GENE KLEIN

President

In the competitive, super-charged environment of pro football, Gene Klein has emerged as one of the game's strongest leaders. Klein's San Diego Chargers have become one of the National Football League's most successful and glamorous teams, regular participants in nationally-televised games, qualifiers for the postseason playoffs in each of the last four seasons, and parties to some of the greatest games of the era. The Chargers had sold out 32 consecutive season and playoff games entering the 1983 season.

Klein took over the Chargers in 1966 but did not become involved on a day-to-day basis until December, 1973, when he divested himself of most of his business interests other than the Chargers. The Los Angeles-based Klein charged others with the responsibility of running the football franchise.

Klein's first move after the team finished with a 2-11-1 record in 1973 was to appoint Tommy Prothro head coach. Klein named John Sanders general manager and Tank Younger assistant general manager a year later. Prothro, Sanders, and Younger all were well-versed in the important areas of player personnel and front-office administration. With this nucleus, Klein was able to construct a strong management staff and supervise the development of a team that became one of the most exciting and successful in football.

When Prothro resigned after the fourth game of the 1978 season, Klein selected Don Coryell as head coach. Coryell provided the final ingredient to success. The former San Diego State coach guided the Chargers to seven wins in their final eight games in 1978 and to division championships in 1979, '80 and '81.

Klein and his staff built the Chargers through the draft and with well-conceived trades; some of those trades brought such outstanding players as Ed White, John Cappelletti, Chuck Muncie, Kellen Winslow, Tim Fox, and Wes Chandler. The trades also allowed the Chargers to maneuver to three of the first 22 picks in the first round of the 1983 draft.

Klein headed a group that purchased the Chargers for $10 million from Barron Hilton Aug. 25, 1966. The acquisition was small in financial comparison to some of the transactions Klein has made in other areas of American business . . . but Klein had realized a lifelong ambition of owning a professional football team.

Eugene Victor Klein was born in New York City Jan. 29, 1921. He attended New York University and majored in electrical engineering until Dec. 8, 1941, the day after United States military installations were bombed in Pearl Harbor, Hawaii.

The 6-foot, 5-inch Klein enlisted in the Air Force and attained the rank of captain, serving as a bomber pilot in World War II. Klein went into the automobile business in Los Angeles's San Fernando Valley after the war and eventually became Western States distributor of the Volvo automobile.

In 1961 Klein assumed leadership of a company that had $80 million in assets. That company, renamed National General Corporation, became one of the largest corporations in the country under Klein's guidance. Among its holdings were Bantam Books, largest paperback publishing company in the world; Great American Insurance Company, and Grosset and Dunlap publishers. National General also was involved in motion picture production, distribution, and theaters. NGC had assets of $1.2 billion when Klein negotiated the sale of the company 12 years later.

Klein is among the most active NFL owners in civic and charitable projects. He is on the board of directors, Cedars Sinai Medical Center, Los Angeles. He is vice chairman, board of trustees, City of Hope. He is a member of the Los Angeles District Attorney Advisory Council, the Mental Health Association, Variety Club, Big Brothers Boosters, American Cancer Society, and National Cystic Fibrosis Foundation. Klein is a life member of the San Diego Hall of Champions and a member of the Board of Trustees of the San Diego Museum of Art, and the Palm Springs Desert Museum. Klein is also a member of the Board of Trustees, Eisenhower Medical Center, and the University of San Diego. He is on the board of directors of the Scripps Memorial Hospital Foundation.

Gene and his lovely wife Joyce maintain residences in Rancho Santa Fe and Palm Springs. Gene has a son, Michael Klein, and a daughter, Randee Shuken, both of whom are members of Chargers ownership.

Other members of Chargers ownership are former majority owner Hilton, Jack Foreman, Bill Fox, George Pernicano, John Quirk, Frank Rothman and Alexander Spanos.

DON CORYELL

Head Coach

11th NFL Season

6th Season with Chargers

Don Coryell's imprint on the National Football League becomes more distinct each year. The San Diego Chargers' head coach entered the 1983 season with the second-best won-loss percentage among active NFL coaches and was nearing a landmark 100 coaching victories, achieved by only 14 others in the 64-season history of the NFL.

Coryell's 89-49-1 (.644) record in the regular season was topped only by the .721 winning percentage of Miami's Don Shula through the 1982 season. Coryell's teams also have qualified for the NFL playoffs in each of the last four seasons and have made the playoffs in six of his 10 seasons as an NFL coach.

Coryell was appointed head coach of the Chargers by President Gene Klein Sept. 25, 1978. The Chargers lost three of their first four games under Coryell but won seven of the last eight and their overall record of 46-19 since the middle of the 1978 season is second only to Dallas' 47-18.

Donald David Coryell was born in Seattle Oct. 17, 1924. He played at Seattle's Lincoln High and joined the U.S. Army as a private in the ski troops upon high school graduation in 1943. Coryell was a first lieutenant in the paratroopers when he was discharged three-and-a-half years later and entered the University of Washington. Don played defensive back for the Huskies and was graduated with a bachelor of arts degree in 1950. He took a master's degree one year later and accepted his first coaching assignment as an assistant at Punahou Academy in Honolulu. Coryell was head coach at Honolulu Farrington in 1952, then coached two seasons at the University of British Columbia in Vancouver.

Coryell moved to the junior college ranks in Washington in 1955, taking over a Wenatchee team that had been winless the year before. Wenatchee was undefeated under Coryell, who became the athletic director and head coach at the Army base at Ford Ord, California, the following year. Ford Ord emerged as the only unbeaten service team in the country in 1956.

Coryell became head coach at Whittier College in 1957 and led the Poets to a 23-5-1 record, three Southern California Intercollegiate Athletic Conference championships and number-one ranking among U.S. small colleges in total offense and passing in 1959. Coryell then served one year as offensive backfield coach at the University of Southern California before taking over a downtrodden San Diego State program.

Don was named the San Diego Aztecs' head coach Jan. 14, 1961. Coryell immediately embarked on a strong recruiting program and whipped the Aztecs to a 7-2-1 comeback in his first season.

Over the next 11 seasons under Coryell, San Diego State became recognized for great offensive teams and the development of outstanding pro prospects. Among other achievements:

—San Diego State had unbeaten seasons of 11-0 in 1966, 9-0-1 in 1968, and 11-0 in 1969. The Aztecs won 25 games in a row from 1965-67, then went 31 games without defeat.

—Coryell was named College Division district coach of the year in 1963, '66, '67, and '68.

After a 10-1 season in 1972, Coryell was hired by the St. Louis Cardinals of the NFL.

His San Diego State record was 104-19-2.

The Cardinals were 4-9-1 in 1973, Coryell's first season, then put together records of 10-4, 11-3, and 10-4, winning NFC East championships in 1974 and 1975. Coryell was NFL and NFC coach of the year in 1974.

Don and his lovely wife, Aliisa, live in El Cajon and have a son, Mike (July 16, 1957), a graduate in physics from the University of California at San Diego, and a daughter, Mindy, who is the wife of Michael Lewis of El Cajon.

