Rams Executives

CARROLL ROSENBLOOM, Owner and President

In Baltimore his Colts recorded 16 consecutive winning seasons, including three NFL titles before the merger and a Super Bowl victory after it.

In Los Angeles his Rams have won the last three NFC Western Division championships while winning 34 and losing eight — matching the best record in the league for that period.

Clearly, Rams owner and president Carroll Rosenbloom knows how to win.

Trading his Baltimore Colts for the Rams in a historic transaction in July of 1972, Rosenbloom spent that fall in the role of an observer since the acquisition took place with the club's playing and coaching personnel set and plans already in progress.

However, following that season in which the Rams finished 6-7-1, Rosenbloom made the first of many moves designed to bring a winner back to Los Angeles. He hired a Detroit Lions assistant named Chuck Knox to be his head coach, and what followed was a miraculous turnabout that happened so quickly that perhaps only the perfectionist Rosenbloom was ready for it.

In the three seasons since he became the active Rams owner, the club has gone 12-2, 10-4 and 12-2 in accumulating three division titles that were property of the 49ers the three years before that. The Rams are now a respected NFL power that has won playoff games in each of the last two seasons before being eliminated in the NFC Championship Game.

What has happened is the obvious result of Rosenbloom's leadership, his football expertise and his ability to make apparently difficult decisions that always seem to turn out for the best.

Some of those decisions, for example, have concerned quarterback personnel as Carroll has shuffled his signal callers like a master chessman. First John Hadl came from San Diego to replace Philadelphia-bound Roman Gabriel, and Hadl was to become the NFC's "player of the year" in 1973. Then, when the offense faltered slightly early in '74, Rosenbloom made a shrewd, gutty trade by sending Hadl to Green Bay for five high draft choices, including two firsts. It may have sounded risky to many, but Rosenbloom's confidence in James Harris, Hadl's successor, was justified by another division title and an MVP honor for Harris in the Pro Bowl.

Perhaps Carroll would not have made the Hadl trade if he had not also had confidence in Harris' backup, Ron Jaworski, who was to contribute some inspiring performances when Harris got hurt at the end of last season.

Rosenbloom's knack for picking winning quarterbacks may be exceeded only by his uncanny ability to choose winning coaches.

Knox, for example, has turned into the winningest active head coach in the NFL and, in addition, other head coaches discovered and first hired by Rosenbloom have won four of the last eight Super Bowls.

Obviously, success is nothing new to Rosenbloom whose acquisition of the Rams culminated on July 14, 1972. Carroll had revived professional football in Baltimore in 1953 after a previous franchise there had been dissolved in 1950. From 1958 through '71 Rosenbloom's Colts built the best record in the NFL.

Carroll has a reputation as an interested and active owner. He is a frequent visitor at training camp and at practice sessions, and makes it his pleasure to know the players as individuals.

Besides his devotion to his own team, Carroll has always been a leader in NFL policy-making decisions. For example, he lent his business acumen and negotiating skill as a key force on the NFL Executive Committee which completed the merger agreement with the former American Football League.

Just as Rosenbloom was a positive force behind the success of the merger, so has he been a prime example of what excellent management can do in professional football. Perhaps the Rosenbloom success formula can best be explained by his philosophy. The man is totally dedicated to the fan. Rosenbloom was most appreciative of fan support last year, and he purchased advertising in several Southland newspapers in January to say so. "The first objectives are to see that the fans are entertained and that they are comfortable," he believes.

The best way to do the former, he feels, is to play winning football. The best way to do the latter is to push for improved stadium conditions, a project that has occupied much of his time since moving to Southern California.

Carroll likes to be described as a football executive, despite the fact that he is involved in many other ventures. Carroll is an active and resident owner. He and his beautiful wife, the former Georgia Hayes, live in Bel-Air.

A Baltimore native, Carroll attended Pennsylvania's Wharton School of Finance. He played halfback at Penn and also pitched for the school's baseball team. Golfing has been his game for relaxation, but since moving to the Southland he has revived an abiding interest in tennis.

DON KLOSTERMAN, Executive Vice-President and General Manager

In his 16 years as a professional football executive, Rams General Manager Don Klosterman has worked hard to attain the success that has earned admiration throughout the NFL.

A native of Southern California, Klosterman arrived back "home" in the summer of 1972, along with owner Carroll Rosenbloom, who had traded his Colts for the Rams and then persuaded his Baltimore general manager to go west with him.

Since then, the Rams have won three consecutive NFC Western titles, thanks in a large part to key personnel decisions contributed by Klosterman. Perhaps the most important move was the hiring of ex-Detroit assistant Chuck Knox as head coach, an acquisition in which Don played a significant role.

Klosterman and Knox have worked closely to form the current Rams, Knox on the field and Klosterman directing off-the-field personnel operations such as trading and scouting in addition to the myriad of other duties that require attention of a general manager.

But it's in the important area of player personnel that Don has made a name for himself that is second to none in the NFL. The former Loyola University star quarterback helped build title-winning teams in San Diego, Kansas City and Houston before joining Rosenbloom in Baltimore and later, of course, Los Angeles.

During those early years Don became a driving force in the ultimate acceptance of the young American Football League.

Don began his front office career in 1960 as a scout with the fledgling Los Angeles Chargers who, sparked by players he had scouted, quickly became a dominant AFL power when the club moved to San Diego. Football men noted Klosterman's eye for talent, and one of them, Lamar Hunt, lured him to his Dallas Texans (now the Kansas City Chiefs) and more Klosterman signees helped turn Hunt's team into an eventual Super Bowl winner.

Next stop on the trail back to Los Angeles was Houston, where Klosterman became General Manager in 1966. A year later the Oilers had won the Eastern Division title of the AFL and the team never again finished lower than second under Don's leadership.

Then it was on to Baltimore in 1970 as Don was hired as general manager for Carroll Rosenbloom, whom Don calls "the best owner in all of professional sports."

Born in Lemars, Iowa, Don grew up in Compton, Calif, as one of 15 children. At Loyola, as "The Duke of Del Rey," he led the Lions through their most successful athletic era, setting seven NCAA passing records, including one for career completions (368) which lasted 13 years and another for most completions in a season (159) which stood for 12 years. One night, against Florida, he set three records — 33 completions in 63 attempts for 372 yards.

The university was grateful. It retired Don's jersey (No. 10) and in 1971 honored him as its "Alumnus of the Year." Today he is a member of its Board of Regents.

Don's pro football career began as Cleveland's first round draft choice. With Otto Graham as the Brown's incumbent QB, Don was traded to the old Dallas Texans, then to the Rams where he backed up Bob Waterfield and Norm Van Brocklin in 1952.

Following two years in the Air Force, Don played in Canada for the Calgary Stampeders, and at one time held the CFL record for the longest pass, 106 yards.

Don's active gridiron career ended in 1957 when he suffered near fatal injuries after veering during a high-speed ski run to miss a young person on the trail. He went off a cliff at approximately 45 m.p.h., and it took eight operations and 18 recuperative months before he was released from the hospital.

Doctor's told Klosterman he would never walk again, and he took that as a challenge. Today, he not only walks, but swims, dances and golfs in the low 80s.

It sums up the determination and courage of the man and is testimony to his character.

STEVE ROSENBLOOM, Assistant to the President

Much of the Rams front office is now headed up by Steve Rosenbloom, a 31-year-old executive who has worked in practically every phase of a professional football operation. Probably no man his age has been more completely schooled in running a sports enterprise.

In 1974 Steve assumed an active role in the Rams organization. He oversees the business end of the operation — the controller, the public relations department and most other phases that do not deal directly with player personnel.

He certainly has been groomed for the position. In fact, before coming to Los Angeles Steve served as President of the Baltimore Colts, a title he held from March of 1971 until July of '72 when his father, Carroll Rosenbloom, traded that franchise for the Rams. While Carroll came west, Steve stayed behind for a year to help with a smooth transfer to new management. Later he spent a season getting acclimated to the Rams then was named Assistant to the President of the Rams in the spring of 1974.

Steve has spent more than half of his life working in football. At the age of 12 he was an assistant equipment manager of the Colts during training camp and on weekends. Five years later he moved his efforts to the front office where he aided the club's summer public relations office at training camp.

In the mid 1960s Steve was an undergraduate in business management at Georgetown University. During his collegiate days his Colt responsibilities increased as he worked closely with the late Don Kellett, then General Manager of the club. He obtained his degree from Georgetown in 1967 and immediately moved into the Colt organization on a full-time basis.

As the club's Business Manager, Steve handled road trip arrangements, transportation schedules, and hotel accommodations for a period of two years before moving up as Assistant to the President in 1969.

In this position, the younger Rosenbloom associated closely with the player personnel department, signing both rookies and veterans and scouting collegiate talent.

The Colts were riding high during this period, and they climaxed their 1970 season with a 16-13 triumph over Dallas in the Super Bowl.

Two months later Carroll Rosenbloom turned over the presidency of the club to Steve.

Born November 23, 1944 in Atlantic City, N.J., Steve has brought to the west coast an interest in community service and charity work. A former Director of the Maryland Chapter of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation, he currently serves on the Board of Directors of the Los Angeles Boys Club.

He and his wife, the former Renee Bauchat, operated a commercial kennel in Baldwin, Md., before moving to their new home in Rolling Hills Estates, Ca. They are the parents of a one-year-old son, James Carroll.

JACK TEELE, Administrative Assistant

The 1976 season will be the 17th on the Rams staff for Jack Teele, a former newspaper columnist whose administrative talents are widely respected around the National Football League.

It was in 1960 that Teele left the Long Beach Independent & Press-Telegram to become Public Relations Director of the Rams. In that field he was an innovative force in the league for a decade. Then, in March of 1969, Teele was elevated to Assistant to the President, a position which made him the trusted right hand of the late Dan Reeves until the former owner's death in April of 1971.

When Carroll Rosenbloom assumed ownership of the club in July of 1972 he retained Teele in a high administrative capacity.

Born June 17, 1930 in Bloomington, Illinois, Teele soon became a Californian. He is a product of the Long Beach school system, graduating from Long Beach Polytechnic High School, Long Beach City College and Long Beach State. Jack was a high school athlete, participating in basketball and golf at Poly. Later, he was a guard on Long Beach State's first-ever basketball team in 1951-52.

While he was going to school in Long Beach, Teele also began working full-time in the sports department of the Independent & Press-Telegram from 1949 through 1952, the same year he graduated from college and entered the service. He was with the Army's Counter Intelligence Corps in Japan until 1954, when he returned to the newspaper as a sports writer and columnist.

It was in 1957 that he began his association with the Rams, covering the team for three years until he joined the organization.

The 46-year-old Teele was named Long Beach State's Outstanding Alumnus of the Year in 1971.

With the Rams he has performed a myriad of tasks, including director of training camp and supervisor of the coaches' offices and practice facility in Long Beach. He also handles team travel arrangements.

Jack, his wife Marilyn, and their two daughters, Dana, 20, and Lisa, 17, reside in Long Beach.

Rams Coaching Staff

CHUCK KNOX, Head Coach

Put most directly, Chuck Knox is a winner.

In his three years as head coach of the Rams, in fact, his teams have won a phenomenal 81 percent of the time. Furthermore, only the Minnesota Vikings can match the Knox-directed Rams' 34-8 regular season record over the same period.

Along the way Knox' teams have won three consecutive division titles and have gone on to play in the NFC Championship Game the last two seasons.

What makes his achievements even more impressive is the fact he took over a team in 1973 that had won just six games the previous fall. In succession Knox directed the Rams to campaigns of 12-2, 10-4 and 12-2. He won all the "coach of the year" honors for his '73 accomplishments, and following each of the last two seasons Knox led the NFC to victories over the AFC in the Pro Bowl.

Obviously much has happened to the serious Scotch-Irishman from Sewickley, Pa. From an assistant with the New York Jets and Detroit Lions, Knox has suddenly become the man with the best winning percentage among active NFL head coaches.

Perhaps Chuck's most noteworthy accomplishment was the 1975 season as the Rams lost a total of nine starters with injuries for one or more games, yet still finished 12-2, including wins over the World Champion Pittsburgh Steelers and AFC Eastern Champ Baltimore.

It equalled Knox' sparkling 1973 season when the honors poured in for the popular, enthusiastic young coach. Anyone who voted for someone else as coach of the year wasn't paying attention. For the record, The Associated Press, The Washington D.C. Touchdown Club and Pro Football Weekly recognized Knox as Coach of the Year in the NFL while UPI, The 101 Committee, The Pro Football Writers Association and The Sporting News gave him the same honor for the NFC.

The awards were a fitting tribute to the man who thrives on hard work and enthusiasm, two traits he has exhibited during his more than two decades of coaching football at all levels, including 13 years in the pros, five in college and four in the high school ranks.

Knox's professional football coaching preparation was extensive. He was the highly regarded offensive line coach of the Detroit Lions for six years, joining the club in 1967 when Joe Schmidt was named head coach. Prior to that Chuck served four seasons in the American Football League as offensive line coach of the New York Jets. He was a member of Weeb Ewbank's first Jets staff in 1963 and remained there through 1966 when he moved to the Motor City.

In both New York and Detroit, the 44-year old Knox was credited with improving and developing two outstanding offensive lines.

The son of an Irish steel worker, Knox was born April 27, 1932 in Sewickley, Pa. He attended little Juniata College in Huntingdon, Pa., where he was an offensive lineman and co-captain. A three-year letter winner (1950-53), Knox graduated in 1954, then spent one season as assistant coach at his alma mater before going into Pennsylvania prep coaching for four years. He was line coach at Tyrone High for one season and head coach for three years at Ellwood City High.

In 1959 Knox climbed another rung on the coaching ladder when he moved to Wake Forest as an assistant for two seasons until he took a similar job at the University of Kentucky in 1961. Chuck remained with the Wildcats for two more years under both Blanton Collier and Charlie Bradshaw. When Ewbank asked him to join his Jets staff in 1963, he moved to New York.

Chuck, who is active in fund raising efforts for the United Way and the Huntington Beach Boys Club, and his wife Shirley have three daughters, Chris, 22; Kathy, 20; and Colleen, 16; and one son, Chuck, 11. They reside in Huntington Beach.

