ALEX G. SPANOS

Chairman of Board/President

Alex G. Spanos has built the San Diego Chargers into one of the NFL's finest and most promising organizations since purchasing majority interest in the team August 1, 1984.

With a "whatever-it-takes" approach, Spanos has moved with strength and vision in an effort to put the Chargers on top. His most recent move to land new General Manager Bobby Beathard, one of the most respected football men in the NFL, demonstrates the commitment of a man who has carved a remarkable career in business and whose dedication to family and community has been an inspiring example for others.

A son of Greek immigrants, Alexander Gus Spanos was born September 28, 1923, in Stockton, California. He developed his tireless work ethic early, starting as an eight-year-old in his father's restaurant, rising before dawn to help prepare pastries before he attended school. In 1951, Spanos borrowed $800, purchased a truck and began his own catering business serving migrant farm workers in the San Joaquin Valley. Spanos later began investing in real estate and in 1960 formed the A.G. Spanos Construction Company, which became one of the largest apartment builders in the United States.

In addition to A.G. Spanos Construction, Inc., Spanos created and chairs A.G. Spanos Properties, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Management, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Development, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Enterprises, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Realty, Inc.; A.G. Spanos Marketing, Inc.; AGS Financial Corporation, and the A.G. Spanos Land Company.

Throughout his rags-to-riches life, Spanos always has treasured family and community above all else.

Though one of the nation's most productive corporate businesses, the A.G. Spanos organization continues as a family-run operation. Eldest son Dean serves as President of the Spanos corporate organization and Vice Chairman of AGS Financial and the Chargers. Son Michael and son-in-law Barry Ruhl manage the construction and development activities in the western and southeastern divisions of the company.

Spanos' hard work and determination to succeed was recognized in 1986 as he was one of a select group of 80 Americans awarded the Ellis Island Medal of Honor by the Statue of Liberty-Ellis Island Foundation and the New York Statue of Liberty Commission. In a special ceremony on Ellis Island, the honorees were cited for being "outstanding American citizens who have distinguished themselves in their respective fields of endeavor, while preserving the values of their particular heritages".

In 1989, Spanos received the Anti-Defamation League of B'nai B'rith's National Distinguished Community Service Award for devotion to community and concern for others.

Spanos is Honorary Regent of the University of the Pacific and a Trustee at the Eisenhower Medical Center in Palm Springs. He has donated substantially to benefit critically ill youngsters at Childrens Hospital and Health Center in San Diego. In 1985, Spanos was chairman of San Diego Childrens Hospital's first Miracle Network Telethon. In 1987, Spanos served as chairman of the San Diego County Easter Seals Telethon and was chairman of the Loaned Executive campaign during the annual United Way/CHAD drive in San Diego County.

Spanos also was the founder and driving force behind seven biennial fundraising "Evening of Elegance" dinners benefitting assorted children's charities including San Diego Childrens Hospital and Health Center. Proceeds from the last "Evening of Elegance" held in 1987 topped the one million dollar mark.

Another side to this complex man was revealed with the help of his close friend Bob Hope. Spanos displayed an entertainer's talent and flair when he lived a childhood dream and danced on stage. Together, Spanos and Hope sang and danced on numerous occasions both at home and abroad.

Spanos has demonstrated the same power and drive to make the Chargers the best as he has shown throughout his personal and business life. He has aggressively pursued and signed some of the top players in football. He has modernized and upgraded the team's football facilities with a state-of-the-art training facility at the Chargers' summer camp at the University of California at San Diego. The Alex G. Spanos Athletic and Recreation Building on the UCSD campus serves the university's student population during the school year. An Astroturf field at the Chargers' in-season practice facility at San Diego Jack Murphy Stadium also was installed. He has completely renovated the team's lockerroom facilities and front office at the Stadium.

