Heinz Field Timeline

November 4, 1997 – The Regional Renaissance Initiative is rejected by a margin of 2-1. Pittsburgh public officials met the next day and agreed to devise a new plan that wouldn't involve a tax increase.

March 9, 1998 – Plan B is announced and heralded as an economic development package that included the building of two new stadiums and the dismantling of Three Rivers Stadium, and renovation of the David L. Lawrence Convention Center.

June 20, 1998 – The Steelers agree to pay $76.5 million toward a new stadium.

October 14, 1998 – Steelers select a site adjacent to Three Rivers Stadium for their new home and target August 2001, as its completion date.

November 4, 1998 – Stadium design concepts are unveiled. The new stadium features many fan amenitties such as more lower-level seating, wider conscourses, nearly double the number of restrooms and state-of-the-art scoreboard and sound system. At the same time, the formation of the Stadium Builders Fund was established through the sale of seat licenses, otherwise known as Stadium Builders Licenses (SBL).

November 9, 1998 – Sale of seat licenses began. Steelers' fans respond in overwhelming fashion and all were sold and paid for within one month, faster than in any other city. Approximately 50,000 SBLs were sold.

February 3, 1999 – Pennsylvania State Legislature approved funding for new sports stadiums in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia.

June 18, 1999 – Pennsylvania Governor Tom Ridge, NFL Commissioner Paul Tagliabue and former Steelers greats such as Joe Greene and Franco Harris were on hand as the Steelers and the University of Pittsburgh hosted the official stadium groundbreaking ceremony to usher in a new era of Pittsburgh football.

July 1, 1999 – The stadium's foundation construction began.

July 8, 1999 – Authorizaton was granted to begin earth work and rough grading on the stadium.

February 4, 2000 – Erection of the steel frame began. To mark the start of the steel construction, the Steelers held a ceremonial placing of the first steel beam at the construction site.

May 2, 2000 – The erection of precasts risers for stadium seating.

August 28, 2000 – Escalator and elevator installation begins.

October 26, 2000 – The Steelers officially "topped out" the steel erection phase during a ceremony at the construction site. The ceremony commemorated the placing of the highest piece of steel on the main steel structure.

February 11, 2001 – After 31 memorable years, Three Rivers Stadium was imploded as the new stadium structure stood a mere 65-feet away.

January 17, 2001 – Installment of stanchions for the seats began and the stadium slowly filled up with seats soon after.

April 4,2001 – Finish carpentry and millwork on interior of stadium got underway.

May 1-4, 2001 – The grass sod was planted as the field installment began, allowing more than three months for the grass to take root before the first football game will be played.

June 15, 2001 - Steelers reach naming rights agreement with Heinz and announce new stadium name as Heinz Field.

A Look Inside Heinz Field

Amenities Galore

The Steelers new stadium is a state-of-the-art facility that offers Steelers fans with the finest amenities in sports venues.

Fans will quickly experience many of these features before getting to their seats. For example the stadium concourses are nearly double the width of the ones at Three Rivers, enabling quick trips to and from the seats. There will also be twice as many restrooms, and each one will be larger with more facilities. Approximately 50 large concession stands stocked with favorite stadium food and merchandise offer about 200 points, more than four times the number at Three Rivers.

Steelers games are a great way for the Pittsburgh corporate community to entertain clients in the 129 suites.

The Club Seats are a new tradition for Steelers football. Located at the optimum viewing level along the sidelines, club seating features extra-wide seats and access to a spacious, climate-controlled lounge.

The three-story atrium club lounge behind the seating bowl offers special food and beverage options and an alternative for watching the game.

The lounges also are available for special events on non-game days.

The video scoreboard will be a fan favorite with its crystal clear replays and dynamic graphics.

What will set the Steelers new stadium apart from others, though, are the terrific sightlines and the wonderful vista to the beautiful downtown skyline. Couple that with the great game action of Steelers football and fans will enjoy an experience like no other.

Heinz Field: Two Pittsburgh Icons

Two Pittsburgh traditions teamed to produce the name of the Steelers football stadium--Heinz Field.

The Steelers and Heinz reached a 20-year, $57 million naming rights deal that was announced June 15, 2001 at a press conference at the new stadium.

Heinz, an international food company, has its North America headquarters and flagship factory located just a short distance from the new stadium that bears its name on Pittsburgh's Northside.

BILL COWHER
Head Coach

Bill Cowher thrives on challenges.

In his five-year NFL playing career, he was the classic overachiever: an undrafted free agent, he carved out a gritty playing career as a special-teams standout and reserve linebacker who overcame a knee injury that forced him to miss an entire season.

Then came his coaching career. Cowher ascended from the coaching ranks as a special teams coach to defensive coordinator to become one of the youngest head coaches ever named to an NFL head-coaching post.

Cowher again battled the odds in 2000.

After achieving great success in his first six seasons as the Steelers head coach, the team experienced two sub-par seasons in 1998 and '99. Many predicted the same for the 2000 Steelers—or worse.

But, Cowher had a different resolve. Determined to reverse the fortunes of the past two seasons, Cowher re-dedicated himself—and the team. He instilled a commitment and focus that were earmarks of teams from Cowher's first six campaigns. A rigorous offseason conditioning program and an intense, physical training camp characterized the 2000 team.

After an 0-3 start, the critics seemed prophetic. But, Cowher once again met the challenge and rallied the team to a 9-4 finish, a surge that kept the Steelers in playoff contention up to the last game of the season.

Some consider it one of Cowher's best coaching efforts in a impressive head-coaching career.

Although, just 44 years old, Cowher already has established himself among the elite of current NFL coaches.

His nine-year reign as the Steelers head coach ties him with Dennis Green of the Minnesota Vikings for the longest current tenure with any NFL team.

In his first six seasons, Cowher joined the legendary Paul Brown as the only head coach to lead a team to six straight trips to the playoffs in his first six seasons as a head coach. Additionally, Cowher's .597 winning percentage (86-58) ranks fourth among active coaches with at least 75 victories. For his career, Cowher's overall record is a respectable 91-64 (.587), which ranks sixth among active coaches.

Cowher earned his 50th regular-season win Nov. 3, 1996 in his 73rd game to become the eighth-fastest coach in NFL history to reach 50 wins. Presently with 91 career wins, Cowher moved into second in team victories behind Chuck Noll (209 wins) during his fifth season when he recorded his 57th win. In 1997, Cowher surpassed Ray Parker's 105 games for the second-most games (155) as the Steelers head coach. Only Noll (366 games) led the Steelers longer.

Under Cowher's guidance, the Steelers have featured a trademark running attack and a solid, aggressive defense. During his nine seasons as head coach, the team has averaged a league-leading 132.7 rushing yards a game and ranks seventh with an average of 324 yards a game in total offense. In that same period, the offense churned out 57 100-yard rushing games—second only to Detroit's 60. Since 1992, the Steelers are the only team to gain more than 19,200 yards rushing (19,242).