LEE BENNETT, Receivers Coach

Leeman Bennett was an assistant coach with Chuck Knox at Detroit and was the only fellow assistant Knox brought from the Lions when he became the Rams' head coach. For the fourth straight year, Bennett will be in charge of the receivers. He handled the offensive backfield at Detroit.

Born June 20, 1938 in Paducah, Kentucky, Bennett is in his 14th year as an assistant coach in the pro and college ranks, a period interrupted by a two-year tour of duty in the U.S. Army.

The possessor of a bright young football mind, Bennett spent three previous seasons coaching for two different NFL clubs and seven earlier years coaching at four different major universities.

A quarterback and defensive back at the University of Kentucky for three seasons (1958-60), he was on the coaching staff of his alma mater three years (1961-62 and 1965).

Bennett coached at the University of Pittsburgh (1966), University of Cincinnati (1967-68) and the Naval Academy (1969) before being hired by Charley Winner with the St. Louis Cardinals in 1970. He stayed to assist Bob Hollway in 1971 and coached in 1972 under Joe Schmidt in Detroit before coming to the Rams.

Lee and his wife, Pat, have two sons, Paul, 10, and Greg, 7. They reside in Huntington Beach.

TOM CATLIN, Linebacker Coach

Forty-four-year-old Tom Catlin is in his 11th straight season as an assistant coach with the Rams, the longest continuous coaching assignment in the team's history.

A 15-year veteran of pro coaching, the former University of Oklahoma All-American has worked under three different head coaches with the Rams — George Allen, Tommy Prothro and Chuck Knox.

Catlin, who joined the Rams as a defensive specialist in 1966, will be in charge of Knox's linebacking corps for the third straight year.

He began his pro coaching career under Hank Stram with the Dallas Texans of the AFL (1960-62) and then moved with the club to Kansas City where he helped coach the Chiefs from 1963 through 1965.

Born in Ponca City, Oklahoma, Sept. 8, 1931, Catlin was an All-American center and linebacker under Bud Wilkinson at Oklahoma in 1952, the last of his three varsity seasons there.

Drafted by Baltimore in the fourth round following the end of his collegiate career, Catlin was traded to Cleveland where he became a starting linebacker midway in his rookie year. The Browns won the World Championship in 1954 with Catlin, then a second-year pro, calling the defensive signals for the club.

In March of 1955 he went into the Air Force, and later spent his final months as Plebe coach at West Point under the famed Earl "Red" Blaik in 1957.

After his release from the service, he played three more seasons of pro ball — Cleveland (1957-58) and Philadelphia (1959) — before joining the coaching ranks.

Catlin and his wife, Betty, live in Orange with their daughter, Kim, 17, and son, Tom, 16.

JACK FAULKNER, Special Assistant Coach

A former AFL Coach of the Year, Jack Faulkner has been a football coach or scout for 27 years.

In his fourth season under head coach Chuck Knox, Faulkner again will serve as a special assistant. It's his job to help work with the Rams' defense, to do advance game scouting and evaluate professional personnel.

A native of Youngstown, Ohio, Faulkner was a linebacker at the University of Miami from 1946 through 1948 following a tour of duty in the Marine Corps (1944-45).

He coached for six years at the University of Cincinnati (1949-54) under Sid Gillman and came West with Gillman in 1955 as a defensive backfield coach when the latter was hired by the Rams as their head coach.

Later, he coached for Gillman with the Los Angeles Chargers of the AFL (1960) and the San Diego Chargers (1961).

He was named head coach and general manager of the Denver Broncos in 1962 and led them to a 7-7 record in his first season after they went 4-9-1 in the previous year. As a result, Faulkner was selected as the AFL's Coach of the Year.

He remained at Denver until midway into the 1964 season. In 1965 he became the defensive backfield coach of the Minnesota Vikings.

In 1966, he returned to the Rams as a scout. He left to join the expansion New Orleans Saints from 1967 through 1970, serving as chief defensive coach for three years and director of player personnel the final season. He returned to the Rams as a scout in 1971-72 and then to Knox's coaching staff.

Jack, who was born April 4, 1926, and his wife, Betty, live in Palos Verdes. They have a daughter, Cathy, 24, and a son, Jon, 13.

RAY MALAVASI, Defensive Coordinator

Under defensive coordinator Ray Malavasi, the Rams have been one of the NFL's outstanding defensive clubs the last three years. The penurious Ram defense led the league in total defense (2,951 yards) and rushing defense (1,270 yards) in 1973 and in scoring defense (181 points) and rushing defense (1,302 yards) in 1974 and in scoring defense last year, permitting only 135 points, a club record and the second fewest in NFL history over a 14-game season.

Malavasi, a native of Passaic, New Jersey, who was born November 8, 1930, has spent 22 years in coaching. He has experience in the NFL, the Canadian League, colleges and service teams.

He came to the Rams in 1973 after two years at Oakland where he was in charge of the Raiders' linebackers.

Malavasi's coaching career began in 1953. Although he was drafted by Philadelphia that year, he opted to become a player-coach at Fort Belvoir, Virginia, where one of his teams won a service title.

The former Army and Mississippi State lineman then served as a college assistant coach at Minnesota (1956-57), Memphis State (1958-60) and Wake Forest (1961).

He left coaching briefly in 1962 to become personnel director of the Denver Broncos and was that club's defensive line coach the following season. In 1966, Malavasi was named the Broncos' head coach, replacing Mac Speedie, who had resigned just prior to the start of the season.

In 1967 and 1968, Malavasi served as the defensive coach of Canada's Hamilton Tiger-Cats. He held the same job with the Buffalo Bills the following two years (1969 and 1970) and joined the Raiders in 1971.

Malavasi, who attended high school at Clifton, N.J., and his wife, Mary, have two daughters, Maureen, 18, and Sheila, 14; and three sons, Dennis, 19, Bill, 14, and Bryce, 12. They live in Huntington Beach.

KEN MEYER, Offensive Coordinator

Ken Meyer and Chuck Knox began a long friendship when they were assistant coaches at Wake Forest in 1959. When Knox landed the Rams' head coaching job in 1973, Meyer was his choice as offensive coordinator.

A former assistant under Dick Nolan and Weeb Ewbank, Meyer helped coach the No. 1 offense in the NFL in 1973. The Rams led the league in total yards (4,906) that year, and in scoring (388 points).

Meyer, who was born July 14, 1925, in Erie, Pa., has been in the pro coaching ranks since 1968. He served as an assistant to Nolan with the San Francisco 49ers that season and then accepted a job from Ewbank with the New York Jets in 1969 where he remained for four seasons when he came to the Rams.

A quarterback at Denison College in Granville, Ohio, from 1947 through 1950, Meyer later earned a master's degree from Ohio State and coached high school football in Ohio in 1950 and 1951.

From 1952 to 1957, he coached at Denison, then moved to Wake Forest for two years (1958-59) and to Florida State where he was an assistant for three seasons (1960-62).

From 1963 through 1967, he was the head offensive coach at Alabama under Bear Bryant where he coached in five straight bowl games.

Meyer, who attended high school at Ashtabula Harbor, Ohio, resides in Los Alamitos with wife Martha and daughter, Alea, 13.

ELIJAH PITTS, Offensive Backfield & Special Teams Coach

An 11-year NFL veteran who played in Super Bowl I, Elijah Pitts replaced Dick Vermeil on the Rams staff after the new Philadelphia Eagles head man was named head coach of UCLA's football team following the 1973 season.

Pitts, who was born February 3, 1938, at Mayflower, Ark., spent 10 of his pro seasons with the Green Bay Packers and played in four NFL championship games; 1961, 1962, 1964 and 1965. After the 1971 season, he retired to become a full-time scout with the Packers, a job he held when he was hired to fill the vacancy created by Vermeil's departure.

Pitts compiled an outstanding pro record as a running back and return man after being drafted in the 13th round by Green Bay out of Philander Smith College (Ark.).

His lifetime statistics include 1,788 rushing yards in 514 attempts, 104 receptions for 1,245 yards, 75 punt returns for 394 yards and 27 kickoff returns for 516 yards.

Pitts actually played three games with the Rams in 1970. He was traded to the Chicago Bears that season and then moved on to the Rams and New Orleans. He finished his career where he started — at Green Bay — in 1971.

Pitts and his wife, Ruth, have three children: Ronnie, 13; Kimberly, 5; and Anthony, 3. They reside in Fountain Valley.

RAY PROCHASKA, Offensive Line Coach

At 56, Ray Prochaska is in his 29th season in his chosen profession, a career which began after he played in the 1941 Rose Bowl with the Nebraska Cornhuskers and was with the Cleveland Rams for a season.

Prochaska (pronounced with a silent "c") is in his second stint of duty with the Rams. He served five years with the club from 1966 through 1970 and rejoined the Rams as their offensive line coach under Chuck Knox in 1973.

In between, he served in a similar capacity with the Cleveland Browns under Nick Skorich.

At Nebraska, Prochaska was an offensive end for three seasons. In the 1941 Rose Bowl, the Cornhuskers lost to Stanford, 21-13. After playing in the College All-Star game, he signed with the Cleveland Rams for a season before entering the Army for 4½ years.

After his discharge, he spent nine years (1946-54) as an assistant coach at Nebraska before entering pro football as an assistant to Pop Ivy with the Edmonton Eskimos of the Canadian Football League from 1955 through 1957. In 1958, he joined the Chicago Cardinals as their offensive line coach, a club he stayed with after it moved to St. Louis.

In 1966, he was hired by George Allen to coach the Rams' offensive line.

Born August 9, 1919, Ulysses, Nebraska, Prochaska and his wife, Jo Ann, have three sons and a daughter: Craig, 29; Mark, 24; Judy, 21; and Scott, 12. The Prochaska family resides in Seal Beach.

JIM WAGSTAFF, Defensive Backfield Coach

Jim Wagstaff joined the NFL coaching ranks as the Rams' defensive backfield coach in 1973 on Chuck Knox's first Ram staff.

A native of Idaho, he played in both the NFL and the AFL before coaching for seven years in high school and four seasons in college.

When Knox hired him, Wagstaff was at Boise State where he had coached since 1969, serving as defensive coordinator and coaching the linebackers and defensive backs.

After his pro playing career ended in 1962, the former defensive back of the Chicago Cardinals and Buffalo Bills returned to his home state where he was head coach at South Fremont High School in 1962, head coach at Pocatella High from 1963 through 1965 and head coach at Idaho Falls High from 1966 through 1968.

Born June 12, 1936, in American Falls, Idaho, Wagstaff attended high school in that city and later enrolled at Idaho State where he was a running back and cornerback from 1954 through 1958.

Although he was drafted by Detroit, he did not play with the Lions. He joined the Cardinals as a defensive back in 1959 and played with the Bills in 1960 and 1961.

Wagstaff and his wife, Nancy, reside in Huntington Beach with their two daughters, Cary, 19, and Geniel, 18; and one son, Jim, 18.

Rams Staff

NORM POLLOM, Director of Player Personnel, part-time scout from 1961-65, became full-time employee in 1965 and was named Director of College Scouting in Feb., 1975. Pollom, born in Chehalis, Wash. (10-20-25), was graduated from the University of Puget Sound in 1950 with majors in History, Math and Physical Education. After leaving Chehalis High in 1943 (where he participated in football, basketball, baseball and track), Pollom attended North Dakota State (Navy V-12), Centralia

JC and University of Washington. Has Administrative MA from USC. Was assistant principle of Palos Verdes Unified Schools (high school), 1961-65; assistant football coach at USC, 1960-61; and University of Washington, 1957-60. Head coach at Morningside High (Inglewood, Calif.), 1956; Shoreline High (Seattle), 1955-56; Aberdeen High (Wash.), 1954-55; Auburn High (Wash.), 1951-54, and Montesano High (Wash.), 1950-51. Pollom's prep teams won 54, lost 16 and tied 2. Has three daughters, Tari, Cindy and Debby, and son Mike. Lives with wife, Janis Teresa at Manhattan Beach.

DICK STEINBERG, Director of College Scouting, joined the Rams in June after scouting for the New England Patriots since February, 1972. Steinberg, a Philadelphia native (8-9-37), was graduated from Temple in 1960 where he majored in physical education and health and played football. Steinberg was an assistant coach at Philadelphia's Roman Catholic High 1960-61; head coach at Staunton Military Academy (Va.), 1961-64; assistant coach at Vanderbilt, 1964-67; assistant at Kansas State, 1967-69; briefly a scout for the Dallas Cowboys, 1969; and assistant coach at Southern Mississippi, 1970-72, before joining New England. Steinberg, who is single, served overseas with the Army for two years where he played and coached football and coached boxing.

DON CANNING, Controller, joined Rams in 1965 after three years with Ernst & Ernst as Staff Auditor and CPA. Canning was born at Fullerton, Calif. (4-15-40), attended Long Beach's Millikan High, Long Beach City College and was graduated from UCLA in 1962. Swimming and water polo player at Millikan and LBCC. Member of USMC Reserve, 1962-68. Resides in Glendale with wife Joan, daughters Corinne and Carolyn and son Dennis.

JACK GEYER, Public Relations Director, came to the Rams in 1966 after six years as general manager and executive director of the defunct Los Angeles Blades Hockey team. Geyer, a Los Angeles native (5-20-21) was Public Relations Director of the VIII Olympic Winter Games at Squaw Valley, 1958-60; a Los Angeles Times Sports Writer and columnist, 1946-59, and a Naval Aviator, 1941-46. He attended Hamilton High (L.A.), Santa Monica JC and was graduated from Occidental College (where he lettered in track) in 1947 with majors in speech and English. Geyer and wife Marjorie live in Playa del Rey. They have four children, daughter Shannon and sons James, John and Daniel.

JERRY WILCOX, Public Relations Director, received title in 1969 after starting with Rams as assistant P.R. director in 1966. Wilcox was assistant Director of Athletic News at USC, 1963-66; a Sports Writer with the Santa Ana Register in 1963 and Sports Editor of the Daily Trojan, the USC student newspaper. Wilcox was born at Bremerton, Wash. (10-13-41), played basketball and baseball at Garden Grove (Calif.) High, attended Santa Ana College and was graduated from USC in 1963 with a Journalism degree. Wilcox and wife Carole Janine live in Cypress.