Spanos' acquisition of the Chargers culminated a lifelong interest and involvement in sports. He earned varsity letters in swimming and diving at the University of the Pacific in Stockton and later distinguished himself as an amateur golfer. Spanos was the first person ever to be on the winning teams in both the Bob Hope Desert Classic in Palm Desert (1977) and the Bob Hope British Pro-Am in Epsom, England (1980). In 1987, Spanos was inducted into the Stockton Athletic Hall of Fame.

Alex and his wife, Faye, have four children — Dean, Dea, Alexis (Mrs. Barry Ruhl), and Michael — and seven grandchildren. They maintain residences in Stockton; Tarpon Springs, Florida; and Palm Springs, California.

DEAN SPANOS

Vice Chairman

Dean Spanos has brought broad business and financial expertise to the Chargers since 1984 when he took a leading role in the management and administration of personnel and fiscal matters.

For the past 20 years, Dean also has been working with his father, owner Alex Spanos, in apartment construction and land development. Currently, he is President of the Spanos corporate organization and Vice Chairman of the AGS Financial Corporation where he is responsible for all construction operations nationwide and all financial matters relating to the acquisition and development of projects.

Dean attended the University of the Pacific in Stockton, California, from which he received a degree in business administration in 1972. He maintains close ties with his alma mater, serving as a Regent at the University.

Dean's busy career in business and the National Football League hasn't hampered his status as one of the nation's most successful amateur golfers. An avid golfer since his college years, he notched four Pro-Am victories, including back-to-back wins this offseason at the Bob Hope Chrysler Classic and the AT&T National Pro-Am at Pebble Beach where he teamed with partner Hubert Green. Spanos and Green also won the Bing Crosby Pro-Am at Pebble Beach in 1985 where Dean was awarded the "Most Valuable Amateur" trophy for supplying the most help to his professional partner. Also in 1985, he was on the winning team in the Senior Players Reunion Pro-Am in Dallas with Billy Casper in 1985.

Dean Alexander Spanos was born May 26, 1950, in Stockton. He now resides in La Jolla with his wife, Susan, and sons, Alexander Gus (July 2, 1977) and John Dean (Nov. 7, 1979).

BOBBY BEATHARD

General Manager

28th NFL Season
1st Season with Chargers

Super Bowl teams are the benchmark of success in the National football League and Bobby Beathard has been the master architect behind five teams, including four world champions. Beathard turned the NFL's oldest team of the 70's — the Washington Redskins — into one of the most successful organizations of the 80's. When Alex Spanos named Bobby general manager of the San Diego Chargers January 3, 1990, it brought hope for similar success to follow the Chargers into the 90's.

Beathard has taken to his new post with the same vitality and decisiveness that highlights his 27 years as an NFL talent evaluator. He landed immediate help for the Chargers by signing nine Plan B free agents, including sought-after running backs Ronnie Harmon and Thomas Sanders and punter John Kidd. With Beathard's reputation for finding diamonds in the rough, the league-high 17 draft choices selected by Bobby in 1990 could produce a banner crop.

Bobby has demonstrated a keen eye for talent since becoming a part-time scout with the Kansas City Chiefs in 1963. He left the Chiefs to scout for the American Football League in 1966 and returned to Kansas City full-time after the AFL-NFL merger in 1966. Beathard then served as a scout for the Atlanta Falcons, 1968-71.

In 1972, Beathard was named director of player personnel for the Miami Dolphins. The Dolphins won the following two Super Bowls. Then on February 24, 1978, the Redskins made Bobby their general manager and he ultimately showed the league that first-round draft picks were weapons to be used in trades. In his 11 years, the Redskins had only three first-round picks. They went to the Super Bowl three times and won twice.

Beathard's handiwork was apparent on all three Super Bowl teams, including the World Champion Redskins of 1982 whose roster included an astounding 27 free agents signed by Bobby since he joined the team in 1978. The 1983 squad, which finished 14-2, also made it to the Super Bowl. The Super Bowl XXII team that defeated Denver, 42-10, in San Diego, was led by players acquired through Beathard's respected eye for talent, including MVP Doug Williams and record-setting running back Timmy Smith.

