canadeo, HB (1941-'44, 1946-'52). Became only the third 1,000 yard rusher in pro football history when he gained 1,052 yards in 1952. Still ranks as No. 3 ground gainer in Packer annals with 4,197 yards in 1,025 attempts, a 4.1 average. A durable, all-purpose halfback, he was an accomplished blocker, capable passer and good receiver in addition to being a highly effective kick returner. Also played defensive back during early years of his career. Played college football at Gonzaga, where he acquired nickname of "Grey Ghost."

1976 — Jim Taylor, FB (1958-'66). Also played for New Orleans Saints (1967). One of six running backs in pro football history to rush for 1,000 yards in as many as five consecutive seasons (1960-'64). Also ninth ranking career rusher in NFL annals with 8,597 yards in 10 seasons. Ranks ninth all-time, in number of 100-yard rushing games with 26 and eighth in career rushing attempts with 1,941. Also owns fifth highest lifetime total of rushing TDs, 83. Played college football at LSU.

1977 — Forrest Gregg, T (1956, 1958-'70). Also played with Dallas Cowboys (1971). Drafted No. 2 in 1956. Gregg was named All-Pro eight times (including All-Pro at both Guard and Tackle in 1965) and 9 times to the Pro Bowl. Called by Lombardi the "finest player he'd ever coached." Gregg holds the Packer record for durability with 187 consecutive games. Head Coach of the Green Bay Packers 1984-87. Also served as head coach of Cleveland Browns (1975-77) and Cincinnati Bengals (1980-83). Played college football at SMU, where he now is head football coach.

1977 — Bart Starr, QB (1956-'71). Drafted in 17th round in 1956. Starr became the winningest quarterback in football, directing the Packers to 6 Western Division Titles, 5 World Titles, 2 Super Bowl victories, and was named MVP in Super Bowls I and II. Starr led the League in passing in 1962, 1964 and 1966 and was named to the Pro Bowl 4 times. In 1972 he coached Packer quarterbacks, Head Coach of Green Bay Packers 1975-83. He played college football at Alabama.

Packer Pro Hall Of Famers

1978 — Ray Nitschke, MLB (1958-'72). Drafted in third round in 1957 after playing fullback at Illinois. Most Valuable Player in 1962 NFL Title game vs NY Giants. Named to the NFL All-50 year team. All-Pro in 1964, 1965 and 1966; Pro Bowl 1965.

1980 — Herb Adderley, DB (1961-'69). Also played for Dallas Cowboys (1970-'72). Packers' No. 1 draft choice (Michigan State) in 1961. Five-time all-pro at corner-with back. Played in five Pro Bowls, four of first six Super Bowls (two with Green Bay, two Dallas). Had 48 career interceptions, ran 7 back for TDs (second highest total in NFL history).

1981 — Jim Ringo, C (1953-'63). Also played for Philadelphia (1964-'67). Seventh round draft choice out of Syracuse in 1953. Went on to win all-pro honors six times, five as a Packer, and played in 10 Pro Bowls, seven as a Packer. Highly durable performer, once held NFL record for most consecutive games played (183). Helped Packers win back-to-back NFL titles in 1961-'62. Traded to Philadelphia in 1964. Currently offensive line coach for New York Jets.

1981 — Willie Davis, DE (1960-'69). Also played for Cleveland (1958-'59). A 17th round draft choice, he came to Packers from Browns in 1960 trade. Became one of premier pass rushers in pro football history, winning all-pro honors six times and selection to Pro Bowl five times. Holds all-time Packer record for career fumble recoveries (21) and second longest consecutive game streak (162) in Green Bay annals. Helped Packers win five NFL titles during 1960s. Played college football at Grambling.

1986 — Paul Hornung, HB (1957-'62, 1964-'66). One of the most versatile players in pro football history, he won NFL scoring title three consecutive years (1959-60-61), setting all-time league record of 176 points in 1960. Also shares league single game playoff scoring record, 19 points. All-pro selection three times and named to Pro Bowl twice. Averaged 4.1 yards per rush, caught 130 passes and kicked 66 field goals during 9-year career. Second ranking scorer in Packer history with 760 points. Bonus choice (first player selected overall) in 1957 NFL draft. Played college football at Notre Dame, winning Heisman Trophy in 1956.

