ROBERT E. HARLAN

President and Chief Executive Officer

In less than a decade, Robert E. 'Bob' Harlan has taken his place among the most productive and accomplished chief executives in the Green Bay Packers' long and storied history. Now in his eighth year as the operating head of professional football's most unusual organization, he is respected throughout the National Football League for the extensive and innovative agenda he has implemented since taking over the office of president and chief executive officer in 1989, a tenure which has seen the 59-year-old Iowa native play a major role in the team's recent return to pro football prominence.

A member of the club's front office since 1971, the veteran Packer official made two major and historic decisions late in the 1991 season, moves that have had a profoundly positive effect upon the Green Bay franchise and its future. Convinced the organization was merely treading water competitively, he first relieved executive vice president Tom Braatz of his responsibilities November 20, 1991, and, one week later, named former Raiders personnel chief Ron Wolf as executive vice president and general manager, with total authority over football operations.

In the light of subsequent events, the latter decision already ranks among the most significant in the 77-year history of the Packers, the NFL's only publicly-owned franchise. Wolf was chosen 'NFL Executive of the Year' following his first full season with the Packers, which saw him hire ex-49ers offensive coordinator Mike Holmgren to replace Lindy Infante as head coach and also acquire Pro Bowl quarterback Brett Favre for a first-round draft choice in pro football's most acclaimed trade of 1992.

During the productive interim, the Packers have advanced to the playoffs each of the last three years, forging all the way to the National Football Conference Championship Game in 1995 — one step removed from the Super Bowl.

Holmgren had responded by directing the Packers to a 9-7 record — a five-victory improvement over '91 — in his first season, one in which Favre established himself as the Packers' field general, and to two more 9-and-7 marks in both 1993 and 1994, thus bringing Green Bay three consecutive winning seasons for the first time since 1965-66-67 and the 'Lombardi Era.' He then escorted the Green and Gold to an 11-5 record in 1995 and their first NFC Central Division title since 1972.

The hiring of Wolf was the centerpiece in a series of key moves Harlan has effected or triggered since succeeding Judge Robert J. Parins as president of the corporation at the annual stockholders meeting June 5, 1989, including the 1994 decision to leave Milwaukee and play all home games in Green Bay's Lambeau Field.

Once elected, the Packers' new chief executive officer lost little time initiating his first major project. Ten weeks later, in late August of 1989, he announced plans to construct 1,920 club seats — a historic first in Lambeau Field — and 36 new private boxes, an $8,263,000 expansion. It was completed in time for the start of 1990 preseason play.

A firm believer in the importance of ongoing, person-to-person dialogue with the team's fans, Harlan also scheduled and staged the first 'Breakfast with the Packers' functions in club history, gatherings for fans selected at random by computer, at which he invited questions and feedback from them about the Packer organization.

Committed to making the fans' day at the stadium as enjoyable as possible, he in 1990 also directed the formation of a comprehensive program designed to encourage responsible drinking by fans in Lambeau Field, and in 1993 implemented a no-smoking policy in the stadium seating areas at all home games. Results in the first six years of the responsible drinking program's existence indicate it has been a success, with arrests for misconduct down appreciably from previous years.

A year earlier, while still executive vice president of administration, Harlan was the catalyst in the implementation and development of a long-term marketing program, launched with the hiring of a director of marketing and the opening of an official outlet store in the Packers' administration building, a project which has become a solid success in the intervening seven years and has produced even greater dividends following a major expansion of the team shop.

In 1992, he initiated plans for a comprehensive upgrade and expansion of the team's administration building and training quarters — a 20,000-square foot addition, encompassing a 74-by-80 foot gymnasium with a suspended running track as well as new public relations and marketing offices. The project, completed in time for the opening of 1993 training camp, also permitted enlargement of the team shop to 2,000 square feet — six times its original size.

Two years later, in 1994, Harlan authorized and directed the construction of a new, $4.7-million "state of the art" indoor practice facility, The Don Hutson Center — the finest such structure in professional football — which was completed in time for use during the '94 season.

In 1994, he also presided over a historic move — the decision to leave Milwaukee and play all home games in Green Bay, a sensitive issue since the Packers had had a 62-year presence in the state's largest city. But as a condition of the transfer, necessitated by addressing an annual $2.5 million disparity in income which resulted from playing games in County Stadium, Harlan made sure Milwaukee's fans were not forgotten, offering them a three-game ticket package in Lambeau Field.

The latter expressed their appreciation in highly positive terms, 96 percent of Milwaukee's 48,000 season ticket holders subsequently availing themselves of the opportunity.

A year ago, he facilitated two other major additions to the Packer complex — 90 new private boxes spanning the north end zone of Lambeau Field and the construction of a 60-seat auxiliary press box to enhance the stadium's accommodations for the media.

In the overall, seven-year process, the Packers' chief executive has adhered to the agenda he set for himself on the occasion of his election as president, when he announced, "I want to move this franchise ahead in every area...We've got to be successful from top to bottom to succeed. And we're going to succeed."

At that point, he addressed what he termed the two key "bottom lines...Obviously, one is winning football games, and the other is keeping the organization financially solvent and strong so it can always remain in Green Bay and compete with the other 27 clubs in this league."

Becoming president of the Green Bay Packers, he also revealed on that historic day, had exceeded his fondest dreams.

"In 1960, when I had just graduated from Marquette University and was working as sports information director at Marquette, just getting started in public relations, I attended a Packer game at Milwaukee County Stadium," he told members of the media following his election. "I made a comment to my wife then that I hope I can grow in the public relations field and become competent enough that some day I can become the public relations director for the Green Bay Packers. When the opportunity came along 11 years later to join this fine organization, I jumped at it...To be associated with the NFL and the Packers, I have been highly honored...That honor has reached a new and incredible level."

The ninth president in the team's 77-year existence, Harlan is the team's first CEO to come up through the ranks. All previous presidents of the NFL's only publicly-owned franchise had come from the business and professional areas of the community as members of the board of directors.

Harlan, who has been involved in every area of the club's operations over the course of his 25-year Green Bay career, joined the organization as assistant general manager on June 1, 1971, after serving as director of public relations for the St. Louis baseball Cardinals. He later was named corporate general manager in 1975, corporate assistant to the president in 1981 and executive vice president of administration on February 16, 1988.

In the latter role, he had been responsible for team travel, negotiating radio and preseason television contracts, front office personnel, ticket office operations, purchasing, the leasing of Lambeau Field's private boxes, insurance, game-day entertainment and the scheduling of preseason games.

Prior to 1985, he also had negotated all player contracts for 14 years.

As he moves through his eighth year as president, Harlan becomes the third-longest tenured chief executive officer in Packer history. Only Dominic Olejniczak, who served 24 years (1958-82), and Lee H. Joannes, 17 years (1930-47), have headed the corporation longer.

Harlan, who earned a B.S. degree in journalism from Marquette in 1958, had a brief tour of duty in the U.S. Army before spending six months as a general reporter for United Press International in Milwaukee. He subsequently became sports information director at Marquette in 1959, serving six years in that capacity, after which he joined the St. Louis baseball Cardinals in 1965, serving as director of community relations and the speakers' bureau for two years and as director of public relations for 3½ years before coming to the Packers.

Born Robert Ernest Harlan in Des Moines, Iowa, on September 9, 1936, he is active in the greater Green Bay community as a member of the board of trustees of St. Norbert College, and the advisory boards of St. Mary's Hospital and Firstar Bank of Green Bay. He also is a member of the executive board of the 65 Roses Sports Club, which was created to generate awareness of cystic fibrosis and to raise money for research to find a cure for the dreaded disease.

In 1993, he was honored by the Green Bay Rotary Club with its 'Free Enterprise Award' for his numerous contributions to the community, both individually and on behalf of the Packer Corporation. On May 21 of this year, he was presented with the Green Bay Visitor and Convention Bureau's annual 'Tourism Recognition Award' for "outstanding contributions to the Green Bay area tourism industry," and, on June 15, he was saluted as Northeastern Wisconsin's 'Executive of the Year' by Marketplace magazine.

Bob and his wife, Madeline, have three sons — Kevin, 36, a play-by-play broadcaster on telecasts of NFL games for Fox Sports and also the play-by-play "voice" of the NBA's Minnesota Timberwolves; Bryan, 34, who is director of public relations for the Chicago Bears; and Michael, 27, who is an account executive for sports marketing and sales with the Marcus Corporation.

An ardent golfer, Harlan also is an "involved" fan, closely monitoring the athletic fortunes of the Milwaukee Brewers and Milwaukee Bucks as well as those of the University of Wisconsin-Green Bay, the University of Wisconsin-Madison and his alma mater, Marquette.

MICHAEL R. REINFELDT

Vice President of Administration/Chief Financial Officer

Possessor of an extensive background in finance as an athletics administrator in both the college and professional ranks, as well as nine years of playing experience at football's highest level, Michael R. 'Mike' Reinfeldt brings the best of two professional worlds to his dual role as the Packer Corporation's vice president of administration and chief financial officer.

As a former All-Pro defensive back, he thus has brought an important and complementary dimension to his responsibilities as chief financial officer, which include negotiating player contracts as well as supervising the Packers' financial operations and accounting staff and directing the preparation of all corporate and department budgets.

As vice president of administration, an additional position to which he was named by President Robert E. Harlan January 1, 1994, he also is responsible for overseeing all of the organization's other extensive non-football operations.

A native of Baraboo, Wis., Reinfeldt was named chief financial officer on November 8, 1990, coming to the Packers from the University of Southern California, where he had served as the school's associate athletic director. He previously had been chief financial officer for the then-Los Angeles Raiders from 1985 through 1987.

Reinfeldt, who earned an MBA degree in management and finance from Houston Baptist University, earlier had obtained a bachelor of science degree from the University of Wisconsin-Milwaukee, where he starred as a four-year starter on the varsity football team and holds the school record for most interceptions in a career (24). It is a mark that is not likely to be broken because his alma mater dropped football following his senior year.

He holds another distinction in UWM's annals — he is the only alumnus in the institution's history ever to play in the National Football League.

Following graduation, Reinfeldt went on to a distinguished career in the professional ranks, launched when he signed with the then-Oakland Raiders as a free agent in 1975. After spending that season with the Raiders, he went on to play eight years (1975-83) with the Houston Oilers, starting 102 consecutive games, calling defensive signals for the secondary and leading the team in interceptions in 1977, 1979 and 1981. In the process, he played in two AFC Championship Games for Houston (against Pittsburgh in both 1978 and 1979) and also acquired his MBA degree while attending Houston Baptist in the offseason.

Reinfeldt enjoyed his best season in 1979, when he led the NFL in interceptions with 12, earned consensus All-Pro honors, started in the Pro Bowl and was named 'Player of the Year' in the American Football Conference.

Subsequently, upon retiring as an active player, he returned to the Raiders as chief financial officer, overseeing the organization's financial and accounting operations and negotiating the majority of player contracts. He also dealt with local television and radio contracts, and was responsible for staff personnel.

Reinfeldt left professional football in 1988 to join the athletic department at the University of Southern California, where he served as the school's assistant athletic director for one year, then was promoted to associate athletic director, a position he held until formally joining the Packer organization on January 7, 1991.

At USC, he was responsible for the formation and control of the athletic department's $17 million budget, and handled negotiations on major contracts with radio and television networks, sponsors and outside suppliers.

Born May 6, 1953, in Baraboo, Wis., Reinfeldt was a high school sports star there, earning six letters in football and basketball. Still an athlete, he regularly is involved in a variety of sports, including tennis, golf, bicycling, basketball and racquetball. Also an omnivorous reader, he is committed to reading "as many different books as I can...I try to read three or four books a week — some fiction, some historical fiction and some factual...some biography...a little bit of everything."

Reinfeldt and his wife, Susan, are the parents of two children — a son, Jared Michael, born January 29, 1994, and a daughter, Elise Marie, born March 9, 1995.

RON WOLF

Executive Vice President and General Manager

Ron Wolf, now in his fifth year as executive vice president and general manager of the Packers, is a man of his word.

During a 1992 speaking appearance, early in his Packer tenure, he delineated the challenge he had accepted in taking over his current responsibilities by declaring with characteristic brevity, "I was brought here to win."

Although the dedicated Pennsylvanian will not be satisfied until Green Bay has won a third Super Bowl, his basic mission has been fulfilled. Under his leadership and direction, the Packers have returned to National Football League prominence with consistent on-field success, a task accomplished with impressive dispatch.

In the process, which has seen the Packers post four consecutive winning seasons and three straight playoff appearances for the first time in more than a quarter-century — reaching the National Football Conference Championship Game in 1995 — he has made a more profound impact upon the Packer organization in this short span than anyone since the advent of the legendary Vince Lombardi three-plus decades ago.

Seldom has anyone responded to a challenge with greater celerity than the man who earlier had played a major role in developing the Oakland/Los Angeles Raiders into one of professional football's most successful franchises.

The tireless Wolf, who spends countless hours grinding video of college players and NFL free agents — an ongoing process which he supplements by frequently venturing into the field each fall to personally scout players at colleges and universities throughout the nation — has delivered a consistent contender with the aid of the head coach he selected to direct the on-field operations, former 49ers offensive coordinator Mike Holmgren.

In appreciation for this considerable accomplishment, Wolf in 1994 was rewarded with a three-year extension of his original five-year contract, one which will have him presiding over the Packers' competitive fortunes until the next century. The new contract will take him through the year 1999.

"We believe that stability and continuity are vitally important to having consistent success in the National Football League," Packer President Robert E. Harlan said in announcing the extension on March 31, 1994. "Ron Wolf has done a wonderful job for the Packer organization and we feel he is one of the really talented football executives in the NFL. Needless to say, we therefore are pleased that he has made a long-term commitment to overseeing our football operations."

Wolf, in turn, calls his "the ultimate job" in his profession, "particularly (for) a person at my level. Green Bay is it, as far as I'm concerned, for that very reason. There isn't an owner whose ego needs to be stroked. You're given everything you need to do the job. To me, that's so important. Nobody has denied us anything."

Wolf's signing of Holmgren, his first major hire after taking over the Packers' football operation, proved to be a master stroke. And, in the months that followed, Wolf supplemented that contribution by executing two significant trades, later with a series of shrewd acquisitions via the waiver wire and free agent market.

The key transaction saw him acquire Brett Favre, a highly-talented young quarterback, from the Atlanta Falcons with a first-round draft choice, a move that has paid major dividends, Favre having presided over the offense in each of those four consecutive winning seasons and closed out a record-breaking 1995 campaign by universally being acclaimed as the NFL's 'Most Valuable Player.'

Wolf subsequently added center/guard Frank Winters, signed from the Kansas City Chiefs in Plan B, who has been a key performer in the offensive line, moving from center to shore up the left guard position each season from 1992-94 when injuries felled successive starters Rich Moran and Guy McIntyre.

These, and several other timely and profitable moves, helped the Packers to forge their second-best record since 1972, a 9-7 mark that saw them remain in the NFC Central Division race until the final game of the '92 season.

In the wake of that remarkable turnaround — the Packers had been 4-and-12 in 1991 after going 6-and-10 in 1990 — Wolf was saluted as 'NFL Executive of the Year' by The Sporting News, thus becoming the first Packer executive ever to be so honored.

Wolf, who came to the Packers from the New York Jets, typically deflected credit from himself, preferring to generalize in labeling the Sporting News award "a great honor for the Packer organization."

But Harlan, the Packers' chief executive officer — and the man who hired him — offers a more specific analysis.

"I think I can tell you, Ron Wolf spends every minute of every waking hour thinking about what he can do to make this football team better," Harlan said. "He's dedicated and working at it so constantly. With that work ethic, you think, 'We're going to make it.'"

In 1993, Wolf further bolstered the team's talent level by venturing aggressively into the free agent market, following the advent of unrestricted free agency, bringing in Reggie White, considered by many the greatest defensive end in pro football history, and starting guard Harry Galbreath, among others.

Again, the moves paid immediate dividends. The Packers repeated 1992's 9-7 record against a much more demanding schedule — it included six playoff teams — and not only qualified for the playoffs for the first time since 1982 but advanced to the second round, defeating the Detroit Lions (28-24) in their first postseason assignment before falling to the Super Bowl Champion Dallas Cowboys (27-17) in a divisional playoff.

In 1994, Wolf moved quickly to offset the free agency loss of linebacker Tony Bennett by signing defensive end Sean Jones of the Houston Oilers, who proceeded to lead the Green Bay defense in quarterback sacks. He also added ex-Viking Fred Strickland to step in for the retired Johnny Holland at inside linebacker, former Bear Steve McMichael to upgrade the defensive line and converted the departure of left guard Doug Widell — who moved to the Detroit Lions as a free agent — into a plus by signing five-time Pro Bowler McIntyre, who shook off an early blood clot problem to spearhead a much-improved Packer running game over the last 10 weeks of the season.

Holmgren, skillfully melding these new elements into the overall mix, then led the Packers to a third consecutive 9-7 record, capping the regular season with three straight victories to qualify for the playoffs for the second year in a row. They followed with a fourth straight triumph in their opening postseason test, turning back the Lions, 16-12, before bowing to the Cowboys at Dallas in another divisional playoff.

In 1995, Wolf upgraded the secondary, drafting cornerback Craig Newsome from Arizona State in the first round. Newsome, a tough, physical corner, went on to earn NFL all-rookie honors and trigger the Packers' divisional playoff victory over the defending Super Bowl Champion 49ers, scooping up an Adam Walker fumble and returning it 31 yards for a touchdown which shot Green Bay into an early and permanent lead.

That 27-17 victory propelled the Packers into the NFC Championship Game, for the first time since 1967, before the Green and Gold's Super Bowl quest ended in Dallas — one step removed from Super Bowl XXX.

Already recognized throughout the National Football League for triggering the Packers' return to prominence during his five-year tenure in the organization, Wolf also was saluted in 1996 for his skill and cooperation in another, related area, when he was honored by the Pro Football Writers of America for his contributions to their professional efforts. In June of this year, the PFWA announced that Wolf had been named to receive the organization's prestigious 'Horrigan Award,' presented annually "to the league official or player for his or her professional style in helping football writers do their job." The award is named in honor of the late Jack Horrigan, former publicity director of the American Football League and vice president of public relations for the Buffalo Bills.

The Packers' on-field upswing since Wolf's arrival, accompanied by increasingly high expectations from the team's excited loyalists, has documented Harlan's decision to bring him in late in 1991 with total authority over the football operation.

"When we started the search to fill the position," Harlan said at the time of the announcement, "we put together a list of eight names. Ron's name was at the top of the list."

Wolf, who previously had spent 25 years in the front office of the Raiders, took over a position new to the Packers' organizational structure in terms of authority and responsibility, said authority including hiring and supervising the head coach and the scouting staff, conducting the draft and making all football decisions for the organization.

With the sweeping mandate, Wolf moved swiftly. He made his first major decision in a span of 24 days after his appointment, dismissing Lindy Infante as head coach on December 22, 1991, his second in hiring Mike Holmgren as Infante's successor just 20 days later — January 11, 1992.

The 57-year-old executive, who agreed to a five-year contract in leaving the New York Jets to join the Packers, credits his long experience in the Raiders' front office with preparing him for his current responsibilities.

"I had an opportunity to learn from — to me — the greatest figure in the game today, Al Davis," he said. "He knows every aspect of the game of professional football — not just the X's and O's but from the business standpoint and the talent standpoint. He is totally involved, and he taught me. I was very, very fortunate to work for him."

Wolf launched his professional football career under Davis in 1963 when he joined the then-fledgling Raiders as a talent scout.

Subsequently, when Davis was named American Football League commissioner in 1966, Wolf accompanied him to the league office as the AFL's coordinator of talent. He returned to the Raiders with Davis prior to the opening of the 1966 season and played a major role in the club's personnel operation until the spring of 1975.

At that time, the then 37-year-old Wolf was named to oversee the formation of the newly-franchised Tampa Bay Buccaneers of the NFL as vice president of operations. He remained in that capacity until 1978, when he re-joined the Raiders, for whom he headed up player personnel operations until he signed on with the Jets organization in June of 1990.

His efforts in behalf of the Tampa Bay franchise bore fruit in 1979 when the players Wolf assembled carried the Buccaneers to the NFC Central title and, in the playoffs, as far as the National Football Conference Championship Game before they bowed to the then-Los Angeles Rams in a defensive struggle, 9-0.

Born in New Freedom, Pa., on December 30, 1938, Wolf attended the University of Oklahoma, where he majored in history. He earlier had served with Army Intelligence in Europe for three years.

Wolf has said he decided he wanted to make professional football his life's work "when I was in the service in '58 or '59, and I was stationed in Berlin, Germany. I think that appealed to me as something I would really like to do if I could do it. I never thought I'd be able to get my foot in the door."

His first job in the field was with Pro Football Illustrated, a publication based in Chicago, in 1961. He subsequently returned to the University of Oklahoma in 1962, he said, "and then Al Davis called me in 1963, after I'd taken my last final examination at Oklahoma...The very day, he called me."

On those rare occasions when he is not immersed in football operations today, Wolf can be found reading. "I like to read novels — and when I really get serious — I like to delve into the Civil War or World War II," he says of himself. "That's when I get into a serious mode, which runs for about two weeks...Then I get off it."

Wolf, who has a corollary and highly developed interest in the lives of legendary military leaders, such as George S. Patton, George Custer and Douglas MacArthur, et al, said, "What fascinates me — and I can't pin the answer down — is where do all these people come from...the great people that emerge in time of crisis? Where have they been? Why do they suddenly appear on the scene at the precise moment of history?"

Ron's family includes his wife, Edie, and five children — daughters Saralyn, Celli and Joan, and two sons, Jonathan and Eliot. Mrs. Wolf is a psychologist who has established a practice in Green Bay.

LEE REMMEL

Executive Director of Public Relations

Lee Remmel has been a member of the Packer front office for 22 years, serving as director of public relations in 1974 and from 1980 through 1988, and as director of publicity from 1975 through 1979.

He was named executive director of public relations in March of 1989 by Robert Harlan, then executive vice president of administration, with responsibility for overseeing the public relations, marketing and community relations areas. Prior to joining the Packer organization on March 24, 1974, Remmel was a sports writer and columnist for the Green Bay Press-Gazette for 29½ years.

In the course of his two "careers," he has been involved in staffing all 30 Super Bowls played to date, the first eight representing the Press-Gazette and the last 22 as a member of the National Football League's auxiliary media relations staff.

Remmel also is currently a member of the NFL public relations directors' statistics committee, following long service as a member of the Professional Football Writers of America liaison and NFL Films committees.

While at the Press-Gazette, he was the only sports writer in Wisconsin to have been directly involved in coverage of the Packers throughout all of the team's coaching regimes to that point, beginning with Packer founder E.L. 'Curly' Lambeau and continuing until the naming of Bart Starr in 1975. His personal longevity may be best illustrated by the fact that he witnessed his 100th Packer-Bear game on November 12, 1995, in the 150th regular-season meeting of the arch enemies.

Remmel's half-century of close association with the Packers was duly recognized this past March 30, when he was inducted into the Green Bay Packer Hall of Fame.

In 1967, he was voted Wisconsin 'Sports Writer of the Year.' He also is a past president of the former Wisconsin Pro Football Writers' Association.

Remmel, a native of Shawano, Wis., where he was born June 30, 1924, began his career as the sports editor of a weekly newspaper while a Shawano High School freshman. He is a member of the executive committee of the Brown County Civic Music Association, along with his wife, Noreen, as well as of the executive board of the 65 Roses Sports Club (cystic fibrosis). He also is a member of the St. Norbert College Fine Arts Committee, the Green Bay School/Business/Industry Partnership Council and the board of directors of the Green Bay Packer Hall of Fame.

JUST FOR THE RECORD

Founded as a town team in 1919, a year when Woodrow Wilson was in the White House, the Green Bay Packers carry an overall winning percentage of .562 into the 1996 National Football League season, having played a total of 1,335 games. Over their 77 years of existence, the Packers have won 726 games, lost 561 and tied 48.

The 1,335-game total includes a record of 514-434-36 (.543) in regular-season play and a league-best mark of 17-8-0 (.680) in playoff action. In addition, the Packers went 19-2-1 (.886) playing independent football from 1919-20.

Green Bay stands 165-114-9 (.589) all-time in preseason games.

Now in their 78th season of professional football, the Green Bay Packers are a team and an organization unique in both structure and accomplishment. They represent — from an organizational standpoint — the only publicly-owned franchise in the 30-club National Football League. On the field, they have won more championships — eleven — than any other team in the NFL's 76-year history.

Green Bay Packers, Inc., was founded as a non-profit corporation in 1922 under the leadership of A.B. Turnbull, then publisher of the Green Bay Press-Gazette, who became the organization's first president. There are 4,634 shares of stock owned by 1,915 stockholders. The corporation is governed by a seven-member Executive Committee, elected from a 45-person board of directors.

Robert E. Harlan, ninth president of the corporation, was elected the organization's chief executive officer June 5, 1989, succeeding Judge Robert J. Parins.

MIKE HOLMGREN

Head Coach

Michael George Holmgren, the eleventh head coach in Packer annals, once taught history. Since arriving upon the Green Bay scene in 1992, the monolithic Californian has taken to rewriting it — on an annual basis.

Accordingly, after only four seasons, he already occupies a lofty plateau in the Packers' proud and storied history. He not only has become the third field leader in the club's 77-year existence to own a winning record, joining team founder E.L. 'Curly' Lambeau and the legendary Vince Lombardi in an exclusive triumvirate, but continues to add lustrous credentials to his already extensive coaching credits with each passing season, having punctuated his 1995 accomplishments by bringing Green Bay its first division title since 1972.

Putting an end to a long drought in the process, the former high school history teacher has accomplished something none of his predecessors has been able to do in more than a quarter-century:

- String together four consecutive winning seasons, a feat last forged by the fabled Lombardi in the '60s;
- Direct the Packers to three consecutive National Football League playoff berths for the first time since 1965-66-67; and
- Lead the Green and Gold to an 11-5 record in 1995, their best since 1966.

In this process, he has quickly amassed the fourth most coaching victories in team history, parlaying his overall record to 42-29-0, including a 38-26 mark in regular season play and a 4-3 record in playoff competition.

Taking over a club which had finished a dismal 4-and-12 in 1991, Holmgren led his first three Packer teams to as many consecutive 9-and-7 records, a span of success Green Bay had not known since the now distant 'Lombardi Era.'

The 48-year-old San Franciscan embellished these accomplishments by escorting the Green and Gold to the 11-5 mark in 1995 — the 11 victories representing the third highest such total in team annals — and to its first NFC Central Division championship in 23 years, then guiding his squad to back-to-back wild card and divisional playoff victories in the postseason and a berth in the National Football Conference title game for the first time since 1967.

Earlier, he demonstrated an impressive faculty for overcoming adversity, turning the 9-and-7 trick the third time in 1994 despite the premature retirement of leading tackler Johnny Holland and the injury loss of starters Guy McIntyre (6 games), LeRoy Butler (3 games) and Roland Mitchell (15 games) — plus key contributors Lenny McGill (9 games) and Gilbert Brown (3 games) during the course of the season.

The former USC field general again proved himself a highly resourceful leader in 1995, following a career-ending injury to Sterling Sharpe, the most prolific pass receiver in Packer history. Calling upon his players to "crank it up a notch" to offset the loss of a primary weapon, he developed an exceptional team unity which played a major role in producing the Packers' first division title in nearly a quarter-century — a togetherness which later prompted elder statesman Reggie White to observe, "The chemistry on this team is as good as any I've ever been around."

Appropriately, Holmgren's efforts have been duly recognized and rewarded. Even prior to his third straight winning season in 1994, the Packer organization expressed its appreciation for his accomplishments — and unqualified confidence in his future leadership — when President Bob Harlan extended Holmgren's contract for three years, one which will have him presiding over the team's on-field operations until the next century. The extension will take him through the year 1999.

Earlier honored as National Football Conference 'Coach of the Year' in 1992, he had maneuvered the Packers to within one game of the playoffs in his first season, leading them to a six-game winning streak — their longest since 1965 — en route.

The following year, he managed to take his team to the next level — the playoffs — despite the loss of four starters to injuries, three of them members of the offensive line (center James Campen, left guard Rich Moran and right tackle Tootie Robbins), plus left inside linebacker Brian Noble, a consistently productive performer and a team leader.

In plotting and executing his offensive strategy, Holmgren also had to deal with the fact that his principal weapon, Sharpe, was not able to practice the last eight weeks of the '93 season — and throughout the playoffs — because of a nagging turf toe injury, and thus was not at his physical best in the drive for a postseason berth.

Holmgren's resourceful handling of these challenges loomed large in the late stages of the '93 season as the Packers rebounded from a season-ending loss to Detroit to score a last-minute, come-from-behind victory over the Lions in their wild card playoff encounter a week later, thus recording their first postseason victory in more than a decade.

A year later, Holmgren again exhibited impressive ability to rally his team in adversity, re-grouping the Green and Gold in the wake of a late, three-game losing streak — two of the losses coming against 1993 Super Bowl principals Buffalo and Dallas — to sweep its final three games and qualify for the playoffs for the second year in a row.

A reasoned and compassionate perfectionist, he has exercised admirable patience along the way in continuing to develop his highly-talented young quarterback, Brett Favre, patience which was rewarded in 1995 when Favre responded with a record-breaking season that brought him NFL 'Player of the Year' honors.

In complete command of his football team throughout his four-year tenure, Holmgren has evinced a quiet confidence from the beginning, perhaps traceable to the league-wide reputation as one of professional football's premier offensive coaches that he had brought with him from the San Francisco 49ers — together with a long-time identification with success.

Gil Haskell, one of his assistant coaches, cites another explanation. "My impression is that he has prepared himself to be a head coach," Haskell said of Holmgren. "Many people get head coaching jobs that never expected to get them. He didn't...He's been planning this for some time."

Holmgren's initial success in 1992 stemmed in large part from his ability to achieve what he listed as his number one priority. At the outset, he pinpointed the need "to establish a winning attitude," asserting, "We have to establish the fact that good things are going to happen in the second half of games, not bad things. And that's a mindset."

The Packers' 9-7 record in that baptismal season is eloquent evidence that Holmgren's words were taken to heart. Over the course of the campaign, the Packers compiled an imposing 8-0 record in games in which they led at halftime, a shining example of the positive approach. And, poetically, they came from behind in the final minute of play to post their first regular-season victory of the 'Holmgren Era,' scoring with 13 seconds remaining to shade the Cincinnati Bengals, 24-23, in Week 3.

Holmgren, who at 6-feet-5 inevitably cuts an impressive figure (he is the tallest head coach in Packer history), became the eleventh head coach in team annals when he was signed to a five-year contract January 11, 1992, by Ron Wolf, the Packers' executive vice president and general manager.

It was in the nature of a coup for Wolf since Holmgren had been sought after by no fewer than six NFL clubs following the 1991 season in recognition of his accomplishments as offensive coordinator for the 49ers.

Earlier quarterbacks coach under the celebrated Bill Walsh for three seasons, he became San Francisco's offensive coordinator in 1989 and proceeded to put his personal stamp on the club's attack. Under him, the 49er offense ranked no lower than third in the league during his three years as coordinator.

Over this span, the 49ers compiled the NFL's best overall record, posting 71 wins compared to only 23 losses, with one tie, a .753 percentage.

Individually, Holmgren did perhaps the finest job of his San Francisco tenure in 1991. Despite losing quarterbacks Joe Montana and Steve Young to injuries, the 49er offense finished third in the league under his leadership. With third-string quarterback Steve Bono taking over for the injured Young, who had replaced an injured Montana at the start of the season, the 49ers won five of their last six games.

The ability to win with three different quarterbacks, a singular achievement, helped to make Holmgren the NFL's most sought-after assistant as head coaching opportunities began to develop following the '91 season.

Under his direction, the 49er offense had been the NFL's top-ranked unit in 1989, his first season as the team's offensive coordinator. Earlier, in 1987, Holmgren's guidance was credited with helping Montana capture his first league passing championship. He also was cited for the manner in which he prepared Young to step in for Montana when injuries forced the latter to the sideline, and the adjustments he implemented to help Bono succeed in his interim role.

A native of San Francisco, Holmgren had returned home in 1986 to take on his first coaching assignment in the professional ranks. He came to the 49ers from Brigham Young University, where he had been a member of LaVell Edwards' staff for four years (1982-85). There, he tutored Young in his role as quarterbacks coach, helping the Cougars to maintain one of college football's most potent passing offenses. During Holmgren's tenure, BYU won the school's first national championship in 1984.

The Packer coach also has known personal success on the football field as a performer, having been named 1965's 'Prep Athlete of the Year' while playing for San Francisco's Lincoln High School. A quarterback, he went on to play four years of college football at the University of Southern California (1966-69) and was selected by the St. Louis Cardinals in the eighth round of the 1970 draft. He subsequently was in training camp with both the Cardinals and the New York Jets that year, prior to returning to his high school alma mater, Lincoln High, to begin his coaching career in 1971 — and teach history.

A year later, Holmgren moved to San Francisco's Sacred Heart High as a teacher and assistant coach, struggling through 4-and-24 adversity from 1972-1974 at a school which had no practice facilities, before transferring to nearby Oak Grove High from 1975-80, a period during which the school won a Central Coast Sectional football championship.

The Packers' future head coach next entered the college ranks, serving as quarterbacks coach and offensive coordinator at San Francisco State in 1981, preceding his move to Brigham Young in 1982.

Of Swedish-Norwegian descent, Holmgren was born June 15, 1948, in San Francisco. Following graduation from Lincoln High School, he earned his bachelor of science degree at USC in 1970.

Mike and his wife, Kathy, have four daughters — twins Calla and Jenny (born 9/27/73), who graduated from North Park College (their mother's alma mater) in 1995; Emily (born 1/21/77), now in her second year at Gordon College; and Gretchen (born 7/14/81), a sophomore at Ashwaubenon High School.

Professionally, aside from his responsibilities in the Packer organization, Holmgren co-chairs the NFL Competition Committee along with Giants General Manager George Young, having succeeded the retired Don Shula in that role earlier this year. Holmgren previously had served as chairman of the Competition Committee Coaches Subcommittee since 1994.

Although a relatively new resident, Holmgren has long-standing Wisconsin ties. His maternal grandfather, Jens Bugge, was born on a farm in the Badger state. Known as 'Colonel' in the family because of his service as an officer in the United States Army, Bugge was the author of a book on military strategy, a copy of which reposes in the West Point library.

Away from football, the Packer coach spends most of his leisure time with his family. Golf is his favorite pastime and he also is fond of reading, particularly historical books.

Already substantially involved in the Green Bay community and his adopted state, he has seen his Mike Holmgren Celebrity Invitational Golf Tournament raise approximately $25,000 annually for the 65 Roses Sports Club (cystic fibrosis) each of the past five years.

Holmgren, who enjoys riding his motorcycle in rare moments of leisure, additionally serves as honorary co-chairman of the 'Harley 100-Mile Run for Muscular Dystrophy,' an event which raised more than $50,000 for the cause this past June after generating $18,000 the year before. In another civic role, Holmgren served as honorary chairman for the Wisconsin Arthritis Foundation telethon in 1992 and 1993.

He also annually heads up 'Mike Holmgren's Golf for Kids,' an event held at Lake Geneva, Wis., with the proceeds going for summer camp scholarships for inner city Chicago youths and funding for the Urban Outreach Program at North Park College.

SHERMAN LEWIS

Offensive Coordinator

Under the influence of professorial Sherman Lewis, the Packer offense has prospered and progressed from year to year during his four-year tenure as coordinator, scaling new and impressive heights in 1995.

Green Bay's offensive unit invaded the record book last season, rolling up 404 points and 5,750 yards, both the third-highest such totals in the team's 75-year National Football League history. A key element in mounting these imposing figures was a league-leading third down efficiency percentage, 49.1.

Significantly, it was the third consecutive year the offense has made substantial improvement in the ultimate bottom line category, the production of points — improving from 276 in 1992 to 340 in 1993 and 382 in 1994.

Lewis' expertise paid immediate and practical dividends in 1992, his first season as overseer of the offense, when the Packer attack he coordinated proceeded to produce 4,786 yards, the most by a Green Bay offensive unit since 1989. Moving the chains consistently, the Packers registered 291 first downs along the way, compared to 259 a year earlier.

In 1993, his second season at the offensive controls, the improvement was more dramatic, the Packers rolling up 340 points, 66 more than in the previous campaign.

In 1994, they manifested even greater firepower, amassing 382 points, the most a Green Bay team had scored in a decade — since the '84 Green and Gold posted 390. In the process, the Packers also stacked up 5,361 yards — the most they had gained in a season since 1989.

Such accomplishments were not unexpected. When Mike Holmgren became head coach of the Packers in January of 1992, the identity of his offensive coordinator was a foregone conclusion. Without question, it was going to be Sherman Lewis.

"I wanted Sherm to be my offensive coordinator when I became head coach here in Green Bay because I knew he was an outstanding football coach," Holmgren later said. "We had worked together in San Francisco...and he was a key member of the staff. He's one of the brightest and most innovative coaches I've ever been around."

Holmgren reinforced that testimonial following the '95 season when, in his year-end review, he described Lewis as "the best kept secret in this league." He added, "I don't want to lose him (to a potential head-coaching opportunity), but he certainly deserves his chance, and he would be very good."

Lewis brought an impressive coaching pedigree with him to Green Bay, having helped the 49ers develop one of the most productive attacks in the National Football League under Bill Walsh en route to three Super Bowl victories during the '80s.

Named to the Packer staff on January 18, 1992 — one week after Holmgren became head coach — Lewis was a member of the 49er staff for nine seasons, the first six as running backs coach, tutoring such outstanding performers as perennial Pro Bowl running back Roger Craig and fullback Tom Rathman. Lewis coached the wide receivers during his final three seasons in San Francisco and helped hone the skills of Jerry Rice and John Taylor, who have been selected to a combined 12 Pro Bowls.

Sherman's Packer responsibilities during his first season on the Packer staff also included coaching the receivers, duties he turned over to Jon Gruden prior to the 1993 season.

The 54-year-old Kentucky native had been an assistant coach at his alma mater, Michigan State, for 14 seasons prior to joining the 49ers, serving as assistant head coach and defensive coordinator for his final three years at MSU. Originally hired by the late Hugh 'Duffy' Dougherty, he subsequently served on the staffs of Denny Stolz, Darryl Rodgers and Frank 'Muddy' Waters.

Lewis earlier had been a two-way All-America halfback at Michigan State, where he was second runnerup for the 1963 Heisman Trophy (behind Roger Staubach of Navy and Billy Lothridge of Georgia Tech) and named college football's 'Player of the Year' by Football News.

Sherman, who later earned his master's degree in education administration from MSU in 1974, also was a standout track and field performer for the Spartans.

Lewis, born in Louisville, Ky., June 29, 1942, and his wife, Toni, have two sons, Kip (born 2/6/67), a former University of Arizona football player who now is a sports announcer/reporter for Green Bay's WLUK-TV, and Eric (born 1/2/76), who closed out a distinguished prep football career at St. Francis High School in Mountain View, Calif., in 1993 and, after receiving a football scholarship to San Diego State University, will be a starting cornerback as a sophomore after leading the Aztecs in interceptions in 1995 as a freshman with 5.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1969-82 (Michigan State); 1983-91 (San Francisco 49ers); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

FRITZ SHURMUR

Defensive Coordinator

An innovator, author and technician, as well as pro football's elder statesman in terms of service as a defensive coordinator, resourceful Fritz Shurmur has gained wide recognition over a distinguished career for his creative defensive schemes and masterful game plans.

Now in his 17th year as a coordinator, Shurmur, during the 1995 season, once again demonstrated his ability to develop both long- and short-term "solutions" to problems.

In the former, he saw his defense force 56 three-and-out series over the '95 season, the most in the National Football League.

In the latter, he devised an aggressive game plan which short-circuited San Francisco's vaunted passing game in the divisional playoffs, one which saw Packer defenders trigger and convert a receiver's fumble into a touchdown on the game's opening series and then constantly harry quarterback Steve Young, sacking him 3 times and forcing 2 interceptions en route to a highly convincing, 27-17 victory in the 49ers' own 3Com Park.

The genial Michigan native, in his third season in Green Bay and his 22nd in the NFL overall, lost no time in putting his personal stamp upon the defensive platoon when named coordinator by Head Coach Mike Holmgren on January 31, 1994.

Despite the injury-enforced retirements of linebacker Johnny Holland and right cornerback Roland Mitchell — and voluntarily confining himself to the scheme of predecessor Ray Rhodes in the interests of a smooth and effective transition — Shurmur presided over a defense that finished the '94 season fifth in the National Football Conference and a highly respectable sixth in the league as a whole.

His defenders then climaxed those efforts in the postseason by setting an all-time playoff record in their wild-card game against Detroit (December 31), holding the redoubtable Barry Sanders and the Lions to negative rushing yardage en route to a 16-12 victory in Green Bay's Lambeau Field. In that performance, the Packers held the Lions to minus-4 yards in 15 attempts, breaking a 31-year-old playoff record while restricting league rushing champion Sanders to a career-low minus-1 yard in 13 attempts.

Shurmur earlier demonstrated a classic example of his flair for innovation in 1989 when, as defensive coordinator for the Los Angeles Rams, he was confronted with the challenge of revamping an injury-depleted defensive unit. Utilizing linebackers as down linemen and compensating for the absence of two regular inside linebackers until the season's 10th game, he developed a 2-5 'Eagle' defense which allowed only three running backs to gain 100 yards, finished fifth in the NFC with 42 quarterback sacks and led the Rams to two postseason victories.

On the Phoenix staff for three years prior to joining the Packers, he produced comparable results in becoming the Cardinals' defensive coordinator in 1991. Developing a unit featuring seven new starters, he turned out a defense which held opponents to 52 fewer points than the previous season and limited the opposition to two touchdowns or less on nine occasions, scored three touchdowns on turnovers and shared the league low for touchdown passes allowed with 12.

Shurmur's '11 men to the football' concept also triggered 37 fumbles, the third-highest single-season total in franchise history, while the Cardinals' 21 fumble recoveries ranked second in the NFC and third in the league.

A year later, his schematic originality paid dividends for Phoenix with a 'Big Nickel' alignment that featured four down linemen, two linebackers and five defensive backs. It fueled a defensive surge that limited foes to 67.5 yards rushing per game over the final six weeks of the season and enabled the Big Red to finish with the fifth-rated defense in the conference. The unit also held opponents to 101 first downs, the best effort in club history over a 16-game schedule.

The following season, 1993, Shurmur's 4-2-5 Cardinal defense again proved highly effective, closing out the season seventh in the NFL in points allowed with 269 — an average of 16.9 per game — the team's lowest total since the 16-game schedule was implemented in 1978.

Shurmur had joined the Cardinals following nine seasons with the Los Angeles Rams' successful defense, eight of them as its coordinator. He signed on as the Rams' defensive line coach for the strike-shortened 1982 season and became their defensive coordinator the following year, in which the Rams improved from 27th to 15th in total defense. In 1985 and '86, his efforts continued to bear fruit as the Rams led the NFL with 56 quarterback sacks in '85 and finished fifth in total defense both seasons. Overall, the Rams qualified for postseason play six times during Shurmur's nine-year tenure.

The 64-year-old Wyandotte, Mich., native made his NFL coaching debut with the Detroit Lions in 1975 as defensive line coach. He later was named Detroit's defensive coordinator in 1977. Four seasons in New England, the last two as defensive coordinator, followed. During this span, his 1979 Patriot defense led the NFL with 57 sacks.

Shurmur launched his coaching career in 1954 as a graduate student at his alma mater, Albion (Mich.) College, where he served as assistant football coach and swimming coach through 1961 before moving to the University of Wyoming as an assistant football coach. He was the Cowboys' defensive line coach from 1962-70 prior to being named head coach in 1971. As Wyoming's defensive coach, Shurmur's teams led the nation in rushing defense twice and in total defense once. During his stay in Laramie, the Cowboys paced the Western Athletic Conference in defense in 1963 and from 1965-69.

Blessed with writing skills to complement his football knowledge, Shurmur has authored three books — Coaching Team Defense, which covers all phases of defensive football and has elicited acclaim from his peers and fans alike; The Five Linebacker Eagle Defense; and Coaching Team Defense, Second Edition.

In addition, the veteran mentor had a fourth book — dealing with defensive line play — in the works as the media guide went to press in July.

Born July 15, 1932, Leonard 'Fritz' Shurmur attended Roosevelt High School in his native Wyandotte. He later earned All-Michigan Athletic Association honors as a center at Albion College and was named the conference's most valuable player. Fritz, who graduated with a master's degree in education administration in 1956, also was named to the all-conference baseball team.

Shurmur and his wife, Peggy, have three children — Sally Ann Michalov, 39; Scott, 37; and Susie, 33. Sally Ann, an award-winning sports reporter for the Casper Star-Tribune, was named the 1990 Wyoming 'Sportswriter of the Year.'

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1956-61 (Albion); 1962-74 (Wyoming, head coach 1971-74); 1975-77 (Detroit Lions); 1978-81 (New England Patriots); 1982-90 (Los Angeles Rams); 1991-93 (Phoenix Cardinals); 1994-96 (Green Bay Packers).

Thirteen Packers started all 16 regular-season games in 1995 — seven on offense: guards Aaron Taylor and Harry Galbreath, center Frank Winters, right tackle Earl Dotson, quarterback Brett Favre, flanker Robert Brooks and running back Edgar Bennett — and six on defense: right end Sean Jones, linebackers Wayne Simmons and George Koonce, cornerbacks Doug Evans and Craig Newsome and safety LeRoy Butler.

ASSISTANT COACHES

LARRY BROOKS

Defensive Line

Larry Brooks, in his 22nd season in professional football, brings a distinguished pedigree to his role on the Packers' defensive coaching staff. Now in his 11th year as a coach, he earlier was a perennial Pro Bowl performer during an 11-year playing career in the NFL.

Named to the Pro Bowl for five consecutive seasons as a player (1976-80), Brooks also was an All-Pro selection in 1977, 1978 and 1979. Along the way, he was the starting left defensive tackle in the Rams' only Super Bowl appearance (against the Pittsburgh Steelers) in January of 1980. He also started three National Football Conference championship games.

The 46-year-old former Los Angeles Rams standout, now in his third year as the Packers' defensive line coach, was named to the Green Bay coaching staff by Head Coach Mike Holmgren February 15, 1994. His addition to the staff reunited him with Packer Defensive Coordinator Fritz Shurmur, under whom he previously had served as an assistant defensive line coach with the Rams for eight seasons.

A Virginia State alumnus, he had been a late-round selection (14th) of the Rams in the 1972 draft. Becoming a defensive starter midway through his rookie year, Brooks went on to play an important role alongside Jack Youngblood, Cody Jones and Fred Dryer as the Rams won seven consecutive NFC Western Division championships during his 11-year playing career (1972-82).

Following his retirement as a player, Larry joined the Rams' coaching staff as assistant defensive line coach in 1983, a position he held through the 1990 season. Out of football in 1991, he returned to his collegiate alma mater as assistant athletic director and assistant football coach in 1992. He subsequently was named interim athletic director in 1993.

As a collegian, Brooks was named to the Associated Press Little All-America team. He also earned all-conference accolades and was honored as 'Virginia Small College Lineman of the Year' in 1971.

Born June 10, 1950, at Prince George, Va., he is an ardent outdoorsman who enjoys hunting and fishing. Larry is married (Colleen) and the father of a son, Larry, Jr., 26, who lives in Orange County, Calif.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1983-90 (Los Angeles Rams); 1992-93 (Virginia State University); 1994-96 (Green Bay Packers).

NOLAN CROMWELL

Special Teams

A four-time Pro Bowl selection during an 11-year National Football League playing career after he had earned All-America honors as a collegian, Nolan Cromwell now is making an impact as a member of the NFL's coaching fraternity.

Under his direction, the Packers' coverage teams ranked among the National Football Conference's more effective kamikazes in 1995 and peaked, appropriately, during the playoffs. The punt coverage team held the Falcons, 49ers and Cowboys to an average of 4.3 yards per return and the kickoff coverage unit limited them to an average of 20.0 yards per runback over three postseason games.

Cromwell's punt return team also made Packer history, rookie Antonio Freeman returning a second-quarter punt 76 yards for a touchdown in the wild card playoff victory over Atlanta December 31, establishing a club postseason record with the first TD runback of a punt or kickoff in team annals.

The punt coverage team finished the regular season fourth in the NFC, holding opponents to an average of 7.8 yards for 36 returns, and the kickoff coverage team tied for eighth with an average yield of 21.4 yards for 74 runbacks.

Under Cromwell's guidance, punter Craig Hentrich also weighed in with a new club record, depositing 26 punts inside the opposition's 20-yard line, breaking his own mark of 24 established a year earlier.

In 1994, Cromwell's return units made headlines. Robert Brooks became the first Packer since 1969 to return both a punt and a kickoff for a touchdown, posting an 85-yard scoring runback of a punt against the Los Angeles Rams October 9 and a 96-yard kickoff return TD against the Detroit Lions December 4.

Over the '94 season, Hentrich also made major progress under Cromwell's supervision, averaging an impressive 45.5 yards over the last eight games of the season to close out with a 41.4 overall average — second-highest by a Green Bay rookie or first-year punter in 39 years.

Cromwell's troops earlier had a highly productive year in 1993, his second season on the Packer staff. Based on a statistical analysis of 17 special teams categories by the Dallas Morning News, the Packers tied for fourth in the league, a dramatic rise from 1992's 24th place. The Packers' special teams ranked first in kickoff return average (24.7 yards), opponents' gross punting average (40.2 yards) and extra point percentage (100.0).

In 1992, his first season on Green Bay's coaching staff, Cromwell substantially upgraded the Packers' kick coverage, the kickoff coverage unit emerging as the leader of the National Football Conference with an average yield of only 15.8 yards per return, a mark which ranked second in the NFL as a whole.

A native of Smith Center, Kan., Cromwell enjoyed one of the more distinguished playing careers in recent NFL history prior to joining the coaching ranks. A second-round draft choice of the Rams in 1977 out of the University of Kansas, he was a four-time Pro Bowl selection during his 11 seasons with Los Angeles, ending his playing career as the team's all-time leader in interception return yardage with 671 yards on 37 interceptions, the latter total ranking second in Rams history to Eddie Meador's 46 thefts.

The 41-year-old Cromwell also was a standout special teams player, serving as holder for extra points and field goals, he scored three rushing touchdowns on fake field goal attempts.

In addition to his Pro Bowl honors, Nolan was named NFC 'Defensive Player of the Year' by the Kansas City Committee of 101 in 1980 and was chosen NFL 'Defensive Back of the Year in 1984' by Football Digest.

As a collegian, he was accorded All-America laurels as a junior quarterback in the Kansas wishbone offense.

Cromwell launched his coaching career in 1991 as a defensive and special teams assistant on Coach John Robinson's Rams staff. Following retirement as a player and prior to re-joining the Rams as a coach, he owned and operated three tire stores in the Los Angeles area.

Nolan, who was born January 30, 1955, and his wife, Mary, have two children — Lance (born 6/15/86) and Jennifer (born 4/13/88).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1991 (Los Angeles Rams); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

GIL HASKELL

Wide Receivers

Affable Gil Haskell, previously successful as both a running backs and special teams coach over a 12-year NFL career, demonstrated his tutorial expertise in another area last season — coaching the wide receivers with a sure and productive hand.

In the process, he had the satisfaction of seeing prize pupil Robert Brooks set a new team record for receiving yardage, en route to becoming only the second wideout in the Packers' 75-year NFL history to catch 100 passes in a season.

Haskell, who earlier coached receivers for two years while working under John Robinson at USC, was named to the position by Head Coach Mike Holmgren in February, 1995.

Prior to taking over as receivers coach, Haskell had honed the talents of Edgar Bennett in 1993 while coaching the running backs, the former Florida State standout registering 9 rushing touchdowns — the most by a Packer since 1982.

The 52-year-old San Francisco native brought at least one recent and imposing credential to his latest assignment — the development of Bennett into one of the most prolific receivers in Packer history. In 1994, Bennett caught 78 passes, thus becoming only the second receiver in team annals to have 75-or-more receptions in a season. Overall, Haskell's running backs also made a dramatic statistical improvement over their 1993 production, pulling in 127 passes compared to 84 a year earlier.

In additional to professional success, Haskell's 1995 season was marked by personal misfortune, sudden and unexpected. Run over along the sideline in the NFC Championship Game against the Dallas Cowboys in Texas Stadium January 14, he suffered a fractured skull and brain contusion and subsequently spent two weeks in the Baylor University Medical Center.

One who maintains optimum physical condition year-round by way of a rigorous exercise program, Haskell subsequently made a near-miraculous recovery from the injuries and since has returned to his coaching responsibilities for a 13th NFL season.

During his recuperation, he was buoyed by a massive outpouring of concern — via cards, letters and flowers — from hundreds of fans who had seen the mishap while watching the nationally-televised playoff game.

Haskell, named to the Packer coaching staff January 27, 1992, following nine years under Robinson with the Los Angeles Rams, had made his presence felt in his first Green Bay season. Vince Workman, his most productive ball carrier, appeared en route to the first 1,000-yard rushing season by a Packer since 1978 when he suffered a season-ending shoulder injury in Week 10 against Philadelphia. Under Haskell's tutelage, Bennett also became the first Green Bay rookie to register a 100-yard rushing game in 13 years.

Prior to joining the Packers, Haskell coached the Rams' special teams for the first four of those nine seasons (1983-86), the running backs for the next four and concluded his tenure in 1991 by tutoring the tight ends and re-assuming the special teams responsibilities.

As running backs coach, Haskell had significant success, two Rams backs rushing for 1,000 yards in three of the four seasons he coached the position. Charles White gained 1,374 yards in 1987 and Greg Bell rushed for 1,212 in 1988 and 1,137 in 1989.

Earlier, under Gil's guidance, Rams special teams ranked among the NFL's finest, emerging with the league's No. 1 ranking in both 1984 and 1985, his second and third years in charge of the kamikazes. Three of his players also were named to the Pro Bowl — kickoff returner Ron Brown and punt returner Henry Ellard in 1984 and punter Dale Hatcher in 1985. During that four-year span, only one opponent scored a touchdown on a kickoff or a punt return, while the Rams, conversely, had impressive success, returning nine kicks for scores.

Haskell joined the Rams' staff in 1983 after serving as Robinson's special teams coach for five seasons at USC, a period during which he also was the Trojans' receivers coach for two seasons.

Prior to signing on at USC, Haskell coached at San Francisco's St. Ignatius High School for nine years, the last five as head coach. In the latter role, he compiled an imposing 34-15 won-lost record. He also served as track coach for four years, winning three Catholic Athletic League titles.

Haskell launched his coaching career at Riordan High School, also in San Francisco, serving as line coach for three years while also coaching the track team and winning three Catholic Athletic League championships.

Born in San Francisco September 24, 1943, he has long-standing ties to the NFL. An uncle, the late Dr. William O'Grady, was a part owner of the San Francisco 49ers and, before going to USC in 1979, Haskell had worked with the 49ers for 22 years.

Gil is married to the former Nancy Van Acker, who served as speakers bureau and entertainment coordinator for the Rams before moving to Green Bay. He also is the father of two daughters, Paula and Pattie Haskell.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1978-82 (Southern California); 1983-1991 (Los Angeles Rams); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

Robert Brooks established himself as a legitimate "long ball" threat in 1995, averaging 32.5 yards on his 13 touchdown receptions.

JOHNNY HOLLAND

Defensive Assistant/Quality Control

One of the premier linebackers in Packer history as a player, Johnny Holland is in his second year on the team's coaching staff as assistant linebackers coach and defensive assistant/quality control.

The 31-year-old Holland, who had been in business in Sugar Land, Texas, after closing out his playing career following the 1993 season, was named to the staff by Head Coach Mike Holmgren on February 21, 1995. He assists Jim Lind with coaching the linebackers, in addition to his quality control responsibilities.

In announcing Holland's addition to the staff, Holmgren had observed, "Sometimes you get an opportunity to coach a young man who, in your own mind you say, 'That guy would make a fine coach some day.' That's what I've always felt about John, and I'm glad it worked out."

Holland, who originally joined the Packers as a second-round draft selection out of Texas A&M in 1987, quickly became a key performer in the Green Bay defense, posting more than 100 tackles for six consecutive seasons (1988-1993) and leading his platoon in total tackles each of his last two seasons.

In 1992, he suffered the first of two neck injuries that were to cut short his playing career. Sidelined with two games remaining in the regular season by a herniated cervical disk, he underwent a corrective vertebrae fusion. He returned to action in 1993, starting all 16 games, and led the defense with a career-high 145 tackles while helping the Packers gain the National Football League playoffs for the first time in 11 years.

Following the season, however, it was discovered he had developed a second herniated disk in his neck and, after consultation with the Packers' medical staff, he decided he did not wish to undergo a second surgical procedure and announced his retirement from football May 20, 1994, ending a seven-year NFL career.

As a collegian, the genial Texan was a three-year starter and four-time letterman at Texas A&M, leading the Aggies in total tackles in each of his last three seasons and earning consensus All-America honors as a junior despite missing one game. In the process, he earned the nickname 'Mr. Anywhere' for his ability to consistently be where the ball was.

Earlier, he won 12 letters at Hempstead (Texas) High School — four each in football and basketball, three in track and one in baseball.

Born March 11, 1965, in Belleville, Texas, Johnny and his wife, Faith, have one son, Jordan (born 3/15/94).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1995-96 (Green Bay Packers).

KENT JOHNSTON

Strength and Conditioning

Genial Kent Johnston, who directs and coordinates the Packers' strength and conditioning program on a year-round basis, has been credited with making a key contribution to the Green and Gold's on-field success over the past four seasons, the last three of which have found them qualifying for the playoffs.

Johnston, implementing a comprehensive program upon his arrival in Green Bay, one which has included weight control and nutrition as well as conditioning, has contributed in areas beyond his customary domain, the weight room. He has been credited with rendering valuable assistance in the rehabbing of injured players while also helping with advice and guidance on nutrition.

Since joining the Packers, the soft-spoken Texan has structured specific training programs for each player, as he previously had done done at Tampa Bay, where he implemented karate as a segment of the Bucs' conditioning regimen. In the process, he also has conducted karate classes as an element of the Packers' conditioning program.

Johnston also has traveled around the country in the offseason to monitor the conditioning progress of those players who do not live in the Green Bay area on a year-round basis.