Appropriately, Beathard's first selection as Washington's general manager, 1978 sixth-round returner Tony Green, made the Pro Bowl. The following year he signed linebackers Rich Milot, Monte Coleman and Neal Olkewicx, who played together for nine years. His first selection that year, fourth-round tight end Don Warren, is still with the club.

Beathard left the NFL to serve as a commentator for the National Broadcasting Company (NBC) on it weekly "NFL '89" show during the 1989 season.

Beathard has returned to the Southern California life-style in which he was raised. Born in Zanesville, Ohio, January 24, 1937, Robert K. Beathard, Jr., grew up in the Los Angeles area and attended El Segundo High. He moved on to Cal Poly-San Luis Obispo where he played quarterback, 1956-58, and led the 1957 and '58 teams to 9-1 records.

Bobby signed to play for the Redskins in 1959 but was released. He was in the Los Angeles Chargers' training camp in 1960 as a defensive back. Beathard's playing career ended in 1962 with Minnesota after playing six games.

Bobby and his wife, Christine, reside in Encinitas, California. Beathard is an avid runner, often running 8-12 miles a day. Bobby has run in dozens of marathons, including several Boston Marathons. He also enjoys surfing and cycling. Bobby has four children: Kurt (Jan. 4, 1963); Jeff (June 9, 1964), who was selected in the twelfth round in 1988 by the Rams; Casey, (Dec. 2, 1965), and Jaime (Sept. 25, 1968).

What they say about BOBBY BEATHARD:

"(Beathard's arrival is) the most encouraging thing that has happened to this franchise since Lance Alworth hit town."
WAYNE LOCKWOOD, SAN DIEGO UNION

"This is a guy who's 53 going on 23. He's got more energy than anyone in the business. I thought all along that San Diego was a sleeping giant anyway, but now with Bobby there, well, let's just say I'm glad we don't play the AFC West every year."
GEORGE YOUNG, N. Y. GIANTS GENERAL MANAGER

"He's totally unafraid of taking chances. The typical approach in the NFL is go slow, be conservative, be careful when you make trades. If your trades go bad, you look bad. Bobby couldn't care less. He goes full speed and never looks back."
DICK STEINBERG, N. Y. JETS GENERAL MANAGER

Bobby Beathard was named General Manager Jan. 3, 1990.

DAN HENNING

Head Coach

16th NFL Season
3rd Season with Chargers

When the San Diego Chargers released backup quarterback Dan Henning in 1967, his second release in three seasons, little did they know this articulate William & Mary graduate would some day hold the fate of the team in his hands. Twenty-two years later on February 9, 1989, Henning returned as the eighth head coach in team history.

Since his beginnings in pro football as a backup quarterback with the Chargers in the mid-1960s, Henning turned to a career in coaching and has become one of the most innovative teachers in the game. His ability to adapt and motivate has pushed him to the pinnacle of the coaching profession twice, first as head coach of Atlanta from 1983-86 and now with the Chargers.

Henning supplied leadership and motivation throughout his first season at the Chargers' helm. No team battled harder or longer. Thirteen of the Chargers' 16 games were decided by a touchdown or less, most in the NFL, and the outcome of 12 of those contests was in doubt into the final two minutes of the game.

Instrumental in keeping the Chargers close was a defense which ranked sixth in the NFL, it's highest finish since 1980. No opponent scored more than 20 points against San Diego in 13 of the last 14 games, setting a club record.

Henning's perseverance paid off with four victories in the second half of 1989, including season-ending wins over Kansas City and the AFC Champion Denver Broncos, and gave San Diego momentum heading into the 1990s.

