A DEDICATION:

The 1979 Giants Media Guide is dedicated to the memory of defensive tackle Troy Archer who perished in a tragic traffic accident on June 22, 1979. The Giant's No. 1 draft choice in 1976, the 24-year old Archer was recognized throughout the entire NFL as a potential All-Pro caliber player. He was named to the All-NFL Rookie team in 1976 and was additionally voted the Giant's Outstanding Rookie by the New York Chapter of the Pro Football Writers Association. In 1977, Troy won All-NFC honors from several newspapers, registered 12 quarterback sacks and led the club in opponent fumble recoveries. Out half of the 1978 season because of a broken bone in his foot, he nonetheless recorded his first NFL touchdown with a 20-yard fumble recovery return against the Washington Redskins late in the season. Fully recovered, he was anxiously looking forward to the 1979 season as were his teammates and Giant fans everywhere. Memorial Services were held for Troy in Union City, N.J. and in Whittier, Calif., where he was buried in Rose Hill Cemetery on June 28th. At the New Jersey Memorial Services, Giants' President Wellington Mara delivered a moving Eulogy, which is printed below:

"As we are privileged to spend these last few moments with Troy and his family, it is fitting that we ponder on the humanity of Troy Archer. We need not plead his cause with the Almighty. God saw his goodness. That's why He took him so soon. Troy Archer was no saint—as none of us in this room is a saint. But he was a man and if the full measure of a man's humanity is the balance of his strengths and his weaknesses and if the ultimate question is not, 'Did he fall?' . . . or 'How often?' . . . but rather, 'Did he get up? Did he get up every time?' . . . then he was a man such as none of us in this room can claim to be. Troy Archer always got up. It wasn't given to Troy to taste the rewards of his dedication and devotion this Spring and for that we grieve all the more. But it was given to him that when the last quick whistle was blown, he was on his feet, on a straight path for the ball carrier. Troy never settled for less. None of us can ask more of ourselves or of our Creator. For Troy, it was too brief and over too soon. For his teammates, friends and associates—and I count myself among all three—it was rich and rewarding. We thank Troy for all of it."

GENERAL MANAGER GEORGE YOUNG

GEORGE YOUNG — General Manager — After 11 years of distinguished service with the Baltimore Colts and Miami Dolphins, 48-year-old George Young was named General Manager of the Giants on February 14 of this year. During his tenure with Baltimore and Miami, Young had been closely associated with Don Shula at both franchises and had served in a variety of capacities. He was initially brought into the Colts' organization in 1968 by Shula as an assistant in the Personnel Department, then was named offensive line coach in 1970. That year, the Colts went all the way to the Super Bowl and won that Super Bowl 16-13 over the Dallas Cowboys. In 1971, George became Director of Player Personnel for the Colts and continued in that role until 1973 when new head coach Howard Schnellenberger named him Offensive Coordinator and line coach. In 1974, Young rejoined Shula with the Miami Dolphins in the Personnel Department and at the time he was named by the Giants, was Director of Personnel and Pro Scouting for Miami. His areas of responsibility at Miami included the negotiating of veteran and rookie player contracts, the study and evaluation of all NFL players for trade and waiver acquisitions, the scouting of opponents and the presentation of those scouting reports to the Miami players. He was additionally very active in Miami's college scouting and drafting. Shula had described Young as "an outstanding individual who has been my right hand man". George Bernard Young was born on September 22, 1930 in Baltimore, Md., and was an outstanding football player at Calvert Hall College H.S. in Baltimore. He went on to Bucknell University where he was a starting defensive tackle for three seasons, team captain in 1951, and was named to the Little All-American first team and All-East first team in his senior year. Selected to play in the Blue-Gray game after his senior season, he was drafted by the Dallas Texans and after playing one season, began a coaching career in the Baltimore school system at City College H.S. Over a span of 15 seasons, Young's teams won six Maryland State championships, and at one time had an overall 60-12 record while winning those State championships. Additionally, Young was an educator while coaching in Baltimore, teaching History and Political Science. While teaching in Baltimore, Young earned two Master's degrees from Johns Hopkins University and Loyola College. George and his wife, Katheryn, have relocated from their home in Hollywood Hills, Fla., to New Jersey.

STAFF BIOGRAPHIES

PERKINS

RAY PERKINS — Head Coach — First Year — Ray Perkins was named Head Coach of the Giants in February of this year—the 11th Head Coach in New York Giants' club history. The 37-year-old Perkins, a former wide receiver with the Baltimore Colts, came to the Giants from the San Diego Chargers where he had been Offensive Coordinator in 1978, helping the Chargers to a 9-7 finish in the AFC Western Division. San Diego won seven of its last eight games in 1978 and scored 355 points on the season—the highest total in the AFC West, and Perkins was credited with being the architect of that offensive improvement, particularly in the development of QB Dan Fouts who finished the season as the No. 2 rated passer in the AFC behind Terry Bradshaw. Prior to his assignment with the Chargers, Perkins had been receivers and tight ends' coach with the New England Patriots for four years. Born in Mount Olive, Miss. on November 6, 1941, Ray was an all-around scholastic star at Petal High School in Petal, Miss., then matriculated to the University of Alabama where he was a standout split end under the legendary Paul "Bear" Bryant. Despite missing a year because of a head injury, Perkins harvested numerous honors at Alabama. As a receiver for both Joe Namath and Ken Stabler, Perkins won All-American honors in 1966, was the Most Valuable Player in the Southeastern Conference that same year; was elected co-captain his senior season, won both the Atlanta and Birmingham Touchdown Club Awards in 1966, and played in two Orange Bowl games and one Sugar Bowl. When Alabama defeated Nebraska 39-28 to win the National Championship in the 1966 Orange Bowl, Perkins set an Orange Bowl record by catching 10 passes in the first half. A 7th round "future" choice of the Baltimore Colts, the 6-0, 185-pound Perkins spent five seasons with the Colts, working with Johnny Unitas, appearing in two NFL title games and Super Bowls with Baltimore. In those five seasons, before a knee injury cut short his career, Ray caught 93 passes for 1,538 yards and 11 touchdowns. He retired as a player in 1972 and went immediately into coaching, with his first stop at Mississippi State as receivers coach. A year later, he began his NFL coaching career with the Patriots under Chuck Fairbanks. Perkins is married to the former Carolyn Martin of Winstboro, Tex., and is the father of two sons—Tony, 15, and Mike, 14.

BLED SOE

TERRY BLED SOE — Assistant General Manager — After five years as Assistant Executive Director of the NFL Management Council, Bledsoe joined the Giants as Assistant Director of Operations in June 1978, and brings with him an extensive background in labor and player relations. Before joining the Management Council, the 44-year-old Bledsoe was a sportswriter and columnist for the Milwaukee Journal for 11 years, with his principal coverage centering on the Green Bay Packers from 1962-73 and on Marquette University 1962-68. He additionally wrote a general sports column from 1968-73 and was three times the Wisconsin Sportswriter of the Year. Born in Chicago, Terry was brought up in Clinton, Iowa, after his father had been killed in the Battle of the Bulge in 1945. He began his collegiate career at St. Ambrose College in Davenport, Iowa, then went on to the University of Iowa where he graduated with a degree in Journalism in 1956. A resident of Yorktown Heights, N.Y., Terry and his wife Shirley have six children—Ann, 22, a graduate of Marquette; Chris, 20, a student at Fairfield University; Tom, 19, who is at Dartmouth, Katie, 18; Carolyn, 15 and Ellie, 13.

HOWELL

JIM LEE HOWELL — Director of Player Personnel — Jim Lee Howell, a towering figure in the past and present of the New York Giants, lends a wealth of experience and football savvy to his position as Director of Player Personnel. It was 42 years ago that Jim Lee arrived on the New York scene, a long-legged rookie end out of the U. of Arkansas, and since then he has filled a variety of key roles for the Giants: player, assistant coach, head coach and now, of course as a top-ranking administrator. Howell's record speaks boldly for itself. During his nine years as a player (1937-42, 1946-48), the Giants posted a mark of 55-37-9 and played in four world championship games (1938-39-41-46). After his playing days, the 6-6 Arkansan served as end coach under Coach Steve Owen from 1949-53 and, when Owen departed after the 1953 campaign, Jim Lee was named head coach. The winning pattern Howell had established as a player continued during his reign as coach. Over the next seven years, the Giants won 56 games, lost just 36 and tied four, and they made the world championship game three times, beating the Bears in 1956 and losing classic struggles to the Colts in 1958-59.