The 40-year-old Texan was honored in February of this year for his professional excellence over a 10-year career in the National Football League when he was presented with the 'President's Award' of the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches' Society at the group's annual meeting in Indianapolis.

Kent earlier earned high marks as a strength and conditioning coach at the University of Alabama under then-head coach Ray Perkins in 1985 and 1986, when the Crimson Tide's weights program was regarded as one of the nation's finest. The athletes he helped develop during that span include premier linebackers Cornelius Bennett (Buffalo Bills) and Derrick Thomas (Kansas City), as well as Derrick McKey of the NBA's Indiana Pacers.

Johnston launched his coaching career in 1978 at Teague (Texas) High School as an assistant coach before signing on at Northwestern (La.) State in 1979. He next moved to Northeast Louisiana as strength coach in 1980 before returning to the prep ranks at Willis (Texas) High School in 1982. A year later, he joined Perkins' University of Alabama staff as a graduate assistant for two seasons (1983-84) before being named strength and conditioning coach in 1985. When Perkins became head coach at Tampa Bay in 1987, Johnston joined the Buccaneer staff.

A graduate of Stephen F. Austin University, he played defensive back in football en route to earning his bachelor's degree in physical education and history. He secured his master's degree in physical education from Alabama in 1984.

Born in Mexia, Texas, February 21, 1956, Allen Kent Johnston graduated from Mexia High School, where he participated in football, tennis and track. Kent and his wife, Pam, have two sons — Kody (born 5/30/90) and Kole (born 5/7/92).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1979 (Northwestern La. State); 1980-81 (Northeast Louisiana); 1983-84 (Alabama, graduate assistant); 1985-86 (Alabama); 1987-91 (Tampa Bay Buccaneers); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

JIM LIND

Linebackers

A 23-year coaching veteran, Jim Lind is in his second season as the Packers' linebackers coach, his fifth on the Green Bay staff.

Lind, defensive assistant/quality control in his first three Green Bay seasons, was named to his current position by Head Coach Mike Holmgren February 18, 1995. He replaced Bob Valesente, who took over the defensive backs.

A 48-year-old native of Isle, Minn., Lind spent nine years as a head coach in the college ranks before joining the Packer organization in 1992, a move which teamed him with Holmgren for a second time. They previously had coached together in 1982 when the Green Bay head coach was a member of LaVell Edwards' staff at Brigham Young University and Lind was a graduate assistant.

Head coach at the University of Minnesota-Morris from 1983 through 1986, Jim directed the UM-M Cougars to two championships in the Northern Intercollegiate Conference. In the process, he was named NIC 'Coach of the Year' in 1984 and NAIA District 13 'Coach of the Year' in 1986.

Lind subsequently served as head coach at the University of Wisconsin-Eau Claire from 1987 through 1991 prior to joining the Green Bay staff.

He began his college coaching career at St. Cloud (Minn.) State, where he was a graduate assistant in 1977 and offensive coordinator in 1978. He moved to neighboring St. John's University in 1979, serving as defensive coordinator under John Gagliardi.

Earlier Jim entered his profession in 1974 as head football coach at Underwood (Minn.) High School, a position he held until moving to St. Cloud State.

Born November 11, 1947, Lind played football and participated in track at Isle (Minn.) High School before enrolling at Bethel College, where he played linebacker for one year. Moving to Bemidji (Minn.) State, from which he received his undergraduate degree, he played defensive back for two years. Jim later earned his master's degree at St. Cloud State and defended his disseration and completed his doctorate in Professional Leadership in Physical Education and Athletics at BYU in 1987.

Jim and his wife, Cindy, have two sons — Erik (born 1/6/87) and Bryan (born 1/31/90).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1977 (St. Cloud State, graduate assistant); 1978 (St. Cloud State); 1979-80 (St. John's University); 1981-82 (Brigham Young, graduate assistant); 1983-86 (Minnesota-Morris, head coach); 1987-91 (Wisconsin-Eau Claire, head coach); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

TOM LOVAT

Offensive Line

Under Tom Lovat's patient and painstaking tutelage, the Packers' offensive line has maintained a high level of performance during his four-season tenure.

The first assistant to be hired by then-new Head Coach Mike Holmgren (January 14, 1992), he has presided over a front five that has delivered the most effective pass protection Packer quarterbacks have had since the NFL implemented the current 16-game schedule in 1978. Green Bay's opponents had to be content with 30 sacks in 1993 and 33 in both 1994 and 1995, the lowest such totals permitted by a Packer offensive line in the 17-year span that the 16-game format has been in place.

Lovat, in his fifth season on the Green Bay staff and his 17th year in the NFL, has been able to extract high quality performance from his charges despite major injury problems in both 1993 and 1994. The 57-year-old Bingham Canyon, Utah, native did perhaps the finest coaching job of his professional career in '93. Despite the injury loss of three of five starters during the course of the season (center James Campen, guard Rich Moran and right tackle Tootie Robbins), he was able to maintain a consistent, productive and well-coordinated unit over the 16-game regular-season schedule and throughout the playoffs.

So effective was the Packer O-Line under his direction that repeating Super Bowl champion Dallas was the only National Football Conference team to yield fewer sacks (29) during the '93 season than Green Bay's front wall, which gave up an average of only 1.9 per game.

In 1994, Lovat had to overcome the early loss of starting left guard Guy McIntrye, his premier run blocker, shelved by a blood clot for six games during the first half of the season, thus requiring him to move center Frank Winters to left guard and bring Jamie Dukes off the bench to step in for Winters.

Last season, Lovat's contributions to the Packers' offensive success were reflected in a league-leading third down efficiency ratio, 49.1 percent, and the club's first 1,000-yard rusher since 1978 in Edgar Bennett.

Earlier he enjoyed good success in 1992, the first year of his second tour of duty with the Packers. Although handicapped by injury problems which caused Moran to miss half of the season and Campen to sit out three games, the Green and Gold's offense ranked among the leaders in both third- and fourth-down efficiency, a development traceable in no small measure to the performance of Lovat's line.

The genial westerner, a 35-year coaching veteran and a member of the Phoenix Cardinals' staff prior to re-joining the Packers, previously served as a Green Bay offensive line assistant (to Ernie McMillan) in 1980 under Bart Starr.

Well respected for his teaching skills, Lovat launched his coaching career at the University of Utah in 1967 while completing his master's degree, received in 1968.

He moved to Idaho State and then to Saskatchewan of the Canadian Football League, taking on his first professional assignment as defensive coach for the Roughriders in 1971.

Lovat returned to Utah as an assistant in 1972 and later was named the school's head coach in 1974, a position he held through the 1976 season. He then moved to Stanford, where he was a member of the Bill Walsh staff from 1977 through 1979, before signing on with the Packers for the first time in 1980.

Tom next joined the Cardinals for the first time in 1981, serving as offensive line coach through the 1984 season. He then became assistant head coach-offense of the Indianapolis Colts, holding that position from 1985 through 1988 under Ron Meyer, the Colts leading the American Football Conference in rushing in '85 under his direction.

Tom subsequently spent the 1989 season as offensive line coach at the University of Wyoming before re-joining the then-Phoenix Cardinals in 1990. That '90 season his offensive line allowed only 43 quarterback sacks, the lowest total by the Cardinals in 11 seasons and one that the Phoenix forward wall matched in 1991. In the '90 process, Lovat's line paved the way for rookie Johnny Johnson to rush for 1,000 yards and earn Pro Bowl honors.

Born in Bingham Canyon, Utah, on December 28, 1938, Lovat is a 1961 graduate of the University of Utah, where he was a three-year football and baseball letterman for the Utes, earning All-Skyline honors in baseball.

Tom and his wife, Lyn, have three children — a daughter, Johna Rae Griese, and two sons, Matthew and Mark.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1967 (Utah); 1968-70 (Idaho State); 1971 (Saskatchewan Roughriders, CFL); 1972-76 (Utah, head coach 1974-76); 1977-79 (Stanford); 1980 (Green Bay Packers); 1981-84 (St. Louis Cardinals); 1985-88 (Indianapolis Colts); 1989 (Wyoming); 1990-91 (Phoenix Cardinals); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

MARTY MORNHINWEG

Quarterbacks Coach

Ebullient Marty Mornhinweg, in his second year on the Packers' coaching staff, assumes a new role this season as quarterbacks coach.

The 34-year-old Mornhinweg, who previously served as offensive assistant/quality control, was named to his new position by Head Coach Mike Holmgren February 14, 1996, succeeding Steve Mariucci, who left to become head football coach at the University of California.

In announcing Mornhinweg's promotion, Holmgren said, "In his role as offensive assistant/quality control, Marty was very much involved with the quarterback play from the coaching standpoint. He spent a good portion of his time in the quarterback meetings with Steve Mariucci and the quarterbacks throughout the season.

"Earlier, he was an outstanding quarterback in his own right at the University of Montana and, later having been offensive line coach at the University of Missouri, he has a real total understanding of offense and offensive schemes, and how it all affects quarterback play. Additionally, he proved — in a very short time — that he could not only handle this job, but do it very well."

Mornhinweg, a native of San Jose, Calif., and a veteran of 10 coaching years at the college level, was well known to the Green Bay head coach before being invited to join the Packer organization. Holmgren, who coached him at San Jose's Oak Grove High, says of him, "Marty's one of the finest quarterbacks I've coached at any level."

A graduate of the University of Montana with a B.S. degree in health/physical education and a master's degree (health/physical education/sports management) from the University of Texas-El Paso, Mornhinweg began his college coaching career in 1985 at his alma mater, where he tutored the Montana receivers.

He subsequently served as graduate assistant/quarterbacks coach at Texas-El Paso (1986-87), running backs coach at Northern Arizona in 1988 and offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Southeast Missouri State University (1989-90). He then coached slots/tight ends (1991) and the offensive line (1992-93) at the University of Missouri before returning to Northern Arizona as offensive coordinator in 1994.

A four-year starter at quarterback for the University of Montana as a collegian, Mornhinweg set 15 school passing records and twice earned All-America honorable mention. He earlier had an outstanding prep career, winning all-state honors and being named Northern California 'Player of the Year.' In the process, Marty established three Northern California and 19 school records.

Following graduation from Montana, he had a tryout with the San Francisco 49ers in 1985, and, in 1986, quarterbacked the Denver Dynamite of the Arena Football League for two games before suffering a season-ending knee injury. His playing days behind him, he later resumed his collegiate coaching career in the fall of '86.

Born in Edmond, Okla., March 29, 1962, Marty and his wife, Lindsay, have three children — daughters Madison (born 5/27/91) and Molly Lynn (born 7/21/95) and a son, Skyler (born 8/10/93).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1985 (Montana); 1986-87 (Texas-El Paso, graduate assistant); 1988 (Northern Arizona); 1989-90 (Southeast Missouri State); 1991-93 (Missouri); 1994 (Northern Arizona); 1995-96 (Green Bay Packers).

ANDY REID

Tight Ends/Assistant Offensive Line

Under Andy Reid's patient and resourceful tutelage, tight end has been a consistently productive position over his four-year Green Bay tenure, a span punctuated by Mark Chmura being named to the Pro Bowl following the 1995 season — the first such honor for a Packer tight end since 1983.

Reid, who built a reputation for developing outstanding offensive lines while in the college ranks, has seen Chmura and predecessor Jackie Harris put up near-record numbers under his direction since his arrival upon the Green Bay scene. Harris registered 55 receptions in 1993, a total only one shy of the Packers' single-season record, prior to signing on as a free agent with Tampa Bay in 1994, and Chmura posted 54 in 1995, the third-highest collection in team annals.

Reid may well have done the best coaching job of his Packer tenure in 1994 when he was called upon to juggle and utilize the talents of four different tight ends over the course of the season, among them 11-year veteran Ed West, handicapped by a pair of refractory knees; incoming Reggie Johnson, periodically hampered by a hamstring problem; then third-year pro Chmura, thrust into a late-season starting role by the injury factor; and rookie Jeff Wilner, inserted on a spot basis. The 38-year-old Brigham Young alumnus was able to garner a total of 57 receptions from this quartet, including a career-high 31 by the gimpy West.

Earlier, Harris matured into one of the NFL's premier tight ends under Reid's demanding, yet reinforcing, direction in 1992 and '93 prior to signing with the Bucs. Harris caught 97 passes over that two-year span.

Reid, who had been offensive line coach at the University of Missouri since 1988, was named to the Packer staff by Head Coach Mike Holmgren on January 21, 1992, to assist Tom Lovat with the offensive line in addition to coaching the tight ends.

Quality pass-blocking offensive lines, in both the Division I and II ranks, had been Reid's hallmark since launching his coaching career at San Francisco State in 1983. The school led the nation in passing offense and total offense for three consecutive years (1983-84-85) while he served as offensive coordinator, offensive line coach and strength coach.

Reid moved to Northern Arizona as offensive line coach in 1986, then to Texas-El Paso in 1987. When Bob Stull took over as head coach at Missouri in 1988, he joined Stull's Tiger staff, where he spent four years prior to being "recruited" by the Packers in 1992.

Andy received his coaching start at his alma mater, BYU, as a graduate assistant under LaVell Edwards in 1982. An offensive tackle/guard on three Holiday Bowl teams as a collegian, Reid earned three varsity football letters, graduating with a bachelor's degree in physical education. He also received a master's degree in Professional Leadership in Physical Education and Athletics.

Born in Los Angeles March 19, 1958, Reid and his wife, Tammy, have five children — Garrett (born 4/13/83), Britt (born 4/28/85), Crosby (born 3/17/88), Drew Ann (born 3/9/90) and Spencer (born 6/9/92).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1982 (Brigham Young, graduate assistant); 1983-85 (San Francisco State); 1986 (Northern Arizona); 1987 (Texas-El Paso); 1988-91 (Missouri); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

HARRY SYDNEY

Running Backs

Harry Sydney carries a new and impressive coaching credential into the 1996 season. In 1995 the former 49er fullback presided over Edgar Bennett's development into the Packers' first 1,000-yard rusher (1,067) since 1978, when Terdell Middleton turned the trick.

Sydney, who had just taken over as running backs coach last season, thus quickly put the expertise he gleaned in 10 pro playing seasons to specific use in maximizing Bennett's contributions to the running game.

A veteran of two Super Bowls as a performer, the voluble North Carolinian is in his third year on the Green Bay staff. He had been a general assistant in 1994, his first season as an NFL coach.

Harry, a fullback during his on-field career, played on Super Bowl championship teams in 1988 and '89 during a five-year tenure with the San Francisco 49ers in which he served as the Niners' special teams captain.

In one subsequent season with the Packers, 1992, he was a substantial contributor to the cause, catching 49 passes for 384 yards and rushing for 163 yards in 51 carries while helping the Green and Gold post a 9-7 record, their second-best mark in a 20-year span.

Sydney earlier played in the United States Football League for three years and in the Canadian Football League for one season prior to joining the 49ers in 1987. A wishbone quarterback at the University of Kansas as a collegian, he moved to running back prior to his junior season and earned All-Big Eight honors at the position.

Born Harry Flanroy Sydney III in Petersburg, Va., on June 26, 1959, he was an all-state performer in both football and basketball at Seventy-First High School in Fayetteville, N.C.

Sydney, who owns a degree in criminal justice from the University of Kansas, is the possessor of a highly eclectic resume. In addition to having taught a high school psychology course on a "sabbatical" from pro football in 1986, he also reports having had a variety of odd jobs in earlier years — cook, factory worker, basketball referee and driver of a soft drink truck, among others.

Harry has four children — Harry IV (born 6/13/81), Zachary (born 11/29/85), Nathan (born 12/26/89) and Taylor (born 10/12/92).

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1994-1996 (Green Bay Packers).

BOB VALESENTE

Defensive Backs

Scholarly Bob Valesente, now in his second season as Green Bay's defensive backfield coach, has spanned the coaching spectrum during a 34-year career in his chosen profession.

Taking over tutoring of the secondary thus was a smooth transition for Valesente, who has done it all, vocationally speaking, having coached at every level — high school, college and professional — and has had extensive experience on both sides of the football — as a head coach, assistant head coach and offensive or defensive coordinator for seven colleges and universities.

Earlier in his career, he coached the defensive secondary over a five-year span (from 1970 through 1974) while in the college ranks at Cornell University and later at the University of Cincinnati.

The 56-year-old Valesente, who earlier presided over Bryce Paup's rise to Pro Bowl status at linebacker in 1994, moved into his current role last season, replacing Dick Jauron, who had resigned to become defensive coordinator for the expansion Jacksonville Jaguars.

Bob, who joined the Packer staff in 1992 after two seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers, is on his third NFL coaching assignment. In addition to his tour of duty with the Steelers, he previously had been secondary/special teams coach for the then-Baltimore Colts in 1982-83.

Valesente began his coaching career at Ithaca (N.Y.) High School in 1962. He left the coaching profession temporarily after one year to play professional baseball for the Chicago Cubs organization in 1963 and '64. Bob then launched his college coaching career at Cornell University as freshman defensive coordinator in the fall of 1964. After 10 seasons at Cornell, the last five as varsity secondary coach, he moved to the University of Cincinnati as secondary coach in 1975-76, then to Arizona (1977-79) and to Mississippi State (1980-81) as defensive coordinator/linebackers coach.

Valesente then received his first NFL coaching opportunity at Baltimore in 1982, later returning to the college ranks as assistant head coach/quarterbacks coach at the University of Kansas in 1984. He subsequently was named head coach at Kansas in 1986, then spent one year as offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Maryland in 1988 before joining the University of Pittsburgh staff. During Bob's Kansas tenure, the Jayhawks set numerous passing records.

Bob was named linebackers coach for the Steelers by then-head coach Chuck Noll on March 9, 1990, after serving as assistant head coach/defensive coordinator at Pitt in 1989. Under his tutelage, both David Little and Greg Lloyd blossomed into All-Pro performers, helping the Steelers earn the league's No. 1 ranking on defense in 1990.

A graduate of Ithaca College, Valesente played halfback on the football varsity and was a catcher-outfielder for the baseball team that reached the 1962 College World Series. Drafted by the Chicago Cubs, he played at the Class A level in 1963-64.

Valesente, a member of the Ithaca College Hall of Fame, graduated in 1962 with a bachelor's degree in physical education, later earning his master's degree from the same institution in 1965.

Born in Seneca Falls, N.Y., on July 19, 1940, Bob and his wife, Joan, have three children — a son, Rob, 28, and two daughters, Ginger Valesente Weekly, 30, and Michelle, 16.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1964-74 (Cornell); 1975-76 (University of Cincinnati); 1977-79 (Arizona); 1980-81 (Mississippi State); 1982-83 (Baltimore Colts); 1984-87 (Kansas, head coach 1986-87); 1988 (Maryland); 1989 (University of Pittsburgh); 1990-91 (Pittsburgh Steelers); 1992-96 (Green Bay Packers).

Cornerback Doug Evans established a new unofficial Packer record for passes defensed in 1995 with 27. Evans' mark bettered the previous high of 25, set by LeRoy Butler in 1993.

GARY REYNOLDS

Administrative Assistant/Football Operations-Offensive Assistant/Quality Control

Gary Reynolds, administrative assistant/football operations since 1993, takes on additional responsibilities this year as offensive assistant/quality control.

Reynolds, a 29-year-old Texan, was assigned the added duties by Head Coach Mike Holmgren in February of 1996, replacing Marty Mornhinweg, who was named quarterbacks coach.

In his expanded role, he is in charge of all computer input and analysis for the offensive coaching staff, in addition to film breakdown and executing the scheduling of all team mini-camps, training camps, practices, meetings and events. He also assists in the coordination of team travel to road games.

A Texas A&M alumnus with a bachelor of science degree in engineering (1988) and a master's degree in education (1992), Reynolds joined the Packer organization in July of 1993 after serving as assistant recruiting coordinator at the University of Tennessee. He previously had been graduate assistant/assistant recruiting coordinator at Texas A&M from January 1991 until August 1992, when he joined the University of Tennessee staff.

Gary, born October 5, 1966, in Boston, graduated from Dulles High School in Sugar Land, Texas, in 1984. He is married to the former Beth Epperly of Knoxville, Tenn.

BARRY RUBIN

Strength and Conditioning Assistant

Barry Rubin, possessor of a 15-year background in the strength and conditioning field, is in his second year as strength and conditioning assistant for the Packers.

The 39-year-old Rubin joined the Packer organization May 19, 1995, following a third tenure as head strength coach at Northeast Louisiana University, thus becoming the first full-time strength and conditioning assistant in club history.

In assisting Kent Johnston, the Packers' strength and conditioning coach, his responsibilities include monitoring the team's cardiovascular conditioning (running) program, as well as player workouts in the weight room and assisting in setting up player nutritional profiles.

A native of Monroe, La., where he was born June 25, 1957, Rubin began his career in the strength and conditioning field in 1981 as a graduate assistant at Northeast Louisiana University following his graduation from Northwestern (La.) State University. In addition to seven years of service at Northeast, in three separate tenures, he also spent two years as head strength coach at Louisiana State, one year as a personal trainer to then-Pittsburgh Steelers quarterback Bubby Brister and four years at a health club in Monroe, La.

Rubin, who is single, was a tight end and punter as a collegian at Northwestern (La.) State from 1978-80, where his teammates included future NFL performers Bobby Hebert, Mark Duper, Joe Delaney and Gary Reasons. He was named to the Jewish All-America football team as a senior.

The Packers' 49 touchdowns in 1995 tied the fourth-highest mark in team annals.

Edgar Bennett forged a hallmark season in 1995, becoming the first Packer running back to rush for 1,000 yards (1,067 — in a club-record 316 attempts) since 1978, and invading the team's record book in three major categories. He amassed 1,715 total yards from scrimmage (including 648 on 61 pass receptions), breaking Jim Taylor's record of 1,580, and also moved into ninth place in career rushing (2,454 yards) and 10th in career receiving (211 catches).

50 MIKE ARTHUR

Center / Offensive Guard
Texas A&M 6th year
Ht: 6-3 Wt: 290 Born: 5/7/68 Acq: T-95

PRO: A solid and versatile veteran acquired in a training camp trade with the New England Patriots prior to the 1995 season, Mike Arthur is counted upon to provide quality depth in the heart of the offensive line...Also is expected to assume many of the Packers' long-snapping responsibilities this year...Offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis has been pleased with what he has seen of the 28-year-old center/guard during the offseason..."Mike showed quite a bit of improvement in our mini-camps," Lewis said, adding, "We've had him at both center and guard, and we think he's got a chance to help us at both positions. We're going to take a good look at him at guard — we know he can play center. It looks like he has some ability to play guard and I think he might give us some real good depth in our offensive line. He's got good strength and he's a pretty good technician — he executes well. He's very coachable and he's smart — he knows all the calls. He can make the calls (at center). And he looks like he has the ability to pull and do some of the things we like at guard, too, so we want to look at him there."...Originally a fifth-round draft selection of the Cincinnati Bengals in 1991, the seven-year pro started 38 regular-season games in five NFL seasons before coming to the Packers, including 13 for Cincinnati in 1992 and 11 in both 1993 and 1994 for the Patriots, who claimed him off waivers from the Bengals in '93...1995: Backed up veteran Frank Winters at center...Saw action on special teams in 11 of 16 regular-season games, plus all three playoff contests...Did not play in opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3), nor in any of the team's final four regular-season games...Assumed long-snapping responsibilities for placements during postseason win over Atlanta after Winters experienced elbow problems, continuing those chores through the playoffs...Had been acquired from Patriots on Aug. 12 in exchange for wide receiver Bill Schroeder and tight end Jeff Wilner...1994: Started the first three games at center for New England...Relieved by Mike Gisler for four contests, but returned to the starting lineup for the final nine games of the season, plus a subsequent playoff game...Allowed only 2½ of the 22 sacks permitted by the Patriots' offensive line, despite 721 passing attempts (including sacks)...1993: Claimed off waivers from the Bengals (Sept. 1) and started two weeks later vs. Seattle (Sept. 19)...Started 11 games in all, including the final five games of the season...The Patriots averaged 338.6 yards per game to close out the season, thanks in part to the consistent play of the offensive line, which allowed only one quarterback sack during that time...As a unit the offensive line allowed only 23 sacks, the second-best total in the league...1992: Played in all 16 games for Bengals, starting 13 at center...Opened the season as the starting center in just his second season...Started the first seven games as the Bengals began 2-0 before losing five straight...Played as a reserve during a three-game stretch between Nov. 1 through Nov. 15...Returned to start final six games of the season...Along the way, helped Harold Green to the first 1,000-yard rushing season of his career (1,170 yards)...Assisted the Bengals to a third-place ranking in the AFC by averaging 123.5 yards rushing per game (eighth in the NFL)...1991: Made his NFL debut in the third week of his rookie campaign, Sept. 15 against Cleveland...Injuries on the Bengals elevated him to the starting lineup against Miami (Dec. 9)...Started the final three weeks of the regular season...Drafted in the fifth round (130th overall) by Cincinnati in 1991.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and four-time letterman (1987-90) at Texas A&M...Redshirted in 1986...Earned Football Writers of America All-America honors and was an all-conference selection as a senior...Also finished the season as a semi-finalist for the Outland Trophy, awarded annually to the top collegiate interior lineman...Holds B.S. degree in agricultural economics.

PERSONAL: Given name Michael Scott Arthur...Born in Minneapolis...Married to Susan, couple has one daughter, Allison (born 1/10/96)...Attended Spring Woods High School in Houston, earning five letters (two in football as a center, three in track)...Father, Donald, was a running back at the University of Minnesota, and a brother, Tom, played at Texas A&M (1983-84), where he was part of original "12th Man"...Part-owner of a packaging company, 'SSI Contract Packaging,' and 'Breaker Lock,' an electrical safety firm, both in Houston...Residence: Green Bay.

84 MIKE BARTRUM

Tight End

Marshall 3rd year

Ht: 6-4½ Wt: 245 Born: 6/23/70 Acq: FA-95

PRO: Prime candidate for backup and/or tandem role at tight end after seeing his 1995 season ended prematurely by a broken arm...Also is a capable long-snapper...Made Packers' roster last year as an unheralded free agent after beginning his pro career with Kansas City Chiefs in 1993..."Unfortunately, Mike got hurt last year and missed a lot of time," offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis noted in his appraisal of the third-year performer. "He's an excellent receiver. The big thing with him now is to improve in his blocking, and also to get a little stronger. But he's as fine a receiver as any of the tight ends. He's an excellent route-runner, an excellent athlete and he's got excellent hands. He also has improved dramatically in his long-snapping. He's really worked hard at it and we can see the improvement, so the coaches are real pleased with that."...1995: Was Green Bay's third tight end and No. 1 long-snapper on punts until suffering a broken left arm at Jacksonville (Sept. 24)...Subsequently placed on injured reserve Oct. 11...Had played in each of the team's first four games as a sub...Contributed 1 assisted tackle on special teams vs. N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17)...Had seen action in two tight-end sets at Chicago (Sept. 11) after starter Mark Chmura went down with an ankle injury late in the game...Signed with the Packers as a free agent on Jan. 19, 1995...1994: Waived by Kansas City in training camp (Aug. 23), he spent the remainder of the season out of football...1993: Originally signed by the Chiefs as an undrafted free agent on April 30, 1993...Released on the final cutdown (Aug. 30), he was signed to the Kansas City practice squad on Sept. 1...Remained there for six weeks until being activated Oct. 26, at which time he saw limited action on offense in three regular-season games plus one playoff contest.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter and three-time letterman (1989, 1991-92) at Marshall University in Huntington, W.Va. ...Closed out collegiate career with 109 receptions for 1,187 yards (10.9 avg.) and 10 touchdowns...Consensus All-Southern Conference selection as a senior, when he caught 62 passes for 680 yards and 9 TDs and school was I-AA national champions...Missed entire 1990 season with a knee injury suffered in spring practice...Had been redshirted in 1988...Also was a relief pitcher for Thundering Herd baseball team as a junior...Earned B.A. degree in elementary and special education.

PERSONAL: Given name Michael Weldon Bartrum...Born in Galliapolis, Ohio...Married (Jennifer)...All-state selection in football, basketball and baseball at Meigs High School in Pomeroy, Ohio...Lettered three times on the gridiron (as a tight end and linebacker), four times in baseball and twice in basketball...Passed for 1,900 yards and 24 touchdowns as a quarterback his junior and senior seasons...Taught 4th and 5th grade special education classes at Louisburg (Kan.) Elementary School during the 1995 offseason...Then was a teacher at Louisburg (Kan.) High School last fall after his injury and again in the spring of 1996...Hobbies include playing golf and spending time with his family...Residence: Overland Park, Kan.

57 ROBERT BASS

Linebacker

Miami (Fla.) 2nd year

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 239 Born: 11/10/70 Acq: FA-95

PRO: An unheralded free agent with intriguing potential, Robert Bass is a leading candidate to augment the team's linebacker corps...Joined Packers' practice squad midway through last season after an early two-game stint on the roster of the Chicago Bears, the club with which he began his pro career in 1994...Remained a member of the practice squad for the balance of the season and into the playoffs before he was signed to Green Bay's 53-man roster for the last two postseason games..."He has really good athletic ability," Packers defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur says of the former Miami Hurricane. "He's quick, and we look for him to challenge for the middle linebacker spot. There are, of course, a lot of things that apply here, and not the least of which is special teams ability in the preseason, and those kinds of things. But he's going to make a legitimate run. Guys in those (linebacker) positions have their best chance to make the team with special teams, so that's going to be a big factor with him."...1995: Released in training camp by Chicago (Aug. 22), he was re-signed by the Bears two weeks into the regular season (Sept. 12)...Played in two games for Chicago, making 1 special teams tackle, before being waived a second time on Sept. 28...Roughly a month later (Oct. 30) was signed to Green Bay practice squad, where he stayed into the postseason...Moved up to Packers' 53-man roster Jan. 4, he was inactive for the team's ensuing playoff games at San Francisco and Dallas...1994: Spent entire season on injured reserve with a right knee injury suffered in training camp...Underwent surgery Aug. 13, he was placed on IR 10 days later...Originally signed by Chicago as an undrafted free agent on April 29.

COLLEGE: Two-year letterman (1992-93) for Miami (Fla.), starting his final season with Hurricanes, after beginning collegiate career at Nassau Community College (1989-90) in Garden City, N.Y.

...Recorded 98 career tackles (60 solo) at Miami...Was redshirted in 1991 to adjust to Hurricanes' 4-3 defense following his utilization in a five-man front in junior college...Backed up Michael Barrow (Oilers) in '92...Missed start of '93 season due to a knee injury...Turned in top effort of that year against Rutgers, making 13 tackles...Selected as one of Hurricanes' captains on four occasions as a senior...Named as a member of the 1993 'Good Works Team' by the College Football Association...Was an All-American and a two-time all-conference pick at Nassau C.C. ...Holds B.S. degree in criminal justice.

PERSONAL: Given name Robert Shawn Bass...Born in Brooklyn, N.Y. ...Married to Deanna, couple has one son, Robert, Jr. (born 2/14/96)...Played tailback and linebacker at Samuel J. Special Teams Tackles: 1 (1-0) with Chicago in 1995

34 EDGAR BENNETT

Running Back

Florida State 5th year

Ht: 6-0 Wt: 217 Born: 2/15/69 Acq: D4-92

PRO: Versatile, committed and productive, the highly durable Floridian has entrenched himself among the Packers' all-time rushing and receiving elite in just four seasons, a feat of major proportions considering the team's history dates back to the dawn of the NFL in 1921...Invaded the club's lifetime top ten in both categories in 1995, vaulting into ninth place in rushing (2,454 yards) while becoming Green Bay's first 1,000-yard rusher since 1978, and taking over 10th place in receiving (211 catches)...Following his 61-catch production, only one running back in team history has caught more passes in a career than he — Gerry Ellis with 267...Tied Don Hutson, Bill Howton and Paul Coffman for third place all-time for the most 50-catch seasons...He also has caught at least one pass in 48 straight games, the longest streak in team history for a running back and the sixth-longest in club annals...Remarkably sure-handed, he has had 684 consecutive rushing attempts without a lost fumble, his last coming as a rookie at Chicago's Soldier Field on Nov. 22, 1992, in his first pro start...Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis, duly appreciative of Bennett's multiple contributions to the cause, says of him, "Edgar's just an all-around, excellent back. The guy does everything well — he's an excellent receiver coming out of the backfield and he can run inside. He's very durable — he's been hurt and he hasn't missed any games. The thing I like about him more than anything is the fact that we give him the ball a lot and he just doesn't fumble. He's got great hands — in the four years we've been here, he's had very few fumbles. There's probably faster backs, there's bigger backs, there's probably better blocking backs and better receiving backs. But as far as a guy that can do it all, he's as good as any of them."...Always answers the bell on Sunday, he has yet to miss a game as a professional, playing in 64 consecutive contests — tying center Frank Winters for the longest active string on the team...Now has five career 100-yard rushing games and is tied (with three others) for fourth on the Packers' all-time list, behind only the 26 of Jim Taylor, the 13 of John Brockington and the nine of Tony Canadeo...Has rushed for 342 postseason yards in seven career games, a total which in 1995 lifted him past Paul Hornung (323) into second place in Green Bay's all-time playoff rushing, behind only the 505 of Taylor...1995: Assumed a new role in the Green Bay offense, moving from fullback to halfback, with the objective of more fully featuring his skills in Coach Mike Holmgren's productive system, and the stratagem paid substantial dividends...Started all 16 games for the first time in his career...Ground out 1,067 yards to lead the club in rushing for a second consecutive year and rank 10th in the National Football Conference...Also finished second on the club with 61 pass receptions, becoming the first running back in team annals to catch more than 60 passes in two different seasons (following a club record, for RBs, 78 in 1994) and also the first running back in club history to record three 50-reception seasons...Closed out the season with a team-record 1,715 yards from scrimmage (surpassing the 1,580 of Taylor in 1962) to rank fifth in the NFC...Became the Packers' first 1,000-yard rusher since Terdell Middleton (1,116 in 1978) and only the fifth player in team history to rush for 1,000 yards in a season...In addition, his 316 rushing attempts set a new team record for most in a season — breaking the previous mark of 284 by Middleton in '84...Named to the 'All-Madden Team' by Fox Sports analyst John Madden...Registered over 100 yards of total offense in 10 games...Limited during training camp by an ankle sprain suffered in a preseason game at Pittsburgh (Aug. 13), which ended up lingering throughout the year, he returned to start the regular season opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3)...Rushed for 96 yards on a career-high 30 carries at Chicago (Sept. 11)...Had 87 yards rushing on 23 carries (3.8 avg.) in win over N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17)...Rushed for 66 yards on 21 attempts against Jaguars, in addition to catching 3 passes, in a return to his hometown of Jacksonville (Sept. 24)...Weighed in with 129 total yards from scrimmage at Dallas (Oct. 8), catching 4 passes for 79 yards, including a leaping, 30-yard catch midway through the fourth quarter — and rushing 16 times for 50 yards...Had his second consecutive game of 100-or-more yards in total offense when he accounted for 148 yards from scrimmage (77 rushing, 71 receiving) Oct. 15 against Detroit...Recorded a third straight game of 100-plus yards with a 105-yard effort (71 rushing, 34 receiving) vs. Minnesota on Oct. 22...Established single-game career highs with 121 yards rushing (on 22 carries for a 5.5 average) and total yards from scrimmage (171) at Detroit (Oct. 29)...Also caught 6 passes for 50 yards in Lions contest, a game which marked his fourth consecutive 100-plus total yards effort...Posted a solid, all-around performance at Minnesota (Nov. 5), rushing for 70 yards, including a 13-yard scoring run on the Packers' first drive of the game...Also caught a season-high 7 passes for 65 yards, marking the fifth straight game he had totaled 100-or-more yards from scrimmage...Had a career-best 2 touchdown receptions — both on screen passes — in the Packers' 35-28 victory over the Bears (Nov. 12), including a 16-yard TD catch midway through the fourth quarter which was the decisive score...Amassed 145 yards of offense vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 26), when he posted a team-leading 60 yards rushing and also caught 3 passes for a season-high 85 yards...One of the catches was a diving, 31-yard reception that he caught at the Buccaneers' 5-yard line (the Packers scored a touchdown two plays later)...Gained 71 yards on the ground at Cleveland (Nov. 19) and had another 42 yards receiving on 5 catches — totaling 113 yards from scrimmage...Had another productive outing Dec. 3 vs. Cincinnati, totaling 130 yards of offense when he rushed for 80 yards and equaled his season high with 7 receptions for 50 yards — including a 14-yard scoring pass on a screen play midway through the third quarter, giving Green Bay the go-ahead touchdown in an eventual 24-10 victory...Had 150 yards of total offense at New Orleans (Dec. 16) — a day which saw him go over 1,000 yards rushing in the fourth quarter...Rushed for 57 yards and scored on a diving 9-yard run vs. Pittsburgh in regular-season finale (Dec. 24)...Also had a season-best 23-yard run against Steelers...Augmented his in-season contributions by leading the Packers in rushing during the postseason, gaining 205 yards in 56 attempts, a 3.7-yard average, as he started all three games...Launched his playoff efforts with a club-record, 108-yard performance on 24 carries in a 37-20 wild-card victory over Atlanta (Dec. 31), breaking the 35-year-old mark of 105, set by Taylor at Philadelphia Dec. 26, 1960, and tied by Hornung vs. Cleveland Jan. 2, 1966...Also had 3 pass receptions for 11 yards vs. Falcons...Rushed for 51 yards in 23 carries in 27-17 divisional playoff triumph over San Francisco 49ers (Jan. 6)...Gained 46 yards in 9 rushing attempts (5.1 avg.) and made 3 catches for 20 yards in NFC title game at Dallas (Jan. 14)...His 6 playoff receptions (3 each against Atlanta and Dallas) swelled his career playoff total to 26, leaving him in fourth place in the team's postseason annals...1994: Led club in rushing for the first time in his career with 623 yards and 5 touchdowns on 178 carries...Also paced the National Football League in receptions among running backs with his 78 catches — a total second on the team to Sterling Sharpe's 94 and the sixth-highest single-season collection in Packer annals — and surpassed Green Bay's previous one-season mark for receptions by a running back, 65, set by Ellis in 1981...His 623 yards rushing ranked 12th in the NFC and his 56 points placed him eighth in the conference among non-kickers...Played in all 16 games for the third straight season, making 15 starts at fullback...Posted second consecutive 1,000-or-more total-yard season (623 rushing, 546 receiving), closing out the year with 1,169 yards...Had his third 100-yard rushing game of the season (and fourth of his career) at Tampa Bay Dec. 24, when he rushed for exactly 100 yards in 21 attempts, including a career-long 39-yard scoring excursion for the game's first score in a 34-19 victory, in the process becoming the first Packer to record three 100-yard rushing games in a season since Middleton, who had four in 1978...Also caught 6 passes for 35 yards vs. Bucs...Made 8 receptions for 101 yards vs. Atlanta (Dec. 18), the first 100-yard receiving day of his career — including a career-long 40-yard catch-and-run of a screen pass...Also had 46 yards rushing against the Falcons, his 147 total yards in the contest were a season high as well...Registered his third career 100-yard rushing game vs. Chicago (Dec. 11) when he posted a season-best 106 yards on 22 attempts, including a 4-yard TD run...Rushed for 5.6 yards per carry (8-45) at Buffalo on Nov. 20, he also caught 5 passes vs. Bills, including a 5-yard scoring toss in the third quarter...Had limited production in win over the Jets (Nov. 13), being required to leave the game with a bruised knee late in the second quarter from which he did not return...Had a team-leading 47 yards receiving on 5 catches, including a 17-yard touchdown reception, in 38-30 win over Detroit Nov. 6...Recorded perhaps finest day of his pro career at Chicago (Oct. 31), scoring a career-high 3 touchdowns in a torrential, gale-like rainstorm and rushing for 105 yards on 26 carries (4.0 avg.)...Had 2 rushing scores and caught a 9-yard TD pass from Brett Favre early in the fourth quarter, giving the Packers a 27-0 lead, in eventual 33-6 triumph over the Monsters of the Midway...Scored Packers' winning touchdown vs. L.A. Rams (Oct. 9) when he found the end zone from one yard out early in the fourth quarter, giving Green Bay a 24-17 lead and the eventual win...Caught a screen pass from Favre and ran 9 yards before hurdling into the end zone for a score in second quarter as Packers defeated Tampa Bay 30-3 (Sept. 25)...Made a team-leading 8 receptions against Bucs...Led club with 7 catches for 44 yards at Philadelphia (Sept. 18), a day clouded not only by a 13-7 defeat but by a shoulder injury he incurred in the third quarter...Was one of few bright spots in loss to Miami (Sept. 11), when he caught a career-high 10 passes for 78 yards...Also paced the Packers in rushing in the postseason with 104 yards and 1 touchdown on 33 carries, starting both contests...Caught 9 passes for 42 yards to rank second on the club in the playoffs...1993: Established himself as the starter at fullback with a consistent and productive all-around performance in his second pro season...Closed out the season as a major contributor to the playoff Packers' cause, amassing 1,007 yards of total offense...Started 14 of 16 games at fullback and emerged as team's No. 2 rusher and receiver, rushing for 550 yards and 9 touchdowns in 159 attempts and snaring 59 passes for 457 yards and 1 TD...His 59 catches ranked third-best among National Football Conference running backs, behind only the Eagles' Herschel Walker (75) and the Cardinals' Larry Centers (66), and were the most by a Packer running back since 1989, when Keith Woodside had the same number...Closed out year 15th in the NFC in total yards from scrimmage with 1,007...Was tied with the Cowboys' Super Bowl MVP, Emmitt Smith, for fifth in NFC scoring among non-kickers with 60 points, he also tied for second in the conference (and third in NFL as a whole) with 9 rushing TDs, trailing only the Chiefs' Marcus Allen (12) and the 49ers' Ricky Watters (10)...Scored two third-quarter TDs in 36-6, season-opening victory over L.A. Rams (Sept. 5) at Milwaukee, one on an impressive 11-yard run on which he broke several tackles and lunged into the end zone, staking Green Bay to a 26-6 lead...Posted 8 receptions for 61 yards — and scored Packers' first points on a 1-yard rushing TD — at Dallas (Oct. 3)...Scored on a diving 1-yard TD late in first quarter vs. Denver (Oct. 10) to give the Packers a 17-10 lead en route to a 30-27 victory...Had excellent all-around performance vs. Detroit (Nov. 21), rolling up 118 total yards (a season-high 66 rushing plus 52 on 6 catches) and 2 rushing TDs in a 26-17 victory; his second came with 1:51 left to seal the win...Scored 2 TDs at Detroit (Jan. 2), one on a 39-yard pass from Favre in the first quarter and the other on a 2-yard run in the third quarter...Started both of Green Bay's postseason games, he caught a team playoff-record 9 passes for 53 yards in 27-17 loss to Super Bowl Champion Dallas Cowboys in divisional playoff (Jan. 16)...Had won starting fullback job over bosom buddy Dexter McNabb in training camp...1992: Played in all 16 games, with two starts at halfback, and became the first Packer rookie to post a 100-yard rushing game since Steve Atkins in 1979...Made first pro start at Chicago (Nov. 22), stepping in for injured Vince Workman, and amassed 107 yards in 29 carries to play prominent role in 17-3 victory over the Bears...Also started following week vs. Tampa Bay and contributed 81 yards of total offense to the winning cause, rushing for 38 yards and catching 5 passes for 43 more...Gave way to veteran Darrell Thompson in the ensuing contest, vs. Detroit...Had seen primarily reserve action at running back prior to his start against the Bears...Also contributed on special teams, returning 5 kickoffs for a 20.8-yard average as well as registering 2 tackles on kick coverage...Fourth-round draft choice (103rd overall, and ninth running back) of Green Bay in 1992.

COLLEGE: Four-year starter (1987, 1989-91) at Florida State...Granted medical redshirt after two games in 1988 due to broken hand...Rushed 296 times for 1,246 yards (4.2 avg.) and 13 TDs for Seminoles...Also caught 93 passes for 1,095 yards (11.8 avg.) and 7 touchdowns...Honorable mention All-America selection by Football News as a senior...Regarded by many as best blocker in the nation at his position upon graduation...Holds B.A. degree in political science.

47 BUCKY BROOKS

Cornerback
North Carolina 2nd year
Ht: 6-0 Wt: 195 Born: 1/22/71 Acq: FA-95

PRO: A wide receiver as a collegian and during his first two years as a professional, this former Buffalo Bill is attempting to make the NFL grade on the other side of the football as a defensive back in his first full season with Green Bay...Joined the Packers in mid-December of last year after his preseason release by Buffalo...Brings impressive skills to his bid to switch positions..."Bucky has great speed and he has outstanding athletic ability," says Green Bay defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur. "He has shown tremendous ability to be able to cover. The thing that he needs is experience at the defensive position, and he doesn't have that. Right now, it's a matter of exposure, but we think that he has a tremendous upside as a defensive player and we're going to continue with this process of trying to move him along as quickly as we can. Just being out there is something that he's going to have to do."...1995: Placed on waivers by Buffalo in the preseason (Aug. 22)...Signed by the Packers on Dec. 12 as a free agent, he was inactive for the team's last two regular-season and all three playoff games...1994: Played in three regular-season games with Buffalo as a rookie, averaging 18.0 yards on 9 kickoff returns...Also posted 1 assisted tackle and 1 fumble recovery on special teams...Made NFL debut Sept. 26 in Bills' Monday night game with Denver...Suffered knee injury Oct. 30 vs. Kansas City, he subsequently went on injured reserve on Nov. 17...Also was inactive for seven games prior to his placement on IR...Drafted in the second round (48th overall) by Buffalo in 1994.

COLLEGE: Four-time letterwinner (1989-90, 1992-93) at North Carolina, starting every year but 1990...Redshirted in 1991...Made 63 career receptions for 1,154 yards and 10 touchdowns during Tar Heel career...An all-around athlete, won the campus slam dunk contest in 1992 and also earned two letters for the UNC track team...Anchor of the Tar Heels' 4x100 relay team which qualified for nationals, he also finished fifth in the 55 meters at the 1993 ACC indoor meet...Graduated with a B.A. degree in speech communications.

87 ROBERT BROOKS

Wide Receiver
South Carolina 5th year
Ht: 6-0 Wt: 180 Born: 6/23/70 Acq: D3-92

PRO: Few players in the Packers' distinguished history have seized opportunity as surely and swiftly as the fluid South Carolinian, who made a profound personal "statement" in 1995 when challenge came his way...Called upon to succeed the departed Sterling Sharpe as the "go-to-guy" in Green Bay's offense, he proceeded to eclipse two of Sharpe's all-time club records with a season-long performance of rare brilliance...En route, he became only the second player in team annals to catch 100-or-more passes in a season, his career-high 102 receptions representing the third-highest total in Packer history, behind only Sharpe's 112 in 1993 and 108 in '92...Amassed 1,497 receiving yards, surpassing Sharpe's previous mark of 1,461 in 1992, and registered nine 100-yard receiving days, two more than Sharpe's 1992 record of seven...Quickly became a fan folk hero in the process, endearing himself to the faithful by leaping into the stands to share his elation with them following his touchdown receptions...Also established new team mark and equaled NFL record with 99-yard TD reception at Chicago in Week 2...Became only the fifth receiver in team history to post a 1,000-yard season, joining Don Hutson, Billy Howton, James Lofton and Sharpe...Also became only the ninth receiver in Packer annals to post as many as two 50-catch seasons (he had 58 in 1994)...Made considerable inroads in club's postseason record book in '95, establishing marks for: Most Passes Caught (career) — 36; Most Yards Catching Passes (career) — 547; Most Games, 100 or More Yards Pass Receiving — 3; Longest Pass Reception — 73 yards (TD)...Also shares team playoff record for: Most Consecutive Games, 100 or More Yards Pass Receiving — 2, tying him with Sharpe...Enters the 1996 season tied with Phillip Epps for 12th place in Packer career receiving with 192 catches and the possessor of a streak of 33 consecutive games in which he has caught at least one pass...Green Bay offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis, itemizing Brooks' multiple assets as an NFL wideout, launched his appraisal by pinpointing Number 87's "excellent explosiveness," saying, "We've timed him and he'll run like a 4.6 or 4.5, so he doesn't have the speed like some of the guys have, but I think he just plays fast. When he comes off the line of scrimmage, he comes off full speed in three steps and he really gets on the DBs. He's a very tough young man. I mean he'll take a hit and he's right back up. He doesn't have any fear. He's got great open-field running ability as he demonstrated when he returned punts and kickoffs. So he has the ability to catch the short pass and take it all the way. And even though he doesn't time very fast, nobody catches him, so he's one of those guys."...Lewis also applauds Brooks' penchant for jumping into the stands to share his joy with the fans..."The fans love it," he said, "and I think it's something that just happened and became kind of contagious, and went through the team. The next thing we know it was all over the country — people were showing it. That's what football used to be like — that's the way it should be."...Also has a 24.3-yard career average on 51 kickoff returns, as well as an 8.8-yard average for 67 punt runbacks as a pro...1995: Started all 16 games for Green Bay for the second time in his career (and the second straight year), finishing with a team-record 1,497 yards on 102 receptions, including 13 TDs...Was one of nine National Football League players to have at least 100 catches last season, he finished eighth in the NFC in receptions and fifth in receiving yards...In addition, his 13 receiving touchdowns tied him for fourth in the conference and equaled the third-best one-season total in club annals (behind Sharpe's 18 in '94 and the 17 of Hutson in 1942)...Also ranked seventh in conference scoring among non-kickers with 78 points...Had three consecutive 100-yard games during a mid-season stretch (at Detroit Oct. 29, at Minnesota Nov. 5 and vs. Chicago Nov. 12), one shy of the team record and the first such trifecta by a Packer receiver since Lofton turned the trick in 1984...Four times he caught 2 touchdown passes in a game and had six contests with at least 8 receptions...Made a minimum of 4 catches in 16 of the Packers' 17 games, including playoffs, the exception being a 2-reception effort vs. Minnesota (Oct. 22)...His 29 third-down receptions ranked sixth in the NFC...First-team All-Pro choice of USA Today...Also named to 'All-Madden Team'' by Fox Sports analyst John Madden...Had a team-leading 8 receptions for 70 yards in opener with St. Louis (Sept. 3)...Named NFC 'Offensive Player of the Week' for his outstanding performance at Chicago (Sept. 11), when he caught 8 passes for a career-best 161 yards and 2 touchdowns...One of the latter was an NFL record-tying, 99-yard scoring reception from quarterback Brett Favre early in the second quarter, which also was a new team record (previously held by Billy Grimes, who collaborated with Tobin Rote on a 96-yard hookup at San Francisco Dec. 10, 1950), and only the eighth time in league history that this feat had been accomplished...Made 5 catches for 47 yards, including a 19-yard TD reception from Favre midway through the second quarter, in win over N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17)...Caught a 6-yard TD pass from Favre at Jacksonville (Sept. 24) among 4 receptions for 30 yards vs. Jaguars...Had 10 receptions for 124 yards at Dallas (Oct. 8)...Caught his fifth touchdown pass of the season — a 12-yarder midway through the third quarter — and had 4 catches for 66 yards overall in win over Detroit (Oct. 15)...Had his third 100-yard receiving day of the season in rematch at Detroit (Oct. 29) when he totaled 127 yards on 6 receptions, including a weaving 77-yard TD late in the second quarter, the second-longest of his career...Posted his second consecutive 100-yard receiving game Nov. 5 at Minnesota, snaring 9 passes for 120 yards...Turned in another outstanding performance, this time vs. Chicago (Nov. 12), when he caught 6 passes for 138 yards and 2 TDs (covering 29 and 44 yards) in key divisional triumph over Bears for third straight 100-yard day...Registered sixth 100-yard game of the season in win over Tampa Bay (Nov. 26), catching 6 passes for 114 yards and 2 TDs — a 54-yard reception late in the second quarter and a 3-yard scoring catch midway through the fourth quarter...Had a team record-tying seventh 100-yard receiving game of the season in Buccaneers rematch at Tampa (Dec. 10)...Established a new club record with his eighth 100-yard effort of the season at New Orleans (Dec. 16), when he caught 5 passes for 118 yards and 2 touchdowns — on first-half scoring strikes of 17 and 40 yards...Extended his own team record with his ninth 100-yard receiving game of the season Dec. 24 vs. Pittsburgh, when he caught a career-high 11 passes for 137 yards and a touchdown, including 8 receptions (for 116 yards) in the first half plus another 3 after halftime to surpass the century mark...Continued to excel in the playoffs, starting all three games and leading the team in receptions (17), yards (281) and TDs (3)...Helped fuel Packers' 37-20, wild-card victory over the Falcons (Dec. 31), snaring 1 TD among 7 receptions for 73 yards...Posted 103 yards on 4 catches in 27-17 upset win over defending Super Bowl Champion San Francisco 49ers (Jan. 6) at 3Com Park...Notched second consecutive 100-yard receiving day in NFC Championship Game at Dallas (Jan. 14) with 105 yards on 6 receptions — including a Packer postseason record 73-yard scoring pass from Favre and a second TD late in the third quarter which gave Green Bay a 27-24 lead heading into the final period...1994: Starting all 16 games for the first time, he entrenched himself as a quality, starting NFL receiver, pulling in 58 passes for 648 yards and 4 touchdowns...Teamed with Sharpe to give the Packers their first pair of wide receivers with 50-plus catches in a season since 1983, when Lofton and John Jefferson engineered a similar parlay...Also became the first Packer to return both a punt and a kickoff for touchdowns in the same season since the late Travis Williams accomplished the feat in 1969, and established a club season record for punt returns with 40 runbacks...Was third on the team and tied for 18th in the National Football Conference in receptions, averaging 4.25 catches per game over the final eight games of the season (34 total)...Also a highly productive performer in the postseason, he turned in consecutive 100-yard offensive performances in the '94 playoffs, posting 101 yards in a 16-12 wild-card victory over Detroit (Dec. 31), with 7 receptions for 88 yards and 13 additional yards on 1 rushing attempt — the longest run from scrimmage by either team in the contest...Subsequently had 161 total yards in divisional playoff loss at Dallas (Jan. 8), equaling his season best with 8 catches for 138 yards, including a long of 59 yards, and 2 rushes for 23 yards...Averaged 8.8 yards (seventh in the NFC) on his team-record 40 punt returns and an imposing 28.9 yards for 9 kickoff returns...Caught at least one pass in every game, including a season-high 8 for 74 yards against Atlanta in the Packers' last game at Milwaukee County Stadium (Dec. 18), three of his receptions coming on the final, game-winning drive (two for first downs)...Had posted the first 100-yard receiving game of his pro career a week earlier against the Chicago Bears, making 6 receptions for 105 yards and 1 touchdown in 40-3 victory...Registered a 96-yard kickoff return for a score and caught 4 passes for 79 yards at Detroit (Dec. 4)...Made 3 catches for 32 yards, including an 11-yard touchdown reception from Favre on the Packers' opening drive of the game, in a 17-10 win over the N.Y. Jets (Nov. 13)...Had one of his better days as a pro vs. Detroit (Nov. 6), when he caught 2 TD passes from Favre (of 12 and 28 yards) in Packers' 38-30 win over Lions — the first multiple-touchdown game of his NFL career...Earned NFC 'Special Teams Player of the Week' honors after posting momentum-swinging, 85-yard scoring punt return vs. L.A. Rams (Oct. 9) midway through the third quarter, tying the game at 17-17 in eventual 24-17 victory...Started first game since his '92 rookie season in opener vs. Minnesota and responded with 4 catches for 35 yards...1993: Played in 14 games and supplemented his contributions as a receiver by emerging as a premier kickoff returner, averaging 26.6 yards per runback to lead the NFL, thus becoming the first Packer to lead the league in this specialty since Steve Odom captured NFL honors in 1978...Served as primary backup at both wide receiver positions...Closed out season as team's sixth-ranking receiver with 20 catches for 180 yards...Also averaged 8.4 yards on 16 punt returns after assuming those duties from Terrell Buckley beginning with Kansas City game (Nov. 8) and continuing until incurring a shoulder separation late in the Chicago contest (Dec. 5), causing him to be inactive for the next two games...Returned to action vs. L.A. Raiders (Dec. 26), although he had no receptions...Turned in outstanding performance at Dallas (Oct. 3), returning a third-quarter kickoff 95 yards for a touchdown, the Packers' first scoring return of a kickoff since 1991...Averaged 44.5 yards on 2 KOR, including a 68-yarder on the opening kickoff, in 30-27 win over Denver (Oct. 10)...Caught his first pass of season at Minnesota (Sept. 26)...Had outstanding day on returns at New Orleans (Nov. 14), averaging 30.5 yards on 2 KOR and 24 yards on 2 punt returns, including a 35-yarder...Snared 4 passes for 56 yards at Chicago before suffering shoulder separation...Made significant contributions during playoffs, particularly on special teams, returning 2 punts for 43 yards in 28-24 wild-card victory over Detroit (Jan. 8) and amassing 134 all-purpose yards in 27-17 loss to Dallas (Jan. 16), including an acrobatic 13-yard touchdown catch in the third quarter...1992: Played in all 16 games, making one start...Caught 12 passes overall for 126 yards and 1 touchdown to rank ninth on team...Finished second among both Packer punt and kickoff returners, averaging 9.3 yards for 11 punt returns and 18.8 yards for 18 kickoff runbacks...Caught first career TD pass vs. Pittsburgh (Sept. 27), an 8-yard slant and fade, beating Steelers' Rod Woodson in the fourth quarter...Earlier had seen action at wide receiver vs. Minnesota (Sept. 6) in three- and four-receiver sets, starting as Packers opened game with three WRs...Third-round draft choice (62nd overall, and seventh wide receiver) of Green Bay in 1992.

COLLEGE: Set South Carolina career receiving record with 19 touchdown catches, surpassing Sharpe's previous mark of 17...Also established all-time SC record with 76 career kickoff returns...Ranked second (to Sharpe) in school history in career receptions (156) and receiving yards (2,211)...A four-year starter and letterwinner (1988-91) for Gamecocks, he also lettered three years in track...Led team in receiving all four years, including a career-high 55 catches (for 684 yards, 5 TDs) as a senior...Earned B.S. degree in retailing.