DON HEWITT, Equipment Manager, joined Rams in 1967 after holding same post at USC in 1965-66. Coached football at Arcadia High after moving to Southland from Fresno in 1947. Born in Fresno (7-7-23), raised in Oakland, Calif., attended high school in Fresno and college at Fresno State where he played football. Served in Naval Aviation during WWII. Wife Jean and children Robin, Todd and Kathe reside at Seal Beach.

GARY TUTHILL, Trainer, was with Coach Chuck Knox at Detroit in 1971-72 where he was the assistant trainer, the same title he held at USC from 1959 to 1971. Tuthill is a Doctor of Chiropractic, having graduated from the College of Chiropractic in Glendale, Calif., in 1966. He attended Idaho State College, where he played football, and Culver City High, where he participated in football and baseball. A native of Glendale (12-17-39), Gary and wife, Charlene Helen, and their two children, Melinda and Craig, live at Garden Grove.

GEORGE MENELEE, Trainer, has been with the Rams since 1955 when he came west with Coach Sid Gillman from the University of Cincinnati, where he was trainer and tennis coach. Born in Roanoke, Virginia (10-25-16), Menefee attended the University of Cincinnati in 1935-37 and again in 1946-49, earning a degree in Business Administration. Menefee attended Portsmouth (Ohio) High, where he played football and tennis. During WWII he was a Tech Sergeant in the Army Air Corps for four years and served in England. Menefee and wife Mary Lou have five children, Jo Ann, Sally, Johnny, Betsy and Reba, and reside at Granada Hills.

MILAN DUKICH, Film Director, has been with club since 1956. Previously he was self-employed. Nicknamed "Mickey," Dukich was graduated from Washington State in 1951 with an Economics Major. During WWII served three years in Field Artillery. Participated in football and golf at Spokane's Lewis and Clark High and in golf at Washington State. A native of Spokane (4-2-24), Dukich is single. Hobby is radio-controlled model aircraft. He resides in Orange.

HARLEY SEWELL, Scout, closed an 11-year National Football League career with the Rams in 1963 after playing a decade with the Detroit Lions. He became a Ram scout the next season. Sewell, an offensive guard who played at 6 ft. 1 in., 230 lbs., a size that would be considered small today, was rated an outstanding competitor. He was Detroit's number one draft choice in 1953 after an exceptional collegiate career at the University of Texas where he was a consensus All-American as a defensive specialist. Sewell played in four Pro Bowl games as a Lion and was a member of two NFL title teams. A native of St. Joseph, Texas (4-18-31), Harley and his wife Jean reside at Arlington, Texas, with their three children, Nathan, Janet and James.

CHUCK BENEDICT, Speakers Bureau, begins 23rd consecutive year as an official representative with the Rams. Following 1954 season, he began with the club as part-time administrative scout in personnel department, then went full-time in '57, both in scouting and in public relations. In 1966 he returned to part-time in order to pursue a career in broadcasting as sports director of KLAC radio and KTTV-TV. A former president of the Southern California Sports Broadcasters Assn., Chuck is editor-in-chief of Petersen's Pro Football Annual. Born (4-17-19) in Silver Spring, Md., Chuck currently manages the club's speakers bureau and assists the scouting department seasonally. He and wife Fran reside in Glendale. They have four children.

BILL PHILLIPS, Scouting Dept., has been associated with the Rams since 1957 and became a permanent employee in 1970. He was with American Airlines Public Relations Dept., 1958-69, and the P.R. Director of the Mobil Oil Co.'s Economy Run from 1964-69. Phillips was a stage, screen, radio and TV actor for 25 years. Born at Bloomington, Illinois (11-13-18), Phillips participated in football, basketball and track at DeKalb Township (Ill.) High and in basketball at Northwestern University. He, wife Maria and daughter, Anne Marie, live in North Hollywood.

DON JOHNSON, Ticket Dept. Manager, joined the team in 1960 and assumed his present post in 1971. Previously Johnson worked for the Los Angeles Dodger ticket office, 1957-59; as assistant ticket manager for the defunct Hollywood Stars, 1953-56; and for Mel Morrison Crowd Management as a ticket seller, 1948-53. Johnson, who served in the Army Air Corps, 1943-45, attended Davis & Elkins College in West Virginia and USC where he majored in engineering. Born at Gothenburg, Nebraska (2-17-24), he participated in baseball and track at Gothenburg High. Johnson, wife Barbara, daughter Barbara Michele and son Gregory live at Santa Monica.

JERRY MICKELSEN, Ticket Dept., has been with the Rams since 1968. Since 1960 he had been in the employ of the Los Angeles Dodgers, operating in the ticket area. A native of St. Paul, Minnesota (7-6-35) Mickelsen attended University (L.A.) High where he played basketball and football. He also attended Santa Monica City College and UCLA and was a member of the USMC Reserve for eight years. Mickelsen, wife Lora and children Gregory and Kenneth live at Playa Del Rey.

DON NIMS, Ticket Dept., accepted his present position in 1970 after prior employment with Computicket as a box office consultant; California Sports as a box office manager and Crowd Management as a ticket seller. Nims was born at Anderson, Indiana (5-4-29), attended West Greeley (Colo.) High, where he was on the football, basketball and track teams, and both Colorado State College and the University of Nevada (Reno), where he majored in mining. Nims, an Army Ranger, 1951-53, wife Kathleen, daughter Karen and son David live in Chatsworth.

Bertelsen, Jim

Running Back

Texas

Height: 5-11

Weight: 205

Born: 2-26-50

Fifth Year

PRO: On a Ram team replete with versatile performers, probably the most versatile of them all is Jim Bertelsen, a compact, hard-hitting player who is, pound for pound, probably the best blocking back around. During his first three years, all Jim did was block, run, catch and return punts and kickoffs. Last year he did all those things plus he became a messenger, alternating with fellow back Cullen Bryant in bringing in the plays from Coach Chuck Knox. Even though his playing time was halved, Bertelsen nonetheless managed to surpass his rushing total of 1974 (457 yards to 419) despite suffering a knee injury against Green Bay in the season's penultimate game which necessitated an operation the following day. In four years Bertelsen has carried the ball 572 times and has averaged 4.0 yds. per crack. His 12.0 career average ranks third among active punt returners in the NFC. In the 1974-73 seasons, teammate Lawrence McCutcheon gained more than 1,000 yards each year with Bertelsen doing most of the blocking. A knee injury forced him into a slow start in 1974, but last season he came roaring back to his previous effectiveness. His college coach, Darrell Royal, called Bertelsen "the finest football player I have ever coached." Bertelsen's best year was in 1973 when he was named to the Pro Bowl squad after rushing for 854 yards. In 1972 Ye Old Rams selected him "Rookie of the Year" and UPI and Pro Football Weekly placed him on their All-Rookie teams. He was selected on the second round in the 1972 draft on a choice gleaned from San Diego for defensive end David Jones.

COLLEGE: Bertelsen gained 2,510 yards in his three-year career at Texas, scoring 33 touchdowns and averaging 6.0 yds. per rush. In his final year he netted 879 yards on 160 tries for a 5.5 average and seven touchdowns, feats which won him first team berths on the AP and UPI All-Southwest Conference teams and a place in both the Senior Bowl and College All-Star games.

PERSONAL: Bertelsen attended high school in Hudson, Wis. He was born in St. Paul, Minn. Jim spent most of the off-season undergoing rehabilitation for his knee before heading for Austin, Tex., where he and his wife Laura are part-owners of a restaurant.

Brooks, Larry Defensive Tackle Virginia State (Petersburg)
Height: 6-3 Weight: 255 Born: 6-10-50 Fifth Year

PRO: There he was at mid-season, perhaps playing the best football of any of the Rams defensive linemen, when the 1975 campaign suddenly came to an end for Larry Brooks. The steady defensive right tackle suffered a knee injury that would require surgery, and he was to miss the final six weeks of the regular season. While Brooks was beginning his rehabilitation, his three teammates in the defensive line — Jack Youngblood, Merlin Olsen and Fred Dryer — were all named to the NFC Pro Bowl squad. His injury came at a time when he was just beginning to receive the kind of recognition he deserved. After the Rams' season-opening loss to Dallas, Brooks was instrumental as the club strung together six consecutive victories until beaten by the 49ers on the same day that Larry was injured. He recorded five "sacks" on the opposing quarterbacks for the first half of the season on a team that led the NFL in scoring defense and was second in the NFC in rushing, passing and total defense. A 14th round draft choice out of little Virginia State at Petersburg in 1972, Brooks became a starter midway through his rookie season and he has been a fixture there until the recent injury. As a rookie Brooks earned a spot on the club's ready reserve squad through the first six games.

COLLEGE: Brooks was a standout in the small college situation. As a senior he was named to AP's first team Little All-American. An all-conference performer as well, he also earned Virginia Small College Lineman of the Year honors.

PERSONAL: Born in Prince George, Va., Brooks attended high school in that city where he was a football and track star. He resides in Huntington Beach, Ca. with wife Colleen and a six-year-old son, Larry Jr. Last off-season he worked for Union Bank.

Bryant, CullenRunning Back*Colorado*Height: 6-1*Weight: 232*Born: 5-20-51*Fourth Year

PRO: For a fellow who was virtually a rookie when it came to being a professional ball carrier, Cullen Bryant had a fine 1975 season. In fact, it was a fine 1975 season for a veteran. Cullen, who had rushed but ten times the two previous seasons, was Los Angeles' second rusher last year, carrying 117 times for 467 yards, a 4.0-yard average. In addition, he hauled in 20 receptions (fourth on the club) for 229 yards, an average of 11.4 per with a long of 31. He also returned 12 kickoffs and averaged 23.3 (including one run of 46) and he ran back two punts, for a 23.5 yd. average. Besides all that, Cullen alternated with Jim Bertelsen as a messenger to bring in Coach Chuck Knox's plays. In Cullen's rookie year he returned 13 kickoffs and played on special teams. One of his returns was a 93-yard TD jaunt against San Francisco, which put the Rams ahead to stay. In 1974 he accepted 23 kickoffs and returned one 84 yards to score against Denver. He currently ranks third among active NFC kickoff returners. Bryant is among the strongest men on the team and is a dedicated performer with the weights, both during and off-season. He was the largest Ram back at 232 pounds and among the fastest. After being named on the second round in 1973 on a choice from San Diego (Los Angeles' first choice), Bryant played as a free safety for most of the 1973 pre-season, then understudied Steve Preece at that position during the regular schedule. In 1974 the Rams switched Bryant to running back. In his first effort, the Kansas City pre-season contest, Bryant gained 117 yards in 11 carries, and a runner was born. However, he was a special teamer most of that year and it wasn't until 1975 that he blossomed as an all-around back.

COLLEGE: Cullen's Colorado career was climaxed with All-American defensive backfield honors from UPI, Coaches and the Sporting News. AP and UPI polls named him All-Big Eight and he performed in the Senior Bowl and College All-Star games.

PERSONAL: Bryant was born in Ft. Sill, Okla. He attended Mitchell High in Colorado Springs. At Colorado he majored in recreation and psychology and during the off-season he continued to work for a master's degree at his alma mater. He's single.

Cappelletti, John Running Back Penn State
High: 6-1 Weight: 217 Born: 8-9-52 Third Year

PRO: A person taking a casual glance at the statistics of John Cappelletti and comparing the 1975 season with 1974 would be remiss if he did not seek an explanation. John, the Heisman Trophy winner in 1973 and the number one draft choice of Los Angeles in 1974, carried the ball 42 times for 158 yards and a 3.3-yard average in 1975 compared to 1974's output of 55 attempts and 198 yards for a 3.6 average. The key number lies in the name of the game, "touchdowns." John scored six last year, including a 30-yard sprint against Chicago. But he was used primarily in short yardage situations when the going is toughest, particularly within breathing distance of the goalline. He returned three kickoffs for 39 yards. In the six-game pre-season, John carried 39 times for 178 yards, a 4.6 average with a long gainer of 38 and one touchdown. He also caught four passes for 53 yards. John played in 13 of the league games and in both playoff games. A brief bout with mononucleosis late in the season forced him to miss the final game and he was not entirely himself during the playoffs, although he did score a one-yard touchdown against Dallas. It does not show in the statistics, but Cappelletti was given more key playing time in 1975 than in 1974 and allowed to perform in more difficult situations. Counting John, the Rams carried six backs in 1975, all but one a veteran. In 1974 the Rams suited six backs with John the lone first-year man. Cappelletti was voted "Rookie of the Year" by Ye Old Rams in 1974.

COLLEGE: As a Penn State senior Cappelletti was named to every major All-American team, including UPI, AP, Football Writers Association and Coaches Association. As the Rams' top choice in '74, he was the 11th player picked overall. In 1973 he ran 286 times for 1,522 yards, a 6.3 average and 17 touchdowns. Versatile, he was a runner as a freshman and as a sophomore a defensive back who returned punts and kickoffs.

PERSONAL: He was born in Philadelphia, Pa., and makes his bachelor home in Huntington Beach, Ca. He played quarterback at Monsignor Bonner High At Upper Darby, Pa.

Carrell, Duane
Height: 5-10

Punter
Weight: 185 Born: 10-3-49

Florida State
Third Year

PRO: Duane Carrell signed with the Rams as a free agent last year just before they opened the season against Dallas, the club which had cut Carrell only a few days prior to the game. Carrell performed creditably for the Rams, punting 73 times for an average of 39.4 yards with a long of 57. None of his efforts was blocked and many of his kicks were angled out of bounds purposely, thereby belieing the statistics. Carrell had tryouts with Washington (1972) and St. Louis (1973) before signing with the World Football League Jacksonville Sharks in 1974. At Jacksonville he averaged 41.1 yards on 93 punts before the team folded. He then signed with Dallas, averaging 39.8 for the final half of the season.

COLLEGE: Carrell was born at Washington D.C., and attended Wilson High there before going on to Florida State where he was a punter-place kicker from 1969 to 1971 and earned a B.S. degree in management.