SHAY

JERRY SHAY — Chief Scout — Former Giants' defensive tackle Shay was named Chief Scout in 1977 and as such, had much to do with the past three drafts. Jerry joined the Giants' scouting department in 1972 and served as the club's scout in the Western States area, including all of the West Coast as well as in the areas of Wyoming, Montana and the Dakotas. Born in Gary, Ind., the 35-year-old Shay was an All-American star at Purdue University and was the No. 1 draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings in 1966. He was a starting DT for the Vikes for two years, then was traded to the Atlanta Falcons in 1968 where he again starred for two seasons before coming to the Giants in a trade in 1970. Jerry was a key performer that season as the Giants finished 9-5 and missed the playoffs by one game. A year later, he suffered a broken leg and retired after the 1971 season after appearing in only six games, and became a scout the following season. Born on July 10, 1944 (family name Dzedzeji), Jerry is married to the former Cynthia Zajkowski, has three daughters, Tiffany Lee; Shannon Marie; and Jeri Lynn, and resides in San Diego, Calif.

TRIMBLE

JIM TRIMBLE — Director of Pro Personnel — Few men in professional football are better qualified than Jim Trimble to handle the role of Director of Pro Personnel, an assignment he shouldered at the start of the 1969 season when the Giants reorganized their administrative staff. As Director of Pro Personnel, Trimble serves with Head Coach Ray Perkins and General Manager George Young, helps coordinate trades, works closely with Jim Lee Howell and members of the scouting staff and generally handles the myriad details and personnel problems that result from the ever widening range of pro football activity. Whatever the problems, though, it is likely that Jim has encountered them somewhere along the line during his 40 years in football. His background in the game is not only broad, it is also very successful. He was head coach of the Philadelphia Eagles (1952-56), the Hamilton Tiger Cats (1956-62) and the Montreal Alouettes (1963-65) and rarely was he ever on the losing side. His NFL record with the Eagles was 27-20-2. In Canada, he compiled an overall record of 77-61-2 and was named Coach of the Year in 1961. Additionally, he served in the dual role of head coach and general manager

HARRY CARSON	Linebacker	4th Year

PRO: A No. 4 draft choice in 1976, Carson has proven to be a premier selection by the Giants. A defensive lineman in college, Harry was moved to MLB by the Giants and since taking over the starter's role midway through his rookie season, he has progressed to the point of being considered one of the top young MLBs in the league. Last year, Carson gained full recognition for his talents, being named to the Pro Bowl for the first time. Additionally, he was named to the AP second-team All-NFL; UPI's second-team All-NFC; Pro Football Weekly's first-team All-NFC; and the Newark Star-Ledger's first-team All-NFC as well as winning the CYO's Most Popular Giant award. Washington State 5-9 166 26 San Pedro, Calif.

PRO: Danelo came to the Giants in a trade with the Green Bay Packers for a 7th round draft choice just prior to the 1976 season, and has proven to be an outstanding addition. Hampered by a groin injury his first season with the Giants, Danelo was but 8-for-21 in field goals that first year, but since then has rapidly improved to become one of the top place-kickers in the entire NFL. He had his best season ever last year booting 21-of-29 field goals, including a pair of 50-yarders, and has a current streak of 17 consecutive games in which he's kicked a field goal or more—an alltime Giant club record. Joe was also the best long-distance FG kicker in the entire NFL last year, hitting 7-of-9 from beyond the 40, and 2-of-3 from the 50 and beyond. He's kicked four 50 or longer FGs in his three seasons with the Giants, the only place-kicker in club history to kick more than one from that distance. A fine athlete, Danelo is a sure tackler who has made his share of tackles on kickoffs. Originally a No. 10 draft choice of Miami, he was released by the Dolphins and signed by the Packers in 1975 and was the regular kicker for Green Bay that year after Chester Marcol was injured, booting 11-of-16 field goals. GAMES PLAYED: 16

RANDY DEAN Quarterback
3rd Year
Northwestern 6-3 195 24 Whitefish Bay, Wisc.

PRO: Dean was the Giants' No.5 draft pick in 1977 and showed enough potential in training camp to make it as the club's No. 3 QB. After being active for only one game in 1977, Randy saw action in six games last season, and was the starting QB in the final two games of the year. His first NFL start was a memorable one for him as he went the distance in a 17-0 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals, throwing his first NFL touchdown pass in the process. A week earlier, he had relieved Joe Pisarcik against the tough L.A. Rams and had 63 yards rushing in 6 carries in the second half of play. In the season finale against the Eagles, Dean was 7-for-10 for 126 yards—his best passing day of the season.

GAMES PLAYED: 6.

His passing stats for those final two years showed 188 completions in 377 attempts for 2,699 yards and 11 touchdowns. Dean was also his team's punter, and his 42.5 punting average in his junior year ranked him 13th in the country and was an alltime one-season Northwestern punting mark. Had a 3.89 average in Industrial Engineering, named to the All-American Academic team and was a National Football Foundation Scholarship winner.

PRO: Drafted on the 7th round by the Giants in 1977, Dixon had perhaps the most impressive training camp of any rookie, showing expertise in both receiving and blocking. He also performed admirably in pre-season games and was showing rapid improvement and potential during the regular season when he went down with a knee injury, had surgery and was lost for the balance of the season. Dixon bounced back to win the starting job at TE last year, and though slowed somewhat by minor injuries, finished the season with the club's top average-per-catch mark, a 20.9 reading on 18 receptions for 376 yards. PRO: Reece was a No. 9 draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys in 1976, played in all 14 games that year with the Cowboys as a reserve, then came to the Giants on waivers prior to the 1977 season. For his two years with the Giants, Beasley has been both a cornerback and starting strong safety, a return specialist and special teams' contributor. He's also been dogged by bad luck, going down with injuries halfway through both the 1977 and 1978 seasons. In '77, knee surgery sidelined him from the 10th game on, and last year a broken leg in the 8th game put him out for the balance of the campaign. He also had two kickoff returns for 40 yards to go along with seven for 159 yards in 1977. GAMES PLAYED: 8.

COLLEGE: Beasley began as a non-scholarship student at North Texas State, majoring in Journalism—then won a varsity spot as a defensive back as a walk-on. RAY RHODESDefensive Back*6th Year*Tulsa*5-11 185 28*Teaneck, N.J.

PRO: A 10th round selection of the Giants in 1974, Rhodes has been a genuine two-way performer ever since his rookie year. Drafted as a wide receiver, Rhodes played WR for three seasons with the Giants, and, in fact, led the NFC in average-per-catch totals with a 20.7 mark on 26 receptions for 537 yards in the 1975 season. Injuries slowed down his production somewhat in 1976, so Rhodes made the big switch from WR to cornerback on defense, and showing his great athletic ability, promptly became a starter. He proved to be a solid hitter on the run, also covered well and had a pair of interceptions as well as two fumble recovery-returns. In 1978, Ray continued his fine work, despite missing three games with injuries, and upped his interception total to three for 74 yards returned. He also blocked a field goal attempt vs. Atlanta which resulted in a Giants' TD. His three years as a receiver included a 19.3 average-per-catch mark for his 51 receptions. GAMES PLAYED: 13.

COLLEGE: Ray began his collegiate career at TCU as a running back and rushed for 786 yards and a 4.9 average in his sophomore year. Turner also won a varsity letter in fencing at Duke, was the North Carolina state champion in fencing and won All-ACC honors in that sport as well.

PERSONAL: James Denis Turner was born on April 17, 1953 in Moultrie, Ga., then was a scholastic whiz at Ben Franklin H.S. in Philadelphia. In addition to his football and fencing prowess (he was the city fencing champion two years straight), J.T. was a National Honor Society member, and graduated 5th in a class of 408. He's also a musical star who plays the organ, trumpet, trombone, and french horn. Turner is married to the former Debra Harris and has a son, James Denis Jr., born in May of this year.

MAURICE TYLER	Defensive Back	8th Year
Morgan State	6-1 194 29	Marietta, Ga.