JOHN SANDERS

General Manager

32nd NFL Season

9th Season with Chargers

Few persons in football match the pro football knowledge, experience, and expertise of John Sanders, general manager of the Chargers since Feb. 16, 1976. Sanders was named National Football League executive of the year for 1979 by other NFL executives in a poll conducted by The Sporting News and the Chargers have enjoyed the most successful period in their history since Sanders was charged with the day-to-day operation of the franchise under President Gene Klein.

Sanders joined the Chargers as assistant to the president for player personnel Feb. 6, 1975, after a long association with the Los Angeles Rams, with whom Sanders worked in the areas of personnel and contracts as a scout and front-office executive.

Sanders has been involved with football almost from the time his family moved from San Antonio, Texas, where he was born July 26, 1922, to Van Nuys, California, in Los Angeles' San Fernando Valley. Sanders played football for the Van Nuys High Wolves and was a running back and three-year letterman (1946-48) at Occidental College in Eagle Rock, California.

Johnny was a starter on the 1948 Occidental team that had a 9-0 record, defeated Colorado A&M in the Raisin Bowl in Fresno, California, Jan. 1, 1949, and was the school's first unbeaten squad in 33 years. Sanders is a member of Occidental's Athletic Hall of Fame and Van Nuys Hall of Fame.

Johnny began teaching and coaching in the Los Angeles City Schools system after his graduation from college. He joined the Rams as a parttime scout in 1952 after having been associated with the team during training camps since 1946.

Sanders was head coach at North Hollywood High from 1951-58, posting a 50-16-1 won-lost record, advancing to the Los Angeles City championship game in 1955, and gaining the playoffs six times. Johnny moved to the new Grant High in 1959 and coached there until accepting an invitation from Rams owner Dan Reeves to join the organization fulltime in 1964 as director of player personnel.

Sanders served in that position until his appointment as assistant general manager March 3, 1969.

Johnny and his wife, Peggy, live in San Diego. They have a daughter, Pamela, and a son, Rob, who reside in Los Angeles.

PAUL (Tank) YOUNGER
Assistant General Manager
35th NFL Season
9th Season with Chargers

Tank Younger is in his thirty-fifth season in the National Football League.

Younger's career spans player, scout and administrator, beginning in 1949 as a fullback in the Los Angeles Rams' "Bull Elephant" backfield.

Younger played during what has been described as pro football's Golden Era and he contributed a historic footnote to that period as the first outstanding NFL player from a predominantly black Southern school. Younger was graduated in 1949 from Louisiana's Grambling College, where his size (6-3, 235) and power inspired the nickname Tank.

Younger was named assistant general manager of the Chargers June 17, 1975. He played for the Rams from 1949-57, and served them as a parttime scout from 1958-64 and as a fulltime scout from 1964-75. Younger also played for the Pittsburgh Steelers in 1958. His career totals included 3,640 yards rushing, a 4.7 average, and 35 touchdowns.

Paul Lawrence Younger was born June 25, 1928, in Grambling, Louisiana. He spent most of his early years in Los Angeles. Tank and his wife Lucille, a Los Angeles pediatrician, have a son, Howard (Aug. 31, 1956) and two daughters, Harriette (Dec. 21, 1957) and Lucy (March 6, 1961). Howard is a graduate of the University of Southern California with a degree in business. Harriette is attending medical school at Morehouse University, Atlanta, and Lucy is a graduate student in sociology at UCLA.

JACK TEELE
Assistant to the President
24th NFL Season
3rd Season with Chargers

Teele joined the Chargers April 15, 1981, after a long and distinguished career with the Los Angeles Rams.

Jack is one of the most experienced persons in pro football in the areas of public relations, ticket office operations, training camp, game management, and administration. He was the most prominent Rams official in the club's move from the Los Angeles Coliseum to Anaheim, working with stadium officials, architects for stadium expansion, contractors, and city management.

Teele's association with pro football began in 1957, when he was assigned to cover the Rams for the Long Beach Independent-Press Telegram newspaper. He joined the Rams as director of public relations in 1960. Teele was appointed Assistant to the President in 1969 and from 1978 served as Vice President, Administration.

Jack Earl Teele was born June 17, 1930, in Bloomington, Illinois. Teele played basketball for Long Beach Poly

High and for the first varsity basketball team at Long Beach State, 1951-52. He was named Long Beach State's Outstanding Alumnus in 1971 and to the Long Beach City College Hall of Fame in 1975. Jack served two years with the Army's Counter Intelligence Corps in Japan, 1952-54. He resides in San Diego with his wife (Marilyn). The Teeles have two daughters, Dana, who is Mrs. Robert Thurston, and Lisa, who is Mrs. Richard Owen.

JOHN TRUMP

Administrative Assistant

31st NFL Season

6th Season with Chargers

Trump joined the Chargers July 17, 1978, as administrative assistant for player personnel.

Trump is in charge of the player personnel department and coordinates scouting assignments and the NFL draft.

Trump's appointment in San Diego reunited John with Johnny Sanders, the Chargers' general manager who had started with Trump in the Los Angeles Rams' scouting department and who had played in the same back-field with Trump at Occidental College, Eagle Rock, California.

Trump was Little all-Coast and Little-all America as a running back and safety on the 1948 Occidental team. Trump also is a member of the Occidental Hall of Fame.

John became a high-school football and baseball coach in the Los Angeles City Schools in 1950. Three years later he began a 25-year association with the Rams.

He was born John Mountford Trump June 26, 1925, in Glendale, California. Trump played football for the Burbank High Bulldogs and was student body president. John and his wife Jean have two sons, Frank (Nov. 26, 1952), a scout for the Rams, and Richard (Dec. 25, 1954).

AUBREY (Red) PHILLIPS

Chief Scout

17th NFL Season

17th Season with Chargers

Red Phillips travels more than 100,000 miles a year researching college players for the San Diego Chargers' draft. Phillips joined the Chargers as a scout in 1967, and is on the road almost continually in the spring and fall, charting prospects, filing information, and updating records.

Red played collegiately as a center and linebacker at Texas Tech and professionally with Saskatchewan of the Canadian Football League. He coached at Texas Tech, Southwestern Louisiana, and Northwestern Louisiana.

Aubrey Clyde Phillips was born Nov. 14, 1929, in Abbott, Texas. He played football for the Paschal High Panthers in Fort Worth, Texas. Red and his wife Kay reside in Poway. They have three sons, Rusty (May 12, 1953), Mike (Oct. 20, 1955), and Tony (Jan. 11, 1966), and two daughters, Phyllis (May 17, 1964) and Amy (Feb. 2, 1970).

TOM BASS

Defensive Coordinator

20th NFL Season

6th Season with Chargers

Bass begins in his second season as the Chargers' defensive coordinator and his sixth year in the Chargers' organization. He coached for the Chargers from 1964-67 after serving as an assistant under Don Coryell at San Diego State from 1961-63. Bass rejoined the Chargers March 1, 1982, leaving the Tampa Bay Buccaneers, for whom he served as director of pro personnel when the franchise was formed in 1975, as an assistant offensive coach in 1976 and from 1977-81 as defensive coordinator.

Bass coached for the Cincinnati Bengals from 1968-69. He was out of football in 1970 and a Bengals scout from 1971-75. During that time Bass published two books of poetry, "Pro Football From The Inside," and "Fly Free My Love." He also served as a contributing editor to five Super Bowl game programs produced by National Football League Properties, Inc.

