FOUNDER

LAMAR HUNT

The man partially responsible not only for Kansas City football, but also for much of the current design of professional football, is Chiefs founder Lamar Hunt.

As the organizer of the franchise, Hunt helped provide Kansas City a team that became the winningest in the 10-year history of the American Football League and earned spots in two Super Bowls, as well as the 1969 World Championship. As the founder of the AFL, and a principal negotiator in the merger with the NFL, Hunt helped pave the way for much of the modern growth of pro football. Possibly the greatest tribute to his contributions to professional football is the AFC Championship Trophy that carries his name.

Another indication of Hunt's contributions to the game is that he was the first AFL figure to be honored by enshrinement in the Pro Football Hall of Fame at Canton, Ohio. That high honor was bestowed in the summer of 1972.

Hunt was later honored by the NFL Alumni Association, receiving the prestigious Leather Helmet Award in 1982, and has subsequently been honored in the Sports Hall of Fames of both Missouri and Texas.

In 1960, Hunt helped make pro football history by founding and organizing the AFL, which included his Dallas Texans franchise. After three years, the team moved to Kansas City, where the organization recently celebrated its 28th year in Mid-America.

The early days of the AFL were problem-filled but Hunt saw his franchise achieve on-field success. In 1962, the Texans won the AFL Championship with an overtime victory over Houston, the first of three titles won by the Texans/Chiefs in the 10-year history of the league. They repeated as champions in both 1966 and 1969. By winning the '66 title, the Chiefs earned the right to play in the first Super Bowl against the NFL champion Green Bay Packers. Three years later, the Chiefs claimed Kansas City's first world major league sports championship by defeating the Minnesota Vikings in Super Bowl IV.

Hunt was a chief negotiator in the merger of the AFL and NFL in the late sixties and was one of the principal designers of the playoff format. Hunt is credited with accidentally putting the name "Super Bowl" on the NFL's championship game — the name coming from his children's toy "Super Ball."

Lamar Hunt has been a leader in the game for over 30 years, and few individuals have helped shape the game more than this quiet Texan. He maintains a Dallas residence but has actively contributed to the Kansas City economy through the development of the multi-million-dollar recreational Theme Park "Worlds of Fun," and in addition, nine years ago the family-controlled Hunt Midwest Corporation also opened the "Oceans of Fun" water park. The Hunt family is the principal owner of the Kansas City-based company.

An avid sports fan, Hunt is involved in several additional entertainment ventures. He is one of the founding investors in the World Champion Chicago Bulls of the NBA. He and his family were also involved in the development of the North American Soccer League and World Championship Tennis.

Hunt is an active member of the Board of Trustees of the Pro Football Hall of Fame and serves on the NFL Alumni Association's Board of Directors. As President of the American Football Conference, Hunt is a regular member of three prominent NFL committees — Finance, Long Range Planning and Hall of Fame, and has additionally been active as a member of the board of Directors of the World League of American Football, which recently completed its first season.

Hunt was born August 2, 1932, in El Dorado, Arkansas and graduated from SMU with a B.S. in geology in 1956. While at SMU, Hunt was a reserve end on the varsity football team. He and his wife, Norma, have four children, Lamar, Jr., Sharron, Clark and Daniel.

CHAIRMAN OF THE BOARD

JACK W. STEADMAN

In 1991, the Kansas City Chiefs began their 32nd season as a pro football franchise under the leadership of Jack Steadman, Chairman of the Board and Chief Executive Officer.

A recognized leader among pro football administrators, Steadman has structured the Chiefs organization to meet the challenge brought about by growth of the business of pro football over the years.

As the Chiefs begin their 27th season in Kansas City, and their 17th season in magnificent Arrowhead Stadium, Steadman can look with pride at the list of football and administrative accomplishments the organization has achieved since moving from Dallas for the beginning of the 1963 season in the old American Football League.

It was Steadman who conceived the idea of Kansas City building the dual Harry S. Truman Sports Complex which houses the Chiefs in the 78,000-seat Arrowhead, and Royals baseball in the 42,000-seat Royals Stadium. This complex is recognized as the finest of its kind in the world.

Steadman was promoted from General Manager to Executive Vice President and General Manager in 1966; in August of 1976 he was named President of the Chiefs in charge of all operating operations; and in 1989 was named Chairman of the Board.

After establishing himself as an innovative, successful businessman with the Kansas City Chiefs Football Club, Jack Steadman joined Lamar Hunt in the development of Worlds of Fun. The 165-acre family entertainment complex opened in 1973 and drew over 800,000 guests during its first season of operation. After 18 years, Worlds of Fun has grown from 60 rides, shows and attractions to over 115. Over 22 million guests have enjoyed Worlds of Fun since 1973.

In 1982, HME Entertainment, Inc., completed the 60-acre family water recreation park, Oceans of Fun. Located adjacent to Worlds of Fun, Oceans of Fun has hosted over three million guests since its opening.

In addition to serving as Chairman of the Chiefs and Hunt Midwest Enterprises, Inc., which owns Worlds of Fun and Oceans of Fun theme parks, Hunt Midwest Mining, a limestone rock mining company, and Hunt Midwest Real Estate Development Co., an underground and surface real estate development firm in the Kansas City International Foreign-Trade Zone, he also serves on the Board of Directors of Commerce Bank and is the Chairman of the NFL Employees Benefit Plan Committee.

Actively involved within the community since arriving in Kansas City, Steadman is a tireless worker and detailed organizer in many civic and service projects. He is a past Chairman, President and Campaign Chairman of the Heart of America United Way, and past President of the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Kansas City. He is a past Chairman and Board Member of the Private Industry Council as well as the Full Employment Council. He serves as a director of the American Royal Association, Starlight Theatre Association, and Private Industry Council. Steadman also serves as an Advisory Trustee for Midwest Research Institute and is a member of the Civic Council. In 1988 he was honored by the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Kansas City as the "Kansas Citian of the Year."

Steadman, who was born September 14, 1928, grew up in Warrenville, Ill., and in Dallas. He attended Baylor University and received his B.A. in business administration from Southern Methodist University. Jack and his wife, Martha, who also is involved in a number of civic organizations in Kansas City, live in Mission Hills, Kansas.

PRESIDENT/GM

CARL PETERSON President/General Manager and Chief Operating Officer

Browsing through Carl Peterson's clip file, it is impossible to ignore the headlines. One describes him as "A master builder," another proclaims him "Architect of a New Era," while several contain the telling word "winner."

Perhaps no other word describes Peterson more accurately than "winner." It has followed him from Westwood to Philly, and from Baltimore to the Heartland of America.

Before his arrival in Kansas City as the club's new President/General Manager, the only time the term "winner" was applied to the Chiefs was when it was preceded by "has the potential to become a." Now that potential has begun to become a reality.

In his two seasons as the Chiefs chief operating officer, the club has produced a 19-12-1 record and ventured to the playoffs last year for just the second time since 1971. In 1990, the Chiefs posted an 11-5 regular season record, the franchise's best since the 1969 Super Bowl campaign.

The team's turnaround came on December 19, 1988, one day after the Chiefs concluded their second straight four-win season. On that day, Lamar Hunt, the team's founder, hired Peterson, who had been the top executive in the USFL and a personnel whiz in the NFL.

Peterson, in turn, wasted little time in hiring a top-notch head coach in Marty Schottenheimer, who was fresh off four straight playoff appearances with the Cleveland Browns. Together, Peterson and Schottenheimer have put the Chiefs among the NFL's elite, posting 8-7-1 and 11-5 regular season records.

Peterson's forte has always been building winning franchises. Since becoming the Philadelphia Eagles Player Personnel Director in 1977, he has been associated with teams with winning records nine times in 10 tries. Those teams have combined for a 107-55-2 record, good for a remarkable .659 winning percentage.

In his short tenure with the Chiefs, he and Player Personnel Director Whitey Dovell used the college draft and free agent market to build the club's talent pool.

Two drafts have produced six starters: Derrick Thomas (No. 1 in '89), Percy Snow (No. 1 in '90), Tim Grunhard (No. 2 in '90), Robb Thomas (No. 6 in '89), Dave Szott (No. 7 in '90) and Bill Jones (No. 12 in '89). Peterson, Dovell and the personnel department have also taken from "Plan B" and free agency to further stockpile talent such as Dan Saleaumua, Mike Webster, Charles Washington, Barry Word, J.J. Birden and Bryan Barker.

Peterson has led the Chiefs to many off the field successes as well. Season ticket sales have soared to level last seen in the early '70s. The Chiefs have also added new grass practice fields and a much-needed indoor practice facility that includes 90 yards of omniturf plus new weight-training facilities and locker rooms.

Peterson's reputation as one of football's top executives began in '77, when he became the Director of Player Personnel for the Philadelphia Eagles. As the man chiefly responsible for the acquisition of talent, he helped take a team which had not produced a winning season in 12 years and transformed it into a playoff participant his final four seasons. The Highlight of those four years came in '80, when the Eagles won the NFC Championship and advanced to Super Bowl XV in January of '81.

After his rapid success with the Eagles, Peterson was the man selected to build the Philadelphia Stars when the USFL was launched in July of '82. As the franchise's President and General Manager, he proceeded to put together the most successful team in the league's three-year existence, capturing the USFL title the final two seasons. The Stars 41-12-1 record during the regular season and 7-1 mark in postseason play were easily the best of any USFL team. His efforts were rewarded in '83 and '84, when he was named The Sporting News' "USFL Executive of the Year."

Peterson displayed his knack for discovering and developing young players long before he took over the Chiefs fortunes. With the Eagles, he found Pro Bowl running back Wilbert Montgomery in this sixth round, claimed linebacker Jerry Robinson, the '79 NFL Rookie of the Year, with the 21st pick of the first round, and stole five-time Pro Bowl receiver Mike Quick with the 20th pick in round one. Several of his acquisitions with the Stars went on to become starters in the NFL. They include tackle Irv Eatman (Chiefs & Jets), center Bart Oates (Giants), linebacker Sam Mills (Saints), linebacker Mike Johnson (Browns), punter Sean Landeta (Giants) and running back Kelvin Bryant (Redskins).

After his tenure in the USFL, Peterson entered private business, serving as President and Chief Executive Officer of PhillySport magazine in Philadelphia.

A '66 graduate of UCLA, Peterson began his coaching career as an assistant at two California high schools, Wilson High in '66 and Loyola High in '67-68. He entered the college coaching ranks as an assistant at Cal-State at Sonoma in '69, then was named head coach in '70. He spent two years there before returning to his alma mater in '72. He served as receivers coach at UCLA under Pepper Rodgers for two years, then remained on the staff as receivers coach and administrative assistant when Dick Vermeil became the Bruins head coach in '74. Peterson stayed with Vermeil for two years at UCLA before the two made their move to the NFL, where he coached the Eagles receivers and tight ends.

Peterson has served on the National Boards for the Maxwell Football Club and Pop Warner Little Scholar Organization. He is also a member of the Kansas City chapter of the Young President's Organization.

The 47-year-old Peterson grew up in Long Beach, California, and attended both West Point and UCLA. He earned his Bachelor of Science degree in Kinesiology from UCLA in '66, a Master's Degree in Kinesiology in '67 and later received a doctorate in Administration in Higher Education from UCLA in '70.

Carl is single, resides in Kansas City, Missouri, and has one daughter, Dawn, who is currently attending UCLA.

Under Peterson's watchful eye, the Chiefs have become a model NFL franchise, both on and off the field.

TIM CONNOLLY

Executive Vice President

Under the leadership of Tim Connolly, the Chiefs have excelled off the field as well as on it for the past two seasons. Connolly, who assumed his role as the Chiefs' Executive Vice President in February of 1989, has initiated several changes in the team's front office that have produced extremely positive results.

Connolly put together a sales and marketing organization that set club records for group sales and suite sales while leading the NFL for the past two years in season ticket increases and attendance growth.

The 42-year-old Connolly has been instrumental in expanding both the Chiefs' radio network and the preseason TV package, which now serves an ever-increasing fan base in the Midwest. In addition, he was responsible for the recently completed $8.5 million capital expansion program which included the new Chiefs practice facility and scoreboard systems.

On the administrative front, the Chiefs are now considered the "leading edge." The recent installation of state-of-the-art computer systems, phone systems, and electronic ticketing systems have moved the Chiefs to the forefront of the NFL in technology and administrative productivity.

Connolly came to Kansas City after serving as president and chief executive officer of two Bell Atlantic subsidiaries: Bell Atlantic Mobile Systems, Bell Atlantic's cellular phone company; and SORBUS Corporation, the largest independent computer maintenance organization in the world.

He began his business career in 1971 at the IBM Corporation, where he served in various sales, staff, and management positions. He graduated from George Washington University with a degree in Finance.

Tim and his wife Kathy reside in Overland Park, Kansas, and have three children, Jennifer, Brianne, and John.

DENNIS THUM

Assistant General Manager

Dennis Thum, a Kansas City Chiefs employee since '74, begins his third year as Assistant General Manager. Thum assists Carl Peterson, the Chiefs President/General Manager and Chief Operating Officer, in preparing the entire football budget, takes part in the negotiations of all player contracts and helps service the coaching staff, trainers, equipment personnel and video staff. He is also in charge of training camp operations and coordinates the team's travel.

The 39-year-old Thum held the position of Assistant to the General Manager since '84. Before that he served as the club's Director of Accounting in '83 and Chiefs Accountant in '82.

A native of St. Louis, Missouri, Thum joined the Chiefs as a staff accountant in '74, the same year he graduated from Rockhurst College.

Born November 14, 1951, Dennis and his wife, Carmen, live in Kansas City, Missouri, with their children: Megan (10) and Lindsay (7).

HEAD COACH

MARTY SCHOTTENHEIMER

When people discuss Marty Schottenheimer's coaching career, they usually get caught up in a barrage of impressive facts and figures. Indeed, Schottenheimer has put together a gleaming resume in his seven years as an NFL head coach, but former Kansas City Chiefs center Mike Webster, a 17-year veteran, accounts for the success on a more simplistic level.

"Marty is teacher-oriented and relates and communicates," said Webster. "It is evident up front, first of all, that he has complete faith in what he is doing. He exudes an air that there is no doubt he is going to get wherever he is going and he makes you want to come along for the ride."

And, for Schottenheimer's teams that ride means a winning season, coupled with a trip to the playoffs. In six full seasons as an NFL head coach, he has never experienced a losing season. In fact, since 1985, he is the only coach in the league that has not had at least one losing season. During that same six-year span, Schottenheimer and the Chicago Bears' Mike Ditka are the only two coaches that have at least five playoff appearances.

After four-and-a-half years as the Cleveland Browns head coach, Schottenheimer took over the Chiefs reigns on January 24, 1989. He has a 19-12-1 regular season record as the Chiefs head coach, and is 63-39-1 overall. His .617 career winning percentage is the fourth-highest among active NFL head coaches with at least three seasons. He has coached Kansas City to two of its four winning seasons since 1974.

Last season, Schottenheimer guided the Chiefs to an 11-5 regular season record, the club's finest in 21 years. He also directed the team to postseason play for just the second time since 1971 and the first time since 1986. In the first-round playoff game, the Chiefs lost a thrilling 17-16 decision to the Miami Dolphins.

The reversal of the Chiefs fortunes began with Schottenheimer's arrival in 1989, when the club posted an 8-7-1 record and narrowly missed a playoff berth.

Schottenheimer firmly established himself as one of the league's best head coaches before venturing to Kansas City. In his four full seasons as the Browns head coach, he produced four playoff berths, three AFC Central titles, two AFC Championship Game appearances and consensus AFC Coach of the Year honors in 1986.

Schottenheimer embarked upon his first head coaching job at midseason in 1984 when the Browns promoted him from defensive coordinator to head coach as Sam Rutigliano's replacement. He took over a 1-7 team, but managed to direct the Browns to a 4-4 finish in the season's second half. Three of the four losses were by field goals late in the game.

In 1985, his first full season as the Browns head coach, he steered the team to the AFC Central crown with an 8-8 record. In the playoffs at Miami, his Browns battled a heavily-favored Dolphins club before falling, 24-21.

The following year, Schottenheimer earned consensus AFC Coach of the Year honors after he directed Cleveland to a 12-4 season record, a second straight division title and a spot in the AFC Championship Game, which the Browns dropped to the Denver Broncos, 23-20 in overtime.

Cleveland gained a third straight AFC Central title in 1987 with a 10-5 mark. The Browns advanced to the AFC title game for the second consecutive year, but fell again to Denver, 38-33.

Despite losing three quarterbacks and several other starters to injury in 1988, Schottenheimer led the Browns to a 10-6 record and an AFC Wild Card contest, which they lost to the Houston Oilers, 24-23.

Schottenheimer joined the Browns as defensive coordinator in 1980, and molded the powerful Cleveland defense over the next five years. In 1984 his defense ranked first in the AFC and second to the Bears in the NFL.

Schottenheimer started his coaching career with the World Football League's Portland Storm in 1974. He opened that season as a player, but a shoulder injury ended his playing career, although he continued tutoring the team's linebackers. A year later, he joined Bill Arnsparger—the architect of the Dolphins "No-Name Defense"—with the New York Giants as linebackers coach, then was promoted to defensive coordinator under John McVay in 1977, at the age of 34. He then became the Detroit Lions linebackers coach in 1978, staying two years before making the move to Cleveland.

Schottenheimer was an All-America linebacker at the University of Pittsburgh, where he was named to the school's all-time team. In 1965 he was selected in the fourth round of the NFL draft by the Baltimore Colts and in the seventh round of the AFL draft by the Buffalo Bills. He played with the Bills from 1965-68 and the Boston Patriots in 1969-70 before being traded to the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1971. After a training camp stint under Chuck Noll, he was traded to the Colts, but retired three weeks later when Baltimore released him. Following his retirement, Schottenheimer worked in real estate in Denver until resurfacing in the WFL.

Schottenheimer, who now serves on the NFL's prestigious Competition Committee, was an honor student and football/basketball standout at Ft. Cherry High School in McDonald, Pa. He was an All-Western Pennsylvania linebacker and the center on the state championship basketball team. He then began his college career at Pitt, where he was a three-year starter.

Born September 23, 1943 in Canonsburg, Pa., Marty and his wife, Pat, have two children, a 21-year-old daughter, Kristen, who attends Miami University in Oxford, Ohio, and a 17-year-old son, Brian, who is the starting quarterback for Blue Valley High School. The Schottenheimers reside in Overland Park, Kansas.

COACHING STAFF

BRUCE ARIANS, Running Backs

A once dismal Chiefs rushing offense has been revitalized the past two seasons under the direction of running backs coach Bruce Arians. From '82-88, the Chiefs rushing offense ranked no higher than 19th and no individual runner had gained more than 700 yards, but all that has changed since Arians' arrival. Two years ago, the Chiefs had the third-ranked ground attack in the league as fullback Christian Okoye galloped to the league's rushing crown with a team-record 1,480 yards. Last season, Kansas City had the NFL's 10th-rated rushing offense and featured two runners among the AFC's Top 10 who each gained more than 800 yards: Barry Word (4th with 1,015 yards) and Okoye (9th with 805 yards).

Arians has had a dramatic impact on the Chiefs' young – and largely unheralded – group of backs, especially Okoye, Word, Todd McNair and Bill Jones. In his first two seasons with the team, Okoye gained 1,133 yards and six TDs, and in the past two, under Arians, he has 2,285 yards and 19 scores. Before pounding out a team-high 1,015 yards in '90, Word had produced just 133 yards in two years with the Saints. McNair, who Arians coached at Temple, has become one of the foremost third-down specialists in the NFL in just two pro seasons. Jones, a 12th-round draft choice in '89, tied for the team receiving TD lead with five last season.

Before coming to Kansas City, Arians was head coach at Temple University, where he led his team to a 27-39 record. The 38-year-old native of York, Pennsylvania, coached Temple to a 4-7 record during his first season as a head coach in '83. The following campaign, he guided the Owls to a 6-5 mark, the school's first winning season in five years. His teams finished with a 4-7 mark in '85, '87 and '88 and a 6-5 record in '86.

At Temple, Arians coached McNair, who has been one of the Chiefs' top offensive weapons the past two years, and former Chief Paul Palmer.

who finished his collegiate career as the NCAA's sixth all-time leading rusher with 4,895 yards.

Before accepting the head coach position at Temple, Arians coached the offensive backfield at the University of Alabama for two years ('81-'82) under the late Paul "Bear" Bryant. In '78-'80, he tutored the receivers and running backs at Mississippi State. He coached the offensive backfield at Virginia Tech, his alma mater, in '77 after spending two years there as a graduate assistant. Arians played quarterback at Virginia Tech and was his team's leading passer in '74.

Born October 3, 1952, Bruce and his wife, Christine, a graduate of Temple Law School, have two children, Jake and Kristi, and reside in Lee's Summit, Missouri.

Arian's Coaching Career: Virginia Tech 1975-1977; Mississippi State University 1978-80; University of Alabama 1981-82; Temple University 1983-88 (head coach); joined Chiefs in 1989.

RUSS BALL, Assistant Strength and Conditioning

Beginning his third season as a strength and conditioning specialist in the NFL, Russ Ball assists Dave Redding in the physical development and maturity of the club's athletes.

Ball was the head strength coach at the University of Missouri from '82 to '88. In '82 he replaced Redding, who left the Tigers to join the Cleveland Browns. Ball was Missouri's assistant weight coach in '81 and '82.

The 31-year-old Columbia, Missouri, native earned four letters as a center at Central Missouri State University. He was an all-conference selection as a senior in '80. Ball was an all-state performer at Columbia Hickman High School in Columbia, Missouri. In '90, he earned a Master's Degree in Human Performance from the University of Missouri.

Born August 28, 1959, Russ and his wife, Chele, live in Kansas City, Missouri.

Ball's Coaching Career: University of Missouri 1981-88; joined Chiefs in 1989.

BILL COWHER, Defensive Coordinator/Linebackers

Under the direction of second-year defensive coordinator Bill Cowher, the Chiefs defense is recognized as one of the finest in all of the NFL. In '89 – his first as a defensive boss – Cowher oversaw a unit that led the AFC in total defense and finished second in the NFL, allowing just 268.3 yards per game. Last season, the Chiefs exhibited more of a "big play" defense, leading the NFL in sacks (60), fumble recoveries (25) and takeaways (45). The Chiefs have allowed more than 300 total yards in just nine games the past two seasons.