1989 — Willie Wood, FS (1960-'71). Wrote several NFL teams asking for a tryout, coming out of USC in 1960, before Packers agreed to take a look and signed him as a free agent. Went on to become recognized as a premier free safety, winning all-NFL honors seven times in an eight-year span beginning in 1964 and continuing, except for 1969, through his final 1971 season. A Pro Bowl selection eight times (1962 through 1970), Wood also played in six NFL championship games, helping Packers win five titles. Starting free safety for Green Bay in Super Bowls I and II, he broke open a close contest in third quarter of SB I, intercepting a Len Dawson pass and returning 50 yards to the Kansas City five, triggering a 35-10 Packer victory. Had 48 career interceptions, returned for 699 yards. Won NFL title in 1962 with nine thefts and also captured a league punt return crown in 1961 with a 16.1 average. One of only 6 free agents to make Hall of Fame.

BIRTH OF A TEAM AND A LEGEND

On the evening of August 11, 1919, a score or more of husky young athletes, called together by Curly Lambeau and George Calhoun, gathered in the dingy editorial room of the old Green Bay Press-Gazette building on Cherry Street and organized a football team. They didn't know it, but that was the beginning of the incredible saga of the Green Bay Packers.

There had been some preliminary talk and planning and that night's decision wasn't announced until two days later, but the big step had been taken. So August 11 is as good a birthday as any.

Actually the initial spark had been struck a few weeks before during a casual street corner conversation between Curly Lambeau and George Calhoun. It was apparently one of those "Why not get up a football team?" remarks, but once they got interested they wasted no time.

FIRST THEY TALKED Curly's employer at the Indian Packing Company into putting up some money for equipment.

Because the team's jerseys had been provided by the packing company, which also permitted the use of its athletic field for practice, the club was identified in its early publicity as a project of the company. With this tie-in the name "Packers" was a natural, and Packers they have been ever since, although the corporation had practically faded out of the picture before that first season was half over.

That first season the team won 10 games and lost only one against other teams from Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Games were played in an open field with no fences or bleachers, and interested fans "passed the hat." But the team was so successful by 1921 that Lambeau was backed by two officials of the packing plant in obtaining a franchise in the new national pro-football league that had been formed in 1920. Cash customers didn't quite pay the freight and at the end of the season it had to be forfeited.

THIS WAS the first in a long series of troubles that the now famous team overcame, for in 1922 Lambeau gained other backers and bought the franchise back for $250. Troubles continued during that season. One game was rained out and the insurance company wouldn't pay off because the official amount of rain was one one-hundredth of an inch short of that required in the policy.

Another storm late in the season when the Packers were scheduled to play the Duluth Eskimos, however, proved the founding of the modern community corporation. A.B. Turnbull, general manager of the Green Bay Press-Gazette, told the Packers to play anyway. He then went out and helped organize the businessmen of Green Bay in the support of the team, and the Green Bay Football Corporation was formed.

FROM THOSE MODEST and somewhat tenuous beginnings, the Packers have gone on to earn national stature and virtual world-wide recognition by winning more championships (eleven) over the intervening half-century than any other team in professional football.

The fact that these achievements have come while representing a city of only 90,000 inhabitants, in competition with the country's population giants, has endeared them to the nation's football fans, many of whom are intrigued by the David vs. Goliath concept and the Packers' unique status as a publicly-owned corporation.

INEVITABLY, PROCEDURES at Packer games have come a long way since the sandlot years of 1919-20 when the Pack was subsisting on the contents of George Calhoun's hat. Then there were no ushers, no majorettes, no band and no public address system—the latter hadn't been invented yet, there weren't even any seats at first, and it didn't cost anything to get in.

When the Packers began their existence in 1919, they played on approximately the same site as the now abandoned City (East) Stadium, but with a mighty difference. Hagemester Park, as it was called was just a big vacant lot with a football gridiron marked on it.

There were no gates because there wasn't any fence. Spectators just dropped off the Walnut Street streetcar and walked over to the sideline, or drove their own cars and parked about ten yards behind the ropes stretched around the playing field.