PERSONAL: Given name Robert Darren Brooks...Nicknamed 'Shoo-in'...Born in Greenwood, S.C. ...Lettered three years in football, starting his last two seasons at tailback, and three years in track at Greenwood (S.C.) High School...An all-area, all-region and all-state choice as a senior, he rushed for 780 yards and 14 touchdowns in nine games, missing three contests due to injury...Named as team's 'Most Valuable Player'...Also was a two-time state champion in track (300 intermediate hurdles and 110 high hurdles)...Scored 5 touchdowns and made an interception on defense in the first organized football game in which he ever played — at the age of 6...President of his own record company, 'Shoo-in 4 Life Records, Inc.,' with offices in Columbia, S.C., and Phoenix...Musically-oriented, also is a self-taught keyboard player...Released a CD single, Jump, in August, which he wrote, arranged, performed, produced and mixed, with plans to put out a full-length CD late in 1996...Equally talented as a barber, has been known to cut the hair of his teammates at the Packers' facilities...Hobbies include dancing, music, hunting and fishing...Along with Packer teammate LeRoy Butler, threw out the first pitch at the Milwaukee Brewers' 1996 Opening Day...Has been involved in the 'Outreach' program in Columbia, S.C., as well as with the United Way in his native South Carolina...Locally has worked on behalf of Special Olympics, including 'Packer Roast '96' this past spring in Green Bay which saw him roasted by a collection of friends and teammates, and the Salvation Army...Residence: Scottsdale, Ariz.

68 GARY BROWN

Offensive Guard / Tackle
Georgia Tech 3rd year
Ht: 6-4 Wt: 315 Born: 6/25/71 Acq: W-94

PRO: Poised to take over a starting job in the offensive line following a two-year apprenticeship and a strong showing in the team's offseason mini-camps...A one-time waiver wire acquisition, he is expected to succeed the departed Harry Galbreath at right guard..."We're very pleased with him," offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis says of the 25-year-old Amityville, N.Y., native. "Gary's worked hard in the offseason, and he's getting bigger and getting stronger. He's versatile. He can also play tackle and we now have moved him into guard. In our mini-camps he looked very good. His pass protection was excellent, his run blocking was excellent. He has real good feet. So we think he's got a chance to start for us at guard. We looked at him at left guard and now we've looked at him at right guard. We're going to give him every chance to see what he can do. But he's worked hard, and he's probably as good an athlete as there is up there in the offensive line."...1995: Appeared in all 16 games as a special teams performer...Also backed up at both tackle spots...Played entire second half of opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3) at left tackle as starter Ken Ruettgers missed the game with a back injury and replacement Joe Sims, who started the game, was ineffective...Also saw action at right tackle late in the second half vs. Detroit (Oct. 15) as starter Earl Dotson left contest with a calf injury...1994: Claimed on waivers from the Steelers Aug. 29...Was inactive for 14 of Packers' 16 games...Played on special teams in regular-season opener vs. Minnesota (Sept. 4)...Active, but did not see action, at New England (Oct. 2)...Also inactive for both playoff games...Drafted in the fifth round (149th overall) by Pittsburgh in 1994.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter and letterman (1992-93) for Georgia Tech after beginning collegiate career at Nassau County Community College in Garden City, N.J. ...Started seven games at tackle for Tech in '93 as only senior on offensive line, he missed other four games with a knee injury...Started first 10 games at guard as a junior before moving to tackle for season finale...First-team NJCAA All-America choice at Nassau County Community College, where he also served as team captain...Helped lead team to consecutive conference and sectional titles...Majored in history of science and technology.

PERSONAL: Given name Gary Lee Brown...Nicknamed 'Bubblin' and 'Bertha' (his mother has called him that since he was a youngster)...Born in Amityville, N.Y. ...Single...Earned three letters in football and four in basketball at Brentwood (N.Y.) High School...Played quarterback and tight end as a 215-pound prep...Favorite pastimes: listening to music and watching TV...Residence: Long Island, N.Y.

93 GILBERT BROWN

Defensive Tackle
Kansas 4th year
Ht: 6-2 Wt: 325 Born: 2/22/71 Acq: W-93

PRO: Super-massive Detroit native, hampered by injuries the past two seasons, is expected to ensconce himself among pro football's elite defensive linemen in his fourth NFL campaign...Somewhat facetiously described by Head Coach Mike Holmgren as "a guy-and-a-half wide," he looms equally large in defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur's plans for the '96 season..."Gilbert Brown has the ability to be a dominant player on the line of scrimmage in this league," Shurmur says without equivocation. "He has at times exhibited that. He's had a difficult time over the last two years with injuries (but) I think he demonstrated this spring that he's in the best going-into-camp shape he's ever been in. He's free of injury and has worked very, very hard in the offseason in the conditioning and the weight program. I look for him to have a tremendous year. Last year, when our defense picked up toward the end of the year in the stretch run, part of that was due to the fact that his elbow had healed up and he was able to use his hands and, as a result, play effectively for us. So we need him. He's a real force in there, in terms of stopping the run. He probably, in terms of football strength, is the strongest player on our team. He can knock 'em back — he can knock offensive linemen back off the ball. He has the ability to be able to really control his side of the line of scrimmage because of his massive strength and bulk."...1995: Assumed starting role at defensive tackle beginning with Cleveland game (Nov. 19), giving Packers' run defense a major lift...Saw action in 13 games, starting seven, over course of season...Finished regular season with 27 tackles (18 solo)...Had returned nicely from torn anterior cruciate ligament injury suffered late in 1994 season, coming back in time for the opener against St. Louis (Sept. 3)...Suffered additional setback, however, when he sprained a ligament in his left elbow in Rams contest...Was inactive for three successive games before returning against Dallas (Oct. 8)...Started his first game of the season at Detroit (Oct. 29) as Packers opened in their 'nickel' package and equalled his career high with 4 tackles...Also made 4 stops vs. the Browns and Buccaneers (Nov. 26)...In his first game back as a full-time starter, provided a strong inside surge at Cleveland, which played a big role in stopping a Browns fourth-and-one play at the Green Bay 10-yard line in the waning minutes of the game, giving the Packers the ball back to run out the clock in 31-20 victory...Practiced for the first time coming off knee injury prior to the final preseason game vs. Washington (Aug. 25)...Starter in team's three postseason games, posting all 3 of his tackles in wild-card playoff win over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Left upset win at San Francisco (Jan. 6) late in the first quarter with a left knee contusion, but returned to start the following week in NFC Championship Game at Dallas...1994: Played in 13 games with one start (vs. Miami Sept. 11, his first NFL start) before suffering a season-ending tear of the anterior cruciate ligament in his left knee at Detroit (Dec. 4)...Was placed on injured reserve Dec. 6 and underwent corrective surgery Dec. 12...Frequently replaced Steve McMichael on second and third down, his playing time increased as the season progressed up until he was hurt...Finished fourth among team's defensive linemen with 30 tackles, 18 of them solos, including 3 quarterback sacks...Twice equalled his career best with 4-tackle efforts — at Chicago Oct. 31, including a sack of the Bears' Erik Kramer, and at Buffalo Nov. 20, among them a sack of the Bills' Jim Kelly...Also played a major role in helping Packer defense limit the Vikings to only 1.2 yards per rush at Minnesota (Oct. 20)...Earlier was a key factor in restricting former high school teammate Jerome Bettis to 65 yards rushing in victory over L.A. Rams (Oct. 9) as Packers permitted only 2.7 yards per rush...Registered his first career sack at Philadelphia (Sept. 18), felling the Eagles' Randall Cunningham...Saw extensive action from scrimmage in opener vs. Minnesota (Sept. 4) as Packers held Vikings to an average of 2.8 yards per rush...1993: Although he played in only two games after being claimed on waivers from the Minnesota Vikings Aug. 31, he exhibited sufficient skills to convince Packer coaches he had a chance to play at the NFL level...Did not play in three games and was officially inactive for the other 11...Got initial playing time as a Packer against Denver (Oct. 10) after being inactive for first four games...Later played at Tampa Bay (Oct. 24) and quickly made his presence felt, registering a solo tackle on his first play from scrimmage...Also was on active roster for four other games — at Kansas City (Nov. 8), vs. Detroit (Nov. 21), vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 28) and at Chicago (Dec. 5), but did not play...Saw reserve duty in Detroit playoff game (Jan. 8), then again was on active roster, though he did not play, in Dallas postseason contest the following week (Jan. 16)...Second of two third-round draft choices (79th overall) by Minnesota in 1993.

COLLEGE: Started 35 games in four seasons for Kansas (1989-92)...Tied for sixth in school history in tackles by a defensive lineman with 168 and fifth in career tackles for loss with 30...Also had 7½ career sacks...Finished second on the team in sacks, tackles for loss and fumbles recovered in 1991 while helping the Jayhawks hold opponents to an average of 150.9 yards per game on the ground, then the best run defense at Kansas since 1968...A year earlier, as a sophomore, was named as Jayhawks' 'Co-Defensive Most Valuable Player' and earned second-team All-Big Eight recognition...Started nine games at nose guard as a freshman...An All-Academic Big Eight selection in 1991...Majored in human development.

PERSONAL: Given name Gilbert Jesse Brown...Born in Farmington, Mich. ...Single...Has a son, Jamal (born 3/5/93)...Recorded 89 tackles and 10 sacks at Detroit's MacKenzie High School his senior year to earn all-state honors...Played both nose guard and offensive tackle...Also lettered in track, competing in the shot put and 100- and 200-meter dashes...Favorite pastimes: spending time with his son and reading...Splits residence between Detroit and Green Bay.

36 LeROY BUTLER

Strong Safety

Florida State 7th year

Ht: 6-0 Wt: 200 Born: 7/19/68 Acq: D2-90

PRO: The freewheeling and undisputed leader of the Packer secondary, ebullient LeRoy Butler is an obvious candidate to regain Pro Bowl recognition in the season ahead, based on a productive 1995 campaign which saw him pace the defense in three major categories — total tackles (117), solo tackles (97) and interceptions (5)...Also finished in a tie for third on his unit in passes defensed with 13...Was Green Bay's second-leading tackler in the postseason, posting 26 stops...Now has led the Packers in interceptions in two of the last three seasons...Defensive Coordinator Fritz Shurmur, for one, is convinced that Number 36 has the physical and mental wherewithal to recapture a niche among the National Football League's elite strong safeties, a stature he first enjoyed during the 1993 season, when he played in the Pro Bowl..."LeRoy has the potential to again be an All-Pro," Shurmur says. "Last year, he became more and more effective as we involved him more and more in things like blitzing, and moved him up toward the line of scrimmage. He has an uncanny knack for timing and instincts for playing close to the line of scrimmage. We expect to do more of that with him this year. He's a leader — obviously a leader — of our team. He makes the calls and has a great understanding of our defense and everybody's role in it. He is a real leader for us, with our defense. I would say, without reservation, that he is one of the better strong safeties in the league."...The irrepressible Floridian, a cornerback in his first two NFL seasons, also has entertained Packer loyalists by executing impromptu dance "routines" after making big plays, some of which have found their way into the team's highlight videos...His fancy footwork has provided a graphic illustration of how far LeRoy has come from a childhood which once found him wheelchair-bound...There was a time when dancing would have been impossible for him — because the bones in his feet were extremely weak, creating a misalignment which allowed him to walk only short distances and prevented him from running...For most of his childhood, his feet were in braces or casts, and there were periods when he was bound to a wheelchair...By the time he reached seventh grade, however, his feet had healed and he was on his way to Florida State and the NFL...1995: Started all 16 games en route to becoming the first Green Bay defensive back to lead the team in tackles (with 128) since Mark Murphy achieved that distinction in 1990...His 5 accompanying interceptions were one short of his career-best 6, which he posted in 1993, and tied him for 10th in the NFC...Turned in excellent game at Chicago (Sept. 11), making 7 tackles and intercepting an Erik Kramer flea-flicker pass between two potential Bear wide receivers at the Packers' 1-yard line, wrestling the ball away from Curtis Conway and blunting a potential scoring drive (Green Bay scored on the subsequent possession — Brett Favre to Robert Brooks for a 99-yard TD)...Made a team-leading 9 tackles in win over the Giants (Sept. 17), then had 6 stops in front of friends and family Sept. 24 at Jacksonville...Recorded a season-high 13 tackles (also equaling his career high), including 12 solo stops, at Dallas (Oct. 8)...Forced a key fumble late in the game Nov. 5 at Minnesota...Intercepted a Kramer pass in the end zone with 1:53 left in 35-28 victory over Chicago (Nov. 12), halting a potential game-tying drive by the Bears, who had reached the Green Bay 22-yard line...Also weighed in with 8 tackles and his lone sack of the season in rematch with Midway Monsters...Made his second interception in as many weeks midway through the fourth quarter at Cleveland (Nov. 19), when he waylaid a Vinny Testaverde pass intended for Andre Rison at the Packers' 15-yard line; he then got up and raced 76 yards to the Browns' 9, setting up a Favre TD run two plays later which gave the Packers a 31-13 lead en route to a 31-20 win...Intercepted his fourth pass of the year on Dec. 3 vs. Cincinnati, when he picked off a Jeff Blake aerial in the end zone on a fourth-down play midway through the fourth quarter...Had one of his finest performances of the season at Tampa Bay (Dec. 10), when he registered a team-leading 9 solo stops and 3 passes defensed, as well as his fifth interception of the year...Made 8 tackles in division-clinching victory over Pittsburgh (Dec. 24), including stop of Kordell Stewart for a one-yard loss on a third-and-goal play at the Packers' five-yard line with 16 seconds left in the game — setting up a fourth-down pass play which fell incomplete...Started all three playoff games, making 26 tackles to rank second on the team (behind Wayne Simmons) in the postseason...Had 9 stops in playoff games against San Francisco and Dallas...1994: Overcame serious September episode with viral pneumonia to lead the team's defensive backs and finish fourth overall with 63 total tackles (47 solo)...Also tied for second on club with 3 interceptions among his 5 passes defensed...Inactive for three games (vs. Philadelphia Sept. 18, Tampa Bay Sept. 25 and New England Oct. 2) due to pneumonia, then missed most of another with a shin injury...Started 13 games, including the last 11 in succession...Also started both playoff contests, leading Green Bay defenders in tackles during the postseason with 11...Recorded 8 stops vs. Atlanta (Dec. 18), his second-highest tackle output of the season...Made key play vs. Chicago (Dec. 11) when he intercepted a Steve Walsh pass and returned it 51 yards to the Bear 4-yard line, setting up an Edgar

Bennett touchdown which gave the Packers a 17-3 lead in an eventual 40-3 victory...Earlier had a career-high 13 tackles at Buffalo (Nov. 20) to lead Green Bay's defense...Recorded his second interception in as many games Nov. 6 vs. Lions, when he picked off a Scott Mitchell pass at the Packers' 3-yard line to halt a second-quarter Detroit drive...Led a strong defensive effort at Chicago (Oct. 31) with 7 tackles, he also intercepted his first pass of the season when he waylaid a Walsh throw in the end zone early in the fourth quarter, ending a Bear penetration which had reached the Green Bay 13-yard line...Suffered a bruised shin on first defensive play from scrimmage at Minnesota (Oct. 20) and subsequently was unable to return to the game...Returned to starting lineup against Rams (Oct. 9) after recovering from pneumonia and registered 6 tackles...Stepped up to make a big play on first play from scrimmage vs. Dolphins (Sept. 11), sacking quarterback Dan Marino and forcing a fumble, on the same play...1993: Tied for second in the National Football Conference while leading the team with 6 interceptions — equaling the most thefts in one season by a Green Bay defender since 1989 — and starting all games at strong safety...His 25 passes defensed also were an unofficial team record (since broken by Doug Evans), that total being the most in one season by a Packer defender since the club began keeping the statistic in 1981...Surpassed 100 tackles for the first time in his career, his 111 stops (including 89 solos) ranking third on the defense behind linebackers Johnny Holland and George Koonce...Named first team All-Pro by Associated Press, Pro Football Weekly/PFWA, Sports Illustrated, Sporting News and Football Digest...Also chosen to All-NFC squads of United Press International and Football News, he was named to the Pro Bowl as an alternate, eventually replacing the Dallas Cowboys' Thomas Everett, who was sidelined by injury...Selected as the Packers' 'Most Valuable Defensive Player'...Had 4 tackles, 1 interception and 4 passes defensed in season-opening victory over L.A. Rams (Sept. 5)...Posted 9 tackles and 2 passes defensed at Minnesota (Sept. 26), making 11 solo stops the following week at Dallas...Turned in standout performance vs. Denver (Oct. 10), coupling 9 tackles with 4 passes defensed...Posted an interception and 2 passes defensed, plus 3 solo tackles, in a 37-14 victory at Tampa Bay (Oct. 24), then forged another fine effort vs. Chicago (Oct. 31)...With the Bears driving for the game-tying TD at the Packers' 12-yard line early in the fourth quarter, he sacked QB Jim Harbaugh, causing a fumble which he then recovered, thwarting Chicago's comeback bid...Finished the Bears contest with 9 tackles, 1 sack, 1 interception (off a Peter Tom Willis pass on the Bears' final series, sealing the win) plus forced fumble and recovery...Had another big afternoon at New Orleans (Nov. 14), posting 7 tackles, 1 interception and 2 passes defensed...With Packers nurturing a 19-17 lead and 3:49 left in game, made key interception of a Rodney Peete pass vs. Detroit the following week (Nov. 21) and returned it 22 yards to the Lions' 14-yard line, setting up Bennett's victory-clinching TD in an eventual 26-17 win...Also had 4 tackles and 2 passes defensed vs. Detroit...Authored another clutch performance in Packers' 20-13 win at San Diego (Dec. 12), posting 3 tackles, an interception and 2 passes defensed...Made a key INT early in the second quarter of Charger contest when, after San Diego had just intercepted a Favre pass one play earlier, Stan Humphries threw deep for Nate Lewis but Butler came out of nowhere to leap high and snare the ball from Lewis at the Green Bay 13 and returned it 39 yards to the S.D. 48...Scored his first NFL touchdown vs. the Raiders the following week (Dec. 26), when he forced a fumble by Randy Jordan on the L.A. 40-yard line; the ball was scooped up by teammate Reggie White, who lumbered 10 yards before lateraling back to Butler, who ran into the end zone from 25 yards out, giving the Packers a 21-0 lead early in the fourth quarter of an eventual 28-0 shutout...Finished game with 6 tackles, 1 pass defensed and 1 forced fumble...Also was defensive standout in playoffs...Forged 8 tackles in 28-24, come-from-behind victory over Lions in wild-card contest at Pontiac (Mich.) Silverdome (Jan. 8)...Registered 8 solo tackles, recovered a fumble to halt one Cowboy drive at the Dallas 43-yard line in the first quarter and intercepted a Troy Aikman pass at the Packers' 30 early in the second quarter to blunt another threat in divisional playoff contest (Jan. 16)...Also sacked Aikman for a 5-yard loss in fourth quarter...1992: Replacing departed Murphy, he started 15 games — at strong safety in 14 games and at right inside cornerback in one (vs. Falcons)...Finished fourth on the defensive unit with 73 total tackles (56 solo) and ranked second on the team in passes defensed with 14...Registered season-high 9 tackles at N.Y. Giants (Nov. 8)...Had lone interception in 17-3 victory over Bears at Chicago (Nov. 22)...Also forced 1 fumble and recovered 1...1991: Installed as the starter at right cornerback, he started all 16 games...Posted 3 interceptions to share team lead with Murphy and Chuck Cecil...Also was credited with 63 total tackles, including 53 solos, 10 passes defensed, 1 forced fumble and 1 fumble recovery...All three of his interceptions proved highly opportune...The first of the year, made in the season opener against the Philadelphia Eagles (Sept. 1), saved a touchdown when he waylaid a Jim McMahon pass in the Green Bay end zone...His second, at the L.A. Rams on Sept. 29, came at Green Bay's 18-yard line, sparing the Packers potential embarrassment, and his third against Indianapolis (Nov. 24) snuffed a budding Colts threat at the Indy 46...Also forced a Thomas Sanders fumble deep in Green Bay territory vs. Philadelphia, which was recovered by the Packers at their 9-yard line...Had best statistical day of the season Oct. 6 against Cowboys, posting 7 total tackles...1990: Made an immediate impact in his rookie season, playing in all 16 games as a reserve and sharing team interception honors with Murphy and Jerry Holmes, each posting 3 thefts...Made 2 of his 3 interceptions in one game — vs. Minnesota at Milwaukee (Oct. 28), forging his first intercept as a professional on the fourth play of the final quarter in 24-10 victory...Also intercepted a Peete pass in the Packers' end zone vs. Detroit (Dec. 22)...Credited with breaking up 11 passes over the season and forcing 1 fumble...Involved in 19 tackles overall, 18 of them unassisted...Augmented these efforts with substantial contributions on special teams, emerging as the Packers' fourth-ranked kamikaze under the team's point system then in effect...Registered 10 tackles on coverage units, 8 of them solo...Second-round draft choice (48th overall) of Green Bay in 1990.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter (1987-89) at Florida State...Totaled 194 tackles (117 solo), 9 interceptions, 2 fumble recoveries, 3 forced fumbles, 1 sack and 14 passes defensed for Seminoles...First-team All-America selection of AP, UPI and Walter Camp in 1989...Starting at right cornerback, he finished third on the team in tackles as a senior with 94 (53 solo)...Also ranked 11th in nation with 7 interceptions for a then-school season record of 139 yards in returns, surpassing previous mark of Deion Sanders, and deflected 9 total passes...Part of one of the more memorable plays in college football history in 1988, when he stunned 82,500 Clemson fans by rushing 78 yards on a fake punt from the Seminoles' 21-yard line, setting up a 19-yard game-winning field goal with 1:33 left for a 24-21 FSU victory...Majored in social science.

89 MARK CHMURA

Tight End
Boston College 5th year
Ht: 6-5 Wt: 250 Born: 2/22/69 Acq: D6-92

PRO: Imposing New Englander who firmly established himself among pro football's tight end elite in 1995 in his first full season as a starter...Highlighted a career year by leading the NFL's tight ends in touchdown receptions with 7, one more than runnersup Ben Coates of New England and Keith Jennings of Chicago, and earning election to the NFC's Pro Bowl squad as a backup...Closed out the season with a career-high 54 catches, only two shy of the club single-season record for a tight end (56 by Paul Coffman in 1979), and went on to make his presence felt in the postseason, snaring 6 passes for 50 yards and 2 TDs...Green Bay offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis subsequently described Chmura's '95 performance as "an All-Pro year," one highlighted by the first two 100-yard receiving days of his pro career..."He's an excellent receiver down the field," Lewis says. "He can make the tough catch. He's an above-average blocker and getting better every year. He's a big target, and he and Brett (quarterback Brett Favre) have a nice feel for each other, and Brett likes to go to him in clutch situations. He's improved every year he's been here and we expect him to improve even more this year. He had an All-Pro year and we expect him to follow up with another one."...Took steps to ensure another standout year by spending majority of this past offseason in Green Bay and maintaining a strict weightlifting and conditioning regimen, something he also did prior to last season and acknowledges as one factor in his '95 success...1995: Started 15 of 16 regular-season games and two of three playoff contests...Finished as the team's third-leading receiver, his 54 catches surpassing his previous career best, 14 in 1994, by 40...Accounted for 679 receiving yards, a 12.6-yard average, and his 7 receiving TDs were the most by a Packer tight end since Coffman had 11 in 1983...First-team All-Pro selection of College & Pro Football Newsweekly and Football Digest...Also named to All-NFC squads of Football News and United Press International (second team)...Was utilized as the team's long-snapper on punts in addition to receiving duties, posting 2 special teams tackles in the regular season plus 3 in the playoffs...Turned in auspicious performance in season opener vs. St. Louis Rams (Sept. 3), establishing a personal career high with 7 catches for 97 yards and his first NFL touchdown, a 7-yarder from Favre midway through the third quarter...Made 3 catches for 35 yards at Chicago (Sept. 11), but severely sprained his left ankle late in the game...Started vs. the Giants six days later despite ankle problem, catching 2 passes for 22 yards...Caught 2 passes for 24 yards at Jacksonville (Sept. 24) and also had a touchdown catch nullified by a penalty...Additionally recovered an onside kick attempt by the Jaguars late in the game...Made 2 catches for 32 yards, including a leaping, 11-yard TD reception from Favre early in the fourth quarter, at Dallas (Oct. 8)...Also had a special teams tackle and forced a fumble on punt coverage vs. Cowboys...Had a team-leading 5 catches for 61 yards, including a career-long 33-yard reception, in win vs. Detroit (Oct. 15)...Enjoyed outstanding performance in Packers' victory over Minnesota (Oct. 22), when he caught 5 passes for 101 yards and a 12-yard touchdown — the first 100-yard effort of his pro career and the first by a Packer tight end since Oct. 10, 1993, when Jackie Harris had 128 vs. Denver...Included in Chmura's 5 receptions were two acrobatic catches — one on a third-down play in which he out-jumped two Minnesota defenders for a 21-yard gain early in the second quarter; the other a 22-yard diving reception (in which he was parallel to the ground) that gave the Packers a first-and-goal at the Vikings' 5-yard line and led to a Green Bay touchdown...Caught a 2-yard touchdown pass from Ty Detmer early in the fourth quarter of rematch at Minnesota (Nov. 5), then subsequently scored the two-point conversion on a diving catch off a tipped Detmer pass...Had a 3-yard TD catch early in second quarter of Packers' win at Cleveland (Nov. 19)...Made 7 receptions, tying his career high, for a career-best 109 yards vs. Cincinnati (Dec. 3) — including an 8-yard scoring reception early in the third quarter for team's final points in 24-10 victory...Pulled in his seventh scoring pass of the season in finale vs. Pittsburgh (Dec. 24), when he caught a 1-yard throw from Favre midway through the third quarter for eventual winning points in a 24-19 triumph...Continued his season-long productivity in the playoffs...Caught a 2-yard touchdown pass from Favre, one of 2 receptions, in 37-20 wild-card victory over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Registered another TD reception, a 13-yarder from Favre, in the second quarter of 27-17 win over the defending Super Bowl Champion 49ers in San Francisco (Jan. 6), providing what proved to be the margin of victory...Ended day with 3 catches for 19 yards...Had 1 reception for 16 yards in NFC title game at Dallas (Jan. 14)...Started Pro Bowl at tight end, replacing injured an Jay Novacek (knee) for NFC squad coached by the Packers' Mike Holmgren, and caught 1 pass for 15 yards in 20-13 victory...1994: Started final four regular-season games plus both playoff contests in place of an injured Ed West (ankle)...Finished seventh on the team with 14 receptions for 165 yards...Saw action in 14 total regular-season games, was inactive for the other two...Played a prominent role in Packers' 16-12 victory over Detroit in wild-card playoff (Dec. 31), equaling his then-career high with 5 receptions for 75 yards, including a career-long catch of 33 yards...Was Green Bay's fourth-leading receiver in the postseason with 7 receptions for 88 yards...Earlier caught 2 passes for 46 yards in regular-season finale at Tampa Bay (Dec. 24), an effort which followed perhaps his best performance of the season, registered against Atlanta Dec. 18, when he caught a season-high 5 passes for 63 yards, including two clutch receptions of 25 and 8 yards on the Packers' game-winning drive in a last-minute, 21-17 victory...Started first game as a professional at Detroit (Dec. 4) and responded with 3 catches for 26 yards...Caught 3 passes for 28 yards at Dallas (Nov. 24), his first receptions of the season...Was sixth on the squad in special teams tackles with 6, including 2 vs. the N.Y. Jets (Nov. 13)...Later was forced out of the Jets game with a concussion...Earlier had missed Philadelphia (Sept. 18) and Tampa Bay (Sept. 25) games after aggravating a training camp hamstring injury vs. Miami (Sept. 11)...Returned to play in front of family and friends Oct. 2 at New England...Had missed part of camp after he suffered a right hamstring injury in practice (July 24)...Returned to practice Aug. 16 and played in final two preseason games...1993: Saw extensive action on special teams, in addition to his appearances as a backup tight end, playing in 14 games overall...Also was backup long-snapper to center Frank Winters...Played in two-tight end sets vs. Detroit (Nov. 21), Tampa Bay (Nov. 28), L.A. Raiders (Dec. 26) and at Detroit (Jan. 2), as well as in both playoff games (at Detroit Jan. 8 and at Dallas Jan. 16), when Harris was sidelined by knee injuries...Caught his first NFL pass, a 6-yarder from Favre, vs. the Raiders...Also caught a 7-yarder in regular-season finale vs. Lions...Suffered a bruised right shoulder recovering an onside kick Oct. 24 at Tampa Bay, causing him to be inactive for the ensuing two games...Returned to action Nov. 14 at New Orleans, making 1 special teams tackle...1992: Suffered a lower back injury early in training camp and subsequently was placed on injured reserve Aug. 24...Sixth-round draft choice (157th selection overall) of Green Bay in 1992.

COLLEGE: Set Boston College's all-time career record for receptions with 164...Also ranked third on school's all-time receiving yards list with 2,046...Caught 11 touchdown passes as a collegian...Four-year starter and letterwinner (1988-91)...Redshirted in 1987...All-America first-team selection by the Football Writers Association of America as a senior, also garnering second-team honors from Associated Press...Also was an All-Big East first-team choice...Became the sixth Eagle player to receive the Harry Agganis Award, given annually to the outstanding senior football player in New England...Majored in sociology.

PERSONAL: Given name Mark William Chmura...Born in Deerfield, Mass. ...Married to Lynda, couple has a son, Dylan (born 11/25/94), and is expecting a second child this February...Two-time All-Western Massachusetts and team 'Most Valuable Player' at Frontier Regional High School in South Deerfield, Mass. ...Played both linebacker and tight end...Three-time All-Western Massachusetts pick in basketball, scoring over 1,000 points and snaring more than 1,000 rebounds during his career...Also excelled in track, setting a school record in the 50-meter dash...Won four letters in football and basketball and three in baseball...Brother, Matt, was a tight end at New Hampshire...Works on behalf of the 'Neurofibromatosis Foundation' in South Windsor, Conn., donating $100 for every touchdown he scores to help combat the childhood nerve disease...Has been involved locally with Children's Hospital of Wisconsin and Big Brothers/Big Sisters...While in college participated in the 'Big East Care' program, working with inner-city children in Boston...Hobbies include water sports, golf and target shooting...Residence: Hobart, Wis.

91 SHANNON CLAVELLE

Defensive End
Colorado 2nd year
Ht: 6-2 Wt: 287 Born: 10/12/73 Acq: FA-95

PRO: A quality addition at midseason of 1995, he saw limited action as a rookie but is expected to be a factor in the '96 defensive line..."He has shown us that he's got ability to play in this league," defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur says of the former Buffalo Bill, signed as a free agent. "We've worked him both as a defensive end and a defensive tackle. I think he will make this team and he has a chance to play. He played a little at the end of the year last year when Reggie (White) went down and we got a little short on defensive linemen. We like him — he has excellent hands, he plays and practices hard, and he has really good takeoff. In other words, he has great initial reflexes and reactions. When the ball goes, he goes, and that's really a rare skill that he has."...1995: Joined Green Bay's practice squad on Sept. 15 after being waived by the Buffalo Bills on Aug. 27 in final roster cutdown of training camp...Signed off the team's practice squad to 53-man roster on Oct. 25 following Gabe Wilkins' knee injury three days earlier vs. Minnesota...Saw his only regular-season action as a Packer on special teams vs. Chicago (Nov. 12)...Was inactive at Detroit (Oct. 29) and for each of the team's last six games...Active, but did not get in, Nov. 5 at Minnesota...Played on defense in Packers' first postseason game, vs. Atlanta Falcons (Dec. 31), then was inactive for ensuing two playoff games...Drafted in the sixth round (185th overall) by Buffalo in 1995.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter and three-time letterman (1992-94) for perennially powerful Colorado Buffaloes, earning All-Big Eight first-team honors from conference coaches in 1993...Won honorable mention All-America recognition in 1994 from United Press International...Recorded 182 tackles (114 solo), including 5 sacks, plus 3 forced fumbles, 2 fumble recoveries, 1 interception and 2 passes defensed as a collegian...Chosen Big Eight 'Player of the Week' after he had 15 stops, with 2 quarterback sacks, in 1994 game against Oklahoma State...Later that same season was credited with 8 tackles and 3 sacks vs. Notre Dame in Fiesta Bowl...Named 'Freshman Newcomer of the Year' on defense by conference coaches in 1992...Passed up senior year to enter the 1995 NFL draft...Majored in communications.

PERSONAL: Given name Shannon Lynn Clavelle...Nicknamed 'USC'...Born in Lafayette, La. ...Single...Father of two sons, Shannon, Jr. (born 10/6/93), and Derek McCartney (born 11/22/93)...All-America selection by Parade as a senior at O. Walker High School in New Orleans, where he earned 12 letters (four each in football, basketball and track)...Also was first-team all-state, all-district and All-Greater New Orleans, plus a two-time district MVP...Averaged 18 points per game in basketball and qualified for the state track meet in the shot put (personal best of 53'0")...Hobbies include playing basketball, dominoes and cards...Has worked on behalf of Paul's Pantry, a Green Bay agency which distributes food to the needy...Played on the Packers' basketball team in the offseason...Splits residence between New Orleans and Green Bay.

54 RON COX

Linebacker

Fresno State 7th year

Ht: 6-2 Wt: 235 Born: 3/29/68 Acq: UFA-96

PRO: Anticipated to be the Packers' answer at middle linebacker, a position left vacant when '95 starter Fred Strickland departed for Dallas via free agency...Instinctive playmaker whose enthusiasm for the game is apparent...Is a strong, physical player with the intelligence to make all of the team's calls...Signed by Green Bay as an unrestricted free agent on March 29...Though the Bears had a negotiated right-of-first-refusal clause under Cox's expired contract, they elected not to match the offer on April 4 and he became a Packer...Spent his first six seasons in the NFL with Chicago...Originally was a second-round draft choice of the Bears in 1990 after a stellar collegiate career at Fresno State which saw him make 231 tackles, including a school-record 50 sacks, in only three seasons..."When we looked at Ron Cox on tape, immediately we identified him as a guy we would like to have because of his outstanding ability to be able to make plays," says Fritz Shurmur, Green Bay's defensive coordinator. "He's all football player and he's got the great instincts. He works hard at the game and loves to play football — and it shows when you watch him play. He plays it with enthusiasm, he plays it physically and he's got some athletic ability to go with that — and toughness — so we like that a lot."...Veteran of 82 career games played, including 20 starts...Has made 245 tackles as a pro, including 7 sacks, and forced 5 fumbles...Shurmur defies the notion that Cox is an inexperienced linebacker when it comes to playing inside, saying, "That's a little bit of a misconception because in the defense he played in with the Bears he was a 'behind the line' linebacker as opposed to a guy on the line of scrimmage. He was more behind the line than on the line, and that puts it into a very similar position to a middle linebacker. They slid the linebackers a lot, which meant that they were off the ball playing like middle linebackers."...Played in 65 of a possible 66 games (including two playoff contests) over last four seasons after injury difficulties early in his career...Had missed 15 games (13 regular season, two in the postseason) his first two years in the league, primarily due to injuries to each knee...1995: Made a career-high 84 tackles (46 solo) to rank sixth on club in his first season as a starter...Also contributed 1 interception and a career-best 5 passes defensed...Played in all 16 games for third time as a pro with 13 starts...Made a season-high 11 tackles in win at N.Y. Giants Sept. 5)...Was third on club in special teams tackles with a career-high 11...Sacked Bucs' Craig Erickson, forcing fumble which was returned for a touchdown by Myron Baker, in 47-17 shellacking of Tampa Bay (Sept. 26)...Also had a sack and forced fumble at Philadelphia (Oct. 10)...Stood 15th on team with 33 total tackles...1992: Saw action in all 16 games for the first time in his pro career, making three starts...Finished 10th on team with 56 tackles (23 solo)...Made initial NFL start Sept. 21 vs. N.Y. Giants and recorded a season-high 9 tackles...Equalled season best with 9 stops, including lone sack of year, in starting role at Tampa Bay (Nov. 15)...Also had 9 tackles in finale at Dallas (Dec. 27) along with a fumble recovery...Forced a fumble vs. Minnesota (Nov. 2)...1991: Played in only six games with two stints on injured reserve consuming most of his season...Had a sack and forced fumble at Tampa Bay (Sept. 8) before left knee injury vs. N.Y. Jets (Sept. 23) landed him on IR two days later following arthroscopic surgery...Activated on Oct. 31, he was inactive for ensuing game with Detroit...Played in next two contests, vs. Minnesota and Indianapolis, before knee forced him to be inactive against Miami (Nov. 24)...Placed on injured reserve a second time on Nov. 27, where he remained for balance of season...Had second arthroscopic procedure done Dec. 4...Recorded 4 special teams tackles, along with 6 total stops, 1 sack and 1 forced fumble on defense, before injury troubles got the best of him...1990: Watched first pro season get off to a slow start when he injured his right knee July 11 in a rookie camp, requiring exploratory arthroscopic surgery the next day...Was not able to participate in training camp practices until Aug. 13...Got majority of his playing time as a rookie on special teams and in 'nickel' situations, seeing action in 13 games...Contributed 28 total tackles, including 3 sacks, plus 10 stops on the team's coverage units...Picked up first pro sack at L.A. Raiders (Sept. 30)...Earned game ball with 4 solo tackles and career-high 2 sacks at Denver (Nov. 18)...Suffered a concussion the following week at Minnesota and subsequently was inactive against Detroit (Dec. 2)...Made season-high 7 tackles in Lions rematch two weeks later, though he also would incur a sprained right knee and ankle in contest which would cause him to miss the final two regular-season games plus playoff opener vs. New Orleans (Jan. 6)...Returned to play in second-round postseason game at the N.Y. Giants (Jan. 13), making 6 tackles and a sack, but knee later would require surgery (Feb. 6, 1991)...Drafted in the second round (33rd overall) by Chicago in 1990 with the pick obtained from San Diego the previous August in the Jim McMahon trade.

PRO: Rangy and talented Texan, having made a successful conversion from wide receiver to defensive back in 1995, should take his game to the next level as a second-year defender...Green Bay defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur credits him with making "tremendous strides" in his initial season at cornerback, saying, "We look for him to take the next step, which he needs to take. He had a solid year of experience as a member of our active roster. He was a big contributor on special teams. We look for him to battle for a place in our 'dime' defense as a starter, and also in the role of a backup cover guy at the corner. He's an excellent athlete, and he's big, which is really crucial. In this era of big receivers, you need big corner guys."...Began NFL career at wide receiver, signing with the N.Y. Giants in 1993 as an undrafted free agent...First joined Packers midway through the '94 campaign...1995: Played in 13 regular-season games, contributing mainly as one of the club's top special teams players and in the last two regular-season games as an extra defensive back...Finished second on the team (to Marcus Wilson) with 16 tackles on kick coverage, including a club-best 13 solos...Contributed 24 total stops from scrimmage with the defense, he also was credited with 1 pass defensed...Recorded 2 special teams tackles in win over his former team, the Giants (Sept. 17)...Made first 2 tackles of his NFL career as a defensive back at Jacksonville (Sept. 24) as he saw extensive fourth-quarter action...Saw brief action at left cornerback vs. Detroit (Oct. 15) when Craig Newsome left for two plays after being kicked in the shin, and then briefly switched to the right side as Doug Evans went out after being kicked in the mouth...Also played some as 'dime' back vs. Lions when regular 'nickel' back Lenny McGill was inactive due to a lingering hamstring strain, he closed out the game with 2 tackles on defense and a career-high 4 special teams tackles...Sprained the medial collateral ligament in his right knee two weeks later in rematch at Detroit (Oct. 29), forcing him to be inactive for the Packers' next three games before his return to the field Nov. 26 against the Buccaneers...Received added playing time at left cornerback Dec. 10 at Tampa Bay after Newsome left the game in the first half with a concussion, making 4 solo tackles and being credited with 1 pass defensed...Recorded a team-leading and career-high 9 tackles at New Orleans (Dec. 16) as he replaced McGill in Green Bay's 'nickel' package...Had his second-best tackle production of the year the following week vs. Pittsburgh (Dec. 24), when he posted 6 stops...Got into all three playoff games in a reserve role, breaking up 2 passes and posting 1 special teams tackle in upset win at San Francisco (Jan. 6)...Had been the team's leading tackler in the preseason with 16 stops...1994: Waived during the preseason (Aug. 22) by the N.Y. Giants, he signed on with the Packers as a free agent Oct. 28, replacing the retiring Ron Lewis on the active roster...Inactive during a four-week stay, he was released Nov. 22...Later re-joined the team when Wilson was placed on injured reserve with a hamstring injury (Dec. 27) and was inactive for the Packers' two playoff contests which followed...1993: Originally had signed with the Giants as an undrafted free agent on May 3...Utilized as a fourth wide receiver, he appeared in seven games as a rookie, was inactive for six other contests and did not play in regular-season finale at Phoenix...Made 1 reception for 6 yards in first meeting with Cardinals (Nov. 28)...Also spent two weeks on New York's practice squad...Waived from the Giants' active roster Oct. 7, joined team's practice squad two days later...Re-signed to active roster Oct. 20, where he remained for the balance of the year...Also saw action in Giants' playoff loss to 49ers after not playing in postseason win over Minnesota.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and four-time letterman (1989-92) at Howard Payne University in Brownwood, Texas...Posted 10 school receiving records, including career receptions (202), career receiving yards (3,827) and career touchdowns (42)...Made 66 catches for 1,489 yards and 19 TDs as a senior...Also competed in track, qualifying for the NCAA nationals in the long jump as a freshman (best jump was 25'4")...Majored in physical education with a minor in political science.

PRO: Well-knit Louisianan who displayed impressive coverage skills as a rookie free agent in 1995, making him a contender for additional duty in the Packer secondary the second time around..."He's shown us coverage ability," defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur acknowledges. "He played as a backup corner and was active some last year. We look for him to challenge for a role on our 'nickel.' He has excellent one-on-one cover skills and demonstrates that every day in practice, so we're looking for him to make a real run at things. He will play a lot in the preseason, and we'll just see if he demonstrates that he has taken the next step."...1995: Played in 10 games, primarily on special teams, and was inactive for the other six contests...Had a season-high (and team-high) 3 special teams tackles at Jacksonville (Sept. 24)...Recorded 2 special teams stops vs. Minnesota (Oct. 22)...Finished season with 10 special teams tackles (5 solo)...Played in team's first seven games before he was inactive at Detroit (Oct. 29)...Also saw action in second Vikings contest (Nov. 5)...Spelled Craig Newsome briefly at left cornerback position in rematch with Chicago (Nov. 12), making 1 tackle...Earlier had contributed 1 stop in opener with St. Louis (Sept. 3)...Inactive for five of the team's last six games (all but Tampa Bay on Dec. 10)...Active for wild-card playoff against Atlanta (Dec. 31), then inactive for ensuing two postseason contests...Signed with Green Bay as an undrafted free agent April 27, 1995.

COLLEGE: Four-year letterwinner (1991-94) at Southern University...Made 24 starts and recorded 157 tackles, 11 interceptions and 24 passes defensed over his collegiate career...Had a career-high 58 stops as a senior, tying him for fifth on the team, and a career-best 8 passes defensed...Made 3 interceptions as a freshman, sophomore and senior...Also lettered in track for the Jaguars in his sophomore and junior years, running the 200- and 400-meter dashes...Earned a B.S. degree in rehabilitation services this past offseason.

72 EARL DOTSON

Offensive Tackle

Texas A&I 4th year

Ht: 6-3½ Wt: 315 Born: 12/17/70 Acq: D3-93

PRO: Massive Earl Dotson literally climbed the mountain, professionally speaking, in 1995...Faced with what he termed a "do or die" situation when training camp opened, the mountainous Texan responded by not only entrenching himself as the starter at offensive right tackle but proceeding to earn postseason description as a potential Pro Bowl performer...Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis, paying enthusiastic tribute to Dotson's turnaround in looking to the 1996 campaign, said, "Earl had a super season. After we went through our scheme evaluations and watched all the plays — all our running game and passing game — we really felt that he had an outstanding year. Very seldom did he get beat — and last year was his first year starting. We didn't expect him to be as good as he was last year. We thought that might be a problem, but he handled it well. He handled his weight — the problem he had earlier in his career. That's over. He's in great shape. He's just a good technician, a tough kid. He's a battler. And he's going to get better — he's still very young."...Green Bay offensive line coach Tom Lovat, in assessing Dotson's quantum leap, was equally upbeat about his 25-year-old protege, saying, "Earl made mistakes a first-year guy would make, but he also made great improvement. If he continues, he could be our best offensive lineman this year."...Addressing whether 'Big E' has the wherewithal to become a Pro Bowl lineman, Lovat asserted, "He sure does. He's got the feet, the strength and the timing. He's our best drive blocker. He comes off the ball with what we call a flat back. He has a lot of snap."...Dotson, who had played in only four games as a second-year pro in part because of an elbow injury, says in explanation of his salutary renaissance, "I just started taking the game more seriously. It was do or die for me. I pretty much had to come in and prove myself. I finally realized that to make it, I had to make it in the weight room, then, bring it on the field. The offseason is one of the most important times of a player's career."...1995: Started all 16 regular-season games plus the team's three playoff contests at right tackle after shedding 15 pounds during an offseason weight-reduction program to enhance his quickness and endurance...Prevented a possible touchdown at Cleveland (Nov. 19) when he chased down the Browns' Tim Goad — following a Brett Favre fumble — and tackled him at the Packers' 28-yard line; Cleveland eventually had to settle for a field goal on the drive...Also made a crunching, key block on the Lions' Robert Porcher on a reverse that enabled Robert Brooks to gain 21 yards in a win over Detroit (Oct. 15)...Later left Lions contest in the fourth quarter after straining his left calf...Though not at full strength, he started and played the entire game in the Packers' win over Minnesota the following week (Oct. 22)...Earlier posted a fine performance at Chicago (Sept. 11) when he was lined up against the Bears' formidable Alonzo Spellman, even as he was playing through a painful elbow injury in the second half (the same elbow he had dislocated one year earlier)...Started his first NFL game vs. the St. Louis Rams (Sept. 3) in Green Bay's regular-season inaugural when he opened at right tackle...1994: Had his season abbreviated by an early injury, suffering a dislocated right elbow vs. Tampa Bay (Sept. 25) when he lined up as an eligible receiver on a short-yardage play...Subsequently was inactive for Packers' final 12 regular-season games after seeing action in each of the first four contests, playing primarily on special teams...Saw most extensive action of the year with offense at Philadelphia (Sept. 18) when starting right tackle Paul Hutchins left game with a knee injury...Returned to practice, after recovering from the elbow problem, in latter portion of year...Was the backup to Joe Sims at right tackle when Sims suffered a left foot sprain vs. New England in preseason finale...Had been scheduled to start regular-season opener vs. Vikings the following week (Sept. 4), but sprained his ankle in practice the week prior to the game and gave way to Hutchins...Inactive for both playoff games...1993: Played in 13 games as a rookie, almost exclusively on special teams...Inactive for other three games with foot sprain, incurred at Dallas (Oct. 3)...Returned to action at Kansas City (Nov. 8) and played in every game thereafter...Was primary backup to Sims over final four regular-season games after starting right tackle Tootie Robbins suffered a season-ending triceps injury at Chicago on Dec. 5...Also saw reserve action in both playoff games...Third-round draft choice (81st overall) of Green Bay in 1993.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter (1991-92) at Texas A&I after transferring from Tyler (Texas) Junior College...First-team All-America selection by NFL Draft Report, Associated Press, Football Gazette and Kodak in 1992...Also was a unanimous All-Lone Star Conference first-team pick, winning 'Lineman of the Year' recognition...Did not give up a sack the entire '92 season, he also did not allow any tackles by his opponent in six games...Was not penalized for holding or offside in any contest his senior season while registering 78 knockdown blocks as the Javelinas' ground game ranked 11th in the nation, averaging 262.5 yards per game...Also won all-conference selection in 1991...Majored in sociology.

PERSONAL: Given name Earl Christopher Dotson...Nicknamed 'Big E'...Born in Beaumont, Texas...Married to Janell this past March 9...Has a son, Jared (born 8/26/93)...An All-America, all-state and all-conference selection as an offensive and defensive tackle at Beaumont (Texas) Westbrook High School, the same school which produced NFL defensive lineman Jerry Ball (Raiders)...Lettered twice in football and once in track...Hobbies include reading and cars...Splits residence between Green Bay and Beaumont, Texas.

33 DOUG EVANS

Cornerback

Louisiana Tech 4th year

Ht: 6-0½ Wt: 190 Born: 5/13/70 Acq: D6a-93

PRO: Coming off a record-breaking 1995 season, Doug Evans is a prime candidate for Pro Bowl consideration in his third year as a starter in the Green Bay secondary...Established a Packer unofficial single-season record with 27 passes defensed last year, surpassing the previous mark of 25 by teammate LeRoy Butler in 1993...Earned plaudits from defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur in the process..."Doug Evans, I think, has positioned himself as one of the top corners in the league," Shurmur said in assessing Number 33's sterling '95 season. "He's a very consistent player. He's an excellent tackler and a real student of the game. And, he's a big guy — another plus. We like everything he represents as a football player. He's a tremendous team player, a very unselfish guy, and has the ability to play at a really high level consistently in this league."...1995: Started all 16 games at right cornerback for the initial time in his career and posted his first 100-tackle season as a pro, finishing third on the team with 100 total stops (80 solo)...His record 27 passes defensed were 12 more than his previous career-best of 15, recorded during the 1994 campaign...Tied for second on the team in interceptions with 2...Also was a standout in the postseason, registering 13 solo tackles and 6 passes defensed over the team's three playoff games, starting each...Additionally had 1 interception in 37-20 wild-card victory over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Recorded the second sack of his NFL career at Chicago (Sept. 11), when he felled the Bears' Erik Kramer on a blitz early in the fourth quarter...Made 8 tackles and had 2 passes defensed in win over the N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17)...Amassed a career-high 12 tackles at Dallas (Oct. 8), he also had 1 pass defensed...Registered a team-leading 3 passes defensed and had 7 tackles in the Packers' win over Detroit (Oct. 15)...Turned in premier performance of his career vs. the Vikings (Oct. 22), harvesting a team-leading 9 tackles and posting a career-high 2 interceptions and a career-best 7 passes defensed...Made 5 tackles, had 4 passes defensed and forced a fumble in rematch at Minnesota (Nov. 5)...Posted 7 tackles and 1 pass defensed in win over Chicago (Nov. 12)...Made 8 tackles and had 2 passes defensed in season-ending win over Pittsburgh (Dec. 24)...1994: Closed out the season second on his Packer platoon in passes defensed with 15 and also was the team's co-leader in forced fumbles with 3, while finishing eighth on the defense overall with 58 total tackles (46 solo)...Also had 1 interception, in the regular-season home finale against Atlanta at Milwaukee (Dec. 18), among his 3 passes defensed that day...Made his first career start Sept. 11 against Miami and contributed 4 tackles, stepping into the starter role after a career-ending neck injury to the incumbent, Roland Mitchell, the previous week...Had begun the year by playing in 'nickel' and 'dime' packages in opener vs. Minnesota...Posted his first career sack among 4 tackles, with 1 pass defensed, in 30-3 win over Tampa Bay (Sept. 25)...Registered a season-high 7 tackles at New England Oct. 2...Made a spectacular play in 33-6 victory over Chicago at Soldier Field (Oct. 31), tackling the Bears' Robert Green midway through the third quarter, stripping the ball in the process and subsequently recovering it himself...The turnover gave Green Bay possession at the Chicago 37-yard line and led to the Packers' third touchdown...Came up with another key play against Detroit the following week (Nov. 6), when he knocked down a Dave Krieg pass in the end zone on a fourth-down play with 42 seconds left in the game, ending a potential game-tying drive by the Lions and sealing a 38-30 Packer victory...Also had 5 tackles and a season-best 3 passes defensed, plus a forced fumble, against the Lions...Tied his season high with a 7-tackle effort vs. the N.Y. Jets (Nov. 13) and, for the second consecutive game, was involved in breaking up a late, fourth-down pass near the Packers' end zone in tight coverage of the Jets' Rob Moore, causing New York QB Boomer Esiason to misfire and giving Green Bay the football with 1:04 remaining in an eventual 17-10 victory...Later was an effective performer in the postseason, sharing runnerup honors in the Packers' 16-12 wild-card victory over Detroit (Dec. 31), posting 6 tackles and being credited with 2 passes defensed...Also was the starter in both playoff contests...1993: First made his mark on special teams, then as an extra defensive back, while playing in all 16 games...Finished second among Packer kamikazes with 14 special teams tackles, including 3 vs. Denver (Oct. 10)...Also credited with 2 forced fumbles and 1 fumble recovery with the specialty units...Closed out the season with 13 tackles on defense, his contributions including 11 solo stops, 1 interception, 1 forced fumble and 1 fumble recovery, along with 3 passes defensed...Began playing in 'dime' substitution package on defense at Tampa Bay (Oct. 24)...Blocked a Nick Lowery field goal attempt at Kansas City (Nov. 8), then had 2 tackles and caused a key fumble by Marcus Dowdell at Saints' 22-yard line a week later (Nov. 14), the latter leading to the Packers' only touchdown in a 19-17 win...Also forced a fumble by Saints' Dalton Hilliard on kickoff coverage as time expired, preserving the Green Bay triumph...Recovered a Vernon Turner muffed punt return at the Detroit 8-yard line the following week (Nov. 21), triggering a field goal early in the third quarter which closed the Packers' deficit to 17-16 in an eventual 26-17 victory over the Lions...Posted a season-high 4 tackles in 13-10 win over Tampa Bay (Nov. 28), also contributing 1 pass defensed, 2 special teams tackles and a forced fumble on punt coverage...Made his first NFL interception at Chicago (Dec. 5), picking off a Jim Harbaugh pass in the first quarter...Recovered a Nick Bell fumble late in the second quarter vs. the L.A. Raiders (Dec. 26)...Saw reserve action in both playoff games, making 1 tackle in Dallas postseason contest (Jan. 16) — a one-on-one stop of the redoubtable Emmitt Smith...First of three sixth-round selections (141st overall) by Green Bay in 1993.

COLLEGE: Four-year letterman (1989-92) and three-year starter at Louisiana Tech...Had 292 total tackles (159 solo), 5½ sacks, 6 interceptions, 5 fumble recoveries, 1 forced fumble and 12 passes defensed over his four seasons...Began college career as an outside linebacker, moving to strong safety in 1990 before starting at rover position in both 1991 and '92...First-team All-South Independent selection each of his final two years...Honorable mention on Football News All-America squad as a senior...Finished second on the team in tackles in both 1991 (with 91 stops) and '92 (84)...Redshirted as a 1988 freshman...Earned B.S. degree in finance.