Cowher has built a defense that mirrors his fiery attitude. In the 144 regular-season games since becoming head coach, the defense has allowed an average of 97.3 rushing yards a game and 210 yards passing.

While Cowher has experienced much success in his coaching career, two of the last three seasons have been disappointing. The 1999 season marked his second straight losing season. In a year that began with a 2-0 start and high expectations, the 1999 Steelers ended with a lackluster 1-7 finish and a 6-10 record, the worst of Cowher's career.

In 1998, Cowher experienced unchartered territory. For the first time in his head-coaching career, the Steelers did not make the playoffs. Nevertheless, despite several key injuries throughout the season, especially along the offensive line, the team remained competitive and had opportunities to clinch a playoff berth until the 15th week of the season.

The elements heading into 1997 didn't favor the Steelers. Ten key players departed from the previous season. A new defensive coordinator was hired. A first-year quarterback took control of the offense. Still, the Steelers overcame these obstacles to post an 11-5 record, and Cowher led his team to their third home AFC Championship game in four seasons. The Steelers season ended with a 24-21 loss to the eventual-Super Bowl Champion Denver Broncos.

While the 1996 outcome didn't compare to the Super Bowl appearance of the previous season, it might have been one of the best coaching jobs of Cowher's young career. For the second straight season, Cowher was forced to overcome losses of key starting personnel on a team that already featured a re-tooled offense. During the course of the season, the Steelers had 14 starters miss 64 starts due to injury. Those adjustments forced Cowher to play 40 different starters throughout the season. Despite this adversity, Cowher led the Steelers to their fifth consecutive playoff berth and their fourth AFC Central title in five seasons.

In 1995, at the age of 38, the Pittsburgh-area native became the youngest head coach to lead his team to a Super Bowl. Along the way, Cowher's team captured its third AFC Central Division title in four years, made its fourth straight playoff appearance, and won the Steelers' first AFC title since 1979.

The Steelers' 11-5 regular-season record was the second best in the AFC which exceeded the expectations of most. In the offseason, the team lost seven veterans through free agency and trades. They had to play four games without starting quarterback Neil O'Donnell and almost the entire season without 1994's starting cornerbacks Deon Figures and Rod Woodson, a perennial All-Pro. In addition, linebacker Chad Brown missed six games after a phenomenal start.

Despite the setbacks, Cowher was able to rally his team from a near-disastrous 3-4 start to an NFL-best eight-game winning streak and a bye in the first round of the playoffs. This was accomplished with a major change in both offensive and defensive strategies, as the Steelers made key adjustments to compensate for their personnel losses.

The 1995 Steelers led the AFC in scoring with 407 points and set eight new offensive team records. They led the NFL in time of possession (an average of 32:36). On defense, they established new team marks for fewest yards allowed rushing and fewest yards per game rushing (82.6/game). Their 22 interceptions were second most in the NFL.

Cowher was introduced as the Steelers head coach on January 21, 1992, 26 days after the retirement of Hall of Fame coach Chuck Noll. At the age of 34, Cowher was two years younger than Noll was upon becoming the Steelers head coach in 1969.

Cowher returned to his hometown following seven years as an assistant under Marty Schottenheimer in Cleveland and Kansas City. His appointment as the Steelers head coach immediately followed a three-year stint as defensive coordinator and linebackers coach for the Chiefs.

Cowher has 21 years of NFL experience, including five as a player, seven as an assistant coach and nine as a head coach. In his first 13 years of coaching, Cowher had never been associated with a team that posted a losing record. In fact, in 12 of his 16 seasons as a coach, Cowher's teams have advanced to the playoffs.

In his first year as head coach, Cowher was selected the 1992 National Football League's Coach of the Year by the Associated Press and The Sporting News. Cowher was also named Pittsburgh's Man of the Year in Sports by the Dapper Dan Club. He directed the Steelers to their first AFC Central Division crown in eight years with an 11-5 record, the team's best mark since they last won a Super Bowl in 1979. One of four AFC teams to win 11 games in 1992, the Steelers shared the best record in the conference as Cowher became one of only 12 coaches in NFL history to win 11 games in his first season as head coach.

The 1993 Steelers started slowly at 0-2, but six wins in the next seven games brought the team to a 6-3 mark and first place in the AFC Central division. On the final weekend of the regular season the Steelers claimed the final AFC Wild-Card berth after winning three of the last five games. Offensively, the team finished with the exact same AFC rankings as the previous year, but it improved from 21st to 13th in NFL passing rankings. The defense jumped from eighth to first in AFC total defense rankings, and from 17th to third in NFL run defense.

Cowher began his coaching career in 1985 with the Cleveland Browns. At age 28, he was the league's second-youngest assistant coach. He served on Schottenheimer's staff as the Browns special teams coach in 1985-86 and secondary coach in 1987-88. As secondary coach, Cowher's 1987 group produced 23 interceptions to tie for third in the AFC, while in 1988 the Cleveland defense ranked fourth overall in the conference. The following year Cowher joined Schottenheimer on the Kansas City coaching staff.

In 1989, Cowher's first season as a 32-year-old defensive coordinator, the Kansas City defense led the AFC and ranked second in the NFL in total defense. The following year the unit led the league in three categories with 60 sacks, 25 fumbles recovered and 45 takeaways. In 1991 the Chiefs ranked third in the conference and fifth overall in the NFL en route to a 10-6 finish and a Wild-Card playoff berth.

A former linebacker and special teams standout, Cowher enjoyed a five-year NFL playing career with the Browns (1980-82) and the Philadelphia Eagles (1983-84). He signed with Philadelphia in 1979 as an undrafted free-agent rookie, but was the last linebacker waived in training camp after playing in three preseason games. The following year he signed with Cleveland and earned a roster spot, playing in all 16 games, including two starts at inside linebacker.

Cowher sat out the 1981 campaign after suffering a season-ending knee injury in the third preseason game. Returning in 1982 as special teams captain, he started at outside linebacker in two games while playing in all nine contests.

Cowher was traded to Philadelphia prior to the start of the 1983 season (Aug. 21) for a ninth-round draft pick. He was selected the Eagles most valuable special teams player that year and played in all 16 games. In 1984, a knee injury kept him out of all but four games and ended his career as a player. Cowher returned to Cleveland the following season and began his coaching career as a member of Schottenheimer's Browns staff.

Cowher grew up in the Crafton area west of Pittsburgh. He is a 1975 graduate of Carlynton High School, where he excelled in football, basketball and track. He was selected honorable mention All-State in football as a senior before moving on to North Carolina State, where he earned four letters and was a three-year starter at linebacker. As a senior in 1978, Cowher was selected team captain and Most Valuable Player after leading the defense in tackles for the second straight year. He also received the 1978 Cary Brewbaker Award as the school's outstanding defensive lineman as selected by the coaching staff. In 1979, Cowher graduated with a bachelor of science degree in education.