Thomas Lee Bass was born Aug. 2, 1935, at March Field Air Force Base, Riverside, California. He played high school football in Southern California for the San Bernardino Cardinals. Bass was a linebacker at San Jose State until he was stricken with polio in 1955, about one week before the distribution of the Salk Vaccine. Bass missed a year of school recovering from the disease and was forced to abandon his playing career. He became a student assistant coach at San Jose State while earning a degree in physical education and biological science and being graduated with academic distinction. Tom was a graduate student at San Diego State when he joined Don Coryell's first staff at the school in 1961.

Since joining the Chargers staff Bass has become a member of the Board of Trustees for the San Diego-based "Journal of Sports Literature."

Bass and his wife, Michelle, reside in Solana Beach. Both are actively involved in supporting the La Jolla Playhouse, located on the campus of University of California at San Diego. They have three sons, Michael (June 1, 1960), a placekicker drafted in the sixth round in 1983 and signed by the New England Patriots, Bobby (Nov. 13, 1964), and David (Oct. 19, 1966), and a daughter, Shana (May 7, 1971).

MARV BRADEN
Special Offensive Assistant
7th NFL Season
3rd Season with Chargers

Braden was named Special Offensive Assistant March 8, 1983. He has coached the special teams and assisted in the offensive game plan since his arrival from Denver February 17, 1981. Braden previously served as the Broncos' special team coach from 1977-80. Braden will continue to coach the special teams in addition to his new duties assisting on the field whenever possible to aid the smooth operation of the Chargers' offense.

The Chargers' appointment meant a return to San Diego for Braden. He served as head coach at United States International University, 1969-73, during which time his teams posted a 26-12-1 record. Braden's first head coaching post was at Northeast Missouri, 1967-68. Marv was defensive coordinator at Iowa State in 1973, and served as offensive coordinator at Southern Methodist, 1974-75, and at Michigan State, 1976.

Marvin Preston Braden was born January 25, 1938, in Kansas City, Missouri, where he played high school football for the Westport Tigers. Braden also played line-backer at Southwest Missouri, 1956-59.

Marv and his wife Becky have a daughter, Janice (Oct. 14, 1960). The Bradens live in Poway.

EARNEL DURDEN
Offensive Backfield
13th NFL Season
10th Season with Chargers

Durden's ten seasons as the Chargers' offensive backfield coach rank him first in seniority among the coaches. Durden's running backs had 267 rushing attempts last year (19th in the NFL) but their 1,121 rushing yards was eleventh best total and the combined 4.2 yards an attempt was bettered only by Dallas (4.4), the New York Jets (4.2) and Buffalo (4.3). Durden came to the Chargers from Houston, where he coached in 1973 after serving two years with the Los Angeles Rams, 1971-72. He coached on the collegiate level at Compton Junior College, Long Beach State, and UCLA.

Earnel was an all-American wingback on Oregon State's Rose Bowl team of 1956. He was Los Angeles City football player of the year in 1954 for the Manual Arts High Toilers.

He was born Earnel Durden Jan. 24, 1937, in Los Angeles. Earnel and his wife, June, live in La Mesa and have three sons, Mike (May 4, 1959), a rookie cornerback with the San Francisco 49ers out of UCLA; Kevin (Aug. 16, 1962), a safety at Idaho State, and Allan (Nov. 26, 1963), a sophomore starting free safety at Arizona.

DAVE LEVY

Offensive Coordinator/Offensive Line

4th NFL Season

4th Season with Chargers

Levy was named offensive coordinator February 16, 1983, after serving three seasons as the Chargers' offensive line coach. Levy came to the Chargers March 1, 1980, from the University of Southern California.

Levy's starting offensive linemen, nicknamed the "Guardian Angels" enjoyed another fine season protecting quarterbacks and opening holes for the Chargers' running game. The offensive line has allowed just one sack for every 31 passing attempts over the last two years. Levy also is developing a promising group of "Argonauts," who are the Chargers back-up offensive linemen.

Levy coached for sixteen years at the University of Southern California (1960-75). During this period USC appeared in the Rose Bowl eight times. The 1960 USC staff was the first put together by Trojans head coach John McKay and united Levy with fellow assistant Don Coryell, who chose Levy to replace Jim Hanifan on the Chargers staff in 1980. Levy also served as Assistant Athletic Director at USC from 1976-79.

David Allan Levy was born Oct. 25, 1932, in Carrollton, Missouri. Levy grew up in Long Beach, California, and played football for the Poly High Jackrabbits. Levy also played two seasons at Long Beach City College and was a guard at UCLA in 1953-54. He coached the UCLA frosh in 1954, assisted at Long Beach City in 1955, then returned to Poly High, becoming varsity coach in 1957 and compiling a 28-1-1 record in three seasons, capped by Southern California championships in 1958-59.

Dave and his wife, Barrie, reside in Solana Beach. They have two sons, John (July 17, 1955) and Robert (Oct. 23, 1958) and two daughters, Laurie (Oct. 24, 1948) and Gayle (Jan. 10, 1950).

AL SAUNDERS

Wide Receivers

1st NFL Season

1st Season with Chargers

Saunders replaced Ernie Zampese as wide receivers coach Feb. 16, 1983, when Zampese assumed his new duties as assistant head coach in charge of the passing game. Saunders was quarterback coach at the University of Tennessee in 1982. During the season the Volunteers set school records for most passing attempts (303), completions (178), percentage of completions (.587) and yards gained (2,049). Saunders was assistant head coach at the University of California from 1976-81. He directed an offense that set five national collegiate passing records behind quarterback Rich Campbell.

Saunders was offensive backfield coach at Utah State from 1973-75. He coached receivers at the University of Missouri in 1972. Saunders began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at the University of Southern California in 1970.

Saunders is a 1968 graduate of San Jose State where he earned academic All-American honors as a defensive back his senior year. He took his masters degree from Stanford University in 1970 before moving to USC for two years.

He was born Alan Keith Saunders Feb. 1, 1947, in London, England. His family moved to Ontario, Canada, when he was 5, and to San Diego when he was 10. Saunders played high school football for the St. Ignatius Wildcats in San Francisco. Saunders and his wife Karen have three children, Robert Charles (Nov. 28, 1976), William Joseph (March 21, 1979), Korrin Elizabeth (June 18, 1981). The Saunders reside in Scripps Ranch.

BIRT SLATER

Special Defensive Assistant

7th NFL Season

7th Season with Chargers

This is Slater's seventh year assisting the Chargers' defensive coaches. Slater's review and analysis of game films aid in the development of the defensive game plan. Slater came to the Chargers as one of the most successful and respected coaches in San Diego high school athletics.

Slater coached the Kearny High Komets from 1959-77. His teams won league championships 16 times and San Diego Section titles 3 times. The Komets also set a county record by winning 25 games in a row from 1963-65. Slater was an assistant coach on the powerful San Diego High teams from 1952-58 and his varsity track-and-field team at San Diego High won the Southern California championships in 1957.