PRO: The veteran Tyler came to the Giants as a free agent eight games into the 1978 season and made a dramatic debut. On his very first play as a Giant, Tyler recovered a blocked New Orleans' punt for a touchdown, his first TD after seven NFL seasons. Origin-nally a No. 10 draft choice of Buffalo in 1972, Tyler was a starter in his rookie year and had four interceptions for 61 yards. Thereafter, he spent his next five seasons as a reserve with Denver, San Diego, Detroit and the Jets before signing with the Giants. In addition to his TD, Tyler had one fumble recovery and one punt return for six yards. His career stats show five interceptions for 61 yards; five fumble recoveries, five punt returns for 26 yards and one kickoff return for 23 yards. GAMES PLAYED: 8.

COLLEGE: Tyler began his collegiate career at Baltimore Community College, then played two seasons at Morgan State as a defensive end and safety, making the Pittsburgh Courier All-American team in 1971. Also won letters in basketball and lacrosse at Morgan State.

PERSONAL: Maurice Michael Tyler was born on July 19, 1950 in Baltimore, and was an all-around athletic star at Mergenthaler Tech H.S. in that city. Nicknamed "Mo", he's married to the former Marilyn Meeks and has a son, Maurice II, who is 3.

DOUG VAN HORN	Guard	13th Year
Ohio State	6-3 245 35	Columbus, Ohio

PRO: Van Horn was the No. 4 draft choice of the Detroit Lions in 1966, played in all 14 games with the Lions as a rookie, and then entered the U.S. Army. After his discharge, the Lions sent Doug to the Giants in 1967 where he spent that season with the Giants' Westchester Bulls farm team. He then began his Giant career in 1968, and since that time has been a bulwark on the offensive line at both tackle and guard. He was initially a starting guard in 1968 through 1972, switched to starting tackle 1973-76, then moved back to starting guard for the past two years. Along the way, "Reggie", as he's called by everyone around the club, was elected offensive team captain in 1974. He's also the Giants' Player Representative. While he's never been an All-NFL or Pro Bowl selection, Van Horn is widely respected throughout the league. He's also been a durable player, since in his 12 NFL seasons, he's missed only two games because of injuries since becoming a starter. In fact, his current streak has now reached 100 consecutive games played. GAMES PLAYED: 16.

COLLEGE: Reggie earned a degree in Business Administration at Ohio State, played three years as a starting guard-tackle for Woody Hayes and won All-American honors in his senior year with the Buckeyes. He was also selected to play in the East-West game after his final season.

PERSONAL: Douglas Claydon Van Horn was born on June 24, 1944 in Sedalia, Mo., and did his scholastic work at Eastmoor H.S. in Columbus. Married to the former Connie Wilson, Doug is the father of a daughter, Heather, and a son, Doug Jr. An off-season stockbroker in Columbus, he's also a co-owner of the Front Row Restaurant, just outside the Sports Complex in East Rutherford.

BRAD VAN PELT	Linebacker	7th Year
Michigan State	6-5 235 28	Owosso, Mich.

PRO: Drafted as their first pick in 1973 (second round), the Giants took a gamble on Brad at that time since he was a heavily sought major league pitching prospect. That gamble has turned out to be a great one, since Van Pelt not only elected to join the Giants, but after a slow start in his rookie year, has come on to win three consecutive Pro Bowl designations, as well as being an All-NFC choice in each of these past three campaigns. As a rookie, he was hampered by minor injuries, some personal problems and indecision by the coaching staff as to where to play him—linebacker, tight end, or safety. He finally settled in as a weakside linebacker in 1974, then moved to strongside where he has been a powerful performer ever since. Although he missed two games last season, he still finished with three interceptions and three QB sacks and won a starting job in the Pro Bowl. He's had any number of memorable games over the past few years, but perhaps none better than against Detroit in 1976 when he dedicated his performance to his recently deceased father and won NFL Player of the Week for his 10 solo tackles, two interceptions and two QB sacks in a big win over the Lions. GAMES PLAYED: 14.

COLLEGE: Van Pelt was a veritable one-man band at Michigan State. A three-year starter at the "monster" safety position, he was All-Big 10 three times; All-American twice; Maxwell Trophy winner; and MVP in 1972. Had 14 career interceptions. Brad also lettered twice in varsity basketball at MSU, and twice in baseball where he was also All-Big 10 and set alltime strikeout records as a pitcher.

PERSONAL: Brad Alan Van Pelt was born on April 5, 1951 in Owosso, Mich., was all-everything at Owosso H.S., a Little League and Punt, Pass & Kick winner too. Brad and his wife, Susan, have two sons—Arnold Justen, 2, and Bret Christopher, who was born February 4 of this year.

1979 DRAFT CHOICES

PHIL SIMMS	Quarterback	First Round
Morehead State	6-2½	216

Giants' first pick in the draft is a highly regarded young quarterback who concluded his collegiate career with 409 completions in 836 attempts for 5,545 yards and 32 touchdowns . . . all of those totals being alltime school standards. Hardly recruited when he graduated Southern H. S. in Louisville since he weighed just 175 pounds, Phil built himself up to his present 216 pounds, and as Giants' Head Coach Ray Perkins observes, "he reminds me a lot of Terry Bradshaw . . . physically and in his playing style." A pure drop-back passer, Simms set other school marks, including four TD passes vs. Marshall in 1977 and 370 yards passing vs. Tennessee Tech that same year. A four-year letterman, Phil did not play in any post-season games, but during his career was an honorable mention All-America by the Sporting News; Offensive Player of the Year in the Ohio Valley Conference; a first-team Conference choice in 1977 and a second-team choice two other seasons. Simms is big enough and strong enough to run out of the pocket if necessary, but is not an option-type quarterback, although his career rushing stats at Morehead State included eight rushing touchdowns. In 1977, Phil passed for 2,041 yards on 134 completions and had 15 TD connections. In his senior year, a losing one for the college, his stats fell off to 92 completions for 1,229 yards as the coaching staff opted for a ball-control type offense. Phil is blonde, right-handed and admits that he has patterned himself after several NFL quarterbacks he's watched on television. And while Simms may not have been a household name among those fans who follow the annual collegiate draft, the fact remains that 20 out of the 28 NFL teams sent personal representatives to Morehead to visit with Phil . . . and several other NFL teams, besides the Giants, had Simms ranked in their overall "Top 20 Players" in this past draft.

EARNEST GRAY	Wide Receiver	Second Round
Memphis State	6-3	195

Super swift wide receiver with fine size, Gray has been clocked in 4.4 for the 40-yard dash and concluded his career at Memphis State with some sizzling stats. Overall, he had 97 career receptions for 2,123 yards, an eye-popping 21.9 average-per-catch mark, and 17 touchdown catches. Along the way, he made big impressions on all of the scouts in both the East-West Shrine game and Senior Bowl games after his senior year, and won All-South Independent first-team honors in addition to All-American honorable mention by both the Associated Press and Sporting News. In his junior season, Gray broke a 27-year-old NCAA record when his average-per-catch mark was a dazzling 29.5, coming via 826 yards on 28 receptions. Gray also holds the record for the longest TD reception in Memphis State history, a 94-yarder this past season, and is the only receiver in the college's history to collect over 2,000 career yards receiving. As a senior, Gray caught 35 passes for 690 yards, a 19.7 average and nine touchdowns. From Greenwood, Miss., Ernest was an All-State high school football star and was also the Mississippi State hurdles champion. As a junior in 1977 when he set the 29.5 average-per-catch record, Gray was not only first-team All-South, but was additionally named to both the Associated Press and Football News' All-American teams. Chief Scout Jerry Shay of the Giants felt that getting Gray was like getting a first round selection since the Giants had rated Gray so highly among the potential wide receivers available in the draft. Besides his obvious outside speed and long-play capability, Gray has the size to catch the ball over the middle as well.

