ROBERT KRAFT
OWNER AND C.E.O.

out takes

- Robert and his family have been Patriots season ticket holders since 1971.
- When the Kraft family purchased the team in 1994, nearly 6,000 season tickets were sold in one day, eclipsing the franchise's previous single-day sales record of 979. Since then, the Patriots' season ticket waiting list has grown in excess of 10,000 names.
- In their first 34 years of existence, the Patriots had never reported a complete sellout prior to the start of a season. Since 1994, every home game has been sold out in advance. With every game already soldout this season, the Patriots' consecutive-game sellout streak will extend to 51 games by season's end.
- In 1998, Robert was named chairman of the NFL's Finance Committee.

In January of 1994, the fate of the New England Patriots rested in the hands of Boston businessman Robert Kraft. A Patriots fan since their early AFL days in Boston and a season ticket holder since 1971, Kraft was faced with one of the most difficult decisions of his life: Whether to commit nearly $200 million of family resources to purchase the franchise and keep the team in New England, or to decline and allow the Patriots to relocate outside of New England, much like the Boston Braves had when Kraft was just 11 years old.

As owner of Foxboro Stadium, Kraft held a lease which bound the team to play in Foxboro through the year 2001. In an effort to buy out the lease, a $75 million offer was made to the Kraft family. Yet on Jan. 21, 1994, Kraft passed on the offer, choosing to ignore the business instincts he had always relied on in the past. Instead, he allowed the fan inside him to make the 11th-hour bid, which ultimately saved the franchise from moving to St. Louis.

Since then, he has committed every resource within his power to rebuild the image of a team which had suffered from years of neglect and mismanagement. Despite lavish enticements from other former NFL cities, Kraft has remained committed to keeping the franchise in New England, even offering $200 million in private financing to build a new stadium.

The sale of the team was approved by the NFL on Feb. 25, 1994. Kraft's investment drew its first return the following day when season tickets went on sale and faithful fans responded in record numbers. By the end of that first business day, 5,958 season ticket orders had been placed, shattering the previous single-day sales record of 979. It was proof that Kraft had made the right decision.

Kraft inherited a team with the league's lowest payroll in 1993. Previous management chose not to sign star players to long-term contracts prior to the implementation of the 1994 salary cap, putting Kraft at an immediate competitive disadvantage when he purchased the team. Yet, within his first six months of ownership, Kraft committed over $13 million in signing bonuses alone, just to give the team the foundation on which to build. That commitment to building a championship-contending team restored the faith of the fans and rejuvenated interest throughout New England. By the start of the 1994 regular season, every game had been sold out for the first time in franchise history. That meant that the local broadcast blackout was lifted and every Patriots game would be televised throughout New England for the first time in franchise history, an invaluable benefit to fans throughout the region.

The impact that Kraft has made since purchasing the team has been profound. After 23 years as a loyal season-ticket holder, Kraft and his family took over the ownership of the Patriots with a fan's perspective and wasted no time implementing changes to make improvements both on and off the field.

In addition, he has put forth substantial resources to make the Patriots a championship-contending National Football League franchise, employing a staff that is equally committed to developing a long-term strategy to keep the Patriots among the NFL's elite. That was made evident with the long-term signings of quarterback Drew Bledsoe, Ben Coates, Terry Glenn, Bruce Armstrong, Chris Slade and Willie McGinest, each of whom have contracts which extend through the year 2000, assuring that the Patriots will have a corps of talented players to lead the franchise into the next century.

Kraft's commitment to building a championship organization has provided the foundation for the team's recent success on the field, which has resulted in a level of popularity and support unmatched since the Patriots' inception.

Consider that in the first 34 years of the franchise's existence, the Patriots had qualified for the playoffs just six times, had won just three division titles and had hosted only one playoff game – which they lost in 1978. Yet, since Kraft took ownership in 1994, the Patriots have qualified for the playoffs three times, winning back-to-back division titles for the first time in franchise history and have hosted three playoff games, including the 1996 AFC Championship Game. The Patriots are 3-0 in those games.

In just his third season of ownership, Kraft reached the threshold of achieving the goal he set for the Patriots when he purchased the team: To bring an NFL championship to New England. In 1996, the Patriots won the AFC East division title, their first since 1986. They hosted Pittsburgh in the AFC Divisional Playoff game and claimed a 28-3 victory. The following week, the Patriots hosted the franchise's first conference title game. A 20-6 victory over Jacksonville in that game gave New England their second AFC championship title and allowed the Patriots to compete for the NFL title in Super Bowl XXXI. A 35-21 loss to Green Bay dashed those dreams of bringing New England its first NFL title, but planted an insatiable desire to win a Super Bowl title.

In 1997, with one of the youngest team's in the NFL, the Patriots repeated as division champions for the first time in franchise history after tying a franchise-best 7-1 record against their divisional foes. A one-point loss in the divisional playoff game at Pittsburgh kept the Patriots from hosting their second consecutive AFC Championship Game and defending their conference title.

In just four years, the Kraft family has brought long needed stability to the organization, and has built the foundation for a team which is now competing annually for an NFL title. His off-field accomplishments and the team's on-field success have resulted in a season ticket waiting list which has grown in excess of 10,000 people. Playing before a capacity crowd each week at Foxboro Stadium has created a home field advantage for the Patriots. In the past two years, the Patriots are 15-4 at home – a .789 winning percentage.

Kraft has made valuable contributions to the league as well as the Patriots. He currently serves on the league's powerful Broadcast and Finance Committees. The Broadcast Committee recently negotiated an $18 billion television contract – the most lucrative in the history of sports. He also serves on the Special Committee on Strategic Opportunities and Challenges as well as both the International and NFL Properties Committees.

Kraft first became a fan of the Boston Patriots in their AFL days of the early 1960s and attended games at each of the team's Boston venues – Boston University Field, Fenway Park, B.C. Alumni Stadium and Harvard Stadium. When the team moved to Foxboro, he became a season ticket holder and still considers those Patriots games at Foxboro among his warmest memories in the raising of his four sons.

A native of Brookline, Mass., Kraft attended local public schools before entering Columbia University on an academic scholarship. While attending Columbia, he also played "scatback" for the Lions. Upon graduation, he received a fellowship to attend the Harvard School of Business, where he earned a master's degree in business administration.

Kraft began his business career with the Rand-Whitney Group, Inc. of Worcester, Mass., a company he later acquired. In 1972, he founded International Forest Products, a trader of paper commodities which now does business in over 80 countries around the world. Together, Rand-Whitney and International Forest Products comprise one of the largest privately-owned paper and packaging companies in the United States.

The most recent addition to Kraft's group of businesses is the New England Revolution, the region's Major League Soccer entry. Now in their third season, the Revolution has exceeded annual projections for ticket sales and have become an established team in the Boston sports scene.

Kraft has had a long-time interest in sports. In the 1970s, he was the owner of the Boston Lobsters professional tennis team and recruited the legendary Martina Navratilova to join the squad. Navratilova went on to win her first Wimbledon after Kraft brought in tennis coach Roy Emerson to train the international tennis star.

Over the past 25 years, the Krafts have been among Boston's most philanthropic families, donating millions of dollars in support of local charities and civic affairs. Robert serves on the Executive Committee of the Dana-Farber Cancer Institute and established the Robert K. Kraft Family Blood Donor Center. He also serves on the Board of Overseers of the Boston Symphony Orchestra, is a trustee of his alma mater at Columbia University and serves on the Board of Directors for the Harvard Business School. He is the recipient of honorary degrees from Boston University, Bryant College, Curry College and Suffolk University.

JONATHAN KRAFT

extra points

★ Jonathan grew up a Patriots fan. One of his favorite memories is of attending the AFC Championship game in Miami when the Patriots beat the Dolphins 31-14 to claim their first conference title.

Jonathan A. Kraft, now in his fifth season with the Patriots, was appointed Vice President and Owner's Representative on Jan. 21, 1994. He was a key figure in the negotiations which led to the purchase of the franchise and kept the team in New England.

In his current role, he oversees each of the organization's departments and assists each in their development and strategic planning. As the owner's representative, Jonathan joins his father in representing the team in all its dealings with the National Football League.

Since joining the Patriots, he has been instrumental in the research and development of all the Patriots' off-field pursuits. In 1995, he initiated the publishing of the franchise's first full-color team newspaper, Patriots Football Weekly. He also initiated the team's presence on the Internet and the development of the Patriots' retail business.

Patriots Football Weekly is the only full-color weekly publication offered by an NFL team and is the first of its kind in professional sports. It appears on newsstands throughout New England and is distributed to Patriots fans internationally. In just three years, the publication's circulation has grown exponentially and now ranks among the league's top three team newspapers.

The Patriots' Internet site (www.patriots.com), which debuted in March of 1995, was the first home page to be offered by a professional sports team anywhere. Since then, the site has been enhanced to include audio clips, video clips and it aired the first nightly broadcast on the world wide web — the Patriots' Cyber Sideline. The show airs during the season, Monday through Friday, beginning at 7 p.m. ET. Last year, Cyber Sideline attracted over 4,000 viewers per night.

The Patriots' retail business, which includes Pro Shop sales, catalog merchandising and online retailing, has developed into a multi-million dollar operation.

In addition to his role with the Patriots, Kraft also plays a leading role in each of the family's other business pursuits, including Rand-Whitney Containerboard, the Rand-Whitney Group, International Forest Products and the New England Revolution.

Kraft secured the 1991 and 1992 National Earth Day concerts at Foxboro Stadium. He has been the chief negotiator for the stadium in securing the appearances of a number of major musical acts, including The Rolling Stones, Aerosmith, Elton John and Billy Joel. The Greater Boston Convention and Visitors Bureau, Inc. presented Kraft with the "Spirit of Tiourism" Award for his work in promoting tourism and economic activity in the state.

A Williams College graduate, Kraft received his MBA from the Harvard School of Business. He is on the Board of Directors for several organizations, including the New England Israeli Chamber of Commerce and the Genesis Fund. He is also on the Board of Trustees for the Belmont Hill School.

Jonathan Kraft was born on March 4, 1964 in Brookline, Mass. He and his wife, Patti, live in Boston with their son, Harry (born 11/23/96). The Kraft's are expecting their second child in the fall.

ANDY WASYNCZUK
V.P. – BUSINESS OPERATIONS

out takes

- With the arrival of their third child this past June (ages 4, 2, and a newborn), Andy's passions for sports, music and reading have adjusted to nerf basketball, Raffi, and "Where the Wild Things Are."
- Andy credits his two grandfathers for his interests in spiritual and scientific arenas. One was an Arch-Bishop in the Orthodox Church while the other was a university physics professor.

Andy Wasynczuk, in his fifth season with the Patriots, was appointed Vice President of Business Operations on Jan. 21, 1994. In addition to handling the team's contract negotiations, player signings and salary cap management, he is also responsible for overseeing the daily operations of each department in the organization. As the team's cap strategist, Wasynczuk's challenge was to create a strategy which would allow the Patriots to maximize their potential under the salary cap, building the foundation for a team which would compete at a championship level for years to come. In his first four years, Wasynczuk has met the challenge.

Beginning with the signing of quarterback Drew Bledsoe, who agreed to a seven-year deal in 1995, the Patriots have built their foundation around a nucleus of young, talented players, including Ben Coates, Terry Glenn, Chris Slade and Willie McGinest, who are signed through the year 2000.

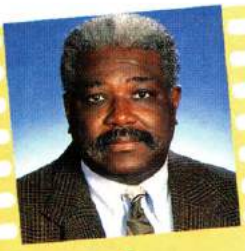

The formula Wasynczuk has implemented has already given the Patriots success. In the past two years, the Patriots have won back-to-back division titles for the first time in franchise history and have done so with one of the youngest teams in the NFL.

Prior to joining the Kraft's organization, Wasynczuk was a consultant at Bain and Company in Boston, an internationally recognized consulting firm. At Bain, he developed market strategies and business plans for international corporations in the packaging and financial service industries. In January 1989, he joined Foxboro Stadium Associates as the Chief Operating Officer. His responsibilities included the overall management of the stadium and overseeing the long-term development of the stadium complex. During his tenure as the stadium's COO, he greatly expanded the variety of entertainment presented at the location. He also played instrumental roles in attracting the 1994 World Cup to Foxboro and securing a Major League Soccer franchise for the Boston area, which began play in 1996. Since his arrival, the facility has been among the busiest in the world, hosting hundreds of events including football and soccer games, as well as some of the largest touring concerts in the nation.

Wasynczuk earned a bachelor's and a master's degree in electrical engineering from Case Western Reserve University. In 1983, he added a second master's degree (in business administration) from the Harvard Business School.

He is active in a variety of community activities, including the Board of Directors for the Marketplace Network. He is a frequent guest speaker at local community service organizations and various academic institutions.

Andy Wasynczuk was born Feb. 18, 1957 in Chicago, Ill. He and his wife Rebecca have three children – Katherine Sophia (born 12/2/93), Luke Joseph (2/4/96) and Thomas Samuel (6/6/98). The Wasynczuk family resides in Westwood, Mass.

BOBBY GRIER
V.P. OF PLAYER PERSONNEL

Bobby Grier was appointed Vice President of Player Personnel on Feb. 21, 1997. He is responsible for overseeing all aspects of pro and college scouting and the evaluation of current and prospective Patriots players.

In the past two seasons, Grier has procured the veteran talents of Willie Clay, Shawn Jefferson, Zefross Moss, Henry Thomas, Tom Tupa and Mark Wheeler through free agency, while producing the young talents of 17 draft choices who contributed to the success of claiming the franchise's first back-to-back division titles. With an influx of young talent joining the Patriots through this year's draft, the Patriots are expected to build on what is already a strong and successful foundation.

Grier is entering his 17th season with the Patriots organization, his eighth as a front office executive. He first joined the Patriots as an assistant on Ron Erhardt's staff in 1981 as the team's running backs coach. The following year, he moved to Northwestern University where he was the offensive coordinator on Dennis Green's staff. At the conclusion of the 1982 season, he returned to the Patriots and joined the team's college scouting staff. In 1985, he returned to the sidelines as an assistant on Raymond Berry's staff and helped the Patriots to their first AFC title in franchise history. That year, his running backs were led by Craig James and combined to rush for 2,331 yards (fourth in franchise history). James finished the year with 1,227 yards – which ranked second in franchise history to Jim Nance's 1,458 yards rushing in 1966.

He spent the next seven seasons (1986-92) directing the team's running backs on the staffs of three different head coaches. In 1993, he returned to the Patriots' front office when he was appointed the Director of Pro Scouting – a position he held until he was appointed Director of Player Personnel on Feb. 6, 1995.

He began his coaching career as an assistant at Kettering (Mich.) High School in 1966. He spent four years at Kettering (1966-69) before being named the head coach at Martin Luther King High in Detroit, Mich., in 1970. In 1974, Grier moved up to the collegiate ranks when he accepted the running back responsibilities at Eastern Michigan University. Grier was lured to New England by Boston College, who offered him an assistant position in 1978. He remained at Boston College as the Eagles' running backs coach for three seasons (1978-80) prior to moving to the Patriots.

Grier was an outstanding collegiate running back at the University of Iowa. He was a three-year starter and twice earned honorable mention All-Big Ten honors. In 1965, he led the Hawkeyes in rushing as a senior. Grier was born on Nov. 10, 1942 in Detroit, Mich. He and his wife, Wendy, have two sons, Chris (3/24/70) and Michael (1/5/75). Chris is a personnel scout for the Patriots. Michael plays hockey for the Edmonton Oilers. The Griers reside in Holliston, Mass.

JIM HAUSMANN

out takes

- Jim played for and later coached a DeMolay basketball team in Collinsville, Ill. during his high school and college years.
- Jim served in the U.S. Army from 1970-72 and spent a one-year tour in Vicenza, Italy.
- Jim has always been an avid sports fan. His favorites in each of the five major sports are the Patriots, St. Louis Cardinals, St. Louis Blues, Boston Celtics and New England Revolution.

Jim Hausmann, now in his seventh season with the Patriots, was appointed Vice President of Finance on Jan. 21,1994.

His primary duty as Chief Financial Officer is to oversee all financial activity involving the organization's football and stadium operations. In 1996, his role was expanded to include the financial operations for the New England Revolution, the Major League Soccer franchise the Krafts took ownership of in 1995. He reports directly to both Robert and Jonathan Kraft on all matters involving the financial aspects of the Patriots, the Revolution and Foxboro Stadium.

Hausmann joined the Patriots on May 17, 1992 as its Vice President and Chief Financial Officer. In 1993, he was named the Executive Vice President of Business Operations.

Before joining the Patriots, Hausmann was employed as a senior audit manager with the international accounting firm of Deloitte, Haskins & Sells (now Deloitte & Touche). He worked in their St. Louis, Mo. office from 1970-84 and again from 1990-92. He took a brief hiatus from the accounting firm from 1985-89 when he was named the chief financial officer of a regional stock brokerage firm in St. Louis.

Hausmann graduated from Southern Illinois University in 1970 with a bachelor's degree in business administration and accounting. In 1973, he earned his CPA certificate while working at Deloitte.

James Hausmann was born Nov. 18, 1948 in Collinsville, Ill. Jim and his wife, Terri, have three children – Jennifer (4/28/81), Kyle (6/3/84) and Brian (1/15/87) – and reside in Foxboro, Mass.

- In college, Don was the play-by-play voice of Wesleyan Cardinal football and was the co-host of a radio talk show.

DON LOWERY
V.P. OF PLAYER DEVELOPMENT AND COMMUNITY AFFAIRS

Showing his commitment to developing a model for player programs in the league, Robert Kraft appointed Don Lowery as Vice President of Player Development and Community Affairs on March 9, 1998.

In this role, Lowery will oversee the operation of the team's player program activities, including continuing education, financial education, career internship and family assistance. This season, he will manage a new initiative between the team and Northeastern University which includes intensive training in understanding and preventing occurrences of domestic violence. Lowery will continue to be responsible for the management of all the team's community outreach efforts, including directing the work of the New England Patriots Charitable Foundation.

Lowery originally joined the Patriots in March of 1994 as the director of public and community relations. In 1997, he received a promotion to Vice President. He continued to serve as the team's spokesperson and drew greater emphasis on directing the team's activities within the community, including public appearances and charitable donations. The promotion also brought more responsibility in his involvement with the New England Patriots Charitable Foundation and the team's public affairs projects.

Before joining the Patriots, Lowery spent five years as a newspaper reporter for the Roanoke (Va.) Times & World News, the Norfolk Ledger Star, the Arizona (Phoenix) Republic and the Boston Globe. In his various positions, he worked as general assignment reporter and covered education, government and business. From 1982 through 1991, he was Director of Public Affairs and Editorials for WHDH-TV, the CBS (now NBC) affiliate in Boston. In that position, he was responsible for overseeing the development and production of the station's pubic affairs programming and writing and delivering the station's editorials. Following his work in television, Lowery spent two years working as a public finance investment banker in Boston for Lazard Freres & Co. and First Albany Corp.

During his career in journalism, Lowery was the recipient of several awards, including prizes for outstanding editorial writing from the Associated Press, United Press International and Lincoln University. In addition, he twice received the Emmy Award from the New England Chapter of the National Academy of Television Arts and Sciences for outstanding editorials.

Lowery serves on the board of directors of several non-profit organizations, including Boston Partners in Education, Big Brother Association of Greater Boston, the Steppingstone Foundation and the Massachusetts Amateur Athletic Association.

Lowery graduated from Wesleyan University in Middletown, Conn. in 1977 with a bachelor's degree in economics.

Donald Lowery was born on Jan. 6, 1956 in Chicago, Ill. He is single and resides in Boston.

PETE CARROLL

HEAD COACH
25TH COACHING SEASON
15TH NFL SEASON 2ND PATRIOTS SEASON

out takes

- For the past seven years, Pete's defenses have been ranked among the top nine in the league in total take-aways.
- During his 14-year NFL coaching career, only his 1990 Jets defense finished a season with fewer than 32 take-aways. They had 29 that year.
- In Minnesota, Pete coached one of the most dominant secondaries in football. In 1988, the defense ranked second against the pass and was first in overall defense. In 1989, they did one better, improving to first in both categories.
- In 1995, Pete's defense at San Francisco was the league's top rated unit, allowing just 274.9 yards per game.
- Pete was a two-time all-conference defensive back at Pacific, where he won back-to-back Ironman Awards – given annually to the athlete who participated in the most plays.

When the Patriots began their search for a new head coach in 1997, their mission was to find a young, energetic, student of the game who would be willing to make a long-term commitment to a young team fresh off an AFC Championship season. That search started and ended when Patriots owner Robert Kraft interviewed San Francisco defensive coordinator Pete Carroll.

Carroll was the candidate who was most frequently recommended to the Patriots' owner and the first he brought in for an interview. When the two met, Carroll convinced Kraft that he was committed to the challenge of bringing an NFL title to New England. On Feb. 3, 1997, Carroll was named head coach of the New England Patriots, the 13th in franchise history.

In his first year with the Patriots, Carroll accomplished a task that had eluded his 12 predecessors, as he guided the team to their first back-to-back division titles in franchise history. Entering the season, expectations were at an all-time high. The defending conference champions responded by claiming their second consecutive division crown with a victory over Miami in the 1997 season finale. The win improved the Patriots' record to 7-1 within the division, tying another franchise record.

The following week, the Patriots hosted the Dolphins in the first round of the playoffs and advanced with a 17-3 victory. It was their second victory over the Dolphins in less than a week and the third of the season. Only five other teams in the history of the NFL had defeated an opponent three times in one season.

Carroll made his Patriots debut in Foxboro with a 41-7 victory over San Diego on Aug. 31, 1997. The 41 points in a season opener was a franchise high and produced the most lopsided opening day victory in team history. The win sparked a 4-0 start to the season, their best start in 23 years, as the Patriots outscored their opponents 130-40 through the month of September.

Through the first 11 weeks of the season, the Patriots boasted one of the league's most balanced attacks. Offensively, the Patriots ranked fourth overall, averaging 352.8 yards per game and were scoring over 25 points per game (5th in the NFL). Defensively, the Patriots countered with a unit which was ranked sixth overall, allowing just 288.8 yards per game, and were surrendering just 16.5 points per game (5th in the NFL).

The loss of running back Curtis Martin in the final month of the season severely limited the Patriots' offensive arsenal and drastically reduced the team's time of possession, but the team overcame the adversity to win four of the last five games to defend their division title.

Much of the season-ending success was attributed to their aggressive, ball-hawking defense, which has long been a Pete Carroll trademark. By season's end, the Patriots had forced 32 turnovers (6th in the NFL) and ranked fourth in the league with a +10 turnover differential. The defense dominated at times throughout the season, allowing just 18.1 points per game (8th in the NFL) during the season and just 10 total points in two playoff games.

Offensively, the Patriots displayed tremendous discipline by surrendering a franchise-low 22 total turnovers during a season which saw injuries force lineup changes at key ball handling positions, including wide receiver, running back and center. Of the 22 turnovers, the Patriots lost just seven fumbles, setting another franchise-low. The previous team record was eight fumbles, which was set during the strike-shortened 1982 season (9 games). Drew Bledsoe's 15 interceptions tied his career-low and totaled the fourth fewest season total in franchise history, just two shy of the team record.

Carroll finished his first season with an 11-7 overall record, making him the franchise's all-time winningest head coach with a .611 overall winning percentage. He was one of 10 new head coaches hired during the 1997 season. Of the 10, only four took their teams to the playoffs and only two, Carroll's Patriots and Steve Mariucci's 49ers, advanced beyond the first round.

Prior to joining the Patriots, Carroll spent two seasons as the defensive coordinator of the San Francisco 49ers. Under his guidance, the 49ers defense excelled, producing one of the most dominant units in franchise history. In 1995, San Francisco boasted the league's top rated defense, allowing just 274.9 yards per game, nearly 50 yards below the league average. The 49ers also led the league in rushing defense (66.3 yards per game), average per rush attempt (3.0) and first downs per game (16.5). More importantly, they ranked first in points allowed, limiting their opponents to an average of just 16.1 points per game. The defense was also credited with creating multiple scoring opportunities off turnovers for the league's second ranked offense. They led the league with 26 interceptions, five of which were returned for touchdowns. In all, the 49ers forced 34 turnovers and returned seven for touchdowns to set a new franchise record for defensive touchdowns. At season's end, the 49ers sent six defenders to the Pro Bowl, five of whom had earned first-team All-Pro honors.

In 1996, the 49ers ranked seventh in total defense, allowing just 291.3 yards per game. It was their stingy defense which received much of the credit for the team's success. For the second consecutive season, the Niners held their opponents to an average of 16.1 points per game, which propelled them to a 12-4 regular season record – second only to Green Bay's 13-3 record that season. After allowing just 11 points in a season-opening victory over the Saints, the 49ers defense blanked the St. Louis Rams, 34-0. It was their first shutout in seven years.

Prior to joining the 49ers, Carroll gained some valuable head coaching experience in his final season of a five-year tenure with the New York Jets. He originally joined the Jets in 1990 as their defensive coordinator and was promoted to head coach in 1994. As head coach, Carroll had the Jets in second place in the AFC East and in playoff contention with a 6-5 record through the first 11 weeks of the season. A four-point loss to the Miami Dolphins in the 12th game of the season triggered a five-game losing streak, which included losses to four playoff-bound teams. The opportunity to build on the 1994 season was lost when Carroll was relieved of his duties at season's end, after just one season as head coach.

Carroll's tenure in New York began in 1990 when he was hired as defensive coordinator. He inherited a defensive unit which had allowed 374.6 yards per game in 1989, among the worst in the NFL. Within two years, he had turned the Jets defense into one of the most aggressive, opportunistic units in the league. In 1991, the Jets rush defense had improved from 19th to fourth in the league, allowing just 90.1 yards per game. It was their defense, ranked 12th overall, which carried the Jets to an 8-8 record and qualified them for the playoffs for the first time in five years. In 1992, the Jets fell to 4-12, despite a defensive effort which forced 39 turnovers-the third most in the league that year.

In 1993, the defense ranked second in the AFC and eighth overall in the NFL, allowing just 294.5 yards per game. They allowed an average of just 92.1 yards rushing per game, fifth in the NFL, and forced 37 turnovers (19 interceptions, 18 fumble recoveries). The Jets held their opponents to just 15.4 points per game, which ranked third in the AFC and sixth in the NFL. During the season, the defense had a string of three consecutive games without allowing a touchdown and helped the Jets finish 8-8, third place in the AFC East. During his four seasons as the defensive coordinator, the Jets defense improved in nearly every defensive category, including moving from 25th in the NFL in points allowed (411) in 1989 to sixth (247 points) in 1993. His reward came on Jan. 7, 1994, when Carroll was promoted to head coach, replacing Bruce Coslet.

He joined the Jets after five seasons with the Minnesota Vikings (1985-89), where he gained a reputation for being one of the game's most innovative defensive minds. Under his tutelage, both Joey Browner and Carl Lee developed into Pro Bowl performers and annually kept the Vikings secondary among the top-rated in the league. In 1988, the Vikings possessed the top rated defense in the league (allowing 255.7 yards per game) and forced a league-high 53 turnovers, including a team-record 36 interceptions. The Vikings qualified for the playoffs with an 11-5 overall record and advanced to the second round of the playoffs before being ousted by the 49ers. The following year, the Vikings improved from second in pass defense to first, allowing just 156.3 yards per game.

While at Minnesota, defensive take-aways became the hallmark of Carroll's units. During that time, his squads averaged over 25 interceptions per season and forced a whopping 42.4 total turnovers per year. In fact, during his 14-year NFL coaching career, only his 1990 Jets defense (29) finished a season with fewer than 32 take-aways.

After a 10-year collegiate-level coaching career, Carroll joined Kay Stephenson's staff with the Buffalo Bills as the secondary coach in 1984. He spent just one season in Buffalo before joining Bud Grant's staff in Minnesota in 1985.

Carroll began his coaching career at his alma mater, the University of Pacific, in 1974, at the age of 22. He coached three seasons at Pacific (1974-76) before moving on, gaining valuable coaching experiences at Arkansas (1977), Iowa State (1978) and Ohio State (1979) before settling in at North Carolina State in 1980. For the next three seasons (1980-82), Carroll directed the Wolfpack's defense before returning to Pacific in 1983 as the assistant head coach and offensive coordinator. During his collegiate coaching career, Carroll enjoyed many successes. He was on the staff of two different universities that claimed conference titles and finished the seasons with 11-1 records. The first came in 1977 when he was an assistant on Lou Holtz's staff at Arkansas. The Razorbacks overpowered Oklahoma 31-6 in the Orange Bowl to finish the year 11-1. Two years later, he celebrated similar success as an assistant on Earle Bruce's staff at Ohio State when the Buckeyes claimed the Big Ten title with an 11-0 record, but finished 11-1 after dropping a one-point decision, 17-16, to Southern Cal in the 1980 Rose Bowl.

Personal: Carroll was born Sept. 15, 1951 in San Francisco, Calif. He attended Redwood High in Larkspur, Calif., where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. After a standout prep football career, Carroll played two seasons at the College of Marin before transferring to the University of Pacific in 1971. In 1971 and 1972, he earned All-Pacific Coast Conference honors as a defensive back. He earned the Ironman Award each season, which is presented annually to the Pacific player who logs the most playing time in a year. In 1972, he captained the team to an 8-3 record as a senior and was voted the team's Most Inspirational Player. He graduated with a degree in business administration and later returned to earn his master's degree in physical education. His pursuit of a professional playing career ended after a tryout with the Hawaiians of the World Football League in 1973. In 1974, he began his coaching career at his alma mater. He and his wife, Glena, have three children: Brennan (3/20/79), Jaime (4/12/82) and Nathan (3/24/87).

Coaching Capsule: For the past 24 years, Pete Carroll has excelled in the coaching of young athletes. He is a high-energy, inspirational leader who has enjoyed tremendous coaching success both collegiately and professionally. He now accepts his greatest coaching challenge: To bring an NFL title to New England. Below is a brief review of Carroll's 24-year coaching career.

PAUL BOUDREAU

OFFENSIVE LINE
26TH COACHING SEASON
12TH NFL SEASON
2ND PATRIOTS SEASON

out takes

- An avid runner, Paul ran in the 1991 Boston Marathon with fellow coach Carl Smith.
- The Arlington, Mass. native was recruited to play football and baseball at Boston College (1971-73). After coaching at Oxford (Mass.) High, he returned to BC to coach the offensive line from 1975-76.
- His son, Paul, is now a graduate assistant on the coaching staff at the University of Cincinnati.

Coaching: Paul Boudreau, a 26-year coaching veteran with 12 NFL seasons to his credit, was named offensive line coach on Feb. 12, 1997. In his first season with the Patriots, the team finished 10-6 and won back-to-back division titles for the first time in franchise history. Injuries to RB Curtis Martin and WR Terry Glenn inhibited the Patriots' offensive arsenal, but the offensive line provided season-long consistency. As a unit, the line allowed just 30 sacks all season and ranked fourth in the league among fewest sacks allowed per pass attempt (18.7 pass plays/sack). Through 10 games, Martin was on pace to break the franchise's single season rushing record and the Patriots' offense ranked fourth in the league. But injuries beset Martin, who missed the final three games of the regular season and the offensive rankings slipped from fourth to 15th at season's end. Despite missing three games, Martin still finished the year with 1,160 yards rushing. His 4.2-yard average was a career best.

Boudreau joined the Patriots after three seasons as the offensive line coach of the Detroit Lions (1994-96). While in Detroit, Boudreau helped build one of the premier offensive lines in football, which powered one of the most potent offenses in the league during his tenure. He inherited All-Pro running back Barry Sanders, arguably the premier rusher in the league. Yet, prior to Boudreau's arrival, Sanders had only reached the 1,500-yard rushing plateau once in his first six NFL seasons. Upon Boudreau's arrival in 1994, Sanders rushed for a then career-high 1,883 yards and reached the 1,500-yard plateau for three consecutive seasons. In 1995, the Lions' offensive line powered the league's top rated offense as Sanders rushed for exactly 1,500 yards and quarterback Scott Mitchell set team records in virtually every passing category. At season's end, left tackle Lomas Brown and center Kevin Glover were each invited to the Pro Bowl. It was the first time in 36 years that two Lions offensive linemen received all-star recognition.

Boudreau began his NFL coaching career as the offensive line coach for the New Orleans Saints in 1987. In seven seasons with the Saints, he developed one of the most consistent front lines in all of football. In 1992, the Saints allowed just 15 sacks, an NFL-low and an all-time franchise record.

The Arlington, Mass. native began his coaching career at Oxford (Mass.) High in 1973. After one season at the prep level, he returned to his collegiate alma mater as the offensive line coach at Boston College. After two seasons at the Heights (1974-75), Boudreau accepted a position at Maine, which he held from 1976-78. He spent the next three seasons in the Ivy League as an assistant at Dartmouth (1979-81), followed by a one-year coaching stint at Navy (1982) before accepting his first professional coaching position with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League. He coached three seasons in the CFL (1983-86) before joining the NFL ranks with the Saints in 1987.

Playing: Boudreau was a three-year letterman in both football and baseball at Boston College. He graduated in the spring of 1973 and began his coaching career that fall.

Personal: Paul Boudreau was born Dec. 30, 1949 in Arlington, Mass. He attended Arlington High, where he lettered in football and baseball. He and his wife, Joan, have two children, Paul and Jill. His son, Paul, is now an assistant coach at Cincinnati College.

out takes

- Jeff earned all-conference honors protecting quarterback Tom Tupa at Ohio State. The two were also college teammates of linebackers coach Bo Pelini.
- Jeff was a fifth-round selection of the Denver Broncos in the 1990 NFL Draft.
- Jeff's father, Jim, was an All-American tackle at Ohio State in 1964 and was a first-round draft choice of the Buffalo Bills in 1965.

Coaching: Jeff Davidson joined Pete Carroll's staff on March 6, 1997. He instructed tight ends during his first season in New England. This year, he will concentrate his efforts assisting Paul Boudreau with the coaching of the Patriots' offensive line, a position Davidson played professionally for four seasons before entering the coaching ranks in 1995. He played each position on the offensive line, center, guard and tackle, during his career and will now be responsible for the continued development of some of the Patriots' young offensive linemen.

