JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS FOUNDATION

MISSION STATEMENT

Believing that youth represent the community's future, the Jacksonville Jaguars Foundation is committed to serving the greater Jacksonville area through strategic financial, networking and volunteer support benefitting economically and socially disadvantaged youth and families. By building upon our city's strengths, we seek to realize the positive potential of our young people in need. In doing so, we aim to serve as a model to other sports franchises.

PROGRAMS:

The Jaguars Foundation's innovative programs have been nationally recognized, including stories in the New York Times, Forbes, Grantmanship Center magazine, St. Anthony Messenger and the syndicated "Osgood File" radio program.

GRANTMAKING: From March 1995 through June 2001, the Jaguars Foundation allocated more than $3.7 million in grants. This level of giving is among the top few in professional sports. The Foundation has a fair and objective evaluation process to determine support. Grants have been allocated to serve such needs and opportunities as the establishment of a mobile vision-screening van, an after-school tennis and mentoring program, a series of child-abuse prevention services, a therapeutic arts program for youth recovering from drug addiction and a domestic violence education program for children.

HONOR ROWS: This unique program, now in its seventh year, uses seats at Jaguars home games as incentives for agencies, young people and volunteer mentors to set and achieve ambitious but realistic goals. Goal-setting involves academic achievement, behavioral improvement and providing public service. It provides for flexibility and creativity by allowing agencies to determine how best to use seats as motivational goals. All applications are reviewed by a diverse volunteer committee. In 2001, more than 4,100 seats have been awarded to 38 agencies. In addition to seats, Honor Rows participants receive a free meal, a T-shirt, hat, pledge card, certificate and special recognition by the Weavers, fans and on the Jumbotron at ALLTEL Stadium during home games. All Honor Rows youth earning a seat fulfill a pledge to remain alcohol, tobacco and drug free. The Jaguars Foundation partners with Reebok, ALLTEL and the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation in support of this program and with the United Way to mobilize volunteers to ensure the overall safety and enjoyment of Honor Rows participants. The Jaguars Foundation received the 1996 Governor's Community Investment Award for this program.

GENERAL CHARITABLE USE SEATS: Honor Rows is the largest of several Jaguars Foundation programs using Jaguars game seats for charitable purposes. Other programs include the HabiJax volunteers, Sailors Aweigh (for youth whose parents are on deployment with the Navy), the Tom Coughlin Jay Fund Foundation (for families with children who have leukemia), youth football, support for volunteers and other organizations. During the 2001 season, the Jaguars Foundation will allocate 11,800 seats for charitable purposes to home games, with a total in-kind value exceeding $400,000.

PLAYBOOKS READING INITIATIVE: This innovative program inspires young people to read. "Playbooks," in which Jaguars owners, players, coaches, cheerleaders and staff list and describe books that they found particularly motivating as youth or as adults today, began in 1996. Today, "Playbooks" can be accessed on the Internet at www.playbooks.org. This interactive website is utilized by libraries and youth servicing agencies to promote reading. The site includes timely updates of favorite books from new players. To encourage reading, children can e-mail brief book reports to Jaguars mascot Jaxson de Ville and compete for prizes. In addition, youth can receive a copy of "Playbooks" at local libraries by obtaining or showing their public library card. Players, cheerleaders and Jaxson de Ville have visited dozens of schools, libraries and youth-serving agencies encouraging youth and parental reading. The Foundation received WTLV Channel 12's "Top of the Class" Award for "Playbooks."

STRAIGHT TALK: The Straight Talk program is designed to reduce the incidence of teen pregnancy and the spread of AIDS and other sexually transmitted infections (STIs). Under the leadership of Foundation Chair/CEO and Jaguars co-owner Delores Barr Weaver, an unprecedented media partnership, including radio, newspaper, Internet sites, billboard outlets and every Jacksonville television station, collaborate to give teens and their parents candid information on sex, STIs and the consequences faced by sexually active teenagers. A major feature of Straight Talk is a televised town hall forum "Teens & Sex ... the Real Truth," that is broadcast on all Jacksonville television stations. The program aired live in 1999, 2000 and 2001, and will continue to air annually. This year's co-hosts were actress Shar Jackson from the television series "Moesha," Miss Jacksonville 2001 Aiju Jackson, and Jacksonville broadcast personality Jennifer Candelino, along with local radio personalities, a guest panel of medical and legal experts, and an all-teen studio audience. The show was watched in 106,600 homes (Nielsen ratings). The Foundation's Straight Talk website at www.jacksonville.com, created in partnership with the Florida Times-Union, which includes a question-and-answer section, had more than 12,250 views during two-week period when the show was broadcast.

In addition, public service announcements featuring Jaguars players run on local TV stations and the Jumbotron at Jaguars home games. The Foundation also produced a teen pregnancy prevention videotape, "Teen Sex ... In Their Own Words," for distribution to local agencies and schools. Finally, $500,000 in multi-year grants was awarded, in partnership with the Weaver Family Foundation, to local programs specifically dealing with teenage pregnancy and STI prevention.

ANTI-TOBACCO INITIATIVE: The team and the Foundation have taken a nationally recognized leadership position in the local and professional sports community against youth tobacco use. ALLTEL Stadium is smoke-free and has never engaged in tobacco advertising or product sales. Additionally, the Jaguars Foundation has partnered with the nation's largest private health care supporter, the Robert Wood Johnson Foundation, to reduce youth tobacco use, sending a clear message that smoking is neither "cool" nor conducive to athletic performance. This novel effort involves "Jaguars Don't Smoke" scoreboard and concourse signage at the stadium, showing a vibrant color jaguar squashing a pack of cigarettes under its paw. This image also appears on autograph cards used by athletes, coaches and cheerleaders. Further, this initiative involves public address announcements during games, as well as television public service announcements. The Jaguars set an exceptional precedent as the first team in the NFL to have tobacco advertising removed from the back cover of the team's "GameDay" program. Since then, the entire league has followed the Jaguars' lead and removed that ad.

NIKE/JAGUARS FOUNDATION COMMUNITY SCHOLARS PROGRAM: Nike and the Jaguars Foundation have established what is now a $500,000 scholarship fund. In partnership with the University of North Florida, the Nike/Jaguars Foundation Community Scholars program is a novel scholarship program that involves UNF honors students in mentoring incoming inner-city students who have participated in the Honor Rows program. Student candidates are nominated by their youth agency, and scholarship recipients receive full tuition for four years. Furthermore, the scholarship program provides mentorship support before and during the student's college experience, increasing their chances for lasting academic, volunteer and professional success.

AWARDS AND RECOGNITION: Governor's Community Investment Award (1996), WTLV-12 Top of the Class Award (1996), Bridge Builder Award (1997), Grantmakers in Health (1995 and '96), Osgood File/CBS Radio (November 1996), New York Times (January 29, 1997), Forbes (December 28, 1998), Robert Wood Johnson Foundation Cover of 1998 Annual Report, Grantsmanship Center magazine (Summer 1999), St. Anthony's Messenger (October 1999), and Florida Department of Education's Commissioner's Business Recognition Award (2001)

DELORES BARR

WEAVER

CHAIR/CEO, JAGUARS FOUNDATION

"Delores Barr Weaver, a native of Columbus, Georgia and co-owner/partner of the Jaguars, is a woman possessed by the opportunity to make a difference. In her adopted hometown of Jacksonville, Delores has a sincere interest in many areas of need, and through the Weaver Family Foundation, she and husband, Wayne, have supported the work of many local agencies. The Weavers have been married 46 years and have two children, Brad and Leigh, and an 11-year-old granddaughter, Morgan. Leigh is the artist of TOUCHDOWN, the 16-foot-long and six-foot-high bronze jaguar that stands outside the West Touchdown Club at ALLTEL Stadium.

Delores is committed to helping families and young people in the Jacksonville community lead self-sufficient, meaningful lives. Under her leadership, all seven Jacksonville television stations and their affiliates, as well as the local newspaper, have joined in partnership to address the problem of teen pregnancy. AIDS and increased male responsibility. Teen pregnancy is a major personal concern for Delores and is being addressed by the Foundation and local media in the effort to develop a quality prevention program for teens and to heighten awareness of adults in Jacksonville.

When asked about being a member of the public speaking circuit, Delores laughs and says, "It is interesting to note that until November 30, 1993, no one seemed to care what I was interested in, what good work I might be doing or what I had to say." Then she gives the credit to the Jaguars, who "open the doors and I must walk through as many as I can." As to accomplishments, Delores is most proud of the Jaguars Foundation and the impact it has already made on behalf of economically and socially disadvantaged children in the greater Jacksonville area. For Delores, the Foundation was a dream come true in September 1994. In March 1995, six months before the Jaguars played their first game, the first grants were made to eight local agencies in the amount of $140,000, and through June 2001, the Foundation has allocated more than $3.7 million in grants. When talking about the Foundation, she is quick to credit the Jaguars partners for their generous financial support and the staff for their commitment to supporting programs that will have a long-term impact.

In addition to her concerns for Jacksonville's children, Delores has set a personal goal to help level the playing field of life for women and minorities. She is dedicated to eliminating sexism, racism and classism from the hearts, minds and vocabulary of our society.

Locally, Delores serves on the City of Jacksonville Juvenile Justice Comprehensive Strategy Board, the Governing Boards of the Jacksonville Community Foundation, LaVilla Cultural and Heritage Association, USO Council and WJCT Public Broadcasting, and she serves as Trustee of Fresh Ministries and the United Way of Northeast Florida. She served as Advisory Board Chair 2000 and 2001 for Ronald McDonald House and also serves on The Bridge of Northeast Florida's Advisory Board. Delores is a staunch supporter of the three local domestic violence shelters: Betty Griffin House, Hubbard House and Quigley House, as well as Planned Parenthood, and, a member of The International Women's Forum. Delores co-chaired the HabiJax Golf Tournament, which in six years will have built 25 houses for deserving families who have earned a "hand up." The 2001 tournament was the most successful to date, raising more than $247,000 with a net profit in excess of $222,000. The 25 houses built represent a total contribution of $820,000 since the first tournament in 1996. Building on this success, she will chair the Delores Barr Weaver HabiJax Golf Tournament with the vision of building even more houses over the next six years. Delores says, "We can build houses for children, but then we must pray they will have a family to make it a home."

Nationally, Delores is a member of the Governing Boards of Martha Graham Dance Company and NFL Charities, both of New York, and the Dana-Farber Marathon Challenge and the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute of Boston, where Delores and Wayne have created the Claudia Adams Barr Program in Basic Cancer Research in memory and honor of her mother who lost her battle with cancer in 1957. Delores refers to cancer as her only known enemy and believes the answer to cures and the eventual elimination of that dreaded disease will be found at the workbench of research. The Weavers were instrumental in creating the Marathon Challenge, which provides an opportunity for participants in the Boston Marathon to raise funds for the work of the Barr Program. Since its inception in 1990, the Challenge has raised over $12.6 million.

And yes, Delores was a football fan long before the Jaguars. She attends every game, and is as excited and nervous as Wayne on game day.

PETER RACINE

EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, JAGUARS FOUNDATION

Peter Racine joined the Jaguars Foundation in 2000 as director of programs and assumed the position of executive director in March 2001.

WAYNE

CHAIRMAN AND CHIEF EXECUTIVE OFFICER

Wayne Weaver is a man driven by a challenge. In six years under his ownership, the Jaguars have grown from an expansion team into one of the most successful franchises in the NFL. Thus, the club's 7-9 record in 2000 has forced a renewed vigor as he strives to guide his team back to the league's upper echelon.

"In the National Football League, you have to have the attitude that you won't accept anything less than winning," Weaver says. "It's disappointing when you have a season like we had last year. But I believe, if you look at our football team, that we probably have more talented athletes on this roster than any other team in the NFL. If you add the young players and the speed that we've added, I think we're going to be a very competitive football team this year. What I like is that nobody is expecting much of us this year. I think we're going to surprise a lot of people."

And that is nothing new for the Jaguars. In 1993, Weaver shocked the skeptics by winning an NFL expansion franchise for the city of Jacksonville. In 1994, he hired a winning coach in Tom Coughlin. In 1995 he presided over the building of one of the NFL's showpiece stadiums and four victories for his inaugural team. In 1996 he watched his second-year dream team win two playoff games — the victory over the Denver Broncos is one of pro football's biggest upsets ever — and reach within one game of the Super Bowl. In 1997 Weaver saw his Jaguars win 11 games, more than any third-year NFL team has ever won. In 1998 he presided over a division championship and the franchise's first-ever home playoff game. In 1999, the Jaguars finished with the NFL's best record, a 14-2 mark that is tied for the fourth-most victories ever in league history, as the Jaguars hosted the AFC Championship game. And in 2000, Weaver helped bring a Super Bowl to Jacksonville, as the city was selected by his fellow owners to host Super Bowl XXXIX on February 6, 2005.

As the Jaguars head into their seventh season, they are the most successful expansion franchise in NFL history. Champions of the AFC Central Division in 1998 and '99, they qualified for the playoffs four straight seasons from 1996 to '99. Those kinds of milestones are the result of Weaver's commitment to winning. Every year a new mountain to climb. Every year a new success. Every year even higher dreams. One goal remains: a Super Bowl championship.

"I like the makeup of this year's team. I like the experience. I like the youth factor. If we can stay healthy, we're going to make a run for it again this year. When I say 'make a run for it,' I believe we're going to be a playoff team and I think we have a great chance in the postseason — if we stay healthy — to get to the big game, the Super Bowl."

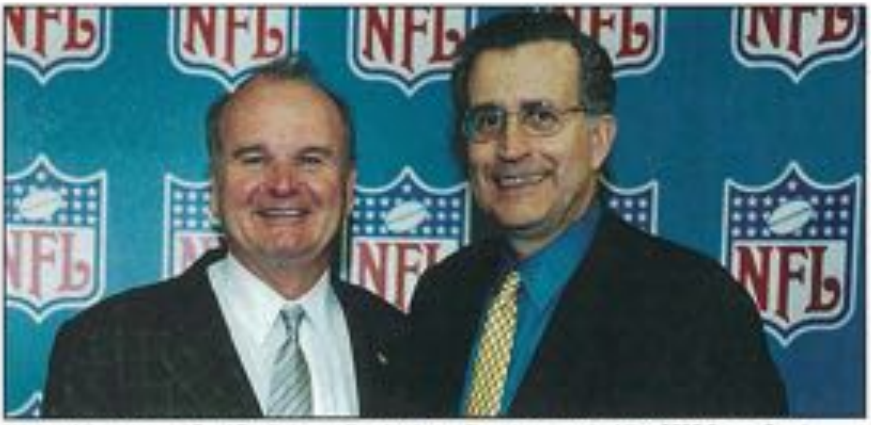

— Wayne Weaver

One of the nation's most successful entrepreneurs, Weaver brought his enthusiasm and business acumen to Jacksonville, a city that was yearning for professional football. He wanted a model franchise and a team that would contend for the playoffs in a short time. He also wanted success both on and off the field, with a Foundation that is the envy of the league and players whose character is the pride of the city.

Weaver serves as the Jaguars' chairman and chief executive officer, overseeing the day-to-day operations of the team while allowing his hand-picked staff the autonomy to do its jobs. That's the Weaver way, and it has long proven to be a winning way.

On March 18, 1993, J. Wayne Weaver was introduced as the managing general partner of Touchdown Jacksonville!, the group that was trying to win an expansion franchise for the city. Fewer than nine months later, the Jacksonville Jaguars were born.

Weaver has been called a dreamer. He is. But he also makes dreams happen. In winning the NFL's 30th franchise on November 30, 1993, Weaver led Jacksonville to what has been called one of the greatest upsets in sports history and the fulfillment of Jacksonville's more than 15-year dream of an NFL franchise. Another of Weaver's huge upsets was the awarding of the 2005 Super Bowl to Jacksonville on November 1, 2000. Jacksonville Mayor John

Wayne Weaver and Paul Tagliabue after Jacksonville was awarded the 2005 Super Bowl

Delaney credited Weaver for helping get the game, saying, "You had to have a great facility, a good city, a new arena. But clearly, it was Wayne's relationships that did it." And Eagles owner Jeff Lurie said, "Our confidence in Wayne in delivering a great Super Bowl is very high."

But if football is his passion, Weaver also takes pride and joy in his other businesses. He is the acknowledged leader in the women's shoe industry.

He is chairman and the Weaver family is majority owner of Shoe Carnival, Inc., one of the nation's fastest-growing shoe retailers. Based in Evansville, Ind., Shoe Carnival, Inc., is a retail family shoe company with $450 million in annual revenue. Weaver has nurtured Shoe Carnival from modest beginnings of four stores in 1985 to a current portfolio of 175 stores.

In July 1995, as the Jaguars went to their first training camp, Weaver became the majority owner, chairman and chief executive of LC Footwear, LLC with the acquisition of the company from Liz Claiborne, Inc. LC Footwear is a wholesale distributor to upscale department stores across the country. Headquartered in Jacksonville, the company is opening Liz Claiborne retail shoe stores nationwide and should have 45 stores open by the end of 2001. In fewer than five years under Weaver, it already has annual revenue in excess of $110 million. Previously, Weaver was co-owner, president and CEO of Nine West Group, Inc., the leading designer and marketer of women's footwear, from 1978 to its initial public offering in February 1993. Nine West is credited with revolutionizing the women's shoe market, as sales grew under Weaver's leadership from $9 million in 1978 to more than $550 million in 1993.

Throughout his business career, Weaver has maintained a commitment to philanthropic endeavors. Since the awarding of the Jaguars franchise, Wayne and Delores have focused their charitable efforts through the Weaver Family Foundation and the Jaguars Foundation, in addition to their long-standing commitment to the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute in Boston. Wayne and Delores serve on the Institute's Board of Directors, and they support the Boston Marathon Challenge, which has raised $12.6 million for the Claudia Adams Barr Program in Basic Cancer Research. The Barr Program is named in memory of Delores' mother.

Just as he has been innovative and proactive in business, Weaver has taken a leading role in supporting and promoting the NFL's youth football initiatives. He was the first team owner to appoint an employee dedicated to growing youth football, a move that is being followed by other NFL teams. Through support of the Pop Warner Junior Jaguars Bowl, the National Football Foundation Coaching Academy and many other events and programs, the Jaguars have established their commitment to the Jacksonville community and its young people in many ways. He is also chairman of the NFL Properties executive committee and is active on many other league committees.