PHIL TABOR	Defensive End	Fourth Round
	Oklahoma	6-4 255

After going for offensive help on the first two rounds, the Giants used their fourth round choice to select Oklahoma's big and swift Phil Tabor as their initial defensive selection. A native of Houston, Tex., Tabor won himself varsity letters in all four years at Oklahoma as a defensive tackle. He capped his four-year career by having his best individual season in 1978, winning All-Big 8 first-team honors and honorable mention All-American by both the Sporting News and Associated Press. He also won a spot in the 1979 Challenge Bowl after that senior year which saw him register 106 tackles (62 solo, 44 assists), 10 QB sacks, which led the Oklahoma defensive stats, and a pair of fumble recoveries. Along the way in that senior season, Tabor obviously had some eye-catching single game performances, including powerful games against Nebraska, (season high of 16 tackles that game); Kansas (14 tackles); Colorado (13 tackles); and Texas (12 tackles). Phil's sophomore and junior seasons were good ones as well. As a soph, he was credited with 83 tackles (47 and 36), had four QB sacks and four fumble recoveries, and in his junior year upped his stats to 86 tackles (48 and 38), and had seven QB sacks. Overall, his four-year totals were right up there with top defensive players in the entire country—294 total tackles (169 and 125); 21 quarterback sacks, and seven fumble recoveries. And if Oklahoma opponents didn't get enough of Phil on defense, they might have had double vision on offense, since Phil's identical twin brother, Paul, was an offensive guard with Oklahoma.

CLEVELAND JACKSON	Tight End	Fifth Round
	Nevada-Las Vegas	6-4 230

A highly versatile all-around athlete, Jackson is loaded with potential and could well be a key addition. One of the finest athletes ever to come out of Detroit's Northwest High him 4th on the alltime list. His senior season figures included 515 yards rushing for a 5.1 average, and while all of his ball carrying abilities are evident, his coaches and the pro scouts were just as high on his blocking abilities, so much so that many of the pro scouts rated Hicks' blocking talents as among the very best in the entire country. His 1978 stats were accomplished in just eight games, since Hicks was injured in the season opener, missed two games, and then sat out the season finale with another minor injury. Hicks nonetheless had two East Carolina highs in 1978—most points scored in a game, 20; and the longest run from scrimmage, 71 yards. Hicks was a wide receiver and defensive back in high school, then made the switch to RB at East Carolina. His college coach, Pat Dye, may well have been his biggest fan. Said Dye at season's end: "What Hicks means to us can't be measured in yards . . . it's better measured in miles. He's truly one of the great backs in America . . . a real thoroughbred."

STEVE ALVERS

Tight End

Seventh Round

Miami

6-3½

237

A two-year starter at TE at the University of Miami, Steve began his collegiate career at Taft Junior College in Taft, Calif., first as a defensive end, then as an All-America J.C. offensive tackle. A 185-pounder in high school, Alvers built himself up to 240 in junior college on a solid weight program, then became a tight end when he advanced from the J.C. ranks to Miami. As a junior, Steve caught 14 passes for 254 yards and three touchdowns, including a sparkling 35-yard TD against Notre Dame, and with his background as an offensive tackle, proved to be a superlative blocker in addition to his receiving abilities. Last year, Alvers suffered a shoulder injury in the opening game of the season and was out of action for five games, yet came back strongly in the final part of the season to finish with 13 receptions for 177 yards and one touchdown, giving him two-year stats of 27 receptions for 431 yards, four touchdowns and a 15.9 average-per-catch total. In addition to his duties at tight end, Alvers also doubled as the Hurricanes' long snap man on punts and placements. A Physical Education major, Alvers is a native of the Miami area and was an All-City football selection while at North Miami H.S. Also lettered in basketball in high school, and, not strangely, lists water skiing as his favorite hobby.

HAROLD "D.K." PERRY

Defensive Back

Eighth Round

S.M.U.

6-3

185

A four-year letterman at SMU, Perry blended defensive back abilities with kickoff and punt return capabilities to give him a twin-edged potential to make it in the NFL. During his four seasons at SMU, Perry set an alltime Southwest Conference record in his senior year by returning 31 kickoffs for 732 yards and a 23.6 average, the yardage total breaking the former standard of 700 set by Art Whittington in 1976. By the same token, his 1978 punt return yardage of 268 (on 35 returns) is the second best in SMU history and ranked starting seasons, and along the way was named to the All-Big 10 first team as a junior and to the second teams in both his sophomore and senior years. In 1977, Rusk was credited with 138 tackles, including 105 solo stops, and that latter figure is an alltime low; one-season record. That same season, Tom was named AP and UPI Defensive Player of the Week, and had his biggest games against national powers UCLA (16 solo tackles, 4 assists), Ohio State (13 and 3 and Michigan (15 and 1). Team captain in the 1978 season. Rusk had 106 tackles in his senior year (68 and 38), recovered two fumbles and had three QB sacks. His three-year stat totals showed 361 tackles (247 and 114), four fumble recoveries, one pass interception and 10 QB sacks. Born on July 14, 1957 in Virquoé, Wisc. Rusk was a football and wrestling star at Hempstead H.S. in Dubuque, and was the State High School wrestling champion in his senior year. Could well make the switch from MLE to strongside LB position in the pros.

DAN FOWLER

Guard

Tenth Round

Kentucky

6-4

240

Settled into a guard position last season with Kentucky after playing center, tackle, fullback and tight end during his career. Won first-team All-Southeastern Conference honors in 1978, and was also named to the honorable mention All-American by the Sporting News and to the Associated Press All-America Strength Team. Fowler could easily build himself up into the 255-pound range when he reports to pre-season training camp, since he has weighed as much as 260 when playing offensive tackle in the past. By the same token, he has also been as light as 210 playing fullback and tight end. Over the past two seasons, he's been ranked as one of the better offensive guards in the SEC, particularly because of his strength and quickness. Has perfect size for an offensive guard in the pros. Suffered a knee injury while wrestling prior to Spring drills this past season, but showed no ill effects during the regular season. He had been a wrestler all through high school and has also lettered in wrestling at Kentucky. Born on April 12, 1956 in Euclid, Ohio, Fowler played virtually every position at Euclid H.S., concentrating, however, on either offensive guard or tackle. Scouts feel that he has all kinds of potential to make it in the pros.

MIKE MINCE

Defensive Back

11th Round

Fresno State

6-4

Every pro team likes to think that late rounds in the draft often produce genuine "sleepers", players overlooked for one reason or another. For the Giants, this year's "sleeper" could well be Mike Mince from Fresno State. At 6-4 and 205, he's got great size for a defensive safety, and when scout Rosey Brown put the stopwatch on the big guy and caught him in 4.5 for the 40, his quickness and running ability was established. Mike hadn't played football since 1975 when he was a tight end at Bakersfield Junior College in California, but was a two-year track star in the intermediate hurdles for Fresno State when he walked on to the football field at Fresno State and impressed head coach Bob Padilla enough to get himself on the squad as a "walk on" for his senior season. Despite being away from football for three years and switching to a defensive secondary posion, Mince proved he was an exceptional athlete, winning a starting job at safety and proving that he could also be a hitter. Mike was credited with 40 tackles on the season, and no problem covering receivers and had as many tangibles as intangibles for someone who had played just one season at a small school. Mince won three letters in varsity sports at Kern Valley H.S. in Lake Isabella, Calif., and majored in Criminology at Fresno State.

KEN JOHNSON Running Back 11th Round (A)
Miami 6-2 220

The Giants' second pick on the 11th round (via Detroit), Johnson played his career in the shadow of Ottis O.J. Anderson, a first-round draft choice of St. Louis, but despite being a reserve through all of his career at Miami, certainly has the potential to rate a long look in pre-season training camp. A first cousin of Nat Moore, Ken is a native of the Miami area and was an All-City and All-County star of Jackson High School in Miami before enrolling at the University of Miami. A quarterback for three seasons in high school, he switched to running back in college and was the second leading rusher on the Miami freshman team in 1975. In both 1976 and 1977, he was used only sparingly, showing 45 carries for 127 yards and two touchdowns (vs. Pittsburgh and Florida State) in his sophomore year. As a junior, he was used primarily as a kickoff return man, and had only 15 rushing attempts for 32 yards, but scored a TD against Florida State on a dazzling pass reception in which he broke three tackles. This past season, Ken had his busiest season as a running back, carrying 90 times for 403 yards and a 4.4 average, and added 12 pass receptions for another 79 yards. In addition to his football prowess in high school, Johnson won letters in track and basketball. Giant scout Jerry Shay saw Ken in action several times and obviously thinks he has sufficient ability to warrant a look in training camp.