William Laird Cowher was born May 8, 1957 in Pittsburgh. It was at North Carolina State that Cowher met his wife, Kaye. Also a graduate of North Carolina State, Kaye and her twin sister Faye played professional basketball for the New York Stars of the Women's Professional Basketball League. The Cowhers have three daughters: Meagan Lyn (15), Lauren Marie (13), and Lindsay Morgan (10).

LEWIS

Defensive Coordinator

Tim Lewis begins his second season as the Steelers defensive coordinator after a solid first year in his new role.

Under Lewis' guidance, the Steelers finished fifth in the AFC and seventh in the NFL in total defense. During one five-game stretch, the defense allowed no touchdowns and only 18 points. The defense also held opponents without a touchdown for 21 consecutive quarters, the second-longest such streak in the NFL since 1970.

Lewis, a standout player at University of Pittsburgh and a former NFL All-Pro, was promoted to Steelers defensive coordinator on Feb. 8, 2000 after spending the previous five years as the team's defensive backs coach. He originally joined the Steelers Feb. 7, 1995 after spending two seasons coaching defensive backs at his alma mater.

Lewis has been instrumental in the development of current Steelers Chad Scott, Lee Flowers, Deshea Townsend and Dewayne Washington.

The 11th overall selection in the 1983 draft by the Green Bay Packers, Lewis was the first cornerback chosen that year. He played 52 games for the Packers, but suffered a career-ending neck injury in the fourth game of the 1986 season. He ended his career with 16 interceptions and twice led or shared the team lead in that category. His 99-yard interception return for a touchdown versus the Los Angeles Rams in 1984 still stands as a Packers' team record.

BALTIMORE 16 STEELERS 0
Sept. 3, 2000

PITTSBURGH (Sept. 3, 2000) — The Steelers dropped to 0-1, suffering a disappointing 16-0 season-opening loss to the Baltimore Ravens at Three Rivers Stadium.

Pittsburgh was held scoreless in a season-opener for the first time since 1989 when they lost, 51-0, to the Cleveland Browns.

The Ravens jumped out to a 3-0 lead on a 23-yard field goal by kicker Matt Stover with 6:50 remaining in the first quarter. The score was set up when Baltimore defensive lineman Rob Burnett sacked Steelers quarterback Kent Graham and stripped him of the ball at the Steelers' 14-yard line. The ball was recovered by defensive tackle Sam Adams.

After forcing a Steelers punt, the Ravens increased their lead to 10-0 in the first quarter when quarterback Tony Banks completed a 53-yard touchdown pass to wide receiver Qadry Ismail.

The Ravens increased their lead to 13-0 when Stover converted a 26-yard field goal on the last play of the first half.

Stover converted his third field goal of the game on the opening drive of the third quarter. Wide receiver Qadry Ismail took the second-half kickoff and returned it 38 yards to the Baltimore 48. Eight plays later, Stover's 33-yard field goal made the score, 16-0.

The Steelers first serious scoring opportunity was unsuccessful when kicker Kris Brown's 45-yard field goal attempt sailed wide to the left.

Kent Graham, who completed 17-of-38 passes for 199 yards, led the Steelers to the Baltimore one-yard line, but Pittsburgh was again denied.

After completing passes of 22 yards to rookie wide receiver Plaxico Burress and tight end Mark Bruener and a pass interference penalty, the Steelers had a first-and-goal from the one.

However, Jerome Bettis was stopped at the line of scrimmage on the first play, and Kordell Stewart, who replaced Graham in the Steelers goal line offense, threw an incompletion and fumbled a snap to give the Steelers a fourth-and-goal from the two.

Graham returned on fourth down but his pass, intended for Burress, sailed out of the end zone and the Steelers were held scoreless.

The Steelers offense had two more possessions, but never mounted a serious scoring threat and Baltimore held on for the 16-0 win.

CLEVELAND 23 STEELERS 20
Sept. 17, 2000

CLEVELAND (Sept. 17, 2000) — The Steelers dropped to 0-2 when they lost, 23-20, to the Cleveland Browns at Cleveland Stadium.

The Steelers had a chance to win or tie the game with seconds left and the ball on the Cleveland six-yard line. However, quarterback Kent Graham was sacked, and with no timeouts left, time ran off the clock before Pittsburgh could attempt a field goal.

Cleveland quarterback Tim Couch threw two first-quarter touchdowns on the Browns' first two possessions of the game to give the Cleveland an early 14-0 lead.

Pittsburgh running back Jerome Bettis led the Steelers to their first score early in the second quarter. Pittsburgh drove 71 yards in 10 plays with Bettis rushing seven times for 46 yards. Richard Huntley capped the drive with a four-yard touchdown run to make the score, 14-7.

Bettis, who gained 122 yards and scored one touchdown, recorded his 40th career 100-yard game and his 29th with the Steelers.

Pittsburgh closed the score to 14-10 late in the second quarter when kicker Kris Brown kicked a 41-yard field goal.

Hines Ward set up Pittsburgh's first score in the third quarter when he returned the second-half kickoff 57 yards to the Cleveland 42. A 24-yard pass from Graham to Ward set up Brown's 31-yard field goal, which made the score, 14-13.

However, Cleveland increased their lead to 17-13 when David Patten returned the ensuing kickoff 62 yards to the Pittsburgh 35-yard line, and Phil Dawson connected on a 23-yard field goal.

The Steelers took their only lead midway through the third quarter when Bettis capped an 80-yard drive with a 10-yard touchdown run to make the score, 20-17.

However, the Browns recaptured the lead for good in the fourth quarter when Phil Dawson kicked field goals of 28 and 19 yards to make the final score, 23-20.

TENNESSEE 23 STEELERS 20
Sept. 24, 2000

PITTSBURGH (Sept. 24, 2000) — The Steelers suffered their second consecutive heartbreaking defeat and fell to 0-3 for the first time since 1986 when they lost, 23-20, to the Tennessee Titans at Three Rivers Stadium.

The game came down to a late field goal for the second consecutive week, but Steelers kicker Kris Brown's 50-yard attempt came up short with 25 seconds left, and Tennessee emerged victorious.

The Titans took a 7-0 lead on their first possession when running back Eddie George ran around left end for a 20-yard touchdown.

The Steelers drove 35 yards on nine plays on the ensuing possession to set up Brown's 32-yard field goal to close the score to 7-3.

Tennessee increased their lead to 10-3 when kicker Al Del Greco converted a 24-yard field goal.

Cornerback Chad Scott made the first of his career-high two interceptions on the day early in the second quarter and returned it 33 yards to set up Brown's 32-yard field goal, which made the score, 10-6.

Del Greco's 40-yard field goal was the only scoring in the third quarter and gave Tennessee a 13-6 lead.

A 23-yard run by running back Jerome Bettis and a 17-yard pass from Graham to receiver Hines Ward, set up a one-yard quarterback sneak by Kordell Stewart that tied the game at 13-13 to start the fourth quarter.

