A look at the past...

THROUGH THE YEARS

The New York Giants were the hook which held the ragged cloak of professional football's formative years.

The Giants franchise Timothy J. Mara bought in the summer of 1925 helped further pro football in a time when it was in danger of disintergrating for lack of money and public support. Mara held the line in New York. He kept the game alive. His tools were energy, family pride, money and a sure promotional touch. That he did so in a time when the sports headlines belonged to Babe Ruth and Bill Tilden... to Bobby Jones and Jack Dempsey... and to college football was remarkable.

Pro football? Few sports fans in New York had even heard of it, let alone seen it played.

Indeed, the game had much to be modest about in 1925. It was a shaky band of teams that called itself the National Professional Football League—then five years old. Made up of about 20 clubs—month-to-month changes made a hard number unattainable—this clumsy child of a league was manned by former All-America football players, aging Olympic stars, out of work baseball players, part-time cowboys, wrestlers, dock hands, factory workers and anyone else who felt he could play.

Club franchises in those days were bought, sold and moved about like rolling stock. A number of the 1925 teams failed. What little stability the young league had was centered in a combative ex-sailor named George Halas, who owned, coached and played for the Chicago Bears. Within 20 years this man would be known as Papa Bear, and his "cubs" as the fearsome "Monsters of the Midway."

Tim Mara's first contribution to this helter-skelter organization was $2,500, the price of the New York franchise. Some accounts put the figure at $500... that may have been the down payment. The Giants say $2,500.

His second contribution was to draw public attention to pro football. Toward that end, he tried to sign the great Red Grange, the Galloping Ghost from Illinois, but Halas and the Bears beat Mara to the prize. Mara wisely settled for second best—a final game in New York against the Bears, featuring Grange, but in a Bears'—not Giants'—uniform.

Public support for the game was vital to the plucky Irishman's football future. If Mara could fill the Polo Grounds, the Giants' home stadium, he'd break even. If not, New York, as a professional football town, might well have to go the way of Dayton, Rochester and Columbus as league dropouts.

The game against the Bears on December 6, 1925, turned out to be the first miracle of Coogan's Bluff. Archives of the day relate how an estimated crowd of 70,000 fans jammed the Polo Grounds, swarmed over temporary field bleachers, climbed rooftops and literally hung from the rafters in order to catch a glimpse of the fabled Galloping Ghost.

The Bears beat the Giants 19-7, with Grange scoring once on an interception. More important, however, was the enthusiastic reception the game evoked from the press and the fans. They loved the spectacle. That winter, Tim Mara and the other NFL franchise owners drew strength from the belief that professional football, given star players, the proper setting and enough publicity, could become a respectable—and profitable—enterprise.

But neither Mara nor the league were out of the financial woods yet. Spurred by the success of the Giants-Bears game, a promoter known as C.C. (Cash-and-Carry) Pyle, who held the rights to Red Grange's services, organized a rival pro league in 1926 and fielded competing teams in Yankee Stadium, just across from the Polo Grounds, and in Brooklyn's Ebbets Field.

It was a case of too much pro football, too soon, played before too few spectators. Before the 1926 season ended, the rival league folded.

And so, very nearly did the Giants. Dogged by bad weather, poor attendance and higher payrolls as a result of bidding against Pyle for player talent, Mara and the surviving league owners found themselves in dire straits. But they prevailed with worn uniforms, through coach travel on trains, in cheap hotels and with reduced squads; they scraped enough money together to keep their franchises operating through 1927 and 1928.

Keystone for survival were the Giants. As long as Mara could turn out a team in New York, with its many newspaper and radio outlets and its great population, there was hope for professional football.

Mara made his next major contribution to pro football in 1929 when he signed Benny Friedman, Michigan's triple-threat quarterback. Friedman's contract was held by the Detroit Wolverines. In order to sign him, Mara had to buy the Wolverines.

With Friedman in New York and Grange back in the NFL at Chicago, the Giants and the NFL began to jell. Schedules were formalized and followed. Player contracts ran for an entire season, rather than game by game. Newspapers carried accounts of games and league standings.

By now traditional rivalries between the Giants, the Green Bay Packers and the Bears had been firmly established. Excitement generated by the visitors from the midwest was enough to keep the league and its teams solvent through the depression years.

It was from this bleak period that the Giants' influence on the league shifted from personalities to game strategy. In 1931 Mara named Steve Owen head coach—a job Owen had shared with Friedman in 1930. The move had a profound effect, not only on the Giants, but on the game itself. Owen, a massive tackle who had practically filled one side of the Giant line in his playing days, became a coach whose trademark was hard defensive line play and a tenacious pass defense.

So successful were Owen's coaching tactics that they brought the team six divisional titles and two league championships in the 10 years between 1931 and 1941.

Owen is remembered for his famed "umbrella" defense against the pass. It had a six-man defensive line, one linebacker and four defensive backs—the 6-1-4 defense. But as the opponent's pass play developed, the two outside defensive linemen dropped back, instead of rushing the passer, to form a semicircle secondary, resembling the top of an open umbrella. This defense prompted many NFL coaches to adopt the four-man line, but it remained for one of his player-coaches, defensive back Tom Landry, to ultimately refine it (after World War II and under a later Giants' coach, Jim Lee Howell) into the 4-3-4 defense—the dominant defense of the past three decades.

Pro football, however, travels in cycles and in time the opposition solved Owen's defense with new attack patterns. Young,imaginative coaches led by Paul Brown introduced a more open style of play—multiple offenses and the option. Steve Owen's coaching career with the Giants ended in 1953.

His successor was Jim Lee Howell, a soft-spoken giant of a man who had played end for Owen in the years before and after World War II, and who had become the team's first end coach in 1948.

Howell's leadership brought a new structure to the club. A man who believed in delegating authority, he handed the defensive responsibilities to Tom Landry. It was under Howell that Landry perfected the standard 4-3-4 defense that popularized play in the '60s.

1954 was also the year Howell brought into the Giants' organization a man whose impact on the game would become a legend—Vince Lombardi. As Howell's first lieutenant and offensive coach, Lombardi introduced the power sweep with its intricate pulling and trapping lineman and crushing double-team blocks. Lombardi restored the ground game to prominence in pro football.

Eventually, Howell's people would flourish in the NFL. Included were seven former Giants players or coaches who had held or were holding head coaching jobs in the National Football League: the late Vince Lombardi, Green Bay Packers and Washington Redskins; Tom Landry, Dallas Cowboys; Dick Nolan, San Francisco 49ers and New Orleans Saints; Harland Svare, San Diego Chargers; Alex Webster, Giants; Bill Austin, Pittsburgh Steelers and Redskins; and Ed Hughes, Houston Oilers.

Out of the Howell regime, too, came a dozen or more assistant coaches, including Emlen Tunnell, the first black coach in the game. And for what it reveals about the intelligence and versatility of his old crew, a number of broadcasters—Frank Gifford, Kyle Rote, Pat Summerall, Al DeRogatis and Sam Huff. There are sound reasons why the Giants' organization is referred to as Mara Tech.

However you would define the influence of Mara's Giants on pro football—persistence in the face of adversity, timely promotion, pluck, coaching leadership, player ability—it adds up to what the NFL needed most in the early days and what it utilized later in its growth years.

(This look at the past was excerpted from the NFL Creative Services Book, "The New York Giants" by author Jim Terzian.)

CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES

1927 GIANTS 13, Chicago Bears 7

Led by Steve Owen, the Giants finished with an 11-1-1 record, then stunned Red Grange, John Driscoll and the Bears 13-7 at the Polo Grounds. "It was the toughest, roughest football game I ever played in" Owen was later to say. With the score tied 7-7, the Bears drove to the Giants' one-yard line, but Owen and Cal Hubbard spearheaded a goal line defense which held the Windy City crew. Hinkey Haines then faked a punt from his own end zone and completed a pass to Charlie Corgan for a 58-yard gain which set up the winning score and elation for Tim Mara.

1933 Chicago Bears 23, GIANTS 21

Jack Manders opened the scoring for the Bears at Wrigley Field, Chicago before 26,000 with a 16-yard field goal in the first period to touch off 60 minutes of fireworks which kept fans standing on their chairs through most of the game. Manders kicked a 28-yard FG for a 6-0 lead in the second period before Harry Newman hit Red Badgro for a touchdown pass and a 7-6 Giant lead at the half. Manders' third FG regained the lead for the Bears, but Max Krause's TD and the conversion by Ken Strong put NY back in front 14-9. A pass from Bronko Nagurski to Bill Karr made it 16-14, Chicago, before Strong lateraled to Newman who then threw a TD pass back to Strong for a 21-16 Giant lead late in the game. The Bears bounced back to win, however, when Nagurski's jump pass to Bill Hewitt was lateraled to Karr for the game-winning touchdown.

1934 GIANTS 30, Chicago Bears 13

With the temperature at nine degrees and the Polo Grounds covered with a sheet of ice, this one became famous as the "sneakers" game when Steve Owen provided his squad with basketball shoes to open the second half with his club trailing 10-3. The Giants responded with four touchdowns which had a crowd of 35,059 roaring approval. The Bears had a string of 33 games without defeat going into this one, but fell behind 3-0 on a 38-yard FG by Ken Strong. A TD by Nagurski and a field goal by Manders got the Bears in front 10-3 at the half, when Owen sent for the sneakers to take advantage of the slippery footing. Ahead 13-2 on another Manders' FG, the Bears were swamped in a fourth-period Giant uprising which saw Ed Danowski throw a 28-yard TD pass to Ike Frankian and Ken Strong race 42 yards for another TD just moments later for a 17-13 lead. Danowski and Strong raced for subsequent touchdowns against the stunned Bears to turn the game into a rout.

1935 Detroit Lions 26, GIANTS 7

With a crowd of about 15,000 looking on, the Lions took a 13-0 lead in the first period when Leroy "Ace" Gutowsky plunged over from the 2-yard line and Earl "Dutch" Clark shook loose on a 40-yard touchdown romp. The Giants closed the gap at 13-7 in the third period when Danowski connected with Strong for a 42-yard touchdown pass, but the Lions' defense accounted for two more scores in the final period on a blocked punt and intercepted pass. Ernie Caddel scored the first on a 4-yard slant and Buddy Parker the second on a 9-yard run.

1938 GIANTS 23, Green Bay Packers 17

A slam-bang, bruising thriller was staged for the largest crowd (48,120 at the Polo Grounds) to see a championship game up to that time. With the victory, the Giants became the first team to win the championship twice since the divisional splitup. The Giants blocked two punts early in the game, and capitalized on both with Ward Cuff kicking a 13-yard FG and Tuffy Leemans blasting over on a 6-yard plunge. Arnie Herber's 50-yard TD pass to Carl Mulleneaux got the Packers on the scoreboard, but Danowski hit Hap Barnard for a 20-yard TD pass and a 16-7 lead. The Packers closed to 16-14 at halftime on Clark Hinkle's 6-yard TD, then took the lead 17-16 on Engebretsen's third-period FG. New York then stormed back to the Packer 23 from where Danowski passed to Hank Soar for the game-winning TD.

1939 Green Bay Packers 27, GIANTS 0

The Packers came up with sweet revenge in a grudge match played before 32,279 at Milwaukee's State Fair Grounds. Cold weather and a 35-MPH wind made aerial sorties a bit dubious, but Green Bay scored quickly on a 7-yard pitch from Herber to Milt Gantenbein. Engebretsen kicked a 29-yard FG in the third period for a 10-0 lead, and the Packers wrapped it up with touchdowns by Joe Laws on a 20-yard pass from Cecil Isbell, a one-yard plunge by Jankowski and Ernie Smith's 42-yard field goal.

1941 Chicago Bears 37, GIANTS 9

Attendance was only 13,341 at Wrigley Field, just two weeks after Pearl Harbor Day. The Giants led 6-3 in the first period on a Tuffy Leemans to George Franck touchdown pass of 31 yards, but the Bears went on a pair of field goals, then broke the game wide open in the second half on touchdowns by Norm Standlee (2), George McAfee and Ken Kavanaugh.

1944 Green Bay 14, GIANTS 7

The Packers took a 14-0 lead at halftime before 46,016 at the Polo Grounds on touchdowns by Ted Fritsch—the first on a 2-yard plunge and the second on a 26-yard pass from Irv Comp with Don Hutson adding the conversions. Ward Cuff scored on a 1-yard plunge on the first play of the final period for the Giants, but the Packers hung on for the triumph.

1946 Chicago Bears 24, GIANTS 14

Sid Luckman was the big man for the Bears in this win before 58,346 at the Polo Grounds. He passed for a 21-yard TD to Ken Kavanaugh to open the scoring, then ran 19 yards for a score later in the game. Dante Magnani's 19-yard pass interception accounted for the third Bear score, while the Giants hit the scoring column on touchdown passes from Frank Filchock to Frank Liebel and Steve Filipowicz.

1956 GIANTS 47, Chicago Bears 7

Fullback Mel Triplett smashed 17 yards for a TD early in the game on an icy field before a big crowd, then Ben Agajanian added a brace of field goals for a 13-0 lead. It was 34-7 at halftime as Alex Webster crashed over for a pair of touchdowns from inside the 5-yard line. Charlie Conerly's aerials brought nothing but more woe to the Bears in the second half, with Kyle Rote snaring a 9-yard TD throw and Frank Gifford a 14-yarder to close out the scoring.

1958 Baltimore Colts 23, GIANTS 17

Some people call this the greatest game ever played, and perhaps it was for drama and its sudden-death ending. With a crowd of 64,185 on hand at Yankee Stadium, the Giants led 3-0 on a 36-yard Pat Summerall FG in the first period, with the Colts taking over 14-3 at halftime on scores by Alan Ameche from the 2-yard line and Ray Berry on a 15-yard pitch from Johnny Unitas. The Giants scored in the third period on a 1-yard plunge by Mel Triplett after an 86-yard gainer from Conerly to Rote with Webster picking up Rote's fumble. The Giants went in front 17-14 on Conerly's 15-yard TD throw to Gifford, but the Colts tied it with seven seconds to play on Steve Myrah's 13-yard FG and won in the overtime on Ameche's 1-yard plunge, the 13th play of a Colt drive.

Charlie Conerly

1959 Baltimore Colts 31, GIANTS 10

A sellout crowd of 57,577 was on hand at Baltimore's Municipal Stadium for the big rematch of the divisional champions. The home crowd had plenty to cheer about in the early going as Unitas hit Lenny Moore for a 60-yard TD bomb, but the Giants surged back to stop the Colt offense. With Summerall kicking three field goals (23, 26 and 23 yards), the Giants led 9-7 going into the final period. But the Colts stormed back with a furious final period onslaught as Unitas scored on a 4-yard run, threw a 12-yard TD pass to Richardson and Johnny Sample returned an interception for another score.

1961 Green Bay Packers 37, GIANTS 0

With a crowd of 39,029 looking on in Green Bay, Paul Hornung paced the Packers to a stunning 37-0 triumph by scoring 19 points on a touchdown, three field goals and four conversions. On leave from his Army duties in Fort Riley, Kan., Hornung scored on a 6-yard slant in the second period to break a scoreless deadlock and set off a Packer splurge which accounted for 24 points in that quarter. The Giants were unable to recover from this onslaught and suffered their first shutout in nine seasons. Bart Starr's touchdown pass to Ron Kramer and a pair of Hornung field goals closed out the scoring in the second half.

1962 Green Bay Packers 16, GIANTS 7

Bitter cold weather at Yankee Stadium was no deterrent to 64,892 fans who turned out for the year's big one. As things turned out, a trio of field goals by Packer guard Jerry Kramer made the difference in a game where both defensive units turned in superlative jobs. The only Giant score was a result of defensive work when Erich Barnes blocked a Max McGee punt and reserve end Jim Collier fell on the ball in the end zone.

1963 Chicago Bears 14, GIANTS 10

The Bear defense turned the tide in this championship game, played in 10 degree weather in Wrigley Field. Taking the early lead on a 14-yard Y.A. Tittle TD pass to Frank Gifford and Don Chandler's FG, the Giants were the victims of five pass interceptions thereafter, two of which set up the Bear scores. Larry Morris swiped the first one for a return of 61 yards, while Ed O'Bradovich's steal of a screen pass set up what turned out to be the winning score. Tittle suffered a knee injury in the first half, but gallantly returned to action in the second half, though he was hampered and hobbled by his injury.

1986 GIANTS 39, Denver Broncos 20

Led by the brilliant record-setting passing of Phil Simms, the Giants won their first Super Bowl with a 30-point second-half onslaught before 101,063 spectators at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena. Simms pitched 22-for-25 for 268 yards and three TDs, setting an alltime NFL playoff mark of 88.0% completion and winning the MVP honors in the game. Down 10-9 at halftime, the Giants rang up 24 unanswered points to take a commanding 33-10 lead in the fourth period with Simms' TD passes going to TEs Zeke Mowatt and Mark Bavaro and to WR Phil McConkey. Linebacker Carl Banks was a star on defense with 10 solo tackles as the Giants concluded their greatest season ever with a 17-2 record.

HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS

1925-29—Tim Mara purchased a National Football League franchise for New York for $500. Bob Folwell was named head coach and all-time great Jim Thorpe was signed. More than 70,000 jammed the Polo Grounds to see the Giants play Red Grange and the Chicago Bears. The Giants went 8-4 in their first season. Folwell left, and was replaced by Dr. Joe Alexander as head coach. Despite an 8-4-1 record in 1926, Mara lost $40,000. Earl Potteiger replaced Alexander in 1927, and the Giants won their first title with an 11-1-1 record. In 1929 the 13-1-1 Giants averaged 25,000 fans and turned a small profit.

1930—Ownership of the club was turned over to Jack and Wellington Mara, the two sons of the founder.

1931—Center Mel Hein was signed. Steve Owen was named head coach.

1932—Ray Flaherty became the NFL's first official pass reception champion with 21 catches.

1933—The Giants easily won the Eastern Division of the newly-divided NFL. In the league's first championship game, the Giants lost to the Bears 23-21.

1934—In what has come to be known as the "Sneakers Game," the Giants defeated the Bears 30-13 for the NFL title. Some of the New York players wore basketball shoes to increase traction on the icy Polo Grounds turf.

1935—The Giants advanced to their third straight NFL championship game, but lost to Detroit 26-7.

1938—A 23-17 victory over Green Bay produced the Giants' third NFL title.

1939—Green Bay avenged the 1938 loss with a 27-0 drubbing of the Giants in the NFL title game.

1941—In the wake of Peal Harbor, only 13,341 spectators turned out to see Chicago top the Giants in the NFL title game.

1944—Luring Arnie Herber and Ken Strong out of retirement, the Giants scored five shutouts en route to the Eastern title, but lost the NFL championship game to Green Bay 14-7.

1946—Frankie Filchock, an understudy to Sammy Baugh at Washington, signed with the Giants for a reported $35,000, but was suspended indefinitely along with teammate Merle Hapes for alleged gambling involvement.

1951—Kyle Rote of Southern Methodist was the Giants' bonus pick in the draft, but was injured in the preseason and saw little action. Eddie Price led the NFL in rushing with 971 yards.

1952—Tailback Frank Gifford of USC was drafted number one. Playing in his fifth year, Emlen Tunnell gained more yardage on kick returns and interceptions (924) than the league's leading rusher, Dan Towler (894) of Los Angeles.

1953—Owens retired at the end of the season after 23 years as the Giants' head coach.

1954—Former Giants end Jim Lee Howell was promoted from end coach to head coach.

1956—Defensive end Andy Robustelli was obtained from the Rams. The Giants switched their home games from the Polo Grounds to Yankee Stadium. A 47-7 rout of the Chicago Bears produced New York's first NFL championship since 1938. Linebacker Sam Huff was rookie of the year.

1958—Advancing to the NFL championship game with a playoff win over Cleveland, the Giants lost to Baltimore 23-17 in sudden death overtime.

1959—Baltimore exploded for 24 points in the fourth quarter to defeat New York in the NFL title game for the second straight year.

1961—Allie Sherman replaced the retired Howell as head coach. The Giants obtained Y.A. Tittle and Del Shofner in trades. Alex Webster gained 928 yards to help New York to the NFL title game. With the league championship on the line, the Giants were no match for Green Bay, losing 37-0.

1962—Tittle, Shofner, Webster and Gifford led the Giants into the NFL title game against the Packers. Green Bay prevailed to 16-7.

1963—Tittle threw 36 touchdown passes and kicker Don Chandler led the league in scoring as the Giants romped to their third straight conference title. With Tittle injured in the second quarter, New York lost yet another bid for the league championship, 14-10 to Chicago's Bears.

1967—Quarterback Fran Tarkenton was obtained from Minnesota.

1969—The Giants lost 37-14 to the New York Jets in a preseason contest. Webster replaced Sherman as head coach.

1970—Ron Johnson became the Giants' first 1,000-yard rusher, totaling 1,027 yards.

1972—Tarkenton was traded back to Minnesota. Norm Snead, obtained in the Tarkenton trade, led the league in passing and the Giants finished above .500 for only the second time in nine years.

1973—Prior to the final game of the season, Webster announced his retirement. New York lost the game 31-7 to Minnesota to close out the year at 2-11-1. They played their late-season home games at Yale Bowl.

1974—Bill Arnsparger was named the Giants' ninth head coach. Snead was traded to San Francisco. Craig Morton was obtained from Dallas.

1976—Larry Csonka, the former Miami running back who had played in the World Football League, signed as a free agent. Snead was reacquired from San Francisco. The Giants moved to Giants Stadium in East Rutherford, New Jersey. Arnsparger was fired in midseason and replaced by assistant coach John McVay, who signed a long-term contract following the 3-11 season.

1977—Morton was traded to Denver. The Giants improved to a 5-9 record. McVay went with Joe Pisarcik and Jerry Golsteyn at quarterback. Csonka rushed for 100 yards on the last day of the season and finished the year with 464 yards.

1978—The Giants had a 5-3 record at the halfway point of the season but lost seven of their final eight games and finished 6-10. Punter Dave Jennings and linebackers

Harry Carson and Brad Van Pelt was named to the NFC Pro Bowl team. McVay was fired in late December. Robustelli, who had been the Giants' director of operations since 1974, resigned. George Young was named general manager in January, 1979. He announced the appointment of San Diego Chargers assistant Ray Perkins as head coach.

1979—Before the season began, tragedy struck as defensive tackle Troy Archer was killed in a traffic accident on June 22. Rookie Phil Simms, a first round choice, took over at quarterback. But the Giants had another 6-10 record. Dave Jennings led the NFC with a 42.7-yard punting average.

1980—A porous defense allowed opponents to score 425 points, second worst in the NFL. The Giants fell to 4-12. They did upset Dallas 38-35 after eight straight defeats. Jennings led NFL punters with a 44.8-yard average.

1981—With the second selection in the draft, New York chose Lawrence Taylor, a linebacker from North Carolina. The Giants started slowly, going 2-3, but then obtained running back Rob Carpenter from Houston. Carpenter sparked a three-game winning streak. A three-game losing streak dropped the club to 5-6, and then Simms was injured. Second-year quarterback Scott Brunner replaced Simms and the team responded with four victories in the final five weeks, including a 13-10 victory over Dallas in the season finale that sent them into the playoffs. On December 27, the Giants defeated the Eagles 27-21 in the NFC wild card game. The season ended for New York on January 3 when it was defeated by the 49ers 38-24 in a divisional playoff game.

1982—A wild, wooly and turbulent year which saw the NFL players' strike shorten the season to just nine games. The final game played before the strike pitted the Giants and Packers on a Monday night game from Giants Stadium in which a power failure caused a blackout during the game. Rob Carpenter was a holdout for most of the season, returning to play in just the final five games, and then on December 15, head coach Ray Perkins resigned to accept the head coaching job at Alabama, with defensive coordinator Bill Parcells being named to replace him in 1983. The Giants then lost two straight after the Perkins' announcement, and missed the playoffs on the final day of the season with a 4-5 record. Despite the adversity, four Giants—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and Dave Jennings—were named to the Pro Bowl.

1983—After breaking even in their first four games for a 2-2 record, the Giants were decimated by injuries during the rest of the year, with a total of 25 players appearing on the injured reserve list at one time or another. With players such as Harry Carson, Phil Simms and Rob Carpenter missing most of the season, and with the club leading the entire NFL in turnovers with 58 on 31 interceptions and 27 lost fumbles, the record tumbled to 3-12-1. The year was also marred by the tragic deaths of assistant coach Bob Ledbetter and former star running back Doug Kotar. Four players were nonetheless named to the Pro Bowl again—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and rookie place-kicker Ali Haji-Sheikh who set an alltime NFL record with 35 field goals during the year.

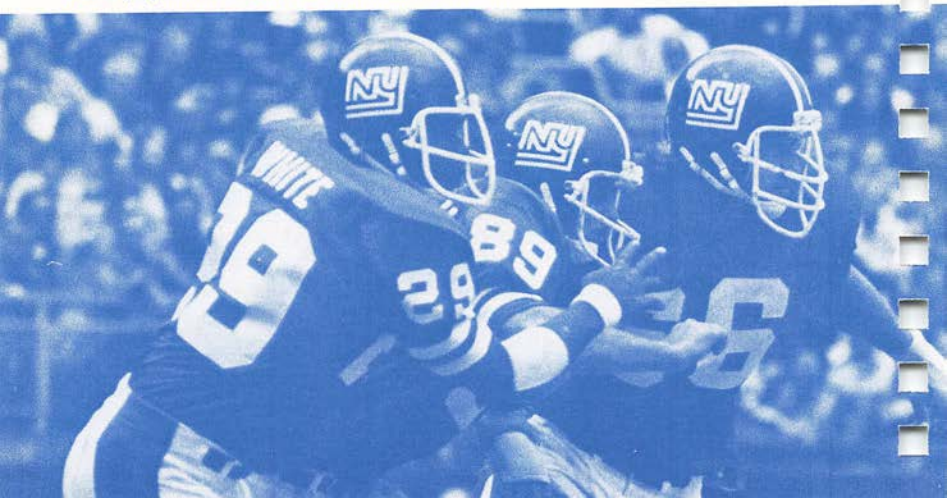

1984—With Phil Simms enjoying his first full season at quarterback, the Giants won the NFC wild card playoff spot again, finishing with a 9-7 mark and second-place in the NFC East as Simms set three alltime single season club records with 286 completions in 533 attempts for 4,044 yards. The Giants knocked off the Los Angeles Rams 16-13 in that wild card game, then bowed to the eventual Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers 21-10 in the divisional playoff. Taylor, Carson and Haynes were again named to the Pro Bowl, while head coach Bill Parcells was named NFC East Coach of the Year and five rookies—Karl Nelson, Gary Reasons, Carl Banks, Perry Williams and Bobby Johnson—were named to the All-NFL Rookie team.

1985—With a final 10-6 mark, the Giants put back-to-back winning seasons on the board for the first time in 22 years, won another trip to the playoffs and had their first home playoff game since 1962, winning 17-3 over the defending Super Bowl champion 49ers. Again, the club lost in the Divisional playoffs to the eventual Super Bowl champion team, the Chicago Bears, by a 21-0 score, the toughest outing the Bears encountered in the entire playoffs. Five players—Taylor, Carson, Phil Simms, Joe Morris and Leonard Marshall—were named to the Pro Bowl. All told, there were 12 team records set by this club, and 16 individual club records. Morris set an alltime one season rushing mark with 1,336 yards plus an alltime mark for TDs in a season with 21 while Simms broke alltime club records with 40 completions in a game for 513 yards passing. Marshall added another club mark with 15½ QB sacks in a season, while rookie TE Mark Bavaro, an All-NFL Rookie team choice set a club mark with 12 receptions in one game.

1986—The club's first Super Bowl championship, an alltime final record of 17-2, as well as a club record 12 straight victories, made this year the greatest in team history. The Giants also set an alltime composite margin of victory in the playoffs, outscoring three opponents 105-23, for an 82-point domination, the most ever in NFL playoff history. Phil Simms was the MVP of the Super Bowl victory with an NFL alltime playoff mark of 88% passing accuracy with his 22-for-25 passing in the 39-20 title conquest of the Denver Broncos. Lawrence Taylor was named the league's MVP, Joe Morris broke his own club rushing record with 1,516 yards, and eight players—Taylor, Morris, Harry Carson, Leonard Marshall, Jim Burt, Brad Benson, Mark Bavaro and Sean Landeta—were named to the Pro Bowl. Coach Bill Parcells was a unanimous NFL Coach of the Year in all the national polls, the Giants were 10-0 at home, including regular season and the two playoff games, and alltime attendance records were set for both home and away, as well as single game home attendance.

Giants played one season at Shea Stadium (1975).

STAFF BIOGRAPHIES

GEORGE YOUNG
Vice President, General Manager

When George Young was named General Manager of the Giants on February 14, 1979 at a press conference at Gallagher's Restaurant in New York City, there was no special significance attached to the date—Valentine's Day—at that time. Over the ensuing years, however, that date is now considered to be a very special red-letter day in club history. Prior to George's stewardship, the Giants had not been in NFL post-season play since the 1963 seasn, a 15-year famine. Since he instituted his reconstruction policies, the Giants have now won the Super Bowl, been to the NFL Playoffs four times, including three straight trips in 1984-85-86, reaching the Division playoffs in each of the four playoff years, in addition to winning the NFC Championship and Super Bowl title. The club also just missed a fifth playoff season in the final week of the strike-shortened 1982 campaign. The Giants' back-to-back winning playoff seasons in '84 and '85 also marked the first time that the club had achieved consecutive such years in 22 seasons. In building the team, Young has placed special emphasis on the NFL Draft. From his inaugural draft in 1979 through the 1987 selection process, Young had succeeded in signing every player drafted over that span, and from those nine drafts, a total of 66 of those players made the club at one time or another. From that total, 31 of those drafted players remain with the team on the current roster, and 22 of those have been starters at one time or another. The list also includes Pro Bowlers Lawrence Taylor, Phil Simms, Joe Morris, Leonard Marshall, and Mark Bavaro. Over that same span, 15 of those drafted players were named to the All-NFL Rookie team. Young's sagacity in signing free agents has also been a powerful part of his organizational talents. Five more starters are free agents signed under Young—Bart Oates, Maurice Carthon, Chris Godfrey, Jim Burt and Sean Landeta, and both Burt and Landeta have been Pro Bowlers. Young's efforts have won him prestigious awards in both 1984 and 1986 when he was voted NFL Executive of the Year by the Sporting News in a poll of NFL executives. Prior to being named by the Giants, George had spent 11 years in the NFL with the Baltimore Colts and Miami Dolphins. During his tenure with those two clubs, Young had been closely associated with Don Shula at both franchises and had served in a variety of capacities. He was initially brought into the Colts' organization in 1968 by Shula as an assistant in the Personnel Department, then two years later was named offensive line coach, with that Colts' team going all the way to the Super Bowl and scoring a 16-13 win over the Dallas Cowboys. In 1971, George was named Director of Player personnel and then in 1973 was named Offensive Coordinator of the Colts by Howard Schnellenberger. A year later, Young rejoined Shula with the Miami Dolphins and was Director of Personnel and Pro Scouting with the Dolphins when the Giants named him in 1979. George Bernard Young was born on September 22, 1930 in Baltimore, Md., and was an outstanding football player at Calvert Hall High School in Baltimore. He went on to Bucknell University where he was a starting defensive tackle for three seasons, team captain in 1951 and was named to the Little All-American first team and All-East first team in his senior year. Selected to play in the Blue-Gray game, he was then drafted by the Dallas Texans and played in professional football for one year. George then began a coaching career in the Baltimore school system at Calvert Hall and City College High School and over a 15-year span, won six Maryland state championships and had a 60-12 record during one span. Additionally, Young was an educator while coaching in Baltimore, teaching History and Political Science. During that teaching career, George also earned two Masters degrees from Johns Hopkins University and Loyola College. He was further honored in May, 1987, when he was awarded an honorary Doctorate in Humane Letters from Western Maryland College. George and his wife, Mary Love, reside in Upper Saddle River, N.J.