Weaver is past chairman of the Fashion Footwear Association of New York. He also serves on the boards of Stein Mart, the Cummer Museum of Arts and Gardens, and the Alliance for World Class Education.

Weaver was born on January 14, 1935 in Columbus, Ga. A high-school graduate, he rose through the ranks of Brown Group, Inc., a major St. Louis-based shoe company. After serving as senior vice president, he departed in 1978 to become president and CEO of Nine West. Wayne and Delores live in Jacksonville. They have been married for 46 years and have a son, Bradley, a daughter, Leigh, and a 11-year-old granddaughter, Morgan. An avid sportsman and skier, Weaver ran the Boston Marathon in 1991 to support the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute.

MICHAEL HUYGHUE

SENIOR VICE PRESIDENT, FOOTBALL OPERATIONS

One of the brightest young executives in professional sports, Michael Huyghue has directed the Jaguars' football operations from start-up in 1994 through the franchise's first six seasons. He has been selected twice as one of the Top Under 40 Sports Executives by Sports Business Journal.

In each of the Jaguars' seven seasons, Huyghue has set the pace for all of the league's teams when it comes to signing players. In fact, in 1995 the team's first rookie class was signed collectively on June 1 — a first in the NFL.

Huyghue (pronounced "hewg") was one of the first people Wayne Weaver sought after gaining the franchise in November 1993. Huyghue joined the Jaguars in March 1994 as vice president of football operations, and he was promoted to senior vice president in 1996. He is also a member of the team's executive committee.

Huyghue oversees all football operations for the Jaguars, with primary responsibility for negotiating player contracts and administering the salary cap, as well as overall team budget and administration. He also plays an active role in league-wide administrative affairs, serving on the Management Council's working committee and the college relations advisory committee, and he is a trustee of the NFL Players Insurance Trust.

Huyghue was previously the Detroit Lions' vice president of administration and general counsel. He oversaw the day-to-day administrative responsibilities, negotiated player contracts and was instrumental in guiding the Lions to the NFC Central Division championship in 1993. In 1992 Huyghue served as vice president/administration and general counsel for the World League. During the 1991 season he was the general manager of the Birmingham Fire, which he directed to the North American West Division Championship.

From 1987 to '90, Huyghue was labor relations counsel to the NFL's Management Council, where he advised the then-28 member clubs on interpretation and enforcement of Collective Bargaining Agreement provisions between the league and the NFL Players Association. Rounding out his labor experience, Huyghue also served briefly in the legal department of the NFL Players' Association in 1987.

Huyghue earned a bachelor's degree in communication arts from Cornell University, where he excelled in baseball and was a three-year starter at wide receiver on the football team. He went on to earn a juris doctor degree from the University of Michigan Law School in 1987 and is a member of the State Bar in New York, New Jersey, Michigan and Florida. Huyghue was also elected to serve as a member of the Board of Trustees at Cornell and locally at Edward Waters College. As executive vice president of First Union Bank of Jacksonville, he was instrumental in rallying the Jacksonville business community in support of the city's expansion bid. His creativity and effort were instrumental in making possible Jacksonville's club seat drive in which NFL NOW! sold more than 10,000 premium seats in just 10 days in August 1993, a $75 million show of community support that the NFL expansion committee was not able to overlook.

During his 31 years as a resident of Jacksonville, Connell has been deeply involved in the community, serving on various boards. In 1997 he was chairman of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce and a commissioner on the Jacksonville Economic Development Commission. TOM COUGHLIN

HEAD COACH

The Jaguars enter the 2001 season with a tremendous challenge facing head coach Tom Coughlin: Guide the Jaguars back to a winning season and the playoffs.

And, to Coughlin, the goal of winning the Super Bowl is still foremost in his mind.

Coughlin has spent the entire offseason planning and strategizing the return of the Jaguars to the forefront of the NFL. Anything less is unacceptable to the man who had guided the fortunes of the team since its inception.

The Jaguars' success in Coughlin's first six seasons as head coach have whetted the appetites of Jaguars fans and raised the level of expectations as the team prepares for Year Seven and another run at the Super Bowl. This year, players returned to ALLTEL Stadium to read a new sign that hangs prominently in the Jaguars' team meeting room: "Let us lay awhile and bleed, and we'll rise to fight again."

"That's the message," says Coughlin. "We have some players who have played here all six years in which our franchise has been in operation, and they're not happy about last year. Our great loyal fans have not missed what has happened here in six years. It is an anomaly that we were 7-9 in 1999. So I'm as excited about this season as I've ever been in my life for a season to begin. If it were to start tomorrow, it wouldn't be too soon for me."

In six seasons as head coach of the Jacksonville Jaguars, Tom Coughlin has etched a record as impressive as anyone who has ever coached in the National Football League.

With 56 regular-season victories and 60 total wins in the franchise's short history, Coughlin has quickly moved into the elite of NFL head coaches — past and present.

- His 56 victories rank ninth among current NFL head coaches (the eight above him have all coached at least one more season).
- His winning percentage of .583 is higher than all but six active coaches.
- He's more than halfway to joining an impressive list of the 24 coaches who have at least 100 career regular-season victories in the NFL.
- Including playoffs, he averages 10 wins per season, more than all but five of the 24 coaches who have 100 career wins (Don Shula, Joe Gibbs, George Seifert, John Madden and Vince Lombardi).

And Coughlin won those 60 games while building the Jaguars from nothing into one of the NFL's most successful franchises and a team that has played in the AFC Championship game twice in its six-year history. The guiding force behind the success of the team is Coughlin. His quest for success permeates the organization, and his drive is embedded in his players. His standards are high; his goals are even higher.

"The challenge for the Jacksonville Jaguars in 2001 is to take the complement of players that we have and be so productive that the game of football is played at another level, a different level than what we played last year. We have to regain the respect that we had for a number of years. When we founded this franchise, everything we did was based on effort. So we have returned to those very simple, basic themes — great effort, unselfish team play and toughness, both mental and physical."

— Tom Coughlin

"I've never seen somebody who wants to win so badly as coach Coughlin," said All-Pro wide receiver Jimmy Smith, "but it carries over to us. And that's what you need to get to the ultimate plateau."

In seven years since becoming the Jaguars' first and only head coach, Coughlin has quietly become the league's third-longest-tenured head coach among those with the same team. Only Minnesota's Dennis Green and Pittsburgh's Bill Cowher, with nine seasons each, have been coaching their current team longer than Coughlin.

In 1995, the Jaguars won four games, more than any previous expansion team in NFL history. In 1996, they went to the playoffs and advanced all the way to the AFC Championship game. In 1997, they won a then-team-record 11 games. In 1998 they won 11 more games, including their first division championship in addition to their first home playoff game. And in 1999 the Jaguars had the NFL's best record, 14-2, and advanced to the AFC Championship game again. They slipped to 7-9 last year, which only seems to motivate Coughlin all the more.

Under Coughlin, who is known as an offensive mastermind, the Jaguars have compiled an impressive list of statistical accomplishments. They have led the NFL in both passing yards (4,367 in 1996) and rushing yards (2,091 in 1999). In fact, in 1999, the Jaguars not only were No. 1 in rushing, but they had the league's leading receiver, a feat that has only been accomplished by one other team in NFL history (the 1954 San Francisco 49ers).

Coughlin laid the foundation for a winning team in Jacksonville by preaching discipline and hard work, and his tenacity and determination quickly turned a new franchise into the most successful expansion team in NFL history.

Firm, fair, honest and demanding are the four words that describe Coughlin best. "I have very high levels of expectations, and I think players need that," he says. "Players want discipline; they want organization. We emphasize responsibility and accountability, and all the little things that help you win in the long run."

The proof is in the team's myriad of successes. In five seasons, comparisons can be made against the elite teams of the NFL: The Jaguars are one of only seven NFL teams to qualify for the playoffs at least four times in the last five years. Since 1997, they have the second-best record in the NFL, a 43-21 mark that is tied with Denver, two games behind Minnesota. Dating back to 1996, the Jaguars have the third-best record at home (32-8, behind only Green Bay and Denver), and they are tied with the best record on the road (20-14, tied with Minnesota and Tennessee). Of active NFL coaches, Coughlin has the fourth-best record in division games and the sixth-best mark in home games.

With 14 victories during the 1999 season, the Jaguars tied for the fourth-most victories in NFL history, and they hosted the AFC Championship game. Three years earlier, in 1996, Coughlin's Jaguars won seven straight games and advanced to their first AFC Championship game, just one victory short of the Super Bowl in only the 35th game in the franchise's history. Jacksonville's 30-27 victory over Denver in that season's playoffs is widely acknowledged as one of the biggest upsets in pro football history. Coughlin was named the 1996 AFC Coach of the Year by United Press International.

Coughlin was named head coach of the Jacksonville Jaguars on February 21, 1994, the hand-picked choice of owner Wayne Weaver. "One of the things I was tremendously impressed with was Tom's discipline, attitude and decisiveness of how he would build this franchise," Weaver said. "It was apparent to me that Tom was not only a brilliant football coach, but he's also an extraordinarily bright man who understands the organization, administration and detail that are needed to build something from the beginning."

A veteran of 32 years in the coaching profession, Coughlin had 25 years of coaching experience before he took over the Jaguars, including seven years as a college head coach and seven seasons as an NFL assistant coach.

He spent the 1984 and '85 seasons as the wide receivers coach for the Philadelphia Eagles, and he was with the Green Bay Packers in 1986 and '87 as the receivers coach. He served with the New York Giants from 1988 to '90 as the receivers coach, contributing to the Super Bowl XXV victory over Buffalo in his last season with the Giants. In 1993, Coughlin was offered the opportunity to return to the Giants as their head coach, but he declined the job so he could continue building the Boston College football program.

Coughlin's arrival in Jacksonville followed three seasons (1991-93) as head coach at Boston College, where he turned a struggling football program into a Top 20 team. Posting a 21-13-1 record in those seasons, Coughlin capped his Boston College tenure with a 9-3 record in 1993 which included eight consecutive wins, a 41-39 defeat of No. 1-ranked Notre Dame and a victory over Virginia in the Carquest Bowl. His last Boston College team was ranked 13th in the Associated Press poll and 12th in the USA Today/CNN coaches poll, despite beginning the season with an 0-2 start. He led Boston College to an 8-2-1 record in 1992, including a Hall of Fame Bowl berth, after posting a 4-7 mark in his first season.

It was at Boston College where Coughlin met Jay McGillis, a special young player who died of leukemia at the age of 21. In 1996 Coughlin started the Jay Fund Foundation in honor of McGillis, and in the last six years the annual Tom Coughlin Jay Fund Foundation Celebrity Golf Classic has awarded a total of $786,000 to Jacksonville-area pediatric leukemia patients and their families, as well as patients of other childhood cancers.

"It's hard enough to undergo a family crisis of health. But on top of that to have the questions of whether or not the family can function as a unit because of impending bills, that has to be catastrophic," said Coughlin. "So I think whatever we can do along those lines is a great thing — and in Jay's name."

Coughlin began his coaching career in 1969 as a graduate assistant at Syracuse, his alma mater. The next season he began a four-year stint at Rochester Institute of Technology, where he served as head coach from 1970 to '73, compiling a record of 16-15-2. Coughlin returned to Syracuse under Frank Maloney in 1974 and held the position of offensive coordinator from 1977 to '80, directing an offense that led the Orangemen to a berth and victory in the 1979 Independence Bowl, Syracuse's first postseason appearance in 13 years.

In 1981 Coughlin went to Boston College for the first time, as offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach under Jack Bicknell. He helped the Eagles win their first bowl bid in 40 years while coaching Doug Flutie, the 1984 Heisman Trophy winner. In 1983, Coughlin's last season as a Boston College assistant coach, the team earned the Lambert-Meadowlands Trophy as Eastern Champion, the first won by the Eagles since 1942.

Coughlin's playing career began as a standout scholastic star at Waterloo (N.Y.) Central High School in his hometown. He attended Syracuse University, where he was a three-year letterman for legendary coach Ben Schwartzwalder from 1965 to '67. A wingback for the Orangemen, Coughlin played alongside All-America backs Larry Csonka and Floyd Little. He played in the 1966 Gator Bowl in Jacksonville against Tennessee. As a senior in 1967, he broke the Syracuse single-season pass receiving record, which had stood since the 1950s. An excellent student, Coughlin also won Syracuse's Orange Key Award that year as the university's outstanding scholar athlete. He graduated in 1968 with a bachelor's degree in education, and in 1969 he received his master's degree in education.

The oldest of seven children, Thomas Richard Coughlin was born August 31, 1946 in Waterloo, N.Y. He and his wife, Judy, have two daughters, Kell and Katie, and two sons, Brian and Tim, and a daughter-in-law, Andrea (Tim's wife).

PERRY

SECONDARY COACH

NFL: 4TH SEASON
JAGUARS: 4TH SEASON

In his first three seasons as the Jaguars' secondary coach, Perry Fewell has been fortunate to work with Dick Jauron and Dom Capers, both former secondary coaches who were the Jaguars' defensive coordinator before moving on to head coaching jobs with NFL teams.

In those three seasons, Fewell's units have broken a number of team records, and he heads into 2001 with a secondary that includes a solid quartet of starters in cornerbacks Fernando Bryant and Aaron Beasley and safeties Carnell Lake and Donovin Darius. Bryant and Darius were named to All-Rookie teams in their first seasons, and in 1999 Lake was the team's first Pro Bowl defensive back and Beasley set the team's single-season interception record. That season, the Jaguars' secondary had 15 of the team's 19 interceptions.

In Fewell's three seasons with the Jaguars, the team's pass defense ranking improved from 24th in 1997 to 23rd in '98, third in '99 and 14th in 2000, and the number of passing touchdowns allowed by the defense declined from 24 in 1997 to 23 in '98, 18 in '99 and 23 in 2000.

Fewell was named the Jaguars' secondary coach on February 16, 1998. Now in his 17th year in coaching, the 38-year-old Fewell joined the Jaguars from Vanderbilt, where he served as secondary coach from 1995 to '97 and also as assistant head coach in 1997. That year, Vanderbilt had its best overall defense in school history and led the Southeastern Conference for the first time ever. Fewell was largely responsible for the development of Corey Chavous, who was selected by Arizona with the 33rd pick in the 1998 draft.

Fewell attended South Point High in Belmont, N.C., where he played football and participated in track. He went to Lenoir-Rhyne College, graduating with a degree in business administration in 1985. He lettered four years in football and was named the team's Most Improved Player in 1983. Following his playing career he spent one year as a graduate assistant at his alma mater.

Fewell was a graduate assistant at the University of North Carolina in 1985 and '86. He was the defensive backs coach at Army in 1987, then coached wide receivers at Kent State for four years before returning to Army as the defensive line coach from 1992 to '94. He was born September 7, 1962 in Gastonia, N.C. He and his wife, Kathleen, live in Jacksonville.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1985-86 North Carolina, 1987 Army, 1988-91 Kent State, 1992-94 Army, 1995-97 Vanderbilt, 1998-2001 Jacksonville Jaguars

He earned a degree in nutritional science in 1992 from Cornell University, where he was an All-Ivy League center and a captain of the football team. He earned a master's degree in exercise physiology in 1994 from Kansas State. Finnegan is a member of the National Strength and Conditioning Association, as well as the American College of Sports Medicine. He has written several articles focusing on a variety of topics such as nutritional supplements and football training.

FRANK

SPECIAL TEAMS COORDINATOR

NFL: 24TH SEASON
JAGUARS: 2ND SEASON

Considered perhaps the top special teams coach in professional football, Frank Gansz enters his second season as the special teams coordinator of the Jaguars.

Gansz came to the Jaguars on February 24, 2000, joining the organization from the Super Bowl champion St. Louis Rams, where he spent the previous three seasons. He left the Rams shortly after helping the team to its victory in Super Bowl XXXIV and joined the Jaguars a few weeks later so he could work with Tom Coughlin, with whom he coached on the Philadelphia Eagles staff in the 1980s.

Gansz was named the NFL's Special Teams Coach of the Year in 1999, an honor he also received in 1989. A former head coach of the Kansas City Chiefs, Gansz is in his 24th season of coaching in the NFL and 37th season in all.

In 1999, the Rams' special teams units scored three touchdowns and led the NFL in kickoff returns, and Tony Horne led the league with a 29.7-yard average. St. Louis ranked 14th in punt return average (9.8) and was fifth in punt coverage (6.7). In addition, placekicker Jeff Wilkins set an NFL record for most extra points in a season without a miss (64). In 1985, when Gansz was assistant head coach/special teams for Kansas City, the Chiefs blocked or deflected an NFL-record 10 kicks and scored five touchdowns. The special teams helped Kansas City claim its first playoff berth in 15 years by scoring all 24 points in a 24-19 victory over Pittsburgh in the season finale.

Gansz was the Chiefs' head coach in 1987 and '88. He was the special teams coach of the Detroit Lions from 1989 to '93, a period in which Mel Gray developed into the NFL's all-time leader in combined kick return yardage. In 1989, he was named Special Teams Coach of the Year by his peers. He was the assistant head coach/special teams for the Atlanta Falcons from 1994 to '96.

Gansz's NFL career began in 1978 as special teams coach for the San Francisco 49ers. He coached special teams and tight ends for Cincinnati in 1979 and '80, Kansas City in 1981 and '82 and Philadelphia from 1983 to '85.

After serving as a pilot in the U.S. Air Force for nearly seven years, Gansz began his coaching career at the Air Force Academy, before moving on to stints at Colgate, Navy, Oklahoma State, Army and UCLA.

Born in Altoona, Pa., Gansz attended Taylor-Allderdice High in Pittsburgh. He was inducted into the Western Pennsylvania Sports Hall of Fame in 1999. He played center and linebacker for the Naval Academy from 1957 to '59 and graduated in 1960. Gansz and his wife, Barbara, have two children: Frank Jr. (who is the special teams coach of the Kansas City Chiefs) and Jennifer, and three grandsons: John, Jeff and James Pearson.

HE PLAYED EVERY GAME; HE MISSED ONE

P Bryan Barker is the only Jaguars player who saw action in all 104 games in the team's first six seasons (including eight postseason games).

WR Jimmy Smith played in all but one of the 104 games, missing only the October 29, 2000 game at Dallas because of a hamstring injury.

