Ram Executives

CARROLL ROSENBLOOM, Owner and President

It was January, 1973, and Carroll Rosenbloom's first Los Angeles Rams team had just finished third in the NFC West with a 6-7-1 record. The new Rams owner did not like it one bit.

Carroll had just assumed ownership of the club the summer before—while the Rams were in training camp—and with plans already in progress and the personnel set, he spent the '72 season as an observer.

Now he was ready to go to work. First, he hired a new head coach, a Detroit Lions assistant named Chuck Knox. Next, he acquired San Diego Charger quarterback John Hadl, then later sent quarterback Roman Gabriel to Philadelphia in exchange for all-pro receiver Harold Jackson, running back Tony Baker and three high draft picks, including two firsts.

New blue and gold uniforms were added and the picture was suddenly much brighter for '73.

No one, however, was prepared for the sudden, overwhelming success of the "new" Rams. Perhaps only Rosenbloom, the perfectionist, actually expected it, for from the beginning he had said the Rams would be a Super Bowl contender.

The club finished 12-2, the best regular season record in Rams history, and captured its first division title since 1969. Knox was named "coach of the year." Hadl was the NFC's MVP and Jackson caught a league-leading 13 touchdown passes. The Rams led the NFL in total offense, total defense and scoring.

It was a series of accomplishments for which any organization could be proud, but Carroll has his goals set higher. The former owner of the Baltimore franchise, Rosenbloom wears the huge ring emblematic of the Colts' Super Bowl title team. "I want another of these," he says. "I want to be the first owner to win the Super Bowl in both conferences."

Obviously, success is nothing new to Rosenbloom, who traded his Colts for the Rams in a transaction that culminated on July 14, 1972. Carroll had revived professional football in Baltimore in 1953 after a previous franchise there had been dissolved in 1950. In his 19 years at Baltimore, Rosenbloom built teams which won the Super Bowl, three world championships before the merger and posted the best record in the NFL from 1958 on. His Colts recorded 16 consecutive winning seasons.

Why did he leave Baltimore where his Colts had compiled such an outstanding record? "The challenge," Carroll replies. "We'd gone as far as we could in Baltimore. "I was hoping some of the luck I've had would rub off on the Rams."

It can't be all luck, however, when his teams win year after year. For one thing, Carroll has an uncanny ability for selecting winning coaches. In fact, head coaches discovered by Rosenbloom have won four of the last six Super Bowls.

Carroll has great confidence in himself, his coaches and the other men he chooses to run his organization. "Los Angeles can look forward to having the kind of football team it can be proud of," he has stated. "And I want to build continuity. This team will be like my Baltimore teams, except it will be better. We will always give a good account of ourselves. Los Angeles will never have to worry about being embarrassed by their football team."

Carroll has a reputation as an interested and active owner. He is a frequent visitor at training camp and at practice sessions and makes it his pleasure to know the players as individuals.

Perhaps Los Angeles football followers will get a more knowing glimpse into his personality reading what some of his former players had to say. Tackle Jim Parker, recently named to the pro football Hall of Fame, said: "I played for him for 11 years and I wouldn't want to play for anyone else. He's always been a fair man. I've never met a man who worked for Carroll Rosenbloom who didn't like him. He's a straight from the shoulder man. If he didn't like something he would tell you about it. And you could do the same thing with him."

In all those successful years in Baltimore, the most famous of the Colt players was Johnny Unitas, Mr. Quarterback. Here's Unitas on Carroll Rosenbloom.

"Carroll is a man of many great talents . . . an insatiable desire and drive to be the best at every undertaking, outstanding knowledge of football and real compassion and understanding for people.

"During his tenure as the leader of the Colts, he built us into one of the greatest organizations in professional sports history. He richly deserves a place in the Professional Football Hall of Fame, which I'm sure is in the works.

"His contributions are so numerous and significant that I can't begin to mention them all. I must say that all the Colt players who had the pleasure of playing for him have the highest respect for the winning tradition and the family atmosphere he created in Baltimore.

"In all relationships we had—even the disagreements and differences that you have in any family—we always walked away with a special feeling for 'The Boss'. You might say, we loved the man. And I'm sure the Rams players and fans do too."

Rosenbloom's ability to put together an organization which met with such great success was noted by another of Baltimore's former better-known players, versatile Tom Matte. When he learned of Carroll's decision, Matte said: "People in Baltimore don't know what it's like to have a loser. When was the last time the Colts had a losing team? I think it was 1956, wasn't it?"

"Fans don't realize what an integral part of a successful ball team that management plays. We've always gone first class on the Colts and we've also had a team which had a potential to win a championship. I think it's a pretty general consensus around the league that Carroll Rosenbloom is the top owner in football. Our team will be lacking something when he goes. You could always talk with him if you had a grievance. He has always taken time out for his people's personal problems."

Besides his devotion to his own team, Carroll has always been a leader in NFL policy making decisions. For example, he lent his business acumen and negotiating skill as a key force on the NFL Executive Committee which completed the merger agreement with the former American Football League to form the present 26-team alignment.

Just as Rosenbloom was a positive force behind the success of the merger, so has he been a prime example of what excellent management can do in professional football. Perhaps the Rosenbloom success formula can best be explained by his philosophy: The man is totally dedicated to the fan. "The first objectives are to see that the fans are entertained and that they are comfortable," he said.

The best way to do the former, he feels, is to play winning football. The best way to do the latter is to push for improved stadium conditions, a project that has occupied much of his time since moving to Southern California.

Carroll likes to be described as a football executive, despite the fact that he is involved in many other ventures. Carroll is an active and resident owner. He and his beautiful wife, the former Georgia Hayes, live in Bel-Air.

A Baltimore native, Carroll attended Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Finance. He played halfback on Penn's football team and pitched for the baseball nine. Golfing has been his game for relaxation, but since moving to the Southland he has revived an abiding interest in tennis.

DON KLOSTERMAN,

Executive Vice-President & General Manager

In many ways the Rams 1973 season epitomized the pro football accomplishments of the club's executive vice-president and general manager, Don Klosterman. Throughout his career he has been renowned for his ability to sign super stars and to help teams win championships.

The most recent example was last year's Ram team, which had come off a disappointing 6-7-1 season in 1972. It was time to make some changes.

The Rams scouted the land and hired a new coach. They negotiated to strengthen an offense that had sputtered and fizzled. They put it all together, capturing the NFC West title with a 12-2 record, the winningest regular season campaign in club history.

Much of the credit of these maneuvers must go to Klosterman, who worked closely with owner Carroll Rosenbloom to restructure the Rams.

Important additions were John Hadl and Harold Jackson, a passing combination that clicked for 13 touchdowns, best in the NFL, as the Rams led the league in scoring and total offense. Klosterman and Rosenbloom plucked Hadl from San Diego, and the former Charger quarterback went on to become the NFC's player of the year.

To get Jackson, Klosterman gave up quarterback Roman Gabriel, but Harold had another all-pro year and he was only a part of the attractive package from Philadelphia. The Rams General Manager also coaxed the Eagles out of productive running back Tony Baker, first draft choices in both 1974 and '75 and a third pick in '75. With the top selection in '74, the club last January chose Heisman Trophy winner John Cappelletti.

Successful trading and drafting is not a new accomplishment for Don Klosterman, for he has enjoyed similar triumphs in each of the cities in which he has held an executive position. The former Loyola University star quarterback helped build title-winning teams in San Diego, Kansas City and Houston before joining Carroll Rosenbloom in Baltimore and subsequently returning to Los Angeles when Rosenbloom acquired the Rams in 1972.

In his 11 years away from "home" Don helped stamp prosperity on each franchise he visited.

They were years that saw Don become a key, driving force in the ultimate acceptance of the young American Football League. They were years climaxed by a Super Bowl ring one year after he became General Manager for Rosenbloom in Baltimore.

Prior to pro football's merger, no man made life more difficult for the established National League than Klosterman. Since the merger, few have worked harder for the common good.

As a youngster in Compton . . . with dad, mom, nine sisters and five brothers . . . Don Klosterman had learned early about the "common good".

He had also learned a lot of football and soon took the knowledge to Loyola University where, as "The Duke of Del Rey", he led the Lions through their most successful athletic era.

The university was grateful. It retired Don's jersey (No. 10) and in 1971 honored him as its "Alumnus of the Year." Today he is a member of its Board of Regents.

In three seasons, he fashioned seven NCAA passing records, including one for career completions of 368 which lasted 13 years and another for the most completions in one season (159) which stood for 12 years. One night, against Florida, he set three records—33 completions in 63 attempts for 372 yards—and the pro scouts liked what they saw.

Don's professional career began as Cleveland's first-round draft choice. With Otto Graham the Browns' incumbent QB, Don was traded to the old Dallas Texans, then to the Rams. In 1952 with the Rams, he played third fiddle behind a pair of quarterbacks named Waterfield and Van Brocklin.

Following two years in the Air Force, Klosterman returned to football with the Calgary Stampeders of the Canadian Football League and held (until recently) the CFL record for the longest pass completion—106 yards from the line of scrimmage.

Following a business stint in Beverly Hills with his former Loyola coach, Jordan Olivar, Don returned again to pro football in 1960, this time as a scout with the fledgling Los Angeles Chargers. A new career was begun. A string of successes started.

The Chargers, sparked by players scouted, courted and signed by the young exec, quickly were a dominant force in the AFL. John Hadl, Keith Lincoln and Ron Mix exceeded expectations and football men eyed Klosterman's eye for talent. One of them, Lamar Hunt, lured him away from San Diego to his Dallas Texans (now the Kansas City Chiefs). Ed Budde, Mike Garrett, Bobby Bell, Buck Buchanan, Otis Taylor and other Klosterman signees were Hunt's reward and the foundation for an eventual Chiefs' Super Bowl title was formed.

Next stop on the trail back to Los Angeles was Houston where Klosterman became General Manager in 1966. An Oilers team which finished last in 1964, 1965 and 1966 quickly shared its new boss's romance with success. In 1967 Houston won the Eastern Division title with a 9-4-1 record and never again finished lower than second under Don's leadership.

On January 6, 1970, Klosterman signed as Baltimore G.M. and today calls that move the "most important of my career because I joined Carroll Rosenbloom, the very best owner in all of professional sports."

Don's active gridiron career ended in 1957 when he suffered near fatal injuries after veering during a high-speed ski run to miss a young person on the trail. Don went off a cliff at a speed of approximately 45 m.p.h. Eight operations and eighteen recuperative months later he was released from the hospital.

Doctors told Klosterman he would never walk again. "Psychologically, it was the right thing to tell me," he says now. "It meant a challenge."

Today, Don not only walks, but also swims, dances and golfs in the low 80s. He shares these activities with his children, Kurt, 12, and Katie, 11.

From his birthplace in Lemars, Iowa to his present home in Los Angeles, Don Klosterman has gained the experience of a lifetime in football and has displayed an abundance of courage, charm and character that makes him Carroll Rosenbloom's type of general manager.

STEVE ROSENBLOOM, Assistant to the President

Probably no man his age has been more completely schooled in the running of a professional football operation than Steve Rosenbloom. The 29-year-old son of Rams President Carroll Rosenbloom has worked in practically every phase of the business.

His most recent position was that of President of the Baltimore Colts, a title he held from March of 1971 until July of '72 when Carroll swapped that franchise in exchange for the Rams. While Carroll came west, Steve stayed behind for a year to help with a smooth transfer of the franchise to new management. He spent last year getting acclimated, and this spring was named Assistant to the President of the Rams.

Steve has spent more than half of his life working in football. At the age of 12 he was an assistant equipment manager of the Colts during training camp and on weekends. Five years later he moved his efforts to the front office where he aided the club's summer public relations office at training camp.

In the mid 1960s Steve was an undergraduate in business management at Georgetown University. During his collegiate days his Colt responsibilities increased as he worked closely with the late Don Kellett, then General Manager of the club. He obtained his degree from Georgetown in 1967 and immediately moved into the Colt organization on a full-time basis.

As the club's Business Manager, Steve handled road trip arrangements, transportation schedules and hotel accommodations for a period of two years before moving up as Assistant to the President in 1969.

In this position, the younger Rosenbloom associated closely with the player personnel department, signing both rookies and veterans and scouting collegiate talent.

The Colts were riding high during this period, and they climaxed their 1970 season with a 16-13 triumph over Dallas in the Super Bowl.