The Bronx, New York, native returned to San Diego from Washington where he tutored the Redskins' passing game and quarterbacks in 1987-88, helping lead the team to a 42-10 victory over the Denver Broncos in Super Bowl XXII played in San Diego. He was instrumental in reviving the career of Super Bowl MVP quarterback Doug Williams. Henning earned his first Super Bowl ring following the 1982 season — a 27-17 win over Miami in Super Bowl XVII — while serving as the Redskins' assistant head coach.

In between Super Bowl victories, the Falcons summoned Henning to lead their team as head coach. In four seasons with Henning at the helm, 1983-86, the Falcons improved dramatically in many offensive and defensive categories. The defense jumped from twenty-fifth in 1983 to seventh in the NFL in 1986 while the offense proved powerful on the ground with the third-ranked running game in the League in both 1985-86.

Henning has coached fourteen seasons in the National Football League, beginning as an assistant coach with the Houston Oilers in 1972. The former college and professional quarterback worked with the quarterbacks and receivers at Houston. He returned to the NFL in 1976 as the quarterbacks and receivers coach of the New York Jets in 1976 through 1978, coaching quarterback Richard Todd into one of league's top passers. Henning coached the same positions for Don Shula and the Miami Dolphins, 1979-80, and for the Redskins, 1981-82. Following four seasons as Atlanta's head coach, he returned to Washington in 1987.

Upon retiring as a player, Henning began his coaching career on the college level, tutoring the quarterbacks and receivers at Florida State from 1968-70 and 1974. He also served as offensive coordinator at Virginia Tech in 1971 and '73, helping build Don Strock into an NFL quarterback. He also coached future NFL QBs Gary Huff and Bill Cappleman at Florida State.

Dan starred four seasons as a collegiate quarterback at William & Mary and finished fourteenth in the nation in passing yardage as a senior in 1963. He entered the professional ranks with the Chargers during the preseason of 1964, before continuing in the Continental League with Springfield, Mass., the same season. Henning played for the Norfolk Neptunes in 1965 before coming back to the Chargers as a free agent in 1966, earning a spot on the roster though he did not attempt a pass. Dan was with San Diego again in the 1967 preseason before finishing his playing career in 1967 at Norfolk.

Daniel Ernest Henning was born June 21, 1942, in Bronx, New York. He was an all-League and all-City performer for the St. Francis Prep Terriers in Brooklyn, playing football, basketball, and baseball. He obtained a bachelor's degree in physical education in 1964 from William & Mary. Henning is a sports enthusiast, especially golf and racquetball. Dan and his wife, Sandy, have three daughters — Mary (Oct. 31, 1961), Patty (Nov. 13, 1962), and Terry (June 6, 1968) — and two sons — Dan (June 22, 1965) and Mike (Jan. 30, 1973) — and reside in the Mt. Helix area of La Mesa.

Henning served as Chargers' backup quarterback in 1965.

ASSISTANT COACHES

GUNTHER CUNNINGHAM

Defensive Line
9th NFL Season
6th Season with Chargers

Cunningham has developed one of the best defensive lines in the NFL. The group finished second in the league with a club-record 62 sacks in 1986 and led the AFC with 45 and 48, respectively, in 1987 and '89.

Cunningham joined the Chargers' Jan. 7, 1985, as special defensive assistant and coordinator in evaluation of pro personnel before he assumed his present role January 31, 1985.

Cunningham was the defensive line coach for the Indianapolis Colts, 1982-84. Prior to joining the NFL, Gunther served one year as the defensive line and linebacker coach for the Hamilton Tiger-Cats of the Canadian Football League in 1981. He served four seasons (1977-80) at the University of California, where he worked with the secondary in 1977, linebackers in 1978, and then served as defensive coordinator/defensive line coach his final three years.

Cunningham has been a collegiate or professional coach since he was graduated from the University of Oregon, where he was a linebacker and placekicker from 1966-68. He coached the Ducks' defensive line for three seasons (1969-71) before moving to Arkansas as a part-time secondary coach (1972) and then to Stanford to handle the defensive line (1973-76).

