A look at the past...

THROUGH THE YEARS

The New York Giants were the hook which held the ragged cloak of professional football's formative years.

The Giants franchise Timothy J. Mara bought in the summer of 1925 helped further pro football in a time when it was in danger of disintegrating for lack of money and public support. Mara held the line in New York. He kept the game alive. His tools were energy, family pride, money and a sure promotional touch. That he did so in a time when the sports headlines belonged to Babe Ruth and Bill Tilden... to Bobby Jones and Jack Dempsey... and to college football was remarkable.

Pro football? Few sports fans in New York had even heard of it, let alone seen it played.

Indeed, the game had much to be modest about in 1925. It was a shaky band of teams that called itself the National Professional Football League—then five years old. Made up of about 20 clubs—month-to-month changes made a hard number unattainable—this clumsy child of a league was manned by former All-America football players, aging Olympic stars, out of work baseball players, part-time cowboys, wrestlers, dock hands, factory workers and anyone else who felt he could play.

Club franchises in those days were bought, sold and moved about like rolling stock. A number of the 1925 teams failed. What little stability the young league had was centered in a combative ex-sailor named George Halas, who owned, coached and played for the Chicago Bears. Within 20 years this man would be known as Papa Bear, and his "cubs" as the fearsome "Monsters of the Midway."

Tim Mara's first contribution to this helter-skelter organization was $2,500, the price of the New York franchise. Some accounts put the figure at $500... that may have been the down payment. The Giants say $2,500.

His second contribution was to draw public attention to pro football. Toward that end, he tried to sign the great Red Grange, the Galloping Ghost from Illinois, but Halas and the Bears beat Mara to the prize. Mara wisely settled for second best—a final game in New York against the Bears, featuring Grange, but in a Bears'—not Giants'—uniform.

Public support for the game was vital to the plucky Irishman's football future. If Mara could fill the Polo Grounds, the Giants' home stadium, he'd break even. If not, New York, as a professional football town, might well have to go the way of Dayton, Rochester and Columbus as league dropouts.

The game against the Bears on December 6, 1925, turned out to be the first miracle of Coogan's Bluff. Archives of the day relate how an estimated crowd of 70,000 fans jammed the Polo Grounds, swarmed over temporary field bleachers, climbed rooftops and literally hung from the rafters in order to catch a glimpse of the fabled Galloping Ghost.

The Bears beat the Giants 19-7, with Grange scoring once on an interception. More important, however, was the enthusiastic reception the game evoked from the press and the fans. They loved the spectacle. That winter, Tim Mara and the other NFL franchise owners drew strength from the belief that professional football, given star players, the proper setting and enough publicity, could become a respectable—and profitable—enterprise.

But neither Mara nor the league were out of the financial woods yet. Spurred by the success of the Giants-Bears game, a promoter known as C. C. (Cash-and-Carry) Pyle, who held the rights to Red Grange's services, organized a rival pro league in 1926 and fielded competing teams in Yankee Stadium, just across from the Polo Grounds, and in Brooklyn's Ebbets Field.

It was a case of too much pro football, too soon, played before too few spectators. Before the 1926 season ended, the rival league folded.

And so, very nearly did the Giants. Dogged by bad weather, poor attendance and higher payrolls as a result of bidding against Pyle for player talent, Mara and the surviving league owners found themselves in dire straits. But they prevailed with worn uniforms, through coach travel on trains, in cheap hotels and with reduced squads; they scraped enough money together to keep their franchises operating through 1927 and 1928.

Keystone for survival were the Giants. As long as Mara could turn out a team in New York, with its many newspaper and radio outlets and its great population, there was hope for professional football.

Mara made his next major contribution to pro football in 1929 when he signed Benny Friedman, Michigan's triple-threat quarterback. Friedman's contract was held by the Detroit Wolverines. In order to sign him, Mara had to buy the Wolverines.

With Friedman in New York and Grange back in the NFL at Chicago, the Giants and the NFL began to jell. Schedules were formalized and followed. Player contracts ran for an entire season, rather than game by game. Newspapers carried accounts of games and league standings.

By now traditional rivalries between the Giants, the Green Bay Packers and the Bears had been firmly established. Excitement generated by the visitors from the midwest was enough to keep the league and its teams solvent through the depression years.

It was from this bleak period that the Giants' influence on the league shifted from personalities to game strategy. In 1931 Mara named Steve Owen head coach—a job Owen had shared with Friedman in 1930. The move had a profound effect, not only on the Giants, but on the game itself. Owen, a massive tackle who had practically filled one side of the Giant line in his playing days, became a coach whose trademark was hard defensive line play and a tenacious pass defense.

So successful were Owen's coaching tactics that they brought the team six divisional titles and two league championships in the 10 years between 1931 and 1941.

Owen is remembered for his famed "umbrella" defense against the pass. It had a six-man defensive line, one linebacker and four defensive backs—the 6-1-4 defense. But as the opponent's pass play developed, the two outside defensive linemen dropped back, instead of rushing the passer, to form a semicircle secondary, resembling the top of an open umbrella. This defense prompted many NFL coaches to adopt the four-man line, but it remained for one of his player-coaches, defensive back Tom Landry, to ultimately refine it (after World War II and under a later Giants' coach, Jim Lee Howell) into the 4-3-4 defense—the dominant defense of the past three decades.

Pro football, however, travels in cycles and in time the opposition solved Owen's defense with new attack patterns. Young, imaginative coaches led by Paul Brown introduced a more open style of play—multiple offenses and the option. Steve Owen's coaching career with the Giants ended in 1953.

His successor was Jim Lee Howell, a soft-spoken giant of a man who had played end for Owen in the years before and after World War II, and who had become the team's first end coach in 1948.

Howell's leadership brought a new structure to the club. A man who believed in delegating authority, he handed the defensive responsibilities to Tom Landry. It was under Howell that Landry perfected the standard 4-3-4 defense that popularized play in the '60s.

1954 was also the year Howell brought into the Giants' organization a man whose impact on the game would become a legend—Vince Lombardi. As Howell's first lieutenant and offensive coach, Lombardi introduced the power sweep with its intricate pulling and trapping lineman and crushing double-team blocks. Lombardi restored the ground game to prominence in pro football.

Eventually, Howell's people would flourish in the NFL. Included were seven former Giants players or coaches who had held or were holding head coaching jobs in the National Football League: the late Vince Lombardi, Green Bay Packers and Washington Redskins; Tom Landry, Dallas Cowboys; Dick Nolan, San Francisco 49ers and New Orleans Saints; Harland Svare, San Diego Chargers; Alex Webster, Giants; Bill Austin, Pittsburgh Steelers and Redskins; and Ed Hughes, Houston Oilers.

Out of the Howell regime, too, came a dozen or more assistant coaches, including Emlen Tunnell, the first black coach in the game. And for what it reveals about the intelligence and versatility of his old crew, a number of broadcasters—Frank Gifford, Kyle Rote, Pat Summerall, Al DeRogatis and Sam Huff. There are sound reasons why the Giants' organization is referred to as Mara Tech.

However you would define the influence of Mara's Giants on pro football—persistence in the face of adversity, timely promotion, pluck, coaching leadership, player ability—it adds up to what the NFL needed most in the early days and what it utilized later in its growth years.

(This look at the past was excerpted from the NFL Creative Services Book, "The New York Giants" by author Jim Terzian.)

CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES

1927 GIANTS 13, Chicago Bears 7

Led by Steve Owen, the Giants finished with an 11-1-1 record, then stunned Red Grange, John Driscoll and the Bears 13-7 at the Polo Grounds. "It was the toughest, roughest football game I ever played in" Owen was later to say. With the score tied 7-7, the Bears drove to the Giants' one-yard line, but Owen and Cal Hubbard spear-headed a goal line defense which held the Windy City crew. Hinkey Haines then faked a punt from his own end zone and completed a pass to Charlie Corgan for a 58-yard gain which set up the winning score and elation for Tim Mara.

1933 Chicago Bears 23, GIANTS 21

Jack Manders opened the scoring for the Bears at Wrigley Field, Chicago before 26,000 with a 16-yard field goal in the first period to touch off 60 minutes of fireworks which kept fans standing on their chairs through most of the game. Manders kicked a 28-yard FG for a 6-0 lead in the second period before Harry Newman hit Red Badgro for a touchdown pass and a 7-6 Giant lead at the half. Manders' third FG regained the lead for the Bears, but Max Krause's TD and the conversion by Ken Strong put NY back in front 14-9. A pass from Bronko Nagurski to Bill Karr made it 16-14, Chicago, before Strong lateraled to Newman who then threw a TD pass back to Strong for a 21-16 Giant lead late in the game. The Bears bounced back to win, however, when Nagurski's jump pass to Bill Hewitt was lateraled to Karr for the game-winning touchdown.

1934 GIANTS 30, Chicago Bears 13

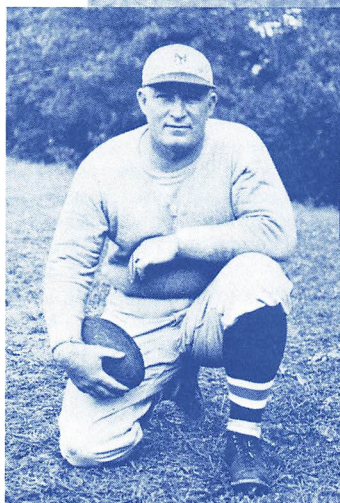

With the temperature at nine degrees and the Polo Grounds covered with a sheet of ice, this one became famous as the "sneakers" game when Steve Owen provided his squad with basketball shoes to open the second half with his club trailing 10-3. The Giants responded with four touchdowns which had a crowd of 35,059 roaring approval. The Bears had a string of 33 games without defeat going into this one, but fell behind 3-0 on a 38-yard FG by Ken Strong. A TD by Nagurski and a field goal by Manders got the Bears in front 10-3 at the half, when Owen sent for the sneakers to take advantage of the slippery footing. Ahead 13-2 on another Manders' FG, the Bears were swamped in a fourth-period Giant uprising which saw Ed Danowski throw a 28-yard TD pass to Ike Frankian and Ken Strong race 42 yards for another TD just moments later for a 17-13 lead. Danowski and Strong raced for subsequent touchdowns against the stunned Bears to turn the game into a rout.

1935 Detroit Lions 26, GIANTS 7

With a crowd of about 15,000 looking on, the Lions took a 13-0 lead in the first period when Leroy "Ace" Gutowsky plunged over from the 2-yard line and Earl "Dutch" Clark shook loose on a 40-yard touchdown romp. The Giants closed the gap at 13-7 in the third period when Danowski connected with Strong for a 42-yard touchdown pass, but the Lions' defense accounted for two more scores in the final period on a blocked punt and intercepted pass. Ernie Caddel scored the first on a 4-yard slant and Buddy Parker the second on a 9-yard run.

1938 GIANTS 23, Green Bay Packers 17

A slam-bang, bruising thriller was staged for the largest crowd (48,120 at the Polo Grounds) to see a championship game up to that time. With the victory, the Giants became the first team to win the championship twice since the divisional splitup. The Giants blocked two punts early in the game, and capitalized on both with Ward Cuff kicking a 13-yard FG and Tuffy Leemans blasting over on a 6-yard plunge. Arnie Herber's 50-yard TD pass to Carl Mulleneaux got the Packers on the scoreboard, but Danowski hit Hap Barnard for a 20-yard TD pass and a 16-7 lead. The Packers closed to 16-14 at halftime on Clark Hinkle's 6-yard TD, then took the lead 17-16 on Engebretsen's third-period FG. New York then stormed back to the Packer 23 from where Danowski passed to Hank Soar for the game-winning TD.

1939 Green Bay Packers 27, GIANTS 0

The Packers came up with sweet revenge in a grudge match played before 32,279 at Milwaukee's State Fair Grounds. Cold weather and a 35-MPH wind made aerial sorties a bit dubious, but Green Bay scored quickly on a 7-yard pitch from Herber to Milt Gantenbein. Engebretsen kicked a 29-yard FG in the third period for a 10-0 lead, and the Packers wrapped it up with touchdowns by Joe Laws on a 20-yard pass from Cecil Isbell, a one-yard plunge by Jankowski and Ernie Smith's 42-yard field goal.

1941 Chicago Bears 37, GIANTS 9

Attendance was only 13,341 at Wrigley Field, just two weeks after Pearl Harbor Day. The Giants led 6-3 in the first period on a Tuffy Leemans to George Franck touchdown pass of 31 yards, but the Bears went on a pair of field goals, then broke the game wide open in the second half on touchdowns by Norm Standlee (2), George McAfee and Ken Kavanaugh.

1944 Green Bay 14, GIANTS 7

The Packers took a 14-0 lead at halftime before 46,016 at the Polo Grounds on touchdowns by Ted Fritsch—the first on a 2-yard plunge and the second on a 26-yard pass from Irv Comp with Don Hutson adding the conversions. Ward Cuff scored on a 1-yard plunge on the first play of the final period for the Giants, but the Packers hung on for the triumph.

1946 Chicago Bears 24, GIANTS 14

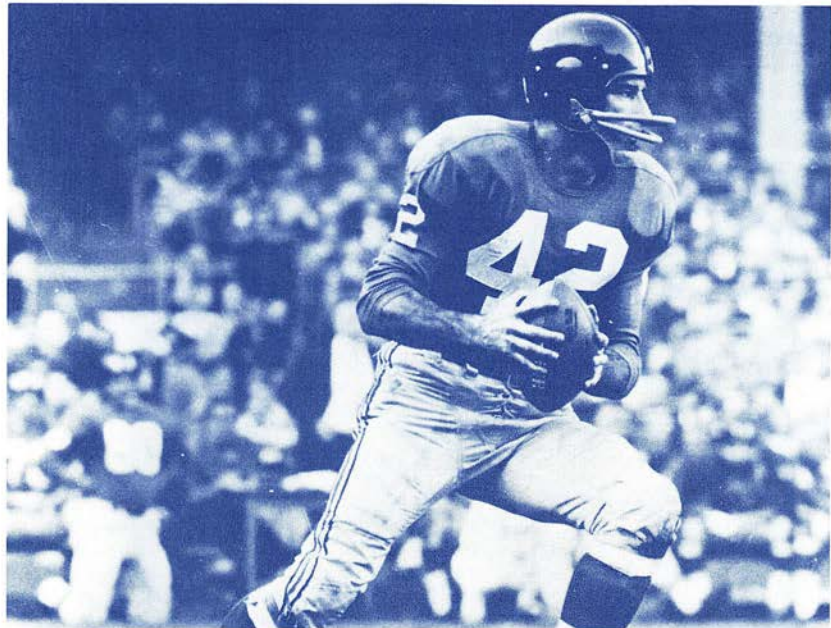

Sid Luckman was the big man for the Bears in this win before 58,346 at the Polo Grounds. He passed for a 21-yard TD to Ken Kavanaugh to open the scoring, then ran 19 yards for a score later in the game. Dante Magnani's 19-yard pass interception accounted for the third Bear score, while the Giants hit the scoring column on touchdown passes from Frank Filchock to Frank Liebel and Steve Filipowicz.

1956 GIANTS 47, Chicago Bears 7

Fullback Mel Triplett smashed 17 yards for a TD early in the game on an icy field before a big crowd, then Ben Agajanian added a brace of field goals for a 13-0 lead. It was 34-7 at halftime as Alex Webster crashed over for a pair of touchdowns from inside the 5-yard line. Charlie Conerly's aerials brought nothing but more woe to the Bears in the second half, with Kyle Rote snaring a 9-yard TD throw and Frank Gifford a 14-yarder to close out the scoring.

1958 Baltimore Colts 23, GIANTS 17

Some people call this the greatest game ever played, and perhaps it was for drama and its sudden-death ending. With a crowd of 64,185 on hand at Yankee Stadium, the Giants led 3-0 on a 36-yard Pat Summerall FG in the first period, with the Colts taking over 14-3 at halftime on scores by Alan Ameche from the 2-yard line and Ray Berry on a 15-yard pitch from Johnny Unitas. The Giants scored in the third period on a 1-yard plunge by Mel Triplett after an 86-yard gainer from Conerly to Rote with Webster picking up Rote's fumble. The Giants went in front 17-14 on Conerly's 15-yard TD throw to Gifford, but the Colts tied it with seven seconds to play on Steve Myrah's 13-yard FG and won in the overtime on Ameche's 1-yard plunge, the 13th play of a Colt drive.

1959 Baltimore Colts 31, GIANTS 10

A sellout crowd of 57,577 was on hand at Baltimore's Municipal Stadium for the big rematch of the divisional champions. The home crowd had plenty to cheer about in the early going as Unitas hit Lenny Moore for a 60-yard TD bomb, but the Giants surged back to stop the Colt offense. With Summerall kicking three field goals (23, 26 and 23 yards), the Giants led 9-7 going into the final period. But the Colts stormed back with a furious final period onslaught as Unitas scored on a 4-yard run, threw a 12-yard TD pass to Richardson and Johnny Sample returned an interception for another score.

1961 Green Bay Packers 37, GIANTS 0

With a crowd of 39,029 looking on in Green Bay, Paul Hornung paced the Packers to a stunning 37-0 triumph by scoring 19 points on a touchdown, three field goals and four conversions. On leave from his Army duties in Fort Riley, Kan., Hornung scored on a 6-yard slant in the second period to break a scoreless deadlock and set off a Packer splurge which accounted for 24 points in that quarter. The Giants were unable to recover from this onslaught and suffered their first shutout in nine seasons. Bart Starr's touchdown pass to Ron Kramer and a pair of Hornung field goals closed out the scoring in the second half.

1962 Green Bay Packers 16, GIANTS 7

Bitter cold weather at Yankee Stadium was no deterrent to 64,892 fans who turned out for the year's big one. As things turned out, a trio of field goals by Packer guard Jerry Kramer made the difference in a game where both defensive units turned in superlative jobs. The only Giant score was a result of defensive work when Erich Barnes blocked a Max McGee punt and reserve end Jim Collier fell on the ball in the end zone.

1963 Chicago Bears 14, GIANTS 10

The Bear defense turned the tide in this championship game, played in 10 degree weather in Wrigley Field. Taking the early lead on a 14-yard Y.A. Tittle TD pass to Frank Gifford and Don Chandler's FG, the Giants were the victims of five pass interceptions thereafter, two of which set up the Bear scores. Larry Morris swiped the first one for a return of 61 yards, while Ed O'Bradovich's steal of a screen pass set up what turned out to be the winning score. Tittle suffered a knee injury in the first half, but gallantly returned to action in the second half, though he was hampered and hobbled by his injury.

1986 GIANTS 39, Denver Broncos 20

Led by the brilliant record-setting passing of Phil Simms, the Giants won their first Super Bowl with a 30-point second-half onslaught before 101,063 spectators at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena. Simms pitched 22-for-25 for 268 yards and three TDs, setting an alltime NFL playoff mark of 88.0% completion and winning the MVP honors in the game. Down 10-9 at halftime, the Giants rang up 24 unanswered points to take a commanding 33-10 lead in the fourth period with Simms' TD passes going to TEs Zeke Mowatt and Mark Bavaro and to WR Phil McConkey. Linebacker Carl Banks was a star on defense with 10 solo tackles as the Giants concluded their greatest season ever with a 17-2 record.

HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS

1925-29—Tim Mara purchased a National Football League franchise for New York for $500. Bob Folwell was named head coach and all-time great Jim Thorpe was signed. More than 70,000 jammed the Polo Grounds to see the Giants play Red Grange and the Chicago Bears. The Giants went 8-4 in their first season. Folwell left, and was replaced by Dr. Joe Alexander as head coach. Despite an 8-4-1 record in 1926, Mara lost $40,000. Earl Potteiger replaced Alexander in 1927, and the Giants won their first title with an 11-1-1 record. In 1929 the 13-1-1 Giants averaged 25,000 fans and turned a small profit.

1930—Ownership of the club was turned over to Jack and Wellington Mara, the two sons of the founder.

1931—Center Mel Hein was signed. Steve Owen was named head coach.

1932—Ray Flaherty became the NFL's first official pass reception champion with 21 catches.

1933—The Giants easily won the Eastern Division of the newly-divided NFL. In the league's first championship game, the Giants lost to the Bears 23-21.

1934—In what has come to be known as the "Sneakers Game," the Giants defeated the Bears 30-13 for the NFL title. Some of the New York players wore basketball shoes to increase traction on the icy Polo Grounds turf.

1935—The Giants advanced to their third straight NFL championship game, but lost to Detroit 26-7.

1938—A 23-17 victory over Green Bay produced the Giants' third NFL title.

1939—Green Bay avenged the 1938 loss with a 27-0 drubbing of the Giants in the NFL title game.

1941—In the wake of Peal Harbor, only 13,341 spectators turned out to see Chicago top the Giants in the NFL title game.

1944—Luring Arnie Herber and Ken Strong out of retirement, the Giants scored five shutouts en route to the Eastern title, but lost the NFL championship game to Green Bay 14-7.

1946—Frankie Filchock, an understudy to Sammy Baugh at Washington, signed with the Giants for a reported $35,000, but was suspended indefinitely along with teammate Merle Hapes for alleged gambling involvement.

1951—Kyle Rote of Southern Methodist was the Giants' bonus pick in the draft, but was injured in the preseason and saw little action. Eddie Price led the NFL in rushing with 971 yards.

1952—Tailback Frank Gifford of USC was drafted number one. Playing in his fifth year, Emlen Tunnell gained more yardage on kick returns and interceptions (924) than the league's leading rusher, Dan Towler (894) of Los Angeles.

1953—Owens retired at the end of the season after 23 years as the Giants' head coach.

1954—Former Giants end Jim Lee Howell was promoted from end coach to head coach.

1956—Defensive end Andy Robustelli was obtained from the Rams. The Giants switched their home games from the Polo Grounds to Yankee Stadium. A 47-7 rout of the Chicago Bears produced New York's first NFL championship since 1938. Linebacker Sam Huff was rookie of the year.

1958—Advancing to the NFL championship game with a playoff win over Cleveland, the Giants lost to Baltimore 23-17 in sudden death overtime.

1959—Baltimore exploded for 24 points in the fourth quarter to defeat New York in the NFL title game for the second straight year.

1961—Allie Sherman replaced the retired Howell as head coach. The Giants obtained Y.A. Tittle and Del Shofner in trades. Alex Webster gained 928 yards to help New York to the NFL title game. With the league championship on the line, the Giants were no match for Green Bay, losing 37-0.

1962—Tittle, Shofner, Webster and Gifford led the Giants into the NFL title game against the Packers. Green Bay prevailed to 16-7.

1963—Tittle threw 36 touchdown passes and kicker Don Chandler led the league in scoring as the Giants romped to their third straight conference title. With Tittle injured in the second quarter, New York lost yet another bid for the league championship, 14-10 to Chicago's Bears.

1967—Quarterback Fran Tarkenton was obtained from Minnesota.

1969—The Giants lost 37-14 to the New York Jets in a preseason contest. Webster replaced Sherman as head coach.

1970—Ron Johnson became the Giants' first 1,000-yard rusher, totaling 1,027 yards.

1972—Tarkenton was traded back to Minnesota. Norm Snead, obtained in the Tarkenton trade, led the league in passing and the Giants finished above .500 for only the second time in nine years.

1973—Prior to the final game of the season, Webster announced his retirement. New York lost the game 31-7 to Minnesota to close out the year at 2-11-1. They played their late-season home games at Yale Bowl.

1974—Bill Arnsparger was named the Giants' ninth head coach. Snead was traded to San Francisco. Craig Morton was obtained from Dallas.

1976—Larry Csonka, the former Miami running back who had played in the World Football League, signed as a free agent. Snead was reacquired from San Francisco. The Giants moved to Giants Stadium in East Rutherford, New Jersey. Arnsparger was fired in midseason and replaced by assistant coach John McVay, who signed a long-term contract following the 3-11 season.

1977—Morton was traded to Denver. The Giants improved to a 5-9 record. McVay went with Joe Pisarcik and Jerry Golsteyn at quarterback. Csonka rushed for 100 yards on the last day of the season and finished the year with 464 yards.

1978—The Giants had a 5-3 record at the halfway point of the season but lost seven of their final eight games and finished 6-10. Punter Dave Jennings and linebackers

Harry Carson and Brad Van Pelt was named to the NFC Pro Bowl team. McVay was fired in late December. Robustelli, who had been the Giants' director of operations since 1974, resigned. George Young was named general manager in January, 1979. He announced the appointment of San Diego Chargers assistant Ray Perkins as head coach.

1979—Before the season began, tragedy struck as defensive tackle Troy Archer was killed in a traffic accident on June 22. Rookie Phil Simms, a first round choice, took over at quarterback. But the Giants had another 6-10 record. Dave Jennings led the NFC with a 42.7-yard punting average.

1980—A porous defense allowed opponents to score 425 points, second worst in the NFL. The Giants fell to 4-12. They did upset Dallas 38-35 after eight straight defeats. Jennings led NFL punters with a 44.8-yard average.

1981—With the second selection in the draft, New York chose Lawrence Taylor, a linebacker from North Carolina. The Giants started slowly, going 2-3, but then obtained running back Rob Carpenter from Houston. Carpenter sparked a three-game winning streak. A three-game losing streak dropped the club to 5-6, and then Simms was injured. Second-year quarterback Scott Brunner replaced Simms and the team responded with four victories in the final five weeks, including a 13-10 victory over Dallas in the season finale that sent them into the playoffs. On December 27, the Giants defeated the Eagles 27-21 in the NFC wild card game. The season ended for New York on January 3 when it was defeated by the 49ers 38-24 in a divisional playoff game.

1982—A wild, wooly and turbulent year which saw the NFL players' strike shorten the season to just nine games. The final game played before the strike pitted the Giants and Packers on a Monday night game from Giants Stadium in which a power failure caused a blackout during the game. Rob Carpenter was a holdout for most of the season, returning to play in just the final five games, and then on December 15, head coach Ray Perkins resigned to accept the head coaching job at Alabama, with defensive coordinator Bill Parcells being named to replace him in 1983. The Giants then lost two straight after the Perkins' announcement, and missed the playoffs on the final day of the season with a 4-5 record. Despite the adversity, four Giants—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and Dave Jennings—were named to the Pro Bowl.

1983—After breaking even in their first four games for a 2-2 record, the Giants were decimated by injuries during the rest of the year, with a total of 25 players appearing on the injured reserve list at one time or another. With players such as Harry Carson, Phil Simms and Rob Carpenter missing most of the season, and with the club leading the entire NFL in turnovers with 58 on 31 interceptions and 27 lost fumbles, the record tumbled to 3-12-1. The year was also marred by the tragic deaths of assistant coach Bob Ledbetter and former star running back Doug Kotar. Four players were nonetheless named to the Pro Bowl again—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and rookie place-kicker Ali Haji-Sheikh who set an alltime NFL record with 35 field goals during the year.

1984—With Phil Simms enjoying his first full season at quarterback, the Giants won the NFC wild card playoff spot again, finishing with a 9-7 mark and second-place in the NFC East as Simms set three alltime single season club records with 286 completions in 533 attempts for 4,044 yards. The Giants knocked off the Los Angeles Rams 16-13 in that wild card game, then bowed to the eventual Super Bowl champion San

San Francisco 49ers 21-10 in the divisional playoff. Taylor, Carson and Haynes were again named to the Pro Bowl, while head coach Bill Parcells was named NFC East Coach of the Year and five rookies—Karl Nelson, Gary Reasons, Carl Banks, Perry Williams and Bobby Johnson—were named to the All-NFL Rookie team.

1985—With a final 10-6 mark, the Giants put back-to-back winning seasons on the board for the first time in 22 years, won another trip to the playoffs and had their first home playoff game since 1962, winning 17-3 over the defending Super Bowl champion 49ers. Again, the club lost in the Divisional playoffs to the eventual Super Bowl champion team, the Chicago Bears, by a 21-0 score, the toughest outing the Bears encountered in the entire playoffs. Five players—Taylor, Carson, Phil Simms, Joe Morris and Leonard Marshall—were named to the Pro Bowl. All told, there were 12 team records set by this club, and 16 individual club records. Morris set an alltime one season rushing mark with 1,336 yards plus an alltime mark for TDs in a season with 21 while Simms broke alltime club records with 40 completions in a game for 513 yards passing. Marshall added another club mark with 15½ QB sacks in a season, while rookie TE Mark Bavaro, an All-NFL Rookie team choice set a club mark with 12 receptions in one game.

1986—The club's first Super Bowl championship, an alltime final record of 17-2, as well as a club record 12 straight victories, made this year the greatest in team history. The Giants also set an alltime composite margin of victory in the playoffs, outscoring three opponents 105-23, for an 82-point domination, the most ever in NFL playoff history. Phil Simms was the MVP of the Super Bowl victory with an NFL alltime playoff mark of 88% passing accuracy with his 22-for-25 passing in the 39-20 title conquest of the Denver Broncos. Lawrence Taylor was named the league's MVP, Joe Morris broke his own club rushing record with 1,516 yards, and eight players—Taylor, Morris, Harry Carson, Leonard Marshall, Jim Burt, Brad Benson, Mark Bavaro and Sean Landeta—were named to the Pro Bowl. Coach Bill Parcells was a unanimous NFL Coach of the Year in all the national polls, the Giants were 10-0 at home, including regular season and the two playoff games, and alltime attendance records were set for both home and away, as well as single game home attendance.

1987—Not exactly a year to remember. After winning the Super Bowl, the Giants dropped to a final 6-9 record, thanks to an 0-5 start in this players' strike season and the replacement games which followed. Add to that a rash of injuries which sidelined no less than 11 starters at one time or another, and the fifth-place finish was the result. While the Giants had a 6-4 record after the players' strike had been settled, it was a case of too little, too late. Despite the final record, four players—Lawrence Taylor, Carl Banks, Harry Carson and Mark Bavaro—were selected to the Pro Bowl and all four also were named to various All-NFL teams.

1988—The Giants bounced back from the debacle of '87 and after splitting their first six games, engineered a 7-2 run which had them all alone in first-place in the NFC East with a 10-5 mark into the final weekend of the season. Alas, an upset setback at the hands of the Jets not only knocked the Giants out of first-place, but also cost them a playoff berth as well. With that final 10-6 record, the Giants' overall mark over the five past seasons reached 54-32 for a winning percentage of .628, and those 54 victories were the most in club history for any five-year consecutive span. RB Joe Morris set an alltime club record with his third 1,000-plus rushing season and WR Lionel Manuel had his first 1,000-yard receiving year. Morris also surpassed Alex Webster as the Giants' alltime rushing leader, moving past the 5,000-yard plateau. Lawrence Taylor was named to his eighth straight Pro Bowl and All-NFL designation and safety Terry Kinard was selected for his first Pro Bowl appearance.