Last year, he was assigned to coach the team's tight ends, a position which produced another Pro Bowl effort from veteran TE Ben Coates. For the fourth time in the last five years, Coates led the team in receiving with 66 receptions for 737 yards and eight touchdowns. In addition, first-year reserve tight end Lovett Purnell scored on three of his five receptions. Only Coates and Troy Brown (6) caught more touchdown passes during the year.

Davidson began his NFL coaching career in 1995 with the New Orleans Saints as a volunteer assistant. He gained valuable coaching experience under the guidance of offensive line coach Jon Matsko on Jim Mora's staff. In 1996, Davidson was named offensive assistant, responsible for a multitude of functions, including the breaking down of game tapes, opponent scouting and self-scouting. In addition, he had a number of on-field coaching responsibilities.

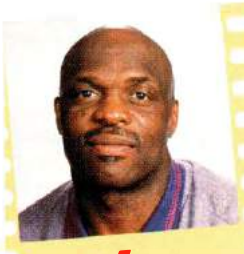

Davidson entered the league in 1990 as a fifth-round draft pick of the Denver Broncos. He played four seasons in the NFL before injuries ended his playing career. He began his pursuit of an NFL coaching career the following season when he joined the New Orleans Saints coaching staff as a volunteer assistant.

Playing: Davidson earned All-Big Ten honors as a senior and was a four-year letterman as an offensive lineman at Ohio State. He was drafted in the fifth round of the 1990 NFL draft by the Denver Broncos and moved into the starting lineup in just his second season. He started 16 games, including both playoff games, at left tackle. In 1992, he started every game at left guard. He was released by the Broncos in 1993 and signed by the New Orleans Saints as a free agent in 1994. He was on the active roster for the first seven games of the season, but suffered a shoulder injury which sidelined him for the remainder of the year and ultimately brought a premature end to his playing career.

Personal: Jeffrey John Davidson was born Oct. 3, 1967 in Akron, Ohio. He attended Westerville (Ohio) North High School where he earned Parade All-American honors as a senior. He was a three-sport prep letterman, starring in football (3 letters), track (4) and baseball (1). Jeff and his wife Judy have two sons; Nicholas and Alexander.

Coaching Capsule: Volunteer assistant — New Orleans Saints NFL (1995); offensive assistant — New Orleans Saints NFL (1996); tight ends coach — New England Patriots NFL (1997), offensive line assistant — New England Patriots (1998).

RAY HAMILTON

DEFENSIVE LINE
14TH COACHING SEASON
12TH NFL SEASON
7TH PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching: Ray Hamilton, who began both his NFL playing and coaching careers in New England, returned to the Patriots in 1997 when Pete Carroll appointed him as defensive line coach on Feb. 13, 1997.

In 1997, Hamilton helped initiate an aggressive, attacking defense, applying personal techniques which made him one of the premier defensive linemen in Patriots history. Veteran defensive tackle Henry Thomas emerged as the line's leading tackler with 69 stops and seven sacks. Willie McGinest was slowed by injuries in the beginning of the season, but was a dominant defender for the Patriots through the playoffs, compiling 11 tackles and 2.5 sacks in two games.

Statistically, the defense showed steady improvement throughout the season. Their 45 sacks in 1997 ranked eighth in the league and counted as a 12-sack improvement over 1996. The defense allowed just 289 total points (8th overall), an average of 18.1 points per game. That marked a 24-point improvement over 1996 (313 pts.), a 19.6 point average.

He joined the Patriots after two seasons in New York, where he coached the Jets' defensive line. While with the Jets, Hamilton was instrumental in the development of Hugh Douglas, who recorded 18 sacks in his first two seasons and was named NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year in 1995. As a unit, the defensive pressure improved significantly in Hamilton's first year with the Jets. That year, the Jets defense ranked fourth in the AFC, sixth overall (297.3 ypg) and had the top-ranked pass defense, allowing just 171.3 yards per game. In addition, the defense enjoyed a 14-sack improvement, jumping from 29 sacks in 1994 to 43 sacks in 1995. The 43 sacks tied for third in the AFC and was sixth in the league.

He began his professional coaching career in New England as the assistant defensive line coach on Raymond Berry's staff from 1985-89. In his first season as a coach, he helped instruct a defensive line which consisted of Julius Adams, Ken Sims and rookie sensation Garin Veris, whose 10 quarterback sacks set a franchise rookie record. That year, the Patriots won their first AFC Championship title and competed in Super Bowl XX.

In 1990, he left the Patriots and became the head coach of the semi-pro Bay State Titans, whom he led to the league championship game. While coaching the Titans, he tutored defensive tackle Eric Swann, the future first-round draft choice of the Arizona Cardinals and one of the premier defensive lineman in the NFL today. In 1991, he returned to the NFL as the defensive line coach with the Tampa Bay Buccaneers. In 1992, he accepted the defensive line responsibilities at Tennessee. That year, the Volunteers set a school record by compiling 40 sacks during the season. He returned to the NFL in 1993 with the Los Angeles Raiders. In two seasons with the Raiders, he played a significant role in the development of defensive tackle Chester McGlockton and of a defensive unit which totaled 83 sacks during his tenure. In 1993, the Raiders compiled 45 sacks, which ranked seventh in the league. The following year, they were once again among the league's top 10 in sacks with 38 (9th overall) and were ranked fourth in the AFC in total defense (308.9 ypg). He returned to the east coast in 1994 when he was named the defensive line coach on Rich Kotite's staff with the Jets.

Playing: Ray Hamilton was a fixture on the Patriots defensive line from 1973-81. Although he was a two-time All-Big 8 selection at Oklahoma, he remained on the draft board until the Patriots selected him in the 14th round of the 1973 NFL Draft. The selection proved to be one of the biggest steals in Patriots draft history. He was originally projected as a linebacker, but immediately found a home on the defensive line. In 1973, he lined up at left defensive end and set a Patriots rookie record with seven sacks (later broken by Garin Veris). He started every game that season, the first of a record-setting 110 consecutive starts. He moved to nose tackle in 1974 when the Patriots made the transition from a 4-3 to a 3-4 defense. He retired prior to the 1982 season as one of the most recognizable players in franchise history and currently ranks fourth among the team's all-time leaders with 54.0 career sacks.

Personal: Ray Hamilton was born Jan. 20, 1951 in Omaha, Neb., the second of 12 children. He attended Douglass High in Oklahoma City, where he lettered in football, wrestling and track. He excelled both on the field and in the classroom at Oklahoma, where he made the dean's list and earned a bachelor's degree in marketing at Oklahoma. As a member of the Patriots, he took graduate classes at Suffolk (Mass.) University, where he once again made the dean's list and earned a master's degree in public administration in 1977. Ray and his wife, Paula, have two sons, Kadar and Damon. Kadar recently graduated from Stanford University. Damon is a sophomore at the Wharton School of Business at the University of Pennsylvania.

RON LYNN

DEFENSIVE BACKS
33RD COACHING SEASON
13TH NFL SEASON
2ND PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching: Ron Lynn, a 33-year coaching veteran, including 13 NFL seasons, joined the Patriots on Feb. 12, 1997 when he was named defensive backs coach on Pete Carroll's staff.

In his first season with the Patriots, he initiated an aggressive, ball-hawking secondary which was responsible for 16 of the team's 19 interceptions and 21 of the 32 total take-aways. Both the interceptions and total take-aways ranked third in the AFC in 1997. The four starters ranked among the team's top seven in total tackles, combining for 368 stops, with Lawyer Milloy leading the way with 112. Milloy became the Patriots' first defensive back to eclipse the 100-tackle plateau since Fred Marion's 119 tackles in 1990.

out takes

- When Ron was coaching at Mt. Union, he recruited a young defensive back named Dom Capers on a football and baseball scholarship. Capers is now the head coach of the Carolina Panthers.
- Ron has been a defensive coordinator for 29 of his 33 seasons in the profession.

In just one year, the Patriots' pass defense improved from 28th in 1996 to 21st as the per game average fell from 237.7 ypg. to 216.8 ypg. in 1997 — 8th in the AFC. Part of that success can be attributed to the elimination of the long ball. Last year, the Patriots allowed just two completions of 45 yards or more with a long of 51. In 1996, the secondary surrendered nine completions of 45 yards or more, including two touchdown passes of over 60 yards.

Lynn joined the Patriots' staff after three seasons as the defensive coordinator of the Washington Redskins (1994-96). When he joined the Redskins, he took over a defense which had finished 26th in the league in 1993 and improved to 18th by 1995. In a year in which scoring was up league-wide, the Redskins allowed 53 fewer points than in 1994, the third-best improvement in the league.

He began his NFL coaching career in 1986 when he was named the defensive coordinator of the San Diego Chargers. He spent six seasons in San Diego (1986-91), where he inherited the league's 28th ranked defense in 1985 and molded them into one of the top five defensive units in the league by 1990. During his first season with the Chargers, the team set a club record with 62 quarterback sacks and recovered an NFL-high 22 fumbles.

In 1992, he took over the worst ranked defense in the league as defensive coordinator for the Cincinnati Bengals. In his first season with the Bengals, his defense totaled 46 sacks, doubling their total from the previous season. In just two seasons (1992-93), the defense evolved from the 28th ranked unit in the league to 16th overall. Much of the credit for the improvement was a result of the pass defense, which ranked last in 1991 and improved to second in the league in 1993. In 1994, Lynn accepted another challenge when he was named the defensive coordinator of the Washington Redskins, a unit which was ranked 26th in the league when he took over.

Lynn, a 32-year coaching veteran, gained 17 years of coaching experience at the collegiate level before making the transition to the professional level. His coaching career began in 1966 at the University of Toledo. He spent the next seven seasons (1967-73) as the defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach at his alma mater, Mt. Union. In 1974, he joined the staff at Kent State (1974-76) as their defensive coordinator and defensive backs coach. He coached the offensive backs in his first year at San Jose State in 1977 and switched back to defense as their assistant head coach and defensive coordinator in 1978. He spent one season at the University of Pacific (1979) before accepting the defensive coordinator and defensive back responsibilities at California from 1980-82. He joined the professional ranks in 1983 as the defensive coordinator of the USFL's Oakland Invaders. That year, his defense led the league in sacks. He coached three seasons in the USFL before joining the San Diego Chargers in 1986.

Playing: Lynn was a three-year letterman at Mt. Union in Ohio (1963-65). He played quarterback and defensive back during his collegiate career. Following his college playing career, Lynn entered the coaching profession.

Personal: Ron William Lynn was born in Youngstown, Ohio. He attended Struthers (Ohio) High and lettered in football and baseball. He played quarterback and defensive back at Mt. Union College in Alliance, Ohio, where he received his bachelor of science degree in chemistry. While coaching at Toledo, Lynn earned his master's degree in education. Ron and his wife, Cynthia, are the parents of three sons, Ryon (7/22/88), John (1/23/90) and Alec (12/23/91).

Coaching Capsule: Graduate assistant — Toledo (1966); defensive coordinator/defensive backs — Mt. Union (1967-73), Kent State (1974-76); offensive backs — San Jose State (1977); asst. head coach/defensive coordinator — San Jose State (1978); defensive coordinator/defensive backs — Pacific (1979); defensive coordinator/defensive backs — California (1980-82); defensive coordinator/defensive backs — Oakland Invaders USFL (1983-85); defensive coordinator — San Diego Chargers NFL (1986-91); defensive coordinator — Cincinnati Bengals NFL (1992-93); defensive coordinator — Washington Redskins NFL (1994-96); defensive backs — New England Patriots NFL (1997-98).

- ★ Following the 1994 season, Parker received the President's Award, presented annually to the top strength and conditioning coach in the NFL.
- ★ Johnny visited the Soviet Union in 1983 and again in 1986 to study the methods of the Russian Olympic trainers and has incorporated a number of their techniques into his strength and conditioning practices.

Coaching: Johnny Parker, a veteran of 15 NFL seasons and three Super Bowls, was named the Patriots' strength and conditioning coach on Jan. 25, 1993.

When he joined the Patriots in 1993, his first assignment as strength and conditioning coach was to develop a year-round conditioning routine for the players to utilize during the offseason to help prevent injuries in the fall. Much to the credit of his program and the work ethic of his players, the Patriots survived the 1993 season nearly injury-free, an amazing recovery from the injury-plagued 1992 season. His ability to motivate players to participate in a year-round training program has been the key to Parker's success over the years.

Following the 1994 season, the Professional Football Strength and Conditioning Coaches Society named Parker the recipient of their President's Award, presented annually to the top strength and conditioning coach in the NFL. Parker downplayed the award, stating, "In a team sport, there are no individual honors. Any honor is a reflection on the efforts of the entire team."

Parker's first professional assignment came in 1984, when he joined Bill Parcells' staff with the New York Giants. His strength and conditioning methods made an immediate impact on the team. Prior to Parker's arrival, the Giants were decimated by injuries. Twenty-five players spent time on the injured reserve list in 1983, as the team struggled through a 3-12-1 season. That number was reduced to seven in 1984 — Parker's first season with the Giants.

He began his coaching career as linebackers coach for Indianola Academy in 1969. He coached for five seasons (1969-73) before making the transition from the locker room to the weight room. In 1974, he was hired as the strength and conditioning coach at South Carolina. He spent three seasons (1974-76) with the Gamecocks before moving on to the University of Indiana in 1977. After three seasons (1977-79) of implementing his conditioning program at Indiana, he accepted the strength and conditioning responsibilities at Louisiana State in 1980. The following year, he began a three-year tenure (1981-83) at Ole Miss. His first professional assignment came in 1984 with the New York Giants.

Personal: Johnny Parker was born Feb. 1, 1947, in Greenville, S.C., and raised in Shaw, Miss. He graduated from Shaw High, then matriculated to Ole Miss, where he earned his bachelor's degree in 1968. Parker continued his education at Delta State University, where he earned his master's degree. He visited the Soviet Union in 1983 and again in 1986 to study the methods of the Russian Olympic trainers and has incorporated a number of their techniques into his strength and conditioning practices. Johnny married the former Jane Cline of Covington, Ind. in 1979.

Coaching Capsule: Linebackers coach — Indianola Academy (1969-73); strength and conditioning coach — South Carolina (1974-76); strength and conditioning coach — Indiana (1977-79); strength and conditioning coach — Louisiana State (1980); strength and conditioning coach — Mississippi (1981-83); strength and conditioning coach — New York Giants NFL (1984-92); strength and conditioning coach — New England Patriots NFL (1993- present).

BO PELINI

LINEBACKERS
8TH COACHING SEASON
5TH NFL SEASON
2ND PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching: Bo Pelini, an eight-year coaching veteran, joined Pete Carroll in New England when he was named the Patriots' linebackers coach on Feb. 12, 1997.

In his first season with the Patriots, he guided a young linebacking corps which provided three of the team's top five tacklers. Middle linebacker Ted Johnson led the team with a career-high 127 tackles. Todd Collins contributed a career-high 99 stops (2nd on the team) and Chris Slade's 88 total tackles, including a team-leading nine sacks, was enough to earn his first Pro Bowl honors. Slade became the first Patriot linebacker voted to the Pro Bowl since Johnny Rembert earned the honor in 1989.

Combined, the starting unit contributed 314 total tackles, including 14.5 sacks. The 14.5 sacks accounted for nearly one-third of the season's total of 45, which was a 12-sack improvement over the 1996 season (33 total sacks).

Pelini joined the Patriots after three seasons with San Francisco. He was hired by the 49ers in the spring of 1994 as a scouting assistant. Later that year, he accepted a position on George Siefert's staff as a defensive assistant. He assisted in the preparation of game plans, the evaluation of weekly opponents and the planning of practices. On the field, he assisted with coaching the linebackers. In 1995, he was assigned to the secondary, where he spent two years under the direction of defensive coordinator Pete Carroll.

His coaching career began as a graduate assistant on Hayden Fry's staff at Iowa. He spent two years with the Hawkeyes (1991-92) assisting with the receivers. In 1993, Pelini coached quarterbacks and the secondary at his high school alma mater, Cardinal Mooney High in Youngstown, Ohio, while earning a master's degree in sports administration from Ohio University.

Playing: Pelini played collegiately at Ohio State (1987-90), where he was a three-year starter in the secondary. He was voted team co-captain his senior season and was a three-time Academic All-Big Ten selection. He was voted by his teammates as the recipient of the Bo Rein Award, given annually to the team's most inspirational senior.

Personal: Mark "Bo" Pelini was born Nov. 13, 1967 in Youngstown, Ohio. He was a standout at Cardinal Mooney High in Youngstown, Ohio, where he played both quarterback and safety. He received all-state recognition as a senior after totaling 1,300 offensive yards. He was also a prep standout in basketball and was recruited by a number of colleges before declaring his intent to play football at Ohio State. Bo and his wife Mary Patricia, now reside in Attleboro, Mass.

Coaching Capsule: Graduate assistant — Iowa (1991-92); assistant coach — Cardinal Mooney High (1993); defensive assistant — San Francisco 49ers NFL (1994-96); linebackers coach — New England Patriots NFL (1997-98).

JACK REILLY

QUARTERBACKS
31ST COACHING SEASON
9TH NFL SEASON
1ST PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching: Jack Reilly, a 31-year coaching veteran with nine years of NFL experience, joined the Patriots on March 18, 1998 when he was named the quarterbacks coach on Pete Carroll's staff.

In his first season with the Patriots, Reilly inherits a position led by three-time Pro Bowl quarterback Drew Bledsoe. In the past five years, Bledsoe has attempted more passes (2,901) than any other quarterback has over a five-year span in NFL history. Reilly's challenge will be to oversee Bledsoe's progress as he continues to develop into one of the league's elite quarterbacks. Reilly is a reputed passing fundamentalist, who is sure to work on the delivery and passing motion of his quarterbacks throughout the season.

Prior to joining the Patriots, Reilly spent one season as the quarterbacks coach of the Dallas Cowboys. He became the first assistant coach to work exclusively with the quarterbacks — in a non-coordinator's role — since the 1989 season. In his only season with Troy Aikman, he saw his quarterback pass for more touchdowns (19) than he had in the previous five seasons, the second highest total of Aikman's career, while his interception ratio dropped from 2.8 percent in 1996 to 2.3 percent in 1997.

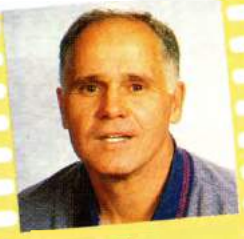

He began his NFL coaching career in 1990 as an offensive assistant with the San Diego Chargers. In his third season with the Chargers, he was promoted to pass-offense coordinator. That year, the Chargers won 11 of their final 12 games of the season to claim the AFC West division title. He remained in San Diego through the 1993 season. In 1994, he moved up the coast to Los Angeles, where he joined Art Shell's staff as the Raiders' running backs coach. After just one season with the Raiders, the cross-town Los Angeles Rams made their move to St. Louis and Reilly moved with them, joining Rich Brooks' staff as the offensive coordinator in 1995.

While in St. Louis, he helped wide receiver Isaac Bruce develop into a Pro Bowl performer. In 1995, Bruce was second in the NFL with 1,781 yards receiving, the second-highest single-season receiving total in NFL history. Reilly began his coaching career in 1968 at Beverly Hills (Calif.) High School. After 12 seasons, including the last five as head coach, Reilly pursued a collegiate coaching career, which began in 1980 at El Camino (Calif.) Junior College. He was named head coach in 1982 and in the next three years he posted a 19-10 overall record. His coaching abilities attracted the University of Utah, which hired him as the school's offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach in 1985. During his five-year stead (1985-89), Reilly guided the development of current Detroit Lions quarterback Scott Mitchell and directed one of the nation's most potent offenses. In 1987, Utah posted the third highest passing totals in the NCAA. The following year, the offense led the nation with an average of 396 yards passing and 547 total yards per game. In 1989, the offense slipped to second in the nation in passing. His collegiate success caught the attention of the San Diego Chargers, who hired Reilly for the 1990 season as an offensive assistant.

Playing: Reilly played quarterback collegiately at Washington State (1963), Santa Monica College (1964) and Long Beach State (1965-66). He was a junior college All-American at Santa Monica in 1964 and was recruited to Long Beach State, where he earned Little All-America honors as a senior.

Personal: Jack Reilly was born in Boston, Mass. and raised in Southern California. A standout prep career as a quarterback at Culver City (Calif.) High led to an opportunity to perform on the collegiate level. He played one season at both Washington State (1963) and Santa Monica College (1964) before landing at Long Beach State, where he lettered twice and earned Little All-American honors. Jack and his wife, Wendy, have a son, Chris, and two daughters, Corrie and Katie.

Coaching Capsule: Head coach — Beverly Hills (Calif.) High (1968-1979); assistant coach — El Camino (Calif.) J.C. (1980); head coach — El Camino (Calif.) J.C. (1981-84); offensive coordinator/quarterbacks — Utah (1985-89); offensive assistant — San Diego Chargers NFL (1990-91); pass offense coordinator — San Diego Chargers NFL (1992-93); running backs — Los Angeles Raiders NFL (1994); offensive coordinator — St. Louis Rams NFL (1995-96); quarterbacks — Dallas Cowboys NFL (1997); quarterbacks — New England Patriots NFL (1998).

DANTE SCARNECCHIA

SPECIAL TEAMS
29TH COACHING SEASON
18TH NFL SEASON
16TH PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching: Dante Scarnecchia is a veteran of 18 NFL seasons, including 16 with the Patriots, and two Super Bowl teams. He remained with the Patriots when he joined Pete Carroll's staff as the special teams coach on Feb. 4, 1997. He originally joined the Patriots in 1982. Since then, he has spent all but two seasons (1989-90) on the Patriots' sidelines. His 16 seasons as a Patriot assistant is the longest tenure by any Patriots coach in franchise history.

In 1997, his special teams units produced the league's second-best punter (Tom Tupa), fifth-best kick returner (David Meggett) and the AFC's special teams Pro Bowl representative — Larry Whigham. Tupa set a franchise record and led the AFC with a 45.8-yard average per punt. It was the first time in franchise history that a Patriots punter led the conference in punting. Meggett averaged 24.7 yards per return, tied for fifth in the league and third in the AFC, and Whigham, who consistently drew double coverage, was recognized as the AFC's best in special teams coverage.

Scarnecchia originally joined the Patriots and made his NFL coaching debut in 1982 as a member of Ron Meyer's staff. He coached the tight ends and special teams for the Patriots for seven seasons (1982-88) before moving on to Indianapolis with Ron Meyer in 1989. He rejoined the Patriots in 1991 after spending two seasons (1989-90) as the Colts' offensive line coach. From 1991 to 1992, he coached the tight ends and special teams on Dick MacPherson's staff. On Nov. 4, 1992, MacPherson fell ill and appointed Scarnecchia to serve as the team's spokesman in his absence. Scarnecchia fulfilled the obligation for seven of the Patriots' final eight games and held the responsibilities of the head coach for both of the Patriots' victories that season.

In 1993, he was the only Patriots' assistant retained from the previous staff. He was assigned special assistant from 1993-94, which was re-defined as defensive assistant from 1995-96. During that time, he assisted defensive coordinator Al Groh with the development of the team's linebacking corps.

His coaching career began in 1970 as the offensive line coach at California Western University. He moved to Iowa State in 1973, where he served as the assistant offensive line and defensive backfield coach. He spent the 1975 and 1976 campaigns at Southern Methodist University, before becoming the University of Pacific's offensive line coach and recruiting coordinator from 1977 through 1978. In 1979, Scarnecchia coached at Northern Arizona and then accepted an opportunity to return to Ron Meyer's staff at SMU as the offensive line coach in 1980. In 1982, Meyer was hired as the head coach of the New England Patriots and Scarnecchia was among a number of the SMU assistants who joined Meyer's staff in New England.

Playing: Scarnecchia played offensive guard and center at California Western University from 1968-70. He began his collegiate career at Taft Junior College in 1966 before transferring to California Western.

Personal: Dante Scarnecchia was born Feb. 15, 1948, in Los Angeles, Calif. He holds a master's degree in physical education from U.S. International. Dante and his wife, Susan, have a son, Steve (3/10/78) and a daughter, Lisa (10/28/81).

5TH PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching: Steve Sidwell, a 33-year coaching veteran with 17 years of NFL experience, began his NFL coaching career with the Patriots as their linebackers coach in 1982. On Feb. 4, 1997, he returned to the Patriots as the defensive coordinator on Pete Carroll's staff.

In 1997, Sidwell implemented a defensive scheme which developed into one of the most aggressive, attacking defenses in the league by season's end and propelled the team into the second round of the playoffs. As a unit, the defense forced 32 turnovers, which ranked sixth in the league (3rd in the AFC) and contributed to a +10 turnover differential — which ranked third in the league and was the highest differential by a Patriots team in 10 years. Many of those turnovers were forced by the relentless pressure applied by the Patriots' defense, which totaled 45 sacks for 303 yards — a 12-sack improvement over 1996 and the most by a Patriots team since the 1986 team compiled 48 sacks.

More importantly, the defense allowed 24 fewer points in 1997 than in 1996, allowing just 18.1 points per game — the seventh best single-season performance in franchise history. Much of the season-ending success was credited to the Patriots' defensive efforts, which limited two playoff opponents to a combined 10 points.

Sidwell began his professional coaching career as the Patriots' linebackers coach in 1982. That year, the Patriots drafted Andre Tippett, whom Sidwell tutored for the first three years of his career. By 1983, Tippett led the team in sacks with 8.5. The following year, the Patriots totaled 55 sacks, the fourth highest total in team history. Tippett led the team again that year, setting a franchise record with 18.5 sacks.

In 1985, Sidwell joined Indianapolis as the defensive line coach. He spent just one season with the Colts before moving on to New Orleans, where he joined Jim Mora's staff as the defensive coordinator of the Saints. It was in New Orleans that he established himself as one of the best defensive coaches in the game. Under his tutelage, the Saints defense became one of the most respected in the league. They were consistently ranked among the top 10 defensive units in the league and twice boasted the top defense in points allowed (1991-92). In 1989, they reported the league's best rush defense and from 1992-93, the Saints maintained the league's best pass defense. During his tenure, the Saints sent 18 defenders to the Pro Bowl, including four in 1992. After nine seasons in New Orleans (1986-94), he accepted the defensive coordinator position with the Houston Oilers. In two seasons with the Oilers (1995-96), their defense ranked no lower than sixth in the league. In 1995, the Oilers defense improved to fifth from ninth in the league in 1994. They were also an opportunistic defense, ranking third in the league with 38 takeaways (21 interceptions, 17 fumble recoveries). In 1996, the Oilers' rush defense ranked second in the NFL, allowing only 86.6 yards per game. The total was the third lowest in team history. In fact, the Oilers allowed just one 100-yard rushing performance all season, tying the Dallas Cowboys and Pittsburgh Steelers in that category. The Oilers defense also surrendered just five rushing touchdowns, marking the lowest single-season total in team history.

Sidwell's coaching career began in 1966 when he returned to his alma mater at Colorado to coach the team's linebackers. He spent eight seasons in Boulder (1966-73), before accepting the defensive coordinator position at the University of Nevada-Las Vegas in 1974. He spent two seasons in Vegas before moving on to Southern Methodist University in 1976. He led the Mustang's defense for six seasons under Ron Meyer at SMU and was one of the assistants that Meyer brought with him to New England in 1982.

Playing: Steve Sidwell attended the University of Colorado from 1962-65. He was a two-way starter who played center on offense and excelled as a linebacker on defense — a position which earned him all-conference honors as a senior. After his senior year, he was invited to play in both the Hula Bowl and the Blue-Gray Game. He also excelled in the classroom, earning academic All-American honors during his playing career.

Personal: Steve Sidwell was born Aug. 30, 1944 in Winfield, Kansas. Steve and his wife Katy have two sons; Brad, who coaches at Franklin (Mass.) High and Scott, who is in the marketing department with the New Orleans Saints.

TIGHT ENDS
28TH COACHING SEASON
13TH NFL SEASON
2ND PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching: Carl Smith, a coaching veteran of 28 seasons, including 13 in the NFL, joined Pete Carroll's staff in New England on Feb. 12, 1997. This year, he will instruct the team's tight ends — a position which features four-time Pro Bowler Ben Coates.

Last year, Smith directed the team's quarterbacks and received a Pro Bowl performance from Drew Bledsoe, who posted career-highs in the following categories; touchdowns (28), touchdown percentage (5.4%), completion percentage (60.2%), average gain per attempt (7.1-yard avg.) and quarterback rating (87.7). He started every game for the Patriots and finished among the league leaders in attempts (3rd), completions (2nd), yards (4th) and touchdowns (3rd). Bledsoe's 15 interceptions tied a career-low and gave him the fourth-best touchdown to interception differential in the league.

Smith, joined the Patriots after an 11-year tenure as the offensive coordinator and quarterbacks coach for the New Orleans Saints. While in New Orleans, his offenses were annually ranked among the league leaders. In 1987, the Saints ranked second in the league in scoring, averaging 26.4 points per game. That year, they also led the league in time of possession, a feat they duplicated in 1989 and 1991. In 1988, the Saints led the league in third down conversions. From 1987 to 1993, Paul Boudreau served as the offensive line coach on Smith's staff. During that time, the Saints maintained one of the premier front lines in the game. From 1990-91, the Saints ranked second in the league in sacks allowed. In 1992, they boasted a league-best by allowing just 15 sacks in 16 games. During the 1994 and 1995 seasons, the Saints finished among the top 10 in the NFL in passing offense. From 1990-96, the Saints allowed just 168 sacks (24.0 average), fewest in the NFL during that span.

Smith began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at his alma mater, Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo, in 1971. He moved to the University of Colorado as a graduate assistant in 1972. The following year he was named the linebackers coach of the staff. In 1974, Smith joined the University of Southwestern Louisiana as the defensive line coach. He enjoyed a five-year stay at SW Louisiana (1974-78), which included two seasons coaching the defensive backs (1975-76) and two seasons as offensive coordinator (1977-78). In 1979, he joined Larry Kennan's staff at Lamar University as the offensive coordinator. In his final year at Lamar (1981), he served as offensive coordinator and also coached the team's offensive line. His final season at the collegiate level was in 1982, when he served as the offensive coordinator at North Carolina State.

He joined the professional ranks in 1983 when he was named the special teams coach of the Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars of the USFL. From 1984-85, Smith was the Stars' quarterbacks and receivers coach, before joining Mora in New Orleans in 1986.

Playing: Carl lettered in football as a defensive back at Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo from 1969-70 after transferring from Bakersfield College where he played quarterback from 1966-67.

Personal: Carl Smith was born April 26, 1948 in Wasco, Calif. He attended Wasco Union High School in Wasco, Calif, where he lettered in football, basketball and baseball. Carl and his wife, Dianne, have three sons: Tracy, Tyler and Nicholas.

1ST PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching: DeWayne Walker joined the Patriots as a defensive assistant on Pete Carroll's staff on March 18, 1998. He will assist Ron Lynn with the defensive backs, a position he has instructed since entering the coaching ranks in 1988.

Walker made his first impressions on Carroll when he accepted a summer coaching internship with the 49ers in 1996 prior to his first season at the University of California. In 1997, Carroll extended a second summer internship opportunity to Walker, who accepted the offer in New England.

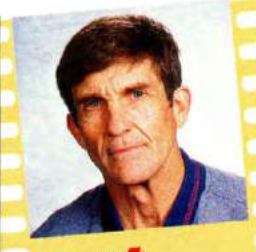

Walker began his coaching career at Mt. San Antonio Junior College in Walnut, Calif. in 1988. He spent his first four seasons (1988-91) as the secondary coach before assuming the defensive coordinator duties in 1992. His success at the junior college level attracted the interest of Utah State, who hired Walker as their defensive backs coach in 1993. That year, he helped develop a pair of all-conference corners — Damon Smith and Donard Toomer. The following year, he joined LaVell Edwards' staff at Brigham Young as the secondary and punt return coach. That fall, he helped develop another all-conference corner in Pat Mitchell. In 1995, he was lured away to join Bob Simmons' staff at Oklahoma State. That year, the Cowboys defeated arch-rival Oklahoma 12-0, their first shutout victory over the Sooners in 50 years. In 1996, the University of California came calling, offering Walker their secondary responsibilities. He spent two years at Cal, including the 1997 season in which he concentrated soley on the cornerback position before joining the Patriots in 1998.

Playing: Walker attended Pasadena City College and earned all-conference honors as defensive back in 1979. He then accepted a scholarship from Minnesota, where he was a two-year starter in 1980-81. He played professionally for three seasons, beginning his career with the Edmonton Eskimos in 1982. He had brief stints in the USFL with the Oakland Invaders in 1984 and the Arizona Outlaws in 1985.

Personal: DeWayne Walker was born Dec. 3, 1960 in Los Angeles, Calif. He attended Muir High in Pasadena, Calif. and lettered in football. He attended the University of Minnesota from 1980-83 and later earned his degree at Regents College in Albany, N.Y. He and his wife, Zan, have three children: Kesha, Kevan and Kendra.

WIDE RECEIVERS
28TH COACHING SEASON
16TH NFL SEASON
5TH PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching: Steve Walters, a 28-year coaching veteran, including 16 NFL seasons, was named wide receivers coach of the Patriots on Feb. 20, 1997. Walters returns to New England where he began his professional coaching career as a member of Ron Meyer's staff in 1982.

In 1997, the Patriots averaged 221.9 yards passing per game, seventh in the NFL. Shawn Jefferson led the receiving corps with 841 yards on 54 receptions — establishing new single-season career-highs for the seventh consecutive season. Troy Brown stepped in for an injury-riddled Terry Glenn, who missed nearly half the season due to injuries, and provided 607 yards and six touchdowns on 41 receptions. This year, the Patriots have added second-round draft choice Tony Simmons and veteran free agent Brian Stablein to their receiving corps. With the return of Glenn, the 1998 Patriots receiving corps promises to be as deep and as talented as any in franchise history.

Walters returned to New England in 1997 after an 11-year coaching tenure in New Orleans. While with the Saints, his wide receivers set the top four single-season reception marks in franchise history.