4 BRETT FAVRE

Quarterback
Southern Mississippi 6th year
Ht: 6-2 Wt: 225 Born: 10/10/69 Acq: T-92

PRO: Reigned as professional football's premier field general as the 1995 NFL season ended, coming off a classically productive, hallmark campaign which brought him consensus acclaim as the National Football League's Most Valuable Player...Earned the first such distinction for a Packer player since 1966, when fellow quarterback Bart Starr was so honored, throwing for 4,413 yards and 38 touchdowns to lead the NFL in both major categories and escort Green Bay to its first NFC Central Division championship since 1972...His primacy at the position was underscored when he also was named the starter for the NFC in the Pro Bowl and was a first-team selection on the Associated Press All-Pro team (he was the leading vote-getter on offense, receiving votes on 86 of 88 ballots)...In the wake of these memorable accomplishments, the personable Mississippian finds himself facing a new and major challenge off the field in the year ahead, after coming forward in the offseason (May 14) to acknowledge a substance abuse problem and voluntarily entering a clinic for treatment on a self-referral basis the next day...Returned to Green Bay July 3 — five days after completing a 45-day stay at the Menninger Clinic in Topeka, Kan. — to prepare for the 1996 season — with a solid vote of confidence from General Manger Ron Wolf..."We expect him to come back in excellent shape, mentally and physically, and have the same kind of year (as in '95)," Wolf said of Favre, calling Number 4 "as exciting a player as ever graced Lambeau Field, or any field in the NFL, for that matter."...Both on the hallowed turf of "Lambeau" and on the road, the 26-year-old Favre had consistently justified Wolf's glowing appraisal during the 1995 season...His 38 touchdown passes, a club record, represented the third-highest single-season total in the league's 76-year history and the most ever by an NFC quarterback...Only the Miami Dolphins' Dan Marino, who posted 48 in 1984 and 44 in 1986, has had more...Also, his 38 TDs, combined with 1994's 33 scoring strikes, marks only the fifth time in NFL history a quarterback has thrown 30-or-more touchdown passes in consecutive seasons (Marino, 3 consecutive years, 1984-86; Y.A. Tittle 1962-63; Dan Fouts 1980-81; and Steve Bartkowski 1980-81)...Favre's 4,413 passing yards also rank second in Packer annals only to the 4,458 recorded by Lynn Dickey in 1983, and his 359 completions have been surpassed only by his own club record of 363, set in 1994...These imposing numbers prompted Green Bay offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis to acknowledge, "Brett had a fantastic year. I think he'll get better, too. People ask me, how's the offense going to improve, and I think even though the numbers might not be there — you never know if he's going to throw 30-some touchdown passes — but I think he'll get better in his reads and his decision-making and his technique a little bit. He's the leader of the team and that's where it all starts. We're anticipating a great season from him, and there are things he can improve on — he knows it — and I think he will."...Fearless, daring and resourceful, Favre possesses a major intangible that sets him apart from many of his fellow field generals — the ability to rally a team from behind to victory...He has maneuvered his team from a fourth-quarter deficit or tie to win no fewer than 10 games over his four-year career as a starter — three times in 1992, four times in 1993, twice in 1994 and once in 1995...Has led Green Bay to four straight winning seasons and three consecutive playoff berths...Statistically, after four highly productive years, Favre enters the '96 season as the fourth-highest rated passer in NFL history with a career passer rating of 86.8 — behind only Steve Young (96.1), Joe Montana (92.3) and Marino (88.4)...Also, in 1995, became the third-fastest quarterback in NFL history to throw 100 career TD passes — accomplishing the feat in 62 games — only Marino (44) and Johnny Unitas (53) did it faster...Further testament to Favre's scoring production, his 71 TD passes over the past two seasons (with only 27 interceptions) easily outdistance his nearest counterparts' numbers: 55 of Young and 54 of Marino...The owner of a 37-24 regular-season record as a starting quarterback, he also currently is the most durable field general on the NFL scene, having started 61 consecutive games dating back to Game 4 of the 1992 season, when he took over for Don Majkowski as the team's starter...Continues to hold Green Bay's all-time passing efficiency record, which he originally appropriated from Starr in 1993, with a 62.56 mark on 1,342 completions in 2,145 attempts...The first Packer to lead the NFL in touchdown passes since Dickey did so in 1983 with 32, he now ranks third in career TD passes in team history with 108, behind only Starr (152) and Dickey (133)...Moved past Majkowski (10,970) and Tobin Rote (11,535) into third place last year on Packers' career passing yards list with 14,825 yards...Now trails only Starr (24,718) and Dickey (21,369)...With seven 300-yard passing games last season, raised his career total to 12, moving past Starr (five) and Majkowski (nine) on club's all-time list...He now stands behind only the 15 of Dickey...Has had third- and fourth-best single-season touchdown-to-interception ratios in team history over the last two years, 2.92 TDs for every 1 INT in 1995 after 2.36 to 1 in '94, ranking behind only Starr's 1966 and '64 campaigns (4.67 to 1 and 3.75 to 1, respectively)...Has compiled remarkable record since midway point in 1994 season, throwing 61 touchdown passes compared to only 20 interceptions during 24-game span...1995 HONORS: Selected to start in the Pro Bowl after two earlier appearances (1992, '93) as a reserve...Earned NFL 'Most Valuable Player' awards from the Associated Press, Professional Football Writers of America, Pro Football Weekly and Sports Illustrated...Named 'Player of the Year' by The Sporting News, Football Digest, Miller Lite, the Maxwell Club and the Touchdown Club of Columbus...Selected as Pro Football 'Performer of the Year' by ESPN's ESPY Awards...Named league 'Offensive Player of the Year' by AP, Pro Football Weekly, College & Pro Football Newsweekly and The Newspaper Enterprise Association...Selected NFC 'Player of the Year' by Football News and the Touchdown Club of Columbus...Also named NFC 'Offensive Player of the Year' by United Press International and the Kansas City Committee of 101...Received first-team All-Pro honors from AP, College & Pro Football Newsweekly, Football Digest, Pro Football Weekly/PFWA, TSN, Sports Illustrated and USA Today...Garnered 'All-NFC' honors from Football News and UPI...Honored as 'Wisconsin Sports Person of the Year' by Wisconsin Sports Authority/Milwaukee Pen & Mike Club...1995: Became only the third 4,000-yard passer in team history after a 308-yard performance at New Orleans (Dec. 16)...Finished the season with NFL-best 4,413 passing yards, second-highest total in team history and only 45 yards shy of Dickey's team record 4,458 (1983)...Earlier, became the first player in team history to post four 3,000-yard passing seasons, achieved in four consecutive seasons...Established a new team record with seven 300-yard passing games, breaking Majkowski's previous record of six in 1989...Led the NFC (and was second in the NFL) with a 99.5 passer rating — only the Colts' Jim Harbaugh with a 100.7 rating had better...Paced the NFC in third-down passing with a 103.8 passer rating...Threw three-or-more TD passes in seven games and for at least 4 TD passes in three games...Had thrown at least one touchdown pass in 17 straight games dating back to Week 8 of '94 — the second-longest string in club annals, behind only the 22 of Cecil Isbell (1941-42) — until streak was snapped at Minnesota (Nov. 5)...Also had thrown at least two touchdown passes in 12 consecutive games, equaling the NFL record also held by Unitas (1959), Don Meredith (1965-66) and Marino (1986-87), until the string ended at Dallas (Oct. 8)...Finished the season with the third-lowest single-season interception percentage (2.28) in team annals, behind only the 1.20 and 1.47 of Starr in 1966 and 1964, respectively...Started all 16 games for third straight season, plus all three of the team's playoff contests...Rebounded from an ankle injury at Minnesota (Nov. 5) to complete 70.3 percent of his passes (166-236) in the ensuing seven games for 2,046 yards and 21 touchdowns, with only 2 interceptions — an imposing passer rating of 123.0...Tied for team lead with his career-best 3 rushing scores...Turned in gutty performance in leading Packers to their division-clinching, 24-19 victory over Pittsburgh (Dec. 24) when, despite having to stop twice during the game after getting the wind knocked out of him, he threw for 301 yards and 2 touchdowns...On one sequence, he was hit hard by three Steeler defenders while scrambling on a play; the Packers called a timeout and Favre, who coughed up blood on the sidelines during a break in the action, returned to throw a 1-yard scoring pass to tight end Mark Chmura on the following play...Threw 4 TD passes — all in the first half — in the Packers' 34-23 win at New Orleans (Dec. 16)...Completed 21 of 38 passes for 308 yards against the Saints...Had 287 yards passing and 1 touchdown with 1 interception — completing 27 of 46 passes — in rematch at Tampa Bay (Dec. 10)...Threw his first interception in 126 attempts when the Bengals' Corey Sawyer picked off a pass late in the fourth quarter vs. Cincinnati (Dec. 3) but still led Packers to 24-10 win over the Bengals, throwing for 339 yards and 3 touchdowns while completing a season-high 31 passes (in 43 attempts)...Named NFC 'Offensive Player of the Month' for December, passing for 1,233 yards on 102 completions in 151 attempts with 10 TDs and only 2 INTs (109.0 passer rating) in leading Green Bay to three victories during the month...Had a stellar outing vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 26), completing 16 of 24 passes for 267 yards and 3 TDs...Led the Packers to a tough road win at Cleveland (Nov. 19) when, despite still being limited with an ankle injury, he passed for 3 touchdowns and ran for another...Completed 23 of 28 passes for 210 yards against Browns for a career-best 82.1 completion percentage...Had arguably his best performance as a professional in a rematch with Chicago (Nov. 12) when, not knowing until late in the week if he was even going to play due to a severely sprained ankle from the week before, he threw for a career-high and team-record tying 5 touchdown passes to lead the Packers to a key 35-28 victory over the Bears — the 10th game-winning comeback of his pro career...Subsequently was named NFC 'Offensive Player of the Week' (for the second time in four weeks) after completing 25 of 33 passes for 336 yards with no interceptions against Chicago, giving him a career-high single-game passer rating of 147.2...His 5 TD passes share a team record held by Isbell (1942), Don Horn (1969) and Dickey (who accomplished the feat in 1981 and '83)...Had suffered a severely sprained left ankle late in second quarter of rematch at Minnesota one week earlier (Nov. 5) — an injury which later would require offseason surgery (Feb. 27, 1996) to remove several bone chips and one large spur...Left Vikings game for the remainder of the first half, then played three series in the second half before the injury hindered his play and he gave way to Ty Detmer...Completed 17 of 30 passes for 177 yards with 2 interceptions against Minnesota...Had a string of 113 consecutive pass attempts without an interception ended when the Lions' Willie Clay picked off his second pass of the game (Oct. 29)...Had a bittersweet outing in the Silverdome, throwing for 304 yards and 1 TD (a 77-yarder to Robert Brooks) but was intercepted 3 times...Saluted as NFL's recipient of the 'Extra Effort Award' for the month of October...Earned his first-ever NFC 'Offensive Player of the Week' honor with an outstanding performance in initial game with Minnesota (Oct. 22), tying a then-career high with 4 touchdown passes (the third time in his career he had accomplished that feat) in leading the Packers to a 38-21 win...Completed 22 of 43 passes for 295 yards without an interception against the Vikings...Led Packers to a win over Detroit (Oct. 15), when he threw for a season-best 342 yards (fourth-highest total of his career) and 2 TDs on 23 of 34 passing...Triggered a valiant comeback attempt at Dallas (Oct. 8), when he rushed for a career-high 2 TDs and threw for another score to rally the Packers from a 21-point, second-half deficit to within seven at 31-24 with 8:13 remaining in the game...Completed 21 of 41 passes for 295 yards vs. the Cowboys...Led the Packers to a win at Jacksonville (Sept. 24), passing for 202 yards and 2 TDs, completing 20 of 30 passes while rushing for 39 net yards, including a career-best 40-yard run...Had a solid game in win over the N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17) as he threw 2 TD passes and completed 14 of 25 attempts for 141 yards...Turned in outstanding performance at Chicago (Sept. 11), completing 21 of 37 passes for 312 yards and 3 TDs, including a team-record 99-yard TD pass to Brooks early in the second quarter — only the eighth time in NFL history that feat has been accomplished...Completed 29 of a season-high 51 passes for 299 yards and 2 TDs with 3 INTs in season opener vs. St. Louis Rams (Sept. 3)...Also was team's leading rusher against Rams with 27 yards on 4 carries...1995 PLAYOFFS: Utilizing no fewer than nine receivers, Favre completed 24 of 35 passes for 199 yards and 3 touchdowns in leading the Packers to a 37-20 wild-card victory over Atlanta in Lambeau Field (Dec. 31), presiding over scoring drives of 85, 78 and 70 yards and throwing for 3 touchdowns in the process...He was even more precise in a divisional playoff at San Francisco the following week (Jan. 6), hitting on 21 of 28 passes for 299 yards and 2 touchdowns — with no interceptions — in leading the Packers to a 27-17 triumph over the favored 49ers, defending Super

BRETT FAVRE'S PERFECT RECORD IN COLD WEATHER

Packers quarterback Brett Favre, a Mississippi native, holds a perfect 14-0 record (12-0 regular season, 2-0 playoffs) when the game-time temperature is 35° or below — a complete listing of those games can be found below. Including slightly balmier weather, he is 21-4 (19-4 regular season, 2-0 playoffs) when temperatures are 45° or less.

history (behind Dickey's 418 vs. Tampa Bay in 1980 and Horn's 410 vs. the Cardinals in 1969)...It also represented the first 300- and 400-yard passing games of Favre's career...Also threw for 2 TDs vs. Bears (an 18-yarder to Sharpe and a 22-yarder to Mark Clayton)...Led Packers to 20-13 win at San Diego (Dec. 12), completing 13 of 23 passes for 146 yards...Turned in solid outing vs. Raiders (Dec. 26) in -22 degree wind chill, passing for 190 yards and 1 TD (a 23-yarder to Sharpe in the third quarter) on 14 completions in 28 attempts, with no INTs...Completed 23 of 37 passes for 190 yards and 1 TD (a 39-yarder to Bennett) in season-ending loss to Detroit (Jan. 2), but also threw a career-high 4 interceptions...1993 PLAYOFFS: Pulled off one of the most spectacular plays in Packer history in wild-card playoff at Detroit the following week (Jan. 8)...With the Packers trailing 24-21 in the final minute of play, he scrambled out of the pocket to his left, found an "unguarded" Sharpe in the open and unleashed an across-the-body throw from extreme left to extreme right; Sharpe ran under the football in the end zone with 55 seconds left and the Packers shortly became 28-24 winners...Had thrown 2 earlier TD passes to Sharpe (a 12-yarder in the second quarter and a 28-yarder in the third period) while completing 15 of 26 passes for 204 yards overall...Also rushed 4 times for 18 yards...Threw 2 more TD passes in losing effort (27-17) in divisional playoff at Dallas the following week (Jan. 16) — a 2-yarder to Brooks and a 29-yarder to Sharpe...Closed out day with 28 completions in 45 attempts for 331 yards (one yard short of Packers' single-game playoff record) and 2 TDs, with 2 INTs...1992: Acquired from Atlanta by Wolf for a first-round draft selection in an offseason trade (Feb. 10)...Was so impressive in escorting Green Bay to its second-best record in 20 years (9-7) — soaring from designated backup to Pro Bowler in just three months' time — that Head Coach Mike Holmgren was prompted to observe, "If Brett can stay healthy, he will be the cornerstone of our football team for many years to come."...Beginning the 1992 season as the understudy to incumbent Majkowski, he was hastily summoned from the bench to replace an injured Majkowski in the first quarter of Game 3 vs. Cincinnati (Sept. 20) and proceeded to take a stranglehold on the QB position, staking an immediate claim by leading the Packers to an electrifying, come-from-behind, 24-23 victory over the Bengals, forged by way of a 35-yard scoring pass to wideout Kitrick Taylor with only 13 seconds remaining in the game...Performing in storybook fashion, he went on to compile an 8-5 record as a starter and establish two new Packer passing records in the process — single-season marks for passing percentage (64.12%) and most consecutive 200-yard passing games (11)...Named as third QB for NFC Pro Bowl squad after finishing fifth among conference passers with an 85.3 overall rating, based on 302 completions in 471 attempts for 3,227 yards and 18 touchdowns with only 13 interceptions...At the time, was youngest quarterback ever to play in AFC-NFC Pro Bowl (since 1971) at 23 years, 3 months, 28 days of age...His 302 completions tied him with Aikman of Super Bowl Champion Dallas Cowboys for first-place honors in NFC...Also ranked second in conference to Young with his 64.12 passing percentage, which broke Starr's Packer single-season record of 63.74, set in 1968...Had third-lowest interception percentage among all NFL quarterbacks (2.76)...Also became only fourth Packers QB to pass for over 3,000 yards in a season...Had a string of 111 passes without an interception broken at Oilers on Dec. 13...Did not play vs. Minnesota in regular-season opener on Sept. 6, but saw action in relief role the next week at Tampa Bay (Sept. 13), completing 8 of 14 passes for 73 yards in second-half play...Engineered 2 TD drives in last eight minutes of game to pull out 24-23 victory over Cincinnati (Sept. 20) after relieving injured Majkowski in opening quarter...Threw for season-high 289 yards against Bengals on 22 of 39 passing...Made first NFL start on Sept. 27 vs. Pittsburgh and responded by completing 14 of 19 passes for 210 yards and 2 TDs, including a 76-yarder to Sharpe, with no interceptions...Played well at Atlanta (Oct. 4) despite heavy pressure from Falcon defense...Completed 33 of 43 passes for 276 yards and 1 TD, his 33 completions then representing the third-most ever by a Packer QB in one game...Led Packers to 27-13 victory over Detroit (Nov. 1) at Silverdome, completing 22 of 37 passes for 212 yards and 2 TDs...Completed 27 of a season-high 44 attempts for 279 yards at N.Y. Giants (Nov. 8) but had 3 interceptions, his first multiple-interception contest of the season...Also forced a fumble vs. Giants — recovered by teammate Sanjay Beach — in an impromptu role as a tackler, hitting New York's Pepper Johnson after Johnson had intercepted a pass...Staged an inspiring performance vs. Philadelphia (Nov. 15), leading Packers to a 27-24, come-from-behind victory despite suffering a first-degree separation of his left (non-throwing) shoulder early in the game...Completed 23 of 33 for 275 yards and 2 scores with 2 interceptions in upset of Eagles...Had a 5-yard TD run (his first NFL touchdown) at Bears a week later (Nov. 22) during a fine overall performance, which saw him complete 16 of 24 passes for 209 yards and 1 TD (a 49-yard strike to Sharpe) in 17-3 triumph...Had productive afternoon in return meeting with Tampa Bay (Nov. 29), completing 26 of 41 passes for 223 yards and 1 TD (a 9-yard throw to Harris in fourth quarter) in leading Packers to 19-14 win...Posted high percentage performance in rematch with Lions (Dec. 6), hitting on 15 of 19 passes for 214 yards and 3 TDs (the first 3-touchdown game of his career) in escorting Packers to 38-10 victory...Also effective at Houston (Nov. 13), completing 19 of 30 passes for 155 yards in 16-14 win over Oilers...Closed out regular-season home schedule with a 14 for 23 effort vs. L.A. Rams (Dec. 20), good for 188 yards and 2 TDs (both to Sharpe) in a 28-13 victory...1991: Was second-round draft selection by Falcons (33rd overall and third quarterback, after Dan McGwire and Todd Marinovich)...Completed 14 of 32 passes for 160 yards and 2 touchdowns, with 1 interception, in the preseason...Active for three games during the regular season, he played in two, attempting 5 passes without a completion.

COLLEGE: Led his Southern Mississippi team to 29 victories, including two bowl triumphs, during four varsity seasons (1987-90), and climaxed his collegiate career by earning a 'Most Valuable Player' award in the East-West Shrine game featuring the nation's best seniors...Set school records for passing yards (8,193), pass attempts (1,234), completions (656), passing percentage (53.0) and touchdowns (55), with only 35 interceptions...His production included five 300-yard passing games and five 3-TD performances, while his 7,695 regular-season passing yards ranked him among the top 30 of all-time NCAA passers...His 1.57 interception ratio in 1988 was the lowest among the 50 top-ranked passers in the nation, and his 2.9 interception rate for his four-year career (based on only 34 in 1,169 attempts) also ranks as one of the best in NCAA history...Overcame injuries in a serious summer car accident prior to his senior season to lead his team to an 8-3 record and just eight points from an undefeated season...Suffered internal injuries in the accident on July 14, 1990, he subsequently had 30 inches of his intestines surgically removed 24 days later (Aug. 7)...Shocked his coaches and teammates by returning to the starting lineup a month later (Sept. 8) and escorting the Golden Eagles to an upset over Alabama...Also was MVP of All-American Bowl at conclusion of senior year...Became starter at Southern

Miss in third game of his freshman season...Majored in special education.

86 ANTONIO FREEMAN

Wide Receiver

Virginia Tech 2nd year

Ht: 6-0½ Wt: 190 Born: 5/27/72 Acq: D3d-95

PRO: Instinctive, big-play type receiver who will challenge for a more prominent role in the offense this year after a rookie season which saw him make his mark on special teams as a quality return man and contribute somewhat as a pass catcher...Became more and more involved with the offense as the '95 campaign progressed...Makes sound decisions on the field..."Antonio has a good feel for working in the open field," says Gil Haskell, Green Bay's wide receivers coach. "Some guys don't have that feel — he does. I see good things for him. I think he's a real receiver. There's speed guys, there's track guys, but he's a real receiver."...Ironically enough, it is his experience on special teams which makes Freeman a better receiver, according to Haskell..."I think his ability to return punts has helped him see the field when he plays the game," Haskell explains. "And when he catches the ball, he doesn't catch it and just go down. He catches the ball and tries to score a touchdown. He's got great peripheral vision to know where people are around him so he can get away from them."...1995: Got opportunity early in his rookie season to contribute as a return man after incumbent Charles Jordan was hampered by shoulder and knee injuries, he never really relinquished the role...Subsequently became more involved in the offense as the year went on, seeing regular duty in four receiver formations by the time the playoffs rolled around...Twice was named NFL 'Special Teams Player of the Week' during the playoffs as a result of his performances against Atlanta (Dec. 31) and at Dallas in the NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...Broke open close playoff game with Falcons by returning a Dan Stryzinski punt 76 yards for a touchdown midway through the second quarter — the first-ever scoring return of either a punt or kickoff in Green Bay's storied postseason history...Also had 2 kickoff returns for 54 yards vs. Atlanta, including a 42-yarder right after the Falcons had scored a quick touchdown for an early 7-0 lead...Totaled 202 return yards in Cowboys contest — 7 for 148 yards on kickoffs and 4 for 54 yards on punts...His 39-yard punt return late in the first quarter of NFC title game triggered a Green Bay touchdown three plays later which gave the Packers a 17-14 advantage...One week earlier had made a favorable impression as a receiver at San Francisco (Jan. 6), catching 2 passes for first downs on opening drive of 27-17 triumph over 49ers...Led team and finished fifth in the NFC in kickoff returns with a 23.2-yard average (24 returns for 556 yards)...Set club rookie record with 37 punt returns (for 292 yards)...Ranked 10th in conference with 7.9-yard average returning punts...Also caught 8 passes for 106 yards and 1 touchdown...Made 2 receptions vs. the N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17) in his initial league game...Scored his first touchdown in the NFL at New Orleans (Dec. 16) when he caught an 11-yard pass from Brett Favre late in the second quarter among his career-best 3 receptions...Also averaged 27.3 yards on 3 kickoff returns vs. Saints...Provided Packers with great field position in key, 35-28 win over Chicago (Nov. 12) with a 26-yard punt return in the first quarter and a 45-yard kickoff return in the third period — both runbacks set up a Green Bay touchdown on the very next play...Averaged an impressive 35.3 yards on 3 kickoff returns in same Bears contest...Saw action in 11 regular-season games as a reserve, was inactive for four contests and did not play in another...Played in all three postseason games, making his first career start in NFC Championship Game at Dallas (Jan. 14) when Packers opened in four wide receiver formation...Caught 4 passes for 43 yards in the playoffs, he also averaged 14.3 yards returning punts (10-143) and 23.2 yards returning kickoffs (11-255)...Had enjoyed a tremendous preseason, leading club with 10 receptions and averaging 12.4 yards per punt return...Was the last of four third-round draft choices (90th overall pick and 9th wide receiver) by Green Bay in 1995.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and four-time letterman (1991-94) at Virginia Tech...Was redshirted in 1990...Departed as Hokies' all-time leader in receptions with 121 (for 2,207 yards)...Also set school record with 22 career receiving touchdowns — 11 of which went for 45 yards or more...Established himself as one of the country's top punt returners in his final collegiate season...Was team leader in catches each of his last three years...Earned All-Big East second-team honors as both a wide receiver and punt returner in 1994, when he caught a career-best 38 passes for 586 yards and 5 TDs...Led conference and finished sixth nationally in punt returns as a senior, setting a school single-season record for yardage with 467 on 39 returns (12.0 avg.)...Returned a punt 80 yards for a touchdown in '94 game against Pittsburgh...Made 32 receptions for 644 yards as a junior, including a Tech single-season record 9 touchdown catches...Set Big East one-game record with 194 receiving yards vs. Temple, he also equalled school mark with 3 TD receptions in same contest...Was a third-team pick on 'Sophomore All-America' squad of Football News in 1992...Averaged a school-record 22.0 yards per catch (32 receptions for 703 yards and 6 touchdowns)...Became just second player in Tech history to catch 3 touchdown passes of 60-plus yards in one season; included in that group was an 83-yard score against West Virginia...Finished third on team in receptions in 1991 with 19 for 274 yards and 2 TDs...Holds B.S. degree in human resources.

PERSONAL: Given name Antonio Michael Freeman...Nicknamed 'Free' and 'Buttons'...Born in Baltimore...Single...Named prep 'Offensive Player of the Year' by the Baltimore Sun and was an honorable mention on USA Today All-America team as a 1989 senior at Polytechnic High School in Baltimore, his team went 10-0 that year, won the Maryland Group A title and was ranked 23rd in the nation...Averaged 23 yards per reception during his senior season, when he caught 47 passes for 1,079 yards and 9 touchdowns...Lettered twice in football as a wide receiver and cornerback, he also won two letters in basketball...Hobbies include music and basketball...Residence: Baltimore.

55 BERNARDO HARRIS

Linebacker

North Carolina 2nd year

Ht: 6-2 Wt: 243 Born: 10/15/71 Acq: FA-95

PRO: Quiet and unassuming, is a promising young athlete who could challenge for the starting middle linebacker spot in his second NFL season...Possessor of all the necessary physical skills, is an equally capable player at either inside or outside linebacker...Played almost exclusively on special teams last year, save for two games when injuries spontaneously thrust him into the lineup...Had battled through a broken arm in training camp to make the team's 53-man roster as a virtually unknown free agent..."We've got a lot of aspirations for this guy," says Fritz Shurmur, Green Bay's defensive coordinator. "We think he's going to be a tremendous linebacker. He has excellent instincts, speed, athletic ability, toughness and all that, and the only question in our mind is can he stay away from injuries. And he needs to be more self-assertive, he needs to take charge more. If one of our starters were to get injured, he'd be the first guy in there."...1995: Saw action in 11 regular-season games plus all three postseason contests, mostly in a special teams capacity...Received his most extensive defensive action of the season at Cleveland (Nov. 19) when starting middle linebacker Fred Strickland left the game in the first quarter due to a knee injury...Responded to the challenge by posting a career-high 4 tackles vs. the Browns...Also got prolonged duty at middle linebacker three weeks later at Tampa Bay (Dec. 10), playing in Joe Kelly's stead in the first half after Kelly shifted outside to replace an injured George Koonce (wrist)...Ranked seventh on the team in special teams tackles with 11, including 2 vs. Detroit (Oct. 15), Chicago (Nov. 12) and New Orleans (Dec. 16)...Blocked a John Jett punt on opening series at Dallas in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14), leading to a Chris Jacke field goal...Had played in Packers' first three preseason games, performing well, until fracturing his left arm in the third, Aug. 19 vs. Indianapolis...Subsequently was inactive for each of Green Bay's first four regular-season contests...Got first playing time in the NFL on Oct. 8 vs. Cowboys at Texas Stadium, he made 1 special teams tackle that day...Later was inactive in finale against Pittsburgh (Dec. 24) due to a lingering ankle sprain originally suffered three weeks earlier vs. Cincinnati...Had joined the Packers on Jan. 13, 1995, as a free agent...1994: Originally signed by the Kansas City Chiefs on June 2, 1994, as an undrafted free agent, he subsequently was waived in training camp (Aug. 5) and spent the remainder of the season out of football.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter and four-time letterman (1990-93) at North Carolina...Finished his collegiate career with 224 tackles (117 solo), including 15 for loss and 7 sacks, as an outside linebacker...Also recorded 2 forced fumbles, 2 fumble recoveries and 1 interception...Was a second-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection as a senior when he had 85 tackles and 4½ sacks...Made a career-high 90 stops his junior season, the most by a Tar Heel outside linebacker since Lawrence Taylor had posted 95 in 1979...Posted a career-best 18 stops in 1992 game with Army...Majored in physical education.

PERSONAL: Given name Bernardo Jamaine Harris...Born in Chapel Hill, N.C. ...Married to Kellie, couple has a son, Bradley (born 5/4/94)...Was an all-area and all-conference tight end and linebacker at Chapel Hill (N.C.) High School...As a senior, had 115 tackles and 4 interceptions at linebacker and caught 10 passes for 300 yards and 5 touchdowns at tight end...Earned three letters in football and one in basketball...Hobbies include playing basketball and Nintendo...Residence: Chapel Hill, N.C.

30 WILLIAM HENDERSON

Fullback
North Carolina 2nd year
Ht: 6-1½ Wt: 248 Born: 2/19/71 Acq: D3b-95

PRO: Classic bruising fullback who is expected to push incumbent Dorsey Levens for the team's starting job in 1996...Had similar opportunity short-circuited as a '95 rookie after he suffered a knee injury early in training camp...Still received significant playing time, frequently rotating into offense as a powerful run blocker..."I think he's going to have an excellent year," says Harry Sydney, coach of the Green Bay running backs. "By the end of last year he was doing the things that we drafted him for. And now this year hopefully we're going to put the ball in his hands more, to let him run the ball and catch the ball, so we'll see that he's not just a blocker, he's an all-around fullback."...Rebounded from early setback of knee injury to become one of Packers' most effective blockers by season's end, earning high regard from opposition defenders in the process..."I think the injury hurt him quite a bit," Sydney recalls. "In this offense with a fullback — and I can say this because I ran this offense as a fullback — the first year or so is slow because there's so many little things that you have to know. It's not just about who you have to block, but about how you have to block them and how you fit into the play. At the end of the season, though, put it this way, he was getting respect throughout the league. When they see him line up back there and there's a linebacker looking across, they're saying, 'Oh my goodness, here he comes,' so he's getting that respect. Now he just has to be a little bit more under control, size his target up a little more, just be a veteran."...Earlier had demonstrated in college a clear ability to run productively inside the tackles...1995: Played in final 15 regular-season games, including first NFL start in finale vs. Pittsburgh (Dec. 24)...Had been inactive for opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3) while rehabbing from arthroscopic knee surgery...Finished rookie campaign fourth on the team in rushing with 35 yards on 7 carries, he also caught 3 passes for 21 yards...Missed all four preseason games after suffering torn cartilage in his left knee Aug. 1 in a training camp practice...Subsequently had knee scoped on Aug. 9...Turned in career-long 17-yard run on his first professional carry, Sept. 24 at Jacksonville...Got extensive playing time Oct. 8 at Dallas as usual starter Levens was inactive due to a knee injury...Turned in banner blocking effort Nov. 19 at Cleveland, often going head-to-head with Browns LB Pepper Johnson...Saw reserve duty in all three playoff games...Caught 1 pass for 4 yards in Atlanta postseason contest (Dec. 31) and rushed once for 2 yards at Dallas in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...Regularly played at fullback in short-yardage and goal-line situations with Levens moving to halfback...Was the second of four third-round draft choices (66th overall) by Green Bay in 1995.

COLLEGE: A four-time letterwinner at North Carolina (1991-94)...Redshirted in 1990 as he continued rehabilitation on a high school knee injury...Averaged better than five yards per carry (5.2) as a collegian...Carried 145 times for 750 yards and 8 touchdowns during his career, he also caught 14 passes for 97 yards...Split playing time with Malcolm Marshall each of his final two seasons...Rushed for 251 yards (on 47 carries) and served as co-captain his senior year...Helped pave the way for two different Tar Heel tailbacks to rush for over 1,000 yards as a junior, when he personally gained 242 yards on 51 attempts...Missed only one game in 1992, but injuries limited his availability for much of the season, he carried only twice for five yards...Was co-recipient of the Jeffrey Cowell Memorial Award in '91 as the Tar Heels' 'Most Outstanding First-Year Player' after rushing for a career-high 252 yards on 45 attempts...Had a career-best 101-yard rushing day vs. Maryland in 1991...Holds a B.S. degree in physical education with a concentration in sports science, he also minored in African-American studies.

PERSONAL: Given name William Terrelle Henderson...Nicknamed 'Boogie'...Born in Richmond, Va. ...Single...Sat out his senior season at Thomas Dale High School in Chester, Va., after suffering a severe knee injury (torn anterior cruciate ligament) in the team's first scrimmage of the year...Still was selected as one of the state's top five prospects by the Roanoke Times...Played fullback, linebacker and placekicker, earning two letters...Chosen second-team all-state as a junior, when he gained 707 yards and scored 11 touchdowns...Also earned all-region and all-district honors on offense and defense...Rushed for 606 yards and 7 TDs as a sophomore...Had a career long field goal of 52 yards...Lettered four times in track as well, finishing second in the discus at the state meet...Hobbies include arts and crafts...Did landscaping work while in college...Enjoys charity work involving children...Has worked with Special Olympics in Milwaukee as well as with the Crippled Children's Fund and the Rainbow Games...Residence: Chapel Hill, N.C.

17 CRAIG HENTRICH

Punter

Notre Dame 3rd year

Ht: 6-3 Wt: 200 Born: 5/18/71 Acq: FA-93

PRO: Self-effacing and unflappable, is quietly and quickly emerging as one of the National Football League's preeminent punters...Sound in his technique, an attribute vital late in the season in Green Bay, appears to have a long and productive professional career in front of him...Complementing his 41.7-yard career average, he already has put 50 punts 'inside the 20' after only two seasons...Continued to perform well early in the 1995 season despite blocking breakdowns which led to two blocked punts and regularly erratic punt snaps which would have shaken many punters...Able to give the coverage team ample opportunity to make the tackle by effectively combining excellent hang time with good distance...Also adept at punting the ball out of bounds..."Technically, Craig is very good," says Nolan Cromwell, the Packers' special teams coach. "Plus, he's so versatile — he can do a lot of things. Mentally, he's very strong. When people rush us, things of that nature, that doesn't bother him at all. He knows what he has to do, he knows he has to get it out quickly. And he knows where the rush is coming from."...Skilled in multiple areas, was a last-minute choice to handle kickoffs for the Packers in '95 after Chris Jacke suffered a strained hamstring in final week of training camp...Kicked off so well early in the year that Jacke was unable to wrest those responsibilities away from him six weeks later when he was healthy...Even filled in on an emergency basis as the team's field goal kicker for two-and-a-half games when Jacke was sidelined after aggravating the hamstring injury in Week 2 contest at Chicago..."Craig's kickoffs, for not doing it in training camp or really even practicing it much, he performed very, very well," Cromwell says. "I think his kickoffs were a strength for us as far as coverage. He has the ability to kick the ball into the end zone, deep into the end zone when he hits it well, plus he gives us hang time. His kickoffs were consistently inside the five-yard line, which was an improvement for us and a contributing factor in our good coverage. It's also a great situation for the team to have a guy, that if something does happen to the kicker, you've got a guy who can go in and be a good field goal kicker — not just a backup, somebody to fill in. That's because he did it in college."...Watched his career make a decided upward turn midway through the 1994 season, his initial campaign as the Packers' punter after a year on the club's practice squad...Was well-versed as both a kicker and punter upon entering the pro ranks in 1993, having handled both responsibilities as a collegian at Notre Dame...1995: Began to quietly establish himself as one of the league's top punters...Contributed throughout season in dual role of punter and kickoff specialist...Also capably filled in as team's field goal kicker for two-and-a-half games early in the year while Jacke was sidelined by a strained hamstring...Continued in his duties as the Packers' holder for field goal and PAT tries when not attempting them himself...Turned in second-best gross punting average (42.2 yards) by a Green Bay punter over the past decade to rank seventh in the NFC...Punted a team-record 26 times 'inside the 20' (the NFL began keeping the stat in 1976), a total which also was good for third in the conference...Had only 7 touchbacks as a punter...Put 24 of his 74 kickoffs into the end zone, 9 resulting in touchbacks (12.2%)...Stepped in with a clutch performance Sept. 11 at Chicago when, after Jacke had re-injured his hamstring on a second-quarter PAT try, he calmly kicked field goals of 32 and 38 yards — the first field goals of his NFL career and the first since he was a collegian at Notre Dame, where he handled both duties — in 27-24 win...Had an especially busy afternoon the next week vs. the N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17), punting a season-high 9 times (for a 43.3-yard average) and hammering home 2 extra point attempts in a 14-6 victory...Included in his 9 punts against New York were a career-high 4 'inside the 20' and a season-long 61-yard boot...Had a season-best 49.0-yard average on 4 punts the following Sunday night at Jacksonville, in addition to a career-long 49-yard field goal and 3 PATs in 24-14 win over Jaguars...Landed 3 punts 'inside the 20' in the team's next game, Oct. 8 at Dallas, he also put 3 of his 5 kickoffs into the end zone vs. the Cowboys, including 2 for touchbacks...Had a career-best 3 touchbacks among his 7 kickoffs Oct. 15 vs. Detroit...Later had 3 of his 6 kickoffs go for touchbacks in upset victory at San Francisco in the playoffs (Jan. 6)...Punted 3 times for a 48.0-yard average at Dallas in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...Posted a sparkling 41.0-yard net average in first-round playoff win over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Over course of playoffs, punted 12 times for 42.5- and 37.0-yard gross and net averages, respectively...Had a 48.9-yard average on 7 punts, including a 60-yarder and 2 'inside the 20,' in the season opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3), but did have the first punt blocked of his NFL career...Made 3 tackles (2 solo) on special teams over course of season...Did not handle kickoff duties during second half of Minnesota rematch (Nov. 5) due to a sore toe...Played in all 16 regular-season games plus all three of the team's postseason contests...1994: Beat out incumbent Bryan Wagner in training camp for the punting job...Went on to be one of NFL's top punters over last half of year, averaging 45.5 yards per punt in final eight regular-season games (31 punts for 1,411 yards)...Ended season with 24 punts 'inside the 20' — then a team record, but which he subsequently surpassed in 1995 — to rank fifth in the NFC...Finished in a tie for seventh in conference punting overall with a 41.4-yard gross average...Net average of 35.5 (also seventh in NFC) was second-best by a Packer punter since league started compiling stat in '76, exceeded only by Wagner's 36.3-yard net in 1993...His 41.4-yard gross average is bettered by Bucky Scribner alone (41.6 in 1983) since 1955 among rookie or first-year Green Bay punters...Battled through horrific weather conditions at Chicago's Soldier Field Oct. 31 — driving rain and winds of 45-50 miles per hour — to punt 7 times for remarkable 26.7-yard average, each of his first four kicks traveling exactly 27 yards against the wind, a Herculean effort which provided him with a huge confidence boost...Followed up Bears contest by averaging 50.3 yards on 4 punts, including 2 'inside the 20,' vs. Detroit the ensuing Sunday...Named NFC 'Special Teams Player of the Week' for his performance against the N.Y. Jets on Nov. 13, when he punted for career-high gross (54.8 yards) and net (47.3) averages...His punting exploits vs. New York (the team which had drafted him in 1993) included a career-long 70-yarder...Equalled season high of 3 punts "inside the 20" in Thanksgiving Day tilt at Dallas (also had 3 at Vikings and Eagles) among his 6 kicks for 45.7 gross and 41.5 net averages...Had career-high 10 punts Oct. 20 at Minnesota, averaging 46.0 yards...Contributed 2 special teams tackles in the regular season, as well as 2 in the playoffs...Had second-longest punt (62 yards) and second-best gross average (44.0 yards) in Packer postseason history Jan. 8 at Cowboys, a game in which he handled kickoff duties for first time in his career...Sealed 16-12 wild-card playoff victory over Detroit the previous week (Dec. 31) when, with seven seconds remaining, he took an intentional safety by running out back of end zone...Served as placement holder for field goals and PATs while playing in all 16 regular-season games plus both playoff contests...1993: Signed off of Packers' practice squad on Jan. 14 for NFC divisional playoff game at Dallas two days later, but subsequently was inactive...Had spent majority of '93 season on team's practice squad following his training camp release by the Jets (Aug. 24)...Initially joined Green Bay practice squad on Sept. 7...Eighth-round draft choice (200th overall) of New York Jets in 1993.

COLLEGE: Lettered four times (1989-92) at Notre Dame...Was perhaps the best combination punter/placekicker in college football in his senior season of '92...Finished career with school-record 44.1-yard punting average...Also had 39 career field goals (on 56 attempts) to rank second behind only the 51 of John Carney (Chargers)...Made 98.3% (177/180) of his PAT tries, another Notre Dame record...Ranked second on school's all-time scoring list with 294 career points, the most ever by an Irish kicker...Earned honorable mention All-America selection by Football News as a punter each of his last three seasons...Had the three highest single-season punting averages in Notre Dame history — 44.9 in '90, 44.6 in '89 and 43.8 in '92...Handled all aspects of Irish kicking game (punts, field goals, PATs, kickoffs) throughout mid-portion of '89 and all of 1990 and '91 until torn knee ligament suffered vs. Tennessee forced him to miss final two regular-season games...Reinjured same knee against Florida in Sugar Bowl, necessitating corrective surgery in January of 1992, but successfully returned for '92 senior campaign...Holds B.S. degree in management information systems.

PERSONAL: Given name Craig Anthony Hentrich...Born in Alton, Ill. ...Married the former Jayme Brockhouse this past May 4...Lettered four times in football and baseball, as well as once in basketball, at Marquette High School in Alton, Ill. ...Was kicker, punter, quarterback and safety for school's football team...All-America selection of Parade, SuperPrep and USA Today...Also named to Super 102 team of USA Today...Punted 98 times for 42.7-yard average in high school career...Set Illinois state record with 26 career field goals (on 44 attempts)...All-state pick as a kicker by Chicago Tribune and Chicago Sun-Times as a senior, had won similar recognition from Sun-Times following his junior season...Lists hobbies as playing golf, fishing and cooking...Worked over the summer of 1995 in the pro shop and with the golf pro at Northbrook Country Club in Luxemburg, Wis., in conjunction with NFL Player Programs...Has hopes for an eventual post-football career as a golf pro...Each of the past two years, has advanced to the final round of the 'NFL Cadillac Classic' golf tournament, finishing fifth in 1996 after an eighth-place result in '95...Signed autographs this past March in New London, Wis., to benefit the victims of the Weyauwega train crash...Has given time to the Boys & Girls Club of Green Bay, Children's Hospital of Wisconsin and Cystic Fibrosis...Splits residence between Green Bay and Alton, Ill.

90 DARIUS HOLLAND

Defensive Tackle

Colorado 2nd year

Ht: 6-4½ Wt: 310 Born:11/10/73 Acq: D3a-95

PRO: A player with unlimited physical skills who hopes to parlay his talents to new heights on the field in 1996 in his second NFL season...Possessor of a great mix of size and speed...Contributed mostly as an inside rusher in the Packers' 'nickel' and 'dime' packages during his rookie year...Green Bay defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur believes that Holland can be as good as he wants to be, saying, "Darius has unlimited potential as an inside player on the defensive line. He's exceptionally quick for his size. He's a very smart player who has a chance to develop into one of the league's best."...1995: Saw action in 14 games, starting four...Finished regular season with 19 tackles, 1½ sacks and 1 pass defensed...Spent the first seven games of the season backing up Gabe Wilkins at defensive tackle, though he did start three games while Wilkins was out with a knee injury...Inactive vs. Cincinnati (Dec. 3) due to a groin injury suffered a week earlier against Tampa Bay, and vs. Pittsburgh (Dec. 24)...Started first NFL game Oct. 15 vs. Detroit when he opened at right defensive tackle as Green Bay began contest with its 'nickel' group on field...Made initial start in place of Wilkins at Detroit (Oct. 29) and recorded the first full sack of his NFL career, dropping the Lions' Scott Mitchell in the second quarter...Had a career-high 4 tackles in the Packers' win over Minnesota (Oct. 22)...Tallied 3 stops at Dallas (Oct. 8), including a tackle for loss on Emmitt Smith early in the second quarter...Made a big play at Chicago (Sept. 11), when he tackled the Bears' Rashaan Salaam for no gain at the Green Bay two-yard line, averting a go-ahead touchdown and helping to force the Bears to settle for a field goal three plays later...Teamed with Reggie White to sack the Rams' Chris Miller in the first quarter of opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3) as he saw extensive playing time...Made a tackle in each of the Packers' final two playoff games — at San Francisco (Jan. 6) and at Dallas (Jan. 14) — after being inactive for initial postseason contest, Dec. 31 vs. Atlanta...The first of four third-round selections (65th overall) by Green Bay in 1995.

COLLEGE: A four-year letterwinner for Colorado (1991-94), starting for two-and-a-half seasons...Finished collegiate career with 163 tackles, including 8 sacks and 21 for loss...Had 26 career starts for the Buffaloes...Played in four bowl games (Fiesta twice, Blockbuster and Aloha)...Selected to play in the Hula Bowl following his senior season...Earned honorable mention All-Big Eight honors as a senior, when he registered 77 tackles, 11 stops for loss, 3 sacks and a team-best 13 quarterback hurries...Registered 53 tackles, including 4 sacks and 8 for loss, as a junior...Majored in criminal justice/sociology.

PERSONAL: Given name Darius Jerome Holland...Nicknamed 'D'...Born in Petersburg, Va. ...Single...Earned SuperPrep, Who's Who and USA Today (second-team) All-America honors as a senior at Mayfield High School in Las Cruces, N.M. ...Also named Gatorade 'Player of the Year' for the state of New Mexico...Picked as the state's 'Defensive Player of the Year' by the Albuquerque Journal...Also garnered all-state and all-district honors as a senior, when he had 45 tackles and 3 sacks as a defensive tackle...A four-time letterman in football, he played tight end and fullback on offense, rushing 50 times for 227 yards and 4 touchdowns while catching 14 passes for 238 yards...Was an all-state and all-district choice his junior season...Also played basketball, averaging 12 points and 11 rebounds per game at center as a senior...Excelled in the shot put (best mark was 61' 9") and discus (best throw was 180' 0") in track, earning three letters...Hobbies include bowling...Spoke to various youth groups in the offseason...Residence: El Paso, Texas.

13 CHRIS JACKE

Kicker

Texas-El Paso 8th year

Ht: 6-0 Wt: 205 Born: 3/12/66 Acq: D6-89

PRO: Arguably the most prolific kicker in the long history of the Green Bay Packers, his personal success has been buttressed by unwavering confidence and mental toughness, along with consistency in his kicking...Overcame an early-season hamstring injury in 1995, which caused him to miss two-and-a-half games, to approach his previous stellar form by year's end...Is ideally suited to prosper in the haggard weather conditions and frozen fields that are typical to northeastern Wisconsin from mid-November on, in large part due to a technically-sound kicking style which minimizes his chances of slipping by not putting a lot of weight on his plant foot...Has the opportunity this year to break a 51-year-old team record, that for most career points, currently held by the legendary Don Hutson, who scored 823 points over an 11-year career (1935-45)...Currently the third-highest scorer in Packer history, Jacke enters the '96 campaign with 706 career points to his credit, 54 points shy of #2 Paul Hornung (760) and 118 points away from surpassing Hutson's total...Already holds 13 Packer records, including most career field goals (152), and is tied for four other club marks (see complete lists at bottom of page 91)...Also possesses three team playoff records, while sharing a fourth with Don Chandler, and is on the verge of three others...Comes into the year as the 10th-most accurate field goal kicker in National Football League history on the basis of a career success rate of 77.16% (152/197) — see end of bio for full list..."I think everybody around the league knows how good of a kicker Chris is," says Nolan Cromwell, the Packers' special teams coach. "I think the past couple years have been below his standards, but I really look for this year to be a great year for him. When he came back from the injury last season, I don't think his focus was as good as it could have been. He might have had a little bit of concern about getting through a few games, making sure the hamstring was still good."...Had not missed a game in his professional career until he sat out in Week 3 of last year after aggravating a training camp hamstring injury the prior Monday at Chicago, ending a streak of 102 straight games played (98 in the regular season, four in the playoffs)...Has 14 career game-winning kicks — successes which provided the eventual winning points — to his credit (10 FGs, 4 PATs), including six as a rookie...Highly successful from inside of 30 yards throughout his career — 64/67 (95.5%)...Possessor of an exemplary mental makeup for a kicker, according to Cromwell, who says, "He's just a very confident guy. Confidence, I think, is 95 percent of kicking. I don't know if I've ever seen Chris get shook up. He takes everything in stride. It's a business for him. He's very precise in what his approach is and the way he works at it."...Had shared the NFL record for most 50-plus yard field goals in one season — 6 in 1993 — until the Falcons' Morten Andersen posted 8 last year...Has six of the 10 longest field goals in team history...Continues to hold No. 2 spot in club history for career field goal percentage (77.16%), bettered only by Hall of Famer Jan Stenerud's 80.82%...Relinquished role as Packers' primary kickoff specialist last year when Craig Hentrich assumed the spot after Jacke's hamstring injury late in the preseason...Expected to battle Hentrich in '96 for those duties, has a career touchback percentage of 12.4%, 52 of his 421 kickoffs having been kicked out of or downed in the end zone..."I expect Chris to challenge for it," says Cromwell of the kickoff responsibilities. "I anticipate that will be one of the things that he really concentrates on. Visiting with him a little bit, he expressed that he felt like that was part of his job. I should add, too, that Chris actually was kicking off better last year before he got hurt than he had in the past."...Led Green Bay in scoring for five straight seasons (1989-93), surpassed in club annals only by Hutson's seven from 1939-45...Had not had a field goal or extra point attempt blocked as a professional until he had one of each batted down in 1994 in his sixth league season...1995: Rebounded to make 13 of his last 15 field goal attempts after missing 4 of his first 8 tries as he returned from a training camp hamstring injury...Became only the third player in Packers' 77-year history to reach 700 career point plateau, when he did so on Dec. 16 at New Orleans with his second field goal of the game...Led the team in scoring for sixth time in his seven pro seasons with 94 points, a total which ranked him 10th among NFC kickers...Converted 17/23 field goal tries and all 43 point after touchdown attempts...Made a key 47-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter vs. Pittsburgh (Dec. 24) to give the Packers a 24-13 lead — forcing Steelers to score a touchdown instead of a field goal — in eventual 24-19 Green Bay victory to clinch NFC Central crown...Kicked second-half field goals of 27 and 26 yards to extend Packers' lead from 21-10 to 27-10 in eventual 27-17 triumph at San Francisco in divisional playoffs (Jan. 6)...Had successful FG tries of 46 and 37 yards in NFC Championship Game at Dallas (Jan. 14)...Was Packers' scoring leader in the postseason with 25 points, including 5/7 on field goal attempts...Hit a season-long 51-yarder at Tampa Bay (Dec. 10)...Made 3 field goals of 40-plus yards (42, 50, 46) Nov. 5 at Minnesota in perhaps his best performance of the season...Also handled second-half kickoff duties in same Vikings contest as Hentrich was experiencing a sore toe...Equalled season high with 3 field goals in each Detroit game...Originally pulled the hamstring in his left (plant) leg on Aug. 23, two days prior to the team's preseason finale with Washington...Subsequently re-injured the hamstring on his third PAT effort Sept. 11 at Chicago...Was inactive the following Sunday vs. the N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17) and again the next week at Jacksonville...After Packers' bye, returned to kick 3 PATs and a 42-yard field goal at Dallas (Oct. 8)...Was team leader in field goals for seventh time in his career, giving him sole possession of club record...Kicked off only 4 times over course of the season with no touchbacks...1994: Became Packers' all-time leader in career field goals when he booted 3 vs. Tampa Bay (Sept. 25), ascending past the previous record holder, Chester Marcol (120)...Ended the year 19/26 on field goal tries and 41/43 on point after touchdown attempts...Ranked fifth in NFC scoring among kickers with 98 points...Did not lead team in scoring for first time in six-year pro career, coming in second to the 108 points of Sterling Sharpe, who set a club mark with 18 TD receptions...Finished season especially strong, showing his previous form in the playoffs after an "off" year by his own high standards...Kicked 3 field goals in 16-12 playoff victory over Detroit at Lambeau Field (Dec. 31), including Green Bay postseason record 51-yarder, in the process earning NFL 'Special Teams Player of the Week' recognition for the Wild Card weekend...Subsequently connected on 50-yard effort the following week at Dallas (Jan. 8) in divisional playoff loss...Had made 4 field goals (in as many attempts) in 40-3 shellacking of Chicago Dec. 11...Opened year by making 3 field goals, including a crucial 49-yarder, in 16-10 triumph over Vikings (Sept. 4)...Had his team record for consecutive PATs (134) snapped in Monday night affair at Chicago Oct. 31, when he missed on his fourth and final attempt under very difficult weather conditions (wind gusts up to 50 mph and driving rain)...Also saw another remarkable string broken on that treacherous night when the Bears' Albert Fontenot blocked his 30-yard field goal try in the third quarter — it was the first blocked field goal of his pro career...Also the first blocked kick of any sort for him, it ended a perfect streak of 338 total unimpeded attempts (159 field goal tries, 179 PAT efforts)...Only weeks later, Nov. 20 at Buffalo, suffered his first blocked point after touchdown as a pro (on his 189th career attempt)...Came within weeks of breaking another hallowed club mark — Most Consecutive Games Scoring One or More Points — but watched as his streak ended at 42 games, only three shy of Stenerud's team-record 45, when Packers attempted two-point conversions after their only two scores in failed comeback bid against Miami (Sept. 11)...Led team in scoring during the postseason with 13 points, including 4/6 on field goal tries...Had only 1 of his 84 kickoffs go for a touchback under NFL's modified rules of a lower tee and kickoffs moved back five yards...1993: Enjoyed his best season to date, from both an accuracy and a scoring standpoint...Made all 35 PAT tries and was 31/37 on field goal attempts (83.78%) — a personal-best success rate and also the third-highest in team history (behind the 91.67% of Stenerud in 1981 and the 84.21% of Max Zendejas in 1987)...His career-high 128 points was second in NFC scoring (and third in the NFL), surpassed only by the Raiders' Jeff Jaeger (132) and the Lions' Jason Hanson (130)...Personal point total tied the team record for most points (no TDs) in a single season, previously held by Marcol, who in 1972 also scored 128 points...Was the second time as a pro that he had reached the 100-point plateau — he had scored 108 points as a 1989 rookie — making him only the fourth player in club history to have two-or-more 100-point seasons (Hornung, Hutson and Stenerud are the others)...Led team in scoring for fifth straight year...His 31 FGs was second in team record books for most in one season, bettered only by Marcol's 33 in 1972...Successful from most distances, set a team mark and tied an NFL single-season record (since broken) with 6 field goals of 50-plus yards, equalling the number of 50-yarders booted by the Colts' Dean Biasucci in 1988 (the Rams' Tony Zendejas also had 6 FGs from beyond 50 yards in '93)...Scaled new heights in Packer annals when he connected on a 54-yard field goal in the regular-season finale at Detroit (Jan. 2), breaking the club record of 53 yards done four times previously (once by Stenerud, by himself on three occasions)...Duly recognized for his achievements, was bestowed with most national honors of his career...First-team All-Pro selection of the Associated Press...Also named to All-Pro squad of College & Pro Football Newsweekly...Established a new team record by making 17 straight field goals — he had held the previous mark of 15 set over the 1989-90 seasons — before string was snapped vs. Detroit (Nov. 21)...Named NFC 'Special Teams Player of the Week' after converting all 3 FG tries and 3 PAT attempts in 30-27 win over Denver (Oct. 10)...Surpassed previous club record for consecutive PATs made — 99 by Hornung — two weeks later at Buccaneers...Reached the minimum 100 career field goals made for inclusion in the NFL's all-time accuracy listing in Monday night tilt at Kansas City (Nov. 8)...Connected on his most pressure-packed field goal attempt of the season — a 36-yarder with :03 remaining — to lift Packers to 19-17 triumph over New Orleans at the Louisiana Superdome (Nov. 14)...Was 11th game-winning kick of his NFL career...Hit 4 field goals overall vs. Saints, earning him Pro Football Weekly's 'Golden Toe Award'...Held string of 26 consecutive field goals made from inside the 40-yard line before missing from 36 yards at Chicago (Dec. 5)...Had scored at least one field goal in 10 straight games (two off team record he himself shares with Stenerud) before streak was snapped vs. Raiders (Dec. 26) when he missed his only two attempts in sub-zero temperatures...Had a career-high 5 special teams tackles (4 unassisted) over the course of the year...Of his 82 kickoffs, 21 went into the end zone and 7 resulted in touchbacks (8.5%)...Was 1/2 in the postseason, both of his attempts coming in the Packers' divisional playoff loss at Dallas (Jan. 16)...1992: Successful on 22/29 field goal attempts (75.9%) and on all 30 extra point efforts...Ranked sixth among NFC kickers with 96 points...Had a string of 12 straight games with at least one FG snapped at N.Y. Giants (Nov. 8), leaving him in a tie with Stenerud for club record...Made three field goals (39, 36, 20 yards) in 16-14 prime-time win at Houston (Dec. 13)...Hit on 4 of 5 field goal tries in 19-14 victory over Tampa Bay (Nov. 29)...Made 2 field goals in final two minutes in 27-24 triumph over Philadelphia, including game-winning 41-yarder as time expired...His lone other decisive kick in '92 had come on Sept. 20 vs. the Bengals, when his PAT in the final minute gave Green Bay a 24-23 victory...Hit season-long 53-yarder Nov. 1 at Detroit, tying club distance record at the time...Experienced some difficulties to begin the season, attributable at least in part to a change of placement holders following Don Majkowski's ankle injury early in the Cincinnati game...Missed first career field goal from inside of 30 yards (he had been a perfect 30/30), when he was wide from 25 yards vs. Pittsburgh (Sept. 27)...Directional kickoffs with good hang time were big factor in success of team's coverage unit — 2nd in NFL...Had a touchback percentage of 8.8% (6/68), highly reflective of the fact that the majority of his kickoffs were directional as opposed to geared for distance...1991: Made 18 of 24 field goal tries over the season (75.0%), including a perfect 9/9 inside the 30-yard line...Also made all 31 of his extra point attempts...Led team in scoring with 85 points, tying for 10th place among NFC kickers...Hit 22-yard, game-winning FG with 22 seconds remaining in 15-13 victory over Tampa Bay (Sept. 15)...Tied club distance record with 53-yard field goal at N.Y. Jets (Nov. 3), also connecting on 41- and 34-yard efforts in same contest...Placed 23 of 63 kickoffs into or out of end zone, 15 resulting in touchbacks for a career-high TB percentage of 23.8...1990: Converted 23/30 field goal attempts (76.7%), the total including an unblemished 9/9 from inside the 30, and 28/29 of his PAT tries...Made inroads in Packers' record book en route, establishing a new single-game record by kicking five field goals in a 29-16 victory over the Raiders at Los Angeles (Nov. 11) — from 39, 51, 32, 23 and 20 yards...Also set a new club mark (since broken by himself) with 15 consecutive field goals, adding six more to the nine straight he had at the conclusion of the '89 campaign, a string snapped when he missed a 49-yarder at Detroit (Sept. 30)...First tied the Green Bay field goal distance record with a 53-yard effort against the L.A. Rams in the season opener (Sept. 9)...Led Packers in scoring with 97 points...Put 19 of 69 kickoffs in the end zone, 12 of them touchbacks...1989: Provided Packers with winning margin in six games as a rookie...His most dramatic moment came Dec. 3 at Tampa Bay, when he hit a 47-yarder on the final play of the game to give Green Bay a 17-16, come-from-behind victory...His first decisive effort had come on Sept. 17, when his fifth and final PAT shaded the Saints, 35-34...In subsequent weeks he: made a 22-yard field goal against Atlanta (Oct. 1) with 1:42 remaining to propel the Packers past the Falcons at Milwaukee, 23-21; nailed a 38-yarder in overtime vs. Detroit on Oct. 29 at Milwaukee, giving Green Bay a 23-20 conquest; provided the winning margin over the Bears (Nov. 5) with his second conversion of the day in 14-13 triumph; and hit his final PAT try vs. Minnesota at Milwaukee (Nov. 26), spelling the difference in 20-19 victory...Had a 78.6% success rate on field goal attempts (22/28), also converting all 42 of his PAT tries...Emerged as Packers' leading scorer with 108 points, becoming only the third Green Bay player to surpass 100-point mark and the first since Stenerud had totaled 115 points in 1983...Made 4 field goals at Chicago (Dec. 17) in 40-28 stomping of Bears...Hit season-long 52-yard field goal in Atlanta contest...Solved what had been a trouble spot for Packers in 1988, when four different Green Bay kickers missed a total of 6 extra points and converted only 13/25 field goal tries...Sent 20 of his 51 kickoffs into the end zone, 11 of them resulting in touchbacks...Drafted in the sixth round (142nd overall and first kicker) by Green Bay in 1989.

COLLEGE: Three-time letterman (1984-85, 1988) at Texas-El Paso...Redshirted in 1987...Successful on 32/38 field goal attempts and on 67/70 point after touchdown tries during his collegiate career...Graduated as Miners' all-time career leader in both FG (84.2%) and PAT (95.7%) percentage...Had outstanding 1988 senior season, earning first-team All-America recognition from Football Writers Association of America and second-team All-America honors from Associated Press...Also was an All-Western Athletic Converence first-team choice...Set UTEP single-season record for highest field goal percentage — 86.6 (26/30)...Also made all 49 of his PAT attempts...Hit career-long 52-yarder vs. Air Force...Holds B.S. degree in business finance.