BILL PARCELLS

Head Coach

6th Year

As he embarks on his sixth season as head coach, Bill Parcells is within reasonable range of becoming the second winningest coach in club history, a remarkable feat in light of his relatively short tenure and a 3-12-1 mark in his initial year. With 47 victories in his five campaigns, Parcells is six wins shy of Jim Lee Howell's 53 wins (over seven seasons), and 10 wins away from Allie Sherman's 57 triumphs (over eight years.) The alltime leader is Hall of Famer Steve Owen who compiled 151 victories over a storied 23-year career with the Giants. For Parcells, his most acclaimed campaign was in 1986. By leading the Giants to their first Super Bowl championship in club history and to their greatest single season record ever at 17-2, he won every major poll in the country as NFL Coach of the Year, a fitting tribute for the spectacular season he had masterminded. Along the way, the Giants set an alltime club record by winning 12 games in succession, then set an alltime NFL and Super Bowl playoff record for cumulative margin of victory in the three playoff games. By defeating San Francisco 49-3, Washington 17-0, and Denver 39-20 in the playoff, NFC Championship game and Super Bowl, the Giants' 102-23 cumulative scoring set an alltime playoff mark of 82-plus points in composite margin of victory. Since a 3-12-1 record in his rookie coaching season of 1983, Parcells has since taken the Giants to three playoff seasons, and led the club to a 38-17 mark over that span for a 70% winning mark. By leading the Giants to consecutive winning seasons, playoff appearances and the Divisional playoffs in 1984-85, Parcells also became the first Giants' head coach in 22 years to achieve that kind of back-to-back success. Additionally, the Giants' 10-6 finish in 1985 was the first double digit victory campaign since 1963 and also presented Giant fans with their first home playoff appearance since 1962 and the resulting 17-3 triumph over the defending Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers provided double satisfaction. Named as the 12th head coach in club history on December 15, 1982 after the resignation of Ray Perkins, Parcells endured a highly traumatic first season as the head man. After a 2-2 start that season, a maddening rash of injuries hit the club, with no less than 25 players hitting the Injured Reserve list at one time or another, including eight starters. The team also had the double misfortune of leading the NFL in turnovers with a staggering total of 58, and in addition to those never-ending problems, Parcells also had to endure the sudden death of backfield coach Bob Ledbetter during the season, followed by the passing of former running back Doug Kotar and the deaths of both of his parents within six weeks of each other late in the season. There has probably been no tougher year for a rookie head coach to endure than that 1983 season for Parcells. By sheer determination and resolve, Parcells blocked all of the bleakness of that first year out and in the off-season following that near-disastrous inaugural began working diligently to bring respectability back to the club. In 1984, as a second-year head coach, Parcells went to pre-season training camp with a strong determination to turn things around. He put particular stress on reducing injuries through a new strength coach and conditioning program, and in the area of reducing turnovers and penalties. He not only achieved success in all of those areas, with the number of players on Injured Reserve dropping from 25 to seven, but in reducing the turnover total from 58 down to 27 and penalties from 113 for 1,020 yards down to 79 for 703 yards. With this new resolve, Parcells piloted the club to a fine start at 3-1, then engineered back-to-back clutch victories over the Redskins and Cowboys and had his club, which finished last in the NFC East in 1983, deadlocked for the top spot late in the year with a 9-5 record. The Giants eventually finished at 9-7, won the Wild Card playoff spot as the second-place finisher in the NFC East to the Redskins, and scored an impressive Playoff victory over the Los Angeles Rams 16-13, before bowing to the eventual Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers 21-10 in the Niners' toughest test in all of the post-season action. For his efforts, Parcells finished second in two major NFL Coach of the Year polls, to the 49ers' Bill Walsh in one poll and to Seattle's Chuck Knox in another. Additionally, he was named NFC East Coach of the Year by Pro Magazine. Born in Englewood, N.J. on August 22, 1941, Parcells played his scholastic football at River Dell H.S. in Oradell, N.J., then went on to Wichita State University where he was an All Missouri Valley Conference selection twice as a linebacker. In one game vs. Tulsa University, Bill had 20 solo tackles and six QB sacks, and also played in the Sun Bowl, Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl games. He was drafted No. 7 by the Detroit Lions, but opted for an immediate start in the coaching field by accepting a job at Hastings College in Nebraska. A year later, he returned to Wichita State as an assistant defensive coach, then moved on to West Point where he was an assistant coach for Army for three seasons. He then made subsequent stops as a defensive coordinator for Florida State (three years), Vanderbilt (two seasons) and Texas Tech (three seasons) and was then named Head Coach at the Air Force Academy in 1978. Parcells then accepted a defensive job with the Giants in early 1979, but resigned for personal reasons to enter private business. Then in 1980, he joined the New England Patriots as linebacker's coach, and in 1981 returned to the Giants as defensive coordinator. His presence created almost instant improvement. From a 4-12 record in 1980 when the club allowed 425 points to the opposition. Parcells installed the 3-4 defense, revamped the secondary and produced a defensive team which finished the year ranked No. 3 in the entire NFL after being No. 25 the previous season, reducing the points allowed total from the previously mentioned 425 down to 257. The unit also led the entire NFL in two key categories—lowest average-per-rush (3.4) allowed and lowest average-per-play (4.2) allowed. The Giants finished 9-7, made the playoffs for the second time since 1963, upended Philadelphia in the playoffs with more tough defense before bowing to the eventual Super Bowl champion 49ers. A Giants' fan all of his life while growing up in New Jersey, the 6-3, 220-pound Parcells and his wife, Judy, have three daughters—Suzy, Jill and Dallas—and live in Upper Saddle River, N.J.

HARRY HULMES
Assistant General Manager

Veteran NFL executive joined the Giants in 1984 replacing Terry Bledsoe. Prior to being named by the Giants, Harry had served as Chief Operating Officer for the Arizona Wranglers of the USFL, but virtually all of his previous experience was within the NFL where he served for 12 years with the Baltimore Colts and 13 years with the New Orleans Saints in a variety of positions. Born on July 20, 1927 in Philadelphia, Harry earned a B.A. degree in journalism and psychology at the University of Pennsylvania, after spending three years in the Navy as a radarman in the South Pacific and Persian Gulf theaters. He began his career in sports with the Baltimore Orioles as assistant business manager, then was the sports information director at Bucknell University before entering the NFL as public relations director of the Colts in 1958. He subsequently served as business manager and general manager of the Colts before moving to the Saints in 1970 as assistant general manager. Until he departed for the Wranglers in 1982, Hulmes also served the Saints as Director of Player Personnel and Vice President of Administration. Also a graduate of Northeast High School in Philadelphia, Harry is married to the former Barbara Lockhart of Mount Holly, N.J. and is the father of two daughters, Linda Ann and Terry Ellen, both graduates of LSU, and a son, Richard Wayne, also a graduate of LSU.

TOM BOISTURE
Director of Player Personnel

Joined the Giants in the Spring of 1980 from the New England Patriots where he had served for 10 years as a scout, chief scout and in the personnel department. Born on March 23, 1931 in Detroit, Tom played his high school sports at Holy Redeemer H.S. in Detroit, then won three varsity letters as both an offensive and defensive lineman at Mississippi State where he earned a BS degree in Education and History. He began his teaching and coaching career at Austin Catholic H.S. in Detroit where he was head football coach, then continued as a head coach at St. Ambrose H.S. in Detroit. He moved into the collegiate ranks at the University of Houston as an assistant coach for offensive backs, then moved on to Holy Cross College in 1966 as Defensive Coordinator. He was named Head Coach at Holy Cross in 1967 and upset Yale in his first game as a head coach—the only defeat Yale was to suffer in three years. In 1969, Tom moved on to Tulsa University as Defensive Coordinator, and in 1970 moved into the NFL with New England as a scout. Married to the former Dolores Ann Kenney of Detroit. Tom now resides in Woodcliff Lakes, N.J. and has five children—daughters Susan Ann, Deborah Lynn and Nancy Ann, and sons David and Michael.

JERRY SHAY
Director of College Scouting

Former Giants' tackle Shay was named Chief Scout in 1977 and as such had much to do with the past drafts. Jerry joined the Giants' scouting department in 1972 and served as the club's scout in the Western States area, including all of the West Coast as well as in the areas of Wyoming, Montana and the Dakotas. Born in Gary, Ind., the 43-year-old Shay, was an All-American star at Purdue University and was the No. 1 draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings in 1966. He was a starting DT for the Vikes for two years, then was traded to the Atlanta Falcons in 1968 where he again starred for two seasons before coming to the Giants in a trade in 1970. Jerry was a key performer that season as the Giants finished 9-5 and missed the playoffs by one game. A year later, he suffered a broken leg and retired after the 1971 season after appearing in only six games, and became a scout the following season. Born on July 10, 1944 (family name Dzedzeji), Jerry is married to the former Cynthia Zajkowski, has three daughters, Tiffany Lee; Shannon Marie; and Jeri Lynn, and resides in San Diego, Calif.

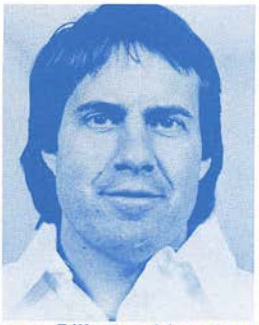

TIM ROONEY
Director of Pro Personnel

Rooney, a member of the highly respected Rooney family from Pittsburgh, joined the Giants in February of 1985 after spending the prior six seasons as the Player Personnel Director for the Detroit Lions. Prior to his tenure with Detroit, the 46-year-old Rooney held the same position with the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1972-1979 during the Steelers' ascendancy to Super Bowl champion status. Born in Pittsburgh, Tim earned a degree from Duquesne University, then began a coaching career at Canevin H.S. in Pittsburgh. Four years later, he became an assistant coach at Villanova, moved on to Rhode Island University, and then back to Villanova as an assistant coach and recruiting director before joining the Steelers. A nephew of Art Rooney, the founder of the Steelers, Tim and his wife, Mary Ann, are the parents of a son, Michael 13, and daughter, Sarah 11.

RAYMOND WALSH, JR.
Research and Development

Ray has been with the Giants since 1973, initially as an Administrative Assistant, and more recently in scouting and player and personnel evaluation. Born in New York City on February 11, 1942, Ray, who is also known by his nickname "Whitey," is a 1959 graduate of Archbishop Stepinac H.S. in White Plains, where he grew up, and later earned a degree in Inter-American Relations at Fordham University in 1963. After a tour of duty in the U.S. Army, he joined United Airlines in 1965 in the Passenger Service department, and remained with United until April of 1973 when he joined the Giants. In his earlier days as a youngster, Ray worked at Giants' pre-season training camps in the 1956-63 era. Married to the former Judith Carey, Ray is the father of a son, David 15, and a daughter, Susan, 13, and resides in Ramsey, N.J. Aside from football, Ray is an avid British History buff, particularly the medieval period.

BILL BELICHICK
Defensive Coordinator
10th Year

At 36, Belichick is one of the youngest assistant coaches in the NFL, yet came to the Giants after four years of experience within the NFL at Baltimore, Detroit and Denver. Bill was born on April 16, 1952 in Nashville, Tenn., and comes from an athletic family. His dad, Steve Belichick, was a fullback with the Detroit Lions in 1941, and has been an assistant coach at the U.S. Naval Academy for 33 years. Bill starred in several sports at Annapolis H.S., Md., and the Phillips Academy, Andover, Mass. before entering Wesleyan University where he majored in Economics. In 1975, he joined the Baltimore Colts as an assistant to the coaching staff, then in 1976 moved to the Detroit Lions where he spent two seasons as an assistant special teams' coach and also coached receivers and tight ends. In 1978, Bill worked with the Denver Broncos before joining the Giants' staff as Special Teams Coach and defensive assistant under Ray Perkins. Bill coached the Special Teams from 1979-82. Bill and his wife, the former Debby Clarke, reside in Chatham, N.J. and have a daughter, Amanda, who will be four in October, and a son, Stephen, who is two.

TOM COUGHLIN
Receivers
First Year

The newest member of the coaching staff, Tom joined the Giants in January of this year after a two-season stint as receivers' coach for the Green Bay Packers. A native of Waterloo, N.Y. where he was born on August 31, 1946, Coughlin (pronounced "Coff-lin") was a scholastic star at Waterloo Senior H.S., then won three varsity letters as a halfback at Syracuse University, playing with Larry Csonka and Floyd Little. He won the Orange Key and Alexander Awards at Syracuse for outstanding student-athlete, and earned both a B.S. and M.A. degree in science and education. He began his coaching career at Rochester Tech and spent five seasons there, then returned to Syracuse where he coached for six years, including the job of offensive coordinator. In 1980, he moved on to Boston College as offensive coordinator for four seasons, working with Doug Flutie, then joined the NFL in 1984 as receivers' coach for the Philadelphia Eagles for two seasons before moving on to Green Bay. Married to the former Judith Whitaker, Tom is the father of four children, Keli Ann, 19; Timothy, 16; Brian, 11; and Kathleen, 8.

ROMEO CRENNEL
Special Teams
8th Year

Crennel joined the Giants from Georgia Tech where he was the defensive line coach during the 1980 season. The 40-year-old Crennel was a high school standout at Fort Knox, Ky., then played his college football at Western Kentucky University where he lettered for four seasons as a defensive lineman. He was team captain, All-Conference and Western Kentucky MVP in the 1969 season, earning a BS in Physical Education. He remained at Western Kentucky as a graduate assistant, earning a Master's Degree in 1970, then became a fulltime coach at Western Kentucky from 1971-74. He then moved on to Texas Tech University as a defensive assistant from 1975-1977, then was named defensive end coach at the University of Mississippi in 1978. He remained with Ole Miss for two seasons before being named defensive line coach at Georgia Tech in 1980. Crennel and his wife, Rosemary, have three children—Lisa, Tiffany and Kristin.

RON ERHARDT
Offensive Coordinator
7th Year

Ron joined the Giants in January of 1982 as Offensive Coordinator after serving as Head Coach of the New England Patriots from 1979 through the 1981 season. Born on February 27, 1932 in Mandan, N.D., Erhardt was a football and basketball star in Mandan H.S., then became an All-Conference quarterback at Jamestown College in North Dakota where he also lettered in basketball and baseball. After graduating in 1953, he served for three years in the Armed Forces then began his coaching career at Williston H.S., N.D. in 1956, then made stops as a high school head coach at St. Mary's H.S. in New England, N.D. and at Bishop Ryan H.S. in Minot, N.D. with a final six-year coaching record 45-9-2. Moving on to college ranks, Erhardt joined the staff at North Dakota State in 1963 as defensive coordinator and three years later was named Head Coach. As the head man at NDSU, Ron had a seven-year record of 58-6-1 and at one time led his club to a streak of 36 games without a loss and back-to-back National College Division championships. His winning percentage of .884 ranks him as one of the winningest coaches ever in College Division football. Erhardt entered the NFL in 1973 as offensive backfield coach with the Patriots, and in 1977 he was named Offensive Coordinator, replacing Red Miller. He was named Head Coach of New England in 1979 and led the Patriots to records of 9-7 and 10-6 in his first two seasons, with the team averaging 26.6 points per game over that span, including a club record 441 points in 1980.

LEN FONTES
Defensive backfield
6th Year

Fontes joined the Giants' staff in February of 1983 after spending the three previous seasons as defensive backfield coach for the Cleveland Browns. Born on March 8, 1938 in Canton, Ohio, Len played four varsity sports at Wareham, Mass., winning All-State honors in both football and baseball. He had a trial with the Boston Red Sox, then went on to Ohio State where he was a varsity letterman for three seasons under Woody Hayes and was a safety on the 1957 national championship team. Following his graduation, Fontes coached on the high school level in Ohio at Logan, Canton McKinley and Mansfield Madison, and while at Canton McKinley won two Ohio State championships and was a losing finalist a third time. He went to the collegiate level in 1968 as a graduate assistant at Eastern Michigan where he earned a master's degree in administration, then became defensive backfield coach at Dayton University for three seasons. He spent the following four years as defensive backfield coach at the U.S. Naval Academy, and in 1977 held the same position with the University of Miami (Fla.). He then joined Cleveland in 1980. Len and his wife, Mimi, have two daughters—Debbie and Kathy—and a son, Leonard. Len's brother, Wayne Fontes, is the defensive coordinator for the Detroit Lions, while brother Mel is a football coach in California, and another brother, John, is a former assistant coach at L.S.U.

RAY HANDLEY
Running Backs
5th Year

Handley came to the Giants from Stanford University where he was the Associate Head Coach in 1983. He had coached at Stanford since the 1979 season. A former All-American running back at Stanford, Handley held Stanford's alltime rushing records until they were broken by Darrin Nelson in 1978. Ray's three-season career totals as a halfback were 1,768 yards rushing on 405 carries for a 4.4 average and 11 touchdowns, and in 1964 when he was named to both the All-American and All-PAC-10 teams, he rushed for 936 yards and a 4.8 average. Born on October 8, 1944 in Artesia, N.M., Ray was an All-State halfback at Reno H.S. before entering Stanford. After graduating from Stanford with a B.A. in History, Ray spent one season as an assistant freshman coach at his alma mater, then moved to West Point as director of junior varsity football. He returned to Stanford under John Ralston in 1971 and as linebackers' coach was on the staff of the 1972 club which defeated Michigan in the Rose Bowl. Handley also coached at the Air Force Academy subsequently before returning again to Stanford in 1979 where he not only coached linebackers, but was the recruiting coordinator, academic coordinator and faculty liaison director as well. Ray and his wife, JoAnne, have a daughter Cami, 19, and a son Donnie, 22.

FRED HOAGLIN
Offensive Line
4th Year

After six seasons as offensive line coach for the Detroit Lions, former Pro Bowl center Hoaglin joined the Giants prior to the 1985 season. A native of Alliance, Ohio, the 44-year-old Hoaglin was a three-year starter as both a center and linebacker at the University of Pittsburgh, winning a spot in the North-South game in his senior year, and was then a 6th round draft choice of the Cleveland Browns. Hoaglin then began a string of 69 consecutive starts at center with the Browns and was named to the 1969 Pro Bowl. During an 11-year playing career, Fred also played with the Houston Oilers, Baltimore Colts and Seattle Seahawks. After his playing days had ended, Fred, who earned a degree in industrial engineering at Pitt, worked as an industrial engineer and stockbroker for several years, before entering the coaching ranks with the Lions, where he joined a former Brown teammate, Monte Clark. During his six-year tenure with the Lions, Fred built an impressive offensive line, which helped Detroit lead the entire NFL in rushing in 1981. Married to the former Janet Wolbert, Fred has a daughter, Patricia, 19 and a son, George, 17. A varsity letter winner in golf for two seasons at Pitt, Hoaglin still lists golf as his favorite hobby and is an outstanding player.

LAMAR LEACHMAN
Defensive Line
9th Year

Leachman came to the Giants in February, 1980 after a two-year stint as Defensive Coordinator with the Montreal Alouettes of the CFL. Prior to his assignment with Montreal, Leachman had held a similar position with the Toronto Argonauts of the CFL for three seasons prior to joining the Alouettes. Born on August 7, 1934 in Cartersville, Ga., Lamar played his high school sports at Cartersville H.S., then went on to the University of Tennessee where he gained honorable mention All-American recognition as a center-linebacker under Bowden Wyatt. After graduation, Leachman began his coaching career in Savannah, Ga., with Chatham County Public School as head coach, and remained there until 1966 when he was named as assistant coach at Richmond University. After a two-year stint there, Lamar moved on to Georgia Tech as an assistant coach for four seasons, and from there joined Memphis State University as defensive coordinator in 1972. He was subsequently the defensive coordinator at the University of South Carolina, then entered the professional ranks in 1974 as defensive coordinator for the New York Stars of the now-defunct WFL.

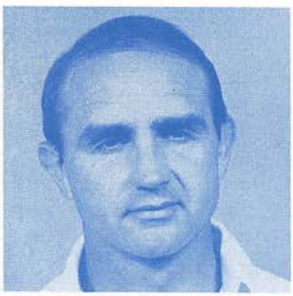

JOHNNY PARKER
Strength and Conditioning
5th Year

Parker joined the staff in March of 1984 after spending the previous four years in a similar capacity at the University of Mississippi. A native of Shaw, Miss., Parker graduated from Shaw High School in Mississippi, then matriculated to Ole Miss where he earned a degree in 1968. He began his coaching career a year later as linebackers' coach for Indianola Academy and along the way earned a master's degree from Delta State University. In 1974, he was named strength and conditioning coach at South Carolina University under Paul Dietzel, and held similar positions later with LSU and Indiana University before being named to the position at Mississippi. Parker's weight and conditioning theories, some of which he incorporated into his system after a visit to Russia to study the methods of the Russian Olympic trainers, had an immediate impact on the Giants in 1984. From a staggering total of 25 players on Injured Reserve at one time or another in 1983, that figure was reduced to a half-dozen in 1984. Parker has since supervised the construction of an all-new and modern weight room at Giants Stadium and had some 45 veteran players participating in a weight and conditioning program during this past off-season. Parker is married to the former Jane Cline of Covington, Ind.

MIKE POPE
Tight ends
6th Year

Mike joined the Giants in February of 1983 after spending five seasons as receivers' coach at Mississippi, while also doubling as an assistant working with punters and place kickers at Ole Miss. A native of Monroe, N.C., Pope was a standout athlete at Monroe H.S. there, winning All-Conference honors in three sports—football, basketball and baseball. He then matriculated to Lenoir Rhyne College where he played quarterback and won All-Conference honors there as well for three seasons as Lenoir Rhyne played in their divisional national championship game thrice, winning the title once. After graduation in 1964 he went into coaching with his first stop to Lenoir H.S. He later coached at high schools in Charlotte, N.C., Jacksonville, Fla., and Lake Wales, Fla., and twice guided teams to the Florida state championship finals. Mike moved into the collegiate ranks in 1970 as a graduate assistant at Florida State, and in 1975 became an assistant coach and recruiter at Texas Tech. He moved on to Mississippi with Steve Sloan in 1978. An avid golfer, Pope and his wife, Lee, have two sons—Travis and Daron.

MIKE SWEATMAN
Assistant Special Teams
4th Year

Sweatman joined the Giants prior to the 1985 season from the Minnesota Vikings where he had been special teams and linebackers' coach under Les Steckel. Born in Kansas City, Mo., Mike was an All-Big Eight linebacker at the University of Kansas, winning All-American honorable mention honors in his senior season when he was also team captain. Selected for both the East-West and Hula Bowl games that year, Sweatman was also voted Kansas MVP in 1965. Mike also earned varsity wrestling letters at Kansas and was a wrestling co-captain. After graduation, he was a graduate assistant coach for a year, then served four years with the Marine Corps as a Lieutenant, including service in Vietnam. He resumed his coaching career with Kansas in 1973, then had subsequent defensive coaching assignments with Tulsa University, and the University of Tennessee before joining the Vikings. Mike and his wife, Teresa, have three sons, Thomas, 13, Chris, 10, and Dan, 7. Mike is still a member of the Marine Corps Reserve as a Lt. Colonel.

ROSEY BROWN
Scout

Hall of Famer Roosevelt Brown's appointment to the Giant's scouting staff in 1971 signaled the beginning of yet another era in his outstanding career with the ball club. From 1953 through 1965, Rosey ranked as one of the all-time great offensive linemen in the National Football League, a big, fast, wide-ranging tackle, who earned All-Pro honors eight times, was selected to play in the Pro Bowl on ten occasions and, in 1956, was voted Lineman of the Year in the NFL. When a phlebitis condition forced him to retire in 1966, Brown was immediately named assistant line coach by the Giants, a post he held until 1969 when he became head line coach, replacing Jim Trimble. In 1971, Brown, along with another coaching aide, Ken Kavanaugh, left Alex Webster's staff to assume new responsibilities under Jim Lee Howell, his onetime coach, in the scouting department. Rosey, now 57, is a resident of Teaneck, N.J., but spends a good deal of his time on the road in search of fresh talent for the Giants.

KEN KAVANAUGH
Scout

Ken Kavanaugh, one of the most famous names in National Football League history, joined the Giants' scouting staff in 1971 and brought with him a wealth of experience as both a professional player and coach. Actually, Kavanaugh moved into the Giants' scouting department from the coaching staff, where he had been offensive end coach from 1955-68 and offensive coach from 1969-70, a total of 16 years under three head coaches, Jim Lee Howell, Allie Sherman and Alex Webster. Prior to becoming a Giant aide, the Pro Hall of Fame end had spent one season (1951) as end coach for his old club, the Chicago Bears, and one season (1954) at Villanova College in his hometown of Philadelphia. As a player, Ken was one of the Bear greats. He starred at end in 1940-41, left for an Air Force tour of duty and returned to make All Pro again in 1946-47. At LSU, Kavanaugh was a four-year regular (1936-40), twice earning All-American honors.

CHRIS MARA
Scout

Chris joined the staff prior to the 1979 season and was active in collegiate scouting throughout all of last season and was also part of the Giants' drafting group this past April. Born on March 11, 1957 in New York City, Chris graduated from Iona Prep in New Rochelle, N.Y. where he was a standout defensive back for three seasons, winning All-Catholic High School Athletic Association recognition after his senior year. He began his collegiate career at Springfield University, where he was a defensive back on the freshman team, then transferred to Boston College, where he earned a B.A. degree in Arts and Sciences with a major in Sociology. During his scholastic and collegiate days, Chris spent many seasons working at various Giants' pre-season training camps, and during the regular season worked with broadcast teams from both CBS-TV and NBC-TV, as well as with visiting and home radio broadcast groups. Married to the former Kathleen Rooney, Chris has four children—Daniel, 7; Katie, 5; Patricia, 3; and Conor 1, all of whom are the great grandchildren of NFL Hall of Famers, Giants' Founder Tim Mara and Steelers' Founder and Owner Art Rooney.

RICK DONOHUE
Scout

Rick joined the Giants in August of 1983 after serving in coaching capacities on both the collegiate and high school level in the past. A native of the Bronx, Rick was born on April 29, 1943 and played his scholastic sports at DeWitt Clinton High School in the Bronx. He earned a B.S. degree in education and philosophy from Dayton University, then continued at Michigan State University in educational administration. He began his athletic career as a head football coach at Buckeye H.S. in Rushsylvania, Ohio, then was a coach and science teacher at Bellefontaine H.S. in Bellefontaine, Ohio before entering the collegiate ranks as freshman football coach at Michigan State. Subsequently, he was a defensive coach at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy, defensive secondary coach at C.W. Post College, and freshman coach, assistant varsity coach and recruiting coordinator at Columbia University before joining the Giants as a scout. Rick and his wife, Elaine, reside in Washington Township, N.J.

Scout

Gabriel joined the Giants during the 1985 off-season after serving as an area scout for an NFL scouting combine in the Great Lakes area. Prior to that experience and before he entered the profession, Greg was an account executive with Prudential-Bache and later with Dean Witter Reynolds while working part time in the scouting department of the Buffalo Bills, both in film grading and in player evaluation. A native of Buffalo where he was born on May 4, 1951, Gabriel played his scholastic sports at Bishop Neumann High School in Williamsville, N.Y., then earned a B.S. degree from Canisius College where he won three varsity letters as a running back. Subsequently, he played for eight seasons as a running back with the Buffalo Geminis, a semi-pro outfit, and was additionally the offensive backfield coach for one season there. Greg is married to the former Suzanne Kallay, is the father of two daughters, Liza, 14, and Ryan, 1, and resides in Grand Island, N.Y.

TERRY BRADWAY
Scout

Bradway joined the Giants as a fulltime scout in June of this year and has a diversified football background as player, coach and scout. Born Robert Terrence Bradway on May 19, 1955 in Atlantic City, N.J., he played his high school sports at Holy Spirit H.S. in Absecon, N.J., and then was a three-letter winner in football as a defensive back at Trenton State College. He subsequently earned a masters degree from the University of Cincinnati where he was also a graduate assistant coach. Terry then served as an assistant coach at the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, and subsequently joined the now-defunct USFL with the Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars for a three-year stint as the assistant director of player personnel, with college and pro scouting high on his list of duties. Since the USFL ceased operations, Bradway had served as a part time scout for the Giants, until being named to the fulltime position. Terry is married to the former Kathleen Knupp of Atlantic City, is the father of Michael Terrence Bradway, and now resides in Marmora, N.J.

RICHARD SOLOMON
Scout

Solomon was added to the scouting department in June of this year after spending the past 14 years as a collegiate assistant coach and recruiter. Born on December 8, 1949 in New Orleans, La., Solomon was an all-around scholastic star at St. Augustine H.S. in New Orleans, then matriculated to the University of Iowa where he won three varsity letters in football as a running back and defensive back, and two varsity letters in track as a sprinter. After earning a degree in physical education, Richard moved immediately into coaching at Dubuque University where he was defensive backfield coach and later defensive coordinator during a three-year stint. He then moved on to Southern Illinois University as defensive backfield coach, and then to his alma mater for two years as wide receivers' coach. He was at Syracuse University for one season as wide receivers' coach before moving on to the University of Illinois where he served for seven years as both an assistant coach and defensive coordinator. Married to the former Clara Edwards of New Orleans, Solomon has three children, Alesia, Brandon and Ryann.

JULIUS HORAI
Administrative Assistant

A key man in the Giants' operation is Julius "Whitey" Horai who has been associated with the club since 1954. Whitey handles a myriad of details as well as serving as the coordinator of transportation and film exchanges. A native of Richmond, Staten Island, Whitey graduated from Curtis High School there, then went on to Wagner College where he worked for the athletic department as equipment and field maintenance man under Jim Lee Howell. When Jim Lee came to the Giants as head coach in 1954, Horai came too in a part-time capacity, then joined the club fulltime in 1970. A bachelor, Whitey still resides in Staten Island.

JIM PHELAN
Administrative Assistant

After serving as an assistant equipment manager, Jim will begin new responsibilities this season as an administrative assistant, taking over some of the duties of the late Vinnie Swerc, who passed away earlier this year. Born on January 29, 1964 in Providence, R.I., Phelan graduated from King Philip Regional H.S. in Wrentham, Mass. where he won varsity letters in football, basketball, hockey and track and was an All-League wide receiver, setting a school record for most receptions (43) in an eight-game season. He subsequently matriculated to the University of Massachusetts where he earned a degree in general business. He worked all of his collegiate summers at the Giants' training camps, and lists golf and skiing as his favorite hobbies.

JOHN DZIEGIEL
Head Trainer Emeritus

John Dziegiel, one of the best known and most widely respected trainers in the sports field, has a career that dates back over 50 years to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. John started in 1928 by assisting the regular West Point trainers with rubdowns; in 1930, he became a fulltime assistant trainer and stayed at The Point until 1944. From 1946 through 1967, Dziegiel was head trainer at Fordham University, dividing his time between Rose Hill and Yankee Stadium, where he was co-trainer, along with John Johnson, for the Football Giants, a post he acquired in 1956. An acknowledged authority on sports injuries and treatment, John helped found the National Association of Athletic Trainers and is also active in the Eastern Athletic Trainers' Association. Dziegiel now devotes his full time and energies to a year-round physical training and conditioning program for the Giants. Players living in the New York metropolitan area work regularly with John in the off-season. He was named Trainer Emeritus in 1981.

RONNIE BARNES
Head Trainer

The head trainer, 36-year-old Barnes has a highly impressive background. A graduate of East Carolina University and with a Master's degree from Michigan State University, Ronnie had worked during the Summer months in previous Giants' pre-season training camps starting in 1976 before joining the club on a fulltime basis. After his graduation from East Carolina, he remained at his alma mater to serve as an assistant trainer and instructor, then became a trainer and assistant professor of health at Michigan State in 1977. An active lecturer in sports medicine throughout the country, Ronnie was born on February 15, 1952 in Rocky Mount, N.C., and graduated from Fike Senior H.S. in Wilson, N.C. He was an honor student at East Carolina, vice-president of the senior class and a member of Phi Epsilon Kappa. He's a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and the American College of Sports Medicine, and served as a trainer at the Blue-Gray Classic in 1974. He additionally made a State Department tour of Brazil. In 1983, Barnes was named National Professional Trainer of the Year by the National Athletic Trainers Association of America, a prestigious award which is voted on by more than 4,000 members. He was a co-winner of this same award again in 1987.