Two months later Carroll Rosenbloom turned over the presidency of the club to Steve.

Born November 23, 1944 in Atlantic City, N.J., Steve has brought to the west coast an interest in community service and charity work. A former Director of the Maryland Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, he currently serves on the Board of Directors of the Southern California Chapter of that organization.

He and his wife, the former Renee Bauchat, operated a commercial kennel in Baldwin, Md. before moving to their new home in Rolling Hills Estates, Ca.

JACK TEELE, Administrative Assistant

The 1974 season will be the 15th on the Rams staff for Jack Teele, a former newspaper columnist whose administrative talents are widely respected around the National Football League.

It was in 1960 that Teele left the Long Beach Independent & Press-Telegram to become Public Relations Director of the Rams. In that field he was an innovative force in the league for a decade. Then, in March of 1969, Teele was elevated to Assistant to the President, a position which made him the trusted right hand of the late Dan Reeves until the former owner's death in April of 1971.

When Carroll Rosenbloom assumed ownership of the club in July of 1972, he retained Teele in a high administrative capacity.

Born June 17, 1930 in Bloomington, Ill., Teele soon became a Californian. He is a product of the Long Beach school system, graduating from Long Beach Polytechnic High School, Long Beach City College and Long Beach State. Jack was a high school athlete, participating in basketball and golf at Poly. Later, he was a guard on Long Beach State's first-ever basketball team in 1951-52.

While he was going to school in Long Beach, Teele also began working full time in the sports department of the Independent & Press-Telegram from 1949 through 1952, the same year he graduated from college and entered the service. He was with the Army's Counter Intelligence Corps in Japan until 1954, when he returned to the newspaper as a sports writer and columnist.

It was in 1957 that he began his association with the Rams, covering the team for three years until he joined the organization.

The 44-year-old Teele was named Long Beach State's Outstanding Alumnus of the Year in 1971.

With the Rams he has performed a myriad of tasks, including director of training camp, supervisor of the coaches' offices and practice facility in Long Beach and handling team travel arrangements.

Jack, his wife Marilyn, and their two daughters, Dana 18, and Lisa, 16, reside in Long Beach.

MARK DUNCAN, Director of Player Personnel

Mark Duncan has been associated with football as a player, coach and administrator for 39 years. Until January of 1973 he served as Director of Personnel under Commissioner Pete Rozelle in the NFL office. But Mark yearned for a return to the West Coast, and he was also itching to get back into the competitive aspects of pro football.

Thus, Duncan accepted the Director of Player Personnel job with the Rams from Rosenbloom, who kept his reputation for hiring top men intact.

Duncan was born in Denver on Nov. 20, 1918 and attended high school in that city where he was all-state in football and basketball. At Denver U. he was a starting guard for three seasons before graduating in 1941.

His coaching career began that fall as an assistant at Colorado College. Then he moved to his alma mater as an assistant for two seasons (1942-43) before a two-year tour of duty as an Army Sgt. in 1944 and 1945. He returned to Denver U. in '46 as an assistant, then became the youngest head coach in the nation at 28 just before the start of that season.

Later he was an assistant at Colorado State from 1947 through '54, developing defensive backs Jack Christiansen and Jim David, who later gained NFL fame at Detroit.

Mark became defensive coach of the San Francisco 49ers in 1955, serving until 1962 when he left football for a year to go into real estate.

In 1964, he was hired by the NFL office as Supervisor of Officials, succeeding Joe Kuharich. With the implementation of the merger and the re-organization of the league office in 1968, Duncan was given the added responsibility of supervising waiver records, and became Director of Personnel.

Mark and wife, Alice, have a married daughter, Mrs. Gene Karcher; a married son, Scott; and another daughter, Debbie, 18. They live in Marina del Rey.

BILL JOHN, Business Manager

Bill John has been a fixture with the Rams organization longer than any other individual. He has been business manager of the club for 30 years.

Born May 18, 1909 in Cleveland, the 65-year-old John spent all of his early years in the Cleveland area. He served as box office treasurer for the Cleveland Arena and later entered the printing business.

In 1945 he was hired by the late Dan Reeves as business manager of the local football team—the Cleveland Rams. The Rams won the NFL Championship that year, an accomplishment that should solidify any franchise.

But Reeves was far-seeing, and he persuaded his fellow owners to let him move his team to Los Angeles. Bill John was dispatched to the Southland to help set up the first major league sports operation on the West Coast.

Bill has remained with the club ever since, and in 1963 he also became an important force in the development of National Football League Properties, as treasurer of a company that was established originally to fill a need for quality control in the use of the NFL club trademarks on souvenir items.

Since that time NFLP has grown into a large enterprise with a variety of functions performed by large staffs in New York and Los Angeles, and much of the groundwork was laid by Bill John.

Bill and his wife, Gloria, reside in Van Nuys. They have two married sons, Bill, Jr., and Dusty, and five grandchildren.

Ram Coaching Staff

CHUCK KNOX, Head Coach

For openers, how do you like 12-2?

That was Chuck Knox's win-loss record in his first year as the Rams head coach, prompting many pro football watchers to wonder what he will do for an encore. Knox knows what he wants, and this intense, no-nonsense Scotch-Irishman is a perfectionist who will not be satisfied until he has coached a Super Bowl champion.

If he improves his team in 1974 as much as he did in '73, then that is certainly an attainable goal for Carroll Rosenbloom's Rams, who finished 6-7-1 in the year before Knox. It was following that losing season that Rosenbloom decided to hire the former Detroit Lions and New York Jets assistant, who impressed the Rams owner with his intelligence, imagination and determination. Rosenbloom rarely misses on his coaching selections. Four of the last six Super Bowls have been won by head coaches who were discovered by him.

Knox did not disappoint his employer—or anyone else in Los Angeles, for that matter. After a pre-season of experimentation (and a 2-3-1 record), Chuck's Rams reeled off six consecutive regular season wins before losing at Minnesota and Atlanta. Then it was six more victories as the Rams sewed up the NFC West title in the first week of December. The 27-16 loss to Dallas in the playoffs left an unpleasant memory to an otherwise brilliant year for the rookie head coach.

The honors began to pour in. Anyone who voted for someone else as coach of the year wasn't paying attention. For the records, The Associated Press, The Washington, D.C. Touchdown Club and Pro Football Weekly recognized Knox as Coach of the Year in the NFL while UPI, the 101 Committee, The Pro Football Writers Association and The Sporting News gave him the same honor for the NFC.

The awards were a fitting tribute to the man who thrives on hard work and enthusiasm, two traits he has exhibited during his two decades of coaching football at all levels, including 11 years in the pros, five in college and four in the high school ranks.

Knox's professional football coaching preparation was extensive. Most recently he was the highly regarded offensive line coach of the Detroit Lions. He had been a member of the Lions staff for six years, joining the club in 1967 when Joe Schmidt was named head coach. Prior to that Chuck served four seasons in the American Football League as offensive line coach of the New York Jets. He was a member of Weeb Ewbank's first Jets staff in 1963 and remained there through 1966 when he moved to the Motor City.

In both New York and Detroit, the 42-year-old Knox was credited with improving and developing two outstanding offensive lines.

The son of an Irish steel worker, Knox was born April 27, 1932 in Sewickley, Pa. He attended little Juniata College in Huntingdon, Pa., where he was an offensive lineman and co-captain. A three-year letter winner (1950-53), Knox graduated in 1954, then spent one season as assistant coach at his alma mater before going into Pennsylvania prep coaching for four years. He was line coach at Tyrone High for one season and head coach for three years at Ellwood City High.

In 1959 Knox climbed another rung on the coaching ladder when he moved to Wake Forest as an assistant for two seasons until he took a similar job at the University of Kentucky in 1961. Chuck remained with the Wildcats for two more years under both Blanton Collier and Charlie Bradshaw. When Ewbank asked him to join his Jets staff in 1963, he moved to New York.

Chuck and his wife Shirley have three daughters, Chris, 20; Kathy, 18; and Colleen, 14; and one son, Chuck, 9. They reside in Huntington Beach.

LEE BENNETT, Receivers Coach

Leeman Bennett was an assistant coach with Chuck Knox at Detroit and was the only fellow assistant Knox brought from the Lions when he became the Rams head coach. For the second straight year, Bennett will be in charge of the receivers. He handled the offensive backfield at Detroit.

Born June 20, 1938 in Puducah, Ky., Bennett is in his 12th year as an assistant coach in the pro and college ranks, a period interrupted by a two-year tour of duty in the U.S. Army.

The possessor of a bright young football mind, Bennett spent three previous seasons coaching for two different NFL clubs and seven earlier years coaching at four different major universities.

A quarterback and defensive back at the University of Kentucky for three seasons (1958-60), he was on the coaching staff of his alma mater three years (1961-62 and 1965).

Bennett coached at the University of Pittsburgh (1966), University of Cincinnati (1967-68) and the Naval Academy (1969) before being hired by Charley Winner with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1970. He stayed to assist Bob Holloway in 1971 and coached in 1972 under Joe Schmidt in Detroit before coming to the Rams.

Lee and his wife, Pat, have two sons, Paul, 8, and Greg, 5. They reside in Huntington Beach, Calif.

TOM CATLIN, Linebacker Coach

Forty-two-year-old Tom Catlin is in his ninth straight season as an assistant coach with the Rams, the longest continuous coaching assignment in the team's history.

A 14-year veteran of pro coaching, the former University of Oklahoma All-American has worked under three different head coaches with the Rams—George Allen, Tommy Prothro and Chuck Knox.

Catlin who joined the Rams as a defensive specialist in 1966, will be in charge of Knox's linebacking corps for the second straight year.

He began his pro coaching career under Hank Stram with the Dallas Texans of the AFL (1960-62) and then moved with the club to Kansas City where he helped coach the Chiefs from 1963 through 1965.

Born in Ponca City, Okla., Sept. 8, 1931, Catlin was an All-American center and linebacker under Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma in 1952, the last of his three varsity seasons there.

Drafted by Baltimore in the fourth round following the end of his collegiate career, Catlin was traded to Cleveland where he became a starting linebacker midway in his rookie year. The Browns won the World Championship in 1954 with Catlin, then a second-year pro, calling the defensive signals for the club.

In March of 1955 he went into the Air Force, and later spent his final months as Plebe coach at West Point under the famed Earl "Red" Blaik in 1957.

After his release from the service, he played three more seasons of pro ball—Cleveland (1957-58) and Philadelphia (1959)—before joining the coaching ranks.

Catlin and his wife, Betty, live in Orange with their daughter, Kimberly, 15, and son, Tommy, 14.

JACK FAULKNER, Special Assistant Coach

A former AFL Coach of the Year, Jack Faulkner has been a football coach or scout for a quarter of a century.

In his second season under head coach Chuck Knox, Faulkner again will serve as a special assistant. It's his job to help work with the Rams' defense, to do advance game scouting and evaluate professional personnel.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Faulkner was a linebacker at the University of Miami from 1946 through 1948 following a tour of duty in the Marine Corps (1944-45).

He coached for six years at the University of Cincinnati (1949-54) under Sid Gillman and came West with Gillman in 1955 as a defensive backfield coach when the latter was hired by the Rams as their head coach.

Later, he coached for Gillman with the Los Angeles Chargers of the AFL (1960) and the San Diego Chargers (1961).

He was named head coach and general manager of the Denver Broncos in 1962 and led them to a 7-7 record in his first season after they went 4-9-1 the previous year. As a result, Faulkner was selected as the AFL's Coach of the Year.

He remained at Denver until midway into the 1964 season. In 1965, he became the defensive backfield coach of the Minnesota Vikings.

In 1966, he returned to the Rams as a scout. He left to join the expansion New Orleans Saints from 1967 through 1970, serving as chief defensive coach for three years and director of player personnel the final season. He returned to the Rams as a scout in 1971-72 and then to Chuck Knox's coaching staff.

Jack, who was born April 4, 1926, and his wife, Betty, live in Marina del Rey. They have a daughter, Cathy, 22, and a son, Jon, 11.

RAY MALAVASI, Defensive Coordinator

Under defensive coordinator Ray Malavasi, the Rams turned into the NFL's No. 1 defensive club last season. The penurious Ram defense led the league in total defense (2,951 yards) and rushing defense (1,270 yards).

