CHAMPIONSHIP GAMES

1927     GIANTS 13, Chicago Bears 7

Led by Steve Owen, the Giants finished with an 11-1-1 record, then stunned Red Grange, John Driscoll and the Bears 13-7 at the Polo Grounds. "It was the toughest, roughest football game I ever played in" Owen was later to say. With the score tied 7-7, the Bears drove to the Giants' one-yard line, but Owen and Cal Hubbard spearheaded a goal line defense which held the Windy City crew. Hinkey Haines then faked a punt from his own end zone and completed a pass to Charlie Corgan for a 58-yard gain which set up the winning score and elation for Tim Mara.

1933     Chicago Bears 23, GIANTS 21

Jack Manders opened the scoring for the Bears at Wrigley Field, Chicago before 26,000 with a 16-yard field goal in the first period to touch off 60 minutes of fireworks which kept fans standing on their chairs through most of the game. Manders kicked a 28-yard FG for a 6-0 lead in the second period before Harry Newman hit Red Badgro for a touchdown pass and a 7-6 Giant lead at the half. Manders' third FG regained the lead for the Bears, but Max Krause's TD and the conversion by Ken Strong put NY back in front 14-9. A pass from Bronko Nagurski to Bill Karr made it 16-14, Chicago, before Strong lateraled to Newman who then threw a TD pass back to Strong for a 21-16 Giant lead late in the game. The Bears bounced back to win, however, when Nagurski's jump pass to Bill Hewitt was lateraled to Karr for the game-winning touchdown.

1934     GIANTS 30, Chicago Bears 13

With the temperature at nine degrees and the Polo Grounds covered with a sheet of ice, this one became famous as the "sneakers" game when Steve Owen provided his squad with basketball shoes to open the second half with his club trailing 10-3. The Giants responded with four touchdowns which had a crowd of 35,059 roaring approval. The Bears had a string of 33 games without defeat going into this one, but fell behind 3-0 on a 38-yard FG by Ken Strong. A TD by Nagurski and a field goal by Manders got the Bears in front 10-3 at the half, when Owen sent for the sneakers to take advantage of the slippery footing. Ahead 13-2 on another Manders' FG, the Bears were swamped in a fourth-period Giant uprising which saw Ed Danowski throw a 28-yard TD pass to Ike Frankian and Ken Strong race 42 yards for another TD just moments later for a 17-13 lead. Danowski and Strong raced for subsequent touchdowns against the stunned Bears to turn the game into a rout.

1935     Detroit Lions 26, GIANTS 7

With a crowd of about 15,000 looking on, the Lions took a 13-0 lead in the first period when Leroy "Ace" Gutowsky plunged over from the 2-yard line and Earl "Dutch" Clark shook loose on a 40-yard touchdown romp. The Giants closed the gap at 13-7 in the third period when Danowski connected with Strong for a 42-yard touchdown pass, but the Lions' defense accounted for two more scores in the final period on a blocked punt and intercepted pass. Ernie Caddel scored the first on a 4-yard slant and Buddy Parker the second on a 9-yard run.

1938     GIANTS 23, Green Bay Packers 17

A slam-bang, bruising thriller was staged for the largest crowd (48,120 at the Polo Grounds) to see a championship game up to that time. With the victory, the Giants became the first team to win the championship twice since the divisional splitup. The Giants blocked two punts early in the game, and capitalized on both with Ward Cuff kicking a 13-yard FG and Tuffy Leemans blasting over on a 6-yard plunge. Arnie Herber's 50-yard TD pass to Carl Mulleneaux got the Packers on the scoreboard, but Danowski hit Hap Barnard for a 20-yard TD pass and a 16-7 lead. The Packers closed to 16-14 at halftime on Clark Hinkle's 6-yard TD, then took the lead 17-16 on Engebretsen's third-period FG. New York then stormed back to the Packer 23 from where Danowski passed to Hank Soar for the game-winning TD.

1939     Green Bay Packers 27, GIANTS 0

The Packers came up with sweet revenge in a grudge match played before 32,279 at Milwaukee's State Fair Grounds. Cold weather and a 35-MPH wind made aerial sorties a bit dubious, but Green Bay scored quickly on a 7-yard pitch from Herber to Milt Gantenbein. Engebretsen kicked a 29-yard FG in the third period for a 10-0 lead, and the Packers wrapped it up with touchdowns by Joe Laws on a 20-yard pass from Cecil Isbell, a one-yard plunge by Jankowski and Ernie Smith's 42-yard field goal.

1941     Chicago Bears 37, GIANTS 9

Attendance was only 13,341 at Wrigley Field, just two weeks after Pearl Harbor Day. The Giants led 6-3 in the first period on a Tuffy Leemans to George Franck touchdown pass of 31 yards, but the Bears went on a pair of field goals, then broke the game wide open in the second half on touchdowns by Norm Standlee (2), George McAfee and Ken Kavanaugh.

1944     Green Bay 14, GIANTS 7

The Packers took a 14-0 lead at halftime before 46,016 at the Polo Grounds on touchdowns by Ted Fritsch—the first on a 2-yard plunge and the second on a 26-yard pass from Irv Comp with Don Hutson adding the conversions. Ward Cuff scored on a 1-yard plunge on the first play of the final period for the Giants, but the Packers hung on for the triumph.

1946     Chicago Bears 24, GIANTS 14

Sid Luckman was the big man for the Bears in this win before 58,346 at the Polo Grounds. He passed for a 21-yard TD to Ken Kavanaugh to open the scoring, then ran 19 yards for a score later in the game. Dante Magnani's 19-yard pass interception accounted for the third Bear score, while the Giants hit the scoring column on touchdown passes from Frank Filchock to Frank Liebel and Steve Filipowicz.

1956     GIANTS 47, Chicago Bears 7

Fullback Mel Triplett smashed 17 yards for a TD early in the game on an icy field before a big crowd, then Ben Agajanian added a brace of field goals for a 13-0 lead. It was 34-7 at halftime as Alex Webster crashed over for a pair of touchdowns from inside the 5-yard line. Charlie Conerly's aerials brought nothing but more woe to the Bears in the second half, with Kyle Rote snaring a 9-yard TD throw and Frank Gifford a 14-yarder to close out the scoring.

1958     Baltimore Colts 23, GIANTS 17

Some people call this the greatest game ever played, and perhaps it was for drama and its sudden-death ending. With a crowd of 64,185 on hand at Yankee Stadium, the Giants led 3-0 on a 36-yard Pat Summerall FG in the first period, with the Colts taking over 14-3 at halftime on scores by Alan Ameche from the 2-yard line and Ray Berry on a 15-yard pitch from Johnny Unitas. The Giants scored in the third period on a 1-yard plunge by Mel Triplett after an 86-yard gainer from Conerly to Rote with Webster picking up Rote's fumble. The Giants went in front 17-14 on Conerly's 15-yard TD throw to Gifford, but the Colts tied it with seven seconds to play on Steve Myrah's 13-yard FG and won in the overtime on Ameche's 1-yard plunge, the 13th play of a Colt drive.

1959    Baltimore Colts 31, GIANTS 10

A sellout crowd of 57,577 was on hand at Baltimore's Municipal Stadium for the big rematch of the divisional champions. The home crowd had plenty to cheer about in the early going as Unitas hit Lenny Moore for a 60-yard TD bomb, but the Giants surged back to stop the Colt offense. With Summerall kicking three field goals (23, 26 and 23 yards), the Giants led 9-7 going into the final period. But the Colts stormed back with a furious final period onslaught as Unitas scored on a 4-yard run, threw a 12-yard TD pass to Richardson and Johnny Sample returned an interception for another score.

1961    Green Bay Packers 37, GIANTS 0

With a crowd of 39,029 looking on in Green Bay, Paul Hornung paced the Packers to a stunning 37-0 triumph by scoring 19 points on a touchdown, three field goals and four conversions. On leave from his Army duties in Fort Riley, Kan., Hornung scored on a 6-yard slant in the second period to break a scoreless deadlock and set off a Packer splurge which accounted for 24 points in that quarter. The Giants were unable to recover from this onslaught and suffered their first shutout in nine seasons. Bart Starr's touchdown pass to Ron Kramer and a pair of Hornung field goals closed out the scoring in the second half.

1962 Green Bay Packers 16, GIANTS 7

Bitter cold weather at Yankee Stadium was no deterrent to 64,892 fans who turned out for the year's big one. As things turned out, a trio of field goals by Packer guard Jerry Kramer made the difference in a game where both defensive units turned in superlative jobs. The only Giant score was a result of defensive work when Erich Barnes blocked a Max McGee punt and reserve end Jim Collier fell on the ball in the end zone.

1963 Chicago Bears 14, GIANTS 10

The Bear defense turned the tide in this championship game, played in 10 degree weather in Wrigley Field. Taking the early lead on a 14-yard Y.A. Tittle TD pass to Frank Gifford and Don Chandler's FG, the Giants were the victims of five pass interceptions thereafter, two of which set up the Bear scores. Larry Morris swiped the first one for a return of 61 yards, while Ed O'Bradovich's steal of a screen pass set up what turned out to be the winning score. Tittle suffered a knee injury in the first half, but gallantly returned to action in the second half, though he was hampered and hobbled by his injury.

1986 GIANTS 39, Denver Broncos 20

Led by the brilliant record-setting passing of Phil Simms, the Giants won their first Super Bowl with a 30-point second-half onslaught before 101,063 spectators at the Rose Bowl in Pasadena. Simms pitched 22-for-25 for 268 yards and three TDs, setting an alltime NFL playoff mark of 88.0% completion and winning the MVP honors in the game. Down 10-9 at halftime, the Giants rang up 24 unanswered points to take a commanding 33-10 lead in the fourth period with Simms' TD passes going to TEs Zeke Mowatt and Mark Bavaro and to WR Phil McConkey. Linebacker Carl Banks was a star on defense with 10 solo tackles as the Giants concluded their greatest season ever with a 17-2 record.

1990 GIANTS 20, Buffalo Bills 19

The Giants won their second Super Bowl championship before 73,813 at Tampa Stadium by battling back from a 12-3 deficit in what many considered to be the best of all Super Bowls. Ahead 20-19 in the final moments of play, the Giants prevailed when Buffalo kicker Scott Norwood missed a 47-yard FG attempt on the final play of the game. QB Jeff Hostetler, replacing the injured Phil Simms during the playoffs, hit 20-for-32 for 222 yards and one TD, while the veteran RB Ottis Anderson had 102 yards rushing and one TD and won the MVP honors. The Giants set an all time Super Bowl record for time of possession with 40:33 in their ball-control offensive game plan.

HISTORICAL HIGHLIGHTS

1925-29—Tim Mara purchased a National Football League franchise for New York for $500. Bob Folwell was named head coach and all-time great Jim Thorpe was signed. More than 70,000 jammed the Polo Grounds to see the Giants play Red Grange and the Chicago Bears. The Giants went 8-4 in their first season. Folwell left, and was replaced by Dr. Joe Alexander as head coach. Despite an 8-4-1 record in 1926, Mara lost $40,000. Earl Potteiger replaced Alexander in 1927, and the Giants won their first title with an 11-1-1 record. In 1929 the 13-1-1 Giants averaged 25,000 fans and turned a small profit.

1930—Ownership of the club was turned over to Jack and Wellington Mara, the two sons of the founder.

1931—Center Mel Hein was signed. Steve Owen was named head coach.

1932—Ray Flaherty became the NFL's first official pass reception champion with 21 catches.

1933—The Giants easily won the Eastern Division of the newly-divided NFL. In the league's first championship game, the Giants lost to the Bears 23-21.

1934—In what has come to be known as the "Sneakers Game," the Giants defeated the Bears 30-13 for the NFL title. Some of the New York players wore basketball shoes to increase traction on the icy Polo Grounds turf.

1935—The Giants advanced to their third straight NFL championship game, but lost to Detroit 26-7.

1938—A 23-17 victory over Green Bay produced the Giants' third NFL title.

1939—Green Bay avenged the 1938 loss with a 27-0 drubbing of the Giants in the NFL title game.

1941—In the wake of Pearl Harbor, only 13,341 spectators turned out to see Chicago top the Giants in the NFL title game.

1944—Luring Arnie Herber and Ken Strong out of retirement, the Giants scored five shutouts en route to the Eastern title, but lost the NFL championship game to Green Bay 14-7.

1946—Frankie Filchock, an understudy to Sammy Baugh at Washington, signed with the Giants for a reported $35,000, but was suspended indefinitely along with teammate Merle Hapes for alleged gambling involvement.

1951—Kyle Rote of Southern Methodist was the Giants' bonus pick in the draft, but was injured in the preseason and saw little action. Eddie Price led the NFL in rushing with 971 yards.

1952—Tailback Frank Gifford of USC was drafted number one. Playing in his fifth year, Emlen Tunnell gained more yardage on kick returns and interceptions (924) than the league's leading rusher, Dan Towler (894) of Los Angeles.

1953—Owens retired at the end of the season after 23 years as the Giants' head coach.

1954—Former Giants end Jim Lee Howell was promoted from end coach to head coach.

1956—Defensive end Andy Robustelli was obtained from the Rams. The Giants switched their home games from the Polo Grounds to Yankee Stadium. A 47-7 rout of the Chicago Bears produced New York's first NFL championship since 1938. Linebacker Sam Huff was rookie of the year.

1958—Advancing to the NFL championship game with a playoff win over Cleveland, the Giants lost to Baltimore 23-17 in sudden death overtime.

1959—Baltimore exploded for 24 points in the fourth quarter to defeat New York in the NFL title game for the second straight year.

1961—Allie Sherman replaced the retired Howell as head coach. The Giants obtained Y.A. Tittle and Del Shofner in trades. Alex Webster gained 928 yards to help New York to the NFL title game. With the league championship on the line, the Giants were no match for Green Bay, losing 37-0.

1962—Tittle, Shofner, Webster and Gifford led the Giants into the NFL title game against the Packers. Green Bay prevailed to 16-7.

1963—Tittle threw 36 touchdown passes and kicker Don Chandler led the league in scoring as the Giants romped to their third straight conference title. With Tittle injured in the second quarter, New York lost yet another bid for the league championship, 14-10 to Chicago's Bears.

1967—Quarterback Fran Tarkenton was obtained from Minnesota.

1969—The Giants lost 37-14 to the New York Jets in a preseason contest. Webster replaced Sherman as head coach.

1970—Ron Johnson became the Giants' first 1,000-yard rusher, totaling 1,027 yards.

1972—Tarkenton was traded back to Minnesota. Norm Snead, obtained in the Tarkenton trade, led the league in passing and the Giants finished above .500 for only the second time in nine years.

1973—Prior to the final game of the season, Webster announced his retirement. New York lost the game 31-7 to Minnesota to close out the year at 2-11-1. They played their late-season home games at Yale Bowl.

1974—Bill Arnsparger was named the Giants' ninth head coach. Snead was traded to San Francisco. Craig Morton was obtained from Dallas.

1976—Larry Csonka, the former Miami running back who had played in the World Football League, signed as a free agent. Snead was reacquired from San Francisco. The Giants moved to Giants Stadium in East Rutherford, New Jersey. Arnsparger was fired in midseason and replaced by assistant coach John McVay, who signed a long-term contract following the 3-11 season.

1977—Morton was traded to Denver. The Giants improved to a 5-9 record. McVay went with Joe Pisarcik and Jerry Golsteyn at quarterback. Csonka rushed for 100 yards on the last day of the season and finished the year with 464 yards.

1978—The Giants had a 5-3 record at the halfway point of the season but lost seven of their final eight games and finished 6-10. Punter Dave Jennings and linebackers

Harry Carson and Brad Van Pelt was named to the NFC Pro Bowl team. McVay was fired in late December. Robustelli, who had been the Giants' director of operations since 1974, resigned. George Young was named general manager in January, 1979. He announced the appointment of San Diego Chargers assistant Ray Perkins as head coach.

1979—Before the season began, tragedy struck as defensive tackle Troy Archer was killed in a traffic accident on June 22. Rookie Phil Simms, a first round choice, took over at quarterback. But the Giants had another 6-10 record. Dave Jennings led the NFC with a 42.7-yard punting average.

1980—A porous defense allowed opponents to score 425 points, second worst in the NFL. The Giants fell to 4-12. They did upset Dallas 38-35 after eight straight defeats. Jennings led NFL punters with a 44.8-yard average.

1981—With the second selection in the draft, New York chose Lawrence Taylor, a linebacker from North Carolina. The Giants started slowly, going 2-3, but then obtained running back Rob Carpenter from Houston. Carpenter sparked a three-game winning streak. A three-game losing streak dropped the club to 5-6, and then Simms was injured. Second-year quarterback Scott Brunner replaced Simms and the team responded with four victories in the final five weeks, including a 13-10 victory over Dallas in the season finale that sent them into the playoffs. On December 27, the Giants defeated the Eagles 27-21 in the NFC wild card game. The season ended for New York on January 3 when it was defeated by the 49ers 38-24 in a divisional playoff game.

1982—A wild, wooly and turbulent year which saw the NFL players' strike shorten the season to just nine games. The final game played before the strike pitted the Giants and Packers on a Monday night game from Giants Stadium in which a power failure caused a blackout during the game. Rob Carpenter was a holdout for most of the season, returning to play in just the final five games, and then on December 15, head coach Ray Perkins resigned to accept the head coaching job at Alabama, with defensive coordinator Bill Parcells being named to replace him in 1983. The Giants then lost two straight after the Perkins' announcement, and missed the playoffs on the final day of the season with a 4-5 record. Despite the adversity, four Giants—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and Dave Jennings—were named to the Pro Bowl.

1983—After breaking even in their first four games for a 2-2 record, the Giants were decimated by injuries during the rest of the year, with a total of 25 players appearing on the injured reserve list at one time or another. With players such as Harry Carson, Phil Simms and Rob Carpenter missing most of the season, and with the club leading the entire NFL in turnovers with 58 on 31 interceptions and 27 lost fumbles, the record tumbled to 3-12-1. The year was also marred by the tragic deaths of assistant coach Bob Ledbetter and former star running back Doug Kotar. Four players were nonetheless named to the Pro Bowl again—Lawrence Taylor, Harry Carson, Mark Haynes and rookie place-kicker Ali Haji-Sheikh who set an alltime NFL record with 35 field goals during the year.

1984—With Phil Simms enjoying his first full season at quarterback, the Giants won the NFC wild card playoff spot again, finishing with a 9-7 mark and second-place in the NFC East as Simms set three alltime single season club records with 286 completions in 533 attempts for 4,044 yards. The Giants knocked off the Los Angeles Rams 16-13 in that wild card game, then bowed to the eventual Super Bowl champion San Francisco 49ers 21-10 in the divisional playoff. Taylor, Carson and Haynes were again named to the Pro Bowl, while head coach Bill Parcells was named NFC East Coach of the Year and five rookies—Karl Nelson, Gary Reasons, Carl Banks, Perry Williams and Bobby Johnson—were named to the All-NFL Rookie team.

1985—With a final 10-6 mark, the Giants put back-to-back winning seasons on the board for the first time in 22 years, won another trip to the playoffs and had their first home playoff game since 1962, winning 17-3 over the defending Super Bowl champion 49ers. Again, the club lost in the Divisional playoffs to the eventual Super Bowl champion team, the Chicago Bears, by a 21-0 score, the toughest outing the Bears encountered in the entire playoffs. Five players—Taylor, Carson, Phil Simms, Joe Morris and Leonard Marshall—were named to the Pro Bowl. All told, there were 12 team records set by this club, and 16 individual club records. Morris set an alltime one season rushing mark with 1,336 yards plus an alltime mark for TDs in a season with 21 while Simms broke alltime club records with 40 completions in a game for 513 yards passing. Marshall added another club mark with 15½ QB sacks in a season, while rookie TE Mark Bavaro, an All-NFL Rookie team choice set a club mark with 12 receptions in one game.

1986—The club's first Super Bowl championship, an alltime final record of 17-2, as well as a club record 12 straight victories, made this year the greatest in team history. The Giants also set an alltime composite margin of victory in the playoffs, outscoring three opponents 105-23, for an 82-point domination, the most ever in NFL playoff history. Phil Simms was the MVP of the Super Bowl victory with an NFL alltime playoff mark of 88% passing accuracy with his 22-for-25 passing in the 39-20 title conquest of the Denver Broncos. Lawrence Taylor was named the league's MVP, Joe Morris broke his own club rushing record with 1,516 yards, and eight players—Taylor, Morris, Harry Carson, Leonard Marshall, Jim Burt, Brad Benson, Mark Bavaro and Sean Landeta—were named to the Pro Bowl. Coach Bill Parcells was a unanimous NFL Coach of the Year in all the national polls, the Giants were 10-0 at home, including regular season and the two playoff games, and alltime attendance records were set for both home and away, as well as single game home attendance.

1987—Not exactly a year to remember. After winning the Super Bowl, the Giants dropped to a final 6-9 record, thanks to an 0-5 start in this players' strike season and the replacement games which followed. Add to that a rash of injuries which sidelined no less than 11 starters at one time or another, and the fifth-place finish was the result. While the Giants had a 6-4 record after the players' strike had been settled, it was a case of too little, too late. Despite the final record, four players—Lawrence Taylor, Carl Banks, Harry Carson and Mark Bavaro—were selected to the Pro Bowl and all four also were named to various All-NFL teams.

1988—The Giants bounced back from the debacle of '87 and after splitting their first six games, engineered a 7-2 run which had them all alone in first-place in the NFC East with a 10-5 mark into the final weekend of the season. Alas, an upset setback at the hands of the Jets not only knocked the Giants out of first-place, but also cost them a playoff berth as well. With that final 10-6 record, the Giants' overall mark over the five past seasons reached 54-32 for a winning percentage of .628, and those 54 victories were the most in club history for any five-year consecutive span. RB Joe Morris set an alltime club record with his third 1,000-plus rushing season and WR Lionel Manuel had his first 1,000-yard receiving year. Morris also surpassed Alex Webster as the Giants' alltime rushing leader, moving past the 5,000-yard plateau. Lawrence Taylor was named to his eighth straight Pro Bowl and All-NFL designation and safety Terry Kinard was selected for his first Pro Bowl appearance.

1989—Despite the loss of several starters due to injuries, the Giants startled the experts by winning their second NFC East championship in four years with a final 12-4 record, after most of those experts had predicted no better than a .500 season for the club. Veteran RB Ottis Anderson rushed for 1,023 yards at the age of 32 as the replacement for the injured Joe Morris and rookie Dave Meggett set alltime club marks in punt returns with 582 yards and a 12.7 average, while also accounting for 1,807 all-purpose yards during the year. Linebacker Lawrence Taylor equalled an NFL record by being named to his ninth consecutive Pro Bowl, and also ran his league record sack total to 104. Meggett also went to the Pro Bowl and scored a TD. The Giants also set an alltime season attendance mark with 596,319.

1990—The Giants began the year on a hot streak, winning their first 10 games for a solid NFC East lead, then held on to win the title with a final 13-3 record, despite losing QB Phil Simms late in the year. With Jeff Hostetler at the helm, the club surged through the playoffs to win their second Super Bowl title with a stirring 20-19 win over the Buffalo Bills. Seven Giant players were named to the Pro Bowl, including LB Lawrence Taylor for a record-setting 10th straight year. The Giants also set all-time attendance records, both for season home and one-game home marks. Veteran RB Ottis Anderson won Super Bowl MVP honors after rushing for 102 yards. At season's end, the longtime Mara family ownership ended when Tim Mara sold his 50% share of the club to Preston Robert Tisch who became Chairman and Co-Chief Executive Officer, and in May, head coach Bill Parcells resigned after a career mark of 85-52-1 and was succeeded by offensive coordinator Ray Handley.

1991—In Ray Handley's first year as head coach, the Giants were in contention for another playoff spot late in the year with a 7-5 record, then dropped three straight to finish at 8-8 and out of the playoffs. Jef Hostetler became the starting QB, but was injured late in the season and Phil Simms finished the rest of the campaign. Simms added his 15th alltime club record when he passed Charlie Conerly for career TD passes with 179. Rodney Hampton became the fourth back in club history to rush for 1,000 yards when he finished the year with 1,059. Center Bart Oates was named to his second consecutive Pro Bowl.

STAFF BIOGRAPHIES

GEORGE YOUNG

Vice President, General Manager

A three-time winner of the National Football League's Executive of the Year Award, Young ranks in the highest echelon of his profession. Presented annually by The Sporting News after a poll of all NFL executives, George was the recipient of this prestigious award in 1984, 1986 and 1990 and this collection of honors amply reflects the impact he has had in the past decade. Named General Manager on Valentine's Day, 1979, Young now heads into his 14th season at the helm of the football operation. Prior to his assuming the stewardship, the Giants had not been in NFL post-season play since the 1963 season, a 15-year famine at the time. Since he instituted his reconstruction policies, the Giants have now won two Super Bowl championships and have been to the NFL playoffs six times, while missing out on a seventh playoff season in the final game of the strike-shortened 1982 campaign. The Giants' back-to-back winning playoff seasons in '84 and '85 also marked the first time that the club had achieved consecutive such years in 22 seasons. In building the team, Young has placed special emphasis on the NFL draft. From his inaugural draft in 1979 through the 1991 selection process, Young had succeeded in signing every player drafted over that span, and from those drafts, a total of 83 of those players made the club at one time or another. From that total, 34 of those drafted players remain with the team on the current roster, and 25 of those have been starters at one time or another. The list also included Pro Bowlers Lawrence Taylor, Phil Simms, Leonard Marshall, and Mark Bavaro. Over that same span, 20 of those drafted players were named to the All-NFL Rookie team. Prior to being named by the Giants, George had spent 11 years in the NFL with the Baltimore Colts and Miami Dolphins. During this tenure with those two clubs, Young had been closely associated with Don Shula at both franchises and had served in a variety of capacities. He was initially brought into the Colts' organization in 1968 by Shula as an assistant in the Personnel Department, then two years later was named offensive line coach, with that Colts' team going all the way to the Super Bowl and scoring a 16-13 win over the Dallas Cowboys. In 1971, George was named Director of Player Personnel and then in 1973 was named Offensive Coordinator of the Colts by Howard Schnellenberger. A year later, Young rejoined Shula with the Miami Dolphins and was Director of Personnel and Pro Scouting with the Dolphins when the Giants named him in 1979. George Bernard Young was born on September 22, 1930 in Baltimore, Md., and was an outstanding football player at Calvert Hall High School in Baltimore. He went on to Bucknell University where he was a starting defensive tackle for three seasons, team captain in 1951 and was named to the Little All-American first team and All-East first team in his senior year. Selected to play in the Blue-Gray game, he was then drafted by the Dallas Texans and played in professional football for one year. George then began a coaching career in the Baltimore school system at Calvert Hall and City College High School and over a 15-year span, won six Maryland state championships and had a 60-12 record during one span. Additionally, Young was an educator while coaching in Baltimore, teaching History and Political Science. During that teaching career, George also earned two Masters degrees from Johns Hopkins University and Loyola College. He was further honored in May, 1987, when he was awarded an honorary Doctorate in Humane Letters from Western Maryland College. George and his wife, Mary Love, reside in Upper Saddle River, N.J.

JOHN K. MARA

Executive Vice President, General Counsel

After more than a decade as a distinguished attorney with two prominent New York City law firms, yet counterbalanced with a lifetime devotion and active association with the family-owned Giants, John K. Mara, the eldest son of team President Wellington Mara, joined the club on a full time basis in 1991 as Executive Vice President and General Counsel. As such, he heads all administrative and financial aspects of the organization and reports directly to the Co-Chief Executive Officers, Wellington Mara and Preston Robert Tisch. To say that John is no stranger to the operation of the Giants would be an understatement. A native of New York City where he was born on December 1, 1954, he grew up in Westchester County in White Plains and then Harrison and graduated with honors from Iona Prep in New Rochelle, N.Y. Throughout his early and formative years, he was a familiar fixture at Giants' training camps, initially as a ballboy, then as an on-the-field assistant to the coaching staff as well as an assistant in the public relations and media services offices. He was also in attendance at every home and away game, and during that span also worked as a production assistant for the major television networks, CBS, NBC and ABC during telecasts of Giant games in various capacities. He continued these affiliations while attending Boston College, where he received a B.S. degree in Marketing, graduating with Cum Laude honors in 1976. John then entered the Fordham University Law School in that same year, and earned his Law Degree in 1979. He then began his career as an attorney with the law firm of Vedder, Price, Kaufman, Kammholz and Day, specializing in labor and employment law and litigation, then two years later moved to the prestigious firm of Shea & Gould in Manhattan, while continuing in his chosen specialization. He continued with Shea & Gould until April of 1991 when he joined the Giants. Married to the former Denise Walter on July 12, 1980 in Rye, N.Y., John is the father of five children, Lauren, 11; Courtney, 9; John Jr., 8; Christine, 6; and Erin, 2. The Mara family resides in Harrison, N.Y. His favorite recreational hobbies include golf and coaching Little League baseball.

RAY HANDLEY

Head Coach Second Year

Ray Handley became the 13th head coach in Giants' history on May 15, 1991 when he was elevated to the post upon the resignation of Bill Parcells. A seven-year veteran assistant on two Super Bowl champion teams, Handley had been in charge of the running backs over that span of time, and had been promoted to offensive coordinator just prior to the Parcells' resignation. With just two months to get ready for his first training camp as the head man, and not having had the benefit of being in charge during the NFL draft or in putting together his own coaching staff, Handley nonetheless had a successful debut when the Giants downed the San Francisco 49ers 16-14 in a Monday night opener at Giants Stadium in an exciting game that was a near-replica of the previous year's NFC championship game at Candlestick Park. Thereafter, the Giants struggled through a rugged schedule, but managed to put together a three-game winning streak late in the season to get their record to 7-5 and position themselves for yet another playoff berth. The Giants then had a lead on the Cincinnati Bengals and appeared ready to go 8-5, only to suffer a breakdown on punt return coverage which led to a stunning setback. Two more losses followed to the Eagles and Redskins to bring about elimination, but the club did rebound strongly in the season finale to score an impressive victory over the AFC Central champion Houston Oilers to finish the year at 8-8. With his first season behind him, Handley will begin the 1992 campaign from a different perspective in that he has now had the opportunity to reorganize his own coaching staff and to participate completely in the NFL draft process. A native of Artesia, New Mexico where he was born on October 8, 1944, Handley was later an All-State running back at Reno High School in Reno, Nevada. Highly recruited at that time, he eventually matriculated to Stanford University and became a topflight running back, earning All-American honors in his junior year when he rushed for 936 yards and a 4.8 average, while also adding All-Pac 8 honors. His career rushing totals of 1,768 yards for a 4.4 average and 11 touchdowns were Stanford records until they were eventually broken by Darrin Nelson, later with the Minnesota Vikings. After graduating with a B.A. degree in history, Ray spent one season as a graduate assistant coach at Stanford, then spent a year in the Army. In 1968-69, he joined the coaching staff at West Point, initially as a freshman coach and then as head junior varsity mentor, while for the first time being associated with a fellow young defensive assistant there named Bill Parcells. Handley returned to Stanford for three seasons (1971-73) as an assistant coach, two of those seasons as linebackers' coach, and then in 1978 once again had the opportunity to work with Parcells at the Air Force Academy when Bill was head coach there and Ray was in charge of the running backs. Handley then returned to Stanford in 1979 and remained there through the 1983 season, first working with the linebackers, and concluding his Stanford tenure as Associate Head Coach. During his days at Stanford, both as a player and a coach, Handley worked either for or with such coaches as Bill Walsh, John Ralston and George Siefert, coaching with the latter two, and playing on a team where Walsh was on the coaching staff. Handley joined the Giants in 1984 as running backs' coach, and supervised that aspect of the Giants' attack as the club attained the playoffs five times over the ensuing seven seasons, winning three NFC East titles and the two Super Bowl championships. Under Ray's stewardship, the Giants produced 1,000-yard rushers in four of those campaigns, with Joe Morris accomplishing the feat three times (1985-86-88) and Ottis Anderson adding the fourth in 1989. When Rodney Hampton added yet another 1,000-yard season in 1991, it was yet another indication of Handley's influence on the improved rushing attack, making it five seasons of 1,000-yard rushers after the Giants had but two previous years in club history when a 1,000-yard rushing season had been attained (both by Ron Johnson in 1970 and 1972). Ray and his wife, Jo Ann, reside in West Orange, N.J. and have a daughter, Cameron, 26, and a son, Don, 28.