Del Greco gave the Titans a 16-13 lead with his second 40-yard field goal.

The Steelers took a 20-16 lead when Bettis scored a five-yard touchdown with 7:10 left in the fourth quarter.

However, O'Donnell was injured on a sack by Steelers linebacker Jason Gildon and replaced by Steve McNair, who did not start because of a chest injury. McNair completed three passes for 55 yards, including an 18-yard touchdown to tight end Erron Kinney with 1:31 left in the game, to make the final score, 23-20.

STEELERS 24 JACKSONVILLE 13
Oct. 1, 2000

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (Oct. 1, 2000) — The Steelers won their first game of the season and improved their record to 1-3 with a convincing 24-13 win over the Jacksonville Jaguars at ALLTEL Stadium.

The win was Pittsburgh's first victory over the Jaguars in Jacksonville and their first win against an AFC Central opponent since Oct. 17, 1999, a 17-3 win at Cincinnati.

The Steelers defense dominated the game, holding the Jaguars to 26 yards rushing, while sacking Jaguars quarterback Mark Brunell seven times.

Kordell Stewart made his first start of the season for injured starter Kent Graham (left hip) and completed 10-of-16 passes for 132 yards and rushed nine times for 61 yards. Jerome Bettis gained 97 yards and scored two touchdowns on 28 carries, and Chris Fuamatu-Ma'afala rushed for 51 yards and a touchdown and caught two passes for 39 yards.

Jacksonville took a 3-0 first-quarter lead on a 19-yard field goal by kicker Steve Lindsey. However, the Steelers responded with a 53-yard drive that ended in Fuamatu-Ma'fala's five-yard touchdown run to make the score, 7-3.

The Steelers increased their lead to 10-3 in the second quarter when Kris Brown converted a 19-yard field goal. Strong safety Lee Flowers intercepted Brunell at the Jacksonville 24 on the Jaguars' first play from scrimmage on the ensuing drive. Bettis then made the score 17-3 with a one-yard touchdown run.

With the score 17-6, the Steelers put the game out of reach midway through the third quarter. Bettis capped a seven-play, 60-yard drive with a three-yard touchdown run that made the score, 24-6.

Jacksonville made the final score, 24-13, when backup quarterback Jamie Martin completed an 11-yard touchdown pass to Keenan McCardell, but with nine seconds left, the Steelers win was already secure.

STEELERS 20 N.Y. JETS 3
Oct. 8, 2000

EAST RUTHERFORD, N.J. (Oct. 8, 2000) — A dominating 20-3 road win against the New York Jets improved the Steelers record to 2-3, with their next two games at home against division opponents.

Quarterback Kordell Stewart made his second consecutive efficient start, completing 17-of-26 passes for 140 yards and a touchdown. A bruising ground attack led by Jerome Bettis, who gained 107 yards on 25 carries (4.3 avg.) and scored one touchdown, allowed the Steelers to control the ball for 37:43. The Steelers rushed for 197 yards and 4.7 yards-per-carry as a team.

Steelers linebacker Jason Gildon set the tone for Pittsburgh's defense when he knocked Jets quarterback Vinny Testaverde out of the game on New York's first offensive play. Later in the first quarter, cornerback Dewayne Washington intercepted Jets backup quarterback Ray Lucas and returned the ball 31 yards to set up a 43-yard field goal by Kris Brown giving Pittsburgh a 3-0 lead.

Gildon blocked Jets kicker John Hall's first field-goal attempt and the Steelers took over at their own six-yard line. Pittsburgh drove 94 yards on 13 plays and scored on an 11-yard Bettis touchdown run to give the Steelers a 10-0 lead.

Hall kicked a 40-yard field goal to close the score to 10-3 at halftime.

The Steelers extended their lead to 17-3 in the fourth quarter when Stewart completed a 10-yard touchdown pass to Bobby Shaw. The score was Pittsburgh's first touchdown pass of the season.

Brown put the game out of reach on the Steelers next drive with a 29-yard field goal that increased the lead to 20-3.

The Jets hopes for a miracle comeback were dashed when safety Brent Alexander intercepted his first pass of the year to preserve the Steelers victory.

Oct. 15, 2000

PITTSBURGH (Oct. 15, 2000) — The Steelers evened their record at 3-3 with a 15-0 shutout of the Cincinnati Bengals at Three Rivers Stadium.

Pittsburgh's stingy defense, which led the charge for the second straight week, recorded four sacks, two interceptions and pitched its first shutout since beating the Cleveland Browns, 43-0, Sept. 12, 1999.

Outside linebacker Joey Porter led the charge, recording a career-high three sacks and one forced fumble. Porter's three sacks were the most since Carnell Lake registered three sacks against the Arizona Cardinals Nov. 30, 1997.

Fellow outside linebacker Jason Gildon made his fourth sack of the season and defensive backs Dewayne Washington and Brent Alexander each intercepted a pass for the second straight game.

Running back Jerome Bettis rushed 29 times for 101 yards (3.5 avg.), his second consecutive 100-yard game and his third of the season. It was the eighth time that Bettis has rushed for more than 100 yards in 11 games against the Bengals.

The Steelers scored first on the second play from scrimmage when quarterback Kent Graham connected with wide receiver Hines Ward on a 77-yard touchdown pass to make the score, 7-0. It was the Steelers longest pass completion since Mike Tomczak connected with Charles Johnson on an 84-yard touchdown at San Diego Dec. 24, 1994.

Kicker Kris Brown increased the Steelers lead to 10-0 with a 36-yard field goal late in the second quarter. Brown's second field goal, from 28 yards in the third quarter, extended the Steelers lead to 13-0.

Porter sealed the victory when he sacked Cincinnati's back-up quarterback Scott Mitchell, who replaced an ineffective Akili Smith, for a safety to make the final score, 15-0.

STEELERS 22 CLEVELAND 0
Oct. 22, 2000

PITTSBURGH (Oct. 22, 2000) — A dominating defensive effort led the Steelers to their second consecutive shutout victory and improved their record to 4-3 when they beat the Cleveland Browns, 22-0, at Three Rivers Stadium.

In the final game played between the two teams at Three Rivers Stadium, the Steelers defense held the Browns to 104 total yards and intercepted three passes, to help improve Pittsburgh's record against the Browns to 24-5 at Three Rivers. In addition, the only time Cleveland crossed midfield, was after a 36-yard punt return by Jamel White that gave the Browns possession in Steelers territory.

Running back Jerome Bettis rushed for 105 yards and one touchdown on 33 carries, his fourth 100-yard game of the season. The Steelers remaining points were scored by kicker Kris Brown who booted a career-high five field goals.

Linebacker Levon Kirkland intercepted Cleveland quarterback Doug Pederson at the Browns' 37-yard line to set up a 44-yard field goal by Brown that made the score 3-0 in the first quarter.

A career-long 54-yard punt return by rookie Hank Poteat gave the Steelers the ball at the Cleveland 12 midway through the second quarter and set up Bettis' one-yard touchdown run, extending the Steelers lead to 10-0.