The 34-year-old Cowher has made great strides in the areas of run defense, pass rushing and scoring defense. The Chiefs have ranked 12th in the NFL in run defense the past two years after ranking 27th and 28th in '87 and '88, respectively. Kansas City has recorded 96 sacks the past two seasons as opposed to 93 the previous three. In '90 the Chiefs allowed just 257 points, the fifth-best mark in the NFL. Over the past two years, the Chiefs have allowed just 17.0 points per game, the lowest average in the AFC and the third-lowest in the league behind the Giants (14.5) and 49ers (15.4). The Chiefs have limited 10 of their last 24 opponents to 10 points or less.

Cowher spent the '85-'86 seasons as the Browns special teams coach, then coached the club's secondary the following two seasons. In Cleveland, he oversaw All-Pro cornerbacks Hanford Dixon and Frank Minnifield, Cleveland's 23 interceptions in '87 tied for third in the AFC, while in '88 the Browns pass defense ranked fourth in the conference.

Impressed by Cowher's work ethic as a Browns linebacker in '80-82, Marty Schottenheimer hired him in '85 after a knee injury forced the end of his playing career. Cowher was traded by Cleveland to the Philadelphia Eagles in '83, where he excelled on special teams. He was named the Eagles most valuable special teams player in his first season with the club, but a knee injury sidelined him for all but four games in '84. He originally entered the league as a free agent with the Eagles in '79, but was released after appearing in three preseason games. The Browns signed him as a free agent in '80 and he played in all 16 games, including two as a starter at inside linebacker.

Cowher was a four-year letterman and three-year starter at North Carolina State. He was named team captain as a senior and was also named the team's most valuable player. Cowher graduated from North Carolina State with a degree in education.

Born May 8, 1957 in Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, Bill and his wife, Kaye, reside in Leawood, Kansas, with their three daughters, Meagan Lyn, Lauren Marie and Lindsay Morgan.

Cowher's Coaching Career: Cleveland Browns 1985-1988; joined Chiefs in 1989.

TONY DUNGY, Defensive Backs

Strong defensive secondaries have long been a trademark of the Kansas City Chiefs and that tradition was only strengthened by the addition of Tony Dungy in '89. In each of the past two seasons, his starting cornerbacks – Albert Lewis and Kevin Ross – have ventured to the Pro Bowl. Thanks to the strong efforts of the secondary, the Chiefs defense has allowed just 503 completions the past two seasons, the second-lowest yield in the NFL behind Minnesota (470). Over that same span, the club has allowed opposing passers to complete just 51.2% of their passes, the second-best percentage in the league behind Philadelphia (48.5%). In '89 the Chiefs passing defense was tops in the conference and second in the league. In '90 the Chiefs recorded 20 interceptions, the club's highest total since '86.

Although just 35 years of age, Dungy is entering his 11th season as a respected NFL coach. A three-year NFL safety, he embarked on a professional coaching career in '81.

From '83-88, Dungy served as defensive coordinator for the Steelers under Chuck Noll, the fifth-winningest coach in the history of the NFL. A native of Jackson, Michigan, Dungy joined Noll's staff in '81 as a defensive assistant and became the club's secondary coach the following year. He was promoted to defensive coordinator in '83, even though he was just 28 years old.

Under Dungy's tutelage, the Steelers defense ranked among the NFL's top 10 units from '83-85. During his six seasons as Pittsburgh's defensive coordinator, the Steelers scored 20 defensive touchdowns, including 17 on interception returns.

Dungy's three-year NFL playing career began in '77 when he made the Steelers roster as a free agent safety. In '78 he led the club with six interceptions, but was traded to the San Francisco 49ers the following year. His career came to an end prior to the '80 season after he was traded by the 49ers to the New York Giants, who waived him during the preseason. Dungy's first coaching assignment came with the University of Minnesota in '80 when he was the school's defensive backs coach.

As a collegiate quarterback at Minnesota from '73-76, Dungy was named the team's most valuable player twice. Upon the completion of his career, he held school records for total plays (999), pass attempts (586), completions (274), passing yards (3,577) and touchdown passes (25). Following the '76 season, he played in the East-West Shrine game, the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl. He graduated from Minnesota in '77 with a degree in business administration.

Born October 6, 1955, Tony and his wife, Lauren, have a daughter, Tiara, and a son, Jamie, and live in Overland Park, Kansas.

Dungy's Coaching Career: University of Minnesota 1980; Pittsburgh Steelers 1981-88; joined Chiefs in 1989.

JIM ERKENBECK, Offense/Tight Ends

Jim Erkenbeck, who is entering his 32nd year of football coaching, oversees the Chiefs tight ends and assists with the club's offensive line. He has helped incorporate the tight ends into the club's highly-respected running game. Under his watchful eye, Jonathan Hayes has developed into one of the NFL's finest blocking tight ends. He has also helped groom an offensive line that has permitted a lowly 45 sacks the past two seasons.

The 58-year-old Erkenbeck worked with the Cowboys offensive line from '87 and '88 after tutoring the New Orleans Saints offensive front in '86. He helped revive the Saints offensive line that allowed 58 sacks in '85. Under his watchful eye, the Saints permitted just 27 quarterback takedowns in '86.

Prior to joining the Saints, Erkenbeck coached the offensive line of the USFL's two-time champion Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars for three seasons ('83-85). There he worked under Chiefs President/General Manager Carl Peterson, who held the same post in Philadelphia, and Kansas City offensive coordinator Joe Pendry, who was the Stars offensive boss in '83.

From '72-76, Erkenbeck was the offensive line coach at the University of California where he worked with Chiefs offensive line coach, Howard Mudd. After leaving California, he began his pro coaching career in the Canadian Football League. He was offensive coordinator at Winnipeg in '77 and continued in that capacity with Montreal ('78-81) and Calgary ('82).

Erkenbeck started his college coaching career in '60 at San Diego State, where he stayed until '63. Following that he was head coach at Grossmont (Cal.) Junior College ('64-67), and served assistantships at Utah State ('68) and Washington State ('69-71).

Following a college playing career at San Diego State ('49-52), where he earned three letters as a linebacker/end, Erkenbeck spent four years in the Marine Corps. He started his coaching career at El Capitan High School in San Diego.

Born September 10, 1933 in Los Angeles, Jim and his wife, Jocelyne, reside in Mission, Kansas.

Erkenbeck's Coaching Career: San Diego State University 1960-63; Grossmont, Cal. J.C. 1964-67; Utah State University 1968; Washington State University 1969-71; University of California 1972-76; Winnipeg Blue Bombers (CFL) 1977; Montreal Alouettes (CFL) 1978-81; Calgary Stampeders (CFL) 1982; Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars (USFL) 1983-85; New Orleans Saints 1986; Dallas Cowboys 1987-88; joined Chiefs in 1989.

HOWARD MUDD, Offensive Line

Howard Mudd, who begins his 18th season as an NFL assistant coach, is the man responsible for reshaping and rejuvenating the Chiefs offensive line. Kansas City's offensive front five now ranks among the finest in the league. They excel at both run blocking and pass protection.

Mudd's offensive line has paved the way for a rushing offense that has averaged 130.5 yards per game the past two years. That unit has permitted just 45 sacks over that period, the second-fewest total in the NFL behind Miami (26). Last season, despite having two rookie starters, the Chiefs offensive line helped Barry Word gain 1,015 yards and Christian Okoye pound out 805. The club's quarterback was dumped just 22 times, the fourth-fewest in the league. Behind Mudd's offensive front in '89, Okoye rushed for an NFL-best and club-record 1,480 yards while the team's quarterbacks were sacked on just 23 occasions. Last season, Mudd helped left tackle John Alt achieve All-NFL accolades from USA Today and Sports Illustrated, and guard Dave Szott and Tim Grunhard gain all-rookie mention.

The 49-year-old Midland, Michigan, native began his college coaching career in '72 as an assistant at the University of California, where he worked with fellow Chiefs assistant Jim Erkenbeck. Two years later, he moved into the professional ranks as the San Diego Chargers offensive line coach. Following a three-year stint in San Diego, he tutored the offensive lines with the San Francisco 49ers in '77 and the Seattle Seahawks from '78-82.

In '83 Mudd moved to Cleveland and coached the offensive line there until joining the Chiefs in '89. The Browns offensive line played a major part in the club's four straight playoff appearances. In '87, the Browns allowed just 29 sacks, the fourth-lowest total in the AFC. In addition, the club averaged 116.3 yards rushing during the regular season and 151.1 yards per game during the playoffs. In '85, Mudd's offensive line paved the way for two 1,000-yard rushers — Kevin Mack and Earnest Byner.

Mudd was a two-time All-Pro and three-time Pro Bowl performer during his eight NFL seasons as a standout guard. He spent six seasons with the 49ers ('64-69) and two with the Chicago Bears ('70-71). He was selected by San Francisco in the ninth round of the '64 draft after a standout college career at Hillsdale (Mich.) College. He is enshrined in the NAIA Hall of Fame and was also named to the All-1960's NFL team. Mudd graduated from Hillsdale with a bachelor of science degree in biology.

Born February 10, 1942, Howard has a son, Darren, 22, and a daughter, Ami, 20, who attends Cal-Berkeley. They reside in Blue Springs, Missouri.

Mudd's Coaching Career: University of California 1972-73; San Diego Chargers 1974-76; San Francisco 49ers 1977, Seattle Seahawks 1978-82; Cleveland Browns 1983-88; joined Chiefs in 1989.

JOE PENDRY, Offensive Coordinator/Quarterbacks

Under the watchful eye of third-year coordinator Joe Pendry, the Chiefs offense has made steady advances the past two seasons. The Chiefs averaged 325.9 yards per game last season to rank third in the AFC and seventh in the NFL. In '89 the Chiefs ranked sixth and 13th with 329.1 yards per outing. The Chiefs have been equally successful running or passing the ball. Kansas City has rushed for at least 100 yards in 23 of the last 32 games, while the passing offense in '90 generated 204.2 yards per game, the fourth-highest yield in the conference. Last season the team had a 1,000-yard rusher (Barry Word) and 1,000-yard receiver (Stephone Paige) in the same season for the first time in franchise history.

Perhaps, Pendry can take the most pride in masterminding quarterback Steve DeBerg's storybook '90 season. In his 14th NFL season, DeBerg passed for 3,444 yards on 58.1% accuracy with 23 touchdowns and just four interceptions. Kansas City's five total interceptions last year were the fewest ever by an NFL team in a 16-game season. The passing game stretched opposing defenses with seven tosses of 60 yards or more, including scoring bombs of 90, 86 and 83 yards. The team's 38 touchdowns were the most since '86, while the 369 points scored were the most since '83.

Pendry, who enters his 23rd year of coaching, has coached every offensive position, served as an offensive coordinator and been a head coach during his career. In addition to calling and designing plays, he also works with the Chiefs quarterbacks.

A 43-year-old native of Matheny, West Virginia, Pendry played a major part in the success of the Browns offense from '85-88. He joined the Browns in '85 and served in several capacities with the team, including offensive coordinator for a year and running backs coach for three years. Under Pendry's guidance in '85, Kevin Mack and Earnest Byner became just the third running back duo in league history to rush for over 1,000 yards in the same season.

Pendry's first professional coaching experience came with the USFL's Philadelphia Stars, serving as the club's offensive coordinator during the team's '83 championship season. Chiefs President/General Manager Carl Peterson was in charge of the the Stars operation at the time and fellow Kansas City assistant Jim Erkenbeck was the team's offensive line coach. Pendry was named head coach of the USFL's Pittsburgh Maulers for 10 games in '84.

Before entering the pro ranks, Pendry spent 15 years as a college assistant coach. A spinal injury during his sophomore year at West Virginia University ended his playing career, but afforded him the opportunity to start his coaching career. He was a student/coach his final two undergraduate years at West Virginia, then was appointed graduate assistant in '69 before becoming head coach of the freshman squad in '70. He coached the Mountaineers receivers and offensive line from '71-74.

After a year at Kansas State as offensive coordinator, Pendry returned to West Virginia in the same capacity from '76-77. He handled the University of Pittsburgh's quarterbacks in '78 and offensive line in '79 before taking over as Michigan State's offensive coordinator during the '80 and '81 seasons.

Born August 5, 1947, Joe and his wife, Sandi, have a son, Joe (21) and a daughter, Jill (19) and reside in Lee's Summit, Missouri.

Pendry's Coaching Career: West Virginia University 1967-74, 1976-77; Kansas State University 1975; University of Pittsburgh 1978-79; Michigan State University 1980-81; Philadelphia Stars (USFL) 1983; Pittsburgh Maulers (USFL, head coach) 1984; Cleveland Browns 1985-88; joined Chiefs in 1989.

TOM PRATT, Defensive Line

In just two seasons, Tom Pratt has made a notable impact on a young, talented Chiefs defensive line. Last season Pratt's line played a major role in the Chiefs "big play" defense, while generating 27.5 of the club's NFL-leading 60 sacks, while adding 11 forced fumbles and 10 fumble recoveries. Pratt, who enters his 29th season as an NFL defensive assistant, has aided in the development of three young defensive linemen – Neil Smith, Dan Saleaumua and Leonard Griffin – and helped a veteran one – Bill Mass – make a successful move from nose tackle to end. Smith was second on the team with 9.5 sacks, Saleaumua was the team's second leading tackler with 88 and the AFC's leading fumble recovery man with six, Griffin chipped in 3.5 sacks from his reserve role, and Maas added 5.5 sacks and four fumble recoveries.

Pratt is in his second stint as the Chiefs defensive line coach, having served in the same capacity under Hank Stram and Paul Wiggin from '63-77. Following his 15-year stay in Kansas City, he made stops at New Orleans ('78-80) and Cleveland ('81-88).

Under Pratt's tutelage the Browns defensive front played a vital role in the Browns four consecutive playoff visits. Pratt's unit helped the Browns achieve the sixth-rated defense in the NFL in '88, while in '87 Cleveland allowed the AFC's fewest rushing yards and permitted the league's fewest touchdowns.

The 56-year-old Beloit, Wisconsin, native got his first pro coaching experience with the Chiefs when he joined Stram's staff in '63. During his stay in Kansas City, the Chiefs made two Super Bowl appearances following the '66 and '69 seasons, and earned an NFL Championship ring when the Chiefs won Super Bowl IV. One of his finest coaching accomplishments was the defensive line formation of tackles Buck Buchanan and Curley Culp with ends Jerry Mays and Aaron Brown that led the Chiefs to their only NFL title.

After playing linebacker at the University of Miami from '53-56, Pratt stayed at his alma mater as a Hurricane assistant for four years. He coached at the University of Southern Mississippi from '61-62 before joining Stram's staff in Kansas City.

Born June 21, 1935, Tom and his wife, Hope, live in Leawood, Kansas and have three children, Kendra (29), Shana (26) and Tyler (20).

Pratt's Coaching Career: University of Miami 1957-60; University of Southern Mississippi 1961-62; Kansas City Chiefs 1963-77; New Orleans Saints 1978-80; Cleveland Browns 1981-88; rejoined Chiefs in 1989.

DAVE REDDING, Strength and Conditioning

A good portion of the credit for the Chiefs becoming one of the NFL's premier teams must go to Dave Redding, who coordinates the club's off-season strength and conditioning program and the in-season maintenance efforts. One of the most highly-respected strength coaches in all of football, Redding redesigned the club's weight-training facilities and instituted a personalized conditioning program in '89, his first year with the Chiefs. Redding has created an environment that keeps players training in Kansas City year-round. More than 75% of the club's players participated in the '90 and '91 volunteer programs on a regular basis.

"Dave Redding, in my opinion, is the very best in the field," said head coach Marty Schottenheimer. "He's a tough and demanding coach who sets high standards. Dave works very closely with the players and produces great results."

Redding became the Browns first strength and conditioning coach in '82 and stayed in that capacity until joining the Chiefs in '89. A 39-year-old native of North Platte, Nebraska, Redding instituted a highly-successful program with the Browns that included weightlifting, but also put an emphasis on flexibility, running, plyometric drills and speed enhancement—all of which he has stressed to Chiefs players the past two off-seasons.

Before working with professional athletes, Redding spent six years as a collegiate strength coach. He spent one year at the University of Nebraska ('76), his alma mater, one at Washington State University ('77) and four at the University of Missouri ('78-81). He worked with the defensive ends in addition to his strength duties at Washington State.

Redding was a three-year letter winner at Nebraska, where he played defensive end. Upon completion of his bachelor of science degree in physical education, he worked as a graduate assistant at Nebraska in '76.

Born June 14, 1952, Dave lives in Lee's Summit, Missouri, and has one daughter Taylor Reta (4).

Redding's Coaching Career: University of Nebraska 1976; Washington State University 1977; University of Missouri 1978-81; Cleveland Browns 1982-88; joined Chiefs in 1989.

AL SAUNDERS, Receivers

Regarded as one of the finest receivers coaches in professional football, Al Saunders begins his third season with the Chiefs. Under Saunders' direction, Kansas City's receivers have continued to blossom. In '90 he helped eight-year veteran Stephone Paige collect his first 1,000-yard season. He oversaw the great strides made by second-year pros Robb Thomas (41 catches, 545 yards and 4 TDs) and J.J. Birden (15 catches, 352 yards, 3 TDs) as well as four-year wide-out Emile Harry (41 catches, 519 yards and 2 TDs).

His relentless efforts and "hands on" approach should help the fledgling Chiefs receivers climb to the levels of some of his other star pupils.

Saunders has had a dramatic impact on an impressive list of receivers since his coaching career began in '70. During his 21 years as a coach on both the college and professional levels, he has been central in the development of Charlie Joiner, Kellen Winslow, Wes Chandler, Pete Holohan, Lynn Swann, Wesley Walker, Henry Marshall, Willie Gault, Tim McGee, Anthony Miller, Gary Anderson and Lionel James.

Saunders served as head coach of the San Diego Chargers from the midpoint of the '86 season through the '88 campaign. He guided the club to a 17-22 record, including an 8-7 record in '87, which was the team's first winning mark in five years. Under his direction in '87, the Chargers won eight straight games, the club's longest winning streak in 26 seasons.

The 44-year-old Saunders joined the Chargers in '83 as receivers coach in what was one of the most exciting and prolific pass offenses in NFL history. San Diego led the league in passing yardage in '83 and '85.

Saunders entered the NFL after 13 years as a successful college assistant coach. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Southern California in '70-71. He then coached the receivers at the University of Missouri in '72 and was the offensive backfield coach at Utah State from '73-75. He was assistant head coach and offensive coordinator at the University of California from '76-81, leading an offense that set 32 national, conference and school records. In '82 he was offensive coordinator at the University of Tennessee, where he coached standout receivers Gault and McGee.

Saunders was born in London, England, which made him only the third foreign-born head coach in NFL history. He became a naturalized U.S. citizen in '60. He was a four-year starter, team captain and an Academic All-America as a defensive back at San Jose State ('66-69) and is also enshrined in the school's Hall of Fame. He graduated with honors as a physical education and English major in '69 and obtained a master's degree in education from Stanford in '70. As recipient of California State's Graduate Fellowship for Academic Excellence, he was a doctoral candidate in athletic administration and sports management at USC. Saunders has been recognized in Who's Who in America and was awarded California's prestigious Golden State Award for community leadership and service in '89.

Born February 1, 1947, Al and his wife, Karen, reside in Overland Park, Kansas, with their two sons, Bobby (14) and Joey (11) and daughter Korrin (10).

Saunders' Coaching Career: University of Southern California 1970-71; University of Missouri 1972; Utah State University 1973-75; University of California 1976-81; University of Tennessee 1982; San Diego Chargers 1983-88 (head coach 1986-88); joined Chiefs in 1989.

KURT SCHOTTENHEIMER, Special Teams

Kurt Schottenheimer, the co-winner of the 1990 NFL Special Teams Coach of the Year Award, begins his third season with the Chiefs. Under his guidance last season, Kansas City's special teams units reached new heights. The Chiefs blocked an NFL-record six punts during the regular season and added another during the playoff loss to Miami. The club also rejected a field goal and deflected a punt. Two of the blocked punts were returned for touchdowns. The Chiefs allowed just 17.2 yards per kickoff return, down from 21.0 a year earlier. Kicker Nick Lowery also prospered under Schottenheimer's watchful eye. Lowery was voted to the Pro Bowl after making 34 of 37 field goals tries, good for 91.9%, the fourth-highest single-season total in league history.

Schottenheimer, the younger brother of Chiefs head coach Marty Schottenheimer, is in his fifth season as an NFL assistant. He joined the Chiefs in '89 after spending two years as the Browns special teams coach.

In '88 Schottenheimer's kickoff coverage unit ranked second in the NFL with a 16.2-yard average while the Browns kickoff return unit placed sixth in the league with a 21.1-yard average. That season, the Browns also blocked two punts, both for touchdowns, and one field goal. In '87 opponents returned just 17 punts, by far the lowest number in the league.

A 41-year-old native of McDonald, Pennsylvania, Schottenheimer entered the pro ranks after putting together an impressive major college coaching resume. He served as Lou Holtz's linebackers coach at the University of Notre Dame in '86. Prior to that appointment, he spent two seasons ('84-85) as linebackers coach at Louisiana State University under defensive genius Bill Arnsparger.

Schottenheimer started his coaching career from '74-75 as the defensive coordinator at William Patterson State College in New Jersey. He spent the '77 season at Ridgefield Park (N.J.) High School, and the following five seasons ('78-82) at Michigan State University, the first two as a graduate assistant coaching defensive backs under Darryl Rogers. He coached the Spartans outside linebackers his last three years, with All-America pick Carl Banks, among his pupils. He coached at Tulane University in '83.

Schottenheimer was a J.C. All-America quarterback at Coffeyville (Kan.) Junior College, where he led the nation in passing as a sophomore. He moved on to the University of Miami, where he started his last two years as a defensive back and earned his bachelor's degree in education in '71.

Born October 1, 1949, Kurt and his wife Colleen, have two daughters, Steele (8) and Sloane (5), and live in Overland Park, Kansas.

Schottenheimer's Coaching Career: William Patterson State College 1974-75; Michigan State University 1978-82; Tulane University 1983; Louisiana State University 1984-85; University of Notre Dame 1986; Cleveland Browns 1987-88; joined Chiefs in 1989.