PAUL HAYNES

DEFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL COACH

NFL: 1ST SEASON
JAGUARS: 1ST SEASON

Paul Haynes joined the Jaguars as the defensive quality control coach on February 28, 2000. He replaces Lane Kiffin, who is now the tight ends coach at Southern California.

Haynes, 31, assists the defensive coaching staff in all aspects of game preparation, including scouting reports, opponent breakdown and writing the playbook. He also assists in coaching the secondary.

He joined the Jaguars from Kent State, where he was the assistant head coach/safeties coach in 2000 after one season as the school's secondary coach. He spent the 1997 and '98 seasons at Northern Iowa, where he coached running backs and the secondary. Prior to that, Haynes was the secondary coach at Ferris State in 1995 and '96, a graduate assistant coach at Bowling Green in 1994, and an assistant coach at St. Francis DeSales High School in Columbus, Ohio, in 1993.

Haynes played safety at Kent State from 1987 to '90, earning a scholarship after walking on. He was team captain as a senior and second-team All-Conference as a junior and senior. He earned a bachelor's degree from Kent State in criminal justice and attended graduate school in guidance and counseling at Bowling Green. He is a native of Columbus, Ohio.

COACHING BACKGROUND: 1993 St. Francis DeSales High, 1994 Bowling Green, 1995-96 Ferris State, 1997-98 Northern Iowa, 1999-2000 Kent State, 2001 Jacksonville Jaguars

FRED HOAGLIN

TIGHT ENDS COACH

NFL: 35TH SEASON
JAGUARS: 5TH SEASON

Fred Hoaglin has been around the NFL longer than any member of the Jaguars' coaching staff — 35 years dating back to 1966 when he was a rookie center with the Cleveland Browns. But the 2001 season with the Jaguars will be a memorable one for Hoaglin, who plans to retire following the season and move into his dream house in Hilton Head, S.C.

Hoaglin was one of the NFL's best offensive line coaches before joining the Jaguars in 1997 as tight ends coach. His acumen teaching blocking has helped the Jaguars surpass 2,000 yards rushing each of the last three seasons (the only NFL team to do so), as the team has had great success running in two-tight end sets behind the blocking of Kyle Brady and Damon Jones. But Hoaglin has also overseen huge improvements in the team's passing game to its tight ends. In 2000, Brady not only shattered his own career highs, but he broke all of the Jaguars' records for receptions and yards receiving by a tight end.

Hoaglin joined the Jaguars from the New England Patriots on February 11, 1997, coaching tight ends for the first time in his career after serving as an offensive line coach for the previous 19 years. Now in his 24th season as an NFL assistant coach, Hoaglin has been a member of three Super Bowl staffs, winning twice as the offensive line coach for the New York Giants in Super Bowls XXI and XXV.

Hoaglin was drafted in the sixth round by the Cleveland Browns in 1966, and he broke into the starting lineup as a rookie. A versatile player, he spent the majority of his 11-year career at center. In 1969, his peers elected him to the Pro Bowl, and he put together a string of 69 consecutive starts in the late 1960s. He played seven years in Cleveland before being traded to Baltimore in 1973. He spent the following two seasons (1974-75) with the Houston Oilers before finishing his career in 1976 with the expansion Seattle Seahawks.

After retiring as a player in 1976, Hoaglin was hired by the Detroit Lions in 1978, coaching there through 1984. In 1985, he was hired by Bill Parcells in New York and a year later the Giants won their first Super Bowl. Hoaglin remained with the Giants through 1992, coaching on a second Super Bowl championship team in 1990, along with Tom Coughlin, who was then the Giants' receivers coach. Hoaglin re-joined Parcells in New England in 1993, coaching the Patriots' offensive line for four seasons. The Patriots allowed only 102 sacks in Hoaglin's four seasons.

Hoaglin was a starter at both center and linebacker at the University of Pittsburgh and was selected to play in the North-South All-Star game his senior year. He also earned two varsity letters in golf while in college. He received a degree in industrial engineering in 1968. He was born January 28, 1944 in Alliance, Ohio. He and his wife, Janet, have two children: Patricia Compton (3/5/68) and George III "Rick" (9/23/70); a daughter-in-law, Jocelyn Hoaglin; a son-in-law, Derek Compton, and two grandchildren: Andrew (5/28/87) and Kristina Compton (4/11/89).

JERALD INGRAM

RUNNING BACKS COACH

NFL: 7TH SEASON
JAGUARS: 7TH SEASON

The Jaguars are the only NFL team to have rushed for more than 2,000 yards each of the last three seasons, and in that time they have run for the most touchdowns in the NFL (59). Those facts are due much to the coaching of Jerald Ingram, the team's soft-spoken assistant who is quickly becoming regarded as one of the best in the NFL at his position. Since the inception of the Jaguars franchise, the running backs have always been coached by Ingram.

The Jaguars were once known primarily as a passing team, but they led the NFL in rushing in 1999, totalling 2,091 yards behind the tandem of Fred Taylor and James Stewart. In 2000, Taylor, despite missing three-and-a-half games, rushed for a team-record 1,399 yards and had nine consecutive 100-yard games, tied for the third-longest streak in NFL history. In 1998, the Jaguars ran for a team-record 2,102 yards behind Taylor, who set 29 team records. Ingram is equally adept in coaching the total game for the team's running backs, notably blocking and pass receiving. In fact, running backs have two of the three longest touchdown receptions in team history.

In 2001, the Jaguars will once again be led by Taylor, who is one of the top breakaway threats in the NFL, and he is backed up by youngsters Stacey Mack and Shyrone Stith. The team's fullback will be a first-year player, but there's no reason the Jaguars won't be among the NFL's elite running teams again in 2001.

Ingram was named to the Jaguars' coaching staff on March 3, 1994 after three seasons as running backs coach at Boston College under Tom Coughlin. Ingram, 40, is in his 18th year of coaching. Following his college days as a running back at the University of Michigan, Ingram was a graduate assistant at Michigan in 1984. In 1985 he joined the Ball

State coaching staff as tight ends coach, followed by five seasons as running backs coach. In Ingram's last three seasons at Ball State, the team posted a 22-10-2 record, the best among the nine Mid-American Conference schools. In 1991, Ingram joined Tom Coughlin's Boston College staff.

Ingram earned three letters and was a member of five bowl teams as a fullback for Michigan from 1979 to '84. He played for the Wolverines' two Big Ten champion squads that advanced to the Rose Bowl, in addition to playing in the Sugar, Gator and Bluebonnet Bowls. Ingram graduated from Michigan in 1984 with a degree in general studies.

Ingram was born December 24, 1960 at Wright Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio and grew up in Beaver, Pa. He and his wife, Kathleen, have a son, Julian (7/27/97), and they live in Jacksonville.

MIKE

OFFENSIVE LINE COACH

NFL: 7TH SEASON
JAGUARS: 7TH SEASON

In 2000, all of Mike Maser's abilities as an offensive line coach were put to the test, as a rash of injuries decimated the offensive line early in the season. But, by the end of the year, Maser's starting line — which featured a rookie in Brad Meester, a first-time starter in Todd Fordham, two players who weren't even with the team in training camp in Jeff Smith and Brenden Stai, and perennial All-Pro Tony Boselli, who still wasn't 100 percent following a 1999 knee injury — had developed into a solid group that protected quarterback Mark Brunell and paved huge holes for running back Fred Taylor.

Boselli, Meester and Smith are back in 2001, and they will be joined in the starting unit by Zach Wiegert (who was injured at midseason of last year) and most likely second-round draft choice Maurice Williams at right tackle.

The Jaguars are the only NFL team to have rushed for more than 2,000 yards each of the last three seasons (leading the league in 1999), and the team has rushed for more than 200 yards in a game four times in the last two years.

Maser, 54, joined the Jaguars' staff on March 3, 1994 following 13 seasons at Boston College, the last three under Tom Coughlin. Maser is a veteran of 32 seasons in coaching.

A guard in college, he began his coaching career in 1969 as a student assistant at the University of Buffalo. In 1970, he coached for one year at Darien High School in Darien, Conn. A service veteran, Maser coached at the U.S. Military Academy Prep School at Fort Belvoir, Va. in 1971 and '72. In 1973, he was the assistant offensive line coach at Marshall, and then he spent five years as offensive coordinator and head of recruiting for Bluefield State College in West Virginia. In 1979 and '80, Maser was an assistant under Jack Bicknell at Maine, and in 1981 he joined Bicknell's staff at Boston College. When Coughlin was named head coach at Boston College in 1991, he retained Maser as offensive line coach. During Maser's tenure at Boston College, the team played in six bowl games.

Maser attended the University of Buffalo, where he was a three-year starter at guard. He graduated in 1970 with a bachelor's degree in health, physical education and recreation. In 1974 he received a master's degree in physical education from Marshall University. Maser was born March 2, 1947 in Clayton, N.Y. He and his wife, Barbara, have three grown children, daughter Brigitte and sons Greg and Brian.

GARRICK

McGEE

OFFENSIVE QUALITY CONTROL COACH

NFL: 2ND SEASON
JAGUARS: 2ND SEASON

Garrick McGee enters his second season as the Jaguars' offensive quality control coach. He was named to his position on March 1, 2000. McGee, 28, assists the offensive coaching staff in all aspects of game preparation, including scouting reports, opponent breakdown and writing the playbook. He also assists coaching the quarterbacks.

McGee spent the 1999 season as the wide receivers coach at the University of Northern Iowa, coaching players who set several school and conference records for total offense, yards passing and touchdown passes. He coached at Langston University from 1996 to '98, serving as defensive backs coach, quarterbacks coach and then special teams coordinator and wide receivers coach.

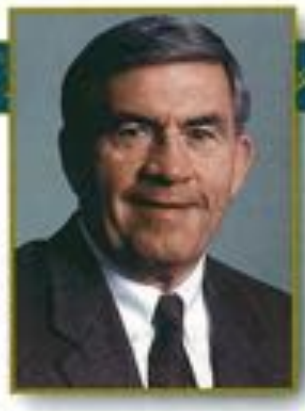

McGee played quarterback at the University of Oklahoma, where he was the Big Eight Offensive Newcomer of the Year in 1994, when he set school single-season records for pass attempts and completions and finished second in passing yards and total offense. He ranked fourth in the Big Eight and 43rd nationally in total offense. McGee played at Northeast Oklahoma A&M in 1993, where he was honorable mention JUCO All-America. He was redshirted at Arizona State in 1991 and he started two of four games played in '92 under Bruce Snyder and then-ASU quarterbacks coach Bob Petrino, who is now the Jaguars' offensive coordinator. He earned a bachelor's degree from Oklahoma in 1996.

He was All-City and All-State as a junior and senior at Booker T. Washington High in Tulsa, Okla., where he played for his father. McGee was born on April 6, 1973 in Kansas City, Mo. He lives in Jacksonville.

GARY

DEFENSIVE COORDINATOR

NFL: 7TH SEASON
JAGUARS: 1ST SEASON

Gary Moeller was named defensive coordinator on February 6, 2001, replacing Dom Capers, who is now the head coach of the expansion Houston Texans. Moeller joined the Jaguars from the Detroit Lions, where he had served as the interim head coach from November 6 until January 25, when he was replaced by Marty Mornhinweg.

Moeller, 60, had been the Lions' linebackers coach since 1997, and he added the duties of assistant head coach in 2000. As interim head coach, he replaced Bobby Ross, who retired at midseason. The Lions were 4-3 during Moeller's stint as head coach, winning the first three games, including a 31-21 victory over the eventual NFC champion New York Giants, which was the Giants' last loss before the Super Bowl.

As the Lions' assistant head coach, Moeller helped Ross in administrative and consulting matters, as well as attending team salary cap meetings. His linebacking corps featured Pro Bowler Stephen Boyd (who played for Coughlin at Boston College) and 1999 No. 1 draft pick Chris Claiborne. His first NFL job was as the tight ends coach of the Cincinnati Bengals in 1995 and '96.

Moeller was the head coach at the University of Michigan from 1990 to '94, succeeding the legendary Bo Schembechler. He produced a record of 44-13-3 in his five years as head coach, his teams won three Big Ten championships, were victorious in four bowl games in five appearances on New Year's Day (including the 1993 Rose Bowl), had five straight appearances in the top 20, and had an undefeated 9-0-3 mark in 1992. Under Moeller, Michigan won a Big Ten-record 19 consecutive conference games from 1990 to '92 and went unbeaten in 22 straight Big Ten games from 1990 to '93 to set another conference mark. By winning the Big Ten title in his first season as head coach, Moeller joined Fritz Crisler, Bernie Oosterbaan and Fielding Yost as the only coaches in school history to accomplish the feat.

Moeller began his coaching career in 1964 at Bellefontaine (Ohio) High School, where he spent three years before becoming an assistant to Schembechler at Miami of Ohio in 1967. He moved to Michigan with Schembechler in 1969, serving as defensive ends coach. He was promoted to defensive coordinator in 1973, and his 1974 and '76 defensive units led the nation in scoring defense. In 1977, at age 36, he was named head coach at the University of Illinois. Following three seasons at Illinois, he returned to Michigan in 1980 as quarterbacks coach. He also held both the defensive and offensive coordinator positions during his second stint at Michigan.

A three-time letter winner at Ohio State under Woody Hayes, Moeller played center and linebacker for the Buckeyes from 1960 to '62. A native of Lima, Ohio, he was the Ohio State team captain in 1962. Moeller and his wife, Ann, have three daughters: Susan Weeks, Amy Hevel and Molly Edwards, and a son, Andy, who lettered three times as a linebacker at Michigan and is currently the school's tight ends/tackles coach.

JOHN McNULTY

WIDE RECEIVERS COACH

NFL: 4TH SEASON
JAGUARS: 4TH SEASON

After two seasons as the Jaguars' quality control coach, John McNulty was promoted to wide receivers coach in 2000, and he coached two of the most prolific receivers in the NFL in Jimmy Smith and Keenan McCardell. In a game at Baltimore, Smith set team records with 15 catches and 291 yards (the fifth-highest total in NFL history), and he caught 91 passes for 1,213 yards in earning his fourth consecutive trip to the Pro Bowl. Meanwhile, McCardell set career highs with a team-leading 94 receptions for 1,207 yards in having his best season ever.

In addition to former first-round draft choice Sean Dawkins, McNulty also tutors two young players in R. Jay Soward and Alvis Whitted, and is working with them to reach their fullest potential. Soward and Whitted are talented players of whom much is expected in 2001.

McNulty, 33, began his coaching career as a graduate assistant under Gary Moeller at the University of Michigan in 1991, and he worked with the team's defensive line in 1993 and the wide receivers in 1994. In 1994, he coached the Big Ten's leading receiving duo of Amani Toomer (New York Giants) and Mercury Hayes (former Atlanta Falcon). While at Michigan, the team won two Big Ten titles, earning trips to the Rose Bowl against Washington both years. In the 1991 game, the Wolverines were defeated by Mark Brunell's

Huskies, while in 1992 Michigan earned the victory. McNulty also coached in the Holiday Bowl (1994) and the Hall of Fame Bowl (1993). In 1995 he joined the staff at the University of Connecticut working with wide receivers and special teams. He coached 1,000-yard receivers in 1996 and '97 and an All-American in 1997.

McNulty was born May 29, 1968 in Scranton, Pa. and was a high school standout at Abington Heights High in Clarks Summit, Pa. He graduated from Penn State in 1990 with a degree in business management and business law. He played four years as a safety at Penn State under Joe Paterno, playing in bowl games each of his four seasons. McNulty and his wife, Kimberly, reside in Jacksonville Beach.

JERRY PALMIERI

STRENGTH AND CONDITIONING COACH

NFL: 7TH SEASON
JAGUARS: 7TH SEASON

Jerry Palmieri has been the strength and conditioning coach of the Jaguars since they began play in 1995. Palmieri was selected by the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society to receive the 1999 Coach of the Year Award, honoring his contributions to his profession.

Under Palmieri's guidance, the Jaguars have had nearly 100 percent attendance for their four-day-a-week offseason conditioning program over the last seven years. That has helped the team reap the benefits of his program, in which players have annually set personal bests for strength, speed and other conditioning aspects which ultimately produce more powerful athletes. In this year's offseason conditioning program, the team's average body fat decreased by 1.5 percent, vertical jump increased 1.14 inches, and the average player's bench and incline increased by 22 pounds. The Jaguars have 24 veteran players who can squat more than 600 pounds and 28 veterans who can power clean more than 300 pounds.

Palmieri's philosophy is two-fold. Intangibly, he uses a scriptural verse: "Whatever your hand finds to do, do it with all your might ..." (Ecclesiastes 9:10). Each athlete is challenged to work hard and reach his fullest potential — tangibly, its strength and power. Palmieri's goal is to help each athlete increase in size, strength and speed, which ultimately produces a more powerful athlete. "Coach Coughlin wants our team to play physical on the field," says Palmieri. "Our job is to make our players more physical and more powerful, so that their play will be physical in competition."

Palmieri joined the Jaguars on January 11, 1995 after having served as director of strength and conditioning operations at Boston College since 1993, where he was hired by Tom Coughlin. Prior to his stint at Boston College, Palmieri spent six years overseeing the strength and conditioning program at Kansas State. He began his career as a strength coach in 1982 at North Carolina, followed by three years at Oklahoma State. In addition to his coaching experience, Palmieri has taught college physical education classes and written articles about strength and conditioning for national publications. He has also produced videos on strength and speed training and is active with the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

A 1980 graduate of Montclair State, Palmieri received a master's degree in exercise physiology from the University of North Carolina in 1984. He is a three-time Golden Gloves champion (1976-78) and competed in international competition as a member of the 1978 and 1979 USA Boxing Teams. He was born October 30, 1958 in Englewood, N.J. Jerry and his wife, Ellen, have a son, Tony (12/18/85), and a daughter, Annamarie (10/2/87).

JOHN

ASSISTANT HEAD COACH/ DEFENSIVE LINE COACH

NFL: 16TH SEASON
JAGUARS: 7TH SEASON

The strength of the Jaguars' defense has always been the play of its defensive line, which has been coach by John Pease since the team was first built in 1995. Pease is regarded as one of the top defensive line coaches in the NFL, and his efforts were rewarded in 2001 when he was promoted by Tom Coughlin to serve as the Jaguars' assistant head coach. Pease's expanded duties include coordination of the team's offseason strength and conditioning program, as well as assisting Coughlin in the organization and logistics of the April minicamp and the June pre-camp, as well as administrative assignments involving scheduling and training camp.