STAFF BIOGRAPHIES

GEORGE YOUNG Vice President, General Manager

When George Young was named General Manager of the Giants on February 14, 1979 at a press conference at Gallagher's Restaurant in New York City, there was no special significance attached to the date—Valentine's Day—at that time. Over the ensuing years, however, that date is now considered to be a very special red-letter day in club history. Prior to George's stewardship, the Giants had not been in NFL post-season play since the 1963 season a 15-year famine. Since he instituted his reconstruction policies, the Giants have now won the Super Bowl, been to the NFL Playoffs four times, including three straight trips in 1984-85-86, reaching the Division playoffs in each of the four playoff years, in addition to winning the NFC Championship and Super Bowl title. The club also just missed a fifth playoff season in the final week of the strike-shortened 1982 campaign. The Giants' back-to-back winning playoff seasons in '84 and '85 also marked the first time that the club had achieved consecutive such years in 22 seasons. In building the team, Young has placed special emphasis on the NFL Draft. From his inaugural draft in 1979 through the 1989 selection process, Young had succeeded in signing every player drafted over that span, and from those nine drafts, a total of 66 of those players made the club at one time or another. From that total, 31 of those drafted players remain with the team on the current roster, and 22 of those have been starters at one time or another. The list also includes Pro Bowlers Lawrence Taylor, Phil Simms, Joe Morris, Leonard Marshall, and Mark Bavaro. Over that same span, 18 of those drafted players were named to the All-NFL Rookie team. Young's sagacity in signing free agents has also been a powerful part of his organizational talents. Four more starters are free agents signed under Young—Bart Oates, Maurice Carthon, Jim Burt and Sean Landeta, and both Burt and Landeta have been Pro Bowlers. Young's efforts have won him prestigious awards in both 1984 and 1986 when he was voted NFL Executive of the Year by the Sporting News in a poll of NFL executives. Prior to being named by the Giants, George had spent 11 years in the NFL with the Baltimore Colts and Miami Dolphins. During his tenure with those two clubs, Young had been closely associated with Don Shula at both franchises and had served in a variety of capacities. He was initially brought into the Colts' organization in 1968 by Shula as an assistant in the Personnel Department, then two years later was named offensive line coach, with that Colts' team going all the way to the Super Bowl and scoring a 16-13 win over the Dallas Cowboys. In 1971, George was named Director of Player personnel and then in 1973 was named Offensive Coordinator of the Colts by Howard Schnellenberger. A year later, Young rejoined Shula with the Miami Dolphins and was Director of Personnel and Pro Scouting with the Dolphins when the Giants named him in 1979. George Bernard Young was born on September 22, 1930 in Baltimore, Md., and was an outstanding football player at Calvert Hall High School in Baltimore. He went on to Bucknell University where he was a starting defensive tackle for three seasons, team captain in 1951 and was named to the Little All-American first team and All-East first team in his senior year. Selected to play in the Blue-Gray game, he was then drafted by the Dallas Texans and played in professional football for one year. George then began a coaching career in the Baltimore school system at Calvert Hall and City College High School and over a 15-year span, won six Maryland state championships and had a 60-12 record during one span. Additionally, Young was an educator while coaching in Baltimore, teaching History and Political Science. During that teaching career, George also earned two Masters degrees from Johns Hopkins University and Loyola College. He was further honored in May, 1987, when he was awarded an honorary Doctorate in Humane Letters from Western Maryland College. George and his wife, Mary Love, reside in Upper Saddle River, N.J.

BILL PARCELLS

Head Coach

7th Year

As he moves into his seventh season as head coach of the Giants, Bill Parcells needs just one more victory to become the second winningest coach in club history behind the legendary Steve Owen. More importantly, over the past five campaigns, Parcells has led the Giants to an overall record of 54-32 for a winning percentage of .628, en route to three playoff appearances as well as an NFC championship and Super Bowl title. Those 54 victories over that five-year span are also the most wins over any five-year span in club history. By leading the Giants to their first Super Bowl championship in club history and to their greatest single season record ever at 17-2, Parcells won every major poll in the country as NFL Coach of the Year in 1986, a fitting tribute for the spectacular season he had masterminded. Along the way, the Giants also set another all-time club mark by winning 12 games in succession, and set an all-time NFL Super Bowl record for cumulative margin of victory in the three playoff games en route to the Super Bowl title, 102-23. By guiding the Giants to consecutive winning seasons, playoff appearances and the Division playoffs in 1984-85, Parcells also became the first Giants' head coach in 22 years to achieve that kind of back-to-back success. Additionally, the Giants' 10-6 finish in 1985 was the first double digit victory campaign since 1962 and the resulting 17-3 triumph over the defending Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers provided double satisfaction. Named as the 12th head coach in club history on December 15, 1982 after the resignation of Ray Perkins, Parcells endured a highly traumatic first season as the head man. After a 2-2 start that season, a maddening rash of injuries hit the club, with no less than 25 players hitting the Injured Reserve list at one time or another including eight starters. The team also had the double misfortune of leading the NFL in turnovers with a staggering total of 58, and in addition to those never-ending problems, Parcells also had to endure the sudden death of backfield coach Bob Ledbetter during the season, followed by the passing of former running back Doug Kotar and the deaths of both of his parents within six weeks of each other late in the season. There has probably been no tougher year for a rookie head coach to endure than that 1983 season for Parcells. By sheer determination and resolve, Parcells blocked all of the bleakness of that first year out and in the off-season following that near-disastrous inaugural began working diligently to bring respectability back to the club. In 1984, as a second-year head coach, Parcells went to preseason training camp with a strong determination to turn things around. He put particular stress on reducing injuries through a new strength coach and conditioning program, and in the area of reducing turnovers and penalties. He not only achieved success in all of those areas, with the numbers of players on Injured Reserve dropping from 25 to seven, but in reducing the turnover total from 58 to 27 and penalties from 113 for 1,020 yards down to 79 for 703 yards. The Giants eventually finished at 9-7, won the Wild Card playoff spot as the second-place finisher in the NFC East to the Redskins, and scored an impressive Playoff victory over the Los Angeles Rams 16-13, before bowing to the eventual Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers 21-10 in the Niners' toughest test in all of the post-season action. For his efforts, Parcells finished second in two major NFL Coach of the Year polls, to the 49ers' Bill Walsh in one poll and to Seattle's Chuck Knox in another. Additionally, he was named NFC East Coach of the Year by Pro Magazine. Born in Englewood, N.J. on August 22, 1941, Parcels played his scholastic football at River Dell H.S. in Oradell, N.J., then went on to Wichita State University where he was an All-Missouri Valley Conference selection twice as a linebacker. In one game vs. Tulsa University, Bill had 20 solo tackles and six QB sacks, and also played in the Sun Bowl, Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl games. He was drafted No. 7 by the Detroit Lions, but opted for an immediate start in the coaching field by accepting a job at Hastings College in Nebraska. A year later, he returned to Wichita State as an assistant defensive coach, then moved on to West Point where he was an assistant coach for Army for three seasons. He then made subsequent stops as a defensive coordinator for Florida State (three years), Vanderbilt (two seasons) and Texas Tech (three seasons) and was then named Head Coach at the Air Force Academy in 1978. Parcels then accepted a defensive job with the Giants in early 1979, but resigned for personal reasons to enter private business. Then in 1980, he joined the New England Patriots as linebackers' coach, and in 1981 returned to the Giants as defensive coordinator. His presence created almost instant improvement. From a 4-12 record in 1980 when the club allowed 425 points to the opposition, Parcels installed the 3-4 defense, revamped the secondary and produced a defensive team which finished the year ranked No. 3 in the entire NFL after being No. 25 the previous season, reducing the points allowed total from the previously mentioned 425 down to 257. The unit also led the entire NFL in two key categories—lowest average-per-rush (3.4) allowed and lowest average-per-play (4.2) allowed. The Giants finished 9-7, made the playoffs for the second time since 1963, upended Philadelphia in the playoffs with more tough defense before bowing to the eventual Super Bowl champion 49ers. A Giants' fan all of his life while growing up in New Jersey, Parcels and his wife, Judy, have three daughters—Suzy, Jill and Dallas—and live in Upper Saddle River, N.J.

HARRY HULMES

Assistant General Manager

Veteran NFL executive joined the Giants in 1984 replacing Terry Bledsoe. Prior to being named by the Giants, Harry had served as Chief Operating Officer for the Arizona Wranglers of the USFL, but virtually all of his previous experience was within the NFL where he served for 12 years with the Baltimore Colts and 13 years with the New Orleans Saints in a variety of positions. Born on July 20, 1927 in Philadelphia, Harry earned a B.A. degree in journalism and psychology at the University of Pennsylvania, after spending three years in the Navy as a radarman in the South Pacific and Persian Gulf theaters. He began his career in sports with the Baltimore Orioles as assistant business manager, then was the sports information director at Bucknell University before entering the NFL as public relations director of the Colts in 1958. He subsequently served as business manager and general manager of the Colts before moving to the Saints in 1970 as assistant general manager. Until he departed for the Wranglers in 1982, Hulmes also served the Saints as Director of Player Personnel and Vice President of Administration. Also a graduate of Northeast High School in Philadelphia, Harry is married to the former Barbara Lockhart of Mount Holly, N.J. and is the father of two daughters, Linda Ann and Terry Ellen, both graduates of LSU, and a son, Richard Wayne, also a graduate of LSU.

TOM BOISTURE

Director of Player Personnel

Joined the Giants in the Spring of 1980 from the New England Patriots where he had served for 10 years as a scout, chief scout and in the personnel department. Born on March 23, 1931 in Detroit, Tom played his high school sports at Holy Redeemer H.S. in Detroit, then won three varsity letters as both an offensive and defensive lineman at Mississippi State where he earned a BS degree in Education and History. He began his teaching and coaching career at Austin Catholic H.S. in Detroit where he was head football coach, then continued as a head coach at St. Ambrose H.S. in Detroit. He moved into the collegiate ranks at the University of Houston as an assistant coach for offensive backs, then moved on to Holy Cross College in 1966 as Defensive Coordinator. He was named Head Coach at Holy Cross in 1967 and upset Yale in his first game as a head coach—the only defeat Yale was to suffer in three years. In 1969, Tom moved on to Tulsa University as Defensive Coordinator, and in 1970 moved into the NFL with New England as a scout. Married to the former Dolores Ann Kenney of Detroit. Tom now resides in Woodcliff Lakes, N.J. and has five children—daughters Susan Ann, Deborah Lynn and Nancy Ann, and sons David and Michael.

JERRY SHAY

Director of College Scouting

Former Giants' tackle Shay was named Chief Scout in 1977 and as such had much to do with the past drafts. Jerry joined the Giants' scouting department in 1972 and served as the club's scout in the Western States area, including all of the West Coast as well as in the areas of Wyoming, Montana and the Dakotas. Born in Gary, Ind., the 43-year-old Shay, was an All-American star at Purdue University and was the No. 1 draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings in 1966. He was a starting DT for the Vikes for two years, then was traded to the Atlanta Falcons in 1968 where he again starred for two seasons before coming to the Giants in a trade in 1970. Jerry was a key performer that season as the Giants finished 9-5 and missed the playoffs by one game. A year later, he suffered a broken leg and retired after the 1971 season after appearing in only six games, and became a scout the following season. Born on July 10, 1944 (family name Dzedzeji), Jerry is married to the former Cynthia Zajkowski, has three daughters, Tiffany Lee; Shannon Marie; and Jeri Lynn, and resides in San Diego, Calif.

TIM ROONEY

Director of Pro Personnel

Rooney, a member of the highly respected Rooney family from Pittsburgh, joined the Giants in February of 1985 after spending the prior six seasons as the Player Personnel Director for the Detroit Lions. Prior to his tenure with Detroit, the 46-year-old Rooney held the same position with the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1972-1979 during the Steelers' ascendancy to Super Bowl champion status. Born in Pittsburgh, Tim earned a degree from Duquesne University, then began a coaching career at Canevin H.S. in Pittsburgh. Four years later, he became an assistant coach at Villanova, moved on to Rhode Island University, and then back to Villanova as an assistant coach and recruiting director before joining the Steelers. A nephew of Art Rooney, the founder of the Steelers, Tim and his wife, Mary Ann, are the parents of a son, Michael 14, and daughter, Sarah 12.

RAYMOND WALSH, JR.

Research and Development

Ray has been with the Giants since 1973, initially as an Administrative Assistant, and more recently in scouting and player and personnel evaluation. Born in New York City on February 11, 1942, Ray, who is also known by his nickname "Whitey," is a 1959 graduate of Archbishop Stepinac H.S. in White Plains, where he grew up, and later earned a degree in Inter-American Relations at Fordham University in 1963. After a tour of duty in the U.S. Army, he joined United Airlines in 1965 in the Passenger Service department, and remained with United until April of 1973 when he joined the Giants. In his earlier days as a youngster, Ray worked at Giants' pre-season training camps in the 1956-63 era. Married to the former Judith Carey, Ray is the father of a son, David 16, and a daughter, Susan 14, and resides in Ramsey, N.J. Aside from football, Ray is an avid British History buff, particularly the medieval period.

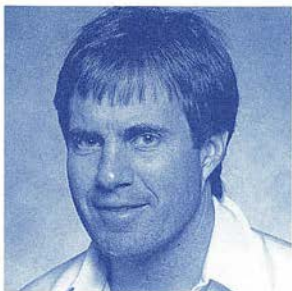

BILL BELICHICK

Defensive Coordinator, Secondary

11th Year

At 37, Belichick is one of the youngest coaches in the NFL, yet came to the Giants after four years of experience within the NFL at Baltimore, Detroit and Denver. Bill was born on April 16, 1952, in Nashville, Tenn., and comes from an athletic family. His dad, Steve Belichick, was a fullback with the Detroit Lions in 1941, and has been an assistant coach at the U.S. Naval Academy for 34 years. Bill starred in several sports at Wesleyan University where he majored in Economics. In 1975, he joined the Baltimore Colts as an assistant to the coaching staff, then in 1976 moved to the Detroit Lions, where he spent two seasons as an assistant special teams' coach and also coached receivers and tight ends. In 1978, Bill worked with the Denver Broncos before joining the Giants' staff as Special Teams Coach and defensive assistant under Ray Perkins. Bill coached the Special Teams from 1979-82. Bill and his wife, the former Debby Clarke, reside in Chatham, N.J. and have a daughter, Amanda, who will be four in October, and a son, Stephen, two.

TOM COUGHLIN

Receivers

2nd Year

Coughlin joined the Giants in January of 1988 and in his first season as receivers' coach turned in a superb job, considering that two of his starting wide receivers, Mark Ingram and Odessa Turner, missed a total of 20 games between them. Born on August 31, 1946 in upstate Waterloo, N.Y., the 43-year-old Coughlin was a standout scholastic star at Waterloo Senior H.S., and later earned three varsity letters at Syracuse University as a wingback, playing on Orange squads with Larry Csonka and Floyd Little. He was the recipient of the Orange Key award as the outstanding student-athlete in his senior season. He began his coaching career in 1969 at Rochester Tech and five years later returned to Syracuse where he served as offensive coordinator until 1980 when he took the same job at Boston College, working with Doug Flutie. After four years at B.C., Tom joined the NFL as receivers' coach for the Philadelphia Eagles for two seasons (1984-85), and then was named receivers' coach of the Green Bay Packers where he coached in 1986-87 prior to joining the Giants. Married to the former Judith Ann Whitaker, the Coughlins have two sons, Brian and Timothy, and two daughters, Keli Ann and Kathleen.

ROMEO CRENNEL

Special Teams

9th Year

Crennel joined the Giants from Georgia Tech, where he was the defensive line coach during the 1980 season. The 41-year-old Crennel was a high school standout at Fort Knox, Ky., then played his college football at Western Kentucky University, where he lettered for four seasons as a defensive lineman. He was team captain, All-Conference and Western Kentucky MVP in the 1969 season, earning a BS in Physical Education. He remained at Western Kentucky as a graduate assistant, earning a Master's Degree in 1970, then became a full-time coach at Western Kentucky from 1971-74. He then moved to Texas Tech University as a defensive assistant from 1975-77, then was named defensive end coach at the University of Mississippi in 1978. He remained with Ole Miss for two seasons before being named defensive line coach at Georgia Tech in 1980. Crennel and his wife, Rosemary, have three children—Lisa, Tiffany and Kristin.

RON ERHARDT

Offensive Coordinator

8th Year

Ron joined the Giants in January of 1982 as Offensive Coordinator after serving as Head Coach of the New England Patriots from 1979 through the 1981 season. Born on February 27, 1932, in Mandan, N.D., Erhardt was a football and basketball star in Mandan H.S., then became an All-Conference quarterback at Jamestown College in North Dakota, where he also lettered in basketball and baseball. After graduating in 1953, he served for three years in the Armed Forces, then began his coaching career at Williston H.S., N.D., in 1956, then made stops as a high school head coach at St. Mary's H.S. in New England, N.D., and at Bishop Ryan H.S. in Minot, N.D., with a final six-year coaching record of 45-9-2. Moving on to college ranks, Erhardt joined the staff at North Dakota State in 1963 as defensive coordinator and three years later was named Head Coach. As the head man at NDSU, Ron had a seven-year record of 58-6-1 and at one time led his club to a streak of 36 games without a loss and back-to-back National College Division championships. His winning percentage of .884 ranks him as one of the winningest coaches ever in College Division football. Erhardt entered the NFL in 1973 as offensive backfield coach with the Patriots, and in 1977, he was named Offensive Coordinator, replacing Red Miller. He was named Head Coach of New England in 1979 and led the Patriots to records of 9-7 and 10-6 in his first two seasons, with team averaging 26.6 points per game over that span, including a club record 441 points in 1980.

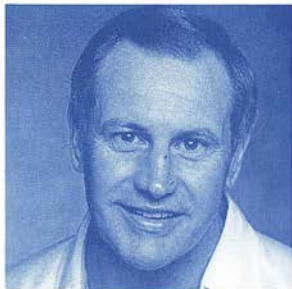

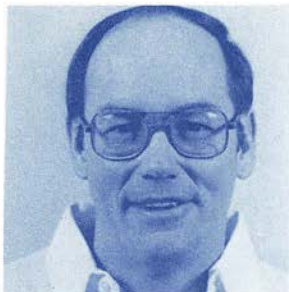

AL GROH

Linebackers

First Year

The newest member of the coaching staff, Al has a diversified background in coaching, starting on the high school level, then to collegiate coaching, including the head job at Wake Forest, and also in the NFL. A native of New York City where he was born on July 13, 1944, Groh starred as a scholastic player at Chaminade H.S. in Mineola, N.Y., then won four letters as a defensive end at the University of Virginia. He began his coaching career at Albemarle H.S. in Charlottesville, Va. in 1966, then moved into the collegiate ranks as an assistant at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point in 1968. From there he moved on to defensive assistant jobs and defensive coordinator at Virginia (1970-72), North Carolina (1973-77) where he helped recruit and coach Lawrence Taylor, Air Force (1978-79) and Texas Tech (1980). He was then named head coach at Wake Forest in 1981 and in six seasons there became the second winningest coach in Deacon history. Groh then joined the NFL with the Atlanta Falcons in 1987 as special teams and tight end coach, and in 1988 was named offensive coordinator at South Carolina University under the late ex-Giant great Joe Harrison. Al and his wife, Anne, have three children, Michael, 17; Ashley Anne, 14; and Matthew, 8.

RAY HANDLEY

Running Backs

6th Year

Handley came to the Giants from Stanford University, where he was the Associate Head Coach in 1983. He had coached at Stanford since the 1979 season. A former All-American running back at Stanford, Handley held Stanford's all-time rushing records until they were broken by Darrin Nelson in 1978. Ray's three-season career totals as a halfback were 1,768 yards rushing on 405 carries for a 4.4 average and 11 touchdowns, and in 1964, when he was named to both the All-American and All-PAC-8 teams, he rushed for 936 yards and a 4.8 average. Born on October 8, 1944, in Artesia, N.M., Ray was an all-State halfback at Reno H.S. before entering Stanford. After graduating from Stanford with a B.A. in History, Ray spent one season as an assistant freshman coach at his alma mater, then moved to West Point as director of junior varsity football. He returned to Stanford under John Ralston in 1971 and as linebackers' coach was on the staff of the 1972 club that defeated Michigan in the Rose Bowl. Handley also coached at the Air Force Academy subsequently before returning again to Stanford in 1979, where he not only coached linebackers, but was the recruiting coordinator, academic coordinator and faculty liaison director as well. Ray and his wife, JoAnne, have a daughter, Cami, 20 and a son Donnie, 23.

FRED HOAGLIN

Offensive Line

5th Year

After six seasons as offensive line coach for the Detroit Lions, former Pro Bowl center Hoaglin joined the Giants prior to the 1985 season. A native of Alliance, Ohio, the 44-year-old Hoaglin was a three-year starter as both a center and linebacker at the University of Pittsburgh, winning a spot in the North-South game in his senior year, and was then a 6th round draft choice of the Cleveland Browns. Hoaglin then began a string of 69 consecutive starts at center with the Browns and was named to the 1969 Pro Bowl. During an 11-year playing career, Fred also played with the Houston Oilers, Baltimore Colts and Seattle Seahawks. After his playing days had ended, Fred, who earned a degree in industrial engineering at Pitt, worked as an industrial engineer and stockbroker for several years before entering the coaching ranks with the Lions, where he joined a former Brown teammate, Monte Clark. During his six-year tenure with the Lions, Fred built an impressive offensive line, which helped Detroit lead the entire NFL in rushing in 1981. Married to the former Janet Wolbert, Fred has a daughter, Patricia, 20, and a son, George, 18. A varsity letter winner in golf for two seasons at Pitt, Hoaglin still lists golf as his favorite hobby and is an outstanding player.

LAMAR LEACHMAN

Defensive Line

10th Year

Leachman came to the Giants in February 1980 after a two-year stint as Defensive Coordinator with the Montreal Alouettes of the CFL. Prior to his assignment with Montreal, Leachman had held a similar position with the Toronto Argonauts of the CFL for three seasons. Born on August 7, 1934, in Cartersville, Ga., Lamar played his high school sports at Cartersville H.S., then went on to the University of Tennessee, where he gained honorable mention All-American recognition as a center-linebacker under Bowden Wyatt. After graduation, Leachman began his coaching career in Savannah, Ga., with Chatham County Public School as head coach, and remained there until 1966, when he was named as assistant coach at Richmond University. After a two-year stint there, Lamar moved on to Georgia Tech as an assistant coach for four seasons, and from there, joined Memphis State University as defensive coordinator in 1972. He was subsequently the defensive coordinator at the University of South Carolina, then entered the professional ranks in 1974 as defensive coordinator for the New York Stars of the now-defunct WFL.

JOHNNY PARKER

Strength and Conditioning

6th Year

Parker joined the staff in March 1984 after spending the previous four years in a similar capacity at the University of Mississippi. A native of Shaw, Miss., Parker graduated from Shaw High School in Mississippi, then matriculated to Ole Miss., where he earned a degree in 1968. He began his coaching career a year later as linebackers' coach for Indianola Academy, and along the way earned a master's degree from Delta State University. In 1974, he was named strength and conditioning coach at South Carolina University under Paul Dietzel, and held similar positions later with LSU and Indiana University after being named to the position at Mississippi. Parker's weight and conditioning theories, some of which he incorporated into his system after a visit to Russia to study the methods of the Russian Olympic trainers, had an immense impact on the Giants in 1984. From a staggering total of 25 players on Injured Reserve at one time or another in 1983, that figure was reduced to a half-dozen in 1984. Parker has since supervised the construction of an all-new and modern weight room at Giants Stadium and had some 35 veteran players participating in a weight and conditioning program during this past off-season. Parker is married to the former Jane Cline of Covington, Ind.

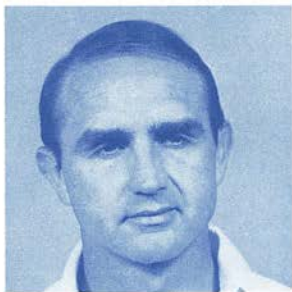

MIKE POPE

Tight Ends

7th Year

Mike joined the Giants in February of 1983 after spending five seasons as receivers' coach at Mississippi, while also doubling as an assistant working with punters and place kickers at Ole Miss. A native of Monroe, N.C., Pope was a standout athlete at Monroe H.S. there, winning All-Conference honors in three sports—football, basketball and baseball. He then matriculated to Lenoir Rhyne College, where he played quarterback and won All-Conference honors there as well for three seasons as Lenoir Rhyne played in their divisional national championship game thrice, winning the title once. After graduation in 1964, he went into coaching with his first stop at Lenoir H.S. He later coached at high schools in Charlotte, N.C., Jacksonville, Fla., and Lake Wales, Fla., and twice guided teams to the Florida state championship finals. Mike moved into the collegiate ranks in 1970 as a graduate assistant at Florida State, and in 1975 became assistant coach and recruiter at Texas Tech. He moved on to Mississippi with Steve Sloan in 1978. An avid golfer, Pope and his wife Lee, have two sons—Travus and Daron.

MIKE SWEATMAN

Assistant Special Teams

5th Year

Sweatman joined the Giants prior to the 1985 season from the Minnesota Vikings, where he had been special teams and linebackers' coach under Les Steckel. Born in Kansas City, Mo., Mike was an All-Big Eight linebacker at the University of Kansas, winning All-American honorable mention honors in his senior season when he was also team captain.

Selected for both the East-West and Hula Bowl games that year, Sweatman was also voted Kansas MVP that season. Mike also earned varsity wrestling letters at Kansas and was a wrestling co-captain. After graduation, he was a graduate assistant coach for a year, then served four years with the Marine Corps as a Lieutenant, including service in Vietnam. He resumed his coaching career with Kansas in 1973, then had subsequent defensive coaching assignments with Tulsa University, and the University of Tennessee before joining the Vikings. Mike and his wife, Teresa, have three sons, Thomas, 14, Chris, 11, and Dan, 8. Mike is still a member of the Marine Corps Reserve as Lt. Colonel.

ROSEY BROWN

Scout

Hall of Famer Roosevelt Brown's appointment to the Giant's scouting staff in 1971 signaled the beginning of yet another era in his outstanding career with the ball club. From 1953 through 1965, Rosey ranked as one of the all-time great offensive linemen in the National Football League, a big, fast, wide-ranging tackle, who earned All-Pro honors eight times, was selected to play in the Pro Bowl on ten occasions and, in 1956, was voted Lineman of the Year in the NFL. When a phlebitis condition forced him to retire in 1966, Brown was immediately named assistant line coach by the Giants, a post he held until 1969 when he became head line coach, replacing Jim Trimble. In 1971, Brown, along with another coaching aide, Ken Kavanaugh, left Alex Webster's staff to assume new responsibilities under Jim Lee Howell, his onetime coach, in the scouting department. Rosey, now 57, is a resident of Teaneck, N.J., but spends a good deal of his time on the road in search of fresh talent for the Giants.

KEN KAVANAUGH

Scout

Ken Kavanaugh, one of the most famous names in National Football League history, joined the Giants' scouting staff in 1971 and brought with him a wealth of experience as both a professional player and coach. Actually, Kavanaugh moved into the Giants' scouting department from the coaching staff, where he had been offensive end coach from 1955-68 and offensive coach from 1969-70, a total of 16 years under three head coaches, Jim Lee Howell, Allie Sherman and Alex Webster. Prior to becoming a Giant aide, the Pro Hall of Fame end had spent one season (1951) as end coach for his old club, the Chicago Bears, and one season (1954) at Villanova College in his hometown of Philadelphia. As a player, Ken was one of the Bear greats. He starred at end in 1940-41, left for an Air Force tour of duty and returned to make All Pro again in 1946-47. At LSU, Kavanaugh was a four-year regular (1936-40), twice earning All-American honors.

CHRIS MARA

Scout

Chris joined the staff prior to the 1979 season and was active in collegiate scouting throughout all of last season and was also part of the Giants' drafting group this past April. Born on March 11, 1957 in New York City, Chris graduated from Iona Prep in New Rochelle, N.Y. where he was a standout defensive back for three seasons, winning All-Catholic High School Athletic Association recognition after his senior year. He began his collegiate career at Springfield University, where he was a defensive back on the freshman team, then transferred to Boston College, where he earned a B.A. degree in Arts and Sciences with a major in Sociology. During his scholastic and collegiate days, Chris spent many seasons working at various Giants' pre-season training camps, and during the regular season worked with broadcast teams from both CBS-TV and NBC-TV, as well as with visiting and home radio broadcast groups. Married to the former Kathleen Rooney, Chris has four children—Daniel, 8; Katie, 6; Patricia, 4; and Conor, 2, all of whom are the great grandchildren of NFL Hall of Famers, Giants' Founder Tim Mara and Steelers' Founder and Owner Art Rooney.

RICK DONOHUE

Scout

Rick joined the Giants in August of 1983 after serving in coaching capacities on both the collegiate and high school level in the past. A native of the Bronx, Rick was born on April 29, 1943 and played his scholastic sports at DeWitt Clinton High School in the Bronx. He earned a B.S. degree in education and philosophy from Dayton University, then continued at Michigan State University in educational administration. He began his athletic career as a head football coach at Buckeye H.S. in Rushsylvania, Ohio, then was a coach and science teacher at Bellefontaine H.S. in Bellefontaine, Ohio before entering the collegiate ranks as freshman football coach at Michigan State. Subsequently, he was a defensive coach at the U.S. Merchant Marine Academy, defensive secondary coach at C.W. Post College, and freshman coach, assistant varsity coach and recruiting coordinator at Columbia University before joining the Giants as a scout. Rick and his wife, Elaine, reside in Washington Township, N.J.

GREG GABRIEL

Scout

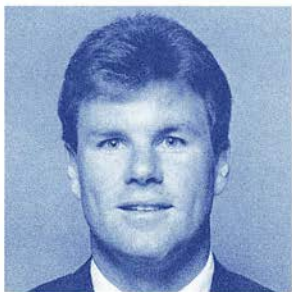

Gabriel joined the Giants during the 1985 off-season after serving as an area scout for an NFL scouting combine in the Great Lakes area. Prior to that experience and before he entered the profession, Greg was an account executive with Prudential-Bache and later with Dean Witter Reynolds while working part time in the scouting department of the Buffalo Bills, both in film grading and in player evaluation. A native of Buffalo where he was born on May 4, 1951, Gabriel played his scholastic sports at Bishop Neumann High School in Williamsville, N.Y., then earned a B.S. degree from Canisius College where he won three varsity letters as a running back. Subsequently, he played for eight seasons as a running back with the Buffalo Geminis, a semi-pro outfit, and was additionally the offensive backfield coach for one season there. Greg is married to the former Suzanne Kallay, is the father of three daughters, Liza, Ryan, and Kelsey, and resides in Grand Island, N.Y.

TERRY BRADWAY

Scout

Bradway joined the Giants as a fulltime scout in June of 1988 and has a diversified football background as player, coach and scout. Born Robert Terrence Bradway on May 19, 1955 in Atlantic City, N.J., he played his high school sports at Holy Spirit H.S. in Absecon, N.J., and then was a three-letter winner in football as a defensive back at Trenton State College. He subsequently earned a masters degree from the University of Cincinnati where he was also a graduate assistant coach. Terry then served as an assistant coach at the United States Merchant Marine Academy at Kings Point, and subsequently joined the now-defunct USFL with the Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars for a three-year stint as the assistant director of player personnel, with college and pro scouting high on his list of duties. Since the USFL ceased operations, Bradway had served as a part time scout for the Giants, until being named to the fulltime position. Terry is married to the former Kathleen Knupp of Atlantic City, is the father of Michael Terrence and Jennifer Lee, and now resides in Marmora, N.J.

RICHARD SOLOMON

Scout

Solomon was added to the scouting department in June of 1988 after spending the past 14 years as a collegiate assistant coach and recruiter. Born on December 8, 1949 in New Orleans, La., Solomon was an all-around scholastic star at St. Augustine H.S. in New Orleans, then matriculated to the University of Iowa where he won three varsity letters in football as a running back and defensive back, and two varsity letters in track as a sprinter. After earning a degree in physical education, Richard moved immediately into coaching at Dubuque University where he was defensive backfield coach and later defensive coordinator during a three-year stint. He then moved on to Southern Illinois University as a defensive backfield coach, and then to his alma mater for two years as wide receivers' coach. He was at Syracuse University for one season as wide receivers' coach before moving on to the University of Illinois where he served for seven years as both an assistant coach and defensive coordinator. Married to the former Clara Edwards of New Orleans, Solomon has three children, Alesia, Brandon and Ryann.

JULIUS HORAI

Administrative Assistant

A key man in the Giants' operation is Julius "Whitey" Horai who has been associated with the club since 1954. Whitey handles a myriad of details as well as serving as the coordinator of transportation and film exchanges. A native of Richmond, Staten Island, Whitey graduated from Curtis High School there, then went on to Wagner College where he worked for the athletic department as equipment and field maintenance man under Jim Lee Howell. When Jim Lee came to the Giants as head coach in 1954, Horai came too in a part-time capacity, then joined the club fulltime in 1970. A bachelor, Whitey still resides in Staten Island.

JIM PHELAN

Administrative Assistant

After serving as an assistant equipment manager, Jim began new responsibilities in 1988 as an administrative assistant, taking over some of the duties of the late Vinnie Swerc. Born on January 29, 1964 in Providence, R.I., Phelan graduated from King Philip Regional H.S. in Wrentham, Mass. where he won varsity letters in football, basketball, hockey and track and was an All-League wide receiver, setting a school record for most receptions (43) in an eight-game season. He subsequently matriculated to the University of Massachusetts where he earned a degree in general business. He worked all of his collegiate summers at the Giants' training camps, and lists golf and skiing as his favorite hobbies.