PERSONAL: Given name Christopher Lee Jacke...Born in Richmond, Va. ...Married to Tracey, couple has two sons, Jacob (born 12/16/93) and Jonah Christian (born 6/20/95)...Won two letters in football and three in soccer at J.J. Pearce High School in Richardson, Texas...An all-city and all-metro selection...Played on a soccer team which defeated the Nigerian national team, then ranked second in the world...Interned over the 1995 offseason at Merrill Lynch in Green Bay, working toward an eventual career in the brokerage business...Wife, Tracey, began working as a Green Bay realtor earlier this year...Younger brother, Jeff, who lettered four times as a kicker for the University of Missouri (1988, 1990-92), was a free agent in the Washington Redskins' training camp in 1994...Hobbies include playing racquetball and golf...Residence: Green Bay.

32 TRAVIS JERVEY

Running Back
The Citadel 2nd year
Ht: 5-11½ Wt: 225 Born: 5/5/72 Acq: D5b-95

PRO: After a rookie season that saw him get a taste of professional football, Travis Jervey and the Packers are hoping for good things from this second-year pro in 1996...Arguably the fastest player on the team, he competed in the NFL's Fastest Man Competition during the offseason...Played mostly on special teams as a kick returner and kickoff coverage performer last year...Should get more playing time at running back in 1996..."We're expecting big things from Travis this year," says Green Bay offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis. "He's looked really good in camp. He's familiar enough with everything that he's just reacting now. The biggest thing is that he gives us something we don't have — speed."...1995: Saw action in all 16 games on special teams...Tied for fifth on club with 13 special teams tackles...Also served as deep man on kickoff return group and averaged 20.6 yards on 8 returns...Had a career-best 28-yard kickoff return vs. Detroit (Oct. 15)...Recorded a career-high 3 special teams stops in season opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3)...Made 2 special teams tackles in four other games — Sept. 17 vs. N.Y. Giants, Nov. 5 at Minnesota, Nov. 12 vs. Chicago and Dec. 10 at Tampa Bay...Forced a fumble by the Bears' Michael Timpson on kickoff coverage at Chicago (Sept. 11)...Recovered an Antonio Freeman fumble on a kickoff return early in the second quarter at New Orleans (Dec. 16)...Had a season-high 2 kickoff returns vs. Cincinnati (Dec. 3)...Returned the first kickoff of his NFL career for 27 yards at Jacksonville (Sept. 24)...Also saw action in all three playoff contests...Had 3 kickoff returns for 35 yards during playoffs, including 2 for 33 yards vs. Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Also recorded 2 special teams tackles during postseason...Had finished the preseason as the Packers' second-leading rusher with 119 yards on 35 carries...Was the second of two fifth-round draft choices (170th overall) by Green Bay in 1995.

COLLEGE: A three-year letterwinner for The Citadel (1992-94)...Finished his collegiate career with 1,490 yards and 15 rushing touchdowns on 211 carries...Career rushing average of 7.1 yards per carry is a school record...Made 1 career reception as a collegian...Had only 319 rushing yards going into his senior season, a year which saw him have a breakthrough campaign by rushing for 1,171 yards and 12 TDs on 152 carries, an impressive 7.7 yards per carry...Averaged 106.5 yards rushing per game as a senior, third-best in the Southland Conference...Was a second-team all-conference pick...Rushed for a career-high 224 yards on only 10 carries (22.4 avg.) vs. Virginia Military Institute, including a school-record 96-yard run from scrimmage...Played in two games as a 1991 freshman, but did not letter...Also ran track (55-meter dash) for the Cadets...Majored in business administration.

PERSONAL: Given name Travis Richard Jervey...Nicknamed 'Flash'...Born in a Columbia, S.C. ...An all-state and all-conference selection in football at Wando High School in Mt. Pleasant, S.C. ...Played in the 1990 Shrine Bowl (South Carolina vs. North Carolina)...Named as team's 'Most Valuable Player'...Won three letters in football...Finished his prep career with 2,221 yards and 22 touchdowns on 281 carries...Helped lead team to two state playoff appearances...Competed in NFL's Fastest Man Competition this past June, finishing fourth in six-man field...Hobbies include surfing and water sports...Father, Ned, is a graduate of The Citadel...Residence: Isle of Palms, S.C.

96 SEAN JONES

Defensive End

Northeastern 13th year

Ht: 6-7 Wt: 283 Born: 12/19/62 Acq: UFA-94

PRO: Signed by Green Bay as an unrestricted free agent in 1994, continues to be one of the NFL's top pass-rush specialists after a dozen years in the league...Also is highly successful off the field in the financial services industry and as the owner of several companies...A refined, cagey battler who is always looking for even the smallest of advantages in his study of opposition left tackles...Has finished first or second on his team in sacks over five of the past six seasons...Also has recorded at least 6 sacks in each of the last 11 seasons (every year of his career but his rookie year of 1984)...Has five seasons of 10-or-more sacks as a pro...Enters the 1996 campaign in a tie with the Panthers' Kevin Greene for the seventh-most sacks in NFL history (108) and poised to move past #6 Greg Townsend (109.5) — see listing of top 10 on page 100...Reached a self-described personal goal when he recorded his 100th career sack in the '95 season opener vs. the Rams...Along with Reggie White, gives Packers the top pair of presently active teammates, the two having 265 career sacks between them...Poised to play in his 200 career regular-season game this year, coming into the year 14 shy of that milestone..."When Reggie had his (injury) problems towards the end of last season, Sean Jones really stepped forward and had an outstanding finish to the year," says Fritz Shurmur, Green Bay's defensive coordinator. "On the field, he has always been a leader and just really stepped his game up when we really needed to have it. He's the ultimate student of the game. I mean, he works very hard at trying to find an edge."...Has been somewhat underappreciated over his career as evidenced by the fact that he has gone to only one Pro Bowl (following the 1993 season)...Highly durable, has not missed a game while under contract since the final regular-season contest of 1985...Has played in 186 career games, 128 starts among them...Pro experience also includes 15 playoff games with 12 postseason starts...Has failed to play in only two non-strike games over his 12 years in the league — the 1985 regular-season finale at the Rams (due to an elbow injury) and the 1992 opener vs. Pittsburgh, when he was unsigned...Possesses 17 career multiple sack games — two with Green Bay (1994-95), 12 with Houston (1988-93) and three with the Raiders (1984-87)...Now has posted double-digit sack totals in four of the past six seasons (1990-91, 1993-94), also accomplishing the feat in 1986...Began pro career as a 1984 second-round draft choice of the then-Los Angeles Raiders (the team did not have a first-round selection that year), then was traded to Houston in April of 1988, where he played for six seasons...Has demonstrated a proclivity at blocking kicks over his career, his resume showing 4 blocked field goals and 3 PATs which were batted down...Has had 6 of his 7 total blocks in the last six seasons...1995: Finished the year strong, picking up at least one quarterback sack in four of the Packers' last five regular-season games...Was second on the team (behind White) in sacks with 9, while ranking first among Green Bay's defensive linemen in total tackles with 55...Also contributed 1 fumble recovery and 1 forced fumble...Started all 16 games (at right defensive end) for the third straight year and the fifth time in his pro career...Had 8 tackles, including 2 sacks (both Dec. 31 vs. Atlanta), in the postseason as he also started all three playoff games...Second-team All-NFC selection of United Press International...Scored the first touchdown of his 12-year NFL career Oct. 22 against Minnesota, when he recovered a Warren Moon fumble (forced by White) in the end zone early in the fourth quarter, giving the Packers a 35-14 advantage in eventual 38-21 victory...Also recorded a sack in same Vikings contest...Played one of his best games of the season at New Orleans (Dec. 16), registering 6 tackles and 1 sack while working against the Saints' All-Pro left tackle, William Roaf...Had a season-high 2 sacks in rematch with Tampa Bay (Dec. 10) as he went head-to-head with the Bucs' Paul Gruber...Two weeks earlier in initial meeting with Buccaneers, made 4 tackles, including 1½ sacks and a forced fumble, with 3 of his stops going for negative yardage...Led team with a personal season-high 9 tackles in opener with St. Louis (Sept. 3), a day which also saw him become the eighth player in NFL history to reach 100 career sacks when he dropped the Rams' Chris Miller early in the third quarter...Combined with teammate Wayne Simmons late in the fourth period to stop the Browns' Vinny Testaverde on a fourth-and-one QB sneak deep in Green Bay territory at Cleveland (Nov. 19)...Suffered a concussion early in the fourth quarter of game at Minnesota (Nov. 5) when he collided with White on an attempted quarterback sack...Returned to play the remainder of Vikings contest before the concussion manifested itself after the game when he sat down in the locker room, necessitating that he stay overnight at a nearby hospital for observation...1994: Led Packers with 10½ sacks, a figure which also tied him for fifth in the NFC...Finished fifth on club in total tackles with 60 (41 solo), first among defensive linemen...Also contributed 3 fumble recoveries, 2 forced fumbles and 2 passes defensed...Named second-team All-NFC by UPI...Started all 16 games...Made one of his biggest plays of the season Nov. 6 vs. Detroit, sacking Dave Krieg on third down for a five-yard loss back to the Green Bay 20-yard line with 49 seconds remaining and Packers clinging to 38-30 lead...Two weeks earlier at Vikings (Oct. 20), had turned in particularly dominating performance, registering his only 2-sack game of the year and helping Packers limit Minnesota to just 1.2 yards per rush...Also teamed with Bryce Paup to throw Vikings RB Amp Lee for critical 7-yard loss deep in Green Bay territory in final minute of regulation, forcing Minnesota to settle for game-tying field goal...Contributed 5 tackles, including a sack and forced fumble, and recovered a Miller fumble which ended Rams' final drive in waning moments of Green Bay's 24-17 victory (Oct. 9)...Also had made crucial recovery Sept. 18 at Philadelphia, covering a Randall Cunningham fumble deep in Eagles territory late in game...Recorded a season-high 8 tackles, including a sack, vs. Miami (Sept. 11) as he worked head-to-head against All-Pro tackle Richmond Webb...Sacked former Oilers teammate Moon on key third-down play early in fourth quarter of 16-10, opening day victory over Minnesota (Sept. 4)...Made 5 solo tackles and recovered a Craig Heyward fumble Dec. 18 vs. Atlanta...Had a sack and forced an early Errict Rhett fumble the next week at Tampa Bay...Made his 100th career start Sept. 25 vs. Tampa Bay...Also started both playoff games, recording a sack in each contest among 7 total tackles in the postseason...Had signed with Green Bay as an unrestricted free agent on April 18 after six seasons with the Houston Oilers...1993: Paced Oilers with 13 of the team's NFL-high 52 sacks, ranking him fourth in the AFC and also tying him with White and the Saints' Renaldo Turnbull for fourth in the league as a whole...Went to the first Pro Bowl of his career, going as the AFC's 'Need' player after finishing as the first alternate at defensive end in voting for the all-star contest...Started all 16 regular-season games at right end...Ended year eighth on the team in tackles with 54, including 42 solo stops, he also added a pair of fumble recoveries...Registered multiple sacks in three different games — Oct. 17 at New England, Nov. 14 at Cincinnati and Dec. 19 at Pittsburgh...Also blocked the fourth field goal effort of his pro career in Patriots contest...Had at least one sack in 10 of the team's 16 league games...Made 2 solo tackles and broke up a pass in Oilers' postseason loss to Kansas City...1992: Started at right defensive end in Houston's final 15 games plus playoff loss at Buffalo...Had announced his "retirement" during the offseason, but later changed his mind and reported to the Oilers Sept. 9, three days after league opener

vs. Pittsburgh...Immediately reclaimed his starting spot and finished year with 8½ sacks (third on team)...Had eight of his sacks over five-game stretch at mid-season...His 53 total tackles (34 solo) was second among the club's defensive linemen and eighth overall...Set up Houston touchdown with his first career interception in 38-24 triumph over Cincinnati (Oct. 11), grabbing a Boomer Esiason aerial which had been tipped by teammate Lee Williams...Tied personal career high with 3 sacks in 24-21 win at Detroit Nov. 26 (also in 1985 vs. Jets and in 1986 vs. Redskins, both with the Raiders)...Also had 2 sacks against Miami...Forced a fumble which led to one touchdown and deflected a pass which Bubba McDowell intercepted and returned for another score in Monday night drubbing of Chicago (Dec. 7)...Picked up first career sack in the playoffs vs. Bills (Jan. 3)...1991: Did not start in Oilers' first four games (though he played) following protracted contractual standoff, signing Aug. 30, only two days prior to team's regular-season opener...Ended up starting Houston's final 12 contests plus both playoff games...Tied for sixth in the AFC — and was second on the team behind William Fuller — with 10 sacks...Also ranked second among Oiler defensive linemen (seventh overall) in total tackles with 60 (43 unassisted)...Had multiple-sack games vs. Denver, Dallas, Cleveland and Pittsburgh (all victories)...Blocked two field goals — at Cincinnati (Sept. 8) and at the Giants (Dec. 21)...Made season-high 8 stops in Monday night loss to Eagles (Dec. 2)...1990: Started all 16 games for first time with Houston, also opening at RDE in team's playoff loss to Cincinnati...Tied for fifth in AFC (and eighth in the NFL) with 12½ sacks — the highest one-season total by an Oiler in 11 years...Was ninth on the club, though second among defensive linemen, with 56 tackles (34 solo)...Had a sack in seven of the Oilers' last eight contests...Blocked a field goal try plus had 2 sacks in 23-10 win over Saints (Oct. 21)...Registered season-high 8 tackles, including a sack, in 27-24 Monday night victory over Buffalo (Nov. 26)...Blocked two extra point attempts and had 2-sack game at Cincinnati (Dec. 23)...Started and had a pair of tackles in postseason loss to Bengals...Was a contractual holdout until late in training camp (Aug. 24)...1989: Started five of Oilers' first six games, appearing in all 16...Had 6 sacks to rank third on the team...Finished year with 35 total tackles (21 unassisted)...Recorded 2 sacks in 20-17 victory over Tampa Bay (Dec. 10)...Had a sack and fumble recovery as defense limited Steelers to only 132 yards offensively in 27-0 shutout (Oct. 22)...Began year as starter at right end in Oilers' defensive line which was revamped due to an injury to Doug Smith...Also played in postseason loss to Pittsburgh...1988: Acquired by Houston from the Raiders on April 21, 1988, along with L.A.'s second- and third-round picks in the '88 draft, the Oilers giving up one of their two first-round choices (ninth overall) that year plus their third- and fourth-rounders...Saw considerable action in a reserve role in his first season with Houston, appearing in all 16 games...Contributed 7½ sacks to help Oilers finish third in the conference in that category...Made 37 tackles (22 solo), including a season-best 6 — plus a sack — at the Jets (Sept. 18)...Registered 2 sacks in win over Patriots the following Sunday...Had 4 tackles and a sack in first meeting with his former team, the Raiders (Sept. 11)...1987: Started all 12 non-strike games in his final season with Raiders...Was second on the team with 6 sacks, he also made 37 total tackles (24 solo)...Recorded season-high 6 stops at New England (Nov. 1)...Recovered a fumble in back-to-back games, Nov. 30 vs. Seattle and Dec. 6 against Buffalo...Had a sack in four consecutive "union" games (Weeks 2, 6-8)...1986: Emerged as one of the league's top defensive linemen, leading the AFC in sacks (fourth in NFL) with a career-high 15½...Started all 16 games for first time as a pro...Recorded career-best 74 total tackles (39 unassisted) to rank second among Raider defensive linemen...Made season-high 3 sacks at Washington (Sept. 14)...Had season-best 8 tackles at Seattle (Dec. 8)...1985: Appeared in 15 contests, starting four of the final five at right defensive end in place of Lyle Alzado when he assumed the starting role...Had 8½ sacks (fourth on team) among 35 total stops...Registered season-high 3 sacks in opener against N.Y. Jets (Sept. 8)...Blocked extra point attempt at Seattle (Nov. 3)...Though he could have played, was held out of regular-season finale at Rams (Dec. 23) after dislocating his elbow the previous week in AFC West title-clinching victory over Seahawks...Returned to start in playoff loss to New England...1984: Saw action in all 16 games plus playoff loss to Seattle as a rookie...Contributed 15 tackles (9 solo), including 1 sack...Made a season-best 6 stops vs. Seattle...Second-round draft choice (51st overall) of L.A. Raiders in 1984...Also chosen in the fifth round of the United States Football League draft by the Washington Federals.

53 GEORGE KOONCE

Linebacker

East Carolina 5th year

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 243 Born: 10/15/68 Acq: FA-92

PRO: Of humble NFL beginnings — he was cut by the Atlanta Falcons as an undrafted player in 1991, then played in the World League before joining the Packers as an obscure free agent in '92 — George Koonce now has entrenched himself as the second-longest tenured player on the Green Bay defense behind only LeRoy Butler...Following two straight seasons (1993-94) as a consistent playmaker, saw his performance level dip last year...Working hard to ensure a return to his pre-'95 form, enjoyed a great 1996 offseason and appears poised for a rebound in his production..."I think George has demonstrated that he is really ready to have a good year," says Fritz Shurmur, the Packers' defensive coordinator. "I think he's had a great offseason. He's in great shape. He came into the first mini-camp really ready to go. Last year, due to some contractual things and things of that nature, he did not have, I think, the kind of offseason that he would like to have had. And as a result it caused him to have a little bit of a slow start. We look for him to have a great year."...Is one of Green Bay's superior free agent "finds" of recent seasons, having been discovered on the worst team in the World League by the Packers' player personnel department in 1992...Extremely versatile, has played every linebacker position during his four previous seasons in Green Bay..."He's a playmaker and a guy who has excellent athletic ability," adds Shurmur. "He works hard at his job and is a real team player. I think he's ready to move toward being one of the top linebackers in the league."...Has the most NFL starts (57) among the Packers' linebackers...1995: Started all 16 games for second straight year, including 14 at 'Plugger' (right outside) linebacker, plus all three playoff contests...Finished fifth on the team in tackles with 84, including 46 solo stops and 1 sack...Also contributed his first NFL interception and 3 passes defensed...Registered a season-best 13 tackles in NFC Championship Game at Dallas (Jan. 14) among his 20 total stops in the postseason...Had 6 tackles and picked off a Warren Moon pass deep in Minnesota territory (Oct. 22), his 12-yard return of the interception to the Vikings' seven-yard line set up a Green Bay touchdown two plays later which staked the Packers to a 14-7 lead in an eventual 38-21 victory...Had recorded 11 stops in regular-season game at Cowboys (Oct. 8)...Made 8 tackles in opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3) and at Tampa Bay (Dec. 10), even though he missed a portion of Bucs contest after spraining his left wrist...Registered his lone sack of the year Oct. 29 at Detroit...Had been forced to play some at middle linebacker late in training camp after injuries decimated the team's linebacking corps...1994: Moved into 'Plugger' linebacker position in Green Bay's new 4-3 alignment, a spot vacated when Johnny Holland was forced into retirement by a neck injury, and started all 16 games for first time in his career...Went on to lead Packers in total (119) and solo (78) stops for initial time, posting his second consecutive 100-tackle season in the process...Also weighed in with the first forced fumble and 2 fumble recoveries of his career...Contributed 1 sack and 3 passes defensed additionally...Made a season-high 12 tackles on two occasions — Sept. 18 at Philadelphia and Nov. 20 at Buffalo...Registered 10 stops and recovered an early Errict Rhett fumble in season finale at Tampa Bay (Dec. 24)...Had forced a Craig Heyward fumble and led club with 9 tackles only one week earlier vs. Atlanta...Set up Packers' first offensive touchdown in eventual 38-30 triumph over Detroit (Nov. 6), when he recovered a Dave Krieg fumble at the Lions' 20-yard line in second quarter...After missing '93 playoffs due to injury, started first two postseason games of his career...Recorded 15 total tackles, including 11 in NFC divisional playoff contest at Dallas (Jan. 8)...1993: Started 15 of 16 regular-season games, he did not play in Dec. 26 Raiders contest after suffering a sprained foot one week earlier vs. Minnesota...Returned to start in finale at Detroit (Jan. 2), but incurred a dislocated shoulder in second quarter of Lions tilt, necessitating his placement on injured reserve the next day and causing him to miss both playoff games...Finished second (to Holland) on team in total tackles with career-high 125 (70 solo), marking his first 100-tackle season as a pro...Also chipped in 3 sacks (fifth on club) and 2 passes defensed...Named Miller Lite 'Player of the Game' for his 12-tackle effort at Minnesota (Sept. 26)...Made a career-high 18 tackles (9 solo), including a sack, on Halloween vs. Chicago...Also contributed sacks at Dallas (Oct. 3) and New Orleans (Nov. 14)...Had six games of 10-or-more tackles...Prior to the season had been scheduled to move inside to vacate the 'Buck' linebacker position (LOLB) — the spot he had played in '92 — for 1993 first-round draft choice Wayne Simmons...Remained at 'Buck,' however, when Simmons tore knee cartilage early in training camp, starting first two regular-season games there...Subsequently volunteered to move inside to 'Mike' linebacker position (LILB) beginning with third game when Brian Noble suffered a career-ending knee injury vs. Philadelphia and with Simmons once again available for duty...Remained at 'Mike' for balance of season until going down with shoulder problem himself...1992: One of the most pleasant surprises of training camp, joined Green Bay as a free agent after taking the World League by storm...Made himself virtually impossible to cut by leading Packers in tackles during the preseason with 23...Went on to play in all 16 games with 10 starts, primarily at 'Buck' linebacker...Began season in a backup role and as one of Packers' more prominent special teams players, he first was inserted into the starting lineup Oct. 25 vs. Chicago...Finished year seventh on team in tackles with 55 (34 solo), also contributing 1½ sacks and 2 passes defensed...In addition, tied for fifth on club in special teams stops with 8 (all solo)...Made 3 special teams tackles and also recovered Rod Woodson's muffed punt, which immediately led to Green Bay's final touchdown, in 17-3 victory over Pittsburgh (Sept. 27)...Had a season-high 14 tackles, including 9 solo, at Minnesota (Dec. 27)...Picked up first full sack in NFL vs. Detroit on Dec. 6...Signed with Packers as a free agent on June 1, 1992...WORLD LEAGUE: Signed with Ohio Glory of World League of American Football on Dec. 17, 1991...Established himself as one of the top defensive players in the WLAF during the '92 season...Led the World League with 91 total tackles, setting a league single-season record in the process...Also had 2½ sacks as he started all 10 games...Nominated multiple times for World League Player of the Week honors, but did not receive the recognition he deserved due to Glory's 1-9 record...Made a season-high 12 stops vs. the Birmingham Fire on May 24...1991: Signed with the Atlanta Falcons as an undrafted free agent on April 30, 1991, subsequently was waived on final cutdown of training camp (Aug. 26).

COLLEGE: Played two seasons (1989-90) at East Carolina, starting and lettering in '90 for the Pirates...Began collegiate career at Chowan Junior College in Murfreesboro, N.C. 94 BOB KUBERSKI

Defensive Tackle
Navy 2nd year
Ht: 6-4½ Wt: 295 Born: 4/5/71 Acq: D7-93

PRO: Though a seventh-round draft pick in 1993, Bob Kuberski essentially played his rookie season last year with the Packers after a two-year military hiatus...Saw action in roughly half of the team's games, coming in mostly in short-yardage and goal-line situations...May be even more of factor at nose tackle in 1996 following the departure of John Jurkovic to Jacksonville through free agency...Did not play the entire '93 and '94 seasons as he was fulfilling his commitment to the Navy...Green Bay defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur liked what he saw of Kuberski last season, saying, "Bob is the epitome of toughness and dedicated effort. He's a strong and physical player who is a student of the game and does a great job at the point of attack."...1995: Had a strong training camp to secure a roster spot...Saw action in nine games on special teams and in certain short-yardage and goal-line situations...Inactive for club's seven other contests...Finished the regular season with 6 tackles, including 2 sacks, and 1 pass defensed...Had 1 tackle at Cleveland (Nov. 19) as he saw his most extensive action of the season...Recorded the first sack of his NFL career at Jacksonville (Sept. 24), when he brought down the Jaguars' Mark Brunell early in the fourth quarter...Had his second sack of the season in regular-season finale vs. Pittsburgh (Dec. 24), dropping Neil O'Donnell in the second quarter...Batted down a Jeff Blake pass vs. Cincinnati (Dec. 3)...Inactive for first two playoff contests before recording 2 tackles against Dallas in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...Had been reinstated to the Packers' active roster on April 18...1994: Spent season fulfilling his Naval commitments...1993: Drafted in the seventh round (183rd overall) by Green Bay in 1993...Signed by Packers on June 7, he took all of his leave time from the Navy to spend roughly a month at Green Bay's training camp...Placed on the Reserve/Military list Aug. 23 after his return to the service.

COLLEGE: A three-year starter and letterwinner at Navy (1990-92)...Was a two-time All-East first-team selection (1991-92)...Totaled 240 tackles (152 solo), including 4 sacks and 20 for loss, plus 2 fumble recoveries, 2 forced fumbles and 5 passes defensed as a collegian...Led Middies' defensive linemen with 80 tackles (fourth on team) as a senior...Also had a team-high 11 tackles for loss and broke up 3 passes...Paced Navy defensive linemen in stops as a junior with 86 (third on team), including 52 solo tackles...Also had a team-leading 5 tackles for loss, 1 fumble recovery and 1 forced fumble...Started final seven games at defensive tackle in 1990 after playing with the Plebe/JV team as a freshman...Holds a B.S. degree in political science.

PERSONAL: Given name Robert Kenneth Kuberski, Jr. ...Born in Chester, Pa. ...Married to Janet...An all-league, all-county and All-Southeastern Pennsylvania selection in football at Ridley High School in Folsom, Pa. ...Earned three letters in football as a fullback and defensive end...Also lettered twice in lacrosse and once in wrestling, where, as a fill-in heavyweight, he pinned his opponent to clinch the county championship as a senior...Played high school football with offensive lineman Joe Valerio (Chiefs) and quarterback Matt Blundin (formerly of Kansas City)...Did an internship this past offseason with Associated Investments in Green Bay...Is studying for Series 7 brokerage license...Hobbies include fishing and hunting...Is an active speaker in the offseason...Residence: De Pere, Wis.

25 DORSEY LEVENS

Fullback

Georgia Tech 3rd year

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 235 Born: 5/21/70 Acq: D5b-94

PRO: Highly-effective performer last season in his first year as the Packers' starting fullback after seeing minimal playing time as a 1994 rookie...Possesses the ability to easily shift over and play halfback, capably filled role as team's short-yardage runner in '95...Was a regular contributor in the passing game as well last year, he had a reception every game he was in the lineup...Had won starting fullback job with a strong training camp performance..."Dorsey is a good back to have," says Harry Sydney, coach of Green Bay's running backs. "He's a very good all-around back. He is a heck of a ball carrier, and he's an excellent short-yardage and goal-line back. He's a big halfback, but he has halfback mentality. When he's at fullback, he runs a lot of things well, catches the ball well. The thing he has to work on is his blocking. He's at his best when he has the ball in his hands. We're going to work on his blocking a lot this training camp and I expect him to be a very good blocker."...Primarily had been a halfback throughout his career until moving to fullback when he was drafted by the Packers two years ago...1995: Beat out William Henderson in training camp to win the starting fullback job following the offseason move of '94 starter Edgar Bennett to halfback...Played in 15 regular-season games, making 12 starts...Finished third on the team in rushing with 120 yards and 3 touchdowns on 36 carries...Also was club's fourth-ranking receiver with 48 receptions for 434 yards and 4 TDs...Was consistently productive as a receiver, catching at least one pass in every game he played (including playoffs)...Made a career-high 6 receptions (for 50 yards) at Detroit (Oct. 29)...Had a one-yard touchdown catch among his 5 receptions in the Packers' 35-28 win over Chicago (Nov. 12), he also rushed for a career-best 26 yards that day...Scored his first TD of the season on a two-yard plunge at Jacksonville (Sept. 24)...Also caught 4 passes for 49 yards, including a career-long 27-yard reception, against the Jaguars...Had a career-best 2 rushing scores vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 26)...Was inactive at Dallas (Oct. 8) due to a sprained left knee suffered in practice three days earlier...Played in all three playoff games, starting the first two...Was team's third-leading receiver in the postseason with 7 receptions for 47 yards...Made looping, 18-yard touchdown catch along right sideline midway through the fourth quarter, sealing 37-20 first-round playoff victory over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Usually moved to halfback (with Henderson coming in at fullback) in goal-line and short-yardage situations...Scored 3 touchdowns (2 rushing, 1 receiving) in preseason finale vs. Redskins (Aug. 25)...1994: Won preseason duel with veteran Dexter McNabb for backup fullback position behind Bennett...Played in Packers' final 14 regular-season games, plus both playoff contests, after having been inactive for the first two games of the year...Saw majority of his action on special teams, but also was utilized periodically as a blocking back for Bennett in short-yardage situations...Carried 5 times for 15 yards during regular season...Had Green Bay's lone touchdown — a three-yard run off left tackle on fourth-and-one to cap Packers' opening drive — in 16-12 wild-card playoff victory over Lions at Lambeau Field (Dec. 31)...Caught 1 pass for 9 yards in his most extensive action of the season, against the N.Y. Jets Nov. 13, when he played the entire second half in place of Bennett, who had left in the second quarter with a bruised knee...One week earlier vs. Detroit also had filled in for Bennett, who missed the fourth quarter due to the recurrence of a shoulder injury, and carried the ball for the first time in his NFL career (3 attempts for 10 yards)...Additionally forced a fumble by Lions' Derrick Moore on kickoff coverage which Green Bay recovered, leading to an early field goal in eventual 38-30 victory...Made a key block for Bennett on his game-winning, one-yard TD run early in the fourth quarter of 24-17 triumph over L.A. Rams (Oct. 9)...Contributed 5 solo tackles on special teams, adding 1 stop with the coverage group in the postseason...Second of two fifth-round draft choices (149th overall) by Green Bay in 1994.

COLLEGE: Played two years (1992-93) at Georgia Tech after transferring from Notre Dame, where he spent his first two collegiate seasons (1989-90)...Forced to sit out redshirt year in 1991...Totaled 1,221 yards and 13 touchdowns on 207 rushing attempts as a collegian, including 1,036 yards and 10 TDs at Tech...Also caught 25 total passes for 323 yards and 2 scores (21-276-2 for GT)...Was a first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference choice as a senior, when he led the Yellowjackets in rushing with 823 yards and 8 touchdowns on 114 attempts...Set school record with 7.2 yards-per-carry average...Scored 3 touchdowns and rushed for career-high 141 yards on 20 attempts vs. Wake Forest...Was expected to be No. 1 tailback for Irish entering 1990 season, but suffered a knee injury which hampered his play and limited him to eight games...Had lettered as a freshman, carrying 25 times for 132 yards and 1 score...Holds B.A. degree in business management.

PERSONAL: Given name Herbert Dorsey Levens...Nicknamed 'Horse'...Born in Syracuse, N.Y. ...Single...Lettered four times as a running back, safety and linebacker at Nottingham High School in Syracuse, N.Y. ...All-America selection of Parade and SuperPrep magazines, he also was named 'Offensive Player of the Year' in the Northeast by the latter...Chosen Gatorade Circle of Champions 'Player of the Year' in New York and was rated as the top player in the state by Scholastic Coach...Earned all-state and all-league honors and was 'Co-Player of the Year' for Central New York as a senior, when he rushed for 1,307 yards...Scored 7 touchdowns and kicked 8 PATs for 50 total points in one game his senior year...Also earned three letters in basketball, serving as team captain his senior season...Hobbies include bowling and fishing...Held a charity basketball game — the 'Dorsey Levens All-Star Basketball Challenge' — in Syracuse during the 1995 offseason to benefit the Sherman Park Football Association (a children's league he had played in as a youngster)...Also has signed autographs in Syracuse to benefit the NAACP...Previously worked in the 'Mentor' program while at Georgia Tech, tutoring kids...Residence: Atlanta.

9 JIM McMAHON

Quarterback

Brigham Young 15th year

Ht: 5-1 Wt: 195 Born: 8/21/59 Acq: W-95

PRO: Quality veteran quarterback who gives Green Bay valuable protection as a backup to league MVP Brett Favre at football's most important position...A proven big-game player, he consistently has demonstrated superior leadership skills in a variety of situations throughout his decade-and-a-half in the NFL...Was a late-season waiver pickup in 1995 following a year-ending thumb injury to No. 2 QB Ty Detmer, he subsequently re-signed with the Packers this past April after Detmer left for Philadelphia through free agency...Has played for seven different teams over his 14-year NFL career, including the first half of that tenure on the other side of pro football's most storied rivalry as a highly visible member of the Chicago Bears (1982-88)...Then suited up, chronologically, for San Diego (1989), Philadelphia (1990-92), Minnesota (1993), Arizona (1994), Cleveland (1995) and, of course, Green Bay (1995)...Entering the '96 season, has the second-best winning percentage as a starter among active NFL quarterbacks, his .691 (67-30) standing behind only the .741 (20-7) of the Chiefs' Steve Bono...Has a 30-6 lifetime record as a starting quarterback vs. NFC Central opponents, including 25-2 since 1984...Has not lost a game on the road as the starter against a divisional foe since 1983 (Dec. 4 at Green Bay), going 12-0 away from home over that time span...Though now on the backside of his 30s, remains in fine physical shape due to his relative inactivity over the last two seasons...Last was a full-time starter in 1993 with Minnesota..."Jim's perfect for us right now because, number one, he has a lot of experience in this league and big games. We're very comfortable with him, either in a short spell playing for us, or in a longer stint," says Marty Mornhinweg, coach of Green Bay's quarterbacks. "He's healthy — he really hasn't played much in the last couple of years. He still throws the ball very effectively. The only negative is that he doesn't move quite as well because he's 36, 37 years old. But he certainly does have all of the other intangibles."...Began pro career in '82 with Chicago as the fifth overall player drafted after setting numerous records as a collegian at BYU...Reached the pinnacle of his profession in the 1985 season as the Bears dominated the NFL, going 18-1 overall and handily winning Super Bowl XX, and he made the lone Pro Bowl appearance of his career...Today remains second-leading passer in Bears' history (behind Erik Kramer) with an 80.4 rating on the basis of 874 completions in 1,513 attempts (57.8%) for 11,203 yards and 67 touchdowns, with 56 interceptions, while playing for Chicago...Traded to San Diego during training camp in 1989, he was the Chargers' primary starter that season before he moved around the league as a free agent as he looked for other opportunites to be a starting quarterback...Later started most of the '91 campaign for Philadelphia in place of an injured Randall Cunningham, then was the Vikings' starting QB two years later in 1993...Has led two different teams — Chicago and Minnesota — into the playoffs as their starter...Against the NFC Central as a starter, entering 1996 stands 10-1 vs. Green Bay (5-0 H, 5-1 A); 2-0 vs. Chicago (1-0 H, 1-0 A); 6-1 vs. Detroit (3-1 H, 3-0 A); 5-3 vs. Minnesota (3-2 H, 2-1 A); and 7-1 vs. Tampa Bay (4-0 H, 3-1 A)...Has completed 1,489 of 2,569 career attempts for 18,109 yards (58.0%) and 100 touchdowns with 90 interceptions for a passer rating of 78.1...Possessor of 114 career games played, including 97 starts, as well as eight games of postseason experience (six starts)...A free agent following the '95 season, re-signed with the Packers on April 12, 1996...1995: Spent roughly a month-and-a-half with Cleveland before finishing the year with Green Bay...Saw his only action of the season come with the Packers as he replaced Favre for two plays in the fourth quarter vs. Pittsburgh (Dec. 24) after the Green Bay starter was shaken up on a hit by the Steelers' Kevin Greene...Completed a six-yard pass to Robert Brooks on third down to bring the Packers within field goal range, Chris Jacke subsequently nailing a 47-yard FG attempt for a 24-13 lead in the eventual 24-19, division-clinching triumph...Was Green Bay's No. 2 quarterback against Cincinnati (Dec. 3), at Tampa Bay (Dec. 10) and at New Orleans (Dec. 16), plus for all three playoff games, though he did not play in any of those six contests...Had been claimed on waivers by the Packers on Nov. 28 in an effort to upgrade the team's backup quarterback position following a season-ending thumb injury to Detmer three weeks earlier at Minnesota...Languishing as the Browns' No. 3 signal caller, had asked for his release, which he received on Nov. 27...Originally had signed with Cleveland as a free agent on Aug. 8...Terminated on the final cutdown (Aug. 27), he later re-signed with the Browns as a free agent on Oct. 5...Was Cleveland's inactive 'Third Quarterback' for seven games...Completed 6 of 11 passes for 70 yards in the preseason with the Browns...1994: Received limited playing time in his lone year with Arizona as he reunited with Head Coach Buddy Ryan for the third time...Completed 23 of 43 passes for 219 yards and 1 touchdown with 3 interceptions, also rushing 6 times for 32 yards...Got into two early-season games, making one start (Sept. 18 at Cleveland)...Did not play in five games and was inactive for the other nine contests...Went 19 of 38 for 169 yards, but was intercepted twice, in start vs. Browns...One week earlier against the N.Y. Giants (Sept. 11) had thrown his 100th career touchdown pass (3 yards to Ronald Moore) as he completed 4 of 5 passes for 50 yards with 1 interception...Signed with Cardinals as a free agent on June 7 following his release by Minnesota on March 14...1993: Led Minnesota Vikings to an 8-3 record in games he started and played into the fourth quarter in his most recent season as a full-time starter...Posted his single-season best completion percentage as a starter (60.4%)...Completed 200 of 331 passes for 1,968 yards and 9 touchdowns with 8 interceptions...Started 12 games, plus the Vikings' postseason loss at the N.Y. Giants (Jan. 9)...Threw for 145 yards and 1 TD in 17-10 defeat at hands of New York, despite having to leave the contest twice due to the battering he took from Giant defenders...Established personal single-game best completion percentage (79.3%) Sept. 12 vs. his former club, Chicago, on 23 of 29 passing for 173 yards and 1 touchdown in 10-7 victory...Guided Vikings to second win over Bears, 19-12, four weeks later in his return to Soldier Field (Oct. 25)...Missed four mid-season games after sustaining a dislocated left shoulder Oct. 31 vs. Detroit...Returned to start Minnesota's final five games, going 4-1 and leading his 9-7 team into the playoffs, those wins including a 21-17 triumph over Green Bay at Milwaukee County Stadium (Dec. 19), when he completed 22 of 31 passes for 207 yards and 3 TDs...Had signed with Vikings as an unrestricted free agent on March 30...1992: Spent final season with Philadelphia as a backup to Randall Cunningham, playing in four games with one start...Replaced Cunningham in the second half of Nov. 1 Dallas game, leading Eagles on an 80-yard scoring drive on his first series...Based on 10-of-19, 122-yard performance against the Cowboys, was given starting nod the following week vs. the L.A. Raiders (Nov. 8)...Led Philly to a 31-10 victory over the Silver and Black, completing 12 of 24 passes for 157 yards, including 42-yard TD to Fred Barnett...Re-signed with the Eagles midway through training camp (Aug. 19)...1991: Became Eagles' de facto starter after Cunningham suffered a season-ending knee injury early in the second quarter of opener at Green Bay (Sept. 1)...Replacing Cunningham vs. the Packers, completed 17 of 25 passes for 257 yards and 2 touchdowns, including 75-yarder to Barnett, in 20-3 victory to earn NFC 'Offensive Player of the Week' honors...Led Philadelphia to 3-1 mark before right knee "scope" Oct. 2 forced him to miss two games...Returned to direct Eagles to wins in six of their next seven contests...Threw for season-high 341 yards and 3 scores, on 26 of 43 passing, Nov. 10 at Cleveland, leading Philadelphia from 23-0 deficit to 32-30 victory...Missed final two games of season after fracturing four ribs Dec. 8 at the Giants...Subsequently had second arthroscopic surgery on right knee, plus on his right elbow, following '91 campaign...Completed 60.1% of his passes (187-311) for 2,239 yards and 12 TDs with 11 INTs as Eagles went 10-6...Threw 3 touchdown passes of 70-or-more yards over course of season...Had re-signed with Philadelphia as a free agent on July 15, this on the heels of a tryout with the Packers the previous February (Feb. 22) as a possible backup for Don Majkowski, then-Green Bay head coach Lindy Infante instead deciding on another former Bear, Mike Tomczak...1990: Played in the fourth quarter of five Eagle victories, including 31-0 whitewashing of Green Bay (Dec. 16), in his first season with Philadelphia...Also replaced Cunningham for one third-quarter series in playoff loss to Washington...Joined Philadelphia as a free agent on July 12, immediately becoming Cunningham's backup after Eagles waived the previous No. 2 quarterback, Matt Cavanaugh, and traded away their No. 3 signal caller, Don McPherson...Had become a free agent on April 27 when the Chargers withdrew their qualifying offer...1989: Traded by Bears to San Diego on Aug. 18, Chicago receiving a 1990 second-round draft choice (which it subsequently used to select current Packer Ron Cox)...Played vs. his former team the next day in a preseason game, he eventually became Chargers' starter by Opening Day...Played in 12 games for Lightning Bolts, starting 11...Completed 176 of 318 passes for 2,132 yards and 10 touchdowns with 10 interceptions...Threw for a career-best 389 yards, on 27 of 45 passing (both also career single-game highs), in 34-27 loss to Houston (Sept. 17)...Gave way to rookie Billy Joe Tolliver for final four games of season...1988: Started first nine games of final year with Chicago before spraining his right knee Oct. 30 at New England...Had engineered 7-1 record for Bears in first half of season, he would finish as the team leader in attempts (192), completions (114), passing yards (1,346) and passer rating (76.0)...Was placed on injured reserve on Nov. 5, he did not return to active roster until week of regular-season finale at Minnesota...Relieved Tomczak, who had injured his shoulder, in fourth quarter of "Fog Bowl" playoff victory over Philadelphia, he then started NFC title game loss to San Francisco (Jan. 8)...Threw for season-best 284 yards on 22 of 39 passing, in 17-7 win over Dallas (Oct. 16)...Had 2 rushing touchdowns in Opening Day win over Miami (Sept. 4)...Had arthroscopic surgery on right knee following season...1987: Spent beginning of season on injured reserve as he recovered from rotator cuff surgery the previous December...Activated from IR on Oct. 22, in time to play in Bears' first game following the players' strike...Led Chicago to come-from-behind victory at Tampa Bay three days later, turning a 23-14 halftime deficit into a 27-26 win as he completed 17 of 24 passes for 195 yards and 1 TD vs. Bucs...Started the next six contests before leaving in the fourth quarter of Dec. 6 Minnesota game with a pulled hamstring...Missed final three regular-season games before returning to start in playoff loss to Washington...Passed for 287 yards and 3 scores in 31-28 win over Kansas City (Nov. 1) in first start of year...Also had 3 touchdown passes and threw for a season-best 311 yards at Denver (Nov. 16)...Marched Bears down field for game-winning field goal with four seconds remaining in 26-24 triumph at Green Bay (Nov. 8)...Was fourth-ranked passer in NFC with 87.4 rating (125 of 210 for 1,639 yards and 12 TDs with 8 INTs)...Had minor surgery on his right A-C joint (shoulder) following the season (Jan. 26, 1988)...1986: Started just six games as he was bothered by recurring shoulder and back injuries...Departed season opener with Cleveland in fourth quarter due to separated shoulder, causing him to miss Bears' next two contests...Had top performance of year in first game back, a 44-7 victory at Cincinnati (Sept. 28), throwing for 3 scores and 211 yards on 13 of 22 passing...Also started next two games, then shoulder and back difficulties caused him to sit out the Oct. 19 Minnesota contest...Returned to start the following week vs. the Lions, but repeat shoulder troubles allowed him just one more start the rest of the year — Nov. 23 vs. Green Bay — before the Packers' Charles Martin body-slammed him onto the hard Soldier Field artificial turf...Placed on injured reserve Nov. 28 for balance of season...Underwent surgery on the rotator cuff of his right (throwing) shoulder on Dec. 12...1985: Directed Chicago to its lone Super Bowl victory and NFL-best 15-1 record (18-1 overall) in what was a hallmark season for him...Made the lone Pro Bowl appearance of his career...Posted career highs in passing yards (2,392) and touchdown passes (15) as he completed 178 of 313 throws...Played in 13 games, starting 11...Had 9 TD tosses in first four games before injury woes began in Bears' Week 6 game at San Francisco (Oct. 13)...Subsequently missed three November games with shoulder tendinitis...Was named NFC 'Offensive Player of the Week' after completing 23 of 34 passes for 274 yards and 2 touchdowns in 38-28 victory over Tampa Bay (Sept. 8)...Did not start Thursday night game at Minnesota 11 days later due to a stiff neck, but entered contest in second half to throw for a touchdown on each of his first two plays — and 3 TDs in just one-and-a-half quarters — to turn a 17-9 deficit into a 33-24 triumph in front of a national TV audience...Had fine "all-around" effort in 45-10 shellacking of Washington (Sept. 29) — completed 13 of 19 passes for 160 yards and 3 touchdowns; caught a 13-yard TD pass from Walter Payton; and rushed 36 yards on 3 carries...Passed for a season-high 292 yards in rematch with Bucs (Oct. 6)...Was not intercepted as he started all three of Chicago's postseason games (39 of 66 for 639 yards and 3 TDs)...Rushed for 2 touchdowns and completed 12 of 20 passes for 256 yards in Bears' 46-10 triumph over New England in Super Bowl XX (Jan. 26)...1984: Had personal season end with six games remaining when he suffered a lacerated kidney on a hit by Bill Pickel Nov. 4 vs. the L.A. Raiders...Put on IR five days later, where he remained for the balance of the season and throughout the Bears' playoff run...Had started nine of Chicago's first 10 games...Posted a career-high 97.8 passer rating (85 of 143 for 1,146 yards and 8 TDs with only 2 interceptions)...Earlier had sustained a hairline fracture in his throwing hand and a bruised back in Week 2 contest with Denver (Sept. 9)...Threw a 61-yard touchdown pass to Willie Gault on the play which Broncos' Rulon Jones hit him to cause pair of injuries...Did not play on Sept. 23 at Seattle after re-injuring his back the previous week at Green Bay...Threw for 3 scores and 218 yards in 44-9 whipping of Buccaneers at Tampa (Oct. 21) to earn a game ball...1983: Started a career-high 13 games, while playing in 14, in his second Chicago season...Shared time with Vince Evans until becoming the Bears' full-time starter in Week 10...Completed 175 of 295 passes for 2,184 yards and 12 TDs, but was intercepted a career-high 13 times...Threw career-long 87-yard touchdown pass to Gault Dec. 4 at Green Bay among a season-best 298 passing yards...Made 18-yard scoring reception from Payton at the L.A. 85 TERRY MICKENS

Florida A&M 3rd year

Ht: 6-0½ Wt: 198 Born: 2/21/71 Acq: D5a-94

PRO: Physically imposing receiver who also finds intelligence, strength, an excellent work ethic and top-notch special teams play in his personal dossier...Regular contributor on special teams coverage units throughout his young career, in 1996 also is expected to compete for additional playing time in multiple receiver sets..."He's got excellent speed and he's got good size. What he does best is he is a smart, smart player," says Gil Haskell, Green Bay's receivers coach. "He can play any receiver position, whether it's the two, three or four receivers. He knows every position, what to play. He knows what defense they're in when the ball is snapped and he can get free and he can make big plays."...Mickens' cause, Haskell explains, is aided by his abilities on special teams, saying, "He also has played very well on special teams. And that's a bonus when your receivers are on those teams and play well."...1995: Played in all 16 games for first time in his career, mostly on special teams coverage units...Also was frequently utilized in short-yardage and goal-line situations due to his fine blocking skills...Tied for third on club in special teams tackles with 15 (9 solo)...Made 3 receptions for 50 yards over course of season in limited duty in Packers' four receiver formation...Had a catch in each of the two Chicago games...Also snared 11-yard pass along right sideline on game-tying drive at Minnesota (Nov. 5)...Contributed season-high 2 special teams tackles at Cleveland and Tampa Bay (Dec. 10), as well as in Atlanta postseason game (Dec. 31)...Saw reserve action in all three playoff contests, catching 2 passes in NFC Championship Game at Dallas (Jan. 14), including a career-long 25-yarder...1994: Got into 12 games as a rookie, seeing increased playing time in multiple receiver sets as the season progressed...Caught total of 4 passes for 31 yards...Made first pro reception Nov. 6 against Detroit...Had 1 catch the following week vs. Jets, also drawing a 25-yard pass interference penalty midway through the third quarter which gave Packers a first down at New York 42 on drive providing eventual winning points in 17-10 triumph...Threw key downfield block on Brett Favre's game-winning, 9-yard touchdown run in last minute of 21-17 victory over Atlanta (Dec. 18) in final game at Milwaukee County Stadium...Also contributed 5 solo special teams tackles, including a career-high 3 against Chicago (Dec. 11)...Played in both playoff games, catching a 17-yard pass vs. Detroit (Dec. 31)...Inactive for four of the first five regular-season games (all but Miami)...Had an impressive preseason, leading the Packers in receiving yardage (103), his production including a 57-yard TD catch vs. the Dolphins (Aug. 13)...Was the first of two fifth-round draft choices (146th overall) by Green Bay in 1994.

COLLEGE: Four-year starter (1990-93) for Florida A&M...Redshirted in 1989...Led his team in receiving all four years and finished collegiate career as Rattlers' all-time leading receiver with 147 catches (for 2,522 yards and 16 touchdowns)...Voted to all-conference squad in some form every season...Second-team All-Mid Eastern Athletic Conference pick his senior year, when he made 38 catches for 598 yards and 5 scores...Had best season as a junior, garnering numerous laurels as he established single-season career highs for receptions (52), receiving yards (900) and TD receptions (6)...Named MEAC 'Offensive Player of the Year' and was a first-team all-conference selection...Also earned third-team Division I-AA All-America recognition from Associated Press...Set school single-game records for receptions (13) and receiving yards (168) in 1992 vs. Georgia Southern...First-team All-MEAC pick as a sophomore, when he caught 31 passes for 567 yards and 2 touchdowns...Was an honorable mention all-conference choice after making 26 receptions for 457 yards and 3 scores during his redshirt freshman season...Majored in physical education.

PERSONAL: Given name Terry KaJuan Mickens...Nicknamed 'T-Mick'...Born in Tallahassee, Fla. ...Single...Has son, Tyler Jarrod (born 5/10/91)...Was an all-district and all-area choice as a wide receiver at Leon High School in Tallahassee, Fla. ...Earned two letters in football, playing defensive back and wide receiver, and two letters in track, where he was named the team's MVP...Spent a portion of the past two off-seasons as a volunteer assistant track coach at his prep alma mater, Leon H.S., he also worked with the school's football team (primarily the wide receivers and quarterbacks) during 1996 spring drills...Hobbies include playing video games, talking to friends on the phone and spending time with his son...Residence: Tallahassee, Fla.

70 JEFF MILLER

Offensive Tackle
Mississippi 2nd year
Ht: 6-3½ Wt: 305 Born: 11/23/72 Acq: D4-95

PRO: Young offensive line prospect who spent an injury-forced year on the sidelines as a 1995 rookie...Took advantage of that time away from the field to improve on his strength and his grasp of the Packers' offensive system...Drafted in the fourth round last year, is expected to compete for a roster spot as a backup tackle..."The main thing that Jeff had to do was get stronger," says Tom Lovat, coach of Green Bay's offensive line. "Coming in here, he wasn't very strong. He's done that. He's done everything we've asked of him in the offseason. Now the thing is to get him into the preseason games and playing, and we'll see how he handles it. He had a long way to go, and he still has got a little ways to go."...1995: Dislocated his right kneecap Aug. 3 during a training camp practice...Subsequently placed on injured reserve Aug. 21, ending his rookie season...Fourth-round draft choice (117th overall) of Green Bay in 1995.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter (1993-94) at the University of Mississippi after beginning collegiate career at Northwest Community College in Senatobia, Miss. ...Played in 22 games with 18 starts for Rebels, primarily at left tackle...Was a second-team All-Southeastern Conference pick (by SEC coaches) and an offensive co-captain as a senior...Chosen as team's 'Offensive Player of the Week' by Ole Miss coaches following 1993 victory over Tennessee-Chattanooga and '94 triumph over Louisiana State...Had earned two letters at Northwest (1991-92), winner of the 1992 national championship...Named as a second-team Junior College All-American his sophomore season...Majored in political science.

High School...Had earned all-state, all-area, all-district and all-conference recognition his junior year as a defensive tackle...Lettered three times in football, his team won the district championship each of his final two years...Also was an all-conference choice in track (shot put and discus)...Won three letters in track and one in basketball...Grew up in the same neighborhood and went to high school with running back James Stewart of the Minnesota Vikings...Hobbies include playing basketball and softball...Splits residence between Green Bay and Vero Beach, Fla.

PRO STATISTICS:

Games/Starts—Green Bay 1995 (injured reserve).

The Packers' seven victories in Lambeau Field in 1995 — they finished the season 7-1 there — were the most they have had since the 1931 team won eight games at home.

81 ANTHONY MORGAN

Wide Receiver

Tennessee 6th year

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 200 Born: 11/15/67 Acq: W-93

PRO: After two very productive seasons with Green Bay, easygoing Anthony Morgan comes into his third year with the Packers looking to claim the wide receiver spot opposite Robert Brooks on a full-time basis...Though he alternated as the starter at that spot in 1995, he still managed to catch a career-high 31 passes and equalled his career-best with 4 touchdown receptions...Has now appeared in 32 straight regular-season games for the Packers..."Anthony contributed a lot last year," says Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis. "This year we expect him to be even more productive and make some big plays for us. He's very versatile. He can go over the middle or deep. Anthony's coming off a fine year and we're hoping he can have a big year for us. He's got a great combination of size and speed."...Acquired by the Packers on waivers midway through the 1993 season after spending his first two-and-a-half years in the league with Green Bay's archrival, Chicago...Originally drafted in the fifth round by the Bears, played in 27 career games for the Midway Monsters from 1991-93, including six starts, he caught 27 passes for 534 yards and 4 touchdowns...Since has made 60 receptions for 749 yards and 8 TDs with Green Bay...Re-signed with the Packers this past April 10 as an unrestricted free agent...1995: Alternated on a weekly basis with the since-departed Mark Ingram as the starter at split end...Played in all 16 regular-season games for second straight year, making eight starts...Also appeared in all three playoff contests, starting two — Dec. 31 vs. Atlanta and Jan. 14 at Dallas in NFC Championship Game...Finished sixth on the team in receptions during the regular season with a career-best 31 for 344 yards and 4 touchdowns...Tied his career high with 4 TD catches (also done in 1994)...Had one of his best performances of the year vs. Cincinnati (Dec. 3), equalling his season high with 5 catches for a season-best 52 yards...Also prevented a possible touchdown against Cincinnati when he ran down the Bengals' Corey Sawyer from behind after Sawyer had intercepted a pass and returned it 61 yards to the Green Bay 25-yard line — the Bengals did not score on the subsequent possession...Caught a 15-yard scoring pass in Monday Night win at Chicago (Sept. 11)...Made his second touchdown catch of the season at Jacksonville (Sept. 24), when he caught a 29-yard pass from Brett Favre late in the fourth quarter, giving the Packers a 24-7 lead...Had a 13-yard touchdown reception at Cleveland (Nov. 19) in front of hometown fans...Gave Packers an early lead at New Orleans (Dec. 16), when he caught a 19-yard scoring pass on the game's first drive...First made a season-high 5 receptions (for 51 yards) Nov. 5 at Minnesota, but suffered a sprained ankle in the second half...Did not start Giants contest (Sept. 17) due to a broken pinky finger on his left hand which also limited his play...Caught 6 passes for 66 yards during the postseason, including 4 for 36 yards vs. Falcons...Had re-signed with Packers as an unrestricted free agent on April 28...1994: Enjoyed one of his finest seasons as a professional...Finished the regular season with 28 receptions for 397 yards and 4 touchdowns to rank sixth on the team...Played in all 16 games for the first time as a pro, serving as the Packers' third wide receiver throughout the second half of the year, a duty he had shared with Ron Lewis until the latter retired on Oct. 28...Later made first two playoff starts of his career, moving into the split end position vacated by Brooks, who was replacing an injured Sterling Sharpe (neck)...Had his best game as a pro at Detroit (Dec. 4) as he caught 6 passes for 103 yards and 2 touchdowns — all career single-game highs...It was the first 100-yard receiving game of his career and also his first two-touchdown game as a pro...Also had a fine performance vs. the N.Y. Jets (Nov. 13), when he made 3 receptions for 46 yards, including his first touchdown as a Packer — a 17-yard bullet caught between two defenders, giving the Packers a 14-10 lead late in the third quarter in an eventual 17-10 win...Had 4 catches for 50 yards vs. Atlanta (Dec. 18), including a 15-yard touchdown reception...Caught 8 passes for 85 yards in the playoffs, including 5 for 52 yards at Dallas (Jan. 8)...1993: Claimed on waivers by Packers on Nov. 3...Had been released by Chicago on the final cutdown of the preseason, but was recalled the following day...Was one of the Bears' inactives for each of their first six games before seeing his initial action of year, at Green Bay on Oct. 31...Waived a second time by Chicago Nov. 2...Subsequently was inactive his first five weeks with the Packers, then saw his initial playing time with Green Bay Dec. 12 at San Diego...Also caught his first pass in a Green Bay uniform against the Chargers, an 8-yard slant from Favre in the second quarter which resulted in a 51-yard field goal, giving the Packers a 10-3 lead in an eventual 20-13 win...Saw reserve action in four-receiver set vs. Minnesota (Dec. 19)...Inactive for final two regular-season games and both playoff contests...1992: Opened the year on Bears' injured reserve list due to offseason knee injury and surgery...Was activated after four games (Sept. 29)...Played in remaining 12 contests, starting four...Finished seventh on club with 14 catches for 323 yards and 2 TDs...Posted highest average per catch (23.1 yards) on team...Had Bears' longest catch of the season, an 83-yard touchdown reception vs. Tampa Bay (Oct. 18), earning a game ball in the process...Had a season-best 5 catches at Dallas (Dec. 27)...1991: Played in 14 games with two starts...Injured knee in practice on Sept. 11, he did not play four days later vs. N.Y. Giants and was inactive the following week vs. N.Y. Jets...Returned to action at Buffalo on Sept. 29, making 3 catches for 19 yards...Had 2 receptions, including first touchdown as a pro, at Minnesota (Nov. 11)...Caught 84-yard TD pass at Indianapolis a week later (Nov. 17)...Strained ligaments in his right knee at San Francisco on Dec. 23, he was placed on injured reserve and missed the playoffs...Surgery subsequently was performed Jan. 23, 1992...Drafted by Chicago in the fifth round (134th overall) in 1991.