A constant to a Pease-coached defensive line is that he rotates seven or eight players throughout every game at both tackle and end, keeping his players fresh for the entire 60 minutes of each game. Under Pease, the Jaguars are always among the league sack leaders, averaging 42 sacks per season since 1996. But Pease's front four is also sturdy against the run — in the last five years, only three other teams have allowed fewer than the 50 rushing scores given up by Jacksonville.

Pease, 57, was named defensive line coach on January 12, 1995 following nine seasons as defensive line coach for the New Orleans Saints. He is a veteran of 31 years in coaching, a career that also includes 13 years at the college level and three in the USFL.

Pease began his fulltime coaching career at Fullerton College in 1970, as linebackers coach (1970-72) and defensive line coach (1973). He also had stints at Long Beach State, Utah and Washington. From 1983 to '85, he was on the coaching staff of the Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars of the USFL along with Dom Capers under head coach Jim Mora. The Stars won the USFL championship in 1984 and '85. When Mora was named head coach of the Saints, Pease joined him in New Orleans, where he was from 1986 until joining the Jaguars in 1995. The Saints were a playoff team three of Pease's last five seasons.

A graduate of the University of Utah, Pease began college at Fullerton Junior College, where he was a two-time Junior College All-America selection. He was inducted into the California Community College Football Coaches Hall of Fame in 1999. He transferred to Utah and was named All-Western Athletic Conference as a senior wingback. From 1965 to '67, he served in the military in Puerto Rico and coached at Antilles High School. In 1968 and '69, he was a graduate assistant at Utah prior to moving to Fullerton the next year.

Pease was born October 14, 1943 in Pittsburgh. He was on the training camp roster of the Los Angeles Rams after his final collegiate season. He has two daughters, Tracy and Kristen, and four grandsons, Stephen, Greg, Ty and Kyle. He lives in Jacksonville with his wife, Chris.

BOB

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR

NFL: 3RD SEASON
JAGUARS: 3RD SEASON

After two seasons as the Jaguars' quarterbacks coach, Bob Petrino was promoted to offensive coordinator this year, taking over the play-calling duties from head coach Tom Coughlin.

He becomes the third offensive coordinator on Coughlin's staff in seven years, after the first two left to become NFL head coaches. Kevin Gilbride was the team's first offensive coordinator in 1995 and '96 before being named head coach of the San Diego Chargers. Chris Palmer was the offensive coordinator in 1997 and '98 prior to being chosen as head coach of the Cleveland Browns. Coughlin took on play-calling duties for the 1999 and 2000 seasons after Palmer's departure.

Petrino, 40, is in his 19th year in coaching, including 10 previous seasons as an offensive coordinator at the college level. In addition to overseeing the offense, Petrino will continue to coach the quarterbacks — Mark Brunell and backups Jamie Martin and Jonathan Quinn, all of whom have led the Jaguars to victories. Under Petrino's tutelage, Brunell ranked fourth and sixth in the AFC in passing in 1999 and 2000, respectively, and last year Brunell tied his team record with 20 touchdown passes, while passing for 3,640 yards, his second-highest total in six seasons in Jacksonville.

Petrino joined the Jaguars on February 10, 1999 following 16 years coaching in college football. In 1998, he was the offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at the University of Louisville, where he coached quarterback Chris Redman, now with the Baltimore Ravens. Petrino has been the coordinator of teams that led the nation in total offense at three collegiate levels: NAIA, Division I-AA and Division I.

He was the offensive coordinator/quarterbacks coach at Utah State from 1995 to '97, and the latter two seasons the team's offense ranked ninth in the nation. In 1994, Petrino spent one season as the offensive coordinator at the University of Nevada, where his offense ranked second in the nation in yards and third in scoring. In 1994, Nevada became, at that time, only the third team in NCAA history to have a 3,000-yard passer, a 1,000-yard rusher and a 1,000-yard receiver.

He began his coaching career in 1983 as a graduate assistant at Carroll College (Mont.), and he spent one season as quarterbacks coach at Weber State in 1984. He returned to Carroll College as offensive coordinator and produced the NAIA's top-ranked offense in both 1985 and '86. In 1987 Petrino returned to Weber State, coaching tight ends and wide receivers for two years. He then spent three seasons as the offensive coordinator at the University of Idaho and two seasons as the quarterbacks coach at Arizona State.

Petrino attended Carroll College in Helena, Mont., where he was a NAIA All-America quarterback and led the team to three consecutive Frontier Conference championships and was named the league's Most Valuable Player in 1981 and '82. He received a degree in mathematics and physical education from Carroll College in 1983.

Petrino comes from a coaching family. His father, Bob Petrino, is a member of the NAIA Coaches Hall of Fame after having served for 29 years as head coach at Carroll College. Bob's brother, Paul, is in his third season as the quarterbacks coach at Southern Mississippi.

Petrino was born March 10, 1961 in Lewiston, Mont. He and his wife, Becky, have four children: Kelsey (11/27/86), Dominic (5/5/88), Bobby (3/24/90) and Katie (10/3/91). They live in Jacksonville.

LUCIOUS

SELMON

OUTSIDE LINEBACKERS COACH

NFL: 7TH SEASON
JAGUARS: 7TH SEASON

Lucious Selmon, a former All-America defensive lineman for Oklahoma, was named outside linebackers coach on January 17, 1995. Selmon, 50, joined the Jaguars after serving as outside linebackers coach at Oklahoma, where he coached the previous 19 years.

He is primarily responsible for coaching the team's strongside linebackers, which this year will be Kevin Hardy, who moves over from weakside linebacker, where he was the team's leading tackler last year. It's a reunion for Selmon and Hardy, the 1996 No. 1 draft choice and the team's highest-selected defensive player ever, who were together in 1996 and '97 before Hardy moved to the weakside. As a rookie, Hardy exceeded expectations by making 130 tackles (second on the team), as well as 5.5 sacks and two interceptions, and he was named to the NFL All-Rookie team.

The oldest of the three famed Selmon brothers who were all consensus All-Americans at Oklahoma, Selmon graduated in 1974 with a degree in special education. He was a letterman from 1971 to '73 and was a teammate with his younger brothers, Dewey and Lee Roy, for one season. As a senior in 1973, Selmon served as team captain and was a finalist for the Heisman Trophy, runner-up for the Outland Trophy and the Lombardi Award, Defensive Player of the Year in the Big Eight Conference and Chevrolet Player of the Year.

After his college career, Selmon played in the World Football League for the Memphis Southmen in 1974 and '75. He returned to Oklahoma in 1976 to begin his coaching career as an assistant on Barry Switzer's staff. From 1976 to '83 Selmon was the defensive line coach before serving as outside linebackers/defensive ends coach from 1984 to '94. Selmon coached under Switzer for 13 seasons and was retained on head coach Gary Gibbs' Oklahoma staff in '89. In 1989 and '90, Selmon spent training camps working with the coaching staff of the Denver Broncos. During that time he helped coach the Broncos' linebackers and defensive ends.

Selmon was born March 15, 1951 in Muskogee, Okla. and raised in Eufaula, Okla. He attended Eufaula High and was named All-State as a junior and senior.

STEVE

INSIDE LINEBACKERS COACH

NFL: 7TH SEASON
JAGUARS: 7TH SEASON

One of only four assistant coaches who have been with the Jaguars since 1994, a year before the franchise's first game, Steve Szabo has been a fixture coaching the team's inside linebackers (middle and weakside) in the 4-3 "under" defense.

His linebackers have led the team in tackles each of the club's first six seasons, and Kevin Hardy, who played on the weakside the last three years, has developed into one of the league's leading tacklers. In 1999, his fourth season,

Hardy led the Jaguars in tackles, set a personal record (and team best for the position) with 10 sacks and was named All-Pro and to the Pro Bowl. Last year, Szabo also coached free agent acquisition Hardy Nickerson and rookie third-rounder T.J. Slaughter in the middle, as well as veteran Brant Boyer when the team went to a nickel defense for most of the final six games.

This year, because Kevin Hardy moved back to strongside linebacker, Szabo will most have a new starter at weakside linebacker (either Slaughter or rookie Eric Westmoreland) to go with Nickerson on the inside.

Szabo joined the Jaguars' coaching staff on March 3, 1994 after three seasons as defensive coordinator at Boston College. Now in his 33rd year of coaching, Szabo spent 25 seasons at the college level, including three years as a college head coach.

A former college running back and defensive back, Szabo began his coaching career in 1969 at Johns Hopkins followed by stops at Toledo, Iowa, Syracuse, Iowa State, Ohio State, Western Michigan, Northern Iowa and Colorado State. From 1985 to '87 Szabo was head coach at Edinboro (Pa.) University.

After serving two seasons as defensive coordinator under Earl Bruce at Colorado State, Szabo joined Tom Coughlin's Boston College staff in 1991. In all, Szabo coached in a total of nine bowl games representing five different colleges.

As a halfback and defensive back at the U.S. Naval Academy from 1961 to '64, Szabo was a teammate of Heisman Trophy winner Roger Staubach. As a junior in 1963, Szabo played on the Navy team that ranked second and played for the national championship in the Cotton Bowl. He also played lacrosse for three national championship teams at the Naval Academy. Szabo graduated in 1965 with a bachelor's degree in naval science. After graduation he was stationed at Quantico from 1965 to '69, where he continued playing football for the Marines.

Szabo was born September 11, 1943 in Evergreen Park, Ill. He has two children from a previous marriage, Christine (5/12/72) and Mike (1/26/75), and he and his wife, Patti, have a son, Zack (7/28/88).

RICK

DIRECTOR, PLAYER PERSONNEL

Rick Reiprish is the Jaguars' top personnel executive, overseeing both the pro and college scouting departments as well as the annual college draft. He has been instrumental in the Jaguars' success in the draft since the team's inception and in veteran player procurement since he was promoted to director of player personnel in 1998.

Now in his 23rd year in the NFL, Reiprish (pronounced RY-prish) has overseen the seven drafts that built the nucleus of a team that has been to the playoffs four times, with two trips to the AFC Championship game. Since overseeing all player personnel matters the last three years, Reiprish has guided the acquisition of players such as Hardy Nickerson, Carnell Lake, Gary Walker, Kyle Brady, Zack Wiegert and Jeff Smith.

Reiprish was hired as the Jaguars' director of college scouting on May 15, 1994. He has been responsible for drafts that have brought to the Jaguars players such as Tony Boselli and Rob Johnson in 1995; defensive stars Kevin Hardy, Tony Brackens and Aaron Beasley in 1996; defensive linemen Renaldo Wynn and Seth Payne in 1997; All-Rookie team members Fred Taylor and Donovin Darius in 1998; and cornerback Fernando Bryant, another All-Rookie choice, in 1999. In 2000, all 11 of the team's draft choices made the team, with several of them playing key roles.

Of the Jaguars' 57 draft choices in the first six years, 48 made the team (four others played on other teams) and 24 of them have started games in Jacksonville. Of the team's seven first-round draft choices from 1995 to '99, every one became a starter (more than any other NFL team in that time), and all but one of the team's nine first-round picks in team history are still with the club (running back James Stewart was lost as a free agent last year).

Working under head coach Tom Coughlin, Reiprish has direct responsibility for the pro and college scouting departments, which are headed by Fran Foley and Gene Smith, respectively. Reiprish continues to direct the scouting of college players and the annual draft, as well as trades and the evaluation and procurement of veteran free agents.

He joined the Jaguars after serving 10 years with the Seattle Seahawks from 1984 to '93. Reiprish began his scouting career as a Southeast area scout with BLESTO from 1979 to '82. From 1982 to '84 he was a personnel scout for the Kansas City Chiefs before going to Seattle as an area scout. He was named the Seahawks' Eastern scout supervisor in 1989. Reiprish coached receivers and running backs at Austin Peay State University from 1973 to '76 before going to East Tennessee in 1977, where he coached the offensive backfield and quarterbacks. In 1978 he was the offensive line coach at North Alabama.

Reiprish received a degree in education from Villanova University in 1972 and earned a master's degree in education-administration and supervision from Austin Peay State University in 1974. He was born Sept. 14, 1950 in Shamokin, Pennsylvania. He and his wife Janet live in Ponte Vedra Beach and have a son, Andrew.

SEVEN IS HEAVEN FOR JAGUARS

The Jaguars had five selections in the seventh round of the 2000 college draft (four on compensatory picks), and all five players made the team's 53-man roster.

FRAN FOLEY

DIRECTOR, PRO SCOUTING

Fran Foley was named director of pro scouting on May 12, 1998 following four years as the assistant director of pro personnel. He is responsible for the scouting and evaluation of the players on every NFL team, advance scouting of Jaguars opponents and player procurement during the NFL free-agent signing period and the regular season. Foley's offseason duties include the scouting of NFL players, as well as those in the Arena League and the CFL (and in 2001 the XFL).

He joined the Jaguars on March 3, 1994 from Boston College and was one of Tom Coughlin's earliest staff hires. During his three years at BC, Foley coordinated the Eagles' recruiting efforts, one of the top ranked in the nation.

Foley began his stint at Boston College in 1991, serving as tight ends and kickers coach in addition to handling recruiting duties. He was the position coach for former Jaguar Pete Mitchell (now with the Detroit Lions). His last two years were focused on personnel recruiting and team logistics. Prior to joining the coaching staff at Boston College, Foley had stints at Rutgers University as tight ends/specialists coach in 1986 and operations director from 1987 to '90. He also worked at The Citadel, coaching defensive ends in 1985 and at Colgate University as defensive line coach in 1984, when he began his college coaching career.

Foley attended Framingham (Mass.) State College, where he played offensive tackle from 1980 to '83. He graduated in 1984 with a bacheior's degree in English literature. His high school coach at Worchester (Mass.) Academy is current Green Bay Packers head coach Mike Sherman.

Foley is also director and treasurer of the Tom Coughlin Jay Fund Foundation, which, in the last six years, has raised $786,000 for Jacksonville-area pediatric leukemia patients and their families, as well as patients with other childhood cancers. He was born April 18, 1961 in Worcester, Mass. He and his wife, Lisa, have a daughter, Paige Madison and a son, Sean Michael.

GENE SMITH

DIRECTOR, COLLEGE SCOUTING

After six years as a college scout for the Jaguars, Gene Smith was promoted to director of college scouting on May 8, 2000, and he guided the team's NFL draft for the first time this year. His responsibilities include the scouting and evaluation of hundreds of college players on an annual basis, as well as directing a staff of six college scouts.

Smith was previously the team's college scout responsible for the southeast United States. He joined the Jaguars on May 1, 1994 and was originally the team's scouting representative for the northeast with the BLESTO scouting combine, which he joined in February 1994. He was the southeast regional scout for BLESTO in 1995 before becoming college scout for the Jaguars. Smith had previously been an assistant coach at the college level for eight years. He worked at Edinboro University from 1989 to January 1994, serving as an assistant coach, recruiting coordinator, and strength and conditioning coordinator. From 1986 to '88 Smith worked at Ohio University, where he began his college coaching career as a graduate assistant and later served as an assistant coach.

Smith graduated from Heidelberg University, serving as captain of the football team while playing as a defensive end. He graduated in 1986 with a degree in education and in 1987 received his master's degree in athletic administration from Ohio University. He has completed post-graduate work as well.

Born December, 31, 1963, Smith is a native of Monroeville, Ohio. He and his wife, Debbie, have a daughter Alana Rose (7/6/99). They live in Fleming Island, Fla.

WILL McCLAY

ASSISTANT DIRECTOR, PRO SCOUTING

Will McClay was named assistant director of pro scouting for the Jaguars on June 11, 2001. His responsibilities include scouting NFL teams the Jaguars do not play over the course of a season, some advance scouting, and working with and hosting unrestricted free agents in the spring.

Before joining the Jaguars, McClay served for a year as the player personnel director of the XFL's Orlando Rage and as a consultant and XFL scout. Prior to that, he spent 11 seasons in the Arena Football League as a player and coach. McClay played for the Arena League's Detroit Drive from 1989 to '92 as a wide receiver/defensive back, appearing in four ArenaBowl championship games, winning three times. In 1993, he coached the secondary and special teams for the Drive, who played in another ArenaBowl title game. He was the defensive coordinator of the Milwaukee Mustangs in 1995 and the Florida Bobcats in '96. In 1997, he became defensive coordinator and director of player personnel for the expansion Anaheim Piranhas. WHAT TO LOOK FOR IN 2001

■ The Jaguars to have a winning season again for the fifth time in seven years in the NFL.

■ Fred Taylor to add to two consecutive game scoring streaks that were alive at the end of last season: seven straight games scoring a touchdown and four straight games with a rushing touchdown.

■ Mark Brunell to surpass 20,000 yards in passing. He heads into the season with 19,117 yards. Brunell can also add to his team-record current streak of nine consecutive games with at least one touchdown pass.

■ Tony Boselli to be voted to his sixth consecutive Pro Bowl, and Jimmy Smith to be voted to his fifth consecutive Pro Bowl.

■ Jimmy Smith can stay on top of the NFL in both receptions and receiving yards since 1996 (he leads the league with 450 catches and 6,599 yards the last five seasons). In addition, Smith can surpass the 500-reception mark with 28 catches in 2001 (he enters the season with 472 receptions).

■ Kevin Hardy can lead the team in tackles for the fourth consecutive season. Also, Hardy can extend his team-record streak of having played in 49 consecutive games.

■ Keenan McCardell to surpass the 500-reception mark for his career. He heads into 2001 with 486 catches.

■ Tony Brackens to lead the Jaguars in sacks for the third consecutive season.

■ Sean Dawkins to catch 50 or more passes for the seventh consecutive season.

■ Carnell Lake to start all 16 games for the ninth time in his career.

■ Mike Hollis to continue his string of having scored more than 100 points in five straight seasons.

■ Jimmy Smith and Keenan McCardell to tie the NFL record with four seasons in which both players have had 1,000-yard receiving seasons. The record is currently held by Minnesota's Cris Carter and Jake Reed.

■ Jimmy Smith to have his sixth consecutive 1,000 yard season receiving and to move alone into fifth place all time. He is currently tied with Michael Irvin for the fifth-longest streak in NFL history with five consecutive years.

■ Hardy Nickerson to be named to the sixth Pro Bowl of his career.

■ Kyle Brady to set career highs for receptions and receiving yardage for the fourth straight season. He had 64 receptions for 729 yards last year.