If they felt like it they either sat in their automobiles or on top of them, but most preferred to get out and follow the play up and down the field. By moving as the play progressed, you always had a "50-yard line" location and were handy to any donnybrook that might require a little help. In fact, when things got exciting the crowd sometimes spilled right onto the field, surrounded the scrimmage in a big circle and virtually took part in every play. Teams didn't huddle in those days, or the fans would have been in that too.

When the half ended teams grabbed blankets and adjourned to opposite end zones where they relaxed and talked over the tactics of the next half. Nothing private about those huddles. The crowd formed a ring around the players, a practice encouraged since it made a handy wind break. Fans weren't bashful about joining the discussions either, sometimes with surprising results. At least one early game was pulled out of the fire by a spectator's half time suggestion.

In 1920 a section of stands was built—just a small bleacher with a capacity of a couple hundred—on one side of the field, and a fee charged to sit there. The next year a portable canvas fence was erected around the whole field and a regular admission charge inaugurated.

WHEN HAGEMEISTER Park was dug up in 1923 to make way for East High School, the Packers shifted to the new baseball grounds out on the end of Main Street. This was called Bellevue Park because it was just east of the old Hagemeister Brewery, which was renamed the Bellevue Products Co. during Prohibition. Things were Big Time out there, with crowds of 4,000 to 5,000 storming the fences to boo the hated Chicago Bears.

The Packers used Bellevue in 1923-24, but it was obviously inadequate and too far out, lacking about every facility needed for football. Agitation to build a new stadium somewhere near the original site culminated in the erection of old City Stadium just back of the new high school.

The new plant was barely completed in time for the 1925 opening, but was an immediate success, the Bear game that year drawing a record crowd of nearly 6,000. It was a typical small town park of its day, with wooden fences and stands on both sides, between the 30-yard lines. Seating capacity was gradually increased until it seated 15,000 by 1934, with the end zones still uncovered. With the filling in of the area around the end lines the ultimate capacity of 25,000 was reached.

AFTER WORLD WAR II, City Stadium gradually faded from its once proud position as one of the favored fields in the National Football League to an inadequate and obsolete installation. As pro crowds increased it was impossible to expand the stadium any further. With limited capacity, the Packers found it increasingly difficult to schedule top opponents at home. September 29, 1957 was a proud day for Green Bay and its Packers. A million dollar modern stadium with a seating capacity of 32,150 was dedicated. In 1961, the Stadium was expanded to 38,669, to 42,327 in 1963, to 50,861 in 1965 when the name was changed to Lambeau Field, 56,155 in 1970, and to 56,926 following the addition of private boxes in 1985.

The Packers' colorful saga, spanning 70 years, can be roughly divided into eight chapters. They take us from the "Iron Man" period of the first decade under founder Curly Lambeau to the present day, which finds Lindy Infante presiding as the tenth head coach in the team's history.

THE IRON MAN ERA—With good financial backing, Lambeau began to pick up college stars from all over the country, plus some unknowns who were going to turn out to be "greats." And in 1929 Green Bay won the national professional football championship. They repeated in 1930 and 1931 with a team featuring such all-time pro greats as Red Dunn, Verne Lewellen, Cal Hubbard, Bo Molenda, Jug Earp, Mike Michalske, Johnny Blood, Bill Kern, Arnie Herber, Clarke Hinkle, Lavvie Dilweg, Tom Nash, Milt Gantenbein and Hank Bruder. Many games 12 or 13 players would go for almost the full 60 minutes. These teams were hailed all over the country as some of the greatest ever.

THE HUTSON PERIOD—Trouble flared again soon afterward. A fan fell from the stands, sued and won a $5,000 verdict and the insurance company went out of business. The Packers went into receivership, were just about to fold, when Green Bay businessmen came to the rescue again, raised $15,000 in new capital and reorganized the club. About this time a rather slight, lanky end by the name of Don Hutson came to the club. From his first game on, Hutson became the terror of the league and the secret of Green Bay's next three championships. With Herber and Cecil Isbell pitching and Hutson catching anything they threw at him despite any kind of a stop-Hutson defense, Green Bay won championships in 1936, 1939 and 1944, and all during the Hutson era they always finished in the first division.