DARVIN WALLIS, Special Assistant/Quality Control

Darvin Wallis, an 20-year coaching veteran, is responsible for the team's game analysis, including film breakdown, computer data, self-scouting and the analysis of opponents' offenses. Wallis is also responsible for defensive quality control and developmental studies and research. He joined the Chiefs after spending seven years in the same capacity with the Browns organization.

"Darvin is a fine, young coach and a tireless worker who watches more video than anyone in the organization," said head coach Marty Schottenheimer. "He is responsible for all phases of quality control and computer data."

The 42-year-old Ft. Branch, Indiana, native joined the Browns in '82 after tutoring the tight ends and tackles at the University of Mississippi for two seasons ('80-81). During his two seasons there he was also heavily involved in the school's computer scouting system. Wallis was the offensive line and strength coach at Tulane University from '78-79 and oversaw the offensive front at Adams State College in Alamosa, Colorado, from '76-77.

After graduating from the University of Arizona, where he played defensive end, Wallis earned his master's degree at Adams State. He entered the coaching world in '71 at Wilcox (Ariz.) High School, then served as head coach at Ajo (Ariz.) High School from '72-75.

Born February 14, 1949, Darvin and his wife, Vicky, reside in Overland Park, Kansas, with their three children, Darvin, Jr. (8), Tyson (5) and Austin (3).

Wallis' Coaching Background: Adams State College 1976-77; Tulane University 1978-79; University of Mississippi 1980-81; Cleveland Browns 1982-88; joined Chiefs in 1989.

PLAYER PERSONNEL STAFF

WHITEY DOVELL, Player Personnel Director

Whitey Dovell begins his fourth season as the Chiefs Player Personnel Director. Dovell, who takes a hands-on approach to scouting, has been instrumental in the team's last four drafts as well as the club's free agent acquisitions. Prior to assuming his current role, he served as the team's pro personnel director for one year.

The Chiefs have prospered from Dovell's input in the '88, '89 and '90 drafts. The '88 draft produced Neil Smith, Kevin Porter and James Saxon, while the '89 crop featured two-time Pro Bowler Derrick Thomas, Todd McNair, Bill Jones, Stan Petry and Robb Thomas. Last year, three draftees became starters: Percy Snow, Tim Grunhard and Dave Szott. Dovell's scouting department is also adept at finding free agent gems, like Barry Word, J.J. Birden and Dan Saleaumua.

Dovell, who joined the Chiefs in 1987, has either coached or scouted on the professional level the past 24 years. His lengthy coaching resume spanned 33 years — 15 in the collegiate ranks and 18 in pro football. His first 14 years of pro service were in the NFL, primarily as an offensive coach, and his final three seasons as a pro assistant coach were in the USFL. He also worked with the scouting operations during each of those years. He left coaching in 1984, spending two years in the New England Patriots pro and college scouting department before his arrival in Kansas City.

Dovell began his coaching career in 1952 as head freshman coach at Maryland, where he was an offensive and defensive lineman during his college playing career. He remained with the Terps for 15 years through the 1966 season. He served as offensive line coach, offensive coordinator or defensive coordinator for 11 years after his four-year stint as freshman coach.

He moved with Lou Saban to the Denver Broncos in 1967 as offensive line coach. After five seasons in Denver, Dovell held offensive coaching positions with the Chicago Bears (1972-74) and Baltimore Colts (1975-78) before returning to the Broncos for a two-year term in 1979-80. He then spent three years in the USFL with the Denver Gold and Chicago Blitz.

A native of Newark, New Jersey, he was born February 11, 1927. Dovell, who spent two years in the Navy, has both a bachelor's and master's degree in education from Maryland. He and his wife, Clare, live in Independence, Missouri, and have three children, Audrey, Lisa and Patricia.

MARK HATLEY, Director of Pro Personnel

Mark Hatley, who has been with the Chiefs since 1987, was promoted to Director of Pro Personnel this year. After coaching the club's linebackers for one season, he joined the team's scouting department, where he has played a vital role, especially in the procurement of pro personnel. Hatley's primary focus has been with the scouting of unprotected "Plan B" players and other available free agents. Hatley came to Kansas City after a two-year stint with the New Orleans Saints.

Hatley's first NFL experience was with the Saints in 1984-85, when his duties included scouting and defensive quality control. He moved into the pro ranks after 11 years as an assistant coach on the college level. The former Oklahoma State linebacker, following his graduation in 1972, coached three years at his alma mater. He then moved to Tulsa for one season in 1976 before spending six years at Texas Christian (1977-82). He joined the Baylor staff in 1983 for a year before landing his first NFL job with the Saints.

A 41-year-old native of Borger, Texas, Hatley and his wife, Claudia, have one daughter, Eliza, and reside in Overland Park, Kansas.

BILL BAKER, Talent Scout

Bill Baker, who has been a coach or scout since 1955, begins his third year with the Chiefs. Baker is responsible for the southwest region of the country.

Before coming to Kansas City, Baker was most recently a scout for the Philadelphia Eagles from '84-87. Prior to that, he was a scout for the Tampa Bay Buccaneers ('83) and player personnel director of the USFL's Arizona Wranglers ('82). He scouted for the Eagles previously from '75-81, serving under Chiefs President/General Manager Carl Peterson, who was Philadelphia's player personnel chief from '77-81.

The 63-year-old native of Knoxville, Tennessee, played college football at Tennessee ('47-49) and at Wyoming ('50-51) as a center and linebacker. From '55-61 he was head coach at Chadron (Neb.) State College, where he registered a 30-26-1 record. He then moved to Wyoming, where he was the offensive line and kicking coaching from '62-70. He performed those same duties at Arizona from '71-72.

Bill and his wife, Marjorie, reside in Tuscon, Arizona. They have one daughter, Vicky, and two sons, Bill, Jr., and Mike.

CHUCK COOK, Talent Scout

In his eighth year as a talent scout for the Chiefs, Chuck Cook joined the club's personnel department in 1984 after a four-year coaching career on both the college and professional level. His area of concentration as a Chiefs scout is the country's southeast region.

Cook came to Kansas City after serving two years as an offensive assistant with the Arizona Wranglers of the USFL. He began coaching in 1980 as a graduate assistant at the University of Wyoming.

A native of Andalusia, Alabama, Cook was a wide receiver and defensive back at Southern Mississippi. He graduated in 1980, and after several tryouts in the NFL as a player, began his coaching career later that year. He resides in Hattiesburg, Mississippi.

HERMAN EDWARDS, Talent Scout

Herman Edwards, who spent 10 seasons in the NFL as a highly-respected defensive back, joined the Chiefs scouting department last year. Before coming to Kansas City, the 36-year-old Edwards spent three years as the defensive backfield coach at San Jose State. He also worked with the Chiefs in '89 as the recipient of the club's Black Coaching Fellowship.

Edwards' NFL career began with the Philadelphia Eagles in '77 when he was signed as a rookie free agent by Chiefs President/General Manager Carl Peterson, who was the Eagles Player Personnel Director at the time. Peterson and Dick Vermeil, the former Eagles and UCLA head coach, knew about Edwards because they originally tried to recruit him to attend UCLA out of high school. Edwards chose San Diego State, but helped Vermeil and the Eagles to a Super Bowl appearance following the '80 season. The Fort Monmouth, N.J., native was the Eagles starting cornerback from '77 through '86. He started 135 straight games and ranks second on Philadelphia's all-time interception list with 33.

FRED SCHUBACH, Talent Scout

A 23-year NFL scouting veteran, Fred Schubach begins his fifth season as a talent scout for the Chiefs. His responsibilities are primarily in the northeast region of the country where he resides.

Schubach spent 10 years as the player personnel director of the Baltimore Colts. He began his tenure as head of the Colts scouting operations in 1973, staying until the franchise moved to Indianapolis.

After his departure from the Colts, Schubach served as a talent scout for the Buffalo Bills from 1983-84. In 1985 he established his own scouting combine and worked the east coast region for the Chicago Bears and Los Angeles Raiders. He joined the Chiefs staff in 1986.

JERRY SMITH, Talent Scout

A 27-year NFL coaching veteran, Jerry Smith was the first addition to the Chiefs player personnel department after Whitey Dovell's appointment as director in '88. Smith, who was a part-time scout for the Chiefs in 1987, will handle the northwest region for the Chiefs.

Smith, whose pro coaching career began in 1960, spent 26 years with nine different teams and was most recently with the St. Louis Cardinals until the end of the 1986 season. He was primarily a defensive or offensive line coach throughout his pro coaching days, including a two-year stint as defensive coordinator of the New Orleans Saints in 1969-70. He began in the AFL with the Boston Patriots in 1960 and served assistantships with the Buffalo Bills, Saints, Denver Broncos, Houston Oilers, Cleveland Browns, Baltimore Colts, San Diego Chargers and Cardinals. He served as interim head coach for the final five games of the 1971 season with the Broncos.

The 60-year-old native of Dayton, Ohio, was an eighth-round draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers in 1952, and played with the club for three years. He was a defensive tackle from 1948-52 at Wisconsin. He and his wife, Shirley, reside in Poway, California, and have two sons and three daughters.

FOOTBALL STAFF

ANDRE BRUCE Head Groundskeeper

After serving his apprenticeship under George Toma for 13 years, Andre Bruce was elevated to his present position of Head Groundskeeper in March of '90. Bruce replaces Chip Toma, who was promoted to Head Groundskeeper for the Truman Sports Complex earlier in '90.

Since '76, Bruce has served the Chiefs and the NFL on many assignments, including work on 13 Super Bowls and ten Pro Bowl games. Bruce began working for the Chiefs shortly after graduating from Central High School in Kansas City, Missouri, in May of '76.

Andre was born on March 9, 1958 in Kansas City, Missouri, where he still resides with his wife, Paulette, and their two sons, Andre, Jr. (13) and Corey (4).

MIKE DAVIDSON

Equipment Manager

Mike Davidson begins his third season as the Chiefs Equipment Manager. Before coming to Kansas City, Davidson spent five years as assistant equipment manager for the Cleveland Browns. He is responsible for the outfitting of the team's players and coaches as well as the purchasing and maintaining of the club's equipment.

The 35-year-old Davidson joined the Browns in '84 and assisted in the club's equipment purchasing, inventory, maintenance and travel arrangements. Before taking the Browns position, he was a marketing education coordinator at Thomas W. Harvey High School in Painesville, Ohio ('83-84) and an occupational work adjustment coordinator at Kimble Middle Schools in Stow, Ohio ('78-83).

A '78 graduate of Bowling Green State University (Bowling Green, Ohio) with a B.S. in Education, Davidson is a native of Cleveland. Mike and his wife, Jackie, reside in Overland Park, Kansas.

MIKE DENNIS

Video Coordinator

Mike Dennis begins his 15th season as the Chiefs Video Coordinator. Dennis coordinates the filming of all Chiefs games and practices and organizes a library of both NFL and college game films.

The 36-year-old Dennis joined the Chiefs as the full-time Film Coordinator in '77 after helping the club on a part-time basis in '75-76 when he was a free-lance cinematographer. From '73-75, he worked for Calvin Productions, a motion picture house in Kansas City that specialized in documentaries, industrial films and television spots.

A native of Ft. Riley, Kansas, Dennis graduated from Ft. Osage High School in Kansas City, Missouri.

Mike and his wife, Bonnie, live in Kansas City with their two children, Matthew (8) and Kyle (6).

Dennis' assistant is Mike Kirk, who begins his sixth season with the Chiefs. A graduate of the University of Missouri, Kirk was the first full-time film assistant hired by the club.

DAVE KENDALL, Trainer

Just the second head trainer in Chiefs history, Dave Kendall is in his eighth season at that position after serving as the assistant trainer under Wayne Rudy for nine years.

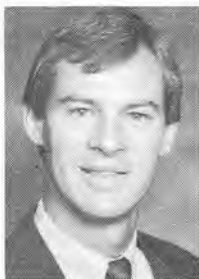

Upon Rudy's retirement in 1984, Kendall was named to the top post. The 40-year-old Kendall served as assistant trainer at Pittsburg State (Kan.) before joining the Chiefs staff in 1975. He graduated from Pittsburg State with a degree in physical education.

A graduate of Wyandotte High School in Kansas City, Kendall is a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association. He and his wife, Jacki, the daughter of late NFL Hall of Famer Jack Christiansen, live in Lee's Summit, Mo. with their daughter, Kristen.

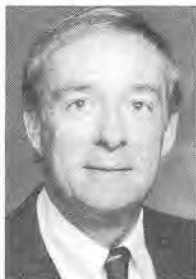

Kendall's assistant is Bud Epps, who is in his eighth season with the Chiefs. Epps was an assistant trainer at the University of Missouri, his alma mater, for eight years before moving to Kansas City.

KEN BLUME Director of Development

Ken Blume, who has worked with the Chiefs since '85, begins his third year as the Club's Director of Development. He is responsible for the sales and service of luxury boxes, coordination of volunteer organizations (Chiefs Club, Red Coaters and Ambassadors), and special projects.

Before assuming his current position, the 36-year-old Blume served as Director of Marketing for two years and Sales Manager for two years. He was an administrator at Colonial Presbyterian Church from '80-'85. Before that he was vice president at Regan Supply Company and an executive assistant at Total Engineering Services Team.

Blume received an M.B.A. from Rockhurst College in '87 and a B.S. in psychology from Texas Christian in '77. Ken and his wife, Elizabeth, have two children, Dayton (4) and Rebekah (3).

JEFFREY KLEIN

Director of Stadium Operations

After serving a nine-year tenure with the Seattle Mariners' front office, Jeffrey Klein joins the Chiefs as the team's new Director of Stadium Operations.

As the Mariners' Director of Stadium Operations from 1981 until this year, the 36-year-old Klein was responsible for the daily operations of the Kingdome, Seattle's baseball stadium. His responsibilities included the training and supervision of event personnel, as well as the development and enforcement of stadium security plans. Klein was also selected to work for the Baseball Commissioner at the 1986 American League Championship Series and the 1990 All-Star Game. Before joining the Mariners, he worked with several minor league teams, most recently with the AAA Portland Beavers as the Ticket Manager from 1979 to '81.

Klein earned a B.A. in history from The American University, where he was the General Manager of the university's football team. He worked as a press box assistant with the Washington Redskins during and after his education.

Born June 17, 1955, Jeffrey and his wife, Cindy and his two children, Meredith (9) and Charlie (2) live in Kansas City, Missouri.

RICH McOSKER

Director of Information Systems

Rich McOsker begins his sixth year as the Chiefs Director of Information Systems. McOsker oversees the data processing staff and coordinates the club's information systems.

Prior to joining the Chiefs in July of '86, the 34-year-old McOsker served as Vice President of Data Processing for Guaranteed Foods, Inc. for six years. He was also a manager and programmer/analyst for the company. Prior to that he was a programmer at Industrial Bearing and Transmission ('78-79) and Swinger Wearables ('78).

A native of Wichita, Kansas, McOsker graduated from Kansas City, Kansas Community College in '78 with an A.A. in data processing. Rich and his wife, Cindy, live in Lenexa, Kansas, with their two sons, Adam (8) and David (5).

PHIL THOMAS

Director of Promotions

Phil Thomas is in his second season with the Chiefs as the club's Director of Promotions. Thomas oversees corporate sponsorships, local media promotions, corporate advertising and game atmosphere.

Thomas most recently was the owner of a local sports marketing company that was involved with the American Royal, BMA Holiday Basketball Tournament and PGA Seniors events. Prior to that he spent seven years with the MISL's Kansas City Comets, serving as the club's Vice President/General Manager his final three years there.

Before getting into sports, he spent over four years as an account executive with the Independence Examiner.

A 40-year-old native of Chillicothe, Missouri, Thomas graduated from the University of Missouri in '74 with a journalism degree. Phil and his wife, Traci, reside in Kansas City, Missouri.

DENNIS WATLEY

Director of Sales & Marketing

Dennis Watley is in his second season with the Chiefs as Director of Sales and Marketing. He oversees all areas of sales (season and group), marketing, promotions, advertising and game day productions.

For 16 years prior to joining the Chiefs, the 43-year-old Watley was employed by National Steel Service Centers, a metals distribution company serving eight states in the Midwest. He left National Steel in '85 as President of the Midwest Division and joined D.W. Newcomers Sons in Kansas City as director of that firm.

A native of Kansas City, Missouri, Watley attended William Jewell College and UMKC on an athletic scholarship from '66-70, majoring in business and marketing.

Dennis lives in Lee's Summit, Missouri, with his wife, Carolyn, and their four children, Shelby (17), Lori (15), Matthew (7) and Ellen (5).

DALE YOUNG

Treasurer/Director of Finance

Dale Young enters his second year with the Chiefs as the club's Treasurer and Director of Finance. He is responsible for budget preparation, accounting, and the day-to-day management of the team's financial operations.

Before joining the Chiefs front office, the 36-year-old Young spent three years as Manager of Finance for Hunt Midwest Enterprises. From '83 through '87, he served as the Accounting Manager at Inter-College Press, Inc. He worked as an accountant and controller for several companies following his graduation with an accounting degree from Fort Hays Kansas State University in '76. He earned an M.B.A. in finance from Avila College in '82, and passed his C.P.A. exam in '89.

A native of Salina, Kansas, Dale and his wife, Allyson, reside in Olathe, Kansas, with their children, Michelle (11) and Brittany (6).

PHIL YOUTSEY

Director of Ticket Operations

Phil Youtsey, a Chiefs employee for 11 years, assumed the position of Director of Ticket Operations in '90. Youtsey supervises and directs all ticket operations for Chiefs games, special events and concerts at Arrowhead Stadium.

The 30-year-old Youtsey started with the Chiefs as a courier and assistant equipment manager from '80-83. In '83 he was the Director of Sales for Class A Gastonia (North Carolina) Expos of the South Atlantic Baseball League. From '84-86 he worked as a sales representative with the Chiefs, then served as ticket manager from '87-89.

A native of Kansas City, Missouri, Youtsey attended Oak Park High School, and graduated from William Jewell College with a business administration degree in '82. Phil and his wife, Jill, reside in Mission, Kansas, with their son, Matthew (2).

PUBLIC RELATIONS

BOB MOORE Director of Public Relations

Bob Moore, who has 13 years experience as a sports publicist, begins his third season as the Chiefs Director of Public Relations. Moore is responsible for coordinating all of the club's public relations and community relations efforts.

The 43-year-old Moore joins the Chiefs after serving as Vice President of Marketing and Corporate Communications of The Patt Organization since '86. The Patt Organization is a Central Pennsylvania-based corporation responsible for the development of residential, recreational and commercial real estate in seven states.

From '82-86, Moore was the Director of Public Relations for the Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars of the United States Football League. Prior to that, he was Sports Information Director at both Drexel University ('79-82) and Saint Francis College ('76-78). He also served as Director of Media Information for the Gettysburg National Military Park ('78-79). Moore graduated from St. Francis in '69 with a B.A. in political science and history.

Born October 19, 1947, Bob is single and resides in Overland Park, Kansas.

JIM CARR Assistant Director of Public Relations

Jim Carr begins his fifth season as the Chiefs Assistant Director of Public Relations. In addition to being a media liaison, Carr is the primary writer and editor of all the club's publications, including the media guide, game program, releases and magazines.

After graduating from the University of Notre Dame in '85 with a bachelor's degree in American Studies, Carr joined the Milwaukee Bucks of the NBA as an intern and the only full-time assistant in the public relations department. He spent one year as a public relations assistant with the Chicago Bears prior to his arrival in Kansas City in July of '87.

Born January 7, 1963 in Hamilton, Ohio, Jim is single and lives in Kansas City, Missouri.

SUPREME SECONDARIES

The Chiefs have been blessed with outstanding defensive secondaries throughout their history. The Chiefs had a defensive back in each AFL All-Star game, and have placed a DB in the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl game all but five times since the '71 game. Here's a list of the Chiefs secondary members who were voted to postseason all-star contests:

David Webster ('62)
Dave Grayson ('63-65)
Duane Wood ('64)
Johnny Robinson ('65-69)
Bobby Hunt ('65)
Emmitt Thomas ('69, '71-73, '75-76)
Gary Barbaro ('81-83)
Gary Green ('82-84)
Deron Cherry ('84-89)
Lloyd Burruss ('87)
Albert Lewis ('88-91)
Kevin Ross ('90-91)

College: Colorado State

NFL Experience: 11

Birthdate: August 30, 1957

Birthplace: Wichita, Kansas

Residence: Wichita, Kansas

Pro Career: Returns for his 11th season in Kansas City as the team's second all-time sack leader with 52 . . . Only Art Still (72.5) has decked the quarterback more in Chiefs history . . . Has played a vital role on the club's defensive line since joining the Chiefs as the second overall selection in the '79 draft . . . Has been with the Chiefs longer than any other player on the roster . . . Has been a reserve lineman the past two seasons after starting all but nine of his first 101 games with the team . . . In 133 career games (100 starts), he has amassed 490 tackles (347 solos) and 10 fumble recoveries to go along with the 52 sacks . . . Is one of five first-round picks on the Chiefs talented defense. 1990: Played in all 16 regular season games for the second straight year . . . Also played in first ever postseason contest vs. Miami (1/5/91) . . . Started twice, once vs. San Diego (11/11) when Bill Maas was injured and again at Chicago (12/29) when the team opened with a four-man front . . . Chicago game marked his 100th career start . . . Finished the year with 13 tackles, a sack, a fumble recovery and five QB pressures . . . Had sack and two QB pressures at New England (12/2). 1989: Started first six games at right end, then missed one game (Dallas, 10/22) with a sprained ankle and filled in the rest of the year . . . Finished season with 25 tackles, one sack and one forced fumble . . . Sack came at Cleveland (11/19) in 10-10 tie. 1988: Started 12 games at right defensive end, contributing 63 stops (39 solos), two sacks and a fumble recovery . . . Missed four games with a 30-day suspension from the NFL . . . Started the first seven weeks and last five . . . Recorded 50th sack of career vs. N.Y. Giants (12/11) . . . Two sacks was lowest total since being held without one in strike-shortened '82 season . . . Had five tackles, a sack and forced fumble at Seattle (9/11). 1987: Led Chiefs with 6½ sacks and finished season as the club's sixth-leading tackler with 56 stops . . . Started all 12 games at right defensive end and enjoyed a mid-season string of five straight games with a sack . . . Recorded eight tackles and 1½ sacks in loss to Bears (11/1) . . . Recovered a fumble against both the Chargers (10/25) and Steelers (11/8). 1986: Missed entire '86 season and final five games of '85 slate on a leave of absence from the team because of non-football-related matters. 1985: Started the first 11 games and was the team's top sacker until missing the final five contests . . . His six sacks were still good for second on the team (one behind Bill Maas), while his 23 QB pressures led the team . . . He recorded 49 tackles (33 solos) for the season . . . Made a season-high 11 tackles vs. Pittsburgh (11/10) and had two sacks at Houston (11/3). 1984: Enjoyed his best season as a pro, despite nagging knee injury the second half of the season . . . Was voted as an alternate to the AFC Pro Bowl team after recording a career-most 13½ sacks, then the third-best total in Chiefs history behind Still's two 14½-sack seasons . . . All of his takedowns came in the first 12 games of the season . . . Ranked third in the NFL at that time, but finished in eighth place in the AFC and tied for 11th in the NFL . . . Saw very limited action in the final five games and was placed on injured reserve for the finale after undergoing arthroscopic surgery to repair cartilage damage in his right knee . . . Started 14 games while playing in 15 . . . Was named AFC Defensive-Player-of-the-Week for a three-sack effort vs. Cincinnati's Anthony Munoz in Week 2 . . . Totaled 62 tackles and led the team with two fumble recoveries. 1983: Had an outstanding season, starting all 16 games and leading club with 10 sacks . . . His 10 QB takedowns ranked seventh in the AFC . . . Was selected as the first alternate at DE for the AFC Pro Bowl team . . . Finished fifth on the team in tackles with 75 . . . Had a three-sack day vs. Bengals (11/13) and a season-high 11 tackles in OT win over Houston (10/23). 1982: Was injured throughout the strike-shortened season, missing three full games and parts of three others . . . Played in six contests, starting five, and finished with 27 tackles. 1981: Started all 16 games in one of his few totally healthy seasons . . . Was the team's third-leading tackler with 77 and second in sacks with five. 1980: Missed nearly the entire season as a sophomore after undergoing surgery to repair a bicep muscle in the shoulder area which he separated from the bone in the second game . . . Wasn't given an official year of NFL experience. 1979: Played in 11 games as a rookie, missing five at mid-season due to a strained knee . . . Broke into starting lineup for the final four games and finished with 35 tackles and 5½ sacks . . . Was the second overall pick in '79 draft.