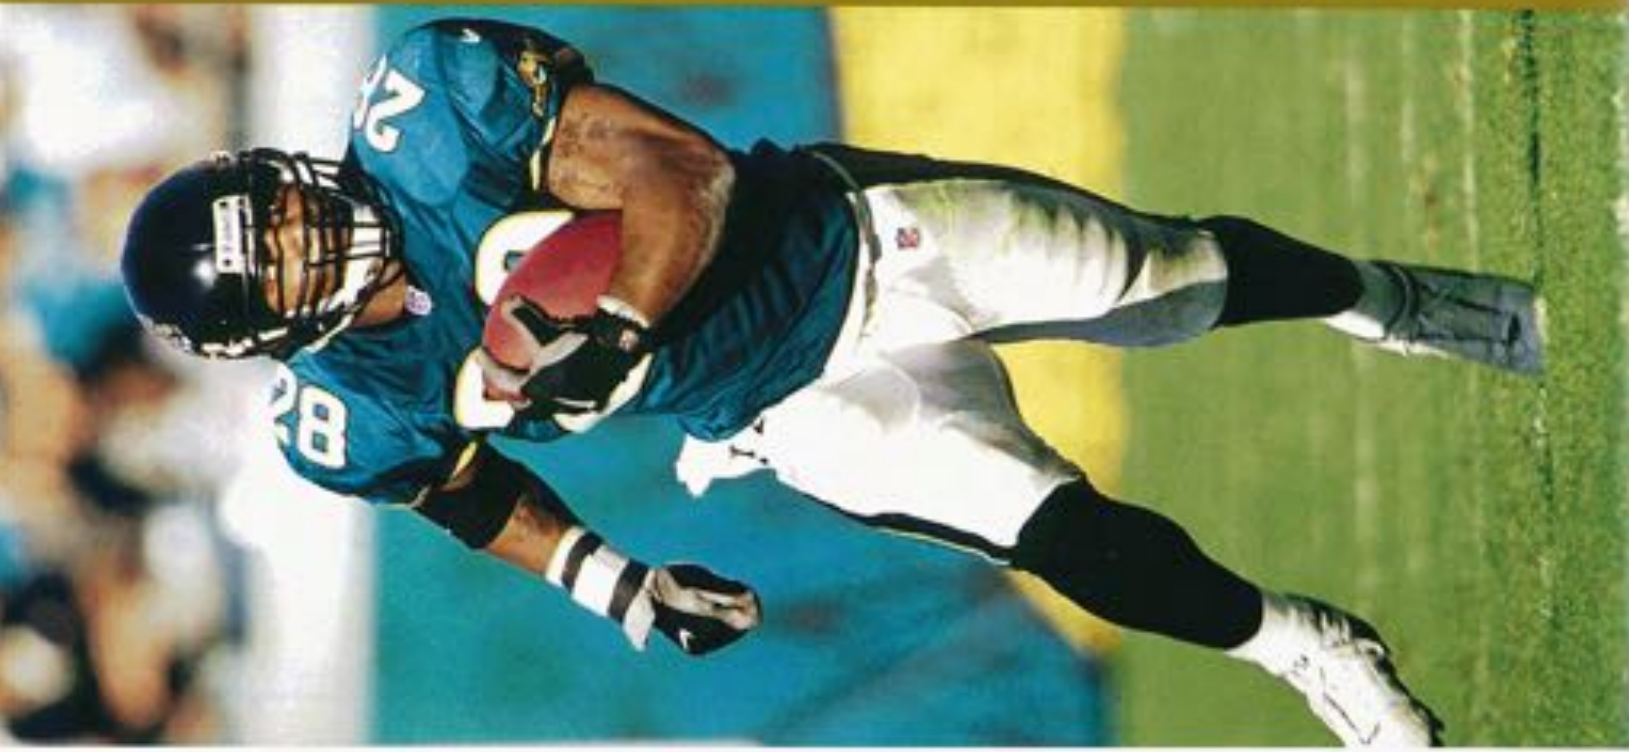

■ Aaron Beasley to make at least one interception, which would give him one in six straight seasons, a team record. He can also maintain his team career record (he has 12).

■ David Leaverton to become only the second punter in franchise history (placekicker Steve Lindsey actually punted for an injured Bryan Barker in the 2000 season opener, but Barker has been the sole punter for all six Jaguars seasons).

■ Mike Hollis to move up the all-time scoring list of active players. He is currently 13th with 681 career points, two points behind Cary Blanchard. Hollis can also move into the top 50 all-time scoring list. He starts the 2001 season in 67th place

■ The Jaguars to make it a perfect 8-0 all time against the Cleveland Browns.

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT TONY BOSELLI

"I think he is the best right now and not just because he's a USC guy. His work ethic is unbelievable. If anybody likes watching offensive linemen, he's the one to watch. He has it all – strength, quickness, size, and technique. He moves a lot lighter than his size. As well as he moves, as technically sound as he is, as dominating as he is, there's no question he could end up being one of the best of all time."

– Pro Football Hall of Famer and former Cincinnati Bengal Anthony Munoz

"He's right on target, the way we expected him to be — a dominating left tackle. It's a challenge every week for him because every team has a pass rusher. That's why Tony Boselli is here."

— Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin

"He's the No. 1 offensive tackle in the league. I can't compliment him enough. The guy has all the talent in the world."

— Washington Redskins defensive end Bruce Smith

"Tony is very intense and very aggressive, and we feed off that. He's an enforcer. He's not going to let guys cheapshot us or take advantage of us. He doesn't back down from anybody."

— Jaguars quarterback Mark Brunell

"I'd say he's the measure right now. He's the best around."

— Miami Dolphins defensive end Jason Taylor

Nov. 12, 2000	vs. Seattle Seahawks	Chad Brown (1.5 sacks)
Nov. 26, 2000	vs. Tennessee Titans	Blaine Bishop

"He was ready-made when he walked in the door in 1995. I've always said he's a 323-pound ballerina."
— Jaguars offensive line coach Mike Maser

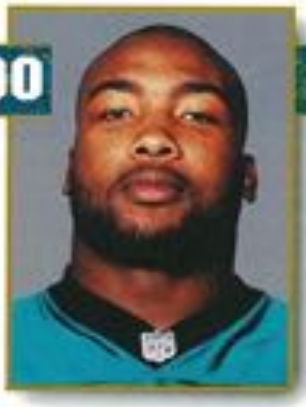

"When Tony Boselli gets his arms extended, a defensive end or a pass rusher has no chance."
— CBS broadcaster Phil Simms

"You've got to be 100 percent against him. You've got to be strong. You've got to roll up like a snake into him."
— Baltimore Ravens defensive end Michael McCrary

"I think Tony Boselli is a Hall of Famer. He is an outstanding, outstanding football player. When you see a guy go out and play as hard as he does and to be the person that he is, you say to yourself, 'Hey, there's justice in the world.' He's super."
— Houston Texans offensive coordinator Chris Palmer

"Tony Boselli is the best tackle in the game. He is the nicest guy in the world off the field, but on the field he's an animal. He's not afraid to get in your face. What impresses me most is how well he moves for a big man and can play in space. Boselli is today's standard by which all tackles are compared."
— ESPN analyst Mike Golic, a former NFL defensive tackle

"I thought what he had accomplished in 2000 coming off his injury, and the courage he displayed, was remarkable. He never complained about his circumstance, although you could see it. He told me in the summer, in one of those fist-pounding deals that 'I'm starting the first game and I'm going to play every game for the entire season,' and he did it. He was a great warrior, and what he did was a tremendous example for all players of the power of the will. He was remarkable."
— Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT TONY BRACKENS

"You have to be aware of where he's at. If he's not rushing and causing fumbles in the air, he's picking off balls. He has a great feel for the game. You've just got to be aware and make sure you don't put him in position to make plays — and that's not always easy to do when he's at the center of attack."

— Pittsburgh Steelers head coach Bill Cowher

"I see Tony breaking a lot of records. This is a guy that has all the ability in the world. He's going to make a lot of heads turn as his career goes on. He just needs to decide when he wants to be great. Once he decides, people are going to realize how talented this young man is."

— Chicago Bears defensive end Clyde Simmons

"You don't see many guys like him come into the league. He has some real gifts. He's like a race horse. He's got those wild eyes and he's chomping at the bit."

— Jaguars assistant head coach/defensive line coach John Pease

"He's got it all and he's smart — extremely smart. He's more gifted than anybody I ever played with. The strange thing about what Tony Brackens has done is he still doesn't have any moves. He gets a lot of sacks on just his speed alone. A Clyde Simmons or myself, we have moves. Tony Brackens is just plain gifted."

— Former Jaguars defensive end Jeff Lageman

"He's probably the best athlete I'll face all year. He's such a good speed rusher that he helps me work on that part of my game. Once he learns this game, he'll be able to dominate and take over a game like Bruce Smith."

— Jaguars offensive tackle Tony Boselli

"Tony Brackens is a great player. He creates big-time matchup problems for you."

— New York Giants head coach Jim Fassel

"He's so explosive off the ball. Having him out there changes the game."

— Jaguars defensive end Renaldo Wynn

"Tony Brackens is one of the premier rushers in the league because he is so relentless."

— Former Raiders head coach Joe Bugel

"He makes a lot of plays other guys wouldn't have a chance to make. He adds another dimension to our defense."

— Jaguars defensive tackle Seth Payne

"Brackens is one of the toughest blocks an offensive tackle has because he has so much speed, so much change of direction. You throw out your natural orthodox way of blocking linemen with him."

— Washington Redskins offensive tackle Ben Coleman

"Brack has unbelievable ability. I believe he can put up some unbelievable numbers."

— Jaguars defensive tackle Gary Walker

"Tony Brackens is an outstanding, skilled pass rusher who, because of his great quickness and strength, is also effective against the run."

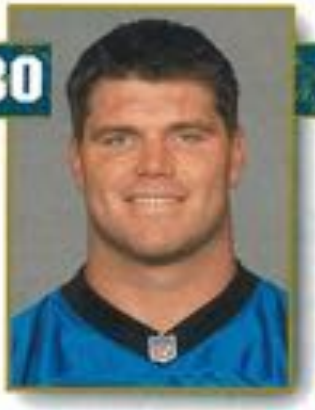

— Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin

"Tony has the kind of ability that can change the pace of the game instantly because he not only is quick off the ball, but he can beat tackles. A lot of times, when he gets a sack, he forces turnovers — he has a knack for stripping the ball out. A healthy T-Brack makes a huge difference for us."

— Jaguars linebacker Kevin Hardy

"Tony Brackens is an excellent football player. We had a good chance to see him at the University of Texas when he came out, what kind of potential and ability he had. He is such a quick and strong individual. He has a nose for the football and is a playmaker. There is no question, his play is very important to Jacksonville's defense. You have to be concerned about him."

— Dallas Cowboys head coach Dave Campo

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT KYLE BRADY

"He is probably the second-fastest tight end in the NFL. A player who can block and be a vertical part of your offense is important, and Brady can do that. He's just going to get better and better. I think his best football is yet to come."

— Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin

"Kyle is better than ever. I have always had confidence in him; I just haven't always gotten him the ball. We needed to change that, because he is too good not to catch the football."

— Jaguars quarterback Mark Brunell

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT MARK BRUNELL

"There's definite leadership there with Mark. There's physical toughness the other players can rally around. He's a great athlete. He's got size, speed, he's strong and courageous. You never want to take away his instincts and ability to make plays."

— Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin

"I generally reserve the word 'brilliant' for just a few people. I think Mark is a brilliant quarterback. I think he is an outstanding player."

— Washington Redskins head coach Marty Schottenheimer

"He's the man. Mark is getting better all the time. He has no limitations. Who knows how good he can be?"

— Jaguars wide receiver Jimmy Smith

"He is a great kid with a great family, the kind of guy you pull for."

— Former Green Bay Packers general manager Ron Wolf

"I have a tremendous amount of respect for Mark Brunell. He doesn't care about the odds; just give him the football and he will make something happen. I consider him to be one of the top quarterbacks in the league."

— Denver Broncos defensive coordinator coach Ray Rhodes

"He's left-handed, so he can see the rush coming, and he can get out of the way. He can scramble and throw on the run."

— Washington Redskins defensive end Bruce Smith

"I was very impressed with Mark even before what he did to Buffalo and to us (in 1996). He's just a very talented guy that will be one of the great quarterbacks ever to play the game, in my opinion, in years to come. He's the reason they're having the success that they are."

— Denver Broncos head coach Mike Shanahan

"There are definite similarities (between Brunell and Steve Young) — the way the players carry themselves, their movement abilities, how they throw the ball, their abilities to be spontaneous and make big plays. One player took his team to the Super Bowl and the other player is working to do that."

— Carolina Panthers head coach George Seifert

"I call them twins. Same number [eight]. Same throwing arm [left]. Same ability to scramble. Every time I look at him, I think, 'That's Steve Young's twin.' "

— San Diego Chargers linebacker Sam Rogers

"There are some similarities (between Brunell and Young) because they are both left-handed, they're both very fast, they're both very mobile and creative. They are both strong, tough guys. They're like clones."

— San Francisco 49ers head coach Steve Mariucci

"Mark is a great football player. He's efficient, he's accurate and he throws the deep ball well. Those are the things you need to be successful in the NFL. He's a great playmaker, I enjoy watching him."

— Former San Francisco 49ers quarterback Steve Young

"Mark has his own style. He's always going to keep you in the game with his arm or his feet. He is just a defensive back's nightmare, because you don't know if he's going to run or throw, and he may do both."

— Green Bay Packers safety LeRoy Butler

"Brunell is kind of like Brett Favre — only thing is, Brunell is faster than Favre. We've never faced a guy who could do the things that he did to us."

— Denver Broncos defensive end Alfred Williams

"You have to try to keep Brunell in the pocket. This is tough. He can really frustrate defensive players. Just when they think they have him for a loss, he gets away and makes a big play. When he pulls the ball down, he's not looking to run out of bounds. And at the same time, he's pretty effective throwing it."

— Pittsburgh Steelers head coach Bill Cowher

"I have no idea where he is (when I'm blocking). I just try to stay with my man as long as I can — and then I look up and he's running 20 yards downfield."

— Jaguars offensive tackle Tony Boselli

"I studied players throughout the 1994 season, and I was excited about Mark's athleticism, his leadership, his toughness, his ability to move in the pocket and his arm strength. I just felt like this would be the guy that we would want to lead our team."

— Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin

"He's only 6-1. You're supposed to be 6-4 or 6-5 today to get it done. Mark Brunell is short by NFL standards, but who can argue with the results?"

— CBS broadcaster Dan Dierdorf

"He's our heart. It's as simple as that. He's the piece of the puzzle that can get us to the Super Bowl. Just seeing No. 8 trotting into the huddle gives this offense confidence. It makes you think everything is going to be all right."

— Jaguars wide receiver Keenan McCardell

"You have to be disciplined on your defensive line against Brunell. You have to be careful that you don't get three rushers on one side of the ball. You have to pick and choose the extent to which you're going to play man-to-man defense, because guys like Mark, when they recognize man-to-man and defenders' backs are turned, they're going to take off and run and make big plays."

— Tennessee Titans head coach Jeff Fisher

"He's a threat as a passer and a runner. One of the main reasons why we structured the defense that we have is to try to be able to defend guys like Mark Brunell, who we have to face twice a year."

— Baltimore Ravens VP of player personnel Ozzie Newsome

"Outside of Brett Favre, Mark's the best in the game."

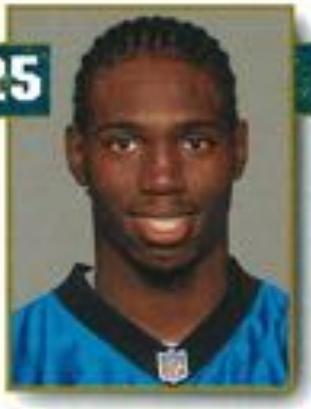

— ESPN analyst Joe Theismann

"Mark is one of the rare guys that beats you in and out of the pocket. You have a lot of guys that can run around outside that are trying to learn how to be pocket passers. You have some pocket passers that try to make something happen outside occasionally. If you keep Mark in the pocket, he will kill you. That makes him one of the best, if not the best, quarterback in the game right now. With every year Mark becomes more and more comfortable in the pocket. I think he is beginning to attain that level that Steve Young did."

— Baltimore Ravens head coach Brian Billick

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT FERNANDO BRYANT

"He's studied hard; he's instinctive, he has good confidence in himself and he's made some outstanding plays up on the ball in the air. He's developed very well."

— Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin

"A lot of times, Fernando is out there man-on-man on some of the top receivers in the league, and he does an excellent job."

— Jaguars linebacker Kevin Hardy

"For being a rookie (in 1999), he played phenomenal defense."

— Jaguars safety Carnell Lake

"It's great to have a corner on the other side like him. He inspires me with the energy he brings and as hard as he plays. A guy as small as he is (5-10) is not supposed to hit as hard as he does. He lets you know he is going to come up for every game. But he also has knowledge of the game. It is incredible how quickly he picks up things."

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT MIKE HOLLIS

"From the start it was obvious he had the leg, the work ethic and the mentality to be an NFL kicker. In a game, Tom (Coughlin) would ask how long a field goal will be, and then he says, '53 yards? He can make it. Let's go for the field goal.' "

— Washington Redskins (and former Jaguar) punter Bryan Barker

"He is an offensive weapon, no question about it. Mike Hollis has stepped up and converted for us. He's very consistent and we're very thankful for that. I really like Mike's mental attitude, his approach to the game."

— Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin

"Mike Hollis is a legitimate tough guy. He steps right in there, so I give Mike a lot of credit."

— Washington Redskins offensive tackle Ben Coleman

"He's done a great job for us. He's as big a part of this team as anyone on this team, and he just comes through in some of the clutch times and handles the pressure really well."

— Former Jaguars tight end Rich Griffith

"He can take criticism and bounce back. He can move on — that's the thing you need to do at that position. There's a certain inner strength you need to have. Mike's progress has been obvious to everybody. He had talent, but that talent had to be learned and applied. He improved continually, to the point that when he goes into a game there's a feeling that he's going to make every kick."

— Former Jaguars special teams coordinator Larry Pasquale

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT STACEY MACK

"If he gets some carries, he'll be productive. There isn't a player on this team that has a question in his mind that Stacey Mack can't go out there and carry the ball. He's a bruising running back who falls forward. He'll be all right."

— Jaguars defensive tackle Gary Walker

"He's tough. He's definitely a featured runner. This guy just needs reps. I think, in time, he can be as good as the top 10 to 15 backs in the league."