He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Virginia Tech in 1971. After two seasons, he accepted his first full-time position coaching receivers at Tampa University in 1973. He coached defensive backs for two seasons (1974-75) at Northeast Louisiana before moving on to Morehead State as the quarterbacks and receivers coach. From 1977-78, he was the offensive coordinator as well as the recruiting coordinator at Tulsa. In 1979, he joined the Memphis State staff as quarterbacks coach. He then joined Ron Meyer's staff at Southern Methodist in 1980, where he spent two seasons (1980-81) as the secondary coach. In 1982, Meyer left

SMU to become the head coach of the New England Patriots. In doing so, Meyer brought the majority of his SMU staff, including Walters, whom he named as his defensive backs coach.

While in New England (1982-84), Walters assisted in the development of some of the greatest Patriot defensive backs in franchise history, including Michael Haynes, Raymond Clayborn, Roland James, Fred Marion, Ron Lippett and Rick Sanford. In 1985, Walters returned to the collegiate ranks when he was named the defensive backs coach on Gene Stallings' staff at Alabama. He returned to the NFL in 1986 when he accepted a position as receivers coach on Jim Mora's staff with the Saints.

Playing: Walters was a two-year letterman (1969-70) as a defensive back at Arkansas. In 1969, the Razorbacks competed for the national title in the Cotton Bowl, but lost a 15-14 decision to Texas.

Personal: Steve Walters was born June 16, 1948 in Jonesboro, Ark. He attended Springdale (Ark.) High School, where he lettered in football, basketball and track. He earned his bachelor's degree while attending Arkansas and added a master's degree in physical education from Morehead State in 1976. Steve and his wife, Susan, have two children: Kirk and Kasey.

Coaching Capsule: Graduate assistant — Virginia Tech (1971-72); receivers coach — Tampa (1973); defensive backs coach — Northeast Louisiana (1974-75); quarterbacks/receivers coach — Morehead State (1976); offensive coordinator/recruiting coordinator — Tulsa (1977-78); quarterbacks coach — Memphis State (1979); defensive backs coach — Southern Methodist (1980-81); defensive backs coach — New England Patriots NFL (1982-84); defensive backs coach — Alabama (1985); wide receivers coach — New Orleans Saints NFL (1986-96); wide receivers coach — New England Patriots NFL (1997-98).

RUNNING BACKS
11TH COACHING SEASON
2ND NFL SEASON
2ND PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching: Kirby Wilson, an 11-year coaching veteran, was named to Pete Carroll's staff as the Patriots' running backs coach on Feb. 20, 1997.

In his first season with the Patriots, running back Curtis Martin established a career-high 4.2-yard average per carry despite playing most of the season with an injury. He finished the year with 1,160 yards on 274 carries in just 13 games. Martin missed the final three regular season games and both playoff games and was replaced by a committee of backs, including Derrick Cullors, Sedrick Shaw, David Meggett and Marrio Grier.

Wilson joined the Patriots staff after two seasons as the running backs coach at Iowa State (1995-96). During that time, Wilson helped develop All-American running back Troy Davis, who broke nearly every Cyclone rushing record during his collegiate career. In Wilson's first season at Iowa State, Davis led the nation in rushing with 2,010 yards and 15 touchdowns on 345 carries (5.8 avg.). In 1996, Davis led the nation again with 2,185 yards rushing to become the first player in NCAA history to rush for over 2,000 yards twice in a career. Davis earned consensus All-American accolades and was a Heisman Trophy finalist each season.

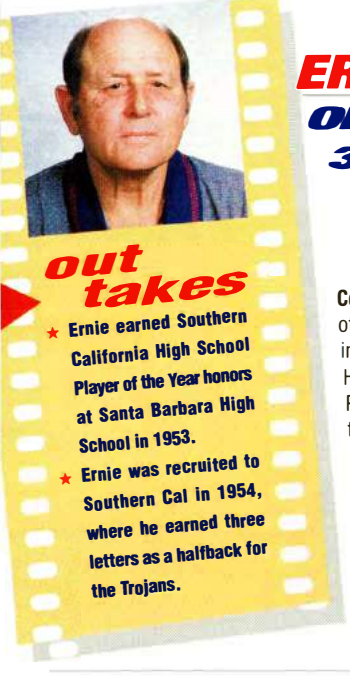

Wilson's coaching career began in 1985 as the receivers coach at Pasadena (Calif.) Community College. His star pupil that season was Anthony Miller. He returned to school and earned his bachelor's degree from Eastern Illinois before pursuing a career in coaching. In 1989, he was hired as the running backs and wide receivers coach at Los Angeles Southwest Community College. While he was there, he helped recruit the likes of Larry Brown (formerly with the Raiders), Bernard Daffney (formerly with Baltimore), Mark Fields (Saints) and Chris Mims (Washington). After two seasons, he moved on to Southern Illinois, where he coached the linebackers in 1991 and then moved to defensive coordinator and secondary coach in 1992, during which time three of his Saluki players earned all-conference honors. In 1993, he joined the staff at Wyoming as the defensive backs coach. That year, his secondary was second in the Western Athletic Conference in pass defense, resulting in an 8-4 record and a Copper Bowl bid. He spent two seasons in Wyoming (1993-94) before being named the running backs coach at Iowa State.

Playing: Wilson played two seasons at Pasadena (Calif.) Community College, where he earned all-league honors, before attending the University of Illinois. While at Illinois, Wilson played wide receiver and was the team's return specialist. He was named team captain as a senior in 1982 and led the Fighting Illini to a second-place finish in the Big Ten and appeared in the Liberty Bowl. He ranks sixth in school history with 824 yards in career kickoff returns. He played professionally for two seasons in the Canadian Football League with the Winnipeg Blue Bombers (1983) and the Toronto Argonauts (1984) before beginning his coaching career in 1985.

Personal: Kirby Wilson was born Aug. 24, 1961 in Los Angeles, Calif. He attended Dorsey High in Los Angeles, where he was a prep standout in football and also lettered in basketball and track. Kirby has two children, Kris and Michael. He and his wife, Danielle, celebrated Michael's birth on Oct. 10, 1997.

ERNIE ZAMPESE

OFFENSIVE COORDINATOR
35TH COACHING SEASON
21ST NFL SEASON
1ST PATRIOTS SEASON

Coaching: Ernie Zampese, a 35-year coaching veteran, was named the Patriots' offensive coordinator on Jan. 29, 1998. He brings 20 years of NFL coaching experience and one Super Bowl title with him to New England.

He is one of the most respected offensive minds in the league, joining the Patriots after 15 years of experience as an NFL offensive coordinator for the San Diego Chargers, Los Angeles Rams and most recently the Dallas Cowboys.

In New England, he inherits an offense anchored by six-time Pro Bowl left tackle Bruce Armstrong, four-time Pro Bowl tight end Ben Coates and three-time Pro Bowl quarterback Drew Bledsoe. Sprinkle in the offensive threats of Terry Glenn and Shawn Jefferson at wide receiver and a stable of young backs, including Sedrick Shaw, Derrick Cullors and first-round draft choice Robert Edwards, and the Patriots have the ingredients to whet the appetite of any offensive coordinator. He joins the Patriots after spending the last four years with the Cowboys (1994-97), where he inherited and developed the offensive talents of Troy Aikman, Emmitt Smith, Michael Irvin and Jay Novacek. In 1994, the Cowboys' offense finished second in the league in scoring, averaging 25.9 points per game. Aikman completed 64.5 percent of his passes that year and Smith led the league with 22 rushing touchdowns, powering the Cowboys to a 12-4 overall record and division title. The Cowboys advanced to the NFC Championship Game, but were defeated by the San Francisco 49ers.

In 1995, Zampese helped the Cowboys capture the NFL title in Super Bowl XXX with a 27-17 victory over Pittsburgh. The Dallas offense ranked second in the league in scoring (435 points; 27.2 ppg.) and was fifth overall in total offense, averaging 364.0 yards per game. Both totals represented the best offensive production by the Cowboys since 1983. In addition, they set a franchise record and led the league with 364 total first downs. The offense was powered by Smith, who earned his fourth NFL rushing title in five years with a club record 1,773 yards on 377 carries (4.7 avg.). He also set an NFL record by rushing for 25 touchdowns. Aikman finished the year as the league's third rated passer with a quarterback rating of 93.6 while passing for over 3,000 yards for the third time of his career. He was sacked just 18 times all season, setting a franchise-low. Irvin established team records with 111 receptions for 1,603 yards and tied an NFL record with seven consecutive games with over 100 yards receiving.

In 1996, the Cowboys won their fifth consecutive division title, their third under the tutelage of Zampese, despite fighting injuries and suspensions which limited Dallas' offensive arsenal. Going into that season, Zampese was without the services of two All-Pros — Irvin and Novacek — his two leading receivers from the previous season. After serving a five-game suspension, Irvin returned to catch 64 passes for 962 yards. Novacek never recovered from back problems, which resulted in the shuffling of five different starters at tight end throughout the season. Through midseason, seldom used reserve Eric Bjornson had become a regular starter and was ranked third among all NFL tight ends with 31 receptions before sustaining sprains to each ankle which limited his playing time for the remainder of the season. Smith, who was plagued by injuries to his neck, knees and ankles, still managed to rush for 1,204 yards and 12 touchdowns.

Zampese began his NFL coaching career as a defensive backs coach for the San Diego Chargers in 1976. He returned to the Chargers as their receivers coach in 1979 after two seasons as a scout for the New York Jets (1977-78). In 1983, he was promoted to offensive coordinator, a title he has held for the past 16 seasons. From 1983-87, he directed an offensive unit built around quarterback Dan Fouts, wide receiver Charlie Joiner and tight end Kellen Winslow — each of whom were later elected to the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

In 1987, he was named offensive coordinator of the Los Angeles Rams. In seven seasons with the Rams, his offenses were among the most potent in team history. From 1988-92, Jim Everett posted five consecutive 3,000-yard seasons, including a career-high 4,310 yards in 1989. From 1988-91, Henry Ellard eclipsed the 1,000-yard receiving plateau in four consecutive seasons and in five of those seven years, the Rams boasted a 1,000-yard rusher.

In 1994, Zampese joined Barry Switzer's staff in Dallas as the team's offensive coordinator. During his illustrious career, Zampese's teams have ranked among the top five in total offense seven times in the last 15 years.

Zampese began his coaching career at Allan Hancock Junior College in Santa Maria, Calif. in 1962. After four seasons (1962-65), he joined the staff as an assistant at Cal Poly-SLO in 1966. The following year, he moved down the coast to San Diego State, where he spent nine years (1967-75) instructing the Aztec's defensive backs. After 14 seasons at the collegiate level, Zampese made the transition to the NFL when he was hired by the San Diego Chargers in 1976.

Playing: Zampese was the California High School Player of the Year at Santa Barbara High in 1953. He was recruited to the University of Southern California, where he played tailback from 1954-57.

Personal: Ernie Zampese was born March 12, 1936 in Santa Barbara, Calif. He attended Santa Barbara High and excelled in football as a tailback, earning a scholarship to play for the Trojans of Southern Cal. After graduating, he matriculated to Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo where he earned his master's degree in physical education in 1962. He began his coaching career that fall. He and his wife of 38 years, Joyce, have two daughters, Kristin and Laurie, two sons, Kenneth and Jon, and eight grandchildren — Jillian, Boone, Chelsey, Jesse, Jeana, Lexi, Marina and Anthony.

★ As a tight end at Central High, Bruce set a school record with four touchdown receptions in a game.

★ As a junior at Louisville, Bruce made the transition from tight end to offensive tackle upon Howard Schnellenberger's urging.

★ In 1987, Bruce became the first Patriots offensive lineman to start as a rookie since John Hannah in 1973.

★ In 1990, Bruce was elected to his first Pro Bowl team, despite New England's 1-15 record that season.

Career Transactions

Bruce Armstrong was drafted by the Patriots in the first round of the 1987 NFL Draft (23rd player selected) and signed July 23, 1987 … He was placed on injured reserve (11/1/92) after tearing the medial collateral ligament and both his anterior and posterior cruciate ligaments in his right knee at Buffalo (11/1/92) … Placed on active/physically unable to perform list on July 16, 1993 and activated on July 27, 1993 … Re-signed a four-year contract on Feb. 15, 1994 … Re-signed a four-year contract on Feb. 12, 1998.

Career Highlights (GP/GS: 164/164; 6/6)

- Armstrong became just the fifth player in franchise history to be voted to six postseason all-star games. The Patriots record for Pro Bowl appearances is held by Hall of Fame guard John Hannah (9).
- Armstrong's 164 career starts ranks fifth in franchise history. Hall of Fame guard John Hannah holds the franchise record with 183 regular season career starts.
- Since joining the Patriots in 1987, Armstrong has started 164 of 172 possible non-strike games (he did not participate in three "strike" games during his rookie year). The only non-strike games missed by the six-time Pro Bowler were in 1992 after suffering what was feared to be a career-threatening knee injury in the eighth game of the season at Buffalo (11/1/92).

- Started the first 44 games of his career at right tackle before making the transition to left tackle in his fourth season, where he has since started 120 of 128 regular season games.
- Voted team captain in 1996 and again for the playoffs in 1997. Now in his 12th year with the Patriots, he is the senior member of the team and the only Patriot to have been retained from the '80s.

Seasonal Reviews

1997 (16/16; 2/2): Voted offensive team captain during the playoffs … Started every game at left tackle, extending his consecutive starting streak to 86 games, including six playoff games

… Earned Pro Bowl honors for the fourth consecutive season and the sixth time of his 11-year career … Also earned second-team All-NFL honors from Football Digest … Anchored an offensive line which allowed just 30 sacks all season and helped power the Patriots to their first back-to-back division titles in franchise history … With just 30 sacks on 562 pass plays, the line allowed just one sack per 18.7 pass attempts — fourth in the NFL … That protection provided for a franchise record-tying 31 touchdown passes, including a career-high 28 touchdowns by Drew Bledsoe (3rd in the NFL) … Armstrong has protected Bledsoe's blindside since the quarterback's rookie season and is largely responsible for Bledsoe's 44-game starting streak, which ranked first among the AFC quarterbacks at the end of the 1997 season … The line paved the way for RB Curtis Martin, who in just 13 games rushed for 1,160 yards on 274 carries (a career-high 4.2-yard avg.), his third consecutive 1,000-yard season … Through the first 11 weeks of the season, the Patriots offense was ranked fourth in the league in total offense (352.8 yards per game) and fifth in points per game (25.4).

1996 (16/16; 3/3): Elected offensive team captain by his teammates ... Anchored the left side of the Patriots' offensive line for the sixth consecutive season, starting every regular season and playoff game … Earned his third consecutive and fifth career trip to the Pro Bowl … Voted second-team All-Pro by Associated Press … Anchored an offensive line which allowed just 30 sacks on 658 pass plays, an average of one sack per 21.9 passes (6th in the league) … Paved the way for RB Curtis Martin's second consecutive 1,000-yard season … It was the first back-to-back 1,000-yard season by a Patriots rusher since 1967 … Dominated the left side of the line, which allowed for 598 rushing yards on 141 carries (4.2 avg.) during the season … Over 40 percent of all rushing yardage was gained on runs to the left side of the line … Paved the way for Martin to rush for 164 yards on just 17 carries (9.6 avg.) vs. Washington (10/13) … Anchored a line which dominated the trenches vs. Pittsburgh (1/5/97) in the divisional playoff game, as Martin rushed for 166 yards and three touchdowns on just 19 carries (8.7 avg.).

1995 (16/16): Started every game for the Patriots at left tackle and was one of three Patriots (along with Ben Coates and Curtis Martin) to be selected to the Pro Bowl … Anchored an offensive line which allowed just 27 sacks on 713 pass plays … The 26.4 pass plays per sack allowed ranked third in the NFL … When rushing to the left, the Patriots gained 651 yards on 153 carries, a 4.3-yard average … Contributed to the rushing success of rookie running back Curtis Martin, who rushed for 1,487 yards and 14 touchdowns on 368 carries, setting franchise records in each category … Martin picked up 538 of those yards on 130 carries (4.1 avg.) in Armstrong's direction.

1994 (16/16, 1/1): Started every game at left tackle, including the Patriots' playoff game at Cleveland (1/1/95) … Anchored an offensive line which allowed only 22 sacks for an offense which (including sacks) totaled 721 pass plays … 32.8 pass plays/sack ranked fourth in the NFL … Line did not allow more than three sacks in any game all season and allowed no more than one sack in seven games.

1993 (16/16): Made an extraordinary recovery from a severe knee injury in 1992 to regain his starting left tackle position in '93 … Anchored an offensive line which allowed only 23 quarterback sacks all year, second in the NFL (NY Jets allowed 21) … Offensive line allowed only one sack in the final six games of the season and helped the Patriots complete a season-ending four-game winning streak … One of the best performances of the season came in a 38-0 triumph over Indianapolis (12/26) in which the Patriots rushed for a season-high 257 yards, the most by the Patriots since totaling 281 yards vs. Cincinnati in 1985.

1992 (8/8): Started the first eight games of the season at left tackle before suffering torn ligaments in his right knee at Buffalo (11/1) … The injury included tears of the medial collateral ligament and both his anterior and posterior cruciates in his right knee … He was placed on the injured reserve list the following day (11/2), which ended his consecutive game starting streak at 84 games and eliminated any chance of him making his third consecutive Pro Bowl appearance.

1991 (16/16): Started all 16 games at left tackle and was selected to play in his second consecutive Pro Bowl … Anchored a line which produced the team's first 3,000-yard passing performance in five years when Hugh Millen passed for 3,073 yards … Played an important role in the success of Leonard Russell, who rushed for 959 yards and four touchdowns and earned Rookie of the Year honors … Helped the offense roll up 400 total yards in a 23-17 overtime victory vs. Indianapolis (12/8).

1990 (16/16): Dominated his opposition all season and was rewarded by being selected to start in his first Pro Bowl at left tackle, an amazing accomplishment considering the team's 1-15 finish … Armstrong was the team's sole representative selected, continuing a 15-year tradition of Patriots in the Pro Bowl … Named first-team All-AFC by Pro Football Weekly … Recipient of the Jim Lee Hunt Award, which is awarded annually to the team's top interior lineman.

1989 (16/16): Played in all 16 games at right offensive tackle and was selected second-team All-AFC by UPI … Started vs. Miami (9/17) despite suffering from a hairline fracture in his right hand … Blocked for four different quarterbacks during the season; Steve Grogan, Marc Wilson, Tony Eason and Doug Flutie … The foursome combined for nearly 4,000 yards passing (3,957) … The rushing tandem of John Stephens and Robert Perryman totaled 1,395 yards and nine touchdowns that season … Also made one solo tackle on special teams, his first career NFL tackle.

1988 (16/16): Started all 16 games at right tackle … Elected first-team All-Pro by Football Digest and The Sporting News … Earned All-AFC honors from Football News and UPI … Voted second-team All-Pro by Associated Press … Paved the way for John Stephens, who totaled 1,168 yards and four touchdowns on 297 carries to earn Rookie of the Year honors … His 1,168 yards rushing was the fourth-best single season total in franchise history … His 297 carries was second only to Jim Nance's 299 in 1966 (that total has since been eclipsed by Leonard Russell and Curtis Martin) … Combined with Perryman, the rushing tandem combined for 1,616 of the team's 2,120 total rushing yards.

1987 (12/12): Started all 12 games at right tackle during the strike-shortened season … Named Patriots' Rookie of the Year by the 1776 Quarterback Club of New England and was selected on virtually every all-rookie team … Named co-winner (with Garin Veris) of the Jim Lee Hunt Award, which is presented annually to the club's top interior lineman as selected by the coaches … First rookie to start on the club's offensive line since John Hannah in 1973 … Played entire season with a special shoulder harness, which was required after he injured it during both mini-camp and training camp … Underwent shoulder surgery on Dec. 30, 1987 to repair the damage.

College: Made the transition from tight end to left tackle three days into spring drills during his junior season in 1985 upon coach Howard Schnellenberger's urging … Started that fall and did not allow a sack in his last seven games, despite playing the position at only 240 pounds … Did not allow a sack during his senior campaign … Played in the Senior Bowl after being selected a first-team All-South Independent by Associated Press … Voted the team's Outstanding Offensive Lineman in 1986 … Originally recruited to Louisville as a tight end in 1983 and caught seven passes for 103 yards in five starts that season … In 1984, he started all 11 games at tight end and finished second on the team with 26 receptions for 289 yards and three touchdowns.

Personal: Bruce Charles Armstrong was born on Sept. 7, 1965 in Miami, Fla. … He earned All-American honorable mention and all-county acclaim as a tight end at Central High in Miami, Fla. … Named school's top scholar-athlete as a senior … High school coach, Rudy Barber, played for the Miami Dolphins in 1968 … Lettered three times in track and football … Majored in political science at Louisville … His wife, Melinda Yvette Armstrong, recently bought and now operates a salon in Alpharetta, Ga. … The Armstrongs have two children — Candace Lynne (4/12/84) and Nicholas Charles (5/8/95).

Mike Bartrum was acquired by the Patriots along with defensive end Walter Scott via a trade with the Green Bay Packers for past considerations (8/25/96) ... Originally signed by Kansas City as a non-drafted free agent (5/5/93) ... Released by Chiefs (8/30/93) and re-signed to practice squad (8/31/93) ... Activated (10/27/93) ... Released by Chiefs (8/23/94) ... Signed by Green Bay (1/20/95) ... Placed on injured reserve with a broken arm (10/11/95; out for remainder of season) ... Traded by Green Bay to the Patriots (8/25/96) ... Fractured his left forearm (11/2/97) and was placed on injured reserve (11/10/97) ... Re-signed (4/7/98).

Career Highlights (GP/GS: 32/0, 4/0)

- Bartrum's first career reception was a 1-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Drew Bledsoe in a 46-38 victory over the Ravens in Baltimore on Oct. 6, 1996.
- Forced his first career fumble on a punt coverage team at Indianapolis (10/20/96), which was recovered by Marrio Grier and converted into a Curtis Martin touchdown in a 27-9 victory.
- Recovered a fumble caused by Marty Moore in a 20-6 AFC Championship victory over Jacksonville (1/12/97).
- Bartrum has been one of the premier long snappers in his two seasons with the Patriots, delivering long snaps with precision on both punting and kicking units.

Seasonal Reviews

1997 (9/0, 0/0): Appeared in the first nine games of the season as the Patriots' long snapper on punt, field goal and PAT units, a role he has perfected during his four-year career ... Recorded three special teams tackles on coverage units ... Suffered a season-ending injury when he fractured his left forearm at Minnesota (11/2) ... He had surgery the following day (11/3), but remained on the roster for another week ... He was reported among the team's inactives prior to the Buffalo game (11/9) ... Placed on injured reserve the following day (11/10).

1996 (16/0, 3/0): Bartrum was acquired by the Patriots in the final week of the preseason and immediately assumed the long-snapping responsibilities ... Proved to be a tremendous special teams asset with his precision snapping for punting and placement kicking ... Played in every game, including each of the Patriots' playoff games, handling all of the team's long-snapping chores ... Saw only limited playing time as a reserve tight end ... Totaled six special teams tackles and forced two fumbles during the season, adding four special teams tackles and a fumble recovery in the playoffs ... Recorded his first career reception on a 1-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Drew Bledsoe in a 46-38 victory over the Ravens in Baltimore (10/6) ... It was his only reception of the season ... Forced his first career fumble on a punt coverage team at Indianapolis (10/20), which was recovered by Marrio Grier and converted into a Curtis Martin touchdown in a 27-9 victory ... Recovered a fumble caused by Marty Moore in a 20-6 AFC Championship victory over Jacksonville (1/12/97).

1995 (4/0-Green Bay): Opened the season as Green Bay's third tight end, but was the top long-snapper on punts until suffering a broken left arm at Jacksonville (9/24) ... Placed on injured reserve for the remainder of the season ... Subbed in each of the first four games and recorded one special teams tackle vs. the N.Y. Giants (9/17) ... Played in two-tight end sets at Chicago (9/11) after starter Mark Chmura went down with an ankle injury.

1994 (0/0): Spent the 1994 season out of football after being released by Kansas City (8/23).

1993 (3/0, 1/0-Kansas City): Saw limited action in three regular season games and one playoff game as a rookie after being activated from the team's practice squad (10/26) ... Signed as non-drafted free agent (5/5) and released (8/30) on the team's final cuts ... Re-signed to the Chiefs practice squad (8/31).

College: Two-year starter and three-year letterman (1989, 1991-92) at Marshall University in Huntington, W.V. ... Totalled 109 career receptions for 1,187 yards (10.9 avg.) and 10 touchdowns ... Earned consensus All-Southern Conference honors as a senior when he caught 62 passes for 680 yards and nine touchdowns, guiding Marshall to a Division I-AA national title ... Missed the entire 1990 season with a knee injury suffered in spring practice ... Redshirted in 1988 ... Lettered in baseball as a relief pitcher as a junior (1991)

Personal: Michael Weldon Bartrum was born June 23, 1970 in Galliapolis, Ohio ... He attended Meigs High in Pomeroy, Ohio, where he was a three-sport letterman and all-state selection ... He was a four-year letterman in baseball, three-year letterman in football and two-year letterman in basketball ... Passed for 1,900 yards and 24 touchdowns as a quarterback his junior and senior seasons ... Earned a B.A. degree in elementary and special education at Marshall ... He has been teaching 4th and 5th grade special education classes at Louisburg (Kan.) Elementary School since his 1995 offseason ... Also taught at Louisburg High School in the fall of '95 after being placed on injured reserve ... Mike enjoys playing golf ... Mike and his wife, Jennifer, keep an off-season residence in Overland Park, just outside of Kansas City and are expecting their first child this year.

Career Transactions

The Patriots selected Bledsoe with the first overall pick in the 1993 NFL draft (4/25/93) ... Signed with the Patriots on July 6, 1993 ... Signed a seven-year contract extension on July 20, 1995.

Career Highlights (GP/GS: 76/75; 6/6)

- In 1997, Bledsoe led the Patriots to their second consecutive division title for the first time in franchise history and took the Patriots into the playoffs for the third time in four years.
- Including postseason, Bledsoe has established a 45-36 overall record (.556 winning percentage) in games he has started and boasts a 36-15 overall record (.706) at Foxboro Stadium.
- His 2,901 pass attempts in five seasons is more than any other quarterback has thrown during any five-year period in NFL history.
- He enters the 1998 season ranked second among the Patriots' all-time passing leaders with 2,901 career pass attempts, 1,624 completions and 18,348 yards and ranked third in franchise history in touchdown passes (108) and completion percentage (.560).
- Since entering the league in 1993, only Brett Favre (80 games) and John Elway (77) have quarterbacked their teams in more games than Bledsoe (76) and only Favre (93 consecutive starts) and Trent Dilfer (47) have started more consecutive games at quarterback than Bledsoe (44).
- In the past four seasons, he has missed just one game (due to a separated shoulder). In fact, he has only missed four games in his NFL career, three as a rookie in 1993 and one in 1995.
- In 1996, just his fourth NFL season, Bledsoe guided the Patriots to an AFC Championship and took the Patriots to their second Super Bowl in franchise history.
- In 1994, he set franchise single-season passing records for attempts (691), completions (400) and yards passing (4,555).
- His 691 pass attempts in 1994 remains an NFL record. He also set NFL records for attempts (70) and completions (45) in a game (vs. Minnesota on 11/13/94).

• In that game vs. Minnesota, he exploded for a franchise record by completing 45 of 70 passes for 421 yards and three touchdowns. Trailing 20-0 with 58 seconds remaining in the first half, he completed four consecutive passes to lead the Patriots on a seven-play, 48-yard drive to position Matt Bahr for a 38-yard field goal as time expired. In the second half, Bledsoe turned in what has already become a legendary performance by completing 37 of 53 attempts (.698) for 354 yards and three touchdowns, without an interception, a sack or a penalty called against him.

• He has employed 19 different receivers for his 108 career touchdown passes, of whom Ben Coates has been his favorite target with 37 career touchdown receptions (34.3 percent).

• In 1995, he set a franchise record by attempting 179 consecutive passes without an interception (10/23/95 to 11/26/95).

• At the age of 23, he became the youngest player in NFL history to surpass the 10,000-yard passing plateau when he connected with Ben Coates on a 6-yard completion just before the half vs. the Jets (12/10/95).

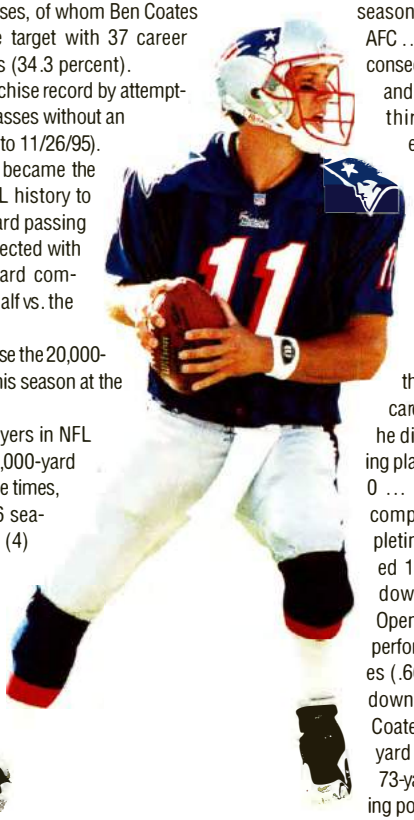

• He is expected to eclipse the 20,000-yard passing plateau this season at the age of 26.

• He is one of four players in NFL history to eclipse the 4,000-yard passing plateau multiple times, joining Dan Marino (6 seasons), Warren Moon (4) and Dan Fouts (3).

• He has now eclipsed the 3,500-yard passing plateau in each of the last four seasons. No quarterback in franchise history had ever reached that plateau before Bledsoe.

• He has eclipsed a quarterback rating of 100.0 in 15 games during his career, including four in 1997. The Patriots are 15-0 in those games.

• At the age of 21, he became the youngest player in franchise history and just the second rookie quarterback in team history to start in his NFL debut (Jim Plunkett started in his NFL debut in 1971).

Seasonal Reviews

1997 (16/16, 2/2): Bledsoe extended his consecutive-games starting streak to 44 games — which ranks third among NFL quarterbacks and leads the AFC … He was once again among the league leaders in most passing categories … He completed 314 (2nd in the NFL) of 522 passes (3rd) for 3,706 yards (4th) and 28 touchdowns (3rd) … His touchdown-to-interception ratio of +13 ranked third in the league and his 87.7 quarterback rating set a single-season career high and ranked third in the AFC … He led the Patriots to their second consecutive division title – a franchise first- and guided them to the playoffs for the third time in four seasons … He eclipsed the 3,500-yard passing plateau for the fourth consecutive season and earned his third trip to the Pro Bowl … Entering the 1997 season, Bledsoe had completed four passes of 50 yards or more … In 1997, he completed seven passes of 50 yards or more, including three to Troy Brown … He threw just 15 interceptions, tying a career low … In seven games in which he didn't throw an interception (including playoffs) in 1997, the Patriots were 7-0 … He led the league in third down completion percentage (.600) by completing 102 of 170 attempts … Recorded 10 of his 28 touchdowns on third downs, which also led the league … Opened the season with a near flawless performance, completing 26 of 39 passes (.667) for 340 yards and four touchdowns vs. San Diego (8/31) … Ben Coates was on the receiving end of a 4-yard touchdown pass to cap a 10-play, 73-yard scoring drive on the game's opening possession — which proved to be the first touchdown in the league in 1997 … Gained an extra 8 yards on two carries and made two big blocks for Curtis Martin on off-tackle runs … Earned Miller Lite Player of the Game and Staples Star of the Game honors for his efforts … Recorded a quarterback rating of 128.2 — the fourth highest single-game rating of his career ... Scorched the Chargers secondary by employing eight different receivers in the game and completing four touchdown passes — tying a single game career-high ... Only Steve Grogan and Vito Parilli, who have each completed five touchdown passes in a game, have thrown more ... Bledsoe was not sacked or intercepted in the game for the 11th time of his career (the Patriots are 10-1 in those games) ... It was his 14th career 300-yard game and his 12th game with more than three touchdown passes ... The following week at Indianapolis (9/7), where he completed 15 of 25 passes for 267 yards and four touchdowns to earn Staples Star of Game and Miller Lite Player of the Game honors for the second straight week ... He finished with a 149.9 quarterback rating- the second highest rating of his career (record is 185.0 vs. Indianapolis on 12/26/93) ... Became the first player in NFL history to throw at least four touchdown passes in each of the first two weeks of the season ... His eight touchdown passes in two games is the highest two-game total of his career ... Even more remarkable, his eight touchdown passes were spread to eight different receivers ... It wasn't until the third week of the season vs. the N.Y. Jets (9/14) that he threw his first interception of the season ... The interception by Mo Lewis was returned 43-yards for a touchdown in the third quarter to give the Jets their first lead of the game, but a 10-yard touchdown pass to Lovett Purnell helped the Patriots regain the lead and claim an overtime victory ... It gave the Patriots their first 3-0 start since 1974 ...Bledsoe led the Patriots to their fourth consecutive victory to open the season with a 31-3 thrashing of the Chicago Bears (9/21) ...