TIM GILLESPIE Offensive Guard 12th Round
No. Carolina St. 6-3 245

Another youngster who has had experience on both offense and defense in college. Tim began his career at North Carolina State as a defensive lineman for his first two seasons with the Wolfpack, then moved over to the offensive line in his junior year. Working with weights, he built himself up to his present 245 pounds, and was a two-year starter at guard after his transition from the defensive unit. As an indication of his quick learning ability, Gillespie threw the block which sprung Ted Brown loose on a 95-yard TD jaunt vs. Syracuse early in the 1977 season, just after he had won the starting guard position. Continued his fine play throughout this past season, continuing to improve his drive blocking and pass blocking, and rated as one of the most consistent performers on the North Carolina State squad. Gillespie has pretty good speed for a big man as well, showing constant clockings of 5.0 in the 40-yard dash. Received good ratings from the scouts for quickness off the ball and for competitive instincts, as well as for solid intelligence. Hails from Greensboro, N.C. where he was a three-sport letter winner at Smith H.S. in football, wrestling and tennis, and was also student body president in his senior year. A major in Speech-Communications, Tim contemplates professional football or the ministry as a career.

1979 FREE AGENTS

THE 1978 SEASON IN REVIEW

September 2 GIANTS, 19 Tampa Bay, 13 (67,456) At Tampa

The Giants got off to a swift start in this NFL season opener at Tampa on Saturday night when rookie CB Terry Jackson intercepted a Doug Williams' pass on the third play of the game and returned it 32 yards for a TD and a quick 7-0 Giant lead. Williams was subsequently kayoed by DE Gary Jeter in this same first period, with Gary Huff coming on in relief. Tampa Bay tied it 7-7 on a 2-yard run by Jimmy DuBose, then went up 10-7 on a 34-yard Neil O'Donoghue FG in the second period. Harry Carson's interception then set up a knotting 42-yard FG by Joe Danelo after starting QB Jerry Golsteyn had been knocked out of action on a sack and replaced by Joe Pisarcik. In the second half, Pisarcik heated up with a 9-for-13 pitching performance, including a 67-yard TD bomb to Johnny Perkins midway through the third period which put NY up 16-10. O'Donoghue's 26-yard FG cut it to 16-13, but the Giants iced it on Danelo's 23-yard FG after an apparent TD by Willie Spencer was nullified by an illegal procedure penalty. The Giants' defense then shut down the Bucs and with 4:00 to play, Pisarcik killed the clock with 10 straight running plays, with FB Larry Csonka carrying six times for 28 yards in that time-consuming final drive. That made Zonk the leading rusher for the Giants in the victory, while Pisarcik was 9-for-15 for 156 yards. Perkins had four catches for 110 yards and the Giants had three interceptions. Linebackers Harry Carson and Frank Marion (subbing for the injured Brad Van Pelt) had 9 tackles each.

September 10 GIANTS, 24 Dallas, 34 (73,265) At Giants Stadium

Defending Super Bowl champion Cowboys got off to a 14-0 lead in this season home opener at Giants Stadium, but thereafter the Giants played the Cowboys tough all the way before dropping the 34-24 decision. New York rolled up 343 yards of offense against the rugged Doomsday Defense, including 261 yards passing by Joe Pisarcik. Roger Stau-

Staubach's 4-yard pass to Billy Joe DuPree and a 2-yard run by Robert Newhouse had Dallas on top 14-0 early in the second period before the Giants rolled 94 yards on six plays for their first score—a 4-yard pass from Pisarcik to Al Dixon. Dallas scored again just before halftime for a 21-7 lead, but in the third period the Giants rolled again, first on a 70-yard drive which was capped by Bobby Hammond's 11-yard TD run, then on a 42-yard Joe Danelo FG after a Terry Jackson interception return to the Cowboys' 29 to close it to 21-17. A 1-yard score by Newhouse moved the Cowboys further in front, but the Giants drove back again, only to cough up the ball at the Dallas 28 on a Larry Csonka fumble. Charlie Waters subsequently intercepted Pisarcik and returned to the NY 15 to set up a 3-yard TD by Tony Dorsett, but the Giants drove back still another time for a 75-yard march, capped by rookie Dan Doornink's 1-yard TD plunge. Hammond's 33 yards in 5 carries led the Giants in that department, while Pisarcik was 15-for-37 for a season high of 261 yards. Jimmy Robinson had four catches for 100 yards while reserve WR James Thompson and TE Gary Shirk had three catches each. Dave Jennings punted for a 44.5 average, while MLB Harry Carson had 10 solo tackles, 5 assists. Dorsett rushed for 111 yards in 24 carries for the winners, Drew Pearson had 6 catches for 89 yards.

Another fine offensive showing by the Giants as they upped their record to 2-1 with a 26-10 romp over the Chiefs, piling up 339 yards of total offense. The Giants got off to a fine start in this one, building a 14-0 lead in the first period, initially going 71 yards in 11 plays after the opening kickoff with Joe Pisarcik hitting Bobby Hammond for a 6-yard TD pass. Hammond's 18-yard punt return then set up the second tally, this one coming on Pisarcik's 21-yard bullet to WR Johnny Perkins for the touchdown. A pass interference call then kept a Chief's drive in motion which ended in Ted McKnight's 2-yard TD to close it to 14-7, but the Giants struck back quickly when George Martin forced a fumble on a QB sack, recovered by Jack Gregory. Pisarcik's 46-yard pass to Al Dixon positioned Larry Csonka's 1-yard TD blast and a 20-7 halftime lead. Some devastating long distance punting by Dave Jennings (7 punts for a 52.1 average in the game), kept the Chiefs pinned through the third period, along with tenacious defense, and the Giants upped it to 23-7 late in the period on Joe Danelo's 41-yard FG. Jan Stenerud answered with a 24-yard FG for Kansas City, but the Giants put it away later in the period with a seven-minute drive capped by Danelo's 40-yard FG for the final 26-10. Pisarcik threw 15-for-25 for 175 yards and two TDs, while Doug Kotar led the rushing with 79 yards in 10 trips. Al Dixon had four catches for 73 yards to lead the receivers, while linebackers Harry Carson and Dan Lloyd were in on 15 and 11 tackles respectively. Tony Reed had 114 yards rushing for the Chiefs.

September 24 GIANTS, 27 San Francisco, 10 (71,536) At Giants Stadium

Giants upped their mark to 3-1 with another fine blend of potent offense and stingy defense, rolling up 382 yards of total offense and limiting O.J. Simpson and the 49ers to 191 yards while sacking QB Steve DeBerg three times and intercepting him four times. Again, the Giants got off to a swift first period start. On the game's first series, Ray Rhodes intercepted DeBerg and returned 42 yards to the SF for 28. Two plays later, Joe Pisarcik connected with Al Dixon for a 29-yard TD for a 7-0 lead after three minutes of play. On the next series, Bobby Hammond broke a 27-yard run to set up a 1-yard TD plunge by Larry Csonka for a 14-0 edge. The Giants moved again in this same period after a Terry Jackson interception, but Joe Danelo missed a 24-yard FG attempt. Danelo quickly made up for the short-range miss by booming a 52-yard FG early in the second period for a 17-0 lead before the 49ers could get on the board via a 30-yard Rick Wersching FG. The Giants continued to roll in the third period, moving 71 yards on 8 plays for another TD as Hammond's 39-yard run set up a 1-yard TD dive by Willie Spencer and Danelo added a 28-yard FG for a 27-3 lead halfway through the period. SF then came up with their only TD late in the final period on DeBerg's 2-yard bootleg after a fumble recovery by Cedric Hardman at the NY 47. Offensively, Pisarcik was 12-for-26 for 154 yards while the rushing attack amounted to 256 yards with Hammond getting 93 on 11 carries, Dan Doornink 79 on 11 and Billy Taylor 60 on 16. Ray Rhodes had a pair of interceptions for 74 yards returned while linebackers Harry Carson and Frank Marion had 11 and 10 tackles respectively. O.J. rushed 20 times for 88 yards for the 49ers.