28 RODERICK MULLEN

Safety

Grambling State 2nd year

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 204 Born: 12/5/72 Acq: FA-95

PRO: Bright young prospect in the secondary who unquestionably will play a much bigger role in 1996 as a second-year player...A college cornerback who spent much of his rookie campaign working at that position, heading into this year his primary concentration will be on free safety...Had one of the best offseasons of any Packer player, leading some to believe that he could seriously challenge for the starting free safety position..."He's been very impressive in the mini-camps," says Green Bay defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur. "He's big and very athletic and has corner coverage ability, and as a result we think he has the skills to be a free safety — and be a good one. He appears to have excellent athletic ability, learns the game well and has good instincts, so we're very high on him."...Originally drafted by the New York Giants last year, spent training camp and the early part of the '95 season on that club's practice squad as a safety...1995: Saw reserve action in final eight regular-season games plus two of Packers' three playoff contests after joining team Oct. 18 as a free agent directly off the practice squad of the Giants...Contributed 3 unassisted tackles on defense and 3 additional stops (1 solo) on special teams over last half of year...Was inactive for his initial two games after signing with Green Bay before he worked his way into special teams role...Made season-high 2 tackles at Tampa Bay (Dec. 10), when he received added playing time as a sixth defensive back in secondary which had been depleted by injuries to Teague and Craig Newsome...Also had seen duty in team's 'dime' package in fourth quarter of win at Cleveland (Nov. 19), chipping in 1 solo stop that day...Contributed 1 assisted stop on special teams during playoffs, at Dallas in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...Was inactive for Atlanta postseason contest...Had spent entire training camp with Giants before his release on final cutdown

(Aug. 27), signed to that team's practice squad two days later...Fifth-round draft choice (153rd overall) of New York Giants in 1995.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter (1993-94) at cornerback for Grambling State after spending his first two college seasons on the sideline...Totaled 58 tackles (45 solo), 6 interceptions, 26 passes defensed, 1 tackle for loss and 1 fumble recovery for Tigers...Was a second-team All-Southwestern Athletic Conference selection as a senior, when he recorded 39 tackles (30 unassisted), 4 interceptions and 17 pass breakups...Honored as school's MVP of 1994 Bayou Classic battle with Southern after he intercepted 2 passes...Granted a medical redshirt season in 1992 due to a seriously broken leg suffered during spring drills...Volunteered in Grambling's sports information department while injured...Had sat out his freshman season under the NCAA's Proposition 48...Holds a B.S. degree in criminal justice.

PERSONAL: Given name Roderick Louis Mullen...Born in St. Francisville, La. ...Nicknamed 'Money'...Married wife, Deneca, this past March 23, couple has a daughter, Meagan (born 5/10/94)...Won all-state and All-District 10-AA honors at West Feliciana High School in St. Francisville, La. ...Lettered three times in football as a running back and defensive back, he also earned two letters in basketball and one in track...Hobbies include hunting and fishing...Splits residence between Green Bay and St. Francisville, La.

21 CRAIG NEWSOME

Cornerback

Arizona State 2nd year

Ht: 5-11½ Wt: 190 Born: 8/10/71 Acq: D1-95

PRO: A quiet and mature family man at the tender age of 25, this 1995 first-round draft choice of the Packers surpassed the expectations of most people last year...Was Green Bay's starter at left cornerback from the opening day of training camp, never relinquishing the position...Consistently displays excellent work habits on the field, a trait perhaps attributable to the two post-high school years he spent laboring in the hot California sun as a block mason...Aggressive and physical, he routinely demonstrates tackling ability which is on par with his fine coverage skills..."Craig Newsome exceeded, I think, anything we imagined before last season," says Fritz Shurmur, the Packers' defensive coordinator. "We knew he was a good football player. But there's no way to know just how competitive a guy will be until you go through the wars with him. He is absolutely tenacious, a competitor who knows no bounds in terms of work ethic and who, in my opinion, will be a fixture at the left corner position for the Green Bay Packers for a long time. I think he'll make a lot of trips to Hawaii (the Pro Bowl)."...Tested throughout the '95 season, he refused to back down and by year's end had merited selection to several all-rookie teams and established a club rookie record for passes defensed...Along with being a sound fundamental player, has the necessary mental toughness to play cornerback at a high level in the NFL..."He's wired right," Shurmur adds. "He has the kind of mentality that it takes to play out there, the gunslinger kind of thing. 'You're going to take your shots and I'm going to take mine and I'm going to keep coming at you.' And that's the way he plays. He also has physical coverage ability, which makes him a special kind of corner."...1995: Started all 19 games (16 regular season, three in the playoffs) for the Packers at left cornerback...Finished fourth on the team in tackles with 85 (72 solo)...Also had a club rookie record 19 passes defensed, including his first NFL interception Dec. 16 at New Orleans, when he picked off a Jim Everett throw in the end zone...Earned selection to all-rookie teams of Football News and College & Pro Football Newsweekly...Also was named to All-Madden Team by Fox analyst John Madden...Chosen as Packers' 'Rookie of the Year'...Played especially well late in the season and into the playoffs...Made his first pro touchdown particularly memorable and meaningful, when he scooped up an Adam Walker fumble on the 49ers' first play from scrimmage of NFC divisional playoff contest and raced 31 yards into the end zone to give the Packers a 7-0 lead in eventual 27-17 upset win at San Francisco (Jan. 6)...Also had 4 solo tackles and 2 passes defensed, including a late interception of the Niners' Steve Young...Was one of primary Green Bay defenders who established a physical presence to help shut down the 49ers' vaunted passing attack, in part by limiting receiver non-pareil Jerry Rice to virtually no yards after the catch...One week earlier had posted 7 stops and broken up 2 Jeff George throws in first-round postseason victory over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Ended playoffs with 14 total tackles (13 solo), 1 fumble recovery, 1 interception and 4 passes defensed...Recorded single-game career highs in tackles (13) and passes defensed (5) in 24-19 triumph over Pittsburgh in regular-season finale (Dec. 24)...Had 11 stops plus 2 pass breakups in win over Tampa Bay (Nov. 26)...Two weeks later left nationally-televised Buccaneers rematch early in the second quarter after suffering a concussion...Led team with 7 tackles (all solo) at Cleveland Nov. 19...Limited Herman Moore, the Lions' Pro Bowl wide receiver, to only 3 receptions — this despite 13 throws in his direction — in 30-21 victory over Detroit (Oct. 15)...Also started all four preseason games at left cornerback, leading the team in passes defensed with 3...First-round draft choice (32nd overall and third cornerback, after Panthers' Tyrone Poole and Patriots' Ty Law) by Green Bay in 1995.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter (1993-94) at Arizona State after beginning his collegiate career at San Bernardino (Calif.) Valley Junior College...Recorded 99 tackles (71 solo), 4 interceptions, 14 passes defensed, 2 fumble recoveries and 1 forced fumble for ASU...Was a first-team All-Pacific 10 Conference selection in 1993, when he picked off 4 passes and broke up 12 to go along with 57 tackles (38 solo)...Also was a candidate for the Jim Thorpe Award, given annually to the nation's top defensive back...Missed first four games of his senior season while meeting academic requirements before returning to start Sun Devils' last seven contests at left cornerback...Posted a career-best 12 stops against Washington State...Earlier had been a two-year starter (1991-92) for San Bernadino Valley Junior College...Was a first-team All-Foothill Conference choice and was named as league's 'Most Valuable Defensive Back' in each of his two seasons...Also merited second-team All-America selection in 1992 from JC Gridwire...Set a national junior college record with a 103-yard interception return for a touchdown vs. Riverside City College in '92...Majored in criminal justice.

PERSONAL: Given name Craig Newsome...Nicknamed 'C-New'...Born in San Bernardino, Calif. ...Married to Debra, couple has a son, Garrett (born 11/22/90), and a daughter, Alexis (born 12/21/94)...Was an all-conference selection in football at Eisenhower High School in Rialto, Calif. ...Lettered two seasons as a wide receiver and a cornerback, he caught 45 passes for 758 yards and 12 touchdowns as a senior...Right out of high school worked for two years in construction in the Los Angeles area as a block mason, building brick walls, before deciding to attend junior college...During his first year at Arizona State, was road roommate of former Packers teammate and current Atlanta Falcon Lenny McGill...Has given time to 'Make A Wish' in Milwaukee...Hobbies include fishing, playing video games and spending time with his family...Splits residence between Green Bay and Glendale, Ariz.

18 DOUG PEDERSON

Quarterback

Northeast Louisiana 4th year

Ht: 6-3 Wt: 215 Born: 1/31/68 Acq: FA-95

PRO: Veteran signal caller who went to training camp with the Miami Dolphins each of the past five seasons...Enters Packers' 1996 camp as the team's third quarterback...Originally signed by the Dolphins in 1991 as an undrafted free agent...Spent one year (1992) on Miami practice squad, then was a reserve for that club for parts of three seasons (1993-95)...Highlight of pro career came in 1993 contest at Philadelphia, when he entered the game after starter Scott Mitchell went out with a shoulder injury and directed the Dolphins to a 19-14, come-from-behind victory — giving Don Shula his 325th career victory to make him the winningest coach in NFL history...Joined Green Bay as a free agent late last season (Nov. 21) after injuries hit the quarterback position...Also previously had two separate stints in the World League..."Doug has had limited experience," says Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis. "But I've been impressed with the way he's handled himself. He's executed our offense well."...1995: Had been selected by the Carolina Panthers on Feb. 15 in the Expansion Draft but the Panthers withdrew their qualifying offer on May 22, terminating their rights to Pederson...Subsequently signed by the Dolphins as a free agent for the fifth straight season (July 11)...Waived by Miami in training camp (Aug. 21), later re-signed with Dolphins on Oct. 10...Was inactive for two games before he was released on Oct. 24...Signed with Green Bay as a free agent roughly a month later (Nov. 21)...Served as team's inactive 'Third Quarterback' for three of Green Bay's last five regular-season games plus all three playoff contests...Simply was inactive for two other regular-season games as Packers carried four quarterbacks on their roster...WORLD LEAGUE: Played in two games for the Rhein Fire in 1995, completing 11 of 26 passes for 186 yards and 1 touchdown with 2 interceptions...1994: Was a member of the Dolphins throughout the season after re-signing with team on April 14...Inactive for all 16 regular-season games and both playoff contests...1993: Re-signed by the Dolphins as a free agent on March 1...Played in seven games as a reserve...Saw action at quarterback three times, including two occasions in an emergency role following injuries...Completed 4 of 8 passes for 41 yards over course of the season...Initially waived on final cutdown (Aug. 30) and began year on Miami's practice squad...Moved up to 53-man roster on Oct. 23 and made NFL debut the following day against Indianapolis as holder for field goal and extra point attempts...Saw first pro action at quarterback Oct. 31 vs. Kansas City in relief of Mitchell late in the game, though he did not attempt a pass and lost one yard on his only carry...Also replaced Mitchell, who suffered a left (throwing) shoulder separation, in third quarter at Philadelphia (Nov. 14) and hit on 3 of 6 passes for 34 yards, leading drives for two field goals to bring the Dolphins back from a 14-13 deficit to a 19-14 win — providing Shula with 325th career victory to make him winningest coach in league annals...Replaced the injured Steve DeBerg (jaw/lip) briefly in third quarter against the N.Y. Giants (Dec. 5) and completed 1 of 2 passes for 7 yards...Waived by the Dolphins on Dec. 14...1992: Released by Miami on the final cutdown (Aug. 31), signed to the Dolphins' practice squad two days later...Spent five weeks on practice squad until his termination on Oct. 5...Earlier had re-signed with Dolphins as a free agent June 3...WORLD LEAGUE: Played with New York/New Jersey Knights in 1992 and finished season with 70 completions in 128 attempts for 1,077 yards and 8 touchdowns with 3 interceptions...Saw action mostly as a reserve...Led Knights to their first win of the season in his first start, when he completed 18 of 39 passes for 257 yards and 2 touchdowns against Frankfurt Galaxy...Enjoyed his best performance of the year in season finale at Montreal Machine as he threw for 309 yards and 2 touchdowns, completing 17 of 27 passes...1991: Signed by Miami as an undrafted free agent on April 30 but was waived in training camp (Aug. 16).

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and four-time letterman (1987-90) at Northeast Louisiana...Redshirted in 1986...Finished collegiate career with 571 completions on 1,032 attempts for 6,445 yards and 33 touchdowns with 41 interceptions...Led Southland Conference in passing as a senior, when he hit on 205 of 367 passes for 2,282 yards and 10 touchdowns with 14 interceptions...Threw for 2,603 yards and 16 TDs as a junior...Holds B.A. degree in business management.

75 KEN RUETTGERS

Offensive Tackle
Southern California 12th year
Ht: 6-6 Wt: 295 Born: 8/20/62 Acq: D1-85

PRO: The longest continuous starter on Green Bay's offensive line since center Larry McCarren started for 11 straight seasons (1974-84), Ken Ruettgers has been a fixture at left tackle for the last decade (1986-95) after spending his rookie season mostly in a reserve capacity...Also is the longest-tenured player on the Packers' current roster by a wide margin, kicker Chris Jacke, who joined the club four years after him in 1989, being the closest...Already amongst a group of but 10 players who have played on the team's offensive line for 11-or-more seasons (see list at end of bio), is poised to become only the fourth individual in club annals with 12-plus years up front in the trenches — Hall of Famer Forrest Gregg, Charles 'Buckets' Goldenberg and McCarren filling out this impressive quartet...Possessor of 153 career games played, including 139 starts...Also has accumulated seven postseason starts over last three years...Remains one of Green Bay's most valuable players, a fact evidenced by how much his presence was missed in the '95 season opener when he was out due to a back injury...Ever sound in his technique, is an equally dedicated worker in the classroom..."There's nobody in this organization that doesn't appreciate Ken Ruettgers as a left tackle," points out Tom Lovat, the Packers' offensive line coach. "He may not be a Pro Bowl tackle, but he's effective and he's played against the best over a long period of time. I don't think there's any question that he's a leader on our offensive line because of his work ethic and his overall performance over the years. He studies the opponent HARD. He's a real student of the game, he looks at a lot of tape. And then as far as the game plan goes, he knows where he's got to be, how he's got to be, and he's smart enough to know that at this stage in his career he has to start changing up a bit because people study him, too. Rut's always been a worker, but I think now he realizes he's got to push it even harder because if you lose a step, even half a step, that's all it takes in this league. He's aware of that and works hard at it."...A regular starter since the opening game of the 1986 campaign, his second year in the league, he has developed into one of the NFC's better left tackles, in part through his exhaustive preparation...A tireless seeker of perfection, not only does he spend long hours in the weight room, he also thoroughly studies his opponent during the workday and, frequently, after hours...Measured into his success, undoubtedly, is the strenuous offseason regimen which he maintains, a program consisting of, among other things, four days of weightlifting per week, racquetball, basketball, jumping rope and hitting the speed bag...Had been designated by the Packers as a 'transition' player on Feb. 25, 1993, giving Green Bay the opportunity to match any contract offer from another club which he might have received that year in the offseason...1995: Was Packers' starter at left tackle in final 15 regular-season games and all three playoff contests after missing season opener against St. Louis (Sept. 3) with a painful back injury incurred one week earlier...Had a personal-best, 52-game starting streak snapped by his absence vs. the Rams...Suffered a cracked transverse process (lower back) when he was kicked in the back against Washington in the preseason finale (Aug. 25)...Played especially well near the end of the year, holding exceptional pass rushers Renaldo Turnbull (Saints) and Greg Lloyd (Steelers) to no sacks in Green Bay's final two regular-season games...Then shunted 49ers' Rickey Jackson in upset postseason win at San Francisco (Jan. 6)...Made an alert play in 38-21 victory over Minnesota (Oct. 22) when he recovered a Brett Favre fumble in the third quarter...1994: Started all 16 games for the third year in a row and for the fifth time in his career (also 1986, 1989, 1992-93)...Additionally was Packers' starter at left tackle in both playoff games...Saw action in his 45th straight league contest Dec. 4 at Detroit, surpassing his previous personal longevity string of 44 uninterrupted regular-season games played from 1985-87...Helped Packers to rush for combined total of 480 yards in two meetings with archrival Chicago, including season-high 257 yards in second win over Bears (Dec. 11)...Earlier, in rain-swept Halloween matchup at Chicago, had moved over to left guard for one snap late in game while Guy McIntyre (normally the starter at LG) lined up at left tackle because a nagging groin injury prevented him from pulling on the play; Ruettgers subsequently pulled and led Reggie Cobb on a 9-yard touchdown run to cap the scoring in 33-6 Green Bay triumph...Did not allow a sack in head-to-head matchups with Eagles' Greg Townsend, Jets' Jeff Lageman, Dolphins' Marco Coleman, Falcons' Chris Doleman and Rams' Fred Stokes...1993: Was Green Bay's starter at left tackle for all 16 games plus both postseason contests — the first of his career...Had one of his finest seasons as a pro, this despite the fact that he did not join the team until the week before the league opener (Aug. 31) due to a contractual stalemate...Held some of the league's top sack artists without a sack, including the Vikings' Doleman (twice), the Cowboys' Charles Haley (twice), the Bears' Richard Dent (twice), the Saints' Turnbull and the Eagles' Clyde Simmons...Made his 100th NFL start Nov. 8 at Kansas City...1992: Did not miss an offensive snap the entire year — a giant accomplishment for a player who had been ravaged by injury the previous two seasons — starting all 16 games in the process...Held Simmons, the NFC sack leader at the time, without a sack in 27-24 victory over Philadelphia (Nov. 15)...Same Eagles contest also marked his 100th NFL contest...1991: Got into only four games as he was hobbled by nagging hamstring injury...Started at left tackle in Packers' first three games before suffering pulled hamstring in practice on Sept. 18...The injury — the first hamstring problem he had experienced in his career — initially was thought to be relatively minor...When it lingered, however, he was forced to miss the next six games (inactive), plus Green Bay's bye week, while on the mend...Returned to start Nov. 10 vs. Buffalo in Milwaukee, but re-injured the hamstring while pulling on a running play...Placed on injured reserve Nov. 13, where he spent the remainder of the year...1990: Missed five starts at mid-season after undergoing arthroscopic surgery on both of his knees during the Packers' bye week, ending string of 37 consecutive games in which he had started dating back to Week 2 of '88 campaign...1989: Started all 16 games for second time in his career as Packers enjoyed 10-6 season...1988: Missed the season opener vs. the Rams (Sept. 4) due to shoulder injury sustained in Packers' initial preseason contest, Aug. 6 vs. the N.Y. Giants...His absence in inaugural snapped a streak of 44 straight non-strike games played, beginning with opening duel of his '85 rookie year...1987: Had one of the finest seasons of his career, giving up only 3½ sacks over the course of the strike-shortened, 12-game schedule...Recognized for that accomplishment, among other things, when he was voted as Packers' 'Offensive Player of the Year' by Wisconsin sports media — the first time a Green Bay offensive lineman has been so honored since center Ken Bowman was similarly recognized in 1971...Was the starter in all 12 'union' games...His season-long performance was all the more impressive in light of the fact that he had been forced to overcome an attack of mononucleosis during the early weeks of training camp...1986: First gained league-wide notoriety in finale against N.Y. Giants (Dec. 20), who would go on to win Super Bowl XXI, when he climaxed his personal year by shutting out NFL sack titlist Lawrence Taylor, in the process depriving the Pro Bowl linebacker of the league's single-season record for sacks...Started all 16 games for first time...1985: Played in all 16 games with two starts as a rookie...Pressed into starting lineup at left tackle for opening game at New England (Sept. 8) when incumbent Karl Swanke was moved to right tackle in place of Greg Koch, who himself had been switched to right guard in Ron Hallstrom's injury-forced absence...Also got starting call in closer at Tampa Bay as Swanke had suffered a knee injury the previous week vs. Detroit...Split time with Swanke in eight of the final nine games...Became a Packer by virtue of a draft day trade with the Buffalo Bills, Green Bay exchanging its first- (14th overall) and second-round (42nd overall) choices for the Bills' first-rounder (seventh overall), which then was used to tab Ruettgers, the Packers also receiving a fourth-round pick in 1986.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter (1983-84) at tackle for Southern California after spending 1980-82 seasons as a reserve guard...Also lettered in 1982...Granted a retroactive redshirt year for the '80 campaign, when he was limited by a broken hand and torn knee cartilage...Co-captained Trojans as a senior, and was voted as USC's 'Offensive Player of the Year' following season...Holds B.S. degree in business administration.

38 BRIAN SATTERFIELD

Fullback

North Alabama 2nd year

Ht: 6-0 Wt: 225 Born: 12/22/69 Acq: FA-95

PRO: One of the best athletes on the Green Bay roster, this one-time longshot hopes to successfully rebound from a torn hamstring suffered during the 1995 preseason, when he was close to making the team...Possessor of excellent speed and strength, is a strong candidate to contribute in '96, especially on special teams...Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis believes that Satterfield has all of the necessary tools, saying, "Brian has a great combination of strength and speed. He's got all the things we like. He catches the ball, he's a great blocker and a great special teams player. Plus, with his speed, he also can play halfback. He was injured last year, but we hope he can stay healthy."...1995: Was a good bet to make Green Bay's roster, but tore his left hamstring covering a kickoff in preseason contest at Pittsburgh (Aug. 13)...Placed on injured reserve on Aug. 21, he subsequently underwent surgery to repair the hamstring the following day...Initially signed with the Packers as a free agent on Jan. 27...1994: Originally signed by the Washington Redskins on April 27, 1994, as an undrafted free agent...Waived early in training camp (July 29) and spent balance of season out of football.

COLLEGE: A four-year starter (1989-90, 1992-93) at North Alabama...Redshirted in 1991...Finished his collegiate career with 2,609 yards and 30 touchdowns on 271 carries...Gained 910 yards on 124 attempts and scored 12 touchdowns as a senior...Earned first-team All-Gulf South honors at fullback as a junior, when he rushed for a career-high 935 yards...Majored in health/physical education/recreation management.

59 WAYNE SIMMONS

Linebacker

Clemson 4th year

Ht: 6-2½ Wt: 248 Born: 12/15/69 Acq: D1a-93

PRO: Injury-free last year for the first time as a professional, fully showed why he had been a first-round draft choice in 1993...Poised to take his play to an even higher level in 1996...Grabbed hold of the Packers' starting job at 'Buck' (left outside) linebacker in the '95 preseason and never relinquished it...Played well, especially as the season progressed and into the playoffs, culminating in a brilliant effort in Green Bay's upset win over the 49ers in the postseason...Earlier had turned in career numbers for tackles, sacks and passes defensed in the regular season...Became one of club's defensive leaders last year as well...Had been hampered by separate knee injuries during each of his first two NFL training camps, which had cost him valuable time on the field..."Wayne Simmons last season demonstrated why he was a number-one draft choice," says Fritz Shurmur, Green Bay's veteran defensive coordinator. "He has excellent ability, has assumed a leadership role on this team and, I think, had one of the great games a linebacker's had around here in the San Francisco game. He has nothing but a great future as an outside linebacker in this league. You can't minimize the role he played as a leader on this team."...Is especially adept at covering the opposing team's tight end, while also becoming more and more of a force as a pass rusher, according to Shurmur..."Wayne is very athletic for a big guy," he says, "and is very good at the pass coverage aspect of the game. And he really is improving on almost a daily basis during practices on his ability to be able to rush the passer. He had some big sacks and pressures from the linebacker position, especially in the 'nickel' defense, and we look to expand that role for him."...Was second linebacker chosen in the 1993 draft, only the Jets' Marvin Jones was picked ahead of him...Started half of the team's games that year, winning all-rookie accolades despite his early injury difficulties...1995: Enjoyed breakthrough season, starting all 16 games for the first time in his pro career...Finished second on the team in tackles with a career-high 103 (68 solo)...Also had a career-best 4 sacks and 5 passes defensed, plus a forced fumble and a fumble recovery...Continued his strong play in the postseason as he led Green Bay in tackles with 30 (20 solo) while starting all three games...Had brightest day of his young NFL career in 27-17 upset win over defending Super Bowl Champion 49ers (Jan. 6) in divisional playoff round...Jarred ball from San Francisco's Adam Walker on Niners' first play from scrimmage, Green Bay assuming an early 7-0 lead after the Packers' Craig Newsome scooped up the loose ball and raced 31 yards for a touchdown...Made a career-high 16 tackles (11 solo) against San Francisco, including a sack of Steve Young and the aforementioned forced fumble...Also contributed a day-long physical presence as a pass defender, knocking down 2 balls and continually harrassing 49er tight end Brent Jones...Followed up San Francisco performance by registering 10 tackles the next week at Dallas in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...Made 7-or-more tackles in nine regular-season games, including 11 at Jacksonville (Sept. 24) and the same number later vs. Chicago (Nov. 12)...His totals against the Jaguars also contained the first 2-sack game of his career and a pass breakup...Recovered an Erik Kramer fumble with just under two minutes remaining in initial meeting with the Bears (Sept. 11), allowing Green Bay to run out the clock and preserve a 27-24 victory...Made two big, back-to-back plays Nov. 19 at Cleveland...Combined with teammate Sean Jones to stop Browns QB Vinny Testaverde on a fourth-and-one sneak attempt at the Green Bay 10-yard line, giving the Packers the ball back with 2:58 left in the game...One play earlier, he had halted the Browns' Earnest Byner one yard short of a first down to set up the ensuing sneak...Recorded 7 tackles, including a sack and forced fumble of Jim Everett, at New Orleans (Dec. 16)...Had a career-high 3 passes defensed in win over Tampa Bay (Nov. 26)...1994: Had a promising training camp cut short when he sprained the lateral portion of his left knee during third preseason contest, at New Orleans (Aug. 19)...Subsequently was inactive for each of Packers' first four regular-season games...Came back to play in team's final 12 games, making one start...Found himself stuck behind Bryce Paup, who subsequently was voted to the Pro Bowl, upon returning from his injury-forced absence...Recorded 14 tackles (9 solo) during the regular season...Made 2 special teams tackles, in addition to 1 stop in spot duty at linebacker, in first game back, Oct. 2 at New England...Had good upfield surge to draw critical holding penalty on Rams' Wayne Gandy, short-circuiting L.A. drive which had reached Green Bay two-yard line in final minutes of 24-17 Packers victory (Oct. 9)...Had a season-high 5 tackles plus 1 pass defensed in LLB start vs. Atlanta (Dec. 18) as Packers opened in 'nickel' package...Contributed 5 solo tackles on special teams over course of regular season...Registered 3 solo stops in postseason play as he saw action in both playoff games, including LLB start at Dallas (Jan. 8)...1993: Overcame preseason knee injury to win all-rookie honors...Played in 14 games with eight starts, he also started both playoff contests at 'Buck' linebacker...Finished 10th on team in tackles with 39 (20 solo), additionally contributing 1 sack, 2 interceptions and 2 passes defensed...Made 10 stops (8 solo) in postseason play, including 7 at Detroit (Jan. 8)...Chosen to all-rookie teams of Pro Football Weekly/Pro Football Writers of America and Football Digest...Had pro career get off to a difficult start when he tore cartilage in his right knee during a July 26 training camp practice...Following arthroscopic surgery on July 29, missed all five preseason games...Was able to return in time for regular-season opener vs. the Rams, seeing limited action in first two league contests...Made first-ever NFL start Sept. 26 at Minnesota, recording 4 tackles and sharing in ½ of two sacks...Registered season-high 8 tackles in Sunday night tilt vs. Denver (Oct. 10)...Also had his first NFL interception against Broncos, picking off a John Elway pass which he returned 19 yards to Denver's 23, setting up a field goal in eventual 30-27 victory...Was making his seventh straight start at LOLB when he suffered a pulled hamstring in first half of win at New Orleans (Nov. 14), causing him to be inactive for the ensuing two games (vs. Detroit and Tampa Bay)...Made his second interception of the season — positioning Green Bay for its final touchdown in 28-0 triumph — Dec. 26 against the Raiders in what was his first start since hamstring malady...Was the first of two first-round draft choices (15th overall and second linebacker) by Green Bay in 1993.

COLLEGE: Two-year starter and four-year letterman (1989-92) at Clemson...Redshirted in 1988...Recorded 206 career tackles (128 solo), including 36 for loss and 19 sacks, plus 2 forced fumbles, 4 fumble recoveries, 2 interceptions and 17 passes defensed...Had a tackle for loss in 25 of his 45 games with Tigers...Member of three Clemson defenses which ranked among top five in nation...Partially blocked a field goal in final seconds of 1991 game with Virginia which maintained 20-20 tie and helped Tigers capture Atlantic Coast Conference title...Had 73-yard interception return for a touchdown in 1989 contest vs. Florida State...Holds a B.A. degree in finance.

73 AARON TAYLOR

Offensive Guard

Notre Dame 3rd year

Ht: 6-4 Wt: 305 Born: 11/14/72 Acq: D1-94

PRO: Former first-round draft choice who has had each of his first two pro seasons ended by similar knee injuries...Missed his entire rookie year after tearing the patellar tendon in his right knee during a June 1994 rookie mini-camp...Fully returned to action 14 months later, he went on to start the entire 1995 season at left guard for Green Bay before rupturing the same tendon in his other (left) knee during the opening game of the playoffs...On a tighter time frame (less than eight months) in his return this time due to when the injury occurred, he has established Sept. 1 — the day of the Packers' 1996 regular-season opener with Tampa Bay — as his personal target date to get back onto the playing field...A two-time collegiate All-American, he was pencilled in as the team's starter at left guard the day he was drafted...Began to live up to his extreme promise as the 1995 season wore on..."You saw a steady progression from him, he got better as the season went on," says Tom Lovat, Green Bay's offensive line coach. "Then the injury hit. As far as his play and as far as the kind of mistakes he made, he was like the normal rookie — maybe not as many mistakes as the normal rookie. I think he can get better. Coming off of the injury, he'll definitely have some rustiness. But he'll be more ready to play this time than last time because of the mental part. He knows that injury, having been through it one time, he knows how far he can push it. It will just be a matter of timing once he gets back as far as the assignments go."...Demonstrated all the characteristics of a superior offensive lineman in college — size, speed, strength and intelligence — traits which make him especially suited to play in the Packers' offense...No matter the date of his return, heading into this season again will have a handicap that he had in 1995, Lovat points out..."What the injury has done is, and what he wasn't able to do last year because he was rehabbing," says Lovat, "was strengthen the lower body for the type of player he has to be. And that, I think, had a direct effect on why he got injured again. He was playing, utilizing the back muscles, and he put a lot of strain on them. Now that he reinjured himself, that's put him back in the same category this offseason."...Versatile, also has the capability to easily shift over and play at tackle, a move already made in his career as a collegian...1995: Successfully returned from knee injury which had kept him on sidelines throughout his rookie year to start all 16 regular-season games at left guard...Also started in first-round playoff victory over Atlanta (Dec. 31) before tearing the patellar tendon in his left knee late in the first half while engaged with the Falcons' Jumpy Geathers...Corrective surgery was performed on Jan. 2, 1996, and he was placed on injured reserve Jan. 12 after being inactive for San Francisco postseason contest...Had made critical recovery of a Brett Favre fumble near midfield early in the third quarter of 21-21 game vs. Chicago (Nov. 12), Green Bay subsequently went on to defeat the Bears 35-28...Also had recovered a fumble by Favre in win over the N.Y. Giants (Sept. 17)...Started and saw the first action of his NFL career in opener vs. St. Louis (Sept. 3)...1994: Had his rookie season ended before it even got started by a freak summer knee injury...Ruptured the patellar tendon in his right knee June 6 while participating in a rookie mini-camp, the injury occuring during a routine one-on-one pass protection drill...Underwent corrective surgery the following day, he later was placed on the reserve/physically unable to perform list Aug. 25...Despite an intensive rehabilitation, was unfit to return to the field in '94 and remained on PUP...First-round draft choice (16th overall and third offensive lineman, after Eagles' Bernard Williams and Rams' Wayne Gandy) of Green Bay in 1994, his acquisition the byproduct of a trade with Miami which saw the Packers move up four spots to snatch him.

COLLEGE: Three-year starter and letterman (1991-93) at Notre Dame...Was a first-team All-America choice each of his final two seasons, including unanimous selection as a senior...Winner of the Lombardi Award, given annually to the top lineman in the country, following his senior season, a year which also saw him serve as one of three captains for the Irish...Additionally, was one of three finalists that year for the Outland Trophy, presented to college football's top interior lineman...Utilized primarily at guard over his first three seasons before switching to left tackle as a senior...Helped Notre Dame to rank among national leaders in rushing each of his final three seasons — sixth in '91, third in '92 and sixth in '93...Played in two games as a 1990 freshman, but did not letter...Holds a B.A. degree in sociology.

PERSONAL: Given name Aaron Matthew Taylor...Nicknamed 'A.T.'...Born in San Francisco...Single...First-team prep All-America pick of USA Today as a senior at De La Salle High School in Concord, Calif., where he played both offensive and defensive tackle...Was a two-time all-state choice and helped his team win back-to-back section titles...Rated as one of the top 100 incoming freshmen nationally by at least six different publications, including USA Today and The Sporting News, upon graduation...Heavily involved in local community service, among his contributions are frequent appearances as a speaker at elementary schools...Organized in 1995 team-wide sponsorship of 45 Brown County needy families through Paul's Pantry — providing food, toys and clothes — with similar plans for '96...Was able to furnish hats and mittens to roughly 1,100 kids last year through player cash contributions he collected and turned over to Paul's Pantry...Local spokesman for 1996 'AIDS Walk Wisconsin' held Sept. 22 along Milwaukee's Lakefront, in conjunction with Center Project, Inc. (a Green Bay AIDS/HIV testing and awareness clinic)...Also serves as a spokesman for the Cerebral Palsy Center in Green Bay, including work as a host on the annual CP telethon, and has given time to the local American Heart Association...Previously, while in college, had worked with Big Brothers/Big Sisters and D.A.R.E. ...Was co-host of a weekly Monday night show on Green Bay's WNFL Radio during the 1995 season...Hobbies include food, sleep, using his Sony PlayStation and music...Also enjoys target shooting, trap shooting and shooting sporting clays...Residence: De Pere, Wis.

31 GEORGE TEAGUE

Free Safety

Alabama 4th year

Ht: 6-1 Wt: 195 Born: 2/18/71 Acq: D1b-93

PRO: Now entering his fourth professional season, George Teague hopes to overcome illness and nagging injuries that have hampered his play the last two seasons...In 1994 he was plagued by a thyroid condition, while last season a nagging toe injury limited his play...Despite the setbacks, he still recorded a career-best 72 tackles in 1995 and equalled his career high with 13 passes defensed...Had started 41 consecutive regular-season games for the Green and Gold at free safety until he missed the second Tampa Bay contest with a toe injury...Has started 43 career games in the regular season, in addition to seven postseason starts...Known for making big plays in college, has not disappointed in that aspect in the professional ranks — returning an interception 101 yards for a touchdown (the longest in NFL postseason history) against Detroit in a 1993 playoff game and bringing back another interception 74 yards last season vs. Cincinnati...Green Bay defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur is one person who is wishful that Teague can regain his old form, saying, "I'm hoping for a return to his '93 physical status after two years of fighting illness and injuries. George appears to be ready to return to his old form. He has exceptional ball skills and the ability to make plays."...1995: Started 15 games at free safety, missing only the Tampa Bay contest (Dec. 10) with a nagging toe injury...Had started 41 consecutive games at free safety until Bucs contest...Tied for sixth on the team with a career-high 72 tackles...Equalled his career best with 13 passes defensed (tied for third on club), he also had 2 interceptions and 1 fumble recovery...Intercepted his second pass of the season Dec. 3 vs. Cincinnati and returned it 74 yards to the Bengals' four-yard line...Had made his first pickoff of the year Oct. 15 vs. Detroit, when he intercepted a tipped Scott Mitchell throw at the Green Bay 38-yard line with 1:28 left in the game, clinching a 30-21 win over the Lions...Made a career-high 12 tackles at New Orleans (Dec. 16)...Had 5 tackles and 1 pass defensed at Minnesota (Nov. 5), including a recovery of a James Stewart fumble late in the fourth quarter, stopping an almost-certain Vikings scoring drive...Started vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 26) despite missing entire practice week due to broken big toe, suffered one week earlier at Cleveland...Started at free safety in all three postseason games, he finished as the team's third-leading tackler in the playoffs with 21 total stops...Made 5 tackles and intercepted a Jeff George pass in playoff win over Atlanta (Dec. 31)...Had 11 tackles at Dallas in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...1994: Started all 16 regular-season games at free safety for the first time in his career though he had never fully recovered from a thyroid problem that plagued him prior to the season...Also started both playoff games...Finished third on the team with a career-high 13 passes defensed, he also had 53 tackles (ninth on club)...Tied for second on the team with a career-high 3 interceptions...Practiced on a limited basis early in training camp due to a thyroid condition discovered in the offseason which initially produced dramatic weight loss and later hampered his conditioning...Began practicing on a full-time basis Aug. 4...Turned in outstanding performance in season-opening win over Minnesota (Sept. 4) when he intercepted 2 Warren Moon passes — the first led to a 25-yard field goal, while the second stopped a Vikings drive in Green Bay territory — but suffered a fractured thumb in contest...Was forced to play with a cast on one hand for much of the first half of the season in order to protect thumb...Later intercepted a Craig Erickson pass in regular-season finale at Tampa Bay (Dec. 24)...Made a season-high 8 tackles vs. N.Y. Jets (Nov. 13)...Forced a fumble in Thanksgiving Day loss at Dallas...Contributed 8 solo tackles in the playoffs...1993: Played in all 16 games, starting the final 12 plus both postseason contests at free safety...Made one of the more memorable plays in Packers' illustrious playoff history at Detroit (Jan. 8) when, with the Lions driving to an almost-certain score, he intercepted an Erik Kramer pass one-yard deep in the end zone and returned it 101 yards for a touchdown, giving the Packers a 21-17 lead late in the third quarter of an eventual 28-24 win...His 101-yard return was the longest INT return in NFL playoff history — breaking the previous mark of 98 yards, set by the Jets' Darrol Ray Jan. 9, 1982, at Cincinnati — and along with his 4 solo tackles helped earn him selection as the NFL's 'Defensive Player of the Week' for the wild-card round...It also tied him with Herb Adderley and Mark Lee for the team record for most interceptions returned for a touchdown in postseason play (one)...Chosen to all-rookie teams of Pro Football Weekly/Pro Football Writers of America, Football Digest and College & Pro Football Newsweekly...Also named as Packers' 'Rookie of the Year'...Finished the year tied for 12th on the team with 36 total tackles (30 solo)...Contributed 9 solo tackles in the playoffs...Also made 5 unassisted special teams tackles...Had seen action in 'nickel' and 'dime' packages in first four games (backing up Mike Prior) before starting his first game as a pro at free safety vs. Denver (Oct. 10)...Made 4 tackles on defense and also forced a Glyn Milburn fumble on kickoff coverage, which he recovered himself to set up a Packer score, giving Green Bay a 17-0 lead in an eventual 30-27 win over the Broncos...Had 4 tackles and 1 fumble recovery at New Orleans (Nov. 14), the recovery setting up the Packers' only touchdown in a 19-17 win over the Saints...Recorded 2 passes defensed, including his first NFL interception (of Jeff Hostetler), Dec. 26 vs. L.A. Raiders...Made season-high 5 solo tackles in playoff loss at Dallas (Jan. 16)...The second of two first-round draft choices (29th overall) by Green Bay in 1993.

COLLEGE: A four-year letterwinner (1989-92) at Alabama, starting his final three seasons...Totaled 150 tackles (104 solo), 14 interceptions, 25 passes defensed, 1 sack, 1 fumble recovery and 3 forced fumbles as a collegian...A second-team All-America selection by the Associated Press, United Press International and College & Pro Football Newsweekly in 1992 as the Crimson Tide won the national title...Also earned first-team All-Southeastern Conference honors as he was a major factor in the Tide's top-ranked defense...Turned in remarkable performance in national title-clinching win over Miami (Fla.) in Sugar Bowl when he intercepted 2 passes, including one which he returned for a touchdown...Perhaps best known for one play which was called back in same game, where he chased down Hurricanes receiver Lamar Thomas from behind and stripped the ball from him...An All-SEC second-team selection as a 1991 junior, when he led conference with 6 interceptions...Also had career highs for total tackles (54) and passes broken up (11)...Started at free safety after making the switch from cornerback...Was one of the premier young defensive backs in the SEC as a sophomore, starting all year at left cornerback...One of only two true freshmen to play for Alabama in 1989, saw most action in 'nickel' situations...Majored in accounting.

PERSONAL: Given name George Theo Teague...Nicknamed 'Mr. Glue'...Born in Lansing, Mich. ...Married to Consuela, couple has one son, James Teague II (born 7/14/93)...A first-team, Class 6A all-state selection as a defensive back at Jeff Davis High School in Montgomery, Ala. ...Played in the Alabama-Mississippi High School all-star game...Also was an academic all-state choice...Won three letters in track as a sprinter...Worked with local YMCA and Boys & Girls Club while a student at Alabama...Has been very much involved with Children's Hospital of Wisconsin, establishing a foundation called 'Teague's League' to further benefit Children's Hospital...Through his foundation he brought 40 kids (consisting of Special Olympians and needy children) to both the Cincinnati and Tampa Bay games in 1995, where they sat in a special 'Teague's League' section...Played host to the 'George Teague Celebrity Softball Challenge' this past July (for the third consecutive year) as he and other Packers, as well as other celebrities, faced national recording artist Michael Bolton and his team in a softball game, held at Fox Cities Stadium in Appleton, Wis.; all proceeds from the event, which also saw a second game played in 1996 at Milwaukee County Stadium, go to Children's Hospital and the Michael Bolton Foundation...Also formed a 'Teague's League' basketball team consisting of himself and other Packer players, the team played games in Appleton which benefited Special Olympics of Wisconsin and the Appleton Police Benevolent Association...One of his hobbies is listening to music — he has a few turntables at home and has deejayed at functions of various friends...Residence: Green Bay.

83 JEFF THOMASON

Tight End
Oregon 4th year
Ht: 6-4½ Wt: 250 Born: 12/30/69 Acq: FA-95

PRO: Now in his second season with the Packers, Jeff Thomason looks to see more action in 1996 after mainly a special teams role during the '95 campaign...Served as Green Bay's third tight end for much of the year, though was the primary backup to starter Mark Chmura early in the season...A talented athlete who really has dedicated himself to the game of late...According to Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis, Thomason has good size and catches the ball well..."Jeff is an excellent receiver who is a big target with soft hands," says Lewis. "He's one of those guys that improves every day. He's also a good special teams player. Right now he's battling for that backup spot. He played there a little for us last year and will play even more this year. He's going to be a good player for us."...Began NFL career with Cincinnati Bengals in 1992 as an undrafted free agent...Spent two seasons with the Bengals (1992-'93) prior to making Green Bay roster last year...1995: Was Packers' backup tight end through first part of season, but saw role on offense diminish somewhat following arrival of Keith Jackson in October...Got most of his playing time on special teams...Finished the year strong on special teams, making 13 of his 15 tackles over the final six games...His 15 stops with Green Bay's coverage units tied him for third on the club...Made a career-high 4 tackles (3 solo) on special teams at New Orleans (Dec. 16)...Earlier had 3 special teams stops at Cleveland (Nov. 19) and vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 26)...Played in all 16 games for first time as a pro, starting once (Oct. 15 vs. Detroit) as Packers opened in two-tight end formation...Ended season with 3 catches for 32 yards...Caught 7-yard pass Sept. 3 vs. St. Louis for first reception as a Packer...Later made catches in victories at Chicago (Sept. 11) and Jacksonville (Sept. 24)...Saw action in all three of the club's postseason games, contributing 2 solo tackles on special teams...Left Minnesota contest (Oct. 22) early after suffering a concussion on a kickoff return...Sprained medial collateral ligament in his left knee in a training camp practice Aug. 16, causing him to miss the final two preseason games...Had signed with Green Bay as a free agent on Jan. 12...1994: Released by Cincinnati July 29, he was claimed on waivers by the Packers on Aug. 1...Subsequently let go by Green Bay Aug. 22, he spent the remainder of the season out of football...1993: Played in three games for the Bengals over course of the season...Was inactive for team's other 13 contests...Made 2 receptions for 8 yards...Caught passes at Pittsburgh (Sept. 19) and vs. Houston (Nov. 14)...Also saw action against Seattle (Sept. 26)...1992: Originally signed with Cincinnati as an undrafted free agent on April 29...Spent majority of season on injured reserve with a knee injury...Placed on IR Sept. 1, where he stayed until activated on Dec. 5...Played in the last four games of the season for Bengals, catching 2 passes for 14 yards...Also contributed 1 solo tackle on special teams.

COLLEGE: A four-time letterwinner (1988-91) at Oregon, where he started his last two seasons...Served as team captain his senior year...Finished his collegiate career with 63 receptions for 818 yards and 10 touchdowns...Caught career-high 30 passes for 396 yards and 6 TDs in 1990...Made 21 receptions as a senior and 12 as a sophomore...Holds B.S. degree in psychology.

PERSONAL: Given name Jeffrey David Thomason...Born in San Diego...Single...Lettered two years in football at Corona Del Mar High School in Newport Beach, Calif. ...Played linebacker and tight end...Also lettered four years in swimming...Worked for a Boulder, Colo., environmental firm (Environmental Solutions) as a sales representative during the 1995 offseason...Has given time to Cystic Fibrosis Foundation in Cincinnati and Boulder...Has plans to attend law school — he currently is studying for the LSAT entrance exam...Hobbies include reading and golf...Residence: Aptos, Calif.

63 ADAM TIMMERMAN

Offensive Guard
South Dakota State 2nd year
Ht: 6-4 Wt: 295 Born: 8/14/71 Acq: D7-95

PRO: Was one of the Packers' most pleasant surprises last season...Only a year after he went to training camp with hopes of simply making the club, now finds himself as a potential starter at guard in 1996...Is one of the team's more popular players because of his genuine demeanor off the field, he is a fierce and intense competitor on the field...Able to play both guard spots...Filled in well late last season during Green Bay's playoff run as he started two postseason contests after Aaron Taylor was lost with a knee injury...All Timmerman lacks is a little experience, according to Packers offensive line coach Tom Lovat, who says, "He will be a starter in this league. Adam is a good football player who just needs experience. He's got good feet and is a very strong and intelligent football player. He needs a good year of playing to eventually become a good starter."...1995: Served as a backup at both guard positions...Saw action on special teams in 13 regular-season games...Was inactive for three games early in the year (Giants, Jaguars, Cowboys)...Pressed into service during the playoffs when Taylor went down with a season-ending knee injury late in the second quarter of Atlanta postseason contest (Dec. 31)...Played remainder of win over Falcons and then had successive starts at left guard at San Francisco (Jan. 6) and at Dallas (Jan. 14) in NFC Championship Game...Drafted in the seventh round (230th overall) by Green Bay in 1995.

COLLEGE: Was a four-time letterman (1990, 1992-94) at South Dakota State, including the last three years as a starter...Earned Division II All-America recognition as a junior and senior...Also was a three-time All-North Central Conference performer for the Jackrabbits...Twice won first-team academic all-conference honors...Received the 'Jim Langer Award,' presented to the nation's top Division II lineman, as a 1994 senior...Granted a medical redshirt year in 1991 after suffering a season-ending ankle injury in the first game...Also was redshirted in 1989 as a true freshman...Graduated from SDSU following the fall semester in late 1993, he then went back to his native Cherokee, Iowa, for six months to help his father tend the family's 800-acre bean and corn farm...Still had one year of football eligibility left, so he decided to return to play his final season...Holds a B.S. degree in agriculture business.

PERSONAL: Given name Adam Larry Timmerman...Nicknamed 'T'...Born in Cherokee, Iowa...Married to Jana...An all-conference and honorable mention all-state performer in football at Washington High School in Cherokee, Iowa...Also was team captain, he played guard, tackle and defensive tackle...Won two letters in football, two in basketball and three in track...Finished eighth in the state track meet in the 110 high hurdles...Was a National Honor Society member...Has given talks at various schools in his free time...Hobbies include fixing up old cars — he has a 1965 Mustang — and farming...Splits residence between Green Bay and Cherokee, Iowa.

92 REGGIE WHITE

Defensive End

Tennessee 12th year

Ht: 6-5 Wt: 300 Born: 12/19/61 Acq: UFA-93

PRO: Larger than life, literally and figuratively, Reggie White is a man apart, both at his position and off the field...Possessor of a persona and exponent of a lifestyle that transcend the game he plays with maximum intensity and commitment, the perennial Pro Bowler continues to elicit superlatives for his exemplary performance in both areas...Still at the very top of his game after 11 years at the pinnacle of his profession, he again saw his on-field preeminence documented in 1995 by his selection to the Pro Bowl for the 10th consecutive year, extending his NFL record for such a laurel being bestowed upon a defensive end...This honor followed upon even more singular recognition for professional football's all-time sacks leader — his election to the National Football League's 75th Anniversary All-Time Team in August of 1994...In 1995, he continued his reign as the league's all-time leader in quarterback sacks, recording an even dozen to swell his career total to 157 over his 11-year NFL tenure...One of the game's most durable performers, he missed a non-strike game for the first time in his career last season (Dec. 10 at Tampa Bay due to a hamstring problem), but was back at his customary stand the following week...Had played in 166 consecutive 'union' contests to that point, one of the longest such streaks in NFL history...Packers defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur, openly admiring of the monolithic Tennessean, pays him high tribute — as a player, leader and citizen..."The good Lord hasn't made too many like him, I don't imagine, over the years. He's rare," Shurmur says of White. "He's rare in his capacity to play the game consistently. He has tremendous strength and explosiveness, to go with speed. And he's wired exactly right to be a great team player. He's probably the most unselfish team player I've ever been around and it rubs off. If you were to look at the one guy whose demeanor and whose mode of living is an example for all of us to follow, it's Reggie White. So it's not only what he has in the way of ability, and that puts him at probably the best who ever played the game at his position. But also that's transcended by his ability to have a compassion for his fellow man outside of football — but also within the framework of the team. That all comes across. He is an outstanding leader. He leads by example better than any player I've been around — he never misses a turn in practice. And for someone to be that gifted — and that unselfish — positions him to be the kind of leader he is. But that's rare. We've all got to realize how rare that is — a rare-ability-guy with rare ability to be able to not have any really personal goals. And that's all transcended by his commitment to get this team to the ultimate game."...These accolades having been delivered, there remains no way to adequately measure White's electrifying impact upon the defense in his three seasons as a Packer...But his unit's rankings since his arrival upon the Green Bay scene offer an eloquent testimonial to his contributions...The defense soared to second place (from a distant 23rd the previous year) in 1993, when the former Philadelphia Eagle superstar joined the Green and Gold as the most sought-after performer to become available with the advent of unrestricted free agency in the National Football League...It subsequently finished a highly-respectable sixth in 1994 despite the loss of starters Johnny Holland, Tony Bennett and Roland Mitchell from the '93 unit...Head Coach Mike Holmgren, for one, was able to put the 1993 performance in practical perspective...White "made us a better football team — no question about it," Holmgren said, documenting this assertion by noting, "We went from 23 on defense (in the league as a whole) to two — with no noticeable dramatic personnel changes, except for one man."...Larry Brooks, who took over as defensive line coach in 1994, also has become a devout fan of professional football's preeminent sack artist..."Reggie's the real deal," he declares. "At his position, there are three or four at the very top and Reggie's in those top three or four. The bigger the game, the bigger he plays. When he gets to playing, it just shows — he's a force. Offensive teams have to account for him with two people. As greatness shows, it shows how great he is in the number of people they put on him. It's hard to know how good he could be if he was single-blocked on a regular basis."...The 34-year-old Chattanooga, Tenn., native is the only player in NFL history to register double-digit sack totals in nine consecutive seasons (1985 through 1993)...Along the way, his perennial dominance at his position has earned him selection to the National Football Conference Pro Bowl squad each of the past 10 seasons, the first seven years as a member of the Eagles...He in 1993 also became the first Packer defensive end chosen for the Pro Bowl since Ezra Johnson in 1978...Impressively productive since his selection by the Eagles as a first-round pick in the NFL's supplemental draft of USFL players in 1984, White has amassed 997 tackles (715 solo), in addition to his 157 sacks...He also has registered 2 interceptions, 39 passes defensed, forced 25 fumbles and recovered 15, two of the latter for touchdowns...In addition, he has supplemented these contributions by posting 2 safeties and blocking 3 kicks (2 FGs and 1 PAT)...The only player to be selected by Pro Football Weekly on its 1980s All-Decade team and also to be projected to its All-1990s team, he has customarily lined up at defensive end, but also has used his strength and speed to play havoc on blocking schemes from various positions along the line during his career...Launched his career with the USFL's Memphis Showboats (1984-85), posting 193 tackles (120 solo), 23½ sacks and forcing 7 fumbles in 34 starts...1995 HONORS: Elected to the Pro Bowl for 10th consecutive year...First-team All-Pro selection by Associated Press, Pro Football Weekly/Pro Football Writers of America, USA Today, Sports Illustrated, The Sporting News, College & Pro Football Newsweekly and Football Digest...All-NFC choice of United Press International and Football News...Selected as NFC 'Defensive Player of the Year' by the Kansas City Committee of 101...Also honored as NFC 'Defensive Player of the Year' at the annual Mackey Awards...Was named to the 'All-Madden Team' by Fox Sports analyst John Madden...1995: Finished third in the NFC with 12 sacks — the 10th time he has enjoyed a double-digit sack year in his 11 NFL seasons...Played in 15 games, making 13 starts...Was the team's second-leading tackler among defensive linemen with 46 total stops...Also forced 2 fumbles and was credited with 4 passes defensed...Made a miraculous recovery in final weeks of the season when an initial prognosis of surgery to repair a torn left hamstring suffered in Dec. 3 victory over Cincinnati (which would have ended his personal year) proved premature when he returned to practice on Dec. 14 (a Thursday), the day after the presumed need for surgery was announced (Wednesday, Dec. 13)...First felt renewed strength in the hamstring at his home the evening of the 13th, then confirmed those thoughts during a late-night workout at the Packers' indoor practice facility, The Don Hutson Center, under the supervision of Kent Johnston, the team's strength and conditioning coach...Saw action in pass-rushing situations two days later at New Orleans (Dec. 16), recording 1 solo tackle...Subsequently returned to the starting lineup for regular-season finale vs. Pittsburgh the following week (Dec. 24)...Had missed the first non-strike game of his NFL career when he was inactive for Bucs rematch at Tampa (Dec. 10) with the hamstring injury suffered a week earlier...Had his third sack in as many weeks against Bengals, but also suffered hamstring tear in his left leg in the fourth quarter...Felled the Bucs' Trent Dilfer for a 10-yard loss late in the third quarter vs. Tampa Bay (Nov. 26)...Sacked Browns quarterback Eric Zeier for an 11-yard loss among his 3 tackles in the Packers' win at Cleveland (Nov. 19)...Turned in gutty performance in Green Bay's key, 35-28 victory over Bears (Nov. 12), when he had a season-high 6 tackles, a half-sack and batted down an Erik Kramer pass — despite not knowing until pre-game warmups if he was even going to play, due to the knee injury he had suffered a week earlier...Notched a sack in rematch at Minnesota (Nov. 5), but left the game in the fourth quarter after suffering a sprained medial collateral ligament in his right knee following a collision with teammate Sean Jones on an attempted quarterback sack...Had another in a long line of outstanding performances, this time in first '95 meeting with Minnesota (Oct. 22), when he recorded 2 quarterback sacks and forced a Warren Moon fumble which was recovered in the end zone by Jones for a Green Bay touchdown, giving the Packers a 35-14 lead en route to eventual 38-21 triumph...Dominated each of the three players the Vikings lined up at right tackle across from him...Made 4 tackles and recorded 1 sack at Dallas (Oct. 8) despite constant double-team blocking by the Cowboys...Made 3 tackles and registered 1 sack (another sack was nullified due to a penalty) in the Packers' win at Jacksonville (Sept. 24)...Posted 2 tackles and had 1 pass defensed as he continually hounded Giants QB Dave Brown in win over New York (Sept. 17)...Continues to make the big play, as evidenced at Chicago (Sept. 11), when, with Green Bay clinging to a 27-24 lead, he sacked Kramer, forcing him to fumble, the ball being recovered by teammate Wayne Simmons at the Bears' 22-yard line with only 1:59 remaining in the game...Launched '95 season with a dominating performance against St. Louis Rams (Sept. 3), recording 2½ sacks despite being double- and triple-teamed...THE PLAYOFFS: Registered 2 solo tackles and 1 sack during three postseason appearances, the latter a 5-yard trap of Dallas quarterback Troy Aikman on the Cowboys' first offensive series in NFC Championship Game (Jan. 14)...Though he had no stats to show for his efforts, continually harassed 49ers quarterback Steve Young in 27-17 upset win at San Francisco (Jan. 6) as Green Bay defense shut down Niners' vaunted offensive attack...Did not start wild-card playoff with Atlanta (Dec. 31), but saw considerable duty as a reserve...1994: Durable as well as devastating, he had started 117 consecutive games — tying him with five other players for the longest active streak in the NFL — until the string was snapped Nov. 24 at Dallas when he did not start the game because of an elbow injury, suffered in the previous weekend's Buffalo contest (Nov. 20)...He did, however, come in with the first 'nickel' unit in the first quarter and played much of the rest of the game...Played in all 16 regular-season games, missing only the start against Dallas...Finished second among team's defensive linemen with 59 total tackles and was second on the club with 8 sacks...Also forced 2 fumbles, recovered 1 and knocked down 7 passes...Started both playoff games at defensive tackle, his domination of the middle of the line vs. Detroit (Dec. 31) was a primary reason that the Packers were able to hold the Lions to an NFL postseason record -4 yards rushing on 15 attempts and league rushing champion Barry Sanders to a career-low -1 yard on 13 carries...Made his presence felt Dec. 11 vs. Chicago while moving to the interior of the defensive line at times to make up for the injury loss of Gilbert Brown, the Bears rushed for only 27 yards on 14 carries...Sacked Detroit's Dave Krieg among 2 tackles at the Lions (Dec. 4)...Although hampered by an elbow injury, turned in the type of dominating performance which has become his trademark at Dallas on Thanksgiving Day, posting 6 tackles and 1 sack, an 11-yard drop of Cowboys QB Jason Garrett; he also applied heavy pressure and forced Garrett into an intentional grounding infraction during the contest...Also, on a number of occasions, he lifted 325-pound Dallas offensive tackle Larry Allen off the ground, literally with one arm because his left elbow was in a brace, as he strove to move upfield...Played against Cowboys when, only two days earlier, he had been declared out of the contest medically due to the elbow injury suffered vs. the Bills...Had 2 tackles at Buffalo, but suffered sprained medial ligament in his left elbow midway through the third quarter, an injury which forced him to leave the game...Equalled his season high with 6 tackles in the Packers' 38-30 win over Detroit (Nov. 6), he also batted down a Krieg pass...Had one of the most dominating performances of his career Oct. 20 at Minnesota...After flushing Moon out of the pocket, he promptly took WR Cris Carter (who was between White and Moon) and flung him at Moon's feet before sacking the Viking QB for a 15-yard loss...On another play, he grabbed 331-pound Minnesota lineman Bernard Dafney and threw him off his feet with his right arm as he made a move upfield...Also had 6 tackles vs. Vikes...Earlier had sacked Moon among 6 tackles in season-opening, 16-10 win (Sept. 4) over Minnesota, also knocking down a pass in the same contest — all while lining up against All-Pro Chris Hinton...Registered a season-high 2 sacks vs. L.A. Rams (Oct. 9), including one of QB Chris Miller that ended the Rams' final drive as Miller also fumbled the football in the process...Sacked Drew Bledsoe at New England (Oct. 2) among 5 total tackles, also batting down a pass...Had a sack and forced a fumble (both on the same play) on the Bucs' Craig Erickson, and recovered a Vince Workman fumble on an attempted reverse — all in the second quarter — in the Packers' 30-3 win over Tampa Bay (Sept. 25)...Applied heavy pressure to Philadelphia QB Randall Cunningham in his initial return to the city where he played his first eight NFL seasons (Sept. 18), posting 3 solo tackles and drawing 2 holding penalties...Named to Sports Illustrated All-Pro team, he also was chosen second-team All-Pro by AP, College & Pro Football Newsweekly and Football Digest...Additionally voted to UPI and Football News All-NFC teams, in addition to selection as Pro Bowl starter...Along with the Bills' Bruce Smith, was honored in June of 1995 at the annual Mackey Awards banquet as the NFL's outstanding defensive linemen for the '94 season, selection coming in a vote of the league's players...As testimony to his characteristic candor, also was named to the 'All-Interview Team' of the Pro Football Writers of America...1993: Started all 16 games at left defensive end in his first Packer season and became an immediate team leader, both by example and contribution...Became