JOHN DZIEGIEL

Head Trainer Emeritus

John Dziel, one of the best known and most widely respected trainers in the sports field, has a career that dates back over 50 years to the U.S. Military Academy at West Point. John started in 1928 by assisting the regular West Point trainers with rubdowns; in 1930, he became a fulltime assistant trainer and stayed at The Point until 1944.

From 1946 through 1967, Dziel was head trainer at Fordham University, dividing his time between Rose Hill and Yankee Stadium, where he was co-trainer, along with John Johnson, for the Football Giants, a post he acquired in 1956. An acknowledged authority on sports injuries and treatment, John helped found the National Association of Athletic Trainers and is also active in the Eastern Athletic Trainers' Association. Dziel now devotes his full time and energies to a year-round physical training and conditioning program for the Giants. Players living in the New York metropolitan area work regularly with John in the off-season. He was named Trainer Emeritus in 1981.

RONNIE BARNES

Head Trainer

The head trainer, 37-year-old Barnes has a highly impressive background. A graduate of East Carolina University and with a Master's degree from Michigan State University, Ronnie had worked during the Summer months in previous Giants' pre-season training camps starting in 1976 before joining the club on a fulltime basis. After his graduation from East Carolina, he remained at his alma mater to serve as an assistant trainer and instructor, then became a trainer and assistant professor of health at Michigan State in 1977. An active lecturer in sports medicine throughout the country, Ronnie was born on February 15, 1952 in Rocky Mount, N.C., and graduated from Fike Senior H.S. in Wilson, N.C. He was an honor student at East Carolina, vice-president of the senior class and a member of Phi Epsilon Kappa. He's a member of the National Athletic Trainers Association and the American College of Sports Medicine, and served as a trainer at the Blue-Gray Classic in 1974. He additionally made a State Department tour of Brazil. In 1983, Barnes was named National Professional Trainer of the Year by the National Athletic Trainers Association of America, a prestigious award which is voted on by more than 4,000 members. He was a co-winner of this same award again in 1987.

JOHN JOHNSON

Trainer

John Johnson, a graduate of the Swedish Institute of Physical Therapy, has been a trainer for the Giants for more than 40 years and, during this period, also has served as head trainer and physical instructor at Manhattan College. After serving an internship period at Brooklyn Jewish and Long Island College Hospitals (1937-38), Johnson worked as a physical trainer for the Bedford YMCA and then, from 1942-46, was in charge of physical therapy and rehabilitation at a U.S. Air Force base hospital. His service hitch included duty as a physical therapy instructor, athletic trainer for post teams and as an air-sea rescue medic. From 1946-47, John was a civilian athletic trainer at the U.S. Naval Preflight School at Ottumwa, Ia. A member of the Eastern and National Athletic Trainers' Associations as well as the National Physical Therapy Association, Johnson also has served as a trainer for visiting teams at Madison Square Garden (1954-63). He lives in Cresskill, N.J.

MIKE RYAN

Trainer

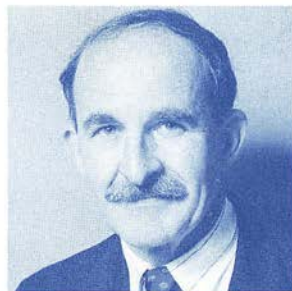

Mike joined the Giants' training staff in May of 1988, replacing Jim Madaleno who had joined the Houghston Sports Medicine Clinic in Columbus, Ga. Born on February 5, 1963, Mike hails from Framingham, Mass., and played high school sports at both Mohawk Trail H.S. in Shelburne Falls, Mass., and at Southington H.S. in Southington, Conn. He earned six varsity letters in cross country and track at Central Connecticut State University, earning a degree in science, while also winning scholar-athlete and dean's list honors there. He has also earned a B.S. degree in physical therapy from the University of Connecticut. Ryan served as a training intern with the Giants during pre-season training camps, and has also had experience as a trainer with Columbia University, Wesleyan University, and as head trainer at Bloomfield College, while also working as a physical therapist for several sports medicine clinics. Mike is married to the former Linda Kaiser of Cromwell, Conn., and is the father of a daughter, Erin Teresa.

DR. RUSSELL F. WARREN

Team Physician

Dr. Warren is the newest member of the Giants' medical staff joining the club in 1984. Born in Burlington, Vt., on June 18, 1939, Dr. Warren is a graduate of Columbia College in New York and the Upstate Medical School in Syracuse, N.Y. He did his internship and residency in surgery at St. Luke's Hospital in New York City, and his residency in orthopedic surgery at the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City after a two-year tour of duty as a medical officer in the U.S. Navy. He subsequently served as a member of the surgical staff at Lynchburg General Hospital in Lynchburg, Va., and as a Fellow in Orthopedics at Columbia Presbyterian Hospital in New York City. He is currently an Associate Attending Orthopedic Surgeon for The New York Hospital and The Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City, and an Associate Professor of Orthopedic Surgery for the Cornell University Medical Center in New York. He is also Director of Sports Medicine at The Hospital for Special Surgery and a consulting orthopedic surgeon for the Public School Athletic League, United States Tennis Association and Columbia College, all in New York. The author of numerous publications on his specialties, Dr. Warren is a resident of Greenwich, Conn. An outstanding halfback at Columbia, Warren had a tryout with the Giants in 1962.

DR. ALLAN LEVY

Associate Team Physician

Dr. Levy joined the Giants prior to the 1976 season and brings impressive credentials with him to the job. In private practice for over 30 years in Westwood, N.J., Al has been involved in sports medicine for 28 of those years, initially as the team physician for Westwood High School. He moved into professional baseball as team physician for the Newark

Bears, and then into football with the Brooklyn Dodgers of the old Continental Football League. He continued in football as team physician for the Westchester Bulls, a Giant affiliate in the late 1960s, and was the first team doctor for the New Jersey Nets when they began play originally as the New Jersey Americans. He has also worked as the team doctor for the New York Islanders hockey team of the NHL. Born on Sept. 28, 1927 in Saranac Lake, N.Y., Dr. Levy received his B.A. from Columbia University in 1947 and his M.D. from Cornell University in 1951. He and his wife Gail have three children.

JOEL GOLDBERG

Director of Career Counseling

As one of the clubs in the forefront of encouraging the development of career counseling for players, the Giants have added Joel Goldberg to the staff to oversee this function. Through this counseling, the object is to help players through the transformation from playing days to non-playing days and life adjustment and to stimulate interaction between the metropolitan community and the players. The program is designed to measure players' aptitudes, interests, abilities and career goals and to put those qualities into practical application. A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., Goldberg earned a B.S. in Education from the University of Rhode Island, a Master's degree from New York University and a Doctorate degree in Counseling Psychology from Rutgers. During his career he has been a counselor with the New York City Department of Labor; a professor at Kean College in New Jersey; a psychological consultant to boards of education, and President of Career Consultants, his own counseling business in Union, N.J. for the past 15 years. Born on July 5, 1943, Dr. Goldberg and his wife, a high school history teacher, have a son and daughter and reside in New Jersey.

ED WAGNER

Locker Room Manager

The overseer of locker room operations and a much-decorated Army veteran "Whitey" Wagner assumed his duties in 1976. Since that time, Whitey's domain has included all aspects of running not only the locker room, but the care and feeding of the players during the week, as well as supervising the maintenance of the pressroom at Giants Stadium which houses all of the metropolitan area media. A native of Staten Island, N.Y., Wagner is a graduate of New Dorp High School. He is also in charge of the Giants' annual large-scale moving operation from Giants Stadium to the pre-season training camp, and also for the return move, as well as handling the supervision of maintenance at the camp. He and his wife, Gertrude, have a daughter, Patricia, and a son, Edward Jr., and now live in Lakewood, N.J.

ED WAGNER, JR.

Equipment Manager

Ed was named to the position of Equipment Manager in June of 1979 and since that time has handled a myriad of details, including the purchase, upkeep and repair of all equipment and uniforms, the transportation of equipment and uniforms to and from all road trips and to and from training camp, the handling of all training camp duties and arrangements, as well as field maintenance. A native of Staten Island, Ed has served as assistant manager for two seasons with the Giants prior to being named manager. Edward Kenneth Wagner was born on November 29, 1956 in Staten Island and graduated from Curtis High School there in 1974. He and his wife, the former Andrea De Nonno, were married in June of 1979, and have a daughter, Donna, 5, and a son, Christopher, 2. The Wagners reside in River Edge, N.J.

TONY CEGLIO

Video Director

Tony joined the Giants in 1975 as director of the club's film and video operations which includes filming all pre-season and regular season games and practices for study by the coaching staff, as well as the distribution and exchange of films and video with other NFL clubs. When the NFL officially switched from 16mm film to video in 1986, Ceglie designed the premier video tape editing system in the NFL, the Lake Sports Compiler. The Giants were the first team in the NFL to put this system on line, and since then several other teams have employed this system. Ceglie also co-authored the official NFL rules for the video taping of games and league exchange, and he has been elected for two years running by the NFL Video Directors as chairman of the NFL Video Directors group. Born on September 23, 1954 in Mount Vernon, N.Y., Tony is a graduate of Stepinac High School in White Plains, N.Y. and the New York School of Visual Arts where he earned a BA in Film and an outstanding student award. He currently is teaching an undergraduate course in sports film and video at his alma mater. His previous experience includes freelance camera work on television films and as a cinematographer and director in the areas of commercials and industrial films. He had also previously done film work for major league baseball in Florida training camps and worked with the New Jersey Nets of the NBA as a cameraman and video tape producer. Married to the former Carolyn Trainor, the Ceglios reside in Washington Township, N.J. and Tony is an avid skier who enjoys Colorado in the off-season.

JOHN MANCUSO

Assistant Video Director

Mancuso joined the Giants in a fulltime capacity in 1978 as an assistant to Tony Ceglie as the video department increased in scope and details. John works in the filming of all practices and games, both home and away, with the new Sony Betacam video systems, as well as in the processing and printing of all video in the Giants' ultra-modern video offices. Born on June 9, 1953 in Queens, Mancuso attended Stepinac High School in White Plains, N.Y. and then graduated from nearby Scarsdale High School. He subsequently served as a Recreation Director for the Tibbits Nursing Home in Westchester for several years, then began working part time for the Giants in the film department in 1977. As a cameraman, still photographer and videoman, John also worked for the New Jersey Nets of the NBA as a free lancer for two years before assuming his present fulltime position with the Giants. John is married to the former Reena Slatky, has two sons, John and Julian, and resides in Tuxedo, N.Y. An accomplished musician, he has played guitar, bass and piano for various musical groups for the last 19 years as well.

JOE MANSFIELD

Field Security Manager

A retired White Plains Police Department detective, Mansfield joined the Giants in 1976, and in addition to his field security duties, also assists the club in locker room operations during the regular season and at the Pace University training camp site. A native of New York City, Joe graduated from Mount St. Michael's H.S. in New York, then joined the United States Marine Corps in 1943 during World War II and was recalled during the Korean conflict in 1950. He spent nine years with the Fifth Avenue Coach Co. of New York and a short period of time with the Corrections Department at Sing Sing Prison, then joined the White Plains Police Department in 1956, rising through the ranks to Detective and collecting numerous citations and commendations along the way until retiring in 1976. Several years ago, Joe was re-introduced to a childhood sweetheart after a forty-year separation after each of them had been widowed. Shortly thereafter Joe and Maggie were married and they now live in White Plains and together are enjoying their combined family of 10 children and 21 grandchildren.

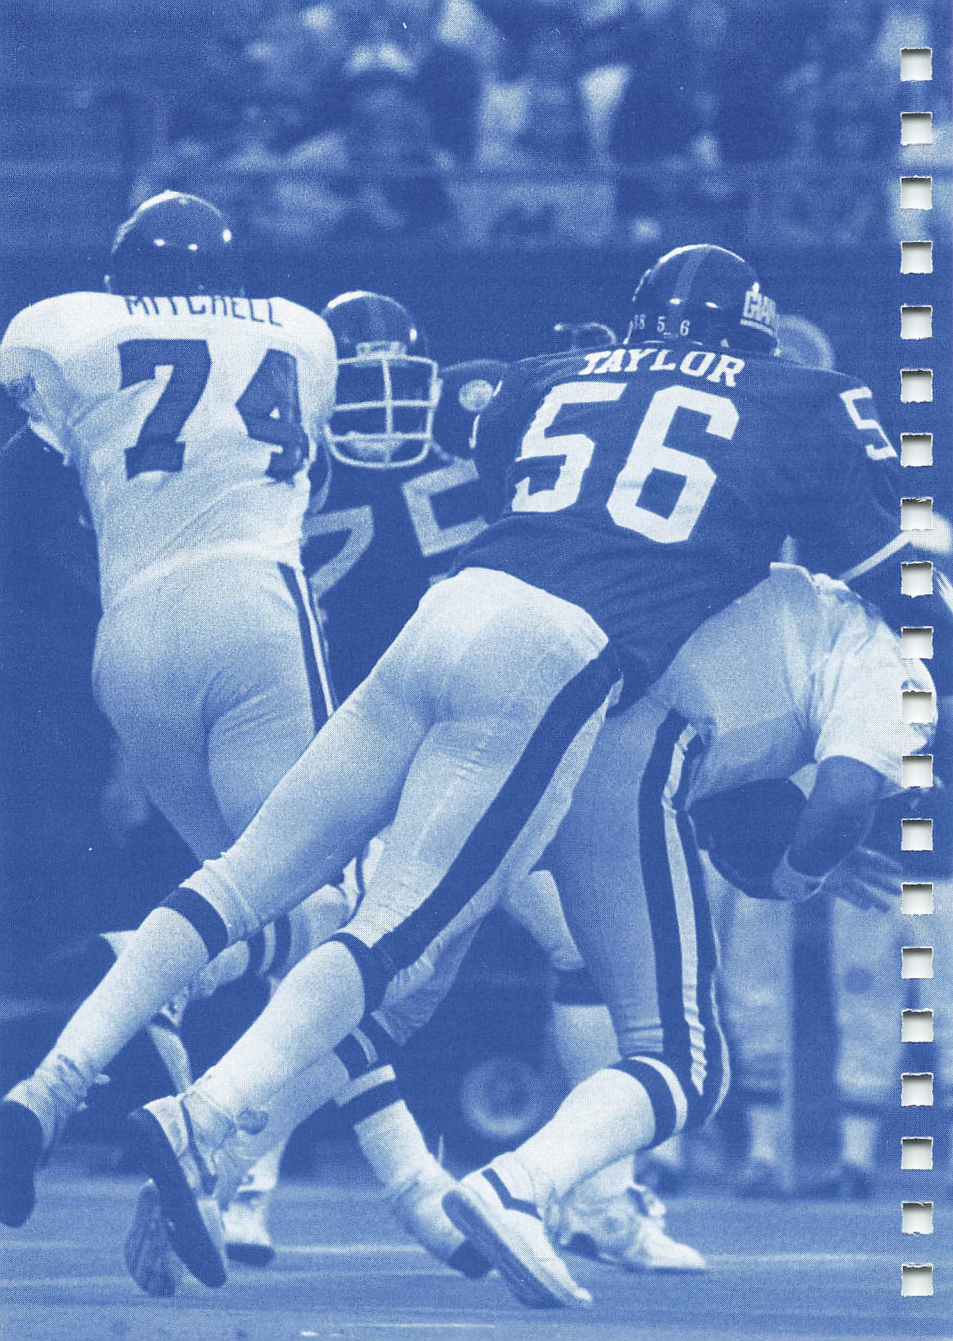

MERLE BEST

Nutrition Consultant

Merle is a registered Dietician, specializing in sports medicine, and has been the Nutrition Consultant for the Giants for the past seven seasons. A graduate of Hood College where she earned a degree in biology and nutrition, Ms. Best also earned a master of science degree in nutrition from Penn State, and is a member of the American College of Sports Medicine. Merle is currently the Clinical Dietician in the Sports Medicine department of Pascack Valley Hospital in Westwood, N.J., has been a member of the New Jersey Governor's Council on Physical Fitness and is a co-founder of SCAN, a national organization comprised of sports and cardiovascular nutritionists. With the Giants, Merle works with players throughout the year on nutritional aspects of training and competition, as well as providing dietary counseling for preventive health and rehabilitation. A New Jersey native, Merle resides with her husband and two daughters in Westfield, N.J.

GEORGE ADAMS

Kentucky 12/22/62
D-1 '85 5th Year

PRO: By necessity, Adams spent all of his time in 1988 at the fullback position, and while he had one start and saw action in all 16 games, his production fell off to just 76 yards rushing, while adding 27 pass receptions. He also saw action on special teams and had nine total tackles on kick coverages. George Adams returned to fulltime action in '87 after missing all of the previous season due to injury, and finished as the club's second leading receiver with 35 receptions, including three games in which he had six catches. His rushing production, however, dropped off considerably from his 1985 totals as he carried just 61 times for 169 yards and a 2.8 average. One of the biggest losses the Giants had to endure in 1986 was the absence for the entire season of Adams, who suffered a chipped pelvic bone in pre-season camp, and was on injured reserve for the entire season. First-round draft choice had a highly productive year in his rookie season, appearing in all 16 regular season games as well as the playoffs, and finishing that first season with a total of 1,128 all-purpose yards on offense. Adams proved he had the talent from the start of pre-season training camp and finished as the club's leading rusher in a final 5-0 pre-season slate. Used exclusively as a reserve during the regular campaign, George nonetheless finished as the second leading rusher with 498 yards and a 3.9 average... was the leading receiver among the RBs with 31 grabs for 389 yards, including a 70-yard TD catch vs. Dallas... and led the club in kickoff returns with 241 yards, while scoring a total of four TDs overall. He had his best rushing day vs. St. Louis when he came on in relief of Joe Morris and rushed for 113 yards to pace a 34-3 triumph. Also made a big contribution in win over New Orleans when he alternated with Morris and had 89 yards rushing and a 5.3 average.

GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: A four-year letterman at Kentucky, George was a unanimous All-Southeastern Conference choice, MVP in the 1984 Hall of Fame Bowl, and set five alltime Kentucky records, including 4,205 all-purpose yards in his career. As a senior, he set four standards—most rushing attempts, 253; most TDs, 14; most total points, 84; and most rushing TDs, 14, as he rushed for 1,117 yards. Final career rushing total was 2,717 yards, while adding 83 receptions and 847 yards on kickoff returns. Selected for both the Senior Bowl and Hula Bowl after his senior season.

PERSONAL: George W. Adams was born on December 22, 1962 in Lexington, Ky., and was an All-American scholastic player in football and All-State in basketball at Lafayette H.S. in his hometown. As a youngster, he was also a fine Little League baseball player and still roots for the New York Mets. George and his wife, Lynn, have a son, DeAnder.

2 RAUL ALLEGRE
Kicker Texas 6/15/59
5-10 167 FA '86 7th Year

PRO: Although he appeared in only six games last year because of a groin injury, Raul nonetheless hit on 10-of-11 FG attempts and became the club's alltime FG percentage kicker with a 72.8% mark on 51-of-70 attempts as a Giant. Included was a 32-yarder which proved the difference in a 12-10 win over Dallas, and he also had a trio of FGs in the first win over Detroit before sitting out the rest of the year with the injury. Although his field goal accuracy dropped off in '87 to 17-of-27, Raul won both Philadelphia games with FGs, the second one in overtime, and in the first win over the Eagles set an alltime Giants' club record and tied an NFL record by kicking a pair of 50-yarders in a single game, with his 53 and 52 yard connections. Allegre was originally signed as a FA by the Dallas Cowboys in 1983, but was traded for a 9th round draft choice to the Indianapolis Colts that same pre-season. The regular kicker for the Colts from 1983-85, Raul was released during the 1986 training camp and was subsequently signed by the Giants as a free agent in late September. Despite missing the first three games of the year, Raul had an outstanding season for the Giants, leading the club in scoring with 105 points on 33-for-33 in PATs and 24-for-32 in FGs, and winning honorable mention All-NFL from the Associated Press at season's end. Along the way, Allegre's field goals were the winning points in six victories, and in two of those contests, his last-second FGs downed Minnesota 22-20 and Denver 19-16 in successive games. Allegre kicked five field goals in the win over the Vikings, then added four more the following week in the victory vs. the Broncos. He was 2-for-2 in FG attempts in the playoffs, and after hitting 46 conversions in a row during the season, missed the 47th attempt after the final Giants' TD in the Super Bowl triumph. In his rookie season with the Colts in '83, Allegre had a sizzling season with 30-of-35 FG attempts, including 4-of-5 from 50 yards and longer. His three-year totals with the Colts showed 57-of-79 FG attempts for a .722 percentage, and 72-of-77 PAT attempts for a total of 243 points. GAMES PLAYED: 6.

COLLEGE: Raul began his collegiate career at the University of Montana, then switched to Texas where he scored 147 points in two seasons on 27-of-45 FGs and 66 of 68 PATs. He earned a degree in civil engineering and was an honor student with a 3.48 GPA.

PERSONAL: Raul Enrique Allegre was born in Torreon, Coahuila, Mexico on June 15, 1959, then graduated high school in Shelton, Wash., where he played soccer, football, baseball and basketball. Allegre speaks fluent Spanish, French and English, plays the piano, and still resides in Indianapolis in the off-seasons.

JIM ALTHOFF

Defensive Tackle Winona State 9/27/61
6-3 278 FA '89 3rd Year

PRO: Signed by the Giants as a free agent this past off-season after being released by the Chicago Bears. Originally signed as a FA by the Buffalo Bills in 1987, Jim was released late in that training camp, but was then signed by the Bears and played in five games that season, including three starts during the replacement games. Over those five outings, he recorded 25 total tackles, 3-1/2 QB sacks, two forced fumbles and one fumble recovery. His best outing was vs. Philadelphia when he had three sacks and 10 total tackles, winning Pro Football Weekly's Defensive Player of the Week honors. Missed last three games of that season because of back injury, which also hampered him last season.

COLLEGE: Althoff won four varsity letters at Winona State and was a starter at tackle for three of those seasons, winning All-Conference first-team honors in both his junior and senior seasons.

PERSONAL: James Althoff was born on September 27, 1961 in McHenry, Ill., and played his scholastic sports at McHenry Community High School in his hometown. Worked as an executive in mechanical construction firm in Illinois before joining Bears.

OTTIS ANDERSON

Running Back Miami (Fla.) 11/19/57
6-2 225 T- '86 (St. Lou.) 11th Year

PRO: O.J. had his most productive season with the Giants in '88, rushing for 208 yards in a reserve role and showing a nose for the end zone with a club-leading eight rushing TDs. He also tied a club mark with three rushing TDs in one game, that coming vs. his former team, the Cardinals. He also saw action in all 16 games, another first for him with the Giants.

Veteran RB saw only limited action in 1987, appearing in just four games with but two rushing attempts and a pair of pass receptions. Former Pro Bowl and All-NFL running back was obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals in a trade for draft choices on October 7, 1986, and appeared in eight games for the Giants during the regular season, as well as in the playoffs and Super Bowl. In his first game with the Giants, on October 12 vs. the Eagles, Anderson rushed for 32 yards on seven carries, but pulled a hamstring on a 16-yard sweep and was hobbled somewhat thereafter. He finished the season with 81 yards rushing on 24 carries for the Giants, including the go-ahead one-yard TD dive in the 21-17 win over the San Francisco 49ers, then put the cap on the Giants' 39-20 Super Bowl triumph over Denver with a 2-yard blast for the last Giant touchdown. The Cardinals No. 1 draft choice in 1979, O.J. had one of the most dynamic pro debuts in NFL history when he rushed for 193 yards on 21 carries in his first NFL game vs. Dallas. He went on to win Rookie of the Year honors that season, as well as being named to the Pro Bowl and All-NFL with a 1,605-yards rushing rookie season. He added four more 1,000-yard rushing seasons in 1980-81-83-84 before missing seven games in 1985 with assorted injuries. He owns all of the Cardinals' rushing records, both for season and career. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Anderson broke Chuck Foreman's career rushing records at the University of Miami, setting a Miami season record with 1,266 yards rushing in his senior year—the first Hurricane ever to surpass the 1,000-yard rushing mark in one season. He was a first-team All-American selection by both the Sporting News and Football Coaches Association.

PERSONAL: Ottis Jerome Anderson was born in West Palm Beach, Fla., and was a scholastic standout at Forest Hill High School in his hometown. With a degree in physical education from Miami, Ottis and his wife, Wanda, reside in Creve Coeur, Mo. during the off-seasons.

85Wide Receiver*5-8*160*STEPHEN BAKER*Fresno State 8/30/64*D-3 '87*3rd Year

PRO: With injuries to starters in 1988, Baker stepped into the starting job and turned in a quality season. Despite the fact that he didn't have a catch in the first four games, he finished with a total of 40 for 656 yards and a club-leading seven TD grabs. Along the way he had a pair of 100-yard receiving games vs. Atlanta (6-104) and New Orleans (3-134) and in the Saints game had an 85-yard TD reception, the longest in 16 years by a Giants' receiver. Also filled in as a punt returner when Phil McConkey was injured. Swift small-package department made a 1987 impact during the pre-season, then won himself a spot during the regular season, and was a starter at WR for five games when Stacy Robinson was injured. Along the way, the diminutive speedster had 15 receptions for an 18.5 average-per-catch, and scored on TD receptions of 46 yards vs. the Saints and 12 vs. the Eagles. He also had a big 50-yard reception in an earlier win over Philadelphia. He had his best outing in that New Orleans game, grabbing four passes for 100 yards and the TD. Also had four catches for 69 yards in victory over New England. Also filled in briefly as punt returner with three for 16 yards. Minor injuries slowed him down late in the season. Fastest of all the receivers on the club. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 11.

COLLEGE: Stephen began his collegiate career at West Los Angeles J.C. where he had 105 receptions for 2,145 yards and 31 touchdowns, then continued his production for two more years at Fresno State where he set alltime school marks en route to two straight All-Pacific Coast Athletic Association first-team designations. In those two years, he had 62 catches for 1,629 yards and a dazzling 26.3 average-per-catch mark while scoring 16 touchdowns—10 on receptions, three on end-arounds and three more on punt returns. Also starred in Japan Bowl and Blue-Gray games, winning MVP honors in the first-mentioned game when he caught a 36-yard TD pass in the final two minutes to win the game for the West.

PERSONAL: Stephen Edward Baker was born on August 30, 1964 in San Antonio, Tex., then played his scholastic sports at Hamilton High School in Los Angeles where he starred in football, track and gymnastics. Lists video games and remote control toys as two of his favorite hobbies.

58*Linebacker Michigan State 8/29/62
6-4 235 D-1 '84 6th YearCARL BANKS

PRO: After winning All-NFL and Pro Bowl honors in 1987, Banks was a training camp holdout last season, then missed a couple of games with minor injuries, and as a consequence did not have a dominating season as he had in previous years when he was also the club's leading tackler. He finished '88 with 66 total stops to rank seventh on the club, but did come up with his first pass interception which went for the game-winning TD vs. Atlanta in the last two minutes of play. Also added a pair of QB sacks on the year. Banks finally won much-overdue recognition in 1987, winning unanimous All-NFL honors by the wire services and major publications, and was also voted as a starter to his first Pro Bowl. Along the way, Carl led the club in tackles for the second consecutive year with 113, added a career-high nine quarterback sacks, his first interception and a pair of forced fumbles, while also winning NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors with 12 solo tackles and 2½ sacks in a win over the Eagles. Banks was a powerhouse performer all season long in 1986, and was ranked among the top three linebackers in the NFL by Dallas coach Tom Landry. Yet despite the fact that he might have well been the club's best defensive player during the second half of the season, Banks won little post-season acclaim, getting an honorable mention All-NFL from the AP and a Pro Bowl alternate spot. In his first full season as a 16-game starter, Carl led the team in total tackles with 120; had 6½ quarterback sacks; two forced fumbles, and two fumble returns for five yards, then led the club in the playoffs as well with 26 total tackles and a fumble recovery while recording 10 solo stops in the Super Bowl triumph. The Giants' No. 1 draft choice in 1984, Banks made considerable contributions to the defense in his rookie season, appearing in all 16 regular season games, and as a starter at LOLB four games, as well as in both of the playoff games. In 1985, Banks won the starting job at OLB, then suffered a sprained knee and was out of action for a month. Prior to that injury, he had recorded three QB sacks and recovered a fumble and performed with gusto. After his return, he saw action in all of the remaining games, concluding the season with a total of 31 tackles, then adding nine more tackles in the playoff games. Carl had an auspicious debut as a rookie starter, winning Sports Illustrated's Defensive Player of the Week honors after registering 10 solo tackles, two QB sacks and a fumble recovery in a 19-7 victory over Atlanta. All told, Banks finished that season with 39 total tackles, added three QB sacks, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble, and also played well on special teams. As a starter in the two playoff games, he added seven tackles, and set the tone on defense in the playoff win over the Los Angeles Rams by throwing Eric Dickerson for a four-yard loss on the Rams' first rushing attempt of the day. Banks was named to the All-NFL Rookie team at season's end by UPI, Pro Football Weekly, the Pro Football Writers Association and Football Digest. GAMES PLAYED: 14, STARTED: 14.

COLLEGE: Banks was a consensus All-American in his senior year at Michigan State and was only the ninth player in the 87-year history of the Big 10 to earn All-Conference first-team honors for three straight seasons. Carl won a starting job late in his freshman season, then played in 43 of 44 games thereafter, finishing his career with 279 tackles—the third highest total in Spartan history. He added two interceptions, four fumble recoveries, and eight pass deflections and was named to play in the Senior Bowl, Blue-Gray Game and Hula Bowl. Banks was co-captain in both his junior and senior years and was named Michigan State's MVP and Governor's Award winner in his senior season.

PERSONAL: Carl Banks was born on August 29, 1962 in Flint, Mich., and was a fine student-athlete at Beecher High School in his hometown, winning All-State honors in football as well as All-State Honorable mention in basketball. He was also a shot-putter on the track team which finished third in the state championships. He was also elected vice-president of the student government in high school, and was a Communications major at Michigan State.

GREG BATY

4th Year

PRO: Signed as a free agent by the Giants during this past season after he was released by both the Rams and 49ers during this past year. Greg was originally a No. 8 draft choice of the New England Patriots in 1986 and went on to have a solid rookie season there, playing in all 16 games and starting in seven of those. He finished the year with 37 receptions for 331 yards and two TDs, including a game-winning TD grab vs. Buffalo in the final minutes of play. Named to the All-NFL Rookie team that year, as well as being named the Patriots' Rookie of the Year. In 1987, he split time between the Patriots and Rams, adding 18 receptions for 175 yards and two more TDs, including a TD catch against the Giants while still with New England. For the Rams, he had three catches for 37 yards, all against the Atlanta Falcons. Spent 1988 season between Rams and 49ers, but did not have any receptions. GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Baty earned four letters at Stanford and set a single season reception mark there in his senior year when he had 61 catches to rank second on the Pac-10 Conference. Earned first-team All-Pac-10 honors and honorable mention All-American, and was selected to play in both the Blue-Gray and Japan Bowls at season's end. Earned a degree in human biology with a business minor as well.

PERSONAL: Gregory James Baty was born on August 28, 1964 in Hastings, Mich., but grew up in nearby Sparta, N.J. where he graduated second in his class at Sparta High School, while also winning All-County honors in both football and basketball. Spent three months during his junior year of college studying art and political science in Florence, Italy. Lists outdoor sports as his top hobbies, including camping, fishing and backpacking.

