A look at the past...

THROUGH THE YEARS

The New York Giants were the hook which held the ragged cloak of professional football's formative years.

The Giants franchise Timothy J. Mara bought in the summer of 1925 helped further pro football in a time when it was in danger of disintegrating for lack of money and public support. Mara held the line in New York. He kept the game alive. His tools were energy, family pride, money and a sure promotional touch. That he did so in a time when the sports headlines belonged to Babe Ruth and Bill Tilden... to Bobby Jones and Jack Dempsey... and to college football was remarkable.

Pro football? Few sports fans in New York had even heard of it, let alone seen it played.

Indeed, the game had much to be modest about in 1925. It was a shaky band of teams that called itself the National Professional Football League—then five years old. Made up of about 20 clubs—month-to-month changes made a hard number unattainable—this clumsy child of a league was manned by former All-America football players, aging Olympic stars, out of work baseball players, part-time cowboys, wrestlers, dock hands, factory workers and anyone else who felt he could play.

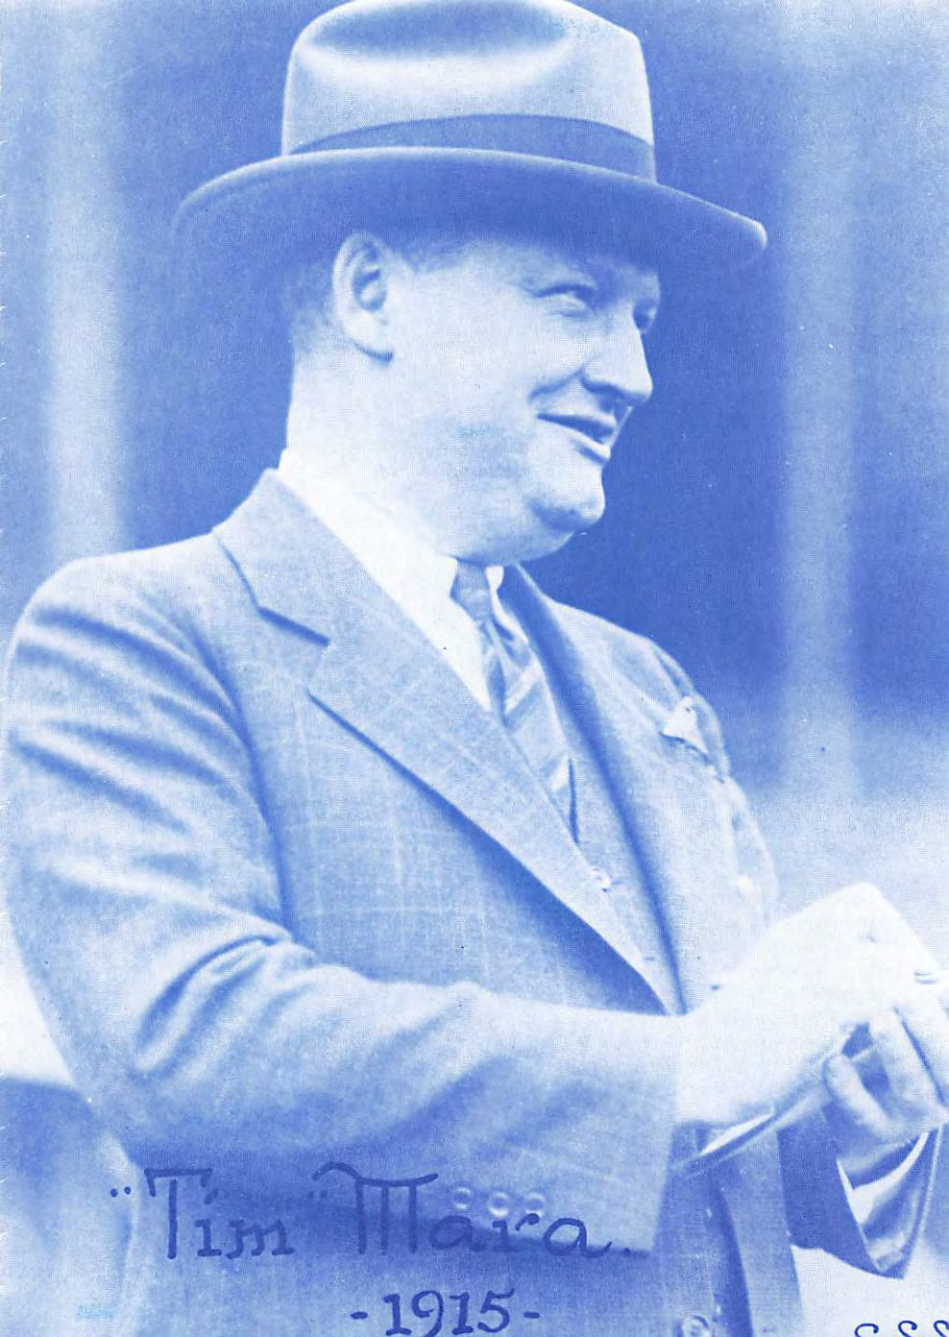

Club franchises in those days were bought, sold and moved about like rolling stock. A number of the 1925 teams failed. What little stability the young league had was centered in a combative ex-sailor named George Halas, who owned, coached and played for the Chicago Bears. Within 20 years this man would be known as Papa Bear, and his "cubs" as the fearsome "Monsters of the Midway."

Tim Mara's first contribution to this helter-skelter organization was $2,500, the price of the New York franchise. Some accounts put the figure at $500... that may have been the down payment. The Giants say $2,500.

His second contribution was to draw public attention to pro football. Toward that end, he tried to sign the great Red Grange, the Galloping Ghost from Illinois, but Halas and the Bears beat Mara to the prize. Mara wisely settled for second best—a final game in New York against the Bears, featuring Grange, but in a Bears'—not Giants'—uniform.

Public support for the game was vital to the plucky Irishman's football future. If Mara could fill the Polo Grounds, the Giants' home stadium, he'd break even. If not, New York, as a professional football town, might well have to go the way of Dayton, Rochester and Columbus as league dropouts.

That game against the Bears on December 6, 1925, turned out to be the first miracle of Coogan's Bluff. Archives of the day relate how an estimated crowd of 70,000 fans jammed the Polo Grounds, swarmed over temporary field bleachers, climbed rooftops and literally hung from the rafters in order to catch a glimpse of the fabled Galloping Ghost.

"Tim" Mara

SSS

The Bears beat the Giants 19-7, with Grange scoring once on an interception. More important, however, was the enthusiastic reception the game evoked from the press and the fans. They loved the spectacle. That winter, Tim Mara and the other NFL franchise owners drew strength from the belief that professional football, given star players, the proper setting and enough publicity, could become a respectable—and profitable—enterprise.

But neither Mara nor the league were out of the financial woods yet. Spurred by the success of the Giants-Bears game, a promoter known as C. C. (Cash-and-Carry) Pyle, who held the rights to Red Grange's services, organized a rival pro league in 1926 and fielded competing teams in Yankee Stadium, just across from the Polo Grounds, and in Brooklyn's Ebbets Field.

It was a case of too much pro football, too soon, played before too few spectators. Before the 1926 season ended, the rival league folded.

And so, very nearly did the Giants. Dogged by bad weather, poor attendance and higher payrolls as a result of bidding against Pyle for player talent, Mara and the surviving league owners found themselves in dire straits. But they prevailed with worn uniforms, through coach travel on trains, in cheap hotels and with reduced squads; they scraped enough money together to keep their franchises operating through 1927 and 1928.

Keystone for survival were the Giants. As long as Mara could turn out a team in New York, with its many newspaper and radio outlets and its great population, there was hope for professional football.

Mara made his next major contribution to pro football in 1929 when he signed Benny Friedman, Michigan's triple-threat quarterback. Friedman's contract was held by the Detroit Wolverines. In order to sign him, Mara had to buy the Wolverines.

With Friedman in New York and Grange back in the NFL at Chicago, the Giants and the NFL began to jell. Schedules were formalized and followed. Player contracts ran for an entire season, rather than game by game. Newspapers carried accounts of games and league standings.

By now traditional rivalries between the Giants, the Green Bay Packers and the Bears had been firmly established. Excitement generated by the visitors from the midwest was enough to keep the league and its teams solvent through the depression years.

It was from this bleak period that the Giants' influence on the league shifted from personalities to game strategy. In 1931 Mara named Steve Owen head coach—a job Owen had shared with Friedman in 1930. The move had a profound effect, not only on the Giants, but on the game itself. Owen, a massive tackle who had practically filled one side of the Giant line in his playing days, became a coach whose trademark was hard defensive line play and a tenacious pass defense.

So successful were Owen's coaching tactics that they brought the team six divisional titles and two league championships in the 10 years between 1931 and 1941.

Owen is remembered for his famed "umbrella" defense against the pass. It had a six-man defensive line, one linebacker and four defensive backs—the 6-1-4 defense. But as the opponent's pass play developed, the two outside defensive linemen dropped back, instead of rushing the passer, to form a semicircle secondary, resembling the top of an open umbrella. This defense prompted many NFL coaches to adopt the four-man line, but it remained for one of his player-coaches, defensive back Tom Landry, to ultimately refine it (after World War II and under a later Giants' coach, Jim Lee Howell) into the 4-3-4 defense—the dominant defense of the past three decades.

Pro football, however, travels in cycles and in time the opposition solved Owen's defense with new attack patterns. Young, imaginative coaches led by Paul Brown introduced a more open style of play—multiple offenses and the option. Steve Owen's coaching career with the Giants ended in 1953.

His successor was Jim Lee Howell, a soft-spoken giant of a man who had played end for Owen in the years before and after World War II, and who had become the team's first end coach in 1948.

Howell's leadership brought a new structure to the club. A man who believed in delegating authority, he handed the defensive responsibilities to Tom Landry. It was under Howell that Landry perfected the standard 4-3-4 defense that popularized play in the '60s.

1954 was also the year Howell brought into the Giants' organization a man whose impact on the game would become a legend—Vince Lombardi. As Howell's first lieutenant and offensive coach, Lombardi introduced the power sweep with its intricate pulling and trapping lineman and crushing double-team blocks. Lombardi restored the ground game to prominence in pro football.

Eventually, Howell's people would flourish in the NFL. Included were seven former Giants players or coaches who had held or were holding head coaching jobs in the National Football League: the late Vince Lombardi, Green Bay Packers and Washington Redskins; Tom Landry, Dallas Cowboys; Dick Nolan, San Francisco 49ers and New Orleans Saints; Harland Svare, San Diego Chargers; Alex Webster, Giants; Bill Austin, Pittsburgh Steelers and Redskins; and Ed Hughes, Houston Oilers.

Out of the Howell regime, too, came a dozen or more assistant coaches, including Emlen Tunnell, the first black coach in the game. And for what it reveals about the intelligence and versatility of his old crew, a number of broadcasters—Frank Gifford, Kyle Rote, Pat Summerall, Al DeRogatis and Sam Huff. There are sound reasons why the Giants' organization is referred to as Mara Tech.

However you would define the influence of Mara's Giants on pro football—persistence in the face of adversity, timely promotion, pluck, coaching leadership, player ability—it adds up to what the NFL needed most in the early days and what it utilized later in its growth years.

STAFF BIOGRAPHIES

GEORGE YOUNG

Vice-President-General Manager

After 11 years of distinguished service with the Baltimore Colts and Miami Dolphins, George Young was named General Manager of the Giants on February 14, 1979. During his tenure with Baltimore and Miami, Young had been closely associated with Don Shula at both franchises and had served in a variety of capacities. He was initially brought into the Colts' organization in 1968 by Shula as an assistant in the Personnel Department, then was named offensive line coach in 1970. That year, the Colts went all the way to the Super Bowl and won that Super Bowl 16-13 over the Dallas Cowboys. In 1971, George became Director of Player Personnel for the Colts and continued in that role until 1973 when new head coach Howard Schnellenberger named him Offensive Coordinator and line coach. In 1974, Young rejoined Shula with the Miami Dolphins in the Personnel Department and at the time he was named by the Giants, was Director of Personnel and Pro Scouting for Miami. His areas of responsibility at Miami included the negotiating of veteran and rookie player contracts, the study and evaluation of all NFL players for trade and waiver acquisitions, the scouting of opponents and the presentation of those scouting reports to the Miami players. He was additionally very active in Miami's college scouting and drafting. Shula had described Young as "an outstanding individual who has been my right hand man." Since joining the Giants, Young has been eminently successful in building the club, achieving the NFL Playoffs in 1981 in his third year of stewardship. From his first four College Drafts, a total of 18 players have made the club, with 12 of those eventually becoming starters, including All-NFL and Pro Bowl starters Mark Haynes and Lawrence Taylor, as well as Phil Simms, Earnest Gray, Bill Neill, Billy Ard, Rich Umphrey and Butch Woolfolk, all of whom were All-NFL Rookie team selections. George Bernard Young was born on September 22, 1930 in Baltimore, Md., and was an outstanding football player at Calvert Hall College H.S. in Baltimore. He went on to Bucknell University where he was a starting defensive tackle for three seasons, team captain in 1951, and was named to the Little All-American first team and All-East first team in his senior year. Selected to play in the Blue-Gray game after his senior year, he was drafted by the Dallas Texans and after playing one season, began a coaching career in the Baltimore school system at City College H.S. Over a span of 15 years, Young's teams won six Maryland State championships, and at one time had an overall 60-11-2 record while winning those State championships. Additionally, Young was an educator while coaching in Baltimore, teaching History and Political Science. While teaching in Baltimore, Young earned two Master's degrees from Johns Hopkins University and Loyola College. George and his wife, Kathryn, reside in Upper Saddle River, N.J.

BILL PARCELLS

Head Coach

1st Year

Bill Parcells became the 12th Head Coach in New York Giants' history on December 15th of last season, with the announcement by Vice-President and General Manager George Young on the same day that Ray Perkins resigned the position to accept the coaching job at Alabama. Born in Englewood, N.J. on August 22, 1941, Parcells played his scholastic football at River Dell H.S. in Oradell, N.J., then went on to Wichita State University where he was an All-Missouri Valley Conference selection twice as a linebacker. In one game vs. Tulsa University, Bill had 20 solo tackles and six QB sacks, and also played in the Sun Bowl, Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl games. He was drafted No. 7 by the Detroit Lions, but opted for an immediate start in the coaching field by accepting a job at Hastings College in Nebraska. A year later, he returned to Wichita State as an assistant defensive coach, then moved on to West Point where he was an assistant coach for Army for three seasons. He then made subsequent stops as a defensive coordinator for Florida State (three years), Vanderbilt (two seasons) and Texas Tech (three seasons) and was then named Head Coach at the Air Force Academy in 1978. Parcells then accepted a defensive job with the Giants in early 1979, but resigned for personal reasons to enter private business. Then in 1980, he joined the New England Patriots as linebacker's coach, and in 1981 returned to the Giants as defensive coordinator. His presence created almost instant improvement. From a 4-12 record in 1980 when the club allowed 425 points to the opposition, Parcells installed the 3-4 defense, revamped the secondary and produced a defensive team which finished the year ranked No. 3 in the entire NFL after being No. 25 for the previous season, reducing the points allowed total from the previously mentioned 425 down to 257. The unit also led the entire NFL in two key categories—lowest average-per-rush (3.4) allowed and lowest average-per-play (4.2) allowed. The Giants finished 9-7, made the playoffs for the first time since 1963, upended Philadelphia in the playoffs with more tough defense before bowing to the eventual Super Bowl champion 49ers. A Giants' fan all of his life while growing up in New Jersey, the 6-3, 220-pound Parcells and his wife, Judy, have three daughters—Suzy, Jill and Dallas—and live in Upper Saddle River, N.J.

TERRY BLEDSOE

Assistant General Manager

After five years as Assistant Executive Director of the NFL Management Council, Bledsoe joined the Giants as Assistant Director of Operations in June 1978, and brought with him an extensive background in labor and player relations. Before joining the Management Council, the 48-year-old Bledsoe was a sportswriter and columnist for the Milwaukee Journal for 11 years, with his principal coverage centering on the Green Bay Packers from 1962-73 and on Marquette University 1962-68. ## 12 SCOTT BRUNNER

Quarterback Delaware 3/24/57
6-5 200 D-6 '80 3rd Year

PRO: When Phil Simms went down with knee surgery during the pre-season, Scott stepped in once again in 1982 and played the entire season at QB, having his best individual season. He completed 161 passes for 2,017 yards in the nine-game campaign, throwing for 10 TDs and coming up with his first two 300-yard passing days, the first vs. Atlanta when he completed 25-of-41, and the second vs. St. Louis when he was 29-for-51 without an interception. At one stretch during the year, Scott had a string of 155 pass attempts without an interception. All of this was a case of déjà vu for Brunner who had stepped in as Simms' replacement in 1981 when Phil went down with a shoulder injury and led the club to a 4-1 record down the homestretch to gain the playoffs. Then in those 1981 playoffs, Brunner fired three TD passes to lead the Giants to an upset 27-21 victory over Philadelphia, and added three more TD throws and 290 yards passing in the divisional championship game against San Francisco. As a rookie, Brunner appeared in six games, and in his first NFL start against the Seahawks in Seattle fired a pair of TD passes enroute to a 27-21 triumph. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 9.