October 1 GIANTS, 20 Atlanta, 23 (47,765) At Atlanta

This was the first of a series of games that the Giants "should not have lost", games in which solid leads were dissipated, golden scoring opportunities squandered. The Giants again started quickly, moving to a 14-0 first period lead as a fumble recovery led to Larry Csonka's 6-yard TD burst in the opening minutes and a blocked field goal attempt by Ray Rhodes resulted in a second TD as LB Brian Kelley recovered the blocked kick, returned it 72 yards, then lateraled to George Martin who went 11 more yards for the TD. The Giants were also at the Atlanta 10 in this same period, but Joe Danelo missed a 27-yard FG attempt. The Falcons bounced back on a 54-yard TD pass from Steve Bartkowski to Wally Francis, then sacked Joe Pisarcik in the end zone for a safety to close to 14-9. The Giants then blew two golden chances to take a bigger lead when Al Dixon fumbled at the Atlanta 2 into the end zone where the Falcons recovered, and then at the Falcon 16 when a dropped pass forced to Giants to go for a 34-yard FG which Danelo again missed! The Falcons took the lead 16-14 on Bartkowski's 1-yard keeper in the third period, but the Giants rallied for 23 and 45-yard FGs by Danelo to take a 20-16 lead with 6:00 to play. Then the Falcons twice converted fourth-down plays on a final winning TD drive and after S Ernie Jones had dropped an interception in the end zone, Haskel Stanback scored on a 9-yard run with 1:57 to play and the Giants had dropped a heartbreaker. Pisarcik was but 7-for-21 for 86 yards, while Dan Doornink led the rushers with 55 yards on 8 carries. Harry Carson continued his outstanding defensive play with 15 tackles.

October 8 GIANTS, 3 Dallas, 24 (63,420) At Dallas

The Giants managed to stay close to the Cowboys for most of the first half in this one, but an almost total lack of offense allowed the Cowboys to win it going away in the second half. All told, the Giants managed only 10 first downs and 142 yards of total offense and the Dallas pass rush resulted in eight QB sacks on the Giants for 63 yards lost. The Cowboys got on the board midway through the first period, moving 80 yards in 11 plays, the score coming on a 17-yard TD pass from Roger Staubach to Tony Hill. On the ensuing series, Joe Pisarcik's 44-yard pass completion to Jimmy Robinson set up a 37-yard FG by Joe Danelo to cut it to 7-3, and it remained that way until 47 seconds before halftime when Staubach threw 23 yards for a TD to Billy Joe DuPree for a 14-3 lead. Pisarcik gave way to Jerry Golsteyn and Randy Dean also played at QB in the second half, but the Giants were unable to mount any scoring threats whatsoever. Meanwhile, Dallas concluded the scoring with a Staubach to Hill TD from 30 yards out and a Raphael Septien FG from 22 yards. Overall, the Giants were but 6-for-20 in passing for 103 yards. Doug Kotar was the leading rusher for NY with 42 yards on 8 carries. Dave Jennings had his usual good day against Dallas with 9 punts for a 44.0 average, while Brad Van Pelt was in on 13 tackles and the Giants sacked Staubach five times with LB Brian Kelley getting a pair. Staubach was 17-for-32 for 246 yards and three TDs, while Tony Dorsett rushed 17 times for 73 yards.

October 15 GIANTS, 17 Tampa Bay, 14 (68,025) At Giants Stadium

After two straight road setbacks, the Giants got back on the winning track and made it three straight victories over the Bucs by rallying for the 17-14 triumph in the final period, thanks to some timely defensive play by MLB Harry Carson. With Tampa Bay leading 14-3 in that final period, Carson intercepted a Doug Williams pass and returned it 30 yards to the TB 25. Jerry Golsteyn, in at QB replacing Joe Pisarcik, then hit James Thompson for a first down pass to set up a 7-yard TD blast by Larry Csonka to cut the score to 14-10. Two plays later, Tampa's Louis Carter was jolted by John Mendenhall, forcing a fumble which Carson recovered at the TB 12, and five plays later, Csonka powered over again, this time from a yard out to make it 17-14. Joe Danelo subsequently missed a 46-yard FG attempt, and TB's Neil O'Donoghue missed from 42 yards out to close out the scoring. Earlier, the Giants had led 3-0 in the first period on a 22-yard Danelo FG, but the Bucs rallied to take a 14-3 halftime lead. First, TB went 80 yards, aided by a pair of 15-yard penalties, with Davis scoring from three yards out, then the Bucs went 72 yards for their next score, with Jimmy DuBose getting the TD on a 1-yard dive after a 46-yard pass interference call on Terry Jackson. It remained that way into the fourth period when Carson's heroics turned the tide. Pisarcik was but 4-for-13 for 45 yards before being replaced by Golsteyn who went 2-for-2 for 18. Bobby Hammond led a balanced rushing attack with 63 yards on 15 carries, with Csonka adding 56 on 13 and Billy Taylor 52 on 9 trips. Harry Carson was in on 14 tackles for the Giants. DuBose had 109 yards rushing on 24 carries for TB, while Williams was held to 7 completions in 27 attempts and was intercepted twice.

October 22 GIANTS, 17 Washington, 6 (76,192) At Giants Stadium

Biggest win of the season for the Giants before an alltime record home crowd of 76,192. Washington came into the game with a 6-1 record and first-place in NFC East, but were completely overpowered by an aroused Giant defense and an opportunistic offense. The Giants got on the board first in the opening period on a 63-yard drive, with Joe Pisarcik firing a 43-yard TD pass to Jimmy Robinson for the score. In this same period, Doug Kotar's 31-yard run led to another score, this one on a 31-yard FG by Joe Danelo for a 10-0 lead. Washington came back, aided by a 38-yard pass interference call on Bill Bryant, for a 41-yard FG by Moseley, then closed it to 10-6 when Moseley hit on a 34-yard FG. Then, with less than two minutes left in the half, the Giants used the old "flea flicker" play with Billy Taylor and Jimmy Robinson on the reverse handoffs and pitch back to Pisarcik, who completed a 46-yard pass to WR James Thomson at the Redskin 4. Two plays later, Pisarcik scored on a 3-yard bootleg and it was 17-6 at the break. Thereafter, the Giants' defense took over, shutting out the Redskins completely, with two key QB sacks by DE George Martin and LB Brian Kelley and two more pass interceptions by S Ernie Jones (52 yard return) and by MLB Harry Carson (42 yard return). Pisarcik completed only three passes, but two of those were big ones (TD to Robinson and flea flicker to Thompson), while Bobby Hammond had 65 yards rushing on 15 carries, Kotar 49 on 10 and Larry Csonka 43 on 13. Dave Jennings was also a key again, punting 9 times for a 44.2 average. John Riggins had 78 yards on 18 carries for the 'Skins, while QB Joe Theismann was 15-for-38 with three interceptions. The game marked the fourth straight victory over Washington for the Giants.

October 29GIANTS, 17*New Orleans, 28 (58,806)*At New Orleans

The second in the series of games that were well in hand and went the other way. Ahead 17-7 at halftime, the Giants were nailed with a pair of pass interference calls in the second half which led directly to New Orleans' touchdowns, with the final Saints score coming after a busted play pass interception which was returned to the NY 3-yard line. The Giants again opened quickly in this one when Ernie Jones blocked a New Orleans' punt in the early minutes, with reserve DB Maurice Tyler, in for his first play as a Giant, recovering in the end zone for the TD. Joe Danelo then added a 50-yard FG early in the second period for a 10-0 lead, and after the Saints retaliated with a 61-yard drive to cut it to 10-7, the Giants drove to the N.O. 5-yard line, penalties pushed them back and Danelo then missed a short-range FG from 28 yards out. Even with this opportunity gone by the boards, the Giants came back still another time, with Larry Mallory hitting Al Dixon for 35 yards on a fake field goal attempt to set up Larry Csonka's 1-yard blast for the 17-7 halftime lead. The Giants then were on the move again with the second half kickoff, but two holding penalties negated the drive and forced a punt. A 25-yard pass interference penalty on Bill Bryant then set up a 1-yard TD pass from Archie Manning to Henry Childs to close it to 17-14, and on the next series, Bryant was called for interference again, this time for a 36-yard penalty after the receiver had bumped Bryant. This penalty led directly to a TD run by Tony Galbreath which upped it to 21-17, and when Jimmy Robinson and Pisarcik got caught in a busted pass route, Pisarcik's misplayed pass was easily intercepted by the Saints and returned to the NY 3, where Manning hit Childs again for the final score. Pisarcik was but 5-for-15 for 69 yards with three interceptions, with Jerry Golsteyn finishing up and going 4-for-10 for 38. Doug Kotar had 81 yards rushing on 9 carries, Robinson had 4 receptions for 79 yards. Harry Carson was in on 15 tackles, including one of the four sacks on Manning.