89*Tight End*6-4*245*MARK BAVARO*Notre Dame*4/28/63*D-4 '85*5th Year

PRO: Saddled with nagging injuries after also missing training camp in a contract dispute, Mark failed to win All-NFL and Pro Bowl honors for the first time in three seasons, yet nonetheless had a productive year with 53 receptions for 672 yards and four TDs. His 211 career grabs in four seasons has also moved him up to 10th on the club's alltime receiving list. Bavaro had a big outing vs. the Eagles with nine catches for 148 yards. Premier tight end had yet another powerful season in 1987, leading the club in receiving for the second straight year while being named All-NFL unanimously by the wire services and major news outlets. He was also selected as a starter in the Pro Bowl for the second straight year and was named as the NFL Tight End of the Year by the NFL Alumni Association. In 12 games, Mark had 55 catches for 867 yards and a career-high eight TD receptions... had four 100-plus receiving games... and caught 11 passes vs. St. Louis, the second-highest one-game total in club history to the 12 catches he had against the Bengals in 1985. Bavaro had a vintage year in 1986, setting alltime club records in receiving for tight ends, while winning unanimous All-NFL honors and a Pro Bowl starting job as well. In ascending to a position as perhaps the best tight end in pro football, the second-year marvel caught 66 passes for 1,001 yards—both club marks for a TE—and continued to block like a 275-pound tackle. He was also the club's leading receiver in the playoffs with eight catches, and had TD grabs vs. the 49ers and vs. the Broncos in the Super Bowl. The powerful one had any number of big games, including six catches for 106 yards vs. the Raiders; seven for 110 vs. the Saints, and five for 111 in the big Dec. 7 win over Washington, but perhaps his most notable grab was a 10-yarder in the Monday Night win over the 49ers where he carried four 49er tacklers another 20 yards on his back for an eventual 31-yard gain. Mark enjoyed a powerful first season with the Giants after being faced with the challenge of moving up to the starting TE position when incumbent starter Zeke Mowatt went down with a major knee injury during the pre-season and was out for the year. After a strong pre-season performance in which he finished second to Mowatt in receiving, Bavaro was a powerhouse blocker and receiver all season long and through the playoffs and was a unanimous All-NFL Rookie selection at season's end. Along the way, Bavaro finished as the second leading receiver on the club with 37 receptions for 511 yards and four TDs and set an alltime club record by catching 12 passes for 176 yards against the Cincinnati Bengals. In two particular victories—against the Eagles and Redskins—he had the key touchdown grabs. Bavaro was also the club's leading receiver in the playoffs with nine receptions for 103 yards and it was his spectacular one-handed grab of an 18-yard TD pass that set the pace in the Giants' 17-3 wild card victory over the defending champion 49ers. In addition to his pass receiving, Bavaro was a ferocious blocker who had much to do with the Giants setting an alltime club record for rushing yards in a season. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 15.

COLLEGE: Mark was an All-American selection in his senior season at Notre Dame and was also voted the Offensive MVP by Notre Dame players after a year in which he had 32 receptions for 395 yards. Bavaro was the starting TE for two seasons at ND after sitting out the entire '82 season with a broken hand. He appeared in the Liberty Bowl and Aloha Bowl games with the Irish and was also chosen to play in the Hula Bowl after his senior season.

PERSONAL: Mark Anthony Bavaro was born in East Boston, Mass. on April 28, 1963, and was an all-around scholastic star at Danvers High School in Danvers, Mass. He was an All-American selection in football, won four letters in track as a high jumper, hurdler and triple jumper and won a bronze medal at 15 in a national scholastic track event in Los Angeles. Mark is married to the former Susan Downes and has a daughter, Grace. He has also visited many parts of the country as National Chairman of a March of Dimes fund-raising program.

9th Year

PRO: Scrappy veteran NT bounced back from back surgery to play in all 16 games in '88, and came up with his first NFL score when he grabbed a fumble in mid-air and rumbled 39 yards for a TD in the season-opener vs. Washington. Jim also finished the year with 54 total tackles and added three QB sacks, as well as a second fumble recovery. Although he missed four games in '87 because of a back injury and subsequent disc surgery, the feisty nose tackle was a force during the time that he was able to play, registering 27 total tackles and a pair of QB sacks, while effectively tying up blockers with his usual finesse. Completely recovered now from that surgery late in the season, Jim should be ready to go full steam again this coming year. Burt enjoyed the most productive season of his career in 1986, despite missing three games late in the season because of a back problem. Playing in just those 13 regular season outings, Burt led all defensive linemen in total tackles with 61, had three fumble recoveries to share the club lead, added a forced fumble and had a QB sack, with that powerful all-around showing bringing him his first Pro Bowl selection as well as a berth on Pro Football Weekly's All-NFL team. Jim was also named to the "All-Madden" team for the second straight year, an honor he particularly cherished since CBS-TV's John Madden picks that squad personally. Burt was back for the playoffs and Super Bowl, adding 10 total tackles in those games, and endearing himself to Giant fans by climbing into the stands to celebrate those playoff wins with the fans. Back to back healthy seasons helped vault Burt into prominence as one of the top nose tackles in the NFC. He topped all of the defensive linemen on the club in total tackles in '85 with 78, added four QB sacks, a pair of fumble recoveries, and then had a big performance in the wild card playoff win over the 49ers with six tackles and a pair of QB sacks on Joe Montana. After three seasons of sporadic duty, initially as a reserve, and then, after winning a starting job at nose tackle and going down with a herniated disc which laid him low for half of the 1983 season, Burt finally had a full and healthy season in 1984. That being the case, he started all 16 regular season and both playoff games and was a powerful force on the defense, leading the down linemen in total tackles with 90, and adding 6½ QB sacks and a pair of fumble recoveries. In the playoffs, he added 12 more tackles and a QB sack and played with intensity from start to finish. For his efforts, he was rewarded with an All-NFL berth by Sports Illustrated. One of the strongest and most aggressive players on the defense, Burt showed that tenacity from his first training camp in 1981 after being signed as a free agent. With a Kamikazee-type approach to the game, he made the club as a reserve DT and special teams' player, registering 20 tackles as the leader of the specials. In the truncated '82 season, he had two starts at nose tackle, getting 17 tackles and his first QB sack, then won the starting job in '83, only to go down with the back injury after seven games in which he had 35 tackles and a fumble recovery. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 13.

COLLEGE: Jim won four varsity letters as a defensive tackle at the University of Miami, winning several All-American designations in his senior year, and winning national Defensive Player of the Week honors from Sports Illustrated after he had caused five fumbles in one game with big hits.

PERSONAL: James P. Burt was born on June 7, 1959 in Buffalo, N.Y. and played his scholastic football at Orchard Park H.S. just next door to the Buffalo Bills' Rich Stadium. Burt resides in Waldwick, N.J. with his wife, Colleen, and one son, Jimmy.

78 JON CARTER
Defensive End Pitt 3/12/65
6-4 260 D-5 '88 1st Year

PRO: Big, strong defensive end enjoyed a productive training camp and played in all four pre-season outings in 1988, coming up with tackles in each of those games, but suffered a hamstring injury in that final pre-season game vs. Cleveland, and spent the rest of the year on injured reserve. He's completely recovered now and spent this past off-season participating in the workout program, getting ready to make a bid in training camp again. GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Carter won four varsity letters at Pitt and was a starting DE for three seasons with the Panthers. He had an outstanding senior year, finishing with 65 total tackles, including 16 for losses, and added six QB sacks and a pair of blocked kicks. Starred in the Bluebonnet Bowl vs. Texas and was selected to play in the Hula Bowl after the season had ended. Team captain in his senior season, Jon's career totals included 171 total tackles, 41 for losses, and 18½ QB sacks.

PERSONAL: Jon Carter was born in Angie, La., on March 12, 1965 and played his scholastic sports in Louisiana at Varnado High School where he was twice an All-State selection as a tight end and defensive end, catching 27 passes for 620 yards and nine TDs in his senior season. Also won four varsity letters in basketball and two in track.

MAURICE CARTHONRunning Back Arkansas State 4/24/61*6-1 225 FA- '85 5th Year

PRO: Workhorse blocking back has missed only one game in his four years with the Giants, and that was due to a death in the family, and not through injury. Came up with his first NFL touchdowns in '88, two rushing and one receiving and continued to be a power blocker. Had 146 yards rushing for a 3.2 average and added 19 receptions for another 194 yards. After two seasons as the starting fullback, Carthon's production fell off somewhat in '87 as he started in just five games, rushing only 26 times for 60 yards and a 2.3 average and catching just eight passes for 71 yards. When he was in action, however, Carthon's powerful blocking was as solid as ever. He finished as the Giant's No. 2 rusher in 1986 with 260 yards and a 3.6 average, while adding 16 pass receptions, then added 49 yards rushing and eight more catches in the playoffs. While he has fine running and receiving ability, Carthon's forte is blocking, and there isn't a better blocking back in football. Maurice had a busy year in 1985, first playing an entire season in the USFL, then coming to the Giants where he played in all 16 regular season games, half of those as the starting fullback. He had just 27 rushing attempts for 70 yards and added eight pass receptions for 81 yards, but that powerhouse blocking on sweeps had considerable impact on the Giants setting a one-season alltime club record for rushing yardage. Carthon was signed as a free agent just prior to training camp after spending three seasons as the starting fullback for the New Jersey Generals of the USFL. A superb blocker for those three years, Maurice also proved that he was equally as talented as a running back when given the opportunity, rushing for 1,042 yards on 238 trips for a 4.4 average and 11 rushing touchdowns in the 1983 season. That followed his rookie season harvest of 334 yards and a 3.7 average when he had but 90 carries. All told, he had more than 2,000 yards rushing in his three campaigns, a 4.2 rushing average and 20 rushing TDs, while adding more than 60 pass receptions in addition to that solid blocking prowess. He was an 8th round draft choice by the Generals in the '83 USFL draft. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 14.

COLLEGE: Maurice was a four-year letter winner at Arkansas State, and was twice named to the All-Southland Conference team, leading his club in rushing in his senior year with 682 yards. He began his collegiate career as a tight end as a freshman, then was switched to fullback in his sophomore year.

PERSONAL: Maurice Carthon was born in Chicago, Ill., on April 24, 1961, then played his scholastic sports at Osceola High School in Osceola, Ark., where he starred in football and basketball, winning state MVP honors in basketball and All-Conference honors in football.

25 MARK COLLINS
Cornerback Cal State-Fullerton 1/16/64
5-10 190 D-2 '86 4th Year

PRO: Versatile cornerback had another solid season in '88 despite missing the last five games due to an abdominal hernia. He finished with a total of 58 tackles in his 11 appearances, while adding an interception vs. Washington, and had 13 passes defensed, the second leading total on the club. Also had four kickoff returns for 67 yards. Collins enjoyed a stellar campaign in 1987, winning a starting job at the outset and playing strongly throughout the season until an injury knocked him out of the season finale vs. the Jets. Along the way, Mark led the secondary in total tackles with 60, had two pass interceptions, was in on a pair of QB sacks and showed excellent coverage and run support capabilities. Had one of his best games in victory over Cardinals when he had 10 tackles, a QB sack and an interception. A solid contributor from the start of training camp in his rookie season, Mark proved to be a valuable addition to the club. He first attracted attention when he returned a kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown in a pre-season victory over the New York Jets, then became the starting left cornerback when Elvis Patterson went down with a groin injury. Collins performed extremely well as the starter for nine games and by season's end was named to the All-NFL Rookie team by Pro Football Weekly. He finished as the second leading tackler in the secondary with a total of 60 tackles, added one interception, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery, and also did some double duty as a return man, with 11 kickoff returns for 204 yards and an 18.5 average, and three punt returns for 11 yards. He also displayed one of the season's great hustle plays when he raced 80 yards upfield on George Martin's 78-yard interception return vs. Denver to make the final block to spring Martin into the end zone. He added eight tackles in the playoffs. GAMES PLAYED: 11, STARTED: 11

COLLEGE: Collins won four varsity letters at Cal State-Fullerton, and along the way set an alltime school record with 20 career interceptions. He also set a school and Pacific Coast Athletic Association record with four interceptions in one game. He was a first-team All-American by the Sporting News in his senior year, third-team All-American by the Associated Press and a three-time All-PCAA selection as well as the PCAA Defensive Player of the Year in 1985. He was selected to play in three post-season games in that senior year, East-West Shrine, Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl and played well in all three outings. He was also elected team captain in his senior year.

PERSONAL: Mark Anthony Collins was born in St. Louis, Mo., on January 16, 1964, then starred scholastically at Pacific High School in San Bernardino, Calif., where he won 10 varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball and was team captain in all three sports. He also won the Ken Hubbs Memorial Award as the outstanding senior athlete in the San Bernardino-Colton area. Aspires for a career in acting or broadcasting when his playing days are over.

JOHNIE COOKS

Linebacker Mississippi St. 11/23/58
6-4 252 FA- '88 8th Year

PRO: Veteran linebacker joined Giants as a free agent early in 1988 after being released by Indianapolis and appeared in 13 games, four of those as a starter in place of Lawrence Taylor and Carl Banks. In that role, he finished the year with 14 tackles, one QB sack, one forced fumble and one recovered fumble. Originally a No. 1 draft choice of the Colts, Cooks spent six seasons there as a starting OLB and over that span registered 28½ QB sacks, four fumble recoveries, one of which he returned 52 yards for a touchdown to beat the Patriots, and four pass interceptions. He missed only seven games during his seasons with the Colts and at one time had a consecutive games played streak of 58. Made the All-NFL Rookie team in 1982. GAMES PLAYED: 13; STARTED: 4.

COLLEGE: Cooks won four letters at Mississippi State where he earned a degree in physical education. Recorded 373 tackles, 241 unassisted, during his career and had a career-high 24 tackles vs. Auburn in his junior season. Named to the first-team All-America by AP, NEA and Sporting News in his senior year, and was also selected to play in the Hula Bowl and Gold Bowl after senior year, as well as being named defensive MVP in 1981 Hall of Fame Bowl.

PERSONAL: Johnnie Earl Cooks was born in Leland, Miss. on November 23, 1958 and was a football and basketball star at Leland High School there. Cooks and his wife, Maggie Jo, are the parents of three children, Makesha, Joni and Johnnie Jr.

38*Safety*6-0*223*San Jose State*FA- '89*GREG COX*1/6/65*2nd Year

PRO: Giants signed Cox during this past off-season from the San Francisco 49ers' unprotected list. Greg had been an original free agent signee by the Niners, made the club and then played in all 16 regular season games, as well as the playoffs and Super Bowl, as a member of the special teams and in nickel defense alignments as an extra safety or linebacker. With the Giants, he'll get an opportunity to make a bid for the job at strong safety, based on his speed, tackling and coverage abilities.

COLLEGE: Cox played at both the rover defensive spot and at linebacker for San Jose State during his two-year career there, earning first-team All-PCAA honors in 1987 after second-team All-Conference mention in 1986. He had a total of 87 tackles and three interceptions in his senior year after leading the club with 98 tackles in 1986. In that same year, he had 16 tackles against Stanford and had another big outing vs. Utah State with nine tackles, a QB sack and a 51-yard interception return. He began his collegiate career at Hartnell College where he lettered in football and track and was the MVP of the conference in football his second season.

PERSONAL: Greg Cox was born in Niagara Falls, N.Y. on January 6, 1965, then graduated from Walnut Ridge High School in Columbus, Ohio where he won varsity letters in football and wrestling, winning All-Conference honors in both sports.

77*Defensive End*6-5*280*Notre Dame*D-1 '86*ERIC DORSEY*8/5/64*4th Year

PRO: Dorsey had his best year in 1988 as the starter at LDE, finishing with 69 total tackles to lead all defensive linemen. He added 3½ QB sacks, two forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries and was equally as strong vs. the run. He's improved steadily and has blossomed into a really fine defensive end. Eric had a productive second season with the Giants in

'87, appearing in all 12 games and sharing the starting role with the veteran George Martin at LDE. All told, he had 25 total tackles, one QB sack for 17 yards and a trio of blocked passes, and was particularly strong in short-yardage play. Dorsey spent the entire 1986 season as a reserve, appearing in every game, and saw extensive duty in short-yardage situations where he made good use of his outstanding strength and agility. He saw more and more action as the season progressed, and was outstanding in the playoffs and Super Bowl. He had seven total tackles in the playoffs in that reserve role and also registered three quarterback sacks for 32 yards in the three playoff games, getting one each in the wins over the 49ers, Redskins and Broncos. During the regular season, he registered five total tackles, but nonetheless did a solid job in those short-yardage performances. Eric will also represent the club in the United Way public service commercial in 1989.

GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Eric won four varsity letters at Notre Dame as a nose tackle and defensive end and capped his career with the Irish by being named Defensive MVP as well as winning the Herring Trophy as the most improved player on the squad. He also won honorable mention All-American by the AP and Football News and was selected to play in the Blue-Gray game. He led his club with most tackles by a defensive lineman in that year with 87, 15 for losses. He also had three forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries and three QB sacks in that senior campaign.

PERSONAL: Eric Hall Dorsey was born in Washington, D.C. on August 5, 1964 and starred at McLean High School in McLean, Va., where he was an All-American selection in football, All-State in wrestling with a 30-3 record in his senior year, and a record-setting performer in track where he tossed the discus 176'6½" and the shot-put 57'5". The team captain in all three of those sports, Eric hails from an athletic family. His late father, Lawrence Dorsey, was a karate expert and a pitcher in the Chicago Cubs' organization, while three cousins have been collegiate stars—Robbie Hall, a fullback at Army; Rodney Williams, a sprinter at Navy; and Allen Pinkett, a halfback at Notre Dame.

PRO: Big, strong and aggressive offensive lineman had a productive rookie season in 1988, appearing in all 16 games and seeing action at both guard and left tackle. He had five starts at the LT position, and showed constant improvement throughout the campaign, winning All-NFL Rookie honors from Pro Football Weekly. Also saw some action at RT early in season when Karl Nelson went down with an ankle injury, and while he had some early struggles at the position, more than made up for it with his constant tenacity. Took part in the off-season workout program and should be a solid contender for a starting job on that offensive line again, whether at tackle or guard. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 5.

COLLEGE: Elliott reaped a myriad of honors during his career at Michigan, winning first-team All-American status in his senior year from UPI, Kodak and Walter Camp, as well as being a finalist for both the Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award. He was also a first-team All-Big 10 selection that year and was selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl at the end of the season. Also named to All-Big 10 first team in his junior year, as well as to the Kodak All-American squad, and showed durability by starting 39 of his last 40 games with the Wolverines. Nicknamed "Jumbo" by coach Bo Schembechler, he once had a total of 16 knockdown "pancake" blocks in a game vs. Hawaii.

PERSONAL: John Elliott was born on April 1, 1965 in Lake Ronkonkoma, L.I., and was an All-State defensive tackle at Sachem High School on the island. In the State playoffs in his senior year, he had 19 total tackles and four QB sacks in victory over West Islip.

28*Safety*6-0*195*Pittsburgh*FA- '86*TOM FLYNN*3/24/62*6th Year

PRO: Veteran reserve safety came up with his third blocked punt touchdown in as many years in '88, this time returning a blocked punt vs. the Redskins for a 27-yard TD in the season opener. Saw action in all 16 games and came up with 34 total tackles as nickel back and on special teams' coverages. Veteran reserve safety continued to be a solid special teams contributor in '87, finishing among the leaders in tackles on kick coverages with 13. He was also Tommy-on-the-spot in the season opener vs. the Chicago Bears when he recovered a blocked punt in the Bears' end zone for a touchdown, which was not only the second TD via blocked punts for Flynn as a Giant, but marked two consecutive regular season games in which he had a blocked punt TD. Veteran safety was signed as a free agent by the Giants in mid-December of 1986 after Terry Kinard had suffered major knee damage and was lost for the rest of the year. Flynn stepped in as a reserve and special teams' player, and made a big contribution in the victory over his former team, the Green Bay Packers, when he blocked a Packer punt, caught it one-handed and returned it 36 yards for his first NFL touchdown. Flynn also appeared in the playoff games, and recorded three solo tackles in the Super Bowl victory on coverages, as well as covering a free kick after the Giants' safety. A 5th round draft choice of the Packers in 1984, Flynn was named to the All-NFL Rookie team after leading the NFC in interceptions with nine for 106 yards returned, and was also named the NFC Defensive Rookie of the Year by Pro Football Weekly. Released by the Packers midway through the '86 season, Tom had a total of 11 interceptions in his two-plus seasons with the Pack, and also averaged 7.7 on 22 punt returns. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Flynn broke into Pitt's starting lineup as a freshman, then was the Panthers' leading defensive back for the next three years, capping his collegiate career by being named to play in both the Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine games. He was a second-team All-American selection by NEA in his senior year and set a Pitt school record for punt returns with a career total of 121 for 979 yards.

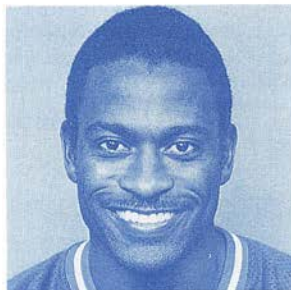

PERSONAL: Thomas Jeffrey Flynn was born in Verona, Pa., on March 24, 1962 and was a scholastic star at Penn Hills High School in Pittsburgh where he led that school to consecutive State championships as a quarterback on offense and safety on defense. He also lettered in track and basketball, and comes from a family of 10 children. Tom and his wife, Kris, have one child and reside in Gillette, N.J.

37WAYNE HADDIX*Cornerback Liberty Baptist 7/23/65
6-1 203 FA- '87 3rd Year

PRO: Haddix saw action in six games in '88, mostly on special teams and as a reserve CB. When Perry Williams was injured in the season finale vs. the Jets, Haddix played the rest of the game at LCB. During the year, he was in on 15 total tackles while also registering a forced fumble and coming up with a pair of passes defended. Additionally, he had six kickoff returns for 123 yards and a 20.5 average. Signed as a FA by the Giants, Wayne had a solid training camp and pre-season before suffering a hamstring injury which put him on the shelf. Recovered, he was activated midway through the season and appeared in five games as a special teams' player and reserve cornerback, registering seven solo tackles. GAMES PLAYED: 6, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Won four varsity letters at Liberty Baptist and won Division II All-American honors in his senior year when he became one of the few Division II players selected to play in both the Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl games that season. Finished career there with 151 total tackles and three pass interceptions, while doubling as punt return specialist with 48 for 407 yards and an 8.5 average.

PERSONAL: LeWayne Haddix was born in Bolivar, Tenn., on July 23, 1965 and was a three-sport standout at Middleton High School in Middleton, Tenn. Cousin Michael Haddix plays with the Philadelphia Eagles.

48KENNY HILL*Safety Yale 7/5/58
6-1 195 T- '84 (Raiders) 9th Year

PRO: Veteran strong safety started all 16 games in '88 and now has a consecutive string of 61 straight games as the starter at SS. Came up with 74 total tackles to finish second in the secondary in that category and also added a forced fumble and four passes defended. Also had 13 kickoff returns for 262 yards and a 20.2 average. Despite some nagging ankle problems, Kenny started all 12 of the regular games in '87 and was the second-leading tackler in the secondary with 55 stops. He chipped in with his sixth career interception, and also added a QB sack and a six-yard fumble recovery-return. Kenny had a strong season in '86, starting every game, including the playoffs, and leading the secondary in total tackles with 68, which also ranked fifth on the club behind the linebackers. He also ranked second on the club in interceptions with a career high of three, added a quarterback sack, two fumble recoveries and two forced fumbles and had five kickoff returns for 61 yards. He added seven tackles and a fumble recovery in the playoffs. Hill was obtained from the Los Angeles Raiders for a 7th round draft pick prior to the 1984 season and won the starting strong safety job soon after. He was the starter for seven games until an ankle injury decked him for a month, then was a reserve the remainder of that season. In 1985, Hill missed the first four games with ankle problems, then was the starter for the final 12 games of the year, finishing with 52 total tackles, two interceptions for 30 yards returned, and 11 kickoff returns for a 16.9 average. He also added 17 tackles in the two playoff games. Originally an 8th round draft choice of the Raiders in 1980, he was an injured reserve that season, then played in 34 consecutive games with the Raiders as a reserve DB and return specialist. He also appeared in the Raiders' Super Bowl win over the Redskins, recording one tackle and a pass deflection. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Hill earned All-Ivy League honors at Yale as a running back where he was a three-year starter, concluding his career with a 4.8 rushing average. He was selected to play in the Blue-Gray game after his senior season. Kenny earned a Bachelor of Science degree in molecular biophysics.

PERSONAL: Kenneth Hill was born in Oak Grove, La., and was a topflight scholastic star and student at Oak Grove H.S., winning 10 varsity letters in football, basketball and in track where he was a District 100 and 220-yard dash champion.

15 JEFF HOSTETLER
Quarterback West Virginia 4/22/61
6-3 215 D-3 '84 6th Year

PRO: Jeff finally saw his initial NFL action as a QB in 1988, replacing Phil Simms in both Philadelphia games when Phil was forced to depart those games with injuries, and as the starter vs. New Orleans late in the year. All told, he completed 16-of-29 for 244 yards and one TD, with that TD toss covering 85 yards to Stephen Baker against the Saints. Saw action in all 16 games as the holder for place-kicks, and also caught his first NFL pass when he lined up as a WR vs. the Rams. Jeff was active for only two games in '87, serving as the backup for Jeff Rutledge during the time that Phil Simms was out of service due to a knee injury. Hostetler saw considerable action in '86, appearing in 13 games, initially on special teams, and later on in the season as a reserve wide receiver when the club had several WRs on the injured list. He had one rushing attempt for one yard vs. the Raiders on a reverse, and on special teams came up with a partially blocked punt against the Eagles. He also saw extensive action at QB during the pre-season, going 9-for-24 with one TD pass vs. the Packers. Promising young quarterback saw extensive action in the 1985 pre-season, but as the No. 3 QB behind starter Phil Simms and veteran Jeff Rutledge, did not see any action during the regular season, although he did appear in five games as a reserve "extra" WR and on special teams. Jeff threw 13-for-27 for 175 yards and three TDs in pre-season appearances, including a pair of TD connections in a win over the Steelers, and also rushed 14 times for 34 yards to show his capabilities as a QB. He did, however, get to see plenty of time as the "opposing" QB during daily practice sessions, and continued to improve his skills in that way. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: Jeff began his collegiate career at Penn State, then concluded his final two seasons at West Virginia where he led the Mountaineers to consecutive 9-3 seasons while completing 290 passes for 4,055 yards and 24 touchdowns. Hostetler earned All-American mentions in both of those seasons, and was an Academic All-American first-team choice after compiling a 3.85 GPA while majoring in finance. Won National Player of the Week honors in his junior season when he led West Virginia to a 41-27 upset win over Oklahoma with 17 completions for 321 yards and four TDs. Also won game MVP honors in his senior year when he led Mountaineers to consecutive wins over nationally ranked Maryland, Boston College and Pitt. Jeff was one of 11 scholar-athletes honored by the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame, and was nominated for a Rhodes Scholarship by West Virginia. He was also selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl in his senior season.

PERSONAL: Jeff W. Hostetler was born in Johnstown, Pa., and starred in all sports at Conemaugh Township High School in Davidsville, Pa., where he was a 1,000-yard rusher as a tailback and scholastic All-American as a linebacker. He was also his high school valedictorian. Three of Jeff's brothers, Ron, Doug and Todd, earned varsity letters at Penn State. Jeff is married to the former Vicky Nehlen, daughter of West Virginia Coach Don Nehlen.

ERIK HOWARD

Defensive Tackle Wash. State 11/12/64

6-4 268 D-2a '86 4th Year

PRO: Erik saw action in all 16 games in '88 as a swingman with Jim Burt at nose tackle, and finished the season with 26 total tackles. He added three QB sacks for 37 yards, a pair of fumble recoveries and two blocked passes as well. Howard powered his way into some prominence in '87, seeing considerably more action than in his rookie season when he had downtime due to injury. He had four starts at nose tackle after Jim Burt went down with a back injury, and prior to that time, had also logged heavy duty time. All told, Howard finished the season with 33 total tackles, while also accounting for 5½ QB sacks and a fumble recovery. Additionally, he blocked a punt in the season opener vs. the Bears that was recovered for a TD by Tom Flynn, and also blocked a PAT attempt vs. Washington later in the season. Big and powerful nose tackle had an auspicious rookie season, despite missing seven games with a broken hand. When he returned from that hand injury, he was the starting nose tackle in key victories over the Redskins and Cardinals when starter Jim Burt was out with an injury, and in both of those outings, Howard was a powerful force in the middle. He finished the season with 14 total tackles and added a pair of QB sacks, then played a key reserve role in the playoffs and Super Bowl, finishing with four tackles in the playoffs, and made a couple of key defensive plays on the Giants' goal line stand in the first half of the Super Bowl triumph. Among the strongest of the Giants in the weight room, he seems to have all the credentials to become a topnotch player in the NFL.

GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 3.

COLLEGE: Howard won four varsity letters at Washington State and concluded his collegiate career by winning All-Pac 10 first-team honors in his senior season, as well as the Morris Trophy for being named the Pac-10's Most Outstanding Defensive Lineman in 1985. He was also an honorable mention All-American by the Associated Press and was selected to play in both the Japan Bowl and Blue-Grey games that same season. All told, he had 180 career tackles, including 15 for losses and 15½ QB sacks.

PERSONAL: Erik Matthew Howard was born in Pittsfield, Mass. on November 12, 1964, then played his scholastic sports in San Jose, Calif., at Bellarmine Prep. Erik's father, Donald, is an attorney, and he has three brothers, Craig, Scott and Todd, the last two also having played college football.

82 MARK INGRAM
Wide Receiver Michigan State 8/23/65
5-11 188 D-1 '87 3rd Year

PRO: Mark had a solid camp in 1988 and won a starting job at the outset of the regular season. After sparkling in those first three games, he broke a collarbone vs. the Rams making a circus catch and was out of action for the next nine games. He then saw only limited action, but completely recovered now, he should make a strong bid to get that starting job back again. He had 13 catches for 158 yards and one TD, and also had eight kickoff returns for another 129 yards in '88. The top draft pick in '87, Mark was hampered by nagging injuries in the pre-season period, but appeared in all of the pre-season games and had four receptions for 59 yards. Subsequently, he appeared in just nine regular season games after being inactive for the first three games following the players' strike, due to weight problems, and had just two receptions for 32 yards during the regular season action.

GAMES PLAYED: 7, STARTED: 4.

COLLEGE: Ingram had a storied career at Michigan State, winning four varsity letters in football and three in track, while winning All-Big 10 first-team honors and All-American mention in his senior year. He had 35 catches for 672 yards and five TDs in that senior year, while adding 135 yards rushing on end arounds and reverses, while also averaging 21.1 on kickoff returns. Named to both the East-West and Blue-Gray post-season games, he won MVP honors in the latter game with nine receptions for 106 yards and two TDs. He also won letters as a sprinter, high hurdler and long jumper at MSU.

PERSONAL: Mark V. Ingram was born in Rockford, Ill., on August 23, 1965, then starred at Northwestern High School in Flint, Mich. where he was an All-State quarterback, outstanding track star and honors student with a 3.17 GPA. A Communications major at Michigan State, Mark would like to pursue a career in broadcasting or journalism when his playing days are concluded.

68 DAMIAN JOHNSON
Tackle Kansas State 12/18/62
6-5 290 FA- '85 4th Year

PRO: Johnson was the starter at RG at the start of the 1988 season again, and after playing strongly through the first part of the season, went down with a back injury in Week Six, and was out for the rest of the season. He worked hard in the off-season program and has completely rehabilitated, and so should make a strong bid to reclaim his starting job in training camp.

Inked as a FA in 1986, Damian became a starter at RG in 1987 when Chris Godfrey went down with a knee injury and had seven starts at the position, displaying versatility and potential. Big, strong reserve offensive lineman saw action in all 16 regular season games and in the playoffs in 1986, both on special teams' units and on short yardage situations where his powerful drive-blocking came in handy. The 290-pounder also lined up in the backfield on occasion as a blocking back. He also made a key block on Jeff Rutledge's quarterback sneak for the big first down in the Super Bowl victory. Johnson produced a highly successful pre-season training camp after being signed as a free agent in 1985, impressing the coaching staff with his strength, size and ability. Just when it looked as though he had a solid chance of making the club after some strong performances in pre-season action, Johnson suffered a knee injury and spent the rest of the year on Injured Reserve. GAMES PLAYED: 6, STARTED: 6.

COLLEGE: Damian earned four letters at Kansas State, winning All-Big Eight second team honors from both AP and UPI in his senior season.