Malavasi, a native of Passaic, N.J., who was born Nov. 8, 1930, has spent 20 years in coaching. He has experience in the NFL, the Canadian League, colleges and service teams.

He came to the Rams last season after two years at Oakland where he was in charge of the Raiders' linebackers.

Malavasi's coaching career began in 1953. Although he was drafted by Philadelphia that year, he opted to become a player-coach at Ft. Belvoir, Va., where one of his teams won a service title.

The former Army and Mississippi State lineman then served as a college assistant coach at Minnesota (1956-57), Memphis State (1958-60) and Wake Forest (1961).

He left coaching briefly in 1962 to become personnel director of the Denver Broncos and was that club's defensive line coach the following season. In 1966, Malavasi was named the Broncos' head coach replacing Mac Speedie, who had resigned as the season began.

In 1967 and 1968, Malavasi served as the defensive coach of Canada's Hamilton Tiger-Cats. He held the same job with the Buffalo Bills the following two years (1969 and 1970) and joined the Raiders in 1971.

Malavasi, who attended high school at Clifton, N.J., and his wife, Mary, have two daughters, Maureen, 16, and Sheila, 12, and three sons; Dennis, 17, Bill, 12, and Bryce, 10. They live in Huntington Beach, Ca.

KEN MEYER, Offensive Coordinator

Ken Meyer and Chuck Knox began a long friendship when they were assistant coaches at Wake Forest in 1959. When Knox landed the Rams' head coaching job last season, Meyer was his choice as offensive coordinator.

A former assistant under Dick Nolan and Weeb Ewbank, Meyer helped coach the No. 1 offense in the NFL in 1973. The Rams led the league in total yards (4,906) last season and in scoring (388 points).

Meyer, who was born July 14, 1925, in Erie, Pa., has been in the pro coaching ranks since 1968. He served as an assistant to Nolan with the San Francisco 49ers that season and then accepted a job from Ewbank with the New York Jets in 1969 where he remained for four seasons when he came to the Rams.

A quarterback at Denison College in Granville, Ohio, from 1947 through 1950, Meyer later earned a master's degree from Ohio State and coached high school football in Ohio in 1950 and 1951.

From 1952 to 1957, he coached at Denison, then moved to Wake Forest for two years (1958-59) and to Florida State where he was an assistant for three seasons (1960-62).

From 1963 through 1967, he was the head offensive coach at Alabama under Bear Bryant where he coached in five straight bowl games.

Meyer, who attended high school at Ashtabula Harbor, Ohio, resides in Los Alamitos, Ca.

ELIJAH PITTS, Offensive Backfield & Special Teams Coach

An 11-year NFL veteran who played in Super Bowl I in 1967, Elijah Pitts replaced Dick Vermeil on the Rams staff after the latter was named head coach of UCLA's football team following the 1973 season.

Pitts, who was born Feb. 3, 1938, at Mayflower, Ark., spent 10 of his pro seasons with the Green Bay Packers and played in four NFL championship games; 1961, 1962, 1964 and 1965. After the 1971 season, he retired to become a full-time scout with the Packers, a job he held when he was hired to fill the vacancy created by Vermeil's departure.

Pitts compiled an outstanding pro record as a running back and return man after being drafted in the 13th round by Green Bay out of Philander Smith College (Ark.).

His lifetime statistics include 1,788 rushing yards in 514 attempts, 104 receptions for 1,245 yards, 75 punt returns for 394 yards and 27 kickoff returns for 516 yards.

Pitts actually played three games with the Rams in 1970. He was traded to the Chicago Bears that season and then moved on to the Rams and New Orleans. He finished his career where he started—at Green Bay—in 1971.

Pitts and his wife, Ruth, have three children; Ronnie, 11; Kimberly, 3, and Anthony, 1. They reside in Fountain Valley, Ca.

RAY PROCHASKA, Offensive Line Coach

At 54, Ray Prochaska is in his 27th season in his chosen profession, a career which began after he played in the 1941 Rose Bowl with the Nebraska Cornhuskers and was with the Cleveland Rams for a season.

Prochaska (pronounced with a silent c) is in his second stint of duty with the Rams. He served five years with the club from 1966 through 1970 and rejoined the Rams as their offensive line coach under Chuck Knox last season.

In 1971 and 1972, he served in a similar capacity with the Cleveland Browns under Nick Skorich.

At Nebraska, Prochaska was an offensive end for three seasons. In the 1941 Rose Bowl, the Cornhuskers lost to Stanford, 21-13. After playing in the College All-Star game, he signed with the Cleveland Rams for a season before entering the Army for 4½ years.

After his discharge, he spent nine years (1946-54) as an assistant coach at Nebraska before entering pro football as an assistant to Pop Ivy with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League from 1955 through 1957. In 1958, he joined the Chicago Cardinals as their offensive line coach, a club he stayed with after it moved to St. Louis.

In 1966, he was hired by George Allen to coach the Rams' offensive line.

Born Aug. 9, 1919, in Ulysses, Neb., Prochaska and his wife, JoAnn, have three sons and a daughter; Craig, 27; Mark, 22; Judy, 19; and Scott, 10. The Prochaska family resides in Seal Beach, Ca.

JIM WAGSTAFF, Defensive Backfield Coach

Jim Wagstaff joined the NFL coaching ranks last season as the Rams' defensive backfield coach and will retain the post this year.

A native of Idaho, he played in both the NFL and AFL before coaching for seven years in high school and four seasons in college.

When Chuck Knox tapped him, Wagstaff was at Boise State, where he had coached since 1969, serving as defensive coordinator and coaching the linebackers and defensive backs.

After his pro playing career ended in 1962, the former defensive back of the Chicago Cardinals and Buffalo Bills returned to his home state where he was head coach at South Fremont High School in 1962, head coach at Pocatello High School from 1963 through 1965 and head coach at Idaho Falls High from 1966 through 1968.

Born June 12, 1936, in American Falls, Idaho, Wagstaff attended high school in that city and later enrolled at Idaho State where he was a running back and corner back from 1954 through 1958.

Although he was drafted by Detroit, he did not play with the Lions. He joined the Cardinals as a defensive back in 1959 and played with the Bills in 1960 and 1961.

Wagstaff and his wife, Nancy, reside in Huntington Beach, Ca. with their two daughters, Cary, 17, and Geniel, 16; and one son, Jim, 16.

ED ALSMAN, Special Assignments Coach

Thirty-three-year-old Ed Alsmen was added to Chuck Knox's coaching staff this season. As a special assignments assistant, he will work with the offense and also handle statistical and computer chores.

It's the first year of pro coaching for Alsmen, who spent six seasons in the high school ranks and another as a collegiate assistant.

A native of the state of Washington, Alsmen was an assistant at Tahoma High in 1967, then became head coach at Sultan High near Seattle from 1968 through 1972. In '73 he served as a backfield assistant at San Jose State before joining Knox's Rams staff.

Born March 16, 1941 in Aberdeen, Wash., Alsmen was a running back and linebacker at Seattle's Shoreline High. He played a year at the U.S. Naval Academy before transferring to the University of Washington, where he obtained a BA degree in 1965. Later, he earned a master's degree at the University of Seattle.

Ed and his wife, Charlotte, reside in Long Beach, Ca.

Weight: 255

Born: 2-11-47

San Diego State

Third Year

PRO: With three offensive linemen approaching their 14th season in 1974, the Rams are eyeing their young replacements, and one of those is Hank Allison, age 27. A member of the club's ready reserve squad all last year, Allison was originally claimed by the Rams from Philadelphia midway through the 1972 season. At the time he had performed in all six games for the Eagles after an outstanding rookie season in which he started nine games and was named to UPI's All-NFL Rookie team. He was a second round draft choice of the Eagles in 1971.

COLLEGE: Allison was a highly regarded prospect in college. In his senior year at San Diego State he was captain of the team. A tackle and guard, he was lauded on NEA's All-American team and participated in the College All-Star game.

PERSONAL: Born in Stevenson, Ala., Allison attended South High in Akron, Ohio. He resides in Culver City, Ca., and spent part of last off-season employed by Union Bank. He is still single.

Baker, Tony

Height: 5-11

Running Back

Weight: 215

Born: 2-16-45

Iowa State

Seventh Year

PRO: When the Rams needed a yard or two in '73, they gave the ball to Tony Baker. He usually got about four . . . and seven times he got a touchdown, the most by any Ram rusher all season. On 41 occasions with four yards to make or less, the Rams handed the ball to Baker, who converted 28 of them into first downs. It was quite a payoff for the team which landed Baker from Philadelphia in the trade of Roman Gabriel that also brought Harold Jackson to Los Angeles along with first draft choices in 1974 (John Cappelletti) and in 1975 and a third in '75. In all Baker gained 344 tough yards on 85 carries, his most productive year since 1969 when he traveled 642 and averaged a league-leading 4.8 for New Orleans, while playing in a reserve role for Lawrence McCutcheon. His six-season totals are now 441 rushes for 1,647 yards, a 3.7 average and nine touchdowns. He has caught 72 passes for 593 yards and two scores. Baker began his NFL career as a free agent in 1968 with the Saints. He climaxed his big year with New Orleans ('69) by appearing in the 1970 Pro Bowl Game, then was traded to Philadelphia in October of 1971 for a draft choice. He spent a year and a half as a part-time starter with the Eagles before coming to Los Angeles. Baker's best day rushing as a Ram was against New Orleans when he picked up 82 yards on 12 carries and one TD.

COLLEGE: Baker earned three letters as a fullback at Iowa State,

Brooks, Larry Defensive Tackle Virginia St. (Petersburg)
Height: 6-3 Weight: 255 Born: 6-10-50 Third Year

PRO: The original "fearsome foursome" of the Rams may be three-quarters retired, but the unit that plays up front for the club these days is performing with the same kind of excellence that was the Rams trademark in the mid-1960s. A major role is being played by Larry Brooks, a 14th round draft choice out of Virginia State at Petersburg in 1972. Brooks became a starter midway through his rookie season at right tackle, and he has been a fixture there since, including all 14 games last year. It was a season in which the Rams finished in a tie for second in the NFL for number of "sacks" on opposing quarterbacks (with 45), and Brooks was responsible for eight by himself with assists on two others. He was also a key member of a platoon that led the NFL in total defense and rushing defense. As a rookie Brooks earned a spot on the club's ready reserve squad through the first six games, then was activated for the remainder of the season, starting in the final seven.

COLLEGE: Brooks was a standout in the small college situation. As a senior he was named to AP's first team Little All-American. An all-conference performer as well, he also earned Virginia Small College Lineman of the Year honors.

PERSONAL: Born in Prince George, Va., Brooks attended high school in that city where he was a football and track star. He resides in Huntington Beach, Ca. with wife Colleen and a four-year-old son, Larry Jr. Last off-season he worked for Union Bank.

Bryant, Cullen Safety Colorado
Height: 6-1 Weight: 210 Born: 5-20-51 Second Year

PRO: Although he did not crack the starting lineup during his first year of professional football, Cullen Bryant turned in a play that was one of the most important in a 12-2 Rams season. In the third week of the season, the Rams were 2-0 and in San Francisco to meet the defending NFC Western champion 49ers. As the first period ended the 49ers took a 7-3 lead and had the momentum. But Bryant returned the ensuing kickoff 93 yards to a touchdown and the Rams were never headed. In all he ran back 13 kickoffs for 369 yards and a 28.4 average. A starter at free safety for much of the pre-season, Bryant played behind Steve Preece during the regular season. He missed the finale, as well as the playoff game in Dallas, because of a bruised thigh. Cullen was the Rams top choice of the 1973 draft, taken on the second round on a choice from San Diego.

COLLEGE: After a brilliant career at Colorado, Bryant was named All-American by UPI, Coaches and The Sporting News. He also was All-Big Eight in polls taken by AP and UPI, and he climaxed his collegiate career by participating in the Senior Bowl and College All-Star games.

PERSONAL: Born in Ft. Still, Okla., Bryant attended Mitchell High in Colorado Springs. A recreation and psychology major at Colorado, Bryant continued to work toward a degree during the off-season. He is single.