College/Personal: Enjoyed a brilliant four-year career at Colorado State . . . Knee surgery following his senior year kept him from playing in any post-season all-star games . . . Was a first team All-America selection by The Sporting News and second team by AP and UPI . . . Unanimous All-Western Athletic Conference choice as a junior and senior . . . Racked up 36 career sacks at CSU . . . His twin brother, Mark, has played defensive end for several NFL clubs . . . Attended Bishop Carroll High School in Wichita, where he began playing football his junior year . . . Majored in business at CSU . . . Full name: Mike J. Bell . . . Married, wife Traci, one daughter, Brittney (2).

Pro Career: One of the premier strong safeties in the NFL throughout the '80's . . . During the decade, he made 566 tackles, 20 interceptions and five touchdowns . . . Gained league-wide recognition in '86 with a Pro Bowl berth . . . Already made believers out of his teammates by winning the Mack Lee Hill Award as a rookie in '81 and the club's MVP award in '85 . . . The Chiefs starting strong safety from '81-88, he missed 13 games in '89-90 but played in every game last season . . . One of four current Chiefs defensive backs to earn a trip to the Pro Bowl . . . Has returned four of his 21 interceptions for a touchdown . . . Only Bobby Bell (6), Emmitt Thomas (5) and Jim Kearney (5) have returned more interceptions for scores in Kansas City history . . . Owns team record for interception return yardage (121) in a game . . . Is just one of 11 players in NFL history to have returned three or more interceptions for touchdowns in a season (had three in '86) . . . Is co-holder of NFL and team records for interceptions returned for a touchdown in a game with two (KC's Kearney and 14 others share league mark) . . . Extremely productive player has produced 603 tackles, 21 interceptions, six fumble recoveries and 3½ sacks in 129 career games, including 100 starts. 1990: Saw action in 16 regular season games and the playoff game at Miami . . . Was first time since '84 he did not miss at least one game . . . Played mostly in "nickel" situations, contributing 37 tackles, an interception, fumble recovery and forced fumble . . . Recorded 21st career interception off San Diego's Billy Joe Tolliver (11/18); 20th career pick was also off Tolliver. 1989: Saw action in a career-low-tying nine games because of preseason thigh injury . . . Suffered injury during first week of training camp and did not see any preseason action and was on injured reserve for first seven weeks of regular season . . . Had one interception and a career-low 29 tackles . . . Started just one game, at free safety for injured Deron Cherry in season finale at Miami (12/24) . . . Nine starts in a season was his previous low ('82 and '88) . . . Split playing time with Kevin Porter at strong safety for second half of season although Porter was starter . . . Finished season strong with 17 tackles and one interception (off Chargers Billy Joe Tolliver) in final three outings. 1988: Collected 76 tackles, second-most in career, and two interceptions despite missing six games with knee and shoulder injuries . . . Underwent arthroscopic surgery on left knee on October 18 . . . Injured knee vs. L.A. Raiders (10/16) and spent the next four weeks on inactive list . . . Missed Broncos game (9/18) with a left shoulder subluxation and sat out the season finale vs. San Diego (12/18) with a right shoulder strain . . . Enjoyed best game of season in opener vs. Cleveland (9/4) when he made 14 tackles (seven solos), blocked a field goal and had a quarterback hurry . . . On the hurry he knocked Bernie Kosar out of the game . . . Had another big game at N.Y. Jets (10/2), collecting 15 stops, including 10 solos, while also intercepting a pass . . . Other interception came the following week at Houston (10/9). 1987: Was held without an interception for the first season in his career . . . Finished fifth on the club with 58 tackles (45 solos), which tied with Kevin Ross for most among the secondary . . . Started 11 games before being placed on injured reserve for season finale vs. Seattle (12/27) with a sprained left knee . . . Led team with season-high eight tackles against Green Bay (11/22) . . . Had at least one pass deflection five straight games in '87. 1986: Earned his first Pro Bowl berth after a spectacular campaign that ranks as one of the most intriguing performances by a defensive back in Chiefs history . . . Made a career-high five interceptions and returned three of those for touchdowns, one shy of the team and NFL record (KC's Jim Kearney had four in '72 and Houston's Ken Houston had four in '71) . . . Scored a fourth touchdown by returning a blocked field goal 78 yards in the regular season finale at Pittsburgh (12/21) that became the winning score in a playoff-clinching battle . . . Totaled a career-high 193 interception return yards, third-best seasonal total in team history . . . Enjoyed a once-in-a-lifetime game in first meeting vs. San Diego (10/19), intercepting three passes and returning two for touchdowns, sparking KC to a 42-41 triumph at Arrowhead . . . His two TD returns tied an NFL mark shared by 15 other players . . . His 121 interception return yards vs. San Diego broke a 24-year-old Chiefs record (Bobby Ply, 108 yards vs. San Diego in '62) . . . Amazingly, all three thefts came in the second quarter off Dan Fouts: his returns went 12 yards, 44 yards for a TD and 56 yards for a TD . . . Also made a season-high 12 tackles in that contest and was named AFC Defensive Player of the Week . . . His fourth interception of the season also came against San Diego (11/2) . . . His fifth theft and third TD came vs. Denver (12/7), returning it 72 yards, a career long and the team's longest since '77 (Gary Barbaro's NFL-record 102-yard return) . . . Notched 76 total tackles for the season (49 unassisted), second most of his career . . . Started 13 games and played in 15, missing some early action due to a pulled hamstring . . . Was named to All-AFC first team by UPI and All-Pro honorable mention by AP. 1985: Teammates voted him the Chiefs MVP for '85, a result of respected leadership as much as his performance on the field . . . Made one interception, posted 70 tackles (49 solos) and recorded two sacks . . . His theft came in a one-point loss at Denver (12/14) in a nationally-televised game . . . Started 14 games and played in 15 . . . A bruised thigh sustained in the fourth contest caused him to miss most of the next two weeks. 1984: Started all 16 games, finishing with a career-high 92 tackles (65 solos) and two interceptions . . . First theft led to a go-ahead touchdown in a 22-20 loss to the Raiders (9/16) and the second came the following week at Denver (9/23). 1983: Intercepted four passes despite missing four games because of a pulled hamstring . . . The injury kept him from being totally healthy the final 10 games and he didn't play in the final three contests . . . Played in and started 12 games . . . Made two interceptions in the final two minutes of the season-opening win over Seattle (9/4) . . . Was credited with 46 tackles (30 solos) and recovered two fumble recoveries (both at Miami, 9/25). 1982: Started all nine games, intercepting one pass and leading the squad with nine pass breakups . . . Recorded 50 tackles (35 solos) . . . Blocked a punt and a field goal on kicking teams. 1981: Was the Chiefs third pick of the third round in the '81 draft, coming on a choice obtained from the Rams in a '80 trade for Walter White . . . Appeared in all 16 contests as a rookie . . . Started the second game of the season, then broke into the lineup permanently the final 13 weeks . . . Finished with four interceptions and 69 tackles (52 solos) . . . Was voted winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award for his rookie achievements . . . Picked off two passes vs. New England (10/4) . . . Made the Chiefs only interception return for a touchdown that year, picking off a Jim Zorn pass and racing 46 yards in a win over Seattle (11/22).

College/Personal: Was a four-year starter at Maryland, totaling nine interceptions and 160 tackles during his career . . . Was a first team All-ACC selection and an honorable mention All-America choice by AP . . . Attended Charlottesville (Va.) High School, where he was prep All-America in football and track . . . Is an avid hunter and fisherman . . . Farms in Virginia during the off-season . . . Graduated from Maryland with a general studies degree . . . Full name: Lloyd Earl Burruss, Jr. . . . REMEMBERING MUNICIPAL STADIUM

Located at 22nd and Brooklyn, Kansas City Municipal Stadium housed the Chiefs from '63-71. It had a capacity of 49,002, and in the Chiefs' final five years, it was filled to the brim for most Chiefs games. Municipal served as the site for the only NFL playoff game ever played in Kansas City — the famous 27-24 Christmas-Day, double-overtime loss to the Miami Dolphins in '71. That game marked the last time the club played in Municipal as the Chiefs made Arrowhead Stadium their home in '72.

Pro Career: Regarded as one of the finest free safeties to ever play the game . . . Was finest free safety in the AFC throughout the '80's, grabbing six Pro Bowl berths, including five as a starter . . . Named second team all-decade by the NFL . . . Fought back from a serious knee injury in '89, making a big impact with his return seven weeks into the '90 regular season . . . Voted to six consecutive Pro Bowls from '83-88 and was a starter in all but the first appearance . . . Willie Lanier (six) is the only Chief to go to as many Pro Bowls . . . Was selected to Chiefs 25-Year All-Time team in '87 . . . Undoubtedly one of the most successful free agents in league history . . . Entered pro ranks as a free agent punter in '81, switched to defensive back in training camp of that season, and has been the league's most prolific interceptor since earning the starting job in '83 . . . Has picked off 45 passes during the last eight years, more than any other player in that span . . . Has 46 career thefts and the only active players with more are the Raiders Ronnie Lott (51) and Giants Everson Walls (50) . . . Has recorded at least seven interceptions and 100 tackles in five of last seven non-strike seasons . . . Has led Chiefs in tackles three times in his career ('85, '88 and '89) . . . Ranks third in team history with 46 interceptions, trailing Emmitt Thomas (58) and Johnny Robinson (57) . . . His 14 career fumble recoveries tie him with Jim Lynch for third-most in Kansas City annals, behind Willie Lanier and Bobby Bell (15 each) . . . Established club record for takeaways in a season with 13 (7 INTs and 6 FRs) in '88 . . . Owns a share of NFL record, with 15 others, for most interceptions in a game with four (Seattle, 9/25/85) . . . Has eight multiple-interception outings in career . . . In 132 career games (109 starts), he has 811 tackles, 46 interceptions, 14 fumble recoveries, 3½ sacks and three touchdowns (two on blocked punts and one on an interception return). 1990: Made a successful return from knee surgery (12/20/89) and played in final nine games with six starts . . . Missed all of the preseason and was on "physically-unable-to-perform" list for the first seven weeks of the season . . . On first play back, he jarred the Raiders Bo Jackson, forcing the running back to cough the ball up, setting up a field goal in a 9-7 Chiefs win (11/4) . . . Tied for second on team with three interceptions, while adding 34 tackles . . . Picked off Billy Joe Tolliver twice in a big 24-21 win at San Diego (12/23), putting the Chiefs into the playoffs . . . Had five tackles and forced a fumble on wide receiver Mark Duper in playoff loss at Miami (1/5/91). 1989: Was a Pro Bowl first alternate after making squad six years in a row . . . Also earned second team All-AFC honors from UPI and second team All-Pro accolades from Pro Football Weekly . . . Led Chiefs in tackles for third time in career with 87 (45 solos) . . . Intercepted two passes, his lowest season total since '82 . . . Missed season finale at Miami (12/24) after suffering a sprained left knee on a forced fumble and recovery a week earlier vs. San Diego (12/17) . . . Underwent surgery on knee on December 20 . . . Made two fumble recoveries, raising career total to 14 . . . Both interceptions came during the fourth quarter of 20-16 win at Seattle (10/8); the first set up the game-winning touchdown and the second came in the end zone on final play of game . . . Was seventh multiple-interception day of career . . . Had a season-high 10 tackles and a forced fumble vs. Denver (11/12). 1988: Enjoyed the finest season of his illustrious career in '88 en route to sixth Pro Bowl and team MVP honors . . . Was first team All-NFL by AP, Pro Football Weekly and The Sporting News and first team All-AFC by UPI, Pro Football Weekly and Football News . . . Named AFC Defensive Back of the Year by NFLPA . . . Led Chiefs defense in nearly every defensive category: 151 tackles, seven interceptions, six fumble recoveries (setting a new Chiefs single-season record) and four forced fumbles . . . His seven pick-offs tied him with three others for second place in AFC and sixth place in NFL . . . His 13 takeaways established a new club record and led the NFL . . . Set a personal high with 151 tackles, the most by a Chief since Gary Spani had 153 in '81 . . . Had seven double digit tackle outings . . . Opened season vs. Cleveland (9/4) by contributing 16 tackles and an interception . . . Had sixth multi-interception game vs. Denver (9/18) when he picked off two John Elway tosses . . . The following week he led the team with 10 tackles and snagged one interception vs. Chargers (9/25) . . . Had 13 tackles (11 solos), two fumble recoveries and a forced fumble at N.Y. Jets (10/2) . . . Moved into third place on the club's interception list with his 40th career pick at L.A. Raiders (10/30); also added 11 stops . . . Closed the season by recording 14 tackles (nine solos) with a forced and recovered fumble at San Diego (12/18) . . . Was the only defensive player to start all 16 games . . . Broke old record of four fumble recoveries in a season with fifth steal vs. N.Y. Jets (12/4); finished season with six. 1987: Earned fifth straight Pro Bowl appearance and second straight start, despite missing the final four games of the season with a sprained left knee . . . Recorded three interceptions, his lowest total in five seasons as a starter . . . Tied for team interception lead (Kevin Ross also had three), giving him at least a share of the club's top spot in four of the past five seasons . . . Had two thefts in season opener vs. San Diego (9/13) for his fifth multiple-interception game . . . Also intercepted a pass vs. Pittsburgh (11/8) . . . Injured his knee in second quarter of Thanksgiving Day win over Detroit (11/26) and missed the season's final four games . . . Registered 49 tackles (35 solos), forced a fumble and recovered a fumble in his eight starts . . . Named to All-AFC second team by UPI. 1986: Won the AFC interception title with a career-high nine, just one short of NFL-leader Ronnie Lott . . . In addition to his interception crown, he finished second on the team with 108 total tackles (74 solos) and scored two touchdowns on special teams by recovering blocked punts in the end zone (season opener and finale) . . . Was named AFC Defensive Player of the Year by The Committee of 101, the first Chiefs player to win a "101" award since Willie Lanier in '71 . . . Was named NFL Defensive Back of the Year by the NFL Alumni Association . . . Made All-NFL first teams from AP and The Sporting News, All-AFC first teams from UPI and Pro Football Weekly and All-NFL second team from NEA . . . Was selected AFC Defensive Player of the Month by the league office for September . . . His nine interceptions were the most by a Chiefs player for a single season since Gary Barbaro's 10 in '80 . . . Had two-interception outings vs. Buffalo (9/28) and Raiders (12/14). 1985: Posted his third consecutive seven-interception season and Pro Bowl berth . . . Also led the Chiefs in tackles by recording 85 solo stops and 134 total tackles . . . Tied a club and NFL record by intercepting four passes in a win over Seattle (9/29), matching 15 other players in league history, including former Chiefs Bobby Hunt (vs. Houston in '64) and Bobby Ply (vs. San Diego in '62) . . . Scored his first NFL touchdown vs. Pittsburgh when he picked off a David Woodley pass and returned it 47 yards . . . Five of his seven thefts came against the Seahawks . . . In addition to Pro Bowl honors, he was named to AFC first teams by UPI and Football News and to All-NFL second teams by AP and NEA. 1984: Proved that his spectacular '83 season was no fluke, earning his second trip to the Pro Bowl after another seven-theft campaign . . . The seven thefts tied him for third in the AFC and fourth in the NFL . . . Also finished as the Chiefs fourth-leading tackler with 128 (78 solos), three behind Art Still . . . Picked off two passes vs. Raiders (9/16) . . . Made a career-most 15 tackles (11 solos) vs. the N.Y. Giants (11/25) . . . Was named to the All-NFL first team by AP and College and Pro Football Newsweekly, the All-AFC first team by UPI and the All-NFL second team by NEA. 1983: Vaulted from backup defensive back to one of league's best safeties in '83 and capped that brilliant season by being voted as the AFC's starting free safety in the Pro Bowl . . . Won the Chiefs starting free safety job in training camp when All-Pro Gary Barbaro was an unsigned free agent . . . Took full advantage of the opportunity, starting all 16 games and leading the league in interceptions most of the season . . . Finished with seven, which ranked third in the AFC (Ken Riley and Vann McElroy had eight) and sixth in the NFL . . . Picked off two passes vs. St. Louis (10/2), his first double-interception game . . . Was the Chiefs second-leading tackler with 110 (71 solos), behind Jerry Blanton's 136 . . . Recovered two fumbles, forced two others and had 1½ sacks . . . Blocked a field goal attempt in Chiefs victory over St. Louis . . . Named to the College and Pro Football Newsweekly's All-Pro Team, the All-AFC first team by UPI, and Pro Football Weekly and AP All-Pro second team. 1982: Served as the Chiefs nickel back . . . Missed parts of four games due to a sprained ankle early in the season and a separated shoulder late in the year . . . Played in seven games with four tackles and no interceptions. 1981: Signed with the Chiefs as a free agent punter in the summer of '81 . . . When it became apparent he wouldn't beat out incumbent Bob Grupp, he switched to the secondary during the preseason . . . Was released on the final cutdown, but rejoined the club on Sept. 23 when the Chiefs made several roster moves due to injuries . . . Played in 13 games and made the first interception of his pro career in a victory over the Raiders (10/25), picking off Marc Wilson.

Had 16th career 300-yard day at Pittsburgh (10/29) with 338 yards on 24-of-36 accuracy . . . Started first three games, including a five-interception outing at San Diego (9/24), then sat out the next two games as Ron Jaworski started . . . Regained starting job vs. Dallas (10/22), but lost it to Steve Pelluer one game later . . . Finished the Cleveland game (11/19) after Pelluer was injured and opened the final five games of the year. 1988: In first season with the Chiefs, he put up some of the best numbers in team history despite entering the year as a backup to Bill Kenney . . . Completed 224 of his 414 attempts for 2,935 yards; all three figures are the second-highest figures in club history . . . The 2,935 yards were second to only Kenney's 4,348 (in '83) and better than Len Dawson's most prolific season of 2,879 yards in '64 . . . Was 4-6-1 as a starter . . . Did not start the opener, but relieved Kenney at halftime of Game 2 vs. Seattle (9/11) and was 22-38 for 244 yards, one touchdown and three interceptions in one half of play . . . Made first start as a Chief a week later against Denver (9/18), leading club to 20-13 win while gaining AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors . . . In Broncos victory, he completed 21 of 35 aerials for 259 yards with two touchdowns and no interceptions, while also surpassing the 20,000-yard passing milestone . . . Tied a season high the next week vs. Chargers (9/25) with three scoring passes . . . Collected 15th career 300-yard passing game by accumulating 312 yards on 17-34 accuracy with a pair of touchdowns and interceptions at N.Y. Jets (10/2) . . . Did not start but made one relief appearance during a three-week period at mid-season . . . Next start was in 31-28 win over AFC Champion Cincinnati, when he passed for 285 yards and a touchdown on 22-37 marksmanship . . . Tossed three touchdowns and gathered 267 yards in victory over N.Y. Jets (12/4) . . . Passed for over 250 yards in seven of his 11 starts. At Tampa Bay (1984-87): Had a solid '87 season in which he completed 159 of 275 passes (57.8%) for 1,891 yards, 14 touchdowns and just seven interceptions . . . His 57.8% led all NFC quarterbacks and his career-best 85.3 rating was fifth-best in the NFC and ninth in the NFL . . . Was voted the team's MVP in '87 after starting the first eight non-strike affairs before playing behind Bucs No. 1 draft pick Vinny Testaverde in the final four contests . . . In the season opener vs. Atlanta (9/13) he was named the NFC Offensive Player of the Week when he tossed a career-high five touchdown passes along with 333 yards on 24 of 34 accuracy . . . Opened the first two games of the '86 season before Steve Young assumed the starting role . . . Had a disappointing season opener vs. San Francisco (9/7) when he threw seven interceptions, but rebounded the following week vs. Minnesota (9/14) by completing a Tampa Bay-record 15 straight passes . . . Subbed for Young in four other games the rest of the '86 season and played in all 16 games as a holder . . . Threw 100th touchdown pass on a fake field goal vs. St. Louis (10/12) . . . Enjoyed a strong '85 campaign despite poor team record, he was among the NFC leaders in passing yards and TD passes after 11 starts, when Bucs began to test Young . . . 19 TD passes through 11 games led NFC and was one short of Bucs record . . . Had career-best day in '85 vs. Miami (10/20) with 19 of 32 passing for 365 yards and four touchdowns . . . Had six 300-yard passing days as a Buc . . . First won starting job with Tampa Bay in third game of '84 season and went on to lead team to 17 new offensive records, while his personal record marks included the highest single-season rating (79.3) in Bucs history . . . Tied for sixth-most accurate passing game in NFL history at Detroit (10/14/84) with 25 of 29 passing (86.2%) . . . Tied a Bucs record with at least one TD pass in nine consecutive games in '84 . . . Also had career-best 97 consecutive passes without an interception in '84 . . . Was traded to the Bucs from Denver in exchange for a fourth-round pick in '84 and second-round choice in '85. At Denver (1981-83): Split '83 duty at Denver with John Elway and finished 119 of 215 (55.3%) for 1,617 yards and nine TD's . . . Relieved Elway and led Broncos to come-from-behind wins over Pittsburgh and Baltimore to start the season and then replaced Elway as a starter in Game 6 as Denver went on to win four straight . . . Injured throwing shoulder in the season's 10th game of '83 and didn't return to starting action until opening playoff game vs. Seattle . . . 79.9 pass rating in '83 was best of career until '87 . . . Threw seven touchdowns in nine games in '82 . . . Set an NFL record by completing 18 straight passes in '82-83 (set the mark vs. Chiefs after beginning streak vs. L.A. Rams) but was broken in '83 by Ken Anderson . . . Played quarterback in nine games with one start in '81 . . . Acquired by Broncos from San Francisco prior to '81 season for a fourth-round '83 draft pick. At San Francisco (1977-80): Started nine games and played in 11 in '80 after suffering a voice problem sustained from a blow to the throat (used amplifier under shoulder pads to communicate), finishing season with 1,998 passing yards and 12 TD's . . . Threw 93-yard TD pass to Freddie Solomon vs. Atlanta (9/28/80) for his career longest pass . . . Played in all 16 games with 15 starts during record-setting '79 campaign . . . Passed for 3,652 yards and set NFL records with 347 completions and 578 attempts (both since broken) . . . Started 11 games for 49ers in '78 before season-ending knee injury required surgery (also missed four games with a wrist injury that year) . . . Joe Montana joined the club in '79 and became the 49ers starting QB in '80 . . . Was on the 49ers roster for five games in '77 but did not see any action . . . Was originally a 10th-round (275th overall) selection of the Dallas Cowboys in '77, but was released in the preseason and picked up on waivers by the 49ers.