COLLEGE: While Scott earned three letters at Delaware, his one big year was his senior season when he won Kodak All-American honors in Division II. After being the backup QB to Jeff Komlo for those two earlier years, Scott led Delaware to a 13-1 record in his final year, completing 134 of 268 passes for 2,401 yards and 24 TD passes. Those 24 TD throws set an alltime Delaware one-season record, as did his five TD throws in one game.

PERSONAL: Scott Lee Brunner was born on March 24, 1957 in Sellersville, Pa., and played his scholastic sports at both Henderson H.S. in West Chester, Pa., and at Lawrenceville H.S. in New Jersey. He played both Little League baseball and participated in Punt, Pass & Kick in football as a youngster. An Accounting major in college, Scott was married in the spring of 1981. His father, John Brunner, is the offensive backfield coach with the Green Bay Packers.

6-1 230 T '81 (Houston) 6th Year

PRO: One of the Giants' biggest trades ever brought Carpenter from the Houston Oilers in exchange for a 3rd round draft choice in September of 1981. Carpenter's debut as a Giant came against the St. Louis Cardinals and he responded with 103 yards rushing (all in the second half) to spearhead a 34-14 victory. Thereafter, Carpenter added three more 100-yard efforts in the regular season, then a smashing 161-yard effort in the playoff victory over the Eagles. Playing in just 10 regular season games, Rob finished with 748 yards rushing, then added 222 more yards in the two playoff games, and in each of his five 100-yard rushing games, the Giants were victorious, including the aforementioned wins over St. Louis and Philadelphia, plus 116 yards vs. Seattle, 111 in the regular season win over the Eagles, and 117 in the second outing against the Cardinals. He averaged 123.4 yards-per-game that senior year and was a first-team NAIA All-American selection. Despite the small school background, Cliff was selected to play in both the Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl games after his senior season, rushing for 61 yards in the former game, then scoring a TD for the North in that team's 23-10 Senior Bowl victory. In his junior year, he had led Central State to the finals of the NAIA playoffs where, despite a 20-14 loss to Texas A&I, Cliff rushed for 135 yards.

Bill proved to be a highly valuable addition, taking over as the starting strong safety early in the season, then playing solidly throughout the rest of the year and in the playoffs. Finished with 82 tackles (56 solo, 26 assists) and added three pass interceptions, a QB sack and a fumble recovery. Came up with another interception on Joe Montana in the playoff game in San Francisco, and supplied excellent coverage and tackling all season long. This past season, Currier again won the starting strong safety job, and was an ironman all season long, finishing with 42 tackles, including a pair of QB sacks vs. St. Louis and his seventh career interception. He also continued to be a solid hitter in that secondary, which has continued to improve over the past several seasons. Originally a 9th round draft choice of the Houston Oilers in 1977, Currier was a two-year starter at safety for the Oilers, winning All-NFL Rookie honors in his first campaign and getting three interceptions in his two starting campaigns. After playing in all 44 games in three years with Houston, he was released in 1980 and was signed as a FA by the Patriots where he was a research DB and returned six kickoffs for 98 yards and a 16.3 average. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 9.

COLLEGE: Currier was a three-year starter at safety for South Carolina, winning All-South Independent honors in his senior year. He was the Gamecocks' MVP that year also and was defensive captain as well. Selected to play in the Blue-Gray game after his final year, Bill made Dean's List several times and earned a degree of B.S. in Education.

9th Year

PRO: The Giants' kicker since 1976, Joe holds a half-dozen club records, yet had his production fall off somewhat in '82 when he hit on only 12-of-21 FG attempts, and was but 2-of-9 from beyond the 40, a range he usually is highly proficient from. Danelo had the best season of his NFL career in 1981, finishing with 103 points—his personal career high—and also setting three alltime Giants' club records in the process. First, he booted the longest FG in club history, a 55-yarder vs. New Orleans on Sept. 20, then he hit an alltime club record six FGs in one game (without a miss) vs. Seattle on October 18, 1981. Additionally, Joe had three more 50-yarders in '81, giving him a career total of nine FGs of 50 or more yards—the only kicker in club history to have more than one from that distance. Originally a 10th round draft choice of Miami in 1975, Danelo was released that year by the Dolphins and signed by Green Bay where he was the regular placekicker that season. He was traded to the Giants for a 7th round pick in 1976, and has been the Giants' toeman ever since. Has had any number of clutch game-winning FGs in his career, and had a pair of game-winners in 1981, a 40-yarder in the rain for a 27-24 overtime win over Atlanta, and the 35-yarder into the wind which beat Dallas 13-10 in overtime in the season finale. GAMES PLAYED: 9.

COLLEGE: Joe was a three-year letterman as the kicker for Washington State, leading the club in scoring in all three seasons and setting alltime college records for field goals. He was selected for the All-America Bowl game in Tampa after his senior year, and also won two varsity letters in soccer.

PERSONAL: Joseph Peter Danelo was born on September 2, 1953 at Fairchild Air Force base in Spokane, Wash., and was a soccer and football ace at Gonzaga Prep in Spokane. He's married to the former Emily Martinez of Hollywood, Calif., is an expert cabinet-maker during the off-seasons and plays the concertina for his principal hobby.

4th Year

PRO: After being the club's leader in interceptions with five as a rookie in 1980, Mike has turned his talents to special teams' play for the past two seasons and as the extra back in the nickel defense. He came up with any number of key tackles on kick coverages during the season, and continued to be a hitter when used as the extra defensive back in situation defenses.

Scored a key touchdown in the upset win over Atlanta in 1981 when he outraced the field to recover a blocked punt in the Falcon end zone, and also made a big play in the playoff victory over the Eagles when he blasted Philly return man Wally Henry loose from the ball, causing a fumble which was recovered for a TD in the end zone by Mark Haynes. Signed as a FA by the Giants in 1980, Mike played with gusto in the pre-season, getting interceptions vs. Pittsburgh and Denver, then won a starting corner job in that regular season and had those five interceptions to lead the club, while also contributing 73 tackles during the year. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: Dennis began his career at Pasadena City College as a teammate of DB Danny Pittman, then moved on to Wyoming with Pittman for his final two seasons of competition. He won two varsity letters at Wyoming and in his senior season, playing free safety, was named to the All-WAC first-team and to the All-American honorable mention list.

FA '82

2nd Year

PRO: Inked as a free agent after the 1982 draft, Eddings made an instant impression in a subsequent mini-camp by clocking a 4.36 in the 40, then continued to impress the coaching staff in training camp and during pre-season action, especially in a game vs. the Steelers when he made a pair of long-distance grabs. Floyd then suffered an eye contusion the following week and went on Injured Reserve. He was activated on December 11 after the end of the players' strike and in his NFL debut against the Philadelphia Eagles grabbed five catches for 148 yards in a 23-7 Giants' romp. He followed that up with solid work in the final three games of the season and finished with 14 receptions for 275 yards and a 19.6 average in the four games in which he appeared. Also came up with a 16-yard gain on an end-around play vs. the Eagles in the season finale.

GAMES PLAYED: 4, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: Floyd won four varsity letters in football at Cal and three more in varsity track, and while he had some spectacular days as a wide receiver in college, was passed over in the draft because of a history of nagging injuries and Cal's switch to a run-oriented offense in his senior year. Eddings was team captain in his senior year as well as team MVP, and in the season opener vs. A&M caught three TD passes in the first half. He clocked 10.4 in the 100 meters in college and 20.9 in the 200 meters, and also had a long jump pf 26'2".

PERSONAL: Floyd Eddings Jr. was born on December 15, 1958 in Birmingham, Ala., and was a standout scholastic football and track star at Phillips H.S. and Ganesna H.S. in Birmingham. In his senior year, he was the Alabama State decathlon champion.

He suffered a concussion in a pre-season bout with Baltimore and was on Injured Reserve the rest of the year. In 1981, he started the first two games of the regular season at strong safety, then was a key member of the special teams the rest of the season. Had an interception in the victory over Seattle and also added a fumble recovery. Finished the year as one of the leading tacklers on special teams with 25 (16 soloe, 9 assists), and was the starting free safety in the playoff game vs. San Francisco when Beasley Reece was injured. This past season, he was again a special teams' player and had a blocked punt vs. Pittsburgh in a pre-season game. GAMES PLAYED: 6, STARTED, 0.

In that capacity, Foote proved to be a good coverage player, showing 15 tackles on punt cover-

EARNEST GRAY

Wide Receiver Memphis State 3/2/57

6-3 195 D-2 '79 5th Year

PRO: The Giants' second-round pick in 1979, Earnest has developed into an extremely smooth and capable receiver who has the ability to make the big play. As a rookie in 1979, Gray gave a hint of things to come when he had eight catches for 169 yards and two touchdowns in a victory over the San Francisco 49ers. He finished that rookie season with 28 catches for a 19.2 average and four TDs and made the All-NFL Rookie team. Earnest then blossomed in his second season, grabbing 52 catches for 777 yards and 10 touchdowns and set an alltime Giants' club record by catching four TD passes in one game in a victory over St. Louis. That same season he had three TD grabs in a win over Green Bay, and his 52 catches for the season were the most by a Giants' wide receiver since 1963 when Del Shofner caught 64. Gray's totals fell off during the 1981 campaign, but he played strongly down the stretch as the Giants gained the playoffs, and had three catches for 118 yards, including a career-long 72-yard TD in the divisional championship game vs. San Francisco. Gray continued to be productive last season, adding 25 catches in the abbreviated 9-game season, with four TD grabs, and that included a pair of TD catches in the opener vs. Atlanta. Now just reaching his prime, Earnest could be ready for another big season. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 9.

COLLEGE: Earnest had an outstanding career at Memphis State, winning All-American honors as he had career totals of 97 receptions for 2,123 yards, 17 touchdowns and a 21.9 average-per-catch mark. Named to both the Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine games, he broke a 27-year-old NCAA record in his junior year when he averaged 29.5 per catch. He also holds the Memphis State alltime record for longest TD reception, 94 yards.

PERSONAL: Earnest Gray was born in Greenwood, Miss. on March 2, 1957 where he excelled in football, basketball and track at Greenwood H.S., winning the State championships in the hurdles in his senior year. PRO: Signed as a FA by Giants in 1981 after Curtis McGriff was injured. Dee was rostered for final two regular season games and the two play-off games and made brief appearances in playoff game vs. San Francisco. This past season, Dee saw extensive action at DE in a reserve role, and also had one start at the right DE slot during the absence of Gary Jeter. Originally a No. 2 draft pick of the Buffalo Bills, Hardison made All-NFL Rookie honors that year and started 15 of 16 games with the Bills at DT, finishing with 81 tackles and 4½ QB sacks. In three seasons with the Bills, Dee played in all 48 regular season games, before being released last August after being switched to offensive tackle with Buffalo. GAMES PLAYED: 6, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: A two-time All-Atlantic Coast defensive lineman, Hardison was an honorable mention All-American as a junior, then made first-team All-American in his senior year from the AP. Also lettered in wrestling at North Carolina in the heavyweight division, despite the fact he had not wrestled in high school.

36*MARK HAYNES*Cornerback Colorado 11/6/58*5-11 185 D-1 '80 4th Year

PRO: Giants' No. 1 pick in 1980, Haynes had a superb year in 1982, winning All-NFL honors for the second year in a row, and winning a starting berth in the Pro Bowl. Along the way in the nine-game season, he led the secondary in tackles with 50 and had his only interception in the opener vs. Atlanta, which discouraged opponents from throwing into his coverage thereafter. One of the big success stories in the NFL in 1981, Mark had as good a season as any cornerback in the league. After losing valuable time in his rookie year due to nagging injuries and position adjustment, he found a home on the left corner at the start of the 1981 training camp, then started every game thereafter, winning All-NFL first-team honors from Pro Football weekly, NEA and Sports Illustrated and second-team honors from the UPI. He was also named Comeback Player of the Year by College & Pro Football Newsweekly, and he deserved all of those honors... and more. He finished the year with 91 tackles (69 solo, 22 assists) to lead the secondary, and his coverage was superlative. He had only one interception, a sure sign that opposing teams didn't throw often in his direction. He added a fumble recovery, then scored a TD in the playoff victory over the Eagles when he recovered a fumbled kickoff in the end zone. As a rookie No. 1 draft pick, Mark had an eye injury in training camp which set him back.

then took time to adjust to the right corner post. He finally found his home at the LC when Terry Jackson was injured, and played better in the final stages of that rookie year, finishing with one interception, 57 tackles and a pair of kickoff returns for 40 yards.
GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 9.

COLLEGE: Mark was a unanimous All-American choice at Colorado in his senior season, and was an All-Big 8 selection twice. He won four varsity letters as both a cornerback and safety, concluding his career with 256 tackles, eight fumble recoveries, five interceptions and three blocked kicks. He had a 97-yard interception for a TD vs. Army in 1977 and had 18 tackles in one game vs. Iowa State that same season. Co-captain in his senior year, he was selected to play in both the Hula and Senior Bowl games.

PERSONAL: Mark Haynes was born in Kansas City, Mo., on November 6, 1958 and was a legendary scholastic star at Harmon H.S. there where he earned seven letters in football, basketball and track and set a school record as a running back with 1,380 yards rushing and 19 TDs in one season.

PRO: After missing all of the 1981 season with an injury, Heater saw action in all nine games last season as a reserve RB and special teams' player, getting 13 yards rushing, two pass receptions for 15 yards and five kickoff returns for 84 yards. He also had eight tackles on kick coverage teams. He suffered a dislocated thumb in the pre-season training camp in 1981, was placed on injured reserve and sat out the entire season. Larry was a sixth round pick of the Kansas City Chiefs in 1980, was released late in training camp and signed by the Giants just prior to the start of the regular season. By season's end, he had appeared in 14 games, four as a starter, and responded with 360 yards rushing and three touchdowns on 111 carries—the second leading total on the club—added 10 receptions for 139 yards and five KOR for another 103 yards and a 20.6 average. Heater was the leading rusher for the Giants four times during the season, vs. Washington, Los Angeles, Dallas and Green Bay, with his best day coming against the Packers when he had 75 yards. The following year he went down with a knee injury and was out for the entire season, and subsequently released in 1980. When he came to the Giants, Ernie was shifted to a new position—center—and worked hard at learning the trade in the off-season program and during training camp. He turned out to be a quick learner and was the starting center on opening day and for the next 10 games until he suffered another knee injury, late in the second Green Bay game, and was out for the rest of the year. Last year, Hughes started at center for the first two games of the season, then was used in a reserve role thereafter. GAMES PLAYED: 7, STARTED: 2.

57*BYRON HUNT*Linebacker*S.M.U.*12/17/58*6-5*230*D-9 '81*3rd Year

PRO: A 9th round draft choice in 1981, Byron proved to be a potent addition to the club. He showed vast potential during pre-season camp, then won a spot on the club with solid performance in the pre-season games. By season's end, he had played in all 16 regular season games, and stepped in as a starter at OLB when veteran Brad Van Pelt went down with a groin injury. As a starter for the final three regular season games and the two playoff appearances, Hunt excelled. He was in on two QB sacks in the final two games, then made the key interception in overtime against Dallas which set up the game-winning FG. He added another QB sack in the playoffs and had 12 tackles in the playoffs. During the regular season, Byron had 40 tackles as an OLB (20 solo, 20 assists), and added another 27 tackles on special teams' play (16 and 11). He also came up with a blocked punt vs. Washington on September 13. Had his two top regular season games vs. 49ers and Rams with 11 and 10 tackles respectively. Last season, back in a reserve role, Hunt was again a valuable player, registering 19 tackles and two QB sacks when he saw action. Figures to see more service in '83 and has the potential to become a top OLB. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: A defensive end at SMU, Hunt won four letters and was an All-Southwest Conference choice and an honorable mention All-American in his senior year. All told, he had 222 tackles in his career, six QB sacks and four interceptions, two of which he returned for TDs. Also blocked a punt and returned it for a TD. Played in Japan Bowl after his senior year.