Slater lettered three years in football at San Diego State, 1949-51, and was a starting end on the unbeaten, 11-0 team of 1951. He has a master's degree in human relations from U.S. International University in San Diego.

William Birt Slater was born July 2, 1924, in Culver City, California. Slater played football and was a half-miler in track for the Canoga Park High Hunters in Los Angeles' San Fernando Valley. Birt is married (Evelyn) and lives in Lemon Grove. The Slaters have a daughter, Christine (March 21, 1952), and two sons, John (July 22, 1954) and Steven (March 12, 1958).

JERRY SMITH

Defensive Line

27th NFL Season

7th Season with Chargers

Smith is in his seventh year as coach of the Chargers' defensive line. He has been responsible for the development of Pro Bowlers

Gary Johnson, Louie Kelcher and Fred Dean. Under the guidance of Smith, youngsters Keith Ferguson and Richard Ackerman blossomed last year.

Ferguson led the team with 5½ quarterback sacks, while Ackerman had 3 sacks in limited duty. The Chargers' defensive line set a club record and led the NFL with 60 sacks in 1980.

Smith's presence resulted in similar achievement by Baltimore's front four when he was an assistant coach with the Colts from 1973-76. The Colts led the NFL with 59 sacks in 1975 and were second with 57 in 1976. He also was the architect of Buffalo's championship defensive lines in 1964 and 1965.

Smith is one of the last remaining original American Football League coaches, having served on the staff of head coach Lou Saban with the Boston Patriots in 1960. He also has coached at New Orleans, Denver, Cleveland, and Houston. Smith posted a 2-3 record as Denver's head coach in 1970 after replacing Saban, who resigned.

Smith played linebacker for the University of Wisconsin from 1948-51. He was an eighth-round draft choice of the San Francisco 49ers in 1952 and played three seasons for San Francisco before entering the military. Smith concluded his playing career with Green Bay in 1957.

He was born Jerome Anthony Smith Sept. 9, 1930, in Dayton, Ohio, and played football for the Chaminade High Eagles. Jerry and his wife Shirley live in Poway. They have 3 daughters, Diane (Nov. 1, 1961), Meghan (Jan. 27, 1965), and Molly (Nov. 17, 1971), and two sons, Jeffrey (May 28, 1962) and Brian (May 15, 1963).

JIM WAGSTAFF

Defensive Backfield

14th NFL Season

3rd Season with Chargers

Wagstaff was named defensive backfield coach February 9, 1981. Jim had spent the previous three seasons as defensive backfield coach with the Buffalo Bills, for whom his units led the AFC in pass defense each year. Prior to the Bills, Wagstaff was coach of defensive backs at Los Angeles from 1973-77, during which time the Rams' secondary developed into one of the strongest in the NFC, leading the league in interceptions in 1976.

Jim came to the Rams after serving at Boise State as linebacker and secondary coach and defensive coordinator from 1969-72.

Wagstaff was a defensive back for the Buffalo Bills in the infant years of the American Football League (1960-61). After his graduation from Idaho State, where he played running back and cornerback, Wagstaff played one season with the Chicago Cardinals of the NFL before joining the Bills.

He was born James Burke Wagstaff June 12, 1936, in American Falls, Idaho. Wagstaff played football for the American Falls High Beavers. Jim and his wife Nancy have two daughters, Cary (Aug. 26, 1956), and Geniel (Feb. 11, 1959) and live in Poway.

CHUCK WEBER

Linebackers

27th NFL Season

4th Season with Chargers

This is Weber's second season as linebackers coach. Weber was named to the Chargers' staff March 2, 1982. He held the same position for the Chargers from 1968-69. Weber was defensive coordinator and coached the linebackers at Baltimore from 1980-81. Weber began his coaching career as defensive coordinator with the Boston Patriots, for whom he coached from 1964-67. Chuck moved from San Diego to Cincinnati, where he coached defensive backs from 1970-75. He also served as the Bengals' defensive coordinator from 1970-74. Weber joined Don Coryell's St. Louis staff for the 1976-'77 seasons, coaching defensive backs. Weber moved to Cleveland for the 1978-79 seasons, coaching defensive backs.

Weber played seven years in the NFL with the Cleveland Browns, Chicago Cardinals and Philadelphia Eagles. He was a rookie linebacker on the 1955 Cleveland NFL championship team and played on the Eagles' 1960 championship team before retiring in 1961.

A graduate of West Chester State College, Pennsylvania, Weber holds a masters degree in Administration from Temple University.

He was born Charles Frederick Weber Jr. in Philadelphia on March 25, 1930.

Chuck and his wife Ginnie have five children, sons Charles (Oct. 16, 1957), Wayne (Jan. 26, 1959), Bruce (Nov. 10, 1966), and Scott (June 13, 1968), and a daughter, Tracey (March 4, 1962). They reside in El Cajon.

ERNIE ZAMPESE

Assistant Head Coach

8th NFL Season

6th Season with Chargers

Zampese assumed the duties of Assistant Head Coach in charge of the passing game March 8, 1983. Zampese had been the Chargers' wide receivers coach for the previous four seasons. During that period the Chargers averaged 289.3 passing yards a game.

Regarded as one of the best pass offense minds in the NFL, Zampese has played a major role in the success of "Air Coryell." In 1982 the Chargers averaged an NFL-record 336 passing yards a game.

Zampese was defensive backfield coach with the Chargers in 1976, followed by a scouting assignment with the New York Jets in 1977-78.

Ernie was Southern California player of the year as running back for the Santa Barbara High Dons in 1953. He was a starting tailback at USC in 1955-56.

Zampese was graduated from Cal Poly of San Luis Obispo and earned a master's degree in physical education in 1962. He coached at Allan Hancock Junior College in Santa Maria, California, from 1962-65, and at Cal Poly (SLO) in 1966.

He was born Ernest Eugene Zampese March 12, 1936, in Santa Barbara. Ernie and his wife, Joyce, have four children, daughters Kristin (May 26, 1962), and Laurie (Nov. 22, 1963), and sons Kenneth (July 19, 1967) and Jon (July 23, 1975).

PHIL TYNE

Conditioning Coach

6th Season with Chargers

Tyne established the Chargers "400- and 300-pound bench press club" this year as part of his off-season weightlifting incentive program. Tyne is in charge of the weightlifting, conditioning and stretching programs for the Chargers. Tyne also has established conditioning programs for the San Diego Sockers soccer team and the U.S. Olympic volleyball team.

Phil attended Ohio State University and was graduated from San Diego State in 1976 with a bachelor's degree in athletic medicine. He is working toward a master's degree in that field. He is the author of "Total Flexibility," Tyne's first publication on stretching and fitness.

He was born Phillip James Tyne Oct. 17, 1947, in Columbus, Ohio. Phil is single and resides in La Mesa.

SID BROOKS

Equipment Manager

11th Season with Chargers

Brooks joined the Chargers February 7, 1973, a few months before discharge after 20 years in the U.S. Air Force.

