Forty Niners and the All-America Conference	Inside Back Cover

The San Francisco 49ers begin their 23rd year of operation this season recognized as one of the truly pioneer professional sports organizations in the nation.

Forty Niner founders Tony and Vic Morabito created the first major league sports enterprise in Northern California, in fact, the whole state, when they fielded the first San Francisco team in 1946.

Since those early days, many of them tough, struggling days, the success achieved by the 49ers has enabled the sports fans of Northern California to enjoy what has become one of the national hotbeds of professional sport.

Louis G. Spadia is the director of the current 49er organization.

Spadia, pictured above with Mrs. Josephine Morabito and Mrs. Victor Morabito, who control the ownership of the 49ers and who, together with Spadia, are general partners in the organization, is one of the original employees of the club.

He served Tony and Vic Morabito in capacities which ranged from office boy through business manager to general manager, which he became in 1952.

Spadia has been the club's chief executive officer since the death of Vic Morabito in 1964. He was named club president prior to the 1967 season.

FORTY NINER PROSPECTUS — 1968

There will be a lot of familiar names on the roster and in the lineup, but it's a sure bet that the 1968 San Francisco 49ers will have a new look about them under the direction of new head coach Dick Nolan.

The newness will be most noticeable when the 49ers are on offense, multiple offense, that is. They will employ the I-formation as a basic set, and will have more variety in their offense than any San Francisco team in many a season.

Dick Witcher

There will be changes in defensive style, too, with Nolan employing the systems and know-how that made his Dallas Cowboy defensive units among the most effective in the game in recent years.

Changes in approach and execution will be the most immediately apparent alterations, but there could come some changes in personnel.

On defense, the nagging problem at free safety still must be resolved, but the rest of that unit returns intact. It has been bolstered by the acquisition of linebacker Harold Hays, from Dallas, and defensive back George Rose, from New Orleans.

Other factors which can be resolved only by time include whether or not All-Pro guard John Thomas and receiver Kay McFarland have recovered sufficiently from the injuries which stopped them last year.

As far as individual positions are concerned, most interest will probably be focused on the quarterback spot, where John Brodie, George Mira and Steve Spurrier will contest.

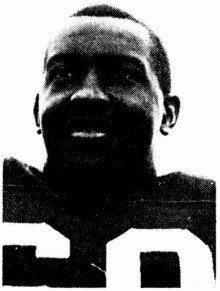

Star 49ers such as guard Howard Mudd and linebacker Dave Wilcox, both all-NFL last year, are expected to maintain their positions among the best in the league.

BY POSITIONS: OFFENSE

Receivers: Come through performances by Dick Witcher and Sonny Randle last year saved the day when the scheduled regulars were sidelined by injury. One of those, Kay McFarland, is recovered and ready to take his place back in action. Witcher, Randle and McFarland are a high-quality corps, backed by second-year men Chip Myers and Ed McCall, and rookie prospects Johnny Fuller and Leo Johnson. Tight end has only Bob Windsor, a strong performer as a rookie, with any experience.

Running Backs: Ken Willard, John David Crow, Gary Lewis, Doug Cunningham and Bill Tucker form a big and talented veteran group. Top rookie prospect appears to be Dwight Lee, 6-2, 190 power runner from Michigan State.

Quarterbacks: John Brodie, George Mira and Steve Spurrier resume their three-way competition for the job. No matter who wins, the position should be in competent hands.

Roland Lakes

Line: What was once the best offensive line in the NFL has been decimated by injury and defection. As a rookie, big Elmer Collett stepped in and did fine work as John Thomas' replacement when that able veteran was injured last year. Now, a replacement for veteran tackle Walt Rock must be found. It will likely come from one of two rookies, Forrest Blue, No. 1 choice from Auburn, and Lance Olssen, No. 3 from Purdue. The other positions are in great hands with Bruce Bosley, at center, All-NFL Howard Mudd, at guard, and outstanding veteran Len Rohde at tackle.

DEFENSE

Line: With tackle Roland Lakes turning in his top season last year and young Stan Hindman making giant strides toward becoming a fine defensive end, this group has emerged as one of the better defensive lines. End Clark Miller is a sound and dependable performer, and tackle Charlie Krueger remains as one of the top professionals at the position.

Backers: The three starters return—All-NFL Dave Wilcox for his fifth season, middleman Ed Beard for his fourth and Matt Hazeltine for his 14th. Wilcox is now one of the best outside linebackers playing. Backup comes from Harold Hays, acquired in an off-season trade from Dallas, and second-year man Frank Nunley, back after a good rookie year.

Secondary: Veterans Jim Johnson, Kermit Alexander and Al Randolph, cornerbacks and safety, respectively, all return to their jobs and will probably hold them. There may be a big battle for the fourth position between vets George Donnelly, Goose Gonsoulin, Mel Phillips, and George Rose, in after a trade with New Orleans.

TENTATIVE PERSONNEL CHART — 1968

Note: Because of the new coaching staff and the unusually high number of regulars injured and off the active roster last year, the usual depth chart would be unrealistic. Listed below are players available at each position with last season's FINAL GAME STARTER listed in CAPS.