Chad Scott's third interception of the season on Cleveland's next possession set up Brown's second field goal, from 20 yards that gave the Steelers a 13-0 halftime lead.

Brown extended the Steelers lead 16-0 in the third quarter with a 31-yard field goal that followed an interception by free safety Brent Alexander.

Brown added two fourth-quarter field goals from 26 and 33 yards to make the final score 22-0.

STEELERS 9 BALTIMORE 6
Oct. 29, 2000

BALTIMORE (Oct. 29, 2000) — The Steelers won their fifth game in a row and took over sole possession of second place in the AFC Central Division (5-3) with a 9-6 win against the Baltimore Ravens at PSINet Stadium.

The Steelers defense did not allow a touchdown for the fourth straight game — 16 quarters overall — and became the first team to accomplish that feat since the Minnesota Vikings in 1988.

Outside linebacker Joey Porter recorded his team-leading sixth and seventh sacks of the season and cornerback Dewayne Washington tied his 1999 interception total with his team-leading fourth of the year.

The Ravens received the opening kickoff and drove to the Steelers nine-yard line. However, quarterback Trent Dilfer fumbled the snap and it was recovered by Lee Flowers to thwart what would be the Ravens' only red-zone scoring opportunity of the game.

After a scoreless first quarter, the Ravens took a 6-0 halftime lead on field goals of 51 and 49 yards by kicker Matt Stover.

The Steelers tied the score on their second possession in the third quarter when Kordell Stewart connected with Hines ward for a 45-yard touchdown pass. However, kicker Kris Brown missed the extra point and the game remained tied a 6-6.

Steelers special teams captain John Fiala teamed with Jason Simmons to force Baltimore's Corey Harris to fumble the ensuing kickoff at the Ravens' 27-yard line. The Steelers drove to the Baltimore six, and Brown converted a 24-yard field goal to give Pittsburgh a 9-6 third-quarter lead.

The Steelers defense shut the Ravens out the rest of the game and secured Pittsburgh's fourth straight win against an AFC Central opponent.

GAME 9

TENNESSEE 9 STEELERS 7
Nov. 5, 2000

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (Nov. 5, 2000) — The Steelers suffered a disappointing, 9-7, loss to the Tennessee Titans and dropped to 5-4 when Titans kicker Al Del Greco converted a 29-yard field goal with four seconds left in the game.

The Steelers extended their streak of not allowing a touchdown to five straight games. Tennessee's offense penetrated Pittsburgh's 20-yard line five times and came away with three field goals.

However, the Steelers offense gained only 167 yards in the game and scored only seven points, while controlling the ball for only 20:30. Tennessee took a 3-0, halftime lead on Al Del Greco's 21-yard field goal with 55 seconds left in the second quarter.

The score remained the same into the fourth quarter when Del Greco added a 31-yard field goal to extend the Titans' lead to 6-0.

Pittsburgh responded with an eight-play, 60-yard drive that culminated with a 30-yard touchdown pass from Kordell Stewart to tight end Mark Bruener, to give the Steelers a 7-6 lead.

With 3:42 left in the game, the Titans drove 62 yards to set up the winning field goal. Pittsburgh forced Tennessee into a fourth-and-eight situation, but Tennessee quarterback Steve McNair found Derrick Mason for 17 yards and a first down just prior to the two-minute warning. Four plays later, Del Greco booted a 29-yard field goal to give Tennessee the 9-7 victory.

GAME 10

PHILADELPHIA 26 STEELERS 23

Nov. 12, 2000

PITTSBURGH (Nov. 12, 2000) — The Steelers suffered a disappointing 26-23 overtime loss to the Philadelphia Eagles and dropped to 5-5, after losing a 10-point lead with 3:42 remaining in regulation.

The Steelers rebounded from a 10-0 second-quarter deficit to take a 23-13 lead in the fourth quarter. Eagles kicker David Akers tied the game with a last-second 42-yard field goal, and won the game in overtime with another 42-yard kick.

Philadelphia jumped to a 10-0 lead after a 26-yard field goal by kicker David Akers and a two-yard touchdown catch by tight end Jeff Thomason, which followed a controversial pass interference call on cornerback Chad Scott.

Steelers kicker Kris Brown added two field goals of 38 and a career-long 52 yards, to close the score to 10-6 at halftime.

The Eagles extended their lead to 13-6 in the third quarter, but Jerome Bettis, who rushed 30 times for 134 yards (4.5 avg.), rumbled seven yards for a touchdown to tie the game at 13-13.

The Steelers defense, which allowed its first touchdown since Oct. 1 (versus Jacksonville), scored its first touchdown of the season when outside linebacker Joey Porter returned a fumble 32 yards to give Pittsburgh a 20-13 lead.

The Steelers seemingly put the game out of reach when Brown added a 40-yard field goal to make the score 24-13 with 3:47 left in the fourth quarter and the Eagles out of timeouts.

But, the Eagles offense then drove 57 yards in 1:13 and scored on a 13-yard touchdown catch by Brian Mitchell to tighten the score to 23-20. Philadelphia then recovered an onside kick and Akers kicked a 42-yard field goal to tie the game at 23-23 with no time left on the clock.

Philadelphia won the coin flip in overtime and marched 39 yards on eight plays, to set up a 42-yard field goal by Akers that gave the Eagles the 26-23 win.

GAME 11

JACKSONVILLE 34 STEELERS 24
Nov. 19, 2000

PITTSBURGH (Nov. 19, 2000) — The Steelers lost their third consecutive game and dropped to 5-6 after a 34-24 loss to the Jacksonville Jaguars at Three Rivers Stadium.

The Steelers defense allowed Jaguars running back Fred Taylor to run for 234 yards, the most yards ever against a Steelers defense, and three rushing touchdowns. Taylor also scored a fourth time on a 16-yard touchdown reception.

The Steelers took a 7-0 first-quarter lead on a 32-yard touchdown pass from Kordell Stewart to wide receiver Hines Ward. However, several dropped passes by Pittsburgh's receivers throughout the game would ultimately help seal the Steelers fate.

The Jaguars scored 17 points in both the second and third quarters, while the Steelers only managed a 40-yard field goal by Kris Brown in the second period.

Fred Taylor scored twice in the second quarter on a 25-yard run and a 16-yard reception, and kicker Mike Hollis converted on a 36-yard field goal to give the Jaguars a 17-10 halftime lead.

Hollis added a 33-yard field goal in the third quarter, and Taylor added runs of two and 26 yards to give Jacksonville a 34-10 lead after three quarters.

Kordell Stewart, who completed 13-of-27 passes for 188 yards, one touchdown and two interceptions, used his legs to keep the Steelers in the game. Stewart helped close the score to 34-16 on a two-yard run early in the fourth quarter but a two-point conversion failed.