A poor and indecisive performance by the Giants, replete with fumbles and pass interference calls, contributed to a 20-0 halftime lead for the Cardinals, who came into this game with a 1-8 record. And though the Giants tightened the defense completely in the second half to shut the Cardinals down to just 86 yards of total offense, the damage had been done. Jerry Golsteyn started at QB for the Giants, but gave way to Joe Pisarcik after one period. Meanwhile, the Cardinals capitalized on a Bobby Hammond fumble to take 7-0 early lead on a 5-yard Jim Hart TD pass to Al Chandler. Then Hart threw a 74-yard bomb to Giant nemesis Mel Grey from his own 4-yard line, and a personal foul penalty added 11 more yards for an 85-yard gainer which led to a Jim Otis 2-yard TD blast for 4-0 lead. Back came the Cardinals again, aided by a 21-yard pass interference penalty on Terry Jackson, with Otis scoring again from a yard out and the 20-0 bulge. The Giants finally got on the board on the third period on Joe Danelo's 26-yard FG, but on a subsequent drive to the St. Lou 17, Pisarcik was intercepted in the end zone to kill that threat. Pisarcik was intercepted for a third time in the fourth period to blunt still another drive, but midway through the period, Joe hit Jimmy Robinson for a 52-yard TD connection to close out the scoring at 20-10. The Giants moved again, inside the St. Lou 30, but a fourth down play went awry, and the Cards took over and ran out the clock. Pisarcik was 12-for-27 for 196 yards, but was sacked three times and intercepted thrice as well. Hammond had 47 yards on 11 carries to lead the rushers, while Dave Jennings punted four times for a 51.2 average. Harry Carson was in on 13 tackles. Otis had 78 yards rushing on 22 carries for the winners, Pat Tilley four catches for 101 yards.

November 12 GIANTS, 13 Washington, 16 (53,271) O.T. At Washington

Another wrenching setback, this time in overtime, after the Giants had built a 13-6 lead with powerful defensive play throughout only to have the Redskins tie the game in regulation with just 1:05 to play. The TD was the first touchdown the 'Skins had scored against the Giants' defense in four games, but was enough to send the game into OT where Mark Moseley booted a 45-yard FG 8:32 into the overtime to win it for the Burgundy. Earlier, the game had been a rugged defensive battle, with the Giants holding Washington to 93 yards of offense in the first half, which ended in a 3-3 knot. NY scored first on Joe Danelo's 32-yard FG, but Moseley came back with a 47-yarder just 59 seconds before halftime for the tie. Moseley booted a 33-yard FG after Pisarcik had been intercepted in the third period, but the Giants came back to tie it on Danelo's 29-yard FG. The Giants defense then took charge again, resulting in the go-ahead TD when DE George Martin sacked Joe Theismann, causing a fumble, which DT Troy Archer picked up and ran in for 20 yards and the TD for the 13-6 lead. Then came the final 'Skin drive, a 53-yard march in 7 plays, with Mike Thomas scoring from a yard out in the final minute. Pisarcik was 12-for-20 for 158 yards passing, with two interceptions, with Bob Hammond the leading rusher with 60 yards on 14 carries. Johnny Perkins had four catches for 45 yards. Defensively, Harry Carson and George Martin had outstanding games, the former with 14 tackles, and the latter with four QB sacks for 41 yards. Archer, besides scoring his first NFL touchdown, had five tackles and one QB sack.

November 19 GIANTS, 17 Philadelphia, 19 (70,318) At Giants Stadium

This game will go down as one of the most memorable in Giants' history, for purely negative reasons. In the most bizarre finish in club annals, "the fumble heard 'round the World" came with 31 seconds to play, the Giants leading 17-12, the Eagles out of time outs, and everybody in the Stadium, including Eagle players and coaches, expecting the Giants to fall on the football to run out the clock. Instead, a play was sent in calling for a full pivot inside handoff which was fumbled between QB Joe Pisarcik and FB Larry Csonka. The fumble bounced into the hands of Eagle CB Herman Edwards who gleefully ran the gift package 26 yards for the TD that handed the Eagles a 19-17 victory and a trip to the playoffs. Earlier, the Giants had dominated the game, leading 14-0 in the first period, and 17-6 into the final six minutes of the game. The Giants drove 72 yards in 9 plays for the game's first score which came on Pisarcik's 19-yard TD toss to Bobby Hammond. A Brad Van Pelt interception set up the next Giants' drive which was capped by Pisarcik's 30-yard TD pass to Johnny Perkins for the 14-0 early lead. Ron Jaworski's 47-yard gainer to Harold Carmichael led to an 8-yard TD run by Montgomery to cut the score to 14-6 at halftime, after Pisarcik had been intercepted in the Eagle end zone to kill another Giant drive. Joe Danelo's 37-yard FG made it 17-6 in the third period, setting the stage for the final incredible minutes. First, the Eagles drove for a TD, aided nicely by two pass interference calls on Terry Jackson and a roughing the passer infraction on John Mendenhall. Mike Hogan scored from a yard out to close to 17-12, and when Doug Kotar fumbled the ball away with 3:22 to play, the Eagles were in business at the Giant 33. Instead, the rookie Odis McKinney intercepted Jaworski and returned to the 21 with 1:30 to play. Pisarcik fell on the first down, Csonka ran for 11 yards on second down and with third down, 31 seconds left, the Eagles out of time outs, in came THE PLAY and down went the Giants.

November 26 GIANTS, 17 Buffalo, 41 (28,496) At Buffalo

In sub-freezing temperatures at Buffalo, the Giants built still another substantial lead, only to fall victim to a fourth period Buffalo ground onslaught which turned the game into a rout. In this one, the Giants worked up a 17-7 lead late in the third period, had still another touchdown called back on a border-line penalty, then were literally run out of Rich Stadium in the final period as the Bills put 27 points on the board in the last quarter. The Giants drove 72 yards on their first possession with Joe Pisarcik throwing a 31-yard TD pass to Al Dixon for the score. The Bills tied it on a 1-yard plunge by Curtis Brown, but a 27-yard Joe Danelo FG after a 43-yard Jimmy Robinson TD catch had been nullified, and Pisarcik's 19-yard TD toss to Doug Kotar had NY on top 17-7 with 5:00 to go in the third session. Then the gates burst as the Bills unleashed a furious rushing attack, led by Terry Miller and Roland Hooks. Poor punting by the usually powerful Dave Jennings (6 punts for a 28.3 average) gave the Bills top field position, and Buffalo capitalized on every opportunity. Miller finished with 208 yards rushing on 21 carries, while Hooks added 115 on 12 as the Bills piled up 366 yards rushing on 49 attempts. Pisarcik had his best passing day with 15-of-24 for 230 yards and two TDs, but the Bills dominated everything else.

December 3 GIANTS, 17 Los Angeles, 20 (62,629) At Giants Stadium

Giants played the Western Division champion Rams tough all the way, but five NY turnovers proved decisive as L.A. hung on for the 20-17 win. Rams got on the board first after a Jackie Wallace 58-yard punt return led to a 27-yard FG by Pat Corral. Jim Youngblood then intercepted a Joe Pisarcik pass and returned it 36 yards to the Giant 6 from where Cullen Bryant turned end for the TD that upped it to 10-0 early in the second period. The Giants bounced back with an 85-yard drive, capped by Pisarcik's 4-yard TD pass to Gary Shirk to cut it to 10-7 at halftime. With Randy Dean at QB at the start of the second half, the Giants moved in for a 10-10 tie as Joe Danelo kicked a 27-yard FG, and it remained that way in a fine defensive battle until with 5:29 to go in the game, Dean's pass to the flat was intercepted by Pat Thomas who ran it back 33 yards for a TD and a 17-10 L.A. edge. A minute later, Dan Doornink's fumble was returned 39 yards by Dave Elmendorf to set up a 35-yard Corral FG for a 20-10 lead, but Dean brought the Giants back again on a 60-yard march, with the TD coming on a 1-yard leap by Willie Spencer to close it out at 20-17. Dean was 4-for-14 for 38 yards in his first long work of the year, and was also the Giants' top rusher with 63 yards on 6 carries. Doornink added 58 on 10 carries and also had 5 catches for 39 yards. Pat Haden was 12-for-25 for 102 yards for the Rams who were held to 98 yards rushing in 36 carries for a meager 2.7 average. L.A., however, had four interceptions and the fumble return to make up for their lack of offense.