RONZANI REGIME—After Hutson's retirement, Packer fortunes again went into a decline. The disastrous pro football war brought on another financial crisis after the 1949 season. In the midst of it Lambeau resigned to take a position as head coach of the Chicago Cardinals. Then began another major reorganization and rebuilding effort with Gene Ronzani of the Bears hired as head coach. Over $125,000 was raised in a giant stock sale all over the state. Ronzani's teams improved each of the first three seasons until 1952. The Packers were in the thick of the title chase until the last weeks of the season. In 1953 the team played erratic ball and Ronzani resigned with two games remaining on the schedule.

BLACKBOURN TAKES OVER—The Packers overhauled their front office and coaching staff in 1954, hiring Verne C. Lewellen, all-time Packer great, attorney and businessman, as general manager. Reaching into college ranks for a head coach was the next step in the rebuilding plans and Lisle W. Blackbourn, coach of Marquette University, was signed to a contract. During the four-year Blackbourn regime the Packers won 17 while losing 31.

McLEAN MOVES UP—Likable Ray "Scooter" McLean moved up from an outstanding assistant coach to guide the destiny of the Packers for 1958. McLean resigned in December after a 1-10-1 record, worst in Packer history in his lone season as head coach.

THE LOMBARDI ERA—In 1959, the Packers announced the signing of New York Giant assistant Vince Lombardi as head coach and general manager.

In his first season, Lombardi lifted the Packers to a 7-5 record and was unanimously voted Coach of the Year. Then in 1960, the Packers captured the Western Division title and went on to win World Championships in 1961, 1962, 1965, 1966, and 1967. Never finishing lower than second since 1960, his teams became the standard of football excellence and the Packer franchise one of the most successful. Over a nine year span as head coach, Lombardi's teams racked up 141 victories against 39 losses and 4 ties for a remarkable .783 winning percentage. Even more noteworthy, however, is the record of Lombardi coached teams in post-season play. In 10 Division playoffs and World Championship Games, the Packers emerged victorious nine times.

BENGTSON PERIOD—Following the third consecutive title in 1967, Lombardi turned over the head coaching duties to Phil Bengtson and one year later announced that he was leaving Green Bay to coach and manage the Washington Redskins. Bengtson coached the Packers from 1968-1970, compiling a 20-21-1 record, and in December of 1970 resigned.

THE DEVINE DAYS—Dan Devine, one of the three most successful coaches in the nation's collegiate ranks, succeeded Bengtson as head coach and general manager in January of 1971. After settling for a 4-8-2 record during his first season, Devine and the Packers appeared on the road to new heights when 1972 produced a 10-4 record and the team's first Central Division title since 1967. But the Packers' Super Bowl hopes dissolved in the second half of '73 and they slipped to a 5-7-2 mark. They continued their recession in '74, emerging with a 6-8 record, and Devine resigned.

BART STARR — the most successful field general in pro football history as Green Bay's quarterback of the '60s, accepted the challenge to lead the Packers out of the NFL wilderness, agreeing to a three-year contract as head coach and general manager on Dec. 24, 1974. Starr, who led the Packers to five world championships from 1961 through 1967, asked for "the prayers and patience of Packer fans everywhere... We will earn everything else."

Although he had to settle for a 4-10 record in the baptismal season of a massive rebuilding project, Starr gave Packer fans new hope by assembling a sound organization and restoring a positive attitude, underscored by three victories in the last five games of the 1975 season. He continued the resurgent trend in 1976, leading the Packers to a 5-9 record, highlighted by a three-game, mid-season winning streak. Major and key injuries slowed the comeback in 1977 but a strong finish produced a 4-10 mark. Hopes soared in 1978 when the Packers posted their first winning record since 1972, an 8-7-1 record, only to be temporarily dampened in '79 by a record rash of injuries which spawned a 5-11 mark. Another injury epidemic, one which saw 27 players on injured reserve during the course of the season, struck in 1980, forcing the Packers to settle for a 5-10-1 record.

Rebounding strongly in 1981, they rallied from a disappointing 2-6 start to mount one of the most dramatic comebacks in Green Bay history, closing with a 6-2 rush (an 8-8 mark) and coming within one victory of the playoffs.