PERSONAL: Duane and his wife Glorida live in Dallas in the off-season where Duane makes public appearances on behalf of the Brotherhood of Christian Athletes.

Clark, Al
Height: 6-0

Cornerback
Weight: 185 Born: 2-20-48

Eastern Michigan
Sixth Year

PRO: No less than six starters were knocked off the Ram roster last year, including agile Al Clark who opened the season at right corner. Al broke his leg in the fourth game at San Diego and missed the remainder of the season. It was to be Clark's big year, too, as he had improved consistently in 1974 and became the starter for the final four regular and two playoff games. He moved ahead of Eddie McMillan at the right side. Clark's Ram career began in 1972 when he subbed for Clarence Williams on the left side. A pre-season hip injury forced him to play behind veteran Charlie Stukes in 1973, and then he made his big move in 1974. Clark was drafted on the third round by Detroit in 1971 and started six games for the Lions. He played both left and right corner and performed more than any other Detroit first-year man. Clark has also returned kickoffs.

COLLEGE: A stop at Grambling and later at Northern Arizona preceded Clark's transfer to Eastern Michigan, where he intercepted four passes his senior year.

PERSONAL: Born in Bogalusa, La., Clark attended Hammond, La., High and was a boyhood friend of Rams linebacker Isiah Robertson. Still single, Clark spent last off-season working with youngsters through the Hammond Recreation Department.

Cowlings, Al

Defensive End-Tackle

USC

Height: 6-5

Weight: 245

Born: 6-16-47

Seventh Year

PRO: Al Cowlings joined the Rams Nov. 14, 1975, just in time for the club's 16-7 victory over Atlanta. He played in the team's final five games, plus the playoff contests. The big ex-USC star was a first round draft choice by Buffalo in 1970 where he played until traded to Houston for the Oilers' 1974 second-round draft choice prior to the 1973 season. He performed two years for Houston before being waived prior to the 1975 season. Cowlings underwent knee surgery in January, 1975, and damaged the leg again when he tried to exercise too soon. This incident resulted in another operation in May. Houston traded Cowlings to Baltimore prior to the opening of 1975 training camp, but Baltimore voided the trade when it learned Cowlings would not be available immediately because of his knee rehabilitation program. At that point, Houston waived him. Cowlings returned to Los Angeles and continued to strengthen his knee and when Los Angeles lost defensive tackles Larry Brooks and Bill Nelson in the same game (Nov. 9, San Francisco), Cowlings was available.

COLLEGE: At USC Cowlings played on 9-1-1 and 10-0-1 teams in 1968 and 1969. He was named defensive end on the Sporting News College All America team of 1969. He attended Galileo High in San Francisco and San Francisco CC with O.J. Simpson, a USC teammate, and was a member of the 1970 Senior Bowl team.

PERSONAL: Cowlings, a San Francisco native, lives in Los Angeles in the off-season where he has done volunteer work in drug rehabilitation programs. Al is single.

Dempsey, Tom
Height: 6-1

Place Kicker
Weight: 255

Born: 1-12-47

Palomar (Ca.) JC
Eighth Year

PRO: The addition of Tom Dempsey in 1975 helped solidify the Rams' place kicking department as the former New Orleans Saint and Philadelphia Eagle not only had his best percentage season kicking field goals (.808), but also the best among NFC place kickers. Dempsey, who came to the Rams from the Eagles in a 1975 off-season trade for a draft choice, made good on 21 of 26 attempts and 31 of 36 PAT tries for a team-leading 94 points. It was Dempsey's 22-yard field goal that beat San Diego, 13-10, in sudden death overtime last year, just two weeks after his three field goals, including a club record-tying 51-yarder, were instrumental in nipping San Francisco, 23-14. Possessed with a strong leg, Dempsey still holds the record for the longest field goal in NFL history with a 63-yard boot for New Orleans against Detroit in 1970. He spent two seasons with the Saints, who had signed him as a free agent after he played with Lowell of the Atlantic Coast Football League in 1967 and was a member of the Chargers' ready reserve squad in '68. Following Dempsey's release from the Saints, Tom hooked on with Philadelphia in '71 and that season kicked a 54-yarder to set an Eagle distance mark. Dempsey, who played in the Pro Bowl following the '69 season, has kicked 12 field goals of 50 yards or more. His overall record is 127 of 209 (.608) and 164 of 178 PATs for 545 points, to rank fifth among active NFC scorers.

COLLEGE: Despite being born with a withered arm and foot, Tom was an All-Pacific Southwestern Conference defensive end at Palomar JC. He did not attend a four-year school.

PERSONAL: Born in Milwaukee, Dempsey grew up in Encinitas, Ca., and attended San Dieguito High. He and wife Carlene reside in Kenner, La. with sons Toby, 4, and Ashley, 1. Tom is a disc jockey for WSHO Radio, a country and western music station.

Dryer, Fred

Height: 6-6

Defensive End

Weight: 240

Born: 7-6-46

San Diego State

Eighth Year

PRO: Free-wheeling, fast-starting Fred Dryer added a third straight brilliant season to his Ram string in 1975 and in so doing he contributed to what has become his trademark, so to speak, the "unusual play." last year fleet Fred swooped in on Philadelphia quarterback Roman Gabriel, as is his wont, and, aided and abetted by tackle Larry Brooks' presence, picked a last-second pass from the air and sprinted 20 yards to a touchdown. In 1974 he contributed a team high with 14 individual QB "sacks," plus two assists, and he established an NFL mark Oct. 21, 1973 when he twice tackled Green Bay passers in the end zone for safeties and was named "Outstanding Defensive Lineman" for the Ye Old Rams for his troubles. When teammate Jack Youngblood intercepted a pass and ran 47 yards to score in the 1975 playoff win over St. Louis, it was Dryer's devastating block which eliminated a would-be Cardinal tackler. Last season Dryer was part of 14 sacks and was so prominent on the scene that he was a member of the NFC's Pro Bowl winners. He was also selected on the Pro Football Weekly All-NFC team. Dryer started every game at right end for a defensive unit that gave up but 135 points, the second lowest total ever allowed in NFL history over a 14-game schedule. Dryer came to the Rams in off-season trade prior to 1972. He had played for the New York Giants the three previous seasons and had been a Pro Bowler in 1970. He played his option year in 1971 and was dealt on draft day to New England for three choices — a first, second and sixth. The Patriots traded him to Los Angeles two months later for a first draft choice and defensive lineman Rick Cash. Dryer, who had been picked on the first round by the Giants in 1969, divided playing time his first Ram year with Jack Youngblood. He returned to his comfortable right side spot in 1973 when Coy Bacon was traded to San Diego.

COLLEGE: A junior college All-American at El Camino, Dryer moved on to San Diego State where he had an outstanding senior season, earning All-American acclaim and participating in the East-West and Hula Bowl games.

PERSONAL: The full name is John Frederick Dryer, but he prefers Fred. Born in Hawthorne, Calif., a suburb of Los Angeles, Dryer lives in nearby Long Beach. A bachelor, he attended Lawndale High. Dryer is an outdoorsman whose off-season hobbies range from surfing to reading to traveling around the country in his Volkswagen bus.

Elmendorf, Dave
Height: 6-1

Safety
Weight: 195

Born: 6-20-49

Texas A&M
Sixth Year

PRO: He's just hitting his prime and already Dave Elmendorf ranks seventh on the Rams' all-time pass interceptor list. After five seasons, the club's star strong safety has picked off 17 enemy passes, including 11 in the last two years, for 201 yards and a pair of touchdowns. Last year Elmendorf contributed four thefts as the club finished first in the NFL in scoring defense and second in the conference in total and pass defense. Dave was recognized as a second team All-Pro by both the NEA and the AP. It was not the first time the former Texas A&M athlete had been given all-star acclaim. Following the 1974 season in which he and teammate Charlie Stukes tied for second in the NFC with seven interceptions apiece, Elmendorf was named All-NFC first team by the AP and Pro Football Writers Association, and he earned Ye Old Rams "outstanding defensive back" honors for the second straight year. Previously, Dave has made UPI's All-Rookie team in 1971 and second team All-NFC in '72. He was a free safety his first year with the club, but has been the regular strong safety ever since. Elmendorf has also returned 57 punts for 502 yards and an 8.8 average, including 15 last year for 125 yards and an 8.3 average.

COLLEGE: An excellent all-around athlete, Elmendorf made both AP and Coaches' All-American in his final season at Texas A&M after turning down a pro baseball bonus offer from the Boston Red Sox. He was also one of 13 National Football Foundation Scholar-Athletes with a 3.84 average out of a possible 4.0.

PERSONAL: Born in San Antonio, Texas, Elmendorf attended Westbury High in Houston. He and wife, Denise, reside in Huntington Beach, Ca. and Dave spends the off-season working for BankAmericard.

Fanning, Mike

Height: 6-6

Defensive Tackle

Weight: 260

Born: 2-2-53

Notre Dame

Second Year

PRO: It was a sad and teary-eyed rookie who stood on crutches in a Buffalo dressing room following a pre-season loss, Aug. 23, 1975. A cast encased his right leg. He'd broken two bones above his ankle earlier in the evening. Things had never looked bleaker for Mike Fanning, the Rams' number one selection in the 1975 draft. But there were to be better days. After conferring with the team physicians, Ram management decided not to place the youngster on an injured reserve list, but to await his return to health. Youth heals rapidly and soon Fanning was on a rehabilitation program utilizing weights, exercises and running. It paid off. Mike played the last eight games, plus the two playoffs and improved with every outing.

COLLEGE: Mike Fanning was named first team All-American by The Sporting News, Time Magazine, NEA and the Walter Camp Foundation and second team by the Associated Press. He played both defensive tackle and defensive end at Notre Dame where he was also a member of the wrestling team, winning 18 straight matches and going to the NCAA finals in '74.

PERSONAL: Mike Fanning, a native of Mt. Clemens, Mich., was an All-State football player at Tulsa's Edison High. Mike took it easy in the off-season, except for workouts and handball at the Tulsa Athletic Club. He is still single.

France, Doug

Height: 6-5

Tackle

Weight: 260

Born: 4-26-53

Ohio State

Second Year

PRO: Doug France, the third player selected by the Rams on the first round of the 1975 draft, performed in every game last year. In fact, he played the entire Pittsburgh game when veteran left tackle Charlie Cowan rested with an injury and he started the first playoff contest against St. Louis. Although France played tight end with Ohio State, the Rams had always predicted offensive tackle duty for him. After Bob Klein was injured Thanksgiving Day and Terry

Nelson elevated into the starting tight end spot, France saw duty as the second blocking tight end on short yardage situations.

COLLEGE: Doug France was a member of Ohio State's Big Ten championship team in 1974, his third year of Buckeye football. He was honorable mention All American from Time Magazine and second team NEA. He was also All-Big Team by AP.

PERSONAL: A native of Dayton, Ohio, France attended Dayton's Colonel White High School where he was an outstanding wrestler.

played on the basketball team and captained his football and track teams. Doug and his wife Laura and daughter Kristin Renee, 1, spent the off-season at Dayton where Doug worked out almost daily with the Dayton U. wrestlers.

Harrah, Dennis

Guard

Miami (Fla.)

Height: 6-5

Weight: 252

Born: 1-30-53

Second Year

PRO: If there ever was a football player who looked exactly like what a football player should look like, it's Dennis Harrah, the second pick of three Ram first round choices in 1975. Harrah performed in every game last year, substituting for either guard and holding special team duties. Harrah is extremely strong and is highly efficient with the weights. And Harrah is versatile, too. When starting tight end Bob Klein departed Thanksgiving Day with a knee injury, Harrah became one of the players who did blocking duty there in short yardage situations, succeeding Doug France at the task when Doug moved over to spell tackle Charlie Cowan. Versatility was a keymark of the rookies in 1975.

COLLEGE: Harrah was named All-American by the Sporting News, Time Magazine and second team A-A by the Associated Press. He played in the Hula and Senior Bowls.

PERSONAL: Born in Charleston, W. Va., Harrah attended Stonewall Jackson High there and starred in football and wrestling. In the off-season Harrah worked in hotel management in his native city. He's single.

Harris, James

Quarterback

Grambling

Height: 6-4

Weight: 210

Born: 7-20-47

Seventh Year

PRO: The record speaks for itself, and with James Harris at quarterback for most of the last two years, the Rams have won 17 regular season games and lost but four. It is unfortunate, therefore, that the former Grambling star was not able to perform for the club during the 1975 playoffs when a bruised shoulder forced him to the sidelines. At the time of the injury — in early December at New Orleans — Harris was having his most productive season of his six-year pro career. He finished as the NFC's fourth rated passer with a 73.8 rating, based on 157 completions in 285 attempts for 2,148 yards, 14 touchdowns and 15 interceptions. Harris had five games of more than 200 yards passing, including a career high 294 against Baltimore on 16 completions of 22 attempts for a 72.7 completions average and two touchdowns. On two other occasions last year on national television — against Philadelphia on a Monday night and against Detroit on Thanksgiving Day — Harris threw for three touchdown passes, matching his previous high he had established against San Francisco in a 1974 mid-season game that was his first start for the club. He went on to win seven of nine that year, later helped the Rams reach the NFC Championship Game, and climaxed the Cinderella season by being named the Most Valuable Player in the Pro Bowl Game won by the NFC. For Harris, it was a rewarding experience for a man who just two years earlier had been waived out of the NFL and who was apparently through with football. An eighth round draft choice by Buffalo in 1969, Harris had started just three games for the Bills from '69 through '71 before being released early in 1972. At mid-season the Rams signed him to their reserve squad and in '73 Harris was elevated to second team behind the NFC's MVP, John Hadl. Then, in '74 Harris got his chance to be a starter when Hadl was traded to Green Bay in the sixth week of the season. Named the club's MVP by Ye Old Rams that year, Harris finished as the NFC's second rated passer. His career passing totals are now 360 completions in 683 attempts for 4,880 yards, a 52.7 percentage and 30 touchdowns. In the last two years Harris has also run for six touchdowns in 60 attempts for 167 yards.