Gunther Manfred Cunningham was born June 19, 1946, in Munich, Germany. He moved to Lompoc, California, in 1962 and attended Lompoc High. Gunther received a degree in anthropology from Oregon. He and his wife, Rene, have a daughter, Natalie (July 14, 1976), and a son, Adam (Dec. 11, 1982). The Cunninghams reside in the Rancho Bernardo area.

ALEX GIBBS

Offensive Line
7th NFL Season
1st Season with Chargers

Gibbs brought 21 years of coaching experience to the Chargers Feb. 8, 1990, when he was named offensive line coach. He served as the assistant head coach of the Los Angeles Raiders the past two seasons.

In 1989, the Raiders ranked eighth in the NFL with an average of 5.5 yards per play and third with a 4.5-yard rushing average.

Gibbs, 49, spent four seasons as offensive line coach of the Denver Broncos, 1984-87, before going to the Raiders with head coach Mike Shanahan. Known for their hard-nosed, scrappy play, his troops helped take Denver to the Super Bowl following the 1986 and '87 seasons.

Before coming to the NFL in 1984, he coached 13 years collegiately beginning at Duke (1969-70), Kentucky (1971-72), and West Virginia (1973-74). Gibbs became offensive coordinator and line coach at Ohio State (1975-78), held the same position at Auburn (1979-81) before going to Georgia to coach the line (1982-83). Gibbs also coached three years on the high school level in North Carolina, winning three conference titles and two state championships.

Ned Alex Gibbs was born Feb. 11, 1941, in Burke, North Carolina. He attended Thomasville High School in Thomasville, North Carolina before playing collegiately at Davidson College in Davidson, North Carolina. He majored in pre-law at Davidson before earning a Master's in European history from the University of North Carolina in 1964. He also earned a doctrate in education from Auburn. Alex has five children: daughter Sandy (Aug. 30, 1965) and sons Steve (Feb. 21, 1967), David (Jan. 10, 1968), Chuck (Aug. 30, 1969), and Mark (Oct. 21, 1972).

1990 INSTANT REPLAY

For the fifth consecutive season, NFL clubs have approved a limited system of Instant Replay on a one-year basis.

There is one significant change in the system from 1989. All replay reviews which involve contact to the field from the Replay Booth will be a maximum of two minutes in duration, timed from the moment when the Umpire signals timeout.

The Replay Official will be assigned to a regular officiating crew and will attend crew meetings the day before each game.

The following table outlines the number of reversals and plays closely reviewed by instant replay in each of the previous four seasons.

	Games	Reversals	Plays Closely Reviewed
1986	224	38	374
1987	210	57	490
1988	224	53	537
1989	224	65	492

In 1986, the system was approved by a 23-4-1 vote. In 1987, the vote was 21-7. In 1988, replay was cleared by a 23-5 margin. In 1989, the vote was 24-4. In 1990, the vote was 21-7.

The NFL has discussed Instant Replay in some degree or other since the early 1970s. The League experimented in 1976 and 1978 using two basic frameworks—an independent system using cameras, replay machines, and technicians separate from the network covering the games, and a "no-frills" approach using existing TV coverage.

In 1985, the NFL used the network feed of the nine nationally-televised preseason games to experiment with the basic system which later was adopted for 1986, 1987, and 1988. A total of 28 plays (17 confirmed calls, 4 inconclusive, 1 reversed, and 6 no replay shown) were closely examined in the 1985 experiment.

Q—What is the objective of this system?

A—The clubs feel that on certain plays the telecast viewed by the general public should be used to correct an indisputable error. The system will be used to reverse an on-field decision only when the Replay Official has indisputable visual evidence available to him that warrants the change.

Q—Who will be involved?

A—The Replay Official (a former NFL or collegiate official) will be positioned in a sideline Replay Booth, which will house two TV monitors and two high-speed VCRs plus radio communications to the on-field officials. The Replay Official makes the decision although a Communicator (normally a member of the League Office staff) and a Technician also will be there to lend logistical help.