Steelers cornerback Chad Scott intercepted Jacksonville quarterback Mark Brunell on the Jaguars' next possession. Stewart then scrambled 45 yards for a touchdown, and Richard Huntley ran two yards for a two-point conversion that made the score, 34-24, with 7:42 remaining in the fourth quarter.

The Steelers had a chance to close Jacksonville's lead to three points, but Hines Ward stumbled and dropped a potential touchdown pass that sealed the Steelers' fate and secured the 34-24 Jaguars victory.

The Steelers closed the score to 13-3 at halftime on a 32-yard field goal by kicker Kris Brown. But, Brown missed field-goal attempts of 36 and 44 yards on Pittsburgh's two possessions in the third quarter.

The Giants increased their lead to 20-3 when wide receiver Ike Hilliard scored on a nine-yard pass from quarterback Kerry Collins. Daluiso then added a 21-yard field goal early in the fourth quarter to increase New York's lead to 23-3.

Stewart was picked off in the end zone on the Steelers' next possession, and the Giants drove 80 yards to increase their lead to 30-3 on a two-yard touchdown pass from Collins to wide receiver Amani Toomer.

Bobby Shaw's five-yard touchdown catch in the fourth quarter was Pittsburgh's only touchdown of the game and made the final score 30-10.

GAME 15

STEELERS 24 WASHINGTON 3
Dec. 16, 2000

PITTSBURGH (Dec. 16, 2000) — The Steelers closed their 31 seasons at Three Rivers Stadium in style, when they soundly defeated the Washington Redskins, 24-3, in the final game ever played at Three Rivers Stadium.

The Steelers win kept their hopes alive to make the NFL playoffs.

The Redskins took a 3-0 first-quarter lead on a 32-yard field goal by kicker Eddie Murray. However, those were the only points Washington would score on the day.

The Steelers took control of the game by scoring 17 unanswered points in the second quarter. The Steelers tied the game when kicker Kris Brown converted a 28-yard field goal to make the score, 3-3.

Rookie punt returner Hank Poteat set a Steelers record for the longest punt return for a touchdown by a Steeler at Three Rivers Stadium, when he returned a punt 53 yards to make the score, 10-3. Poteat's touchdown broke Rod Woodson's Three Rivers Stadium record of 52 yards for a score on Sept. 16, 1990 versus Houston.

The Steelers closed out the scoring in the first half after cornerback Chad Scott intercepted his career-high fifth pass of the season, which set up a three-yard touchdown run by Richard Huntley that made the score, 17-3.

The Steelers dominated time of possession in the second half, holding the ball for 20:17 of the final 30 minutes. Running back Jerome Bettis set the tempo, rushing for 78 of his 104 yards in the second half, including a 23-yard run to set up the Steelers' final score.

On the next play, Huntley ran left for 30 yards and a touchdown, to make the final score 24-3.

GAME 16

STEELERS 34 SAN DIEGO 21
Dec. 24, 2000

SAN DIEGO (Dec. 24, 2000) — The Steelers finished the 2000 season on a winning note, defeating the San Diego Chargers, 34-21, at Qualcomm Stadium.

However, the team's playoff hopes were ended when the Indianapolis Colts defeated the Minnesota Vikings to secure the final AFC Wild Card playoff berth.

The Steelers fell behind early when Ryan Leaf completed a 71-yard touchdown pass to former Steeler Jeff Graham on San Diego's first play from scrimmage to give the Chargers a 7-0 lead.

The Steelers responded immediately when Will Blackwell returned the ensuing kickoff 98 yards for a touchdown to tie the game at 7-7. Blackwell's return was the second longest in Steelers history and marked the first time Pittsburgh has returned a kickoff for a score since Blackwell returned a kick 97 yards for a touchdown on Oct. 5, 1997 at Baltimore.

The Chargers regained the lead when safety Rodney Harrison returned a Kordell Stewart interception 63 yards for a touchdown and a 14-7 San Diego lead.

The Steelers took control of the game in the second quarter by scoring 17 consecutive points. After a 35-yard punt return by rookie Hank Poteat placed the ball at the Pittsburgh 48, Courtney Hawkins capped a seven-play, 52-yard drive with his first touchdown catch of the season to tie the game at 14-14.

A 32-yard field goal by Kris Brown gave Pittsburgh a 17-14 lead. The Steelers increased their lead to 24-14 when Stewart scrambled 19 yards for a touchdown.

San Diego's Terrell Fletcher closed the score to 24-21 in the third quarter on a one-yard touchdown run following Stewart's second interception of the game.

But, Stewart extended Pittsburgh's lead to 31-21 on a one-yard run early in the fourth quarter. Brown added a 28-yard field goal with 4:07 left in the game to give the Steelers the 34-21 victory and secured their first winning season since 1997.

STEELERS HISTORY

The fifth-oldest franchise in the NFL, the Steelers were founded on July 8, 1933 by Arthur Joseph Rooney. Originally named the Pittsburgh Pirates, they were a member of the Eastern Division of the 10-team NFL. The other four current NFL teams in existence at that time were the Chicago (Arizona) Cardinals, Green Bay Packers, Chicago Bears and New York Giants.

One of the great pioneers of the sports world, Art Rooney passed away on August 25, 1988 following a stroke at the age of 87. "The Chief," as he was affectionately known, is enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame and is remembered as one of Pittsburgh's great people.

Born on January 27, 1901 in Coultersville, Pa., Art Rooney was the oldest of Daniel and Margaret Rooney's nine children. He grew up in Old Allegheny, now known as Pittsburgh's North Side, and until his death he still lived on the North Side just a short distance from Three Rivers Stadium.

Rooney attended St. Peter's Parochial School and Duquesne University Prep School. He studied collegiately at Indiana (Pa.) Normal, which is now Indiana University of Pennsylvania, as well as at Georgetown and Duquesne.

An exceptional all-around athlete, Rooney held middleweight and welterweight titles from the AAU Boxing Championships and was named to the U.S. Olympic Boxing Team in 1920, although he did not participate in the Olympic Games. He played minor league baseball from 1920-25 before a promising career was cut short by an arm injury. Rooney continued playing football for several semi-pro teams in the Pittsburgh area. He was married on June 11, 1931 to Kathleen McNulty, and the couple had five sons — Daniel, Art Jr., Tim, John and Pat. In 1964, Rooney was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame for his contributions to the growth of the NFL and the Pittsburgh Steelers.

By the mid-1960s, Steelers founder Art Rooney had begun to turn over much of the operation of the Steelers to his oldest son, Dan. After having worked in every area of the organization since 1955, Daniel M. Rooney was named president of the Steelers in 1975. In 2000, Dan Rooney was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame. He joined his his father Art to form only the second father-son tandem to be inducted into the Hall of Fame. Current New York Giants owner Wellington Mara and his father Tim were the first.

Now in his 46th year with the organization, he is one of the most active NFL owners and one of Pittsburgh's most involved executives in civic affairs. Among his community activities, Dan Rooney is a board member for The United Way of America, The American Ireland Fund, The American Diabetes Association, Presbyterian University Hospital, The Pittsburgh History and Landmarks Foundation and Duquesne University.