MOST SACKS — NFL HISTORY (COMPILED SINCE 1982)

157.0	REGGIE WHITE, Philadelphia 1985-92; Green Bay 1993-95
132.5	Lawrence Taylor, N.Y. Giants 1982-93
128.0	Rickey Jackson, New Orleans 1982-93; San Francisco 1994-95
126.5	Richard Dent, Chicago 1983-93, 1995; San Francisco 1994
	Bruce Smith, Buffalo 1985-95

NFL's all-time sacks leader in season's first Bears contest (Oct. 31), surpassing Lawrence Taylor, and went on to close out year as NFC's 1993 co-leader (with Renaldo Turnbull of New Orleans) with 13...Led Green Bay's defensive line in total tackles with 98 (67 solo)...Also tied for team lead in forced fumbles (3) and fumble recoveries (2)...Elected to Pro Bowl for eighth consecutive year (as a starter in '93), he also was named a first-team All-Pro by Sporting News and was a second-team All-Pro choice of AP, Football Digest and College & Pro Football Newsweekly...Also tabbed for UPI and Football News All-NFC teams...Turned in exceptional performance in "reunion" meeting with Philadelphia (Sept. 12), posting 8 tackles, 1 sack and forcing 2 fumbles...Later named Pro Football Writers of America-Classic Games 'Player of the Week' for an outstanding, clutch effort vs. Denver (Oct. 10), when he had 5 tackles and 3 sacks, including sacks on consecutive plays (third and fourth down) late in the fourth quarter to seal a 30-27 victory for the Packers after the Broncos had advanced to the Green Bay 43-yard line...Contributed another sterling performance vs. Bears (Oct. 31), forging season-high 10 tackles, 2 sacks and 1 forced fumble...Registered 7 tackles and 1 sack in a 'Monday Night Football' appearance at Kansas City (Nov. 8)...Had 2 more sacks among his 8 tackles in the Packers' 19-17, come-from-behind win at New Orleans (Nov. 14) to earn NFC 'Defensive Player of the Week' honors...Recorded 6 tackles and 1 sack in Packers' 26-17 victory over Detroit at Milwaukee (Nov. 21)...Forged another dominating performance Dec. 26 vs. L.A. Raiders, posting 8 tackles, 2½ sacks, 1 pass defensed and 1 fumble recovery — the latter forced by LeRoy Butler off Raiders' Randy Jordan, which White scooped up and ran 10 yards with before lateraling back to Butler, who ran 25 yards for a TD, giving Packers a 21-0 lead in an eventual 28-0 victory...Equalled '93 best with 10 total tackles, including a season-high 8 solo stops, in regular-season finale at Detroit (Jan. 2)...Started both postseason contests, played a significant defensive role in Packers' 28-24 playoff victory over the Lions (Jan. 8), collecting 4 tackles and sacking Detroit QB Kramer twice...1992: Led Eagles' defense in the first round of the NFC playoffs at New Orleans, making the two biggest plays of the game...The first came on a third-and-one for the Saints, which saw White stop RB Craig Heyward for no gain, forcing New Orleans to settle for a field goal...He then sacked QB Bobby Hebert to cause a subsequent safety, sealing a 36-20 win...A week later, in a 34-10 loss to eventual Super Bowl XXVII champion Dallas, White weighed in with 7 tackles and a sack...Earlier finished regular season with 14 sacks...Had perhaps his best performance of season Nov. 22 at the N.Y. Giants, registering 3½ sacks, 7 QB hurries and 8 tackles...Posted season-high tackle total of 11 vs. L.A. Raiders (Nov. 8), his output including 1½ sacks...Returned a fumble (by Phoenix QB Chris Chandler) 37 yards for the game's final touchdown against Cardinals...Played in his 120th consecutive non-strike game for Eagles in regular-season finale vs. Giants...Chosen to NFC's Pro Bowl squad for seventh consecutive season, an Eagles record...Named All-Pro by Pro Football Weekly/PFWA, Newspaper Enterprise Association, College & Pro Football Newsweekly and Football Digest...Also earned All-NFC recognition from UPI and was a second-team All-Pro selection by AP...1991: Was undisputed leader of the Eagles' defense, a unit that achieved a rare triple honor by ranking No. 1 in the NFL against the run, the pass and overall, in terms of fewest yards allowed...A near-unanimous first-team All-Pro pick, he subsequently was selected a starter in the Pro Bowl for the sixth straight year...Also was named NFL 'Defensive Player of the Year' by Pro Football Weekly...Closed out season as Eagles' leader in both QB sacks (15) and hurries (55)...Tied for second in the NFL in sacks with William Fuller (Oilers), trailing only Saints' Pat Swilling (17)...When he joined teammates Jerome Brown and Clyde Simmons as NFC starters in the Pro Bowl, it marked the first time since 1981 — and only the sixth time ever — that three defensive linemen from the same team were selected to the Pro Bowl...Made the 100th consecutive regular-season start of his career at Phoenix on Nov. 24...Had one of his finer days as an Eagle at Green Bay in the season opener — 3 sacks, 2 forced fumbles (one of which he covered) and batted a Don Majkowski pass which then was intercepted by linemate Mike Golic...Forged other multiple sack performances vs. the Giants (Nov. 4), Cincinnati (Nov. 17) and Washington (Dec. 22), registering an interception vs. Bengals as Golic returned the favor, tipping a Boomer Esiason pass into the air for White...In a CBS Sports poll, conducted during the season and asking NFL club general managers which player they would build their defense around, White was named most often...1990: Selected as an NFC Pro Bowl starter for the fifth consecutive season...Earned near unanimous All-NFL acclaim and was named 'Defensive Lineman of the Year' by the NFL Players' Association...Led Eagles defense with 14 QB sacks, ranking second in the NFC to the 49ers' Charles Haley and fourth in NFL...Had season-high 3 sacks vs. Indianapolis (Sept. 30)...Made his first career interception on a deflected pass thrown by Washington QB Jeff Rutledge in a 'Monday Night Football' matchup, returning it 33 yards...Sacked QB Jim Everett on Sept. 23 at the L.A. Rams, forcing a fumble which set up Eagles' first points of the game...1989: Was a Pro Bowl starter and a near-consensus first-team All-NFL and All-NFC pick...Recorded 11 sacks while helping Philadelphia set a team record of 62...Posted three multiple-sack games, including a season-high 2½-sack effort vs. the 49ers (Sept. 24)...Forced a fumble by Giants' Phil Simms that Eagles returned for a touchdown on opening series of a key matchup between NFC East leaders at Giants Stadium (Dec. 3)...1988: Led the NFL in sacks (18) for second straight year...Named NFL 'Player of the Year' by the Washington Touchdown Club and was a unanimous selection as a Pro Bowl starter...Finished second to Chicago's Mike Singletary in AP balloting for NFL defensive MVP, while gaining near-unanimous first-team All-NFL recognition...Had six multiple-sack games, including the third 4-sack game of his career (at Minnesota on Sept. 25)...Led Eagles' linemen with 133 total tackles...Earned NFC 'Defensive Player of the Month' honors in December, punctuating his performance with a 14-tackle, 2-sack effort at Dallas (Dec. 18)...1987: Paced the NFL with an NFC-record 21 sacks (one short of league standard of 22 set by Jets' Mark Gastineau in 1984) — in only 12 games as the season was abbreviated by a player strike...Named NFL 'Defensive Player of the Year' by NEA, NFL Films and Touchdown magazine...Also voted NFC 'Defensive Player of the Year' by UPI, Pro Football Weekly and the Kansas City Committee of 101, as well as garnering 'Defensive Lineman of the Year' recognition from NFL Alumni...Unanimous All-NFL selection and a Pro Bowl starter...Had a sack in 11 of the Eagles' 12 non-strike games, including nine multiple-sack contests...Stole the ball from Washington QB Doug Williams and ran 70 yards for his first NFL touchdown (Sept. 13)...1986: Selected as a Pro Bowl starter and subsequently became game's MVP when he tied a Pro Bowl record with 4 sacks...Earned first-team All-NFL and All-NFC honors after ranking third in both the league and conference in sacks (18, then an Eagles record) behind Taylor (20½) and the Redskins' Dexter Manley (18½)...Made 15 of his 18 sacks over the final eight games, including 3 at Dallas on Dec. 14 which earned him NFC 'Defensive Player of the Week' honors...1985: Officially became an Eagle on Sept. 20 when Philadelphia purchased his rights from the USFL's Memphis Showboats...Joined Eagles in Week 4 and went on to be named NFC 'Defensive Rookie of the Year' by the NFLPA, first-team NFL all-rookie and honorable mention All-Pro...Made memorable debut on Sept. 29 vs. N.Y. Giants, recording 2½ sacks and deflecting a pass which teammate Herman Edwards intercepted and returned for a touchdown...Became starting left defensive end the following week in 3-4 defense Eagles then were playing...Ended season tied for team lead in sacks with 13 (fifth in NFC)...Had played in 20 regular and postseason games for the Showboats prior to joining Philadelphia, earning first-team All-USFL honors after ranking third in the league with 12½ sacks...1984: Began pro career with Memphis Showboats in January and made USFL all-rookie team with 11-sack performance...Selected by Eagles as their first-round choice (the fourth player chosen overall) in the NFL's 1984 supplemental draft of USFL players.

COLLEGE: Enjoyed such a legendary career at the University of Tennessee that, during the school's centennial season of football in 1991, he was named to the Volunteers' all-time team...Nicknamed 'Minister of Defense,' he was a consensus All-American and Southeastern Conference 'Player of the Year' as a senior...Also was one of four finalists for the Lombardi Award, given annually to the nation's outstanding college lineman, his final season...Holds a B.A. degree in human services.

PERSONAL: Given name Reginald Howard White...Born in Chattanooga, Tenn. ...Married to Sara, couple has a son, Jeremy (born 5/12/86), and a daughter, Jecolia (born 5/24/88)...Attended Howard High School in Chattanooga, where he lettered three times in football (as a nose tackle and tight end) and basketball and once in track...Was an All-America choice in football and earned all-state selection in basketball...Known nearly as well for his work in the community as for his football accomplishments, he was saluted by the National Football League Players' Association in 1992, when it conferred the prestigious 'Byron "Whizzer" White Humanitarian Award' upon him for his "service to team, community and country in the spirit of Supreme Court Justice Byron White"...Presented with the Simon Wiesenthal Center's 'Tolerance Award' this past May in New York City, given to him "for his commitment to fostering tolerance and pursuing his vision for a better America"...Launched his latest major off-the-field undertaking — the Inner City Community Investment Corporation in Knoxville, Tenn. — early in 1995 with a personal $1 million grant...In its first year of operation, the corporation's Knoxville Community Development Bank distributed $37,800 in micro loans to 89 people who either were small business owners or individuals wanting to start a small business — borrowers generally regarded by other banks as "at risk"...Program has the support of Housing and Urban Development Secretary Henry Cisneros, as well as the President and Vice President...Had a busy 1996 offseason, producing his autobiography, starring in a movie and filming an instructional video...Penned his autobiography, entitled In the Trenches, in collaboration with Jim Denney, which is scheduled for publication by Thomas Nelson (of Nashville) in the fall of 1996...In May, began filming the movie Reggie's Prayer in Portland, Ore., a story about a professional football player who retires so he can work with at-risk teens...The film, scheduled for release early in 1997, included actors Pat Morita, Cylk Cozart and Melba Joyce, in addition to NFL personalities Mike Holmgren, Brett Favre, Keith Jackson, Bryce Paup, Gale Sayers, Rosey Grier, Jerome Bettis, William Roaf and Eddie George...The movie was written and directed by Paul McKellips, a Neenah, Wis., native...In another offseason project, Reggie filmed an instructional video for defensive linemen...During the 1991 and '92 seasons, Reggie spent his post-practice Friday afternoons on Philadelphia street corners, trying to educate area youngsters about the perils of drugs and alcohol as well as on the importance of staying in school...An ordained minister, he has preached regularly in churches of various denominations and on the streets...Is an associate pastor at The Inner City Church in Knoxville, Tenn., which was destroyed by fire during the early morning hours of Jan. 8, 1996, in an apparent case of arson...Since that time, more than $230,000 of the approximately $1 million needed to rebuild has been raised from Wisconsin residents in a strong outpouring of support, with another $10,000 having been raised by Knoxville community leaders...The Whites are working jointly with the National Council of Churches in Washington, D.C., in an effort to halt the numerous church burnings which have occurred throughout the South over the past year...In connection with this effort, Reggie made an appearance on The Montel Williams Show this past summer to discuss issues of racial hatred...Also previously had appeared on NBC-TV's Unsolved Mysteries program early in 1996 as the burning of his church was profiled...A large portion of the proceeds from his 1991 book, The Reggie White Touch Football Playbook: Winning Plays, Rules and Safety Tips, was earmarked for the maternity home which he and Sara formerly maintained on their property...His multiple off-the-field interests include a three-piece line of home fitness equipment, 'Reggie White's All-Pro Workout System,' and his own record label, 'Big Doggie Records,' whose latest releases include 'Touch of Faith,' out of Milwaukee, and the Reggie's Prayer soundtrack...An impressionist of some note, he can "present" a highly credible Muhammad Ali, Rodney Dangerfield, Clint Eastwood, Elvis Presley and Bill Cosby...He also can perform a realistic imitation of a growling guard dog...Hobby: "spending time with my family"...Splits residence between Maryville, Tenn., and Green Bay.

98 GABE WILKINS

Defensive End

Gardner-Webb 3rd year

Ht: 6-4½ Wt: 305 Born: 9/1/71 Acq: D4-94

PRO: A player who couples ideal size with fine athletic skills, this year looks to repeat and extend his early 1995 production over an entire season...Was off to a fast start last year, but then saw his season halted by a knee injury in the Packers' seventh game...Began '95 campaign at defensive tackle, then concentrated on defensive end — a position he will focus on in 1996 — following his return from the knee problem...Having come to the NFL from NAIA Gardner-Webb, should begin to blossom in this his third league season...Green Bay defensive coordinator Fritz Shurmur has seen Wilkins' development and looks for him to contribute even more this year, saying, "He is a small-school player who has developed an awareness of how to play in the NFL. Gabe is well-equipped athletically — he's got good size, speed and toughness. He can play both defensive tackle and defensive end, though he will spend more time at right defensive end this season."...1995: Had a promising beginning to his season interrupted by injury...Started the team's first seven regular-season games at defensive tackle before spraining the medial collateral ligament in his right knee Oct. 22 against Minnesota...No surgery was necessary, but he was inactive for the next three games...Did see action in Packers' final six regular-season contests, including a start at left end Dec. 16 at New Orleans in place of Reggie White, who was being used situationally as he returned from a hamstring injury...Played in 13 games, starting eight...Also saw reserve duty in all three of the team's playoff contests, when he recorded 1 stop...Had finished regular season with 15 tackles, including a sack in three of Green Bay's first four games...Sacked the Rams' Chris Miller in opener with St. Louis (Sept. 3) in his first NFL start...Made 3 tackles at Chicago (Sept. 11), following that up with a career-best 4 stops and a sack six days later vs. the N.Y. Giants...Recorded a sack and a pass defensed in win at Jacksonville (Sept. 24)...1994: Played in final 15 regular-season games after missing the season opener vs. Minnesota (Sept. 4) as the result of a left shoulder injury in preseason finale vs. New England (Aug. 26)...Saw action on the defensive line strictly in a reserve role, recording 2 solo tackles over course of season...Had the best game of his rookie year when he registered his first career sack and had 1 pass defensed in the Packers' 40-3 win over Chicago (Dec. 11)...Received more playing time in the final month of the regular season after Gilbert Brown suffered year-ending knee injury...Did not see action in Dec. 31 playoff game vs. Detroit, but played in the following week's postseason contest at Dallas (Jan. 8)...Drafted in the fourth round (126th overall) by Green Bay in 1994.

COLLEGE: Four-year starter (1990-93) at Gardner-Webb...Registered 29 career sacks, including 19 in his final two seasons...Recorded 265 tackles (153 solo), 53 for loss, over his four seasons...Also forced 6 fumbles, recovered 3 and defensed 10 passes...Earned NAIA All-America first-team selection from the Associated Press, Kodak and Sheridan Broadcasting Network as a junior and senior...Registered 8 sacks and 17 tackles for loss among 76 total stops his senior year, winning unanimous All-South Atlantic Conference first-team honors in the process...Had career highs in total tackles (79) and sacks (11) as a junior...Won All-America honorable mention and all-conference honors as a sophomore, when he had 46 tackles, including 5 sacks and 10 stops for loss...Majored in business administration.

PERSONAL: Given name Gabriel Nickolas Wilkins...Nicknamed 'Gabe' and 'Big Willie'...Born in Spartanburg, S.C. ...Single...Has two daughters, Gabrielle Nicole (born 10/24/92) and Alexis (born 2/21/95)...An all-state and all-league selection in football at Broome High School in Spartanburg, S.C.

...Played offensive and defensive tackle...Also lettered twice in basketball and three times in track...Set a state record in the shot put with a heave of 64' ¾"...Also set an area and region record in the discus with a throw of 184'0"...Hobbies include racquetball, fishing, billiards and listening to music...Residence: Cowpens, S.C.

52 FRANK WINTERS

Center

Western Illinois 10th year

Ht: 6-3 Wt: 295 Born: 1/23/64 Acq: PB-92

PRO: One of the most underrated players at his position in the NFC, Frank Winters has proven to be a durable and versatile performer for the Green and Gold since his arrival prior to the 1992 season...Though has played mostly center in recent seasons, also is an effective guard and long-snapper...Has now started 56 consecutive regular-season games for the Packers — the final eight games of '92 and 16 each in '93, '94 and '95...Has played in all 64 of Green Bay's regular-season games since joining the club in '92, making 59 of his 65 career starts...His 64 consecutive games played ties running back Edgar Bennett for most on the club...Of his 59 starts with the Green and Gold, 41 have come at center while 18 have come at left guard, proof of his versatility...Green Bay offensive line coach Tom Lovat likes what Winters brings to the center position, saying, "Frank has surprising athletic ability. His appearance is deceiving. He's a very smart football player who is also very durable. He has a good understanding of our offense. He's able to make all of our calls on the line of scrimmage."...Originally came to the Packers in 1992 as a 'Plan B' free agent, signed away from Kansas City...Now has played in 139 regular-season games, plus 14 playoff contests, in a nine-year career which has seen him suit up for four different NFL clubs...A 'Plan B' veteran, previously had joined both the Chiefs and N.Y. Giants through the league's former free agency system...Began career with Cleveland, where he played in 28 games from 1987-88, then played in 15 games for the Giants in 1989, and subsequently saw action in 32 league contests with K.C. ...1995: Enjoyed one of the best seasons of his career...Started all 16 games for the third season in a row...Also was the starting center for each of the team's three playoff contests...Served as regular long-snapper for field goals and extra points and was the backup snapper for punts...Did serve as the Packers' long-snapper on punts at Jacksonville (Sept. 24) after regular snapper Mike Bartrum left the game with a broken arm...Had 1 stop on special teams...1994: Showed his versatility and dependability

Billy Grimes, a running back out of Oklahoma A&M, holds two of the Packers' oldest records — for single-season punt return average (19.1 yards) and total yardage (555) — established in a banner 1950 season with 29 runbacks, one of them an 85-yard excursion for a touchdown. Grimes, who had been drafted No. 1 by the Packers from the defunct Los Angeles Dons following the disbandment of the rival All-America Football Conference a year earlier, finished the '50 season as the NFL's No. 2 punt returner.

Taking over as the starter at left cornerback from the opening day of training camp, 1995 first-round draft choice Craig Newsome went on to establish a club rookie record for passes defensed (19) and earn NFL all-rookie honors.

77 JOHN MICHELS

Offensive Tackle
Southern California
Ht: 6-7 Wt: 290 Born: 3/19/73 Acq: D1

COLLEGE: The Packers' first-round selection (27th overall) in 1996...Follows in the footsteps of former Trojan tackle and current Packers left tackle Ken Ruettgers, a No. 1 draft choice of Green Bay in 1985...Interestingly enough, both players wore uniform number '77' for USC...One-year starter and three-time letterman (1993-95) for Trojans...Redshirted in 1991...Started his collegiate career as a defensive lineman before moving to offensive tackle midway through the '93 season, he backed up All-American Tony Boselli (Jaguars) at left tackle in 1994...Did not start until his senior season...Possesses good size and has the potential to get even bigger, according to Packers offensive line coach Tom Lovat..."He's got great size potential," says Lovat. "He's a good athlete. He was a defensive player throughout most of his career, so he is young to the position. But he will do nothing but improve and we have time to develop him. He's a very intelligent guy."...1995: Started every game at left tackle for the Rose Bowl champion Trojans...Reached personal preseason goal when he earned All-Pacific 10 Conference first-team selection...Made 8 knockdown blocks in his first start, a 45-7 rout of San Jose State...Registered 9 knockdown blocks as the USC offense gained 405 yards in a 31-0 win over Arizona...Showed impressive stamina against Washington State when, despite playing with the flu, he had 7 knockdown blocks in the Trojans' 26-14 win...1994: Was the backup at left tackle to Boselli...Appeared in 11 games (he missed Penn State contest), playing mostly on special teams...Made brief appearances at tackle against Baylor, California, Arizona and Texas Tech...1993: Began his sophomore season as a backup defensive end and tackle behind Willie McGinest (Patriots), but was switched to offensive tackle at mid-season...Appeared in four games, primarily on special teams...Did record 1 tackle on defense against Houston...Did not play on offense...1992: Was a reserve defensive tackle/outside linebacker as a redshirt freshman...Did not see any action...1991: Redshirted as a defensive tackle.

HIGH SCHOOL: An All-America selection as a defensive tackle at La Jolla (Calif.) High School, lettering three times...Had 90 tackles and 13 sacks in 13 games as a senior...Also had 8 pass deflections, 3 forced fumbles and 3 fumble recoveries...Also lettered three years each in basketball and track (discus, hurdles, high jump)...Was league champion in the discus.

PERSONAL: Holds a B.A. degree in religion...Single...Hobbies include youth ministry, playing the guitar, singing and playing golf...Currently is involved with 'The Gathering,' a youth ministry group in San Diego...Also has worked with Athletes in Action and the Fellowship of Christian Athletes...Born John Spiegel Michels in La Jolla, Calif. ...Residence: Santa Monica, Calif.

Only five players in the team's 77-year history have worn a Green Bay uniform longer than veteran offensive tackle Ken Ruettgers, who enters his 12th Packer season in 1996. Only Bart Starr (16 seasons), Ray Nitschke (15), Forrest Gregg (14), Charles 'Buckets' Goldenberg and Dave Hanner (13) have had longer careers in green and gold. Ruettgers joins five others with 12 seasons of service — Arnie Herber (1930-41), Joe Laws (1934-45), Max McGee (1954, 1957-67), Larry McCarren (1973-84) and Willie Wood (1960-71).

80 DERRICK MAYES

Wide Receiver
Notre Dame
Ht: 6-0½ Wt: 200 Born: 1/28/74 Acq: D2

COLLEGE: The Packers' second-round selection (56th overall and 11th wide receiver) in 1996...A two-year starter and four-time letterwinner (1992-95) for the Fighting Irish...Finished his collegiate career as Notre Dame's all-time leader in receiving yards (2,512) and touchdown receptions (22), while he was fifth in receptions (129)...Named by his teammates as 'Most Valuable Player' following '94 and '95 seasons...Was a semifinalist for the 'Fred Biletnikoff Award,' presented annually to the top receiver in the nation, each of his last two years...Had nine career 100-yard receiving games for ND...Moved into Irish receiving spotlight in 1994 following graduation of Lake Dawson (Chiefs)...Known for his ability to make the difficult catch look easy...Packers offensive coordinator Sherman Lewis likes Mayes' abilities, saying, "Derrick is a strong and physical-type receiver. He punishes defensive backs after the catch. He has soft, sure hands and can run after he catches the ball. We like that. He's got good body control and he's very aggressive. He usually comes down with the ball."...1995: A second-team All-America selection by Football News, he was a third-team pick of Associated Press...Voted 'MVP' by teammates for second straight year...Also was one of five senior captains...Led the Fighting Irish with 48 receptions...Tied his career single-game high with 8 receptions for 94 yards in opening game vs. Northwestern...Had three straight 100-yard days against national powerhouses Texas, Ohio State and Washington...Led the Irish with 6 catches for 146 yards and 1 TD in win over Longhorns...Made 5 receptions for 125 yards vs. Ohio State, then caught 7 for 132 yards and 2 touchdowns at Washington...Named 'ABC Sports/Chevrolet Notre Dame MVP' for his performance against Huskies...Broke school receiving yardage record of Tim Brown (Raiders) with 3 catches for 46 yards at Air Force in final regular-season game...Had 2 TD receptions in victory over Navy...1994: An honorable mention All-America selection by United Press International...Started all 12 games...Named MVP after leading team with 47 catches...Broke Notre Dame record for TD receptions in a season with 11...Made 6 receptions for 98 yards vs. Northwestern, including touchdown grabs of 9 and 36 yards...Caught 7 passes for 106 yards, including a spectacular 7-yard TD reception, vs. Michigan...Had 4 catches for 121 yards and 2 TDs against Navy...Earned 'NBC Sports/Chevrolet Notre Dame Player of the Game Award' for his performance against Air Force, when he had 8 catches for 163 yards and 2 touchdowns to break Irish single-season record for TD receptions...Caught 4 passes for 93 yards and 2 TDs against Colorado in Fiesta Bowl...Also had TD catches vs. Michigan State, Stanford, Brigham Young and Florida State...1993: Finished season with 24 receptions for 512 yards...His 21.3 yards per catch ranked as the seventh-best single-season average in Notre Dame history...Made 3 catches for 101 yards and scored his only 2 touchdowns of the year against Stanford...Had a season-high 7 receptions for 147 yards against Boston College...Made first career start at split end in '94 Cotton Bowl, catching 2 passes for 27 yards in win over Texas A&M...1992: Caught 10 passes as a freshman, including touchdowns on the first three receptions...Played in 11 games as a reserve split end...Made one-handed, 38-yard TD reception vs. Michigan State on his first collegiate catch...Had 2 catches for an amazing 100 yards vs. Pittsburgh on touchdown grabs of 31 and 69 yards.

HIGH SCHOOL: Made 96 receptions for 1,480 yards during prep career at North Central High School in Indianapolis...Earned honorable mention All-America selection by USA Today and was named Gatorade Circle of Champions Indiana 'Player of the Year' by Scholastic Coach as a senior...Also was an all-state selection...Selected to play in Indiana North-South all-star game...Caught 45 passes for 738 yards and 4

TDs as a senior after 45 receptions for 720 yards and 9 scores his junior year...Won four letters in football, he also lettered twice in basketball and track.

A player will be credited with a year of NFL experience for each season in which he accumulates six games on the Active List, Inactive List, Reserve/Injured List, or Reserve/Physically Unable to Perform List — six games on a combination of any of these lists. Rookies are players in their first year of professional football who have not been on the roster of another professional football team for any regular-season or postseason games. Players who have played in other professional sports leagues (Canadian Football League, etc.), have participated in previous NFL training camps, or have been on the above lists for fewer than six games are listed as first-year NFL players ("1").

1995 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

SEPT. 11: The Packers bounced back from a 17-14 season-opening home loss to the St. Louis Rams to defeat the Chicago Bears 27-24 in a 'Monday Night Football' matchup. Green Bay jumped out to a 21-0 lead just four minutes into the second quarter on a 99-yard touchdown pass from Brett Favre to Robert Brooks. The 99-yard completion was a Packer record and the eighth such passing play in NFL history.

The Bears closed the gap to 27-14 with 28 seconds remaining in the third quarter, when Erik Kramer drove Chicago 75 yards in 13 plays for its second touchdown of the evening. The Packers' lead closed to six, 27-21, after Chicago's Rashaan Salaam scored on an 8-yard run after a Favre interception which was returned to the Green Bay 8-yard line.

After a Craig Hentrich punt was blocked out of bounds deep in Green Bay territory, the Bears regained possession at the Packers' 2-yard line. The Green and Gold defense stiffened, however, stopping Salaam for no gain on two consecutive running plays, and on third down Kramer's pass to the end zone was caught out of bounds, forcing the Bears to settle for a field goal.

Green Bay proceeded to put the contest away when Favre directed an 11-play drive to the Bears' 24-yard line which consumed 6:22 and put the game clock to under three minutes. Though a muffed snap on the Packers' ensuing field goal attempt resulted in no points, Chicago was left with little time to mount a final comeback effort. Green Bay's Reggie White extinguished the Bears' hopes by forcing a Kramer fumble which was recovered by Wayne Simmons.

SEPT. 24: The Packers, who went to 3-1 overall, moved into sole possession of first place in the NFC Central for the first time in 17 years with a 24-14 victory over the Jacksonville Jaguars in a nationally-televised Sunday evening game. Green Bay took a 17-0 lead on a 49-yard field goal by Hentrich, Brooks' 6-yard touchdown catch from Favre and Dorsey Levens' 2-yard run.

The Jaguars closed the gap to 17-7 on ex-Packer Mark Brunell's 8-yard scoring strike to Willie Jackson. But Favre put the game out of reach with a 29-yard touchdown throw to Anthony Morgan with 5:52 to play.

Favre closed out the evening with 20 completions in 30 attempts for 202 yards and 2 touchdowns with 1 interception. His 2 touchdown passes gave him 12 straight games with two TD passes or more, tying him with Johnny Unitas, Don Meredith and Dan Marino for the longest such streak in NFL history.

OCT. 15: Successful in the first of five consecutive meetings with three different NFC Central Division teams, the Packers defeated the Detroit Lions 30-21. It was to be the best offensive performance of the year to date for the team as it amassed 436 yards, controlling the ball for 37:51.

The Packers jumped to a 20-0 halftime lead, which included a pair of field goals (42 and 43 yards) and a tight-fisted defense that forced the Lions to punt after six of their seven first-half possessions, holding Detroit to just four first downs in the process.

Favre gave Green Bay a 27-7 advantage when he hit Brooks in the heart of the end zone with a 12-yard pass with seven minutes remaining in the third quarter. Less than three minutes later, the Lions struck back with a 77-yard scoring drive, culminating when quarterback Scott Mitchell connected with Johnnie Morton for a 16-yard TD pass. On Detroit's next possession, Mitchell hit Herman Moore with a second touchdown pass to pull Detroit within six points, 27-21. The Packers reasserted themselves and mounted a retaliatory 11-play, 66-yard drive, which climaxed in Chris Jacke's 20-yard field goal at 7:58 of the final period.

OCT. 22: A 38-21 victory over the Minnesota Vikings gave the Packers, 5-2 overall and 3-0 in the division, their best start of the season since 1978 and a tie with the Chicago Bears for the division lead. The Green Bay defense produced four turnovers, converting two into touchdowns and ended a major drive by the Vikings with a third.

George Koonce intercepted a Warren Moon pass in the second quarter and returned it for 12 yards to the Minnesota 7-yard line, and two plays later Favre hit Charles Jordan in the right corner of the end zone for the score. When the Vikings were on the move in the third quarter with the score tied at 14, Doug Evans intercepted Moon at the Green Bay 13-yard line to void the threat.

Favre conducted scoring drives of 69 and 82 yards and brought the Packers out to a 28-14 lead, but White and Sean Jones then put the game out of reach for the Vikings. White exploded through the line to sack Moon for a second time, and when Moon fumbled Jones recovered the loose ball in the end zone for a TD.

NOV. 12: The historic 150th meeting between the Packers and Chicago Bears, which marked the first occasion in professional football history that two NFL teams have met 150 times in regular-season play, provided just as much drama and excitement as the previous 149 gatherings. The game saw the lead change hands four times, a total of 800 yards in total offense were amassed (the Bears rolled up 444 and the Packers 356) and the clubs combined for nine touchdowns.

Favre, whose status was unknown until Sunday morning because of a severe ankle sprain he had suffered the week prior at Minnesota, showed no signs of the injury in a record-breaking performance. Passing for all five Packer touchdowns, Favre tied a team single-game record shared by Cecil Isbell, Don Horn and Lynn Dickey.

Favre completed 25 of 33 passes for 336 yards without an interception, threw a pair of touchdown tosses to Bennett, two to Brooks and another to Levens.

The win, the Packers' fourth straight over the Bears, brought Green Bay into a tie with Chicago for the divisional lead, the teams sharing identical 6-4 marks.

NOV. 26: The Packers closed in on their first outright Central Division title since 1972 by defeating the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, 35-13, and moving out to an 8-4 record.

The turnover-free game, the fourth of the season for the Packers, saw Green Bay run just 50 offensive plays, compared to the Bucs' 71, but it managed to out-yard Tampa Bay 369-325. Favre finished the day with completions on 16 of his 24 passes for 267 yards and 3 touchdowns. The offense displayed effective balance, tallying 108 rushing yards and 261 net passing yards.

The Packers' defense contained Tampa Bay's talented running back Errict Rhett to only 11 yards on 14 carries and held its overall running game to a meager 42 yards in 19 attempts.

DEC. 16: The Packers rebounded from the previous week's 13-10 overtime loss at Tampa Bay to defeat the New Orleans Saints, 34-23. The win secured at least a wild card playoff berth, moved Green Bay to within one victory of its first NFC Central Division championship in 23 seasons and gave it a 4-4 road record, the first time since 1989 that the Packers had gone at least .500 away from home.

Going into the locker room at halftime, Favre had thrown 4 touchdown passes — connecting with Brooks twice as well as with Morgan and Antonio Freeman once each — to give the Green and Gold a 28-14 lead. The second half saw a pair of Jacke field goals and a lone Saints field goal by Doug Brien before Greeen Bay permitted a last-play, consolation score. The Packers finished the day with 397 yards, 103 rushing and 294 passing.

Late in the game, Bennett became the first Green Bay running back to rush for 1,000 yards since 1978, swelling his season total to 1,010 with an 80-yard performance. Terdell Middleton had been the last Packer to scale the 1,000-yard barrier. Bennett also set a team record for most rushing attempts in a season.

The game was highlighted by the "miraculous" return of Reggie White, who four days earlier had been scheduled to undergo surgery for the repair of a hamstring injury originally suffered against the Cincinnati Bengals Dec. 3.

DEC. 24: Leading 24-19, the Packers staged a critical defensive stand in the closing minutes as the Pittsburgh Steelers had positioned themselves with a first-and-goal at the Green Bay 5-yard line with 29 seconds to play. Pittsburgh quarterback Neil O'Donnell saw his first two passes fall incomplete before Steelers rookie Kordell Stewart got behind center on third down. But Green Bay strong safety LeRoy Butler sniffed out Stewart's attempted deception, throwing him for a one-yard rushing loss. Then, on the climactic fourth down play with 16 seconds remaining, O'Donnell tossed to wide receiver Yancey Thigpen deep in the left corner of the end zone beyond a defender who had slipped. The ball sailed in and out of Thigpen's hands, and the Packers began to celebrate their first outright NFC Central Division title since 1972 and their best record, 11-5, since 1966.

Prior to the electrifying finish, Favre had turned in another tremendous performance, passing for 301 yards and 2 touchdowns, while presiding over TD drives of 63, 83 and 32 yards as well as a 58-yard push which triggered a 47-yard Jacke field goal. Favre's 300-yard game was his seventh of the season, establishing a new team record.

The Packers' ability to counter the attack of the Steelers was complicated by a pair of injuries to Favre. He suffered a bruised chest late in the third quarter, which caused him to spit up blood, and earlier had been temporarily knocked groggy when the back of his head struck the turf.

Brooks recorded 137 yards via 11 receptions, establishing a new Green Bay single-season record for receiving yards with 1,497. He also extended his new club mark for 100-yard receiving games in a season to nine and became only the second receiver in club annuals to catch 100-or-more passes in a season.

1995 SEASON HIGHLIGHTS

THE PLAYOFFS

DEC. 31: In postseason play for the third consecutive year and playing host a playoff game for the second straight season, the Packers rebounded from an early 7-0 deficit to score 27 of the game's next 30 points and mount a 27-10 halftime advantage en route to a 37-20 victory over the Atlanta Falcons.

Bennett, who set a club single-game playoff record with 108 yards rushing, evened the score at seven with an 8-yard TD run after the Falcons got on the board first, when Jeff George found a wide-open Eric Metcalf for a 65-yard touchdown pass. Favre subsequently sandwiched drives of 78 and 85 yards, each culminating in a scoring throw, around the rookie Freeman's 76-yard punt return for a touchdown in the second quarter (the first in Green Bay's distinguished postseason history).

Favre seemed to close the books on the Falcons for the day when he found Levens with a looping 18-yard touchdown pass midway through the fourth quarter. Jacke later closed out the day's scoring with a 25-yard field goal with just under two minutes remaining.

Bennett, who constituted the Packers' running game, carried 24 times for 108 yards in breaking the team's postseason rushing mark of 105 yards, previously shared by Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung. Overall, Bennett accounted for all but nine of Green Bay's rushing yards. Favre, continuing to show a knack for spreading the football around, utilized no fewer than nine receivers while completing 24 of 35 passes for 199 yards and 3 touchdowns without an interception.

JAN. 6: It was one of the most remarkable performances in the Packers' 75-year NFL history. Green Bay defeated the defending Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers, 27-17, on their home field in a divisional playoff game.

The Packers had control of the game from the beginning, especially after they forced an early turnover which immediately was converted into a touchdown by rookie cornerback Craig Newsome, and had mounted a commanding 21-0 lead by early in the second quarter. Favre's hot hand completed 15 of his first 17 passes, including a connection with Keith Jackson on a 35-yard, first down throw to trigger a four-play, 62-yard scoring drive and a 13-yard strike to Mark Chmura to cap off a seven-play, 72-yard drive with just 3:39 gone in the second quarter. San Francisco managed a field goal before halftime, leaving the Packers out front 21-3 at the break.

The 49ers threatened to get back into the game following the second half kickoff, driving 80 yards in 14 plays and scoring on a 4th-and-one sneak by Steve Young. But two possessions later Green Bay extended its lead to 24-10 on a 27-yard field goal by Jacke, and midway through the fourth quarter Jacke connected on a 26-yarder to give the Packers a secure lead.

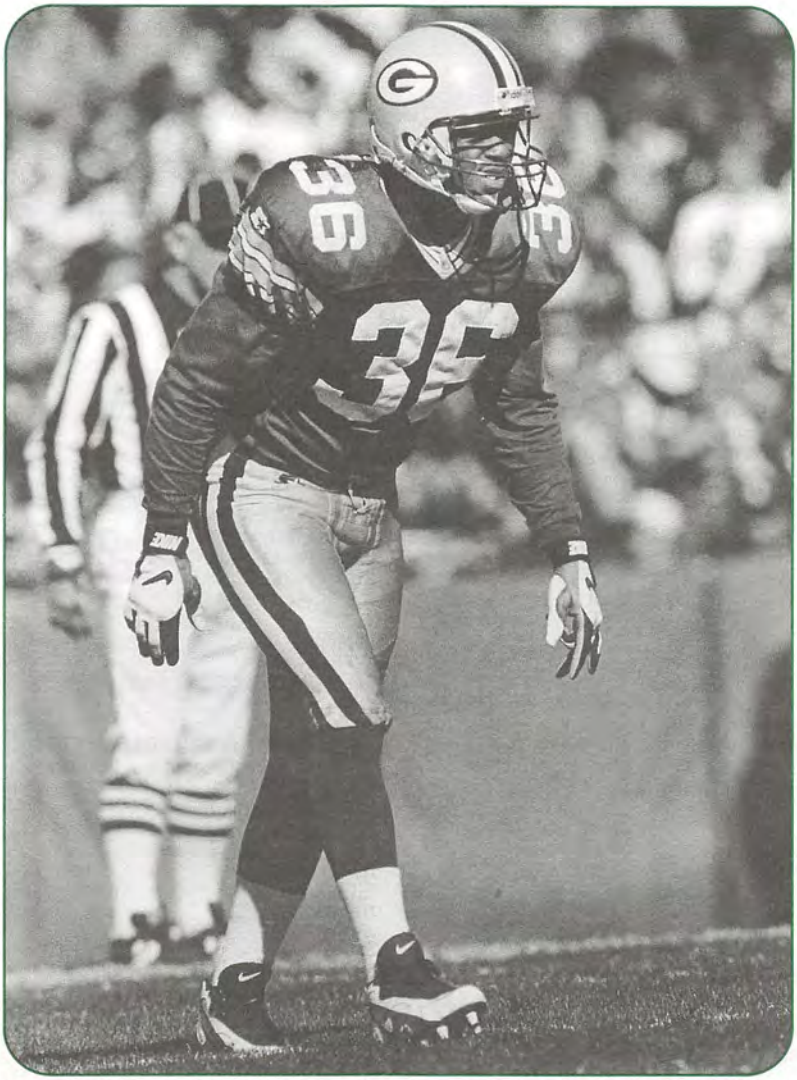

Favre closed out the day with a team-record 75% completion rate (21-28) for 295 yards and 2 touchdowns. Brooks led the Packer receivers with 103 yards, while Jackson tallied 101 yards on his 4 catches.

JAN. 14: As Green Bay advanced to the NFC Championship Game for the first time since 1967, facing the Dallas Cowboys in the postseason for the third consecutive year, the Packers managed a 27-24 lead as the two teams headed into the fourth quarter. But the electrifying run ended as the Packers eventually succumbed to the eventual Super Bowl champions, 38-27. The Cowboys converted two Green Bay interceptions into a pair of touchdowns and the last, five minutes into the fourth quarter, put the game out of reach.

Green Bay had rebounded from a 14-3 first quarter deficit, trading scores with the host Cowboys until finding themselves up 27-24 and one quarter away from the Super Bowl. Dallas' massive offensive line finally wore the Packers' defense down, however, as running back extraordinare Emmitt Smith spearheaded fourth period scoring drives of 90 and 52 yards, Smith capping each drive off with a touchdown run.

In what became the game's turning point, with the Packers trailing 31-27 Favre had directed his team past midfield before he was picked off by Dallas cornerback Larry Brown. Two plays later, Smith went 16 yards into the end zone, his second TD of the quarter and third of the day. Favre, who had not thrown an interception in either of the Packers' two previous playoff victories, closed out the day with 21 completions in 39 attempts for 307 yards and 3 touchdowns along with those 2 INTs.

Tragedy struck the Green Bay sideline during the second quarter when wide receivers coach Gil Haskell was knocked unconscious after hitting the back of his head on the turf at the end of a play. The Cowboys' Darren Woodson had pushed Brooks out of bounds after a short passing play, Brooks catapulting into Haskell. Haskell was taken from the field to a local hospital, where he was diagnosed with a skull fracture.

Strong safety LeRoy Butler led Green Bay's defense in interceptions (5) and total tackles (117) in 1995, the first time a single Packer has paced the defensive platoon in both categories since fellow strong safety Mark Murphy turned the trick in 1990.

PACKERS NO. 1 IN POSTSEASON

On the heels of three straight playoff appearances for the first time in over a quarter-century, the Packers continue to own the best winning percentage in postseason play in National Football League history. They have won 17 of 25 playoff games since their first-ever postseason contest – the 1936 NFL championship (a 21-6 victory over the Boston Redskins) – for an overall winning percentage of .680. NFC foes San Francisco (.636) and Dallas (.633) follow. The all-time standings:

Jerry Kramer (64), who will be a finalist in the voting for the 1997 class of enshrinees in the Pro Football Hall of Fame, forged his claim of fame as an All-Pro guard, but he also was an effective placekicker. Kramer, with Bart Starr as his holder, kicked three field goals to provide the winning margin in the Packers' 16-7 win over the Giants in the 1962 NFL Championship Game at New York's Yankee Stadium.

SUPER BOWL I
January 15, 1967

Memorial Coliseum; Los Angeles, Calif. Paid Attendance: 61,946

Green Bay 35, Kansas City 10

The Packers launched the Super Bowl series by whipping Kansas City's American Football League champions 35-10 behind the passing of Bart Starr, the receiving of Max McGee and a key interception by All-Pro safety Willie Wood.

Vince Lombardi's repeating NFL champions broke open the game with three second-half touchdowns, the first of which was set up by Wood's 50-yard return of an interception to the Chiefs' 5-yard-line with the Packers leading by only 14-10. The pass, authored by the Chiefs' Len Dawson, had been intended for Kansas City tight end Fred Arbanas.

McGee, filling in for ailing Boyd Dowler (injured on the Packers' first offensive series) after having caught only four passes all season, snared seven from Starr for 138 yards and two touchdowns. Elijah Pitts ran for two other scores, counting one on a 5-yard run in the third quarter and the other on a one-yard bolt in the final period.

The Chiefs' 10 points came in the second quarter, the only touchdown on a seven-yard pass from Dawson to Curtis McClinton.

Starr completed 16 of 23 passes for 250 yards and 2 touchdowns and was chosen the game's most valuable player. His scoring strikes came on a 37-yard collaboration with McGee in the first quarter and a 13-yard pitch to the aging end in the decisive third period.

The Packers collected $15,000 per man and the Chiefs $7,500 apiece — the largest single-game shares in the history of team sports at the time.

SUPER BOWL II
January 14, 1968

Orange Bowl; Miami, Fla. Paid Attendance: 75,546

Green Bay 33, Oakland 14

Having acquired a third consecutive NFL championship just two weeks earlier, the Packers embellished that record-tying parlay by winning the Super Bowl title for the second straight year. This time, they dispatched the AFL champion Raiders 33-14 in a game that drew the first $3-million gate in football history.

Bart Starr again was chosen the game's most valuable player as he completed 13 of 24 passes for 202 yards and one touchdown and directed a Packers attack that was in control all the way after building up a 16-7 halftime lead.

Don Chandler kicked four field goals (39, 20, 43 and 31 yards), and All-Pro cornerback Herb Adderley highlighted the Green Bay scoring with a 60-yard interception return of a Daryle Lamonica pass.

After leading by only 3-0 at the quarter, the Packers padded their margin to 16-7 at halftime by way of three Chandler field goals and a 62-yard scoring pass from Starr to split end Boyd Dowler. They then left the Raiders behind with a 10-point third period, Donny Anderson scoring on a 2-yard run and Chandler with his final field goal.

The game marked the last for Vince Lombardi as Packers coach, ending nine years at Green Bay in which he won six Western Conference championships, five NFL titles and two Super Bowls, a record unprecedented in pro football history.

PACKER NFL PLAYOFF HISTORY

ELEVEN TIMES WORLD CHAMPIONS

The Green Bay Packers have won more championships — eleven — than any other team in National Football League history. They won their first three by league standing (1929, 1930 and 1931) and eight since the NFL's playoff system was established in 1933 (1936, 1939, 1944, 1961, 1962, 1965, 1966 and 1967). Green Bay also is the only NFL team to win three straight titles, having done it twice (1929-30-31 and 1965-66-67).

In addition, the Packers won the first two Super Bowls (over Kansas City in 1966, 35-10, and over Oakland in 1967, 33-14).

Chicago's Bears rank second with nine NFL titles, followed by the Giants with six, the Cowboys, Redskins and 49ers with five each, and the Lions and Browns with four apiece.

GAME BY GAME

1936 — GREEN BAY 21, BOSTON REDSKINS 6 (Polo Grounds, New York) — Although New York was not represented in the title playoff, the game was played in the Polo Grounds because the Redskins' franchise was being shifted to Washington, D.C., by George Marshall. A turnout of 29,545 saw Don Hutson take a 43-yard touchdown pass from Arnie Herber in the first three minutes, and the Packers were never behind.

1938 — NEW YORK 23, GREEN BAY 17 (Polo Grounds, New York) — The Packers overcame an early 9-0 New York lead, spawned by two blocked punts, but could not hold off the Giants in the second half. The Packers began to close in early in the second period, Arnie Herber capitalizing on a Paul (Tiny) Engebretsen interception by lofting a 50-yard touchdown strike to Carl Mulleneaux, cutting the Giants' margin to 9-7.

The Giants shortly converted a midfield fumble by Packer fullback Eddie Jankowski into a 16-7 lead before Green Bay again trimmed the deficit to two points before the half was over, Clarke Hinkle crashing over from the 6-inch line following a 66-yard Cecil Isbell pass to Wayland Becker. The Packers then forged in front in opening minutes of the second half for the first and only time in the game, an Engebretsen field goal presenting them with a 17-16 edge. The Giants, however, stormed back with a 61-yard scoring drive, capped by a 23-yard pass from Ed Danowski to Hank Soar. Soar fought his way over the goal line from the 2, with Hinkle clinging to one leg, for what proved to be the winning touchdown. A crowd of 48,120, a playoff record, sat in on proceedings.

1939 — GREEN BAY 27, NEW YORK 0 (State Fair Park, Milwaukee) — The Packers made playoff history by scoring first shutout ever registered in NFL championship game. Despite bitter 35 m.p.h. winds, both Arnie Herber and Cecil Isbell passed for touchdowns in leading Green Bay to its fifth world championship before 32,279 fans.

Green Bay mounted a 7-0 halftime lead, by dint of a Herber scoring strike to Milt Gantenbein, and pulled away in the third quarter on a 29-yard field goal by Paul (Tiny) Engebretsen and a long TD pass from Isbell to Joe Laws. The Packers added 10 more points in the fourth quarter on a 42-yard field goal by Ernie Smith and a short scoring run by fullback Eddie Jankowski.

1941 — CHICAGO BEARS 33, GREEN BAY 14 (Wrigley Field, Chicago) — In a Western Division playoff contest necessitated when the two teams finished the year with identical 10-1 records, each having given the other its lone loss, the Packers fell victim to Chicago's offensive trio of George McAfee, Norm Standlee and Hugh Gallarneau in the 16-degree cold at Wrigley Field.

After the Bears fumbled the opening kickoff, Green Bay grabbed an early 7-0 lead. Gallarneau returned a punt 81 yards for a touchdown to narrow the gap to 7-6, before Chicago exploded for 24 second-quarter points to essentially settle the issue. The Bears rushed for 277 yards this day, McAfee leading the way with a team record 119 and Standlee adding 79 plus two touchdowns.

Green Bay's prolific end, Don Hutson, was held to only one catch for 19 yards.

1944 — GREEN BAY 14, NEW YORK 7 (Polo Grounds, New York) — With peerless pass catcher Don Hutson employed primarily as a decoy for the Giant defense, fullback Ted Fritsch emerged the offensive hero of Packers' sixth world title victory.

Fritsch scored both Green Bay touchdowns, one on a 2-yard run in the second quarter and the other on a 26-yard pass-and-run collaboration with Irv Comp in the third. Ward Cuff scored the Giants' touchdown with a one-yard plunge on the first play of the final period. Joe Laws, the Packers' veteran, 34-year-old all-purpose halfback, had a brilliant day, setting a playoff record with three interceptions and claiming ground gaining honors with 74 yards in 13 carries.

1960 — PHILADELPHIA 17, GREEN BAY 13 (Franklin Field, Philadelphia) — Packers erected a 6-0 lead in the second period and were out in front by 13-10 in fourth quarter before yielding to late surge by Eagles, who scored the deciding points on a 5-yard burst by Ted Dean.

Green Bay moved ahead in first quarter on a 20-yard Paul Hornung field goal. Hornung added 23-yard FG in second quarter but Eagles tied it 6-6 on a 35-yard scoring pass from Norm Van Brocklin to Tommy McDonald and edged ahead via Bobby Walston's first conversion. Walston followed with a 15-yard FG for a 10-6 halftime lead.

The Packers stopped Philadelphia at its own four late in the third period, then recaptured lead on a 7-yard TD pass from Bart Starr to Max McGee. A 58-yard kickoff return by Dean, however, ignited Eagles and victory eluded Packers, making their first title game appearance in 16 years.

1961 — GREEN BAY 37, NEW YORK 0 (City Stadium, Green Bay; renamed Lambeau Field in 1965) — Paul Hornung, on leave from the Army, scored a record-tying 19 points to key Packer decimination of Giants in first title game ever played in Green Bay.

A record Packer home crowd of 39,029 watched the Green and Gold erupt for 24 points in the second quarter. In all, the Packers scored seven times against the NFL's top defensive team of 1961, amassing four touchdowns and three field goals. The defense, meanwhile, was proving a devastating complement to the attack, intercepting four Giant passes and recovering one fumble.

Two interceptions, by Ray Nitschke and defensive back Hank Gremminger, set up touchdowns No. 2 and 3 while the fumble recovery by Forrest Gregg led to Hornung's second field goal and a Jesse Whittenton interception to Hornung's final FG.

1962 — GREEN BAY 16, NEW YORK 7 (Yankee Stadium, New York) — Out front all the way in a raw, cyclonic setting, Packers weather siege by vengeful Giants in primitive, hand-to-hand struggle. Ray Nitschke proves principal frustration to New Yorkers, seeking redemption for shutout humiliation in '61 title game. His deflection triggers interception to blunt early Giant drive to Green Bay 10. On way to being named game's most valuable player, he also registers two interceptions, one of which led to the Packers' only touchdown of the afternoon. The other set up a 29-yard field goal by Jerry Kramer, whose trio of three-pointers provided eventual margin.

Giants' only TD comes on block of Max McGee punt in Green Bay end zone midway through the third quarter.

A battered Jim Taylor sets playoff record with 31 rushing attempts, good for 85 yards.

1965 — GREEN BAY 13, BALTIMORE 10 (ot) (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Don Chandler's second field goal provided the winning margin for the Packers at 13:39 of sudden death overtime as Green Bay defeated Baltimore 13-10 in front of 50,484 partisans. His 25-yard kick ended the only overtime playoff game in Packer history, a contest necessitated when the two teams ended the regular season with matching 10-3-1 records.

Chandler's first field goal, a 22-yarder with 1:58 remaining in regulation to tie the game, remains controversial to this day, Baltimore loyalists claiming it was wide right. The kick sailed high above the uprights, making it difficult for game officials to determine its accuracy. Uprights were lengthened for the next season in an effort to avoid a recurrence of this situation.

The Colts, who were playing without starting quarterback Johnny Unitas (knee) and his backup, Gary Cuozzo (dislocated shoulder), used halfback Tom Matte as a fill-in. He completed only five passes, but did gain 57 yards rushing. Baltimore took a 10-0 halftime lead, scoring first 21 seconds into the game when linebacker Don Shinnick scooped up a Bill Anderson fumble and went 25 yards for a touchdown. Packers quarterback Bart Starr injured his ribs on the play, Green Bay's first from scrimmage, when he tried to get to Shinnick.

Zeke Bratkowski replaced Starr for the balance of the afternoon, completing 22 of 39 passes for 248 yards. The Packers moved to within 10-7 in the third quarter when Paul Hornung scored on a one-yard run, setting the stage for Chandler's heroics.

1965 — GREEN BAY 23, CLEVELAND 12 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Field softened by four-inch snow made Packer backs only run harder as Lambeau Field crowd of 50,777 celebrated third championship in five years. Jim Taylor and Paul Hornung amassed 201 yards rushing in rally that overcame Browns' early 9-7 lead.

Packers charged to 7-0 first-quarter advantage on 47-yard Bart Starr pass to Carroll Dale and Don Chandler's conversion, but Cleveland moved in front 9-7 on a 17-yard TD strike from Frank Ryan to Gary Collins and 24-yard Lou Groza field goal.

Green Bay rebounded, however, with 15- and 23-yard FGs by Chandler, the latter following a Willie Wood interception, to claim 13-9 lead subsequently trimmed to a single point by a second Groza FG shortly before the intermission.

Starr settled the issue in third quarter, escorting the Packers on a 90-yard, 11-play scoring drive climaxed by Hornung's 13-yard sweep of Browns' right perimeter.