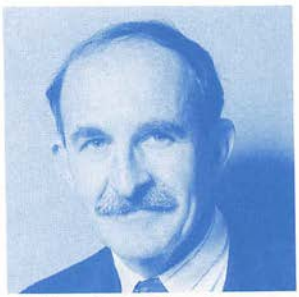

JOHN JOHNSON
Trainer

John Johnson, a graduate of the Swedish Institute of Physical Therapy, has been a trainer for the Giants for more than 40 years and, during this period, also has served as head trainer and physical instructor at Manhattan College. After serving an internship period at Brooklyn Jewish and Long Island College Hospitals (1937-38), Johnson worked as a physical trainer for the Bedford YMCA and then, from 1942-46, was in charge of physical therapy and rehabilitation at a U.S. Air Force base hospital. His service hitch included duty as a physical therapy instructor, ahtletic trainer for post teams and as an air-sea rescue medic. From 1946-47, John was a civilian athletic trainer at the U.S. Naval Preflight School at Ottumwa, Ia. A member of the Eastern and National Athletic Trainers' Associations as well as the National Physical Therapy Association, Johnson also has served as a trainer for visiting teams at Madison Square Garden (1954-63). He lives in Cresskill, N.J.

MIKE RYAN
Trainer

Mike joined the Giants' training staff in May of this year, replacing Jim Madaleno who had joined the Houghston Sports Medicine Clinic in Columbus, Ga. Born on February 5, 1963, Mike hails from Framingham, Mass., and played high school sports at both Mohawk Trail H.S. in Shelburne Falls, Mass., and at Southington H.S. in Southington, Conn. He earned six varsity letters in cross country and track at Central Connecticut State University, earning a degree in science, while also winning scholar-athlete and dean's list honors there. He has also earned a B.S. degree in physical therapy from the University of Connecticut. Ryan served as a training intern with the Giants during pre-season training camps, and has also had experience as a trainer with Columbia University, Wesleyan University, and as head trainer at Bloomfield College, while also working as a physical therapist for several sports medicine clinics. Mike is married to the former Linda Kaiser of Cromwell, Conn., and is the father of a daughter, Erin Teresa.

DR. RUSSELL F. WARREN
Team Physician

Dr. Warren is the newest member of the Giants' medical staff joining the club in 1984. Born in Burlington, Vt., on June 18, 1939, Dr. Warren is a graduate of Columbia College in New York and the Upstate Medical School in Syracuse, N.Y. He did his internship and residency in surgery at St. Luke's Hospital in New York City, and his residency in orthopedic surgery at the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City after a two-year tour of duty as a medical officer in the U.S. Navy. He subsequently served as a member of the surgical staff at Lynchburg General Hospital in Lynchburg, Va., and as a Fellow in Orthopedics at Columbia Presbyterian Hospital in New York City. He is currently an Associate Attending Orthopedic Surgeon for The New York Hospital and The Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City, and an Associate Professor of Orthopedic Surgery for the Cornell University Medical Center in New York. He is also Director of Sports Medicine at The Hospital for Special Surgery and a consulting orthopedic surgeon for the Public School Athletic League, United States Tennis Association and Columbia College, all in New York. The author of numerous publications on his specialties, Dr. Warren is a resident of Greenwich, Conn. An outstanding halfback at Columbia, Warren had a tryout with the Giants in 1962.

DR. ALLAN LEVY
Associate Team Physician

Dr. Levy joined the Giants prior to the 1976 season and brings impressive credentials with him to the job. In private practice for over 30 years in Westwood, N.J., Al has been involved in sports medicine for 28 of those years, initially as the team physician for Westwood High School. He moved into professional baseball as team physician for the Newark Bears, and then into football with the Brooklyn Dodgers of the old Continental Football League. He continued in football as team physician for the Westchester Bulls, a Giant affiliate in the late 1960s, and was the first team doctor for the New Jersey Nets when they began play originally as the New Jersey Americans. He has also worked as the team doctor for the New York Islanders hockey team of the NHL. Born on Sept. 28, 1927 in Saranac Lake, N.Y., Dr. Levy received his B.A. from Columbia University in 1947 and his M.D. from Cornell University in 1951. He and his wife Gail have three children.

JOEL GOLDBERG
Director of Career Counseling

As one of the clubs in the forefront of encouraging the development of career counseling for players, the Giants have added Joel Goldberg to the staff to oversee this function. Through this counseling, the object is to help players through the transformation from playing days to non-playing days and life adjustment and to stimulate interaction between the metropolitan community and the players. The program is designed to measure players' aptitudes, interests, abilities and career goals and to put those qualities into practical application. A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., Goldberg earned a B.S. in Education from the University of Rhode Island, a Master's degree from New York University and a Doctorate degree in Counseling Psychology from Rutgers. During his career he has been a counselor with the New York City Department of Labor; a professor at Kean College in New Jersey; a psychological consultant to boards of education, and President of Career Consultants, his own counseling business in Union, N.J. for the past 15 years. Born on July 5, 1943, Dr. Goldberg and his wife, a high school history teacher, have a son and daughter and reside in New Jersey.

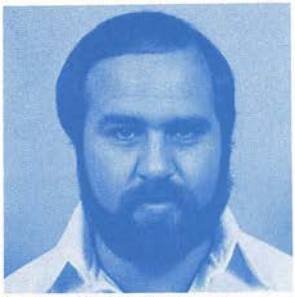

ED WAGNER
Locker Room Manager

The overseer of locker room operations and a much-decorated Army veteran "Whitey" Wagner assumed his duties in 1976. Since that time, Whitey's domain has included all aspects of running not only the locker room, but the care and feeding of the players during the week, as well as supervising the maintenance of the pressroom at Giants Stadium which houses all of the metropolitan area media. A native of Staten Island, N.Y., Wagner is a graduate of New Dorp High School. He is also in charge of the Giants' annual large-scale moving operation from Giants Stadium to the pre-season training camp, and also for the return move, as well as handling the supervision of maintenance at the camp. He and his wife, Gertrude, have a daughter, Patricia, and a son, Edward Jr., and now live in Lakewood, N.J.

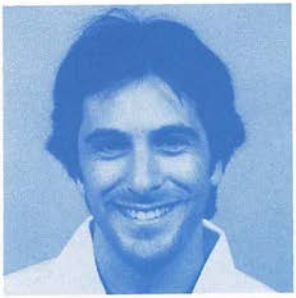

ED WAGNER, JR.
Equipment Manager

Ed was named to the position of Equipment Manager in June of 1979 and since that time has handled a myriad of details, including the purchase, upkeep and repair of all equipment and uniforms, the transportation of equipment and uniforms to and from all road trips and to and from training camp, the handling of all training camp duties and arrangements, as well as field maintenance. A native of Staten Island, Ed has served as assistant manager for two seasons with the Giants prior to being named manager. Edward Kenneth Wagner was born on November 29, 1956 in Staten Island and graduated from Curtis High School there in 1974. He and his wife, the former Andrea De Nonno, were married in June of 1979, and have a daughter, Donna, 4, and a son, Christopher, 1. The Wagners reside in River Edge, N.J.

TONY CEGLIO
Video Director

Ceglio joined the Giants in 1975 as the director of the team's film and video operations which includes filming all pre-season and regular season games and practices for study by the coaching staff, as well as the distribution and exchange of films with other NFL clubs. A graduate of Stepinac High School in White Plains, N.Y. and of the School of Visual Arts in New York City, Ceglio was a freelance cameraman and director working on television films soon after graduation, worked as a cinematographer and director for OVC Productions in the areas of commercials and industrial films thereafter, then did sports film work with Major League Baseball in Florida training camps. He has also worked with the New Jersey Nets of the NBA as cameraman and video tape producer for all Net home games. Ceglio was born on September 23, 1954 in Mount Vernon, N.Y. and is married to the former Carolyn Trainor. The Ceglios now reside in Washington Township, N.J.

JOHN MANCUSO
Assistant Video Director

Mancuso joined the Giants in a full-time capacity in 1978 as an assistant to Tony Ceglio, as the video department increased in scope. Mancuso works in the filming of all practices and games, both home and away, as well as in the processing and printing of all films in the Giants' ultra-modern films office. Born on June 9, 1953 in Queens, Mancuso attended Stepinac High School in White Plains, N.Y., then graduated from Scarsdale High School. He served as a Recreation Director for the Tibbits Nursing Home in White Plains for several years, then began working part time for the Giants in the film department in 1977. As a cameraman, still photographer and videoman, Mancuso also worked for the New Jersey Nets as a free lance cameraman for two years before assuming his present fulltime position with the Giants. Mancuso resides in Eastchester, N.Y. and is also an accomplished musician and has played guitar, bass and piano with groups for some 18 years.

JOE MANSFIELD
Field Security Manager

A retired White Plains Police Department detective, Mansfield joined the Giants in 1976, and in addition to his field security duties, also assists the club in locker room operations during the regular season and at the Pace University training camp site. A native of New York City, Joe graduated from Mount St. Michael's H.S. in New York, then joined the United States Marine Corps in 1943 during World War II and was recalled during the Korean conflict in 1950. He spent nine years with the Fifth Avenue Coach Co. of New York and a short period of time with the Corrections Department at Sing Sing Prison, then joined the White Plains Police Department in 1956, rising through the ranks to Detective and collecting numerous citations and commendations along the way until retiring in 1976. Several years ago, Joe was re-introduced to a childhood sweetheart after a forty-year separation after each of them had been widowed. Shortly thereafter Joe and Maggie were married and they now live in White Plains and together are enjoying their combined family of 10 children and 19 grandchildren with two more on the way.

MERLE BEST
Nutrition Consultant

Merle is a registered Dietician, specializing in sports medicine, and has been the Nutrition Consultant for the Giants for the past seven seasons. A graduate of Hood College where she earned a degree in biology and nutrition, Ms. Best also earned a master of science degree in nutrition from Penn State, and is a member of the American College of Sports Medicine. Merle is currently the Clinical Dietician in the Sports Medicine department of Pascack Valley Hospital in Westwood, N.J., has been a member of the New Jersey Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and is a co-founder of SCAN, a national organization comprised of sports and cardiovascular nutritionists. With the Giants, Merle works with players throughout the year on nutritional aspects of training and competition, as well as providing dietary counseling for preventive health and rehabilitation. A New Jersey native, Merle resides with her husband and two daughters in Westfield, N.J.

INSTANT REPLAY APPROVED FOR 1988

For the third consecutive year, NFL clubs have approved a limited system of Instant Replay on a one-year basis.

The system basically stays the same as in 1987 with the exception that the Replay Official will now be assigned to a regular officiating crew and will attend crew meetings the day before each game. League office personnel will no longer be used as Replay Officials. In 1987, there were 490 plays closely reviewed (defined as a contact to the field, but not necessarily stoppage of play). There were 57 reversals in 210 games for an average of one reversal in each four games. In 1986, there were 374 plays closely reviewed resulting in 38 reversals in 224 games.

In 1986, the system was approved by a 23-4-1 vote. In 1987, the vote was 21-7. In 1988, replay was cleared by a 23-5 margin.

The NFL has discussed Instant Replay in some degree or other since the early 1970s. The League experimented in 1976 and 1978 using two basic frameworks—an independent system using cameras, replay machines, and technicians separate from the network covering the game, and a "no frills" approach using existing television coverage.

In 1985, the NFL used the network feed of nine nationally televised preseason games to experiment with the basic system that later was adopted for 1986 and 1987. A total of 28 plays were examined closely in 1985 (17 confirmed call, 4 were inconclusive, 1 was reversed, and 6 had no replay shown).

What is the objective of this system?

The clubs feel that on certain plays the telecast viewed by the general public should be used to correct an indisputable error. The system will be used to reverse an on-field decision only when the Replay Official has indisputable visual evidence available to him that warrants the change.

Is the television network carrying the game part of the review process?

No. Although the Replay Official will be viewing the live network feed, there is no communication to television personnel as to what plays to show or not to show.

What is the step-by-step procedure of play review?

The Replay Official will view game action and a play will be replayed immediately on one of the two monitors, while the other monitor continues to record the live feed.

The Replay Official makes a determination if further study of the play is needed. If not, there is no contact with the field and play continues without interruption.

If the Replay Official believes an error may have been made, the Umpire will be contacted via a headset.

The Replay Official will watch replay(s) on one or both monitors and complete his review within a reasonable period after the play is over.

The Replay Official will inform the Umpire of his decision, and the Referee will make the appropriate announcement on the wireless microphone.

The limited Instant Replay system concentrates on plays of possession or touching (e.g., fumbles, receptions, interceptions, muffs) and most plays governed by the sidelines, goal lines, end lines, and line of scrimmage (e.g., receiver or runner in or out of bounds, forward or backward passes, breaking the plane of the goal line).

However, the Instant Replay system will not include the following fouls: clipping; encroachment and offsides; grasp of facemask; false start; defensive pass interference; offensive pass interference; offensive holding and illegal use of hands; illegal batting or punching ball; illegal block on free kick or scrimmage kick; illegal crackback; illegal motion; illegal use of forearm or elbow; illegal use of hands by defense; illegally kicking the ball; illegally snapping the ball; intentional grounding; member of the punting team downfield early; illegal formation; palpably unfair act; piling on; roughing the passer; running into or roughing the kicker; striking, kicking, or kneeing; unnecessary roughness; unsportsmanlike conduct; and use of the helmet as a weapon.

VETERAN PLAYER BIOGRAPHIES

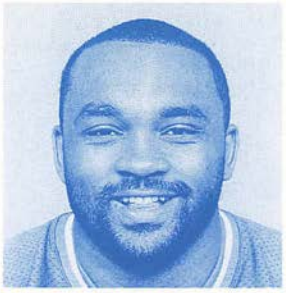

59 ROBERT ABRAHAM

Linebacker No. Carolina St. 7/13/60
6-1 240 FA- '88 7th Year

PRO: Veteran inside linebacker was signed as a FA by the Giants during this past off-season after spending six years with the Houston Oilers. A No. 3 draft choice of the Oilers in 1982, Abraham missed most of the '87 season due to injuries, but prior to that time, he had played in 71 of 73 games in the previous five seasons, and had been a starter in 60 of those outings. Registered more than 100 tackles for four consecutive seasons with Oilers ('83 through '86), and had his best season in 1984 when he led Houston with a total of 198 stops on 106 solos and 92 assists. That same season, he also had his career high solo game effort with 18 tackles vs. New Orleans. His six-year cumulative stats with Oilers showed 575 total tackles, seven fumble recoveries, five QB sacks and two interceptions.

COLLEGE: Won four varsity letters at North Carolina State and was a three-year starter at LB, winning honorable mention All-American honors from the Sporting News and Football News in his senior year. He had 407 total tackles and five interceptions in his collegiate career, and graduated with a B.S. degree in education.

PERSONAL: Robert Eugene Abraham was born on July 13, 1960 in Myrtle Beach, S.C. and starred in football and baseball at Myrtle Beach H.S. He and his wife, Harriet reside in Houston where he has studied financial planning and has worked in the Houston Center for Financial Planning. Lists photography, horseback riding and computers as his favorite hobbies.

33 GEORGE ADAMS

Running Back Kentucky 12/22/62
6-1 225 D-1 '85 4th Year

PRO: Adams returned to fulltime action in '87 after missing all of the previous season due to injury, and finished as the club's second leading receiver with 35 receptions, including three games in which he had six catches. His rushing production, however, dropped off considerably from his 1985 totals as he carried just 61 times for 169 yards and a 2.8 average. One of the biggest losses the Giants had to endure in 1986 was the absence for the entire season of Adams, who suffered a chipped pelvic bone in pre-season camp, and was on injured reserve for the entire season. First-round draft choice had a highly productive year in his rookie season, appearing in all 16 regular season games as well as the playoffs, and finishing that first season with a total of 1,128 all-purpose yards on offense. Adams proved he had the talent from the start of pre-season training camp and finished as the club's leading rusher in a final 5-0 pre-season slate. Used exclusively as a reserve during the regular campaign, George nonetheless finished as the second leading rusher with 498 yards and a 3.9 average... was the leading receiver among the RBs with 31 grabs for 389 yards, including a 70-yard TD catch vs. Dallas... and led the club in kickoff returns with 241 yards, while scoring a total of four TDs overall. He had his best rushing day vs. St. Louis when he came on in relief of Joe Morris and rushed for 113 yards to pace a 34-3 triumph. Also made a big contribution in win over New Orleans when he alternated with Morris and had 89 yards rushing and a 5.3 average. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 7.

COLLEGE: A four-year letterman at Kentucky, George was a unanimous All-Southeastern Conference choice, MVP in the 1984 Hall of Fame Bowl, and set five alltime Kentucky records, including 4,205 all-purpose yards in his career. As a senior, he set four standards—most rushing attemps, 253; most TDs, 14; most total points, 84; and most rushing TDs, 14, as he rushed for 1,117 yards. Final career rushing total was 2,717 yards, while adding 83 receptions and 847 yards on kickoff returns. Selected for both the Senior Bowl and Hula Bowl after his senior season.

PERSONAL: George W. Adams was born on December 22, 1962 in Lexington, Ky., and was an All-American scholastic player in football and All-State in basketball at Lafayette H.S. in his hometown. As a youngster, he was also a fine Little League baseball player and still roots for the New York Mets. George and his wife, Lynn, have a son, DeAnder.

2 RAUL ALLEGRE

Kicker Texas 6/15/59

5-10 167 FA '86 6th Year

PRO: Although his field goal accuracy dropped off in '87 to 17-of-27, Raul nonetheless became the club's alltime leader in FG percentage with a 69.5% mark. He won both Philadelphia games with FGs, the second one in overtime, and in the first win over the Eagles set an alltime Giants' club record and tied an NFL record by kicking a pair of 50-yarders in a single game, with his 53 and 52 yard connections. Allegre was originally signed as a FA by the Dallas Cowboys in 1983, but was traded for a 9th round draft choice to the Indianapolis Colts that same pre-season. The regular kicker for the Colts from 1983-85, Raul was released during the 1986 training camp and was subsequently signed by the Giants as a free agent in late September. Despite missing the first three games of the year, Raul had an outstanding season for the Giants, leading the club in scoring with 105 points on 33-for-33 in PATs and 24-for 32 in FGs, and winning honorable mention All-NFL from the Associated Press at season's end. Along the way, Allegre's field goals were the winning points in six victories, and in two of those contests, his last-second FGs downed Minnesota 22-20 and Denver 19-16 in successive games. Allegre kicked five field goals in the win over the Vikings, then added four more the following week in the victory vs. the Broncos. He was 2-for-2 in FG attempts in the playoffs, and after hitting 46 conversions in a row during the season, missed the 47th attempt after the final Giants' TD in the Super Bowl triumph. In his rookie season with the Colts in '83, Allegre had a sizzling season with 30-of-35 FG attempts, including 4-of-5 from 50 yards and longer. His three-year totals with the Colts showed 57-of-79 FG attempts for a .722 percentage, and 72-of-77 PAT attempts for a total of 243 points. GAMES PLAYED: 12.

COLLEGE: Raul began his collegiate career at the University of Montana, then switched to Texas where he scored 147 points in two seasons on 27-of-45 FGs and 66 of 68 PATs. He earned a degree in civil engineering and was an honor student with a 3.48 GPA.

PERSONAL: Raul Enrique Allegre was born in Torreon, Coahuila, Mexico on June 15, 1959, then graduated high school in Shelton, Wash., where he played soccer, football, baseball and basketball. Allegre speaks fluent Spanish, French and English, plays the piano, and still resides in Indianapolis in the off-seasons.

24 OTTIS ANDERSON

Running Back Miami (Fla.) 11/19/57

6-2 225 T- '86 (St. Lou.) 10th Year

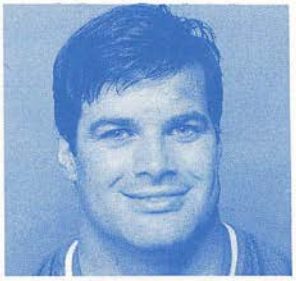

PRO: Veteran RB saw only limited action last year, appearing in just four gains with but two rushing attempts and a pair of pass receptions. Former Pro Bowl and All-NFL running back was obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals in a trade for draft choices on October 7, 1986, and appeared in eight games for the Giants during the regular season, as well as in the playoffs and Super Bowl. In his first game with the Giants, on October 12 vs. the Eagles, Anderson rushed for 32 yards on seven carries, but pulled a hamstring on a 16-yard sweep and was hobbled somewhat thereafter. He finished the season with 81 yards rushing on 24 carries for the Giants, including the go-ahead one-yard TD dive in the 21-17 win over the San Francisco 49ers, then put the cap on the Giants' 39-20 Super Bowl triumph over Denver with a 2-yard blast for the last Giant touchdown. Anderson now has 8,082 career rushing yards to rank third among active rushers behind Walter Payton of the Bears and Tony Dorsett of the Cowboys, and that total also ranks him No. 10 on the NFL's alltime rushing list. The Cardinals No. 1 draft choice in 1979, O.J. had one of the most dynamic pro debuts in NFL history when he rushed for 193 yards on 21 carries in his first NFL game vs. Dallas. He went on to win Rookie of the Year honors that season, as well as being named to the Pro Bowl and All-NFL with a 1,605-yards rushing rookie season. He added four more 1,000-yard rushing seasons in 1980-81-83-84 before missing seven games in 1985 with assorted injuries. He owns all of the Cardinals' rushing records, both for season and career. GAMES PLAYED: 4, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Anderson broke Chuck Foreman's career rushing records at the University of Miami, setting a Miami season record with 1,266 yards rushing in his senior year—the first Hurricane ever to surpass the 1,000-yard rushing mark in one season. He was a first-team All-American selection by both the Sporting News and Football Coaches Association.

PERSONAL: Ottis Jerome Anderson was born in West Palm Beach, Fla., and was a scholastic standout at Forest Hill High School in his hometown. With a degree in physical education from Miami, Ottis and his wife, Wanda, reside in Creve Coeur, Mo. during the off-seasons.

67 BILLY ARD

Guard — Lake Forest — 3/12/59

6-3 — 270 — D-8C '81 — 8th Year

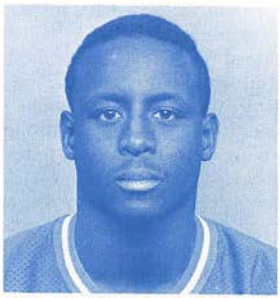

PRO: Save for a knee injury which sidelined him for one game in 1984, Ard has a string of 95 consecutive games as the starting LG, dating back to his rookie season when he won the starter's job late in that season. Strong and durable, he has improved yearly and now ranks as one of the top guards in the NFC. In 1986, Ard had perhaps his best year ever, winning honorable mention All-NFL from the Associated Press and finishing as a Pro Bowl alternate. As a rookie, Ard won himself a roster spot as a reserve, but his constant improvement won him the starting job in the second half of the season, and he had some solid games, particularly against Cowboy All-Pro Randy White and earned All-NFL Rookie honors that year. A devotee of the off-season work program, he's built himself up from his rookie weight of 255 to his current 270 pounds. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 12.

COLLEGE: Ard lettered for four seasons at Wake Forest and capped his collegiate career by being named first-team All-American by both the Sporting News and Pro Football Weekly, while also winning first-team All ACC honors and honorable mention All-American by both AP and UPI. Also won the Bill George Award at Wake Forest as the school's MVP lineman. Selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Senior Bowl after his senior year.

PERSONAL: William Donovan Ard was born on March 12, 1959 in East Orange, N.J., then played his scholastic football at Watchung Hills Regional H.S. in Watchung, N.J. Ard's dad, Bill Sr., has been a Giant's season ticket holder for 20 years, and there were plenty of Ard fans at that 1981 college draft, considering a sign which appeared in the balcony during the selections which read, "Let Ard be your Guard."

85 STEPHEN BAKER

Wide Receiver Fresno State 8/30/64
5-8 160 D-3 '87 2nd Year

PRO: Swift small-package department made an impact during the pre-season, then won himself a spot during the regular season, and was a starter at WR for five games when Stacy Robinson was injured. Along the way, the diminutive speedster had 15 receptions for an 18.5 average-per-catch, and scored on TD receptions of 46 yards vs. the Saints and 12 vs. the Eagles. He also had a big 50-yard reception in an earlier win over Philadelphia. He had his best outing in that New Orleans game, grabbing four passes for 100 yards and the TD. Also had four catches for 69 yards in victory over New England. Also filled in briefly as punt returner with three for 16 yards. Minor injuries slowed him down late in the season. Fastest of all the receivers on the club. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 5.

COLLEGE: Stephen began his collegiate career at West Los Angeles J.C. where he had 105 receptions for 2,145 yards and 31 touchdowns, then continued his production for two more years at Fresno State where he set alltime school marks en route to two straight All-Pacific Coast Athletic Association first-team designations. In those two years, he had 62 catches for 1,629 yards and a dazzling 26.3 average-per-catch mark while scoring 16 touchdowns—10 on receptions, three on end-arounds and three more on punt returns. Also starred in Japan Bowl and Blue-Gray games, winning MVP honors in the first-mentioned game when he caught a 36-yard TD pass in the final two minutes to win the game for the West.

PERSONAL: Stephen Edward Baker was born on August 30, 1964 in San Antonio, Tex., then played his scholastic sports at Hamilton High School in Los Angeles where he starred in football, track and gymnastics. Lists video games and remote control toys as two of his favorite hobbies.

58 CARL BANKS

Linebacker Michigan State 8/29/62
6-4 235 D-1 '84 5th Year

PRO: Banks finally won much-overdue recognition in 1987, winning unanimous All-NFL honors by the wire services and major publications, and was also voted as a starter to his first Pro Bowl. Along the way, Carl led the club in tackles for the second consecutive year with 113, added a career-high nine quarterback sacks, his first interception and a pair of forced fumbles, while also winning NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors with 12 solo tackles and 2½ sacks in a win over the Eagles. Banks was a powerhouse performer all season long in 1986, and was ranked among the top three linebackers in the NFL by Dallas coach Tom Landry. Yet despite the fact that he might have well been the club's best defensive player during the second half of the season, Banks won little post-season acclaim, getting an honorable mention All-NFL from the AP and a Pro Bowl alternate spot. In his first full season as a 16-game starter, Carl led the team in total tackles with 120; had 6½ quarterback sacks; two forced fumbles, and two fumble returns for five yeards, then led the club in the playoffs as well with 26 total tackles and a fumble recovery while recording 10 solo stops in the Super Bowl triumph. The Giants' No. 1 draft choice in 1984, Banks made considerable contributions to the defense in his rookie season, appearing in all 16 regular season games, and as a starter at LOLB four games, as well as in both of the playoff games. In 1985, Banks won the starting job at OLB, then suffered a sprained knee and was out of action for a month. Prior to that injury, he had recorded three QB sacks and recovered a fumble and performed with gusto. After his return, he saw action in all of the remaining games, concluding the season with a total of 31 tackles, then adding nine more tackles in the playoff games. Carl had an auspicious debut as a rookie starter, winning Sports Illustrated's Defensive Player of the Week honors after registering 10 solo tackles, two QB sacks and a fumble recovery in a 19-7 victory over Atlanta. All told, Banks finished that season with 39 total tackles, added three QB sacks, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble, and also played well on special teams. As a starter in the two playoff games, he added seven tackles, and set the tone on defense in the playoff win over the Los Angeles Rams by throwing Eric Dickerson for a four-yard loss on the Rams' first rushing attempt of the day. Banks was named to the All-NFL Rookie team at season's end by UPI, Pro Football Weekly, the Pro Football Writers Association and Football Digest. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 12.

COLLEGE: Banks was a consensus All-American in his senior year at Michigan State and was only the ninth player in the 87-year history of the Big 10 to earn All-Conference first-team honors for three straight seasons. Carl won a starting job late in his freshman season, then played in 43 of 44 games thereafter, finishing his career with 279 tackles—the third highest total in Spartan history. He added two interceptions, four fumble recoveries, and eight pass deflections and was named to play in the Senior Bowl, Blue-Gray Game and Hula Bowl. Banks was co-captain in both his junior and senior years and was named Michigan State's MVP and Governor's Award winner in his senior season.

PERSONAL: Carl Banks was born on August 29, 1962 in Flint, Mich., and was a fine student-athlete at Beecher High School in his hometown, winning All-State honors in football as well as All-State Honorable mention in basketball. He was also a shot-putter on the track team which finished third in the state championships. He was also elected vice-president of the student government in high school, and was a Communications major at Michigan State.

89 MARK BAVARO

Tight End Notre Dame 4/28/63
6-4 245 D-4 '85 4th Year

PRO: Premier tight end had yet another powerful season in 1987, leading the club in receiving for the second straight year while being named All-NFL unanimously by the wire services and major news outlets. He was also selected as a starter in the Pro Bowl for the second straight year and was named as the NFL Tight End of the Year by the NFL Alumni Association. In 12 games, Mark had 55 catches for 867 yards and a career-high eight TD receptions... had four 100-plus receiving games... and caught 11 passes vs. St. Louis, the second-highest one-game total in club history to the 12 catches he had against the Bengals in 1985. Bavaro had a vintage year in 1986, setting alltime club records in receiving for tight ends, while winning unanimous All-NFL honors and a Pro Bowl starting job as well. In ascending to a position as perhaps the best tight end in pro football, the second-year marvel caught 66 passes for 1,001 yards—both club marks for a TE—and continued to block like a 275-pound tackle. He was also the club's leading receiver in the playoffs with eight catches, and had TD grabs vs. the 49ers and vs. the Broncos in the Super Bowl. The powerful one had any number of big games, including six catches for 106 yards vs. the Raiders; seven for 110 vs. the Saints, and five for 111 in the big Dec. 7 win over Washington, but perhaps his most notable grab was a 10-yarder in the Monday Night win over the 49ers where he carried four 49er tacklers another 20 yards on his back for an eventual 31-yard gain. Mark enjoyed a powerful first season with the Giants after being faced with the challenge of moving up to the starting TE position when incumbent starter Zeke Mowatt went down with a major knee injury during the pre-season and was out for the year. After a strong pre-season performance in which he finished second to Mowatt in receiving, Bavaro was a powerhouse blocker and receiver all season long and through the playoffs and was a unanimous All-NFL Rookie selection at season's end. Along the way, Bavaro finished as the second leading receiver on the club with 37 receptions for 511 yards and four TDs and set an alltime club record by catching 12 passes for 176 yards against the Cincinnati Bengals. In two particular victories—against the Eagles and Redskins—he had the key touchdown grabs. Bavaro was also the club's leading receiver in the playoffs with nine receptions for 103 yards and it was his spectacular one-handed grab of an 18-yard TD pass that set the pace in the Giants' 17-3 wild card victory over the defending champion 49ers. In addition to his pass receiving, Bavaro was a ferocious blocker who had much to do with the Giants setting an alltime club record for rushing yards in a season. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 12.

COLLEGE: Mark was an All-American selection in his senior season at Notre Dame and was also voted the Offensive MVP by Notre Dame players after a year in which he had 32 receptions for 395 yards. Bavaro was the starting TE for two seasons at ND after sitting out the entire '82 season with a broken hand. He appeared in the Liberty Bowl and Aloha Bowl games with the Irish and was also chosen to play in the Hula Bowl after his senior season.

PERSONAL: Mark Anthony Bavaro was born in East Boston, Mass. on April 28, 1963, and was an all-around scholastic star at Danvers High School in Danvers, Mass. He was an All-American selection in football, won four letters in track as a high jumper, hurdler and triple jumper and won a bronze medal at 15 in a national scholastic track event in Los Angeles. Mark is married to the former Susan Downes and has a daughter, Grace. He has also visited many parts of the country as National Chairman of a March of Dimes fund-raising program.