December 10 GIANTS, 17 St. Louis, 0 (52,226) At Giants Stadium

Randy Dean got his first start at QB for the Giants and made it a victorious one as the Giants snapped a six-game losing streak with a 17-0 romp over the Cardinals. Solid rushing, good short-range passing by Dean and a tough defense combined for the shutout victory, with Doug Kotar coming up 118 yards rushing on 27 carries. The Giants scored early when Ernie Jones recovered a Cardinal fumble and Joe Danelo capitalized with a 30-yard FG for a 3-0 lead. Late in the period, Kotar and Dan Doornink led a rushing drive which ended with Dean's 6-yard TD pass to Gary Shirk. The Giants had another scoring chance in the third period when Ernie Jones made second fumble recovery at the St. Lou 15, but Doornink fumbled at the 7 into the end zone and the Cardinals recovered. Then in the fourth period, ex-Giant Gordon Bell fumbled a punt, with Maurice Tyler recovering for NY at the St. Lou 27, and three plays later, Kotar zipped 12 yards off tackle for the TD and the final 17-0 edge. The Cardinals had one final threat, but after reaching the NY 24, Jim Hart was intercepted by Terry Jackson who returned it 51 yards to kill the threat. Dean finished the day with 8-for-14 passing, was not sacked and had one interception. Meanwhile, the Giants rushed for 230 yards, with Doornink adding 62 on 11 carries to the 118 for Kotar. Harry Carson had 9 tackles to lead the defense and the Giants had four fumble recoveries

Season finale saw pumped-up Eagles, with playoff berth awaiting, jump out to a solid 13-9 lead in the first period, then hold on for the 20-3 triumph. Two big plays on their first two possessions got the Eagles on the board both times. The first was Wilbert Montgomery's 47-yard burst on a third-and-four situation which led to his 2-yard TD slant five minutes into the game. Then came a 43-yard pass from Ron Jaworski to Harold Carmichael which set up Montgomery's 7-yard sweep for the second TD midway through the period. Randy Dean's 48-yard pass to Jimmy Robinson on a "flea flicker" positioned a 24-yard FG by Joe Danelo to cut it to 13-3. That's how it remained through the third period, with the only threat being a Giant drive to the Eagle 15 which ended when Willie Spencer fumbled the ball away. Then with 6:15 to play, Joe Pisarcik, who had replaced Dean when Randy suffered a mild concussion, was intercepted by LB Frank LeMaster on the Giant 9, with LeMaster taking it the 9 yards for the final TD. Dean was 7-for-10 for 126 yards during his stint, while Pisarcik went 10-for-19 for 81 yards, with both Jimmy Robinson and Johnny Perkins getting five catches. Terry Jackson had his 7th interception of the season for the Giants, while Harry Carson had his usual big day against the Eagles with 17 tackles, 12 solos, 5 assisted. Two Eagles—Montgomery and Mike Hogan—rushed for 100 yards each, the former with 130 and the latter with 100.

1978 PRE-SEASON RECAP

August 7 GIANTS, 21 Cleveland, 7 (30,636) At Cleveland

Giants opened the pre-season schedule in solid fashion, displaying a fine blend of offense and defense to throttle the Browns, 21-7. With Joe Pisarcik at QB, the Giants went 56 yards in 8 plays with Willie Spencer scoring the TD on a 3-yard slant. With Jerry Golsteyn at QB, it went to 14-0 in the final period on a 79-yard drive after Spencer broke a 55-yard run to set up a 15-yard TD pass from Golsteyn to rookie Billie Taylor. The Browns cut it to 14-7 on a 6-yard TD pass to Keith Wright, but veteran DE Jack Gregory then recovered a Brown fumble and returned it 38 yards for the final Giant TD . . . which was Gregory's first TD in 12 NFL seasons. The Giants had four QB sacks, with DE George Martin getting a pair of them.

August 12 GIANTS, 23 N.Y. Jets, 27 (43,899) At Giants Stadium

One of the best games in this pre-season series, as the lead see-sawed back and forth throughout. The Jets had a 10-3 lead early, but the Giants took control thereafter to build a 20-10 lead, then a 23-17 edge before the Jets pulled it out in the final 1:24 on Richard Todd's 18-yard TD pass to Wesley Walker. The Giants had put 20 unanswered points on the board after the early 10-0 Jet lead, with Joe Danelo booting a pair of FGs from the 40 and Jerry Golsteyn pitching a pair of TD passes (4 yards to Gary Shirk and 9 yards to Johnny Perkins). Danelo's third FG, from 29 yards, gave the Giants a 23-17 lead, but the Jets' rally won it in the final moments. Golsteyn was 16-for-27 for 184 yards. The Giants had two sacks and two interceptions against Todd, but Richard's three TD passes won the day. Harry Carson led all tacklers with 11.

August 19 GIANTS, 13 Pittsburgh, 6 (43,339) At Giants Stadium

An impressive all-around performance by the Giants as they knocked off the eventual Super Bowl champion Steelers. The fans had hardly settled in their seats when the Giants unleashed their first TD, a 78-yard TD bomb from Jerry Golsteyn to speedster Johnny Perkins on the second play of the game. For the rest of the first half, it turned out to be a defensive battle until the Giants drove deep enough in Steeler territory to get a 22-yard FG from Joe Danelo for a 10-0 halftime lead. The Giants continued to play good defense through the third period, then a Beasley Reece interception set up another Danelo FG, this one from 32 yards, for a 13-0 lead before the Steelers got on the board in the final minutes on a 1-yard dive by Sidney Thornton, with Ernie Jones blocking the PAT attempt. The Giants had six sacks against Terry Bradshaw and his replacements, while Doug Kotar was the leading rusher with 59 yards on 12 carries.

San Diego, 17 (37,652)

At Giants Stadium

Tough Chargers' defense held Giants without a TD and QB James Harris connected 18-of-38 for 235 yards to pace San Diego to 17-6 victory. Harris took Chargers 71 yards for first score, hitting Johnny Rodgers for a 20-yard TD pass. The Giants came back on the next series with Joe Danelo booting a 27-yard FG to cut it to 7-3 at the half. Rolf Benschke's 49-yard FG made it 10-3 for S.D., and Danelo retaliated with a 30-yard FG to cut it to 10-6. Late in the final period, the Chargers wrapped it up when Fuller ran 11 yards for a TD on a fake field attempt. Jerry Golsteyn was 10-for-15 for 143 yards for the Giants, who had three pass interceptions, two by Ray Rhodes. Harry Carson was in on 17 tackles for the Giants.

The 1979 New York Giants' Media Guide was written and edited by the Media Services Department of the Giants. It has been designed to be as comprehensive as possible, but if members of the media require additional information or assistance not contained within these pages, please contact the Director of Media Services, Ed Croke. During the pre-season training camp, that contact can be made at Pace University, Pleasantville, N. Y., and during the regular season at the Giants' Executive offices at Giants Stadium, East Rutherford, N.J. 07073 (201-935-8111). For those who can be served by telecopier, the direct telecopier line at Giants Stadium is (201) 935-8493.

The cover photo on the 1979 Giants Media Guide was taken by photographer Jim Turner and shows the intensity of middle linebacker Harry Carson. The 6-3, 240 pound Carson had a banner year in 1978, winning both All-NFL and All-NFC honors as well as being voted into the Pro Bowl.

WIDE RECEIVER Johnny Perkins shows artistic form as he goes high in the air to grab pass in action at Giants Stadium. The 6-2, 205-pounder from Abilene Christian had 32 receptions for 514 yards and three touchdowns to share the club lead in that department in 1978. (PHOTO BY GUS BOYD)