PERSONAL: Byron Ray Hunt was born on December 17, 1958 in Longview, Tex., and has seven brothers and sisters. His oldest brother, Sam Hunt, was a standout defensive lineman with New England. 24*TERRY JACKSON*Cornerback*San Diego St.*12/9/55*5-10*197*D-5 '78*6th Year

PRO: Veteran cornerback had another solid season in '82, leading the club in interceptions with four for 75 yards, including a pair of thefts in the 23-7 rout of Philadelphia. Despite missing one game with a knee injury, Terry also had a QB sack, 37 total tackles and two forced fumbles during the year, and continued his strong overall play on the right corner. After missing half of the 1980 season with a dislocated shoulder, Terry came back in 1981 starting all 16 regular season games and both playoff outings at the right corner, and had himself a highly productive campaign. He finished with 63 tackles (47 sols, 16 assists) in the regular season and had three more interceptions, one of which he returned 32 yards for a TD which inched the 20-10 victory over Philadelphia. That was Terry's third career touchdown, two via interceptions and the other on a blocked punt return. He also added a pair of punt returns for 22 yards, and in general had himself a solid all-around year. As a rookie in 1978, "T.J." had one of the best debuts a DB could have in his first NFL game, returning an interception 32 yards for a TD vs. Tampa Bay on his very first defensive play as a Giant. He went on to lead the club with seven interceptions that year and made the All-NFL Rookie team. In 1979, he shared the club lead with three interceptions and finished as an alternate DB in the Pro Bowl balloting that year. Scored his second career TD in '79 when he returned a blocked punt 47 yards for a score vs. Atlanta. GAMES PLAYED: 8, STARTED: 8.

COLLEGE: Jackson was a three-year starter as a safety at San Diego State, earning All-West Coast honors in his senior year when he had six interceptions. His three-year interception total was 11, and after his final year, he was selected to play in the East-West Shrine game.

PRO: There aren't many alltime club punting records that Jennings hasn't set during his outstanding career with the Giants, all of which makes his original signing as a free agent one of the greatest bargain acquisitions in club history. Since being signed by the Giants in 1974 after he had been cut by the Houston Oilers, Jennings has now become the club's alltime leader in most punts (757); most punting yardage (31,808); most punts, season (104); highest average one game (55.3); and most yardage, season (4,445); not to mention leading the NFL in punting in 1980 with a 44.8 mark. He's second in lifetime punting average with a 42.0 mark, and second for longest punt with a 73-yarder. He's also played in 133 consecutive games and has not had a punt blocked since 1976. Along the way, he's been All-NFL Rookie team, 1974; second-team All-NFC, 1976; first-team All-NFC and second team All-NFL, 1978; and first-team All-NFL and All-NFC in both 1979 and 1980. Dave's also been a Pro Bowl choice four times, and this past season was All-NFL and Pro Bowl again. He's also 3-for-3 in passing attempts, has rushed three times for 11 yards and caught one pass. GAMES PLAYED: 9.

COLLEGE: Jennings won two varsity letters in basketball at St. Lawrence, and also won the school's punting job as a walk-on, proceeding to win All-Conference honors three times thereafter, while earning a BA degree in Economics.

PERSONAL: David Tuthill Jennings was born in New York City on June 8, 1952 and played his sports at Garden City H.S., L.I. A third-cousin of Red Sox catcher Carlton Fisk, Jennings is a big Red Sox and Boston Celtics' fan. He's also an up and coming sportscaster, having done a daily radio show on WNHC in New Haven and with WNAB in Bridgeport, as well as guest spots on WNEW in New York, and on college basketball on television. A bachelor, he resides in Upper Saddle River, N.J. His father, Manson, is a former president of Southern Connecticut State College.

55*Linebacker*6-3*22*BRIAN KELLEY*Calif. Lutheran*9/1/51*D-14 '73*11th Year

PRO: Like vintage wine, Kelley seems to get better with age. The veteran inside backer started and played throughout all nine games this past season as the defensive signal-caller and "coach on the field," and responded with 83 tackles, three pass interceptions and two forced fumbles. Had perhaps his best individual effort in the heart-wrenching

15-14 loss to the Super Bowl champion Redskins when he had 17 tackles, two interceptions and two pass deflections. An ironman type player, Kelley has missed only two regular season games in nine of his 10 seasons although he was out almost all of 1980 with a knee injury. After missing virtually the entire 1980 season with knee injuries, the veteran bounced back in '81 to have perhaps his best season ever. The defensive signal-caller on the field, Kelley amassed 186 tackles (106-80)—the highest one-season total in his career—and added two interceptions for 42 yards. Kelley also came up with a pair of key fumble recoveries, and had particularly big days against the Packers and 49ers with 16 and 14 tackles respectively. He had 12 tackles in the upset win over Atlanta, and 10 tackles and a key interception in the 34-14 win over St. Louis. A starter since his rookie year, Brian at one time or another started at all three LB positions, and led the club in tackles for three consecutive seasons (1974-76). A former club representative on the United Way public service commercials, Kelley was also named "Most Popular Giant" by the CYO organization in 1977, and was the March of Dimes' Man of the Year in 1982. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 9.

COLLEGE: Kelley was one of the finest all-around athletes in California Lutheran history. He won four varsity letters in football, three in wrestling and three in rugby. He was both NAIA and AP Little All-American in football his senior year. Team MVP twice and the MVP in the National Championship NAIA game in 1972. In wrestling, he was the district heavyweight champion, and in rugby played on the U.S. College All-Star team. His 16 career pass interceptions was a college record at Cal Lutheran.

PERSONAL: Brian Lee Kelley was born on September 1, 1951 in Dallas, Tex., grew up in California and was an all-around star at Sunny Hills H.S. in Fullerton. He also worked summers for the Dallas Cowboys in their training camp at Thousand Oaks. He has two uncles, Jim and John Powell, who are golf professionals.

PRO: Kimball suffered tough luck in '82 after winning the starting RG job during the pre-season with some fine efforts. Then, in the season opener vs. Atlanta, he broke his leg on the first play of the game and was out for the rest of the season! Tough and strong guard was signed as a FA by the Giants after he had spent two seasons as a starter for the Toronto Argonauts in the CFL. He had shown great promise during the Giants' training camp, then suffered torn ligaments in his knee during a 1981 squad scrimmage, underwent surgery and was out for the rest of the year on Injured Reserve. He has rehabilitated extremely well and was a member of the off-season workout program. One of the strongest players on the squad with a bench press in excess of 500 pounds. GAMES PLAYED: 1, STARTED 1.

COLLEGE: Kimball won four varsity letters as a guard at Massachusetts, then went with the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1979. Released by Pittsburgh, he went up to Canada to play those two campaigns with Toronto.

6th Year

PRO: While King's five-year career with the Giants had been checkered by a rash of unfortunate injuries, he has had topnotch years in 1981 and 1982, avoiding the injury jinx to start and play in all 25 regular season games and both playoffs. Down the 1981 homestretch, King played superbly, grading out at 100% over the final four games of the year when the Giants were in a "must-win" situation vs. Los Angeles, St. Louis, Dallas. This past year, he was also elected the offensive captain. Gordon won the starting job at RT in 1980, but was injured midway through the season and sat out a month. He bounced back, however, and reclaimed his starting position through the final six weeks of the season and turned in a strong performance throughout. As the club's top draft pick in 1978, King was initially used as a guard in his rookie pre-season period, but eventually was moved to LT where he was chiefly a reserve, although he did start several games at that spot before suffering a severe ankle injury which shelved him for the remainder of that year. In 1979, he won the starting LT job in the pre-season, then dislocated an elbow two days before the regular season opener and was out of action for eight weeks.

GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 9.

COLLEGE: King was a powerhouse tackle at Stanford for three seasons, all as a starter, and was a first-team All-American his senior year by both NEA and the Sporting News, as well as a second-team All-American by UPI. He was twice a first-team All-Pac 8 choice and was named MVP at Stanford in his senior year. President of his fraternity at Stanford, Gordon majored in Communications, played in the 1977 Sun Bowl game, and was selected for both the Senior Bowl and Challenge Bowl game after his senior year.

PERSONAL: Gordon David King was born in Madison, Wisc., on February 3, 1956, but grew up in California where he was an outstanding student and athlete at Bella Vista H.S. in Fair Oaks, Calif., and was one of the most widely recruited high school football players in the country. A movie buff and master of trivia, he's an avid reader of fiction and classics. Gordon is married and lives in Park Ridge, N.J.

51*Linebacker*6-3*228*FRANK MARION*Florida A&M*3/16/51*FA '76*7th Year

PRO: All-purpose LB has been a valuable member of the club during his six seasons. This past year, he was in all nine games as special teams' captain, had 10 tackles on kick coverages, forced a pair of fumbles, was in on a QB sack and had his second blocked punt in as many years—this one vs. the Redskins. In 1981, he played in all 16 regular season games and both playoff games and had 29 stops on coverages, as well as the blocked punt vs. Atlanta which resulted in a TD. Marion was originally signed as a free agent by the Giants in 1976 after playing with Memphis in the WFL. He was released by the Giants in '76, then re-signed for the 1977 season. He played in three games that year, then was injured and missed the remainder of that campaign. In 1978, he appeared in all 16 games, mostly with special team units, but he was a starter twice in place of an injured Brad Van Pelt—the season opener vs. Tampa Bay and the San Francisco game—and responded with 9 and 10 tackles respectively in those two games. Also had a fumble recovery against the 49ers. In 1979, Marion was again one of the leaders of the special teams' units, playing in all 16 games and leading the club in tackles covering kickoffs and punts. All told, he's had four career fumble recoveries for nine yards returned; two kickoff returns for 26 yards and an interception for 12 yards.

GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Frank lettered for four seasons at Florida A & M as a defensive end, and was selected as Defensive MVP in three of those four seasons. He was also selected as Player of the Week twice in conference plays.

PERSONAL: Frank N. Marion II was born on March 16, 1951 in Mount Brook, Fla., and played his high school sports at both Lincoln H.S. and Gainesville H.S. He lists tennis and fishing as his favorite hobbies, is married to the former Patricia Summers and has a son, Frank III, 5.

75*Defensive End*6-4*245*GEORGE MARTIN*Oregon*2/16/53*D-11'75*9th Year

PRO: Veteran defensive end not only has been a versatile and dependable player during his career with the Giants, but has the added dimension of being a veritable scoring machine from the defensive side. In 1981, Martin set an alltime Giants' club record by returning two fumble recoveries for touchdowns, and that brace of TDs upped his career mark to five touchdowns. He even had one in a pre-season game in 1976 on an interception return vs. Green Bay. George's scoring jaunts in '81 included an 8-yard return in the 17-7 win over the Redskins and a 20-yard return in the 20-10 victory over the Cardinals. His other scoring feats included a 30-yard interception return vs. Washington in 1977, an 11-yard run with a lateral after a blocked FG vs. Atlanta in 1978, and a 4-yard TD pass from Phil Simms vs. Dallas in 1980 when George lined up as a TE. In addition to that scoring, Martin had 80 tackles in 1981 on 44 solos, 36 assists, and added 11 QB sacks—then in last season's 9-game season, added 28 tackles and came up with six QB sacks which gives him a total of 46 QB sacks in the past five years. A starter ever since his rookie season, Martin has been a four-time winner of the Byron "Whizzer" White award for team contribution as voted by his teammates, was elected defensive captain in 1981, and was the club's representative in 1979 on the United Way public service television commercial. In eight years, he's missed only four games, all four in 1977 when he had knee problems late in the season. His career stats include 10 fumble recoveries for 28 yards and two TDs; one interception for 30 yards and one TD; one pass reception for four yards and one TD; and one lateral return for 11 yards and one TD. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED 1.

COLLEGE: Martin was an Art Education major at Oregon, where he won three varsity letters in football as both a tight end and defensive end, and two varsity letters in basketball as a teammate of NBA star Lonnie Shelton. He had 83 tackles in his senior season, including big days against Michigan and Northwestern. In high school, Martin was Student Body president and was named to the Outstanding Teenagers in America listing.

PERSONAL: George Dwight Martin was born on February 16, 1953 in Greenville, S.C., but grew up in California where he was an All-American in basketball and All-State in football at Armijo H.S. in Fairfield, Calif. George and his wife, Diane, have four children—a daughter, Teresa Michelle, and three sons, George Dwight II, Benjamin Dean, and Aaron. George's younger brother, Doug, was a standout defensive end at the University of Washington and was the No. 1 draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings in 1980.

Matthews saw extensive action in the first two pre-season games at inside linebacker, then tore up a knee vs. the Pittsburgh Steelers, underwent arthroscopic surgery and spent the rest of the season on the injured reserve list. Originally a 5th round pick of the Patriots, Matthews was a regular special teams' player in 1979 and 1980 with Pats, then won a starting job at ILB in 1981 and was New England's third leading tackler with 128 (75-53) with big days vs. the Steelers and Dolphins when he had 14 tackles against each of those opponents. Also had one pass interception that year vs. Buffalo. In his three full seasons with Pats, Matthews did not miss a game in 48 appearances. GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0.

He continued in that role during the regular season as one of the leading tacklers on the special teams, then suffered a shoulder injury vs. the Washington Redskins and missed the final six games of the season. Originally a 10th round draft choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1981, Mike was released by the Steelers then played for Toronto in the CFL later in that season. Fully recovered now from his shoulder injury, he took part in the off-season workout program. GAMES PLAYED: 3, STARTED: 0.

PERSONAL: Michael F. Mayock Jr. was born on August 14, 1958 in Philadelphia, and was a scholastic star at The Haverford School in Haverford, Pa. PRO: A training camp "find" as a FA in 1980, Curtis made the club as the starting nose tackle that year and despite missing the final three games of the year with an injury made the All-NFL Rookie team. In 1981, the big man was switched to a DE position and became a starter there as well because of his strength and ability against the run. He played extremely well throughout the season at DE until the injury jinx hit him again and he went down for the final two games of the regular season and both playoffs because of knee surgery. During the year, he had 110 tackles (59-51) and his strength against the run (along with the rest of the defense) resulted in only one opposing runner (Wilbert Montgomery of the Eagles) managing to rush for 100 yards vs. the Giants all season long...and Montgomery had just 102 in 25 attempts. In 1982, Curtis won the starting job at LDE again, and continued to be a force vs. the run, finishing as the leading tackler on the front three with 42 stops (21-21). As a rookie at that NT position, McGriff was in on 52 tackles (32-20). GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 8.

COLLEGE: McGriff was on the varsity squad for four seasons under coach Bear Bryant, and won three varsity letters for the Crimson Tide as a defensive tackle. He was a part of that unit which made the big, and successful, goal line stand against Penn State in the 1979 Sugar Bowl.

PERSONAL: Curtis McGriff was born in Donaldsonville, Ga., on May 17, 1958, but grew up in Alabama where he played his scholastic sports at Cottonwood H.S. in Cottonwood, Ala. He currently makes his off-season home in Gordon, Ala.

His next stop was Buffalo, and when the Bills released him, he was re-signed by the Giants in November of 1980 and played in eight games, three as a starter when regular LBs were injured. In 1981, McLaughlin was a leader of the special teams' units, playing in all 16 regular season games and in both of the playoffs. He was the leading tackler on the special teams with 39 tackles (28-11), and also saw action at ILB in the 49er playoff game and had four tackles. Also returned two kickoffs in '81 for 9 yards after returning two for 27 yards in 1980. In 1982, Joe continued to be a leader on the specials, appearing in eight games and adding another kickoff return for 14 yards. Made a big play in the 27-24 overtime win over Atlanta in 1981 when he took out two Falcons with one block to insure a Giant recovery of a blocked punt for a touchdown. GAMES PLAYED: 8, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: McLaughlin won four letters at Massachusetts as a linebacker and along the way won Division II All-American honors, as well as All-New England and All-Yankee Conference first-team designations. Team captain as a senior, he was the MVP in the Pioneer Bowl his senior year.

85*JOHN MISTLER*Wide Receiver*Arizona State*10/28/58*6-2*186*D-3'81*3rd Year

PRO: Sure-handed receiver played in all nine games last season to give him a string of 25 consecutive appearances in his two years with the club. Used primarily as a reserve, John had 18 receptions for 191 yards, with his best day coming vs. St. Louis when he had five catches for 68 yards and a pair of TD receptions. Mistler enjoyed a highly productive rookie season as a reserve wide receiver, making any number of clutch catches when used in key situations. Perhaps the biggest one came in the overtime victory over Dallas when he grabbed a 22-yarder on a fourth down and 13 situation with just 1:44 to play in regulation to position the game-knotting FG to send the contest into overtime, the eventual victory and the playoffs. All told, Mistler had just eight catches for 119 yards and a 14.9 average during the season, but in every situation, his catches were big ones. He had three for 36 yards in that 13-10 overtime victory over the Cowboys, and each catch was a big one. Blessed with great moves, Mistler got the nickname "polygrip" from veterans during his first mini-camp with the Giants. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: Mistler won three varsity letters at Arizona State, and was the PAC 10's leading receiver in his senior year with 53 catches for 673 yards and 11 TDs. His career totals showed 113 catches for 1,533 yards and 21 TDs and he won All-Pac 10 honors his senior year and honorable mention All-American, while also being named to play in the East-West Shrine game. He was also Arizona State's MVP in his senior year, and majored in General Business at ASU.