HARRY HULMES

Assistant General Manager

Veteran NFL executive joined the Giants in 1984 replacing Terry Bledsoe. Prior to being named by the Giants, Harry had served as Chief Operating Officer for the Arizona Wranglers of the USFL, but virtually all of his previous experience was within the NFL where he served for 12 years with the Baltimore Colts and 13 years with the New Orleans Saints in a variety of positions. Born on July 20, 1927 in Philadelphia, Harry earned a B.A. degree in journalism and psychology at the University of Pennsylvania, after spending three years in the Navy as a radarman in the South Pacific and Persian Gulf theaters. He began his career in sports with the Baltimore Orioles as assistant business manager, then was the sports information director at Bucknell University before entering the NFL as public relations director of the Colts in 1958. He subsequently served as business manager and general manager of the Colts before moving to the Saints in 1970 as assistant general manager. Until he departed for the Wranglers in 1982, Hulmes also served the Saints as Director of Player Personnel and Vice President of Administration. Also a graduate of Northeast High School in Philadelphia, Harry is married to the former Barbara Lockhart of Mount Holly, N.J. and is the father of two daughters, Linda Ann and Terry Ellen, both graduates of LSU, and a son, Richard Wayne, also a graduate of LSU.

TOM BOISTURE

Director of Player Personnel

Joined the Giants in the Spring of 1980 from the New England Patriots where he had served for 10 years as a scout, chief scout and in the personnel department. Born on March 23, 1931 in Detroit, Tom played his high school sports at Holy Redeemer H.S. in Detroit, then won three varsity letters as both an offensive and defensive lineman at Mississippi State where he earned a BS degree in Education and History. He began his teaching and coaching career at Austin Catholic H.S. in Detroit where he was head football coach, then continued as a head coach at St. Ambrose H.S. in Detroit. He moved into the collegiate ranks at the University of Houston as an assistant coach for offensive backs, then moved on to Holy Cross College in 1966 as Defensive Coordinator. He was named Head Coach at Holy Cross in 1967 and upset Yale in his first game as a head coach—the only defeat Yale was to suffer in three years. In 1969, Tom moved on to Tulsa University as Defensive Coordinator, and in 1970 moved into the NFL with New England as a scout. Married to the former Dolores Ann Kenney of Detroit. Tom now resides in Little Ferry, N.J. and has five children — daughters Susan Ann, Deborah Lynn and Nancy Ann, and sons David and Michael.

JERRY SHAY

Director of College Scouting

Former Giants' tackle Shay was named Chief Scout in 1977 and as such had much to do with the past drafts. Jerry joined the Giants' scouting department in 1972 and served as the club's scout in the Western States area, including all of the West Coast as well as in the areas of Wyoming, Montana and the Dakotas. Born in Gary, Ind., the 46-year-old Shay was an All-American star at Purdue University and was the No. 1 draft choice of the Minnesota Vikings in 1966. He was a starting DT for the Vikes for two years, then was traded to the Atlanta Falcons in 1968 where he again starred for two seasons before coming to the Giants in a trade in 1970. Jerry was a key performer that season as the Giants finished 9-5 and missed the playoffs by one game. In that season's final game vs. the Rams, he suffered a broken leg and retired after the 1971 season after appearing in only six games and became a scout the following season. Born on July 10, 1944 (family name Dzedzeji), Jerry is married to the former Cynthia Zajkowski, has three daughters, Tiffany Lee, Sharron Marie, and Jeri Lynn, and resides in San Diego, Calif.

TIM ROONEY

Director of Pro Personnel

Rooney, a member of the highly respected Rooney family from Pittsburgh, joined the Giants in February of 1985 after spending the prior six seasons as the Player Personnel Director for the Detroit Lions. Prior to his tenure with Detroit, the 48-year-old Rooney held the same position with the Pittsburgh Steelers from 1972-1979 during the Steelers' ascendancy to Super Bowl champion status. Born in Pittsburgh, Tim earned a degree from Duquesne University, then began a coaching career at Canevin H.S. in Pittsburgh. Four years later, he became an assistant coach at Villanova, moved on to Rhode Island University, and then back to Villanova as an assistant coach and recruiting director before joining the Steelers. A nephew of Art Rooney, the founder of the Steelers, Tim and his wife, Mary Ann, are the parents of a son, Michael 17, and daughter, Sarah 15, and reside in Ho-Ho-Kus, N.J.

RAYMOND WALSH, JR.

Research and Development

Ray has been with the Giants since 1973, initially as an Administrative Assistant, and more recently in scouting and player and personnel evaluation. Born in New York City on February 11, 1942, Ray, who is also known by his nickname "Whitey," is a 1959 graduate of Archbishop Stepinac H.S. in White Plains, where he grew up, and later earned a degree in Inter-

American Relations at Fordham University in 1963. After a tour of duty in the U.S. Army, he joined United Airlines in 1965 in the Passenger Service department, and remained with United until April of 1973 when he joined the Giants. In his earlier days as a youngster, Ray worked at Giants' pre-season training camps in the 1956-63 era. Married to the former Judith Carey, Ray is the father of a son, David 18, a daughter, Susan 16 and young Timothy, 4, and resides in Ramsey, N.J. Aside from football, Ray is an avid British History buff, particularly the medieval period, as well as a devotee of Hollywood movies from the 1930s and 1940s.

ASSISTANT COACHES

DAVE BRAZIL

Linebackers

1st Year

Brazil joined the Giants during this past off-season from the Pittsburgh Steelers where he was defensive coordinator for the previous two seasons. He initially joined the Pittsburgh organization in 1989 as linebackers coach after serving for the previous five years with the Kansas City Chiefs as a defensive assistant, first as a secondary coach and then as linebackers' coach. A native of Detroit, Mich. where he was born on March 25, 1936, Brazil graduated from the University of Detroit then began his coaching career on the high school level. In 10 years as a high school head coach in Michigan, he had a streak of seven straight years without losing more than two games in a single year. In 1968, he moved into the collegiate ranks as a coordinator at Holy Cross under head coach Tom Boisture, and after two seasons there, went to Tulsa University for two years as linebacker and secondary coach, and thence to Eastern Michigan for three seasons as both offensive and defensive coordinator. Dave entered the pro ranks in 1975 with Detroit of the World Football League as defensive coordinator, and held the same job with Chicago of the WFL the following season. He returned to the collegiate ranks after the demise of the WFL, working as defensive coordinator at Boston College for two years, and at Kent State for three seasons thereafter. Then came his NFL debut with the Chiefs in 1984. Married to the former Bridget Kennedy, the Brazils have six children — daughters Kathleen and Mary Ann, and sons Michael, Daniel, Thomas, and Patrick.

FRED BRUNEY

Defensive Backfield,

2nd Year

Fred brings a wealth of NFL experience to the Giants. Named to the staff in 1991, Bruney came from the Tampa Bay Buccaneers where he was assistant head coach and defensive coordinator, and is now in his 29th year as an NFL coach. Born on December 30, 1931 in Martins Ferry, Ohio, he was an outstanding scholastic star at Martins Ferry High School, then went on to Ohio State where he was both a running back and defensive back. He won three varsity letters with the Buckeyes, was named to the All-Big 10 team and was OSU's MVP in 1952, and was also selected to play in the Senior Bowl, East-West Game and Chicago All-Star game. He was a third round draft choice of the Cleveland Browns, but was subsequently traded to the San Francisco 49ers where he spent his rookie season. Following two years of military service in the Army, he then played for the 49ers, Pittsburgh Steelers, Los Angeles Rams and Boston Patriots, winning All-AFL honors in 1961 as a defensive back, and also being named to the Pro Bowl in both 1961 and 1962. After one season as freshman coach at Ohio State, he began his NFL coaching career with the Patriots in 1963, then went to the Philadelphia Eagles from 1964-68 as secondary coach, and then joined the Atlanta Falcons in a similar capacity for eight years. He rejoined the Eagles for another stint from 1977-1985 as both secondary coach and assistant head coach, and was the Eagles' interim head coach for one game in 1985 and beat the Vikings 37-35 in that final game of the '85 season to give him a 1-0 record as a head coach! He was back with the Falcons as assistant head coach from 1986-89 and then moved over to the Bucs. An avid golfer, Fred is married to the former Louise Freeman and has five children, Chuck, 36; Susan, 28; Lori, 25 and a member of the U.S. National Field Hockey team; Rebecca, 22, and Richard, 20.

ROMEO CRENNEL

Defensive Line

12th Year

Crennel is the senior ranking assistant coach on the Giants' staff, having joined the club in 1981. Over his span of years with the club, Romeo has coached on six playoff teams, three NFC East champions and two Super Bowl squads. A native of Lynchburg, Va. where he was born on June 18, 1947, Crennel was part of a military family in that his father, Joseph Crennel, was a career Army man. Crennel became a scholastic star at both Fort Knox High School in Fort Knox, Ky., and at Central High School in Amherst, Va., before heading to Western Kentucky where he was a four-year letterman at defensive tackle and linebacker. He was team captain, All-Ohio Valley Conference and Western Kentucky MVP in his senior year, and earned a B.S. degree in 1970, and followed that by earning a master's degree in education the following year. He began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Western Kentucky that same year, and then became a fulltime assistant coach there until 1975 when he moved on to Texas Tech as a defensive assistant, working on the same staff with Tech's defensive coordinator Bill Parcells. After three seasons there, Crennel went to the University of Mississippi as linebackers' coach for two seasons, and then on to Georgia Tech where he was the defensive line coach before joining the Giants in 1981. Nicknamed "Rac," Crennel began as a special teams coach with the Giants, then moved over to the defensive side. Crennel and his wife, Rosemary, have three daughters, Lisa, 23, Tiffany, 21, and Kristin, 16, and live in Montvale. Romeo's brother Carl, was a former starting linebacker with Hamilton in the Canadian Football League.

JIM FASSEL

Offensive Coordinator

2nd Year

Jim joined the Giants in February of 1991 after serving as head coach at the University of Utah for five seasons. A former collegiate and NFL quarterback, Fassel began his coaching career in 1973 as an assistant at Fullerton Junior College, then became a player-coach in the World Football League with Hawaii. He then moved on to Utah as quarterbacks-receivers coach, then spent two seasons as offensive coordinator at Weber State. His next stop was at Stanford for five seasons as an assistant on the same staff as the Giants' head coach Ray Handley, then was named offensive coordinator for Portland in the USFL in 1984 before being named head coach at Utah in 1985. Born on August 31, 1949, Jim was a standout QB at Anaheim High School in his hometown of Anaheim, Calif., then moved on to Fullerton Junior College where he quarterbacked that club to a 25-1 record over two seasons, winning the national junior college championship in 1967. Fassel then went on to USC where he played on the Trojans' 1969 PAC-8 championship team in their 1970 Rose Bowl victory over Michigan. He concluded his collegiate career in 1971 at Long Beach State where he led that club to the PCAA championship, and was then drafted by the Chicago Bears in 1972. He also was with both the Houston Oilers and San Diego Chargers before ending his playing career. Along the way in his coaching career, Jim coached a number of quarterbacks who made it to the NFL, including John Elway, Steve DeBerg, Turk Schonert and Scott Mitchell and began his career with the Giants as quarterback coach. An avid golfer and tennis player, Jim is married to the former Kathryn James, and is the father of four children—John, 18; Brian, 16; Jana, 13; and Mike, 11.

FRED HOAGLIN

Offensive Line,

8th Year

After six seasons as offensive line coach for the Detroit Lions, former Pro Bowl center Hoaglin joined the Giants prior to the 1985 season. A native of Alliance, Ohio the 45-year-old Hoaglin was a three-year starter as both a center and linebacker at the University of Pittsburgh, winning a spot in the North-South game in his senior year, and was then a 6th round draft choice of the Cleveland Browns. Hoaglin then began a string of 69 consecutive starts at center with the Browns and was named to the 1969 Pro Bowl. During an 11-year playing career, Fred also played with the Houston Oilers, Baltimore Colts and Seattle Seahawks. After his playing days had ended, Fred, who earned a degree in industrial engineering at Pitt, worked as an industrial engineer and stockbroker for several years before entering the coaching ranks with the Lions, where he joined a former Brown teammate, Monte Clark. During his six-year tenure with the Lions, Fred built an impressive offensive line, which helped Detroit lead the entire NFL in rushing in 1981. Married to the former Janet Wolbert, Fred has a daughter, Patricia, 23, and a son, George, 21. A varsity letter winner in golf for two seasons at Pitt, Hoaglin still lists golf as his favorite hobby and is an outstanding player.

JOHNNY PARKER

Strength and Conditioning, 9th Year

Parker joined the staff in March 1984 after spending the previous four years in a similar capacity at the University of Mississippi. A native of Shaw, Miss., Parker graduated from Shaw High School in Mississippi, then matriculated to Ole Miss., where he earned a degree in 1968. He began his coaching career a year later as linebackers' coach for Indianola Academy, and along the way earned a master's degree from Delta State University. In 1974, he was named strength and conditioning coach at South Carolina University under Paul Dietzel, and held similar positions later with LSU and Indiana University after being named to the position at Mississippi. Parker's weight and conditioning theories, some of which he incorporated into his system after a visit to Russia to study the methods of the Russian Olympic trainers, had an immense impact on the Giants in 1984. From a staggering total of 25 players on Injured Reserve at one time or another in 1983, that figure was reduced to half-dozen in 1984. Parker has since supervised the construction of an all-new and modern weight room at Giants Stadium and had some 35 veteran players participating in a weight and conditioning program during the past off-season. Parker is married to the former Jane Cline of Covington, Ind.

DICK REHBEIN

Tight Ends 1st Year

Rehbein came to the Giants in February of this past off-season from the Minnesota Vikings where he had been the receivers coach, as well as assistant offensive coordinator and passing game coach. He began his tenure with the Vikings in 1984 after coaching with the Green Bay Packers for six seasons. A native of Green Bay, Wisc., where he was born on November 22, 1955, Dick was an all-around scholastic star at DePere High School in DePere, Wisc., then won four letters at Ripon College in Wisconsin as a center, achieving team MVP honors as a senior, as well as Division II All-American honors from both Kodak and the Associated Press, and first-team All-Midwest Conference. He was signed by the Packers in 1977, but eventually was waived and began his career at his alma mater, Ripon, as an admissions counselor. He moved into the NFL in 1978 as special teams assistant with the Packers, and remained on the Green Bay staff until 1984 when he spent one season with the Los Angeles Express of the USFL, prior to joining the Vikings later that same year. An avid reader of non-fiction, Dick and his wife, Pamela, have two daughters, Betsy, seven, and Sarah, three.

ROD RUST

Defensive Coordinator

1st Year

A veteran of 30 years coaching, both on the collegiate and professional level, including head coach jobs in both college and the NFL, Rust brings a wealth of experience to his role as defensive coordinator with the Giants. Rod came to the Giants during this past off-season from the New England Patriots where he had most recently been Director of Pro Scouting. He had served as head coach of the Patriots in 1990 after being defensive coordinator for the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1989. Rod first came into the NFL in 1976 with the Philadelphia Eagles under Dick Vermeil as linebackers coach after 13 years of coaching on the collegiate level. He began that career in 1960 at the University of New Mexico as a defensive line coach, and in 1963 began a four-year stint at Stanford as defensive coordinator on John Ralston's staff, which also included Vermeil and ex-Niner coach Bill Walsh. He was then named head coach at North Texas State where he served for six seasons, and then moved into the pro ranks by joining the Montreal Alouettes of the CFL as defensive coordinator under Marv Levy for three years. He followed this stop with his move to the NFL and the Eagles in 1976, then served as defensive coordinator with the Kansas City Chiefs for five years, prior to going to New England as defensive coordinator in 1983. He spent five years there with the Pats, including their AFC championship and Super Bowl season of 1985, then returned to the Chiefs as defensive coordinator in 1988. Then came his move to the Steelers followed by his subsequent head coaching job with the Patriots. A native of Webster City, Iowa, where he was born on August 2, 1928, Rod was a scholastic standout at Franklin High School in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, then starred as a center-linebacker at Iowa State for three years. He then spent two years with the U.S. Army in the Far East, then earned a master's degree in political science at the University of Iowa. At the same time, he began his career in coaching on the high school level, serving for seven years in scholastic football until joining New Mexico. A crossword puzzle aficionado, Rod and his wife, Jean, have two daughters, Chris and Amy, and Rod also has two sons, Jeff and Greg, from a previous marriage.

GEORGE SEFCIK

Receivers

2nd Year

A native of Cleveland, OH, where he was born on December 27, 1939, Sefcik was a standout halfback at Benedictine H.S. in Cleveland, leading that school to a state championship in 1958. He then moved on to Notre Dame where he won three varsity letters as a two-way halfback from 1959-61, and after graduation began his coaching career at Niles, (IL), High School. Two years later, he returned to Notre Dame as a freshman coach under Hugh Devore, and then was receivers coach from 1964-68 under Ara Parseghian as the Irish won National Championships in both 1964 and 1966. He was then named offensive coordinator at the University of Kentucky in 1969 and remained there through 1972 until his first NFL job as offensive backfield coach with the Baltimore Colts in 1973. George then moved on to the Cleveland Browns as running backs coach in 1975 under Forrest Gregg, and then to the Cincinnati Bengals in a similar capacity, coaching there for six years, including their first Super Bowl appearance after the 1981 season. He subsequently coached the backs and quarterbacks for the Green Bay Packers from 1984-87 and was then named offensive coordinator for the Kansas City Chiefs in 1988. He returned to his hometown and the Browns in 1989 and was their running backs and coordinator for two seasons prior to joining the Giants. An avid golfer and all around sportsman, George and his wife, Lorie, have three children.

MIKE SWEATMAN

Special Teams, 8th Year

Sweatman joined the Giants prior to the 1985 season from the Minnesota Vikings, where he had been special teams and linebackers' coach under Les Steckel. Born in Kansas City, Mo. on October 23, 1946, Mike starred at North Kansas City High School and then was a two-time All-Big Eight linebacker at the University of Kansas, team captain in his senior season and an honorable mention All-American that year. Selected for both the East-West and Hula Bowl games, Mike was also voted the Kansas MVP in 1965. He also earned a varsity letter in wrestling and was a co-captain of that team in 1966. He earned a BS degree in physical education, and subsequently also earned a masters degree from Kansas. After graduation, he was a graduate assistant coach at Kansas, then served four years with the Marine Corps as an infantry officer, including service in Vietnam. He eventually returned to the Quantico Marine Base in Virginia where he coached the Quantico Marines team. He resumed his coaching career at Kansas in 1973, then had subsequent coaching assignments with Coffeyville Junior College, Tulsa University and the University of Tennessee before joining the Vikings. Mike and his wife, Teri, have three sons, Tom, 17; Chris, 14; and Dan, 11 and reside in Wayne, N.J. Mike is still a member of the Marine Corps Reserve and presently holds the rank of Lieut. Colonel.

BOB TROTT

Defensive Assistant, 2nd Year

Trott joined the Giants in May of 1991, and this assignment marks his first NFL experience after 15 years of coaching on the collegiate level. His most recent achievement took place at Clemson where he was the defensive coordinator in 1990, and Clemson for the first time in school history, led the nation in total defense by allowing just 217 yards-per-game. Additionally, the Tigers led the Atlantic Coast Conference in nine defensive categories, and finished second in the NCAA national rankings for rushing and scoring defense. Born on March 19, 1954, in Concord, N.C., Trott grew up in Kannapolis, N.C., and was an All-Conference wide receiver and defensive back at A.L. Brown High School in his hometown, while also winning letters in wrestling and track. He then moved on to the University of North Carolina where he earned three varsity letters as a DB, and graduated in 1976 with a business degree. He subsequently earned a master's degree in education in 1982 from North Carolina. He began his coaching career as an assistant with the Tarheels in 1976-77, then moved on to Air Force where he was linebackers coach from 1978-80 and then defensive back coach from 1981-83. Trott next went to Arkansas as defensive back coach for five seasons and was named defensive coordinator there in 1989. A year later, he joined Clemson as defensive coordinator. Along the way, Trott appeared in 12 major bowl games, either as player or coach, and earned National Honor Society honors in high school and All-Academic mention at North Carolina. He and his wife, Barbara, have three children, Amanda, 10; Nathan, 6; and Brittany, 4.

CHARLIE WEIS

Running Backs, 3rd Year

Charlie is a New Jersey native with an extensive scholastic background in the Garden State. Born in Trenton on March 30, 1956, Weis was an athletic and scholastic standout at Middlesex High School in Middlesex, N.J. He then matriculated to the University of Notre Dame where he earned a B.A. degree in communications and education and graduated with a Cum Laude degree.

He began a coaching and teaching career at Boonton High School in New Jersey in 1979, coaching football, basketball and baseball while also teaching English, then in 1980 moved to Morristown High School for five years in virtually the same capacities, while adding lacrosse to his coaching endeavors. Weis moved into the collegiate ranks in 1985, joining the late Joe Morrison's staff at the University of South Carolina where he served as a linebackers' coach for two seasons, then became assistant director of recruiting and administrative assistant to Morrison for the following two seasons. When a new coaching regime took over after Morrison's death, Charlie returned to New Jersey and was the head coach at Franklin Township High School in 1989, winning a state championship in the process. Prior to that assignment, he had worked as an assistant to Tim Rooney in the Giants' Pro Personnel Department. While at South Carolina, Weis also earned a Master's Degree in Education and was a Cum Laude in that master's program. Charlie was married to the former Maura Cregan of New York City this past June, and they will reside in Wall, N.J.

ROSEY BROWN

Scout

Hall of Famer Roosevelt Brown's appointment to the Giant's scouting staff in 1971 signaled the beginning of yet another era in his outstanding career with the ball club. From 1953 through 1965, Rosey ranked as one of the all-time great offensive linemen in the National Football League, a big, fast, wide-ranging tackle, who earned All-Pro honors eight times, was selected to play in the Pro Bowl on ten occasions and, in 1956, was voted Lineman of the Year in the NFL. When a phlebitis condition forced him to retire in 1966, Brown was immediately named assistant line coach by the Giants, a post he held until 1969 when he became head line coach, replacing Jim Trimble. In 1971, Brown, along with another coaching aide, Ken Kavanaugh, left Alex Webster's staff to assume new responsibilities under Jim Lee Howell, his onetime coach, in the scouting department. Rosey, now 60 is a resident of Teaneck, N.J., but spends a good deal of his time on the road road in search of fresh talent for the Giants.

KEN KAVANAUGH

Scout

Ken Kavanaugh, one of the most famous names in National Football League history, joined the Giants' scouting staff in 1971 and brought with him a wealth of experience as both a professional player and coach. Actually, Kavanaugh moved into the Giants' scouting department from the coaching staff, where he had been offensive end coach from 1955-68 and offensive coach from 1969-70, a total of 16 years under three head coaches, Jim Lee Howell, Allie Sherman and Alex Webster. Prior to becoming a Giant aide, the College Hall of Fame end had spent one season (1951) as end coach for his old club, the Chicago Bears, and one season (1954) at Villanova College in his hometown of Philadelphia. As a player, Ken was one of the Bear greats. He starred at end in 1940-41, left for an Air Force tour of duty as a bomber pilot in World War II in Europe, and returned to make All Pro again in 1946-47. At LSU, Kavanaugh was a four-year regular (1936-40), twice earning All-American honors. During his star-studded career with the Bears, Ken set four alltime Chicago receiving records which still stand — most touchdown passes caught (50); most TD passes caught one season (13); highest average gain, career (22.4); and highest average gain, season (25.6). Ken and his wife, Ann, now reside in Sarasota, Fla.

CHRIS MARA

Scout

Chris joined the Giants' staff prior to the 1979 season and has been extremely active in collegiate scouting throughout all of that time, throughout the country. Along with the other scouts, he has also been a key part of the Giants' operations center during the NFL drafts over the years. Born on March 11, 1957 in New York City, Chris graduated from Iona Prep in New Rochelle, N.Y. where he was a standout defensive back for three seasons, winning All-Catholic High School Athletic Association recognition after his senior year. He began his collegiate career at Springfield University, where he was a defensive back on the freshman team, then transferred to Boston College, where he earned a B.A. degree in Arts and Sciences with a major in Sociology. During his scholastic and collegiate days, Chris spent many seasons working at various Giants' pre-season training camps, and during the regular season worked with broadcast teams from both CBS-TV and NBC-TV, as well as with visiting and home radio broadcast groups. Married to the former Kathleen Rooney, Chris has four children — Daniel, 11, Katie, 9, Patricia, 7, and Conor, 5; all of whom are the great grandchildren of NFL Hall of Famers, Giants' Founder Tim Mara and Steelers' Founder and Owner Art Rooney.

A native of Roslyn, Long Island where he was born on June 9, 1954, Verderosa played his scholastic sports at Ward Melville High School in Setauket, N.Y., then began his collegiate career at Central Iowa as a wide receiver and punter. He then moved on to New York Institute of Technology where he continued his dual roles, and was an ECAC Player of the Week for an eight-catch, 100-yard day vs. Western Connecticut in the 1975 season at Tech. After receiving a degree in general architecture and a design award in his senior year, Steve had a tryout with the Washington Redskins as a WR-punter in 1977, and also had a two-week stint with the Cleveland Browns as a punter in the 1978 pre-season. After a year as an architectural draftsman, Steve got the football urge once again and began a coaching career at his alma mater, New York Tech, as an offensive assistant, then spent two seasons as a coach and teacher at St. Anthony's High School before landing a spot as defensive backfield coach at Columbia. From there, he moved on to C.W. Post for four years as secondary coach, and then joined the scouting department of the Tampa Bay Buccaneers before coming to the Giants. Married to the former Lori Ann Felicetti, Steve resides in Stony Brook, N.Y.

JOHN CREA

Scout

Crea (pronounced Cray) joined the Giants this past May as the replacement for Terry Bradway who had left the staff to join the Kansas City Chiefs. A native of Staten Island where he was born on September 28, 1951, John played his scholastic sports at Monsignor Farrell High School in Staten Island, then began his collegiate days at the University of Utah. He subsequently switched to Albany State University and won three varsity letters there as a defensive back and wide receiver, earning a B.A. degree in English and Communications. He then added a master's degree in Physical Education from Arizona State University and began his coaching career there as a graduate assistant. He continued in this field with stops along the way at Albany State, Kean College, Frostburg State in Maryland, and Holy Cross as an assistant coach, and was then named head coach at William Paterson College in New Jersey in 1982. After five years in that position, he then moved on to Methodist College in Fayetteville, N.C. as head coach from the 1987 season through the 1991 campaign. Married to the former Kathleen Coyle, John and his wife have a daughter, Kelly, 9, and he lists racquetball and golf as his favorite hobbies.

JULIUS HORAI

Administrative Assistant

A key man in the Giants' operation is Julius "Whitey" Horai who has been associated with the club since 1954. Whitey handles a myriad of details as well as serving as the coordinator of transportation and film exchanges. A native of Richmond, Staten Island, Whitey graduated from Curtis High School there, then went on to Wagner College where he worked for the athletic department as equipment and field maintenance man under Jim Lee Howell. When Jim Lee came to the Giants as head coach in 1954, Horai came too in a part-time capacity, then joined the club fulltime in 1970. A bachelor, Whitey still resides in Staten Island.

JIM PHELAN

Administrative Assistant

After serving as an assistant equipment manager, Jim began new responsibilities in 1988 as an administrative assistant, taking over some of the duties of the late Vinnie Swerc. Born on January 29, 1964 in Providence, R.I., Phelan graduated from King Philip Regional H.S. in Wrentham, Mass. where he won varsity letters in football, basketball, hockey and track and was an All-League wide receiver, setting a school record for most receptions (43) in an eight-game season. He subsequently matriculated to the University of Massachusetts where he earned a degree in general business. He worked all of his collegiate summers at the Giants' training camps, and lists golf and skiing as his favorite hobbies.

RONNIE BARNES

Head Trainer

While he's still one of the youngest head trainers in the NFL, 40-year-old Ronnie Barnes has compiled a dossier of accomplishments and honors worthy of anyone in his field, no matter what the length of service to the profession. A graduate of East Carolina University where he won distinguished student honors, he was that school's first graduate of the sports medicine program, and subsequently has since been elected to the East Carolina Athletic Hall of Fame and been named a winner of the Outstanding Alumni Award as well. He received a master's degree from Michigan State University in administrative services and also served as trainer and assistant professor of health at MSU where he was the trainer for both Magic Johnson and Kirk Gibson during his tenure. A native of Rocky Mount, N.C., where he was born on February 15, 1952, he graduated from Fike Senior H.S. in Wilson, N.C. and initially joined the Giants as a student intern in 1976. Since assuming his full time capacity with the club in 1980, Ronnie has twice been voted National Professional Trainer of the Year by the National Athletic Trainers Association, a 6,000-member organization, and he has served on the NATA board of certification for 10 years. He has published several scientific research articles on sports medicine, and as recently as this past off-season published chapters in three sports medicine books. Barnes has made State Department tours to Brazil and other countries, and he has lectured nationally and internationally on sports medicine, including a German tour. He's also actively involved in substance abuse programs in both the New York and New Jersey school systems, and is also the Executive Director of Meadowlands Profession Sports Care, a private physical therapy and physician clinic in East Rutherford, N.J. He resides in West Orange, N.J.

JOHN JOHNSON

Trainer

John Johnson, a graduate of the Swedish Institute of Physical Therapy, has been a trainer for the Giants for more than 40 years and, during this period, also has served as head trainer and physical instructor at Manhattan College. After serving an internship period at Brooklyn Jewish and Long Island College Hospitals (1937-38), Johnson worked as a physical trainer for the Bedford YMCA and then, from 1942-46, was in charge of physical therapy and rehabilitation at a U.S. Air Force base hospital. His service hitch included duty as a physical therapy instructor, athletic trainer for post teams and as an air-sea rescue medic. From 1946-47, John was a civilian athletic trainer at the U.S. Naval Preflight School at Ottumwa, Ia. A member of the Eastern and National Athletic Trainers' Associations as well as the National Physical Therapy Association, Johnson also has served as a trainer for visiting teams at Madison Square Garden (1954-63). He lives in Cresskill, N.J.

MICHAEL RYAN

ATHLETIC TRAINER

Ryan joined the Giants' trainers' staff in May of 1988 and has been an integral part of that operation ever since. A native of Framingham, Mass. where he was born on February 5, 1963, Ryan earned varsity letters in track and cross-country at both Mohawk Trail H.S. in Shelburne Falls, Mass., and at Southington H.S. in Southington, Conn., while also earning honor roll status throughout his high school career. He subsequently won six varsity letters in cross-country, indoor and outdoor track at Central Connecticut State University in New Britain, Conn., earning a degree in Athletic Training, while also achieving scholar-athlete and dean's list honors and was an All-East miler there. He subsequently also earned a B.S. degree in Physical Therapy from the University of Connecticut. An All-State miler while at Southington H.S., Ryan served as a training intern with the Giants during pre-season training camps, and has also had experience with Columbia University, Wesleyan University and as head trainer at Bloomfield College, while also working as a physical therapist at several sports medicine clinics. Also a recipient of the Eastern Athletic Trainers Association scholarship in 1984 and the National Athletic Trainers Association post-graduate scholarship in 1985, Ryan resides in Leonia, N.J. While now single, he is the proud father of a daughter, Erin Teresa, and lists hobbies that include reading, sky diving and triathloneing. Mike was also named to the Outstanding Young Men of America in 1990, and was recently named to the executive committee of the Professional Football Athletic Trainers Society.

DR. RUSSELL F. WARREN

Team Physician

Dr. Warren joined the Giants' medical staff in 1984. Born in Burlington, Vt. on June 18, 1939, Dr. Warren is a graduate of Columbia College in New York and the Upstate Medical School in Syracuse, N.Y. He did his internship and residency in surgery at St. Luke's Hospital in New York City, and his residency in orthopedic surgery at the Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City after a two-year tour of duty as a medical officer in the U.S. Navy. He subsequently served as a member of the surgical staff at Lynchburg General Hospital in Lynchburg, Va., and as a Fellow in Orthopedics at Columbia Presbyterian Hospital in New York City. He is currently an Associate Attending Orthopedic Surgeon for The New York Hospital and The Hospital for Special Surgery in New York City, and an Associate Professor of Orthopedic Surgery for the Cornell University Medical Center in New York. He is also Director of Sports Medicine at The Hospital for Special Surgery and a consulting orthopedic surgeon for the Public School Athletic League, United States Tennis Association and Columbia College, all in New York. The author of numerous publications on his specialties, Dr. Warren is a resident of Greenwich, Conn. An outstanding halfback at Columbia, Warren had a tryout with the Giants in 1962.