TOUCHDOWN TWINS

Drew Bledsoe connected with his favorite touchdown target, Ben Coates, for eight scores in 1997. The tandem now has 37 career touchdowns between them, which ranks fourth in the NFL among active touchdown tandems. The league's top five are listed below:

He completed 64.9 percent of his passes (24 of 37) and passed for over 300 yards (301) for the second time in four games .... He operated out of shotgun formation for the first extended period of time in his career and completed 4 of 7 passes for 28 yards and one sack ... The Patriots first loss came in a Monday Night contest at Denver (10/6) ... He completed passes to eight different receivers, but completed only 20 of 41 attempts for 234 yards ... He fumbled once but recovered his own fumble ... He converted a key 4th-and-1 with a quarterback sneak for 3 yards ... Rebounded with a 33-6 victory vs. Buffalo (10/12) ... He connected with Coates for a 20-yard touchdown to cap a 63-yard opening drive ... It was the fourth consecutive time that Bledsoe had converted an opening drive into a touchdown completion at Foxboro Stadium ... At the N.Y. Jets (10/19), he completed passes for 294 yards, including a season-long 67-yard completion to Troy Brown ... He added a pair of touchdown passes to give him 17 through the first seven games, which surpassed his season totals in 1993 (15) and 1995 (13) ... He was sacked for 100th time in his 67th career game — an average of 1.5 a game for his career … He had a season-high 17 yards rushing, including a season-long run of 8 yards … Threw a season-high three interceptions in a Monday Night contest vs. Green Bay (10/27), including one on a Hail Mary attempt as time expired in the first half … Completed his longest pass of the season at Minnesota (11/2) — a 76-yard completion to Shawn Jefferson … It was the second longest completion of is career (Ben Coates 84-yard touchdown vs. Miami 11/3/96) … Completed his 100th career touchdown pass — a 3-yard pass to Terry Glenn … Set season-highs with 42 attempts and 27 completions to earn Miller Lite Player of the Game honors for the third time … His 313 yards moved him ahead of Vito "Babe" Parilli into second place among the Patriots' all-time leading passers … He did not throw an interception in a victory over Buffalo (11/9) and extended his consecutive game touchdown streak to 11 games … Posted his third game of the year with a quarterback rating over 100.0 … After a disastrous game at Tampa Bay (11/16) in which he had a season-low quarterback rating of 31.6, Bledsoe rebounded to guide the Patriots to victories in four of their next five games and claim back-to-back division titles for the first time in franchise history … That streak started with a 27-24 victory over Miami (11/23) … He earned Staples Star of the Game for his performance vs. Indianapolis (11/30) when he passed for two touchdowns without an interception to claim a 20-17 victory … He completed a season-high 74.3 percent of his passes (26 of 35) the following week at Jacksonville (12/7) … It was the second-highest single-game completion percentage of his career and once again helped him earn Staples Star of the Game honors … He was stopped for no gain on a quarterback sneak — his first failed attempt for a first down of the season … He had a streak of 120 consecutive attempts without an interception snapped vs. Pittsburgh (12/13) … His second interception of the game was returned 36 yards by Kevin Henry to set up a game tying Steeler touchdown late in the fourth quarter … He set a single-season career best with his 28th touchdown pass of the year when he connected with David Meggett for a 49-yard score … A 14-12 victory over Miami (12/22) in the season finale set up a Wild-Card rematch in Foxboro … He completed 18 of 26 passes (.692), his second-highest completion percentage of the season … He did not complete a touchdown pass for just the third time all season, but two short touchdown runs were enough to secure the win … The season-ending victory propelled the Patriots into the playoffs for the third time in four years and earned the Patriots their second consecutive division title and a rematch with the Dolphins in the first round of the playoffs (12/28) … In the playoff game, Bledsoe connected with Troy Brown for a 24-yard touchdown, his first touchdown against the Dolphins in 1997 … His passing totals were a rather modest 16 of 32 for 139 yards, but he did not throw an interception and his touchdown pass to Brown proved to be enough to secure a victory, as the defense limited Miami to just a field goal in a 17-3 game … It was the Patriots' second victory over Miami in a week, their third of the season, and earned them a place in the NFL annals as they became just the sixth team in NFL history to record a three-game sweep of another opponent in a single season … In the divisional playoff game at Pittsburgh (1/3/98), he passed for 264 yards — a postseason career-high- while completing 23 of 44 attempts (.523), but was intercepted twice and fumbled due to a blindside hit while attempting to pass on the team's final possession … The Patriots were unable to compensate for the loss of running back Curtis Martin, generating just 36 yards on 19 carries …

HOMEFIELD ADVANTAGE

Drew Bledsoe is now 9-2 as a starter for the Patriots at Foxboro Stadium in the month of December.

HOW'S THAT FOR STARTERS

In 1994, Drew Bledsoe started all 16 games for the Patriots and set an NFL record by attempting 691 passes. In doing so, he became the first quarterback to start every game for the Patriots in 15 years. Steve Grogan was the last quarterback to start every game for the Patriots, back in 1979. Thirteen different quarterbacks had split time between 1976 and 1994. In 1996, Bledsoe started 19 games, including each of the three playoff games. No other quarterback in franchise history had ever started 19 games in one season. Since Nov. 21, 1993, Bledsoe has started 70 of 71 possible regular season games and all six Patriots playoff games.

In addition, they lost wide receiver Terry Glenn and tight end Ben Coates to injuries during the game, yet were still in contention for a game-winning drive on their final possession.

1996 (16/16, 3/3): Bledsoe started all 19 games for the Patriots, including playoffs, the most single-season starts by a Patriots quarterback in franchise history ... For the second time in three seasons, he eclipsed the 4,000-yard passing plateau and earned a return trip to the Pro Bowl ... He led the league in pass attempts (623) for the third consecutive season and in completions (373) for the second time in three years ... His 4,086 yards, 27 touchdowns and 2.4% interception ratio totals were each ranked third in the league ... He set a personal single-season best with a quarterback rating of 83.7, fifth in the AFC ... After an 0-2 start, he guided the team to victories in 11 of the next 14 games to claim the AFC East Title ... The Patriots then defeated the Pittsburgh Steelers and Jacksonville Jaguars to claim the AFC Championship and advance to Super Bowl XXXI ... He opened the season at Miami (9/1) and moved ahead of Tony Eason into third place on the Patriots' all-time passing list with his performance ... The Patriots were without WRs Terry Glenn and Vincent Brisby and they lost Shawn Jefferson during the game with a concussion ... Bledsoe employed seven different receivers in the game, but was sacked four times in a 24-10 season-opening loss to the Dolphins ... Sacked four times the following week in a losing effort at Buffalo (9/8), but did complete a 37-yard touchdown pass to rookie wide out Terry Glenn, his first career touchdown reception ... Earned Miller Lite Player of the Game honors for his performance in the 1996 home opener, a 31-0 blanking of Arizona (9/15) ... He completed 21 of 35 attempts (.600) for 221 yards and three touchdowns without an interception, but it was his pickup of a first down on 4th-and-1 when he jumped over a defender for a 1-yard gain that will be most remembered ... He completed his first eight pass attempts vs. Jacksonville (9/22) the following week and led the Patriots on a 49-yard drive to set up the game-winning kick in an overtime victory over the Jaguars ... Earned Miller Lite Player of the Game and Staples Star of the Game honors the following week at Baltimore (10/6) when he threw for a season-high and single-game career-tying four touchdown passes in a 46-38 victory over the Ravens ... He completed 25 of 39 attempts (.641) for 310 yards and finished with a quarterback rating of 122.8 ... It marked the 10th 300-yard game of his young career ... He attempted a season-high 48 attempts in a losing effort vs. Washington (10/13) ... He completed 14 of 24 attempts for 142 yards in a 27-9 victory over Indianapolis, his lowest passing totals since Dec. 12, 1993 (vs. Cincinnati) ... Completed 11 of his first 12 attempts and earned Miller Lite Player of the Game honors for his nationally televised Sunday night performance against Buffalo (10/27) ... He finished the game completing a season-high 32 of 45 attempts (.711) for 373 yards and a touchdown ... Earned Staples Star of the Game honors the following week vs. Miami (11/3) when he completed 30 of 41 attempts (.732) for a season-high 419 yards and a career-long 84-yard touchdown pass ... His 419 yards passing was the second-highest single-game passing total in franchise history (426 vs. Minnesota on Nov. 13, 1994) ... His 84-yard touchdown completion to Ben Coates was the fourth-longest in franchise history ... Had a streak of 87 consecutive attempts without an interception snapped when Terrell Buckley picked off a pass in the first quarter ... Earned Staples Star of the Game honors for the third consecutive week at the Jets (11/10) ... Despite opening the game 0-for-4 with an interception and a lost fumble, he still finished with 297 yards (24-of-34) and three touchdowns in a dramatic 31-27 come-from-behind victory ... Completed nine of his first 11 attempts for 123 yards and two touchdowns vs. Indianapolis (11/24) and finished the game with 242 yards passing in a 27-13 victory ... Earned Miller Lite Player of the Game honors the following week for his performance in a 45-7 victory over San Diego (12/1) ... He completed nine of his first 11 attempts for the second consecutive week, this time for three touchdowns, to give the Patriots a quick lead in the nationally televised contest ... He finished the game completing 19 of 29 attempts (.655) for 232 yards and four touchdowns ... It was his fourth 4-touchdown game of his career, the second of the season and marked the 12th time that he had thrown for three or more touchdowns in a single game ... He eclipsed the 14,000-yard plateau the following week vs. the Jets (12/8) when he threw for 251 yards (24-of-42) ... Had his worst performance of the season at Dallas (12/15) when he completed 20 of 40 passes for just 178 yards and threw three interceptions for a quarterback rating of just 31.0 ... Rebounded the following week with his fourth 300-yard game of the season and the 13th of his career at the Giants (12/21) ... Finished the game with 301 yards and a pair of touchdowns, including the game-winning touchdown pass to Ben Coates with just 1:32 remaining in the game ... Eclipsed the 4,000-yard passing plateau for the second time in three seasons to become just the fourth quarterback in NFL history to post multiple 4,000-yard passing seasons ... The victory gave the Patriots an 11-5 regular season record, which tied a franchise record for wins in a season, and secured a first-round playoff bye for the division champs ... He completed 14 of 24 attempts for 164 yards and a touchdown in a 28-3 victory over Pittsburgh (1/5/97) ... He connected on 20 of 33 attempts for 172 yards in the AFC Championship Game victory over Jacksonville (1/12/97) ... He closed out the season by throwing for 253 yards and a pair of touchdowns in Super Bowl XXXI vs. Green Bay (1/26/97).

1995 (15/15): For the second straight season, Bledsoe attempted (636) and completed (323) more passes for more yards (3,507) than any other quarterback in Patriots history ... Amazingly, he did so in just 15 games ... Contrary to his 1994 record-setting season (when the Patriots all but abandoned the run and relied on Bledsoe's passing to guide the offense) the Patriots stayed committed to their running game throughout the year and produced the franchise's all-time single-season rushing leader when Curtis Martin rushed for 1,487 yards ... Bledsoe had a streak of 23 consecutive starts snapped when he missed a game at Atlanta (10/1) while recovering from a separated left (non-throwing) shoulder injury, suffered in the third week of the season at San Francisco (9/17) ... He started 15 games for the Patriots and completed 323 of his 636 attempts (.508) for 3,507 yards and 13 touchdowns ... He trimmed 11 interceptions off his 1994 total, finishing with just 16 miscues all season ... For the second consecutive year, he attempted more passes than any other NFL quarterback and ranked second in the AFC in pass completions ... He finished fourth in the AFC in passing yards - 12th overall ... Tied another franchise record during a seven-game stretch (10/15 to 11/26) at midseason when he attempted 179 consecutive passes without an interception (tying Tony Eason) ... His record-breaking 180th pass attempt was intercepted by Buffalo's Bryce Paup (11/26) on the Bills' goal line ... Opened the season vs. Cleveland (9/3) and helped guide the Patriots to a come-from-behind 17-14 victory over the Browns ... Trailing 14-9 with just 4:29 remaining in the game, Bledsoe led the Patriots on a 14-play, 85-yard drive which was capped by a Curtis Martin game-winning touchdown run with just 19 seconds remaining in the game ... It was Bledsoe's sixth come-from-behind victory of his career and the second over the Browns ... He finished the day completing 30 of 47 attempts for 302 yards and did not throw an interception in the game ... His 302 yards represented a third of a "milestone trifecta," which included Curtis Martin's 102 yards rushing and Ben Coates' 106 yards receiving ... It was just the fourth "milestone trifecta" in Patriots history ... Attempted 51 passes in back-to-back losses vs. Miami (9/10) and at San Francisco (9/17) - his sixth and seventh 50-attempt games of his young career ... Received a devastating hit, delivered by LB Ken Norton late in the first quarter at San Francisco and was

PASSING FANCY

In 1995, Drew Bledsoe set a Patriots record for consecutive pass attempts without an interception. During a seven-game span, Bledsoe threw 179 passes without throwing an interception, breaking Tony Eason's franchise record set in 1986. Bledsoe's 180th pass attempt was intercepted by Bryce Paup on the Buffalo Bills goal line. It was Bledsoe's first of three interceptions that day, but the Patriots prevailed 35-25.

YOUNG GUNS

At the age of 23, Drew Bledsoe became the youngest player in NFL history to reach the 10,000-yard passing plateau, surpassing the pace set by Dan Marino in 1985. The youngest quarterbacks to reach the 10,000-yard passing milestone are listed below.

Quarterback, Team	Age	Date	Games
Drew Bledsoe, Patriots	23 yrs, 299 days	12/10/95	42
Dan Marino, Miami	24 yrs, 63 days	11/17/85	38

forced to leave the game with a separated left shoulder ... Showed tremendous will and determination when he re-entered the game early in the second quarter and played through the pain after missing just one offensive series ... Played the remainder of the game, but could not ignite a spark as the Patriots lost 28-3 ... Finished the game completing just 21 of 51 attempts for 241 yards and threw three interceptions ... Missed the following game at Atlanta (10/1) following the Patriots' bye week while still recovering from the injury ... Returned to the starting lineup and attempted 56 passes the following week vs. Denver (10/8), but could not generate an offensive touchdown despite penetrating the "red zone" on four occasions ... Threw his first touchdown pass of the season at Kansas City (10/15) when he connected with Vincent Brisby for a 22-yard score in the third quarter ... Added a fourth quarter touchdown pass when Will Moore scored his first NFL touchdown on a 6-yard reception ... Finished the game completing 25 of 47 passes for 237 yards, including the two touchdowns, but the Patriots could not pull out their second victory of the season and fell to 1-5 ... The Patriots hosted their first Monday Night Football game in 14 years and scored an impressive 27-14 victory over the Bills (10/23) ... Threw for 262 yards and a touchdown while completing 23 of 40 attempts in that game ... Connected with Brisby on his longest pass completion of the season when Brisby scored on a 47-yard reception in a 34-17 victory over Miami (11/12) ... It was the first of two touchdown passes in the game ... Threw for three touchdowns in a 35-25 victory over Buffalo (11/26), completing the first series sweep of the Bills since 1987 ... Hit rookie wide out Hason Graham in stride for a 37-yard touchdown vs. New York (12/10) to help the Patriots to a 31-28 victory to complete a series sweep over the Jets ... Sustained a contusion to his right shoulder in the first quarter at Pittsburgh (12/16) on a hit by Greg Lloyd - yet finished the game with a season-high performance completing 39 of 60 passes for 336 yards and three touchdowns to earn Staples Star of the Game honors ... Closed out the season completing just 17 of 37 passes for 186 yards in a 7-10 loss at Indianapolis (12/23) ... Scored the only touchdown of the game on a 31-yard pass to Hason Graham.

1994 (16/16, 1/1): Bledsoe threw more times (691) and completed more passes (400) for more yards (4,555) than any other quarterback in 1994 ... His 691 attempts set an NFL record ... He finished fourth in the league with 25 touchdown passes, trailing only Steve Young (35), Brett Favre (33) and Dan Marino (30) ... He guided the top-rated passing offense in the NFL, averaging 277.8 yards per game ... Earned Patriots' Miller Lite Player of the Game a total of four times, weeks 1, 2, 11 and 16 ... Selected the NFL's Miller Lite Player of the Week — as selected by a national media panel - and AFC Player of the Week by the NFL for his performances against Green Bay 10/2 (53-29-334-2 tds-1 int) and Minnesota 11/13 (70-45-426-3 tds-0 ints) ... He completed over 50 passes to five different targets - Ben Coates (96), Michael Timpson (74), Leroy Thompson (65), Vincent Brisby (58), and Kevin Turner (52) - for the first time in NFL history ... Became the youngest quarterback (22-years old) to play in the Pro Bowl in the history of the game ... He was a UPI second-team All-AFC selection ... Set three NFL passing records - most attempts in a season (691), most attempts in a game (70) and most completions in a game (45) ... Came within four pass completions to establish a fourth NFL record - his 400 completions rank second only to Warren Moon who completed 404 passes for Houston in 1991 ... Set eight franchise passing records - most attempts in a season (691), most attempts in a game (70), most completions in a season (400), most completions in a game (45), most passing yardage in a season (4,555), most passing yardage in a game (426), most consecutive 300-yard games (4) and most 300-yard games in one season (6) ... In 1994 alone, Bledsoe attempted more passes (691), completed more passes (400) and threw for more yards (4,555) than 31 of his 36 predecessors had accomplished during their Patriots' careers ... Bledsoe started every game in 1994 to become the first Patriots quarterback to do so since Steve Grogan started every game in 1975 ... Among NFL quarterbacks, only Dan Marino, who threw for 5,084 yards in 1984, had a more spectacular sophomore season than Bledsoe ... He opened the season at Miami (9/4) and set a Patriots passing a 61-yard scoring drive to give the Patriots a 31-20 lead in the 31-28 victory ... Bledsoe finished the game with 365 yards and a touchdown, completing 30 of 50 pass attempts (.600) in the Patriots' first victory of the season ... with a 10-7 lead and just under six minutes remaining in the second quarter at Detroit (9/25), Bledsoe guided a 14-play, 69-yard scoring drive capped by a 7-yard touchdown pass to Ben Coates with just 21 seconds remaining to take a 17-7 lead in the 23-17 victory ... He completed 21 of 33 attempts (.636) for 251 yards and a touchdown ... Trailing 16-14 with 1:14 remaining in the game vs. Green Bay (10/2), Bledsoe directed the Patriots on an 11-play, 45-yard drive which set up the game-winning field goal by Matt Bahr (33 yards) with just :04 remaining in the game - the Patriots won 17-16 ... Threw for over 300 yards for the fifth time in six weeks when he completed 23 of 55 passes for 321 yards and two touchdowns in a 21-17 loss vs. the Raiders (10/9) ... Threw for 242, 125 and 166 yards in three consecutive losses before exploding for a franchise record by completing 45 of 70 passes for 421 yards and three touchdowns vs. Minnesota (11/13) ... Trailing 20-0 with 58 seconds remaining in the first half, he completed four consecutive passes to lead the Patriots on a seven-play, 48-yard drive to position Matt Bahr for a 38-yard field goal as time expired ... In the second half, Bledsoe turned in what has already become a legendary performance by completing 37 of 53 attempts (.698) for 354 yards and three touchdowns, without an interception, a sack or a penalty called against him ... Connected with Ray Crittenden on a 31-yard touchdown on the opening drive of the second half ... Pulled to within three (20-17) with a 5-yard touchdown pass to Leroy Thompson with 2:27 remaining in the game ... with just 1:51 remaining in the game, Bledsoe converted a 4th-and-10 with a 25-yard completion to Vincent Brisby ... Completed his next four attempts to take the Patriots to the five-yard line, where Matt Bahr kicked the game-tying field goal with just 14 seconds remaining to send the game into overtime ... He completed his first five attempts of the overtime period and won the game (26-20) with a 14-yard touchdown strike to Kevin Turner in the corner of the end zone ... The 26 unanswered points in a 26-20 overtime victory over the Vikings ignited a seven-game win streak to close the season ... Trailing 9-10 at Indianapolis (11/27) with 3:13 remaining in the game, Bledsoe directed his third 4th-quarter comeback of the season with a 12-play, 55-yard drive to position Bahr for his second game-winning field goal (42 yards) of the season ... Finished the game completing 26 of 36 attempts for a season-high 72.2% completion percentage ... Ended the season with consistency, throwing for 277, 276 and 277 yards respectively in the last three regular season games ... Recorded a nearly flawless day at Buffalo (12/18) by completing 22 of 31 attempts (.710) for 276 yards and three touchdowns without an interception or a sack in a 41-17 victory at Buffalo ... Clinched the Patriots' first playoff berth in eight seasons with a 13-3 victory at Chicago (12/24) ... Completed just over 60 percent of his attempts (23 of 38) for 277 yards and secured the victory with a 3-yard touchdown pass to Leroy Thompson with 2:32 remaining in the game ... Attempted 50 passes for the sixth time of the season in the Patriots 20-13 wild-card playoff loss at Cleveland (1/1/95).

A CAREER YEAR

In 1994 alone, Drew Bledsoe attempted more passes (691), with more completions (400) for more yards (4,555) than 31 of the franchise's 36 predecessors had accomplished in their Patriots careers. Only Steve Grogan, Babe Parilli, Tony Eason and Jim Plunkett recorded better numbers during their careers than Bledsoe did in 1994.

1993 (13/12): Led a Patriots' offense that improved from its 27th ranking in '92 to 12th in '93 ... Led a passing attack that jumped 14 places in the NFL rankings, from 26th to 12th ... Opened his rookie season as the starting quarterback until a midseason injury sidelined him for three games ... At the age of 21, he became the youngest player in franchise history and just the second rookie quarterback in team history to start

NO PEER PRESSURE

In the 28 years since the 1970 AFL-NFL merger, only nine quarterbacks have been selected first overall in the annual NFL draft. Bledsoe was the eighth to join that elite class in 1993. Below is a comparison of how each of the quarterbacks fared in their first five years. They are listed in order of total passing yards:

Quarterback	Years	G	Att	Comp	Pct	Yards	TD	Int	Rating
Drew Bledsoe	1993-97	76	2901	1624	56.0	18348	108	88	74.9

YOUNGEST PRO BOWL QUARTERBACKS

Although Dan Marino holds the distinction of being the youngest quarterback selected to the Pro Bowl, Drew Bledsoe is the youngest quarterback to have actually played in a Pro Bowl. Marino, who was voted to start for the AFC squad as a rookie following the 1983 season, missed the game due to a knee injury. The 10 youngest quarterbacks selected to play in the Pro Bowl are listed below. The year represents the year of the Pro Bowl game, not of the previously concluded season.

Quarterback, Team	Year	Age
Dan Marino, Miami*	1984	22 yrs., 4 months, 14 days
Drew Bledsoe, Patriots	1995	22 yrs., 11 months, 22 days

Career Transactions

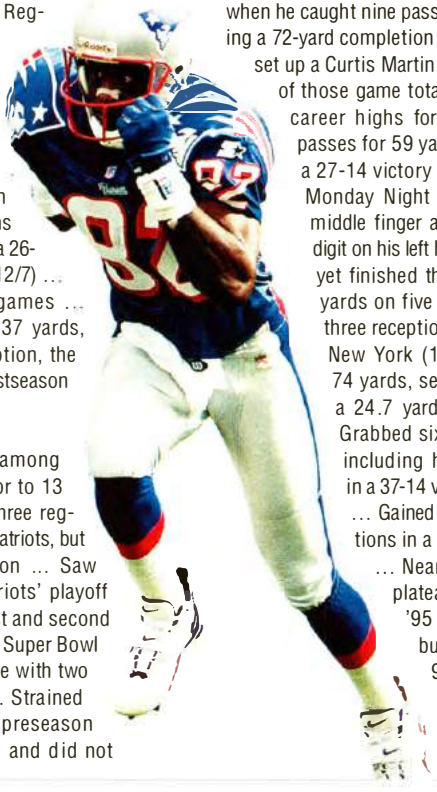

Vincent Brisby was selected by the Patriots with the final pick in the second round of the 1993 NFL Draft (58th overall) … The Patriots owned the first pick in the third round — 59th overall pick — but moved into the 58th slot after the Raiders' time expired with the last pick in the second round … Signed with the Patriots (7/30/93) … Granted free agency (2/16/96) … Re-signed (5/31/96).

Career Highlights (GP/GS: 65/43; 6/1)

- Totaled 169 receptions for 2,504 yards (14.8 avg.) and 10 touchdowns as a starter in his first three seasons, but was sidelined most of the 1996 season with a nagging hamstring injury.
- Started every game for the Patriots in 1995, despite breaking one finger and dislocating another on his left hand during a game vs. Carolina (10/29/95).
- Led the team in receiving yards (974) and ranked second behind Ben Coates (84) with 66 receptions in 1995. Both totals set career-highs.
- Caught a 72-yard pass from Scott Zolak at Atlanta (10/1/95), the longest reception of his career.
- Scored on a 47-yard pass from Drew Bledsoe at Miami (11/12/95), the longest touchdown reception of his career.
- Topped the 100-yard plateau in three games during the 1995 season, another career-high.
- Helped form the quintet of Patriots receivers who set an NFL record by each catching over 50 passes in 1994 when he caught 58 passes for 904 yards.
- Scored his first career touchdown in his second NFL game on a 2-yard toss from Bledsoe vs. Detroit (9/12/93). The touchdown tied the game with only :02 remaining to send the game to overtime.
- Started in his NFL debut in the 1993 season opener at Buffalo (9/5/93).

1997 (16/4, 2/0): Played in every game for the Patriots after missing most of the 1996 season due to injuries ... Started four games, including three starts as a third receiver ... Finished sixth on the team in receiving with 23 catches for 276 yards (12.0 avg.) and two touchdowns ... Recorded his first regular season reception since the 1995 season finale (12/23/95) in a season opening victory over the Chargers (8/31) and finished the game with three receptions for 51 yards ... A 6-yard touchdown reception at Indianapolis (9/7) was one of three receptions on the day and his first touchdown since Nov. 12, 1995 at Miami ...Started his first game of the season in place of an injured Terry Glenn vs. the Jets (9/14) and caught a pair of passes for 15 yards ... Started in a three wide receiver set and scored his second touchdown of the season on the opening drive vs. Chicago (9/21) and finished the game with three receptions for 29 yards in a decisive 31-3 victory ... Grabbed a reception in each of his next three games, extending his consecutive game reception streak to seven games ... Registered his only tackle of the season vs. Green Bay (10/27) after a Drew Bledsoe interception ... Started at Minnesota (11/2) and caught one pass for 10 yards ... Posted season highs with four receptions and 58 yards (14.5 avg.) in a 26-20 victory at Jacksonville (12/7) ... Played in both playoff games ... Caught three passes for 37 yards, including a 20-yard reception, the longest of his six-game postseason career.

1996 (3/0, 3/0): Listed among the Patriots inactives prior to 13 games ... Played in just three regular season games for the Patriots, but did not record a reception ... Saw action in each of the Patriots' playoff games, registering his first and second receptions of the season in Super Bowl XXXI ... Finished the game with two receptions for 12 yards ... Strained a hamstring in the first preseason game at Green Bay (8/2) and did not return until the 11th game of the season vs. Denver (11/17) ... Saw limited action as a third and fourth receiver vs. Denver, the Jets (12/8) and at Dallas (12/15).

1995 (16/16): Started every game for the Patriots, despite breaking one finger and dislocating another on his left hand during a game vs. Carolina (10/29) ... Still led the team in receiving yards (974) and ranked second behind Ben Coates (84) with 66 receptions (14.8 avg.) ... Both totals set career-highs for the third-year veteran ... He also recorded his two longest receptions of his career — a 72-yard pass and run from Scott Zolak at Atlanta (10/1) and a 47-yard touchdown reception from Drew Bledsoe at Miami (11/12) ... Topped the 100-yard plateau in three games, another career high ... Finished the season with just three touchdowns, down from his five scores in 1994 ... Opened the season with seven receptions in a 17-14 victory over Cleveland (9/3) ... Became the favorite target for Scott Zolak at Atlanta (10/1) when he caught nine passes for 161 yards, including a 72-yard completion in the first quarter which set up a Curtis Martin touchdown run ... Each of those game totals set new single-game career highs for Brisby ... Caught six passes for 59 yards and a touchdown in a 27-14 victory over Buffalo (10/23) on Monday Night Football ... Broke his middle finger and dislocated the small digit on his left hand vs. Carolina (10/29), yet finished the game and totaled 62 yards on five receptions ... Had only three receptions the following week at New York (11/5), but finished with 74 yards, setting a career-high with a 24.7 yard average per catch ... Grabbed six passes for 118 yards, including his 47-yard touchdown in a 37-14 victory over Miami (11/12) ... Gained 101 yards on six receptions in a game at Buffalo (11/26) ... Nearly topped the 100-yard plateau for the fourth time in '95 at Pittsburgh (12/16), but fell one yard shy with 99 yards on seven catches.

Started 11 games at wide out ... Missed two games due to a hamstring pull suffered at the New York Jets on Oct. 16 ... Still finished the season with 58 receptions for 904 yards and five touchdowns ... His 904 yards ranked third on the team and 11th in the AFC ... His 58 receptions were fourth on the team and ranked 17th in the AFC ... Helped form the quintet of Patriots receivers who set an NFL record by each catching over 50 passes in one season ... Caught at least a pair of receptions in each of the 14 games he played ... Opened the season with five receptions for 66 yards at Miami (9/4) ... Caught three passes for 67 yards, including a season-long 43-yarder at Detroit (9/25) ... Registered his first professional 100-yard game vs. Green Bay (10/2) with six catches for a career-high 117 yards and scored on touchdowns of 10 and 37 yards in the 17-16 victory ... Recorded a career high with eight receptions for 90 yards, including a 16-yard touchdown in a 24-13 victory over the Jets (12/4) ... Caught four passes for 75 yards, including a 43-yard catch, to tie his season long, in a 28-13 victory vs. Indianapolis (12/11) ... Grabbed four passes for 38 yards and two touchdowns in a 41-17 triumph over the Buffalo Bills (12/18) ... Closed out the regular season with his second-best single-game performance of his career with six receptions for 115 yards in the playoff-clinching 13-3 victory over Chicago (12/24) ... Led the Patriots with 83 yards on six catches in the Patriots' playoff game at Cleveland (1/1/95).

1993 (16/12): Participated in all 16 games, starting 12 at wide receiver ... Emerged as a steady, reliable receiver over the course of his rookie season ... Named to the Pro Football Writers Association and Football News' all-rookie teams ... Finished second on the team with 45 catches for 626 yards and two touchdowns ... Led all rookie wide receivers with 45 receptions ... Finished second among all NFL rookies with 45 catches trailing Miami's rookie running back Terry Kirby's 75 ... His 45 receptions ranked third in Patriots' history among rookie wide receivers (behind Randy Vataha's 51 in 1971 and Hart Lee Dykes' 49 in 1989) ... Recorded a season-high with six catches for 86 yards at Miami (11/21) ... Scored his first career touchdown in the second week of the season on a 2-yard grab vs. Detroit (9/12) to tie the game with only :02 remaining in the game ... Started in his NFL debut in the season opener at Buffalo (9/5) ... He caught his first professional pass, a 16-yard toss from Bledsoe, at Buffalo (9/5) in his NFL debut.

★Tedy grew up a Celtics fan.

Career Transactions

Tedy Bruschi was drafted by the Patriots in the third round (86th overall) of the 1996 NFL Draft … The selection was obtained from Detroit along with a 1996 fourth- (Chris Sullivan) and sixth-round (Marrio Grier) selection in exchange for New England's 1996 third-round selection (76th overall — Ryan Stewart) … Signed July 17, 1996.

Career Highlights (GP/GS: 32/1; 5/0)

- The NCAA's all-time sack leader has provided eight sacks in two seasons as a Patriots pass rush specialist. In the seven regular season games in which Bruschi has recorded at least one sack, the Patriots are 7-0. Recorded two sacks in Super Bowl XXXI vs. Green Bay — one shy of the Super Bowl record.
- Credited with two defensive tackles, two special teams tackles, two passes defensed and recorded his first career interception late in the fourth quarter of the AFC Championship Game to secure a 20-6 victory over Jacksonville (1/12/97).
- Scored his first career touchdown (at any level of competition) at Baltimore (10/6/96) when he picked up a loose ball after Larry Whigham blocked a punt and returned it 4 yards for a touchdown.
- Credited with a pair of sacks and forced his first career fumble at Baltimore (10/6/96).

Seasonal Reviews

1997 (16/1; 2/0): Saw action in every game for the second consecutive season … Posted 30 defensive tackles, including four sacks, and added 13 special teams stops … His four sacks and 13 special teams tackles each ranked third on the team … Forced two fumbles, recovered one … Knocked Stan Humphries from the game in the season opening victory over San Diego (8/31) with a hit that split the quarterback's lip — Bruschi was not penalized for the hit, but did draw a fine from the league … Made his NFL starting debut as a linebacker at Indianapolis (9/7) and was credited with his first sack of the season (-7 yards) and recovered a fumble … Collected four tackles, including his second sack of the season, vs. Chicago (9/21) … Recorded his third sack of the season two weeks later vs. Buffalo (10/12) … Selected as special teams captain vs. Green Bay (10/27) and recorded a season-high five defensive tackles … Left the game early due to a sprained ankle at Jacksonville (12/7) after recording two solo stops, including his fourth sack of the season … Collected three tackles in each of the Patriots' playoff games, vs. Miami (12/28) and at Pittsburgh (1/3).

1996 (16/0; 3/0): Played in every game as a rookie, filling a role as a pass rush specialist and playing on many special teams units … Finished the season with 11 tackles, including four sacks … Ranked third on the team with 17 special teams tackles … Scored his first career touchdown at Baltimore (10/6) when he picked up a loose ball after Larry Whigham blocked a punt and returned it 4 yards for a touchdown … It was his first touchdown scored at any level of competition … Also recorded two sacks and forced his first career fumble at Baltimore (10/6) … Registered a season-high with three special teams tackles at Indianapolis (10/20) and at New York Giants (12/21) … Recorded a season-high with three solo tackles vs. the Jets (12/8) … Excelled in the playoffs, totaling seven tackles, two sacks, two passes defensed, an interception and four special teams tackles in three games … Made two defensive stops and assisted on a special teams tackle in the divisional playoff game vs. Pittsburgh (1/5/97) … Credited with two defensive tackles, two special teams tackles, two passes defensed and grabbed his first career interception late in the fourth quarter of the AFC Championship Game to secure a 20-6 victory over Jacksonville (1/12/97) … Closed out his rookie campaign with three tackles, including two sacks in a 35-21 loss to Green Bay in Super Bowl XXXI (1/26/97) … His two sacks set a team Super Bowl record and was just one shy of the all-time Super Bowl record.