PERSONAL: John Andrew Mistler was born on October 28, 1958 in Columbia, Mo., and played his scholastic sports at Sahuaro H.S. in Tucson, Ariz., where he was a high school All-American wide receiver. He's married to the former Anne Weisel and lives in Cranbury, N.J. during the off-seasons.

PRO: After enjoying a solid pre-season in which he was the club's leading rusher in three of those four outings, Joe saw only sporadic duty thereafter in the regular season, but did have several moments which indicated that he has the potential to be a strong situation player in the NFL. Scored a touchdown on his very first regular season NFL rushing attempt with a 3-yard score vs. Green Bay in a Monday Night outing, but finished the season with just 48 yards rushing on 15 attempts. Late in the season, he had five receptions vs. St. Louis, which gave him a total of eight for 34 yards for the season. Still has great speed and strength for his diminutive size and has the ability to make the big plays.

GAMES PLAYED: 5, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Joe set all of the alltime rushing records at Syracuse, erasing the marks of such former greats as Jim Brown, Larry Csonka and Floyd Little by rushing for 4,229 yards in his four seasons. Also set the one-game mark with 252 yards vs. Kansas and had 21 rushing games of 100 or more yards. An All-American choice his senior year, he was selected to play in the Senior Bowl, East-West Shrine and Blue-Gray games.

PERSONAL: Joseph Morris was born in Fort Bragg, N.C. on September 15, 1960 where his dad was a career Army NCO. Joe first played scholastic sports at Southern Pines, N.C., then finished at Ayer H.S. in Ayer, Mass. where he was an All-State star. Signed as a FA by the Giants in 1979, Mullady was originally a 7th round draft choice of the Buffalo Bills that year, but was released by the Bills in August. Since that time, Mullady has played in 43 straight games for the Giants, mostly as a reserve TE, although he has been a starter at the position on occasion. In 1981, his production fell off to 14 catches for 136 yards and a 13.9 average, after he had grabbed 28 for 391 yards in 1980. Mullady had a couple of clutch grabs late in 1981, however, making a one-handed 20-yard touchdown catch in the 13-10 overtime win over Dallas, then coming back the following week to grab a 22-yard touchdown throw in the playoff triumph over Philadelphia. He had a pair of TD receptions in that

'80 season, one each vs. Washington and in a 38-35 upset win over Dallas. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 9.

COLLEGE: Mullady played four varsity seasons at Southwestern, with three of those as a starter. He was an All-Conference choice three times, Conference MVP in 1978 and had his jersey retired after his final season after setting alltime school records for receptions (149); yardage (2,152); and for single game standards of 13 receptions in one game and 267 yards in one game. He had 50 catches in his senior year for 776 yards and nine touchdowns.

PERSONAL: Thomas Francis Mullady was born in Dayton, Ohio on January 30, 1957, and played his high school sports at McCollie School in Chattanooga, Tenn., where his father is a physician. Mullady is of Irish descent and lists all outdoor sports as hobbies.

PRO: Despite missing a couple of games with a knee injury, Neill had another strong year in 1982 at the nose position, registering 23 tackles and a brace of QB sacks. Also lost time in pre-season due to knee injury and had off-season arthroscopic surgery to repair that hinge. One of the keys to the outstanding Giants' defense in 1981 was the work of Neill, a 5th round draft choice, who came to training camp as a defensive end candidate... was switched to nose tackle out of necessity, then went on to start all 16 games in the regular season and both playoff games en route to unanimous All-NFL Rookie honors. Strong and instinctive, Neill quickly became highly proficient at that nose position, even though he had never played there before, and concluded the season with 161 tackles (105-56), added six QB sacks and a fumble recovery and got opposing coaches' ratings as one of the top nose tackles in the NFL. Neill's durability was also a big factor in the overall improvement of the Giants' defense, since the rookie played over 95% of all defensive plays during the year and did his job of tying up blockers so well that the Giants registered 44 sacks during the regular season and six more in the playoffs—the highest club total since 1963. GAMES PLAYED: 7, STARTED: 5.

COLLEGE: A defensive tackle at Pittsburgh, Neill was a starter for three seasons and earned four varsity letters with the Panthers, capping things off in his senior year by winning All-East first-team honors from the AP and Pro Football Weekly and honorable mention All-American as well. He was team captain in his senior year and finished his career with 190 tackles and 11 QB sacks.

PERSONAL: William M. Neill was born on March 15, 1959 in Norristown, Pa., and was an all-around scholastic star at Perkiomen Valley H.S. in Collegeville, Pa., where he was an All-State football player, the State high school heavyweight wrestling champion, and a fifth-place finisher in the State javelin throw in track. Bill and his wife, Debra Jean, now reside in Bloomfield, N.J. in the off-season with son, Ryan, who was born in December of 1982. Bill is pursuing a career as an electrical engineer—his major course of study at Pittsburgh.

PRO: After missing considerable time in both 1979 and 1980 because of hamstring injuries, Johnny has had two outstanding seasons back-to-back. In 1981, he had his career-best year with 51 catches for 858 yards and six TDs, then added seven more for 121 yards and two TDs in the playoffs. Last year, he added 26 for 430 yards and two scores in the abbreviated season, and continued to be a powerful deep threat. A reserve through the early portion of his rookie season in 1977, Perkins became a starter late that season, finishing with 20 catches for 279 yards, then had a strong year in 1978 when he led the club with 32 for 514 yards and three TDs, including a 67-yard scoring grab which clinched a season-opening win over Tampa Bay. His hamstring problems slowed him down considerably in 1979 when he missed a half-dozen games, then a torn hamstring in 1980 shelved him for the final 10 games of that season. Finally recovered in 1981, he had the kind of year that he's always been capable of since he was drafted No. 2 in 1977. GAMES PLAYED: 8, STARTED: 7.

COLLEGE: Johnny began his collegiate career at Ranger Junior College in Texas, then finished at Abilene Christian where he won letters in both football and track, catching 98 passes for 2,190 yards and 18 TDs in his two seasons where he made All-Conference both seasons and was the Conference MVP as well. A punter, he averaged 40.1 for two years, and in track had times of 9.6 in the 100 and 47.8 in the 440 and was a member of the college's championship 440-yard relay team.

PERSONAL: John Eugene Perkins was born in Franklin, Tex., on April 21, 1953 and was a three-sport star at Granbury H.S. Perkins has nine brothers and sisters, lists fishing as his favorite hobby, and still lives in Granbury during the off-seasons.

PRO: Valuable swingman with great versatility. Pittman has played both wide receiver and defensive back with the club since his rookie season, while also doubling as an able kickoff and punt return reserve. As a rookie, he started eight games at WR and finished the year with 25 receptions for 308 yards and a 12.3 average to finish second on the club that campaign. In 1981, he missed eight games with a broken jaw, then switched from WR to defensive back late in the season and saw some action at that position. He also saw some work at returning kickoffs with 10 for 194 yards and had one punt return for 13 yards. Last season, he was again a key man on the special teams and as a reserve WR and return man, showing one pass reception for 22 yards, six punt returns for 40 yards and five kickoff returns for 117 yards. In a pre-season outing vs. the Jets, he had a 55-yard punt return for the clinching TD in a 22-10 victory. GAMES PLAYED: 8, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Pittman began his collegiate career at Pasadena City College, then concluded with two years at Wyoming where he won honorable mention All-American honors, as well as first team All-WAC accolades. His two-year totals at Wyoming showed 56 receptions for 1,100 yards, a 19.6 average-per-catch, and nine TDs, as well as 30 KOR for 604 yards and a 20.1 average. He was named to play in both the East-West Shrine game and Senior Bowl after his final season.

PERSONAL: Danny Ray Pittman was born in Memphis, Tenn., on April 3, 1958 and played his high school sports at John Muir H.S. in Pasadena, Calif., where he was a teammate of CB Mike Dennis, who also played with him at Wyoming. Pittman still makes his home in Pasadena during the off-seasons.

28*Safety*6-1*BEASLEY REECE*No. Texas State*195*FA '77*3/18/54*8th Year

PRO: Veteran safety did not have one of his better campaigns in 1982, possibly because of his duties as the player rep during the long players' strike. At that, he still finished with 50 tackles (29-21) during the season and had his 10th career interception. Also recovered two fumbles for 13 yards returned to give him nine fumble recoveries in past four seasons.

One of the key reasons why the Giants' defense finished 3rd in the NFL in 1981 after being 27th the previous year was the play of Reece at free safety. Previously a strong safety, Beasley was switched over to the FS position at the start of training camp, and turned in his top career season. He led the club in interceptions with four for 82 yards returned; had 87 tackles (54-33); recovered a pair of fumbles, one of which he returned four yards for a TD vs. the Jets; added a kickoff return for 24 yards, and made any number of big plays in the secondary throughout the year. In the playoff victory over the Eagles, he had a key fumble recovery which set up the first TD in that victory, but then injured a knee prior to the 49er game, and sat out that finale. Originally a 9th round draft choice of the Dallas Cowboys, Reece was a reserve WR-DB as a rookie with Dallas, getting one pass reception and one interception, then was released and signed by the Giants as a FA in 1977. Beasley was then plagued by injuries in both 1977 and '78, suffering a broken leg the first year and torn ligaments in the second. He came back, however, and enjoyed strong seasons in 1979-80, getting 117 tackles, three recoveries and an interception in '79, and 94 tackles, three interceptions, a pair of fumble recoveries and 24 kickoff returns for 471 yards in 1980. Also serves as the Giants' Player Representative. GAMES PLAYED: 9. STARTED: 9.

COLLEGE: Reece began his collegiate career as a non-scholarship student at North Texas State, majoring in journalism, then won himself a spot on the varsity as a walk-on product. During his career at NTS, Reece was a cornerback and return specialist and had four interceptions in his final two campaigns, one a 41-yard return which sets up a TD vs. Tennessee.

PERSONAL: Beasley Reece was born in Waco, Tex., on March 18, 1954 and was a sparkling all-around athletic star at Waco H.S. Married, he lives in New Jersey now during the off-seasons, has been in demand as an after-dinner speaker and comes from a football-oriented family since among his cousins are RB Greg Pruitt of the Cleveland Browns and DB Randy Logan of Philadelphia.

Originally a 9th round pick of the Rams in 1979 after a sparkling career at Alabama, Jeff was a reserve QB with the Rams from 1979-81, showing a career total of 44 completions in 86 attempts for 593 yards and four TDs. He had his busiest season in 1981 when he appeared in four games, completing 30-of-50 for 442 yards and three TDs and leading the Rams to victories over Atlanta, Green Bay and Detroit before injuring a thumb on his throwing hand. With the Giants, Jeff was on the active roster for all nine games, but did not see any action. GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Rutledge won four varsity letters at Alabama, was All-SEC twice and graduated with a degree in business education. While performing for Bear Bryant's club, Jeff threw 30 career touchdown passes to break the school record held previously by Joe Namath. Rutledge also played in three Sugar Bowl games and the Liberty Bowl in his four seasons, as well as in the East-West Shrine game and Senior Bowl after his senior year. He was also president of the Student Body at Alabama and was voted the most popular senior.

PERSONAL: Jeffrey Ronald Rutledge was born in Birmingham, Ala. on January 22, 1957 and was a football, basketball and baseball ace at Banks H.S. in his hometown. He saw action in four games late in the season, and in the regular season finale, had a starting job at nose tackle in the absence of the injured Bill Neill. In that outing against the Philadelphia Eagles, Sally played strongly, coming up with four tackles and a QB sack on Ron Jaworski. The week before that, he came up with three stops in a reserve role against the St. Louis Cardinals. GAMES PLAYED: 4, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: Jerome won four varsity letters in football at Missouri as a defensive tackle and nose guard, and while he didn't win any All-Star honors, nonetheless had some big individual game efforts. He had 11 tackles on kick coverages during the season, and also served as the fifth defensive back on occasions. PRO: Since signing as a free agent in 1976 after two years in the World Football League, Shirk has won the designation of "The CO" with the Giants... not for "commanding officer," but for "classic overachiever." Considered "too small and too slow" when he first appeared on the scene, all Shirk has done since that time is play in 101 consecutive games without a miss, catch 130 passes, return kickoffs, contribute to special teams' play, block...you name it, Shirk's done it. He had but six catches for 54 yards in last season's shortened campaign, but in 1981 he had his best season yet, catching a career-high 42 passes for 445 yards and three touchdowns, with his TD grabs coming in the wins over New Orleans and Seattle, and the 26-24 loss to Green Bay. After three seasons as a reserve TE and special teams' man, Shirk won the starting TE job in 1979 and led the club in receiving that year with 31 for 471 yards and two TDs. He also tied an alltime Giants' one-game record in 1981 by catching 11 passes (for 101 yards) vs. New Orleans. A typical Shirk effort came several years ago in a pre-season game vs. New England when Gary was knocked out of bounds going downfield under a kickoff, regained his feet, ran behind the Patriots' bench and back out onto the field, and got in on the tackle of the return man! GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 1.

PERSONAL: Gary Lee Shirk was born in Marysville, Ohio on February 23, 1950, and played his high school sports at Marysville H.S. He and his wife, Linda, still live in Marysville with daughters Angela and Kristin, and son, Jeffrey.

PRO: After playing in 48 straight games (26 as a starter at guard), Simmons retired prior to the 1982 season, but has now decided to resume his career. He took part in the off-season workout program, and seems ready to make a bid to return at guard or tackle. He was a starter at both right and left guard in the 1980 and 1981 seasons, and was also a special teams' player. After a rookie year in which he was used as a reserve and on special teams, he beat out veteran Doug Van Horn in training camp and won the starting job at RG where he turned in a stellar all-season long performance. Nicknamed "Sugar Bear" by his teammates, Simmons is one of the fastest offensive linemen on the squad, despite his bulk, and that quickness has enabled him to improve constantly on pulling to lead sweeps and in his downfield blocking. GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Roy won varsity letters in football at Georgia Tech and was a starter on both offense and defense with the Yellow Jackets. He spent his first two seasons as an offense guard, then switched to the nose tackle on defense in his junior year where he performed nobly. He finished his senior year back on offense.

PERSONAL: Roy Simmons was born in Savannah, Ga., on November 8, 1956 and won letters in both football and track at Beach H.S. in Savannah. Despite his size (240 in high school), he ran on the school's 440-yard relay squad and has done 10 flat in the 100-yard dash. Also was a standout shot-putter and discus thrower. Comes from a family of 11 children, and now resides in East Rutherford, N.J.

Quarterback	Morehead State	11/3/56
6-3	216	D-1'79
		5th Year

PRO: One of the biggest blows suffered by the Giants last year was the loss of Simms with a knee injury during a pre-season game vs. the Jets. After undergoing surgery, he was out for the entire season, making it three years in a row that injuries had plagued the starting QB. He's completely rehabilitated now and ready to make his bid for that starting job again. In 1981, Simms was well on his way to setting one-season club records only to have his bid blunted by injuries. First, a groin injury suffered in the Jets' game knocked him out of action for a week, then a shoulder separation late in the second Washington game put him down for the rest of the season. Prior to those injuries, Phil had led the club to a 5-3 record with some impressive numbers including a 28-for-41 job on New Orleans in which he passed for 324 yards (his fourth 300-yard passing day); a 19-for-33 for 208 yards and three TDs vs. St. Louis, and a 19-for-32 for 256 yards and two TDs in the upset win over Atlanta. All told, Simms had 172 completions for 2,031 yards in the 10 games he played, and projecting those numbers over a full 16-game season, he would easily have set club marks for most completions and passing yardage in a season. He also came up with his longest completion, an 80-yarder to Johnny Perkins in the Atlanta game, and even though he missed six games, finished as the 7th ranked passer in the NFC and had the fewest interceptions (9) of any NFC passer who qualified in the rankings. The Giants' No. 1 draft pick in 1979, Phil did not make his NFL debut until the fifth week of his rookie season when he appeared vs. the Saints in a relief role. A week later, he made his first start vs. Tampa Bay and reeled off four straight wins and six of the next eight. Unheralded at the time of the draft, by season's end Phil was a unanimous choice for All-NFL Rookie honors and was runnerup for the NFC Rookie of the Year to Ottis Anderson of the Cardinals. In 1980, Simms fired five TD passes vs. St. Louis, and had back-to-back 300-plus games in wins over Dallas and Green Bay before an injury shelved him for the final three games of that season. GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Only the second Morehead State player to make it in the NFL (teammate Gary Shirk is the other), Simms set alltime college marks with 409 completions for 5,545 yards and 32 touchdowns at Morehead, and also set single season marks with 370 yards vs. Tennessee Tech and four TD passes vs. Marshall, those one-game records coming in 1977. During his four varsity seasons, Phil was an honorable mention All-American by the Sporting News, and was named Offensive Player of the Year and first-team All-Conference in the Ohio Valley Conference as a junior...but made only second-team All-Conference as a senior when Morehead eschewed the passing game and opted for a ball-control offense.