DR. ALLAN LEVY

Associate Team Physician

Dr. Levy joined the Giants prior to the 1976 season and brings impressive credentials with him to the job. In private practice for over 30 years in Westwood, N.J., Al has been involved in sports medicine for most of those years, initially as the team physician for Westwood High School. He moved into professional baseball as team physician for the Newark Bears, and then into football with the Brooklyn Dodgers of the old Continental Football League. He continued in football as team physician for the Westchester Bulls, a Giant affiliate in the late 1960s, and was the first team doctor for the New Jersey Nets when they began play originally as the New Jersey Americans. He has also worked as the team doctor for the New York Islanders hockey team of the NHL. Born on Sept. 28, 1927 in Saranac Lake, N.Y., Dr. Levy received his B.A. from Columbia University in 1947 and his M.D. from Cornell University in 1951. He and his wife Gail have three children.

DR. JOEL GOLDBERG

Director of Career Counseling

As one of the clubs in the forefront of encouraging the development of career counseling for players, the Giants have added Joel Goldberg to the staff to oversee this function. Through this counseling, the object is to help players through the transformation from playing days to non-playing days and life adjustment and to stimulate interaction between the metropolitan community and the players. The program is designed to measure players' aptitudes, interests, abilities and career goals and to put those qualities into practical application. A native of Brooklyn, N.Y., Goldberg earned a B.S. in Education from the University of Rhode Island, a Master's degree from New York University and a Doctorate degree in Counseling Psychology from Rutgers. During his career he has been a counselor with the New York City Department of Labor; a professor at Kean College in New Jersey; a psychological consultant to boards of education, and President of Career Consultants, his own counseling business in Union, N.J. for the past 17 years. Born on July 5, 1943, Dr. Goldberg and his wife, a high school history teacher, have a son and daughter and reside in New Jersey.

ED WAGNER

Locker Room Manager

The overseer of locker room operations and a much-decorated Army veteran "Whitey" Wagner assumed his duties in 1976. Since that time, Whitey's domain has included all aspects of running not only the locker room, but the care and feeding of the players during the week, as well as supervising the maintenance of the pressroom at Giants Stadium which houses all of the metropolitan area media. A native of Staten Island, N.Y., Wagner is a graduate of New Dorp High School. He is also in charge of the Giants' annual large-scale moving operation from Giants Stadium to the pre-season training camp, and also for the return move, as well as handling the supervision of maintenance at the camp. He and his wife, Gertrude, have a daughter, Patricia, and a son, Edward Jr., and now live in Rutherford, N.J.

ED WAGNER, JR.

Equipment Manager

Ed was named to the position of Equipment Manager in June of 1979 and since that time has handled a myriad of details, including the purchase, upkeep and repair of all equipment and uniforms, the transportation of equipment and uniforms to and from all road trips and to and from training camp, the handling of all training camp duties and arrangements, as well as field maintenance. A native of Staten Island, Ed had served as assistant manager for two seasons with the Giants prior to being named manager. Edward Kenneth Wagner was born on November 29, 1956 in Staten Island and graduated from Curtis High School there in 1974. He and his wife, the former Andrea De Nonno, were married in June of 1979, and have a daughter, Donna, 7, and a son, Christopher, 4. The Wagners reside in River Edge, N.J.

TONY CEGLIO

Video Director

Tony joined the Giants in 1975 as director of the club's film and video operations which includes filming all pre-season and regular season games and practices for study by the coaching staff, as well as the distribution and exchange of films and video with other NFL clubs. When the NFL officially switched from 16mm film to video in 1986, Ceglio designed the premier video tape editing system in the NFL, the Lake Sports Compiler. The Giants were the first team in the NFL to put this system on line, and since then several other teams have employed this system. Ceglio also co-authored the official NFL rules for the video taping of games and league exchange, and he has been elected for two years running by the NFL Video Directors as chairman of the NFL Video Directors group. Born on September 23, 1954 in Mount Vernon, N.Y., Tony is a graduate of Stepinac High School in White Plains, N.Y. and the New York School of Visual Arts where he earned a BA in Film and an outstanding student award. He currently is teaching an undergraduate course in sports film and video at his alma mater. His previous experience includes freelance camera work on television films and as a cinematographer and director in the areas of commercials and industrial films. He had also previously done film work for major league baseball in Florida training camps and worked with the New Jersey Nets of the NBA as a cameraman and video tape producer. Married to the former Carolyn Trainor, the Ceglios reside in Washington Township, N.J. and Tony is an avid skier who enjoys Colorado in the off-season. The Ceglios have twin daughters, Dawn and Danielle.

JOHN MANCUSO

Assistant Video Director

Mancuso joined the Giants in a fulltime capacity in 1978 as an assistant to Tony Ceglio as the video department increased in scope and details. John works in the filming of all practices and games, both home and away, with the new Sony Betacam video systems, as well as in the processing and printing of all video in the Giants' ultra-modern video offices. Born on June 9, 1953 in Queens, Mancuso attended Stepinac High School in White Plains, N.Y. and then graduated from nearby Scarsdale High School. He subsequently served as a Recreation Director for the Tibbits Nursing Home in Westchester for several years, then began working part time for the Giants in the film department in 1977. As a cameraman, still photographer and videoman, John also worked for the New Jersey Nets of the NBA as a free lancer for two years before assuming his present fulltime position with the Giants. John is married to the former Reena Slatky, has two sons, John and Julian, and resides in Tuxedo, N.Y. An accomplished musician, he has played guitar, bass and piano for various musical groups for the last 20 years as well.

JOE MANSFIELD

Field Security Manager

A retired White Plains Police Department detective, Mansfield joined the Giants in 1976, and in addition to his field security duties, also assists the club in locker room operations during the regular season and at the Pace University training camp site. A native of New York City, Joe graduated from Mount St. Michael's H.S. in New York, then joined the United States

Marine Corps in 1943 during World War II and was recalled during the Korean conflict in 1950. He spent nine years with the Fifth Avenue Coach Co. of New York and a short period of time with the Corrections Department at Sing Sing Prison, then joined the White Plains Police Department in 1956, rising through the ranks to Detective and collecting numerous citations and commendations along the way until retiring in 1976. Several years ago, Joe was re-introduced to a childhood sweetheart after a forty-year separation after each of them had been widowed. Shortly thereafter Joe and Maggie were married and they now live in White Plains and together are enjoying their combined family of 10 children and 22 grandchildren.

HEIDI SKOLNIK

Nutrition Consultant

Heidi joined the Giants in May of this year as the replacement for Merle Best who had been the club's Nutrition Consultant for the previous seven seasons. A graduate of Ithaca College where she earned a B.A. degree in Exercise and Nutrition and a master's degree in Sports Medicine for physical educators, Heidi brings a diversified background with her to the organization.

While at Ithaca, she devised and implemented conditioning plans for that school's football and baseball teams, then worked with Morgan Stanley & Co. in New York for seven years, initially as a director of exercise and training, and eventually as director of corporate programs there, overseeing staff and facility operations for the firms' entire health promotion endeavors. Heidi has also been the New York Mets' nutrition consultant since 1986, devising spring training camp menus and general nutrition outlines, and has also lectured on nutrition and fitness at Cornell University, Ithaca College, at the New York City PSAL conferences and at Hackensack Medical Center. She is additionally affiliated with the American College of Sports Medicine, Association for Fitness in Business, National Strength and Conditioning Association and the International Dance Exercise Association. With the Giants, she will work throughout the year with players on nutritional aspects of training and competition, as well as with providing dietary counseling for preventive health and rehabilitation. She resides on Central Park West in New York City.

JON BERGER

Computer Coordinator

Although he was named to his current position in February, 1987, Jon has been associated with the Giants since 1981 when he worked in the pre-season training camp, initially as an on-the-field assistant, and later as an intern in the media services department, encompassing six training camp tenures. Born in the Bronx on July 27, 1964, Jon was raised in Queens and graduated from Stuyvesant High School. He then matriculated to Albany State University where he majored in computer science and mathematics, earning a B.S. degree and graduating Cum Laude with Dean's List honors as well in 1985. He was also a member of the Purple & Gold honor and service society, and while an undergraduate also served as a computer science teaching assistant. After graduation, he remained at Albany State for another year as the computer coordinator for the physical education department, producing programs for all of the men's and women's intercollegiate teams. Jon is now pursuing an MBA in management at Fairleigh-Dickinson University. In addition to his fulltime duties with the Giants, Berger has also been a familiar figure courtside at all New York Knicks' home games at Madison Square Garden where he serves as computer statistician. Jon and his wife, Alicia Cassio, reside in Staten Island.

BOBBY ABRAMS

Michigan

4/12/67

FA-'90

3rd Year

PRO: Abrams played in all 16 games in 1991, two of those as a starter when Lawrence Taylor was down with an injury. He was also a top contributor on special teams and finished the year with 20 total tackles and one forced fumble. 1990: Bobby enjoyed a highly productive preseason training camp, so much so that he became one of the very few free agents to make the final 47-man roster. During that pre-season, he had nine total tackles, playing strongly on special teams and at outside linebacker. He then appeared in all 16 regular season outings and in all of the playoffs, again seeing action on special teams and at OLB in situational defenses, finishing with 13 total tackles in the regular season, and adding three more in the playoffs.

COLLEGE: Abrams began his collegiate career at Michigan as a strong safety, then moved to outside LB after building up to his current 230 pounds in the Wolverine weight room. As a three-year starter at OLB, he finished with a career total of 150 tackles and played in three Rose Bowls. Blessed with 4.6 speed, he was a second-team All-Big 10 choice in 1989 and was an MVP winner in a victory over Maryland when he recorded 12 total tackles and three QB sacks.

PERSONAL: Robert Abrams Jr. was born in Detroit, Mich., on April 12, 1967, and was a scholastic athletic and academic standout at Henry Ford High School in his hometown. He was All-State in football as a defensive back-linebacker, and also starred in track as a long jumper and sprinter, while making the school honor roll eight straight semesters and finishing with a 3.8 GPA. His father, Bobby Sr., is a former three-time Golden Gloves boxing champion in Detroit.

OTTIS ANDERSON

Miami (FL)

1/19/57

PRO: After a marvelous 1990 season in which he won MVP honors in the Giants' Super Bowl triumph, Ottis saw only limited action in 1991. Most of that was at the outset of the year when Rodney Hampton was out with an injury, and when Rodney returned, O.J. was relegated to backup duty. He appeared in 10 games, finishing with 141 yards rushing and his 81st career rushing TD, while adding 11 receptions to run that career total to 376. 1990: Not only was he the club's leading rusher again in 1990 with 784 yards, he also surpassed the career 10,000-yard rushing mark and moved into 8th place on the NFL's Alltime Rushing list. Then, if all that wasn't enough, the marvel powered the Giants' running attack through the playoffs with 249 more yards, including 102 in the Super Bowl championship game which earned him MVP honors in Super Bowl XXV, a fitting climax to another vintage season by the vintage RB. In addition to his Super Bowl MVP award, Ottis was also named to the All-Madden team. 1989: Pressed into fulltime duty after Joe Morris suffered a broken foot in the final pre-season game, the venerable running back came through with a 1,023-yard season, his sixth career 1,000-yard season, but his first as a Giant. Along the way, he scored 14 rushing touchdowns, added 28 pass receptions and was named NFL Comeback Player of the Year by both Pro Football Weekly and Football Digest. He was also a one-man attack in the divisional championship playoff loss to the Rams, rushing for 120 yards and scoring the Giants' only TD. 1988: Anderson also had a productive season, though generally as a role player in short-yardage and goal-line situations. He finished with just 208 yards rushing as the backup for Joe Morris, but nonetheless scored eight rushing TDs, including three in one game, to tie a club record, vs. his old team, the Cardinals. 1987: Veteran RB saw only limited action, appearing in just four games with but two rushing attempts and a pair of pass receptions. Former Pro Bowl and All-NFL running back was obtained from the St. Louis Cardinals in a trade for draft choices on October 7, 1986, and appeared in eight games for the Giants during the regular season, as well as in the playoffs and Super Bowl. In his first game with the Giants, on October 12 vs. the Eagles, Anderson rushed for 32 yards on seven carries, but pulled a hamstring on a 16-yard sweep and was hobbled somewhat thereafter. He finished the season with 81 yards rushing on 24 carries for the Giants, including the go-ahead one-yard TD dive in the 21-17 win over the San Francisco 49ers, then put the cap on the Giants' 39-20 Super Bowl triumph over Denver with a 2-yard blast for the last Giant touchdown. The Cardinals No. 1 draft choice in 1979, O.J. had one of the most dynamic pro debuts in NFL history when he rushed for 193 yards on 21 carries in his first NFL game vs. Dallas. He went on to win Rookie of the Year honors that season, as well as being named to the Pro Bowl and All-NFL with a 1,605-yards rushing rookie season. He added four more 1,000-yard rushing seasons in 1980-81-83-84 before missing seven games in 1985 with assorted injuries. He owns all of the Cardinals' rushing records, both for season and career.

COLLEGE: Anderson broke Chuck Foreman's career rushing records at the University of Miami, setting a Miami season record — with 1,266 yards rushing in his senior year — the first Hurricane ever to surpass the 1,000-yard rushing mark in one season. He was a first-team All-American selection by both the Sporting News and Football Coaches Association.

PERSONAL: Ottis Jerome Anderson was born in West Palm Beach, Fla, and was a scholastic standout at Forest Hill High School in his hometown. With a degree in physical education from Miami, Ottis and his wife, Wanda, reside in Creve Coeur, Mo. during the off-seasons.

22 GREG AMSLER

Running Back Tennessee 12/19/67
6-3 238 FA-'92 1st Year

PRO: Amsler came to the Giants during this past off-season in the Plan B acquisition period from the Phoenix Cardinals. He was the Cardinals' 8th round draft choice in the 1991 draft, but suffered an ankle injury early in the Phoenix training camp, and eventually was placed on injured reserve and missed the entire season. Prior to his injury, Amsler had been extremely impressive in that training camp getting work as the "H-back," showing solid pass catching ability as well as sound blocking techniques.

COLLEGE: Greg won four varsity letters at Tennessee under Johnny Majors, initially as a tailback and eventually as the Vols' fullback. A hard-nosed type player, Amsler played in four bowl games during his career there, Sugar, Cotton, Peach and Liberty, and concluded with a career total of 658 yards rushing on 187 attempts for a 3.7 average and 12 touchdowns. A fine receiver, he also added 52 receptions for 488 yards and another TD and also threw a TD pass on an option play. Won honorable mention All-America by the Football News in his senior year.

PERSONAL: Gregory Thomas Amsler was born in Summit, N.J. on December 19, 1967 and was an All-State selection at Seton Hall Prep, leading that club to the state championship with a 9-0-2 mark in his senior year. Starred at fullback and as a linebacker on defense. Also batted .305 on the Prep's baseball team where he also pitched. Lists water sports and golf as favorite hobbies.

MATT BAHR*Place Kicker
5-10 175*Penn State 7/6/56
FA-'90 14th Year

PRO: Veteran PK moved into 17th position in the NFL's Alltime Scoring list in 1991, with his 90 points upping his career total to 1,065 and vaulting him past Sam Baker and Bruce Gossett. With 39 of 52 as a Giant, Matt also took over the alltime club lead for career FG percentage with a mark of 75.0%, and despite missing three games with a groin injury had four tackles on kickoff coverages. Matt also kicked winning FGs in the last seconds for victories over the 49ers and Steelers, and his FG was also the difference in a 13-10 nod over Cleveland...which is of some interest since Matt played for all three of those teams earlier in his career. He also hit a 54-yard FG in the season finale vs. Houston, the longest of his career. 1990: When Raul Allegre went down with a groin injury three games into the season, the club quickly signed the veteran Bahr who had earlier been released by the Cleveland Browns. That acquisition turned out to be a gem of an addition. Not only were Bahr FGs the winning points in three regular season games, but his dramatic 42-yarder at the gun clinched the NFC title for the Giants in the stirring 15-13 win over the 49ers, and his pair of FGs were the difference in the 20-19 Super Bowl championship win over Buffalo. Along the way, Matt booted in 13 regular season games and the three-game playoffs, finishing with 29-30 in PATs, and 17-23 in FGs during the regular season, then adding 6-6 PATs and 8-9 FGs in the playoffs. That added up to 35-36 and 25-32, which are solid figures, to be sure. He also showed his toughness with six solo tackles on returns during the year, even had a face-mask penalty called on him, and that was sufficient for John Madden to name Matt to his All-Madden team as the PK for 1990. Originally a No. 6 draft choice of the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1979, Matt spent two years with the Steelers, scoring 104 points in his rookie year and winning a Super Bowl ring as the Steelers beat the Rams 31-19 that year with Matt booting a 41-yard FG in that win. He was with the 49ers briefly in 1981, then traded to Cleveland where he kicked until he was released in 1990. Had his best year with Browns in 1988 when he won team offensive MVP honors with 104 points and 24-of-29 FGs.

COLLEGE: Matt was a three-year kicker for Penn State, setting an NCAA record in his senior year with 22 FGs and 74 PATs, and was also a four-year starter and captain of the Penn State soccer team. Also was named the PK on the Penn State alltime team, beating out his brother, Chris, a former NFL kicker. Matt also played professional soccer in 1978 for the Colorado Caribous and Tulsa Roughnecks of the NASL.

PERSONAL: Matthew David Bahr was born in Philadelphia, PA, on July 6, 1956 and starred in football and soccer at Neshaminy Langhorne H.S. in Langhorne, PA. His father was the soccer coach at Penn State for 14 years and was a former member of U.S. World Cup team. Another brother, Casey, was a U.S. Olympic soccer player. Matt has a B.S. degree in electrical engineering and an M.B.A. degree. He and his wife, Maresa, have two daughters, Lindsey Davies, 9, and Caitlin Dorothy, 5. Matt has also done color commentary on cable TV for soccer.

STEPHEN BAKER

PRO: Baker surpassed the career 100-catch plateau in 1991, hauling in 30 receptions for 525 yards and four touchdowns to up his Giants' totals to 124 grabs and 19 TD connections, while sporting the club's top average-per-catch mark of 18.2 over that span. Stephen had his best games in wins over Tampa Bay, Dallas and the Niners, nailing a 30-yard game-winner from Phil

Simms in the victory over the Bucs, and adding four catches in the win over Dallas and three for 69 yards in the nod over SF. He also had a pair of TD receptions vs. the Bengals. He showed his consistency, despite a lack of big numbers, by having at least one reception in 14 of the 15 games he played. 1990: Stephen had a solid season, and while his 26 catches were not up with the league leaders, his 20.8 average-per-catch was second in the NFC to Flipper Anderson of the Rams. He had a big day in the first win over the Redskins with three grabs for 109 yards, including an 80-yard TD jaunt, his second 80-plus TD career-wise. All told, he had four TD catches during the season, then added seven receptions in the playoffs, including TD catches in the win over the Bears and the Super Bowl nod over the Bills. 1989: Baker appeared in 15 games during the 1989 season, four of those as a starter, but had his lowest production as the Giants utilized more of a ball-control, rushing offense. The slim swift had but 13 receptions, but his 19.6 average-per-catch mark led the club for a third straight season. Two of his catches went for touchdowns, a 39-yarder vs. Phoenix in the first outing against the Cardinals, and then a 35-yarder in the second game with Phoenix. 1988: Baker stepped into the starting job and turned in a quality season. Despite the fact that he didn't have a catch in the first four games, he finished with a total of 40 for 656 yards and a club-leading seven TD grabs. Along the way he had a pair of 100-yard receiving games vs. Atlanta (6-104) and New Orleans (3-134) and in the Saints game had an 85-yard TD reception, the longest in 16 years by a Giants' receiver. Also filled in as a punt returner when Phil McConkey was injured. 1987: Swift small-package department made an impact during the pre-season, then won himself a spot during the regular season, and was a starter at WR for five games when Stacy Robinson was injured. Along the way, the diminutive speedster had 15 receptions for an 18.5 average-per-catch, and scored on TD receptions of 46 yards vs. the Saints and 12 vs. the Eagles. He also had a big 50-yard reception in an earlier win over Philadelphia. He had his best outing in that New Orleans game, grabbing four passes for 100 yards and the TD. Also had four catches for 69 yards in victory over New England.

COLLEGE: Stephen began his collegiate career at West Los Angeles J.C. where he had 105 receptions for 2,145 yards and 31 touchdowns, then continued his production for two more years at Fresno State where he set alltime school marks en route to two straight All-Pacific Coast Athletic Association first-team designations. In those two years, he had 62 catches for 1,629 yards and a dazzling 26.3 average-per-catch mark while scoring 16 touchdowns — 10 on receptions, three on end-arounds and three more on punt returns. Also starred in Japan Bowl and Blue-Gray games, winning MVP honors in the first-mentioned game when he caught a 36-yard TD pass in the final two minutes to win the game for the West.

PERSONAL: Stephen Edward Baker was born on August 30, 1964 in San Antonio, Tex., then played his scholastic sports at Hamilton High School in Los Angeles where he starred in football, track and gymnastics. Lists video games and remote control toys as two of his favorite hobbies.

58*Linebacker Michigan State 8/29/62*6-4*235*D-1 '84*9th Year

PRO: Veteran OLB missed just one game in 1991, started the other 15 and finished second in total tackles with 88 on the season. He chipped in with four QB sacks during the year, and led all linebackers with eight pass breakups, which was also good for third spot on the club, ahead of five defensive backs on the roster. Among his top outings were 12 tackles and a sack vs.

the Eagles, 10 solos vs. the Redskins and nine tackles and a sack in a win over Cleveland.

1990: Veteran strongside backer suffered a fractured metacarpal bone in his left hand early in the season, had to sit out seven outings, but bounced back in the stretch run and playoffs for his usual key contributions as the defense was top-rated in the NFC. Along the way, Banks had 51 total tackles in the nine regular season games he played in, adding a QB sack, a fumble recovery and a pair of pass breakups, then added seven stops and a breakup in the playoffs. 1989: Played in all 16 games finishing with 97 total tackles. That was good for the runnerup spot in total stops, and he also added a club-leading and career-high seven forced fumbles along with four QB sacks, a fumble recovery, one interception, and his first NFL reception, which went for 22 yards and a touchdown off a fake field goal. He was also named NFC Defensive Player of the Year by the Washington Post, with all of those accomplishments reflecting his total bounce back from the previous season. Carl was further honored when he was selected to the All-NFL 1980s second-team, as voted by the 27 Pro Football Writers who comprise the Hall of Fame voting each year. 1988: Had just 66 tackles and two sacks after a long holdout contract dispute. 1987: Banks finally won much-overdue recognition in 1987, winning unanimous All-NFL honors by the wire services and major publications, and was also voted as a starter to his first Pro Bowl. Along the way, Carl led the club in tackles for the second consecutive year with 113, added a career-high nine quarterback sacks, his first interception and a pair of forced fumbles, while also winning NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors with 12 solo tackles and 2½ sacks in a win over the Eagles. 1986: Banks was a power-house performer all season long in 1986, and was ranked among the top three linebackers in the NFL by Dallas coach Tom Landry. Yet despite the fact that he might have well been the club's best defensive player during the second half of the season, Banks won little post-season acclaim, getting an honorable mention All-NFL from the AP and a Pro Bowl alternate spot. In his first full season as a 16-game starter, Carl led the team in total tackles with 120; had 6½ quarterback sacks, two forced fumbles, and two fumble returns for five yards, then led the club in the playoffs as well with 26 total tackles and a fumble recovery while recording 10 solo stops in the Super Bowl triumph. 1985: Banks won the starting job at OLB, then suffered a sprained knee and was out of action for a month. Prior to that injury, he had recorded three QB sacks and recovered a fumble and performed with gusto. After his return, he saw action in all of the remaining games, concluding the season with a total of 31 tackles, then adding nine more tackles in the playoff games. 1984: Carl had an auspicious debut as a rookie starter, winning Sports Illustrated's Defensive Player of the Week honors after registering 10 solo tackles, two QB sacks and a fumble recovery in a 19-7 victory over Atlanta. All told, Banks finished that season with 39 total tackles, added three QB sacks, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble, and also played well on special teams. As a starter in the two playoff games, he added seven tackles, and set the tone on defense in the playoff win over the Los Angeles Rams by throwing Eric Dickerson for a four-yard loss on the Rams' first rushing attempt of the day. Banks was named to the All-NFL Rookie team at season's end by UPI, Pro Football Weekly, the Pro Football Writers Association and Football Digest.

COLLEGE: Banks was a consensus All-American in his senior year at Michigan State and was only the ninth player in the 87-year history of the Big 10 to earn All-Conference first-team honors for three straight seasons. Carl won a starting job late in his freshman season, then played in 43 of 44 games thereafter, finishing his career with 279 tackles — the third highest total in Spartan history. He added two interceptions, four fumble recoveries, and eight pass deflections and was named to play in the Senior Bowl, Blue-Gray Game and Hula Bowl. Banks was co-captain in both his junior and senior years and was named Michigan State's MVP and Governor's Award winner in his senior season.

PERSONAL: Carl Banks was born on August 29, 1962 in Flint, Mich., and was a fine student-athlete at Beecher High School in his hometown, winning All-State honors in football as well as All-State Honorable mention in basketball. He was also a shot-putter on the track team which finished third in the state championships. He was also elected vice-president of the student government in high school, and was a Communications major at Michigan State.

ROGER BROWN

Cornerback Virginia Tech 12/26/66

6-0 196 FA-'90 3rd Year

PRO: Roger played in all 16 games last year, including one start, and also saw extensive duty on both special teams and in the nickel defense. He finished with 29 total tackles, the most of any non-starter, while adding a pair of passes defended. Also finished as one of the leading tacklers on special team coverage. 1990: Brown was an 8th round draft choice by the Green Bay Packers in 1990, but after enjoying a respectable pre-season, he was caught up in an overabun-dance of CBs with the Pack and was among their last cuts. The Giants then signed him to their practice squad, and he was subsequently activated and played in five regular season games and in all of the playoffs. He showed steady improvement along the way, and contributed on special teams as well. He finished with eight total tackles during the regular campaign, and added two more in the playoffs, while also showing that he had the ability to be a good cover man on the right corner.

COLLEGE: Roger won four varsity letters at Virginia Tech and was a starting CB for three seasons, finishing with career totals of 134 tackles, six interceptions for 102 yards returned, 12 pass breakups, and three blocked kicks. He also doubled as a punt returner with an 8.0 average, and closed his collegiate career with a bang in his last game when he had five tackles and two interceptions, one of which he returned 55 yards for a TD in a 25-23 win over North Carolina State.

PERSONAL: Roger Brown was born in Baltimore, MD on December 16, 1966, and played his scholastic sports at Cardinal Gibbons H.S. in Baltimore. He was a team MVP and All-Metro choice as a wide receiver-defensive back and also lettered four times in baseball as a centerfielder, leading that team to a pair of conference titles.

JARROD BUNCH

Michigan

D-1 ('91)

8/9/68

2nd Year

PRO: The Giants' top draft choice in '91, Bunch played in all 16 games as a special teams' member, but did not see that much action at the fullback slot. He had only one rushing attempt and two pass receptions during the year, but came up with six tackles on kick coverages, and also blocked a punt against the Eagles in the December 8 game. He took part in the off-season workout program, and with the departure of veteran fullback Maurice Carthon, Bunch figures to get a much bigger workload this coming year.

COLLEGE: Bunch won All-American honors, as well as All-Big 10 laurels at Michigan, and was selected to play in both the East-West Shrine and Hula Bowl games after his senior season. Big, strong and quick, he finished his Wolverine career with 1,267 yards rushing for a 4.4 average, and added 26 pass receptions while scoring a total of 10 touchdowns.

PERSONAL: Jarrod Bunch was born in Ashtabula, Ohio on August 9, 1968 and played his scholastic sports at Ashtabula High School, winning letters in football, basketball and track. He was an All-Conference MVP in his senior year in football, and in a weight-lifting competition set a state prep school mark of 600 pounds in the deadlift division.

90*CHRIS CALLOWAY*Wide Receiver Michigan 3/29/68
5-10 185 FA-'92 3rd Year

PRO: Calloway joined the Giants this past off-season as a Plan B free agent acquisition after two seasons with the Pittsburgh Steelers where he was a reserve WR and special teams' player. During those two campaigns in Pittsburgh, Chris appeared in all 16 games during his rookie season, chiefly as a third-down receiver, and finished with 10 catches for 124 yards, including a 20-yard TD grab vs. the Cleveland Browns. Last season, he upped those totals to 15 receptions for 254 yards, a 16.9 average, and one 33-yard touchdown grab. He also continued to be an active player on the special team units.

COLLEGE: Calloway won four varsity letters at Michigan as a WR and concluded his career with the Wolverines with 54 receptions for 793 yards and eight touchdowns in Michigan's run-oriented offense. He won All-Big 10 and honorable mention All-America in his senior year when he had 29 grabs for 392 yards and a trio of touchdowns. Chris graduated with a degree in communications and film.

PERSONAL: Christopher Fitzpatrick Calloway was born in Chicago, Ill. on March 29, 1968 and was a three-sport scholastic standout at Mount Carmel High School in his hometown, winning All-City honors as a wide receiver in football and as a playmaking outside shooter in basketball. He lists television and music as his favorite hobbies and Michael Jordan as his favorite pro performer. Nicknamed "Cab" Calloway in college by his teammates, after legendary singer and band leader Cab Calloway.

12*JEFF CARLSON*Quarterback Weber State 5/23/66
6-3 215 FA-'92 3rd Year

PRO: Jeff joined the Giants from Tampa Bay during the Plan B period this past off-season. Originally a fourth round draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams in 1989, he spent that season on the L.A. developmental squad after having shown promise in a pre-season game when he led the Rams to a 23-20 win over Phoenix with a 45-yard TD toss to Flipper Anderson in the final 20 second of play. He was subsequently signed as a free agent by the Bucs in 1990 and in that pre-season completed 11 of 18 for 208 yards and a TD vs. Cincinnati. He was active for four games in '90 with Tampa Bay, and saw action in just one game vs. San Diego. Last year, he saw his most NFL action, completing 31 of 65 passes for 404 yards, a 47.7% completion rate and one TD connection. The big lefthander also had five rushing attempts for 25 yards.

COLLEGE: Carlson won four varsity letters at Weber State, but was the starting QB for only his final two seasons. Nonetheless, he set five alltime Weber State records for passing yards (6,147), TD passes (47), passing efficiency (136.8), TD passes in a game (6), and TD passes in a season (26). Twice an All-Big Sky conference choice, he was also honorable mention All-America in his senior year. Jeff is also a graduate with a degree in communications and broadcasting.

PERSONAL: Jeffrey Allen Carlson was born in Long Beach, Calif., on May 23, 1966 and starred at Pacifica High School in Garden Grove, Calif., where he set school passing records and was conference MVP. Lists movies and fiction novels as favorite pastimes, as well as golf and all water sports. Jeff is married to the former Galyn Donaldson of El Paso, Tex.

25 MARK COLLINS
Cornerback CalState-Fullerton 1/16/64
5-10 190 D-2 '86 7th Year

PRO: Collins had his top season statistically in '91, registering four pass interceptions for 77 yards returned, with those figures showing twice as many steals as in any previous season, and the return yardage exceeding all of his return yardage prior to 1991. Mark also led the secondary in tackles with 81 and the team in passes defended with 14, while adding a pair of forced fumbles and one fumble recovery. 1990: Mark had a banner year in 1990, despite missing three early season games with a sprained right ankle, winning All-NFC honors again as he continued his ascension as one of the top cornerbacks in the NFL. Overall, he finished with 52 total tackles, added a pair of interceptions, a forced fumble and 11 pass breakups as opposing offenses usually steered clear of throwing into his coverage area. In the playoffs, Collins was superb. He shut down Jerry Rice of the 49ers in the NFC championship game, then was a terror against the Buffalo receivers in the Super Bowl victory, and was named Super Bowl Defensive MVP by the Sporting News. 1989: Smooth and versatile cornerback had his most productive season in 1989, starting in all 16 regular season games and in the playoffs as well. He finished the regular season with 84 total tackles, two interceptions, two fumble recoveries, one QB sack and 12 pass breakups, then added eight solo stops, an interception and four pass breakups in the playoff loss to the Rams. All of this added up to post-season honors as he was named All-NFL by both NEA and College & Pro Football Newsweekly. 1988: Mark had another solid season in '88 despite missing the last five games due to an abdominal hernia. He finished with a total of 58 tackles in his 11 appearances, while adding an interception vs. Washington, and had 13 passes defended, the second leading total on the club. Also had four kickoff returns for 67 yards. 1987: Collins enjoyed a stellar campaign in 1987, winning a starting job at the outset and playing strongly throughout the season until an injury knocked him out of the season finale vs. the Jets. Along the way, Mark led the secondary in total tackles with 60, had two pass interceptions, was in on a pair of QB sacks and showed excellent coverage and run support capabilities. 1986: Mark proved to be a valuable addition to the club. He first attracted attention when he returned a kickoff 97 yards for a touchdown in a pre-season victory over the New York Jets, then became the starting left cornerback when Elvis Patterson went down with a groin injury. Collins performed extremely well as the starter for nine games and by season's end was named to the All-NFL Rookie team by Pro Football Weekly. He finished as the second leading tackler in the secondary with a total of 60 tackles, added one interception, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery, and also did some double duty as a return man, with 11 kickoff returns for 204 yards and an 18.5 average, and three punt returns for 11 yards.