79 BILL BERTHUSEN

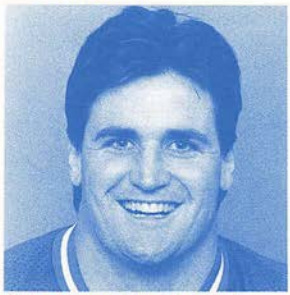

Tackle — Iowa State — 6/26/64

6-5 — 285 — D-12 '87 — 2nd Year

PRO: The No. 12 draft choice in '87, Bill appeared in a pair of pre-season outings before being released, then was signed by the Cincinnati Bengals during the replacement games, starting in all three of those contests for the Bengals and registering 2½ QB sacks as a defensive nose tackle. Released by the Bengals, he returned to the Giants late in the season as a defensive line replacement. He took part in the Giants' off-season program and has now been switched to offensive tackle. GAMES PLAYED: 3; STARTED 3.

COLLEGE: Berthusen won four varsity letters at Iowa State and was a starter for his final two seasons, winning All-Big Eight honorable mention in his senior year. Concluded collegiate career with 174 total tackles, six QB sacks and three fumble recoveries.

PERSONAL: William Scott Berthusen was born in Grinnell, Iowa on June 26, 1964 and was an All-Conference MVP as a fullback at Marshalltown High School in Marshalltown, Iowa, while also starring as a first-baseman on that school's state champion baseball team. He has a BBA degree in finance from Iowa State, is married to the former Rebecca Blair and has a son Jacob.

64 JIM BURT

Defensive Tackle — Miami — 6/7/59

6-1 — 260 — FA '81 — 8th Year

PRO: Although he missed four games in '87 because of a back injury and subsequent disc surgery, the feisty nose tackle was a force during the time that he was able to play, registering 27 total tackles and a pair of QB sacks, while effectively tying up blockers with his usual finesse. Completely recovered now from that surgery late in the season, Jim should be ready to go full steam again this coming year. Burt enjoyed the most productive season of his career in 1986, despite missing three games late in the season because of a back problem. Playing in just those 13 regular season outings, Burt led all defensive linemen in total tackles with 61, had three fumble recoveries to share the club lead, added a forced fumble and had a QB sack, with that powerful all-around showing bringing him his first Pro Bowl selection as well as a berth on Pro Football Weekly's All-NFL team. Jim was also named to the "All-Madden" team for the second straight year, an honor he particularly cherished since CBS-TV's John Madden picks that squad personally. Burt was back for the playoffs and Super Bowl, adding 10 total tackles in those games, and endearing himself to Giant fans by climbing into the stands to celebrate those playoff wins with the fans. Back to back healthy seasons helped vault Burt into prominence as one of the top nose tackles in the NFC. He topped all of the defensive linemen on the club in total tackles in '85 with 78, added four QB sacks, a pair of fumble recoveries, and then had a big performance in the wild card playoff win over the 49ers with six tackles and a pair of QB sacks on Joe Montana. After three seasons of sporadic duty, initially as a reserve, and then, after winning a starting job at nose tackle and going down with a herniated disc which laid him low for half of the 1983 season, Burt finally had a full and healthy season in 1984. That being the case, he started all 16 regular season and both playoff games and was a powerful force on the defense, leading the down linemen in total tackles with 90, and adding 6½ QB sacks and a pair of fumble recoveries. In the playoffs, he added 12 more tackles and a QB sack and played with intensity from start to finish. For his efforts, he was rewarded with an All-NFL berth by Sports Illustrated. One of the strongest and most aggressive players on the defense, Burt showed that tenacity from his first training camp in 1981 after being signed as a free agent. With a Kamikazee-type approach to the game, he made the club as a reserve DT and special teams' player, registering 20 tackles as the leader of the specials. In the truncated '82 season, he had two starts at nose tackle, getting 17 tackles and his first QB sack, then won the starting job in '83, only to go down with the back injury after seven games in which he had 35 tackles and a fumble recovery. GAMES PLAYED: 8, STARTED: 8.

COLLEGE: Jim won four varsity letters as a defensive tackle at the University of Miami, winning several All-American designations in his senior year, and winning national Defensive Player of the Week honors from Sports Illustrated after he had caused five fumbles in one game with big hits.

PERSONAL: James P. Burt was born on June 7, 1959 in Buffalo, N.Y. and played his scholastic football at Orchard Park H.S. just next door to the Buffalo Bills' Rich Stadium. Burt resides in Waldwick, N.J. with his wife, Colleen, and one son, Jimmy.

53 HARRY CARSON

Linebacker So. Carolina St. 11/26/53
6-3 245 D-4 '76 13th Year

PRO: Indestructible linebacker was like vintage wine in 1987, earning his ninth Pro Bowl selection, which ties an alltime NFL record for most Pro Bowl appearances. In starting all 12 regular season games, Harry finished second in total tackles with 94, added a QB sack of 17 yards and recovered one fumble, his 15th career recovery which ranks second in the Giants' alltime record section behind the 19 by Jim Katcavage. Now entering his 13th season with the Giants, that tenure will rank Harry in the third spot in club history for most seasons played with the Giants. The senior Giants' linebacker had yet another banner season in 1986, being named to the All-NFL team for an eighth time, with Pro Football Weekly and Football News doing the honors this time. The powerhouse inside linebacker started every game again, finishing second in total tackles with 118 in the regular season, and with 23 in the playoffs and Super Bowl. He added his ninth career interception, this one a 20-yard return in the Big Dec. 7 win over the Redskins, had two QB sacks, two fumble recoveries and two forced fumbles, and showed his overall athletic prowess by catching a 13-yard TD pass on a fake field goal in a win over the Eagles. That was Harry's third career TD. His first came on a 22-yard fumble return for the winning score vs. Kansas City in 1979, and the other on a 14-yard interception return against Joe Montana in the 1984 Divisional championship game vs. the 49ers. He also tied an alltime club record by recovering two fumbles in one game, this time vs. Dallas. As usual, Harry had his top performances in key games, recording 13 tackles in the 17-14 win over Dallas that kept the Giants in first-place, and adding 12 tackles to his interception in the Dec. 7 win over the Redskins that virtually assured the Giants the NFC East title. Carson also made the big play on the Giants' first-half goal line stand vs. Denver in the Super Bowl when he stacked up Gerald Willhite for no gain. In 1985 Harry finished second in total tackles on the club with 101, just three behind fellow All-Pro Lawrence Taylor, and he added 22 tackles in the two playoff games, including 14 vs. the Super Bowl champion Chicago Bears, Over the years, Harry has had any number of outstanding seasons, including the 1979 campaign when he had 185 total tackles for the season. A defensive end in college, Carson was moved to LB in his rookie year with the Giants, won the starting MLB job halfway through that rookie season, and was named to the all-NFL Rookie team in 1976. Since that time, he's led the club in tackles five seasons, and had his single biggest harvest in a 1982 Monday Night game vs. Green Bay when he racked up an incredible 25 stops (20 solo, 5 assists). In addition to being named to the Pro Bowl nine times in his career, Carson has also been named the NFL's top inside LB in 1980 by Sports Illustrated and was named as the NFC's Linebacker of the Year that same season by the NFL Players Association. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 12.

COLLEGE: Carson never missed a game in four seasons at South Carolina State, was team captain for two years, senior class president, and won Kodak All-American honors as well as Little All-American by AP. Twice MVP of the Mid-East Conference, he had 114 solo tackles, 41 assists and 30 QB sacks in his senior year. Additionally, he was an ROTC Commander in college and won the Eastern Airlines Award for highest academic average among Black College All-Americans.

PERSONAL: Harry Donald Carson was born on November 26, 1953 in Florence, S.C. and starred at McClenaghan H.S. in all sports, as well as serving as senior class president. Harry has five brothers and sisters, and a brother, Edgar, is a minister. Harry lists music, fishing and target shooting as his principal interests, and he's also a devotee of daytime soap operas on television. In 1979, he appeared on the ABC-TV soap, "One Life To Live." He was also the Giants' representative on the 1985 nationally televised United Way public service commercials. In addition to being an All-Pro and a leader both on and off the field, the articulate Carson is currently nearing the earning of a Master's degree in Business and is the author of an autobiography titled "Point Of Attack" which was published in 1986. Harry also does a daily radio report on WNEW-AM during the season.

44 MAURICE CARTHON

Running Back Arkansas State 4/24/61
6-1 225 FA- '85 4th Year

PRO: After two seasons as the starting fullback, Carthon's production fell off somewhat in '87 as he started in just five games, rushing only 26 times for 60 yards and a 2.3 average and catching just eight passes for 71 yards. When he was in action, however, Carthon's powerful blocking was as solid as ever. He finished as the Giant's No. 2 rusher in 1986 with 260 yards and a 3.6 average, while adding 16 pass receptions, then added 49 yards rushing and eight more catches in the playoffs. While he has fine running and receiving ability, Carthon's forte is blocking, and there isn't a better blocking back in football. Maurice had a busy year in 1985, first playing an entire season in the USFL, then coming to the Giants where he played in all 16 regular season games, half of those as the starting fullback. He had just 27 rushing attempts for 70 yards and added eight pass receptions for 81 yards, but that powerhouse blocking on sweeps had considerable impact on the Giants setting a one-season alltime club record for rushing yardage. Carthon was signed as a free agent just prior to training camp after spending three seasons as the starting fullback for the New Jersey Generals of the USFL. A superb blocker for those three years, Maurice also proved that he was equally as talented as a running back when given the opportunity, rushing for 1,042 yards on 238 trips for a 4.4 average and 11 rushing touchdowns in the 1983 season. That followed his rookie season harvest of 334 yards and a 3.7 average when he had but 90 carries. All told, he had more than 2,000 yards rushing in his three campaigns, a 4.2 rushing average and 20 rushing TDs, while adding more than 60 pass receptions in addition to that solid blocking prowess. He was an 8th round draft choice by the Generals in the '83 USFL draft. GAMES PLAYED: 11, STARTED: 5.

COLLEGE: Maurice was a four-year letter winner at Arkansas State, and was twice named to the All-Southland Conference team, leading his club in rushing in his senior year with 682 yards. He began his collegiate career as a tight end as a freshman, then was switched to fullback in his sophomore year.

PERSONAL: Maurice Carthon was born in Chicago, Ill., on April 24, 1961, then played his scholastic sports at Osceola High School in Osceola, Ark., where he starred in football and basketball, winning state MVP honors in basketball and All-Conference honors in football.

21 HARVEY CLAYTON

Cornerback Florida State 4/4/61
5-9 186 FA- '87 6th Year

PRO: Signed with the Giants as a FA in '87 after spending four seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers. While with Pittsburgh, Clayton appeared in 57 games, 26 of those as the starting right cornerback. Over that four-year span, he had five interceptions for 88 yards returned, including a 70-yard TD interception vs. Cincinnati in his rookie season. Also credited with 156 total tackles over that span, adding three QB sacks along the way. Originally signed as a free agent with the Steelers in 1983. He appeared in just two games with the Giants in '87 as a reserve CB and had two solo tackles. GAMES PLAYED: 2; STARTED, 0.

COLLEGE: Harvey was a four-year letterman and two-year starter at cornerback for Florida State and had nine career interceptions, including five in his junior year. Graduated with a degree in criminology and was an All-South Independent choice in his senior year.

PERSONAL: Harvey Jerome Clayton was born on April 4, 1961 in Kendall, Fla., and played his scholastic sports at South Dade High School in Miami where he starred in football, basketball and track. Now lives in Florida City, Fla., and as that town's only NFL player was honored with a "Harvey Clayton Day" there on July 7, 1984.

25 MARK COLLINS

Cornerback Cal State-Fullerton 1/16/64
5-10 190 D-2 '86 3rd Year

PRO: Collins enjoyed a stellar campaign in 1987, winning a starting job at the outset and playing strongly throughout the season until an injury knocked him out of the season finale vs. the Jets. Along the way, Mark led the secondary in total tackles with 60, had two pass interceptions, was in on a pair of QB sacks and showed excellent coverage and run support capabilities. Had one of his best games in victory over Cardinals when he had 10 tackles, a QB sack and an interception. A solid contributor from the start of training camp in his rookie season, Mark proved to be a valuable addition to the club. He first attracted attention when he returned a kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown in a pre-season victory over the New York Jets, then became the starting left cornerback when Elvis Patterson went down with a groin injury. Collins performed extremely well as the starter for nine games and by season's end was named to the All-NFL Rookie team by Pro Football Weekly. He finished as the second leading tackler in the secondary with a total of 60 tackles, added one interception, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery, and also did some double duty as a return man, with 11 kickoff returns for 204 yards and an 18.5 average, and three punt returns for 11 yards. He also displayed one of the season's great hustle plays when he raced 80 yards upfield on George Martin's 78-yard interception return vs. Denver to make the final block to spring Martin into the end zone. He added eight tackles in the playoffs. GAMES PLAYED: 11, STARTED: 11

COLLEGE: Collins won four varsity letters at Cal State-Fullerton, and along the way set an alltime school record with 20 career interceptions. He also set a school and Pacific Coast Athletic Association record with four interceptions in one game. He was a first-team All-American by the Sporting News in his senior year, third-team All-American by the Associated Press and a three-time All-PCAA selection as well as the PCAA Defensive Player of the Year in 1985. He was selected to play in three post-season games in that senior year, East-West Shrine, Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl and played well in all three outings. He was also elected team captain in his senior year.

PERSONAL: Mark Anthony Collins was born in St. Louis, Mo., on January 16, 1964, then starred scholastically at Pacific High School in San Bernardino, Calif., where he won 10 varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball and was team captain in all three sports. He also won the Ken Hubbs Memorial Award as the outstanding senior athlete in the San Bernardino-Colton area. Aspires for a career in acting or broadcasting when his playing days are over.

77 ERIC DORSEY

Defensive End Notre Dame 8/5/64
6-5 280 D-1 '86 3rd Year

PRO: Eric had a productive second season with the Giants in '87, appearing in all 12 games and sharing the starting role with the veteran George Martin at LDE. All told, he had 25 total tackles, one QB sack for 17 yards and a trio of blocked passes, and was particularly strong in short-yardage play. Dorsey spent the entire 1986 season as a reserve, appearing in every game, and saw extensive duty in short-yardage situations where he made good use of his outstanding strength and agility. He saw more and more action as the season progressed, and was outstanding in the playoffs and Super Bowl. He had seven total tackles in the playoffs in that reserve role and also registered three quarterback sacks for 32 yards in the three playoff games, getting one each in the wins over the 49ers, Redskins and Broncos. During the regular season, he registered five total tackles, but nonetheless did a solid job in those short-yardage performances. Eric was a steady visitor in the Giants' off-season work program and should be ready to put in a serious bid for the starting job at defensive LE in training camp. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 3.

GIANTS

COLLEGE: Eric won four varsity letters at Notre Dame as a nose tackle and defensive end and capped his career with the Irish by being named Defensive MVP as well as winning the Herring Trophy as the most improved player on the squad. He also won honorable mention All-American by the AP and Football News and was selected to play in the Blue-Gray game. He led his club with most tackles by a defensive lineman in that year with 87, 15 for losses. He also had three forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries and three QB sacks in that senior campaign.

PERSONAL: Eric Hall Dorsey was born in Washington, D.C. on August 5, 1964 and starred at McLean High School in McLean, Va., where he was an All-American selection in football, All-State in wrestling with a 30-3 record in his senior year, and a record-setting performer in track where he tossed the discus 176′6½″ and the shot-put 57′5″. The team captain in all three of those sports, Eric hails from an athletic family. His late father, Lawrence Dorsey, was a karate expert and a pitcher in the Chicago Cubs' organization, while three cousins have been collegiate stars—Robbie Hall, a fullback at Army; Rodney Williams, a sprinter at Navy; and Allen Pinkett, a halfback at Notre Dame.

28 TOM FLYNN

Safety Pittsburgh 3/24/62
6-0 195 FA- '86 5th Year

PRO: Veteran reserve safety continued to be a solid special teams contributor in '87, finishing among the leaders in tackles on kick coverages with 13. He was also Tommy-on-the-spot in the season opener vs. the Chicago Bears when he recovered a blocked punt in the Bears' end zone for a touchdown, which was not only the second TD via blocked punts for Flynn as a Giant, but marked two consecutive regular season games in which he had a blocked punt TD. Veteran safety was signed as a free agent by the Giants in mid-December of 1986 after Terry Kinard had suffered major knee damage and was lost for the rest of the year. Flynn stepped in as a reserve and special teams' player, and made a big contribution in the victory over his former team, the Green Bay Packers, when he blocked a Packer punt, caught it one-handed and returned it 36 yards for his first NFL touchdown. Flynn also appeared in the playoff games, and recorded three solo tackles in the Super Bowl victory on coverages, as well as covering a free kick after the Giants' safety. A 5th round draft choice of the Packers in 1984, Flynn was named to the All-NFL Rookie team after leading the NFC in interceptions with nine for 106 yards returned, and was also named the NFC Defensive Rookie of the Year by Pro Football Weekly. Released by the Packers midway through the '86 season, Tom had a total of 11 interceptions in his two-plus seasons with the Pack, and also averaged 7.7 on 22 punt returns. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Flynn broke into Pitt's starting lineup as a freshman, then was the Panthers' leading defensive back for the next three years, capping his collegiate career by being named to play in both the Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine games. He was a second-team All-American selection by NEA in his senior year and set a Pitt school record for punt returns with a career total of 121 for 979 yards.

PERSONAL: Thomas Jeffrey Flynn was born in Verona, Pa., on March 24, 1962 and was a scholastic star at Penn Hills High School in Pittsburgh where he led that school to consecutive State championships as a quarterback on offense and safety on defense. He also lettered in track and basketball, and comes from a family of 10 children.

61 CHRIS GODFREY

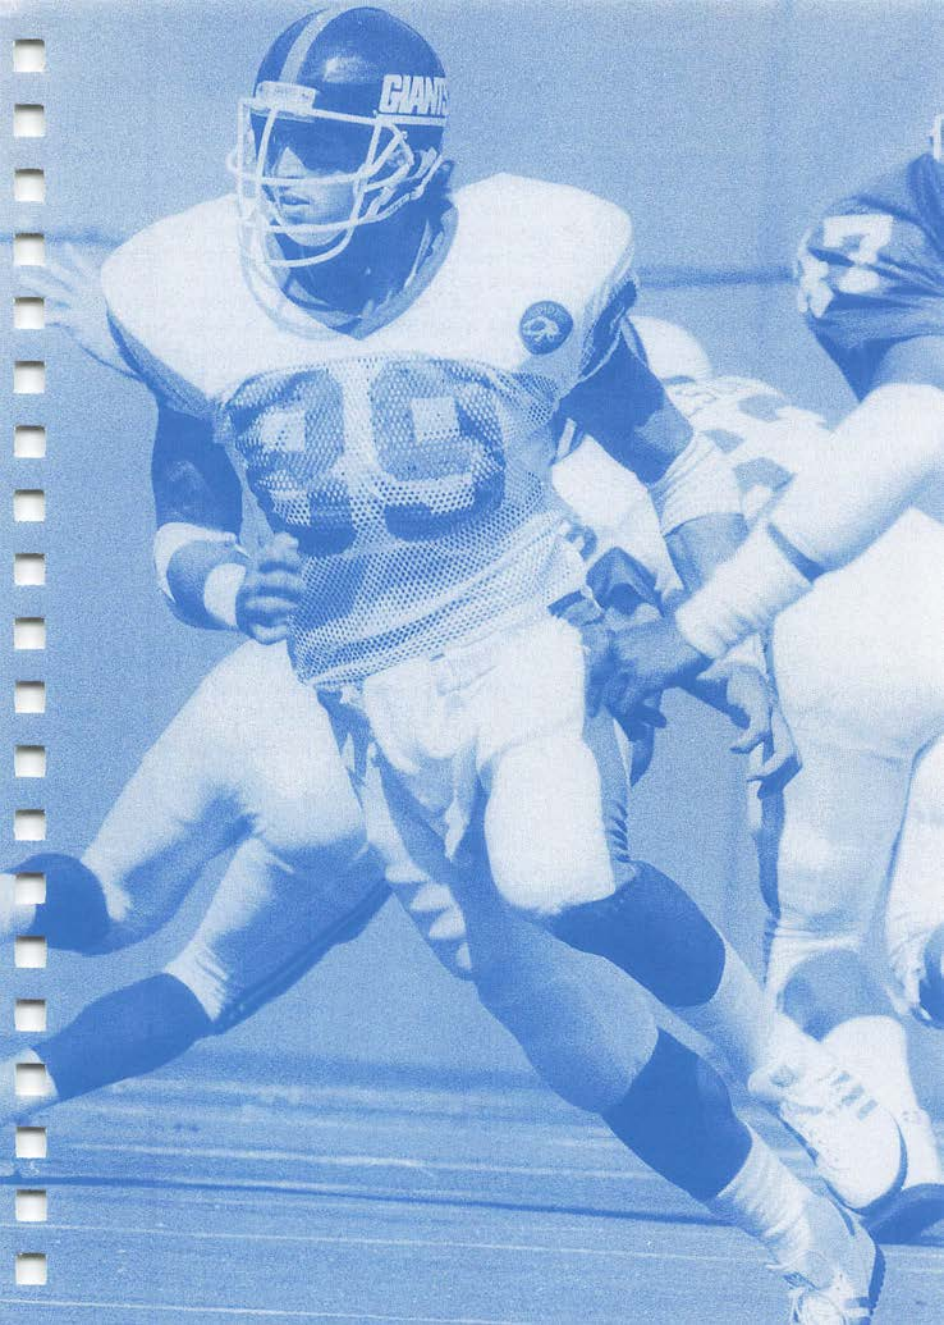

Guard Michigan 5/17/58

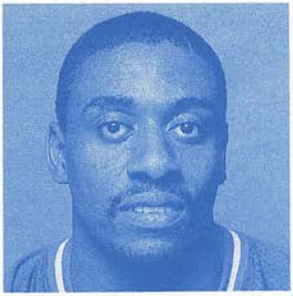

6-3 270 FA- '84 6th Year

PRO: Veteran right guard had an impressive 49-game string as a starter snipped in '87 when he suffered a sprained knee which sidelined him for four games. He recovered from that injury and regained his starting job for the final three games of the season, and has worked hard during the off-season to maintain his status as the regular right side guard. Chris has been a bulwark on the offensive line since taking over the starting RG slot midway through the 1984 season. Extremely strong and quick, he excels equally in pass blocking and run blocking, and perhaps had his best season ever in '86. By season's end, he finally earned some recognition, winning second-team All-NFC honors from UPI and honorable mention All-NFL by the Associated Press. Godfrey was inked by the Giants prior to the 1984 training camp after spending two years as a starter with Michigan in the USFL. Still recovering from an ankle injury incurred in the USFL, Chris didn't see much playing time until midway through the season when he moved in as the starting right guard and played so strongly in his debut start vs. the Redskins and Dave Butz, that he kept that starting job for the remainder of the year and in the playoffs, continuing his outstanding work. In 1985, Chris was healthy for the entire year and was the starting RG for all 16 games and the two playoff outings, and had a topnotch year. He had a big part in the Giants setting an alltime one-season team rushing record. Originally signed as a FA by the Washington Redskins in 1980, Chris was released by the Skins and signed with the New York Jets that same year, appearing in six games as a defensive tackle. A knee injury shelved him in '81, then he was with the Green Bay Packers briefly before spending those two seasons in the USFL prior to becoming a free agent again and being signed by the Giants. GAMES PLAYED: 8, STARTED: 5.

COLLEGE: Godfrey was a starting defensive tackle for three seasons at Michigan under Bo Schembechler, and played in three consecutive Rose Bowls, 1977-79 with the Wolverines.

PERSONAL: Christopher James Godfrey was born in Detroit, Mich., on May 17, 1958, and played his scholastic sports at both DelaSalle Collegiate in Detroit and at Chaminade H.S. in Hollywood, Fla. where he was an honor roll student and member of the National Honor Society. Raised in a large family with eight brothers and sisters, Chris' brother Mike played at Central Michigan, and his grandfather, Harold Godfrey, was a professional hockey player in Canada. Chris earned a business degree at Michigan, is married to the former Daria Chomik and has a daughter, Alexandra Mary.

GIANTS

37 WAYNE HADDIX

Cornerback Liberty Baptist 7/23/65
6-1 203 FA- '87 2nd Year

PRO: Signed as a FA by the Giants, Wayne had a solid training camp and pre-season before suffering a hamstring injury which put him on the shelf. Recovered, he was activated midway through the season and appeared in five games as a special teams' player and reserve cornerback, registering seven solo tackles. GAMES PLAYED: 5, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Won four varsity letters at Liberty Baptist and won Division II All-American honors in his senior year when he became one of the few Division II players selected to play in both the Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl games that season. Finished career there with 151 total tackles and three pass interceptions, while doubling as punt return specialist with 48 for 407 yards and an 8.5 average.

PERSONAL: LeWayne Haddix was born in Bolivar, Tenn., on July 23, 1965 and was a three-sport standout at Middleton High School in Middleton, Tenn. Cousin Michael Haddix plays with the Philadelphia Eagles.

54 ANDY HEADEN

Linebacker Clemson 7/8/60
6-5 242 D-8 '83 6th Year

PRO: Headen has had five particularly productive campaigns with the Giants as not only a third-down defensive specialist, but as a fill-in starter as well. He replaced Lawrence Taylor at the OLB slot when L.T. was dinged last season, while continuing his strong role as a key reserve. All told, Andy had 22 total tackles, added two pass interceptions, was in on a pair of QB sacks and had a forced fumble and a fumble recovery. That upped his career total to 16 QB sacks and six interceptions, a most impressive total for a reserve player. Highly versatile reserve linebacker had another solid year in '86, appearing in every game and finishing with 40 total tackles along the way. He also came up with 2½ QB sacks, added an interception and a forced fumble, and generally created havoc whenever he was on the field. His 40 tackles were tops among all reserves, and he added four more stops in the playoffs and Super Bowl. Highly capable OLB had another solid season in '85 as a reserve, racking up 28 total tackles, adding five QB sacks, two pass interceptions and a forced fumble, while also contributing on special teams—outstanding work for a reserve type player. Andy also etched his name in the Giants' alltime record section in 1984 when he scooped up a Dallas fumble and returned it 81 yards for a touchdown—the longest fumble return in club history. While that lightning bolt was a big play in that victory, Andy also contributed strongly all season long as a reserve OLB, while also making six starting appearances, finishing with 32 tackles, one pass interception and a QB sack. He also made a key fumble recovery in the playoff victory over the Rams. In his rookie year, Andy proved to be a valuable addition as an 8th round draft choice, making a strong impression in pre-season camp, then following that by racking up three QB sacks against the Jets in his initial pre-season outing, filling in for Lawrence Taylor. During the regular season, he saw frequent action at linebacker and on special teams, and was used extensively at linebacker on pass-rushing situations. He finished the year with 5½ QB sacks for 41½ yards lost to rank second among the linebackers in sacks to Lawrence Taylor. Headen had 28 total tackles (20 solos, 8 assists) to rank behind the starting LBs. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 2.

COLLEGE: Headen was a veritable one-man band at Clemson during his four seasons there. An All-American high school quarterback, he won the starting QB job at Clemson as a sophomore, eventually lost the job to Homer Jordan, and then switched to safety and cornerback while doubling as a kickoff return specialist. He finished his career as a standup defensive end and won All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors in his final season. His career stats showed 115 tackles, seven QB traps, two blocked kicks and two pass interceptions.

PERSONAL: Andrew Headen was born in Asheboro, N.C. on July 8, 1960 and was an outstanding scholastic star at Eastern Randolph High School in his hometown, winning All-American, All-Southern and All-State honors as a quarterback, setting total offense and scoring records along the way. He now makes his home in Liberty, N.C.

48 KENNY HILL

Safety Yale 7/5/58

6-1 195 T- '84 (Raiders) 8th Year

PRO: Despite some nagging ankle problems, Kenny started all 12 of the regular games in '87 and was the second-leading tackler in the secondary with 55 stops. He chipped in with his sixth career interception, and also added a QB sack and a six-yard fumble recovery-return. He now has a string of 45 consecutive games as the starting strong safety. Kenny had a strong season in '86, starting every game, including the playoffs, and leading the secondary in total tackles with 68, which also ranked fifth on the club behind the linebackers. He also ranked second on the club in interceptions with a career high of three, added a quarterback sack, two fumble recoveries and two forced fumbles and had five kickoff returns for 61 yards. He added seven tackles and a fumble recovery in the playoffs. Hill was obtained from the Los Angeles Raiders for a 7th round draft pick prior to the 1984 season and won the starting strong safety job soon after. He was the starter for seven games until an ankle injury decked him for a month, then was a reserve the remainder of that season. In 1985, Hill missed the first four games with ankle problems, then was the starter for the final 12 games of the year, finishing with 52 total tackles, two interceptions for 30 yards returned, and 11 kickoff returns for a 16.9 average. He also added 17 tackles in the two playoff games. Originally an 8th round draft choice of the Raiders in 1980, he was on injured reserve that season, then played in 34 consecutive games with the Raiders as a reserve DB and return specialist. He also appeared in the Raiders' Super Bowl win over the Redskins, recording one tackle and a pass deflection. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 12.

COLLEGE: Hill earned All-Ivy League honors at Yale as a running back where he was a three-year starter, concluding his career with a 4.8 rushing average. He was selected to play in the Blue-Gray game after his senior season. Kenny earned a Bachelor of Science degree in molecular biophysics.

PERSONAL: Kenneth Hill was born in Oak Grove, La., and was a topflight scholastic star and student at Oak Grove H.S., winning 10 varsity letters in football, basketball and in track where he was a District 100 and 220-yard dash champion.

15 JEFF HOSTETLER

Quarterback West Virginia 4/22/61
6-3 215 D-3 '84 5th Year

PRO: Jeff was active for only two games in '87, serving as the backup for Jeff Rutledge during the time that Phil Simms was out of service due to a knee injury. Hostetler saw considerable action in '86, appearing in 13 games, initially on special teams, and later on in the season as a reserve wide receiver when the club had several WRs on the injured list. He had one rushing attempt for one yard vs. the Raiders on a reverse, and on special teams came up with a partially blocked punt against the Eagles. He also saw extensive action at QB during the pre-season, going 9-for-24 with one TD pass vs. the Packers. Promising young quarterback saw extensive action in the 1985 pre-season, but as the No. 3 QB behind starter Phil Simms and veteran Jeff Rutledge, did not see any action during the regular season, although he did appear in five games as a reserve "extra" WR and on special teams. Jeff threw 13-for-27 for 175 yards and three TDs in pre-season appearances, including a pair of TD connections in a win over the Steelers, and also rushed 14 times for 34 yards to show his capabilities as a QB. He did, however, get to see plenty of time as the "opposing" QB during daily practice sessions, and continued to improve his skills in that way. GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Jeff began his collegiate career at Penn State, then concluded his final two seasons at West Virginia where he led the Mountaineers to consecutive 9-3 seasons while completing 290 passes for 4,055 yards and 24 touchdowns. Hostetler earned All-American mentions in both of those seasons, and was an Academic All-American first-team choice after compiling a 3.85 GPA while majoring in finance. Won National Player of the Week honors in his junior season when he led West Virginia to a 41-27 upset win over Oklahoma with 17 completions for 321 yards and four TDs. Also won game MVP honors in his senior year when he led Mountaineers to consecutive wins over nationally ranked Maryland, Boston College and Pitt. Jeff was one of 11 scholar-athletes honored by the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame, and was nominated for a Rhodes Scholarship by West Virginia. He was also selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl in his senior season.

PERSONAL: Jeff W. Hostetler was born in Johnstown, Pa., and starred in all sports at Conemaugh Township High School in Davidsville, Pa., where he was a 1,000-yard rusher as a tailback and scholastic All-American as a linebacker. He was also his high school valedictorian. Three of Jeff's brothers, Ron, Doug and Todd, earned varsity letters at Penn State. Jeff is married to the former Vicky Nehlen, daughter of West Virginia Coach Don Nehlen.