— Jaguars running backs coach Jerald Ingram

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT JAMIE MARTIN

"It's surprising that two guys who played so close in high school would end up playing together in the NFL. Having gone through the teams I have gone through and him going through the teams he's gone through, it's pretty funny. He's a great guy. I enjoy playing with him. It's great to have him in Jacksonville."

— Jaguars quarterback Mark Brunell

WHY JAGUARS?

Finalists in the contest to name the NFL's expansion team in Jacksonville included Sharks, Stingrays and even Panthers, but it was "Jaguars" that was ultimately selected and announced on December 6, 1991. Utilizing the services of the marketing experts from NFL Properties' Creative Services division and with the partners of Touchdown Jacksonville!, the enthusiastic fans of Jacksonville finally had a name to call what just less than two years later would become the 30th franchise to join the NFL.

Although thousands of entries were received when a contest was held to name the team, a majority of hundreds agreed with the name "Jacksonville Jaguars." Of those who submitted the name Jaguars, Jacksonville resident Ray Potts was randomly selected as the contest winner and for his contribution was provided a trip to the Super Bowl that year.

Considered the most aggressive and feared big cats in North America, the Jacksonville Jaguars look to pay tribute to their namesake in championship form.

KEENAN McCARDELL'S SINGLE-GAME CAREER HIGHS

"He has emerged as a guy who commands a lot of respect around the league. In any area of the field, he's proven he can make plays. Keenan makes a lot of big plays. He is a go-to-guy. He just makes plays to keep drives alive."

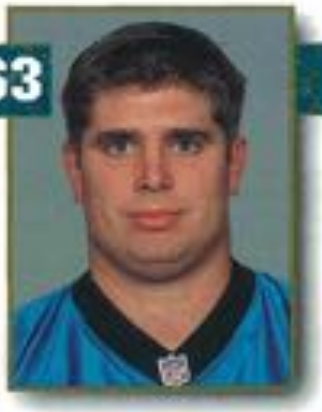

— Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin

"He's a competitor and he wants to play. If he thinks he's open and I don't get him the ball, he'll let me know, which is good. Keenan is one of the most competitive guys that I have ever played with. He wants the ball more than anyone on the field. I would say Keenan is the smartest – not just receiver, but player – I've played with. No question. He knows the reads, the formations, and the game plan. He knows that through and through. He's like another quarterback out there."

— Jaguars quarterback Mark Brunell

"The middle is for Keenan. That is his territory."

— Jaguars wide receiver Jimmy Smith

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT HARDY NICKERSON

"Hardy has the kind of personality that we've sought for the middle linebacker position. With Hardy, we have a strong linebacking corps now to compete with the Baltimores or any other team which has a strong corps of linebackers."

— Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin

"Hardy is one of the great professionals and leaders in this game. When you're a young player, you try and come and emulate the guys who are successful, and it quickly became apparent that Hardy was the guy to try to emulate. He taught me a lot about being a professional and about how to be a successful player. I think the best compliment I can give him is that I miss playing with him. The guy had a great passion for the game."

— Tampa Bay Buccaneers safety John Lynch

"It's exciting to have a guy like Hardy on the team. He has presence and leadership and experience and intensity. He can do so much — coverage, run to the ball, get off blocks. It's hard to find a middle linebacker who can stuff the run — we've had that in the past — but also cover tight ends and backs on passes."

— Jaguars linebacker Kevin Hardy

"He was a blessing to me my first year (in Tampa Bay). He's an excellent teacher, great leader and a very hard worker. A lot of my professional habits I got from him by coming to work ever day and being a pro every day. He's a guy that you looked to emulate, and if you did that you were bound to be successful in this league."

— Tampa Bay Buccaneers linebacker Derrick Brooks

"Hardy, for a player who has played at such a high level for so many years, is definitely a guy who deserves a lot of respect."

— Seattle Seahawks linebacker Chad Brown

"He has more fun than anybody. He always goes out to the practice field with a smile on his face, and that rubs off on the other players."

— Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT JIMMY SMITH

"In our opinion, he's the best receiver in football. His numbers speak for themselves."
— Tennessee Titans head coach Jeff Fisher

"He's the No.1 receiver in the league by far. He's the only one who has the total combination — the perfect combination of speed and power."
— Carolina Panthers cornerback Doug Evans

"Jimmy Smith doesn't know how good Jimmy Smith is. Jimmy's incredible. He's a great athlete who makes great catches. If a team leaves him one-on-one outside, Jimmy is going to win those nine out of 10 times. Jimmy is just stronger and faster than most any cornerback he faces. He's strong in the hands and he uses them to defeat you at the line. When he comes off the line of scrimmage, everything is tight. He attacks the corner's shoulders. Most receivers take a wide angle to get up field. He keeps all his angles sharp. With a guy that big and that strong, it makes it hard for a DB to attack his shoulder, get in front of him, and use his hands. He has great escape moves."
— Jaguars quarterback Mark Brunell

"He is the top receiver in the league. With Minnesota's Randy Moss, all you have is the deep ball. But Jimmy can run every route in the book."
— Atlanta Falcons cornerback Ashley Ambrose

"Jimmy is 'the man' in this league."
— Indianapolis Colts wide receiver Marvin Harrison

"He has no weaknesses. He can play anyway he needs to. He can play the physical game. He can play the finesse game. Or he can run by you. That's why I think he's the best receiver in the league."
— Tennessee Titans cornerback Samari Rolle

"He has the ability to hit the other gear and make it happen. Jimmy has the size and speed and is difficult to tackle. He has power, he has force. He is able to use those things to his advantage."
— Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin

"Jimmy's a lot like (Vikings All-Pro) Cris Carter because he can do so much. He has very deceptive speed, and he has learned how to use his body and set up defensive backs."
— Washington Redskins cornerback Mark McMillian

"I remember when I came back from his workout when he was in college about to enter the draft and he did some things that I hadn't seen before. His ability to run routes, cut and get in and out of breaks reminded me of Henry Ellard, who is in the top 10 of all the records. Henry was a 180-pound guy, and here is Jimmy who can do these things, but Jimmy came into (Dallas') camp with injuries and appendicitis. We had quite a crew of people there, so it didn't work out. But I always thought Jimmy would be a heck of a player. You never know what a guy is going to go on and do. Jimmy is just phenomenal and has gone on to be one of, if not, the best player in the league. Sometimes when you have adversity it takes you a little bit longer and you appreciate it more."
— San Diego Chargers offensive coordinator Norv Turner

"In my opinion, Jimmy's the best and should be considered the best in this league. There's guy's who are very fast, and that's all they are. But Jimmy's fast, and he's stronger that people think he is — he's incredibly strong. He's smart and he's a big-play maker. He does things on the field that I think, 'Wow! I've never seen him do that.' He's incredible. A lot of times, honestly, I'll just throw the ball up in the air, sometimes a lot farther that I think it should go, and Jimmy has the incredible ability to run under that thing every time. It's like he sees that the ball is a little farther downfield than it should be, and he just hits that extra gear that very few people have and he goes and gets it. He can adjust his body to where that ball lands perfect."
— Jaguars quarterback Mark Brunell

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT R. JAY SOWARD

"I tell R.Jay all the time that he's doing the hard stuff — releasing, routes, picking up blitzes — but he's dropping the ball. I tell him, 'Be confident, stay relaxed, catch the football and finish the play.' I noticed one thing that you don't see from rookies — his release off the ball. He couldn't be touched, even by our DBs. He has the tools to be a great player if he gets serious and works hard at it. For all rookies, you have to feel your way around. Over a period of time, he'll come around and be good for this team — if he works at it."

— Jaguars wide receiver Jimmy Smith

"We just need to get him the ball — reverses, screens, any way. We're hoping for short passes and long runs from that kid. And he has the ability to do it."

— Jaguars quarterback Mark Brunell

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT FRED TAYLOR

"There's not a lot of guys that can do what he does. He can change the course of a game on one play. He has the ability to score from anywhere on any given play. He knows he's going to make a difference on this football team."

— Jaguars' quarterback Mark Brunell

"He scares me because he is an explosive runner who can take it the distance at any time."

— Dallas Cowboys head coach Dave Campo

"Not even Terrell Davis has the breakaway speed Fred has. Fred's one of those guys who can take it all the way at any time. He's an explosive back. He can do a lot of things from a lot of different places on the field. He does things that not a lot of backs in this league can do. We all know he can go all the way at any time. If we sustain our blocks and give him a little crease, he's going to make something big happen. He has the speed to go the distance. He can make people miss, and he has power, too."

— Jaguars offensive tackle Tony Boselli

"I honestly think he is going to be the next 2,000-yard back. He's unbelievable. Right now, I put Fred and Terrell Davis right up there together. The next couple of years, they'll be the guys going after the league rushing record. Fred Taylor is as good as anybody in this league. He has speed, he has power, he has a mixture of things that makes him successful."

— New York Jets cornerback Aaron Glenn

"He hits holes quicker than anybody I've ever seen."

— Miami Dolphins defensive end Trace Armstrong

"Once he gets into the crease, Fred's looking to get to the sidelines. He has outstanding speed. I've been very impressed with Fred Taylor, what I have seen of him so far. He has outstanding speed. You see defenders on video having good angles, suddenly disappearing. He's a very dangerous runner."

— Pittsburgh Steelers head coach Bill Cowher

"This guy looks special to me. He really does. And I'm not just saying that because we're playing him. I'll say it after the game, and I'll probably be saying that next year, unfortunately, and the year after that."

— Former New York Jets head coach Bill Parcells

"He has very rare gifts. Without a doubt, his best football is yet to come."

— Jaguars head coach Tom Coughlin

"He's growing as a player. People think they've seen the best of Fred Taylor. I don't think Fred Taylor's even knows how good he is. You give him just a little blocking, and he's going to make big plays. I'm just happy to play with a guy like that. I've played with Emmitt Smith, but Fred Taylor ranks No. 1 in my heart."

— Jaguars wide receiver Jimmy Smith

"Taylor is a very elusive back. He's almost like Barry (Sanders). He makes people miss."

— Detroit Lions wide receiver Herman Moore

"Fred's like a silent assassin — he's very soft spoken but he carries a big stick. There's nothing like blocking your man and looking up and seeing Fred 50 yards down the field. That creates a spark in an offense like nothing else can. At any given moment, he has game-breaking ability. You keep him in the game long enough, he's going to make something happen."

— Baltimore Ravens (and former Jaguars) offensive tackle Leon Searcy

"Taylor came in and proved that he is a great running back. He's got a lot of speed and a burst that you wouldn't believe."

— Denver Broncos linebacker Bill Romanowski

"I know what kind of player Fred is. He's the complete package. He's a great player."

— Denver Broncos head coach Mike Shanahan

"He's a great back. This whole division has great backs. This is a quality, quality back that is a franchise back."

— Arizona Cardinals head coach Dave McGinnis

"Anything that Fred Taylor does from here on out shouldn't surprise anybody. It doesn't surprise his teammates. Ask him. He says, 'I need a crack, just give me a crack.' He has the type of ability to turn a 30-yard run into a 60-, 70-yard run."

— Washington Redskins offensive tackle Ben Coleman

"Fred's one of the best backs there is. You give him a little bit of a hole and he's gone. He makes people miss. He's an all-around back. He's able to catch the ball. He can run the ball inside, he can run the ball outside."

— Jaguars guard Brad Meester

"He's the most dynamic runner in football, and it is tough to manage him. If you can't manage him — he rips off 20- or 30-yard runs — then the Jaguars can do pretty much whatever they want in the passing game."

— Former Steelers fullback and ESPN analyst Merril Hoge

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT KILWAUKEE THOMAS

"He has all the physical tools, he's very bright and he's competitive. Those three traits usually turn out to be good for a cornerback. He's not afraid. You have to have a short memory to play corner, and he already has that. He forgets about it, comes back the next play and plays just as hard or harder."

— Jaguars free safety Carnell Lake

"Kiwaukee is going to learn how to cover better. When you have the heart and you play as hard as he does, and you have the physical components, there's going to be a place for a guy like that. Every time something new happens out there from a coverage standpoint, it's a different experience, but he has picked that up."

DID YOU KNOW?

The Jacksonville Jaguars are the only team in the NFL that has its training camp and practices and plays all of its home games at one facility — ALLTEL Stadium. In other words, the only time Mark Brunell ever leaves his locker is for the 10 road games each season. The rest of the year (even for the offseason conditioning program), Brunell never has to leave his locker.

The Jaguars hold their training camp and all in-season practice sessions at Ferrell Fields, which is adjacent to ALLTEL Stadium (and practically underneath the south endzone scoreboard).

Every other NFL team either holds training camp at another site or plays its home games at a stadium separate from its practice facilities.

The Jaguars won their season opener for the fifth straight year by defeating the Cleveland Browns 27-7 on the road. It marked the 50th win in franchise history, even though the Jaguars had seven players sidelined with injuries. The Jacksonville defense held an opponent to single-digit points for the ninth time in 17 games under defensive coordinator Dom Capers, as well as stifling the Browns most of the game. Cleveland managed only nine first downs and 249 yards on offense. Jaguars QB Mark Brunell had the 17th 300-yard passing game of his career, as he hit on 24 of 34 passes for 301 yards and one touchdown. WR Keenan McCardell caught nine passes for 115 yards against his former team, Kyle Brady tied his then-career high for receptions and set a then-personal best for receiving yards, and Jimmy Smith scored his first touchdown of the season. The Jaguars even managed 119 yards rushing behind backup RBs Stacey Mack and Chris Howard, each of whom scored his first career touchdown.

RAVENS 39, JAGUARS 36
SEPTEMBER 10, 2000
PSINET STADIUM, BALTIMORE, MD.

JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (1-1)	17	6	3	10	—	36
BALTIMORE RAVENS (2-0)	0	7	15	17	—	39

The Jaguars lost a heartbreaker to the eventual Super Bowl champion Baltimore Ravens, when they allowed 32 points in the second half, including the winning touchdown with 41 seconds to play. The Jaguars scored on 5 of 7 first-half possessions and Baltimore on 5 of 8 in the second half. Jimmy Smith caught 15 passes for 291 yards — the fifth-most receiving yards in a game in NFL history — and three touchdowns, and Mark Brunell passed for 386 yards, third most in Jaguars history. But the Jaguars squandered a 23-7 halftime lead in losing to the Ravens for the first time in nine games in the series. With Fred Taylor out and Stacey Mack hobbling, the Jaguars started third-string RB Chris Howard, but they managed only 46 rushing yards, forcing Brunell to throw 50 times, second most in team history. Mike Hollis added a team-record-tying five field goals on five attempts. But the defense allowed its second most points ever in the second half, as Baltimore QB Tony Banks threw a Ravens-record five TD passes in leading the come-from-behind win. The Jaguars' 36 points was their most ever in a loss, eclipsing the previous high of 31 on December 10, 1995 to Indianapolis.

JAGUARS 13, BENGALS 0
SEPTEMBER 17, 2000
ALLTEL STADIUM, JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (2-1)	10	0	0	3	—	13

The Jaguars got the first shutout in franchise history by defeating the Cincinnati Bengals 13-0 at ALLTEL Stadium. The Jaguars held the Bengals to 230 yards on offense and 14 first downs in winning their home opener and 30th game in their last 34 at home. Mark Brunell threw a first-quarter touchdown pass to Keenan McCardell, and Steve Lindsey — kicking for an injured Mike Hollis — added two field goals for the Jaguars. The Bengals never got closer to the end zone than the 26-yard line, and they missed two field goals in a steady rain that fell most of the game due to the approach of Hurricane Gordon. The Jaguars made five sacks (two by Gary Walker) and had four takeaways in shutting down the Cincinnati offense. McCardell caught 10 passes for 108 yards, his second 100-yard game of the season and 15th of his career. The Jaguars scored on their second and third possessions of the game, then were kept scoreless until late in the fourth quarter when Lindsey notched his second field goal. Brunell and McCardell hooked up midway through the first quarter, but officials initially ruled that his catch was out of bounds. The Jaguars challenged the call, which was overruled in favor of a touchdown. On the ensuing kick-off, Erik Storz forced a fumble of Cincinnati's Tremain Mack and Kiwaukee Thomas recovered. Three plays later, Lindsey kicked his first NFL field goal, a 30-yarder, for the 10-0 lead. The Bengals' longest drive of the game was just 47 yards and they entered Jaguars territory only three times in the game.

GAME 4
COLTS 43, JAGUARS 14
SEPTEMBER 25, 2000
RCA DOME, INDIANAPOLIS, IND.

JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (2-2)	0	14	0	0	—	14
INDIANAPOLIS COLTS (2-1)	7	14	5	17	—	43

The Jaguars were defeated by the Indianapolis Colts 43-14, losing their first game ever on "Monday Night Football." The Jaguars allowed 440 yards passing by Colts QB Peyton Manning and 533 total yards by the Indianapolis offense, both single-game records by a Jaguars opponent as they were outscored 22-0 in the second half and handed one of their biggest defeats ever. Jimmy Smith caught two first-half touchdown passes from Mark Brunell — Smith's fifth and sixth scores of the season — but the Jacksonville offense gained only 52 yards in the second half (minus-27 on their first five possessions) and was unable to score. After missing the first three games, Fred Taylor returned to the lineup and rushed for 57 yards, all but one yard in the first half. But the Jaguars' defense could not slow down Manning, who completed 23 of 36 passes and drove Indianapolis to seven scores (the Colts also had a safety). Brunell completed 21 of 36 passes for 229 yards. But, on the first five possessions of the second half when the game was on the line, he was only 1 for 6 for three yards, with three sacks. He threw for 72 yards on the final drive that ended in his second interception. On Indianapolis' first series, the Colts jumped out to a 7-0 lead on a 76-yard pass from Manning to Marvin Harrison that was the longest play against the Jaguars in two years and the second-longest pass ever. Smith's first TD reception tied the score at 7-7 in the second quarter. Indianapolis then scored two touchdowns before Smith's second TD catch narrowed the lead to 21-14 at the half.