COLLEGE: Collins won four varsity letters at Cal State-Fullerton, and along the way set an alltime school record with 20 career interceptions. He also set a school and Pacific Coast Athletic Association record with four interceptions in one game. He was a first-team All-American by the Sporting News in his senior year, third-team All-American by the Associated Press and a three-time All-PCAA selection as well as the PCAA Defensive Player of the Year in 1985. He was selected to play in three post-season games in that senior year, East-West Shrine, Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl, and played well in all three outings. He was also elected team captain in his senior year.

PERSONAL: Mark Anthony Collins was born in St. Louis, Mo., on January 16, 1964, then starred scholastically at Pacific High School in San Bernardino, Calif., where he won 10 varsity letters in football, basketball and baseball and was team captain in all three sports. He also won the Ken Hubbs Memorial Award as the outstanding senior athlete in the San Bernardino-Colton area. Aspires for a career in acting or broadcasting when his playing days are over. In 1991, Mark was further honored when Cal State retired his uniform number (5). He became only the second player ever to win this honor from his alma mater.

8/8/67

D-6 '89

4th Year

PRO: For the third straight year, Howard played in all 16 games, and took over the starting TE position in '91 after the retirement of Mark Bavaro. His blocking continued to be solid, and he also had his top year in receptions, finishing with 20 for 283 yards and TD grabs vs. Pittsburgh and Houston. He had his top game in that finale vs. the Oilers when he had four catches for 51 yards and the 12-yard TD reception from Phil Simms. 1990: Cross played in every game in 1990, including eight as the starter, and proved to be a powerful blocker, while also improving on his receiving skills. While he was primarily utilized for that ability to block, he did catch eight passes for 106 yards, and then added a TD reception in the playoff win over the Bears. He also had a big day in the Super Bowl win over Buffalo, coming up with a career-high four catches for 39 yards, with three of those grabs producing key first downs. 1989: Howard proved to be a valuable addition to the club after making the squad as a 6th round draft selection. Following up on an impressive training camp, Cross played in all 16 games during the regular season, and was the starting tight end in four games after Mark Bavaro was lost with a knee injury. Primarily a blocking tight end, Howard nonetheless came up with six receptions for 107 yards and one TD during the year, with three of those, including his 27-yard TD catch coming in a win over Seattle. He also had a pair of key receptions in the NFC East title-clinching victory over the Raiders. At season's end, Cross was rewarded for his efforts by being named to the All-NFL Rookie team by United Press International.

COLLEGE: Cross was a three-year starter at TE for Alabama, winning All-Southeastern Conference honors as a junior and then being named the winner of the Jacobs Trophy as the outstanding blocker in the SEC in his senior campaign. While primarily a blocker, Cross had 36 receptions for 384 yards and six TDs in his last two seasons, including six grabs for 81 yards and a TD in the Hall of Fame Bowl game vs. Michigan. He was also selected to play in the Senior Bowl in his final season.

PERSONAL: Howard E. Cross was born in Huntsville, Ala., on August 8, 1967 and was then a standout scholastic athlete at New Hope High School in New Hope, Ala., where he excelled in football and basketball while also earning straight A's academically. Also a leader in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

99 STEVE DeOSSIE
Linebacker Boston College 11/22/62
6-2 250 T-'89 (Dallas) 9th Year

PRO: DeOssie played in every game again in 1991, chiefly as the long snapper and in short yardage and goal line defensive units. He finished the season with 15 total tackles, and added a pass breakup as well.

1990: Steve had his most productive season in 1990, getting 13 starts at an inside backer slot, while appearing in every game through the regular season and the playoffs.

He finished with a career-high 62 tackles to finish third among the LBs behind Pepper Johnson and Lawrence Taylor, and also added a key fumble recovery. He also continued his duties as the long snapper on special teams and was a powerhouse defender on the short-yardage defenses. 1989: The veteran linebacker was obtained in June of 1989 in a trade with the Dallas Cowboys for a 1990 draft choice and proved to be a valuable addition to the club. Despite missing seven games because of a stress fracture in his foot, Steve came up with 24 total tackles in nine games, added a key pass interception, was the long snapper on the kicking teams, and was a big play man on the short yardage and goal line defense, particularly in the stunning victory over Denver. Originally a 4th round draft choice by the Cowboys, Steve missed only one game in five years with Dallas as a key defensive reserve and special teamer. He was a starter at outside LB in 1987, and in 1988 had 43 total tackles for the Pokes. All told, during his stay with the Cowboys, DeOssie had 90 total tackles on 49 solos and 41 assists.

COLLEGE: Steve was a four-year starter at middle linebacker for Boston College, earning All-East honors twice and being named second-team AP All-American in 1983. A Co-captain in his senior year, he was the Eagles' leading tackler for three consecutive seasons and in addition to being the 4th round pick of the Cowboys, was a No. 1 selection by the New Jersey Generals of the defunct USFL in 1984.

PERSONAL: Steven Leonard DeOssie was born in Tacoma, Wash., on November 22, 1962 and was then an All-State football, basketball and baseball standout at Don Bosco High School in Roslindale, Mass. Steve is the father of three youngsters, twins Zak and Christina, and Nichole, and contrary to previously published information elsewhere, he does not indulge in the fictionalized sport of motorized hang gliding.

77 ERIC DORSEY
Defensive End Notre Dame 8/5/64
6-5 280 D-1-'86 7th Year

PRO: Veteran DE missed the first five games of the '91 season after having his knee scoped, then returned for the final 11 contests at left DE and finished the year with 35 total tackles. He also had a shared sack vs. the Cardinals and a pass breakup after regaining his starting position. 1990: Eric appeared in every game in 1990, starting 11 at the defensive left end position. He finished the regular season with 34 total tackles, and also added a pass breakup. Remained one of the strongest DEs against the run in the entire league. 1989: One of the biggest losses for the Giants in 1989 was the absence of Dorsey for most of the season. The powerful starting defensive end suffered a stress fracture of the foot in the second game of the season, and was out for the remainder of the regular campaign. 1988: Dorsey had his best year in 1988 as the starter at LDE, finishing with 69 total tackles to lead all defensive linemen. He added 3½ QB sacks, two forced fumbles and two fumble recoveries and was equally strong vs. the run. 1987: Eric had a productive second season with the Giants in '87, appearing in all 12 games and sharing the starting role with the veteran George Martin at LDE. All told, he had 25 total tackles, one QB sack for 17 yards and a trio of blocked passes, and was particularly strong in short-yardage play. 1986: Dorsey spent the entire 1986 season as a reserve, appearing in every game, and saw extensive duty in short-yardage situations where he made good use of his outstanding strength and agility. He saw more and more action as the season progressed, and was outstanding in the playoffs and Super Bowl. He had seven total tackles in the playoffs in that reserve role and also registered three quarterback sacks for 32 yards in the three playoff games, getting one each in the wins over the 49ers, Redskins and Broncos. Eric also represented the club in the United Way public service commercial in 1989 and 1990.

COLLEGE: Eric won four varsity letters at Notre Dame as a nose tackle and defensive end and capped his career with the Irish by being named Defensive MVP as well as winning the Herring Trophy as the most improved player on the squad. He also won honorable mention All-American by the AP and Football News and was selected to play in the Blue-Gray game. He led his club with the most tackles by a defensive lineman in that year with 87, 15 for losses. He also had three forced fumbles, two fumble recoveries and three QB sacks in that senior campaign.

PERSONAL: Eric Hall Dorsey was born in Washington, D.C. on August 5, 1964 and starred at McLean High School in McLean, Va., where he was an All-American selection in football, All-State in wrestling with a 30-3 record in his senior year, and a record-setting performer in track where he tossed the discus 176'6½" and shot-put 57'5". The team captain in all three of those sports, Eric hails from an athletic family. His late father, Lawrence Dorsey, was a karate expert and a pitcher in the Chicago Cubs' organization, while three cousins have been collegiate stars — Robbie Hall, a fullback at Army; Rodney Williams, a sprinter at Navy; and Allen Pinkett, a halfback at Notre Dame.

6-7	305	D-2 '88	5th Year

PRO: Elliott had another strong season in 1991, starting all 16 games at left tackle where he has found a solid home. He continued to be a powerful run blocker while also doing the job pass blocking, and while he didn't receive any post-season honors, he did make the All-Madden team for the second straight year, an honor he particularly cherishes. 1990: While he only appeared in eight regular season games, missing as many because of a serious leg injury, Jumbo had a dynamic, impact campaign in 1990. He started the first four games of the year, missed the next eight, then started the final four and all of the playoff games, and when he was in there, the club's mark was 10-1. He was never better than in the playoffs when in successive weeks he faced the Bears' Richard Dent, the 49ers Kevin Fagan and Charles Haley and then the Bills' defensive MVP Bruce Smith, coming up with pancake jobs on all of the aforementioned. While he didn't get a Pro Bowl mention or make any of the All-NFL teams, he did make the All-Madden team. 1989: After winning the starting left tackle job in training camp, Elliott suffered back spasms sporadically through the 1989 season and thus missed three full games and parts of two others. When he was healthy, however, he played extremely well as the starter and had any number of solid performances. 1988: Big, strong and aggressive offense lineman had a productive rookie season in 1988, appearing in all 16 games and seeing action at both guard and left tackle. He had five starts at the LT position, and showed constant improvement throughout the campaign, winning All-NFL Rookie honors from Pro Football Weekly. Also saw some action at RT early in season when Karl Nelson went down with an ankle injury, and while he had some early struggles at the position, more than made up for it with his constant tenacity.

COLLEGE: Elliott reaped a myriad of honors during his career at Michigan, winning first-team All-American status in his senior year from UPI, Kodak and Walter Camp, as well as being a finalist for both the Outland Trophy and Lombardi Award. He was also a first-team All-Big 10 selection that year and was selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl at the end of the season. Also named to All Big-10 first team in his junior year, as well as to the Kodak All-American squad, and showed durability by starting 39 of his last 40 games with the Wolverines. Nicknamed "Jumbo" by coach Bo Schembechler, he once had a total of 16 knockdown "pancake" blocks in a game vs. Hawaii.

PERSONAL: John Elliott was born on April 1, 1965 in Lake Ronkonkoma, L.I., and was an All-State defensive tackle at Sachem High School on the island. In the State playoffs in his senior year, he had 19 total tackles and four QB sacks in victory over West Islip.

MIKE FOX

Defensive Tackle West Virginia 8/5/67

6-6      275      D-2 '90      3rd Year

PRO: Fox appeared in 15 games in '91, including five starts at DE when Eric Dorsey was out of action. Primarily a run-stopper, he had a total of 14 tackles, while adding a pass breakup too. 1990: Big Mike had a solid rookie season in 1990, appearing in all 16 regular season games and in all of the playoff action, putting in service at both DE and at nose tackle in various alignments. While he showed promise during the pre-season, registering five solo stops and a QB sack vs. Buffalo, he saw limited action during the early portion of the season, but with constant improvement was used more and more as the regular season went into the homestretch. While he had only eight solo tackles and one-and-a-half QB sacks, he nonetheless was extremely tough against the run, and put solid pressure on the QB on his pass rush. He also had a forced fumble along the way, and then played strongly in the playoffs with a pair of tackles and good QB pressures throughout.

COLLEGE: Fox had a sparkling career at West Virginia, particularly in his senior year when he won All-American and All-ECAC honors, while also being named the MVP in the Gator Bowl and playing in the East-West Shrine game as well. He had 71 solo tackles that year, including 22 for losses, added 10 QB sacks and a pair of forced fumbles. His three-year totals showed 139 tackles, 32 for losses, 13 QB sacks, four pass breakups and a blocked punt. Mountaineer head coach Don Nehlen called Mike "the best defensive lineman I've ever had at West Virginia."

PERSONAL: Michael Fox was born on August 5, 1967 in Akron, OH and played football and basketball at Akron North High School, winning All-City and All-County honors in football as a two-way lineman, and All-City honors in basketball as a powerhouse rebounder and pivotman.

MYRON GUYTON

8/26/67

D-8 '89

4th Year

PRO: Myron played in every game in '91 as the starting free safety, finishing as the secondary's runnerup in total tackles with 77, including 62 solos. He also added a forced fumble, a fumble recovery and six passes defended, while continuing to hone his skills at the FS position. 1990: Guyton enjoyed a strong season after switching from strong to free safety. He quickly gained the reputation as one of the fiercest secondary hitters in the NFL, and his jarring tackles were never more evident than in the playoffs when Myron's ferocity helped take the steam out of Buffalo receivers during the second half of the Super Bowl victory. He started every game in '90, finished with 76 tackles, two fumble recoveries, one forced fumble and 10 pass breakups in the regular season, then added 10 solo stops in the playoffs. He also had an interception vs. Dan Marino in the regular season win over Miami. 1989: Another Division I-AA product, this 8th round draft choice made a major impact in his rookie season, first enjoying a solid training camp to make the team, and then winning the starting job at strong safety. By season's end, Guyton had achieved any number of goals. He finished as the club's leading tackler with 99 total stops (76 solo, 23 assists), added two interceptions (vs. Detroit and the Rams) for 27 yards returned, and also led the team in fumble recoveries with three. He also finished fourth in passes defended with a total of 10 and just did a solid job all season long after beating out veteran Kenny Hill for his spot with the club.

COLLEGE: Guyton won four letters at Eastern Kentucky and was a starter all four years, the last three as a strong safety after his initial year at cornerback. In 1988, he had 81 tackles, six pass interceptions and a 12.5 punt return average as Eastern Kentucky won the Ohio Valley Conference championship, with Myron winning all-OVC mention and also getting a conference Defensive Player of the Week nod when he had eight tackles and blocked two punts in a win over Western Kentucky. Academically, he was a top student, was president of the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity and vice-president of the college hall council.

PERSONAL: Myron Maynard Guyton was born on August 26, 1967 in Metcalf, Ga., then starred in football, basketball and track at Central High School in Thomasville, Ga. where he also won academic honors. Myron comes from a large family, having five brothers and two sisters.

83 MILLARD HAMILTON Wide Receiver Clark (Ga.) 12/30/67 5-10 180 FA-'92 2nd Year

PRO: Hamilton was acquired by the Giants during this past off-season in the Plan B period from the New England Patriots. Millard was initially a sixth round draft choice of the Buffalo Bills in 1991 but was released just before the start of the regular season. He was subsequently signed by the Patriots and was on their developmental squad before being activated for the final regular season game against the Cincinnati Bengals.

COLLEGE: Millard was a powerhouse performer in Division II at Atlanta's Clark University, winning four letters in both football and track. He was a second-team All-American choice, team MVP and an All-Conference first team selection and set nine alltime Clark records in receiving, scoring and returns. He had a career total of 145 catches for 2,747 yards and an 18.9 average-per-catch and scored 26 touchdowns. He also added 89 kickoff returns for 1,898 yards and a 21.3 average, was the team's backup punter and also filled in on defense where he added 32 tackles and three pass interceptions. He had a career record game vs. Alabama A&M when he had 11 receptions for 377 yards and four TDs. He also won Conference honors in track and a long jumper (25'6") and as a member of the 400-meter relay team.

PERSONAL: Millard Hamilton was born in Elizabeth, N.J. on December 30, 1967, then grew up in Ridgeland, S.C. where he was a three-sport star at Ridgeland High School and earned the nickname "The Jet" for his speed in track. Lists music and reading as his favorite hobbies, along with fishing and cooking.

27 RODNEY HAMPTON
Running Back Georgia 4/3/69
5-11 215 D-1 '90 3rd Year

PRO: Despite missing the first two games of the '91 season with a shoulder injury, Hampton nonetheless became only the fourth Giant in history to rush for 1,000 or more yards in a season, finishing with 1,059 and a total of 10 rushing touchdowns. To do so, he needed a big game in the season finale, and he got that big one by churning up 140 yards in a win over the Houston Oilers, which also turned out to be his best one-game effort. Along the way, Rodney had 137 yards vs. Phoenix and 104 vs. Cleveland. He also finished as the club's third leading receiver with 43 catches, and had a 20.4 kickoff return average. 1990: Rodney had an extremely productive rookie season in 1990, despite the fact that he saw only limited playing time midway through the season because of a sore ankle. Completely recovered from that nagging injury, he had some big games in the stretch run, including game-high rushing totals of 78 yards in the win over the Vikings and his first 100-yard rushing game, a 105-yarder vs. Buffalo. He also had strong performances in the final two wins of the season vs. Phoenix and New England, then suffered a fractured fibula in the playoff victory against the Bears and missed the remainder of the playoffs. For the season, despite missing one game and parts of others with that sore ankle, Rodney amassed 1,069 all-purpose yards. He was the second-leading rusher with 455 yards and a 4.2 average, the third-leading receiver with 32 catches for 274 yards, and the second-leading kickoff returner with 340 yards on 20 returns. The No. 1 draft choice in 1990 after he elected to enter the NFL draft after his junior season, Rodney had a spectacular Giants' debut when he raced 89 yards for a TD the first time he carried the ball in a pre-season win over the Buffalo Bills, then finished the pre-season with 170 yards rushing on just 17 attempts for a 10.0 average, while scoring four TDs during that pre-season period.

COLLEGE: Hampton had a powerhouse three years at Georgia, winning All-American and All-SEC honors in his junior year when he rushed for 1,059 yards and 12 TDs. His career totals also included 46 receptions and 476 yards on kickoff returns, while scoring 25 touchdowns overall. He was a National Player of the Week in 1988 when he rushed for 196 yards and two TDs in a win over Tennessee, and he also set an alltime Georgia mark for one-game all-purpose yards when he totaled 290 yards on 227 rushing, 28 receiving and 35 on returns to erase the former mark of 283 set by Herschel Walker.

PERSONAL: Rodney Hampton was born in Houston, TX, on April 3, 1969 and was a scholastic star at Kasmere High School in his hometown, winning letters in three sports. He was an All-District choice in football as both a halfback and defensive safety and in his senior season rushed for 1,310 yards and 19 touchdowns.

JEFF HOSTETLER

Quarterback West Virginia 4/22/61
6-3 215 D-3 '84 9th Year

PRO: Jeff was named the starting QB for the first time in 1991, and responded by setting an alltime club record for one season completion percentage when he threw for 62.8% on 179 of 285 for 2,032 yards and five TDs. He also went down with a transverse process injury in the Tampa Bay game, and was finished for the season. Along the way, he also set an alltime club record for one-game completion percentage when he threw 28 for 34 for 368 yards in a loss to the Cowboys, which was an 82.3% mark. Hoss also rushed for a career-high 273 yards, including a career-high 47-yard TD jaunt vs. Phoenix. 1990: One of the great success stories in all of sports in 1990 was written by Hostetler. When starter Phil Simms went down with a foot injury in Week 14, Jeff stepped in and not only led the club to a pair of regular season wins to clinch the NFC East, but then directed the team to the Super Bowl XXV title with inspired performances throughout the playoffs. He threw a pair of TD passes and rushed for another in the 31-3 win over the Bears, survived an injury in the NFC title game vs. the 49ers to hit on two key completions in that thrilling last-second 15-13 victory, and then threw 20-of-32 for 222 yards and a TD in the Super Bowl championship game. Along the way, Jeff had a career-best 47-for-87 for 614 yards and three TDs in the regular season, and then was a solid 45-for-76 for 510 yards and three TDs in the playoffs, with a QB rating of 92.5. 1989: Reserve QB saw action in all 16 games in '89, primarily as the holder on special teams, but he also stepped forward to win back-to-back games vs. the Vikings and Cardinals when Phil Simms went down with an ankle injury. In those two victories, Jeff threw TD passes in each game, and also rushed for a pair of TD's in the triumph over Phoenix. Earlier in the season, he fired another TD pass, this one coming off a fake field goal attempt vs. the Eagles. For the season, he was 20-for-39 for 294 yards and had a QB rating of 80.5, all of which were single season high-water marks for Jeff. 1988: He saw his initial NFL action as a QB in 1988, replacing Phil Simms in both Philadelphia games when Phil was forced to depart those games with injuries, and as the starter vs. New Orleans late in the year. All told, he completed 16-of-29 for 244 yards and one TD, with that TD toss covering 85 yards to Stephen Baker against the Saints. Saw action in all 16 games as the holder for place-kicks, and also caught his first NFL pass when he lined up as a WR vs. the Rams. Jeff was active for only two games in '87, serving as the backup for Jeff Rutledge during the time that Phil Simms was out of service due to a knee injury.

COLLEGE: Jeff began his collegiate career at Penn State, then concluded his final two seasons at West Virginia where he led the Mountaineers to consecutive 9-3 seasons while completing 290 passes for 4,055 yards and 24 touchdowns. Hostetler earned All-American mentions in both of those seasons, and was an Academic All-American first-team choice after compiling a 3.92 GPA while majoring in finance. Won National Player of the Week honors in his junior season when he led West Virginia to a 41-27 upset win over Oklahoma with 17 completions for 321 yards and four TDs. Also won game MVP honors in his senior year when he led the Mountaineers to consecutive wins over nationally ranked Maryland, Boston College and Pitt. Jeff was one of 11 scholar-athletes honored by the National Football Foundation Hall of Fame, and was nominated for a Rhodes Scholarship by West Virginia. He was also selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl in his senior season.

PERSONAL: Jeff W. Hostetler was born in Johnstown, Pa., and starred in all sports at Conemaugh Township High School in Davidsville, Pa., where he was a 1,000-yard rusher as a tailback and scholastic All-American as a linebacker. He was also his high school valedictorian. Three of Jeff's brothers, Ron, Doug and Todd, earned varsity letters at Penn State. Jeff is married to the former Vicky Nehlen, daughter of West Virginia coach Don Nehlen. Jeff was also the spokesman for the 1983 All-American Academic team, and has also become a Certified Financial Planner in the off-seasons. He and his wife, Vicky, have three children, Jason, Tyler and Justin. A visit to the White House for a State dinner and a Johnny Carson TV appearance also highlighted his 1991 off-season.

74*ERIK HOWARD*Defensive Tackle Wash. St. 11/12/64*6-4 268 D-2a '86 7th Year

PRO: After a lengthy contract holdout, Howard was late reporting to training camp, and then suffered a back injury early in the year and sat it out for the next 10 weeks of the '91 campaign. He returned late in the year, but saw action in just six total games and had 27 tackles, as well as 1½ QB sacks and a fumble recovery. Howard's absence was obviously felt, since he had played in every game in each of the three preceding seasons. 1990: Erick produced an honor-filled season in 1990, leading all of the defensive linemen in total tackles with 71 and earning his first Pro Bowl acclaim, while also being named to the All-Madden team and as an All-NFL honorable mention choice. Along the way, he had 71 total tackles as well as three QB sacks and a pair of pass breakups, while doing a top notch job on stuffing the run. He was also the club's leading tackler in the playoffs with 18 stops, including seven tackles in both the Super Bowl championship game and in the opening playoff win over the Bears. 1989: Howard had another strong year in 1989 after beating out Jim Burt for the starting job in training camp at nose tackle. He started every game and concluded with a career-high 75 total tackles to lead all down linemen on the club, while adding five-and-a-half QB sacks, a forced fumble, and a fumble recovery. He also added five tackles in the divisional playoff game vs. the Rams, and generally had a solid all-around campaign. 1988: Erik saw action in all 16 games in '88 as a swingman with Burt at nose tackle, and finished the season with 26 total tackles. He added three QB sacks for 37 yards, a pair of fumble recoveries and two blocked passes as well. 1987: Howard powered his way into some prominence in '87, seeing considerably more action than in his rookie season when he had downtime due to injury. He had four starts at nose tackle after Burt went down with a back injury, and prior to that time, had also logged heavy duty time. All told, Howard finished the season with 33 total tackles, while also accounting for 5½ QB sacks and a fumble recovery. Additionally, he blocked a punt in the season opener vs. the Bears that was recovered for a TD by Tom Flynn, and also blocked a PAT attempt vs. Washington later in the season. 1986: Big and powerful nose tackle had an auspicious rookie season, despite missing seven games with a broken hand. When he returned from that hand injury, he was the starting nose tackle in key victories over the Redskins and Cardinals when starter Burt was out with an injury, and in both of those outings, Howard was a powerful force in the middle. He finished the season with 14 total tackles and added a pair of QB sacks, then played a key reserve role in the playoffs and Super Bowl, finishing with four tackles in the playoffs, and made a couple of key defensive plays on the Giants' goal line stand in the first half of the Super Bowl triumph.

COLLEGE: Howard won four varsity letters at Washington State and concluded his collegiate career by winning All-Pac 10 first-team honors in his senior season, as well as the Morris Trophy for being named the Pac-10's Most Outstanding Defensive Lineman in 1985. He was also an honorable mention All-American by the Associated Press and was selected to play in both the Japan Bowl and Blue-Gray games that same season. All told, he had 180 career tackles, including 15 for losses and 15½ QB sacks.

PERSONAL: Erik Matthew Howard was born in Pittsfield, Mass. on November 12, 1964, then played his scholastic sports in San Jose, Calif. at Bellarmine Prep. Erik's father, Donald, is an attorney, and has three brothers, Craig, Scott and Todd, the last two also having played college football.

82*MARK INGRAM*Wide Receiver Michigan St. 8/23/65*5-11 188 D-1 '87 6th Year

PRO: Ingram had his top season in 1991, catching a career high 51 passes for 824 yards and three TDs. He had receptions 15 of the 16 games, and had particularly big outings vs. Cincinnati with seven for 116 yards and one TD and vs. Dallas when he had six catches for 142 yards, including a pair of 41-yard grabs. Also added 125 yards on eight kickoff returns and 49 yards on eight punt returns to finish the year with 998 all-purpose yards. 1990: Mark had his best season in 1990 as a starter, finishing with 26 catches and five TD grabs and averaging a solid 19.2 yards-per-catch. He had his top outing in a win over the Cardinals with four catches for 98 yards, including a 44-yard circus grab for a TD, then was a powerful force in the playoffs, adding 11 more receptions. He had five catches for 82 yards in the NFC title win over the 49ers, then came through with five more in the Super Bowl victory, including a magnificent effort on a third period catch when on 3rd and 13, he turned a short pass into a twisting 14-yard gain for a key, first down that set up the Giants' go-ahead TD. 1989: Key reserve receiver and kickoff return specialist appeared in all 16 games in '89, three of those as a starter, and had 17 receptions for 290 yards, and a 41-yard TD grab vs. the Philadelphia Eagles. Ingram also returned 22 kickoffs for 332 yards and added three tackles on special teams coverages. 1988: Mark had a solid camp in 1988 and won a starting job at the outset of the regular season. After sparkling in those first three games, he broke a collarbone vs. the Rams making a circus catch and was out of action for the next nine games. He then saw only limited action, but completely recovered. He had 13 catches for 158 yards and one TD, and also had eight kickoff returns for another 129 yards in '88. 1987: The top draft pick in '87, Mark was hampered by nagging injuries in the pre-season period, but appeared in all of the pre-season games and had four receptions for 59 yards. Subsequently, he appeared in just nine regular season games after being inactive for the first three games following the players' strike, due to weight problems, and had just two receptions for 32 yards during the regular season action.

COLLEGE: Ingram had a storied career at Michigan State, winning four varsity letters in football and three in track, while winning All-Big 10 first-team honors and All-American mention in his senior year. He had 35 catches for 672 yards and five TDs in that senior year, while adding 135 yards rushing on end arounds and reverses, while also averaging 21.1 on kickoff returns. Named to both the East-West and Blue-Gray post-season games, he won MVP honors in the latter game with nine receptions for 106 yards and two TDs. He also won letters as a sprinter, high hurdler and long jumper at MSU.

PERSONAL: Mark V. Ingram was born in Rockford, Ill., on August 23, 1965, then starred at Northwestern High School in Flint, Mich. where he was an All-State quarterback, outstanding track star and honors student with a 3.17 GPA. A Communications major at Michigan State, Mark would like to pursue a career in broadcasting or journalism when his playing days are concluded.

PRO: Clint has been with the Giants for two seasons, but has not seen action during the regular season. An injury shelved him during the 1991 pre-season, and he then spent the year on injured reserve. He subsequently took part in the off-season workout program, and should be ready to make a bid this year. 1990: James was a 9th round draft choice and performed well during the training camp and in pre-season play. He suffered a deep hamstring injury in the final pre-season outing, and then spent the rest of the year on injured reserve. During pre-season, Clint finished with eight solo tackles and added a pass breakup, while also coming up with good pressure on the QB when he had the chance to play.

COLLEGE: Clint won four letters and was a two-year starter at DE with the powerful LSU defense, winning honorable mention All-American in his senior season when he had 63 tackles, nine for losses, and six QB sacks despite missing two games with injuries. His complete career totals were 131 tackles, 22 for losses, and 10 QB sacks, and he also had 16 pass breakups and a blocked field goal attempt.

PERSONAL: Clint James was born in New Orleans, LA, on April 17, 1967, and won All-State honors in his senior year at McDonogh High School in New Orleans. He was also team captain and MVP that year, and lettered for three years in basketball as well. Clint comes from a family of seven children, is a big fan of all video games, and majored in physical education at LSU.

PRO: Greg missed some playing time in 1991 because of a nagging ankle injury, and was also slowed to an extent in games he did play because of the injury. He was in 13 games with 12 starts at strong safety and finished with 59 total tackles, added an interception vs. Phoenix and had four pass breakups. 1990: Jackson enjoyed a strong season in 1990 as the starting strong safety. He led all of the defensive backs with 87 total tackles, finished second in interceptions with five, added four QB sacks and a pair of forced fumbles and was second in pass breakups with a total of 11. He was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week in a 24-20 win over the Redskins when he had a pair of interceptions and seven tackles, with the second swipe killing the Skins' final possession. Two weeks later he added an end zone interception vs. the Redskins again, this one insuring a 21-10 victory. Greg was also solid in the playoffs, coming up with 12 total tackles to share the lead in that department with Mark Collins. 1989: Greg was another rookie draft choice who performed well in 1989, first making his mark in pre-season games, and then appearing in all 16 regular season outings, initially as a starter at strong safety and then as a reserve in the nickel package. He showed his agility with a one-handed interception in a pre-season win over the Kansas City Chiefs, then registered 25 total tackles as a player in the nickel and on special teams, while also recording a forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

COLLEGE: Jackson won All-Southeast Conference first-team honors, as well as third-team All-American in 1988 when he led the nation in interception return yardage with 219 on seven swipes. That same year, he had two touchdowns on interception returns, one for 100 yards vs. Mississippi State and the other for 71 yards vs. Tulane. His four-year stats at LSU showed 199 total tackles, 11 interceptions for 260 yards returned, three TDs on interception returns and a 10.1 punt return average. A team captain in his senior year, he was also selected to play in the Senior Bowl.

PERSONAL: Greg Allen Jackson was born in Hialeah, Fla., on August 20, 1966, and was a standout scholastic player at Miami American High School in his hometown where he began his career as an All-City quarterback before making the switch to safety in college. He was also a fine Little League baseball player.

52*Linebacker*6-3*248*PEPPER JOHNSON*Ohio State*6/29/64*D-2b '86*7th Year

PRO: With a total of 111 tackles, Pepper led the Giants in that department in 1991 and it marked the third time in his six seasons that he had been the club leader. He also set an alltime club mark vs. Tampa Bay when he racked up 4½ QB sacks on Vinny Testaverde in that win, and added a season-high 14 tackles as well as an interception. He finished the season with 6½ sacks, had two interceptions, a forced fumble and five pass breakups in another solid season. 1990: Johnson had his premier season in 1990, earning his first Pro Bowl designation as well as being a unanimous All-NFL first-team choice by virtually every post-season poll. Along the way, he had a career-high 119 tackles to lead the club, added 3½ QB sacks, three forced fumbles, one fumble recovery, an interception, and seven pass breakups. He was just as prolific in the playoffs, adding 14 tackles, and was also named to the All-Madden team for the first time. 1989: Pepper was a holdout during training camp and the early part of the regular season in '89, then returned and appeared in 14 games, four of those as a starter at inside backer. After leading the team in tackles in 1988, Pepper finished seventh with a total of 64. He added one QB sack along the way, a fumble recovery and seven pass breakups, and also had his best season in interceptions with three for 60 yards returned, including a 39-yard touchdown return in the win over the Vikings. 1988: A starter at inside backer for the second straight year, Johnson enjoyed a pair of "firsts" in 1988. With 93 total tackles, he led the club in that department for the first time, and he also scored his initial NFL touchdown vs. the Rams when he returned an interception 33 yards to paydirt. Additionally, he had four QB sacks, two forced fumbles, one fumble recovery and five passes defended in an all-around solid campaign. 1987: Johnson moved into a starter's job at inside backer in 1987 when incumbent Gary Reasons was a training camp holdout. He subsequently started all 12 regular season games during the campaign and finished as the club's third-leading tackler with 75 total tackles, and added one QB sack, one recovered fumble and a pair of forced fumbles in a strong showing. 1986: Nicknamed "Pepper," Johnson enjoyed a solid rookie season in 1986 as a reserve inside linebacker, appearing in every game throughout the regular season and playoffs. A key special teams' player as well, Pepper finished the regular season with a total of 37 tackles, added a pair of quarterback sacks and a 13-yard interception return which set up a TD vs. Green Bay. Johnson then added seven more tackles in the playoffs and came up with a 27-yard interception return which set up a TD in the opening playoff triumph over the San Francisco 49ers.