74 ERIK HOWARD

Defensive Tackle Wash. State 11/12/64
6-4 268 D-2a '86 3rd Year

PRO: Howard powered his way into some prominence in '87, seeing considerably more action than in his rookie season when he had downtime due to injury. He had four starts at nose tackle after Jim Burt went down with a back injury, and prior to that time, had also logged heavy duty time. All told, Howard finished the season with 33 total tackles, while also accounting for 5-1/2 QB sacks and a fumble recovery. Additionally, he blocked a punt in the season opener vs. the Bears that was recovered for a TD by Tom Flynn, and also blocked a PAT attempt vs. Washington later in the season. Big and powerful nose tackle had an auspicious rookie season, despite missing seven games with a broken hand. When he returned from that hand injury, he was the starting nose tackle in key victories over the Redskins and Cardinals when starter Jim Burt was out with an injury, and in both of those outings, Howard was a powerful force in the middle. He finished the season with 14 total tackles and added a pair of QB sacks, then played a key reserve role in the playoffs and Super Bowl, finishing with four tackles in the playoffs, and made a couple of key defensive plays on the Giants' goal line stand in the first half of the Super Bowl triumph. Among the strongest of the Giants in the weight room, he seems to have all the credentials to become a topnotch player in the NFL. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 4.

COLLEGE: Howard won four varsity letters at Washington State and concluded his collegiate career by winning All-Pac 10 first-team honors in his senior season, as well as the Morris Trophy for being named the Pac-10's Most Outstanding Defensive Lineman in 1985. He was also an honorable mention All-American by the Associated Press and was selected to play in both the Japan Bowl and Blue-Grey games that same season. All told, he had 180 career tackles, including 15 for losses and 15½ QB sacks.

PERSONAL: Erik Matthew Howard was born in Pittsfield, Mass. on November 12, 1964, then played his scholastic sports in San Jose, Calif., at Bellarmine Prep. Erik's father, Donald, is an attorney, and he has three brothers, Craig, Scott and Todd, the last two also having played college football.

57 BYRON HUNT

Linebacker S.M.U. 12/17/58
6-5 242 D-9 '81 8th Year

PRO: Hunt continued in his role as a situation substitute outside backer and special teams' contributor in '87, finishing the year with a total of eight solo tackles. During his years with the Giants, Byron has been a key performer, and has appeared in 104 games, while missing only four due to minor injuries. As a situation OLB, Hunt played in every game in 1986, including the playoffs, and finished with a total of 23 tackles in the regular season, while adding six more in the playoffs and Super Bowl. In 1985, Byron was a starter for 11 games, chipping in with a total of 34 tackles, while adding a pair of QB sacks, and a fumble recovery. He also started both of the playoff games, and added three stops and a key fumble recovery in the win over the 49ers. In 1984, he racked up 33 total tackles, added a pass interception for a 14-yard return, a QB sack, and had a pair of fumble recoveries, while making six starts at OLB. In 1983, he had five starts when Lawrence Taylor was moved inside for the injured Harry Carson, and during the course of the year had 46 tackles (26 solo, 20 assists), while adding a QB sack and a blocked PAT vs. the Los Angeles Rams. As a reserve in '82, he was in on 19 tackles with a pair of QB sacks after a rookie year in which he filled in as a starter in the final three regular season and two playoff games, finishing with 67 total tackles, a trio of QB sacks and a big interception vs. Dallas in the season finale which earned the playoff trip. Also had a blocked punt vs. Washington in that '81 season. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: A defensive end at SMU, Hunt won four letters and was an All-Southwest Conference choice and an honorable mention All-American in his senior year. All told, he had 222 tackles in his career, six QB sacks and four interceptions, two of which he returned for TDs. Also blocked a punt and returned it for a TD. Played in Japan Bowl after his senior year.

PERSONAL: Byron Ray Hunt was born on December 17, 1958 in Longview, Tex., and has seven brothers and sisters. His oldest brother, Sam Hunt, was a standout defensive lineman with New England. Byron played his scholastic sports at White Oak H.S. in White Oak, Tex., and earned a Political Science degree at SMU. He is now president of his own printing company in Elmwood Park, N.J.

82 MARK INGRAM

Wide Receiver Michigan State 8/23/65
5-11 188 D-1 '87 2nd Year

PRO: The top draft pick in '87, Mark was hampered by nagging injuries in the pre-season period, but appeared in all of the pre-season games and had four receptions for 59 yards. Subsequently, he appeared in just nine regular season games after being inactive for the first three games following the players' strike, due to weight problems, and had just two receptions for 32 yards during the regular season action. He's worked hard during the off-season and showed considerable improvement during the mini-camps, and is expected to be a serious contender for extended playing time this coming season. GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Ingram had a storied career at Michigan State, winning four varsity letters in football and three in track, while winning All-Big 10 first-team honors and All-American mention in his senior year. He had 35 catches for 672 yards and five TDs in that senior year, while adding 135 yards rushing on end arounds and reverses, while also averaging 21.1 on kickoff returns. Named to both the East-West and Blue-Gray post-season games, he won MVP honors in the latter game with nine receptions for 106 yards and two TDs. He also won letters as a sprinter, high hurdler and long jumper at MSU.

PERSONAL: Mark V. Ingram was born in Rockford, Ill., on August 23, 1965, then starred at Northwestern High School in Flint, Mich. where he was an All-State quarterback, outstanding track star and honors student with a 3.17 GPA. A Communications major at Michigan State, Mark would like to pursue a career in broadcasting or journalism when his playing days are concluded.

68 DAMIAN JOHNSON

Tackle Kansas State 12/18/62
6-5 290 FA- '85 3rd Year

PRO: Inked as a FA in 1986, Damian became a starter at RG last year when Chris Godfrey went down with a knee injury and had seven starts at the position, displaying enough versatility and potential to compete for the starting role again this coming year. Big, strong reserve offensive lineman saw action in all 16 regular season games and in the playoffs in 1986, both on special teams' units and on short yardage situations where his powerful drive-blocking came in handy. The 290-pounder also lined up in the backfield on occasion as a blocking back. He also made a key block on Jeff Rutledge's quarterback sneak for the big first down in the Super Bowl victory. Johnson produced a highly successful pre-season training camp after being signed as a free agent in 1985, impressing the coaching staff with his strength, size and ability. Just when it looked as though he had a solid chance of making the club after some strong performances in pre-season action, Johnson suffered a knee injury and spent the rest of the year on Injured Reserve. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 7.

COLLEGE: Damian earned four letters at Kansas State, winning All-Big Eight second team honors from both AP and UPI in his senior season.

PERSONAL: Damian Curtis Johnson was born in Great Bend, Kan., on December 18, 1962 and won All-State scholastic honors in football as a two-way lineman at Great Bend High School. He also lettered in basketball and wrestling in high school.

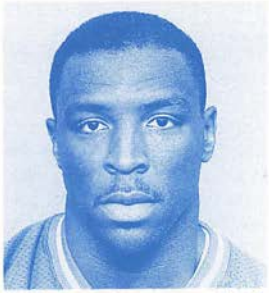

52 PEPPER JOHNSON

Linebacker Ohio State 6/29/64
6-3 248 D-2b '86 3rd Year

PRO: Johnson moved into a starter's job at inside backer last year when incumbent Gary Reasons was a training camp holdout. He subsequently started all 12 regular games during the campaign and finished as the club's third-leading tackler with 75 total tackles, and added one QB sack, one recovered fumble and a pair of forced fumbles in a strong showing. Nicknamed "Pepper," Johnson enjoyed a solid rookie season in 1986 as a reserve inside linebacker, appearing in every game throughout the regular season and playoffs. A key special teams' player as well, Pepper finished the regular season with a total of 37 tackles, added a pair of quarterback sacks and a 13-yard interception return which set up a TD vs. Green Bay. Johnson then added seven more tackles in the playoffs and came up with a 27-yard interception return which set up a TD in the opening playoff triumph over the San Francisco 49ers. Blessed with outstanding agility and speed for a big man, Pepper has the potential to become one of the top linebackers in the league. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 12.

COLLEGE: Pepper was a four-letter winner with the Buckeyes, was a starter for three of those seasons, team MVP on defense in both 1984 and '85, and team defensive captain in both of those seasons as well. He was twice named to the All-Big 10 team, and won first-team All-American honors in his senior year from the Football News and from UPI. During his career at Ohio State, Pepper was named Defensive Player of the Game an amazing 16 times, and was also selected to play in the Japan Bowl at the end of his senior year.

PERSONAL: Thomas Johnson was born in Detroit, Mich., on June 29, 1964, and won All-State and All-Metro scholastic honors at MacKenzie High School in Detroit. The nickname "Pepper" came from an aunt who watched young Thomas sprinkle pepper on his cereal as a youngster. A bachelor, Pepper lists reading, music and basketball as his favorite hobbies, and he has two sisters and a brother.

43 TERRY KINARD

Safety Clemson 11/24/59
6-1 200 D-1 '83 6th Year

PRO: Kinard bounced back from major knee surgery late in the 1986 season to start all 12 regular games last year, and was off to the hottest start of his career with four interceptions in the first two games, including a 70-yard return for his first NFL touchdown vs. the Bears and a club record-tying three interceptions vs. the Cowboys, with one of those being returned 69 yards to set up a go-ahead TD. His production fell off after that torrid start, but he nonetheless finished the year with five interceptions, added 55 total tackles and was named to the All-NFL second-team by College & Pro Football Weekly. His 163 yards of interception returns was the most of his career, and his current total of 19 career interceptions ranks him in a tie for eighth on the alltime Giants' list. In 1986, Terry had four interceptions for 52 yards returned, had a total of 59 tackles, one QB sack, a pair of fumble recoveries and a forced fumble and was playing as well as any free safety in the league before suffering a season-ending knee injury which kept him out of the playoffs and Super Bowl. Kinard had a topnotch season in '85, leading the secondary in tackles for the second straight year with a total of 83, while also recording a personal high of five interceptions during the year for 100 yards in returns. He also chipped in with an 18-yard QB sack, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble, while making any number of big plays during the season. He added a key 15-yard interception return in the playoff victory over the 49ers which set up a TD, and had seven total tackles in the playoffs. Terry also had a strong season in 1984, leading the secondary in tackles with a total of 83, adding a pair of pass interceptions (both against Dallas in the two victories over the Cowboys), a fumble recovery and a forced fumble. Kinard was also the secondary's leading tackler in the playoffs with 14 and made perhaps the biggest stop of the year when he tripped up Rams' RB Eric Dickerson when it appeared Dickerson was free for a TD burst which would have put L.A. in the lead at that point. The Giants' No. 1 draft pick in 1983, Terry was slowed by some nagging injuries in training camp, but then recovered and played strongly in the pre-season, getting a pair of impressive interceptions and returns while alternating at the free safety spot with the veteran Beasley Reece. That situation remained through the early portion of the regular season until Kinard wrestled the starting job from Reece halfway through the year. By season's end, Kinard was a unanimous choice for the All-NFL Rookie teams... had 70 tackles (50 solo, 20 assists)... three interceptions for 49 yards (including a pair in one game vs. Dallas)... a QB sack and a fumble recovery and return of 10 yards. His overall play continued to improve with each and every week. His best game might have been the second game vs. the Cowboys. In addition to his two interceptions on Danny White, Kinard had a third interception negated, and just missed another... added 10 tackles, two more pass deflections and that fumble recovery. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 12.

COLLEGE: Kinard was a unanimous All-American choice at Clemson and was additionally named National Defensive Player of the Year by two other polls. He was named to the Hula Bowl and Senior Bowl games after his final season, had an interception in the first mentioned, and was MVP in the latter game. A four-year starter at Clemson, he set the school's alltime records for most tackles by a defensive back (291) and interceptions (17 for 147 yards).

PERSONAL: Alfred Terrance Kinard was born on November 24, 1959 in Bitburg, Germany where his father was serving as an Air Force NCO. He grew up in Sumter, S.C. where he won All-Star honors in both football and basketball. He had several collegiate basketball offers but chose football instead.

5 SEAN LANDETA

Punter Towson State 1/6/62

6-0 200 FA- '85 4th Year

PRO: Landeta had the lowest punting average of his three-year tenure with the Giants in 1987, but nonetheless had a 42.7 average while doing almost all of his kicking in outdoor stadia and in cold weather situations. Suffered his first NFL blocked punt vs. New Orleans, and also saw two of his punts returned for touchdowns, which marked the first time that had happened to him as a Giant. Also came up with three tackles on punt coverages in '87, and showed his sheer leg power in a pre-season outing vs. the Patriots when he punted five times for an awesome 56.4 average. Sean had a powerful season in 1986, leading the NFC in punting average with a 44.8 mark, and in net punting average with a 37.1 record. For those exploits, he was named to the All-NFL first-team as punter, and also earned his first Pro Bowl designation. He was also among the league leaders in punts inside the 20 with a total of 24. He had any number of big punts during the season which pinned down the opposition deep in their own territory. Landeta wrested the punting job from the veteran Dave Jennings in '85 after coming over from USFL. He was among the league leaders in punting average for most of the year, then tailed off somewhat towards the end, but nonetheless finished with a 42.9 average on 81 punts and was named to the second-team All-NFC team by UPI and to the All-NFL Rookie team by Football Digest. He had particularly big days vs. St. Louis and Washington when he averaged 49.2 and 51.3 respectively. Landeta was signed as a free agent after finishing a three-year career in the USFL with the Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars. A steady and consistent performer with the Stars, Sean was a clutch kicker in the Stars' championship games of 1983 and 1984, averaging 52.5 in the former game and 53.0 in the '84 title outing. He also set a regular season one-game punting average mark vs. Arizona in '84 when he had a 52.3 average. His season averages included 41.9 on 86 punts, with a long 72 years in 1983, and 41.1 on 53 punts with a long of 65 in 1984. He was also named to the All-USFL team in '84 when he led the league in net punting average with a 38.2 mark and led the league in punts inside the 20-yard line with 31 in the '83 season. He was a 14th round selection by the Stars in 1983. GAMES PLAYED: 12.

COLLEGE: Three-year letterman at Towson State, Sean led the nation in Division II punting in 1980 with a 43.4 average, while also kicking 14 field goals. He was also in the Division II's top five punters in 1981 and 1982, with averages of 41.1 in '81 and a 44.7 mark in '82. He was a three-time All-ECAC choice at Towson, and was a Kodak Division All-American and AP Little All-American in 1982.

PERSONAL: Sean Landeta was born on January 6, 1962 in Baltimore, Md., and is working on a degree in communication at Towson State during the off-seasons.

46 GREG LASKER

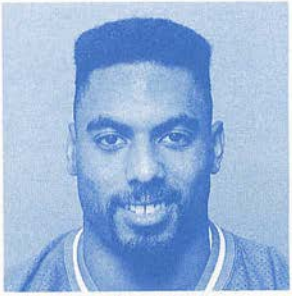

Safety — Arkansas — 9/28/64

6-0 — 200 — D-2c '86 — 3rd Year

PRO: Second-year reserve safety saw action in 11 games last season, working mainly with the special teams' units and in the fifth defensive back scheme as well. He finished the year with 22 total tackles, and was also in on a pair of QB sacks in blitz situations. Lasker was another of the defensive rookies who made vital contributions to the club in 1986 as a reserve safety and special teams' performer. A solid tackler on the special teams' units, he had two forced fumbles during the regular season with robust tackles, and he was also a strong performer as a reserve safety and nickel back, finishing the year with a total of 28 tackles. He also came up with a big pass interception in the second regular season victory over the Washington Redskins, and had one quarterback sack during the season. He also appeared in all of the playoff games and Super Bowl, registering a total of three tackles in kick coverages. He has the ability to play either strong safety or free safety because of his strength and speed. GAMES PLAYED: 11, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Lasker won four varsity letters at Arkansas, and was either a starting corner or strong safety in every season with the Razorbacks. He finished his career with 198 total tackles, nine interceptions and 30 pass deflections, and won third-team All-American honors in his senior year from both the Football News and Associated Press, while winning first-team All-Southwest Conference honors as well. Selected to play in the East-West Shrine game after his senior season, his best outing in 1985 came against Baylor when he won defensive player of the game honors for his 11 solo tackles and game-saving interception in the end zone with just a minute left to play.

PERSONAL: Gregory Cephus Lasker was born in Conway, Ark., on September 28, 1964, and won All-Conference and All-State honors at Conway High School as a wide receiver, running back and defensive back. He also lettered in track as a sprinter and was his high school's representative to Arkansas Boys' State. He majored in Banking and Finance at Arkansas.

86 LIONEL MANUEL

Wide Receiver Pacific 4/13/62
5-11 180 D-7 '84 5th Year

PRO: Slick wideout suffered a fractured navicular bone in his hand early last season, but nonetheless played the entire season with a soft cast and had another smooth year with 30 receptions, an 18.2 average-per-catch mark and six touchdown receptions. Had a pair of 100-plus receiving games vs. Dallas (7-151) and Philadelphia (4-105) and also had two TD catches vs. the Cowboys and Cardinals. The Giants' leading receiver in 1985 with 49 receptions, Lionel was off to another solid start in '86, then suffered a knee injury vs. the Saints in the fourth game of the year, and was out of action for the remainder of the regular season. Up until he was injured, Manuel had 11 catches for 181 yards and three TDs, and had scored both touchdowns in a 14-9 win over the Raiders in Los Angeles. He recovered in time for the playoffs, making two big catches in the NFC championship game vs. the Redskins, including a TD grab, then had three more key catches in the Super Bowl victory over the Broncos. Manuel was well on his way to a 1,000-yard receiving year in '85 until he suffered a hamstring pull vs. the Cardinals and missed the final four games of the regular season. At that, in just 12 games, he led the club in receptions with 49 for 859 yards and had five TD grabs. Along the way, he had a trio of 100-yard games—105 vs. the Packers, 129 vs. the Cowboys and 111 vs. the Bengals—and had two scoring catches vs. the Cowboys, including a 51-yarder. He returned to action in the playoffs and had three catches for 56 yards in the victory over the 49ers. A 7th round draft choice, Lionel made an impact in his rookie season, finishing the year as a starting WR after seeing only limited action in the early part of the year. Manuel saw only infrequent action in the pre-season with three receptions, but made an auspicious debut in regular NFL season play when his first NFL reception was a 16-yard TD catch in a 28-7 win over the Dallas Cowboys where he turned All-Pro cornerback Everson Wallas around on the play. Saw his first extensive action in the Monday Night outing vs. the 49ers and had five catches for 80 yards, then had his first big day with a 120-yard on four grabs in a win over Atlanta. Lionel followed that with another big day against Walls, catching five for 102 yards in the second win over Dallas, including a 53-yarder and a 9-yard TD grab. All told, Manuel finished the year with 33 catches for 619 yards, an 18.8 average and four touchdowns, and also filled in as the punt returner when Phil McConkey was injured, with eight for 62 yards and a 7.8 average. Added five catches in the playoffs and had six punt returns for a 7.8 average as well. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 12.

COLLEGE: Manuel began his collegiate career at Citrus Junior College where he was All-Conference and team MVP after starting as a QB before switching to WR. At Pacific, Lionel was both a WR and running back, and won MVP offensive honors in his senior year and second-team All–PCAA. He also set a school record for most pass receptions in his senior year, and was a Conference long-jump champion twice while at Citrus J.C.

PERSONAL: Lionel Manuel Jr. was born in Los Angeles, Cal., on April 13, 1962, and was a six-letter winner at Bassett High School in LaPuente, Cal., in football and track where he was All-League twice and MVP in football, and long jump champion in track. He was also a National Football Foundation Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete that same year. A talented musician, Manuel plays guitar, drums and the synthesizer and would like to enter the broadcast field or music business after his football days are over.

70 LEONARD MARSHALL

Defensive End Louisiana State 10/22/61

6-3 285 D-2 '83 6th Year

PRO: Before suffering a dislocated wrist while sacking Cardinals' QB Neil Lomax late in the season, Marshall had started every game in '87 to run his string to 71 consecutive starts dating back to late in his rookie campaign. In those 10 outings last year, Marshall led all defensive linemen with 45 total tackles and added eight QB sacks to run his career total to 43½, second only to Lawrence Taylor in that department. His wrist has completely healed now, and he should be ready to return to his All-NFL form of the previous two years. Big Leonard had another banner season season in 1986, winning his second straight trip to the Pro Bowl and winning All-NFL honors for a second time as well. Both honors were well deserved as the big man racked up a total of 60 tackles on the season and added 12 quarterback sacks to finish second to Lawrence Taylor in that department. Leonard also tied for the club lead in fumble recoveries with three, and in forced fumbles with three, and also came up with his second pass interception in as many seasons. He continued those efforts in the playoffs and Super Bowl, leading all defensive linemen with 11 total tackles, adding a QB sack in the NFC championship game vs. the Redskins, then getting a pair of sacks on John Elway in the Super Bowl victory. Marshall had a slam-bang year in '85, setting an alltime club record with 15½ quarterback sacks...earning first-team All-NFC and second-team All-NFL recognition...being voted to his first Pro Bowl as a starter...and also being named the NFC Defensive Lineman of the Year by the NFLPA. He started the season off with a bang by registering 10 tackles and three QB sacks against the Eagles in a 21-0 victory. He had plenty of other big days along the way as well, including another three-QB sack game in the second victory over the Eagles. All told, Leonard had 77 tackles for the season, then came up with another big effort in the playoff win over the 49ers when he had six tackles and a big 13 yard QB sack on Joe Montana. He also came up with his first interception during the year when he batted a pass attempt into the air vs. New Orleans, then picked it off and rumbled three yards with the ball. Leonard had a strong season in 1984, particularly during the second half of the season and into the playoffs. As the starting right defensive end, he had 44 tackles during the regular campaign, including 7½ QB sacks and two forced fumbles. He had particularly good games in the second win over the Cowboys when he was in on three QB sacks and kayoed Danny White with one of them, and in the win over the Jets when he had a pair of QB traps. Then in the playoffs, he had big games in both of those outings, particularly in the victory over the Rams when he had five big solo stops, four of them for losses, including his key stop on Dwayne Crutchfield for a 3-yard loss late in the game which forced the Rams to settle for a FG, instead of taking the lead. In his rookie year, Leonard had his early progress slowed by being overweight in the early stages of pre-season training camp, but once he got down to business and got into shape, he continued to improve in all aspects of the game. He eventually won the starting job at defensive RE for the final six games of the season and played strongly as a starter, registering 27 tackles in those starts, including getting in on one QB sack and registering a safety against the Super Bowl champion Los Angeles Raiders when he tackled QB Jim Plunkett in the end zone. Marshall also had several blocked passes late in the season and was equally as strong against the run. GAMES PLAYED: 10, STARTED: 10.

COLLEGE: A three-year starter at LSU, Leonard showed marked improvement in each of his campaigns in college, leading the Tigers in tackles for losses in both his junior and senior seasons, and also led that highly rated defensive unit in QB sacks in each of those two years.

PERSONAL: Leonard Allen Marshall was born in Franklin, La., on October 22, 1961 and was a powerhouse scholastic player at Franklin High School as a two-way tackle, winning both All-Conference and All-State honors, registering 16 QB sacks in his senior year. Leonard is related to two former NFL players, Ernie Ladd of Houston and Warren Wells of the Raiders. Married, Leonard and his wife, Annette, reside in Mahwah, N.J. in the off-seasons.

75 GEORGE MARTIN

Defensive End Oregon 2/16/53

6-4 255 D-11 '75 14th Year

PRO: As he enters his 14th season with the Giants, George will join Charlie Conerly and Joe Morrison for the second-longest tenure in club history behind leader Mel Hein. An amazingly durable player and team leader, Martin has missed only six games in that span of time, and holds the alltime NFL record for most touchdowns scored by a defensive lineman with six. This past season, he was in all 12 regular games, nine of those as the starter, and finished with 25 total tackles and five QB sacks. Since QB sacks have only been an official NFL stat since 1982, Martin has had 38½ traps since that starting point, but during his Giants' career dating back to 1975, he has more than 80, including four in one game vs. the Redskins in 1978. Like vintage wine, Martin seems to get better with age. After several seasons as a third-down pass rush specialist, George went on fulltime duty in 1986 when starting defensive LE Curtis McGriff went down with a hamstring injury and was out for the season. Thrust into that fulltime role, the veteran had an amazing season, and continued to be the "big play" man he has always been. Over the regular season span, George finished with 49 total tackles, added three quarterback sacks, a fumble recovery and two forced fumbles and added to his alltime NFL record for most touchdowns by a defensive lineman. He made a one-handed interception of a John Elway pass vs. Denver in the regular season and returned it 78 yards for a TD, the longest of his career, and the sixth defensive TD of that illustrious career. That topped his 56-yard interception return for a TD vs. the Cardinals in 1985. He continued his big play business in the playoffs and Super Bowl, getting a sack in the NFC championship game vs. the Redskins, then sacking John Elway for a safety in the Super Bowl triumph. By season's end, George was named co-winner of the 18th annual Cappelletti Award with Jim Burt, and was also named the NFLPA's national winner of the Whizzer White Award. The senior member of the Giants, Martin has been an outstanding player and team leader on and off the field, for years. As a third down specialist in '85, George proved that his abilities continued to impress by registering a personal one-season high of 10 QB sacks. Highly versatile and dependable veteran has been the club's top pass-rushing defensive lineman for many years. In addition to his pass-rushing abilities, Martin has scored those seven career touchdowns, the most ever in NFL history by a defensive lineman. And he's scored those TDs in a variety of methods—a 30 yard interception TD in 1977; an 11-yard return with a lateral after a blocked FG attempt in 1978; a 4-yard TD pass from Phil Simms when George lined up as a TE in 1980; and two fumble returns for TDs in 1981...also a club record for most fumble return TDs in a single season. He even had another TD on an interception return in a pre-season game in 1976. A starter ever since his rookie season when he was an 11th round draft choice, Martin has been an eight time winner of the Byron "Whizzer" White Award for team contribution as voted by his teammates, was elected defensive captain in 1981 and is a former representative on the United Way public service television commercials. He's missed only six games in his career. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 9.

COLLEGE: Martin was an Art Education major at Oregon, where he won three varsity letters in football as both a tight end and defensive end, and two varsity letters in basketball as a teammate of NBA star Lonnie Shelton. He had 83 tackles in his senior season, including big days against Michigan and Northwestern. In high school, Martin was Student Body president and was named to the Outstanding Teenagers in America listing.

PERSONAL: George Dwight Martin was born on February 16, 1953 in Greenville, S.C., but grew up in California where he was an All-American in basketball and All-State in football at Armijo H.S. in Fairfield, Calif. George and his wife, Diane, have four children—a daughter, Teresa Michelle, and three sons, George Dwight II, Benjamin Dean, and Aaron. George's younger brother, Doug, was a standout defensive end at the University of Washington and was the No. 1 draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings in 1980.

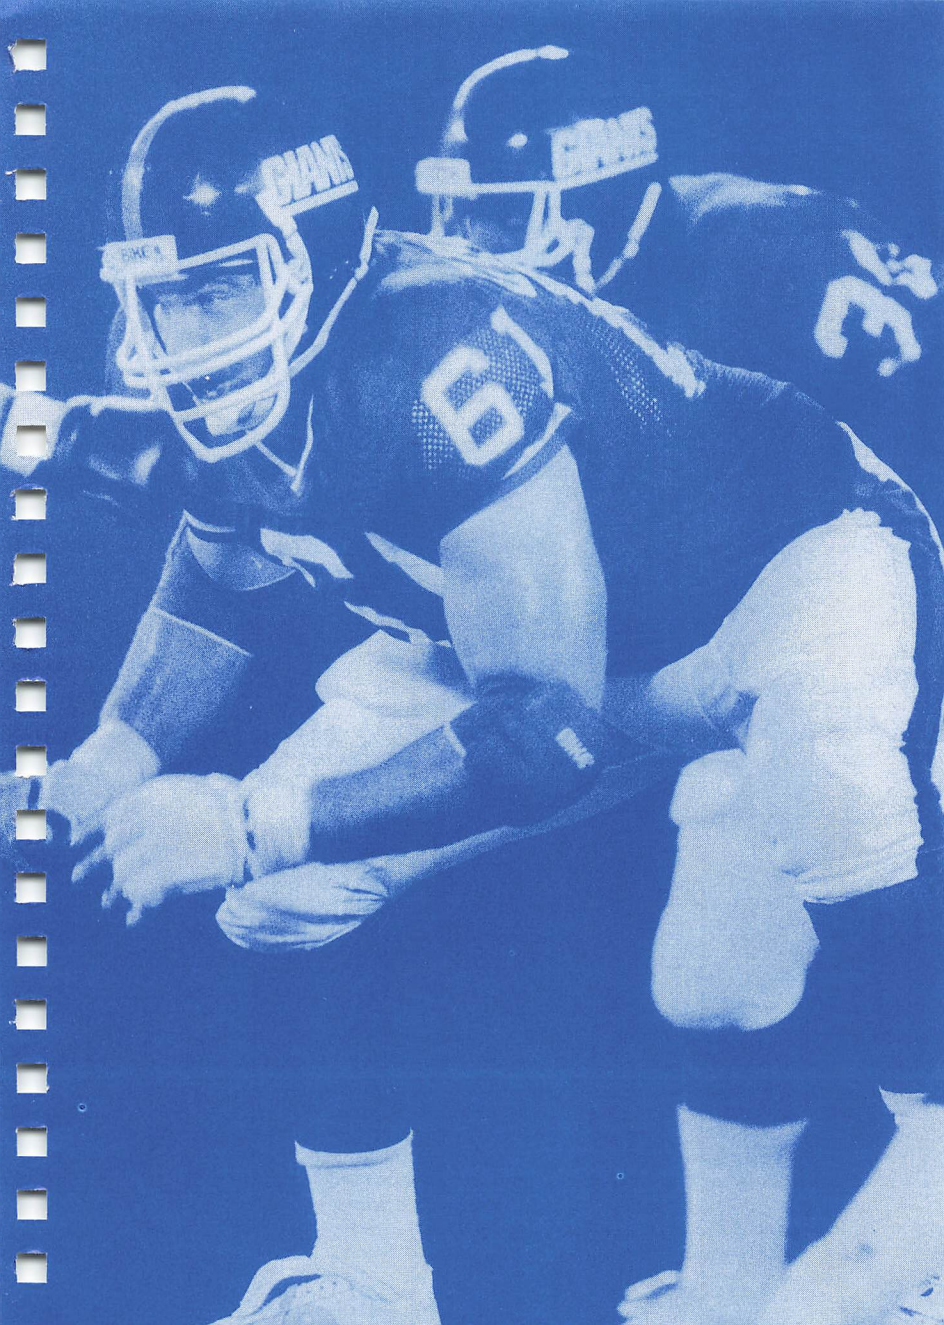

80 PHIL McCONKEY

Wide Receiver Navy 2/24/57
5-10 170 FA- '83 5th Year

PRO: Veteran WR-return specialist has now reached the career 1,000-plus mark in receiving, punt return and kickoff return yardage and is second to Hall of Famer Emlen Tunnell in total punt returns and punt return yardage in club history. He also tied a club mark with nine punt returns vs. Philadelphia this past season, and his 112 yards on returns in that game was the third highest in club history. He had his best season, average-wise, with a 9.4 mark in '87 while also matching his longest return of 37 yards. Also added 11 receptions during the year and added three tackles on special teams' coverage. McConkey had one of those Cinderella years in 1986. Caught in a numbers situation, he was released on the last pre-season cut, then signed by the Packers where he was a reserve for four games. When the Giants lost Lionel Manuel due to a knee injury, they sent a draft choice to Green Bay to get McConkey back, and from there on, the ex-Navy pilot came up with some big plays for the rest of the campaign. He finished the year, in just 12 games, with 1,003 all-purpose yards, getting 279 yards on 16 pass receptions, 253 on 32 punt returns and 471 on 24 kickoff returns. He caught a key 16-yard TD pass in the big Dec. 7 win over the Redskins, and a 46-yard reception in the final minute vs. Denver to set up the winning FG in that regular season victory. The big plays continued in the playoffs. He had a touchdown catch in the win over the 49ers while also knotting the NFL playoff record with seven punt returns in one game, then made three more big plays in the Super Bowl victory. His 25-yard punt return set up a FG, then he hauled in a 44-yard flea-flicker pass to set up a TD, and then he dove and caught a deflected pass for a 6-yard TD catch of his own. Plucky punt return-wide receiver specialist had a highly productive season in '85, setting an alltime club record for most punt returns in a season with 53 for 442 yards returned, and rolled up 1,080 yards of all-purpose yardage for a second straight year of 1,000-plus production. Used also as a third down type receiver, Phil grabbed 25 passes for 404 yards and one TD and had a big day vs. Dallas with six catches for 128 yards. He had a big hand in the Giants' opening day win over the Eagles, setting up one TD with a 40-yard kickoff return and another TD with a 37-yard punt return. Also played tough on special teams with one forced fumble and one fumble recovery. Originally signed as a FA by the Giants in 1983, Phil enjoyed a strong training camp and pre-season as a receiver and punt returner, then was recalled to Navy duty and missed that entire campaign. He was discharged as a Lieutenant in May, 1984, then played his first full season of football since the 1978 season at Navy and turned out to be a highly productive receiver and return specialist, racking up 1,001 all-purpose yards before being kayoed by broken ribs vs. Kansas City and missing the final three regular season games and both playoff outings. He also led the club in kick off returns with 28 for 541 yards, and added eight pass receptions for a 19.3 average, enjoying particular success against the Washington Redskins, averaging 26.0 on five receptions, three of which set up Giant touchdowns. He also showed his heads-up special teams' play by recovering a free ball on a kickoff in the end zone for a touchdown against the Rams. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: McConkey played four varsity seasons at Navy as a wide receiver and return man, winning All-East, All-ECAC and All-American honorable mention in his senior year.