PERSONAL: Phillip Simms was born in Springfield, Ky., on November 3, 1955 and played his high school sports at Southern H.S. in Louisville, as a QB in football and as a pitcher in baseball. Simms comes from a large family, which includes four brothers—William, Thomas, David and Joseph—and four sisters, Jeanette, Mary, Ann and Sara. Phil and his wife, Diana Fronfield, live in Wyckoff and have a son, Christopher.

FA '82

2nd Year

PRO: Signed as a free agent by the Giants late last season, Tautolo was on the roster for the final four games of the season and saw action in just one of those. Originally inked by the new England Patriots as a FA in 1981, he was doing well in training camp that year, then suffered a knee injury and was out for the entire season on I.R. He was back with the Patriots in 1982, but was released during the late stages of the pre-season. Participated in the Giants' 1983 off-season program and will get a chance at right guard during the pre-season training camp. GAMES PLAYED: 1, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Tautolo played four seasons at UCLA and won four varsity letters in football. He began his collegiate career as a defensive tackle, then made the switch to offensive guard his final two seasons and was named to All-Pac 10 second-team in his senior season, as well as to the All-West Coast second team and as an honorable mention All-American.

PERSONAL: John William Tautolo was born on May 29, 1959 in Long Beach, Calif., and was a scholastic star at R.A. Millikan H.S. in his hometown. Of Samoan ancestry, Tautolo and his wife, Patricia, have a young son, Nathan James. Tautolo's brother, Terry, is a linebacker with the Detroit Lions and his cousin, Manu Tuiaosapo is a defensive lineman with the Seattle Seahawks.

56*Linebacker*6-3*237*LAWRENCE TAYLOR*North Carolina*2/4/59*D-1 '81*3rd Year

PRO: Seldom has a player accumulated as many honors in his first two seasons as Taylor. This past season, he was a unanimous All-NFL choice and the top vote-getter in the Pro Bowl. He also won the AP's NFL Defensive Player of the year for an unprecedented second straight year, and was named NFL Linebacker of the Year by the Players' Association.

He had 55 tackles during the 9-game season, added a team-leading 7½ QB sacks, forced two fumbles, blocked a PAT and almost single-handedly beat Detroit on Thanksgiving Day with key plays, including a 97-yard TD return with an interception...the longest return in club history by a linebacker. Giants' top draft choice made a thunderous impact in his rookie campaign, accumulating enough post-season honors to stock a warehouse. He was a unanimous All-NFL first-team selection; Pro Bowl selection and starter; the Associated Press' Defensive Player of the Year and Rookie of the Year; a unanimous All-NFL Rookie team choice, and in the voting conducted by the players themselves, the NFC Defensive Rookie of the year, and the NFC Linebacker of the Year by the Players' Association. Lawrence was an instant smash from Day One. In his first training camp scrimmage, he had four QB sacks and a fumble recovery. In his first pre-season game, he had 10 tackles and two QB sacks. And then he got better. By season's end, he had 133 tackles (94-39), 10½ QB sacks, a fumble recovery and an interception, then added 14 tackles and two more QB sacks in the playoffs. Taylor's trademark was the big play in game after game, particularly down the homestretch when the Giants had to win their final three games to get into the playoffs. Against the Rams in early December, Taylor made two big plays to insure a 10-7 victory. First, he took the Rams out of FG range by dropping QB Pat Haden with a bionic one-handed sack, then on the next series stopped another L.A. foray with a leaping interception. A week later in the 20-10 win over St. Louis, he roared in on Cardinal QB Neil Lomax and sacked him with a hellacious hit which separated Lomax from the ball, with DE George Martin picking up the fumble and going 20 yards for a go-ahead TD. And then in the season finale vs. Dallas, he led the way in a 13-10 overtime win with a key fumble recovery and helped contain Tony Dorsett to 39 yards rushing in 21 carries. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 8.

COLLEGE: Taylor was a consensus All-American at North Carolina and was the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year in 1980. In his final season, of his 69 solo tackles, 22 were for losses behind the line of scrimmage and 16 were QB sacks. Originally a nose guard on defense at North Carolina, he eventually moved to OLB/DE in his final seasons and finished his career with 192 tackles, 21 QB sacks, 10 forced fumbles, three interceptions and three fumble recoveries and was selected for both the East-West Shrine game and Japan Bowl.

PERSONAL: Lawrence Taylor was born on February 4, 1959 in Williamsburg, Va., and played his scholastic sports at Lafayette H.S. in Williamsburg where he was a 5-10, 180-pounder in his junior year. Also excelled in both basketball and baseball.

68*Guard*6-3*255*J. T. TURNER*Duke*FA '77*4/17/53*7th Year

PRO: After losing his starting job to Bruce Kimball last year, Turner got his job back in record time when Kimball broke a leg in the season opener. J. T. then returned to his spot at RG for the balance of the year and has now started at RG in 72 of his last 73 games with the Giants. J. T. came to the Giants as a FA in 1977 after an earlier tryout with the Kansas City Chiefs and a year with Charlotte in the now defunct WFL. As a rookie with the Giants, Turner was a reserve DT, then was switched to offense the following season and promptly won a starting job at guard. Blessed with great agility and quickness for a big man, he has improved his pass-blocking each and every year, and has continued to participate in the off-season work program to improve on his overall strength.

GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 8.

COLLEGE: J. T. was a three-year starter at defensive tackle for Duke, winning All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors in 1974 before signing with Kansas City as a free agent. Turner also won a varsity letter in fencing at Duke, was the North Carolina state champion in fencing and won All-ACC honors in that sport as well.

PERSONAL: James Denis Turner was born on April 17, 1953 in Moultrie, Ga., then was a scholastic whiz at Ben Franklin H.S. in Philadelphia. In addition to his football and fencing prowess (he was the city fencing champion two years straight), J. T. was a National Honor Society member, and graduated 5th in a class of 408. He's also a musical star who plays the organ, trumpet, trombone, and french horn. Turner is married to the former Debra Harris and has a son, James Denis Jr., and a daughter, Nicole.

59*Center*6-3*258*RICH UMPHREY*Colorado*D-5 '82*12/13/58*2nd Year

PRO: After a highly impressive training camp and pre-season, Rich shared time at the center position early in the regular season, then won the starting job outright at the conclusion of the players' strike, and turned in a powerful performance down the home-stretch. By season's end, he was a unanimous All-NFL Rookie team selection at center by AP, UPI and the PFWA. A strong pass-blocker, Humphrey also showed constant improvement in picking up the blitz, and has all the attributes to become an outstanding pivotman in the NFL. Continued to take part in off-season workout programs to build his strength even further.

GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 7.

COLLEGE: Rich began his collegiate career as a linebacker at Utah before a transfer to Colorado where he was eventually switched to center. He ended up being the starting center at Colorado for his final two seasons, and while Colorado did not have strong seasons in those two years, Umphrey nonetheless was compared favorably to both Dave Rimington and Brad Edelman from the same conference, and was selected to play in both the East-West Shrine and Olympia Bowl Games after his senior campaign.

PERSONAL: Richard Umphrey was born on December 13, 1958 in Garden Grove, Calif., and played his scholastic sports at Garden Grove H.S. in his hometown. A bachelor, he now resides in Santa Ana, Calif., during the off seasons.

BRAD VAN PELT

Michigan State

D-2'73

4/5/51

11th Year

PRO: A five-time All-Pro and Pro Bowl selection, the veteran Van Pelt had another strong season in 1982, finishing with 49 tackles (30-19) and adding a pair of QB sacks. He also had two fumble recoveries which upped his career total to 12—the third best total in club history behind Jim Katcavage and Cliff Livingston. Brad also forced a fumble during the season and blocked a FG attempt in the Monday Night outing vs. Green Bay to continue his career-long versatility show. The big guy was having another banner year in '81 until going down with a groin injury vs. San Francisco on November 29 and missing the rest of the regular season and the first playoff game. Even with that missed time, Van Pelt nonetheless had a strong season, finishing with 113 tackles (70-43), and added an interception which was his 16th career swipe. He also had a pair of QB sacks, one of which decked the Eagles' Ron Jaworski for a 17-yard loss in the Giants' 20-10 triumph in November. Drafted on the second round in 1973, Van Pelt was a heavily sought after major league pitching prospect, but opted for football and after a shaky rookie season when he was hampered by minor injuries and several position switches (tight end, strong safety and linebacker), settled in as the strongside linebacker in 1974 and has been a standout performer ever since. He's had any number of top performances over the years, but one of his best came in 1976 when Brad dedicated a game to his recently deceased father, Arnold, and won NFL Player of the Week honors by registering 10 solo tackles, two interceptions and two QB sacks in a one-man show that produced a 24-10 victory over the Detroit Lions. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 9.

COLLEGE: Van Pelt was the veritable one-man band at Michigan State. He was a three-year starter at the "monster" position, was All-Big 10 three times, and All-American twice. Won the Maxwell Trophy and was MSU's Most Valuable Player in 1972. Had 14 career interceptions and also found time to win two letters in varsity basketball and two in baseball where he was All-Big 10 twice as a powerhouse right-handed pitcher, setting strikeout records which resulted in the St. Louis Cardinals offering him $100,000 bonus money to go baseball.

PERSONAL: Brad Alan Van Pelt was born in Owosso, Mich. on April 5, 1951 and was all-everything at Owosso H.S. after being a Little League and Punt, Pass and Kick winner too. Brad and his wife, Susan, have four sons—Arnold Justen, Bret Christopher, Bradley and Brian Wellington.

FA '80

4th Year

PRO: One of the leading special teams' players on the squad, Mike appeared in all nine games last year and continued to show toughness and hitting ability. That followed an '81 season in which he was activated late in the year and appeared in the final six games and in the playoffs. Signed as a FA by the Giants in the Spring of 1980, Mike worked hard in training camp and won himself a spot in the final roster, initially as a special teams' player, then as an outside linebacker when injuries began to deplete the LB corps. All told, Mike was a starter in six games and appeared in all 16, finishing the season with 43 tackles (26 solo, 17 assists) and tied for the club lead in opponent fumble recoveries with three. He also was in on a pair of QB sacks in addition to his contributions to those special teams. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Whittington played four years at Notre Dame as a linebacker, earning four varsity letters and appearing in several Bowl games.

PERSONAL: Michael Whittington was born in Miami, Fla., on August 9, 1958, and was a standout scholastic performer in football, wrestling and track at Christopher Columbus Catholic H.S. in Miami. He still resides in Miami during the off-seasons.

25*Running Back*6-1*207*BUTCH WOOLFOLK*Michigan*3/1/60*D-1'82*2nd Year

PRO: Even though he had only nine regular season games in which to display his talents as a rookie, Woolfolk nonetheless had himself a highly productive campaign. The No. 1 draft choice led the Giants in rushing, was fourth in receiving, led the club in kickoff returns and tied for the lead in touchdowns scored. All of this resulted in his being a unanimous selection to the All-NFL Rookie team, and won for him the NFC Offensive Rookie of the Year Award from the NFL Players' Association. All told, Woolfolk rolled up 1,091 yards of total offense during the nine-game season including 439 yards rushing for a 3.9 average, and 23 receptions for another 224 yards. Had his best rushing game vs. Detroit in Thanksgiving Day Game with 87 yards, and most productive receiving day in 17-14 win over Houston when he caught six for 102 yards, including a 40-yarder for the winning touchdown. Also showed his speed with 428 yards on kickoff returns for a 21.4 average. Gave indication of his receiving skills in pre-season when he outran everyone for a 30-yard TD catch vs. the Miami Dolphins. Had 64 yards rushing in his regular season debut vs. Atlanta. Has all the tools and ability to be an outstanding RB.

GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 8.

COLLEGE: Butch enjoyed a spectacular collegiate career at Michigan, winning four varsity letters while setting an alltime Michigan career rushing record with 3,861 yards. That averaged out to 5.4 per carry, 29 touchdowns, and another alltime Michigan record of 16 career rushing games of 100-plus yard. He was also named the MVP in both the Rose Bowl and Bluebonnet Bowl games in which he rushed for 182 and 186 yards respectively. He led the Big-10 in rushing with 1,459 yards as a senior, including a 253-yard game vs. Michigan State and was selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Olympia Gold Bowl games. Also won four letters in track at Michigan, qualifying for the 1980 Olympic Trials in the 200-meters. He was Big-10 champion at both 200 and 300 meters that same year.

PERSONAL: Harold "Butch" Woolfolk was born on March 1, 1960 in Milwaukee, Wisc., then moved to Westfield, N.J. where he graduated from Westfield H.S. in 1978 as an All-State football and track star. He now resides in Secaucus, N.J. during the off-seasons and stayed active with player appearances and as a member of the Giants' off-season basketball team.

FIRST YEAR PLAYERS

There were seven players who were with the Giants in the 1982 pre-season training camp, suffered injuries either during the training camp or in pre-season action, and were then placed on the Injured Reserve list prior to the start of the 1982 regular season. Recovered now and returning for another training camp, the list includes:

WILLIS CAROLINA, LB, 6-1, 210, Tulsa University, 23, a free agent in 1982 who was twice an All-Conference selection at outside linebacker.

HOMES JOHNSON, RB, 5-8, 180, Florida State, 25, a three-year starter at Florida State who was also a return man. Showed fine potential in '82 training camp before injury.

KEVIN KURDYLA, OT, 6-3, 260, Rutgers, 23, a three-year starter at Rutgers who has been injured in both the 1981 and 1982 Giants' training camps.

JOHNNY LEWIS, LB, 6-1, 240, Oklahoma, 23, a free agent who was a defensive tackle at Oklahoma before being switched to linebacker last season.

SLY MCGREW, LB, 6-3, 233, Tulane, 23, a free agent who was a three-year starter at inside linebacker at Tulane.

SCOTT PHILLIPS, WR, 6-2, 190, Brigham Young, 25, a free agent who had been the 4th round draft choice of the Seattle Seahawks in 1981. Phillips had been a standout running back and wide receiver in college.

JEFF WISKA, OT, 6-4, 260, Michigan State, 23, the Giants' 7th round draft choice last year after being All-Big 10 with the Spartans. Wiska had been very impressive in last year's training camp until a knee injury, which required surgery, put him down for the rest of the season.

1983 DRAFTED ROOKIES

TERRY KINARD

Safety
Clemson

Round One

6-1 190

They called him "Special K" at Clemson, and with good reason. The highest-rated defensive back in the country, Kinard was a unanimous first team All American on every poll known to mankind and was also named the National Defensive Player of the Year by both Chevrolet and Schlitz. He capped his collegiate career by being named to both the Hula Bowl and Senior Bowl games, had an interception in the former post-season outing, and was named MVP in the latter game. Team captain, Terry was a four-year starter for the two-time ACC champions and finished his career with two alltime Clemson records—most tackles by a defensive back (291) and most interceptions (17 for 147 yards). Blessed with 4.4 speed, Kinard is an extraordinary all-around athlete who won All-State honors in both basketball and football at Sumter High School in Sumter, S.C. That versatility, plus his speed, agility and jumping ability combined to make him the premier free safety in collegiate football. Quiet, relaxed and confident, he showed great acceleration to the ball and had the natural talents to outleap receivers for interceptions. He combined that attribute with good size and an aggressive style of play which also made him a deadly tackler from the secondary, as evidenced by his college record number of tackles, many of them behind the line of scrimmage. After Clemson won the National Championship in the 1981 season and Kinard had also won All-American honors as a junior in that campaign, the city of Sumter produced a Terry Kinard Day and came up with a Key to the City for its favorite son...an honor that Terry treasures along with his appearance on the Bob Hope Christmas special. Such was Kinard's all-out intensive efforts during his final two campaigns that the Clemson coaching staff graded him out at 100% for every single game during those two years. Even as a freshman, he showed the signs of the big things to come, setting up a TD vs. Wake Forest with a 30-yard interception return, then making two fourth-quarter interceptions to salvage a 16-10 victory over Notre Dame. The son of a former Air Force career NCO, Terry was born in Bitburg, Germany during his father's tour of duty there, but grew up in Sumter, S.C. where he became the powerhouse All-State star in both football and basketball. He averaged 16.2 in the hoop game and had collegiate offers in that sport, but as both a quarterback and safety in football, had far more offers in that sport. Also has the ability to return punts, which he did as a soph, returning 12 for 50 yards.