GAME 5
STEELERS 24, JAGUARS 13

ALLTEL STADIUM, JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

PITTSBURGH STEELERS (1-3)	7	10	7	0	—	24
JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (2-3)	3	3	0	7	—	13

The Jaguars were defeated 24-13 by the Pittsburgh Steelers at ALLTEL Stadium, sending them to a 2-3 record and below .500 for the first time in four seasons. The loss was only the Jaguars' fifth at home during the regular season in the last five seasons and the first ever at home to the Steelers. It marked the team's second straight loss and third in the last four games. The Jaguars gained only 206 yards on offense — their sixth-lowest output ever — but 90 of those came on the final drive that resulted in their only touchdown. Their 26 rushing yards were their fewest ever in a game, and they tied a team low with just one rushing first down. Jacksonville didn't fare much better passing the ball, as Mark Brunell was sacked seven times, tying a team record that was set twice in 1995 and once in '96. The Jaguars took a 3-0 lead in the first quarter after Donovin Darius blocked Josh Miller's punt and Greg DeLong recovered on the 4-yard line. However, the Jaguars could not reach the end zone and had to settle for a 19-yard field goal by Steve Lindsey. On Pittsburgh's next possession, Fernando Bryant intercepted Kordell Stewart, who was making his first start of the season, but again the Jaguars couldn't advance the ball. The Steelers scored a touchdown on their third possession of the first quarter and never relinquished the lead. In the first quarter the Jaguars had no first downs and minus-4 yards and were penalized seven times.

■ Keenan McCardell led the Jaguars with 11 catches for 137 yards and one touchdown, marking his third 100-yard game of the season, 15th as a Jaguar and 16th overall. The Jaguars had a 100-yard receiver in each of the first five games.
■ The Steelers' 209 rushing yards were the second-most ever in a regular season games against the Jaguars (record: 246 by Seattle on 11/12/95).

OCTOBER 8, 2000
ALLTEL STADIUM, JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

BALTIMORE RAVENS (5-1)	3	3	3	6	—	15
JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (2-4)	3	0	0	7	—	10

The Jaguars lost their third straight game and dropped to 2-4 after being defeated by the Baltimore Ravens 15-10 at ALLTEL Stadium. The Jacksonville defense held the Ravens to 193 yards and no touchdowns, as Baltimore's Matt Stover kicked five field goals for all of his team's points. It marked the Jaguars' first loss ever in a game in which they did not allow a touchdown. However, the Jaguars fumbled a team-record eight times — losing three of them — and were intercepted three times, in addition to having a wind-aided kickoff recovered by the Ravens and an apparent touchdown by Tony Brackens overruled. Mark Brunell failed to lead the Jaguars to a touchdown for the second consecutive game and was replaced by Jamie Martin in the fourth quarter. Martin led the Jaguars to their lone touchdown, a one-yard run by Fred Taylor (his first score of the year). But Martin was intercepted on the final drive with less than a minute remaining. The Jacksonville defense atoned for its play the previous two weeks by holding the Ravens to only 10 first downs (three conversions on 17 third downs) and just 55 yards rushing. But the defense had only two sacks (both by Aaron Beasley) and came up with just one takeaway. Steve Lindsey kicked a career-long 49-yard field goal but also missed a 31-yarder. The Jaguars lost two straight games at home for the first time since 1995 and dropped just their fifth of their last 19 division games.

GAME 7
TITANS 27, JAGUARS 13
OCTOBER 15, 2000
ADELPHIA COLISEUM, NASHVILLE, TENN.

JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (2-5)	3	0	0	10	—	13
TENNESSEE TITANS (5-1)	7	10	7	3	—	27

The Jaguars lost their fourth straight game 27-13 to the Titans at Adelphia Coliseum to fall to 2-5 for the season, matching the worst start in franchise history. In a rematch of the 1999 AFC Championship game, Jacksonville jumped out to a 3-0 lead after failing to reach the end zone after a 71-yard run by Fred Taylor. But the Titans scored the game's next 24 points in winning their 11th consecutive game at home since moving to Adelphia in 1999. Taylor rushed 20 times for 112 yards. But Tennessee's Eddie George was even better, gaining 165 yards on 30 carries and scoring one touchdown. TE Frank Wycheck led his team with five catches and a TD. The Titans scored their first two touchdowns on passes that were bobbled and caught by receivers on their backs in the end zone, a four-yard pass to Wycheck in the first quarter and a 22-yarder to Derrick Mason in the second quarter. Just before halftime, the Jaguars drove inside Titans territory and Keenan McCardell caught a pass over the middle but fumbled the ball into the end zone when he was hit on the one-yard line while trying to score. After being held to two field goals in the first 59 minutes of the game, the Jaguars scored a touchdown on their final possession, with Anthony Johnson running for a touchdown from two yards out. It marked the first TD drive led by Mark Brunell in 14 quarters, since the second period of the September 25 game at Indianapolis. Mike Hollis converted both of his field goal attempts in his return to the lineup after missing four games with back surgery.

GAME 8
REDSKINS 35, JAGUARS 16
OCTOBER 22, 2000
ALLTEL STADIUM, JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

WASHINGTON REDSKINS (6-2)	7	14	7	7	—	35
JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (2-6)	3	13	0	0	—	16

The Jaguars lost their fifth straight game of the season to the Washington Redskins 35-16 at ALLTEL Stadium, dropping to 2-6 and marking their worst record ever at midseason. The Jaguars turned the ball over four times and failed to score in the second half in losing for the third time in four games at home (their most home losses since 1995). Fred Taylor rushed for 124 yards, his second consecutive 100-yard game. But the defense allowed Redskins WR Albert Connell to score three times and gain 211 yards receiving, the most ever by a Jaguars opponent. With Stephen Davis' 114 yards rushing (and two touchdowns), it marked the first time since 1998 that the Jaguars allowed 100 yards both rushing and receiving by opposing players in a game. Mark Brunell passed for 271 yards, but he was sacked six times. Keenan McCardell caught only three passes and Jimmy Smith just two before he was forced to leave his second straight game with an injury. R. Jay Soward scored the Jaguars' only touchdown (the first of his career), but he also dropped passes and fumbled a punt that led to one of three Washington touchdowns that resulted from turnovers. Mike Hollis kicked three field goals, as the offense continued to have problems inside the red zone. Defensively, the Jaguars were without starters Renaldo Wynn, Hardy Nickerson and Fernando Bryant, and Tony Brackens was ejected in the second quarter for kicking a Redskins player following one of the team's two takeaways.

GAME 9
JAGUARS 23, COWBOYS 17 (OT)
OCTOBER 29, 2000
TEXAS STADIUM, IRVING, TEXAS

JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (3-6)	0	17	0	0	6	—	23
DALLAS COWBOYS (3-5)	7	0	3	7	0	—	17

The Jaguars ended a five-game losing streak with a 23-17 overtime victory over the Cowboys at Texas Stadium. Alvis Whitted scored on a 37-yard pass from Mark Brunell on the first series of overtime for his second touchdown of the game, as the Jaguars ended their longest losing streak in five years and entered their bye week with a win. The Jaguars did not not turn the ball over and were not sacked for the first time all season. Brunell threw for three touchdowns and tied a team record for passing accuracy, as he completed 20 of 24 passes. Tight end Kyle Brady caught 10 of those passes for 134 yards, both career highs, as he eclipsed the 100-yard mark for the second straight week. Fred Taylor had his third consecutive 100-yard rushing game, setting another team mark, as he gained 107 yards on a season-high 31 carries (second most in team history and one behind his career high). The Jaguars jumped out to a 17-7 halftime lead, then struggled again in the second half, scoring no points until overtime. Meanwhile, the Cowboys rallied for 10 points in the second half, scoring the tying touchdown with 1:07 to play. Dallas opened the scoring on its initial possession, marching 64 yards. The Jaguars struck back with 17 points in the second period, their most points in a quarter since Week 2, and 10 of them off Dallas turnovers. Mike Hollis kicked a 42-yard field goal, Brunell connected with Brady on a three-yard TD pass, and, with seconds left before halftime, Brunell found Whitted on a fade in the end zone.

■ QB Mark Brunell completed 20 of 24 passes for a 83.3 percent accuracy, which tied the team record set by Rob Johnson on 8/31/97 at Baltimore. His 146.4 passer rating was a career best.

GAME 10
SEAHAWKS 28, JAGUARS 21
NOVEMBER 12, 2000
ALLTEL STADIUM, JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

SEATTLE SEAHAWKS (4-7)	0	14	7	7	—	28
JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (3-7)	7	14	0	0	—	21

The Jaguars were defeated 28-21 by the Seahawks at ALLTEL Stadium, their fourth straight loss at home. The loss dropped their record to 3-7, their worst after 10 games since their inaugural season of 1995. The Jaguars were stopped at the 1-yard line on the final play of the game with a chance to tie, and they were also stopped at the 1-yard line on two plays earlier in the fourth quarter with a chance to go up 28-21. Mark Brunell passed for 340 yards, Fred Taylor rushed for 103 yards, and Keenan McCardell and Jimmy Smith both gained more than 100 yards receiving. But the Jaguars' defense allowed the Seahawks to drive 67 yards for a touchdown and the lead with 2:01 remaining in the game, converting twice on third downs. Also, just before halftime, the Seahawks scored a touchdown in 1:03, converting on a fourth down. The Jaguars failed to score any points in the third quarter for the eighth consecutive game, and they had no points in the second half for the third straight game. They took a 7-0 lead on a two-yard run by Brunell in the first quarter, and then went up 21-7 in the second quarter following a 10-yard TD run by Taylor and a 67-yard TD pass to McCardell. From that point on, they were outscored 21-0, as Jon Kitna threw three touchdown passes. Losing a 14-point lead was the biggest ever at home, surpassing a 10-point lead that was blown to Tennessee in 1999.

- Jimmy Smith and Keenan McCardell each had 100 yards receiving in the same game for the eighth time, which broke the NFL record of seven previously held by Don Maynard and George Sauer of the New York Jets.
- Neither team attempted a field goal for the second time in Jaguars history, the first being Oct. 27, 1996 at Cincinnati.

GAME 11
JAGUARS 34, STEELERS 24
NOVEMBER 19, 2000
THREE RIVERS STADIUM, PITTSBURGH, PA.

JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (4-7)	0	17	17	0	—	34
PITTSBURGH STEELERS (5-6)	7	3	0	14	—	24

Fred Taylor rushed for a team-record 234 yards and scored four touchdowns, as the Jaguars won their third road game of the season 34-24 over the Steelers in their final trip to Three Rivers Stadium. Taylor's rushing performance was at the time the 12th best in a game in NFL history and only 44 yards from the league's single-game record. He scored three touchdowns rushing and one on a pass reception, just one TD shy of the Jaguars' single-game record. Taylor's yardage was the most ever by a running back against the Steelers, topping O.J. Simpson's mark of 227 yards in 1975, and his four TDs tied the mark held by Jim Brown vs. the Steelers. Jacksonville scored 17 points in each of the second and third quarters, getting their first points in the third period since Week 2, and they took a 34-10 lead into the fourth quarter before the Steelers scored their final two touchdowns on scrambles by Kordell Stewart. Taylor rushed for more than 100 yards for the fifth consecutive game and became the first Jaguar to eclipse the 200-yard mark rushing. Mark Brunell passed for 190 yards and one touchdown, as the Jaguars relied on Taylor's running and a strong defensive performance. The Jaguars had five takeaways and five sacks — both season highs — and scored 24 points off Pittsburgh turnovers. The Steelers jumped out to a 7-0 lead, capitalizing on a fumble by Brunell that led to a TD pass to Hines Ward. On its next four drives, Jacksonville was forced to punt every time until getting on track early in the second quarter and scoring on six straight possessions. Mike Hollis added two field goals.

ALLTEL STADIUM, JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

TENNESSEE TITANS (9-3)	7	3	0	3	—	13
JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (5-7)	10	0	3	3	—	16

The Jaguars defeated the Titans for the first time in two years with a last-second 16-13 win at ALLTEL Stadium. Mike Hollis kicked a 38-yard field goal for the victory, as the Jaguars won at home for the first time since September and improved to 5-7 on the season, snapping a five-game losing streak to the Titans. Hollis' field goal was his third of the game, and it capped a 10-play, 61-yard drive that followed a missed 28-yard field goal by Tennessee's Al Del Greco with 3:08 to play. Fred Taylor rushed for 104 yards — his sixth consecutive 100-yard game — and scored the Jaguars' only touchdown on a 10-yard pass from Mark Brunell in the first quarter. The Jaguars held the Titans' Eddie George to 69 yards on 24 carries, though George did set a career high with 109 yards on seven receptions. The Jaguars opened the scoring with a 27-yard field goal by Hollis on their opening drive, and then Tennessee responded with a seven-yard TD run by George prior to Taylor's scoring reception. The two teams then alternated field goals, concluding with Hollis' game-winner with no time left on the clock.

GAME 13

JAGUARS 48, BROWNS 0

DECEMBER 3, 2000

ALLTEL STADIUM, JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (5-7)	3	17	21	7	—	48

The Jaguars defeated the Browns 48-0 in the most dominating performance in franchise history. The victory was the Jaguars' third straight and fourth in their last five games, putting them at 6-7 for the season. Fred Taylor rushed for 181 yards — his seventh straight 100-yard game — and three touchdowns in leading the victory. But the Jaguars' defense was the star of the day, getting its second shutout ever and holding the Browns to two first downs and 53 total yards, both Jaguars records. The Browns gained only 62 yards rushing and had minus-nine yards passing, and they were 0 for 12 on third downs and had the ball for just 22:49. Meanwhile, the Jaguars had a season-high 449 yards on offense, with 244 yards on the ground, another team record. The Jaguars took a 3-0 lead in the first quarter on a 40-yard field goal by Mike Hollis, and they added 38 points in the second and third quarters before pulling Taylor and QB Mark Brunell for the final period. Taylor scored three TDs on the ground for the third time in his career, and Brunell added a TD run of his own, as well as a 14-yard TD pass to Keenan McCardell. In the fourth quarter, Shyrone Stith scored on the ground, as the Jaguars had five rushing TDs, tying a team mark. Cleveland never reached Jacksonville territory, and its longest drive was just 19 yards. Five of the Browns' 14 drives resulted in negative yards. The Jaguars, meanwhile, scored on all seven trips inside the Cleveland red zone, coming away with six touchdowns and one field goal.

GAME 14
JAGUARS 44, CARDINALS 10
DECEMBER 10, 2000
ALLTEL STADIUM, JACKSONVILLE, FLA.

ARIZONA CARDINALS (3-11)	0	3	0	7	—	10
JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (7-7)	10	17	10	7	—	44

The Jaguars won their fourth consecutive game 44-10 over the Arizona Cardinals in the first meeting between the two teams. It was the third-biggest margin of victory for the Jaguars, and the win moved them back to the .500 mark for the first time since late September. Fred Taylor rushed for 137 yards — his eighth consecutive game with 100 or more yards, the fourth-longest streak in NFL history — and Jimmy Smith, Keenan McCardell and Kyle Brady added touchdown receptions, as the Jaguars jumped out to a 44-3 lead and then coasted to the win. Taylor also broke the team record for most rushing yards in a season, and McCardell joined Smith with 1,000 yards receiving, as the two receivers became just the sixth tandem in league history to amass 1,000 yards each in a season three times. The Jaguars scored on their first seven possessions and punted only once in piling up 469 yards on offense, the team's most of the season. The Jacksonville defense was just as dominating, holding Arizona to only 189 yards, the second-fewest for a Jaguars opponent this year. The Cardinals managed more than three yards on just three of their 10 drives. Mark Brunell completed 13 of 18 passes for 182 yards and two TDs before leaving the game in the third quarter.

GAME 15

BENGALS 17, JAGUARS 14

DECEMBER 17, 2000
PAUL BROWN STADIUM, CINCINNATI, OHIO

JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (7-8)	0	7	7	0	—	14
CINCINNATI BENGALS (4-11)	0	0	7	10	—	17

The Jaguars lost to the Bengals 17-14 after allowing 10 points in the final 1:15, snapping a four-game winning streak and erasing any chance of having a winning season. In a game played on a snowy, sloppy field, Jacksonville controlled most of the game until the final four minutes, when Cincinnati drove 80 yards for a touchdown and then recovered a fumble on the ensuing kickoff and converted a 27-yard field goal on the final play of the game. Until that time, the Bengals had gone eight straight possessions and not reached midfield, and they had gained only 151 yards in the first 56 minutes of the game. At the end of the game, Cincinnati ran off 15 straight plays on their two scoring possessions and gained 105 yards. Their other score was a 82-yard punt return for a touchdown by Peter Warrick in the third quarter — the first punt return TD ever allowed by the Jaguars. Fred Taylor ran for 110 yards, his ninth consecutive 100-yard rushing game, tying Walter Payton for the third-longest streak in NFL history. Taylor also scored on a five-yard run, and Jimmy Smith added a four-yard touchdown catch for Jacksonville, which could have increased its lead to 17-7 with 4:37 to play, but Mike Hollis slipped and fell while attempting a 28-yard field goal. The nine degree temperature and 25-below wind chill were the coldest ever for a Jaguars game. It was the Jaguars' first loss to the Bengals since 1997, snapping a streak of five straight wins.

- WR Jimmy Smith led the team with nine catches for 58 yards and a touchdown. He tied the team's career record of 38 touchdowns held by James Stewart (1995-99) and equalled his own single-season record of eight touchdowns set in 1998.
- The defense had four sacks, two of them by DT Seth Payne, his first of the season and surpassing his total of 1.5 in the first four years of his career.

GAME 16
GIANTS 28, JAGUARS 25
DECEMBER 23, 2000
GIANTS STADIUM, EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J.

JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (7-9)	0	7	3	15	—	25
NEW YORK GIANTS (12-4)	7	0	0	21	—	28

The Jaguars lost their season finale 28-25 to the Giants to drop to 7-9 for the year, their first losing season since their inaugural season of 1995. The Jaguars led 10-7 going into the fourth quarter, but they surrendered three touchdowns to the No. 1 seed in the NFC, thwarting the comeback efforts of Mark Brunell, who threw two touchdowns in the final period. The Jaguars played most of the game without WR Jimmy Smith and RB Fred Taylor, who suffered injuries in the game. The Jaguars held Tiki Barber and Ron Dayne to 81 yards on 30 carries, but WR Amani Toomer did most of the damage with eight receptions for 193 yards and a touchdown. Taylor rushed for 52 yards — including a 44-yard TD run — but his streak of nine consecutive 100-yard rushing games ended. The Giants opened the scoring in the first quarter with a TD run by Barber. The Jaguars tied the game in the second period on Taylor's long run, then they took a 10-7 lead in the third quarter on Mike Hollis' 36-yard field goal. The Giants took the lead early in the fourth quarter on a Kerry Collins to Ike Hilliard TD pass. Following was a frantic finish that saw four touchdowns in the final 3:05. Collins threw his second TD pass, then Brunell hooked up with Kyle Brady on a five-yard TD pass. Next, Hollis' onside kick was returned for a touchdown by Jason Sehorn, in effect ending the Jaguars' hopes of a non-losing season. In the final minute, Brunell threw a 12-yard TD pass to Alvis Whitted, and then Sehorn recovered another onside kick to end the game and the Jaguars' season. The loss was the Jaguars' first ever in a regular-season finale and marked their earliest end to a season.