The Packers continued the upsurge in 1982, when they qualified for the playoffs for the first time since 1972 by posting a 5-3-1 record during a strike-interrupted season. They then embellished that performance by routing St. Louis 41-16 in the first game of the NFL's Super Bowl Tournament before bowing to Dallas (37-26) despite a record-setting, 466-yard offensive effort. Starr was relieved of his head coaching duties on Dec. 19, 1983, after the Packers finished the '83 season with an 8-8 record and missed the NFL playoffs on the final week of the year.

GREGG ERA—On December 24, 1984, Starr was replaced by Forrest Gregg, a former teammate and one of the premier offensive tackles in the history of the game as a player, who had maneuvered Cincinnati into Super Bowl XVI following the 1981 season. Gregg, whose Bengals' 19-6 record over the 1981-82 seasons was the best in pro football, received a five-year contract.

In taking over, he declared, "I took this job to field a winning team ... That will happen."

Gregg's prediction began to bear of fruit in the second half of the 1984 season when the Packers rebounded from an injury-ridden 1-7 start to win seven of their last eight games.

Because of injury and other complications, however, the 1985 season followed the '84 script, the Packers getting off to a slow 3-6 start before mounting a strong finish to again close at 8-8 by winning 5 of their last 7 games.

Gregg, convinced the time had come to rebuild a team which had gone 8-and-8 three years in succession and was "starting to get old" at that level, made sweeping personnel changes in 1986. The young and inexperienced Packers, their task complicated by injuries to such key performers as John Anderson, Tim Lewis, Rich Moran and Mark Cannon, got off to an 0-6 start, then began to mature in mid-season and went on to finish with a 4-and-12 record.

Following the 1987 season, which saw the Packers finish third in the NFC Central with a 5-9-1 record, Gregg resigned (Jan. 15, 1988) to become head coach at his alma mater, Southern Methodist University.

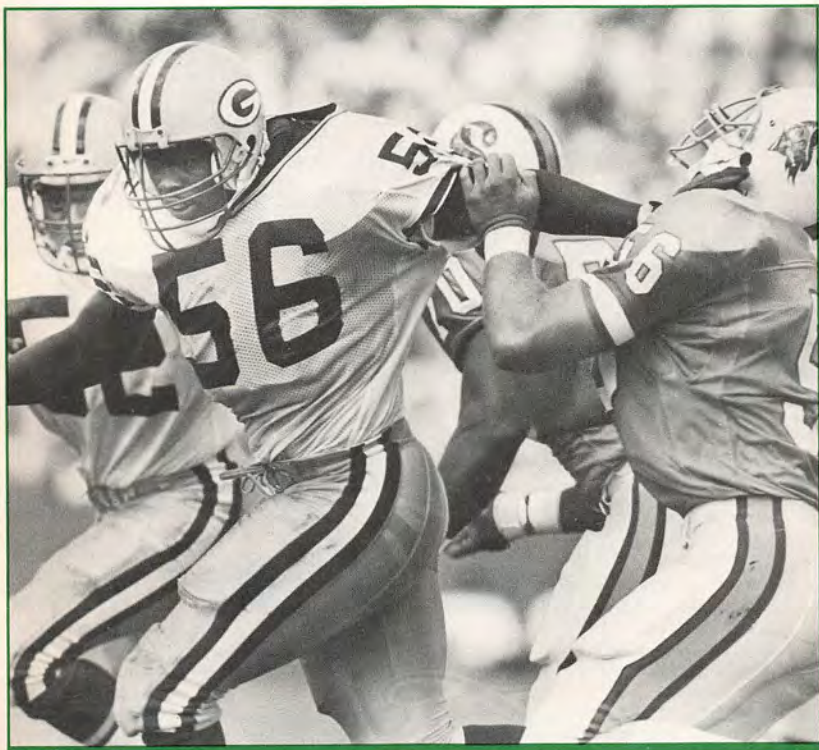

THE PRESENT—Nineteen days later, (Feb. 3), Cleveland Browns offensive coordinator Lindy Infante became the tenth head coach in Packer history. Recognized throughout the NFL as a brilliant innovator, the 47-year-old University of Florida alumnus received a five-year contract.

G The Packer Story

With turnovers and kicking problems plaguing his offense, Infante's first Packer team had to settle for a 4-and-12 record but left fans with hopes for 1989 and the future by winning the last two games to mount a strong finish.