College/Personal: Set nine school records at San Jose State in just one season as a starter . . . His '76 season stats include 141 of 262 passing (53.8%) for 2,084 yards and 19 touchdowns . . . Named Pacific Coast Athletic Conference MVP that season . . . Transferred to San Jose State from Fullerton Junior College, where he was a JUCO All-America honoree . . . Grew up in Southern California after being born in Oakland . . . Attended Savannah High School in Anaheim, where he was a center before moving to quarterback . . . Was the second-ranked pole vaulter (15'2") in California and a starting forward on the basketball squad . . . Nicknamed himself "Freddy Krueger" because "he keeps coming back from the dead to haunt Marty Schottenheimer" . . . Is an avid tennis player who also enjoys sailing, fishing and golf . . . Earned a BS degree in human performance from San Jose State in '80 . . . Inducted into the San Jose State Hall of Fame in '88 . . . Given name: Steve L. DeBerg . . . Married, wife Marcia, two children, Amy (11) and Drew (8).

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3 - 1983)

College: Grambling

NFL Experience: 9

Birthdate: October 6, 1960

Birthplace: Mansfield, Louisiana

Residence: Overland Park, Kansas

Pro Career: Considered by many to be the finest cornerback in the NFL . . . Chiefs secondary coach Tony Dungy calls him the best cornerback of the modern era . . . So good, he's rarely tested by opposing quarterbacks . . . In a league by himself as a punt blocker, batting down an incredible 10 punts during his illustrious career . . . Has been voted to the Pro Bowl the past four years, the last three times as a starter . . . A consensus all-pro selection the past two years . . . Has been the Chiefs starting left cornerback the past seven years after spending most of his rookie season as a nickel back . . . As a defender, he has collected 28 interceptions, the sixth-most in franchise history, and collected nine fumble recoveries . . . As a special teams performer, he has blocked 10 punts (including one in '86 AFC Wild Card Game), deflected two punts and tackled one punter . . . Was named to Chiefs 25-Year All-Time Team in '87 . . . Led all AFC interceptors with eight in '85 . . . Career totals are 119 games (101 starts), 451 tackles (368 solos), 28 interceptions, nine fumble recoveries and 4½ sacks . . . Has missed just five non-strike games in his career . . . Played right corner as a rookie, then switched to the left side in '84, when Gary Green was traded, and has resided there ever since . . . He and right corner Kevin Ross have started together since '84. 1990: Named to fourth straight Pro Bowl (third time in a row as a starter) . . . Was a consensus All-NFL pick . . . Had two interceptions and 13 pass deflections . . . Blocked what is believed to be an NFL-record four punts . . . NFL does not keep individual punt block records, but the old team record was five before the Chiefs got six last year and no single player had all five for his team . . . Had blocks in three straight games: Denver (9/17), Green Bay (9/23) and Cleveland (9/30) . . . Other block came against New England (12/2) . . . Cleveland block was returned by Kevin Ross for a touchdown . . . Named AFC Defensive Player of the Week (9) for interception, fumble recovery and two pass deflections in a key 9-7 win over L.A. Raiders (11/4) . . . Registered 58 tackles, his most since '86, and recorded a career-high three fumble recoveries . . . Moved into sixth place on Kansas City's all-time interception list. 1989: Had one of the best seasons of his distinguished pro career . . . Selected as a starter to the Pro Bowl for the second straight year . . . Was a first-team All-Pro pick by Associated Press, The Sporting News, Sports Illustrated, Pro Football Weekly and NEA . . . First-team All-AFC by UPI, Football News and Pro Football Weekly . . . Named the top AFC defensive back by the NFL Players' Association . . . Tied with fellow Pro Bowler Kevin Ross for team lead with four interceptions, his most since the '86 season . . . His 57 tackles were also the most since '86 . . . Also added three forced fumbles and one sack . . . Lead team in passes defended for the fourth year in a row with 17 . . . Blocked sixth career punt vs. Oilers (11/26) which Jayce Pearson recovered for a TD in a 34-0 thrashing . . . Interceptions in '89 came off AFC's best quarterbacks: John Elway, Bernie Kosar and Dan Marino (twice) . . . Made his first interception of the season off Elway in season opener at Denver (9/10) and also added two stops then held Willie Gault without a reception the following week vs. Raiders (9/17) . . . Collected second pick of season on final play of overtime to preserve tie at Cleveland (11/19); also made season-high eight tackles (one for a loss) and had three pass deflections . . . Had third interception of season vs. Miami (12/3) . . . Had strong outing in Green Bay (12/10) with one sack, which forced a fumble, a pass deflection and two solo stops; helped limit Sterling Sharpe to one catch for five yards . . . Intercepted Marino and added three solo stops in season finale win over Miami (12/24) . . . Started all 16 games at left corner. 1988: Was voted to second straight Pro Bowl and first as a starter . . . Was first-team All-AFC by UPI, Pro Football Weekly and Football News and honorable mention All-NFL by AP . . . Led team in pass deflections for second straight year with 12 . . . Tied career low with one interception, getting the lone theft vs. Lions (10/23) . . . Played in 14 games with 12 starts; did not attend one game due to father's death and missed three starts with an ankle sprain . . . Also missed Pro Bowl with ankle injury . . . Contributed 45 tackles (32 solos), a fumble recovery and a blocked punt . . . Was named AFC Defensive Player of the Week vs. Bengals (11/13) after he blocked a punt for a safety, recovered a fumble to set up the game-winning field goal, deflected two passes and added four tackles . . . Block and fumble recovery took place in last 6:06 of game. 1987: Was selected to the AFC Pro Bowl squad for first time . . . Lone interception of season came on a fake punt in the season opener vs. San Diego (9/13) . . . Started all 12 non-strike contests at left cornerback, and finished the season with 43 tackles (34 solos), one fumble recovery and a team-high nine deflected passes . . . Helped Chiefs defeat Detroit on Thanksgiving Day (11/26) with a team-leading eight tackles (seven solos) and a season-high three pass deflections . . . Deflected a punt at Chicago (11/1) which ended up traveling just 14 yards . . . Was a second-team All-AFC selection by UPI. 1986: Was equally sensational on defense and special teams . . . Voted the Chiefs Most Valuable Player for '86 by teammates . . . Defensively, he intercepted four passes, led unit in deflected passes and had two fumble recoveries . . . On special teams, he blocked or deflected a team-record four punts during the regular season and tackled another punter before the kick . . . Plus, he blocked a punt and recovered it for a touchdown in the playoff game vs. Jets (12/28) . . . Made a dramatic impact on several games, including the playoff-clinching win at Pittsburgh (12/21) in the finale, when he intercepted a pass to kill a late drive, recovered a fumble, and blocked a punt that was recovered in the end zone for a touchdown . . . In Week 9 come-from-behind win at San Diego (11/2), he forced turnovers on three consecutive Charger possessions in the fourth-quarter comeback . . . That included two interceptions, which was the fourth multiple-interception game of his career, and a forced fumble . . . Recorded 69 tackles for the season, including 61 unassisted stops . . . Didn't play vs. Cleveland (10/12) due to a strained quad muscle which had bothered him for several weeks . . . Blocked punts came vs. San Diego (10/19), both Denver games (11/16 & 12/7) and Pittsburgh, and each one either set up a touchdown or was recovered for a TD. 1985: A torrid season-ending surge gave him a share of the AFC interception title with eight, tying Colts

Eugene Daniel . . . Was one behind NFL leader Everson Walls of Dallas . . . Six of his thefts came in final three games of season . . . Began flurry by picking off three passes vs. Atlanta (12/8), a personal best and one shy of tying team and NFL standard . . . A week later he intercepted two passes at Denver (12/14), then finished the season with one vs. San Diego (12/22) . . . Also had one interception in each of the first two games of the season . . . Compiled 65 solo tackles to rank third on team and 74 total stops which tied him for sixth . . . Also had 1.5 sacks . . . Put together a masterful performance in a Thursday night game vs. Raiders (9/12), making a season-high eight solo tackles, one interception, one forced fumble, while recovering a Jim Plunkett fumble in the end zone for his first NFL touchdown and the Chiefs final score of a 36-20 win . . . Started all 16 games. 1984: Stepped forward as a leading performer on the Chiefs defense in his first year as a starter . . . Made four interceptions and recorded 66 tackles (60 solos) . . . His four thefts came in a five-week span . . . After starting the first 15 games, he missed the season finale after spraining his knee the previous week vs. Seattle (12/9). 1983: Spent most of his rookie year as the team's nickel back until winning the starting job in the season finale vs. Denver (12/18) . . . Made four interceptions and recorded 36 total tackles while playing in all 16 games . . . First NFL theft came off Jim Hart vs. St. Louis (10/2), then picked off two Plunkett passes in the first quarter the following week vs. the Raiders (10/9) . . . Final interception came at Seattle (11/27), which he returned a career-long 34 yards . . . On special teams, he contributed a team-leading 27 tackles and recovered a fumble on a punt return vs. Giants (10/16) that set up a Chiefs TD . . . Was the Chiefs third-round draft choice in '83.

How Acquired: Free Agent (1980)

College: Dartmouth

NFL Experience: 12

Birthdate: May 27, 1956

Birthplace: Munich, Germany

Residence: Fairway, Kansas

Pro Career: Regarded by many as the finest placekicker in the game's history . . . Is the most accurate field goal kicker in NFL history with 79.0% (259-328) . . . Owns or shares four NFL records and 12 Kansas City standards . . . Also holds the league record for 100-point seasons with eight; last season he broke the old record of seven set by Hall of Famer Jan Stenerud, the man Lowery replaced as the Chiefs kicker . . . His career of PAT% of 98.94% (375-379) ranks third in NFL history behind Tommy Davis' 99.43% (348-350) and Gary Anderson's 99.32% (292-294) . . . He owns the league mark for most career field goals of 50 yards or more with 18; he broke Stenerud's old mark of 17 in '89 . . . Shares the NFL record for most field goals of 50 yards or more in a game with two, but he is the only player to accomplish this feat more than two times (he's done it on three occasions) . . . Outright owner of the following Chiefs records: most points in a season (139 in '90); most seasons with 100 or more points (eight); most consecutive PATs made (197); highest career PAT% (98.92); most field goals made in a season (34 in '90); most consecutive field goals made (21); longest field goal made (58); highest career FG% (79.2%); highest FG% in a season (91.9% in '90); most career field goals of 50 yards or more (18); most field goals of 50 yards or more in a season (four in '80) and most field goals of 50 yards or more in a game (two) . . . Enters '91 with a team-record string of 21 straight field goals made; that's the fourth-longest run in league history behind streaks by Kevin Butler (24), Mark Moseley (23) and Pat Leahy (22) . . . Has been voted to two Pro Bowls, following the '81 and '90 seasons . . . Is the 10th-leading scorer in NFL history with 1,152 points; just ahead are Chris Bahr (1,301) and Lou Groza (1,349) . . . Ranks ninth on the league's all-time field goals made list with 259; looming ahead are Groza (264), Leahy (278), Jim Bakken and Fred Cox (both 282) . . . Was NFL's leading scorer in the '80s with 1,006 points . . . Lowery and Stenerud are the Chiefs only two (non-strike) placekickers since the start of the '67 season . . . Lowery beat out Stenerud during the '80 preseason . . . Before landing in Kansas City, Lowery had been cut 11 times by eight different teams . . . Owns the three longest field goals in team history with two 58-yard blasts and a 57-yarder . . . Has played in 167 straight games for the third-longest streak in franchise history behind Stenerud (186) and Jim Tyrer (180) . . . In situations he has had an opportunity to give the Chiefs a win or tie in the final two minutes of a regular season game, he has converted nine of 12 times. 1990: Coming off the finest season of his distinguished NFL career . . . Selected to second Pro Bowl (also went in '81) and was a consensus All-NFL selection . . . Led the NFL and set new Chiefs records for points (139), field goals made (34), field goal percentage (91.89%) and consecutive field goals made (21) . . . His 91.89% (34-37) is the fourth-highest in NFL history, behind 20-out-of-21 seasons (95.24%) by Mark Moseley and Eddie Murray (twice) . . . Established an NFL-record with his eighth 100-point season . . . The 34 field goals made tied Jim Turner for the second-most ever in one season; Ali Haji-Sheikh owns the NFL record with 35 . . . Made 28 or 29 field goals inside of 40 yards . . . Made four of five fourth-quarter field goals . . . Misses came from 52 yards (short), 32 yards (wide right) and 41 yards (wide right) . . . Was 37 of 38 on PAT attempts, with the miss coming from 30 yards out in Chicago (12/29) after a holding penalty . . . In the Bears game, he made five-of-five field goals for the third time in his career . . . Winner of Pro Football Weekly's annual "Golden Toe Award" . . . Named Kicker-of-the-Year by NFL Alumni . . . In playoff game at Miami (1/5/91), he made field goals of 27, 25, and 38 yards, then was about a yard short on a 52-yard try with 56 seconds left in the 17-16 Dolphins victory. 1989: Recorded his seventh 100-point season to tie Jan Stenerud's NFL record . . . Made 24 of 33 field goal tries for 72.7%, the seventh-highest percentage in the conference . . . Was 34 of 35 on PAT efforts . . . This lone PAT miss (vs. Miami, 12/3) broke a string of 197 in a row, which stands as a Chiefs record . . . Drilled 41-yarder with 1:31 remaining in the game at Miami (12/24), giving Kansas City a 27-24 season-ending victory . . . Had a disappointing game at Cleveland (11/19) when missed three opportunities to win the contest in a 10-10 tie; did hit a 41-yard boot at 3:48 of the fourth to make the score 10-10 . . . Became the 15th NFL player to score 1,000 points against San Diego (12/17) . . . Set NFL record with 18th 50+ yard field goal with a 50-yard kick at Pittsburgh (10/29). 1988: Had another outstanding season, putting through 27 of 32 field goal tries for 84.3%, the second-highest accuracy mark in team history (he had a 88.9% in '85) . . . Also made all 23 of his PAT efforts . . . Only Buffalo's Scott Norwood (86.5%, 32-37) and Detroit's Eddie Murray (95.2%, 20-21) had better FG% . . . Had three 50+ yard field goals, tying Stenerud's league record of 17 . . . Won back-to-back games with last-minute field goals, nailing a 39-yarder at :02 giving the Chiefs a 31-28 win over Cincinnati (11/13) and hitting a 40-yarder at :46 to give Kansas City a 27-24 victory over Seattle (11/20) . . . Was named to Sports Illustrated's first team All-NFL. 1987: Enjoyed one of the finest seasons of his career, making 19 of 23 field goal tries and establishing a new NFL record . . . His 82.6% FG accuracy rate was the third-highest in the NFL in '87 . . . He became the first kicker in NFL history to kick two 50-or-more yard field goals in three games when he booted 52- and 54-yarders in a Thanksgiving Day win over Detroit (11/26) . . . Only Atlanta's Mick Luckhurst has ever kicked two 50+ yarders on two occasions and 10 players have accomplished the feat once . . . Hit a 33-yard field goal with :00 left on the clock at Cincinnati (12/6) to send the game into overtime . . . Had just the fourth blocked field goal of his career vs. Chicago (11/1). 1986: Ranked fifth in the AFC with 100 points, but his 19 field goals and 26 attempts were career-lows for a 16-game season . . . Clutch performer kicked two game-winning field goals during the year: at San Diego (11/2) he nailed a 37-yarder with seven seconds left for a dramatic 24-23 comeback victory; at Buffalo (9/28) he nailed a 46-yard game-winner with 1:07 left to give the Chiefs a 20-17 win . . . Missed first-ever kick from less than 30 yards when a 29-yarder was blocked at San Diego (11/2) . . . Was named second team All-AFC by UPI and honorable mention All-Pro by AP. 1985: Broke his own record for single-season completion percentage by making 24 of 27 field goal attempts for a 88.9 percentage (now the second-highest) . . . It ranks as the sixth-best performance in NFL history . . . Remarkable season won him the honor as placekicker on the All-NFL team, thanks to first team votes from AP and NEA . . . Also was named to the All-AFC second team by UPI. . . Was voted as first alternate to the AFC Pro Bowl team. . . Made 22 of 23 attempts inside the 50-yard line. . . Kicked nine field goals (9-9) and scored 35 points in the first two games alone, the best two-game start in KC history. . . Was 4-4 in a season-opening 47-27 win at New Orleans (9/8), including two 52-yarders that tied an NFL record (which he matched in '80 and '87 as well) for most field goals over 50 yards in a game. . . Four nights later vs. Raiders (9/12), he produced one of the best performance of his career by making all five FG tries in a 36-20 win. . . The five field goals were a personal high, tied a team record set by Stenerud and were just one shy of the league record for most FG's in a game with no misses. . . He had a 58-yarder in the game which tied his personal best as the fourth-longest in NFL history. 1984: Connected on 23 of 33 field goal attempts and was selected as the second alternate for the Pro Bowl. . . His 23 FG's ranked third in the AFC and tied for eighth in the NFL, his 33 FGA's were most in the AFC and tied for fourth in the NFL and his 104 points ranked fourth in the AFC and ninth in the NFL. . . Kicked three fourth-quarter field goals vs. Denver (12/2), including a 42-yard game-winner with 1:56 remaining in a 16-13 victory. 1983: Set the team record for field goal completion percentage for the second straight season (which he broke again in '85 and '90) by making 24 of 30 attempts for 80.0%. . . Only misses were from 52, 51, 48, 47, 43 and 42 yards out. . . Set a then personal best with 116 points, good enough for second in the AFC and sixth in the NFL that year. . . Boomed a 58-yarder at Washington (9/18) for a team record and third-longest in NFL annals at that time. . . Later that year, he kicked a 54-yarder vs. the Raiders (11/6). . . Booted a 41-yarder in OT to give Chiefs a 13-10 win over Houston (10/23). 1982: His statistics from the nine-game season almost seemed to reflect a normal 16-game slate. . . Broke the Chiefs field goal accuracy record for the first time by converting 19 of 24 attempts for 79.2%, bettering Stenerud's '69 mark of 77.1%. . . He led the AFC in field goals made for the second straight year with 19, which finished second in the NFL next to Moseley's 20. . . His 74 points were second in the conference and third in the NFL. . . Made 19 of 21 attempts inside the 50-yard line and was perfect (11-11) inside the 40. . . Earned second team AFC honors from UPI. 1981: Capped a brilliant '81 season by being voted as the placekicker for the AFC Pro Bowl team. . . Proceeded to win the game by kicking a 23-yard field goal with three seconds remaining. . . Connected on 26 of 36 attempts that year, including 25 of 29 inside the 50, while scoring 115 points. . . The 26 FG's were tops in the AFC and 115 points were good for second place. . . Selected to All-NFL team by NEA and named first team All-AFC by UPI. 1980: After beating out Stenerud, he quickly rebutted the skeptics with superb kicking. . . In the second game of the season vs. Seattle (9/14), he boomed a 57-yard field goal, which broke the club record of 55 yards set by Stenerud in '70. . . Made good on 20 of 26 field goals, including 16 of 19 inside midfield. . . His four kicks of 50 yards or more tied for second in NFL history, one behind the all-time mark set by Denver's Fred Steinfort that year. Pre-Chiefs: Before winning a spot with the Chiefs, he tried unsuccessfully with eight other NFL teams. . . After not being drafted out of Dartmouth, he had a tryout with the N.Y. Jets in '78, but was cut during training camp. . . He then signed with New England during mid-season and appeared in two games, connecting on all seven PAT's and missing his only FG attempt before being released. . . Failed in tryouts with Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore, New Orleans, Tampa Bay and San Diego in '79.