Chapple, Dave Punter Cal-Santa Barbara
Height: 6-1 Weight: 180 Born: 3-30-47 Fourth Year

PRO: The NFC's leading punter in 1972, Dave Chapple carries a lifetime average of 42.3 yards per kick during an NFL career that spans a little more than two years going into the 1974 season. A 10th round draft choice of San Francisco in 1969, Dave did not report until 1970 because of a back injury. He was the last player released by the 49ers, then signed with Buffalo in '71 as a free agent. Chapple punted for the Bills in only one game before going to their ready reserve. He was later waived and spent the last half of the season on Minnesota's reserve squad before joining the Rams as a free agent in 1972. His first year with the Rams was a highly successful one. He averaged 44.2 on 53 punts, tops in the NFC and second best in the NFL to Jerrel Wilson's 44.8, and he made the Pro

COLLEGE: Chapple punted at Cal-Santa Barbara for three seasons, posting a 41.0 career average. He was also a place kicker, converting 13 of 29 field goal attempts and 84 of 91 PAT tries. In 1973 the school honored him as its outstanding athletic alumnus of the year.

COLLEGE: Curran was All-Gateway Intercollegiate Athletic Conference at Lakeland, where he played both fullback and halfback and once scored six touchdowns in one half.

PERSONAL: Pat was born in Milwaukee and attended Juneau High School in that city. He and wife Sandra live in Milwaukee with a five-year-old son, Christopher. Last off-season Pat was a teacher in the Milwaukee Public School System.

Drake, Bill

Safety

Oregon

Height: 6-1

Weight: 195

Born: 5-22-50

Second Year

PRO: Bill Drake's "second" rookie year with the Rams was luckier than the first. Originally signed as a free agent in the spring of 1972, Drake reported to training camp, but was sent home immediately when it was discovered he had hepatitis. The following year Drake spent considerable time in the Dallas camp before his release late in the pre-season. The Rams claimed him, then placed him on the inactive list for the beginning of the regular season. On four different occasions during the year the Rams activated Drake, who was used mostly on special teams. Besides strong safety, he also played some at wide receiver.

COLLEGE: As a three-year letterman at Oregon, Drake earned considerable acclaim as a defensive back. In '71 he was first team AP All-Coast and first team All-Pac Eight as voted by the coaches.

PERSONAL: Born in Portland, Ore., Drake attended Jefferson High in that city. Last off-season he attended the University of Oregon while living in Springfield. He is single.

Dryer, Fred

Defensive End

San Diego State

Height: 6-6

Weight: 240

Born: 7-6-46

Sixth Year

PRO: Fred Dryer always has had a flare for individuality, and he was never more flamboyant than on Oct. 21, 1973. That's when Dryer did what no other player has ever done in the 54-year history of the National Football League. Against Green Bay, Dryer blasted in from defensive right end to dump Packer quarterbacks twice for safeties to cap a 24-7 Ram victory. On a team that recorded 45 "sacks" on the season, Dryer was in on 12 of them, getting eight by himself. For his efforts, Pro Football Weekly named him to its second team All-NFL squad. Fred came to the Rams in an off-season trade prior to 1972. Until then he had labored for the New York Giants for three seasons, participating in the Pro Bowl following 1970. He played his option year in '71, then was traded on draft day to New England for three draft picks—a first, a second and a sixth. The Patriots dealt him to the Rams two months later for a first draft choice and defensive lineman Rick Cash. Dryer, a first round selection of the Giants in 1969, split the playing time at left end with Jack Youngblood in '72, then moved

Garror, Leon
Height: 6-0

Cornerback
Weight: 174 Born: 5-2-48

Alcorn A&M
Third Year

PRO: A broken wrist kept Leon Garror inactive with the Rams last season after he had joined the club at mid-year on waivers from Buffalo. With the Bills he had started the first two games at safety and had participated in four, intercepting one pass. He had also started several times in his rookie season and had played corner as well as safety while being active for 12 games. Garror was drafted on the fifth round by the Bills in '72.

COLLEGE: An All-Southeastern Athletic Conference defensive back at Alcorn, Garror was named All-American by the Pittsburgh Courier and Black Sports Magazine.

PERSONAL: Garror was born in Mobile, Ala., attended Williamson High in that city and still resides there during the off-season with his wife, Yvonne.

Geddes, Ken
Height: 6-3

Linebacker
Weight: 235 Born: 9-27-47

Nebraska
Fourth Year

PRO: In his first full season as a starter, Ken Geddes was a welcomed addition to a Rams team that led the NFL in total defense, as well as defending against the rush. Before the beginning of the 1973 campaign, the question was whether or not Geddes was durable enough to withstand the grind of a full season. The year before a broken arm and later a broken leg forced Ken to miss all but two games. But in '73 it was a different story.

The former Nebraska star won the starting left linebacker job immediately, and it was his for the year as he teamed with Isiah Robertson and Jack Reynolds to form one of the steadiest units on the club. A seventh round draft choice by Detroit in 1970, Geddes was the last player released by the Lions that year. He was signed by the Rams as a free agent prior to the 1971 training camp.

COLLEGE: A unanimous All-Big Eight selection in his junior and senior years, Geddes played both linebacker and middle guard at Nebraska. He participated in the Senior Bowl and Coaches' All-American games.

PERSONAL: Geddes was born in Jacksonville, Fla., and attended high school at Boystown, Nebraska, where he participated in football, track and basketball. Still single, he was employed last off-season by Union Bank and also participated in several youth sports camps.

Hadl, John
Height: 6-1

Quarterback
Weight: 214

Kansas
Born: 2-15-40 Thirteenth Year

PRO: In 1973 John Hadl was throwing the football less, enjoying it more, and all the while collecting MVP and all-star awards like never before. At San Diego in 11 seasons Hadl threw the ball less than 260 times only once, and that was as a non-starter in 1963. But last season as a Ram, the former Kansan attempted only 258 passes, completing 135 for 2,008 yards, 22 touchdowns and 11 interceptions. He was the director of a balanced Ram attack that was to lead the NFL in scoring and total offense on the way to a 12-2 season and the NFC Western championship. The honors poured in for the 34-year-old quarterback. He was named first team All-Pro by the Associated Press, the Pro Football Writers Association and Pro Football Weekly. The Newspaper Enterprise Association made him second team All-Pro. In addition, Hadl earned NFC Player of the Year honors from United Press International, The Sporting News and The Long Island Athletic Club, as well as NFC Offensive Player of the Year from the 101 Committee. For the record, John made the All-NFC first team in voting conducted by UPI, The Sporting News and Pro Football Weekly. And his achievements did not go unnoticed locally as he won the Rams MVP award from Ye Old Rams, the NEA (Third Down Award) and his coaches (Daniel F. Reeves Memorial Award). The Citizens Savings Athletic Foundation also called Hadl its "athlete of the month" for September. This kind of success was not all that new to John, however, for he was a brilliant performer for the Chargers before coming to Los Angeles prior to the '73 season in exchange for defensive lineman Coy Bacon and running back Bob Thomas. Sometime in the 1974 season Hadl should become the sixth player in pro football history to pass for more than 30,000 yards. His career totals are 3,899 attempts, 1,959 completions, 28,946 yards, 223 TDs and 222 interceptions. The starter for the NFC in last January's Pro Bowl, Hadl has twice led his league in passing completions and yardage—in 1968 when he connected on 208 of 440 for 3,473 yards and 27 touchdowns, and in 1971 when he completed 233 of 431 for 3,075 and 21 scores. Voted pro football's Man of the Year in 1971 as the sport's top citizen-athlete, Hadl has turned in 16 games in which he has passed for more than 300 yards. His best day as a Ram last year was against Dallas when he completed 12 of 22 for 279 yards and four touchdowns to Harold Jackson. While establishing practically all the Charger passing records, Hadl performed in the AFL All-Star games following the 1964, '65, '68 and '69 seasons, as well as the AFL Championship games in 1963, '64 and '65. Picked the MVP by his Charger teammates three times (1967, '68 and '71), Hadl passed for touchdowns in 36 of 38 games during a hot streak from 1966 to 1968. Hadl was a third round draft choice of the Chargers in 1961.

COLLEGE: At Kansas Hadl was All-Big Eight for three years and All-American for two. He was the only player ever to be honored "Most Valuable" in both the East-West Shrine and College All-Star games. He also played in the Bluebonnet and Hula Bowl games following his senior season.

PERSONAL: Born in Lawrence, Kan., Hadl attended high school in that city. He and wife Charneil reside in El Cajon, Calif. with their two children, John, 11, and Jacqueline, 8. In the off-season John works in real estate development in the San Diego area and is also active in charity projects, including a program to aid the American Indian.

Harris, James

Height: 6-4

Quarterback

Weight: 210

Born: 7-20-47

Grambling

Fifth Year

PRO: Their starting quarterback, John Hadl, was the NFC's Most Valuable Player, but the Rams also felt they were well staffed at the position if anything had happened to Hadl. His replacement was James Harris, the former Grambling star who had previously played in Buffalo before signing with the Rams in 1972. And although he did not take a prominent part in the club's 12 regular season victories, Harris may have been the awakening force that started the Rams rolling toward their successful 1973 campaign. After four pre-season games the Rams were 0-3-1 and in Miami for a nationally televised encounter with the Dolphins. Behind 17-0 at the half, the Rams rallied for two touchdowns after intermission, thanks largely to Harris, who completed 12 of 18 for 196 yards and two TDs, one a 58-yard bomb to Harold Jackson. The Rams didn't beat the World Champs, but the momentum helped them win their next eight games en route to the NFC Western title. Hadl's performance didn't afford much chance for Harris, who threw the ball only 11 times, completing seven for 68 yards in seven games. An eighth round draft choice of Buffalo in 1969, Harris was injured much of that season, although he was a starter at the beginning of the year. He was a part-time regular for the Bills until they waived him early in 1972, and the Rams signed him as a free agent. His four-year career totals are 97 completions in 200 attempts for 1,188 yards and five touchdowns.

COLLEGE: Grambling's MVP in both 1967 and '68, Harris had a brilliant career in college. He quarterbacked Grambling to Southwestern Athletic Conference championships both of those years and was the MVP in the '67 Orange Blossom Classic.

PERSONAL: Born in Monroe, La., Harris attended Carroll High in that city. Still single, Harris lives in Inglewood, Ca., and during the off-season he works for the U.S. Commerce Department's Office of Minority Business Enterprise.

Iman, Ken
Height: 6-1

Center
Weight: 240

Southeast Missouri State
Born: 2-8-39 Fourteenth Year

PRO: In 1973 the Rams led the entire NFL in total offensive yardage and in scoring. Their offense also topped the conference in rushing and in protecting the passer. Clearly, the offensive line was doing something right, and the man in the middle of that line was Ken Iman, a fourteen-year veteran. Durability and consistency have marked Iman's pro football career in Los Angeles. He has not missed being in the Rams' starting lineup since 1964, his first year with the club, when a broken ankle kept him out of action for the entire season. Since then he has started every league game, a streak that numbers 126 going into the 1974 campaign. Following the '72 season he achieved his highest honor when his teammates voted him winner of the NEA's Third Down Trophy, emblematic of the team's Most Valuable Player. Originally signed as a free agent by Green Bay in 1960, Iman appeared in three straight NFL Championship Games (1960-1962) with the Packers before they traded him to the Rams for Zeke Bratkowski in 1964. In 1969, as the club won a division championship, Iman was recognized by Ye Old Rams as the team's Outstanding Interior Offensive Lineman.

COLLEGE: Iman was signed as a free agent by the Packers in 1960 after playing center and linebacker at Southeast Missouri State and earning honorable mention on the Little All-American team.

PERSONAL: Born in St. Louis, Iman and his wife, Phyllis, still live in that city. They have four children, Susan, 15; Karen, 13; Betsy, 10; and Robert, 7.