He also won the Cooke Memorial Award and Thompson Trophy while at Navy, was MVP in the 1978 Holiday Bowl and also played in the Japan Bowl. He held numerous records at Navy for most TD receptions season and career; most yards-per-catch seasons and career; most punt returns, game, season and career; most punt return yards, career; and most combined yards punt and kickoff return, career. Also won a varsity letter in track as a sprinter.

PERSONAL: Philip Joseph McConkey was born on February 24, 1957 in Buffalo, N.Y. and was an all-around star at Canisus H.S. in Buffalo. His father, Joseph McConkey, is a police detective in Buffalo. Phil served from 1979 through 1984 as a Naval helicopter pilot, serving in several air stations in the U.S. and in fleet service in the Mediterranean.

20 JOE MORRIS

Running Back Syracuse 9/15/60
5-7 195 D-2 '82 7th Year

PRO: The holder of many club rushing records after his 1985-86 Pro Bowl and All-NFL seasons in which he rushed for 1,336 and 1,516 yards respectively, Joe's production fell off in 1987, but he led the club in rushing for the third straight year with 658 yards. That moved him to a career total of 4,213 yards, making him only the second rusher in club history to surpass the 4,000-yard mark. Morris also added his 17th career 100-plus rushing game and had three rushing TDs to up that mark to 43, and both of those accomplishments are alltime club records. For vintage seasons, however, Morris was a virtual one-man rampage in 1985 and 1986, totaling 2,852 yards over those two campaigns, while scoring 35 rushing touchdowns, and was just as powerful in playoff action in both of those years while earning those Pro

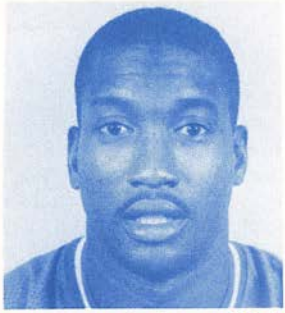

Bowl and All-NFL honors. While the records are certainly impressive, Morris had many other impacts during the Super Bowl year. When almost all of the wide receivers were either out of action or hurting at mid-season and the passing attack was virtually nil, Morris rampaged for back-to-back 181-yard rushing games in crucial wins over the Redskins and Cowboys. All told, seven of Joe's eight 100-yard rushing games took place in the final 10 games of the season. He continued the onslaught through the playoffs and Super Bowl, rushing for 313 yards in those three games, including a 159-yard, two-touchdown effort in the opening playoff romp over the 49ers. When Joe got the opportunity to be the starting halfback in 1984, he responded with gusto. Replacing the since-traded Butch Woolfolk midway through the season, Morris led the Giants to a 37-13 rout of the Redskins in his first starting assignment, equalling a club record for three rushing TDs in one game. He followed that with strong performances for the rest of the year, including an 83-yard day in the victory over the Jets, and his first NFL 100-plus game, a 107-yard effort vs. the Cardinals. All told, Joe finished as the second leading rusher on the club with 510 yards and a 3.8 average, with 425 of those yards coming in the second half of the year when he took over the starting role. Morris was also the club's leading rusher in the playoffs, and also had a 61-yard burst vs. the Rams negated by a penalty. Used only sparingly in his first two years with the Giants, Morris nonetheless had some fine games. In 1983, had particularly strong outing in season finale vs. NFC champion Redskins when he rushed 13 times for 69 yards, and added a 6-yard touchdown reception. Also had strong efforts in duty as kickoff return man with 14 returns for 255 yards and an 18.2 average. During his rookie year, he scored a touchdown on his very first NFL rushing attempt, a 3-yard score vs. Green Bay, but managed only 48 yards rushing on 15 attempts for the season. He had five receptions vs. St. Louis that same season, but saw only infrequent action. GAMES PLAYED: 11, STARTED: 10.

COLLEGE: Joe set all of the alltime rushing records at Syracuse, erasing the marks of such former greats as Jim Brown, Larry Csonka and Floyd Little by rushing for 4,229 yards in his four seasons. Also set the one-game mark with 252 yards vs. Kansas and had 21 rushing games of 100 or more yards. An All-American choice his senior year, he was selected to play in the Senior Bowl, East-West Shrine and Blue-Gray games.

PERSONAL: Joseph Morris was born in Fort Bragg, N.C. on September 15, 1960 where his dad was a career Army NCO. Joe first played scholastic sports at Southern Pines, N.C., then finished at Aver H.S. in Ayer, Mass. where he was an All-State star. Two brothers, Larry and Mike, played at Syracuse, and a third brother, Jamie, has been drafted by the Redskins. Joe also became a married man in 1985, and he and his wife, Linda, now reside in Upper Saddle River with daughter, Samantha.

84 ZEKE MOWATT

Tight End Florida State 3/5/61

6-3 240 FA- '83 6th Year

PRO: Zeke saw only limited action in '87, although he did appear in all 12 regular games and had his lowest career production with just three catches for 39 yards, including one TD grab vs. the Packers. After missing the entire 1985 season due to major knee surgery, Mowatt returned to play a complete season in '86, appearing in all 16 regular season games and in the playoffs as a backup to Mark Bavaro and as an occasional starter in the two tight end-offense. His comeback was an outstanding one, considering the severity of that damaged knee and during the second half of the year, he seemed to have regained almost all of his previous mobility. Zeke ended the year with 10 catches for 119 yards, including a pair of touchdown grabs, then made his presence felt in the playoffs when he caught TD passes vs. the 49ers and against the Broncos in the Super Bowl. Giants suffered a severe blow in 1985 when Mowatt suffered a major knee injury in the final pre-season game, underwent surgery and was lost for the entire year. Up to that point, the powerful TE had led the club in receptions during the pre-season, and seemed ready for an All-Pro year. Signed as a relative unknown free agent in 1983, Zeke took advantage of his opportunities and not only won himself a spot on the roster, but won the starting tight end job, beating out veterans Gary Shirk and Tom Mullady and a 3rd round draft choice in the process. Initially, he caught the attention of the coaches with his ferocious blocking, then improved on his pass-catching, while continuing to block like an offensive tackle. He finished the season with 21 receptions for 280 yards and a 13.3 average, including a 46-yard TD catch against the Dallas Cowboys. In 1984, Mowatt improved even more, sharing the club lead in receptions with 48 for the regular season and with 12 in the playoffs. He had his best outing in the comeback win over Kansas City with seven grabs for 126 yards, including the winning TD catch in the final minutes of play. Mowatt had six TD catches for the year, and had big days in both wins over the Cowboys with eight grabs for 127 yards and a TD in those two outings. He also came away with some post-season honors, including a second-team All-NFL nod from College and Pro Football Weekly. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: Mowatt earned three varsity letters as a tight end at Florida State, but was used primarily as a blocker and subsequently did not have the stats as a receiver. He had plenty of toughness and ability, however, and was highly recommended by Florida State coaches.

PERSONAL: Zeke Mowatt was born on March 5, 1961 in Wauchula, Fla., and was a scholastic star in football, basketball and track at Hardee High School in Wauchula.

63 KARL NELSON

Offensive Tackle Iowa State 6/14/60
6-6 285 D-3A '83 5th Year

PRO: By far the biggest loss to the Giants in 1987 was the absence of Nelson, the powerful offensive right tackle who was found to have Hodgkins Disease after complaining of a shoulder injury after the initial pre-season game vs. New England. Nelson then underwent treatment for the disease throughout the remainder of the year, and then had surgery on his shoulder in January of this year. He has made remarkable progress all during the off-season, and had limited participation in the May mini-camp. Prior to his loss, Karl had been a bulwark of the offensive line, particularly in the Super Bowl season of 1986 and in the preceding playoff year as well. His successful return in 1988 would surely be a tremendous boost, not only to the Giants, but to Nelson himself, and to all Giants' fans. Karl won the starting RT job in what amounted to his rookie year, and since that time had been the starter in 55 consecutive games. The No. 3 draft choice in 1983, Nelson was enjoying a productive pre-season until he suffered a fractured foot and spent the entire year on Injured Reserve. He worked hard during that off-season, rehabilitated completely and worked hard on a weight program which built him up from 270 to 285. In 1984, he was solid again from the start of camp, winning the starting RT job at the outset, and turning in a masterful rookie campaign in which he started all 16 regular season games and both of the playoff outings. By season's end, he had played any number of outstanding games and was named to the All-NFL Rookie team by UPI, Pro Football Weekly and Football Digest. Had one of his very best games in the 20-10 victory over the New York Jets when he neutralized All-Pro DE Mark Gastineau.
GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0

COLLEGE: Carl was a four-year starter at tackle for Iowa State, and was named to the first-team All-American team by NEA and to the Associated Press honorable mention All-American team in his senior campaign. He was also an All-Big Eight selection for two seasons and an Academic All-American choice. He concluded his collegiate career by being named to play in the East-West Shrine game.

PERSONAL: Karl Nelson was born in DeKalb, Ill., on June 14, 1960 and won All-State Scholastic honors in football at DeKalb High School in his hometown. He also earned letters in basketball and in baseball, as a pitcher. Of Swedish descent, Karl is married to the former Heidi Christina Stegeman of River Vale, N.J., and the Nelsons now reside in Woodcliff Lake, N.J. with daughter, Brittany, 2.

65 BART OATES

6-3 265 FA- '85 4th Year

PRO: Bart has been the fixture at center since joining the club in 1985 as a free agent. Since winning the starting job early in his initial year, Oates has now had 47 consecutive starts at the position and has quickly gained recognition as one of the top centers in the league. This past season, he was a Pro Bowl alternate for the second year in a row and was a virtual ironman, handling the long snaps as well as all of the center responsibilities, and even came up with four tackles on kick coverages. Oates was rock solid at center for the Giants in '86, playing virtually every minute of the season, as well as handling all of the long-snap duties. A heady player and powerful blocker, he was the anchorman for this unit which excelled over the campaign. At season's end, he was named as a Pro Bowl alternate and also won All-NFL honorable mention from the AP. Bart was signed as a FA by the Giants during the 1985 pre-season after spending three seasons in the USFL with Philadelphia/Baltimore where he won All-League honors twice. After making his debut with the Giants late in the pre-season, Oates moved in as the starting center for the final 14 games of the regular season and for both of the playoff games and by season's end, his work was so productive that he was a unanimous choice for the All-NFL Rookie team. Also doubles as the long snapper, which gives him double value. Big reason why Giants set an alltime club record for rushing yardage in a season in '85. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 12.

COLLEGE: Oates was a three-year starter at center for Brigham Young and was named to the All-Western Athletic Conference first team in his senior year, as well as to the second-team All-American by both AP and NEA. Twice an Academic All-American in '82 and '83, he was also selected to play in the Blue-Grey, East-West Shrine and Senior Bowl games after that senior season. He was a second round USFL draft pick.

PERSONAL: Bart Steven Oates was born in Mesa, Ariz., on December 16, 1958, then was an outstanding student-athlete at Albany High School in Albany, Ga. Bart's older brother, Brad, is a former NFL and USFL player. Bart received his degree from Brigham Young and is currently attending law school in the off-season.

55 GARY REASONS

Linebacker N.W. Louisiana St. 2/18/62

6-4 235 D-4A' 84 5th Year

PRO: Reasons missed all of training camp and the pre-season in 1987 because he was a contract holdout. When he finally returned, he appeared in just 10 games and had lost his inside starting linebacker spot to Pepper Johnson. He saw increased action as a reserve late in the year and finished with 16 total tackles and one QB sack. Strong, steady and heady inside linebacker enjoyed a solid season in 1986 as the starting inside man next to Harry Carson. In his third season as a starter, Gary finished with 96 total tackles, came up with a pair of pass interceptions and had a forced fumble. He continued his excellence in the post-season games, finishing as the club's third-leading tackler in the playoffs with 17 stops, and was outstanding in the NFC championship game victory over the Redskins when he had 12 tackles, a QB sack on Jay Shroeder and an interception. Gary enjoyed a solid season in '85, starting every game in the regular season and playoffs, and finishing as the third leading tackler on the unit with 90 total tackles behind Pro Bowlers Lawrence Taylor and Harry Carson. Along the way, Gary added a pass interception vs. the Packers, was in on a QB sack, had two forced fumbles and had a partially blocked punt vs. the Eagles on special teams' duty. He had 14 total tackles in the playoffs and continued to give the club aggressive and heady defensive play all year long. Gary had a solid rookie season at inside linebacker, being named to virtually all of the All-NFL Rookie teams at season's end. The big rookie first made his presence felt in a 16-9 pre-season win over the Pittsburgh Steelers when he had 12 tackles and two interceptions, the second of which came in the end zone to save the victory. He saw reserve action in the first part of the season, then won the starting job and remained as a starter alongside Harry Carson for the remainder of the year and through the playoffs. He finished with 76 tackles in the regular season, added a QB sack, two interceptions, and led the defense with three fumble recoveries. He also topped the club in total tackles for one game, registering 17 in the 20-10 win over the New York Jets, and both of his regular season interceptions were crucial ones, coming in key situations in victories over Atlanta and St. Louis. Gary was also outstanding in the playoffs, finishing with 14 tackles in the two games, and had a top performance against the 49ers in the divisional playoff with eight tackles, two interceptions on Joe Montana, and three pass deflections. GAMES PLAYED: 10, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Reasons was a small school terror who became the first player in Division 1-AA history to win first-team All-American honors for three consecutive years. He was only the third player in Northwest Louisiana State's history to have his jersey retired, and he was chosen as the Most Valuable Defensive Player in the state of Louisiana in his senior year, including every major college in the state. Gary finished his college career with 394 total tackles, 30 for losses, five interceptions, two fumble recoveries and 10 deflected passes. Also team captain and MVP in his senior year, he set school record with 172 tackles in his final season, including 24 in one game.

PERSONAL: Gary Phillip Reasons was born in Chicago, Ill., but grew up in Crowley, Tex., where he was a standout in football, basketball and baseball at Crowley H.S. where he was also a member of the National Honor Society with a 3:45 GPA. Majored in business administration in college where he also won Honor Roll status with a 3.0 GPA and earned a B.S. degree. Gary is married to the former Terri Matthews and has a young son, Nicholas Ryan Reasons.

72 DOUG RIESENBERG

Tackle California 7/22/65

6-5 287 D-6(A) '87 2nd Year

PRO: Big, strong tackle showed excellent progress in his rookie season, despite the fact that he was a defensive tackle for most of his career in college. Highly intelligent and a hard worker, Doug appeared in eight games for the Giants, mostly on short yardage and on kicking teams and continually showed fine effort. Worked hard during the off-season in the weight room, upping his size to his current 287 pounds, and should be a definite contender for a key role this coming year. GAMES PLAYED: 8, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: After sparkling as a defensive tackle for three years at California, Riesenberg was switched to OT in his senior season by coach Joe Kapp and became a top offensive player on short notice, winning All-Pac 10 honors in his senior year and getting 90% blocking grades from the coaching staff. Not only that, he was named to the Blue-Gray post-season game and distinguished himself in that All-Star contest with outstanding play throughout, then played in the Japan Bowl where he performed well again. An electrical engineering major with computer science as his goal, he was a top student at Cal.

PERSONAL: Douglas John Riesenberg was born on July 22, 1965 in Carroll, Iowa, then played his scholastic sports at Moscow High School in Moscow, Idaho where he was All-American in football and track and All-Conference in basketball while academically making the honor roll and serving as a class officer. Doug is married to the former Victoria Rajeski, his father, Louis, is a professor and department chairman at the University of Idaho, and Doug not only plays the trumpet well, but lists computers as his favorite hobby.

66 WILLIAM ROBERTS

Tackle — Ohio State — 8/5/62

6-5 — 280 — D-1A '84 — 5th Year

PRO: With Karl Nelson sidelined in '87, Roberts moved over to the right tackle slot and started all 12 regular games at the position, and after some early season difficulties, improved rapidly from that point on. It was a transition of a major scale for William who had been strictly a left tackle since joining the club. He had won the starting LT job in his rookie season, then missed all of 1985 due to major knee surgery, but returned in 1986 as a reserve LT, short-yardage and third tight end, while appearing in every game that season, including the playoffs and Super Bowl. After winning a starting job in his rookie season, Roberts went down with a major knee injury during the early part of pre-season training camp in 1985, underwent surgery and was out for the entire year. William made an impressive debut in training camp as a rookie, winning a starting job at left tackle almost from the outset. He then enjoyed a strong pre-season at LT, and was the starter at the position for the first eight regular season games until he went down with a severe ankle injury which had him on the sidelines for five weeks. He then returned for the final portion of the season, and was back as the starting LT in the playoff games against the Rams and 49ers. Roberts showed strong run-blocking and pass-blocking abilities during his rookie season, and despite missing those games late in the season proved he has the ability to be a solid starter in the seasons to come.

GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 12.

COLLEGE: Roberts was a starting tackle for three seasons at Ohio State, building himself up from a 240-pound freshman to his current size. All told, he won four letters with the Buckeyes, and in his senior year won All-American honors from Street & Smith and the Sporting News, while also gaining All Big-10 honors. He played in the Fiesta Bowl, Liberty Bowl and Holiday Bowl games while a Buckeye and was also named to play in the Japan Bowl in his senior year. He was also team captain as a senior.

PERSONAL: William Harold Roberts was born in Miami, Fla., on August 5, 1962 and played his scholastic sports at Carol City High School in Miami where he was twice MVP in football and was captain of both the football and basketball squads. William's father, Cleveland, is a school counselor in Miami, while an older brother, Alton, is a defensive end with the Roughriders in the CFL, and a cousin, Reginald Sanilands, played with Memphis in the USFL. William lists fishing and outdoor sports as his hobbies, and he was also a trombone player in high school.

81 STACY ROBINSON

Wide Receiver No. Dakota State 2/19/62

5-11 186 D-2 '85 4th Year

PRO: After winning a starting job at WR, Stacy suffered a fractured fibula and was out for the final seven games of the season in '87. Prior to that season-ending injury, Stacy had six receptions, including TD catches in each of the first two regular games vs. the Bears and Cowboys. Stacy made an impact in his first full season in '86 after spending most of his rookie year on IR. Despite missing four games with a sprained ankle, he ended the season with 29 catches for 494 yards and a 17.0 average, and added a pair of TD grabs. He had perhaps his best outing in the crucial Monday Night comeback win over the 49ers when he had five receptions for 116 yards, one TD catch and another acrobatic grab which set up the winning TD. He also made three big catches in the Super Bowl win over the Broncos, with his 62 yards receiving leading the Giants in that department. As a rookie he showed outstanding potential during training camp and in the pre-season games, then suffered a broken hand two days before the regular season opener and spend the next 12 weeks on the injured reserve list. He was activated late in the year and appeared in the final four regular season games and both playoff outings in a reserve role. During the pre-season, Stacy had four receptions for 56 yards, including a clutch 19-yard reception on a fourth down play which kept alive a game-knotting TD drive vs. the Jets. GAMES PLAYED: 5, STARTED: 4.

COLLEGE: Stacy began his collegiate career in football and track at Prairie View A&M in Texas, then switched to North Dakota State where he set NDS alltime records for receiving yardage, TD receptions and one-season and single game receiving yardage. He finished with 88 catches for 1,636 yards and 13 TDs in his three seasons, was named to the All-Conference team, then was named the MVP for the North in the Senior Bowl game after his final season. Also a letterman in track, he was the Division II NCAA sprint champion for two seasons, while also sweeping 55 and 100-meter dash championship twice in the Conference.

PERSONAL: Stacy Laddell Robinson was born in St. Paul, Minn., on February 19, 1962, and was an All-State selection in football at Central High School in his hometown, while also winning Minnesota State titles in both the 100 and 200 meters in track. He also starred in basketball and was his school's leading scorer for two reasons.

22 LEE ROUSON

Running Back — Colorado — 10/18/62
6-2 — 222 — D-8 '85 — 4th Year

PRO: Versatile running back continued to display his all-around talents as a reserve RB and kickoff return specialist in '87. He had 155 yards rushing as the backup for Joe Morris, including 61 yards on 12 carries in a victory over the Eagles when Morris was out with an injury. Also had 11 pass receptions during year, including 26-yard TD catch in win over Packers. Led club in kickoff returns with 22 for 497 yards and a 22.6 average which ranked third in the NFC, and continued to play solidly on special teams as a coverage man with 18 total tackles.

In 1986 his playing time was obviously limited, yet he still came through with 179 yards rushing on 54 carries, and scored a pair of TDs vs. Green Bay. When Morris sat out the Saints' game due to illness, Lee filled in admirably with 71 yards rushing. He added eight pass receptions during the year, including a 37-yard TD catch vs. the Eagles, and was also a force on special teams, registering 13 tackles on kick coverages. Lee also saw extensive action in the post-season games, rushing for 52 yards on 12 carries for a 4.3 average, and his 18-yard run in the Super Bowl victory set up the final Giants' TD. He added three receptions for 45 yards in the playoffs and added two solo tackles on kick coverages. In 1985 Rouson proved to be a solid find in the 8th round, and produced a strong pre-season in which he showed flashes of excellence as a rusher, receiver and return specialist. He finished the pre-season with a 25.5 average on kickoff returns and showed his open field running ability with a dazzling 42-yard TD reception in a win over the Broncos. Lee then suffered a sprained knee in the final week of pre-season and went on the Injured Reserve list through the first 14 games of the regular season. He was activated for the final two games of the year, playing well on special teams with two kickoff returns for a 17.5 average and six tackles on kick coverages, then played strongly in the playoffs on special teams with a 25.3 average on kickoff returns, including a 42-yard return vs. the Bears, and a pair of tackles on kick coverages vs. the 49ers. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 2.

COLLEGE: A four-year letterman at Colorado, Rouson had a productive career there, despite being shifted around in various backfield positions by changes in the coaching staff. He finished his career with 2,296 yards rushing, the fourth alltime mark at Colorado, and added 86 receptions, the third best mark, and was selected to the All-Big Eight second team and chosen to play in the Blue-Gray game after his senior season. He was also elected team captain in his senior year.

PERSONAL: Cecil Lee Rouson was born in Elizabeth City, N.C. on October 18, 1962 and had a standout scholastic background at Page High School in Greensboro, N.C. Lee was an All-Conference choice in football, basketball and baseball... was President of the Student Body, and the winner of the DAR's best all-around student award in his senior year.

17 JEFF RUTLEDGE

Quarterback Alabama 1/22/57

6-1 195 T- '82 (Rams) 10th Year

PRO: Rutledge had the second busiest season of his career in 1987, starting four games, three of those replacing an injured Phil Simms. He finished with 79 completions for 1,048 yards and five TD connections and led the club to wins over the Patriots and Eagles, throwing 21-for-33 for 233 yards and a pair of TDs in the first-mentioned triumph. He also tied a dubious club record by throwing five interceptions in one game, vs. the Saints. One of the most versatile backup quarterbacks in the NFL, Jeff has been a starter during his career with both the Giants and Rams, and has the ability to step in at any time and produce. In 1986 his only completion of the year was a 13-yard TD pass to Harry Carson on a fake field goal vs. the Eagles... he ran 18 yards for a first down on another fake field goal to set up a TD vs. the Packers... he completed a 23-yard pass to Mark Bavaro out of the shotgun to set up a TD in the playoff win over the 49ers... and in the Super Bowl victory, he dove two yards for the key first down on a fourth-down play vs. the Broncos which kept a TD drive alive at the start of the second half. Veteran backup QB didn't get to see any regular season action in '85 but appeared in every game as the holder for the placekickers, and worked a successful fake FG attempt with a pitchout which resulted in a TD by Jess Atkinson vs. the Bengals. Although he saw action in only four games in 1983 (all as the starting QB), Rutledge made a solid impression. In his four starts, Jeff produced three 300-plus yardage games, including career highs of 29 completions in 52 attempts for 349 yards in Seattle, and 24 for 47 for 324 yards and a TD against the NFC champion Redskins in the season finale. Rutledge also fired away at a 14-for-29 for 325 yards and a pair of TD connections vs. Dallas, but suffered a kneecap injury in that game which cost him five weeks on the disabled list. Originally a 9th round draft pick of the Rams, Jeff spent three seasons with L.A., as a backup, then came to the Giants in a 1982 trade for a draft choice, but did not see any action. GAMES PLAYED: 13, STARTED 4.

COLLEGE: Rutledge won four varsity letters at Alabama, as All-SEC twice and graduated with a degree in business education. While performing for Bear Bryant's club, Jeff threw 30 career touchdown passes to break the school record held previously by Joe Namath. Rutledge also played in three Sugar Bowl games and the Liberty Bowl in his four seasons, as well as in the East-West Shrine game and Senior Bowl after his senior year. He was also president of the Student Body at Alabama and was voted the most popular senior.

PERSONAL: Jeffrey Ronald Rutledge was born in Birmingham, Ala. on January 22, 1957 and was a football, basketball and baseball ace at Banks H.S. in his hometown. His father, Paul "Jack" Rutledge played major league baseball with the Chicago Cubs and Jeff was drafted by the Cubs out of high school but took the football scholarship to Alabama instead. Jeff and his wife, Laura, live in Huntington Beach, Calif. during the off-seasons with son Jeffrey Brooks and daughter Christen Leigh.

CHUCK SANDERS

Running Back Slippery Rock 4/24/64
6-1 232 FA- '88 3rd Year

PRO: Signed as a FA with the Giants during this past off-season after spending two years with the Pittsburgh Steelers as a reserve running back and strong special teams' performer. In 1986, he rushed four times for 12 yards, caught two passes for 19 yards and returned eight kickoffs for 148 yards and an 18.5 average, while also showing talent covering on kicks with five special teams' tackles. Last year, he upped his rushing total to 65 yards on 11 carries for a 5.9 average and scored one TD, and added one pass reception for 11 yards, while still doing the job on special teams coverages. An 11th round draft choice of the San Diego Chargers in 1986, he was subsequently released and picked up by Pittsburgh that same season.

COLLEGE: Earned three varsity letters at Slippery Rock and finished his career with a total of 2,671 yards rushing and was the Division II leading rusher in the country in his junior season. Hampered by injuries in his senior year, he nonetheless was selected to play in the East-West Shrine game where he had 71 yards rushing in that game. Graduated with a degree in business administration.

PERSONAL: Charles Samuel Sanders was born in Pittsburgh, Pa., on April 24, 1964, then starred at Penn Hills High School in Pittsburgh where two of his high school teammates were Tom Flynn of the Giants and Bill Fralic of the Falcons. Chuck comes from a large family, having nine brothers and sisters.

11 PHIL SIMMS

Quarterback Morehead State 11/3/56

6-3 215 D-1 '79 10th Year

PRO: Veteran QB had a string of 59 consecutive starts snipped in '87 when he suffered a sprained knee against the Cowboys and had to sit out three games. He returned for the final five games of the year and finished with the highest passing completion percentage of his career, as well as the highest passing rating, while also setting alltime career records for pass completions and passing yardage, erasing the former standards of Charlie Conerly. With his 90.0 passing rating, Phil finished second in the NFC to Joe Montana, and along the way also set alltime club marks for game completion percentage with an 80.9% outing vs. St. Louis and 80.7% vs. Green Bay. He also has a current string of 10 consecutive games with TD passes. "Perhaps the best game ever played by a quarterback" seemed to be the consensus quote after Simms set an alltime NFL Super Bowl and playoff record with 88% completion on 22-for-25 passing for 268 yards and three touchdowns in the Giants' 39-20 conquest of Denver two seasons ago. For those superlative efforts, Phil was named MVP of Super Bowl XXI, just one year after being named MVP in the 1986 Pro Bowl. Simms' 1986 season was a masterful one as he led the club to a final team-record 17-2 mark, including 12 straight victories down the homestretch. He was never better than in a four-game crucial stretch late in the season when he (a) threw for 310 yards and hit a 4th and 21 completion in the final minute to set up the winning FG vs. Minnesota; (b) connected on a 46-yard completion in the final minute to set up the winning FG vs. Denver; (c) fired for 388 yards and two TDs to lead the Giants to a second-half victory over San Francisco; and (d) passed for 265 yards and three TDs in the crucial first-place battle with Washington. Once the Giants had won the NFC East crown, Simms then riddled the 49ers in the opening playoff with a club-record four TD passes in playoff action, throttled the Redskins with astute ball-control and a TD throw in the 17-0 NFC title game, and then riddled the Broncos in the Super Bowl. His post-season quarterback rating was an astounding 131.8 on 38-of-58 passing for a 65.5%, eight TD passes and no interceptions, and that brought his career playoff passing rating to 92.0, the third highest in NFL playoff history behind Bart Starr and Ken Anderson. He also set an alltime club record with his 15th 300-yard passing game during the year, and was rewarded by being named All-NFL and the NFL's Most Valuable Player by NEA. Simms had another powerful season in 1985, adding several more club records to others he had set in 1984, chipped in with an alltime NFL record, and then capped his year by being named to the Pro Bowl where he was the starting QB for the NFC and won Most Valuable Player honors for leading a comeback victory with a trio of TD tosses. Phil set alltime club marks vs. Cincinnati when he threw 62 passes and completed 40, for 513 yards. In back-to-back games vs. the Cowboys and Bengals, Simms passed for 432 and 513 yards and those 945 passing yards in back-to-back games were the most ever in NFL history. In matching his previous season high of 22 TD passes, Simms had great consistency in TD throws, pitching for at least on TD pass in 14 of the 16 regular season games, then tossed for two more TDs in the big playoff victory over the 49ers. He had particular success during the year against NFC East rivals Dallas and St. Louis, throwing five TD passes against both of those clubs in the two meetings during the year, and his two-game passing yardage vs. Dallas in '85 added up to 761 yards. After missing virtually all of the '82 and '83 seasons because of injuries and the latter stages of the two seasons prior to that because of other injuries, Simms had his first full-season in 1984 and promptly rewrote the Giants' alltime once-season record book. In leading the Giants to a second-place finish in the NFC East and a trip to the playoffs, Simms set club season records for most completions (286); passing yardage, (4,044) and attempts (533), chalked up four 300-plus passing yardage games, and displayed outstanding toughness and leadership. Phil wasted no time showing that a two-year absence had not diminished his skills. In the season opener against the Eagles, Simms fired 23-of-30 for 409 yards, four touchdowns and no interceptions, then came back the following week to bomb the Cowboys with three more touchdown strikes. That 1984 performance fulfilled the promise that Simms had shown when the Giants made him their No. 1 draft choice in 1979 from little Morehead State in Kentucky. In his rookie season, Simms didn't see any action until the fifth week of the season in a relief stint vs. New Orleans. A week later, he made his initial NFL start vs. Tampa Bay and produced a win, then won his next three starts for four in a row, and had six wins in his first eight starts. Unheralded at the time of the draft, by season's end he was a unanimous All-NFL Rookie choice and runnerup for NFC Rookie of the Year. Then began a streak of misfortune for Simms. In 1980, he was on his way to setting club records when a shoulder separation flattened him for the final three games of the season. In 1981, it was the same story, with another shoulder separation knocking him out of the final five games and the playoffs, and in 1982, a knee injury in a pre-season game cost him the entire season. In 1983, he fractured a thumb in his first long appearance, and was out for a total of 14 games. Undaunted, Simms worked hard during that following off-season, won the starting job again, and, injury-free, had himself a banner '84 season.