Building upon that positive note, Infante orchestrated a dramatic upsurge in '89, escorting the Packers to a 10-6 record — their best in 17 years — and within one game of the National Football League playoffs, spicing that turnaround with a league-record four one-point victories.

Burnell Dent, one of the Packers' premier special teams performers in 1989, stiff-arms his opposite number, Tampa Bay's Sam Anno (56), as he careens up field on kick coverage against the Buccaneers.

1919 — Packers founded at meeting in editorial rooms of Press-Gazette, August 11.

1921 — J.E. Clair of Acme Packing Company granted National Football League franchise for Green Bay Packers, August 27.

— Packer-Bear series launched at Chicago, Packers losing 20-0 decision to Decatur Staleys, who changed name to Bears in 1922.

1922 — Packers disciplined for using college players under assumed names, Clair turns franchise back to league, Jan. 28. E.L. "Curly" Lambeau promises to obey rules, uses $50 of own money to buy back franchise.

— Bad weather, low attendance plague Packers, merchants raise $2,500, public non-profit corporation set up under direction of A.B. Turnbull to operate team with Lambeau as manager, coach.

1923 — Andrew B. Turnbull is elected first president of Green Bay Football Corporation.

1925 — Packers beat Bears for first time, 14-10, in fourth regular season meeting.

1925 — East (old City) Stadium built, with initial capacity of 6,000.

1927 — Packers surprise "Big Town" skeptics, shut out football Yankees, 13-0, in first New York appearance.

1929 — Packers sign back Johnny "Blood" McNally, tackle Cal Hubbard, guard Mike Michalske and win first National Football League championship, posting unbeaten 13-0-1 record.

1930 — Packers win second straight NFL title, this time with 10-3-1 record.

1931 — Packers capture third consecutive NFL championship, extending unbeaten streak to 23 games, finish 12-2-0.

Packers Own Overtime Mark

The Packers continue to hold the National Football League record for most overtime games played in a season, a mark they set in 1983 when they were involved in five sudden death decisions, winning two and losing three.

In 1987, they augmented their reputation for going the "extra mile," playing in three more overtime contests. After playing all 16 games in the regulation 60 minutes in 1988, they went to sudden death once last season, outlasting the Detroit Lions in overtime at Milwaukee, 23-20, on a 38-yard field goal by Chris Jacke.

The latter swelled the Packers' overall total of sudden death games to 16.

The Packers' three OT adventures of '87 came within a four-game span. The first occurred in Game Two against Denver at Milwaukee September 20, a confrontation which ended in a 17-17 sudden death tie when neither team was able to score in the extra period. The other two sudden death affairs came on consecutive weekends in replacement games, the Packers bowing to Detroit in Green Bay's Lambeau Field on Sunday, October 11 (19-16), a contest decided by Lion Mike Prindle's 31-yard field goal, then defeating the Philadelphia Eagles in "Lambeau" the following Sunday, October 18 (16-10) via James Hargrove's climactic, 7-yard touchdown run up the middle.

Overall, the Packers have won six, lost six and tied four of those 16 overtime struggles.

In addition to regular and post-season play, the Packers have played one overtime game in pre-season action—against New England at Milwaukee August 30, 1975. The Patriots won that one, 20-17, on a John Smith field goal.

Capsules of the Packers' regular and post-season overtime games follow:

JIM IRWIN

MAX MCGEE

Oft-honored Jim Irwin, one of the nation's most knowledgeable and authoritative play-by-play announcers, and Max McGee, who has become a popular and respected analyst in a second career after establishing himself as one of the Packers' all-time greats as a player, again will team up to bring the color and excitement of Packer games to fans throughout Wisconsin and the Midwest in 1990 via the Packer Radio Network.

Irwin, whose cultured tones also are familiar to Milwaukee Brewer and Bucks fans, is in his 19th year as the voice of the Packers. His credibility as a sports journalist has been repeatedly recognized by his peers, who earlier this year voted him Wisconsin's Sportscaster of the Year for the tenth time.

McGee, who still ranks fourth lifetime among Packer receivers two decades after completing his 13-year playing career, brings a special knowledge of the game — and of the Packers specifically — to the broadcast booth. Listeners also respond to his droll, penetrating and sometimes irreverent wit, applied impartially to friend and foe alike.