Jackson, Harold

Wide Receiver

Jackson State

Height: 5-10

Weight: 175

Born: 1-6-46

Seventh Year

PRO: Harold Jackson's return to the Rams in 1973 was some kind of celebration. As a prime factor in compiling the club's best ever record (12-2), Jackson caught 40 passes to lead the team, including at least one reception in every game. His 21.9 average per catch was tops in the NFL, as was his 13 touchdown receptions. For these heroics, Jackson was a first team selection by anyone who picked an All-NFL squad (NEA, AP, Pro Football Writers Association and Pro Football Weekly), and, of course, by those who chose All-NFC units (UPI, The Sporting News, AP and Pro Football Weekly). To round out the honors for '73 Jackson was also picked as the Outstanding Receiver by Ye Old Rams, as well as being selected to play in the Pro Bowl for the third time. The other Pro Bowl appearances came in 1970, after a brilliant '69 season with Philadelphia in which he led the league in receiving yards with 1,116 on 65 catches, and in '72, following a '72 season in which he caught more passes (62) for more yards (1,048) than anyone else in the NFL. Jackson's distinction has been his ability to turn in the big play. His lifetime 17.1 average per catch ranks among the best in football. It's computed on totals of 255 receptions for 4,367 yards and 34 TDs. Harold, who also received All-Pro and All-NFC recognition as a member of the Eagles in both 1970 and 1972, will not soon forget Oct., 14, 1973. That's the date he and quarterback John Hadl teamed up on four first half touchdown passes measuring 63, 16, 67 and 36 yards to beat the Dallas Cowboys, 37-31. In all that afternoon Jackson caught seven for 238 yards, the second biggest yardage production in a game by a Ram, and the four TDs equalled a club mark. Finding the end zone was not a novelty to the quick, little receiver from Jackson State. He visited that spot in five consecutive games during the club's early six-game winning streak. So it was a triumphant return for the man who was originally drafted by the Rams on the 12th round in 1968, then was traded with John Zook to the Eagles in '69 for Israel Lang. After four productive years in Philadelphia, Jackson came back to the Rams during the 1973 off-season in the trade that sent Roman Gabriel to the Eagles. The Rams also received running back Tony Baker, first draft picks in 1974 (John Cappelletti) and '75 and a third choice in '75. Jackson's best days as a Ram: seven catches, 238 yds., four TDs, vs. Dallas, 1973; and four catches, 117 yds., three TDs, vs. San Francisco, 1973.

COLLEGE: Jackson was an All-Southwest Athletic Conference end

while setting a Jackson State pass catching record his senior year. He also ran a 9.5 100 on the track team.

PERSONAL: Born in Hattiesburg, Miss., Jackson attended Ronon High in that city and still lives there during the off-season where he operates a clothing store. He is still a bachelor.

Born: 7-29-42

Tenth Year

PRO: He was signed as a free agent in 1964 out of little Augustana College in South Dakota by the Dallas Cowboys, who traded him to Los Angeles before the regular season began for offensive tackle Jim Boeke. Who would have thought then that Les Josephson would go on to become the Rams' third leading rusher of all time? But that's what has happened, and he's not through yet. With 3,372 yards and a lifetime average per carry of 4.29, Josey at the end of the '73 season moved by Tank Younger (3,296) into third place behind Dick Bass (5,417) and Dan Towler (3,493). Clearly, Towler's mark is well within his reach. In a reserve role last year, Josephson gained 174 yards on 36 carries and scored touchdowns against Chicago and New York Giants. In addition to his third place on the club's all-time rushing list, Josey enters 1974 as the seventh most productive receiver with 194 catches for 1,970 yards and 11 touchdowns. He has played much of his career under adversity. After his best-ever season of 1967 when he led the division in rushing with 800 yards and played in the Pro Bowl, Josephson suffered a torn Achilles tendon which kept him out for all of 1968. A broken jaw and a shoulder injury that required surgery have plagued him since then, but through it all he continues to perform in the same solid, dependable manner. Only three running backs (Bill Brown, Wendell Hayes and Leroy Kelly) have been in the NFL longer than Josey. Josephson has been named winner of the Ye Old Rams award as the club's Outstanding Offensive Back on four different occasions, in 1964, '67, '69 and '70. His top yardage day was against Philadelphia in 1964 when he gained 138 yards on 16 carries. Other best days: 106 yds, 20 atts., 1 TD vs. New York Giants, 1970; 95 yds., 22 atts. vs. Atlanta, 1967; 94 yds., 14 atts. vs. San Francisco, 1971; and 90 yds., 10 atts., 1 TD vs. Green Bay, 1964.

COLLEGE: Josephson was signed as a free agent by Dallas for 1964 after he gained 850 yards in his senior year at Augustana College in South Dakota.

PERSONAL: Josephson was born on a farm near Minneota, Minn., and attended Minneota High. He and wife Pam currently reside in Los Angeles where he is also co-owner of Huffer Distributing Corp., a firm dealing in various recreational products.

Kay, Rick Linebacker Colorado
Height: 6-4 Weight: 235 Born: 11-10-49 Second Year

PRO: Rick Kay, product of nearby Pacific High in San Bernardino, Ca., where he was an all-around athlete, is another tribute to the astuteness of the Ram scouting department. Kay was selected as a free agent in 1973 and became one of the rookies who performed for the NFC's Western Division champs. Kay saw action in every game, primarily on the special teams, but he did gain some experience at linebacker. Ram coaches were particularly impressed by the courageous and effective manner in which he broke kickoff wedges.

COLLEGE: Kay was a three-year letter winner and team captain at Colorado and an alternate for the Hula Bowl game. While at Colorado this versatile performer played split end, tight end, flanker, defensive end and middle guard.

PERSONAL: Kay was born in Henderson, Nevada, but now makes his off-season home in Los Angeles with his wife, the former Sandra Lee Davis of Salt Lake City, Utah. During the off-season Kay worked for Cab Lex, a cable and wiring company.

Klein, Bob Tight End USC
Height: 6-5 Weight: 235 Born: 7-27-47 Sixth Year

PRO: Bob Klein is such an exceptional blocker that most coaches feel he could move into the interior line and be effective immediately. However, his steadiness and ability to catch passes make him an outstanding outside performer, too. Although he never caught more than two passes a game in 1973 (only against Houston and in the Dallas playoff game was he blanked), Klein's catches were invariably key ones. He scored two touchdowns, a 23-yarder against Cleveland and a 4-yarder against New Orleans. His best day receiving in 1973 was against Chicago—two for 35 yards. Overall he caught 21 for 277 yards and was the team's third leading receiver. Bob's four-year totals are 68 for 804 yards and eight touchdowns. He was a first round draft choice in 1969 (one of three for Los Angeles). Highlight of his rookie year was a touchdown pass he snagged against Minnesota in the Western Conference title game. For his first two years he played behind Billy Truax and caught but two passes in each of those years. His presence was felt, then as now, as a blocker in running situations, usually on third downs with short yardage. Klein became a starter when Truax went to Dallas prior to 1971. Klein's versatility is apparent by the special team lineups where he is on the kickoff return team, on-side kick-off return team, field goal team and alternate on the spread punt, punt return and kick off coverage teams. Klein's top days: six catches for 39 yards vs. Minnesota, 1972; three for 55 yards vs. Atlanta, 1972, and three for 50 yards vs. Dallas, 1971.

COLLEGE: Klein was named second team All-American by the Sporting News and first team All-Coast by AP and UPI his senior year. A Rose Bowl performer for three consecutive years, Klein also played in the Hula Bowl following his senior season.

PERSONAL: A native Californian, Klein was born in South Gate and attended St. Monica's High in Santa Monica. During the 1972 off-season he completed work on his master's degree in business administration at USC. He is employed in the corporate finance department of Seidler, Arnett, Spillane and Harris, an investment banking firm. He lives in Pacific Palisades with wife JoAnn, and their two children: a daughter, Kristin, 4; and a son, James, 3.

Mack, Tom

Guard

Michigan

Height: 6-3

Weight: 250

Born: 11-1-43

Ninth Year

PRO: Steady is the word for Tom Mack who has now played in 112 straight games prior to the 1974 season and who has been a starter for the club since midway through his rookie season of 1966 when he was a first round draft choice by Los Angeles. Mack was an integral part of the 1973 offensive line which enabled the backs to average 208.9 yards rushing per game, the best record in the National Football Conference and the second best in the NFL. Mack's durability and talent did not go unnoticed by the two major wire services, the Associated Press and United Press International, both of which saw fit to name him first team All-NFC for the third straight year. In addition he was named to the Pro Bowl once again and now has played in that prestigious game in seven of his eight pro seasons. Others who recognized his ability included Pro Football Weekly, which named him both All-Pro and All-NFC, and the Sporting News as All-NFC. Since 1968 Mack has received All-Pro recognition, despite the fact that he was the youngest of the offensive line starters until John Williams (two years Tom's junior at 28) won himself a berth in 1973. Mack was named Rookie of the Year by Ye Old Rams in 1966 and Outstanding Interior Offensive Lineman by the same group in 1970. For the past two years Mack has been the Rams' representative to the National Football League Players' Association.

COLLEGE: As a junior Mack was a starter on the 1964 Michigan team which topped Oregon State in the Rose Bowl. In his senior year he was UPI and NEA All-American, as well as All-Big Ten. He was a member of the East-West, Hula Bowl and College All-Star teams.

PERSONAL: Mack, born in Cleveland, Ohio, attended Cleveland Heights High where he played football and baseball and established swimming records. His father, the late Ray Mack, played major league baseball with the Cleveland Indians. Tom, wife Anne and daughters Kristan, 5, Kathryn, 3, and Carolyn, born last May, live in San Marino. In the off-season Mack is employed as an engineer by Bechtel Corp.

McCutcheon, Lawrence Running Back Colorado State
Height: 6-1 Weight: 205 Born: 6-2-50 Second Year

PRO: In 1972 with the Rams, Lawrence McCutcheon played in only three games and did not carry the ball. It might be said, therefore, that he stepped up his activity in '73. It is an understatement. McCutcheon did, in fact, gain more yards (1,097) than any other Rams back in a single season, and what's more, he did it in what was technically his rookie year, one in which he missed two and a half games with an injury. The only other Ram runner ever to go over the 1,000-yard mark was Dick Bass, who accomplished it twice (1,090 in 1966 and 1,066 in '62). Leg injuries hampered McCutcheon's first training camp, after he had been picked on the third round in '72. He began that season on the reserve squad and was activated at mid-season for three games when he performed on the special teams. The story could not have been more different in '73. In good health, McCutcheon showed his class immediately. In the league opener against Kansas City, McCutcheon ran for 120 yards on 21 carries. Other best days included 152 yds., 20 atts., vs. New Orleans; 152 yds., 24 atts., vs. Chicago; and 115 yds., 21 atts., vs. New Orleans. As one of six NFL rushers to eclipse 1,000 yards, McCutcheon had the best average per carry among the leaders with 5.2. He was also the second leading pass receiver for the Rams, catching 30 for 289 yards and three touchdowns. The outstanding season did not go unnoticed as he was selected to the Pro Bowl and UPI named him to its All-Rookie team. In addition, the NEA and Pro Football Weekly placed McCutcheon on their All-NFL second teams and UPI called All-NFC second team. Other honors included the Ye Old Rams Outstanding Offensive Back and Athlete of the Month of December by Citizens Savings Athletic Foundation.

COLLEGE: In his sophomore year at Colorado State, McCutcheon was the WAC's "outstanding back", but ensuing seasons were even more productive. He finished with career totals of 649 carries for 2,917 yards, a 4.5 per carry average and 22 touchdowns. Twice he gained more than one thousand yards in a season; 1,008 in 1970 and 1,112 in '71.

PERSONAL: McCutcheon was born in Plainview, Texas, and went to high school in that city. Still a bachelor, he lives in Long Beach, Ca.

McMillan, Eddie Cornerback Florida State
Height: 6-0 Weight: 190 Born: 11-25-51 Second Year

PRO: If the Rams secondary was a question mark going into the 1973 season, the play of rookie Eddie McMillan at right cornerback soon supplied some to the answers. The fourth round draft choice from Florida State turned in some key interceptions during the pre-season, and his all-around performance made him the first Rams rookie to start at a corner since Clarence Williams back in 1965. The youngest starter on a Rams unit that led the NFL in total defense, McMillan was named Rookie of the Year by Ye Old Rams. He also landed a berth on NFL All-Rookie teams picked by UPI and Pro Football Weekly. As a regular in every game, McMillan was second on the club in interceptions with four.

COLLEGE: McMillan climaxed his collegiate career by participating in the North-South and American Bowl games. He was also a sprinter on the Seminole track team, running the 100 in 9.6.

PERSONAL: Born in Tampa, Fla., McMillan attended Blake High in that city and still lives there. Last off-season he attended Florida State. He is a bachelor.