COLLEGE: Grambling's MVP in both 1967 and '68, Harris had a brilliant career in college. He quarterbacked Grambling to Southwestern Athletic Conference championships both of those years and was the MVP in the '67 Orange Blossom Classic.

PERSONAL: Born in Monroe, La., Harris attended Carroll High in that city. Harris lives in Los Angeles, Ca. and during the off-season he works for the U.S. Commerce Department's Business Management Fellowship Program. Last winter Harris toured military bases overseas as part of an NFL/USO sponsored tour.

Herron, Mack Running Back-Kick Returner Kansas State
Height: 5-5 Weight: 175 Born: 7-24-48 Fifth Year

PRO: Opponents got only a glimpse of Mack Herron in 1974. It's not that he didn't play much. To the contrary, he broke Gale Sayers' NFL combined yardage record by compiling 2,444 yards as a rusher, receiver, punt and kickoff return man. It's just that he's so small (5-5) and so quick, that when he's at his best tacklers don't see much of him as he darts by. He set team records with the New England Patriots, where he played in 1973, 1974 and nine games of '75 before being waived to Atlanta, where he participated in the final four games with the Falcons. The Rams were awarded Herron on waivers in April of 1976. Originally drafted out of Kansas State by the Falcons in 1970, Herron opted for Winnipeg of the Canadian League instead, signing with the Blue Bombers in '71. His big year was '72 when he led the league in rushing yards (1,527) and average per carry (5.9), also caught 39 passes for 451 yards. In '71 he led the loop in kickoff returns with 35 for 1,019 yards and a 29.1 average. Herron signed with the Patriots in '73 and in '74 rushed for 824 yards, caught 38 passes for 474 yards, returned 35 punts and 517 and 28 kickoffs for 629. The previous year he topped the NFL in KO return yardage with 41 for 1,092 yards and a 26.6 average.

COLLEGE: A transfer from Hutchinson, Ka. where he was the national JC sprint champ, Herron led his Kansas State team in rushing as a senior with 506 yards, was the Big Eight's top receiver with 52 catches for 652 yards and was the second leading scorer in the nation. He was named All-Big Eight and All-American by The Sporting News and played in the North-South, All-American and Senior Bowl games.

PERSONAL: Born in Biloxi, Miss., Herron grew up in Chicago where he attended David Farragut High. Last off-season he lived at East Point, Ga.

Jackson, Harold
Height: 5-10

Wide Receiver
Weight: 175 Born: 1-6-46

Jackson State
Ninth Year

PRO: In the last three seasons the Rams have won 34, lost only eight and have strung together three consecutive NFC Western Division titles. It is not a complete coincidence that the year this streak began, 1973, was about the same time that a little wide receiver named Harold Jackson re-appeared on the Los Angeles pro football scene. Jackson had been with the Rams before. As a rookie 12th round draft choice in 1968, he failed to catch a pass before he and defensive end John Zook were traded to Philadelphia in '69 for running back Israel Lang. Four years and more than 200 receptions later, Harold was back in Los Angeles as part of the trade that sent Roman Gabriel to the Eagles, who also tossed in running back Tony Baker and first choices in 1974 (John Cappelletti) and 1975 (Dennis Harrah), as well as a third in '75 (Dan Nugent). In his second time around with the Rams Jackson has performed brilliantly, just as he did in Philadelphia when he was an all-pro in both 1969 and 1972 and led the NFL in receiving yards both seasons. In the last three years, Harold has been the deep receiving threat in the Rams' passing attack, catching 25 touchdown passes on 113 receptions for more than 2,000 yards. His eight year pro totals are now 328 catches for 5,667 yards, an impressive 17.3 average per catch and 46 touchdowns. In '73 his 13

TDs receiving and his 21.9 average per catch were NFL highs, and he was again accorded All-NFL and All-NFC honors by the major polls. He was also named the club's "Outstanding Receiver" by Ye Old Rams that year, as well as being selected to play in the Pro Bowl, a distinction also bestowed upon him after the 1969, 1972 and 1975 seasons. It was also in '73 that he tied a club record for touchdown receptions when he caught four measuring 63, 16, 67 and 36 yards from John Hadl to help beat Dallas, 37-31. One of his best days in '75 came at Detroit when he caught five for 106 and two touchdowns. Last year he led the team in receiving for the third straight season, catching 43 for 786 yards and seven TDs.

COLLEGE: Jackson was an All-Southwest Athletic Conference end while setting a Jackson State pass catching record his senior year. He also ran a 9.5 100 on the track team.

PERSONAL: Born in Hattiesburg, Miss., Jackson attended Ronon High in that city and still lives there during part of the off-season where he operates a clothing store. He is still a bachelor.

Jackson, Monte Cornerback San Diego State
Height: 5-11 Weight: 189 Born: 7-14-53 Second Year

PRO: If there was a turning point touchdown in the Rams' 12-2 1975 season, it may have been scored by a rookie named Monte Jackson. In San Francisco during the second week of the campaign, the Rams were coming off an opening loss to Dallas and found themselves trailing the 49ers early in the third quarter. Another loss might start the Rams heading down hill. But Bill Simpson blocked a punt and Jackson carried it into the end zone, sparking Los Angeles to an eventual 23-14 victory. Jackson, a second round draft choice from San Diego State, was only a reserve cornerback at the time, but two weeks later he was to become the starter on the right side when veteran Al Clark suffered a broken leg against San Diego. What followed was an impressive performance by the youngster who became a regular on a team that finished third in the NFL in pass defense ratings. While winning Ye Old Rams Rookie of the Year award, as well as a spot on UPI's All-Rookie team, Jackson recorded interceptions against New Orleans and Pittsburgh.

COLLEGE: In his two years at San Diego State, Jackson intercepted nine passes, returning them for a school record 224 yards. He had six his senior season after which he participated in the East-West Shrine and Blue-Gray games. A transfer from San Diego Mesa JC, Jackson was All-Pacific Coast Athletic Association and a second team selection on AP's All-Coast squad.

PERSONAL: Jackson was born in Sherman, Texas and attended St. Augustine High in San Diego where he participated in football and basketball. He and wife Ricarda reside in Huntington Beach, Ca., and Monte attends Cal State Long Beach during the off-season.

Jakowenko, George Place Kicker Syracuse
Height: 5-9 Weight: 180 Born: 6-26-48 Second Year

PRO: Jakowenko played for Oakland in 1974, joining the club in mid-season and playing with the Raiders for the final six regular season games and two post-season contests, all as a kickoff specialist. He spent the 1974 pre-season with Kansas City and kicked five field goals in six tries, including a 51-yarder against San Francisco. Originally, St. Louis signed Jakowenko as a free agent in 1971 and released him the same year. He signed with Kansas City in 1973 and was released in 1973. New England signed him in 1974, then released him and Kansas City signed him again. When the Chiefs let him go in September, 1974, Oakland hired him in November. Last year Jakowenko did not play football.

COLLEGE: Jakowenko was an outstanding soccer-style kicker for three seasons at Syracuse where he scored 129 points by making 21 of 51 field goal attempts and 66 of 75 points after touchdown. He also punted as a junior and senior with averages of 36.8 and 39.7, respectively. He kicked a 49-yarder against UCLA in 1968. He played in the North-South Shrine game.

PERSONAL: Born in Charleroi, Belgium, Jakowenko migrated with his parents to the United States in 1955. He started his kicking career as a senior at Nyack High in New York and won the first game he ever played with a field goal. He speaks Russian, French and Dutch. He and his wife, Anne, live at Upper Nyack, N.Y.

Jaworski, Ron Quarterback Youngstown State
Height: 6-2 Weight: 185 Born: 3-23-51 Third Year

PRO: When the Rams traded John Hadl to Green Bay during the 1974 season, it was because they thought they had both quality and depth left at quarterback. This was proven in '75 when starter James Harris suffered a shoulder injury and his replacement, Ron Jaworski, came in to lead the club to three victories, including late season wins over Green Bay and World Champion Pittsburgh and a playoff triumph over St. Louis. When Harris left early in the first quarter of the Packer game, Jaworski completed 14 of 24 passes for 174 yards in relief as Los Angeles won, 22-5. The next week against the Steelers, Ron started and scored the winning touchdown of a 10-3 game with a five-yard quarterback draw in the fourth quarter. And against the Cardinals, "The Polish Rifle" connected on 12 of 23 for 203 yards and one touchdown, a 66-yarder to Harold Jackson. He also ran for a touchdown as the Rams won, 35-23. Altogether, Jaworski finished the regular season with 24 completions in 48 attempts for 302 yards. Jaworski, who also holds on extra point and field goal tries, was drafted on the second round by the Rams in 1973, but spent that season on the ready reserve squad. In '74 he played in only five games, completing 10 of 24 for 144 yards.

COLLEGE: Jaworski's four-year totals at Youngstown were 325 completions in 658 attempts for 4,612 yards and 32 touchdowns. In his senior year he was 139 of 259 for 2,123 yards and 18 scores. Operating out of the "side-saddle T," Jaworski finished fifth in NCAA small college passing his final year and played in the Senior Bowl Game.

PERSONAL: Born in Lackawanna, New York, Ron attended high school in that city. He and his wife, Liz, and their one-year old daughter, Joleen, reside in Lackawanna where Ron spends the off-season making personal appearances for the Walt Frazier Co.

Jessie, Ron
Height: 6-0

Wide Receiver
Weight: 185 Born: 2-4-48

Kansas
Sixth Year

PRO: A welcomed addition to the Rams offensive arsenal in 1975 was wide receiver Ron Jessie, whose 41 receptions were a close second on the club to Harold Jackson's 43. Jessie's catches gained 547 yards and three touchdowns as he ran his five-year career totals to 143 for 2,183 yards, a 15.3 average per catch and 13 scores. He was voted the club's "outstanding receiver" by Ye Old Rams. Signing with the Rams in July of '75 after playing out his option with Detroit, Jessie moved into the starting lineup to replace longtime Ram veteran star Jack Snow. His biggest day of the season came against Atlanta when he snagged 10 passes for 151 yards and a touchdown in a 16-7 Los Angeles victory. It matched a previous personal high of 10 catches, achieved while playing with the Lions against Minnesota in 1974. That was a memorable year for Jessie, whose 54 receptions for 761 yards ranked him sixth in the NFL. Originally drafted by Dallas on the eighth round in 1971, Ron was traded to the Lions prior to that season for a draft choice. He has also returned 47 kickoffs in his pro career for 1,237 yards and two TDs, both in his rookie year.

COLLEGE: Jessie attended Imperial Valley JC in El Centro, Ca., then transferred to Kansas where, used mostly as a running back, he caught 33 passes for 644 yards in two seasons. As a track and field star, he long jumped 26-4½ and won an NCAA Indoor title in 1969, also high jumped 6-8 and ran the high hurdles in 13.8

PERSONAL: Born in Yuma, Ariz., Jessie attended high school in that city. He and wife Sharon reside in Huntington Beach, Ca. with their two sons, Ron, 4, and Brandon, 2.

Jones, Cody

Height: 6-5

Defensive Tackle

Weight: 240

Born: 5-3-51

San Jose State

Third Year

PRO: Cody Jones had been a backup defensive lineman for the Rams in 1974 and he appeared destined to retain that status when the 1975 season got under way. And that was the way it was until the Nov. 9 San Francisco game when both starter Larry Brooks and his substitute, Bill Nelson, suffered knee injuries which sidelined them for the season. From that moment on, Cody was the starting right defensive tackle and he turned in some smart performances, improving with every game. Jones played in all 14 games last year and 12 the year before. He was a fifth round draft choice in 1973, a year he spent on the ready reserve squad.

COLLEGE: Jones played at Trinidad State JC before transferring to San Jose State, where he became an all-conference defensive tackle and also played basketball. He participated in the East-West Shrine Game following his senior season.

PERSONAL: Born in San Francisco, Jones attended Mission High in that city. Last off-season he continued his education by attending San Jose State, occasionally flying to Long Beach to play for the Ram basketball team. He's married to the former Nina Pontrelli.

Kay, Rick
Height: 6-4

Linebacker
Weight: 235 Born: 11-10-49

Colorado
Third Year

PRO: The fact that Rick Kay played split end, tight end, flanker, defensive end and middle guard while winning three letters at Colorado prepared him during the 1975 season when starting tight end Bob Klein suffered a knee injury which forced him to miss the final three games. Kay, normally a reserve linebacker and a special team expert, was moved to tight end as a back-up to Terry Nelson. Kay took over for Rod Phillips, a running back who had been moved to tight end for a short spell before injuries to two other running backs dictated Phillips' return to the backfield. All of the foregoing is designed to emphasize Kay's versatility, a factor so valuable on a 43-man pro team. Kay suffered a pre-season knee injury in 1974, forcing him to miss the regular season. Last year, however, he was active in every game and was particularly outstanding in kickoff coverage. With Ken Geddes gone to Seattle in the expansion allocation, Rick becomes a prime candidate for the starting left linebacker job in 1976.

COLLEGE: Kay was team captain his senior year at Colorado and an alternate for the Hula Bowl game.

PERSONAL: Kay attended Pacific High in San Bernardino, Ca. He lives in Seal Beach with his wife Sandra and their two-year-old son, Eric. A native of Henderson, Nev., Kay spent last off-season as a sales representative for Sounder Golf Clubs.

Klein, Bob
Height: 6-5

Tight End
Weight: 245 Born: 7-27-47

USC
Eighth Year

PRO: Although there are taller and heavier players than Klein, few have his physical presence. For whatever reason, Klein appears much larger than many of his bigger peers. His size gave him an aura of indestructability and it came as a surprise to find Bob was only human when a knee injury suffered at Detroit's Pontiac Metropolitan Stadium forced an operation which sidelined him the last three games. Before being hurt Bob had caught 16 passes for 237 yards and two touchdowns and appeared well on his way to his best season as a receiver. His average of 14.8 per catch was the best of his career. Figures, however, fail to measure Klein's blocking contributions, particularly on running plays against defensive ends and linebackers. In his almost seven seasons, Klein has caught 108 passes for 1,377 yards, a 12.8 average and 14 touchdowns. Klein was making big plays before his 1975 injury, including a 44-yard touchdown catch against Atlanta, a 28-yarder vs. Baltimore, and a key 29-yarder vs. San Diego in overtime to help the Rams to a 13-10 win. Klein's biggest day as a receiver came against New Orleans in 1974 when he bagged five for 55 yards and a touchdown. The former USC All-American was a first round draft choice in 1969, one of three for Los Angeles that year. His top rookie performance was a touchdown pass he caught against Minnesota in the Western Conference championship game. In his first two years he played behind Billy Truax and netted but two passes each season. However, his ability as a blocker was immediately apparent and he entered games on third down and short yardage situations. When Truax was traded to Dallas prior to 1971, Klein became a starter. His speed and agility have made him a regular on many special teams.