Brooks served in both the Korean and Vietnam wars during his military career. He was awarded 28 service medals including the Meritorious Service Medal and was Air Force Academy Senior Non-Commissioned Officer of the Year in 1969. Brooks was Outstanding Airman of the Year in 1970 and Outstanding Airman 1972. He also was chairman of the National Amateur Athletic Union and Junior Olympics Championships in 1971. Sid was stationed at the Air Force Academy, Colorado Springs, Colorado, from 1968-73, and was in charge of the Cadet Athletic Supply during that time. He also holds Associate of Arts degree in four areas of specialization: business management, fashion merchandising, purchasing and materials, and industrial supervision.

Sidney Joseph Patrick Brooks was born March 17, 1935, in Saint Genevieve, Missouri. Sid and his wife, Gerri, reside in Tierrasanta and have three sons, Joe (Dec. 15, 1959), Michael (Nov. 5, 1961), and Brett (Jan. 24, 1969), and a daughter, Alison (May 2, 1965).

RIC McDONALD

Trainer

12th Season with Chargers

McDonald came to the Chargers in 1971 after spending two years as the trainer for United States International University. McDonald was promoted from assistant trainer to his present position in 1972.

He was born Thomas Richard McDonald April 10, 1943, in Salt Lake City, Utah. Rick played football for the East High Leopards and is a 1967 graduate of the University of Utah, with a degree in physical education. He holds a certificate in physical therapy from the University of California. He has a master's degree in P.E. from USIU. Ric is married (Jan), with a son, Bennett (July 3, 1981), daughter, Megan (Aug. 8, 1982), and resides in Tierrasanta.

decided games for Chargers—22-yard placement with 13 seconds remaining that topped visiting Kansas City 22-20 Nov. 1, 1981; 29-yard kick with 45 seconds left provided a 24-23 triumph at Tampa Bay Dec. 13, 1981; and 29-yard field goal after 13:52 of overtime for decisive points in Chargers' 41-38 playoff victory at Miami Jan. 2, 1982 . . . 28-yarder after 7:14 of overtime gave San Diego 27-24 victory at Miami Nov. 20, 1980 . . . holds Chargers' record for most career attempts (133), most attempts in a season (36 in 1980), most field goals (98) . . . has hit 4 field goals in game twice—Sept. 2, 1979 at Seattle and Dec. 22, 1980, versus Pittsburgh . . . hit Chargers-record 53-yarder at Denver Sept. 21, 1980 . . . streak of 16 consecutive field goals from Nov. 5, 1978 through Sept. 14, 1980, is team record and tied for third longest in NFL history . . . Chargers waived Toni Fritsch at end of 1977 preseason to make room for Benirschke who was claimed on waivers from Oakland . . . was Raiders' 12th round draft choice and the 334th and next-to-last player chosen in the 1977 NFL draft.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL Born Rolf Joachim Benirschke Feb. 7, 1955, in Boston, Massachusetts . . . became interested in soccer at age 5 and continued to participate in soccer as part of conditioning programs for youth skiing and ice hockey teams on which he competed in Hanover, New Hampshire . . . moved to San Diego in tenth grade and was persuaded by a friend to turn out for football as soccer-style placekicker for La Jolla High Vikings in his senior season, 1972 . . . received scholarship to the University of California at Davis and was graduated in 1977 with degree in zoology . . . played both soccer and football . . . made 29 of 43 field-goal attempts in four years, including 10 in a row and 14 of 19 in senior year . . . made 58 of 60 points after touchdown and 145 career points, including long of 52-yard field goal . . . father, Dr. Kurt Benirschke, born in Germany, is internationally acclaimed pathologist and conservationist and is director of research at San Diego Zoo and professor of reproductive medicine and pathology at UC San Diego Medical School . . . it was with father's assistance that Rolf established "Kicks for Critters" after 1979 season . . . Benirschke donates $50 after each field goal and supporters of the program responded with matching donations that resulted in $76,000 being raised in 1980 and $160,000 in 1981, and $140,000 in 1982 for projects that aid in research for the preservation of endangered species . . . Rolf also is the National Sports Council co-chairman for the National Foundation for Ileitis and Colitis and participates in numerous other charities in San Diego area . . . named one of five finalists in the Miller/NFL "Man of the Year" with winner Joe Theismann, James Lofton, Marty Lyons, and Reggie Williams . . . Rolf's life will be dramatized in the pilot show of the return of the hit series "This is Your Life" by Ralph Edwards Production to air this fall . . . during 1978 season Benirschke began experiencing stomach discomfort which doctors later diagnosed as Crohn's Disease, a chronic intestinal ailment . . . discomfort subsided but reoccurred in 1979 training camp . . . in pain and losing weight and strength, Benirschke kicked 4 field goals in 4 attempts, tying a team record, in an opening game, 33-16 victory at Seattle Sept. 2, 1979 . . . his condition deteriorated until Rolf was placed on injured reserve Sept. 29, 1979, and admitted to University Hospital in San Diego . . . almost died as the result of complications surrounding two surgical procedures . . . San Diegans did not see him again until Oct. 18, 1979, after his weight dropped from 174 to 123 and Benirschke was feeling well enough to visit his former teammates in lockerroom before an important game with Pittsburgh . . . teammates named Rolf an honorary captain for the game and he walked to the middle of the field for the pregame coin toss . . . determined rehabilitation and comeback in 1980 resulted in Rolf's being honored throughout the country for his courage . . . NFL Player's Association honored him as "hero of the year" and Philadelphia Sports Writers' Association named him "most courageous athlete" of 1980 . . . named "Sports Headliner of the Year" in 1980 by the San Diego Press Club . . . his intestinal concerns finally were eliminated early in 1982 when doctors at New York City's Mount Sinai Hospital determined that Benirschke had been suffering from Ulcerative Colitis and not chronic Crohn's Disease . . . single . . . lives in La Jolla.

Rolf Benirschke . . .

"When I get put in pressure situations, instead of being scared to death of them, I really enjoy the moment. We're all so caught up in the fear of failure that we forget to enjoy it. The moments are great."

Draft 1—'81

Quick and versatile runner led the NFL for second straight year with 1,383 all-purpose yards . . . averaged 153.7 yards a game rushing, receiving, and returning for the 9 games of strike-shortened 1982 season, tops in the NFL . . . 1981 total of 2,093 yards, with average of 149.5 yards over 14 games, is third highest for first-year player in NFL behind 2,272 of Chicago's Gale Sayers in 1966 and 2,100 of Dallas Texans' Abner Haynes in 1960 . . . accounted for more yards during season and per game than any other NFL player besides quarterbacks . . . earned more total yards than three NFL teams (St. Louis, Miami, and New England) earned passing in 1982 . . . ranked eleventh in the AFC in rushing with 430 yards and combined with Chuck Muncie's 569 yards to form the third most productive 1-2 punch in NFL . . . their combined total of 999 yards was third to Buffalo's Joe Cribbs and Roosevelt Leaks (1,038 yards) and New England's Tony Collins and Mark van Eeghen (1,018 yards) . . . Chargers' "Little Big Man" finished second in the AFC to Denver's Rick Upchurch with an average of 11.5 on 12 punt returns after finishing first in the AFC and second in the NFL to the Rams' Leroy Irvin in 1981 with an average of 13.2 yards on 22 returns . . . College and Pro Football News Weekly named this hardnosed runner all-AFC kick returner in 1981 . . . Brooks was twenty-fourth player and third running back (behind New York Jets' Freeman McNeil and Baltimore's Randy McMillan) chosen in 1981 NFL draft.