Milwaukee's WTMJ is the flagship station of the Packer Radio Network. A list of the member stations follows.

MILWAUKEE COUNTY STADIUM

Instant Replay For 1990

For the fifth consecutive season, NFL clubs have approved a limited system of Instant Replay on a one-year basis.

There is one significant change in the system from 1989. All replay reviews which involve contact to the field from the Replay Booth will be a maximum of two minutes in duration, timed from the moment when the Umpire signals timeout.

The Replay Official will be assigned to a regular officiating crew and will attend crew meetings the day before each game.

The following table outlines the number of reversals and plays closely reviewed by instant replay in each of the previous four seasons.

	Games	Reversals	Plays Closely Reviewed
1986	224	38	374
1987	210	57	490
1988	224	53	537
1989	224	65	492

In 1986, the system was approved by a 23-4-1 vote. In 1987, the vote was 21-7. In 1988, replay was cleared by a 23-5 margin. In 1989, the vote was 24-4. In 1990, the vote was 21-7.

The NFL has discussed Instant Replay in some degree or other since the early 1970s. The League experimented in 1976 and 1978 using two basic frameworks — an independent system using cameras, replay machines, and technicians separate from the network covering the games, and a "no-frills" approach using existing TV coverage.

In 1985, the NFL used the network feed of the nine nationally-televised preseason games to experiment with the basic system which later was adopted for 1986, 1987, and 1988. A total of 28 plays (17 confirmed calls, 4 inconclusive, 1 reversed, and 6 no replay shown) were closely examined in the 1985 experiment.

Q—What is the objective of this system?

A—The clubs feel that on certain plays the telecast viewed by the general public should be used to correct an indisputable error. The system will be used to reverse an on-field decision only when the Replay Official has indisputable visual evidence available to him that warrants the change.

Q—Who will be involved?

A—The Replay Official (a former NFL or collegiate official) will be positioned in a sideline Replay Booth, which will house two TV monitors and two high-speed VCRs plus radio communications to the on-field officials. The Replay Official makes the decision although a Communicator (normally a member of the League Office staff) and a Technician also will be there to lend logistical help.

Q—Why is the system referred to as "limited" Instant Replay?

A—This system will concentrate on plays of possession or touching (e.g. fumbles, receptions, interceptions, muffs) and most plays governed by the sidelines, goal lines, end lines, and line of scrim- mage (e.g. receiver or runner in or out of bounds, forward or backward passes, breaking the plane of the goal line). It also will be used to determine whether there are more than 11 men on the field.

Q—Why aren't most fouls included in this system?

A—It is recognized that in most circumstances the on-field officials have the best vantage points involving fouls. It is for this reason that Instant Replay will not review a list of the following 26 fouls:

1. Clipping
2. Encroachment and offsides
3. Grasp of facemask
4. False start
5. Defensive pass interference
6. Offensive pass interference
7. Offensive holding and illegal use of hands
8. Illegal batting or punching ball
9. Illegal block on free kick or scrimmage kick
10. Illegal crackback
11. Illegal motion
12. Illegal use of forearm or elbow
13. Illegal use of hands by defense
14. Illegally kicking ball
15. Illegally snapping ball
16. Intentional grounding
17. Member of punting team downfield early
18. Illegal formation
19. Palpably unfair act
20. Piling on
21. Roughing the passer
22. Running into/roughing kicker
23. Striking, kicking, or kneeling
24. Unnecessary roughness
25. Unsportsmanlike conduct
26. Use of helmet as a weapon

Q—Is the television network carrying the game part of the review process?

A—No. Although the Replay Official will be viewing the live network feed, there is no communication to television personnel as to which plays to show or not to show. The Replay Official does not hear the TV commentators.

Q—What is the step-by-step procedure of a play review?

A—The Replay Official will view game action and a play will be replayed immediately on one of the two monitors, while the other one continues to record the live feed.

The Replay Official makes a determination if further study of the play is needed. If not, there is no contact with the field and play continues without interruption.

If the Replay Official believes an error may have been made the Umpire will be contacted via a headset.

The Replay Official will watch replay(s) on one or both monitors and complete his review within a reasonable period after the play is over.

The Replay Official will inform the Umpire of his decision, and the Referee will make the appropriate announcement on the wireless microphone.