GAMES PLAYED: 9, STARTED: 9.

COLLEGE: Only the second Morehead State player to make in in the NFL (teammate Gary Shirk was the other), Simms set alltime college marks with 409 completions for 5,545 yards and 32 touchdowns at Morehead and also set singe season marks with 370 yards vs. Tennessee Tech and four TD passes vs. Marshall, those one-game records coming in 1977. During his four varsity seasons, Phil was an honorable mention All-American by the Sporting News, and was named Offensive Player of the Year and first-team All-Conference in the Ohio Valley Conference as a junior... but made only second-team All-Conference as a senior when Morehead eschewed the passing game and opted for a ball-control offense.

PERSONAL: Philip Simms was born in Springfield, Ky., on November 3, 1956 and played his high school sports at Southern H.S. in Louisville as a QB in football and as a pitcher in baseball. Simms comes from a large family, which includes four brothers—William, Thomas, David and Joseph—and four sisters, Jeanette, Mary, Ann and Sara. Phil and his wife, Diana Fronfield, live in Franklin Lakes and have a son, Christopher and a daughter, Deirdre.

56 LAWRENCE TAYLOR

Linebacker North Carolina 2/4/59
6-3 243 D-1 '81 8th Year

PRO: An incredible ironman record ended for the perennial All-NFL Taylor in 1987 when he suffered a hamstring injury against the Eagles, tried to tough it out a week later vs. the Saints, but then had to sit out a game against the Redskins the following week. That marked the first game Taylor had ever missed in his NFL career...in his collegiate career...and in his high school career! Despite missing that one game, and virtually all of another, L.T. finished with 62 total tackles, added 12 QB sacks which gives him the alltime NFL lead in that department with 74 (an official stat only since '82), had a career-high three interceptions, and was named to the Pro Bowl and to the All-NFL teams for the seventh consecutive year.

Lawrence had a magnificent year in 1986, even by his own standards which are celestial. By the time he finally retires, he'll need a warehouse to store his ever-increasing collection of awards, and the 1986 harvest may have been his biggest. He set an alltime Giants' club record with 20½ quarterback sacks, had 105 total tackles and three forced fumbles, then added a 34-yard TD return with an interception in the playoff win over the 49ers. He was particularly destructive in the two big regular season wins over the Redskins with 18 tackles and six sacks in those two outings. By season's end, Lawrence of the Meadowlands had been a unanimous selection as the NFL's Most Valuable Player, the first time a defensive player had won that plum since Alan Page of the Vikings a decade ago. To add to that laurel, he was a unanimous All-NFL selection, a unanimous Pro Bowl selection and a starter for the sixth straight year, the Maxwell Trophy winner, the Kansas City 101 winner, and the Seagrams Award winner. While he had great success in the two key victories over the Redskins, L.T. was even more devastating in the two wins over the Philadelphia Eagles. In those two contests, he had an amazing 23 total tackles and seven QB sacks, with his four traps in the Oct. 12 win matching his one-game club record. In 1985 L.T. finished with 104 total tackles, registered 13½ QB sacks, had two fumble recoveries for 25 yards returned and had four forced fumbles. He added 20 tackles in the playoffs, including 10 solos and a QB sack in the victory over the 49ers. Lawrence began the season with a bang when he had nine solo stops and 2½ QB sacks in the 21-0 skunking of the Eagles, then was totally dominating in a crucial 17-3 win over the Redskins when he had 13 tackles and two QB sacks. He repeated those identical totals in the second meeting with the Redskins, this time adding a fumble recovery to his 13-tackle, 2-QB sacks stats. In short, there is no honor extant that Taylor has not justly won during his career with the Giants. Over that span, L.T. has recovered fumbles, forced fumbles, blocked PATs, ran over blockers, and generally made life totally miserable for opposing quarterbacks and running backs. He's also had eight pass interceptions, one of which he returned 97 yards for a touchdown, the longest TD return by a linebacker in club history. The Giants' No. 1 draft pick in 1981, Lawrence was an instant smash from Day One. In his first pre-season training camp scrimmage, he had four QB sacks and a fumble recovery. In his first pre-season game vs. the Bears, he had 10 solo tackles, two QB sacks and a fumble recovery, and then in his regular season performance, helped lead the club to the playoffs for the first time since 1963 with big play after big play, including one-hand QB sacks, catching swift running backs from behind for losses, and any other number of eye-catching accomplishments. At 6-3 and 243 pounds, he can still run 4.6

in the 40; is one of the strongest players on the club, and spent part of this past off-season playing basketball, scoring as many as 60 points in several games. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 11.

COLLEGE: Taylor was a consensus All-American at North Carolina and was the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year in 1980. In his final season, of his 69 solo tackles, 22 were for losses behind the line of scrimmage and 16 were QB sacks. Originally a nose guard on defense at North Carolina, he eventually moved to OLB/DE in his final seasons and finished his career with 192 tackles, 21 QB sacks, 10 forced fumbles, three interceptions and three fumble recoveries and was selected for both the East-West Shrine game and Japan Bowl.

PERSONAL: Lawrence Taylor was born on February 4, 1959 in Williamsburg, Va., and played his scholastic sports at Lafayette H.S. in Williamsburg, where he was a 5-10, 180-pounder in his junior year. Also excelled in both basketball and baseball. Lawrence, his wife Linda, and their three youngsters Paula, Tanisha and T.J., now live in upper Saddle River, N.J. He has also become an outstanding golfer, getting his handicap down to an eight, and his massive tee-shots are getting to be legendary.

83 ODESSA TURNER

Wide Receiver N.W. La. St. 10/12/64
6-3 205 D-4 '87 2nd Year

PRO: After a relatively slow start in his rookie season, Odessa came on strongly in the latter part of the season, winning a starting job at WR for the final two games, and showing outstanding potential to go along with his impressive size. He didn't get his his first NFL reception until late November (a 36-yarder vs. the Redskins), then finished with 10 catches for 195 yards, a 19.5 average, and one TD, which was an acrobatic 16-yarder in the win over the Jets. Earlier on, he had contributed on special teams in kick coverages with six total tackles. Should his overall progress continue this season, Turner has a solid chance of remaining as a starting wideout. GAMES PLAYED: 7, STARTED: 2.

COLLEGE: Turner was a genuine two-way star at Northwestern Louisiana, where he set a school mark by winning Gulf Star Conference first-team honors on both offense and defense. He won the offensive honors in both his soph and junior seasons as a WR, then was moved to defensive safety in his senior year when two regulars were injured, and had himself an outstanding defensive year which resulted in his All-Conference selection as a safety. He had eight TD catches while on offense, then led the club in tackles with 62 and in interceptions with four, while on defendse.

PERSONAL: Odessa Turner was born on October 12, 1964 in Monroe, La., then starred in three sports at Wossman High School in his hometown. Married, Odessa is the father of two young sons, Odarius Deon and Oderrick Mack.

73 JOHN WASHINGTON

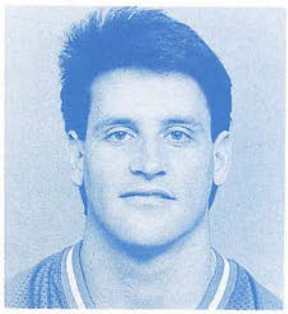

Defensive End Oklahoma State 2/20/63
6-4 275 D-3 '86 3rd Year

PRO: Second-year DE saw action in all 12 regular games in '87, and was the starter at RDE in the final two games after Leonard Marshall was injured. He finished with 14 total tackles and also came up with his first QB sack, while demonstrating fine potential. Big and strong defensive end enjoyed a solid pre-season in his rookie year, coming up with a pair of quarterback sacks in the pre-season opener vs. the Atlanta Falcons. He then played in all 16 regular season games as a reserve DE and special team's player, though he was used only sparingly, coming up with a total of two solo tackles during the year. He suffered a hamstring injury in the final regular season game and missed the playoffs and Super Bowl while on injured reserve. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 2.

COLLEGE: Washington earned three varsity letters at Oklahoma State as both a nose tackle and defensive end, and was a starter in all three of those seasons, winning All-Big Eight honors in both 1984 and '85, as well as honorable mention All-American in his senior year. He finished his career with 241 total tackles, 28 for losses, and added 23 quarterback sacks as well as 57 QB pressures. He was elected team co-captain in his senior year and starred in the Gator Bowl.

PERSONAL: John Earl Washington was born in Houston, Tex., on February 20, 1963 and won six varsity letters in football and baseball at Sterling High School in Houston. Twice an All-Conference selection in football, he was also a scholastic All-American in baseball as a pitcher-infielder. Married to the former Terri Stinson, he has a daughter, Charmaine, 5.

27 HERB WELCH

Safety UCLA 1/12/61

5-11 180 D-12 '85 4th Year

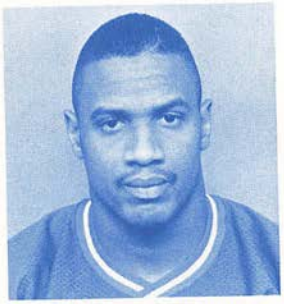

PRO: Welch has been a key reserve over the past three seasons, stepping in as a starter at both the corner and safety when injuries took a toll. This past year, he was the starter on the right corner for the first two games of the season when Perry Williams was injured, then resumed his normal role as a situation substitute. For the season, he was in on 21 tackles, and also came up with interceptions against the Bears and Redsins. Herb saw action in every game in '86, including the last two games of the regular season and all of the post-season games as the starting free safety when Terry Kinard went down with a major knee injury. He performed admirably as the replacement, finishing the regular season with 37 total tackles and coming up with a pair of pass interceptions in the two wins over the Redskins, and adding a fumble recovery. He added 11 more tackles in the playoffs and Super Bowl, and had an interception in the opening playoff romp over the 49ers. Prior to getting the starting nod late in the season, Herb had done a solid job as the nickel back in passing situations and had also contributed on special teams. In his rookie year, Welch turned in a strong pre-season performance as a 12th round draft choice, capping that portion of the year with a seven-tackle performance vs. the Steelers, adding an interception as well, and that helped him make the club as a reserve safety and special teams' player. He appeared in all 16 regular season games and in both of the playoffs in those roles, and along the way came up with the two key pass interceptions vs. the Redskins and Cardinals. He finished the regular season with 22 total tackles and added three more in the playoff outings. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 2.

COLLEGE: Herb began his collegiate career at Cerritos Junior College where he was an All-American and Conference MVP choice. He then played both safety and corner at UCLA for the following two seasons and was a starter in two Rose Bowl games. While in junior college, Welch once returned four punts for touchdowns and a kickoff for a fifth return TD in one season.

PERSONAL: Herbert D. Welch was born in Los Angeles, Calif., on January 12, 1961 and starred in football and track at Warren High School in Dowey, Calif. He earned a B.A. in History from UCLA. Welch's father, Herb Sr., played baseball for the Chicago White Sox.

36 ADRIAN WHITE

Safety Florida 4/6/64
6-0 200 D-2 '87 2nd Year

PRO: Hard-hitting White made an impact in training camp with his ferocity on special teams and as a reserve safety, but suffered a knee injury in a pre-season game which necessitated the removal of bone chips from the knee. Out of action for six weeks during the regular season, he returned with a bang vs. Buffalo and came up with 13 total tackles in that outing. Finished the season with a total of 21 tackles as special teams' player and reserve back. Worked hard in the off-season program and if he can harness his reckless style of play and continue his overall improvement, he can be a big contributor this coming year. GAMES PLAYED: 6, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: Adrian began his collegiate career at Southern Illinois, then moved on to Florida where he was a three-year starter and won All-SEC first-team honors and second-team All-American by UPI in his senior year. He was also named team MVP on defense that season and was selected to play in the Blue-Gray game at season's end where he also sparkled. Also won two letters in track at Florida as a sprinter and membr of 440-relay team.

PERSONAL: Adrian D. White was born in Jacksonville, Fla., on April 6, 1964, then starred as an All-Conference defensive back and track star at Orange Park High School in Orange Park, Fla. Single, Adrian lists fishing as his favorite hobby, plays the bass guitar for enjoyment, and has a cousin, Terry Taylor, who plays for the Seattle Seahawks.

23 PERRY WILLIAMS

Cornerback No. Carolina State 5/12/61
6-2 200 D-7 '83 5th Year

PRO: After not missing a game in his first three seasons as the starting cornerback, Williams sat out the first two in '87 after suffering a sprained neck in the final pre-season game. He returned as the starter for the final 10 games of the regular season, totaling 40 tackles while adding a club-leading two fumble recoveries, a forced fumble, a QB sack and his 10th career interception. Perry had a strong season in '86, playing the right corner with gusto against the run, and coming up with a career high four interceptions for 31 yards returned. He also chipped in with a quarterback sack and a forced fumble along the way and with his outstanding speed and covering ability, discouraged teams from throwing at him a lot. He finished the regular season with 57 total tackles, most of them of the jarring variety, then added six more stops in the post-season games. Swift, hard-hitting cornerback enjoyed his second straight complete season as the starter on the right side in '85, finishing the year with 66 total tackles, a pair of QB sacks, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble as well as two pass interceptions vs. the Redskins and Oilers. He added a half-dozen tackles in the playoff games. After spending his rookie season on Injured Reserve, Perry won the starting right corner job almost from the outset of 1984 then turned in a superb rookie campaign, winning All-NFL Rookie team honors from Football Digest. He played in every game during the season and in the playoffs, finishing with 39 tackles, a fumble recovery and three pass interceptions in the regular season. Blessed with good size and outstanding speed (he's clocked 4.38 in the 40), Perry has the potential to become a Pro Bowl type player. Williams was enjoying an outstanding training camp and pre-season in '83 as a 7th round draft choice, displaying great speed, hitting ability and coverage capabilities, then suffered a stress fracture of his foot after the second pre-season game and went on Injured Reserve for the rest of the season. GAMES PLAYED: 10, STARTED: 10

COLLEGE: Perry was a three-year starter for the Wolfpack at cornerback, and during his career at N.C. State, had 182 total tackles, six interceptions and 23 pass deflections. Clocked in 4.39 for the 40-yard dash, Williams also earned varsity letters in track where he was the Atlantic Coast Conference 200-meter champion with a 21.0 clocking. He was the anchorman on State's 400 and 800-meter relay teams which won first-place honors in both events in the 1982 Penn Relays. He majored in Humanities and Social Sciences.

PERSONAL: Perry Lamar Williams was born in Hamlet, N.C. on May 12, 1961, and was a scholastic standout at Richmond High School in Rockingham, N.C. where he was All-Conference and team captain in football, leading his school to a 12-2 record and the State championship in his senior year. He was also a star in track and baseball in high school and still resides in Hamlet during the off-seasons.

1988 DRAFTED ROOKIES

ERIC MOORE

Tackle Round One
Indiana 6-5 290

A powerful performer with unlimited potential, Eric's progress during his three seasons with the Hoosiers was one of constant acceleration. A transfer from Northeast Oklahoma A&M Junior College, Eric won a starting job at tackle in his first season at Indiana, and then went on to collect 34 consecutive starts over his three campaigns, showing marked improvement in each of those seasons. This past year, Moore had a resounding campaign, winning All-American and All-Big 10 honors, and being selected to play in both the East-West Shrine game and Japan Bowl at season's end. Along the way in '87, Eric won 90% grades for blocking consistency in every single game from the Hoosiers' coaching staff, both in pass blocking as Indiana averaged 210 passing yards-per-game, and in run blocking where his size, strength and mobility were key assets in the rushing attack. In a 31-10 upset victory over Ohio State, Eric unleashed perhaps his most dynamic block of the year when he took out All-American linebackers Chris Spielman and Eric Kumerow with a single surge, allowing Indiana to score on a three-yard TD sweep. His power blocking throughout that victory enabled the Hoosiers to rush for 205 yards, the most against an Ohio State defense in more than two years. He also pitched a near-shutout vs. Rice, limiting defenders across from him just one assisted tackle in a 35-13 triumph. An extremely tough and aggressive player who possesses solid knowledge of the game, Eric was named IU's Outstanding Lineman in '87, after winning the college's Outstanding Offensive Player award in 1986. A 6-2, 190-pounder when he graduated from Berkeley High School in the suburbs of St. Louis, Eric began to add to his stature in junior college, then became an avid weight lifter at Indiana, adding more than 30 pounds of upper body strength along the way. None of that added sinew detracted from another attribute—his ability to explode off the line and get downfield. Born on January 21, 1985 in Berkeley, Mo., Eric has earned a degree in General Studies and Criminal Justice, and became engaged on the day of the draft.

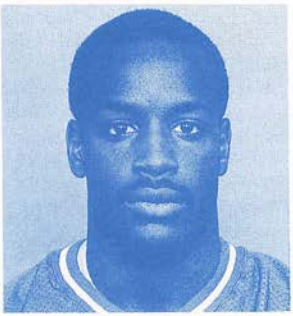

JOHN ELLIOTT

Tackle Round Two
Michigan 6-7 305

Huge offensive lineman reaped a myriad of honors in his senior season with the Wolverines, earning All-American status from UPI, Walter Camp and Kodak while also being a finalist for both the Outland Trophy and the Lombardi Award. Additionally, he was an All Big-10 first-team choice for the second straight year and was selected to play in the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl in post-season play. His dimensions make him among the biggest players in Giants' history, and his abilities had much to do with the success of Michigan's offensive over the past several years. As an example of his durability, Elliott started 39 of his last 40 games with the Wolverines and was the mainstay of a powerful offensive line which enabled Michigan to average 384 yards of offense and 263 yards rushing per game in 1987. He had any number of spectacular games throughout his career, creating huge holes for running back Jamis Morris, and was a powerful pass-blocker as well when Michigan went to the air. Nicknamed "Jumbo" by Michigan coach Bo Schembechler, Elliott won top grades from the Wolverine coaching staff over the past three seasons for his powerful drive blocking which often took out two defenders at a time, particularly on some long-distance gains by halfback Morris. As a junior, Big John also won first-team All Big-10 honors as well as All-American status from the Kodak Coaches' poll, and had a particularly stunning game vs. Hawaii when he registered an astounding 16 knockdown, or "pancake" blocks while dominating All-American Al Noga to just three assisted tackles. Born on April 1, 1965 in Lake Ronkonkoma, Long Island, John was a powerhouse athlete at Sachem H.S. on the Island where he was All-State defensive tackle. In the State playoffs his senior year, Elliott had 19 tackles and four QB sacks vs. West Islip and was deluged by major colleges before choosing Michigan. He's a big fan of Stephen King novels, and just as big a fan of actor Jack Nicholson.

SHELDON WHITE

Defensive Back Round Three
Miami (Ohio) 5-11 188

Multi-talented cornerback enjoyed a sparkling career at Miami, winning four varsity letters, back-to-back Mid-American Conference first team honors and All-American honorable mention and a trip to the Senior Bowl after his final season. One of the fastest, if not the fastest, corners selected in the 1988 draft, White's 4.33 in the 40 was the fastest of any player tested by the BLESTO scouting system prior to the draft. Also a 100-meter dash performer on the Miami track team, White once clocked a blazing 4.28 in the 40 in his sophomore season. Besides all of his swift, Sheldon was an outstanding cover man during his solid career with the Redskins, not to mention some extraordinary special teams' skills which enabled him to block a grand total of 13 kicks during those four seasons. Final career stats showed 193 total tackles, 10 pass interceptions, 24 pass deflections and seven tackles for losses. Amazingly, Sheldon did not have an interception in his senior year after leading the MAC with six swipes in 1986, but the facts there showed that teams were reluctant to throw into his coverage. As a junior, White won the MAC Defensive Player of the week in a victory over Ball State when he intercepted three passes and blocked a punt. That same season he had five blocked kicks in the first four games of the season. This past season, Sheldon went head-to-head with first rounder Michael Irvin of the University of Miami, and while Irvin had five catches, they amounted to but 43 yards. Born on March 1, 1965 in Dayton, Ohio, Sheldon was a captain of both football and baseball at Meadowdale H.S. in Dayton and was twice All-City in both sports. Had 16 QB sacks in this senior year as a linebacker and 33 in career. Also a letter winner in basketball, White majored in accounting at Miami.

RICKY SHAW

Linebacker Round Four
Oklahoma State 6-4 240

Although he played four seasons as a defensive end at OSU, Shaw is projected as an outside linebacker by the Giants' scouts who have had their eye on this talented player for the past two seasons. After winning a varsity letter as a freshman, Ricky won a starting job at DE midway through his sophomore year, and concluded his senior season by winning All-Big Eight second-team honors and All-American honorable mention, while also being selected to play in the Hula Bowl. All told, his career stats with the Cowboys showed 153 total tackles, including 19 quarterback sacks for 100 yards in losses, 21 other tackles for losses and five forced fumbles. He had a particularly big day this past season against Oklahoma, registering 13 total tackles, two for losses, and a forced fumble, then totaled 15 tackles, six QB pressures and two forced fumbles in the final two games of the season vs. Kansas and Iowa State. Highly regarded as a team leader throughout his final two seasons, Ricky received high grades from the scouts for his strength against the run and for his prowess in rushing the passer, finishing with a career total of 25 QB pressures to go along with his 19 quarterback sacks. In addition to those abilities, Shaw was a prolific special teams' player, known for a kamikaze-style of play on the coverage units. He's also blessed with quickness and speed for a big man, with constant clockings of 4.68 and 4.71 in the 40-yard dash. Born on July 28, 1965 in Mount Vernon, N.Y., Shaw lived there for nine years, then moved to Fayetteville, N.C. where he was a formidable scholastic star in football and track, serving as captain of both sports. He was an All-State tight end and defensive end in football, and also won All-State honors in track where he finished third in the state with a 169'5½" toss in the discus. Majored in Journalism in college.

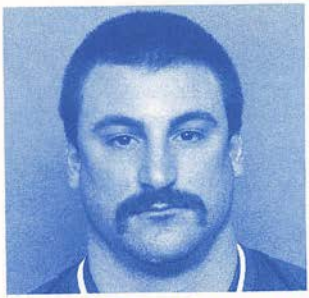

JON CARTER

Defensive End Round Five
Pittsburgh 6-4 260

Carter had himself a sizzling senior season at Pitt, registering 65 total tackles, including 16 for losses, six quarterback sacks and two blocked kicks, then sparkled as well in the Bluebonnet Bowl against Texas and was selected to play in the post-season Hula Bowl. A team captain and team leader during his four seasons, Carter's career totals show 171 total tackles, 41 for losses, and 18½ quarterback sacks. An extremely hard worker, Carter had solid ratings for his quickness and agility and added 15 pounds of muscle prior to last season in the weight room, without losing any of his 4.8 speed. Also played defensive tackle during his senior season when a starter there was injured, and continued to make big plays for the Panthers. Among some of his more notable games in 1987, he had a pair of crucial QB sacks in a 27-17 win over Brigham Young, then had nine tackles and a sack in the upset victory over Notre Dame. Carter added 11 tackles and a sack vs. Boston College, and had 10 stops against Navy. As a sign of how he improved yearly at Pitt, Carter's total tackles and sacks increased in each of his seasons, and he had any number of big games in both his soph and junior campaigns. By the time he had concluded his career, Jon had played all four down lineman positions at one time or another, and he performed admirably at all of those berths. Born on March 12, 1965 in Angie, La., Carter played his scholastic sports at Varnardo H.S. in Louisiana and was twice an All-State selection as a defensive end and tight end, catching 27 passes for 620 yards and nine TDs in his senior year. Also earned four letters in basketball and two in track. A Communications major at Pittsburgh.

DAVID HOULE

Guard Round Six
Michigan State 6-4 278

The starting right tackle for Michigan State for the past two years, Houle won several awards during that span as the Spartans won the Big 10 and Rose Bowl titles this past season. Originally a tight end during his freshman season when he weighed 220 pounds, Houle became a dedicated visitor to the weight room to add nearly 60 pounds of muscle to his frame, and in the process got his bench press up to the 500-pound range. He won Michigan State's "Iron Man Award" in 1987 for accomplishments in strength and conditioning, which came on the heels of his award as "Outstanding Underclass Lineman of the Year" in 1986. A powerhouse drive blocker, Houle's efforts had much to do with the running success of Lorenzo White over the past two years, and his pass blocking also improved during those final seasons. Troubled with shoulder injuries which forced him to miss one game in his junior year and all of the Spring drills as a senior, David nonetheless had powerful outings vs. Minnesota as the Spartans rolled up more than 500 yards of total offense, and against Western Michigan when MSU reached 300 yards in both passing and rushing in a 600-plus production. Born on January 20, 1965 in Detroit, Houle grew up in Plymouth, Mich., where he was an All-State offensive lineman at Plymouth Salem H.S. He was also captain and All-Conference in basketball, and early on had hopes of obtaining a basketball scholarship to college. Instead, he opted for football and entered Michigan State as a 220-pound tight end who was red shirted in his frosh season. He then began his dedicated trips to the Spartans' weight room, and two years later was a starting 275-pound offensive lineman.

MIKE PEREZ

Quarterback Round Seven
San Jose State 6-1 210

An outstanding passer with a powerful arm, toughness and speed as well, Perez was twice an All-Pacific Coast Conference first-team choice and MVP during his glittering two campaigns at San Jose State. Additionally, he was twice an honorable mention All-American, was selected to play in three post-season games—East-West Shrine, Japan Bowl and Blue-Gray—and also set an alltime NCAA record in career total offense average with 309.1 yards per game. Along the way, Mike's two-year stats at SJS showed 471 completions for 6,194 yards, a completion percentage of 59.5% and 36 touchdowns. Among his single game heroics were nine games with 300 or more yards passing, four with 400-plus yards and a stunning 31-for-39 for 508 yards in his junior season vs. Pacific, which set an alltime PCAA record. In setting alltime San Jose State records for most passing yardage in a season with 3,550 this past year, Perez had a string of 15 consecutive games with touchdown passes, and his overall record in those two years as the starting quarterback was 19-3, and won California Bowl MVP honors in 1986 when he engineered a 37-7 victory over Miami of Ohio with 21 completions for 291 yards and three touchdowns. As for other notable marks in his dossier, Perez twice completed passes lefthanded under pass rush pressure, and in one game in '86 had a 15-yard personal foul called on him for "roughing the rusher" after a late hit. That same year, he won Sports Illustrated's Player of the Week when he threw a pair of TD passes in the final 70 seconds to beat Fresno State 45-41 with 33 completions and five TD tosses. Born on March 7, 1965 in Denver, Colo., Mike was All-City and All-State at South H.S. in Denver and played at Taft Junior College before entering San Jose State. A Sociology major, he was the Grand Marshall of San Jose's Mexican Independence Day parade in 1987.

DANTA WHITAKER

Tight End Round Seven (A)

Mississippi Valley 6-3 240

Despite performing for a team which finished 1-10 in 1987, Danta is a highly versatile player who earned four varsity letters during his collegiate career as both an offensive tackle and tight end. For added credentials, he was also a particularly strong special teams' player who made all the long snaps during his career at Mississippi Valley, and he had an especially busy season this past year when his team was forced to punt 84 times in those 11 games. While MVSC's passing game was virtually negligible this past year and Whitaker had but one reception, he nonetheless caught the eye of Giants' scout Richie Solomon with his overall outstanding athletic ability. Nicknamed "Scooter", Whitaker ran consistent 4.6 times in the 40s for the pro scouts, while also grading highly in the weight-lifting tests. Born on March 14, 1965 in Atlanta, Ga., Danta was an outstanding all-around athlete at George High School in his hometown, winning varsity letters in football, basketball, baseball and track, and was an All-City and All-State performer in football as a two-way lineman. At Mississippi Valley in his freshman season, he won a starting job at offensive tackle halfway through his initial season and was used as the third tight end in short yardage situations. He continued in that role in his sophomore and junior seasons, while adding the long-snapping duties and special teams' assignments, and continued to grade out as the most productive offensive lineman on the club for each of his final three campaigns. Although the MVSC passing attack did not give Danta much of an opportunity to display his pass-catching abilities, scout Solomon saw enough of his talents to warrant his selection by the club in the draft. An avid reader, Whitaker lists roller skating as his favorite hobby.

SAMMY LILLY

Defensive Back Round Eight
Georgia Tech 5-9 172

Feisty cornerback was a spirited player for Georgia Tech during his four varsity seasons, playing as an extra defensive back during his first three campaigns, and then as a starter in his senior season. Known for his inspirational type of play, the fiery defensive back was the holler guy in the George Tech defensive huddles, and backed up his vocal efforts with some solid statistics. He concluded his career at Tech with 137 total tackles, three for losses, added four pass interceptions, 20 pass breakups, three fumble recoveries and two forced fumbles, as well as coming up with a pair of blocked punts and one touchdown on a blocked punt return vs. Tennessee. As a junior, before he was redshirted in 1986, Lilly led Tech with four pass interceptions, and had a particularly big game vs. Duke when he recovered a fumble, batted away a fourth down pass into the end zone, then came up with an end zone interception, all in the fourth quarter, to preserve a 9-0 George Tech triumph. Nicknamed "Tiger" by the Tech defensive coaches because of his tenacity, Lilly came to the Yellow Jackets as a 5-5, 150-pound running back, but was switched to defense immediately where he contributed on special teams, despite his size. When he added four inches and 20 more pounds, his playing time increased, and he began his practice of firing up his teammates in the huddle. He also saw extra duty as a kickoff return specialist, averaging 21.3 to finish third in the ACC in his sophomore season. Sammy was born on February 12, 1965 in Anchorage, Alaska, then grew up in Augusta, Ga., where he was an All-Conference running back at Butler High School. In his senior year, he rushed for 906 yards on just 109 carries and scored 11 TDs, and he also had 19 pass interceptions playing defense, including TD returns of 104 and 99 yards. Majored in Management at George Tech.

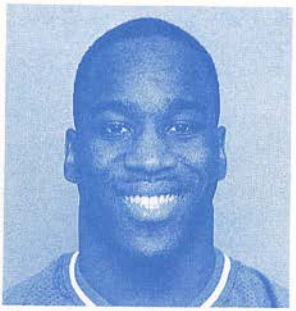

ERIC HICKERSON

Defensive Back Round Ten
Indiana 6-2 215

Hickerson began his collegiate career at Northeastern Oklahoma A&M in the junior college ranks as both a strong safety and outside linebacker, then won varsity letters for two seasons at Indiana as a cornerback. Not only was Eric one of the biggest corners in the Big 10, but his background as an outside LB in the Juco ranks stood him in good stead as he finished among the top six defensive players in tackles in both of his campaigns with the Hoosiers. Born on October 4, 1965 in New Albany, Ind., Hickerson was an outstanding scholastic athlete at New Albany High School, winning All-Conference honors in football, basketball and in track where he was a record-setting long jumper and a member of the 400-meter relay team. In his senior year, he once had four pass interceptions in a single game, returning one for a 75-yard TD, and also scored four times on kickoff returns that senior year. As basketball captain, he averaged 15 points and 15 rebounds per game and had offers from both Louisville and Western Kentucky in the roundball sport. Instead, he opted for football, starting that career at Northeastern Oklahoma where in his final season of junior college, totaled 56 tackles and five QB sacks for that institution which finished 8-2 that season and played in the Junior College national championship game. When he made the transfer to Indiana, Hickerson won a starting job at cornerback, and had a string of 23 consecutive starts over his two-year stint, registering 59 total tackles, with four for losses in '86, and 68 total tackles with six for losses in '87, while ranking third in total passes defensed over the past two seasons. Hickerson was also a valuable player on special teams for Indiana, and still has the ability to be a return specialist, although he was strictly a cornerback over these past two seasons and didn't return any kicks with the Hoosiers.