LEONARD MARSHALL

Defensive End

Round Two

Louisiana State

6-3

282

Big, strong, tough and quick, Marshall was rated as a first round choice by the Giants and in the wake of the trade of Gary Jeter to the Rams and the announced retirement of Phil Tabor, certainly fills a need on the defensive line. While he'll get his initial look at defensive right end in training camp, Marshall also has experience at the nose tackle position where he performed during the 1981 season when LSU's regular nose man was injured. The most impressive thing about Marshall, other than his size, was his continuous improvement from year to year with the nationally renowned LSU defensive unit. As a soph, he was just a part-time starter, yet finished with 51 tackles on the season, then became a fulltime starter in his junior campaign, finishing with 72 total tackles and a team-leading seven tackles for losses. He had nine tackles, a fumble recovery and a QB sack in a strong effort against Oregon State in that junior campaign, then continued that overall improvement with a banner final season, again leading the Tigers with tackles for losses with 11 for 38 yards, adding four more QB sacks to his collection. Marshall had an especially big effort in a victory over Rice, collecting eight tackles, two fumble recoveries and a blocked kick as LSU continued its march to the Orange Bowl. While considered to be particularly strong vs. the run, Marshall has all the tools to become a solid pass rusher in the NFL. Despite his bulk, he's been clocked in 4.8 for the 40, and the ratings all agree as to his surprising quickness off the ball. As far as strength is concerned Marshall has bench pressed 405 pounds and 680 in the squat. A native of Franklin, La., Marshall was both an All-American and All-Conference scholastic tackle at Franklin High School in his hometown, going both ways as an offensive and defensive tackle. He led the State as a senior with 85 tackles, including 16 QB sacks. Born on October 22, 1961 as the oldest of seven children in the Marshall clan, Leonard is related to some prominent football names, including Grambling head coach Eddie Robinson, and former NFL stars Ernie Ladd and Warren Wells. A Physical Education major at LSU, Marshall's idol in the NFL is Pittsburgh linebacker Jack Lambert. Leonard also admits that he's watched the Giants on television quite often in the past two years, and says he can't wait to line up with two other NFL favorites of his—linebackers Lawrence Taylor and Harry Carson.

JAMIE WILLIAMS

Tight End

Round Three

Nebraska

6-5

230

The second tight end selected in the draft after Tony Hunter of Notre Dame went to Buffalo, Williams gives the Giants a big, strong tight end who has the speed of a wide receiver. Jamie saw only infrequent action before the 1981 season, but came on strongly in his final two campaigns to win first-team All-Big Eight honors in his senior year, as well as honorable mention All-America by the Associated Press. He was also selected to play in both the Senior Bowl and Hula Bowl after the season, and turned in solid performances in both of those games, catching an 11-yard TD pass for the winning touchdown in the Senior Bowl, and grabbing four passes for 67 yards in the Hula Bowl outing. Despite Nebraska's run-oriented offense, Williams had 44 catches for 516 yards and seven touchdowns over the final two seasons, and besides the accolades for his speed and agility to go with his size, was considered an above average blocker. Also received top grades from the scouts for excellent hands, and had a habit of wrapping his hands in ice after games and practices. Had a couple of four-catch days in senior season, grabbing that many vs. New Mexico State and Kansas. As a junior, he had the Huskers' longest non-scoring play of the year, a 55-yard reception vs. Penn State, and also caught a pair of first-period TD passes vs. Kansas State before straining a knee and missing rest of contest. Played in Orange Bowl vs. Clemson after '81 season. Born on February 25, 1960 in Davenport, Iowa, Jamie was an All-American scholastic selection in both football and basketball at Davenport Central High School, and had numerous scholarship offers in both sports. That jumping ability from basketball is reflected in the fact that Williams has a 30 1/2 inch vertical jump to his credit. He was also among the leaders in Nebraska's 111-mile endurance run, clocking 9:05 for the distance... certainly an accomplishment for such a big man. Also a good student and leader in college, he majored in Broadcasting.

KARL NELSON

Offensive Tackle
Iowa State

Round Three (A)
6-6 272

Here's a big, strong and durable offensive tackle who was a starter for four seasons at Iowa State, collecting any number of honors along the way. This past year, he was named to the first-team All-America by NEA, and to the Associated Press honorable mention All-America. He was also a first-team All-Big Eight selection by both AP and UPI for the second year in a row, and was also an Academic All-American choice, and concluded his collegiate career by being named to the East-West Shrine game. Karl got off to an outstanding start at Iowa State, winning a starting job in his freshman season on the varsity, then being named to the Freshman All-American squad at the end of that season. Nelson got equally as high ratings as both a pass blocker and run blocker. A player with a great deal of intensity, he was a solid pass blocker who was particularly adept at keeping defenders at bay with good upper body strength and usage of his arms. He was also a key blocker two seasons ago in opening holes for former Cyclone running back Dwayne Crutchfield, now with the Jets. While Nelson was bothered at times with back spasms, he nonetheless started and played every game at Iowa State in his four-year tenure, and had grading performances that topped the entire club from the coaching staff throughout his career. Head Coach Donnie Duncan was sufficiently impressed by Nelson's efforts this past season to remark, "It's hard to imagine a better player in his class, at his position, anywhere than Karl Nelson." Blessed with good speed for a big man (4.9 in the 40), Karl earned his Academic All-American honors by being an excellent student majoring in Electrical Engineering. Born on June 14, 1960 in DeKalb, Ill., Nelson was an All-State scholastic football star at DeKalb High School and also starred in basketball and in baseball, as a pitcher, in high school.

MALCOLM SCOTT

Tight End

Round Five

LSU

6-4

23

The Giants went for another tight end in this round, making it two TE selections within two rounds, and while Jamie Williams (the No. 3 choice) had high rankings for his speed and good hands, Scott gets pretty solid ratings for his blocking abilities, as well as for good hands too. Twice an All-SEC selection (first team in '81, second team in '82), Malcolm is a powerful worker in the running game, with the strength and competitive instincts to take on linebackers as well as corners. To go along with that blocking strength, Scott has good speed for a big man, showing 4.8 clockings in the 40, and his receiving ability is reflected by the fact that he set an alltime LSU record for tight ends by catching 34 passes for 433 yards and a pair of touchdowns in the 1981 campaign. He added 28 grabs for 264 yards and one TD this past season, and finished his career at LSU with 78 receptions for 863 yards and five touchdowns. Those are pretty good figures considering that LSU was pretty much a run-oriented club and that Scott was a starter at TE for only his junior and senior seasons, having shared the position in 1980 with Greg LaFleur, later a 3rd round pick of the Philadelphia Eagles and now with the St. Louis Cardinals. A native of New Orleans, Malcolm was a fine all-around scholastic performer in football, basketball and swimming at St. Augustine's H.S. in New Orleans, and was actively pursued by Oklahoma and Southern California before matriculating to LSU. He won a varsity letter in his freshman season at LSU, although he was used only sparingly, showing three receptions for 23 yards, then moved up to a part-time starter the following year when he shared the position with LaFleur. When he won that first-team All-SEC honor in 1981, he was the only LSU player to win first-team honors that particular season.

DARRELL PATTERSON

Linebacker

Round Six

6-3

235

With an eye toward adding depth at the inside linebacker position, the Giants went for this extremely tough and durable young man who was a four-year starter at the position at TCU. A 21-year-old product of Canonsburg, Pa., and Canon-McMillian High School (the same hometown and high school of former Giant star Doug Kotar), Patterson began his collegiate career in a resounding fashion. As an 18-year-old freshman, his first collegiate game, and first start, was against SMU and he responded with an astounding 20 tackles in that initial outing. He finished that freshman season with 122 total tackles and was named the Southwest Conference Freshman of the Year by AP and the Newcomer of the Year by UPI. Over the next three seasons, Darrell continued to be a powerhouse defender, concluding his four-year career with a grand total of 544 tackles, including 28 for losses behind the line of scrimmage, and in 1980, his soph year, totaled an amazing 179 tackles or an average of 16-per-game. A really fine all-around athlete, Patterson is blessed with outstanding upper body strength (he bench presses 450 pounds) and has that first two-step agility which is the mark of an active, and successful, inside linebacker. Darrell was at his very best when the play came directly at him, as reflected in that staggering number of total tackles in his four-year career. Besides winning those freshman accolades, Patterson was named to the first-team All-Southwest Conference team this past year, and had second-team honors the previous campaign from both AP and UPI. Born on December 14, 1961 in Canonsburg, Darrell was a talented wrestler, track man and football star in high school, turning down several wrestling offers to attend TCU. He toured Europe with a U.S. wrestling group, while in track, he was a 6-4 high jumper and 21-foot long jumper. Once worked as a jailer for the County Sheriff during one summer. As a high school fullback, he once rushed for 168 yards on just 11 carries.

KEVIN BELCHER

Offensive Guard

Round Six (A)

Texas-El Paso

6-3

255

When you talk about versatility, Kevin can qualify as one of the most versatile linemen in the Western Athletic Conference. A three-year letterman and two-year starter as an offensive guard, Belcher proved to be a solid blocker, both for the run and on pass protection. He also got fine ratings for his quickness and strength, and earned himself a second-team All-Western Athletic Conference spot after the 1981 season. Then, when UTEP found itself with a problem on the defensive line due to injuries and graduated seniors this past year, Belcher made the move from the offensive side of the ball to the defensive side in Spring practice, and became a defensive nose tackle for his final collegiate season. The transition might have been a bit difficult, yet Kevin put his quickness, strength and competitive instincts into the new position and not only won himself the starting job there, but produced well enough to get named as an honorable mention on the 1982 All-Western Athletic Conference team... certainly an accomplishment and the first time in many years that a player in that conference received All-Conference honors two successive years for two different positions... one on offense and the other on defense. The Giants, however, consider that Kevin's future is on the offensive side of the ball, so he'll get his chance in the NFL as an offensive guard. The scouts like that quickness (4.9 in the 40), his strength, and certainly his versatility and willingness to sacrifice. Belcher is a native of Detroit, Mich., and was a solid two-way performer at tackle and guard at Detroit's Redford High School where he won All-City honors in both his junior and senior seasons. Kevin is also a fine student who majored in Business Management at UTEP.

PERRY WILLIAMS

Cornerback

Round Seven

North Carolina State

6-2

193

A three-year starter for the Wolfpack, Perry is a steadily improving performer who combined superior speed with size and hitting ability to do it all for State for those three starting campaigns. Extremely well-built for the corner, Perry was a solid tackler who liked to stick his nose into heavy traffic, and he showed vast improvement in man-to-man coverage over his final two seasons. Over his three-year career, Williams finished with a total of 182 tackles, including seven for losses, had six interceptions for 76 yards returned, and added 23 pass deflections. He had a big day in a 38-29 loss to Clemson this past year, getting eight tackles, a QB sack and a pair of pass deflections, and also played strongly in a victory over Wake Forest with eight tackles and an interception which set up a touchdown. As for Perry's speed, he's run the 40 in 4.4 and earned varsity letters in track where he was the Atlantic Coast Conference 200-meter champion in 1982 with a 21.0 clocking. Williams was also the anchorman on State's 800 and 400 meter relay teams which won first-place honors in both events in the 1982 Penn Relays with respective times of 1:26.8 and 39:1. Despite the fact that his work with the Wolfpack's outdoor track team precluded him from the Spring football drills, Williams received high grades from the State coaching staff. "Perry is a solid defensive back who is a leader in the secondary" said defensive coordinator Pete Carroll. With that fine senior season, Williams was also selected for post-season play with a berth in the Blue-Gray game this past year. Born on May 12, 1961 in Hamlet, N.C., Perry was a standout defensive back and track star at Richmond County Senior H.S., winning All-Conference honors in football where he was captain, leading his school to a 12-2 record and the State championship. Also lettered in baseball in high school. Majored in Humanities and Social Sciences at N.C. State.

ANDY HEADEN

Linebacker

Round Eight

Clemson

6-5

230

In staying on line in their quest for all-around athletes in the later rounds, the Giants got a more than interesting looking candidate in Headen. An All-American high school quarterback, Andy was named the No. 1 QB at Clemson in the Spring of 1980...eventually lost his job to Homer Jordan, but then turned around and became a starter at both cornerback and safety while doubling as a kickoff return specialist. When all of that didn't whet his appetite, he switched to a standup defensive end slot for his final two seasons and must have done his job well at that slot, considering that he gained All-American mention from the Football News this past season, while also winning first-team All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors from AP and additionally earning Defensive Player of the Week accolades. At 6-5 and 230 pounds, he's a big man... yet he's also registered consistent clockings of 4.6 in the 40 which gave him the ability to be a banger coming up on running plays and getting to the QB, while also having the speed to get into the pass coverage and do the job there. In winning the Defensive Player of the Week award in '82 vs. North Carolina State, Headen had nine tackles, recovered a fumble and had several pass deflections. All told, his collegiate career included 115 tackles, seven for losses; 18 pass deflections, five forced fumbles, two blocked kicks, two pass interceptions for 33 yards, and 12 kickoff returns for 195 yards and a 21.4 average on returns as a sophomore. Born on July 8, 1960 in Asheboro, N.C., Andy had a sparkling scholastic career at Eastern Randolph H.S. winning All-American, All-Southern and All-State honors as a quarterback, setting total offense and scoring records along the way. An Administrative Management major in college, Headen is envisioned as "another Byron Hunt type prospect" by Giants' coach Bill Parcells.

ALI HAJI-SHEIKH

Place Kicker Michigan

Round Nine

The Giants have drafted only one place kicker during the seven years that Joe Danelo has been the club specialist (Mike Lansford, a 12th rounder in 1980) but since the club had Haji-Sheikh ranked right behind Washington's Chuck Nelson (taken on the 4th round by the Rams), the Michigan kicker was taken on this round. Ali was a walk-on at Michigan and impressed the Wolverine coaching staff enough to give him a job in his freshman season handling kickoffs since his ability there enabled him to hoist those kickoffs into and out of the end zone. As a sophomore, he took over all of the kicking duties, finishing that 1980 season with 41-of-44 extra points and 11 of 15 field goal attempts. Those 11 FGs in his soph season tied a Michigan season record, with three of the FGs coming in a victory over Minnesota. He also kicked a trio of FGs in a win over Ohio State in 1981 and finished that year with 8-of-14 FG attempts and 35-of-35 extra points, including a school record 10 PATs vs. Illinois. This past year, he booted 12 FGs, a new one-season Michigan record, in 15 attempts, and made 39-of-39 extra points to give him a total of 74 consecutive PATs over the final two years. All told, Ali's three-year totals at Michigan showed 31-of-44 field goal attempts for an accuracy mark of 70.4%, and 115-of-118 extra point attempts for a 97.4% mark. Born on January 11, 1961 at the Michigan Medical Center in Ann Arbor, Mich., Ali is the son of Dr. Ali Haji-Sheikh, an Iranian, who graduated from Michigan and earned a Master's degree from Michigan, and who also married a University of Michigan secretary. Young Ali grew up in Arlington, Tex., where his father, who earned his Doctorate degree from the University of Minnesota, is a Professor of Engineering at Texas-Arlington.

LEE JENKINS

Cornerback
Tennessee

Round Eleven
5-11                      182

A gifted athlete who was deprived of better statistics in his final two seasons because of a series of nagging injuries which cut down on his performance. A tendon injury to an ankle early in the 1982 season slowed him down, and he suffered from hamstring problems in his junior year which also dampened his efficiency. Even with those injuries, Jenkins retained excellent speed with consistent 4.4 clockings in the 40. Got top marks from the scouts for his hard-working attitude and as a crisp and solid tackler against the run. A reserve as a freshman, he won a starting job at left corner late in his sophomore season, then kept that starting role in both 1981 and 1982, despite the aforementioned injuries which cut into his overall playing time. As a junior, he had a key interception and 21-yard return to position a TD in a victory over Colorado State, and also had a big day in victory over Mississippi with eight solo tackles, an assist, a fumble recovery and three deflected passes. Also won the "hardest hit" award that season. In his senior campaign, Jenkins again played strongly until that ankle injury first slowed him down, then eventually sidelined him for the final three games of the season. All told, he had 105 total tackles during his days at Tennessee, with four tackles for losses, also had five forced fumbles and one recovery. Jenkins was born on March 2, 1961 in Atlanta, Ga., and was a stand-out quarterback at Therrell High School in Atlanta, winning All-Metro honors there. Even then, he had injury problems, losing much of his senior season after suffering a broken leg. Also lettered in track as a sub 10-second 100-yard dash man. Lee majored in Human Services at Tennessee and is an accomplished saxophone player.