Q—Why is the system referred to as "limited" Instant Replay?

A—This system will concentrate on plays of possession or touching (e.g. fumbles, receptions, interceptions, muffs) and most plays governed by the sidelines, goal lines, end lines, and line of scrimmage (e.g. receiver or runner in or out of bounds, forward or backward passes, breaking the plane of the goal line). It also will be used to determine whether there are more than 11 men on the field.

Q—Why aren't most fouls included in this system?

A—It is recognized that in most circumstances the on-field officials have the best vantage points involving fouls. It is for this reason that Instant Replay will not review a list of the following 26 fouls:

1. Clipping
2. Encroachment and offsides
3. Grasp of facemask
4. False start
5. Defensive pass interference
6. Offensive pass interference
7. Offensive holding and illegal use of hands
8. Illegal batting or punching ball
9. Illegal block on free kick or scrimmage kick
10. Illegal crackback
11. Illegal motion
12. Illegal use of forearm or elbow
13. Illegal use of hands by defense
14. Illegally kicking ball
15. Illegally snapping ball
16. Intentional grounding
17. Member of punting team downfield early
18. Illegal formation
19. Palpably unfair act
20. Piling on
21. Roughing the passer
22. Running into/roughing kicker
23. Striking, kicking, or kneeing
24. Unnecessary roughness
25. Unsportsmanlike conduct
26. Use of helmet as a weapon

Q—Is the television network carrying the game part of the review process?

A—No. Although the Replay Official will be viewing the live network feed, there is no communication to television personnel as to which plays to show or not to show. The Replay Official does not hear the TV commentators.

Q—What is the step-by-step procedure of a play review?

A—The Replay Official will view game action and a play will be replayed immediately on one of the two monitors, while the other one continues to record the live feed.

The Replay Official makes a determination if further study of the play is needed. If not, there is no contact with the field and play continues without interruption.

If the Replay Official believes an error may have been made the Umpire will be contacted via a headset.

The Replay Official will watch replay(s) on one or both monitors and complete his review within a reasonable period after the play is over.

The Replay Official will inform the Umpire of his decision, and the Referee will make the appropriate announcement on the wireless microphone.

The team scored on its first two possessions, going 78 yards in 6 plays and 80 yards in 9 plays, and led 14-7 at halftime. San Diego 20, at Kansas City 13

Sunday, Dec. 17

San Diego virtually eliminated Kansas City from playoff contention with a 20-13 win on the road in 18-degree temperature. It was the twelfth time San Diego had a game decided by 7 points or less and just the third victory in those games. This time cornerback Roy Bennett came up with the big play, intercepting a Steve DeBerg pass in the end zone with 19 seconds left in the game. The Chiefs scored the first 13 points of the game before San Diego got on the board with just 17 seconds left in the first half when Billy Joe Tolliver hit tight end Andy Parker from one yard out. It was all San Diego in the second half as it outgained the Chiefs with 209 total yards to 93. Chris Bahr hit field goals from 43 and 20 yards and Tolliver hit Anthony Miller from 5 yards out. But the driving force behind San Diego's success against the NFL's number two defense was rookie running back Marion Butts, who set a team record with 39 carries and rookie rushing record with 176 yards. He carried 24 times for 112 yards in the second half. Tolliver won his first game as a starter.

Miller Lite
NFL Player of the Year Award

To honor that distinction among NFL players, Miller Lite is sponsoring an extensive award program culminating in the naming of an annual NFL Player of the Year.

Every week of the NFL season, 28 players -- one from each team -- will be selected by press box media. A special media panel then will select a national Miller Lite NFL Player of the Week who will be announced every Wednesday in the USA Today sports section.

At the end of the regular season, six Miller Lite NFL Player of the Year candidates will be chosen from among each teams' winners. Fans then can vote for their choice of NFL Player of the Year -- the best of the best.

Look for special fan ballots and sweepstakes information in USA Today during the season.