COLLEGE: Pepper was a four-letter winner with the Buckeyes, was a starter for three of those seasons, team MVP on defense in both 1984 and '85, and team defensive captain in both of those seasons as well. He was twice named to the All-Big 10 team, and won first-team All-American honors in his senior year from the Football News and from UPI. During his career at Ohio State, Pepper was named Defensive Player of the Game an amazing 16 times, and was also selected to play in the Japan Bowl at the end of his senior year.

PERSONAL: Thomas Johnson was born in Detroit, Mich., on June 29, 1964, and won All-State and All-Metro scholastic honors at MacKenzie High School in Detroit. The nickname "Pepper" came from an aunt who watched young Thomas sprinkle pepper on his cereal as a youngster. A bachelor, Pepper lists reading, music and basketball as his favorite hobbies, and he has two sisters and a brother. Johnson has also been extremely active in off-season youth-oriented projects in the Detroit area with former Buffalo Bill Reggie McKenzie, and has been honored for those special efforts. He's also the organizer and coach of the Giants' off-season hoop squad.

68 CLARENCE JONES
Tackle Maryland 5/6/68
6-6 280 D-4 ('91) 2nd Year

PRO: The fourth round choice last year, Clarence had himself a highly productive pre-season training camp, but then went down with an injury late in the pre-season schedule and was on injured reserve thereafter. He recovered later in the season, was activated and played in the final three games of the year as a reserve tackle and on short-yardage and goal line offense. Big and strong, Jones showed lots of potential, and should make a strong bid for additional work in 1992.

COLLEGE: Three-year letterman at Maryland, Jones played both RT and LT during his career there, and showed an ironman ability when he finished his career with 42 consecutive starts for the Terps. He was a first-team All-ECAC selection in his senior year, and also won Atlantic Coast Conference honorable mention.

PERSONAL: Clarence Jones was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. on May 6, 1968, then later played his scholastic football at Central Islip High School on Long Island. He was a tight end, tackle and defensive end at that school, was captain of the 1985 team that won the Bayshore League championship, and that same season was named New York's Gatorade Player of the Year, as well as to the scholastic All-American squad.

45*Safety*5-11*190*THOM KAUMEYER*Oregon*3/17/67*FA-'91*4th Year

PRO: After joining the Giants last year, Thom suffered a broken navicular bone in his right thumb and spent the entire '91 season on the injured reserve. He's expected to be ready for this coming season and has the talent to make a bid for a job at safety or on special teams. 1991: Kaumeyer was obtained from the Seattle Seahawks during the Plan B process after spending parts of two seasons with the Seahawks as a reserve safety and special teams player. Originally a 6th round draft choice of the Los Angeles Rams in 1989, Thom was one of the last Ram cuts that year and was signed as an FA by Seattle shortly thereafter. He spent most of that year on the developmental squad but was activated and saw action vs. the Redskins that year. In 1990, he saw action in the first seven games, recording a total of eight tackles as a reserve safety and special teamer, then suffered a knee injury and was inactive for the rest of the season.

COLLEGE: Began his collegiate career at Palomar Junior College, then went on to Oregon where he won two letters as a starting safety, winning first-team All-Pac 10 in his senior year, as well as All-Conference academic honors. Selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Japan Bowl that year, he had 169 total tackles in his two seasons as well as three interceptions.

PERSONAL: Thom E. Kaumeyer was born in La Jolla, CA on St. Patrick's Day, 1967, and starred in football at San Dieguito H.S. in Encinitas, CA where he also earned academic honors. He lists music and basketball as his favorite hobbies.

61*Guard*6-3*288*BOB KRATCH*Iowa*1/6/66*D-3 '89*4th Year

PRO: Kratch saw action in all 16 games in '91 as the top reserve among the offensive lineman, and again performed solidly whenever called upon. He also had one start, and was used extensively on short yardage and goal line offense. 1990: Bob enjoyed a very strong season in 1990, seeing action in every game, both in the regular season and the playoffs. He had 10 starts at RG along the way as the fill-in for Eric Moore when Moore moved to LT in the absence of Jumbo Elliott. Did solid work throughout the year at RG and also continued to see plenty of action in goalline and short yardage situations. When Moore was injured in the first half of the Super Bowl victory over Buffalo, Kratch went the rest of the way at RG and played extremely well. 1989: Kratch was enjoying a highly productive training camp in his rookie season in 1989 and had seen considerable playing time in the pre-season games, so much so that he was making a strong bid to win a job as a starting right guard. He then suffered a broken thumb and was placed on the injured list for the first seven weeks of the season. When he finally was recovered sufficiently, he saw action late in the season as a reserve guard and short yardage player, and had one start vs. the Eagles. His power blocking was as good as ever, and he finished the season on a positive note.

COLLEGE: Bob was a first-team All-Big 10 choice in his senior year at Iowa, while also gaining All-American honorable mention. Such was his versatility with the Hawkeyes that he also won All Big 10 honors as a tackle (1988) and as a guard (1986) after missing most of his 1987 season with a broken leg. All told, Kratch was a starter at either guard or tackle in 36 of the 43 career games he appeared in at Iowa. He was also a team captain and played in the East-West Shrine Game.

PERSONAL: Robert A. Kratch was born in Brooklyn, N.Y. on January 6, 1966, then grew up in nearby Mahwah, N.J. where he won numerous All-State and All-Conference honors at Mahwah High School when that team won a state championship in 1982. He also holds the Mahwah school record for the discus throw in track. Bob is married and still resides in Mahwah.

5	SEAN LANDETA
Punter	Towson State	1/6/62
6-0	200	FA '85	8th Year

PRO: Landeta had yet another solid season in 1991, finishing with the third highest punting average of his career with a 43.3 mark. His consistency was never better in that in every game, but one, his per-game average was 40 yards or better, with the only miss being in the season opener vs. the 49ers when he had a 34.6 average, but was pooch-punting to pin the Niners. Averaged over 47 yards a kick in three games, twice vs. Phoenix and once vs. Eagles. 1990: Sean had another banner season in 1990 winning All-NFL honors for a third time, while also gaining Pro Bowl honors for a second time, and winning the NFC punting title for a second time with his 44.1 average on 75 punts. He also had the longest punt in the NFC, a 67-yarder vs. Minnesota. He also had 24 punts inside-the-20 to match his career high in 1986. He also had 10 punts for a 42.1 average in the playoffs, including a 55-yarder in the Super Bowl win. 1989: After a contract dispute in 1988, followed by a back injury which caused him to miss 15 games that season, Landeta bounced back in 1989 and was a unanimous All-NFL selection, winning those honors from AP, UPI, The Sporting News and Pro Football Weekly among others. For the season, Sean averaged 43.1 on 70 punts, with his 37.8 net punting average the best in the entire NFL despite the fact that he operates in a cold weather, open stadium. One of his best efforts helped save the 14-7 win over Denver in a snowstorm when he boomed a 54-yarder for no return in the final minutes of play. Landeta also had the distinction of being named the NFL punter on the All-1980s team, selected by the Pro Football Writers Association. 1987: Landeta had the lowest punting average of his tenure with the Giants in 1987, but nonetheless had a 42.7 average. Suffered his first NFL blocked punt vs. New Orleans, and also saw two of his punts returned for touchdowns, which marked the first time that had happened to him as a Giant. Also came up with three tackles on punt coverages in '87, and showed his sheer leg power in a pre-season outing vs. the Patriots when he punted five times for an awesome 56.4 average. 1986: Sean had a powerful season in 1986, leading the NFC in punting average with a 44.8 mark, and in net punting average with a 37.1 record. For those exploits, he was named to the All-NFL first-team as a punter, and also earned his first Pro Bowl designation. He was also among the league leaders in punts inside the 20 with a total of 24. 1985: Landeta wrested the punting job from the veteran Dave Jennings in '85 after coming over from the USFL. He was among the league leaders in punting average for most of the year, then tailed off somewhat towards the end, but nonetheless finished with a 42.9 average on 81 punts and was named to the second-team All-NFC team by UPI and to the All-NFL Rookie team by Football Digest. He had particularly big days vs. St. Louis and Washington when he averaged 49.2 and 51.3 respectively. Landeta was signed as a free agent after finishing a three-year career in the USFL with the Philadelphia/Baltimore Stars. A steady and consistent performer with the Stars, Sean was a clutch kicker in the Stars' championship games in 1983 and 1984, averaging 52.5 in the former game and 53.0 in the '84 title outing. He also set a regular season one-game punting average mark vs. Arizona in '84 when he had a 52.3 average. He was also named to the All-USFL team in '84 when he led the league in net punting average with a 38.2 mark and led the league in punts inside the 20-yard line with 31 in the '83 season. He was a 14th round selection by the Stars in 1983.

COLLEGE: Three-year letterman at Towson State, Sean led the nation in Division II punting in 1980 with a 43.4 average, while also kicking 14 field goals. He was also in the Division II's top five punters in 1981 and 1982, with averages of 41.1 in '81 and a 44.7 mark in '82. He was a three-time All-ECAC choice at Towson, and was a Kodak Division All-American and AP Little All-American in 1982.

PERSONAL: Sean Landeta was born on January 6, 1962 in Baltimore, Md., and is working on a degree in communications at Towson State during the off-season. He was married during this past off-season to Pamela Schmidt at St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York.

70      LEONARD MARSHALL
Defensive End      LSU      10/22/61
6-3      285      D-2 '83      10th Year

PRO: Marshall produced a strong season in 1991, among his best in all phases. He started all 16 games, led the defensive linemen with 58 total tackles, and also topped the team in QB sacks with 11 for 112½ yards in losses. That topped his career mark with the Giants to 76½, second in the alltime category to Lawrence Taylor. He had three in one game vs. Phoenix, and that was the third time in his career that he's had a triple-deck. Also shared the club lead in forced fumbles with two, and was his teammates' selection for the Whizzer White Award at season's end. 1990: Leonard got off to a relatively slow start in 1990, but as the season progressed, the big man got it into high gear and was a powerful presence during the crucial stretch run. He finished the season with 41 total tackles and added 4½ QB sacks. In the playoffs, Marshall was even more a force, finishing with 10 total tackles and adding three QB sacks and two forced fumbles. His biggest play was the thunderous sack of Joe Montana in the NFC Championship game that knocked the 49er QB out of the game with multiple injuries. In that big win, Marshall won NFL Defensive Player of the Week honors for his four tackles, two QB sacks and two forced fumbles. Then in the Super Bowl victory over the Bills, Marshall had three stops and another QB sack on Jim Kelly to finish his year with a flourish. 1989: Former Pro Bowl and All-NFL selection had a solid season in 1989 after a nagging groin injury had limited his production in the previous campaign and had snapped a consecutive game starting streak which had reached 71 games. In 1989, Leonard once again started all 16 games and finished the year with 58 total tackles, while adding 9½ QB sacks. Marshall also became only the second Giant player to register more than one career safety when he sacked Seattle's Kelly Stouffer for a safety. Jim Katcavage (1956-68) is the other player with multi-safeties, with his career total at three. 1987: Before suffering a dislocated wrist while sacking Cardinals' QB Neil Lomax late in the season, Marshall had started every game in '87 to run his string to 71 consecutive starts dating back to late in his rookie campaign. In those 10 outings in 1987, Marshall led all defensive linemen with 45 total stops and added eight QB sacks. 1986: Big Leonard had another banner season in 1986, winning his second straight trip to the Pro Bowl and winning All-NFL honors for a second time as well. Both honors were well deserved as the big man racked up a total of 60 tackles on the season and added 12 quarterback sacks to finish second to Lawrence Taylor in that department. Leonard also tied for the club lead in fumble recoveries with three, and in forced fumbles with three, and also came up with his second pass interception in as many seasons. He continued those efforts in the playoffs and Super Bowl, leading all defensive linemen with 11 total tackles, adding a QB sack in the NFC championship game vs. the Redskins, then getting a pair of sacks on John Elway in the Super Bowl victory. 1985: Marshall had a slam-bang year in '85, setting a club record with 15½ quarterback sacks . . . earning first-team All-NFL and second-team All-NFL recognition . . . being voted to his first Pro Bowl as a starter . . . and also being named the NFC Defensive Lineman of the Year by the NFLPA. He started the season off with a bang by registering 10 tackles and three QB sacks against the Eagles in a 21-0 victory. He had plenty of other big days along the way as well, including another three-QB sack game in the second victory over the Eagles. All told, Leonard had 77 tackles for the season, then came up with another big effort in the playoff win over the 49ers when he had six tackles and a big 13 yard QB sack on Joe Montana. He also came up with his first interception during the year when he batted a pass attempt into the air vs. New Orleans, then picked it off and rumbled three yards with the ball. 1984: Leonard had a strong season in 1984, particularly during the second half of the season and into the playoffs. As the starting right defensive end, he had 44 tackles during the regular campaign, including 7½ QB sacks and two forced fumbles. Then in the playoffs, he had big games in both of those outings, particularly in the victory over the Rams when he had five big solo stops, four of them for losses, including his key stop on Dwayne Crutchfield for a 3-yard loss late in the game which forced the Rams to settle for a FG, instead of taking the lead. 1983: In his rookie year, Leonard had his early progress slowed by being overweight in the early stages of pre-season training camp, but once he got down to business and got into shape, he continued to improve in all aspects of the game. He eventually won the starting job at defensive RE for the final six games of the season and played strongly as a starter, registering 27 tackles in those starts, including getting in on one QB sack and registering a safety against the Super Bowl champion Los Angeles Raiders when he tackled QB Jim Plunkett in the end zone.

COLLEGE: A three-year starter at LSU, Leonard showed marked improvement in each of his campaigns in college, leading the Tigers in tackles for losses in both his junior and senior seasons, and also led that highly rated defensive unit in QB sacks in each of those two years.

PERSONAL: Leonard Allen Marshall was born in Franklin, La., on October 22, 1961 and was a powerhouse scholastic player at Franklin High School as a two-way tackle, winning both All-Conference and All-State honors, registering 16 QB sacks in his senior year. Leonard is related to two former NFL players, Ernie Ladd of Houston and Warren Wells of the Raiders. Leonard is also extremely active in many charity works and serves as a national co-chairman for the Leukemia Society. He personally ran a golf tourney this past off-season which raised considerable monies and has also worked for Special Olympics and Cystic Fibrosis groups. He was also selected to represent the Giants in the 1991 United Way public service commercials. To date, Leonard has personally raised $215,000 for the Leukemia Society of America.

PRO: Ed had a fine rookie season in '91, appearing in all 16 games as a reserve WR, and also seeing duty with the special teams. He finished the year with 16 catches for 146 yards, with his best outing coming vs. Tampa Bay when he had four receptions, including a couple of key grabs on the final and winning TD drive engineered by Phil Simms. McCaffrey also had three catches vs. both the Rams and the Eagles. He also had a couple of tackles on kick coverages, and proved to be a good blocker as well. Should see increased duty this coming season.

COLLEGE: McCaffrey had a fine career at Stanford, winning All-American honors from Kodak in his senior year, and earning All-Pac 10 honors for two seasons. As a senior, he was also selected to play in both the Senior Bowl and East-West Shrine games after finishing that year with 61 catches for 917 yards and eight touchdowns. Also won team MVP honors as a junior, and showed a career total of 146 catches for 2,333 yards and 14 touchdowns, which ranked him right up there with former Stanford receivers James Lofton, Gene Washington and Ken Margerum, all former NFL stars. He also earned Academic All-American honors, majored in Biology and has plans for medical school when his playing days are over.

PERSONAL: Edward McCaffrey was born in Allentown, Pa., on August 17, 1968 and played his scholastic sports at Central Catholic High School in his hometown. He was an All-American choice in football, won MVP honors in baseball with a torrid .540 batting average, scored at a 21.3 rate in basketball and was a member of the National Honor Society. A younger brother, Billy, was a star member of Duke's NCAA champion basketball squad in 1991, and has since switched to Vanderbilt.

10/4/68

D-2 (91)

2nd Year

PRO: The Giants' second round choice last year, Kanavis had a tough time cracking into a veteran linebacker corps, but did play in all 16 games as a reserve and special teams' member. He finished the year with just three total tackles after being late reporting to pre-season training camp. He's expected to make a strong bid for more work in this coming season.

COLLEGE: McGhee won four varsity letters at Colorado, including back-to-back All-American laurels in 1989 and 1990 and All-Big Eight honors three times in succession. He was also a finalist for the Dick Butkus Award. McGhee's defensive stats in college showed 295 total tackles, 14 QB sacks and 33 QB pressures. His best single outing was a big day vs. Oklahoma when he had an astounding 23 tackles in that one game. Selected to play in the East-West Shrine game in his senior year.

PERSONAL: Kanavis McGhee was born in Houston, Tex. on October 4, 1968 and starred at Wheatley High School there under coach Kenny Houston, a former NFL star. McGhee was a District All-Star choice for two years in football, racking up 28 QB sacks in his senior year, while also catching 23 passes for eight TDs as a tight end. He also lettered in basketball where he averaged 20.7 per game, and excelled in track in the high-jump, shot-put and discus.

38*LAMAR McGRIGGS*Safety*Western Illinois*5/9/68*6-3*210*D-8 '91*2nd Year

PRO: An 8th round selection, Lamar enjoyed a productive pre-season training camp, and also was impressive in the pre-season games, particularly on special teams. He also saw action in the secondary and proved to be a rangy, hard hitting DB. He was among the leading tacklers in the pre season and had one QB sack on a safety blitz. McGriggs then saw action as a special teamer throughout the regular season and finished with 11 total tackles on coverages, while adding a forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

COLLEGE: McGriggs began his collegiate career at Arizona Western, then switched to Oklahoma State where he was named Big-Eight newcomer of the year. He finished his collegiate career at Western Illinois, winning All-Conference honors and team MVP laurels when he had 118 tackles, three interceptions, a blocked punt and four forced fumbles. While at Oklahoma State, Lamar won game honors in a 45-42 win over Texas Tech when he had 10 solo tackles, and then intercepted a pass in his own end zone in the final minute to preserve the triumph.

PERSONAL: Lamar was born in Chicago, IL on May 9, 1968 and was a scholastic standout at Thornton High School in Harvey, IL where he won All-State and All-American honors in football and All-Conference recognition in basketball. He began his collegiate days at Ellsworth, (IA) Junior College where he won JC All-American mention, leading that team to a JUCO national title.

30*DAVID MEGGETT*RB-Returner*Towson State*4/30/66*5-7*180*D-5 '89*4th Year

PRO: While he didn't reap any post-season honors as he did in his first two campaigns, David had yet another powerful season as one of the NFL's most prolific all-purpose people. He had a career high 50 receptions, including three TD grabs, added 153 yards rushing, including a 30-yard TD vs. Pittsburgh, and set a new alltime NFL mark by being the first player ever to return punts for touchdowns in each of his first three seasons when he raced one back 70 yards for a score vs. Tampa Bay. In just three years, Meggett has produced 4,706 all-purpose yards, an average of 1,569 a year. 1990: Meggett had a second straight major season in 1990, winning All-NFL honors from AP, PFWA and the Sporting News as the return specialist, and also gaining similar honors in All-NFC and the All-Madden teams. He won the NFC kick-off return title with his 23.4 average, and just missed a double when he finished second in punt returns with his 10.9 average. All told, David amassed 1,533 all-purpose yards during the year, and led the club in receiving with 39 receptions. He also had his second punt return for a TD in two seasons when he blazed one back for 68 yards in the season opening win over the Eagles. Then when Rodney Hampton went down in the opening game of the playoffs, Meggett added yet another dimension vs. the 49ers and Bills, getting more action as a running back, and responding with 102 yards rushing and a 4.9 average, including 48 yards in the Super Bowl victory. 1989: The Giants found themselves a diamond in the rough with their 5th round draft pick in 1989, selecting the 5-7 Meggett out of Division I-AA Towson State. By season's end, the dynamic Meggett had amassed 1,807 all-purpose yards for an average of 113 per game, set an alltime club record in punt returns, was selected to play in the Pro Bowl and was named to the All-NFL team as a return specialist by Pro Football Weekly, the Pro Football Writers, and by several other publications. He was also named to a host of All-NFL Rookie teams, won the NFLPA's Special Teams Player of the Year Award and added 63 yards and a TD catch for the NFC in the Pro Bowl game in Hawaii. Dave finished the year with 582 yards in punt returns for a new alltime one-season club record, and also set an alltime mark with his 12.7 average-per-return. He had a 76-yard return for a TD vs. the Raiders and that was the third longest in club history. As a receiver, he finished second on the club with 34 receptions, with four of those going for TDs, including romps of 62 yards vs. the Redskins, 57 for the clinching TD vs. the Broncos, 53 vs. the 49ers, and 33 in a win over the Cowboys. He additionally had a 4.2 rushing average as a third-down back, finishing with 117 yards rushing. All in all, it was a stunning rookie season.

COLLEGE: Meggett is the only player in NCAA history to have been elected team captain at two different four-year colleges, winning the first honor as a sophomore defensive back at Morgan State, and then getting the same honor at Towson State after his transfer to that school where he made the switch to running back and return specialist. At Morgan State, Dave won All-Conference honors as a DB with 70 tackles and five interceptions, then piled up the offensive awards at Towson State where he was the 1987 NCAA Division all-purpose yardage leader with an average of 199 yards per game. In 1988 he was a Division All-American selection and also won the Walter Payton Award as Division I-AA Player of the Year. Also named to play in the Senior Bowl against Division I players, he won the MVP Award for the North squad in that game.

PERSONAL: David Lee Meggett was born on April 30, 1966 in Charleston, S.C. and was an All-Conference high school star in two sports at Bonds-Wilson High School in his hometown, the same high school that produced Raiders' head coach Art Shell. David has four brothers and two sisters.

COREY MILLER

Linebacker South Carolina 10/25/68
6-2 255 D-6 '91 2nd Year

PRO: A sixth round draft choice, Corey had himself a fine pre-season training camp, and then made a big splash in the opening pre-season game vs. the Buffalo Bills when he registered six tackles, a 14-yard QB sack, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery. Miller then saw duty as a reserve LB and special teamer, and saw extensive action in the final few games when Lawrence Taylor was injured. He came up with a sack and forced fumble on the Redskins' Mark Rypien, then added five tackles and 1½ QB sacks on Warren Moon in the win over the Houston Oilers. All told, he had 11 tackles for the season, along with those 2½ QB sacks and the forced fumble. Has the potential to play either inside or outside backer with his good size, strength and speed.

COLLEGE: Miller was the leader of the South Carolina defensive unit for two years, playing as both a defensive end and inside linebacker. He was twice an All-South Independent first-team selection and won honorable mention All-American honors in his senior year. He was also named the winner of his college's Rex Enright Captain's Cup trophy and was chosen to play in the annual Blue-Gray game. His final stats included 187 tackles, 10 QB sacks, 39 QB pressures, two interceptions and three forced fumbles.

PERSONAL: Corey Miller was born in Pageland, South Carolina on October 25, 1968 and starred at Pageland High School where he was All-State and All-American as a defensive lineman. He was also his Division MVP, team captain, and had 225 tackles and seven interceptions in his career there as that school had a 31-5 mark over that span. He was also a place-kicker, hitting on 4-of-6 FG attempts and 25-of-25 PATs. Also held the school record in the shot-put.

60*Guard*6-5*300*Indiana*D-1 '88*ERIC MOORE*1/21/65*5th Year

PRO: Moore started all 16 games at RG in 1991 and continued to be a strong force on the offensive line. However, during this past off-season the coaching staff decided to revamp the unit, with Moore now scheduled to move to RT, with that incumbent, Doug Riesenberger shifting to LG. With excellent agility for a man his size, Moore should be able to adapt quickly to his new position. 1990: Eric's versatility was a key factor in 1990 as he was the starting RG for half of the year, and then moved to LT as the starter there when Jumbo Elliott was out of action for eight weeks with a leg injury. He was obviously a key figure as the Giants found great success in the ball-control offense all season long, and he has also become a solid pass-blocker. 1989: In 1989, Moore had much the same type of season, seeing work at both RG and at LT when injuries caused a shuffling of linemen, and this versatility has been indicative of the ever-improving talents of Moore. 1988: The club's top draft choice in 1988, Moore's progress was delayed somewhat when he was late reporting to training camp, and consequently he was on the inactive list for the start of the season. He soon rounded into top condition and won the starting right guard job when Damian Johnson was injured. Eric then was the starter for the final 10 games of the season, and progressed solidly, winning All-NFL Rookie honors from Pro Football Weekly at season's end. Extremely smooth and agile for a big man, he improved week by week during the rookie campaign, and also participated in the off-season workout program.

COLLEGE: Moore began his collegiate career at Northeast Oklahoma A&M Junior College, then made the transfer to Indiana where he won three varsity letters and was a starting tackle for 34 consecutive games thereafter. Won first-team All-American and All-Big 10 honors in his senior season and was also selected to play in both the East-West Shrine game and Japan Bowl at season's end. Was named Indiana's Outstanding Lineman in 1987 after being chosen as the school's MVP Offensive Player in 1986.

PERSONAL: Eric Moore was born on January 21, 1965 in St. Louis, Mo., and was an outstanding scholastic star at Berkeley High School in his hometown. He earned a degree in general studies and criminal justice at Indiana. Eric and his wife, Vanessa, reside in Wayne, New Jersey and both are licensed insurance brokers. Eric is also a quality control supervisor with The Graebel Corp.

65*BART OATES

Center      Brigham Young      12/16/58
6-3      265      FA-'85      8th Year

PRO: Bart enjoyed yet another sterling season in '91, earning his second straight Pro Bowl appearance, while perpetuating a personal mark of endurance by running his streak of consecutive starting games with the Giants to 115, dating back to his rookie season of 1985. He needs 10 more starts this coming year to become only the second center in club history to have that type of longevity, with a string of 125 surpassing Ray Wietecha's 124 consecutive games. The alltime leader is the late Mel Hein, a Hall of Famer, with 172. 1990: Ironman center and offensive line leader had his most rewarding season in 1990, not only winning All-NFC honors, but being named to the Pro Bowl for the first time in his NFL career. As the leader and signal-caller of the offensive line unit, Bart had much to do with the overall success of the ball-control offense which set an all time Super Bowl record of 40:33 time of possession vs. Buffalo. As the offensive line signal-caller, Bart has been the key man in that offensive line blocking which has led the way for 1,000-yard rushing seasons by Joe Morris (85-86-88) and Ottis Anderson (89) in the past six years. 1987: In 1987, he was a Pro Bowl alternate for the second year in a row and was a virtual ironman, handling the long snaps as well as all of the center responsibilities, and even came up with four tackles on kick coverages. 1986: Oates was rock solid at center for the Giants in '86, playing virtually every minute of the season, as well as handling all of the long-snap duties. A heady player and powerful blocker, he was the anchorman for this unit which excelled on the campaign. At season's end, he was named as a Pro Bowl alternate and also won All-NFL honorable mention from the AP. 1985: Bart was signed as a FA by the Giants during the 1985 pre-season after spending three seasons in the USFL with Philadelphia/Baltimore where he won All-League honors twice. After making his debut with the Giants late in the pre-season, Oates moved in as the starting center for the final 14 games of the regular season and for both of the playoff games and by season's end, his work was so productive that he was a unanimous choice for the All-NFL Rookie team.

COLLEGE: Oates was a three-year starter at center for Brigham Young and was named to the All-Western Athletic Conference first team in his senior year, as well as to the second-team All-American by both AP and NEA. Twice an Academic All-American in '82 and '83, he was also selected to play in the Blue-Gray, East-West Shrine and Senior Bowl games after that senior season. He was a second round USFL draft pick.

PERSONAL: Bart Steven Oates was born in Mesa, Ariz., on December 16, 1958, then was an outstanding student-athlete at Albany High School in Albany, Ga. Bart's older brother, Brad, is a former NFL and USFL player. Bart received his degree from Brigham Young and in 1990 earned his law degree from Seton Hall University. He and his wife, Michelle, and two sons live in River Vale, NJ. Bart also passed the New Jersey Bar examination in 1990 and is now a fulltime attorney for the firm of Ribis, Graham & Curtin in Morristown, N.J. He and his wife are also extremely active in many charity organizations, particularly the Colleen Giblin Foundation for children with cancer. He will represent the Giants in the United Way Public Service Commercial this year.

55*GARY REASONS*Linebacker N.W. Louisiana St. 2/18/62*6-4*235*D-4A '84*9th Year

PRO: Reasons started all 16 games in '91 as an inside backer, and while he didn't have the stats of some of his other top years, still finished with 60 total tackles for the campaign. He also added a trio of pass breakups and continued in his role as defensive signal caller.

1990: While his role was chiefly in situational defensive alignments, Gary had a strong campaign in 1990, appearing in every game and finishing the year with 49 total tackles, while also leading the club in fumble recoveries with three. He also had a career-high three interceptions to run that career total to 10, with a pair coming in a win over the Rams, and the other stopping a late drive in the victory over the Vikings. In the playoffs, Gary was the leading tackler among the linebackers with 14 stops, including six solos in the Super Bowl win, but perhaps his biggest play came in the NFC title win over the 49ers when on fourth and two, he took the snap on a fake punt and rolled 30 yards for a first down which set up a Matt Bahr FG late in the game. 1989: Veteran inside backer and signal-caller had a fine year in 1989, finishing as the third-leading tackler with a total of 85. He also added other key stats such as an interception which he returned 40 yards vs. the Cowboys, a safety when he sacked Cardinals' QB Gary Hogeboom in the end zone, a forced fumble, a QB sack and four blocked passes. He also came up with a highlight film tackle in the 14-7 win over the Broncos in a Denver snowstorm when he blasted Bobby Humphrey so hard for a one-yard loss on fourth and goal that Humphrey's earpiece flew completely out of his helmet. In that same game, Gary also had a rushing attempt for two yards, which was good for a first-down on a fake punt. 1988: Made solid comeback in '88 after an off-year in 1987. Appeared in all 16 games, including six as a starter and had 57 total tackles on the year. A special teams' leader as well, he had a blocked punt vs. the Redskins in season opener which was returned for a touchdown. 1987: Reasons missed all of training camp and the pre-season in 1987 because he was a contract holdout. When he finally returned, he appeared in just 10 games and had lost his inside starting linebacker spot to Pepper Johnson. He saw increased action as a reserve late in the year and finished with 16 total tackles and one QB sack. 1986: Strong, steady and heady inside linebacker enjoyed a solid season in 1986 as the starting inside man next to Harry Carson. In his third season as a starter, Gary finished with 96 total tackles, came up with a pair of pass interceptions and had a forced fumble. He continued his excellence in the post-season games, finishing as the club's third-leading tackler in the playoffs with 17 stops, and was outstanding in the NFC championship game victory over the Redskins when he had 12 tackles, a QB sack on Jay Shroeder and an interception. 1985: Gary enjoyed a solid season in '85, starting every game in the regular season and playoffs, and finishing as the third leading tackler on the unit with 90 total tackles behind Pro Bowlers Lawrence Taylor and Harry Carson. He had 14 total tackles in the playoffs and continued to give the club aggressive and heady defensive play all year long. 1984: Gary had a solid rookie season at inside linebacker, being named to virtually all of the All-NFL Rookie teams at season's end. The big rookie first made his presence felt in a 16-9 pre-season win over the Pittsburgh Steelers when he had 12 tackles and two interceptions, the second of which came in the end zone to save the victory. He saw reserve action in the first part of the season, then won the starting job and remained as a starter alongside Harry Carson for the remainder of the year and through the playoffs. He finished with 76 tackles in the regular season, added a QB sack, two interceptions, and led the defense with three fumble recoveries. He also topped the club in total tackles for one game, registering 17 in the 20-10 win over the New York Jets, and both of his regular season interceptions were crucial ones, coming in key situations in victories over Atlanta and St. Louis. Gary was also outstanding in the playoffs, finishing with 14 tackles in the two games, and had a top performance against the 49ers in the divisional playoff with eight tackles, two interceptions on Joe Montana, and three pass deflections.