1981 Turned in dynamic performance in rookie season averaging 4.8 yards for 109 rushing attempts and scored three touchdowns . . . also caught 46 passes with 3 touchdowns . . . had biggest all-around game of career in Oakland Nov. 22 with 282 total yards including rookie high of 97 yards rushing . . . gained 250 total yards the game before at Seattle for two-game total of 532 yards . . . added two touchdown receptions in Miami playoff game Jan. 2, 1982; the second, a 9-yard strike from Dan Fouts with 58 seconds remaining in the game, providing the tying touchdown in game San Diego eventually won 41-38 in overtime . . . missed two 1981 games with hamstringing injury, Seattle Oct. 4 and Minnesota Oct. 11, and still led NFL in all-purpose yardage.

1982 Gained more than 100 yards for the first time in career, amassing 105 yards and 3 touchdowns on 12 carries versus Cincinnati Dec. 20 . . . also exploded for longest run of career in game, 48-yard touchdown spurt through the middle of the line . . . carried career high 22 times in Cleveland Dec. 5 for 96 yards and 2 touchdowns . . . ran 19 times versus Denver the week before . . . two-game total of 41 carries bettered 28 carried in Weeks 12 and 13 of 1981 . . . top all-purpose game of year came versus Baltimore in Week 9 when Brooks picked up 204 total yards, his fourth game with more than 200 yards.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL Born James Robert Brooks Dec. 28, 1958, in Warner Robins, Georgia . . . averaged 5.7 yards for 621 rushes in four seasons at Auburn University, culminating with Associated Press and United Press International second-team all-America selections as senior . . . averaged 164.9 yards rushing for 26 starting appearances . . . averaged 7.6 yards each time he touched ball in 38 games . . . played in same backfield in 1978 with other future NFL stars Williams Andrews (Atlanta) and Joe Cribbs (Buffalo) . . . with junior Andrews basically a blocking back for freshman Brooks and sophomore Cribbs, Brooks played behind Cribbs as freshman and split time as sophomore . . . Cribbs moved to the fullback position when Brooks was a junior . . . Auburn's career rushing leader with 3,523 yards and single-season rushing leader with 1,314 in 1980 . . . led East team with 53 yards in 8 carries in January, 1981, Hula Bowl in Honolulu . . . rushed for more than 3,000 yards and scored 45 touchdowns in three seasons for Warner Robins High Demons teams that posted 31-2 record, concluding with 13-0 mark and designation as co-national high school champion with Cincinnati Moeller in 1976 . . . resides in Warner Robins with wife Donna and son James Darnell (April 17, 1979).

Don Coryell, Chargers' Head Coach . . .

"He's tough as a boot. For a small man, it's hard to believe how Brooks runs through people. Brooks has such tremendous strength and explosion for a little guy."

Earnel Durden, Chargers' Offensive Backfield Coach . . .

"He's a winner. He's the kind of guy you have to surround yourself with to win in this league."

Don Coryell, Chargers' Head Coach . . .

"We're only doing what we do because of Dan. He has such a flexible mind."

Bill Walsh, 49ers' Head Coach . . .

"Dan is enormously strong once he sets to throw and he has no fear about being hit. Dan Fouts is the best leader I've seen."

Joe Gibbs, Redskins' Head Coach . . .

"Dan is just a natural leader. In the huddle, he's in charge. He's as determined a football player as you'll find. He'll stand back there in the pocket longer than any quarterback I've seen."

Lester Hayes, Los Angeles Raiders . . .

"That guy isn't human. It's bleeping unbelievable the way he throws the ball. He's not only the best quarterback I've played against, he's the best I've ever seen."

Chuck's last name was misspelled on birth certificate . . . married (Robyn) with daughter Danielle Raquele (Feb. 1, 1983) . . . resides in Tierrasanta district.

Don Coryell, Chargers' Head Coach . . .

"He's big and very, very strong. He always gets a couple more yards than he should because he takes people with him."

Larrye Weaver, Browns' Offensive Coordinator . . .

"He is power. He's like a machine in a lot of ways. When he's turned on, he's a combination of a lot of people. Jimmy Brown is one of them and he's got some of Earl Campbell in him in that he can drag people with him. But he's unique in himself because he is Muncie. He hasn't emulated anybody."

Fifth Year

Draft 1—'79

Premier player at his position and perhaps the most influential offensive player of the eighties, the era of "Air Coryell," and the prime of this magnificent athlete, who combines the classic skills of size, speed, intelligence, and courage . . . Pro Bowler Winslow has the ability to line up and create havoc from a slot formation, out wide, in the backfield, or in motion . . . pass-catching total of 256 is most for any player in his first four seasons; this despite a rookie season of just 25 catches . . . Winslow's first year ended in the seventh game when he sustained a broken bone in his right leg against Seattle Oct. 14 . . . led NFL in receptions in 1980-81 and was second with 54 catches in 1982 behind the 60 of San Francisco's Dwight Clark, who has 245 receptions in his first four seasons . . . Winslow also leads all NFL receivers over the last four seasons, with the Chargers' Charlie Joiner second at 249 and Wes Chandler third at 248 . . . tenure as top tight end in NFL continued through 1982 as Winslow gained berth on every all-Pro squad for third consecutive year . . . named for third straight time to first team all-Pro squads of Associated Press, Newspaper Enterprise Association, Professional Football Writers of America, and The Sporting News . . . also named again to all-AFC squads of United Press International and Pro Football News Weekly . . . received top acclaim among fellow players by garnering third start in AFC-NFC Pro Bowl . . . earned offensive-player-of-game honors in Pro Bowl following 1981 season with 6 catches for 86 yards . . . named NFL Tight End of the Year by NFL Alumni in first year of NFL Alumni awards . . . San Diego Hall of Champions Co-Professional Star of November, 1982, after earning Co-Professional Star of the Year Award in 1981 with Dan Fouts . . . one of the most important acquisitions the Chargers have made in the last several years . . . team President Gene Klein consummated a trade with Cleveland 10 seconds before the 15-minute deadline in first round of 1979 NFL draft . . . the Chargers gave Cleveland their twentieth and forty-seventh choices in the draft for Cleveland's thirteenth selection, and then chose Winslow.

1979 A brilliant rookie season came to an end in the seventh game, when Winslow, leading the team with 25 receptions, suffered a broken bone in his right leg and was lost for the year.

1980 Came of age in second game of season against Oakland . . . caught 9 passes for 132 yards and his 25-yard touchdown reception in third quarter tied game 17-17 and set stage for exciting 30-24 overtime victory by San Diego . . . had career high 171 yards receiving on 10 catches in final regular-season game, a 26-17 triumph over Pittsburgh that gave Chargers second straight AFC West title . . . Winslow's 89 catches bettered Chargers record of 73 by Lance Alworth in 1966, and was fifth-highest one-season total in NFL history . . . earned consensus all-Pro and all-AFC honors and was starting tight end for AFC Pro Bowl squad.