Nelson, Bill Defensive Tackle Oregon State
Height: 6-7 Weight: 270 Born: 3-9-48 Fourth Year

PRO: Big Bill Nelson had the unenviable job of playing back-up defensive tackle behind two of the finest starters in football, Merlin Olsen and Larry Brooks, so his playing time during the 1973 season was limited since both Olsen and Brooks are highly durable performers. Nelson was drafted on the seventh round in 1970 and spent that season on the ready reserve. In 1971 he opened a fight for the starting position and apparently had it won at the start of the year. He continued to improve until a back ailment sidelined him. He underwent an operation for a disc problem and missed the remainder of the season. In 1972 he was a back-up for the first half, and the last half he spent on the ready reserve unit.

COLLEGE: Nelson lettered three years at Oregon State as a defensive lineman, and following his senior season he participated in the All-American Bowl game.

PERSONAL: Born in Berkeley, Calif., Nelson attended high school at nearby El Cerrito. He and wife Susan reside in El Toro, Calif., and Bill spends the off-season designing and selling jewelry.

Olsen, Merlin

Defensive Tackle

Utah State

Height: 6-5

Weight: 270

Born: 9-15-40 Thirteenth Year

PRO: In Kansas City last January Merlin Olsen, as NFC co-captain, attended the coin tossing ceremony to begin the Pro Bowl Game. One of these days, they'll play a Pro Bowl without him, and that will be news because he hasn't missed being named to compete in the NFL's all-star contest in all of his 12 years of pro football, although he did sit out the 1971 classic because of a knee injury.

The Pro Bowl appearances reflect what Olsen has been—and, indeed, is to this day: one of the finest defensive tackles in pro football history. Last year Merlin's on-the-field antics as senior member and co-captain of the Rams' defensive unit added to his already impressive resume. On a team that went 12-2, won the NFC West title and led the entire NFL in total defense, Olsen was again a standout, winning first team All-NFC honors from UPI, AP, The Sporting News and Pro Football Weekly, a publication that also named him second team All-NFL. Merlin, whose brother, Phil, is a Ram teammate, has been receiving all-star recognition for more than a decade. He was first round draft choice in 1962, and the following year, UPI, AP and NEA made him second team All-NFL. Thereafter, he was named to various all-pro teams each season, and from 1966 through 1970 he was a unanimous All-NFL performer. Ye Old Rams twice named him the Club's Most Valuable Player (1971-72) and four times the team's Outstanding Defensive Lineman (1967-70). The Daniel F. Reeves Award, emblematic of the coaching staff's selection as MVP, also went to Olsen twice (1971-72). He has also been a Co-Athlete of the Year in Southern California by Citizen Savings/Helms Athletic Foundation (1972) and Southland Athlete of the Month from the same organization (Nov., 1970). One of the most prestigious awards came in 1970 when Olsen was picked to the all-time Ram team in conjunction with the Memorial Coliseum's Golden Anniversary. An iron man since his rookie year when he missed a couple of weeks late in the season, Olsen has started 156 consecutive league games for the Rams going into the 1974 campaign, second highest in club history behind Ed Meador (159). Olsen's 166 games played ranks fourth on the all-time list.

COLLEGE: Olsen was named to every All-American team for his line play at Utah State. He was "Lineman of the Game" in the Hula Bowl and also took part in the East-West, All-American and College All-Star games.

PERSONAL: Merlin was born in Logan, Utah, one of a family of as a free agent with Denver, where he started nine games in '72. And when the Broncos waived him in the summer of '73, the Rams picked him up, and he was the starting free safety on a team that went 12-2 and led the NFL in total defense. He intercepted two passes, running his career total to six. He also held for placements, and it was in this role that he carried a bad center snap for a key 11-yard touchdown in the opener against Kansas City.

COLLEGE: An All Pac-Eight quarterback at Oregon State, Preece was captain of the Beavers his senior year and a three-year letterman.

PERSONAL: Preece was born in Boise, Ida., and attended high school in that city. During the off-season he and wife Sue reside in Lake Oswego, Ore., where Steve works for Gilley Real Estate, a firm dealing in commercial property. Daughter Whitney joined the family in May.

Ray, David

Place Kicker-Wide Receiver

Alabama

Height: 6-0

Weight: 195

Born: 9-19-44

Sixth Year

PRO: In his fourth year as the Ram field goal kicker, David Ray led the National Football League with 130 points. His field goal total of 30 topped both conferences, too. And he connected on 40 extra point attempts, including one which he converted by running. All told Ray was good on 30 of 47 field goal attempts, an average of .638, seventh among the 17 listed NFC booters. Ray's longest was a 48-yarder against Cleveland in the season finale. By leading the NFL in points, Ray was awarded the Golden Toe trophy administered by Pro Football Weekly. He erased his 1970 Ram FG record of 29, and also bettered his own season scoring mark of 121 set in 1970. Ray's foot provided the victory margin against Dallas, 37-31 (three field goals, three PAT's, one running). Ray now has 445 career points which places him third behind Bob Waterfield's 573 and Bruce Gossett's 571 on the all-time Ram list. Ray's four field goals against San Francisco in the 40-20 win Sept. 30 was the third time he'd turned that feat (1970 vs. Buffalo and 1972 vs. San Francisco), and it's just one shy of Waterfield's Ram record. David's personal longest is 49, against the 49ers in 1971. The Bear Bryant-coached youngster was drafted 16th by Cleveland in 1966, then traded to the Rams that year for a draft choice. After spending that season on the reserve squad, he was waived in '67 and claimed by Atlanta. After a year as an Atlanta reserve squadder, he headed for Canada in 1968 and, at Montreal, he clicked on 11 or 18 field goal tries, including the 54-yarder which tied a Canadian League record. He signed with Los Angeles before the '69 season and was activated near the year's end. When the Rams traded Gossett to the 49ers for Kermit Alexander prior to the 1970 season, Ray became the place-kicker. He has filled in on occasion at wide receiver, his college spot.

COLLEGE: In 1964 Ray was named AP's Specialist of the Year as well as All Southeast Conference when he led the NCAA kickers in scoring with 59 points. He was also used as a flanker and defensive back at Alabama.

PERSONAL: Born in Phenix City, Alabama, Ray attended high school in that city where he was a four-sport athlete. He and wife Becky have a four-year-old daughter, Brandi Leigh. They live in Huntington Beach, Ca., and during the off-season David worked for Consolidated Electrical Distributing Company.

Rentzel, Lance

Wide Receiver

Oklahoma

Height: 6-2

Weight: 202

Born: 10-14-43

Ninth Year

PRO: After a year away from football, Lance Rentzel returns to the Rams with a reputation as one of the game's most dangerous pass catching threats. His eight-year totals are 250 receptions for 4,430 yards, a 17.7 average and 37 touchdowns. In his most recent season (1972) Lance caught 27 for 365 and one TD. A two-year starter with Los Angeles, Rentzel joined the Rams prior to the 1971 season in a trade that sent tight end Billy

Truax and wide receiver Wendell Tucker to Dallas. With the Cowboys, Rentzel led the club in receptions three times, including a career high of 58 catches in 1967. He still holds the Cowboys single game record of 13 catches for 223 yards. Rentzel went to Dallas from Minnesota in 1967 for a third draft choice after spending two seasons with the Vikings, primarily on special teams. The Vikings drafted him on the second round in 1965. Rentzel's best days: (with Dallas) 13 catches for 223 yds., one TD, vs. Washington, 1967; 10 catches for 152 yds., vs. Philadelphia, 1968; (with Rams) six catches for 88 yds., two TDs, vs. Detroit, 1971; and five catches for 65 yds., two TDs, vs. New Orleans, 1971.

COLLEGE: Rentzel was an All-Big Eight Conference halfback at Oklahoma. His first college football game was in the Cotton Bowl against Texas as a sophomore. He came off the injured list too late to go with the team, so he hitchhiked to the game and then caught two long passes. He caught a TD pass against Cleveland in the College All-Star game.

PERSONAL: Rentzel was born in Flushing, N.Y., but grew up in Casady, Okla. where he was an All-American in high school. An accomplished pianist and organist, he has played professionally. He has done considerable writing, including completion of one book. He resides in Los Angeles.

*NFL Leader

Reynolds, Jack

Linebacker

Tennessee

Height: 6-1

Weight: 232

Born: 11-22-47

Fifth Year

PRO: In his first full year as a starter at middle linebacker, Jack Reynolds justified the faith placed in him by the Rams when they drafted him on the first round in 1970. Before becoming a regular Reynolds had been an understudy to Myron Pottios (1970) and Marlin McKeever (1971-1972) at middle linebacker, and knee injury had forced him out of most of the '71 season.

However, when Chuck Knox became head coach he decided immediately to go with youth and quickness at the position, and Reynolds was elevated to the No. 1 spot. Knox did not regret the decision because Reynolds stepped in with a large contribution as the Rams led the NFL in total defense and won the NFC West. During the regular season Reynolds intercepted two passes, one a key 49-yard return that set up an important touchdown in the league opener against Kansas City. He also swiped a Roger Staubach aerial in the Rams' playoff loss to Dallas.

COLLEGE: Reynolds made All-Southeast Conference at Tennessee and was one of the two Vols linebackers to be picked high in the draft. He played in the College All-Star game following his senior year.

PERSONAL: Born in Cincinnati, Reynolds attended Western Hill High School in that city. He and wife Pat reside in Huntington Beach, Ca. Jack sells jeeps in the off-season for Dossor Motors.

Robertson, Isiah Linebacker Southern U.
Height: 6-3 Weight: 225 Born: 8-17-49 Fourth Year

PRO: In the next-to-last regular season game against the New York Giants, Isiah Robertson picked off a pass and returned it 49 yards to a touchdown, the first of his pro career. The six-pointer was an appropriate ornament to the outstanding season played by the talented outside linebacker from tiny Southern U. Robertson, who has the knack of turning in plays best described as spectacular, is part of a young, aggressive corps of linebackers who, Ram coaches feel, are as good as any group around. Selected on the first round in 1971 (10th player picked on a choice obtained from Washington), Robertson won all sorts of honors his rookie year, including a spot on the Pro Bowl team (an honor accorded him again following the 1973 season). This past season Robertson duplicated the eye-catching play of his rookie year without foregoing "team" play as evidenced by the fact that the total defense as well as against the rush was the best in the National Football League. Robertson, a starter since his rookie year, intercepted three passes in 1973 and now has a career total of seven. In 1973 Isiah was named to the Associated Press All-NFL Team, the Professional Football Writers Association All-NFL Team, the AP All-NFC Team, and the Pro-Football Weekly All-NFL and All-NFC second teams. As a rookie Robertson amassed the following honors: first team All-NFC by the Sporting News; NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year by both AP and Pro Football Weekly; UPI All-Rookie; Rookie of the Year by Ye Old Rams; second team All-NFL by NEA's player-conducted poll; second team All-NFC by UPI; and a finalist in the Wheaties NFL Rookie of the Year.

Schuh, Harry
Height: 6-3

Tackle

Memphis State
Tenth Year

Weight: 260

Born: 9-25-42

PRO: The NFL career of Harry Schuh has been long and distinguished. Following a notable tenure with Oakland in which he was a perennial AFL all-star, Schuh followed with two productive years for the Rams, where he was a starter at right tackle. Last season he and John Williams battled for the starting spot during the pre-season with Williams winning the job. So Schuh was the No. 1 tackle replacement on a team that led the NFL in total offense and topped its conference in rushing and protecting the passer. Schuh was obtained along with defensive back Kent McCloughan from Oakland in exchange for tackle Bob Brown and two draft choices. The Raiders' number one draft pick in 1965, Schuh started in four consecutive conference championship games for Oakland and was also named All-AFC in 1970 by UPI and Pro Football Weekly. But making all-star teams was nothing new to Schuh, who played in the NFL all-star game following the 1967 and 1969 seasons and also made the All-AFL team in '67.

COLLEGE: Schuh was one of Memphis State's most honored linemen. As a senior he made the following All-American teams. AP, UPI, NEA, Playboy, TV Guide and Sporting News. He also played in the Blue-Gray and Senior Bowl games and was invited to the College All-Star and All-American games.

PERSONAL: Born in Philadelphia, Schuh attended Neshaminy High in Feasterville, Pa. He and wife Joyce have two daughters, Susanne, 10, and Sally, 8. Harry spends the off-season at home in Memphis, Tenn., where he is a sales representative and stockholder for REA Express.