PERSONAL: Damian Curtis Johnson was born in Great Bend, Kan., on December 18, 1962 and won All-State scholastic honors in football as a two-way lineman at Great Bend High School. He also lettered in basketball and wrestling in high school.

Linebacker
6-3 248

PEPPER JOHNSON
Ohio State 6/29/64
D-2b '86 4th Year

PRO: A starter at inside backer for the second straight year, Johnson enjoyed a pair of "firsts" in 1988. With 93 total tackles, he led the club in that department for the first time, and he also scored his initial NFL touchdown vs. the Rams when he returned an interception 33 yards to paydirt. Additionally, he had four QB sacks, two forced fumbles, one fumble recovery and five passes defended in an all-around solid campaign. Johnson moved into a starter's job at inside backer in 1987 when incumbent Gary Reasons was a training camp holdout. He subsequently started all 12 regular games during the campaign and finished as the club's third-leading tackler with 75 total tackles, and added one QB sack, one recovered fumble and a pair of forced fumbles in a strong showing. Nicknamed "Pepper," Johnson enjoyed a solid rookie season in 1986 as a reserve inside linebacker, appearing in every game throughout the regular season and playoffs. A key special teams' player as well, Pepper finished the regular season with a total of 37 tackles, added a pair of quarterback sacks and a 13-yard interception return which set up a TD vs. Green Bay. Johnson then added seven more tackles in the playoffs and came up with a 27-yard interception return which set up a TD in the opening playoff triumph over the San Francisco 49ers. Blessed with outstanding agility and speed for a big man, Pepper has the potential to become one of the top linebackers in the league. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Pepper was a four-letter winner with the Buckeyes, was a starter for three of those seasons, team MVP on defense in both 1984 and '85, and team defensive captain in both of those seasons as well. He was twice named to the All-Big 10 team, and won first-team All-American honors in his senior year from the Football News and from UPI. During his career at Ohio State, Pepper was named Defensive Player of the Game an amazing 16 times, and was also selected to play in the Japan Bowl at the end of his senior year.

PERSONAL: Thomas Johnson was born in Detroit, Mich., on June 29, 1964, and won All-State and All-Metro scholastic honors at MacKenzie High School in Detroit. The nickname "Pepper" came from an aunt who watched young Thomas sprinkle pepper on his cereal as a youngster. A bachelor, Pepper lists reading, music and basketball as his favorite hobbies, and he has two sisters and a brother.

Safety
6-1 200

TERRY KINARD
Clemson 11/24/59
D-1 '83 7th Year

PRO: Veteran safety won his first trip to the Pro Bowl in '88 and came through with an interception for the NFC squad. He led the secondary in total tackles last year with 85 and also came up with three interceptions to move into 7th place on the alltime Giants' list with a career total of 22. Also had two forced fumbles and eight passes defended. Kinard bounced back from major knee surgery late in the 1986 season to start all 12 regular games in 1987, and was off to the hottest start of his career with four interceptions in the first two games, including a 70-yard return for his first NFL touchdown vs. the Bears and a club record-tying three interceptions vs. the Cowboys, with one of those being returned 69 yards to set up a go-ahead TD. His production fell off after that torrid start, but he nonetheless finished the year with five interceptions, added 55 total tackles and was named to the All-NFL second-team by College & Pro Football Weekly. His 163 yards of interception returns was the most of his career. In 1986, Terry had four interceptions for 52 yards returned, had a total of 59 tackles, one QB sack, a pair of fumble recoveries and a forced fumble and was playing as well as any free safety in the league before suffering a season-ending knee injury which kept him out of the playoffs and Super Bowl. Kinard had a topnotch season in '85, leading the secondary in tackles for the second straight year with a total of 83, while also recording a personal high of five interceptions during the year for 100 yards in returns. He also chipped in with an 18-yard QB sack, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble, while making any number of big plays during the season. He added a key 15-yard interception return in the playoff victory over the 49ers which set up a TD, and had seven total tackles in the playoffs. Terry also had a strong season in 1984, leading the secondary in tackles with a total of 83, adding a pair of pass interceptions (both against Dallas in the two victories over the Cowboys), a fumble recovery and a forced fumble. Kinard was also the secondary's leading tackler in the playoffs with 14 and made perhaps the biggest stop of the year when he tripped up Rams' RB Eric Dickerson when it appeared Dickerson was free for a TD burst which would have put L.A. in the lead at that point. The Giants' No. 1 draft pick in 1983, Terry was slowed by some nagging injuries in training camp, but then recovered and played strongly in the pre-season, getting a pair of impressive interceptions and returns while alternating at the free safety spot with the veteran Beasley Reece. That situation remained through the early portion of the regular season until Kinard wrestled the starting job from Reece halfway through the year. By season's end, Kinard was a unanimous choice for the All-NFL Rookie teams...had 70 tackles (50 solo, 20 assists)...three interceptions for 49 yards (including a pair in one game vs. Dallas)...a QB sack and a fumble recovery and return of 10 yards. His overall play continued to improve with each and every week. His best game might have been the second game vs. the Cowboys. In addition to his two interceptions on Danny White, Kinard had a third interception negated, and just missed another...added 10 tackles, two more pass deflections and that fumble recovery. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Kinard was a unanimous All-American choice at Clemson and was additionally named National Defensive Player of the Year by two other polls. He was named to the Hula Bowl and Senior Bowl games after his final season, had an interception in the first mentioned, and was MVP in the latter game. A four-year starter at Clemson, he set the school's alltime records for most tackles by a defensive back (291) and interceptions (17 for 147 yards).

PERSONAL: Alfred Terrance Kinard was born on November 24, 1959 in Bitburg, Germany where his father was serving as an Air Force NCO. He grew up in Sumter, S.C. where he won All-Star honors in both football and basketball. He had several collegiate basketball offers but chose football instead.

90 MIKE LAMBRECHT Defensive Tackle St. Cloud State 5/2/63 6-1 275 FA- '89 3rd Year

PRO: Lambrecht was signed during this past off-season from the Miami Dolphins' unprotected list. Originally inked as a free agent by Miami in 1987, Mike played in five games with three starts in that replacement season, with his top game coming against the Jets when he had an 11-tackle performance. Finished that season with 20 total tackles, 1½ QB sacks and one forced fumble before going on injured reserve with a sprained ankle late in the year. Saw only limited action with Dolphins last season.

COLLEGE: A powerhouse player in Division II for four seasons, Mike was a four-year starter at St. Cloud St, winning numerous honors along the way. With a career total of 234 total tackles and 14 QB sacks, he was a Kodak All-American first-team choice in his senior year, while also making the All-North Central Conference team three years in a row. He was also named the conference Defensive MVP in his senior year, while winning team MVP honors in both his junior and senior years and being named captain in his final campaign. Majored in art education and also took pre-dentistry courses.

PERSONAL: Michael James Lambrecht was born on May 2, 1963 in Watertown, Minn., and was a football, basketball and track star at Watertown High School in his hometown. In addition to his art interests, he lists outdoor activities as his favorite hobby.

5 SEAN LANDETA Punter Towson State 1/6/62 6-0 200 FA- '85 5th Year

PRO: After missing most of the pre-season in a contract dispute, Landeta opened the year as the regular punter, but then suffered lower back injuries, and spent the rest of the campaign on injured reserve. Completely recovered now, he's expected to reclaim his starting job. Landeta had the lowest punting average of his three-year tenure with the Giants in 1987, but nonetheless had a 42.7 average while doing almost all of his kicking in outdoor stadia and in cold weather situations. Suffered his first NFL blocked punt vs. New Orleans, and also saw two of his punts returned for touchdowns, which marked the first time that had happened to him as a Giant. Also came up with three tackles on punt coverages in '87, and showed his sheer leg power in a pre-season outing vs. the Patriots when he punted five times for an awesome 56.4 average. Sean had a powerful season in 1986, leading the NFC in punting average with a 44.8 mark, and in net punting average with a 37.1 record. For those exploits, he was named to the All-NFL first-team as punter, and also earned his first Pro Bowl designation. He was also among the league leaders in punts inside the 20 with a total of 24. He had any number of big punts during the season which pinned down the opposition deep in their own territory. Landeta wrested the punting job from the veteran Dave Jennings in '85 after coming over from USFL. He was among the league leaders in punting average for most of the year, then tailed off somewhat towards the end, but nonetheless finished with a 42.9 average on 81 punts and was named to the second-team All-NFC team by UPI and to the All-NFL Rookie team by Football Digest. He had particularly big days vs. St. Louis and Washington when he averaged 49.2 and 51.3 respectively. Landeta was signed as a free agent after finishing a three-year career in the USFL with the Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars. A steady and consistent performer with the Stars, Sean was a clutch kicker in the Stars' championship games of 1983 and 1984, averaging 52.5 in the former game and 53.0 in the '84 title outing. He also set a regular season one-game punting average mark vs. Arizona in '84 when he had a 52.3 average. His season averages included 41.9 on 86 punts, with a long 72 yards in 1983, and 41.1 on 53 punts with a long of 65 in 1984. He was also named to the All-USFL team in '84 when he led the league in net punting average with a 38.2 mark and led the league in punts inside the 20-yard line with 31 in the '83 season. He was a 14th round selection by the Stars in 1983. GAMES PLAYED: 1.

COLLEGE: Three-year letterman at Towson State, Sean led the nation in Division II punting in 1980 with a 43.4 average, while also kicking 14 field goals. He was also in the Division II's top five punters in 1981 and 1982, with averages of 41.1 in '81 and a 44.7 mark in '82. He was a three-time All-ECAC choice at Towson, and was a Kodak Division All-American and AP Little All-American in 1982.

PERSONAL: Sean Landeta was born on January 6, 1962 in Baltimore, Md., and is working on a degree in communication at Towson State during the off-seasons.

Wide Receiver
5-11 180

LIONEL MANUEL
Pacific 4/13/62
D-7 '84 6th Year

PRO: Lionel finally came up with a full, injury-free season in '88 and responded with his first 1,000-yard receiving season as he had a career-high 65 receptions for 1,029 yards, and four TD catches. Along the way, he had a pair of 100-yard games, both vs. his favorite team, the Dallas Cowboys, including nine grabs for 142 yards in Dallas and five for 106 at home. He also had four rushing attempts for 27 yards, and had at least one reception in every game. Slick wideout suffered a fractured navicular bone in his hand early in 1987, but nonetheless played the entire season with a soft cast and had another smooth year with 30 receptions, an 18.2 average-per-catch mark and six touchdown receptions. Had a pair of 100-plus receiving games vs. Dallas (7-151) and Philadelphia (4-105) and also had two TD catches vs. the Cowboys and Cardinals. The Giants' leading receiver in 1985 with 49 receptions, Lionel was off to another solid start in '86, then suffered a knee injury vs. the Saints in the fourth game of the year, and was out of action for the remainder of the regular season. Up until he was injured, Manuel had 11 catches for 181 yards and three TDs, and had scored both touchdowns in a 14-9 win over the Raiders in Los Angeles. He recovered in time for the playoffs, making two big catches in the NFC championship game vs. the Redskins, including a TD grab, then had three more key catches in the Super Bowl victory over the Broncos. Manuel was well on his way to a 1,000-yard receiving year in '85 until he suffered a hamstring pull vs. the Cardinals and missed the final four games of the regular season. At that, in just 12 games, he led the club in receptions with 49 for 859 yards and had five TD grabs. Along the way, he had a trio of 100-yard games—105 vs. the Packers, 129 vs. the Cowboys and 111 vs. the Bengals—and had two scoring catches vs. the Cowboys, including a 51-yarder. He returned to action in the playoffs and had three catches for 56 yards in the victory over the 49ers. A 7th round draft choice, Lionel made an impact in his rookie season, finishing the year as a starting WR after seeing only limited action in the early part of the year. Manuel saw only infrequent action in the pre-season with three receptions, but made an auspicious debut in regular NFL season play when his first NFL reception was a 16-yard TD catch in a 28-7 win over the Dallas Cowboys where he turned All-Pro cornerback Everson Walls around on the play. Saw his first extensive action in the Monday Night outing vs. the 49ers and had five catches for 80 yards, then had his first big day with a 120-yard on four grabs in a win over Atlanta. Lionel followed that with another big day against Walls, catching five for 102 yards in the second win over Dallas, including a 53-yarder and a 9-yard TD grab. All told, Manuel finished the year with 33 catches for 619 yards, an 18.8 average and four touchdowns, and also filled in as the punt returner when Phil McConkey was injured, with eight for 62 yards and a 7.8 average. Added five catches in the playoffs and had six punt returns for a 7.8 average as well. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Manuel began his collegiate career at Citrus Junior College where he was All-Conference and team MVP after starting as a QB before switching to WR. At Pacific, Lionel was both a WR and running back, and won MVP offensive honors in his senior year and second-team All-PCAA. He also set a school record for most pass receptions in his senior year, and was a Conference long-jump champion twice while at Citrus J.C.

PERSONAL: Lionel Manuel Jr. was born in Los Angeles, Cal., on April 13, 1962, and was a six-letter winner at Bassett High School in LaPuente, Cal., in football and track where he was All-League twice and MVP in football, and long jump champion in track. He was also a National Football Foundation Hall of Fame Scholar-Athlete that same year. A talented musician, Manuel plays guitar, drums and the synthesizer and would like to enter the broadcast field or music business after his football days are over.

70 LEONARD MARSHALL

Defensive End Louisiana State 10/22/61
6-3 285 D-2 '83 7th Year

PRO: Slowed down by a nagging groin injury early in the year, Marshall didn't register a QB sack in the first five games. Once healthy again, he had eight during the rest of the year, and now has a career total of 51½, second only to Lawrence Taylor in club annals. The big man also added a pair of forced fumbles and led all defensive linemen with four blocked passes while ending the year with 44 total tackles. Before suffering a dislocated wrist while sacking Cardinals' QB Neil Lomax late in the season, Marshall had started every game in '87 to run his string to 71 consecutive starts dating back to late in his rookie campaign. In those 10 outings in 1987, Marshall led all defensive linemen with 45 total tackles and added eight QB sacks. Big Leonard had another banner season season in 1986, winning his second straight trip to the Pro Bowl and winning All-NFL honors for a second time as well. Both honors were well deserved as the big man racked up a total of 60 tackles on the season and added 12 quarterback sacks to finish second to Lawrence Taylor in that department. Leonard also tied for the club lead in fumble recoveries with three, and in forced fumbles with three, and also came up with his second pass interception in as many seasons. He continued those efforts in the playoffs and Super Bowl, leading all defensive linemen with 11 total tackles, adding a QB sack in the NFC championship game vs. the Redskins, then getting a pair of sacks on John Elway in the Super Bowl victory. Marshall had a slam-bang year in '85, setting an alltime club record with 15½ quarterback sacks... earning first-team All-NFC and second-team All-NFL recognition... being voted to his first Pro Bowl as a starter... and also being named the NFC Defensive Lineman of the Year by the NFLPA. He started the season off with a bang by registering 10 tackles and three QB sacks against the Eagles in a 21-0 victory. He had plenty of other big days along the way as well, including another three-QB sack game in the second victory over the Eagles. All told, Leonard had 77 tackles for the season, then came up with another big effort in the playoff win over the 49ers when he had six tackles and a big 13 yard QB sack on Joe Montana. He also came up with his first interception during the year when he batted a pass attempt into the air vs. New Orleans, then picked it off and rumbled three yards with the ball. Leonard had a strong season in 1984, particularly during the second half of the season and into the playoffs. As the starting right defensive end, he had 44 tackles during the regular campaign, including 7½ QB sacks and two forced fumbles. He had particularly good games in the second win over the Cowboys when he was in on three QB sacks and kayoed Danny White with one of them, and in the win over the Jets when he had a pair of QB traps. Then in the playoffs, he had big games in both of those outings, particularly in the victory over the Rams when he had five big solo stops, four of them for losses, including his key stop on Dwayne Crutchfield for a 3-yard loss late in the game which forced the Rams to settle for a FG, instead of taking the lead. In his rookie year, Leonard had his early progress slowed by being overweight in the early stages of pre-season training camp, but once he got down to business and got into shape, he continued to improve in all aspects of the game. He eventually won the starting job at defensive RE for the final six games of the season and played strongly as a starter, registering 27 tackles in those starts, including getting in on one QB sack and registering a safety against the Super Bowl champion Los Angeles Raiders when he tackled QB Jim Plunkett in the end zone. Marshall also had several blocked passes late in the season and was equally as strong against the run. GAMES PLAYED: 15, STARTED: 14.

COLLEGE: A three-year starter at LSU, Leonard showed marked improvement in each of his campaigns in college, leading the Tigers in tackles for losses in both his junior and senior seasons, and also led that highly rated defensive unit in QB sacks in each of those two years.

PERSONAL: Leonard Allen Marshall was born in Franklin, La., on October 22, 1961 and was a powerhouse scholastic player at Franklin High School as a two-way tackle, winning both All-Conference and All-State honors, registering 16 QB sacks in his senior year. Leonard is related to two former NFL players, Ernie Ladd of Houston and Warren Wells of the Raiders. Married, Leonard and his wife, Annette, reside in Mahwah, N.J. in the off-seasons.

80Wide Receiver*5-10 170*PHIL McCONKEY*Navy*2/24/57*FA- '83*6th Year

PRO: Veteran WR-punt return specialist has already surpassed the 1,000-yard plateau in pass receiving, punt returns and kickoff returns in his career, and is second only to Hall of Famer Emlen Tunnell in career punt returns (213) and punt return yardage (1,708). This past season, he had 40 returns for 313 yards while also setting an alltime club mark for most fair catches in one season with 25. Added five receptions for 72 yards as well. He also tied a club mark with nine punt returns vs. Philadelphia in 1987, and his 112 yards on returns in that game was the third highest in club history. He had his best season, average-wise, with a 9.4 mark in '87 while also matching his longest return of 37 yards. Also added 11 receptions during the year and added three tackles on special teams' coverage. McConkey had one of those Cinderella years in 1986. Caught in a numbers situation, he was released on the last pre-season cut, then signed by the Packers where he was a reserve for four games. When the Giants lost Lionel Manuel due to a knee injury, they sent a draft choice to Green Bay to get McConkey back, and from there on, the ex-Navy pilot came up with some big plays for the rest of the campaign. He finished the year, in just 12 games, with 1,003 all-purpose yards, getting 279 yards on 16 pass receptions, 253 on 32 punt returns and 471 on 24 kickoff returns. He caught a key 16-yard TD pass in the big Dec. 7 win over the Redskins, and a 46-yard reception in the final minute vs. Denver to set up the winning FG in that regular season victory. The big plays continued in the playoffs. He had a touchdown catch in the win over the 49ers while also knotting the NFL playoff record with seven punt returns in one game, then made three more big plays in the Super Bowl victory. His 25-yard punt return set up a FG, then he hauled in a 44-yard flea-flicker pass to set up a TD, and then he dove and caught a deflected pass for a 6-yard TD catch of his own. Plucky punt return-wide receiver specialist had a highly productive season in '85, setting an alltime club record for most punt returns in a season with 53 for 442 yards returned, and rolled up 1,080 yards of all-purpose yardage for a second straight year of 1,000-plus production. Used also as a third down type receiver, Phil grabbed 25 passes for 404 yards and one TD and had a big day vs. Dallas with six catches for 128 yards. He had a big hand in the Giants' opening day win over the Eagles, setting up one TD with a 40-yard kickoff return and another TD with a 37-yard punt return. Also played tough on special teams with one forced fumble and one fumble recovery. Originally signed as a FA by the Giants in 1983, Phil enjoyed a strong training camp and pre-season as a receiver and punt returner, then was recalled to Navy duty and missed that entire campaign. He was discharged as a Lieutenant in May, 1984, then played his first full season of football since the 1978 season at Navy and turned out to be a highly productive receiver and return specialist, racking up 1,001 all-purpose yards before being kayoed by broken ribs vs. Kansas City and missing the final three regular season games and both playoff outings. He also led the club in kick off returns with 28 for 541 yards, and added eight pass receptions for a 19.3 average, enjoying particular success against the Washington Redskins, averaging 26.0 on five receptions, three of which set up Giant touchdowns. He also showed his heads-up special teams' play by recovering a free ball on a kickoff in the end zone for a touchdown against the Rams. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: McConkey played four varsity seasons at Navy as a wide receiver and return man, winning All-East, All-ECAC and All-American honorable mention in his senior year. He also won the Cooke Memorial Award and Thompson Trophy while at Navy, was MVP in the 1978 Holiday Bowl and also played in the Japan Bowl. He held numerous records at Navy for most TD receptions season and career; most yards-per-catch seasons and career; most punt returns, game, season and career; most punt return yards, career; and most combined yards punt and kickoff return, career. Also won a varsity letter in track as a sprinter.

PERSONAL: Philip Joseph McConkey was born on February 24, 1957 in Buffalo, N.Y. and was an all-around star at Canisus H.S. in Buffalo. His father, Joseph McConkey, is a police detective in Buffalo. Phil served from 1979 through 1984 as a Naval helicopter pilot, serving in several air stations in the U.S. and in fleet service in the Mediterranean.

ERIC MOORE

2nd Year

PRO: The club's top draft choice last year, Moore's progress was delayed somewhat when he was late reporting to training camp, and consequently he was on the inactive list for the start of the season. He soon rounded into top condition and won the starting right guard job when Damian Johnson was injured. Eric then was the starter for the final 10 games of the season, and progressed solidly, winning All-NFL Rookie honors from Pro Football

Weekly at season's end. Extremely smooth and agile for a big man, he improved week by week during that rookie campaign, and also participated in the off-season workout program. Has the ability to play either at guard or tackle. GAMES PLAYED: 11, STARTED: 10.

COLLEGE: Moore began his collegiate career at Northeast Oklahoma A&M Junior College, then made the transfer to Indiana where he won three varsity letters and was a starting tackle for 34 consecutive games thereafter. Won first-team All-American and All-Big 10 honors in his senior season and was also selected to play in both the East-West Shrine game and Japan Bowl at season's end. Was named Indiana's Outstanding Lineman in 1987 after being chosen as the school's MVP Offensive Player in 1986.

PERSONAL: Eric Moore was born on January 21, 1965 in Berkeley, Mo., a suburb of St. Louis, and was an outstanding scholastic star at Berkeley High School in his hometown. He earned a degree in general studies and criminal justice at Indiana.

JOE MORRIS

Syracuse

D-2 '82

9/15/60

8th Year

PRO: By rushing for 1,083 yards in 1988, Joe completed his rewrite of the Giants' alltime career rushing records. That was his third 1,000-plus year, a new club record, and his current career total of 5,296 yards moved him past Alex Webster as the alltime leader. Joe also took over first-place in career attempts with 1,318, and added to his other career records with three 100-yard games for a total of 20, and five more rushing TDs for a career total of 48. All told, he now holds nine club career rushing records, quite a mark for a player short in size, but large in stature. For vintage seasons, however, Morris was a virtual one-man rampage in 1985 and 1986, totaling 2,852 yards over those two campaigns, while scoring 35 rushing touchdowns, and was just as powerful in playoff action in both of those years while earning those Pro Bowl and All-NFL honors. While the records are certainly impressive, Morris had many other impacts during the Super Bowl year. When almost all of the wide receivers were either out of action or hurting at mid-season and the passing attack was virtually nil, Morris rampaged for back-to-back 181-yard rushing games in crucial wins over the Redskins and Cowboys. All told, seven of Joe's eight 100-yard rushing games took place in the final 10 games of the season. He continued the onslaught through the playoffs and Super Bowl, rushing for 313 yards in those three games, including a 159-yard, two-touchdown effort in the opening playoff romp over the 49ers. When Joe got the opportunity to be the starting halfback in 1984, he responded with gusto. Replacing the since-traded Butch Woolfolk midway through the season, Morris led the Giants to a 37-13 rout of the Redskins in his first starting assignment, equalling a club record for three rushing TDs in one game. He followed that with strong performances for the rest of the year, including an 83-yard day in the victory over the Jets, and his first NFL 100-plus game, a 107-yard effort vs. the Cardinals. All told, Joe finished as the second leading rusher on the club with 510 yards and a 3.8 average, with 425 of those yards coming in the second half of the year when he took over the starting role. Morris was also the club's leading rusher in the playoffs, and also had a 61-yard burst vs. the Rams negated by a penalty. Used only sparingly in his first two years with the Giants, Morris nonetheless had some fine games. In 1983, had particularly strong outing in season finale vs. NFC

63 KARL NELSON
Offensive Tackle Iowa State 6/14/60
6-6 285 D-3A '83 6th Year

PRO: After missing all of the 1987 season in his battle against Hodgkins Disease, Nelson made a heroic return in 1988, coming all the way back to win the starting RT job in the season opener. A week later, he injured an ankle and was out of action, but nonetheless returned to appear in nine games. This past off-season, he was stricken with a recurrence of the disease, and has continued his efforts to combat this new setback. Since his treatments are expected to continue through the training camp, his status for 1989 is cloudy at this time, but knowing Nelson, he will overcome this latest adversity. Prior to his loss, Karl had been a bulwark of the offensive line, particularly in the Super Bowl season of 1986 and in the preceding playoff year as well. Karl won the starting RT job in what amounted to his rookie year, and since that time had been the starter in 55 consecutive games. The No. 3 draft choice in 1983, Nelson was enjoying a productive pre-season until he suffered a fractured foot and spent the entire year on Injured Reserve. He worked hard during that off-season, rehabilitated completely and worked hard on a weight program which built him up from 270 to 285. In 1984, he was solid again from the start of camp, winning the starting RT job at the outset, and turning in a masterful rookie campaign in which he started all 16 regular season games and both of the playoff outings. By season's end, he had played any number of outstanding games and was named to the All-NFL Rookie team by UPI, Pro Football Weekly and Football Digest. Had one of his very best games in the 20-10 victory over the New York Jets when he neutralized All-Pro DE Mark Gastineau. GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0

COLLEGE: Carl was a four-year starter at tackle for Iowa State, and was named to the first-team All-American team by NEA and to the Associated Press honorable mention All-American team in his senior campaign. He was also an All-Big Eight selection for two seasons and an Academic All-American choice. He concluded his collegiate career by being named to play in the East-West Shrine game.

PERSONAL: Karl Nelson was born in DeKalb, Ill., on June 14, 1960 and won All-State Scholastic honors in football at DeKalb High School in his hometown. He also earned letters in basketball and in baseball, as a pitcher. Of Swedish descent, Karl is married to the former Heidi Christina Stegeman of River Vale, N.J., and the Nelsons now reside in Woodcliff Lake, N.J. with daughters Brittany and Lindsay.

PRO: Oates has been the bulwark of the offensive line since joining the club in 1985. Since winning the job early in his first season, Bart has now reeled off 63 consecutive starts at center and has gained recognition as one of the top centers in the league. In 1987, he was a Pro Bowl alternate for the second year in a row and was a virtual ironman, handling the long snaps as well as all of the center responsibilities, and even came up with four tackles on kick coverages.

During his rookie year, he scored a touchdown on his very first NFL rushing attempt, a 3-yard score vs. Green Bay, but managed only 48 yards rushing on 15 attempts for the season. He had five receptions vs. St. Louis that same season, but saw only infrequent action. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Joe set all of the alltime rushing records at Syracuse, erasing the marks of such former greats as Jim Brown, Larry Csonka and Floyd Little by rushing for 4,229 yards in his four seasons. Also set the one-game mark with 252 yards vs. Kansas and had 21 rushing games of 100 or more yards. An All-American choice his senior year, he was selected to play in the Senior Bowl, East-West Shrine and Blue-Gray games.

PERSONAL: Joseph Morris was born in Fort Bragg, N.C. on September 15, 1960 where his dad was a career Army NCO. Joe first played scholastic sports at Southern Pines, N.C., then finished at Aver H.S. in Ayer, Mass. where he was an All-State star. Two brothers, Larry and Mike, played at Syracuse, and a third brother, Jamie, has been drafted by the Redskins. ZEKE MOWATT
Florida State
FA- '83
3/5/61
7th Year

PRO: Veteran TE continued his role as backup for Mark Bavaro in 1988, appearing in all 16 games, three of those as a starter in the F-Back formation early in the season. All told, he had 15 receptions during the year for 196 yards, including a 38-yard TD grab in the Monday Night game vs. Philadelphia. Zeke saw only limited action in '87, although he did appear in all 12 regular games and had his lowest career production with just three catches for 39 yards, including one TD grab vs. the Packers. After missing the entire 1985 season due to major knee surgery, Mowatt returned to play a complete season in '86, appearing in all 16 regular season games and in the playoffs as a backup to Mark Bavaro and as an occasional starter in the two tight end-offense. His comeback was an outstanding one, considering the severity of that damaged knee and during the second half of the year, he seemed to have regained almost all of his previous mobility. Zeke ended the year with 10 catches for 119 yards, including a pair of touchdown grabs, then made his presence felt in the playoffs when he caught TD passes vs. the 49ers and against the Broncos in the Super Bowl. Giants suffered a severe blow in 1985 when Mowatt suffered a major knee injury in the final pre-season game, underwent surgery and was lost for the entire year. Up to that point, the powerful TE had led the club in receptions during the pre-season, and seemed ready for an All-Pro year. Signed as a relative unknown free agent in 1983, Zeke took advantage of his opportunities and not only won himself a spot on the roster, but won the starting tight end job, beating out veterans Gary Shirk and Tom Mullady and a 3rd round draft choice in the process. Initially, he caught the attention of the coaches with his ferocious blocking, then improved on his pass-catching, while continuing to block like an offensive tackle. He finished the season with 21 receptions for 280 yards and a 13.3 average, including a 46-yard TD catch against the Dallas Cowboys. In 1984, Mowatt improved even more, sharing the club lead in receptions with 48 for the regular season and with 12 in the playoffs. He had his best outing in the comeback win over Kansas City with seven grabs for 126 yards, including the winning TD catch in the final minutes of play. Mowatt had six TD catches for the year, and had big days in both wins over the Cowboys with eight grabs for 127 yards and a TD in those two outings. He also came away with some post-season honors, including a second-team All-NFL nod from College and Pro Football Weekly. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 3.

COLLEGE: Mowatt earned three varsity letters as a tight end at Florida State, but was used primarily as a blocker and subsequently did not have the stats as a receiver. He had plenty of toughness and ability, however, and was highly recommended by Florida State coaches.

PERSONAL: Zeke Mowatt was born on March 5, 1961 in Wauchula, Fla., and was a scholastic star in football, basketball and track at Hardee High School in Wauchula.

Offensive Tackle Iowa State 6/14/60
6-6 285 D-3A '83 6th Year

PRO: After missing all of the 1987 season in his battle against Hodgkins Disease, Nelson made a heroic return in 1988, coming all the way back to win the starting RT job in the season opener. A week later, he injured an ankle and was out of action, but nonetheless returned to appear in nine games. This past off-season, he was stricken with a recurrence of the disease, and has continued his efforts to combat this new setback. Since his treatments are expected to continue through the training camp, his status for 1989 is cloudy at this time, but knowing Nelson, he will overcome this latest adversity. Prior to his loss, Karl had been a bulwark of the offensive line, particularly in the Super Bowl season of 1986 and in the preceding playoff year as well. Karl won the starting RT job in what amounted to his rookie year, and since that time had been the starter in 55 consecutive games. The No. 3 draft choice in 1983, Nelson was enjoying a productive pre-season until he suffered a fractured foot and spent the entire year on Injured Reserve. He worked hard during that off-season, rehabilitated completely and worked hard on a weight program which built him up from 270 to 285. In 1984, he was solid again from the start of camp, winning the starting RT job at the outset, and turning in a masterful rookie campaign in which he started all 16 regular season games and both of the playoff outings. By season's end, he had played any number of outstanding games and was named to the All-NFL Rookie team by UPI, Pro Football Weekly and Football Digest. Had one of his very best games in the 20-10 victory over the New York Jets when he neutralized All-Pro DE Mark Gastineau. GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0

COLLEGE: Carl was a four-year starter at tackle for Iowa State, and was named to the first-team All-American team by NEA and to the Associated Press honorable mention All-American team in his senior campaign. He was also an All-Big Eight selection for two seasons and an Academic All-American choice. He concluded his collegiate career by being named to play in the East-West Shrine game.