COLLEGE: Klein was a Rose Bowl performer for three straight years and played in the Hula Bowl following his senior year. He was named second team All-American by the Sporting News and first team All-Coast by AP and UPI his senior year.

PERSONAL: A California native, Klein was born in South Gate. He attended St. Monica High in Santa Monica. Klein, who has a master's degree in business administration from USC, is a partner in the R.G. Harris Co., industrial developers and realtors. He and wife JoAnn make their home in Pacific Palisades with their daughter Kristin, 6, and son, James, 5.

Mack, Tom
Height: 6-3

Guard
Weight: 250 Born: 11-1-43

Michigan
Eleventh Year

PRO: After serving a decade with the Rams, Tom Mack has become one of the most decorated offensive linemen in the club's history. Certainly the honors that are bestowed upon the former Michigan All-American at the end of each season more than justify the number one draft choice the Rams spent on him back in 1966. He received numerous all-star awards again in 1975, including being named to the Pro Bowl for the ninth time in ten seasons. Mack was also named to the All-NFC first teams as picked by UPI, AP, The Sporting News, Pro Football Weekly and Inside Football Report. In addition, the Football News called him first team All-NFL while the NEA and the Pro Football Writers Association accorded him second team honors on their All-Pro aggregations. All of this is nothing new to Tom, who has been receiving some kind of All-Pro recognition since 1968, including being at least first team All-NFC by one of the major polls for each of the last five years. The durable Mack has never missed a Rams game, a streak that reached 140 at the end of the 1975 season. A starter at left guard since midway through his first year, Tom was voted Rookie of the Year that season (1966) by Ye Old Rams, the same group that named him the club's "Outstanding Interior Offensive Lineman" last year and in 1970.

COLLEGE: As a junior Mack was a starter on the 1964 Michigan team which topped Oregon State in the Rose Bowl. In his senior year he was UPI and NEA All-American, as well as All-Big Ten. He was a member of the East-West, Hula Bowl and College All-Star teams.

PERSONAL: Mack, born in Cleveland, Ohio, attended Cleveland Heights High where he played football and baseball and established swimming records. His father, the late Ray Mack, played major league baseball with the Cleveland Indians. Tom, wife Anne and daughters Kristan, 7 Kathryn, 5, and Carolyn, 2, live in San Marino. In the off-season Mack is employed as an engineer by Bechtel Corp.

McCutcheon, Lawrence
Height: 6-1

Running Back
Weight: 205 Born: 6-2-50

Colorado State
Fourth Year

PRO: In just three short seasons Lawrence McCutcheon already stands as the fifth leading Ram rusher of all time, and he figures to move all the way into second place before the conclusion of 1976. In averaging more than 1,000-yards per season, McCutcheon has compiled 3,117 in 659 carries for a 4.7 per carry average and seven touchdowns. Ahead of him on the Ram list prior to '76 are Dick Bass (5,417), Dan Towler (3,493), Les Josephson (3,407) and Tank Younger (3,296). In addition, McCutcheon has been a productive pass-catcher, with 100 receptions in three years for 927 yards and six scores. From a statistical standpoint, 1974 was McCutcheon's best season. He completed his second straight 1,000-yard campaign with a club record 1,109 that also earned him the NFC rushing title and was named first team All-NFL by several polls and was a unanimous all-conference performer. Another honor that year was being named recipient of the Daniel F. Reeves Memorial Award as the club's MVP by vote of the Southern California Football Writers Association. Lawrence was on his way to a third straight 1,000-yard season in '75 when a leg injury forced him to miss the last regular season game with his yardage total at 911. The following week, however, a rested McCutcheon set new NFC playoff game records by gaining 202 yards in 37 carries as the Rams whipped St. Louis, 35-23. It marked the 13th time that the former Colorado State star had gained 100 yards or more for the Rams in a game. A participant in the Pro Bowl for the third consecutive year, McCutcheon also earned Ye Old Rams Outstanding Offensive Back honors for the third straight season. Leg injuries hampered Lawrence's first training camp after he had been drafted third by the Rams in 1972. He began that year on the reserve squad and was activated at mid-season for three games when he performed on the special teams. The following season was a different story, however, as McCutcheon showed his class immediately by gaining 120 yards in the opener against Kansas City and went on to make UPI's All-Rookie team as well as recognition on several All-NFC and All-NFL teams.

COLLEGE: In his sophomore year at Colorado State, McCutcheon was the WAC's "outstanding back," but ensuing seasons were even more productive. He finished with career totals of 649 carries for 2,917 yards, a 4.5 per carry average and 22 touchdowns. Twice he gained more than one thousand yards in a season; 1,008 in 1970 and 1,112 in '71.

PERSONAL: McCutcheon was born in Plainview, Texas, and went to high school in that city. Still a bachelor, he lives in Long Beach, Ca.

Nelson, Bill

Defensive Tackle

Oregon State

Height: 6-7

Weight: 270

Born: 3-9-48

Sixth Year

PRO: Injuries have dogged the career of Big Bill Nelson. It seems that just as he's ready to blossom, something happens. Last year, for example, he was playing back-up for two of football's best defensive tackles, Merlin Olsen and Larry Brooks, in addition to special team duties. In the Nov. 9 San Francisco game, Bill went down with a left knee injury which necessitated surgery and ended his 1975 season. Oddly enough, Brooks injured his left knee earlier in the same game and he, too, underwent surgery. Nelson was drafted on round seven in 1970, a season he spent on the ready reserve. In 1971 he showed tremendous improvement and appeared to have won a starting job until a back injury cut him down. He had an operation for a disc ailment which sidelined him the remainder of that season. He was a reserve the first half of 1972 and a member of the ready reserve unit the last half.

COLLEGE: Nelson lettered three years at Oregon State as a defensive lineman, and participated in the All-American Bowl game.

PERSONAL: Born in Berkeley, Calif., Nelson attended high school at El Cerrito. He and wife Susan reside in El Toro, Calif. Bill spends the off-season organizing fishing trips and playing tennis.

Nelson, Terry

Tight End

Arkansas AM&N

Height: 6-2

Weight: 230

Born: 5-20-51

Third Year

PRO: Talented Terry Nelson showed so much improvement in 1974 and in the 1975 training camp that the Rams staff felt justified in trading veteran reserve Pat Curran to San Diego for a high draft choice. Last year Nelson was being brought along slowly behind starter Bob Klein until the big veteran blocker incurred a knee injury Thanksgiving Day against Detroit which forced an operation and kept him from the remaining three games. Nelson responded to the challenge, particularly the blocking portion of the position, and performed full-time in the five games (two playoffs) which followed. Nelson was drafted on the fourth round in 1973, a season he spent on the ready reserve. He was active for one game that year and performed on special units. He played in ten games in 1974 and all the 1975 contests.

COLLEGE: Nelson was a three-year letterman, captain of the team at Arkansas AM&N his senior year and a Pittsburgh Courier All-American.

PERSONAL: Born in Arkadelphia, Ark., Nelson attended Peake High there and was a star in football and basketball. He and wife Frances reside in Arkadelphia in the off-season when Terry works with a youth basketball team.

Olsen, Merlin

Height: 6-5

Defensive Tackle

Weight: 270

Born: 9-15-40

Utah State

Fifteenth Year

PRO: One of the most honored defensive linemen in the history of the NFL, Merlin Olsen begins his 15th season in 1976 showing the same zest for the game that he exhibited as a first round draft choice out of Utah State back in 1962. At the conclusion of the '75 campaign, Olsen had started 184 consecutive games for the Rams, a club record, and had played in 194, third high on the all-time list. There are many — including some offensive linemen — who will testify that he has never played a bad one. Certainly the league's coaches have recognized this, for Olsen has been chosen for the Pro Bowl in all of his previous 14 seasons, a league record, although a knee injury forced him out of the 1971 post-season classic. Once again in '75, Olsen was the steadying influence on a defensive unit that led the NFL in fewest points allowed with 135 and finished second in the NFC in total defense, rushing defense and passing defense. A Ram co-captain, Olsen has won many honors in his career, including the 1974 pro football "player of the year" by the Maxwell Club of Philadelphia. Beginning with his second year, 1963, Olsen started receiving all-pro and all-conference recognition, and from 1966 through 1970 he was a unanimous All-NFL performer. Ye Old Rams twice named him the club's Most Valuable Player (1971-72) and four times the team's Outstanding Defensive Lineman (1967-70). The Daniel F. Reeves Award, emblematic of the club's MVP, also went to Olsen twice (1971-72). He has also been a Co-Athlete of the Year in Southern California by Citizen Savings/Helms Athletic Foundation (1972) and Southland Athlete of the Month from the same organization (Nov., 1970). One of the most prestigious awards came in 1970 when Olsen was picked to the all-time Ram team in conjunction with the Memorial Coliseum's Golden Anniversary.

COLLEGE: Olsen was named to every All-American team for his line play at Utah State. He was "Lineman of the Game" in the Hula Bowl and also took part in the East-West, All American and College All-Star games.

PERSONAL: Merlin was born in Logan, Utah, one of a family of nine children, and was an all-around athlete at Logan High. He and wife, Susan, reside in San Marino, Calif. with their two daughters, Kelly Lynn, 11; and Jill, 8; and son, Nathan, 3. Olsen's business ventures are wide and varied in Southern California. He is, for example, a partner in a Porsche and a Volkswagen dealership. In the past years he has appeared in motion pictures and co-hosted his own television show. Last year for the second straight season he was the top Ram vote-getter in the NFL Man of the Year balloting.

Perry, Rod
Height: 5-9

Cornerback
Weight: 170 Born: 9-11-53

Colorado
Second Year

PRO: The Rams drafted Rod Perry on the fourth round in 1975 and when he first arrived in camp he seemingly faced long odds when it came to making the club, not only because of his size but because he had undergone a knee operation after the 1974 college season. Thanks to a reserve category labeled "physically unable to perform," Rod was able to undergo rehabilitation and, at the same time, not count as one of the active 43 players until

Oct. 15, at which time a decision had to be made. Since veteran cornerbacks Charlie Stukes and Al Clark were out with injuries, Rod was activated for the final nine games. He performed creditably, both on special teams and in special pass-prevent defenses. Rod, the only corner substitute, has been clocked in the forty at 4.4.

COLLEGE: Rod Perry attended Colorado for two years after spending his freshman and sophomore seasons at Fresno City College where he was a JC All American. Perry has long-jumped 24-6.

PERSONAL: Perry was born at Fresno and attended Fresno's Hoover High. He is single and resides at Long Beach, Ca.

Phillips, Rod

Running Back

Jackson State

Height: 6-0

Weight: 220

Born: 12-23-52

Second Year

PRO: Rod Phillips was the only free agent to make the Rams' active roster as a rookie in 1975. He showed his ability in the pre-season when he carried 32 times for 159 yards for a most respectable 5 yard average (including a game against Philadelphia when he ran 13 times for 88 yards) and he showed his courage in the NFL final game against Pittsburgh. With starter Lawrence McCutcheon and back-up John Cappelletti both sidelined, the Rams had but three running backs available for play against the Super Bowl champions. To make matters worse, Rod suffered a sprained ankle in the second quarter but he remained in action, eventually rushing 11 times for 51 yards during the 10-3 Ram victory. He played in every game, mostly on special teams. In 1975 he carried 17 times for 69 yards, a 4.1 average. Since he had played some tight end in college, Rod was also a stand-by at that position due to injury situations.

COLLEGE: Rod Phillips transferred to Jackson State after spending his freshman year of 1970 at the U. of Cincinnati. Rod played both tight end and running back in college.

PERSONAL: Phillips was born at Meridian, Miss., and attended high school at Harper High in Mendenhall, Miss., where he played football, basketball and baseball. He and his wife Brenda reside at Carson, Ca. with daughter Erin, born last April.

Preece, Steve

Height: 6-1

Safety

Weight: 195

Born: 2-15-47

Oregon State

Eighth Year

PRO: For a free agent who has taken almost as many bounces as a football, geographically, at least, Steve Preece has carved himself an enviable pro career. Unclaimed in the 1969 draft, Preece joined the New Orleans Saints as a free agent. Released in 1970, Preece signed with Philadelphia as a free agent and was released after the 1971 season. This time free agent Preece arrived at Denver where in 1972 he started nine games. In the summer of '73 the Broncos waived Steve and he joined Los Angeles where he started all the games on the 1973 12-2 club and ten of them in

Robertson, Isiah

Linebacker

Southern U.

Height: 6-3

Weight: 225

Born: 8-17-49

Sixth Year

PRO: Isiah Robertson has never been one to do something unobtrusively. When he makes a tackle, he does so with a certain verve. And when he makes an interception, it's usually not one of your mundane, everyday interceptions. For example, against Philadelphia last season, Robertson swiped a pass from Mike Boryla and roared 76 yards to a touchdown. That was one of his four 1975 thefts. In 1974, in the fourth quarter of the Rams' playoff game against Washington, Robertson picked off a pass and returned it 59 yards on an exciting, open-field run to cap a 19-10 Ram victory. Nicknamed "Butch" by his mates, Robertson's 1975 feats resulted in his being named to the Pro Bowl team for the fourth time (also 1971, '73 and '74); AP All-Pro second team, AP All-NFC, Football News All-Pro second team, Inside Football Report All-NFC team, NEA All-Pro team, Pro Football Weekly All-NFC team, Professional Football Writers All-NFC second team and UPI All-NFC. Robertson was drafted on the first round by Los Angeles in 1971. The onetime Southern U. star was the tenth player picked that year on a choice obtained from Washington. Robertson was an immediate hit as a rookie when he became a starter and was accorded many honors at season's end, including "Rookie of the Year" by Ye Old Rams and NFL Defensive "Rookie of the Year" by both AP and Pro Football Weekly and UPI All-Rookie.