OFFENSE

Wide Receivers: DICK WITCHER (split end); SONNY RANDLE (flanker). Other veterans—Kay McFarland, Chip Myers. Rookies—Tommie Gray (8th), Ed McCall (FA).

Tackles: LEN ROHDE (left). Other veteran—Charlie Johnson (switched from defense). Rookies—Forrest Blue (1st), Charley Brown (8th), Cas Banaszek (1b-'67).

Centers: BRUCE BOSLEY. Other veteran — Joe Cerne. Rookie — Lance Olssen (3rd).

Quarterbacks: GEORGE MIRA. Other veterans—John Brodie, Steve Spurrier. Rookies—None.

Running Backs: KEN WILLARD, JOHN DAVID CROW. Other veterans —Gary Lewis, Doug Cunningham, Bob Daugherty, Jimmy Jordan. Rookie—Dwight Lee (5th).

One of the most well-known and widely-respected sports administrators in the business, Jack White is beginning his second year as general manager for the 49ers.

White, who had been a parttime talent scout for the club for some 14 years, became a fulltime 49er in 1965, when he became director of scouting, a key position in the talent hunting area.

White's experience in professional sport has covered both baseball and football. He was a pro football player, and, later, an assistant coach with the old New York Yankee football team in the All-American Conference.

Still later, he joined the New York Yankee baseball organization and served in capacities which ranged from general manager of their Richmond farm club, to business and ticket manager for the parent club.

A former president of the American Football Coaches Association and one of the most respected men in sports, Lynn (Pappy) Waldorf joined the 49er organization in 1957. His efforts have been responsible for many new faces on the San Francisco roster in the past years and the current crop of newcomers is rated among the finest in the club's history.

A tackle at Syracuse University in the early 1920's, he coached at Oklahoma City, Oklahoma State, Kansas State and Northwestern before taking over what he termed the "Sleeping Giant" at the University of California in 1947. Under his tutelage, the Golden Bears won three consecutive Pacific Coast Conference titles—1948-49-50—and represented the West in the annual Rose Bowl classic at Pasadena. His 10-year record at California was 66 wins, 32 losses and four ties.

Pappy was elected to the National Foundation Football Hall of Fame in 1965, one of the few coaches to achieve that honor.

One of the nation's top after-dinner speakers, Pappy is especially noted for his limitless supply of limericks. He and his wife, Louise, live in Berkeley. They have two daughters and five grandchildren.

THE 49ER STORY — 1946-1966

From a modest beginning in 1946, the San Francisco 49ers have grown into one of the most flourishing franchises in professional sports.

A major league football franchise in the City by the Golden Gate had long been the cherished dream of Anthony J. (Tony) Morabito, a native son and 1931 graduate of the University of Santa Clara. Failing to win recognition from the National League, Tony turned to the All-America Conference, which began operations in 1946 with the late Arch Ward, sports editor of the Chicago Tribune, as the guiding genius.

Although the AAC went under after four years of intense competition with the NFL, it proved Morabito's point that San Francisco was a major league city. Sports fans of the entire Bay Area took the 49ers to their hearts and attendance grew by the proverbial leaps and bounds.

The club's success was predicated on Tony's oft-repeated slogan of "Go first class or not at all," and his early organization was built around such honored names as Lawrence T. (Buck) Shaw, head coach; and Frankie Albert, Norm Standlee, Alyn Beals, Johnny Strzykalski and Len Eshmont—all of whom were already top drawing cards in collegiate and pro football.

The 49ers were the perennial runners-up to the mighty Cleveland Browns throughout the history of the AAC and, masterminded by Shaw on the bench and Albert on the field, became noted nationally for daring, colorful football. The AAC ended its short but exciting life when the Browns defeated the 49ers, 21-7, in the championship game of 1949, San Francisco, Cleveland and Baltimore became members of the NFL.

After 18 years of slam-bang battling in the NFL, the 49ers have yet to win even a divisional championship. They've come close, tying Detroit for seasonal honors in 1957 but dropping the playoff. But in every season except seven—1950-55-56-58-62-63-64—the San Franciscans have been in the thick of the title fight.

49ER STORY (Con't)

Here are the highlights, beginning with the first year in the NFL:

1950—The 49ers fell flat on their faces in their NFL debut, winning only three games. A rival coach described them as "not big enough or tough enough."

1951—In an amazing reversal of form sparked by a great rookie group, the 49ers were in the race to the final day and finished only a half game off the top. Led by Hardy Brown and his famed "shoulder tackle," the club had one of the toughest defensive units in the league. Y. A. Tittle and Billy Wilson began their great careers.

1952—After a blazing start, the 49ers slumped in midseason. It can't be written off as unsuccessful for Hugh (The King) McElhenny came off the University of Washington campus to become "Player of the Year" and the most feared runner in football.

1953—The 49ers had their best NFL showing, 9-3, normally good enough for a championship. But Detroit was 10-2. Two of the San Francisco losses came with Tittle benched because of a severe facial injury. The three defeats were by a total of nine points. Joe (Jet) Perry became one of the few players in pro history to gain more than 1,000 yards in a single season. Gordy Soltau was the league's top scorer for the second straight year.