PERSONAL: Karl Nelson was born in DeKalb, Ill., on June 14, 1960 and won All-State Scholastic honors in football at DeKalb High School in his hometown. He also earned letters in basketball and in baseball, as a pitcher. Of Swedish descent, Karl is married to the former Heidi Christina Stegeman of River Vale, N.J., and the Nelsons now reside in Woodcliff Lake, N.J. with daughters Brittany and Lindsay.

65 BART OATES
Center Brigham Young 12/16/58
6-3 265 FA- '85 5th Year

PRO: Oates has been the bulwark of the offensive line since joining the club in 1985. Since winning the job early in his first season, Bart has now reeled off 63 consecutive starts at center and has gained recognition as one of the top centers in the league. In 1987, he was a Pro Bowl alternate for the second year in a row and was a virtual ironman, handling the long snaps as well as all of the center responsibilities, and even came up with four tackles on kick coverages.

Oates was rock solid at center for the Giants in '86, playing virtually every minute of the season, as well as handling all of the long-snap duties. A heady player and powerful blocker, he was the anchorman for this unit which excelled over the campaign. At season's end, he was named as a Pro Bowl alternate and also won All-NFL honorable mention from the AP. Bart was signed as a FA by the Giants during the 1985 pre-season after spending three seasons in the USFL with Philadelphia/Baltimore where he won All-League honors twice. After making his debut with the Giants late in the pre-season, Oates moved in as the starting center for the final 14 games of the regular season and for both of the playoff games and by season's end, his work was so productive that he was a unanimous choice for the All-NFL Rookie team. Also doubles as the long snapper, which gives him double value. Big reason why Giants set an alltime club record for rushing yardage in a season in '85. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16.

COLLEGE: Oates was a three-year starter at center for Brigham Young and was named to the All-Western Athletic Conference first team in his senior year, as well as to the second-team All-American by both AP and NEA. Twice an Academic All-American in '82 and '83, he was also selected to play in the Blue-Grey, East-West Shrine and Senior Bowl games after that senior season. He was a second round USFL draft pick.

PERSONAL: Bart Steven Oates was born in Mesa, Ariz., on December 16, 1958, then was an outstanding student-athlete at Albany High School in Albany, Ga. Bart's older brother, Brad, is a former NFL and USFL player. Bart received his degree from Brigham Young and is currently attending law school in the off-season.

MIKE PEREZ

Quarterback San Jose State 3/7/65
6-1 210 D-7 '88 1st Year

PRO: Perez had good production in the 1988 training camp and saw pre-season action in the first game, but recurring hip problems continued to bother him and he spent the entire season on injured reserve. In that one pre-season game against Green Bay, Perez completed the only pass he attempted, but that ended his rookie year. His problems have now been alleviated by minor surgery and rehabilitation, and he took part in the off-season workout program and seems to be ready for a fulltime challenge for a place on the squad. GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Perez set a bundle of records during his time at San Jose State, twice winning All-Pacific Coast Conference first-team honors and Offensive MVP awards, as well as All-American honorable mention twice. Also selected to play in three post-season games after his senior year—East-West Shrine, Blue-Gray and Japan Bowl. Set an alltime NCAA record in career total offense average with a mark of 309.1 yards per game. His two-year stats at SJS showed 471 completions for 6,194 yards and 36 touchdowns. He had nine games of 300 or more yards passing, four games with 400 or more yards, and a monster outing vs. Pacific in his senior year when he completed 31-of-39 for 508 yards to set an alltime PCAA single game record.

PERSONAL: Michael Perez was born in Denver, Colo., on March 7, 1965 and played his scholastic sports at South High School in Denver where he was All-City and All-State as a quarterback. He began his college career at Taft Junior College for two seasons before his transfer to San Jose State. He was the Grand Marshall of San Jose's Mexican Independence Day parade in 1987.

55 GARY REASONS
Linebacker N.W. Louisiana St. 2/18/62
6-4 235 D-4A' 84 6th Year

PRO: Veteran inside backer made solid comeback in '88 after an off-year in 1987. Appeared in all 16 games, including six as a starter and had 57 total tackles on the year. Also came up with key pass interception in win over New Orleans, and had five blocked passes during year as well as one fumble recovery. A special teams' leader as well, he had a blocked punt vs. the Redskins in season opener which was returned for a touchdown. Reasons missed all of training camp and the pre-season in 1987 because he was a contract holdout. When he finally returned, he appeared in just 10 games and had lost his inside starting linebacker spot to Pepper Johnson. He saw increased action as a reserve late in the year and finished with 16 total tackles and one QB sack. Strong, steady and heady inside linebacker enjoyed a solid season in 1986 as the starting inside man next to Harry Carson. In his third season as a starter, Gary finished with 96 total tackles, came up with a pair of pass interceptions and had a forced fumble. He continued his excellence in the post-season games, finishing as the club's third-leading tackler in the playoffs with 17 stops, and was outstanding in the NFC championship game victory over the Redskins when he had 12 tackles, a QB sack on Jay Shroeder and an interception. Gary enjoyed a solid season in '85, starting every game in the regular season and playoffs, and finishing as the third leading tackler on the unit with 90 total tackles behind Pro Bowlers Lawrence Taylor and Harry Carson. Along the way, Gary added a pass interception vs. the Packers, was in on a QB sack, had two forced fumbles and had a partially blocked punt vs. the Eagles on special teams' duty. He had 14 total tackles in the playoffs and continued to give the club aggressive and heady defensive play all year long. Gary had a solid rookie season at inside linebacker, being named to virtually all of the All-NFL Rookie teams at season's end. The big rookie first made his presence felt in a 16-9 pre-season win over the Pittsburgh Steelers when he had 12 tackles and two interceptions, the second of which came in the end zone to save the victory. He saw reserve action in the first part of the season, then won the starting job and remained as a starter alongside Harry Carson for the remainder of the year and through the playoffs. He finished with 76 tackles in the regular season, added a QB sack, two interceptions, and led the defense with three fumble recoveries. He also topped the club in total tackles for one game, registering 17 in the 20-10 win over the New York Jets, and both of his regular season interceptions were crucial ones, coming in key situations in victories over Atlanta and St. Louis. Gary was also outstanding in the playoffs, finishing with 14 tackles in the two games, and had a top performance against the 49ers in the divisional playoff with eight tackles, two interceptions on Joe Montana, and three pass deflections. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 6.

COLLEGE: Reasons was a small school terror who became the first player in Division I-AA history to win first-team All-American honors for three consecutive years. He was only the third player in Northwest Louisiana State's history to have his jersey retired, and he was chosen as the Most Valuable Defensive Player in the state of Louisiana in his senior year, including every major college in the state. Gary finished his college career with 394 total tackles, 30 for losses, five interceptions, two fumble recoveries and 10 deflected passes. Also team captain and MVP in his senior year, he set school record with 172 tackles in his final season, including 24 in one game.

PERSONAL: Gary Phillip Reasons was born in Chicago, Ill., but grew up in Crowley, Tex., where he was a standout in football, basketball and baseball at Crowley H.S. where he was also a member of the National Honor Society with a 3:45 GPA. Majored in business administration in college where he also won Honor Roll status with a 3.0 GPA and earned a B.S. degree. Gary is married to the former Terri Matthews and has a young son, Nicholas Ryan Reasons.

DOUG RIESENBERG

California

7/22/65

D-6(A) '87

3rd Year

PRO: Big, strong young tackle had 12 starting roles in '88 as a second-year player, and showed excellent progress and promise at the RT position. Had particularly strong game vs. Charles Mann in second Redskins' game. Big, strong tackle showed excellent progress in his rookie season, despite the fact that he was a defensive tackle for most of his career in college. Highly intelligent and a hard worker, Doug appeared in eight games for the Giants, mostly on short yardage and on kicking teams and continually showed fine effort. Worked hard during the off-season in the weight room, upping his size to his current 287 pounds, and should be a definite contender for a key role this coming year. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 12.

COLLEGE: After sparkling as a defensive tackle for three years at California, Riesenberg was switched to OT in his senior season by coach Joe Kapp and became a top offensive player on short notice, winning All-Pac 10 honors in his senior year and getting 90% blocking grades from the coaching staff. Not only that, he was named to the Blue-Gray post-season game and distinguished himself in that All-Star contest with outstanding play throughout, then played in the Japan Bowl where he performed well again. An electrical engineering major with computer science as his goal, he was a top student at Cal.

PERSONAL: Douglas John Riesenbergs was born on July 22, 1965 in Carroll, Iowa, then played his scholastic sports at Moscow High School in Moscow, Idaho where he was All-American in football and track and All-Conference in basketball while academically making the honor roll and serving as a class officer. Doug is married to the former Victoria Rajeski, his father, Louis, is a professor and department chairman at the University of Idaho, and Doug not only plays the trumpet well, but lists computers as his favorite hobby.

WILLIAM ROBERTS

Ohio State

8/5/62

PRO: Roberts was back at offensive left tackle in '88 after playing the right side the previous year. He played in all 16 games, 13 of those as the starter at LT, before sharing the job with rookie John Elliott late in the season. With Karl Nelson sidelined in '87, Roberts moved over to the right tackle slot and started all 12 regular games at the position, and after some early season difficulties, improved rapidly from that point on. It was a transition of a major scale for William who had been strictly a left tackle since joining the club. He had won the starting LT job in his rookie season, then missed all of 1985 due to major knee surgery, but returned in 1986 as a reserve LT, short-yardage and third tight end, while appearing in every game that season, including the playoffs and Super Bowl. After winning a starting job in his rookie season, Roberts went down with a major knee injury during the early part of pre-season training camp in 1985, underwent surgery and was out for the entire year. William made an impressive debut in training camp as a rookie, winning a starting job at left tackle almost from the outset. He then enjoyed a strong pre-season at LT, and was the starter at the position for the first eight regular season games until he went down with a severe ankle injury which had him on the sidelines for five weeks. He then returned for the final portion of the season, and was back as the starting LT in the playoff games against the Rams and 49ers. Roberts showed strong run-blocking and pass-blocking abilities during his rookie season, and despite missing those games late in the season proved he has the ability. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 13.

COLLEGE: Roberts was a starting tackle for three seasons at Ohio State, building himself up from a 240-pound freshman to his current size. All told, he won four letters with the Buckeyes, and in his senior year won All-American honors from Street & Smith and the Sporting News, while also gaining All Big-10 honors. He played in the Fiesta Bowl, Liberty Bowl and Holiday Bowl games while a Buckeye and was also named to play in the Japan Bowl in his senior year. He was also team captain as a senior.

PERSONAL: William Harold Roberts was born in Miami, Fla., on August 5, 1962 and played his scholastic sports at Carol City High School in Miami where he was twice MVP in football and was captain of both the football and basketball squads. William's father, Cleveland, is a school counselor in Miami, while an older brother, Alton, is a defensive end with the Roughriders in the CFL, and a cousin, Reginald Sanilands, played with Memphis in the USFL. William lists fishing and outdoor sports as his hobbies, and he was also a trombone player in high school.

STACY ROBINSONWide Receiver No. Dakota State 2/19/62
5-11 186 D-2 '85 5th Year

PRO: Stacy replaced the injured Mark Ingram on the roster early last season and then appeared in 12 games. While he saw only limited action, he nonetheless came up with three touchdown catches among his seven receptions, and averaged 20.4 per-catch. He had a 62-yard TD grab vs. the Eagles, and had a pair of TD receptions in the win over Phoenix. After winning a starting job at WR, Stacy suffered a fractured fibula and was out for the final seven games of the season in '87. Prior to that season-ending injury, Stacy had six receptions, including TD catches in each of the first two regular games vs. the Bears and Cowboys. Stacy made an impact in his first full season in '86 after spending most of his rookie year on IR. Despite missing four games with a sprained ankle, he ended the season with 29 catches for 494 yards and a 17.0 average, and added a pair of TD grabs. He had perhaps his best outing in the crucial Monday Night comeback win over the 49ers when he had five receptions for 116 yards, one TD catch and another acrobatic grab which set up the winning TD. He also made three big catches in the Super Bowl win over the Broncos, with his 62 yards receiving leading the Giants in that department. As a rookie he showed outstanding potential during training camp and in the pre-season games, then suffered a broken hand two days before the regular season opener and spend the next 12 weeks on the injured reserve list. He was activated late in the year and appeared in the final four regular season games and both playoff outings in a reserve role. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Stacy began his collegiate career in football and track at Prairie View A&M in Texas, then switched to North Dakota State where he set NDS alltime records for receiving yardage, TD receptions and one-season and single game receiving yardage. He finished with 88 catches for 1,636 yards and 13 TDs in his three seasons, was named to the All-Conference team, then was named the MVP for the North in the Senior Bowl game after his final season. Also a letterman in track, he was the Division II NCAA sprint champion for two seasons, while also sweeping 55 and 100-meter dash championship twice in the Conference.

PERSONAL: Stacy Laddell Robinson was born in St. Paul, Minn., on February 19, 1962, and was an All-State selection in football at Central High School in his hometown, while also winning Minnesota State titles in both the 100 and 200 meters in track. He also starred in basketball and was his school's leading scorer for two reasons.

22*Running Back*6-2*222*LEE ROUSON*Colorado*10/18/62*D-8 '85*5th Year

PRO: While he saw action in every game in 1988, Lee's production numbers were the lowest of his career. He had only one rushing attempt for one yard, and just four pass receptions for 61 yards, although he had a key 31-yard gainer in the second win over the Redskins. He continued to play well on special teams with nine coverage tackles and also had eight kickoff returns for 130 yards. Versatile running back continued to display his all-around talents as a reserve RB and kickoff return specialist in '87. He had 155 yards rushing as the backup for Joe Morris, including 61 yards on 12 carries in a victory over the Eagles when Morris was out with an injury. Also had 11 pass receptions during year, including 26-yard TD catch in win over Packers. Led club in kickoff returns with 22 for 497 yards and a 22.6 average which ranked third in the NFC, and continued to play solidly on special teams as a coverage man with 18 total tackles. In 1986 his playing time was obviously limited, yet he still came through with 179 yards rushing on 54 carries, and scored a pair of TDs vs. Green Bay. When Morris sat out the Saints' game due to illness, Lee filled in admirably with 71 yards rushing. He added eight pass receptions during the year, including a 37-yard TD catch vs. the Eagles, and was also a force on special teams, registering 13 tackles on kick coverages. Lee also saw extensive action in the post-season games, rushing for 52 yards on 12 carries for a 4.3 average, and his 18-yard run in the Super Bowl victory set up the final Giants' TD. He added three receptions for 45 yards in the playoffs and added two solo tackles on kick coverages. In 1985 Rouson proved to be a solid find in the 8th round, and produced a strong pre-season in which he showed flashes of excellence as a rusher, receiver and return specialist. He finished the pre-season with a 25.5 average on kickoff returns and showed his open field running ability with a dazzling 42-yard TD reception in a win over the Broncos. Lee then suffered a sprained knee in the final week of pre-season and went on the Injured Reserve list through the first 14 games of the regular season. He was activated for the final two games of the year, playing well on special teams with two kickoff returns for a 17.5 average and six tackles on kick coverages, then played strongly in the playoffs on special teams with a 25.3 average on kickoff returns, including a 42-yard return vs. the Bears, and a pair of tackles on kick coverages vs. the 49ers. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: A four-year letterman at Colorado, Rouson had a productive career there, despite being shifted around in various backfield positions by changes in the coaching staff. He finished his career with 2,296 yards rushing, the fourth alltime mark at Colorado, and added 86 receptions, the third best mark, and was selected to the All-Big Eight second team and chosen to play in the Blue-Gray game after his senior season. He was also elected team captain in his senior year.

PERSONAL: Cecil Lee Rouson was born in Elizabeth City, N.C. on October 18, 1962 and had a standout scholastic background at Page High School in Greensboro, N.C. Lee was an All-Conference choice in football, basketball and baseball... was President of the Student Body, and the winner of the DAR's best all-around student award in his senior year.

17 JEFF RUTLEDGE
Quarterback Alabama 1/22/57
6-1 195 T- '82 (Rams) 11th Year

PRO: Veteran backup QB saw action in only one game in 1988, but came up strong in relief of Jeff Hostetler in New Orleans' win. Hit 11-of-17 in second half of that game, including 33-yarder to Stephen Baker in final minute that set up winning FG. Rutledge had the second busiest season of his career in 1987, starting four games, three of those replacing an injured Phil Simms. He finished with 79 completions for 1,048 yards and five TD connections and led the club to wins over the Patriots and Eagles, throwing 21-for-33 for 233 yards and a pair of TDs in the first-mentioned triumph. He also tied a dubious club record by throwing five interceptions in one game, vs. the Saints. One of the most versatile backup quarterbacks in the NFL, Jeff has been a starter during his career with both the Giants and Rams, and has the ability to step in at any time and produce. In 1986 his only completion of the year was a 13-yard TD pass to Harry Carson on a fake field goal vs. the Eagles... he ran 18 yards for a first down on another fake field goal to set up a TD vs. the Packers... he completed a 23-yard pass to Mark Bavaro out of the shotgun to set up a TD in the playoff win over the 49ers... and in the Super Bowl victory, he dove two yards for the key first down on a fourth-down play vs. the Broncos which kept a TD drive alive at the start of the second half. Veteran backup QB didn't get to see any regular season action in '85 but appeared in every game as the holder for the placekickers, and worked a successful fake FG attempt with a pitchout which resulted in a TD by Jess Atkinson vs. the Bengals. Although he saw action in only four games in 1983 (all as the starting QB), Rutledge made a solid impression. In his four starts, Jeff produced three 300-plus yardage games, including career highs of 29 completions in 52 attempts for 349 yards in Seattle, and 24 for 47 for 324 yards and a TD against the NFC champion Redskins in the season finale. Rutledge also fired away at a 14-for-29 for 325 yards and a pair of TD connections vs. Dallas, but suffered a kneecap injury in that game which cost him five weeks on the disabled list. Originally a 9th round draft pick of the Rams, Jeff spent three seasons with L.A., as a backup, then came to the Giants in a 1982 trade for a draft choice, but did not see any action. GAMES PLAYED: 1, STARTED 0.

COLLEGE: Rutledge won four varsity letters at Alabama, as All-SEC twice and graduated with a degree in business education. While performing for Bear Bryant's club, Jeff threw 30 career touchdown passes to break the school record held previously by Joe Namath. Rutledge also played in three Sugar Bowl games and the Liberty Bowl in his four seasons, as well as in the East-West Shrine game and Senior Bowl after his senior year. He was also president of the Student Body at Alabama and was voted the most popular senior.

PERSONAL: Jeffrey Ronald Rutledge was born in Birmingham, Ala. on January 22, 1957 and was a football, basketball and baseball ace at Banks H.S. in his hometown. His father, Paul "Jack" Rutledge played major league baseball with the Chicago Cubs and Jeff was drafted by the Cubs out of high school but took the football scholarship to Alabama instead. Jeff and his wife, Laura, live in Huntington Beach, Calif. during the off-seasons with son Jeffrey Brooks and daughter Christen Leigh.

RICKY SHAW

Oklahoma St.

D-4 '88

7/28/65

2nd Year

PRO: A defensive end in college, Shaw made the transition to linebacker as a rookie last year, and saw action in 14 games, mostly on special teams, although he also saw some action in situation defensive alignments. All told, he came up with seven solo tackles on special teams' coverages, and also had a fumble recovery and a blocked pass when used in nickel situations. Has solid 4.7 speed for a big man and also has fine pass-rushing capabilities as an OLB. Took part in the off-season workout program and is now up to a solid 240 pounds. GAMES PLAYED: 14, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Ricky earned four varsity letters as a DE at Oklahoma State, winning second-team All-Big Eight honors as well as honorable mention All-American while also being named to play in the post-season Hula Bowl game in Hawaii. Finished his career with 153 total tackles, 19 QB sacks, 21 other tackles for losses, five forced fumbles and 25 QB pressures.

PERSONAL: Ricky Shaw was born on July 28, 1965 in Mount Vernon, N.Y., a suburb of New York City, but then moved to Fayetteville, N.C. where he was a standout scholastic star in football and track and captain of both sports. He was an All-State tight end and defensive end, and also won All-State honors in track with a toss of 169'5½" in the discus.

PHIL SIMMS

Quarterback Morehead State 11/3/56
6-3 215 D-1 '79 11th Year

PRO: Simms had yet another outstanding season in 1988, among his very best in virtually all categories. He had 263 completions along the way, despite missing one game and parts of two others, totaled 3,359 yards and threw for 21 touchdowns. He also led the NFC in lowest percentage of passes intercepted, and set additional alltime club records for most passes attempted, career, and for lowest percentage of passes intercepted, career. His 82.1 QB rating was the second highest in his career, and his overall field leadership was at its epitome. He had three more 300-yard passing games to run that total to 19, and added to his other previous club marks in completions and yardage for career. Veteran QB had a string of 59 consecutive starts snipped in '87 when he suffered a sprained knee against the Cowboys and had to sit out three games. He returned for the final five games of the year and finished with the highest passing completion percentage of his career, as well as the highest passing rating, while also setting alltime career records for pass completions and passing yardage, erasing the former standards of Charlie Conerly. With his 90.0 passing rating, Phil finished second in the NFC to Joe Montana, and along the way also set alltime club marks for game completion percentage with an 80.9% outing vs. St. Louis and 80.7% vs. Green Bay. He also has a current string of 10 consecutive games with TD passes. "Perhaps the best game ever played by a quarterback" seemed to be the consensus quote after Simms set an alltime NFL Super Bowl and playoff record with 88% completion on 22-for-25 passing for 268 yards and three touchdowns in the Giants' 39-20 conquest of Denver two seasons ago. For those superlative efforts, Phil was named MVP of Super Bowl XXI, just one year after being named MVP in the 1986 Pro Bowl. Simms' 1986 season was a masterful one as he led the club to a final team-record 17-2 mark, including 12 straight victories down the homestretch. He was never better than in a four-game crucial stretch late in the season when he (a) threw for 310 yards and hit a 4th and 21 completion in the final minute to set up the winning FG vs. Minnesota; (b) connected on a 46-yard completion in the final minute to set up the winning FG vs. Denver; (c) fired for 388 yards and two TDs to lead the Giants to a second-half victory over San Francisco; and (d) passed for 265 yards and three TDs in the crucial first-place battle with Washington. Once the Giants had won the NFC East crown, Simms then riddled the 49ers in the opening playoff with a club-record four TD passes in playoff action, throttled the Redskins with astute ball-control and a TD throw in the 17-0 NFC title game, and then riddled the Broncos in the Super Bowl. His post-season quarterback rating was an astounding 131.8 on 38-of-58 passing for a 65.5%, eight TD passes and no interceptions, and that brought his career playoff passing rating to 92.0, the third highest in NFL playoff history behind

Bart Starr and Ken Anderson. He also set an alltime club record with his 15th 300-yard passing game during the year, and was rewarded by being named All-NFL and the NFL's Most Valuable Player by NEA. Simms had another powerful season in 1985, adding several more club records to others he had set in 1984, chipped in with an alltime NFL record, and then capped his year by being named to the Pro Bowl where he was the starting QB for the NFC and won Most Valuable Player honors for leading a comeback victory with a trio of TD tosses. Phil set alltime club marks vs. Cincinnati when he threw 62 passes and completed 40, for 513 yards. In back-to-back games vs. the Cowboys and Bengals, Simms passed for 432 and 513 yards and those 945 passing yards in back-to-back games were the most ever in NFL history. In matching his previous season high of 22 TD passes, Simms had great consistency in TD throws, pitching for at least on TD pass in 14 of the 16 regular season games, then tossed for two more TDs in the big playoff victory over the 49ers. He had particular success during the year against NFC East rivals Dallas and St. Louis, throwing five TD passes against both of those clubs in the two meetings during the year, and his two-game passing yardage vs. Dallas in '85 added up to 761 yards. After missing virtually all of the '82 and '83 seasons because of injuries and the latter stages of the two seasons prior to that because of other injuries, Simms had his first full-season in 1984 and promptly rewrote the Giants' alltime once-season record book. In leading the Giants to a second-place finish in the NFC East and a trip to the playoffs, Simms set club season records for most completions (286); passing yardage, (4,044) and attempts (533), chalked up four 300-plus passing yardage games, and displayed outstanding toughness and leadership. Phil wasted no time showing that a two-year absence had not diminished his skills. In the season opener against the Eagles, Simms fired 23-of-30 for 409 yards, four touchdowns and no interceptions, then came back the following week to bomb the Cowboys with three more touchdown strikes. That 1984 performance fulfilled the promise that Simms had shown when the Giants made him their No. 1 draft choice in 1979 from little Morehead State in Kentucky. In his rookie season, Simms didn't see any action until the fifth week of the season in a relief stint vs. New Orleans. A week later, he made his initial NFL start vs. Tampa Bay and produced a win, then won his next three starts for four in a row, and had six wins in his first eight starts. Unheralded at the time of the draft, by season's end he was a unanimous All-NFL Rookie choice and runnerup for NFC Rookie of the Year. Then began a streak of misfortune for Simms. In 1980, he was on his way to setting club records when a shoulder separation flattened him for the final three games of the season. In 1981, it was the same story, with another shoulder separation knocking him out of the final five games and the playoffs, and in 1982, a knee injury in a pre-season game cost him the entire season. In 1983, he fractured a thumb in his first long appearance, and was out for a total of 14 games. Undaunted, Simms worked hard during that following off-season, won the starting job again, and, injury-free, had himself a banner '84 season. GAMES PLAYED: 15, STARTED: 15.

COLLEGE: Only the second Morehead State player to make in in the NFL (teammate Gary Shirk was the other), Simms set alltime college marks with 409 completions for 5,545 yards and 32 touchdowns at Morehead and also set single season marks with 370 yards vs. Tennessee Tech and four TD passes vs. Marshall, those one-game records coming in 1977. During his four varsity seasons, Phil was an honorable mention All-American by the Sporting News, and was named Offensive Player of the Year and first-team All-Conference in the Ohio Valley Conference as a junior...but made only second-team All-Conference as a senior when Morehead eschewed the passing game and opted for a ball-control offense.

PERSONAL: Philip Simms was born in Springfield, Ky., on November 3, 1956 and played his high school sports at Southern H.S. in Louisville as a QB in football and as a pitcher in baseball. Simms comes from a large family, which includes four brothers—William, Thomas, David and Joseph—and four sisters, Jeanette, Mary, Ann and Sara. Phil and his wife, Diana Fronfield, live in Franklin Lakes and have a son, Christopher and a daughter, Deirdre.

56 LAWRENCE TAYLOR
Linebacker North Carolina 2/4/59
6-3 243 D-1 '81 9th Year

PRO: Despite sitting out the first four games of the year because of a league suspension, Taylor earned his eighth straight Pro Bowl and All-NFL designation after a 12-game season in which he had 73 total tackles and 1½ QB sacks. The sacks upped his current NFL record to 89 (compiled only since 1982). LT also led the club in forced fumbles with five, added a fumble recovery and also blocked a FG attempt vs. Philadelphia. He had one of his alltime great games vs. New Orleans, when despite a severe shoulder injury, he had 10 tackles, three QB sacks and two forced fumbles to win NFL Defensive Player of the Week honors. An incredible ironman record ended for the perennial All-NFL Taylor in 1987 when he suffered a hamstring injury against the Eagles, tried to tough it out a week later vs. the Saints, but then had to sit out a game against the Redskins the following week. That marked the first game Taylor had ever missed in his NFL career... in his collegiate career... and in his high school career! Despite missing that one game, and virtually all of another, L.T. finished with 62 total tackles, added 12 QB sacks, had a career-high three interceptions, and was named to the Pro Bowl and to the All-NFL teams for the seventh consecutive year. Lawrence had a magnificent year in 1986, even by his own standards which are celestial. By the time he finally retires, he'll need a warehouse to store his ever-increasing collection of awards, and the 1986 harvest may have been his biggest. He set an alltime Giants' club record with 20½ quarterback sacks, had 105 total tackles and three forced fumbles, then added a 34-yard TD return with an interception in the playoff win over the 49ers. He was particularly destructive in the two big regular season wins over the Redskins with 18 tackles and six sacks in those two outings. By season's end, Lawrence of the Meadowlands had been a unanimous selection as the NFL's Most Valuable Player, the first time a defensive player had won that plum since Alan Page of the Vikings a decade before. To add to that laurel, he was a unanimous All-NFL selection, a unanimous Pro Bowl selection and a starter for the sixth straight year, the Maxwell Trophy winner, the Kansas City 101 winner, and the Seagrams Award winner. While he had great success in the two key victories over the Redskins, L.T. was even more devastating in the two wins over the Philadelphia Eagles. In those two contests, he had an amazing 23 total tackles and seven QB sacks, with his four traps in the Oct. 12 win matching his one-game club record. In 1985 L.T. finished with 104 total tackles, registered 13½ QB sacks, had two fumble recoveries for 25 yards returned and had four forced fumbles. He added 20 tackles in the playoffs, including 10 solos and a QB sack in the victory over the 49ers. Lawrence began the season with a bang when he had nine solo stops and 2½ QB sacks in the 21-0 skunking of the Eagles, then was totally dominating in a crucial 17-3 win over the Redskins when he had 13 tackles and two QB sacks. He repeated those identical totals in the second meeting with the Redskins, this time adding a fumble recovery to his 13-tackle, 2-QB sacks stats. In short, there is no honor extant that Taylor has not justly won during his career with the Giants. Over that span, L.T. has recovered fumbles, forced fumbles, blocked PATs, ran over blockers, and generally made life totally miserable for opposing quarterbacks and running backs. He's also had eight pass interceptions, one of which he returned 97 yards for a touchdown, the longest TD return by a linebacker in club history. The Giants' No. 1 draft pick in 1981, Lawrence was an instant smash from Day One. In his first pre-season training camp scrimmage, he had four QB sacks and a fumble recovery. In his first pre-season game vs. the Bears, he had 10 solo tackles, two QB sacks and a fumble recovery, and then in his regular season performance, helped lead the club to the playoffs for the first time since 1963 with big play after big play, including one-hand QB sacks, catching swift running backs from behind for losses, and any other number of eye-catching accomplishments. At 6-3 and 243 pounds, he can still run 4.6 in the 40; is one of the strongest players on the club. GAMES PLAYED: 12, STARTED: 12.

COLLEGE: Taylor was a consensus All-American at North Carolina and was the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year in 1980. In his final season, of his 69 solo tackles, 22 were for losses behind the line of scrimmage and 16 were QB sacks. Originally a nose guard on defense at North Carolina, he eventually moved to OLB/DE in his final seasons and finished his career with 192 tackles, 21 QB sacks, 10 forced fumbles, three interceptions and three fumble recoveries and was selected for both the East-West Shrine game and Japan Bowl.

PERSONAL: Lawrence Taylor was born on February 4, 1959 in Williamsburg, Va., and played his scholastic sports at Lafayette H.S. in Williamsburg, where he was a 5-10, 180-pounder in his junior year. Also excelled in both basketball and baseball. Lawrence, his wife Linda, and their three youngsters Paula, Tanisha and T.J., now live in upper Saddle River, N.J. He has also become an outstanding golfer, getting his handicap down to an eight, and his massive tee-shots are getting to be legendary.

REYNA THOMPSON

Baylor 8/28/63
FA- '89 4th Year

PRO: Giants signed Thompson this past off-season from the Miami Dolphins' unprotected list. During his tenure with Miami, Thompson was chiefly a special teams' player and nickel back, although he had four starts in 1986 at left cornerback when the regular starter was injured. Voted the Dolphins' top special teams' player in 1986, he had a total of 27 tackles that campaign as well as two forced fumbles and five pass deflections, and won a game ball after win over Buffalo in which he had two key tackles and knocked down a pair of passes. Saw action in only nine games in '87 because of nagging injuries, but did have one start that year vs. Cincinnati and responded with five tackles, as well as an additional four stops on special teams. Saw action again as special teamer last year, and again was among the leaders on the club in that category.