COLLEGE: Reasons was a small school terror who became the first player in Division I-AA history to win first-team All-American honors for three consecutive years. He was only the third player in Northwest Louisiana State's history to have his jersey retired, and he was chosen as the Most Valuable Defensive Player in the state of Louisiana in his senior year, including every major college in the state. Gary finished his college career with 394 total tackles, 30 for losses, five interceptions, two fumble recoveries and 10 deflected passes. Also team captain and MVP in his senior year, he set a school record with 172 tackles in his final season, including 24 in one game.

PERSONAL: Gary Phillip Reasons was born in Chicago, Ill., but grew up in Crowley, Tex., where he was a standout in football, basketball and baseball at Crowley H.S. where he was also a member of the National Honor Society with a 3.45 GPA. Majored in business administration in college where he also won Honor Roll status with a 3.0 GPA and earned a B.S. degree. Gary is married to the former Terri Matthews and has a young son, Nicholas Ryan, and two daughters, Randi, and Lacy. He is also the teams' NFLPA player representative.

ED REYNOLDS
Virginia      9/23/61
FA-'92      10th Year

PRO: The veteran Reynolds signed with the Giants during this past off-season during the Plan B period after spending nine seasons with the New England Patriots. Originally signed as a free agent by the Pats back in 1983, Reynolds was a top special teams' player and reserve inside backer in his first few campaigns, then became a fulltime starter at LB. He finished third in tackles with 141 and was named the Patriots' Defensive MVP that year. Despite missing four games in 1990, he finished second in total tackles with 90. He had a career best 17 tackles in one game vs. Miami in 1989, and had 10 or more tackles in eight games that season. He also had a big outing vs. the Giants in the 1987 season when he registered 12 tackles and two QB sacks on Jeff Rutledge. Career totals with the Pats included 449 total tackles, four QB sacks, six pass breakups and nine forced fumbles.

COLLEGE: Reynolds won four varsity letters at Virginia as a defensive end and then linebacker and was an All-Atlantic Coast Conference selection in his senior year. While with the Cavaliers, he was also chosen as an Academic All-American and was three times on the All-ACC Academic squad.

PERSONAL: Edward Rannell Reynolds was born in Stuttgart, Germany on Sept. 23, 1961 where his father, Randolph, was serving at the time with the U.S. Army. He subsequently was a three-sport scholastic star at Drewry Mason High School in Ridgeway, Va. in football, basketball and track. A member of the ROTC at Virginia, Ed earned a commission and now spends off-seasons in the Army Reserve where he is now a Captain. He and his wife, Pamela, have a son Edward II. Reynolds is also on the Army Reserve pistol and rifle teams. His wife is a registered nurse, and his father has retired after a career in the military. Four of his sisters and brothers are teachers.

DOUG RIESENBERG
California      7/22/65
D-6A '87      6th Year

PRO: Riesenbergh had a consecutive streak of 48 starts at RT snapped in '91 when he injured an ankle vs. Tampa Bay and sat out the next week vs. the Bengals. He returned for the final three games, though slowed somewhat by that nagging injury. Current plans call for Doug to switch to the LG position for this upcoming season as the club plans to revamp the offensive line unit. 1990: Big, strong and exceptionally intelligent, he was a big reason why the unit allowed 17 less QB sacks in 1990 than in the previous season. By the same token, the rushing yardage was up considerably from the year before, as was the average-per-rush, and since the Giants, like many other clubs, are strongside-oriented, Doug's blocking performances had much to do with that success. He also continued to improve his pass-blocking and had some classic battles with the Eagles' Reggie White. 1989: Reisenberg stepped in as the starting right tackle after a highly productive training camp in '89, and thereafter started all 16 regular season games and in the playoffs at the RT spot, and continued to show excellent improvement as his development continued. Struggled somewhat against the speed rushers early in his career, but has worked hard at upgrading himself in that area. 1988: Big, strong young tackle had 12 starting roles in '88 as a second-year player, and showed excellent progress and promise at the RT position. Had particularly strong game vs. Charles Mann in second Redskins' game. 1987: He showed excellent progress in his rookie season, despite the fact that he was a defensive tackle for most of his career in college. Highly intelligent and a hard worker, Doug appeared in eight games for the Giants, most on short yardage and on kicking teams and continually showed fine effort.

COLLEGE: After sparkling as a defensive tackle for three years at California, Riesenberg was switched to OT in his senior season by coach Joe Kapp and became a top offensive player on short notice, winning All-Pac 10 honors in his senior year and getting 90% blocking grades from the coaching staff. Not only that, he was named to the Blue-Gray post-season game and distinguished himself in that All-Star contest with outstanding play throughout, then played in the Japan Bowl where he performed well again. An electrical engineering major with computer science as his goal, he was a top student at Cal.

PERSONAL: Douglas John Riesenberg was born on July 22, 1965 in Carroll, Iowa, then played his scholastic sports at Moscow High School in Moscow, Idaho where he was All-American in football and track and All-Conference in basketball while academically making the honor roll and serving as a class officer. Doug is married to the former Victoria Rajeski, his father, Louis, is a professor and department chairman at the University of Idaho, and Doug not only plays the trumpet well, but lists computers as his favorite hobby. WILLIAM ROBERTS

Ohio State

D-1A '84

8/5/62

8th Year

PRO: William had another strong season in '91, starting all 16 games at LG, winning All-NFC first team designation from the Football Digest. An extremely versatile lineman with agility and strength, he's played at both tackle and guard. Plans for 1992 will have him move from LG to RG. 1990: Roberts had perhaps his finest season in 1990 as the starting LG, and was rewarded for those efforts by being named to his first Pro Bowl appearance, as well as earning an All-NFL honorable mention listing. His pass blocking continued to be exceptional, as it had been in the past, and his run-blocking continued to improve with any number of key blocks resulting in big rushing yardage. He was particularly adept at creating holes in short yardage situations and at the goal line, coming up with many key blocks on short-range TD plunges by Ottis Anderson. 1989: After a half-dozen seasons at either RT or LT on the offensive line, William was switched to offensive guard in the 1989 training camp, and apparently found a new home for himself there. He seemed to adapt very well, was reasonably comfortable there from the start, and then went on to start all season as the left guard, performing extremely well there. 1988: Roberts was back at offensive left tackle in '88 after playing the right side the previous year. He played in all 16 games, 13 of those as the starter at LT, before sharing the job with rookie John Elliott late in the season. 1987: With Karl Nelson sidelined in '87, Roberts moved over to the right tackle slot and started all 12 games at the position, and after some early season difficulties, improved rapidly from that point on. It was a transition of a major scale for William who had been strictly a left tackle since joining the club. 1986: He had won the starting LT job in his rookie season, then missed all of 1985 due to major knee surgery, but returned in 1986 as a reserve LT, short-yardage and third tight end, while appearing in every game that season, including the playoffs and Super Bowl. 1984: After winning a starting job in his rookie season, Roberts went down with a major knee injury during the early part of pre-season training camp in 1985, underwent surgery and was out for the entire year. William made an impressive debut in training camp as a rookie, winning a starting job at left tackle almost from the outset. He then enjoyed a strong pre-season at LT, and was the starter at the position for the first eight regular season games until he went down with a severe ankle injury which had him on the sidelines for five weeks.

COLLEGE: Roberts was a starting tackle for three seasons at Ohio State, building himself up from a 240-pound freshman to his current size. All told, he won four letters with the Buckeyes, and in his senior year won All-American honors from Street & Smith and the Sporting News, while also gaining All Big-10 honors. He played in the Fiesta Bowl, Liberty Bowl and Holiday Bowl games while a Buckeye and was also named to play in the Japan Bowl in his senior year. He was also team captain as a senior.

PERSONAL: William Harold Roberts was born in Miami, Fla., on August 5, 1962 and played his scholastic sports at Carol City High School in Miami where he was twice MVP in football and was captain of both the football and basketball squads. William's father, Cleveland, is a school counselor in Miami, while an older brother, Alton, was a defensive end with the Roughriders in the CFL, and a cousin, Reginald Sanilands, played with Memphis in the USFL. William lists fishing and outdoor sports as his hobbies, and he was also a trombone player in high school.

11 PHIL SIMMS
Quarterback Morehead State 11/3/55
6-3 215 D-1 '79 14th Year

PRO: After losing his starting job to Jeff Hostetler at the outset of the 1991 season, Simms remained in top form in the event of an injury to Hoss. That happened in Week 12 vs. Tampa Bay, and Phil came on to stage a brilliant rally which was capped by his game-winning 30-yard TD pass to Stephen Baker in the final 20 seconds of play. Simms then finished the year with a signature performance when he fired a torrid 15-for-17 for 200 yards and a TD in a win over the playoff bound Houston Oilers. For his brief season, Simms was 82-for-141 for 993 yards and eight TDs, and he also managed to set his 15th alltime club passing record with a career total of 179 TD throws. Additionally, he moved up in three categories of the NFL's Alltime Top Twenty and is now 14th in career passing yardage, and 17th in both career attempts and completions. 1990: Phil was in the midst of yet another outstanding season in 1990 when he went down with a badly sprained foot in the Buffalo game, and then missed the remainder of the year. Along the way, Simms had led the club to an 11-3 record and also won his first NFC passing title with a career-high 92.7 QB rating. 1989: Despite an assortment of injuries in 1989 which sidelined him for two games and hampered him in others, Phil continued to be a highly productive QB and outstanding team leader as he finished as the 6th rated passer in the NFC while directing the club to the NFC East championship with the second best record in the league. Along the way, Phil had some exceptional performances, including 20-for-26 and two TDs in a win over Detroit; 27-for-51 and four TD throws in the two crucial wins over the Redskins, and his 20th career 300-yard passing game when he fired for 326 yards against the Super Bowl champion 49ers. 1988: Simms had yet another outstanding season in 1988, among his very best in virtually all categories. He had 263 completions along the way, despite missing one game and parts of two others, totaled 3,359 yards and threw for 21 touchdowns. He also led the NFC in lowest percentage of passes intercepted. 1987: Veteran QB had a string of 59 consecutive starts snipped in '87 when he suffered a sprained knee against the Cowboys and had to sit out three games. He returned for the final five games of the year and finished with the highest passing completion percentage of his career, while also setting alltime career records for pass completions and passing yardage, erasing the former standards of Charlie Conerly. With his 90.0 passing rating, Phil finished second in the NFC to Joe Montana, and along the way also set alltime club marks for game completion percentage with an 80.9% outing vs. St. Louis and 80.7% vs. Green Bay. 1986: "Perhaps the best game ever played by a quarterback" seemed to be the consensus quote after Simms set an alltime NFL Super Bowl and playoff record with 88% completion on 22-for-25 passing for 268 yards and three touchdowns in the Giants' 39-20 conquest of Denver in 1986. For those superlative efforts, Phil was named MVP of Super Bowl XXI, just one year after being named MVP in the 1986 Pro Bowl. Simms' 1986 season was a masterful one as he led the club to a final team-record 17-2 mark, including 12 straight victories down the homestretch. He was never better than in a four-game crucial stretch late in the season when he (a) threw for 310 yards and hit a 4th and 21 completion in the final minute to set up the winning FG vs. Minnesota; (b) connected on a 46-yard completion in the final minute to set up the winning FG vs. Denver; (c) fired for 388 yards and two TDs to lead the Giants to a second-half victory over San Francisco; and (d) passed for 265 yards and three TDs in the crucial first-place battle with Washington. Once the Giants had won the NFC East crown, Simms then riddled the 49ers in the opening playoff with a club-record four TD passes in playoff action, throttled the Redskins with astute ball-control and a TD throw in the 17-0 NFC title game, and then riddled the Broncos in the Super Bowl. His post-season quarterback rating was an astounding 131.8 on 38-of-58 passing for a 65.5%, eight TD passes and no interceptions, and that brought his career playoff passing rating to 92.0, the third highest in the NFL playoff history behind Bart Starr and Ken Anderson. He was rewarded by being named All-NFL and the NFL's Most Valuable Player by NEA. 1985: Simms had another powerful season in 1985, adding several more club records to others he had set in 1984, chipped in with an alltime NFL record, and then capped his year by being named to the Pro Bowl where he was the starting QB for the NFC and won Most Valuable Player honors for leading a comeback victory with a trio of TD tosses. Phil set alltime club marks vs. Cincinnati when he threw 62 passes and completed 40, for 513 yards. In back-to-back games vs. the Cowboys and Bengals, Simms passed for 432 and 513 yards and those 945 passing yards in back-to-back games were the most ever in NFL history. In matching his previous season high of 22 TD passes, Simms had great consistency in TD throws, pitching for at least one TD pass in 14 of the 16 regular season games, then tossed for two more TDs in the big playoff victory over the 49ers. He had particular success during the year against NFC East rivals Dallas and St. Louis, throwing five TD passes against both of those clubs in the two meetings during the year, and his two-game passing yardage vs. Dallas in '85 added up to 761 yards. 1984: After missing virtually all of the '82 and '83 seasons because of injuries and the latter stages of the two seasons prior to that because of other injuries, Simms had his first full season in 1984 and promptly rewrote the Giants' alltime one-season record book. In leading the Giants to a second-place finish in the NFC East and a trip to the playoffs, Simms set club season records for most completions (286); passing yardage, (4,044) and attempts (533), chalked up four 300-plus passing yardage games, and displayed outstanding toughness and leadership. Phil wasted no time showing that a two-year absence had not diminished his skills. In the season opener against the Eagles, Simms fired 23-of-30 for 409 yards, four touchdowns and no interceptions, then came back the following week to bomb the Cowboys with three more touchdown strikes. That 1984 performance fulfilled the promise that Simms had shown when the Giants made him their No. 1 draft choice in 1979 from little Morehead State in Kentucky. 1979-1983: In his rookie season, Simms didn't see any action until the fifth week of the season in a relief stint vs. New Orleans. A week later, he made his initial NFL start vs. Tampa Bay and produced a win, then won his next three starts for four in a row, and had six wins in his first eight starts. Unheralded at the time of the draft, by season's end he was unanimous All-NFL Rookie choice and runnerup for NFC Rookie of the Year. Then began a streak of misfortune for Simms. In 1980, he was on his way to setting club records when a shoulder separation flattened him for the final three games of the season. In 1981, it was the same story with another shoulder separation knocking him out of the final five games and the playoffs, and in 1982, a knee injury in a pre-season game cost him the entire season. In 1983, he fractured a thumb in his first long appearance, and was out for a total of 14 games. Undaunted, Simms worked hard during the following off-season, won the starting job again, and injury-free, had himself a banner '84 season.

COLLEGE: Only the second Morehead State player to make it in the NFL (ex-Giant Gary Shirk was the other), Simms set alltime college marks with 409 completions for 5,545 yards and 32 touchdowns at Morehead and also set single season marks with 370 yards vs. Tennessee Tech and four TD passes vs. Marshall, those one-game records coming in 1977. During his four varsity seasons, Phil was an honorable mention All-American by the Sporting News and was named Offensive Player of the Year and first-team All-Conference in the Ohio Valley Conference as a junior . . . but made only second-team All-Conference as a senior when Morehead eschewed the passing game and opted for a ball-control offense.

PERSONAL: Philip Simms was born in Springfield, KY, on November 3, 1955 and played his high school sports at Southern H.S. in Louisville as a QB in football and as a pitcher in baseball. Simms comes from a large family, which includes four brothers — William, Thomas, David and Joseph — and four sisters, Jeanette, Mary, Ann and Sara. Phil and his wife, Diana Fronfield, live in Franklin Lakes and have two sons, Christopher and Matthew, and a daughter, Deirdre. He is an outstanding golfer and has twice qualified for State Amateur Championship tournaments, winning the medal with an even par 72 in the 1990 event at Fairmount Country Club in New Jersey.

88*Wide Receiver*5-10 177*JOEY SMITH*Louisville 5/30/69*FA-'91 2nd Year

PRO: Smith was signed as a free agent just prior to the opening of the 1991 training camp, and showed excellent speed and agility, both as a wide receiver and as a return specialist. He saw action during the pre-season games, returning five punts for 70 yards for a solid 14.0 average and a long return of 34 yards. Joey then spent time on the practice squad, but was activated during the season and saw action late in the season in the second game vs. Dallas. In that game, he had three kickoff returns for 34 yards, and a long of 18.

COLLEGE: Joey spent most of his career at Louisville as a defensive back, although he also saw duty as a wide receiver and tailback as well as a return specialist. Smith was the starting free safety as a soph at Louisville, leading the secondary in tackles with 75, including 10 solos vs. both Maryland and Virginia, then started the both-ways program as a junior, working at WR and RB as well as in the secondary as a nickel back. Also lettered in track as a sprinter and in his sophomore year won the 55-meter dash in the Mason-Dixon games with a 6.4 reading. He's also been clocked at 4.3 in the 40, 10.6 in the 100 meters and 21.8 in the 200 meters while a trackman with the Cardinals.

PERSONAL: Joseph Smith was born in Knoxville, Tenn. on May 30, 1969 and starred in football, basketball and track at Austin High School in East Knoxville, earning All-Conference honors as a running back. He was also that same conference's 100 and 220-yard dash champion. Majored in communications at Louisville.

56*Linebacker*6-3 243*LAWRENCE TAYLOR*North Carolina 2/4/59*D-1 '81 12th Year

PRO: For the first time in his illustrious career, Lawrence was not selected for the Pro Bowl after a record-setting 10 consecutive appearances. He was also slowed by injuries, missed two games and parts of others, and had the lowest QB sack total of his career. All that means is that he was slightly reduced to being a mere mortal. Lest one think the above information indicates a sub-standard performance, that is not exactly the case. Taylor finished with 67 tackles, added seven QB sacks, had a pair of forced fumbles and a pair of recoveries, and four pass breakups. He's also the NFL's alltime sack leader with 121½, computed only since 1982. 1990: The ever-amazing L.T. continued to amaze in 1990, setting an NFL record for Pro Bowl designation with his 10th consecutive election to that squad. He also had 10½ QB sacks during the year. He was also an All-NFC and All-NFL selection for a 10th consecutive year, made the All-Madden team once again, and twice was NFC Defensive Player of the Week for performances against the Eagles on opening night and vs. the Vikings later in the year. Along the way, he registered 84 total tackles, led the club with three forced fumbles, had a fumble recovery, four pass breakups, and an interception vs. Dallas in which he batted the ball, caught it, then spun and ran 11 yards for his second career TD. Among the big man's big games was the Viking win in which he had 12 solo stops, 2½ QB traps and a forced fumble. He also had a three-sack attack in the opening day win over Philly, and that was the eighth time he had had a three-sack game, to go along with a pair of four-sack outings. As for the playoffs, he had eight total stops, shared a QB sack, had a pass breakup and made the key fumble recovery in the final minutes which led to the NFC title victory over the 49ers. 1989: The ultimate linebacker continued to amass honors in 1989, being a consensus first-team All-NFL selection; and then being a unanimous selection on the NFL's All-1980's team, joining Jerry Rice and Anthony Munoz as the only unanimous selection on that team, as selected by the Pro Football Writers on the HOF committee. Taylor's season was another vintage one for him despite the fact that he suffered a cracked bone in his foot in late November, and yet really missed only one game thereafter, a testimony to his competitiveness which is on another level from ordinary people. He had 83 total tackles for the year, added a club-leading 15 sacks, had three forced fumbles and four blocked passes, then added nine tackles and a pair of sacks in the playoff game vs. the Rams. 1988: This marvelous season followed the 1988 campaign in which Lawrence sat out the first four games of the year because of a league suspension, then came back in the final three months to earn yet another All-NFL designation and Pro Bowl trip while coming up with 73 total tackles and 15½ sacks in just 12 games. LT also led the club in forced fumbles with five, added a fumble recovery and also blocked a FG attempt vs. Philadelphia. He had one of his alltime great games vs. New Orleans, when despite a severe shoulder injury, he had 10 tackles, three QB sacks and two forced fumbles to win NFL Defensive Player of the Week honors. 1987: An incredible ironman record ended for the perennial All-NFL Taylor in 1987 when he suffered a hamstring injury against the Eagles, tried to tough it out a week later vs. the Saints, but then had to sit out a game against the Redskins the following week. That marked the first game Taylor had ever missed in his NFL career . . . in his collegiate career . . . and in his high school career! Despite missing that one game, and virtually all of another, L.T. finished with 62 total tackles, added 12 QB sacks, had a career-high three interceptions, and was named to the Pro Bowl and to the All-NFL teams for the seventh consecutive year. 1986: Lawrence had a magnificent year in 1986, even by his own standards which are celestial. By the time he finally retires, he'll need a warehouse to store his ever-increasing collection of awards, and the 1986 harvest may have been his biggest. He set an alltime Giants club record with 20½ quarterback sacks, had 105 total tackles and three forced fumbles, then added a 34-yard TD return with an interception in the playoff win over the 49ers. He was particularly destructive in the two big regular season wins over the Redskins with 18 tackles and six sacks in those two outings. By season's end, Lawrence of the Meadowlands had been a unanimous selection as the NFL's Most Valuable Player, the first time a defensive player had won that plum since Alan Page of the Vikings a decade before. To add to that laurel, he was a unanimous All-NFL selection, a unanimous Pro Bowl selection and a starter for the sixth straight year, the Maxwell Trophy winner, the Kansas City 101 winner, the Seagrams Award winner. While he had great success in two key victories over the Redskins, L.T. was even more devastating in the two wins over the Philadelphia Eagles. In those two contests, he had an amazing 23 total tackles and seven QB sacks, with his four traps in the Oct. 12 win matching his one-game club record. 1985: In 1985 L.T. finished with 104 total tackles, registered 13½ QB sacks, had two fumble recoveries for 25 yards returned and had four forced fumbles. He added 20 tackles in the playoffs, including 10 solos and a QB sack in the victory over the 49ers. Lawrence began the season with a bang when he had nine solo stops and 2½ QB sacks in the 21-0 skunking of the Eagles, and was totally dominating in a crucial 17-3 win over the Redskins when he had 13 tackles and two QB sacks. He repeated those identical totals in the second meeting with the Redskins, this time adding a fumble recovery to his 13-tackle, 2-QB sacks stats. 1981-1984: In short, there is no honor extant that Taylor has not justly won during his career with the Giants. Over that span, L.T. has recovered fumbles, forced fumbles, blocked PATs, ran over blockers, and generally made life totally miserable for opposing quarterbacks and running backs. He's also had nine pass interceptions, one of which he returned 97 yards for a touchdown, the longest TD return by a linebacker in club history. The Giants' No. 1 draft pick in 1981, Lawrence was an instant smash from Day One. In his first pre-season training camp scrimmage, he had four QB sacks and a fumble recovery. In his first pre-season game vs. the Bears, he had 10 solo tackles, two QB sacks and a fumble recovery, and then in his regular season performance, helped lead the club to the playoffs for the first time since 1963 with big play after big play, including one-hand QB sacks, catching swift running backs from behind for losses, and any other number of eye-catching accomplishments. At 6-3 and 243 pounds, he can still run 4.8 in the 40, and is one of the strongest players on the club.

COLLEGE: Taylor was a consensus All-American at North Carolina and was the Atlantic Coast Conference Player of the Year in 1980. In his final season, of his 69 solo tackles, 22 were for losses behind the line of scrimmage and 16 were QB sacks. Originally a nose guard on defense at North Carolina, he eventually moved to OLB/DE in his final seasons and finished his career with 192 tackles, 21 QB sacks, 10 forced fumbles, three interceptions and three fumble recoveries and was selected for both the East-West Shrine game and Japan Bowl.

PERSONAL: Lawrence Taylor was born on February 4, 1959 in Williamsburg, Va., and played his scholastic sports at Lafayette H.S. in Williamsburg, where he was a 5-10, 180-pounder in his junior year. Also excelled in both basketball and baseball. Lawrence, his wife Linda, and their three youngsters, Paula, Tanisha and T.J. live in Upper Saddle River, N.J. He has also become an outstanding golfer, getting his handicap down to a four, and his massive tee-shots are getting to be legendary. He is a regular participant in the Bob Hope, Dinah Shore, Pebble Beach and Doral Open Pro-Ams.

REYNA THOMPSON

Baylor 8/28/63
FA '89 7th Year

PRO: Thompson was slowed by a shoulder injury in '91 and as a result missed four games, and was never quite 100% thereafter. He continued to be a topnotch coverage man on special teams and also saw action as a reserve corner and nickel back. He finished the year with 16 tackles and one pass breakup. 1990: Called "the best special teams player ever" by John Madden of CBS, Reyna deserved that praise in 1990. He won All-NFC and All-NFL honors as a special teamer, was named to the Pro Bowl for the first time, and obviously was also on that All-Madden team for his uncanny and powerful coverage work on the special teams. Reyna also saw action as the starting right corner for four games when Mark Collins was injured and he finished the year with 44 tackles, a QB sack and a fumble recovery. He also added four pass breakups.

In the playoffs he was equally as adept, with eight solo tackles and a pass breakup. 1989: Reyna was a solid acquisition in 1989, coming to the Giants from the Miami Dolphins in the Plan B unprotected period. By season's end, Thompson was one of the top special teamers in the NFL and was named to the All-NFL team as a special teams' player by College & Pro Football Newsweekly, and was also named to the All-Madden Team by CBS sportscaster John Madden. Along the way, Thompson had 21 tackles on coverages and was extremely adroit at downing punts inside the 20. He had one of the top stops of the year when he nailed a Denver punt returner for no gain after a 54-yard Sean Landeta punt in the final moments of that 14-7 critical win by the Giants in December in snowy Denver. Reyna also saw action as a reserve cornerback and had a pass deflection. Also had two forced fumbles on big hits on kick coverages. 1986-88: During his tenure with Miami, Thompson was chiefly a special teams' player and nickel back, although he had four starts in 1986 at left cornerback when the regular starter was injured. Voted the Dolphins' top special teams' player in 1986, he had a total of 27 tackles that campaign as well as two forced fumbles and five pass deflections, and won a game ball after win over Buffalo in which he had two key tackles and knocked down a pair of passes. Saw action in only nine games in '87 because of nagging injuries, but did have one start that year vs. Cincinnati and responded with five tackles as well as an additional four stops on special teams.

COLLEGE: Thompson was a track star at Baylor, winning four letters in that sport while setting high hurdles records, and then won three more varsity letters in football after making the team as a walk-on. Played both safety and cornerback at Baylor and was a topnotch special teams' player there as well. Set Baylor and Southwest Conference high hurdles record in 1986 with 13.3 clocking and was a member of Baylor's third-place 400-yard relay team in 1985 NCAA championships.

PERSONAL: Reyna Onald Thompson was born on August 28, 1963 in Dallas, Tex., and was a football and track star at Jefferson High School in Dallas. Held fastest high school high hurdles time in the nation as a senior with a 13.4 clocking and also won regional and state championships in that event, while winning high school All-American honors in track. Reyna was married in Dallas in 1990 to his high school sweetheart, Valerie. He and his wife, who is now a pediatrician, reside in Miami during the off-season.

34 LEWIS TILLMAN Running Back Jackson State 4/16/66 6-0 195 D-4 '89 4th Year

PRO: Tillman was the Giants' second leading rusher in '91 with 287 yards and a solid 4.4 average as he continued to be a productive backup. He had a career high 90 yards rushing in the win over Cleveland, adding 63 more in the victory over Dallas. He also scored a TD on a nifty reverse in the win over Houston. Additionally a fine special teams' player, he had 11 tackles on coverages, while adding a forced fumble and a fumble recovery. 1990: Lewis proved to be a valuable reserve RB again in 1990, finishing the year with 231 yards rushing, including a high of 71 yards in an early season start vs. the Cowboys. He also got his first NFL touchdown on a short plunge in the win over the Rams, and continued his fine play with the special teams' units by recording 10 total tackles. He also did a fine job in the playoffs, coming up with 31 yards rushing in the win over the Bears, and he also added four solo tackles in his kick coverages. 1989: Tillman proved to be a solid addition as a 4th round draft choice in 1989, impressing people right from the start of training camp. In his first pre-season appearance vs. the Patriots, Tillman rushed for 81 yards on just 15 carries, all in one half of action. He then appeared in all 16 regular season games as a reserve RB and finished as the club's second-leading rusher with 290 yards on 79 carries and a 3.7 average. In the victory over Seattle, he had 68 yards rushing on 13 carries and was the leading rusher in that game. A quick and slashing runner, he also had solid appearances twice against Phoenix (34 and 45 yards rushing), and twice vs. Dallas (31 and 40 yards rushing). Lewis also turned out to be an extremely talented special teams' player, finishing the year with 14 total tackles on coverages, one of which was an hellacious hit vs. the Vikings which forced a fumble recovered by the Giants to set up a go-ahead touchdown.

COLLEGE: Lewis was a powerhouse at Jackson State, twice being named All-American in Division I-AA, and also breaking Walter Payton's career rushing records at Jackson State with his four-year total of 3,989 yards. He was also selected to play in three post-season games in 1988, the Blue-Gray, East-West and Senior Bowl outings, and he was named MVP in two of those three games, despite the fact he was competing with Division 1 players. He also won the Jake Gaither Award as the Black College Player of the Year and graduated with honors, while being a member and officer of Phi Beta Sigma fraternity.

PERSONAL: Lewis D. Tillman was born in Oklahoma City, Okla., but grew up in Hazelhurst, Miss. where he was a legendary All-District football, basketball and track star while also ranking among the top academically as an honor student. After his senior year in college, he was honored as a Man of the Year and had a parade in his honor on Lewis Tillman Day in Hazelhurst.

28*Cornerback*6-1 193*EVERSON WALLS*Grambling 12/28/59*FA-'90 12th Year

PRO: Walls shared the club lead in interceptions with four in '91, giving him 54 swipes as a career total, which ranks second among active NFL defenders to the 59 by the Raiders' Ronnie Lott. While he missed a pair of games and was otherwise slowed by nagging injuries, Everson had 56 tackles, adding a shared QB sack, two fumble recoveries, a forced fumble, and 12 pass breakups. 1990: Everson had a highly productive first year with the Giants, after spending nine seasons with the Dallas Cowboys. He started every game at left corner and led the club in interceptions with six for 80 yards returned, including his first-ever NFL touchdown on a 28-yard return vs. the Redskins. He also led the team in passes defended with 17, added 58 total tackles and a forced fumble and won NFC Defensive Player of the Week honors vs. the Redskins when he had a pair of interceptions, four tackles and three pass breakups. He also won All-NFL honorable mention and picked up his career 50th interception vs. Phoenix late in the season. Everson added to his laurels in the playoffs, finishing with seven tackles, added an interception for a 37-yard return vs. the Bears, and had four pass breakups. He also made a big play when he bounced James Lofton out of bounds in the Super Bowl to stop a Bills' TD. Giants signed the veteran former Dallas Cowboy as a free agent in 1990. A four-time Pro Bowl selection while with the Pokes, Walls holds the alltime NFL record by having led the NFL in interceptions three times. 1981-89: Everson finished the 1989 season in Dallas with a career total of 44 interceptions, and set an alltime Cowboys' record in his rookie season of 1981 when he had 11 interceptions. He was a Pro Bowl and All-NFL choice in 1981, 1982, 1983 and 1985 and was also selected as a member of the Cowboys' 25th anniversary All-Time team by a vote of Dallas fans. During his Dallas tenure, Walls had two interceptions in a game a total of eight times, and his nine-year statistics also included 612 total tackles and three fumble recoveries.

COLLEGE: Walls was an All-Southwestern Athletic Conference first-team selection in his senior season at Grambling when he led the nation with a school-record 11 interceptions for 140 yards returned in 11 games. As a junior, he had four interceptions for 91 yards, including one returned for a touchdown.

PERSONAL: Everson Collins Walls was born on December 28, 1959 in Dallas and played his scholastic sports at Berkner High School in nearby Richardson. He was the 1988 Sportsman of the Year award winner by the Dallas-Fort Worth Chapter of the NAACP for his many contributions to the community and he also served as the spokesperson for the Family Outreach Program in Dallas for abused children and was also active with the United Negro College Fund and as a founding member of the Day Resource Center to aid the homeless. He and his wife, Sherill, have a daughter Charis, 7, and a son Cameron, 3. Everson has two cousins who both played in the NFL, Herkie Walls, a wide receiver with Houston and Tampa Bay 1983-87, and Ralph Anderson, a running back with Pittsburgh and New England 1971-73.