College: Bruschi tied the NCAA Division I-A career sack record with 52.0 quarterback sacks, equaling the mark set by former Alabama All-American Derrick Thomas, now an All-Pro performer for the Kansas City Chiefs ... Bruschi graduated with 74 tackles for losses, which ranked sixth in Division I-A history ... Compiled 185 total tackles (137 solos), forced six fumbles and recovered five others during his collegiate career. 1995: Consensus All-American and All-Pacific-10 selection his senior year ... Totaled 56 tackles (44 solos), including 14.5 sacks (96 yards) and 19.5 tackles for losses of 110 yards ... His sack total ranked third in the nation ... Added four pass deflections and forced one fumble. 1994: Earned consensus All-America honors and was one of four finalists for the Lombardi Award, given annually to the top lineman in the nation ... He was also a finalist for Football News' National Defensive Player of the Year award ... Totaled 39 tackles, including 10 sacks for 65 yards and 15 tackles for losses. 1993: Earned Second-Team All-America honors after setting an all-time school record with 19 sacks (143 yards) as a sophomore, breaking the previous record of 15 (Steve Boadway in 1984) ... Earned first-team All-Pac-10 honors and was named the team's Most Valuable Player ... His 27.5 tackles for losses, including 19 sacks were each career highs. 1992: Played strongside outside linebacker prior to his transition to the defensive line in 1993 ... Started just one of 12 games and still managed to post 4.5 sacks for the season. 1991: Missed the first three games of the season due to a pinched nerve in his neck ... Returned and started vs. Long Beach State and Washington as a true freshman, but suffered a broken left thumb and was redshirted.

Personal: Tedy Lacap Bruschi was born the son of Juanita Sandys and Anthony Bruschi Sr. on June 9, 1973 in San Francisco, Calif. ... He is one of five children ... His stepfather, Ron Sandys, was a professional tennis player ... Tedy attended Roseville (Calif.) High, where he lettered twice in football and was a two-year captain, earning all-conference, all-northern California and all-metro honors as a defensive tackle ... He also earned a letter in wrestling and two letters in track, competing in the shot put and discus ... He wrestled in the heavyweight division ... He earned his bachelor's degree in communications at Arizona ... He has worked with a Pop Warner football league in Tucson, Ariz. ... Tedy's wife, Heidi, is a personal trainer and volleyball coach.

★ In his first visit to Foxboro Stadium (9/12/93), Willie scooped up a fumble on the opening kickoff and returned it 15 yards for a Lions touchdown. It was the quickest score (11 seconds) ever allowed by the Patriots.

★ Willie is the president of a youth organization, Up Inc., which promotes the uplifting of inner city youth.

★ Willie puts on an annual football camp in Pittsburgh, Pa. and raises money for Pittsburgh area charities through an annual celebrity basketball game.

★ Willie has established a $100,000 endowment fund to benefit inner city children who qualify to attend his high school alma mater, Linsly High in Wheeling, W.Va.

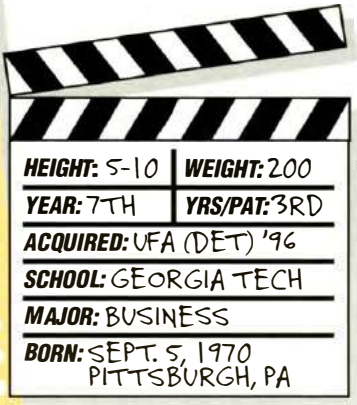

★ Willie's brother, Jason, plays football (WR), basketball (point guard) and baseball (centerfielder) at Linsly High School.

Career Transactions

Signed with the Patriots as an unrestricted free agent on March 14, 1996 … Originally drafted by the Detroit Lions in the eighth round of the 1992 NFL Draft (221st pick overall) … Signed by the Lions (7/25/92) … Released by Detroit (9/4/92) and re-signed to the team's practice squad (9/8/92) … Activated (11/20/92) … Granted free agency (2/17/95) … Re-signed (5/16/95) … Granted unconditional free agency (2/16/95).

Career Highlights (GP/GS: 86/65; 8/7)

• Clay is a notorious "Big Play" specialist, hence the nickname. He has great anticipation and ball awareness.

• Led the league with 173 return yards on eight interceptions in 1995. His eight interceptions ranked second in the league and were the most by a Lions player in 14 years. He has registered multiple interceptions in four different games during his career, vs. Buffalo (11/24/94), vs. Green Bay (10/29/95), vs. Tampa Bay (11/12/95) and at Denver (10/6/97).

• Started every game at strong safety in 1994 and at free safety in 1995 for the Lions.

• Intercepted a Jim Everett pass in the 1997 season opener and returned it 53 yards for a touchdown. It was his fourth career touchdown, the second off an interception.

• Enters the 1998 season with a streak of 64 consecutive starts. Started 18 of 19 games at free safety in 1996. Started at cornerback, filling in for the injured Ricky Reynolds at Indianapolis (10/20). In his one game at corner, he made eight tackles and returned a fumble 17 yards to set up a touchdown in a 27-9 victory.

season games for the Patriots and totaling 62 receptions for 682 yards and nine touchdowns ... Earned First-Team All-Pro honors by USA Today and was selected second-team All-AFC by UPI ... Led the team with nine touchdown receptions ... Finished second on the team with 62 receptions, trailing Terry Glenn's 90 catches, which broke a three-year streak of leading the team in receptions ... His 682 yards receiving ranked third, trailing Glenn (1,132 yards) and Shawn Jefferson (771) ... Led the team in receptions in four games, including the season opener at Miami (9/1) when he caught six passes for 69 yards and a touchdown ... Led the team with six receptions for 61 yards and a touchdown vs. Arizona (9/15) ... Registered a season-high and led the team with seven receptions for 83 yards and a touchdown at Baltimore (10/6), including an acrobatic third down reception to keep the Patriots drive alive in the second quarter ... Earned Miller Lite Player of the Game honors, as voted by the New England media, after catching five passes for 135 yards and two touchdowns, including a career-long 84-yard touchdown reception vs. Miami (11/3) ... It was his first 100-yard game since the 1995 season opener vs. Cleveland (9/3) ... His 84-yard reception was the longest completion of Drew Bledsoe's career and was the fourth longest completion in franchise history ... It was also the third longest completion in the NFL in '96 ... Caught his seventh touchdown pass of the season at the Jets (11/10), a 17-yard toss from Bledsoe which tied the game at 24 ... Converted a first down with a 2-yard reception on fourth-and-two in the fourth quarter, which led to the game-winning touchdown on a 2-yard pass from Bledsoe to Byars to secure the 31-27 victory ... Did not start vs. Indianapolis (11/24), snapping a 22-game starting streak, but did catch one pass in the third quarter to extend his consecutive game reception streak to 61 games ... Led the team in receiving with six catches for 71 yards (11.8 avg.) at San Diego (12/1), including a 22-yard reception to open the game ... Scored his eighth touchdown of the season with a 2-yard reception vs. the Jets (12/8), extending his consecutive game reception streak to a team-record 63 games ... Did not have a reception at Dallas (12/15), snapping his franchise record consecutive game reception streak at 63 games, which began on Dec. 27, 1992 vs. Miami ... Closed out the regular season with three receptions for 19 yards and scored his ninth touchdown of the season at the Giants

TOUCHDOWN TWINS

Drew Bledsoe and Ben Coates connected for 8 more touchdowns in 1997, giving the tandem 37 career touchdowns. Entering the 1998 season, Bledsoe and Coates ranked fourth among active touchdown tandems in the NFL.

No.	Passing Tandem
63	Steve Young and Jerry Rice (1988-97)
42	Troy Aikman and Michael Irvin (1989-97)
41	Jeff Blake and Carl Pickens (1994-97)

11 Art Graham vs. Kansas City, Nov. 20, 1966 (134 yards)
10 Ben Coates vs. Minnesota, Nov. 13, 1994 (74 yards)
10 Michael Timpson vs. Minnesota, Nov. 13, 1994 (113 yards)
10 Tony Romeo vs. Kansas City, Nov. 17, 1963 (149 yards)
10 Tony Collins at L.A. Rams, Nov. 16, 1986 (66 yards)
10 Marv Cook vs. Houston, Sept. 22, 1991 (99 yards)

(12/21) ... Recorded each of his three receptions in the fourth quarter and capped a 23-22 come-from-behind victory with a game-winning touchdown with just 1:32 remaining in the game ... His nine touchdown receptions set a single-season career high and tied him with three others for fourth place among the Patriots' all-time single season touchdown reception leaders ... Grabbed three receptions for 18 yards in the Patriots' 28-3 divisional playoff victory over the Pittsburgh Steelers (1/5/97) ... Caught one pass for five yards in the AFC Championship victory over Jacksonville (1/12/97) ... Recorded a game-high with six receptions for 67 yards and a touchdown in Super Bowl XXXI (1/26/97).

1995 (16/15): Coates led the Patriots in receiving for the third consecutive year and tied Stanley Morgan's 84 reception performance (in 1986) to rank second (behind his own record of 96 receptions) among the franchise's all-time single-season reception leaders ... Finished the year with 84 catches for 915 yards and six touchdowns to lead all NFL tights ends for the second consecutive year, despite drawing multiple defensive coverages designed to stop him ... Earned Associated Press First-Team All-Pro honors and returned to represent the AFC in the Pro Bowl for his second straight season ... Earned numerous postseason awards for his 1995 performance, duplicating many of the honors he received in 1994 ... Ranked fifth in the AFC in receptions (84) and ninth in the conference in receiving yards (915) ... 30 of Coates' 84 receptions and four of his six touchdowns came on third down ... Over 60 percent of his receptions (51 of 84) were good for Patriots first downs ... Opened the season with nine catches for 106 yards vs. Cleveland (9/3), his seventh 100-yard performance of his career ... Became a magnet in the red zone, attracting multiple defenders every time the Patriots penetrated enemy territory ... Recorded his first touchdown of the year in the 10th game of the season at Miami (11/12) ... The 8-yard touchdown was one of just two receptions on the day ... Rebounded with nine receptions for 89 yards vs. Indianapolis (11/19) ... Followed that performance with his first career "hat trick" (three-touchdown game), on just six receptions (60 yards) at Buffalo (11/26) ... Grabbed seven receptions for 90 yards the following week vs. New Orleans (12/3) ... Recorded a season-high with 11 catches for 83 yards and two touchdowns at Pittsburgh (12/16) ... His 11 receptions tied three others (Leroy Thompson, Tony Collins and Art Graham) to rank second among the Patriots' all-time single-game reception leaders ... His two touchdowns at Pittsburgh marked the sixth multiple touchdown

1997 (5/5): Started the first five games of the regular season at left defensive end, but suffered an injury to his left pectoral muscle and missed the remainder of the season ... Finished the year with 15 tackles (11 solos), including a sack and a fumble recovery before his season-ending injury ... Registered four solo tackles and a sack at Indianapolis (9/7) ... Recovered a Rick Mirer fumble vs. Chicago (9/21) and returned it 5 yards ... Sustained a shoulder injury and was listed among the Patriots' inactives prior to three games (Buffalo, N.Y. Jets and Green Bay) prior to being placed on injured reserve on Oct. 30.

1996 (15/5, 3/3): Saw reserve duty in each of the first 10 games of the season before moving into the starting lineup vs. Denver (11/17) ... Started the final seven games of the year, including each of the Patriots' playoff games ... Tallied 19 total stops, including half a sack, during the regular season ... Added six tackles in the playoffs, including a sack on Brett Favre in Super Bowl XXXI (1/26/97) ... Recorded three tackles (all solos) in the season opener at Miami (9/1), a regular season-high he would match three times during the year, at Indianapolis (10/20), at Dallas (12/15) and at the Giants (12/21) ... Posted a career-high with four tackles vs. Green Bay in Super Bowl XXXI (1/26/97).

1995 (1 6/4): Collons was acquired by the Patriots on Saturday, Aug. 26 and still made his NFL regular season debut in the season opener just eight days later (9/3) ... Played in every game, starting three games at left defensive end and another at right defensive end ... Received most of his playing time on passing situations when he lined up at defensive tackle and Chris Slade and Willie McGinest served as pass-rushing specialists in defensive end alignment ... Collons finished the season with four quarterback sacks, tied for second on the team with Slade and Vincent Brown ... Totaled 21 tackles (18 solo) ... Saw reserve action vs. Miami (9/10) and recorded his first two NFL tackles ... Turned in an outstanding effort the following week at San Francisco (9/17) ... Used primarily on passing downs, he recorded his first two NFL sacks and totaled four tackles ... Started the following game at right defensive end vs. Atlanta (10/1) and registered two tackles ... Registered his third sack of the season in a 27-14 victory over Buffalo (10/23) ... Started three consecutive games at left defensive end at the Jets (11/5), at Miami (11/12) and vs. Indianapolis (11/19) ... Recorded his fourth and final sack of the year in the season finale at Indianapolis (12/23).

1994 (0/0): Out of football for the majority of season after being waived by the Raiders on Aug. 23 ... Signed on with the Jaguars at the end of the season, but was later released on May 1, 1995.

1993 (0/0, 1/0-L.A. Raiders): Spent the season on Raiders roster but was inactive for all 16 regular season games ... Saw action in divisional playoff contest at Buffalo (1/15/94).

1992 (0/0-L.A. Raiders): Signed with the Raiders as a rookie free agent on July 13, but was later waived on Sept. 1, 1992 ... Re-signed to the practice squad the next day, where he spent the entire season.

College: Collons was a tremendous physical specimen, but his potential on the collegiate level was never maximized ... Played sparingly in three games in 1988, but did not letter ... Broke his hand during spring drills in 1989, limiting his opportunity for playing time.

Personal: Ferric Jason Collons was born Dec. 4, 1969 on Scott Air Force Base in Bellville, Ill. ... He earned Superior California, all-city and Delta League honors as a two-way lineman at Jesuit High School in Sacramento, Calif. ... Lettered four years in football and served as team captain his senior year ... Set a school record for sacks that season ... Lettered twice each in football, basketball and track ... Played center for the basketball team and competed in the shot put and discus in track ... Won sectional title in the shot put with a distance of 58'7" ... Majored in criminal justice at California ... Father is an industrial engineer and his mother is a teacher ... Enjoys playing golf, bass fishing and riding his motorcycle ... Ferric has a son, Kori (8/20/96).

MILESTONE ACCOMPLISHMENT

In the first 36-years of the franchise, the Patriots have had eight 1,000-yard rushing seasons and four seasons with at least one 1,000-yard receiver, but never before had the franchise ever had a 1,000-yard rusher and a 1,000-yard receiver in the same season until Curtis Martin and Terry Glenn accomplished the feat in 1996.

- ★ For the success of the 1994 season, Drew Bledsoe awarded each of his offensive lineman with a free round-trip ticket for travel anywhere in the world. Max used his to travel to Australia.
- ★ Max hails from Norborne, Mo., a town of only 850 people.
- ★ Max lists "Deliverance" among his favorite movies.

Career Transactions:

Max Lane was drafted by the Patriots with their second of two picks in the sixth round (168th player selected) of the 1994 NFL Draft … The selection was acquired from Seattle as compensation for the trade of RB Jon Vaughn (8/26/93) … Signed by the Patriots (6/1/94) … Became a restricted free agent Feb. 14, 1997 and re-signed with the Patriots (6/20/97) … Re-signed with Patriots (1/16/98).

Career Highlights (GP/GS: 62/48; 6/5)

- Lane made the most of his opportunity when he found himself thrust into the starting lineup for the 1995 season opener after Pat Harlow was sidelined during the preseason with a stress fracture. Lane responded to the call and never relinquished his starting role, starting 48 consecutive regular season games and five playoff games.
- In 1997, Lane was moved from right tackle to left guard and started every game.
- In 1995, Lane's first season as a starter, he helped generate 1,866 rushing yards, including an individual franchise record of 1,487 yards and 14 touchdowns by Curtis Martin.
- Lane was involved in one of the most unusual plays of the 1995 season at Kansas City (10/15) when he snared a Troy Brown fumble mid-air and rumbled 30 yards downfield to set up a touchdown.

Seasonal Reviews

1997 (16/16, 2/2): Started every game for the Patriots for the third consecutive season … Moved from right tackle to left guard after the Patriots signed Zefross Moss as a free agent during the offseason … Started 15 games at left guard … Returned to right tackle for one game, replacing an injured Moss (back spasms) … Inserted at right tackle during the game at Minnesota (11/2)

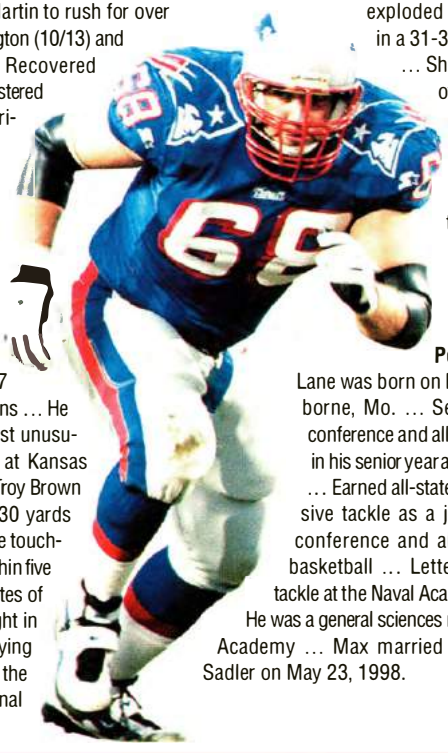

when Moss was forced to the sidelines with an injury … Started at right tackle the following week at Buffalo (11/9) … Recovered a fumble during the game … Returned to left guard at Tampa Bay (11/16), where he started the final eight games, including both playoff games … As a unit, the offensive line allowed just 30 sacks, or one for every 18.7 pass plays — which ranked fourth in the league.

1996 (16/16, 3/3): Started every game for the Patriots at right offensive tackle, including each of the Patriots' playoff games … Anchored the right side of an offensive line which only allowed 30 sacks all season and just one sack for every 21.9 pass plays (sixth in the NFL) … Provided blocks for Curtis Martin, who eclipsed the 1,000-yard plateau for the second consecutive season … Enabled Martin to rush for over 100 yards in games vs. Washington (10/13) and vs. Indianapolis (11/24) … Recovered three offensive fumbles and registered three tackles on returns of Patriots turnovers.

1995 (16/16): Started every game for the Patriots at right offensive tackle in just his second NFL season … Helped power a running game which amassed 1,866 yards … Helped Martin to a franchise record-setting season with 1,487 yards rushing and 14 touchdowns … He was involved in one of the most unusual plays of the 1995 season at Kansas City (10/15) when he snared a Troy Brown fumble mid-air and rumbled 30 yards downfield to set up a Will Moore touchdown to bring the Patriots to within five points (26-31) in the final minutes of the game … The ball was caught in the air after Brown, who was lying on his back, attempted to kick the ball back to himself … The final result looked like a "hook and ladder" designed play.

1994 (14/0, 1/0): Played in 14 games as a rookie … Listed among the Patriots' inactives in the first two games of the season at Miami (9/4) and vs. Buffalo (9/11) … Played extensively on special teams units and was used as a tackle-eligible (tight end) in short-yardage situations throughout the season … Saw action on special teams and on short-yardage plays in the Patriots' playoff game at Cleveland (1/1/95).

College: Lane was a three-year starter at offensive tackle for Navy … Finished his career with 32 consecutive starts … Lined up as a fullback and scored on a four-yard run as the offense exploded for 465 total yards in a 31-3 victory over Colgate … Shifted from left to right offensive tackle in 1992 … Moved into the starting lineup in the second game of the 1991 season at left tackle … Spent the majority of the 1990 season on Navy's junior varsity squad.

Personal: Max Aaron Lane was born on Feb. 22, 1971 in Norborne, Mo. … Selected all-state, all-conference and all-district as a tight end in his senior year at Norborne (Mo.) High … Earned all-state recognition at offensive tackle as a junior … Added all-conference and all-district honors in basketball … Lettered as an offensive tackle at the Naval Academy Prep School … He was a general sciences major at the U.S. Naval Academy … Max married the former Melanie Sadler on May 23, 1998.

Career Transactions

Lawyer Milloy was drafted by the Patriots with their own selection in the second round (36th player selected) of the 1996 NFL draft ... Signed by Patriots (6/5/96).

Career Highlights (GP/GS: 32/26; 5/5)

- In just his second season, Milloy totaled 112 tackles, second on the team behind Ted Johnson. He became the first Patriots defensive back to amass over 100 tackles in a season since Fred Marion led the team with 119 tackles in 1990.
- He kept pace in the postseason, finishing second to Johnson (15) with 14 tackles.
- Tied a career-high with 12 tackles in back-to-back games at Tampa Bay (11/16/97) and vs. Miami (11/23/97).
- Intercepted passes in each of the last two regular season games. His interception vs. Pittsburgh (12/13/97) set up a Patriots touchdown. His interception in the season finale at Miami (12/22/97) was his first off future Hall of Fame QB Dan Marino.
- Milloy led the team and recorded a career-high 12 tackles vs. Denver (11/17/96). He also intercepted his first career pass, which he returned for 14 yards and was selected as the Miller Lite Player of the Game for his performance.
- Made his NFL starting debut two weeks later at Indianapolis (10/20/96). Posted eight tackles (5 solos) and forced his first career fumble.
- Recorded his first career sack when he blitzed the Jets' Glen Foley and dropped him for a 7-yard loss (12/8/96).
- Earned all-rookie honors by College & Pro Football Newsweekly, Football News and Pro Football Weekly.

1996 (16/10, 3/3): Milloy made a big impact on the Patriots' secondary as a rookie ... He played in every game as a rookie, starting the final 13 games of the season, including each of the Patriots' three playoff games ... Ranked third on the team in tackles with 85 defensive stops (55 solos), including a sack ... Batted away eight passes, including two interceptions which he returned for 14 yards ... Forced two fumbles and made one recovery ... Added two special teams tackles ... Ranked fourth on the team with 20 tackles and was one of just three Patriots to record an interception in the postseason ... Led the team in tackles in five games during the season ... Earned all-rookie honors by College & Pro Football Newsweekly, Football News and Pro Football Weekly ... Saw action on special teams in his NFL debut at Miami (9/1), but did not record a tackle ... Recorded his first career tackle in a 31-0 victory over Arizona (9/15) and finished the game with five stops ... Finished second on the team with five stops the following week in reserve duty vs. Jacksonville (9/22) ... Tied for the team lead with eight defensive tackles at Baltimore (10/6) ... Made his NFL starting debut two weeks later at Indianapolis (10/20) and posted eight tackles (5 solos) and forced his first career fumble …Led the team with 10 tackles vs. Miami (11/3) and forced his second fumble of the season, jarring the ball from Karim Abdul-Jabbar ... Led the team with 10 tackles the following week at the Jets (11/10) ... Led the team and recorded a season-high with 12 tackles vs. Denver (11/17) ... Also intercepted his first career pass, which he returned for 14 yards and was selected as the Miller Lite Player of the Game for his performance ... Led the team for the fourth consecutive week with nine tackles vs. Indianapolis (11/24) and recovered his first career fumble ... Intercepted his second pass of the year at San Diego (12/1) ... Recorded his first career sack when he blitzed the Jets' Glen Foley and dropped him for a 7-yard loss (12/8) ... Made five hits in the season finale at the Giants (12/21) ... Intercepted a Mike Tomczak pass in the third quarter and posted five hits vs. Pittsburgh (1/5/97) in the divisional playoff game ... Made seven stops vs. Jacksonville (1/12/97) ... Ranked third on the team with eight tackles vs. Green Bay in Super Bowl XXXI.

College: Milloy was one of the dominant defenders in the Pac-10 as a junior, while earning Parade All-American honors ... He is a tremendous athlete who was also drafted by the Cleveland Indians and Detroit Tigers. 1995: Earned first-team All-American honors by Associated Press, Walter Camp, UPI, the American Football Coaches Association, the Football Writers Association and the Football News ... Was a finalist for the Jim Thorpe Award- the award given annually to the nation's best defensive back ... Earned first-team All Pac-10 honors ... Started all year at free safety and led the team in tackles for the second consecutive season with 115 stops (63 solos) ... Forced three fumbles, recovered one, intercepted one pass and returned 15 yards ... A broken bone in his left big toe required surgical repair and caused the All-American to miss the Huskies bowl game victory over Iowa. 1994: Milloy was the only sophomore in the Pac-10 to earn all-conference honors ... Led the team and finished third in the Pac-10 with 106 tackles (67 solos), including three for losses ... became the first Husky defensive back to lead the team in tackles since Tony Bonwell recorded 142 tackles in 1972 ... Also credited with an interception, two forced fumbles and one recovery. 1993: Played in 10 games with two starts and totaled 28 tackles (14 solos) ... Credited with three passes defensed, including two interceptions. 1992: Redshirted as a freshman after suffering a broken foot in fall drills.

Personal: Lawyer Milloy was born the son of Mae and Larry Milloy on Nov. 14, 1973 in St. Louis, Mo. ... Attended Lincoln High in Tacoma, Wash. and excelled in football, baseball and basketball ... Earned Parade All-American honors his senior year after rushing for 1,056 yards and 15 touchdowns as a tailback and intercepting seven passes as a safety ... Received six votes in the Long Beach Press-Telegram's "Best of the West" poll ... Was a three-time All-Narrows League choice and was considered the top prep prospect in the state his senior year ... Was drafted by the Cleveland Indians as a pitching prospect out of high school and lettered three seasons in baseball at the University of Washington ... Drafted by the Detroit Tigers in the 19th round of the 1995 MLB draft ... Lawyer has one daughter, Amirah.

- Named offensive team captain vs. Pittsburgh (12/13).
- During his career, Todd has started all six Patriots playoff games, including Super Bowl XXXI.

Seasonal Reviews

1997 (16/16, 2/2): Started every game at right guard ... Complemented right tackle Zefross Moss, forming a powerful run-blocking tandem ... Patriots backs averaged 5.3 yards per carry when rushing to the right- the sixth highest total in the league (research provided by Stats Inc.) ... Recorded a tackle after a Drew Bledsoe interception and forced a fumble vs. Green Bay (10/27) ... Credited with his second tackle of the season at Tampa Bay (11/16) after a Patriots turnover ... Named offensive team captain vs. Pittsburgh (12/13) ... Started both playoff games.

1996 (16/12, 3/3): Rucci played in every game, starting the final 12 regular season games and each of the three playoff games at right guard ... He was the only Patriots starting offensive linemen who did not allow a full sack all season, but shared the responsibility on one sack ... Was a key member of an offensive line which allowed just 30 sacks all season ... Their sack ratio of one sack for every 21.9 passes ranked sixth in the league ... Paved the way for Curtis Martin to eclipse the 1,000-yard rushing plateau for the second consecutive season - the first Patriots running back to accomplish the feat ... Allowed the running lanes for Martin to rush for over 140 yards in three different games; Oct. 13 vs. Washington (164 yards), Nov. 24 vs. Indianapolis (141) and in the divisional playoff game Jan. 5 vs. Pittsburgh (166).

1995 (6/5): Rucci opened the 1995 season as the starter at right guard, but lost that role in the sixth game of the season when he was replaced by Bob Kratch prior to the Kansas City contest (10/15) ... He was reported among the Patriots' inactives prior to each of the remaining 10 games of the season.

1994 (13/10, 1/1): Started the final 10 games of the season and the Patriots' playoff game at Cleveland after replacing an injured Doug Skene (knee) vs. the Raiders (10/9) ... Played on punt coverage and field goal teams ... Downed a "pooch" punt at the one-yard line in a 24-13 victory vs. the Jets (12/4) ... Allowed only 1.5 sacks in 10 starts at right guard on a unit which only allowed 22 sacks all season.

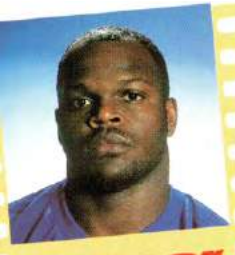

1993 (2/1): Started in his professional debut in the 1993 season opener at Buffalo (9/5) ... Played, but did not start, the following week vs. Detroit (9/12) ... Suffered a torn right pectoral muscle prior to the third game of the season and was placed on the reserve injured list (9/17) for the remainder of the year ... The injury occurred while lifting weights ... He spent the remainder of the year rehabilitating from the injury.

College: Proved to be a superb pass protector and an aggressive drive blocker in Joe Paterno's system at Penn State (1989-92) ... Originally recruited to Penn State as a defensive lineman, but made the successful transition to offense in the spring of 1990 ... Played right tackle for the Nittany Lions from 1990 through 1992 ... Started five of final six games at right tackle in 1992 as a senior ... Received the Red Worrell Award as the most improved offensive player in the 1991 spring drills ... Played in every game as a sophomore, averaging over 12 minutes of action in each contest ... Competed among the defensive linemen as a freshman.

Personal: Todd L. Rucci was born on July 14, 1970 in Upper Darby, Pa. ... He was an all-state selection as a senior at Upper Darby (Pa.) High and was selected to play in Pennsylvania's Big 33 All-Star football game in 1988 ... Did not play football as a junior in high school ... Majored in health education at Penn State ... Led the team in tackles for the third consecutive week with six hits vs. Jacksonville (9/22) and recorded a sack for the third consecutive game ... Earned Miller Lite Player of the Game honors after applying continuous pressure on Jim Harbaugh in a 27-9 victory over the Colts (10/20) ... Posted seven tackles vs. Miami (11/3) ... Saw reserve action the following week at the Jets (11/10) and made just two tackles ... Returned to the starting lineup vs. Denver (11/17) and registered nine tackles, including his fourth sack of the season, ending a six-game drought ... Relegated to a reserve role in the last five games of the season, yet posted sacks in three consecutive games during the month of December, beginning with a sack at San Diego (12/1) ... Forced a Stan Humphries fumble on the play and was credited with a 22-yard sack as the ball rolled into the end zone and was recovered by McGinest for a touchdown ... Dropped Glen Foley for a loss of 8 yards vs. the Jets (12/8) ... Registered his seventh sack of the season when he dumped Troy Aikman for an 11-yard loss at Dallas (12/15) ... Pressured Dave Brown and recorded four tackles, but did not get credit for a sack in the season finale at the Giants (12/21), ending a three-game sack streak ... Returned to the starting lineup and posted sacks in each of the first two playoff games ... Recorded eight tackles in the 28-3 playoff victory over the Steelers (1/5/97) ... Applied continuous pressure on Mark Brunell and was credited with one sack in the AFC Championship Game, while totaling nine tackles in the 20-6 victory (1/12/97) ... Led the team with 11 tackles, including 10 solos, vs. Green Bay (1/26/97) in the Super Bowl ... Finished second on the team with 28 postseason tackles and shared the lead with two quarterback sacks.

HOME FIELD ADVANTAGE

Chris Slade plays with great emotion and is the kind of player who will bring a home crowd to its feet. In his first five seasons, he has given the home crowd plenty to cheer about. Of his 38.5 career sacks, Slade has gathered 29.5 before the Foxboro faithful. In just as many games (40), Slade has recorded three times as many sacks at home than he has on the road. His sack totals entering the 1998 season, both at home and on the road, are listed below:

	Games	Sacks	Yards Lost
Home:	40	29.5	210
Away:	40	9.0	76

1995 (16/16): Started every game for the Patriots at right outside linebacker and recorded 95 tackles - tied for second on the team with Terry Ray ... Had a career-low four sacks for 16 yards, but helped pressure the quarterback into the direction of teammate Willie McGinest, who finished the season with a career-high 11 sacks ... Despite his low sack production, he was still recognized as one of the dominant forces in the AFC and was selected as an alternate for the Pro Bowl ... Earned his first career AFC Defensive Player of the Week honors for his performance in the Patriots' season-opening victory over Cleveland (9/3) when he led the team with 11 tackles, including his first sack of the season ... One of his best games came in a Monday Night victory over Buffalo (10/23) when he delivered eight defensive hits, including a four-yard sack of Jim Kelly, and was involved in two turnovers, forcing one fumble and recovering another ... Recorded nine tackles in games vs. Carolina (10/29) and Indianapolis (11/19) ... Turned in solo sack performances in both games against the Jets, for a loss of 2 and 9 yards respectively ... Scored his first touchdown of his career at Buffalo (11/26) on what was originally recorded as a 27-yard interception return ... It was later ruled that the loose ball Slade caught in mid-air was a Jim Kelly fumble, forced when hit by Willie McGinest ... It was his third career fumble recovery... The score came with 57 seconds remaining in the fourth quarter with the Patriots protecting a three-point lead in the game ... The touchdown secured a 35-25 victory and the Patriots' first series sweep of the Bills since 1987 ... He finished the game with eight tackles (6 solo).

1994 (16/16, 1/1): Started every game at right outside linebacker and finished the season with a career-high 105 tackles, second only to Vincent Brown (118) ... Led the team for the second straight year with 9.5 sacks, eight of which came vs. playoff-bound teams ... Of his 9.5 sacks, 7.5 were at Foxboro Stadium ... Selected as the Defensive MVP by the 1776 Quarterback Club ... Earned player of the game honors by team sponsors after five games ... Opened the season with three tackles and a sack for 9 yards at Miami (9/4) ... Recorded a season-high with 10 hits (seven solos) and assisted on a sack the following week in the home-opener vs. Buffalo (9/11) ... Earned the E.B. Horn Defensive Player of the Game honors ... Made five stops including a 6-yard sack in a 23-17 win over Detroit (9/25) to earn the Staples Star of the Game honors ... Deflected a pass at the line of scrimmage which was intercepted by Myron Guyton to seal the victory ... Registered eight tackles, including 2.5 sacks in a 17-16 victory vs. Green Bay (10/2), collecting unanimous player of the game honors from Miller Lite, E.B. Horn and Staples ... Recorded eight or more tackles in eight of 10 games during a stretch between October 2 through December 11 ... Forced a Cris Carter fumble in the Patriots' 26-20 overtime victory vs. Minnesota (11/13) ... Set a career-high with 3.5 sacks for 34.5 yards the following week in a 23-17 victory over San Diego (11/20) ... His 3.5 sacks were the most in a game since Andre Tippett recorded 3.5 on October 26, 1986 ... Earned Miller Lite Player of the Game, Staples Star of the Game and E.B. Horn Defensive Player of the Game honors for his performance ... tied his season-high with 10 tackles (six solos), including an 18-yard sack which caused a Don Majkowski fumble vs. Indianapolis

PATRIOTS CAREER SACK LEADERS

Chris Slade has averaged just over 7.5 sacks per season since joining the Patriots in 1993. Entering the season, he already ranks 8th among the Patriots' all-time career sack leaders. Another 7.5 sacks would propel him past Larry Eisenhauer into fifth place on the Patriots all-time list. The top 10 sack leaders in franchise history are listed below:

	Name	Sacks	GP	Years
1.	Andre Tippett	100.0	151	1982-88, 90-93

Career Transactions

Tom Tupa signed with the Patriots as an unrestricted free agent on March 15, 1996 after playing three seasons with the Cleveland Browns ... He was originally drafted by the Phoenix Cardinals in the third round (68th selection) of the 1988 NFL draft ... Signed with the Cardinals (7/12/88) ... Became a restricted free agent (2/1/91) and re-signed with the Cardinals (7/17/91) ... Granted unconditional free agency (2/1/92) and signed with Indianapolis (3/31/92) ... Released by the Colts on Aug. 30, 1993 and signed with the Browns on Nov. 9, 1993 ... Released by the Browns three weeks later (11/24/93) and was re-signed March 30, 1994 ... Became an unrestricted free agent on Feb. 15, 1996 and signed with the Patriots.