September 24, 1995 — Green Bay 24, at Jacksonville 14 — Sunday night (TNT)

The Jaguars lost their fourth straight game at the beginning of their inaugural season. They fell behind 17-0 before getting on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter with two touchdown passes from Mark Brunell to Willie Jackson. It was Brunell's second start at quarterback and the first time he had played against his former team.

December 15, 1996 — at Jacksonville 20, Seattle 13 — Sunday night (ESPN)

The Jaguars battled back from a 13-7 deficit by scoring on three consecutive fourth-quarter possessions to win their eighth game of the season. Jimmy Smith scored his second touchdown of the game on a pass from Mark Brunell, and Mike Hollis kicked two field goals. Tony Brackens starred with 12 tackles, a sack, an interception, three tipped passes and his fourth takeaway of the season.

September 22, 1997 — at Jacksonville 30, Pittsburgh 21 — Monday night (ABC)

In the Jaguars' first appearance on "Monday Night Football," Mark Brunell returned from a preseason knee injury to lead the Jaguars to the win. The Jaguars had a 17-7 lead at the half. After a Steelers touchdown and a Mike Hollis field goal, the Jaguars held on to a 20-14 lead. The Steelers scored in the fourth quarter to take a 21-20 lead, but the Jaguars regained the lead with a Hollis field goal with 4:14 left. With six-seconds remaining in the game, the Steelers 40-yard field goal attempt was blocked by Clyde Simmons and returned by Chris Hudson 58 yards for a touchdown to end the game.

October 12, 1998 — at Jacksonville 28, Miami 21 — Monday night (ABC)

The Jaguars took a 14-0 lead on two Fred Taylor touchdowns — including a 77-yard run on the game's first play from scrimmage. Miami scored the game's next three touchdowns before Mark Brunell and Keenan McCardell hooked up for two TD passes in the fourth quarter. With just under 2:00 remaining and Miami driving, Tony Brackens stripped Dan Marino of the ball and fell on it to give Jacksonville its fifth victory to start the season.

December 20, 1998 — at Minnesota 50, Jacksonville 10 — Sunday night (ESPN)

The Jaguars clinched their first AFC Central Division title earlier in the day when the Oilers lost, but they were unable to celebrate after getting trounced by the Vikings. Rookie Jonathan Quinn made his first NFL start in the Metrodome, and the Jaguars played a solid first half, trailing only 12-3 at the break. But Minnesota scored 38 straight points in the second half before a late Jaguars touchdown. The 50 points was the most ever allowed by Jacksonville in a game.

December 28, 1998 — at Jacksonville 21, Pittsburgh 3 — Monday night (ABC)

The Jaguars closed out the 1998 regular season with a convincing win over Pittsburgh in front of a record crowd of 74,143. Rookie quarterback Jonathan Quinn got his first NFL victory and scored the game's first touchdown on a 15-yard run. Fred Taylor added two TDs (his 16th and 17th of the season), as the Jaguars held the Steelers to three points, the fewest ever allowed by Jacksonville in a game.

October 11, 1999 — Jacksonville 16, at New York Jets 6 — Monday night (ABC)

In their first-ever road appearance on "Monday Night Football," the Jaguars defeated the Jets behind three field goals by Mike Hollis and a touchdown and 96 yards rushing by James Stewart. The Jacksonville defense kept the Jets out of the end zone and held them to 230 total yards.

November 21, 1999 — at Jacksonville 41, New Orleans 23 — Sunday night (ESPN)

The Jaguars rolled up 494 yards and 41 points and pulled away in the second half with 24 consecutive points after a 17-17 tie. James Stewart scored twice, Mark Brunell threw two TD passes, Jimmy Smith caught nine passes for 220 yards and Reggie Barlow returned a punt for a score.

December 2, 1999 — at Jacksonville 20, Pittsburgh 6 — Thursday night (ESPN)

The Jaguars swept the Steelers for the first time behind Mark Brunell's 308 yards passing, James Stewart's career-high 145 yards rushing and 100-yard receiving games by Jimmy Smith and Keenan McCardell. Pittsburgh managed just 235 total yards (63 on the ground).

December 13, 1999 — at Jacksonville 27, Denver 24 — Monday night (ABC)

Mike Hollis kicked a 23-yard field goal on the final play of the game as the Jaguars came from behind to beat the Broncos for their 10th consecutive win of the season. Denver jumped out to a 14-0 first-quarter lead, before James Stewart and Fred Taylor combined for 153 yards and three TDs to lead the comeback.

September 25, 2000 — at Indianapolis 43, Jacksonville 14 — Monday night (ABC)

The Jaguars were defeated by the Colts 43-14 at the RCA Dome, losing their first game ever on "Monday Night Football." The Jaguars allowed 440 yards passing by Peyton Manning and 533 total yards by Indianapolis — both single-game records by a Jaguars opponent — as they were outscored 22-0 in the second half. Jimmy Smith caught two first-half TD passes, but the Jacksonville offense gained only 52 yards in the second half.

October 8, 2000 — Baltimore 15, at Jacksonville 10 — Sunday night (ESPN)

The Ravens were held to 193 yards and no touchdowns, but Matt Stover kicked five field goals for all of Baltimore's points. The Jaguars fumbled a team-record eight times (losing three of them) and were intercepted three times, in addition to having a wind-aided kickoff recovered by the Ravens and an apparent TD by Tony Brackens overruled. Mark Brunell failed to lead the Jaguars to a touchdown for the second consecutive game and was replaced by Jamie Martin in the fourth quarter.

October 16, 2000 — at Tennessee 27, Jacksonville 13 — Monday night (ABC)

In a rematch of the 1999 AFC Championship game, the Jaguars jumped out to a 3-0 lead, then saw Tennessee score the next 24 points in beating Jacksonville for the fifth straight time. Eddie George gained 165 yards on 30 carries and scored one TD, and TE Frank Wycheck continued to haunt the Jaguars, with five catches and a TD. The Jaguars' lone touchdown came on their final possession.

November 19, 2000 — Jacksonville 34, at Pittsburgh 24 — Sunday night (ESPN)

Fred Taylor rushed for a team-record 234 yards and scored four touchdowns, marking the then-12th-best rushing performance in NFL history, as well as the most ever against the Steelers and the most by a Jaguar. Jacksonville had five takeaways and five sacks, with a 34-10 lead in the fourth quarter, after scoring 24 points off Pittsburgh turnovers.

THE TEAL IS REAL

In the last four seasons, the Jaguars' record is tied for the second best in the NFL, two games behind the Minnesota Vikings and tied with the Denver Broncos. The Jaguars have won 43 of their last 64 regular-season games (they also won their final five games in 1998). Here's a look at the league's best records since 1997.

JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (11-8)	0	3	3	0	—	6
NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS (13-5)	7	6	0	7	—	20

In just their second season, the Jaguars' saw their hopes of reaching the Super Bowl ended in the AFC Championship game on a cold day in New England. The game began ominously for Jacksonville on its first series, when Bryan Barker fielded a high snap and was tackled at the Jaguars' four-yard line. The Patriots scored a touchdown two plays later. Mistakes haunted the Jaguars throughout the game, with a total of four turnovers - three on their last four possessions - including an end zone interception and a fumble that was returned for a touchdown. The Jaguars held the ball for 34:43 and held the Patriots to just 234 yards, but Jacksonville could manage only two field goals by Mike Hollis.

JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (11-6)	0	7	10	0	—	17
DENVER BRONCOS (13-4)	14	7	0	21	—	42

The Jaguars returned to the site of their historic playoff upset over Denver a year earlier, but the outcome was not to be the same. The Broncos took a 21-0 lead early in the second quarter, however the Jaguars closed the gap to 21-17 in the third quarter with a blocked punt returned for a touchdown and looked to make a rally. On the next series the defense forced a fumble, but the Jaguars could not capitalize as a fumbled snap at the Denver 16-yard line ended the Jaguars' momentum. The Broncos rolled up 511 yards on offense, 310 of them on the ground, and scored five rushing touchdowns in the game. The Jaguars held the ball for just 19:01, their lowest time of possession ever.

NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS (9-8)	0	0	7	3	—	10
JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (12-5)	6	6	0	13	—	25

The Jaguars hosted their first-ever home playoff game and defeated the Patriots to advance to the divisional playoffs. Mark Brunell returned as the starter after missing nearly three games with a high ankle sprain, but for the Patriots, Scott Zolak started for the injured Drew Bledsoe. The Patriots did not score on their eight first-half possessions. The Jaguars took advantage and scored on two Mike Hollis field goals and a 13-yard run by Fred Taylor. New England scored 10 points before the Jaguars bounced back with 13 in the fourth quarter. Taylor's 162 yards rushing were the second most in a postseason game in Jaguars' history, and his 33 attempts were the most. Hollis' four field goals without a miss extended his streak of consecutive field goals in the postseason to 12 and broke his postseason single-game record.

1998 AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF ● JETS 34, JAGUARS 24

JANUARY 10, 1999, GIANTS STADIUM

JACKSONVILLE JAGUARS (12-6)	0	7	7	10	—	24
NEW YORK JETS (13-4)	7	10	14	3	—	34

The Jaguars' season ended in 26 degree temperatures in New York, with the Jets jumping out to a 17-0 lead and coasting to the win. Jacksonville's only first half score was a 52-yard pass from Mark Brunell to Jimmy Smith on the final play. The Jaguars couldn't stop New York's Keyshawn Johnson, who scored both rushing and receiving and also intercepted a pass. With the score 31-24 late in the fourth quarter, Brunell, who threw three TDs and three interceptions, had a chance to tie the game late after a Donovin Darius interception of Vinny Testaverde in the end zone. But the Jaguars went 3-and-out and the Jets added a field goal for their final points. Smith caught two TD passes and became the first Jaguar to have 100 receiving yards in a playoff game.

RADIO BROADCASTERS

The Jaguars' radio team: Matt Robinson and Brian Sexton

Returning for their seventh year of broadcasting Jacksonville Jaguars football on the Jaguars Radio Network are Brian Sexton and Matt Robinson. Sexton again handles the play-by-play, while Robinson adds analysis.

Sexton, 32, is the voice of the Jaguars. He is the host of several of the Jaguars' television and radio shows, including "Jaguars Reporters" (6:00 p.m. Mondays on WOKV), "Jaguars this Week" (6:00 p.m. Wednesdays on WBWL) and both the radio and television versions of "The Tom Coughlin Show" (6:00 p.m. Thursdays on WOKV and 11:30 p.m. Saturdays on WJXT-TV Channel 4). Formerly sports director at WOKV, Sexton came to Jacksonville from Wichita, Kan., where he served as assistant sports director at KNSS in 1993 and hosted various pregame and postgame shows in addition to handling play-by-play for the Wichita State University Radio Network. In April 2000, Sexton was a participant on the highly rated ABC-TV show "Who Wants To Be A Millionaire?," walking away with $32,000. Sexton is chairman of the Ronald McDonald Discovery Board and a member of the volunteer committee of the River Bend District of Boy Scouts of America. He and his wife, Jennifer, who live in Atlantic Beach, have a son, Keegan.

Robinson, 46, a former NFL and USFL quarterback, has expertise on the other side of the microphone. A former University of Georgia star, he played six seasons in the NFL for the New York Jets, Denver Broncos and Buffalo Bills. Robinson came to Jacksonville in 1984 as captain and quarterback for the Bulls of the USFL. After his retirement in 1986, he remained in Jacksonville with several business interests in the area. In 1997, he broadcast two World League games for Fox Sports. Robinson, who was host and co-host of Jaguars television and radio programming through the team's first six seasons, is now the vice president of business development for Summit Contractors in Jacksonville, promoting new business, managing current business and marketing. Robinson sits on the board of trustees of the North Florida Chapter of the National Multiple Sclerosis Society, the St. Johns County United Way and Men for the Moment Ministry and is a member of the Jacksonville Chamber of Commerce Sports Council. Robinson is a single father with five-year-old daughter Mattison.

Joining Sexton and Robinson on Jaguars radio broadcasts is field reporter Sam Kouvaris of WJXT-TV Channel 4. Cole Pepper and Vic Ketchman appear on the pregame show, and Pepper joins former Oakland Raiders star Pete Banaszak on the postgame show.

ALLTEL STADIUM

They said it couldn't be done. They said it wouldn't be ready. But on August 18, 1995, when the Jacksonville Jaguars played their first game in their new stadium, it marked the first time in sports history that an expansion team had played its first home game in its first season in a new stadium or arena. Not only that, but it was built faster than any major-league stadium had ever been built in North America.

In the short period of 19 1/2 months, the old Gator Bowl was demolished and a new spectacle arose on the shores of the St. Johns River. And, very quickly, it was called the best stadium in the country. Just seconds before the Jaguars kicked off their first regular-season game on September 3, 1995, NBC broadcaster Don Criqui said, "There isn't a better football facility in America." Now in its seventh year of operation, ALLTEL Stadium is still drawing raves.

And in another four years, on February 6, 2005, ALLTEL Stadium will be the host site of Super Bowl XXXIX, the biggest single-day sporting event in the world. The city of Jacksonville was awarded the game on November 1, 2000.

On April 18, 1997, Jacksonville Municipal Stadium was re-named ALLTEL Stadium after the Little Rock, Ark.-based wireless telecommunications and information services company that is listed in Forbes 500 and Fortune 500. ALLTEL also has a regional office in Jacksonville that employs more than 1,000 employees. Revenue from the 10-year grant of naming rights — a total of $6.2 million — is shared equally between the Jaguars and the city of Jacksonville.

The stadium features two unique "signature" features, both of them state-of-the-art. The first are the two Touchdown Clubs, which are located on both sides, and the enormous twin 60-by-156-foot scoreboards with 24 by 32-foot Sony JumboTron screens.

The Touchdown Clubs and all 10,000 Club Seats are located at midfield, rather than being spread out horizontally through the stadium. Each Club — with entrances that are glass-enclosed, 100-foot-high atriums — provides more than 65,000 square feet of air-conditioned comfort with a variety of food and beverage selections. In all, 75 percent of the seats in ALLTEL Stadium are located on the sides, with just 25 percent behind the end zones.

ALLTEL Stadium seats 73,000, but additional temporary seats are added behind the South End Zone — expanding the capacity from 73,000 to well over 80,000 — for the annual Florida-Georgia game.

In addition to hosting at least a dozen football games every year, ALLTEL Stadium is quickly developing into a top venue for some of the world's top concerts. In the past few years, U2, Shania Twain, George Strait and *NSYNC have performed at the stadium, and the Billy Graham Crusade spent four days with sold-out shows at ALLTEL in 2000.

The construction of ALLTEL Stadium in the record 19 1/2 months was unprecedented. Twelve different consulting companies shaped the construction. Demolition began on the old Gator Bowl on January 3, 1994, with approximately 90 percent of the old stadium torn down. In fact, the only portion salvaged was the west upper deck, which had been added in 1982.

A total of 121 subcontractors had a hand in the job ... all in all, thousands of people worked on the stadium from start to finish. And on Friday, August 18, 1995, ALLTEL Stadium opened its doors to more than 70,000 Jaguars faithful.

WHAT THEY SAY ABOUT ALLTEL STADIUM:

"(Jacksonville is) the most enthusiastic place I've ever seen. (The stadium has) been an impetus to the community like you've never seen. You could say that's money well spent."

— Pittsburgh Steelers owner Dan Rooney

"I think we've raised the bar on how stadiums are going to be built in the future. The two magnificent Touchdown Clubs are unique in any stadium."

— Jaguars owner Wayne Weaver

"ALLTEL Stadium is one of the best stadiums in the league and will be a great site for Super Bowl XXXIX."

— NFL vice president of special events Jim Steeg

"There are a lot of things to impress us about this stadium. The club seat arrangement, the sight lines — really everything about it."

— Cincinnati Bengals general manager Mike Brown

"The (stadium) is a visually stunning structure that reflects the NFL's collective best thinking on how to build a stadium that maximizes a team's revenue-generating potential while also enhancing fan enjoyment."

— Cincinnati Post

JAXSON DE VILLE

MASCOT

Height: 8.5 paws (about 7 feet)
Weight: 403
College: Denied admission due to size, but is working on his MBA, just in case Wayne Weaver needs any business advice
Birthdate: Not sure, but he celebrates it the second week of the preseason every year
Birthplace: Jacksonville (where else would a cat have teal spots?)
First Appearance: August 18, 1996, Jaguars vs. 49ers preseason game
How Acquired: He was a stray cat found during the building of ALLTEL Stadium
NFL Experience: 6th year

SEASON: Has never seen action in an actual game ... Holds the distinction of riding more pine than a lumberjack in a saw mill ... Almost played against the Dolphins in a 1999 playoff game, but he pulled his hamstring getting off the bench when coach Coughlin called him into the game ... Still plays on the practice squad at his All-Pro position, "Left Out!"

STATS: Still holds the self-proclaimed title of "NFL's Top Mascot!" ... Led the league last year in numerous stats, none of which are official stats of the league. They include such feats as: most pizzas consumed in one sitting and highest rapell off a scoreboard before a game (175 feet) ... Never been tackled, sacked, intercepted or blocked, mostly because he never plays ... Has soaked more than 15,000 people with his "Super Soakers" ... Shot enough silly string to cover the road from Jacksonville to the Super Bowl in New Orleans ... Has made entrances on his Harley-Davidson motorcycle, a four-wheeler and via parachute ... Hugged and kissed more than 25,000 people last year during his 400-plus appearances.

OFFSEASON: Jaxson de Ville does not have an "offseason," as he does appearances in the community year-round ... He will appear at any event you want, just give him a call and find out why everyone loves JAXSON!

Parking passes will not be left at the will-call window.

PHOTOGRAPHERS: Sideline access for NFL games is limited to photographers and videographers on assignment for a recognized news organization or sports publication.