73 JOHN WASHINGTON

Defensive End Oklahoma State 2/20/63

6-4 290 D-3 '86 7th Year

PRO: Washington was slowed by a recurring ankle injury in '91, missing four games and parts of others. That being the case, his season totals went down to 18 tackles, but he remained a strong force vs. the run. 1990: J.W. had a solid year in 1990, playing in every game and starting in 13 of those outings. He continued to be a strong player vs. the run, finishing the year with 41 tackles. He also played in all of the playoff outings, and had a particular big play in the win over the Chicago Bears when he knocked over Bears' FB Brad Muster for a loss on a Chicago fourth-and-goal play from the one-yard line. He had a total of five tackles during the playoffs. 1989: When Eric Dorsey went down with a broken foot in 1989, key reserve Washington stepped in as the starter at defensive left end and turned in a strong and steady performance all season long. He concluded the campaign with his top career totals of 52 tackles while adding a fumble recovery, a forced fumble and a blocked pass. Essentially a run-player in the Giants' defensive scheme, John more than held his own against strongside offensive rushers. 1988: Washington continued his role as a valuable reserve DE in 1988, playing in all 16 games and getting two starts when Leonard Marshall was injured. He came up with 12 total tackles, added a forced fumble and a blocked pass and continued to show excellent progress. 1987: Second-year DE saw action in all 12 regular games in '87, and was the starter at RDE in the final two games after Marshall was injured. He finished with 14 total tackles and also came up with his first QB sack, while demonstrating fine potential. 1986: Big and strong defensive end enjoyed a solid pre-season in his rookie year, coming up with a pair of quarterback sacks in the pre-season opener vs. the Atlanta Falcons. He then played in all 16 regular season games as a reserve DE and special teams' player, though he was used only sparingly, coming up with a total of two solo tackles during the year. He suffered a hamstring injury in the final regular season game and missed the playoffs and Super Bowl while on injured reserve.

COLLEGE: Washington earned three varsity letters at Oklahoma State as both a nose tackle and defensive end, and was a starter in all three of those seasons, winning All-Big Eight honors in both 1984 and '85, as well as honorable mention All-American in his senior year. He finished his career with 241 total tackles, 28 for losses, and added 23 quarterback sacks as well as 57 QB pressures. He was elected team co-captain in his senior year and starred in the Gator Bowl.

PERSONAL: John Earl Washington was born in Houston, Tex., on February 20, 1963 and won six varsity letters in football and baseball at Sterling High School in Houston. Twice an All-Conference selection in football, he was also a scholastic All-American in baseball as a pitcher-infielder. Married to the former Terri Stinson, he has a daughter, Charmaine, 8.

59	BRIAN WILLIAMS
Center-Guard	Minnesota 6/8/66
6-5 300	D-1 '89 4th Year

PRO: Williams continues to be a man-in-waiting as the future starting center, but has to be content as the backup to Pro Bowler Bart Oates. In the meantime, he still continues to get work on short yardage and goal line offense as a backup guard as well as the reserve center.

1990: Extremely valuable reserve lineman, Brian saw action in all 16 games and in the playoffs in 1990, primarily as a short-yardage and special teamer, although he did get one start at guard vs. the 49ers during the regular season. 1989: The Giants' No. 1 draft choice in 1989, Brian missed some vital time in training camp because of an extended contract dispute, but once that was settled and he got back in the groove, he played in 14 regular season games and was a starter at guard for the final four of the year after Damian Johnson went down with an injury and there was some shuffling on the offensive line. He proved to be a powerful pass blocker as well as a drive blocker on the run, and even did some impressive downfield blocking, particularly in the win over Denver when he took out two tacklers downfield on Dave Meggett's 57-yard TD romp which won the game. Envisioned as a center in the future, for now he'll work at both guard and center for the time being.

COLLEGE: Williams began his collegiate career as a tight end with the Gophers, then after building himself up through weight training became a reserve guard and eventually a center. He won the starting job at center in 1987 and produced a powerful season as that year's club set an alltime Minnesota one-season rushing attack of 2,651 yards. Already rated as the Big 10's top center, he switched back to guard in his senior season to help bolster a weakness in that area, and once again he had a topnotch season, being named team captain and also being selected to play in both the East-West Shrine Game and the Senior Bowl.

PERSONAL: Brian Scott Williams was born on June 8, 1966 in Mount Lebanon, Pa., and was a football and baseball standout at Mount Lebanon High School, winning All-Pittsburgh Press honors in football two years running. Brian is the son of the late Dr. Bob Williams, the former Notre Dame QB star who led the Irish to the 7-0 conquest of Oklahoma in 1957 which ended a 47-game winning streak by the Sooners. Brian enjoys all outdoor sports, fishing, skiing and snowmobiling, and is also an avid golfer.

D-7 '83

9th Year

PRO: One of the club's most durable players over the years, Perry has missed only two games during his eight seasons with the Giants because of injuries. He appeared in all 16 again in '91 as a reserve corner and nickel man, but also had seven starts along the way. He didn't have an interception for the first time in his career, but he did finish with 36 tackles, a pair of forced fumbles and four pass breakups. 1990: He appeared in every game in 1990, chiefly as a nickel back, although he did have two starts at RCB. He finished the year with 32 tackles, added three interceptions to run his career total to 17, and was second on the club with 11 pass breakups, while also adding a pair of forced fumbles. He also came up with six solo tackles in the playoffs. 1989: He had yet another fine year in 1989, finishing with 43 total tackles, adding three pass interceptions while adding 13 pass breakups and a forced fumble. All three of Perry's interceptions contributed to victories, with the swipes taking place against Phoenix, Dallas and the Los Angeles Raiders. 1988: Perry had a fine all-around season in 1988, starting every game and having solid production. He suffered a pinched neck nerve in the season finale vs. the Jets in the first period, and was sorely missed thereafter. All told, Williams had 63 total tackles, led the club with three fumble recoveries and with 16 passes defended. He also had two QB sacks, and his only interception of the year sealed the Giants' 12-10 win over Dallas in the final minute of play. 1987: After not missing a game in his first three seasons as the starting cornerback, Williams sat out the first two in '87 after suffering a sprained neck in the final pre-season game. He returned as the starter for the final 10 games of the regular season, totaling 40 tackles while adding a club-leading two fumble recoveries, a forced fumble, a QB sack and his 10th career interception. 1986: Perry had a strong season in '86, playing the right corner with gusto against the run, and coming up with a career high four interceptions for 31 yards returned. He also chipped in with a quarterback sack and a forced fumble along the way and with his outstanding speed and covering ability, discouraged teams from throwing at him a lot. He finished the regular season with 57 total tackles, most of them the jarring variety, then added six more stops in the post-season games. 1985: Swift, hard-hitting cornerback enjoyed his second straight complete season as the starter on the right side in '85, finishing the year with 66 total tackles, a pair of QB sacks, a fumble recovery and a forced fumble as well as two pass interceptions vs. the Redskins and Oilers. He added a half-dozen tackles in the playoff games. 1984: After spending his rookie season on Injured Reserve, Perry won the starting right corner job almost from the outset of 1984 then turned in a superb rookie campaign, winning All-Rookie team honors from Football Digest. He played in every game during the season and in the playoffs, finishing with 39 tackles, a fumble recovery and three pass interceptions in the regular season. Williams was enjoying an outstanding training camp and pre-season in '83 as a 7th round draft choice, displaying great speed, hitting ability and coverage capabilities, then suffered a stress fracture of his foot after the second pre-season game and went on Injured Reserve for the rest of the season.

COLLEGE: Perry was a three-year starter for the Wolfpack at cornerback, and during his career at N.C. State, had 182 total tackles, six interceptions and 23 pass deflections. Clocked in 4.39 for the 40-yard dash, Williams also earned varsity letters in track where he was the Atlantic Coast Conference 200-meter champion with a 21.0 clocking. He was the anchor-man on State's 400 and 800-meter relay teams which won first-place honors in both events in the 1982 Penn Relays. He majored in Humanities and Social Sciences.

PERSONAL: Perry Lamar Williams was born in Hamlet, N.C. on May 12, 1961, and was a scholastic standout at Richmond High School in Rockingham, N.C., where he was All-Conference and team captain in football, leading his school to a 12-2 record and the State championship in his senior year. He was also a star in track and baseball in high school and still resides in Hamlet during the off-seasons.

1992 DRAFT CHOICES

BROWN, DEREK

Tight End
Notre Dame

Round One
6-6 252

For the first time in modern club history, the Giants utilized their first round choice to select a tight end in the draft and came away with a prototype performer in this three-time All-American from Notre Dame. Blessed with the speed and quickness of a receiver and the blocking ability of an offensive lineman, Brown was an integral part of recent Notre Dame success, and was the top-rated tight end in all of the pre-draft reports. This past year, Derek was a first-team All-American choice and finished the year with 22 receptions for 325 yards and four touchdowns, while continuing to be a hellacious blocker in the Irish running attack. Despite the Irish being a perennial run-oriented team, Brown had some key receiving efforts in 1991, including four catches vs. Penn State and a trio vs. Tennessee, while adding scoring grabs against Purdue, Michigan State and Navy. As a junior, Brown was rated the best tight end in the country by the Sporting News, and had solid outings with three receptions in the season-ending victory over Southern California, and four catches vs. Colorado in the Orange Bowl. A second-team All-American as a sophomore, Derek logged more playing time than any other receiver that season, despite being hampered by a toe injury early in the campaign. He also had big games vs. Purdue with four catches for 101 yards and a pair of key first-down grabs in a big victory over Southern California. As a freshman, Derek gave indications of what was to come by starting five games and made his very first collegiate reception a good one by grabbing a TD pass from Tony Rice vs. Purdue, then concluded that first season by adding a pair of receptions for 70 yards as the Irish whipped West Virginia 34-21 in the Fiesta Bowl to win the national title. All told, Brown's totals at ND showed 70 total receptions for 1,048 yards and a 15.0 average-per-catch, with eight touchdowns and a long gainer of 55 yards, an indication of his exceptional 4.9 speed for a man of his size. In addition to his All-American recognition, Derek was selected to play in the Hula Bowl at the conclusion of last season, and during his four seasons-at South Bend, played in four major bowl games, Fiesta, Orange (twice) and Sugar. Derek Vernon Brown was born on March 31, 1970 in Fairfax, Va., then lived in five different states by the time he was eight years old. He spent a substantial amount of time living in England where his father was working as an IBM systems analyst. He played his scholastic sports at Merritt Island High School in Florida, and was Parade magazine's Player of the Year in his senior season, as well as a USA Today All-American choice. He had 27 grabs as a senior, played defense, and also lettered in basketball and track.

SPARKS, PHILLIPPI

Cornerback
Arizona State

Round Two
5-11 186

With cornerback a priority on the laundry list, the Giants got a good one in Arizona State's Sparks, a solid 5-11, 186-pounder who was a two-time All-Pac 10 and honorable mention All-American in his two starting seasons for the Sun Devils. An extremely versatile athlete with a track and basketball background, Phillippi got top grades for his quickness, range and acceleration, as well as for his overall versatility as a punt and kickoff return specialist and the ability to play safety as well. Reminds Giant scouts of Mark Collins in both size and speed and also has some similarities with his aggressive play against the run and in his tackling abilities. Despite missing two games in his senior season because of a shoulder injury, Sparks was a finalist for the Jim Thorpe Award in 1991, given annually to the nation's top defensive back, and was also selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Senior Bowl. In that senior campaign, Sparks had 46 total tackles, a pair of forced fumbles, six pass breakups and a pair of interceptions for 20 yards returned. He added 10 kickoff returns for a 22.8 average, including a 52-yard return vs. Nebraska. He also came up with his big games against top-rated opponents, including five solos and a forced fumble vs. Southern California; eight tackles and a pair of kickoff returns for 79 yards vs. Nebraska; 10 tackles and a pass interception against UCLA, and seven stops and a pair of pass breakups vs. California. He also had a productive finale in his final college game when he had six stops and a 20-yard interception return vs. archrival Arizona. As a junior appearing in every game, he led the ASU secondary with 73 total tackles and tacked on 22 kickoff returns for a 21.5 average and a long of 47, while returning punts for a solid 14.1 average, including a 42-yarder vs. UCLA. Among his big outings this season were nine solos and a pass breakup vs. Washington; 11 tackles, two pass breakups and a blocked punt vs. Oregon, and 10 tackles, a pass breakup and a 47-yard kickoff return vs. California. Phillippi's career totals with the Sun Devils included 129 tackles, three interceptions, 12 pass breakups, one blocked punt, 32 kickoff returns for 700 yards and 12 punt returns for 131 yards. He began his collegiate career at Glendale Community College, where he was a JC first-team All-American and Conference defensive player of the year. He had 96 tackles that year, intercepted five passes, and on just eight kickoff returns, averaged 49.8 a return and had three returns for TDs. Phillippi Dwaine Sparks was born in Phoenix on April 15, 1969, and was an All-American scholastic pick in football, basketball and track at Maryvale High School in Glendale, Calif. Clocked in 4.5 for the 40.

PIERCE, AARON

Tight End

Washington

Round Three

6-5

246

Here's another big, strong and fluid tight end who can contribute to both the running and passing attack. Pierce has solid credentials as one of the most versatile athletes to come out of Washington in recent years, with a background that includes basketball and track prowess, as well as championship performance in the decathlon. A first team All-Pac 10 choice and second-team All-American this past year, Aaron was a mainstay on the Huskies' national championship squad, finishing the regular season with 23 catches for 280 yards, then adding seven grabs for 86 yards and a touchdown in Washington's 34-14 romp over Michigan in the Rose Bowl. An extremely physical blocker in the running attack, Pierce also got top ratings for his quickness and agility for a player of his size, and had a 4.68 clocking in the 40 for the pro scouts. In addition to his conference and national honors in 1991, he was also selected to play in both the Hula Bowls and Senior Bowl, and was among the top three rated tight ends in the country by all of the scouting combines. Aaron also further proved his all-around value to the Huskies by playing on special teams, and had several tackles on coverages, as well as a pair of fumble recoveries. Among his top performances in '91 were three catches for 50 yards vs. Nebraska, four for 44 yards against California and a trio for 38 yards in a romp over Oregon State. As a junior, Pierce won Washington's Earl Glant "Tough Guy" Award for his gritty work during the year when he started nine games despite a broken navicular bone in his wrist, and still performed strongly with a cast on his right hand. He continued to be a ferocious blocker and added touchdown catches vs. Colorado, Arizona, and Washington State, scoring twice against the Cougars. He also added four more catches in 46-34 victory over Iowa in the Rose Bowl that season. In his first two seasons at Washington, Aaron was a key reserve, used chiefly for his blocking prowess. His career totals showed 47 catches for 584 yards and five touchdowns in regular season play, and his year-to-year improvement continued to be remarkable. A native of Seattle, Wash., where he was born on September 6, 1969, Aaron was a multi-talented scholastic star at Franklin High School in his hometown. A three-year letterman in football, basketball and track, he was All-Conference in all three sports, and was a two-way performer in football as tight end and defensive end. Aaron also won the prestigious Golden West Decathlon championship in 1987 and ranked second in the nation with 6,530 points. His dad, Samuel Pierce, was a varsity basketball player at Seattle University.

HAMILTON, KEITH

Defensive End
Pittsburgh

Round Four
6-6 280

With just three seasons of collegiate experience, Hamilton is loaded with potential, and should he attain the expectations of the scouts may well become a topflight NFL performer. Blessed with great size and athletic ability, Keith also possesses a unique blend of quickness and straight ahead speed to go along with considerable strength, and those ingredients, if properly meshed, should make for a power-rushing performer. Used mainly as an outside speed rusher at Pitt, Keith proved to be highly combative with outstanding spin moves in each of his first two seasons, then improved his ability to mix it up in traffic and learned to play the run much better in his third, and final campaign. This past season, Keith had perhaps the best start of his career until a knee injury limited his productivity toward the end of the season. Nonetheless, he was named to the first-team All-Big East squad, as well as to the AP's East Conference squad and to the Football News' All-East unit. Despite the injury which slowed him down, he finished second on the team with eight QB sacks, added 33 total tackles including 10 for losses, and had five pass breakups which tied him for the team lead with cornerback Steve Israel. He had a trio of outings with two sacks, including games vs. Maryland, East Carolina and Southern Mississippi. In 1990, Keith had an outstanding season winning Sophomore All-America first team honors, and All-East recognition from the Associated Press. He had dedicated the season to his father, Willie L. Hamilton, who had died just prior to the spring drills. As the starting defensive LE, Keith had 52 total tackles, including 18 for losses, and a team-high 10½ QB sacks, adding a forced fumble and a fumble recovery. His best game that year was against Rutgers in a 45-21 win when he registered eight solo stops, 3½ QB sacks and a pass breakup to win player of the week honors. Hamilton began his collegiate career with a big bang, starting 10 games as an 18-year-old, and leading the club in sacks with nine and tackles for losses with 14. He was named Freshman Defensive Player of the Year by the Sporting News and won honorable mention All-America as well as first-team All-East. Keith's three-year totals showed 95 total tackles, 27½ QB sacks, four fumble recoveries and nine pass breakups. A native of Paterson, N.J., Keith Lamarr Hamilton was born on May 25, 1971 and was a scholastic All-American at Heritage High School when he had 18 sacks as a senior. Also heavily recruited by major schools in basketball where he was All-State with a 26.0 scoring average as a senior. Also lettered in track at the Lynchburg, Va. high school.

WRIGHT, MICHAEL

Cornerback

Washington State

Round Five

182

Wright is a solid four-year letterman with top leadership qualities who played strongly through losing seasons with the Cougars, which more than likely diminished any post-season honors. A three-year starter at the right corner, Wright missed only one game during that span of time, that from a shoulder injury, and collected 135 total tackles, while adding six pass interceptions. He had his top year this past campaign when he had 52 total tackles, including eight for losses, while adding four pass breakups along with a trio of interceptions for 52 yards returned. He had particularly big games vs. Arizona and Stanford, grabbing two interceptions vs. the former team, including a 29-yard touchdown return in the final two minutes to clinch a 40-27 win, and nine solo tackles, including five for losses, plus an interception against Stanford. As a junior, he had a season high 10 solo tackles vs. USC, added a 48-yard interception return against TCU and won game MVP awards three times for his efforts vs. Wyoming, USC and Oregon State. As a sophomore, he had interceptions vs. USC and Oregon State and had five solo stops vs. Washington. Scouting reports indicate that Michael is quick, fluid and extremely athletic with a smooth turn and good backpedal moves, and that he has shown yearly improvement. He's also recorded consistent 4.5 and 4.6 clockings in the 40, which reflects some past accomplishments in high school track. Michael Gerard Wright was born on September 25, 1969 in Seattle, Wash., and played his scholastic sports at Kennedy High School in his hometown where he won honors in both football and track. He was the 100-meter champion of the North Puget Sound League, a runnerup in the 200 meters and was on the district sprint relay team which finished second in the state. Missed his junior year of football due to a broken shoulder, then rushed for 119 yards and two TDs and returned an interception for another TD in the first game of his senior year. His dad, Bill, played football at Eastern Washington and is a police captain.

DILLARD, STACEY

Defensive Tackle

Oklahoma

Round Six

6-5

288

Extremely strong and rugged defender who played both nose tackle and defensive tackle at Oklahoma for three full seasons as a starter. Very physical player at the point of attack, he had particular success as a pass rusher during his junior and senior seasons with the Sooners. Dillard won third team All-America mention this past season, as well as All-Big Eight honors and had his top season statistically with 66 total tackles, adding seven QB sacks and eight other tackles for losses. Among his top games in '91 were 11 tackles and two QB sacks and a pass breakup against Iowa State, and 11 tackles vs. Colorado. He also had a two-sack performance vs. Kansas, and set up a Sooner TD with a fourth down tackle for a loss vs. Nebraska in that annual big game. Stacey also won Big Eight honors in his junior year as the starting nose tackle, despite missing two games with a turf toe injury. In that campaign, he had 44 total stops, added four forced fumbles and one fumble recovery and had big games vs. Kansas with 12 tackles and a pair of forced fumbles and against Colorado with nine solo stops. As a sophomore, he became a starter at left DT, finishing with 44 stops, including nine for losses and five QB sacks along the way. He also had three pass breakups and added a blocked punt. His complete college totals showed 162 total tackles, 21 tackles for losses, 14 QB sacks, and four forced fumbles. As each year progressed, Stacey showed steady improvement, particularly in lateral movement and how to play off blocks smoothly. Born on September 17, 1968 in Clarksville, Tex., Stacey was a Parade magazine All-American at Clarksville High School, and was rated the third best prospect in the state as a senior. Played both offense and defense for four seasons, and also lettered in basketball and track. A General Studies major at Oklahoma, he had consistent 5.0 times in the 40, a fine time for such a big man.

WIDMER, COREY

Defensive Tackle
Montana State

Round Seven
6-3 276

Widmer is the first Montana State product ever to be drafted by the Giants, and has some solid credentials to warrant the selection. Twice an All-Big Sky Conference first team choice, he was one of just a few Division I-AA players to be selected to play in both the Hula Bowl and Senior Bowl games this past season. Rated a top-notch pass rusher with extremely quick feet, he also possesses excellent body control and coordination to go along with exceptional 4.9 speed for a man his size. This past year, he had 82 total tackles, including 20 for losses, and tacked on seven QB sacks, despite constant double-teaming. He had a big day against archrival Montana with 13 tackles, two sacks and two tackles for losses. During his junior season in 1990, Corey was the Big Sky's Most Valuable Defensive Player after recording 93 tackles, 25 for losses, and 17 QB sacks in a career year for the Bobcats. He also added a trio of forced fumbles and a pair of pass breakups. He was named National Defensive Player of the Week in a game vs. Idaho State when he racked up 10 solo tackles and four QB sacks. His career totals show 286 tackles, 66 for losses, six forced fumbles and 35 QB sacks. Widmer also has won letters in track at MSU, setting a school mark in the 35-pound weight throw with a toss of 59'10", and adding a toss of 166'10" in the hammer throw. Born on Christmas Day, 1968 in Alexandria, Va., he was a scholastic standout at Bozeman H.S. in Bozeman, Mont., winning All-State honors as a two-way player in football, and All-Conference honors in wrestling and track and was a team MVP in the former sport. He also wrestled abroad on visits to China and Japan. A Renaissance man, Widmer also plays the piano, writes music, goes gliding in sailplanes, flies airplanes and has his own real estate business on the side, where he's had to learn to be a plumber to take care of some rental properties he owns.

GRAHAM, KENT

Quarterback
Ohio State

Round Eight
6-5                      220

Graham is an interesting prospect, considering that he began his career at Notre Dame, and eventually made the transfer to Ohio State. In both instances, he was the backup QB, first to Tony Rice at Notre Dame, and then to Greg Frey at Ohio State after he had sat out a season due to NCAA transfer rules. He finally got his chance to be a starter in 1991 with the Buckeyes, and was the starter in 10 of the 12 games, missing the Washington State contest because of a concussion, and the Hall of Fame Bowl game vs. Syracuse after bruising a nerve in his left arm against Michigan. For the season, Graham pitched 79-for-153 for 1,018 yards, a 51.6% completion mark and four touchdowns in the run-oriented Buckeye offense. His TD tosses came against Wisconsin, Illinois, Northwestern and Michigan State. He also added 157 rushing yards on option plays. As the junior backup to Frey, Kent saw action in just six games, completing 15-of-26 for 195 yards and three touchdowns, with a completion mark of 57.7%. During his two years at Notre Dame, Graham had one start in his freshman year vs. Boston College, then saw only mopup action in 17 games behind Rice who gave the Irish the running-type QB desired by Lou Holtz. Thus, for four years of college competition, and one year sitting it out, Graham has had very little experience on the collegiate level, yet with his great size and ideal stature could develop into something impressive. Scouts say he has an NFL arm and has some touch on deep throws, but obviously would be a project at this stage. Born on November 1, 1968, Graham was a standout star at Wheaton North High School in Wheaton, Ill., and was one of the most sought-after high school quarterbacks in the nation coming out of high school. Graham is married, and he and his wife, Courtney, have a young son, Taylor Zachary.

PRIOR, ANTHONY

Safety
Washington State

Round Nine
5-11                      185

Prior played both safety and cornerback at Washington State during his three-year varsity career, and also doubled as a dangerous kickoff return specialist. Blessed with bigtime speed (4.3 in the 40), Anthony began his career at WSU as a wide receiver, but switched to defense as a sophomore and played that year mostly as a nickel back, appearing in 10 games and coming up with one QB sack on a blitz, while also blocking a punt vs. Oregon which set up a Cougar touchdown. He started several times in his junior year as a cornerback, finishing that year with 31 total tackles and adding four more QB sacks, then had a solid senior year in 1991 as the starting strong safety. He finished with 65 total tackles and won All-Pac 10 honorable mention honors. Among his big outings were 12 tackles vs. UCLA, 10 vs. Fresno State, and seven tackles and an interception vs. Arizona. That gave him career totals of 99 tackles, five QB sacks and six tackles for losses and one interception. Insofar as his kickoff return duties were concerned, he had a two-year total of 42 returns for 954 yards and a 22.7 average, with two of those returns going for touchdowns, a 99-yarder vs. Oregon State in 1990 and a 100-yarder vs. Southern California last year. He was considered the strongest player on the team by WSU's weight training staff after bench pressing 400 pounds, squatting 540 and power cleaning 310 pounds. Anthony Eugene Prior was born in Lowell, Mass. on March 27, 1970 and starred at Rubidoux High School in Mira Loma, Calif. in football as a wingback and return man and in track as a sprinter, averaging 30.4 on kickoff returns and 6.4 rushing. Anthony is a bike racer also, and finished third in the 1985 world championships in the 14-15 age bracket. He's also appeared in TV commercials for McDonald's and Kellogg's. His dad, John Prior, played football at Southern Louisiana and later semi-pro ball, while brothers Joe and Stan played football at Arizona and Nevada-Reno respectively.

ROOKS, GEORGE

Defensive Tackle
Syracuse

6-4

Round Ten 275

A four-year letterman and four-year starter at defensive left tackle, Rooks hails from nearby White Plains, N.Y. where he was a scholastic All-American at White Plains High School. George enjoyed a banner senior season this past year, winning All-Big East first-team honors, as well as being named co-winner of the Big East Defensive Player of the Year with Miami's Darrin Smith.

Extremely quick and aggressive, Rooks finished the season with 38 total tackles, including 15 for losses and added five QB sacks as well as nine QB pressures. He then added five solo stops and another QB sack as Syracuse downed Ohio State 24-17 in the Hall of Fame Bowl game. Hailed by the coaching staff at Syracuse as one of the best athletes ever to perform for the Orangemen, Rooks has been timed at 5.1 for the 40, a fine time for such a ponderous man, and he has had fine ratings for his agility and mobility. As a junior, George won All-America honorable mention and led Syracuse with six QB sacks and 15 QB pressures, while adding 11 tackles for losses. He was also a Sophomore All-American mention in his soph season in which he finished with 40 tackles, while adding 10 more QB pressures and 3½ QB sacks, not to mention a pass interception and 10-yard return and a blocked field goal attempt vs. Boston College. His complete four-year statistics with the Orangemen included 142 total tackles, four fumble recoveries, one interception, five pass breakups, 15½ QB sacks, 39 QB pressures and a blocked field goal attempt. Born on August 9, 1970 in White Plains, George Duffie Rooks was an All-American scholastic selection by both USA Today and Parade magazine at White Plains H.S., was team captain and also won letters in track as a shot and discus thrower, and in wrestling in the unlimited division.

SINGLETON, NATE

Wide Receiver

Round Eleven

Grambling

6-0

190

Called "one of the most improved players in the country in 1991" by several scouting sources, Singleton produced a powerful senior season as the tailback at Grambling, winning All-SWAC first-team honors, as well as All-Louisiana laurels. After being strictly a return specialist in his first two seasons, Nate was turned loose in '91, catching 55 passes for 1,047 yards and 11 touchdowns, and rushing for 311 yards, a 5.6 average-per-carry and six more TDs, with his total of 17 touchdowns and 102 points giving him the Southwestern Athletic Conference scoring title. Along the way, Singleton set an alltime Grambling record when he broke Charlie Joiner's previous mark for most receptions in a game, gathering in 16 for an astounding 330 yards and three touchdowns vs. Virginia Union this past season. With 4.6 speed, Nate is not exactly a burner, but he does possess outstanding open field running ability with good vision and instincts, and has very good hands and the ability to make the tough catch. That experience at tailback enhanced his ability to change speeds in the open field, once he made the reception, which helped him have such a big senior season as a receiver. Earlier on, Singleton had some nice numbers as a return specialist, averaging 29.3 on 16 kickoff returns for 468 yards in 1988, including a 95-yard TD, and added eight punt returns for 152 yards, a 19.0 average, and a 63-yard TD return. His total return stats showed 34 kickoff returns for 807 yards and a 23.7 average, and 17 punt returns for 158 yards and a 9.9 average. Born on July 5, 1968, Nate was an All-State scholastic performer in football and track at Higgins High School in New Orleans. A Therapeutic Recreation major, Nate has an uncle, Ron Singleton, who played for the San Francisco 49ers. Nate still resides in New Orleans with his parents, Nate Sr. and Diana.

SWANN, CHARLES

Wide Receiver

Round Twelve

Indiana State

6-1

Rated as the best all-around athlete at Indiana State, Swann is a multi-dimensional prospect who won varsity letters in three sports at Indiana State, a rare triple. With 4.4 speed, a vertical jump of more than 36" and a standing long jump of 10'9", he was a prolific kickoff return man for the Sycamores, averaging 29.3 per return in his career on 40 returns, and leading both Division 1 and 1-AA in 1990 when he had a solid 32.1 average on 20 returns, including touchdown returns in consecutive games vs. Central Missouri State and Southern Illinois. Neither was Swann's talent limited to return work since he was an All-Conference choice in 1991 at wide receiver where he had 30 catches for 517 yards and three touchdowns, and was also selected to play in the Senior Bowl. Charles had also made the Gateway Conference All-team as a junior as a combination WR-Return man when he had 39 receptions for 486 yards and three touchdowns. Originally a defensive back when he matriculated to Indiana State, Swann was moved over to the offensive side of the ball in 1989, and had 16 catches that year for 258 yards, and two TDs, including one 74-yard bomb. His career stats with the Sycamores showed 85 receptions for 1,261 yards, a 14.8 average-per-catch and eight TD grabs. He had 40 kickoff returns for 1,319 yards, that 29.3 average, and two touchdowns. he won a basketball letter as a soph when he average 3.2 points-per-game, then added the track letter as a junior when he competed in the long and triple jump events in the indoor season. A native of South Bend, Ind., Swann was born on October 29, 1970 and was an All-State selection in football as a defensive back, and in basketball and track at LaSalle High School in South Bend. he was a psychology major at Indiana State.

DYKO, CHRIS: TACKLE, 6-6, 300; WASHINGTON STATE . . . Signed in June of this year after being a starting tackle with the New York/New Jersey Knights of the World League. Four-year letterman at Washington State, Dyko was an All-PAC 10 second-team selection as a senior, and was also selected to play in the Japan Bowl that season. An 8th round draft pick by the Chicago Bears in 1989, he played in eight games with the Bears, including one start vs. Tampa Bay. Later released, he was signed by the Seattle Seahawks the following year, but suffered an ankle injury and was on injured reserve the rest of the year. Born on March 16, 1966 in Champaign, Ill., he was a football, basketball and track star at University High School in Spokane, Wash.

FINEANGANOF, NICK: GUARD, 6-5, 315; ARIZONA . . . Nick is a native of the island on Tonga, then grew up in Hawaii where he was a standout two-way lineman at Kalani High School in Honolulu. Born on May 23, 1968, Nick won four varsity letters at Arizona, and began his collegiate career as a defensive tackle. He switched to guard for his final three seasons and was a powerhouse drive blocker as well as a solid pass blocker. He played both at guard and tackle on offense, but seems better suited for guard. Also lettered in wrestling and track in high school.

GARRETT, MURRAY: DEFENSIVE TACKLE, 6-4, 270; EASTERN NEW MEXICO. . . Garrett was signed as a free agent just prior to last year's training camp, then after seeing limited action in the pre-season, spent the rest of the year on the practice squad. Born on July 28, 1969 in Houston, Tex., he won four varsity letters at Eastern New Mexico playing defensive tackle on a four-man front. Won All-Conference honors in both 1989 and 1990, registering eight QB sacks the former year and upping that to 11 traps in his senior season.