Dan Rooney has been a member of several NFL committees over the past 30 years. He has served on the board of directors for the NFL Trust Fund, NFL Films and the Scheduling Committee. He was appointed chairman of the Expansion Committee in 1973, which considered new franchise locations and directed the addition of Seattle and Tampa Bay as expansion teams in 1976.

In 1976 Rooney was also named chairman of the Negotiating Committee, and in 1982 he contributed to the negotiations for the Collective Bargaining Agreement for the NFL and the Players' Association. He again played a key role in the labor agreement reached between NFL owners and players in 1993. Rooney is currently a member of the eight-person Management Council Executive Committee, the Hall of Fame Committee, and the NFL Properties Executive Committee. In February 1999, he was named the recipient of the Philadelphia Maxwell Football Club's Francis J. "Reds" Bagnell Award for outstanding contributions to the game of football.

Daniel M. Rooney was born on Pittsburgh's North Side on July 20, 1932. He is a 1950 graduate of North Catholic High School, where he played quarterback on the varsity football team. He went on to graduate from Duquesne University in 1955 with a bachelor of arts degree in accounting. Rooney and his wife Patricia live on the North Side. The Rooneys have nine children.

1930s: After founding the Pirates in 1933, Art Rooney watched his club struggle through its first seven seasons with just 22 wins and five different head coaches. While home games were played at Forbes Field, Rooney often took his team to such cities as Johnstown, Latrobe, Youngstown, New Orleans, and Louisville in the 1930s due to competition with baseball and college football.

In 1938 Rooney signed Colorado All-America Byron "Whizzer" White to a $15,800 contract, making White the first "big money" player in the NFL. White led the league in rushing that year and is one of the NFL's most illustrious alumni. He served 31 years as a Justice of the United States Supreme Court before retiring in 1993.

1940s: In 1940 Rooney changed the team name to the Pittsburgh Steelers, representing the heritage of Pittsburgh. The first winning record in the organization's history came in 1942 when head coach Walt Kiesling led the Steelers to a 7-4 finish with the league-leading rushing of rookie Bill Dudley. But the next year Dudley joined the Armed Forces along with many other NFL players as the nation went to war. With rosters depleted, Rooney merged the Steelers with the Philadelphia Eagles in 1943 (Phil-Pitt "Steagles") and with the Chicago Cardinals (Card-Pitt) in 1944.

Rooney hired legendary Pitt coach Jock Sutherland in 1946, and Dudley returned from the war to earn NFL MVP honors, leading the league in rushing, interceptions, and punt returns. Today, Dudley is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Sutherland led the 1947 Steelers to an 8-4 record and a share of the Eastern division title, but they lost their first-ever postseason game, 21-0, to Philadelphia. Sutherland died suddenly the following spring while on a scouting trip.

1950s: Succeeding Sutherland, John Michelosen was head coach for the 1948-51 seasons, compiling a 20-26-2 record. In 1952 Joe Bach returned for his second stint with the Steelers, having coached the team previously in 1935-36. The Steelers became the last team to abandon the single wing for the T-formation in 1952.

Bach resigned for health reasons following the 1954 season and was replaced by assistant coach Walt Kiesling, who had been the Steelers' head coach twice previously. Kiesling's three stints covered the 1939-40, 1941-44, and 1954-56 campaigns.

1960s: Buddy Parker was named head coach in 1957 and over the next eight years he led the Steelers to five non-losing seasons. Hall of Fame quarterback Bobby Layne quarterbacked the team through three of those campaigns, leading the Steelers to a 9-5 mark and a playoff game vs. Detroit in 1962, which the Steelers lost 17-10. Parker completed his tenure with a 51-48-6 record and ranks third among all-time Steelers coaches for career wins.

On October 25, 1964, the Steelers made team history when they retired jersey No. 70 in honor of former defensive tackle Ernie Stautner. Stautner, who was inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame in 1969, remains the only Steelers player to have his jersey retired.

Brief stints by Mike Nixon in 1965 and Bill Austin from 1966-68 preceded the hiring of the 37-year-old Chuck Noll on January 27, 1969. Noll began to rebuild the Steelers through the draft, starting with the defense when he selected defensive tackle Joe Greene with his first choice in 1969. Today Greene is a member of the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

1970s: A 1-13 record in 1969 gave the Steelers the first overall choice in the 1970 draft, with which Noll addressed the offense by selecting quarterback Terry Bradshaw, another Hall of Famer, after the Steelers won the first selection by winning a coin toss with the Chicago Bears. Cornerback Mel Blount was added in the third round that year, followed by linebacker Jack Ham in 1971 and running back Franco Harris in 1972. In all, Noll drafted eight players who are now enshrined in the Hall of Fame including three in his first 20 picks and four of his first 38.

Two significant changes took place in 1970, when the Steelers moved from the NFL Century Division to the AFC Central with the merger of the American Football League and the NFL. The Steelers also moved into a new home as Three Rivers Stadium opened. Previously, the Steelers had played home games at Forbes Field from 1933-57 and at both Forbes Field and Pitt Stadium from 1958-63. From 1964-69 the Steelers played at Pitt Stadium until Three Rivers opened in 1970.

Gradual improvement in the early 1970s resulted in the team's first division title in 1972 with an 11-3 record. In the first playoff game at Three Rivers the Steelers defeated the Oakland Raiders 13-7 with Franco Harris' "Immaculate Reception" in the final minute. Despite a 21-17 loss the following week to the undefeated Miami Dolphins, the Steelers had reached a new plateau.

It took 40 years for the Steelers to finally win their first division title, but over the next decade they achieved a level of success unprecedented in professional football.

In 1973 the Steelers won a wild card playoff berth with a 10-4 record. Oakland avenged their loss from the previous year, however, with a 33-14 defeat of the Steelers in the playoffs.

The Steelers won their first of six consecutive AFC Central titles in 1974 and marched past Buffalo (32-14) and Oakland (24-13) en route to their first Super Bowl appearance in Super Bowl IX. The fierce Pittsburgh defense led the way to a 16-6 victory vs. the Minnesota Vikings, and Art Rooney was presented the Vince Lombardi Trophy for the first time.

In 1975 the Steelers won 11 straight games to finish 12-2 and claim their second consecutive division crown. After defeating Baltimore (28-10) and Oakland (16-10) in the playoffs the Steelers became the third team in NFL history, joining Green Bay and Miami, to win back-to-back Super Bowls with a 21-17 win versus the Dallas Cowboys in Super Bowl X.

The 1976 Steelers struggled to a 1-4 start before reeling off nine straight victories including five shutouts to win the division with a 10-4 mark. They defeated Baltimore 40-14 in the playoffs, but lost to Oakland, 24-7, after both starting running backs, Franco Harris and Rocky Bleier, were injured. The following year the Steelers dropped a 34-21 decision to Denver in the first round of the playoffs after posting a 9-5 regular-season record.