Scibelli, Joe
Height: 6-0

Guard

Notre Dame

Weight: 255

Born: 4-19-39 Fourteenth Year

PRO: Rams fans have known the value of Joe Scibelli for a long time, and after 13 seasons the popular co-captain was finally recognized nationally. Following the '73 campaign Scibelli was named first team All-Pro by the Newspaper Enterprise Association's player-conducted poll. It was the first such award for the man who was a 10th round draft choice by the Rams in 1961. A fixture at right guard ever since, Scibelli joins Charlie Cowan (still active), Lamar Lundy and Jack Pardee (both retired) as the only players to have performed 13 seasons for the Rams. And, with 174 games played going into the '74 season, Scibelli ranks second to Cowan (179) in that department. Besides the All-Pro recognition, Joe was also named the team's Outstanding Interior Offensive Lineman by Ye Old Rams, an award he has won five times (1967, '68, '71 and '72) in the last seven years. A Pro Bowl participant following the 1968 season, "Ski" has been a Rams co-captain the last eight years. He was a starter in every game last season on a team that (1) led the NFL in total offense, (2) topped the NFC in rushing with 2,925 yards and (3) also permitted the fewest "sacks" in the NFC on its own quarterback with 17. Scibelli had never missed a game until midway through the 1969 season when a knee injury forced him out of action. He also was sidelined for a game in '72 with a groin pull.

COLLEGE: Scibelli showed great promise as a sophomore tackle at Notre Dame, but didn't return for his junior year, finishing his college work at American International College in Massachusetts.

PERSONAL: Scibelli was born in Springfield, Mass., and went to Cathedral High in that city where he was a football and hockey star. He and his wife, Louise, have one son, Chris, 12. They reside in Long Beach, Calif. During the off-season Scibelli works as a sales representative for Cab Lex, a cable and wire company.

Scribner, Rob Running Back UCLA
Height: 6-0 Weight: 200 Born: 4-9-51 Second Year

PRO: Versatile Rob Scribner is another performer whose presence on the Ram 1973 team came about as the result of the scouting department. Scribner signed as a free agent, won a place on the reserve squad after training camp, was activated following the fourth league game and remained a member of the 40-man team thereafter. A rugged, smart runner who is hailed by rugby experts as one of the best Americans ever to play that game, Scribner ran back kickoffs (11 for 314 yds., 28.6 avg., 57-yd. long), carried 20 times for 109 yds., a 5.5 avg. and caught two passes for 19 yards.

COLLEGE: Scribner played quarterback as a UCLA freshman, line-backer as a sophomore, defensive back as a junior and as a wishbone quarterback his senior year. The Van Nuys (Ca.) High grad was UCLA's third top rusher his senior year with 65 carries for 498 yards, a 7.7 average and four touchdowns.

PERSONAL: Scribner was born in Dallas, Tex., the son of a medical doctor. He and his wife, the former Jennifer Louise Ray, live in Westwood, Ca. In the off-season Rob undertook a training program for the Massachusetts Mutual Insurance Co.

Snow, Jack
Height: 6-2

Wide Receiver
Weight: 190

Born: 1-25-43

Notre Dame
Tenth Year

PRO: This year, 1974, is his tenth as a Ram, and for Jack Snow, it could be a record-setting one. With 5,529 yards catching passes, the former Notre Dame All-American has moved up to second place on the club's all time list, and another 760 would catch the leader, Elroy Hirsch, who has 6,289. This is not the only place in the Rams record book where Snow's name appears. His 312 receptions are fourth best all time, just 21 shy of third place Red Phillips (333), and his 41 touchdown catches ranks third behind Hirsch (53) and Jim Benton (42). Jack became a Ram in the fall of 1965 and has been a starter in every game since his rookie season—a total of 126 consecutive contests. He was a first round draft choice of Minnesota, but the Rams dealt Red Phillips and defensive tackle Gary Larson to the Vikings for the negotiation rights. They certainly have not been disappointed for Snow's career has been a productive one in which he has averaged 17.72 yards per catch and has rarely been caught from behind in an open field. His best season was 1970 when he caught 51 for 859 yards and seven TDs. Last year, moving over to the flanker side for the first time in his pro career, his totals were reduced to 16 catches for 252 yards and two scores. Snow's accomplishments have not gone unnoticed by Ye Old Rams, who named him the club's Rookie of the Year in 1965, the Offensive Lineman of the Year in '67 and the Outstanding Receiver in 1971 and 1972. Jack also made the West Pro Bowl squad following the '67 season, but was unable to play due to an ankle injury. Snow's best days: eight catches for 112 yds., vs. Minnesota, 1972; seven catches for 150 yds., vs. Detroit, 1970; seven catches for 138 yds., vs. Buffalo, 1970; seven catches for 103 yds., one TD, vs. New Orleans, 1970; five catches for 144 yds., two TDs, vs. Dallas, 1970 Playoff Bowl; four catches for 130 yds., two TDs, vs. San Francisco, 1972; three catches for 151 yds., two TDs, vs. Baltimore, 1967; and three catches for 133 yds., three TDs, vs. New Orleans, 1969.

COLLEGE: Snow was named to every All-American team after breaking most of the pass receiving records at Notre Dame. Most of his marks have been broken, however. In 1964 he caught 60 for 1,114 yards and nine touchdowns.

drafted on the fourth round by that club in 1967. He was traded to Minnesota in July of '73 for a draft choice, and the Rams obtained his services from the Vikings for the same price a month later.

COLLEGE: A quarterback at Maryland Eastern Shore, Stukes was also a basketball and baseball star.

PERSONAL: Born in Chesapeake, Va., Stukes attended Crestwood, Va., High School. He and wife Gloria have two daughters, Syreatha, 5; and Sheri, 2. In the off-season he is employed as a social service worker.

Teal, Jim Linebacker Purdue
Height: 6-3 Weight: 225 Born: 5-14-50 Second Year

PRO: As a member of the Detroit Lions, Jim Teal played in all 14 regular season games last year. He saw most of his action on the specialty teams, but the former Purdue star did start one game at outside linebacker. He came to the Rams in an off-season trade in exchange for a draft choice. Drafted on the 10th round by Detroit in 1972, Teal was forced to the sideline that season because of a knee injury sustained in training camp which required surgery.

COLLEGE: Teal was a three-year letter winner for the Boilermakers. During his senior year he was credited with contributing to 106 tackles and breaking up nine passes.

PERSONAL: Born in Salisbury, N.C., Teal attended Boyden High in that city. Still a bachelor, he worked for an insurance company in Detroit last off-season.

Williams, John Tackle Minnesota
Height: 6-3 Weight: 256 Born: 10-27-45 Seventh Year

PRO: Four of the five interior offensive linemen for the Rams last season had played together since 1966. The newcomer was John Williams, who moved in at starting right tackle after a year as a reserve. Thus, Williams played a key role on an offensive unit that claimed several statistical accomplishments. For example, the Rams led the NFL in total offense. They also topped the NFC in rushing and in protecting the passer. Williams' performance, then, justified the first draft choice the Rams gave Baltimore for him prior to the 1972 season. A two-year starter for the Colts, including their Super Bowl championship team of 1970, Williams is a versatile player who spent a year in Baltimore as a defensive end in 1969, later moved to guard, and, of course, was switched to tackle in Los Angeles. He was a first draft choice of the Colts in 1968.

COLLEGE: Williams was an All-Big Ten tackle at Minnesota, where he also played some at fullback and defensive end. He participated in the College All-Star and Coaches All-American games following his senior season.

PERSONAL: Born in Jackson, Miss., Williams attended Libbey High in Toledo, Ohio. Last off-season John took preliminary courses to enter the University of Minnesota's dental school. He and wife Colleen have two sons, Jay, 4, and Justin, 2.

Youngblood, Jack	Defensive End	Florida
Height: 6-4	Weight: 255	Born: 1-26-50
		Fourth Year

PRO: It took three years, but when the starting defensive left end job was finally given to Jack Youngblood, once and for all, he began to blossom into a star. A first round draft choice out of Florida in 1971, Youngblood was an understudy to Deacon Jones as a rookie and he shared the position with Fred Dryer in his second season. Last year, with Dryer moving back over to his more familiar right end spot, Youngblood improved steadily, often played superbly, and was selected to the Pro Bowl squad. It was not the only honor bestowed upon the man who dumped opposing quarterbacks 13 times attempting to pass and assisted on five additional "sacks" to lead the team that tied for second in that department in the entire NFL. He was named second team All-NFL by AP, and second team All-NFC by both UPI and Pro Football Weekly. Ye Old Rams also selected Youngblood as the club's Outstanding Defensive Lineman. Obviously, Jack was a key member of a unit that led the NFL in total defense and rushing defense.

COLLEGE: Each year was better than the preceding one in the college career of Youngblood, who won first team All-American honors as a senior at Florida from the Sporting News and the Football Writers Association. He was named second team by AP, and he participated in the College All-Star and Senior Bowl games. He was also named the Most Valuable Defensive Lineman in the Southeast Conference in 1970.

PERSONAL: Youngblood was born in Jacksonville, Florida, and went to Jefferson County High School in Montecello, Florida. In the off-season he and wife Diane live in Westminster, Calif., and Jack works for BankAmericard in a public relations capacity. Last February Jack joined the USO-NFL tour of U.S. military bases in Japan, Korea and the Philippines.

Youngblood, Jim Linebacker Tennessee Tech
Height: 6-3 Weight: 239 Born: 2-23-50 Second Year

PRO: The Rams feel they are well stocked at middle linebacker in both the youth and talent departments. In 1973 the starter at the position was four-year man Jack Reynolds, a former first round draft choice. The backup was rookie Jim Youngblood, a second round pick. While Youngblood did not start any games, he did gain valuable experience on the special teams, and he did get in some scrimmage action. In fact, he intercepted a pass against the New York Giants, returning it 15 yards in a 40-6 Rams romp. He is not related to Rams defensive end Jack Youngblood.

COLLEGE: Twice named Little All-American by AP and the Football Coaches Association, Youngblood was the Ohio Valley Conference's Defensive Player of the Year in both 1971 and 1972. He played in the Hula Bowl and College All-Star games following his senior season.

PERSONAL: Born in Union, S.C., Youngblood attended high school at Jonesville, S.C. Last off-season he attended Tennessee Tech to complete work on a bachelor's degree. He and wife, Mary, have a daughter, Tara, 3.

HEISMAN WINNERS BECOME RAMS

Running back John Cappelletti of Penn State became the sixth Heisman Trophy winner drafted by the Los Angeles team when it made its selections this year.

Other Ram draftees who had won the honor were Les Horvath of Ohio State, 1944; Billy Cannon of LSU, 1959; Terry Baker of Oregon State, 1962; Mike Garrett of USC, 1965, and Gary Beban of UCLA, 1967.

Cannon, Garrett and Beban never played for the Rams. Houston and Kansas City of the former American Football League signed Cannon and Garrett, respectively, while the Rams traded Beban's rights to Washington, which subsequently signed him.

Three other Heisman Trophy winners played with the Rams, although they had been drafted by other teams. They were Bruce Smith of Minnesota, 1941, obtained from Green Bay; Tom Harmon of Michigan, 1940, drafted by Chicago; and Glenn Davis of West Point, 1946, drafted by Detroit.

Beban and Baker were collegiate quarterbacks. All the others were running backs.

The Ram Story 1937-1974

- 1937 On February 13th, the National Football League grants a Cleveland franchise to Homer Marshman and associates, a prominent group of local businessmen. Hugo Bezdek is named head coach. As the league's rookie franchise, Rams finish with a 1-10-0 record. Bob Kelley is named radio play-by-play announcer at start of season.
- 1938 Assistant coach Art Lewis takes over team after three losses and Rams win three of remaining seven games.
- 1939 Earl "Dutch" Clark becomes head coach and Lewis remains as assistant. Rams hit .500 mark for first time with 5-5-1 record. Parker Hall joins team as rookie tailback. Hall is not named on official NFL all-league first team, but wins Joe Carr Trophy as NFL's official Most Valuable Player.
- 1940 Team drops back to 4-6-1 record. Johnny Drake, powerful Ram fullback, is named to first team all-NFL.
- 1941 Daniel F. Reeves and Fred Levy, Jr. purchase Rams in June and hire, as general manager, Billy Evans, former sports columnist, American League umpire and Cleveland Indians general manager. Team wins first two games but drops next nine to finish in cellar.
- 1942 Evans resigns before 1942 season. Charles "Chile" Walsh replaces Art Lewis as assistant coach. Lt. Reeves and Major Levy depart to enter armed forces. Bob Kelley is named club secretary. Team finishes 5-6-0.
- 1943 Clark resigns. Chile Walsh is named head coach, but NFL grants Rams permission to suspend operations for one season because of war-time difficulties. Reeves buys out Levy.
- 1944 Chile Walsh becomes general manager and appoints Donelli as head coach. Pick-up team finishes 4-6-0.
- 1945 Donelli joins military service. Walsh names his brother, Adam Walsh, as head coach, with George Trafton and Bob Snyder as assistants. Third round draft choice (a future) Bob Waterfield from UCLA joins team as T-formation quarterback and leads Rams to 9-1-0 season for first divisional title in team's history. On icy field, Rams defeat Washington Redskins, 15-14, at Cleveland for world title. Waterfield becomes first player to receive unanimous vote for official NFL Most Valuable Player award. Walsh is named coach of the year. Eddie Kotal joins team as chief scout and Bill John begins 29-year tenure as business manager.