COLLEGE: Thompson was a track star at Baylor, winning four letters in that sport while setting high hurdles records, and then won three more varsity letters in football after making the team as a walk-on. Played both safety and cornerback at Baylor and was a topnotch special teams' player there as well. Set Baylor and Southwest Conference high hurdles record in 1986 with 13.3 clocking and was a member of Baylor's third-place 400-yard relay team in 1985 NCAA championships.

PERSONAL: Reyna Onald Thompson was born on August 28, 1963 in Dallas, Tex., and was a football and track star at Jefferson High School in Dallas. Held fastest high school high hurdles time in the nation as a senior with a 13.4 clocking and also won regional and state championships in that event, while winning high school All-American honors in track.

83Wide Receiver*6-3*205*ODESSA TURNER*N.W. La. St. 10/12/64*D-4 '87*3rd Year

PRO: Odessa had a solid training camp in 1988, won himself a starting job at WR, and then after having a standout performance in a win over the Redskins, injured a knee, underwent surgery and was out for the rest of the season. In that win over Washington, he had eight catches for 103 yards and a TD just five minutes into the third period before going down with the injury. He had also played well on special teams with four coverage tackles. Recovered now, he should make a strong bid to reclaim that starting status this year. After a relatively slow start in his rookie season, Odessa came on strongly in the latter part of the season, winning a starting job at WR for the final two games, and showing outstanding potential to go along with his impressive size. He didn't get his first NFL reception until late November (a 36-yarder vs. the Redskins), then finished with 10 catches for 195 yards, a 19.5 average, and one TD, which was an acrobatic 16-yarder in the win over the Jets. Earlier on, he had contributed on special teams in kick coverages with six total tackles.

GAMES PLAYED: 4, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: Turner was a genuine two-way star at Northwestern Louisiana, where he set a school mark by winning Gulf Star Conference first-team honors on both offense and defense. He won the offensive honors in both his soph and junior seasons as a WR, then was moved to defensive safety in his senior year when two regulars were injured, and had himself an outstanding defensive year which resulted in his All-Conference selection as a safety. He had eight TD catches while on offense, then led the club in tackles with 62 and in interceptions with four, while on defense.

PERSONAL: Odessa Turner was born on October 12, 1964 in Monroe, La., then starred in three sports at Wossman High School in his hometown.

73Defensive End Oklahoma State 2/20/63*6-4*275*JOHN WASHINGTON*D-3 '86*4th Year

PRO: Washington continued his role as a valuable reserve DE in 1988, playing in all 16 games and getting two starts when Leonard Marshall was injured. He came up with 12 total tackles, added a forced fumble and a blocked pass and continued to show excellent progress. Second-year DE saw action in all 12 regular games in '87, and was the starter at RDE in the final two games after Leonard Marshall was injured. He finished with 14 total tackles and also came up with his first QB sack, while demonstrating fine potential. Big and strong defensive end enjoyed a solid pre-season in his rookie year, coming up with a pair of quarterback sacks in the pre-season opener vs. the Atlanta Falcons. He then played in all 16 regular season games as a reserve DE and special team's player, though he was used only sparingly, coming up with a total of two solo tackles during the year. He suffered a hamstring injury in the final regular season game and missed the playoffs and Super Bowl while on injured reserve. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 2.

COLLEGE: Washington earned three varsity letters at Oklahoma State as both a nose tackle and defensive end, and was a starter in all three of those seasons, winning All-Big Eight honors in both 1984 and '85, as well as honorable mention All-American in his senior year. He finished his career with 241 total tackles, 28 for losses, and added 23 quarterback sacks as well as 57 QB pressures. He was elected team co-captain in his senior year and starred in the Gator Bowl.

PERSONAL: John Earl Washington was born in Houston, Tex., on February 20, 1963 and won six varsity letters in football and baseball at Sterling High School in Houston. Twice an All-Conference selection in football, he was also a scholastic All-American in baseball as a pitcher-infielder. Married to the former Terri Stinson, he has a daughter, Charmaine, 6.

HERB WELCH

UCLA

D-12 '85

1/12/61

5th Year

PRO: Herb suffered a major knee injury on the first day of training camp in 1988, underwent surgery and was lost for the entire season. That was a rough blow for Welch who had been a solid reserve and starter for the club during the previous three seasons, both at safety and at corner. He worked hard at rehab, and is now completely recovered. In 1987, he was the starter on the right corner for the first two games of the season when Perry Williams was injured, then resumed his normal role as a situation substitute. For the season, he was in on 21 tackles, and also came up with interceptions against the Bears and Redskins. Herb saw action in every game in '86, including the last two games of the regular season and all of the post-season games as the starting free safety when Terry Kinard went down with a major knee injury. He performed admirably as the replacement, finishing the regular season with 37 total tackles and coming up with a pair of pass interceptions in the two wins over the Redskins, and adding a fumble recovery. He added 11 more tackles in the playoffs and Super Bowl, and had an interception in the opening playoff romp over the 49ers. Prior to getting the starting nod late in the season, Herb had done a solid job as the nickel back in passing situations and had also contributed on special teams. In his rookie year, Welch turned in a strong pre-season performance as a 12th round draft choice, capping that portion of the year with a seven-tackle performance vs. the Steelers, adding an interception as well, and that helped him make the club as a reserve safety and special teams' player. He appeared in all 16 regular season games and in both of the playoffs in those roles, and along the way came up with the two key pass interceptions vs. the Redskins and Cardinals. He finished the regular season with 22 total tackles and added three more in the playoff outings. GAMES PLAYED: 0, STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: Herb began his collegiate career at Cerritos Junior College where he was an All-American and Conference MVP choice. He then played both safety and corner at UCLA for the following two seasons and was a starter in two Rose Bowl games. While in junior college, Welch once returned four punts for touchdowns and a kickoff for a fifth return TD in one season.

PERSONAL: Herbert D. Welch was born in Los Angeles, Calif., on January 12, 1961 and starred in football and track at Warren High School in Downey, Calif. He earned a B.A. in History from UCLA. Welch's father, Herb Sr., played baseball for the Chicago White Sox.

ADRIAN WHITE

Florida

4/6/64

3rd Year

PRO: Adrian was a strong special teams' player and reserve safety in 1988, playing in all 16 games and finishing as the second-leading tackler on kick coverages. All told, he had 24 total tackles on the year, and he also came up with his first NFL interception for a 29-yard return in a win over Detroit. He also had a pair of passes defensed. In 1987, hard-hitting White made an impact in training camp with his ferocity on special teams and as a reserve safety, but suffered a knee injury in a pre-season game which necessitated the removal of bone chips from the knee. Out of action for six weeks during the regular season, he returned with a bang vs. Buffalo and came up with 13 total tackles in that outing. Finished the season with a total of 21 tackles as special teams' player and reserve back. Worked hard in the off-season program and if he can harness his reckless style of play and continue his overall improvement, he can be a big contributor this coming year. GAMES PLAYED: 6, STARTED: 1.

COLLEGE: Adrian began his collegiate career at Southern Illinois, then moved on to Florida where he was a three-year starter and won All-SEC first-team honors and second-team All-American by UPI in his senior year. He was also named team MVP on defense that season and was selected to play in the Blue-Gray game at season's end where he also sparkled. Also won two letters in track at Florida as a sprinter and member of 440-relay team.

PERSONAL: Adrian D. White was born in Jacksonville, Fla., on April 6, 1964, then starred as an All-Conference defensive back and track star at Orange Park High School in Orange Park, Fla. Single, Adrian lists fishing as his favorite hobby, plays the bass guitar for enjoyment, and has a cousin, Terry Taylor, who plays for the Seattle Seahawks.

Robb White
Defensive End South Dakota 5/26/65
6-4 270 FA- '88 2nd Year

PRO: White joined the Giants as a free agent late in the season after being released by the Washington Redskins. He was on the roster for the final five games of the season, seeing action just once. Signed as a free agent by the Redskins, Robb enjoyed a solid pre-season with the 'Skins before going on injured reserve just before the season opener. When he was ready to rejoin the club, he was placed on waivers, but since he had been rated well by the Giants' defensive coaches after viewing films of his pre-season play, he was claimed by the Giants. While he saw only limited play in '88, he took part in the off-season workout program and is expected to make a strong bid in training camp. GAMES PLAYED: 1; STARTED: 0.

COLLEGE: A two-year starter at defensive end at South Dakota after starting his collegiate career as an outside linebacker, Robb was a first-team All-North Central Conference selection after his senior season. As a defensive end those last two seasons, he had 176 total tackles and 13 QB sacks and in his senior year had 10 or more tackles in a game six times. Graded out as USD's highest rated defensive player in both 1986 and 1987.

PERSONAL: Robb White was born on May 26, 1965 in Aberdeen, South Dakota and was a varsity star in football, basketball and track at Central High School in Aberdeen, winning All-State honors in both football and basketball. Now resides in Billings, Mont. during off-seasons.

Sheldon White
Cornerback Miami (Ohio) 3/1/65
5-11 188 D-3 '88 2nd Year

PRO: Talented young cornerback made an instant impression during the pre-season in his rookie season, then appeared in all 16 regular season games, five of those as a starter at the left corner when Mark Collins was injured. Concluded the season as the club's leader in interceptions with four for 70 yards returned, and was named to the All-NFL Rookie team by College &

Pro Football Weekly. Along the way, Sheldon finished with 38 total tackles, while adding eight pass deflections and a forced fumble. Also came up with the game-clinching interception in the club's 13-12 victory over New Orleans and had three kickoff returns for 62 yards and a 20.7 average. Blessed with exceptional speed and constantly improving on his coverages, he should be a contender for a starting job again this coming season. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 5.

COLLEGE: White had a sparkling career at Miami, winning four varsity letters while earning back-to-back Mid-American Conference first-team honors, an All-American honorable mention and a trip to the Senior Bowl after his final campaign. Also a letter winner in varsity track in the 100-meter dash, Sheldon had an eye-popping 4.33 in the 40 as a senior. Also a solid special teamer at Miami, Sheldon accounted for 13 blocked kicks in his career, as well as 193 total tackles, 10 interceptions, 24 pass deflections and five forced fumbles.

PERSONAL: Sheldon White was born on March 1, 1965 in Dayton, Ohio and won varsity letters in football, baseball and track at Meadowdale High School in Dayton and was captain of both the football and baseball squads, winning All-City honors in both sports. Played linebacker in high school and had 33 total QB sacks in his career there.

PERRY WILLIAMS

Cornerback No. Carolina State 5/12/61
6-2 200 D-7 '83 6th Year

PRO: Perry had a fine all-around season in 1988, starting every game and having solid production. He suffered a pinched neck nerve in the season finale vs. the Jets in the first period, and was sorely missed thereafter. All told, Williams had 63 total tackles, led the club with three fumble recoveries and with 16 passes defensed. He also had two QB sacks, and his only interception of the year sealed the Giants' 12-10 win over Dallas in the final minute of play. After not missing a game in his first three seasons as the starting cornerback, Williams sat out the first two in '87 after suffering a sprained neck in the final pre-season game. He returned as the starter for the final 10 games of the regular season, totaling 40 tackles while adding a club-leading two fumble recoveries, a forced fumble, a QB sack and his 10th career interception. Perry had a strong season in '86, playing the right corner with gusto against the run, and coming up with a career high four interceptions for 31 yards returned. He also chipped in with a quarterback sack and a forced fumble along the way and with his outstanding speed and covering ability, discouraged teams from throwing at him a lot. He finished the regular season with 57 total tackles, most of them of the jarring variety, then added six more stops in the post-season games. Swift, hard-hitting cornerback enjoyed his second straight complete season as the starter on the right side in '85, finishing the year with 66 total tackles, a pair of QB sacks, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble as well as two pass interceptions vs. the Redskins and Oilers. He added a half-dozen tackles in the playoff games. After spending his rookie season on Injured Reserve, Perry won the starting right corner job almost from the outset of 1984 then turned in a superb rookie campaign, winning All-NFL Rookie team honors from Football Digest. He played in every game during the season and in the playoffs, finishing with 39 tackles, a fumble recovery and three pass interceptions in the regular season. Blessed with good size and outstanding speed (he's clocked 4.38 in the 40), Perry has the potential to become a Pro Bowl type player. Williams was enjoying an outstanding training camp and pre-season in '83 as a 7th round draft choice, displaying great speed, hitting ability and coverage capabilities, then suffered a stress fracture of his foot after the second pre-season game and went on Injured Reserve for the rest of the season. GAMES PLAYED: 16, STARTED: 16

COLLEGE: Perry was a three-year starter for the Wolfpack at cornerback, and during his career at N.C. State, had 182 total tackles, six interceptions and 23 pass deflections. Clocked in 4.39 for the 40-yard dash, Williams also earned varsity letters in track where he was the Atlantic Coast Conference 200-meter champion with a 21.0 clocking. He was the anchorman on State's 400 and 800-meter relay teams which won first-place honors in both events in the 1982 Penn Relays. He majored in Humanities and Social Sciences.

PERSONAL: Perry Lamar Williams was born in Hamlet, N.C. on May 12, 1961, and was a scholastic standout at Richmond High School in Rockingham, N.C. where he was All-Conference and team captain in football, leading his school to a 12-2 record and the State championship in his senior year. He was also a star in track and baseball in high school and still resides in Hamlet during the off-seasons.

69 FRANK WINTERS
Center Western Illinois 1/23/64
6-3 280 FA- '89 3rd Year

PRO: Signed by the Giants during this past off-season from the Cleveland Browns' unprotected list. Originally a 10th round draft choice, the New Jersey native appeared in all 28 regular season games with the Browns over the past two seasons, mostly on special teams where he was the club's long snapper, although he also saw some limited action at left guard. Also appeared in the Browns' playoff games the past two years as well. Named to the All-NFL Rookie team in 1987 by the Pro Football Writers' Association. With the Giants, he'll take on the long-snapping duties, while also being given the chance to show his talents at guard.

COLLEGE: Four-year letterman at Western Illinois, he won the starting job at center midway through his freshman season, then showed durability by starting 42 games in succession thereafter. Was named to the Division I-AA first-team All-American by both Kodak and the Sporting News in his senior season, and was additionally a first-team All-Gateway Conference choice and team MVP in that senior season in which he was also a team captain.

PERSONAL: Frank Winters was born on January 23, 1964 in Union City, N.J. and was a three-sport star at Emerson High School in his hometown, winning All-League honors in football as well as Offensive Lineman of the Year honors. Married last year, Winters and wife Alita, still reside in Union City.

1989 DRAFTED ROOKIES

Guard-Center
Minnesota

BRIAN WILLIAMS
Round One
6-5 300

For the second year in succession, the Giants utilized their top pick for a massive Big 10 lineman, and in Williams have a highly versatile and powerful young player who has had experience at both center and at guard. A 225-pound tight end prospect when he arrived at Minnesota in 1984, Williams was a redshirt that freshman season, then began a determined weight program which earned him a varsity spot as a reserve guard and special teams' performer in the 1985 season. Brian continued his weight training and constant improvement in 1986, again at guard, and was then moved to the center position in the spring drills. As the starting center in 1987, Williams had a powerful campaign as a main cog in Minnesota's power running game which produced an alltime school record 2,651 rushing yards and an average of 241.0 per game. Among his superlatives that season were 10 knockdown blocks and a clearing block for a 52-yard TD run in a victory over California, and another pants-crackling block that decked three defenders on a school-record 98-yard TD romp by tailback Darrell Thompson against Michigan. Despite the fact that he was then rated as perhaps the best center in the Big 10, Williams' versatility came to the forefront again in 1988 when he was asked to return to the guard position to bolster the Gophers' line, and again he turned in a masterful season. He had a particularly stunning outing against Northwestern with any number of pancake blocks, and showed his outstanding mobility and speed on sweeps by making the key, lead blocks on three touchdown runs. Brian also showed his prowess in picking up the blitz, knocking off not one, but two blitzing linebackers with one block which allowed Gopher QB Scott Schaffner to throw a game-winning TD pass against Northern Illinois. By season's end, Brian's stock among NFL scouts had him ranked near the top of all offensive linemen in the country, not only for his ability as a massive drive blocker with his outstanding size, speed and strength, but for his quickness and balance as well. Timed at 5.0 in the 40, extremely good speed for such a big man, he also got top marks for intelligence and his competitive instincts. Selected for both the East-West and Senior Bowl games after his senior season, he was team captain in his senior year as well. Born on June 8, 1966 in Mount Lebanon, Pa., Brian is the son of former Notre Dame QB star Bob Williams who engineered the Irish 7-0 conquest of Oklahoma in 1957 which ended the Sooners' 47-game win streak. Brian won letters in both football and baseball at Mount Lebanon High School and was an All-Pittsburgh Press selection in the former sport. He likes all outdoor sports, skiing, fishing and snowmobiling, and is also an avid golfer who has been known to hit some titanic tee shots.

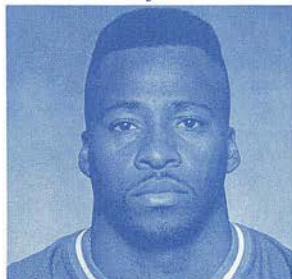

Guard
Iowa

BOB KRATCH
Round Three
6-3 288

Rugged first-team All-Big 10 and honorable mention All-American hails from nearby Mahwah, N.J. and has been a lifelong diehard Giants' fan. Rated as the Hawkeyes' top offensive lineman for the past three seasons, Bob has shown his versatility by winning All-Big 10 honors at both guard (1986) and at tackle (1988). Iowa head coach Hayden Fry has been one of Bob's biggest boosters, not only for his playing ability, but for his durability and leadership qualities. "We've always known he's a winner... and I doubt there are few offensive linemen in America better than Bob," says Fry. After a red-shirt season in 1984, Kratch worked hard during that next off-season and won the starting right guard job for seven games in his 1985 first-year campaign. His very first start as a freshman came against No. 2 ranked Michigan in that 1985 season on national TV and Kratch went the distance as Iowa knocked off the Wolverines. In 1986, Bob had a solid sophomore year, starting every game as the Hawkeyes were among the national leaders in total offense, and winning first-team All-Big 10 honors for the first time. In 1987, Kratch was off to another powerful season, winning pre-season All-American mention, and had several outstanding games in which he won game MVP honors, particularly in a 15-14 win over Arizona when he spearheaded a 221-yard rushing day for Iowa, including the key block to spring the fullback for the game-winning touchdown plunge. He then suffered a broken leg in the sixth game of the season and was out for the remainder of the campaign. He recovered completely after weight training and running, and came back in his senior season to have another banner campaign, this time at left tackle where he won his second first-team All-Big 10 honors. Additionally, he was elected team captain and was selected for the East-West Shrine game after his senior season. He was the outstanding lineman for Iowa in '88 as the Hawkeyes led the Big 10 in passing offense with an average of 277.0 yards-per-game, and he also led the club with an average of eight knockdown blocks per game, showing his complete versatility as both a tenacious drive blocker on the run and as a strong and physical pass blocker. All told, Kratch was a starter in 36 of the 43 career games he appeared in at Iowa and completely earned all of the accolades he piled up during his four-year varsity career. Born on January 6, 1966, Bob won numerous All-Conference and All-State honors in football at Mahwah High School, playing on the state championship team in 1982, and also holds the Mahwah school record for the discus throw in track. He majored in Communications at Iowa.

Safety
Louisiana State

GREG JACKSON
Round Three (A)
6-1 200

Seeking depth at the safety position, the Giants came up with a highly peripatetic prospect in Jackson who was a first-team All-Southeastern Conference selection as well as third-team All-American and who led the nation in interception return yardage with an impressive total of 219 yards. During his four varsity seasons at LSU, Greg was a starter at both strong safety and at free safety, winning first-team All-SEC honors in his junior campaign at strong safety, and then having that banner senior season at free safety. He had a multitude of powerful performances in 1988. All told, he was in on 63 total tackles, had two forced fumbles and three pass deflections while leading the SEC with seven interceptions for those 219 yards returned. Along the way, he had 12 tackles vs. Florida; a pair of interceptions in a win over Kentucky; and then displayed his coast-to-coast ability in wins over Mississippi State and Tulane. In the former triumph, he picked off a pass in his own end zone and zoomed it back 100 yards for a touchdown, tying an alltime school record, and then in the latter victory, he picked off his seventh interception of the year and hot-footed that one back 71 yards for a touchdown. As a junior at strong safety, Greg produced another strong season, finishing with 65 total tackles, including three for losses and one QB sack, and had five pass deflections. He also doubled as a punt returner that season and averaged 11.6 with 93 yards on eight returns. Among his top efforts in '87 were 12 tackles vs. Mississippi State and 11 vs. Alabama, and then had a defensive MVP performance in the Gator Bowl victory over South Carolina when he had eight tackles as well as two interceptions for 91 yards in returns in that powerful 30-13 triumph over the Gamecocks. As a sophomore, Jackson was also the starting strong safety and was a second-team All-State choice. In that campaign, he also had some big games and was the SEC Defensive Player of the Week after registering 11 tackles and coming up with a pair of interceptions, one of which he returned 24 yards for a TD in a 28-17 win over Florida. That same season, he shared an SEC Defensive Player of the Week award with eight tackles and an interception vs. Alabama. Born on August 20, 1966, Greg was an All-City quarterback at American High School in Miami, Fla., leading his team to a 10-2 mark. A Criminal Justice major, Greg's four-year stats showed 199 tackles, 11 interceptions for 260 yards returned and three TDs, a 10.1 punt return average and top ratings.

LEWIS TILLMAN

Running Back
Jackson State

Round Four
6-0 195

Here's a real Horatio Alger type tailback who has crammed a lifetime of honors into his collegiate career. Twice an All-American selection, he broke Walter Payton's career rushing records at Jackson State with a four-year total of 3,989 yards, and despite coming from Division I-AA was selected to play in three post-season bowl games—Blue-Gray, East-West and Senior Bowl—and was named the MVP in two of those bowl games. He won the Jake Gaither Award as the Black College Player of the Year, graduated with a degree in Business Management with a 3.1 GPA, and was honored with a parade on Lewis Tillman Day in his hometown of Hazlehurst, Miss. Other than that, he was relatively inactive during his seasons at Jackson State. Born on April 16, 1967 in Hazlehurst, Tillman was a legendary all-around student-athlete at Hazlehurst High School as an All-District football, basketball and track star, while also ranking among the academic leaders in his high school and graduating with honors. He began his career at Jackson State with a bang, rushing for 135 yards on 18 carries in his very first varsity game as a freshman, and from that starting point went on to become his school's alltime rushing leader, while surpassing the marks of the great Walter Payton. Despite sitting out all of the 1986 season with an injury, Tillman finished his collegiate career with 3,989 yards rushing on 830 attempts for a 4.8 average, added 28 receptions for another 201 yards and scored a total of 33 touchdowns. During his final two seasons, he set single season rushing records with 1,436 yards in 1988 after a 1,474-yard season in 1987 and over those two years scored 23 touchdowns while racking up 100-yard rushing games in 15 of his last 17 appearances. He had a total of seven rushing games with 150 or more yards, including a pair of 200-plus outings with 224 yards vs. Grambling and 202 vs. Alabama State. While Tillman does not have blinding speed, he has the knack of great acceleration and open field running ability, along with the strength and determination to run inside and make the tough yardage. He received top ratings for his overall determination and competitive instincts, as well as for his sure-handed running ability which resulted in a paucity of fumbles, despite the high number of carries and his inside running. Clocked at 4.6 for the 40, he still has the quickness to turn it on around the corners, and should be an interesting prospect when training camp begins.

Nose Tackle
Arizona

BRAD HENKE
Round Four (A)
6-3 275

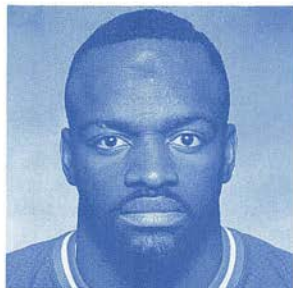

Seeking depth at defensive tackle, the Giants feel that Henke is one of those prospects who has shown constant improvement during his collegiate career. Brad began that career at Iowa State and saw some action as a starter there as a freshman, then switched to Palomar Junior College in San Marcos, Calif. in 1986 where he was an All-American choice after racking up 128 total tackles and 12 QB sacks as a defensive end. His next stop was at Arizona and during his two varsity seasons there, Henke again showed that constant improvement. In 1987, he was a starter at left tackle for five games and at nose tackle for another and came up with 33 total tackles, three QB sacks, three pass deflections and a blocked punt, despite missing most of the final month of the season with a sprained ankle. Continuing a dedicated weight training program which improved his bench press over 70 pounds, Henke was selected as the team's most improved defensive player in the Spring drills, then responded even more by having a banner senior season. The starting LT in every game, he finished the season with 90 total tackles, had six QB sacks, a forced fumble and a pass interception and won All-Pac 10 honorable mention, as well as selection to a pair of post-season bowl games, the Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl where he impressed the pro scouts. Among his top outings in '88, he was named Pac-10 Defensive Player of the Week for his powerful play in a win over Washington when he had nine solo tackles, three QB sacks, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery. With 4.9 speed in the 40, Brad got high marks from the scouts for his aggressive style of play and has the versatility to play any position on the defensive line. Born on April 10, 1966 in Columbus, Neb., Henke starred in football and baseball at Heritage High School in Littleton, Colo., winning All-State honors as a linebacker and tight end. He now resides in Oceanside, Calif.

DAVE MEGGETT

Running Back
Towson State

Round Five
5-7 180

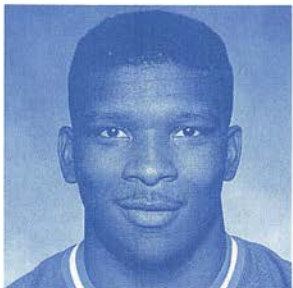

When you talk about production, honors, versatility and overall excitement, you're talking about Meggett, a dynamic small package who has made his collegiate mark at two colleges, both on offensive and on defense, not to mention kickoff returns and various other feats. He's the only player in NCAA history to be named team captain at two different four-year colleges, winning the first honor while a sophomore cornerback at Morgan State and then being named captain at Towson State last year as a tailback and return specialist. While at Morgan State, Meggett also played some quarterback as a freshman, but in his sophomore season at corner won All-Mideastern Athletic Conference honors when he had 70 total tackles, five interceptions and six pass deflections, while adding 279 yards on kickoff returns for a 23.3 average. At Towson State after his transfer, that coaching staff took one look at his 4.5 speed and elusive style of running and switched him to running back. That paid dividends at once as Dave was the 1987 NCAA Division I-AA all-purpose yardage leader with an average of 199 yards per game, winning All-American honorable mention. That season he had 814 yards rushing, 572 on 48 pass receptions and 405 yards on returns, while scoring a total of 16 touchdowns. This past season, he added even further to those laurels, winning consensus first-team Division I-AA All-American honors, as well as the Walter Payton Award as the NCAA Division I-AA Player of the Year. Along the way, he added 1,612 all-purpose yards to finish third in the country with his 179.1 yards per game. His category totals for '88 included 844 yards rushing, 216 on 25 receptions and 552 on returns, with 418 of those on 13 kickoff returns for a gaudy 32.2 average which led the country in that department. Along the way, he had a total of 14 touchdowns, with two of those coming on kickoff returns of 100 and 84 yards. He also won ECAC National Player of the Week honors vs. Northeastern when he rushed for 87 yards and three TDs, caught four passes for 57 yards, returned a kickoff 100 yards for a TD and had 252 all-purpose yards in a 45-34 victory. At season's end, he was also selected to play in the Senior Bowl against Division-I players, and came up with the MVP award for the North squad in that game. Born on April 30, 1966 in Charleston, S.C., Dave was a three-time All-Conference two-way star at Bonds-Wilson High School in his hometown. A Sports Management major, Meggett comes from a large family, with six brothers and sisters.

HOWARD CROSS

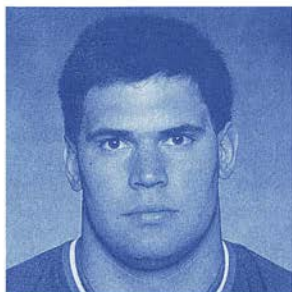

Tight End
Alabama

Round Six
6-5 245

Big strong tight end was a three-year starter for the Crimson Tide and while he earned most of his plaudits for his ferocious blocking ability, he steadily developed into a clutch third-down receiver, particularly over the middle. As a freshman in 1985, Cross won a varsity letter, but at just 210 pounds, he was used primarily as a backup TE although he appeared in every game as a member of the special teams' units. As a soph, he saw more action, mostly as a blocking TE, but had his first taste of glory in a 28-10 victory over Notre Dame when he had two catches for 27 yards, including his first TD reception. Continuing a weight training program which built him up to his present 245 pounds, Howard had a big junior season in 1987, winning first-team All-Southeastern Conference honors by the league's coaches and catching at least one pass in every game for a total of 17 for 158 yards, while continuing his powerhouse blocking which helped the Tide average 198.8 rushing yards per game. He finished that season in grand style with six catches for 81 yards and a touchdown in the Hall of Fame Bowl against Michigan. This past season was Howard's best. He had 19 receptions on the year for 226 yards and three touchdowns, while earning high praise from head coach Bill Curry. "Howard is just an awesome blocker and he deserves much of the credit for the success of our running game," said Curry. The pollsters agreed as Cross won the Jacobs Trophy as the outstanding blocker in the SEC. Along the way, he had a six-catch day for two touchdowns in a win over Mississippi State and continued his solid special teams' play as well. At season's end, he also was selected to play in the Senior Bowl and continued that topnotch blocking. Born on August 8, 1967, Cross was a standout football and basketball star at New Hope High School in New Hope, Ala. and was a straight A student through high school. Also a leader in Fellowship of Athletes.

Tackle
Eastern Illinois

DAVE POPP
Round Seven
6-5 285

Extremely strong offensive line prospect who won first-team Division I-AA honors in the Gateway Conference, Popp was personally scouted and recommended by the Giants' Rosey Brown, himself a former nine-time All-NFL tackle and Hall of Fame member. Rosey was particularly impressed by Popp's strength, agility and the ability to sustain his blocks and feels that with continued improvement and learning the nuances of the pro game that Popp has a good chance of making the club. When Dave first arrived at Eastern Illinois he was a defensive line candidate after being an All-Conference high school defensive end and tackle. He was almost immediately switched to the offensive side of the ball and was a backup OT in both his freshman and sophomore campaigns. Meanwhile, he became a dedicated member of the weight training program and one of the top performers in the bench press, then won the starting job at ORT in his junior season, performing with gusto as the starter and earning high ratings from the coaching staff. This past season, despite a final 5-6 record for Eastern Illinois, Popp had a premier campaign, winning not only first-team All-Gateway Conference honors, but honorable mention All-American by Associated Press and Sports Network. With Dave as the bulwark, Eastern Illinois averaged 302 yards on offense in '88 and head coach Bob Spoo said, "Dave was a physically dominating player... he's a quiet young man, but by example has become a real leader. He's the most legitimate pro prospect on our team." Born on October 30, 1966 in Arlington Heights, Ill., Dave was a standout star in football and track at Libertyville High School in Libertyville, Ill., winning All-Conference honors as a two-way lineman and also winning conference titles in the shot-put and high jump, where despite his size, he cleared 6'3".

MYRON GUYTON

Defensive Back
Eastern Kentucky

Round Eight
6-1 205

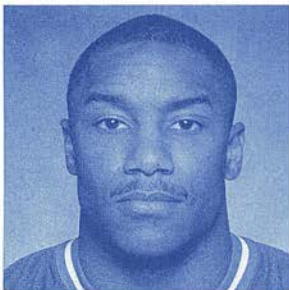

Another Division I-AA product, Guyton had a distinguished career at Eastern Kentucky as both a strong safety and cornerback, and while he was not exactly a household word at the NFL Draft, he was well known to the Giants' scouts and to coach Bill Parcells who personally worked Guyton out during a spring workout session. Extremely athletic with great agility and 4.6 speed, Guyton also earned high ratings for his competitive instincts and for his tenacious tackling. A starter for all four of his seasons at Eastern Kentucky, Myron was initially a cornerback, but then made his mark as a strong safety over the past three campaigns. In 1988, as Eastern Kentucky won the Ohio Valley Conference championship and then went on to defeat two more teams in the Division I-AA playoffs before losing to Georgia Southern in the finals, Guyton had a big season. He finished the year with 81 total tackles, had two forced fumbles and also led the club in interceptions with six for 37 yards returned. He also had a punt return average of 12.5 and was an honorable mention on the All-OVC team. Myron also had a banner year in 1987 with 51 total tackles and one pass interception and won the OVC Defensive Player of the Week award against Western Kentucky when he had eight tackles and also blocked two punts, one of which was returned for a touchdown which clinched the victory. All told, during his four-year career, Guyton finished with a total of 285 tackles, had 11 pass interceptions, five forced fumbles, four fumble recoveries and four blocked punts. He was also named team MVP on defense for 1988, and aside from his athletic prowess was the president of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity and vice-president of the college hall council. Born on August 26, 1967 in Metcalf, Ga., Myron was a three-sport star in football, basketball and track at Central High School in Thomasville, Ga., and has eight brothers and sisters.