CLENZIE PIERSON

Defensive End
Rice

Round Eleven
6-7                      260

A raw talent from a small high school in Texas, Clenzie is the type of player who showed constant improvement, despite Rice's consistently poor records over the past several seasons. After seeing just limited playing time as a freshman, Pierson won a starting job in his sophomore season and showed a portent of things to come with 65 tackles, seven for losses, and five fumble recoveries. He continued to improve in his junior campaign with 80 total tackles and a club-leading 16 tackles for losses, while adding two forced fumbles, then had a big senior season with 91 tackles, seven more for losses, and added three pass deflections as he improved his pass-rushing skills. At season's end, despite Rice's poor record, he won All-Southwest Conference honors from AP, UPI and the Dallas Morning News. All told, the three-year stats on Clenzie showed 236 tackles, 30 for losses, seven fumble recoveries and that ever-improving stature which should insure him a long look in the NFL. Elected a captain in his senior year, Pierson was considered an awesome physical specimen by all of the pro scouts and has additional growth potential. He's been a hard working youngster who through sheer effort has become a quality pass rusher. He also has the knack of rising to an occasion, as evidenced by his 10 solo tackles this past season against SMU's "Pony Express" backfield of Eric Dickerson and Craig James. Born on February 21, 1960, Clenzie comes from a family of 14 children, and helped his widowed mother, Mrs. Emma Pierson, help make ends meet. Pierson played his scholastic football at small Southside High School in San Antonio, Tex., and selected Rice so he could be close to home. He majored in Health and Physical Education with a minor in Political Science. He's the kind of personable young man you've just got to root for.

ROBBIE JONES

Linebacker

Round Twelve

Alabama

6-3

230

The defensive "quarterback" at Alabama for the past two seasons, Robbie was a highly intelligent performer both on and off the field. As the defensive signal-caller, Jones was Alabama's leading tackler in 1981 and the third-leading man this past season. Rated as a 100-percenter for effort, he had fine ratings from the scouts for his speed and range, as well as for exceptional lateral mobility. After his solid junior season when he had 107 total tackles, five for losses, and an interception, Jones won All-American honorable mention honors from the Sporting News, and was also selected to play in the Hula Bowl after his senior campaign in which he finished with 88 tackles, three for losses, and his fifth career interception. Began his senior year by suffering a wrist injury which slowed him down somewhat, and resulted in a final season which was not quite as glittering as his junior season. In that 1981 year, Jones had any number of big games, leading the Tide in tackles on five different occasions, including 15 solo stops vs. Ole Miss and 14 against Auburn. He also had five QB sacks and two fumble recoveries in that season. Robbie lettered as a freshman in 1979 and had 46 tackles that season, along with three pass interceptions. A fine student at Alabama, Jones made a TV promotional spot for the University's College of Engineering. Born on Christmas Day, 1959 in Demopolis, Ala., Jones was a one-man team at Demopolis High School, playing guard and tackle on offense and nose tackle and linebacker on defense. He was a three-time All-Conference choice and made All-State in his senior year when he averaged 11 tackles per game and registered 33 QB sacks in that final season!

FRANK MAGWOOD

Wide Receiver

Round Twelve (A)

Clemson

6-0

The roommate of No. 1 draft pick Terry Kinard at Clemson, Magwood was the leading receiver at Clemson for the past two seasons on a team which was almost totally run-oriented. In fact, Clemson quarterbacks threw only 69 passes the entire 1982 season, with just 37 completions!! That didn't give Magwood a heck of a lot to do, other than be a decoy, yet he still received fine ratings for this quickness, ability to get open, and fine hands. Not an all-out burner, Magwood is a John Mistler type of receiver. Had his best season in his junior year when he caught 17 passes for 345 yards, a 20.3 average and one TD. Showed those good hands in Clemson's Orange Bowl appearance that year when he made a diving 42-yard reception of a deflected pass which set up a touchdown. That same year, he had three key receptions for 43 yards in the upset victory over Georgia. Also had a three-catch game in victory over Maryland, including a 41-yarder which set up a touchdown as well. Magwood appeared in just seven games as a freshman, catching one pass for 11 yards, then upped his total to nine grabs as a soph for 150 yards, and finished his career with 40 catches... which still isn't bad considering Clemson's run-run-run attack. Born on July 7, 1961 in Charleston, S.C., Frank was a quarterback at St. John's High School in John's Island, S.C., and won All-Conference honors in his senior season when he threw a record 22 touchdown passes and won MVP honors that same campaign. While not a speedball type of player, Magwood nonetheless has clocked 4.6 times in the 40. He majored in Industrial Education at Clemson.

JOHN TUGGLE

Running Back
California

Round Twelve (B)
6-1                      210

As the final player selected in the 1983 draft, (the Giants had the Redskins' 12th round pick from an earlier trade) Tuggle draws almost as much attention as John Elway, the first player selected. Yet, this rugged young man had some impressive credentials as both a fullback and tailback in Cal's pass-oriented offense. A four-year letterman, Tuggle was a starter for three seasons and was Cal's top rusher in each of those three years, finishing with a career total of 1,813 yards and a 4.2 average, with 16 rushing touchdowns. He was also a superb pass receiver, concluding with a total of 108 catches for 914 yards and three more TDs—the most pass catches in California history by a running back. While he doesn't possess outstanding speed, Tuggle was nonetheless a highly productive runner. A strong 210-pounder (he bench presses 430 pounds), John was also a potent blocker, both downfield and against the blitz, and was always a 100 percent effort player. Best collegiate single game performance came in 1980 upset of Stanford when he rushed 27 times for 112 yards and two touchdowns. Also had a 107-yard rushing day this past season in victory over Oregon State. Named to the All-Pac 10 honorable mention team this past year, he was also selected to play in the Blue-Gray Game and the Japan Bowl, and in the latter game won Offensive MVP honors, scoring two TDs in that game, including a 65-yard score. Despite that noted lack of burner speed, he also had a 78-yard TD run on a draw play vs. Arizona State. Born on January 31, 1961 in Hawaii where his father was in the Armed Forces, he also lived in West Berlin as a youngster and spoke fluent German. An outstanding athlete at Independence High School in San Jose, Calif., he was an all-around football star as a running back and punter, and led Conference with more than 1,000 yards rushing in senior season. Also won letters in track and pole vaulted 15 feet.

LINEMEN—A couple of big centers also showed potential in the mini-camps, including the man who snapped the ball for John Elway at Stanford. That would be 6-5, 255-pound MIKE TEEUWS, who won four letters at Stanford at center. Mike's dad, Len Teeuws, was an NFL lineman back in the 1950's... The other center is 6-4, 260-pound RON VERSNIK from West Allis, Wis., who was the starting center at Wisconsin for three years and who earned four letters while with the Badgers... Four defensive linemen will also get a look in the training camp. This group includes 6-4, 250-pound JOHN CLEMENS, a Texan who played his collegiate football at Vanderbilt, winning four varsity letters... A native of Gary, Ind., who now lives in the Bronx, is 6-4, 250-pound CURTIS ALLEN. Curtis began his collegiate career at Highland Junior College, then finished at Drake University where he won All-Conference mention in both 1980 and 1981... Another local product is 6-3, 265-pound MIKE RUSTEMEYER, a native of Hoboken, N.J. who played his scholastic sports at Carteret High School. ## THE 1982 SEASON IN REVIEW

September 12    GIANTS, 14    Atlanta, 16 (74,286)    At Giants Stadium

This season opener was a harbinger of things to come wherein critical errors would cost the Giants a victory which seemed to be well in hand. All told, the Giants amassed 378 yards of offense against the Falcons and totally dominated the game throughout. But three lost fumbles proved to be devastating, with the biggest bobble of all coming in the final period. Leading 14-7 and driving towards another touchdown, the Giants powered to the Atlanta 9-yard line where on second-and-one, fullback Leon Perry dove over the middle of the line for the apparent first down, but lost the ball on the way down. Atlanta safety Bob Glazebrook picked the pig out of the pile and ran untouched 91 yards the other way for a gift TD which cut the score to 14-13 after Lawrence Taylor blocked the PAT attempt. The Falcons then got possession again in the final minutes and with 58 seconds left to play, Mick Luckhurst kicked a 29-yard FG to win it for Atlanta. Earlier in the game, another Giants' fumble gave Atlanta its first touchdown when QB Scott Brunner and rookie RB Joe Morris bumped into each other at the Giants' 26 with Morris fumbling and Atlanta recovering at the Giants' 13 from where William Andrews scored on a sweep. The Giants stormed back with an 80-yard drive capped by Brunner's 33-yard TD throw to WR Earnest Gray for a 7-7 knot. The Giants continued to move well, but Joe Danelo missed a pair of FG attempts from 36 and 53 yards to negate those drives. Then in the third period, Brunner led the way on an 89-yard drive, with the march finished off by a 19-yard TD bullet from Brunner to Gray for a 14-7 Giants' lead. A Mark Haynes interception set the Giants up still another time, but after reaching the Atlanta 14, Brunner fumbled the snap from center and the Falcons recovered this one as well to kill another drive. Then came the subsequent march to the Atlanta 9 where Perry fumbled and Glazebrook rumbled to conclude an afternoon of giveaways. Brunner finished with 25-of-41 for 310 yards and two TDs, with rookie Butch Woolfolk rushing 17 times for 64 yards in his debut. TE Tom Mullady had seven catches for 99 yards and Gray five for 86 and two scores. Punter Dave Jennings averaged 53 yards on six punts, while defensively, LBs Harry Carson, Brian Kelley and Lawrence Taylor had 13, 9 and 9 tackles in that order, with Carson and Taylor each adding a sack, and CB Terry Jackson a third sack. The Giants also lost two starting offensive linemen, guard Bruce Kimball (broken leg) and tackle Jeff Weston (knee) for the rest of the season.

September 20      GIANTS, 19      Green Bay, 27 (68,405)      At Giants Stadium

This one was the first Monday Night game ever played at Giants Stadium, and it was undoubtedly historic since the game was played after the NFL Players' Association had announced its players' strike before the game, and there were a pair of power shortages which caused two separate blackouts in the Stadium for a total of 24 minutes delay time. And, on top of all that, the Giants again squandered a big lead to drop their second straight game of the season. Right off the bat, the Giants played giveaway again when TE Tom Mullady fumbled the ball away to the Packers after catching a pass at the GB 8-yard line. Undaunted, the Giants roared back on an 80-yard TD march with Joe Morris scoring the TD on a 3-yard sweep on his first NFL rushing attempt. Minutes later, the lead went to 9-0 when Green Bay snapped the ball out of the end zone on a punting attempt for a safety, and then after the lights went out twice in the second period, LB Brad Van Pelt blocked a Packer FG attempt which set up a Joe Danelo 37-yard FG and a 12-0 Giant advantage. The Packers finally mounted a drive late in the second period and cut the lead to 12-7 with just 29 seconds left in the half when Lynn Dickey hit RB Jim Jensen on a 7-yard TD pass on third down. The Giants moved strongly again in the third period to up the lead to 19-7 when Scott Brunner hit WR Johnny Perkins for a couple of big gainers to position a 2-yard TD burst by RB Cliff Chatman. Then with just 1:30 left to play in the third period, the Packers came up with the big play that turned the game around. Faced with a third-and-three at their own 17-yard line, GB sprung a reverse end-around to WR James Lofton, and the swift Lofton turned the corner and outraced everyone for an 83-yard TD that got the Pack back into the game at 19-14. Green Bay then stiffened on defense, and came back with a 52-yard drive in the fourth period capped by Eddie Lee Ivery's 11-yard TD sweep for a 21-19 lead. Brunner then threw a pair of interceptions in the final period, the first at his own 19, to set up a pair of Jan Stenerud FGs to close out the scoring. Scott finished with 15-for-33 for 191 yards, with Mullady catching five for 39 yards to pace the receivers. Morris and Chatman led in rushing with but 20 yards each as the Giants were held to 76 yards rushing in the game. ILB Harry Carson had his top statistical game ever, getting 20 solo tackles and five assists for 25 tackles and added a QB sack. LB Lawrence Taylor had eight tackles and was in on two more QB sacks.

November 21    GIANTS, 17    Washington, 27 (70,766)    At Giants Stadium

Back in action after the eight-weeks long players' strike, the Giants ran into the eventual Super Bowl champion Redskins and proved that the long layoff had taken its toll. In this one, the Redskins totally dominated the early going by storming to a 21-0 lead in the first 18 minutes of play, then, after the Giants had rallied to close to 24-17, Washington ran the clock down and finished off the scoring on a Mark Moseley 29-yard FG in the final 90 seconds of play. Washington took the opening kickoff and drove 73 yards for a TD with ex-Giant Otis Wonsley, scoring on a one-yard pass from Joe Theismann. The Redskins then came rolling again in the second period, scoring a brace of touchdowns within two minutes for that 21-0 lead, the first on a 39-yard TD pass from Theismann to WR Charlie Brown, and the second one on a 2-yard blast by John Riggins after 'Skins' DE Dexter Manley had intercepted a deflected Scott Brunner pass at the Giants' 18-yard line. A 20-yard Joe Danelo FG was about all the offense the Giants could muster in the first half, which ended at 21-3. Special teams' captain Frank Marion then gave the Giants a lift in the third period by blocking a Redskins' punt and recovering at the Washington 26 from where Brunner fired a 26-yard TD pass to WR Johnny Perkins to cut it to 21-10, and after Moseley booted a 37-yard FG, the Giants mounted a 77-yard drive into the fourth period which was culminated by Cliff Chatman's 1-yard blast to get the Giants closer at 24-17. That was it, however, as the Skins' defense held from thereon, and Moseley booted his second FG in the closing seconds. Brunner threw 14-for-28 for 169 yards and one TD, while the Giants' rushing perked up somewhat with Woolfolk rushing for 62 yards on 12 carries and Chatman 54 on 11 trips. Johnny Perkins had five catches for 88 yards and one TD, while defensively, LBs Harry Carson, Lawrence Taylor and Brian Kelley led the way with 10, 7 and 7 tackles in that order.

November 25    GIANTS, 13    Detroit, 6 (64,348)    At Pontiac

Appearing in the Thanksgiving Day game for the first time on national television, the Giants finally broke into the win column as linebacker Lawrence Taylor made it a virtual one-man show. Out of the starting lineup because of a slight knee injury, L. T. got back into the action midway through the second period, but really made his presence felt in the second half after the Giants had trailed 6-0 on a pair of Eddie Murray FGs. First, he put the blitz on Lion QB Gary Danielson forcing a hurried pass which was intercepted by Harry Carson. That set up a 34-yard FG by Joe Danelo to cut the margin in half. Then on the next Lion series, L. T. slammed RB Billy Sims causing a fumble which was recovered by Brad Van Pelt at the Lions' 18, and that ended in another Danelo FG from 40 yards out which tied the score at 6-6. Then on the following Detroit possession, Taylor blunted a Lion drive with one of his bionic one-handed QB sacks on Danielson, forcing Detroit to punt the ball away, and finally in the fourth period, came up with his vintage play. With Detroit on the Giants' 4-yard line, he picked off a Danielson swing pass at the 3-yard line and showed his sprinter's speed with a 97-yard interception return for the touchdown that won the game, 13-6. It was Taylor's first NFL touchdown and the third longest interception return in club history. QB Scott Brunner was 12-for-28 for 136 yards with two interceptions, while rookie RB Butch Woolfolk made his return to the Michigan area a good one with 87 yards rushing and four pass receptions. WR Johnny Perkins had five grabs for 80 yards before being injured. Defensively, Harry Carson had 10 solo tackles, five assists and an interception, while LB Brian Kelley added 11 tackles. Taylor had four tackles in addition to his sack and interception return, while CB Terry Jackson added a third interception in the final moments of the game, and S Beasley Reece added eight solo tackles.

December 5      GIANTS, 17      Houston, 14 (71,184)      At Giants Stadium

The Giants made it two wins in a row, rallying from a 14-3 deficit in the fourth period behind the heroics of rookie RB Butch Woolfolk. Trailing 14-3 with just 7:00 left to play, Butch made a big 26-yard pass reception, then capped a 55-yard drive by diving in for a touchdown from two yards out to cut the margin to 14-10. Then, after the Giants' defense thwarted the Oilers on their subsequent possession, the Giants mounted another drive, aided by a pass interference call, and with 3:00 left to play, Woolfolk made a one-handed circus catch of a Scott Brunner aerial and danced into the end zone to complete the 40-yard pass play for the winning touchdown. The defense then rose up in unison on the following Oiler possession, sacking QB Archie Manning three straight plays for losses of 26 yards, with two of the traps by DE George Martin and the final one by LB Lawrence Taylor, to cement the victory. Early on, the Giants had been sluggish on offense, with two of their offensive drives coming up empty when Joe Danelo missed FG attempts from 37 and 42 yards. At that, the Giants took a 3-0 lead in the first period when Woolfolk's 13-yard run set up a 26-yard Danelo FG, but Houston came back for a 7-3 halftime lead when reserve QB Gifford Nielsen (replacing Manning briefly after Manning was shaken up on a sack by George Martin) threw a 23-yard TD pass to Gary Allen. The Giants blew another opportunity in the third period when Woolfolk fumbled the ball away at the Oilers' 11-yard line, and after Danelo missed a 42-yard FG try, the Oilers went 75 yards for a score, with TE Dave Casper grabbing an 8-yard TD throw from Manning. Scott Brunner completed 18-of-30 for 289 yards and one TD, while Woolfolk had a big day all around with 62 yards rushing and six pass receptions for 102 yards. The game also marked the return of fullback Rob Carpenter who ended a season-long holdout and had 48 yards rushing on 12 carries, including a 23-yard burst in the final moments to kill the clock. Punter Dave Jennings set an alltime club record by averaging 55.3 on four punts, including a 73-yarder which was the second longest punt in club history. LB Harry Carson had 11 tackles and a QB sack, while DE George Martin had three QB sacks.