DAVID LUTZ • 72*Tackle Ht: 6-6 Wt: 305*How Acquired: Draft (No. 2 - 1983)College: Georgia TechNFL Experience: 9Birthdate: December 30, 1959Birthplace: Monroe, North CarolinaResidence: Eatonton, Georgia

Pro Career: Has been a steady force on the Chiefs offensive line for the past eight years . . . Spent the first six years in Kansas City as a tackle, starting 60 of 75 games at that position from '83-88 . . . Made the move from right tackle to right guard in '89 and has started 31 of the last 32 games there . . . Had not played guard in college or in the pros before the move . . . In his two seasons as the club's starting right guard, the offensive line has paved the way for two 1,000-yard rushers (Barry Word and Christian Okoye) and allowed just 45 sacks, the second-fewest in the NFL . . . Has started 91 of the 107 games he's played in since joining the club as a second-round draft choice in '83. 1990: Played in all 16 games, starting 15 games at right guard . . . Missed one start when Chiefs were trying different line combinations . . . Also opened the Miami playoff game at right guard . . . Played major role on Chiefs line that saw two runners gain 800+ yards (Word had 1,015 and Okoye had 805) and permitted a mere 22 sacks, the fourth-fewest in the league. 1989: Had one of his best pro seasons at right guard after playing right tackle for almost all of his football career . . . The move played big dividends as the Chiefs offensive line helped Christian Okoye to the NFL's rushing crown and allowed just 23 sacks, the third-fewest in the league . . . Started all 16 games at right guard . . . Marked the third time in his NFL career that he has started all 16 games in a season. 1988: Played in 15 games, missing one (vs. Chargers, 9/25) with back spasms . . . Started seven times, the lowest number since '84 when he made six . . . Opened the first two games of the season at right tackle . . . Started twice during mid-season at right guard when Mark Adickes and Byron Ingram were both injured . . . It marked the first time in his professional career he played guard . . . Had a three-game starting string at right tackle when John Alt was injured and Irv Eatman moved to left tackle. 1987: Started seven games at right tackle while playing in all 12 non-strike contests . . . Shared the right tackle position with Irv Eatman in '87 . . . Played as a backup in the season opener, then replaced Eatman as the club's starter in the next four non-strike contests . . . Was relegated to backup role the following four weeks until left tackle John Alt suffered a season-ending knee injury . . . After Alt's injury, Eatman moved to the left side and Lutz started the final three games on the right. 1986: Missed seven games at mid-season after sustaining a strained right knee in a Week 5 game vs. the Raiders (10/5) . . . It was the second injury of his career . . . Came back vs. Buffalo (11/30) at Arrowhead and started the final three games . . . Played in nine games and started eight. 1985: Played more downs than any other offensive lineman while starting all 16 games at right tackle . . . His only missed action was the final three quarters of a Week 5 game vs. the Raiders (10/6) due to a bruised calf . . . Was one of just three offensive players to start every game in '85 . . . Was a stabilizing force in a line that saw the same group never start more than three games in a row due to various injuries. 1984: Missed the first half of the season after suffering ligament damage in his right knee in the season opener at Pittsburgh (9/2) . . . Underwent arthroscopic surgery and spent nine weeks on the injured reserve list . . . Returned to action Week 11 vs. Houston (11/11), then started the final five games . . . Played in seven games with six starts . . . Selected by his teammates as the Chiefs nominee for the Ed Block Memorial Courage Award for '84 in recognition of personal courage exemplified in pursuit of professional excellence on the football field. 1983: Stepped into starting lineup at right tackle during the preseason and went on to become Kansas City's only offensive lineman to start all 16 games that year . . . Was chosen by his veteran teammates as the '83 winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award, an annual award given to the outstanding Chiefs rookie . . . Also was named to the '83 NFL All-Rookie Team by Football Digest . . . Became the first Chiefs rookie to start the season-opening game since DE Art Still and DE Sylvester Hicks in '78 . . . Beat out 10-year veteran Charlie Getty, who was traded to the Green Bay Packers, for the right tackle job.

College/Personal: Was a four-year starter at Georgia Tech, which used a pro-style offense . . . Started 44 consecutive games after being redshirted in '78 . . . Didn't miss an offensive snap his final two seasons . . . Earned honorable mention All-America recognition from AP as a senior and from The Sporting News his final two years . . . Attended Bowman High School in Peachland, N.C., where he lettered three years in football and one in wrestling . . . Has done charity work with the March of Dimes . . . Interests include fishing, hunting and camping . . . Full name: David Graham Lutz . . . Married, wife Marsha, with two daughters, Summer (4) and Chelsea (1).

Games Played/Games Started: 1983 (16/16), 1984 (7/6), 1985 (16/16), 1986 (9/8), 1987 (12/7), 1988 (15/7), 1989 (16/16), 1990 (16/15) — 107/91. Postseason: 1986 (1/1), 1990 (1/1) — 2/2.

BILL MAAS • 63
Defensive End Ht: 6-5 Wt: 275

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1 - 1984)

College: Pittsburgh

NFL Experience: 8

Birthdate: March 2, 1962

Birthplace: Philadelphia, Pennsylvania

Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

Pro Career: Begins his second season as a defensive end after being one of the most respected nose tackles in the NFL for six years . . . Returned to his college position last season and the move was a positive one for Maas and the team . . . Was the AFC's starting nose tackle in the Pro Bowl following the '86 and '87 campaigns . . . Battled injuries in '88 and '89, limiting him to just 18 appearances those two years . . . Was on injured reserve for eight games in '88 with a knee injury and had a six-game stay on IR in '89 with a broken arm . . . Made the switch to defensive end in '90 preseason; he was an All-America end as a college player at Pitt . . . Relentless player stepped in immediately as the Chiefs starting nose tackle after being selected in the first round of the '84 draft . . . Was the first defensive lineman taken that year as the fifth overall choice . . . Has started 90 of the 91 games he's played in . . . His career log: 345 tackles (226 solos), 34½ sacks (fourth-most in team history), seven fumble recoveries, four blocked field goals, two safeties and two touchdowns (on fumble recoveries) . . . His two safeties are a Kansas City record and his four blocked field goals tie for second most in club history (Buck Buchanan had five, while Bobby Bell and Wilbur Young had four apiece). 1990: Made smooth transition from nose tackle to defensive end, where he started 15 of the 16 games . . . Tied for fourth on the club with 5½ sacks, the most he's recovered since '87 . . . Had 41 tackles and forced four fumbles, recovering one . . . Blocked his fourth career field goal vs. L.A. Raiders (11/25) . . . Named AFC Defensive Player of the Week (6) in a 43-24 win over Detroit (10/14), when he registered five tackles, two sacks, including one for a safety, and one forced fumble . . . Was third on the squad with 40 quarterback pressures . . . Had a big game at New England (12/2) with a seasons-high seven tackles, two sacks, a forced fumble, a deflected pass and four QB pressures . . . Had two stops in Miami playoff game (1/5/91). 1989: Was placed on injured reserve for the final six games of the season with a broken arm that required surgery (11/13) . . . Suffered the injury in 16-13 loss to Denver (11/12) after making five tackles, including a touchdown-saving one on the game's final play from scrimmage (Broncos kicked winning FG with :04 left) . . . In 10 outings (all starts) he recorded 38 tackles and two fumble recoveries . . . Was held without a sack for first time in career, but did have 15 quarterback pressures . . . Changed the way he lined up over center in '89, moved off the ball about one-yard instead of right over it . . . Scored second NFL touchdown on a four-yard fumble return at Pittsburgh (10/29) . . . Had season-high nine tackles vs. San Diego (9/24). 1988: Was off to the best start of his career before he suffered a season-ending knee injury in Game 8 vs. Detroit (10/16) . . . Underwent arthroscopic surgery on his left knee on October 25 and was placed on injured reserve for the rest of the season three days later . . . Recorded four sacks in his eight appearances, which ended up leading the team . . . Was headed toward first 100-tackle season, finishing with 52, the third-most in his career . . . Had a career-high 17 tackles (10 solos) at Houston (10/9) . . . Collected 10 tackles vs. Browns (9/4) . . . Made season-high two sacks, including a safety on quarterback Babe Laufenberg vs. San Diego (9/25) . . . Registered eight tackles (four solos) and 1/2-sack before spraining knee vs. Lions . . . Had missed just three games before missing eight in '88. 1987: Named AFC's starting nose tackle in the Pro Bowl for the second straight year . . . Finished second on the team with six sacks and first with three forced fumbles . . . Added 33 total tackles, including 22 solo stops . . . Scored his first NFL touchdown after recovering a fumble (caused on a sack of Mark Malone by Jack Del Rio) and returning it six yards for the score vs. Pittsburgh (11/8) . . . Blocked his third career field goal at Cincinnati (12/6) and had it returned 65 yards by Kevin Ross for a touchdown . . . Started 11 games, missing one (11/22 vs. Green Bay) and parts of two others with a right ankle sprain . . . Had outstanding game at San Diego (10/25) when he registered five unassisted tackles, forced a fumble and had 1 1/2 sacks . . . Was a first team All-NFL selection by Pro Football Weekly, second team All-Pro by NEA and first team All-AFC by both UPI and Pro Football Weekly. 1986: Earned his first trip to the Pro Bowl with a spectacular season in which he ranked third or better in nearly every category on the Chiefs dominating defense . . . Recorded seven sacks (tied for career high, second on the team), two fumble recoveries (tied for lead), two forced fumbles (second on team), two pass deflections (third on team) and 53 tackles (40 solos) . . . Also played a major role on KC's record-breaking special teams, blocking two field goals . . . First was in a 24-23 win at San Diego (11/2) and his second was in the finale at Pittsburgh (12/21), which was returned for the winning TD by Lloyd Burruss that boosted the Chiefs into the playoffs . . . Ability to dominate a game was especially noticeable vs. Houston, when he made two sacks, recovered a fumble to set up field goal and forced another fumble in 27-13 win over Oilers (9/21) . . . Started all 16 games for the second straight year . . . Also had six tackles and one sack in playoff game vs. Jets (12/28) . . . In addition to Pro Bowl honors, he was named to the All-NFL first team by Pro Football Weekly and to AP's second team All-Pro squad. 1985: Started at two different positions, the first 11 at nose tackle and the final five contests at left end . . . Was the team's top sacker, dumping opposing quarterbacks seven times . . . Recorded 74 total tackles (fifth-most on team and most among defensive linemen), 16 QB pressures (second), one pass deflection and one fumble recovery . . . Earned honorable mention All-NFL honors from AP . . . At San Diego (10/13), he tied a personal best by making three sacks in a seven-tackle effort . . . In a Thursday night national TV win over the Raiders (9/12), he netted two sacks and the second hit forced a Jim Plunkett fumble that was recovered on the L.A. six-yard line, setting up a Chiefs touchdown . . . How Acquired: Plan B Free Agent (1991)

College: Nebraska

NFL Experience: 5 (1st with Chiefs)

Birthdate: February 2, 1965

Birthplace: Lincoln, Nebraska

Residence: Littleton, Colorado

Pro Career: Tenacious inside linebacker joined Chiefs as a "Plan B" free agent this year from the Denver Broncos . . . Played in 49 games with Denver from '87-'90 . . . Started 10 games in '90 and six in '89 . . . Played almost exclusively on special teams during first two seasons, but played a key role on defense during past two years . . . In '89-'90, he recorded 168 tackles (93 solos), two interceptions, one sack and one fumble recovery 1990: Opened 10 of Denver's first 14 games before going on injured reserve on Dec. 21 with an elbow injury . . . Started the first 10 games at left inside linebacker . . . Registered 70 tackles, including 39 solos . . . Made a season-high 13 tackles against Chicago (11/18). 1989: Teammates voted him the "Most Inspirational Player," after finishing the year with 98 tackles (54 solos), a pair of interceptions, one sack and one fumble recovery . . . Also collected 13 special teams stops . . . Played in all 16 regular season contests, starting six times . . . Had 11 tackles and a sack on opening day against Kansas City (9/10) . . . Contributed 12 stops vs. Philadelphia (10/29) . . . Made first career interception off Bernie Kosar at Cleveland (10/1) . . . Got second pick of the year off Dave Krieg in 41-14 win over Seattle (11/26) . . . Played in Super Bowl XXIV loss to San Francisco. 1988: Was waived by Denver just prior to the opening of the regular season but was re-signed by the club on Sept. 21 . . . Played in the next three games but suffered a sprained knee at San Francisco (10/9) and was placed on injured reserve . . . After missing six games he was activated on Nov. 23 and played in the final four contests of the season. 1987: Drafted by Broncos in the fourth round (111th overall) of the draft and took part in all 12 non-strike affairs . . . Turned in a big play in first pro game, recovering a fumble on a kickoff in the season opener vs. Seattle (9/13) to set-up Denver's go-ahead touchdown before halftime; Denver won 40-17 . . . Had another fumble recovery on special teams and finished with seven coverage tackles . . . Was placed on IR before postseason play began and had surgery to repair a herniated disc in his back.

College/Personal: Was a three-time All-Big Eight selection at Nebraska, where he also earned Academic All-Big Eight honors as a senior . . . Suffered a serious knee injury as a junior, had reconstructive surgery, and returned to have fine senior campaign . . . As a senior, he led team with 90 tackles, while adding four sacks and two thefts . . . Had 253 career tackles and led squad final three seasons . . . In '85 Sugar Bowl vs. LSU, he had nine tackles and an interception . . . A native of Lincoln, Nebraska, he was raised in the Denver suburb of Littleton, where he attended Heritage High School . . . There he earned all-conference, all-metro Denver and second team all-state honors in football . . . Was all-conference in baseball as a junior, hitting .460 . . . CHRISTIAN OKOYE • 35*Running Back Ht: 6-1 Wt: 260*How Acquired: Draft (No. 2 - 1987)College: Azusa PacificNFL Experience: 5Birthdate: August 16, 1961Birthplace: Enugu, NigeriaResidence: Claremont, California

Pro Career: Devastatingly powerful and exceptionally fast running back enters '91 as the Chiefs third all-time leading rusher with 3,418 yards . . . Has led the club in rushing three of his four seasons . . . Set a Kansas City record and topped the NFL with 1,480 rushing yards in '89 . . . Possesses sprinter's speed with a lineman's strength . . . Could become the Chiefs all-time leading rusher this year; he has 3,418 yards and just ahead are Abner Haynes (3,837) and Ed Podolak (4,451) . . . His 877 career rushing attempts are second in team annals to Podolak's 1,158 and his 25 rushing touchdowns are the third-most in club history to Haynes' 39 and Podolak's 34 . . . His 3,418 yards from '87-'90 are the fourth-most in the AFC over that span (Eric Dickerson has 4,935; James Brooks has 3,464; and Thurman Thomas has 3,422) . . . Has flourished under head coach Marty Schottenheimer . . . In '89-'90 with Schottenheimer, he pounded out 2,285 yards and 19 TDs, while in '87-'88, he rushed for 1,133 yards and six scores . . . Is only Chief to ever lead the NFL in rushing ('89) . . . His 1,480 yards in '89 broke Joe Delaney's single-season club record of 1,121, which he set in '81 . . . Also owns club records for rushing attempts in a season (370), rushing attempts in a game (38), 100-yard games in a season (eight) and most consecutive 100-yard games (three) . . . Made only Pro Bowl appearance after the '89 season . . . His success in the NFL is remarkable considering the fact he never played American football until '84 and saw the game for the first time a year earlier . . . A native of Enugu, Nigeria, he first played football at tiny Azusa Pacific University in Azusa, California . . . His 11 100-yard games tie with Podolak for second-most in team history; Haynes has the record with 12 . . . Has battled injuries in each of the last three seasons, missing seven games in '88 (hand, back and thumb), one in '89 (thigh) and two in '90 (shoulder) . . . Has 38 career receptions for 255 yards . . . Caught just 14 passes the past three years . . . Has fumbled just 20 times on 915 attempts, a superb average of just once every 45.8 chances; that compares favorably to some NFL greats: Jim Brown (1 every 46.7), Eric Dickerson (40.0), Tony Dorsett (37.1), Franco Harris (36.3), Barry Sanders (42.9), Gale Sayers (36.4) and Thurman Thomas (41.0). 1990: Finished fourth NFL season with 805 rushing yards to rank ninth in the AFC . . . His seven touchdowns led the team for the second straight year . . . Started the first 13 games of the season, then suffered a shoulder subluxation, causing him to miss the next two games . . . Played but did not start in season finale and Miami playoff game . . . Suffered shoulder injury vs. Denver (12/9) . . . Had one century effort, registering 122 yards on 23 carries with one touchdown at Green Bay (9/23) . . . Had four other games with at least 80 rushing yards, including 83 yards on 13 carries in first-round playoff loss to Miami (1/5/91) . . . In the Chiefs final drive in that game, he had a 26-yard gallop and then a 12-yard run that took the team to the Miami 14-yard line, but was nullified by a holding penalty; Chiefs ended up kicking a 52-yard field goal (from the Miami 34) which fell short in 17-16 loss . . . Had 92 yards and a score on 28 totes vs. Minnesota (9/9) and 91 yards and two touchdowns on 21 carries vs. Detroit (10/14). 1989: Consensus All-Pro choice led NFL and set new Chiefs single-season record with 1,480 rushing yards; edged out Lions Barry Sanders (1,470) for NFL crown . . . Selected to start first Pro Bowl . . . Named Chiefs Most Valuable Player by his teammates . . . Selected AFC Player of the Year by the Washington, D.C. Touchdown Club and by the NFL Players' Association . . . Was a first team All-Pro selection by AP, The Sporting News, Pro Football Weekly and NEA . . . Was a first team All-AFC pick by UPI,

Pro Football Weekly and Football News . . . Named Running Back of the Year by the NFL Alumni . . . Broke or tied seven Chiefs records . . . Topped league and set club record for rushing attempts in a season with 370 (old Chiefs record was 236 by Mike Garrett in '67) . . . His 370 carries are the 12th-most ever by an NFL back in an season . . . Became first Chiefs 1,000-yard rusher since Joe Delaney in '81 . . . His 12 rushing touchdowns are the second-most in team history to Abner Haynes' 13 . . . Before '89 season Woody Green owned team record for carries in a game with 30, but Okoye had five games with at least 30 carries last season, including team-record 38 at Green Bay (12/10) . . . Tied Delaney's team record with three straight 100-yard games on two occasions in '89 . . . His '89 numbers are especially impressive considering he missed all of preseason with a pinched nerve in his neck and saw extensive action in just 14 games; carried only five times in season opener at Denver (9/10) and was sidelined at home vs. Denver (11/12) with a thigh bruise . . . Had first 100-yard effort of season at San Diego (9/24) with 112 yards (then a career high) on 16 carries . . . Broke off a career-long 59-yard run in the game . . . Became the first Chief to have back-to-back century games since '81 (Delaney) with 101 yards on 25 totes in loss to Cincinnati (10/1) . . . Enjoyed one of the finest games of his career as he helped Chiefs win for the first time in Seattle (10/8) since '81 with then-career-bests of 156 yards on 30 carries . . . Had an incredible 13-yard touchdown run in which he bulled his way over and past seven would-be tacklers . . . His three straight 100-yard games tied Delaney's '81 team standard . . . Had best outing of pro career with a then-team-record 33 carries for a personal-best 170 yards and two touchdowns vs. Dallas (10/22) . . . His 170 yards are the fourth-most ever by a Kansas City back . . . Had fifth 100-yard outing of the year at Pittsburgh (10/29) with 101 yards on 34 carries . . . Had his team-record sixth 100-yard game in seven weeks with 126 yards on a new-team-record 37 carries vs. Seattle (11/5) . . . Became the fifth Chiefs player (first since '81) to rush for 1,000 yards in a season in 34-0 win over Oilers (11/26) . . . Had 67 yards on 21 carries and a 17-yard touchdown run in the shutout . . . Broke Delaney's team record for rushing yardage in a season (1,121 in '81) in victory over Miami (12/3) . . . Powered his way to 148 yards on 32 carries . . . Broke his own team record by rushing 38 times at Green Bay (12/10) for 131 yards in a big Chiefs victory. 1988: Battled injuries in second NFL season, played in just nine games . . . Still finished year as team's leading rusher with 473 yards and three touchdowns . . . Started season with a four-game stay on injured reserve with a broken right thumb; suffered injury in preseason opener and underwent surgery on it August 7 . . . Saw first action of season at N.Y. Jets (10/2), recording 51 yards on 12 totes . . . Injured back in that outing and did not play the following week at Houston (10/9) . . . Started the next eight weeks and really came on from Game 11 to Game 14 . . . In that four-game stretch he galloped for 280 yards and three scores while averaging 4.8 yards per run . . . Had second career 100-yard day with 102 yards vs. Cincinnati (11/13); also had a touchdown and a then-career-long 48-yard run in the contest . . . Broke his right hand escorting James Saxon into the end zone on game-winning touchdown vs. N.Y. Jets (12/4) . . . Missed final two games and was placed on injured reserve for second time on December 14. 1987: Stepped in as club's starting fullback on first day of training camp and by season's end led all NFL rookie runners with 660 yards . . . Carried the ball 157 times and scored three rushing touchdowns . . . Was also Kansas City's third-leading receiver (first among RB's) with 24 catches for 169 yards . . . Was voted team's Mack Lee Hill Award, which annually goes to the Chiefs top rookie, and was named to the Pro Football Writers' all-rookie team . . . Had a sensational NFL debut by rushing for 105 yards on 21 carries in the season opener vs. San Diego (9/13), marking the first time a Chiefs rookie gained 100 yards in his first NFL game . . . Also broke off a 43-yard touchdown run in the opener, his longest run of the year . . . Ran for 93 yards, including 83 in the first half, at Chicago (11/1), the best rushing day against the Bears in '87 . . . Had best receiving day of career at San Diego (10/25) when he caught four passes for 45 yards, including a career-long 22-yarder . . . Played with a painful shoulder injury most of his rookie campaign

... Fumbled just five times in 157 carries, a ratio of on every 31.4 carries

How Acquired: Free Agent (1983)
College: Fresno State
NFL Experience: 9
Birthdate: October 15, 1961
Birthplace: Slidell, Louisiana
Residence: Fresno, California

Pro Career: Has consistently been one of the most exciting and productive receivers in the NFL . . . Trademark has become spectacular, often acrobatic, catches . . . Also excels as a downfield blocker . . . Has gone from being an undrafted rookie in '83 to the Chiefs third-leading all-time receiver . . . Name is near the top of all Kansas City career receiving charts . . . Ranks fourth on club's all-time pass receptions list with 368; trails Henry Marshall (416), Otis Taylor (410) and Chris Burford (391)