1981 Winslow's record-setting performance at Oakland Nov. 22—13 catches, 5 for touchdowns—set Chargers record for most points in game with 30 . . . Winslow ended season with 88 catches, catching at least 2 passes in each regular and postseason game . . . averaged 7 receptions over final 6 regular-season games and both postseason games . . . Winslow's ability and desire never was more evident than in Chargers' playoff victory in Miami . . . bruised and exhausted, Winslow was helped from the field several times, only to return . . . blocked 43-yard field goal attempt by Miami's Uwe von Schamann with :04 remaining to send the game into overtime . . . scored only Charger touchdown in 27-7 loss in Cincinnati in AFC Championship on 33-yard screen play.

1982 Caught fire following strike and exceeded 100-yard receiving mark five of first six games and six of nine games including postseason . . . caught three touchdown passes twice in 1982, versus Denver in Week 4 and versus Baltimore in Week 8, both times exceeding 100 yards . . . top reception day was at San Francisco in Week 6 with 9 catches for 101 yards . . . top yardage day was versus Baltimore with 120 yards . . . averaged 4 catches in season's first two games and averaged 6.6 catches in 7 regular season games following strike . . . made back-to-back touchdown catches in fourth quarter of Chargers' 31-28 win at Pittsburgh in first round of playoffs . . . Chargers were down 28-17, when Winslow caught first TD pass with 8:42 remaining and made tough run on screen pass from Fouts with one minute remaining to score winning touchdown.

COLLEGE, PERSONAL Born Kellen Boswell Winslow Nov. 5, 1957, in St. Louis, Missouri . . . caught 71 passes for 1,089 yards and 10 touchdowns in four seasons at Missouri . . . led Tigers with 29 catches, 16.5 average, and 6 touchdowns in 1978 . . . consensus all-America and played in Liberty Bowl, East-West Shrine game and Senior Bowl . . . led East-West receivers with 6 catches for 125 yards . . . grew up across Mississippi River in East St. Louis, Illinois, and did not play football for East St. Louis High Flyers until senior year . . . threw discus 172 feet as high schooler . . . likes to play chess . . . was selection on Walter Camp Foundation all-America squad in 1979 . . . commissioner of Kellen Winslow Flag Football League started in San Diego in 1982 offseason . . . member of San Diego Police Department's reserve program dealing with recruitment and community relations . . . married (Katrina) and resides in Tier-rasanta district of San Diego.

Don Coryell, Chargers' Head Coach . . .

"He has a lot of great capabilities, real size, and is very intelligent. Because of that intelligence, we can do a lot of things with him—motion, shifting, that kind of thing."

Don Shula, Dolphins' Head Coach . . .

"When you think about Winslow, you think about Superman. He does it all, climbs the highest buildings."

Ernie Zampese, Chargers' Assistant Head Coach . . .

"He could catch 100 balls a season easy if we wanted him to. Be we prefer to move the ball around among all our receivers."

Game by Game

Week 1

San Diego 23, at Denver 3 Sunday, Sept. 12

Quarterback Dan Fouts marshaled 88- and 80- yard touchdown drives in the second half as San Diego pulled away from the Denver Broncos for the Chargers' second victory in Mile High Stadium since 1968. The Chargers had won in Denver in 1980 and had tied in 1971 and their overall record was 1-11-1 for 13 prior appearances. Rolf Benirschke kept the Broncos at a distance with field goals of 50, 24, and 40 yards, the third coming after 5:08 of the third quarter. He was short and wide to the left on a 58-yard attempt, longest in club history. Fouts completed 11 of 16 passes for 154 yards and one touchdown in the second half, a period in which the Chargers outgained the hosts 241 yards to 137. San Diego forced six Broncos turnovers and shut them out over the last 41 minutes.

Week 2

Kansas City 19, San Diego 12 Sunday, Sept. 19

Kansas City cornerback Gary Green blocked a Maury Buford punt on the opening series of the game and linebacker Dave Klug covered the ball in the endzone for a touchdown that gave the Chiefs a lead they never surrendered. The San Diego defense did not allow a touchdown for the second straight game, but four Nick Lowery field goals proved the difference. The victory was Kansas City's first over San Diego since 1978. Chuck Muncie carried the ball 12 times for 52 yards and passed the ball 17 yards to Wes Chandler for the Chargers' first score of the game in the third quarter.

Week 3

Los Angeles Raiders 28, San Diego 24

Monday, Nov. 22

San Diego broke to a 24-0 lead on a 19-yard Rolf Benirschke field goal, a 29-yard scoring pass from Dan Fouts to Dwight Scales and plunges of 2 and 1 yards by Chuck Muncie. A fumble led to the Raiders first score at the end of the first half. Dan Fouts put his name aside that of John Unitas, throwing for 357 yards to tie Unitas for the career lead in 300-yard games with 26. Both Kellen Winslow and Wes Chandler caught passes for more than 100 yards, Winslow catching 8 for 105 yards and Chandler 7 for 118.

Week 4

San Diego 30, Denver 20

Sunday, Nov. 28

The Chargers won their eighteenth home opener in 23 attempts. Dan Fouts and Kellen Winslow connected on scoring passes of 3, 28, and 2 yards and Rolf Benirschke converted field goals of 41, 18, and 42 yards. San Diego took a 17-10 lead into the second half. After the Chargers were halted on their first possession of the second half, the Broncos took over on offense and started a succession of five turnovers by the two clubs. The final turnover came on a sack of Broncos quarterback Steve DeBerg by the Chargers' Rick Ackerman which gave the Chargers the ball on Denver's 5-yard line where they converted a field goal to take the lead, 20-17. Denver tied the score at 20-20 before Winslow caught his third touchdown pass and Benirschke connected on his third field goal.

Week 5

San Diego 30, at Cleveland 13

Sunday, Dec. 5

The Chargers used 36 rushes on the wet, muddy Cleveland Stadium field for 130 yards, and a 18-23-252 performance by Dan Fouts en route to the victory. The Browns had not given up a first quarter point all year until the Chargers scored on two, one-yard Chuck Muncie runs. The first score came after a Mike Williams interception, the second on a 9-play, 54-yard drive following a 26-yard punt return by James Brooks. After a Matt Bahr field goal of 46 yards, Brooks scored on runs of 1 and 11 yards to give the Chargers a 27-3 halftime lead. Cleveland closed the deficit to 27-13 late in the third quarter. A Rolf Benirschke 24-yard field goal and stingy defense by the Chargers completed the 30-13 San Diego victory.

Week 6

San Diego 41, at San Francisco 37

Saturday, Dec. 11

The Chargers and 49ers combined for 1,009 total yards and they scored 10 touchdowns in an offensive battle won by San Diego. The teams set an NFL record with 65 complete passes. Quarterback Dan Fouts tied a club record with 444 yards passing, the third 400-yard performance of his career. Fouts completed 33 passes for the third time in his career to tie a club record. The five touchdown passes by Fouts were one short of his personal and club best of six set in Oakland Nov. 22, 1981. The Chargers' starting trio of receivers—Wes Chandler, Charlie Joiner and Kellen Winslow—all had at least 100 yards receiving, the third time by Chargers receivers. Charlie Joiner moved into ninth on the all-time list with 523 career catches. San Diego leads the NFL averaging 408 yards a game. The game was tied twice and had four lead changes. The final score came on Fouts' fifth touchdown pass of the day, a 3-yard toss to Chuck Muncie with 3:22 remaining in the game.