December 11    GIANTS, 23    Philadelphia, 7 (66,053)    At Giants Stadium

A third straight victory for the Giants and their best all-around performance of the season as the club totally dominated the Eagles, rolling up 353 yards of offense while shackling Philly to just 198 yards. The Eagles managed but 41 yards rushing and the Giants defense sacked QB Ron Jaworski eight times for 61 yards. The game marked the debut of FA wide receiver Floyd Eddings who responded with five catches for 148 yards, and punt returner Leon Bright set an alltime club record with nine punt returns, with his 143 yards returned just four yards shy of Emlen Tunnell's alltime one-game harvest. Leon broke a 33-yard punt return in the first period which led to a 37-yard Joe Danelo FG for a 3-0 lead, but the Eagles came back for their only lead of the day on a 23-yard TD throw from Jaworski to WR Harold Carmichael. From there on, it was all New York. A 41-yard connection from Scott Brunner to Eddings featured the next march, with Butch Woolfolk scoring the TD on a 5-yard pass from Brunner for a 10-7 lead, then after a 29-yard punt return by Bright, Brunner hit Eddings for 24 yards to position a 16-yard TD strike to WR Earnest Gray and a 17-7 halftime lead. In the second half, the Giant defense completely shut down the Eagles, and the home team wrapped up the victory with a pair of Danelo FGs, the first from 34 yards, and the second one from 29 yards after the Giants had mounted a ball control drive which covered 88 yards in 18 plays and used up 10:01 on the clock, with RB Rob Carpenter rushing 11 times on the drive. Such was the ferocity of the Giants' defense in that second half that Philadelphia could manage but 54 yards of total offense and just three first downs. And, for the entire game, the Eagles did not get a first down rushing, with all nine of their first downs in the entire game coming via the pass. Brunner hit on 17-of-26 for 272 yards and two TDs, while Carpenter was the leading rusher with 58 yards. Eddings' five catches for 148 yards topped the receivers, with Earnest Gray also grabbing five for 79 yards. Defensively, LB Lawrence Taylor had eight tackles and three QB sacks, while NT Bill Neill had six stops and two QB traps, with the other sacks by LB Brad Van Pelt, and DEs George Martin and Phil Tabor. CB Terry Jackson had a pair of interceptions.

December 19      GIANTS, 14      Washington, 15 (50,030)      At Washington

If any one game could symbolize the frustration of the 1982 season for the Giants, it was this heart-wrenching loss to the Super Bowl champion Redskins. After rolling up three straight victories, the Giants were stunned earlier in the week when Head Coach Ray Perkins announced he would leave after the regular season to become head coach at Alabama. Then, needing victories to get into the playoffs, the Giants' defense came up with a superlative effort throughout to pick up the slack from an otherwise sputtering offense. But after building a 14-3 halftime lead, the Giants gave up a touchdown on a Redskins' busted play in the third period, then were done in when Mark Moseley kicked an NFL record 21st straight FG from 42 yards out with just four seconds left to play. LB Byron Hunt actually got his fingertips on the FG attempt, but it still had enough gusto to just clear the crossbar. Early on, the Giants took a 7-0 lead on their first possession when Scott Brunner hit WR Johnny Perkins for a 28-yard TD. Moseley then hit a 20-yard FG to cut it to 7-3, but the Giants' defense continued to thwart Joe Theismann & Co., and CB Terry Jackson's interception set up a 1-yard TD burst by Butch Woolfolk for that 14-3 halftime lead. In that first half, the Giants held John Riggins to 22 yards rushing and intercepted Theismann four times, two by LB Brian Kelley. Then came the 'Skins' TD on the busted play when RB Joe Washington swept right attempting a halfback pass, but when everyone was covered, he reversed his field, faked another throw, then weaved 22 yards for the 'Skins' only TD. Then, after Moseley had kicked his 31-yard FG to close it to 14-12, LB Brian Kelley, who played an outstanding game, came up with a clutch play which seemed to have clinched the win for the Giants. Faced with fourth-and-one at their own 40, the Redskins sent Riffin for the first down, but Kelley spilled him for a one-yard loss and the Giants took over on the 'Skins' 39 with 5:00 to play. But Brunner couldn't produce a first down and was sacked twice, forcing a punt, and the Redskins then moved nicely to position Moseley's winning FG. The Giants managed only 139 yards of offense with Brunner going but 10-for-26 for 128 yards with five sacks, and the rushing attack managed only 55 yards, 28 by Rob Carpenter and 27 by Woolfolk. Earnest Gray had three catches for 36 yards, and Dave Jennings punted 10 times for a 37.8 average. Defensively, Kelley was outstanding with 17 tackles, two interceptions and a pass deflection, while Harry Carson had 14 tackles.

December 26    GIANTS, 21    St. Louis, 24 (39,824)    At St. Louis

Hard on the heels of the wrencher in Washington, the Giants suffered another blow to their playoff hopes in this one, watching a 21-17 lead over the Cardinals disappear in the final 34 seconds when St. Lou drove 70 yards in four plays and in just 40 seconds, to bring about a demoralizing 24-21 setback. The Giants had to play catch-up in this one, falling behind 14-0 midway through the second period, but managed to do so on the wings of a strong offensive showing. St. Lou took that early lead by scoring on a fake field goal with holder Roger Wherli sprinting 18 yards for the TD. That went to 14-0 when Roy Green scored on an 8-yard pass from Neil Lomax, but the Giants bounced back for an 81-yard march which was capped by Rob Carpenter's one-yard TD dive to cut it to 14-7 at halftime. That went to 17-7 on a Cardinal 18-yard FG early in the third period, but after the Giants had failed to cash in on a drive in the fourth period when Joe Danelo missed a 41-yard FG attempt, QB Scott Brunner led two more fourth quarter drives which resulted in the go-ahead scores. First, Brunner took the club 64 yards, completing six-of-seven passes, with the score coming on a 13-yard strike to WR John Mistler, and then after the Giants had sacked Lomax twice forcing a punt, Brunner drove the club again in the final two minutes, hitting Mistler for a key 20 yard gain before finding the same receiver in the end zone for a 3-yard TD pass that put the Giants on top 21-17 with 1:01 to play. Alas, the Birds drove 70 yards in four plays to win it, with Lomax hitting Green from eight yards out for the crusher. Brunner had his alltime career best game, hitting 29 of 51 passes for 326 yards without an interception and a pair of TDs, with Mistler catching five for 68 yards and two TDs, rookie Joe Morris five for 31 yards and rookie Floyd Eddings four for 67 yards. Defensively, LB Harry Carson had 12 tackles and LB Brad Van Pelt 11 stops. DE Phil Tabor and S. Bill Currier each had two QB sacks, and Currier added an interception.

January 2    GIANTS, 26    Philadelphia, 24 (55,797)    At Philadelphia

With an outside chance to still make the playoffs with a 4-5 record, the Giants came through with their fourth straight victory over the Eagles, this one a 26-24 decision on Joe Danelo's 25-yard FG with two seconds left to play. The playoff chance went south, however, when Atlanta swooned to New Orleans. The Giants rallied twice in this one, after being down 14-3 in the second period and 24-23 with 2:25 to play. The first of four FGs by Danelo, a 45-yarder, gave the Giants an early 3-0 lead, but the Eagles came back on a Ron Jaworski TD throw to Vito Kab and Wilbert Montgomery's 2-yard TD thrust. Scott Brunner then took the club on a 75-yard scoring march and punctuated the move with a 24-yard TD toss to Earnest Gray, and after DB Mike Dennis recovered an Eagle fumble, Danelo added a 31-yard FG to cut it to 14-13 at halftime. The Giants took the lead in the third period on a 26-yard Danelo FG, and then upped it to 23-14 when Brunner ran seven yards for a TD after finding no receivers open. The Eagles then put on a fourth period rally of their own, cutting it to 23-21 on an 18-yard TD throw from Jaworski to TE John Spagnola, then after Butch Woolfolk fumbled on a kickoff return and lost it at the Giants' 17, Tony Franklin kicked a 35-yard FG to give the Eagles that 24-23 lead. Danelo missed a 49-yard FG attempt with 6:47 to play, but after the Giants' defense checked the Eagles, Brunner led the club on a 57-yard march in the final minutes with the key play a 17-yard connection to TE Gary Shirk to position Danelo's winning FG. Brunner had another good day against the Eagles, hitting 21-of-35 for 196 yards, while Butch Woolfolk and Rob Carpenter had 63 and 52 yards rushing respectively. Woolfolk also had five pass receptions for 36 yards, while Mullady and rookie WR Floyd Eddings added four catches each. The Giants' defense shackled the Eagle rushing attack to 50 yards in 22 carries for a 2.3 average, after having held the Eagles to 41 yards rushing in the first meeting of the club at Giants Stadium. CB Mark Haynes had nine tackles and two deflected passes, while LB Brian Kelley had six stops and an interception. The Giants had three sacks on Jaworski (by Brad Van Pelt, George Martin and rookie NT Jerome Sally) to give the club a total of 11 sacks on Jaworski in the two games vs. Philly.

1982 PRE-SEASON RECAP

August 14    GIANTS, 14    Baltimore, 19 (31,985)    At Baltimore

The Colts pulled out this pre-season opener in the final two minutes of play when LB Rickey Jones intercepted a Mark Reed flat pass with 1:50 left to play and returned it 45 yards to the Giants' two. Three plays later, RB Jackson went in from the one-yard line with 17 seconds left to ice the decision. The Colts had taken an early 7-0 lead when rookie QB Mike Pagel threw a 23-yard TD pass to Ray Butler, but the Giants came back to tie it behind Phil Simms, with Phil hitting on two key pass completions to set up a 5-yard TD burst by FB Leon Perry. The Colts went back in front on a 22-yard FG by Wood, but the Giants bounced back for a 14-10 halftime edge when Scott Brunner fired a 10-yard TD strike to WR John Mistler. First-year man Mark Reed played the entire second half at QB and when he was sacked in the end zone for a safety, the Colts drew to within 14-12. An interception by CB Mike Dennis with 2:00 to play apparently sewed up the win for the Giants, but then Reed had the pass picked off by Jones to set up the winning Colt score. Simms was 3-for-9 for 53 yards, Brunner 5-for-6 for 45 and Reed 7-for-22 for 54 in passing, with rookie Joe Morris the leading rusher with 29 yards in seven trips. TE Gary Shirk had three pass receptions. Mark Haynes had eight tackles and NT Jim Burt added seven and a QB sack after replacing an injured Bill Neill.

August 21    GIANTS, 10    Pittsburgh, 13 (51,118)    At Giants Stadium

The Giants completely dominated the Steelers in the first half of this one, rolling up 279 yards of offense by halftime, while on defense sacking QB Terry Bradshaw six times for 55 yards and getting two interceptions, both by CB Mark Haynes. Then, in the second half, a fumble by RB Larry Coffey at the Giants' 5-yard line led to an easy Steeler TD, and after Phil Simms was intercepted after TE Gary Shirk had the pass bounce out of his hands, the Steelers hit one big play—a 60-yard bomb from Cliff Stoudt to Jim Smith for the winning score. In that big first half, Scott Brunner completed 13-of-21 for 205 yards, including a 6-yard TD throw to WR John Mistler to cap an 80-yard drive on eight plays. A blocked punt by S Larry Flowers then set up a 42-yard Joe Danelo FG to give the Giants that 10-0 halftime lead. Rookie RB Joe Morris rushed for 48 yards on just nine carries in the game and also caught three passes. Mistler had three catches for 49 yards and rookie WR Floyd Eddings two for 58 yards. All-Pro LB Lawrence Taylor led the sack attack on Bradshaw with three for 35 yards, with S Pete Shaw adding seven tackles.

August 28    GIANTS, 22    Jets 10 (74,564)    At Giants Stadium

After five straight losses to the Jets in pre-season games at Giants Stadium, the Giants routed the Jets 22-10 in this one before a full house, shackling the Jets' offense to just 54 yards of total offense, 26 yards rushing and a net of 28 yards passing, while sacking the Jets QBs six times for 60 yards. The rough part of the victory, however, was the loss of QB Phil Simms for the entire season after he tore ligaments in a knee in the second period. Up to the point of his injury, Simms had hit on 5-of-9 passes and mounted an early drive which resulted in a Joe Danelo FG—his first of five in the game—for a 3-0 lead. Danelo added three more FGs in the first half, from 46, 31 and 20 yards for a 12-0 halftime lead before the Jets got on the board via a 35-yard interception return for a TD by Darrol Ray. Brunner was intercepted again by Ray on the next Giant series at the Giants' 22, but the Jets couldn't move it and settled for a Pat Leahy FG to cut it to 12-10. A fumble recovery by DB Mike Mayock set up Danelo's fifth FG, a 27-yarder to make it 15-10, then Danny Pittman put the game on ice by returning a Jet punt 55 yards for a touchdown behind some crisp downfield blocking. Brunner finished 10-for-24 for 89 yards with three interceptions, with WR John Mistler the leading receiver with five grabs for 53 yards and rookie Joe Morris the leading rusher again with 43 yards in 11 carries. LB Lawrence Taylor had eight tackles and two QB sacks, LB Brian Kelley eight stops and DE Gary Jeter two QB sacks and a blocked pass on a fourth down play.

September 3    GIANTS, 13    Miami, 16 Overtime (40,464)    At Miami

The Giants played sharply in this pre-season finale against the Dolphins, but after rallying from a 10-0 deficit to knot it at 13-13 in the final period, Miami won it in overtime, aided by a roughing the kicker penalty which kept a drive alive and resulted in a 31-yard Rex Robinson FG with 5:29 elapsed. Robinson had booted a 42-yarder in the first period for a 3-0 Dolphin lead, then QB Don Strock fired a 5-yard TD pass to up it to 10-0. The Giants then went 73 yards on the ensuing kickoff, with the TD coming on a 30-yard pass from Scott Brunner to Butch Woolfolk. Then, the Giants moved smartly with 58 seconds to go in the half, driving 46 yards to beat the clock with a 52-yard Joe Danelo FG to knot it at 10-10. Robinson boomed a 53-yard FG in the third period for a 13-10 Miami edge, but Danelo hit a 48-yarder to tie it at 13-all and send the game into overtime. Brunner finished with 12-of-28 for 145 yards, with Johnny Perkins and Tom Mullady catching three each. Cliff Chatman had 40 yards rushing to set the pace there, while defensively, Harry Carson had 16 tackles, and LB Frank Marion added nine, plus an interception. Byron Hunt was in on two QB sacks, with Dee Hardison adding a third.

During the pre-season training camp, that contact can be made at Pace University training camp in Pleasantville, N.Y., and during the regular season at the Giants' Executive offices at Giants Stadium. For those who can be served by telecopier, the direct telecopier line at Giants Stadium is (201) 935-8493. Daily reports are also available throughout the pre-season and regular season for members of the media on the Giants' Code-A-Phone and that service at Giants' Stadium is available by calling (201) 935-7515. For members of the media requiring press accreditation, contact Tom Power, Director of Promotion, at the Giants' Executive offices.

COVER CREDITS: The cover of the 1983 Giants' Media Guide is the artwork of Frank Becerra, one of the finest sports cartoonists in the country. Becerra's work appears regularly in the Westchester-Rockland Newspapers Group of the Gannet chain where Frank is the Art Director. In addition to new Head Coach Bill Parcells and Vice-President, General Manager George Young, the cover honors the Giants' 1982 All-NFL, Pro Bowl and All-NFL Rookie selections. Clockwise from the top right are LB Lawrence Taylor (All-NFL, Pro Bowl), punter Dave Jennings (All-NFL, Pro Bowl), RB Butch Woolfolk (All-NFL Rookie and NFC Offensive Rookie of the Year), CB Mark Haynes (All-NFL, Pro Bowl), LB Harry Carson (All-NFL, Pro Bowl), and center Rich Umphrey (All-NFL Rookie). The inside back cover shows wide receiver John Mistler in action at Giants Stadium after making one of his patented moves. This photo was taken by photographer N. R. Rowan.