... Is also fourth on all-time receiving yardage list with 6,230; will pursue Taylor (7,306), Marshall (6,545) and Carlos Carson (6,360) ... Listed third on all-time receiving touchdown chart with 49, just below Taylor (57) and Burford (55) ... Heads into '91 with a team-record string of 80 straight games with a pass reception ... Owns first- and third-loftiest receiving-yardage days in club history: had a then NFL-record 309 yards vs. San Diego (12/22/85) and collected 206 yards at Denver (9/17/90) ... In '89 his NFL receiving yardage mark was eclipsed by Los Angeles Rams wide receiver Willie "Flipper" Anderson, who had 336 yards in an overtime win over New Orleans (11/26/89) ... His average gain of 16.9 yards per reception is the third-highest in franchise history ... Has been the Chiefs starting wide receiver since '86, starting 70 of 74 games since then ... Durable performer, has missed just two non-strike games in entire career ... His 21 touchdowns from '85-86 were more than any other NFL player in the time frame ... Has seven double-touchdown games to his credit and 12 career 100-yard outings (including playoffs) ... Has at least 30 catches and 500 yards in all eight NFL campaigns and has at least 40 grabs and 700 yards in each of the last six seasons ... Paige has excelled with Steve DeBerg at quarterback; together, the pair have combined for 145 catches, 2,408 yards and 14 touchdowns the past three seasons ... That's 21.4% of DeBerg's completions; 27.0% of his passing yardage; and 38.9% of his TD passes. 1990: Coming off the most productive season of NFL career, leading team with 65 receptions for 1,021 yards and five touchdowns ... Became third Chief to hit the 1,000-yard plateau, joining Carson (did it three times) and Taylor (did it twice) ... Both his reception and yardage totals set personal single-season highs ... Yardage total ranked second in AFC (to Houston's Haywood Jeffires - 1,048) and eighth in NFL ... His receptions total ranked eighth in the conference ... Had second-best day of career on Monday night in 24-23 loss at Denver (9/17) with a career-high 206 yards and two touchdowns ... With Chiefs down 21-9 in fourth quarter, he caught touchdown passes of 16 and 83 yards to put Chiefs up 23-21 ... The 83-yarder came with just 1:44 left in the game, but Denver won game on a field goal as time expired ... Had seven catches for 151 yards, including a career-long 86-yard grab in 37-7 rout at New England (12/2) ... The 86- and 83-yard receptions are the two longest of his career, and are the seventh- and 10th longest in Chiefs history ... Had exceptional playoff performance at Miami (1/5/91) with eight catches for 142 yards with a 26-yard touchdown ... Had three other games with at least 75 receiving yards. 1989: Despite missing two games plus two more starts because of a late signing, he returned as the Chiefs top receiver with 44 grabs for 759 yards and two touchdowns ... Reached both the 300-catch and 5,000-receiving yardage plateaus in '89 ... Got off to a slow start in new Chiefs offense, but came on strong by season's end ... His 44 receptions and 759 yards were his second-lowest totals since '84 and his two touchdowns are his lowest ever ... Had 36 catches for 625 yards and two scores with three 100-yard games in last nine games of the season ... Recorded 163 yards (on seven catches) at Pittsburgh (10/29) and 133 (on seven catches with a TD) vs. Miami (12/3) ... Other century effort came against Houston (11/26) when he had seven grabs for 114 yards ... The two missed games to start the season represented the only missed action of his career. 1988: Had one of the most active seasons of his pro career, leading the Chiefs with 61 catches for 902 yards and seven touchdowns in '88 ... Finished seventh in the AFC in receptions and eighth in receiving yardage ... His 61 receptions set a career high and his 902 yards represent his third-highest total ever ... Broke Podolak's record of 44 straight games with a catch vs. Cincinnati (11/13), making four grabs for 71 yards and one touchdown ... Broke the 4,000-yard receiving mark at Denver (11/6) ... Had two 100-yard efforts in '88 ... Caught five passes for 106 yards vs. Seattle (11/20) and made four catches for 113 yards and two touchdowns in win over the Jets (12/4) ... Tied career high with nine catches at Seattle (9/11); recorded 99 yards and a touchdown in the game ... Was only Chiefs offensive player to start all 16 games. 1987: Finished second on team with 43 catches, 707 yards and four touchdowns ... The four TD's made him the club's third-leading scorer in '87 but tied a personal low ... Had two 100-yard outings in '87

... Caught five passes for 121 yards, including a 43-yard TD pass from Bill Kenney on a flea flicker, at Chicago (11/1) . . . Also had a season-long 51-yard reception in the game . . . Finished the year with an eight-catch, 110-yard, one-TD performance vs. Seattle (12/27) . . . Had three other games over 75 yards . . . Injured his right foot vs. Raiders (12/13) and missed most of the game but returned the following week . . . Played in 12 games with 11 starts. 1986: Was his first year as a full-time starter and he finished as the team's leading receiver with a then career-most 52 receptions for 829 yards and a career-high 11 touchdowns . . . His 11 TD's tied Otis Taylor for the second-most in Chiefs history, one shy of Chris Burford's record 12 in '62 . . . Tied Mark Duper for third in NFL touchdown receptions behind Jerry Rice (15) and Wesley Walker (12) . . . Caught at least one TD pass in eight of the final 11 games, including two double-TD games (San Diego, 10/19 and St. Louis, 11/23) . . . Caught a career-most nine passes vs. Buffalo (11/30) and recorded the team's only 100-yard receiving performance of the season with 119 yards . . . Longest catch was a 51-yarder at Buffalo (9/28). 1985: Put his name along side some legends of the game by recording what was then the best receiving day in NFL history in the season finale with an amazing 309 yards on eight receptions at Arrowhead vs. the Chargers (12/22) . . . Record was broken in '89 by Rams Flipper Anderson . . . The old record of 303 yards had been set by Jim Benton of the Cleveland Rams in '45 . . . Surpassed the Chiefs record of 213 yards (Curtis McClinton, '65) in the second quarter and had 258 yards by halftime . . . Had first-half catches of 56 (TD), 51, 30, 17, 84 (TD, career high, KC's 6th-longest ever) and 20, along with second-half catches of 39 and the record-breaking 12-yarder . . . Thanks to his season-ending record total, he finished the year as the Chiefs leader in receiving yardage with 943 (ninth in AFC and 15th in NFL) and second in receptions with 43 (Carson had 47) . . . His 21.9-yard average per catch ranked first in the NFL among qualifying receivers . . . His 10 touchdown receptions were third-most in KC history . . . Played in all 16 games and started eight when injuries sidelined either Carson or Marshall. 1984: Matched his rookie season total of 30 receptions and upped his receiving yardage to 541 . . . Top yardage game again came in the season finale vs. San Diego (12/16), 84 yards on just two catches, one being a 65-yard TD grab that was the Chiefs longest reception of the year . . . Caught at least one pass in all but one game and that was at Denver (9/23) when he caught two passes that were ruled out of the end zone . . . Made his first NFL start in a Week 14 win over Denver (12/2) when the Chiefs opened in a three-wide receiver set . . . Also served as the primary kickoff return man in '84, compiling a 20.1 average on a team-high 27 returns. 1983: Posted one of the top rookie performances in the NFL in '83 . . . Saw limited action early in the season but came on strong in the second half and finished with 30 receptions for 528 yards, a team-leading 17.8 average, and six touchdowns . . . Only two other rookie wide receivers caught more passes that year — Chicago's Willie Gault and Detroit's Jeff Chadwick both had 40 . . . The 30 catches were the most by a Chiefs rookie WR since Burford's 46 in '60 . . . His first NFL reception came the fifth week vs. St. Louis (10/2), then he quickly came into his own . . . Finished the season strongly, making 17 receptions for 326 yards and five TD's in the final five games . . . Top game was at San Diego (12/11), when he caught five passes for 84 yards and two TD's . . . Made Chiefs squad as a rookie free agent.

College/Personal: Despite a productive two-year collegiate career at Fresno State, he was overshadowed by WR Henry Ellard, who was drafted in the second round by the Rams in '83 . . . Transferred from Saddleback (Cal.) Junior College, where he spent his first two years . . . Attended Long Beach (Cal.) Poly High School, where he played football, basketball and baseball . . . His high school has produced Tony Hill, Gene Washington, Mark Carrier and Carl Weathers (Rocky's Apollo Creed) . . . Majored in radio-television at Fresno State . . . Enjoys reading and working outdoors . . . Has done charity work for NAACP, UCP, Victory Fellowship and FCA . . . Full name: Stephone Paige . . . Married, wife Paula, three children, Stephone II (5), E'Lon (4) and Brifon (1).

Served as Steve DeBerg's backup in '90 and is expected to challenge for the starting job in '91 . . . Joined Kansas City on October 17, 1989 in a trade with the Dallas Cowboys; Chiefs sent Dallas a third-round pick in '90 and a fourth-round choice in '91 . . . In two years with the Chiefs, he has played in 18 games and seen action at quarterback in eight of those, including three starting calls in '89 . . . With Kansas City, he is 28-of-52 for 315 yards with one touchdown and one interception . . . He has also rushed for 149 yards and two touchdowns on 22 carries . . . Was a part-time starter for the Cowboys in '86-'87, starting 13 of 28 games, and full-time starter in '88, opening 14 of 16 contests. 1990: Saw very limited playing time in second season in Kansas City . . . Held for placements in final 13 games and saw action behind center in four contests . . . Replaced injured DeBerg (finger) for two series vs. Houston (12/16) and was two-of-four for 14 yards with one interception . . . Threw one other pass in Cleveland blowout (9/30) . . . Had three rushes for three yards at Chicago (12/29). 1989: Saw action in five games, including three starts, after joining Chiefs through a trade on October 17 . . . Missed all of Cowboys training camp because of a contract problem . . . Finished season with 301 yards and one touchdown with no interceptions on 26-of-47 passing (55.3%) . . . Was also team's fourth-leading rusher with 143 yards and two touchdowns on 17 carries . . . Saw action in first game in Kansas City uniform vs. Dallas (10/22) in two series when starter Steve DeBerg was sidelined by leg cramps; scored touchdown on a five-yard run and was 0-3 passing . . . Led Chiefs to win over Seattle (11/5) in first start of year while tying a team record for rushing yards by a quarterback in a game with 69 yards (tied Len Dawson's '63 mark) on eight carries, including a 10-yard scoring run . . . Against Seahawks, he completed seven of 13 passes for 80 yards . . . Made second start as a Chief the following week vs. Broncos (11/12) and finished game with 205 yards on 17-of-27 accuracy with one touchdown (five yards to Emile Harry); also rushed for 43 yards on six totes . . . Suffered knee sprain in first quarter at Cleveland (11/19) in third straight start and did not see any playing time the remainder of the season . . . Was two-of-four passing for 16 yards with one carry for 18 yards before departure at Cleveland. At Dallas (1984-88): In 47 games (27 starts) with Dallas, he completed 520 of 922 passes (56.4%) for 6,555 yards with 28 touchdowns and 38 interceptions . . . Rushed for 709 yards and four scores on 120 totes while in a Cowboys uniform. 1988: Started 14 games for Cowboys, finishing season with 3,139 yards with 17 touchdowns and 19 interceptions on 245-of-435 passing (56.3%) . . . Finished second on club in rushing - the highest ever for a Cowboys quarterback and second behind Randall Cunningham for NFL QB's in '88 - with 314 yards and two scores on 51 carries (6.2 avg.) . . . Had career highs of 32 completions, 46 pass attempts and 342 passing yards vs. Philadelphia (10/23) . . . The 32 completions were the second-most in Cowboys history . . . Late in season, he put together a four-game stretch in which he completed 60.1% of his passes while throwing seven touchdowns and just three interceptions . . . Included in that span was a game at Washington (12/11) where he threw for 333 yards and a career-high three touchdowns to lead the Cowboys past the Redskins, 24-17 . . . Was sacked just once every 21 pass attempts in '88. 1987: Started four games, including two season-ending wins over the Cardinals and Rams . . . Finished year by throwing 94 straight passes without an interception . . . Against Miami (11/22), he rushed for a career-high 79 yards, the most by a Dallas quarterback since Roger Staubach gained a club-record 90 yards in '71 . . . Passed for 642 yards on 55-of-101 accuracy (54.5%) with three touchdowns and two thefts . . . Rushed for 142 yards and a touchdown on 25 carries . . . Held for placements in all non-strike games. 1986: Started six of the Cowboys final seven games, and ended season with 2,727 passing yards with eight touchdowns and 17 interceptions on 215-of-378 marksmanship . . . Replaced injured Danny White as starting quarterback . . . Against Seattle (11/27), he completed 14 straight passes to break a team record shared by Staubach ('78) and White ('83) . . . Completed 28 of 38 attempts for 339 yards at N.Y. Giants (11/2); all season highs . . . Received game balls for directing Dallas to wins over Washington (10/12) and San Diego (11/16) . . . Was 19-of-30 passing for 323 yards and a touchdown in win over Redskins and 18-of-33 for 246 yards and a touchdown in Chargers triumph . . . Threw career-long 84-yard touchdown pass to Herschel Walker vs. Eagles (12/14) . . . Was sacked a career-high 11 times in the Chargers game. 1985: Made a dramatic NFL regular season debut in fourth quarter vs. Giants (12/15) at Texas Stadium in a game that decided the NFC Championship. White and Gary Hogeboom had been knocked out of the game with injuries and Pelluer was called on to protect a 21-14 lead. On his second series, he coolly directed a 72-yard touchdown drive for what proved to be the winning touchdown in a 28-21 Dallas victory. The key play was his 28-yard pass to rookie Karl Pove on third-and-15 from the Dallas 48-yard line. He was four-of-seven for 39 yards in the game . . . Also was one-of-one for eight yards in a loss to the 49ers (12/22). 1984: Saw action in one game as a holder . . . With Hogeboom hurt, he held for Raphael Septien's game-winning kick in overtime against the Saints (10/21) . . . Was selected in the fifth-round of the '84 draft by the Cowboys on a pick obtained from the Buccaneers for Danny Spradlin.

KEVIN ROSS • 31*Cornerback Ht: 5-9 Wt: 182*How Acquired: Draft (No. 7 - 1984)College: TempleNFL Experience: 8Birthdate: January 16, 1962Birthplace: Camden, New JerseyResidence: Mickleton, New Jersey

Pro Career: Regarded as one of the finest cornerbacks in the NFL . . . Has ventured to the Pro Bowl the past two seasons . . . Equally impressive as a pass defender and run stuffer . . . Extremely aggressive, all-giving performer has been Chiefs starting right cornerback since his first NFL game, despite arriving as a seventh-round pick and 173rd overall selection in '84 draft . . . Tough, hard-hitting player had been exceedingly productive in his seven previous seasons, on defense and special teams . . . Has 26 career interceptions, tying him with Hall of Famer Bobby Bell for eighth place on the Chiefs all-time list . . . Very important run support player who averages 85.4 tackles per season, an incredible number for a cornerback . . . Has made 598 tackles in career and only Deron Cherry (691) has made more for the Chiefs the past seven seasons . . . Has made at least

58 tackles in all seven pro seasons and has produced at least 90 tackles on four occasions . . . The past four seasons, he has been the Chiefs interception leader once ('90) and tied for the interception lead twice ('87 and '89) . . . Has four games with two interceptions . . . Big-play producer has scored four touchdowns in four different ways: on an interception, fumble recovery, blocked field goal and blocked punt . . . Has missed just three games in his seven-year career, starting 100 of his 106 career appearances . . . His ferocious hits have become a trademark – possibly the hardest hitter for his size in the league – and although just 5-9 he owns speed to make him a top cover man . . . Former high school wrestler uses leverage to gain advantage on larger ball carriers. 1990: Represented AFC in Pro Bowl for the second consecutive year . . . Led Chiefs in both interceptions with five and pass deflections with 14 . . . Was second among defensive backs with 64 tackles, the lowest non-strike total of his career . . . Played a role in 11 turnovers: five interceptions, three fumble recoveries and three forced fumbles . . . Scored fourth career touchdown on a four-yard return of a blocked punt by Albert Lewis vs. Cleveland (9/30) . . . Was named AFC Defensive Player of the Week (3) when he had a hand in three turnovers in 17-3 victory at Green Bay (9/23); had an interception (off Don Majkowski), fumble recovery and forced fumble on the Kansas City one-yard line as the Packers were about to score . . . Had fourth two-interception game of career, picking off Dave Krieg twice at Seattle (10/21) . . . Intercepted Billy Joe Tolliver and recovered a fumble in win over Chargers (11/18) . . . Had an interception off John Elway in triumph over Denver (12/9) . . . Had five solo tackles in Miami playoff game (1/5/91) . . . Missed a start vs. Seattle (11/11) with a groin injury, but played in the game. 1989: Was selected to play in his first Pro Bowl, joining fellow Chiefs corner Lewis . . . Tied for team theft lead with four, the most he's had since '86 when he also recorded four . . . All-AFC first team selection by Football News and a second-team All-AFC pick by UPI . . . Tied with Derrick Thomas for fifth on the team with 75 total tackles but led the club with 57 solo stops . . . Also added one forced fumble and 13 pass deflections (second on team to Lewis) . . . Missed one game (Steelers, 10/29) and parts of three others with a sore ankle . . . Collected first interception of season in Week 2 win over Raiders (9/17) . . . Picked off Boomer Esiason for second interception of season and added five solo stops vs. Cincinnati (10/1) . . . Made third interception of season at Raiders (10/15) and contributed six tackles; he has seven career interceptions off Raiders quarterbacks . . . Missed entire second half of Dallas game (10/22) with a sprained ankle; had two solo stops and forced fumble before departure . . . Was on inactive list vs. Steelers (10/29) with sprained ankle . . . Made seven tackles and had fourth interception of season against San Diego (12/17). 1988: Turned in another solid season, recording 99 tackles, one interception, three pass deflections and one forced fumble . . . His 99 tackles ranked third on the team and were second-most of career (had 111 in '85) . . . His one interception marked a career low . . . Missed one game (vs. Bengals, 11/13) and one start (vs. Seahawks, 11/20) with a right shoulder separation . . . Had two double-digit tackle outings and at least eight stops on seven occasions . . . Made 10 tackles (six solos) at Seattle (9/11) and recorded a season-high 13 stops (10 solos) at N.Y. Jets (10/2) . . . Made lone interception, along with eight tackles, at Pittsburgh (11/27). 1987: His three thefts gave him a share of the Chiefs interception crown (Cherry also had three) . . . Recorded 58 tackles, tying Lloyd Burruss for first among defensive backs and fourth on team . . . Finished third on club with seven deflected passes while forcing one fumble and making one sack . . . Had his third career two-interception game in win over Raiders (12/13) while also adding 10 tackles . . . Second interception of game came with 1:00 remaining in fourth quarter and with Chiefs clinging to 16-10 lead . . . His only other theft came against Denver (10/18) in the final replacement game . . . Scored his third career touchdown on a 65-yard return of a blocked field goal by Bill Maas at Cincinnati (12/6) which gave Kansas City a 24-20 lead in an overtime loss . . . Missed first game of pro career at Detroit (11/26) with a hip injury . . . Also missed a start at Pittsburgh (11/8) with same ailment . . . Played in 12 games with 11 starts. 1986: Produced another all-around performance that included four interceptions, a team-leading three fumble recoveries and 93 tackles . . . His special teams contributions included deflecting a punt, tackling a punter before the kick, returning a fumbled kickoff 21 yards for a touchdown in a 42-41 win over San Diego (10-19) and 16 special teams tackles . . . Tied a career best by making two interceptions at Raiders (12/14) in a key 20-17 win, including a game-clincher in the final two minutes . . . His 93 tackles led NFL cornerbacks, ranking fourth on the team, and his 76 solo stops were second on the squad . . . Started all 16 games and the playoff contest.

1985: All three of his '85 interceptions came in the first three games, including the first double-theft effort of his pro career in a season-opening romp at New Orleans (9/8) . . . Finished second to Cherry in tackles with a career-most 111, including 81 unassisted stops . . . Had at least three tackles in every game and recorded three games of 10-or-more tackles.

1984: Put together one of the most incredible rookie success stories in franchise history . . . Showed his competitive nature from the start of training camp and earned the starting right CB job by the regular season opener . . . Went on to make six interceptions, still a career high, and 98 tackles . . . Had a rocky beginning, having several long plays made against him by Pittsburgh wide receivers in the opener (9/2) . . . Proved his determination a week later by turning in a sterling performance at Cincinnati (9/9), making 10 tackles, forcing a fumble to set up a field goal and recovering a fumble deep in Kansas City territory in the final minute to preserve a 27-22 Chiefs win . . . From then on, he was a key performer in a vastly-improved defense and was voted winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award (top Chiefs rookie honor) . . . His six interceptions tied him for third in Kansas City history for thefts by a rookie (Bobby Hunt, eight in '62, Eric Harris, seven in '80 and David Webster, six in '60) . . . Ranked second to Cherry (seven) for team lead and tied for fifth in AFC and 11th in NFL . . . Returned his first interception 71 yards for a touchdown in the home opener against Raiders (9/16) . . . His 98 tackles (77 solos) were the most by a Chiefs rookie since Gary Spani (144) and Art Still (120) in '78 . . . Started all 16 games . . . Selected in the seventh round (173rd overall) of the '84 draft by the Chiefs.

College/Personal: At Temple, he recorded 13 career interceptions and 249 tackles in four years . . . Picked off three passes as a senior and a career-most five (in seven games) as a junior . . . Attended Paulsboro (N.J.) High School, where he earned all-state honors as a linebacker and running back . . . Led Paulsboro to state championship as a senior . . . Also competed in wrestling and basketball . . . Majored in business at Temple . . . Enjoys basketball, traveling and meeting people . . . Nicknamed "Rock" . . . Full name: Kevin Lesley Ross . . . Married, wife Sheila, two daughters, Celia (7) and Cherrelle (3), and one son, Kevin (infant).

CHIEFS RADIO NETWORK

For the second straight year, all Chiefs games will be carried in Kansas City by KCFX Radio/101 FM. The Chiefs Radio Network, with KCFX as its anchor, extends throughout a five-state region that includes Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Nebraska and Oklahoma. KCFX will broadcast all Chiefs regular and preseason games live. The broadcast team of Kevin Harlan, Len Dawson and Bill Grigsby begin their seventh season together in the booth. Harlan, whose voice can also be heard on Minnesota Timberwolves games, handles the play-by-play for the seventh year in a row. Adding the color analysis is Hall of Fame quarterback Len Dawson, the Chiefs all-time leading passer. Bill Grigsby, who has been on the Chiefs broadcast team since the club's first year in Kansas City, will also provide expert analysis.