1966 — GREEN BAY 34, DALLAS 27 (Cotton Bowl, Dallas) — Bart Starr has one of his finest hours, passing for four touchdowns as Packers win second straight title and fourth in six years. Tom Brown thwarts last-minute Cowboy bid, and the majority of 74,152 Cotton Bowl fans, with end zone interception of Don Meredith's fourth down pass from Green Bay 2.

Packers mounted quick 14-0 lead on a 17-yard Starr pass to Elijah Pitts and 18-yard scoring run with a fumble recovery by rookie Jim Grabowski, but led only 21-17 at halftime following explosive Cowboy comeback. After a 32-yard Villanueva field goal had cut Packer lead to a tenuous 21-20, Starr hit Dowler and McGee with 16- and 28-yard scoring passes, respectively, to provide a cushion against the Cowboys' late surge.

1967 — GREEN BAY 28, LOS ANGELES 7 (Milwaukee County Stadium) — Travis Williams scored two touchdowns, on runs of 46 and 2 yards, and the Packers were able to weather three early turnovers as Green Bay downed the Los Angeles Rams, 28-7, in the first regularly-scheduled conference playoff in NFL history. After L.A. got on the board first via a 29-yard scoring pass from Roman Gabriel to Bernie Casey, the Packers responded with 28 unanswered points in one of the more memorable games at Milwaukee County Stadium.

Williams rushed for 88 yards on 18 total carries, while quarterback Bart Starr set a team record by completing 73.9% of his passes (17-23) for 222 yards and 1 touchdown. End Carroll Dale was the recipient of Starr's scoring toss, it covering 17 yards, and finished the afternoon with 6 catches for 109 yards. The Packer defense sacked Gabriel 5 times, including 3½ by tackle Henry Jordan.

The victory was Green Bay's first on a three-game run which would see the Packers defeat Dallas in the legendary "Ice Bowl" game eight days later, then top the Oakland Raiders for a second straight Super Bowl victory.

1967 — GREEN BAY 21, DALLAS 17 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — With thermometer shuddering at 13 below zero and a wind chill of minus 46, Bart Starr scores winning touchdown from one-yard-line with 13 seconds remaining, sealing record third straight championship for Packers and their fifth in seven years.

Starr's touchdown, on third down with no timeouts remaining, climaxed a 68-yard drive in 12 plays in front of 50,861 partisans.

As was case in 1966, Packers grabbed early 14-0 advantage. But this time Cowboys came from behind to take the lead, forcing storybook finish by Green Bay to win contest later voted the greatest game in pro football history.

Starr's touchdown passes of 8 and 43 yards to Boyd Dowler built the first-quarter bulge, trimmed in second quarter by George Andrie's 7-yard scoring return of a Starr fumble and a 21-yard Danny Villanueva field goal. Dan Reeves' 50-yard scoring strike to Lance Rentzel in the fourth quarter triggered the dramatic denouement.

1972 — WASHINGTON 16, GREEN BAY 3 (Robert F. Kennedy Stadium; Washington, D.C.) — Chester Marcol's 17-yard field goal early in the second quarter puts the Packers out front, but a Bill Kilmer-to-Roy Jefferson touchdown pass late in the same period gave the Redskins a lead they never yielded. Curt Knight kicked three field goals to provide the Redskins' other points before a crowd of 53,140 fans on Sunday afternoon, December 24. John Brockington, the Packers' 1,000-yard rusher, had to settle for nine yards on 13 carries as the Redskins used a five-man defensive line to shut down Green Bay's running game.

1982 — GREEN BAY 41, ST. LOUIS 16 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Making their first post-season appearance in Lambeau Field since celebrated "Ice Bowl" game of 1967 against Dallas, Packers halt Cardinal drive at one-yard-line in first quarter, then proceed to forge an all-time club scoring record in their opening Super Bowl Tournament contest following 1982 season.

Out front 21-9 at halftime, they pad lead to 41-9 in fourth quarter before permitting Cards a consolation touchdown. Quarterback Lynn Dickey ties Packer playoff record before 54,282 fans by passing for four touchdowns (17 of 23 for 260 yards and 0 intercepts overall) and flanker John Jefferson sets club post-season mark with 148 receiving yards on 6 catches, including a 60-yard TD reception, another Packer playoff record. Placekicker Jan Stenerud also establishes a club playoff mark with a 46-yard field goal.

1982 — DALLAS 37, GREEN BAY 26 (Texas Stadium; Irving, Texas) — Packers amass 466 yards, a team playoff record, but are unable to overcome slow start which finds them trailing 20-7 at halftime. They roll up 363 yards and out-score Cowboys 19-17 in second half, pulling within four points (30-26) on a 22-yard scoring runback of an interception by Mark Lee in the fourth quarter. But Cowboys retaliate with 74-yard scoring drive to end Green Bay hopes with 63,972 fans looking on.

Quarterback Lynn Dickey throws for 332 yards (19 of 36), an all-time Packer playoff record, in losing cause. Split end James Lofton emerges with 109 yards on 5 receptions. Lofton also spices Packers' second-half comeback with 71-yard reverse for a TD, tying all-time NFL playoff record for a run from scrimmage.

1993 — GREEN BAY 28, DETROIT 24 (Pontiac Silverdome; Pontiac, Mich.) — In one of the most electrifying victories in their rich post-season history, Packers come from behind to shade NFC Central Division champion Detroit, 28-24, at Pontiac Silverdome on a dramatic, 40-yard touchdown pass from Brett Favre to Sterling Sharpe in the final minute. Favre's decisive strike, a scrambling, across-the-body throw from extreme left to extreme right, finds Sharpe wide open in end zone with 55 seconds remaining, capping a see-saw battle.

Earlier, rookie free safety George Teague had written himself into NFL postseason record book with a 101-yard interception return for a touchdown, his pickoff of Lions' Erik Kramer lifting Green Bay into a 21-17 lead. Sharpe equalled a league playoff mark himself by catching three touchdown passes in the contest, among his five receptions for 101 yards.

Lions' Barry Sanders, in his first game back from a knee injury, ignites Silverdome crowd of 68,479 with 169 yards rushing.

1993 — DALLAS 27, GREEN BAY 17 (Texas Stadium; Irving, Texas) — Packers grab early 3-0 lead over eventual Super Bowl champions, the points ensuing when Bill Bates' run on a fourth-down fake punt is stopped short by Green Bay defense. Momentum swings Cowboys' way shortly, however, as Dallas mounts 17-point surge in second quarter, eventually prevailing 27-17 in divisional playoff contest at Texas Stadium.

Quarterback Brett Favre passes for 331 yards (one yard shy of Packers' postseason record) and Sterling Sharpe turns in second straight 100-yard effort (6 receptions for 128 yards). But Cowboys' aerial duo matches up, quarterback Troy Aikman completing 28 of 37 passes for 302 yards and 3 touchdowns, while wideout Michael Irvin adds 9 catches for 126 yards.

1994 — GREEN BAY 16, DETROIT 12 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Spurred by a classic, postseason record defensive performance, Packers outlast Detroit Lions 16-12 in team's first home playoff game since 1982 season. Coordinator Fritz Shurmur's defensive charges hold NFL's leading rusher, Barry Sanders, to career-low -1 yard on 13 attempts and limit Lions collectively to -4 yards on the ground — erasing a 31-year-old league playoff record.

Quarterback Brett Favre directs several long drives, helping Packers control the ball for 37-plus minutes, including 76-yard excursion on game's opening series, capped by 3-yard touchdown run by Dorsey Levens. Green Bay plays turnover-free football throughout, entertaining home playoff record crowd of 58,125. Chris Jacke adds three field goals to team's cause, including Packer post-season record 51-yarder.

But Lions pull to within 13-10 in fourth quarter on 3-yard touchdown pass from Dave Krieg to Brett Perriman and reach Packer 11-yard-line on final drive in game's closing moments. Green Bay defense stiffens, however, recapturing ball on downs, before Packer punter Craig Hentrich takes intentional safety to run out final seven seconds on clock.

1994 — DALLAS 35, GREEN BAY 9 (Texas Stadium; Irving, Texas) — After falling behind 21-3 in second quarter, Packers find themselves unable to mount second-half comeback, falling to Dallas in divisional playoff contest, 35-9. Green Bay is able to amass 327 yards of total offense but few points, and team's defense is victim of Cowboys' arsenal of offensive superstars.

Trailing only 7-3 in first quarter, Packers pin Dallas deep in its own territory, only to have their back broken when Cowboys connect on NFL playoff-record 94-yard touchdown pass from Troy Aikman to Alvin Harper. Aikman throws for 337 yards overall, while three different Dallas receivers — Michael Irvin (111), Harper (108) and Jay Novacek (104) — have 100-yard days.

Packer flanker Robert Brooks, moving into spot usually occupied by the injured Sterling Sharpe, equals his career best with 8 receptions for a game-high 138 yards.

1995 — GREEN BAY 37, ATLANTA 20 (Lambeau Field, Green Bay) — Utilizing a balanced offensive attack, including a Packer postseason record 108 yards on the ground from Edgar Bennett, Green Bay toppled the Atlanta Falcons 37-20 on a foggy, 30-degree afternoon. The Packers had earned an opening round home playoff game for the second straight season, this time by virtue of winning their first outright NFC Central crown in 23 years.

After a 65-yard touchdown pass from Jeff George to Eric Metcalf three minutes into the game gave Atlanta a 7-0 lead and stunned the home playoff record crowd of 60,453, the Packers quickly regained control, scoring two first quarter touchdowns to seize a 14-7 lead. Following a Falcons field goal which narrowed the gap to four, Green Bay broke the game open midway through the second period when rookie Antonio Freeman returned a punt 76 yards for a touchdown — the first scoring return of a punt or kickoff in club postseason history. Mark Chmura's two-yard touchdown catch from Brett Favre with less than a minute remaining before halftime, capping a 14-play, 85-yard drive, gave the Packers a commanding 27-10 advantage as the teams headed into the locker room.

Green Bay matched the Falcons score for score in the second half, Favre's third TD toss of the day — a beautiful, lofting throw to fullback Dorsey Levens with just under eight minutes to play — cementing the issue. Favre completed passes to nine different Packer receivers in the contest, while Bennett averaged 4.5 yards and scored once on 24 rushing attempts.

1995 — GREEN BAY 27, SAN FRANCISCO 17 (3Com Park, San Francisco) — Physically menacing the 49er offense throughout the day, Green Bay pulled off a shocking upset of defending Super Bowl champion San Francisco in its home stadium, 27-17, and advanced to the NFC Championship Game for the first time since the 1970 league merger. The victory was especially sweet for Packers head coach Mike Holmgren, a native San Franciscan who, for the first time, was opposing the team with which he had gotten his NFL start.

After an opening drive by the Packers which had reached the 49ers' 26-yard-line only to end in a blocked field goal, Green Bay's defense immediately set the tone for the rest of the game. On San Francisco's first play from scrimmage, linebacker Wayne Simmons drilled Niners fullback Adam Walker, the recipient of a screen pass in the right flat, Walker fumbling and the ball being scooped up by rookie cornerback Craig Newsome, who ran 31 yards into the end zone for a 7-0 lead. The Packers subsequently mounted 62- and 72-yard scoring drives on their next two possessions, Brett Favre throwing touchdown passes to Keith Jackson and Mark Chmura respectively, to assume an authoritative 21-0 advantage four minutes into the second quarter.

Favre, the league MVP during the regular season, played like, well, the league MVP, completing a club playoff record 75.0% of his passes (21-28) in the win. Jackson, who had two long receptions over the middle to help set up Green Bay scores, caught four passes for 101 yards, while flanker Robert Brooks also had over 100 yards receiving (103) on an identical number of catches.

The 49ers did close to within 21-10 midway through the third quarter before Packers kicker Chris Jacke booted two important field goals to stretch the Green Bay lead back to 17 points. San Francisco later added a meaningless touchdown in the game's last minute for the final margin.

The Packer defense, which forced four turnovers, battered 49ers quarterback Steve Young all afternoon, sacking him three times and knocking him down on countless other occasions as he attempted an NFL playoff record

65 passes in a futile comeback bid. Jerry Rice, San Francisco's receiver nonpareil, while making 11 receptions was limited to virtually no yards after the catch.

1995 — DALLAS 38, GREEN BAY 27 (Texas Stadium; Irving, Texas) — Packers, one victory away from their first Super Bowl appearance in 28 years, hold lead into fourth quarter before finally succumbing to offensive firepower of eventual Super Bowl champion Dallas, 38-27. Emmitt Smith, behind Cowboys' massive offensive line, rushes for 150 yards and three touchdowns on 35 carries as Green Bay sees its season end at Texas Stadium for the third straight year.

After a blocked punt leads to a quick field goal by the Packers, Dallas comes back, quarterback Troy Aikman throwing two TD passes to Michael Irvin. Green Bay answers, however, with two quick scores of its own — a team postseason record 73-yard pass from Brett Favre to Robert Brooks as well as a Favre-to-Keith Jackson connection — to vault into the lead, 17-14. Cowboys score another 10 points before halftime, though, to go up 24-17.

Green Bay gets first 10 points of second half, including a 1-yard touchdown pass from Favre to Brooks, to hold a 27-24 advantage heading into the final 15 minutes. Smith's talents glisten in the fourth quarter, however, as he rushes for two touchdowns — sandwiched around a drive-killing interception by the Cowboys' Larry Brown in Dallas territory — to give Texans their third Super Bowl appearance in four years.

PACKER PRO HALL OF FAMERS

The Green Bay Packers boast 19 individuals who spent the majority of their careers with the club in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio. The Packers' total is second only to that of the Chicago Bears, who have 24. The New York Giants and Washington Redskins, with 14 apiece, are third.

In addition, five other players who played briefly for Green Bay — end Len Ford, linebacker Ted Hendricks, guard/coach Walt Kiesling, kicker Jan Stenerud and safety Emlen Tunnell — have their busts displayed in the Hall of Fame.

Biographies of the Packers' 19 primary HOF players follow:

1963 — Earl L. (Curly) Lambeau, Founder, player, coach, vice president (1919-49). Founded Packers in 1919 and served as team's only coach through 1949 season. Also played halfback from '19 through '27, a period during which he pioneered forward pass in professional football. Led Packers to six world championships and is one of only five coaches to record more than 200 coaching victories in the NFL (others are George Halas, Don Shula, Tom Landry and Chuck Noll). Also coached Chicago Cardinals (1950-51) and Washington Redskins (1952-53).

1963 — Robert (Cal) Hubbard, T (1929-35). Also played for New York Giants, Pittsburgh Pirates. A legendary athlete, he was one of pro football's first genuine giants — a massive 6-ft. 3-inch, 265-pounder who was a devastating blocker on offense and relentless pursuer on defense as a premier, two-way performer. Was an All-Pro choice in each of first three years (1931, '32, '33) such selections were made. Selected to NFL's All-50 Year Team in 1970 and to All-Time Two-Way Team in 1994. Played college football at Centenary, Geneva.

1963 — Don Hutson, E (1935-45). Made third-most touchdown receptions (99) in pro football history, an all-time NFL record until broken by Steve Largent and subsequently surpassed by Jerry Rice. Credited with inventing pass patterns, he led league in receiving 8 years and in scoring 5 seasons, both also lifetime marks. Named to NFL's All-50 Year Team in 1970, later was selected to league's 75th Anniversary and All-Time Two-Way teams in 1994. Led NFL in receiving yards in 7 seasons, an all-time record. Also holds league record for most points scored in one quarter (29). Played collegiately at Alabama. Named to four Pro Bowls.

1963 — Johnny (Blood) McNally, HB (1928-36). Also played for Milwaukee Badgers, Duluth Eskimos, Pottsville Maroons, Pittsburgh Pirates. An elusive runner and gifted pass receiver, he played major role in Packers' drive to first three championships in 1929, '30 and '31. Also helped Packers win a fourth world title in '36. Going into 1996 season, still held 19th place in Packer lifetime scoring, six decades after departing Green Bay scene, with 224 points. Collegiate star at St. John's.

1964 — Clarke Hinkle, FB (1932-41). A four-time All-Pro selection (1936, '37, '38, '41). One of the most versatile players in NFL annals, he was tough, bruising runner, fine blocker, good receiver and excellent placekicker as well as shrewd, hard-hitting linebacker. Fourth-ranking rusher in Packer history with 3,860 yards in 1,171 carries. Was selected to NFL's All-Time Two-Way Team in 1994. Played college football at Bucknell. Named to three Pro Bowls.

PACKER PRO HALL OF FAMERS

1964 — Mike Michalske, G (1929-37). Also played for New York Yankees (1927-28) before joining Packers. Rated one of game's greatest guards during pro football's "two-way" era. Two-time All-Pro selection (1931 and 1935). A true 60-minute player, he was known as "Iron Mike" because of his great stamina and durability. Best asset was exceptional quickness, which made him equally effective on both offense and defense. Played college football at Penn State.

1966 — Arnie Herber, QB (1930-41). Also played for New York Giants (1944-45). Pro football's first great long passer. Won three National Football League passing titles and was All-Pro selection in 1932. Teamed with Don Hutson to form NFL's first feared passing combination in mid-'30s. Ranks fifth in Packer annals with 64 career touchdown passes over his 12 seasons. Tough, durable athlete and accomplished punter as well as great passer. A Green Bay native, he played college football at Regis (Denver, Colo.)

1971 — Vince Lombardi, Coach and General Manager (1959-67). General Manager only in 1968. Also assistant coach for New York Giants (1954-58) and head coach of Washington Redskins (1969). Directed Packers to five NFL championships in seven years (1961-62 and 1965-66-67), a feat without precedent or parallel in pro football history. His 1966 and 1967 teams also made history by winning first two Super Bowls. Packers won nine of 10 playoff games under his leadership and overall compiled a 98-30-4 record, a glittering .758 winning percentage. Lombardi, a guard, played his college football at Fordham, where he was one of the legendary "Seven Blocks of Granite."

1974 — Tony Canadeo, HB (1941-44, 1946-52). Became only the third 1,000-yard rusher in pro football history when he gained 1,052 yards in 1949. Still ranks as No. 3 ground gainer in Packer annals with 4,197 yards in 1,025 attempts, a 4.1 average. A durable, all-purpose halfback, he was an accomplished blocker, capable passer and good receiver in addition to being a highly effective kick returner. Also played defensive back during early years of his career. Played college football at Gonzaga, where he acquired nickname of "Grey Ghost."

1976 — Jim Taylor, FB (1958-66). Also played for New Orleans Saints (1967). Rushed for over 1,000 yards five straight seasons (1960-64). Heading into '96 campaign, still is NFL's 15th ranking career rusher with 8,597 yards over his 10 seasons. Also owns league's eighth highest lifetime total of rushing touchdowns — 83. Is Packers' all-time leading ground gainer with 8,207 yards to his credit during his nine seasons in Green Bay. Had 26 career 100-yard rushing games. Played his college football at LSU. Named to five Pro Bowls.

PACKER PRO HALL OF FAMERS

1977 — Forrest Gregg, T (1956, 1958-70). Also played with Dallas Cowboys (1971). Drafted No. 2 in 1956. Was named All-Pro eight times (including All-Pro at both Guard and Tackle in 1965) and nine times to the Pro Bowl. Called by Lombardi the "finest player I've ever coached." Voted to NFL's 75th Anniversary Team in 1994. Holds the Packer record for durability with 187 consecutive games played. Head Coach of the Green Bay Packers 1984-87. Also served as head coach of Cleveland Browns (1975-77) and Cincinnati Bengals (1980-83). Played college football at SMU.

1977 — Bart Starr, QB (1956-71). Drafted in 17th round in 1956. Became the winningest quarterback in football, directing the Packers to 6 Western Division Titles, 5 World Titles, 2 Super Bowl victories, and was named MVP in Super Bowls I and II. Led the League in passing in 1962, 1964 and 1966, and was named to the Pro Bowl four times. In 1972 he coached Packer quarterbacks. Head Coach of the Green Bay Packers 1975-83. He played college football at Alabama.

1978 — Ray Nitschke, MLB (1958-72). Drafted in third round in 1957 after playing fullback at Illinois. Most Valuable Player in 1962 NFL Title game vs. N.Y. Giants. Named to the NFL's All-50 Year and 75th Anniversary teams. All-Pro in 1964, 1965 and 1966; Pro Bowl 1964.

1980 — Herb Adderley, DB (1961-69). Also played for Dallas Cowboys (1970-72). Packers' No. 1 draft choice (Michigan State) in 1961. Five-time All Pro at cornerback. Played in five Pro Bowls, four of first six Super Bowls (two with Green Bay, two with Dallas). Had 48 career intercepts (39 with Packers), ran 7 back for TDs (second highest total in NFL history).

1981 — Willie Davis, DE (1960-69). Also played for Cleveland (1958-59). A 17th round draft choice, he came to Packers from Browns in 1960 trade. Became one of premier pass rushers in pro football history, winning All-Pro honors five times and selection to Pro Bowl five times. Holds all-time Packer record for career fumble recoveries (21) and is tied for second-longest consecutive game streak (162) in Green Bay annals. Helped Packers win five NFL titles during 1960s. Played college football at Grambling. Elected to Packers' Board of Directors in 1994.

PACKER PRO HALL OF FAMERS

1981 — Jim Ringo, C (1953-63). Also played for Philadelphia (1964-67). Seventh round draft choice out of Syracuse in 1953. Went on to win All-Pro honors eight times, seven as a Packer, and played in 10 Pro Bowls, seven as a Packer. Highly durable performer, once held NFL record for most consecutive games played (183). Helped Packers win back-to-back NFL titles in 1961-62. Traded to Philadelphia in 1964.

1986 — Paul Hornung, HB (1957-62, 1964-66). One of the most versatile players in pro football history, he won NFL scoring title three consecutive years (1959-60-61), setting all-time league record of 176 points in 1960. Also shares league single game playoff scoring record, 19 points. All-Pro selection two times and named to Pro Bowl twice. Averaged 4.2 yards per rush, caught 130 passes and kicked 66 field goals during 9-year career. Second ranking scorer in Packer history with 760 points. Bonus choice (first player selected overall) in 1957 NFL draft. Played college football at Notre Dame, winning Heisman Trophy in 1956.

1989 — Willie Wood, FS (1960-71). Wrote several NFL teams asking for a tryout coming out of USC in 1960 before Packers signed him as free agent. Went on to become recognized as a premier free safety, winning all-NFL honors six straight years beginning in 1963. A Pro Bowl selection eight times, he also played in six NFL championship games, helping Packers win five titles. Starting free safety for Green Bay in Super Bowls I and II, broke open a close contest in third quarter of SBI, intercepting a Len Dawson pass and returning 50 yards to the K.C. 5, triggering a 35-10 Packer victory. Had 48 career interceptions, returned for 699 yards. Won NFL title in 1962 with nine thefts and also captured a league punt return crown in 1961 with a 16.1 average. One of only six free agents to make Hall of Fame.

1995 — Henry Jordan, DT (1959-69). Also played for Cleveland (1957-58). Originally a fifth round draft choice of Browns, came to Green Bay in 1959 trade. Named All-Pro five straight seasons (1960-64), he also was selected to play in the Pro Bowl four times. One of team's more colorful personalities, missed only two games in his first 12 seasons. Played in seven NFL title games (including 1957 with Cleveland), plus first two Super Bowls. Had 3½ sacks in 1967 Western Conference Championship win over Rams. Played college football at Virginia.

ALL-TIME RESULTS BY SEASON

Non-league games are indicated by an asterisk (*). Beginning with 1921, the Packers' first season in the National Football League, non-league game results are not reflected in won-lost record, as well as in seasonal totals of points forward, points against and attendance. Overtime games are indicated by the '+' symbol. The Packers' league-high 11 NFL championship seasons are highlighted in gold.

PACKERS OWN OVERTIME MARK

Over a decade later, Green Bay continues to own the National Football League record for most overtime games played in one season — a mark set by the club in 1983 when it was involved in five sudden death decisions, winning two while losing three. The Packers' most recent OT experience came last Dec. 10 in a nationally-televised, Sunday night game at Tampa Bay, one they lost by a 13-10 score when the Bucs won the coin toss and drove downfield for a field goal.

Green Bay has played in 20 total contests which have gone into overtime, standing 5-10-4 in the regular season and 1-0 in the postseason for an overall mark of 6-10-4.

The lone postseason occurrence was a historic 13-10 victory over the Baltimore Colts in a Western Conference playoff game — the first overtime game in which the Packers ever were involved — in Green Bay's Lambeau Field Dec. 26, 1965, on a 25-yard Don Chandler field goal.

In addition to regular and postseason play, the Packers have played five overtime games in preseason action. Capsules of the Packers' regular and postseason overtime games follow:

REGULAR SEASON (5-10-4)

Nov. 26, 1978-Green Bay 10, Minnesota 10, at Green Bay; Packers win toss. Both teams have possession of the ball four times.

MONDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL RESULTS

Playing on 'Monday Night Football' at home for the first time in a decade, the Green Bay Packers also will encounter a number of other "firsts" this season when it comes to prime-time play, including the first time that the club ever has had two home Monday night games in the same season since the ABC-TV prime-time series was launched in 1970. In fact, of the team's 21 previous contests on a Monday night, only three have been played at Lambeau Field (there also were three such battles held at Milwaukee County Stadium in the 1970s). Green Bay's last home Monday night game was Sept. 22, 1986, a 25-12 loss to the Chicago Bears, a contest which also saw Packers cornerback Tim Lewis have his career ended by a neck injury.

The Packers will be making the league-maximum three appearances on 'Monday Night Football' in 1996 and have a team-record four prime-time games in all, including their Nov. 24 Sunday evening tilt at the St. Louis Rams. The last time that Green Bay was on Monday night three times in the same year was 1983, when it faced the Giants, Buccaneers and Redskins, the Washington contest still standing as the highest scoring game in 'MNF' history.

Now on 'Monday Night Football' for the fourth straight season after a seven-year absence, the Packers stand 9-11-1 on the ABC series which perennially is among the nation's most watched television programs. Green Bay will be facing first-time Monday night foes in the Eagles and Cowboys, while the Packers' only previous 'MNF' duel with the 49ers was a 1973 loss at San Francisco.

The Rams also are an inaugural prime-time opponent for Green Bay. The Packers hold a 4-4 mark on the combined TNT/ESPN prime-time series, including a 2-2 record on this year's venue, ESPN.

Even 13 years later, the Packers continue to hold the distinction of being a part of the highest scoring game in Monday night history — a 48-47 track meet with the Washington Redskins on Oct. 17, 1983, in front of 55,255 spectators at Lambeau Field. Facing the then-reigning Super Bowl champions, the Packers prevailed in a contest which featured 11 touchdowns, 11 extra points and six field goals in the final tally.

Jan Stenerud's 20-yard FG with but 54 seconds remaining decided the issue, though a final, dramatic flourish was added when the 'Skins' Mark Moseley missed a 39-yard field goal try as time expired.

The 95-point production surpassed the previous Monday Night Football scoring mark by a whopping 11 points — set Dec. 20, 1982, when San Diego outscored Cincinnati 50-34. The contest also represented the highest scoring game in the Packers' history, surpassing Green Bay's 52-35 loss at Detroit in 1951.

BIRTH OF A TEAM AND A LEGEND

On the evening of August 11, 1919, a score or more of husky young athletes, called together by Curly Lambeau and George Calhoun, gathered in the dingy editorial room of the old Green Bay Press-Gazette building on Cherry Street and organized a football team. They didn't know it, but that was the beginning of the incredible saga of the Green Bay Packers.

There had been some preliminary talk and planning and that night's decision wasn't announced until two days later, but the big step had been taken. So August 11 is as good a birthday as any.

Actually the initial spark had been struck a few weeks before during a casual street corner conversation between Curly Lambeau and George Calhoun. It was apparently one of those "Why not get up a football team?" remarks, but once they got interested they wasted no time.

FIRST THEY TALKED Curly's employer at the Indian Packing Company into putting up some money for equipment.

Because the team's jerseys had been provided by the packing company, which also permitted the use of its athletic field for practice, the club was identified in its early publicity as a project of the company. With this tie-in the name "Packers" was a natural, and Packers they have been ever since, although the corporation had practically faded out of the picture before that first season was half over.

That first season the team won 10 games and lost only one against other teams from Wisconsin and Upper Michigan. Games were played in an open field with no fences or bleachers, and interested fans "passed the hat." But the team was so successful by 1921 that Lambeau was backed by two officials of the packing plant in obtaining a franchise in the new national pro football league that had been formed in 1920. Cash customers didn't quite pay the freight and at the end of the season it had to be forfeited.

THIS WAS the first in a long series of troubles that the now famous team overcame, for in 1922 Lambeau gained other backers and bought the franchise back for $250. Troubles continued during that season. One game was rained out and the insurance company wouldn't pay off because the official amount of rain was one one-hundredth of an inch short of that required in the policy.

Another storm late in the season when the Packers were scheduled to play the Duluth Kelleys, however, proved the founding of the modern community corporation. A.B. Turnbull, general manager of the Green Bay Press-Gazette, told the Packers to play anyway. He then went out and helped organize the businessmen of Green Bay in the support of the team, and the Green Bay Football Corporation was formed.

FROM THOSE MODEST and somewhat tenuous beginnings, the Packers have gone on to earn national stature and virtual world-wide recognition by winning more championships (11) over the intervening 70-plus years than any other team in professional football.

The fact that these achievements have come while representing a city of only 101,000 inhabitants, in competition with the country's population giants, has endeared them to the nation's football fans, many of whom are intrigued by the David vs. Goliath concept and the Packers' unique status as a publicly-owned corporation.

INEVITABLY, PROCEDURES at Packer games have come a long way since the sandlot years of 1919-20 when the Pack was subsisting on the contents of George Calhoun's hat. Then there were no ushers, no cheerleaders, no band and no public address system — the latter hadn't been invented yet. There weren't even any seats at first, and it didn't cost anything to get in.

When the Packers began their existence in 1919, they played on approximately the same site as the now abandoned City (East) Stadium, but with a mighty difference. Hagemeister Park, as it was called, was just a big vacant lot with a football gridiron marked on it.

There were no gates because there wasn't any fence. Spectators just dropped off the Walnut Street streetcar and walked over to the sideline, or drove their own cars and parked about 10 yards behind the ropes stretched around the playing field.

If they felt like it they either sat in their automobiles or on top of them, but most preferred to get out and follow the play up and down the field. By moving as the play progressed, you always had a "50-yard line" location and were handy to any donnybrook that might require a little help. In fact, when things got exciting the crowd sometimes spilled right onto the field, surrounded the scrimmage in a big circle and virtually took part in every play. Teams didn't huddle in those days, or the fans would have been in that too.

When the half ended, teams grabbed blankets and adjourned to opposite end zones where they relaxed and talked over the tactics of the next half. Nothing private about those huddles. The crowd formed a ring around the players, a practice encouraged since it made a handy wind break. Fans weren't bashful about joining the discussions either, sometimes with surprising results. At least one early game was pulled out of the fire by a spectator's halftime suggestion.

In 1920 a section of stands was built — just a small bleacher with a capacity of a couple hundred — on one side of the field, and a fee charged to sit there. The next year a portable canvas fence was erected around the whole field and a regular admission charge inaugurated.

WHEN HAGEMEISTER Park was dug up in 1923 to make way for East High School, the Packers shifted to the new baseball grounds out on the end of Main Street. This was called Bellevue Park because it was just east of the old Hagemeister Brewery, which was renamed the Bellevue Products Co. during Prohibition. Things were Big Time out there, with crowds of 4,000 to 5,000 storming the fences to boo the hated Chicago Bears.

The Packers used Bellevue in 1923-24, but it was obviously inadequate and too far out, lacking about every facility needed for football. Agitation to build a new stadium somewhere near the original site culminated in the erection of old City Stadium just back of the new high school.

The new plant was barely completed in time for the 1925 opening, but was an immediate success, the Bear game that year drawing a record crowd of 5,389. It was a typical small town park of its day, with wooden fences and stands on both sides between the 30-yard lines. Seating capacity was gradually increased until it seated 15,000 by 1934, with the end zones still uncovered. With the filling in of the area around the end lines the ultimate capacity of 25,000 was reached.

AFTER WORLD WAR II, City Stadium gradually faded from its once proud position as one of the favored fields in the National Football League to an inadequate and obsolete installation. As pro crowds increased it was impossible to expand the stadium any further. With limited capacity, the Packers found it increasingly difficult to schedule top opponents at home. September 29, 1957, was a proud day for Green Bay and its Packers. A million dollar modern stadium with a seating capacity of 32,150 was dedicated. In 1961, the stadium was expanded to 38,669, to 42,327 in 1963, to 50,852 in 1965 when the name was changed to Lambeau Field, to 56,263 in 1970, and to 56,926 following the first addition of private boxes in 1985. With the building of 36 more private boxes and 1,920 club seats in the south end zone, seating was upped to 59,543 in 1990. A subsequent, 1995 expansion of 90 private boxes in the north end zone, which also included an auxiliary press box, gave the stadium a total of 198 boxes and a new capacity of 60,790.

The Packers' colorful saga, spanning 77 years, can be divided roughly into eight chapters. They take us from the "Iron Man" period of the first decade under founder Curly Lambeau to the present day, which finds Mike Holmgren presiding as the 11th head coach in the team's history.

THE IRON MAN ERA — With good financial backing, Lambeau began to pick up college stars from all over the country, plus some unknowns who were going to turn out to be "greats." And in 1929 Green Bay won the national professional football championship. It repeated in 1930 and in 1931 with a team featuring such all-time pro greats as Red Dunn, Verne Lewellen, Cal Hubbard, Bo Molenda, Jug Earp, Mike Michalske, Johnny (Blood) McNally, Bill Kern, Arnie Herber, Clarke Hinkle, Lavvie Dilweg, Tom Nash, Milt Gantenbein and Hank Bruder. Many games 12 or 13 players would go for almost the full 60 minutes. These teams were hailed all over the country as some of the greatest ever.

THE HUTSON PERIOD — Trouble flared again soon afterward. A fan fell from the stands, sued and won a $5,000 verdict and the insurance company went out of business. The Packers went into receivership and were just about to fold when Green Bay businessmen came to the rescue again, raised $15,000 in new capital and reorganized the club. About this time a rather slight, lanky end by the name of Don Hutson came to the club. From his first game on, Hutson became the terror of the league and the secret of Green Bay's next three championships. With Herber and Cecil Isbell pitching and Hutson catching anything they threw at him despite any kind of a stop-Hutson defense, Green Bay won championships in 1936, 1939 and 1944, and all during the Hutson era the Packers always finished in the first division.

RONZANI REGIME — After Hutson's retirement, Packer fortunes again went into a decline. The disastrous pro football war brought on another financial crisis after the 1949 season. In the midst of it Lambeau resigned to take a position as head coach of the Chicago Cardinals. Then began another major reorganization and rebuilding effort with Gene Ronzani of the Bears hired as head coach. Over $125,000 was raised in a giant stock sale all over the state. Ronzani's teams improved each of the first three seasons until 1952. The Packers were in the thick of the title chase until the last weeks of the season. In 1953 the team played erratic ball and Ronzani resigned with two games remaining on the schedule.

BLACKBOURN TAKES OVER — The Packers overhauled their front office and coaching staff in 1954, hiring Verne Lewellen, all-time Packer great, attorney and businessman, as general manager. Reaching into the college ranks for a head coach was the next step in the rebuilding plans and Lisle Blackbourn, coach of Marquette University, was signed to a contract. During the four-year Blackbourn regime the Packers won 17 while losing 31.

McLEAN MOVES UP — Likable Ray "Scooter" McLean moved up from being an outstanding assistant coach to guide the destiny of the Packers for 1958. McLean resigned in December after a 1-10-1 record, the worst in Packer history in his lone season as head coach.

THE LOMBARDI ERA — In 1959, the Packers announced the signing of New York Giants assistant Vince Lombardi as head coach and general manager.

In his first season, Lombardi lifted the Packers to a 7-5 record and unanimously was voted Coach of the Year. Then in 1960, the Packers captured the Western Division title and went on to win World Championships in 1961, 1962, 1965, 1966 and 1967. Never finishing lower than second since 1960, his teams became the standard of football excellence and the Packer franchise one of the most successful. Over a nine-year span as head coach, Lombardi's teams racked up 98 victories against 30 losses and 4 ties for a remarkable .758 winning percentage. Even more noteworthy, however, is the record of Lombardi coached teams in postseason play. In 10 division playoffs and World Championship games, the Packers emerged victorious nine times.

BENGTSON PERIOD — Following the third consecutive title in 1967, Lombardi turned over the head coaching duties to Phil Bengtson and one year later announced that he was leaving Green Bay to coach and manage the Washington Redskins. Bengtson coached the Packers from 1968-1970, compiling a 20-21-1 record, and in December of 1970 resigned.

THE DEVINE DAYS — Dan Devine, one of the three most successful coaches in the nation's collegiate ranks, succeeded Bengtson as head coach and general manager in January of 1971. After settling for a 4-8-2 record during his first season, Devine and the Packers appeared on the road to new heights when 1972 produced a 10-4 record and the team's first Central Division title since 1967. But the Packers' Super Bowl hopes dissolved in the second half of '73 and they slipped to a 5-7-2 mark. They continued their recession in '74, emerging with a 6-8 record, and Devine resigned.

THE STARR TREK — The most successful field general in pro football history as Green Bay's quarterback of the '60s, Bart Starr accepted the challenge to lead the Packers out of the NFL wilderness, agreeing to a three-year contract as head coach and general manager on December 24, 1974. Starr, who led the Packers to five world championships from 1961 through 1967, asked for "the prayers and patience of Packer fans everywhere...We will earn everything else."

Although he had to settle for a 4-10 record in the baptismal season of a massive rebuilding project, Starr gave Packer fans new hope by assembling a sound organization and restoring a positive attitude, underscored by three victories in the last five games of the 1975 season. He continued the resurgent trend in 1976, leading the Packers to a 5-9 record, highlighted by a three-game, mid-season winning streak. Major and key injuries slowed the comeback in 1977 but a strong finish produced a 4-10 mark. Hopes soared in 1978 when the Packers posted their first winning slate since 1972, an 8-7-1 record, only to be temporarily dampened in '79 by a record rash of injuries which spawned a 5-11 mark. Another injury epidemic, one which saw 27 players on injured reserve during the course of the season, struck in 1980, forcing the Packers to settle for a 5-10-1 record.

Rebounding strongly in 1981, they rallied from a disappointing 2-6 start to mount one of the most dramatic comebacks in Green Bay history, closing with a 6-2 rush (an 8-8 mark) and coming within one victory of the playoffs.

The Packers continued the upsurge in 1982, when they qualified for the playoffs for the first time since 1972 by posting a 5-3-1 record during a strike-interrupted season. They then embellished that performance by routing St. Louis 41-16 in the first game of the NFL's Super Bowl Tournament before bowing to Dallas (37-26) despite a record-setting, 466-yard offensive effort. Starr was relieved of his head coaching duties on December 19, 1983, after the Packers finished the '83 season with an 8-8 record and missed the NFL playoffs on the final week of the year.

GREGG ERA — On December 24, 1984, Starr was replaced by Forrest Gregg, a former teammate and one of the premier offensive tackles in the history of the game as a player, who had maneuvered Cincinnati into Super Bowl XVI following the 1981 season. Gregg, whose Bengals' 19-6 record over the 1981-82 seasons was the best in pro football, received a five-year contract.

In taking over, he declared, "I took this job to field a winning team. That will happen."

Gregg's prediction began to bear fruit in the second half of the 1984 season when the Packers rebounded from an injury-ridden 1-7 start to win seven of their last eight games.

Because of injury and other complications, however, the 1985 season followed the '84 script, the Packers getting off to a slow 3-6 start before mounting a strong finish to again close at 8-8 by winning five of their last seven games.

Gregg, convinced the time had come to rebuild a team which had gone 8-and-8 three years in succession and was "starting to get old" at that level, made sweeping personnel changes in 1986. The young and inexperienced Packers, their task complicated by injuries to key performers, got off to an 0-6 start, then began to mature in mid-season and went on to finish with a 4-and-12 record.

Following the 1987 season, which saw the Packers finish third in the NFC Central with a 5-9-1 record, Gregg resigned (January 15, 1988) to become head coach at his alma mater, Southern Methodist University.

INFANTE SIGNS ON — Nineteen days later (February 3), Cleveland Browns offensive coordinator Lindy Infante became the 10th head coach in Packer history. Recognized throughout the NFL as a brilliant innovator, the 47-year-old University of Florida alumnus received a five-year contract.

With turnovers and kicking problems plaguing his offense, Infante's first Packer team had to settle for a 4-and-12 record, but left fans with hopes for 1989 and the future by winning the last two games to mount a strong finish.

Building upon that positive note, Infante orchestrated a dramatic upsurge in '89, escorting the Packers to a 10-6 record — their best in 17 years — and within one game of the National Football League playoffs, spicing that turnabout with a league-record four one-point victories.

In 1990, subsequent high hopes for the team's first postseason berth in a non-strike year since 1972 evaporated when the Packers — with a contending, 6-5 record after 11 games — saw a potential playoff opportunity expire in the face of a season-ending, five-game losing streak.

The Packers' field fortunes continued to decline in 1991, the record falling to 4-12, and Infante was relieved of his duties on December 22 by new Executive Vice President/General Manager Ron Wolf, who had been hired November 27 with full authority to run the organization's football operation.

THE PRESENT — Mike Holmgren, architect of one of the NFL's most potent attacks as offensive coordinator for the perennially successful, then four-time Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers, was named by Wolf to succeed Infante as the 11th head coach in Packer history on January 11, 1992. Holmgren, sought after by five other NFL clubs, received a five-year contract.

Getting his team on track after an 0-and-2 start, the former USC field general directed the Packers to a 9-and-7 record and within striking range of the playoffs. He thus became only the third head coach in Packer history to post a winning record in his first season, a record punctuated by a six-game winning streak, longest by a Packer team since 1965.

In 1993, his second season at the controls, Holmgren took his team to the next level — the playoffs — despite the loss of four starters to injuries and a nagging turf toe problem which hampered the Packers' principal offensive weapon, wide receiver Sterling Sharpe, over the last half of the season.

Surmounting these handicaps, the Green and Gold forged a second straight 9-and-7 record — against a considerably more demanding schedule — to qualify for postseason play for the first time since 1982, then posted a last-minute, come-from-behind victory over the Detroit Lions (28-24) in their first playoff assignment before falling to the repeating Super Bowl champion Dallas Cowboys (27-17) in their second, a divisional playoff.

In 1994, the Packers continued to experience success under Holmgren, staking a third consecutive 9-and-7 regular-season mark and making it to the playoffs for the second year in a row — registering both of these achievements for the first time since the memorable "Titletown" days of the '60s.

Riding a three-game winning streak into the postseason, they parlayed a record defensive performance and a turnover-free offensive effort into a 16-12 victory over the Detroit Lions in their initial playoff game — their first home playoff game since 1983 — holding the incomparable Barry Sanders to minus-one yard rushing in 13 attempts in the process. The Packers advanced despite playing without the services of their All-Pro wide receiver Sharpe, whose brilliant Green Bay career had been ended by a neck injury diagnosed after the team's regular-season finale. As had been the case a year earlier, their postseason came to a close at Dallas in their second game, the Cowboys prevailing in a divisional playoff, 35-9.

Closing ranks with highly productive results following the loss of Sharpe, the 1995 Packers put together one of the hallmark seasons in their history. Winning six of their last seven games, they captured their first NFC Central Division championship since 1972, then made their best postseason showing in over a quarter-century, forging all the way to the National Football Conference Championship Game for the first time since 1967.

En route, they closed out the regular season with an 11-5 record — their best since 1966, when they posted a 12-2 mark in capturing the NFL title — and followed that accomplishment by dispatching the Atlanta Falcons, 37-20, in a first-round playoff at Lambeau Field.

Building upon that triumph, the Packers mounted one of the premier performances in their postseason history, formally dethroning the defending Super Bowl Champion San Francisco 49ers in their own 3Com Park, 27-17. Again, however, the Packers' dreams of a third trip to the Super Bowl subsequently foundered in Dallas, where they fell to the Cowboys, 38-27, in the NFC title game, after leading 27-24 at the end of three quarters.

Quarterback Brett Favre passed for 4,413 yards in 1995, the second-highest production in team history behind Lynn Dickey's 4,458 yards in 1983. It was only the third time a Packer quarterback has passed for over 4,000 yards (Don Majkowski is the other with 4,318 in 1989). In the process, Favre became the first Packer quarterback since Majkowski in 1989 to lead the NFL in passing yardage.

Boyd Dowler (1959-69), the fourth-ranking receiver in Packer history, still holds two team playoff records — for most career touchdowns, 5 (all on receptions), and for the longest punt — a 64-yard effort launched against the New York Giants during a 37-0 Packer victory in the 1961 NFL Championship Game. Dowler, who doubled as Green Bay's punter during the '61 regular season, finished fifth in the NFL overall, averaging 44.1 yards for 38 punts, with a long of 75 yards.

PACKER RADIO NETWORK

Jim Irwin and Max McGee team up for the 17th consecutive season on the Packer Radio Network, and for the second straight year are joined by Larry McCarren. The trio will bring all of the color and excitement of Green Bay Packers football to fans throughout Wisconsin and Upper Michigan in 1996.

Irwin, who enters his 28th year as a member of the Packers' broadcast team, is recognized as one of the nation's most knowledgeable and authoritative play-by-play announcers. Sports director at WTMJ Radio, Irwin served as a color analyst from 1969-74 before taking over play-by-play duties in 1975. A graduate of the esteemed journalism school at the University of Missouri, his skills as a sports journalist have been recognized by his peers on multiple occasions. Irwin has earned Wisconsin 'Sportscaster of the Year' recognition 10 times, the most recent coming in 1989, and was inducted into the Wisconsin Broadcast Association Hall of Fame in July of 1994. His past credits include play-by-play on radio broadcasts of the Milwaukee Bucks (1979-93) and University of Wisconsin football (1969-90) and basketball.

Popular among fans and respected for his unique insights into the game, McGee brings a one-of-a-kind style to the broadcast booth. A Packer Hall of Famer, McGee is one of the team's all-time receiving greats and still stands fifth among Green Bay pass catchers over a quarter-century after completing his 12-year playing career (1954, 1957-67). Listeners respond to his droll, penetrating and sometimes irreverent wit, applied impartially to friend and foe alike.

Also a Packer Hall of Famer, McCarren is no stranger to the populace in northeastern Wisconsin. Sports director at WFRV-TV in Green Bay, McCarren additionally serves as host of two weekly Packer-related programs during the season. He was voted Wisconsin 'Sportscaster of the Year' by the National Sportscasters and Sportwriters Association early in 1995. An iron man at center for the Packers for 12 seasons (1973-84), McCarren played in 162 consecutive games — tied for the second-longest streak in team history.

WTMJ Radio, which has been broadcasting the team's games since November of 1929, continues its long-standing role as the flagship station of the Packer Radio Network. That designation is set to continue beyond the turn of the century as the two parties announced a long-term extension to their radio broadcast rights agreement early in 1995. A complete listing of the 58 stations in 44 markets which make up the Packer Radio Network this season is listed on the ensuing page.

Robert Brooks, taking over the flanker role in the Packer offense in record-breaking fashion, caught 102 passes in 1995, the third-highest total in club annals, for a team-record 1,497 yards, breaking Sterling Sharpe's previous standard, 1,461, set in 1992. Brooks also posted nine 100-yard receiving games to erase Sharpe's club record of seven, also set in '92.

FUTURE SUPER BOWL DATES AND SITES

tentative date*

Quarterback Brett Favre, mindful that Super Bowl XXXI will be played in New Orleans — only about an hour by car from his hometown of Kiln, Miss. — has high hopes that this will be the year he can take the Packers to the league's title game.

THE LAMBEAU FIELD STORY

Venerable Lambeau Field, now the longest tenured NFL stadium following the departure of Cleveland Stadium from the league scene, enters its 40th season of operation in 1996. Having undergone a number of major alterations in its four decades of existence, including numerous seating additions to reach its current capacity of 60,790, the facility has become one of the most recognized and envied venues in all of professional sports.

In recent years it also has become one of the toughest places to play in the National Football League. Since Mike Holmgren took over as head coach in 1992, Green Bay holds an impressive 19-4 regular-season record at Lambeau, plus a 2-0 mark in the playoffs. Even more imposing is the fact that the Packers have won 18 of their last 19 games in Green Bay (including the two postseason victories).

Modern in many ways — from its 198 private boxes and 1,920 club seats to its technologically-advanced sound system to its two brand-new, end zone scoreboards, each with a Sony JumboTron color replay board — Lambeau still maintains a nostalgic and intimate feel to it with totally unobstructed sightlines. Permeated by history, tradition and mystique, the view from inside can be awe-inspiring.

Erected in 1957, the structure was dedicated as City Stadium on September 29 of that year — a day which saw Green Bay topple the hated Chicago Bears, 21-17 — during ceremonies attended by then-Vice President Richard M. Nixon and National Football League Commissioner Bert Bell. It later was renamed Lambeau Field in 1965 following the death of E.L. "Curly" Lambeau, founder and first coach of the Packers.

Originally built at a cost of $960,000, an amount shared equally by the Packer Corporation and the City of Green Bay, the facility was financed by way of a bond issue which received 2-to-1 voter approval in a municipal referendum conducted April 3, 1956.

Since that time, seating additions — all of them underwritten by the Green Bay Packers, Inc. — have increased stadium capacity from its original 32,150 to 38,669 in 1961, to 42,327 in 1963, to 50,852 in 1965 and to 56,263 in 1970. Construction of the initial 72 private boxes in 1985 swelled capacity to 56,926, and a 1990 addition of 36 boxes and the 1,920 theatre-style club seats (in the south end zone on either side of the scoreboard) moved that number to 59,543.

The seventh — and likely final — seating addition occurred in 1995, when a $4.7 million project put 90 more private boxes and an auxiliary press box in the previously open north end zone, first giving the stadium the feel of being a complete "bowl." Also that year, just prior to the start of the season, an ultra-modern Turbosound Flashlight Loudspeaker System was put into place at the north end of Lambeau. The new audio configuration, installed at a cost of $210,000, provides highly intelligible sound throughout the stadium while minimizing reverberation off the glass of the premium seating areas.

The stadium earlier had been upgraded in 1993 with the initial installation of a $1.7 million Sony JumboTron color replay board in the north end zone. Complemented this year by a new $3.5 million scoreboard project, the two scoreboards at Lambeau now rival any in the NFL, encompassing a complete listing of game score, down and distance, ball location, time of game, yardage figures and out-of-town scores with greater visibility. The larger of the two new boards, 208 feet long and 40 feet high, extends across the north end zone, while the south end zone is home to a scoreboard measuring 164 feet long and 38 feet high. In addition to the matrix portions, each complete scoreboard includes a 20 by 26 foot replay board, the original north end zone screen having been moved to the south end zone and replaced by a similar Sony replay board.

Also prominent within the stadium are the names of the 19 Packer players and coaches who have been elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio, which are permanently displayed on the green walls between floors of the stadium's private boxes, on both sides of the stadium. All 11 of the team's championship years (1929-30-31, 1936, 1939, 1944, 1961-62, 1965-66-67) additionally are emblazoned above the club seats in the south end zone. This year for the first time a "1995 NFC Central Division Champions" flag will be flown high in the north end zone.

With the completion of this year's scoreboard project, the Packer organization has spent more than $43 million on improvements to the stadium, club administration building and training facilities over the past 15 years, including construction of the original indoor practice structure in 1982 and replacing it with The Don Hutson Center in 1994 at a cost of nearly $4.7 million.

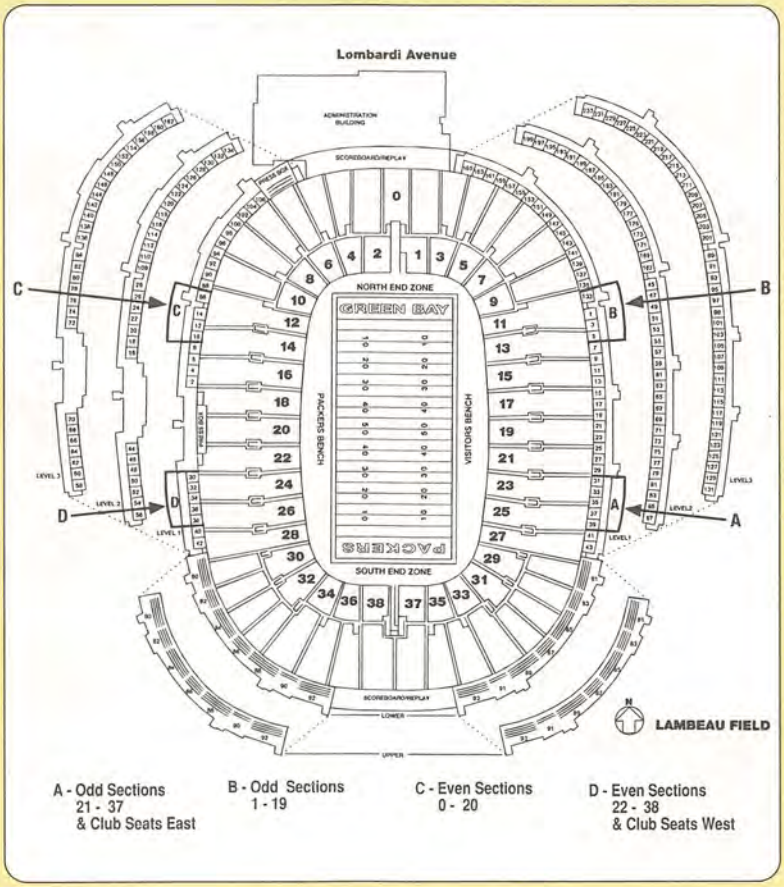

Unique and incomparable, Lambeau Field now is wholly owned by the City of Green Bay, retirement of the original $960,000 indebtedness having been celebrated at a mortgage burning ceremony in May of 1978. The Packers have a lease with the city for stadium usage through the year 2013 with a team option extending through the year 2024 under the terms of a revised agreement reached in 1995.

Sold out on a season-ticket basis since 1960, the team maintained two separate ticket packages after moving all of its games to Green Bay starting with the 1995 season. 'Gold' ticket holders (made up primarily of former Milwaukee season patrons) have a three-game package consisting of the annual Midwest Shrine preseason contest plus home games two and six of the regular season. 'Green' season customers (made up of original Green Bay ticket holders) have a seven-game package consisting of the annual Bishop's Charities preseason game in addition to the remaining six regular-season contests.

Ticket prices for the 1996 season, following the first price increase by the team in four years, are as follows: end zone seats (sections 0-8 and 31-38) $28; seats between the 20-yard lines (sections 15-24) $34; other sideline seats (sections 9-14 and 25-30) $32; private box tickets $40; and club seats $85.

Located on the southwest edge of Green Bay and surrounded on three sides by the village of Ashwaubenon, the stadium is available for public tours daily during the months of June through August except on Packer game days. Special groups (25 or more people) can arrange for tours between May 1 and Nov. 15. The Packer Hall of Fame (414/499-4281) can provide further information on tours.

MEDIA INFORMATION

CREDENTIALS: All credential requests should be directed to Lee Remmel, Executive Director of Public Relations. Requests may be either FAXed to (414) 496-5712 or mailed to P.O. Box 10628, Green Bay, WI 54307-0628. Credentials will not be mailed, unless the requesting outlet provides a Federal Express or UPS number, and should be picked up in person at the Packers' public relations office. Credentials not obtained prior to game day will be left at Press Will Call — Gate 26 (north side). The will call booth opens three hours prior to kickoff.

PHOTO CREDENTIALS will not be issued to free-lance photographers unless on a specific assignment from an accredited organization.

MIKE HOLMGREN PRESS CONFERENCES: Head Coach Mike Holmgren regularly will hold four weekly press conferences during the regular season: Mondays and Wednesdays at 11:30 a.m. in the basement auditorium of the team's administration building, Fridays immediately following practice out on the field, as well as at the conclusion of each game. Post-game news conferences will be held in the basement auditorium of the team's administration building.

During training camp, Holmgren will be available out on the practice field each day following the morning workout.

Any other requests for interviews with Head Coach Mike Holmgren should be directed to a member of the Packers' public relations department.

PLAYER AVAILABILITY: During the regular season, the locker room is open for player interviews five days a week. On Monday, the locker room is open for 45 minutes upon completion of the players' workout. On Wednesday and Thursday, the locker room is open from 12:15-1:00 p.m. and for a half-hour immediately following practice. On Friday, the locker room opens 30 minutes after the end of practice for a half-hour period. At the conclusion of all games, the locker room will be opened after the NFL's standard "cooling off" period. The locker room will be closed on the players' "off" day (generally Tuesday) and on Saturday.

The locker room is closed during training camp.

Any requests to interview players other than at the aforementioned times should be directed to a member of the Packers' public relations department.

CONFERENCE CALLS: The Packers' public relations department will arrange a conference call with the head coach and a key player of the opposing team each week during the regular season. These conference calls will be made from the media work room, located in the basement of the team's administration building, and generally will be held on Wednesday.

PRESS ROOM PHONE: The general press room phone number is (414) 496-5707.

PRESS BOX PHONES: "Co-op" phones are made available to media in both press boxes at Lambeau Field. If dedicated service is desired, within the state of Wisconsin call Ameritech at (800) 660-3000. Out-of-state media can order dedicated phone service by calling (800) 447-7738. Please contact Don Raddatz 7 to 10 days prior to the game at (414) 496-7728 or by FAX at (414) 739-4735 regarding any instrument needs.

GAME DAY FAX SERVICE: Telesports FAX is the Green Bay Packers' provider of FAX service for all media at home games. Service can be ordered by contacting John Dodds at (414) 347-1502 (H) or (414) 276-2601 (W) (mailing address: 1009 North Jackson, #608; Milwaukee, WI 53202). FAX service fees generally are the NFL's standard league-wide charge of $25.

FAX BACK SERVICE: Members of the media wishing to utilize the Packers' "Fast Fax" system — to obtain the most-recent press releases plus updated rosters and statistics — should call the public relations department at (414) 496-5705 for further information.

POOL REPORTERS: As assigned by the Professional Football Writers of America (PFWA), the Green Bay pool reporter for the 1996 season is Tom Mulhern of the Appleton Post-Crescent. Brad Zimanek of Packer Plus is the alternate.