1954—Early momentum was broken by injuries to key players such as Tittle, McElhenny, and Joe Perry. Perry gained more than 1,000 yards again, the first man ever to achieve this distinction.

1955—With McElhenny hobbled by a foot injury, the 49ers had their second worst season in history under Norman P. Strader who succeeded Shaw as head coach.

1956—In Albert's first year at the helm, the 49ers were bogged in last place at midseason with a 1-6 record. They won four and tied one of their last five games for a brilliant stretch drive.

1957—This undoubtedly was the most emotional and dramatic season in 49er history. Every game was a "Cliffhanger" and the "Alley-Oop" pass from Tittle to rookie R. C Owens became a household byword. Emotions reached a peak when the beloved Tony Morabito collapsed and died of a heart attack at the Chicago Bears game on Oct. 27. Trailing, 17-7, the 49ers fought back for their greatest victory of all time, 21-17. The magnificent Wilson caught a pass from Tittle for the winning touchdown in the fourth quarter. Tied with Detroit at 8-4 when the season ended, the 49ers lost the playoff game, 31-27, although they held a 27-7 lead in the third quarter.

1958—An up-and-down season which finished on a high note when Green Bay and Baltimore were defeated in the last two games. The 6-6 record, however, was blackened by the 33-3 and 56-7 lacings at the hands of Los Angeles and Albert resigned at the end of the year.

1959—With Hickey in charge, the 49ers were in contention all the way and John Brodie came into his own at quarterback when he led the team to a 21-20 upset of Cleveland. J. D. Smith, converted from a defensive back, became the second 49er to accumulate more than 1,000 yards rushing.

1960—Hickey saved a seemingly hopeless season when he installed his Shotgun attack and the club captured four of the last five games to finish in a tie for second place. Third-string quarterback Bobby Waters threw the passes that upset Baltimore, 30-22, in the final two minutes.

1961—The success of Hickey's Shotgun amazed the football world, especially the 49-0 victory over Detroit. Quarterback Bill Kilmer, a passing-running rookie from UCLA, was made to order for the new offense. When the Shotgun was stopped, Brodie took over again in the T and had the finest season in 49er q.b. annals. Indicating the evenness of NFL competition, the 49ers were playing for a second-place tie, plus a trip to the Runner-up Bowl at Miami, or a fifth-place position on the last day of the season. The Colts again won by three points, but 1961 must remain as one of the most exciting and interesting years in 49er history.

1962—For the first time since 1956, the 49ers finished the frustrating season with more defeats than victories. In so doing, the honored adage of "it's easier to win at home than on the road," proved false—the 49ers won only one of seven at home, but captured five of seven road contests.

1963—Injuries in multitude to key personnel started the 49ers off to a disappointing 2-12 league season. One of the victories, however, was a smashing 20-14 upset of ultimate World Champion Chicago, the only league defeat suffered by the Bears all season.

1964—Club co-founder Victor P. Morabito died of a heart attack in May. Injury to key personnel prevented the 49ers from gaining enough offensive momentum to forge a winning season, although they proved to be one of the toughest defensive clubs in the league. Outstanding rookie performances by end Dave Parks, quarterback George Mira and linebacker Dave Wilcox also took some of the sting from the 4-10 overall record.

1965—Outstanding offensive performances enabled the 49ers to jump from the bottom to fourth place in the Western Division as the team led the NFL in both scoring and total offense. John Brodie was the most productive passer in the NFL, Dave Parks led the league in receiving and rookie Ken Willard and veteran John David Crow, acquired in an off-season trade, led a strong ground game. The over-all record was 7-6-1 and the season-opening 52-24 beating of the Chicago Bears marked the largest number of points ever scored by the 49ers in NFL play.

1966—After a somewhat slow start, the 49ers got in gear just before midway in the season and became one of only two teams to beat the eventual World Champion Green Bay Packers. After that, they rolled to a respectable 6-6-2 record and were in the battle for second place in the Western Division until the final league game. Guard John Thomas and end Dave Parks were All Pro, and they joined guard Howard Mudd, center Bruce Bosley, fullback Ken Willard and linebacker Dave Wilcox in the Pro Bowl.

1967—An auspicious start (they were 5-1) disintegrated into disappointment for the 49ers as injuries took a heavy toll and a six-game losing streak took them out of the running. Quarterback George Mira came off the bench to lead the squad to two season-ending victories and salvage a 7-7 record. There were bright spots, however, as, with John Brodie in fine form, the 49ers were the only team to beat the power-laden Rams in a league game, guard Howard Mudd and linebacker Dave Wilcox were named to All-Pro teams, and Mudd and center Bruce Bosley played in the Pro Bowl for the second straight time.

The BEAUTIFUL MILK people are at it again.

And with good reason. When you have a beautiful new milk carton, you're not going to sit around and leave your ice cream in the same old carton. So, we have a new carton. Look for it in the same places where you always buy Spreckels Ice Cream. Buy some and take it home. The whole family will crowd around for the Grand Opening.

SPRECKELS DAIRY . . . Producers of beautiful milk for beautiful people.