STEVE WILKES

Tight End Round Ten (A)
Appalachian State 6-5 250

A big, powerful tackle-like tight end, Wilkes won four varsity letters at Appalachian State in an offense which was mostly run-oriented. That being the case, Wilkes had to cut the mustard as a blocker, and did that chore well enough to finish second in the Southern Conference for the Jacobs Blocking Trophy in 1987. Over his junior and senior years, Steve had a string of 25 consecutive starts at TE until he missed the final game in his senior season because of an injury. Even with the run-oriented offense, Wilkes finished third on the club in receiving with 15 catches for 150 yards, while also contributing by playing on special teams where he was among the leaders in coverage tackles. Steve was also the recipient of the award for most "knockdown blocks" on the offensive front. As a junior, Steve played in all 12 games that season, sharing time with an All-Conference performer, and while he had but five receptions on the season, nonetheless had those good gradings again for his blocking prowess, particularly in a game vs. Wake Forest when he continually came up with power blocks for big yardage, while also catching a pair of passes. As a freshman, Wilkes played in 11 games, several as a starter, and had 11 pass receptions for 108 yards and one TD grab vs. Marshall. His four-year stats showed 32 total catches for 319 yards, a 10.0 average and that one touchdown, not an eye-catching total. Yet the pro scouts liked what they saw of him, particularly that blocking prowess, and everyone is convinced that his hands are good enough as well. Wilkes was born on May 18, 1966 in Thomasville, N.C., then played only one year of high school football at Bluefield H.S. in his hometown, but nonetheless was team captain and was named to All-Conference and All-State teams. Also lettered for three years in both basketball and track.

GREG HARRIS

Wide Receiver Round Eleven
Troy State 5-9 160

Deep threat receiver with blazing speed, Harris also doubled as a kickoff and punt return specialist during his four-year career at Troy State and is a bookend with current Giants' receiver Stephen Baker. Despite his slight frame, Harris was a fearless receiver across the middle, and had the consistency of a possession receiver to go along with his breakaway speed, which currently is 4.35 in the 40. After seeing just limited action in his freshman year, Harris finished at Troy State with a total of 93 receptions for 1,445 yards, a 15.5 average-per-catch mark and 11 touchdown receptions, with a long of 81 yards. He also rushed six times on end-arounds for 57 yards and a 9.5 average, and had 34 punt returns for 198 yards, including a 90-yarder for a touchdown vs. Tennessee-Martin. He also averaged 18.1 on kickoff returns while performing that duty on occasion. This past season, he won third-team Little All-America recognition as he led Troy State with 36 catches for 583 yards and five touchdowns for a team which used the wishbone attack and threw only occasionally. In 1986, Greg really came into his own with 39 receptions for 692 yards and four TDs, including a 139-yard game on just three catches vs. Valdosta State with two of those grabs going for 81 and 47-yard TDs. Also averaged 11.8 yards on 12 punt returns that season. Harris also managed to improve his speed during his final two seasons at Troy State by winning varsity letters in track as a sprinter and member of the 400-meter relay squad. In that junior season, he also had a big day in the Division II playoffs against South Dakota with six catches for 120 yards and a touchdown. Born on December 30, 1965 in Okeechobee, Fla., Harris was an All-Conference flanker at Okeechobee High School and an All-District sprinter on the track team. He majored in Criminal Justice at Troy State.

DAVID FUTRELL

Defensive Tackle Round Twelve
Brigham Young 6-1 265

Rugged and powerful nose tackle came on strongly in his final two seasons at BYU after being overshadowed by defensive line mates Jason Buck and Shawn Knight earlier in his career. All told, Futrell lettered for four seasons at BYU, though he played only sparingly in his freshman season. He saw more action as a sophomore, then became the starting NT for his final two years, racking up a total of 19½ quarterback sacks in those final two campaigns. His career stats showed 165 total tackles, six for losses, 22 quarterback sacks, 21 quarterback pressures, three fumble recoveries, one pass interception and one blocked kick. This past season, he was a defensive captain and was named to the All-WAC first team as well as All-American honorable mention. Coach LaVell Edwards cited Futrell for the play that turned BYU's season around when he dropped an Air Force wide receiver for a big loss on a reverse play that looked like it might go for a winning TD. In 1986, David was a second team All-WAC selection as he started every game that season and won Defensive Lineman game awards vs. Utah State, New Mexico and Texas-El Paso. He had 12 tackles and a brace of QB sacks in the victory over Utah State. A dedicated weight room advocate, Futrell also had the reputation of being an extremely hard-nosed performer with the Cougars throughout his career there. Born on March 20, 1966 in Baytown, Tex., Futrell was a football and track standout at Eastwood High School in his hometown, winning All-Conference honors three years running as a two-way tackle. One of the most sought-after scholastic players in Texas, he was recruited by Texas, Texas A&M, Texas Tech and Stanford before deciding on Brigham Young. Futrell is married and majored in Advertising at BYU.

BRENDAN McCORMACK

Defensive End Round Twelve (A)
South Carolina 6-6 270

Though hampered by injuries through most of his career at South Carolina, McCormack is a big, strong and rangy defensive lineman who has been clocked at 4.85 for the 40-yard dash, and who has some potential. Born on March 17, 1966 in Chicago, McCormack was an All-State, All-American and All-Catholic selection in his senior season as a two-way lineman, and also lettered in basketball as a power forward for three seasons, garnering All-Conference honors in that sport. While he eventually earned four letters with the Gamecocks, he saw only infrequent action as a freshman, then had his playing time curtailed in both his sophomore and junior seasons due to knee and shoulder injuries. He had some solid performances, however, in both of those seasons, including a five-tackle outing vs. East Carolina in '85, and then six stops and a sack against Nebraska, six tackles vs. both Virginia and the University of Miami, and tackles for losses in both of the last two mentioned contests. This past year as the Gamecocks had a powerful team and went to the Gator Bowl, McCormack upped his production considerably, getting in on 46 tackles, four for losses, five quarterback sacks, 12 quarterback pressures and a pair of deflected passes, all of which surpassed his previous three year totals in all departments. Almost all of his playing time at South Carolina was at defensive tackle, but the Giants feel he can make his mark felt at the outside position. He could have a chance to create some competition in training camp, particularly because of his quickness and agility. A graduate of Gordon Tech High School in Chicago, McCormack was a Criminal Justice major at South Carolina.

1988 FREE AGENTS, REPLACEMENT PLAYERS

ARIEY, MIKE: Offensive Tackle; 6-5, 285; San Diego State... Won four varsity letters at San Diego State, winning some All-Conference mentions along the way. Originally looked at by the Giants in 1987, but has some minor knee problems and didn't pass physical during replacement period. Completely recovered now, and shows some promise in pass-blocking. Born on March 12, 1964 in Bakersfield, Cal., the hometown of Frank Gifford, Mike was a star scholastic player at Garles High School in Bakersfield.

BELK, VENO: Tight End; 6-3, 235; Michigan State... Born in Tifton, Ga. on March 7, 1963, Belk grew up in Flint, Mich., the hometown of Carl Banks, and starred at Northwestern High School in Flint. He also followed Banks' footprints to Michigan State where he earned four varsity letters, and was a teammate of Carl for two of those campaigns. Won some honorable mentions in the Big-10 as a tight end, and played with the Buffalo Bills during the 1987 replacement games, coming up with one reception for seven yards.

BLACK, MIKE: Center; 6-4, 280; Cal State-Sacramento... A California man all the way, he was born in Auburn, Cal., then played his scholastic sports at Del Oro High School in Loomis, Cal., before winning four varsity letters in Sacramento at Cal State. Born on August 24, 1964, he spent some time with the Seattle Seahawks and Philadelphia Eagles in '86 and '87 in their training camps, and then was signed by the Giants for their replacement team last year where he started at tackle in two games. He's now been switched to center.

BORCKY, DENNIS: Center; 6-4, 275; Memphis State... Hails from the state of Pennsylvania, where he was born on September 14, 1964 in Chester, Pa., later starring at Chichester High School in Boothwyn, Pa., and now resides in Aston, Pa. with wife Mary Jane. Earned four varsity letters at Memphis State as a nose tackle, winning some Conference mentions along the way. Signed as a FA by the Pittsburgh Steelers in '87, he was subsequently released and then signed with the Giants where he started two games at nose tackle during the replacement games, coming up with a total of 10 tackles in the two games and a fumble recovery vs. Buffalo. He'll get a try at center this coming year.

BROWN, DONALD: Cornerback; 6-0, 190; Maryland... The 1987 SEASON IN REVIEW

September 14 GIANTS 19, Chicago 34 (65,704) at Chicago

The Giants got off to a roaring start in this opening Monday night game of the season, featuring the past two Super Bowl champions, but after a close 10-7 game at halftime, the Bears erupted for 24 second-half points to win it going away. QB Phil Simms was also kayoed by DE Richard Dent in the first half, and while he returned for second half action, was woozy at best. On their first possession with the opening kickoff, the Giants moved 66 yards in seven plays, to the Bears' 10-yardline, but the powerful drive was blunted when Simms was sacked and fumbled inside the Chicago 10. The Giants stayed on top of the Bears, however, when Erik Howard blocked a punt, with Tom Flynn recovering in the end zone for a 7-0 Giants' lead. Chicago countered with a FG in the first period, Then QB Mike Tomczak scored on a QB sneak with just eight seconds left in the half for a 10-7 Chicago edge. After that, it was Katie, bar the door, as Tomczak threw TD passes of 42 and 56 yards, and Dennis McKinnon returned a punt 94 yards for another score. Terry Kinard's 70-yard TD interception run closed it to 24-13 and a Simms' 5-yard TD throw to Stacy Robinson had it at 31-19 early in the fourth period, but the Bears booted another FG and their defense held on for the win.

September 20 GIANTS 14, Dallas 16 (73,426) at Giants Stadium

This was the first of four losses which came after the Giants had carried a lead into the final period, and was doubly frustrating since the Giants still bounced back in the final 90 seconds and had a chance to pull out the victory, only to have a Raul Allegre 46-yard FG attempt sail to the left in the final five seconds. The Giants took an early 7-0 lead on a 17-yard drive, capped by Phil Simms' 5-yard TD pass to Stacy Robinson, but Dallas bounced back for a 46-yard FG by Roger Ruzek to cut it to 7-3. When Simms was intercepted and the ball returned to the Giants' 22, the Cowboys then took a 10-7 halftime lead on a 1-yard pass from Danny White to TE Thornton Chandler. Terry Kinard's 69-yard return with an interception (he had three interceptions in the game to tie an alltime club record) set up a TD pass from Simms to Mark Bavaro to get the Giants back on top 14-10. Ruzek then booted another brace of FGs in the third and fourth periods for a 16-14 Dallas lead, only to have the Giants drive all the way to the Dallas 29 in the closing seconds where Allegre hooked the winning FG attempt to the left. LBs Harry Carson and Carl Banks each were in on 12 tackles, while Lawrence Taylor had 9 tackles, a QB sack and an interception as the Giants sacked White five times and intercepted him four times... to no avail.

October 5 GIANTS 21, San Francisco 41 (16,471) at Giants Stadium

After a one-week respite and cancellation of play due to the players' strike, the first of the "replacement" games on this Monday night before a crowd of just 16,471 saw the new Giants take a 7-3 lead early in the second period, then get trampled for 31 unanswered points by the 49er replacements as Bill Walsh even went to a wishbone offense during the onslaught. After a 49er FG in the opening period, the Giants took that 7-3 lead in the second quarter when QB Jim Crocicchia fired a 47-yard TD bomb to WR Lewis Bennett, but the Niners bounced back in all sorts of ways to go up by a 34-7 count into the final period, aided by the wishbone attack. Crocicchia was injured when sacked in the final period, and then backup QB Mike Busch came on to throw another pair of touchdown passes, 63 yards to WR Reggie McGowan and seven yards to WR Edwin Lovelady. Defensively, LB Dan DeRose was in on 15 tackles for the Giants, while safety Steve Rehage had 13 and LB Warren Thompson 10 stops, including a pair of QB sacks.

October 11 GIANTS 12, Washington 38 (9,123) at Giants Stadium

The second of the "replacement" games, this one was played before the smallest crowd in Giants Stadium history, with less than 10,000 in the stands, and again saw the Giants take an early lead at 3-0 before coughing up 24 unanswered points to the 'Skins new guys. First, George Benyola booted a 45-yard FG for that early 3-0 lead, then a robust Washington rushing attack piled up those 24 points for a 24-3 halftime lead. QB Mike Busch tossed a 23-yard TD pass to WR Edwin Lovelady to cut it to 24-9, but the 'Skins bounced back for another pair of TDs to win it going away. Busch completed just 14-of-41 passes and was sacked six times. LB Dan DeRose was in on 12 tackles and Steve Rehage on 11 for the vanquished.

October 18 GIANTS 3, Buffalo 6 OT (15,737) at Buffalo

In perhaps one of the less-than-thrilling games in NFL history, the Giants and Bills' replacement players took turns missing short-range field goals, setting team records for penalties, and combining for 9 fumbles, to stagger into overtime without a touchdown being scored, before the Bills finally won it on a 27-yard FG. All told, the Bills missed FG attempts from 28, 30, and 48 yards, while the Giants had missed FGs from the 37 and the 40, the second miss coming in the final seconds of regulation which would have won it for N.Y. This struggle went all the way to the fourth quarter as a scoreless tie, and then the Giants scored first when George Benyola kicked a 22-yard FG for a 3-0 lead, after the Giants were unable to score a TD after having first and goal on the Bills 2-yard line. The Bills then bounced back for a 56-yard drive, capped by a 31-yard Schlopy FG to knot it at 3-3, but the Giants had a chance to win it in regulation when they recovered a Bill fumble at the Buffalo 23 with 10 seconds left to play. Alas, Benyola shanked a 40-yard FG attempt, and it went into overtime. First, Schlopy missed a 28-yard FG attempt, but after the Giants had moved to the Bills' 31, only to have a Jeff Rutledge pass intercepted, the Bills bounced back, drove back and Schlopy hit the game-winner from 27 yards with just 9 seconds left in the overtime.

October 25 GIANTS 30, St. Louis 7 (74,391) at Giants Stadium

With the players' strike finally ended, the regulars returned for this one at Giants Stadium, bringing the sellout crowds back as well, and Phil Simms had a spectacular day with 17-of-21 passing for 253 yards and three touchdowns as the Giants ran roughshod over the Cardinals. Phil hit Mark Bavaro from three yards and Lionel Manuel from 16 for first period TD connections, then targeted Manuel for a 38-yard TD later on, with a trio of Raul Allegre FGs adding up to a 30-0 Giants lead with only two minutes to play before the Cardinals got on the scoreboard. Simms' 80.9% completion percentage in the game was an alltime club record for one game. RB Joe Morris had his best game of the season to this point with 88 yards rushing, while RB George Adams had six receptions for 78 yards. Defensively, the Giants sacked Neil Lomax five times and had interceptions by Mark Collins and Kenny Hill. Collins, Harry Carson, and Carl Banks were all credited with 10 tackles, while NT Erik Howard had two QB sacks.

November 2 GIANTS 24, Dallas 33 (55,730) at Dallas

Without a doubt this was the most crushing loss of the season as the Giants fell to 1-6 in the standings. Seemingly in command with a 24-14 lead in the fourth period, and moving the ball, the Giants ran into their yearly dose of Texas Stadium voodoo when a Phil Simms pass was batted into the air and caught by DE Jim Jeffcoat who returned it for a TD to get the Pokes back in business. Shortly thereafter, Lee Rouson fumbled away a kickoff return to set up a Cowboy FG, and then Simms had yet another pass deflected for an interception, and went out of the game with a knee injury to boot. Jeff Rutledge, in for Simms, then fumbled the ball away after another QB sack to set up still another FG, and when the smoke cleared, the Cowboys had scored 19 fourth quarter points to keep the Texas jinx intact. Earlier, Simms had thrown a pair of TD passes of 50 and 33 yards to Lionel Manuel to build the lead, as Manuel continued to have big games against Dallas with seven catches for 151 yards, and the defense had buried the Cowboy rushing attack to just 26 yards in 24 attempts, while sacking Danny White four times and intercepting him once.

November 8 GIANTS 17, New England 10 (73,817) at Giants Stadium

Jeff Rutlege was the QB replacing injured Phil Simms in this Sunday night battle, and the backup man responded by throwing a pair of first half TD passes giving the Giants a 14-0 intermission lead. The defense then took over, registering three interceptions and a pair of QB sacks to keep the Pats at bay. The Giants marched 85 yards for their first score, a 16-yard Rutledge toss to Mark Bavaro, then Jeff hit rookie WR Stephen Baker for 19 yards to position a 9-yard TD throw to George Adams for the 14-0 halftime lead. Adams fumbled the ball away midway in the third period at the Giants' 17, which led to New England's only TD to cut it to 14-7, but Raul Allegre's 19-yard FG had it 17-7 into the final period. The Pats added a FG late in the final period, but after getting the ball back one more time, a final New England move was killed by Lawrence Taylor's pass interception.

November 15 GIANTS 20, Philadelphia 17 (66,172) at Philadelphia

With Rutledge still at the helm, the Giants had to bounce back from an early 10-0 deficit in Philadelphia, yet did so as Jeff passed for 298 yards. After the Eagles moved 91 yards for a TD with the opening kickoff, it quickly went to 10-0 when George Adams fumbled the ball away on the ensuing possession and the Eagles booted a FG. Rutledge came back to fire a 36-yard TD throw to Lionel Manuel, and then Raul Allegre boomed a 53-yard FG, his longest as a Giant, to knot it at halftime. Randall Cunningham's 8-yard TD toss to Keith Byars put the Eagles on top again at 17-10, but Rutledge hit Manuel on two big pass plays to position a George Adams' one-yard TD dive to knot it in the fourth period. With Joe Morris out of action with an injury, Lee Rouson paced a fourth period drive which culminated in a 52-yard FG by Allegre to win it. Allegre tied an alltime NFL record by booting a pair of 50-plus FGs in a single game. The Eagles had a chance to pull it out in the final minutes, but Lawrence Taylor made a TD saving tackle on Cunningham, and then the Eagles' Paul McFadden missed a 39-yard FG with just 25 seconds left in the game. The Giants sacked Cunningham six times, with L.T. getting a pair.

November 22 GIANTS 14, New Orleans 23 (67,639) at New Orleans

With Phil Simms, Joe Morris, and Lawrence Taylor among the missing (L.T. missed most of the game), the Giants nonetheless had another of those fourth period leads evaporate when Jeff Rutledge fumbled the ball away at his own 22, and then Sean Landeta had a punt blocked to give the Saints 10 gift-wrapped points in the final seven minutes of play for the 23-14 decision. A 64-yard kickoff on the game's first play led to an early Saints' FG, but Rutledge bounced back with a 46-yard TD toss to WR Stephen Baker for a 7-3 Giants' edge. The Saints retaliated with a 77-yard TD drive, aided by a personnal foul penalty on the Giants, to go up 10-7, then made it 13-7 at halftime when Ottis Anderson had a sure TD pass bounce off his hands into an interception which led to another Saints' FG with just two seconds left in the half. Andy Headen came up with an interception in the third period which led to a Rutledge 22-yard TD throw to Mark Bavaro as the Giants recaptured the lead at 14-13. Another Giant drive went for naught when Rutledge was sacked and Raul Allegre missed a 40-yard FG, and then with the Giants again in possession, and seemingly in control, came the fumble and blocked punt and another fourth period flop. Rutledge was intercepted five times in the game to tie an alltime club mark, while rookie Baker had his first 100-yard receiving game.

November 29 GIANTS 19, Washington 23 (45,815) at Washington

This one goes down as the toughest loss of the entire season. The Giants were dominating the eventual Super Bowl champions, building up a 16-0 halftime lead, and then holding on to a 19-3 advantage into the final minutes of the third period. Then came the onslaught as Jay Schroeder fired a 34-yard TD pass to cut it to 19-9, then hit another TD throw to close to 19-16. A 15-yard penalty on Adrian White set up the game-winner, a 28-yard TD pass to Ricky Sanders who broke clear when CB Perry Williams slipped and fell down on the coverage. Not dead yet, the Giants stormed back in the final minute to the Skins' 16-yard line, and on the game's final play, Phil Simms hit Tony Galbreath down the middle, but he was tackled on the 2-yard line as time ran out. Earlier, the Giants had taken a 10-0 first period lead on a Raul Allegre FG and a 30-yard TD toss from Simms to Mark Bavaro. Allegre added two more FGs in the second period for that 16-0 halftime lead, as the Giants defense, without the injured Lawrence Taylor, kept the pressure on Schroeder. All told, Schroeder was sacked six times and intercepted twice, but those fourth-quarter gremlins did it to the Giants again.

December 6 GIANTS 23, Philadelphia 20 OT (65,874) at Giants Stadium

Another near fourth-quarter calamity as the Giants went into the final 4:30 of play with a 20-6 lead, only to watch Eagle QB Randall Cunningham fire a pair of TD bombs in those final four minutes to create a 20-20 tie and a trip into overtime. Those last-minute heroics must have awakened the Giants' defense, because they pounced on the Eagles in overtime and held them to minus-5 yards of total offense on four possessions, and then a 36-yard pass from Phil Simms to Mark Bavaro set up a 28-yard FG by Raul Allegre which won it 23-20 at 10:42 of the OT. In building up the big lead in regulation, Simms had nailed Bavaro for a 19-yard TD throw in the opening minutes of the game, but the Eagles had bounced back for a pair of FGs to close it to 7-6 at halftime. Allegre then hoisted a brace of third-period FGs to up it to 13-6, and then Simms found WR Stephen Baker for a 16-yard TD connection and that 20-6 lead, which stayed that way until the final four minutes when Cunningham went on his rampage. At that, the Giants' defense hounded Randall much of the game, registering a season-high nine QB sacks, with All-Pro Carl Banks in on 12 tackles and a trio of the QB traps. Lawrence Taylor also returned to action and had two of the QB sacks. Eagle punter John Teltschik set an alltime NFL record by punting 15 times in the game, while Sean Landeta had 10 punts for the Giants.

December 13 GIANTS 24, St. Louis 27 (29,623) at St. Louis

The final road game of the season also turned out to be the final loss of the season as the Giants' special teams got them into a 14-7 hole early, then a roughing-the-kicker penalty by the specials coast yet another TD as the Cardinals swarmed to a 27-10 halftime lead. The Giants bounced back for two second-half TDs to close it to 27-24, and had one last chance to pull it out, but a last-ditch drive was thwarted when Phil Simms was intercepted at midfield. Early on, the St. Lou specialists made waves when Vai Sikahema returned a punt 76 yards for a TD, and after the Giants had tied it on a Simms' 11-yard TD toss to Mark Bavaro, Sikahema returned the ensuing kickoff 48 yards to set up another Cardinals' TD. The roughing-the-kicker penalty in the second period kept a Cardinal drive alive, and that resulted in the 27-10 halftime edge, which they protected for the eventual triumph. Bavaro had 11 receptions in the game for 137 yards, while Simms passed for 359 yards in the setback with 30 completions in 48 attempts.

December 19 GIANTS 20, Green Bay 10 (51,013) at Giants Stadium

Giants led all the way in this one, building up a 20-0 third period lead before the Packers got on the scoreboard, Phil McConkey set up the first TD with a 37-yard punt return against his former team, with Joe Morris scoring it on a 3-yard sweep. That went to 13-0 at halftime when Lee Rouson caught three passes for 54 yards in an 80-yard drive, with the last one good for 26 yards for the TD from Phil Simms. That went to 20-0 in the third period on a short Giants' drive, with Simms getting the six with a one-yard TD toss to Zeke Mowatt. The Pack finally mounted a scoring drive after a 37-yard kickoff return to score a FG, and then used a 48-yard punt return to position their only TD, a halfback pass to Jessie Clark. Simms had a big day for the Giants with 21-for-26 passing for 233 yards and two TDs, and Joe Morris added 92 yards rushing.

December 27 GIANTS 20, Jets 7 (68,318) at Giants Stadium

The Giants rolled up 420 yards of total offense and shackled the Jets to just 234 as they built a 17-7 halftime lead, then let the defense control the remainder of the game. The Jets got on the board first when JoJo Townsell's 16-yard punt return led to a 14-yard TD run by Johnny Hector, but that was to be it for the day for the Jets' scoring. Raul Allegre's 29-yard FG got the Giants on the scoreboard, and then Phil Simms led a 95-yard drive, hitting Mark Bavaro for a 12-yard TD toss to make it 10-7. Phil then engineered a sparkling drive of 60 yards in the final 59 seconds of the half, completing three big passes, the last of which went to rookie WR Odessa Turner for a 16-yard TD and a 17-7 halftime edge. Allegre added a 23-yard FG midway through the third period, and after that the defense played tough, sacking Ken O'Brien three times, while veteran Pro Bowler Harry Carson led the way with 12 tackles. Joe Morris had his first 100-yard rushing game of the year with 132 yards on 26 carries, while Bavaro had another 100-yard receiving game with six grabs for 109 yards.

1987 PRE-SEASON RECAP

August 16 GIANTS 19, New England 17 (50,014) at New England

Giants got off to a good start in this pre-season debut, building a 19-7 lead over the Patriots into late in the third period, then held off a late Pats' rally to clinch the victory. New England had taken an early 7-0 lead on Steve Grogan's 18-yard TD toss to Stanley Morgan, but the Giants bounced back on Raul Allegre's 55-yard FG and then Phil Simms hit Zeke Mowatt for a 14-yard TD toss to give the Giants the lead for good. Allegre added a 39-yard FG for a 12-7 halftime edge, and then George Adams, returning to action after missing the entire 1986 season, led an 80-yard TD drive and scored from a yard out for the 19-7 lead. Adams had 81 yards rushing on 14 carries in a solid performance, while Simms was 10-for-16 for 103 yards and one TD. Jeff Hostetler was 3-for-6 for 31 yards and Jeff Rutledge 4-for-8 for 70 yards. Sean Landeta averaged a robust 56.4 on five punts and LB Andy Headen led the defense with a pair of QB sacks.

August 22 GIANTS 24, Cleveland 10 (41,008) at Giants Stadium

The Giants broke a 10-10 tie in the third quarter as Jeff Rutledge fired a pair of TD passes, and the defense throttled Cleveland's high-powered offense to just 271 total yards as the Giants made it 2-0 in the pre-season. After the Browns had taken an early 3-0 lead, Phil Simms engineered a 65-yard TD drive by completing six of seven passes, with Joe Morris scoring the TD on a one-yard dive. That went to 10-3 at halftime when Jeff Hostetler led a drive with scrambles of 17 and nine yards to position a 22-yard Raul Allegre FG. After the Browns had tied it at 10-10, Rutledge went to work, hitting Ottis Anderson for a 24-yard TD connection, and then WR Solomon Miller for a 15-yard TD toss to close out the scoring. Rutledge finished with a perfect 7-for-7 for 108 yards and two TDs, while Simms was 9-for-14 for 95 yards. Hostetler was the leading rusher with 33 yards.

August 29 GIANTS 23, Jets 30 (75,841) at Giants Stadium

After winning five straight pre-season games over the Jets, the Giants built an early 16-3 lead in this one, but then the Jets stormed back on the passing of both Ken O'Brien and Pat Ryan to pull out the victory. The Giants got on the scoreboard early when Carl Banks dumped Freeman McNeil in the Jets' end zone for a safety, and on the ensuing kick, Lionel Manuel hauled the return back 61 yards for a TD and a quick 9-0 lead. Pat Leahy booted a 43-yard FG to cut it to 9-3, but then Phil Simms drove the Giants 61 yards for another score, this one coming on Phil's 24-yard TD toss to Maurice Carthon for the 16-3 bulge. The Jets, however, scored the next 24 points as both O'Brien and Ryan fired TD passes, and Johnny Hector scored on a one-yard dive after a Jet pass interception on Jeff Rutledge. Rutledge hit rookie WR Stephen Baker for a 12-yard TD to close it to 27-23, but the Jets booted another FG and held on to win it. Lawrence Taylor had eight tackles and three QB sacks on O'Brien.

September 5 GIANTS 26, Pittsburgh 20 (50,981) at Pittsburgh

The Giants closed out the pre-season with a 3-1 record as Phil Simms engineered a stunning 80-yard drive on nine plays in the final 1:19 of play to wipe out a 20-19 Steeler lead. On that last-second drive, Phil hit on six of eight passes, with the winning TD coming on his 20-yard bullet to Lionel Manuel. Earlier, the Giants led 10-3 at halftime on a 40-yard Raul Allegre FG and Joe Morris' one-yard run which was set up by a 59-yard kickoff return by Lee Rouson. That went to 17-3 on Simms' 10-yard TD throw to Stacy Robinson in the third period, but then the Steelers surged back on a 5-yard TD catch by veteran John Stallworth. Erik Howard sacked Mark Malone in the end zone for a safety to up it to 19-10, but the Steelers went up 20-19 after a TD and a 46-yard FG by Anderson with just 1:19 left to play. Then came Simms' heroics. Phil finished with 22-of-35 for 260 yards and two TDs, with Tony Galbreath catching seven for 52 yards and Stacy Robinson four for 83 yards. The Giants sacked Malone five times.

ADDITIONAL NOTES ON SUPER BOWL XXI

Phil Simms' completion percentage of 88.0 was the highest not only for any Super Bowl game, but for any of the 213 post-season games in NFL history (minimum: 15 completions). The old record was 84.2 by David Woodley of Miami, in an AFC First-Round Game vs. New England, Jan. 8, 1983 (16-of-19).

The Giants defeated their three playoff opponents by a cumulative total of 82 points (Giants 105, Opponents 23), the largest such total in history by a Super Bowl winner. The old record was 81 by Chicago last year (Chicago 91, Opponents 10).

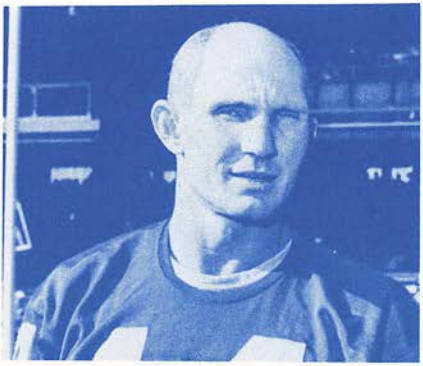

During the 64-year history of the New York Giants' franchise in the National Football League, only seven players have had the honor of having their jersey numbers retired by the club.

Those seven players and their retired numbers include:

NAME	NO.	POSITION
Ray Flaherty	1	End-Assistant coach (1928-35)
Mel Hein	7	Center-Linebacker (1931-45)
Y.A. Tittle	14	Quarterback (1961-64)

The 1988 Giants' Media Guide was written and edited by Ed Croke, Director of Media Services. The book has been designed to be as comprehensive as possible, but if members of the media require additional information or assistance not contained, please contact the Media Services Department. During the pre-season, that contact can be made at the Fairleigh Dickinson University training camp, and during the regular season at the Giants' Executive offices at Giants Stadium. For those who can be served by telecopier, the direct telecopier line at Giants Stadium is (201) 935-8493.