Career Highlights (GP/GS: 109/13; 7/0)

- Tupa is a tremendous talent whose punting prowess was overlooked early in his career while teams tried to develop him as a quarterback.
- Despite averaging 46.7 yards on six punts in his second NFL season (1989), his punting talents were ignored for the first six years of his career. In 1994, the Browns made him their full-time punter and he responded by kicking off seven years of rust to average 40.1 yards per punt.
- In eight NFL seasons, Tupa has now played in 109 games with 13 starts at quarterback. In just over five seasons, he has totaled 292 punts for 12,630 yards (43.3 avg.) and a career long of 73 yards. He has placed 86 punts inside the 20.
- As a quarterback (and out of punt formation), he has completed 252 of 491 passes (.513) for 3,256 yards and 10 touchdowns.

• In addition to his punting and quarterbacking capabilities, he has also been counted upon as the placement holder on field goal and extra point attempts throughout his career.
• In 1994, he tied the single-season NFL record with three two-point conversions, earning the nickname "Two-Point Tupa."
• In 1997, he established a career-high and set a franchise single-season punting record with an average of 45.8 yards per punt. He led the AFC in punting average and was voted as a Pro Bowl first alternate. He finished just one-tenth of a yard shy of New Orleans' Mark Royals' league-leading 45.9-yard average per punt. No Patriot has ever led the league in punting average.
• He boomed a career-long 73-yard punt at Denver (10/6/97)- the longest punt in the AFC in 1997.
• He averaged 45.1 yards on a eight punts vs. Green Bay (1/26/97) in Super Bowl XXXI and placed three of those punts inside the 20-yard line.
• Had a career-day vs. New England (9/29/91) when he threw for 312 yards and three touchdowns, including a season-long 62-yard touchdown pass to Ricky Proehl in a 24-10 victory.

Seasonal Reviews

1997 (16/0, 2/0): Established a career-high and set a franchise single-season punting record with an average of 45.8 yards per punt … He led the AFC in punting average and was voted as a Pro Bowl first alternate … Finished just one-tenth of a yard shy of New Orleans' Mark Royals' league-leading 45.9-yard average per punt … No Patriot has ever led the league in punting average … Boomed a career-long 73-yard punt at Denver (10/6)- the longest punt in the AFC in 1997 … Played in every game and handled the punting and place-holding responsibilities throughout the season … Averaged over 50 yards per kick in four games, including the first two to open the season vs. San Diego (8/31) and at Indianapolis (9/7) … His 55.6-yard average per punt at Indianapolis was a career-best and a franchise record (with a minimum of five punts) … Had a punt blocked for the first time of his career by Corwin Brown vs. the Jets (9/14) … His 73-yard punt at Denver helped boost his average to 51.9 yards on seven punts … Placed five punts inside the 20-yard line at Buffalo (11/9) … Punted just twice vs. Miami (11/23), a season-low … Topped the 50-yard average plateau for the fourth and final time vs. Indianapolis (11/30) with a 51.2-yard average on five punts … Selected special teams captain vs. Pittsburgh and responded by placing three of six punts inside the 20 and averaged 44.5 yards per punt … Made a special teams tackle on a punt return vs. Miami (12/22) in the regular season finale … Averaged 36.7 yards per punt on a cold and windy day at Foxboro in a first round playoff victory over the Dolphins (12/28) … Averaged 42.0 yards on seven punts at Pittsburgh (1/3/98), including a postseason career long of 54 yards … Assisted on a special teams tackle in the game.

1996 (16/0, 3/0): Tupa played in every game as the punter and placement holder on the kicking team … His versatility proved to be invaluable to the Patriots' success in 1996 … In addition to his punting and placement holding responsibilities, Tupa also acted as the Patriots' backup quarterback, giving the team more flexibility with the 45-man active roster for each game … Performed consistently all season and finished the year with 63 punts for 2,739 yards (43.5 avg.) and a net average of 36.0 … His 43.5-yard average was the third highest single season average in team history … The franchise record was set by Rich Camarillo in 1983 when he averaged 44.6 yards per punt, which broke the record he had set the year before with a 43.7-yard average … Tupa averaged 45.0 yards per punt or more in 10 of the first 13 games of the season … Placed three of his four punts inside the 20 at Baltimore (10/6) … Booted a season-long 62-yard punt which one-hopped into the end zone vs. Buffalo (10/27) … The 62-yard punt was the longest by a Patriot since Pat O'Neil punted a 67-yarder in 1994 … Finished the game with four punts for 201 yards, a 50.3-yard average and a net of 49.0, each average represented a season-high … Punted seven times for 324 yards (both season-highs) for a 46.3-yard average and a 42.3-yard net an a long of 56 yards at San Diego (12/1) … Attempted two passes out of punt formation, but both fell incomplete (Sept. 8 at Buffalo and Nov. 17 vs. Denver) … Punted seven times with a 43.6-yard average in the Patriots' divisional playoff game vs. Pittsburgh (1/5/97) … Placed three of his six punts inside the Jacksonville 20-yard line in the AFC Championship Game (1/12/97) … Averaged 45.1 yards on a season-high eight punts vs. Green Bay in Super Bowl XXXI … Placed three of those eight punts inside the 20-yard line.

1995 (16/0-Cleveland): Tupa played in every game in his second full season as a punter … He finished the year with a 43.6-yard average (fifth in the AFC) on 65 punts and placed 18 inside the 20 … Scored what would have been his second career rushing touchdown on a fake field goal vs. Tampa Bay, but the play was nullified due to an illegal formation penalty and the Browns settled for the field goal ... Completed a 25-yard pass on his only attempt of the season on a fake punt, which led to a third quarter touchdown in the Browns' 35-17 victory over Kansas City (9/24) ... It was his first pass attempt since quarterbacking the Colts in 1992 ... Played an important part in a 29-26 overtime victory over Cincinnati (10/29) when he punted four times for a 44.5-yard average, including two punts placed inside the 20 ... Boomed a season-long 64-yard strike in the fourth quarter ... The punt was muffed and recovered by the Browns on the 5-yard line, leading to a Browns touchdown ... In the overtime period, he booted punts of 42 and 47 yards into the wind ... Punted a career-high nine times, averaging 48.2 yards per punt at Pittsburgh (11/13) ... Averaged 48.5 yards on four punts at Minnesota (12/9) and picked up 9 yards on a fake punt, but was short of the first down ... Averaged 50.5 yards on two punts in season finale at Jacksonville (12/23).

1994 (16/0, 2/0-Cleveland): Tupa played in every game, including the Browns' two playoff games and finished fourth in the AFC with 27 punts placed inside the 20 ... He totaled 80 punts for a 40.1-yard average in his first season as a full-time punter ... 38 of his punts were returned for a conference low 220 yards ... Scored on three two-point conversions, tying an NFL single-season record ... Each of his two-point conversions came out of PAT formation ... Scored the NFL's first two-point conversion in the season opener at Cincinnati (9/4) ... Was the placement holder for Matt Stover, who set a Browns all-time record for single-season accuracy (.928) ... Twice garnered AFC Special Teams Player of the Week honors vs. the Jets (10/2) and the Oilers (10/13) ... Hit a career-long 65-yard punt and placed two kicks inside the 20 in a 27-7 victory over the Jets (10/2) ... Had five games with three or more inside the 20 punts ... Punted eight times in the playoffs for 303 yards (37.9 avg.) in two games.

1993 (0/0-Cleveland): Tupa went to training camp with the Colts, but was among the final preseason cuts (8/30) ... Signed with the Browns on Nov. 10, but was reported among Cleveland's inactives for two games and was then released on Nov. 24, 1993.

1992 (3/0-Indianapolis): Played in three games, seeing reserve action at quarterback ... Completed 17 of 33 passes for 156 yards and one touchdown ... Relieved Jack Trudeau at Buffalo (9/20) and completed 7 of 12 attempts for 64 yards and an interception ... Rushed three times for 9 yards on the season.

1991 (11/11-Phoenix): Started 11 games after Timm Rosenbach suffered a season-ending injury and led the Cardinals to a 4-7 record ... Finished the season with career-highs in every passing category ... Completed 165 of 315 passes (.524) for 2,053 yards, including six touchdowns and 13 interceptions ... Also turned in career-high rushing totals with 28 carries for 97 yards and a touchdown ... Had a career-day vs. New England (9/29) when he threw for 312 yards and three touchdowns, including a season-long 62-yard touchdown pass to Ricky Proehl in a 24-10 victory ... Completed a career-high 24 passes on 38 attempts for 242 yards vs. Dallas (9/22).

1990 (15/0-Phoenix): Played in 15 games as the placement holder on all kicks, but did not take a snap from scrimmage ... Did not appear in the game at Washington (9/9).

1989 (14/2-Phoenix): Started two of 14 games at quarterback ... Finished the season by completing 65 of 134 attempts for 973 yards and three touchdowns ... Threw nine interceptions ... His first career start came vs. Philadelphia (10/15) and he responded with a career-high 41 pass attempts ... Connected with Don Holmes for a career-long 77-yard touchdown pass vs. the Rams (11/19) ... Also completed 72- and 38-yard touchdown passes to Ernie Jones as he connected on 14 of 22 attempts for 245 yards vs. Dallas (11/12) ... Filled in for an injured Rich Camarillo and averaged 46.7 yards on six punts vs. the Raiders (12/10).

1988 (2/0-Phoenix): Played in just two games as a rookie and completed two of three passes for 37 yards vs. Houston (11/20) and two of three passes for 12 yards vs. the Giants (12/5) in reserve action.

College: Tupa was a four-year letterman (1984-87) as a quarterback and punter at Ohio State ... Ranks as the school's all-time leading punter with a 44.7-yard career average on 214 punts ... Finished his Buckeye career completing 171 of 304 passes for 2,252 yards, including 15 touchdowns and just 12 interceptions. 1987: Started every game as a senior and completed 134 of 242 passes (.554) for 1,786 yards and 12 touchdowns ... Played in the Rose, Florida Citrus and Cotton Bowls during his collegiate career.

Personal: Thomas Joseph Tupa Jr. was born on Feb. 6, 1966 in Cleveland, Ohio ... Attended Brecksville High in Cleveland, Ohio and quarterbacked the team to the state championship as a senior ... Was a three-sport star, lettering in football, basketball and baseball ... Averaged 20.8 ppg. and 12 rpg in basketball and was the pitcher and shortstop on the baseball team ... Competed in the NFL's Punt, Pass & Kick contest and was a finalist three times - winning once ... Tom and his wife, Beth, have three sons, Thomas Joseph Tupa III (9/22/94), Timothy David (3/6/96) and Tyler Mark (1/22/98).

Career Transactions

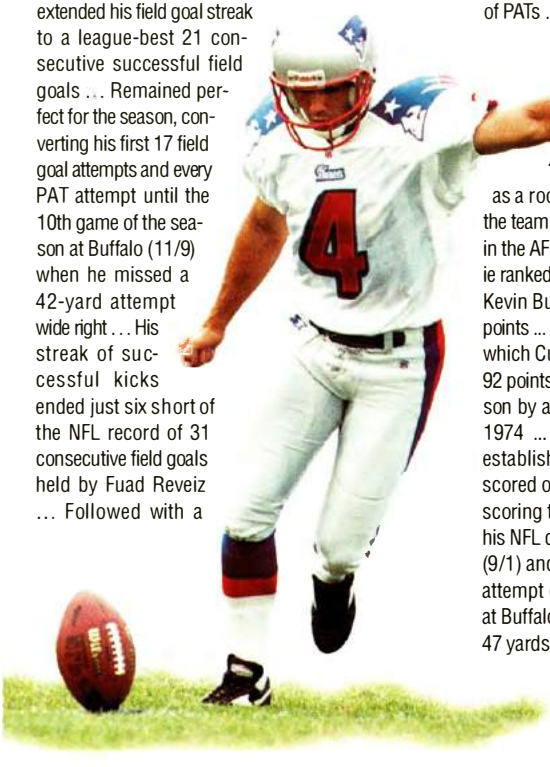

Adam Vinatieri signed with the Patriots as a rookie free agent on June 28, 1996 ... He originally signed with the Amsterdam Admirals of the World League in the spring of 1996.

Career Highlights (GP/GS: 32/0; 5/0)

- Scored 115 points in 1997 after a 120-point rookie season to become just the fourth player in franchise history to score over 100 points in consecutive seasons, joining Gino Cappelletti, John Smith and Tony Franklin.
- Set a franchise rookie record with 120 points in 1996.
- Set a franchise record by kicking 25 consecutive field goals without a miss over a span of two years to finish just six kicks shy of the NFL record.
- Ranks sixth among the NFL's all-time leading scorers after just two seasons in the NFL with 235 total points.
- Earned Miller Lite Player of the Game and Staples Star of the Game honors after converting all four field goals, including a career-long 52-yarder, and three PATs for 15 points in the Patriots' 33-6 victory over Buffalo (10/12/97).
- Enters the 1998 season ranked 13th in franchise history with 235 career points.
- While in the World League, Vinatieri showed that he had a strong leg and could double as a punter. He was signed to add depth and consistency to the Patriots' kickoff team in 1996, but ultimately displayed enough poise and promise to warrant the release of veteran placekicker Matt Bahr.

1997 (16/0, 2/0): Played in every game and led the team in scoring with 115 points -sixth in the AFC ... Earned first-team All-AFC honors from the Football News and was the recipient of the Shaw's 12th Man Award, as voted on by the New England fans ... Handled all kicking duties, including kickoffs, field goals and PATs ... Converted 25 of 29 field goals (.862) and all 40 PATs ... His 115 points ranks 10th among the Patriots' all-time leading single season scorers ... His 25 field goals ranked fifth in franchise history and were just two shy of his single season career-high ... Converted 3-of-5 field goals and a pair of extra points to lead the team with 11 points in the postseason ... Set a franchise record for the longest postseason field goal with a 46-yard kick at Pittsburgh (1/3/98) ... Opened the season with a pair of field goals and five PATs in a 41-7 victory over the Chargers (8/31) ... Set a new franchise record with his 15th consecutive field goal without a miss at Denver (10/6) ... Earned Miller Lite Player of the Game and Staples Star of the Game honors after converting all four field goals, including a career-long 52-yarder, and three PATs for 15 points in the Patriots' 33-6 victory over Buffalo (10/12) ... His 52-yard field goal was the fourth longest field goal in Patriots history ... Named AFC Special Teams Player of the Week for his efforts vs. Buffalo ... Named special teams captain at the Jets (10/19) and extended his field goal streak to a league-best 21 consecutive successful field goals ... Remained perfect for the season, converting his first 17 field goal attempts and every PAT attempt until the 10th game of the season at Buffalo (11/9) when he missed a 42-yard attempt wide right ... His streak of successful kicks ended just six short of the NFL record of 31 consecutive field goals held by Fuad Reveiz ... Followed with a 45-yard attempt, which caromed off the right upright and was no good ... It was just the second time in his career that he had missed two attempts in a game ... His first was also at Buffalo on Sept. 8, 1996, where he missed two field goals and had a third attempt blocked in a 17-10 loss ... Eclipsed the 100-point plateau for the season at Jacksonville (12/7) and scored 14 points, converting 4-of-5 field goal attempts and a pair of PATs ... Converted just 1-of-3 field goals in the first-round playoff victory over Miami (12/28) ... Scored all six points with a pair of field goals at Pittsburgh in a 7-6 loss.

MOST POINTS SCORED IN FIRST TWO SEASONS (NFL HISTORY)

Only five players in NFL history have scored more points in their first two seasons than Patriots kicker Adam Vinatieri has. The league's top seven scorers after two years are listed below:

Rk	Name	Pts
1.	Kevin Butler	264
2.	Chris Boniol	241
3.	Jason Elam	238
4.	Eddie Murray	237
5.	Jan Stenerud	237
6.	Adam Vinatieri	235
7.	David Treadwell	229

1996 (16/0, 3/0): Vinatieri played in every game as a rookie, including all three playoff games ... Led the team in scoring with 120 points, which ranked third in the AFC and fifth overall ... His 120 points by a rookie ranked eighth in NFL history and was the most since Kevin Butler set a new record in 1985 with 144 total points ... It also set a new Patriots rookie scoring record, which Curtis Martin had set in 1995 when he scored 92 points ... The team record for points scored in a season by a rookie kicker was 90, set by John Smith in 1974 ... Vinatieri combined with Curtis Martin to establish another franchise first, as both players scored over 100 points to give the Patriots their first scoring tandem to eclipse the century mark ... Made his NFL debut in the Patriots' season-opener at Miami (9/1) and connected on a 25-yard field goal, his only attempt of the day ... Converted a 42-yard field goal at Buffalo (9/8), but missed on kicks from 45, 25 and 47 yards away, as two kicks bounced off the crossbar ... Missed an extra point attempt and a 47-yard attempt vs. Arizona (9/15), before he overcame his kicking slump at Jacksonville

Career Transactions

Larry Whigham signed with the Patriots on Sept. 14, 1994, after spending the first two weeks of the season on the Seattle Seahawks' practice squad ... Originally drafted by the Seahawks in the fourth round of the 1994 NFL draft ... Waived by the Seahawks (8/24/94) and re-signed to their practice squad (8/29/94).

Career Highlights (GP/GS: 60/1, 6/0)

- Whigham was selected to his first Pro Bowl as the AFC's special teams player in 1997.
- In 1996, he was voted by his peers as the AFC Special Teams Player of the Year which he received at the Mackey Awards banquet.
- Despite limited playing time in the Patriots' defensive secondary, Whigham still energizes the fans with his play and has become a fan favorite at Foxboro Stadium.
- He saw expanded playing time in 1997 as a nickel and dime back throughout the season and finished the year with a career-high 19 defensive tackles, a pair of sacks, two interceptions, four passes defensed and one forced fumble.
- Intercepted two Dan Marino passes vs. Miami (11/23/97), including one which he returned 60 yards for a touchdown, and finished the game with a season-high four tackles to earn Miller Lite Player of the Game and Staples Star of the Game honors. He was named AFC Defensive Player of the Week for his efforts.
- Tipped a pass which was intercepted by Chris Slade in the second quarter of the first round playoff game vs. Miami (12/28/97).
- Downed a Tom Tupa punt at the Buffalo (10/27/96) 1-yard line to set up the Patriots' only safety of the year and the team's first since 1986.
- Forced a fumble on a return by Brian Stills at San Diego (12/1/96), which was picked up by Patriots teammate Corwin

Brown and returned 42 yards for a touchdown - his second assist on a special teams touchdown of the season.
• Recorded a career-best with five special teams tackles vs. the Jets (12/8).
• He earned AFC Special Teams Player of the Week in the AFC Championship Game vs. Jacksonville (1/12/97) when he tackled Jaguar punter Brian Barker on his own 4-yard line, which resulted in a Curtis Martin touchdown.

Seasonal Reviews

1997 (4/0, 0/0): Served as a backup to Drew Bledsoe, who started every game for the Patriots for the second consecutive season ... Zolak received limited playing time, but made the most of his opportunity, completing six of nine attempts for 67 yards and two touchdowns without throwing an interception ... The totals gave him a quarterback rating of 128.2 for the season … Both touchdown passes were caught by tight end Lovett Purnell. … Remained on the inactive list as the designated third quarterback in seven games … Active, but did not play in the final five games of the season and both playoff games … Appeared in the season opener vs. San Diego (8/31), but did not attempt a pass … Kneeled down on the final play of the game for a -1-yard rush … Completed all three attempts for 33 yards and a touchdown vs. Chicago (9/21) … His touchdown pass to Lovett Purnell was his first touchdown pass since he started at Atlanta on Oct. 1, 1995 … Kneeled down on the final two plays of the game vs. Buffalo (10/12) … Connected with Purnell for his second touchdown of the season at Tampa Bay (11/16) with just eight seconds remaining in the game to avoid a shutout in a 27-7 loss … Finished the game completing three of six attempts for 34 yards and a touchdown … Did not play in the final five games.

1996 (2/0, 0/0): Zolak backed up Bledsoe, who started every game for the Patriots and made it through the season injury-free … He was listed as the Patriots' emergency quarterback for all 16 regular season games and each playoff game, allowing Tupa to serve as the "backup" quarterback and punter … His only activity came in the fourth quarters of two lopsided victories: in a 31-0 blowout vs. Arizona (9/15) and a 45-7 drubbing at San Diego (12/1) … Attempted just one pass all season vs. Arizona (9/15), which he completed to Dietrich Jells for a 5-yard gain … He took a knee on the final three snaps of the game to run out the clock at San Diego (3 rushes, -3 yards).

1995 (16/1): Zolak played in every game as the Patriots' placement holder and made his fifth start of his career in the fourth game of the season at Atlanta (10/1) … Filled in for one series at San Francisco (9/10) after Bledsoe left the game with a separated left shoulder … Completed his only pass attempt for a 7-yard gain … Started in Bledsoe's absence in the next game at Atlanta (10/1) and completed 24 of 45 attempts for 252 yards … Connected with Vincent Brisby on a season-long 72-yard pass late in the first quarter … Connected with FB Sam Gash for a 2-yard touchdown with just seven seconds remaining in the half … It was the Patriots' first passing touchdown of the season … Returned to reserve duty the following week vs. Denver (10/8) when Bledsoe returned to the starting lineup … Came in on the final drive of the game and led the Patriots on a 66-yard drive, completing each of his three pass attempts for 23 yards as time expired … Played in each of the remaining 11 games exclusively as the Patriots' placement holder.

1994 (16/0, 1/0): Played in every game as the Patriots holder on field goal and PAT attempts … Saw action at quarterback vs. Miami (10/30) and at Buffalo (12/18) … Completed five of eight passes for 28 yards vs. Miami … Directed the final two drives at Buffalo … Took a knee to end the game in the Patriots' 41-17 victory and was credited with one rush for a 1-yard loss.

1993 (3/0): Played in three games as a reserve … Threw two "Hail Mary" passes in the final minutes at Seattle (10/24) in a 10-9 loss to the Seahawks … Listed as the inactive "emergency" quarterback in eight games.

1992 (6/4): Played in six games with four starts … Completed 52 of 100 passes for 561 yards, two touchdowns and four interceptions … Made his NFL debut vs. New Orleans (11/8) when he replaced an injured Tom Hodson and completed five of nine passes for 20 yards … Started his first NFL game the following week at Indianapolis (11/15) and earned AFC Offensive Player of the Week honors by completing 20 of 29 passes for 261 yards and two touchdowns while leading the Patriots to their first win of the season (a 37-34 overtime victory) … Led the club to its second consecutive victory with a 24-3 victory over the New York Jets (11/22) … Suffered a right ankle sprain at Kansas City (12/13) and was placed on Injured Reserve (12/18) for the remainder of the season.

1991 (0/0): Spent the entire season listed as the Patriots "emergency" third string quarterback and did not participate in any games.

NEW ENGLAND 41, SAN DIEGO 7

August 31, 1997 • Foxboro Stadium

The New England Patriots opened the 1997 season with a bang, defeating the San Diego Chargers 41-7 in front of a sold out Foxboro Stadium. The win was the second consecutive home opening win for the Patriots (17-14 vs. Cleveland; 9/3/95). The Patriots set the tone early, opening the game with a 73-yard drive on 10 plays in 5:01 which resulted in a Drew Bledsoe to tight end Ben Coates 4-yard touchdown pass. Bledsoe, who was named Staples Star of the Game and Miller Lite Player of the Game, threw three more touchdowns in the first half, finished the game 26 of 39 (66.6%) for 340 yards and four touchdowns. All four touchdowns were to different targets, Coates (4 yards), Glenn (25 yards), Sam Gash (12 yards) and Keith Byars (2 yards). The Patriots defense also had a strong performance, holding the Chargers offense to only 227 total yards (85 rushing-142 passing). Of the 12 Charger drives, seven ended in punts and three on a defensive turnovers, two fumbles and one interception. They also sacked Charger quarterback Stan Humphries four times, including two by Mike Jones, and one each by defensive tackles Henry Thomas and Mark Wheeler. Thomas also forced a Humphries fumble, which he recovered, on his first sack as a Patriot. The turnover led to a Patriots field goal, a 21-yard kick by Adam Vinatieri and defensive back Willie Clay, closed out the scoring on the afternoon, when he stepped in front of a Jim Everett pass and darted 53-yards for a touchdown.

NEW ENGLAND 31, INDIANAPOLIS 6

September 7, 1997 • RCA Dome

The New England Patriots, playing without four starters, won their second consecutive game to start off the 1997 season, 31-6 over the Indianapolis Colts in the RCA Dome. The Patriots offense, playing without starting center David Wohlabaugh and wide receiver Terry Glenn, scored on their second possession of the game when Bledsoe connected on a 34-yard touchdown pass with Shawn Jefferson. On the Colts next drive, they found themselves in a third and one situation on the Patriots 25 yard-line. Colts running back Marshall Faulk attempted to run outside but Patriots linebacker Chris Slade dropped him for a three-yard loss to force a 45-yard Cary Blanchard field goal. The Colts added another Blanchard field goal, from 38-yards, to cut the Patriots lead to 7-6. Drew Bledsoe then capped the four-play drive by connecting with running back Curtis Martin for a 21-yard touchdown pass that gave the Patriots a 14-6 lead. Bledsoe finished the game 15 of 25 for 267 yards and four touchdowns and Martin caught three passes for 34 yards and ran for 121 yards on 25 carries. The Patriots defense, playing without defensive end Willie McGinest and linebacker Todd Collins, held the Colts to only 255 yards of total offense and sacked Harbaugh five times. They helped put the game away in the fourth quarter when Chris Slade forced a Harbaugh fumble which was recovered by Tedy Bruschi. The offense capitalized on the first play from scrimmage when Bledsoe found his fourth touchdown target of the day, Troy Brown from 21 yards out to make the score 28-6.

NEW ENGLAND 27, NEW YORK JETS 24 (OT)

September 14, 1997 • Foxboro Stadium

The New England Patriots won their third consecutive game to open the 1997 season, 27-24, in dramatic fashion when placekicker Adam Vinatieri kicked a 34-yard field goal 6:57 in overtime. The win marked the first time since 1974 that the Patriots have started 3-0. The Jets had a chance to win the game at the end of regulation, but defensive end Mike Jones blocked a 29-yard field goal attempt by John Hall with 16 seconds remaining in the game. Running back Curtis Martin was named Miller Lite Player of the Game after leading the offense with a career-high 199 yards rushing on a team-record 40 carries and averaged 5.0 yards per carry. His 199 yards rushing were the third most in Patriots history. Linebacker Chris Slade was named Staples Star of the Game after recording three sacks, five tackles, one forced fumble and two passes defensed. It was the third time in his career he has recorded 3.0 or more sacks. The Patriots defense forced three turnovers, all fumbles, including linebacker Todd Collins' strip of Jets' fullback Richie Anderson on the Patriots six-yard line. In overtime, the Patriots were led by Martin, who rushed seven times for 49 yards on the final drive of the game, leading the Patriots to the 17 yard-line. The entire drive covered 62 yards on nine plays and culminated on the kick by Vinatieri.

NEW ENGLAND 31, CHICAGO BEARS 3

September 21, 1997 • Foxboro Stadium

The New England Patriots won their fourth consecutive game to open the 1997 season, burying the Chicago Bears 31-3 in front of a sold out Foxboro Stadium crowd. The win marked the third time in franchise history and the first time since 1974 they have started 4-0. Wide receiver Troy Brown was named both Staples Star of the Game and Miller Lite Player of the Game after leading all receivers with a career-high 124 yards receiving on six catches, including a 52-yard touchdown reception in the second quarter. The touchdown catch was the longest of his five-year career. The Patriots defense stopped the Bears from ever mounting a threat, holding them to 199 total yards and only three points. They applied pressure on quarterback Rick Mirer all afternoon sacking him five times and intercepting him twice. Mirer, starting his first game for the Bears, completed 17 of 25 passes for 154 yards. Defensive tackle Henry Thomas and linebacker Ted Johnson led the defense with nine tackles (7 solo) apiece. Thomas added two sacks along with safety Larry Whigham who recorded the first two sacks of his career. Drew Bledsoe completed 24 of 37 passes for 301 yards, two touchdowns and one interception. It was the second time this season Bledsoe has thrown for 300 or more yards and the 15th time in his five-year career. He completed passes to six different receivers, including six to Brown and tight end Ben Coates.

DENVER 34, NEW ENGLAND 13

October 6, 1997 • Mile High Stadium

The New England Patriots (4-1) lost their first game of the 1997 season, 34-13 against the Denver Broncos (6-0) at Mile High Stadium. The match-up was the latest in the season two undefeated teams had met on Monday Night Football. The Patriots fell behind, 14-0, in the first quarter following two turnovers. Wide receiver Terry Glenn fumbled on the sixth play of the game's opening drive and the Broncos turned the miscue into seven points. They drove 75 yards on 11 plays and scored on a Davis 2-yard run. Three series later, backed up to his own eight yard-line, Patriots quarterback Drew Bledsoe was intercepted by Broncos' linebacker John Mobley and he returned it 13-yards for a touchdown to increase their lead to 14-0. The Patriots turned the tide in the second quarter, scoring 13 points to trail by only one, 14-13. Safety Willie Clay intercepted two passes in the quarter which were turned into 10 points. On the first play of the second quarter, Clay stole a pass from wide receiver Rod Smith. He returned the interception 27 yards to the the Broncos 44 yard-line. On the very next play, Bledsoe connected with fullback Keith Byars on a 44-yard touchdown pass to make the score 14-7. Kicker Adam Vinatieri added the Patriots next six points, kicking field goals of 26 and 49-yards. Clay's second interception of the game came with 1:34 remaining in the first half and he returned it three yards to the Bronco 47 yard-line. The Patriots moved into field goal range in the final 1:34 of the half and Vinatieri booted a 49-yard field goal as the half ended. The Broncos opened the second half with a 10 play, 80-yard drive, which was culminated on an Elway one-yard quarterback sneak, to increase their lead to 21-13.

New England 33, Buffalo Bills 6

October 12, 1997 • Foxboro Stadium

The New England Patriots rebounded to defeat the Buffalo Bills, 33-6, in front of a sold out crowd in Foxboro Stadium. Quarterback Drew Bledsoe became the third player in Patriots history to surpass the 16,000 yard mark, throwing for 181 yards on 14 of 27 passes, including two touchdowns and one interception. The Patriots scored on their first drive of the game when Bledsoe connected with tight end Ben Coates for a 20-yard touchdown. The drive totaled 63 yards on seven plays in 3:29. On the ensuing drive by the Bills, quarterback Todd Collins was sacked by Patriots' linebacker Tedy Bruschi and had to leave the game, and did not return with an injured shoulder. Back-up Billy Joe Hobert replaced Collins, but on his first play, he was intercepted by safety Willie Clay. The Patriots converted the turnover into Vinatieri's first field goal of the day from 20 yards. On the second play of the second quarter, Hobert was intercepted again, this time by cornerback Ty Law. The Patriots defense recorded four interceptions on the day. The Patriots converted Law's interception into Vinatieri's second score from 23 yards. He also added a 41-yard field goal later in the second quarter and the Patriots led 16-0 at the half. The second half was not much different for the Patriots. They scored on their first three drives of the second half and led at the end of the third quarter 33-0. Vinatieri added a career-long 52-yard field goal on the first drive in the third quarter. Martin ran in from 26 yards out on the next drive and Bledsoe threw a four-yard touchdown pass to Keith Byars to round out the scoring.

New York Jets 24, New England 19

October 19, 1997 • The Meadowlands

The New England Patriots (5-2) were handed their only division loss of the season when the New York Jets (5-3) rallied to score 21 second half points to upset the Patriots 24-19. The Jets were limited to just 88 yards in the first half, but were sparked by the halftime substitution of backup quarterback Glenn Foley, who paced a second half surge and led the Jets on three touchdown drives to secure the victory. The Jets took a 3-0 lead in the first quarter. The Patriots first score resulted from a safety due to an intentional grounding call on quarterback Neil O'Donnell, who was throwing from his own end zone. The Patriots took a 5-3 lead in the second quarter when Adam Vinatieri converted his 21st field goal, extending his own franchise record. The Patriots opened the second half with an 80-yard drive, sparked by a 67-yard reception by Troy Brown, and capped by an 8-yard touchdown pass to Ben Coates, his 38th career touchdown reception. The Jets responded with a 10-play, 74-yard scoring drive of their own to pull back to within two points. The Patriots countered with another long drive (5-75), capped by a 23-yard touchdown pass to Brown. The Jets scored 14 unanswered points to take a 24-19 lead with 10:32 remaining in the game. The Patriots possessions ended on downs in the final quarter. The first ended with a pass attempt to Vincent Brisby in the end zone, the second was a pass intended to Shawn Jefferson which was ruled to be trapped and incomplete.