HALEY, MICAH: DEFENSIVE TACKLE, 6-2, 282; EAST TEXAS STATE. . . A three-year letterman at East Texas State after starting his collegiate career at Navarro Junior College, Haley was the starting nose tackle in his final two seasons and won All-Conference honors in 1991. In that final season, Micah had 70 solo tackles and six QB sacks, while adding 13 pressures and three pass breakups. Born in Little Rock, Ark., on November 9, 1968, Haley grew up in Texas and was a three-sport star at David Carter High School in Dallas.

HARRIS, MERTON: WIDE RECEIVER, 5-10, 175; SAN DIEGO STATE. . . Harris began his collegiate days at College of the Desert junior college, winning conference honors there as a wideout and kickoff return specialist. He spent his final two seasons at San Diego State as a rotating third wide receiver, and had a solid senior year, catching 33 passes for 526 yards and three touchdowns, and also averaged 18.1 on kickoff returns. A native of Detroit, Mich., where he was born on September 23, 1969. A 4.5 speedster, he starred in football, basketball and track at Mumford High School in Detroit.

MANCINI, KEVIN: GUARD, 6-3, 285; FLORIDA STATE. . . A pre-season All-America selection, Kevin suffered a knee injury midway through the 1991 season and was slowed down when he had to wear a knee brace. He subsequently had the knee scoped. Four-year letterman and three-year starter for the Seminoles, Mancini had solid years in both 1989 and 1990 and got high ratings for his toughness and intensity. A native of Troy, Mich., where he was born on April 16, 1970, Mancini was a scholastic star at Brandon High School in Brandon, Fla. An uncle, Mike Mancini, played for the Chicago Bears in 1967-68.

NOVAK, JEFF: GUARD, 6-6, 300; SOUTHWEST TEXAS STATE. . . A native of Cook County, Ill., where he was born on July 27, 1967, Jeff then starred for Clear Lake High School in Houston, Tex. He was a walk-on player at Southwest Texas State, but soon won a starting job on the offensive line and finished his career winning All-Southern Conference honors. He was a 7th round draft choice of the San Diego Chargers in 1990, but was released on the final cut. Spent the last two seasons in the WLAFA as a starting guard for the Montreal Machine.

POLOSKEY, MICHAEL: LINEBACKER, 6-2, 255; ILLINOIS. . . Four-year letterman, Mike was also a three-year starter, initially as a defensive end/tackle, and then as a pass-rushing outside backer. He led the Illini in tackles in 1990, then won All-Big 10 first-team honors this past year when he paced the club in QB sacks and pressures. Born in Joliet, Ill., on September 17, 1969, Mike was a bonafide three-sport standout at Central Joliet High School, winning All-State honors in football, placing third in the state in the unlimited wrestling championship, and also winning his conference shot-put title in track.

POPSON, TED: TIGHT END, 6-4, 245; PORTLAND STATE. . . The Giants' 11th round draft choice in 1991, Popson reported with an injured foot and subsequently was released. Later, he signed with the WLAFA and played with the London Monarchs, and was then re-signed by the Giants. A native of Granada Hills, Calif. where he was born on September 10, 1966, Popson did not play high school football, but was an All-Conference wrestler at Truckee High School in Truckee, Calif. Began his college career at College of Marin as a walk-on tight end, catching 62 passes in his second season. Finished at Portland State where he had 41 catches over final two seasons, and doubled as the long snapper on specials.

RAYMOND, COREY: SAFETY, 5-11, 182; LOUISIANA STATE. . . Highly consistent DB who played both safety and the corner during his three seasons at LSU. Showing his versatility, he was the leading tackler in the secondary in 1989 with 82 total tackles, then turned around and was the leader in interceptions the next year with four for 76 yards returned. Born in New Iberia, La., on September 28, 1969, Corey was a scholastic standout at New Iberia High School in his hometown, winning All-State honors in football as a receiver-defensive back, and also setting track records as a sprinter and javelin thrower.

TAYLOR, GREG: WIDE RECEIVER, 5-8, 168; AUBURN. . . Greg was a free agent signee with the Giants in 1991, but was injured in training camp and then spent the rest of the season on injured reserve. Born on December 27, 1968 in Lee County, Ala., he starred in football, basketball and track at Opelika High School in Opelika, Ala., then won three letters at Auburn. He was the leading receiver there in 1990 with 46 catches for 650 yards and seven TDs. His three-year stats showed 99 receptions for 1,284 yards and 12 touchdowns.

VAN BELLINGER, SCOTT: LINEBACKER, 6-4, 248; NORTHERN ILLINOIS . . . Had a solid four-year career here, winning varsity letters in each of those seasons, and winning team defensive MVP honors in 1991. Scott saw early action as a defensive end, then moved over to outside linebacker and concluded his career with 151 total tackles, 30 for losses, and added 11 QB sacks, three forced fumbles and three fumble recoveries. A native of Green Bay, Wisc., he was born on May 26, 1969 and sparkled at Bay Port High School in Green Bay in football, basketball and track.

WALLACE, RANDALL: CENTER, 6-4, 280; OKLAHOMA . . . Big and strong pivotman who was the Sooners' starting center for the past three seasons, winning second-team All-Big 8 honors in 1990, then adding honorable mention laurels this past season. Rated equally as adept at pass blocking as he is in Oklahoma's run-oriented offense, Randy also rated highly on leadership qualities. Born in Midwest City, Okla., on December 17, 1968, he was an All-State selection in football at Midwest City High School, also starred in track and wrestling, and has earned his degree at OU.

WRIGHT, TORREY: RUNNING, 5-9, 187; SAN DIEGO STATE . . . Torrey began his collegiate career at Mesa Community College where he won JUCO All-America mention, then had a topnotch first campaign at San Diego State when he rushed for 730 yards and a nifty 6.3 rushing average, while scoring six touchdowns, including a 112-yard rushing game vs. top-ranked Miami that year. Injuries slowed him down some in 1991, but he still managed to finish with 424 yards rushing on the year and another three TDs. Born on December 18, 1969 in Phoenix, Ariz., he starred in football, basketball and track at Dobson High School in Mesa, Ariz. A brother, Terry Wright, played with the Indianapolis Colts in 1987-88 and is currently with Hamilton in the Canadian League.

YOUNG, CHARLIE: RUNNING BACK, 6-1, 205; STANFORD . . Young spent the off-season as an RB with both the London Monarchs and Montreal Machine in the World League, and was signed by the Giants in June. Born on August 21, 1968 in Chicago, he lettered in football, basketball, baseball and track at New Trier High School in Winnetka, Ill., then won three letters at Stanford, leading that team in receiving in 1988 with 43 catches for 560 yards and two TDs, including seven receptions vs. Notre Dame. His father, Charles, played at the University of Wisconsin and later with Saskatchewan of the Canadian League.

ZIZAKOVIC, LUBO: DEFENSIVE END, 6-8, 270; MARYLAND . . A native of Toronto, Can., where he was born on February 28, 1968, Lubo had a productive three seasons with the Terps, earning All-ACC honorable mention this past season and being selected to play in the Japan Bowl. After building himself up from 235 pounds to his current 270, became a consistent pass-rusher in each of his last two years, and finished with a career total of 103 solo tackles, 11 sacks and 30 QB pressures. With that height, he also had 15 pass breakups, and had a blocked field goal attempt and blocked point after attempt in one game vs. North Carolina State. Played football and basketball at Weston School in Weston, Ontario. A brother, Srecko, played for Ohio State.

The 1991 Season in Review

September 2 GIANTS 16, San Francisco 14 (76,319) at Giants Stadium

Giants got off to a good start in defense of their Super Bowl XXV crown by bouncing back from a 14-13 deficit vs. the 49ers to score an impressive 16-14 triumph on Matt Bahr's 35-yard FG with just five seconds to play... a deja vu finish which was reminiscent of the Giants' NFC title win over the Niners earlier in the year. In this Monday night season opener, the Giants went up 3-0 on their first possession on a 35-yard Bahr FG, only to have Steve Young connect with WR Jerry Rice for a 73-yard TD to give SF a 7-3 edge. That bomb was to be Rice's only catch of the night, and even that one was a result of a busted coverage. Back bounced the Giants for a 13-7 halftime edge on a one-yard TD burst by Ottis Anderson and a 28-yard Bahr FG, but after a scoreless third period, SF retook the lead on Young's five-yard TD scamper when all of his receivers were covered. Bahr then missed a 51-yard FG attempt with 8:34 to play, but after the Giants' defense stuffed the Niners with 4:40 to go, Jeff Hostetler took the Giants on a 60-yard drive, highlighted by key third down gainers by David Meggett and Mark Ingram to position Bahr's game-winner from 35 yards out. Hostetler was 17-for-31 for 228 yards, with Ingram grabbing six for 76 yards and Ottis Anderson adding 45 yards rushing. Meggett added 155 all-purpose yards on rushing, receiving and returns.

September 8 GIANTS 13, Los Angeles Rams 19 (76,541) at Giants Stadium

After a strong overall performance in their opening night win over the 49ers, the Giants were ineffective throughout in this one, dropping a 19-13 decision to the Rams. A trio of turnovers didn't help much, with the Rams turning two of those mistakes into field goals en route to a 19-6 lead while RB Robert Delpino slashed for 116 yards rushing, including a controversial fourth-down one-yard touchdown dive in the second period which accounted for the only Rams' TD of the day. Meanwhile, Tony Zendejas was 4-for-4 in FG attempts, including a 50-yarder, to account for the Rams' late 19-6 edge, as the Giants twice went for it on fourth downs in the final period, and fizzled on both attempts. Jeff Hostetler hit David Meggett for a one-yard TD pass in the final two minutes, but the Rams covered the ensuing onside kick and ran out the clock on an ugly loss. Hostetler was 17-for-32 for 187 yards and one TD, but was picked off once and fumbled it away on another occasion. Lewis Tillman had 42 yards rushing, while Meggett had four catches for 30 yards receiving. The defense checked the Rams to just 217 total yards, with LB Lawrence Taylor in on eight tackles, including a QB sack. Jim Everett was only 7-for-16 for 83 yards.

September 15      GIANTS 17, Chicago 20 (64,829)      at Chicago

Another disappointing day as a pair of breakdowns by the Giants in the final minute of the first half gave the Bears 10 gift points and a 13-0 halftime lead. The Giants swarmed back to eventually rally for a 17-13 lead, then fell victim to a 42-yard TD run by Neal Anderson, and a deflected last-second FG attempt by William Perry which cemented the Bears' improbable 20-17 triumph. Down just 3-0 with less than two minutes to go in the first half, the Giants self-destructed when CB Mark Collins went for an interception on a desperation heave by Jim Harbaugh towards Wendell Davis, missed tipping the ball, with Davis hauling it in and going 75 yards for a TD. Then on the ensuing kickoff, David Meggett fumbled it away at his own 23, setting up a Bears' 20-yard FG with five seconds left for the 13-0 intermission bulge. The Giants then bounced back for 17 unanswered points on a 35-yard Matt Bahr FG and two TD runs by Rodney Hampton, making his first appearance of the year, and saw another scoring chance go awry when Ottis Anderson was stopped cold on a fourth-and-goal. After totally outplaying the Bears in the second half, Anderson got loose on is 42-yard TD romp around left end to put the Bears back on top, and then Bahr's attempted 35-yarder to tie the game was deflected by the Refrigerator's big paw and the Bears escaped with the victory. Hampton had 61 yards rushing for the Giants, while Jeff Hostetler was 25-for-35 for 209 yards, with both Hampton and David Meggett getting six receptions each. Leonard Marshall and Erik Howard each had five tackles and a QB sack, but Howard also injured his back and would miss the next 10 games of the season.

September 22 GIANTS 13, Cleveland 10 (75,891) at Giants Stadium

Giants utilized a power running game in this one, churning up 170 yards rushing by halftime to build up a 13-0 lead over the Browns, then fell into a conservative mode the rest of the way en route to the eventual 13-10 victory. With Rodney Hampton and Lewis Tillman running roughshod in the first half, the Giants built that 13-0 lead on a pair of Matt Bahr FGs and Hampton's 28-yard TD run, and would have had more save for a lost Hampton fumble at the Browns' one-yard line. In the second half, however, the Giants' offense completely bogged down, and the Browns cut it to 13-10 on a FG after a lost Giants' fumble, and on a 7-yard TD toss from Bernie Kosar to Kevin Mack. However two big QB sacks on Kosar by LBs Carl Banks and Lawrence Taylor kept the Cleavelands at bay in the final two series and the Giants held on to it. Hampton had 104 yards rushing and Tillman added a career-high 90 yards to pace the win, as Jeff Hostetler was just 9-for-15 for 65 yards. Taylor had 11 tackles and two QB sacks to pace the defense which throttled the Browns to just 145 total yards. Banks added nine tackles and a sack.

September 29    GIANTS 16, Dallas 21 (64,010)    at Texas Stadium

Another wrenching setback as the Giants had two lost fumbles which resulted in a 14-point swing, and then had a potential game-winning pass intercepted, all of which resulted in a 21-16 win for the Pokes. Even though the Giants rolled up 487 yards of offense and never had to punt, they could manage but one touchdown, and that helped seal their fate. On the Giants' first possession of the game, they seemed headed for a quick TD, but Lewis Tillman fumbled the ball away at the Dallas goal line to kill that threat. Then, with the score 7-3 Dallas at halftime, on the Giants' first play of the second half, Jeff Hostetler connected with rookie Jarrod Bunch for a six-yard gain, but Bunch fumbled the ball away when hit, and Cowboy CB Ray Horton picked it up and ran it in 20 yards for a gift TD and a 14-3 Dallas lead. Back came the Giants on a pair of Matt Bahr FGs and a 19-yard TD bullet from Hostetler to Stephen Baker for a 16-14 Giants' lead with five minutes to play, only to have Dallas drive 84 yards in eight plays for the game-winner, a 23-yard TD throw from Troy Aikman to Michael Irvin with just 2:13 to play. Hoss then moved the Giants to the Dallas 30 in the final 1:15, but his 30-yard throw to Baker in the end zone was picked off by Issiac Holt. Hostetler had a club record 28-for-34 for 368 yards, with Mark Ingram grabbing six for 142 yards.

October 6      GIANTS 20, Phoenix 9 (75,891)      at Giants Stadium

Giants led all the way in this one, striking for a pair of touchdowns in the first period for a 14-3 lead, then coasting the rest of the way for a victory which evened the season slate at 3-3. In this one, the Giants had a pair of 80-yard TD drives on their first two possessions, with Rodney Hampton dashing 12 yards for the first TD and Jeff Hostetler hitting reserve TE Zeke Mowatt for a 7-yard TD on the next drive. Thereafter, the defenses dominated, with the rest of the scoring all coming on FGs, a pair by Matt Bahr from 42 and 27 yards, and a pair by the Cardinals' Greg Davis from 40 and 29 yards. Phoenix had a couple of drives in motion in the final period, but interceptions by Everson Walls and Adrian White blunted both of those expeditions. Hostetler had a solid day with 14-for-18 for 200 yards, while Hampton had another big rushing day with 137 yards on 22 carries and a 6.2 average. Hampton also led the receivers with four catches, while Lawrence Taylor had seven tackles, a QB sack, a forced fumble and a pass breakup.

October 14      GIANTS 23, Pittsburgh 20 (57,608)      at Pittsburgh

This Monday nighter looked like it would be a breeze after the Giants had coasted to a 20-0 lead midway through the third period. Instead, the Steelers replaced starting QB Bubby Brister with second-year man Neil O'Donnell from Madison, N.J., and O'Donnell promptly led the Steelers to 20 unanswered points to knot the score at 20-20 with only 50 seconds left to play. When the Steelers' kickoff sailed out of bounds and with a five-yard penalty tacked on, the Giants began at their own 40-yard line and managed to pull out the victory when Jeff Hostetler first hit David Meggett for a 16-yard gain, then scrambled for 18 more yards to position Matt Bahr's 44-yard FG to win it 23-20. Earlier on, the Giants had dominated with Hoss hitting Howard Cross for a 12-yard TD, Bahr booting a brace of FGs, and Meggett zooming 30 yards for a TD on a sweep out of the shotgun formation. Hostetler was 14-for-25 for 116 yards, while Rodney Hampton had 96 yards rushing, missing a 100-yard game when two other substantial gains were negated by penalties. LB Pepper Johnson had a solid night with eight tackles and a QB sack, while CB Mark Collins added five tackles, an interception and three pass breakups.

October 27      GIANTS 13, Washington 17 (76,627)      at Giants Stadium

Without a doubt the toughest loss of the year as the Giants totally dominated the eventual Super Bowl champion Redskins throughout the first half, building a 13-0 halftime lead that easily could have been much larger. During that first half, the Giants had 207 yards of offense to just 35 for the Skins, and had a 12-3 first downs' margin as well. On three of their first half possessions, the Giants were at the Redskins' 5-yard line, but could only come up with one TD, a one-yard plunge by Rodney Hampton, and a pair of FGs for their efforts. Then in the second half, the Redskins made some powerful adjustments, turning the tables completely as they controlled the ball on two long drives for scores, and also hit a third-down 54-yard TD bomb from Mark Rypien to Gary Clark over Everson Walls. In that first half, a dropped pass by Rodney Hampton at the goal line forced the Giants to settle for an opening FG instead of a TD, and then a 15-yard roughing penalty on Maurice Carthon killed a first down at the Skins' 5, and resulted in another FG, instead of a TD, two plays that certainly hurt. Hampton had 83 yards rushing in the loss, and also had six receptions to set the pace there. LB Carl Banks had 10 tackles and a pass breakup, while Pepper Johnson had nine stops, a breakup and an interception.

November 4 GIANTS 7, Philadelphia 30 (65,816) at Veterans Stadium

Without a doubt the worst performance of the season for the Giants as a lack of overall intensity helped the Eagles build a 13-0 halftime bulge on this Monday nighter, leading to an eventual 30-7 romp, the worst loss the Giants had experienced in 11 years. After a scoreless first period, the Eagles went up 3-0 on a Roger Ruzek FG, then upped it when gimpy-legged Jim McMahon unfurled a 73-yard TD bomb to TE Keith Jackson on a Giants' blitz. Reggie White's recovery of a Jeff Hostetler fumble set up another Ruzek FG for the 13-0 halftime edge, and then the Eagles went 70 yards on their first possession of the second half for a 20-0 lead. Rodney Hampton's one-yard TD run after a 55-yard completion from Hoss to Odessa Turner cut it to 20-7, but the Eagles continued the domination in the final period for the 30-7 romp. The Giants managed only 180 yards of offense in the game, including just 46 yards rushing on 21 attempts. LB Carl Banks had seven tackles and a pair of QB sacks to pace the defense.

November 10 GIANTS 21, Phoenix 14 (50,048) at Sun Devil Stadium

The Giants got back to the .500 plateau in this one, beating the Cardinals for the seventh straight time, with Jeff Hostetler rushing for a pair of TDs in one game for the second time in his career vs. Phoenix. The first one came in the opening period and turned out to be the longest jaunt of Hostetler's career, a 47-yard scamper on third down out of the shotgun when all of Hoss' receivers were covered and he took off steaming. That went to 14-0 in the second period on a 66-yard march, featured by a 34-yard run by Rodney Hampton and a 30-yard catch by Mark Ingram to set up Hampton's one-yard TD burst. After Phoenix had cut it to 14-7 at the half, the Giants mounted a monster 18-play, 91-yard drive that consumed 11:14 on their first possession of the second half, capped by Hostetler's four-yard sprint around end for the TD and a 21-7 bulge. Trying to run out the clock in the final period, Hampton fumbled it away, with the Cards capitalizing on that miscue with a Stan Gelbaugh 34-yard TD throw to Ricky Proehl. Phoenix managed one more possession, but Everson Walls' interception closed it down for the day. Hampton had 99 yards rushing for the winners, with Hostetler adding 49 on five trips. DE Leonard Marshall had a solid day with eight tackles and three QB sacks for 33 yards lost.

November 17      GIANTS 22, Dallas 9 (76,410)      at Giants Stadium

The Giants gained a season split with the Cowboys by building a substantial 16-3 lead at halftime in this one, and then putting it away early in the fourth period on Jeff Hostetler's 35-yard TD strike to WR Mark Ingram. Early on, the Giants scored on their first two possessions, getting a FG by Matt Bahr after an opening 63-yard drive, and then another Bahr FG after Lawrence Taylor had recovered a Cowboy bobble at the Pokes' 22-yard line. The Cowboys split that with a Ken Willis FG, but the Giants went up by that 13-point halftime edge on a Rodney Hampton TD dive and a third Bahr FG. Willis booted another pair of FGs in the third period to close to 16-9, but then Ingram shook loose for his big TD grab, and that was that, although another sustained Giants' drive late in the period ended via a Maurice Carthon lost fumble at the Cowboys' 27-yard line. Hostetler completed 14-of-22 for 182 yards, while Lewis Tillman had 63 yards rushing, and Stephen Baker had four catches for 64 yards. DE Leonard Marshall had five tackles and a QB sack.

November 24 GIANTS 21, Tampa Bay 14 (63,698) at Tampa Stadium

This win, which got the Giants to 7-5, will long be remembered as the Phil Simms' Relief Gem. With Jeff Hostetler down and out with an injury, Phil saw only his second action of the year, but made it memorable when he directed a 90-yard drive in just eight plays and 1:25 playing time to pull out a dramatic 21-14 win on his picture perfect 30-yard TD throw to WR Stephen Baker with just 22 seconds left to play. On the drive, Simms was 7-for-7 for 86 yards, and he finished the day with 10-for-14 for 100 yards and the winning TD. Early on, the Giants got a quick score when David Meggett ran a punt back 70 yards for a TD — the third punt return TD of his career. The Bucs tied it on Reggie Cobb's 27-yard TD run. After Hostetler was injured early in the third period, Simms came on and the Giants went ahead on Rodney Hampton's 5-yard TD spin, 14-7, only to have the Bucs knot it again on a Vinny Testaverde 19-yard TD toss to Willie Drewrey, setting the stage for Simms' final moment heroics. Hampton had 44 yards rushing in the win, and rookie WR Ed McCaffrey had four catches for 35 yards. Pepper Johnson set an alltime club mark when he registered 4½ QB sacks on Testaverde, and had 14 total tackles in the win. He also had an interception, as did Mark Collins.

December 1 GIANTS 24, Cincinnati 27 (45,063) at Riverfront Stadium

With a 7-5 mark and the struggling Bengals on tap, the Giants' chances for a wild card spot in the playoffs seemed to be in the cards. Instead, the Bengals dealt the Giants a stunning setback in this one, bouncing back from a 17-7 third period deficit to apply a crushing defeat. What hurt considerably was a rash of penalties on the Giants, particularly in the final period when the Bengals scored 17 points. A roughing penalty on Pepper Johnson on a third down play kept a scoring drive alive, and Everson Walls was hit with three pass interference calls, which led to a TD and a FG. Even down 20-17, the Giants still seemed to have a chance, but then the Bengals' Mitch Price ran a punt back 78 yards for a TD through the stunned Giant defenders for the coup de grace. Earlier, Phil Simms had led the Giants to that 17-7 lead, hitting Stephen Baker for a pair of TD connections from 15 and 13 yards, while the Bengal score came off a flea-flicker which caught the Giants cold, a 41-yarder from Boomer Esiason to Tim McGee. Despite the loss, Simms had a big day with 26-for-44 for 296 yards and three TDs, with Mark Ingram grabbing seven for 116 yards and a TD.

December 8 GIANTS 14, Philadelphia 19 (76,099) at Giants Stadium

Another tough loss for the Giants, who drop to 7-7 after taking a strong, early lead on the Eagles, and then getting stopped cold in the second half. For the second straight game, a pair of Phil Simms' TD passes accounted for the early lead, this time a 14-3 advantage after Phil hit David Meggett for TD throws of 8 and 14 yards. The Giants also knocked Eagle QB Jim McMahon out of the game with bruised ribs, but sub Jeff Kemp came on to throw for 146 yards and a TD to lead the Eagles' comeback victory. Two interceptions and a lost fumble also hurt the Giants, as did a pair of missed FGs from 44 and 32 yards by Matt Bahr in the second half. The Giants managed only 47 yards of offense in the second half and had only one pass completion. All told, the Giants managed only 151 yards of offense in the game and were 7-of-24 passing. Defensively, LBs Carl Banks and Pepper Johnson each had 12 tackles and a QB sack, while DE Leonard Marshall added eight tackles and a QB sack. Rookie Jarrod Bunch also blocked an Eagle punt, but the Giants were unable to capitalize on the turnover.

December 15 GIANTS 17, Washington 34 (54,722) at RFK Stadium

Three costly turnovers and seven dropped passes proved to be too much to overcome, and so the Giants were drummed handily by the eventual Super Bowl champion Redskins. After taking a 10-7 lead in the second period on a 36-yard Matt Bahr FG and a one-yard TD run by Phil Simms, the Skins bounced back for a pair of TDs after turnovers, the first after a lost Simms' fumble at the Giants' 17-yard line, and the next after Phil was intercepted. Dropped passes by Odessa Turner and Howard Cross continued to frustrate Giant marches in the second half, and the Redskins coasted home with the victory over a less-than-inspired opponent. Despite seven dropped passes, Simms finished with 23-for-41 for 288 yards, with Mark Ingram grabbing six for 88 yards and one TD. Rodney Hampton had 67 yards rushing and was nearing the season 1,000-yard mark. The Skins' Gary Clark had only three catches, but they went for 129 yards, including TD bombs of 65 and 50 yards from Mark Rypien who had 230 passing yards on just nine completions.

December 21    GIANTS 24, Houston 20 (63,421)    at Giants Stadium

Giants ended the season at 8-8 and did it in fine fashion, playing one of their better games of the year in easily knocking over the playoff-bound AFC Central champion Oilers 24-20, in a win not as close as the score would indicate. Phil Simms and Rodney Hampton had big games for the victors, with the former pitching a torrid 15-for-17 for 200 yards and a TD, and the latter romping for a career-high 140 yards rushing to finish the year with 1,059 yards, despite missing two full games. The Giants set the tone on their first possession, going 80 yards in 13 plays and using 9:21 off the clock, with Hampton scoring on a two-yard slant for the TD. The Oilers converted a fumble recovery into a FG to close it to 7-3, but Simms took the Blue 65 yards in nine plays on the next drive, capping it with a 12-yard TD toss to TE Howard Cross. Matt Bahr then kicked a career longest FG of 54 yards to up it to 17-3, and a Lewis Tillman 4-yard TD sweep made it 24-6 early in the third period. Houston scored a pair of TDs late in the fourth quarter to make the score closer, but the Giants were in command throughout. Rookie LB Corey Miller had a fine game in his first start with five tackles, including 1½ QB sacks.

1991 PRE-SEASON RECAP

August 5      GIANTS 23, Buffalo 17 (76,121)      at Giants Stadium

The pre-season opener filled Giants Stadium as the two Super Bowl foes went at it once again, with the Giants building a 23-10 lead in the third period, and then holding on to register the victory. Phil Simms and Jeff Hostetler combined to throw 16-for-24 for 182 yards, while Ottis Anderson and Lewis Tillman had rushing TDs, and the winners added a trio of FGs, one by Matt Bahr and a pair by rookie Philip Doyle. Tillman had 61 yards rushing to lead that department, while Maurice Carthon had three catches for 56 yards. Rookie LB Corey Miller had six tackles, a QB sack, a forced fumble and a fumble recovery.

August 10      GIANTS 10, Cleveland 16 (54,445)      at Cleveland Stadium

With a couple of ex-Giants scoring some points, the Browns took an early 10-0 lead in this one, and then held on to record the 16-10 victory for new head coach Bill Belichick, another former Giant. Those initial points came on a 27-yard FG by ex-Giant Matt Stover, and a 5-yard TD scamper by Joe Morris. The Giants bounced back to knot it at 10-all on a 32-yard Matt Bahr FG and a 2-yard TD toss from Phil Simms to Howard Cross, but the Browns won it in the final period on a reverse field 14-yard scamper by Mike Oliphant. Ottis Anderson and Lewis Tillman each had 50 yards rushing for the Giants, while Phil Simms was 4-7 and Jeff Hostetler 5-for-10 in passing. Five Giant receivers had two catches each, including rookies Ed McCaffrey and Jarrod Bunch.

August 17      GIANTS 24, Jets 10 (73,618)      at Giants Stadium

The Giants made it four straight over the Jets in the annual pre-season outing, rolling up 358 yards of offense, while holding the Jets to 225. Phil Simms got the Giants off winging with a 59-yard TD pass to Odessa Turner, and Matt Bahr added a FG for a 10-3 halftime lead. Jeff Hostetler took over in the second half and he threw a 4-yard TD pass to Jarrod Bunch, and also scored himself on a one-yard sweep. Simms was 10-for-20 for 155 yards, while Hoss was a perfect 9-for-9 for 95 yards. Rodney Hampton led the rushers with 50 yards, while Turner had five catches for 112 yards. The Giants had five QB sacks in the victory, while not yielding one.

August 24      GIANTS 3, New England 24      at Foxboro Stadium

The Giants concluded the pre-season on a dreary note, getting pasted by the Patriots, 24-3 and displaying a paucity of intensity during the proceedings. A TD burst by rookie Jon Vaughn followed by a 31-yard TD pass to Irving Fryar had the Pats up 14-0 before Matt Bahr could convert a 25-yard FG to cut it to 14-3 at the half. The Pats then continued to pound away with rookie Leonard Russell scoring on a one-yard TD and Jason Staurovsky hitting a 27-yard FG to close out the scoring. The overall frustration had a suitable ending when the Giants scored not one TD, but a pair of TDs on a final drive, but had both negated by penalties. Then on fourth and goal, Rodney Hampton was stopped short and fumbled the ball away as well. Jeff Hostetler was 11-for-15 for 124 yards, while reserve QB Mike Perez went 8-for-9 for 91 yards. Hampton had eight catches for 99 yards.

NFC Championship

Jan. 11, 1987 at Giants Stadium (76,633)

Giants won toss and, in face of 35-mph winds, chose to defend goal. . . . That was game's most important call. . . . TDs by Lionel Manuel and Joe Morris and Raul Allegre FG produced 17-0 halftime lead. . . . Defense took control in second half and in middle of paper blizzard, Giants gained berth in their first Super Bowl.

NFC Semifinal Game

Jan. 13, 1991 at Giants Stadium (77,025)

After jumping to an early 10-0 lead, the Giants' defense did a strangulation job on the Bears' vaunted rushing attack, limiting the visitors to just 27 total rushing yards and zero first downs. . . . Jeff Hostetler hit on just 10 pass completions for 112 yards, but two went for TDs and he scored another on a 3-yard run in his first-ever playoff action. . . . Giants also had a pair of interceptions by Mark Collins and Everson Walls to complete the rout.

NFC Championship

Jan. 20, 1991 at Candlestick Park, S.F. (65,750)

One of the most exciting championship games in Giants' history as the Big Blue blunted the Niners quest for a third straight Super Bowl on Matt Bahr's 42-yard FG at the gun. . . . Key plays included Erik Howard's jarring tackle on Roger Craig which produced fumble, recovered by Lawrence Taylor with just 2:36 left to play, and a 30-yard run on a fake punt by LB Gary Reasons which set up a FG to close the gap to 13-12 midway through the final period. . . . Bahr booted an NFC championship record five FGs in the fray and DE Leonard Marshall won Defensive Player of the Week honors with four tackles, two QB sacks and two forced fumbles, with one of the sacks a hellacious hit on Joe Montana which knocked him out of the game with multiple injuries, to say nothing of a classic headache.

'90 GIANTS 20, Bills 19 Super Bowl XXV

Jan. 27, 1991 at Tampa Stadium (73,813)

As if the Giants' NFC title win over the 49ers was not exciting enough, this Super Bowl championship win over the Bills was every bit as thrilling and, in fact, has been called the best Super Bowl game ever ... Giddy Giants bounced back from a 12-3 deficit to take a 17-12 lead after a Super Bowl record 9:29 drive in the third period, leaked for a go-ahead Bills' TD, and then won it when Matt Bahr drilled a 21-yard FG late in the game, and when his counterpart, Scott Norwood of the Bills, misfired on a 47-yard attempt on the last play of the game ... Ottis Anderson rushed for 102 yards and won the MVP Award as the Giants also set an alltime Super Bowl record with 40:33 possession time.

THIS SIMPLE ROUTINE CAN HELP SAVE LIVES

For people who have had a heart attack, a regimen of exercise, the right foods, and a BAYER® Aspirin a day could help save their lives. Studies show aspirin can help prevent a second heart attack. Ask your doctor which BAYER Aspirin product is right for you. Genuine BAYER®, BAYER® Plus with Stomach Guard, or safety-coated Therapy BAYER® Enteric for aspirin regimen users.