CHIEFS HISTORY

1959 — Lamar Hunt establishes and organizes the American Football League with six original cities — Dallas, New York, Houston, Denver, Los Angeles and Minneapolis (Buffalo and Boston were added and Oakland replaced Minneapolis). An unknown assistant at Miami (Florida), Hank Stram, is hired by Hunt to coach the club.

1960 — The Dallas Texans average 24,500 for home games in the Cotton Bowl during the AFL's inaugural season. The Texans Abner Haynes leads the new league in rushing.

1961 — The Texans and the NFL's Dallas Cowboys both draft highly-touted center E.J. Holub, who chose to play in the fledgling new league. Hunt also signs three other rookies who would later join Holub in the Chiefs Hall of Fame — Jerry Mays, Fred Arbanas and Jim Tyrer.

1962 — Stram brings in Len Dawson, who spent six uneventful years in the NFL, to quarterback the club. Dawson is voted the AFL's player of the year as the Texans win the league championship when Tommy Brooker connects on a 25-yard field goal during the second overtime of the title game, giving Dallas a 20-17 victory over Houston.

1963 — On May 14, Lamar Hunt announces he is moving the franchise to Kansas City and renaming it the Chiefs. The Chiefs win their debut in Kansas City with a 28-7 victory over Houston in Municipal Stadium. Three rookies, Buck Buchanan, Ed Budde and Bobby Bell become starters on their way to a combined 526 games with the team.

1966 — The Chiefs sign Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett from USC en route to the AFC West title. Len Dawson leads the league in passing for the second time in three years.

1967 — The Chiefs defeat the Buffalo Bills, 31-7, on New Year's Day to win the franchise's second AFL Championship and earn a trip to Super Bowl I. The Chiefs play NFL powerhouse Green Bay Packers in the first NFL-AFL Championship Game on January 15 in the Los Angeles Coliseum, which was won by the Packers 35-10. The Chiefs add Hall of Famer Willie Lanier, Jim Lynch, Jan Stenerud and Noland (Super Gnat) Smith to an already star-studded team.

1970 — On January 4, the Chiefs defeat the Oakland Raiders 17-7, to capture the AFL championship. It is the final game in AFL history, as the Chiefs become the league's only three-time champions. The biggest moment in Kansas City sports history comes to a peak as the Chiefs become World Champions by defeating the Minnesota Vikings, who were two-touchdown favorites, by a score of 23-7, in Super Bowl IV. Len Dawson was named the game's MVP.

1971 — The Chiefs begin their first season of NFL play and win the AFC West title with a 16-14 win over Oakland at Municipal Stadium. Kansas City and Miami hook up in the longest game in NFL history. The Chiefs lose the AFC playoff game in double overtime, 27-24, in the last game played at Municipal Stadium.

1972 — Chiefs owner Lamar Hunt becomes the first AFL figure to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on July 29 in Canton, Ohio. The Chiefs open play in Arrowhead Stadium, one of the most impressive facilities in pro sports. The largest crowd in Chiefs history, 82,094, watches the home team defeat the Raiders on November 5.

1975 — Len Dawson, the top passer in Chiefs history, announces his retirement after 14 memorable seasons with the franchise.

1983 — Linebacker Bobby Bell becomes the Chiefs first player to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on July 30 in Canton.

1986 — Linebacker Willie Lanier is enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton on August 2. The Chiefs post a 24-19 victory at Pittsburgh to clinch an AFC Wild Card berth, the team's first playoff bid in 15 years. The Chiefs lose the playoff game to the New York Jets, 35-15, on December 28 in Giants Stadium.

1987 — Quarterback Len Dawson is inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on August 8 in Canton, just a few miles from his hometown of Alliance, Ohio.

1989 — President/General Manager Carl Peterson and Head Coach Marty Schottenheimer take over the Chiefs' reigns.

1990 — Chiefs advance to the playoffs for first time in Peterson/Schottenheimer era, dropping a 17-16 decision to the Miami Dolphins, on January 5 at Joe Robbie Stadium. Defensive tackle Buck Buchanan inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame on August 4.

ARROWHEAD STADIUM

Arrowhead Stadium, home of the Kansas City Chiefs, is one of the finest facilities in the NFL. It is part of the Harry S. Truman Sports Complex, which also includes a 42,000-seat baseball stadium. Arrowhead was dedicated August 12, 1972 at the inaugural preseason game. Since, 9,082,070 spectators have passed through the stadium turnstiles to enjoy Chiefs football.

Level Breakdown: (77,872)

Upper Level — 33,930; Club Level — 10,199; Lower Level — 33,743; Between End Zones — 50,000.

Construction Data:

Overall Supervision: Jackson County Sports Authority
 Architect: Kivett and Myers with Charles Deaton, Design Associate
 General Contractor: Sharp, Kidde, Webb
 Groundbreaking: July, 1968
 Completion: August, 1972

Funding:

Funds for Complex development and construction were provided by General Obligation Bond issue approved by voters of Jackson County on June 27, 1967, by a 67.8% majority. Additions to Arrowhead (explained below) are financed by $4.5 million Revenue Bonds to be retired by additional rental payment from Kansas City Chiefs, plus $5 million privately financed by the Chiefs.

Costs: Dual Stadium Complex $53,000,000
 Additions to Arrowhead paid by Chiefs $ 9,500,000
 (Paid for by the Chiefs, added improvements include 18,000 chair-back seats, computerized scoreboard, all food-beverage service facilities, club facilities, business suites and administrative areas.)

PLAYOFF HISTORY

1962 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Texans 20, Oilers 17

(Double Overtime)

Jeppesen Stadium, Houston (37,981)

December 23, 1962

A contest that moved the infant American Football League into the national consciousness proved to be the first of three AFL titles for Hank Stram's Texans/Chiefs.

Following second place finishes in each of the league's first two seasons, the Texans ran away with the AFL West championship in 1962. Dallas finished 11-3, a full four games in front, and was matched with the Houston Oilers, also 11-3, who had won the AFL title in 1960 and '61 over the Los Angeles, then San Diego Chargers.

The Texans, paced by a pair of touchdowns from Abner Haynes, took a 17-0 halftime advantage. Haynes scored first on a 28-yard pass from Len Dawson and then on a two-yard run after Tommy Brooker had given Dallas a 3-0 first-quarter advantage with a 16-yard field goal.

But the momentum quickly shifted to the Oilers in the second half. George Blanda, then a "young" 35-year-old, passed 15 yards to Willard Dewveall for a touchdown and kicked a 31-yard field goal before Charley Tolar burst over from the one to tie the game at 17-17 in the fourth quarter.

The two teams then went into the first sudden death overtime in AFL annals. The Texans won the toss and Stram elected to kick off, maintaining his defense could hold the Oilers long enough for Dawson to get the ball in good field position. Herein came the famous "kick to the clock" episode in which Texans captain Haynes inadvertently elected for his team to kick into the wind instead of having it as the consolation for not receiving the football.

Neither club mounted a serious challenge in the early stages of overtime, but as the fifth quarter was drawing to a close, Dallas defensive end Bill Hull intercepted a Blanda pass and returned to midfield. Dawson then passed to Jack Spikes for 10 yards, Spikes, the game's most valuable player, ran for 19 and the Texans were in field goal range. At the 2:54 mark of the sixth quarter, Brooker kicked a 25-yard field goal to give the Texans a 20-17 victory and the American Football League championship. The game lasted 77 minutes and 54 seconds and would be the longest in pro football history until the Chiefs and Miami Dolphins played over 82 minutes nearly a decade later in 1971.

1966 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Chiefs 31, Bills 7

War Memorial Stadium, Buffalo (42,080)

January 1, 1967

With a berth in Super Bowl I as the prize, the Chiefs visited ancient War Memorial Stadium for a New Year's Day clash with the defending AFL champion Buffalo Bills.

The game, played in frigid, subzero temperatures, produced its first break on the opening kickoff, Jerrel Wilson recovered a Bills fumble on the Buffalo 31-yard line. Three plays later, Len Dawson passed 29 yards to Fred Arbanas for the first touchdown and a 7-0 Kansas City lead.

Buffalo, though, tied the game near the end of the opening period when Jack Kemp hit Elbert Dubenion on a 69-yard pass play. Few thought it would be the Bills final score of the day.

Buffalo, though, tied the game near the end of the opening period when Jack Kemp hit Elbert Dubenion on a 69-yard pass play. Few thought it would be the Bills final score of the day.

The Chiefs defense stiffened and Dawson led the offense to 10 second-quarter points. Otis Taylor caught a 29-yard touchdown pass and Mike Mercer added a 32-yard field goal, aided by a 72-yard pass interception by Johnny Robinson.

Mike Garrett then applied the coup de grace for the Chiefs by scoring on runs of one and 18 yards. Kansas City won its second AFL title in four years and awaited the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl I.

SUPER BOWL I

Packers 35, Chiefs 10

Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum (63,036)

January 15, 1967

Representing themselves and the American Football League in the first championship match with the National Football League, the Chiefs played well for one half before bowing to the supremacy of the Green Bay Packers.

Vince Lombardi's Packers, one of the great pro football teams of all time, won Super Bowl I by a 35-10 score. But the Packers held a slim 14-10 advantage at the half before the game turned on one play in the third quarter.

Green Bay opened the scoring when Bart Starr passed 37 yards to Max McGee, McGee making a remarkable one-handed catch for the touchdown. Len Dawson tied the game for the Chiefs when he passed to Curtis McClinton for a second period touchdown. The Packers then went back on top, 14-7, before Mike Mercer kicked a 31-yard field goal just before the half ended.

The Chiefs momentum carried over into the third quarter as Kansas City moved to a first down on its initial possession. But then the game's key play, one that doomed the underdog Chiefs, unfolded when Willie Wood intercepted a Dawson pass intended for Fred Arbanas at midfield. Wood returned all the way to the Chiefs 5-yard line, where Elijah Pitts ran for a third Green Bay touchdown and an insurmountable 21-10 lead.

1969 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME

Chiefs 17, Raiders 7

Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum (54,544)

January 4, 1970

On the day the American Football League played the final game of its 10-year history, the Kansas City Chiefs became the only three-time AFL champion. The Chiefs, through a curious playoff system, played their Western Division rivals, the Oakland Raiders, for the league's last title. Oakland, which had won the AFL West and held a pair of regular season wins over the Chiefs, went down to a 17-7 defeat.

The contest, unlike other Raiders-Chiefs matchups, was marked by turnovers. The two clubs managed one first-half touchdown apiece. Oakland's on a three-yard run by Charlie Smith, Kansas City responding with a one-yard plunge by Wendell Hayes after Len Dawson had hit on passes of 14 yards to Otis Taylor and 41 yards to Frank Pitts.

In the third quarter, George Blanda twice missed field goal attempts that would have moved Oakland in front. Midway through the period, Kansas City mounted a drive from its own 2-yard line, the field position a result of a fumble which luckily was recovered before it bounded into the end zone. Dawson and Taylor pulled Kansas City out of the hole with a 35-yard pass and run play. Robert Holmes added 23 more on a flare pass in the left flat and then scored the go-ahead touchdown five plays later.

At this point the game became a defensive struggle. Led by defensive charges from the entire front four of Aaron Brown, Buck Buchanan, Curley Culp and Jerry Mays, the Chiefs continually harassed Raiders quarterback Daryle Lamonica. But the turnovers which would plague both teams were only beginning.

In the fourth quarter, turnovers gave Oakland the football three times in Kansas City territory. Three times the Chiefs responded with interceptions, one each by Jim Marsalis, Jim Kearney and Emmitt Thomas. Thomas' steal was his second of the day and covered 62 yards to the Oakland 18-yard line. Jan Stenerud's field goal provided a 17-7 lead and a return to the Super Bowl.

SUPER BOWL IV

Chiefs 23, Vikings 7

Tulane Stadium, New Orleans (80,562)

January 11, 1970

Kansas City's finest sports hour concluded at 5:20 in the afternoon of Sunday, January 11, 1970, when the Chiefs defeated the Minnesota Vikings, 23-7, for the world championship of pro football.

The Chiefs, who finished 11-3 on the season and defeated the New York Jets and Oakland in the playoffs, closed out their first decade as the outstanding team in the American Football League which, with Super Bowl IV, came to an end. Beginning in 1970, the two leagues merged, with the AFL becoming the American Football Conference of the NFL.

Minnesota, a prohibitive favorite, was 12-2 during the regular season and at one point had won 12 games in succession.

The Chiefs took an early lead when Jani Stenerud kicked a 48-yard first quarter field goal. Stenerud's kick remains a Super Bowl record. He then followed with field goals of 32 and 25 yards for a 9-0 lead.

Kansas City received the first break in the game when the Vikings Charlie West fumbled a kickoff and Remi Prudhomme recovered at the Minnesota 19-yard line. After an eight-yard loss, Len Dawson handed off to Wendell Hayes, who rambled for 13 yards up the middle on a draw play. A 10-yard pass to Otis Taylor gave the Chiefs a first down at the four. Three plays later, Mike Garrett burst off-tackle for the touchdown. The Chiefs held a 16-0 halftime lead, stunning the Vikings and a nationwide television audience.

Minnesota mounted a mild third-quarter comeback when Dave Osborn scored from four yards out to cut the margin to 16-7. But any hopes the Vikings had of getting closer were dashed by Otis Taylor, who lived up to his big-play reputation repeatedly through that season.

Dawson hit Taylor on a short hitch pattern, but when Earsell Mackbee missed the initial tackle, Taylor was loose down the right sideline, highstepping his way to a 46-yard touchdown. After three quarters, the Chiefs again held a 16-point lead.

As was so often the case in 1969, the defense came to the fore. Minnesota had the ball three times in the final period and, as in the Oakland game the previous week, the Chiefs snuffed out all three chances with interceptions. Middle linebacker Willie Lanier picked off a Joe Kapp pass to halt a rally at the Chiefs 34-yard line. Later on, Johnny Robinson, playing with what turned out to be three broken ribs, grabbed another errant Kapp throw. In the game's closing minutes, Emmitt Thomas intercepted his third pass of the playoffs. The Chiefs then ran out the clock to capture the AFL's second consecutive Super Bowl triumph.

CHIEFS IN THE PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME

LAMAR HUNT, AFL & Chiefs Founder, 1960-present.
Inducted in 1972.

Founded the American Football League in 1960 with his Dallas Texans franchise . . . Became the first AFL figure to be inducted into the Hall of Fame in 1972 . . . Described during his induction ceremonies as the "architect, designer and builder of an impossible dream" . . . Serves as the president of the American Football Conference . . . Since 1984, the AFC championship game trophy has carried his name . . . Has seen the Chiefs win three AFL titles and a Super Bowl trophy . . . Was born August 2, 1932, in El Dorado, Arkansas . . . Graduated from Southern Methodist University in 1956 with a B.S. in geology . . . Was a reserve end on SMU's football team . . . He and his wife, Norma, reside in Dallas and have four children, Lamar, Jr., Sharon, Clark and Daniel.

BOBBY BELL, Linebacker, 6-4, 225, 1963-74.

Inducted in 1983.

Became the first Chiefs player to be enshrined in the Hall when he was chosen in the Class of 1983 . . . Some have called him the greatest outside linebacker to play the game . . . Superb athlete began his pro career as a defensive end, because Chiefs needed help at that position when he was drafted in the seventh round in 1963 . . . Earned All-AFL or All-AFC honors for eight consecutive years . . . During that span he started on two AFL Championship teams, played in Super Bowls I and IV, and was named to the AFL all-decade team in 1969 . . . Intercepted 26 passes and recovered 15 fumbles (tying Willie Lanier for Kansas City record) . . . Born June 17, 1940 in Shelby, North Carolina . . . Was an all-state quarterback at Cleveland High School in Shelby . . . Was the Outland Trophy winner as college football's outstanding lineman as a senior in 1962 at Minnesota . . . Played on College All-Star team that defeated the Packers in 1963 . . . Currently owns Bobby Bell's Bar-B-Que in Kansas City.

WILLIE LANIER, Middle Linebacker, 6-1, 245, 1967-77.

Inducted in 1986.

As part of the Hall's Class of 1986, he became the second Chiefs player to be enshrined in Canton . . . Chiefs starting middle linebacker for 11 years, he possessed a ferocious tackling style that made him a feared run-stopper . . . Also had the speed and agility that helped him grab 27 career interceptions, good for the sixth-most ever by a Chief . . . His 15 fumble recoveries tie Bobby Bell for the most ever by a Chiefs defender . . . A second-round draft choice in 1967, he missed just five games in his 11 NFL campaigns . . . Played in two AFL All-Star games and five AFC-NFC Pro Bowls . . . Helped Chiefs to their only World Championship, a Super Bowl IV victory over Minnesota . . . Born August 21, 1945 in Clover, Virginia . . . Attended Maggie L. Walker High School in Richmond, Virginia . . . Was a two-time small college All-America pick at Morgan State . . . Named Tangerine Bowl MVP . . . Graduated from Morgan State in 1967 with a B.S. in business administration . . . Lives in Richmond, where he is vice president at First Wheat Securities.

LEN DAWSON, Quarterback, 6-0, 190, 1962-75.

Inducted in 1987.

Heart and soul of Texans/Chiefs franchise during his illustrious career . . . During his tenure as the team's field general, he helped make the Chiefs one of pro football's premier teams and wound up among the elite passers in the game's history . . . Under his guidance, the Chiefs were perennial contenders and won AFL Championships in 1962, 1966 and 1969 . . . Was MVP of Super Bowl IV when he directed Kansas City to a win over heavily-favored Minnesota . . . Won AFL passing titles four times and still holds Chiefs career marks for pass rating, attempts, completions, completion percentage, passing yards and touchdowns . . . Started pro career with the Steelers, as a first-round pick in '56, then landed with the Browns before ending up with the Texans . . . Born June 20, 1935 in Alliance, Ohio . . . Attended Alliance High School . . . Led Big 10 in passing and total offense for three seasons at Purdue . . . Does play-by-play on Chiefs Radio and is the sports anchor at KMBC-TV in Kansas City.

BUCK BUCHANAN, Defensive Tackle, 6-7, 275, 1963-75.

Inducted in 1990.

Becomes third member of feared Kansas City defense to enter the Hall as the team's most recent inductee . . . The first overall selection in the 1963 AFL draft, he became the prototype for future pro defensive linemen . . . Combined perfect size with outstanding strength and deceptive speed . . . Helped Kansas City win two AFL crowns and their only Super Bowl in 1970 . . . Had an eight-year stretch where he either went to the AFL All-Star game or the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl . . . Was a unanimous All-AFL pick from 1966-69 . . . His teammates named him the Chiefs MVP in 1965 and 1967 . . . Born September 10, 1940 in Gainesville, Alabama . . . Was captain of both football and basketball squads at Parker High School in Birmingham . . . Played tackle on both sides of the ball at Grambling for Eddie Robinson, who called him "the finest tackle I have ever seen" . . . Today, he owns All-Pro Construction Company and All-Pro Advertising in Kansas City.

JAN STENERUD, Placekicker, 6-2, 190, 1967-79.
Inducted in 1991.

The first pure placekicker to be inducted into the Hall and the fifth Chiefs player to make it to Canton . . . Regarded by many as the best placekicker in pro football history . . . Played 19 NFL seasons: Kansas City 1967-79; Green Bay 1980-83; and Minnesota 1984-85 . . . Owns NFL record for most career field goals made with 373 and is second to George Blanda on the league's all-time scoring list with 1,699 points . . . Still owns or shares 11 Chiefs records, including career records for points (1,231), field goals made/attempted (279-436), and consecutive games played (186) . . . Hit a 48-yard field goal in Super Bowl IV victory . . . Was selected by Chiefs in third round of '66 AFL "red shirt" draft . . . Attended Montana State on a skiing scholarship . . . A native of Fetsund, Norway . . . Is now director of business development for Howard Needles Tammen & Bergendoff, a Kansas City architectural firm.

MACK LEE HILL AWARD

PERCY SNOW

Each year since 1966, the Chiefs veteran players have selected a recipient for the Mack Lee Hill Award. It is a tribute to the late Mack Lee Hill, an outstanding running back who played for the Chiefs in 1964 and 1965. He was described as a man who played as much with his heart as he did with his driving legs in the early days of the American Football League.

In memory and tribute to Hill, the award is presented annually to the Chiefs rookie, who, as the inscription on the trophy reads — "best exemplifies the spirit of the late Mack Lee Hill . . . the man with the giant heart and quiet way."

In selecting the recipient, the Chiefs veterans look for a first-year player who has displayed the spirit and attitude of Mack Lee Hill.

The 1990 winner of the award was linebacker Percy Snow, who won the prestigious Lombardi and Butkus Awards as a college senior at Michigan State. The Chiefs first-round pick and 13th overall selection, Snow started 14 of the 15 games he played in at left inside linebacker. He was the team's fifth-leading tackler with 69, including 51 unassisted stops. The intense rookie also contributed an interception, two sacks and 11 quarterback pressures.

Running back Mack Lee Hill bursts forward for yardage against the Raiders during his memorable two-year pro career with the Chiefs.

CHIEFS PUT BEST FOOT FORWARD

The Chiefs have had just two placekickers the past 24 years — Jan Stenerud ('67-'79) and Nick Lowery ('80-present). A '90 story in Pro Football Weekly named Stenerud, who will be inducted into the Hall of Fame this year, the best kicker of all-time, with Lowery finishing in fifth place. Here's a look at the Chiefs kicking duo:

HEISMAN CHIEFS

Three Heisman Trophy winners – Billy Cannon, Mike Garrett and John Huarte – have spent part of their pro playing career with the Kansas City Chiefs, and in 1970 the entire trio graced the club's roster.

Cannon, who inspired the movie "Everybody's All-American," took home the Heisman in '59 after a stellar college career at LSU. He played one season ('70) with the Chiefs, catching seven passes for 125 yards and two touchdowns.

Garrett won the coveted Heisman in '65 and was drafted out of Southern Cal by the Chiefs in '66. He wore the Kansas City red and gold from '66-70, and is the team's third all-time rusher with 3,246 yards. He was inducted into the Chiefs Hall of Fame in '77.

Huarte was the surprise Heisman winner in '64 after nearly directing Notre Dame to the national title. The Chiefs were one of eight pro teams he played for. In his three seasons ('69-71) with the club, he threw just eight passes as a backup to Len Dawson and Mike Livingston.