Week 7

San Diego 50, Cincinnati 34

Monday, Dec. 20

The Chargers set four team records, including one record for 661 total yards, while defeating the defending AFC Champion Bengals. San Diego trailed by 10 points twice in the first half before scoring 19 unanswered points to take a 33-24 lead with 10:06 remaining in the third quarter. The sequence began with a 43-yard Rolf Benirschke field goal at the end of the first half. The Chargers took the second-half kickoff and marched 82 yards in 8 plays to tie the score at 24. A Gary Johnson sack of Ken Anderson in the endzone resulted in a 2-point safety. San Diego then took the Bengals' free kick and moved 53 yards in 3 plays with Dan Fouts hitting Wes Chandler on a 38-yard touchdown strike to give the Chargers a 33-24 lead. The teams exchanged a touchdown and field goal before James Brooks ended the scoring with a one-yard touchdown run.

Week 8

San Diego 44, Baltimore 26

Sunday, Dec. 26

The Chargers won their fifth game in a row and secured a playoff position with the victory. San Diego scored 23 points in a period of 14:08 spanning the first and second quarters. Baltimore converted a 46-yard field goal with :05 remaining to make the score 23-3 at half-time. The Colts pulled to within 10 points at 13-23 midway through the third quarter. San Diego took the next possession 75 yards, with James Brooks rushing nine yards on the ninth play of the drive for a touchdown. The Chargers increased their lead to 37-13 on a 44-yard touchdown pass from Dan Fouts to Wes Chandler. Kellen Winslow's third touchdown catch of the day, a 28-yarder, was sandwiched between two Colts touchdowns to produce the final score.

Week 9

Los Angeles Raiders 41, at San Diego 34

Sunday, Jan. 2, 1983

San Diego was defeated by the Raiders after rallying from a 20-3, third quarter deficit to take a 27-20 lead with 10:21 remaining in the fourth quarter. Touchdown runs by Marcus Allen of 2 and 22 yards, and a 52-yard interception return by James Davis offset a 4-yard touchdown run by Dan Fouts and gave the Raiders the margin of victory. Wes Chandler had his fourth consecutive 100-yard receiving performance, catching 6 passes for 138 yards. Dan Fouts became the Chargers' all-time career passing yards leader. With 303 yards, he now has 27,145 passing yards, surpassing the team record of 26,938 by John Hadl. Charlie Joiner surpassed the 9,000-yard mark in receiving yards, one of five receivers in NFL history. Chuck Muncie ran for more than 100 yards for the second consecutive week amassing 129 yards.

Week 10

San Diego 31, at Pittsburgh 28

Sunday, Jan. 9, 1983

The Chargers, the fifth-seeded AFC team in the Super Bowl Tournament, played the opening round of the playoffs on the road for the first time, facing the AFC's fourth-seeded team, Pittsburgh. Trailing 14-3 with 4:54 remaining in the first quarter, the Chargers took a 17-14 lead into the lockerroom at halftime on the strength of an 18-yard James Brooks touchdown run, and a 10-yard Dan Fouts scoring pass to Eric Sievers. With 14:10 remaining in the game, Fouts threw an 8-yard touchdown strike, on fourth down, to Kellen Winslow to move San Diego within 4 points at 28-24. With 3:59 left to play, San Diego mounted its winning drive, an 8-play, 64-yard march climaxed when Fouts hit Winslow on a screen pass that Winslow carried 12 yards to victory. The workhorse of the Chargers' offense was Chuck Muncie who gained 126 yards on 25 attempts. It was Muncie's third-straight 100-yard performance and second-straight against league's number one rated defense against the run. Fouts threw for 333 yards, the fifth time with more than 300 yards in six playoff games.

Week 11

Miami 34, San Diego 13

Sunday, Jan. 16, 1983

San Diego and Miami met for the second-straight year in the playoffs with the Dolphins turning the outcome around, winning 34-13. The game matched San Diego, with the league's top offense averaging 450.4 yards a game, versus Miami and the NFL's top defense, allowing 256.9 yards a game. Miami took a 24-0 lead in the second quarter as San Diego did the year before in the first quarter. San Diego tightened the score on a 28 yard touchdown pass from Dan Fouts to Charlie Joiner and a 1 yard touchdown run by Chuck Muncie.

THE NFL "MAN OF THE YEAR" CITIZEN-ATHLETE AWARD

A VERY SPECIAL HONOR

The NFL "Man of the Year" award, sponsored by Miller High Life, has been created to honor the outstanding "Citizen Athlete" of the National Football League. The NFL "Man of the Year" is not only a great football player, he's a man who has given freely of his time and energy to make significant contributions to his community. Selected by sports fans throughout the country, a top player from each NFL team is chosen, with the "Man of the Year" announced at the 1983 Pro Bowl.

WINNING TEAMWORK

Only you can help make your favorite Charger the NFL "Man of the Year." Through your voting, Miller High Life will donate $36,000 to college scholarship funds, with the largest share going to a college in the "Man of the Year's" community.

ROLF BENIRSCHKE

Rolf's "Kicks for Critters" program has generated more than $376,000 for the Endangered Species wing of the San Diego Zoo. Rolf also is the honorary chairman of the Chargers/San Diego Blood Bank annual drive which has resulted in more than 3,330 pints of donated blood in four years. Benirschke is national sports chairman of the National Federation of Ileitis and Colitis. Rolf also served as the local sports chairman of the 1983 United Way campaign. Benirschke is annually the master of ceremonies for the greater San Diego Special Olympics Track and Field Meet. American Cancer Society, March of Dimes, and the KPBS auction for public television have all benefitted from Benirschke's public service.

Macek and his other four starting teammates on the offensive line are the chairmen of the Penny-a-Point program that benefits Children's Hospital of San Diego. Macek spends much of his off-season working with the San Diego Police Department visiting area schools and recreation centers. Macek also serves as a counselor with Job Corp., and is a member of the Charger players' basketball team.

KELLEN WINSLOW

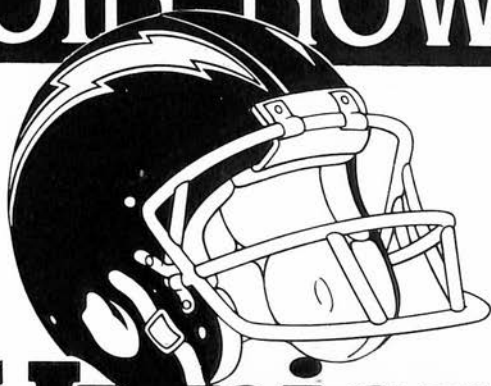

In 1982 Winslow established the "Kellen Winslow Flag Football League" for youngsters between 7-13. Winslow's desire was to provide an avenue for youth to learn the basic skills of football while participating in a non-contact environment. Winslow makes an annual visit to the Walter Camp Football Foundation in Hartford, Connecticut, where he received an award from the Kennedy Foundation for his participation in the Connecticut Special Olympics. Winslow also has volunteered his time to the local chapter of the Boys' Club and Urban League.