Green Bay 28, New England 18

October 27, 1997 • Foxboro Stadium

The New England Patriots (5-3) were dealt their first home loss of the season by the defending NFL Champion Green Bay Packers (6-2), 28-10. It was the first loss incurred by the Patriots at Foxboro Stadium since dropping a 34-8 decision to the Denver Broncos on Nov. 17, 1996. Since then, the Patriots had claimed eight consecutive home victories, including playoff and preseason games. Despite two early turnovers on their first three possessions, the Patriots evened the score 7-7 in the second quarter when Drew Bledsoe connected with tight end Ben Coates for an 11-yard touchdown. They took a 10-7 lead with just 2:12 remaining in the half when Adam Vinatieri converted a 38-yard field goal, his 22nd consecutive successful attempt. The Packers answered with a 9-play, 75-yard scoring drive of their own to regain the lead just before the half, 14-10. The Patriots drove 73 yards on 11 plays on their opening drive in the third quarter, but stalled at the 1-yard line and turned the ball over on downs. The Pack roared back, sustaining a 17-play, 99-yard scoring drive to take a 21-10 lead in the third quarter. A final scoring drive late in the game, capped by a 3-yard run by Dorsey Levens, gave the Packers a 28-10 victory after scoring 21-unanswered points. Terry Glenn highlighted an otherwise disappointing performance by the Patriots. The second-year wide out posted a career-high 163-yard effort on seven receptions. It was his first 100-yard game of the season and the third of his career. The performance ranks fifth in franchise history.

MINNESOTA 23, NEW ENGLAND 18

November 2, 1997 • Hubert H. Humphrey Metrodome

The Minnesota Vikings (7-2) dealt the New England Patriots (5-4) their third straight loss, 23-18, which knocked them from their first-place perch atop the AFC East.

Vikings running back Moe Williams, who made his professional starting debut due to injuries to Robert Smith and Leroy Hoard, opened the game with a 74-yard kickoff return to put the Vikings in scoring position on their opening possession. The Vikings moved to the Patriots 6-yard line, but had to settle for a 24-yard field goal by Eddie Murray, his first of three field goals for the game. On their next possession, Brad Johnson connected on a 43-yard pass to Cris Carter, who fumbled the ball ahead to the 1-yard line where it was recovered by Vikings RB Robert Green. Two plays later, the Vikings took a 10-0 lead with a 1-yard touchdown run by Williams. The Patriots responded with a 15-play drive late in the first quarter, only to have the drive end prematurely on a pass interception at the Vikings 18-yard line. The Patriots put their first points on the board in the second quarter when Adam Vinatieri converted his 23rd straight field goal to cap an 81-yard drive, highlighted by a 76-yard pass from Bledsoe to Shawn Jefferson. The Vikings responded with Murray's second field goal of the game to give the Vikings a 13-3 lead at the half.

Murray's third field goal gave the Vikings their largest lead of the game, 16-3 in the third. The Patriots battled back in the fourth quarter, scoring on every possession. Bledsoe connected on a 5-yard touchdown pass to Jefferson on the opening drive of the fourth quarter, but the extra point attempt failed due to a bad snap and the Patriots trailed by seven, 16-9. Vinatieri's second field goal of the game and 24th consecutive kick brought the Patriots to within four points, 16-12, with 5:46 remaining in the game. But a 9-play, 73-yard drive capped by a 28-yard touchdown pass from Johnson to Carter, gave the Vikings a 23-12 lead with just 2:39 remaining in the game. The Patriots responded with an 11-play, 69-yard scoring drive of their own, but failed to convert their two-point attempt and faced a five-point deficit with just 0:42 remaining. The ensuing onside kick sailed out of bounds and was awarded to the Vikings, ending any chance for a Patriots last-second, come-from-behind victory.

New England 31, Buffalo 10

November 9, 1997 • Rich Stadium

The New England Patriots (6-4) claimed a 21-point victory over the Buffalo Bills (5-5) to improve to 4-1 in the division and moved into a three-way tie for first place in the AFC East along with Miami and New York. Four Patriots interceptions, including one which was returned for a touchdown, and an 86-yard kickoff return for a touchdown proved to be insurmountable for the Bills' offense. It was the first time in franchise history that the Patriots had scored an offensive, defensive and special teams touchdown in a single game. The Buffalo Bills took a first quarter lead with a 23-yard field goal by Steve Christie. On the ensuing kickoff, first-year kick returner Derrick Cullors took the return 86 yards for a touchdown to give the Patriots a 7-3 lead at the end of the first quarter. In the second quarter, the Patriots forced three Bills turnovers with interceptions by Jimmy Hitchcock, Ty Law and Willie Clay, which led to a 10-point second quarter and a 17-3 lead at the half. In the third quarter, Todd Collins replaced Alex Van Pelt as quarterback for the Bills, but was unable to provide the spark to ignite the Bills offense. On his second possession of the half, Collins was pressured by Patriots defensive end Willie McGinest near his own goal line. He got the pass off only to watch Chris Slade tip the ball to himself and waltz in for a touchdown, giving the Patriots a commanding 24-3 lead in the third. A Bills 70-yard scoring drive late in the third was answered by the Patriots with a 71-yard drive of their own, capped by a Curtis Martin 1-yard touchdown to give the Patriots a 31-10 victory.

Tampa Bay 27, New England 7

November 16, 1997 • Houlihan Stadium

The Tampa Bay Buccaneers (8-3) pillaged the New England Patriots (6-5) in a non-conference game at Houlihan Stadium, claiming a 27-7 victory over the defending AFC Champions. Jimmy Hitchcock forced a fumble at the Bucs' 43-yard line on Tampa Bay's opening drive. The fumble was recovered by teammate Willie Clay, but the Patriots' offense was unable to move the ball and was forced to punt. On the ensuing possession, the Bucs sustained a 13-play, 80-yard scoring drive, capped by a 1-yard run by Errict Rhett, his first touchdown of the season. A second fumble recovery by the Patriots defense followed the same course as the first. Once again, the Patriots could not convert a first down and were forced to punt. This time, the Bucs drove the ball 79-yards on 14 plays, but failed to score when the Patriots defense held at the goalline. The Bucs turned the ball over on downs, but once again, the Patriots were unable to move the ball and were forced to punt. Both teams exchanged punts again before Tampa Bay moved into field goal range near the end of the half and took a 10-0 lead on a 44-yard field goal by Michael Husted. The Patriots first down drought ended in the third quarter, allowing the Bucs to take a 17-0 lead before the Patriots could even sustain a 10-yard drive. The Bucs added 10 points in the fourth quarter, utilizing the clock with a powerful running game. Three successive turnovers by Bledsoe in the fourth quarter thwarted any hopes for a comeback, as the Bucs threatened to shut the Patriots out for the first time since 1993. With 2:05 remaining in the game, the Patriots pulled their starters, allowing QB Scott Zolak to take control of the offense. Zolak led the Patriots on a 10-play, 75-yard scoring drive, capped by a 6-yard touchdown pass to Lovett Purnell to give the Patriots some redemption in a 27-7 defeat.

New England 27, Miami 24

November 23, 1997 • Foxboro Stadium

The New England Patriots (7-5) scored a 27-24 victory over the Miami Dolphins (7-5). Larry Whigham and Jimmy Hitchcock each contributed interception returns for touchdowns late in the second quarter to give the Patriots a 24-3 lead at the half. A 36-yard Vinatieri field goal with 1:42 remaining in the first quarter capped a 10-play, 51-yard drive and gave the Patriots a 3-0 lead. The Dolphins responded with a 13-play, 67-yard drive, but settled for a 25-yard field goal to tie the score. The Patriots' only offensive touchdown came midway through the second quarter when David Meggett connected on a 35-yard halfback option pass to Troy Brown. On the ensuing possession, Marino was intercepted by Whigham and he returned it 60 yards for a touchdown and a 17-3 lead. With just 1:44 remaining in the half, and the Dolphins facing first-and-goal from the seven, Hitchcock stepped in front of a Marino pass at the goal line and returned it 100 yards for a touchdown. It was the longest interception return in franchise history and gave the Patriots a 24-3 lead at the half. A 27-yard field goal by Vinatieri capped a 57-yard drive on their opening possession of the second half to give the Patriots their largest lead of the game, 27-3. The Dolphins responded with a 1-yard touchdown run by Abdul-Jabbar, his first of three 1-yard scoring plunges in the second half alone. After his second touchdown, the Dolphins converted an onside kick and drove to the Patriots' 1-yard line, but were turned away when Whigham intercepted his second pass of the day, this time in his own end zone. Trailing 27-17, the Dolphins proceeded to drive 71 yards on 16 plays and pulled to within three on Abdul-Jabbar's third touchdown run. The Dolphins recovered the onside kick at their own 42, but had just :08 on the clock when they took possession. Two Marino pass attempts fell incomplete and the Patriots preserved their second three-point victory of the season, 27-24.

New England 20, Indianapolis 17

November 30, 1997 • Foxboro Stadium

The New England Patriots (8-5) improved their divisional record to 6-1 with a 20-17 victory over the Indianapolis Colts. The Patriots scored on their opening possession, converting a Willie Clay fumble recovery into a 10-play, 44-yard touchdown drive. Todd Collins forced a Marshall Faulk fumble on the Colts' opening drive and it was recovered by Clay at the Colts' 44-yard line. The Patriots took advantage of the opportunity and a 7-0 lead in the game when Drew Bledsoe connected with Sam Gash for a 3-yard touchdown. The Colts responded with a 69-yard scoring drive of their own, capped by a Cary Blanchard 24-yard field goal. On the ensuing possession, the Patriots drove 47 yards in 12 plays, highlighted by key third down conversions by Ben Coates and Shawn Jefferson, for an Adam Vinatieri 32-yard field goal and a 10-3 lead early in the second quarter. The two teams exchanged punts before the Colts drove into scoring position late in the half, but failed to convert a 42-yard field goal attempt with a minute to play. The Patriots took advantage of their field position, driving 36 yards in 56 seconds to put Vinatieri in position to convert a 48-yard field goal and a 13-3 lead as time expired at the half. The Colts pulled to within three when QB Jim Harbaugh connnected with Aaron Bailey on an 18-yard scoring strike in the third quarter. David Meggett gave the Patriots a spark with a 47-yard punt return at the end of the third quarter. Two plays later, the Patriots took a 20-10 lead after Bledsoe hit Troy Brown in the end zone for an 18-yard touchdown. A late touchdown pass from Harbaugh to Sean Dawkins pulled the Colts to within three with 1:14 remaining in the game, but it was too little, too late, and the Patriots held on to a 20-17 victory.

New England 26, Jacksonville 20

December 7, 1997 • Alltell Stadium

The New England Patriots (9-5) defeated the AFC Central Division leading Jacksonville Jaguars (9-5), 26-20, in front of 73,446 fans at Alltell Stadium. The Patriots reported two offensive stars among their inactives, WR Terry Glenn and RB Curtis Martin, yet were able to score on their first three possessions. The Patriots won the coin toss and took the opening drive 42 yards on eight plays to set up Adam Vinatieri's first of five field goal attempts on the day. He converted from 44 yards and gave the Patriots a 3-0 lead. Jacksonville's opening drive ended abruptly when CB Steve Israel sacked Mark Brunell and forced a fumble at the Jaguars' 48-yard line. Bledsoe took advantage of the turnover, converting it into a touchdown with a 9-yard strike to Troy Brown. On the ensuing kickoff, Jaguars return man Reggie Barlow was met by Vernon Crawford and severed of the ball at the Jag's 27-yard line. The Patriots recovered and converted the turnover into a 41-yard field goal and a 13-0 first quarter lead. The Jaguars only score of the half came on a 20-yard strike from Brunell to Keenan McCardell, leaving just 1:16 remaining in the half. Bledsoe led the Patriots on a 9-play, 78-yard scoring drive, capped by a 5-yard touchdown pass to Ben Coates to take a 20-7 lead at the half. They built their lead to 23-7 in the third when Vinatieri split the uprights from 33 yards out. A fourth quarter touchdown pass from Brunell to McCardell pulled the Jags to within 10, 23-13, after their 2-point attempt failed. The Patriots recovered the ensuing onside kick and added Vinatieri's fourth field goal of the day to give the Patriots a 26-13 lead with just 2:30 remaining in the game. But, the Jaguars pulled back to within a touchdown when Barlow returned the ensuing kickoff 92 yards for a touchdown. The Patriots were unable to convert a first down to run out the clock on their final possession. Vinatieri's fifth field goal attempt of the day sailed wide left and gave the Jags life with just :28 remaining in the game. A last second, desperation heave by Brunell sailed 70 yards in the air, but was batted down by two Patriots defenders at the goal line and the Patriots held on to preserve the win.

Pittsburgh 24, New England 21 (OT)

December 13, 1997 • Foxboro Stadium

The New England Patriots (9-6) dropped a 24-21 overtime decision to the Pittsburgh Steelers (11-4) at Foxboro Stadium. It was just the second game the Patriots lost at home all year. Leading 21-13 just over two minutes remaining in the game, Drew Bledsoe saw a screen pass intended for David Meggett intercepted by Steelers defensive end Kevin Henry near midfield, who returned it 36 yards to put the Steelers in scoring range. The Steelers capitalized with a touchdown pass from Kordell Stewart to Mark Bruener and tied the game with a two-point conversion to send the game into overtime. In the overtime period, the Steelers won the toss and took their only possession 61 yards down-field to set up the game-winning Norm Johnson field goal. Three Patriots starters—WR Terry Glenn (hamstring), RB Curtis Martin (shoulder) and DT Mark Wheeler (hamstring)—missed the game due to injuries, yet the Patriots took control of the game early when they converted two second quarter interceptions into touchdowns for a 14-0 lead. The Steelers closed the gap late in the first half and opened the second half capping a 62-yard drive with a 36-yard field goal to pull within four, 14-10. An interception thrown by Bledsoe late in the third quarter snapped a streak of 120 consecutive attempts without an interception and led to another Johnson field goal as the Steelers pulled within one, 14-13. On the ensuing drive, David Meggett grabbed a pass from Bledsoe and rumbled 49 yards for a touchdown on sheer will and determination to give the Patriots an 8-point lead in the fouth quarter. Nearing the two-minute warning, the Patriots appeared to have clinched a victory when they converted a 3rd-and-8 situation with a 13-yard pass to Troy Brown. After two rushes, the Patriots faced another 3rd-and-7 situation with 2:10 remaining, but their pass attempt was intercepted, as were their hopes for a first-round playoff bye.

New England 14, Miami 12

December 22, 1997 • Pro Player Stadium

The New England Patriots (10-6) claimed consecutive AFC East division titles for the first time in franchise history after defeating the Miami Dolphins (9-7). Running back David Meggett, who was recovering from a hamstring injury, provided the spark that ignited the Patriots offense in the second half. Trailing 6-0 in the third quarter, the Patriots faced 3rd-and-7 from the Dolphins 22-yard line. Drew Bledsoe found Meggett, who turned upfield for the first down ... and then some. He dashed by would-be tacklers and carried Dolphin defenders to the two-yard line for a 20-yard gain. On the very next play, Marrio Grier scored from 2 yards out for the Patriots first lead of the game midway through the third. On the opening drive in the fourth quarter, it was Meggett once again providing the offensive lift, capping a six-play, 55-yard drive with a 5-yard run that proved to be the game-winning touchdown. The Dolphins scored on their next possession in the fourth quarter and had an opportunity to tie the game with a two-point conversion, but a holding penalty nullified a successful attempt by Karim Abdul-Jabbar. The Dolphins second attempt at a two-point conversion failed and the Patriots retained a 14-12 edge with just 3:46 remaining in the game. The Patriots offense was unable to convert a critical third down and was forced to punt back to the Dolphins, giving Marino a chance to direct another come-from-behind victory late in the game. That comeback was thwarted when a desperation pass by Marino on 4th-and-15 was picked off by Lawyer Milloy at the Patriots 45-yard line. With the victory, the Patriots improved to 7-1 in the division, their best mark since 1986.

NOTE: The number shown in parentheses indicates the number of appearances in Pro Bowl play. From 1960-70, Patriots players played in the AFL All-Star Game. All dates listed following 1970 represent NFL Pro Bowl games. The year indicates the season in which the player was selected for Pro Bowl participation, but the game itself is played in the following January or February. For example, players selected in the 1995 season played in the 1996 Pro Bowl, but are listed under 1995.

Historical Dates

Historical Capsule

Professional football arrived in New England on November 16, 1959, when a group of local businessmen, led by former public relations executive William H. "Billy" Sullivan, Jr. was awarded the eighth and final franchise in the new American Football League. One week later, Northwestern University running back Ron Burton was selected as the franchise's first draft choice and Syracuse running back Gerhardt Schwedes was selected as the team's first territorial choice.

Three key personnel decisions were made in the winter of 1960. First, former Boston College head coach Mike Holovak was named director of player personnel. Ed McKeever was hired as the team's first general manager and he selected Lou Saban as the team's first head coach.

One of the first orders of business of the management group was giving the franchise a name and that was accomplished through a public contest. Thousands of entries were submitted to name the team and 74 fans suggested the winning name, the Boston Patriots. Shortly after the franchise name was chosen, Boston Globe artist Phil Bissell drew a cartoon of a Minuteman preparing to snap a football and owner Sullivan liked the drawing so much that he selected "Pat Patriot" as the team logo. On April 1, 1960, Boston University Field — the former home of the Boston Braves — was selected as the first home of the Boston Patriots.

The organization's first training camp opened on July 4, 1960 at University of Massachusetts at Amherst. Approximately 350 players reported to the opening of camp, including a large contingent from Boston College. This group would be trimmed to 35 for the start of the regular season. The team's first preseason game was held on July 30 and the Patriots defeated the Buffalo Bills 28-7 at War Memorial Stadium Buffalo. Patriots defensive end Bob Dee recovered a fumble during the game and scored the AFL's first touchdown. The first "home" game was held two weeks later before 11,000 fans at Harvard Stadium and the Pats lost 24-14 to the Dallas Texans. The team's regular season home opener came on September 9 and 21,597 fans at Boston University field watched the team lose to the Denver Broncos 13-10.

The 1963 season saw the Patriots move to Fenway Park for home games, where they claimed their first division crown with a 7-6-1 record. The team lost the AFL title game, 51-10, to the San Diego Chargers. A number of Patriots players emerged as stars in the AFL during the 1960s, including wide receiver and kicker Gino Cappelletti, running back Jim Nance, quarterback Babe Parilli, linebacker Nick Buoniconti, defensive linemen Houston Antwine, Bob Dee, Larry Eisenhauer and Jim Lee Hunt and center Jon Morris

In 1970, after a decade of playing at four different sites, including Boston University Field, Harvard Stadium, Fenway Park and Boston College Alumni Stadium, the Patriots selected Foxboro as the new home of the team. In March 1971, the team was renamed the New England Patriots. On August 15,1971, the Patriots played their first game at Schaefer Stadium in Foxboro, defeating the New York Giants 20-14 before a crowd of 60,423 in a preseason contest.

In 1976, the Patriots earned a wild-card playoff berth, but lost to the eventual Super Bowl Champion Oakland Raiders, 24-21. In 1978, the Patriots won their first outright division title in franchise history, but lost to the Houston Oilers on Dec. 31, 31-14, in the first playoff game ever at Foxboro Stadium. During the 1970s several Patriots were regarded to be among the most outstanding players in the league in their positions, including offensive tackle John Hannah, cornerback Mike Haynes and tight end Russ Francis.

In 1982, Foxboro Schaefer Stadium was renamed Sullivan Stadium in honor of the Patriots owner. In 1985, the Patriots gained a wild-card berth in the playoffs and went on to defeat the New York Jets, Los Angeles Raiders and the Miami Dolphins to win their first AFC Championship and a trip to Super Bowl XX. Unfortunately, the Patriots faced one of the dominant teams of the '80s as the Chicago Bears shuffled to a 46-10 Super Bowl victory. Following that season, Patriot greats John Hannah and Julius Adams retired.

On July 28, 1988, Remington Products, Inc. Chief Executive Officer Victor Kiam purchased the Patriots from the Sullivan family and retained the team for four years.

In 1990, the Patriots' home field was renamed Foxboro Stadium and the following season natural grass was installed in the stadium for the first time by the stadium's new owner, Boston businessman Robert K. Kraft. On July 27 1991, Hannah became the first Patriot to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in Canton, Ohio.

In 1992, St. Louis businessman James B. Orthwein purchased controlling interest of the Patriots and made some dramatic changes, both on and off the field. In 1993, he hired former New York Giants head coach Bill Parcells and a new coaching staff. In addition, he also made some cosmetic changes that spring with the unveiling of a new Patriots logo and the change of primary color from red to blue.

On January 21, 1994, Robert K. Kraft became the franchise's fourth owner when he purchased the team from Orthwein, saving the team from a possible move outside of New England. On May 12, 1994, linebacker Andre Tippett moved from the field to the front office when he announced his retirement. That season, the Patriots closed out the season with a seven-game winning streak to qualify for their first playoff berth since 1985. The Patriots lost to the Cleveland Browns 20-13 in the wild-card playoff game. In 1995, the Patriots produced three Pro Bowl players, including Rookie of the Year running back Curtis Martin. Off the field, the Patriots became the only NFL team to publish an all-color team newspaper "Patriots Football Weekly" and to launch their own web site— www.patriots.com.

The Patriots continued their rise during a memorable 1996 season, winning the AFC Championship and returning to the Super Bowl for the second time in team history. The Patriots finished 11-5 and scored two home playoff wins, 28-3 vs. Pittsburgh and 20-6 vs. Jacksonville, winning the AFC Championship in front of a sold out Foxboro Stadium crowd. The Patriots were defeated by the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl XXXI, 35-21. The game was the fourth most-watched program in television history attracting some 128,900,000 viewers.

On Feb. 3, 1997, the Patriots hired Pete Carroll as their 13th head coach. In his first season in New England, the Patriots defended their AFC East Division title with a 7-1 record in the division and a 10-6 overall record. It was the Patriots' first back-to-back division titles in franchise history.

On June 13, 1998, individual game tickets went on sale and for the second consecutive year, every ticket was sold within three hours. The '98 season will be the fifth consecutive season that the Patriots have sold out every game prior to the start of the season. Demand for tickets has never been higher, as the waiting list for season tickets has now grown in excess of 10,000 fans.

Free Agency Comings & Goings

The advent of unrestricted free agency has created a tremendous amount of player movement in recent years. The trend began in 1989, when the NFL owners and the NFL Players Association agreed on Plan B free agency, which allowed "unprotected players" the freedom to sign with any NFL club. The current Collective Bargaining Agreement went into effect on May 6, 1993 and will continue through the 2002 season with an option for 2003. Below are some definitions of three categories of free agency.

Unrestricted Free Agent: Any player with five of more accrued seasons shall become an unrestricted free agent when his contract expires. Such a player is free to negotiate with any club. Other clubs may sign an unrestricted free agent without penalty or restrictions.

Restricted Free Agent: Any player with three or more accrued seasons, but less than five accrued seasons shall become a restricted free agent when his contract expires. Such a player is free to negotiate and sign with any club. If a restricted free agent is lost to another team, compensation is due to the original team.(Compensation is subject to a variety of restrictions which are outlined in the Collective Bargaining Agreement).

Negotiating Rights of Players with less than Three Accrued Seasons: Any veteran player with less than three accrued seasons whose contract has expired may negotiate or sign only with his prior club if a tender is offered on or before March 1. If the club does not offer a tender by this date, the player shall be completely free to negotiate and sign with any other club.

Below are the year-by-year comings and goings. All players listed are unrestricted free agents unless otherwise indicated (see notes at the bottom of the page).

Patriots Overtime Games

The Patriots are 9-15 all-time in regular-season overtime games and have won four of their last six extra session games. The Patriots are 5-12 when the game is decided by a field goal and 4-3 when a touchdown is the deciding factor. Below is a brief description of each overtime game involving the Patriots.

9/26/77
at Cleveland 30, Patriots 27 L
John Smith's 28-yard field goal with no time remaining in regulation sent the game into overtime. Don Cockroft capped a 10-play, 53-yard drive with a 35-yard game winning field goal after 4:45 of overtime.

9/03/79
Pittsburgh 16, at Patriots 13 L
Pittsburgh's Matt Bahr drilled a 41-yard field goal to give the Steelers the victory at the 5:10 mark in overtime. The clutch field goal came on Bahr's first professional attempt of his career.

11/25/79
Buffalo 16, at Patriots 13 L
Buffalo's Nick Mike-Mayer kicked a 29-yard field goal 4:45 into overtime to give the Bills the victory.

12/08/80
at Miami 16, Patriots 13 L
Uwe von Schamann's 23-yard field goal, his third of the day, gave Miami the three point victory, 3:20 into overtime.

9/27/81
at Pittsburgh 27, Patriots 21 L
Patriots came back from 21-7 deficit, when they scored two touchdowns in the fourth quarter. Unfortunately, Terry Bradshaw hit Lynn Swann with a 24-yard touchdown pass 3:19 into overtime to twart the Patriots hopes for victory.

11/08/81
Miami 30, at Patriots 27 L
John Smith nailed a 34-yard field goal with 10 seconds remaining in regulation that sent the game into overtime. Then, 7:09 into the extra quarter, Uwe von Schamann kicked a 30-yard field goal that gave the Dolphins the victory.

9/04/83
Baltimore 29, at Patriots 23 L
The Colts' Raul Allegre kicked a 33-yard field goal as time expired in the fourth quarter to send the game into overtime. Then on the first play of overtime, LB Johnnie Cooks picked up a Tony Collins fumble and rumbled 52 yards for the game winning score.

11/24/85
at N.Y. Jets 16, Patriots 13 L
Tony Franklin's 28-yard field goal with 16 seconds remaining in regulation sent the game into overtime. In the extra session, the Jets' Pat Leahy kicked a 32-yard field goal to give the Jets a 16-13 win.

11/15/87
Dallas 23, at Patriots 17 L
The Cowboys' Roger Ruzik's 20-yard field goal with 28 seconds remaining in regulation tied the game at 17. In overtime, Herschal Walker ran 60 yards for the game winning touchdown.

11/29/87
Philadelphia 34, at Patriots 31 L
The Patriots scored the final 21 points of regulation to send the game into overtime. The Eagles' Paul McFadden connected from 38 yards, on his second field goal attempt of overtime, after 12:16 elapsed.

12/11/88
at Patriots 10, Tampa Bay 7 W
The Patriots were victorious in overtime for the first time in franchise history, snapping their 10-game overtime losing streak. Jason Staurovsky kicked a 27-yard field goal 3:08 into overtime for the victory.

10/29/89
Patriots 23, at Indianapolis 20 W
Greg Davis' 51-yard field goal 9:57 into overtime gave the Patriots a 23-20 victory. The Colts' Dean Biasucci sent the game into overtime when he kicked a 39-yard field goal with :51 seconds remaining in regulation.

10/20/91
at Patriots 26, Minnesota 23 W
With no time remaining in overtime, Jason Staurovsky nailed a 42-yard field goal that gave the Patriots a 26-23 victory. The field goal attempt was Staurovsky's second of overtime.

at Patriots 23, Indianapolis 17 W
The Patriots scored the games' final 20 points to win their fourth consecutive overtime game. Hugh Millen connected with Ben Coates for a 2-yard touchdown with :07 seconds remaining in regulation and then repeated the feat in overtime when he hit Michael Timpson for the 45-yard game winning touchdown.

11/15/92
Patriots 37, at Indianapolis 34 W
The Patriots' Charlie Baumann scored the final six points, including the game-winning 18-yard field goal 11:35 into the extra session. The win snapped a nine game losing streak the Patriots were experiencing during the 1992 season. Baumann also booted a 44-yard field goal with two seconds remaining in regulation that sent the game into overtime.

Miami 16, at Patriots 13 L
The Dolphins were able to clinch the AFC East crown and a bye in the first round of the playoffs, after they scored the games' final 13 points to win 16-13. Pete Stoyanovich's 35-yard field goal, which came 6:43 into overtime, propelled the Dolphins to victory.

9/12/93
Detroit 19, at Patriots 16 L
Detroit's Jason Hanson kicked a 38-yard field goal, his fourth of the day, 11:04 into overtime to lift the Lions to victory. Drew Bledsoe threw a 2-yard touchdown pass to Vincent Brisby with two seconds remaining in regulation which sent the game into overtime.

11/07/93
Buffalo 13, at Patriots 10 L
Buffalo's Steve Christie kicked a 27-yard field goal with 14 seconds remaining in regulation to send the contest into overtime. Each team had two opportunities to score in the extra session, and Buffalo took advantage of their second when Christie kicked the game winning 32-yard field goal.

1/02/94
at Patriots 33, Miami 27 W
Drew Bledsoe connected with Michael Timpson for the 36-yard game winning touchdown to cap one of the greatest endings in Patriots history. The two teams combined for 27 points in a fourth quarter which saw the lead change four times. Miami's Pete Stoyanovich's 24-yard field goal with four second remaining in regulation sent the game into overtime

11/13/94
at Patriots 26, Minnesota 20 W
The Patriots completed one of the greatest comebacks in team history, coming back from a 20-0 deficit to beat the Vikings. Matt Bahr kicked a 23-yard field goal with 14 seconds remaining to send the game into overtime. The Patriots won the coin toss and 4:10 later, Drew Bedsoe completed a 14-yard touchdown pass to Kevin Turner to give the Patriots the victory.

10/29/95
Carolina 20, at Patriots 17 L
The Patriots scored 14 points in the fourth quarter on two Curtis Martin touchdown runs, and tied the score at 17. However, the expansion Panthers were victorious when John Kasay booted a 29-yard field goal with 7:52 remaining in the extra period.

9/22/96
at Patriots 28, Jacksonville 25 W
The Patriots jumped out to a 22-0 first half lead but the Jaguars clawed their way back. Jaguars quarterback Mark Brunell's touchdown passes of 51, 41 and 61 yards gave them life in the second half and Mike Hollis' 27-yard field goal in the fourth quarter tied the game at 25. However, Patriots rookie kicker Adam Vinatieri converted five of six field goal attempts, including a 40-yarder in overtime to give the Patriots the victory.

at Patriots 27, NY Jets 24 W
The Patriots won their third consecutive game to open the 1997 season,27-24, in dramatic fashion when placekicker Adam Vinatieri kicked a 34-yard field goal 6:57 in overtime. The Jets had a chance to win the game at the end of regulation, but defensive end Mike Jones blocked a 29-yard field goal attempt by John Hall with 16 seconds remaining in the game.

Pittsburgh 24, at Patriots 21 L
Leading 21-13 with just over two minutes remaining in the game, Drew Bledsoe was intercepted by Steelers defensive end Kevin Henry. The Steelers capitalized with a touchdown pass from Kordell Stewart to Mark Bruener and tied the game with a two-point conversion to send the game into overtime. In the overtime period, the Steelers won the toss and took their only possession 61 yards downfield to set up the game-winning Norm Johnson field goal.

Patriots in Prime Time

The Patriots will be featured in four prime time games this season, three on Monday Night and one Sunday night. Last season, the Patriots finished 2-2 in prime time (1-2 on MNF and 1-0 on Sunday Night). During these last two seasons, 1997-98, the Patriots will have played in six Monday Night Football games, the most over the same span in team history. Below is a listing of the results from previous Patriots prime-time appearences:

Patriots in Prime Time 1998

The Patriots will travel to Denver to open the season against the defending Super Bowl Champion Denver Broncos. The game will be showcased on ABC's Monday Night Football, the first of three Monday night games. It is just the second time in franchise history that the Patriots will open the season on Monday night. The only other time that the Patriots debuted on a Monday was in 1979 when they hosted the Pittsburgh Steelers (Sept. 3, 1979).

In addition to their season opener, the Patriots will also appear in a pair of Monday night games at Foxboro Stadium. They play host to the New York Jets on Oct. 19 and the Miami Dolphins on Nov. 23. The three Monday night games ties a franchise record, which was set in 1980 and equaled in 1997.

In all, the Patriots are scheduled to appear in four nationally televised games, including their 1998 home opener – a Sunday night game vs. the Indianapolis Colts which will air on ESPN.

Below is a listing of the results from previous Patriots prime-time appearences:

Playoff Tie Breakers

Selection of Clubs

1. Three division champions from each conference.
2. Three "Wild Card" clubs (non-champions with three best records) from each conference. All Wild Cards may come from the same division. Clubs eliminated in divisional champion tiebreakers are eligible if their records qualify them.

Tie-Breaking Procedures

The following procedures will be used to break standings ties for postseason playoffs and to determine regular-season schedules.

To Break a Tie Within a Division

If, at the end of the regular season, two or more clubs in the same division finish with identical won-lost-tied percentages, the following steps will be taken until a champion is determined.

Two Clubs

1. Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games between the clubs).
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, applicable.
5. Best net points in division games.
6. Best net points in all games.
7. Strength of schedule.
8. Best net touchdowns in all games.
9. Coin toss.

Three or More Clubs

(Note: If two clubs remain tied after a third club is eliminated during any step, the tiebreaker reverts back to step 1 the two-club format).
(Note: If one team wins multiple-team tiebreaker to advance to playoff round, remaining teams revert to step 1 or applicable two-club format, i.e., either in division tiebreaker or Wild Card tiebreaker. If two teams in a multiple-team tie possess superior marks in a tiebreaking step, this pair of teams revert to top of applicable two-club format to break tie. One team advances to playoff round, while other returns to original group and step 1 of applicable tiebreaker)

1. Head-to-head (best won-lost-tied percentage in games among the clubs).
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the division.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
4. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games.
5. Best net points in division games.
6. Best net points in all games.
7. Strength of schedule.
8. Best net touchdowns in all games.
9. Coin toss.

To Break a Tie for the Wild Card Team

If it is necessary to break ties to determine the three Wild Card clubs from each conference, the following steps will be taken.

1. If the tied clubs are from the same division, apply division tiebreaker.
2. If the tied clubs are from different divisions, apply the following steps.

Two Clubs

1. Head-to-head, if applicable.
2. Best won-lost-tied percentage in games played within the conference.
3. Best won-lost-tied percentage in common games, minimum of four.
4. Best average net points in conference games.
5. Best net points in all games.
6. Strength of schedule.
7. Best net touchdowns in all games.
8. Coin toss.