A.J. GREENE

Cornerback
Wake Forest

Round Nine
5-8 167

Despite his 5-8 size, Greene has been a giant of a defensive player with Wake Forest over his four varsity seasons, all of which he played as a starter. Won that starting job in his second game as a freshman, then missed only two starts during the rest of his career, those two coming as a result of an ankle injury in 1986. Twice named to the first-team All-ACC team and an honorable mention All-American this past year, Greene completed his career with 17 pass interceptions, matching the alltime ACC record in that category, while setting a new Wake Forest mark. He also led the Deacons in interceptions all four seasons, the first time anyone has accomplished that feat, and he also holds the alltime school records for most interceptions in a season (7) and in one game (4). A.J. was named ACC Defensive Player of the Week five times during his career, and was also named the National Defensive Player of the Week by Sports Illustrated in 1987 when he had that school-record four interceptions vs. Georgia Tech, one of which he returned for a 37-yard TD, while adding five solo tackles and three pass deflections. He also set another school career mark with a total of 11 blocked kicks, including four during the 1988 season, and led Wake Forest in deflected passes in each of the past two seasons, with a career high of 18 in 1987 and 14 more last season. All told, Greene's four-year figures were 245 total tackles, 46 pass deflections, 17 interceptions for 175 yards returned, 11 blocked kicks and 43 punt returns for a 7.9 average. Born Anthony Jerome Greene on June 24, 1966 in Hendersonville, N.C., A.J. was an All-Conference choice in football, track and baseball, and played in this past season's Blue-Gray game. An older brother, George "Tiger" Greene is a defensive back with the Green Bay Packers.

RODNEY LOWE
Round Ten
6-5 260

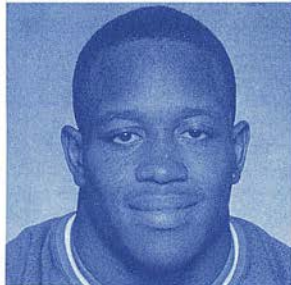

Three-year starter at tackle for Ole Miss after being switched from defensive end in his freshman year, Rodney was a highly consistent and productive performer. Blessed with exceptional 4.9 speed for a big man, Lowe had a solid senior season, winning Southeast Conference Player of the Week honors when he had seven tackles, three for losses, and a QB sack in a victory over Vanderbilt. He won Defensive Player of the Week awards five times from the Ole Miss coaching staff for his efforts against Memphis State, Kentucky, Tennessee, Mississippi State and Arkansas as well, and at season's end was selected to play in the post-season Blue-Gray game. He finished as the fourth leading tackler for the Rebs in his senior year with 63 total tackles, added three QB sacks, two pass deflections and a forced fumble. As a freshman, Rodney played in all 11 games, winning a starting job halfway through the season and coming up with seven solo tackles in his first starting assignment vs. Tulane. As a soph in 1986, he started all 11 games and the Independence Bowl at tackle and finished as the team's third-leading tackler with a total of 83, adding a team high four QB sacks and also leading the club with 10 tackles behind the line. That same year he had his career-high of 15 tackles in one game vs. Vanderbilt, and was also named Defensive Player of the Week by the Ole Miss Quarterback Club for a 10-tackle effort against Tennessee. Continued his solid work in 1987, leading all down linemen with 98 total tackles and three QB sacks, while adding four pass breakups. All told, his four-year stats showed 269 total tackles, 11 QB sacks and three fumble recoveries. Born on December 2, 1967 in Fort Lauderdale, Fla., Rodney was a four-year letterman in football, track and basketball at Ely High School in Pompano Beach, Fla., and was an All-State choice in football. He has nine brothers and sisters.

Round Eleven
6-4 245

After a star-studded career in junior college, Rinehart was a starter for his last two seasons at Tennessee-Martin, and not only won varsity letters for two seasons in football, but became one of those rare college athletes who lettered in two major sports when he also won a letter for varsity basketball this past season as a power forward with the Pacers. Because of his excellent all-around athletic versatility, combined with superb speed and quickness, Rinehart has a chance to make a solid impression on the Giants' coaches in training camp. He utilized that speed and quickness to become an outstanding pass rusher for the Pacers, leading the club in QB sacks for the past two campaigns with a total of 14, while also adding eight pass deflections, a tribute to his jumping ability. To take advantage of that quickness, the Pacer coaching staff often switched him back and forth from right defensive end to left defensive end in game situations, and he responded well, proving that he can play the position from either side. As a junior, he finished the year with 56 total tackles, then improved on those marks this past year to conclude that campaign with 78 total tackles, while winning honorable mention All-Gulf South Conference, and earning Defensive Player of the Game awards three times from the coaching staff. Born on June 6, 1965 in Norristown, Pa., Jerome was an All-Conference football, basketball and track performer at Norristown Area High School in his hometown, and was captain of both the football and basketball teams. He began his collegiate career at Arizona Western Junior College and won starting jobs there in both of his seasons, capping his second year by winning All-American Junior College first-team honors, as well as All-Arizona first-team defensive honors. Additionally, he was an Academic All-American, winning a degree in General Studies with a 3.4 GPA.

1989 FREE AGENTS

ADAMS, LISH: Linebacker, 6-1, 235; Sam Houston State... Extremely quick linebacker who has been clocked at 4.7 and used that speed to track down ball carriers and lead his team in total tackles for three straight years, while also making All-Conference honors twice. Born on March 26, 1967 in Jasper, Tex., Lish was a three-sport star in football, basketball and track at Jasper High School in his hometown.

The 1988 SEASON IN REVIEW

September 5 GIANTS 27, Washington 20 (76,417) at Giants Stadium

The Giants began the regular season in smashing style on this Monday Night opener by knocking off the defending Super Bowl champion Redskins after trailing 13-0 in the early going. The Skins scored on both of their first two possessions on short-range FGs, then upped it to 13-0 on a 29-yard TD toss from Doug Williams to Ricky Sanders. A Raul Allegre FG cut the lead to 13-3 at halftime, and then the Giants began a second-half domination that began with a Joe Morris 9-yard TD dash up the middle to cut it to 13-10, followed by a 35-yard punt return by Phil McConkey which set up Allegre's knotting 32-yard field goal. The Giants then drove again, but Zeke Mowatt fumbled the ball away at the Skins' 5-yard line to kill that threat. Undaunted, the Giants' defense then took over to make two big plays in the final period for the victory. First, Gary Reasons broke through to block a Skins' punt, with Tom Flynn returning the block 27 yards for the go-ahead TD, and then on the next series, Pepper Johnson roared in on Williams for a sack which caused a fumble, and NT Jim Burt picked it up and rumbled 39 yards for his first NFL touchdown and a 27-13 lead, which held up despite a Skins' TD with just 11 seconds left to play. Phil Simms had 19 completions in the win, with Mowatt, Lionel Manuel, Mark Bavaro and Mark Ingram all catching four. Pepper Johnson had 10 tackles and a pair of QB sacks for the winners.

September 11 GIANTS 17, San Francisco 20 (75,943) at Giants Stadium

This was one of, if not the most, numbing losses of the season. After scoring a go-ahead touchdown with just 1:21 left to play for a 17-13 lead over the eventual Super Bowl champions, the Giants had the 49ers in a hole with third and 10 from their own 22-yard line with just 42 seconds left to play in the game. Then, Niner QB Joe Montana let loose a bomb up the right sidelines to WR Jerry Rice who took it over the outstretched hands of CB Mark Collins, and when safety Kenny Hill collided with Collins and sent both defensive backs sprawling, Rice raced untouched for 78 yards and the crushing winning score. Early on, the Giants had taken a 7-0 lead on their first possession after Eric Dorsey had recovered a Steve Young fumble. The score came on a 12-yard toss from Phil Simms to Lionel Manuel. The Giants threatened again in the first period, but botched up a fake field goal, with SF recovering the fumble which led to a FG to cut it to 7-3. The Niners then drove 57 yards for a go-ahead TD and a 10-7 lead, but the Giants knotted it 10-10 at halftime on Raul Allegre's 36-yard FG. Montana then relieved Young at QB in the second half and the Niners took a 13-10 lead on a third period FG. With the defense holding SF at bay, the action churned through the fourth period until Phil McConkey returned an SF punt 32 yards to set up a Simms' TD pass to Manuel for 15 yards and that 17-13 with less than two minutes to play. Then came Montana's bomb and the crunching setback. Simms was 21-for-37 for 227 yards and two TDs, while Manuel had six receptions and both scores. Pepper Johnson had 12 tackles on defense.

September 18 GIANTS 12, Dallas 10 (55,325) at Dallas

This game will be remembered for its controversial opening kickoff in which the Giants scored a quick safety, and then held on to win the game by that very margin of two points. On that opening kickoff, the Cowboys' Daryl Clack bobbled the kickoff in his end zone, then attempted to run the ball out of the end zone, but was tackled in there by Mark Collins and the Giants had a 2-0 lead after nine seconds of elapsed play. The replay official later ruled that the play should have been called a touchback, but there was no replay at the time, and the officials' call resulted in the safety. Thereafter, Dallas took a 3-2 lead on a first period FG, only to have the Giants retaliate with a FG of their own after an Ottis Anderson TD was negated by a penalty for a 5-3 halftime score. Midway through the third period, the Giants took a 12-3 lead on an 86-yard drive which was capped by a Phil Simms 9-yard TD pass to Lionel Manuel. Back came the Pokes to close it to 12-10 after back-to-back 15-yard penalties on the Giants, and then in the final period, the Cowboys moved again, but a key interception by LB Harry Carson and 66-yard return snuffed the threat. Perry Williams then came up with another interception to kill a final Cowboys' possession and the Giants had win number two of the season. Manuel had a big day for the winners with nine catches for 142 yards, while Joe Morris had 107 yards rushing.

September 25 GIANTS 31, L.A. Rams 45 (75,617) at Giants Stadium

A bumper as the Giants suffered through a blocked punt, four QB sacks, two lost fumbles and an interception and consequently were roughed up by the Rams in their worst setback of the campaign. The blocked punt came on the Giants' first possession and set up the Rams' first TD, and then L.A. poured it on by taking advantage of the first lost fumble and an interception to build up a 28-3 lead late in the second period. The Giants, however, battled back and managed to close to 35-24 in the third period, but the Rams continued to make hay and won it despite outgaining the Giants by just six total yards. QB Jim Everett threw five TD passes for the winners and RB Greg Bell rushed for 112 yards. Phil Simms completed 29 passes for the Giants for 309 yards and a pair of TDs, with RB George Adams catching 10 passes. LB Pepper Johnson got his first NFL touchdown on a 33-yard interception return.

October 2 GIANTS 24, Washington 23 (54,601) at Washington

The Giants made it a clean sweep of the defending Super Bowl champion Redskins by building up a commanding 24-9 lead over the Skins into the third period, then holding on for dear life to escape with the slender victory when the Redskins' Chip Lohmiller missed a 36-yard FG attempt with under three minutes to play, and the Giants ran out the clock to preserve the triumph. This one was a see-saw affair through the early going, then the Giants took a 17-9 halftime lead on touchdown plunges by Ottis Anderson and Maurice Carthon, and built up the 24-9 lead early in the third period after a 78-yard drive capped by a Phil Simms' 28-yard TD pass to Odessa Turner. Turner injured his knee on the TD catch, and was out for the rest of the season. The Redskins then rallied on TD passes from Mark Rypien to Ricky Sanders, but the last Skins' possession resulted in Lohmiller's misfire and the Giants were home free. Simms had 17 pass completions in the win, with Turner having his best game with eight receptions for 103 yards before suffering the season-ending injury. Lawrence Taylor made his season debut after a four-game league suspension and registered a pair of QB sacks, one of which forced a fumble which led to a Giants' FG.

October 10 GIANTS 13, Philadelphia 24 (63,736) at Philadelphia

The Giants had ample opportunities in this Monday night outing, penetrating the Eagles' 20-yard line on three occasions and coming away with only three points on those three excursions. Meanwhile, Eagles' QB Randall Cunningham was having a career game with 31-of-41 for 369 yards and three touchdowns, as the Giants fell to 3-3 in the standings. An early 47-yard FG by Raul Allegre gave the Giants a 3-0 first period edge, but Cunningham responded with a pair of TD throws and the Birds added a FG for a 17-3 lead in the third period. The Giants then closed to 17-13 in the fourth period after a Phil Simms' 38-yard TD toss to Zeke Mowatt, then drove inside the Eagles' 20 again with less than three minutes to play. Simms then hit Mark Bavaro for what appeared to be the go-ahead TD on fourth down, but Bavaro dropped the pass and the Eagles took over. Cunningham then fired an 80-yard TD bomb to WR Chris Carter with less than two minutes left to wrap it up. Simms passed for 324 yards before leaving the game with a knee injury, with Bavaro catching nine for 148 yards.

October 16 GIANTS 30, Detroit 10 (74,813) at Giants Stadium

After trailing 10-7 at halftime, the Giants erupted for 23 unanswered points in the second half, while limiting Detroit to just 13 total yards in that second half, and cruised to the 30-10 triumph. The Giants struck first in this one, moving 85 yards, with Phil Simms tossing a 6-yard TD pass to Mark Bavaro for the early 7-0 lead. Detroit bounced right back, however, taking a 10-7 halftime lead on Rusty Hilger's 39-yard TD toss to Garry James and Eddie Murray's 32-yard FG. Then came the onslaught in the second half as Simms began the surge with a 51-yard TD connection to WR Stephen Baker, and then Raul Allegre booting a trio of FGs in that same third period. Joe Morris ended the scoring with an 8-yard TD run on a trap play as the Giants rolled up 402 yards of total offense. Simms was sharp all day with 23-for-32 for 320 yards and two touchdowns, while Lawrence Taylor had a big day on defense with 11 tackles and three QB sacks for 29 yards.

October 23 GIANTS 23, Atlanta 16 (45,092) at Atlanta

The Giants appeared deadlier than a doornail in this one, trailing the Falcons 16-6 with just 3:25 left to play in the game. Then, in startling fashion, Paul McFadden booted a 45-yard FG to cut it to 16-9, and then with no timeouts left, Harry Carson intercepted a Falcon pass at the Atlanta 32, and four plays later, Ottis Anderson dove in for a one-yard TD to knot it at 16-16. Then, with just 1:24 left, Carl Banks came up with yet another interception on the Falcons, and returned this one 15 yards to the end zone for his first NFL touchdown and a 23-16 Giants' victory. At that, the Falcons threw one last scare into the game, driving into Giants' territory in the final seconds, with Terry Kinard wrestling a Falcon receiver down at the Giants' one-yard line as the gun sounded to end the final, frantic few minutes. Earlier, the Falcons had dominated the game and taken the 16-6 lead on a trio of FGs and a one-yard plunge by RB John Settle, while the Giants could muster but a pair of FGs by McFadden. Three pass interceptions on Phil Simms also cost the Giants several scoring opportunities. But, as the old adage goes, all's well that ends well.

October 30 GIANTS 13, Detroit 10 OT (38,354) at Detroit

The Giants made it three wins in a row, but this one was another nail-biter right until PK Paul McFadden hoisted a 33-yard FG to win it in overtime. The Giants were sluggish in the early going, and when usually reliable punt returner Phil McConkey was hit hard on a punt return and fumbled it away, the Lions got on the board first. McConkey suffered a concussion on the play and sat out the rest of the game. That fumble led to a 15-yard TD pass from Rusty Hilger to Jeff Chadwick for the 7-0 lead, but the Giants cut that somewhat when Phil Simms' 25-yard pass to Lionel Manuel set up a Paul McFadden 42-yard FG to make it 7-3 at halftime. The Giants went up 10-7 midway in the third period on a 61-yard drive which was capped by a Joe Morris 1-yard TD plunge. Morris then fumbled in the fourth quarter which set up a Lion's drive which resulted in a knotting FG by Eddie Murray. Later in the period, Hilger was kayoed by Leonard Marshall and sat out the remainder of the contest, with McFadden missing a 57-yard FG attempt on the last play of regulation. In overtime, with John Witkowski at QB replacing Hilger, the Lions fumbled a handoff deep in their own territory with Lawrence Taylor recovering, and with just 1:13 elapsed in the OT, McFadden drilled the winning 33-yarder for the victory. Simms was 22-for-36 for 227 yards for the Giants, while the defense held the Lions to just 146 yards of total offense. Taylor had eight tackles and a pair of QB sacks in addition to his fumble recovery.

November 6 GIANTS 29, Dallas 21 (75,826) at Giants Stadium

The Giants upped their record to 7-3 with a first half onslaught against the Cowboys, and in the process swept the series with Dallas for the first time since 1984. After a Paul McFadden 37-yard FG opened the scoring, Lawrence Taylor sacked QB Steve Pelluer forcing a fumble, which was subsequently turned into an Ottis Anderson 1-yard TD dive for a 10-0 lead, and then McFadden added a 50-yard FG. Herschel Walker's fumble led to another Giants' TD drive, this one coming on a Phil Simms' 22-yard TD pass to Stephen Baker, and then Taylor repeated his act by sacking Pelluer again, resulting in another fumble, which led to a Simms' 6-yard TD toss to Baker for a halftime 26-0 bulge. Dallas replaced Pelluer with Kevin Sweeney in the second half, and Sweeney unleashed a passing attack which resulted in a trio of TD passes, but a 47-yard McFadden FG early in the fourth period gave the Giants a 29-14 edge, which held up in the end. All told, the Cowboys threw 55 passes and completed 29. Sims had just 11 completions, but had a pair of TD connections. Taylor had six total tackles, two QB sacks and two forced fumbles.

November 13 GIANTS 17, Phoenix 24 (65,324) at Phoenix

The Giants' first trip to Phoenix turned to ashes, as did the four-game winning streak. With Neil Lomax pitching 7-for-8, the Cardinals mounted two powerful long-distance touchdown drives in the first period for 14-0 lead, and the Giants were never able to overcome this early deficit. They did close to 21-14 in the fourth quarter, knocked Lomax out of the game with a knee injury, but watched replacement Cliff Stoudt lead a FG drive in the final five minutes to put the game out of reach. The Giants were inside the Cardinals' 25-yard line on three occasions, but managed only one field goal out of those three opportunities. Lomax was 23-for-35 for 353 yards and two TDs before being injured, with WR Roy Green having a field day with nine catches for 176 yards. Simms was just 20-for-45 for 195 yards as the Giants had just 280 yards of offense. Veteran George Martin had four tackles and two QB sacks for the Giants.

November 20 GIANTS 17, Philadelphia 23 OT (43,621) at Giants Stadium

Another jolting loss for the Giants as they watched a 17-10 lead evaporate in the final five minutes of play when the Eagles recovered their own fumble in the end zone... this coming after the Giants lost Phil Simms with a shoulder injury in the third quarter. Then, in overtime, the Giants' Lawrence Taylor blocked an Eagle FG attempt, but the Eagles picked up the blocked kick and ran it in for the winning touchdown. At the outset, the Eagles got an early score after a Simms' throw was intercepted by Seth Joyner and returned to the Giants' 2-yard line, with Randall Cunningham sneaking it over with a hotly disputed call by the line judge. Undaunted by the disputed call, the Giants bounced back for a knot as Simms hit Stacy Robinson for a 62-yard TD bomb, and then the teams swapped FGs en route to a 10-10 halftime deadlock. Simms then took the Giants on a 94-yard drive in the third period, hitting Stephen Baker for a 9-yard TD to give the Giants a 17-10 lead but shortly thereafter he was decked by Reggie White and had to leave the game. Subsequently, the Eagles knotted it at 17 when Cunningham connected with Keith Jackson, who fumbled the ball into the end zone where WR Chris Carter beat safety Kenny Hill to the ball for the touchdown. In overtime, Jeff Hostetler threw an interception which was returned to the Giants' 41, and after the drive stalled, Taylor broke through to block the FG, only to have the Eagles Clyde Simmons field it on a bounce and run it in for the bizarre winning TD. Simms was 17-for-28 for 253 yards in three periods, while Hostetler went 7-for-13 for 83 but had two interceptions.

November 27 GIANTS 13, New Orleans 12 (66,526) at New Orleans

In a stirring defensive battle in which Lawrence Taylor played one of his most memorable games, the Giants won this Sunday night thriller on Paul McFadden's 35-yard FG with just 21 seconds left to play in a frenetic final five minutes when there were five changes of possession. With the Saints leading 12-10, Jeff Rutledge had a pass intercepted with 4:54 to play, but then Gary Reasons intercepted the Saints with 3:13 to play, only to have Joe Morris fumble it back to New Orleans with 3:07 to go. The Giants then forced a Saints' punt with 1:00 to play, and Rutledge set up the winning FG with a 33-yard pass to Stephen Baker. The Saints got the ball back with 16 seconds to go, but Sheldon White's interception ended the spine-tingler. Early on, the Saints had a 6-0 lead on a pair of Morton Anderson FGs, but the Giants bounced back on an 85-yard TD bomb from Jeff Hostetler to Baker to take the lead, only to have Anderson boot another FG for a 9-7 halftime edge. Then, McFadden and Anderson swapped fourth period FGs to set up the game-winner in the frantic final seconds. Taylor, playing despite an injured shoulder, won NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors in this game, registering 10 total tackles, three QB sacks for 26 yards and two forced fumbles as he almost single-handedly kept the high-powered Saints as bay. Rutledge finished 11-for-17 for 113 yards in relief of Hostetler in the second half.

December 5 GIANTS 44, Phoenix 7 (73,438) at Giants Stadium

Coming up with their biggest scoring output of the year, the Giants revenged an earlier setback in Phoenix by blistering the Cardinals from start to finish, smothering the usually potent Bird attack to just 158 total yards, while racking up 25 first downs to just seven for Phoenix. In this one, the Giants sped to a 17-0 lead on a short-range FG and a brace of Phil

Simms' TD passes of 14 and 9 yards to WR Stacy Robinson. Phoenix scored for its only time late in the second period, and then the Giants rang up 27 unanswered points in the second half, with ex-Cardinal Ottis Anderson knotting a club mark with three rushing touchdowns in the half. The defense hounded Neil Lomax into a 9-for-25 performance and intercepted him twice, one each by Sheldon White and Terry Kinard. Joe Morris had a big day overland with 122 yards rushing and one TD, and the Giants added three fumble recoveries for five takeaways. Roy Green was also held in check with just three catches for only 23 yards.

December 11 GIANTS 28, Kansas City 12 (69,807) at Giants Stadium

In their final home game of the season, the Giants ran the season record to 10-5, and in the process held the Chiefs without a touchdown en route to a 28-12 triumph. The Giants never trailed in this one, taking a 7-0 lead on their first possession as RB Joe Morris carried the ball on the Giants' first nine plays in the sub-freezing weather. That drive was capped by Phil Simms' 12-yard TD toss to Mark Bavaro, and after the Chiefs closed to 7-3 at halftime, and then to 7-6 early in the third period, Simms connected with Bavaro again, this time from 24 yards out, to make it 14-6. The Giants then wrapped it up in the final period with two scoring drives, with Ottis Anderson scoring after the first drive from two yards out, and then Maurice Carthon plowing over from five yards out for the concluding score. Morris finished with 140 yards rushing in the victory, his highest total of the year, while Simms completed but six passes, with two of those going for touchdowns. Defensively, Lawrence Taylor had seven tackles and two QB sacks.

December 18 Giants 21, JETS 27 (69,770) at Giants Stadium (away)

Needing only a victory over the Jets in this final game of the season to clinch the NFC East and a home field advantage in the playoffs, the Giants dropped a heart-wrencher to the Jets on Ken O'Brien's 5-yard TD pass to Al Toon with just 37 seconds left in the game. The loss, coupled with the Eagles' win over Dallas and the Rams' upset win over the 49ers, knocked the Giants completely out of the playoffs. Despite the loss, Phil Simms had a magnificent performance, almost single-handedly keeping the Giants in the game. After the Jets had taken a 13-0 lead, Simms fired a bullet to Stephen Baker for a 5-yard TD to cut it to 13-7 at halftime. The Giants then held the Jets at the start of the third quarter and seemed to be gaining momentum, but return man Phil McConkey fumbled away the ensuing punt at his own 16 and the Jets recovered at the 6-yard line to set up a gift score and a 20-7 lead. Back came Simms again and again, first scrambling for big first downs, then hitting Baker again for a 9-yard TD pass to cut it to 20-14, and finally leading another valiant drive which he capped with another 9-yard TD bullet, this one to Lionel Manuel to give the Giants a 21-20 lead with less than five minutes to play. Alas, the Giants' special teams leaked on the ensuing kickoff, allowing Bobby Humphrey to return it 37 yards, which set up the final winning, and crushing, drive by the Jets. Simms finished 18-for-33 for 230 yards and three TDs, despite being harassed and sacked eight times. Morris had 97 yards rushing, while Simms added 57 more yards rushing on just four carries. DE Leonard Marshall had five tackles and a pair of QB sacks.

1988 PRE-SEASON RECAP

August 6 GIANTS 34, Green Bay 3 (41,455) at Green Bay

Giants began pre-season action with a powerful showing against the Packers, rolling up 450 yards of offense, while shackling the Pack to just 148 yards and no touchdowns. Four Giants' QBs had pass completions in the rout, with Jeff Hostetler hitting 11-of-16 for 168 yards, and Phil Simms 8-of-12 for 103 yards. After the Pack took an early 3-0 lead, the Giants rolled to a 20-3 halftime lead on a pair of Raul Allegre FGs, a 3-yard bootleg by Hostetler and Perry Williams' 45-yard interception return for a TD. The Giants wrapped up the scoring in the second half on a Joe Morris 1-yard TD dive and a 12-yard TD sweep by George Adams. Adams and Ottis Anderson each had 49 yards rushing in the victory, while Adams also led the receivers with four receptions. The Giants came up with five QB sacks on the Pack passers, with Lawrence Taylor registering a pair for 19 yards.

August 13 GIANTS 24, N.Y. Jets 21 (68,916) at Giants Stadium

After a 7-7 halftime deadlock, the Giants took a 17-7 third period lead in this one, and were in command 24-14 when the Jets scored with just 19 seconds left in the game to make it seem closer. Jeff Hostetler's 6-yard TD pass to Lionel Manuel opened the scoring in this one, but the Jets tied it in the second period on Freeman McNeil's 2-yard slant. Brandy Brownlee's 30-yard FG upped the Giants' lead to 10-7 in the third period, and then Phil Simms tossed an 11-yard TD strike to TE Veno Belk for the 17-7 bulge. The Jets closed to 17-14 on an 18-yard TD throw from Kyle Mackey to Darryl Pearson, but Jeff Rutledge pped it to 24-14 in the final four minutes on a 26-yard TD toss to Phil McConkey to cement the triumph. Ottis Anderson had 35 yards rushing to lead the winners in that department, while McConkey had four receptions for 89 yards to set the pace there. Simms, Hostetler and Rutledge had a composite passing total of 15-for-33 for 182 yards and three touchdowns. The Giants registered seven QB sacks in the win, with DE Eric Dorsey getting a pair for 21 yards, while John Washington was also in on two sacks.

August 20 GIANTS 28, Pittsburgh 17 (39,923) at Giants Stadium

The Giants made it 3-0 in pre-season play with a 21-point outburst in the second period to take a 21-17 halftime lead, then added a final score in the third period while blanking the Steelers in the second half with tenacious defense. After Rod Woodson ran the opening kickoff back 70 yards to set up a quick Steeler TD, Pittsburgh went up to 10-0 on a 35-yard Gary Anderson FG after Giants' punter Scott Livingston shanked a 6-yard punt. Phil Simms then went to work for the Giants, leading a pair of TD drives and connecting with TE Zeke Mowatt for TD passes of 18 and 2 yards for 14-10 Giants' lead. After the Steelers went back in front 17-14 on a Bubby Brister 1-yard sneak, Jeff Rutledge hit Phil McConkey for a 12-yard TD for that 21-17 halftime lead. The Giants then sewed it up in the third period after Wayne Haddix set up the drive with a 25-yard punt return, and Phil Simms took the club 60 yards in nine plays, with Ottis Anderson scoring on a 5-yard sweep. Simms was 14-for-17 for 126 yards and two TDs, while Joe Morris had 74 yards rushing on 18 carries, and Mowatt led the receivers with six catches. The Giants registered four QB sacks, with DE Eric Dorsey getting a pair for the second straight outing.

August 26 GIANTS 13, Cleveland 17 (71,129) at Cleveland

A pair of missed FGs by Raul Allegre didn't help as the Giants dropped their only pre-season game to the Browns at Cleveland Stadium. Raul booted a 37-yard FG to open the scoring after Mark Ingram had returned the opening kickoff 45 yards, but the Browns bounced back for a 14-3 edge on Bernie Kosar's 20-yard TD throw to Webster Slaughter and a one-yard TD dive by Kevin Mack on fourth down. The Giants closed to 14-10 at halftime after Phil Simms hit Ottis Anderson for a 57-yard gain, with George Adams scoring the TD on a one-yard slant. The clubs exchanged FGs in the third period to make it 17-13, but after Allegre missed his second FG of the game, the Browns ran the clock out in the final six minutes to preserve the win. Simms was 10-for-20 for 119 yards, while Anderson led the receivers with four catches for 66 yards. The Giants had four QB sacks to run the pre-season total to 20, with Lawrence Taylor and DE John Washington each coming up with a pair.

ADDITIONAL NOTES ON SUPER BOWL XXI

Phil Simms' completion percentage of 88.0 was the highest not only for any Super Bowl game, but for any of the 213 post-season games in NFL history (minimum: 15 completions). The old record was 84.2 by David Woodley of Miami, in an AFC First-Round Game vs. New England, Jan. 8, 1983 (16-of-19).

The Giants defeated their three playoff opponents by a cumulative total of 82 points (Giants 105, Opponents 23), the largest such total in history by a Super Bowl winner. The old record was 81 by Chicago in 1986 (Chicago 91, Opponents 10).

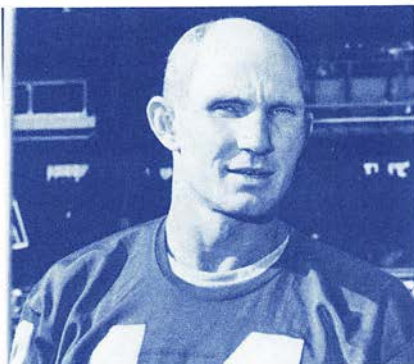

During the 64-year history of the New York Giants' franchise in the National Football League, only seven players have had the honor of having their jersey numbers retired by the club.

Those seven players and their retired numbers include:

NAME	NO.	POSITION
Ray Flaherty	1	End-Assistant coach (1928-35)
Mel Hein	7	Center-Linebacker (1931-45)
Y.A. Tittle	14	Quarterback (1961-64)

COVER AND PHOTO CREDITS: The cover of the 1989 Media Guide celebrates the 65th year of NFL football for the New York Giants' franchise, and depicts the major homes of the Giants from 1925 through the present—The Polo Grounds, Yankee Stadium and Giants Stadium. The Giants won World Championships in each of those stadia, 1927, 1934 and 1938 in the Polo Grounds, 1956 in Yankee Stadium, and 1986 in Giants Stadium. The artwork is by the talented free lance artist Ted Tapia. All photos within the Media Guide are by club photographer Jerry Pinkus.