In 1978 the Steelers made history after a league-best 14-2 regular season and playoff wins versus Denver (33-10) and Houston (34-5). Their 35-31 Super Bowl XIII win versus Dallas made the Steelers the first team to win three Super Bowls.

Yet another standard was set the following year when the 1979 Steelers defeated the Los Angeles Rams, 31-19, in Super Bowl XIV to make them the first team in history to win four Super Bowls and the only team to win back-to-back Super Bowls twice. The Super Bowl victory followed a 12-4 regular season and playoff wins versus Miami (34-14) and Houston (27-13). With six consecutive AFC Central crowns, eight straight years of playoff appearances and four Super Bowl championships, the Steelers were tagged the "Team of the Decade" for the 1970s.

1980s: As the 1980s opened the Steelers stumbled, failing to make the playoffs in 1980 and 1981 with records of 9-7 and 8-8.

In 1982 the Steelers celebrated the team's 50th anniversary by qualifying for the playoffs with a 6-3 finish in a strike-interrupted season. During the season an anniversary banquet was held to commemorate the team's first 50 seasons and to honor the Steelers' all-time team as selected by fan voting. Thousands of fans were attracted to Pittsburgh for a week of activities and exhibits before the anniversary season was ended by San Diego's 31-28 win in the playoffs. This would be the last playoff game at Three Rivers until the 1992 season, a span of 10 years.

The 1983 Steelers won their eighth division title with a 10-6 record, but fell in the postseason, 38-10, to the Los Angeles Raiders. The following year the Steelers won their ninth division crown and the team advanced to the AFC Championship game with a 24-17 playoff win at Denver. A 45-28 loss to Miami in the AFC Championship game prevented the Steelers from a fifth Super Bowl appearance.

The Steelers' streak of 13 consecutive non-losing seasons came to an end in 1985 with a 7-9 finish, followed by 6-10 in 1986. Playoff hopes remained alive in 1987 until the Steelers lost their last two games to finish 8-7 during the strike-shortened season.

In 1988 the team suffered through its worst campaign in 19 years with a 5-11 record. The next season got off to a similar start with losses of 51-0 and 41-10 in the first two games as the offense failed to score in the first month of the season. But the young team fought back to finish 9-7 and earn a wild card playoff berth on the season's final weekend. An exciting 26-23 overtime playoff win in Houston was followed by a heartbreaking 24-23 divisional playoff loss at Denver in which the Steelers led until the final minutes.

1990s: A 9-7 finish in 1990 left the Steelers in a three-way tie for the AFC Central lead, but they were eliminated from playoff contention by a 2-4 division record. The 1991 team finished second in the division despite a 7-9 record, winning the last two games under Noll at home against the Cincinnati Bengals and Cleveland Browns.

On December 26, 1991 Noll announced his retirement from football after 39 consecutive seasons, the last 23 as the Steelers' head coach which made him one of only four men to coach the same team for 23 consecutive years. He left as the fifth-winningest coach in NFL history with an overall record of 209-156-1, and as the only coach to win four Super Bowls. Noll was rewarded in 1993 with his election to the Hall of Fame in his first year of eligibility.

A new era began in 1992 with the retirement of Noll and the arrival of 34-year-old Bill Cowher, the National Football League's youngest head coach at the time he assumed control. In the first season of the new era, the Steelers won the AFC Central division crown for the first time since 1984 with an 11-5 record. While the team enjoyed new-found success, Cowher was recognized by the Associated Press as the NFL's Coach of the Year and six Steelers played in the Pro Bowl, the most in more than a decade.

Under Cowher the Steelers became the first AFC team since the 1970 merger to claim its 10th division title. Their 11-5 record equaled the best in the conference and gave the Steelers the home field throughout the playoffs, but in the first postseason game at Three Rivers in exactly 10 years the Steelers were defeated by eventual AFC champion Buffalo, 24-3.

In 1993, the Steelers earned a wild card playoff berth, marking their first consecutive playoff appearances since the 1983-84 seasons. A 9-7 record was good for second place in the division, but the season ended in a 27-24 overtime loss at Kansas City in the AFC wild-card game.

The 1994 Steelers won seven of their final eight regular-season games for their strongest finish since 1978. They captured their second division title in three years with the AFC's best record of 12-4. After a 29-9 victory over the Cleveland Browns in the first round of the playoffs, Pittsburgh hosted their first AFC Championship game since 1979. The game went down to the wire and the Steelers lost to the San Diego Chargers, 17-13.

At 38, Bill Cowher became the youngest head coach to lead his team to a Super Bowl. Along the way, Cowher's team captured their third AFC Central division title in four years, made their fourth straight playoff appearance, and won the Steelers' first AFC title since 1979. After a first-round bye, they defeated the Buffalo Bills (40-21) and the Indianapolis Colts (20-16), before losing to the Dallas Cowboys, 27-17, in Super Bowl XXX in Tempe, Arizona.

In 1996, injuries forced Cowher to use 40 different starters during the course of the season. But the Steelers' "never-say-die" attitude led to a 10-6 finish and their fifth consecutive trip to the playoffs. Cowher earned his 50th regular-season win Nov. 3, 1996 in his 73rd game to become the eighth fastest to reach 50 wins. He ended the season with 57 career victories ranking him as the second winningest coach in team history, behind his predecessor Noll.

The Steelers captured their fourth consecutive AFC Central title in 1997, while posting an 11-5 record. They were one play away from earning their sixth Super Bowl appearance and lost to Denver, 24-21, in the AFC Championship game.

In 1998, the Steelers finished a disappointing 7-9, losing their last five regular-season games and missing the playoffs for the first time under Bill Cowher. It marked the first time that Cowher had been associated with a team with a losing record during his 14-year coaching career.

The Steelers suffered their second consecutive losing season under Cowher in 1999, when their record fell to 6-10, including a six-game losing streak. The Steelers fourth-place finish in the AFC Central was the team's worst finish under Bill Cowher.

2000s: After starting the 2000 season with an 0-3 record, the Steelers rebounded to win five straight games, finished the year at 9-7, and barely missed their seventh postseason appearance under Cowher during the final week of the season. Much of the team's success was the result of what many considered to be the finest coaching job of Cowher's career, combined with a resurgent running game that ranked fourth in the NFL and a defense that finished the year fifth overall.

However, 2000 may be remembered most for being the final season for the Steelers at Three Rivers Stadium. The Steelers were 4-4 during their final season at Three Rivers Stadium, including victories in four of their final six home games. The Steelers won their final game at Three Rivers, 24-3, over the Washington Redskins on Dec. 16.

The Steelers finished 31 seasons at Three Rivers Stadium (1970-2000) with an 182-73 home record, including the postseason. The final season saw the Steelers record their largest regular season home attendance figures (440,428) since 1998, including a season-high 58,183 fans during the final game in stadium history.