Boston Patriots	10	6	0	10	-26
Buffalo Bills	0	0	8	0	-8

Buffalo (War Memorial Stadium), Dec. 28, 1963 — This divisional playoff game was one of the first playoff contests in the still infant American Football League's history. QB Babe Parilli and Gino Cappelletti figured in all of the Patriots points as Parilli hit Larry Garron for scoring strikes of 59 and 17 yards, while Cappelletti kicked four FGs (28, 12, 33, and 36) and added two PAT's. Ron Burton provided an inspirational boost for the Patriots as he heroically returned to play just a few weeks after major disc surgery. Buffalo's only highlight of the day was a 93-yard scoring pass from Darryl Lamonica to Elbert Dubenion.

San Diego	21	10	7	13	-51

San Diego (Balboa Stadium), Jan. 5,1964 — Chargers' running back Keith Lincoln turned in a super-human effort, combining for 329 total yards. Injuries to three Patriots starters – star FB Larry Garron (concussion), DL Houston Antwine (back) and Harry Crump (shoulder) – proved disastrous for the Patriots. The favored Chargers coasted to a 51-10 victory over the Boston Patriots. Lincoln rushed for an amazing 206 yards and added 123 more yards in receptions. The Chargers ran up a 31-10 lead at the half, and added 20 more unanswered points in the second half to capture the AFL title.

New England Patriots	7	0	14	0	-21
Oakland Raiders	3	7	0	14	-24

Oakland (Oakland-Alameda County Coliseum), Dec. 18, 1976 — The surprising Patriots, having finished a complete turnaround with an 11-3 record (3-11 in 1975), traveled to Oakland to meet the Raiders, for their first playoff competition since 1963. The Patriots jumped in front of the Raiders 7-0 on a one-yard run by Andy Johnson, but fell behind at the half 10-7 when Fred Biletnikoff hauled in a 31-yard touchdown pass from Ken Stabler with just 39 seconds remaining in the first half. Steve Grogan engineered scoring drives on the Patriots first two possessions of the third quarter, running the Patriots lead to 21-10. Oakland responded with a score on its first possession of the fourth period, a one-yard run by Mark van Eeghan. With the score at 21-17. Ken Stabler drove the Raiders from their own 32 and scored with only 14 seconds to go. The drive was marred by a controversial roughing the passer call on Ray Hamilton. The Patriots had seemingly stopped the Raiders when a Stabler to Garrett pass on a 3rd and 18 fell incomplete. However, penalty flags were thrown and the Raiders had possession with a first and ten at the Patriot 13. Five plays later Stabler rolled around left end for the winning score and the Patriots dreams of a championship were over.

Foxboro (Schaefer Stadium), Dec. 31, 1978 — With the AFC East Division title tucked under their belts, the Patriots played host to the Houston Oilers in the first playoff game ever played at then Schaefer Stadium. The Patriots had finished the season at 11-6, but were reeling from the controversy that started when Coach Chuck Fairbanks announced his resignation to accept the head coaching position at Colorado. The game found Fairbanks on the Patriots sidelines, but the last day of 1978 also proved to be the last day of the Patriots '78 season. Dan Pastorini completed 10 of 13 passes for 184 yards in the first half while the Oilers built a 21-0 lead at the intermission. Toni Fritsch added a 30-yard FG before the Patriots rallied with two touchdowns in the second half. A 24-yard option pass from RB Andy Johnson to WR Harold Jackson and a 24-yard scoring strike from sub QB Tom Owen to TE Russ Francis were the only points they could muster. Owen had replaced starter Steve Grogan late in the first half. Trailing 24-14, the Patriots began a late rally. Starting at their own 18, the Patriots started to move but Gregg Bingham picked off an Owen for Morgan pass and returned it to the Patriot 18, killing the drive and setting up an Earl Campbell 2-yard TD run that put the game out of reach.

Miami (Orange Bowl) Jan. 8,1983 – Finishing seventh in the 14-team AFC field, the Patriots were slated to meet the second-seeded Miami Dolphins in the first round of the 1982-83 Super Bowl XVII Tournament. Before a sellout crowd, the Patriots got on the scoreboard first, taking an early second period 3-0 lead when John Smith kicked a 23-yard FG. The Dolphins were led behind the precision passing of David Woodley (16 of 19, 234 yards, 2 TDs). They scored four touchdowns while the Patriots could only muster another Smith FG (42 yards) through the first three periods. Steve Grogan was limited to only 189 yards passing and was sacked four times. Miami's FB Andra Franklin, the AFC's second leading rusher in regular season play, carried the ball 26 times for 112 yards enabling the Dolphins to control the ball for 35:51 seconds. It was the Patriots first playoff appearance since 1978.

East Rutherford, N.J. (Meadowlands) December 28, 1985 — Patriots kicker Tony Franklin tied an NFL playoff record by kicking four field goals in a 26-14 victory over the divisional rival New York Jets. Quarterback Tony Eason completed 12 of 16 passes for 179 yards and one touchdown to lead the offense. Rookie DE Garin Veris led a resilient defensive effort, recording three of the Patriots five sacks on the day. Both Veris and DB Fred Marion were credited with interceptions and linebacker Johnny Rembert sealed the victory when he returned a fumble 15 yards for a touchdown to give the Patriots a 23-7 third quarter lead. The Jets were held to just 58 yards rushing on 21 carries for a 2.8 average. For the Patriots, it was their first playoff win in 22 years.

New England Patriots	7	10	10	0	-27
Los Angeles Raiders	3	17	0	0	-20

Los Angeles, Calif. (L.A. Coliseum) January 5, 1986—The Patriots took advantage of three fumbles and three interceptions in defeating the Los Angeles Raiders, 27-20. The Patriots scored their first touchdown, a 13-yard pass to Lin Dawson, thanks to a fumble recovery by rookie defensive back Jim Bowman (on the Los Angeles 21-yard line). The Raiders narrowed the score to 7-3, due in big part to a blocked punt against Patriots kicker Rich Camarillo. The ball was recovered on the New England 16-yard line, and four plays later, Chris Bahr had a 13-yard field goal. The Raiders did take a 10-7 lead on their next possession when quarterback Marc Wilson found rookie Jesse Hester for a 16-yard score. After a Mosi Tatupu fumble was recovered at the New England 19, Los Angeles would move in front, 17-7 three plays later when Marcus Allen scored on a 13-yard touchdown run. Not to be denied, the Patriots fired back, making it 17-10, on an 80-yard, 10-play drive that ended with Craig James' two-yard touchdown run. Ronnie Lippett's second interception of the day led to a 45-yard field goal and a 17-17 tie. But the Raiders had the lead at halftime, 20-17, on a 32-yard field goal by Bahr. The rest of the scoring was done by the Patriots, a 32-yard field goal by Franklin, 54 yards and 12 plays after Fred Marion had recovered a fumble. Then Bowman recovered a fumble in the end zone off the ensuing kickoff return, thus making it 27-20.

New Orleans, La. (Superdome) January 26,1986—The Patriots led early, but Chicago controlled thereafter and took a 46-10 victory in each team's first Super Bowl appearance. Don Blackmon caused a Walter Payton fumble that Larry McGrew recovered at Chicago's 19-yard line on the second play, leading to Tony Franklin's 36-yard field goal at 1:19 (the fastest score in Super Bowl history). The Bears, however, scored the next 44 points. Quarterback Steve Grogan replaced starter Tony Eason in the second quarter. Grogan fared better, but was intercepted twice and sacked four times for 33 yards, including a safety. His eight-yard TD pass to Irving Fryar was the only touchdown allowed by Chicago in three playoff appearances.

	1	2	3	4	F
New England Patriots	0	10	7	0	-17
Denver Broncos	3	7	10	2	-22

Denver, Colo. (Mile High Stadium) January 4, 1987—The teams were tied at 10-10 at halftime after trading the lead in the second half (Patriots at 17-13 after Stanley Morgan caught a 45-yard pass from quarterback Tony Eason 12:10 into the third quarter; the Broncos went in front 20-17 on a 48-yard pass from John Elway to wide receiver Vance Johnson on the last play of the third quarter). There was controversy behind that go-ahead touchdown. On a third down and four on the New England 48-yard line, Patriots outside linebacker Don Blackmon was off-side by a very large margin. There was no whistle blown by the officials, and the Broncos went ahead for the "free play." The "free play" turned out to be the touchdown pass to Johnson as the Patriots defensive players stopped their rush on the play. The Patriots were still in the hunt with 1:41 left. The ball was on the Denver 10-yard line with a first and 10 situation. But when Eason faded back to pass he was immediately pressured by Broncos defensive end Rulon Jones and was sacked for two points.

1994 AFC WILD CARD • CLEVELAND 20, NEW ENGLAND 13

	1	2	3	4	F
New England Patriots	0	10	0	3	-13
Cleveland Browns	3	7	7	3	-20

Cleveland, Ohio (Cleveland Stadium) January 1, 1995—The Patriots made their first playoff appearance since 1986, but failed to advance beyond the first round after a defeat to the Cleveland Browns 20-13. The game featured a quarterback matchup of Drew Bledsoe and Vinny Testaverde, two former first overall draft picks, who were each making their NFL playoff debuts. Testaverde turned in a near-perfect performance to beat the Patriots. The eighth-year veteran completed 20 of 30 passes for 268 yards, with a touchdown and no interceptions in his playoff debut. Bledsoe, on the other hand, completed 21 of 50 passes for 235 yards and a touchdown, but threw three interceptions – two of which ended drives in the fourth quarter. Trailing 10-7 in the second quarter, the Patriots drove 71 yards on 16 plays, positioning Matt Bahr for a game-tying field goal with only 30 seconds remaining in the half. The Browns dominated the time of possession with two long third quarter drives, the second of which was capped by a 10-yard touchdown run by Leroy Hoard. The Browns added a Matt Stover field goal in the fourth quarter to take a 20-10 lead. The Patriots pulled within seven with 1:34 remaining in the game on a 33-yard field goal by Bahr. Corwin Brown recovered the ensuing onside kick at the New England 36-yard line, giving Patriots fans hope in the waining minutes. The drive stalled at the New England 48-yard line, where a fourth-and-10 opportunity failed on an incomplete pass and the Patriots lost 20-13.

Pittsburgh Steelers	0	0	3	0	-3
New England Patriots	14	7	0	7	-28

Foxboro (Foxboro Stadium), Jan. 5, 1997 --The New England offense jumped out to an early lead while the defense was able to shut down the Steelers, allowing the Patriots to run away with a convincing 28-3 victory in an AFC divisional playoff game at Foxboro Stadium. The win -- New England's first home playoff victory in franchise history -- catapulted the Patriots into the AFC Championship game.
The Patriots' Curtis Martin set a franchise postseason record by in the first half alone, rushing for 109 yards on 10 carries and two touchdowns. Overall, in his first playoff game at any level, Martin matched his career best by running for 166 yards on 19 carries (an 8.7-yard average). The team rushed for 194 yards on 32 carries (6.1-yard average) against Pittsburgh's second-ranked defense.
New England quarterback Drew Bledsoe, who completed a solid 14 of 24 pass attempts for 164 yards, one touchdown and two interceptions, torched the Steelers in the first quarter when the Pats took a quick 14-0 lead. During their first-quarter blitzkrieg, Bledsoe completed seven of his first seven pass attempts for 123 yards and one touchdown. By game's end, the unsung Patriots had outgained the Steelers, 346 yards to 213.

Foxboro (Foxboro Stadium), Jan. 12, 1997 --The Patriots' defense continued its great performance during the 1996 playoffs during their 20-6 win over the Jacksonville Jaguars in the AFC Championship Game. A sold out crowd of 60,190 filled Foxboro Stadium in sub-freezing conditions to watch the Patriots return to the Super Bowl for the first time in 11 years. The Patriots were able to shut down Jacksonville running back Natrone Means and contain quarterback Mark Brunell. Means was held to 43 yards on 19 carries and Brunell passed for only 190 yards and threw two interceptions. His first interception came with 3:43 left in the game, when he tried to hit Derek Brown going over the middle of the end zone but safety Willie Clay picked the ball off in the end zone. The Patriots turned the ball over on downs and the Jaguars had one last chance, taking over at their 42 with 2:36 left. On first down linebacker Chris Slade rushed in and knocked the ball from running back James Stewart. Cornerback Otis Smith grabbed the loose ball out of the air and ran 47 yards for the touchdown.

New Orleans, La. (Superdome) Jan. 26, 1997 - The Green Bay Packers, continued the NFC domination of the Super Bowl with a 35-21 Super Bowl XXXI victory over the New England Patriots in the Louisiana Superdome. It was Titletown's first championship since they won the first two Super Bowls, while the Patriots are still batting .000 (0-2) in Super Bowl competition. On New England's first scoring drive, Packer corner Craig Newsome was slapped with a 26-yard interference penalty on Shawn Jefferson and the Pats were at the Packer one. Keith Byars collected a perfectly thrown ball from Bledsoe narrowing the Green Bay lead to 10-7. The New England defense posted another stellar series after the score, and momentum quickly swung the Patriots' way. Bledsoe connected with Terry Glenn for a 44-yard pick-up at the Packer four. From there. Bledsoe rolled right and hit tight end Ben Coates for the go-ahead score. Vinatieri's extra point capped the highest-scoring first quarter in Super Bowl history, 24 points. With Green Bay facing a fourth-and-one situation on its first drive of the second half, New England linebackers Ted Johnson and Chris Slade blew through the line and clobbered runner Dorsey Levens for a seven-yard loss. The surging Patriot defense put the clamps on Green Bay on its next series, and the Pats managed to pull to within 27-21 on an 18-yard touchdown jaunt by runner Martin.

1997 AFC WILD CARD • NEW ENGLAND 17, MIAMI 3

	1	2	3	4	F
Miami	0	0	0	3	3
New England	0	7	10	0	17

Foxboro, Mass. (Foxboro Stadium) December 28, 1997 -- The New England Patriots defeated Dan Marino and the Miami Dolphins for the second time in a week and the third time during the 1997 season with a 17-3 victory in the opening round of the 1997 playoffs. Once again, the Patriots applied constant pressure to Marino, who was sacked four times and threw a pair of interceptions. His first interception was returned 22 yards by Chris Slade to the Dolphins 29 yard line. The Patriots scored three plays later when Drew Bledsoe connected with Troy Brown on a 24-yard touchdown pass. Marino's second interception came on the second play of the second half and was returned 40 yards by Todd Collins for a touchdown. It was the sixth time that the Patriots had intercepted Marino this year. Three of those interceptions were returned for touchdowns. With a 14-0 lead midway through the third quarter, the Patriots turned to running back Derrick Cullors, who made his second consecutive start for the injured Curtis Martin. He carried the Patriots on a 15-play, 67-yard scoring drive, which was capped by an Adam Vinatieri field goal to give the Patriots a 17-0 lead. On the drive, Cullors carried seven times for 42 yards (6.0) and helped sustain a 7:49 drive, the third longest drive of the season. He finished with a game-high 86 yards on 22 carries (3.9 avg.). The Dolphins avoided a shutout on their ensuing possession when they capped an 8-play, 23-yard drive with a 38-yard field goal. An onside kick was recovered by the Dolphins at their own 44-yard line, giving the Dolphins life early in the fourth quarter. But, the Patriots regained the momentum on the next play from scrimmage when CB Chris Canty delivered a blindside hit on Marino, which forced a fumble that recovered by Slade at the 41-yard line. The Dolphins never threatened again, as the Patriots held on to preserve a 17-3 victory. It was just the 10th time that two teams have played in the season finale and then opened against each other in the first round of the playoffs and the Patriots became just the fourth team to sweep. In fact, with the victory, the Patriots became just the sixth team in NFL history to sweep an opponent three times in one season.

Wide receiver Terry Glenn returned to action for the playoffs after missing most of the final six games of the season. He made an immediate impact, catching nine passes for 125 yards in two games before suffering a broken clavicle at Pittsburgh (1/3/98).

1997 AFC DIVISIONAL PLAYOFF • PITTSBURGH 7, NEW ENGLAND 6

	1	2	3	4	F
New England	0	3	0	3	6
Pittsburgh	7	0	0	0	7

Pittsburgh, PA (Three Rivers Stadium) January 3, 1998 -- The Patriots fumbled away an opportunity to defend their AFC title in a divisional playoff game at Pittsburgh, dropping a 7-6 decision to the Steelers. Rookie DE Mike Vrabel blindsided QB Drew Bledsoe as he was set to pass late in the fourth quarter, forcing a fumble that was recovered by Steeler LB Jason Gildon at the New England 34-yard line. The fumble ended the Patriots' comeback attempt with just 1:44 remaining in the game. On the Patriots' opening possession, Bledsoe went deep to Terry Glenn, who was open at the Steelers' 5-yard line, but the pass came up short and was intercepted by Chad Scott at the 11 and returned to the 38-yard line. The Steelers took advantage of the turnover and capped an 8-play, 62-yard drive with a 40-yard touchdown run by QB Kordell Stewart to take an early 7-0 lead. The Patriots held the Steelers scoreless through the final three-and-a-half quarters, but could not overcome the early deficit. In the second quarter, the Patriots drove to the Steelers' 13-yard line after a 36-yard completion from Bledsoe to Glenn. It was the Patriots' deepest penetration of the day. But, after three pass attempts, the Patriots were unable to advance the ball and settled for a 31-yard field goal, cutting the deficit to 7-3 at the half. In the fourth quarter, a 10-play drive stalled at the Steelers 29-yard line and Vinatieri pulled the Patriots to within one with a 46-yard field goal. The two teams exchanged punts on their ensuing possessions before the Steelers threatened to put the game away with 3:29 remaining in the game. On 3rd-and-goal from the 7-yard line, Bettis powered his way to the goalline, inches shy of the end zone. On fourth down, the Steelers elected to send Stewart over the top instead of kicking a field goal. A host of Patriot defenders kept Stewart out of the end zone and the Patriots took possession at the 1-yard line with just 3:24 on the clock. Bledsoe guided the Patriots to the 42-yard line by completing six of seven pass attempts, before a blindside hit caused an ill-timed fumble thwarted the team's comeback attempt.

Patriots Preseason Broadcast Crew

For the fourth consecutive season, the New England Patriots will team with WCVB-TV Channel 5 to televise four of the Patriots' locally produced preseason games. The Patriots are responsible for the advertising sales of the games and will oversee the game production which will be handled by The Gately Group of Boston. The play-by-play responsibilities will be handled by CBS's Don Criqui. FOX's Jerry Glanville returns to provide color commentary and WCVB's Mike Lynch will report from the sidelines. The trio will call the preseason opener on Aug. 2 in San Francisco and return to Foxboro for the Patriots' preseason home opener against Minnesota on Aug. 9. Their broadcast schedule will continue when the Patriots travel to Washington on Aug. 22 and conclude with the preseason finale in Foxboro versus Philadelphia on Aug. 29. All four games will be televised on Boston's WCVB-TV (Channel 5). The preseason broadcast network will also include WPRI-TV (Channel 12) and WNAC-TV (Channel 64) in Providence, R.I., WTXX-TV (Channel 20) in Waterbury, Conn. and WMTW-TV (Channel 8) in Portland, Maine.

On Aug. 17, the Patriots will be featured in a nationally televised Monday Night Football game against the Dallas Cowboys in an American Bowl in Mexico City. It is the third consecutive year that the Patriots have been selected to appear in a nationally televised game during the preseason. The game will appear on Boston's WCVB-TV (Channel 5) and will air on ABC affiliates throughout New England.

Patriots Radio Flagship—WBCN 104.1 FM

WBCN 104.1 FM begins its fourth season as the flagship station for the Patriots and will broadcast every Patriots preseason and regular season game in stereo. The Patriots are the only major sports franchise in New England to broadcast its games in stereo all year long.

Gil Santos and broadcast partner Gino Cappelletti will once again deliver play-by-play account for each of the Patriots games this season. The popular broadcast team celebrates their 15th season together — the fourth on WBCN's Rock Radio Network.

Santos is now in his 22nd season as the voice of the Patriots, having covered the team for WBZ Radio from 1966-79, then again from 1991-94, and for WBCN from 1995 to present. The veteran play-by-play broadcaster is the sports director at WBZ Radio.

Cappelletti enters his 18th season offering his insight and expert analysis of the game. It would be hard to find anyone more knowledgeable on the subject of the Patriots than Cappelletti. He was one of the original members of the Boston Patriots and retired in 1970 after a fabulous 11-year career. He remains the Patriots' all-time leading scorer (1,130 points) and is ranked fourth among the Patriots' all-time leading receivers. Following his playing career, he spent three seasons on the Patriots sidelines (1979-81) as an assistant on Ron Erhardt's staff and 17 years in the broadcast booth, providing game analysis along with Santos (1972-78 and 91-present) and Dale Arnold (1988-90).

WBCN also broadcasts a three-hour pre-game show with host Bill Abbate and former Patriots' Pete Brock and Mike Ruth. The triumvirate also host a two-hour post-game show that includes exclusive coverage of Pete Carroll's post game press conferences.

PATRIOTS ALL ACCESS

By taking over the production of this show, the Patriots will be able to provide more access and behind the scenes coverage to Patriots fans throughout New England. Our cameras will be everywhere – in the draft room on draft day, at home with the players, in the locker room, on the team plane, in the coaches box, and at team meetings – in order to provide Patriots fans the most comprehensive coverage of the region's most popular team.

The show will of course continue to feature exclusive sitdown interviews each week with Head Coach Pete Carroll, in addition to game reviews and previews.

Due to the popularity of this program, Patriots All Access will be expanded to a full hour for the 1998 season.

The show is scheduled to be aired twice each week in the Boston market. It will lead into ABC's college football on Saturdays from 11:00 a.m.-12:00 p.m., and then again immediately following WCVB's #1 rated late news on Saturday night at 11:30 p.m. The show will also air in Providence on WPRI-TV, Sunday mornings at 11:00 a.m.

All advertisers who purchase spots though the Patriots will enjoy the benefits of these additional airings. Patriots All Access will begin airing on Saturday, Sept. 5, 1998 and will appear weekly throughout the season.

Once again check your local listings for details.

PATRIOTS 5TH QUARTER

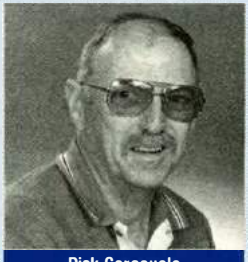

Immediately after the game, tune into the popular "Patriots Fifth Quarter," featuring live coverage of the postgame press conferences with Head Coach Pete Carroll and quarterback Drew Bledsoe. It's a complete wrap-up with highlights and player interviews. This year, the show will air following select regular season games. Be sure to check your local listings.

PATRIOTS POOL REPORTERS

Veteran beat reporters Dick Cerasuolo of the Worcester Telegram & Gazette and Ron Hobson of the Quincy Patriot Ledger will again serve as the Patriots' pool reporters for the upcoming season. In the event that there is the need to get comments from a game official after a game, a pool reporter will be allowed access to ask questions and record comments. The comments will then be distributed by the Pool Reporter to all other media. Cerasuolo and Hobson each sit in the first row of the Patriots press box on game days.

TRAINING CAMP

For the 23rd year, the Patriots will use Bryant College as the site of their summer training camp. The College's 387-acre campus, varied facilities and proximity to urban centers combine to make it the perfect setting for meetings, conferences and retreats.

But Bryant College is much more than a beautiful campus. The college is widely recognized and nationally accredited for the quality of its academic programs. The International Association for Management Education (AACSB) accredits Bryant's undergraduate and graduate programs, placing Bryant among only 17 percent of the country's business programs. Bryant has consistently been named one of the nation's top business specialty schools by US News and World Report and Barron's recognized Bryant as one of the Best Buys in higher education.

As a top business college, Bryant is also renowned as a valuable resource to the region's business community. The College's Center for International Business assists organizations with import/export and international trade issues and the college works on small business development, telecommunications and management development.

For more information about Bryant College, call (401) 232-6000; or visit their web site at www.bryant.edu.

Foxboro Stadium

FOXBORO STADIUM QUICK FACTS

Constructed:
Sept. 23, 1970 to Aug. 15, 1971

Playing Surface:
Natural Grass (installed in 1991)

Football Seating Capacity:
60,292

Press Box Capacity:
124 (100 seats for credentialed media)

Site Acreage:
304 acres

Available Parking:
16,000 automobiles

The site for the construction of Foxboro Stadium was selected for its proximity to three of New England's largest cities — Boston, Providence, R.I. and Worcester, Mass. Official ground-breaking ceremonies for the stadium took place on Sept. 23, 1970. Just 326 days later (Aug. 15, 1971), the Patriots christened their new home by hosting the New York Giants in an exhibition game. The home field helped give them a 20-14 advantage over the Giants before 60,423 fans.

Robert Kraft established an ownership position with the facility in 1989. In the fall of 1993, Kraft became sole owner of the facility when he purchased his partner's interest in the stadium. Kraft's vision as owner was to develop the facility into a nationally recognized family entertainment venue. By building and developing relationships with local officials and representatives of the music industry, Kraft and his associates have opened up the facility to frequent samplings of diverse entertainment. In fact, Foxboro Stadium has hosted three times as many special events in the past eight years than it did during the first 20 years of operation.

In the last two years, the Patriots have hosted three home playoff games, including the 1996 AFC Championship game. It was the first game of its kind to be played in New England. Having the home-field has worked to the Patriots' advantage, as they have won each of those three games. The Patriots enter the 1998 season with 41 consecutive sellouts at Foxboro Stadium, a streak which will extend to 51 by season's end.

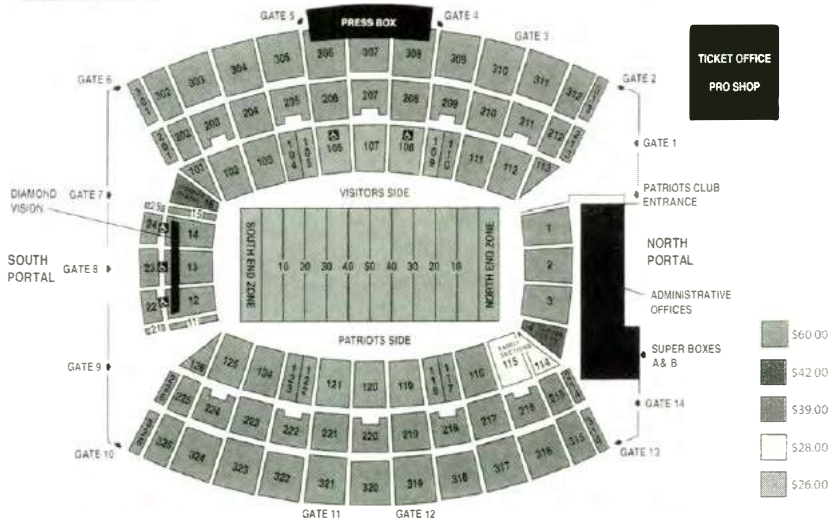

The Rolling Stones, who have played Foxboro Stadium twice, headline a long list of national tours who have attracted record crowds in Foxboro. Other recent concerts to perform at Foxboro include The Who, U2, Pink Floyd, Billy Joel, Elton John, and the Dave Mathews Band. The stadium has also hosted unique concert events, such as The National Earth Day Concerts and the Walden Woods concert in 1993.

In 1990, the U.S. was awarded the rights to host the 1994 World Cup Soccer Championships. An initial list of the 35 prospective venues failed to include any Boston or New England site. Stadium management initiated the lobbying effort internationally to add Foxboro's name to the list. Joining forces with the tourism officials throughout the region ultimately led to Foxboro's selection as one of nine host sites for World Cup Games. Only Los Angeles and New York were awarded more than Foxboro's six games.

In 1996, Foxboro Stadium added a new tenant, providing a home for the New England Revolution — one of 10 professional soccer teams in the inaugural season of the MLS. The World Cup success enjoyed at Foxboro Stadium in 1994 weighed heavily in its selection as the site of the 1996 MLS Championship Game.

Patriots Cheerleaders

The New England Patriots are committed to performing at a championship level both on the field and in the community. That commitment is personified by the New England Patriots Cheerleaders, who are considered among the premier professional dance squads in the nation.

The squad provides entertainment to thousands of Patriots fans with their high-energy dance routines on the sidelines of every game at Foxboro Stadium. Their dance routines combine gymnastics, stunts and kick lines. Tracy Sormanti, the staff's director and choreographer, employs a wide repertoire of routines, which has earned the Patriots Cheerleaders a reputation for being among the most versatile in the league.

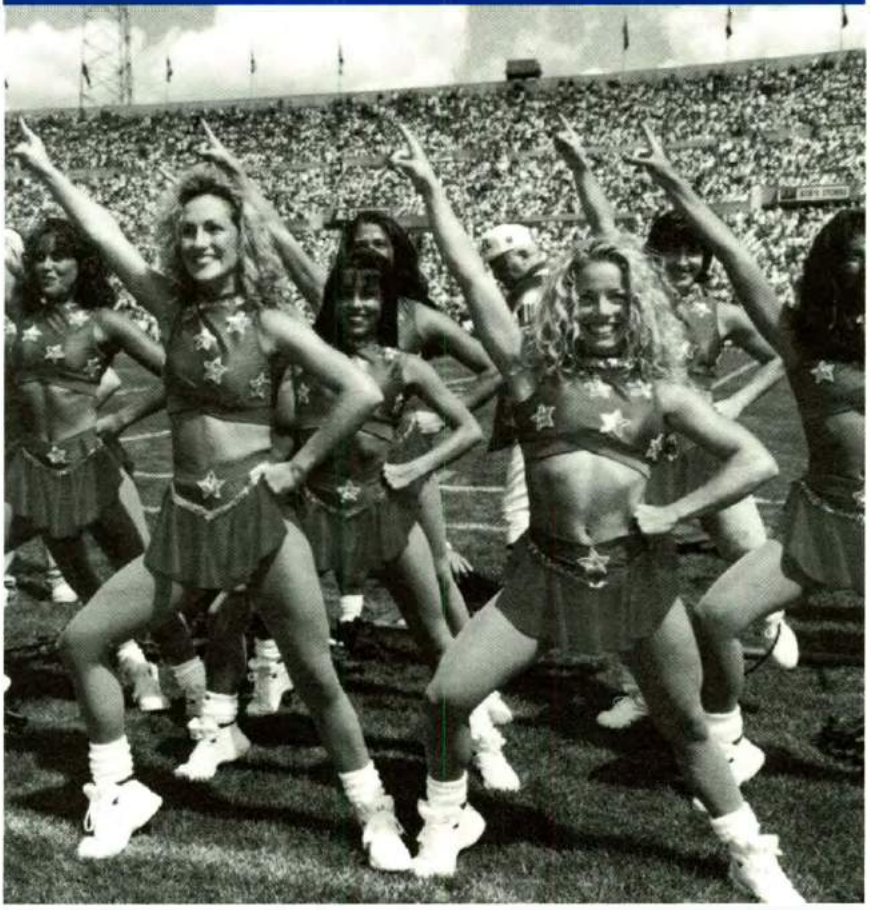

This year's squad consists of 39 of New England's most talented and beautiful performers. The range of educational backgrounds, which include accounting, primary and secondary education, psychology and exercise physiology, reflects the talents which make up this year's squad.

In addition to performing on the Patriots' sidelines, the Patriots Cheerleaders are also committed to community service. In 1997 alone, the squad volunteered over 1,500 hours of their time to charitable organizations throughout New England. Those appearances assisted numerous charitable organizations, including the Make-A-Wish Foundation, the D.A.R.E. program, the Genesis Fund and Special Olympics.

In addition to their charitable involvement, the Patriots Cheerleaders also make hundreds of appearances for corporations and businesses throughout New England each year. For appearance rates and availability, please contact the Patriots Cheerleaders Director and Choreographer Tracy Sormanti at (508) 543-8200.

THE NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS
Charitable Foundation

New England Patriots Foundation

THE NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS CHARITABLE FOUNDATION, INC. IS THE VEHICLE THROUGH WHICH THE TEAM MAKES DONATIONS TO CHARITABLE AND PHILANTHROPIC ORGANIZATIONS IN NEW ENGLAND THROUGH DIRECT GRANTS AND AUCTION ITEMS WHICH PARTICIPATING ORGANIZATIONS USE TO RAISE FUNDS.

Since its establishment in 1994 as a non-profit organization, the Foundation has contributed more than $1 million toward its goal of helping to support the youth and families of New England, contributing more than 75% of funds raised to benefit more than 3,000 non-profit organizations throughout New England.

The New England Patriots Charitable Foundation maintains a special relationship with a number of community partners whose goals match the Foundation's mission. These community partners include The Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston, The R.O.S.E. Fund, The New England Patriots Adopt-A-Child Holiday Programs with the Salvation Army and Goodwill / Morgan Memorial, and our sister organization, the New England Revolution.

"Our mission is to assist a variety of charitable organizations and programs that foster cultural diversity, education, family and health. The Foundation uses its resources to serve the youth of New England by encouraging their education, growth, creativity, and development of character; and to help provide a better quality of life in the communities the Foundation serves."

The Foundation has teamed up with the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston to assist the clubs in fulfilling their mission to provide activities and counseling services which assist in the educational, emotional, physical and social development of Boston's inner city youth. The New England Patriots Charitable Foundation Ticket Program donates 200 tickets per game to the Boys and Girls Clubs of Boston to bring inner city youth to Patriots games.

The Foundation is actively involved with the R.O.S.E. (Regaining One's Self-Esteem) Fund, a program committed to helping end violence against women and assisting women survivors of violence to regain their self-esteem and rebuild their lives. For the past four years, the New England Patriots Charitable Foundation's president, Myra H. Kraft, has served as the honorary chair of the R.O.S.E. Fund's annual awards dinner, which is the organization's primary fund raiser.

Each winter, the Foundation joins the New England Patriots players in participating in the holiday Adopt-A-Family programs with Goodwill / Morgan Memorial and the Salvation Army. These programs provide Thanksgiving food baskets and toys for more than 300 children and families during the holiday season.

With the establishment in 1996 of the New England Revolution, one of 12 Major League Soccer franchises, the Kraft family augmented the Foundation's role by cooperating with the Revolution to assist the development of youth soccer programs and soccer-related community organizations in New England.

During the coming season, the Foundation will initiate a number of new initiatives, including those dealing with domestic violence, health issues in the minority community, race relations and increased support for youth football and soccer programs in the region.