- 1946 Reeves moves franchise to Los Angeles early in the year. After disappointing 6-4-1 season, both Walshes resign.
- 1947 Reeves assumes duties of general manager. Bob Snyder is named head coach with Joe Stydahar as new assistant. Team is talent-heavy but injury-ridden in 6-6-0 season. Reeves sells part interests to former partner Levy and to Edwin and Harold Pauley and Hal Seley.
- 1948 Clark Shaughnessy joins staff as advisory coach. On September 3rd Snyder resigns and Shaughnessy becomes head coach. Team wins four of last five to post 6-5-1 mark.
- 1949 Team wins first six games, then hangs on to win first divisional title since moving west. Heavy rain holds down L.A. crowd as Philadelphia Eagles skid to 14-0 win over Rams as NFL title game. Rookie Norm Van Brocklin joins team and gives Rams top-notch one-two quarterback punch. Elroy Hirsch has fine rookie year.
- 1950 NFL absorbs AAC, leaving Rams as lone pro team in Los Angeles after four years of two-league existence. In February, Stydahar becomes head coach, replacing Shaughnessy, and appoints Hamp Pool, Mel Hein and Red Hickey as assistants. Club opens new offices on Beverly Boulevard. Bill Granholm begins 18-year tenure as equipment manager. Team sets 22 league records in rolling to divisional title tie. Waterfield and end Tom Fears lead play-off win over Bears, 24-14, but following week in Cleveland, Lou Groza's late field goal stops Rams' title hopes, 30-28.
- 1951 Hein resigns to take USC post. He is replaced by Ray Richards. Rams win third straight divisional title on final day of season, then defeat Cleveland at the Coliseum, 24-17, on 73-yard pass, Van Brocklin to Fears, for first world title since moving to L.A.
- 1952 After team loses three straight pre-season games and drops league opener by big score, Stydahar resigns. He is replaced as head coach by Hamp Pool. Team loses two of next three, but wins last eight to tie for divisional title. Rams lose playoff in Detroit. Rams trade 11 players to Dallas for rookie Les Richter, who then enters army for two years. Waterfield retires.

- 1953 Richards resigns to accept Baltimore coaching assignment. Pool names John Sauer and Bill Battles as new assistants. Club co-owner Harold Pauley passes away. Team compiles 8-3-1 record, losing three games by total of eight points, to finish third in division. Rams defeat world champ Lions in both games.
- 1954 Pool adds Dick Voris and Ralph Weaver to staff. Bonus choice Bill Wade and tradee Les Richter both join Rams as rookies two years after going from college into military service. Team has disappointing 6-5-1 mark. All assistant coaches resign. Pool soon follows suit.
- 1955 On January 26th, Rams hire Sid Gillman, head coach at University of Cincinnati, to replace Pool. Gillman names Joe Madro, Jack Faulkner, Lowell Storm and Joe Thomas as assistants. Fine defensive year and clutch field goal kicking by Richter give team hard-fought 8-3-1 record for divisional title. Cleveland wins title game at Coliseum by one-sided score.
- 1956 In form reversal, team loses five consecutive early-season games and finishes in cellar tie with 4-8 record.
- 1957 Ram owners sign five year operational pact and name former Ram publicist Pete Rozelle as general manager. George Allen is added to coaching staff. Team loses squeakers on road to 49ers and Lions, finishing 6-6-0, but only two games behind divisional leaders.
- 1958 Gillman's revamped coaching staff includes Madro and Fulker, and addition of Bob Waterfield, Bill Swiacki and Lou Rymkus. In pre-season trade. Van Brocklin goes to Eagles. Bill Wade sets many Ram passing marks en route to 8-4-0 year.
- 1959 Team has general letdown and many injuries for worst season since 1937, finishing 2-10-0. Ollie Matson, acquired in big trade, is workhorse at fullback. On last day of season, Gillman and staff resign.
- 1960 Following death of Bert Bell, Pete Rozelle is named NFL commissioner. Elroy Hirsch replaces Rozelle as Ram general manager. Bob Waterfield is named Ram head coach, and hires Hamp Pool, Don Paul, Jim David, Tom Fears and Vic Lindskog as assistants. Team shows slight improvement over previous year with 4-7-1 record.

- 1961 Rams trade Bill Wade, Del Shofner, John Guzik for Zeke Bratkowski, Lindon Crow and 1962 first draft choice, which makes it possible to draft both Roman Gabriel and Merlin Olsen. Revamped Rams finish strongly after slow start, but still show 4-10-0 deficit.
- 1962 Harland Svare replaces Don Paul as defensive line coach. Rams lose four of first five games by narrow margins, then show only occasional surges of success en route to 1-12-1 year. Waterfield resigns after eighth game. Svare named interim head coach, with Pool, Lindskog, and player-coach Richter and Crow as his staff. On December 27, in closed auction, Reeves reacquires control of Rams, purchasing full interests of co-owners Pauley, Levy, Seley and Bob Hope.
- 1963 Reeves sells 49% interest in Rams to Gene Autry, Bob Reynolds, Leonard Firestone, Paul A. O'Bryan, Robert Lehman, J.D. Stetson Coleman and Joseph A. Thomas. Svare is retained, and he names to his staff Don Heinrich, Ray Wietecha, Bob Schnelker, Jack Patera and player-coach Crow. Les Richter retires before season. After 0-5 record, Gabriel is reinstated as starting QB and plays last nine games without relief, guiding team to 5-4 mark and season record of 5-9-0.
- 1964 Rams sign ten-year pact to play in "new look" Coliseum's "stadium-within-a-stadium." Fourteen rookies make the season squad. Club finishes fifth with 5-7-2 record.
- 1965 Harland Svare's new lineup of staff coaches includes Vic Schwenk, Bill Austin, Bob Schnelker, Jack Patera and Don Doll. After winning only one of first ten, Rams take three of last four against top two teams in each division, but Svare is dismissed.
- 1966 After a court hassle, George Allen is released by George Halas from his assistant coaching duties with the Chicago Bears to become head coach of the Rams. Allen selects staff which includes Jack Patera, Ted Marchibroda, Ray Prochaska, Howard Schnellenberger, Tom Catlin and Joe Sullivan. NFL and AFL merge in spring. Bob Kelley, "Voice of the Rams" since the club's beginning in 1937, dies in September. Rams, practicing at new facilities in Long Beach, have a chance to finish second in West until final game, which they lose to World Champion Packers. Thus, the team finishes 8-6, the best record since 1958.

- 1967 Jack Patera accepts job with New York Giants and Marion Campbell moves from Minnesota Vikings to assume defensive line coaching duties. After 17 years on Beverly Boulevard, club moves front offices to new building on Pico. Training camp is also moved to California State College at Fullerton after five years at Chapman College in Orange. Equipment manager Bill Granholm leaves club after 18 years to take position in league office. Rams record first unbeaten pre-season in history with six wins, including victories over first-ever AFL opponents, San Diego and Kansas City. Team completes finest win-loss season ever with 11-1-2 league record to win Coastal Division Championship, the first title of any kind since 1955, then loses to Green Bay in Western Conference Championship Game. Club sets new team record in attendance by playing before 1,230,059 fans and also establishes new club mark for 14 games in attendance: 848,090
- 1968 After Playoff Bowl win over Cleveland in January, team finishes regular 1968 season with 10-3-1 record, second in Coastal Division to Baltimore's 13-1 mark. Attendance is over one million for second straight year and Ram defense sets new 14-game NFL record for fewest yards allowed. On Dec. 26, Allen is dismissed as head coach, but is re-hired two weeks later.
- 1969 Marion Campbell leaves to become defensive coach at Atlanta. He is replaced by LaVern Torgeson, from the Pittsburgh staff, as defensive line coach. Dick Vermeil is also added to coaching staff. After 20 years with the Rams as a player, general manager and assistant to the president, Elroy Hirsch leaves club to become athletic director at the University of Wisconsin. He is replaced by Public Relations Director Jack Teele, and John Sanders becomes Assistant General Manager. Team wins its first 11 games—the first club to do so since the 1942 Chicago Bears—to win Coastal Division with 11-3 record before losing to Minnesota in Western Conference title game, 23-20. New Ram attendance records are set for the year (1,307,989 for all 22 games) and the regular season (866,160 in 14 games). Quarterback Roman Gabriel is unanimous choice as the NFL's Most Valuable Player.
- 1970 Playoff Bowl victory over Dallas in January heads Rams toward their 25th year in Southern California. Two coaching changes are made: Marv Levy replaces Dick Vermeil, who leaves for UCLA, and Boyd Dowler takes over for Howard Schnellenberger, who moves to Miami Dolphin staff. With the completion of the merger of the NFL and AFL, the Rams join San Francisco, Atlanta and New Orleans in the Western Division of the National Conference of the new 26-team National Football League. Rams finish second to 49ers with 9-4-1 record and set a new league 14-game attendance mark of 904,979. George Allen's contract is not renewed.

- 1971 On April 15, owner Daniel F. Reeves dies of cancer in New York. His longtime friend and business associate, William A. Barnes, becomes President and General Manager. Tommy Prothro, successful head coach at UCLA, replaces Allen and hires staff consisting of Bobb McKittrick, Larrye Weaver, Dick Vermeil, Earnel Durden and Rich Brooks from his Bruin staff; Tom Catlin from previous Ram staff; Leon McLaughlin, former Ram great who was head coach at Valley State College; and Sid Hall from the Oakland staff. Playing the toughest schedule in the NFL, the Rams finish with an 8-5-1 record, second to 49ers in the NFC West.
- 1972 In a history-making move, Baltimore Colts owner Carroll Rosenbloom trades the Baltimore franchise to Robert Isray in exchange for the Rams. Isray, a Chicago-based industrialist, had purchased the Rams from the estate of the late Dan Reeves. The transaction was completed and announced on July 14. Rosenbloom, the most successful owner in the NFL over the last two decades, brings with him to Los Angeles Don Klosterman, former Loyola University star quarterback who had been Rosenbloom's general manager in Baltimore. Klosterman assumes title of Executive Vice-President and General Manager. After five years at Cal State Fullerton, Rams move training camp site to Cal State Long Beach. After 6-7-1 season, all coaches are dismissed.
- 1973 An observer in '72, Rosenbloom begins to make changes early in 1973, and they pay off quickly. His choice for head coach, former Detroit assistant Chuck Knox, leads team to 12-2 season, winningest in Rams history, and Knox becomes "Coach of the Year." Roman Gabriel is traded to Philadelphia and the new quarterback, former San Diego Charger John Hadl, is NFC "Player of the Year." Rams win NFC West title, but lose in first round of playoffs to Dallas. Other changes introduced by Rosenbloom include appointment of Mark Duncan as Director of Player Personnel and return to blue and gold uniforms. Knox's coaching staff consists of Tom Catlin and Dick Vermeil from previous Rams staff; Leeman Bennett from the Lions; Ken Meyer from the Jets; Ray Prochaska from the Browns; Ray Malavasi from Oakland; Jim Wagstaff from Boise State and Jack Faulkner from the Rams scouting department. Club returns to Cal State Fullerton for summer training.
- 1974 Carroll Rosenbloom's son, Steve, takes over as Assistant to the President. Formerly, he had learned the pro football business in Baltimore, and had worked his way up to President of the Colts. Dick Vermeil leaves staff to take head coaching post at UCLA, and he is replaced by Elijah Pitts, former Packer running back. Rams draft Heisman Trophy winner John Cappelletti of Penn State.