COLLEGE: Robertson intercepted 11 passes in three years at Southern U. and in his senior year was named All-American by the Sporting News and Time Magazine, as well as Small College All-American by AP and UPI.

PERSONAL: Born in New Orleans, La., Robertson was a star athlete at Pine View High in Covington, La. Still single, he resides in Fountain Valley, Ca. He is active in many enterprises, including shirt-manufacturing, and also spends considerable time working with youth groups and charity projects. He was Orange County Chairman of the United Cerebral Palsy drive this year.

Rogers, Melvin

Linebacker

Florida A&M

Height: 6-2

Weight: 230

Born: 3-23-47

Fourth Year

PRO: Rogers was signed as a free agent by San Diego in 1971 after having played in 1970 with the Bridgeport Jets of the Atlantic Coast League. He was released by San Diego Oct. 10, 1974, and signed as a free agent by Washington in the 1975 pre-season but was waived prior to the regular season. He missed the 1972 season with a shoulder injury. Last season he performed for the Philadelphia Bell of the WFL. He played in 13 games in 1971, 10 in 1973 and three in 1974. Rogers, who was the lone free agent to make the Charger roster in 1971, had a tryout with Kansas City in 1970.

COLLEGE: Rogers played both linebacker and defensive end at Florida A&M where he lettered four years and was named to the SIAC All-Conference team.

PERSONAL: Rogers was born at St. Petersburg, Fla., and attended Gibbs High in that city where he participated in football and basketball. Rogers and his wife Betty make their home at St. Petersburg.

Saul, Rich

Center

Michigan State

Height: 6-3

Weight: 250

Born: 2-5-48

Seventh Year

PRO: His apprenticeship was extensive, and when Rich Saul took over as the Rams' regular center in 1975 he was prepared to do an efficient job. With the retirement at the end of 1974 of 15-year veteran Ken Iman, Saul earned the starting spot on a team that went 12-2 and won the NFC Western Division title for the third straight year. He joined an offensive line in which four of the five starters had been together since 1966. Prior to '75 the versatile and rugged Saul had been a valuable man in a variety of ways. During his pro career, for example, he has played center, guard, tackle, tight end, and has even been considered for linebacker, a position he was familiar with from his college days at Michigan State. In those early years with the Rams, Rich also contributed through his hard-working performances on the specialty teams. He was an eighth round draft choice of the club in 1970, a season in which he was named the team's Rookie of the Year by Ye Old Rams.

COLLEGE: Despite a knee injury that plagued him his senior year, Saul still made All-Big Ten and Academic All-American as a defensive end and linebacker.

PERSONAL: Saul was born in Butler, Pa., and attended high school in that city. Twin brother, Ron, plays with the Houston Oilers and an older brother, Bill, is a retired NFL player. Rich and wife Eileen live in Westminster, Calif., where Rich works for Red Carpet Realty in the off-season.

Scribner, RobHeight: 6-0*Running Back*Weight: 200*Born: 4-9-51*UCLA*Fourth Year

PRO: As a running back Rob Scribner had been used sparingly by the Rams for nearly three years. Instead he had been given considerable duty as a member of the special teams, for which he had performed faithfully and well. Then, in the 13th week of the 1975 season, starting running back Jim Bertelsen went down with a knee injury against the Packers, and Scribner came on to alternate at halfback with Cullen Bryant, carrying in the play selection from coach Chuck Knox. The plays were not all Rob Scribner carried, however. The free agent from UCLA packed the football 12 times that day, gaining 82 yards, including a sparkling 34-yard burst. He averaged 6.8 per trip, scored a touchdown and also caught two passes for 28 yards. He continued to alternate with Bryant in the season finale against Pittsburgh and in the two playoff games. For the regular season Rob carried 42 times for 216 yards, a 5.1 avg., and two touchdowns to run his three-year career total to 349 yards on 71 trips and two scores. He has also gained 307 yards on 37 punt returns, including 205 on 26 last year. Scribner also contributed a 22-yard touchdown gallop against New Orleans early in the season.

COLLEGE: Scribner played quarterback as a UCLA freshman, linebacker as a sophomore, defensive back as a junior and as a wishbone quarterback his senior year. The Van Nuys (Ca.) High grad was UCLA's third top rusher his senior year with 65 carries for 498 yards, a 7.7 average and four touchdowns. He was also an excellent rugby player.

PERSONAL: Scribner was born in Dallas, Texas, the son of a medical doctor. He and his wife, the former Jennifer Louise Ray, live in Los Angeles with their one-year old son, Joshua Scott. In the off-season Rob works for the Massachusetts Mutual Insurance Company and is active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes.

Simpson, Bill
Height: 6-1

Safety
Weight: 180 Born: 12-5-51

Michigan State
Third Year

PRO: As a key member of an improving young secondary that helped the Rams finish third in the NFL in pass defense last year, Bill Simpson may be heading for stardom. Certainly his performance in 1975 justified his selection as the club's "outstanding defensive back" by Ye Old Rams. The ball-hawking ex-Michigan Stater, in his first full pro season as a starter, not only led the team in interceptions with six for 90 yards, but also recovered five fumbles, blocked a punt against San Francisco that resulted in a Ram touchdown and was often seen as an effective safety-blitzer when he wasn't protecting the deep zones. The club's regular free safety since taking over the job in the 11th week of the 1974 campaign, Simpson has saved some of his best football for later in the year. An illustration of this is his four interceptions in four post-season playoff games in the last two years, including two last December in the win over St. Louis. Of his seven regular-season career interceptions, Bill got two in one game against the Eagles in '75. A second-round draft selection by the Rams in '74, Simpson was named to the Pro Football Writers Association All-Rookie team that year. COLLEGE: Simpson was All-Big Ten his last two years at Michigan State, and was a Sporting News All-American following his senior season. He intercepted 12 passes in his Spartan career, and later played in the East-West Shrine and Hula Bowl games. In '72 he also led the Big Ten in punt returns (13.6 avg.) and punting (40.5 avg.).

PERSONAL: Born in Detroit, Simpson attended Royal Oak Shrine High in that city. He was married last March to the former Lynn Fassero. They reside in Garden Grove, Ca., where Bill works for the U.S. Department of Commerce's Business Management Fellowship Program.

Snow, Jack
Height: 6-2

Wide Receiver
Weight: 190 Born: 1-25-43

Notre Dame
Twelfth Year

PRO: That he lost his starting job in 1975 to Ron Jessie does not erase the obvious fact that Jack Snow is one of the great Rams pass receivers of all time. Consider these figures after 11 years with the club. He is only the second player ever to gain more than 6,000 yards catching passes (Snow's 6,012 trails Elroy Hirsch's club record 6,289). In addition Snow is third in number of passes caught with 340, just three behind Hirsch (343) and 60 behind Tom Fears (400). And finally, Jack's 45 touchdowns receiving is second in Ram history to Hirsch's 53. Last year, after starting 140 consecutive games in his first 10 Ram seasons, Snow became the team's third receiver. He caught four passes for 86 yards, including a 42-yard TD against Philadelphia. He was a first round draft choice of Minnesota, but the Rams dealt Red Phillips and defensive tackle Gary Larson to the Vikings for the negotiation rights. They certainly have not been disappointed for Snow's career has been a productive one in which he has averaged 17.8 yards per catch and has rarely been caught from behind in an open field. His best season was 1970 when he caught 51 for 859 yards and seven TDs. Snow's accomplishments have not gone unnoticed by Ye Old Rams, who named him the club's Rookie of the Year in 1965, the Offensive Lineman of the Year in '67 and the Outstanding Receiver in 1971 and 1972. Jack also made the West Pro Bowl squad following the '67 season but was unable to play due to an ankle injury.

COLLEGE: Snow was named to every All-American team after breaking most of the pass receiving records at Notre Dame. Most of his marks have been broken, however. In 1964 he caught 60 for 1,114 yards and nine touchdowns.

PERSONAL: Snow was born in Rock Springs, Wyo., but went to high school at St. Anthony in Long Beach, Calif., where he was named All-City Lineman of the Year in 1960. He and wife, Merry Carole, live in Seal Beach with their three children, Michelle, 10; Jack, Jr., 8; and Stephanie, 7.

Williams, John

Height: 6-3

Weight: 256

Tackle

Born: 10-27-45

Minnesota

Ninth Year

PRO: The last three seasons have produced three NFC Western Division titles for the Rams, who can thank the work of the offensive line for much of that success. It is not merely coincidental that the new starting right tackle beginning with the 1973 season has been John Williams, a soft-spoken, congenial man whose steadiness and durability have contributed to the club's success. Thus, Williams' fine performances have justified the first draft choice the Rams gave Baltimore for his services prior to the 1972 season, a year in which he played behind Harry Schuh before replacing Schuh the following campaign as Chuck Knox took over the Rams coaching chores. Williams was a first round draft choice by the Colts in 1968. He spent a year as a defensive end, then moved to offensive guard where he was a two-year starter, including the Baltimore's 1970 Super Bowl Championship team. When the Rams acquired his services they moved the versatile ex-Minnesota Gopher to tackle.

COLLEGE: Williams was an All-Big Ten tackle at Minnesota, where he also played some at fullback and defensive end. He participated in the College All-Star and Coaches All-American games following his senior season.

PERSONAL: Born in Jackson, Miss., Williams attended Libbey High in Toledo, Ohio. In the off-season John attends the University of Maryland's dental school. He and wife Colleen have two sons, Jay, 6, and Justin, 4.

Youngblood, Jack

Height: 6-4

Weight: 255

Defensive End

Born: 1-26-50

Florida

Sixth Year

PRO: There are some Jack Youngblood watchers who maintain that the Rams defensive end gets a little better every year. If this is true, and if he has not yet reached his peak, then offensive tackles around the NFL should beware in 1976. It's difficult to see how Youngblood could improve upon '75. He was named the top defensive player in the NFC by both United Press International and the 101 Committee of Kansas City. While earning the Rams' "most valuable player" award from Ye Old Rams and the Daniel F. Reeves Memorial Award as the club's MVP by vote of the Southern California Sports Broadcasters, Youngblood was also named first team All-Pro by the Pro Football Writers Association, AP, NEA and Pro Football Weekly, as well as second team by the Football News. He also earned All-NFC honors from AP, UPI, the Sporting News, Pro Football Weekly and Inside Pro Football Report. For the third straight year he was picked on the NFC Pro Bowl team, and for the second time he was named the team's outstanding defensive lineman by Ye Old Rams. During the regular season Jack dumped opposing quarterbacks 14 times on a team that had 43 and scored a safety against New Orleans. In the playoff win over St. Louis, Youngblood had one of his finest days, sacking the Cardinal quarterback once, forcing a fumble, blocking an extra point try and returning a pass interception 47 yards to a touchdown. An understudy to Deacon Jones as a rookie after he was drafted on the first round in 1971, Youngblood shared the left end position with Fred Dryer the following season before Dryer moved over to his more familiar right end spot in '73. It was then that Youngblood began to blossom, making second team on several All-Pro and All-NFC squads. The honors escalated in '74 as Jack was named All-NFL first team by AP and the Pro Football Writers Association, as well as All-NFC by a host of publications and news services.

COLLEGE: Each year was better than the preceding one in the college career of Youngblood, who won first team All-American honors as a senior at Florida from the Sporting News and the Football Writers Association. He was named second team by AP, and he participated in the College All-Star and Senior Bowl games. He was also named the Most Valuable Defensive Lineman in the Southeast Conference in 1970.

PERSONAL: Youngblood, the Rams' player representative to the NFLPA, was born in Jacksonville, Fla., and went to Jefferson County High School in Montecello, Fla. In the off-season he and wife Diane live in Westminster, Calif., and Jack works for BankAmericard in a public relations capacity.

Youngblood, Jim Linebacker Tennessee Tech.
Height: 6-3 Weight: 239 Born: 2-23-50 Fourth Year

PRO: Jim Youngblood (no relation to defensive end Jack) has spent the last three seasons playing behind middle linebacker Jack Reynolds, who not only has three more years experience than Jim but who's been playing outstanding football. Jim, a second-round draft choice in 1973 by Los Angeles, played in every league game and was given much playing time during the pre-season contests the last two years. The former Tennessee Tech performer is an outstanding special teamer and is used as a fourth linebacker in particular situations.

The Ram Story 1937-1976

1937 On February 13th, the National Football League grants a Cleveland franchise to Homer Marshman and associates, a prominent group of local businessmen. Hugo Bezdek is named head coach. As the league's rookie franchise, Rams finish with a 1-10-0 record. Bob Kelley is named radio play-by-play announcer at start of season.

1938 Assistant coach Art Lewis takes over team after three losses and Rams win three of remaining seven games.

1939 Earl "Dutch" Clark becomes head coach and Lewis remains as assistant. Rams hit .500 mark for first time with 5-5-1 record. Parker Hall joins team as rookie tailback. Hall is not named on official NFL all-league first team, but wins Joe Carr Trophy as NFL's official Most Valuable Player.

1940 Team drops back to 4-6-1 record. Johnny Drake, powerful Ram fullback, is named to first team all-NFL.

1941 Daniel F. Reeves and Fred Levy, Jr. purchase Rams in June and hire, as general manager, Billy Evans, former sports columnist, American League umpire and Cleveland Indians general manager. Team wins first two games but drops next nine to finish in cellar.

1942 Evans resigns before 1942 season. Charles "Chile" Walsh replaces Art Lewis as assistant coach. Lt. Reeves and Major Levy depart to enter armed forces. Bob Kelley is named club secretary. Team finishes 5-6-0.

1943 Clark resigns. Chile Walsh is named head coach, but NFL grants Rams permission to suspend operations for one season because of wartime difficulties. Reeves buys out levy.

1944 Chile Walsh become general manager and appoints Buff Donelli as head coach. Pick-up team finishes 4-6-0.

1945 Donelli joins military service. Walsh names his brother, Adam Walsh, as head coach, with George Trafton and Bob Snyder as assistants. Third round draft choice (a future) Bob Waterfield from UCLA joins team as T-formation quarterback and leads Rams to 9-1-0 season for first divisional title in team's history. On icy field, Rams defeat Washington Redskins, 15-14, at Cleveland for world title. Waterfield becomes first player to receive unanimous vote for official NFL Most Valuable Player award. Walsh is named coach of the year. Eddie Kotal joins team as chief scout and Bill John begins 29-year tenure as business manager.

1946 Reeves moves franchise to Los Angeles early in the year. After disappointing 6-4-1 season, both Walshes resign.

1947 Reeves assumes duties of general manager. Bob Snyder is named head coach with Joe Stydahar as new assistant. Team is talent-heavy but injury-ridden in 6-6-0 season. Reeves sells part interests to former partner Levy and to Edwin and Harold Pauley and Hal Seley.

1948 Clark Shaughnessy joins staff as advisory coach. On September 3rd Snyder resigns and Clark Shaughnessy becomes head coach. Team wins four of last five to post 6-5-1 mark.

1949 Team wins first six games, then hangs on to win first divisional title since moving west. Heavy rain holds down L.A. crowd as Philadelphia Eagles skid to 14-0 win over Rams in NFL title game. Rookie Norm Van Brocklin joins team and gives Rams top-notch one-two quarterback punch. Elroy Hirsch has fine rookie year.

1950 NFL absorbs AAC, leaving Rams as lone pro team in Los Angeles after four years of two-league existence. In February, Stydahar becomes head coach, replacing Shaughnessy, and appoints Hamp Pool, Mel Hein and Red Hickey as assistants. Club opens new offices on Beverly Boulevard. Bill Granholm beings 18-year tenure as equipment manager. Team sets 22 league records in rolling to divisional title tie. Waterfield and end Tom Fears lead play-off win over Bears, 24-14, but following week in Cleveland, Lou Groza's late field goal stops Rams' title hopes, 30-28.

1951 Hein resigns to take USC post. He is replaced by Ray Richards. Rams win third straight divisional title on final day of season, then defeat Cleveland at the Coliseum, 24-17, on 73-yard pass, Van Brocklin to Fears, for first world title since moving to L.A.

1952 After team loses three straight pre-season games and drops league opener by big score, Stydahar resigns. He is replaced as head coach by Hamp Pool. Team loses two of next three, but wins last eight to tie for divisional title. Rams lose playoff in Detroit. Rams trade 11 players to Dallas for rookie Les Richter, who then enters army for two years. Waterfield retires.

1953 Richards resigns to accept Baltimore coaching assignment. Pool names John Sauer and Bill Battles as new assistants. Club co-owner Harold Pauley passes away. Team compiles 8-3-1 record, losing three games by total of eight points, to finish third in division. Rams defeat world champ Lions in both games.

1954 Pool adds Dick Voris and Ralph Weaver to staff. Bonus choice Bill Wade and tradee Les Richter both join Rams as rookies two years after going from college into military service. Team has disappointing 6-5-1 mark. All assistant coaches resign. Pool soon follows suit.

1955 On January 26th, Rams hire Sid Gillman, head coach at University of Cincinnati, to replace Pool. Gillman names Joe Madro, Jack Faulkner, Lowell Storm and Joe Thomas as assistants. Fine defensive year and clutch field goal kicking by Richter give team hard-fought 8-3-1 record for divisional title. Cleveland wins title game at Coliseum by one-sided score.

1956 In form reversal, team loses five consecutive early-season games and finishes in cellar tie with 4-8 record.

1957 Ram owners sign five year operational pact and name former Ram publicist Pete Rozelle as general manager. George Allen is added to coaching staff. Team loses squeakers on road to 49ers and Lions, finishing 6-6-0, but only two games behind divisional leaders.

1958 Gillman's revamped coaching staff includes Madro and Faulkner, and addition of Bob Waterfield, Bill Swiacki and Lou Rymkus. In pre-season trade, Van Brocklin goes to Eagles. Bill Wade sets many Ram passing marks en route to 8-4-0 year.

1959 Team has general letdown and many injuries for worst season since 1937, finishing 2-10-0. Ollie Matson, acquired in big trade, is workhorse at fullback. On last day of season, Gillman and staff resign.

1960 Following death of Bert Bell, Pete Rozelle is named NFL commissioner. Elroy Hirsch replaces Rozelle as Ram general manager. Bob Waterfield is named Ram head coach, and hires Hamp Pool, Don Paul, Jim David, Tom Fears and Vic Lindsog as assistants. Team shows slight improvement over previous year with 4-7-1 record.

1961 Rams trade Bill Wade, Del Shofner, John Guzik for Zeke Bratkowski, Lindon Crow and 1962 first draft choice, which makes it possible to draft both Roman Gabriel and Merlin Olsen. Revamped Rams finish strongly after slow start, but still show 4-10-0 deficit.

1962 Harland Svare replaces Don Paul as defensive line coach. Rams lose four of first five games by narrow margins, then show only occasional surges of success en route to 1-12-1 year. Waterfield resigns after eighth game. Svare named interim head coach, with Pool, Lindsog, and player-coach Richter and Crow as his staff. On December 27, in closed auction, Reeves reacquires control of Rams, purchasing full interests of co-owners Pauley, Levy, Seley and Bob Hope.

1963 Reeves sells 49% interest in Rams to Gene Autry, Bob Reynolds, Leonard Firestone, Paul A. O'Bryan, Robert Lehman, J.D. Stetson Coleman and Joseph A. Thomas. Svare is retained, and he names to his staff Don Heinrich, Ray Wietecha, Bob Schnelker, Jack Patera and player-coach Crow. Les Richter retires before season. After 0-5 record, Gabriel is reinstated as starting QB and plays last nine games without relief, guiding team to 5-4 mark and season record of 5-9-0.

1964 Rams sign ten-year pact to play in "new look" Coliseum's "stadium-within-a-stadium." Fourteen rookies make the season squad. Club finishes fifth with 5-7-2 record.

1965 Harland Svare's new lineup of staff coaches includes Vic Schwenk, Bill Austin, Bob Schnelker, Jack Patera and Don Doll. After winning only one of first ten, Rams take three of last four against top two teams in each division, but Svare is dismissed.

1966 After a court fight, George Allen is released by George Halas from his assistant coaching duties with the Chicago Bears to become head coach of the Rams. Allen selects staff which includes Jack Patera, Ted Marchibroda, Ray Prochaska, Howard Schnellenberger, Tom Catlin and Joe Sullivan. NFL and AFL merge in spring. Bob Kelley, "Voice of the Rams" since the club's beginning in 1937 dies in September. Rams, practicing at new facilities in Long Beach, have a chance to finish second in West until final game, which they lose to World Champion Packers. Thus, the team finishes 8-6, the best record since 1958.

1967 Jack Patera accepts job with New York Giants and Marion Campbell moves from Minnesota Vikings to assume defensive line coaching duties. After 17 years on Beverly Boulevard, club moves from offices to new building on Pico. Training camp is also moved to California State College at Fullerton after five years at Chapman College in Orange. Equipment manager Bill Granholm leaves club after 18 years to take position in league office. Rams record first unbeaten pre-season in history with six wins, including victories over first-ever AFL opponents, San Diego and Kansas City. Team completes finest win-loss season ever with 11-1-2 league record to win Coastal Division Championship, the first title of any kind since 1955, then loses to Green Bay in Western Conference Championship Game. Club sets new team record in attendance by playing before 1,230,059 fans and also establishes new club mark for 14 games in attendance: 848,090.

1968 After Playoff win over Cleveland in January, team finishes regular 1968 season with 10-3-1 record, second in Coastal Division to Baltimore's 13-1 mark. Attendance is over one million for second straight year and Ram defense sets new 14-game NFL record for fewest yards allowed. On Dec. 26, Allen is dismissed as head coach, but is re-hired two weeks later.

1969 Marion Campbell leaves to become defensive coach at Atlanta. He is replaced by LaVern Torgeson, from the Pittsburgh staff, as defensive line coach. Dick Vermeil is also added to coaching staff. After 20 years with the Rams as a player, general manager and assistant to the president, Elroy Hirsch leaves club to become athletic director at the University of Wisconsin. He is replaced by Public Relations Director Jack Teele, and John Sanders becomes Assistant General Manager. Team wins its first 11 games — to win Coastal Division with 11-3 record before losing to Minnesota in Western Conference title game, 23-20. New Ram attendance records are set for the year (1,307,989 for all 22 games) and the regular season (866,160 in 14 games). Quarterback Roman Gabriel is unanimous choice as the NFL's Most Valuable Player.

1970 Playoff Bowl victory over Dallas in January heads Rams toward their 25th year in Southern California. Two coaching changes are made: Marv Levy replaces Dick Vermeil, who leaves for UCLA, and Boyd Dowler takes over for Howard Schnellenberger, who moves to Miami Dolphin staff. With the completion of the merger of the NFL and AFL, the Rams join San Francisco, Atlanta and New Orleans in the Western Division of the National Conference of the new 26-team National Football League. Rams finish second to 49ers with 3-4-1 record and set a new league 14-game attendance mark of 904,979. George Allen's contract is not renewed.

1971 On April 15, owner Daniel F. Reeves dies of cancer in New York. His longtime friend and business associate, William A. Barnes, becomes President and General Manager. Tommy Prothro, successful head coach at UCLA, replaces Allen and hires staff consisting of Bobb McKittrick, Larrye Weaver, Dick Vermeil, Earnel Durden and Rich Brooks from his Bruin staff; Tom Catlin from previous Ram staff; Leon McLaughlin, former Ram great who was head coach at Valley State College; and Sid Hall from the Oakland staff. Playing the toughest schedule in the NFL, the Rams finish with an 8-5-1 record, second to 49ers in the NFC West.

1972 In a history-making move, Baltimore Colts owner Carroll Rosenbloom trades the Baltimore franchise to Robert Irsay in exchange for the Rams. Irsay, a Chicago-based industrialist, had purchased the Rams from the estate of the late Dan Reeves. The transaction was completed and announced on July 14. Rosenbloom, the most successful owner in the NFL over the last two decades, brings with him to Los Angeles Don Klosterman, former Loyola University star quarterback who had been Rosenbloom's general manager in Baltimore. Klosterman assumes title of Executive Vice-President and General Manager. After five years at Cal State Fullerton, Rams move training camp site to Cal State Long Beach. After 6-7-1 season, all coaches are dismissed.

1973 An observer in '72, Rosenbloom begins to make changes early in 1973, and they pay off quickly. His choice for head coach, former Detroit assistant Chuck Knox, leads team to 12-2 season, winningest in Rams history, and Knox becomes "Coach of the Year." Roman Gabriel is traded to Philadelphia and the new quarterback, former San Diego Charger John Hadl, is NFC "Player of the Year." Rams win NFC West title, but lose in first round of playoffs to Dallas. Other changes introduced by Rosenbloom include return to blue and gold uniforms. Knox's coaching staff consists of Tom Catlin and Dick Vermeil from previous Rams staff; Leeman Bennett from the Lions; Ken Meyer from the Jets; Ray Prochaska from the Browns; Ray Malavasi from Oakland; Jim Wagstaff from Boise State and Jack Faulkner from the Rams scouting department. Club returns to Cal State Fullerton for summer training.

1974 Carroll Rosenbloom's son, Steve, takes over as Assistant to the President. Formerly, he had learned the pro football business in Baltimore, and had worked his way up to President of the Colts. Dick Vermeil leaves staff to take head coaching post at UCLA, and he is replaced by Elijah Pitts, former Packer running back. Ex-San Jose State aide Ed Alzman is also added to coaching staff. After 3-2 start, Rams trade John Hadl to Green Bay for five draft choices in bold move that stuns the football world. Hadl's backup, James Harris, becomes starter and leads team to 10-4 record, its second straight NFC Western title and its first playoff victory since 1951 (a 19-10 win over Washington) before the Rams bow to Minnesota, 14-10, in the conference championship game.

1975 With defense allowing second fewest points in NFL history over a 14-game season (135), Rams win third straight NFC Western title by completing 12-2 season. After playoff victory over St. Louis, however, they bow to Dallas in the NFC Championship Game. The 34-8 record over the last three years is best in the NFL.

1976 With Knox' contract up for renewal, he is given new five-year pact by Rosenbloom with a five-year mutual option. Coaching aide Alzman leaves club for the 49ers. Rams lose linebacker Ken Geddes and cornerback Eddie McMillan to Seattle and wide receiver Willie McGee to Tampa Bay as NFL expands to 28 teams.

Press Information

WORKING CREDENTIALS

Seats in the Los Angeles Coliseum are assigned to members of the media from daily newspapers in Southern California, radio and television stations. Limited seating is available for out-of-town media, with first preference going to members representing the area of the opposing team.

All requests should be directed to Jerry Wilcox, Director of Public Relations, Los Angeles Rams.

WESTERN UNION AND SPORTSCOMM

Requests for Western Union circuits should be filed directly with the Los Angeles office, attention Mr. Jim Jenkins, 745 So. Flower, Los Angeles, Calif. 90017 (MA 7-4321). Sportscomm is also available in the Coliseum and should be ordered in advance through representative Dick Bassler, 245 No. Ridgewood Pl., Apt. 202, Los Angeles 90004 (935-1161 or 462-5091).

SERVICES

Complete statistics will be furnished including lineups, game summary, play-by-play, half time statistics and final team and individual statistics. A press box public address system will provide information during the course of the game. Spotters will be provided for visiting radio stations if notified in advance. Locker room quotes will be provided by the Ram publicity department for those writers unable to visit the coaches because of filing requirements.

Camera locations on the press box roof are available for film coverage. Special credentials may be obtained from Jerry Wilcox.

TICKET INFORMATION

Reserved seats $10, $8, $6 and $4. General Admission, $2. Address mail orders to: Los Angeles Rams Football Co., 10271 W. Pico Blvd., Los Angeles, California 90064. Telephone: 277-4744.
